1:15. And when the priests of Nanea had set it forth, and he with a small company had entered into the compass of the temple, they shut the temple,

Cumque proposuissent eas sacerdotes Nanae et ipse cum paucis ingressus esset intra ambitum fani clausurunt templum

1:16. When Antiochus was come in: and opening a secret entrance of the temple, they cast stones and slew the leader, and them that were with him, and hewed them in pieces; and cutting off their heads, they threw them forth.

Cum intrasset Antiochus apertoque occulto aditu templi mittentes lapides percusserunt ducem et qui cum eo erant et diviserunt membratim et capitibus amputatis foras proiecerunt

1:17. Blessed be God in all things, who hath delivered up the wicked.
Per omnia benedictus Deus qui tradidit impios

1:18. Therefore, whereas we purpose to keep the purification of the temple on the five and twentieth day of the month of Casleu, we thought it necessary to signify it to you: that you also may keep the day of Scenopogia, and the day of the fire, that was given when Nehemias offered sacrifice, after the temple and the altar was built.

Facturi igitur quinta et vicesima mensis casleu purificationem templi necessarium duximus significare vobis ut vos quoque agatis diem scenopogiae et diem ignis qui datus est quando Neemias aedificato templo et altari obtulit sacrificia

1:19. For when our fathers were led into Persia, the priests that then were worshippers of God, took privately the fire from the altar, and hid it in a valley where there was a deep pit without water, and there they kept it safe, so that the place was unknown to all men.

Nam cum in Persidem ducerentur patres nostri sacerdotes qui tunc Dei cultores erant acceptum ignem de altario occulte absconderunt in valle ubi erat puteus altus siccus et in eo contutati sunt eum ita ut omnibus ignotus esset locus

Persia... Babylonia, called here Persia, from being afterwards a part of the Persian empire.

1:20. But when many years had passed, and it pleased God that Nehemias should be sent by the king of Persia, he sent some of the posterity of those priests that had hid it, to seek for the fire: and as they told us, they found no fire, but thick water.

Cum praeterissent autem multi anni et placuit Deo ut mitteretur Neemias a rege Persidis nepotes sacerdotum illorum qui absconderant misit ad requirendum ignem et sicut narraverunt nobis non invenerunt ignem sed aquam crassam

1:21. Then he bade them draw it up, and bring it to him: and the priest, Nehemias, commanded the sacrifices that were laid on, to be sprinkled with the same water, both the wood, and the things that were laid upon it.

Et iussit eos haurire et adferre sibi et sacrificia quae inposita erant iussit sacerdos Neemias aspargi aqua ipsa et ligna et quae erant superposita

1:22. And when this was done, and the time came that the sun shone out, which before was in a cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that all wondered.

Utque hoc factum est et tempus adfuit quo sol refulsit qui prius erat in nubilo accensus est ignis magnus ita ut omnes mirarentur

1:23. And all the priests made prayer, while the sacrifice was consuming, Jonathan beginning, and the rest answering.

Orationem autem faciebant omnes sacerdotes dum consummaretur sacrificium Ionatha inchoante ceteris autem respondentibus

1:24. And the prayer of Nehemias was after this manner: O Lord God, Creator of all things, dreadful and strong, just and merciful, who alone art the good king,

Et Neemiae erat oratio hunc habens modum Domine Deus omnium creator terribilis et fortis iustus et misericors qui solus es rex bonus

1:25. Who alone art gracious, who alone art just, and almighty, and eternal, who deliverest Israel from all evil, who didst choose the fathers, and didst sanctify them:

Solus praestans solus iustus et omnipotens et aeternus qui liberas Israhel de omni malo qui fecisti patres electos et sanctificasti eos

1:26. Receive the sacrifice for all thy people Israel, and preserve thy own portion, and sanctify it.

Accipe sacrificium pro universo populo tuo Israhel et custodi partem tuam et sanctifica

1:27. Gather together our scattered people, deliver them that are slaves to the Gentiles, and look upon them that are despised and abhorred: that the Gentiles may know that thou art our God.

Congrega dispersionem nostram libera eos qui serviunt gentibus contemptos et abominatos respice ut sciant gentes quod tu es Deus noster

1:28. Punish them that oppress us, and that treat us injuriously with pride.

Adflige opprimentes et contumeliam facientes in superbia

1:29. Establish thy people in thy holy place, as Moses hath spoken.

Constituere populum tuum in loco sancto tuo sicut dixit Moses

1:30. And the priests sung hymns till the sacrifice was consumed.

Sacerdotes autem psallebant hymnos usquequo consumptum esset sacrificium

1:31. And when the sacrifice was consumed, Nehemias commanded the water that was left to be poured out upon the great stones.

Cum autem consummatum fuisset sacrificium ex residua aqua Neemias iussit lapides maiores perfundi

1:32. Which being done, there was kindled a flame from them: but it was consumed by the light that shined from the altar.

Quod ut factum est flamma ex eis accensa est sed ex lumine quod refulsit ab altari consumpta est

1:33. And when this matter became public, it was told to the king of Persia, that in the place where the priests that were led away, had hid the fire, there appeared water, with which Nehemias and they that were with him had purified the sacrifices.

Ut vero manifestata essent haec renuntiatum est regi Persarum quod in loco in quo ignem absconderant hii qui translati erant sacerdotes aqua apparuit de qua Neemias et qui cum eo erant purificaverunt sacrificia

1:34. And the king considering, and diligently examining the matter, made a temple for it, that he might prove what had happened.

Considerans autem rex et rem diligenter examinans fecit ei templum

A temple... That is, an enclosure, or a wall round about the place where the fire was hid, to separate it from profane uses, to the end that it might be respected as a holy place.

1:35. And when he had proved it, he gave the priests many goods, and divers presents, and he took and distributed them to them with his own hand.

Et si quibus donaverat rex multa bona accipiebat ex hoc et tribuebat

1:36. And Nehemias called this place Nephthar, which is interpreted purification. But many call it Nephi.

Appellavit autem Neemias hoc Nephthar quod interpretatur purificatio vocatur autem apud plures Nephi

2 Maccabees Chapter 2

A continuation of the second letter. Of Jeremias' hiding the ark at the time of the captivity. The author's preface.

2:1. Now it is found in the descriptions of Jeremias, the prophet, that he commanded them that went into captivity, to take the fire, as it hath been signified, and how he gave charge to them that were carried away into captivity.

Invenitur autem in descriptionibus Hieremiae prophetae quod iussit accipere ignem eos qui transmigrabantur ut significatum est et ut mandavit transmigratis

The descriptions... That is, the records or memoirs of Jeremias, a work that is now lost.

2:2. And how he gave them the law, that they should not forget the commandments of the Lord, and that they should not err in their minds, seeing the idols of gold, and silver, and the ornaments of them.

Et dedit illis legem ne obliviscerentur praecepta Domini et ut non exerrarent mentibus videntes simulacra aurea et argentea et ornamenta eorum

2:3. And with other such like speeches, he exhorted them that they would not remove the law from their heart.

Et alia huiuscemodi dicens hortabatur ne legem amoverent a corde suo

2:4. It was also contained in the same writing, how the prophet, being warned by God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should accompany him, till he came forth to the mountain where Moses went up, and saw the inheritance of God.

Erat autem in ipsa scriptura quomodo tabernaculum et arcam iussit propheta divino responso ad se facto comitari secum usquequo exiit in montem in quo Moses ascendit et vidit Dei hereditatem

2:5. And when Jeremias came thither he found a hollow cave: and he carried in thither the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the door.

Et veniens ibi Hieremias invenit locum speluncae et tabernaculum et arcam et altare incensi intulit illuc et ostium obstruxit

2:6. Then some of them that followed him, came up to mark the place: but they could not find it.

Et accesserunt quidam simul qui sequebantur ut notarent sibi locum et non potuerunt invenire

2:7. And when Jeremias perceived it, he blamed them, saying: The place shall be unknown, till God gather together the congregation of the people, and receive them to mercy.

Ut autem cognovit Hieremias culpans illos dixit quod ignotus erit locus donec congreget Deus congregationem populi et propitius fiat

2:8. And then the Lord will show these things, and the majesty of the Lord shall appear, and there shall be a cloud as it was also showed to Moses, and he showed it when Solomon prayed that the place might be sanctified to the great God.

Et tunc Dominus ostendet haec et apparebit maiestas Domini et nubes erit sicut et Mosi manifestabatur et sicut cum Salomon petiit ut locus sanctificaretur magno Deo manifestabat haec

2:9. For he treated wisdom in a magnificent manner: and like a wise man, he offered the sacrifice of the dedication, and of the finishing of the temple.

Et ut sapientiam habens obtulit sacrificium dedicationis et consummationis templi

2:10. And as Moses prayed to the Lord, and fire came down from heaven, and consumed the holocaust: so Solomon also prayed, and fire came down from heaven and consumed the holocaust.

Sicut et Moses orabat ad Dominum et descendit ignis de caelo et consumpsit holocaustum

2:11. And Moses said: Because the sin offering was not eaten, it was consumed.

Et dixit Moses eo quod non sit mundatum quod erat pro peccato et consumptum est

2:12. So Solomon also celebrated the dedication eight days.

Similiter et Salomon octo diebus celebravit dedicationem

2:13. And these same things were set down in the memoirs, and commentaries of Nehemias: and how he made a library, and gathered together out of the countries, the books both of the prophets, and of David, and the epistles of the kings, and concerning the holy gifts.

Inferebantur autem in descriptionibus et commentariis Neemiae haec eadem et ut construens bibliothecam congregavit de regibus libros et prophetarum et David et epistulas regum et de donariis

2:14. And in like manner Judas also gathered together all such things as were lost by the war we had, and they are in our possession.

Similiter autem et Judas ea quae didicerat per bellum quod nobis acciderat congregavit omnia et sunt apud nos

2:15. Wherefore, if you want these things, send some that may fetch them to you.

Si ergo desiderastis haec mittite qui perferant vobis

2:16. As we are then about to celebrate the purification, we have written unto you: and you shall do well, if you keep the same days.

Acturi itaque purificationem scripsimus vobis bene igitur facietis si egeritis hos dies

The purification... That is, the feast of the purifying or cleansing of the temple.

2:17. And we hope that God, who hath delivered his people, and hath rendered to all the inheritance, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and the sanctuary,

Deus autem qui liberavit populum suum et reddidit hereditatem omnibus et regnum et sacerdotium et sanctificationem

2:18. As he promised in the law, will shortly have mercy upon us, and will gather us together from every land under heaven into the holy place.

Sicut promisit in lege speramus quod cito nostri miserebitur et congregabit de sub caelo in locum sanctum

2:19. For he hath delivered us out of great perils, and hath cleansed the place.

Eripuit enim nos de magnis periculis et locum purgavit

2:20. Now as concerning Judas Machabeus, and his brethren, and the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar:

De Iuda vero Macchabeo et fratribus eius et de templi magni purificatione et de arae dedicatione

2:21. As also the wars against Antiochus, the Illustrious, and his son, Eupator:

Sed et de proeliis quae pertinent ad Antiochum Nobilem et filium eius Eupatorem

2:22. And the manifestations that came from heaven to them, that behaved themselves manfully on the behalf of the Jews, so that, being but a few they made themselves masters of the whole country, and put to flight the barbarous multitude:

Et de inluminacionibus quae de caelo factae sunt ad eos qui pro Iudaeis fortiter fecerunt ita ut universam regionem cum pauci essent vindicarent et barbaram multitudinem fugarent

2:23. And recovered again the most renowned temple in all the world, and delivered the city, and restored the laws that were abolished, the Lord with all clemency showing mercy to them.

Et famosissimum in toto orbe templum recuperarent et civitatem liberarent ut leges quae abolendae erant restituerentur Domino cum omni tranquillitate propitio facto illis

2:24. And all such things as have been comprised in five books by Jason, of Cyrene, we have attempted to abridge in one book.

Itemque ab Iasone Cyreneo quinque libris comprehensa temptavimus nos uno volumine breviare

2:25. For considering the multitude of books, and the difficulty that they find that desire to undertake the narrations of histories, because of the multitude of the matter,

Considerantes enim multitudinem librorum et difficultatem volentibus adgredi narrationes historiarum propter multitudinem rerum

2:26. We have taken care for those indeed that are willing to read, that it might be a pleasure of mind: and for the studious, that they may more easily commit to memory: and that all that read might receive profit. Curavimus volentibus quidem legere ut esset animi oblectatio studiosis vero ut facile possint memoriae commendare omnibus autem legentibus utilitas conferatur

2:27. And as to ourselves indeed, in undertaking this work of abridging, we have taken in hand no easy task; yea, rather a business full of watching and sweat.

Et nobis quidem ipsis qui opus hoc breviandi causa suscepimus non facilem laborem immo vero negotium plenum vigiliarum et sudoris adsumpsimus

No easy task, etc... The spirit of God, that assists the sacred penmen, does not exempt them from labour in seeking out the matter which they are to treat of, and the order and manner in which they are to deliver it. So St. Luke writ the gospel having diligently attained to all things. Luke 1:3.

2:28. But as they that prepare a feast, and seek to satisfy the will of others: for the sake of many, we willingly undergo the labour.

Sicut hii qui praeperant convivium et quaerunt aliorum voluntati parere propter multorum gratiam libenter laborem sustinemus

2:29. Leaving to the authors the exact handling of every particular, and as for ourselves, according to the plan proposed, studying to be brief.

Veritatem quidem de singulis auctori concedentes ipsi autem secundum datam formam brevitati studentes

2:30. For as the master builder of a new house must have care of the whole building: but he that taketh care to paint it, must seek out fit things for the adorning of it: so must it be judged of us.

Sicut enim novae domus architecto de universa structura curandum est ei vero qui pingere conatur quae apta sunt ad ornatum exquirenda sunt ita aestimandum est et in nobis

2:31. For to collect all that is to be known, to put the discourse in order, and curiously to discuss every particular point, is the duty of the author of a history:

Etenim intellectum colligere et ordinare sermonem et curiosius partes singulas quasque disquaerere historiae congruit auctori

2:32. But to pursue brevity of speech, and to avoid nice declarations of things, is to be granted to him that maketh an abridgment.

Brevitatem vero dictionis sectari et exsecutiones rerum vitare brevitati concedendum est

2:33. Here then we will begin the narration: let this be enough by way of a preface: for it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the story itself.

Hinc igitur narrationem incipiemus de praefatione tantum dixisse sufficiat stultum etenim est ante historiam effluere in ipsa autem historia succingi

2 Maccabees Chapter 3

Heliodorus is sent by king Seleucus to take away the treasures deposited in the temple. He is struck by God, and healed by the prayers of the high priest.

3:1. Therefore, when the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws as yet were very well kept, because of the godliness of Onias, the high priest and the hatred his soul had of evil,

Igitur cum sancta civitas habitaretur in omni pace leges etiam adhuc optime custodirentur propter Oniae pontificis pietatem et animos odio habentes mala

3:2. It came to pass that even the kings themselves and the princes esteemed the place worthy of the highest honour, and glorified the temple with very great gifts:

Fiebat ut ipsi reges et principes locum summo honore dignum ducerent et templum maximis muneribus inlustrarent

3:3. So that Seleucus, king of Asia, allowed out of his revenues all the charges belonging to the ministry of the sacrifices.

Ita ut Seleucus Asiae rex de redivitibus suis praestaret omnes sumptus ad ministerium sacrificiorum pertinentes

Seleucus... Son of Antiochus the Great, and elder brother of Antiochus Epiphanes.

3:4. But one Simon, of the tribe of Benjamin, who was appointed overseer of the temple, strove in opposition to the high priest, to bring about some unjust thing in the city.

Simon autem de tribu Benjamin praepositus templi constitutus contendebat obsistente sibi principe sacerdotum iniquum aliquid in civitate moliri

3:5. And when he could not overcome Onias, he went to Apollonius, the son of Tharseas, who at that time was governor of Coesylria, and Phenicia:

Sed cum vincere Onian non posset venit ad Apollonium Tharseae filium qui illo tempore erat dux Coesylriae et Foenicis

3:6. And told him, that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of immense sums of money, and the common store was infinite, which did not belong to the account of the sacrifices: and that it was possible to bring all into the king's hands.

Et nuntiavit ei pecuniis innumerabilibus plenum esse aerarium Hierosolymis et communes copias immensas esse quae non pertinent ad rationem sacrificiorum esse autem possibile sub potestate regis cadere universa

3:7. Now when Apollonius had given the king notice concerning the money that he was told of, he called for Heliodorus, who had the charge over his affairs, and sent him with commission to bring him the foresaid money.

Cumque rettulisset Apollonius ad regem de pecuniis quae delatae erant ille accitum Heliodorum qui erat super negotia eius misit cum mandatis ut praedictam pecuniam transportaret

3:8. So Heliodorus forthwith began his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Coesylria and Phenicia, but indeed to fulfil the king's purpose.

Statimque Heliodorus iter adgressus specie quidem quasi per Coesylriam et Foenicen civitates esset peragraturus re autem vera regis propositum perfecturus

3:9. And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received in the city by the high priest, he told him what information had been given concerning the money: and declared the cause for which he was come: and asked if these things were so indeed.

Sed cum venisset Hierosolymam et benigne a summo sacerdote in civitate esset exceptus narravit de dato indicio pecuniarum et cuius rei gratia adesset apparuit interrogabat autem si vere haec ita essent

3:10. Then the high priest told him that these were sums deposited, and provisions for the subsistence of the widows and the fatherless:

Tunc summus sacerdos ostendit deposita esse haec et victualia viduarum ac pupillorum

3:11. And that some part of that which wicked Simon had given intelligence of belonged to Hircanus, son of Tobias, a man of great dignity; and that the whole was four hundred talents of silver, and two hundred of gold.

Quaedam vero esse Hircani Tobiae viri valde eminentis in his quae detulerat impius Simon universa autem argenti talenta quadringenta esse et auri ducenta

3:12. But that to deceive them who had trusted to the place and temple which is honoured throughout the whole world, for the reverence and holiness of it, was a thing which could not by any means be done.

Decipi vero eos qui credidissent loco et templo quod per universum mundum honoratur pro sui veneratione et sanctitate impossibile omnino esse

3:13. But he, by reason of the orders he had received from the king, said, that by all means the money must be carried to the king.

At ille pro his quae habebat in mandatis a rege dicebat omni genere regiae deferenda

3:14. So on the day he had appointed, Heliodorus entered in to order this matter. But there was no small terror throughout the whole city.

Constitutata autem die intrabat de his Heliodorus ordinaturus non modica vero per universam civitatem erat trepidatio

3:15. And the priests prostrated themselves before the altar in their priests' vestments, and called upon him from heaven, who made the law concerning things given to be kept, that he would preserve them safe, for them that had deposited them.

Sacerdotes autem ante altare cum sacerdotalibus stolis iactaverunt se et invocabant de caelo eum qui de depositis legem posuit ut his qui deposuerant ea salva custodiret

3:16. Now whosoever saw the countenance of the high priest, was wounded in heart: for his face, and the changing of his colour, declared the inward sorrow of his mind.

Iam vero qui videret summi sacerdotis vultum mente vulnerabatur facies enim et color inmutatus declarabat internum animi dolorem

3:17. For the man was so compassed with sadness and horror of the body, that it was manifest to them that beheld him, what sorrow he had in his heart.

Circumfusa enim erat viro maestitia quaedam et horror corporis per quae manifestus aspicientibus dolor cordis eius efficiebatur

3:18. Others also came flocking together out of their houses, praying and making public supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt.

Alii etiam congregati de domibus confluebant publica supplicatione obsecrantes pro eo quod in contemptum locus esset venturus

3:19. And the women, girded with haircloth about their breasts, came together in the streets. And the virgins also that were shut up, came forth, some to Onias, and some to the walls, and others looked out of the windows.

Accinctaeque mulieres ciliciis pectus per plateas confluebant sed et virgines quae conclusae erant procurrebant ad Onian aliae autem ad muros quaedam vero per fenestras aspiciebant

3:20. And all holding up their hands towards heaven made supplication.

Universae autem protendentes manus in caelum deprecabantur

3:21. For the expectation of the mixed multitude, and of the high priest, who was in an agony, would have moved any one to pity.

Erat enim misera commixtae multitudinis et magni sacerdotis in agone constituti expectatio

3:22. And these indeed called upon almighty God, to preserve the things that had been committed to them safe and sure for those that had committed them.

Et hii quidem invocabant omnipotentem Deum ut credita sibi his qui crediderant cum omni integritate conservarentur

3:23. But Heliodorus executed that which he had resolved on, himself being present in the same place with his guard about the treasury.

Heliodorus autem quod decreverat perficiebat eodem loco ipse cum satellitibus circa aerarium praesens

3:24. But the spirit of the Almighty God gave a great evidence of his presence, so that all that had presumed to obey him, falling down by the power of God, were struck with fainting and dread.

Sed spiritus Omnipotentis magnam fecit suae ostensionis evidentiam ita ut omnes qui ausi fuerant parere ei ruentes Dei virtute in dissolutionem et formidinem converterentur

3:25. For there appeared to them a horse, with a terrible rider upon him, adorned with a very rich covering: and he ran fiercely and struck Heliodorus with his fore feet, and he that sat upon him seemed to have armour of gold.

Apparuit enim illis quidam equus terribilem habens sessorem optimis operimentis adornatus isque cum impetu Heliodoro priores calces elisit qui autem ei sedebat videbatur arma habere aurea

3:26. Moreover there appeared two other young men, beautiful and strong, bright and glorious, and in comely apparel: who stood by him, on either side, and scourged him without ceasing with many stripes.

Alii etiam apparuerunt duo iuvenes virtute decori optimi gloria speciosique amictu qui circumsteterunt eum et ex utraque parte flagellabant sine intermissione multis plagis verberantes

3:27. And Heliodorus suddenly fell to the ground, and they took him up, covered with great darkness, and having put him into a litter, they carried him out.

Subito autem Heliodorus concidit in terram eumque multa caligine circumfusum rapuerunt atque in sella gestatoria positum eiecerunt

3:28. So he that came with many servants, and all his guard, into the aforesaid treasury, was carried out, no one being able to help him, the manifest power of God being known.

Et is qui cum multis cursoribus et satellitibus praedictum ingressus est aerarium portabatur nullo sibi auxilium ferente manifesta cognita Dei virtute

3:29. And he indeed, by the power of God, lay speechless, and without all hope of recovery.

Et ille quidem per divinam virtutem iacebat mutus

3:30. But they praised the Lord, because he had glorified his place: and the temple, that a little before was full of fear and trouble, when the Almighty Lord appeared, was filled with joy and gladness.

Hii autem Dominum benedicebant quia magnificavit locum suum et templum quod paulo ante timore ac tumultu erat plenum apparente omnipotente Domino gaudio et laetitia impletum est

3:31. Then some of the friends of Heliodorus forthwith begged of Onias, that he would call upon the Most High to grant him his life, who was ready to give up the ghost.

Tunc vero ex amicis Heliodori quidam rogabant confestim Onian ut invocaret Altissimum et vitam donaret ei qui in supremo spiritu erat constitutus

3:32. So the high priest, considering that the king might perhaps suspect that some mischief had been done to Heliodorus by the Jews, offered a sacrifice of health for the recovery of the man.

Considerans autem summus sacerdos ne forte rex suspicaretur malitiam aliquam ex Iudaeis circa Heliodorum consummatam obtulit pro salute viri hostiam salutarem

3:33. And when the high priest was praying, the same young men in the same clothing stood by Heliodorus, and said to him: Give thanks to Onias the priest: because for his sake the Lord hath granted thee life.

Cumque summus sacerdos exoraret idem iuvenes eisdem vestibus amicti adstantes Heliodoro dixerunt Oniae sacerdoti gratias age nam propter eum tibi Dominus vitam donavit

3:34. And thou having been scourged by God, declare unto all men the great works and the power of God. And having spoken thus, they appeared no more.

Tu autem ab eo flagellatus nuntia omnibus magnalia Dei et potestatem et his dictis non conparuerunt

3:35. So Heliodorus, after he had offered a sacrifice to God, and made great vows to him, that had granted him life, and given thanks to Onias, taking his troops with him, returned to the king.

Heliodorus autem hostia Deo oblata et votis magnis promisit ei qui vivere illi concessit et Oniae gratias agens recepto exercitu repedabat ad regem

3:36. And he testified to all men the works of the great God, which he had seen with his own eyes.
Testabatur autem omnibus ea quae sub oculis suis viderat opera magni Dei

3:37. And when the king asked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be sent yet once more to Jerusalem, he said:
Cum autem rex interrogasset Heliodorum quis est aptus adhuc semel Hierosolymam mitti ait

3:38. If thou hast any enemy, or traitor to thy kingdom, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him again scourged, if so be he escape: for there is undoubtedly in that place a certain power of God.
Si quem habes hostem aut regni tui insidiatorem mitte illuc et flagellatum eum recipies si tamen evaserit eo quod in loco vere sit Dei quaedam virtus

3:39. For he that hath his dwelling in the heavens, is the visitor and protector of that place, and he striketh and destroyeth them that come to do evil to it.
Nam ipse qui habet in caelis habitationem visitator et adiutor est loci illius et venientes ad malefaciendum percutit ac perdit

3:40. And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasury, fell out in this manner.
Igitur de Heliodoro et aerarii custodia ita se res habet

2 Maccabees Chapter 4

Onias has recourse to the king. The ambition and wickedness of Jason and Menelaus. Onias is treacherously murdered.

4:1. But Simon, of whom we spoke before, who was the betrayer of the money, and of his country, spoke ill of Onias, as though he had incited Heliodorus to do these things, and had been the promoter of evils:
Simon autem praedictus pecuniarum et patriae delator male loquebatur de Onia tamquam ipse Heliodorum instigasset ad haec et ipse fuisset incentor malorum

4:2. And he presumed to call him a traitor to the kingdom, who provided for the city, and defended his nation, and was zealous for the law of God.
Provisoremque civitatis ac defensorem gentis suae et aemulatorem legis Dei audebat insidiatorem regni dicere

4:3. But when the enmities proceeded so far, that murders also were committed by some of Simon's friends:
Sed cum inimicitiae in tantum procederent ut etiam per quosdam Simonis necessarios homicidia fierent

4:4. Onias, considering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, who was the governor of Colesyia, and Phenicia, was outrageous, which increased the malice of Simon, went to the king, Considerans Onias periculum contentionis et Apollonium insanire utpote duces Coelesyriae et Foenicis ad augendam malitiam Simonis ad regem se contulit

4:5. Not to be an accuser of his countrymen, but with view to the common good of all the people.
Non ut civium accusator sed communem utilitatem apud semet ipsum universae multitudinis considerans

4:6. For he saw that, except the king took care, it was impossible that matters should be settled in peace, or that Simon would cease from his folly.
Videbat enim sine regali providentia impossibile esse pacem rebus dari nec Simonem posse cessare ab stultitia sua

4:7. But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, who was called the Illustrious, had taken possession of the kingdom, Jason, the brother of Onias, ambitiously sought the high priesthood:
Sed post Seleuci vitae excessum cum suscepisset regnum Antiochus qui Nobilis appellabatur ambiebat Iason frater Oniae summum sacerdotium

4:8. And went to the king, promising him three hundred and sixty talents of silver, and out of other revenues fourscore talents.
Adito rege promittens ei argenti talenta sexaginta et trecenta et ex redditibus aliis talenta octoginta

4:9. Besides this he promised also a hundred and fifty more, if he might have license to set him up a place for exercise, and a place for youth, and to entitle them that were at Jerusalem, Antiochians.
Super haec promittebat et alia centum quinquaginta si potestati eius concederetur gymnasium et ephoebian sibi constituere et eos qui in Hierosolymis erant Antiochenos scribere

4:10. Which when the king had granted, and he had gotten the rule into his hands, forthwith he began to bring over his countrymen to the fashion of the heathens.
Quod cum rex agnovisset et obtinisset principatum statim ad gentilem ritum contribules suos transferre coepit

4:11. And abolishing those things, which had been decreed of special favour by the kings in behalf of the Jews, by the means of John, the father of that Eupolemus, who went ambassador to Rome to make amity and alliance, he disannulled the lawful ordinances of the citizens, and brought in fashions that were perverse.

Et amotis his quae humanitatis causa Iudaeis a regibus fuerant constituta per Iohannem patrem Eupolemi qui apud Romanos de amicitia et societate functus est legationem legitimam civium iura destituens prava instituta sancibat

4:12. For he had the boldness to set up, under the very castle, a place of exercise, and to put all the choicest youths in brothel houses.

Etenim ausus est sub ipsa arce gymnasium constituere et optimos quosque ephoeborum in lupanaribus ponere

4:13. Now this was not the beginning, but an increase, and progress of heathenish and foreign manners, through the abominable and unheard of wickedness of Jason, that impious wretch, and no priest.

Erat autem hoc non initium sed incrementum quoddam et profectus gentilis et alienigenae conversationis propter impii et non sacerdotis Iasonis nefarium et inauditum scelus

4:14. Insomuch that the priests were not now occupied about the offices of the altar, but despising the temple and neglecting the sacrifices, hastened to be partakers of the games, and of the unlawful allowance thereof, and of the exercise of the discus.

Ita ut sacerdotes iam non circa altaris officia dediti essent sed contempto templo et sacrificiis neglectis festinarent participes fieri palestrae et praebitionis eius iniustae et in exercitiis disci

4:15. And setting nought by the honours of their fathers, they esteemed the Grecian glories for the best:

Et patrios quidem honores nihil habentes graecas glorias optimas arbitrabantur

4:16. For the sake of which they incurred a dangerous contention, and followed earnestly their ordinances, and in all things they coveted to be like them, who were their enemies and murderers.

Quarum gratia periculosa eos contentio habebat et eorum instituta aemulabantur ac per omnia his consimiles esse cupiebant quos hostes et peremptores habuerant

4:17. For acting wickedly against the laws of God doth not pass unpunished: but this the time following will declare.

In leges enim divinas impie agere inpune non cedit sed haec sequens tempus declaravit

4:18. Now when the game that was used every fifth year was kept at Tyre, the king being present,

Cum autem quinquennalis agon Tyro celebraretur et rex praesens esset

4:19. The wicked Jason sent from Jerusalem sinful men, to carry three hundred didrachmas of silver for the sacrifice of Hercules; but the bearers thereof desired it might not be bestowed on the sacrifices, because it was not necessary, but might be deputed for other charges.

Misit Iason facinorosus ab Hierosolymis viros peccatores portantes argenti didragmas trecentas in sacrificiis Herculis quas postulaverunt hii qui adportaverant ne in sacrificiis erogarentur quia non oporteret sed in alios sumptus eas deputari

4:20. So the money was appointed by him that sent it to the sacrifice of Hercules: but because of them that carried it was employed for the making of galleys.

Sed haec oblata sunt quidem ab eo qui miserat in sacrificium Herculis propter praesentes autem datae sunt in fabricam navium triremis

4:21. Now when Apollonius the son of Mnestheus was sent into Egypt to treat with the nobles of king Philometor, and Antiochus understood that he was wholly excluded from the affairs of the kingdom, consulting his own interest, he departed thence and came to Joppe, and from thence to Jerusalem.

Misso autem in Aegypto Apollonio Mnesthei filio propter primatus Filometoris regis cum cognovisset Antiochus alienum se a negotiis regni effectum propriis utilitatibus consulens profectus inde venit Ioppen et inde Hierosolymam

4:22. Where he was received in a magnificent manner by Jason, and the city, and came in with torch lights, and with praises, and from thence he returned with his army into Phenicia.

Et magnifice ab Iasone et civitate susceptus cum facularum luminibus et laudibus ingressus est et inde Foenicen exercitum convertit

4:23. Three years afterwards Jason sent Menelaus, brother of the aforesaid Simon, to carry money to the king, and to bring answers from him concerning certain necessary affairs.

4:24. But he being recommended to the king, when he had magnified the appearance of his power, got the high priesthood for himself, by offering more than Jason by three hundred talents of silver.

At ille commendatus regi cum magnificasset faciem potestatis eius in semet ipsum retorsit summum sacerdotium superponens Iasonem talenta argenti trecenta

4:25. So having received the king's mandate, he returned, bringing nothing worthy of the high priesthood: but having the mind of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast.

Acceptisque a rege mandatis venit nihil quidem dignum habens sacerdotio animos vero crudelis tyranni et ferae beluae iram gerens

4:26. Then Jason, who had undermined his own brother, being himself undermined, was driven out a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites.

Et Iason quidem qui proprium fratrem captivaverat ipse deceptus profugus in ammaniten expulsus est regionem

4:27. So Menelaus got the principality: but as for the money he had promised to the king, he took no care, when Sostratus, the governor of the castle, called for it.

Menelaus autem principatum quidem obtinuit de pecuniis vero regi promissis nihil agebat cum exactionem faceret Sostratus qui arce erat praepositus

4:28. For to him appertained the gathering of the taxes: wherefore they were both called before the king.

Nam ad hunc exactio vectigalium pertinebat quam ob causam utrique ad regem vocati

4:29. And Menelaus was removed from the priesthood, Lysimachus, his brother, succeeding: and Sostratus alas made governor of the Cyprians.

Menelaus motus est sacerdotio succedente Lysimacho fratre suo Sostratus autem praelatus est Cypris

4:30. When these things were in doing, it fell out that they of Tharsus, and Mallos, raised a sedition, because they were given for a gift to Antiochus, the king's concubine.

Et cum haec agerentur contigit Tarsenses et Mallotas seditionem movere eo quod Antiochidi concubinae regis dono essent dati

4:31. The king, therefore, went in all haste to appease them, leaving Andronicus, one of his nobles, for his deputy.

Festinanter itaque rex venit sedare illos relicto suffecto uno ex comitibus suis Andronico

4:32. Then Menelaus supposing that he had found a convenient time, having stolen certain vessels of gold out of the temple, gave them to Andronicus, and others he had sold at Tyre, and in the neighbouring cities:

Ratus autem Menelaus accepisse se tempus oportunum aurea quaedam vasa templo furatus donavit Andronico et alia vendiderat Tyro et per vicinas civitates

4:33. Which when Onias understood most certainly, he reprov'd him, keeping himself in a safe place at Antioch, beside Daphne.

Quod cum certissime cognovisset Onias arguebat eum ipse in loco tuto se continens Antiochiae secus Dafnen

4:34. Whereupon Menelaus coming to Andronicus, desired him to kill Onias. And he went to Onias, and gave him his right hand with an oath, and (though he were suspected by him) persuaded him to come forth out of the sanctuary, and immediately slew him, without any regard to justice.

Unde Menelaus accedens ad Andronicum rogabat ut Onian interficeret qui cum venisset ad Onian et datis dextris cum iureiurando quamvis esset ei suspectus suasisset asylo procedere statim eum peremit non veritus iustitiam

4:35. For which cause not only the Jews, but also the other nations, conceived indignation, and were much grieved for the unjust murder of so great a man.

Ob quam causam non solum Iudaei sed et aliae quoque nationes indignabantur et moleste ferebant de nece tanti viri iniusta

4:36. And when the king was come back from the places of Cilicia, the Jews that were at Antioch, and also the Greeks, went to him: complaining of the unjust murder of Onias.

Sed regressum regem de Ciliciae locis adierunt Iudaei apud Antiochiam simul et Graeci conquerentes de

iniqua nece Oniae

4:37. Antiochus, therefore, was grieved in his mind for Onias, and being moved to pity, shed tears, remembering the sobriety and modesty of the deceased.

Contristatus itaque ad animam Antiochus et flexus ad misericordiam lacrimas fudit recordatus defuncti sobrietatem et modestiam

4:38. And being inflamed to anger, he commanded Andronicus to be stripped of his purple, and to be led about through all the city: and that in the same place wherein he had committed the impiety against Onias, the sacrilegious wretch should be put to death, the Lord repaying him his deserved punishment.

Accensusque animis Andronicum purpura exutum circumduci per totam civitatem iubet et eodem loco quo in Onian impietatem commiserat sacrilegum vita privari Domino illi dignam poenam tribuente

4:39. Now when many sacrileges had been committed by Lysimachus in the temple, by the counsel of Menelaus, and the rumour of it was spread abroad, the multitude gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, a great quantity of gold being already carried away.

Multis autem sacrilegiis in templo a Lysimacho commissis Menelai consilio et divulgata fama congregata est multitudo adversus Lysimachum multo iam auro exportato

4:40. Wherefore the multitude making an insurrection, and their minds being filled with anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and began to use violence, one Tyrannus being captain, a man far gone both in age and in madness.

Turbis autem insurgentibus et animis ira repletis Lysimachus armatis fere tribus milibus iniquis manibus uti coepit duce quodam Tyranno aetate pariter et dementia provecto

4:41. But when they perceived the attempt of Lysimachus, some caught up stones, some strong clubs, and some threw ashes upon Lysimachus.

Sed ut intellexerunt conatum Lysimachi alii lapides alii fustes validos arripere quidam vero cinerem in Lysimachum iacere

4:42. And many of them were wounded, and some struck down to the ground, but all were put to flight: and as for the sacrilegious fellow himself, they slew him beside the treasury.

Et multi quidem vulnerati quidam autem et prostrati omnes vero in fugam versi sunt ipsum etiam sacrilegum secus aerarium interfecerunt

4:43. Now concerning these matters, an accusation was laid against Menelaus.

De his ergo coepit iudicium adversus Menelaum agitari

4:44. And when the king was come to Tyre, three men were sent from the ancients to plead the cause before him.

Et cum venisset rex Tyrum ad ipsum negotium detulerunt missi viri tres a senioribus

4:45. But Menelaus being convicted, promised Ptolemee to give him much money to persuade the king to favour him.

Et cum superaretur Menelaus promisit Ptolomeo multas pecunias ad suadendum regi

Ptolemee... The son of Dorymenus, a favourite of the king.

4:46. So Ptolemee went to the king in a certain court where he was, as it were to cool himself, and brought him to be of another mind:

Itaque Ptolomeus in quodam atrio positum quasi refrigerandi gratia regem adiit et a sententia deduxit

4:47. So Menelaus, who was guilty of all the evil, was acquitted by him of the accusations: and those poor men, who, if they had pleaded their cause even before Scythians, should have been judged innocent, were condemned to death.

Et Menelaum quidem universae malitiae reum criminibus absolvit miseros autem qui etiam si apud Scytas causam dixissent innocentes iudicarentur morte damnavit

4:48. Thus they that persecuted the cause for the city, and for the people, and the sacred vessels, did soon suffer unjust punishment.

Cito ergo iniustam poenam dederunt qui pro civitate et populo et sacris vasis causam prosecuti sunt

4:49. Wherefore even the Tyrians, being moved with indignation, were very liberal towards their burial.

Quam ob rem Tyri quoque indignati erga sepulturam eorum liberalissimi extiterunt

4:50. And so through the covetousness of them that were in power, Menelaus continued in authority, increasing in malice to the betraying of the citizens.

Menelaus autem propter eorum qui in potentia erant avaritiam permanebat in potestate crescens in malitia et ad insidias civium

2 Maccabees Chapter 5

Wonderful signs are seen in the air. Jason's wickedness and end. Antiochus takes Jerusalem, and plunders the temple.

5:1. At the same time Antiochus prepared for a second journey into Egypt.

Eodem tempore Antiochus secundam profectionem paravit in Aegyptum

5:2. And it came to pass, that through the whole city of Jerusalem, for the space of forty days, there were seen horsemen running in the air, in gilded raiment, and armed with spears, like bands of soldiers.

Contigit autem per universam Hierosolymorum civitatem videri diebus quadraginta per aera equites discurrentes auratas stolas habentes et hastis quasi cohortes armatas

5:3. And horses set in order by ranks, running one against another, with the shakings of shields, and a multitude of men in helmets, with drawn swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden armour, and of harnesses of all sorts.

Et cursus equorum per ordines digestos et congressiones fieri cominus et scutorum motus et galeatorum multitudinem gladiis dstrictis et telorum iactus et aureorum armorum splendorem omnisque generis loricarum

5:4. Wherefore all men prayed that these prodigies might turn to good.

Quapropter omnes rogabant in bonum monstra converti

5:5. Now when there was gone forth a false rumour as though Antiochus had been dead, Jason taking with him no fewer than a thousand men, suddenly assaulted the city: and though the citizens ran together to the wall, the city at length was taken, and Menelaus fled into the castle.

Sed cum falsus rumor exisset tamquam vita excessisset Antiochus adsumptis Iason non minus mille viris repente adgressus est civitatem et civibus ad murum convolantibus ad ultimum adprehensa civitate Menelaus fugit in arcem

5:6. But Jason slew his countrymen without mercy, not considering that prosperity against one's own kindred is a very great evil, thinking they had been enemies, and not citizens, whom he conquered.

Iason vero non parcebat in caede civibus suis nec cogitabat prosperitatem adversus cognatos malum esse maximum arbitrans hostium et non civium se tropea capturum

5:7. Yet he did not get the principality, but received confusion at the end, for the reward of his treachery, and fled again into the country of the Ammonites.

Et principatum quidem non obtinuit finem vero insidiarum suarum confusione cepit et profugus iterum abiit in Ammaniten

5:8. At the last, having been shut up by Aretas, the king of the Arabians, in order for his destruction, flying from city to city, hated by all men, as a forsaker of the laws and execrable, as an enemy of his country and countrymen, he was thrust out into Egypt:

Ad ultimum in exitum sui conclusus ab Areta Arabum tyrannum fugiens de civitate in civitatem omnibus odiosus ut refuga legum et execrabilis ut patriae et civium hostis in Aegyptum extrusus est

5:9. And he that had driven many out of their country perished in a strange land, going to Lacedemon, as if for kindred sake he should have refuge there:

Et qui multos de patria expulerat peregre periit Lacedemonas profectus quasi pro cognatione ibi refugium habiturus

5:10. But he that had cast out many unburied, was himself cast forth both unlamented and unburied, neither having foreign burial, nor being partaker of the sepulchre of his fathers.

Et qui insepultos abiecerat multos ipse et inlamentatus et insepultus abicitur sepultura neque peregrina usus neque patrio sepulchro participans

5:11. Now when these things were done, the king suspected that the Jews would forsake the alliance: whereupon departing out of Egypt with a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms,
His ita gestis suspicatus est rex societatem deserturos Iudaeos et ob hoc profectus ex Aegypto efferatis animis civitatem quidem armis cepit

5:12. And commanded the soldiers to kill, and not to spare any that came in their way, and to go up into the houses to slay.
Iussit autem militibus interficere nec parcere occursantibus et per domos ascendentes trucidare

5:13. Thus there was a slaughter of young and old, destruction of women and children, and killing of virgins and infants.
Fiebant ergo caedes iuvenum ac seniorum mulierum et natorum exterminia virginumque et parvulorum neces

5:14. And there were slain in the space of three whole days fourscore thousand, forty thousand were made prisoners, and as many sold.
Erant autem toto triduo octoginta milia interfecti quadraginta milia vincti

5:15. But this was not enough, he presumed also to enter into the temple, the most holy in all the world Menelaus, that traitor to the laws, and to his country, being his guide.
Sed nec ista sufficiunt ausus est intrare templum universa terra sanctius Menelao ductore qui legum et patriae fuit proditor

5:16. And taking in his wicked hands the holy vessels, which were given by other kings and cities, for the ornament and the glory of the place, he unworthily handled and profaned them.
Et scelestis manibus sumens sancta vasa quae ab aliis regibus et civitatibus erant posita ad ornatum loci et gloriam contrectabat indigne et contaminabat

5:17. Thus Antiochus going astray in mind, did not consider that God was angry for a while, because of the sins of the inhabitants of the city: and therefore this contempt had happened to the place:
Ita alienatus mente Antiochus non considerabat quod propter peccata habitantium civitatem modicum Dominus fuerat iratus propter quod et accidit circa locum despectio

5:18. Otherwise had they not been involved in many sins, as Heliodorus, who was sent by king Seleucus to rob the treasury, so this man also, as soon as he had come, had been forthwith scourged, and put back from his presumption.
Alioquin nisi contigisset eos multis peccatis esse involutos sicut Heliodorus qui missus est a Seleuco rege ad expoliandum aerarium etiam hic statim adveniens flagellatus et repulsus utique fuisset ab audacia

5:19. But God did not choose the people for the place's sake, but the place for the people's sake.
Verum non propter locum gentem sed propter gentem locum Dominus elegit

5:20. And, therefore, the place also itself was made partaker of the evils of the people: but afterwards shall communicate in the good things thereof, and as it was forsaken in the wrath of Almighty God, shall be exalted again with great glory, when the great Lord shall be reconciled.
Ideoque et ipse locus particeps factus est populi malorum postea autem fiet socius et bonorum et qui derelictus in ira Dei omnipotentis iterum in magni Domini reconciliatione cum summa gloria exaltabitur

5:21. So when Antiochus had taken away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he went back in all haste to Antioch, thinking through pride that he might now make the land navigable, and the sea passable on foot: such was the haughtiness of his mind.
Igitur Antiochus mille et octingentis ablatis de templo talentis velociter Antiochiam regressus est existimans se prae superbia terram ad navigandum pelagus vero ad iter agendum deducturum propter mentis elationem

5:22. He left also governors to afflict the people: at Jerusalem, Philip, a Phrygian by birth, but in manners more barbarous than he that set him there:
Reliquit autem et praepositos ad adfligendam gentem Hierosolymis quidem Philippum genere Frigem moribus crudeliorem eo ipso a quo constitutus est

5:23. And in Gazarim, Andronicus and Menelaus, who bore a more heavy hand upon the citizens than the rest.

In Garizin autem Andronicum et Menelaum qui gravius quam ceteri iminebant civibus

5:24. And whereas he was set against the Jews, he sent that hateful prince, Apollonius, with an army of two and twenty thousand men, commanding him to kill all that were of perfect age, and to sell the women and the younger sort.

Cumque adpositus esset contra Iudaeos misit odiosum principem Apollonium cum exercitu viginti et duobus milibus praeciens ei omnes perfectae aetatis interficere mulieres ac iuvenes vendere

5:25. Who, when he was come to Jerusalem, pretending peace, rested till the holy day of the sabbath: and then the Jews keeping holiday, he commanded his men to take arms.

Qui cum venisset Hierosolymam pacem simulans quievit usque ad sanctum diem sabbati et tunc feriatis Iudaeis arma capere suis praecepit

5:26. And he slew all that were come forth to flee: and running through the city with armed men, he destroyed a very great multitude.

Omnesque qui ad spectaculum processerant trucidavit et civitatem cum armatis discurrens ingentem multitudinem peremit

5:27. But Judas Machabeus, who was the tenth, had withdrawn himself into a desert place, and there lived amongst wild beasts in the mountains with his company: and they continued feeding on herbs, that they might not be partakers of the pollution.

Iudas autem Macchabeus qui decimus fuerat secesserat in desertum locum ibique inter feras vitam in montibus cum suis agebat et faeni cibo vescentes demorabantur ne participes essent coinquinationis

Was the tenth... That is, he had nine others in his company.

2 Maccabees Chapter 6

Antiochus commands the law to be abolished, sets up an idol in the temple, and persecutes the faithful. The martyrdom of Eleazar.

6:1. But not long after the king sent a certain old man of Antioch, to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers and of God:

Sed non post multum temporis misit rex senem quendam antiochenum qui compelleret Iudaeos ut se transferrent a patriis et Dei legibus

6:2. And to defile the temple that was in Jerusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius: and that in Garazim of Jupiter Hospitalis, according as they were that inhabited the place.

Contaminare etiam quod in Hierosolymis erat templum et cognominare Iovis Olympii et in Garizin prout erant hii qui locum inhabitabant Iovis Hospitalis

That in Gazarim... Viz., the temple of the Samaritans. And as they were originally strangers, the name of Hospitalis (which signifies of or belonging to strangers) was applicable to the idol set up in their temple.

6:3. And very bad was this invasion of evils, and grievous to all.

Pessima autem universis et gravis malorum erat incursio

6:4. For the temple was full of the riot and revellings of the Gentiles: and of men lying with lewd women.

And women thrust themselves of their accord into the holy places, and brought in things that were not lawful.

Nam templum luxuria et comesationibus erat plenum et scortantium cum meretricibus sacratisque aedibus mulieres se ultro ingerebant intro ferentes ea quae non licebat

6:5. The altar also was filled with unlawful things, which were forbidden by the laws.

Altare etiam plenum erat illicitis quae legibus prohibebantur

6:6. And neither were the sabbaths kept, nor the solemn days of the fathers observed, neither did any man plainly profess himself to be a Jew.

Neque autem sabbata custodiebantur neque dies sollemnes patrii servabantur nec simpliciter se quisquam Iudaeum esse confitebatur

6:7. But they were led by bitter constraint on the king's birthday to the sacrifices: and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were compelled to go about crowned with ivy in honour of Bacchus.

Ducebantur autem cum amara necessitate in die natalis regis ad sacrificia et cum Liberi sacra celebrarentur cogebantur hedera coronati Libero circumire

6:8. And there went out a decree into the neighbouring cities of the Gentiles, by the suggestion of the Ptolemeans, that they also should act in like manner against the Jews, to oblige them to sacrifice:

Decretum autem exiit in proximas gentilium civitates suggerentibus Ptolomeis ut pari modo et ipsi adversus Iudaeos agerent ut sacrificarent

6:9. And whosoever would not conform themselves to the ways of the Gentiles, should be put to death: then was misery to be seen.

Eos autem qui nollent transire ad instituta gentilium interficerent erat ergo videre miseriam

6:10. For two women were accused to have circumcised their children: whom, when they had openly led about through the city, with the infants hanging at their breasts, they threw down headlong from the walls.

Duae enim mulieres delatae sunt natos suos circumcidisse quas infantibus ad ubera suspensis cum publice per civitatem circumduxissent per muros praecipitaverunt privately, being discovered by Philip, were burnt with fire, because they made a conscience to help themselves with their hands, by reason of the religious observance of the day.

6:11. And others that had met together in caves that were near, and were keeping the sabbath day

Alii vero ad proximas coeuntes speluncas et latenter sabbati diem celebrantes cum indicati essent Philippo flammis succensi sunt eo quod verebantur propter religionem et observantiam manu sibimet auxilium ferre
Philip... The governor of Jerusalem.

6:12. Now I beseech those that shall read this book, that they be not shocked at these calamities, but that they consider the things that happened, not as being for the destruction, but for the correction of our nation.

Obsecro autem eos qui hunc librum lecturi sunt ne abhorrescant propter adversos casus sed repudent ea quae acciderunt non ad interitum sed ad correptionem generis esse nostri

6:13. For it is a token of great goodness, when sinners are not suffered to go on in their ways for a long time, but are presently punished.

Etenim multo tempore non sinere peccatoribus ex sententia agere sed statim ultiones adhibere magni beneficii est indicium

6:14. For, not as with other nations, (whom the Lord patiently expecteth, that when the day of judgment shall come, he may punish them in the fulness of their sins;) )

Non enim sicut in aliis nationibus Dominus patienter expectat ut eas cum iudicii dies venerit in plenitudine peccatorum puniat

6:15. Doth he also deal with us, so as to suffer our sins to come to their height, and then take vengeance on us.

Ita et in nobis statuit ut peccatis nostris in finem devolutis ita demum in nos vindicet

6:16. And therefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us: but though he chastise his people with adversity he forsaketh them not.

Propter quod numquam quidem a nobis misericordiam suam amovet corripiens vero in adversis populum suum non derelinquit

6:17. But let this suffice in a few words for a warning to the readers. And now we must come to the narration.

Sed haec nobis ad commonitionem legentium dicta sint paucis iam autem veniendum est ad narrationem

6:18. Eleazar one of the chief of the scribes, a man advanced in years, and of a comely countenance, was pressed to open his mouth to eat swine's flesh.

Igitur Eleazarus de primoribus scribarum vir aetate provectus et vultu decorus aperto ore hians conpellebatur carnem porcinam manducare

6:19. But he, choosing rather a most glorious death than a hateful life, went forward voluntarily to the torment.

At ille gloriosam mortem magis quam odibilem vitam amplectens voluntarie praeibat ad supplicium

6:20. And considering in what manner he was to come to it, patiently bearing, he determined not to do any unlawful things for the love of life.

Intuens autem quemadmodum oportet accedere patienter sustinens destinavit non admittere inlicita propter vitae amorem

6:21. But they that stood by, being moved with wicked pity, for the old friendship they had with the man, taking him aside, desired that flesh might be brought which it was lawful for him to eat, that he might make as if he had eaten, as the king had commanded, of the flesh of the sacrifice:

Hii autem qui adstabant iniqua miseratione commoti propter antiquam viri amicitiam tollentes eum secreto rogabant adferri carnes quibus vesci ei licebat et simularetur manducasse sicut rex imperaverat de sacrificii carnibus

Wicked pity... Their pity was wicked, inasmuch as it suggested that wicked proposal of saving his life by dissimulation.

6:22. That by so doing he might be delivered from death; and for the sake of their old friendship with the man, they did him this courtesy.

Ut hoc facto a morte liberaretur et propter veterem amicitiam hanc in eo facerent humanitatem

6:23. But he began to consider the dignity of his age, and his ancient years, and the inbred honour of his grey head, and his good life and conversation from a child; and he answered without delay, according to the ordinances of the holy law made by God, saying, that he would rather be sent into the other world.

At ille cogitationem cepit aetatis ac senectutis suae eminentiam dignam et ingenuitatem nobilitatis canitiem atque a puero optimae conversationis et secundum sanctae et a Deo conditae legis constituta respondit cito dicens praemitti se velle in infernum

6:24. For it doth not become our age, said he, to dissemble: whereby many young persons might think that Eleazar, at the age of fourscore and ten years, was gone over to the life of the heathens:
Non enim aetatem nostram dignum est inquit fingere ut multi adulescentium arbitrati Eleazarum nonaginta annorum transisse ad vitam alienigenarum

6:25. And so they, through my dissimulation, and for a little time of a corruptible life, should be deceived, and hereby I should bring a stain and a curse upon my old age.
Et ipsi propter meam simulationem et propter modicum corruptibilis vitae tempus decipiantur et per hoc maculam atque execrationem meae senectuti conquiram

6:26. For though, for the present time, I should be delivered from the punishments of men, yet should I not escape the hand of the Almighty neither alive nor dead.
Nam et si in praesenti tempore suppliciis hominum eripiar sed manus Omnipotentis neque vivens neque defunctus effugiam

6:27. Wherefore, by departing manfully out of this life, I shall show myself worthy of my old age:
Quam ob rem fortiter vitam excedendo senectute quidem dignus apparebo

6:28. And I shall leave an example of fortitude to young men, if with a ready mind and constancy I suffer an honourable death, for the most venerable and most holy laws. And having spoken thus, he was forthwith carried to execution.
Adulescentibus autem exemplum forte relinquam si prompto animo ac fortiter pro gravissimis et sanctissimis legibus honesta morte perfungar his dictis confestim ad supplicium trahebatur

6:29. And they that led him, and had been a little before more mild, were changed to wrath for the words he had spoken, which they thought were uttered out of arrogance.
Hii autem qui eum ducebant et paulo ante fuerant mitiores in iram versi sunt propter sermones ab eo dictos quos illi per arrogantiam prolatos arbitrabantur

6:30. But when he was now ready to die with the stripes, he groaned: and said: O Lord, who hast the holy knowledge, thou knowest manifestly that whereas I might be delivered from death, I suffer grievous pains in body: but in soul am well content to suffer these things, because I fear thee.
Sed cum plagis perimeretur ingemuit et dixit Domine qui habes sanctam scientiam manifeste scis tu quia cum a morte possim liberari duos corporis sustineo dolores secundum animam vero propter timorem tuum libenter haec patior

6:31. Thus did this man die, leaving not only to young men, but also to the whole nation, the memory of his death, for an example of virtue and fortitude.
Et iste quidem hoc modo vita decessit non solum iuvenibus sed et universae genti memoriam mortis suae ad exemplum virtutis et fortitudinis derelinquens

2 Maccabees Chapter 7

The glorious martyrdom of the seven brethren and their mother.

7:1. It came to pass also, that seven brethren, together with their mother, were apprehended, and compelled by the king to eat swine's flesh against the law, for which end they were tormented with whips and scourges.

Contigit autem et septem fratres cum matre adprehensos compelli a rege contra fas ad carnes porcinas flagris et taureis cruciatos

7:2. But one of them, who was the eldest, said thus: What wouldst thou ask, or learn of us? we are ready to die, rather than to transgress the laws of God, received from our fathers.

Unus autem ex illis qui erat primus sic ait quid quaeris et quid vis discere a nobis parati sumus mori magis quam patrias Dei leges praevaricari

7:3. Then the king being angry, commanded fryingpans and brazen caldrons to be made hot: which forthwith being heated,

Iratus itaque rex iussit sartagine et ollas aeneas succendi quibus statim succensis

7:4. He commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had spoken first: and the skin of his head being drawn off, to chop off also the extremities of his hands and feet, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on.

Iussit ei qui prior fuerat locutus amputari linguam et cute capitis abstracta summas quoque manus ei et pedes praecidi ceteris eius fratribus et matre insipientibus

7:6. And when he was now maimed in all parts, he commanded him, being yet alive, to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the fryingpan: and while he was suffering therein long torments, the rest, together with the mother, exhorted one another to die manfully,

Dicentes Dominus Deus aspiciat veritatem et consolabitur in nobis quemadmodum protestationem cantici declaravit Moses et in servis suis consolabitur

7:6. Saying: The Lord God will look upon the truth, and will take pleasure in us, as Moses declared in the profession of the canticle; And in his servants he will take pleasure.

Dicentes Dominus Deus aspiciat veritatem et consolabitur in nobis quemadmodum protestationem cantici declaravit Moses et in servis suis consolabitur

7:7. So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the next to make him a mocking stock: and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the hair, they asked him if he would eat, before he were punished throughout the whole body in every limb.

Mortuo itaque primo illo hoc modo sequentem deducebant ad inludendum et cute capitis eius cum capillis detracta interrogabant si manducaret priusquam toto corpore per membra singula puniretur

7:8. But he answered in his own language, and said: I will not do it. Wherefore he also, in the next place, received the torments of the first:

At ille respondens patria voce dixit non faciam propter quod et iste sequenti loco primi tormenta suscepit

7:9. And when he was at the last gasp, he said thus: Thou indeed, O most wicked man, destroyest us out of this present life: but the King of the world will raise us up, who die for his laws, in the resurrection of eternal life.

Et in ultimo spiritu constitutus ait tu quidem scelestissime in praesenti vita nos perdis sed rex mundi defunctos nos pro suis legibus in aeternae vitae resurrectione suscitabit

7:10. After him the third was made a mocking-stock, and when he was required, he quickly put forth his tongue, and courageously stretched out his hands:

Post hunc tertius inludebatur et linguam postulatus cito protulit et manus constanter extendit

7:11. And said with confidence: These I have from heaven, but for the laws of God I now despise them, because I hope to receive them again from him.

Et cum fiducia ait e caelo ista possideo sed propter Dei leges nunc haec ipsa despicio quoniam ab ipso me ea recepturum spero

7:12. So that the king, and they that were with him, wondered at the young man's courage, because he esteemed the torments as nothing.

Ita ut rex et qui cum ipso erant mirarentur adolescentis animum quod tamquam nihili duceret cruciatus

7:13. And after he was thus dead, they tormented the fourth in the like manner.

Et hoc ita defuncto quartum similiter vexabant torquentes

7:14. And when he was now ready to die, he spoke thus: It is better, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God, to be raised up again by him; for, as to thee, thou shalt have no resurrection unto life.

Et cum iam esset ad mortem sic ait potius est ab hominibus morti datos spem expectare a Deo iterum ab ipso resuscitandos tibi enim resurrectio ad vitam non erit

7:15. And when they had brought the fifth, they tormented him. But he, looking upon the king,

Et cum admovissent quintum vexabant eum at ille respiciens in eum

7:16. Said: Whereas thou hast power among men though thou art corruptible, thou dost what thou wilt but think not that our nation is forsaken by God.

Dixit potestatem inter homines habens cum sis corruptibilis facis quod vis noli autem putare genus nostrum a Deo esse derelictum

7:17. But stay patiently a while, and thou shalt see his great power, in what manner he will torment thee and thy seed.

Patienter sustine et videbis magna potestas ipsius qualiter te et semen tuum torquebit

7:18. After him they brought the sixth, and he being ready to die, spoke thus: Be not deceived without cause: for we suffer these things for ourselves, having sinned against our God, and things worthy of admiration are done to us:

Post hunc ducebant et sextum et is mori incipiens sic ait noli frustra errare nos enim propter nosmet ipsos haec patimur peccantes in Deum nostrum et digna admiratione facta sunt in nobis

7:19. But do not think that thou shalt escape unpunished, for that thou hast attempted to fight against God.

Tu autem ne existimes tibi inpune futurum quod contra Deum pugnare temptaveris

7:20. Now the mother was to be admired above measure, and worthy to be remembered by good men, who beheld her seven sons slain in the space of one day, and bore it with a good courage, for the hope that she had in God:

Supra modum autem mater mirabilis et bonorum memoria digna quae pereuntes septem filios sub unius diei tempore conspiciens bono animo ferebat propter spem quam in Deum habebat

7:21. And she bravely exhorted every one of them in her own language, being filled with wisdom; and joining a man's heart to a woman's thought,

Singulos illorum hortabatur patria voce fortiter repleta sapientia et femineae cogitationi masculinum animum inserens

7:22. She said to them: I know not how you were formed in my womb; for I neither gave you breath, nor soul, nor life, neither did I frame the limbs of every one of you.

Dixit ad eos nescio qualiter in utero meo apparuistis neque enim ego spiritum et animam donavi vobis et vitam et singulorum membra non ego ipsa conpegi

7:23. But the Creator of the world, that formed the nativity of man, and that found out the origin of all, he will restore to you again, in his mercy, both breath and life, as now you despise yourselves for the sake of his laws.

Sed enim mundi creator qui formavit hominis nativitatem quique omnium invenit originem et spiritum vobis iterum cum misericordia reddet et vitam sicut nunc vosmet ipsos despicitis propter leges eius

7:24. Now Antiochus, thinking himself despised, and withal despising the voice of the upbraider, when the youngest was yet alive, did not only exhort him by words, but also assured him with an oath, that he would make him a rich and a happy man, and, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers, would take him for a friend, and furnish him with things necessary.

Antiochus autem contemni se arbitratus simul et exprobrantis voce despecta cum adhuc adulescentior superesset non solum verbis hortabatur sed et iuramento adfirmabat divitem se et beatum facturum et translatum a patriis legibus amicum habiturum et res necessarias praebiturum

7:25. But when the young man was not moved with these things, the king called the mother, and counselled her to deal with the young man to save his life.

Sed ad ista cum adulescens nequaquam inclinaretur vocavit rex matrem et suadebat ut adulescenti fieret in salutem

7:26. And when he had exhorted her with many words she promised that she would counsel her son.

Cum autem multis eam verbis esset hortatus promisit suasuram se filio suo

7:27. So bending herself towards him, mocking the cruel tyrant, she said in her own language: My son have pity upon me, that bore thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished thee, and brought thee up unto this age.

Itaque inclinata ad illum inridens crudelem tyrannum ait patria voce filii mi miserere mei quae te in utero decem menses portavi et lac triennio dedi et alui et in aetatem istam perduxi

7:28. I beseech thee, my son, look upon heaven and earth, and all that is in them, and consider that God made them out of nothing, and mankind also:

Peto nate aspicias in caelum et terram et ad omnia quae in eis sunt et intellegas quia ex nihilo fecit illa Deus et hominum genus

7:29. So thou shalt not fear this tormentor, but being made a worthy partner with thy brethren, receive death, that in that mercy I may receive thee again with thy brethren.

Ita fit ut non timeas carnificem istum sed dignus fratribus tuis effectus suscipe mortem ut in illa miseratione cum fratribus tuis te recipiam

7:30. While she was yet speaking these words, the young man said: For whom do you stay? I will not obey the commandment of the king, but the commandment of the law which was given us by Moses.

Cum haec illa adhuc diceret ait adulescens quem sustinetis non oboedio praecepto regis sed praecepto legis quae data est nobis per Mosen

7:31. But thou that hast been the author of all mischief against the Hebrews, shalt not escape the hand of God.

Tu vero qui inventor omnis malitiae factus es in Hebraeos non effugies manum Dei

7:32. For we suffer thus for our sins.

Nos enim pro peccatis nostris haec patimur

7:33. And though the Lord, our God, is angry with us a little while, for our chastisement and correction, yet he will be reconciled again to his servants.

Et si nobis propter increpationem et correptionem Dominus noster modicum iratus est sed iterum reconciliabitur servis suis

7:34. But thou, O wicked, and of all men most flagitious, be not lifted up without cause with vain hopes, whilst thou art raging against his servants.

Tu autem o sceleste et omnium hominum flagitiosissime noli frustra extolli vanis spebus in servos eius inflammatus

7:35. For thou hast not yet escaped the judgment of the Almighty God, who beholdeth all things.

Nondum enim omnipotentis Dei et omnia inspicientis iudicium effugisti

7:36. For my brethren having now undergone a short pain, are under the covenant of eternal life: but thou, by the judgment of God, shalt receive just punishment for thy pride.

Nam fratres mei modico nunc dolore sustentato sub testamento aeternae vitae effecti sunt tu vero iudicio Dei iustas superbiae poenas solves

7:37. But I, like my brethren, offer up my life and my body for the laws of our fathers: calling upon God to be speedily merciful to our nation, and that thou by torments and stripes mayst confess that he alone is God.

Ego autem sicut fratres mei animam et corpus meum trado pro patriis legibus invocans Deum maturius genti nostrae propitium fieri teque cum tormentis et verberibus confiteri quod ipse est Deus solus

7:38. But in me, and in my brethren, the wrath of the Almighty, which hath justly been brought upon all our nation, shall cease.

In me vero et in fratribus meis desinet Omnipotentis ira quae super omne genus nostrum iuste superducta est

7:39. Then the king being incensed with anger, raged against him more cruelly than all the rest, taking it grievously that he was mocked.

Tunc rex accensus ira in hunc super omnes crudelius desaeviit indigne ferens derisum se

7:40. So this man also died undefiled, wholly trusting in the Lord.

Et hic itaque mundus obiit per omnia in Domino confidens

7:41. And last of all, after the sons, the mother also was consumed.

Novissime autem et mater consummata est

7:42. But now there is enough said of the sacrifices and of the excessive cruelties.

Igitur de sacrificiis et de nimiis crudelitatibus satis dictum

2 Maccabees Chapter 8

Judas Machabeus gathering an army gains divers victories.

8:1. But Judas Machabeus, and they that were with him, went privately into the towns: and calling together their kinsmen and friends, and taking unto them such as continued in the Jews' religion, they assembled six thousand men.

Iudas vero Macchabeus et qui cum illo erant introibant latenter in castella et convocantes cognatos et eos qui permanserant in iudaismo adsumentes eduxerunt ad sex milia viros

8:2. And they called upon the Lord, that he would look upon his people that was trodden down by all and would have pity on the temple, that was defiled by the wicked:

Et invocabant Dominum ut respiceret in populum qui ab omnibus calcabatur misereretur templo quod contaminabatur ab impiis

8:3. That he would have pity also upon the city that was destroyed, that was ready to be made even with the ground, and would hear the voice of the blood that cried to him:

Misereretur etiam exterminio civitatis quae esset ilico conplananda et vocem sanguinis ad se clamantis audiret

8:4. That he would remember also the most unjust deaths of innocent children, and the blasphemies offered to his name, and would show his indignation on this occasion.

Memoraretur quoque iniquissimas mortes innocentium parvulorum et blasphemias nomini suo inlatas et indignaretur super his 8:5. Now when Machabeus had gathered a multitude, he could not be withstood by the heathens: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

At Macchabeus congregata multitudine intolerabilis gentibus efficiebatur ira enim Domini in misericordiam conversa est

8:6. So coming unawares upon the towns and cities, he set them on fire, and taking possession of the most commodious places, he made no small slaughter of the enemies:

Et superveniens castellis et civitatibus improvisis succendebat eas et oportuna loca occupans non paucas hostium strages dabat

8:7. And especially in the nights he went upon these expeditions, and the fame of his valour was spread abroad every where.

Maxime autem noctibus ad huiuscemodi excursus ferebatur et fama virtutis eius ubique diffundebatur

8:8. Then Philip seeing that the man gained ground by little and little, and that things for the most part succeeded prosperously with him, wrote to Ptolemee, the governor of Celesyria and Phenicia, to send aid to the king's affairs.

Videns autem Philippus paulatim virum ad profectum venire ac frequentius res ei prospere cedere ad Ptolomeum ducem Coelesyriae et Foenicis scripsit ut auxilium ferret regis negotiis

Philip seeing, etc... The governor of Jerusalem found himself unable to contend with Judas, especially after the victories he had obtained over Apollonius and Seron. 1 Maccabees 3.

8:9. And he with all speed sent Nicanor, the son of Patroclus, one of his special friends, giving him no fewer than twenty thousand armed men of different nations, to root out the whole race of the Jews, joining also with him Gorgias, a good soldier, and of great experience in matters of war.

At ille velociter misit Nicanorem Patrocli de primoribus amicis datis ei permixtis gentibus armatis non minus viginti milibus ut universum Iudaeorum genus deleret adiuncto ei Gorgia viro militari

Twenty thousand... The whole number of the forces sent at that time into Judea, was 40,000 footmen, and 7000 horsemen, 1 Mac. 3.30. But only 20,000 are here taken notice of, because there were no more with Nicanor at the time of the battle.

8:10. And Nicanor purposed to raise for the king the tribute of two thousand talents, that was to be given to the Romans, by making so much money of the captive Jews:

Constituit autem Nicanor regi ut tributum Romanis quod erat dandum duo milia talentum de captivitate Iudaeorum suppleret

8:11. Wherefore he sent immediately to the cities upon the sea coast, to invite men together to buy up the Jewish slaves, promising that they should have ninety slaves for one talent, not reflecting on the vengeance which was to follow him from the Almighty.

Statimque ad maritimas misit civitates convocans ad coemptionem iudaeorum mancipiorum promittens se nonaginta mancipia talento distracturum non respiciens ad vindictam quae eum ab Omnipotente esset consecutura

8:12. Now when Judas found that Nicanor was coming, he imparted to the Jews that were with him, that the enemy was at hand.

Iudas autem ubi conperit indicavit his qui secum erant Iudaeis Nicanoris adventum

8:13. And some of them being afraid, and distrusting the justice of God, fled away.

Ex quibus quidam formidantes et non credentes Dei iustitiae in fugam vertebantur

8:14. Others sold all that they had left, and withal besought the Lord, that he would deliver them from the wicked Nicanor, who had sold them before he came near them:

Alii vero si quid eis supererat vendebant simulque Dominum deprecabantur ut eriperet eos ab impio Nicanore qui eos priusquam in cominus veniret vendiderat

8:15. And if not for their sakes, yet for the covenant that he had made with their fathers, and for the sake of his holy and glorious name that was invoked upon them.

Si non propter eos propter testamentum quod erat ad patres eorum et propter invocationem sancti et magnifici nominis eius super ipsos

8:16. But Machabeus calling together seven thousand that were with him, exhorted them not to be reconciled to the enemies, nor to fear the multitude of the enemies who came wrongfully against them, but to fight manfully:

Convocatis autem Macchabeus septem milibus qui cum ipso erant rogabat ne hostibus reconciliarentur neque metuerent inique venientium adversum se hostium multitudinem sed fortiter contenderent

Seven thousand... In the Greek it is six thousand. But then three thousand of them had no arms. 1 Maccabees 4:6.

8:17. Setting before their eyes the injury they had unjustly done the holy place, and also the injury they had done to the city, which had been shamefully abused, besides their destroying the ordinances of the fathers.

Ante oculos habentes contumeliam quae in locum sanctum ab his iniuste esset inlata itemque et ludibria habitae civitatis iniuriam adhuc etiam veterum instituta convulsa

8:18. For, said he, they trust in their weapons, and in their boldness: but we trust in the Almighty Lord, who at a beck can utterly destroy both them that come against us, and the whole world.

Nam illi quidem armis confidunt ait simul et audacia nos autem in omnipotente Domino qui potest venientes adversus nos et universum mundum uno nutu delere confidimus

8:19. Moreover, he put them in mind also of the helps their fathers had received from God: and how, under Sennacherib, a hundred and eighty-five thousand had been destroyed.

Admonuit autem eos et de auxiliis Dei quae facta sunt erga parentes et sub Sennacherim centum octoginta quinque milia ut perierunt

8:20. And of the battle that they had fought against the Galatians, in Babylonia; how they, being in all but six thousand, when it came to the point, and the Macedonians, their companions, were at a stand, slew a hundred and twenty thousand, because of the help they had from heaven, and for this they received many favours.

Et de proelio quod eis adversus Galatas fuit in Babylonia ut omnes ubi ad rem ventum est Macedonibus sociis haesitantibus ipsi sex milia soli peremerunt centum viginti milia propter auxilium illis datum e caelo et beneficia pro his plurima consecuti sunt

Galatians... That is, the Gauls, who having ravaged Italy and Greece, poured themselves in upon Asia, in immense multitudes, where also they founded the kingdom of Galatia or Gallo Graecia.

8:21. With these words they were greatly encouraged and disposed even to die for the laws and their country.

His verbis constantes effecti sunt et pro legibus et patria mori parati

8:22. So he appointed his brethren captains over each division of his army; Simon, and Joseph, and Jonathan, giving to each one fifteen hundred men.

Constituit itaque fratres suos duces utriusque ordini Simonem et Iosephum et Ionathan subiectis unicuique millenis et quingentenis

8:23. And after the holy book had been read to them by Esdras, and he had given them for a watchword, The help of God: himself leading the first band, he joined battle with Nicanor:

Ad hoc etiam ab Ezra lecto illis sancto libro et dato signo adiutorio Dei in prima acie ipse dux commisit cum Nicanore

8:24. And the Almighty being their helper, they slew above nine thousand men: and having wounded and disabled the greater part of Nicanor's army, they obliged them to fly.

Et facto sibi adiutore Omnipotente interfecerunt super novem milia hominum maiorem autem partem exercitus Nicanoris vulneribus debilem factam fugere compulerunt

Above nine thousand... Viz., including the three thousand slain in the pursuit.

8:25. And they took the money of them that came to buy them, and they pursued them on every side.

Pecuniis vero eorum qui ad emptionem ipsorum venerant sublatis ipsos usquequaque persecuti sunt

8:26. But they came back for want of time: for it was the day before the sabbath: and therefore they did not continue the pursuit.

Sed reverterunt hora conclusi nam erat ante sabbatum quam ob causam non perseveraverunt insequentes

8:27. But when they had gathered together their arms and their spoils, they kept the sabbath: blessing the Lord who had delivered them that day, distilling the beginning of mercy upon them.

Arma autem ipsorum et spolia congregantes sabbatum agebant benedicentes Dominum qui liberavit eos in isto die misericordiae initium stillans in eos

8:28. Then after the sabbath they divided the spoils to the feeble and the orphans, and the widows, and the rest they took for themselves and their servants.

Post sabbatum vero debilibus et orfanis et viduis diviserunt spolia et residua ipsi cum suis habuere

8:29. When this was done, and they had all made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord, to be reconciled to his servants unto the end.

His ita gestis et communiter ab omnibus facta obsecratione misericordem Dominum postulabant ut in finem servis suis reconciliaretur

8:30. Moreover, they slew above twenty thousand of them that were with Timotheus and Bacchides, who fought against them, and they made themselves masters of the high strong holds: and they divided amongst them many spoils, giving equal portions to the feeble, the fatherless, and the widows; yea, and the aged also.

Et ex his qui cum Timotheo et Bacchide erant contra se contententes super viginti milia interfecerunt et munitiones excelsas obtinuerunt et plures praedas diviserunt aequam portionem debilibus pupillis et viduis sed et senioribus facientes

8:31. And when they had carefully gathered together their arms, they laid them all up in convenient places, and the residue of their spoils they carried to Jerusalem:

Et cum arma eorum collegissent diligenter omnia composuerunt in locis oportunis residua vero spolia Hierosolymam detulerunt

8:32. They slew also Philarches, who was with Timotheus, a wicked man, who had many ways afflicted the Jews.

Et phylarchen qui cum Timotheo erat interfecerunt virum scelestum qui in multis Iudaeos adflixerat

8:33. And when they kept the feast of the victory at Jerusalem, they burnt Callisthenes, that had set fire to the holy gates, who had taken refuge in a certain house, rendering to him a worthy reward for his impieties:

Et cum epicia agerent in Hierosolymis eos qui sacras ianuas incenderant id est Callistenen cum in quodam domicilio refugisset incenderunt digna ei mercede pro impietatibus suis reddita

8:34. But as for that most wicked man, Nicanor, who had brought a thousand merchants to the sale of the Jews,

Facinorosissimus autem Nicanor qui mille negotiantes ad Iudaeorum venditionem adduxerat

8:35. Being, through the help of the Lord, brought down by them, of whom he had made no account, laying aside his garment of glory, fleeing through the midland country, he came alone to Antioch, being rendered very unhappy by the destruction of his army.

Humiliatus auxilio Domini ab his quos nullos existimaverat deposita veste gloriae per mediterranea fugiens solus venit Antiochiam summam infelicitatem de interitu sui exercitus consecutus

Laying aside his garment of glory... That is, his splendid apparel, which he wore through ostentation; he now throws it off, lest he should be known on his flight.

8:36. And he that had promised to levy the tribute for the Romans, by the means of the captives of Jerusalem, now professed that the Jews had God for their protector, and therefore they could not be hurt, because they followed the laws appointed by him.

Et qui promiserat Romanis se tributum restituere de captivitate Hierosolymorum praedicabat nunc protectorem Deum habere Iudaeos et ob ipsum invulnerabiles esse eo quod sequerentur leges ab ipso constitutas

2 Maccabees Chapter 9

The wretched end, and fruitless repentance of king Antiochus.

9:1. At that time Antiochus returned with dishonour out of Persia.

Eodem tempore Antiochus inhoneste revertebatur de Perside

9:2. For he had entered into the city called Persepolis, and attempted to rob the temple, and to oppress the city, but the multitude running together to arms, put them to flight: and so it fell out that Antiochus being put to flight, returned with disgrace.

Intraverat enim ea quae dicitur Persipolis et temptavit expoliare templa et civitatem opprimere sed multitudine ad arma concurrente in fugam versi sunt et ita contigit ut Antiochus post fugam turpiter rediret

Persepolis... Otherwise called Elymais.

9:3. Now when he was come about Ecbatana, he received the news of what had happened to Nicanor and Timotheus.

Et cum venisset circa Ecbatana recognovit quae erga Nicanorem et Timotheum gesta sunt

9:4. And swelling with anger, he thought to revenge upon the Jews the injury done by them that had put him to flight. And therefore he commanded his chariot to be driven, without stopping in his journey, the judgment of heaven urging him forward, because he had spoken so proudly, that he would come to Jerusalem, and make it a common burying place of the Jews.

Elatus autem ira arbitrabatur se iniuriam illorum qui se fugaverant posse in Iudaeos retorquere ideoque iussit agitari currum sine intermissione agens iter caelesti eum iudicio perurgente quod ita superbe locutus est venturum se Hierosolymam et congeriem sepulchri Iudaeorum eam facturum

9:5. But the Lord, the God of Israel, that seeth all things, struck him with an incurable and an invisible plague. For as soon as he had ended these words, a dreadful pain in his bowels came upon him, and bitter torments of the inner parts.

Sed qui universa conspicit Dominus Israhel percussit eum insanabili et invisibili plaga ut enim finivit hunc ipsum sermonem adprehendit eum dolor dirus viscerum et amara internorum tormenta

9:6. And indeed very justly, seeing he had tormented the bowels of others with many and new torments, albeit he by no means ceased from his malice.

Et quidem satis iuste quippe qui multis et novis cruciatibus aliorum torserat viscera licet ille nullo modo a sua malitia cessaret

9:7. Moreover, being filled with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Jews, and commanding the matter to be hastened, it happened as he was going with violence, that he fell from the chariot, so that his limbs were much pained by a grievous bruising of the body.

Super haec autem superbia repletus ignem spirans animo in Iudaeos et praeciens adcelerare negotium contigit illum impetu euntem de curru cadere et gravi corporis conlisione membra vexare

9:8. Thus he that seemed to himself to command even the waves of the sea, being proud above the condition of man, and to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, now being cast down to the ground, was carried in a litter, bearing witness to the manifest power of God in himself:

Isque qui sibi videbatur etiam fluctibus maris imperare supra humanum modum superbia repletus et montium altitudines in statera adpendere nunc humiliatus ad terram in gestatorio portabatur manifestam Dei virtutem in semet ipso contestans

9:9. So that worms swarmed out of the body of this man, and whilst he lived in sorrow and pain, his flesh fell off, and the filthiness of his smell was noisome to the army.

Ita ut de corpore impii vermes scaturrissent ac viventes in doloribus carnes eius effluerent odore etiam illius et fetore exercitus gravaretur

9:10. And the man that thought a little before he could reach to the stars of heaven, no man could endure to carry, for the intolerable stench.

Et qui paulo ante sidera caeli contingere se arbitrabatur eum nemo poterat propter intolerantiam fetoris portare

9:11. And by this means, being brought from his great pride, he began to come to the knowledge of himself, being admonished by the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment.

Hinc igitur coepit ex gravi superbia deductus ad agnitionem sui venire divina admonitus plaga per momenta singula doloribus suis augmenta capientibus

9:12. And when he himself could not now abide his own stench, he spoke thus: It is just to be subject to God, and that a mortal man should not equal himself to God.

Et cum nec ipse iam fetorem suum ferre posset ita ait iustum est subditum esse Deo et mortalem non paria Deo sentire

9:13. Then this wicked man prayed to the Lord, of whom he was not like to obtain mercy.

Orabat autem haec scelestus Dominum a quo non esset misericordiam consecuturus

Of whom he was not like to obtain mercy... Because his repentance was not for the offence committed against God: but barely on account of his present sufferings.

9:14. And the city, to which he was going in haste to lay it even with the ground, and to make it a common burying place, he now desireth to make free:

Et civitatem ad quam festinans veniebat ut eam ad solum deduceret et sepulchrum congestorum faceret nunc optat liberam reddere

9:15. And the Jews, whom he said he would not account worthy to be so much as buried, but would give them up to be devoured by the birds and wild beasts, and would utterly destroy them with their children, he now promiseth to make equal with the Athenians.

Et Iudaeos quos nec sepultura quidem se dignos habituros sed avibus ac feris diripiendos traditurum et cum parvulis exterminaturum dixerat aequales nunc Atheniensibus facturum pollicetur

9:16. The holy temple also, which before he had spoiled, he promised to adorn with goodly gifts, and to multiply the holy vessels, and to allow out of his revenues the charges pertaining to the sacrifices.

Templum etiam sanctum quod prius expoliaverat optimis donis ornaturum et sancta vasa multiplicaturum et pertinentes ad sacrificia sumptus de redditibus suis praestaturum

9:17. Yea also, that he would become a Jew himself, and would go through every place of the earth, and declare the power of God.

Super haec et Iudaeum futurum et omnem locum terrae perambulaturum et praedicaturum Dei potestatem

9:18. But his pains not ceasing, (for the just judgment of God was come upon him) despairing of life, he wrote to the Jews, in the manner of a supplication, a letter in these words:

Sed non cessantibus doloribus supervenerat enim in eum iustum Dei iudicium desperans scripsit ad Iudaeos in modum deprecationis epistulam haec continentem

9:19. To his very good subjects the Jews, Antiochus, king and ruler, wisheth much health, and welfare, and happiness.

Optimis civibus Iudaeis plurimam salutem et bene valere et esse felices rex et princeps Antiochus

9:20. If you and your children are well, and if all matters go with you to your mind, we give very great thanks.

Si bene valetis et filii vestri et ex sententia vobis cuncta sunt maximas agimus gratias

9:21. As for me, being infirm, but yet kindly remembering you, returning out of the places of Persia, and being taken with a grievous disease, I thought it necessary to take care for the common good:

Et ego in infirmitate constitutus vestri autem benigne memor regressus de Persidis locis et infirmitate gravi adprehensus necessarium duxi pro communi utilitate curam habere

9:22. Not distrusting my life, but having great hope to escape the sickness.

Non desperans memet ipsum sed spem multam habeo effugiendi infirmitatem

9:23. But considering that my father also, at what time he led an army into the higher countries, appointed who should reign after him:

Respicens autem quod et pater quibus temporibus in locis superioribus ducebat exercitum ostendit qui post se susciperet principatum

9:24. To the end that if any thing contrary to expectation should fall out, or any bad tidings should be brought, they that were in the countries, knowing to whom the whole government was left, might not be troubled.

Ut si quid contrarium accideret aut difficile nuntiaretur scientes hii qui in regionibus erant cui esset rerum summa derelicta non turbarentur

9:25. Moreover, considering that neighbouring princes, and borderers, wait for opportunities, and expect what shall be the event, I have appointed my son, Antiochus, king, whom I often recommended to many of you, when I went into the higher provinces: and I have written to him what I have joined here below.

Ad haec considerans de proximo potentes quosque et vicinos temporibus insidiantes et eventum expectantes designavi filium meum Antiochum regem quem saepe recurrens in superiora regna multis vestrum commendabam et scripsi ad eum quae subiecta sunt

9:26. I pray you, therefore, and request of you, that, remembering favours both public and private, you will every man of you continue to be faithful to me and to my son.

Orate itaque vos et peto memores beneficiorum publice et privatim ut unusquisque conservet fidem ad me et ad filium meum

9:27. For I trust that he will behave with moderation and humanity, and following my intentions, will be gracious unto you.

Confido enim eum modeste et humane acturum et sequentem propositum meum communem vobis fore

9:28. Thus the murderer and blasphemer being grievously struck, as himself had treated others, died a miserable death in a strange country, among the mountains.

Igitur homicida et blasphemus pessime percussus et ut ipse alios tractaverat peregre in montibus miserabili obitu vita functus est

9:29. But Philip, that was brought up with him, carried away his body: and out of fear of the son of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemee Philometor.

Transferebat autem corpus Philippus conlactaneus eius qui metuens filium Antiochi ad Ptolomeum Filometora in Aegyptum abiit

2 Maccabees Chapter 10

The purification of the temple and city. Other exploits of Judas. His victory over Timotheus.

10:1. But Machabeus, and they that were with him, by the protection of the Lord, recovered the temple and the city again.

Macchabeus autem et qui cum illo erant Domino se protegente templum quidem et civitatem recepit

10:2. But he threw down the altars which the heathens had set up in the streets, as also the temples of the idols.

Aras autem quas alienigenae per plateas extruxerant itemque delubra demolitus est

10:3. And having purified the temple, they made another altar: and taking fire out of the fiery stones, they offered sacrifices after two years, and set forth incense, and lamps, and the loaves of proposition.

Et purgato templo aliud altare fecerunt et de ignitis lapidibus igne concepto obtulerunt sacrificia post biennium et incensum et lucernas et panes propositionis posuerunt

10:4. And when they had done these things, they besought the Lord, lying prostrate on the ground, that they might no more fall into such evils; but if they should at any time sin, that they might be chastised by him more gently, and not be delivered up to barbarians and blasphemous men.

Quibus gestis rogabant Dominum prostrati in terram ne amplius malis talibus inciderent sed et si quando peccassent ut ab ipso mitius corriperentur et non blasphemis ac barbaris hominibus traderentur

10:5. Now upon the same day that the temple had been polluted by the strangers on the very same day it was cleansed again; to wit, on the five and twentieth day of the month of Casleu.

Qua die autem templum ab alienigenis pollutum fuerat contigit eadem die purgationem fieri vicesima et quinta mensis qui fuit casleu

10:6. And they kept eight days with joy, after the manner of the feast of the tabernacles, remembering that not long before they had kept the feast of the tabernacles when they were in the mountains, and in dens like wild beasts.

Et cum laetitia diebus octo egerunt in modum tabernaculorum recordantes quod ante modicum temporis diem sollemnem tabernaculorum in montibus more bestiarum egerant

10:7. Therefore they now carried boughs and green branches and palms, for him that had given them good success in cleansing his place.

Propter quod tyrsos et ramos virides et palmas praeferebant ei qui prosperavit mundari locum suum

10:8. And they ordained by a common statute, and decree, that all the nation of the Jews should keep those days every year.

Et decreverunt communi praecepto et decreto universae genti Iudaeorum omnibus annis agere dies istos

10:9. And this was the end of Antiochus, that was called the Illustrious.

Et Antiochi quidem qui appellatus est Nobilis vitae excessus ita se habuit

10:10. But now we will repeat the acts of Eupator, the son of that wicked Antiochus, abridging the account of the evils that happened in the wars.

Nunc autem de Eupatore Antiochi filio impii quae gesta sunt narrabimus breviantes mala quae in bellis gesta sunt

10:11. For when he was come to the crown, he appointed over the affairs of his realm one Lysias, general of the army of Phenicia and Syria.

Hic suscepto regno constituit super negotia regni Lysiam quendam Foenicis et Syriae militiae principem

10:12. For Ptolemy, that was called Macer, was determined to be strictly just to the Jews and especially by reason of the wrong that had been done them, and to deal peaceably with them.

Nam Ptolomeus qui dicebatur Macer iusti tenax erga Iudaeos esse instituit et praecipue propter iniquitatem quae facta erat in eos et pacifice agere cum eis

10:13. But being accused for this to Eupator by his friends, and being oftentimes called traitor, because he had left Cyprus, which Philometor had committed to him, and coming over to Antiochus the Illustrious, had revolted also from him, he put an end to his life by poison.

Sed ob hoc accusatus ab amicis apud Eupatorem cum frequenter proditor audiret eo quod Cyprum creditus a Filometore Nobilem translatus etiam ab eo recessisset veneno vitam finivit

10:14. But Gorgias, who was governor of the holds, taking with him the strangers, often fought against the Jews.

Gorgias autem cum esset dux locorum adsumptis advenis frequenter Iudaeos debellabat

10:15. And the Jews that occupied the most commodious holds, received those that were driven out of Jerusalem, and attempted to make war.

Iudaei vero qui tenebant oportunas munitiones fugatos ab Hierosolymis suscipiebant et bellare temptabant The Jews, etc... He speaks of them that had fallen from their religion, and were enemies of their country, who joining with the Idumeans or Edomites, kept possession of the strong holds, and from thence annoyed their countrymen.

10:16. Then they that were with Machabeus, beseeching the Lord by prayers to be their helper, made a strong attack upon the strong holds of the Idumeans:

Hii vero qui erant cum Macchabeo per orationes Dominum rogantes ut esset sibi adiutor impetum fecerunt in munitiones Idumeorum

10:17. And assaulting them with great force, won the holds, killed them that came in the way, and slew altogether no fewer than twenty thousand.

Multaque vi insistentes loca obtinuerunt occurrentes interemerunt et omnes simul non minus a viginti milibus trucidaverunt

10:18. And whereas some were fled into very strong towers, having all manner of provision to sustain a siege,

Quidam autem cum confugissent in duas turres valde munitas omnem adparatum ad repugnandum habentes

10:19. Machabeus left Simon and Joseph, and Zacheus, and them that were with them, in sufficient number to besiege them, and departed to those expeditions which urged more.

Macchabeus ad eorum expugnationem relicto Simone et Iosepho item Macchabeo eisque qui cum ipsis erant satis multis ipse ad eas quae amplius perurgebant pugnas conversus est

10:20. Now they that were with Simon, being led with covetousness, were persuaded for the sake of money by some that were in the towers: and taking seventy thousand didrachmas, let some of them escape.

Hii vero qui cum Simone erant cupiditate ducti a quibusdam qui in turribus erant suasi sunt pecunia et septuaginta milibus didragmis acceptis dimiserunt quosdam effugere

10:21. But when it was told Machabeus what was done, he assembled the rulers of the people, and accused those men that they had sold their brethren for money, having let their adversaries escape.

Cum autem Macchabeo nuntiatum esset quod factum est congregatis principibus populi accusavit quod pecunia fratres vendidissent adversariis eorum dimissis

10:22. So he put these traitors to death, and forthwith took the two towers.

Hos igitur proditores factos interfecit et confestim duas turres occupavit

10:23. And having good success in arms, and all things he took in hand, he slew more than twenty thousand in the two holds.

Armis autem ac manibus omnia prospere agendo in duabus munitionibus plus quam viginti milia peremit

10:24. But Timotheus, who before had been overcome by the Jews, having called together a multitude of foreign troops, and assembled horsemen out of Asia, came as though he would take Judea by force of arms.

Timotheus qui prius a Iudaeis fuerat superatus convocato exercitu peregrinae multitudinis et congregato

exercitu asiano advenit quasi armis Iudaeam capturus

10:26. But Machabeus, and they that were with him, when he drew near, prayed to the Lord, sprinkling earth upon their heads, and girding their loins with haircloth,
Ad altaris crepidinem provoluti ut sibi propitius inimicis autem eorum esset inimicus et adversaretur sicut lex dicit

10:26. And lying prostrate at the foot of the altar, besought him to be merciful to them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law saith.
Ad altaris crepidinem provoluti ut sibi propitius inimicis autem eorum esset inimicus et adversaretur sicut lex dicit

10:27. And so after prayer taking their arms, they went forth further from the city, and when they were come very near the enemies they rested.
Et ita post orationem sumptis armis longius de civitate procedentes et proximi hostibus effecti resederunt

10:28. But as soon as the sun was risen both sides joined battle: the one part having, with their valour, the Lord for a surety of victory, and success: but the other side making their rage their leader in battle.
Primo autem solis ortu utrique commiserunt isti quidem victoriae et prosperitatis sponsorem cum virtute Dominum habentes illi autem ducem belli animum habebant

10:29. But when they were in the heat of the engagement, there appeared to the enemies from heaven five men upon horses, comely, with golden bridles, conducting the Jews:
Sed cum vehemens pugna esset apparuerunt adversariis de caelo viri quinque in equis frenis aureis decori ducatum Iudaeis praestantes

10:30. Two of them took Machabeus between them, and covered him on every side with their arms, and kept him safe; but cast darts and fireballs against the enemy, so that they fell down, being both confounded with blindness, and filled with trouble.
Ex quibus duo Macchabeum medium habentes armis suis circumseptum incolorem conservabant in adversarios autem tela et fulmina iaciebant ex quo et caecitate confusi et repleti perturbatione cadebant

10:31. And there were slain twenty thousand five hundred, and six hundred horsemen.
Interfecti sunt autem viginti milia quingenti et equites sescenti

10:32. But Timotheus fled into Gazara, a strong hold where Chereas was governor.
Timotheus autem confugit in Gazara praesidium munitum cui praeerat Caereas

10:33. Then Machabeus, and they that were with him cheerfully laid siege to the fortress four days.
Macchabeus autem et qui cum eo erant laetantes obsederunt praesidium diebus quattuor

10:34. But they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and cast forth abominable words.
At hii qui in turres erant loci firmitate confisi super modum maledicebant et sermones nefandos iactabant

10:35. But when the fifth day appeared, twenty young men of them that were with Machabeus, inflamed in their minds, because of the blasphemy, approached manfully to the wall, and pushing forward with fierce courage, got up upon it:
Sed cum dies quinta inlucesceret viginti iuvenes ex his qui cum Macchabeo erant accensi animis propter blasphemiam virilliter accesserunt ad murum et feroci animo incedentes ascendebant

10:36. Moreover, others also getting up after them, went to set fire to the towers and the gates, and to burn the blasphemers alive.
Sed et alii similiter ascendentes turres portasque succendere aggressi atque ipsos maledicos vivos concremare

10:37. And having for two days together pillaged and sacked the fortress, they killed Timotheus, who was found hid in a certain place: they slew also his brother Chereas, and Apollophanes.
Per continuum autem biduum praesidio vastato Timotheum occultantem se in quodam reppertum loco peremerunt et fratrem illius Caerean et Apollophanem occiderunt

Timotheus... This man, who was killed at the taking of Gazara, is different from that Timotheus who is mentioned in 1 Maccabees 5, and of whom there is mention in the following chapter.

10:38. And when this was done, they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgiving, who had done great things in Israel, and given them the victory.

Quibus gestis in hymnis et confessionibus benedicebant Dominum qui magna fecit cum Israhel et victoriam illi dedit

2 Maccabees Chapter 11

Lysias is overthrown by Judas. He sues for peace.

11:1. A short time after this Lysias, the king's lieutenant, and cousin, and who had chief charge over all the affairs, being greatly displeased with what had happened,

Sed parvo post tempore Lysias procurator regis et propinquus ac negotiorum praepositus graviter ferens de his quae acciderant

11:2. Gathered together fourscore thousand men, and all the horsemen, and came against the Jews, thinking to take the city, and make it a habitation of the Gentiles:

Congregatis octoginta milibus et equitatu universo veniebat adversus Iudaeos existimans se civitatem quidem captam gentibus habitaculum facturum

11:3. And to make a gain of the temple, as of the other temples of the Gentiles and to set the high priesthood to sale every year:

Templum vero in pecuniae quaestu sicut cetera delubra gentium habiturum et per singulos annos venale sacerdotium

11:4. Never considering the power of God, but puffed up in mind, and trusting in the multitude of his foot soldiers, and the thousands of his horsemen, and his fourscore elephants.

Nusquam recogitans Dei potestatem sed mente effrenatus in multitudine peditum et in milibus equitum et in octoginta elephantis confidebat

11:5. So he came into Judea, and approaching to Bethsura, which was in a narrow place, the space of five furlongs from Jerusalem, he laid siege to that fortress.

Ingressus autem Iudaeam et adpropians Bethsurae quod erat in angusto loco ab Hierosolyma intervallo quinque stadiorum illud praesidium expugnabat

11:6. But when Machabeus, and they that were with him, understood that the strong holds were besieged, they and all the people besought the Lord with lamentations and tears, that he would send a good angel to save Israel.

Ut autem Macchabeus et qui cum eo erant cognoverunt expugnari praesidia cum fletu et lacrimis rogabant Dominum et omnis turba simul ut bonum angelum mitteret ad salutem Israhel

11:7. Then Machabeus himself first taking his arms, exhorted the rest to expose themselves together with him, to the danger, and to succour their brethren.

Et ipse primus Macchabeus sumptis armis ceteros adhortatus est simul secum periculum subire et ferre auxilium fratribus suis

11:8. And when they were going forth together with a willing mind, there appeared at Jerusalem a horseman going before them in white clothing, with golden armour, shaking a spear.

Cumque pariter prompto animo procederent Hierosolymis apparuit praecedens eos eques in veste candida armis aureis hastam vibrans

11:9. Then they all together blessed the merciful Lord, and took great courage: being ready to break through not only men, but also the fiercest beasts, and walls of iron.

Tum simul omnes benedixerunt misericordem Dominum et convaluerunt animis non solum homines sed et bestias ferocissimas et muros ferreos parati penetrare

11:10. So they went on courageously, having a helper from heaven, and the Lord, who showed mercy to them.

Ibant igitur prompti de caelo habentes adiutorem et miserantem eos Dominum

11:11. And rushing violently upon the enemy, like lions, they slew of them eleven thousand footmen, and one thousand six hundred horsemen:

Leonum autem impetu inruentes hostibus prostraverunt ex eis undecim milia peditum et equites mille sescentos

11:12. And put all the rest to flight; and many of them being wounded, escaped naked: Yea, and Lysias himself fled away shamefully, and escaped.

Universos autem in fugam verterunt plures vero ex eis vulnerati nudi evaserunt sed et ipse Lysias turpiter fugiens evasit

11:13. And as he was a man of understanding, considering with himself the loss he had suffered, and perceiving that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because they relied upon the help of the Almighty God, he sent to them:

Et quia non insensatus erat secum ipse reputans factam erga se diminutionem et intellegens invictos esse Hebraeos Dei auxilio nitentes misit ad eos

11:14. And promised that he would agree to all things that are just, and that he would persuade the king to be their friend.

Promisitque consensurum se omnibus quae iusta sunt et regem compulsurum amicum fieri

11:15. Then Machabeus consented to the request of Lysias, providing for the common good in all things; and whatsoever Machabeus wrote to Lysias, concerning the Jews, the king allowed of.

Annuit autem Macchabeus precibus Lysiae in omnibus utilitati consulens et quaecumque Macchabeus scripsit Lysiae de Iudaeis ea rex concessit

11:16. For there were letters written to the Jews from Lysias, to this effect: Lysias, to the people of the Jews, greeting.

Nam erant scriptae Iudaeis epistolae a Lysia quidem hunc modum continentes Lysias populo Iudaeorum salutem

11:17. John, and Abesalom, who were sent from you, delivering your writings, requested that I would accomplish those things which were signified by them.

Iohannes et Abessalom qui missi sunt a vobis tradentes scripta postulabant ut ea quae per illos significabantur implem

11:18. Therefore whatsoever things could be reported to the king, I have represented to him: and he hath granted as much as the matter permitted.

Quaecumque igitur regi potuerunt perferri exposui et quae res permittebat concessit

11:19. If, therefore, you will keep yourselves loyal in affairs, hereafter also I will endeavour to be a means of your good.

Si igitur in negotiis fidem conservaveritis etiam deinceps honorum vobis causa esse temptabo

11:20. But as concerning other particulars, I have given orders by word both to these, and to them that are sent by me, to commune with you.

De ceteris autem per singula verbo mandavi et istis et his qui a me missi sunt conloqui vobiscum

11:21. Fare ye well. In the year one hundred and forty-eight, the four and twentieth day of the month of Dioscorus.

Bene valete anno centesimo quadragesimo octavo dioscori die mensis vicesima et quarta

In the year 148... Viz., according to the computation followed by the Greeks; which was different from that of the Hebrews, followed by the writer of the first book of Machabees. However, by this date, as well as by other circumstances, it appears that the expedition of Lysias, mentioned in this chapter, is different from that which is recorded, 1 Maccabees 6.

11:22. But the king's letter contained these words King Antiochus to Lysias, his brother, greeting.

Regis autem epistula ista continebat rex Antiochus Lysiae fratri salutem

11:23. Our father being translated amongst the gods we are desirous that they that are in our realm should live quietly, and apply themselves diligently to their own concerns.

Patre nostro inter deos translato nos volentes eos qui sunt in regno nostro sine tumultu agere et rebus suis adhibere diligentiam

11:24. And we have heard that the Jews would not consent to my father to turn to the rites of the Greeks but that they would keep to their own manner of living and therefore that they request us to allow them to live after their own laws.

Audivimus Iudaeos non consensisse patri ut transferrentur ad ritum Graecorum sed tenere velle suum institutum ac propterea postulare concedi sibi legitima sua

11:25. Wherefore being desirous that this nation also should be at rest, we have ordained and decreed, that the temple should be restored to them, and that they may live according to the custom of their ancestors.

Volentes igitur hanc quoque gentem quietam esse statuentes iudicavimus templum restitui illis ut agerent secundum maiorum suorum consuetudinem

11:26. Thou shalt do well, therefore, to send to them, and grant them peace, that our pleasure being known, they may be of good comfort, and look to their own affairs.

Bene igitur feceris si miseris ad eos et dextram dederis ut cognita nostra voluntate bono animo sint et utilitatibus propriis deserviant

11:27. But the king's letter to the Jews was in this manner: King Antiochus to the senate of the Jews, and to the rest of the Jews, greeting.

Ad Iudaeos autem regis epistula talis erat rex Antiochus senatui Iudaeorum et ceteris Iudaeis salutem

11:28. If you are well, you are as we desire: we ourselves also are well.

Si valetis sic estis ut volumus sed et ipsi bene valemus

11:29. Menelaus came to us, saying that you desired to come down to your countrymen, that are with us.

Adiit nos Menelaus dicens velle vos descendere ad vestros qui sunt apud nos

11:30. We grant, therefore, a safe conduct to all that come and go, until the thirtieth day of the month of Xanthicus,

His igitur qui comitantur usque ad diem tricesimum mensis xandici damus dextras securitatis

11:31. That the Jews may use their own kind of meats, and their own laws, as before: and that none of them any manner of ways be molested for things which have been done by ignorance.

Ut Iudaei utantur cibis et legibus suis sicut et prius et nemo eorum ullo modo molestiam patiat de his quae per ignorantiam gesta sunt

11:32. And we have sent also Menelaus to speak to you.

Misi autem et Menelaum qui vos adloquatur

11:33. Fare ye well. In the year one hundred and forty-eight, the fifteenth day of the month of Xanthicus.

Valete anno centesimo quadragesimo octavo xandici mensis quintadecima

11:34. The Romans also sent them a letter, to this effect: Quintus Memmius, and Titus Manilius, ambassadors of the Romans, to the people of the Jews, greeting.

Miserunt autem etiam Romani epistolam ita se habentem Quintus Memmius et Titus Manilius legati Romanorum populo Iudaeorum salutem

11:35. Whatsoever Lysias, the king's cousin, hath granted to you, we also have granted.

De his quae Lysias cognatus regis concessit vobis et nos concessimus

11:36. But touching such things as he thought should be referred to the king, after you have diligently conferred among yourselves, send some one forthwith, that we may decree as it is convenient for you: for we are going to Antioch.

De quibus autem iudicavit referendum confestim aliquem mittite diligentius inter vos conferentes ut decernamus sicut congruit vobis nos enim Antiochiam accedimus

11:37. And therefore make haste to write back, that we may know of what mind you are.

Ideoque festinate scribere ut nos quoque sciamus cuius estis voluntatis

11:38. Fare ye well. In the year one hundred and forty-eight, the fifteenth day of the month of Xanthicus.

Bene valete anno centesimo quadragesimo octavo quintadecima die mensis xandici

2 Maccabees Chapter 12

The Jews are still molested by their neighbours. Judas gains divers victories over them. He orders sacrifice and prayers for the dead.

12:1. When these covenants were made, Lysias went to the king, and the Jews gave themselves to husbandry.

His factis pactionibus Lysias pergebat ad regem Iudaei autem agriculturae operam dabant

12:2. But they that were behind, viz. Timotheus, and Apollonius, the son of Genneus, also Hieronymus, and Demophon, and besides them Nicanor, the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to live in peace, and to be quiet.

Sed hii qui resederant Timotheus et Apollonius gehennae filius sed et Hieronimus et Demofon super hos et Nicanor cypriarches non sinebant eos in silentio agere et quiete

12:3. The men of Joppe also were guilty of this kind of wickedness: they desired the Jews, who dwelt among them, to go with their wives and children into the boats, which they had prepared, as though they had no enmity to them.

Ioppitae vero tale quoddam flagitium perpetrarunt rogaverunt Iudaeos cum quibus habitabant ascendere scaphas quas paraverant cum uxoribus et filiis quasi nullis inimicitiiis inter eos subiacentibus

12:4. Which when they had consented to, according to the common decree of the city, suspecting nothing, because of the peace: when they were gone forth into the deep, they drowned no fewer than two hundred of them.

Secundum communem itaque decretum civitatis et ipsis adquiescentibus pacisque causa nihil suspectum habentibus cum in altum processissent submerserunt non minus ducentos

12:5. But as soon as Judas heard of this cruelty done to his countrymen, he commanded the men that were with him: and after having called upon God, the just judge,

Quam crudelitatem Iudas in suae gentis homines factam ut cognovit praecepit viris qui erant cum ipso et invocato iusto iudice Deo

12:6. He came against those murderers of his brethren, and set the haven on fire in the night, burnt the boats, and slew with the sword them that escaped from the fire.

Venit adversus interfectores fratrum et portum quidem noctu succendit scaphas exusit eos autem qui ab igne refugerant gladio peremit

12:7. And when he had done these things in this manner, he departed as if he would return again, and root out all the Joppites.

Et cum haec ita egisset discessit quasi iterum reversurus et universos Ioppitas eradicaturus

12:8. But when he understood that the men of Jamnia also designed to do in like manner to the Jews that dwelt among them,

Sed cum cognovisset et eos qui erant Iamniae velle pari modo facere habitantibus secum Iudaeis

12:9. He came upon the Jamnites also by night, and set the haven on fire, with the ships, so that the light of the fire was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs off.

Iamnitis quoque nocte supervenit et portum cum navibus succendit ita ut lumen ignis pareret Hierosolymis ab stadiis ducentis quadraginta

12:10. And when they were now gone from thence nine furlongs, and were marching towards Timotheus, five thousand footmen, and five hundred horsemen of the Arabians, set upon them.

Inde cum abissent novem stadiis et iter facerent ad Timotheum commiserunt cum eo Arabes quinque milia

viri et equites quingenti

12:11. And after a hard fight, in which, by the help of God, they got the victory, the rest of the Arabians being overcome, besought Judas for peace, promising to give him pastures, and to assist him in other things.

Cumque pugna valida fieret et auxilio Dei prospere cessisset residui victi Arabes petebant a Iuda dextras sibi dari promittentes pascua daturus et in ceteris profuturos

12:12. And Judas thinking that they might be profitable indeed in many things, promised them peace, and after having joined hands, they departed to their tents.

Iudas autem arbitratus vere in multis eos utiles promisit pacem dextrisque acceptis discessere ad tabernacula sua

12:13. He also laid siege to a certain strong city, encompassed with bridges and walls, and inhabited by multitudes of different nations, the name of which is Casphin.

Adgressus est autem et civitatem quandam firmam pontibus murisque circumseptam quae a turbis habitabatur gentium promiscuarum cui nomen Caspin

12:14. But they that were within it, trusting in the strength of the walls, and the provision of victuals, behaved in a more negligent manner, and provoked Judas with railing and blaspheming, and uttering such words as were not to be spoken.

Hii vero qui intus erant confidentes in stabilitate murorum et adparatu alimoniarum remissius agebant maledictis lacessentes Iudam ac blasphemantes et loquentes quae fas non est

12:15. But Machabeus calling upon the great Lord of the world, who without any rams or engines of war threw down the walls of Jericho, in the time of Josue, fiercely assaulted the walls.

Macchabeus autem invocato magno mundi principe qui sine arietibus et machinis temporibus Iesu praecipitavit Hiericho inruit ferociter muris

Rams... That is, engines for battering walls, etc., which were used in sieges in those times.

12:16. And having taken the city by the will of the Lord, he made an unspeakable slaughter, so that a pool adjoining, of two furlongs broad, seemed to run with the blood of the slain.

Et capta civitate per Domini voluntatem inenarrabiles caedes fecit ita ut adiacens stagnum stadiorum duo latitudinis sanguine infectum fluere videretur

12:17. From thence they departed seven hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to Characa, to the Jews that are called Tubianites.

Inde discesserunt stadia septingenta quinquaginta et venerunt in Characa ad eos qui dicuntur Tubianei Iudaeos

12:18. But as for Timotheus, they found him not in those places, for before he had dispatched any thing he went back, having left a very strong garrison in a certain hold:

Et Timotheum quidem in illis locis comprehenderunt nulloque negotio perfecto regressus est relicto in quodam loco firmissimo praesidio

12:19. But Dositheus, and Sosipater, who were captains with Machabeus, slew them that were left by Timotheus in the hold, to the number of ten thousand men.

Dositheus autem et Sosipater qui erant duces cum Macchabeo peremerunt a Timotheo relictos in praesidio decem milia viros

12:20. And Machabeus having set in order about him six thousand men, and divided them by bands, went forth against Timotheus, who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen, and two thousand five hundred horsemen.

At Macchabeus ordinatis circum se sex milibus et constitutis per cohortes adversus Timotheum processit habentem secum centum viginti milia peditum equitumque duo milia quingentos

12:21. Now when Timotheus had knowledge of the coming of Judas, he sent the women and children, and the other baggage, before him into a fortress, called Carnion: for it was impregnable, and hard to come at, by reason of the straitness of the places.

Cognito autem Iudae adventu Timotheus praemisit mulieres et filios et reliquum adparatum in praesidium quod Carnion dicitur erat enim inexpugnabile et accessu difficile propter locorum angustias

12:22. But when the first band of Judas came in sight, the enemies were struck with fear, by the presence of God, who seeth all things, and they were put to flight one from another, so that they were often thrown down by their own companions, and wounded with the strokes of their own swords.

Cumque cohors Iudae prima apparuisset timor hostibus incussus est ex praesentia Dei qui universa conspicit et in fugam versi sunt alius alio ita ut magis a suis deicerentur et gladiatorum suorum ictibus debilitarentur

12:23. But Judas pursued them close, punishing the profane, of whom he slew thirty thousand men.

Iudas autem vehementer instabat puniens profanos et prostravit ex eis triginta milia virorum

12:24. And Timotheus himself fell into the hands of the band of Dositheus and Sosipater, and with many prayers he besought them to let him go with his life, because he had the parents and brethren of many of the Jews, who, by his death, might happen to be deceived.

Ipse vero Timotheus incidit in partes Dosithei et Sosipatri et multis precibus postulabat ut vivus dimitteretur eo quod multorum ex Iudaeis parentes haberet ac fratres quos morte eius decipi eveniret

12:25. And when he had given his faith that he would restore them according to the agreement, they let him go without hurt, for the saving of their brethren.

Et cum fidem dedisset restitutum se eos secundum constitutum inlaesum eum dimiserunt propter fratrum salutem

12:26. Then Judas went away to Carnion, where he slew five and twenty thousand persons.

Iudas autem egressus est a Carnio interfectis viginti quinque milibus

12:27. And after he had put to flight and destroyed these, he removed his army to Ephron, a strong city, wherein there dwelt a multitude of divers nations: and stout young men standing upon the walls, made a vigorous resistance: and in this place there were many engines of war, and a provision of darts.

Post horum fugam et necem movit exercitum ad Efron civitatem munitam in qua multitudo diversarum gentium habitabat et robusti iuvenes pro muris consistentes fortiter repugnabant in hac autem machinae multae et telorum erat adparatus

12:28. But when they had invoked the Almighty, who with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they took the city: and slew five and twenty thousand of them that were within.

Sed cum Omnipotentem invocassent qui potestate vires hostium confregit ceperunt civitatem et ex eis qui intus erant viginti quinque milia prostraverunt

12:29. From thence they departed to Scythopolis, which lieth six hundred furlongs from Jerusalem.

Inde ad civitatem Scytarum abierunt quae ab Hierosolymis sescentis stadiis aberat

Scythopolis... Formerly called Bethsan.

12:30. But the Jews that were among the Scythopolitans testifying that they were used kindly by them, and that even in the times of their adversity they had treated them with humanity:

Contestantibus autem his qui apud Scytopolitas erant Iudaeis quod benigne ab eis haberentur etiam temporibus infelicitatis quod modeste secum egerint

12:31. They gave them thanks, exhorting them to be still friendly to their nation, and so they came to Jerusalem, the feast of the weeks being at hand.

Gratias agentes eis exhortati etiam de cetero erga genus suum benignos esse venerunt Hierosolymam die sollempni septimanarum instante

12:32. And after Pentecost they marched against Gorgias, the governor of Idumea.

Et post pentecosten abierunt contra Gorgiam praepositum Idumaeae

12:33. And he came out with three thousand footmen and four hundred horsemen.

Exivit autem cum peditibus tribus milibus et equitibus quadringentis

12:34. And when they had joined battle, it happened that a few of the Jews were slain.

Quibus congressis contigit paucos ruere Iudaeorum

12:35. But Dositheus, a horseman, one of Bacenor's band, a valiant man, took hold of Gorgias: and when he would have taken him alive, a certain horseman of the Thracians came upon him, and cut off his shoulder: and so Gorgias escaped to Maresa.

Dositheus vero quidam de Bachenor's eques vir fortis Gorgiam tenebat et cum vellet illum capere vivum eques quidam de Thracibus inruit in eum umerumque eius amputavit atque ita Gorgias effugit in Marisa

12:36. But when they that were with Esdrin had fought long, and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord to be their helper, and leader of the battle:

At illis qui cum Esdrin erant diutius pugnantis et fatigatis invocavit Dominum Judas adiutorem et ducem belli fieri

12:37. Then beginning in his own language, and singing hymns with a loud voice, he put Gorgias's soldiers to flight.

Incipiens voce patria et cum hymnis clamorem extollens fugam Gorgiae militibus incussit

12:38. So Judas having gathered together his army, came into the city Odollam: and when the seventh day came, they purified themselves according to the custom, and kept the sabbath in the same place.

Iudas autem collecto exercitu venit in civitatem Odollam et cum septima dies superveniret secundum consuetudinem purificati in eodem loco sabbatum egerunt

12:39. And the day following Judas came with his company, to take away the bodies of them that were slain, and to bury them with their kinsmen, in the sepulchres of their fathers.

Et sequenti die venit cum suis Iudas ut corpora prostratorum tolleret et cum parentibus poneret in sepulchris paternis

12:40. And they found under the coats of the slain, some of the donaries of the idols of Jamnia, which the law forbiddeth to the Jews: so that all plainly saw, that for this cause they were slain.

Invenerunt autem sub tunicis interfectorum de donariis idolorum quae apud Iamnian fuerunt a quibus lex prohibet Iudaeos omnibus ergo manifestum factum est ob hanc causam eos corruisse

Of the donaries, etc... That is, of the votive offerings, which had been hung up in the temples of the idols, which they had taken away when they burnt the port of Jamnia, verse 9, contrary to the prohibition of the law, Deuteronomy 7:25.

12:41. Then they all blessed the just judgment of the Lord, who had discovered the things that were hidden.

Omnes itaque benedixerunt iustum iudicium Domini qui occulta fecerit manifesta

12:42. And so betaking themselves to prayers, they besought him, that the sin which had been committed might be forgotten. But the most valiant Judas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sin, forasmuch as they saw before their eyes what had happened, because of the sins of those that were slain.

Atque ita ad preces conversi rogaverunt ut id quod factum erat delictum oblitteraretur at vero fortissimus Iudas hortabatur populum conservare se sine peccato sub oculis videntes quae facta sint pro peccato eorum qui prostrati sunt

12:43. And making a gathering, he sent twelve thousand drachms of silver to Jerusalem for sacrifice to be offered for the sins of the dead, thinking well and religiously concerning the resurrection.

Et facta conlatione duodecim milia dragmas argenti misit Hierosolymam offerri pro peccato sacrificium bene et religiose de resurrectione cogitans

12:44. (For if he had not hoped that they that were slain should rise again, it would have seemed superfluous and vain to pray for the dead),

Nisi enim eos qui ceciderant resurrecturos speraret superfluum videretur et vanum orare pro mortuis

12:45. And because he considered that they who had fallen asleep with godliness, had great grace laid up for them.

Et quia considerabat quod hii qui cum pietate dormitionem acceperant optimam haberent repositam gratiam

With godliness... Judas hoped that these men who died fighting for the cause of God and religion, might find mercy: either because they might be excused from mortal sin by ignorance; or might have repented of their sin, at least at their death.

12:46. It is therefore a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead, that they may be loosed from sins.

Sancta ergo et salubris cogitatio pro defunctis exorare ut a peccato solverentur

It is therefore a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead... Here is an evident and undeniable proof of the practice of praying for the dead under the old law, which was then strictly observed by the Jews, and consequently could not be introduced at that time by Judas, their chief and high priest, if it had not been always their custom.

2 Maccabees Chapter 13

Antiochus and Lysias again invade Judea. Menelaus is put to death. The king's great army is worsted twice. The peace is renewed.

13:1. In the year one hundred and forty-nine, Judas understood that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a multitude against Judea,

Anno centesimo quadragesimo nono cognovit Iudas Antiochum Eupatoris venire cum multitudine adversus Iudaeam

13:2. And with him Lysias, the regent, who had charge over the affairs of the realm, having with him a hundred and ten thousand footmen, five thousand horsemen, twenty-two elephants, and three hundred chariots.

Et cum eo Lysiam procuratorem et praepositum negotiorum secum habentem peditum centum decem milia et equitum quinque milia et elefantos viginti duo currus cum falcibus trecentos

A hundred and ten thousand, etc... The difference between the numbers here set down, and those recorded, 1 Maccabees 4, is easily accounted for; if we consider that such armies as these are liable to be at one time more numerous than at another; either by sending away large detachments, or being diminished by sickness; or increased by receiving fresh supplies of troops, according to different exigencies or occurrences.

13:3. Menelaus also joined himself with them: and with great deceitfulness besought Antiochus, not for the welfare of his country, but in hopes that he should be appointed chief ruler.

Commiscuit autem se illis et Menelaus et cum multa fallacia deprecabatur Antiochum non pro patriae salute sed sperans se constitui in principatum

13:4. But the King of kings stirred up the mind of Antiochus against the sinner, and upon Lysias suggesting that he was the cause of all the evils, he commanded (as the custom is with them) that he should be apprehended and put to death in the same place.

Sed Rex regum suscitavit animos Antiochi in peccatorem et suggerente Lysia hunc esse causam omnium malorum iussit ut eis est consuetudo comprehensum in eodem loco necari

13:5. Now there was in that place a tower fifty cubits high, having a heap of ashes on every side: this had a prospect steep down.

Erat autem in eodem loco turris quinquaginta cubitorum aggestum undique habens cineris haec prospectum habebat in praeceps

13:6. From thence he commanded the sacrilegious wretch to be thrown down into the ashes, all men thrusting him forward unto death.

Inde in cinerem deici iussit sacrilegum omnibus eum propellentibus ad interitum

13:7. And by such a law it happened that Menelaus the transgressor of the law, was put to death: not having so much as burial in the earth.

Et tali lege praevaricatorem legis contigit mori nec terrae dari Menelaum

13:8. And indeed very justly, for insomuch as he had committed many sins against the altar of God, the fire and ashes of which were holy: he was condemned to die in ashes.

Et quidem satis iuste nam quia multa erga aram Dei delicta commisit cuius ignis et cinis erat sanctus ipse in cineris morte damnatus est

13:9. But the king, with his mind full of rage, came on to show himself worse to the Jews than his father was.

Sed rex mente effrenatus veniebat nequiores se Iudaeis ostensurus

13:10. Which when Judas understood, he commanded the people to call upon the Lord day and night, that as he had always done, so now also he would help them:

Quibus Iudas cognitis praecepit populo ut die ac nocte Dominum invocarent quo sicut semper et nunc adiuuaret eos

13:11. Because they were afraid to be deprived of the law, and of their country, and of the holy temple: and that he would not suffer the people, that had of late taken breath for a little while, to be again in subjection to blasphemous nations.

Quippe qui lege et patria sanctoque templo privari vererentur ac populum qui nuper paululum respirasset ne sineret blasphemis rursum nationibus subdi

13:12. So when they had all done this together, and had craved mercy of the Lord with weeping and fasting, lying prostrate on the ground for three days continually, Judas exhorted them to make themselves ready.

Omnibus itaque id simul facientibus et petentibus a Domino misericordiam cum fletu et ieiuniis per triduum continuum prostratis hortatus est eos Iudas ut se praeparent

13:13. But he, with the ancients, determined before the king should bring his army into Judea, and make himself master of the city, to go out, and to commit the event of the thing to the judgment of the Lord.

Ipsa vero cum senioribus cogitavit priusquam rex admovent exercitum ad Iudaeam et obtineret civitatem exire et Domini iudicio committere exitum rei

13:14. So committing all to God, the Creator of the world, and having exhorted his people to fight manfully, and to stand up even to death for the laws, the temple, the city, their country, and citizens: he placed his army about Modin.

Dans itaque potestatem omnium Deo mundi creatori et hortatus suos ut fortiter dimicarent et usque ad mortem pro legibus templo civitate patria et civibus starent circa Modin exercitum constituit

13:15. And having given his company for a watchword, The victory of God, with most valiant chosen young men, he set upon the king's quarter by night, and slew four thousand men in the camp, and the greatest of the elephants, with them that had been upon him,

Et dato signo suis Dei victoria iuvenibus fortissimis electis nocte adgressus aulam regiam in castris interfecit viros quattuor milia et maximum elefantorum cum his qui superpositi erant

13:16. And having filled the camp of the enemies with exceeding great fear and tumult, they went off with good success.

Summoque metu ac perturbatione hostium replentes rebus prospere gestis abierunt

13:17. Now this was done at the break of day, by the protection and help of the Lord.

Hoc autem factum est die inlucescente adiuvante eum Domini protectione

13:18. But the king having taken a taste of the hardiness of the Jews, attempted to take the strong places by policy:

Sed rex accepto gustu audaciae Iudaeorum arte difficultates locorum temptabat

13:19. And he marched with his army to Bethsura, which was a strong hold of the Jews: but he was repulsed, he failed, he lost his men.

Et Bethsurae quod erat Iudaeorum praesidium munitum castra admovebat sed fugabatur inpingebat minuebatur

13:20. Now Judas sent necessaries to them that were within

His autem qui intus erant Iudas necessaria mittebat

13:21. But Rhodocus, one of the Jews' army, disclosed the secrets to the enemies, so he was sought out, and taken up, and put in prison.

Enuntiavit autem mysteria hostibus Rhodocus quidam de iudaico exercitu qui requisitus comprehensus conclusus est

13:22. Again the king treated with them that were in Bethsura: gave his right hand: took theirs: and went away.

Iterum rex sermonem habuit ad eos qui erant in Bethsuris dextram dedit accepit abiit

13:23. He fought with Judas: and was overcome. And when he understood that Philip, who had been left over the affairs, had rebelled at Antioch, he was in a consternation of mind, and intreating the Jews, and yielding to them, he swore to all things that seemed reasonable, and, being reconciled, offered sacrifice, honoured the temple, and left gifts.

Commisit cum Iuda superatus est ut autem cognovit rebellasse Philippum Antiochiae qui relictus erat super negotia mente consternatus Iudaeos deprecans subditusque eis iurat de omnibus quibus iustum visum est et reconciliatus obtulit sacrificium honorificavit templum et munera posuit

13:24. He embraced Machabeus, and made him governor and prince from Ptolemais unto the Gerrenians.
Macchabeum amplexus est et fecit eum ab Ptolomaide usque Gerrenos ducem et principem

13:25. But when he was come to Ptolemais, the men of that city were much displeased with the conditions of the peace, being angry for fear they should break the covenant.

Ut autem venit Ptolomaidam graviter ferebant Ptolomenses amicitiae conventionem indignantes ne forte foedus inrumperent

13:26. Then Lysias went up to the judgment seat, and set forth the reason, and appeased the people, and returned to Antioch: and thus matters went with regard to the king's coming and his return.

Tunc ascendit Lysias tribunal et exposuit rationem et populum sedavit regressusque est Antiochiam et hoc modo regi profectio et reditus processit

2 Maccabees Chapter 14

Demetrius challenges the kingdom. Alcimus applies to him to be made high priest: Nicanor is sent into Judea: his dealings with Judas: his threats. The history of Razias.

14:1. But after the space of three years Judas, and they that were with him, understood that Demetrius, the son of Seleucus, was come up with a great power, and a navy by the haven of Tripolis, to places proper for his purpose,

Sed post triennii tempus cognovit Iudas et qui cum eo erant Demetrium Seleuci cum multitudine valida et navibus per portum Tripoli ascendisse ad loca oportuna

14:2. And had made himself master of the countries against Antiochus, and his general, Lysias.

Et tenuisse regiones adversus Antiochum et eius ducem Lysiam

14:3. Now one Alcimus, who had been chief priest, but had wilfully defiled himself in the time of mingling with the heathens, seeing that there was no safety for him, nor access to the altar,

Alchimus autem quidam qui summus sacerdos fuerat sed voluntarie coinquinatus est temporibus commixtionis considerans nullo modo sibi esse salutem neque accessum ad altare

Now Alcimus, who had been chief priest... This Alcimus was of the stock of Aaron, but for his apostasy here mentioned was incapable of the high priesthood, but king Antiochus Eupator appointed him in place of the high priest, (see above, 1 Maccabees 7:9), as Menelaus had been before him, set up by Antiochus (2 Maccabees 4), yet neither of them were truly high priests; for the true high priesthood was amongst the Machabees, who were also of the stock of Aaron, and had strictly held their religion, and were ordained according to the rites commanded in the law of Moses. -- Ibid. Mingling... with the heathens; that is, in their idolatrous worship.

14:4. Came to king Demetrius in the year one hundred and fifty, presenting unto him a crown of gold, and a palm, and besides these, some boughs that seemed to belong to the temple. And that day indeed he held his peace.

Venit ad regem Demetrium centesimo quinquagesimo anno offerens ei auream coronam et palmam super haec et tallos qui templi esse videbantur et ipsa quidem die siluit

14:5. But having gotten a convenient time to further his madness, being called to counsel by Demetrius, and asked what the Jews relied upon, and what were their counsels,

Tempus autem opportunum dementiae suae nactus convocatus a Demetrio ad consilium et interrogatus quibus rebus et consiliis Iudaei niterentur

14:6. He answered thereunto: They among the Jews that are called Assideans, of whom Judas Machabeus is captain, nourish wars, and raise seditions, and will not suffer the realm to be in peace.

Respondit ipsi qui dicuntur Asidei Iudaeorum quibus praeest Iudas Macchabeus bella nutriunt et seditiones movent nec patiuntur regnum esse quietum

14:7. For I also being deprived of my ancestor's glory (I mean of the high priesthood) am now come hither:

Nam et ego defraudatus parentum gloria dico autem summo sacerdotio huc veni

14:8. Principally indeed out of fidelity to the king's interests, but in the next place also to provide for the good of my countrymen: for all our nation suffereth much from the evil proceedings of these men.

Primo quidem utilitatibus regis fidem servans secundo autem etiam civibus consulens nam illorum pravitate universum genus nostrum non minime vexatur

14:9. Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, take care, I beseech thee, both of the country, and of our nation, according to thy humanity which is known to all men.

Sed his singulis oro rex cognitis et regioni et generi secundum pervulgatam omnibus humanitatem tuam prospice

14:10. For as long as Judas liveth it is not possible that the state should be quiet.

Nam quamdiu superest Iudas impossibile est pacem esse negotiis

14:11. Now when this man had spoken to this effect the rest also of the king's friends, who were enemies of Judas, incensed Demetrius against him.

Talibus autem ab hoc dictis et ceteri amici hostiliter habentes adversus Iudam inflammaverunt Demetrium

14:12. And forthwith he sent Nicanor, the commander over the elephants, governor into Judea:

Qui statim Nicanorem praepositum elefantorum ducem misit Iudaeam

14:13. Giving him in charge, to take Judas himself: and disperse all them that were with him, and to make Alcimus the high priest of the great temple.

Datis mandatis ipsum quidem Iudam caperet eos vero qui cum illo erant dispergeret et constitueret Alcimum maximi templi summum sacerdotem

14:14. Then the Gentiles who had fled out of Judea, from Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the miseries and calamities of the Jews to be the welfare of their affairs.

Tunc gentes quae de Iudaea fugerant Iudam segregatim se Nicanori miscebant miserias et clades Iudaeorum prosperitates rerum suarum existimantes

14:15. Now when the Jews heard of Nicanor's coming, and that the nations were assembled against them, they cast earth upon their heads, and made supplication to him who chose his people to keep them for ever, and who protected his portion by evident signs.

Audito itaque Iudaei Nicanoris adventu et conventu nationum conspersi terra rogabant eum qui populum suum constituit eum in aeternum custodiret quique suam portionem signis evidentibus proteggit

14:16. Then at the commandment of their captain, they forthwith removed from the place where they were, and went to the town of Dessau, to meet them.

Imperante autem duce statim inde moverunt et convenerunt ad castellum Dessau

14:17. Now Simon, the brother of Judas, had joined battle with Nicanor: but was frightened with the sudden coming of the adversaries.

Simon vero frater Iudae commiserat cum Nicanore sed conterritus est repentino adventu adversariorum

14:18. Nevertheless Nicanor hearing of the valour of Judas's companions, and the greatness of courage, with which they fought for their country, was afraid to try the matter by the sword.

Nicanor tamen audiens virtutem comitum Iudae et animi magnitudinem quam pro patriae certaminibus habebant sanguine iudicium facere metuebat

14:19. Wherefore he sent Posidonius, and Theodotius and Matthias before to present and receive the right hands.

Quam ob rem misit Possidonium et Theodotum et Matthathiam ut darent dextras atque acciperent

14:20. And when there had been a consultation thereupon, and the captain had acquainted the multitude with it, they were all of one mind to consent to covenants.

Et cum diu de his consilium ageretur et ipse dux ad multitudinem rettulisset omnium una fuit sententia amicitii annuere

14:21. So they appointed a day upon which they might come together by themselves: and seats were brought out, and set for each one.

Itaque diem constituerunt qua secreto inter se agerent et a singulis sellae prolatae sunt et positae

14:22. But Judas ordered armed men to be ready in convenient places, lest some mischief might be suddenly practised by the enemies: so they made an agreeable conference.

Praecepit autem Iudas armatos esse locis oportunis ne forte ab hostibus repente mali aliquid oriretur et congruum colloquium fecerunt

14:23. And Nicanor abode in Jerusalem, and did no wrong, but sent away the flocks of the multitudes that had been gathered together.

Morabatur autem Nicanor Hierosolymis et nihil inique agebat gregesque turbarum quae congregatae fuerant dimisit

14:24. And Judas was always dear to him from the heart, and he was well affected to the man.

Habebat autem semper Iudam carum ex animo erat vero inclinatus

14:25. And he desired him to marry a wife, and to have children. So he married: he lived quietly, and they lived in common.

Rogavit eum ducere uxorem filiosque procreare nuptias fecit quiete egit communiterque vivebant

14:26. But Alcimus seeing the love they had one to another, and the covenants, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor had assented to the foreign interest, for that he meant to make Judas, who was a traitor to the kingdom, his successor.

Alchimus autem videns caritatem illorum ad invicem et conventiones venit ad Demetrium et dicebat Nicanorem rebus alienis adsentare Iudamque regni insidiatorem successorem sibi destinasse

14:27. Then the king, being in a rage, and provoked with this man's wicked accusation, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was greatly displeased with the covenant of friendship: and that he commanded him nevertheless to send Machabeus prisoner in all haste to Antioch.

Itaque rex exasperatus et pessimis huius criminationibus iritatus scripsit Nicanori dicens graviter quidem se ferre de amicitiae conventionem iubere tamen Macchabeum citius vinctum mittere Antiochiam

14:28. When this was known, Nicanor was in a consternation, and took it grievously that he should make void the articles that were agreed upon, having received no injury from the man.

Quibus cognitis Nicanor consternabatur et graviter ferebat si ea quae convenerant irrita faceret nihil laesus a viro

14:29. But because he could not oppose the king, he watched an opportunity to comply with the orders.

Sed quia regi resistere non poterat oportunitatem observabat qua praeceptum perficeret

14:30. But when Machabeus perceived that Nicanor was more stern to him, and that when they met together as usual he behaved himself in a rough manner; and was sensible that this rough behaviour came not of good, he gathered together a few of his men, and hid himself from Nicanor.

At Macchabeus videns austerius secum agere Nicanorem et consuetum occursum ferocius exhibentem intellegens non ex bono esse austeritatem istam paucis suorum congregatis occultavit se a Nicanore

14:31. But he finding himself notably prevented by the man, came to the great and holy temple: and commanded the priests that were offering the accustomed sacrifices, to deliver him the man.

Quod ut ille cognovit fortiter se a viro praevenit venit ad maximum et sanctissimum templum et sacerdotibus solitas hostias offerentibus iussit sibi tradi virum

14:32. And when they swore unto him, that they knew not where the man was whom he sought, he stretched out his hand to the temple,

Quibus cum iuramento dicentibus nescire se ubi esset qui quaerebatur extendens manum ad templum

14:33. And swore, saying: Unless you deliver Judas prisoner to me, I will lay this temple of God even with the ground, and will beat down the altar, and I will dedicate this temple to Bacchus.

Iuravit nisi mihi vinctum Iudam tradideritis istud Dei fanum in planitiem deducam et altare effodiam et templum hoc Libero patri consecrabo

14:34. And when he had spoken thus, he departed. But the priests stretching forth their hands to heaven, called upon him that was ever the defender of their nation, saying in this manner:

Et his dictis abiit sacerdotes autem protendentibus manus in caelum invocabant eum qui semper propugnator esset gentis ipsorum haec dicentes

14:35. Thou, O Lord of all things, who wantest nothing, wast pleased that the temple of thy habitation should be amongst us.

Tu Domine qui universitatis nullius indiges voluisti templum habitationis tuae fieri in nobis

14:36. Therefore now, O Lord, the holy of all holies, keep this house for ever undefiled, which was lately cleansed.

Et nunc sancte sanctorum omnium Domine conserva in aeternum inpollutam domum istam quae nuper mundata est

14:37. Now Razias, one of the ancients of Jerusalem, was accused to Nicanor, a man that was a lover of the city, and of good report, who for his kindness was called the father of the Jews.

Razias autem quidam de senioribus ab Hierosolymis delatus est Nicanori vir amator civitatis et bene audiens

qui pro adfectu pater Iudaeorum appellabatur

14:38. This man, for a long time, had held fast his purpose of keeping himself pure in the Jews' religion, and was ready to expose his body and life, that he might persevere therein.

Hic multis temporibus continentiae propositum tenuit in iudaismo corpusque et animam tradere contentus pro perseverantia

14:39. So Nicanor being willing to declare the hatred that he bore the Jews, sent five hundred soldiers to take him.

Volens autem Nicanor manifestare odium quod habebat in Iudaeos misit milites quingentos ut eum comprehenderent

14:40. For he thought by ensnaring him to hurt the Jews very much.

Putabat enim si illum decepisset se cladem maximam Iudaeis inlaturum

14:41. Now as the multitude sought to rush into his house, and to break open the door, and to set fire to it, when he was ready to be taken, he struck himself with his sword:

Turbis autem inruere domum eius et ianuam dirumpere atque ignem admovere cupientibus cum iam comprehenderetur gladio se petit

He struck himself, etc... St. Augustine (Epist. 61, ad Dulcitium, et lib. 2, cap. 23, ad Epist. 2, Gaud.) discussing this fact of Razias, says, that the holy scripture relates it, but doth not praise it, as to be admired or imitated, and that either it was not well done by him, or at least not proper in this time of grace.

14:42. Choosing to die nobly rather than to fall into the hands of the wicked, and to suffer abuses unbecoming his noble birth.

Eligens nobiliter mori potius quam subditus fieri peccatoribus et contra natales suos indignis iniuriis agi

14:43. But whereas through haste he missed of giving a sure wound, and the crowd was breaking into the doors, he ran boldly to the wall, and manfully threw himself down to the crowd:

Sed cum per festinationem non certo ictu plagam dedisset et turbae intra ostia inrumperent recurrens audenter ad murum praecipitavit semet ipsum viriliter in turbas

14:44. But they quickly making room for his fall, he came upon the midst of the neck.

Quibus velociter locum dantibus casui eius venit per mediam cervicem

He came upon the midst of the neck... Venit per mediam cervicem. In the Greek it is keneona, which signifies a void place, where there is no building.

14:45. And as he had yet breath in him, being inflamed in mind, he arose: and while his blood ran down with a great stream, and he was grievously wounded, he ran through the crowd:

Et cum adhuc spiraret accensis animis surrexit cum et sanguis eius magno fluxu deflueret saucius cursu turbam pertransiit

14:46. And standing upon a steep rock, when he was now almost without blood, grasping his bowels, with both hands he cast them upon the throng, calling upon the Lord of life and spirit, to restore these to him again: and so he departed this life.

Et stans super petram quandam praeeruptam et iam exsanguis effectus complexus intestina sua utrisque manibus proiecit super turbas invocans Dominatorem vitae ac spiritus ut haec illi iterum redderet atque ita vita defunctus est

Judas encouraged by a vision gains a glorious victory over Nicanor. The conclusion.

15:1. But when Nicanor understood that Judas was in the places of Samaria, he purposed to set upon him with all violence, on the sabbath day.

Nicanor autem ut conperit Iudam esse in locis Samariae cogitavit die sabbati cum omni impetu committere

15:2. And when the Jews that were constrained to follow him, said: Do not act so fiercely and barbarously, but give honour to the day that is sanctified: and reverence him that beholdeth all things:

Iudaeis vero qui illum per necessitatem sequebantur dicentibus ne ita ferociter et barbaramente feceris sed honorem tribue diei sanctificationis et honora eum qui universa conspicit

15:3. That unhappy man asked, if there were a mighty One in heaven, that had commanded the sabbath day to be kept.

At ille infelix interrogavit si est potens in saeculo qui imperavit agi diem sabbatorum

15:4. And when they answered: There is the living Lord himself in heaven, the mighty One, that commanded the seventh day to be kept.

Et respondentibus illis est Dominus vivus ipse in caelo potens qui iussit agi septimam diem

15:5. Then he said: And I am mighty upon the earth, and I command to take arms, and to do the king's business. Nevertheless he prevailed not to accomplish his design.

At ille ait et ego potens sum super terram qui impero sumi arma et negotia regis impleri tamen non obtinuit ut consilium perficeret

15:6. So Nicanor being puffed up with exceeding great pride, thought to set up a public monument of his victory over Judas.

Et Nicanor quidem cum summa superbia erectus cogitaverat commune tropeum statuere de Iuda

15:7. But Machabeus ever trusted with all hope that God would help them.

Macchabeus autem confidebat semper cum omni spe auxilium sibi a Domino adfuturum

15:8. And he exhorted his people not to fear the coming of the nations, but to remember the help they had before received from heaven, and now to hope for victory from the Almighty.

Et hortabatur suos ne formidarent ad adventum nationum sed in mente haberent adiutoria sibi facta de caelo et nunc sperarent ab Omnipotente adfuturam sibi victoriam

15:9. And speaking to them out of the law, and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the battles they had fought before, he made them more cheerful:

Et adlocutus illos de lege et prophetis admonens etiam certaminum quae fecerant prius promptiores eos constituit

15:10. Then after he had encouraged them, he showed withal the falsehood of the Gentiles, and their breach of oaths.

Et ita animis eorum erectis simul ostendens gentium fallaciam et iuramentorum praevaricationem

15:11. So he armed every one of them, not with defence of shield and spear, but with very good speeches, and exhortations, and told them a dream worthy to be believed, whereby he rejoiced them all.

Singulos autem illorum armavit non clypei et hastae munitione sed sermonibus optimis et hortationibus exposito digno fide somnio per quod universos laetificavit

15:12. Now the vision was in this manner. Onias, who had been high priest, a good and virtuous man, modest in his looks, gentle in his manners, and graceful in speech, and who from a child was exercised in virtues holding up his hands, prayed for all the people of the Jews:

Erat autem huiusmodi visus Onian qui fuerat summus sacerdos virum bonum et benignum verecundum visu modestum moribus et eloquio decorum et qui a puero in virtutibus exercitatus sit manus protendentem orare pro omni populo Iudaeorum

15:13. After this there appeared also another man, admirable for age, and glory, and environed with great beauty and majesty:

Post haec apparuisse et alium virum aetate et gloria mirabilem et magni decoris habitudine circa illum

15:14. Then Onias answering, said: This is a lover of his brethren, and of the people of Israel: this is he that prayeth much for the people, and for all the holy city, Jeremias, the prophet of God.

Respondentem vero Onian dixisse hic est fratrum amator et populi Israhel hic est qui multum orat pro populo et universa sancta civitate Hieremias propheta Dei

15:15. Whereupon Jeremias stretched forth his right hand, and gave to Judas a sword of gold, saying:

Extendisse autem Hieremiam dexteram et dedisse Iudae gladium aureum dicentem

15:16. Take this holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt overthrow the adversaries of my people Israel.

Accipe sanctum gladium munus a Deo quo deicies adversarios populi mei Israhel

15:17. Thus being exhorted with the words of Judas, which were very good, and proper to stir up the courage, and strengthen the hearts of the young men, they resolved to fight, and to set upon them manfully: that valour might decide the matter, because the holy city, and the temple were in danger.

Exhortati itaque Iudae sermonibus bonis valde de quibus extolli possit impetus et animi iuvenum confortari statuerunt dimicare et conflagere fortiter ut virtus de negotiis iudicaret eo quod civitas et sancta et templum periclitaretur

15:18. For their concern was less for their wives, and children, and for their brethren, and kinsfolks: but their greatest and principal fear was for the holiness of the temple.

Erat enim pro uxoribus et filiis itemque pro fratribus et cognatis minor sollicitudo maximus vero et primus pro sanctitate timor erat templi

15:19. And they also that were in the city, had no little concern for them that were to be engaged in battle.

Sed et eos qui in civitate erant non minima sollicitudo habebat pro his qui congressi erant

15:20. And now when all expected what judgment would be given, and the enemies were at hand, and the army was set in array, the beasts and the horsemen ranged in convenient places,

Et cum iam omnes sperarent iudicium futurum hostisque adesset atque exercitus esset ordinatus bestiae equitesque oportuno in loco conpositi

15:21. Machabeus considering the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fierceness of the beasts, stretching out his hands to heaven, called upon the Lord, that worketh wonders, who giveth victory to them that are worthy, not according to the power of their arms, but according as it seemeth good to him.

Considerans Macchabeus adventum multitudinis et adparatum varium armorum ac ferocitatem bestiarum extendens manum in caelum prodigia facientem Dominum invocavit qui non secundum armorum potentiam sed prout ipsi placet dat dignis victoriam

15:22. And in his prayer he said after this manner: Thou, O Lord, who didst send thy angel in the time of Ezechias, king of Juda, and didst kill a hundred and eighty-five thousand of the army of Sennacherib:

Dixit autem invocans hoc modo tu Domine misisti angelum tuum sub Ezechia rege Iudae et interfecisti de castris Sennacherim centum octoginta quinque milia

15:23. Send now also, O Lord of heaven, thy good angel before us, for the fear and dread of the greatness of thy arm,

Et nunc Dominator caelorum mitte angelum tuum bonum ante nos in timore et tremore magnitudinis brachii tui

15:24. That they may be afraid, who come with blasphemy against thy holy people. And thus he concluded his prayer.

Ut metuant qui cum blasphemia veniunt adversus sanctum populum tuum et hic quidem ita peroravit

15:25. But Nicanor, and they that were with him came forward, with trumpets and songs.

Nicanor autem et qui cum ipso erant cum tubis et canticis admovebant

15:26. But Judas, and they that were with him, encountered them, calling upon God by prayers:

Iudas vero et qui cum eo erant invocato Deo per orationes congressi sunt

15:27. So fighting with their hands, but praying to the Lord with their hearts, they slew no less than five and thirty thousand, being greatly cheered with the presence of God.

Manu quidem pugnantes sed cordibus Dominum orantes prostraverunt non minus triginta milia praesentia Dei magnifice delectati

15:28. And when the battle was over, and they were returning with joy, they understood that Nicanor was slain in his armour.

Cumque cessassent et cum gaudio redirent cognoverunt Nicanorem ruisse cum armis suis

15:29. Then making a shout, and a great noise, they blessed the Almighty Lord in their own language.

Facto itaque clamore et perturbatione suscitata patria voce omnipotentem Dominum benedicebant

15:30. And Judas, who was altogether ready, in body and mind, to die for his countrymen, commanded that Nicanor's head, and his hand, with the shoulder, should be cut off, and carried to Jerusalem.

Praecepit autem Iudas qui per omnia corpore et animo emori pro civibus paratus erat caput Nicanoris et manum cum umero abscisam Hierosolymam perferri

15:31. And when he was come thither, having called together his countrymen, and the priests to the altar, he sent also for them that were in the castle,

Quo cum convenisset convocatis contribulibus et sacerdotibus ad altare arcersiit et eos qui in arce erant

15:32. And showing them the head of Nicanor, and the wicked hand, which he had stretched out, with proud boasts, against the holy house of the Almighty God,

Et ostenso capite Nicanoris et manu nefaria quam extendens contra domum sanctam omnipotentis Dei magnifice gloriatus est

15:33. He commanded also, that the tongue of the wicked Nicanor should be cut out, and given by pieces to birds, and the hand of the furious man to be hanged up over against the temple.

Linguam etiam impii Nicanoris praecisam iussit particulatim avibus dari manum autem dementis contra templum suspendi

15:34. Then all blessed the Lord of heaven, saying: Blessed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled.

Omnes igitur caeli Dominum benedixerunt dicentes benedictus qui locum suum incontaminatum conservavit

15:35. And he hung up Nicanor's head in the top of the castle, that it might be an evident and manifest sign of the help of God.

Suspendit autem Nicanoris caput in summa arce evidens ut esset et manifestum sit auxilii Dei

15:36. And they all ordained by a common decree, by no means to let this day pass without solemnity:

Itaque omnes communi consilio decreverunt nullo modo diem istum absque celebritate praeterire

15:37. But to celebrate the thirteenth day of the month of Adar, called in the Syrian language, the day before Mardocheas' day.

Habere autem celebritatem tertiadecima die mensis adar quod dicitur voce syriaca pridie Mardochei die

15:38. So these things being done with relation to Nicanor, and from that time the city being possessed by the Hebrews, I also will here make an end of my narration.

Igitur his erga Nicanorem gestis et ex illis temporibus ab Hebraeis civitate possessa ego quoque in his finem faciam sermonis

15:39. Which if I have done well, and as it becometh the history, it is what I desired: but if not so perfectly, it must be pardoned me.

Et siquidem bene et ut historiae competit et ipse velim si autem minus digne concedendum est mihi

If not so perfectly, etc... This is not said with regard to the truth of the narration; but with regard to the style and manner of writing: which in the sacred penmen is not always the most accurate. See St. Paul, 2 Corinthians 11:6.

15:40. For as it is hurtful to drink always wine, or always water, but pleasant to use sometimes the one, and sometimes the other: so if the speech be always nicely framed, it will not be grateful to the readers.

But here it shall be ended.

2 Peter

The Second Epistle of St. Peter the Apostle

In this Epistle St. Peter says (chap, 3): Behold this second Epistle I write to you: and before (chap. 1),: Being assured that the laying away of this my tabernacle is at hand. This shows, that it was written a very short time before his martyrdom, which was about thirty-five years after our Lord's Ascension. In this Epistle he admonishes the faithful to be mindful of the great gifts they received from God and to join all other virtues with their faith. He warns them against false teachers, by describing their practices and foretelling their punishments. He describes the dissolution of this world by fire and the day of judgment. (For more information, see the article EPISTLES OF PETER in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

2 Peter Chapter 1. He exhorts them to join all other virtues with their faith, in order to secure their salvation.

2 Peter Chapter 2. He warns them against false teachers and foretells their punishment.

2 Peter Chapter 3. Against scoffers denying the second coming of Christ. He declares the sudden dissolution of this world and exhorts to holiness of life.

2 Peter Chapter 1

He exhorts them to join all other virtues with their faith, in order to secure their salvation.

1:1. Simon Peter, servant and apostle of Jesus Christ: to them that have obtained equal faith with us in the justice of our God and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Simon Petrus servus et apostolus Iesu Christi his qui coaequalem nobis sortiti sunt fidem in iustitia Dei nostri et salvatoris Iesu Christi

1:2. Grace to you and peace be accomplished in the knowledge of God and of Christ Jesus our Lord.

Gratia vobis et pax adimpleatur in cognitione Domini nostri

1:3. As all things of his divine power which appertain to life and godliness are given us through the knowledge of him who hath called us by his own proper glory and virtue.

Quomodo omnia nobis divinae virtutis suae quae ad vitam et pietatem donata est per cognitionem eius qui vocavit nos propria gloria et virtute

1:4. By whom he hath given us most great and precious promises: that by these you may be made partakers of the divine nature: flying the corruption of that concupiscence which is in the world.

Per quae maxima et pretiosa nobis promissa donavit ut per haec efficiamini divinae consortes naturae fugientes eius quae in mundo est concupiscentiae corruptionem

1:5. And you, employing all care, minister in your faith, virtue: And in virtue, knowledge:

Vos autem curam omnem subinferentes ministrare in fide vestra virtutem in virtute autem scientiam

1:6. And in knowledge, abstinence: and in abstinence, patience: and in patience, godliness:

In scientia autem abstinentiam in abstinentia autem patientiam in patientia autem pietatem

1:7. And in godliness, love of brotherhood: and in love of brotherhood, charity.

In pietate autem amorem fraternitatis in amore autem fraternitatis caritatem

1:8. For if these things be with you and abound, they will make you to be neither empty nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Haec enim vobis cum adsint et superent non vacuos nec sine fructu vos constituent in Domini nostri Iesu Christi cognitione

1:9. For he that hath not these things with him is blind and groping, having forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.

Cui enim non praesto sunt haec caecus est et manu temptans oblivionem accipiens purgationis veterum suorum delictorum

1:10. Wherefore, brethren, labour the more, that by good works you may make sure your calling and election. For doing these things, you shall not sin at any time.

Quapropter fratres magis satagite ut per bona opera certam vestram vocationem et electionem faciatis haec enim facientes non peccabitis aliquando

1:11. For so an entrance shall be ministered to you abundantly into the ever-lasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Sic enim abundanter ministrabitur vobis introitus in aeternum regnum Domini nostri et salvatoris Iesu Christi

1:12. For which cause, I will begin to put you always in remembrance of these things: though indeed you know them and are confirmed in the present truth.

Propter quod incipiam vos semper commonere de his et quidem scientes et confirmatos in praesenti

1:13. But I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance.
Iustum autem arbitror quamdiu sum in hoc tabernaculo suscitare vos in commonitione

1:14. Being assured that the laying away of this my tabernacle is at hand, according as our Lord Jesus Christ also hath signified to me.

Certus quod velox est depositio tabernaculi mei secundum quod et Dominus noster Iesus Christus significavit mihi

1:15. And I will endeavour that you frequently have after my decease whereby you may keep a memory of these things.

Dabo autem operam et frequenter habere vos post obitum meum ut horum memoriam faciatis

1:16. For we have not by following artificial fables made known to you the power and presence of our Lord Jesus Christ: but we were eyewitnesses of his greatness.

Non enim doctas fabulas secuti notam fecimus vobis Domini nostri Iesu Christi virtutem et praesentiam sed speculatores facti illius magnitudinis

1:17. For he received from God the Father honour and glory, this voice coming down to him from the excellent glory: This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Hear ye him.

Accipiens enim a Deo Patre honorem et gloriam voce delapsa ad eum huiuscemodi a magnifica gloria hic est Filius meus dilectus in quo mihi conplacui

1:18. And this voice, we heard brought from heaven, when we were with him in the holy mount.

Et hanc vocem nos audivimus de caelo adlatam cum essemus cum ipso in monte sancto

1:19. And we have the more firm prophetical word: whereunto you do well to attend, as to a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn and the day star arise in your hearts.

Et habemus firmiorem propheticum sermonem cui bene facitis adtendentes quasi lucernae lucenti in caliginoso loco donec dies inlucescat et lucifer oriatur in cordibus vestris

1:20. Understanding this first: That no prophecy of scripture is made by private interpretation.

Hoc primum intellegentes quod omnis prophetia scripturae propria interpretatione non fit

No prophecy of scripture is made by private interpretation... This shows plainly that the scriptures are not to be expounded by any one's private judgment or private spirit, because every part of the holy scriptures were written by men inspired by the Holy Ghost, and declared as such by the Church; therefore they are not to be interpreted but by the Spirit of God, which he hath left, and promised to remain with his Church to guide her in all truth to the end of the world. Some may tell us, that many of our divines interpret the scriptures: they may do so, but they do it always with a submission to the judgment of the Church, and not otherwise.

1:21. For prophecy came not by the will of man at any time: but the holy men of God spoke, inspired by the Holy Ghost.

Non enim voluntate humana adlata est aliquando prophetia sed Spiritu Sancto inspirati locuti sunt sancti Dei homines

2 Peter Chapter 2

He warns them against false teachers and foretells their punishment.

2:1. But there were also false prophets among the people, even as there shall be among you lying teachers who shall bring in sects of perdition and deny the Lord who bought them: bringing upon themselves swift destruction.

Fuerunt vero et pseudoprophetae in populo sicut et in vobis erunt magistri mendaces qui introducent sectas perditionis et eum qui emit eos Dominum negant superducentes sibi celerem perditionem

Seeds of perdition... That is, heresies destructive of salvation.

2:2. And many shall follow their riotousness, through whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

Et multi sequentur eorum luxurias per quos via veritatis blasphemabitur

2:3. And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you. Whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not: and their perdition slumbereth not.

Et in avaritia fictis verbis de vobis negotiabuntur quibus iudicium iam olim non cessat et perditio eorum non dormitat

2:4. For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but delivered them, drawn down by infernal ropes to the lower hell, unto torments, to be reserved unto judgment:

Si enim Deus angelis peccantibus non pepercit sed rudentibus inferni detractos in tartarum tradidit in iudicium cruciatos reservari

2:5. And spared not the original world, but preserved Noe, the eighth person, the preacher of justice, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly.

Et originali mundo non pepercit sed octavum Noe iustitiae praeconem custodivit diluvium mundo impiorum inducens

2:6. And reducing the cities of the Sodomites and of the Gomorrhites into ashes, condemned them to be overthrown, making them an example to those that should after act wickedly,

Et civitates Sodomorum et Gomorraeorum in cinerem redigens eversione damnavit exemplum eorum qui impie acturi sunt ponens

2:7. And delivered just Lot, oppressed by the injustice and lewd conversation of the wicked:

Et iustum Loth oppressum a nefandorum iniuria conversatione eruit

2:8. For in sight and hearing he was just, dwelling among them who from day to day vexed the just soul with unjust works.

Aspectu enim et auditu iustus erat habitans apud eos qui diem de die animam iustam iniquis operibus cruciabant

2:9. The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly from temptation, but to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be tormented:

Novit Dominus pios de temptatione eripere iniquos vero in diem iudicii cruciandos reservare

2:10. And especially them who walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness and despise government: audacious, self willed, they fear not to bring in sects, blaspheming.

Magis autem eos qui post carnem in concupiscentia immunditiae ambulant dominationemque contemnunt audaces sibi placentes sectas non metuunt blasphemantes

2:11. Whereas angels, who are greater in strength and power, bring not against themselves a railing judgment.

Ubi angeli fortitudine et virtute cum sint maiores non portant adversum se execrabile iudicium

Bring not a railing judgment, etc... That is, they use no railing, nor cursing sentence; not even in their conflicts with the evil angels. See St. Jude 1:9.

2:12. But these men, as irrational beasts, naturally tending to the snare and to destruction, blaspheming those things which they know not, shall perish in their corruption:

Hii vero velut inrationabilia pecora naturaliter in captionem et in perniciem in his quae ignorant blasphemantes in corruptione sua et peribunt

2:13. Receiving the reward of their injustice, counting for a pleasure the delights of a day: stains and spots, sporting themselves to excess, rioting in their feasts with you:

Percipientes mercedem iniustitiae voluptatem existimantes diei delicias coinquationes et maculae deliciis affluentes in conviviis suis luxuriantes vobiscum

The delights of a day: that is, the short delights of this world, in which they place all their happiness.

2:14. Having eyes full of adultery and of sin that ceaseth not: alluring unstable souls: having their heart exercised with covetousness: children of malediction.

Oculos habentes plenos adulterio et incessabiles delicti pellicentes animas instabiles cor exercitatum avaritiae habentes maledictionis filii

2:15. Leaving the right way, they have gone astray, having followed the way of Balaam of Bosor who loved the wages of iniquity,

Derelinquentes rectam viam erraverunt secuti viam Balaam ex Bosor qui mercedem iniquitatis amavit

2:16. But had a check of his madness, the dumb beast used to the yoke, which, speaking with man's voice, forbade the folly of the prophet.

Correptionem vero habuit suae vesaniae subiugale mutum in hominis voce loquens prohibuit prophetae insipientiam

2:17. These are fountains without water and clouds tossed with whirlwinds, to whom the mist of darkness is reserved.

Hii sunt fontes sine aqua et nebulae turbinibus exagitatae quibus caligo tenebrarum reservatur

2:18. For, speaking proud words of vanity, they allure by the desires of fleshly riotousness those who for a little while escape, such as converse in error:

Superba enim vanitatis loquentes pellicent in desideriis carnis luxuriae eos qui paululum effugiunt qui in errore conversantur

2:19. Promising them liberty, whereas they themselves are the slaves of corruption. For by whom a man is overcome, of the same also he is the slave.

Libertatem illis promittentes cum ipsi servi sint corruptionis a quo enim quis superatus est huius et servus est

2:20. For if, flying from the pollutions of the world, through the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they be again entangled in them and overcome: their latter state is become unto them worse than the former.

Si enim refugientes coinquationes mundi in cognitione Domini nostri et salvatoris Iesu Christi his rursus impliciti superantur facta sunt eis posteriora deteriora prioribus

2:21. For it had been better for them not to have known the way of justice than, after they have known it, to turn back from that holy commandment which was delivered to them.

Melius enim erat illis non cognoscere viam iustitiae quam post agnitionem retrorsum converti ab eo quod illis traditum est sancto mandato

2:22. For, that of the true proverb has happened to them: The dog is returned to his vomit; and: The sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire.

Contigit enim eis illud veri proverbii canis reversus ad suum vomitum et sus lota in volutabro luti

2 Peter Chapter 3

Against scoffers denying the second coming of Christ. He declares the sudden dissolution of this world and exhorts to holiness of life.

3:1. Behold this second epistle I write to you, my dearly beloved, in which, I stir up by way of admonition your sincere mind:

Hanc ecce vobis carissimi secundam scribo epistulam in quibus excito vestram in commonitione sinceram mentem

3:2. That you may be mindful of those words which I told you before from the holy prophet and of your apostles, of the precepts of the Lord and Saviour.

Ut memores sitis eorum quae praedixi verborum a sanctis prophetis et apostolorum vestrorum praeceptorum Domini et salvatoris

3:3. Knowing this first: That in the last days there shall come deceitful scoffers, walking after their own lusts,

Hoc primum scientes quod venient in novissimis diebus in deceptione inlusores iuxta proprias concupiscentias ambulantes

3:4. Saying: Where is his promise or his coming? For since the time that the fathers slept, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

Dicentes ubi est promissio aut adventus eius ex quo enim patres dormierunt omnia sic perseverant ab initio creaturae

3:5. For this they are wilfully ignorant of: That the heavens were before, and the earth out of water and through water, consisting by the word of God:

Latet enim eos hoc volentes quod caeli erant prius et terra de aqua et per aquam consistens Dei verbo

3:6. Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished.

Per quae ille tunc mundus aqua inundatus periit

3:7. But the heavens and the earth which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of the ungodly men.

Caeli autem qui nunc sunt et terra eodem verbo repositi sunt igni servati in diem iudicii et perditionis impiorum hominum

3:8. But of this one thing be not ignorant, my beloved, that one day with the Lord is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

Unum vero hoc non lateat vos carissimi quia unus dies apud Dominum sicut mille anni et mille anni sicut dies unus

3:9. The Lord delayeth not his promise, as some imagine, but dealeth patiently for your sake, not willing that any should perish, but that all should return to penance,

Non tardat Dominus promissi sed patienter agit propter vos nolens aliquos perire sed omnes ad paenitentiam reverti

3:10. But the day of the Lord shall come as a thief, in which the heavens shall pass away with great violence and the elements shall be melted with heat and the earth and the works which are in it shall be burnt up.

Adveniet autem dies Domini ut fur in qua caeli magno impetu transient elementa vero calore solventur

3:11. Seeing then that all these things are to be dissolved, what manner of people ought you to be in holy conversation and godliness?

Cum haec igitur omnia dissolvenda sint quales oportet esse vos in sanctis conversationibus et pietatibus

3:12. Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of the Lord, by which the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with the burning heat?

Expectantes et properantes in adventum Dei diei per quam caeli ardentes solventur et elementa ignis ardore tabescent

3:13. But we look for new heavens and a new earth according to his promises, in which justice dwelleth.

Novos vero caelos et novam terram et promissa ipsius expectamus in quibus iustitia habitat

3:14. Wherefore, dearly beloved, waiting for these things, be diligent that you may be found before him unspotted and blameless in peace.

Propter quod carissimi haec expectantes satis agite immaculati et inviolati ei inveniri in pace

3:15. And account the longsuffering of our Lord, salvation: as also our most dear brother Paul, according to the wisdom given him, hath written to you:

Et Domini nostri longanimitatem salutem arbitramini sicut et carissimus frater noster Paulus secundum datam sibi sapientiam scripsit vobis

3:16. As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; in which are certain things hard to be understood, which the unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, to their own destruction.

Sicut et in omnibus epistulis loquens in eis de his in quibus sunt quaedam difficilia intellectu quae indocti et instabiles depravant sicut et ceteras scripturas ad suam ipsorum perditionem

3:17. You therefore, brethren, knowing these things before, take heed, lest being led aside by the error of the unwise, you fall from your own steadfastness.

Vos igitur fratres praescientes custodite ne insipientium errore transducti excidatis a propria firmitate

3:18. But grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and unto the day of eternity, Amen.

Crescite vero in gratia et in cognitione Domini nostri et salvatoris Iesu Christi ipsi gloria et nunc et in die aeternitatis amen

2 Samuel

The Second Book of Samuel, also called the Second Book of Kings

This Book relates the transactions from the death of Saul until the end of David's reign, being a history for the space of about forty-six years. (For more information, see the article FIRST AND SECOND KINGS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

2 Samuel Chapter 1. David mourneth for the death of Saul and Jonathan: he ordereth the man to be slain who pretended he had killed Saul.

2 Samuel Chapter 2. David is received and anointed king of Juda. Isboseth the son of Saul reigneth over the rest of Israel. A battle between Abner and Joab.

2 Samuel Chapter 3. David groweth daily stronger. Abner cometh over to him: he is treacherously slain by Joab.

2 Samuel Chapter 4. Isboseth is murdered by two of his servants. David punisheth the murderers.

2 Samuel Chapter 5. David is anointed king of all Israel. He taketh Jerusalem, and dwelleth there. He defeateth the Philistines.

2 Samuel Chapter 6. David fetcheth the ark from Cariathiarim. Oza is struck dead for touching it. It is deposited in the house of Obededom: and from thence carried to David's house.

2 Samuel Chapter 7. David's purpose to build a temple is rewarded with the promise of great blessings in his seed: his prayer and thanksgiving.

2 Samuel Chapter 8. David's victories, and his chief officers.

2 Samuel Chapter 9. David's kindness to Miphiboseth for the sake of his father Jonathan.

2 Samuel Chapter 10. The Ammonites shamefully abuse the ambassadors of David: they hire the Syrians to the their assistance: but are overthrown with their allies.

2 Samuel Chapter 11. David falleth into the crime of adultery with Bethsabee: and not finding other means to conceal it, causeth her husband Urias to be slain. Then marrieth her, who beareth him a son.

2 Samuel Chapter 12. Nathan's parable. David confesseth his sin, and is forgiven: yet so as to be sentenced to most severe temporal punishments. The death of the child. The birth of Solomon. The taking of Rabbath.

2 Samuel Chapter 13. Ammon ravisheth Tamar. For which Absalom killeth him, and flieth to Gessur.

2 Samuel Chapter 14. Joab procureth Absalom's return, and his admittance to the king's presence.

2 Samuel Chapter 15. Absalom's policy and conspiracy. David is obliged to flee.

2 Samuel Chapter 16. Siba bringeth provisions to David. Semei curseth him. Absalom defileth his father's wives.

2 Samuel Chapter 17. Achitophel's counsel is defeated by Chusai: who sendeth intelligence to David. Achitophel hangeth himself.

2 Samuel Chapter 18. Absalom is defeated, and slain by Joab. David mourneth for him.

2 Samuel Chapter 19. David, at the remonstrances of Joab, ceaseth his mourning. He is invited back and met by Semei and Miphiboseth: a strife between the men of Juda and the men of Israel.

2 Samuel Chapter 20. Seba's rebellion. Amasa is slain by Joab. Abela is besieged, but upon the citizens casting over the wall the head of Seba, Joab departeth with all his army.

2 Samuel Chapter 21. A famine of three years, for the sin of Saul against the Gabaonites, at whose desire seven of Saul's race are crucified. War again with the Philistines.

2 Samuel Chapter 22. King David's psalm of thanksgiving for his deliverance from all his enemies.

2 Samuel Chapter 23. The last words of David. A catalogue of his valiant men.

2 Samuel Chapter 24. David numbereth the people: God sendeth a pestilence, which is stopt by David's prayer and sacrifice.

2 Samuel Chapter 1

David mourneth for the death of Saul and Jonathan: he ordereth the man to be slain who pretended he had killed Saul.

1:1. Now it came to pass, after Saul was dead, that David returned from the slaughter of the Amalecites, and abode two days in Siceleg.

Factum est autem postquam mortuus est Saul ut David reverteretur a caede Amalech et maneret in Siceleg dies duos

1:2. And on the third day, there appeared a man who came out of Saul's camp, with his garments rent, and dust strewed on his head: and when he came to David, he fell upon his face, and adored.

In die autem tertia apparuit homo veniens de castris Saul veste conscissa et pulvere aspersionis caput et ut venit ad David cecidit super faciem suam et adoravit

1:3. And David said to him: From whence comest thou? And he said to him: I am fled out of the camp of Israel.

Dixitque ad eum David unde venis qui ait ad eum de castris Israhel fugi

1:4. And David said unto him: What is the matter that is come to pass? tell me: He said: The people are fled from the battle, and many of the people are fallen and dead: moreover Saul and Jonathan his son are slain.

Et dixit ad eum David quod est verbum quod factum est indica mihi qui ait fugit populus e proelio et multi corruentes e populo mortui sunt sed et Saul et Ionathan filius eius interierunt

1:5. And David said to the young man that told him: How knowest thou that Saul and Jonathan his son, are dead?

Dixitque David ad adolescentem qui nuntiabat unde scis quia mortuus est Saul et Ionathan filius eius

1:6. And the young man that told him, said: I came by chance upon mount Gelboe, and Saul leaned upon his spear: and the chariots and horsemen drew nigh unto him,

Ait adolescens qui narrabat ei casu veni in montem Gelboe et Saul incumbibat super hastam suam porro currus et equites adpropinquabant ei

1:7. And looking behind him, and seeing me, he called me. And I answered, Here am I.

Et conversus post tergum suum vidensque me vocavit cui cum respondissem adsum

1:8. And he said to me: Who art thou? And I said to him: I am an Amalecite.

Dixit mihi quisnam es tu et aio ad eum Amalechites sum

1:9. And he said to me: Stand over me, and kill me: for anguish is come upon me, and as yet my whole life is in me.

Et locutus est mihi sta super me et interfice me quoniam tenent me angustiae et adhuc tota anima in me est

1:10. So standing over him, I killed him: for I knew that he could not live after the fall: and I took the diadem that was on his head, and the bracelet that was on his arm, and have brought them hither to thee, my lord.

Stansque super eum occidi illum sciebam enim quod vivere non poterat post ruinam et tuli diadema quod erat in capite eius et armillam de brachio illius et adtuli ad te dominum meum huc

I killed him... This story of the young Amalecite was not true, as may easily be proved by comparing it with 1 Samuel 31.

1:11. Then David took hold of his garments and rent them, and likewise all the men that were with him.

Adprehendens autem David vestimenta sua scidit omnesque viri qui erant cum eo

1:12. And they mourned, and wept, and fasted until evening for Saul, and for Jonathan his son, and for the people of the Lord, and for the house of Israel, because they were fallen by the sword.

Et planxerunt et fleverunt et ieiunaverunt usque ad vesperam super Saul et super Ionathan filium eius et super populum Domini et super domum Israhel quod corruissent gladio

1:13. And David said to the young man that told him: Whence art thou? He answered: I am the son of a stranger of Amalec.

Dixitque David ad iuvenem qui nuntiaverat ei unde es qui respondit filius hominis advenae amalechitae ego sum

1:14. David said to him: Why didst thou not fear to put out thy hand to kill the Lord's anointed?

Et ait ad eum David quare non timuisti mittere manum tuam ut occideres christum Domini

1:15. And David calling one of his servants, said: Go near and fall upon him. And he struck him so that he died.

Vocansque David unum de pueris ait accedens inrue in eum qui percussit illum et mortuus est

1:16. And David said to him: Thy blood be upon thy own head: for thy own mouth hath spoken against thee, saying: I have slain the Lord's anointed.

Et ait ad eum David sanguis tuus super caput tuum os enim tuum locutum est adversum te dicens ego interfeci christum Domini

1:17. And David made this kind of lamentation over Saul, and over Jonathan his son.

Planxit autem David planctum huiuscemodi super Saul et super Ionathan filium eius

1:18. (Also he commanded that they should teach the children of Juda the use of the bow, as it is written in the book of the just.) And he said: Consider, O Israel, for them that are dead, wounded on thy high places.

Et praecepit ut docerent filios Iuda arcum sicut scriptum est in libro Iustorum

1:19. The illustrious of Israel are slain upon thy mountains: how are the valiant fallen?

Incliti Israhel super montes tuos interfecti sunt quomodo ceciderunt fortes

1:20. Tell it not in Geth, publish it not in the streets of Ascalon: lest the daughters of the Philistines rejoice, lest the daughters of the uncircumcised triumph.

Nolite adnuntiare in Geth neque adnuntietis in conpetis Ascalonis ne forte laetentur filiae Philisthim ne exultent filiae incircumcisorum

1:21. Ye mountains of Gelboe, let neither dew, nor rain come upon you, neither be they fields of firstfruits: for there was cast away the shield of the valiant, the shield of Saul as though he had not been anointed with oil.

Montes Gelboe nec ros nec pluviae veniant super vos neque sint agri primitiarum quia ibi abiectus est clypeus fortium clypeus Saul quasi non esset unctus oleo

1:22. From the blood of the slain, from the fat of the valiant, the arrow of Jonathan never turned back, and the sword of Saul did not return empty.

A sanguine interfectorum ab adipe fortium sagitta Ionathan numquam rediit retrorsum et gladius Saul non est reversus inanis

1:23. Saul and Jonathan, lovely, and comely in their life, even in death they were not divided: they were swifter than eagles, stronger than lions.

Saul et Ionathan amabiles et decori in vita sua in morte quoque non sunt divisi aquilis velociores leonibus fortiores

1:24. Ye daughters of Israel, weep over Saul, who clothed you with scarlet in delights, who gave ornaments of gold for your attire.

Filiae Israhel super Saul flete qui vestiebat vos coccino in deliciis qui praebebat ornamenta aurea cultui vestro

1:25. How are the valiant fallen in battle? Jonathan slain in the high places?

Quomodo ceciderunt fortes in proelio Ionathan in excelsis tuis occisus est

1:26. I grieve for thee, my brother Jonathan: exceeding beautiful, and amiable to me above the love of women. As the mother loveth her only son, so did I love thee.

Doleo super te frater mi Ionathan decore nimis et amabilis super amorem mulierum

1:27. How are the valiant fallen, and the weapons of war perished?

Quomodo ceciderunt robusti et perierunt arma bellica

2 Samuel Chapter 2

David is received and anointed king of Juda. Isboseth the son of Saul reigneth over the rest of Israel. A battle between Abner and Joab.

2:1. And after these things David consulted the Lord, saying: Shall I go up into one of the cities of Juda? And the Lord said to him: Go up. And David said: Whither shall I go up? And he answered him: Into Hebron.

Igitur post haec consuluit David Dominum dicens num ascendam in unam de civitatibus Iuda et ait Dominus ad eum ascende dixitque David quo ascendam et respondit ei in Hebron

2:2. So David went up, and his two wives Achinoam the Jezrahelitess, and Abigail the wife of Nabal of Carmel:

2:3. And the men also that were with him, David brought up every man with his household: and they abode in the towns of Hebron.

Sed et viros qui erant cum eo duxit David singulos cum domo sua et manserunt in oppidis Hebron

2:4. And the men of Juda came, and anointed David there, to be king over the house of Juda. And it was told David that the men of Jabes Galaad had buried Saul.

Veneruntque viri Iuda et unxerunt ibi David ut regnaret super domum Iuda et nuntiatum est David quod viri Iabesgalaad sepelissent Saul

2:5. David therefore sent messengers to the men of Jabes Galaad, and said to them: Blessed be you to the Lord, who have shown this mercy to your master Saul, and have buried him.

Misit ergo David nuntios ad viros Iabesgalaad dixitque ad eos benedicti vos Domino qui fecistis misericordiam hanc cum domino vestro Saul et sepelistis eum

2:6. And now the Lord surely will render you mercy and truth, and I also will requite you for this good turn, because you have done this thing.

Et nunc retribuet quidem vobis Dominus misericordiam et veritatem sed et ego reddam gratiam eo quod feceritis verbum istud

2:7. Let your hands be strengthened, and be ye men of valour: for although your master Saul be dead, yet the house of Juda hath anointed me to be their king.

Confortentur manus vestrae et estote filii fortitudinis licet enim mortuus sit dominus vester Saul tamen me unxit domus Iuda regem sibi

2:8. But Abner the son of Ner, general of Saul's army, took Isboseth the son of Saul, and led him about through the camp,

Abner autem filius Ner princeps exercitus Saul tulit Hisboseth filium Saul et circumduxit eum per Castra

2:9. And made him king over Galaad, and over Gessuri, and over Jezrahel, and over Ephraim, and over Benjamin, and over all Israel.

Regemque constituit super Galaad et super Gesuri et super Iezrahel et super Ephraim et super Benjamin et super Israhel universum

2:10. Isboseth the son of Saul was forty years old when he began to reign over Israel, and he reigned two years; and only the house of Juda followed David.

Quadraginta annorum erat Hisboseth filius Saul cum regnare coepisset super Israhel et duobus annis regnavit sola autem domus Iuda sequebatur David

He reigned two years... Viz., before he began visibly to decline: but in all he reigned seven years and six months; for so long David reigned in Hebron.

2:11. And the number of the days that David abode, reigning in Hebron over the house of Juda, was seven years and six months.

Et fuit numerus dierum quos commoratus est David imperans in Hebron super domum Iuda septem annorum et sex mensuum

2:12. And Abner the son of Ner, and the servants of Isboseth the son of Saul, went out from the camp to Gabaon.

Egressusque Abner filius Ner et pueri Hisboseth filii Saul de Castris in Gabaon

2:13. And Joab the son of Sarvia, and the servants of David went out, and met them by the pool of Gabaon. And when they were come together, they sat down over against one another: the one on the one side of the pool, and the other on the other side.

Porro Ioab filius Sarviae et pueri David egressi sunt et occurrerunt eis iuxta piscinam Gabaon et cum in unum convenissent e regione sederunt hii ex una parte piscinae et illi ex altera

2:14. And Abner said to Joab: Let the young men rise, and play before us. And Joab answered: Let them rise.

Dixitque Abner ad Ioab surgant pueri et ludant coram nobis et respondit Ioab surgant

2:15. Then there arose and went over twelve in number of Benjamin, of the part of Isboseth the son of Saul, and twelve of the servants of David.

Surrexerunt ergo et transierunt numero duodecim de Benjamin ex parte Hisboseth filii Saul et duodecim de pueris David

2:16. And every one catching his fellow by the head, thrust his sword into the side of his adversary, and they fell down together: and the name of the place was called: The field of the valiant, in Gabaon.

Adprehensoque unusquisque capite conparis sui defixit gladium in latus contrarii et ceciderunt simul vocatumque est nomen loci illius ager Robustorum in Gabaon

2:17. And there was a very fierce battle that day: and Abner was put to flight, with the men of Israel, by the servants of David.

Et ortum est bellum durum satis in die illa fugatusque est Abner et viri Israhel a pueris David

2:18. And there were the three sons of Sarvia there, Joab, and Abisai, and Asael: now Asael was a most swift runner, like one of the roes that abide in the woods.

Erant autem ibi tres filii Sarviae Ioab et Abisai et Asahel porro Asahel cursor velocissimus fuit quasi unus ex capreis quae morantur in silvis

2:19. And Asael pursued after Abner, and turned not to the right hand nor to the left from following Abner.

Persequabatur autem Asahel Abner et non declinavit ad dexteram sive ad sinistram omittens persequi Abner

2:20. And Abner looked behind him, and said: Art thou Asael? And he answered: I am.

Respexit itaque Abner post tergum suum et ait tunc es Asahel qui respondit ego sum

Dixitque ei Abner vade ad dextram sive ad sinistram et adprehende unum de adolescentibus et tolle tibi spolia eius noluit autem Asahel omittere quin urgueret eum

2:22. And again Abner said to Asael: Go off, and do not follow me, lest I be obliged to stab thee to the ground, and I shall not be able to hold up my face to Joab thy brother.

Rursumque locutus est Abner ad Asahel recede noli me sequi ne conpellar confodere te in terra et levare non potero faciem meam ad Ioab fratrem tuum

2:23. But he refused to hearken to him, and would not turn aside: wherefore Abner struck him with his spear with a back stroke in the groin, and thrust him through, and he died upon the spot: and all that came to the place where Asael fell down and died stood still.

Qui audire contempsit et noluit declinare percussit ergo eum Abner aversa hasta in inguine et transfodit et mortuus est in eodem loco omnesque qui transiebant per locum in quo ceciderat Asahel et mortuus erat subsistebant

2:24. Now while Joab and Abisai pursued after Abner, the sun went down: and they came as far as the hill of the aqueduct, that lieth over against the valley by the way of the wilderness in Gabaon.

Persequentibus autem loab et Abisai fugientem Abner sol occubuit et venerunt usque ad collem
Aquaeductus qui est ex adverso vallis et itineris deserti in Gabaon

2:25. And the children of Benjamin gathered themselves together to Abner: and being joined in one body, they stood on the top of a hill.

Congregatique sunt filii Benjamin ad Abner et conglobati in unum cuneum steterunt in summitate tumuli unius

2:26. And Abner cried out to Joab, and said: Shall thy sword rage unto utter destruction? knowest thou not that it is dangerous to drive people to despair? how long dost thou defer to bid the people cease from pursuing after their brethren?

Et exclamavit Abner ad loab et ait num usque ad internicionem tuus mucro desaeviet an ignoras quod periculosa sit desperatio usquequo non dicis populo ut omittat persequi fratres suos

2:27. And Joab said: As the Lord liveth, if thou hadst spoke sooner, even in the morning the people should have retired from pursuing after their brethren.

Et ait loab vivit Dominus si locutus fuisses mane recessisset populus persequens fratrem suum

2:28. Then Joab sounded the trumpet, and all the army stood still, and did not pursue after Israel any farther, nor fight any more.

Insonuit ergo loab bucina et stetit omnis exercitus nec persecuti sunt ultra Israhel neque iniere certamen

2:29. And Abner and his men walked all that night through the plains: and they passed the Jordan, and having gone through all Beth-horon, came to the camp.

Abner autem et viri eius abierunt per campestria tota nocte illa et transierunt Iordanem et lustrata omni Bethoron venerunt ad Castra

2:30. And Joab returning, after he had left Abner, assembled all the people: and there were wanting of David's servants nineteen men, beside Asael.

Porro loab reversus omisso Abner congregavit omnem populum et defuerunt de pueris David decem et novem viri excepto Asahele

2:31. But the servants of David had killed of Benjamin, and of the men that were with Abner, three hundred and sixty, who all died.

Servi autem David percusserunt de Benjamin et de viris qui erant cum Abner trecentos sexaginta qui et mortui sunt

2:32. And they took Asael, and buried him in the sepulchre of his father in Bethlehem and Joab, and the men that were with him, marched all the night, and they came to Hebron at break of day.

Tuleruntque Asahel et sepelierunt eum in sepulchro patris sui in Bethleem et ambulaverunt tota nocte loab et viri qui erant cum eo et in ipso crepusculo pervenerunt in Hebron

2 Samuel Chapter 3

David groweth daily stronger. Abner cometh over to him: he is treacherously slain by Joab.

3:1. Now there was a long war between the house of Saul and the house of David: David prospering and growing always stronger and stronger, but the house of Saul decaying daily.
Facta est ergo longa concertatio inter domum Saul et inter domum David David proficiens et semper se ipso robustior domus autem Saul decrescens cotidie

There was a long war between the house of Saul, etc... Rather a strife or emulation than a war with arms; it lasted five years and a half.

3:2. And sons were born to David in Hebron: and his firstborn was Ammon of Achinoam the Jezrahelitess:
Nati quoque sunt filii David in Hebron fuitque primogenitus eius Amnon de Ahinoem Iezrahelitide

3:3. And his second Cheleab of Abigail the wife of Nabal of Carmel: and the third Absalom the son of Maacha the daughter of Tholmai king of Gessur:

Et post eum Chelaab de Abigail uxore Nabal Carmeli porro tertius Absalom filius Maacha filiae Tholomai gessur

3:4. And the fourth Adonias, the son of Haggith: and the fifth Saphathia the son of Abital:

Quartus autem Adonias filius Aggith et quintus Safathia filius Abital

3:5. And the sixth Jethraam of Eglah the wife of David: these were born to David in Hebron.

Sextus quoque Iethraam de Agla uxore David hii nati sunt David in Hebron

3:6. Now while there was war between the house of Saul and the house of David, Abner the son of Ner ruled the house of Saul.

Cum ergo esset proelium inter domum Saul et domum David Abner filius Ner regebat domum Saul

3:7. And Saul had a concubine named Respha, the daughter of Aia. And Isboseth said to Abner:

Fuerat autem Sauli concubina nomine Respha filia Ahia dixitque Hisboseth ad Abner

3:8. Why didst thou go in to my father's concubine? And he was exceedingly angry for the words of Isboseth, and said: Am I a dog's head against Juda this day, who have shown mercy to the house of Saul thy father, and to his brethren and friends, and have not delivered thee into the hands of David, and hast thou sought this day against me to charge me with a matter concerning a woman?

Quare ingressus es ad concubinam patris mei qui iratus nimis propter verba Hisboseth ait numquid caput canis ego sum adversum Iuda hodie qui fecerim misericordiam super domum Saul patris tui et super fratres et proximos eius et non tradidi te in manu David et tu requisisti in me quod argueres pro muliere hodie

3:9. So do God to Abner, and more also, unless as the Lord hath sworn to David, so I do to him,

Haec faciat Deus Abner et haec addat ei nisi quomodo iuravit Dominus David sic faciam cum eo

3:10. That the kingdom be translated from the house of Saul, and the throne of David be set up over Israel, and over Juda from Dan to Bersabee.

Ut transferatur regnum de domo Saul et elevetur thronus David super Israhel et super Iudam a Dan usque Bersabee

3:11. And he could not answer him a word, because he feared him.

Et non potuit respondere ei quicquam quia metuebat illum

3:12. Abner therefore sent messengers to David for himself, saying: Whose is the land? and that they should say: Make a league with me, and my hand shall be with thee: and I will bring all Israel to thee.

Misit ergo Abner nuntios ad David pro se dicentes cuius est terra et loquerentur fac mecum amicitias et erit

manus mea tecum et reducam ad te universum Israhel

3:13. And he said: Very well: I will make a league with thee: but one thing I require of thee, saying: Thou shalt not see my face before thou bring Michol the daughter of Saul: and so thou shalt come, and see me.
Qui ait optime ego faciam tecum amicitias sed unam rem peto a te dicens non videbis faciem meam antequam adduxeris Michol filiam Saul et sic venies et videbis me

3:14. And David sent messengers to Isboseth the son of Saul, saying: Restore my wife Michol, whom I espoused to me for a hundred foreskins of the Philistines.
Misit autem David nuntios ad Hisboseth filium Saul dicens redde uxorem meam Michol quam despondi mihi centum praeputiis Philisthim

3:15. And Isboseth sent, and took her from her husband Phaltiel, the son of Lais.
Misit ergo Hisboseth et tulit eam a viro suo Faltihel filio Lais

3:16. And her husband followed her, weeping as far as Bahurim: and Abner said to him: Go and return. And he returned.
Sequebaturque eam vir suus plorans usque Baurim et dixit ad eum Abner vade revertere qui reversus est

3:17. Abner also spoke to the ancients of Israel, saying: Both yesterday and the day before you sought for David that he might reign over you.
Sermonem quoque intulit Abner ad seniores Israhel dicens tam heri quam nudius tertius quaerebatis David ut regnaret super vos

3:18. Now then do it: because the Lord hath spoken to David, saying: By the hand of my servant David I will save my people Israel from the hands of the Philistines, and of all their enemies.
Nunc ergo facite quoniam Dominus locutus est ad David dicens in manu servi mei David salvabo populum meum Israhel de manu Philisthim et omnium inimicorum eius

3:19. And Abner spoke also to Benjamin. And he went to speak to David in Hebron all that seemed good to Israel, and to all Benjamin.
Locutus est autem Abner etiam ad Benjamin et abiit ut loqueretur ad David in Hebron omnia quae placuerant Israhel et universo Benjamin

3:20. And he came to David in Hebron with twenty men: and David made a feast for Abner, and his men that came with him.
Venitque ad David in Hebron cum viginti viris et fecit David Abner et viris eius qui venerant cum eo convivium

3:21. And Abner said to David: I will rise, that I may gather all Israel unto thee my lord the king, and may enter into a league with thee, and that thou mayst reign over all as thy soul desireth. Now when David had brought Abner on his way, and he was gone in peace,
Et dixit Abner ad David surgam ut congregem ad te dominum meum regem omnem Israhel et ineam tecum foedus et imperes omnibus sicut desiderat anima tua cum ergo deduxisset David Abner et ille isset in pace

3:22. Immediately, David's servants and Joab came, after having slain the robbers, with an exceeding great booty. And Abner was not with David in Hebron, for he had now sent him away, and he was gone in peace.
Statim pueri David et Ioab venerunt caesis latronibus cum praeda magna nimis Abner autem non erat cum David in Hebron quia iam dimiserat eum et profectus fuerat in pace

3:23. And Joab and all the army that was with him, came afterwards: and it was told Joab, that Abner the son of Ner came to the king, and he hath sent him away, and he is gone in peace.
Et Ioab et omnis exercitus qui erat cum eo postea venerant nuntiatum est itaque Ioab a narrantibus venit Abner filius Ner ad regem et dimisit eum et abiit in pace

3:24. And Joab went in to the king, and said: What hast thou done? Behold Abner came to thee: Why didst thou send him away, and he is gone and departed?
Et ingressus est Ioab ad regem et ait quid fecisti ecce venit Abner ad te quare dimisisti eum et abiit et recessit

3:25. Knowest thou not Abner the son of Ner, that to this end he came to thee, that he might deceive thee, and to know thy going out, and thy coming in, and to know all thou dost?

Ignoras Abner filium Ner quoniam ad hoc venit ut deciperet te et sciret exitum tuum et introitum tuum et nosset omnia quae agis

3:26. Then Joab going out from David, sent messengers after Abner, and brought him back from the cistern of Sira, David knowing nothing of it.

Egressus itaque Ioab a David misit nuntios post Abner et reduxit eum a cisterna Sira ignorante David

3:27. And when Abner was returned to Hebron, Joab took him aside to the middle of the gate, to speak to him treacherously: and he stabbed him there in the groin, and he died, in revenge of the blood of Asael his brother.

Cumque redisset Abner in Hebron seorsum abduxit eum Ioab ad medium portae ut loqueretur ei in dolo et percussit illum ibi in inguine et mortuus est in ultionem sanguinis Asahel fratris eius

3:28. And when David heard of it, after the thing was now done, he said: I, and my kingdom are innocent before the Lord for ever of the blood of Abner the son of Ner:

Quod cum audisset David rem iam gestam ait mundus ego sum et regnum meum apud Dominum usque in sempiternum a sanguine Abner filii Ner

3:29. And may it come upon the head of Joab, and upon all his father's house: and let there not fail from the house of Joab one that hath an issue of seed, or that is a leper, or that holdeth the distaff, or that falleth by the sword, or that wanteth bread.

Et veniat super caput Ioab et super omnem domum patris eius nec deficiat de domo Ioab fluxum seminis sustinens et leprosus tenens fusum et cadens gladio et indigens pane

3:30. So Joab and Abisai his brother slew Abner, because he had killed their brother Asael at Gabaon in the battle.

Igitur Ioab et Abisai frater eius interfecerunt Abner eo quod occidisset Asahel fratrem eorum in Gabaon in proelio

3:31. And David said to Joab, and to all the people that were with him: Rend your garments, and gird yourselves with sackcloths, and mourn before the funeral of Abner. And king David himself followed the bier.

Dixit autem David ad Ioab et ad omnem populum qui erat cum eo scindite vestimenta vestra et accingimini saccis et plangite ante exequias Abner porro rex David sequebatur feretrum

3:32. And when they had buried Abner in Hebron, king David lifted up his voice, and wept at the grave of Abner: and all the people also wept.

Cumque sepelissent Abner in Hebron levavit rex vocem suam et flevit super tumulum Abner flevit autem et omnis populus

3:33. And the king mourning and lamenting over Abner, said: Not as cowards are wont to die, hath Abner died.

Plangensque rex Abner ait nequaquam ut mori solent ignavi mortuus est Abner

3:34. Thy hands were not bound, nor thy feet laden with fetters: but as men fall before the children of iniquity, so didst thou fall. And all the people repeating it wept over him.

Manus tuae non sunt ligatae et pedes tui non sunt conpedibus adgravati sed sicut solent cadere coram filiis iniquitatis corruisti congemmansque omnis populus flevit super eum

3:35. And when all the people came to take meat with David, while it was yet broad day, David swore, saying: So do God to me, and more also, if I taste bread or any thing else before sunset.

Cumque venisset universa multitudo cibum capere cum David clara adhuc die iuravit David dicens haec faciat mihi Deus et haec addat si ante occasum solis gustavero panem vel aliud quicquam

3:36. And all the people heard, and they were pleased, and all that the king did seemed good in the sight of all the people.

Omnisque populus audivit et placuerunt eis cuncta quae fecit rex in conspectu totius populi

3:37. And all the people, and all Israel understood that day that it was not the king's doing, that Abner the son of Ner was slain.

Et cognovit omne vulgus et universus Israhel in die illa quoniam non actum fuisset a rege ut occideretur Abner filius Ner

3:38. The king also said to his servants: Do you not know that a prince and a great man is slain this day in Israel?

Dixit quoque rex ad servos suos num ignoratis quoniam princeps et maximus cecidit hodie in Israhel

3:39. But I as yet am tender, though anointed king. And these men the sons of Sarvia are too hard for me: the Lord reward him that doth evil according to his wickedness.

Ego autem adhuc delicatus et unctus rex porro viri isti filii Sarviae duri mihi sunt retribuatur Dominus facienti malum iuxta malitiam suam

2 Samuel Chapter 4

Isboseth is murdered by two of his servants. David punisheth the murderers.

4:1. And Isboseth the son of Saul heard that Abner was slain in Hebron: and his hands were weakened, and all Israel was troubled.

Audivit autem filius Saul quod cecidisset Abner in Hebron et dissolutae sunt manus eius omnisque Israhel perturbatus est

4:2. Now the son of Saul had two men captains of his bands, the name of the one was Baana, and the name of the other Rechab, the sons of Remmon a Berothite of the children of Benjamin: for Beroth also was reckoned in Benjamin.

Duo autem viri principes latronum erant filio Saul nomen uni Baana et nomen alteri Rechab filii Remmon Berothitae de filiis Benjamin siquidem et Beroth reputata est in Benjamin

4:3. And the Berothites fled into Gethaim, and were sojourners there until that time.

Et fugerunt Berothitae in Getthaim fueruntque ibi advenae usque in tempus illud

4:4. And Jonathan the son of Saul had a son that was lame of his feet: for he was five years old when the tidings came of Saul and Jonathan from Jezrahel. And his nurse took him up and fled: and as she made haste to flee, he fell and became lame: and his name was Miphiboseth.

Erat autem Jonathan filio Saul filius debilis pedibus quinquennis enim fuit quando venit nuntius de Saul et Jonathan ex Jezrahel tollens itaque eum nutrix sua fugit cumque festinaret ut fugeret cecidit et claudus effectus est habuitque vocabulum Mifiboseth

4:5. And the sons of Remmon the Berothite, Rechab and Baana coming, went into the house of Isboseth in the heat of the day: and he was sleeping upon his bed at noon. And the doorkeeper of the house, who was cleansing wheat, was fallen asleep.

Venientes igitur filii Remmon Berothitae Rechab et Baana ingressi sunt fervente die domum Hisboseth qui dormiebat super stratum suum meridie

4:6. And they entered into the house secretly taking ears of corn, and Rechab and Baana his brother stabbed him in the groin, and fled away.

Ingressi sunt autem domum adsumentes spicas tritici et percusserunt eum in inguine Rechab et Baana frater eius et fugerunt

4:7. For when they came into the house, he was sleeping upon his bed in a parlour, and they struck him and killed him and taking away his head they went off by the way of the wilderness, walking all night.

Cum autem ingressi fuissent domum ille dormiebat super lectulum suum in conclavi et percutientes interfecerunt eum sublatoque capite eius abierunt per viam deserti tota nocte

4:8. And they brought the head of Isboseth to David to Hebron: and they said to the king: Behold the head of Isboseth the son of Saul thy enemy who sought thy life: and the Lord hath revenged my lord the king this day of Saul, and of his seed.

Et adtulerunt caput Hisboseth ad David in Hebron dixeruntque ad regem ecce caput Hisboseth filii Saul inimici tui qui quaerebat animam tuam et dedit Dominus domino meo regi ultiones hodie de Saul et de semine eius

4:9. But David answered Rechab, and Baana his brother, the sons of Remmon the Berothite, and said to them: As the Lord liveth, who hath delivered my soul out of all distress,

Respondens autem David Rechab et Baana fratri eius filiis Remmon Berothi dixit ad eos vivit Dominus qui eruit animam meam de omni angustia

4:10. The man that told me, and said: Saul is dead, who thought he brought good tidings, I apprehended, and slew him in Siceleg, who should have been rewarded for his news.

Quoniam eum qui adnuntiaverat mihi et dixerat mortuus est Saul qui putabat se prospera nuntiare tenui et occidi in Siceleg cui oportebat me dare mercedem pro nuntio

4:11. How much more now when wicked men have slain an innocent man in his own house, upon his bed, shall I not require his blood at your hand, and take you away from the earth?

Quanto magis nunc cum homines impii interfecerint virum innoxium in domo sua super lectulum suum non quaeram sanguinem eius de manu vestra et auferam vos de terra

4:12. And David commanded his servants and they slew them: and cutting off their hands and feet, hanged them up over the pool in Hebron: but the head of Isboseth they took and buried in the sepulchre of Abner in Hebron.

Praecipit itaque David pueris et interfecerunt eos praecedentesque manus et pedes eorum suspenderunt eos super piscinam in Hebron caput autem Hisboseth tulerunt et sepelierunt in sepulchro Abner in Hebron

2 Samuel Chapter 5

David is anointed king of all Israel. He taketh Jerusalem, and dwelleth there. He defeateth the Philistines.

5:1. Then all the tribes of Israel came to David in Hebron, saying: Behold we are thy bone and thy flesh.
Et venerunt universae tribus Israhel ad David in Hebron dicentes ecce nos os tuum et caro tua sumus

5:2. Moreover yesterday also and the day before, when Saul was king over us, thou wast he that did lead out and bring in Israel: and the Lord said to thee: Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be prince over Israel.

Sed et heri et nudius tertius cum esset Saul rex super nos tu eras educens et reducens Israhel dixit autem Dominus ad te tu pasces populum meum Israhel et tu eris dux super Israhel

5:3. The ancients also of Israel came to the king of Hebron, and king David made a league with them in Hebron before the Lord: and they anointed David to be king over Israel.

Venerunt quoque et senes de Israhel ad regem in Hebron et percussit cum eis rex David foedus in Hebron coram Domino unxeruntque David in regem super Israhel

5:4. David was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years.

Filius triginta annorum erat David cum regnare coepisset et quadraginta annis regnavit

5:5. In Hebron he reigned over Juda seven years and six months: and in Jerusalem he reigned three and thirty years over all Israel and Juda.

In Hebron regnavit super Iudam septem annis et sex mensibus in Hierusalem autem regnavit triginta tribus annis super omnem Israhel et Iudam

5:6. And the king and all the men that were with him went to Jerusalem to the Jebusites the inhabitants of the land: and they said to David: Thou shalt not come in hither unless thou take away the blind and the lame that say: David shall not come in hither.

Et abiit rex et omnes viri qui erant cum eo in Hierusalem ad Iebuseum habitatorem terrae dictumque est ad David ab eis non ingredieris huc nisi abstuleris caecos et claudos dicentes non ingredietur David huc

5:7. But David took the castle of Sion, the same is the city of David.

Cepit autem David arcem Sion haec est civitas David

5:8. For David had offered that day a reward to whosoever should strike the Jebusites and get up to the gutters of the tops of the houses, and take away the blind and the lame that hated the soul of David: therefore it is said in the proverb: The blind and the lame shall not come into the temple.

Proposuerat enim in die illa praemium qui percussisset Iebuseum et tetigisset domatum fistulas et claudos et caecos odientes animam David idcirco dicitur in proverbio caecus et claudus non intrabunt templum

5:9. And David dwelt in the castle, and called it, The city of David: and built round about from Mello and inwards.

Habitavit autem David in arce et vocavit eam civitatem David et aedificavit per gyrum a Mello et intrinsecus

5:10. And he went on prospering and growing up, and the Lord God of hosts was with him.

Et ingrediebatur proficiens atque succrescens et Dominus Deus exercituum erat cum eo

5:11. And Hiram the king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar trees, and carpenters, and masons for walls: and they built a house for David.

Misit quoque Hiram rex Tyri nuntios ad David et ligna cedrina et artifices lignorum artificesque lapidum ad parietes et aedificaverunt domum David

5:12. And David knew that the Lord had confirmed him king over Israel, and that he had exalted his kingdom over his people Israel.

Et cognovit David quoniam confirmasset eum Dominus regem super Israhel et quoniam exaltasset regnum eius super populum suum Israhel

5:13. And David took more concubines and wives of Jerusalem, after he was come from Hebron: and there were born to David other sons also and daughters:

Acceptit ergo adhuc concubinas et uxores de Hierusalem postquam venerat de Hebron natique sunt David et alii filii et filiae

David took more concubines and wives of Jerusalem... Not harlots, but wives of an inferior condition; for such, in scripture, are styled concubines.

5:14. And these are the names of them, that were born to him in Jerusalem, Samua, and Sobab, and Nathan, and Solomon,

Et haec nomina eorum qui nati sunt ei in Hierusalem Samua et Sobab et Nathan et Salomon

5:15. And Jebahar, and Elisua, and Nepheg,

Et Ibaar et Helisua et Nepheg

5:16. And Japhia, and Elisama, and Elioda, and Eliphaeth.

Et Iafia et Helisama et Helida et Helifeleth

5:17. And the Philistines heard that they had anointed David to be king over Israel: and they all came to seek David: and when David heard of it, he went down to a strong hold.

Audierunt vero Philisthim quod unxissent David regem super Israhel et ascenderunt universi ut quaerent David quod cum audisset David descendit in praesidium

5:18. And the Philistines coming spread themselves in the valley of Raphaim.

Philisthim autem venientes diffusi sunt in valle Raphaim

5:19. And David consulted the Lord, Saying: Shall I go up to the Philistines? and wilt thou deliver them into my hand? And the Lord said to David: Go up, for I will surely deliver the Philistines into thy hand.

Et consuluit David Dominum dicens si ascendam ad Philisthim et si dabis eos in manu mea et dixit Dominus ad David ascende quia tradens dabo Philisthim in manu tua

5:20. And David came to Baal Pharisim: and defeated them there, and he said, The Lord hath divided my enemies before me, as waters are divided. Therefore the name of the place was called Baal Pharisim.

Venit ergo David in Baalpharasim et percussit eos ibi et dixit divisit Dominus inimicos meos coram me sicut dividuntur aquae propterea vocatum est nomen loci illius Baalpharasim

5:21. And they left there their idols: which David and his men took away.

Et reliquerunt ibi sculptilia sua quae tulit David et viri eius

5:22. And the Philistines came up again and spread themselves into the valley of Raphaim.

Et addiderunt adhuc Philisthim ut ascenderent et diffusi sunt in valle Raphaim

5:23. And David consulted the Lord: Shall I go up against the Philistines, and wilt thou deliver them into my hands? He answered: Go not up against them but fetch a compass behind them, and thou shalt come upon them over against the pear trees.

Consuluit autem David Dominum qui respondit non ascendas sed gyra post tergum eorum et venies ad eos ex adverso pirorum

5:24. And when thou shalt hear the sound of one going in the tops of the pear trees, then shalt thou join battle: for then will the Lord go out before thy face to strike the army of the Philistines.

Et cum audieris sonitum gradientis in cacumine pirorum tunc inibis proelium quia tunc egredietur Dominus ante faciem tuam ut percutiat castra Philisthim

5:25. And David did as the Lord had commanded him, and he smote the Philistines from Gabaa until thou come to Gezer.

Fecit itaque David sicut ei praeceperat Dominus et percussit Philisthim de Gabee usque dum venias Gezer

2 Samuel Chapter 6

David fetcheth the ark from Cariathiarim. Oza is struck dead for touching it. It is deposited in the house of Obededom: and from thence carried to David's house.

---

6:1. And David again gathered together all the chosen men of Israel, thirty thousand.
Congregavit autem rursus David omnes electos ex Israhel triginta milia

6:2. And David arose and went, with all the people that were with him of the men of Juda to fetch the ark of God, upon which the name of the Lord of Hosts is invoked, who sitteth over it upon the cherubims.
Surrexitque et abiit et universus populus qui erat cum eo de viris Iuda ut adducerent arcam Dei super quam invocatum est nomen Domini exercituum sedentis in cherubin super eam

6:3. And they laid the ark of God upon a new cart: and took it out of the house of Abinadab, who was in Gabaa, and Oza and Ahio, the sons of Abinadab, drove the new cart.
Et inposuerunt arcam Domini super plaustrum novum tuleruntque eam de domo Abinadab qui erat in Gabaa Oza autem et Haio filii Abinadab minabant plaustrum novum

Gabaa... The hill of Cariathiarim, where the ark had been in the house of Abinadab, from the time of its being restored back by the Philistines.

6:4. And when they had taken it out of the house of Abinadab, who was in Gabaa, Ahio having care of the ark of God went before the ark.
Cumque tulissent eam de domo Abinadab qui erat in Gabaa custodiens arcam Dei Haio praecedebat arcam

6:5. But David and all Israel played before the Lord on all manner of instruments made of wood, on harps and lutes and timbrels and cornets and cymbals.
David autem et omnis Israhel Iudebant coram Domino in omnibus lignis fabrefactis et citharis et lyris et tympanis et sistris et cymbalis

6:6. And when they came to the floor of Nachon, Oza put forth his hand to the ark of God, and took hold of it: because the oxen kicked and made it lean aside.
Postquam autem venerunt ad aream Nachon extendit manum Oza ad arcam Dei et tenuit eam quoniam calcitrabant boves

6:7. And the indignation of the Lord was enkindled against Oza, and he struck him for his rashness: and he died there before the ark of God.
Iratusque est indignatione Dominus contra Ozam et percussit eum super temeritate qui mortuus est ibi iuxta arcam Dei

6:8. And David was grieved because the Lord had struck Oza, and the name of that place was called: The striking of Oza, to this day.
Contristatus autem est David eo quod percussisset Dominus Ozam et vocatum est nomen loci illius Percussio Oza usque in diem hanc

6:9. And David was afraid of the Lord that day, saying: How shall the ark of the Lord come to me?
Et extimuit David Dominum in die illa dicens quomodo ingrediatur ad me arca Domini

6:10. And he would not have the ark of the Lord brought in to himself into the city of David: but he caused it to be carried into the house of Obededom the Gethite.
Et noluit devertere ad se arcam Domini in civitate David sed devertit eam in domo Obededom Getthei

6:11. And the ark of the Lord abode in the house of Obededom the Gethite three months: and the Lord blessed Obededom, and all his household.
Et habitavit arca Domini in domo Obededom Getthei tribus mensibus et benedixit Dominus Obededom et omnem domum eius

6:12. And it was told king David, that the Lord had blessed Obededom, and all that he had, because of the ark of God. So David went, and brought away the ark of God out of the house of Obededom into the city of David with joy. And there were with David seven choirs, and calves for victims.

Nuntiatumque est regi David benedixit Dominus Obededom et omnia eius propter arcam Dei abiit ergo David et adduxit arcam Dei de domo Obededom in civitatem David cum gaudio

Choirs... Or companies of musicians.

6:13. And when they that carried the ark of the Lord had gone six paces, he sacrificed an ox and a ram: Cumque transcendissent qui portabant arcam Domini sex passus immolabat bovem et arietem

6:14. And David danced with all his might before the Lord: and David was girded with a linen ephod. Et David saltabat totis viribus ante Dominum porro David erat accinctus ephod lineo

6:15. And David and all the house of Israel brought the ark of the covenant of the Lord with joyful shouting, and with sound of trumpet.

Et David et omnis domus Israhel ducebant arcam testamenti Domini in iubilo et in clangore bucinæ

6:16. And when the ark of the Lord was come into the city of David, Michol the daughter of Saul, looking out through a window, saw king David leaping and dancing before the Lord: and she despised him in her heart.

Cumque intrasset arca Domini civitatem David Michol filia Saul prospiciens per fenestram vidit regem David subsilientem atque saltantem coram Domino et despexit eum in corde suo

6:17. And they brought the ark of the Lord, and set it in its place in the midst of the tabernacle, which David had pitched for it: and David offered holocausts, and peace offerings before the Lord.

Et introduxerunt arcam Domini et posuerunt eam in loco suo in medio tabernaculi quod tetenderat ei David et obtulit David holocausta coram Domino et pacifica

6:18. And when he had made an end of offering holocausts and peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord of hosts.

Cumque conplesset offerens holocaustum et pacifica benedixit populo in nomine Domini exercituum

6:19. And he distributed to all the multitude of Israel, both men and women, to every one, a cake of bread, and a piece of roasted beef, and fine flour fried with oil: and all the people departed every one to his own house.

Et partitus est multitudini universae Israhel tam viro quam mulieri singulis collyridam panis unam et assaturam bubulae carnis unam et similam frixam oleo et abiit omnis populus unusquisque in domum suam

6:20. And David returned to bless his own house: and Michol the daughter of Saul coming out to meet David, said: How glorious was the king of Israel to day, uncovering himself before the handmaids of his servants, and was naked, as if one of the buffoons should be naked.

Reversusque est et David ut benediceret domui suae et egressa Michol filia Saul in occursum David ait quam gloriosus fuit hodie rex Israhel discoperiens se ante ancillas servorum suorum et nudatus est quasi si nudetur unus de scurris

6:21. And David said to Michol: Before the Lord, who chose me rather than thy father, and than all his house, and commanded me to be ruler over the people of the Lord in Israel,

Dixitque David ad Michol ante Dominum qui elegit me potius quam patrem tuum et quam omnem domum eius et praecepit mihi ut essem dux super populum Domini Israhel

6:22. I will both play and make myself meaner than I have done: and I will be little in my own eyes: and with the handmaids of whom thou speakest, I shall appear more glorious.

Et ludam et vilior fiam plus quam factus sum et ero humilis in oculis meis et cum ancillis de quibus locuta es gloriosior apparebo

6:23. Therefore Michol the daughter of Saul had no child to the day of her death.

Igitur Michol filiae Saul non est natus filius usque ad diem mortis suae

2 Samuel Chapter 7

David's purpose to build a temple is rewarded with the promise of great blessings in his seed: his prayer and thanksgiving.

7:1. And it came to pass when the king sat in his house, and the Lord had given him rest on every side from all his enemies,

Factum est autem cum sedisset rex in domo sua et Dominus dedisset ei requiem undique ab universis inimicis suis

7:2. He said to Nathan the prophet: Dost thou see that I dwell in a house of cedar, and the ark of God is lodged within skins?

Dixit ad Nathan prophetam videsne quod ego habitem in domo cedrina et arca Dei posita sit in medio pellium

7:3. And Nathan said to the king: Go, do all that is in they heart: because the Lord is with thee.

Dixitque Nathan ad regem omne quod est in corde tuo vade fac quia Dominus tecum est

7:4. But it came to pass that night, that the word of the Lord came to Nathan, saying:

Factum est autem in nocte illa et ecce sermo Domini ad Nathan dicens

7:5. Go, and say to my servant David: Thus saith the Lord: Shalt thou build me a house to dwell in?

Vade et loquere ad servum meum David haec dicit Dominus numquid tu aedificabis mihi domum ad habitandum

7:6. Whereas I have not dwelt in a house from the day that I brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt even to this day: but have walked in a tabernacle, and in a tent.

Neque enim habitavi in domo ex die qua eduxi filios Israhel de terra Aegypti usque in diem hanc sed ambulans ambulabam in tabernaculo et in tentorio

7:7. In all the places that I have gone through with all the children of Israel, did ever I speak a word to any one of the tribes of Israel, whom I commanded to feed my people Israel, saying: Why have you not built me a house of cedar?

Per cuncta loca quae transivi cum omnibus filiis Israhel numquid loquens locutus sum ad unam de tribubus Israhel cui praecepi ut pasceret populum meum Israhel dicens quare non aedificastis mihi domum cedrinam

7:8. And now thus shalt thou speak to my servant David: Thus saith the Lord of hosts: I took thee out of the pastures from following the sheep to be ruler over my people Israel:

Et nunc haec dices servo meo David haec dicit Dominus exercituum ego tuli te de pascuis sequentem greges ut esses dux super populum meum Israhel

7:9. And I have been with thee wheresoever thou hast walked, and have slain all thy enemies from before thy face: and I have made thee a great man, like unto the name of the great ones that are on the earth.

Et fui tecum in omnibus ubicumque ambulasti et interfeci universos inimicos tuos a facie tua fecique tibi nomen grande iuxta nomen magnorum qui sunt in terra

7:10. And I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and I will plant them, and they shall dwell therein, and shall be disturbed no more: neither shall the children of iniquity afflict them any more as they did before,

Et ponam locum populo meo Israhel et plantabo eum et habitabit sub eo et non turbabitur amplius nec addent filii iniquitatis ut adfligant eum sicut prius

7:11. From the day that I appointed judges over my people Israel: and I will give thee rest from all thy enemies. And the Lord foretelleth to thee, that the Lord will make thee a house.

Ex die qua constitui iudices super populum meum Israhel et requiem dabo tibi ab omnibus inimicis tuis

praedicatque tibi Dominus quod domum faciat tibi Dominus

7:12. And when thy days shall be fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, I will raise up thy seed after thee, which shall proceed out of the bowels, and I will establish his kingdom.

Cumque completi fuerint dies tui et dormieris cum patribus tuis suscitabo semen tuum post te quod egredietur de utero tuo et firmabo regnum eius

I will establish his kingdom... This prophecy partly relateth to Solomon: but much more to Christ, who is called the son of David in scripture, and who is the builder of the true temple, which is the church, his everlasting kingdom, which shall never fail.

7:13. He shall build a house to my name, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom fore ever.

Ipse aedificabit domum nomini meo et stabiliam thronum regni eius usque in sempiternum

7:14. I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son: and if he commit any iniquity, I will correct him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men.

Ego ero ei in patrem et ipse erit mihi in filium qui si inique aliquid gesserit arguam eum in virga virorum et in plagis filiorum hominum

7:15. But my mercy I will not take away from him, as I took it from Saul, whom I removed from before my face.

Misericordiam autem meam non auferam ab eo sicut abstuli a Saul quem amovi a facie tua

7:16. And thy house shall be faithful, and thy kingdom for ever before thy face, and thy throne shall be firm for ever.

Et fidelis erit domus tua et regnum tuum usque in aeternum ante faciem tuam et thronus tuus erit firmus iugiter

7:17. According to all these words and according to all this vision so did Nathan speak to David.

Secundum omnia verba haec et iuxta universam visionem istam sic locutus est Nathan ad David

7:18. And David went in, and sat before the Lord, and said: Who am I, O Lord God, and what is my house, that thou hast brought me thus far?

Ingressus est autem rex David et sedit coram Domino et dixit quis ego sum Domine Deus et quae domus mea quia adduxisti me hucusque

7:19. Bur yet this hath seemed little in thy sight, O Lord God, unless thou didst also speak of the house of thy servant for a long time to come: for this is the law of Adam, O Lord God:

Sed et hoc parum visum est in conspectu tuo Domine Deus nisi loquereris etiam de domo servi tui in longinquum ista est enim lex Adam Domine Deus

7:20. And what can David say more unto thee? for thou knowest thy servant, O Lord God:

Quid ergo addere poterit adhuc David ut loquatur ad te tu enim scis servum tuum Domine Deus

7:21. For thy word's sake, and according to thy own heart thou has done all these great things, so that thou wouldst make it known to thy servant.

Propter verbum tuum et secundum cor tuum fecisti omnia magnalia haec ita ut notum faceres servo tuo

7:22. Therefore thou art magnified, O Lord God, because there is none like to thee, neither is there any God besides thee, in all the things that we have heard with our ears.

Idcirco magnificatus es Domine Deus quia non est similis tui neque est deus extra te in omnibus quae audivimus auribus nostris

7:23. And what nation is there upon earth, as thy people Israel, whom God went to redeem for a people to himself, and to make him a name, and to do for them great and terrible things, upon the earth, before the face of thy people, whom thou redeemedst to thyself out of Egypt, from the nations and their gods.

Quae est autem ut populus tuus Israhel gens in terra propter quam ivit Deus ut redimeret eam sibi in populum et poneret sibi nomen faceretque eis magnalia et horribilia super terram a facie populi tui quem redemisti tibi ex Aegypto gentem et deum eius

7:24. For thou hast confirmed to thyself thy people Israel to be an everlasting people: and thou, O Lord God, art become their God.

Et firmasti tibi populum tuum Israhel in populum sempiternum et tu Domine factus es eis in Deum

7:25. And now, O Lord God, raise up for ever the word that thou hast spoken, concerning thy servant and concerning his house: and do as thou hast spoken,

Nunc ergo Domine Deus verbum quod locutus es super servum tuum et super domum eius suscita in sempiternum et fac sicut locutus es

7:26. That thy name may be magnified for ever, and it may be said: The Lord of hosts is God over Israel. And the house of thy servant David shall be established before the Lord.

Et magnificetur nomen tuum usque in sempiternum atque dicatur Dominus exercituum Deus super Israhel et domus servi tui David erit stabilita coram Domino

7:27. Because thou, O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, hast revealed to the ear of thy servant, saying: I will build thee a house: therefore hath thy servant found in his heart to pray this prayer to thee.

Quia tu Domine exercituum Deus Israhel revelasti aurem servi tui dicens domum aedificabo tibi propterea invenit servus tuus cor suum ut oraret te oratione hac

7:28. And now, O Lord God, thou art God, and thy words shall be true: for thou hast spoken to thy servant these good things.

Nunc ergo Domine Deus tu es Deus et verba tua erunt vera locutus es enim ad servum tuum bona haec

7:29. And now begin, and bless the house of thy servant, that it may endure for ever before thee: because thou, O Lord God, hast spoken it, and with thy blessing let the house of thy servant be blessed for ever.

Incipe igitur et benedic domui servi tui ut sit in sempiternum coram te quia tu Domine Deus locutus es et benedictione tua benedicetur domus servi tui in sempiternum

2 Samuel Chapter 8

David's victories, and his chief officers.

8:1. And it came to pass after this that David defeated the Philistines, and brought them down, and David took the bridle of tribute out of the hand of the Philistines,

Factum est autem post haec percussit David Philisthim et humiliavit eos et tulit David frenum tributi de manu Philisthim

8:2. And he defeated Moab, and measured them with a line, casting them down to the earth: and he measured with two lines, one to put to death, and one to save alive: and Moab was made to serve David under tribute.

Et percussit Moab et mensus est eos funiculo coequans terrae mensus est autem duos funiculos unum ad occidendum et unum ad vivificandum factusque est Moab David serviens sub tributo

8:3. David defeated also Adarezer the son of Rohob king of Soba, when he went to extend his dominion over the river Euphrates.

Et percussit David Adadezer filium Roob regem Soba quando profectus est ut dominaretur super flumen Eufraten

8:4. And David took from him a thousand and seven hundred horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen, and houghed all the chariot horses: and only reserved of them for one hundred chariots.

Et captis David ex parte eius mille septingentis equitibus et viginti milibus peditum subnervavit omnes iugales curruum dereliquit autem ex eis centum currus

8:5. And the Syrians of Damascus came to succour Adarezer the king of Soba: and David slew of the Syrians two and twenty thousand men.

Venit quoque Syria Damasci ut praesidium ferret Adadezer regi Soba et percussit David de Syria viginti duo milia virorum

8:6. And David put garrisons in Syria of Damascus: and Syria served David under tribute, and the Lord preserved David in all his enterprises, whithersoever he went.

Et posuit David praesidium in Syria Damasci factaque est Syria David serviens sub tributo servavit Dominus David in omnibus ad quaecumque profectus est

8:7. And David took the arms of gold, which the servants of Adarezer wore and brought them to Jerusalem.

Et tulit David arma aurea quae habebant servi Adadezer et detulit ea in Hierusalem

8:8. And out of Bete, and out of Beroth, cities of Adarezer, king David took and exceeding great quantity of brass.

Et de Bete et de Beroth civitatibus Adadezer tulit rex David aes multum nimis

8:9. And Thou the king of Emath heard that David had defeated all the forces of Adarezer.

Audivit autem Thou rex Emath quod percussisset David omne robur Adadezer

8:10. And Thou sent Joram his son to king David, to salute him, and to congratulate with him, and to return him thanks: because he had fought against Adarezer, and had defeated him. For Thou was an enemy to Adarezer, and in his hand were vessels of gold, and vessels of silver, and vessels of brass:

Et misit Thou Ioram filium suum ad regem David ut salutaret eum congratulans et gratias ageret eo quod expugnasset Adadezer et percussisset eum hostis quippe erat Thou Adadezer et in manu eius erant vasa argentea et vasa aurea et vasa aerea

8:11. And king David dedicated them to the Lord, together with the silver and gold that he had dedicated of all the nations, which he had subdued:

Quae et ipsa sanctificavit rex David Domino cum argento et auro quae sanctificaverat de universis gentibus quas subegerat

8:12. Of Syria, and of Moab, and of the children of Ammon, and of the Philistines, and of Amalec, and of the spoils of Adarezer the son of Rohob king of Soba.

De Syria et Moab et filiis Ammon et Philisthim et Amalech et de manubiis Adadezer filii Roob regis Soba

8:13. David also made himself a name, when he returned after taking Syria in the valley of the saltpits, killing eighteen thousand:

Fecit quoque sibi David nomen cum reverteretur capta Syria in valle Salinarum caesis duodecim milibus

8:14. And he put guards in Edom, and placed there a garrison: and all Edom was made to serve David: and the Lord preserved David in all enterprises he went about.

Et posuit in Idumea custodes statutique praesidium et facta est universa Idumea serviens David et servavit Dominus David in omnibus ad quaecumque profectus est

8:15. And David reigned over all Israel: and David did judgment and justice to all his people.

Et regnavit David super omnem Israhel faciebat quoque David iudicium et iustitiam omni populo suo

8:16. And Joab the son Sarvia was over the army: and Josaphat the son of Ahilud was recorder:

Joab autem filius Sarviae erat super exercitum porro Josaphat filius Ahilud erat a commentariis

Recorder... Or chancellor.

8:17. And Sadoc the son of Achitob, and Achimelech the son of Abiathar, were the priests: and Saraias was the scribe:

Et Sadoc filius Achitob et Achimelech filius Abiathar sacerdotes et Saraias scriba

Scribe... Or secretary.

8:18. And Banaias the son of Joiada was over the Cerethi and Phelethi: and the sons of David were the princes.

Banaias autem filius Ioiada super Cherethi et Felethi filii autem David sacerdotes erant

The Cerethi and Phelethi... The king's guards. Ibid. Princes... Literally priests. (Cohen) So called, by a title of honour, and not from exercising the priestly functions.

2 Samuel Chapter 9

David's kindness to Miphiboseh for the sake of his father Jonathan.

9:1. And David said: Is there any one, think you, left of the house of Saul, that I may show kindness to him for Jonathan's sake?

Et dixit David putasne est aliquis qui remanserit de domo Saul ut faciam cum eo misericordiam propter Ionathan

9:2. Now there was of the house of Saul, a servant named Siba: and when the king had called him to him, he said to him: Art thou Siba? And he answered: I am Siba thy servant.

Erat autem de domo Saul servus nomine Siba quem cum vocasset rex ad se dixit ei tune es Siba et ille respondit ego sum servus tuus

9:3. And the king said: Is there any one left of the house of Saul, that I may show the mercy of God unto Him? And Siba said to the king: There is a son of Jonathan left, who is lame of his feet.

Et ait rex num superest aliquis de domo Saul ut faciam cum eo misericordiam Dei dixitque Siba regi superest filius Ionathan debilis pedibus

9:4. Where is he? said he. And Siba said to the king: Behold he is in the house of Machir the son of Ammiel in Lodabar.

Ubi inquit est et Siba ad regem ecce ait in domo est Machir filii Amihel in Lodabar

9:5. Then King David sent, and brought him out of the house of Machir the son of Ammiel of Lodabar.

Misit ergo rex David et tulit eum de domo Machir filii Amihel de Lodabar

9:6. And when Miphiboseh the son of Jonathan the son of Saul was come to David, he fell on his face and worshipped. And David said: Miphiboseh? And he answered: Behold thy servant.

Cum autem venisset Mifiboseh filius Ionathan filii Saul ad David corruit in faciem suam et adoravit dixitque David Mifiboseh qui respondit adsum servus tuus

9:7. And David said to him: Fear not, for I will surely show thee mercy for Jonathan thy father's sake, and I will restore the lands of Saul the father, and thou shalt eat bread at my table always.

Et ait ei David ne timeas quia faciens faciam in te misericordiam propter Ionathan patrem tuum et restituam tibi omnes agros Saul patris tui et tu comedes panem in mensa mea semper

9:8. He bowed down to him, and said: Who am I thy servant, that thou shouldst look upon such a dead dog as I am?

Qui adorans eum dixit quis ego sum servus tuus quoniam respexisti super canem mortuum similem mei

9:9. Then the King called Siba the servant of Saul, and said to him: All that belonged to Saul, and all his house, I have given to thy master's son.

Vocavit itaque rex Sibam puerum Saul et dixit ei omnia quaecumque fuerunt Saul et universam domum eius dedi filio domini tui

9:10. Thou therefore and the sons and thy servants shall till the land for him: and thou shalt bring in food for thy master's son, that he may be maintained: and Miphiboseh the son of thy master shall always eat bread at my table. And Siba had fifteen sons and twenty servants.

Operare igitur ei terram tu et filii tui et servi tui et inferes filio domini tui cibos ut alatur Mifiboseh autem filius domini tui comedet semper panem super mensam meam erant autem Sibae quindecim filii et viginti servi

9:11. And Siba said to the king: As thou my lord the hast commanded thy servant, so will thy servant do: and Miphiboseh shall eat at my table, as one of the sons of the King.

Dixitque Siba ad regem sicut iussisti domine mi rex servo tuo sic faciet servus tuus et Mifiboseth comedet super mensam tuam quasi unus de filiis regis

9:12. And Miphiboseth had a young son whose name was Micha: and all that kindred of the house of Siba served Miphiboseth.

Habebat autem Mifiboseth filium parvulum nomine Micha omnis vero cognatio domus Siba serviebat Mifiboseth

9:13. But Miphiboseth dwelt in Jerusalem: because he ate always of the king's table: and he was lame of both feet.

Porro Mifiboseth habitabat in Hierusalem quia de mensa regis iugiter vescebatur et erat claudus utroque pede

2 Samuel Chapter 10

The Ammonites shamefully abuse the ambassadors of David: they hire the Syrians to the their assistance: but are overthrown with their allies.

10:1. And it came to pass after this, that the king of the children of Ammon died, and Hanon his son reigned in his stead.

Factum est autem post haec ut moreretur rex filiorum Ammon et regnaret Anon filius eius pro eo

10:2. And David said: I will show kindness to Hanon the son of Daas, as his father showed kindness to me. So David sent his servants to comfort him for the death of his father. But when the servants of David were come into the land of the children of Ammon,

Dixitque David faciam misericordiam cum Anon filio Naas sicut fecit pater eius mecum misericordiam misit ergo David consolans eum per servos suos super patris interitu cum autem venissent servi David in terram filiorum Ammon

10:3. The princes of the children of Ammon said to Hanon their lord: Thinkest thou that for the honour of thy father, David hath sent comforters to thee, and hath not David rather sent his servants to thee to search, and spy into the city, and overthrow it?

Dixerunt principes filiorum Ammon ad Anon dominum suum putas quod propter honorem patris tui David miserit ad te consolatores et non ideo ut investigaret et exploraret civitatem et everteret eam misit David servos suos ad te

10:4. Wherefore Hanon took the servants of David, and shaved off the one half of their beards, and cut away half of their garments even to the buttocks, and sent them away.

Tulit itaque Anon servos David rasiitque dimidiam partem barbae eorum et praecidit vestes eorum medias usque ad nates et dimisit eos

10:5. When this was told David, he sent to meet them: for the men were sadly put to confusion, and David commanded them, saying: Stay at Jericho, till your beards be grown, and then return.

Quod cum nuntiatum esset David misit in occursum eorum erant enim viri confusi turpiter valde et mandavit eis David manete Hiericho donec crescat barba vestra et tunc revertimini

10:6. And the children of Ammon seeing that they had done an injury to David, sent and hired the Syrians of Rohob, and the Syrians of Soba, twenty thousand footmen, and of the king of Maacha a thousand men, and of Istob twelve thousand men.

Videntes autem filii Ammon quod iniuriam fecissent David miserunt et conduxerunt mercede Syrum Roob et Syrum Soba viginti milia peditum et a rege Maacha mille viros et ab Histob duodecim milia virorum

10:7. And when David heard this, he sent Joab and the whole army of warriors.

Quod cum audisset David misit loab et omnem exercitum bellatorum

10:8. And the children of Ammon came out, and set their men in array at the entering in of the gate: but the Syrians of Soba, and of Rohob, and of Istob, and of Maacha were by themselves in the field.

Egressi sunt ergo filii Ammon et direxerunt aciem ante ipsum introitum portae Syrus autem Soba et Roob et Histob et Maacha seorsum erant in campo

10:9. Then Joab seeing that the battle was prepared against him, both before and behind, chose of all the choice men of Israel, and put them in array against the Syrians:

Videns igitur loab quod praeparatum esset adversum se proelium et ex adverso et post tergum elegit ex omnibus electis Israhel et instruxit aciem contra Syrum

10:10. And the rest of the people he delivered to Abisai his brother, who set them in array against the children of Ammon.

Reliquam autem partem populi tradidit Abisai fratri suo qui direxit aciem adversum filios Ammon

10:11. And Joab said: If the Syrians are too strong for me, then thou shalt help me, but if the children of Ammon are too strong for thee, then I will help thee.

Et ait loab si praevaluerint adversum me Syri eris mihi in adiutorium si autem filii Ammon praevaluerint adversum te auxiliabor tibi

10:12. Be of good courage, and let us fight for our people, and for the city of our God: and the Lord will do what is good in his sight.

Esto vir fortis et pugnemus pro populo nostro et civitate Dei nostri Dominus autem faciet quod bonum est in conspectu suo

10:13. And Joab and the people that were with him, began to fight against the Syrians: and they immediately fled before him.

Iniit itaque loab et populus qui erat cum eo certamen contra Syros qui statim fugerunt a facie eius

10:14. And the children of Ammon seeing that the Syrians were fled, they fled also before Abisai, and entered into the city: and Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Jerusalem.

Filii autem Ammon videntes quod fugissent Syri fugerunt et ipsi a facie Abisai et ingressi sunt civitatem reversusque est loab a filiis Ammon et venit Hierusalem

10:15. Then the Syrians seeing that they had fallen before Israel, gathered themselves together.

Videntes igitur Syri quoniam corruissent coram Israhel congregati sunt pariter

10:16. And Adarezer sent and fetched the Syrians, that were beyond the river, and brought over their army: and Sobach, the captain of the host of Adarezer, was their general.

Misitque Adadezer et eduxit Syros qui erant trans Fluvium et adduxit exercitum eorum Sobach autem magister militiae Adadezer erat princeps eorum

10:17. And when this was told David, he gathered all Israel together, and passed over the Jordan, and came to Helam: and the Syrians set themselves in array against David, and fought against him.

Quod cum nuntiatum esset David contraxit omnem Israhel et transivit Iordanem venitque in Helema et direxerunt aciem Syri ex adverso David et pugnaverunt contra eum

10:18. And the Syrians fled before Israel, and David slew of the Syrians the men of seven hundred chariots, and forty thousand horsemen: and smote Sobach the captain of the army, who presently died.

Fugeruntque Syri a facie Israhel et occidit David de Syris septingentos currus et quadraginta milia equitum et Sobach principem militiae percussit qui statim mortuus est

10:19. And all the kings that were auxiliaries of Adarezer, seeing themselves overcome by Israel, were afraid and fled away, eight and fifty thousand men before Israel. And they made peace with Israel: and served them, and all the Syrians were afraid to help the children of Ammon any more.

Videntes autem universi reges qui erant in praesidio Adadezer victos se ab Israhel fecerunt pacem cum Israhel et servierunt eis timueruntque Syri auxilium praebere filiis Ammon

2 Samuel Chapter 11

David falleth into the crime of adultery with Bethsabee: and not finding other means to conceal it, causeth her husband Urias to be slain. Then marrieth her, who beareth him a son.

11:1. And it came to pass at the return of the year, at the time when kings go forth to war, that David sent Joab and his servants with him, and all Israel, and they spoiled the children of Ammon, and besieged Rabba: but David remained in Jerusalem.

Factum est ergo vertente anno eo tempore quo solent reges ad bella procedere misit David Ioab et servos suos cum eo et universum Israhel et vastaverunt filios Ammon et obsederunt Rabba David autem remansit in Hierusalem

11:2. In the mean time it happened that David arose from his bed after noon, and walked upon the roof of the king's house: And he saw from the roof of his house a woman washing herself, over against him: and the woman was very beautiful.

Dum haec agerentur accidit ut surgeret David de stratu suo post meridiem et deambulet in solarium domus regiae viditque mulierem se lavantem ex adverso super solarium suum erat autem mulier pulchra valde

11:3. And the king sent, and inquired who the woman was. And it was told him, that she was Bethsabee the daughter of Eliam, the wife of Urias the Hethite.

Misit ergo rex et requisivit quae esset mulier nuntiatumque ei est quod ipsa esset Bethsabee filia Heliam uxor Uriae Hethei

11:4. And David sent messengers, and took her, and she came in to him, and he slept with her: and presently she was purified from her uncleanness:

Missis itaque David nuntiis tulit eam quae cum ingressa esset ad illum dormivit cum ea statimque sanctificata est ab inmunditia sua

11:5. And she returned to her house having conceived. And she sent and told David, and said: I have conceived.

Et reversa est domum suam concepto fetu mittensque nuntiavit David et ait concepi

11:6. And David sent to Joab, saying: Send me Urias the Hethite. And Joab sent Urias to David.

Misit autem David ad Ioab dicens mitte ad me Uriam Hetheum misitque Ioab Uriam ad David

11:7. And Urias came to David. And David asked how Joab did, and the people, and how the war was carried on.

Et venit Urias ad David quaesivitque David quam recte ageret Ioab et populus et quomodo administraretur bellum

11:8. And David said to Urias: Go into thy house, and wash thy feet. And Urias went out from the king's house, and there went out after him a mess of meat from the king.

Et dixit David ad Uriam vade in domum tuam et lava pedes tuos egressus est Urias de domo regis secutusque est eum cibus regius

11:9. But Urias slept before the gate of the king's house, with the other servants of his lord, and went not down to his own house.

Dormivit autem Urias ante portam domus regiae cum aliis servis domini sui et non descendit ad domum suam

11:10. And it was told David by some that said: Urias went not to his house. And David said to Urias: Didst thou not come from thy journey? why didst thou not go down to thy house?

Nuntiatumque est David a dicentibus non ivit Urias ad domum suam et ait David ad Uriam numquid non de via venisti quare non descendisti ad domum tuam

11:11. And Urias said to David: The ark of God and Israel and Juda dwell in tents, and my lord Joab and the servants of my lord abide upon the face of the earth: and shall I go into my house, to eat and to drink, and to sleep with my wife? By thy welfare and by the welfare of thy soul I will not do this thing.

Et ait Urias ad David arca et Israhel et Iuda habitant in papilionibus et dominus meus Ioab et servi domini mei super faciem terrae manent et ego ingrediar domum meam ut comedam et bibam et dormiam cum uxore mea per salutem tuam et per salutem animae tuae quod non faciam rem hanc

11:12. Then David said to Urias: Tarry here to day, and to morrow I will send thee away. Urias tarried in Jerusalem that day and the next.

Ait ergo David ad Uriam mane hic etiam hodie et cras dimittam te mansit Urias in Hierusalem die illa et altera

11:13. And David called him to eat and to drink before him, and he made him drunk: and he went out in the evening, and slept on his couch with the servants of his lord, and went not down into his house.

Et vocavit eum David ut comederet coram se et biberet et inebriavit eum qui egressus vespere dormivit in stratu suo cum servis domini sui et in domum suam non descendit

11:14. And when the morning was come, David wrote a letter to Joab: and sent it by the hand of Urias, Factum est ergo mane et scripsit David epistulam ad Ioab misitque per manum Uriae

11:15. Writing in the letter: Set ye Urias in the front of the battle, where the fight is strongest: and leave ye him, that he may be wounded and die.

Scribens in epistula ponite Uriam ex adverso belli ubi fortissimum proelium est et derelinquite eum ut percussus intereat

11:16. Wherefore as Joab was besieging the city, he put Urias in the place where he knew the bravest men were.

Igitur cum Ioab obsideret urbem posuit Uriam in loco quo sciebat viros esse fortissimos

11:17. And the men coming out of the city, fought against Joab, and there fell some of the people of the servants of David, and Urias the Hethite was killed also.

Egressique viri de civitate bellabant adversum Ioab et ceciderunt de populo servorum David et mortuus est etiam Urias Hethiteus

11:18. Then Joab sent, and told David all things concerning the battle.

Misit itaque Ioab et nuntiavit David omnia verba proelii

11:19. And he charged the messenger, saying: When thou hast told all the words of the battle to the king, Praecipitque nuntio dicens cum compleveris universos sermones belli ad regem

11:20. If thou see him to be angry, and he shall say: Why did you approach so near to the wall to fight? knew you not that many darts are thrown from above off the wall?

Si eum videris indignari et dixerit quare accessistis ad murum ut proeliaremini an ignorabatis quod multa desuper ex muro tela mittantur

11:21. Who killed Abimelech the son of Jerobaal? did not a woman cast a piece of a millstone upon him from the wall and slew him in Thebes? Why did you go near the wall? Thou shalt say: Thy servant Urias the Hethite is also slain.

Quis percussit Abimelech filium Hieroboseth nonne mulier misit super eum fragmen molae de muro et interfecit eum in Thebes quare iuxta murum accessistis dices etiam servus tuus Urias Hethiteus occubuit

11:22. So the messenger departed, and came and told David all that Joab had commanded him.

Abit ergo nuntius et venit et narravit David omnia quae ei praeceperat Ioab

11:23. And the messenger said to David: The men prevailed against us, and they came out to us into the field: and we vigorously charged and pursued them even to the gate of the city.

Et dixit nuntius ad David praevaluerunt adversum nos viri et egressi sunt ad nos in agrum nos autem facto impetu persecuti eos sumus usque ad portam civitatis

11:24. And the archers shot their arrows at thy servants from off the wall above: and some of the king's servants are slain, and thy servant Urias the Hethite is also dead.

Et direxerunt iacula sagittarii ad servos tuos ex muro desuper mortuique sunt de servis regis quin etiam servus tuus Urias Hettheus mortuus est

11:25. And David said to the messenger: Thus shalt thou say to Joab: Let not this thing discourage thee: for various is the event of war: and sometimes one, sometimes another is consumed by the sword: encourage thy warriors against the city, and exhort them that thou mayest overthrow it.

Et dixit David ad nuntium haec dices Ioab non te frangat ista res varius enim eventus est proelii et nunc hunc nunc illum consumit gladius conforta bellatores tuos adversum urbem ut destruas eam et exhortare eos

11:26. And the wife of Urias heard that Urias her husband was dead, and she mourned for him.

Audivit autem uxor Uriae quod mortuus esset Urias vir suus et planxit eum

11:27. And the mourning being over, David sent and brought her into his house, and she became his wife, and she bore him a son: and this thing which David had done, was displeasing to the Lord.

Transactoque luctu misit David et introduxit eam domum suam et facta est ei uxor peperitque ei filium et displicuit verbum hoc quod fecerat David coram Domino

2 Samuel Chapter 12

Nathan's parable. David confesseth his sin, and is forgiven: yet so as to be sentenced to most severe temporal punishments. The death of the child. The birth of Solomon. The taking of Rabbath.

12:1. And the Lord sent Nathan to David: and when he was come to him, he said to him: There were two men in one city, the one rich, and the other poor.

Misit ergo Dominus Nathan ad David qui cum venisset ad eum dixit ei duo viri erant in civitate una unus dives et alter pauper

12:2. The rich man had exceeding many sheep and oxen.

Dives habebat oves et boves plurimos valde

12:3. But the poor man had nothing at all but one little ewe lamb, which he had bought and nourished up, and which had grown up in his house together with his children, eating of his bread, and drinking of his cup, and sleeping in his bosom: and it was unto him as a daughter.

Pauper autem nihil habebat omnino praeter ovem unam parvulam quam emerat et nutrierat et quae creverat apud eum cum filiis eius simul de pane illius comedens et de calice eius bibens et in sinu illius dormiens eratque illi sicut filia

12:4. And when a certain stranger was come to the rich man, he spared to take of his own sheep and oxen, to make a feast for that stranger, who was come to him, but took the poor man's ewe, and dressed it for the man that was come to him.

Cum autem peregrinus quidam venisset ad divitem parcens ille sumere de ovibus et de bubus suis ut exhiberet convivium peregrino illi qui venerat ad se tulit ovem viri pauperis et praeparavit cibos homini qui venerat ad se

12:5. And David's anger being exceedingly kindled against that man, he said to Nathan: As the Lord liveth, the man that hath done this is a child of death.

Iratus autem indignatione David adversus hominem illum nimis dixit ad Nathan vivit Dominus quoniam filius mortis est vir qui fecit hoc

12:6. He shall restore the ewe fourfold, because he did this thing, and had no pity.

Ovem reddet in quadruplum eo quod fecerit verbum istud et non pepercerit

12:7. And Nathan said to David: Thou art the man. Thus saith the Lord the God of Israel: I anointed thee king over Israel, and I delivered thee from the hand of Saul,

Dixit autem Nathan ad David tu es ille vir haec dicit Dominus Deus Israhel ego unxi te in regem super Israhel et ego erui te de manu Saul

12:8. And gave thee thy master's house and thy master's wives into thy bosom, and gave thee the house of Israel and Juda: and if these things be little, I shall add far greater things unto thee.

Et dedi tibi domum domini tui et uxores domini tui in sinu tuo dedique tibi domum Israhel et Iuda et si parva sunt ista adiciam tibi multo maiora

12:9. Why therefore hast thou despised the word of the Lord, to do evil in my sight? Thou hast killed Urias the Hethite with the sword, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slain him with the sword of the children of Ammon.

Quare ergo contempsisti verbum Domini ut faceres malum in conspectu meo Uriam Hethiteum percussisti gladio et uxorem illius accepisti uxorem et interfecisti eum gladio filiorum Ammon

12:10. Therefore the sword shall never depart from thy house, because thou hast despised me, and hast taken the wife of Urias the Hethite to be thy wife.

Quam ob rem non recedet gladius de domo tua usque in sempiternum eo quod despexeris me et tuleris uxorem Uriae Hetthei ut esset uxor tua

12:11. Thus saith the Lord: Behold, I will raise up evil against thee out of thy own house, and I will take thy wives before thy eyes and give them to thy neighbour, and he shall lie with thy wives in the sight of this sun.

Itaque haec dicit Dominus ecce ego suscitabo super te malum de domo tua et tollam uxores tuas in oculis tuis et dabo proximo tuo et dormiet cum uxoribus tuis in oculis solis huius

I will raise, etc... All these evils, inasmuch as they were punishments, came upon David by a just judgment of God, for his sin, and therefore God says, I will raise, etc.; but inasmuch as they were sins, on the part of Absalom and his associates, God was not the author of them, but only permitted them.

12:12. For thou didst it secretly: but I will do this thing in the sight of all Israel, and in the sight of the sun.

Tu enim fecisti abscondite ego vero faciam verbum istud in conspectu omnis Israhel et in conspectu solis

12:13. And David said to Nathan: I have sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said to David: The Lord also hath taken away thy sin: thou shalt not die.

Et dixit David ad Nathan peccavi Domino dixitque Nathan ad David Dominus quoque transtulit peccatum tuum non morieris

12:14. Nevertheless, because thou hast given occasion to the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme, for this thing, the child that is born to thee, shall surely die.

Verumtamen quoniam blasphemare fecisti inimicos Domini propter verbum hoc filius qui natus est tibi morte morietur

12:15. And Nathan returned to his house. The Lord also struck the child which the wife of Urias had borne to David, and his life was despaired of.

Et reversus est Nathan domum suam percussitque Dominus parvulum quem pepererat uxor Uriae David et desperatus est

12:16. And David besought the Lord for the child: and David kept a fast, and going in by himself lay upon the ground.

Deprecatusque est David Dominum pro parvulo et ieiunavit David ieiunio et ingressus seorsum iacuit super terram

12:17. And the ancients of his house came, to make him rise from the ground: but he would not, neither did he eat meat with them.

Venerunt autem seniores domus eius cogentes eum ut surgeret de terra qui noluit neque comedit cum eis cibum

12:18. And it came to pass on the seventh day that the child died: and the servants of David feared to tell him, that the child was dead. For they said: Behold when the child was yet alive, we spoke to him, and he would not hearken to our voice: how much more will he afflict himself if we tell him that the child is dead?

Accidit autem die septima ut moreretur infans timueruntque servi David nuntiare ei quod mortuus esset parvulus dixerunt enim ecce cum parvulus adhuc viveret loquebamur ad eum et non audiebat vocem nostram quanto magis si dixerimus mortuus est puer se adfliget

12:19. But when David saw his servants whispering, he understood that the child was dead: and he said to his servants: Is the child dead? They answered him He is dead.

Cum ergo vidisset David servos suos musitantes intellexit quod mortuus esset infantulus dixitque ad servos suos num mortuus est puer qui responderunt ei mortuus est

12:20. Then David arose from the ground, and washed and anointed himself: and when he had changed his apparel, he went into the house of the Lord: and worshipped, and then he came into his own house, and he called for bread, and ate.

Surrexit igitur David de terra et lotus unctusque est cumque mutasset vestem ingressus est domum Domini et adoravit et venit in domum suam petitque ut ponerent ei panem et comedit

12:21. And his servants said to him: What thing is this that thou hast done? thou didst fast and weep for the child, while it was alive, but when the child was dead, thou didst rise up, and eat bread.

Dixerunt autem ei servi sui quis est sermo quem fecisti propter infantem cum adhuc viveret ieiunasti et flebas mortuo autem puero surrexisti et comedisti panem

12:22. And he said: While the child was yet alive, I fasted and wept for him: for I said: Who knoweth whether the Lord may not give him to me, and the child may live?

Qui ait propter infantem dum adhuc viveret ieiunavi et flevi dicebam enim quis scit si forte donet eum mihi Dominus et vivet infans

12:23. But now that he is dead, why should I fast? Shall I be able to bring him back any more? I shall go to him rather: but he shall not return to me.

Nunc autem quia mortuus est quare ieiuno numquid potero revocare eum amplius ego vadam magis ad eum ille vero non revertetur ad me

12:24. And David comforted Bethsabee his wife, and went in unto her, and slept with her: and she bore a son, and he called his name Solomon, and the Lord loved him.

Et consolatus est David Bethsabee uxorem suam ingressusque ad eam dormivit cum ea quae genuit filium et vocavit nomen eius Salomon et Dominus dilexit eum

12:25. And he sent by the hand of Nathan the prophet, and called his name, Amiable to the Lord, because the Lord loved him.

Misitque in manu Nathan prophetae et vocavit nomen eius Amabilis Domino eo quod diligeret eum Dominus

Amiable to the Lord... Or, beloved of the Lord. In Hebrew, Jedidiah.

12:26. And Joab fought against Rabbath of the children of Ammon, and laid close siege to the royal city. Igitur pugnabat Ioab contra Rabbath filiorum Ammon et expugnabat urbem regiam

12:27. And Joab sent messengers to David, saying: I have fought against Rabbath, and the city of waters is about to be taken.

Misitque Ioab nuntios ad David dicens dimicavi adversum Rabbath et capienda est urbs Aquarum

The city of waters... Rabbath the royal city of the Ammonites, was called the city of waters, from being encompassed with waters.

12:28. Now therefore gather thou the rest of the people together, and besiege the city and take it: lest when the city shall be wasted by me, the victory be ascribed to my name.

Nunc igitur congrega reliquam partem populi et obside civitatem et cape eam ne cum a me vastata fuerit urbs nomini meo adscribatur victoria

12:29. Then David gathered all the people together, and went out against Rabbath: and after fighting, he took it.

Congregavit itaque David omnem populum et profectus est adversum Rabbath cumque dimicasset cepit eam

12:30. And he took the crown of their king from his head, the weight of which was a talent of gold, set with most precious stones, and it was put upon David's head, and the spoils of the city which were very great he carried away.

Et tulit diadema regis eorum de capite eius pondo auri talentum habens gemmas pretiosissimas et inpositum est super caput David sed et praedam civitatis asportavit multam valde

12:31. And bringing forth the people thereof he sawed them, and drove over them chariots armed with iron: and divided them with knives, and made them pass through brickkilns: so did he to all the cities of the children of Ammon: and David returned, with all the army to Jerusalem.

Populum quoque eius adducens serravit et circumegit super eos ferrata carpenta divisitque cultris et transduxit in typo laterum sic fecit universis civitatibus filiorum Ammon et reversus est David et omnis exercitus Hierusalem

Ammon ravisheth Thamar. For which Absalom killeth him, and flieth to Gessur.

---

13:1. And it came to pass after this that Ammon the son of David loved the sister of Absalom the son of David, who was very beautiful, and her name was Thamar.

Factum est autem post haec ut Absalom filii David sororem speciosissimam vocabulo Thamar adamaret Amnon filius David 13:2. And he was exceedingly fond of her, so that he fell sick for the love of her: for as she was a virgin, he thought it hard to do any thing dishonestly with her.

Et deperiret eam valde ita ut aegrotaret propter amorem eius quia cum esset virgo difficile ei videbatur ut quippiam inhoneste ageret cum ea

13:3. Now Ammon had a friend, named Jonadab the son of Semmaa the brother of David, a very wise man:

Erat autem Ammonis amicus nomine Ionadab filius Semaa fratris David vir prudens valde

A very wise man... That is, a crafty and subtle man: for the counsel he gave on this occasion shows that his wisdom was but carnal and worldly.

13:4. And he said to him: Why dost thou grow so lean from day to day, O son of the king? why dost thou not tell me the reason of it? And Ammon said to him: I am in love with Thamar the sister of my brother Absalom.

Qui dixit ad eum quare sic adtenuaris macie filii regis per singulos dies cur non indicas mihi dixitque ei Amnon Thamar sororem Absalom fratris mei amo

13:5. And Jonadab said to him: Lie down upon thy bed, and feign thyself sick: and when thy father shall come to visit thee, say to him: Let my sister Thamar, I pray thee, come to me, to give me to eat, and to make me a mess, that I may eat it at her hand.

Cui respondit Ionadab cuba super lectulum tuum et languorem simula cumque venerit pater tuus ut visitet te dic ei veniat oro Thamar soror mea ut det mihi cibum et faciat pulmentum ut comedam de manu eius

13:6. So Ammon lay down, and made as if he were sick: and when the king came to visit him, Ammon said to the king: I pray thee let my sister Thamar come, and make in my sight two little messes, that I may eat at her hand.

Accubuit itaque Amnon et quasi aegrotare coepit cumque venisset rex ad visitandum eum ait Amnon ad regem veniat obsecro Thamar soror mea ut faciat in oculis meis duas sorbitiunculas et cibum capiam de manu eius

13:7. Then David sent home to Thamar, saying: Come to the house of thy brother Ammon, and make him a mess.

Misit ergo David ad Thamar domum dicens veni in domum Amnon fratris tui et fac ei pulmentum

13:8. And Thamar came to the house of Ammon her brother: but he was laid down: and she took meal and tempered it: and dissolving it in his sight she made little messes.

Venitque Thamar in domum Amnon fratris sui ille autem iacebat quae tollens farinam commiscuit et liquefaciens in oculis eius coxit sorbitiunculas

13:9. And taking what she had boiled, she poured it out, and set it before him, but he would not eat: and Ammon said: Put out all persons from me. And when they had put all persons out,

Tollensque quod coxerat effudit et posuit coram eo et noluit comedere dixitque Amnon eicite universos a me cumque eiecissent omnes

13:10. Ammon said to Thamar: Bring the mess into the chamber, that I may eat at thy hand. And Thamar took the little messes which she had made, and brought them in to her brother Ammon in the chamber. Dixit Ammon ad Thamar infer cibum in conclave ut vescar de manu tua tulit ergo Thamar sorbitiunculas quas fecerat et intulit ad Amnon fratrem suum in conclave

13:11. And when she had presented him the meat, he took hold of her, and said: Come lie with me, my sister.

Cumque obtulisset ei cibum adprehendit eam et ait veni cuba mecum soror mea

13:12. She answered him: Do not so, my brother, do not force me: for no such thing must be done in Israel. Do not thou this folly.

Quae respondit ei noli frater mi noli opprimere me neque enim hoc fas est in Israhel noli facere stultitiam hanc

13:13. For I shall not be able to bear my shame, and thou shalt be as one of the fools in Israel: but rather speak to the king, and he will not deny me to thee.

Et ego enim ferre non potero obprobrium meum et tu eris quasi unus de insipientibus in Israhel quin potius loquere ad regem et non negabit me tibi

13:14. But he would not hearken to her prayers, but being stronger overpowered her and lay with her.

Noluit autem adquiescere precibus eius sed praevalens viribus oppressit eam et cubavit cum illa

13:15. Then Ammon hated her with an exceeding great hatred: so that the hatred wherewith he hated her was greater than the love with which he had loved her before. And Ammon said to her: Arise, and get thee gone.

Et exosam eam habuit Ammon magno odio nimis ita ut maius esset odium quo oderat eam amore quo ante dilexerat dixitque ei Amnon surge vade

13:16. She answered him: The evil which now thou dost against me, in driving me away, is greater than that which thou didst before. And he would not hearken to her:

Quae respondit ei maius est hoc malum quod nunc agis adversum me quam quod ante fecisti expellens me et noluit audire eam

13:17. But calling the servants that ministered to him, he said: Thrust this woman out from me: and shut the door after her.

Sed vocato puero qui ministrabat ei dixit eice hanc a me foras et claude ostium post eam

13:18. And she was clothed with a long robe: for the king's daughters that were virgins, used such kind of garments. Then his servant thrust her out: and shut the door after her.

Quae induta erat talari tunica huiuscemodi enim filiae regis virgines vestibus utebantur eiecit itaque eam minister illius foras clausitque fores post eam

13:19. And she put ashes on her head, and rent her long robe and laid her hands upon her head, and went on crying.

Quae aspergens cinerem capiti suo scissa talari tunica inpositisque manibus super caput suum ibat ingrediens et clamans

13:20. And Absalom her brother said to her: Hath thy brother Ammon lain with thee? but now, sister, hold thy peace, he is thy brother: and afflict not thy heart for this thing. So Thamar remained pining away in the house of Absalom her brother.

Dixit autem ei Absalom frater suus num Amnon frater tuus concubuit tecum sed nunc soror tace frater tuus est neque adfligas cor tuum pro re hac mansit itaque Thamar contabescens in domo Absalom fratris sui

13:21. And when king David heard of these things he was exceedingly grieved: and he would not afflict the spirit of his son Ammon, for he loved him, because he was his firstborn.

Cum autem audisset rex David verba haec contristatus est valde

13:22. But Absalom spoke not to Ammon neither good nor evil: for Absalom hated Ammon because he had ravished his sister Thamar.

Porro non est locutus Absalom ad Amnon nec malum nec bonum oderat enim Absalom Amnon eo quod violasset Thamar sororem suam

13:23. And it came to pass after two years, that the sheep of Absalom were shorn in Baalhasor, which is near Ephraim: and Absalom invited all the king's sons:

Factum est autem post tempus biennii ut tonderentur oves Absalom in Baalazor quae est iuxta Ephraim et vocavit Absalom omnes filios regis

13:24. And he came to the king, and said to him: Behold thy servant's sheep are shorn. Let the king, I pray, with his servants come to his servant.

Venitque ad regem et ait ad eum ecce tondentur oves servi tui veniat oro rex cum servis suis ad servum suum

13:25. And the king said to Absalom: Nay, my son, do not ask that we should all come, and be chargeable to thee. And when he pressed him, and he would not go, he blessed him.

Dixitque rex ad Absalom noli fili mi noli rogare ut veniamus omnes et gravemus te cum autem cogeret eum et nolisset ire benedixit ei

13:26. And Absalom said: If thou wilt not come, at least let my brother Ammon, I beseech thee, come with us. And the king said to him: It is not necessary that he should go with thee.

Et ait Absalom si non vis venire veniat obsecro nobiscum saltem Amnon frater meus dixitque ad eum rex non est necesse ut vadat tecum

13:27. But Absalom pressed him, so that he let Ammon and all the king's sons go with him. And Absalom made a feast as it were the feast of a king.

Coegit itaque eum Absalom et dimisit cum eo Amnon et universos filios regis

13:28. And Absalom had commanded his servants, saying: Take notice when Ammon shall be drunk with wine, and when I shall say to you: Strike him, and kill him, fear not: for it is I that command you: take courage, and be valiant men.

Praeceperat autem Absalom pueris suis dicens observate cum temulentus fuerit Amnon vino et dixero vobis percutite eum et interficite nolite timere ego enim sum qui praecepi vobis roboramini et estote viri fortes

13:29. And the servants of Absalom did to Ammon as Absalom had commanded them. And all the king's sons arose and got up every man upon his mule, and fled.

Fecerunt ergo pueri Absalom adversum Amnon sicut praeceperat eis Absalom surgentesque omnes filii regis ascenderunt singuli mulas suas et fugerunt

13:30. And while they were yet in the way, a rumour came to David, saying: Absalom hath slain all the king's sons, and there is not one of them left.

Cumque adhuc pergerent in itinere fama praevenit ad David dicens percussit Absalom omnes filios regis et non remansit ex eis saltem unus

13:31. Then the king rose up, and rent his garments: and fell upon the ground, and all his servants, that stood about him, rent their garments.

Surrexit itaque rex et scidit vestimenta sua et cecidit super terram et omnes servi ipsius qui adsistebant ei sciderunt vestimenta sua

13:32. But Jonadab the son of Semmaa David's brother answering, said: Let not my lord the king think that all the king's sons are slain: Ammon only is dead, for he was appointed by the mouth of Absalom from the day that he ravished his sister Tamar.

Respondens autem Ionadab filius Samaa fratris David dixit ne aestimet dominus meus quod omnes pueri filii regis occisi sint Amnon solus mortuus est quoniam in ore Absalom erat positus ex die qua oppressit Tamar sororem eius

13:33. Now therefore let not my lord the king take this thing into his heart, saying: All the king's sons are slain: for Ammon only is dead.

Nunc ergo ne ponat dominus meus rex super cor suum verbum istud dicens omnes filii regis occisi sunt quoniam Amnon solus mortuus est

13:34. But Absalom fled away: and the young man that kept the watch, lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold there came much people by a by-way on the side of the mountain.

Fugit autem Absalom et levavit puer speculator oculos suos et aspexit et ecce populus multus veniebat per iter devium ex latere montis

13:35. And Jonadab said to the king: Behold the king's sons are come: as thy servant said, so it is.

Dixit autem Ionadab ad regem ecce filii regis adsunt iuxta verbum servi tui sic factum est

13:36. And when he made an end of speaking, the king's sons also appeared: and coming in they lifted up their voice, and wept: and the king also and all his servants wept very much.

Cumque cessasset loqui apparuerunt et filii regis et intrantes levaverunt vocem suam et fleverunt sed et rex et omnes servi eius fleverunt ploratu magno nimis

13:37. But Absalom fled, and went to Tholomai the son of Ammiud the king of Gessur. And David mourned for his son every day.

Porro Absalom fugiens abiit ad Tholomai filium Amiur regem Gessur luxit ergo David filium suum cunctis diebus

13:38. And Absalom after he was fled, and come into Gessur, was there three years. And king David ceased to pursue after Absalom, because he was comforted concerning the death of Ammon.

Absalom autem cum fugisset et venisset in Gessur fuit ibi tribus annis

2 Samuel Chapter 14

Joab procureth Absalom's return, and his admittance to the king's presence.

14:1. And Joab the son of Sarvia, understanding that the king's heart was turned to Absalom, Intellegens autem Ioab filius Sarviae quod cor regis versum esset ad Absalom

14:2. Sent to Thecua, and fetched from thence a wise woman: and said to her: Feign thyself to be a mourner, and put on mourning apparel, and be not anointed with oil, that thou mayest be as a woman that had a long time been mourning for one dead.
Misit Thecuam et tulit inde mulierem sapientem dixitque ad eam lugere te simula et induere veste lugubri et ne unguaris oleo ut sis quasi mulier plurimo iam tempore lugens mortuum

14:3. And thou shalt go in to the king, and shalt speak to him in this manner. And Joab put the words in her mouth.
Et ingredieris ad regem et loqueris ad eum sermones huiuscemodi posuit autem Ioab verba in ore eius

14:4. And when the woman of Thecua was come in to the king, she fell before him upon the ground, and worshipped, and said: Save me, O king.
Itaque cum ingressa fuisset mulier thecuites ad regem cecidit coram eo super terram et adoravit et dixit serva me rex

14:5. And the king said to her: What is the matter with thee? She answered: Alas, I am a widow woman: for my husband is dead.
Et ait ad eam rex quid causae habes quae respondit heu mulier vidua ego sum mortuus est enim vir meus

14:6. And thy handmaid had two sons: and they quarrelled with each other in the field, and there was none to part them: and the one struck the other, and slew him.
Et ancillae tuae erant duo filii qui rixati sunt adversum se in agro nullusque erat qui eos prohibere posset et percussit alter alterum et interfecit eum

14:7. And behold the whole kindred rising against thy handmaid, saith: Deliver him that hath slain his brother, that we may kill him for the life of his brother, whom he slew, and that we may destroy the heir: and they seek to quench my spark which is left, and will leave my husband no name, nor remainder upon the earth.
Et ecce consurgens universa cognatio adversum ancillam tuam dicit trade eum qui percussit fratrem suum ut occidamus eum pro anima fratris sui quem interfecit et delemus heredem et quaerunt extinguere scintillam meam quae relicta est ut non supersit viro meo nomen et reliquiae super terram

14:8. And the king said to the woman: Go to thy house, and I will give charge concerning thee.
Et ait rex ad mulierem vade in domum tuam et ego iubebo pro te

14:9. And the woman of Thecua said to the king: Upon me, my lord be the iniquity, and upon the house of my father: but may the king and his throne be guiltless.
Dixitque mulier thecuites ad regem in me domine mi rex iniquitas et in domum patris mei rex autem et thronus eius sit innocens

14:10. And the king said: If any one shall say ought against thee, bring him to me, and he shall not touch thee any more.
Et ait rex qui contradixerit tibi adduc eum ad me et ultra non addet ut tangat te 14:11. And she said: Let the king remember the Lord his God, that the next of kin be not multiplied to take revenge, and that they may not kill my son. And he said: As the Lord liveth, there shall not one hair of thy son fall to the earth.

Quae ait recordetur rex Domini Dei sui ut non multiplicentur proximi sanguinis ad ulciscendum et nequaquam interficient filium meum qui ait vivit Dominus quia non cadet de capillis filii tui super terram

14:12. The woman said: Let thy hand maid speak one word to my lord the king. And he said: Speak. Dixit ergo mulier loquatur ancilla tua ad dominum meum regem verbum et ait loquere

14:13. And the woman said: Why hast thou thought such a thing against the people of God, and why hath the king spoken this word, to sin, and not bring home again his own exile? Dixitque mulier quare cogitasti istiusmodi rem contra populum Dei et locutus est rex verbum istud ut peccet et non reducat eiectum suum

14:14. We all die, and like waters that return no more, we fall down into the earth: neither will God have a soul to perish, but recallesh, meaning that he that is cast off should not altogether perish. Omnes morimur et quasi aquae delabimur in terram quae non revertuntur nec vult perire Deus animam sed retractat cogitans ne penitus pereat qui abiectus est

14:15. Now therefore I am come, to speak this word to my lord the king before the people. And thy handmaid said: I will speak to the king, it maybe the king will perform the request of his handmaid. Nunc igitur veni ut loquar ad regem dominum meum verbum hoc praesente populo et dixit ancilla tua loquar ad regem si quo modo faciat rex verbum ancillae suae

14:16. And the king hath hearkened to me to deliver his handmaid out of the hand of all that would destroy me and my son together out of the inheritance of God. Et audivit rex ut liberaret ancillam suam de manu omnium qui volebant delere me et filium meum simul de hereditate Dei

14:17. Then let thy handmaid say, that the word of the Lord the king be made as a sacrifice. For even as an angel of God, so is my lord the king, that he is neither moved with blessing nor cursing: wherefore the Lord thy God is also with thee. Dicat ergo ancilla tua ut fiat verbum domini mei regis quasi sacrificium sicut enim angelus Dei sic est dominus meus rex ut nec benedictione nec maledictione moveatur unde et Dominus Deus tuus est tecum

14:18. And the king answering, said to the woman: Hide not from me the thing that I ask thee. And the woman said to him: Speak, my lord the king. Et respondens rex dixit ad mulierem ne abscondas a me verbum quod te interrogo dixitque mulier loquere domine mi rex

14:19. And the king said: Is not the hand of Joab with thee in all this? The woman answered, and said: By the health of thy soul, my lord, O king, it is neither on the left hand, nor on the right, in all these things which my lord the king hath spoken: for thy servant Joab, he commanded me, and he put all these words into the mouth of thy handmaid. Et ait rex numquid manus loab tecum est in omnibus istis respondit mulier et ait per salutem animae tuae domine mi rex nec ad dextram nec ad sinistram est ex omnibus his quae locutus est dominus meus rex servus enim tuus loab ipse praecepit mihi et ipse posuit in os ancillae tuae omnia verba haec

14:20. That I should come about with this form of speech, thy servant Joab commanded this: but thou, my lord, O king, art wise, according to the wisdom of an angel of God, to understand all things upon earth. Ut verterem figuram sermonis huius servus tuus loab praecepit istud tu autem domine mi sapiens es sicut habet sapientiam angelus Dei ut intellegas omnia super terram

14:21. And the king said to Joab: Behold I am appeased and have granted thy request: Go therefore and fetch back the boy Absalom. Et ait rex ad loab ecce placatus feci verbum tuum vade igitur et revoca puerum Absalom

14:22. And Joab falling down to the ground upon his face, adored, and blessed the king: and Joab said: This day thy servant hath understood, that I have found grace in thy sight, my lord, O king: for thou hast fulfilled the request of thy servant. Cadensque loab super faciem suam in terram adoravit et benedixit regi et dixit loab hodie intellexit servus tuus quia inveni gratiam in oculis tuis domine mi rex fecisti enim sermonem servi tui Blessed... That is, and gave thanks to the king.

14:23. Then Joab arose and went to Gessur, and brought Absalom to Jerusalem. Surrexit ergo loab et abiit in Gessur et adduxit Absalom in Hierusalem

14:24. But the king said: Let him return into his house, and let him not see my face. So Absalom returned into his house, and saw not the king's face.

Dixit autem rex revertatur in domum suam et faciem meam non videat reversus est itaque Absalom in domum suam et faciem regis non vidit

14:25. But in all Israel there was not a man so comely, and so exceedingly beautiful as Absalom: from the sole of the foot to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him.

Porro sicut Absalom vir non erat pulcher in omni Israhel et decorus nimis a vestigio pedis usque ad verticem non erat in eo ulla macula

14:26. And when he polled his hair (now he was polled once a year, because his hair was burdensome to him) he weighed the hair of his head at two hundred sicles, according to the common weight.

Et quando tondebatur capillum semel autem in anno tondebatur quia gravabat eum caesaries ponderabat capillos capitis sui ducentis siclis pondere publico

14:27. And there were born to Absalom three sons: and one daughter, whose name was Tamar, and she was very beautiful.

Nati sunt autem Absalom filii tres et filia una nomine Tamar eleganti forma

14:28. And Absalom dwelt two years in Jerusalem, and saw not the king's face.

Mansitque Absalom Hierusalem duobus annis et faciem regis non vidit

14:29. He sent therefore to Joab, to send him to the king: but he would not come to him. And when he had sent the second time, and he would not come to him,

Misit itaque ad Joab ut mitteret eum ad regem qui noluit venire ad eum cumque secundo misisset et ille noluisset venire

14:30. He said to his servants: You know the field of Joab near my field, that hath a crop of barley: go now and set it on fire. So the servants of Absalom set the corn on fire. And Joab's servants coming with their garments rent, said: The servants of Absalom have set part of the field on fire.

Dixit servis suis scitis agrum Joab iuxta agrum meum habentem messem hordei ite igitur et succendite eum igni succenderunt ergo servi Absalom segetem igni

14:31. Then Joab arose, and came to Absalom to his house, and said: Why have thy servants set my corn on fire?

Surrexitque Joab et venit ad Absalom in domum eius et dixit quare succenderunt servi tui segetem meam igni

14:32. And Absalom answered Joab: I sent to thee beseeching thee to come to me, that I might send thee to the king, to say to him: Wherefore am I come from Gessur? it had been better for me to be there: I beseech thee therefore that I may see the face of the king: and if he be mindful of my iniquity, let him kill me.

Et respondit Absalom ad Joab misi ad te obsecrans ut venires ad me et mitterem te ad regem ut diceres ei quare veni de Gessur melius mihi erat ibi esse obsecro ergo ut videam faciem regis quod si memor est iniquitatis meae interficiat me

14:33. So Joab going in to the king, told him all: and Absalom was called for, and, he went in to the king: and prostrated himself on the ground before him: and the king kissed Absalom.

Ingressus Joab ad regem nuntiavit ei vocatusque Absalom intravit ad regem et adoravit super faciem terrae coram eo osculatusque est rex Absalom

2 Samuel Chapter 15

Absalom's policy and conspiracy. David is obliged to flee.

15:1. Now after these things Absalom made himself chariots, and horsemen, and fifty men to run before him.

Igitur post haec fecit sibi Absalom currum et equites et quinquaginta viros qui praecederent eum

15:2. And Absalom rising up early stood by the entrance of the gate, and when any man had business to come to the king's judgment, Absalom called him to him, and said: Of what city art thou? He answered, and said: Thy servant is of such tribe of Israel.

Et mane consurgens Absalom stabat iuxta introitum portae et omnem virum qui habebat negotium ut veniret ad regis iudicium vocabat Absalom ad se et dicebat de qua civitate es tu qui respondens aiebat ex una tribu Israhel ego sum servus tuus

15:3. And Absalom answered him: Thy words seem to me good and just. But there is no man appointed by the king to hear thee. And Absalom said:

Respondebatque ei Absalom videntur mihi sermones tui boni et iusti sed non est qui te audiat constitutus a rege dicebatque Absalom

15:4. O that they would make me judge over the land, that all that have business might come to me, that I might do them justice.

Quis me constituat iudicem super terram ut ad me veniant omnes qui habent negotium et iuste iudicem

15:5. Moreover when any man came to him to salute him, he put forth his hand, and took him, and kissed him.

Sed et cum accederet ad eum homo ut salutaret illum extendebat manum suam et adprehendens osculabatur eum

15:6. And this he did to all Israel that came for judgment, to be heard by the king, and he enticed the hearts of the men of Israel.

Faciebatque hoc omni Israhel qui veniebat ad iudicium ut audiretur a rege et sollicitabat corda virorum Israhel

15:7. And after forty years, Absalom said to king David: Let me go, and pay my vows which I have vowed to the Lord in Hebron.

Post quattuor autem annos dixit Absalom ad regem vadam et reddam vota mea quae vovi Domino in Hebron

15:8. For thy servant made a vow, when he was in Gessur of Syria, saying: If the Lord shall bring me again into Jerusalem, I will offer sacrifice to the Lord.

Vovens enim vovit servus tuus cum esset in Gessur Syriae dicens si reduxerit me Dominus in Hierusalem sacrificabo Domino

15:9. And king David said to him: Go in peace. And he arose, and went to Hebron.

Dixitque ei rex vade in pace et surrexit et abiit in Hebron

15:10. And Absalom sent spies into all the tribes of Israel, saying: As soon as you shall hear the sound of the trumpet, say ye: Absalom reigneth in Hebron.

Misit autem Absalom exploratores in universas tribus Israhel dicens statim ut audieritis clangorem bucinae dicite regnavit Absalom in Hebron

15:11. Now there went with Absalom two hundred men out of Jerusalem that were called, going with simplicity of heart, and knowing nothing of the design.

Porro cum Absalom ierunt ducenti viri de Hierusalem vocati euntes simplici corde et causam penitus ignorantes

15:12. Absalom also sent for Achitophel the Gilonite, David's counsellor, from his city Gilo. And while he was offering sacrifices, there was a strong conspiracy, and the people running together increased with Absalom.

Accersivit quoque Absalom Ahitofel Gilonitem consiliarium David de civitate sua Gilo cum immolaret victimas et facta est coniuratio valida populusque concurrens augebatur cum Absalom

15:13. And there came a messenger to David, saying: All Israel with their whole heart followeth Absalom. Venit igitur nuntius ad David dicens toto corde universus Israhel sequitur Absalom

15:14. And David said to his servants, that were with him in Jerusalem: Arise and let us flee: for we shall not escape else from the face of Absalom: make haste to go out, lest he come and overtake us, and bring ruin upon us, and smite the city with the edge of the sword.

Et ait David servis suis qui erant cum eo in Hierusalem surgite fugiamus neque enim erit nobis effugium a facie Absalom festinate egredi ne forte veniens occupet nos et inpellat super nos ruinam et percutiat civitatem in ore gladii

15:15. And the king's servants said to him: Whatsoever our lord the king shall command, we thy servants will willingly execute.

Dixeruntque servi regis ad eum omnia quaecumque praeceperit dominus noster rex libenter exsequimur servi tui

15:16. And the king went forth, and all his household on foot: and the king left ten women his concubines to keep the house:

Egressus est ergo rex et universa domus eius pedibus suis et dereliquit rex decem mulieres concubinas ad custodiendam domum

Concubines... That is, wives of an inferior degree.

15:17. And the king going forth and all Israel on foot, stood afar off from the house:

Egressusque rex et omnis Israhel pedibus suis stetit procul a domo

15:18. And all his servants walked by him, and the bands of the Cerethi, and the Phelethi, and all the Gethites, valiant warriors, six hundred men who had followed him from Geth on foot, went before the king.

Et universi servi eius ambulabant iuxta eum et legiones Cherethi et Felethi et omnes Getthei sescenti viri qui secuti eum fuerant de Geth praecedebant regem

15:19. And the king said to Ethai the Gethite: Why comest thou with us: return and dwell with the king, for thou art a stranger, and art come out of thy own place.

Dixit autem rex ad Ethai Gettheum cur venis nobiscum revertere et habita cum rege quia peregrinus es et egressus de loco tuo

15:20. Yesterday thou camest, and to day shalt thou be forced to go forth with us? but I shall go whither I am going: return thou, and take back thy brethren with thee, and the Lord will show thee mercy, and truth, because thou hast shown grace and fidelity.

Heri venisti et hodie inpelleris nobiscum egredi ego autem vadam quo iturus sum revertere et reduc tecum fratres tuos ostendisti gratiam et fidem

15:21. And Ethai answered the king, saying: As the Lord liveth, and as my lord the king liveth: in what place soever thou shalt be, my lord, O king, either in death, or in life, there will thy servant be.

Et respondit Ethai regi dicens vivit Dominus et vivit dominus meus rex quoniam in quocumque loco fueris domine mi rex sive in morte sive in vita ibi erit servus tuus

15:22. And David said to Ethai: Come, and pass over. And Ethai the Gethite passed, and all the men that were with him, and the rest of the people.

Et ait David Ethai veni et transi et transivit Ethai Gettheus et omnes viri qui cum eo erant et reliqua multitudo

15:23. And they all wept with a loud voice, and all the people passed over: the king also himself went over the brook Cedron, and all the people marched towards the way that looketh to the desert.

Omnesque flebant voce magna et universus populus transiebat rex quoque transgrediebatur torrentem Cedron et cunctus populus incedebat contra viam quae respicit ad desertum

15:24. And Sadoc the priest also came, and all the Levites with him carrying the ark of the covenant of God, and they set down the ark of God: and Abiathar went up, till all the people that was come out of the city had done passing.

Venit autem et Sadoc et universi Levitae cum eo portantes arcam foederis Dei et deposuerunt arcam Dei et ascendit Abiathar donec expletus est omnis populus qui egressus fuerat de civitate

15:25. And the king said to Sadoc: Carry back the ark of God into the city: if I shall find grace in the sight of the Lord, he will bring me again, and he will show me it, and his tabernacle.

Et dixit rex ad Sadoc reporta arcam Dei in urbem si invenero gratiam in oculis Domini reducet me et ostendet mihi eam et tabernaculum suum

15:26. But if he shall say to me: Thou pleasest me not: I am ready, let him do that which is good before him.

Si autem dixerit non places praesto sum faciat quod bonum est coram se

15:27. And the king said to Sadoc the priest: O seer, return into the city in peace: and let Achimaas thy son, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar, your two sons, be with you.

Et dixit rex ad Sadoc sacerdotem o videns revertere in civitatem in pace et Achimaas filius tuus et Jonathan filius Abiathar duo filii vestri sint vobiscum

15:28. Behold I will lie hid in the plains of the wilderness, till there come word from you to certify me.

Ecce ego abscondar in campestribus deserti donec veniat sermo a vobis indicans mihi

15:29. So Sadoc and Abiathar carried back the ark of God into Jerusalem: and they tarried there.

Reportaverunt igitur Sadoc et Abiathar arcam Dei Hierusalem et manserunt ibi

15:30. But David went up by the ascent of mount Olivet, going up and weeping, walking barefoot, and with his head covered, and all the people that were with them, went up with their heads covered weeping.

Porro David ascendebat clivum Olivarum scandens et flens operto capite et nudis pedibus incedens sed et omnis populus qui erat cum eo operto capite ascendebat plorans

Weeping, etc... David on this occasion wept for his sins, which he knew were the cause of all his sufferings.

15:31. And it was told David that Ahitophel also was in the conspiracy with Absalom, and David said: Infatuate, O Lord, I beseech thee, the counsel of Ahitophel.

Nuntiatum est autem David quod et Ahitofel esset in coniuratione cum Absalom dixitque David infatua quaeso consilium Ahitofel Domine

15:32. And when David was come to the top of the mountain, where he was about to adore the Lord, behold Chusai the Arachite, came to meet him with his garment rent and his head covered with earth.

Cumque ascenderet David summitatem montis in quo adoraturus erat Dominum ecce occurrit ei Husai Arachites scissa veste et terra pleno capite

15:33. And David said to him: If thou come with me, thou wilt be a burden to me:

Et dixit ei David si veneris mecum eris mihi oneri

15:34. But if thou return into the city, and wilt say to Absalom: I am thy servant, O king: as I have been thy father's servant, so I will be thy servant: thou shalt defeat the counsel of Ahitophel.

Si autem in civitatem revertaris et dixeris Absalom servus tuus sum rex sicut fui servus patris tui sic ero servus tuus dissipabis consilium Ahitofel

15:35. And thou hast with thee Sadoc, and soever thou shalt hear out of the king's house, thou shalt tell it to Sadoc and Abiathar the priests.

Habes autem tecum Sadoc et Abiathar sacerdotes et omne verbum quodcumque audieris de domo regis indicabis Sadoc et Abiathar sacerdotibus

15:36. And there are with them their two sons Achimaas, the son of Sadoc, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar: and you shall send by them to me every thing that you shall hear.

Sunt autem cum eis duo filii eorum Achimaas Sadoc et Jonathan Abiathar et mittetis per eos ad me omne verbum quod audieritis

15:37. Then Chusai the friend of David went into the city, and Absalom came into Jerusalem.

Veniente ergo Husai amico David in civitatem Absalom quoque ingressus est Hierusalem

2 Samuel Chapter 16

Siba bringeth provisions to David. Semei curseth him. Absalom defileth his father's wives.

16:1. And when David was a little past the top of the hill, behold Siba the servant of Miphiboseth came to meet him with two asses, laden with two hundred loaves of bread, and a hundred bunches of raisins, a hundred cakes of figs, and a vessel of wine.

Cumque David transisset paululum montis verticem apparuit Siba puer Mifiboseth in occursum eius cum duobus asinis qui onerati erant ducentis panibus et centum alligaturis uvae passae et centum massis palatarum et utribus vini

16:2. And the king said to Siba: What mean these things? And Siba answered: The asses are for the king's household to sit on: and the loaves and the figs for thy servants to eat, and the wine to drink if any man be faint in the desert.

Et dixit rex Sibae quid sibi volunt haec responditque Siba asini domestici regis ut sedeant et panes et palatae ad vescendum pueris tuis vinum autem ut bibat si quis defecerit in deserto

16:3. And the king said: Where is thy master's son? And Siba answered the king: He remained in Jerusalem, saying: To day, will the house of Israel restore me the kingdom of my father.

Et ait rex ubi est filius domini tui responditque Siba regi remansit in Hierusalem dicens hodie restituet mihi domus Israhel regnum patris mei

16:4. And the king said to Siba: I give thee all that belonged to Miphiboseth. And Siba said: I beseech thee let me find grace before thee, my lord, O king.

Et ait rex Sibae tua sint omnia quae fuerunt Mifiboseth dixitque Siba adoro inveniam gratiam coram te domine mi rex

16:5. And king David came as far as Bahurim: and behold there came out from thence a man of the kindred of the house of Saul named Semei, the son of Gera, and coming out he cursed as he went on, Venit ergo rex David usque Baurim et ecce egrediebatur inde vir de cognatione domus Saul nomine Semei filius Gera procedebat egrediens et maledicebat

Mittebatque lapides contra David et contra universos servos regis David omnis autem populus et universi bellatores a dextro et sinistro latere regis incedebant

16:7. And thus said Semei when he cursed the king: Come out, come out, thou man of blood, and thou man of Belial.

Ita autem loquebatur Semei cum malediceret regi egredere egredere vir sanguinum et vir Belial

16:8. The Lord hath repaid thee for all the blood of the house of Saul: because thou hast usurped the kingdom in his stead, and the Lord hath given the kingdom into the hand of Absalom thy son: and behold thy evils press upon thee, because thou art a man of blood.

Reddidit tibi Dominus universum sanguinem domus Saul quoniam invasisti regnum pro eo et dedit Dominus regnum in manu Absalom filii tui et ecce premunt te mala tua quoniam vir sanguinum es

16:9. And Abisai the son of Sarvia said to the king: Why should this dead dog curse my lord the king? I will go, and cut off his head.

Dixit autem Abisai filius Sarviae regi quare maledicit canis hic moriturus domino meo regi vadam et amputabo caput eius

16:10. And the king said: What have I to do with you, ye sons of Sarvia? Let him alone and let him curse: for the Lord hath bid him curse David: and who is he that shall dare say, why hath he done so?

Et ait rex quid mihi et vobis filii Sarviae dimittite eum maledicat Dominus enim praecepit ei ut malediceret David et quis est qui audeat dicere quare sic fecerit

Hath bid him curse... Not that the Lord was the author of Semei's sin, which proceeded purely from his own malice, and the abuse of his free will. But that knowing, and suffering his malicious disposition to break out on this occasion, he made use of him as his instrument to punish David for his sins.

16:11. And the king said to Abisai, and to all his servants: Behold my son, who came forth from my bowels, seeketh my life: how much more now a son of Jemini? let him alone that he may curse as the Lord hath bidden him.

Et ait rex Abisai et universis servis suis ecce filius meus qui egressus est de utero meo quaerit animam meam quanto magis nunc filius Iemini dimittite eum ut maledicat iuxta praeceptum Domini

16:12. Perhaps the Lord may look upon my affliction, and the Lord may render me good for the cursing of this day.

Si forte respiciat Dominus ad afflictionem meam et reddat mihi bonum pro maledictione hac hodierna

16:13. And David and his men with him went by the way. And Semei by the hill's side went over against him, cursing, and casting stones at him, and scattering earth.

Ambulabat itaque David et socii eius per viam cum eo Semei autem per iugum montis ex latere contra illum gradiebatur maledicens et mittens lapides adversum eum terramque spargens

16:14. And the king and all the people with him came weary, and refreshed themselves there.

Venit itaque rex et universus populus cum eo lassus et refocilati sunt ibi

16:15. But Absalom and all his people came into Jerusalem, and Achitophel was with him.

Absalom autem et omnis populus Israhel ingressi sunt Hierusalem sed et Ahitofel cum eo

16:16. And when Chusai the Arachite, David's friend, was come to Absalom, he said to him: God save thee, O king, God save thee, O king.

Cum autem venisset Husai Arachites amicus David ad Absalom locutus est ad eum salve rex salve rex

16:17. And Absalom said to him, Is this thy kindness to thy friend? Why wentest thou not with thy friend?

Ad quem Absalom haec est inquit gratia tua ad amicum tuum quare non isti cum amico tuo

16:18. And Chusai answered Absalom: Nay: for I will be his, whom the Lord hath chosen, and all this people, and all Israel, and with him will I abide.

Responditque Husai ad Absalom nequaquam quia illius ero quem elegit Dominus et omnis hic populus et universus Israhel et cum eo manebo

16:19. Besides this, whom shall I serve? is it not the king's son? as I have served thy father, so will I serve thee also.

Sed ut et hoc inferam cui ego serviturus sum nonne filio regis sicut parui patri tuo sic parebo et tibi

16:20. And Absalom said to Achitophel: Consult what we are to do.

Dixit autem Absalom ad Ahitofel inite consilium quid agere debeamus

16:21. And Achitophel said to Absalom: Go in to the concubines of thy father, whom he hath left to keep the house: that when all Israel shall hear that thou hast disgraced thy father, their hands may be strengthened with thee.

Et ait Ahitofel ad Absalom ingredere ad concubinas patris tui quas dimisit ad custodiendam domum ut cum audierit omnis Israhel quod foedaveris patrem tuum roborentur manus eorum tecum

Their hands may be strengthened, etc... The people might apprehend lest Absalom should be reconciled to his father, and therefore they followed him with some fear of being left in the lurch, till they saw such a crime committed as seemed to make a reconciliation impossible.

16:22. So they spread a tent for Absalom on the top of the house, and he went in to his father's concubines before all Israel.

Tetenderunt igitur Absalom tabernaculum in solario ingressusque est ad concubinas patris sui coram universo Israhel

16:23. Now the counsel of Achitophel, which he gave in those days, was as if a man should consult God: so was all the counsel of Achitophel, both when he was with David, and when he was with Absalom.

Consilium autem Ahitofel quod dabat in diebus illis quasi si quis consuleret Deum sic erat omne consilium Ahitofel et cum esset cum David et cum esset cum Absalom

2 Samuel Chapter 17

Achitophel's counsel is defeated by Chusai: who sendeth intelligence to David. Achitophel hangeth himself.

17:1. And Achitophel said to Absalom: I will choose me twelve thousand men, and I will arise and pursue after David this night.

Dixit igitur Ahitofel ad Absalom eligam mihi duodecim milia virorum et consurgens persequar David hac nocte

17:2. And coming upon him (for he is now weary, and weak handed) I will defeat him: and when all the people is put to flight that is with him, I will kill the king who will be left alone.

Et intruens super eum quippe qui lassus est et solutis manibus percutiam eum cumque fugerit omnis populus qui cum eo est percutiam regem desolatum

17:3. And I will bring back all the people, as if they were but one man: for thou seekest but one man: and all the people shall be in peace.

Et reducam universum populum quomodo omnis reverti solet unum enim virum tu quaeris et omnis populus erit in pace

17:4. And his saying pleased Absalom, and all the ancients of Israel.

Placuitque sermo eius Absalom et cunctis maioribus natu Israhel

17:5. But Absalom said: Call Chusai the Arachite, and let us hear what he also saith.

Ait autem Absalom vocate et Husai Arachiten et audiamus quid etiam ipse dicat

17:6. And when Chusai was come to Absalom, Absalom said to him: Achitophel hath spoken after this manner: shall we do it or not? what counsel dost thou give?

Cumque venisset Husai ad Absalom ait Absalom ad eum huiusmodi sermonem locutus est Ahitofel facere debemus an non quod das consilium

17:7. And Chusai said to Absalom: The counsel that Achitophel hath given this time is not good.

Et dixit Husai ad Absalom non bonum consilium quod dedit Ahitofel hac vice

17:8. And again Chusai said: Thou knowest thy father, and the men that are with him, that they are very valiant, and bitter in their mind, as a bear raging in the wood when her whelps are taken away: and thy father is a warrior, and will not lodge with the people.

Et rursum intulit Husai tu nosti patrem tuum et viros qui cum eo sunt esse fortissimos et amaro animo veluti si ursa raptis catulis in saltu saeviat sed et pater tuus vir bellator est nec morabitur cum populo

17:9. Perhaps he now lieth hid in pits, or in some other place where he liest: and when any one shall fall at the first, every one that heareth it shall say: There is a slaughter among the people that followed Absalom.

Forsitan nunc latitat in foveis aut in uno quo voluerit loco et cum ceciderit unus quilibet in principio audiet quicumque audierit et dicet facta est plaga in populo qui sequebatur Absalom

17:10. And the most valiant man whose heart is as the heart of a lion, shall melt for fear: for all the people of Israel know thy father to be a valiant man, and that all who are with him are valiant.

Et fortissimus quoque cuius cor est quasi leonis pavore solvetur scit enim omnis populus Israhel fortem esse patrem tuum et robustos omnes qui cum eo sunt

17:11. But this seemeth to me to be good counsel: Let all Israel be gathered to thee, from Dan to Bersabee, as the sand of the sea which cannot be numbered: and thou shalt be in the midst of them.

Sed hoc mihi videtur rectum esse consilium congregetur ad te universus Israhel a Dan usque Bersabee quasi harena maris innumerabilis et tu eris in medio eorum

17:12. And we shall come upon him in what place soever he shall be found: and we shall cover him, as the dew falleth upon the ground, and we shall not leave of the men that are with him, not so much as one. Et inruemus super eum in quocumque loco fuerit inventus et operiemus eum sicut cadere solet ros super terram et non relinquemus de viris qui cum eo sunt ne unum quidem

17:13. And if he shall enter into any city, all Israel shall cast ropes round about that city, and we will draw it into the river, so that there shall not be found so much as one small stone thereof. Quod si urbem aliquam fuerit ingressus circumdabit omnis Israhel civitati illi funes et trahemus eam in torrentem ut non repperiatur nec calculus quidem ex ea

17:14. And Absalom, and all the men of Israel said: The counsel of Chusai the Arachite is better than the counsel of Achitophel: and by the will of the Lord the profitable counsel of Achitophel was defeated, that the Lord might bring evil upon Absalom. Dixitque Absalom et omnis vir Israhel melius consilium Husai Arachitae consilio Ahitofel Domini autem nutu dissipatum est consilium Ahitofel utile ut induceret Dominus super Absalom malum

17:15. And Chusai said to Sadoc and Abiathar the priests: Thus and thus did Achitophel counsel Absalom, and the ancients of Israel: and thus and thus did I counsel them. Et ait Husai Sadoc et Abiathar sacerdotibus hoc et hoc modo consilium dedit Ahitofel Absalom et senibus Israhel et ego tale et tale dedi consilium

17:16. Now therefore send quickly, and tell David, saying: Tarry not this night in the plains of the wilderness, but without delay pass over: lest the king be swallowed up, and all the people that is with him. Nunc ergo mittite cito et nuntiate David dicentes ne moremini nocte hac in campestribus deserti sed absque dilatione transgredere ne forte absorbeatur rex et omnis populus qui cum eo est

17:17. And Jonathan and Achimaas stayed by the fountain Rogel: and there went a maid and told them: and they went forward, to carry the message to king David, for they might not be seen, nor enter into the city. Jonathan autem et Achimaas stabant iuxta fontem Rogel abiit ancilla et nuntiavit eis et illi profecti sunt ut referrent ad regem David nuntium non enim poterant videri aut introire civitatem

17:18. But a certain boy saw them, and told Absalom: but they making haste went into the house of a certain man in Bahurim, who had a well in his court, and they went down into it. Vidit autem eos quidam puer et indicavit Absalom illi vero concito gradu ingressi sunt domum cuiusdam viri in Baurim qui habebat puteum in vestibulo suo et descenderunt in eum

17:19. And a woman took, and spread a covering over the mouth of the well, as it were to dry sodden barley and so the thing was not known. Tulit autem mulier et expandit velamen super os putei quasi siccans ptisanas et sic res latuit

17:20. And when Absalom's servants were come into the house, they said to the woman: Where is Achimaas and Jonathan? and the woman answered them: They passed on in haste, after they had tasted a little water. But they that sought them, when they found them not, returned into Jerusalem. Cumque venissent servi Absalom ad mulierem in domum dixerunt ubi est Achimaas et Jonathan et respondit eis mulier transierunt gustata paululum aqua at hii qui quaerebant cum non repperissent reversi sunt Hierusalem

17:21. And when they were gone, they came up out of the well, and going on told king David, and said: Arise, and pass quickly over the river: for this manner of counsel has Achitophel given against you. Cumque abissent ascenderunt illi de puteo et pergentes nuntiaverunt regi David atque dixerunt surgite transite cito fluvium quoniam huiusmodi dedit consilium contra vos Ahitofel

17:22. So David arose, and all the people that were with him, and they passed over the Jordan, until it grew light, and not one of them was left that was not gone ever the river. Surrexit ergo David et omnis populus qui erat cum eo et transierunt Iordanem donec dilucesceret et ne unus quidem residuus fuit qui non transisset fluvium

17:23. But Achitophel seeing that his counsel was not followed, saddled his ass, and arose and went home to his house and to his city, and putting his house in order, hanged himself, and was buried in the sepulchre of his father. Porro Ahitofel videns quod non fuisset factum consilium suum stravit asinum suum et surrexit et abiit in domum suam et in civitatem suam et disposita domo sua suspendio interiit et sepultus est in sepulchro patris sui

17:24. But David came to the camp, and Absalom passed over the Jordan, he and all the men of Israel with him.

David autem venit in Castra et Absalom transivit Iordanem ipse et omnis vir Israhel cum eo

To the camp... The city of Mahanaim, the name of which, in Hebrew, signifies The camp. It was a city of note at that time, as appears from its having been chosen by Isboseth for the place of his residence.

17:25. Now Absalom appointed Amasa in Joab's stead over the army: and Amasa was the son of a man who was called Jethra, of Jezrael, who went in to Abigail the daughter of Naas, the sister of Sarvia who was the mother of Joab.

Amasam vero constituit Absalom pro Ioab super exercitum Amasa autem erat filius viri qui vocabatur Iethra de Hiesreli qui ingressus est ad Abigail filiam Naas sororem Sarviae quae fuit mater Ioab

17:26. And Israel camped with Absalom in the land of Galaad.

Et castrametatus est Israhel cum Absalom in terra Galaad

17:27. And when David was come to the camp, Sobi the son of Naas of Rabbath of the children of Ammon, and Machir the son of Ammihel of Lodabar and Berzellai the Galaadite of Rogelim,

Cumque venisset David in Castra Sobi filius Naas de Rabbath filiorum Ammon et Machir filius Ammihel de Lodabar et Berzellai Galaadites de Rogelim

17:28. Brought him beds, and tapestry, and earthen vessels, and wheat, and barley, and meal, and parched corn, and beans, and lentils, and fried pulse,

Obtulerunt ei stratoria et tappetia et vasa fictilia frumentum et hordeum et farinam pulentam et fabam et lentem frixum cicer

17:29. And honey, and butter, and sheep, and fat calves, and they gave to David and the people that were with him, to eat: for they suspected that the people were faint with hunger and thirst in the wilderness.

Et mel et butyrum oves et pingues vitulos dederuntque David et populo qui cum eo erat ad vescendum suspicati enim sunt populum fame et siti fatigari in deserto

2 Samuel Chapter 18

Absalom is defeated, and slain by Joab. David mourneth for him.

18:1. And David, having reviewed his people, appointed over them captains of thousands and of hundreds,
Igitur considerato David populo suo constituit super eum tribunos et centuriones

18:2. And sent forth a third part of the people under the hand of Joab, and a third part under the hand of Abisai the son of Sarvia Joab's brother, and a third part under the hand of Ethai, who was of Geth: and the king said to the people: I also will go forth with you.

Et dedit populi tertiam partem sub manu loab et tertiam in manu Abisai filii Sarviae fratris loab et tertiam sub manu Ethai qui erat de Geth dixitque rex ad populum egrediar et ego vobiscum

18:3. And the people answered: Thou shalt not go forth: for if we flee away, they will not much mind us: or if half of us should fall, they will not greatly care: for thou alone art accounted for ten thousand: it is better therefore that thou shouldst be in the city to succour us.

Et respondit populus non exhibis sive enim fugerimus non magnopere ad eos de nobis pertinebit sive media pars ceciderit e nobis non satis curabunt quia tu unus pro decem milibus computaris melius est igitur ut sis nobis in urbe praesidio

18:4. And the king said to them: What seemeth good to you, that will I do. And the king stood by the gate: and all the people went forth by their troops, by hundreds and by thousands.

Ad quos rex ait quod vobis rectum videtur hoc faciam stetit ergo rex iuxta portam egrediebaturque populus per turmas suas centeni et milleni

18:5. And the king commanded Joab, and Abisai, and Ethai, saying: Save me the boy Absalom. And all the people heard the king giving charge to all the princes concerning Absalom.

Et praecepit rex loab et Abisai et Ethai dicens servate mihi puerum Absalom et omnis populus audiebat praecipientem regem cunctis principibus pro Absalom

18:6. So the people went out into the field against Israel, and the battle was fought in the forest of Ephraim.

Itaque egressus est populus in campum contra Israhel et factum est proelium in saltu Ephraim 18:7. And the people of Israel were defeated there by David's army, and a great slaughter was made that day of twenty thousand men.

Et caesus est ibi populus Israhel ab exercitu David factaque est ibi plaga magna in die illa viginti milium

18:8. And the battle there was scattered over the face of all the country, and there were many more of the people whom the forest consumed, than whom the sword devoured that day.

Fuit autem ibi proelium dispersum super faciem omnis terrae et multo plures erant quos saltus consumpserat de populo quam hii quos voraverat gladius in die illa

Consumed... Viz., by pits and precipices.

18:9. And it happened that Absalom met the servants of David, riding on a mule: and as the mule went under a thick and large oak, his head stuck in the oak: and while he hung between the heaven and the earth, the mule on which he rode passed on.

Accidit autem ut occurreret Absalom servis David sedens mulo cumque ingressus fuisset mulus subter condensam quercum et magnam adhesit caput eius quercui et illo suspenso inter caelum et terram mulus cui sederat pertransivit

18:10. And one saw this and told Joab, saying: I saw Absalom hanging upon an oak.

Vidit autem hoc quispiam et nuntiavit loab dicens vidi Absalom pendere de quercu

18:11. And Joab said to the man that told him: If thou sawest him, why didst thou not stab him to the ground, and I would have given thee ten sicles of silver, and a belt?

Et ait loab viro qui nuntiaverat ei si vidisti quare non confodisti eum cum terra et ego dedissem tibi decem argenti siclos et unum balteum

18:12. And he said to Joab: If thou wouldst have paid down in my hands a thousand pieces of silver, I would not lay my hands upon the king's son for in our hearing the king charged thee, and Abisai, and Ethai, saying: Save me the boy Absalom.

Qui dixit ad loab si adpenderes in manibus meis mille argenteos nequaquam mitterem manum meam in filium regis audientibus enim nobis praecepit rex tibi et Abisai et Ethai dicens custodite mihi puerum Absalom

18:13. Yea and if I should have acted boldly against my own life, this could not have been hid from the king, and wouldst thou have stood by me?

Sed et si fecissem contra animam meam audacter nequaquam hoc regem latere potuisset et tu stares ex adverso

18:14. And Joab said: Not as thou wilt, but I will set upon him in thy sight. So he took three lances in his hand, and thrust them into the heart of Absalom: and whilst he yet panted for life, sticking on the oak, Et ait loab non sicut tu vis sed adgrediar eum coram te tulit ergo tres lanceas in manu sua et infixit eas in corde Absalom cumque adhuc palpitaret herens in quercu

18:15. Ten young men, armourbearers of Joab, ran up, and striking him slew him.

Cucurrerunt decem iuvenes armigeri loab et percutientes interfecerunt eum

18:16. And Joab sounded the trumpet, and kept back the people from pursuing after Israel in their flight, being willing to spare the multitude.

Cecinit autem loab bucina et retinuit populum ne persequeretur fugientem Israhel volens parcere multitudini

18:17. And they took Absalom, and cast him into a great pit in the forest, and they laid an exceeding great heap of stones upon him: but all Israel fled to their own dwellings.

Et tulerunt Absalom et proiecerunt eum in saltu in foveam grandem et conportaverunt super eum acervum lapidum magnum nimis omnis autem Israhel fugit in tabernacula sua

18:18. Now Absalom had reared up for himself, in his lifetime, a pillar, which is in the king's valley: for he said: I have no son, and this shall be the monument of my name. And he called the pillar by his own name, and it is called the hand of Absalom, to this day.

Porro Absalom erexerat sibi cum adhuc viveret titulum qui est in valle Regis dixerat enim non habeo filium et hoc erit monumentum nominis mei vocavitque titulum nomine suo et appellatur manus Absalom usque ad hanc diem

No son... The sons mentioned above, 2 Samuel 14:27, were dead when this pillar was erected: unless we suppose he raised this pillar before they were born.

18:19. And Achimaas the son of Sadoc said: I will run and tell the king, that the Lord hath done judgment for him from the hand of his enemies.

Achimaas autem filius Sadoc ait curram et nuntiabo regi quia iudicium fecerit ei Dominus de manu inimicorum eius

18:20. And Joab said to him: Thou shalt not be the messenger this day, but shalt bear tidings another day: this day I will not have thee bear tidings, because the king's son is dead.

Ad quem loab dixit non eris nuntius in hac die sed nuntiabis in alia hodie nolo te nuntiare filius enim regis est mortuus

18:21. And Joab said to Chusai: Go, and tell the king what thou hast seen. Chusai bowed down to Joab, and ran.

Et ait loab Chusi vade et nuntia regi quae vidisti adoravit Chusi loab et cucurrit

18:22. Then Achimaas the son of Sadoc said to Joab again: Why might not I also run after Chusai? And Joab said to him: Why wilt thou run, my son? thou wilt not be the bearer of good tidings.

Rursum autem Achimaas filius Sadoc dixit ad loab quid inpedit si etiam ego curram post Chusi dixitque loab quid vis currere fili mi non eris boni nuntii baiulus

18:23. He answered: But what if I run? And he said to him: Run. Then Achimaas running by a nearer way passed Chusai.

Qui respondit quid enim si cucurrero et ait ei curre currens ergo Achimaas per viam compendii transivit Chusi

18:24. And David sat between the two gates: and the watchman that was on the top of the gate upon the wall, lifting up his eyes, saw a man running alone.

David autem sedebat inter duas portas speculator vero qui erat in fastigio portae super murum elevans oculos vidit hominem currentem solum

18:25. And crying out he told the king: and the king said: If he be alone, there are good tidings in his mouth. And as he was coming apace, and drawing nearer,

Et exclamans indicavit regi dixitque rex si solus est bonus est nuntius in ore eius properante autem illo et accedente propius

18:26. The watchman saw another man running, and crying aloud from above, he said: I see another man running alone. And the king said: He also is a good messenger.

Vidit speculator hominem alterum currentem et vociferans in culmine ait apparet mihi homo currens solus dixitque rex et iste bonus est nuntius

18:27. And the watchman said: The running of the foremost seemeth to me like the running of Achimaas the son of Sadoc. And the king said: He is a good man: and cometh with good news.

Speculator autem contemplos ait cursum prioris quasi cursum Achimaas filii Sadoc et ait rex vir bonus est et nuntium portans bonum venit

18:28. And Achimaas crying out, said to the king: God save thee, O king. And falling down before the king with his face to the ground, he said: Blessed be the Lord thy God, who hath shut up the men that have lifted up their hands against the lord my king.

Clamans autem Achimaas dixit ad regem salve et adorans regem coram eo pronus in terram ait benedictus Dominus Deus tuus qui conclusit homines qui levaverunt manus suas contra dominum meum regem

18:29. And the king said: Is the young man Absalom safe? And Achimaas said: I saw a great tumult, O king, when thy servant Joab sent me thy servant: I know nothing else.

Et ait rex estne pax puero Absalom dixitque Achimaas vidi tumultum magnum cum mitteret Joab servus tuus o rex me servum tuum nescio aliud

18:30. And the king said to him: Pass, and stand here.

Ad quem rex transi ait et sta hic cumque ille transisset et staret

18:31. And when he had passed, and stood still, Chusai appeared and coming up he said: I bring good tidings, my lord, the king, for the Lord hath judged for thee this day from the hand of all that have risen up against thee.

Apparuit Chusi et veniens ait bonum adporto nuntium domine mi rex iudicavit enim pro te Dominus hodie de manu omnium qui surrexerunt contra te

18:32. And the king said to Chusai: Is the young man Absalom safe? And Chusai answering him, said: Let the enemies of my lord, the king, and all that rise against him unto evil, be as the young man is.

Dixit autem rex ad Chusi estne pax puero Absalom cui respondens Chusi fiant inquit sicut puer inimici domini mei regis et universi qui consurgunt adversum eum in malum

18:33. The king therefore being much moved, went up to the high chamber over the gate, and wept. And as he went he spoke in this manner: My son Absalom, Absalom my son: would to God that I might die for thee, Absalom my son, my son Absalom.

Contristatus itaque rex ascendit cenaculum portae et flevit et sic loquebatur vadens fili mi Absalom fili mi Absalom quis mihi tribuat ut ego moriar pro te Absalom fili mi fili mi

Would to God... David lamented the death of Absalom, because of the wretched state in which he died: and therefore would have been glad to have saved his life, even by dying for him. In which he was a figure of Christ weeping, praying and dying for his rebellious children, and even for them that crucified him.

2 Samuel Chapter 19

David, at the remonstrances of Joab, ceaseth his mourning. He is invited back and met by Semei and Miphiboseth: a strife between the men of Juda and the men of Israel.

19:1. And it was told Joab, that the king wept and mourned for his son:
Nuntiatum est autem Ioab quod rex fleret et lugeret filium suum

19:2. And the victory that day was turned into mourning unto all the people: for the people heard say that day: The king grieveth for his son.
Et versa est victoria in die illa in luctum omni populo audivit enim populus in die illa dici dolet rex super filio suo

19:3. And the people shunned the going into the city that day as a people would do that hath turned their backs, and fled away from the battle.
Et declinabat populus in die illa ingredi civitatem quomodo declinare solet populus versus et fugiens de proelio

19:4. And the king covered his head, and cried with a loud voice: O my son Absalom, O Absalom my son, O my son.
Porro rex operuit caput suum et clamabat voce magna fili mi Absalom Absalom fili mi fili mi

19:5. Then Joab going into the house to the king, said: Thou hast shamed this day the faces of all thy servants, that have saved thy life, and the lives of thy sons, and of thy daughters, and the lives of thy wives, and the lives of thy concubines.
Ingressus ergo Ioab ad regem in domo dixit confudisti hodie vultus omnium servorum tuorum qui salvam fecerunt animam tuam et animam filiorum tuorum et filiarum tuarum et animam uxorum tuarum et animam concubinarum tuarum

19:6. Thou lovest them that hate thee, and thou hatest them that love thee: and thou hast shown this day that thou carest not for thy nobles, nor for thy servants: and I now plainly perceive that if Absalom had lived, and all we had been slain, then it would have pleased thee.
Diligis odientes te et odio habes diligentes te et ostendisti hodie quia non curas de ducibus tuis et de servis tuis et vere cognovi modo quia si Absalom viveret et nos omnes occubuissemus tunc placeret tibi

19:7. Now therefore arise, and go out, and speak to the satisfaction of thy servants: for I swear to thee by the Lord, that if thou wilt not go forth, there will not tarry with thee so much as one this night: and that will be worse to thee, than all the evils that have befallen thee from thy youth until now.
Nunc igitur surge et procede et adloquens satisfac servis tuis iuro enim tibi per Dominum quod si non exieris ne unus quidem remansurus sit tecum nocte hac et peius erit hoc tibi quam omnia mala quae venerunt super te ab adolescentia tua usque in praesens

19:8. Then the king arose and sat in the gate: and it was told to all the people that the king sat in the gate: and all the people came before the king, but Israel fled to their own dwellings.
Surrexit ergo rex et sedit in porta et omni populo nuntiatum est quod rex sederet in porta venitque universa multitudo coram rege Israhel autem fugit in tabernacula sua

19:9. And all the people were at strife in all the tribes of Israel, saying: The king delivered us out of the hand of our enemies, and he saved us out of the hand of the Philistines: and now he is fled out of the land for Absalom.
Omnis quoque populus certabat in cunctis tribubus Israhel dicens rex liberavit nos de manu inimicorum nostrorum ipse salvavit nos de manu Philistinorum et nunc fugit de terra propter Absalom

19:10. But Absalom, whom we anointed over us, is dead in the battle: how long are you silent, and bring not back the king?

Absalom autem quem unximus super nos mortuus est in bello usquequo siletis et non reducitis regem

19:11. And king David sent to Sadoc, and Abiathar the priests, saying: Speak to the ancients of Juda, saying: Why are you the last to bring the king back to his house? (For the talk of all Israel was come to the king in his house.)

Rex vero David misit ad Sadoc et ad Abiathar sacerdotes dicens loquimini ad maiores natu Iuda dicentes cur venitis novissimi ad reducendum regem in domum suam sermo autem omnis Israhel pervenerat ad regem in domo eius

19:12. You are my brethren, you are my bone, and my flesh, why are you the last to bring back the king? Fratres mei vos os meum et caro mea vos quare novissimi reducitis regem

19:13. And say ye to Amasa: Art not thou my bone, and my flesh? So do God to me and add more, if thou be not the chief captain of the army before me always in the place of Joab.

Et Amasae dicite nonne os meum es et caro mea haec faciat mihi Deus et haec addat si non magister militiae fueris coram me omni tempore pro Joab

19:14. And he inclined the heart of all the men of Juda, as it were of one man: and they sent to the king, saying: Return thou, and all thy servants.

Et inclinavit cor omnium virorum Iuda quasi viri unius miseruntque ad regem dicentes revertere tu et omnes servi tui

19:15. And the king returned and came as far as the Jordan, and all Juda came as far as Galgal to meet the king, and to bring him over the Jordan.

Et reversus est rex et venit usque ad Iordanem et Iuda venit in Galgala ut occurreret regi et transduceret eum Iordanem

19:16. And Semei the son of Gera the son of Jemini of Bahurim, made haste and went down with the men of Juda to meet king David,

Festinauit autem Semei filius Gera filii Iemini de Baurim et descendit cum viris Iuda in occursum regis David

19:17. With a thousand men of Benjamin, and Siba the servant of the house of Saul: and his fifteen sons, and twenty servants were with him: and going over the Jordan,

Cum mille viris de Benjamin et Siba puer de domo Saul et quindecim filii eius ac viginti servi erant cum eo et inrupentes Iordanem ante regem

19:18. They passed the fords before the king, that they might help over the king's household, and do according to his commandment. And Semei the son of Gera falling down before the king, when he was come over the Jordan,

Transierunt vada ut transducerent domum regis et facerent iuxta iussionem eius Semei autem filius Gera prostratus coram rege cum iam transisset Iordanem

19:19. Said to him: Impute not to me, my lord, the iniquity, nor remember the injuries of thy servant on the day that thou, my lord, the king, wentest out of Jerusalem, nor lay it up in thy heart, O king.

Dixit ad eum ne reputes mihi domine mi iniquitatem neque memineris iniuriam servi tui in die qua egressus es domine mi rex de Hierusalem neque ponas rex in corde tuo

19:20. For I thy servant acknowledge my sin: and therefore I am come this day the first of all the house of Joseph, and am come down to meet my lord the king.

Agnosco enim servus tuus peccatum meum et idcirco hodie primus veni de omni domo Ioseph descendique in occursum domini mei regis

19:21. But Abisai the son of Sarvia answering, said: Shall Semei for these words not be put to death, because he cursed the Lord's anointed?

Respondens vero Abisai filius Sarviae dixit numquid pro his verbis non occidetur Semei quia maledixit christo Domini

19:22. And David said: What have I to do with you, ye sons of Sarvia? why are you a satan this day to me? shall there any man be killed this day in Israel? do not I know that this day I am made king over Israel?

Et ait David quid mihi et vobis filii Sarviae cur efficimini mihi hodie in Satan ergone hodie interficietur vir in

Israhel an ignoro hodie me factum regem super Israhel

19:23. And the king said to Semei: Thou shalt not die. And he swore unto him.

Et ait rex Semei non morieris iuravitque ei

19:24. And Miphiboseth the son of Saul came down to meet the king, and he had neither washed his feet, nor trimmed his beard: nor washed his garments from the day that the king went out, until the day of his return in peace.

Mifiboseth quoque filius Saul descendit in occursum regis in lotis pedibus et intonsa barba vestesque suas non laverat a die qua egressus fuerat rex usque ad diem reversionis eius in pace

19:25. And when he met the king at Jerusalem, the king said to him: Why camest thou not with me, Miphiboseth?

Cumque Hierusalem occurrisset regi dixit ei rex quare non venisti mecum Mifiboseth

19:26. And he answering, said: My lord, O king, my servant despised me: for I thy servant spoke to him to saddle me an ass, that I might get on and go with the king: for I thy servant am lame.

Qui respondens ait domine mi rex servus meus contempsit me dixi ei ego famulus tuus ut sterneret mihi asinum et ascendens abirem cum rege claudus enim sum servus tuus

19:27. Moreover he hath also accused me thy servant to thee, my lord the king: but thou my lord the king art as an angel of God, do what pleaseth thee.

Insuper et accusavit me servum tuum ad te dominum meum regem tu autem domine mi rex sicut angelus Dei fac quod placitum est tibi

19:28. For all of my father's house were no better than worthy of death before my lord the king; and thou hast set me thy servant among the guests of thy table: what just complaint therefore have I? or what right to cry any more to the king?

Neque enim fuit domus patris mei nisi morti obnoxia domino meo regi tu autem posuisti me servum tuum inter convivas mensae tuae quid igitur habeo iustae querellae aut quid possum ultra vociferari ad regem

19:29. Then the king said to him: Why speakest thou any more? what I have said is determined: thou and Siba divide the possessions.

Ait ergo ei rex quid ultra loqueris fixum est quod locutus sum tu et Siba dividite possessiones

19:30. And Miphiboseth answered the king: Yea, let him take all, forasmuch as my lord the king is returned peaceably into his house.

Responditque Mifiboseth regi etiam cuncta accipiat postquam reversus est dominus meus rex pacifice in domum suam

19:31. Berzellai also the Galaadite coming down from Rogelim, brought the king over the Jordan, being ready also to wait on him beyond the river.

Berzellai quoque Galaadites descendens de Rogelim transduxit regem Iordanem paratus etiam ultra fluvium prosequi eum

19:32. Now Berzellai the Galaadite was of a great age, that is to say, fourscore years old, and he provided the king with sustenance when he abode in the camp: for he was a man exceeding rich.

Erat autem Berzellai Galaadites senex valde id est octogenarius et ipse praebuit alimenta regi cum moraretur in Castris fuit quippe vir dives nimis

19:33. And the king said to Berzellai: Come with me that thou mayest rest secure with me in Jerusalem.

Dixit itaque rex ad Berzellai veni mecum ut requiescas secure mecum in Hierusalem

19:34. And Berzellai said to the king: How many are the days of the years of my life, that I should go up with the king to Jerusalem?

Et ait Berzellai ad regem quot sunt dies annorum vitae meae ut ascendam cum rege Hierusalem

19:35. I am this day fourscore years old, are my senses quick to discern sweet and bitter? or can meat or drink delight thy servant? or can I hear any more the voice of singing men and singing women? why should thy servant be a burden to my lord, the king?

Octogenarius sum hodie numquid vigent sensus mei ad discernendum suave aut amarum aut delectare potest servum tuum cibus et potus vel audire ultra possum vocem cantorum atque cantricum quare servus tuus fit oneri domino meo regi

19:36. I thy servant will go on a little way from the Jordan with thee: I need not this recompense.
Paululum procedam famulus tuus ab Iordane tecum nec indigeo hac vicissitudine

19:37. But I beseech thee let thy servant return, and die in my own city, and be buried by the sepulchre of my father, and of my mother. But there is thy servant Chamaam, let him go with thee, my lord, the king, and do to him whatsoever seemeth good to thee.

Sed obsecro ut revertar servus tuus et moriar in civitate mea iuxta sepulchrum patris mei et matris meae est autem servus tuus Chamaam ipse vadat tecum domine mi rex et fac ei quod tibi bonum videtur

19:38. Then the king said to him: Let Chamaam go over with me, and I will do for him whatsoever shall please thee, and all that thou shalt ask of me, thou shalt obtain.

Dixitque rex mecum transeat Chamaam et ego faciam ei quicquid tibi placuerit et omne quod petieris a me inpetrabis

19:39. And when all the people and the king had passed over the Jordan, the king kissed Berzellai, and blessed him: and he returned to his own place.

Cumque transisset universus populus et rex Iordanem osculatus est rex Berzellai et benedixit ei et ille reversus est in locum suum

19:40. So the king went on to Galgal, and Chamaam with him. Now all the people of Juda had brought the king over, and only half of the people of Israel were there.

Transivit ergo rex in Galgalam et Chamaam cum eo omnis autem populus Iuda transduxerat regem et media tantum pars adfuerat de populo Israhel

19:41. Therefore all the men of Israel running together to the king, said to him: Why have our brethren the men of Juda stolen thee away, and have brought the king and his household over the Jordan, and all the men of David with him?

Itaque omnes viri Israhel concurrentes ad regem dixerunt ei quare te furati sunt fratres nostri viri Iuda et transdixerunt regem et domum eius Iordanem omnesque viros David cum eo

19:42. And all the men of Juda answered the men of Israel: Because the king is nearer to me: why art thou angry for this matter? have we eaten any thing of the king's, or have any gifts been given us?

Et respondit omnis vir Iuda ad viros Israhel quia propior mihi est rex cur irasceris super hac re numquid comedimus aliquid ex rege aut munera nobis data sunt

19:43. And the men of Israel answered the men of Juda, and said: I have ten parts in the king more than thou, and David belongeth to me more than to thee: why hast thou done me a wrong, and why was it not told me first, that I might bring back my king? And the men of Juda answered more harshly than the men of Israel.

Et respondit vir Israhel ad viros Iuda et ait decem partibus maior ego sum apud regem magisque ad me pertinet David quam ad te cur mihi fecisti iniuriam et non mihi nuntiatum est priori ut reducerem regem meum durius autem responderunt viri Iuda viris Israhel

Seba's rebellion. Amasa is slain by Joab. Abela is besieged, but upon the citizens casting over the wall the head of Seba, Joab departeth with all his army.

20:1. And there happened to be there a man of Belial, whose name was Seba, the son of Bochri, a man of Jemini: and he sounded the trumpet, and said: We have no part in David, nor inheritance in the son of Isai: return to thy dwellings, O Israel.

Accidit quoque ut ibi esset vir Belial nomine Seba filius Bochri vir iemineus et cecinit bucina et ait non est nobis pars in David neque hereditas in filio Isai vir in tabernacula tua Israhel

20:2. And all Israel departed from David, and followed Seba the son of Bochri: but the men of Juda stuck to their king from the Jordan unto Jerusalem.

Et separatus est omnis Israhel a David secutusque est Seba filium Bochri viri autem Iuda adheserunt regi suo a Iordane usque Hierusalem

20:3. And when the king was come into his house at Jerusalem, he took the ten women his concubines, whom he had left to keep the house, and put them inward, allowing them provisions: and he went not in unto them, but they were shut up unto the day of their death living in widowhood.

Cumque venisset rex in domum suam Hierusalem tulit decem mulieres concubinas quas dereliquerat ad custodiendam domum et tradidit eas in custodiam alimenta eis praebens et non est ingressus ad eas sed erant clausae usque ad diem mortis suae in viduitate viventes

20:4. And the king said to Amasa: Assemble to me all the men of Juda against the third day, and be thou here present.

Dixit autem rex Amasae convoca mihi omnes viros Iuda in diem tertium et tu adesto praesens

20:5. So Amasa went to assemble the men of Juda, but he tarried beyond the set time which the king had appointed him.

Abiit ergo Amasa ut convocaret Iudam et moratus est extra placitum quod ei constituerat

20:6. And David said to Abisai: Now will Seba the son of Bochri do us more harm than did Absalom: take thou therefore the servants of thy lord, and pursue after him, lest he find fenced cities, and escape us.

Ait autem David ad Abisai nunc magis adflicturus est nos Seba filius Bochri quam Absalom tolle igitur servos domini tui et persequere eum ne forte inveniat civitates munitas et effugiat nos

20:7. So Joab's men went out with him, and the Cerethi and the Phelethi: and all the valiant men went out of Jerusalem to pursue after Seba the son of Bochri.

Egressi sunt ergo cum eo viri Ioab Cherethi quoque et Felethi et omnes robusti exierunt de Hierusalem ad persequendum Seba filium Bochri

20:8. And when they were at the great stone which is in Gabaon, Amasa coming met them. And Joab had on a close coat of equal length with his habit, and over it was girded with a sword hanging down to his flank, in a scabbard, made in such manner as to come out with the least motion and strike.

Cumque illi essent iuxta lapidem grandem qui est in Gabaon Amasa veniens occurrit eis porro Ioab vestitus erat tunica stricta ad mensuram habitus sui et desuper accinctus gladio dependente usque ad ilia in vagina qui fabrefactus levi motu egredi poterat et percutere

20:9. And Joab said to Amasa: God save thee, my brother. And he took Amasa by the chin with his right hand to kiss him.

Dixit itaque Ioab ad Amasa salve mi frater et tenuit manu dextra mentum Amasae quasi osculans eum

20:10. But Amasa did not take notice of the sword, which Joab had, and he struck him in the side, and shed out his bowels to the ground, and gave him not a second wound, and he died. And Joab, and Abisai his brother pursued after Seba the son of Bochri.

Porro Amasa non observavit gladium quem habebat loab qui percussit eum in latere et effudit intestina eius in terram nec secundum vulnus adposuit loab autem et Abisai frater eius persecuti sunt Seba filium Bochri

20:11. In the mean time some men of Joab's company stopping at the dead body of Amasa, said: Behold he that would have been in Joab's stead the companion of David.

Interea quidam viri cum stetissent iuxta cadaver Amasae de sociis loab dixerunt ecce qui esse voluit pro loab comes David pro loab

20:12. And Amasa imbrued with blood, lay in the midst of the way. A certain man saw this that all the people stood still to look upon him, so he removed Amasa out of the highway into the field, and covered him with a garment, that they who passed might, not stop on his account.

Amasa autem conspersus sanguine iacebat in media via vidit hoc quidam vir quod subsisteret omnis populus ad videndum eum et amovit Amasam de via in agrum operuitque eum vestimento ne subsisterent transeuntes propter eum

20:13. And when he was removed out of the way, all the people went on following Joab to pursue after Seba the son of Bochri.

Amoto igitur illo de via transiebat omnis vir sequens loab ad persequendum Seba filium Bochri

20:14. Now he had passed through all the tribes of Israel unto Abela and Bethmaacha: and all the chosen men were gathered together unto him.

Porro ille transierat per omnes tribus Israhel in Abelam et in Bethmacha omnesque electi congregati fuerant ad eum

Abela and Bethmaacha... Cities of the tribe of Nephtali.

20:15. And they came, and besieged him in Abela, and in Bethmaacha, and they cast up works round the city, and the city was besieged: and all the people that were with Joab, laboured to throw down the walls.

Venerunt itaque et obpugnabant eum in Abela et in Bethmacha et circumdederunt munitionibus civitatem et obsessa est urbs omnis autem turba quae erat cum loab moliebatur destruere muros

20:16. And a wise woman cried out from the city: Hear, hear, and say to Joab: Come near hither, and I will speak with thee.

Et exclamavit mulier sapiens de civitate audite audite dicite loab adpropinqua huc et loquar tecum

20:17. And when he was come near to her, she said to him: Art thou Joab? And he answered: I am. And she spoke thus to him: Hear the words of thy handmaid. He answered: I do hear.

Qui cum accessisset ad eam ait illi tu es loab et ille respondit ego ad quem sic locuta est audi sermones ancillae tuae qui respondit audio

20:18. And she again said: A saying was used in the old proverb: They that inquire, let them inquire in Abela: and so they made an end.

Rursumque illa sermo inquit dicebatur in veteri proverbio qui interrogant interrogent in Abela et sic perficiebant

20:19. Am not I she that answer truth in Israel, and thou seekest to destroy the city, and to overthrow a mother in Israel? Why wilt thou throw down the inheritance of the Lord?

Nonne ego sum quae respondeo veritatem Israhel et tu quaeris subruere civitatem et evertere matrem in Israhel quare praecipitas hereditatem Domini

20:20. And Joab answering said: God forbid, God forbid that I should, I do not throw down, nor destroy.

Respondensque loab ait absit absit hoc a me non praecipito neque demolior

20:21. The matter is not so, but a man of mount Ephraim, Seba the son of Bochri by name, hath lifted up his hand against king David: deliver him only, and we will depart from the city. And the woman said to Joab: Behold his head shall be thrown to thee from the wall.

Non se sic habet res sed homo de monte Ephraim Seba filius Bochri cognomine levavit manum contra regem David tradite illum solum et recedemus a civitate et ait mulier ad loab ecce caput eius mittetur ad te per murum

20:22. So she went to all the people, and spoke to them wisely: and they cut off the head of Seba the son of Bochri, and cast it out to Joab. And he sounded the trumpet, and they departed from the city, every one to their home: and Joab returned to Jerusalem to the king.

Ingressa est ergo ad omnem populum et locuta est eis sapienter qui abscisum caput Seba filii Bochri proiecero ad Ioab et ille cecinit tuba et recesserunt ab urbe unusquisque in tabernacula sua Ioab autem reversus est Hierusalem ad regem

20:23. So Joab was over all the army of Israel: and Banaias the son of Joiada was over the Cerethites and Phelethites,

Fuit ergo Ioab super omnem exercitum Israhel Banaias autem filius Ioiadae super Cheretheos et Feletheos

20:24. But Aduram over the tributes: and Josaphat the son of Ahilud was recorder.

Aduram vero super tributa porro Iosaphat filius Ahilud a commentariis

20:25. And Siva was scribe: and Sadoc and Abiathar, priests.

Sia autem scriba Sadoc vero et Abiathar sacerdotes

20:26. And Ira the Jairite was the priest of David.

Hira autem Hiaiarites erat sacerdos David

2 Samuel Chapter 21

A famine of three years, for the sin of Saul against the Gabaonites, at whose desire seven of Saul's race are crucified. War again with the Philistines.

21:1. And there was a famine in the days of David for three years successively: and David consulted the oracle of the Lord. And the Lord said: It is for Saul, and his bloody house, because he slew the Gabaonites. Facta est quoque fames in diebus David tribus annis iugiter et consuluit David oraculum Domini dixitque Dominus propter Saul et domum eius et sanguinem quia occidit Gabaonitas

21:2. Then the king, calling for the Gabaonites, said to them: (Now the Gabaonites were not of the children of Israel, but the remains of the Amorrhites: and the children of Israel had sworn to them, and Saul sought to slay them out of zeal, as it were for the children of Israel and Juda:)

Vocatis ergo Gabaonitis rex dixit ad eos porro Gabaonitae non sunt de filiis Israhel sed reliquiae Amorreorum filii quippe Israhel iuraverant eis et voluit Saul percutere eos zelo quasi pro filiis Israhel et Iuda

21:3. David therefore said to the Gabaonites: What shall I do for you? and what shall be the atonement or you, that you may bless the inheritance of the Lord?

Dixit ergo David ad Gabaonitas quid faciam vobis et quod erit vestri piaculum ut benedicatis hereditati Domini

21:4. And the Gabaonites said to him: We have no contest about silver and gold, but against Saul and against his house: neither do we desire that any man be slain of Israel. And the king said to them: What will you then that I should do for you?

Dixeruntque ei Gabaonitae non est nobis super argento et auro quaestio contra Saul et contra domum eius neque volumus ut interficiatur homo de Israhel ad quos ait quid ergo vultis ut faciam vobis

21:5. And they said to the king: The man that crushed us and oppressed us unjustly, we must destroy in such manner that there be not so much as one left of his stock in all the coasts of Israel.

Qui dixerunt regi virum qui adtrivit nos et oppressit inique ita delere debemus ut ne unus quidem residuus sit de stirpe eius in cunctis finibus Israhel

21:6. Let seven men of his children be delivered unto us, that we may crucify them to the Lord in Gabaath of Saul, once the chosen of the Lord. And the king said: I will give them.

Dentur nobis septem viri de filiis eius et crucifigamus eos Domino in Gabaath Saul quondam electi Domini et ait rex ego dabo

21:7. And the king spared Miphiboseth the son of Jonathan the son of Saul, because of the oath of the Lord, that had been between David and Jonathan the son of Saul.

Pepercitque rex Mifiboseth filio Ionathan filii Saul propter iusiurandum Domini quod fuerat inter David et inter Ionathan filium Saul

21:8. So the king took the two sons of Respha the daughter of Aia, whom she bore to Saul, Armoni, and Miphiboseth: and the five sons of Michol the daughter of Saul, whom she bore to Hadriel the son of Berzellai, that was of Molathi:

Tulit itaque rex duos filios Respha filiae Ahia quos peperit Saul Armoni et Mifiboseth et quinque filios Michol filiae Saul quos genuerat Hadriheli filio Berzellai qui fuit de Molathi

Of Michol... They were the sons of Merob, who was married to Hadriel: but they are here called the sons of Michol, because she adopted them, and brought them up as her own.

21:9. And gave them into the hands of the Gabaonites: and they crucified them on a hill before the Lord: and these seven died together in the first days of the harvest, when the barley began to be reaped.

Et dedit eos in manu Gabaonitarum qui crucifixerunt illos in monte coram Domino et ceciderunt hii septem simul occisi in diebus messis primis incipiente messione hordei

21:10. And Respha the daughter of Aia took haircloth, and spread it under her upon the rock from the beginning of the harvest, till water dropped upon them out of heaven: and suffered neither the birds to tear them by day, nor the beasts by night.

Tollens autem Respha filia Ahia cilicium substravit sibi super petram ab initio messis donec stillaret aqua super eos de caelo et non dimisit aves lacerare eos per diem neque bestias per noctem

21:11. And it was told David, what Respha the daughter of Aia, the concubine of Saul, had done.

Et nuntiata sunt David quae fecerat Respha filia Ahia concubina Saul

21:12. And David went, and took the bones of Saul, and the bones of Jonathan his son from the men of Jabes Galaad, who had stolen them from the street of Bethsan, where the Philistines had hanged them when they had slain Saul in Gelboe.

Et abiit David et tulit ossa Saul et ossa Ionathan filii eius a viris Iabesgalaad qui furati fuerant ea de platea Bethsan in qua suspenderant eos Philisthim cum interfecissent Saul in Gelboe

21:13. And he brought from thence the bones of Saul, and the bones of Jonathan his son, and they gathered up the bones of them that were crucified,

Et asportavit inde ossa Saul et ossa Ionathan filii eius et colligentes ossa eorum qui adfixi fuerant

21:14. And they buried them with the bones of Saul, and of Jonathan his son in the land of Benjamin, in the side, in the sepulchre of Cis his father: and they did all that the king had commanded, and God showed mercy again to the land after these things.

Sepelierunt ea cum ossibus Saul et Ionathan filii eius in terra Benjamin in latere in sepulchro Cis patris eius feceruntque omnia quae praeceperat rex et repropitiatus est Deus terrae post haec

21:15. And the Philistines made war again against Israel, and David went down, and his servants with him, and fought against the Philistines. And David growing faint,

Factum est autem rursum proelium Philisthinorum adversum Israhel et descendit David et servi eius cum eo et pugnabant contra Philisthim deficiente autem David

21:16. Jesbibenob, who was of the race of Arapha, the iron of whose spear weighed three hundred ounces, being girded with a new sword, attempted to kill David.

Iesbidenob qui fuit de genere Arafa cuius ferrum hastae trecentas uncias adpendebat et accinctus erat ense novo nisus est percutere David

21:17. And Abisai the son of Sarvia rescued him, and striking the Philistine killed him. Then David's men swore unto him saying: Thou shalt go no more out with us to battle, lest thou put out the lamp of Israel.

Praesidioque ei fuit Abisai filius Sarviae et percussum Philisthem interfecit tunc iuraverunt viri David dicentes non egredieris nobiscum in bellum ne extinguas lucernam Israhel

21:18. There was also a second battle in Gob against the Philistines: then Sobochai of Husathi slew Saph of the race of Arapha of the family of the giants.

Secundum quoque fuit bellum in Gob contra Philistheos tunc percussit Sobbochai de Usathi Saph de stirpe Arafa

21:19. And there was a third battle in Gob against the Philistines, in which Adeodatus the son of the Forrest an embroiderer of Bethlehem slew Goliath the Gethite, the shaft of whose spear was like a weaver's beam.

Tertium quoque fuit bellum in Gob contra Philistheos in quo percussit Adeodatus filius Saltus polymitarius bethleemites Goliath Getthem cuius hastile hastae erat quasi liciatorium textentium

Adeodatus the son of the Forrest... So it is rendered in the Latin Vulgate, by giving the interpretation of the Hebrew names, which are Elhanan the son of Jaare.

21:20. A fourth battle was in Geth: where there was a man of great stature, that had six fingers on each hand, and six toes on each foot, four and twenty in all, and he was of the race of Arapha.

Quartum bellum fuit in Geth in quo vir excelsus qui senos in manibus pedibusque habebat digitos id est viginti et quattuor et erat de origine Arafa

21:21. And he reproached Israel: and Jonathan the son of Samae the brother of David slew him.

Blasphemavit Israhel percussit autem eum Ionathan filius Sammaa fratris David

21:22. These four were born of Arapha in Geth, and they fell by the hand of David, and of his servants.
Hii quattuor nati sunt de Arafa in Geth et ceciderunt in manu David et servorum eius

2 Samuel Chapter 22

King David's psalm of thanksgiving for his deliverance from all his enemies.

---

22:1. And David spoke to the Lord the words of this canticle, in the day that the Lord delivered him out of the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul,

Locutus est autem David Domino verba carminis huius in die qua liberavit eum Dominus de manu omnium inimicorum suorum et de manu Saul

22:2. And he said: The Lord is my rock, and my strength, and my saviour.

Et ait Dominus petra mea et robur meum et salvator meus

22:3. God is my strong one, in him will I trust: my shield, and the horn of my salvation: he lifteth me up, and is my refuge: my saviour, thou wilt deliver me from iniquity.

Deus meus fortis meus sperabo in eum scutum meum et cornu salutis meae elevator meus et refugium meum salvator meus de iniquitate liberabis me

22:4. I will call on the Lord who is worthy to be praised: and I shall be saved from my enemies.

Laudabilem invocabo Dominum et ab inimicis meis salvus ero

22:5. For the pangs of death have surrounded me: the floods of Belial have made me afraid.

Quia circumdederunt me contritiones mortis torrentes Belial terruerunt me

22:6. The cords of hell compassed me: the snares of death prevented me.

Funes inferi circumdederunt me praevenierunt me laquei mortis

22:7. In my distress I will call upon the Lord, and I will cry to my God: and he will hear my voice out of his temple, and my cry shall come to his ears.

In tribulatione mea invocabo Dominum et ad Deum meum clamabo et exaudiet de templo suo vocem meam et clamor meus veniet ad aures eius

22:8. The earth shook and trembled, the foundations of the mountains were moved, and shaken, because he was angry with them.

Commota est et contremuit terra fundamenta montium concussa sunt et conquassata quoniam iratus est

22:9. A smoke went up from his nostrils, and a devouring fire out of his mouth: coals were kindled by it.

Ascendit fumus de naribus eius et ignis de ore eius voravit carbones incensi sunt ab eo

22:10. He bowed the heavens, and came down: and darkness was under his feet.

Et inclinavit caelos et descendit et caligo sub pedibus eius

22:11. And he rode upon the cherubims, and flew: and slid upon the wings of the wind.

Et ascendit super cherubin et volavit et lapsus est super pinnas venti

22:12. He made darkness a covering round about him: dropping waters out of the clouds of the heavens.

Posuit tenebras in circuitu suo latibulum cribrans aquas de nubibus caelorum

22:13. By the brightness before him, the coals of fire were kindled.

Prae fulgore in conspectu eius succensi sunt carbones ignis

22:14. The Lord shall thunder from heaven: and the most high shall give forth his voice.

Tonabit de caelis Dominus et Excelsus dabit vocem suam

22:15. He shot arrows and scattered them: lightning, and consumed them.

Misit sagittas et dissipavit eos fulgur et consumpsit eos

22:16. And the overflowings of the sea appeared, and the foundations of the world were laid open at the rebuke of the Lord, at the blast of the spirit of his wrath.

Et apparuerunt effusiones maris et revelata sunt fundamenta orbis ab increpatione Domini ab inspiratione spiritus furoris eius

22:17. He sent from on high, and took me, and drew me out of many waters.

Misit de excelso et adsumpsit me extraxit me de aquis multis

22:18. He delivered me from my most mighty enemy, and from them that hated me: for they were too strong for me.

Liberavit me ab inimico meo potentissimo ab his qui oderant me quoniam robustiores me erant

22:19. He prevented me in the day of my affliction, and the Lord became my stay.

Praevenit me in die adflictionis meae et factus est Dominus firmamentum meum

22:20. And he brought me forth into a large place, he delivered me, because I pleased him.

Et eduxit me in latitudinem liberavit me quia placuit ei

22:21. The Lord will reward me according to my justice: and according to the cleanness of my hands he will render to me.

Retribuet mihi Dominus secundum iustitiam meam et secundum munditiam manuum mearum reddet mihi

22:22. Because I have kept the ways of the Lord, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

Quia custodivi vias Domini et non egi impie a Deo meo

22:23. For all his judgments are in my sight: and his precepts I have not removed from me.

Omnia enim iudicia eius in conspectu meo et praecepta eius non amovi a me

22:24. And I shall be perfect with him: and shall keep myself from my iniquity.

Et ero perfectus cum eo et custodiam me ab iniquitate mea

22:25. And the Lord will recompense me according to my justice: and according to the cleanness of my hands in the sight of his eyes.

Et restituet Dominus mihi secundum iustitiam meam et secundum munditiam manuum mearum in conspectu oculorum suorum

22:26. With the holy one thou wilt be holy: and with the valiant perfect.

Cum sancto sanctus eris et cum robusto perfectus

22:27. With the elect thou wilt be elect: and with the perverse thou wilt be perverted.

Cum electo electus eris et cum perverso perverteris

22:28. And the poor people thou wilt save: and with thy eyes thou shalt humble the haughty.

Et populum pauperem salvum facies oculisque tuis excelsos humiliabis

22:29. For thou art my lamp O Lord: and thou, O Lord, wilt enlighten my darkness.

Quia tu lucerna mea Domine et Domine inluminabis tenebras meas

22:30. For in thee I will run girded: in my God I will leap over the wall.

In te enim curram accinctus in Deo meo transiliam murum

22:31. God, his way is immaculate, the word of the Lord is tried by fire: he is the shield of all that trust in him.

Deus immaculata via eius eloquium Domini igne examinatum scutum est omnium sperantium in se

22:32. Who is God but the Lord: and who is strong but our God?

Quis est deus praeter Dominum et quis fortis praeter Deum nostrum

22:33. God who hath girded me with strength, and made my way perfect.

Deus qui accingit me fortitudine et conplanavit perfectam viam meam

22:34. Making my feet like the feet of harts, and setting me upon my high places.

Coequans pedes meos cervis et super excelsa mea statuens me

22:35. He teacheth my hands to war: and maketh my arms like a bow of brass.
Docens manus meas ad proelium et componens quasi arcum aereum brachia mea

22:36. Thou hast given me the shield of my salvation: and thy mildness hath multiplied me.
Dedisti mihi clypeum salutis tuae et mansuetudo mea multiplicavit me

22:37. Thou shalt enlarge my steps under me: and my ankles shall not fail.
Dilatabis gressus meos subtus me et non deficient tali mei

22:38. I will pursue after my enemies, and crush them: and will not return again till I consume them.
Persequar inimicos meos et conteram et non revertar donec consumam eos

22:39. I will consume them and break them in pieces, so that they shall not rise: they shall fall under my feet.
Consumam eos et confringam ut non consurgant cadent sub pedibus meis

22:40. Thou hast girded me with strength to battle: thou hast made them that resisted me to bow under me.
Accinxisti me fortitudine ad proelium incurvabis resistentes mihi sub me

22:41. My enemies thou hast made to turn their back to me: them that hated me, and I shall destroy them.
Inimicos meos dedisti mihi dorsum odientes me et disperdam eos

22:42. They shall cry, and there shall be none to save: to the Lord, and he shall not hear them.
Clamabunt et non erit qui salvet ad Dominum et non exaudiet eos

22:43. I shall beat them as small as the dust of the earth: I shall crush them and spread them abroad like the mire of the streets.
Delebo eos ut pulverem terrae quasi lutum platearum comminam eos atque conpingam

22:44. Thou wilt save me from the contradictions of my people: thou wilt keep me to be the head of the Gentiles: the people which I know not, shall serve me,
Salvabis me a contradictionibus populi mei custodies in caput gentium populus quem ignoro serviet mihi

22:45. The sons of the stranger will resist me, at the hearing of the ear they will obey me.
Fili alieni resistent mihi auditu auris oboedient mihi

22:46. The strangers are melted away, and shall be straitened in their distresses.
Fili alieni defluerunt et contrahentur in angustiis suis

22:47. The Lord liveth, and my God is blessed: and the strong God of my salvation shall be exalted:
Vivit Dominus et benedictus Deus meus et exaltabitur Deus fortis salutis meae

22:48. God who giveth me revenge, and bringest down people under me,
Deus qui das vindictas mihi et deicis populos sub me

22:49. Who bringest me forth from my enemies, and liftest me up from them that resist me: from the wicked man thou shalt deliver me.
Qui educis me ab inimicis meis et a resistentibus mihi elevas me a viro iniquo liberabis me

22:50. Therefore will I give thanks to thee, O Lord, among the Gentiles, and will sing to thy name.
Propterea confitebor tibi Domine in gentibus et nomini tuo cantabo

22:51. Giving great salvation to his king, and showing mercy to David his anointed, and to his seed for ever.
Magnificanti salutes regis sui et facienti misericordiam christo suo David et semini eius in sempiternum

2 Samuel Chapter 23

The last words of David. A catalogue of his valiant men.

23:1. Now these are David's last words. David the son of Isai said: The man to whom it was appointed concerning the Christ of the God of Jacob, the excellent psalmist of Israel said:

Haec autem sunt verba novissima quae dixit David filius Isai dixit vir cui constitutum est de christo Dei Iacob egregius psalta Israhel

23:2. The spirit of the Lord hath spoken by me and his word by my tongue.

Spiritus Domini locutus est per me et sermo eius per linguam meam

23:3. The God of Israel said to me, the strong one of Israel spoke, the ruler of men, the just ruler in the fear of God.

Dixit Deus Israhel mihi locutus est Fortis Israhel dominator hominum iustus dominator in timore Dei

23:4. As the light of the morning, when the sun riseth, shineth in the morning without clouds, and as the grass springeth out of the earth by rain.

Sicut lux aurorae oriente sole mane absque nubibus rutilat et sicut pluviis germinat herba de terra

As the light, etc... So shall be the kingdom of Christ.

23:5. Neither is my house so great with God, that he should make with me an eternal covenant, firm in all things and assured. For he is all my salvation, and all my will: neither is there ought thereof that springeth not up.

Nec tanta est domus mea apud Deum ut pactum aeternum iniret mecum firmum in omnibus atque munitum cuncta enim salus mea et omnis voluntas nec est quicquam ex ea quod non germinet

Neither is my house, etc... As if he should say: This everlasting covenant was not due to my house: but purely owing to his bounty; who is all my salvation, and my will: that is, who hath always saved me, and granted me what I beseeched of him; so that I and my house, through his blessing, have sprung up, and succeeded in all things.

23:6. But transgressors shall all of them be plucked up as thorns: which are not taken away with hands.

Praevaricatores autem quasi spinae evellentur universi quae non tolluntur manibus

23:7. And if a man will touch them, he must be armed with iron and with the staff of a lance: but they shall be set on fire and burnt to nothing.

Et si quis tangere voluerit eas armabitur ferro et ligno lanceato igneque succensae conburentur usque ad nihilum

23:8. These are the names of the valiant men of David: Jesbaham sitting in the chair was the wisest chief among the three, he was like the most tender little worm of the wood, who killed eight hundred men at one onset.

Haec nomina fortium David Sedens in cathedra sapientissimus princeps inter tres ipse est quasi tenerrimus ligni vermiculus qui octingentos interfecit impetu uno

Jesbaham... The son of Hachamoni. For this was the name of this hero, as appears from 1 Chronicles 11. -- Ibid. Most tender, etc... He appeared like one tender and weak, but was indeed most valiant and strong. It seems the Latin has here given the interpretation of the Hebrew name of the hero, to whom Jesbaham was like, instead of the name itself, which was Adino the Eznite, one much renowned of old for his valour.

23:9. After him was Eleazar the son of Dodo the Ahohite, one of the three valiant men that were with David when they defied the Philistines, and they were there gathered together to battle.

Post hunc Eleazar filius patris eius Ahoi inter tres fortes qui erant cum David quando exprobraverunt Philisthim et congregati sunt illuc in proelium

Dodo... In Latin, Patris ejus, which is the interpretation of the Hebrew name Dodo. The same occurs in verse 24.

23:10. And when the men of Israel were gone away, he stood and smote the Philistines till his hand was weary, and grew stiff with the sword: and the Lord wrought a great victory that day: and the people that were fled away, returned to take spoils of them that were slain.

Cumque ascendissent viri Israhel ipse stetit et percussit Philistheos donec deficeret manus eius et obrigesceret cum gladio fecitque Dominus salutem magnam in die illa et populus qui fugerat reversus est ad caesorum spolia detrahenda

23:11. And after him was Semma the son of Age of Arari. And the Philistines were gathered together in a troop: for there was a field full of lentils. And when the people were fled from the face of the Philistines, Et post hunc Semma filius Age de Arari et congregati sunt Philisthim in statione erat quippe ibi ager plenus lente cumque fugisset populus a facie Philisthim

23:12. He stood in the midst of the field, and defended it, and defeated the Philistines: and the Lord gave a great victory.

Stetit ille in medio agri et tuitus est eum percussitque Philistheos et fecit Dominus salutem magnam

23:13. Moreover also before this the three who were princes among the thirty, went down and came to David in the harvest time into the cave of Odollam: and the camp of the Philistines was in the valley of the giants.

Necnon ante descenderant tres qui erant principes inter triginta et venerant tempore messis ad David in speluncam Odollam castra autem Philisthim erant posita in valle Gigantum

23:14. And David was then in a hold: and there was a garrison of the Philistines then in Bethlehem.

Et David erat in praesidio porro statio Philisthinorum tunc erat in Bethleem

23:15. And David longed, and said: O that some man would get me a drink of the water out of the cistern, that is in Bethlehem, by the gate.

Desideravit igitur David et ait si quis mihi daret potum aquae de cisterna quae est in Bethleem iuxta portam

23:16. And the three valiant men broke through the camp of the Philistines, and drew water out of the cistern of Bethlehem, that was by the gate, and brought it to David: but he would not drink, but offered it to the Lord,

Inruperunt ergo tres fortes castra Philisthinorum et hauserunt aquam de cisterna Bethleem quae erat iuxta portam et adtulerunt ad David at ille noluit bibere sed libavit illam Domino

23:17. Saying: The Lord be merciful to me, that I may not do this: shall I drink the blood of these men that went, and the peril of their lives? therefore he would not drink. These things did these three mighty men.

Dicens propitius mihi sit Dominus ne faciam hoc num sanguinem hominum istorum qui profecti sunt et animarum periculum bibam noluit ergo bibere haec fecerunt tres robustissimi

23:18. Abisai also the brother of Joab, the son of Sarvia, was chief among three: and he lifted up his spear against three hundred whom he slew, and he was renowned among the three,

Abisai quoque frater Ioab filius Sarviae princeps erat de tribus ipse est qui elevavit hastam suam contra trecentos quos interfecit nominatus in tribus

23:19. And the noblest of three, and was their chief, but to the three first he attained not.

Et inter tres nobilior eratque eorum princeps sed usque ad tres primos non pervenerat

23:20. And Banaias the son of Joiada a most valiant man, of great deeds, of Cabseel: he slew the two lions of Moab, and he went down, and slew a lion in the midst of a pit, in the time of snow.

Et Banaias filius Ioiada viri fortissimi magnorum operum de Capsehel ipse percussit duos leones Moab et ipse descendit et percussit leonem in media cisterna diebus nivis

23:21. He also slew an Egyptian, a man worthy to be a sight, having a spear in his hand: but he went down to him with a rod, and forced the spear out of the hand of the Egyptian, and slew him with his own spear.

Ipse quoque interfecit virum aegyptium virum dignum spectaculo habentem in manu hastam itaque cum descendisset ad eum in virga vi extorsit hastam de manu Aegyptii et interfecit eum hasta sua

23:22. These things did Banaias the son of Joiada.

Haec fecit Banaias filius Ioiadae

23:23. And he was renowned among the three valiant men, who were the most honourable among the thirty: but he attained not to the first three: and David made him of his privy council.

Et ipse nominatus inter tres robustos qui erant inter triginta nobiliores verumtamen usque ad tres non pervenerat fecitque eum David sibi auricularium a secreto

23:24. Asael the brother of Joab was one of the thirty, Elehanan the son of Dodo of Bethlehem.
Asahel frater Ioab inter triginta Elehanan filius patris eius de Bethleem

23:25. Semma of Harodi, Elica of Harodi,
Semma de Arari Helica de Arodi

23:26. Heles of Phalti, Hira the son of Acces of Thecua, Helas de Felthi Hira filius Aces de Thecua

2 Samuel Chapter 24

David numbereth the people: God sendeth a pestilence, which is stopt by David's prayer and sacrifice.

24:1. And the anger of the Lord was again kindled against Israel, and stirred up David among them, saying: Go, number Israel and Juda.

Et addidit furor Domini irasci contra Israhel commovitque David in eis dicentem vade numera Israhel et Iudam

Stirred up, etc... This stirring up was not the doing of God, but of Satan; as it is expressly declared, 1 Chronicles 21: 1.

24:2. And the king said to Joab the general of his army: Go through all the tribes of Israel from Dan to Bersabee, and number ye the people that I may know the number of them.

Dixitque rex ad loab principem exercitus sui perambula omnes tribus Israhel a Dan usque Bersabee et numerate populum ut sciam numerum eius

24:3. And Joab said to the king: The Lord thy God increase thy people, and make them as many more as they are now, and again multiply them a hundredfold in the sight of my lord the king: but what meaneth my lord the king by this kind of thing?

Dixitque loab regi adaugeat Dominus Deus tuus ad populum quantus nunc est iterumque centuplicet in conspectu domini mei regis sed quid sibi dominus meus rex vult in re huiuscemodi

24:4. But the king's words prevailed over the words of Joab, and of the captains of the army: and Joab, and the captains of the soldiers went out from the presence of the king, to number the people of Israel.

Obtinuit autem sermo regis verba loab et principum exercitus egressusque est loab et principes militum a facie regis ut numerarent populum Israhel

24:5. And when they had passed the Jordan, they came to Aroer to the right side of the city, which is in the vale of Gad.

Cumque pertransissent Iordanem venerunt in Aroer ad dextram urbis quae est in valle Gad

24:6. And by Jazer they passed into Galaad, and to the lower land of Hodsi, and they came into the woodlands of Dan. And going about by Sidon,

Et per Iazer transierunt in Galaad et in terram inferiorem Hodsi et venerunt in Dan silvestria circumeuntesque iuxta Sidonem

24:7. They passed near the walls of Tyre, and all the land of the Hevite, and the Chanaanite, and they came to the south of Juda into Bersabee:

Transierunt propter moenia Tyri et omnem terram Hevei et Chananei veneruntque ad meridiem Iuda in Bersabee

24:8. And having gone through the whole land, after nine months and twenty days, they came to Jerusalem.

Et lustrata universa terra adfuerunt post novem menses et viginti dies in Hierusalem

24:9. And Joab gave up the sum of the number of the people to the king, and there were found of Israel eight hundred thousand valiant men that drew the sword: and of Juda five hundred thousand fighting men.

Dedit ergo loab numerum descriptionis populi regi et inventa sunt de Israhel octingenta milia virorum fortium qui educerent gladium et de Iuda quingenta milia pugnatorum

24:10. But David's heart struck him, after the people were numbered: and David said to the Lord: I have sinned very much in what I have done: but I pray thee, O Lord, to take away the iniquity of thy servant, because I have done exceeding foolishly.

Percussit autem cor David eum postquam numeratus est populus et dixit David ad Dominum peccavi valde in hoc facto sed precor Domine ut transferas iniquitatem servi tui quia stulte egimus

David's heart struck him, after the people were numbered... That is he was touched with a great remorse for the vanity and pride which had put him upon numbering the people.

24:11. And David arose in the morning, and the word of the Lord came to Gad the prophet and the seer of David, saying:

Surrexit itaque David mane et sermo Domini factus est ad Gad propheten et videntem David dicens

24:12. Go, and say to David: Thus saith the Lord: I give thee thy choice of three things, choose one of them which thou wilt, that I may do it to thee.

Vade et loquere ad David haec dicit Dominus trium tibi datur optio elige unum quod volueris ex his ut faciam tibi

24:13. And when Gad was come to David, he told him, saying: Either seven years of famine shall come to thee in thy land: or thou shalt flee three months before thy adversaries, and they shall pursue thee: or for three days there shall be a pestilence in thy land. Now therefore deliberate, and see what answer I shall return to him that sent me.

Cumque venisset Gad ad David nuntiavit ei dicens aut septem annis veniet tibi fames in terra tua aut tribus mensibus fugies adversarios tuos et illi persequentur aut certe tribus diebus erit pestilentia in terra tua nunc ergo delibera et vide quem respondeam ei qui me misit sermonem

24:14. And David said to Gad: I am in a great strait: but it is better that I should fall into the hands of the Lord (for his mercies are many) than into the hands of men.

Dixit autem David ad Gad artor nimis sed melius est ut incidam in manu Domini multae enim misericordiae eius sunt quam in manu hominis

24:15. And the Lord sent a pestilence upon Israel, from the morning unto the time appointed, and there died of the people from Dan to Bersabee seventy thousand men.

Inmisitque Dominus pestilentiam in Israhel de mane usque ad tempus constitutum et mortui sunt ex populo a Dan usque Bersabee septuaginta milia virorum

24:16. And when the angel of the Lord had stretched out his hand over Jerusalem to destroy it, the Lord had pity on the affliction, and said to the angel that slew the people: It is enough: now hold thy hand. And the angel of the Lord was by the thrashingfloor of Areuna the Jebusite.

Cumque extendisset manum angelus Dei super Hierusalem ut disperderet eam misertus est Dominus super adflictione et ait angelo percutienti populum sufficit nunc contine manum tuam erat autem angelus Domini iuxta aream Areuna Iebusei

24:17. And David said to the Lord, when he saw the angel striking the people: It is I; I am he that have sinned, I have done wickedly: these that are the sheep, what have they done? let thy hand, I beseech thee, be turned against me, and against my father's house.

Dixitque David ad Dominum cum vidisset angelum caedentem populum ego sum qui peccavi ego inique egi isti qui oves sunt quid fecerunt vertatur obsecro manus tua contra me et contra domum patris mei

24:18. And Gad came to David that day, and said: Go up, and build an altar to the Lord in the thrashingfloor of Areuna the Jebusite.

Venit autem Gad ad David in die illa et dixit ei ascende constitue Domino altare in area Areuna Iebusei

24:19. And David went up according to the word of Gad which the Lord had commanded him.

Et ascendit David iuxta sermonem Gad quem praeceperat ei Dominus

24:20. And Areuna looked, and saw the king and his servants coming towards him:

Conspiciensque Areuna animadvertit regem et servos eius transire ad se

24:21. And going out he worshipped the king, bowing with his face to the earth, and said: Wherefore is my lord the king come to his servant? And David said to him: To buy the thrashingfloor of thee, and build an altar to the Lord, that the plague, which rageth among the people, may cease.

Et egressus adoravit regem prono vultu in terra et ait quid causae est ut veniat dominus meus rex ad servum suum cui David ait ut emam a te aream et aedificem altare Domino et cesset interfectio quae grassatur in populo

24:22. And Areuna said to David: Let my lord the king take, and offer, as it seemeth good to him: thou hast here oxen for a holocaust, and the wain, and the yokes of the oxen for wood.

Et ait Areuna ad David accipiat et offerat dominus meus rex sicut ei placet habes boves in holocaustum et plaustrum et iuga boum in usum lignorum

24:23. All these things Areuna as a king gave to the king: and Areuna said to the king: The Lord thy God receive thy vow.

Omnia dedit Areuna rex regi dixitque Areuna ad regem Dominus Deus tuus suscipiat votum tuum

24:24. And the king answered him, and said: Nay, but I will buy it of thee, at a price, and I will not offer to the Lord my God holocausts free cost. So David bought the floor, and the oxen, for fifty sicles of silver:

Cui respondens rex ait nequaquam ut vis sed emam pretio a te et non offeram Domino Deo meo holocausta gratuita emit ergo David aream et boves argenti siclis quinquaginta

24:25. And David built there an altar to the Lord, and offered holocausts and peace offerings: and the Lord became merciful to the land, and the plague was stayed from Israel.

Et aedificavit ibi David altare Domino et obtulit holocausta et pacifica et repropitiatus est Dominus terrae et cohibita est plaga ab Israhel

2 Thessalonians

The Second Epistle of St. Paul to the Thessalonians

In this Epistle St. Paul admonishes the Thessalonians to be constant in the faith of Christ and not to be terrified by the insinuations of false teachers telling them that the day of judgment was near at hand, as there must come many signs and wonders before it. He bids them to hold firm the traditions received from him, whether by word, or by epistle, and shows them how they may be certain of his letters by the manner he writes. (For more information, see the article EPISTLES TO THE THESSALONIANS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

2 Thessalonians Chapter 1. He gives thanks to God for their faith and constancy and prays for their advancement in all good.

2 Thessalonians Chapter 2. The day of the Lord is not to come till the man of sin be revealed. The apostle's traditions are to be observed.

2 Thessalonians Chapter 3. He begs their prayers and warns them against idleness.

2 Thessalonians Chapter 1

He gives thanks to God for their faith and constancy and prays for their advancement in all good.

1:1. Paul and Sylvanus and Timothy, to the church of the Thessalonians. In God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ,

Paulus et Silvanus et Timotheus ecclesiae Thessalonicensium in Deo Patre nostro et Domino Iesu Christo

1:2. Grace unto you: and peace from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

Gratia vobis et pax a Deo Patre nostro et Domino Iesu Christo

1:3. We are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren, as it is fitting, because your faith groweth exceedingly and the charity of every one of you towards each other aboundeth.

Gratias agere debemus Deo semper pro vobis fratres ita ut dignum est quoniam supercrescit fides vestra et abundat caritas uniuscuiusque omnium vestrum in invicem

1:4. So that we ourselves also glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience and faith, and in all your persecutions and tribulations: which you endure

Ita ut et nos ipsi in vobis gloriemur in ecclesiis Dei pro patientia vestra et fide in omnibus persecutionibus vestris et tribulationibus quas sustinetis

1:5. For an example of the just judgment of God, that you may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which also you suffer.

In exemplum iusti iudicii Dei ut digni habeamini regno Dei pro quo et patimini

1:6. Seeing it is a just thing with God to repay tribulation to them that trouble you:

Si tamen iustum est apud Deum retribuere tribulationem his qui vos tribulant

1:7. And to you who are troubled, rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with the angels of his power:

Et vobis qui tribulamini requiem nobiscum in revelatione Domini Iesu de caelo cum angelis virtutis eius

1:8. In a flame of fire, giving vengeance to them who know not God and who obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

In flamma ignis dantis vindictam his qui non noverunt Deum et qui non oboediunt evangelio Domini nostri Iesu

1:9. Who shall suffer eternal punishment in destruction, from the face of the Lord and from the glory of his power:

Qui poenas dabunt in interitu aeternas a facie Domini et a gloria virtutis eius

1:10. When he shall come to be glorified in his saints and to be made wonderful in all them who have believed; because our testimony was believed upon you in that day.

Cum venerit glorificari in sanctis suis et admirabilis fieri in omnibus qui crediderunt quia creditum est testimonium nostrum super vos in die illo

1:11. Wherefore also we pray always for you: That our God would make you worthy of his vocation and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness and the work of faith in power:

In quo etiam oramus semper pro vobis ut dignetur vos vocatione sua Deus et impleat omnem voluntatem bonitatis et opus fidei in virtute

1:12. That the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and you in him, according to the grace of our God and of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Ut clarificetur nomen Domini nostri Iesu Christi in vobis et vos in illo secundum gratiam Dei nostri et Domini

Iesu Christi

2 Thessalonians Chapter 2

The day of the Lord is not to come till the man of sin be revealed.
The apostle's traditions are to be observed.

2:1. And we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and of our gathering together unto him:

Rogamus autem vos fratres per adventum Domini nostri Iesu Christi et nostrae congregationis in ipsum

2:2. That you be not easily moved from your sense nor be terrified, neither by spirit nor by word nor by epistle as sent from us, as if the day of the Lord were at hand.

Ut non cito moveamini a sensu neque terreamini neque per spiritum neque per sermonem neque per epistulam tamquam per nos quasi instet dies Domini

2:3. Let no man deceive you by any means: for unless there come a revolt first, and the man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition

Ne quis vos seducat ullo modo quoniam nisi venerit discessio primum et revelatus fuerit homo peccati filius perditionis

A revolt... This revolt, or falling off, is generally understood, by the ancient fathers, of a revolt from the Roman empire, which was first to be destroyed, before the coming of Antichrist. It may, perhaps, be understood also of a revolt of many nations from the Catholic Church; which has, in part, happened already, by means of Mahomet, Luther, &c., and it may be supposed, will be more general in the days of the Antichrist. The man of sin... Here must be meant some particular man, as is evident from the frequent repetition of the Greek article ho antikeimenos, the man of sin, the son of perdition, the adversary or opposer. It agrees to the wicked and great Antichrist, who will come before the end of the world.

2:4. Who opposeth and is lifted up above all that is called God or that is worshipped, so that he sitteth in the temple of God, showing himself as if he were God.

Qui adversatur et extollitur supra omne quod dicitur Deus aut quod colitur ita ut in templo Dei sedeat ostendens se quia sit Deus

In the temple... Either that of Jerusalem which some think he will rebuild; or in some Christian church, which he will pervert to his own worship: as Mahomet has done by the churches of the east.

2:5. Remember you not that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

Non retinetis quod cum adhuc essem apud vos haec dicebam vobis

2:6. And now you know what withholdeth, that he may be revealed in his time.

Et nunc quid detineat scitis ut reveletur in suo tempore

2:7. For the mystery of iniquity already worketh: only that he who now holdeth do hold, until he be taken out of the way.

Nam mysterium iam operatur iniquitatis tantum ut qui tenet nunc donec de medio fiat

2:8. And then that wicked one shall be revealed: whom the Lord Jesus shall kill with the spirit of his mouth and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming: him

Et tunc revelabitur ille iniquus quem Dominus Iesus interficiet spiritu oris sui et destruet inlustratione adventus sui

2:9. Whose coming is according to the working of Satan, in all power and signs and lying wonders:

Eum cuius est adventus secundum operationem Satanae in omni virtute et signis et prodigiis mendacibus

2:10. And in all seduction of iniquity to them that perish: because they receive not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. Therefore God shall send them the operation of error, to believe lying:

Et in omni seductione iniquitatis his qui pereunt eo quod caritatem veritatis non receperunt ut salvi fierent God shall send... That is God shall suffer them to be deceived by lying wonders, and false miracles, in punishment of their not entertaining the love of truth.

2:11. That all may be judged who have not believed the truth but have consented to iniquity.

Ideo mittit illis Deus operationem erroris ut credant mendacio

2:12. But we ought to give thanks to God always for you, brethren, beloved of God, for that God hath chosen you firstfruits unto salvation, in sanctification of the spirit and faith of the truth:

Ut iudicentur omnes qui non crediderunt veritati sed consenserunt iniquitati

2:13. Whereunto also he hath called you by our gospel, unto the purchasing of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Nos autem debemus gratias agere Deo semper pro vobis fratres dilecti a Deo quod elegerit nos Deus primitias in salutem in sanctificatione Spiritus et fide veritatis

2:14. Therefore, brethren, stand fast: and hold the traditions, which you have learned, whether by word or by our epistle.

Ad quod et vocavit vos per evangelium nostrum in acquisitionem gloriae Domini nostri Iesu Christi

Traditions... See here that the unwritten traditions are no less to be received than their epistles.

2:15. Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God and our Father, who hath loved us and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope in grace,

Itaque fratres state et tenete traditiones quas didicistis sive per sermonem sive per epistulam nostram

2:16. Exhort your hearts and confirm you in every good work and word.

Ipse autem Dominus noster Iesus Christus et Deus et Pater noster qui dilexit nos et dedit consolationem aeternam et spem bonam in gratia

2 Thessalonians Chapter 3

He begs their prayers and warns them against idleness.

3:1. For the rest, brethren, pray for us that the word of God may run and may be glorified, even as among you:

De cetero fratres orate pro nobis ut sermo Domini currat et clarificetur sicut et apud vos

May run... That is, may spread itself, and have free course.

3:2. And that we may be delivered from importunate and evil men: for all men have not faith.

Et ut liberemur ab inportunis et malis hominibus non enim omnium est fides

3:3. But God is faithful, who will strengthen and keep you from evil.

Fidelis autem Dominus est qui confirmabit vos et custodiet a malo

3:4. And we have confidence concerning you in the Lord that the things which we command, you both do and will do.

Confidimus autem de vobis in Domino quoniam quae praecipimus et facitis et facietis

3:5. And the Lord direct your hearts, in the charity of God and the patience of Christ.

Dominus autem dirigat corda vestra in caritate Dei et patientia Christi

3:6. And we charge you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you withdraw yourselves from every brother walking disorderly and not according to the tradition which they have received of us.

Denuntiamus autem vobis fratres in nomine Domini nostri Iesu Christi ut subtrahatis vos ab omni fratre ambulante inordinate et non secundum traditionem quam acceperunt a nobis

3:7. For yourselves know how you ought to imitate us. For we were not disorderly among you.

Ipsi enim scitis quemadmodum oporteat imitari nos quoniam non inquieti fuimus inter vos

3:8. Neither did we eat any man's bread for nothing: but in labour and in toil we worked night and day, lest we should be chargeable to any of you.

Neque gratis panem manducavimus ab aliquo sed in labore et fatigatione nocte et die operantes ne quem vestrum gravaremus

3:9. Not as if we had not power: but that we might give ourselves a pattern unto you, to imitate us.

Non quasi non habuerimus potestatem sed ut nosmet ipsos formam daremus vobis ad imitandum nos

3:10. For also, when we were with you, this we declared to you: that, if any man will not work, neither let him eat.

Nam et cum essemus apud vos hoc denuntiabamus vobis quoniam si quis non vult operari nec manducet

3:11. For we have heard there are some among you who walk disorderly: working not at all, but curiously meddling.

Audimus enim inter vos quosdam ambulare inquiete nihil operantes sed curiose agentes

3:12. Now we charge them that are such and beseech them by the Lord Jesus Christ that, working with silence, they would eat their own bread.

His autem qui eiusmodi sunt denuntiamus et obsecramus in Domino Iesu Christo ut cum silentio operantes suum panem manducent

3:13. But you, brethren, be not weary in well doing.

Vos autem fratres nolite deficere beneficientes

3:14. And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man and do not keep company with him, that he may be ashamed.

Quod si quis non oboedit verbo nostro per epistulam hunc notate et non commisceamini cum illo ut confundatur

3:15. Yet do not esteem him as an enemy but admonish him as a brother.
Et nolite quasi inimicum existimare sed corripite ut fratrem

3:16. Now the Lord of peace himself give you everlasting peace in every place. The Lord be with you all.
Ipse autem Dominus pacis det vobis pacem sempiternam in omni loco Dominus cum omnibus vobis

3:17. The salutation of Paul with my own hand: which is the sign in every epistle. So I write.
Salutatio mea manu Pauli quod est signum in omni epistula ita scribo

3:18. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.
Gratia Domini nostri Iesu Christi cum omnibus vobis amen

2 Timothy

The Second Epistle of St. Paul to Timothy

In this Epistle, the Apostle again instructs and admonishes Timothy in what belonged to his office, as in the former; and also warns him to shun the conversation of those who had erred from the truth, describing at the same time their character, He tells him of his approaching death and desires him to come speedily to him. It appears from this circumstance that he wrote this second Epistle in the time of his last imprisonment at Rome and not long before his martyrdom. (*For more information, see the article EPISTLES TO TIMOTHY AND TITUS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)*

2 Timothy Chapter 1. He admonishes him to stir up the grace he received by his ordination and not to be discouraged at his sufferings, but to hold firm the sound doctrine of the gospel.

2 Timothy Chapter 2. He exhorts him to diligence in his office and patience in suffering. The danger of the delusions of heretics.

2 Timothy Chapter 3. The character of heretics of latter days. He exhorts Timothy to constancy. Of the great profit of the knowledge of the scriptures.

2 Timothy Chapter 4. His charge to Timothy. He tells him of his approaching death and desires him to come to him.

2 Timothy Chapter 1

He admonishes him to stir up the grace he received by his ordination and not to be discouraged at his sufferings, but to hold firm the sound doctrine of the gospel.

1:1. Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus:

Paulus apostolus Christi Iesu per voluntatem Dei secundum promissionem vitae quae est in Christo Iesu

1:2. To Timothy, my dearly beloved son. Grace, mercy and peace, from God the Father and from Christ Jesus our Lord.

Timotheo carissimo filio gratia misericordia pax a Deo Patre et Christo Iesu Domino nostro

1:3. I give thanks to God, whom I serve from my forefathers, with a pure conscience, that without ceasing I have a remembrance of thee in my prayers, night and day.

Gratias ago Deo cui servio a progenitoribus in conscientia pura quam sine intermissione habeam tui memoriam in orationibus meis nocte ac die

1:4. Desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy:

Desiderans te videre memor lacrimarum tuarum ut gaudio implear

1:5. Calling to mind that faith which is in thee unfeigned, which also dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois and in thy mother Eunice, and I am certain that in thee also.

Recordationem accipiens eius fidei quae est in te non ficta quae et habitavit primum in avia tua Loide et matre tua Eunice certus sum autem quod et in te

1:6. For which cause I admonish thee that thou stir up the grace of God which is in thee by the imposition of my hands.

Propter quam causam admoneo te ut resuscites gratiam Dei quae est in te per inpositionem manuum mearum

1:7. For God hath not given us the spirit of fear: but of power and of love and of sobriety.

Non enim dedit nobis Deus spiritum timoris sed virtutis et dilectionis et sobrietatis

1:8. Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but labour with the gospel, according to the power of God.

Noli itaque erubescere testimonium Domini nostri neque me vinctum eius sed conlabora evangelio secundum virtutem Dei

1:9. Who hath delivered us and called us by his holy calling, not according to our own works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the times of the world:

Qui nos liberavit et vocavit vocatione sancta non secundum opera nostra sed secundum propositum suum et gratiam quae data est nobis in Christo Iesu ante tempora saecularia

1:10. But is now made manifest by the illumination of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath destroyed death and hath brought to light life and incorruption by the gospel.

Manifestata est autem nunc per inluminacionem salvatoris nostri Iesu Christi qui destruxit quidem mortem inluminavit autem vitam et incorruptionem per evangelium

By the illumination... That is, by the bright coming and appearing of our Saviour.

1:11. Wherein I am appointed a preacher and an apostle and teacher of the Gentiles.

In quo positus sum ego praedicator et apostolus et magister gentium

1:12. For which cause, I also suffer these things: but I am not ashamed. For I know whom I have believed and I am certain that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him, against that day.

Ob quam causam etiam haec patior sed non confundor scio enim cui credidi et certus sum quia potens est depositum meum servare in illum diem

1:13. Hold the form of sound words which thou hast heard of me: in faith and in the love which is in Christ Jesus.

Formam habe sanorum verborum quae a me audisti in fide et dilectione in Christo Iesu

1:14. Keep the good thing committed to thy trust by the Holy Ghost who dwelleth in us.

Bonum depositum custodi per Spiritum Sanctum qui habitat in nobis

1:15. Thou knowest this, that all they who are in Asia are turned away from me: of whom are Phigellus and Hermogenes.

Scis hoc quod aversi sunt a me omnes qui in Asia sunt ex quibus est Phygelus et Hermogenes

1:16. The Lord give mercy to the house of Onesiphorus: because he hath often refreshed me and hath not been ashamed of my chain:

Det misericordiam Dominus Onesifori domui quia saepe me refrigeravit et catenam meam non erubuit

1:17. But when he was come to Rome, he carefully sought me and found me.

Sed cum Romam venisset sollicite me quaesivit et invenit

1:18. The Lord grant unto him to find mercy of the Lord in that day. And in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou very well knowest.

Det illi Dominus invenire misericordiam a Domino in illa die et quanta Ephesi ministravit melius tu nosti

2 Timothy Chapter 2

He exhorts him to diligence in his office and patience in suffering. The danger of the delusions of heretics.

2:1. Thou therefore, my son, be strong in Christ Jesus:

Tu ergo fili mi confortare in gratia quae est in Christo Iesu

2:2. And the things which thou hast heard of me by many witnesses, the same commend to faithful men who shall be fit to teach others also.

Et quae audisti a me per multos testes haec commenda fidelibus hominibus qui idonei erunt et alios docere

2:3. Labour as a good soldier of Christ Jesus.

Labora sicut bonus miles Christi Iesu

2:4. No man, being a soldier to God, entangleth himself with secular businesses: that he may please him to whom he hath engaged himself.

Nemo militans implicat se negotiis saecularibus ut ei placeat cui se probavit

2:5. For he also that striveth for the mastery is not crowned, except he strive lawfully.

Nam et qui certat in agone non coronatur nisi legitime certaverit

2:6. The husbandman that laboreth must first partake of the fruits.

Laborantem agricolam oportet primum de fructibus accipere

2:7. Understand what I say: for the Lord will give thee in all things understanding.

Intellege quae dico dabit enim tibi Dominus in omnibus intellectum

2:8. Be mindful that the Lord Jesus Christ is risen again from the dead, of the seed of David, according to my gospel:

Memor esto Iesum Christum resurrexisse a mortuis ex semine David secundum evangelium meum

2:9. Wherein I labour even unto bands, as an evildoer. But the word of God is not bound.

In quo laboro usque ad vincula quasi male operans sed verbum Dei non est alligatum

2:10. Therefore I endure all things for the sake of the elect, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus, with heavenly glory.

Ideo omnia sustineo propter electos ut et ipsi salutem consequantur quae est in Christo Iesu cum gloria caelesti

2:11. A faithful saying: for if we be dead with him, we shall live also with him.

Fidelis sermo nam si conmortui sumus et convivemus

2:12. If we suffer, we shall also reign with him. If we deny him, he will also deny us.

Si sustinemus et conregnabimus si negabimus et ille negabit nos

2:13. If we believe not, he continueth faithful, he cannot deny himself.

Si non credimus ille fidelis manet negare se ipsum non potest

2:14. Of these things put them in mind, charging them before the Lord. Contend not in words: for it is to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers.

Haec commone testificans coram Domino noli verbis contendere in nihil utile ad subversionem audientium

2:15. Carefully study to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly handling the word of truth.

Sollicite cura te ipsum probabilem exhibere Deo operarium inconfusibilem recte tractantem verbum veritatis

2:16. But shun profane and vain babblings: for they grow much towards ungodliness.

Profana autem inaniloquia devita multum enim proficient ad impietatem

2:17. And their speech spreadeth like a canker: of whom are Hymeneus and Philetus:

Et sermo eorum ut cancer serpit ex quibus est Hymeneus et Philetus

2:18. Who have erred from the truth, saying that the resurrection is past already, and have subverted the faith of some.

Qui a veritate exciderunt dicentes resurrectionem iam factam et subvertunt quorundam fidem

2:19. But the sure foundation of God standeth firm, having this seal: the Lord knoweth who are his; and let every one depart from iniquity who nameth the name of the Lord.

Sed firmum fundamentum Dei stetit habens signaculum hoc cognovit Dominus qui sunt eius et discedat ab iniquitate omnis qui nominat nomen Domini

2:20. But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth: and some indeed unto honour, but some unto dishonour.

In magna autem domo non solum sunt vasa aurea et argentea sed et lignea et fictilia et quaedam quidem in honorem quaedam autem in contumeliam

2:21. If any man therefore shall cleanse himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified and profitable to the Lord, prepared unto every good work.

Si quis ergo emundaverit se ab istis erit vas in honorem sanctificatum et utile Domino ad omne opus bonum paratum

2:22. But flee thou youthful desires, and pursue justice, faith, charity and peace with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

Iuvenilia autem desideria fuge sectare vero iustitiam fidem caritatem pacem cum his qui invocant Dominum de corde puro

2:23. And avoid foolish and unlearned questions, knowing that they beget strifes.

Stultas autem et sine disciplina quaestiones devita sciens quia generant lites

2:24. But the servant of the Lord must not wrangle: but be mild toward all men, apt to teach, patient,

Servum autem Domini non oportet litigare sed mansuetum esse ad omnes docibilem patientem

2:25. With modesty admonishing them that resist the truth: if peradventure God may give them repentance to know the truth;

Cum modestia corripientem eos qui resistunt nequando det illis Deus paenitentiam ad cognoscendam veritatem

2:26. And they may recover themselves from the snares of the devil by whom they are held captive at his will.

Et respiscant a diaboli laqueis a quo capti tenentur ad ipsius voluntatem

2 Timothy Chapter 3

The character of heretics of latter days. He exhorts Timothy to constancy. Of the great profit of the knowledge of the scriptures.

3:1. Know also this, that in the last days shall come dangerous times.

Hoc autem scito quod in novissimis diebus instabunt tempora periculosa

3:2. Men shall be lovers of themselves, covetous, haughty, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, ungrateful, wicked,

Et erunt homines se ipsos amantes cupidi elati superbi blasphemi parentibus inoboedientes ingrati scelesti

3:3. Without affection, without peace, slanderers, incontinent, unmerciful, without kindness,

Sine affectione sine pace criminatores incontinentes inmites sine benignitate

3:4. Traitors, stubborn, puffed up, and lovers of pleasure more than of God:

Proditores protervi tumidi voluptatum amatores magis quam Dei

3:5. Having an appearance indeed of godliness but denying the power thereof. Now these avoid.

Habentes speciem quidem pietatis virtutem autem eius abnegantes et hos devita

3:6. For of these sort are they who creep into houses and lead captive silly women laden with sins, who are led away with divers desires:

Ex his enim sunt qui penetrant domos et captivas ducunt mulierculas oneratas peccatis quae ducuntur variis desideriiis

3:7. Ever learning, and never attaining to the knowledge of the truth.

Semper discentes et numquam ad scientiam veritatis pervenientes

3:8. Now as Jannes and Mambres resisted Moses, so these also resist the truth, men corrupted in mind, reprobate concerning the faith.

Quemadmodum autem Iannes et Mambres restiterunt Mosi ita et hii resistunt veritati homines corrupti mente reprobi circa fidem

Jannes and Mambres... The magicians of king Pharaoh.

3:9. But they shall proceed no farther: for their folly shall be manifest to all men, as theirs also was.

Sed ultra non proficient insipientia enim eorum manifesta erit omnibus sicut et illorum fuit

3:10. But thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, longsuffering, love, patience,

Tu autem adsecutus es meam doctrinam institutionem propositum fidem longanimitatem dilectionem patientiam

3:11. Persecutions, afflictions: such as came upon me at Antioch, at Iconium and at Lystra: what persecutions I endured, and out of them all the Lord delivered me.

Persecutiones passiones qualia mihi facta sunt Antiochiae Iconii Lystris quales persecutiones sustinui et ex omnibus me eripuit Dominus

3:12. And all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.

Et omnes qui volunt pie vivere in Christo Iesu persecutionem patientur

3:13. But evil men and seducers shall grow worse and worse: erring, and driving into error,

Mali autem homines et seductores proficient in peius errantes et in errorem mittentes

3:14. But continue thou in those things which thou hast learned and which have been committed to thee. Knowing of whom thou hast learned them:

Tu vero permane in his quae didicisti et credita sunt tibi sciens a quo didiceris

3:15. And because from thy infancy thou hast known the holy scriptures which can instruct thee to salvation by the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

Et quia ab infantia sacras litteras nosti quae te possint instruere ad salutem per fidem quae est in Christo Iesu

3:16. All scripture, inspired of God, is profitable to teach, to reprove, to correct, to instruct in justice:

Omnis scriptura divinitus inspirata et utilis ad docendum ad arguendum ad corrigendum ad erudiendum in iustitia

All scripture,... Every part of divine scripture is certainly profitable for all these ends. But, if we would have the whole rule of Christian faith and practice, we must not be content with those Scriptures, which Timothy knew from his infancy, that is, with the Old Testament alone: nor yet with the New Testament, without taking along with it the traditions of the apostles, and the interpretation of the church, to which the apostles delivered both the book, and the true meaning of it.

3:17. That the man of God may be perfect, furnished to every good work.

Ut perfectus sit homo Dei ad omne opus bonum instructus

2 Timothy Chapter 4

His charge to Timothy. He tells him of his approaching death and desires him to come to him.

4:1. I charge thee, before God and Jesus Christ, who shall judge the living and the dead, by his coming and his kingdom:

Testificor coram Deo et Christo Iesu qui iudicaturus est vivos ac mortuos et adventum ipsius et regnum eius

4:2. Preach the word: be instant in season, out of season: reprove, entreat, rebuke in all patience and doctrine.

Praedica verbum insta oportune inopportune argue obsecra increpa in omni patientia et doctrina

4:3. For there shall be a time when they will not endure sound doctrine but, according to their own desires, they will heap to themselves teachers having itching ears:

Erit enim tempus cum sanam doctrinam non sustinebunt sed ad sua desideria coacervabunt sibi magistros prurientes auribus

4:4. And will indeed turn away their hearing from the truth, but will be turned unto fables.

Et a veritate quidem auditum avertent ad fabulas autem convertentur

4:5. But be thou vigilant, labour in all things, do the work of an evangelist, fulfil thy ministry. Be sober.

Tu vero vigila in omnibus labora opus fac evangelistae ministerium tuum imple

An evangelist... a diligent preacher of the gospel.

4:6. For I am even now ready to be sacrificed: and the time of my dissolution is at hand.

Ego enim iam delibor et tempus meae resolutionis instat

4:7. I have fought a good fight: I have finished my course: I have kept the faith.

Bonum certamen certavi cursum consummavi fidem servavi

4:8. As to the rest, there is laid up for me a crown of justice which the Lord the just judge will render to me in that day: and not only to me, but to them also that love his coming. Make haste to come to me quickly.

In reliquo reposita est mihi iustitiae corona quam reddet mihi Dominus in illa die iustus iudex non solum autem mihi sed et his qui diligunt adventum eius

4:9. For Demas hath left me, loving this world, and is gone to Thessalonica:

Festina venire ad me cito

4:10. Crescens into Galatia, Titus into Dalmatia.

Demas enim me dereliquit diligens hoc saeculum et abiit Thessalonicam Crescens in Galliam Titus in Dalmatiam

4:11. Only Luke is with me. Take Mark and bring him with thee: for he is profitable to me for the ministry.

Lucas est mecum solus Marcum adsume et adduc tecum est enim mihi utilis in ministerium

4:12. But Tychicus I have sent to Ephesus.

Tychicum autem misi Ephesum

4:13. The cloak that I left at Troas, with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee: and the books, especially the parchments.

Paenulam quam reliqui Troade apud Carpum veniens adfers et libros maxime autem membranas

4:14. Alexander the coppersmith hath done me much evil: the Lord will reward him according to his works:

Alexander aerarius multa mala mihi ostendit reddat ei Dominus secundum opera eius

4:15. Whom do thou also avoid: for he hath greatly withstood our words.

Quem et tu devita valde enim restitit verbis nostris

4:16. At my first answer, no man stood with me: but all forsook me. May it not be laid to their charge!

In prima mea defensione nemo mihi adfuit sed omnes me dereliquerunt non illis reputetur

4:17. But the Lord stood by me and strengthened me, that by me the preaching may be accomplished and that all the Gentiles may hear. And I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion.

Dominus autem mihi adstitit et confortavit me ut per me praedicatio impleatur et audiant omnes gentes et liberatus sum de ore leonis

4:18. The Lord hath delivered me from every evil work and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom. To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Liberabit me Dominus ab omni opere malo et salvum faciet in regnum suum caeleste cui gloria in saecula saeculorum amen

4:19. Salute Prisca, and Aquila and the household of Onesiphorus.

Saluta Priscam et Aquilam et Onesifori domum

4:20. Erastus remained at Corinth. And Trophimus I left sick at Miletus.

Erastus remansit Corinthi Trophimum autem reliqui infirmum Mileti

4:21. Make haste to come before winter. Eubulus and Pudens and Linus and Claudia and all the brethren, salute thee.

Festina ante hiemem venire salutatur te Eubulus et Pudens et Linus et Claudia et fratres omnes

4:22. The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you. Amen.

Dominus Iesus cum spiritu tuo gratia nobiscum amen

3 John

The Third Epistle of St. John the Apostle

---

St. John praises Gaius for his walking in truth and for his charity, complains of the bad conduct of Diotrophes and gives a good testimony to Demetrius. (For more information, see the article EPISTLES OF JOHN in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

1:1. The Ancient, to the dearly beloved Gaius, whom I love in truth.

Senior Gaio carissimo quem ego diligo in veritate

1:2. Dearly beloved, concerning all things I make it my prayer that thou mayest proceed prosperously and fare well, as thy soul doth prosperously.

Carissime de omnibus orationem facio prospere te ingredi et valere sicut prospere agit anima tua

1:3. I was exceedingly glad when the brethren came and gave testimony to the truth in thee, even as thou walkest in the truth.

Gavisus sum valde venientibus fratribus et testimonium perhibentibus veritati tuae sicut tu in veritate ambulas

1:4. I have no greater grace than this, to hear that my children walk in truth.

Maiorem horum non habeo gratiam quam ut audiam filios meos in veritate ambulantes

No greater grace... that is nothing that gives me greater joy and satisfaction.

1:5. Dearly beloved, thou dost faithfully whatever thou dost for the brethren: and that for strangers,

Carissime fideliter facis quicquid operaris in fratres et hoc in peregrinos

1:6. Who have given testimony to thy charity in the sight of the church. Whom thou shalt do well to bring forward on their way in a manner worthy of God:

Qui testimonium reddiderunt caritati tuae in conspectu ecclesiae quos bene facies deducens digne Deo

1:7. Because, for his name they went out, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

Pro nomine enim profecti sunt nihil accipientes a gentibus

Taking nothing of the Gentiles... These ministers of the gospel are commended by St. John, who took nothing from the Gentiles, lest they should seem to preach in order to get money by it.

1:8. We therefore ought to receive such: that we may be fellow helpers of the truth.

Nos ergo debemus suscipere huiusmodi ut cooperatores simus veritatis

1:9. I had written perhaps to the church: but Diotrophes, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, doth not receive us.

Scripsissem forsitan ecclesiae sed is qui amat primatum gerere in eis Diotrepes non recipit nos

Diotrophes who loveth... This man seemeth to be in power, but not a friend to the faithful; therefore this part of the letter might be an admonition to him from the apostle.

1:10. For this cause, if I come, I will advertise his works which he doth, with malicious words prating against us. And as if these things were not enough for him, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and them that do receive them he forbiddeth, and casteth out of the church.

Propter hoc si venero commoneam eius opera quae facit verbis malignis garriens in nos et quasi non ei ista sufficient nec ipse suscipit fratres et eos qui cupiunt prohibet et de ecclesia eicit

1:11. Dearly beloved, follow not that which is evil: but that which is good. He that doth good is of God: he that doth evil hath not seen God.

Carissime noli imitari malum sed quod bonum est qui benefacit ex Deo est qui malefacit non vidit Deum

1:12. To Demetrius, testimony is given by all, and by the truth itself: yea and we also give testimony. And thou knowest that our testimony is true.

Demetrio testimonium redditur ab omnibus et ab ipsa veritate et nos autem testimonium perhibemus et nosti quoniam testimonium nostrum verum est

1:13. I had many things to write unto thee: but I would not by ink and pen write to thee.
Multa habui scribere tibi sed nolui per atramentum et calamum scribere tibi

1:14. But I hope speedily to see thee: and we will speak mouth to mouth. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Salute the friends by name.
Spero autem protinus te videre et os ad os loquemur

The Acts of the Apostles

This Book, which, from the first ages, hath been called, THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES, is not to be considered as a history of what was done by all the Apostles, who were dispersed into different nations; but only a short view of the first establishment of the Christian Church. A part of the preaching and action of St. Peter are related in the first twelve chapters; and a particular account of St. Paul's apostolical labours in the subsequent chapters. It was written by St. Luke the Evangelist, and the original in Greek. Its history commences from the Ascension of Christ our Lord and ends in the year sixty-three, being a brief account of the Church for the space of about thirty years. (For more information, see the article ACTS OF THE APOSTLES in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Acts Chapter 1. The ascension of Christ. Matthias is chosen in place of Judas.

Acts Chapter 2. The disciples receive the Holy Ghost. Peter's sermon to the people. The piety of the first converts.

Acts Chapter 3. The miracle upon the lame man, followed by the conversion of many.

Acts Chapter 4. Peter and John are apprehended. Their constancy. The church is increased.

Acts Chapter 5. The judgment of God upon Ananias and Saphira. The apostles are cast into prison.

Acts Chapter 6. The ordination of the seven deacons. The zeal of Stephen.

Acts Chapter 7. Stephen's speech before the council. His martyrdom.

Acts Chapter 8. Philip converts the Samaritans and baptizes the eunuch.

Acts Chapter 9. Paul's conversion and zeal. Peter heals Eneas and raises up Tabitha to life.

Acts Chapter 10. Cornelius is received into the church. Peter's vision.

Acts Chapter 11. Peter defends his having received the Gentiles into the church.

Acts Chapter 12. Herod's persecution. Peter's deliverance by an angel. Herod's punishment.

Acts Chapter 13. Saul and Barnabas are sent forth by the Holy Ghost. They preach in Cyprus and in Antioch of Pisidia.

Acts Chapter 14. Paul and Barnabas preach in Iconium and Lystra. Paul heals a cripple. They are taken for gods. Paul is stoned. They preach in Derbe and Perge.

Acts Chapter 15. A dissension about circumcision. The decision and letter of the council of Jerusalem.

Acts Chapter 16. Paul visits the churches. He is called to preach in Macedonia. He is scourged at Philippi.

Acts Chapter 17. Paul preaches to the Thessalonians and Bereans. His discourse to the Athenians.

Acts Chapter 18. Paul founds the church of Corinth and preaches at Ephesus and in other places. Apollo goes to Corinth.

Acts Chapter 19. Paul establishes the church at Ephesus. The tumult of the silversmiths.

Acts Chapter 20. Paul passes through Macedonia and Greece. He raises a dead man to life at Troas. His discourse to the clergy of Ephesus.

Acts Chapter 21. Paul goes up to Jerusalem. He is apprehended by the Jews in the temple.

Acts Chapter 22. Paul declares to the people the history of his conversion. He escapes scourging by claiming the privilege of a Roman citizen.

Acts Chapter 23. Paul stands before the council. The Jews conspire his death. He is sent away to Cesarea.

Acts Chapter 24. Paul defends his innocence before Felix the governor. He preaches the faith to him.

Acts Chapter 25. Paul appeals to Caesar. King Agrippa desires to hear him.

Acts Chapter 26. Paul gives an account to Agrippa of his life, conversion and calling.

Acts Chapter 27. Paul is shipped for Rome. His voyage and shipwreck.

Acts Chapter 28. Paul, after three months' stay in Melita, continues his voyage and arrives at Rome. His conference there with the Jews.

Acts Chapter 1

The ascension of Christ. Matthias is chosen in place of Judas.

---

1:1. The former treatise I made, O Theophilus, of all things which Jesus began to do and to teach, Primum quidem sermonem feci de omnibus o Theophile quae coepit Iesus facere et docere

1:2. Until the day on which, giving commandments by the Holy Ghost to the apostles whom he had chosen, he was taken up.

Usque in diem qua praeciens apostolis per Spiritum Sanctum quos elegit adsumptus est

1:3. To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion, by many proofs, for forty days appearing to them, and speaking of the kingdom of God.

Quibus et praebuit se ipsum vivum post passionem suam in multis argumentis per dies quadraginta apprens eis et loquens de regno Dei

1:4. And eating together with them, he commanded them, that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but should wait for the promise of the Father, which you have heard (saith he) by my mouth.

Et convescens praecepit eis ab Hierosolymis ne discederent sed expectarent promissionem Patris quam audistis per os meum

1:5. For John indeed baptized with water: but you shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost, not many days hence.

Quia Iohannes quidem baptizavit aqua vos autem baptizabimini Spiritu Sancto non post multos hos dies

1:6. They therefore who were come together, asked him, saying: Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom of Israel?

Igitur qui convenerant interrogabant eum dicentes Domine si in tempore hoc restitues regnum Israhel

1:7. But he said to them: It is not for you to know the time or moments, which the Father hath put in his own power:

Dixit autem eis non est vestrum nosse tempora vel momenta quae Pater posuit in sua potestate

1:8. But you shall receive the power of the Holy Ghost coming upon you, and you shall be witnesses unto me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and Samaria, and even to the uttermost part of the earth.

Sed accipietis virtutem supervenientis Spiritus Sancti in vos et eritis mihi testes in Hierusalem et in omni Iudaea et Samaria et usque ad ultimum terrae

1:9. And when he had said these things, while they looked on, he was raised up: and a cloud received him out of their sight.

Et cum haec dixisset videntibus illis elevatus est et nubes suscepit eum ab oculis eorum

1:10. And while they were beholding him going up to heaven, behold two men stood by them in white garments.

Cumque intuerentur in caelum eunte illo ecce duo viri adstiterunt iuxta illos in vestibus albis

1:11. Who also said: Ye men of Galilee, why stand you looking up to heaven? This Jesus who is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come as you have seen him going into heaven.

Qui et dixerunt viri galilaei quid statis aspicientes in caelum hic Iesus qui adsumptus est a vobis in caelum sic veniet quemadmodum vidistis eum euntem in caelum

1:12. Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mount that is called Olivet, which is nigh Jerusalem, within a sabbath day's journey.

Tunc reversi sunt Hierosolymam a monte qui vocatur Oliveti qui est iuxta Hierusalem sabbati habens iter

1:13. And when they were come in, they went up into an upper room, where abode Peter and John, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James of Alpheus and Simon Zelotes and Jude the brother of James.

Et cum introissent in cenaculum ascenderunt ubi manebant Petrus et Iohannes Iacobus et Andreas Philippus et Thomas Bartholomeus et Mattheus Iacobus Alpei et Simon Zelotes et Iudas Iacobi

1:14. All these were persevering with one mind in prayer with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

Hii omnes erant perseverantes unianimiter in oratione cum mulieribus et Maria matre Iesu et fratribus eius

1:15. In those days Peter rising up in the midst of the brethren, said (now the number of persons together was about an hundred and twenty):

Et in diebus illis exurgens Petrus in medio fratrum dixit erat autem turba nominum simul fere centum viginti

1:16. Men, brethren, the scripture must needs be fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost spoke before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, who was the leader of them that apprehended Jesus:

Viri fratres oportet impleri scripturam quam praedixit Spiritus Sanctus per os David de Iuda qui fuit dux eorum qui comprehenderunt Iesum

1:17. Who was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry.

Quia connumeratus erat in nobis et sortitus est sortem ministerii huius

1:18. And he indeed hath possessed a field of the reward of iniquity, and being hanged, burst asunder in the midst: and all his bowels gushed out.

Et hic quidem possedit agrum de mercede iniquitatis et suspensus crepuit medius et diffusa sunt omnia viscera eius

1:19. And it became known to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem: so that the same field was called in their tongue, Haceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.

Et notum factum est omnibus habitantibus Hierusalem ita ut appellaretur ager ille lingua eorum Acheldemach hoc est ager Sanguinis

1:20. For it is written in the book of Psalms: Let their habitation become desolate, and let there be none to dwell therein. And his bishopric let another take.

Scriptum est enim in libro Psalmorum fiat commoratio eius deserta et non sit qui inhabitet in ea et episcopatum eius accipiat alius

1:21. Wherefore of these men who have companied with us, all the time that the Lord Jesus came in and went out among us,

Oportet ergo ex his viris qui nobiscum congregati sunt in omni tempore quo intravit et exivit inter nos Dominus Iesus

1:22. Beginning from the baptism of John, until the day wherein he was taken up from us, one of these must be made a witness with us of his resurrection.

Incipiens a baptisate Iohannis usque in diem qua adsumptus est a nobis testem resurrectionis eius nobiscum fieri unum ex istis

1:23. And they appointed two, Joseph, called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

Et statuerunt duos Ioseph qui vocabatur Barsabban qui cognominatus est Iustus et Matthiam

1:24. And praying, they said: Thou, Lord, who knowest the heart of all men, show whether of these two thou hast chosen,

Et orantes dixerunt tu Domine qui corda nosti omnium ostende quem elegeris ex his duobus unum

1:25. To take the place of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas hath by transgression fallen, that he might go to his own place.

Accipere locum ministerii huius et apostolatus de quo praevaricatus est Iudas ut abiret in locum suum

1:26. And they gave them lot, and the lot fell upon Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

Et dederunt sortes eis et cecidit sors super Matthiam et adnumeratus est cum undecim apostolis

Acts Chapter 2

The disciples receive the Holy Ghost. Peter's sermon to the people. The piety of the first converts.

---

2:1. And when the days of the Pentecost were accomplished, they were all together in one place:

Et cum conplerentur dies pentecostes erant omnes pariter in eodem loco

2:2. And suddenly there came a sound from heaven, as of a mighty wind coming: and it filled the whole house where they were sitting.

Et factus est repente de caelo sonus tamquam advenientis spiritus vehementis et replevit totam domum ubi erant sedentes

2:3. And there appeared to them parted tongues, as it were of fire: and it sat upon every one of them.

Et apparuerunt illis dispertitae linguae tamquam ignis seditque supra singulos eorum

2:4. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost: and they began to speak with divers tongues, according as the Holy Ghost gave them to speak.

Et repleti sunt omnes Spiritu Sancto et coeperunt loqui aliis linguis prout Spiritus Sanctus dabat eloqui illis

2:5. Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem, Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.

Erant autem in Hierusalem habitantes Iudaei viri religiosi ex omni natione quae sub caelo sunt

2:6. And when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded in mind, because that every man heard them speak in his own tongue.

Facta autem hac voce convenit multitudo et mente confusa est quoniam audiebat unusquisque lingua sua illos loquentes

2:7. And they were all amazed, and wondered, saying: Behold, are not all these that speak Galilean?

Stupebant autem omnes et mirabantur dicentes nonne omnes ecce isti qui loquuntur Galilaei sunt

2:8. And how have we heard, every man our own tongue wherein we were born?

Et quomodo nos audivimus unusquisque lingua nostra in qua nati sumus

2:9. Parthians and Medes and Elamites and inhabitants of Mesopotamia, Judea, and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia,

Parthi et Medi et Elamitae et qui habitant Mesopotamiam et Iudaeam et Cappadociam Pontum et Asiam

2:10. Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome,

Frygiam et Pamphiliam Aegyptum et partes Lybiae quae est circa Cyrenen et advenae romani

2:11. Jews also, and proselytes, Cretes, and Arabians: we have heard them speak in our own tongues the wonderful works of God.

Iudaei quoque et proselyti Cretes et Arabes audivimus loquentes eos nostris linguis magnalia Dei

2:12. And they were all astonished, and wondered, saying one to another: What meaneth this?

Stupebant autem omnes et mirabantur ad invicem dicentes quidnam hoc vult esse

2:13. But others mocking, said: These men are full of new wine.

Alii autem inridentes dicebant quia musto pleni sunt isti

2:14. But Peter standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spoke to them: Ye men of Judea, and all you that dwell in Jerusalem, be this known to you and with your ears receive my words.

Stans autem Petrus cum undecim levavit vocem suam et locutus est eis viri iudaei et qui habitatis Hierusalem universi hoc vobis notum sit et auribus percipite verba mea

2:15. For these are not drunk, as you suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day:

Non enim sicut vos aestimatis hii ebrii sunt cum sit hora diei tertia

2:16. But this is that which was spoken of by the prophet Joel:

Sed hoc est quod dictum est per prophetam Iohel

2:17. And it shall come to pass, in the last days, (saith the Lord), I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy: and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams.

Et erit in novissimis diebus dicit Dominus effundam de Spiritu meo super omnem carnem et prophetabunt filii vestri et filiae vestrae et iuvenes vestri visiones videbunt et seniores vestri somnia somniabunt

2:18. And upon my servants indeed and upon my handmaids will I pour out in those days of my spirit: and they shall prophesy.

Et quidem super servos meos et super ancillas meas in diebus illis effundam de Spiritu meo et prophetabunt

2:19. And I will show wonders in the heaven above, and signs on the earth beneath: blood and fire, and vapour of smoke.

Et dabo prodigia in caelo sursum et signa in terra deorsum sanguinem et ignem et vaporem fumi

2:20. The sun shall be turned into darkness and the moon into blood, before the great and manifest day of the Lord to come.

Sol convertetur in tenebras et luna in sanguinem antequam veniat dies Domini magnus et manifestus

2:21. And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.

Et erit omnis quicumque invocaverit nomen Domini salvus erit

2:22. Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him, in the midst of you, as you also know:

Viri israhelitae audite verba haec Iesum Nazarenum virum adprobatum a Deo in vobis virtutibus et prodigiis et signis quae fecit per illum Deus in medio vestri sicut vos scitis

2:23. This same being delivered up, by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, you by the hands of wicked men have crucified and slain.

Hunc definito consilio et praescientia Dei traditum per manus iniquorum adfigentes interemistis

By the determinate, etc... God delivered up his Son; and his Son delivered up himself, for the love of us, and for the sake of our salvation; and so Christ's being delivered up was holy, and was God's own determination. But they who betrayed and crucified him, did wickedly, following therein their own malice and the instigation of the devil; not the will and determination of God, who was by no means the author of their wickedness; though he permitted it; because he could, and did draw out of it so great a good, viz., the salvation of man.

2:24. Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the sorrows of hell, as it was impossible that he should be holden by it.

Quem Deus suscitavit solutis doloribus inferni iuxta quod impossibile erat teneri illum ab eo

Having loosed the sorrow, etc... Having overcome the grievous pains of death and all the power of hell.

2:25. For David saith concerning him: I foresaw the Lord before my face: because he is at my right hand, that I may not be moved.

David enim dicit in eum providebam Dominum coram me semper quoniam a dextris meis est ne commovear

2:26. For this my heart hath been glad, and my tongue hath rejoiced: moreover my flesh also shall rest in hope.

Propter hoc laetatum est cor meum et exultavit lingua mea insuper et caro mea requiescet in spe

2:27. Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell: nor suffer thy Holy One to see corruption.

Quoniam non derelinques animam meam in inferno neque dabis Sanctum tuum videre corruptionem

2:28. Thou hast made known to me the ways of life: thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

Notas fecisti mihi vias vitae replebis me iucunditate cum facie tua

2:29. Ye men, brethren, let me freely speak to you of the patriarch David: that he died and was buried; and his sepulchre is with us to this present say.

Viri fratres liceat audenter dicere ad vos de patriarcha David quoniam et defunctus est et sepultus est et sepulchrum eius est apud nos usque in hodiernum diem

2:30. Whereas therefore he was a prophet and knew that God hath sworn to him with an oath, that of the fruit of his loins one should sit upon his throne.

Propheta igitur cum esset et sciret quia iureiurando iurasset illi Deus de fructu lumbi eius sedere super sedem eius

2:31. Foreseeing this, he spoke of the resurrection of Christ. For neither was he left in hell: neither did his flesh see corruption.

Providens locutus est de resurrectione Christi quia neque derelictus est in inferno neque caro eius vidit corruptionem

2:32. This Jesus hath God raised again, whereof all we are witnesses.

Hunc Iesum resuscitavit Deus cui omnes nos testes sumus

2:33. Being exalted therefore by the right hand of God and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath poured forth this which you see and hear.

Dextera igitur Dei exaltatus et promissione Spiritus Sancti accepta a Patre effudit hunc quem vos videtis et audistis

2:34. For David ascended not into heaven; but he himself said: The Lord said to my Lord: Sit thou on my right hand,

Non enim David ascendit in caelos dicit autem ipse dixit Dominus Domino meo sede a dextris meis

2:35. Until I make thy enemies thy footstool.

Donec ponam inimicos tuos scabillum pedum tuorum

2:36. Therefore let all the house of Israel know most certainly that God hath made both Lord and Christ, this same Jesus, whom you have crucified.

Certissime ergo sciat omnis domus Israhel quia et Dominum eum et Christum Deus fecit hunc Iesum quem vos crucifixistis

2:37. Now when they had heard these things, they had compunction in their heart and said to Peter and to the rest of the apostles: What shall we do, men and brethren?

His auditis conpuncti sunt corde et dixerunt ad Petrum et ad reliquos apostolos quid faciemus viri fratres

2:38. But Peter said to them: Do penance: and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of your sins. And you shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.

Petrus vero ad illos paenitentiam inquit agite et baptizetur unusquisque vestrum in nomine Iesu Christi in remissionem peccatorum vestrorum et accipietis donum Sancti Spiritus

2:39. For the promise is to you and to your children and to all that are far off, whomsoever the Lord our God shall call.

Vobis enim est repromissio et filiis vestris et omnibus qui longe sunt quoscumque advocaverit Dominus Deus noster

2:40. And with very many other words did he testify and exhort them, saying: Save yourselves from this perverse generation.

Aliis etiam verbis pluribus testificatus est et exhortabatur eos dicens salvamini a generatione ista prava

2:41. They therefore that received his word were baptized: and there were added in that day about three thousand souls.

Qui ergo receperunt sermonem eius baptizati sunt et adpositae sunt in illa die animae circiter tria milia

2:42. And they were persevering in the doctrine of the apostles and in the communication of the breaking of bread and in prayers.

Erant autem perseverantes in doctrina apostolorum et communicatione fractionis panis et orationibus

2:43. And fear came upon every soul. Many wonders also and signs were done by the apostles in Jerusalem: and there was great fervor in all.

Fiebat autem omni animae timor multa quoque prodigia et signa per apostolos fiebant in Hierusalem et metus erat magnus in universis

2:44. And all they that believed were together and had all things common.

Omnes etiam qui credebant erant pariter et habebant omnia communia

2:45. Their possessions and goods they sold and divided them to all, according as every one had need.

Possessiones et substantias vendebant et dividebant illa omnibus prout cuique opus erat

2:46. And continuing daily with one accord in the temple and breaking bread from house to house, they took their meat with gladness and simplicity of heart:

Cotidie quoque perdurantes unanimiter in templo et frangentes circa domos panem sumebant cibum cum exultatione et simplicitate cordis

2:47. Praising God and having favour with all the people. And the Lord increased daily together such as should be saved.

Conlaudantes Deum et habentes gratiam ad omnem plebem Dominus autem augebat qui salvi fierent cotidie in id ipsum

Acts Chapter 3

The miracle upon the lame man, followed by the conversion of many.

---

3:1. Now Peter and John went up into the temple at the ninth hour of prayer.

Petrus autem et Iohannes ascendebant in templum ad horam orationis nonam

3:2. And a certain man who was lame from his mother's womb was carried: whom they laid every day at the gate of the temple, which is called Beautiful, that he might ask alms of them that went into the temple.

Et quidam vir qui erat claudus ex utero matris suae baiulabatur quem ponebant cotidie ad portam templi quae dicitur Speciosa ut peteret elemosynam ab introeuntibus in templum

3:3. He, when he had seen Peter and John, about to go into the temple, asked to receive an alms.

Is cum vidisset Petrum et Iohannem incipientes introire in templum rogabat ut elemosynam acciperet

3:4. But Peter with John, fastening his eyes upon him, said: Look upon us.

Intuens autem in eum Petrus cum Iohanne dixit respice in nos

3:5. But he looked earnestly upon them, hoping that he should receive something of them.

At ille intendebat in eos sperans se aliquid accepturum ab eis

3:6. But Peter said: Silver and gold I have none; but what I have, I give thee. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, arise and walk.

Petrus autem dixit argentum et aurum non est mihi quod autem habeo hoc tibi do in nomine Iesu Christi Nazareni surge et ambula

3:7. And taking him by the right hand, he lifted him up: and forthwith his feet and soles received strength.

Et adprehensa ei manu dextera adlevavit eum et protinus consolidatae sunt bases eius et plantae

3:8. And he leaping up, stood and walked and went in with them into the temple, walking and leaping and praising God.

Et exiliens stetit et ambulabat et intravit cum illis in templum ambulans et exiliens et laudans Dominum

3:9. And all the people saw him walking and praising God.

Et vidit omnis populus eum ambulantem et laudantem Deum

3:10. And they knew him, that it was he who sat begging alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened to him.

Cognoscebant autem illum quoniam ipse erat qui ad elemosynam sedebat ad Speciosam portam templi et impleti sunt stupore et extasi in eo quod contigerat illi

3:11. And as he held Peter and John, all the people ran to them, to the porch which is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

Cum teneret autem Petrum et Iohannem concurrerit omnis populus ad eos ad porticum qui appellatur Salomonis stupentes

3:12. But Peter seeing, made answer to the people: Ye men of Israel, why wonder you at this? Or why look you upon us, as if by our strength or power we had made this man to walk?

Videns autem Petrus respondit ad populum viri israhelitae quid miramini in hoc aut nos quid intuemini quasi nostra virtute aut pietate fecerimus hunc ambulare

3:13. The God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus, whom you indeed delivered up and denied before the face of Pilate, when he judged he should be released.

Deus Abraham et Deus Isaac et Deus Iacob Deus patrum nostrorum glorificavit Filium suum Iesum quem vos quidem tradidistis et negastis ante faciem Pilati iudicante illo dimitti

3:14. But you denied the Holy One and the Just: and desired a murderer to be granted unto you.
Vos autem sanctum et iustum negastis et petistis virum homicidam donari vobis

3:15. But the author of life you killed, whom God hath raised from the dead: of which we are witnesses.
Auctorem vero vitae interfecistis quem Deus suscitavit a mortuis cuius nos testes sumus

3:16. And in the faith of his name, this man, whom you have seen and known, hath his name strengthened. And the faith which is by him hath given this perfect soundness in the sight of you all.
Et in fide nominis eius hunc quem videtis et nostis confirmavit nomen eius et fides quae per eum est dedit integram sanitatem istam in conspectu omnium vestrum

3:17. And now, brethren, I know that you did it through ignorance: as did also your rulers.
Et nunc fratres scio quia per ignorantiam fecistis sicut et principes vestri

3:18. But those things which God before had showed by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.
Deus autem quae praenuntiavit per os omnium prophetarum pati Christum suum implevit sic

3:19. Be penitent, therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out.
Paenitemini igitur et convertimini ut deleantur vestra peccata

3:20. That when the times of refreshment shall come from the presence of the Lord, and he shall send him who hath been preached unto you, Jesus Christ.
Ut cum venerint tempora refrigerii a conspectu Domini et miserit eum qui praedicatus est vobis Iesum Christum

3:21. Whom heaven indeed must receive, until the times of the restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of his holy prophets, from the beginning of the world.
Quem oportet caelum quidem suscipere usque in tempora restitutionis omnium quae locutus est Deus per os sanctorum suorum a saeculo prophetarum

3:22. For Moses said: A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me: him you shall hear according to all things whatsoever he shall speak to you.
Moses quidem dixit quia prophetam vobis suscitabit Dominus Deus vester de fratribus vestris tamquam me ipsum audietis iuxta omnia quaecumque locutus fuerit vobis

3:23. And it shall be, that every soul which will not hear that prophet shall be destroyed from among the people.
Erit autem omnis anima quae non audierit prophetam illum exterminabitur de plebe

3:24. And all the prophets, from Samuel and afterwards, who have spoken, have told of these days.
Et omnes prophetae a Samuhel et deinceps qui locuti sunt et adnuntiaverunt dies istos

3:25. You are the children of the prophets and of the testament which God made to our fathers, saying to Abraham: And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.
Vos estis filii prophetarum et testamenti quod disposuit Deus ad patres vestros dicens ad Abraham et in semine tuo benedicentur omnes familiae terrae

3:26. To you first, God, raising up his Son, hath sent him to bless you: that every one may convert himself from his wickedness.
Vobis primum Deus suscitans Filium suum misit eum benedicientem vobis ut convertat se unusquisque a nequitia sua

Acts Chapter 4

Peter and John are apprehended. Their constancy. The church is increased.

4:1. And as they were speaking to the people the priests and the officer of the temple and the Sadducees came upon them,

Loquentibus autem illis ad populum supervenerunt sacerdotes et magistratus templi et Sadducaeii

4:2. Being grieved that they taught the people and preached in Jesus the resurrection from the dead:

Dolentes quod docerent populum et adhuriarent in Iesu resurrectionem ex mortuis

4:3. And they laid hands upon them and put them in hold till the next day: for it was now evening.

Et iniecerunt in eis manus et posuerunt eos in custodiam in crastinum erat enim iam vespera

4:4. But many of them who had heard the word believed: and the number of the men was made five thousand.

Multi autem eorum qui audierant verbum crediderunt et factus est numerus virorum quinque milia

4:5. And it came to pass on the morrow, that their princes and ancients and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem.

Factum est autem in crastinum ut congregarentur principes eorum et seniores et scribae in Hierusalem

4:6. And Annas the high priest and Caiphas and John and Alexander: and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest.

Et Annas princeps sacerdotum et Caiphas et Iohannes et Alexander et quotquot erant de genere sacerdotali

4:7. And setting them in the midst, they asked: By what power or by what name, have you done this?

Et statuentes eos in medio interrogabant in qua virtute aut in quo nomine fecistis hoc vos

4:8. Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said to them: Ye princes of the people and ancients, hear.

Tunc Petrus repletus Spiritu Sancto dixit ad eos principes populi et seniores

4:9. If we this day are examined concerning the good deed done to the infirm man, by what means he hath been made whole:

Si nos hodie diiudicamur in benefacto hominis infirmi in quo iste salvus factus est

4:10. Be it known to you all and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom you crucified, whom God hath raised from the dead, even by him, this man standeth here before you, whole.

Notum sit omnibus vobis et omni plebi Israhel quia in nomine Iesu Christi Nazareni quem vos crucifixistis quem Deus suscitavit a mortuis in hoc iste adstat coram vobis sanus

4:11. This is the stone which was rejected by you the builders, which is become the head of the corner.

Hic est lapis qui reprobatus est a vobis aedificantibus qui factus est in caput anguli

4:12. Neither is there salvation in any other. For there is no other name under heaven given to men, whereby we must be saved.

Et non est in alio aliquo salus nec enim nomen aliud est sub caelo datum hominibus in quo oportet nos salvos fieri

4:13. Now seeing the constancy of Peter and of John, understanding that they were illiterate and ignorant men, they wondered: and they knew them that they had been with Jesus.

Videntes autem Petri constantiam et Iohannis conperto quod homines essent sine litteris et idiotae admirabantur et cognoscebant eos quoniam cum Iesu fuerant

4:14. Seeing the man also who had been healed, standing with them, they could say nothing against it.
Hominem quoque videntes stantem cum eis qui curatus fuerat nihil poterant contradicere

4:15. But they commanded them to go aside out of the council: and they conferred among themselves,
Iusserunt autem eos foras extra concilium secedere et conferebant ad invicem

4:16. Saying: What shall we do to these men? For indeed a miracle hath been done by them, known to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem. It is manifest: and we cannot deny it.
Dicentes quid faciemus hominibus istis quoniam quidem notum signum factum est per eos omnibus habitantibus in Hierusalem manifestum et non possumus negare

4:17. But that it may be no farther spread among the people, let us threaten them that they speak no more in this name to any man.
Sed ne amplius divulgetur in populum comminemur eis ne ultra loquantur in nomine hoc ulli hominum

4:18. And calling them, they charged them not to speak at all, nor teach in the name of Jesus.
Et vocantes eos denunciaverunt ne omnino loquerentur neque docerent in nomine Iesu

4:19. But Peter and John answering, said to them: If it be just, in the sight of God, to hear you rather than God, judge ye.
Petrus vero et Iohannes respondentes dixerunt ad eos si iustum est in conspectu Dei vos potius audire quam Deum iudicate

4:20. For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.
Non enim possumus quae vidimus et audivimus non loqui

4:21. But they, threatening, sent them away, not finding how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified what had been done, in that which had come to pass.
At illi comminantes dimiserunt eos non invenientes quomodo punirent eos propter populum quia omnes clarificabant Deum in eo quod acciderat

4:22. For the man was above forty years old, in whom that miraculous cure had been wrought.
Annorum enim erat amplius quadraginta homo in quo factum erat signum istud sanitatis

4:23. And being let go, they came to their own company and related all that the chief priests and ancients had said to them.
Dimissi autem venerunt ad suos et adnuntiaverunt eis quanta ad eos principes sacerdotum et seniores dixissent

4:24. Who having heard it, with one accord lifted up their voice to God and said: Lord, thou art he that didst make heaven and earth, the sea and all things that are in them.
Qui cum audissent unanimitè levaverunt vocem ad Deum et dixerunt Domine tu qui fecisti caelum et terram et mare et omnia quae in eis sunt

4:25. Who, by the Holy Ghost, by the mouth of our father David, thy servant, hast said: Why did the Gentiles rage: and the people meditate vain things?
Qui Spiritu Sancto per os patris nostri David pueri tui dixisti quare fremuerunt gentes et populi meditati sunt inania

4:26. The kings of the earth stood up: and the princes assembled together against the Lord and his Christ.
Adstiterunt reges terrae et principes convenerunt in unum adversus Dominum et adversus Christum eius

4:27. For of a truth there assembled together in this city against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel,
Convenerunt enim vere in civitate ista adversus sanctum puerum tuum Iesum quem unxisti Herodes et Pontius Pilatus cum gentibus et populis Israhel

4:28. To do what thy hand and thy counsel decreed to be done.
Facere quae manus tua et consilium decreverunt fieri

4:29. And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants that with all confidence they may speak thy word,
Et nunc Domine respice in minas eorum et da servis tuis cum omni fiducia loqui verbum tuum

4:30. By stretching forth thy hand to cures and signs and wonders, to be done by the name of thy holy Son, Jesus.

In eo cum manum tuam extendas sanitates et signa et prodigia fieri per nomen sancti Filii tui Iesu

4:31. And when they had prayed, the place was moved wherein they were assembled: and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost: and they spoke the word of God with confidence.

Et cum orassent motus est locus in quo erant congregati et repleti sunt omnes Spiritu Sancto et loquebantur verbum Dei cum fiducia

4:32. And the multitude of believers had but one heart and one soul. Neither did any one say that aught of the things which he possessed was his own: but all things were common unto them.

Multitudinis autem credentium erat cor et anima una nec quisquam eorum quae possidebant aliquid suum esse dicebat sed erant illis omnia communia

4:33. And with great power did the Apostles give testimony of the resurrection of Jesus Christ our Lord: and great grace was in them all.

Et virtute magna reddebant apostoli testimonium resurrectionis Iesu Christi Domini et gratia magna erat in omnibus illis

4:34. For neither was there any one needy among them. For as many as were owners of lands or houses sold them and brought the price of the things they sold,

Neque enim quisquam egens erat inter illos quotquot enim possessores agrorum aut domorum erant vendentes adferebant pretia eorum quae vendebant

4:35. And laid it down before the feet of the apostles. And distribution was made to every one, according as he had need.

Et ponebant ante pedes apostolorum dividebantur autem singulis prout cuique opus erat

4:36. And Joseph, who, by the apostles, was surnamed Barnabas (which is, by interpretation, The son of consolation), a Levite, a Cyprian born,

Ioseph autem qui cognominatus est Barnabas ab apostolis quod est interpretatum Filius consolationis Levites Cyprius genere

4:37. Having land, sold it and brought the price and laid it at the feet of the Apostles.

Cum haberet agrum vendidit illum et adtulit pretium et posuit ante pedes apostolorum

Acts Chapter 5

The judgment of God upon Ananias and Saphira. The apostles are cast into prison.

---

5:1. But a certain man named Ananias, with Saphira his wife, sold a piece of land,
Vir autem quidam nomine Ananias cum Saffira uxore sua vendidit agrum

5:2. And by fraud kept back part of the price of the land, his wife being privy thereunto: and bringing a certain part of it, laid it at the feet of the apostles.
Et fraudavit de pretio agri conscia uxore sua et adferens partem quandam ad pedes apostolorum posuit

5:3. But Peter said: Ananias, why hath Satan tempted thy heart, that thou shouldst lie to the Holy Ghost and by fraud keep part of the price of the land?
Dixit autem Petrus Anania cur temptavit Satanas cor tuum mentiri te Spiritui Sancto et fraudare de pretio agri

5:4. Whilst it remained, did it not remain to thee? And after it was sold, was it not in thy power? Why hast thou conceived this thing in thy heart? Thou hast not lied to men, but to God.
Nonne manens tibi manebat et venundatum in tua erat potestate quare posuisti in corde tuo hanc rem non es mentitus hominibus sed Deo

5:5. And Ananias, hearing these words, fell down and gave up the ghost. And there came great fear upon all that heard it.
Audiens autem Ananias haec verba cecidit et exspiravit et factus est timor magnus in omnes qui audierant

5:6. And the young men rising up, removed him, and carrying him out, buried him.
Surgentes autem iuvenes amoverunt eum et efferentes sepelierunt

5:7. And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what had happened, came in.
Factum est autem quasi horarum trium spatium et uxor ipsius nesciens quod factum fuerat introiit

5:8. And Peter said to her: Tell me, woman, whether you sold the land for so much? And she said: Yea, for so much.
Respondit autem ei Petrus dic mihi si tanti agrum vendidistis at illa dixit etiam tanti

5:9. And Peter said unto her: Why have you agreed together to tempt the spirit of the Lord? Behold the feet of them who have buried thy husband are at the door: and they shall carry thee out,
Petrus autem ad eam quid utique convenit vobis temptare Spiritum Domini ecce pedes eorum qui sepelierunt virum tuum ad ostium et efferent te

5:10. Immediately, she fell down before his feet and gave up the ghost. And the young men coming in found her dead: and carried her out and buried her by her husband.
Confestim cecidit ante pedes eius et exspiravit intrantes autem iuvenes invenerunt illam mortuam et extulerunt et sepelierunt ad virum suum

5:11. And there came great fear upon the whole church and upon all that heard these things.
Et factus est timor magnus in universa ecclesia et in omnes qui audierunt haec

5:12. And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people. And they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.
Per manus autem apostolorum fiebant signa et prodigia multa in plebe et erant unianimiter omnes in porticu Salomonis

5:13. But of the rest no man durst join himself unto them: but the people magnified them.
Ceterorum autem nemo audebat coniungere se illis sed magnificabat eos populus

5:14. And the multitude of men and women who believed in the Lord was more increased:
Magis autem augebatur credentium in Domino multitudo virorum ac mulierum

5:15. Insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets and laid them on beds and couches, that, when Peter came, his shadow at the least might overshadow any of them and they might be delivered from their infirmities.

Ita ut in plateas eicerent infirmos et ponerent in lectulis et grabattis ut veniente Petro saltim umbra illius obumbraret quemquam eorum

5:16. And there came also together to Jerusalem a multitude out of the neighbouring cities, bringing sick persons and such as were troubled with unclean spirits: who were all healed.

Concurrerat autem et multitudo vicinarum civitatum Hierusalem adferentes aegros et vexatos ab spiritibus inmundis qui curabantur omnes

5:17. Then the high priest rising up, and all they that were with him (which is the heresy of the Sadducees) were filled with envy.

Exsurgens autem princeps sacerdotum et omnes qui cum illo erant quae est heresis Sadducaeorum repleti sunt zelo

5:18. And they laid hands on the apostles and put them in the common prison.

Et iniecerunt manus in apostolos et posuerunt illos in custodia publica

5:19. But an angel of the Lord by night, opening the doors of the prison and leading them out, said:

Angelus autem Domini per noctem aperiens ianuas carceris et educens eos dixit

5:20. Go, and standing speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

Ite et stantes loquimini in templo plebi omnia verba vitae huius

5:21. Who having heard this, early in the morning, entered into the temple and taught. And the high priest coming, and they that were with him, called together the council and all the ancients of the children of Israel: and they sent to the prison to have them brought.

Qui cum audissent intraverunt diluculo in templum et docebant adveniens autem princeps sacerdotum et qui cum eo erant convocaverunt concilium et omnes seniores filiorum Israhel et miserunt in carcerem ut adducerentur

5:22. But when the ministers came and opening the prison found them not there, they returned and told,

Cum venissent autem ministri et aperto carcere non invenissent illos reversi nuntiaverunt

5:23. Saying: The prison indeed we found shut with all diligence, and the keepers standing before the door: but opening it, we found no man within.

Dicentes carcerem quidem invenimus clausum cum omni diligentia et custodes stantes ad ianuas aperientes autem neminem intus invenimus

5:24. Now when the officer of the temple and the chief priests heard these words, they were in doubt concerning them, what would come to pass.

Ut audierunt autem hos sermones magistratus templi et principes sacerdotum ambigebant de illis quidnam fieret

5:25. But one came and told them: Behold, the men whom you put in prison are in the temple, standing and teaching the people.

Adveniens autem quidam nuntiavit eis quia ecce viri quos posuistis in carcere sunt in templo stantes et docentes populum

5:26. Then went the officer with the ministers and brought them without violence: for they feared the people, lest they should be stoned.

Tunc abiit magistratus cum ministris et adduxit illos sine vi timebant enim populum ne lapidarentur

5:27. And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest asked them,

Et cum adduxissent illos statuerunt in concilio et interrogavit eos princeps sacerdotum

5:28. Saying: Commanding, we commanded you that you should not teach in this name. And behold, you have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine: and you have a mind to bring the blood of this man upon us.

Dicens praecipiendo praecepimus vobis ne doceretis in nomine isto et ecce replestis Hierusalem doctrina vestra et vultis inducere super nos sanguinem hominis istius

5:29. But Peter and the apostles answering, said: We ought to obey God rather than men.

Respondens autem Petrus et apostoli dixerunt oboedire oportet Deo magis quam hominibus

5:30. The God of our fathers hath raised up Jesus, whom you put to death, hanging him upon a tree.

Deus patrum nostrorum suscitavit Iesum quem vos interemistis suspendentes in ligno

5:31. Him hath God exalted with his right hand, to be Prince and Saviour. to give repentance to Israel and remission of sins.

Hunc Deus principem et salvatorem exaltavit dextera sua ad dandam paenitentiam Israhel et remissionem peccatorum

5:32. And we are witnesses of these things: and the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to all that obey him.

Et nos sumus testes horum verborum et Spiritus Sanctus quem dedit Deus omnibus oboedientibus sibi

5:33. When they had heard these things, they were cut to the heart: and they thought to put them to death.

Haec cum audissent dissecabantur et cogitabant interficere illos

5:34. But one in the council rising up, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, respected by all the people, commanded the men to be put forth a little while.

Surgens autem quidam in concilio Pharisaeus nomine Gamaliel legis doctor honorabilis universae plebi iussit foras ad breve homines fieri

5:35. And he said to them: Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what you intend to do, as touching these men.

Dixitque ad illos viri israhelitae adtendite vobis super hominibus istis quid acturi sitis

5:36. For before these days rose up Theodas, affirming himself to be somebody, to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves. Who was slain: and all that believed him were scattered and brought to nothing.

Ante hos enim dies extitit Theodas dicens esse se aliquem cui consensit virorum numerus circiter quadringentorum qui occisus est et omnes quicumque credebant ei dissipati sunt et redactus est ad nihilum

5:37. After this man, rose up Judas of Galilee, in the days of the enrolling, and drew away the people after him. He also perished: and all, even as many as consented to him, were dispersed.

Post hunc extitit Iudas Galilaeus in diebus professionis et avertit populum post se et ipse periit et omnes quotquot consenserunt ei dispersi sunt

5:38. And now, therefore, I say to you: Refrain from these men and let them alone. For if this council or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

Et nunc itaque dico vobis discedite ab hominibus istis et sinite illos quoniam si est ex hominibus consilium hoc aut opus dissolvetur

5:39. But if it be of God, you cannot overthrow it, lest perhaps you be found even to fight against God. And they consented to him.

Si vero ex Deo est non poteritis dissolvere eos ne forte et Deo repugnare inveniamini consenserunt autem illi

5:40. And calling in the apostles, after they had scourged them, they charged them that they should not speak at all in the name of Jesus. And they dismissed them.

Et convocantes apostolos caesis denuntiaverunt ne loquerentur in nomine Iesu et dimiserunt eos

5:41. And they indeed went from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were accounted worthy to suffer reproach for the name of Jesus.

Et illi quidem ibant gaudentes a conspectu concilii quoniam digni habiti sunt pro nomine Iesu contumeliam pati

5:42. And every day they ceased not, in the temple and from house to house, to teach and preach Christ Jesus.

Omni autem die in templo et circa domos non cessabant docentes et evangelizantes Christum Iesum

Acts Chapter 6

The ordination of the seven deacons. The zeal of Stephen.

---

6:1. And in those days, the number of the disciples increasing, there arose a murmuring of the Greeks against the Hebrews, for that their widows were neglected in the daily ministrations.

In diebus autem illis crescente numero discipulorum factus est murmur Graecorum adversus Hebraeos eo quod dispicerentur in ministerio cotidiano viduae eorum Greeks... So they called the Jews that were born and brought up in Greece.

6:2. Then the twelve, calling together the multitude of the disciples, said: It is not reason that we should leave the word of God and serve tables.

Convocantes autem duodecim multitudinem discipulorum dixerunt non est aequum nos derelinquere verbum Dei et ministrare mensis

6:3. Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of good reputation, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

Considerate ergo fratres viros ex vobis boni testimonii septem plenos Spiritu et sapientia quos constituamus super hoc opus

6:4. But we will give ourselves continually to prayer and to the ministry of the word.

Nos vero orationi et ministerio verbi instantes erimus

6:5. And the saying was liked by all the multitude. And they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip and Prochorus and Nicanor, and Timon and Parmenas and Nicolas, a proselyte of Antioch.

Et placuit sermo coram omni multitudine et elegerunt Stephanum virum plenum fide et Spiritu Sancto et Philippum et Prochorum et Nicanorem et Timonem et Parmenam et Nicolaum advenam Antiochenum

6:6. These they set before the apostles: and they praying, imposed hands upon them.

Hos statuerunt ante conspectum apostolorum et orantes inposuerunt eis manus

6:7. And the word of the Lord increased: and the number of the disciples was multiplied in Jerusalem exceedingly. A great multitude also of the priests obeyed the faith.

Et verbum Dei crescebat et multiplicabatur numerus discipulorum in Hierusalem valde multa etiam turba sacerdotum oboediebat fidei

6:8. And Stephen, full of grace and fortitude, did great wonders and signs among the people.

Stephanus autem plenus gratia et fortitudine faciebat prodigia et signa magna in populo

6:9. Now there arose some, of that which is called the synagogue of the Libertines and of the Cyrenians and of the Alexandrians and of them that were of Cilicia and Asia, disputing with Stephen.

Surrexerunt autem quidam de synagoga quae appellatur Libertinorum et Cyrenensium et Alexandrinorum et eorum qui erant a Cilicia et Asia disputantes cum Stephano

6:10. And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit that spoke.

Et non poterant resistere sapientiae et Spiritui quo loquebatur

6:11. Then they suborned men to say they had heard him speak words of blasphemy against Moses and against God.

Tunc submiserunt viros qui dicerent se audisse eum dicentem verba blasphemiae in Mosen et Deum

6:12. And they stirred up the people and the ancients and the scribes. And running together, they took him and brought him to the council.

Commoverunt itaque plebem et seniores et scribas et concurrentes rapuerunt eum et adduxerunt in concilium

6:13. And they set up false witnesses, who said: This man ceaseth not to speak words against the holy place and the law.

Et statuerunt testes falsos dicentes homo iste non cessat loqui verba adversus locum sanctum et legem

6:14. For we have heard him say that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place and shall change the traditions which Moses delivered unto us.

Audivimus enim eum dicentem quoniam Iesus Nazarenus hic destruet locum istum et mutabit traditiones quas tradidit nobis Moses

6:15. And all that sat in the council, looking on him, saw his face as if it had been the face of an angel.

Et intuentes eum omnes qui sedebant in concilio viderunt faciem eius tamquam faciem angeli

Acts Chapter 7

Stephen's speech before the council. His martyrdom.

7:1. Then the high priest said: Are these things so?

Dixit autem princeps sacerdotum si haec ita se habent

7:2. Who said: Ye men, brethren and fathers, hear. The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charan.

Qui ait viri fratres et patres audite Deus gloriae apparuit patri nostro Abraham cum esset in Mesopotamiam priusquam moraretur in Charram

7:3. And said to him: Go forth out of thy country and from thy kindred: and come into the land which I shall show thee.

Et dixit ad illum exi de terra tua et de cognatione tua et veni in terram quam tibi monstravero

7:4. Then he went out of the land of the Chaldeans and dwelt in Charan. And from thence, after his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein you now dwell.

Tunc exiit de terra Chaldeorum et habitavit in Charram et inde postquam mortuus est pater eius transtulit illum in terram istam in qua nunc vos habitatis

7:5. And he gave him no inheritance in it: no, not the pace of a foot. But he promised to give it him in possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

Et non dedit illi hereditatem in ea nec passum pedis et repromisit dare illi eam in possessionem et semini eius post ipsum cum non haberet filium

7:6. And God said to him: That his seed should sojourn in a strange country, and that they should bring them under bondage and treat them evil four hundred years.

Locutus est autem Deus quia erit semen eius accola in terra aliena et servituti eos subicient et male tractabunt eos annis quadringentis

7:7. And the nation which they shall serve will I judge (said the Lord): and after these things they shall go out and shall serve me in this place.

Et gentem cui servierint iudicabo ego dixit Deus et post haec exhibunt et deservient mihi in loco isto

7:8. And he gave him the covenant of circumcision. And so he begot Isaac and circumcised him the eighth day: and Isaac begot Jacob: and Jacob, the twelve patriarchs.

Et dedit illi testamentum circumcisionis et sic genuit Isaac et circumcidit eum die octava et Isaac Iacob et Iacob duodecim patriarchas

7:9. And the patriarchs, through envy, sold Joseph into Egypt. And God was with him,

Et patriarchae aemulantes Ioseph vendiderunt in Aegyptum et erat Deus cum eo

7:10. And delivered him out of all his tribulations: and he gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharao, the king of Egypt. And he appointed him governor over Egypt and over all his house.

Et eripuit eum ex omnibus tribulationibus eius et dedit ei gratiam et sapientiam in conspectu Pharaonis regis Aegypti et constituit eum praepositum super Aegyptum et super omnem domum suam

7:11. Now there came a famine upon all Egypt and Chanaan, and great tribulation: and our fathers found no food.

Venit autem fames in universam Aegyptum et Chanaan et tribulatio magna et non inveniebant cibos patres nostri

7:12. But when Jacob had heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent our fathers first.

Cum audisset autem Iacob esse frumentum in Aegypto misit patres nostros primum

7:13. And at the second time, Joseph was known by his brethren: and his kindred was made known to Pharao.

Et in secundo cognitus est Ioseph a fratribus suis et manifestatum est Pharaoni genus eius

7:14. And Joseph sending, called thither Jacob, his father, and all his kindred, seventy-five souls.

Mittens autem Ioseph accersivit Iacob patrem suum et omnem cognationem in animabus septuaginta quinque

7:15. So Jacob went down into Egypt. And he died, and our fathers.

Et descendit Iacob in Aegyptum et defunctus est ipse et patres nostri

7:16. And they were translated into Sichem and were laid in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Hemor, the son of Sichem.

Et translati sunt in Sychem et positi sunt in sepulchro quod emit Abraham pretio argenti a filiis Emmor filii Sychem

7:17. And when the time of the promise drew near, which God had promised to Abraham, the people increased and were multiplied in Egypt.

Cum adpropinquaret autem tempus repromissionis quam confessus erat Deus Abrahae crevit populus et multiplicatus est in Aegypto

7:18. Till another king arose in Egypt, who knew not Joseph.

Quoadusque surrexit rex alius in Aegypto qui non sciebat Ioseph

7:19. This same, dealing craftily with our race, afflicted our fathers, that they should expose their children, to the end they might not be kept alive.

Hic circumveniens genus nostrum adflixit patres ut exponerent infantes suos ne vivificarentur

7:20. At the same time was Moses born: and he was acceptable to God. Who was nourished three months in his father's house.

Eodem tempore natus est Moses et fuit gratus Deo qui nutritus est tribus mensibus in domo patris sui

7:21. And when he was exposed, Pharao's daughter took him up and nourished him for her own son.

Exposito autem illo sustulit eum filia Pharaonis et enutrivit eum sibi in filium

7:22. And Moses was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians: and he was mighty in his words and in his deeds.

Et eruditus est Moses omni sapientia Aegyptiorum et erat potens in verbis et in operibus suis

7:23. And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren, the children of Israel.

Cum autem impleretur ei quadraginta annorum tempus ascendit in cor eius ut visitaret fratres suos filios Israhel

7:24. And when he had seen one of them suffer wrong, he defended him: and striking the Egyptian, he avenged him who suffered the injury.

Et cum vidisset quendam iniuriam patientem vindicavit illum et fecit ultionem ei qui iniuriam sustinebat percusso Aegypto

7:25. And he thought that his brethren understood that God by his hand would save them. But they understood it not.

Existimabat autem intellegere fratres quoniam Deus per manum ipsius daret salutem illis at illi non intellexerunt

7:26. And the day following, he showed himself to them when they were at strife and would have reconciled them in peace, saying: Men, ye are brethren. Why hurt you one another?

Sequenti vero die apparuit illis litigantibus et reconciliabat eos in pacem dicens viri fratres estis ut quid nocetis alterutrum

7:27. But he that did the injury to his neighbour thrust him away, saying: Who hath appointed thee prince and judge over us:

Qui autem iniuriam faciebat proximo reppulit eum dicens quis te constituit principem et iudicem super nos

7:28. What! Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst yesterday kill the Egyptian?
Numquid interficere me tu vis quemadmodum interfecisti heri Aegyptium

7:29. And Moses fled upon this word: and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begot two sons.
Fugit autem Moses in verbo isto et factus est advena in terra Madiam ubi generavit filios duos

7:30. And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him, in the desert of mount Sina, an angel in a flame of fire in a bush.
Et expletis annis quadraginta apparuit illi in deserto montis Sina angelus in igne flammae rubi

7:31. And Moses seeing it wondered at the sight. And as he drew near to view it, the voice of the Lord came unto him, saying:
Moses autem videns admiratus est visum et accedente illo ut consideraret facta est vox Domini

7:32. I am the God of thy fathers: the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob. And Moses being terrified durst not behold.
Ego Deus patrum tuorum Deus Abraham et Deus Isaac et Deus Iacob tremefactus autem Moses non audebat considerare

7:33. And the Lord said to him: Loose the shoes from thy feet: for the place wherein thou standest is holy ground.
Dixit autem illi Dominus solve calciamentum pedum tuorum locus enim in quo stas terra sancta est

7:34. Seeing, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt: and I have heard their groaning and am come down to deliver them. And now come: and I will send thee into Egypt.
Videns vidi afflictionem populi mei qui est in Aegypto et gemitum eorum audivi et descendi liberare eos et nunc veni et mittam te in Aegyptum

7:35. This Moses, whom they refused, saying: Who hath appointed thee prince and judge? Him God sent to be prince and redeemer, by the hand of the angel who appeared to him in the burning bush.
Hunc Mosen quem negaverunt dicentes quis te constituit principem et iudicem hunc Deus principem et redemptorem misit cum manu angeli qui apparuit illi in rubo

7:36. He brought them out, doing wonders and signs in the land of Egypt and in the Red Sea and in the desert, forty years.
Hic eduxit illos faciens prodigia et signa in terra Aegypti et in Rubro mari et in deserto annis quadraginta

7:37. This is that Moses who said to the children of Israel: A prophet shall God raise up to you of your own brethren, as myself. Him shall you hear.
Hic est Moses qui dixit filiis Israhel prophetam vobis suscitabit Deus de fratribus vestris tamquam me

7:38. This is he that was in the church in the wilderness, with the angel who spoke to him on Mount Sina and with our fathers. Who received the words of life to give unto us.
Hic est qui fuit in ecclesia in solitudine cum angelo qui loquebatur ei in monte Sina et cum patribus nostris qui accepit verba vitae dare nobis

7:39. Whom our fathers would not obey: but thrust him away and in their hearts turned back into Egypt,
Cui noluerunt oboedire patres nostri sed reppulerunt et aversi sunt cordibus suis in Aegyptum

7:40. Saying to Aaron: Make us gods to go before us. For as for this Moses, who brought us out of the land of Egypt, we know not what is become of him.
Dicentes ad Aaron fac nobis deos qui praecedant nos Moses enim hic qui eduxit nos de terra Aegypti nescimus quid factum sit ei

7:41. And they made a calf in those days and offered sacrifices to the idol and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.
Et vitulum fecerunt in illis diebus et obtulerunt hostiam simulacro et laetabantur in operibus manuum suarum

7:42. And God turned and gave them up to serve the host of heaven, as it is written in the books of the prophets: Did you offer victims and sacrifices to me for forty years, in the desert, O house of Israel?
Convertit autem Deus et tradidit eos servire militiae caeli sicut scriptum est in libro Prophetarum numquid victimas aut hostias obtulistis mihi annis quadraginta in deserto domus Israhel

7:43. And you took unto you the tabernacle of Moloch and the star of your god Rempham, figures which you made to adore them. And I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

Et suscepistis tabernaculum Moloch et sidus dei vestri Rempham figuras quas fecistis adorare eas et transferam vos trans Babylonem

7:44. The tabernacle of the testimony was with our fathers in the desert, as God ordained for them, speaking to Moses, that he should make it according to the form which he had seen.

Tabernaculum testimonii fuit patribus nostris in deserto sicut disposuit loquens ad Mosen ut faceret illud secundum formam quam viderat

7:45. Which also our fathers receiving, brought in with Jesus, into the possession of the Gentiles: whom God drove out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of David,

Quod et induxerunt suscipientes patres nostri cum Iesu in possessionem gentium quas expulit Deus a facie patrum nostrorum usque in diebus David

Jesus... That is Josue, so called in Greek.

7:46. Who found grace before God and desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.

Qui invenit gratiam ante Deum et petiit ut inveniret tabernaculum Deo Iacob

7:47. But Solomon built him a house,

Salomon autem aedificavit illi domum

7:48. Yet the most High dwelleth not in houses made by hands, as the prophet saith:

Sed non Excelsus in manufactis habitat sicut propheta dicit

Dwelleth not in houses, etc... That is, so as to stand in need of earthly dwellings, or to be contained, or circumscribed by them. Though, otherwise by his immense divinity, he is in our houses; and every where else; and Christ in his humanity dwelt in houses; and is now on our altars.

7:49. Heaven is my throne and the earth my footstool. What house will you build me (saith the Lord)? Or what is the place of my resting?

Caelum mihi sedis est terra autem scabillum pedum meorum quam domum aedificabitis mihi dicit Dominus aut quis locus requietionis meae est

7:50. Hath not my hand made all these things?

Nonne manus mea fecit haec omnia

7:51. You stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, you always resist the Holy Ghost. As your fathers did, so do you also.

Dura cervice et incircumcisi cordibus et auribus vos semper Spiritui Sancto resistitis sicut patres vestri et vos

7:52. Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? And they have slain them who foretold of the coming of the Just One: of whom you have been now the betrayers and murderers.

Quem prophetarum non sunt persecuti patres vestri et occiderunt eos qui praenuntiabant de adventu Iusti cuius vos nunc proditores et homicidae fuistis

7:53. Who have received the law by the disposition of angels and have not kept it.

Qui accepistis legem in dispositionem angelorum et non custodistis

7:54. Now hearing these things, they were cut to the heart: and they gnashed with their teeth at him.

Audientes autem haec dissecabantur cordibus suis et stridebant dentibus in eum

7:55. But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looking up steadfastly to heaven, saw the glory of God and Jesus standing on the right hand of God. And he said: Behold, I see the heavens opened and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

Cum autem esset plenus Spiritu Sancto intendens in caelum vidit gloriam Dei et Iesum stantem a dextris Dei et ait ecce video caelos apertos et Filium hominis a dextris stantem Dei

7:56. And they, crying out with a loud voice, stopped their ears and with one accord ran violently upon him.

Exclamantes autem voce magna continuerunt aures suas et impetum fecerunt unianimiter in eum

7:57. And casting him forth without the city, they stoned him. And the witnesses laid down their garments at the feet of a young man, whose name was Saul.

Et eicientes eum extra civitatem lapidabant et testes deposuerunt vestimenta sua secus pedes adolescentis qui vocabatur Saulus

7:58. And they stoned Stephen, invoking and saying: Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.

Et lapidabant Stephanum invocantem et dicentem Domine Iesu suscipe spiritum meum

7:59. And falling on his knees, he cried with a loud voice, saying: Lord, lay not his sin to their charge: And when he had said this, he fell asleep in the Lord. And Saul was consenting to his death.

Positis autem genibus clamavit voce magna Domine ne statuas illis hoc peccatum et cum hoc dixisset obdormivit Saulus autem erat consentiens neci eius

Acts Chapter 8

Philip converts the Samaritans and baptizes the eunuch.

8:1. And at that time, there was raised a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem. And they were all dispersed through the countries of Judea, and Samarita, except the apostles.

Facta est autem in illa die persecutio magna in ecclesia quae erat Hierosolymis et omnes dispersi sunt per regiones Iudaeae et Samariae praeter apostolos

8:2. And devout men took order for Stephen's funeral and made great mourning over him.

Curaverunt autem Stephanum viri timorati et fecerunt planctum magnum super illum

8:3. But Saul made havock of the church, entering in from house to house: and dragging away men and women, committed them to prison.

Saulus vero devastabat ecclesiam per domos intrans et trahens viros ac mulieres tradebat in custodiam

8:4. They therefore that were dispersed went about preaching the word of God.

Igitur qui dispersi erant pertransiebant evangelizantes verbum

8:5. And Philip, going down to the city of Samarita, preached Christ unto them.

Philippus autem descendens in civitatem Samariae praedicabat illis Christum

8:6. And the people with one accord were attentive to those things which were said by Philip, hearing, and seeing the miracles which he did.

Intendebant autem turbae his quae a Philippo dicebantur unianimiter audientes et videntes signa quae faciebat

8:7. For many of them who had unclean spirits, crying with a loud voice, went out.

Multi enim eorum qui habebant spiritus immundos clamantes voce magna exiebant multi autem paralytici et claudi curati sunt

8:8. And many, taken with the palsy, and that were lame, were healed.

Factum est ergo magnum gaudium in illa civitate

8:9. There was therefore great joy in that city. Now there was a certain man named Simon who before had been a magician in that city, seducing the people of Samarita, giving out that he was some great one:

Vir autem quidam nomine Simon qui ante fuerat in civitate magus seducens gentem Samariae dicens esse se aliquem magnum

8:10. To whom they all gave ear, from the least to the greatest, saying: This man is the power of God, which is called great.

Cui auscultabant omnes a minimo usque ad maximum dicentes hic est virtus Dei quae vocatur Magna

8:11. And they were attentive to him, because, for a long time, he had bewitched them with his magical practices.

Adtendebant autem eum propter quod multo tempore magicis suis dementasset eos

8:12. But when they had believed Philip preaching of the kingdom of God, in the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

Cum vero credidissent Philippo evangelizanti de regno Dei et nomine Iesu Christi baptizabantur viri ac mulieres

8:13. Then Simon himself believed also and, being baptized, he adhered to Philip. And being astonished, wondered to see the signs and exceeding great miracles which were done.

Tunc Simon et ipse credit et cum baptizatus esset adherebat Philippo videns etiam signa et virtutes maximas fieri stupens admirabatur

8:14. Now, when the apostles, who were in Jerusalem, had heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John.

Cum autem audissent apostoli qui erant Hierosolymis quia recepit Samaria verbum Dei miserunt ad illos Petrum et Iohannem

8:15. Who, when they were come, prayed for them that they might receive the Holy Ghost.

Qui cum venissent oraverunt pro ipsis ut acciperent Spiritum Sanctum

8:16. For he was not as yet come upon any of them: but they were only baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

Nondum enim in quemquam illorum venerat sed baptizati tantum erant in nomine Domini Iesu

8:17. Then they laid their hands upon them: and they received the Holy Ghost.

Tunc inponebant manus super illos et accipiebant Spiritum Sanctum

They laid their hands upon them, etc... The apostles administered the sacrament of confirmation, by imposition of hands, and prayer; and the faithful thereby received the Holy Ghost. Not but they had received the grace of the Holy Ghost at their baptism: yet not that plenitude of grace and those spiritual gifts which they afterwards received from bishops in the sacrament of confirmation, which strengthened them to profess their faith publicly.

8:18. And when Simon saw that, by the imposition of the hands of the apostles, the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money,

Cum vidisset autem Simon quia per inpositionem manus apostolorum daretur Spiritus Sanctus obtulit eis pecuniam

8:19. Saying: Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I shall lay my hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. But Peter said to him:

Dicens date et mihi hanc potestatem ut cuicumque inposuero manus accipiat Spiritum Sanctum Petrus autem dixit ad eum

8:20. Keep thy money to thyself, to perish with thee: because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

Pecunia tua tecum sit in perditionem quoniam donum Dei existimasti pecunia possideri

8:21. Thou hast no part nor lot in this matter. For thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

Non est tibi pars neque sors in sermone isto cor enim tuum non est rectum coram Deo

8:22. Do penance therefore for this thy wickedness: and pray to God, that perhaps this thought of thy heart may be forgiven thee.

Paenitentiam itaque age ab hac nequitia tua et roga Deum si forte remittatur tibi haec cogitatio cordis tui

8:23. For I see thou art in the gall of bitterness and in the bonds of iniquity.

In felle enim amaritudinis et obligatione iniquitatis video te esse

8:24. Then Simon answering, said: Pray you for me to the Lord that none of these things which you have spoken may come upon me.

Respondens autem Simon dixit precamini vos pro me ad Dominum ut nihil veniat super me horum quae dixistis

8:25. And they indeed, having testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem: and preached the gospel to many countries of the Samaritans.

Et illi quidem testificati et locuti verbum Domini rediebant Hierosolymam et multis regionibus Samaritanorum evangelizabant

8:26. Now an angel of the Lord spoke to Philip, saying: Arise, go towards the south, to the way that goeth down from Jerusalem into Gaza: this is desert.

Angelus autem Domini locutus est ad Philippum dicens surge et vade contra meridianum ad viam quae descendit ab Hierusalem in Gazam haec est deserta

8:27. And rising up, he went. And behold, a man of Ethiopia, an eunuch, of great authority under Candace the queen of the Ethiopians, who had charge over all her treasures, had come to Jerusalem to adore.

Et surgens abiit et ecce vir aethiops eunuchus potens Candacis reginae Aethiopum qui erat super omnes gazas eius venerat adorare in Hierusalem

8:28. And he was returning, sitting in his chariot and reading Isaias the prophet.

Et revertebatur sedens super currum suum legensque prophetam Esaiaam

8:29. And the Spirit said to Philip: Go near and join thyself to this chariot.

Dixit autem Spiritus Philippo accede et adiunge te ad currum istum

8:30. And Philip running thither, heard him reading the prophet Isaias. And he said: Thinkest thou that thou understandest what thou readest?

Adcurrens autem Philippus audivit illum legentem Esaiaam prophetam et dixit putasne intellegis quae legis

8:31. Who said: And how can I, unless some man show me? And he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him.

Qui ait et quomodo possum si non aliquis ostenderit mihi rogavitque Philippum ut ascenderet et sederet secum

8:32. And the place of the scripture which he was reading was this: He was led as a sheep to the slaughter: and like a lamb without voice before his shearer, so openeth he not his mouth.

Locus autem scripturae quam legebat erat hic tamquam ovis ad occisionem ductus est et sicut agnus coram tondente se sine voce sic non aperuit os suum

8:33. In humility his judgment was taken away. His generation who shall declare, for his life shall be taken from the earth?

In humilitate iudicium eius sublatum est generationem illius quis enarrabit quoniam tollitur de terra vita eius

8:34. And the eunuch answering Philip, said: I beseech thee, of whom doth the prophet speak this? Of himself, or of some other man?

Respondens autem eunuchus Philippo dixit obsecro te de quo propheta dicit hoc de se an de alio aliquo

8:35. Then Philip, opening his mouth and beginning at this scripture, preached unto him Jesus.

Aperiens autem Philippus os suum et incipiens ab scriptura ista evangelizavit illi Iesum

8:36. And as they went on their way, they came to a certain water. And the eunuch said: See, here is water: What doth hinder me from being baptized?

Et dum irent per viam venerunt ad quandam aquam et ait eunuchus ecce aqua quid prohibet me baptizari

8:37. And Philip said: If thou believest with all thy heart, thou mayest. And he answering, said: I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

If thou believest with all thy heart... The scripture many times mentions only one disposition, as here belief, when others equally necessary are not expressed, viz., a sorrow for sins, a firm hope, and the love of God. Moreover, believing with the whole heart signifies a belief of every thing necessary for salvation.

8:38. And he commanded the chariot to stand still. And they went down into the water, both Philip and the eunuch. And he baptized him.

Et iussit stare currum et descenderunt uterque in aquam Philippus et eunuchus et baptizavit eum

8:39. And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord took away Philip: and the eunuch saw him no more. And he went on his way rejoicing.

Cum autem ascendissent de aqua Spiritus Domini rapuit Philippum et amplius non vidit eum eunuchus ibat enim per viam suam gaudens

8:40. But Philip was found in Azotus: and passing through, he preached the gospel to all the cities, till he came to Caesarea.

Philippus autem inventus est in Azoto et pertransiens evangelizabat civitatibus cunctis donec veniret Caesaream

Acts Chapter 9

Paul's conversion and zeal. Peter heals Eneas and raises up Tabitha to life.

---

9:1. And Saul, as yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest

Saulus autem adhuc inspirans minarum et caedis in discipulos Domini accessit ad principem sacerdotum

9:2. And asked of him letters to Damascus, to the synagogues: that if he found any men and women of this way, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem.

Et petiit ab eo epistulas in Damascus ad synagogas ut si quos invenisset huius viae viros ac mulieres vinctos perduceret in Hierusalem

9:3. And as he went on his journey, it came to pass that he drew nigh to Damascus. And suddenly a light from heaven shined round about him.

Et cum iter faceret contigit ut adpropinquaret Damasco et subito circumfulsit eum lux de caelo

9:4. And falling on the ground, he heard a voice saying to him: Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

Et cadens in terram audivit vocem dicentem sibi Saule Saule quid me persequeris

9:5. Who said: Who art thou, Lord? And he: I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. It is hard for thee to kick against the goad.

Qui dixit quis es Domine et ille ego sum Iesus quem tu persequeris

9:6. And he, trembling and astonished, said: Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?

9:7. And the Lord said to him: Arise and go into the city; and there it shall be told thee what thou must do. Now the men who went in company with him stood amazed, hearing indeed a voice but seeing no man.

Sed surge et ingredere civitatem et dicetur tibi quid te oporteat facere viri autem illi qui comitabantur cum eo stabant stupefacti audientes quidem vocem neminem autem videntes

9:8. And Saul arose from the ground: and when his eyes were opened, he saw nothing. But they, leading him by the hands, brought him to Damascus.

Surrexit autem Saulus de terra apertisque oculis nihil videbat ad manus autem illum trahentes introduxerunt Damascum

9:9. And he was there three days without sight: and he did neither eat nor drink.

Et erat tribus diebus non videns et non manducavit neque bibit

9:10. Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias. And the Lord said to him in a vision: Ananias, And he said: Behold I am here, Lord.

Erat autem quidam discipulus Damasci nomine Ananias et dixit ad illum in visu Dominus Anania at ille ait ecce ego Domine

9:11. And the Lord said to him: Arise and go into the street that is called Strait and seek in the house of Judas, one named Saul of Tarsus. For behold he prayeth.

Et Dominus ad illum surgens vade in vicum qui vocatur Rectus et quaere in domo Iudae Saulum nomine Tarsensem ecce enim orat

9:12. (And he saw a man named Ananias coming in and putting his hands upon him, that he might receive his sight.)

Et vidit virum Ananiam nomine introeuntem et inponentem sibi manus ut visum recipiat

9:13. But Ananias answered: Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints in Jerusalem.

Respondit autem Ananias Domine audivi a multis de viro hoc quanta mala sanctis tuis fecerit in Hierusalem

9:14. And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that invoke thy name.

Et hic habet potestatem a principibus sacerdotum alligandi omnes qui invocant nomen tuum

9:15. And the Lord said to him: Go thy way: for this man is to me a vessel of election, to carry my name before the Gentiles and kings and the children of Israel.

Dixit autem ad eum Dominus vade quoniam vas electionis est mihi iste ut portet nomen meum coram gentibus et regibus et filiis Israhel

9:16. For I will show him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

Ego enim ostendam illi quanta oporteat eum pro nomine meo pati

9:17. And Ananias went his way and entered into the house. And laying his hands upon him, he said: Brother Saul, the Lord Jesus hath sent me, he that appeared to thee in the way as thou camest, that thou mayest receive thy sight and be filled with the Holy Ghost.

Et abiit Ananias et introivit in domum et inponens ei manus dixit Saule frater Dominus misit me Iesus qui apparuit tibi in via qua veniebas ut videas et implearis Spiritu Sancto

9:18. And immediately there fell from his eyes as it were scales: and he received his sight. And rising up, he was baptized.

Et confestim ceciderunt ab oculis eius tamquam squamae et visum recepit et surgens baptizatus est

9:19. And when he had taken meat, he was strengthened. And he was with the disciples that were at Damascus, for some days.

Et cum accepisset cibum confortatus est fuit autem cum discipulis qui erant Damasci per dies aliquot

9:20. And immediately he preached Jesus in the synagogues, that he is the son of God.

Et continuo in synagogis praedicabat Iesum quoniam hic est Filius Dei

9:21. And all that heard him were astonished and said: Is not this he who persecuted in Jerusalem those that called upon this name and came hither for that intent, that he might carry them bound to the chief priests?

Stupebant autem omnes qui audiebant et dicebant nonne hic est qui expugnabat in Hierusalem eos qui invocabant nomen istud et huc ad hoc venit ut vinctos illos duceret ad principes sacerdotum

9:22. But Saul increased much more in strength and confounded the Jews who dwelt at Damascus, affirming that this is the Christ.

Saulus autem magis convalescebat et confundebat Iudaeos qui habitabant Damasci adfirmans quoniam hic est Christus

9:23. And when many days were passed, the Jews consulted together to kill him.

Cum implerentur autem dies multi consilium fecerunt Iudaei ut eum interficerent

9:24. But their lying in wait was made known to Saul. And they watched the gates also day and night, that they might kill him.

Notae autem factae sunt Saulo insidiae eorum custodiebant autem et portas die ac nocte ut eum interficerent

9:25. But the disciples, taking him in the night, conveyed him away by the wall, letting him down in a basket.

Accipientes autem discipuli eius nocte per murum dimiserunt eum submittentes in sporta

9:26. And when he was come into Jerusalem, he essayed to join himself to the disciples: and they all were afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple.

Cum autem venisset in Hierusalem temptabat iungere se discipulis et omnes timebant eum non credentes quia esset discipulus

9:27. But Barnabas took him and brought him to the apostles and told them how he had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken to him: and how in Damascus he had dealt confidently in the name of Jesus.

Barnabas autem adprehensum illum duxit ad apostolos et narravit illis quomodo in via vidisset Dominum et quia locutus est ei et quomodo in Damasco fiducialiter egerit in nomine Iesu

9:28. And he was with them, coming in and going out in Jerusalem and dealing confidently in the name of the Lord.

Et erat cum illis intrans et exiens in Hierusalem et fiducialiter agens in nomine Domini

9:29. He spoke also to the Gentiles and disputed with the Greeks. But they sought to kill him.

Loquebatur quoque et disputabat cum Graecis illi autem quaerebant occidere eum

9:30. Which when the brethren had known, they brought him down to Caesarea and sent him away to Tarsus.

Quod cum cognovissent fratres deduxerunt eum Caesaream et dimiserunt Tarsum

9:31. Now, the church had peace throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria: and was edified, walking in the fear of the Lord: and was filled with the consolation of the Holy Ghost.

Ecclesia quidem per totam Iudaeam et Galilaeam et Samariam habebat pacem et aedificabatur ambulans in timore Domini et consolatione Sancti Spiritus replebatur

9:32. And it came to pass that Peter, as he passed through, visiting all, came to the saints who dwelt at Lydda.

Factum est autem Petrum dum pertransiret universos devenire et ad sanctos qui habitabant Lyddae

9:33. And he found there a certain man named Eneas, who had kept his bed for eight years, who was ill of the palsy.

Invenit autem ibi hominem quendam nomine Aeneam ab annis octo iacentem in grabatto qui erat paralyticus

9:34. And Peter said to him: Eneas, the Lord Jesus Christ healeth thee. Arise and make thy bed. And immediately he arose.

Et ait illi Petrus Aeneas sanat te Iesus Christus surge et sterne tibi et continuo surrexit

9:35. And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron saw him: who were converted to the Lord.

Et viderunt illum omnes qui habitabant Lyddae et Saronae qui conversi sunt ad Dominum

9:36. And in Joppe there was a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas. This woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did.

In Ioppe autem fuit quaedam discipula nomine Tabitha quae interpretata dicitur Dorcas haec erat plena operibus bonis et elemosynis quas faciebat

9:37. And it came to pass in those days that she was sick and died. Whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

Factum est autem in diebus illis ut infirmata moreretur quam cum lavissent posuerunt eam in cenaculo

9:38. And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppe, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not be slack to come unto them.

Cum autem prope esset Lydda ab Ioppe discipuli audientes quia Petrus esset in ea miserunt duos viros ad eum rogantes ne pigriteris venire usque ad nos

9:39. And Peter rising up went with them. And when he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber. And all the widows stood about him, weeping and showing him the coats and garments which Dorcas made them.

Exsurgens autem Petrus venit cum illis et cum advenisset duxerunt illum in cenaculum et circumsteterunt illum omnes viduae flentes et ostendentes tunicas et vestes quas faciebat illis Dorcas

9:40. And they all being put forth, Peter, kneeling down, prayed. And turning to the body, he said: Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes and, seeing Peter, sat up.

Eiectis autem omnibus foras Petrus ponens genua oravit et conversus ad corpus dixit Tabitha surge at illa aperuit oculos suos et viso Petro resedit

9:41. And giving her his hand, he lifted her up. And when he had called the saints and the widows, he presented her alive.

Dans autem illi manum erexit eam et cum vocasset sanctos et viduas adsignavit eam vivam

9:42. And it was made known throughout all Joppe. And many believed in the Lord.
Notum autem factum est per universam Ioppen et crediderunt multi in Domino

9:43. And it came to pass that he abode many days in Joppe, with one Simon a tanner.
Factum est autem ut dies multos moraretur in Ioppe apud quendam Simonem coriarium

Acts Chapter 10

Cornelius is received into the church. Peter's vision.

---

10:1. And there was a certain man in Caesarea, named Cornelius, a centurion of that which is called the Italian band:

Vir autem quidam erat in Caesarea nomine Cornelius centurio cohortis quae dicitur Italica

10:2. A religious man, and fearing God with all his house, giving much alms to the people and always praying to God.

Religiosus et timens Deum cum omni domo sua faciens elemosynas multas plebi et deprecans Deum semper

10:3. This man saw in a vision manifestly, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in unto him and saying to him: Cornelius.

Vidit in visu manifeste quasi hora nona diei angelum Dei introeuntem ad se et dicentem sibi Corneli

10:4. And he, beholding him, being seized with fear, said: What is it, Lord? And he said to him: Thy prayers and thy alms are ascended for a memorial in the sight of God.

At ille intuens eum timore correptus dixit quid est domine dixit autem illi orationes tuae et elemosynae tuae ascenderunt in memoriam in conspectu Dei

10:5. And now send men to Joppe: and call hither one Simon, who is surnamed Peter.

Et nunc mitte viros in Ioppen et accersi Simonem quendam qui cognominatur Petrus

10:6. He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side. He will tell thee what thou must do.

Hic hospitatur apud Simonem quendam coriarium cuius est domus iuxta mare

10:7. And when the angel who spoke to him was departed, he called two of his household servants and a soldier who feared the Lord, of them that were under him.

Et cum discessisset angelus qui loquebatur illi vocavit duos domesticos suos et militem metuentem Dominum ex his qui illi parebant

10:8. To whom when he had related all, he sent them to Joppe.

Quibus cum narrasset omnia misit illos in Ioppen

10:9. And on the next day, whilst they were going on their journey and drawing nigh to the city, Peter went up to the higher parts of the house to pray, about the sixth hour.

Postera autem die iter illis facientibus et adpropinquantibus civitati ascendit Petrus in superiora ut oraret circa horam sextam

10:10. And being hungry, he was desirous to taste somewhat. And as they were preparing, there came upon him an ecstasy of mind.

Et cum esuriret voluit gustare parantibus autem eis cecidit super eum mentis excessus

10:11. And he saw the heaven opened and a certain vessel descending, as it were a great linen sheet let down by the four corners from heaven to the earth:

Et videt caelum apertum et descendens vas quoddam velut linteum magnum quattuor initiis submitti de caelo in terram

10:12. Wherein were all manner of four-footed beasts and creeping things of the earth and fowls of the air.

In quo erant omnia quadrupedia et serpentina terrae et volatilia caeli

10:13. And there came a voice to him: Arise, Peter. Kill and eat.

Et facta est vox ad eum surge Petre et occide et manduca

10:14. But Peter said: Far be it from me. For I never did eat any thing that is common and unclean.
Ait autem Petrus absit Domine quia numquam manducavi omne commune et inmundum

10:15. And the voice spoke to him again the second time: That which God hath cleansed, do not thou call common.

Et vox iterum secundo ad eum quae Deus purificavit ne tu commune dixeris

10:16. And this was done thrice. And presently the vessel was taken up into heaven.

Hoc autem factum est per ter et statim receptum est vas in caelum

10:17. Now, whilst Peter was doubting within himself what the vision that he had seen should mean, behold the men who were sent from Cornelius, inquiring for Simon's house, stood at the gate.

Et dum intra se haesitaret Petrus quidnam esset visio quam vidisset ecce viri qui missi erant a Cornelio inquirentes domum Simonis adstiterunt ad ianuam

10:18. And when they had called, they asked if Simon, who is surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

Et cum vocassent interrogabant si Simon qui cognominatur Petrus illic haberet hospitium

10:19. And as Peter was thinking of the vision, the Spirit said to him: Behold three men seek thee.

Petro autem cogitante de visione dixit Spiritus ei ecce viri tres quaerunt te

10:20. Arise, therefore: get thee down and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.

Surge itaque et descende et vade cum eis nihil dubitans quia ego misi illos

10:21. Then Peter, going down to the men, said: Behold, I am he whom you seek. What is the cause for which you are come?

Descendens autem Petrus ad viros dixit ecce ego sum quem quaeritis quae causa est propter quam venistis

10:22. Who said: Cornelius, a centurion, a just man and one that feareth God, and having good testimony from all the nation of the Jews, received an answer of an holy angel, to send for thee into his house And to hear words of thee.

Qui dixerunt Cornelius centurio vir iustus et timens Deum et testimonium habens ab universa gente Iudaeorum responsum accepit ab angelo sancto accersire te in domum suam et audire verba abs te

10:23. Then bringing them in, he lodged them. And the day following, he arose and went with them: and some of the brethren from Joppe accompanied him.

Introducens igitur eos recepit hospitio sequenti autem die surgens profectus est cum eis et quidam ex fratribus ab Ioppe comitati sunt eum

10:24. And the morrow after, he entered into Caesarea. And Cornelius waited for them, having called together his kinsmen and special friends.

Altera autem die introivit Caesaream Cornelius vero expectabat illos convocatis cognatis suis et necessariis amicis

10:25. And it came to pass that when Peter was come in, Cornelius came to meet him and falling at his feet adored.

Et factum est cum introisset Petrus obvius ei Cornelius et procidens ad pedes adoravit

10:26. But Peter lifted him up, saying: Arise: I myself also am a man.

Petrus vero levavit eum dicens surge et ego ipse homo sum

10:27. And talking with him, he went in and found many that were come together.

Et loquens cum illo intravit et invenit multos qui convenerant

10:28. And he said to them: you know how abominable it is for a man that is a Jew to keep company or to come unto one of another nation: but God hath showed to me, to call no man common or unclean.

Dixitque ad illos vos scitis quomodo abominatum sit viro iudaeo coniungi aut accedere ad alienigenam et mihi ostendit Deus neminem communem aut inmundum dicere hominem

10:29. For which cause, making no doubt, I came when I was sent for. I ask, therefore, for what cause you have sent for me?

Propter quod sine dubitatione veni accersitus interrogo ergo quam ob causam accersistis me

10:30. And Cornelius said: Four days ago, unto this hour, I was praying in my house, at the ninth hour and behold a man stood before me in white apparel and said:

Et Cornelius ait a nudius quartana die usque in hanc horam orans eram hora nona in domo mea et ecce vir stetit ante me in veste candida et ait

10:31. Cornelius, thy prayer is heard and thy alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

Corneli exaudita est oratio tua et elemosynae tuae commemoratae sunt in conspectu Dei

10:32. Send therefore to Joppe: and call hither Simon, who is surnamed Peter. He lodgeth in the house of Simon a tanner, by the sea side.

Mitte ergo in Ioppen et accersi Simonem qui cognominatur Petrus hic hospitatur in domo Simonis coriarii iuxta mare

10:33. Immediately therefore I sent to thee: and thou hast done well in coming. Now, therefore, all we are present in thy sight to hear all things whatsoever are commanded thee by the Lord.

Confestim igitur misi ad te et tu bene fecisti veniendo nunc ergo omnes nos in conspectu tuo adsumus audire omnia quaecumque tibi praecepta sunt a Domino

10:34. And Peter opening his mouth, said: in very deed I perceive that God is not a respecter of persons.

Aperiens autem Petrus os dixit in veritate conperi quoniam non est personarum acceptor Deus

10:35. But in every nation, he that feareth him and worketh justice is acceptable to him.

Sed in omni gente qui timet eum et operatur iustitiam acceptus est illi

In every nation, etc... That is to say, not only Jews, but Gentiles also, of what nation soever, are acceptable to God, if they fear him and work justice. But then true faith is always to be presupposed, without which (saith St. Paul, Hebrews 11:6) it is impossible to please God. Beware then of the error of those, who would infer from this passage, that men of all religions may be pleasing to God. For since none but the true religion can be from God, all other religions must be from the father of lies, and therefore highly displeasing to the God of truth.

10:36. God sent the word to the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ (He is Lord of all).

Verbum misit filiis Israhel adnuntians pacem per Iesum Christum hic est omnium Dominus

10:37. You know the word which hath been published through all Judea: for it began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached.

Vos scitis quod factum est verbum per universam Iudaeam incipiens enim a Galilaea post baptismum quod praedicavit Iohannes

10:38. Jesus of Nazareth: how God anointed him with the Holy Ghost and with power, who went about doing good and healing all that were oppressed by the devil, for God was with him.

Iesum a Nazareth quomodo unxit eum Deus Spiritu Sancto et virtute qui pertransivit benefaciendo et sanando omnes oppressos a diabolo quoniam Deus erat cum illo

10:39. And we are witnesses of all things that he did in the land of the Jews and in Jerusalem: whom they killed, hanging him upon a tree.

Et nos testes sumus omnium quae fecit in regione Iudaeorum et Hierusalem quem et occiderunt suspendentes in ligno

10:40. Him God raised up the third day and gave him to be made manifest,

Hunc Deus suscitavit tertia die et dedit eum manifestum fieri

10:41. Not to all the people, but to witnesses preordained by God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him, after he arose again from the dead.

Non omni populo sed testibus praeordinatis a Deo nobis qui manducavimus et bibimus cum illo postquam resurrexit a mortuis

10:42. And he commanded us to preach to the people and to testify that it is he who was appointed by God to be judge of the living and of the dead.

Et praecepit nobis praedicare populo et testificari quia ipse est qui constitutus est a Deo iudex vivorum et mortuorum

10:43. To him all the prophets give testimony, that by his name all receive remission of sins, who believe in him.

Huic omnes prophetae testimonium perhibent remissionem peccatorum accipere per nomen eius omnes qui credunt in eum

10:44. While Peter was yet speaking these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them that heard the word.
Adhuc loquente Petro verba haec cecidit Spiritus Sanctus super omnes qui audiebant verbum

10:45. And the faithful of the circumcision, who came with Peter, were astonished for that the grace of the Holy Ghost was poured out upon the Gentiles also.
Et obstipuerunt ex circumcissione fideles qui venerant cum Petro quia et in nationes gratia Spiritus Sancti effusa est

10:46. For they heard them speaking with tongues and magnifying God.
Audiebant enim illos loquentes linguis et magnificantes Deum

10:47. Then Peter answered: Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, who have received the Holy Ghost, as well as we?
Tunc respondit Petrus numquid aquam quis prohibere potest ut non baptizentur hii qui Spiritum Sanctum acceperunt sicut et nos

10:48. And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Then they desired him to tarry with them some days.
Et iussit eos in nomine Iesu Christi baptizari tunc rogaverunt eum ut maneret aliquot diebus

Acts Chapter 11

Peter defends his having received the Gentiles into the church.

11:1. And the apostles and brethren, who were in Judea, heard that the Gentiles also had received the word of God.

Audierunt autem apostoli et fratres qui erant in Iudaea quoniam et gentes receperunt verbum Dei

11:2. And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended with him, Cum ascendisset autem Petrus in Hierosolimam disceptabant adversus illum qui erant ex circumcissione

11:3. Saying: Why didst thou go in to men uncircumcised and didst eat with them?

Dicentes quare introisti ad viros praeputium habentes et manducasti cum illis

11:4. But Peter began and declared to them the matter in order, saying:

Incipiens autem Petrus exponebat illis ordinem dicens

11:5. I was in the city of Joppe praying: and I saw in an ecstasy of mind a vision, a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners. And it came even unto me.

Ego eram in civitate Ioppe orans et vidi in excessu mentis visionem descendens vas quoddam velut linteum magnum quattuor initiis submitti de caelo et venit usque ad me

11:6. Into which looking, I considered and saw fourfooted creatures of the earth and beasts and creeping things and fowls of the air.

In quod intuens considerabam et vidi quadrupedia terrae et bestias et reptilia et volatilia caeli

11:7. And I heard also a voice saying to me: Arise, Peter. Kill and eat.

Audivi autem et vocem dicentem mihi surgens Petre occide et manduca

11:8. And I said: Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath ever entered into my mouth.

Dixi autem nequaquam Domine quia commune aut inmundum numquam introivit in os meum

11:9. And the voice answered again from heaven: What God hath made clean, do not thou call common.

Respondit autem vox secundo de caelo quae Deus mundavit tu ne commune dixeris

11:10. And this was done three times. And all were taken up again into heaven.

Hoc autem factum est per ter et recepta sunt rursum omnia in caelum

11:11. And behold, immediately there were three men come to the house wherein I was, sent to me from Caesarea.

Et ecce confestim tres viri adstiterunt in domo in qua eram missi a Caesarea ad me

11:12. And the Spirit said to me that I should go with them, nothing doubting. And these six brethren went with me also: and we entered into the man's house.

Dixit autem Spiritus mihi ut irem cum illis nihil haesitans venerunt autem mecum et sex fratres isti et ingressi sumus in domum viri

11:13. And he told us how he had seen an angel in his house, standing and saying to him: Send to Joppe and call hither Simon, who is surnamed Peter,

Narravit autem nobis quomodo vidisset angelum in domo sua stantem et dicentem sibi mitte in Ioppen et accersi Simonem qui cognominatur Petrus

11:14. Who shall speak to thee words whereby thou shalt be saved, and all thy house.

Qui loquetur tibi verba in quibus salvus eris tu et universa domus tua

11:15. And when I had begun to speak, the Holy Ghost fell upon them, as upon us also in the beginning.

Cum autem coepissem loqui decidit Spiritus Sanctus super eos sicut et in nos in initio

11:16. And I remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said: John indeed baptized with water but you shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.

Recordatus sum autem verbi Domini sicut dicebat Iohannes quidem baptizavit aqua vos autem baptizabimini Spiritu Sancto

11:17. If then God gave them the same grace as to us also who believed in the Lord Jesus Christ: who was I, that could withstand God?

Si ergo eandem gratiam dedit illis Deus sicut et nobis qui credimus in Dominum Iesum Christum ego quis eram qui possem prohibere Deum

11:18. Having heard these things, they held their peace and glorified God, saying: God then hath also to the Gentiles given repentance, unto life.

His auditis tacuerunt et glorificaverunt Deum dicentes ergo et gentibus Deus paenitentiam ad vitam dedit

11:19. Now they who had been dispersed by the persecution that arose on occasion of Stephen went about as far as Phenice and Cyprus and Antioch, speaking the word to none, but to the Jews only.

Et illi quidem qui dispersi fuerant a tribulatione quae facta fuerat sub Stephano perambulaverunt usque Foenicen et Cyprum et Antiochiam nemini loquentes verbum nisi solis Iudaeis

11:20. But some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they were entered into Antioch, spoke also to the Greeks, preaching the Lord Jesus.

Erant autem quidam ex eis viri cyprii et cyrenei qui cum introissent Antiochiam loquebantur et ad Graecos adnuntiantes Dominum Iesum

11:21. And the hand of he Lord was with them: and a great number believing, were converted to the Lord.

Et erat manus Domini cum eis multusque numerus credentium conversus est ad Dominum

11:22. And the tidings came to the ears of the church that was at Jerusalem, touching these things: and they sent Barnabas as far as Antioch.

Pervenit autem sermo ad aures ecclesiae quae erat Hierosolymis super istis et miserunt Barnaban usque Antiochiam

11:23. Who, when he was come and had seen the grace of God, rejoiced. And he exhorted them all with purpose of heart to continue in the Lord.

Qui cum pervenisset et vidisset gratiam Dei gavisus est et hortabatur omnes proposito cordis permanere in Domino

11:24. For he was a good man and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith. And a great multitude was added to the Lord.

Quia erat vir bonus et plenus Spiritu Sancto et fide et adposita est turba multa Domino

11:25. And Barnabas went to Tarsus to seek Saul: whom, when he had found, he brought to Antioch.

Profectus est autem Tarsum ut quaereret Saulum quem cum invenisset perduxit Antiochiam

11:26. And they conversed there in the church a whole year: and they taught a great multitude, so that at Antioch the disciples were first named Christians.

Et annum totum conversati sunt in ecclesia et docuerunt turbam multam ita ut cognominarentur primum Antiochiae discipuli Christiani

11:27. And in these days there came prophets from Jerusalem to Antioch.

In his autem diebus supervenerunt ab Hierosolymis prophetae Antiochiam

11:28. And one of them named Agabus, rising up, signified by the Spirit that there should be a great famine over the whole world, which came to pass under Claudius.

Et surgens unus ex eis nomine Agabus significabat per Spiritum famem magnam futuram in universo orbe terrarum quae facta est sub Claudio

11:29. And the disciples, every man according to his ability, purposed to send relief to the brethren who dwelt in Judea.

Discipuli autem prout quis habebat proposuerunt singuli eorum in ministerium mittere habitantibus in Iudaea fratribus

11:30. Which also they did, sending it to the ancients, by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.
Quod et fecerunt mittentes ad seniores per manus Barnabae et Sauli

Acts Chapter 12

Herod's persecution. Peter's deliverance by an angel. Herod's punishment.

---

12:1. And at the same time, Herod the king stretched forth his hands, to afflict some of the church.
Eodem autem tempore misit Herodes rex manus ut adfligeret quosdam de ecclesia

12:2. And he killed James, the brother of John, With the sword.
Occidit autem Iacobum fratrem Iohannis gladio

12:3. And seeing that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to take up Peter also. Now it was in the days of the Azymes.
Videns autem quia placeret Iudaeis adposuit adprehendere et Petrum erant autem dies azymorum

Azymes... The festival of the unleavened bread, or the pasch, which answers to our Easter.

12:4. And when he had apprehended him, he cast him into prison, delivering him to four files of soldiers, to be kept, intending, after the pasch, to bring him forth to the people.
Quem cum adprehendisset misit in carcerem tradens quattuor quaternionibus militum custodire eum volens post pascha producere eum populo

12:5. Peter therefore was kept in prison. But prayer was made without ceasing by the church unto God for him.
Et Petrus quidem servabatur in carcere oratio autem fiebat sine intermissione ab ecclesia ad Deum pro eo

12:6. And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison.
Cum autem producturus eum esset Herodes in ipsa nocte erat Petrus dormiens inter duos milites vinctus catenis duabus et custodes ante ostium custodiebant carcerem

12:7. And behold an angel of the Lord stood by him and a light shined in the room. And he, striking Peter on the side, raised him up, saying: Arise quickly. And the chains fell off from his hands.
Et ecce angelus Domini adstitit et lumen refulsit in habitaculo percussoque latere Petri suscitavit eum dicens surge velociter et ceciderunt catenae de manibus eius

12:8. And the angel said to him: Gird thyself and put on thy sandals. And he did so. And he said to him: Cast thy garment about thee and follow me,
Dixit autem angelus ad eum praecingere et calcia te gallicas tuas et fecit sic et dixit illi circumda tibi vestimentum tuum et sequere me

12:9. And going out, he followed him. And he knew not that it was true which was done by the angel: but thought he saw a vision.
Et exiens sequebatur et nesciebat quia verum est quod fiebat per angelum aestimabat autem se visum videre

12:10. And passing through the first and the second ward, they came to the iron gate that leadeth to the city which of itself opened to them. And going out, they passed on through one street. And immediately the angel departed from him.
Transeuntes autem primam et secundam custodiam venerunt ad portam ferream quae ducit ad civitatem quae ultro aperta est eis et exeuntes processerunt vicum unum et continuo discessit angelus ab eo

12:11. And Peter coming to himself, said: Now I know in very deed that the Lord hath sent his angel and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.
Et Petrus ad se reversus dixit nunc scio vere quia misit Dominus angelum suum et eripuit me de manu Herodis et de omni expectatione plebis Iudaeorum

12:12. And considering, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, who was surnamed Mark, where many were gathered together and praying.

Consideransque venit ad domum Mariae matris Iohannis qui cognominatus est Marcus ubi erant multi congregati et orantes

12:13. And when he knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken whose name was Rhode. Pulsante autem eo ostium ianuae processit puella ad audiendum nomine Rhode

12:14. And as soon as she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for joy: but running in she told that Peter stood before the gate.

Et ut cognovit vocem Petri prae gaudio non aperuit ianuam sed intro currens nuntiavit stare Petrum ante ianuam

12:15. But they said to her: Thou art mad. But she affirmed that it was so. Then said they: It is his angel. At illi dixerunt ad eam insanis illa autem adfirmabat sic se habere illi autem dicebant angelus eius est

12:16. But Peter continued knocking. And when they had opened, they saw him and were astonished. Petrus autem perseverabat pulsans cum autem aperuissent viderunt eum et obstipuerunt

12:17. But he, beckoning to them with his hand to hold their peace, told how the Lord had brought him out of prison. And he said: Tell these things to James and to the brethren. And going out, he went into another place.

Annuens autem eis manu ut tacerent enarravit quomodo Dominus eduxisset eum de carcere dixitque nuntiate Iacobo et fratribus haec et egressus abiit in alium locum

12:18. Now when day was come, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter. Facta autem die erat non parva turbatio inter milites quidnam de Petro factum esset

12:19. And when Herod had sought for him and found him not, having examined the keepers, he commanded they should be put to death. And going down from Judea to Caesarea, he abode there. Herodes autem cum requisisset eum et non invenisset inquisitione facta de custodibus iussit eos duci descendensque a Iudaea in Caesaream ibi commoratus est

12:20. And he was angry with the Tyrians and the Sidonians. But they with one accord came to him: and, having gained Blastus who was the king's chamberlain, they desired peace, because their countries were nourished by him.

Erat autem iratus Tyriis et Sidoniis at illi unianimes venerunt ad eum et persuaso Blasto qui erat super cubiculum regis postulabant pacem eo quod alerentur regiones eorum ab illo

12:21. And upon a day appointed, Herod being arrayed in kingly apparel, sat in the judgment seat and made an oration to them.

Statuto autem die Herodes vestitus veste regia sedit pro tribunali et contionabatur ad eos

12:22. And the people made acclamation, saying: It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

Populus autem adclamabat dei voces et non hominis

12:23. And forthwith an angel of the Lord struck him, because he had not given the honour to God: and, being eaten up by worms, he gave up the ghost.

Confestim autem percussit eum angelus Domini eo quod non dedisset honorem Deo et consumptus a vermibus exspiravit

12:24. But the word of the Lord increased and multiplied.

Verbum autem Domini crescebat et multiplicabatur

12:25. And Barnabas and Saul, returned from Jerusalem, having fulfilled their ministry, taking with them John who was surnamed Mark.

Barnabas autem et Saulus reversi sunt ab Hierosolymis expleto ministerio adsumpto Iohanne qui cognominatus est Marcus

Acts Chapter 13

Saul and Barnabas are sent forth by the Holy Ghost. They preach in Cyprus and in Antioch of Pisidia.

---

13:1. Now there were in the church which was at Antioch prophets and doctors, among whom was Barnabas and Simon who was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene and Manahen who was the foster brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

Erant autem in ecclesia quae erat Antiochiae prophetae et doctores in quibus Barnabas et Symeon qui vocabatur Niger et Lucius Cyrenensis et Manaen qui erat Herodis tetrarchae conlactaneus et Saulus

13:2. And as they were ministering to the Lord and fasting, the Holy Ghost said to them: Separate me Saul and Barnabas, for the work whereunto I have taken them.

Ministrantibus autem illis Domino et ieiunantibus dixit Spiritus Sanctus separate mihi Barnaban et Saulum in opus quod adsumpsi eos

13:3. Then they fasting and praying and imposing their hands upon them, sent them away.

Tunc ieiunantes et orantes inponentesque eis manus dimiserunt illos

13:4. So they, being sent by the Holy Ghost, went to Seleucia: and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

Et ipsi quidem missi ab Spiritu Sancto abierunt Seleuciam et inde navigaverunt Cyprum

13:5. And when they were come to Salamina, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews. And they had John also in the ministry.

Et cum venissent Salamina praedicabant verbum Dei in synagogis Iudaeorum habebant autem et Iohannem in ministerio

13:6. And when they had gone through the whole island, as far as Paphos, they found a certain man, a magician, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-Jesu:

Et cum perambulassent universam insulam usque Paphum invenerunt quendam virum magum pseudoprophetae Iudaeum cui nomen erat Bariesu

13:7. Who was with the proconsul Sergius Paulus, a prudent man. He, sending for Barnabas and Saul, desired to hear the word of God.

Qui erat cum proconsule Sergio Paulo viro prudente hic accitis Barnaba et Saulo desiderabat audire verbum Dei

13:8. But Elymas the magician (for so his name is interpreted) withstood them, seeking to turn away the proconsul from the faith.

Resistebat autem illis Elymas magus sic enim interpretatur nomen eius quaerens avertere proconsulem a fide

13:9. Then Saul, otherwise Paul, filled with the Holy Ghost, looking upon him,

Saulus autem qui et Paulus repletus Spiritu Sancto intuens in eum

13:10. Said: O full of all guile and of all deceit, child of the devil, enemy of all justice, thou ceases not to pervert the right ways of the Lord.

Dixit o plene omni dolo et omni fallacia filii diaboli inimice omnis iustitiae non desinis subvertere vias Domini rectas

13:11. And now behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee: and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a time. And immediately there fell a mist and darkness upon him: and going about, he sought some one to lead him by the hand.

Et nunc ecce manus Domini super te et eris caecus non videns solem usque ad tempus et confestim cecidit in eum caligo et tenebrae et circumiens quaerebat qui ei manum daret

13:12. Then the proconsul, when he had seen what was done, believed, admiring at the doctrine of the Lord.

Tunc proconsul cum vidisset factum credidit admirans super doctrinam Domini 13:13. Now when Paul and they that were with him had sailed from Paphos, they came to Perge in Pamphylia. And John departing from them, returned to Jerusalem.

Et cum a Papho navigassent Paulus et qui cum eo venerunt Pergen Pamphiliae Iohannes autem discedens ab eis reversus est Hierosolymam

13:14. But they, passing through Perge, came to Antioch in Pisidia: and, entering into the Synagogue on the sabbath day, they sat down.

Illi vero pertranseuntes Pergen venerunt Antiochiam Pisidiae et ingressi synagogam die sabbatorum sederunt

13:15. And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying: Ye men, brethren, if you have any word of exhortation to make to the people, speak.

Post lectionem autem legis et prophetarum miserunt principes synagogae ad eos dicentes viri fratres si quis est in vobis sermo exhortationis ad plebem dicite

13:16. Then Paul rising up and with his hand bespeaking silence, said: Ye men of Israel and you that fear God, give ear.

Surgens autem Paulus et manu silentium indicens ait viri israhelitae et qui timetis Deum audite

13:17. The God of the people of Israel chose our fathers and exalted the people when they were sojourners in the land of Egypt: And with an high arm brought them out from thence:

Deus plebis Israhel elegit patres nostros et plebem exaltavit cum essent incolae in terra Aegypti et in brachio excelso eduxit eos ex ea

13:18. And for the space of forty years endured their manners in the desert:

Et per quadraginta annorum tempus mores eorum sustinuit in deserto

13:19. And, destroying seven nations in the land of Chanaan, divided their land among them by lot.

Et destruens gentes septem in terra Chanaan sorte distribuit eis terram eorum

13:20. As it were, after four hundred and fifty years. And after these things, he gave unto them judges, until Samuel the prophet.

Quasi post quadringentos et quinquaginta annos et post haec dedit iudices usque ad Samuhel prophetam

13:21. And after that they desired a king: and God gave them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, forty years.

Et exinde postulaverunt regem et dedit illis Deus Saul filium Cis virum de tribu Benjamin annis quadraginta

13:22. And when he had removed him, he raised them up David to be king: to whom giving testimony, he said: I have found David, the son of Jesse, a man according to my own heart, who shall do all my wills.

Et amoto illo suscitavit illis David regem cui et testimonium perhibens dixit inveni David filium Iesse virum secundum cor meum qui faciet omnes voluntates meas

13:23. Of this man's seed, God, according to his promise, hath raised up to Israel a Saviour Jesus:

Huius Deus ex semine secundum promissionem eduxit Israhel salvatorem Iesum

13:24. John first preaching, before his coming, the baptism of penance to all the people of Israel.

Praedicante Iohanne ante faciem adventus eius baptismum paenitentiae omni populo Israhel

13:25. And when John was fulfilling his course, he said: I am not he whom you think me to be. But behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.

Cum impleret autem Iohannes cursum suum dicebat quem me arbitramini esse non sum ego sed ecce venit post me cuius non sum dignus calciamenta pedum solvere

13:26. Men, brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and whosoever among you fear God: to you the word of this salvation is sent.

Viri fratres filii generis Abraham et qui in vobis timent Deum vobis verbum salutis huius missum est

13:27. For they that inhabited Jerusalem and the rulers thereof, not knowing him, nor the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath, judging him, have fulfilled them.

Qui enim habitabant Hierusalem et principes eius hunc ignorantes et voces prophetarum quae per omne sabbatum leguntur iudicantes impleverunt

13:28. And finding no cause of death in him, they desired of Pilate that they might kill him.

Et nullam causam mortis invenientes in eum petierunt a Pilato ut interficerent eum

13:29. And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, taking him down from the tree, they laid him in a sepulchre.

Cumque consummassent omnia quae de eo scripta erant deponentes eum de ligno posuerunt in monumento

13:30. But God raised him up from the dead the third day.

Deus vero suscitavit eum a mortuis qui visus est per dies multos his 13:31. Who was seen for many days by them who came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who to this present are his witnesses to the people.

Qui simul ascenderant cum eo de Galilaea in Hierusalem qui usque nunc sunt testes eius ad plebem

13:32. And we declare unto you that the promise which was made to our fathers,

Et nos vobis adnuntiamus ea quae ad patres nostros repromissio facta est

13:33. This same God hath fulfilled to our children, raising up Jesus, as in the second psalm also is written: Thou art my Son: this day have I begotten thee.

Quoniam hanc Deus adimplevit filiis nostris resuscitans Iesum sicut et in psalmo secundo scriptum est Filius meus es tu ego hodie genui te

13:34. And to show that he raised him up from the dead, not to return now any more to corruption, he said thus: I will give you the holy things of David, faithful.

Quod autem suscitaverit eum a mortuis amplius iam non reversurum in corruptionem ita dixit quia dabo vobis sancta David fidelia

I will give you the holy, etc... These are the words of the prophet Isaias, 55:3. According to the Septuagint, the sense is: I will faithfully fulfil the promises I made to David.

13:35. And therefore, in another place also, he saith: Thou shalt not suffer thy holy one to see corruption.

Ideoque et alias dicit non dabis Sanctum tuum videre corruptionem

13:36. For David, when he had served in his generation, according to the will of God, slept: and was laid unto his fathers and saw corruption.

David enim sua generatione cum administrasset voluntati Dei dormivit et adpositus est ad patres suos et vidit corruptionem

13:37. But he whom God hath raised from the dead saw no corruption.

Quem vero Deus suscitavit non vidit corruptionem

13:38. Be it known therefore to you, men, brethren, that through him forgiveness of sins is preached to you: and from all the things from which you could not be justified by the law of Moses.

Notum igitur sit vobis viri fratres quia per hunc vobis remissio peccatorum adnuntiatur ab omnibus quibus non potuistis in lege Mosi iustificari

13:39. In him every one that believeth is justified.

In hoc omnis qui credit iustificatur

13:40. Beware, therefore, lest that come upon you which is spoken in the prophets:

Videte ergo ne superveniat quod dictum est in prophetis

13:41. Behold, ye despisers, and wonder and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which you will not believe, if any man shall tell it you.

Videte contemptores et admiramini et disperdimini quia opus operor ego in diebus vestris opus quod non credetis si quis enarraverit vobis

13:42. And as they went out, they desired them that on the next sabbath they would speak unto them these words.

Exeuntibus autem illis rogabant ut sequenti sabbato loquerentur sibi verba haec

13:43. And when the synagogue was broken up, many of the Jews and of the strangers who served God followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.
Cumque dimissa esset synagoga secuti sunt multi Iudaeorum et colentium advenarum Paulum et Barnaban qui loquentes suadebant eis ut permanerent in gratia Dei

13:44. But the next sabbath day, the whole city almost came together, to hear the word of God.
Sequenti vero sabbato paene universa civitas convenit audire verbum Domini

13:45. And the Jews, seeing the multitudes, were filled with envy and contradicted those things which were said by Paul, blaspheming.
Videntes autem turbas Iudaei repleti sunt zelo et contradicebant his quae a Paulo dicebantur blasphemantes

13:46. Then Paul and Barnabas said boldly: To you it behoved us first to speak the word of God: but because you reject it and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, behold we turn to the Gentiles.
Tunc constanter Paulus et Barnabas dixerunt vobis oportebat primum loqui verbum Dei sed quoniam repellitis illud et indignos vos iudicastis aeternae vitae ecce convertimur ad gentes

13:47. For so the Lord hath commanded us: I have set thee to be the light of the Gentiles: that thou mayest be for salvation unto the utmost part of the earth.
Sic enim praecepit nobis Dominus posui te in lumen gentibus ut sis in salutem usque ad extremum terrae

13:48. And the Gentiles hearing it were glad and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to life everlasting believed.
Audientes autem gentes gavisae sunt et glorificabant verbum Domini et crediderunt quotquot erant praeordinati ad vitam aeternam

13:49. And the word of the Lord was published throughout the whole country.
Disseminabatur autem verbum Domini per universam regionem

13:50. But the Jews stirred up religious and honourable women and the chief men of the city: and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas: and cast them out of their coasts.
Iudaei autem concitaverunt religiosas mulieres et honestas et primos civitatis et excitaverunt persecutionem in Paulum et Barnaban et eiecerunt eos de finibus suis

13:51. But they, shaking off the dust of their feet against them, came to Iconium.
At illi excusso pulvere pedum in eos venerunt Iconium

13:52. And the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Ghost.
Discipuli quoque replebantur gaudio et Spiritu Sancto

Acts Chapter 14

Paul and Barnabas preach in Iconium and Lystra. Paul heals a cripple. They are taken for gods. Paul is stoned. They preach in Derbe and Perge.

---

14:1. And it came to pass in Iconium that they entered together into the synagogue of the Jews and so spoke that a very great multitude both of the Jews and of the Greeks did believe.

Factum est autem Iconii ut simul introirent synagogam Iudaeorum et loquerentur ita ut crederet Iudaeorum et Graecorum copiosa multitudo

14:2. But the unbelieving Jews stirred up and incensed the minds of the Gentiles against the brethren.

Qui vero increduli fuerunt Iudaei suscitaverunt et ad iracundiam concitaverunt animas gentium adversus fratres

14:3. A long time therefore they abode there, dealing confidently in the Lord, who gave testimony to the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

Multo igitur tempore demorati sunt fiducialiter agentes in Domino testimonium perhibente verbo gratiae suae dante signa et prodigia fieri per manus eorum

14:4. And the multitude of the city was divided. And some of them indeed held with the Jews, but some with the apostles.

Divisa est autem multitudo civitatis et quidam quidem erant cum Iudaeis quidam vero cum apostolis

14:5. And when there was an assault made by the Gentiles and the Jews with their rulers, to use them contumeliously and to stone them:

Cum autem factus esset impetus gentilium et Iudaeorum cum principibus suis ut contumeliis adficerent et lapidarent eos

14:6. They, understanding it, fled to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and to the whole country round about: and were there preaching the gospel.

Intellegentes confugerunt ad civitates Lycaoniae Lystram et Derben et universam in circuitu regionem et ibi evangelizantes erant

14:7. And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked.

Et quidam vir in Lystris infirmus pedibus sedebat claudus ex utero matris suae qui numquam ambulaverat

14:8. This same heard Paul speaking. Who looking upon him and seeing that he had faith to be healed,

Hic audivit Paulum loquentem qui intuitus eum et videns quia haberet fidem ut salvus fieret

14:9. Said with a loud voice: Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped up and walked.

Dixit magna voce surge super pedes tuos rectus et exilivit et ambulabat

14:10. And when the multitudes had seen what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice in the Lycaonian tongue, saying: The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

Turbae autem cum vidissent quod fecerat Paulus levaverunt vocem suam Lycaonice dicentes dii similes facti hominibus descenderunt ad nos

14:11. And they called Barnabas, Jupiter: but Paul, Mercury: because he was chief speaker.

Et vocabant Barnaban Iovem Paulum vero Mercurium quoniam ipse erat dux verbi

14:12. The priest also of Jupiter that was before the city, bringing oxen and garlands before the gate, would have offered sacrifice with the people.

Sacerdos quoque Iovis qui erat ante civitatem tauros et coronas ante ianuas adferens cum populis volebat sacrificare

14:13. Which, when the apostles Barnabas and Paul had heard, rending their clothes, they leaped out among the people, crying,

Quod ubi audierunt apostoli Barnabas et Paulus conscissis tunicis suis exilierunt in turbas clamantes

14:14. And saying: Ye men, why do ye these things? We also are mortals, men like unto you, preaching to you to be converted from these vain things to the living God, who made the heaven and the earth and the sea and all things that are in them:

Et dicentes viri quid haec facitis et nos mortales sumus similes vobis homines adnuntiantes vobis ab his vanis converti ad Deum vivum qui fecit caelum et terram et mare et omnia quae in eis sunt

14:15. Who in times past, suffered all nations to walk in their own ways.

Qui in praeteritis generationibus dimisit omnes gentes ingredi in vias suas

14:16. Nevertheless he left not himself without testimony, doing good from heaven, giving rains and fruitful Seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

Et quidem non sine testimonio semet ipsum reliquit beneficiens de caelo dans pluvias et tempora fructifera implens cibo et laetitia corda vestra

14:17. And speaking these things, they scarce restrained the people from sacrificing to them.

Et haec dicentes vix sedaverunt turbas ne sibi immolarent

14:18. Now there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium: and, persuading the multitude and stoning Paul, drew him out of the city, thinking him to be dead.

Supervenerunt autem quidam ab Antiochia et Iconio Iudaei et persuasis turbis lapidantesque Paulum traxerunt extra civitatem aestimantes eum mortuum esse

14:19. But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up and entered into the city: and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

Circumdantibus autem eum discipulis surgens intravit civitatem et postera die profectus est cum Barnaba in Derben

14:20. And when they had preached the gospel to that city and had taught many, they returned again to Lystra and to Iconium and to Antioch:

Cumque evangelizassent civitati illi et docuissent multos reversi sunt Lystram et Iconium et Antiochiam

14:21. Confirming the souls of the disciples and exhorting them to continue in the faith: and that through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God.

Confirmantes animas discipulorum exhortantes ut permanerent in fide et quoniam per multas tribulationes oportet nos intrare in regnum Dei

14:22. And when they had ordained to them priests in every church and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, in whom they believed.

Et cum constituissent illis per singulas ecclesias presbyteros et orassent cum ieiunationibus commendaverunt eos Domino in quem crediderunt

14:23. And passing through Pisidia, they came into Pamphylia.

Transeuntesque Pisidiam venerunt Pamphiliam

14:24. And having spoken the word of the Lord in Perge, they went down into Attalia.

Et loquentes in Pergen verbum Domini descenderunt in Attaliam

14:25. And thence they sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been delivered to the grace of God, unto the work which they accomplished.

Et inde navigaverunt Antiochiam unde erant traditi gratiae Dei in opus quod compleverunt

14:26. And when they were come and had assembled the church, they related what great things God had done with them and how he had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles.

Cum autem venissent et congregassent ecclesiam rettulerunt quanta fecisset Deus cum illis quia aperuisset gentibus ostium fidei

14:27. And they abode no small time with the disciples.

Morati sunt autem tempus non modicum cum discipulis

Acts Chapter 15

A dissension about circumcision. The decision and letter of the council of Jerusalem.

---

15:1. And some, coming down from Judea, taught the brethren: That, except you be circumcised after the manner of Moses, you cannot be saved.

Et quidam descendentes de Iudaea docebant fratres quia nisi circumcidamini secundum morem Mosi non potestis salvi fieri

15:2. And when Paul and Barnabas had no small contest with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas and certain others of the other side should go up to the apostles and priests to Jerusalem, about this question.

Facta ergo seditione non minima Paulo et Barnabae adversum illos statuerunt ut ascenderent Paulus et Barnabas et quidam alii ex illis ad apostolos et presbyteros in Hierusalem super hac quaestione

15:3. They therefore, being brought on their way by the church, passed through Phenice and Samaria, relating the conversion of the Gentiles. And they caused great joy to all the brethren.

Illi igitur deducti ab ecclesia pertransiebant Foenicen et Samariam narrantes conversionem gentium et faciebant gaudium magnum omnibus fratribus

15:4. And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received by the church and by the apostles and ancients, declaring how great things God had done with them.

Cum autem venissent Hierosolymam suscepti sunt ab ecclesia et ab apostolis et senioribus adnuntiantes quanta Deus fecisset cum illis

15:5. But there arose of the sect of the Pharisees some that believed, saying: They must be circumcised and be commanded to observe the law of Moses.

Surrexerunt autem quidam de heresi Pharisaeorum qui crediderant dicentes quia oportet circumcidi eos praecipere quoque servare legem Mosi

15:6. And the apostles and ancients assembled to consider of this matter.

Conveneruntque apostoli et seniores videre de verbo hoc

15:7. And when there had been much disputing, Peter, rising up, said to them: Men, brethren, you know that in former days God made choice among us, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel and believe.

Cum autem magna conquisitio fieret surgens Petrus dixit ad eos viri fratres vos scitis quoniam ab antiquis diebus in nobis elegit Deus per os meum audire gentes verbum evangelii et credere

15:8. And God, who knoweth the hearts, gave testimony, giving unto them the Holy Ghost, as well as to us:

Et qui novit corda Deus testimonium perhibuit dans illis Spiritum Sanctum sicut et nobis

15:9. And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

Et nihil discrevit inter nos et illos fide purificans corda eorum

15:10. Now therefore, why tempt you God to put a yoke upon the necks of the disciples which neither our fathers nor we have been able to bear?

Nunc ergo quid temptatis Deum inponere iugum super cervicem discipulorum quod neque patres nostri neque nos portare potuimus

15:11. But by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, we believe to be saved, in like manner as they also.

Sed per gratiam Domini Iesu credimus salvari quemadmodum et illi

15:12. And all the multitude held their peace: and they heard Barnabas and Paul telling what great signs and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

Tacuit autem omnis multitudo et audiebant Barnaban et Paulum narrantes quanta fecisset Deus signa et prodigia in gentibus per eos

15:13. And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying: Men, brethren, hear me.

Et postquam tacuerunt respondit Iacobus dicens viri fratres audite me

15:14. Simon hath related how God first visited to take to the Gentiles, a people to his name.

Simeon narravit quemadmodum primum Deus visitavit sumere ex gentibus populum nomini suo

15:15. And to this agree the words of the prophets, as it is written:

Et huic concordant verba prophetarum sicut scriptum est

15:16. After these things I will return and will rebuild the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down: and the ruins thereof I will rebuild. And I will set it up:

Post haec revertar et aedificabo tabernaculum David quod decidit et diruta eius reaedificabo et erigam illud

15:17. That the residue of men may seek after the Lord, and all nations upon whom my name is invoked, saith the Lord, who doth these things.

Ut requirant ceteri hominum Dominum et omnes gentes super quas invocatum est nomen meum dicit Dominus faciens haec

15:18. To the Lord was his own work known from the beginning of the world.

Notum a saeculo est Domino opus suum

15:19. For which cause, judge that they who from among the Gentiles are converted to God are not to be disquieted:

Propter quod ego iudico non inquietari eos qui ex gentibus convertuntur ad Deum

15:20. But that we write unto them, that they refrain themselves from the pollutions of idols and from fornication and from things strangled and from blood.

Sed scribere ad eos ut abstineant se a contaminationibus simulacrorum et fornicatione et suffocatis et sanguine

15:21. For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him in the synagogues, where he is read every sabbath.

Moses enim a temporibus antiquis habet in singulis civitatibus qui eum praedicent in synagogis ubi per omne sabbatum legitur

15:22. Then it pleased the apostles and ancients, with the whole church, to choose men of their own company and to send to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas, namely, Judas, who was surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren.

Tunc placuit apostolis et senioribus cum omni ecclesia eligere viros ex eis et mittere Antiochiam cum Paulo et Barnaba Iudam qui cognominatur Barsabban et Silam viros primos in fratribus

15:23. Writing by their hands: The apostles and ancients, brethren, to the brethren of the Gentiles that are at Antioch and in Syria and Cilicia, greeting.

Scribentes per manus eorum apostoli et seniores fratres his qui sunt Antiochiae et Syriae et Ciliciae fratribus ex gentibus salutem

15:24. Forasmuch as we have heard that some going out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, to whom we gave no commandment:

Quoniam audivimus quia quidam ex nobis exeuntes turbaverunt vos verbis evertentes animas vestras quibus non mandavimus

15:25. It hath seemed good to us, being assembled together, to choose out men and to send them unto you, with our well beloved Barnabas and Paul:

Placuit nobis collectis in unum eligere viros et mittere ad vos cum carissimis nostris Barnaba et Paulo

15:26. Men that have given their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Hominibus qui tradiderunt animas suas pro nomine Domini nostri Iesu Christi

15:27. We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who themselves also will, by word of mouth, tell you the same things.

Misimus ergo Iudam et Silam qui et ipsi vobis verbis referent eadem

15:28. For it hath seemed good to the Holy Ghost and to us to lay no further burden upon you than these necessary things:

Visum est enim Spiritui Sancto et nobis nihil ultra inponere vobis oneris quam haec necessario

15:29. That you abstain from things sacrificed to idols and from blood and from things strangled and from fornication: from which things keeping yourselves, you shall do well. Fare ye well.

Ut abstineatis vos ab immolatis simulacrorum et sanguine suffocato et fornicatione a quibus custodientes vos bene agetis valet

From blood, and from things strangled... The use of these things, though of their own nature indifferent, was here prohibited, to bring the Jews more easily to admit of the society of the Gentiles; and to exercise the latter in obedience. But this prohibition was but temporary, and has long since ceased to oblige; more especially in the western churches.

15:30. They therefore, being dismissed, went down to Antioch and, gathering together the multitude, delivered the epistle.

Illi igitur dimissi descenderunt Antiochiam et congregata multitudo tradiderunt epistulam

15:31. Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation.

Quam cum legissent gavisi sunt super consolatione

15:32. But Judas and Silas, being prophets also themselves, with many words comforted the brethren and confirmed them.

Iudas autem et Silas et ipsi cum essent prophetae verbo plurimo consolati sunt fratres et confirmaverunt

15:33. And after they had spent some time there, they were let go with peace by the brethren unto them that had sent them.

Facto autem ibi tempore dimissi sunt cum pace a fratribus ad eos qui miserant illos

15:34. But it seemed good unto Silas to remain there: and Judas alone departed to Jerusalem.

15:35. And Paul and Barnabas continued at Antioch, teaching and preaching, with many others, the word of the Lord.

Paulus autem et Barnabas demorabantur Antiochiae docentes et evangelizantes cum aliis pluribus verbum Domini

15:36. And after some days, Paul said to Barnabas: Let us return and visit our brethren in all the cities wherein we have preached the word of the Lord, to see how they do.

Post aliquot autem dies dixit ad Barnaban Paulus revertentes visitemus fratres per universas civitates in quibus praedicavimus verbum Domini quomodo se habeant

15:37. And Barnabas would have taken with them John also, that was surnamed Mark.

Barnabas autem volebat secum adsumere et Iohannem qui cognominatur Marcus

15:38. But Paul desired that he (as having departed from them out of Pamphylia and not gone with them to the work) might not be received.

Paulus autem rogabat eum qui discessisset ab eis a Pamphylia et non isset cum eis in opus non debere recipi eum

15:39. And there arose a dissension so that they departed one from another. And Barnabas indeed, taking Mark, sailed to Cyprus.

Facta est autem dissensio ita ut discederent ab invicem et Barnabas adsumpto Marco navigaret Cyprum

15:40. But Paul, choosing Silas, departed, being delivered by the brethren to the grace of God.

Paulus vero electo Sila profectus est traditus gratiae Domini a fratribus

15:41. And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches, commanding them to keep the precepts of the apostles and the ancients.

Perambulabat autem Syriam et Ciliciam confirmans ecclesias

Acts Chapter 16

Paul visits the churches. He is called to preach in Macedonia. He is scourged at Philippi.

---

16:1. And he came to Derbe and Lystra. And behold, there was a certain disciple there named Timothy, the son of a Jewish woman that believed: but his father was a Gentile.

Pervenit autem in Derben et Lystram et ecce discipulus quidam erat ibi nomine Timotheus filius mulieris iudaeae fidelis patre gentili

16:2. To this man the brethren that were in Lystra and Iconium gave a good testimony.

Huic testimonium reddebant qui in Lystris erant et Iconii fratres

16:3. Him Paul would have to go along with him: and taking him, he circumcised him, because of the Jews who were in those places. For they all knew that his father was a Gentile.

Hunc voluit Paulus secum proficisci et adsumens circumcidit eum propter Iudaeos qui erant in illis locis sciebant enim omnes quod pater eius gentilis esset

16:4. And as they passed through the cities, they delivered unto them the decrees for to keep, that were decreed by the apostles and ancients who were at Jerusalem.

Cum autem pertransirent civitates tradebant eis custodire dogmata quae erant decreta ab apostolis et senioribus qui essent Hierosolymis

16:5. And the churches were confirmed in faith and increased in number daily.

Et ecclesiae quidem confirmabantur fide et abundabant numero cotidie

16:6. And when they had passed through Phrygia and the country of Galatia, they were forbidden by the Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia.

Transeuntes autem Frygiam et Galatiae regionem vetati sunt a Sancto Spiritu loqui verbum in Asia

16:7. And when they were come into Mysia, they attempted to go into Bithynia: and the Spirit of Jesus suffered them not.

Cum venissent autem in Mysiam temptabant ire Bithyniam et non permisit eos Spiritus Iesu

16:8. And when they had passed through Mysia, they went down to Troas.

Cum autem pertransissent Mysiam descenderunt Troadem

16:9. And a vision was showed to Paul in the night, which was a man of Macedonia standing and beseeching him and saying: Pass over into Macedonia and help us.

Et visio per noctem Paulo ostensa est vir macedo quidam erat stans et deprecans eum et dicens transiens in Macedoniam adiuva nos

16:10. And as soon as he had seen the vision, immediately we sought to go into Macedonia: being assured that God had called us to preach the gospel to them.

Ut autem visum vidit statim quaesivimus proficisci in Macedoniam certi facti quia vocasset nos Deus evangelizare eis

16:11. And sailing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the day following to Neapolis.

Navigantes autem a Troade recto cursu venimus Samothraciam et sequenti die Neapolim

16:12. And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of part of Macedonia, a colony. And we were in this city some days conferring together.

Et inde Philippis quae est prima partis Macedoniae civitas colonia eramus autem in hac urbe diebus aliquot conferentes

16:13. And upon the Sabbath day, we went forth without the gate by a river side, where it seemed that there was prayer: and sitting down, we spoke to the women that were assembled.

Die autem sabbatorum egressi sumus foras portam iuxta flumen ubi videbatur oratio esse et sedentes loquebamur mulieribus quae convenerant

16:14. And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, one that worshipped God, did hear: whose heart the Lord opened to attend to those things which were said by Paul.

Et quaedam mulier nomine Lydia purpuraria civitatis Thyatirenorum colens Deum audivit cuius Dominus aperuit cor intendere his quae dicebantur a Paulo

16:15. And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying: If you have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house and abide there. And she constrained us.

Cum autem baptizata esset et domus eius deprecata est dicens si iudicastis me fidelem Domino esse introite in domum meam et manete et coegit nos

16:16. And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain girl having a pythonical spirit met us, who brought to her masters much gain by divining.

Factum est autem euntibus nobis ad orationem puellam quandam habentem spiritum pythonem obviare nobis quae quaestum magnum praestabat dominis suis divinando

A pythonical spirit... That is, a spirit pretending to divine, and tell fortunes.

16:17. This same following Paul and us, cried out, saying: These men are the servants of the Most High God, who preach unto you the way of salvation.

Haec subsecuta Paulum et nos clamabat dicens isti homines servi Dei excelsi sunt qui adnuntiant vobis viam salutis

16:18. And this she did many days. But Paul being grieved, turned and said to the spirit: I command thee, in the name of Jesus Christ, to go from her. And he went out the same hour.

Hoc autem faciebat multis diebus dolens autem Paulus et conversus spiritui dixit praecipio tibi in nomine Iesu Christi exire ab ea et exiit eadem hora

16:19. But her masters, seeing that the hope of their gain was gone, apprehending Paul and Silas, brought them into the market place to the rulers.

Videntes autem domini eius quia exivit spes quaestus eorum adprehendentes Paulum et Silam perduxerunt in forum ad principes

16:20. And presenting them to the magistrates, they said: These men disturb our city, being Jews:

Et offerentes eos magistratibus dixerunt hii homines conturbant civitatem nostram cum sint Iudaei

16:21. And preach a fashion which it is not lawful for us to receive nor observe, being Romans.

Et adnuntiant morem quem non licet nobis suscipere neque facere cum simus Romani

16:22. And the people ran together against them: and the magistrates, rending off their clothes, commanded them to be beaten with rods.

Et concurrunt plebs adversus eos et magistratus scissis tunicis eorum iusserunt virgis caedi

16:23. And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the gaoler to keep them diligently.

Et cum multas plagas eis inposuissent miserunt eos in carcerem praecipientes custodi ut diligenter custodiret eos

16:24. Who having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison and made their feet fast in the stocks.

Qui cum tale praeceptum accepisset misit eos in interiorem carcerem et pedes eorum strinxit in ligno

16:25. And at midnight, Paul and Silas, praying, praised God. And they that were in prison heard them.

Media autem nocte Paulus et Silas adorantes laudabant Deum et audiebant eos qui in custodia erant

16:26. And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken. And immediately all the doors were opened and the bands of all were loosed.

Subito vero terraemotus factus est magnus ita ut moverentur fundamenta carceris et aperta sunt statim ostia omnia et universorum vincula soluta sunt

16:27. And the keeper of the prison, awakening out of his sleep and seeing the doors of the prison open, drawing his sword, would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled.

Expergefactus autem custos carceris et videns apertas ianuas carceris evaginato gladio volebat se interficere aestimans fugisse vinctos

16:28. But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying: Do thyself no harm, for we all are here.

Clamavit autem Paulus magna voce dicens nihil feceris tibi mali universi enim hic sumus

16:29. Then calling for a light, he went in: and trembling, fell down at the feet of Paul and Silas.

Petitoque lumine introgressus est et tremefactus procidit Paulo et Silae

16:30. And bringing them out, he said: Masters, what must I do, that I may be saved?

Et producens eos foras ait domini quid me oportet facere ut salvus fiam

16:31. But they said: believe in the Lord Jesus: and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.

At illi dixerunt crede in Domino Iesu et salvus eris tu et domus tua

16:32. And they preached the word of the Lord to him and to all that were in his house.

Et locuti sunt ei verbum Domini cum omnibus qui erant in domo eius

16:33. And he, taking them the same hour of the night, washed their stripes: and himself was baptized, and all his house immediately.

Et tollens eos in illa hora noctis lavit plagas eorum et baptizatus est ipse et omnes eius continuo

16:34. And when he had brought them into his own house, he laid the table for them: and rejoiced with all his house, believing God.

Cumque perduxisset eos in domum suam adposuit eis mensam et laetatus est cum omni domo sua credens Deo

16:35. And when the day was come, the magistrates sent the serjeants, saying: Let those men go.

Et cum dies factus esset miserunt magistratus lictores dicentes dimitte homines illos

16:36. And the keeper of the prison told these words to Paul: The magistrates have sent to let you go. Now therefore depart. And go in peace.

Nuntiavit autem custos carceris verba haec Paulo quia miserunt magistratus ut dimittamini nunc igitur exeuntes ite in pace

16:37. But Paul said to them: They have beaten us publicly, uncondemned, men that are Romans, and have cast us into prison. And now do they thrust us out privately? Not so: but let them come.

Paulus autem dixit eis caesos nos publice indemnatos homines romanos miserunt in carcerem et nunc occulte nos eiciunt non ita sed veniant

16:38. And let us out ourselves. And the serjeants told these words to the magistrates. And they were afraid: hearing that they were Romans.

Et ipsi nos eiciant nuntiaverunt autem magistratibus lictores verba haec timueruntque audito quod Romani essent

16:39. And coming, they besought them: and bringing them out, they desired them to depart out of the city.

Et venientes deprecati sunt eos et educentes rogabant ut egrederentur urbem

16:40. And they went out of the prison and entered into the house of Lydia: and having seen the brethren, they comforted them and departed.

Exeuntes autem de carcere introierunt ad Lydiam et visis fratribus consolati sunt eos et profecti sunt

Acts Chapter 17

Paul preaches to the Thessalonians and Bereans. His discourse to the Athenians.

---

17:1. And when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where there was a synagogue of the Jews.

Cum autem perambulassent Amphipolim et Apolloniam venerunt Thessalonicam ubi erat synagoga Iudaeorum

17:2. And Paul, according to his custom, went in unto them. And for three sabbath days he reasoned with them out of the scriptures:

Secundum consuetudinem autem Paulus introivit ad eos et per sabbata tria disserebat eis de scripturis

17:3. Declaring and insinuating that the Christ was to suffer and to rise again from the dead; and that this is Jesus Christ, whom I preach to you.

Adaperiens et insinuans quia Christum oportuit pati et resurgere a mortuis et quia hic est Christus Iesus quem ego adnuntio vobis

17:4. And some of them believed and were associated to Paul and Silas: and of those that served God and of the Gentiles a great multitude: and of noble women not a few.

Et quidam ex eis crediderunt et adiuncti sunt Paulo et Silae et de colentibus gentilibusque multitudo magna et mulieres nobiles non paucae

17:5. But the Jews, moved with envy and taking unto them some wicked men of the vulgar sort and making a tumult, set the city in an uproar: and besetting Jason's house, sought to bring them out unto the people.

Zelantes autem Iudaei adsumentesque de vulgo viros quosdam malos et turba facta concitaverunt civitatem et adsistentes domui Iasonis quaerebant eos producere in populum

17:6. And not finding them, they drew Jason and certain brethren to the rulers of the city, crying: They that set the city in an uproar are come hither also:

Et cum non invenissent eos trahebant Iasonem et quosdam fratres ad principes civitatis clamantes quoniam hii qui orbem concitant et huc venerunt

City. Urbem... In the Greek, the world.

17:7. Whom Jason hath received. And these all do contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying that there is another king, Jesus.

Quos susceperit Iason et hii omnes contra decreta Caesaris faciunt regem alium dicentes esse Iesum

17:8. And they stirred up the people: and the rulers of the city, hearing these things,

Concitaverunt autem plebem et principes civitatis audientes haec

17:9. And having taken satisfaction of Jason and of the rest, they let them go.

Et accepto satis ab Iasone et a ceteris dimiserunt eos

17:10. But the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea. Who, when they were come thither, went into the synagogue of the Jews.

Fratres vero confestim per noctem dimiserunt Paulum et Silam in Beream qui cum advenissent in synagogam Iudaeorum introierunt

17:11. Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, who received the word with all eagerness, daily searching the scriptures, whether these things were so.

Hii autem erant nobiliores eorum qui sunt Thessalonicae qui susceperunt verbum cum omni aviditate cotidie scrutantes scripturas si haec ita se haberent

More noble... The Jews of Berea are justly commended, for their eagerly embracing the truth, and searching the scriptures, to find out the texts alleged by the apostle: which was a far more generous proceeding than that of their countrymen at Thessalonica, who persecuted the preachers of the gospel, without examining the grounds they alleged for what they taught.

17:12. And many indeed of them believed: and of honourable women that were Gentiles and of men, not a few.

Et multi quidem crediderunt ex eis et gentiliū mulierum honestarum et viri non pauci

17:13. And when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was also preached by Paul at Berea, they came thither also, stirring up and troubling the multitude.

Cum autem cognovissent in Thessalonica Iudaei quia et Beroeae praedicatum est a Paulo verbum Dei venerunt et illuc commoventes et turbantes multitudinem

17:14. And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul, to go unto the sea: but Silas and Timothy remained there.

Statimque tunc Paulum dimiserunt fratres ut iret usque ad mare Silas autem et Timotheus remanserunt ibi

17:15. And they that conducted Paul brought him as far as Athens: and receiving a commandment from him to Silas and Timothy, that they should come to him with all speed, they departed.

Qui autem deducebant Paulum perduxerunt usque Athenas et accepto mandato ab eo ad Silam et Timotheum ut quam celeriter venirent ad illum profecti sunt

17:16. Now whilst Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred within him, seeing the city wholly given to idolatry.

Paulus autem cum Athenis eos expectaret incitabatur spiritus eius in ipso videns idolatriae deditam civitatem

17:17. He disputed, therefore, in the synagogue with the Jews and with them that served God: and in the market place, every day, with them that were there.

Disputabat igitur in synagoga cum Iudaeis et colentibus et in foro per omnes dies ad eos qui aderant

17:18. And certain philosophers of the Epicureans and of the Stoics disputed with him. And some said: What is it that this word sower would say? But others: He seemeth to be a setter forth of new gods. Because he preached to them Jesus and the resurrection.

Quidam autem epicurei et stoici philosophi disserebant cum eo et quidam dicebant quid vult seminiverbius hic dicere alii vero novorum daemoniorum videtur adnuntiator esse quia Iesum et resurrectionem adnuntiabat eis

17:19. And taking him, they brought him to the Areopagus, saying: May we know what this new doctrine is, which thou speakest of?

Et adprehensum eum ad Ariopagum duxerunt dicentes possumus scire quae est haec nova quae a te dicitur doctrina

17:20. For thou bringest in certain new things to our ears. We would know therefore what these things mean.

Nova enim quaedam infers auribus nostris volumus ergo scire quidnam velint haec esse

17:21. (Now all the Athenians and strangers that were there employed themselves in nothing else, but either in telling or in hearing some new thing.)

Athenienses autem omnes et advenae hospites ad nihil aliud vacabant nisi aut dicere aut audire aliquid novi

17:22. But Paul, standing in the midst of the Areopagus, said: Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things you are too superstitious.

Stans autem Paulus in medio Ariopagi ait viri athenienses per omnia quasi superstitiosiores vos video

17:23. For passing by and seeing your idols, I found an altar also, on which was written: To the Unknown God. What therefore you worship without knowing it, that I preach to you:

Praeteriens enim et videns simulacra vestra inveni et aram in qua scriptum erat ignoto deo quod ergo ignorantibus colitis hoc ego adnuntio vobis

17:24. God, who made the world and all things therein, he being Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands.

Deus qui fecit mundum et omnia quae in eo sunt hic caeli et terrae cum sit Dominus non in manufactis templis inhabitat

Dwelleth not in temples... God is not contained in temples; so as to need them for his dwelling, or any other uses, as the heathens imagined. Yet by his omnipresence, he is both there and everywhere.

17:25. Neither is he served with men's hands, as though he needed any thing: seeing it is he who giveth to all life and breath and all things:

Nec manibus humanis colitur indigens aliquo cum ipse det omnibus vitam et inspirationem et omnia

17:26. And hath made of one, all mankind, to dwell upon the whole face of the earth, determining appointed times and the limits of their habitation.

Fecitque ex uno omne genus hominum inhabitare super universam faciem terrae definiens statuta tempora et terminos habitationis eorum

17:27. That they should seek God, if haply they may feel after him or find him, although he be not far from every one of us.

Quaerere Deum si forte adtractent eum aut inveniant quamvis non longe sit ab unoquoque nostrum

17:28. For in him we live and move and are: as some also of your own poets said: For we are also his offspring.

In ipso enim vivimus et movemur et sumus sicut et quidam vestrum poetarum dixerunt ipsius enim et genus sumus

17:29. Being therefore the offspring of God, we must not suppose the divinity to be like unto gold or silver or stone, the graving of art and device of man.

Genus ergo cum simus Dei non debemus aestimare auro aut argento aut lapidi sculpturae artis et cogitationis hominis divinum esse simile

17:30. And God indeed having winked at the times of this ignorance, now declareth unto men that all should every where do penance.

Et tempora quidem huius ignorantiae despiciens Deus nunc adnuntiat hominibus ut omnes ubique paenitentiam agant

17:31. Because he hath appointed a day wherein he will judge the world in equity, by the man whom he hath appointed: giving faith to all, by raising him up from the dead.

Eo quod statuit diem in qua iudicaturus est orbem in aequitate in viro in quo statuit fidem praebens omnibus suscitans eum a mortuis

17:32. And when they had heard of the resurrection of the dead, some indeed mocked. But others said: We will hear thee again concerning this matter.

Cum audissent autem resurrectionem mortuorum quidam quidem inridebant quidam vero dixerunt audiemus te de hoc iterum

17:33. So Paul went out from among them.

Sic Paulus exivit de medio eorum

17:34. But certain men, adhering to him, did believe: among whom was also Dionysius the Areopagite and a woman named Damaris and others with them.

Quidam vero viri adherentes ei crediderunt in quibus et Dionysius Ariopagita et mulier nomine Damaris et alii cum eis

Acts Chapter 18

Paul founds the church of Corinth and preaches at Ephesus and in other places. Apollo goes to Corinth.

---

18:1. After these things, departing from Athens, he came to Corinth.

Post haec egressus ab Athenis venit Corinthum

18:2. And finding a certain Jew, named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with Priscilla his wife (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome), he came to them.

Et inveniens quendam Iudaeum nomine Aquilam Ponticum genere qui nuper venerat ab Italia et Priscillam uxorem eius eo quod praecepisset Claudius discedere omnes Iudaeos a Roma accessit ad eos

18:3. And because he was of the same trade, he remained with them and wrought. (Now they were tentmakers by trade.)

Et quia eiusdem erat artis manebat apud eos et operabatur erat autem scenofactoriae artis

18:4. And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, bringing in the name of the Lord Jesus. And he persuaded the Jews and the Greeks.

18:5. And when Silas and Timothy were come from Macedonia, Paul was earnest in preaching, testifying to the Jews that Jesus is the Christ.

Cum venissent autem de Macedonia Silas et Timotheus instabat verbo Paulus testificans Iudaeis esse Christum Iesum

18:6. But they gainsaying and blaspheming, he shook his garments and said to them: Your blood be upon your own heads: I am clean. From henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

Contradicientibus autem eis et blasphemantibus excutiens vestimenta dixit ad eos sanguis vester super caput vestrum mundus ego ex hoc ad gentes vadam

18:7. And departing thence, he entered into the house of a certain man, named Titus Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house was adjoining to the synagogue.

Et migrans inde intravit in domum cuiusdam nomine Titi Iusti colentis Deum cuius domus erat coniuncta synagogae

18:8. And Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, believed in the Lord, with all his house. And many of the Corinthians hearing, believed and were baptized.

Crispus autem archisynagogus credidit Domino cum omni domo sua et multi Corinthiorum audientes credebant et baptizabantur

18:9. And the Lord said to Paul in the night, by a vision: Do not fear, but speak. And hold not thy peace, Dixit autem Dominus nocte per visionem Paulo noli timere sed loquere et ne taceas

18:10. Because I am with thee and no man shall set upon thee, to hurt thee. For I have much people in this city.

Propter quod ego sum tecum et nemo adponetur tibi ut noceat te quoniam populus est mihi multus in hac civitate

18:11. And he stayed there a year and six months, teaching among them the word of God.

Sedit autem annum et sex menses docens apud eos verbum Dei

18:12. But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul and brought him to the judgment seat,

Gallione autem proconsule Achaiae insurrexerunt uno animo Iudaei in Paulum et adduxerunt eum ad tribunal

18:13. Saying: This man persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

Dicentes quia contra legem hic persuadet hominibus colere Deum

18:14. And when Paul was beginning to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews: If it were some matter of injustice or an heinous deed, O Jews, I should with reason bear with you.

Incipiente autem Paulo aperire os dixit Gallio ad Iudaeos si quidem esset iniquum aliquid aut facinus pessimum o viri iudaei recte vos sustinerem

18:15. But if they be questions of word and names and of your law, look you to it. I will not be judge of such things.

Si vero quaestiones sunt de verbo et nominibus et legis vestrae vos ipsi videritis iudex ego horum nolo esse

18:16. And he drove them from the judgment seat.

Et minavit eos a tribunali

18:17. And all laying hold on Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, beat him before the judgment seat. And Gallio cared for none of those things.

Adprehendentes autem omnes Sosthenem principem synagogae percutiebant ante tribunal et nihil eorum Gallioni curae erat

18:18. But Paul, when he had stayed yet many days, taking his leave of the brethren, sailed thence into Syria (and with him Priscilla and Aquila), having shorn his head in Cenchrae. For he had a vow.

Paulus vero cum adhuc sustinisset dies multos fratribus valefaciens navigavit Syriam et cum eo Priscilla et Aquila qui sibi totonderat in Cencris caput habebat enim votum

18:19. And he came to Ephesus and left them there. But he himself, entering into the synagogue, disputed with the Jews.

Devenitque Ephesum et illos ibi reliquit ipse vero ingressus synagogam disputavit cum Iudaeis

18:20. And when they desired him that he would tarry a longer time, he consented not:

Rogantibus autem eis ut ampliori tempore maneret non consensit

18:21. But taking his leave and saying: I will return to you again, God willing, he departed from Ephesus.

Sed valefaciens et dicens iterum revertar ad vos Deo volente profectus est ab Epheso

18:22. And going down to Caesarea, he went up to Jerusalem and saluted the church: and so came down to Antioch.

Et descendens Caesaream ascendit et salutavit ecclesiam et descendit Antiochiam

18:23. And after he had spent some time there, he departed and went through the country of Galatia and Phrygia, in order, confirming all the disciples.

Et factu ibi aliquanto tempore profectus est perambulans ex ordine galaticam regionem et Frygiam confirmans omnes discipulos

18:24. Now a certain Jew, named Apollo, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, came to Ephesus, one mighty in the scriptures.

Iudaeus autem quidam Apollo nomine Alexandrinus natione vir eloquens devenit Ephesum potens in scripturis

18:25. This man was instructed in the way of the Lord: and being fervent in spirit, spoke and taught diligently the things that are of Jesus, knowing only the baptism of John.

Hic erat edoctus viam Domini et fervens spiritu loquebatur et docebat diligenter ea quae sunt Iesu sciens tantum baptisma Iohannis

18:26. This man therefore began to speak boldly in the synagogue. Whom when Priscilla and Aquila had heard, they took him to them and expounded to him the way of the Lord more diligently.

Hic ergo coepit fiducialiter agere in synagoga quem cum audissent Priscilla et Aquila adsumpserunt eum et diligentius exposuerunt ei viam Dei

18:27. And whereas he was desirous to go to Achaia, the brethren exhorting wrote to the disciples to receive him. Who, when he was come, helped them much who had believed.

Cum autem vellet ire Achaiam exhortati fratres scripserunt discipulis ut susciperent eum qui cum venisset contulit multum his qui crediderant

18:28. For with much vigour he convinced the Jews openly, showing by the scriptures that Jesus is the Christ.

Vehementer enim Iudaeos revincebat publice ostendens per scripturas esse Christum Iesum

Acts Chapter 19

Paul establishes the church at Ephesus. The tumult of the silversmiths.

---

19:1. And it came to pass, while Apollo was at Corinth, that Paul, having passed through the upper coasts, came to Ephesus and found certain disciples.

Factum est autem cum Apollo esset Corinthi ut Paulus peragratis superioribus partibus veniret Ephesum et inveniret quosdam discipulos

19:2. And he said to them: Have you received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? But they said to him: We have not so much as heard whether there be a Holy Ghost.

Dixitque ad eos si Spiritum Sanctum accepistis credentes at illi ad eum sed neque si Spiritus Sanctus est audivimus

19:3. And he said: In what then were you baptized? Who said: In John's baptism.

Ille vero ait in quo ergo baptizati estis qui dixerunt in Iohannis baptisate

19:4. Then Paul said: John baptized the people with the baptism of penance saying: That they should believe in him, who was to come after him, that is to say, in Jesus.

Dixit autem Paulus Iohannes baptizavit baptismata paenitentiae populum dicens in eum qui venturus esset post ipsum ut crederent hoc est in Iesum

19:5. Having heard these things, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

His auditis baptizati sunt in nomine Domini Iesu

19:6. And when Paul had imposed his hands on them, the Holy Ghost came upon them: and they spoke with tongues and prophesied.

Et cum inposuisset illis manum Paulus venit Spiritus Sanctus super eos et loquebantur linguis et prophetabant

19:7. And all the men were about twelve.

Erant autem omnes viri fere duodecim

19:8. And entering into the synagogue, he spoke boldly for the space of three months, disputing and exhorting concerning the kingdom of God.

Introgressus autem synagogam cum fiducia loquebatur per tres menses disputans et suadens de regno Dei

19:9. But when some were hardened and believed not, speaking evil of the way of the Lord before the multitude, departing from them, he separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.

Cum autem quidam indurarentur et non crederent maledicentes viam coram multitudine discedens ab eis segregavit discipulos cotidie disputans in scola Tyranni

19:10. And this continued for the space of two years, so that all who dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and Gentiles.

Hoc autem factum est per biennium ita ut omnes qui habitabant in Asia audirent verbum Domini Iudaei atque gentiles

19:11. And God wrought by the hand of Paul more than common miracles.

Virtutesque non quaslibet Deus faciebat per manus Pauli

19:12. So that even there were brought from his body to the sick, handkerchiefs and aprons: and the diseases departed from them: and the wicked spirits went out of them.

Ita ut etiam super languidos deferrentur a corpore eius sudaria vel semicintia et recedebant ab eis languores et spiritus nequam egrediebantur

19:13. Now some also of the Jewish exorcists, who went about, attempted to invoke over them that had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying: I conjure you by Jesus, whom Paul preacheth.

Temptaverunt autem quidam et de circumeuntibus iudaeis exorcistis invocare super eos qui habebant spiritus malos nomen Domini Iesu dicentes adiuro vos per Iesum quem Paulus praedicat

19:14. And there were certain men, seven sons of Sceva, a Jew, a chief priest, that did this.

Erant autem quidam Scevae Iudaei principis sacerdotum septem filii qui hoc faciebant

19:15. But the wicked spirit, answering, said to them: Jesus I know: and Paul I know. But who are you?

Respondens autem spiritus nequam dixit eis Iesum novi et Paulum scio vos autem qui estis

19:16. And the man in whom the wicked spirit was, leaping upon them and mastering them both, prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

Et insiliens homo in eos in quo erat daemonium pessimum et dominatus amborum invaluit contra eos ita ut nudi et vulnerati effugerent de domo illa

19:17. And this became known to all the Jews and the Gentiles that dwelt a Ephesus. And fear fell on them all: and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

Hoc autem notum factum est omnibus Iudaeis atque gentilibus qui habitabant Ephesi et cecidit timor super omnes illos et magnificabatur nomen Domini Iesu

19:18. And many of them that believed came, confessing and declaring their deeds.

Multaque credentium veniebant confitentes et adnuntiantes actus suos

19:19. And many of them who had followed curious arts brought together their books and burnt them before all. And, counting the price of them, they found the money to be fifty thousand pieces of silver.

Multi autem ex his qui fuerant curiosa sectati contulerunt libros et combuserunt coram omnibus et computatis pretiis illorum invenerunt pecuniam denariorum quinquaginta milium

19:20. So mightily grew the word of God and was confirmed.

Ita fortiter verbum Dei crescebat et confirmabatur

19:21. And when these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying: After I have been there, I must see Rome also.

His autem expletis posuit Paulus in Spiritu transita Macedonia et Achaia ire Hierosolymam dicens quoniam postquam fuero ibi oportet me et Romam videre

19:22. And sending into Macedonia two of them that ministered to him, Timothy and Erastus, he himself remained for a time in Asia.

Mittens autem in Macedoniam duos ex ministrantibus sibi Timotheum et Erastum ipse remansit ad tempus in Asia

19:23. Now at that time there arose no small disturbance about the way of the Lord.

Facta est autem in illo tempore turbatio non minima de via 19:24. For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver temples for Diana, brought no small gain to the craftsmen.

Demetrius enim quidam nomine argentarius faciens aedes argenteas Dianae praestabat artificibus non modicum quaestum

19:25. Whom he calling together with the workmen of like occupation, said: Sirs, you know that our gain is by this trade.

Quos convocans et eos qui eiusmodi erant opifices dixit viri scitis quia de hoc artificio adquisitio est nobis

19:26. And you see and hear that this Paul, by persuasion hath drawn away a great multitude, not only of Ephesus, but almost of all Asia, saying: they are not gods which are made by hands.

Et videtis et auditis quia non solum Ephesi sed paene totius Asiae Paulus hic suadens avertit multam turbam dicens quoniam non sunt dii qui manibus fiunt

19:27. So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought, but also the temple of great Diana shall be reputed for nothing! Yea, and her majesty shall begin to be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

Non solum autem haec periclitabitur nobis pars in redargutionem venire sed et magnae deae Dianae templum in nihilum reputabitur sed et destrui incipiet maiestas eius quam tota Asia et orbis colit

19:28. Having heard these things, they were full of anger and cried out, saying: Great is Diana of the Ephesians!

His auditis repleti sunt ira et exclamaverunt dicentes magna Diana Ephesiorum

19:29. And the whole city was filled with confusion. And having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

Et impleta est civitas confusione et impetum fecerunt uno animo in theatrum rapti Gaio et Aristarcho Macedonibus comitibus Pauli

19:30. And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

Paulo autem volente intrare in populum non permiserunt discipuli

19:31. And some also of the rulers of Asia, who were his friends, sent unto him, desiring that he would not venture himself into the theatre.

Quidam autem et de Asiae principibus qui erant amici eius miserunt ad eum rogantes ne se daret in theatrum

19:32. Now some cried one thing, some another. For the assembly was confused: and the greater part knew not for what cause they were come together.

Alii autem aliud clamabant erat enim ecclesia confusa et plures nesciebant qua ex causa convenissent

19:33. And they drew forth Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews thrusting him forward. And Alexander, beckoning with his hand for silence, would have given the people satisfaction,

De turba autem detraxerunt Alexandrum propellentibus eum Iudaeis Alexander ergo manu silentio postulato volebat rationem reddere populo

19:34. But as soon as they perceived him to be a Jew, all with one voice, for the space of about two, hours, cried out: Great is Diana of the Ephesians!

Quem ut cognoverunt Iudaeum esse vox facta est una omnium quasi per horas duas clamantium magna Diana Ephesiorum

19:35. And when the town clerk had appeased the multitudes, he said: Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great Diana and of Jupiter's offspring?

Et cum sedasset scriba turbas dixit viri ephesii quis enim est hominum qui nesciat Ephesiorum civitatem cultricem esse magnae Dianae Iovisque prolis

19:36. For as much therefore as these things cannot be contradicted, you ought to be quiet and to do nothing rashly.

Cum ergo his contradici non possit oportet vos sedatos esse et nihil temere agere

19:37. For you have brought hither these men, who are neither guilty of sacrilege nor of blasphemy against your goddess.

Adduxistis enim homines istos neque sacrilegos neque blasphemantes deam vestram

19:38. But if Demetrius and the craftsmen that are with him have a matter against any man, the courts of justice are open: and there are proconsuls. Let them accuse one another.

Quod si Demetrius et qui cum eo sunt artifices habent adversus aliquem causam conventus forenses aguntur et pro consulibus sunt accusent invicem

19:39. And if you inquire after any other matter, it may be decided in a lawful assembly.

Si quid autem alterius rei quaeritis in legitima ecclesia poterit absolvi

19:40. For we are even in danger to be called in question for this day's uproar, there being no man guilty (of whom we may give account) of this concourse. And when he had said these things, he dismissed the assembly.

Nam et periclitamur argui seditionis hodiernae cum nullus obnoxius sit de quo non possimus reddere rationem concursus istius et cum haec dixisset dimisit ecclesiam

Acts Chapter 20

Paul passes through Macedonia and Greece. He raises a dead man to life at Troas. His discourse to the clergy of Ephesus.

---

20:1. And after the tumult was ceased, Paul calling to him the disciples and exhorting them, took his leave and set forward to go into Macedonia.

Postquam autem cessavit tumultus vocatis Paulus discipulis et exhortatus eos valedixit et profectus est ut iret in Macedoniam

20:2. And when he had gone over those parts and had exhorted them with many words, he came into Greece:

Cum autem perambulasset partes illas et exhortatus eos fuisset multo sermone venit ad Graeciam

20:3. Where, when he had spent three months, the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria. So he took a resolution to return through Macedonia.

Ubi cum fecisset menses tres factae sunt illi insidiae a Iudaeis navigaturo in Syriam habuitque consilium ut reverteretur per Macedoniam

20:4. And there accompanied him Sopater, the son of Pyrrhus, of Berea: and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus: and Gaius of Derbe and Timothy: and of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus.

Comitatus est autem eum Sopater Pyri Beroensis Thessalonicensium vero Aristarchus et Secundus et Gaius Derbeus et Timotheus Asiani vero Tychicus et Trophimus

20:5. These, going before, stayed for us at Troas.

Hii cum praecessissent sustinebant nos Troade

20:6. But we sailed from Philippi after the days of the azymes and came to them to Troas in five days, where we abode seven days.

Nos vero navigavimus post dies azymorum a Philippis et venimus ad eos Troadem in diebus quinque ubi demorati sumus diebus septem

20:7. And on the first day of the week, when we were assembled to break bread, Paul discoursed with them, being to depart on the morrow. And he continued his speech until midnight.

In una autem sabbati cum convenissemus ad frangendum panem Paulus disputabat eis profecturus in crastinum protraxitque sermonem usque in mediam noctem

And on the first day of the week... Here St. Chrysostom and many other interpreters of the scripture explain, that the Christians even at this time, must have changed the sabbath into the first day of the week, (the Lord's day), as all Christians now keep it. This change was undoubtedly made by the authority of the church; hence the exercise of the power, which Christ had given to her: for he is Lord of the sabbath.

20:8. And there were a great number of lamps in the upper chamber where we were assembled.

Erant autem lampades copiosae in cenaculo ubi eramus congregati

20:9. And a certain young man named Eutychus, sitting on the window, being oppressed with a deep sleep (as Paul was long preaching), by occasion of his sleep fell from the third loft down and was taken up dead.

Sedens autem quidam adulescens nomine Eutychus super fenestram cum mergeretur somno gravi disputante diu Paulo eductus somno cecidit de tertio cenaculo deorsum et sublatus est mortuus

20:10. To whom, when Paul had gone down, he laid himself upon him and, embracing him, said: Be not troubled, for his soul is in him.

Ad quem cum descendisset Paulus incubuit super eum et complexus dixit nolite turbari anima enim ipsius in eo est

20:11. Then going up and breaking bread and tasting and having talked a long time to them, until daylight, so he departed.

Ascendens autem frangensque panem et gustans satsique adlocutus usque in lucem sic profectus est

20:12. And they brought the youth alive and were not a little comforted.

Adduxerunt autem puerum viventem et consolati sunt non minime

20:13. But we going aboard the ship, sailed to Assos, being there to take in Paul. For so he had appointed, himself purposing to travel by land.

Nos autem ascendentes navem enavigavimus in Asson inde suscepturi Paulum sic enim disposuerat ipse per terram iter facturus

20:14. And when he had met with us at Assos, we took him in and came to Mitylene.

Cum autem convenisset nos in Asson adsumpto eo venimus Mytilenen

20:15. And sailing thence, the day following we came over against Chios: and the next day we arrived at Samos: and the day following we came to Miletus.

Et inde navigantes sequenti die venimus contra Chium et alia adplicuimus Samum et sequenti venimus Miletum

20:16. For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, lest he should be stayed any time in Asia. For he hasted, if it were possible for him, to keep the day of Pentecost at Jerusalem.

Proposuerat enim Paulus transnavigare Ephesum ne qua mora illi fieret in Asia festinabat enim si possibile sibi esset ut diem pentecosten faceret Hierosolymis

20:17. And sending from Miletus to Ephesus, he called the ancients of the church.

A Mileto autem mittens Ephesum vocavit maiores natu ecclesiae

20:18. And when they were come to him and were together, he said to them: You know from the first day that I came into Asia, in what manner I have been with you, for all the time.

Qui cum venissent ad eum et simul essent dixit eis vos scitis a prima die qua ingressus sum in Asiam qualiter vobiscum per omne tempus fuerim

20:19. Serving the Lord with all humility and with tears and temptations which befell me by the conspiracies of the Jews:

Serviens Domino cum omni humilitate et lacrimis et temptationibus quae mihi acciderunt ex insidiis Iudaeorum

20:20. How I have kept back nothing that was profitable to you, but have preached it to you, and taught you publicly, and from house to house,

Quomodo nihil subtraxerim utilium quo minus adnuntiarem vobis et docerem vos publice et per domos

20:21. Testifying both to Jews and Gentiles penance towards God and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ.

Testificans Iudaeis atque gentilibus in Deum paenitentiam et fidem in Dominum nostrum Iesum Christum

20:22. And now, behold, being bound in the spirit, I go to Jerusalem: not knowing the things which shall befall me there:

Et nunc ecce alligatus ego Spiritu vado in Hierusalem quae in ea eventura sint mihi ignorans

20:23. Save that the Holy Ghost in every city witnesseth to me, saying: That bands and afflictions wait for me at Jerusalem.

Nisi quod Spiritus Sanctus per omnes civitates protestatur mihi dicens quoniam vincula et tribulationes me manent

20:24. But I fear none of these things, neither do I count my life more precious than myself, so that I may consummate my course and the ministry of the word which I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

Sed nihil horum vereor nec facio animam pretiosorem quam me dummodo consummem cursum meum et ministerium quod accepi a Domino Iesu testificari evangelium gratiae Dei

20:25. And now behold, I know that all you, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

Et nunc ecce ego scio quia amplius non videbitis faciem meam vos omnes per quos transivi praedicans regnum Dei

20:26. Wherefore I take you to witness this day that I am clear from the blood of all men.

Quapropter contestor vos hodierna die quia mundus sum a sanguine omnium

20:27. For I have not spread to declare unto you all, the counsel of God.

Non enim subterfugi quo minus adnuntiarem omne consilium Dei vobis

20:28. Take heed to yourselves and to the whole flock, wherein the Holy Ghost hath placed you bishops, to rule the Church of God which he hath purchased with his own blood.

Adtendite vobis et universo gregi in quo vos Spiritus Sanctus posuit episcopos regere ecclesiam Dei quam adquisivit sanguine suo

20:29. I know that after my departure ravening wolves will enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

Ego scio quoniam intrabunt post discessionem meam lupi graves in vos non parcentes gregi

20:30. And of your own selves shall arise men speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.

Et ex vobis ipsis exsurgent viri loquentes perversa ut abducant discipulos post se

20:31. Therefore watch, keeping in memory that for three years I ceased not with tears to admonish every one of you, night and day.

Propter quod vigilate memoria retinentes quoniam per triennium nocte et die non cessavi cum lacrimis monens unumquemque vestrum

20:32. And now I commend you to God and to the word of his grace, who is able to build up and to give an inheritance among all the sanctified.

Et nunc commendo vos Deo et verbo gratiae ipsius qui potens est aedificare et dare hereditatem in sanctificatis omnibus

20:33. I have not coveted any man's silver, gold or apparel, as

Argentum aut aurum aut vestem nullius concupivi

20:34. You yourselves know. For such things as were needful for me and them that are with me, these hands have furnished.

Ipsi scitis quoniam ad ea quae mihi opus erant et his qui mecum sunt ministraverunt manus istae

20:35. I have showed you all things, how that so labouring you ought to support the weak and to remember the word of the Lord Jesus, how he said: It is a more blessed thing to give, rather than to receive.

Omnia ostendi vobis quoniam sic laborantes oportet suscipere infirmos ac meminisse verbi Domini Iesu quoniam ipse dixit beatius est magis dare quam accipere

20:36. And when he had said these things, kneeling down, he prayed with them all.

Et cum haec dixisset positus genibus suis cum omnibus illis oravit

20:37. And there was much weeping among them all. And falling on the neck of Paul, they kissed him,

Magnus autem fletus factus est omnium et procumbentes super collum Pauli osculabantur eum

20:38. Being grieved most of all for the word which he had said, that they should see his face no more. And they brought him on his way to the ship.

Dolentes maxime in verbo quo dixerat quoniam amplius faciem eius non essent visuri et deducebant eum ad navem

Acts Chapter 21

Paul goes up to Jerusalem. He is apprehended by the Jews in the temple.

---

21:1. And when it came to pass that, being parted from them, we set sail, we came with a straight course to Coos, and the day following to Rhodes: and from thence to Patara.

Cum autem factum esset ut navigarem abstracti ab eis recto cursu venimus Cho et sequenti die Rhodum et inde Patara

21:2. And when we had found a ship sailing over to Phenice, we went aboard and set forth.

Et cum invenissemus navem transfretantem in Foenicen ascendentes navigavimus

21:3. And when we had discovered Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed into Syria, and came to Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

Cum paruissemus autem Cypro et relinquentes eam ad sinistram navigabamus in Syriam et venimus Tyrum ibi enim navis erat expositura onus

21:4. And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul, through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.

Inventis autem discipulis mansimus ibi diebus septem qui Paulo dicebant per Spiritum ne ascenderet Hierosolymam

21:5. And the days being expired, departing we went forward, they all bringing us on our way, with their wives and children, till we were out of the city. And we kneeled down on the shore: and we prayed.

Et explicitis diebus profecti ibamus deducentibus nos omnibus cum uxoribus et filiis usque foras civitatem et positis genibus in litore oravimus

21:6. And when we had bid one another farewell, we took ship. And they returned home.

Et cum valefecissemus invicem ascendimus in navem illi autem redierunt in sua

21:7. But we, having finished the voyage by sea, from Tyre came down to Ptolemais: and saluting the brethren, we abode one day with them.

Nos vero navigatione explicita a Tyro descendimus Ptolomaida et salutatis fratribus mansimus die una apud illos

21:8. And the next day departing, we came to Caesarea. And entering into the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the seven, we abode with him.

Alia autem die profecti venimus Caesaream et intrantes in domum Philippi evangelistae qui erat de septem mansimus apud eum

The evangelist... That is, the preacher of the gospel; the same that before converted the Samaritans, and baptized the eunuch, chap. 8., being one of the first seven deacons.

21:9. And he had four daughters, virgins, who did prophesy.

Huic autem erant filiae quattuor virgines prophetantes

21:10. And as we tarried there for some days, there came from Judea a certain prophet, named Agabus.

Et cum moraremur per dies aliquot supervenit quidam a Iudaea propheta nomine Agabus

21:11. Who, when he was come to us, took Paul's girdle: and binding his own feet and hands, he said: Thus saith the Holy Ghost: The man whose girdle this is, the Jews shall bind in this manner in Jerusalem and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

Is cum venisset ad nos tulit zonam Pauli et alligans sibi pedes et manus dixit haec dicit Spiritus Sanctus virum cuius est zona haec sic alligabunt in Hierusalem Iudaei et tradent in manus gentium

21:12. Which when we had heard, both we and they that were of that place desired him that he would not go up to Jerusalem.

Quod cum audissemus rogabamus nos et qui loci illius erant ne ascenderet Hierosolymam

21:13. Then Paul answered and said: What do you mean, weeping and afflicting my heart? For I am ready not only to be bound, but to die also in Jerusalem, for the name of the Lord Jesus.

Tunc respondit Paulus et dixit quid facitis flentes et adfligentes cor meum ego enim non solum alligari sed et mori in Hierusalem paratus sum propter nomen Domini Iesu

21:14. And when we could not persuade him, we ceased, saying: The will of the Lord be done.

Et cum ei suadere non possemus quievimus dicentes Domini voluntas fiat

21:15. And after those days, being prepared, we went up to Jerusalem.

Post dies autem istos praeparati ascendebamus Hierusalem

21:16. And there went also with us some of the disciples from Caesarea, bringing with them one Mnason a Cyprian, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

Venerunt autem et ex discipulis a Caesarea nobiscum adducentes apud quem hospitaremur Mnasonem quendam Cyprium antiquum discipulum

21:17. And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

Et cum venissemus Hierosolymam libenter exceperunt nos fratres

21:18. And the day following, Paul went in with us unto James: and all the ancients were assembled.

Sequenti autem die introibat Paulus nobiscum ad Iacobum omnesque collecti sunt seniores

21:19. Whom when he had saluted, he related particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

Quos cum salutasset narrabat per singula quae fecisset Deus in gentibus per ministerium ipsius

21:20. But they hearing it, glorified God and said to him: Thou seest, brother, how many thousands there are among the Jews that have believed: and they are all zealous for the law.

At illi cum audissent magnificabant Deum dixeruntque ei vides frater quot milia sint in Iudaeis qui crediderunt et omnes aemulatores sunt legis

21:21. Now they have heard of thee that thou teachest those Jews, who are among the Gentiles to depart from Moses: saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, nor walk according to the custom.

Audierunt autem de te quia discessionem doceas a Mose eorum qui per gentes sunt Iudaeorum dicens non debere circumcidere eos filios suos neque secundum consuetudinem ingredi

21:22. What is it therefore? The multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

Quid ergo est utique oportet convenire multitudinem audient enim te supervenisse

21:23. Do therefore this that we say to thee. We have four men, who have a vow on them.

Hoc ergo fac quod tibi dicimus sunt nobis viri quattuor votum habentes super se

21:24. Take these and sanctify thyself with them: and bestow on them, that they may shave their heads. And all will know that the things which they have heard of these are false: but that thou thyself also walkest keeping the law.

His adsumptis sanctifica te cum illis et inpende in illis ut radant capita et scient omnes quia quae de te audierunt falsa sunt sed ambulas et ipse custodiens legem

Keeping the law... The law, though now no longer obligatory, was for a time observed by the Christian Jews: to bury, as it were, the synagogue with honour.

21:25. But, as touching the Gentiles that believe, we have written, decreeing that they should only refrain themselves from that which has been offered to idols and from blood and from things strangled and from fornication.

De his autem qui crediderunt ex gentibus nos scripsimus iudicantes ut abstineant se ab idolis immolato et sanguine et suffocato et fornicatione

21:26. Then Paul took the men and, the next day being purified with them, entered into the temple, giving notice of the accomplishment of the days of purification, until an oblation should be offered for every one of them.

Tunc Paulus adsumptis viris postera die purificatus cum illis intravit in templum adnuntians expletionem dierum purificationis donec offerretur pro unoquoque eorum oblatio

21:27. But when the seven days were drawing to an end, those Jews that were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people and laid hands upon him, crying out:

Dum autem septem dies consummarentur hii qui de Asia erant Iudaei cum vidissent eum in templo concitaverunt omnem populum et iniecerunt ei manus clamantes

21:28. Men of Israel, help: This is the man that teacheth all men every where against the people and the law and this place; and moreover hath brought in Gentiles into the temple and hath violated this holy place.

Viri israhelitae adiuuate hic est homo qui adversus populum et legem et locum hunc omnes ubique docens insuper et gentiles induxit in templum et violavit sanctum locum istum

21:29. (For they had seen Trophimus the Ephesian in the city with him, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

Viderant enim Trophimum Ephesium in civitate cum ipso quem aestimaverunt quoniam in templum induxisset Paulus

21:30. And he whole city was in an uproar: and the people ran together. And taking Paul, they drew him out of the temple: and immediately the doors were shut.

Commotaque est civitas tota et facta est concursio populi et adprehendentes Paulum trahebant eum extra templum et statim clausae sunt ianuae

21:31. And as they went about to kill him, it was told the tribune of the band that all Jerusalem was in confusion.

Quaerentibus autem eum occidere nuntiatum est tribuno cohortis quia tota confunditur Hierusalem

21:32. Who, forthwith taking with him soldiers and centurions, ran down to them. And when they saw the tribune and the soldiers, they left off beating Paul.

Qui statim adsumptis militibus et centurionibus decurrit ad illos qui cum vidissent tribunum et milites cessaverunt percutere Paulum

21:33. Then the tribune, coming near, took him and commanded him to be bound with two chains: and demanded who he was and what he had done.

Tunc accedens tribunus adprehendit eum et iussit alligari catenis duabus et interrogabat quis esset et quid fecisset

21:34. And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude. And when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

Alii autem aliud clamabant in turba et cum non posset certum cognoscere prae tumultu iussit duci eum in castra

21:35. And when he was come to the stairs, it fell out that he was carried by the soldiers, because of the violence of the people.

Et cum venisset ad gradus contigit ut portaretur a militibus propter vim populi

21:36. For the multitude of the people followed after, crying: Away with him!

Sequebatur enim multitudo populi clamans tolle eum

21:37. And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he saith to the tribune: May I speak something to thee? Who said: Canst thou speak Greek?

Et cum coepisset induci in castra Paulus dicit tribuno si licet mihi loqui aliquid ad te qui dixit graece nosti

21:38. Art not thou that Egyptian who before these days didst raise a tumult and didst lead forth into the desert four thousand men that were murderers?

Nonne tu es Aegyptius qui ante hos dies tumultum concitasti et eduxisti in desertum quattuor milia virorum sicariorum

21:39. But Paul said to him: I am a Jew of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city. And I beseech thee, suffer me to speak to the people.

Et dixit ad eum Paulus ego homo sum quidem iudaeus a Tarso Ciliciae non ignotae civitatis municeps rogo autem te permitte mihi loqui ad populum

21:40. And when he had given him leave, Paul standing on the stairs, beckoned with his hand to the people. And a great silence being made, he spoke unto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying:

Et cum ille permisisset Paulus stans in gradibus annuit manu ad plebem et magno silentio facto adlocutus est hebraea lingua dicens

Acts Chapter 22

Paul declares to the people the history of his conversion. He escapes scourging by claiming the privilege of a Roman citizen.

---

22:1. Men, brethren and fathers, hear ye the account which I now give unto you.

Viri fratres et patres audite quam ad vos nunc reddo rationem

22:2. (And when they heard that he spoke to them in the Hebrew tongue, they kept the more silence.)

Cum audissent autem quia hebraea lingua loquitur ad illos magis praestiterunt silentium

22:3. And he saith: I am a Jew, born at Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, taught according to the truth of the law of the fathers, zealous for the law, as also all you are this day:

Et dixit ego sum vir iudaeus natus Tarso Ciliciae nutritus autem in ista civitate secus pedes Gamaliel eruditus iuxta veritatem paternae legis aemulator legis sicut et vos omnes estis hodie

22:4. Who persecuted this way unto death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women,

Qui hanc viam persecutus sum usque ad mortem alligans et tradens in custodias viros ac mulieres

22:5. As the high priest doth bear me witness and all the ancients. From whom also receiving letters to the brethren, I went to Damascus, that I might bring them bound from thence to Jerusalem to be punished.

Sicut princeps sacerdotum testimonium mihi reddit et omnes maiores natu a quibus et epistulas accipiens ad fratres Damascus pergebam ut adducerem inde vinctos in Hierusalem uti punirentur

22:6. And it came to pass, as I was going and drawing nigh to Damascus, at mid-day, that suddenly from heaven there shone round about me a great light:

Factum est autem eunte me et adpropinquante Damasco media die subito de caelo circumfulsit me lux copiosa

22:7. And falling on the ground, I heard a voice saying to me: Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

Et decidens in terram audivi vocem dicentem mihi Saule Saule quid me persequeris

22:8. And I answered: Who art thou, Lord? And he said to me: I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

Ego autem respondi quis es Domine dixitque ad me ego sum Iesus Nazarenus quem tu persequeris

22:9. And they that were with me saw indeed the light: but they heard not the voice of him that spoke with me.

Et qui mecum erant lumen quidem viderunt vocem autem non audierunt eius qui loquebatur mecum

Heard not the voice... That is, they distinguished not the words; though they heard the voice. Acts 9. 7.

22:10. And I said: What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said to me: Arise and go to Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things that thou must do.

Et dixi quid faciam Domine Dominus autem dixit ad me surgens vade Damascum et ibi tibi dicetur de omnibus quae te oporteat facere

22:11. And whereas I did not see for the brightness of that light, being led by the hand by my companions, I came to Damascus,

Et cum non viderem prae claritate luminis illius ad manum deductus a comitibus veni Damascum

22:12. And one Ananias, a man according to the law, having testimony of all the Jews who dwelt there,

Ananias autem quidam vir secundum legem testimonium habens ab omnibus habitantibus Iudaeis

22:13. Coming to me and standing by me, said to me: Brother Saul, look up. And I, the same hour, looked upon him.

Veniens ad me et adstans dixit mihi Saule frater respice et ego eadem hora respexi in eum

22:14. But he said: The God of our fathers hath preordained thee that thou shouldst know his will and see the Just One and shouldst hear the voice from his mouth.

At ille dixit Deus patrum nostrorum praeordinavit te ut cognosceres voluntatem eius et videres Iustum et audires vocem ex ore eius

Just One... Our Saviour, who appeared to St. Paul, Acts 9. 17.

22:15. For thou shalt be his witness to all men of those things which thou hast seen and heard.

Quia eris testis illius ad omnes homines eorum quae vidisti et audisti

22:16. And now why tarriest thou? Rise up and be baptized and wash away thy sins, invoking his name.

Et nunc quid moraris exsurge baptizare et ablue peccata tua invocato nomine ipsius

22:17. And it came to pass, when I was come again to Jerusalem and was praying in the temple, that I was in a trance,

Factum est autem revertenti mihi in Hierusalem et oranti in templo fieri me in stupore mentis

22:18. And saw him saying unto me: Make haste and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: because they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

Et videre illum dicentem mihi festina et exi velociter ex Hierusalem quoniam non recipient testimonium tuum de me

22:19. And I said: Lord, they know that I cast into prison and beat in every synagogue them that believed in thee.

Et ego dixi Domine ipsi sciunt quia ego eram concludens in carcerem et caedens per synagogas eos qui credebant in te

22:20. And when the blood of Stephen thy witness was shed, I stood by and consented: and kept the garments of them that killed him.

Et cum funderetur sanguis Stephani testis tui ego adstabam et consentiebam et custodiebam vestimenta interficientium illum

22:21. And he said to me: Go, for unto the Gentiles afar off will I send thee.

Et dixit ad me vade quoniam ego in nationes longe mittam te

22:22. And they heard him until this word and then lifted up their voice, saying: Away with such an one from the earth. For it is not fit that he should live.

Audiebant autem eum usque ad hoc verbum et levaverunt vocem suam dicentes tolle de terra eiusmodi non enim fas est eum vivere

22:23. And as they cried out and threw off their garments and cast dust into the air,

Vociferantibus autem eis et proicientibus vestimenta sua et pulverem iactantibus in aerem

22:24. The tribune commanded him to be brought into the castle, and that he should be scourged and tortured: to know for what cause they did so cry out against him.

Iussit tribunus induci eum in castra et flagellis caedi et torqueri eum ut sciret propter quam causam sic adclamarent ei

22:25. And when they had bound him with thongs, Paul saith to the centurion that stood by him: Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman and uncondemned?

Et cum adstrinxissent eum loris dixit adstanti sibi centurioni Paulus si hominem romanum et indemnatum licet vobis flagellare

22:26. Which the centurion hearing, went to the tribune and told him, saying: What art thou about to do? For this man is a Roman citizen.

Quo audito centurio accessit ad tribunum et nuntiavit dicens quid acturus es hic enim homo civis romanus est

22:27. And the tribune coming, said to him: Tell me. Art thou a Roman? But he said: Yea.

Accedens autem tribunus dixit illi dic mihi tu Romanus es at ille dixit etiam

22:28. And the tribune answered: I obtained the being free of this city with a great sum. And Paul said:

But I was born so.

Et respondit tribunus ego multa summa civitatem hanc consecutus sum et Paulus ait ego autem et natus sum

22:29. Immediately therefore they departed from him that were about to torture him. The tribune also was afraid after he understood that he was a Roman citizen and because he had bound him.

Protinus ergo discesserunt ab illo qui eum torturi erant tribunus quoque timuit postquam rescivit quia civis romanus esset et quia alligasset eum

22:30. But on the next day, meaning to know more diligently for what cause he was accused by the Jews, he loosed him and commanded the priests to come together and all the council: and, bringing forth Paul, he set him before them.

Postera autem die volens scire diligentius qua ex causa accusaretur a Iudaeis solvit eum et iussit sacerdotes convenire et omne concilium et producens Paulum statuit inter illos

Acts Chapter 23

Paul stands before the council. The Jews conspire his death. He is sent away to Cesarea.

---

23:1. And Paul, looking upon the council, said: Men, brethren, I have conversed with all good conscience before God until this present day.

Intendens autem concilium Paulus ait viri fratres ego omni conscientia bona conversatus sum ante Deum usque in hodiernum diem

23:2. And the high priest, Ananias, commanded them that stood by him to strike him on the mouth.

Princeps autem sacerdotum Ananias praecepit adstantibus sibi percutere os eius

23:3. Then Paul said to him: God shall strike thee, thou whited wall. For, sittest thou to judge me according to the law and, contrary to the law, commandest me to be struck?

Tunc Paulus ad eum dixit percutiet te Deus paries dealbatus et tu sedens iudicas me secundum legem et contra legem iubes me percuti

23:4. And they that stood by said: Dost thou revile the high priest of God?

Et qui adstabant dixerunt summum sacerdotem Dei maledicis

23:5. And Paul said: I knew not, brethren, that he is the high priest. For it is written: Thou shalt not speak evil of the prince of thy people.

Dixit autem Paulus nesciebam fratres quia princeps est sacerdotum scriptum est enim principem populi tui non maledices

23:6. And Paul, knowing that the one part were Sadducees and the other Pharisees, cried out in the council: Men, brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of Pharisees: concerning the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.

Sciens autem Paulus quia una pars esset Sadducaeorum et altera Pharisaeorum exclamavit in concilio viri fratres ego Pharisaeus sum filius Pharisaeorum de spe et resurrectione mortuorum ego iudicor

23:7. And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the Sadducees. And the multitude was divided.

Et cum haec dixisset facta est dissensio inter Pharisaeos et Sadducaeos et soluta est multitudo

23:8. For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both.

Sadducaei enim dicunt non esse resurrectionem neque angelum neque spiritum Pharisaei autem utrumque confitentur

23:9. And there arose a great cry. And some of the Pharisees rising up, strove, saying: We find no evil in this man. What if a spirit hath spoken to him, or an angel?

Factus est autem clamor magnus et surgentes quidam Pharisaeorum pugnabant dicentes nihil mali invenimus in homine isto quod si spiritus locutus est ei aut angelus

23:10. And when there arose a great dissension, the tribune, fearing lest Paul should be pulled in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and to take him by force from among them and to bring him into the castle.

Et cum magna dissensio facta esset timens tribunus ne discerperetur Paulus ab ipsis iussit milites descendere et rapere eum de medio eorum ac deducere eum in castra

23:11. And the night following, the Lord standing by him, said: Be constant: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

Sequenti autem nocte adsistens ei Dominus ait constans esto sicut enim testificatus es de me Hierusalem

sic te oportet et Romae testificari

23:12. And when day was come, some of the Jews gathered together and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they killed Paul.

Facta autem die collegerunt se quidam ex Iudaeis et devoverunt se dicentes neque manducatuos neque bibituos donec occiderent Paulum

23:13. And they were more than forty men that had made this conspiracy.

Erant autem plus quam quadraginta qui hanc coniurationem fecerant

23:14. Who came to the chief priests and the ancients and said: We have bound ourselves under a great curse that we will eat nothing till we have slain Paul.

Qui accesserunt ad principes sacerdotum et seniores et dixerunt devotione devovimus nos nihil gustatuos donec occidamus Paulum

23:15. Now therefore do you with the council signify to the tribune, that he bring him forth to you, as if you meant to know something more certain touching him. And we, before he come near, are ready to kill him.

Nunc ergo vos notum facite tribuno cum concilio ut producat illum ad vos tamquam aliquid certius cognituri de eo nos vero priusquam adpropiet parati sumus interficere illum

23:16. Which when Paul's sister's son had heard, of their lying in wait, he came and entered into the castle and told Paul.

Quod cum audisset filius sororis Pauli insidias venit et intravit in castra nuntiavitque Paulo

23:17. And Paul, calling to him one of the centurions, said: Bring this young man to the tribune: for he hath some thing to tell him.

Vocans autem Paulus ad se unum ex centurionibus ait adulescentem hunc perduc ad tribunum habet enim aliquid indicare illi

23:18. And he, taking him, brought him to the tribune and said: Paul, the prisoner, desired me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath some thing to say to thee.

Et ille quidem adsumens eum duxit ad tribunum et ait victus Paulus vocans rogavit me hunc adulescentem perducere ad te habentem aliquid loqui tibi

23:19. And the tribune, taking him by the hand, went aside with him privately and asked him: What is it that thou hast to tell me?

Adprehendens autem tribunus manum illius secessit cum eo seorsum et interrogavit illum quid est quod habes indicare mihi

23:20. And he said: The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldst bring forth Paul to-morrow into the council, as if they meant to inquire some thing more certain touching him.

Ille autem dixit Iudaeis convenit rogare te ut crastina die Paulum producas in concilium quasi aliquid certius inquisituri sint de illo

23:21. But do not thou give credit to them: for there lie in wait for him more than forty men of them, who have bound themselves by oath neither to eat nor to drink, till they have killed him. And they are now ready, looking for a promise from thee.

Tu vero ne credideris illis insidiantur enim ei ex eis viri amplius quadraginta qui se devoverunt non manducare neque bibere donec interficiant eum et nunc parati sunt expectantes promissum tuum

23:22. The tribune therefore dismissed the young man, charging him that he should tell no man that he had made known these things unto him.

Tribunus igitur dimisit adulescentem praecipiens ne cui loqueretur quoniam haec nota sibi fecisset

23:23. Then having called two centurions, he said to them: Make ready two hundred soldiers to go as far as Caesarea: and seventy horsemen and two hundred spearmen, for the third hour of the night.

Et vocatis duobus centurionibus dixit illis parate milites ducentos ut eant usque Caesaream et equites septuaginta et lancearios ducentos a tertia hora noctis

23:24. And provide beasts, that they may set Paul on and bring him safe to Felix the governor.

Et iumenta praeparate ut inponentes Paulum salvum perducerent ad Felicem praesidem

23:25. (For he feared lest perhaps the Jews might take him away by force and kill him: and he should afterwards be slandered, as if he was to take money.) And he wrote a letter after this manner:

23:26. Claudius Lysias to the most excellent governor, Felix, greeting:

Scribens epistulam continentem haec Claudius Lysias optimo praesidi Felici salutem

23:27. This man, being taken by the Jews and ready to be killed by them, I rescued, coming in with an army, understanding that he is a Roman.

Virum hunc comprehensum a Iudaeis et incipientem interfici ab eis superveniens cum exercitu eripui cognito quia Romanus est

23:28. And meaning to know the cause which they objected unto him, I brought him forth into their council.

Volensque scire causam quam obiciebant illi deduxi eum in concilium eorum

23:29. Whom I found to be accused concerning questions of their law; but having nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bands.

Quem inveni accusari de quaestionibus legis ipsorum nihil vero dignum morte aut vinculis habentem crimen

23:30. And when I was told of ambushes that they had prepared for him, I sent him to thee, signifying also to his accusers to plead before thee. Farewell.

Et cum mihi perlatum esset de insidiis quas paraverunt ei misi ad te denuntians et accusatoribus ut dicant apud te

23:31. Then the soldiers, according as it was commanded them, taking Paul, brought him by night to Antipatris.

Milites ergo secundum praeceptum sibi adsumentes Paulum duxerunt per noctem in Antipatridem

23:32. And the next day, leaving the horsemen to go with him, they returned to the castle.

Et postera die dimissis equitibus ut irent cum eo reversi sunt ad castra

23:33. Who, when they were come to Caesarea and had delivered the letter to the governor, did also present Paul before him.

Qui cum venissent Caesaream et tradidissent epistulam praesidi statuerunt ante illum et Paulum

23:34. And when he had read it and had asked of what province he was and understood that he was of Cilicia:

Cum legisset autem et interrogasset de qua provincia esset et cognoscens quia de Cilicia

23:35. I will hear thee, said he, when thy accusers come. And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's judgment hall.

Audiam te inquit cum et accusatores tui venerint iussitque in praetorio Herodis custodiri eum

Acts Chapter 24

Paul defends his innocence before Felix the governor. He preaches the faith to him.

---

24:1. And after five days, the high priest, Ananias, came down with some ancients and one Tertullus, an orator, who went to the governor against Paul.

Post quinque autem dies descendit princeps sacerdotum Ananias cum senioribus quibusdam et Tertullo quodam oratore qui adierunt praesidem adversus Paulum

24:2. And Paul being called for, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying: Whereas, through thee we live in much peace and many things are rectified by thy providence,

Et citato Paulo coepit accusare Tertullus dicens cum in multa pace agamus per te et multa corrigantur per tuam providentiam

24:3. We accept it always and in all places, most excellent Felix, with all thanksgiving.

Semper et ubique suscipimus optime Felix cum omni gratiarum actione

24:4. But that I be no further tedious to thee, I desire thee of thy clemency to hear us in a few words.

Ne diutius autem te protraham oro breviter audias nos pro tua clementia

24:5. We have found this to be a pestilent man and raising seditions among all the Jews throughout the world: and author of the sedition of the sect of the Nazarenes.

Invenimus hunc hominem pestiferum et concitantem seditiones omnibus Iudaeis in universo orbe et auctorem seditionis sectae Nazarenorum

24:6. Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom, we having apprehended, would also have judged according to our law.

Qui etiam templum violare conatus est quem et adprehendimus

24:7. But Lysias the tribune, coming upon us with great violence, took him away out of our hands;

24:8. Commanding his accusers to come to thee. Of whom thou mayest thyself, by examination, have knowledge of all these things whereof we accuse him.

A quo poteris ipse iudicans de omnibus istis cognoscere de quibus nos accusamus eum

24:9. And the Jews also added and said that these things were so.

Adiecerunt autem et Iudaei dicentes haec ita se habere

24:10. Then Paul answered (the governor making a sign to him to speak): Knowing that for many years thou hast been judge over this nation, I will with good courage answer for myself.

Respondit autem Paulus annuente sibi praeside dicere ex multis annis esse te iudicem genti huic sciens bono animo pro me satisfaciam

24:11. For thou mayest understand that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to adore in Jerusalem:

Potes enim cognoscere quia non plus sunt dies mihi quam duodecim ex quo ascendi adorare in Hierusalem

24:12. And neither in the temple did they find me disputing with any man or causing any concourse of the people: neither in the synagogues, nor in the city.

Et neque in templo invenerunt me cum aliquo disputantem aut concursum facientem turbae neque in synagogis neque in civitate

24:13. Neither can they prove unto thee the things whereof they now accuse me.

Neque probare possunt tibi de quibus nunc accusant me

24:14. But this I confess to thee that according to the way which they call a heresy, so do I serve the Father and my God, believing all things which are written in the law and the prophets:

Confiteor autem hoc tibi quod secundum sectam quam dicunt heresim sic deservio patrio Deo meo credens omnibus quae in lege et prophetis scripta sunt

24:15. Having hope in God, which these also themselves look for, that there shall be a resurrection of the just and unjust.

Spem habens in Deum quam et hii ipsi expectant resurrectionem futuram iustorum et iniquorum

24:16. And herein do I endeavour to have always a conscience without offence, towards God and towards men.

In hoc et ipse studeo sine offendiculo conscientiam habere ad Deum et ad homines semper

24:17. Now after many years, I came to bring alms to my nation and offerings and vows.

Post annos autem plures elemosynas facturus in gentem meam veni et oblationes et vota

24:18. In which I was found purified in the temple: neither with multitude nor with tumult.

In quibus invenerunt me purificatum in templo non cum turba neque cum tumultu

24:19. But certain Jews of Asia, who ought to be present before thee and to accuse, if they had anything against me:

Quidam autem ex Asia Iudaei quos oportebat apud te praesto esse et accusare si quid haberent adversum me

24:20. Or let these men themselves say if they found in me any iniquity, when standing before the council,

Aut hii ipsi dicant si quid invenerunt in me iniquitatis cum stem in concilio

24:21. Except it be for this one voice only that I cried, standing among them: Concerning the resurrection of the dead am I judged this day by you.

Nisi de una hac solummodo voce qua clamavi inter eos stans quoniam de resurrectione mortuorum ego iudicor hodie a vobis

24:22. And Felix put them off, having most certain knowledge of this way, saying: When Lysias the tribune shall come down, I will hear you.

Distulit autem illos Felix certissime sciens de via dicens cum tribunus Lysias descenderit audiam vos

24:23. And he commanded a centurion to keep him: and that he should be easy and that he should not prohibit any of his friends to minister unto him.

Iussitque centurioni custodiri eum et habere requiem nec quemquam prohibere de suis ministrare ei

24:24. And after some days, Felix, coming with Drusilla his wife, who was a Jew, sent for Paul and heard of him the faith that is in Christ Jesus.

Post aliquot autem dies veniens Felix cum Drusilla uxore sua quae erat Iudaea vocavit Paulum et audivit ab eo fidem quae est in Iesum Christum

24:25. And as he treated of justice and chastity and of the judgment to come, Felix, being terrified, answered: For this time, go thy way: but when I have a convenient time, I will send for thee.

Disputante autem illo de iustitia et castitate et de iudicio futuro timefactus Felix respondit quod nunc adtinet vade tempore autem oportuno accersiam te

24:26. Hoping also withal that money should be given him by Paul: for which cause also oftentimes sending for him, he spoke with him.

Simul et sperans quia pecunia daretur a Paulo propter quod et frequenter accersiens eum loquebatur cum eo

24:27. But when two years were ended, Felix had for successor Portius Festus. And Felix being willing to show the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

Biennio autem expleto accepit successorem Felix Porcium Festum volens autem gratiam praestare Iudaeis Felix reliquit Paulum vinctum

Acts Chapter 25

Paul appeals to Caesar. King Agrippa desires to hear him.

---

25:1. Now when Festus was come into the province, after three days, he went up to Jerusalem from Cesarea.

Festus ergo cum venisset in provinciam post triduum ascendit Hierosolymam a Caesarea

25:2. And the chief priests and principal men of the Jews went unto him against Paul: and they besought him,

Adieruntque eum principes sacerdotum et primi Iudaeorum adversus Paulum et rogabant eum

25:3. Requesting favour against him, that he would command him to be brought to Jerusalem, laying wait to kill him in the way.

Postulantes gratiam adversum eum ut iuberet perduci eum Hierusalem insidias tendentes ut eum interficerent in via 25:4. But Festus answered: That Paul was kept in Caesarea: and that he himself would very shortly depart thither.

Festus autem respondit servari Paulum in Caesarea se autem maturius profecturum

25:5. Let them, therefore, saith he, among you that are able, go down with me and accuse him, if there be any crime in the man.

Qui ergo in vobis ait potentes sunt descendentes simul si quod est in viro crimen accusent eum

25:6. And having tarried among them no more than eight or ten days, he went down to Caesarea. And the next day, he sat in the judgment seat and commanded Paul to be brought.

Demoratus autem inter eos dies non amplius quam octo aut decem descendit Caesaream et altera die sedit pro tribunali et iussit Paulum adduci

25:7. Who being brought, the Jews stood about him, who were come down from Jerusalem, objecting many and grievous causes, which they could not prove:

Qui cum perductus esset circumsteterunt eum qui ab Hierosolyma descenderant Iudaei multas et graves causas obicientes quas non poterant probare

25:8. Paul making answer for himself: Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Caesar, have I offended in any thing.

Paulo autem rationem reddente quoniam neque in legem Iudaeorum neque in templum neque in Caesarem quicquam peccavi

25:9. But Festus, willing to show the Jews a pleasure, answering Paul, said: Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem and there be judged of these things before me?

Festus autem volens Iudaeis gratiam praestare respondens Paulo dixit vis Hierosolymam ascendere et ibi de his iudicari apud me

25:10. Then Paul said: I stand at Caesar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged. To the Jews I have done no injury, as thou very well knowest.

Dixit autem Paulus ad tribunal Caesaris sto ubi me oportet iudicari Iudaeis non nocui sicut tu melius nosti

25:11. For if I have injured them or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die. But if there be none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man may deliver me to them. I appeal to Caesar.

Si enim nocui aut dignum morte aliquid feci non recuso mori si vero nihil est eorum quae hii accusant me nemo potest me illis donare Caesarem appello

25:12. Then Festus, having conferred with the council, answered: Hast thou appealed to Caesar? To Caesar shalt thou go.

Tunc Festus cum consilio locutus respondit Caesarem appellasti ad Caesarem ibis

25:13. And after some days, king Agrippa and Bernice came down to Caesarea, to salute Festus.

Et cum dies aliquot transacti essent Agrippa rex et Bernice descenderunt Caesaream ad salutandum Festum

25:14. And as they tarried there many days, Festus told the king of Paul, saying: A certain man was left prisoner by Felix.

Et cum dies plures ibi demorarentur Festus regi indicavit de Paulo dicens vir quidam est derelictus a Felice vinctus

25:15. About whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the ancients of the Jews came unto me, desiring condemnation against him.

De quo cum essem Hierosolymis adierunt me principes sacerdotum et seniores Iudaeorum postulantes adversus illum damnationem

25:16. To whom I answered: it is not the custom of the Romans to condemn any man, before that he who is accused have his accusers present and have liberty to make his answer, to clear himself of the things laid to his charge.

Ad quos respondi quia non est consuetudo Romanis donare aliquem hominem priusquam is qui accusatur praesentes habeat accusatores locumque defendendi accipiat ad abluenda crimina

25:17. When therefore they were come hither, without any delay, on the day following, sitting in the judgment seat, I commanded the man to be brought.

Cum ergo huc convenissent sine ulla dilatione sequenti die sedens pro tribunali iussi adduci virum

25:18. Against whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought no accusation of this which I thought ill of:

De quo cum stetissent accusatores nullam causam deferebant de quibus ego suspicabar malum

25:19. But had certain questions of their own superstition against him, and of one Jesus deceased, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

Quaestiones vero quasdam de sua superstitione habebant adversus eum et de quodam Iesu defuncto quem adfirmabat Paulus vivere

25:20. I therefore being in a doubt of this manner of question, asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem and there be judged of these things.

Haesitans autem ego de huiusmodi quaestione dicebam si vellet ire Hierosolymam et ibi iudicari de istis

25:21. But Paul, appealing to be reserved unto the hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might send him to Caesar.

Paulo autem appellante ut servaretur ad Augusti cognitionem iussi servari eum donec mittam eum ad Caesarem

25:22. And Agrippa said to Festus: I would also hear the man, myself. To-morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

Agrippa autem ad Festum volebam et ipse hominem audire cras inquit audies eum

25:23. And on the next day, when Agrippa and Bernice were come with great pomp and had entered into the hall of audience with the tribunes and principal men of the city, at Festus' commandment, Paul was brought forth.

Alteram autem die cum venisset Agrippa et Bernice cum multa ambitione et introissent in auditorium cum tribunis et viris principalibus civitatis et iubente Festo adductus est Paulus

25:24. And Festus saith: King Agrippa and all ye men who are here present with us, you see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews dealt with me at Jerusalem, requesting and crying out that he ought not to live any longer.

Et dixit Festus Agrippa rex et omnes qui simul adestis nobiscum viri videtis hunc de quo omnis multitudo Iudaeorum interpellavit me Hierosolymis petens et hic clamantes non oportere eum vivere amplius

25:25. Yet have I found nothing that he hath committed worthy of death. But forasmuch as he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him.

Ego vero conperi nihil dignum eum morte admisisse ipso autem hoc appellante Augustum iudicavi mittere

25:26. Of whom I have nothing certain to write to my lord. For which cause, I have brought him forth before you, and especially before thee, O king Agrippa, that, examination being made, I may have what to write.

De quo quid certum scribam domino non habeo propter quod produxi eum ad vos et maxime ad te rex Agrippa ut interrogatione facta habeam quid scribam

25:27. For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner and not to signify the things laid to his charge.

Sine ratione enim mihi videtur mittere vinctum et causas eius non significare

Acts Chapter 26

Paul gives an account to Agrippa of his life, conversion and calling.

---

26:1. Then Agrippa said to Paul: Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul, stretching forth his hand, began to make his answer.

Agrippa vero ad Paulum ait permittitur tibi loqui pro temet ipso tunc Paulus extenta manu coepit rationem reddere

26:2. I think myself happy, O king Agrippa, that I am to answer for myself this day before thee, touching all the things whereof I am accused by the Jews.

De omnibus quibus accusor a Iudaeis rex Agrippa aestimo me beatum apud te cum sim defensurus me hodie

26:3. Especially as thou knowest all, both customs and questions, that are among the Jews. Wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

Maxime te sciente omnia quae apud Iudaeos sunt consuetudines et quaestiones propter quod obsecro patienter me audias

26:4. And my life indeed from my youth, which was from the beginning among my own nation in Jerusalem, all the Jews do know:

Et quidem vitam meam a iuventute quae ab initio fuit in gente mea in Hierosolymis noverunt omnes Iudaei

26:5. Having known me from the beginning (if they will give testimony) that according to the most sure sect of our religion I lived, a Pharisee.

Praescientes me ab initio si velint testimonium perhibere quoniam secundum certissimam sectam nostrae religionis vixi Pharisaeus

26:6. And now for the hope of the promise that was made by God to the fathers, do I stand subject to judgment:

Et nunc in spe quae ad patres nostros repromissionis facta est a Deo sto iudicio subiectus

26:7. Unto which, our twelve tribes, serving night and day, hope to come. For which hope, O king, I am accused by the Jews.

In quam duodecim tribus nostrae nocte ac die deservientes sperant devenire de qua spe accusor a Iudaeis rex

26:8. Why should it be thought a thing incredible that God should raise the dead?

Quid incredibile iudicatur apud vos si Deus mortuos suscitatur

26:9. And I indeed did formerly think that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

Et ego quidem existimaveram me adversus nomen Iesu Nazareni debere multa contraria agere

26:10. Which also I did at Jerusalem: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority of the chief priests. And when they were put to death, I brought the sentence.

Quod et feci Hierosolymis et multos sanctorum ego in carceribus inclusi a principibus sacerdotum potestate accepta et cum occiderentur detuli sententiam

26:11. And oftentimes punishing them, in every synagogue, I compelled them to blaspheme: and being yet more mad against them, I persecuted them even unto foreign cities.

Et per omnes synagogas frequenter puniens eos conpellebam blasphemare et amplius insaniens in eos persequerbar usque in exteras civitates

26:12. Whereupon, when I was going to Damascus with authority and permission of the chief priest,
In quibus dum irem Damascum cum potestate et permissu principum sacerdotum

26:13. At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them that were in company with me.
Die media in via vidi rex de caelo supra splendorem solis circumfulsisse me lumen et eos qui mecum simul erant

26:14. And when we were all fallen down on the ground, I heard a voice speaking to me in the Hebrew tongue: Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kick against the good.
Omnesque nos cum decidissemus in terram audivi vocem loquentem mihi hebraica lingua Saule Saule quid me persequeris durum est tibi contra stimulum calcitrare

26:15. And I said: Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord answered: I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.
Ego autem dixi quis es Domine Dominus autem dixit ego sum Jesus quem tu persequeris

26:16. But rise up and stand upon thy feet: for to this end have I appeared to thee, that I may make thee a minister and a witness of those things which thou hast seen and of those things wherein I will appear to thee,
Sed exsurge et sta super pedes tuos ad hoc enim apparui tibi ut constituam te ministrum et testem eorum quae vidisti et eorum quibus apparebo tibi

26:17. Delivering thee from the people and from the nations unto which now I send thee:
Eripiens te de populo et gentibus in quas nunc ego mitto te

26:18. To open their eyes, that they may be converted from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a lot among the saints, by the faith that is in me.
Aperire oculos eorum ut convertantur a tenebris ad lucem et de potestate Satanae ad Deum ut accipiant remissionem peccatorum et sortem inter sanctos per fidem quae est in me

26:19. Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not incredulous to the heavenly vision.
Unde rex Agrippa non fui incredulus caelestis visionis

26:20. But to them first that are at Damascus and at Jerusalem, and unto all the country of Judea, and to the Gentiles did I preach, that they should do penance and turn to God, doing works worthy of penance.
Sed his qui sunt Damasci primum et Hierosolymis et in omnem regionem Iudaeae et gentibus adnuntiabam ut paenitentiam agerent et converterentur ad Deum digna paenitentiae opera facientes

26:21. For this cause, the Jews, when I was in the temple, having apprehended me, went about to kill me.
Hac ex causa me Iudaei cum essem in templo comprehensum temptabant interficere

26:22. But being aided by the help of God, I stand unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying no other thing than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come to pass:
Auxilio autem adiutus Dei usque in hodiernum diem sto testificans minori atque maiori nihil extra dicens quam ea quae prophetae sunt locuti futura esse et Moses

26:23. That Christ should suffer and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead and should show light to the people and to the Gentiles.
Si passibilis Christus si primus ex resurrectione mortuorum lumen adnuntiaturus est populo et gentibus

26:24. As he spoke these things and made his answer, Festus said with a loud voice: Paul, thou art beside thyself: much learning doth make thee mad.
Haec loquente eo et rationem reddente Festus magna voce dixit insanis Paule multae te litterae ad insaniam convertunt

26:25. And Paul said: I am not mad, most excellent Festus, but I speak words of truth and soberness.
At Paulus non insanio inquit optime Feste sed veritatis et sobrietatis verba eloquor

26:26. For the king knoweth of these things, to whom also I speak with confidence. For I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him. For neither was any of these things done in a corner.
Scit enim de his rex ad quem et constanter loquor latere enim eum nihil horum arbitror neque enim in angulo quicquam horum gestum est

26:27. Believest thou the prophets, O king Agrippa? I know that thou believest.
Credis rex Agrippa prophetis scio quia credis

26:28. And Agrippa said to Paul: In a little thou persuadest me to become a Christian.
Agrippa autem ad Paulum in modico suades me Christianum fieri

26:29. And Paul said: I would to God that both in a little and in much, not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, should become such as I also am, except these bands.
Et Paulus opto apud Deum et in modico et in magno non tantum te sed et omnes hos qui audiunt hodie fieri tales qualis et ego sum exceptis vinculis his 26:30. And the king rose up, and the governor and Bernice and they that sat with them.

Et exsurrexit rex et praeses et Bernice et qui adsidebant eis

26:31. And when they were gone aside, they spoke among themselves, saying: This man hath done nothing worthy of death or of bands.
Et cum secessissent loquebantur ad invicem dicentes quia nihil morte aut vinculorum dignum quid facit homo iste

26:32. And Agrippa said to Festus: This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed to Caesar.
Agrippa autem Festo dixit dimitti poterat homo hic si non appellasset Caesarem

Acts Chapter 27

Paul is shipped for Rome. His voyage and shipwreck.

27:1. And when it was determined that he should sail into Italy and that Paul, with the other prisoners, should be delivered to a centurion, named Julius, of the band Augusta,
Ut autem iudicatum est eum navigare in Italiam et tradi Paulum cum reliquis custodiis centurioni nomine Iulio cohortis Augustae

27:2. Going on board a ship of Adrumetum, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia, Aristarchus, the Macedonian of Thessalonica, continuing with us.
Ascendentes autem navem hadrumetinam incipientem navigare circa Asiae loca sustulimus perseverante nobiscum Aristarcho Macedone Thessalonicense

27:3. And the day following, we came to Sidon. And Julius, treating Paul courteously, permitted him to go to his friends and to take care of himself.
Sequenti autem die devenimus Sidonem humane autem tractans Iulius Paulum permisit ad amicos ire et curam sui agere

27:4. And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.
Et inde cum sustulissemus subnavigavimus Cypro propterea quod essent venti contrarii

27:5. And sailing over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Lystra, which is in Lycia.
Et pelagus Ciliciae et Pamphiliae navigantes venimus Lystram quae est Lyciae

27:6. And there, the centurion, finding a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy, removed us into it.
Et ibi inveniens centurio navem alexandrinam navigantem in Italiam transposuit nos in eam

27:7. And when for many days we had sailed slowly and were scarce come over against Gnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed near Crete by Salmone.
Et cum multis diebus tarde navigaremus et vix devenissemus contra Cnidum prohibente nos vento adnavigavimus Cretae secundum Salmonem

27:8. And with much ado sailing by it, we came into a certain place, which is called Good-havens, nigh to which was the city of Thalassa.
Et vix iuxta navigantes venimus in locum quendam qui vocatur Boni portus cui iuxta erat civitas Thalassa

27:9. And when much time was spent and when sailing now was dangerous, because the fast was now past, Paul comforted them,
Multo autem tempore peracto et cum iam non esset tuta navigatio eo quod et ieiunium iam praeterisset consolabatur Paulus

27:10. Saying to them: Ye men, I see that the voyage beginneth to be with injury and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.
Dicens eis viri video quoniam cum iniuria et multo damno non solum oneris et navis sed etiam animarum nostrarum incipit esse navigatio

27:11. But the centurion believed the pilot and the master of the ship, more than those things which were said by Paul.
Centurio autem gubernatori et nauclerio magis credebat quam his quae a Paulo dicebantur

27:12. And whereas it was not a commodious haven to winter in, the greatest part gave counsel to sail thence, if by any means they might reach Phenice, to winter there, which is a haven of Crete, looking towards the southwest and northwest.
Et cum aptus portus non esset ad hiemandum plurimi statuerunt consilium navigare inde si quo modo

possent devenientes Phoenice hiemare portum Cretae respicientem ad africanum et ad chorum

27:13. And the south wind gently blowing, thinking that they had obtained their purpose, when they had loosed from Asson, they sailed close by Crete.

Adspirante autem austro aestimantes propositum se tenere cum sustulissent de Asson legebant Cretam

27:14. But not long after, there arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroaquilo.

Non post multum autem misit se contra ipsam ventus typhonicus qui vocatur euroaquilo

27:15. And when the ship was caught and could not bear up against the wind, giving up the ship to the winds, we were driven.

Cumque arrepta esset navis et non posset conari in ventum data nave flatibus ferebamur

27:16. And running under a certain island that is called Cauda, we had much work to come by the boat.

Insulam autem quandam decurrentes quae vocatur Caudam potuimus vix obtinere scapham

27:17. Which being taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship: and fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, they let down the sail yard and so were driven.

Qua sublata adiutoriis utebantur accingentes navem timentes ne in Syrtim inciderent submisso vase sic ferebantur

27:18. And we, being mightily tossed with the tempest, the next day they lightened the ship.

Valide autem nobis tempestate iactatis sequenti die iactum fecerunt

27:19. And the third day they cast out with their own hands the tacking of the ship.

Et tertia die suis manibus armamenta navis proiecerunt

27:20. And when neither sun nor stars appeared for many days and no small storms lay on us, all hope of our being saved was now taken away.

Neque sole autem neque sideribus apparentibus per plures dies et tempestate non exigua imminente iam ablata erat spes omnis salutis nostrae

27:21. And after they had fasted a long time, Paul standing forth in the midst of them, said: You should indeed, O ye men, have hearkened unto me and not have loosed from Crete and have gained this harm and loss.

Et cum multa ieiunatio fuisset tunc stans Paulus in medio eorum dixit oportebat quidem o viri audito me non tollere a Creta lucrique facere iniuriam hanc et iacturam

27:22. And now I exhort you to be of good cheer. For there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but only of the ship.

Et nunc suadeo vobis bono animo esse amissio enim nullius animae erit ex vobis praeterquam navis

27:23. For an angel of God, whose I am and whom I serve, stood by me this night,

Adstitit enim mihi hac nocte angelus Dei cuius sum ego et cui deservio

27:24. Saying: Fear not, Paul, thou must be brought before Caesar; and behold, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.

Dicens ne timeas Paule Caesari te oportet adsistere et ecce donavit tibi Deus omnes qui navigant tecum

27:25. Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall so be, as it hath been told me.

Propter quod bono animo estote viri credo enim Deo quia sic erit quemadmodum dictum est mihi

27:26. And we must come unto a certain island.

In insulam autem quandam oportet nos devenire

27:27. But after the fourteenth night was come, as we were sailing in Adria, about midnight, the shipmen deemed that they discovered some country.

Sed posteaquam quartadecima nox supervenit navigantibus nobis in Hadria circa mediam noctem suspicabantur nautae apparere sibi aliquam regionem

27:28. Who also sounding, found twenty fathoms: and going on a little further, they found fifteen fathoms.

Qui submittentem invenerunt passus viginti et pusillum inde separati invenerunt passus quindecim

27:29. Then fearing lest we should fall upon rough places, they cast four anchors out of the stern: and wished for the day.

Timentes autem ne in aspera loca incideremus de puppi mittentes anchoras quattuor optabant diem fieri

27:30. But as the shipmen sought to fly out of the ship, having let down the boat into the sea, under colour, as though they would have cast anchors out of the forepart of the ship,

Nautis vero quaerentibus fugere de navi cum misissent scapham in mare sub obtentu quasi a prora inciperent anchoras extendere

27:31. Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers: Except these stay in the ship, you cannot be saved.

Dixit Paulus centurioni et militibus nisi hii in navi manserint vos salvi fieri non potestis

27:32. Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat and let her fall off.

Tunc absciderunt milites funes scaphae et passi sunt eam excidere

27:33. And when it began to be light, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying: This day is the fourteenth day that you have waited and continued fasting, taking nothing.

Et cum lux inciperet fieri rogabat Paulus omnes sumere cibum dicens quartadecima hodie die expectantes ieiuni permanetis nihil accipientes

27:34. Wherefore, I pray you to take some meat for your health's sake: for there shall not an hair of the head of any of you perish.

Propter quod rogo vos accipere cibum pro salute vestra quia nullius vestrum capillus de capite peribit

27:35. And when he had said these things, taking bread, he gave thanks to God in the sight of them all. And when he had broken it, he began to eat.

Et cum haec dixisset sumens panem gratias egit Deo in conspectu omnium et cum fregisset coepit manducare

27:36. Then were they all of better cheer: and they also took some meat.

Animaequiores autem facti omnes et ipsi adsumpserunt cibum

27:37. And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen souls.

Eramus vero universae animae in navi ducentae septuaginta sex

27:38. And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, casting the wheat into the sea.

Et satiati cibo adleviabant navem iactantes triticum in mare

27:39. And when it was day, they knew not the land. But they discovered a certain creek that had a shore, into which they minded, if they could, to thrust in the ship.

Cum autem dies factus esset terram non agnoscebant sinum vero quendam considerabant habentem litus in quem cogitabant si possent eicere navem

27:40. And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves to the sea, loosing withal the rudder bands. And hoisting up the mainsail to the wind, they made towards shore.

Et cum anchoras abstulissent committebant se mari simul laxantes iuncturas gubernaculorum et levato artemone secundum flatum aurae tendebant ad litus

27:41. And when we were fallen into a place where two seas met, they run the ship aground. And the forepart indeed, sticking fast, remained unmoveable: but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the sea.

Et cum incidissemus in locum bithalassum inpegerunt navem et prora quidem fixa manebat immobilis puppis vero solvebatur a vi maris

27:42. And the soldiers' counsel was that they should kill the prisoners, lest any of them, swimming out should escape.

Militum autem consilium fuit ut custodias occiderent ne quis cum enatasset effugeret

27:43. But the centurion, willing to save Paul, forbade it to be done. And he commanded that they who could swim should cast themselves first into the sea and save themselves and get to land.

Centurio autem volens servare Paulum prohibuit fieri iussitque eos qui possent natare mittere se primos et evadere et ad terram exire

27:44. And the rest, some they carried on boards and some on those things that belonged to the ship. And so it came to pass that every soul got safe to land.

Et ceteros alios in tabulis ferebant quosdam super ea quae de navi essent et sic factum est ut omnes animae evaderent ad terram

Acts Chapter 28

Paul, after three months' stay in Melita, continues his voyage and arrives at Rome. His conference there with the Jews.

---

28:1. And when we had escaped, then we knew that the island was called Melita. But the barbarians showed us no small courtesy.

Et cum evasissemus tunc cognovimus quia Militene insula vocatur barbari vero praestabant non modicam humanitatem nobis

28:2. For kindling a fire, they refreshed us all, because of the present rain and of the cold.

Accensa enim pyra reficiebant nos omnes propter imbrem qui imminebat et frigus

28:3. And when Paul had gathered together a bundle of sticks and had laid them on the fire, a viper, coming out of the heat, fastened on his hand.

Cum congregasset autem Paulus sarmentorum aliquantam multitudinem et inposuisset super ignem vipera a calore cum processisset invasit manum eius

28:4. And when the barbarians saw the beast hanging on his hand, they said one to another: Undoubtedly this man is a murderer, who, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance doth not suffer him to live.

Ut vero viderunt barbari pendentem bestiam de manu eius ad invicem dicebant utique homicida est homo hic qui cum evaserit de mari Ultio non sinit vivere

28:5. And he indeed, shaking off the beast into the fire, suffered no harm.

Et ille quidem excutiens bestiam in ignem nihil mali passus est

28:6. But they supposed that he would begin to swell up and that he would suddenly fall down and die. But expecting long and seeing that there came no harm to him, changing their minds, they said that he was a god.

At illi existimabant eum in tumorem convertendum et subito casurum et mori diu autem illis sperantibus et videntibus nihil mali in eo fieri convertentes se dicebant eum esse deum

28:7. Now in these places were possessions of the chief man of the island, named Publius: who, receiving us for three days, entertained us courteously.

In locis autem illis erant praedia principis insulae nomine Publii qui nos suscipiens triduo benigne exhibuit

28:8. And it happened that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and of a bloody flux. To whom Paul entered in. And when he had prayed and laid his hands on him, he healed him.

Contigit autem patrem Publii febribus et dysenteria vexatum iacere ad quem Paulus intravit et cum orasset et inposuisset ei manus salvavit eum

28:9. Which being done, all that had diseases in the island came and were healed.

Quo facto et omnes qui in insula habebant infirmitates accedebant et curabantur

28:10. Who also honoured us with many honours: and when we were to set sail, they laded us with such things as were necessary.

Qui etiam multis honoribus nos honoraverunt et navigantibus inposuerunt quae necessaria erant

28:11. And after three months, we sailed in a ship of Alexandria, that had wintered in the island, whose sign was the Castors.

Post menses autem tres navigavimus in nave alexandrina quae in insula hiemaverat cui erat insigne Castorum

28:12. And when we were come to Syracuse, we tarried there three days.

Et cum venissemus Syracusam mansimus ibi triduo

28:13. From thence, compassing by the shore, we came to Rhegium: and after one day, the south wind blowing, we came the second day to Puteoli:

Inde circumlegentes devenimus Regium et post unum diem flante austro secunda die venimus Puteolos

28:14. Where, finding brethren, we were desired to tarry with them seven days. And so we went to Rome.

Ubi inventis fratribus rogati sumus manere apud eos dies septem et sic venimus Romam

28:15. And from thence, when the brethren had heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii Forum and the Three Taverns. Whom when Paul saw, he gave thanks to God and took courage.

Et inde cum audissent fratres occurrerunt nobis usque ad Appii Forum et Tribus Tabernis quos cum vidisset Paulus gratias agens Deo accepit fiduciam

28:16. And when we were come to Rome, Paul was suffered to dwell by himself, with a soldier that kept him.

Cum venissemus autem Romam permissum est Paulo manere sibimet cum custodiente se milite

28:17. And after the third day, he called together the chief of the Jews. And when they were assembled, he said to them: Men, brethren, I, having done nothing against the people or the custom of our fathers, was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans.

Post tertium autem diem convocavit primos Iudaeorum cumque convenissent dicebat eis ego viri fratres nihil adversus plebem faciens aut morem paternum vinctus ab Hierosolymis traditus sum in manus Romanorum

28:18. Who, when they had examined me, would have released me, for that there was no cause of death in me.

Qui cum interrogationem de me habuissent voluerunt me dimittere eo quod nulla causa esset mortis in me

28:19. But the Jews contradicting it, I was constrained to appeal unto Caesar: not that I had anything to accuse my nation of.

Contradictentibus autem Iudaeis coactus sum appellare Caesarem non quasi gentem meam habens aliquid accusare

28:20. For this cause therefore I desired to see you and to speak to you. Because that for the hope of Israel, I am bound with this chain.

Propter hanc igitur causam rogavi vos videre et adloqui propter spem enim Israhel catena hac circumdatus sum

28:21. But they said to him: We neither received letters concerning thee from Judea: neither did any of the brethren that came hither relate or speak any evil of thee.

At illi dixerunt ad eum nos neque litteras accepimus de te a Iudaea neque adveniens aliquis fratrum nuntiavit aut locutus est quid de te malum

28:22. But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we know that it is every where contradicted.

Rogamus autem a te audire quae sentis nam de secta hac notum est nobis quia ubique ei contradicitur

28:23. And when they had appointed him a day, there came very many to him unto his lodgings. To whom he expounded, testifying the kingdom of God and persuading them concerning Jesus, out of the law of Moses and the prophets, from morning until evening.

Cum constituissent autem illi diem venerunt ad eum in hospitium plures quibus exponebat testificans regnum Dei suadensque eos de Iesu ex lege Mosi et prophetis a mane usque ad vesperam

28:24. And some believed the things that were said: but some believed not.

Et quidam credebant his quae dicebantur quidam vero non credebant

28:25. And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, Paul speaking this one word: Well did the Holy Ghost speak to our fathers by Isaiah the prophet,

Cumque invicem non essent consentientes discedebant dicente Paulo unum verbum quia bene Spiritus Sanctus locutus est per Esaiam prophetam ad patres nostros

28:26. Saying: Go to this people and say to them: With the ear you shall hear and shall not understand: and seeing you shall see and shall not perceive.

Dicens vade ad populum istum et dic aure audietis et non intellegetis et videntes videbitis et non perspicietis

28:27. For the heart of this people is grown gross, and with their ears have they heard heavily and their eyes they have shut, lest perhaps they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their heart and should be converted: and I should heal them.

Incrassatum est enim cor populi huius et auribus graviter audierunt et oculos suos compresserunt ne forte videant oculis et auribus audiant et corde intellegant et convertantur et sanem illos

28:28. Be it known therefore to you that this salvation of God is sent to the Gentiles: and they will hear it. Notum ergo sit vobis quoniam gentibus missum est hoc salutare Dei ipsi et audient

28:29. And when he had said these things, the Jews went out from him, having much reasoning among themselves.

28:30. And he remained two whole years in his own hired lodging: and he received all that came in to him,

Mansit autem biennio toto in suo conducto et suscipiebat omnes qui ingrediebantur ad eum

28:31. Preaching the kingdom of God and teaching the things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, without prohibition.

Praedicans regnum Dei et docens quae sunt de Domino Iesu Christo cum omni fiducia sine prohibitione

Amos

AMOS prophesied in Israel about the same time as Osee: and was called from following the cattle to denounce GOD'S judgments to the people of Israel, and the neighbouring nations, for their repeated crimes, in which they continued without repentance. ## Amos Chapter 1

The prophet threatens Damascus, Gaza, Tyre, Edom, and Ammon with the judgments of God, for their obstinacy in sin.

1:1. The words of Amos, who was among the herdsmen of Thecua: which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Ozias king of Juda, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joas king of Israel two years before the earthquake.

Verba Amos qui fuit in pastoralibus de Thecuae quae vidit super Israhel in diebus Oziae regis Iuda et in diebus Hieroboam filii loas regis Israhel ante duos annos terraemotus

The earthquake... Many understand this of a great earthquake, which they say was felt at the time that king Ozias attempted to offer incense in the temple. But the best chronologists prove that the earthquake here spoken of must have been before that time: because Jeroboam the second, under whom Amos prophesied, was dead long before that attempt of Ozias.

1:2. And he said: The Lord will roar from Sion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem: and the beautiful places of the shepherds have mourned, and the top of Carmel is withered.

Et dixit Dominus de Sion rugiet et de Hierusalem dabit vocem suam et luxerunt speciosa pastorum et exsiccatus est vertex Carmeli

1:3. Thus saith the Lord: For three crimes of Damascus, and for four I will not convert it: because they have thrashed Galaad with iron wains.

Haec dicit Dominus super tribus sceleribus Damasci et super quattuor non convertam eum eo quod triturerint in plaustris ferreis Galaad

For three crimes-and for four... That is, for their many unrepented of crimes. -- Ibid. I will not convert it... That is, I will not spare them, nor turn away the punishments I design to inflict upon them.

1:4. And I will send a fire into the house of Azael, and it shall devour the houses of Benadad.

Et mittam ignem in domum Azahel et devorabit domos Benadad

1:5. And I will break the bar of Damascus: and I will cut off the inhabitants from the plain of the idol, and him that holdeth the sceptre from the house of pleasure: and the people of Syria shall be carried away to Cyrene, saith the Lord.

Et conteram vectem Damasci et disperdam habitatorem de campo Idoli et tenentem sceptrum de domo Voluptatis et transferetur populus Syriae Cyrenen dicit Dominus

1:6. Thus saith the Lord: For three crimes of Gaza, and for four I will not convert it: because they have carried away a perfect captivity to shut them up in Edom.

Haec dicit Dominus super tribus sceleribus Gazae et super quattuor non convertam eum eo quod transtulerit captivitatem perfectam ut concluderet eam in Idumea

1:7. And I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, and it shall devour the houses thereof.

Et mittam ignem in murum Gazae et devorabit aedes eius

1:8. And I will cut off the inhabitant from Azotus, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ascalon: and I will turn my hand against Accaron, and the rest of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord God.

Et disperdam habitatorem de Azoto et tenentem sceptrum de Ascalone et convertam manum meam super Accaron et peribunt reliqui Philistinorum dicit Dominus Deus

1:9. Thus saith the Lord: For three crimes of Tyre, and for four I will not convert it: because they have shut up an entire captivity in Edom, and have not remembered the covenant of brethren.

Haec dicit Dominus super tribus sceleribus Tyri et super quattuor non convertam eum eo quod concluderint captivitatem perfectam in Idumea et non sint recordati foederis fratrum

1:10. And I will send a fire upon the wall of Tyre, and it shall devour the houses thereof.

Et emittam ignem in murum Tyri et devorabit aedes eius

1:11. Thus saith the Lord: For three crimes of Edom, and for four I will not convert him: because he hath pursued his brother with the sword, and hath carried on his fury, and hath kept his wrath to the end.
Haec dicit Dominus super tribus sceleribus Edom et super quattuor non convertam eum eo quod persecutus sit in gladio fratrem suum et violaverit misericordiam eius et tenuerit ultra furorem suum et indignationem suam servaverit usque in finem

1:12. I will send a fire into Theman: and it shall devour the houses of Bosra.
Mittam ignem in Theman et devorabit aedes Bosrae

1:13. Thus saith the Lord: For three crimes of the children of Ammon, and for four I will not convert him: because he hath ripped up the women with child of Galaad to enlarge his border.
Haec dicit Dominus super tribus sceleribus filiorum Ammon et super quattuor non convertam eum eo quod disseuerit praegnantes Galaad ad dilatandum terminum suum

1:14. And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabba: and it shall devour the houses thereof with shouting in the day of battle, and with a whirlwind in the day of trouble.
Et succendam ignem in muro Rabbae et devorabit aedes eius in ululatu in die belli et in turbine in die commotionis

1:15. And Melchom shall go into captivity, both he, and his princes together, saith the Lord.
Et ibit Melchom in captivitatem ipse et principes eius simul dicit Dominus

Melchom... The god or idol of the Ammonites, otherwise called Moloch, and Melech: which in Hebrew signifies a king, and Melchom their king.

Amos Chapter 2

The judgments with which God threatens Moab, Juda, and Israel for their sins, and their ingratitude.

---

2:1. Thus saith the Lord: For three crimes of Moab, and for four I will not convert him: because he hath burnt the bones of the king of Edom even to ashes.

Haec dicit Dominus super tribus sceleribus Moab et super quattuor non convertam eum eo quod incenderit ossa regis Idumeae usque ad cinerem

2:2. And I will send a fire into Moab, and it shall devour the houses of Carioth: and Moab shall die with a noise, with the sound of the trumpet:

Et mittam ignem in Moab et devorabit aedes Carioth et morietur in sonitu Moab in clangore tubae

2:3. And I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all his princes with him, saith the Lord.

Et disperdam iudicem de medio eius et omnes principes eius interficiam cum eo dicit Dominus

2:4. Thus saith the Lord: For three crimes of Juda, and for four I will not convert him: because he hath cast away the law of the Lord, and hath not kept his commandments: for their idols have caused them to err, after which their fathers have walked.

Haec dicit Dominus super tribus sceleribus Iuda et super quattuor non convertam eum eo quod abiecerint legem Domini et mandata eius non custodierint deceperunt enim eos idola sua post quae abierant patres eorum

2:5. And I will send a fire into Juda, and it shall devour the houses of Jerusalem.

Et mittam ignem in Iuda et devorabit aedes Hierusalem

2:6. Thus saith the Lord: For three crimes of Israel, and for four I will not convert him: because he hath sold the just man for silver, and the poor man for a pair of shoes.

Haec dicit Dominus super tribus sceleribus Israhel et super quattuor non convertam eum pro eo quod vendiderit argento iustum et pauperem pro calciamentis

2:7. They bruise the heads of the poor upon the dust of the earth, and turn aside the way of the humble: and the son and his father have gone to the same young woman, to profane my holy name.

Qui conterunt super pulverem terrae capita pauperum et viam humilium declinant et filius ac pater eius ierunt ad puellam ut violarent nomen sanctum meum

2:8. And they sat down upon garments laid to pledge by every altar: and drank the wine of the condemned in the house of their God.

Et super vestimentis pigneratis accubuerunt iuxta omne altare et vinum damnatorum bibebant in domo Dei sui

2:9. Yet I cast out the Amorrhite before their face: whose height was like the height of cedars, and who was strong as an oak: and I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots beneath.

Ego autem exterminavi Amorream a facie eorum cuius altitudo cedrorum altitudo eius et fortis ipse quasi quercus et contrivi fructum eius desuper et radices eius subter

2:10. It is I that brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and I led you forty years through the wilderness, that you might possess the land of the Amorrhite.

Ego sum qui ascendere vos feci de terra Aegypti et eduخي vos in deserto quadraginta annis ut possideretis terram Amorrei

2:11. And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for Nazarites. Is it not so, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord?

Et suscitavi de filiis vestris in prophetas et de iuvenibus vestris nazarenos numquid non ita est filii Israhel dicit Dominus

2:12. And you will present wine to the Nazarites: and command the prophets, saying: Prophecy not.
Et propinabatis nazarenis vino et prophetis mandabatis dicentes ne prophetetis

2:13. Behold, I will scream under you as a wain squeaketh that is laden with hay.

Ecce ego stridebo super vos sicut stridet plaustrum onustum faeno

I will scream... Unable to bear any longer the enormous load of your sins, etc. The spirit of God, as St. Jerome takes notice, accommodates himself to the education of the prophet and inspires him with comparisons taken from country affairs.

2:14. And flight shall perish from the swift, and the valiant shall not possess his strength, neither shall the strong save his life.

Et peribit fuga a veloce et fortis non obtinebit virtutem suam et robustus non salvabit animam suam

2:15. And he that holdeth the bow shall not stand, and the swift of foot shall not escape, neither shall the rider of the horse save his life.

Et tenens arcum non stabit et velox pedibus suis non salvabitur et ascensor equi non salvabit animam suam

2:16. And the stout of heart among the valiant shall flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.

Et robustus corde inter fortes nudus fugiet in die illa dicit Dominus

Amos Chapter 3

The evils that shall fall upon Israel for their sins.

---

3:1. Hear the word that the Lord hath spoken concerning you, O ye children of Israel: concerning the whole family that I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying:

Audite verbum quod locutus est Dominus super vos filii Israhel super omni cognatione quam eduxi de terra Aegypti dicens

3:2. You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore will I visit upon you all your iniquities.

Tantummodo vos cognovi ex omnibus cognationibus terrae idcirco visitabo super vos omnes iniquitates vestras

Visit upon... That is, punish.

3:3. Shall two walk together except they be agreed?

Numquid ambulabunt duo pariter nisi convenerit eis

3:4. Will a lion roar in the forest, if he have no prey? will the lion's whelp cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing?

Numquid rugiet leo in saltu nisi habuerit praedam numquid dabit catulus leonis vocem de cubili suo nisi aliquid adprehenderit

3:5. Will the bird fall into the snare upon the earth, if there be no fowler? Shall the snare be taken up from the earth, before it hath taken somewhat?

Numquid cadet avis in laqueum terrae absque aucupe numquid auferetur laqueus de terra antequam quid ceperit

3:6. Shall the trumpet sound in a city, and the people not be afraid? Shall there be evil in a city, which the Lord hath not done?

Si clanget tuba in civitate et populus non expavescet si erit malum in civitate quod Dominus non fecit

Evil in a city... He speaks of the evil of punishments of war, famine, pestilence, desolation, etc., but not of the evil of sin, of which God is not the author.

3:7. For the Lord God doth nothing without revealing his secret to his servants the prophets.

Quia non faciet Dominus Deus verbum nisi revelaverit secretum suum ad servos suos prophetas

3:8. The lion shall roar, who will not fear? The Lord God hath spoken, who shall not prophecy?

Leo rugiet quis non timebit Dominus Deus locutus est quis non prophetabit

3:9. Publish it in the houses of Azotus, and in the houses of the land of Egypt, and say: Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria, and behold the many follies in the midst thereof, and them that suffer oppression in the inner rooms thereof.

Auditum facite in aedibus Azoti et in aedibus terrae Aegypti et dicite congregamini super montes Samariae et videte insanias multas in medio eius et calumniam patientes in penetrabilibus eius

3:10. And they have not known to do the right thing, saith the Lord, storing up iniquity, and robberies in their houses.

Et nescierunt facere rectum dicit Dominus thesaurizantes iniquitatem et rapinas in aedibus suis

3:11. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: The land shall be in tribulation, and shall be compassed about: and thy strength shall be taken away from thee, and thy houses shall be spoiled.

Propterea haec dicit Dominus Deus tribulabitur et circumietur terra et detrahetur ex te fortitudo tua et diripientur aedes tuae

3:12. Thus saith the Lord: As if a shepherd should get out of the lion's mouth two legs, or the tip of the ear: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria, in a place of a bed, and in the couch of Damascus.

Haec dicit Dominus quomodo si eruat pastor de ore leonis duo crura aut extremum auriculae sic eruentur filii Israhel qui habitant in Samaria in plaga lectuli et in Damasco grabatti

3:13. Hear ye, and testify in the house of Jacob, saith the Lord the God of hosts:

Audite et contestamini in domo Iacob dicit Dominus Deus exercituum

3:14. That in the day when I shall begin to visit the transgressions of Israel, I will visit upon him, and upon the altars of Bethel: and the horns of the altars shall be cut off, and shall fall to the ground.

Quia in die cum visitare coepero praevaricationes Israhel super eum visitabo et super altaria Bethel et amputabuntur cornua altaris et cadent in terram

3:15. And I will strike the winter house with the summer house: and the houses of ivory shall perish, and many houses shall be destroyed, saith the Lord.

Et percutiam domum hiemalem cum domo aestiva et peribunt domus eburneae et dissipabuntur aedes multae dicit Dominus

Amos Chapter 4

The Israelites are reproved for their oppressing the poor, for their idolatry, and their incorrigibleness.

---

4:1. Hear this word, ye fat kine that are in the mountains of Samaria: you that oppress the needy, and crush the poor: that say to your masters: Bring, and we will drink.

Audite verbum hoc vaccae pingues quae estis in monte Samariae quae calumniam facitis egenis et confringitis pauperes quae dicitis dominis vestris adferte et bibemus

Fat kine... He means the great ones that lived in plenty and wealth.

4:2. The Lord God hath sworn by his holiness, that lo, the days shall come upon you, when they shall lift you up on pikes, and what shall remain of you in boiling pots.

Iuravit Dominus Deus in sancto suo quia ecce dies venient super vos et levabunt vos in contis et reliquias vestras in ollis ferventibus

4:3. And you shall go out at the breaches one over against the other, and you shall be cast forth into Armon, saith the Lord.

Et per aperturas exhibitis altera contra alteram et proiciemini in Armon dicit Dominus

Armon... A foreign country; some understand it of Armenia.

4:4. Come ye to Bethel, and do wickedly: to Galgal, and multiply transgressions: and bring in the morning your victims, your tithes in three days.

Venite ad Bethel et imple agite ad Galgalam et multiplicare praevaricationem et offerte mane victimas vestras tribus diebus decimas vestras

4:5. And offer a sacrifice of praise with leaven: and call free offerings, and proclaim it: for so you would do, O children of Israel, saith the Lord God.

Et sacrificare de fermentato laudem et vocare voluntarias oblationes et adnuntiate sic enim voluistis filii Israhel dicit Dominus Deus

4:6. Whereupon I also have given you dullness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: yet you have not returned to me, saith the Lord.

Unde et ego dedi vobis stuporem dentium in cunctis urbibus vestris et indigentiam panum in omnibus locis vestris et non estis reversi ad me dicit Dominus

4:7. I also have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest: and I caused it to rain upon on city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon: and the piece whereupon I rained not, withered.

Ego quoque prohibui a vobis imbrem cum adhuc tres menses superessent usque ad messem et plui super civitatem unam et super civitatem alteram non plui pars una conpluta est et pars super quam non plui aruit

4:8. And two and three cities went to one city to drink water, and were not filled: yet you returned not to me, saith the Lord.

Et venerunt duae et tres civitates ad civitatem unam ut biberent aquam et non sunt satiatae et non redistis ad me dicit Dominus

4:9. I struck you with a burning wind, and with mildew, the palmerworm hath eaten up your many gardens, and your vineyards: your olive groves, and fig groves: yet you returned not to me, saith the Lord.

Percussi vos in vento urente et in aurugine multitudinem hortorum vestrorum et vinearum vestrarum oliveta vestra et ficeta vestra comedit eruca et non redistis ad me dicit Dominus

4:10. I sent death upon you in the way of Egypt, I slew your young men with the sword, even to the captivity of your horses: and I made the stench of your camp to come up into your nostrils: yet you returned not to me, saith the Lord.

Misi in vos mortem in via Aegypti percussi in gladio iuvenes vestros usque ad captivitatem equorum vestrorum et ascendere feci putredinem castrorum vestrorum in nares vestras et non redistis ad me dicit Dominus

4:11. I destroyed some of you, as God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrha, and you were as a firebrand plucked out of the burning: yet you returned not to me, saith the Lord.

Subverti vos sicut subvertit Deus Sodomam et Gomorram et facti estis quasi torris raptus de incendio et non redistis ad me dicit Dominus

4:12. Therefore I will do these things to thee, O Israel: and after I shall have done these things to thee, be prepared to meet thy God, O Israel.

Quapropter haec faciam tibi Israhel postquam autem haec fecero tibi praeparare in occursum Dei tui Israhel

4:13. For behold he that formeth the mountains and createth the wind, and declareth his word to man, he that maketh the morning mist, and walketh upon the high places of the earth: the Lord the God of hosts is his name.

Quia ecce formans montes et creans ventum et adnuntians homini eloquium suum faciens matutinam nebulam et gradiens super excelsa terrae Dominus Deus exercituum nomen eius

Amos Chapter 5

A lamentation for Israel: an exhortation to return to God.

5:1. Hear ye this word, which I take up concerning you for a lamentation. The house of Israel is fallen, and it shall rise no more.

Audite verbum istud quod ego levo super vos planctum domus Israhel cecidit non adiciet ut resurgat

5:2. The virgin of Israel is cast down upon her land, there is none to raise her up.

Virgo Israhel proiecta est in terram suam non est qui suscitet eam

5:3. For thus saith the Lord God: The city, out of which came forth a thousand, there shall be left in it a hundred: and out of which there came a hundred, there shall be left in it ten, in the house of Israel.

Quia haec dicit Dominus Deus urbs de qua egrediebantur mille relinquentur in ea centum et de qua egrediebantur centum relinquentur in ea decem in domo Israhel

5:4. For thus saith the Lord to the house of Israel: Seek ye me, and you shall live.

Quia haec dicit Dominus domui Israhel quaerite me et vivetis

5:5. But seek not Bethel, and go not into Galgal, neither shall you pass over to Bersabee: for Galgal shall go into captivity, and Bethel shall be unprofitable.

Et nolite quaerere Bethel et in Galgala nolite intrare et in Bersabee non transibitis quia Galgala captiva ducetur et Bethel erit inutilis

Bethel, -Galgal,-Bersabee... The places where they worshipped their idols.

5:6. Seek ye the Lord, and live: lest the house of Joseph be burnt with fire, and it shall devour, and there shall be none to quench Bethel.

Quaerite Dominum et vivite ne forte conburatur ut ignis domus Ioseph et devorabit et non erit qui extinguat Bethel

5:7. You that turn judgment into wormwood, and forsake justice in the land,

Qui convertitis in absinthium iudicium et iustitiam in terra relinquitis

5:8. Seek him that maketh Arcturus, and Orion, and that turneth darkness into morning, and that changeth day into night: that calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: The Lord is his name.

Facientem Arcturum et Orionem et convertentem in mane tenebras et diem nocte mutantem qui vocat aquas maris et effundit eas super faciem terrae Dominus nomen eius

Arcturus and Orion... Arcturus is a bright star in the north: Orion a beautiful constellation in the south.

5:9. He that with a smile bringeth destruction upon the strong, and waste upon the mighty.

Qui subridet vastitatem super robustum et depopulationem super potentem adfert

With a smile... That is, with all ease, and without making any effort.

5:10. They have hated him that rebuketh in the gate: and have abhorred him that speaketh perfectly.

Odio habuerunt in porta corripientem et loquentem perfecte abominati sunt

5:11. Therefore because you robbed the poor, and took the choice prey from him: you shall build houses with square stone, and shall not dwell in them: you shall plant most delightful vineyards, and shall not drink the wine of them.

Idcirco pro eo quod diripiebatis pauperem et praedam electam tollebatis ab eo domos quadro lapide aedificabitis et non habitabitis in eis vineas amantissimas plantabitis et non bibetis vinum earum

5:12. Because I know your manifold crimes, and your grievous sins: enemies of the just, taking bribes, and oppressing the poor in the gate.

Quia cognovi multa scelera vestra et fortia peccata vestra hostes iusti accipientes munus et pauperes in porta deprimentes

5:13. Therefore the prudent shall keep silence at that time, for it is an evil time.

Ideo prudens in tempore illo tacebit quia tempus malum est

5:14. Seek ye good, and not evil, that you may live: and the Lord the God of hosts will be with you, as you have said.

Quaerite bonum et non malum ut vivatis et erit Dominus Deus exercituum vobiscum sicut dixistis

5:15. Hate evil, and love good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be the Lord the God of hosts may have mercy on the remnant of Joseph.

Odite malum et diligite bonum et constituite in porta iudicium si forte misereatur Dominus Deus exercituum reliquiis Ioseph

5:16. Therefore thus saith the Lord the God of hosts the sovereign Lord: In every street there shall be wailing: and in all places that are without, they shall say: Alas, alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and such as are skilful in lamentation to lament.

Propterea haec dicit Dominus Deus exercituum Dominator in omnibus plateis planctus et in cunctis quae foris sunt dicetur vae vae et vocabunt agricolam ad luctum et ad planctum eos qui sciunt plangere

5:17. And in all vineyards there shall be wailing: because I will pass through in the midst of thee, saith the Lord.

Et in omnibus vineis erit planctus quia pertransibo in medio tui dicit Dominus

5:18. Woe to them that desire the day of the Lord: to what end is it for you? the day of the Lord is darkness, and not light.

Vae desiderantibus diem Domini ad quid eam vobis dies Domini ista tenebrae et non lux

5:19. As if a man should flee from the face of a lion, and a bear should meet him: or enter into the house, and lean with his hand upon the wall, and a serpent should bite him.

Quomodo si fugiat vir a facie leonis et occurrat ei ursus et ingrediatur domum et innitatur manu sua super parietem et mordeat eum coluber

5:20. Shall not the day of the Lord be darkness, and not light: and obscurity, and no brightness in it?

Numquid non tenebrae dies Domini et non lux et caligo et non splendor in ea

5:21. I hate, and have rejected your festivities: and I will not receive the odour of your assemblies.

Odi et proieci festivitates vestras et non capiam odorem coetuum vestrorum

5:22. And if you offer me holocausts, and your gifts, I will not receive them: neither will I regard the vows of your fat beasts.

Quod si adtuleritis mihi holocaustomata et munera vestra non suscipiam et vota pinguium vestrorum non respiciam

5:23. Take away from me the tumult of thy songs: and I will not hear the canticles of thy harp.

Aufer a me tumultum carminum tuorum et cantica lyrae tuae non audiam

5:24. But judgment shall be revealed as water, and justice as a mighty torrent.

Et revelabitur quasi aqua iudicium et iustitia quasi torrens fortis

5:25. Did you offer victims and sacrifices to me in the desert for forty years, O house of Israel?

Numquid hostias et sacrificium obtulistis mihi in deserto quadraginta annis domus Israhel

Did you offer, etc... Except the sacrifices that were offered at the first, in the dedication of the tabernacle, the Israelites offered no sacrifices in the desert.

5:26. But you carried a tabernacle for your Moloch, and the image of your idols, the star of your god, which you made to yourselves.

Et portastis tabernaculum Moloch vestro et imaginem idolorum vestrorum sidus dei vestri quae fecistis vobis

A tabernacle, etc... All this alludes to the idolatry which they committed, when they were drawn away by the daughters of Moab to the worship of their gods. Num. 25.

5:27. And I will cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the Lord, the God of hosts is his name.

Et migrare vos faciam trans Damascum dixit Dominus Deus exercituum nomen eius

Amos Chapter 6

The desolation of Israel for their pride and luxury.

---

6:1. Woe to you that are wealthy in Sion, and to you that have confidence in the mountain of Samaria: ye great men, heads of the people, that go in with state into the house of Israel.

Vae qui opulenti estis in Sion et confiditis in monte Samariae optimates capita populorum ingredientes pompaticae domum Israel

6:2. Pass ye over to Chalane, and see, and go from thence into Emath the great: and go down into Geth of the Philistines, and to all the best kingdoms of these: if their border be larger than your border.

Transite in Chalanne et videte et ite inde in Emath magnam et descendite in Geth Palestinorum et ad optima quaeque regna horum si latior terminus eorum termino vestro est

6:3. You that are separated unto the evil day: and that approach to the throne of iniquity;

Qui separati estis in diem malum et adpropinquatis solio iniquitatis

6:4. You that sleep upon beds of ivory, and are wanton on your couches: that eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the herd;

Qui dormitis in lectis eburneis et lascivitis in stratis vestris qui comeditis agnum de grege et vitulos de medio armenti

6:5. You that sing to the sound of the psaltery: they have thought themselves to have instruments of music like David;

Qui canitis ad vocem psalterii sicut David putaverunt se habere vasa cantici

6:6. That drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the best ointments: and they are not concerned for the affliction of Joseph.

Bibentes in fialis vinum et optimo unguento delibuti et nihil patiebantur super contritione Ioseph

6:7. Wherefore now they shall go captive at the head of them that go into captivity: and the faction of the luxurious ones shall be taken away.

Quapropter nunc migrabunt in capite transmigrantium et auferetur factio lascivientium

6:8. The Lord God hath sworn by his own soul, saith the Lord the God of hosts: I detest the pride of Jacob, and I hate his houses, and I will deliver up the city with the inhabitants thereof.

Iuravit Dominus Deus in anima sua dicit Dominus Deus exercituum detestor ego superbiam Iacob et domos eius odi et tradam civitatem cum habitatoribus suis

6:9. And if there remain ten men in one house, they also shall die.

Quod si reliqui fuerint decem viri in domo una et ipsi morientur

6:10. And a man's kinsman shall take him up, and shall burn him, that he may carry the bones out of the house; and he shall say to him that is in the inner rooms of the house: Is there yet any with thee?

Et tollet eum propinquus suus et conburet eum ut efferat ossa de domo et dicet ei qui in penetrabilibus domus est numquid adhuc est apud te

6:11. And he shall answer: There is an end. And he shall say to him: Hold thy peace, and mention not the name of the Lord.

Et respondebit finis est et dicet ei tace et non recorderis nominis Domini

6:12. For behold the Lord hath commanded, and he will strike the greater house with breaches, and the lesser house with clefts.

Quia ecce Dominus mandabit et percutiet domum maiorem ruinis et domum minorem scissionibus

6:13. Can horses run upon the rocks, or can any one plough with buffles? for you have turned judgment into bitterness, and the fruit of justice into wormwood.

Numquid currere queunt in petris equi aut arari potest in bubalis quoniam convertistis in amaritudinem iudicium et fructum iustitiae in absinthium

6:14. You that rejoice in a thing of nought: you that say: Have we not taken unto us horns by our own strength?

Qui laetamini in nihili qui dicitis numquid non in fortitudine nostra adsumpsimus nobis cornua

6:15. But behold, I will raise up a nation against you, O house of Israel, saith the Lord the God of hosts; and they shall destroy you from the entrance of Emath, even to the torrent of the desert.

Ecce enim suscitabo super vos domus Israhel dicit Dominus Deus exercituum gentem et conterent vos ab introitu Emath usque ad torrentem Deserti

Amos Chapter 7

The prophet sees, in three visions, evils coming upon Israel: he is accused of treason by the false priest of Bethel.

---

7:1. These things the Lord God showed to me: and behold the locust was formed in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter rain, and lo, it was the latter rain after the king's mowing.

Haec ostendit mihi Dominus Deus et ecce flector lucustae in principio germinantium serotini imbris et ecce serotinus post tonsorem regis

The locust, etc... These judgments by locusts and fire, which, by the prophet's intercession, were moderated, signify the former invasions of the Assyrians under Phul and Theglathphalasar, before the utter desolation of Israel by Salmanasar.

7:2. And it came to pass, that when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, I said: O Lord God, be merciful, I beseech thee: who shall raise up Jacob, for he is very little?

Et factum est cum consummasset comedere herbam terrae et dixi Domine Deus propitius esto obsecro quis suscitabit Iacob quia parvulus est

7:3. The Lord had pity upon this: It shall not be, said the Lord.

Misertus est Dominus super hoc non erit dixit Dominus

7:4. These things the Lord God showed to me: and behold the Lord called for judgment unto fire, and it devoured the great deep, and ate up a part at the same time.

Haec ostendit mihi Dominus Deus et ecce vocabat iudicium ad ignem Dominus Deus et devoravit abyssum multam et comedit simul partem

7:5. And I said: O Lord God, cease, I beseech thee, who shall raise up Jacob, for he is a little one?

Et dixi Domine Deus quiesce obsecro quis suscitabit Iacob quia parvulus est

7:6. The Lord had pity upon this. Yea this also shall not be, said the Lord God.

Misertus est Dominus super hoc sed et istud non erit dixit Dominus Deus

7:7. These things the Lord showed to me: and behold the Lord was standing upon a plastered wall, and in his hand a mason's trowel.

Haec ostendit mihi et ecce Dominus stans super murum litum et in manu eius trulla cementarii

7:8. And the Lord said to me: What seest thou, Amos? And I said: A mason's trowel. And the Lord said: Behold, I will lay down the trowel in the midst of my people Israel. I will plaster them over no more.

Et dixit Dominus ad me quid tu vides Amos et dixi trullam cementarii et dixit Dominus ecce ego ponam trullam in medio populi mei Israhel non adiciam ultra superinducere eum

7:9. And the high places of the idol shall be thrown down, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste: and I will rise up against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

Et demolientur excelsa idoli et sanctificationes Israhel desolabuntur et consurgam super domum Hieroboam in gladio

7:10. And Amasias the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying: Amos hath rebelled against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

Et misit Amasias sacerdos Bethel ad Hieroboam regem Israhel dicens rebellavit contra te Amos in medio domus Israhel non poterit terra sustinere universos sermones eius

7:11. For thus saith Amos: Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall be carried away captive out of their own land.

Haec enim dicit Amos in gladio morietur Hieroboam et Israhel captivus migrabit de terra sua

Jeroboam shall die by the sword... The prophet did not say this; but that the Lord would rise up against the house of Jeroboam with the sword: which was verified, when Zacharias, the son and successor of Jeroboam, was slain by the sword. 2 Kings 15.10.

7:12. And Amasias said to Amos: Thou seer, go, flee away into the land of Juda: and eat bread there, and prophecy there.

Et dixit Amasias ad Amos qui vides gradere fuge in terram Iuda et comede ibi panem et ibi prophetabis

7:13. But prophecy not again any more in Bethel: because it is the king's sanctuary, and it is the house of the kingdom.

Et in Bethel non adicies ultra ut prophetes quia sanctificatio regis est et domus regni est

7:14. And Amos answered and said to Amasias: I am not a prophet, nor am I the son of a prophet: but I am a herdsman plucking wild figs.

Et respondit Amos et dixit ad Amasiam non sum propheta et non sum filius prophetae sed armentarius ego sum vellicans sycomoros

I am not a prophet... That is, I am not a prophet by education: nor is propheying my calling or profession: but I am a herdsman, whom God was pleased to send hither to prophecy to Israel.

7:15. And the Lord took me when I followed the flock, and the Lord said to me: Go, prophecy to my people Israel.

Et tulit me Dominus cum sequerer gregem et dixit ad me Dominus vade propheta ad populum meum Israhel

7:16. And now hear thou the word of the Lord: Thou sayest, thou shalt not prophecy against Israel, and thou shalt not drop thy word upon the house of the idol.

Et nunc audi verbum Domini tu dicis non prophetabis super Israhel et non stillabis super domum idoli

The house of the idol... Viz., of the calf worshipped in Bethel.

7:17. Therefore thus saith the Lord: Thy wife shall play the harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be measured by a line: and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall go into captivity out of their land.

Propter hoc haec dicit Dominus uxor tua in civitate fornicabitur et filii tui et filiae tuae in gladio cadent et humus tua funiculo metietur et tu in terra polluta morieris et Israhel captivus migrabit de terra sua

Amos Chapter 8

Under the figure of a hook, which bringeth down the fruit, the approaching desolation of Israel is foreshowed for their avarice and injustices.

---

8:1. These things the Lord showed to me: and behold a hook to draw down the fruit.

Haec ostendit mihi Dominus Deus et ecce uncinus pomorum

8:2. And he said: What seest thou, Amos? And I said: A hook to draw down fruit. And the Lord said to me: The end is come upon my people Israel: I will not again pass by them any more.

Et dixit quid tu vides Amos et dixi uncinum pomorum et dixit Dominus ad me venit finis super populum meum Israhel non adiciam ultra ut pertranseam eum

8:3. And the hinges of the temple shall scream in that day, saith the Lord God: many shall die: silence shall be cast in every place.

Et stridebunt cardines templi in die illa dicit Dominus Deus multi morientur in omni loco proicietur silentium

8:4. Hear this, you that crush the poor, and make the needy of the land to fail,

Audite hoc qui conteritis pauperem et deficere facitis egenos terrae

8:5. Saying: When will the month be over, and we shall sell our wares: and the sabbath, and we shall open the corn: that we may lessen the measure, and increase the sicle, and may convey in deceitful balances, Dicentes quando transibit mensis et venundabimus merces et sabbatum et aperiemus frumentum ut inminuamus mensuram et augeamus siclum et subponamus stateras dolosas

8:6. That we may possess the needy for money, and the poor for a pair of shoes, and may sell the refuse of the corn?

Ut possideamus in argento egenos et pauperes pro calciamentis et quisquillas frumenti vendamus

8:7. The Lord hath sworn against the pride of Jacob: surely I will never forget all their works.

Iuravit Dominus in superbia Iacob si oblitus fuero usque ad finem omnia opera eorum

8:8. Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein: and rise up altogether as a river, and be cast out, and run down as the river of Egypt?

Numquid super isto non commovebitur terra et lugebit omnis habitator eius et ascendet quasi fluvius universus et eicietur et defluet quasi rivus Aegypti

8:9. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord God, that the sun shall go down at midday, and I will make the earth dark in the day of light:

Et erit in die illa dicit Dominus occidet sol meridie et tenebrescere faciam terram in die luminis

8:10. And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring up sackcloth upon every back of yours, and baldness upon every head: and I will make it as the mourning of an only son, and the latter end thereof as a bitter day.

Et convertam festivitates vestras in luctum et omnia cantica vestra in planctum et inducam super omne dorsum vestrum saccum et super omne caput calvitium et ponam eam quasi luctum unigeniti et novissima eius quasi diem amarum

8:11. Behold the days come, saith the Lord, and I will send forth a famine into the land: not a famine of bread, nor a thirst of water, but of hearing the word of the Lord.

Ecce dies veniunt dicit Dominus et mittam famem in terram non famem panis neque sitim aquae sed audiendi verbum Domini

8:12. And they shall move from sea to sea, and from the north to the east: they shall go about seeking the word of the Lord, and shall not find it.

Et commovebuntur a mari usque ad mare et ab aquilone usque ad orientem circumibunt quaerentes
verbum Domini et non invenient

8:13. In that day the fair virgins, and the young men shall faint for thirst.

In die illa deficient virgines pulchrae et adulescentes in siti

8:14. They that swear by the sin of Samaria, and say: Thy God, O Dan, liveth: and the way of Bersabee liveth: and they shall fall, and shall rise no more.

Qui iurant in delicto Samariae et dicunt vivit deus tuus Dan et vivit via Bersabee et cadent et non resurgent

Amos Chapter 9

The certainty of the desolation of Israel: the restoring of the tabernacle of David, and the conversion of the Gentiles to the church; which shall flourish for ever.

---

9:1. I saw the Lord standing upon the altar, and he said: Strike the hinges, and let the lintels be shook: for there is covetousness in the head of them all, and I will slay the last of them with the sword: there shall be no flight for them: they shall flee, and he that shall flee of them shall not be delivered.

Vidi Dominum stantem super altare et dixit percute cardinem et commoveantur superliminaria avaritia enim in capite omnium et novissimum eorum in gladio interficiam non erit fuga eis fugiet et non salvabitur ex eis qui fugerit

9:2. Though they go down even to hell, thence shall my hand bring them out: and though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down.

Si descenderint usque ad infernum inde manus mea educet eos et si ascenderint usque ad caelum inde detraham eos

9:3. And though they be hid in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them away from thence: and though they hide themselves from my eyes in the depth of the sea, there will I command the serpent and he shall bite them.

Et si absconditi fuerint in vertice Carmeli inde scrutans auferam eos et si celaverint se ab oculis meis in fundo maris ibi mandabo serpenti et mordebit eos

9:4. And if they go into captivity before their enemies, there will I command the sword, and it shall kill them. And I will set my eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.

Et si abierint in captivitatem coram inimicis suis ibi mandabo gladio et occidet eos et ponam oculos meos super eos in malum et non in bonum

9:5. And the Lord the God of hosts is he who toucheth the earth, and it shall melt: and all that dwell therein shall mourn: and it shall rise up as a river, and shall run down as the river of Egypt.

Et Dominus Deus exercituum qui tangit terram et tabescet et lugebunt omnes habitantes in ea et ascendet sicut rivus omnis et defluet sicut fluvius Aegypti

9:6. He that buildeth his ascension in heaven, and hath founded his bundle upon the earth: who calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth, the Lord is his name.

Qui aedificat in caelo ascensionem suam et fasciculum suum super terram fundavit qui vocat aquas maris et effundit eas super faciem terrae Dominus nomen eius

His ascension... That is, his high throne. -- Ibid. His bundle... That is, his church bound up together by the bands of one faith and communion.

9:7. Are not you as the children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel, saith the Lord? did not I bring up Israel, out of the land of Egypt: and the Philistines out of Cappadocia, and the Syrians out of Cyrene?

Numquid non ut filii Aethiopum vos estis mihi filii Israhel ait Dominus numquid non Israhel ascendere feci de terra Aegypti et Palestinos de Cappadocia et Syros de Cyrene

As the children of the Ethiopians... That is, as black as they, by your iniquities.

9:8. Behold the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from the face of the earth: but yet I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the Lord.

Ecce oculi Domini Dei super regnum peccans et conteram illud a facie terrae verumtamen conterens non conteram domum Iacob dicit Dominus

9:9. For behold I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, as corn is sifted in a sieve: and there shall not a little stone fall to the ground.

Ecce enim ego mandabo et concutiam in omnibus gentibus domum Israhel sicut concutitur in cribro et non cadet lapillus super terram

9:10. All the sinners of my people shall fall by the sword: who say: The evils shall not approach, and shall not come upon us.

In gladio morientur omnes peccatores populi mei qui dicunt non adpropinquabit et non veniet super nos malum

9:11. In that day I will raise up the tabernacle of David, that is fallen: and I will close up the breaches of the walls thereof, and repair what was fallen: and I will rebuild it as in the days of old.

In die illo suscitabo tabernaculum David quod cecidit et reaedificabo aperturas murorum eius et ea quae corruerant instaurabo et reaedificabo eum sicut diebus antiquis

9:12. That they may possess the remnant of Edom, and all nations, because my name is invoked upon them: saith the Lord that doth these things.

Ut possideant reliquias Idumeae et omnes nationes eo quod invocatum sit nomen meum super eos dicit Dominus faciens haec

9:13. Behold the days come, saith the Lord, when the ploughman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed: and the mountains shall drop sweetness, and every hill shall be tilled.

Ecce dies veniunt dicit Dominus et comprehendet arator messorem et calcator uvae mittentem semen et stillabunt montes dulcedinem et omnes colles culti erunt

Shall overtake, etc... By this is meant the great abundance of spiritual blessings; which, as it were, by a constant succession, shall enrich the church of Christ.

9:14. And I will bring back the captivity of my people Israel: and they shall build the abandoned cities, and inhabit them: and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine of them: and shall make gardens, and eat the fruits of them. And I will plant them upon their own land: and I will no more pluck them out of their land which I have given them, saith the Lord thy God.

Et convertam captivitatem populi mei Israhel et aedificabunt civitates desertas et habitabunt et plantabunt vineas et bibent vinum earum et facient hortos et comedent fructus eorum et plantabo eos super humum suam et non evellam eos ultra de terra sua quam dedi eis dicit Dominus Deus tuus

Baruch

BARUCH was a man of noble extraction, and learned in the law, secretary and disciple to the prophet JEREMIAS, and a sharer in his labours and persecutions: which is the reason why the ancient fathers have considered this book as a part of the prophecy of JEREMIAS, and have usually quoted it under his name. (For more information, see the article BARUCH in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Baruch Chapter 1. The Jews of Babylon send the book of Baruch with money to Jerusalem, requesting their brethren there to offer sacrifice, and to pray for the king and for them, acknowledging their manifold sins.

Baruch Chapter 2. A further confession of the sins of the people, and of the justice of God.

Baruch Chapter 3. They pray for mercy, acknowledging that they are justly punished for forsaking true wisdom. A prophecy of Christ.

Baruch Chapter 4. The prophet exhorts to the keeping of the law of wisdom, and encourages the people to be patient, and to hope for their deliverance.

Baruch Chapter 5. Jerusalem is invited to rejoice and behold the return of her children out of their captivity.

Baruch Chapter 6. The epistle of Jeremias to the captives, as a preservative against idolatry.

Baruch Chapter 1

The Jews of Babylon send the book of Baruch with money to Jerusalem, requesting their brethren there to offer sacrifice, and to pray for the king and for them, acknowledging their manifold sins.

---

1:1. And these are the words of the book, which Baruch the son of Nerias, the son of Maasias, the son of Sedecias, the son of Sedei, the son Helcias, wrote in Babylonia.

Et haec verba libri quae scripsit Baruch filius Neeri filius Maasei filii Sedechiae filii Sedei filii Helchiae in Babylonia

1:2. In the fifth year, in the seventh day of the month, at the time that the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire.

In anno quinto in septima die mensis in tempore quo ceperunt Chaldei Hierusalem et succenderunt eam igni

1:3. And Baruch read the words of this book in the hearing of Jechonias the son of Joakim king of Juda, and in the hearing of all the people that came to hear the book.

Et legit Baruch verba libri huius ad aures Iechoniae filii Ioachim regis Iuda et ad aures universi populi venientis ad librum

1:4. And in the hearing of the nobles, the sons of the kings, and in the hearing of the ancients, and in the hearing of the people, from the least even to the greatest of them that dwelt in Babylonia, by the river Sedi.

Et ad aures potentium filiorum regum et ad aures presbyterorum et ad aures populi a minimo usque ad magnum eorum omnium habitantium in Babylonia ad flumen Sudi

1:5. And when they heard it they wept, and fasted, and prayed before the Lord.

Qui audientes plorabant et ieiunabant et orabant in conspectu Domini

1:6. And they made a collection of money according to every man's power.

Et collegerunt pecuniam secundum quod potuit uniuscuiusque manus

1:7. And they sent it to Jerusalem to Joakim the priest, the son of Helcias, the son of Salom, and to the priests, and to all the people, that were found with him in Jerusalem:

Et miserunt in Hierusalem ad Ioachim filium Helchiae filii Salom sacerdotem et ad sacerdotes et ad omnem populum qui inventi sunt cum eo in Hierusalem

1:8. At the time when he received the vessels of the temple of the Lord, which had been taken away out of the temple, to return them into the land of Juda the tenth day of the month Sivan, the silver vessels, which Sedecias the son of Josias king of Juda had made,

Cum acciperet vasa templi Domini quae ablata fuerant de templo revocare in terram Iuda decima die illius sivan vasa argentea quae fecit Sedechias filius Iosiae rex Iuda

1:9. After that Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had carried away Jechonias, and the princes, and all the powerful men, and the people of the land from Jerusalem, and brought them bound to Babylon.

Posteaquam cepisset Nabuchodonosor rex Babylonum Iechoniam et principes et vinctos et potentes et populum terrae ab Hierusalem et duxit eos in Babyloniam

1:10. And they said: Behold we have sent you money, buy with it holocausts, and frankincense, and make meat offerings, and offerings for sin at the altar of the Lord our God:

Et dixerunt ecce misimus ad vos pecunias de quibus emite holocaustomata et tus et facite manna et offerte pro peccato ad aram Domini Dei nostri

1:11. And pray ye for the life of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and for the life of Balthasar his son, that their days may be upon earth as the days of heaven:

Et orate pro vita Nabuchodonosor regis Babyloniae et pro vita Balthasar filii eius ut sint dies ipsorum sicut dies caeli super terram

1:12. And that the Lord may give us strength, and enlighten our eyes, that we may live under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and under the shadow of Balthasar his son, and may serve them many days, and may find favour in their sight.

Et det Dominus virtutem nobis et inluminet oculos nostros ut vivamus sub umbra Nabuchodonosor regis Babyloniae et sub umbra Balthasar filii eius et serviamus eis multis diebus et inveniamus gratiam in conspectu eorum

1:13. And pray ye for us to the Lord our God: for we have sinned against the Lord our God, and his wrath is not turned away from us even to this day.

Et pro nobis ipsis orate ad Dominum Deum nostrum quia peccavimus Domino Deo nostro et non est aversus furor eius a nobis usque in hunc diem

1:14. And read ye this book, which we have sent to you to be read in the temple of the Lord, on feasts, and proper days.

Et legite librum istum quem misimus ad vos recitari in templo Domini in die sollemni et in die oportuno

1:15. And you shall say: To the Lord our God belongeth justice, but to us confusion of our face: as it is come to pass at this day to all Juda, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

Et dicetis Domino Deo nostro iustitia nobis autem confusio faciei nostrae sicut dies haec omni Iuda et habitantibus in Hierusalem

1:16. To our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers.

Regibus nostris et principibus nostris sacerdotibus nostris et prophetis nostris et patribus nostris

1:17. We have sinned before the Lord our God, and have not believed him, nor put our trust in him:

Peccavimus ante Dominum nostrum et non credidimus diffidentes in eum

1:18. And we were not obedient to him, and we have not hearkened to the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his commandments which he hath given us.

Et non fuimus subiectibiles illi et non obaudivimus vocem Domini Dei nostri ut ambularem in mandatis eius quibus dedit nobis

1:19. From the day that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, even to this day, we were disobedient to the Lord our God: and going astray we turned away from hearing his voice.

A die qua eduxit patres nostros de terra Aegypti usque in hunc diem eramus incredibiles ad Dominum Deum nostrum et dissipati recessimus ne audiremus vocem ipsius

1:20. And many evils have cleaved to us, and the curses which the Lord foretold by Moses his servant: who brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land flowing with milk and honey, as at this day.

Et adhererunt nobis mala multa et maledictiones quae constituit Dominus Moysi servo suo qui eduxit patres nostros de terra Aegypti dare nobis terram fluentem lac et mel sicut hodierna die

1:21. And we have not hearkened to the voice of the Lord our God according to all the words of the prophets whom he sent to us:

Et non audivimus vocem Domini Dei nostri secundum omnia verba prophetarum quos misit ad nos

1:22. And we have gone away every man after the inclinations of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do evil in the sight of the Lord our God.

Et abivimus unusquisque in sensum cordis nostri maligni operari diis alienis facientes mala ante oculos Domini Dei nostri

Baruch Chapter 2

A further confession of the sins of the people, and of the justice of God.

---

2:1. Wherefore the Lord our God hath made good his word, that he spoke to us, and to our judges that have judged Israel, and to our kings, and to our princes, and to all Israel and Juda:

Propter quod statuit Dominus Deus noster verbum suum quod locutus est ad nos et ad iudices nostros qui iudicaverunt in Israhel et ad reges nostros et ad principes nostros et ad omnem Israhel et Iuda

2:2. That the Lord would bring upon us great evils, such as never happened under heaven, as they have come to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that are written in the law of Moses:

Ut adduceret Dominus super nos mala magna quae non sunt facta sub caelo quemadmodum facta sunt Hierusalem secundum quae scripta sunt in lege Moysi

2:3. That a man should eat the flesh of his own son, and the flesh of his own daughter.

Ut manducaret homo carnes filii sui et carnes filiae suae

2:4. And he hath delivered them up to be under the hand of all the kings that are round about us, to be a reproach, and desolation among all the people, among whom the Lord hath scattered us.

Et dedit illos sub manus regum omnium qui sunt in circuitu nostro in inproperium et in desolationem et in omnibus populis quo nos dispersit Dominus

2:5. And we are brought under, and are not uppermost: because we have sinned against the Lord our God, by not obeying his voice.

Et facti sumus subtus et non supra quia peccavimus Domino Deo nostro non obaudiendo vocem ipsius

2:6. To the Lord our God belongeth justice: but to us, and to our fathers confusion of face, as at this day.

Domino Deo nostro iustitia nobis autem et patribus nostris confusio faciei sicut dies haec

2:7. For the Lord hath pronounced against us all these evils that are come upon us:

Quae locutus est Dominus super nos omnia mala haec quae evenerunt super nos

2:8. And we have not entreated the face of the Lord our God, that we might return every one of us from our most wicked ways.

Et non sumus deprecati faciem Domini Dei nostri ut reverteremur unusquisque nostrum a viis nostris pessimis

2:9. And the Lord hath watched over us for evil, and hath brought it upon us: for the Lord is just in all his works which he hath commanded us:

Et vigilavit Dominus in malis et adduxit ea super nos quia iustus est Dominus in omnibus operibus suis quae mandavit nobis

2:10. And we have not hearkened to his voice to walk in the commandments of the Lord which he hath set before us.

Et non audivimus vocem ipsius ut iremus in praeceptis Domini quae dedit ante faciem nostram

2:11. And now, O Lord God of Israel, who hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a strong hand, and with signs, and with wonders, and with thy great power, and with a mighty arm, and hast made thee a name as at this day,

Et nunc Domine Deus Israhel qui eduxisti plebem tuam de terra Aegypti in manu valida et in signis et in prodigiis et in virtute tua magna et in brachio excelso et fecisti tibi nomen sicut dies iste

2:12. We have sinned, we have done wickedly, we have acted unjustly, O Lord our God, against all thy justices.

Peccavimus impie egimus inique gessimus Domine Deus noster in omnibus iustitiis tuis

2:13. Let thy wrath be turned away from us: for we are left a few among the nations where thou hast scattered us.

Avertatur ira tua a nobis quia derelicti sumus pauci inter gentes ubi dispersisti nos

2:14. Hear, O Lord, our prayers, and our petitions, and deliver us for thy own sake: and grant that we may find favour in the sight of them that have led us away:

Exaudi Domine preces nostras et orationes nostras et educ nos propter te et da nobis invenire gratiam ante faciem eorum qui nos abduxerunt

2:15. That all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, and that thy name is called upon Israel, and upon his posterity.

Ut sciat omnis terra quia tu es Dominus Deus noster et quia nomen tuum invocatum est super Israhel et super genus ipsius

2:16. Look down upon us, O Lord, from thy holy house, and incline thy ear, and hear us.

Respice Domine de domo sancta tua in nos et inclina aurem tuam et audi

2:17. Open thy eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in hell, whose spirit is taken away from their bowels, shall not give glory and justice to the Lord:

Aperi oculos tuos et vide quia non mortui qui sunt in inferno quorum spiritus acceptus est a visceribus suis dabunt honorem et iustificationem Domino

Justice, etc... They that are in hell shall not give justice to God; that is, they shall not acknowledge and glorify his justice as penitent sinners do upon earth.

2:18. But the soul that is sorrowful for the greatness of evil she hath done, and goeth bowed down, and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul giveth glory and justice to thee the Lord.

Sed anima quae tristis est super magnitudine et incedit curva et infirmis et oculi deficientes et anima esuriens dat tibi gloriam et iustitiam Domino

2:19. For it is not for the justices of our fathers that we pour out our prayers, and beg mercy in thy sight, O Lord our God:

Quia non secundum iustitias patrum nostrorum nos fundimus misericordiam ante conspectum tuum Domine Deus noster

2:20. But because thou hast sent out thy wrath, and thy indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying:

Sed quia misisti iram tuam et furorem tuum super nos sicut locutus es in manus puerorum tuorum prophetarum dicens

2:21. Thus saith the Lord: Bow down your shoulder, and your neck, and serve the king of Babylon: and you shall remain in the land which I have given to your fathers.

Sic dicit Dominus inclinate umerum vestrum et cervicem vestram et opera facite regi Babylonis et sedebitis in terra quam dedi patribus vestris

2:22. But if you will not hearken to the voice of the Lord your God, to serve the king of Babylon: I will cause you to depart out of the cities of Juda, and from without Jerusalem.

Quod si autem non audieritis vocem Domini Dei vestri operari regi Babyloniae defectionem faciam de civitatibus Iuda et a foris Hierusalem

2:23. And I will take away from you the voice of mirth, and the voice of joy, and the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, and all the land shall be without any footstep of inhabitants.

Et auferam a vobis vocem iucunditatis et vocem gaudimonii et vocem sponsi et vocem sponsae et erit omnis terra sine vestigio ab inhabitantibus eam

2:24. And they hearkened not to thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: and thou hast made good thy words, which thou spakest by the hands of thy servants the prophets, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers should be removed out of their place:

Et non audierunt vocem tuam ut operarentur regi Babyloniae et statuisti verba tua quae locutus es in manibus puerorum tuorum prophetarum ut proferrentur ossa regum nostrorum et ossa patrum nostrorum de loco suo

2:25. And behold they are cast out to the heat of the sun, and to the frost of the night: and they have died in grievous pains, by famine, and by the sword, and in banishment.

Et ecce sunt proiecta in calore solis et in gelu noctis et mortui sunt in doloribus pessimis in fame et in gladio et in emissione

2:26. And thou hast made the temple, in which thy name was called upon, as it is at this day, for the iniquity of the house of Israel, and the house of Juda.

Et posuisti templum in quo invocatum est nomen tuum in ipso sicut haec dies propter iniquitatem domus Israhel et domus Iuda

2:27. And thou hast dealt with us, O Lord our God, according to all thy goodness, and according to all that great mercy of thine:

Et fecisti in nobis Domine Deus noster secundum omnem benignitatem tuam et secundum omnem miserationem tuam illam magnam

2:28. As thou spakest by the hand of thy servant Moses, in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel,

Sicut locutus es in manu pueri tui Moysi in die qua praecepisti ei scribere legem tuam coram filiis Israhel

2:29. Saying: If you will not hear my voice, this great multitude shall be turned into a very small number among the nations, where I will scatter them:

Dicens si non obaudieritis vocem meam ambitio haec magna et multa convertetur in minimo inter gentes quo ego dispergam illos

2:30. For I know that the people will not hear me, for they are a people of a stiff neck: but they shall turn to their heart in the land of their captivity:

Quia scio quod me non audiet populus populus est enim dura cervice et convertetur ad cor suum in terra captivitatis suae

2:31. And they shall know that I am the Lord their God: and I will give them a heart, and they shall understand: and ears, and they shall hear.

Et scient quoniam ego sum Dominus Deus eorum et dabo eis cor et audient aures

2:32. And they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and shall be mindful of my name.

Et laudabunt me in terra captivitatis suae et memores erunt nominis mei

2:33. And they shall turn away themselves from their stiff neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, that sinned against me.

Et avertent se a dorso suo duro et a malignitatibus suis quia reminiscuntur viam patrum suorum qui peccaverunt in me

2:34. And I will bring them back again into the land which I promised with an oath to their fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and they shall be masters thereof: and I will multiply them, and they shall not be diminished.

Et revocabo illos in terram quam iuravi patribus illorum Abraham et Isaac et Iacob et dominabuntur eius et multiplicabo eos et non minorabuntur

2:35. And I will make with them another covenant that shall be everlasting, to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more remove my people, the children of Israel, out of the land that I have given them.

Et statuam illis testamentum alterum sempiternum ut sim illis in Deum et ipsi erunt mihi in populum et non movebo amplius populum meum filios Israhel a terra quam dedi illis

Baruch Chapter 3

They pray for mercy, acknowledging that they are justly punished for forsaking true wisdom. A prophecy of Christ.

---

3:1. And now, O Lord Almighty, the God of Israel, the soul in anguish, and the troubled spirit crieth to thee:

Et nunc Domine omnipotens Deus Israhel anima in angustiis et spiritus anxius clamat ad te

3:2. Hear, O Lord, and have mercy, for thou art a merciful God, and have pity on us: for we have sinned before thee.

Audi Domine et miserere quia Deus es misericors et miserere nostri quia peccavimus ante te

3:3. For thou remainest for ever, and shall we perish everlastingly?

Quia tu sedes in sempiternum et nos peribimus in aevum

3:4. O Lord Almighty, the God of Israel, hear now the prayer of the dead of Israel, and of their children, that have sinned before thee, and have not hearkened to the voice of the Lord their God, wherefore evils have cleaved fast to us.

Domine omnipotens Deus Israhel audi nunc orationem mortuorum Israhel et filiorum ipsorum qui peccaverunt ante te et non audierunt vocem Domini Dei sui et adglutinata sunt nobis mala

3:5. Remember not the iniquities of our fathers, but think upon thy hand, and upon thy name at this time:

Noli meminisse iniquitates patrum nostrorum sed memento manus tuae et nominis tui in tempore isto

3:6. For thou art the Lord our God, and we will praise thee, O Lord:

Quia tu es Dominus Deus noster et laudabimus te Domine

3:7. Because for this end thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, to the intent that we should call upon thy name, and praise thee in our captivity, for we are converted from the iniquity of our fathers, who sinned before thee.

Quia propter hoc dedisti timorem tuum in cordibus nostris et ut invocemus nomen tuum et laudemus te in captivitate nostra quia convertemur iniquitatem patrum nostrorum qui peccaverunt ante te

3:8. And behold we are at this day in our captivity, whereby thou hast scattered us to be a reproach, and a curse, and an offence, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, who departed from thee, O Lord our God.

Et ecce nos hodie in captivitate nostra sumus quo nos dispersisti in inproperium et in maledictum et in peccatum secundum omnes iniquitates patrum nostrorum qui discesserunt a te Domine Deus noster

3:9. Hear, O Israel, the commandments of life: give ear, that thou mayst learn wisdom.

Audi Israhel mandata vitae auribus percipite ut scias prudentiam

3:10. How happeneth it, O Israel, that thou art in thy enemies' land?

Quid est Israhel quid est quod in terra es inimicorum

3:11. Thou art grown old in a strange country, thou art defiled with the dead: thou art counted with them that go down into hell.

Inveterasti in terra aliena coinquinatus es cum mortuis deputatus es cum descendentibus in infernum

3:12. Thou hast forsaken the fountain of wisdom:

Dereliquisti fontem sapientiae

3:13. For if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou hadst surely dwelt in peace for ever.

Si in via Dei ambulasses habitasses in pace sempiterna

3:14. Learn where is wisdom, where is strength, where is understanding: that thou mayst know also where is length of days and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace.

Disce ubi sit prudentia ubi sit virtus ubi sit intellectus ut scias simul ubi sit longiturnitas vitae et victus ubi sit lumen oculorum et pax

3:15. Who hath found out her place? and who hath gone in to her treasures?

Quis invenit locum eius et quis intravit in thesauros eius

3:16. Where are the princes of the nations, and they that rule over the beasts that are upon the earth?

Ubi sunt principes gentium et qui dominantur super bestias quae sunt super terram

3:17. That take their diversion with the birds of the air.

Qui in avibus caeli inludunt

3:18. That hoard up silver and gold, wherein men trust, and there is no end of their getting? who work in silver and are solicitous, and their works are unsearchable.

Qui argentum thesaurizant et aurum in quo confidebant homines et non est finis acquisitionis eorum qui argentum fabricant et solliciti sunt nec est inventio operum illorum

3:19. They are cut off, and are gone down to hell, and others are risen up in their place.

Exterminati sunt et ad inferos descenderunt et alii loco eorum exsurrexerunt

3:20. Young men have seen the light, and dwelt upon the earth: but the way of knowledge they have not known,

Iuvenes viderunt lumen et habitaverunt super terram viam autem disciplinae ignoraverunt

3:21. Nor have they understood the paths thereof, neither have their children received it, it is far from their face.

Neque intellexerunt semitas eius neque filii eorum susceperunt eam a facie ipsorum longe facta est

3:22. It hath not been heard of in the land of Chanaan, neither hath it been seen in Theman.

Non est audita in terra Chanaan neque visa est in Theman

Theman... The capital city of Edom.

3:23. The children of Agar also, that search after the wisdom that is of the earth, the merchants of Merrha, and of Theman, and the tellers of fables, and searchers of prudence and understanding: but the way of wisdom they have not known, neither have they remembered her paths.

Filii quoque Agar qui exquirunt prudentiam quae de terra est negotiatores Merrae et Theman et fabulatores et exquisitores intellegentiae viam autem sapientiae nescierunt neque commemorati sunt semitas eius

Agar... The mother of the Ismaelites.

3:24. O Israel, how great is the house of God, and how vast is the place of his possession!

O Israhel quam magna est domus Dei et ingens locus possessionis eius

3:25. It is great, and hath no end: it is high and immense.

Magnus et non habet finem excelsus et inmensus

3:26. There were the giants, those renowned men that were from the beginning, of great stature, expert in war.

Ibi fuerunt gigantes nominati illi qui ab initio fuerunt statura magna scientes bellum

3:27. The Lord chose not them, neither did they find the way of knowledge: therefore did they perish.

Non hos elegit Deus neque viam disciplinae dedit illis et perierunt

3:28. And because they had not wisdom, they perished through their folly.

Eo quod non haberent sapientiam et perierunt propter insipientiam suam

3:29. Who hath gone up into heaven, and taken her, and brought her down from the clouds?

Quis ascendit in caelum et accepit eam et deduxit eam de nubibus

3:30. Who hath passed over the sea, and found her, and brought her preferably to chosen gold?

Quis transfretavit mare et invenit illam et adtulit illam super aurum electum

3:31. There is none that is able to know her ways, nor that can search out her paths:

Non est qui possit scire viam eius neque qui exquirat semitas eius

3:32. But he that knoweth all things, knoweth her, and hath found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore, and filled it with cattle and fourfooted beasts:

Sed qui scit universa novit eam et invenit eam prudentia sua qui praeparavit terram in aeterno tempore et replevit eam pecudibus et quadrupedibus

3:33. He that sendeth forth the light, and it goeth: and hath called it, and it obeyeth him with trembling.

Qui emittit lumen et vadit et vocavit illud et obaudit illi in tremore

3:34. And the stars have given light in their watches, and rejoiced:

Stellae autem lumen dederunt in custodiis suis et laetatae sunt

3:35. They were called, and they said: Here we are: and with cheerfulness they have shined forth to him that made them.

Vocatae sunt et dixerunt adsumus et luxerunt ei cum iucunditate qui fecit illas

3:36. This is our God, and there shall no other be accounted of in comparison of him.

Hic Deus noster non aestimabitur alius adversus eum

3:37. He found out all the way of knowledge, and gave it to Jacob his servant, and to Israel his beloved.

Hic adinvenit omnem viam disciplinae et tradidit illam Iacob puero suo et Israhel dilecto suo

3:38. Afterwards he was seen upon earth, and conversed with men.

Post haec in terris visus est et cum hominibus conversatus est

Was seen upon earth, etc... viz., by the mystery of the incarnation, by means of which the son of God came visibly amongst us, and conversed with men. The prophets often speak of things to come as if they were past, to express the certainty of the event of the things foretold.

Baruch Chapter 4

The prophet exhorts to the keeping of the law of wisdom, and encourages the people to be patient, and to hope for their deliverance.

---

4:1. This is the book of the commandments of God, and the law, that is for ever: all they that keep it, shall come to life: but they that have forsaken it, to death.

Hic liber mandatorum Dei et lex quae est in aeternum omnes qui tenent eam ad vitam qui autem dereliquerint eam in mortem

4:2. Return, O Jacob, and take hold of it, walk in the way by its brightness, in the presence of the light thereof.

Convertere Iacob et adprehende eam ambula per viam ad splendorem eius contra lumen eius

4:3. Give not thy honour to another, nor thy dignity to a strange nation.

Ne tradas altero gloriam tuam et dignitatem tuam genti alienae

4:4. We are happy, O Israel: because the things that are pleasing to God, are made known to us.

Beati sumus Israhel quoniam quae Deo placent nobis manifesta sunt

4:5. Be of good comfort, O people of God, the memorial of Israel:

Animaequior esto populus Dei memorabilis Israhel

4:6. You have been sold to the Gentiles, not for your destruction: but because you provoked God to wrath, you are delivered to your adversaries.

Venundati estis gentibus non in perditionem sed propter quod in ira ad iracundiam provocastis Deum traditi estis adversariis

4:7. For you have provoked him who made you, the eternal God, offering sacrifice to devils, and not to God.

Exacerbastis enim eum qui fecit vos Deum aeternum immolantes daemoniis et non Deo

4:8. For you have forgotten God, who brought you up, and you have grieved Jerusalem that nursed you.

Obliti autem estis eum qui nutrit vos et contristastis nutricem vestram Hierusalem

4:9. For she saw the wrath of God coming upon you, and she said: Give ear, all you that dwell near Sion, for God hath brought upon me great mourning:

Vidit enim iracundiam a Deo venientem vobis et dixit audite confines Sion adduxit enim mihi Deus luctum magnum

4:10. For I have seen the captivity of my people, of my sons, and my daughters, which the Eternal hath brought upon them.

Vidi enim captivitatem populi mei filiorum meorum et filiarum quam superduxit illis Aeternus

4:11. For I nourished them with joy: but I sent them away with weeping and mourning.

Nutrivi enim illos cum iucunditate dimisi autem illos cum fletu et luctu

4:12. Let no man rejoice over me, a widow, and desolate: I am forsaken of many for the sins of my children, because they departed from the law of God.

Nemo gaudeat super me viduam et desolatam a multis derelicta sum propter peccata filiorum meorum quia declinaverunt a lege Dei

4:13. And they have not known his justices, nor walked by the ways of God's commandments, neither have they entered by the paths of his truth and justice.

Iustitias autem ipsius nescierunt nec ambulaverunt per vias mandatorum Dei neque per semitas veritatis eius cum iustitia ingressi sunt

4:14. Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Eternal hath brought upon them.

Veniant confines Sion et memorentur captivitatem filiorum et filiarum mearum quam superduxit illis Aeternus

4:15. For he hath brought a nation upon them from afar, a wicked nation, and of a strange tongue:

Adduxit enim super illos gentem de longinquo gentem improbam et alterius linguae

4:16. Who have neither revered the ancient, nor pitied children, and have carried away the beloved of the widow, and have left me all alone without children.

Qui non sunt reveriti senem neque puerorum miserti sunt et abduxerunt dilectos viduae et a filiis unicam desolaverunt

4:17. But as for me, what help can I give you?

Ego autem quid possum adiuvere vos

4:18. But he that hath brought the evils upon you, he will deliver you out of the hands of your enemies.

Qui enim adduxit super vos mala ipse vos eripiet de manibus inimicorum vestrorum

4:19. Go your way, my children, go your way: for I am left alone.

Ambulate filii ambulate ego enim derelicta sum sola

4:20. I have put off the robe of peace, and have put upon me the sackcloth of supplication, and I will cry to the most High in my days.

Exui me stola pacis indui autem me sacco obsecrationis et clamabo ad Altissimum in diebus meis

4:21. Be of good comfort, my children, cry to the Lord, and he will deliver you out of the hand of the princes your enemies.

Animaequiores estote filii clamate ad Dominum et eripiet vos de manu principum inimicorum

4:22. For my hope is in the Eternal that he will save you: and joy is come upon me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall come to you from our everlasting Saviour.

Ego enim speravi in Aeternum salutem vestram et venit mihi gaudium a Sancto super misericordia quae veniet vobis ab Aeterno salutari nostro

4:23. For I sent you forth with mourning and weeping: but the Lord will bring you back to me with joy and gladness for ever.

Emisi enim vos cum luctu et ploratu reducet autem vos mihi Deus cum gaudio et iucunditate in sempiternum

4:24. For as the neighbours of Sion have now seen your captivity from God: so shall they also shortly see your salvation from God, which shall come upon you with great honour, and everlasting glory.

Sicut enim viderunt vicinae Sion captivitatem vestram sic videbunt et in celeritate salutem vestram a Deo quae superveniet vobis cum honore magno et splendore aeterno

4:25. My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you: for thy enemy hath persecuted thee, but thou shalt quickly see his destruction: and thou shalt get up upon his neck.

Filii patienter sustinete iram quae supervenit vobis persecutus est enim te inimicus tuus sed cito videbis perditionem ipsius et super cervices ipsius ascendes

4:26. My delicate ones have walked rough ways, for they were taken away as a flock made a prey by the enemies.

Delicati mei ambulaverunt vias asperas ducti sunt enim ut grex direptus ab inimicis

4:27. Be of good comfort, my children, and cry to the Lord: for you shall be remembered by him that hath led you away.

Animaequiores estote filii et proclamate ad Deum erit enim memoria vestra ab eo qui ducit vos

4:28. For as it was your mind to go astray from God; so when you return again you shall seek him ten times as much.

Sicut enim fuit sensus vester ut erraretis a Deo decies tantum iterum convertentes requiretis eum

4:29. For he that hath brought evils upon you, shall bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation.
Qui enim induxit vobis mala ipse rursum adducet vobis sempiternam iucunditatem cum salute vestra

4:30. Be of good heart, O Jerusalem: for he exhorteth thee, that named thee.
Animaequior esto Hierusalem exhortatur enim te qui te nominavit

4:31. The wicked that have afflicted thee, shall perish: and they that have rejoiced at thy ruin, shall be punished.
Nocentes parebunt qui te vexaverunt et qui gratulati sunt in tua ruina punientur

4:32. The cities which thy children have served, shall be punished: and she that received thy sons.
Civitates quibus servierunt filii tui punietur quae accepit filios tuos
She that received, etc... viz., Babylon.

4:33. For as she rejoiced at thy ruin, and was glad of thy fall: so shall she be grieved for her own desolation.
Sicut enim gavisa est in tua ruina et laetata est in tuo casu sic contristabitur in sua desolatione

4:34. And the joy of her multitude shall be cut off: and her gladness shall be turned to mourning.
Et amputabitur exultatio multitudinis eius et gaudimonium eius erit in luctum

4:35. For fire shall come upon her from the Eternal, long to endure, and she shall be inhabited by devils for a great time.
Ignis enim superveniet ei ab Aeterno in longiturnis diebus et habitabitur a daemoniis in multitudinem temporis

4:36. Look about thee, O Jerusalem, towards the east, and behold the joy that cometh to thee from God.
Circumspice Hierusalem ad orientem et vide iucunditatem a Deo tibi venientem

4:37. For behold thy children come, whom thou sentest away scattered, they come gathered together from the east even to the west, at the word of the Holy One rejoicing for the honour of God.
Ecce enim veniunt filii tui quos dimisisti dispersos veniunt collecti ab oriente usque ad occidentem in verbo Sancti gaudentes in honorem Dei

Baruch Chapter 5

Jerusalem is invited to rejoice and behold the return of her children out of their captivity.

---

5:1. Put off, O Jerusalem, the garment of thy mourning, and affliction: and put on the beauty, and honour of that everlasting glory which thou hast from God.

Exue te Hierusalem stola luctus et vexationis tuae et indue te decore et honore eius quae a Deo tibi est in sempiterna gloriae

5:2. God will clothe thee with the double garment of justice, and will set a crown on thy head of everlasting honour.

Circumdato te deplouide a Deo iustitiae et inpone mitram capiti tuo honoris Aeterni

5:3. For God will show his brightness in thee, to every one under heaven.

Deus enim ostendet splendorem suum in te omni quod sub caelo est

5:4. For thy name shall be named to thee by God for ever: the peace of justice, and honour of piety.

Nominabitur enim tibi nomen tuum a Deo in sempiternum Pax iustitiae et Honor pietatis

5:5. Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand on high: and look about towards the east, and behold thy children gathered together from the rising to the setting sun, by the word of the Holy One rejoicing in the remembrance of God.

Exsurge Hierusalem et sta in excelso et circumspice ad orientem et vide collectos filios tuos ab oriente sole usque ad occidentem in verbo Sancti gaudentes Dei memoria

5:6. For they went out from thee on foot, led by the enemies: but the Lord will bring them to thee exalted with honour as children of the kingdom.

Exierunt enim abs te pedibus ducti ab inimicis adducet autem illos Dominus ad te portatos in honorem sicut filios regni

5:7. For God hath appointed to bring down every high mountain, and the everlasting rocks, and to fill up the valleys to make them even with the ground: that Israel may walk diligently to the honour of God.

Constituit enim Deus humiliare omnem montem excelsum et rupes perennes et conualles replere in aequalitatem terrae ut ambulet Israhel diligenter in honorem Dei

5:8. Moreover the woods, and every sweetsmelling tree have overshadowed Israel by the commandment of God.

Obumbraverunt autem et silvae et omne lignum suavitatis Israhel mandato Dei

5:9. For God will bring Israel with joy in the light of his majesty, with mercy, and justice, that cometh from him.

Adducet enim Deus Israhel cum iucunditate in lumine maiestatis suae cum misericordia et iustitia quae est ab ipso

Baruch Chapter 6

The epistle of Jeremias to the captives, as a preservative against idolatry.

---

A copy of the epistle that Jeremias sent to them that were to be led away captives into Babylon, by the king of Babylon, to declare to them according to what was commanded him by God.

6:1. For the sins that you have committed before God, you shall be carried away captives into Babylon by Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon.

Exemplum epistulae quam misit Hieremias ad abductos captivos in Babyloniam a rege Babyloniorum ut nuntiaret illis secundum quod praeceptum est illi a Deo propter peccata quae peccastis ante Deum abducemini in Babyloniam captivi a Nabuchodonosor rege Babylonum

6:2. And when you are come into Babylon, you shall be there many years, and for a long time, even to seven generations: and after that I will bring you away from thence with peace.

Ingressi itaque in Babyloniam eritis illic annis plurimis et tempus longum usque ad generationes septem post hoc autem educam vos inde cum pace

Seven generations... That is, seventy years.

6:3. But now, you shall see in Babylon gods of gold, and of silver, and of stone, and of wood borne upon shoulders, causing fear to the Gentiles.

Nunc autem videbitis in Babylonia deos aureos et argenteos et lapideos et ligneos in umeros portari ostentantes metum gentibus

6:4. Beware therefore that you imitate not the doings of others, and be afraid, and the fear of them should seize upon you.

Videte ergo ne et vos similes efficiamini factis alienis et metuatis et metus vos capiat in ipsis

6:5. But when you see the multitude behind, and before, adoring them, say you in your hearts: Thou oughtest to be adored, O Lord.

Visa itaque turba de retro et ab ante adorantes dicite in cordibus vestris tibi oportet adorari Domine

6:6. For my angel is with you: And I myself will demand an account of your souls.

Angelus autem meus vobiscum est ipse autem exquiram animas vestras

6:7. For their tongue that is polished by the craftsman, and themselves laid over with gold and silver, are false things, and they cannot speak.

Nam lingua ipsorum polita a fabro ipsa etiam inaurata et inargentata falsa sunt et non possunt loqui

6:8. And as if it were for a maiden that loveth to go gay: so do they take gold and make them up.

Et sicut virgini amanti ornamenta ita accepto auro fabricati sunt

6:9. Their gods have golden crowns upon their heads: whereof the priests secretly convey away from them gold, and silver, and bestow it on themselves.

Coronas certe habent aureas super capita sua dii illorum unde subtrahent sacerdotes ab eis aurum et argentum et erogant illud in semet ipsis

6:10. Yea and they give thereof to prostitutes, and they dress out harlots: and again when they receive it of the harlots, they adorn their gods.

Dant autem et ex ipso prostitutis et meretrices ornant et iterum cum receperint illud a meretricibus ornant deos suos

6:11. And these gods cannot defend themselves from the rust, and the moth.

Hii autem non liberantur ab erugine et tineis

6:12. But when they have covered them with a purple garment, they wipe their face because of the dust of the house, which is very much among them.

Opertis autem illis veste purpurea extergent faciem ipsorum propter pulverem domus qui est plurimus inter eos

6:13. This holdeth a sceptre as a man, as a judge of the country, but cannot put to death one that offendeth him.

Sceptrum autem habet ut homo sicut iudex regionis qui in se peccantem non interficit

6:14. And this hath in his hand a sword, or an axe, but cannot save himself from war, or from robbers, whereby be it known to you, that they are not gods.

Habet etiam gladium in manu et securem se autem de bello et a latronibus non liberat unde vobis notum sit quia non sunt dii

6:15. Therefore fear them not. For as a vessel that a man uses when it is broken becometh useless, even so are their gods:

Ne ergo timueritis eos sicut enim vas hominis confractum inutile efficitur tales sunt et dii illorum

6:16. When they are placed in the house, their eyes are full of dust by the feet of them that go in.

Constitutis illis in domo oculi eorum pleni sunt pulvere a pedibus introeuntium

6:17. And as the gates are made sure on every side upon one that hath offended the king, or like a dead man carried to the grave, so do the priests secure the doors with bars and locks, lest they be stripped by thieves.

Et sicut alicui qui regem offendit circumseptae sunt ianuae aut sicut ad sepulchrum adductum mortuum ita tutant sacerdotes ostia clusuris et seris ne a latronibus expolientur

6:18. They light candles to them, and in great number, of which they cannot see one: but they are like beams in the house.

Lucernas accendunt illis et quidem multas ex quibus nullam videre possunt sunt autem sicut trabes in domo

6:19. And they say that the creeping things which are of the earth, gnaw their hearts, while they eat them and their garments, and they feel it not.

Corda vero eorum dicunt elingere serpentes qui de terra sunt dum comedent eos et vestimentum ipsorum et non sentiunt

6:20. Their faces are black with the smoke that is made in the house.

Nigrae fiunt facies eorum a fumo qui in domo fit

6:21. Owls, and swallows, and other birds fly upon their bodies, and upon their heads, and cats in like manner.

Supra corpus eorum et supra caput volant noctuae et hirundines et aves etiam similiter et catta

6:22. Whereby you may know that they are no gods. Therefore fear them not.

Unde scietis quia non sunt dii ne ergo timueritis eos

6:23. The gold also which they have, is for show, but except a man wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for neither when they were molten, did they feel it.

Aurum etiam quod habent ad speciem est nisi aliquis exterserit eruginem non fulgebunt neque enim dum conflarentur sentiebant

6:24. Men buy them at a high price, whereas there is no breath in them.

Ex omni pretio empta sunt in quibus spiritus non est in ipsis

6:25. And having not the use of feet they are carried upon shoulders, declaring to men how vile they are. Be they confounded also that worship them.

Sine pedibus in umeris portantur ostentantes ignobilitatem suam hominibus confundantur etiam qui colunt ea

6:26. Therefore if they fall to the ground, they rise not up again of themselves, nor if a man set them upright, will they stand by themselves, but their gifts shall be set before them, as to the dead.

Propterea si ceciderint in terram a semet ipsis non surgent neque si quis eum statuerit rectum per semet ipsum stabit sed sicut mortuis munera eorum illis adponentur

6:27. The things that are sacrificed to them, their priests sell and abuse: in like manner also their wives take part of them, but give nothing of it either to the sick, or to the poor.

Hostias illorum sacerdotes ipsorum vendunt et abutuntur similiter et mulieres eorum decerpentes neque infirmo neque mendicanti aliquid impertiunt

6:28. The childbearing and menstruous women touch their sacrifices: knowing, therefore, by these things that they are not gods, fear them not.

De sacrificiis eorum fetae et menstruatae contingunt scientes itaque ex his quia non sunt dii ne timeatis eos

6:29. For how can they be called gods? because women set offerings before the gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood:

Unde enim vocantur dii quia mulieres adponunt diis argenteis et aureis et ligneis

6:30. And priests sit in their temples, having their garments rent, and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads.

Et in domibus eorum sacerdotes sedent habentes tunicas scissas et capita et barbas rasa quorum capita nuda sunt

6:31. And they roar and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead.

Rugiant autem clamantes contra deos suos sicut in cena mortui

6:32. The priests take away their garments, and clothe their wives and their children.

A vestimento eorum auferent sacerdotes et vestiunt uxores suas et filios suos

6:33. And whether it be evil that one doth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: neither can they set up a king, nor put him down:

Neque si quid mali patiantur ab aliquo neque si quid bonum poterunt retribuere neque regem constituere possunt neque auferre

6:34. In like manner they can neither give riches, nor requite evil. If a man make a vow to them, and perform it not: they cannot require it.

Similiter neque divitias dare possunt neque malum retribuere si quis illis votum voverit et non reddiderit nec hoc requirent

6:35. They cannot deliver a man from death, nor save the weak from the mighty.

Hominem a morte non liberant neque infimum a potentiore eripient

6:36. They cannot restore the blind man to his sight: nor deliver a man from distress.

Hominem caecum ad visum non restituent de necessitate hominem non liberabunt

6:37. They shall not pity the widow, nor do good to the fatherless.

Viduae non miserebuntur neque orfanis beneficient

6:38. Their gods, of wood, and of stone, and of gold, and of silver, are like the stones that are hewn out of the mountains: and they that worship them shall be confounded.

Lapidibus de monte similes sunt dii illorum lignei et lapidei aurei et argentei qui autem colunt illa confundentur

6:39. How then is it to be supposed, or to be said, that they are gods?

Quomodo ergo aestimandum est aut dicendum illos esse deos

6:40. Even the Chaldeans themselves dishonor them: who when they here of one dumb that cannot speak, they present him to Bel, entreating him, that he may speak.

Adhuc enim ipsis Chaldeis non honorantibus ea qui cum audierint mutum non posse loqui offerent illum ad Bel postulantes ab eo loqui

6:41. As though they could be sensible that have no motion themselves: and they, when they shall perceive this, will leave them: for their gods themselves have no sense.

Quasi possint sentire qui non habent motum et ipsi cum intellexerint relinquent ea sensum enim non habent ipsi dii illorum

6:42. The women also, with cords about them, sit in the ways, burning olive-stones.

Mulieres autem circumdatis funibus in viis sedent succedentes ossa olivarum

6:43. And when any one of them, drawn away by some passenger, lieth with him, she upbraideth her neighbor, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, nor her cord broken.

Cum autem aliqua ex ipsis adtracta ab aliquo transeunte dormierit proximae suae exprobrat quod ea non sit digna habita sicut ipsa neque funis eius disruptus sit

6:44. But all things that are done about them, are false: how is it then to be thought, or to be said, that they are gods?

Omnia autem quae illis fiunt falsa sunt quomodo ergo aestimandum aut dicendum est esse illos deos

6:45. And they are made by workmen, and by goldsmiths. They shall be nothing else but what the priests will have them to be.

A fabris autem et ab aurificibus facta sunt nihil aliud erint nisi id quod volunt esse sacerdotes

6:46. For the artificers themselves that make them, are of no long continuance. Can those things then that are made by them, be gods?

Aurifices ipsi etiam qui ea faciunt non sunt multi temporis numquid ergo possunt quae ab ipsis fabricata sunt esse dii

6:47. But they have left false things and reproach to them that come after.

Reliquerunt autem falsa et obprobrium postea futuris

6:48. For when war cometh upon them, or evils: the priests consult with themselves, where they may hide themselves with them.

Nam cum supervenerit illis proelium et mala cogitant post se sacerdotes ubi se abscondant cum illis

6:49. How then can they be thought to be gods, that can neither deliver themselves from war, nor save themselves from evils?

Quomodo ergo sentiri debeant quoniam dii sunt qui nec de bello se liberant neque de malis se eripiunt

6:50. For seeing they are but of wood, and laid over with gold, and with silver, it shall be known hereafter that they are false things, by all nations, and kings: and it shall be manifest that they are no gods, but the work of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them.

Nam cum sint lignea et inaurata et inargentata scietur postea quia falsa sunt gentibus universis et regibus quae manifestata sunt quia non sunt dii sed opera manuum hominum et nullum opus Dei in illis

6:51. Whence, therefore, is it known that they are not gods, but the work of men's hands, and no work of God is in them?

Unde ergo notum est quia non sunt dii sed opera manuum hominum et nullum Dei opus in ipsis est

6:52. They cannot set up a king over the land, nor give rain to men.

Regem regioni non suscitant neque pluviam hominibus dabunt

6:53. They determine no causes, nor deliver countries from oppression: because they can do nothing, and are as daws between heaven and earth.

Iudicium quoque non discernent neque regionem liberabunt ab iniuria quia nihil possunt sicut corniculae inter medium caeli et terrae

6:54. For when fire shall fall upon the house of these gods of wood, and of silver, and of gold, their priests indeed will flee away, and be saved: but they themselves shall be burnt in the midst like beams.

Etenim cum inciderit ignis in domum deorum ligneorum aureorum et argenteorum sacerdotes quidem ipsorum fugient et liberabuntur ipsi vero sicut trabes in medio conburentur

6:55. And they cannot withstand a king and war. How then can it be supposed, or admitted, that they are gods?

Regi autem et bello non resistent quomodo ergo aestimandum est aut recipiendum quia dii sunt

6:56. Neither are these gods of wood, and of stone, and laid over with gold, and with silver, able to deliver themselves from thieves or robbers: they that are stronger than them,

Non a furibus neque a latronibus se liberabunt dii lignei et lapidei et inaurati et argentati quibus hii qui fortiores sunt

They that are stronger than them... That is, robbers and thieves are stronger than these idols, being things without life or motion.

6:57. Shall take from them the gold, and silver, and the raiment wherewith they are clothed, and shall go their way, neither shall they help themselves.

Aurum et argentum et vestimentum quod operti sunt auferent illis et abibunt nec sibi auxilium ferunt

6:58. Therefore it is better to be a king that showeth his power: or else a profitable vessel in the house, with which the owner thereof will be well satisfied: or a door in the house, to keep things safe that are therein, than such false gods.

Itaque melius est esse regem ostentantem virtutem suam aut vas in domo utile in quo gloriabitur qui possidet illud quam falsi dii vel ostium in domo quod custodit quae in ipsa sunt quam falsi dii

6:59. The sun, and the moon, and the stars being bright, and sent forth for profitable uses, are obedient.
Sol quidem et luna sidera cum sint splendida et emissa ad utilitates obaudiunt

6:60. In like manner the lightning, when it breaketh forth, is easy to be seen: and after the same manner the wind bloweth in every country.

Similiter et fulgur cum apparuerit perspicuum est id ipsum autem et spiritus in omni regione spirat

6:61. And the clouds, when God commandeth them to go over the whole world, do that which is commanded them.

Et nubes quibus cum imperatum fuerit a Deo perambulare universum orbem perficiunt quod imperatum est eis

6:62. The fire also being sent from above to consume mountains, and woods, doth as it is commanded. But these neither in show, nor in power, are alike to any one of them.

Ignis etiam missus desuper ut consumat montes et silvas facit quod praeceptum est ei haec autem neque speciebus neque virtutibus uni eorum similia sunt

6:63. Wherefore it is neither to be thought, nor to be said, that they are gods: since they are neither able to judge causes, nor to do any good to men.

Unde neque aestimandum est neque dicendum esse illos deos quando non possint neque iudicium iudicare neque benefacere hominibus

6:64. Knowing, therefore, that they are not gods, fear them not.

Scientes itaque quia non sunt dii ne ergo timueritis eos

6:65. For neither can they curse kings, nor bless them.

Neque enim regibus maledicent neque benedicent

6:66. Neither do they show signs in the heaven to the nations, nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon.

Signa etiam in caelo gentibus non ostendunt neque ut sol lucebunt neque inluminabunt ut luna

6:67. Beasts are better than they, which can fly under a covert, and help themselves.

Bestiae meliores sunt illis quae possunt fugere sub tectum ac prodesse sibi

6:68. Therefore there is no manner of appearance that they are gods: so fear them not.

Nulla itaque modo nobis est manifestum quia sunt dii propter quod ne timeatis eos

6:69. For as a scarecrow in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and of silver, and laid over with gold.

Nam sicut in cucumeraria formido nihil custodit ita sunt dii illorum lignei et argentei et inaurati

6:70. They are no better than a white thorn in a garden, upon which every bird sitteth. In like manner also their gods of wood, and laid over with gold, and with silver, are like to a dead body cast forth in the dark.

Eodem modo et in horto spina alba supra quam omnis avis sedet similiter et mortuo proiecto in tenebris similes sunt dii illorum lignei et inaurati et inargentati

6:71. By the purple also and the scarlet which are motheaten upon them, you shall know that they are not gods. And they themselves at last are consumed, and shall be a reproach in the country.

A purpura quoque et marmore quae supra illos tineant scietis itaque quia non sunt dii ipsi etiam postremo comeduntur et erit obprobrium in regione

6:72. Better, therefore, is the just man that hath no idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

Melior est homo iustus qui non habet simulacra nam erit longe ab obprobriis

Colossians

The Epistle of St. Paul to the Colossians

Colossa was a city of Phrygia, near Laodicea. It does not appear that St. Paul had preached there himself, but that the Colossians were converted by Epaphras, a disciple of the Apostles. However, as St. Paul was the great Apostle of the Gentiles, he wrote this Epistle to the Colossians when he was in prison, and about the same time that he wrote to the Ephesians and Philippians. The exhortations and doctrine it contains are similar to that which is set forth in his Epistle to the Ephesians. (*For more information, see the article EPISTLE TO THE COLOSSIANS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)*

Colossians Chapter 1. He gives thanks for the grace bestowed upon the Colossians and prays for them. Christ is the head of the church and the peacemaker through his blood. Paul is his minister.

Colossians Chapter 2. He warns them against the impostures of the philosophers and the Jewish teachers, that would withdraw them from Christ.

Colossians Chapter 3. He exhorts them to put off the old man, and to put on the new. The duties of wives and husbands, children and servants.

Colossians Chapter 4. He recommends constant prayer and wisdom. Various salutations.

1:2. To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ Jesus who are at Colossa.
His qui sunt Colossis sanctis et fidelibus fratribus in Christo Iesu gratia vobis et pax a Deo Patre nostro

1:3. Grace be to you and peace, from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ. We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you.
Gratias agimus Deo et Patri Domini nostri Iesu Christi semper pro vobis orantes

1:4. Hearing your faith in Christ Jesus and the love which you have towards all the saints.
Audientes fidem vestram in Christo Iesu et dilectionem quam habetis in sanctos omnes

1:5. For the hope that is laid up for you in heaven, which you have heard in the word of the truth of the gospel,
Propter spem quae reposita est vobis in caelis quam audistis in verbo veritatis evangelii

1:6. Which is come unto you, as also it is in the whole world and bringeth forth fruit and groweth, even as it doth in you, since the day you heard and knew the grace of God in truth.
Quod pervenit ad vos sicut et in universo mundo est et fructificat et crescit sicut in vobis ex ea die qua audistis et cognovistis gratiam Dei in veritate

1:7. As you learned of Epaphras, our most beloved fellow servant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ Jesus;
Sicut didicistis ab Epaphra carissimo conservo nostro qui est fidelis pro vobis minister Christi Iesu

1:8. Who also hath manifested your love in the spirit.
Qui etiam manifestavit nobis dilectionem vestram in Spiritu

1:9. Therefore we also, from the day that we heard it, cease not to pray for you and to beg that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will, in all wisdom and spiritual understanding:
Ideo et nos ex qua die audivimus non cessamus pro vobis orantes et postulantes ut impleamini agnitione voluntatis eius in omni sapientia et intellectu spiritali

1:10. That you may walk worthy of God, in all things pleasing; being fruitful in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God:
Ut ambuletis digne Deo per omnia placentes in omni opere bono fructificantes et crescentes in scientia Dei

1:11. Strengthened with all might according to the power of his glory, in all patience and longsuffering with joy,
In omni virtute confortati secundum potentiam claritatis eius in omni patientia et longanimitate cum gaudio

1:12. Giving thanks to God the Father, who hath made us worthy to be partakers of the lot of the saints in light:
Gratias agentes Patri qui dignos nos fecit in partem sortis sanctorum in lumine

1:13. Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness and hath translated us into the kingdom of the Son of his love,
Qui eripuit nos de potestate tenebrarum et transtulit in regnum Filii dilectionis suae

1:14. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the remission of sins:
In quo habemus redemptionem remissionem peccatorum

1:15. Who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of every creature:
Qui est imago Dei invisibilis primogenitus omnis creaturae

The firstborn... That is, first begotten; as the Evangelist declares, the only begotten of his Father: hence, St. Chrysostom explains firstborn, not first created, as he was not created at all, but born of his Father before all ages; that is, coeval with the Father and with the Holy Ghost.

1:16. For in him were all things created in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones, or dominations, or principalities, or powers. All things were created by him and in him.
Quia in ipso condita sunt universa in caelis et in terra visibilia et invisibilia sive throni sive dominationes sive principatus sive potestates omnia per ipsum et in ipso creata sunt

1:17. And he is before all: and by him all things consist.
Et ipse est ante omnes et omnia in ipso constant

1:18. And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that in all things he may hold the primacy:
Et ipse est caput corporis ecclesiae qui est principium primogenitus ex mortuis ut sit in omnibus ipse primatum tenens

1:19. Because in him, it hath well pleased the Father that all fulness should dwell:
Quia in ipso conplacuit omnem plenitudinem habitare

1:20. And through him to reconcile all things unto himself, making peace through the blood of his cross, both as to the things that are on earth and the things that are in heaven.
Et per eum reconciliare omnia in ipsum pacificans per sanguinem crucis eius sive quae in terris sive quae in caelis sunt

1:21. And you, whereas you were some time alienated and enemies in mind in evil works:
Et vos cum essetis aliquando alienati et inimici sensu in operibus malis

1:22. Yet now he hath reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and unspotted and blameless before him:
Nunc autem reconciliavit in corpore carnis eius per mortem exhibere vos sanctos et immaculatos et inreprehensibiles coram ipso

1:23. If so ye continue in the faith, grounded and settled, and immoveable from the hope of the gospel which you have heard, which is preached in all the creation that is under heaven: whereof I Paul am made a minister.
Si tamen permanetis in fide fundati et stabiles et immobiles ab spe evangelii quod audistis quod praedicatum est in universa creatura quae sub caelo est cuius factus sum ego Paulus minister

1:24. Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you and fill up those things that are wanting of the sufferings of Christ, in my flesh, for his body, which is the church:
Qui nunc gaudeo in passionibus pro vobis et adimpleo ea quae desunt passionum Christi in carne mea pro corpore eius quod est ecclesia
Wanting... There is no want in the sufferings of Christ in himself as head: but many sufferings are still wanting, or are still to come, in his body the church, and his members the faithful.

1:25. Whereof I am made a minister according to the dispensation of God, which is given me towards you, that I may fulfil the word of God:
Cuius factus sum ego minister secundum dispensationem Dei quae data est mihi in vos ut impleam verbum Dei

1:26. The mystery which hath been hidden from ages and generations, but now is manifested to his saints,
Mysterium quod absconditum fuit a saeculis et generationibus nunc autem manifestatum est sanctis eius

1:27. To whom God would make known the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ, in you the hope of glory.
Quibus voluit Deus notas facere divitias gloriae sacramenti huius in gentibus quod est Christus in vobis spes gloriae

1:28. Whom we preach, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus.

Quem nos adnuntiamus corripientes omnem hominem et docentes omnem hominem in omni sapientia ut exhibeamus omnem hominem perfectum in Christo Iesu

1:29. Wherein also I labour, striving according to his working which he worketh in me in power.

In quo et laboro certando secundum operationem eius quam operatur in me in virtute

Colossians Chapter 2

He warns them against the impostures of the philosophers and the Jewish teachers, that would withdraw them from Christ.

---

2:1. For I would have you know what manner of care I have for you and for them that are at Laodicea and whosoever have not seen my face in the flesh:

Volo enim vos scire qualem sollicitudinem habeam pro vobis et pro his qui sunt Laodiciae et quicumque non viderunt faciem meam in carne

2:2. That their hearts may be comforted, being instructed in charity and unto all riches of fulness of understanding, unto the knowledge of the mystery of God the Father and of Christ Jesus:

Ut consolentur corda ipsorum instructi in caritate et in omnes divitias plenitudinis intellectus in agnitionem mysterii Dei Patris Christi Iesu

2:3. In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

In quo sunt omnes thesauri sapientiae et scientiae absconditi

2:4. Now this I say, that no man may deceive you by loftiness of words.

Hoc autem dico ut nemo vos decipiat in subtilitate sermonum

2:5. For though I be absent in body, yet in spirit I am with you, rejoicing, and beholding your order and the steadfastness of your faith which is in Christ.

Nam et si corpore absens sum sed spiritu vobiscum sum gaudens et videns ordinem vestrum et firmamentum eius quae in Christo est fidei vestrae

2:6. As therefore you have received Jesus Christ the Lord, walk ye in him:

Sicut ergo accepistis Christum Iesum Dominum in ipso ambulate

2:7. Rooted and built up in him and confirmed in the faith, as also you have learned: abounding in him in thanksgiving.

Radicati et supraedificati in ipso et confirmati fide sicut et didicistis abundantes in gratiarum actione

2:8. Beware lest any man cheat you by philosophy and vain deceit: according to the tradition of men according to the elements of the world and not according to Christ.

Videte ne quis vos decipiat per philosophiam et inanem fallaciam secundum traditionem hominum secundum elementa mundi et non secundum Christum

2:9. For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead corporeally.

Quia in ipso inhabitat omnis plenitudo divinitatis corporaliter

2:10. And you are filled in him, who is the head of all principality and power.

Et estis in illo repleti qui est caput omnis principatus et potestatis

2:11. In whom also you are circumcised with circumcision not made by hand in despoiling of the body of the flesh: but in the circumcision of Christ.

In quo et circumcisi estis circumcissione non manufacta in expolatione corporis carnis in circumcissione Christi

2:12. Buried with him in baptism: in whom also you are risen again by the faith of the operation of God who hath raised him up from the dead.

Consepulti ei in baptismo in quo et resurrexistis per fidem operationis Dei qui suscitavit illum a mortuis

2:13. And you, when you were dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, he hath quickened together with him, forgiving you all offences:

Et vos cum mortui essetis in delictis et praepetio carnis vestrae convivificavit cum illo donans vobis omnia delicta

2:14. Blotting out the handwriting of the decree that was against us, which was contrary to us. And he hath taken the same out of the way, fastening it to the cross.

Delens quod adversum nos erat chirografum decretis quod erat contrarium nobis et ipsum tulit de medio adfigens illud cruci

2:15. And despoiling the principalities and powers, he hath exposed them confidently in open show, triumphing over them in himself.

Expolians principatus et potestates traduxit palam triumphans illos in semet ipso

2:16. Let no man therefore judge you in meat or in drink or in respect of a festival day or of the new moon or of the sabbaths,

Nemo ergo vos iudicet in cibo aut in potu aut in parte diei festi aut neomeniae aut sabbatorum

In meat, etc... He means with regard to the Jewish observations of the distinction of clean and unclean meats; and of their festivals, new moons, and sabbaths, as being no longer obligatory.

2:17. Which are a shadow of things to come: but the body is of Christ.

Quae sunt umbra futurorum corpus autem Christi

2:18. Let no man seduce you, willing in humility and religion of angels, walking in the things which he hath not seen, in vain puffed up by the sense of his flesh:

Nemo vos seducat volens in humilitate et religione angelorum quae non vidit ambulans frustra inflatus sensu carnis suae

Willing, etc... That is, by a self willed, self invented, superstitious worship, falsely pretending humility, but really proceeding from pride. Such was the worship, that many of the philosophers (against whom St. Paul speaks, ver. 8) paid to angels or demons, by sacrificing to them, as carriers of intelligence betwixt God and men; pretending humility in so doing, as if God was too great to be addressed by men; and setting aside the mediatorship of Jesus Christ, who is the head both of angels and men. Such also was the worship paid by the ancient heretics, disciples of Simon and Menander, to the angels, whom they believed to be makers and lords of this lower world. This is certain, that they whom the apostle here condemns, did not hold the head, (ver. 19), that is, Jesus Christ, and his mediatorship; and therefore what he writes here no way touches the Catholic doctrine and practice, of desiring our good angels to pray to God for us, through Jesus Christ. St. Jerome [Epist. ad Algas.] understands by the religion or service of angels, the Jewish teachers, who sought to subject the new Christians to the observance of the Mosaic law.

2:19. And not holding the head, from which the whole body, by joints and bands, being supplied with nourishment and compacted, groweth into the increase of God.

Et non tenens caput ex quo totum corpus per nexus et coniunctiones subministratum et constructum crescit in augmentum Dei

2:20. If then you be dead with Christ from the elements of this world, why do you yet decree as though living in the world?

Si mortui estis cum Christo ab elementis mundi quid adhuc tamquam viventes in mundo decernitis

2:21. Touch not: taste not: handle not.

Ne tetigeris neque gustaveris neque contrectaveris

Touch not, etc... The meaning is, that Christians should not subject themselves, either to the ordinances of the old law, forbidding touching or tasting things unclean; or to the superstitious invention of heretics, imposing such restraints, under pretence of wisdom, humility, or mortification.

2:22. Which all are unto destruction by the very use, according to the precepts and doctrines of men.

Quae sunt omnia in interitu ipso usu secundum praecepta et doctrinas hominum

2:23. Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in superstition and humility, and not sparing the body; not in any honour to the filling of the flesh.

Quae sunt rationem quidem habentia sapientiae in superstitione et humilitate et ad non parcendum corpori non in honore aliquo ad saturitatem carnis

Colossians Chapter 3

He exhorts them to put off the old man, and to put on the new. The duties of wives and husbands, children and servants.

---

3:1. Therefore if you be risen with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is sitting at the right hand of God.

Igitur si conresurrexistis Christo quae sursum sunt quaerite ubi Christus est in dextera Dei sedens

3:2. Mind the things that are above, not the things that are upon the earth.

Quae sursum sunt sapite non quae supra terram

3:3. For you are dead: and your life is hid with Christ in God.

Mortui enim estis et vita vestra abscondita est cum Christo in Deo

3:4. When Christ shall appear, who is your life, then you also shall appear with him in glory.

Cum Christus apparuerit vita vestra tunc et vos apparebitis cum ipso in gloria

3:5. Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth: fornication, uncleanness, lust, evil concupiscence and covetousness, which is the service of idols.

Mortificate ergo membra vestra quae sunt super terram fornicationem inmunditiam libidinem concupiscentiam malam et avaritiam quae est simulacrorum servitus

3:6. For which things the wrath of God cometh upon the children of unbelief.

Propter quae venit ira Dei super filios incredulitatis

3:7. In which you also walked some time, when you lived in them.

In quibus et vos ambulastis aliquando cum viveretis in illis

3:8. But now put you also all away: anger, indignation, malice, blasphemy, filthy speech out of your mouth.

Nunc autem deponite et vos omnia iram indignationem malitiam blasphemiam turpem sermonem de ore vestro

3:9. Lie not one to another: stripping yourselves of the old man with his deeds,

Nolite mentiri invicem expoliantes vos veterem hominem cum actibus eius

3:10. And putting on the new, him who is renewed unto knowledge, according to the image of him that created him.

Et induentes novum eum qui renovatur in agnitionem secundum imaginem eius qui creavit eum

3:11. Where there is neither Gentile nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian nor Scythian, bond nor free. But Christ is all and in all.

Ubi non est gentilis et Iudaeus circumcisio et praeputium barbarus et Scythia servus et liber sed omnia et in omnibus Christus

3:12. Put ye on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, the bowels of mercy, benignity, humility, modesty, patience:

Induite vos ergo sicut electi Dei sancti et dilecti viscera misericordiae benignitatem humilitatem modestiam patientiam

3:13. Bearing with one another and forgiving one another, if any have a complaint against another. Even as the Lord hath forgiven you, so do you also.

Subportantes invicem et donantes vobis ipsis si quis adversus aliquem habet querellam sicut et Dominus donavit vobis ita et vos

3:14. But above all these things have charity, which is the bond of perfection.

Super omnia autem haec caritatem quod est vinculum perfectionis

3:15. And let the peace of Christ rejoice in your hearts, wherein also you are called in one body: and be ye thankful.

Et pax Christi exultet in cordibus vestris in qua et vocati estis in uno corpore et grati estote

3:16. Let the word of Christ dwell in you abundantly: in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another in psalms, hymns and spiritual canticles, singing in grace in your hearts to God.

Verbum Christi habitet in vobis abundanter in omni sapientia docentes et commonentes vosmet ipsos psalmis hymnis canticis spiritualibus in gratia cantantes in cordibus vestris Deo

3:17. All whatsoever you do in word or in work, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

Omne quodcumque facitis in verbo aut in opere omnia in nomine Domini Iesu gratias agentes Deo et Patri per ipsum

3:18. Wives, be subject to your husbands, as it behoveth in the Lord.

Mulieres subditae estote viris sicut oportet in Domino

3:19. Husbands, love your wives and be not bitter towards them.

Viri diligite uxores et nolite amari esse ad illas

3:20. Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is well pleasing to the Lord.

Filii oboedite parentibus per omnia hoc enim placitum est in Domino

3:21. Fathers, provoke not your children to indignation, lest they be discouraged.

Patres nolite ad indignationem provocare filios vestros ut non pusillo animo fiant

3:22. Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh: not serving to the eye, as pleasing men: but in simplicity of heart, fearing God.

Servi oboedite per omnia dominis carnalibus non ad oculum servientes quasi hominibus placentes sed in simplicitate cordis timentes Dominum

3:23. Whatsoever you do, do it from the heart, as to the Lord, and not to men:

Quodcumque facitis ex animo operamini sicut Domino et non hominibus

3:24. Knowing that you shall receive of the Lord the reward of inheritance. Serve ye the Lord Christ.

Scientes quod a Domino accipietis retributionem hereditatis Domino Christo servite

3:25. For he that doth wrong shall receive for that which he hath done wrongfully. And there is no respect of persons with God.

Qui enim iniuriam facit recipiet id quod inique gessit et non est personarum acceptio

Colossians Chapter 4

He recommends constant prayer and wisdom. Various salutations.

4:1. Masters, do to your servants that which is just and equal: knowing that you also have a master in heaven.

Domini quod iustum est et aequum servis praestate scientes quoniam et vos Dominum habetis in caelo

4:2. Be instant in prayer: watching in it with thanksgiving.

Orationi instate vigilantes in ea in gratiarum actione

4:3. Praying withal for us also, that God may open unto us a door of speech to speak the mystery of Christ (for which also I am bound):

Orantes simul et pro nobis ut Deus aperiat nobis ostium sermonis ad loquendum mysterium Christi propter quod etiam vinctus sum

4:4. That I may make it manifest as I ought to speak.

Ut manifestem illud ita ut oportet me loqui

4:5. Walk with wisdom towards them that are without, redeeming the time.

In sapientia ambulate ad eos qui foris sunt tempus redimentes

4:6. Let your speech be always in grace seasoned with salt: that you may know how you ought to answer every man.

Sermo vester semper in gratia sale sit conditus ut sciatis quomodo oporteat vos unicuique respondere

4:7. All the things that concern me, Tychicus, our dearest brother and faithful minister and fellow servant in the Lord, will make known to you.

Quae circa me sunt omnia vobis nota faciet Tychicus carissimus frater et fidelis minister et conservus in Domino

4:8. What I have sent to you for this same purpose, that he may know the things that concern you and comfort your hearts:

Quem misi ad vos ad hoc ipsum ut cognoscat quae circa vos sunt et consoletur corda vestra

4:9. With Onesimus, a most beloved and faithful brother, who is one of you. All things that are done here, they shall make known to you.

Cum Onesimo carissimo et fideli fratre qui est ex vobis omnia quae hic aguntur nota facient vobis

4:10. Aristarchus, my fellow prisoner, saluteth you: and Mark, the cousin german of Barnabas, touching whom you have received commandments. If he come unto you, receive him.

Salutat vos Aristarchus concaptivus meus et Marcus consobrinus Barnabae de quo accepistis mandata si venerit ad vos excipite illum

4:11. And Jesus that is called Justus: who are of the circumcision. These only are my helpers, in the kingdom of God: who have been a comfort to me.

Et Iesus qui dicitur Iustus qui sunt ex circumcissione hii soli sunt adiutores in regno Dei qui mihi fuerunt solacio

4:12. Epaphras saluteth you, who is one of you, a servant of Christ Jesus, who is always solicitous for you in prayers, that you may stand perfect and full in all the will of God.

Salutat vos Epaphras qui ex vobis est servus Christi Iesu semper sollicitus pro vobis in orationibus ut stetis perfecti et pleni in omni voluntate Dei

4:13. For I bear him testimony that he hath much labour for you and for them that are at Laodicea and them at Hierapolis.

Testimonium enim illi perhibeo quod habet multum laborem pro vobis et pro his qui sunt Laodiciae et qui Hierapoli

4:14. Luke, the most dear physician, saluteth you: and Demas.
Salutat vos Lucas medicus carissimus et Demas

4:15. Salute the brethren who are at Laodicea: and Nymphas and the church that is in his house.
Salutate fratres qui sunt Laodiciae et Nympham et quae in domo eius est ecclesiam

4:16. And when this epistle shall have been read with you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans: and that you read that which is of the Laodiceans.
Et cum lecta fuerit apud vos epistula facite ut et in Laodicensium ecclesia legatur et eam quae Laodicensium est vos legatis

And that you read that which is of the Laodiceans... What this epistle was is uncertain, and annotators have given different opinions concerning it. Some expound these words of an epistle which St. Paul wrote to the Laodiceans, and is since lost, for that now extant is no more than a collection of sentences out of the other epistles of St. Paul; therefore it cannot be considered even as a part of that epistle. Others explain that the text means a letter sent to St. Paul by the Laodiceans, which he sends to the Colossians to be read by them. However, this opinion does not seem well founded. Hence it is more probable that St. Paul wrote an epistle from Rome to the Laodiceans, about the same time that he wrote to the Colossians, as he had them both equally at heart, and that he ordered that epistle to be read by the Colossians for their instructions; and being neighbouring cities, they might communicate to each other what they had received from him; as one epistle might contain some matters not related in the other, and would be equally useful for their concern; and more particularly as they were equally disturbed by intruders and false teachers, against which the apostle was anxious to warn them, lest they should be infected by their pernicious doctrine.

4:17. And say to Archippus: Take heed to the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.
Et dicite Archippo vide ministerium quod accepisti in Domino ut illud impleas

4:18. The salutation of Paul with my own hand. Be mindful of my bands. Grace be with you. Amen.
Salutatio mea manu Pauli memores estote vinculorum meorum gratia vobiscum amen

Daniel

DANIEL, whose name signifies THE JUDGMENT OF GOD, was of the royal blood of the kings of Juda: and one of those that were first of all carried away into captivity. He was so renowned for wisdom and knowledge, that it became a proverb among the Babylonians, AS WISE AS DANIEL (Ezech. 28.3). And his holiness was so great from his very childhood, that at the time when he was as yet but a young man, he is joined by the SPIRIT of GOD with NOE and JOB, as three persons most eminent for virtue and sanctity, Ezekiel 14. He is not commonly numbered by the Hebrews among THE PROPHETS: because he lived at court, and in high station in the world: but if we consider his many clear predictions of things to come, we shall find that no one better deserves the name and title of A PROPHET: which also has been given him by the SON of GOD himself, Matt. 24, Mark 13., Luke 21. (For more information, see the article DANIEL in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Daniel Chapter 1. Daniel and his companions are taken into the palace of the king of Babylon: they abstain from his meat and wine, and succeed better with pulse and water. Their excellence and wisdom.

Daniel Chapter 2. Daniel, by divine revelation, declares the dream of Nabuchodonosor, and the interpretation of it. He is highly honoured by the king.

Daniel Chapter 3. Nabuchodonosor set up a golden statue; which he commands all to adore: the three children for refusing to do it are cast into the fiery furnace; but are not hurt by the flames. Their prayer and canticle of praise.

Daniel Chapter 4. Nabuchodonosor's dream, by which the judgments of God are denounced against him for his pride, is interpreted by Daniel, and verified by the event.

Daniel Chapter 5. Baltasar's profane banquet: his sentence is denounced by a handwriting on the wall, which Daniel reads and interprets.

Daniel Chapter 6. Daniel is promoted by Darius: his enemies procure a law forbidding prayer; for the transgression of this law Daniel is cast into the lions' den: but miraculously delivered.

Daniel Chapter 7. Daniel's vision of the four beasts, signifying four kingdoms: of God sitting on his throne: and of the opposite kingdoms of Christ and Antichrist.

Daniel Chapter 8. Daniel's vision of the ram and the he goat interpreted by the angel Gabriel.

Daniel Chapter 9. Daniel's confession and prayer: Gabriel informs him concerning the seventy weeks to the coming of Christ.

Daniel Chapter 10. Daniel having humbled himself by fasting and penance seeth a vision, with which he is much terrified; but he is comforted by an angel.

Daniel Chapter 11. The angel declares to Daniel many things to come, with regard to the Persian and Grecian kings: more especially with regard to Antiochus as a figure of Antichrist.

Daniel Chapter 12. Michael shall stand up for the people of God: with other things relating to Antichrist, and the end of the world.

Daniel Chapter 13. The history of Susanna and the two elders.

Daniel Chapter 14. The history of Bel, and of the great serpent worshipped by the Babylonians.

Daniel Chapter 1

Daniel and his companions are taken into the palace of the king of Babylon: they abstain from his meat and wine, and succeed better with pulse and water. Their excellence and wisdom.

---

1:1. In the third year of the reign of Joakim, king of Juda, Nabuchodonosor, king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem, and besieged it.

Anno tertio regni Ioachim regis Iuda venit Nabuchodonosor rex Babylonis Hierusalem et obsedit eam

1:2. And the Lord delivered into his hands Joakim, the king of Juda, and part of the vessels of the house of God: and he carried them away into the land of Sennaar, to the house of his god, and the vessels he brought into the treasure house of his god.

Et tradidit Dominus in manu eius Ioachim regem Iudae et partem vasorum domus Dei et asportavit ea in terram Sennaar in domum dei sui et vasa intulit in domum thesauri dei sui

His god... Bel or Belus, the principal idol of the Chaldeans.

1:3. And the king spoke to Asphenez, the master of the eunuchs, that he should bring in some of the children of Israel, and of the king's seed, and of the princes,

Et ait rex Asfanaz praeposito eunuchorum suorum ut introduceret de filiis Israhel et de semine regio et tyrannorum

1:4. Children in whom there was no blemish, well favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, acute in knowledge, and instructed in science, and such as might stand in the king's palace, that he might teach them the learning, and tongue of the Chaldeans.

Pueros in quibus nulla esset macula decoros forma et eruditos omni sapientia cautos scientia et doctos disciplina et qui possent stare in palatio regis ut doceret eos litteras et linguam Chaldeorum

1:5. And the king appointed them a daily provision, of his own meat, and of the wine of which he drank himself, that being nourished three years, afterwards they might stand before the king.

Et constituit eis rex annonam per singulos dies de cibus suis et de vino unde bibebat ipse ut enutriti tribus annis postea starent in conspectu regis

1:6. Now there was among them of the children of Juda, Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias.

Fuerunt ergo inter eos de filiis Iuda Danihel Ananias Misahel et Azarias

1:7. And the master of the eunuchs gave them names: to Daniel, Baltassar: to Ananias, Sidrach: to Misael, Misach: and to Azarias, Abdenago.

Et inposuit eis praepositus eunuchorum nomina Daniheli Balthasar et Ananiae Sedrac Misaheli Misac et Azariae Abdenago

1:8. But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not be defiled with the king's table, nor with the wine which he drank: and he requested the master of the eunuchs that he might not be defiled.

Proposuit autem Danihel in corde suo ne pollueretur de mensa regis neque de vino potus eius et rogavit eunuchorum praepositum ne contaminaretur

Be defiled, etc... Viz., either by eating meat forbidden by the law, or which had before been offered to idols.

1:9. And God gave to Daniel grace and mercy in the sight of the prince of the eunuchs.

Dedit autem Deus Daniheli gratiam et misericordiam in conspectu principis eunuchorum

1:10. And the prince of the eunuchs said to Daniel: I fear my lord, the king, who hath appointed you meat and drink: who if he should see your faces leaner than those of the other youths, your equals, you shall endanger my head to the king.

Et ait princeps eunuchorum ad Danihel timeo ego dominum meum regem qui constituit vobis cibum et potum qui si viderit vultus vestros macilentiores prae ceteris adolescentibus coevis vestris condemnabit caput meum regi

1:11. And Daniel said to Malasar, whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias:

Et dixit Danihel ad Malassar quem constituerat princeps eunuchorum super Danihel Ananiam Misahel et Azariam

1:12. Try, I beseech thee, thy servants for ten days, and let pulse be given us to eat, and water to drink: Tempta nos obsecro servos tuos diebus decem et dentur nobis legumina ad vescendum et aqua ad bibendum

Pulse... That is, pease, beans, and such like.

1:13. And look upon our faces, and the faces of the children that eat of the king's meat: and as thou shalt see, deal with thy servants.

Et contemplare vultus nostros et vultus puerorum qui vescuntur cibo regio et sicut videris facies cum servis tuis

1:14. And when he had heard these words, he tried them for ten days.

Qui audito sermone huiusmodi temptavit eos diebus decem

1:15. And after ten days, their faces appeared fairer and fatter than all the children that ate of the king's meat.

Post dies autem decem apparuerunt vultus eorum meliores et corpulentiores prae omnibus pueris qui vescebantur cibo regio

1:16. So Malasar took their portions, and the wine that they should drink: and he gave them pulse.

Porro Malassar tollebat cibaria et vinum potus eorum dabatque eis legumina

1:17. And to these children God gave knowledge, and understanding in every book, and wisdom: but to Daniel the understanding also of all visions and dreams.

Pueris autem his dedit Deus scientiam et disciplinam in omni libro et sapientia Daniheli autem intellegentiam omnium visionum et somniorum

1:18. And when the days were ended, after which the king had ordered they should be brought in: the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nabuchodonosor.

Completis itaque diebus post quos dixerat rex ut introducerentur introduxit eos praepositus eunuchorum in conspectu Nabuchodonosor

1:19. And when the king had spoken to them, there were not found among them all such as Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias: and they stood in the king's presence.

Cumque locutus eis fuisset rex non sunt inventi de universis tales ut Danihel Ananias Misahel et Azarias et steterunt in conspectu regis

1:20. And in all matters of wisdom and understanding, that the king enquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the diviners, and wise men, that were in all his kingdom.

Et omne verbum sapientiae et intellectus quod sciscitatus est ab eis rex invenit in eis decuplum super cunctos ariolos et magos qui erant in universo regno eius

1:21. And Daniel continued even to the first year of king Cyrus.

Fuit autem Danihel usque ad annum primum Cyri regis

Daniel Chapter 2

Daniel, by divine revelation, declares the dream of Nabuchodonosor, and the interpretation of it. He is highly honoured by the king.

---

2:1. In the second year of the reign of Nabuchodonosor, Nabuchodonosor had a dream, and his spirit was terrified, and his dream went out of his mind.

In anno secundo regni Nabuchodonosor vidit Nabuchodonosor somnium et conterritus est spiritus eius et somnium eius fugit ab eo

The second year... Viz., from the death of his father Nabopolassar; for he had reigned before as partner with his father in the empire.

2:2. Then the king commanded to call together the diviners and the wise men, and the magicians, and the Chaldeans: to declare to the king his dreams: so they came and stood before the king.

Praecepit ergo rex ut convocarentur arioli et magi et malefici et Chaldei et indicarent regi somnia sua qui cum venissent steterunt coram rege

The Chaldeans... That is, the astrologers, that pretended to divine by stars.

2:3. And the king said to them: I saw a dream: and being troubled in mind I know not what I saw.

Et dixit ad eos rex vidi somnium et mente confusus ignoro quid viderim

2:4. And the Chaldeans answered the king in Syriac: O king, live for ever: tell to thy servants thy dream, and we will declare the interpretation thereof.

Responderuntque Chaldei regi syriace rex in sempiternum vive dic somnium servis tuis et interpretationem eius indicabimus

2:5. And the king, answering, said to the Chaldeans: The thing is gone out of my mind: unless you tell me the dream, and the meaning thereof, you shall be put to death, and your houses shall be confiscated.

Et respondens rex ait Chaldeis sermo recessit a me nisi indicaveritis mihi somnium et coniecturam eius peribitis vos et domus vestrae publicabuntur

2:6. But if you tell the dream, and the meaning of it, you shall receive of me rewards, and gifts, and great honour: therefore, tell me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.

Si autem somnium et coniecturam eius narraveritis praemia et dona et honorem multum accipietis a me somnium igitur et interpretationem eius indicate mihi

2:7. They answered again and said: Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will declare the interpretation of it.

Responderunt secundo atque dixerunt rex somnium dicat servis suis et interpretationem illius indicabimus

2:8. The king answered and said: I know for certain, that you seek to gain time, since you know that the thing is gone from me.

Respondit rex et ait certo novi quia tempus redimitis scientes quod recesserit a me sermo

2:9. If, therefore, you tell me not the dream, there is one sentence concerning you, that you have also framed a lying interpretation, and full of deceit, to speak before me till the time pass away. Tell me, therefore, the dream, that I may know that you also give a true interpretation thereof.

Si ergo somnium non indicaveritis mihi una est de vobis sententia quod interpretationem quoque fallacem et deceptione plenam composueritis ut loquamini mihi donec tempus pertranseat somnium itaque dicite mihi ut sciam quod interpretationem quoque eius veram loquamini

2:10. Then the Chaldeans answered before the king, and said: There is no man upon earth, that can accomplish thy word, O king; neither doth any king, though great and mighty, ask such a thing of any diviner, or wise man, or Chaldean.

Respondentes ergo Chaldei coram rege dixerunt non est homo super terram qui sermonem tuum rex possit implere sed neque regum quisquam magnus et potens verbum huiuscemodi sciscitatur ab omni ariolo et mago et Chaldeo

2:11. For the thing that thou asketh, O king, is difficult: nor can any one be found that can show it before the king, except the gods, whose conversation is not with men.

Sermo enim quem tu rex quaeris gravis est nec reperietur quisquam qui indicet illum in conspectu regis exceptis diis quorum non est cum hominibus conversatio

2:12. Upon hearing this, the king in fury, and in great wrath, commanded that all the wise men of Babylon should be put to death.

Quo audito rex in furore et in ira magna praecepit ut perirent omnes sapientes Babylonis

2:13. And the decree being gone forth, the wise men were slain: and Daniel and his companions were sought for, to be put to death.

Et egressa sententia sapientes interficiebantur quaerebaturque Danihel et socii eius ut perirent

2:14. Then Daniel inquired concerning the law and the sentence, of Arioch, the general of the king's army, who was gone forth to kill the wise men of Babylon.

Tunc Danihel requisivit de lege atque sententia ab Arioch principe militiae regis qui egressus fuerat ad interficiendos sapientes Babylonis

2:15. And he asked him that had received the orders of the king, why so cruel a sentence was gone forth from the face of the king. And when Arioch had told the matter to Daniel,

Et interrogavit eum qui a rege acceperat potestatem quam ob causam tam crudelis sententia a facie esset regis egressa cum ergo rem indicasset Arioch Daniheli

2:16. Daniel went in, and desired of the king, that he would give him time to resolve the question, and declare it to the king.

Danihel ingressus rogavit regem ut tempus daret sibi ad solutionem indicandam regi

2:17. And he went into his house, and told the matter to Ananias, and Misael, and Azarias, his companions:

Et ingressus est domum suam Ananiaeque Misaheli et Azariae sociis suis indicavit negotium

2:18. To the end that they should ask mercy at the face of the God of heaven, concerning this secret, and that Daniel and his companions might not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

Ut quaerent misericordiam a facie Dei caeli super sacramento isto et non perirent Danihel et socii eius cum ceteris sapientibus Babylonis

2:19. Then was the mystery revealed to Daniel by a vision in the night: and Daniel blessed the God of heaven,

Tunc Daniheli per visionem nocte mysterium revelatum est et Danihel benedixit Deo caeli

2:20. And speaking, he said: Blessed be the name of the Lord from eternity and for evermore: for wisdom and fortitude are his.

Et locutus ait sit nomen Domini benedictum a saeculo et usque in saeculum quia sapientia et fortitudo eius sunt

2:21. And he changeth times and ages: taketh away kingdoms, and establisheth them: giveth wisdom to the wise, and knowledge to them that have understanding:

Et ipse mutat tempora et aetates transfert regna atque constituit dat sapientiam sapientibus et scientiam intellegentibus disciplinam

2:22. He revealeth deep and hidden things, and knoweth what is in darkness: and light is with him.

Ipse revelat profunda et abscondita et novit in tenebris constituta et lux cum eo est

2:23. To thee, O God of our fathers, I give thanks, and I praise thee: because thou hast given me wisdom and strength: and now thou hast shown me what we desired of thee, for thou hast made known to us the king's discourse.

Tibi Deus patrum meorum confiteor teque laudo quia sapientiam et fortitudinem dedisti mihi et nunc ostendisti mihi quae rogavimus te quia sermonem regis aperuisti nobis

2:24. After this Daniel went in to Arioch, to whom the king had given orders to destroy the wise men of Babylon, and he spoke thus to him: Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will tell the solution to the king.

Post haec Danihel ingressus ad Arioch quem constituerat rex ut perderet sapientes Babylonis sic ei locutus est sapientes Babylonis ne perdas introduc me in conspectu regis et solutionem regi enarrabo

2:25. Then Arioch in haste brought in Daniel to the king, and said to him: I have found a man of the children of the captivity of Juda, that will resolve the question to the king.

Tunc Arioch festinus introduxit Danihelem ad regem et dixit ei inveni hominem de filiis transmirationis Iudae qui solutionem regi adnuntiet

2:26. The king answered, and said to Daniel, whose name was Baltassar: Thinkest thou indeed that thou canst tell me the dream that I saw, and the interpretation thereof?

Respondit rex et dixit Daniheli cuius nomen erat Balthasar putasne vere potes indicare mihi somnium quod vidi et interpretationem eius

2:27. And Daniel made answer before the king, and said: The secret that the king desireth to know, none of the wise men, or the philosophers, or the diviners, or the soothsayers, can declare to the king.

Et respondens Danihel coram rege ait mysterium quod rex interrogat sapientes magi et arioli et aruspices non queunt indicare regi

2:28. But there is a God in heaven that revealeth mysteries, who hath shown to thee, O king Nabuchodonosor, what is to come to pass in the latter times. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these:

Sed est Deus in caelo revelans mysteria qui indicavit tibi rex Nabuchodonosor quae ventura sunt novissimis temporibus somnium tuum et visiones capitis tui in cubili tuo huiusmodi sunt

2:29. Thou, O king, didst begin to think in thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: and he that revealeth mysteries showed thee what shall come to pass.

Tu rex cogitare coepisti in stratu tuo quid esset futurum post haec et qui revelat mysteria ostendit tibi quae ventura sunt

2:30. To me also this secret is revealed, not by any wisdom that I have more than all men alive: but that the interpretation might be made manifest to the king, and thou mightest know the thought of thy mind.

Mihi quoque non in sapientia quae est in me plus quam in cunctis viventibus sacramentum hoc revelatum est sed ut interpretatio regi manifesta fieret et cogitationes mentis tuae scires

2:31. Thou, O king, sawest, and behold there was as it were a great statue: this statue, which was great and high, tall of stature, stood before thee, and the look thereof was terrible.

Tu rex videbas et ecce quasi statua una grandis statua illa magna et statura sublimis stabat contra te et intuitus eius erat terribilis

2:32. The head of this statue was of fine gold, but the breast and the arms of silver, and the belly and the thighs of brass.

Huius statuae caput ex auro optimo erat pectus autem et brachia de argento porro venter et femora ex aere

2:33. And the legs of iron, the feet part of iron and part of clay.

Tibiae autem ferreae pedum quaedam pars erat ferrea quaedam fictilis

2:34. Thus thou sawest, till a stone was cut out of a mountain without hands: and it struck the statue upon the feet thereof that were of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces.

Videbas ita donec abscisus est lapis sine manibus et percussit statuam in pedibus eius ferreis et fictilibus et comminuit eos

2:35. Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of a summer's threshing floor, and they were carried away by the wind: and there was no place found for them: but the stone that struck the statue became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

Tunc contrita sunt pariter ferrum testa aes argentum et aurum et redacta quasi in favillam aestivae areae rapta sunt vento nullusque locus inventus est eis lapis autem qui percusserat statuam factus est mons magnus et implevit universam terram

2:36. This is the dream: we will also tell the interpretation thereof before thee, O king.

Hoc est somnium interpretationem quoque eius dicemus coram te rex

2:37. Thou art a king of kings: and the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, and strength, and power, and glory:

Tu rex regum es et Deus caeli regnum fortitudinem et imperium et gloriam dedit tibi

2:38. And all places wherein the children of men, and the beasts of the field do dwell: he hath also given the birds of the air into thy hand, and hath put all things under thy power: thou, therefore, art the head of gold.

Et omnia in quibus habitant filii hominum et bestiae agri volucresque caeli dedit in manu tua et sub dicione tua universa constituit tu es ergo caput aureum

2:39. And after thee shall rise up another kingdom, inferior to thee, of silver: and another third kingdom of brass, which shall rule over all the world.

Et post te consurget regnum aliud minus te et regnum tertium aliud aereum quod imperabit universae terrae

Another kingdom... Viz., that of the Medes and Persians. Ibid. Third kingdom... Viz., that of Alexander the Great.

2:40. And the fourth kingdom shall be as iron. As iron breaketh into pieces, and subdueth all things, so shall that break, and destroy all these.

Et regnum quartum erit velut ferrum quomodo ferrum comminuit et domat omnia sic comminuet omnia haec et conteret

The fourth kingdom, etc... Some understand this of the successors of Alexander, the kings of Syria and Egypt, others of the Roman empire, and its civil wars.

2:41. And whereas thou sawest the feet, and the toes, part of potter's clay, and part of iron: the kingdom shall be divided, but yet it shall take its origin from the iron, according as thou sawest the iron mixed with the miry clay.

Porro quia vidisti pedum et digitorum partem testae figuli et partem ferream regnum divisum erit quod tamen de plantario ferri orietur secundum quod vidisti ferrum mixtum testae ex luto

2:42. And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay: the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly broken.

Et digitos pedum ex parte ferreos et ex parte fictiles ex parte regnum erit solidum et ex parte contritum

2:43. And whereas thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay, they shall be mingled indeed together with the seed of man, but they shall not stick fast one to another, as iron cannot be mixed with clay.

Quia autem vidisti ferrum mixtum testae ex luto commiscebuntur quidem humano semine sed non adhaerebunt sibi sicuti ferrum misceri non potest testae

2:44. But in the days of those kingdoms, the God of heaven will set up a kingdom that shall never be destroyed, and his kingdom shall not be delivered up to another people: and it shall break in pieces, and shall consume all these kingdoms: and itself shall stand for ever.

In diebus autem regnorum illorum suscitabit Deus caeli regnum quod in aeternum non dissipabitur et regnum eius populo alteri non tradetur comminuet et consumet universa regna haec et ipsum stabit in aeternum

A kingdom... Viz., the kingdom of Christ in the Catholic Church which cannot be destroyed.

2:45. According as thou sawest, that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and broke in pieces the clay and the iron, and the brass, and the silver, and the gold, the great God hath shown the king what shall come to pass hereafter, and the dream is true, and the interpretation thereof is faithful.

Secundum quod vidisti quod de monte abscisus est lapis sine manibus et comminuit testam et ferrum et aes et argentum et aurum Deus magnus ostendit regi quae futura sunt postea et verum est somnium et fidelis interpretatio eius

2:46. Then king Nabuchodonosor fell on his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer in sacrifice to him victims and incense.

Tunc rex Nabuchodonosor cecidit in faciem suam et Danihelum adoravit et hostias et incensum praecepit ut sacrificarent ei

2:47. And the king spoke to Daniel, and said: Verily, your God is the God of gods, and Lord of kings, and a revealer of hidden things: seeing thou couldst discover this secret.

Loquens ergo rex ait Daniheli vere Deus vester Deus deorum est et Dominus regum et revelans mysteria quoniam potuisti aperire sacramentum hoc

2:48. Then the king advanced Daniel to a high station, and gave him many and great gifts: and he made him governor over all the provinces of Babylon: and chief of the magistrates over all the wise men of Babylon.

Tunc rex Danihelum in sublime extulit et munera multa et magna dedit ei et constituit eum principem super omnes provincias Babylonis et praefectum magistratum super cunctos sapientes Babylonis

2:49. And Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago, over the works of the province of Babylon: but Daniel himself was in the king's palace.

Danihel autem postulavit a rege et constituit super opera provinciae Babylonis Sedrac Misac et Abdenago ipse autem Danihel erat in foribus regis

Daniel Chapter 3

Nabuchodonosor set up a golden statue; which he commands all to adore: the three children for refusing to do it are cast into the fiery furnace; but are not hurt by the flames. Their prayer and canticle of praise.

---

3:1. King Nabuchodonosor made a statue of gold, of sixty cubits high, and six cubits broad, and he set it up in the plain of Dura, of the province of Babylon.

Nabuchodonosor rex fecit statuam auream altitudine cubitorum sexaginta latitudine cubitorum sex et statuit eam in campo Duram provinciae Babylonis

3:2. Then Nabuchodonosor, the king, sent to call together the nobles, the magistrates, and the judges, the captains, the rulers, and governors, and all the chief men of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the statue which king Nabuchodonosor had set up.

Itaque Nabuchodonosor rex misit ad congregandos satrapas magistratus et iudices duces et tyrannos et praefectos omnesque principes regionum ut convenirent ad dedicationem statuam quam erexerat Nabuchodonosor rex

3:3. Then the nobles, the magistrates, and the judges, the captains, and rulers, and the great men that were placed in authority, and all the princes of the provinces, were gathered together to come to the dedication of the statue, which king Nabuchodonosor had set up. And they stood before the statue which king Nabuchodonosor had set up.

Tunc congregati sunt satrapae magistratus et iudices duces et tyranni et optimates qui erant in potestatibus constituti et universi principes regionum ut convenirent ad dedicationem statuam quam erexerat Nabuchodonosor rex stabant autem in conspectu statuam quam posuerat Nabuchodonosor

3:4. Then a herald cried with a strong voice: To you it is commanded, O nations, tribes and languages: Et praeco clamabat valenter vobis dicitur populis tribubus et linguis

3:5. That in the hour that you shall hear the sound of the trumpet, and of the flute, and of the harp, of the sackbut, and of the psaltery, and of the symphony, and of all kind of music, ye fall down and adore the golden statue which king Nabuchodonosor hath set up.

In hora qua audieritis sonitum tubae et fistulae et citharae sambucaae et psalterii et symphoniae et universi generis musicorum cadentes adorete statuam auream quam constituit Nabuchodonosor rex

3:6. But if any man shall not fall down and adore, he shall the same hour be cast into a furnace of burning fire.

Si quis autem non prostratus adoraverit eadem hora mittetur in fornacem ignis ardentis

3:7. Upon this, therefore, at the time when all the people heard the sound of the trumpet, the flute, and the harp, of the sackbut, and the psaltery, of the symphony, and of all kind of music, all the nations, tribes, and languages fell down and adored the golden statue which king Nabuchodonosor had set up.

Post haec igitur statim ut audierunt omnes populi sonitum tubae fistulae et citharae sambucaae et psalterii et symphoniae et omnis generis musicorum cadentes omnes populi et tribus et linguae adoraverunt statuam auream quam constituerat Nabuchodonosor rex

3:8. And presently at that very time some Chaldeans came and accused the Jews, Statimque et in ipso tempore accedentes viri chaldei accusaverunt Iudaeos

3:9. And said to king Nabuchodonosor: O king, live for ever: Dixeruntque Nabuchodonosor regi rex in aeternum vive

3:10. Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the trumpet, the flute, and the harp, of the sackbut, and the psaltery, of the symphony, and of all kind of music, shall prostrate himself, and adore the golden statue:

Tu rex posuisti decretum ut omnis homo qui audierit sonitum tubae fistulae et citharae sambucaae et psalterii et symphoniae et universi generis musicorum prosternat se et adoret statuam auream

3:11. And that if any man shall not fall down and adore, he should be cast into a furnace of burning fire.
Si quis autem non procidens adoraverit mittatur in fornacem ignis ardentem

3:12. Now there are certain Jews, whom thou hast set over the works of the province of Babylon, Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago: these men, O king, have slighted thy decree: they worship not thy gods, nor do they adore the golden statue which thou hast set up.

Sunt ergo viri iudaei quos constituisti super opera regionis Babyloniae Sedrac Misac et Abdenago viri isti contempserunt rex decretum tuum deos tuos non colunt et statuam auream quam erexisti non adorant

3:13. Then Nabuchodonosor in fury, and in wrath, commanded that Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago should be brought: who immediately were brought before the king.

Tunc Nabuchodonosor in furore et in ira praecepit ut adducerentur Sedrac Misac et Abdenago qui confestim adducti sunt in conspectu regis

3:14. And Nabuchodonosor, the king, spoke to them, and said: Is it true, O Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago, that you do not worship my gods, nor adore the golden statue that I have set up?

Pronuntiansque Nabuchodonosor rex ait eis verene Sedrac Misac et Abdenago deos meos non colitis et statuam auream quam constitui non adoratis

3:15. Now, therefore, if you be ready, at what hour soever, you shall hear the sound of the trumpet, flute, harp, sackbut, and psaltery, and symphony, and of all kind of music, prostrate yourselves, and adore the statue which I have made: but if you do not adore, you shall be cast the same hour into the furnace of burning fire: and who is the God that shall deliver you out of my hand?

Nunc ergo si estis parati quacumque hora audieritis sonitum tubae fistulae et citharae sambucaae psalterii et symphoniae omnisque generis musicorum prosternite vos et adorare statuam quam feci quod si non adoraveritis eadem hora mittemini in fornacem ignis ardentem et quis est Deus qui eripiat vos de manu mea

3:16. Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago, answered, and said to king Nabuchodonosor: We have no occasion to answer thee concerning this matter.

Respondentes Sedrac Misac et Abdenago dixerunt regi Nabuchodonosor non oportet nos de hac re respondere tibi

3:17. For behold our God, whom we worship, is able to save us from the furnace of burning fire, and to deliver us out of thy hands, O king.

Ecce enim Deus noster quem colimus potest eripere nos de camino ignis ardentis et de manibus tuis rex liberare

3:18. But if he will not, be it known to thee, O king, that we will not worship thy gods, nor adore the golden statue which thou hast set up.

Quod si noluerit notum tibi sit rex quia deos tuos non colimus et statuam auream quam erexisti non adoramus

3:19. Then was Nabuchodonosor filled with fury: and the countenance of his face was changed against Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago, and he commanded that the furnace should be heated seven times more than it had been accustomed to be heated.

Tunc Nabuchodonosor repletus est furore et aspectus faciei illius inmutatus est super Sedrac Misac et Abdenago et praecepit ut succenderetur fornax septuplum quam succendi consuevit

3:20. And he commanded the strongest men that were in his army, to bind the feet of Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago, and to cast them into the furnace of burning fire.

Et viris fortissimis de exercitu suo iussit ut ligatis pedibus Sedrac Misac et Abdenago mitterent eos in fornacem ignis ardentem

3:21. And immediately these men were bound, and were cast into the furnace of burning fire, with their coats, and their caps, and their shoes, and their garments.

Et confestim viri illi vincti cum bracis suis et tiaris et calciamentis et vestibus missi sunt in medium fornacis

ignis ardentis

3:22. For the king's commandment was urgent, and the furnace was heated exceedingly. And the flame of the fire slew those men that had cast in Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago.

Nam iussio regis urgebat fornax autem succensa erat nimis porro viros illos qui miserant Sedrac Misac et Abdenago interfecit flamma ignis

3:23. But these three men, that is, Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago, fell down bound in the midst of the furnace of burning fire.

virii autem hii id est tres Sedrac Misac et Abdenago ceciderunt in medio camini ignis ardentis conligati

3:24. And they walked in the midst of the flame, praising God, and blessing the Lord.

And they walked, etc... Here St. Jerome takes notice, that from this verse, to ver. 91, was not in the Hebrew in his time. But as it was in all the Greek Bibles, (which were originally translated from the Hebrew), it is more than probable that it had been formerly in the Hebrew or rather in the Chaldaic, in which the book of Daniel was written. But this is certain: that it is, and has been of old, received by the church, and read as canonical scripture in her liturgy, and divine offices.

3:25. Then Azarias standing up, prayed in this manner, and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire, he said:

3:26. Blessed art thou, O Lord, the God of our fathers, and thy name is worthy of praise, and glorious for ever:

3:27. For thou art just in all that thou hast done to us, and all thy works are true, and thy ways right, and all thy judgments true.

3:28. For thou hast executed true judgments in all the things that thou hast brought upon us, and upon Jerusalem, the holy city of our fathers: for according to truth and judgment, thou hast brought all these things upon us for our sins.

3:29. For we have sinned, and committed iniquity, departing from thee: and we have trespassed in all things:

3:30. And we have not hearkened to thy commandments, nor have we observed nor done as thou hadst commanded us, that it might go well with us.

3:31. Wherefore, all that thou hast brought upon us, and every thing that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgment:

3:32. And thou hast delivered us into the hands of our enemies that are unjust, and most wicked, and prevaricators, and to a king unjust, and most wicked beyond all that are upon the earth.

3:33. And now we cannot open our mouths: we are become a shame, and a reproach to thy servants, and to them that worship thee.

3:34. Deliver us not up for ever, we beseech thee, for thy name's sake, and abolish not thy covenant.

3:35. And take not away thy mercy from us, for the sake of Abraham, thy beloved, and Isaac, thy servant, and Israel, thy holy one:

3:36. To whom thou hast spoken, promising that thou wouldst multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that is on the sea shore.

3:37. For we, O Lord, are diminished more than any nation, and are brought low in all the earth this day for our sins.

3:38. Neither is there at this time prince, or leader, or prophet, or holocaust, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place of first fruits before thee,

3:39. That we may find thy mercy: nevertheless, in a contrite heart and humble spirit let us be accepted.

3:40. As in holocausts of rams, and bullocks, and as in thousands of fat lambs: so let our sacrifice be made in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion to them that trust in thee.

3:41. And now we follow thee with all our heart, and we fear thee, and seek thy face.

3:42. Put us not to confusion, but deal with us according to thy meekness, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

3:43. And deliver us, according to thy wonderful works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord:

3:44. And let all them be confounded that show evils to thy servants, let them be confounded in all thy might, and let their strength be broken:

3:45. And let them know that thou art the Lord, the only God, and glorious over all the world.

3:46. Now the king's servants that had cast them in, ceased not to heat the furnace with brimstone and tow, and pitch, and dry sticks,

3:47. And the flame mounted up above the furnace nine and forth cubits:

3:48. And it broke forth, and burnt such of the Chaldeans as it found near the furnace.

3:49. But the angel of the Lord went down with Azarias and his companions into the furnace: and he drove the flame of the fire out of the furnace,

3:50. And made the midst of the furnace like the blowing of a wind bringing dew, and the fire touched them not at all, nor troubled them, nor did them any harm.

3:51. Then these three, as with one mouth, praised and glorified and blessed God, in the furnace, saying:

3:52. Blessed art thou, O Lord, the God of our fathers; and worthy to be praised, and glorified, and exalted above all for ever: and blessed is the holy name of thy glory: and worthy to be praised and exalted above all, in all ages.

3:53. Blessed art thou in the holy temple of thy glory: and exceedingly to be praised, and exceeding glorious for ever.

3:54. Blessed art thou on the throne of thy kingdom, and exceedingly to be praised, and exalted above all for ever.

3:55. Blessed art thou, that beholdest the depths, and sittest upon the cherubims: and worthy to be praised and exalted above all for ever.

3:56. Blessed art thou in the firmament of heaven: and worthy of praise, and glorious for ever.

3:57. All ye works of the Lord, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:58. O ye angels of the Lord, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:59. O ye heavens, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:60. O all ye waters that are above the heavens, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:61. O all ye powers of the Lord, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:62. O ye sun and moon, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:63. O ye stars of heaven, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:64. O every shower and dew, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:65. O all ye spirits of God, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:66. O ye fire and heat, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:67. O ye cold and heat, bless the Lord, praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:68. O ye dews and hoar frost, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

3:69. O ye frost and cold, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

- 3:70. O ye ice and snow, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:71. O ye nights and days, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:72. O ye light and darkness, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:73. O ye lightnings and clouds, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:74. O let the earth bless the Lord: let it praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:75. O ye mountains and hills, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:76. O all ye things that spring up in the earth, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:77. O ye fountains, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:78. O ye seas and rivers, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:79. O ye whales, and all that move in the waters, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:80. O all ye fowls of the air, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:81. O all ye beasts and cattle, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:82. O ye sons of men, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:83. O let Israel bless the Lord: let them praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:84. O ye priests of the Lord, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:85. O ye servants of the Lord, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:86. O ye spirits and souls of the just, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:87. O ye holy and humble of heart, bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
- 3:88. O Ananias, Azarias, Misael, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. For he hath delivered us from hell, ad saved us out of the hand of death, and delivered us out of the midst of the burning flame, and saved us out of the midst of the fire.
- 3:89. O give thanks to the Lord, because he is good: because his mercy endureth for ever and ever.
- 3:90. O all ye religious, bless the Lord, the God of gods: praise him, and give him thanks, because his mercy endureth for ever and ever.
- 3:91. Then Nabuchodonosor, the king, was astonished, and rose up in haste, and said to his nobles: Did we not cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered the king, and said: True, O king.
tunc Nabuchodonosor rex obstipuit et surrexit propere et ait optimatibus suis nonne tres viros misimus in medio ignis conpeditos qui respondententes dixerunt regi vere rex
- 3:92. He answered, and said: Behold, I see four men loose, and walking in the midst of the fire, and there is no hurt in them, and the form of the fourth is like the son of God.
respondit et ait ecce ego video viros quattuor solutos et ambulantes in medio ignis et nihil corruptionis in eis est et species quarti similis filio Dei
- 3:93. Then Nabuchodonosor came to the door of the burning fiery furnace, and said: Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago, ye servants of the most high God, go ye forth, and come. And immediately Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago, went out from the midst of the fire.
tunc accessit Nabuchodonosor ad ostium fornacis ignis ardentis et ait Sedrac Misac et Abdenago servi Dei excelsi egredimini et venite statimque egressi sunt Sedrac Misac et Abdenago de medio ignis
- 3:94. And the nobles, and the magistrates, and the judges, and the great men of the king, being gathered together, considered these men, that the fire had no power on their bodies, and that not a hair of their head had been singed, nor their garments altered, nor the smell of the fire had passed on them.

et congregati satrapae magistratus et iudices et potentes regis contemplabantur viros illos quoniam nihil potestatis habuisset ignis in corporibus eorum et capillus capitis eorum non esset adustus et sarabara eorum non fuissent inmutata et odor ignis non transisset per eos

3:95. Then Nabuchodonosor breaking forth, said: Blessed be the God of them, to wit, of Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that believed in him: and they changed the king's word, and delivered up their bodies, that they might not serve nor adore any god except their own God.

et erumpens Nabuchodonosor ait benedictus Deus eorum Sedrac videlicet Misac et Abdenago qui misit angelum suum et eruit servos suos quia crediderunt in eo et verbum regis inmutaverunt et tradiderunt corpora sua ne servirent et ne adorarent omnem deum excepto Deo suo

3:96. By me, therefore, this decree is made: That every people, tribe, and tongue, which shall speak blasphemy against the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago, shall be destroyed, and their houses laid waste: for there is no other God that can save in this manner.

a me ergo positum est hoc decretum ut omnis populus et tribus et lingua quaecumque locuta fuerit blasphemiam contra Deum Sedrac Misac et Abdenago dispereat et domus eius vastetur neque enim est Deus alius qui possit ita salvare

3:97. Then the king promoted Sidrach, Misach, and Abdenago, in the province of Babylon.
tunc rex promovit Sedrac Misac et Abdenago in provincia Babylonis

3:98. Nabuchodonosor, the king, to all peoples, nations, and tongues, that dwell in all the earth, peace be multiplied unto you.

Nabuchodonosor rex omnibus populis gentibus et linguis quae habitant in universa terra pax vobis multiplicetur

Nabuchodonosor, etc... These last three verses are a kind of preface to the following chapter, which is written in the style of an epistle from the king.

3:99. The most high God hath wrought signs and wonders towards me. It hath seemed good to me, therefore, to publish signa et mirabilia fecit apud me Deus excelsus placuit ergo mihi praedicare

3:100. His signs, because they are great: and his wonders, because they are mighty: and his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his power to all generations.

signa eius quia magna sunt et mirabilia eius quia fortia et regnum eius regnum sempiternum et potestas eius in generationem et generationem

Daniel Chapter 4

Nabuchodonosor's dream, by which the judgments of God are denounced against him for his pride, is interpreted by Daniel, and verified by the event.

---

4:1. I, Nabuchodonosor, was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace:
ego Nabuchodonosor quietus eram in domo mea et florens in palatio meo

4:2. I saw a dream that affrighted me: and my thoughts in my bed, and the visions of my head, troubled me.
somnia vidi quod perterruit me et cogitationes meae in stratu meo et visiones capitis mei conturbaverunt me

4:3. Then I set forth a decree, that all the wise men of Babylon should be brought in before me, and that they should show me the interpretation of the dream.
et per me propositum est decretum ut introducerentur in conspectu meo cuncti sapientes Babylonis et ut solutionem somnii indicarent mihi

4:4. Then came in the diviners, the wise men, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers, and I told the dream before them: but they did not show me the interpretation thereof.
tunc ingrediebantur arioli magi Chaldei et aruspices et somnium narravi in conspectu eorum et solutionem eius non indicaverunt mihi

4:5. Till their colleague, Daniel, came in before me, whose name is Baltassar, according to the name of my god, who hath in him the spirit of the holy gods: and I told the dream before him.
donec collega ingressus est in conspectu meo Danihel cuius nomen Balthasar secundum nomen dei mei qui habet spiritum deorum sanctorum in semet ipso et somnium coram eo locutus sum

Baltassar, according to the name of my god... He says this, because the name of Baltassar, or Belteshazzar, is derived from the name of Bel, the chief god of the Babylonians.

4:6. Baltassar, prince of the diviners, because I know that thou hast in thee the spirit of the holy gods, and that no secret is impossible to thee, tell me the visions of my dreams that I have seen, and the interpretation of them?

Balthasar princeps ariolorum quem ego scio quod spiritum deorum sanctorum habeas in te et omne sacramentum non est impossibile tibi visiones somniorum meorum quas vidi et solutionem eorum narra

4:7. This was the vision of my head in my bed: I saw, and behold a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was exceeding great.
visio capitis mei in cubili meo videbam et ecce arbor in medio terrae et altitudo eius nimia

4:8. The tree was great and strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven: the sight thereof was even to the ends of all the earth.
magna arbor et fortis et proceritas eius contingens caelum aspectus illius erat usque ad terminos universae terrae

4:9. Its leaves were most beautiful, and its fruit exceeding much: and in it was food for all: under it dwelt cattle and beasts, and in the branches thereof the fowls of the air had their abode: and all flesh did eat of it.
folia eius pulcherrima et fructus eius nimius et esca universorum in ea subter eam habitabant animalia et bestiae et in ramis eius conversabantur volucres caeli et ex ea vescebatur omnis caro

4:10. I saw in the vision of my head upon my bed, and behold a watcher, and a holy one came down from heaven.

videbam in visione capitis mei super stratum meum et ecce vigil et sanctus de caelo descendit

A watcher... A vigilant angel, perhaps the guardian of Israel.

4:11. He cried aloud, and said thus: Cut down the tree, and chop off the branches thereof: shake off its leaves, and scatter its fruits: let the beasts fly away that are under it, and the birds from its branches.
clamavit fortiter et sic ait succidite arborem et praecidite ramos eius excutite folia eius et dispergite fructum eius fugiant bestiae quae subter eam sunt et volucres de ramis eius

4:12. Nevertheless, leave the stump of its roots in the earth, and let it be tied with a band of iron and of brass, among the grass, that is without, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let its portion be with the wild beasts in the grass of the earth.

verumtamen germen radicum eius in terra sinite et alligetur vinculo ferreo et aereo in herbis quae foris sunt et rore caeli tingatur et cum feris pars eius in herba terrae

4:13. Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given him: and let seven times pass over him.

cor eius ab humano commutetur et cor ferae detur ei et septem tempora mutantur super eum

Let his heart be changed, etc... It does not appear by scripture that Nabuchodonosor was changed from human shape; much less that he was changed into an ox; but only that he lost his reason, and became mad; and in this condition remained abroad in the company of beasts, eating grass like an ox, till his hair grew in such manner as to resemble the feathers of eagles, and his nails to be like birds' claws.

4:14. This is the decree by the sentence of the watchers, and the word and demand of the holy ones: till the living know, that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men: and he will give it to whomsoever it shall please him, and he will appoint the basest man over it.

in sententia vigillum decretum est et sermo sanctorum et petitio donec cognoscant viventes quoniam dominatur Excelsus in regno hominum et cuicumque voluerit dabit illud et humillimum hominem constituet super eo

4:15. I, king Nabuchodonosor, saw this dream: thou, therefore, O Baltassar, tell me quickly the interpretation: for all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to declare the meaning of it to me: but thou art able, because the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

hoc somnium vidi ego rex Nabuchodonosor tu ergo Balthasar interpretationem narra festinus quia omnes sapientes regni mei non queunt solutionem edicere mihi tu autem potes quia spiritus deorum sanctorum in te est

4:16. Then Daniel, whose name was Baltassar, began silently to think within himself for about one hour: and his thought troubled him. But the king answering, said: Baltassar, let not the dream and the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Baltassar answered, and said: My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thy enemies.

tunc Danihel cuius nomen Balthasar coepit intra semet ipsum tacitus cogitare quasi hora una et cogitationes eius conturbabant eum respondens autem rex ait Balthasar somnium et interpretatio eius non conturbent te respondit Balthasar et dixit domine mi somnium his qui te oderunt et interpretatio eius hostibus tuis sit

4:17. The tree which thou sawest, which was high and strong, whose height reached to the skies, and the sight thereof into all the earth:

arborem quam vidisti sublimem atque robustam cuius altitudo pertingit ad caelum et aspectus illius in omnem terram

4:18. And the branches thereof were most beautiful, and its fruit exceeding much, and in it was food for all, under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and the birds of the air had their abode in its branches.

et rami eius pulcherrimi et fructus eius nimius et esca omnium in ea subter eam habitantes bestiae agri et in ramis eius commorantes aves caeli

4:19. It is thou, O king, who art grown great, and become mighty: for thy greatness hath grown, and hath reached to heaven, and thy power unto the ends of the earth.

tu es rex qui magnificatus es et invaluisti et magnitudo tua crevit et pervenit usque ad caelum et potestas tua in terminos universae terrae

4:20. And whereas the king saw a watcher, and a holy one come down from heaven, and say: Cut down the tree, and destroy it, but leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, and let it be bound with iron and brass, among the grass without, and let it be sprinkled with the dew of heaven, and let his feeding be with the wild beasts, till seven times pass over him.

quod autem vidit rex vigilem et sanctum descendere de caelo et dicere succidite arborem et dissipate illam attamen germen radicum eius in terra dimittite et vinciatu ferro et aere in herbis foris et rore caeli conspergatur et cum feris sit pabulum eius donec septem tempora commutentur super eum

4:21. This is the interpretation of the sentence of the most High, which is come upon my lord, the king. haec est interpretatio sententiae Altissimi quae pervenit super dominum meum regem

4:22. They shall cast thee out from among men, and thy dwelling shall be with cattle, and with wild beasts, and thou shalt eat grass, as an ox, and shalt be wet with the dew of heaven: and seven times shall pass over thee, till thou know that the most High ruleth over the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

eicient te ab hominibus et cum bestiis feris erit habitatio tua et faenum ut bos comedes et rore caeli infunderis septem quoque tempora mutabuntur super te donec scias quod dominetur Excelsus super regnum hominum et cuicumque voluerit det illud

4:23. But whereas he commanded, that the stump of the roots thereof, that is, of the tree, should be left: thy kingdom shall remain to thee, after thou shalt have known that power is from heaven.

quod autem praecepit ut relinqueretur germen radicum eius id est arboris regnum tuum tibi manebit postquam cognoveris potestatem esse caelestem

4:24. Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to thee, and redeem thou thy sins with alms, and thy iniquities with works of mercy to the poor: perhaps he will forgive thy offences.

quam ob rem rex consilium meum placeat tibi et peccata tua elemosynis redime et iniquitates tuas misericordiis pauperum forsitan ignoscat delictis tuis

4:25. All these things came upon king Nabuchodonosor.

omnia venerunt super Nabuchodonosor regem

4:26. At the end of twelve months he was walking in the palace of Babylon.

post finem mensuum duodecim in aula Babylonis deambulabat

4:27. And the king answered, and said: Is not this the great Babylon, which I have built, to be the seat of the kingdom, by the strength of my power, and in the glory of my excellence?

responditque rex et ait nonne haec est Babylon magna quam ego aedificavi in domum regni in robore fortitudinis meae et in gloria decoris mei

cum adhuc sermo esset in ore regis vox de caelo ruit tibi dicitur Nabuchodonosor rex regnum transiit a te

4:29. And they shall cast thee out from among men, and thy dwelling shall be with cattle and wild beasts: thou shalt eat grass like an ox, and seven times shall pass over thee, till thou know that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

et ab hominibus te eicient et cum bestiis feris erit habitatio tua faenum quasi bos comedes et septem tempora mutabuntur super te donec scias quod dominetur Excelsus in regno hominum et cuicumque voluerit det illud

4:30. The same hour the word was fulfilled upon Nabuchodonosor, and he was driven away from among men, and did eat grass, like an ox, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven: till his hairs grew like the feathers of eagles, and his nails like birds' claws.

eadem hora sermo completus est super Nabuchodonosor ex hominibus abiectus est et faenum ut bos comedit et rore caeli corpus eius infectum est donec capilli eius in similitudinem aquilarum crescerent et ungues eius quasi avium

4:31. Now at the end of the days, I, Nabuchodonosor, lifted up my eyes to heaven, and my sense was restored to me: and I blessed the most High, and I praised and glorified him that liveth for ever: for his power is an everlasting power, and his kingdom is to all generations.

igitur post finem dierum ego Nabuchodonosor oculos meos ad caelum levavi et sensus meus redditus est mihi et Altissimo benedixi et viventem in sempiternum laudavi et glorificavi quia potestas eius potestas sempiterna et regnum eius in generationem et generationem

4:32. And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing before him: for he doth according to his will, as well with the powers of heaven, as among the inhabitants of the earth: and there is none that can resist his hand, and say to him: Why hast thou done it?

et omnes habitatores terrae apud eum in nihilum reputati sunt iuxta voluntatem enim suam facit tam in virtutibus caeli quam in habitatoribus terrae et non est qui resistat manui eius et dicat ei quare fecisti

4:33. At the same time my sense returned to me, and I came to the honour and glory of my kingdom: and my shape returned to me: and my nobles, and my magistrates, sought for me, and I was restored to my kingdom: and greater majesty was added to me.

in ipso tempore sensus meus reversus est ad me et ad honorem regni mei decoremque perveni et figura mea reversa est ad me et optimates mei et magistratus mei requisierunt me et in regno meo constitutus sum et magnificentia amplior addita est mihi

4:34. Therefore I, Nabuchodonosor, do now praise, and magnify, and glorify the King of heaven: because all his works are true, and his ways judgments, and them that walk in pride he is able to abase.

nunc igitur ego Nabuchodonosor laudo et magnifico et glorifico Regem caeli quia omnia opera eius vera et viae eius iudicia et gradientes in superbia potest humiliare

I, Nabuchodonosor, do now, etc... From this place some commentators infer that this king became a true convert, and dying not long after, was probably saved.

Daniel Chapter 5

Baltasar's profane banquet: his sentence is denounced by a handwriting on the wall, which Daniel reads and interprets.

---

5:1. Baltasar, the king, made a great feast for a thousand of his nobles: and every one drank according to his age.

Balthasar rex fecit grande convivium optimatibus suis mille et unusquisque secundum suam bibebat aetatem

Baltasar... He is believed to be the same as Nabonydus, the last of the Chaldean kings, grandson to Nabuchodonosor. He is called his son, ver. 2, 11, etc., according to the style of the scriptures, because he was a descendant from him.

5:2. And being now drunk, he commanded that they should bring the vessels of gold and silver, which Nabuchodonosor, his father, had brought away out of the temple, that was in Jerusalem, that the king and his nobles, and his wives, and his concubines, might drink in them.

praecepit ergo iam temulentus ut adferrentur vasa aurea et argentea quae asportaverat Nabuchodonosor pater eius de templo quod fuit in Hierusalem ut biberent in eis rex et optimates eius uxoresque eius et concubinae

5:3. Then were the golden and silver vessels brought, which he had brought away out of the temple that was in Jerusalem: and the king and his nobles, his wives, and his concubines, drank in them.

tunc adlata sunt vasa aurea quae asportaverat de templo quod fuerat in Hierusalem et biberunt in eis rex et optimates eius uxores et concubinae illius

5:4. They drank wine, and praised their gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, and of wood, and of stone.

bibebant vinum et laudabant deos suos aureos et argenteos et aereos ferreos ligneosque et lapideos

5:5. In the same hour there appeared fingers, as it were of the hand of a man, writing over against the candlestick, upon the surface of the wall of the king's palace: and the king beheld the joints of the hand that wrote.

in eadem hora apparuerunt digiti quasi manus hominis scribentis contra candelabrum in superficie parietis aulae regiae et rex aspiciebat articulos manus scribentis

5:6. Then was the king's countenance changed, and his thoughts troubled him: and the joints of his loins were loosed, and his knees struck one against the other.

tunc regis facies commutata est et cogitationes eius conturbabant eum et conpages renum eius solvebantur et genua eius ad se invicem conlidebantur

5:7. And the king cried out aloud to bring in the wise men, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. And the king spoke, and said to the wise men of Babylon: Whosoever shall read this writing, and shall make known to me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and shall have a golden chain on his neck, and shall be the third man in my kingdom.

exclamavit itaque rex fortiter ut introducerent magos Chaldeos et aruspices et proloquens rex ait sapientibus Babylonis quicumque legerit scripturam hanc et interpretationem eius manifestam mihi fecerit purpura vestietur et torquem auream habebit in collo et tertius in regno meo erit

5:8. Then came in all the king's wise men, but they could neither read the writing, nor declare the interpretation to the king.

tunc ingressi omnes sapientes regis non potuerunt nec scripturam legere nec interpretationem indicare regi

5:9. Wherewith king Baltasar was much troubled, and his countenance was changed: and his nobles also were troubled.

unde rex Balthasar satis conturbatus est et vultus illius inmutatus est sed et optimates eius turbabantur

5:10. Then the queen, on occasion of what had happened to the king, and his nobles, came into the banquet-house: and she spoke, and said: O king, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, neither let thy countenance be changed.

regina autem pro re quae acciderat regi et optimatibus eius domum convivii ingressa est et proloquens ait rex in aeternum vive non te conturbent cogitationes tuae neque facies tua inmutetur

The queen... Not the wife, but the mother of the king.

5:11. There is a man in thy kingdom that hath the spirit of the holy gods in him: and in the days of thy father knowledge and wisdom were found in him: for King Nabuchodonosor, thy father, appointed him prince of the wise men, enchanters, Chaldeans, and soothsayers, thy father, I say, O king:

est vir in regno tuo qui spiritum deorum sanctorum habet in se et in diebus patris tui scientia et sapientia inventae sunt in eo nam et rex Nabuchodonosor pater tuus principem magorum incantatorum Chaldeorum et aruspicum constituit eum pater inquam tuus o rex

5:12. Because a greater spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, and interpretation of dreams, and showing of secrets, and resolving of difficult things, were found in him, that is, in Daniel: whom the king named Baltassar. Now, therefore, let Daniel be called for, and he will tell the interpretation.

quia spiritus amplior et prudentia intellegentiaque interpretatio somniorum et ostensio secretorum ac solutio ligatorum inventae sunt in eo hoc est in Danihelo cui rex posuit nomen Balthasar nunc itaque Danihel vocetur et interpretationem narrabit

5:13. Then Daniel was brought in before the king. And the king spoke, and said to him: Art thou Daniel, of the children of the captivity of Juda, whom my father, the king, brought out of Judea?

igitur introductus est Danihel coram rege ad quem praefatus rex ait tu es Danihel de filiis captivitatis Iudae quam adduxit rex pater meus de Iudaea

5:14. I have heard of thee, that thou hast the spirit of the gods, and excellent knowledge, and understanding, and wisdom are found in thee.

audivi de te quoniam spiritum deorum habeas et scientia intellegentiaque ac sapientia ampliores inventae sint in te

5:15. And now the wise men, the magicians, have come in before me, to read this writing, and show me the interpretation thereof; and they could not declare to me the meaning of this writing.

et nunc introgressi sunt in conspectu meo sapientes magi ut scripturam hanc legerent et interpretationem eius indicarent mihi et nequiverunt sensum sermonis huius edicere

5:16. But I have heard of thee, that thou canst interpret obscure things, and resolve difficult things: now if thou art able to read the writing, and to show me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and shalt have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third prince in my kingdom.

porro ego audivi de te quod possis obscura interpretari et ligata dissolvere si ergo vales scripturam legere et interpretationem indicare mihi purpura vestieris et torquem auream circa collum tuum habebis et tertius in regno meo princeps eris

5:17. To which Daniel made answer, and said before the king: thy rewards be to thyself, and the gifts of thy house give to another: but the writing I will read to thee, O king, and show thee the interpretation thereof.

ad quae respondens Danihel ait coram rege munera tua sint tibi et dona domus tuae alteri da scripturam autem legam tibi rex et interpretationem eius ostendam tibi

5:18. O king, the most high God gave to Nabuchodonosor, thy father, a kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and honour.

o rex Deus altissimus regnum et magnificentiam gloriam et honorem dedit Nabuchodonosor patri tuo

5:19. And for the greatness that he gave to him, all people, tribes, and languages trembled, and were afraid of him: whom he would, he slew: and whom he would, he destroyed: and whom he would, he set up: and whom he would, he brought down.

et propter magnificentiam quam dederat ei universi populi tribus et linguae tremebant et metuebant eum quos volebat interficiebat et quos volebat percutiebat quos volebat exaltabat et quos volebat humiliabat

5:20. But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit hardened unto pride, he was put down from the throne of his kingdom, and his glory was taken away.

quando autem elevatum est cor eius et spiritus illius obfirmatus est ad superbiam depositus est de solio

regni sui et gloria eius ablata est

5:21. And he was driven out from the sons of men, and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses, and he did eat grass like an ox, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven: till he knew that the most High ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he will set over it whomsoever it shall please him.

et a filiis hominum eiectus est sed et cor eius cum bestiis positum est et cum onagris erat habitatio eius faenum quoque ut bos comedebat et rore caeli corpus eius infectum est donec cognosceret quod potestatem habeat Altissimus in regno hominum et quemcumque voluerit suscitabit super illud

5:22. Thou also, his son, O Baltasar, hast not humbled thy heart, whereas thou knewest all these things: tu quoque filius eius Balthasar non humiliasti cor tuum cum scires haec omnia

5:23. But hast lifted thyself up against the Lord of heaven: and the vessels of his house have been brought before thee: and thou, and thy nobles, and thy wives, and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them: and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and of gold, and of brass, of iron, and of wood, and of stone, that neither see, nor hear, nor feel: but the God who hath thy breath in his hand, and all thy ways, thou hast not glorified.

sed adversum Dominatorem caeli elevatus es et vasa domus eius adlata sunt coram te et tu et optimates tui et uxores tuae et concubinae vinum bibistis in eis deos quoque argenteos et aureos et aereos ferreos ligneosque et lapideos qui non vident neque audiunt neque sentiunt laudasti porro Deum qui habet flatum tuum in manu sua et omnes vias tuas non glorificasti

5:24. Wherefore, he hath sent the part of the hand which hath written this that is set down.

idcirco ab eo missus est articulus manus quae scripsit hoc quod exaratum est

5:25. And this is the writing that is written: MANE, THECEL, PHARES.

haec est autem scriptura quae digesta est mane thecel fares

5:26. And this is the interpretation of the word. MANE: God hath numbered thy kingdom, and hath finished it.

et haec interpretatio sermonis mane numeravit Deus regnum tuum et conplevit illud

5:27. THECEL: thou art weighed in the balance, and art found wanting.

thecel adpensum est in statera et inventus es minus habens

5:28. PHARES: thy kingdom is divided, and is given to the Medes and Persians.

fares divisum est regnum tuum et datum est Medis et Persis

5:29. Then by the king's command, Daniel was clothed with purple, and a chain of gold was put about his neck: and it was proclaimed of him that he had power as the third man in the kingdom.

tunc iubente rege indutus est Danihel purpura et circumdata est torques aurea collo eius et praedicatum est de eo quod haberet potestatem tertius in regno

5:30. The same night Baltasar, the Chaldean king, was slain.

eadem nocte interfectus est Balthasar rex Chaldeus

5:31. And Darius, the Mede, succeeded to the kingdom, being threescore and two years old.

et Darius Medus successit in regnum annos natus sexaginta duo

Darius... He is called Cyaxares by the historians; and was the son of Astyages, and uncle to Cyrus.

Daniel Chapter 6

Daniel is promoted by Darius: his enemies procure a law forbidding prayer; for the transgression of this law Daniel is cast into the lions' den: but miraculously delivered.

---

6:1. It seemed good to Darius, and he appointed over the kingdom a hundred and twenty governors, to be over his whole kingdom.

placuit Dario et constituit supra regnum satrapas centum viginti ut essent in toto regno suo

6:2. And three princes over them of whom Daniel was one: that the governors might give an account to them, and the king might have no trouble.

et super eos principes tres ex quibus Danihel unus erat ut satrapae illis redderent rationem et rex non sustineret molestiam

6:3. And Daniel excelled all the princes, and governors: because a greater spirit of God was in him.

igitur Danihel superabat omnes principes et satrapas quia spiritus Dei amplior erat in eo

6:4. And the king thought to set him over all the kingdom; whereupon the princes, and the governors, sought to find occasion against Daniel, with regard to the king: and they could find no cause, nor suspicion, because he was faithful, and no fault, nor suspicion was found in him.

porro rex cogitabat constituere eum super omne regnum unde principes et satrapae quaerebant occasionem ut invenirent Daniheli ex latere regni nullamque causam et suspicionem repperire potuerunt eo quod fidelis esset et omnis culpa et suspicio non inveniretur in eo

6:5. Then these men said: We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, unless perhaps concerning the law of his God.

dixerunt ergo viri illi non inveniemus Daniheli huic aliquam occasionem nisi forte in lege Dei sui

6:6. Then the princes, and the governors, craftily suggested to the king, and spoke thus unto him: King Darius, live for ever:

tunc principes et satrapae subriperunt regi et sic locuti sunt ei Darie rex in aeternum vive

6:7. All the princes of the kingdom, the magistrates, and governors, the senators, and judges, have consulted together, that an imperial decree, and an edict be published: That whosoever shall ask any petition of any god, or man, for thirty days, but of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of the lions.

consilium inierunt cuncti principes regni magistratus et satrapae senatores et iudices ut decretum imperatorium exeat et edictum ut omnis qui petierit aliquam petitionem a quocumque deo et homine usque ad dies triginta nisi a te rex mittatur in lacum leonum

6:8. Now, therefore, O king, confirm the sentence, and sign the decree: that what is decreed by the Medes and Persians may not be altered, nor any man be allowed to transgress it.

nunc itaque rex confirma sententiam et scribe decretum ut non inmutetur quod statutum est a Medis atque Persis nec praevaricari cuiquam liceat

6:9. So king Darius set forth the decree, and established it.

porro rex Darius proposuit edictum et statuit

6:10. Now, when Daniel knew this, that is to say, that the law was made, he went into his house: and opening the windows in his upper chamber towards Jerusalem, he knelt down three times a day, and adored and gave thanks before his God, as he had been accustomed to do before.

quod cum Danihel conperisset id est constitutam legem ingressus est domum suam et fenestris apertis in cenaculo suo contra Hierusalem tribus temporibus in die flectebat genua sua et adorabat confitebaturque coram Deo suo sicut et ante facere consueverat

6:11. Wherefore those men carefully watching him, found Daniel praying and making supplication to his God.

viri igitur illi curiosius inquirentes invenerunt Danihel orantem et obsecrantem Deum suum

6:12. And they came and spoke to the king concerning the edict: O king, hast thou not decreed, that every man that should make a request to any of the gods, or men, for thirty days, but to thyself, O king, should be cast into the den of the lions? And the king answered them, saying: The word is true, according to the decree of the Medes and Persians, which it is not lawful to violate.

et accedentes locuti sunt regi super edicto rex numquid non constituisti ut omnis homo qui rogaret quemquam de diis et hominibus usque ad dies triginta nisi a te rex mitteretur in lacum leonum ad quod respondens rex ait verus sermo iuxta decretum Medorum atque Persarum quod praevaricari non licet

6:13. Then they answered, and said before the king: Daniel, who is of the children of the captivity of Juda, hath not regarded thy law, nor the decree that thou hast made: but three times a day he maketh his prayer.

tunc respondentes dixerunt coram rege Danihel de filiis captivitatis Iudae non curavit de lege tua et de edicto quod constituisti sed tribus temporibus per diem orat obsecratione sua

6:14. Now when the king had heard these words, he was very much grieved, and in behalf of Daniel he set his heart to deliver him, and even till sunset he laboured to save him.

quod verbum cum audisset rex satis contristatus est et pro Danihel posuit cor ut liberaret eum et usque ad occasum solis laborabat ut erueret illum

6:15. But those men perceiving the king's design, said to him: Know thou, O king, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree which the king hath made, may be altered.

viri autem illi intellegentes regem dixerunt ei scito rex quia lex Medorum est atque Persarum ut omne decretum quod constituit rex non liceat inmutari

6:16. Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of the lions. And the king said to Daniel: Thy God, whom thou always servest, he will deliver thee.

tunc rex praecepit et adduxerunt Danihelem et miserunt eum in lacum leonum dixitque rex Daniheli Deus tuus quem colis semper ipse liberabit te adlatusque est lapis unus et positus est super os laci quem obsignavit rex anulo suo et anulo optimatum suorum ne quid fieret contra Danihel

6:18. And the king went away to his house, and laid himself down without taking supper, and meat was not set before him, and even sleep departed from him.

et abiit rex in domum suam et dormivit incenatus cibique non sunt inlati coram eo insuper et somnus recessit ab eo

6:19. Then the king rising very early in the morning, went in haste to the lions' den:

tunc rex primo diluculo consurgens festinus ad lacum leonum perrexit

6:20. And coming near to the den, cried with a lamentable voice to Daniel, and said to him: Daniel, servant of the living God, hath thy God, whom thou servest always, been able, thinkest thou, to deliver thee from the lions?

adpropinquansque lacui Danihelem voce lacrimabili inclamavit et affatus est eum Danihel serve Dei viventis Deus tuus cui tu servis semper putasne valuit liberare te a leonibus

6:21. And Daniel answering the king, said: O king, live for ever:

et Danihel regi respondens ait rex in aeternum vive

6:22. My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut up the mouths of the lions, and they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him justice hath been found in me: yea, and before thee, O king, I have done no offence.

Deus meus misit angelum suum et conclusit ora leonum et non nocuerunt mihi quia coram eo iustitia inventa est in me sed et coram te rex delictum non feci

6:23. Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and he commanded that Daniel should be taken out of the den: and Daniel was taken out of the den, and no hurt was found in him, because he believed in his God.

tunc rex vehementer gavisus est super eo et Danihelem praecepit educi de lacu eductusque est Danihel de lacu et nulla laesio inventa est in eo quia credidit Deo suo

6:24. And by the king's commandment, those men were brought that had accused Daniel: and they were cast into the lions' den, they and their children, and their wives: and they did not reach the bottom of the den, before the lions caught them, and broke all their bones in pieces.

iubente autem rege adducti sunt viri illi qui accusaverant Danihelem et in lacum leonum missi sunt ipsi et filii et uxores eorum et non pervenerunt usque ad pavimentum laci donec arriperent eos leones et omnia ossa eorum comminuerunt

6:25. Then king Darius wrote to all people, tribes, and languages, dwelling in the whole earth: PEACE be multiplied unto you.

tunc Darius rex scripsit universis populis tribubus et linguis habitantibus in universa terra pax vobis multiplicetur

6:26. It is decreed by me, that in all my empire and my kingdom, all men dread and fear the God of Daniel. For he is the living and eternal God for ever: and his kingdom shall not be destroyed, and his power shall be for ever.

a me constitutum est decretum ut in universo imperio et regno meo tremescant et paveant Deum Danihelis ipse est enim Deus vivens et aeternus in saecula et regnum eius non dissipabitur et potestas eius usque in aeternum

6:27. He is the deliverer, and saviour, doing signs and wonders in heaven, and in earth: who hath delivered Daniel out of the lions' den.

ipse liberator atque salvator faciens signa et mirabilia in caelo et in terra qui liberavit Danihelem de manu leonum

6:28. Now Daniel continued unto the reign of Darius, and the reign of Cyrus, the Persian.

porro Danihel perseveravit usque ad regnum Darii regnumque Cyri Persae

Daniel Chapter 7

Daniel's vision of the four beasts, signifying four kingdoms: of God sitting on his throne: and of the opposite kingdoms of Christ and Antichrist.

7:1. In the first year of Balthasar, king of Babylon, Daniel saw a dream: and the vision of his head was upon his bed: and writing the dream, he comprehended it in a few words: and relating the sum of it in short, he said:

anno primo Balthasar regis Babylonis Danihel somnium vidit visio autem capitis eius in cubili suo et somnium scribens brevi sermone comprehendit summatimque perstringens ait

7:2. I saw in my vision by night, and behold the four winds of the heavens strove upon the great sea. videbam in visione mea nocte et ecce quattuor venti caeli pugnabant in mari magno

7:3. And four great beasts, different one from another, came up out of the sea. et quattuor bestiae grandes ascendebant de mari diversae inter se

Four great beasts... Viz., the Chaldean, Persian, Grecian, and Roman empires. But some rather choose to understand the fourth beast of the successors of Alexander the Great, more especially of them that reigned in Asia and Syria.

7:4. The first was like a lioness, and had the wings of an eagle: I beheld till her wings were plucked off, and she was lifted up from the earth, and stood upon her feet as a man, and the heart of a man was given to her.

prima quasi leaena et alas habebat aquilae aspiciebam donec evulsae sunt alae eius et sublata est de terra et super pedes quasi homo stetit et cor eius datum est ei

7:5. And behold another beast, like a bear, stood up on one side: and there were three rows in the mouth thereof, and in the teeth thereof, and thus they said to it: Arise, devour much flesh.

et ecce bestia alia similis urso in parte stetit et tres ordines erant in ore eius et in dentibus eius et sic dicebant ei surge comede carnes plurimas

7:6. After this I beheld, and lo, another like a leopard, and it had upon it four wings, as of a fowl, and the beast had four heads, and power was given to it.

post hoc aspiciebam et ecce alia quasi pardus et alas habebat avis quattuor super se et quattuor capita erant in bestia et potestas data est ei

7:7. After this I beheld in the vision of the night, and lo, a fourth beast, terrible and wonderful, and exceeding strong, it had great iron teeth, eating and breaking in pieces, and treading down the rest with his feet: and it was unlike to the other beasts which I had seen before it, and had ten horns.

post hoc aspiciebam in visione noctis et ecce bestia quarta terribilis atque mirabilis et fortis nimis dentes ferreos habebat magnos comedens atque comminuens et reliqua pedibus suis conculcans dissimilis autem erat ceteris bestiis quas videram ante eam et habebat cornua decem

Ten horns... That is, ten kingdoms, (as Apoc. 17.12), among which the empire of the fourth beast shall be parcelled. Or ten kings of the number of the successors of Alexander; as figures of such as shall be about the time of Antichrist.

7:8. I considered the horns, and behold another little horn sprung out of the midst of them: and three of the first horns were plucked up at the presence thereof: and behold eyes like the eyes of a man were in this horn, and a mouth speaking great things.

considerabam cornua et ecce cornu aliud parvulum ortum est de medio eorum et tria de cornibus primis evulsa sunt a facie eius et ecce oculi quasi oculi hominis erant in cornu isto et os loquens ingentia

Another little horn... This is commonly understood of Antichrist. It may also be applied to that great persecutor Antiochus Epiphanes, as a figure of Antichrist.

7:9. I beheld till thrones were placed, and the ancient of days sat: his garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like clean wool: his throne like flames of fire: the wheels of it like a burning fire.

aspiciebam donec throni positi sunt et antiquus dierum sedit vestimentum eius quasi nix candidum et capilli capitis eius quasi lana munda thronus eius flammae ignis rotae eius ignis accensus

7:10. A swift stream of fire issued forth from before him: thousands of thousands ministered to him, and ten thousand times a hundred thousand stood before him: the judgment sat, and the books were opened. fluvius igneus rapidusque egrediebatur a facie eius milia milium ministrabant ei et decies milies centena milia adsistebant ei iudicium sedit et libri aperti sunt

7:11. I beheld, because of the voice of the great words which that horn spoke: and I saw that the beast was slain, and the body thereof was destroyed, and given to the fire to be burnt: aspiciebam propter vocem sermonum grandium quos cornu illud loquebatur et vidi quoniam interfecta esset bestia et perisset corpus eius et traditum esset ad conburendum igni

7:12. And that the power of the other beasts was taken away: and that times of life were appointed them for a time, and a time. aliarum quoque bestiarum ablata esset potestas et tempora vitae constituta essent eis usque ad tempus et tempus

7:13. I beheld, therefore, in the vision of the night, and lo, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and he came even to the ancient of days: and they presented him before him. aspiciebam ergo in visione noctis et ecce cum nubibus caeli quasi filius hominis veniebat et usque ad antiquum dierum pervenit et in conspectu eius obtulerunt eum

7:14. And he gave him power, and glory, and a kingdom: and all peoples, tribes, and tongues shall serve him: his power is an everlasting power that shall not be taken away: and his kingdom that shall not be destroyed. et dedit ei potestatem et honorem et regnum et omnes populi tribus ac linguae ipsi servient potestas eius potestas aeterna quae non auferetur et regnum eius quod non corrumpetur

7:15. My spirit trembled; I, Daniel, was affrighted at these things, and the visions of my head troubled me. horruit spiritus meus ego Danihel territus sum in his et visiones capitis mei conturbaverunt me

7:16. I went near to one of them that stood by, and asked the truth of him concerning all these things, and he told me the interpretation of the words, and instructed me: accessi ad unum de adsistentibus et veritatem quaerebam ab eo de omnibus his qui dixit mihi interpretationem sermonum et edocuit me

7:17. These four great beasts, are four kingdoms, which shall arise out of the earth. hae bestiae magnae quattuor quattuor regna consurgent de terra

7:18. But the saints of the most high God shall take the kingdom: and they shall possess the kingdom for ever and ever. suscipient autem regnum sancti Dei altissimi et obtinebunt regnum usque in saeculum et saeculum saeculorum

7:19. After this I would diligently learn concerning the fourth beast, which was very different from all, and exceeding terrible: his teeth and claws were of iron: he devoured and broke in pieces, and the rest he stamped upon with his feet: post hoc volui diligenter discere de bestia quarta quia erat dissimilis valde ab omnibus et terribilis nimis dentes et ungues eius ferrei comedebat et comminuebat et reliquias pedibus suis conculcabat

7:20. And concerning the ten horns that he had on his head: and concerning the other that came up, before which three horns fell: and of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth speaking great things, and was greater than the rest. et de cornibus decem quae habebat in capite et de alio quod ortum fuerat ante quod ceciderant tria cornua de cornu illo quod habebat oculos et os loquens grandia et maius erat ceteris

7:21. I beheld, and lo, that horn made war against the saints, and prevailed over them, aspiciebam et ecce cornu illud faciebat bellum adversus sanctos et praevalebat eis

7:22. Till the ancient of days came and gave judgment to the saints of the most High, and the time came, and the saints obtained the kingdom.

donec venit antiquus dierum et iudicium dedit sanctis Excelsi et tempus advenit et regnum obtinuerunt sancti

7:23. And thus he said: The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be greater than all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces. et sic ait bestia quarta regnum quartum erit in terra quod maius erit omnibus regnis et devorabit universam terram et conculcabit et comminuet eam

7:24. And the ten horns of the same kingdom, shall be ten kings: and another shall rise up after them, and he shall be mightier than the former, and he shall bring down three kings. porro cornua decem ipsius regni decem reges erunt et alius consurget post eos et ipse potentior erit prioribus et tres reges humiliabit

7:25. And he shall speak words against the High One, and shall crush the saints of the most High: and he shall think himself able to change times and laws, and they shall be delivered into his hand until a time, and times, and half a time.

et sermones contra Excelsum loquetur et sanctos Altissimi conteret et putabit quod possit mutare tempora et leges et tradentur in manu eius usque ad tempus et tempora et dimidium temporis

A time, and times, and half a time... That is, three years and a half; which is supposed to be the length of the duration of the persecution of Antichrist.

7:26. And a judgment shall sit, that his power may be taken away, and be broken in pieces, and perish even to the end.

et iudicium sedebit ut auferatur potentia et conteratur et dispereat usque in finem

7:27. And that the kingdom, and power, and the greatness of the kingdom, under the whole heaven, may be given to the people of the saints of the most High: whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all kings shall serve him, and shall obey him.

regnum autem et potestas et magnitudo regni quae est subter omne caelum detur populo sanctorum Altissimi cuius regnum regnum sempiternum est et omnes reges servient ei et oboedient

7:28. Hitherto is the end of the word. I, Daniel, was much troubled with my thoughts, and my countenance was changed in me: but I kept the word in my heart.

hucusque finis verbi ego Danihel multum cogitationibus meis conturbabar et facies mea mutata est in me verbum autem in corde meo conservavi

Daniel Chapter 8

Daniel's vision of the ram and the he goat interpreted by the angel Gabriel.

8:1. In the third year of the reign of king Baltasar, a vision appeared to me. I, Daniel, after what I had seen in the beginning, anno tertio regni Balthasar regis visio apparuit mihi ego Danihel post id quod videram in principio

8:2. Saw in my vision when I was in the castle of Susa, which is in the province of Elam: and I saw in the vision that I was over the gate of Ulai.

vidi in visione mea cum essem in Susis castro quod est in Aelam civitate vidi autem in visione esse me super portam Ulai

8:3. And I lifted up my eyes, and saw: and behold a ram stood before the water, having two high horns, and one higher than the other, and growing up. Afterward et levavi oculos meos et vidi et ecce aries unus stabat ante paludem habens cornua excelsa et unum excelsius altero atque succrescens postea

A ram... The empire of the Medes and Persians.

8:4. I saw the ram pushing with his horns against the west, and against the north, and against the south: and no beasts could withstand him, nor be delivered out of his hand: and he did according to his own will, and became great.

vidi arietem cornibus ventilantem contra occidentem et contra aquilonem et contra meridiem et omnes bestiae non poterant resistere ei neque liberari de manu eius fecitque secundum voluntatem suam et magnificatus est

8:5. And I understood: and behold a he goat came from the west on the face of the whole earth, and he touched not the ground, and the he goat had a notable horn between his eyes.

et ego intellegebam ecce autem hircus caprarum veniebat ab occidente super faciem totius terrae et non tangebatur terram porro hircus habebat cornu insigne inter oculos suos

A he goat... The empire of the Greeks, or Macedonians. Ibid. He touched not the ground... He conquered all before him, with so much rapidity, that he seemed rather to fly, than to walk upon the earth. -- Ibid. A notable horn... Alexander the Great.

8:6. And he went up to the ram that had the horns, which I had seen standing before the gate, and he ran towards him in the force of his strength.

et venit usque ad arietem illum cornutum quem videram stantem ante portam et cucurrit ad eum in impetu fortitudinis suae

8:7. And when he was come near the ram, he was enraged against him, and struck the ram: and broke his two horns, and the ram could not withstand him: and when he had cast him down on the ground, he stamped upon him, and none could deliver the ram out of his hand.

cumque adpropinquasset prope arietem efferatus est in eum et percussit arietem et comminuit duo cornua eius et non poterat aries resistere ei cumque eum misisset in terram conculcavit et nemo quibat liberare arietem de manu eius

8:8. And the he goat became exceeding great: and when he was grown, the great horn was broken, and there came up four horns under it towards the four winds of heaven.

hircus autem caprarum magnus factus est nimis cumque crevisset fractum est cornu magnum et orta sunt cornua quattuor subter illud per quattuor ventos caeli

Four horns... Seleucus, Antigonus, Philip, and Ptolemeus, the successors of Alexander, who divided his empire among them.

8:9. And out of one of them came forth a little horn: and it became great against the south, and against the east, and against the strength.

de uno autem ex eis egressum est cornu unum modicum et factum est grande contra meridiem et contra orientem et contra fortitudinem

A little horn... Antiochus Epiphanes, a descendant of Seleucus. He grew against the south, and the east, by his victories over the kings of Egypt and Armenia: and against the strength, that is, against Jerusalem and the people of God.

8:10. And it was magnified even unto the strength of heaven: and it threw down of the strength, and of the stars, and trod upon them.

et magnificatum est usque ad fortitudinem caeli et deiecit de fortitudine et de stellis et conculcavit eas

Unto the strength of heaven... or, against the strength of heaven. So are here called the army of the Jews, the people of God.

8:11. And it was magnified even to the prince of the strength: and it took away from him the continual sacrifice, and cast down the place of his sanctuary.

et usque ad principem fortitudinis magnificatus est et ab eo tulit iuge sacrificium et deiecit locum sanctificationis eius

8:12. And strength was given him against the continual sacrifice, because of sins: and truth shall be cast down on the ground, and he shall do and shall prosper.

robur autem datum est contra iuge sacrificium propter peccata et prosternetur veritas in terra et faciet et prosperabitur

8:13. And I heard one of the saints speaking, and one saint said to another I know not to whom, that was speaking: How long shall be the vision, concerning the continual sacrifice, and the sin of the desolation that is made: and the sanctuary, and the strength be trodden under foot?

et audivi unum de sanctis loquentem et dixit unus sanctus alteri nescio cui loquenti usquequo visio et iuge sacrificium et peccatum desolationis quae facta est et sanctuarium et fortitudo conculcabitur

8:14. And he said to him: Unto evening and morning two thousand three hundred days: and the sanctuary shall be cleansed.

et dixit ei usque ad vesperam et mane duo milia trecenti et mundabitur sanctuarium

Unto evening and morning two thousand three hundred days... That is, six years and almost four months: which was the whole time from the beginning of the persecution of Antiochus till his death.

8:15. And it came to pass when I, Daniel, saw the vision, and sought the meaning, that behold there stood before me as it were the appearance of a man.

factum est autem cum viderem ego Danihel visionem et quaererem intellegentiam ecce stetit in conspectu meo quasi species viri

8:16. And I heard the voice of a man between Ulai: and he called, and said: Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision.

et audivi vocem viri inter Ulai et clamavit et ait Gabrihel fac intellegere istum visionem

8:17. And he came, and stood near where I stood: and when he was come, I fell on my face, trembling, and he said to me: Understand, O son of man, for in the time of the end the vision shall be fulfilled.

et venit et stetit iuxta ubi ego stabam cumque venisset pavens corruí in faciem meam et ait ad me intellege fili hominis quoniam in tempore finis complebitur visio

8:18. And when he spoke to me, I fell flat on the ground: and he touched me, and set me upright.

cumque loqueretur ad me conlapsus sum pronus in terram et tetigit me et statuit me in gradu meo

8:19. And he said to me: I will show thee what things are to come to pass in the end of the malediction: for the time hath its end.

dixitque mihi ego ostendam tibi quae futura sint in novissimo maledictionis quoniam habet tempus finem suum

8:20. The ram, which thou sawest with horns, is the king of the Medes and Persians.

aries quem vidisti habere cornua rex Medorum est atque Persarum

8:21. And the he goat, is the king of the Greeks, and the great horn that was between his eyes, the same is the first king.

porro hircus caprarum rex Graecorum est et cornu grande quod erat inter oculos eius ipse est rex primus

8:22. But whereas when that was broken, there arose up four for it, four kings shall rise up of his nation, but not with his strength.

quod autem fracto illo surrexerunt quattuor pro eo quattuor reges de gente eius consurgent sed non in fortitudine eius

8:23. And after their reign, when iniquities shall be grown up, there shall arise a king of a shameless face, and understanding dark sentences.

et post regnum eorum cum creverint iniquitates consurget rex inpudens facie et intellegens propositiones

8:24. And his power shall be strengthened, but not by his own force: and he shall lay all things waste, and shall prosper, and do more than can be believed. And he shall destroy the mighty, and the people of the saints, et roborabitur fortitudo eius sed non in viribus suis et supra quam credi potest universa vastabit et prosperabitur et faciet et interficiet robustos et populum sanctorum

8:25. According to his will, and craft shall be successful in his hand: and his heart shall be puffed up, and in the abundance of all things he shall kill many: and he shall rise up against the prince of princes, and shall be broken without hand.

secundum voluntatem suam et dirigetur dolus in manu eius et cor suum magnificabit et in copia rerum omnium occidet plurimos et contra principem principum consurget et sine manu conteretur

8:26. And the vision of the evening and the morning, which was told, is true: thou, therefore, seal up the vision, because it shall come to pass after many days.

et visio vespere et mane quae dicta est vera est tu ergo signa visionem quia post dies multos erit

8:27. And I, Daniel, languished, and was sick for some days: and when I was risen up, I did the king's business, and I was astonished at the vision, and there was none that could interpret it.

et ego Danihel languui et aegrotavi per dies cumque surrexissem faciebam opera regis et stupebam ad visionem et non erat qui interpretaretur

Daniel Chapter 9

Daniel's confession and prayer: Gabriel informs him concerning the seventy weeks to the coming of Christ.

---

9:1. In the first year of Darius, the son of Assuerus, of the seed of the Medes, who reigned over the kingdom of the Chaldeans:

in anno primo Darii filii Asueri de semine Medorum qui imperavit super regnum Chaldehyum

9:2. The first year of his reign I, Daniel, understood by books the number of the years, concerning which the word of the Lord came to Jeremias, the prophet, that seventy years should be accomplished of the desolation of Jerusalem.

anno uno regni eius ego Danihel intellexi in libris numerum annorum de quo factus est sermo Domini ad Hieremiam prophetam ut conplerentur desolationes Hierusalem septuaginta anni

9:3. And I set my face to the Lord, my God, to pray and make supplication with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes.

et posui faciem meam ad Dominum Deum rogare et deprecari in ieiuniis sacco et cinere

9:4. And I prayed to the Lord, my God, and I made my confession, and said: I beseech thee, O Lord God, great and terrible, who keepest the covenant, and mercy to them that love thee, and keep thy commandments.

et oravi Dominum Deum meum et confessus sum et dixi obsecro Domine Deus magne et terribilis custodiens pactum et misericordiam diligentibus te et custodientibus mandata tua

9:5. We have sinned, we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly, and have revolted: and we have gone aside from thy commandments, and thy judgments.

peccavimus inique fecimus impie egimus et recessimus et declinavimus a mandatis tuis ac iudiciis

9:6. We have not hearkened to thy servants, the prophets, that have spoken in thy name to our kings, to our princes, to our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

non oboedivimus servis tuis prophetis qui locuti sunt in nomine tuo regibus nostris principibus nostris patribus nostris omnique populo terrae

9:7. To thee, O Lord, justice: but to us confusion of face, as at this day to the men of Juda, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, to them that are near, and to them that are far off, in all the countries whither thou hast driven them, for their iniquities, by which they have sinned against thee.

tibi Domine iustitia nobis autem confusio faciei sicut est hodie viro Iuda et habitatoribus Hierusalem et omni Israhel his qui prope sunt et his qui procul in universis terris ad quas eiecisti eos propter iniquitates eorum in quibus peccaverunt in te

9:8. O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our princes, and to our fathers, that have sinned.

Domine nobis confusio faciei regibus nostris principibus nostris et patribus nostris qui peccaverunt

9:9. But to thee, the Lord our God, mercy and forgiveness, for we have departed from thee:

tibi autem Domino Deo nostro misericordia et propitiatio quia recessimus a te

9:10. And we have not hearkened to the voice of the Lord, our God, to walk in his law, which he set before us by his servants, the prophets.

et non audivimus vocem Domini Dei nostri ut ambularem in lege eius quam posuit nobis per servos suos prophetas

9:11. And all Israel have transgressed thy law, and have turned away from hearing thy voice, and the malediction, and the curse, which is written in the book of Moses, the servant of God, is fallen upon us, because we have sinned against him.

et omnis Israhel praevaricati sunt legem tuam et declinaverunt ne audirent vocem tuam et stillavit super nos maledictio et detestatio quae scripta est in libro Mosi servi Dei quia peccavimus ei

9:12. And he hath confirmed his words which he spoke against us, and against our princes that judged us, that he would bring in upon us a great evil, such as never was under all the heaven, according to that which hath been done in Jerusalem.

et statuit sermones suos quos locutus est super nos et super principes nostros qui iudicaverunt nos ut superducerent in nos malum magnum quale numquam fuit sub omni caelo secundum quod factum est in Hierusalem

9:13. As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: and we entreated not thy face, O Lord our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and think on thy truth.

sicut scriptum est in lege Mosi omne malum hoc venit super nos et non rogavimus faciem tuam Domine Deus noster ut reverteremur ab iniquitatibus nostris et cogitaremus veritatem tuam

9:14. And the Lord hath watched upon the evil, and hath brought it upon us: the Lord, our God, is just in all his works which he hath done: for we have not hearkened to his voice.

et vigilavit Dominus et adduxit eam super nos iustus Dominus Deus noster in omnibus operibus suis quae fecit non enim audivimus vocem eius

9:15. And now, O Lord, our God, who hast brought forth thy people out of the land of Egypt, with a strong hand, and hast made thee a name as at this day: we have sinned, we have committed iniquity, et nunc Domine Deus noster qui eduxisti populum tuum de terra Aegypti in manu forti et fecisti tibi nomen secundum diem hanc peccavimus iniquitatem fecimus

9:16. O Lord, against all thy justice: let thy wrath and thy indignation be turned away, I beseech thee, from thy city, Jerusalem, and from thy holy mountain. For by reason of our sins, and the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem, and thy people, are a reproach to all that are round about us.

Domine in omnem iustitiam tuam avertatur obsecro ira tua et furor tuus a civitate tua Hierusalem et monte sancto tuo propter peccata enim nostra et iniquitates patrum nostrorum Hierusalem et populus tuus in obprobrium sunt omnibus per circuitum nostrum

9:17. Now, therefore, O our God, hear the supplication of thy servant, and his prayers: and show thy face upon thy sanctuary, which is desolate, for thy own sake.

nunc ergo exaudi Deus noster orationem servi tui et preces eius et ostende faciem tuam super sanctuarium tuum quod desertum est propter temet ipsum

9:18. Incline, O my God, thy ear, and hear: open thy eyes, and see our desolation, and the city upon which thy name is called: for it is not for our justifications that we present our prayers before thy face, but for the multitude of thy tender mercies.

inclina Deus meus aurem tuam et audi aperi oculos tuos et vide desolationem nostram et civitatem super quam invocatum est nomen tuum neque enim in iustificationibus nostris prosternimus preces ante faciem tuam sed in miserationibus tuis multis

exaudi Domine placare Domine adtende et fac ne moreris propter temet ipsum Deus meus quia nomen tuum invocatum est super civitatem et super populum tuum

9:20. Now while I was yet speaking, and praying, and confessing my sins, and the sins of my people of Israel, and presenting my supplications in the sight of my God, for the holy mountain of my God:

cumque adhuc loquerer et orarem et confiterer peccata mea et peccata populi mei Israhel ut prosternerem preces meas in conspectu Dei mei pro monte sancto Dei mei

9:21. As I was yet speaking in prayer, behold the man, Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, flying swiftly, touched me at the time of the evening sacrifice.

adhuc me loquente in oratione ecce vir Gabrihel quem videram in visione principio cito volans tetigit me in tempore sacrificii vespertini

The man Gabriel... The angel Gabriel in the shape of a man.

9:22. And he instructed me, and spoke to me, and said: O Daniel, I am now come forth to teach thee, and that thou mightest understand.

et docuit me et locutus est mihi dixitque Danihel nunc egressus sum ut docerem te et intellegeres

9:23. From the beginning of thy prayers the word came forth: and I am come to show it to thee, because thou art a man of desires: therefore, do thou mark the word, and understand the vision.

ab exordio precum tuarum egressus est sermo ego autem veni ut indicarem tibi quia vir desideriorum es tu ergo animadvertite sermonem et intellege visionem

Man of desires... that is, ardently praying for the Jews then in captivity.

9:24. Seventy weeks are shortened upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, that transgression may be finished, and sin may have an end, and iniquity may be abolished; and everlasting justice may be brought; and vision and prophecy may be fulfilled; and the Saint of saints may be anointed.

septuaginta ebdomades abbreviatae sunt super populum tuum et super urbem sanctam tuam ut consummetur praevaricatio et finem accipiat peccatum et deleatur iniquitas et adducatur iustitia sempiterna et impleatur visio et prophetes et unguatur sanctus sanctorum

Seventy weeks... Viz., of years, (or seventy times seven, that is, 490 years), are shortened; that is, fixed and determined, so that the time shall be no longer.

9:25. Know thou, therefore, and take notice: that from the going forth of the word, to build up Jerusalem again, unto Christ, the prince, there shall be seven weeks, and sixty-two weeks: and the street shall be built again, and the walls, in straitness of times.

scito ergo et animadvertite ab exitu sermonis ut iterum aedificetur Hierusalem usque ad christum ducem ebdomades septem et ebdomades sexaginta duae erunt et rursum aedificabitur platea et muri in angustia temporum

From the going forth of the word, etc... That is, from the twentieth year of king Artaxerxes, when by his commandment Nehemias rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem, Nehemiah 2. From which time, according to the best chronology, there were just sixty-nine weeks of years, that is, 483 years to the baptism of Christ, when he first began to preach and execute the office of Messias. -- Ibid. In straitness of times... angustia temporum: which may allude both to the difficulties and opposition they met with in building: and to the shortness of the time in which they finished the wall, viz., fifty-two days.

9:26. And after sixty-two weeks Christ shall be slain: and the people that shall deny him shall not be his. And a people, with their leader, that shall come, shall destroy the city, and the sanctuary: and the end thereof shall be waste, and after the end of the war the appointed desolation.

et post ebdomades sexaginta duas occidetur christus et non erit eius et civitatem et sanctuarium dissipabit populus cum duce venturo et finis eius vastitas et post finem belli statuta desolatio

A people with their leader... The Romans under Titus.

9:27. And he shall confirm the covenant with many, in one week: and in the half of the week the victim and the sacrifice shall fail: and there shall be in the temple the abomination of desolation: and the desolation shall continue even to the consummation, and to the end.

confirmabit autem pactum multis ebdomas una et in dimidio ebdomadis deficiet hostia et sacrificium et in templo erit abominatio desolationis et usque ad consummationem et finem perseverabit desolatio

In the half of the week... or, in the middle of the week, etc. Because Christ preached three years and a half: and then by his sacrifice upon the cross abolished all the sacrifices of the law. -- Ibid. The abomination of desolation... Some understand this of the profanation of the temple by the crimes of the Jews, and by the bloody faction of the zealots. Others of the bringing in thither the ensigns and standard of the pagan Romans. Others, in fine, distinguish three different times of desolation: viz., that under Antiochus; that when the temple was destroyed by the Romans; and the last near the end of the world under Antichrist. To all which, as they suppose, this prophecy may have a relation.

Daniel Chapter 10

Daniel having humbled himself by fasting and penance seeth a vision, with which he is much terrified; but he is comforted by an angel.

---

10:1. In the third year of Cyrus, king of the Persians, a word was revealed to Daniel, surnamed Baltassar, and a true word, and great strength: and he understood the word: for there is need of understanding in a vision.

anno tertio Cyri regis Persarum verbum revelatum est Daniheli cognomento Balthasar et verum verbum et fortitudo magna intellexitque sermonem intellegentia est enim opus in visione

in diebus illis ego Danihel lugebam trium ebdomadarum diebus

10:3. I ate no desirable bread, and neither flesh, nor wine, entered into my mouth, neither was I anointed with ointment: till the days of three weeks were accomplished.

panem desiderabilem non comedi et caro et vinum non introierunt in os meum sed neque unguento unctus sum donec conplerentur trium ebdomadarum dies

10:4. And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, I was by the great river, which is the Tigris.

die autem vicesima et quarta mensis primi eram iuxta fluvium magnum qui est Tigris

10:5. And I lifted up my eyes, and I saw: and behold a man clothed in linen, and his loins were girded with the finest gold:

et levavi oculos meos et vidi et ecce vir unus vestitus lineis et renes eius accincti auro obrizo

10:6. And his body was like the chrysolite, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as a burning lamp: and his arms, and all downward even to the feet, like in appearance to glittering brass: and the voice of his word like the voice of a multitude.

et corpus eius quasi chrysolitus et facies eius velut species fulgoris et oculi eius ut lampas ardens et brachia eius et quae deorsum usque ad pedes quasi species aeris candentis et vox sermonum eius ut vox multitudinis

10:7. And I, Daniel alone, saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw it not: but an exceeding great terror fell upon them, and they fled away, and hid themselves.

vidi autem ego Danihel solus visionem porro viri qui erant mecum non viderunt sed terror nimius inruit super eos et fugerunt in absconditum

10:8. And I, being left alone, saw this great vision: and there remained no strength in me, and the appearance of my countenance was changed in me, and I fainted away, and retained no strength.

ego autem relictus solus vidi visionem grandem hanc et non remansit in me fortitudo sed et species mea inmutata est in me et emarcui nec habui quicquam virium

10:9. And I heard the voice of his words: and when I heard I lay in a consternation upon my face, and my face was close to the ground.

et audivi vocem sermonum eius et audiens iacebam consternatus super faciem meam vultusque meus herebat terrae

10:10. And behold a hand touched me, and lifted me up upon my knees, and upon the joints of my hands.

et ecce manus tetigit me et erexit me super genua mea et super articulos manuum mearum

10:11. And he said to me: Daniel, thou man of desires, understand the words that I speak to thee, and stand upright: for I am sent now to thee. And when he had said this word to me, I stood trembling.

et dixit ad me Danihel vir desideriorum intellege verba quae ego loquor ad te et sta in gradu tuo nunc enim sum missus ad te cumque dixisset mihi sermonem istum steti tremens

10:12. And he said to me: Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thy heart to understand, to afflict thyself in the sight of thy God, thy words have been heard: and I am come for thy words.

et ait ad me noli metuere Danihel quia ex die primo quo posuisti cor tuum ad intellegendum ut te adfligeres in conspectu Dei tui exaudita sunt verba tua et ego veni propter sermones tuos

10:13. But the prince of the kingdom of the Persians resisted me one and twenty days: and behold Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me, and I remained there by the king of the Persians. princeps autem regni Persarum restitit mihi viginti et uno diebus et ecce Michahel unus de principibus primis venit in adiutorium meum et ego remansi ibi iuxta regem Persarum

The prince, etc... That is, the angel guardian of Persia: who according to his office, seeking the spiritual good of the Persians was desirous that many of the Jews should remain among them.

10:14. But I am come to teach thee what things shall befall thy people in the latter days, for as yet the vision is for days.

veni autem ut docerem te quae ventura sunt populo tuo in novissimis diebus quoniam adhuc visio in dies

10:15. And when he was speaking such words to me, I cast down my countenance to the ground, and held my peace.

cumque loqueretur mihi huiusmodi verbis deieci vultum meum ad terram et tacui

10:16. And behold as it were the likeness of a son of man touched my lips: then I opened my mouth and spoke, and said to him that stood before me: O my lord, at the sight of thee my joints are loosed, and no strength hath remained in me.

et ecce quasi similitudo filii hominis tetigit labia mea et aperiens os meum locutus sum et dixi ad eum qui stabat contra me domine mi in visione tua dissolutae sunt conpages meae et nihil in me remansit virium

10:17. And how can the servant of my lord speak with my lord? for no strength remaineth in me; moreover, my breath is stopped.

et quomodo poterit servus domini mei loqui cum domino meo nihil enim in me remansit virium sed et halitus meus intercluditur

10:18. Therefore, he that looked like a man, touched me again, and strengthened me.

rursum ergo tetigit me quasi visio hominis et confortavit me

10:19. And he said: Fear not, O man of desires, peace be to thee: take courage, and be strong. And when he spoke to me, I grew strong, and I said: Speak, O my lord, for thou hast strengthened me.

et dixit noli timere vir desideriorum pax tibi confortare et esto robustus cumque loqueretur mecum convalui et dixi loquere domine mi quia confortasti me

10:20. And he said: Dost thou know wherefore I am come to thee? And now I will return, to fight against the prince of the Persians. When I went forth, there appeared the prince of the Greeks coming.

et ait numquid scis quare venerim ad te et nunc revertar ut proeliet adversum principem Persarum cum enim egrederer apparuit princeps Graecorum veniens

10:21. But I will tell thee what is set down in the scripture of truth: and none is my helper in all these things, but Michael your prince.

verumtamen adnuntiabo tibi quod expressum est in scriptura veritatis et nemo est adiutor meus in omnibus his nisi Michahel princeps vester

Michael your prince... The guardian general of the church of God.

Daniel Chapter 11

The angel declares to Daniel many things to come, with regard to the Persian and Grecian kings: more especially with regard to Antiochus as a figure of Antichrist.

---

11:1. And from the first year of Darius, the Mede, I stood up, that he might be strengthened, and confirmed.

ego autem ab anno primo Darii Medi stabam ut confortaretur et roboraretur

11:2. And now I will show thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand yet three kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be enriched exceedingly above them all: and when he shall be grown mighty by his riches, he shall stir up all against the kingdom of Greece.

et nunc veritatem adnuntiabo tibi ecce adhuc tres reges stabunt in Perside et quartus ditabitur opibus nimiis super omnes et cum invaluerit divitiis suis concitabit omnes adversum regnum Graeciae

Three kings... Viz., Cambyses, Smerdes Magus, and Darius, the son of Hystaspes. -- Ibid. The fourth... Xerxes.

11:3. But there shall rise up a strong king, and shall rule with great power: and he shall do what he pleaseth.

surget vero rex fortis et dominabitur potestate multa et faciet quod placuerit ei

A strong king... Alexander.

11:4. And when he shall come to his height, his kingdom shall be broken, and it shall be divided towards the four winds of the heaven: but not to his posterity, nor according to his power with which he ruled. For his kingdom shall be rent in pieces, even for strangers, besides these.

et cum steterit conteretur regnum eius et dividetur in quattuor ventos caeli sed non in posteros eius neque secundum potentiam illius qua dominatus est lacerabitur enim regnum eius etiam in externos exceptis his

11:5. And the king of the south shall be strengthened, and one of his princes shall prevail over him, and he shall rule with great power: for his dominions shall be great.

et confortabitur rex austri et de principibus eius praevalebit super eum et dominabitur dicione multa enim dominatio eius

The king of the south... Ptolemeus the son of Lagus, king of Egypt, which lies south of Jerusalem. -- Ibid. One of his princes... that is, one of Alexander's princes, shall prevail over him: that is, shall be stronger than the king of Egypt. He speaks of Seleucus Nicator, king of Asia and Syria, whose successors are here called the kings of the north, because their dominions lay to the north in respect to Jerusalem.

11:6. And after the end of years they shall be in league together: and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make friendship, but she shall not obtain the strength of the arm, neither shall her seed stand: and she shall be given up, and her young men that brought her, and they that strengthened her in these times.

et post finem annorum foederabuntur filiaque regis austri veniet ad regem aquilonis facere amicitiam et non obtinebit fortitudinem brachii nec stabit semen eius et tradetur ipsa et qui adduxerunt eam adulescentes eius et qui confortabant eam in temporibus

The daughter of the king of the south... Viz., Berenice, daughter of Ptolemeus Philadelphus, given in marriage to Antiochus Theos, grandson of Seleucus.

11:7. And a plant of the bud of her roots shall stand up: and he shall come with an army, and shall enter into the province of the king of the north: and he shall abuse them, and shall prevail.

et stabit de germine radicum eius plantatio et veniet cum exercitu et ingrediatur provinciam regis aquilonis et abutetur eis et obtinebit

A plant, etc... Ptolemeus Evergetes, the son of Philadelphus.

11:8. And he shall also carry away captive into Egypt their gods, and their graven things, and their precious vessels of gold and silver: he shall prevail against the king of the north.

insuper et deos eorum et sculptilia vasa quoque pretiosa argenti et auri captiva ducet in Aegyptum ipse praevalebit adversum regem aquilonis

The king of the north... Seleucus Callinicus.

11:9. And the king of the south shall enter into the kingdom, and shall return to his own land.
et intrabit in regnum rex austri et revertetur ad terram suam

11:10. And his sons shall be provoked, and they shall assemble a multitude of great forces: and he shall come with haste like a flood: and he shall return, and be stirred up, and he shall join battle with his force.
filii autem eius provocabuntur et congregabunt multitudinem exercituum plurimorum et veniet properans et inundans et revertetur et concitabitur et congregietur cum robore eius

His sons... Seleucus Ceraunius, and Antiochus the Great, the sons of Callinicus. -- Ibid. He shall come... Viz., Antiochus the Great.

11:11. And the king of the south being provoked, shall go forth, and shall fight against the king of the north, and shall prepare an exceeding great multitude, and a multitude shall be given into his hands.
et provocatus rex austri egredietur et pugnabit adversum regem aquilonis et praeparabit multitudinem nimiam et dabitur multitudo in manu eius

The king of the south... Ptolemeus Philopator, son of Evergetes.

11:12. And he shall take a multitude, and his heart shall be lifted up, and he shall cast down many thousands: but he shall not prevail.
et capiet multitudinem et exaltabitur cor eius et deiciet multa milia sed non praevalebit

11:13. For the king of the north shall return, and shall prepare a multitude much greater than before: and in the end of times, and years, he shall come in haste with a great army, and much riches.
convertetur enim rex aquilonis et praeparabit multitudinem multo maiorem quam prius et in fine temporum annorumque veniet properans cum exercitu magno et opibus nimis

11:14. And in those times many shall rise up against the king of the south, and the children of prevaricators of thy people shall lift up themselves to fulfil the vision, and they shall fall.
et in temporibus illis multi consurgent adversum regem austri filii quoque praevaricatorum populi tui extollentur ut impleant visionem et corruent

11:15. And the king of the north shall come, and shall cast up a mount, and shall take the best fenced cities: and the arms of the south shall not withstand, and his chosen ones shall rise up to resist, and they shall not have strength.
et veniet rex aquilonis et conportabit aggerem et capiet urbes munitissimas et brachia austri non sustinebunt et consurgent electi eius ad resistendum et non erit fortitudo

11:16. And he shall come upon him, and do according to his pleasure, and there shall be none to stand against his face: and he shall stand in the glorious land, and it shall be consumed by his hand.
et faciet veniens super eum iuxta placitum suum et non erit qui stet contra faciem eius et stabit in terra inclita et consumetur in manu eius

He shall come upon him... Viz., Antiochus shall come upon the king of the south. -- Ibid. The glorious land... Judea.

11:17. And he shall set his face to come to possess all his kingdom, and he shall make upright conditions with him: and he shall give him a daughter of women, to overthrow it: and she shall not stand, neither shall she be for him.
et ponet faciem suam ut veniat ad tenendum universum regnum eius et recta faciet cum eo et filiam feminarum dabit ei ut evertat illud et non stabit nec illius erit

All his kingdom... Viz., all the kingdom of Ptolemeus Epiphanes, son of Philopator. -- Ibid. A daughter of women... That is, a most beautiful woman, viz., his daughter Cleopatra. -- Ibid. To overthrow it... Viz., the kingdom of Epiphanes: but his policy shall not succeed; for Cleopatra shall take more to heart the interest of her husband, than that of her father.

11:18. And he shall turn his face to the islands, and shall take many: and he shall cause the prince of his reproach to cease, and his reproach shall be turned upon him.
et convertet faciem suam ad insulas et capiet multas et cessare faciet principem obprobrii sui et obprobrium eius convertetur in eum

The prince of his reproach... Scipio the Roman general, called the prince of his reproach, because he overthrew Antiochus, and obliged him to submit to very dishonourable terms, before he would cease from the war.

11:19. And he shall turn his face to the empire of his own land, and he shall stumble, and fall, and shall not be found.
et convertet faciem suam ad imperium terrae suae et inpinget et corruet et non inveniatur

11:20. And there shall stand up in his place one most vile, and unworthy of kingly honour: and in a few days he shall be destroyed, not in rage nor in battle.

et stabit in loco eius vilissimus et indignus decore regio et in paucis diebus conteretur non in furore nec in proelio

One most vile... Seleucus Philopator, who sent Heliodorus to plunder the temple: and was shortly after slain by the same Heliodorus.

11:21. And there shall stand up in his place one despised, and the kingly honour shall not be given him: and he shall come privately, and shall obtain the kingdom by fraud.

et stabit in loco eius despectus et non tribuetur ei honor regius et veniet clam et obtinebit regnum in fraudulentia

One despised... Viz., Antiochus Epiphanes, who at first was despised and not received for king. What is here said of this prince, is accommodated by St. Jerome and others to Antichrist; of whom this Antiochus was a figure.

11:22. And the arms of the fighter shall be overcome before his face, and shall be broken: yea, also the prince of the covenant.

et brachia pugnantis expugnabuntur a facie eius et conterentur insuper et dux foederis

Of the fighter... That is, of them that shall oppose him, and shall fight against him. -- Ibid. The prince of the covenant... or, of the league. The chief of them that conspired against him: or the king of Egypt his most powerful adversary.

11:23. And after friendships, he will deal deceitfully with him: and he shall go up, and shall overcome with a small people.

et post amicitias cum eo faciet dolum et ascendet et superabit in modico populo

11:24. And he shall enter into rich and plentiful cities: and he shall do that which his fathers never did, nor his fathers' fathers: he shall scatter their spoils, and their prey, and their riches, and shall forecast devices against the best fenced places: and this until a time.

abundantes et uberes urbes ingredietur et faciet quae non fecerunt patres eius et patres patrum eius rapinas et praedam et divitias eorum dissipabit et contra firmissimas cogitationes iniet et hoc usque ad tempus

et concitabitur fortitudo eius et cor eius adversum regem austri in exercitu magno et rex austri provocabitur ad bellum multis auxiliis et fortibus nimis et non stabunt quia inibunt adversum eum consilia

The king... Ptolemeus Philometor.

11:26. And they that eat bread with him, shall destroy him, and his army shall be overthrown: and many shall fall down slain.

et comedentes panem cum eo conterent illum exercitusque eius opprimetur et cadent interfecti plurimi

11:27. And the heart of the two kings shall be to do evil, and they shall speak lies at one table, and they shall not prosper: because as yet the end is unto another time.

duorum quoque regum cor erit ut malefaciant et ad mensam unam mendacium loquentur et non proficient quia adhuc finis in aliud tempus

11:28. And he shall return into his land with much riches: and his heart shall be against the holy covenant, and he shall succeed, and shall return into his own land.

et revertetur in terram suam cum opibus multis et cor eius adversus testamentum sanctum et faciet et revertetur in terram suam

11:29. At the time appointed he shall return, and he shall come to the south, but the latter time shall not be like the former.

statuto tempore revertetur et veniet ad austrum et non erit priori simile novissimum

11:30. And the galleys and the Romans shall come upon him, and he shall be struck, and shall return, and shall have indignation against the covenant of the sanctuary, and he shall succeed: and he shall return, and shall devise against them that have forsaken the covenant of the sanctuary.

et venient super eum trieres et Romani et percutietur et revertetur et indignabitur contra testamentum sanctuarii et faciet reverteturque et cogitabit adversum eos qui dereliquerunt testamentum sanctuarii

The galleys and the Romans... Popilius, and the other Roman ambassadors, who came in galleys, and obliged him to depart from Egypt.

11:31. And arms shall stand on his part, and they shall defile the sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the continual sacrifice: and they shall place there the abomination unto desolation.

et brachia ex eo stabunt et pollutent sanctuarium fortitudinis et auferent iuge sacrificium et dabunt abominationem in desolationem

They shall place there the abomination, etc... The idol of Jupiter Olympius, which Antiochus ordered to be set up in the sanctuary of the temple: which is here called the sanctuary of strength, from the Almighty that was worshipped there.

11:32. And such as deal wickedly against the covenant shall deceitfully dissemble: but the people that know their God shall prevail and succeed.

et impii in testamentum simulabunt fraudulentem populus autem sciens Deum suum obtinebit et faciet

11:33. And they that are learned among the people shall teach many: and they shall fall by the sword, and by fire, and by captivity, and by spoil for many days.

et docti in populo docebunt plurimos et ruent in gladio et in flamma in captivitate et rapina dierum

11:34. And when they shall have fallen, they shall be relieved with a small help: and many shall be joined to them deceitfully.

cumque corruerint sublevabuntur auxilio parvulo et adplicabuntur eis plurimi fraudulentem

11:35. And some of the learned shall fall, that they may be tried, and may be chosen, and made white, even to the appointed time: because yet there shall be another time.

et de eruditibus ruent ut conflentur et eligantur et dealbentur usque ad tempus praefinitum quia adhuc aliud tempus erit

11:36. And the king shall do according to his will, and he shall be lifted up, and shall magnify himself against every god: and he shall speak great things against the God of gods, and shall prosper, till the wrath be accomplished. For the determination is made.

et faciet iuxta voluntatem suam rex et elevabitur et magnificabitur adversum omnem deum et adversum Deum deorum loquetur magna et diriget donec compleatur iracundia perpetrata est quippe definitio

11:37. And he shall make no account of the God of his fathers: and he shall follow the lust of women, and he shall not regard any gods: for he shall rise up against all things.

et Deum patrum suorum non reputabit et erit in concupiscentiis feminarum nec quemquam deorum curabit quia adversum universa consurget

11:38. But he shall worship the god Maozim, in his place: and a god whom his fathers knew not, he shall worship with gold, and silver, and precious stones, and things of great price.

deum autem Maozim in loco suo venerabitur et deum quem ignoraverunt patres eius colet auro et argento et lapide pretioso rebusque pretiosis

The god Maozim... That is, the god of forces or strong holds.

11:39. And he shall do this to fortify Maozim with a strange god, whom he hath acknowledged, and he shall increase glory, and shall give them power over many, and shall divide the land gratis.

et faciet ut muniat Maozim cum deo alieno quem cognovit et multiplicabit gloriam et dabit eis potestatem in multis et terram dividet gratuito

And he shall increase glory, etc... He shall bestow honours, riches and lands, upon them that shall worship his god.

11:40. And at the time prefixed the king of the south shall fight against him, and the king of the north shall come against him like a tempest, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with a great navy, and he shall enter into the countries, and shall destroy, and pass through.

et in tempore praefinito proeliabitur adversum eum rex austri et quasi tempestas veniet contra illum rex aquilonis in curribus et in equitibus et in classe magna et ingredietur terras et conteret et pertransiet

et introibit in terram gloriosam et multae corruent hae autem solae salvabuntur de manu eius Edom et Moab et principium filiorum Ammon

11:42. And he shall lay his hand upon the lands: and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

et mittet manum suam in terras et terra Aegypti non effugiet

11:43. And he shall have power over the treasures of gold, and of silver, and all the precious things of Egypt: and he shall pass through Libya, and Ethiopia.

et dominabitur thesaurorum auri et argenti et in omnibus pretiosis Aegypti per Lybias quoque et Aethiopias transibit

11:44. And tidings out of the east, and out of the north, shall trouble him: and he shall come with a great multitude to destroy and slay many.

et fama turbabit eum ab oriente et ab aquilone et veniet in multitudine magna ut conterat et interficiat plurimos

11:45. And he shall fix his tabernacle, Apadno, between the seas, upon a glorious and holy mountain: and he shall come even to the top thereof, and none shall help him.

et figet tabernaculum suum Apedno inter maria super montem inclitum et sanctum et veniet usque ad summitatem eius et nemo auxiliabitur ei

Apadno... Some take it for the proper name of a place: others, from the Hebrew, translate it his palace.

Daniel Chapter 12

Michael shall stand up for the people of God: with other things relating to Antichrist, and the end of the world.

---

12:1. But at that time shall Michael rise up, the great prince, who standeth for the children of thy people: and a time shall come, such as never was from the time that nations began, even until that time. And at that time shall thy people be saved, every one that shall be found written in the book.

in tempore autem illo consurget Michahel princeps magnus qui stat pro filiis populi tui et veniet tempus quale non fuit ab eo quo gentes esse coeperunt usque ad tempus illud et in tempore illo salvabitur populus tuus omnis qui inventus fuerit scriptus in libro

12:2. And many of those that sleep in the dust of the earth, shall awake: some unto life everlasting, and others unto reproach, to see it always.

et multi de his qui dormiunt in terrae pulvere evigilabunt alii in vitam aeternam et alii in obprobrium ut videant semper

12:3. But they that are learned, shall shine as the brightness of the firmament: and they that instruct many to justice, as stars for all eternity.

qui autem docti fuerint fulgebunt quasi splendor firmamenti et qui ad iustitiam erudiunt multos quasi stellae in perpetuas aeternitates

Learned... Viz., in the law of God and true wisdom, which consists in knowing and loving God.

12:4. But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time appointed: many shall pass over, and knowledge shall be manifold.

tu autem Danihel clude sermones et signa librum usque ad tempus statutum pertransibunt plurimi et multiplex erit scientia

12:5. And I, Daniel, looked, and behold as it were two others stood: one on this side upon the bank of the river, and another on that side, on the other bank of the river.

et vidi ego Danihel et ecce quasi duo alii stabant unus hinc super ripam fluminis et alius inde ex altera ripa fluminis

12:6. And I said to the man that was clothed in linen, that stood upon the waters of the river: How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?

et dixi viro qui indutus erat lineis qui stabat super aquas fluminis usquequo finis horum mirabilium

12:7. And I heard the man that was clothed in linen, that stood upon the waters of the river, when he had lifted up his right hand, and his left hand to heaven, and had sworn by him that liveth for ever, that it should be unto a time, and times, and half a time. And when the scattering of the band of the holy people shall be accomplished, all these things shall be finished.

et audivi virum qui indutus erat lineis qui stabat super aquas fluminis cum levasset dexteram et sinistram suam in caelum et iurasset per viventem in aeternum quia in tempus temporum et dimidium temporis et cum completa fuerit dispersio manus populi sancti conplebuntur universa haec

12:8. And I heard, and understood not. And I said: O my lord, what shall be after these things?

et ego audivi et non intellexi et dixi domine mi quid erit post haec

12:9. And he said: Go, Daniel, because the words are shut up, and sealed until the appointed time.

et ait vade Danihel quia clausi sunt signatique sermones usque ad tempus praefinitum

12:10. Many shall be chosen, and made white, and shall be tried as fire: and the wicked shall deal wickedly, and none of the wicked shall understand, but the learned shall understand.

eligentur et dealbabuntur et quasi ignis probabuntur multi et impie agent impii neque intellegent omnes impii porro docti intellegent

12:11. And from the time when the continual sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abomination unto desolation shall be set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred ninety days.

et a tempore cum ablatum fuerit iuge sacrificium et posita fuerit abominatio in desolatione dies mille ducenti nonaginta

12:12. Blessed is he that waitedth, and cometh unto a thousand three hundred thirty-five days.

beatus qui expectat et pervenit ad dies mille trecentos triginta quinque

12:13. But go thou thy ways until the time appointed: and thou shalt rest, and stand in thy lot unto the end of the days.

tu autem vade ad praefinitum et requiesce et stabis in sorte tua in fine dierum

Daniel Chapter 13

The history of Susanna and the two elders.

---

This history of Susanna, in all the ancient Greek and Latin Bibles, was placed in the beginning of the book of Daniel: till St. Jerome, in his translation, detached it from thence; because he did not find it in the Hebrew: which is also the case of the history of Bel and the Dragon. But both the one and the other are received by the Catholic Church: and were from the very beginning a part of the Christian Bible.

13:1. Now there was a man that dwelt in Babylon, and his name was Joakim:

13:2. And he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helcias, a very beautiful woman, and one that feared God.

13:3. For her parents being just, had instructed their daughter according to the law of Moses.

13:4. Now Joakim was very rich, and had an orchard near his house: and the Jews resorted to him, because he was the most honourable of them all.

13:5. And there were two of the ancients of the people appointed judges that year, of whom the Lord said: That iniquity came out from Babylon, from the ancient judges, that seemed to govern the people.

13:6. These men frequented the house of Joakim, and all that hand any maters of judgment came to them.

13:7. And when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went in, and walked in her husband's orchard.

13:8. And the old men saw her going in every day, and walking: and they were inflamed with lust towards her:

13:9. And they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgments.

13:10. So they were both wounded with the love of her, yet they did not make known their grief one to the other.

13:11. For they were ashamed to declare to one another their lust, being desirous to have to do with her:

13:12. And they watched carefully every day to see her. And one said to the other:

13:13. Let us now go home, for it is dinner time. So going out, they departed one from another.

13:14. And turning back again, they came both to the same place: and asking one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: and then they agreed together upon a time, when they might find her alone.

13:15. And it fell out, as they watched a fit day, she went in on a time, as yesterday and the day before, with two maids only, and was desirous to wash herself in the orchard: for it was hot weather.

13:16. And there was nobody there, but the two old men that had hid themselves, and were beholding her.

13:17. So she said to the maids: Bring me oil, and washing balls, and shut the doors of the orchard, that I may wash me.

13:18. And they did as she bade them: and they shut the doors of the orchard, and went out by a back door to fetch what she had commanded them, and they knew not that the elders were hid within.

13:19. Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders arose, and ran to her, and said:

13:20. Behold the doors of the orchard are shut, and nobody seeth us, and we are in love with thee:

wherefore consent to us, and lie with us.

13:21. But if thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee, and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee.

13:22. Susanna sighed, and said: I am straitened on every side: for if I do this thing, it is death to me: and if I do it not, I shall not escape your hands.

13:23. But it is better for me to fall into your hands without doing it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord.

13:24. With that Susanna cried out with a loud voice: and the elders also cried out against her.

13:25. And one of them ran to the door of the orchard, and opened it.

13:26. So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the orchard, they rushed in by the back door, to see what was the matter.

13:27. But after the old men had spoken, the servants were greatly ashamed: for never had there been any such word said of Susanna. And on the next day,

13:28. When the people were come to Joakim, her husband, the two elders also came full of wicked device against Susanna, to put her to death.

13:29. And they said before the people: Send to Susanna, daughter of Helcias, the wife of Joakim. And presently they sent.

13:30. And she came with her parents, and children and all her kindred.

13:31. Now Susanna was exceeding delicate, and beautiful to behold.

13:32. But those wicked men commanded that her face should be uncovered, (for she was covered) that so at least they might be satisfied with her beauty.

13:33. Therefore her friends, and all her acquaintance wept.

13:34. But the two elders rising up in the midst of the people, laid their hands upon her head.

13:35. And she weeping, looked up to heaven, for her heart had confidence in the Lord.

13:36. And the elders said: As we walked in the orchard alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the doors of the orchard, and sent away the maids from her.

13:37. Then a young man that was there hid came to her, and lay with her.

13:38. But we that were in a corner of the orchard, seeing this wickedness, ran up to them, and we saw them lie together.

13:39. And him indeed we could not take, because he was stronger than us, and opening the doors, he leaped out:

13:40. But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: of this thing we are witnesses.

13:41. The multitude believed them, as being the elders, and the judges of the people, and they condemned her to death.

13:42. Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said: O eternal God, who knowest hidden things, who knowest all things before they come to pass,

13:43. Thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me: and behold I must die, whereas I have done none of these things, which these men have maliciously forged against me.

13:44. And the Lord heard her voice.

13:45. And when she was led to be put to death, the Lord raised up the holy spirit of a young boy, whose name was Daniel:

13:46. And he cried out with a loud voice: I am clear from the blood of this woman.

13:47. Then all the people turning themselves towards him, said: What meaneth this word that thou hast spoken?

13:48. But he standing in the midst of them, said: Are ye so foolish, ye children of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth, you have condemned a daughter of Israel?

13:49. Return to judgment, for they have borne false witness against her.

13:50. So all the people turned again in haste, and the old men said to him: Come, and sit thou down among us, and show it us: seeing God hath given thee the honour of old age.

13:51. And Daniel said to the people: Separate these two far from one another, and I will examine them.

13:52. So when they were put asunder one from the other, he called one of them, and said to him: O thou that art grown old in evil days, now are thy sins come out, which thou hast committed before:

13:53. In judging unjust judgments, oppressing the innocent, and letting the guilty to go free, whereas the Lord saith: The innocent and the just thou shalt not kill.

13:54. Now then if thou sawest her, tell me under what tree thou sawest them conversing together: He said: Under a mastic tree.

13:55. And Daniel said: Well hast thou lied against thy own head: for behold the angel of God having received the sentence of him, shall cut thee in two.

13:56. And having put him aside, he commanded that the other should come, and he said to him: O thou seed of Chanaan, and not of Juda, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust hath perverted thy heart:

13:57. Thus did you do to the daughters of Israel, and they for fear conversed with you: but a daughter of Juda would not abide your wickedness.

13:58. Now, therefore, tell me, under what tree didst thou take them conversing together. And he answered: Under a holm tree.

13:59. And Daniel said to him: Well hast thou also lied against thy own head: for the angel of the Lord waiteth with a sword to cut thee in two, and to destroy you.

13:60. With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and they blessed God, who saveth them that trust in him.

13:61. And they rose up against the two elders, (for Daniel had convicted them of false witness by their own mouth) and they did to them as they had maliciously dealt against their neighbour,

13:62. To fulfil the law of Moses: and they put them to death, and innocent blood was saved in that day.

13:63. But Helcias, and his wife, praised God, for their daughter, Susanna, with Joakim, her husband, and all her kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her.

13:64. And Daniel became great in the sight of the people from that day, and thence forward.

13:65. And king Astyages was gathered to his fathers; and Cyrus, the Persian, received his kingdom.

Daniel Chapter 14

The history of Bel, and of the great serpent worshipped by the Babylonians.

---

14:1. And Daniel was the king's guest, and was honoured above all his friends.

The king's guest... It seems most probable, that the king here spoken of was Evilmerodach, the son and successor of Nabuchodonosor, and a great favourer of the Jews.

14:2. Now the Babylonians had an idol called Bel: and there was spent upon him every day twelve great measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six vessels of wine.

14:3. The king also worshipped him, and went every day to adore him: but Daniel adored his God. And the king said to him: Why dost thou not adore Bel?

14:4. And he answered, and said to him: Because I do not worship idols made with hands, but the living God, that created heaven and earth, and hath power over all flesh.

14:5. And the king said to him: Doth not Bel seem to thee to be a living god? Seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh every day?

14:6. Then Daniel smiled, and said: O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, neither hath he eaten at any time.

14:7. And the king being angry, called for his priests, and said to them: If you tell me not who it is that eateth up these expenses, you shall die.

14:8. But if you can show that Bel eateth these things, Daniel shall die, because he hath blasphemed against Bel. And Daniel said to the king: Be it done according to thy word.

14:9. Now the priests of Bel were seventy, beside their wives, and little ones, and children. And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

14:10. And the priests of Bel said: Behold, we go out: and do thou, O king, set on the meats, and make ready the wine, and shut the door fast, and seal it with thy own ring:

14:11. And when thou comest in the morning, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death, or else Daniel, that hath lied against us.

14:12. And they little regarded it, because they had made under the table a secret entrance, and they always came in by it, and consumed those things.

14:13. So it came to pass after they were gone out, the king set the meats before Bel: and Daniel commanded his servants, and they brought ashes, and he sifted them all over the temple before the king: and going forth, they shut the door, and having sealed it with the king's ring, they departed.

14:14. But the priests went in by night, according to their custom, with their wives, and their children: and they eat and drank up all.

14:15. And the king arose early in the morning, and Daniel with him.

14:16. And the king said: Are the seals whole, Daniel? And he answered: They are whole, O king.

14:17. And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried out with a loud voice: Great art thou, O Bel, and there is not any deceit with thee.

14:18. And Daniel laughed: and he held the king, that he should not go in: and he said: Behold the pavement, mark whose footsteps these are.

14:19. And the king said: I see the footsteps of men, and women, and children. And the king was angry.

14:20. Then he took the priests, and their wives, and their children: and they showed him the private doors by which they came in, and consumed the things that were on the table.

14:21. The king, therefore, put them to death, and delivered Bel into the power of Daniel: who destroyed him and his temple.

14:22. And there was a great dragon in that place, and the Babylonians worshipped him.

14:23. And the king said to Daniel: Behold, thou canst not say now, that this is not a living god: adore him, therefore.

14:24. And Daniel said: I adore the Lord, my God: for he is the living God: but that is no living god.

14:25. But give me leave, O king, and I will kill this dragon without sword or club. And the king said, I give thee leave.

14:26. Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and boiled them together: and he made lumps, and put them into the dragon's mouth, and the dragon burst asunder. And he said: Behold him whom you worship.

14:27. And when the Babylonians had heard this, they took great indignation: and being gathered together against the king, they said: The king is become a Jew. He hath destroyed Bel, he hath killed the dragon, and he hath put the priests to death.

14:28. And they came to the king, and said: Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thy house.

14:29. And the king saw that they pressed upon him violently: and being constrained by necessity: he delivered Daniel to them.

14:30. And they cast him into the den of lions, and he was there six days.

The den of lions... Daniel was twice cast into the den of lions; one under Darius the Mede, because he had transgressed the king's edict, by praying three times a day: and another time under Evilmerodach by a sedition of the people. This time he remained six days in the lions' den: the other time only one night.

14:31. And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given to them two carcasses every day, and two sheep: but then they were not given unto them, that they might devour Daniel.

14:32. Now there was in Judea a prophet called Habacuc, and he had boiled pottage, and had broken bread in a bowl: and was going into the field, to carry it to the reapers.

Habacuc... The same, as some think whose prophecy is found among the lesser prophets but others believe him to be different.

14:33. And the angel of the Lord said to Habacuc: Carry the dinner which thou hast into Babylon, to Daniel, who is in the lions' den.

14:34. And Habacuc said: Lord, I never saw Babylon, nor do I know the den.

14:35. And the angel of the Lord took him by the top of his head, and carried him by the hair of his head, and set him in Babylon, over the den, in the force of his spirit.

14:36. And Habacuc cried, saying: O Daniel, thou servant of God, take the dinner that God hath sent thee.

14:37. And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God, and thou hast not forsaken them that love thee.

14:38. And Daniel arose, and eat. And the angel of the Lord presently set Habacuc again in his own place.

14:39. And upon the seventh day the king came to bewail Daniel: and he came to the den, and looked in, and behold Daniel was sitting in the midst of the lions.

14:40. And the king cried out with a loud voice, saying: Great art thou, O Lord, the God of Daniel. And he drew him out of the lions' den.

14:41. But those that had been the cause of his destruction, he cast into the den, and they were devoured in a moment before him.

14:42. Then the king said: Let all the inhabitants of the whole earth fear the God of Daniel: for he is the Saviour, working signs, and wonders in the earth: who hath delivered Daniel out of the lions' den.

Deuteronomy

This Book is called DEUTERONOMY, which signifies a SECOND LAW, because it repeats and inculcates the ordinances formerly given on mount Sinai, with other precepts not expressed before. The Hebrews, from the first words in the book, call it ELLE HADDEBARIM. (For more information, see the article PENTATEUCH in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

- Deuteronomy Chapter 1. A repetition of what passed at Sinai and Cadesbarne: and of the people's murmuring and their punishment.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 2. They are forbid to fight against the Edomites, Moabites, and Ammonites. Their victory over Sehon king of Hesebon.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 3. The victory over Og king of Basan. Ruben, Gad, and half the tribe of Manasses receive their possession on the other side of Jordan.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 4. Moses exhorteth the people to keep God's commandments: particularly to fly idolatry. Appointeth three cities of refuge, on that side of the Jordan.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 5. The ten commandments are repeated and explained.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 6. An exhortation to the love of God, and obedience to his law.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 7. No league nor fellowship to be made with the Chanaanites: God promiseth his people his blessing and assistance, if they keep his commandments.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 8. The people is put in mind of God's dealings with them, to the end that they may love him and serve him.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 9. Lest they should impute their victories to their own merits, they are put in mind of their manifold rebellions and other sins, for which they should have been destroyed, but God spared them for his promise made to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 10. God giveth the second tables of the law: a further exhortation to fear and serve the Lord.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 11. The love and service of God are still inculcated, with a blessing to them that serve him, and threats of punishment if they forsake his law.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 12. All idolatry must be extirpated: sacrifices, tithes, and firstfruits must be offered in one only place: all eating of blood is prohibited.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 13. False prophets must be slain, and idolatrous cities destroyed.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 14. In mourning for the dead they are not to follow the ways of the Gentiles: the distinction of clean and unclean meats: ordinances concerning tithes, and firstfruits.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 15. The law of the seventh year of remission. The firstlings of cattle are to be sanctified to the Lord.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 16. The three principal solemnities to be observed: just judges to be appointed in every city: all occasions of idolatry to be avoided.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 17. Victims must be without blemish. Idolaters are to be slain. Controversies are to be decided by the high priest and council, whose sentence must be obeyed under pain of death. The duty of a king, who is to receive the law of God at the priest's hands.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 18. The Lord is the inheritance of the priests and Levites. Heathenish abominations are to be avoided. The great PROPHET CHRIST is promised. False prophets must be slain.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 19. The cities of refuge. Wilful murder, and false witnesses must be punished.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 20. Laws relating to war.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 21. The expiation of a secret murder. The marrying a captive. The eldest son must not be deprived of his birthright for hatred of his mother. A stubborn son is to be stoned to death. When one is hanged on a gibbet, he must be taken down the same day and buried.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 22. Humanity towards neighbours. Neither sex may use the apparel of the other. Cruelty to be avoided even to birds. Battlements about the roof of a house. Things of divers kinds not to be mixed. The punishment of him that slandereth his wife, as also of adultery and rape.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 23. Who may and who may not enter into the church: uncleanness to be avoided: other precepts concerning fugitives, fornication, usury, vows, and eating other men's grapes and corn.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 24. Divorce permitted to avoid greater evil: the newly married must not go to war: of men stealers, of leprosy, of pledges, of labourers' hire, of justice, and of charity to the poor.
- Deuteronomy Chapter 25. Stripes must not exceed forty. The ox is not to be muzzled. Of raising seed to the brother. Of the immodest woman. Of unjust weight. Of destroying the Amalecites.

Deuteronomy Chapter 26. The form of words with which the firstfruits and tithes are to be offered. God's covenant.

Deuteronomy Chapter 27. The commandments must be written on stones: and an altar erected, and sacrifices offered. The observers of the commandments are to be blessed, and the transgressors cursed.

Deuteronomy Chapter 28. Many blessings are promised to observers of God's commandments: and curses threatened to transgressors.

Deuteronomy Chapter 29. The covenant is solemnly confirmed between God and his people. Threats against those that shall break it.

Deuteronomy Chapter 30. Great mercies are promised to the penitent: God's commandment is feasible. Life and death are set before them.

Deuteronomy Chapter 31. Moses encourageth the people, and Josue, who is appointed to succeed him. He delivereth the law to the priests. God foretelleth that the people will often forsake him, and that he will punish them. He commandeth Moses to write a canticle, as a constant remembrancer of the law.

Deuteronomy Chapter 32. A canticle for the remembrance of the law. Moses is commanded to go up into a mountain, from whence he shall see the promised land but not enter into it.

Deuteronomy Chapter 33. Moses before his death blesseth the tribes of Israel.

Deuteronomy Chapter 34. Moses seeth the promised land, but is not suffered to go into it. He dieth at the age of 120 years. God burieth his body secretly, and all Israel mourn for him thirty days. Josue, replenished (by imposition of Moses' hands) with the spirit of God, succeedeth. But Moses, for his special familiarity with God, and for most wonderful miracles, is commended above all other prophets.

Deuteronomy Chapter 1

A repetition of what passed at Sinai and Cadesbarne: and of the people's murmuring and their punishment.

---

1:1. These are the words, which Moses spoke to all Israel beyond the Jordan, in the plain wilderness, over against the Red Sea, between Pharan and Thophel and Laban and Haseroth, where there is very much gold.

Haec sunt verba quae locutus est Moses ad omnem Israhel trans Iordanem in solitudine campestri contra mare Rubrum inter Pharan et Thophel et Laban et Aseroth ubi auri est plurimum

1:2. Eleven days' journey from Horeb by the way of mount Seir to Cadesbarne.

Undecim diebus de Horeb per viam montis Seir usque Cadesbarne

1:3. In the fortieth year, the eleventh month, the first day of the month, Moses spoke to the children of Israel all that the Lord had commanded him to say to them:

Quadragesimo anno undecimo mense prima die mensis locutus est Moses ad filios Israhel omnia quae praeceperat illi Dominus ut diceret eis

1:4. After that he had slain Sehon king of the Amorrhites, who dwelt in Hesebon: and Og king of Basan who abode in Astaroth, and in Edrai,

Postquam percussit Seon regem Amorreorum qui habitavit in Esebon et Og regem Basan qui mansit in Aseroth et in Edrai

1:5. Beyond the Jordan in the land of Moab. And Moses began to expound the law, and to say:

Trans Iordanem in terra Moab coepitque Moses explanare legem et dicere

1:6. The Lord our God spoke to us in Horeb, saying: You have stayed long enough in this mountain:

Dominus Deus noster locutus est ad nos in Horeb dicens sufficit vobis quod in hoc monte mansistis

1:7. Turn you, and come to the mountain of the Amorrhites, and to the other places that are next to it, the plains and the hills and the vales towards the south, and by the sea shore, the land of the Chanaanites, and of Libanus, as far as the great river Euphrates.

Revertimini et venite ad montem Amorreorum et ad cetera quae ei proxima sunt campestria atque montana et humiliora loca contra meridiem et iuxta litus maris terram Chananeorum et Libani usque ad flumen magnum Eufraten

1:8. Behold, said he, I have delivered it to you: go in and possess it, concerning which the Lord swore to your fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, that he would give it to them, and to their seed after them.

En inquit tradidi vobis ingredimini et possidete eam super qua iuravit Dominus patribus vestris Abraham et Isaac et Iacob ut daret illam eis et semini eorum post eos

1:9. And I said to you at that time:

Dixique vobis illo in tempore

1:10. I alone am not able to bear you: for the Lord your God hath multiplied you, and you are this day as the stars of heaven, for multitude.

Non possum solus sustinere vos quia Dominus Deus vester multiplicavit vos et estis hodie sicut stellae caeli plurimae

1:11. (The Lord God of your fathers add to this number many thousands, and bless you as he hath spoken.)

Dominus Deus patrum vestrorum addat ad hunc numerum multa milia et benedicat vobis sicut locutus est

1:12. I alone am not able to bear your business, and the charge of you and your differences.

Non valeo solus vestra negotia sustinere et pondus ac iurgia

1:13. Let me have from among you wise and understanding men, and such whose conversation is approved among your tribes, that I may appoint them your rulers.

Date e vobis viros sapientes et gnaros et quorum conversatio sit probata in tribubus vestris ut ponam eos vobis principes

1:14. Then you answered me: The thing is good which thou meanest to do.

Tunc respondistis mihi bona res est quam vis facere

1:15. And I took out of your tribes men wise and honourable, and appointed them rulers, tribunes, and centurions, and officers over fifties, and over tens, who might teach you all things.

Tulique de tribubus vestris viros sapientes et nobiles et constitui eos principes tribunos et centuriones et quinquagenarios ac decanos qui docerent vos singula

1:16. And I commanded them, saying: Hear them, and judge that which is just: whether he be one of your country, or a stranger.

Praecipique eis dicens audite illos et quod iustum est iudicate sive civis sit ille sive peregrinus

1:17. There shall be no difference of persons, you shall hear the little as well as the great: neither shall you respect any man's person, because it is the judgment of God. And if any thing seem hard to you, refer it to me, and I will hear it.

Nulla erit distantia personarum ita parvum audietis ut magnum nec accipietis cuiusquam personam quia Dei iudicium est quod si difficile vobis aliquid visum fuerit referte ad me et ego audiam

1:18. And I commanded you all things that you were to do.

Praecipique omnia quae facere deberetis

1:19. And departing from Horeb, we passed through the terrible and vast wilderness, which you saw, by the way of the mountain of the Amorrhite, as the Lord our God had commanded us. And when we were come into Cadesbarne,

Profecti autem de Horeb transivimus per heremum terribilem et maximam quam vidistis per viam montis Amorrei sicut praeceperat Dominus Deus noster nobis cumque venissemus in Cadesbarne

1:20. I said to you: You are come to the mountain of the Amorrhite, which the Lord our God will give to us.

Dixi vobis venistis ad montem Amorrei quem Dominus Deus noster daturus est nobis

1:21. See the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee: go up and possess it, as the Lord our God hath spoken to thy fathers: fear not, nor be any way discouraged.

Vide terram quam Dominus Deus tuus dat tibi ascende et posside eam sicut locutus est Dominus Deus patribus tuis noli metuere nec quicquam paveas

1:22. And you came all to me, and said: Let us send men who may view the land, and bring us word what way we shall go up, and to what cities we shall go.

Et accessistis ad me omnes atque dixistis mittamus viros qui considerent terram et renuntient per quod iter debeamus ascendere et ad quas pergere civitates

1:23. And because the saying pleased me, I sent of you twelve men, one of every tribe:

Cumque mihi sermo placuisset misi e vobis duodecim viros singulos de tribubus suis

1:24. Who, when they had set forward and had gone up to the mountains, came as far as the valley of the cluster: and having viewed the land,

Qui cum perrexissent et ascendissent in montana venerunt usque ad vallem Botri et considerata terra

1:25. Taking of the fruits thereof, to show its fertility, they brought them to us, and said: The land is good, which the Lord our God will give us.

Sumentes de fructibus eius ut ostenderent ubertatem adtulerunt ad nos atque dixerunt bona est terra quam Dominus Deus noster daturus est nobis

1:26. And you would not go up, but being incredulous to the word of the Lord our God,

Et nolulistis ascendere sed increduli ad sermonem Domini Dei nostri

1:27. You murmured in your tents, and said: The Lord hateth us, and therefore he hath brought us out of the land of Egypt, that he might deliver us into the hand of the Amorrhite, and destroy us.
Murmurati estis in tabernaculis vestris atque dixistis odit nos Dominus et idcirco eduxit nos de terra Aegypti ut traderet in manu Amorrei atque deleret

1:28. Whither shall we go up? the messengers have terrified our hearts, saying: The multitude is very great, and taller than we: the cities are great, and walled up to the sky, we have seen the sons of the Enacims there.

Quo ascendemus nuntii terruerunt cor nostrum dicentes maxima multitudo est et nobis in statura procerior urbes magnae et ad caelum usque munitae filios Enacim vidimus ibi

Walled up to the sky... A figurative expression, signifying the walls to be very high.

1:29. And I said to you: Fear not, neither be ye afraid of them:
Et dixi vobis nolite metuere nec timeatis eos

1:30. The Lord God, who is your leader, himself will fight for you, as he did in Egypt in the sight of all.
Dominus Deus qui ductor est vester pro vobis ipse pugnabit sicut fecit in Aegypto videntibus cunctis

1:31. And in the wilderness (as thou hast seen) the Lord thy God hath carried thee, as a man is wont to carry his little son, all the way that you have come, until you came to this place.

Et in solitudine ipse vidisti portavit te Dominus Deus tuus ut solet homo gestare parvulum filium suum in omni via per quam ambulasti donec veniretis ad locum istum

1:32. And yet for all this you did not believe the Lord your God,
Et nec sic quidem credidistis Domino Deo vestro

1:33. Who went before you in the way, and marked out the place, wherein you should pitch your tents, in the night showing you the way by fire, and in the day by the pillar of a cloud.

Qui praecessit vos in via et metatus est locum in quo tentoria figere deberetis nocte ostendens vobis iter per ignem et die per columnam nubis

1:34. And when the Lord had heard the voice of your words, he was angry and swore, and said:
Cumque audisset Dominus vocem sermonum vestrorum iratus iuravit et ait

1:35. Not one of the men of this wicked generation shall see the good land, which I promised with an oath to your fathers:

Non videbit quispiam de hominibus generationis huius pessimae terram bonam quam sub iuramento pollicitus sum patribus vestris

1:36. Except Caleb the son of Jephone: for he shall see it, and to him I will give the land that he hath trodden upon, and to his children, because he hath followed the Lord.

Praeter Chaleb filium Iepphonae ipse enim videbit eam et ipsi dabo terram quam calcavit et filiis eius quia secutus est Dominum

1:37. Neither is his indignation against the people to be wondered at, since the Lord was angry with me also on your account, and said: Neither shalt thou go in thither.

Nec miranda indignatio in populum cum mihi quoque iratus Dominus propter vos dixerit nec tu ingredieris illuc

1:38. But Josue the son of Nun, thy minister, he shall go in for thee: exhort and encourage him, and he shall divide the land by lot to Israel.

Sed Iosue filius Nun minister tuus ipse intrabit pro te hunc exhortare et robora et ipse terram sorte dividat Israheli

1:39. Your children, of whom you said that they should be led away captives, and your sons who know not this day the difference of good and evil, they shall go in: and to them I will give the land, and they shall possess it.

Parvuli vestri de quibus dixistis quod captivi ducerentur et filii qui hodie boni ac mali ignorant distantiam ipsi ingredientur et ipsis dabo terram et possidebunt eam

1:40. But return you and go into the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea.

Vos autem revertimini et abite in solitudinem per viam maris Rubri

1:41. And you answered me: We have sinned against the Lord: we will go up and fight, as the Lord our God hath commanded. And when you went ready armed unto the mountain,

Et respondistis mihi peccavimus Domino ascendemus atque pugnabimus sicut praecepit Dominus Deus noster cumque instructi armis pergeretis in montem

1:42. The Lord said to me: Say to them: Go not up, and fight not, for I am not with you: lest you fall before your enemies.

Ait mihi Dominus dic ad eos nolite ascendere neque pugnetis non enim sum vobiscum ne cadatis coram inimicis vestris

1:43. I spoke, and you hearkened not: but resisting the commandment of the Lord, and swelling with pride, you went up into the mountain.

Locutus sum et non audistis sed adversantes imperio Domini et tumentes superbia ascendistis in montem

1:44. And the Amorrhite that dwelt in the mountains coming out, and meeting you, chased you, as bees do: and made slaughter of you from Seir as far as Horma.

Itaque egressus Amorreus qui habitabat in montibus et obviam veniens persecutus est vos sicut solent apes persequi et cecidit de Seir usque Horma

1:45. And when you returned and wept before the Lord, he heard you not, neither would he yield to your voice.

Cumque reversi ploraretis coram Domino non audivit vos nec voci vestrae voluit adquiescere

1:46. So you abode in Cadesbarne a long time.

Sedistis ergo in Cadesbarne multo tempore

Deuteronomy Chapter 2

They are forbid to fight against the Edomites, Moabites, and Ammonites. Their victory over Sehon king of Hesebon.

---

2:1. And departing from thence we came into the wilderness that leadeth to the Red Sea, as the Lord had spoken to me: and we compassed mount Seir a long time.

Profectique inde venimus in solitudinem quae ducit ad mare Rubrum sicut mihi dixerat Dominus et circumvivismus montem Seir longo tempore

2:2. And the Lord said to me:

Dixitque Dominus ad me

2:3. You have compassed this mountain long enough: go toward the north:

Sufficit vobis circumire montem istum ite contra aquilonem

2:4. And command thou the people, saying: You shall pass by the borders of your brethren the children of Esau, who dwell in Seir, and they will be afraid of you.

Et populo praecipe dicens transibitis per terminos fratrum vestrorum filiorum Esau qui habitant in Seir et timebunt vos

2:5. Take ye then good heed that you stir not against them. For I will not give you of their land so much as the step of one foot can tread upon, because I have given mount Seir to Esau, for a possession.

Videte ergo diligenter ne moveamini contra eos neque enim dabo vobis de terra eorum quantum potest unius pedis calcare vestigium quia in possessionem Esau dedi montem Seir

2:6. You shall buy meats of them for money and shall eat: you shall draw waters for money, and shall drink.

Cibos emetis ab eis pecunia et comedetis aquam emptam haurietis et bibetis

2:7. The Lord thy God hath blessed thee in every work of thy hands: the Lord thy God dwelling with thee, knoweth thy journey, how thou hast passed through this great wilderness, for forty years, and thou hast wanted nothing.

Dominus Deus tuus benedixit tibi in omni opere manuum tuarum novit iter tuum quomodo transieris solitudinem hanc magnam per quadraginta annos habitans tecum Dominus Deus tuus et nihil tibi defuit

2:8. And when we had passed by our brethren the children of Esau, that dwelt in Seir, by the way of the plain from Elath and from Asiongaber, we came to the way that leadeth to the desert of Moab.

Cumque transissemus fratres nostros filios Esau qui habitabant in Seir per viam campestrum de Helath et de Asiongaber venimus ad iter quod ducit in desertum Moab

2:9. And the Lord said to me: Fight not against the Moabites, neither go to battle against them: for I will not give thee any of their land, because I have given Ar to the children of Lot in possession.

Dixitque Dominus ad me non pugnes contra Moabitas nec ineas adversum eos proelium non enim dabo tibi quicquam de terra eorum quia filiis Loth tradidi Ar in possessionem

2:10. The Emims first were the inhabitants thereof, a people great, and strong, and so tall, that like the race of the Enacims,

Emimi primi fuerunt habitatores eius populus magnus et validus et tam excelsus ut de Enacim stirpe

2:11. They were esteemed as giants, and were like the sons of the Enacims. But the Moabites call them Emims.

Quasi gigantes crederentur et essent similes filiorum Enacim denique Moabitae appellant eos Emim

2:12. The Horrites also formerly dwelt in Seir: who being driven out and destroyed, the children of Esau

dwelt there, as Israel did in the land of his possession, which the Lord gave him.

In Seir autem prius habitaverunt Horim quibus expulsis atque deletis habitaverunt filii Esau sicut fecit Israhel in terra possessionis suae quam dedit ei Dominus

2:13. Then rising up to pass the torrent Zared, we came to it.

Surgentes ergo ut transiremus torrentem Zared venimus ad eum

2:14. And the time that we journeyed from Cadesbarne till we passed over the torrent Zared, was thirty-eight years: until all the generation of the men that were fit for war was consumed out of the camp, as the Lord had sworn:

Tempus autem quo ambulavimus de Cadesbarne usque ad transitum torrentis Zared triginta octo annorum fuit donec consumeretur omnis generatio hominum bellatorum de castris sicut iuraverat Dominus

2:15. For his hand was against them, that they should perish from the midst of the camp.

Cuius manus fuit adversum eos ut interirent de castrorum medio

2:16. And after all the fighting men were dead,

Postquam autem universi ceciderunt pugnatores

2:17. The Lord spoke to me, saying:

Locutus est Dominus ad me dicens

2:18. Thou shalt pass this day the borders of Moab, the city named Ar:

Tu transibis hodie terminos Moab urbem nomine Ar

2:19. And when thou comest nigh the frontiers of the children of Ammon, take heed thou fight not against them, nor once move to battle: for I will not give thee of the land of the children of Ammon, because I have given it to the children of Lot for a possession.

Et accedens in vicina filiorum Ammon cave ne pugnes contra eos nec movearis ad proelium non enim dabo tibi de terra filiorum Ammon quia filiis Loth dedi eam in possessionem

2:20. It was accounted a land of giants: and giants formerly dwelt in it, whom the Ammonites call Zomzommims,

Terra gigantum reputata est et in ipsa olim habitaverunt gigantes quos Ammanitae vocant Zomzommim

2:21. A people great and many, and of tall stature, like the Enacims whom the Lord destroyed before their face: and he made them to dwell in their stead,

Populus magnus et multus et procerae longitudinis sicut Enacim quos delevit Dominus a facie eorum et fecit illos habitare pro eis

2:22. As he had done in favour of the children of Esau, that dwell in Seir, destroying the Horrites, and delivering their land to them, which they possess to this day.

Sicut fecerat filiis Esau qui habitant in Seir delens Horreos et terram eorum illis tradens quam possident usque in praesens

2:23. The Hevites also, that dwelt in Haserim as far as Gaza, were expelled by the Cappadocians: who came out of Cappadocia, and destroyed them and dwelt in their stead.

Eveos quoque qui habitabant in Aserim usque Gazam Cappadoces expulerunt qui egressi de Cappadocia deleverunt eos et habitaverunt pro illis

2:24. Arise ye, and pass the torrent Arnon: Behold I have delivered into thy hand Sehon king of Hesebon the Amorrhite, and begin thou to possess his land and make war against him.

Surgite et transite torrentem Arnon ecce tradidi in manu tua Seon regem Esebon Amorreum et terram eius incipe possidere et committe adversum eum proelium

2:25. This day will I begin to send the dread and fear of thee upon the nations that dwell under the whole heaven: that when they hear thy name they may fear and tremble, and be in pain like women in travail.

Hodie incipiam mittere terrorem atque formidinem tuam in populos qui habitant sub omni caelo ut audito nomine tuo paveant et in morem parturientium contremescant et dolore teneantur

2:26. So I sent messengers from the wilderness of Cademoth to Sehon the king of Hesebon with peaceable words, saying:

Misi ergo nuntios de solitudine Cademoth ad Seon regem Esebon verbis pacificis dicens

2:27. We will pass through thy land, we will go along by the highway: we will not turn aside neither to the right hand nor to the left.

Transibimus per terram tuam publica gradiemur via non declinabimus neque ad dextram neque ad sinistram

2:28. Sell us meat for money, that we may eat: give us water for money and so we will drink. We only ask that thou wilt let us pass through,

Alimenta pretio vende nobis ut vescamur aquam pecunia tribue et sic bibemus tantum est ut nobis concedas transitum

2:29. As the children of Esau have done, that dwell in Seir, and the Moabites, that abide in Ar: until we come to the Jordan, and pass to the land which the Lord our God will give us.

Sicut fecerunt filii Esau qui habitant in Seir et Moabitae qui morantur in Ar donec veniamus ad Iordanem et transeamus in terram quam Dominus Deus noster daturus est nobis

2:30. And Sehon the king of Hesebon would not let us pass: because the Lord thy God had hardened his spirit, and fixed his heart, that he might be delivered into thy hands, as now thou seest.

Noluitque Seon rex Esebon dare nobis transitum quia induraverat Dominus Deus tuus spiritum eius et obfirmaverat cor illius ut traderetur in manus tuas sicut nunc vides

Hardened, etc... That is, in punishment of his past sins he left him to his own stubborn and perverse disposition, which drew him to his ruin. See the note on Exodus 7:3.

2:31. And the Lord said to me: Behold I have begun to deliver unto thee Sehon and his land, begin to possess it.

Dixitque Dominus ad me ecce coepi tradere tibi Seon et terram eius incipe possidere eam

2:32. And Sehon came out to meet us with all his people to fight at Jasa.

Egressusque est Seon obviam nobis cum omni populo suo ad proelium in Iesa

2:33. And the Lord our God delivered him to us: and we slew him with his sons and all his people.

Et tradidit eum Dominus Deus noster nobis percussimusque eum cum filiis et omni populo suo

2:34. And we took all his cities at that time, killing the inhabitants of them, men and women and children. We left nothing of them:

Cunctasque urbes in tempore illo cepimus interfectis habitatoribus earum viris ac mulieribus et parvulis non reliquimus in eis quicquam

2:35. Except the cattle which came to the share of them that took them: and the spoils of the cities, which we took:

Absque iumentis quae in partem venere praedantium et spoliis urbium quas cepimus

2:36. From Aroer, which is upon the bank of the torrent Arnon, a town that is situate in a valley, as far as Galaad. There was not a village or city, that escaped our hands: the Lord our God delivered all unto us:

Ab Aroer quae est super ripam torrentis Arnon oppido quod in valle situm est usque Galaad non fuit vicus et civitas quae nostras effugeret manus omnes tradidit Dominus Deus noster nobis

2:37. Except the land of the children of Ammon, to which we approached not: and all that border upon the torrent Jeboc, and the cities in the mountains, and all the places which the Lord our God forbade us.

Absque terra filiorum Ammon ad quam non accessimus et cunctis quae adiacent torrenti Ieboc et urbibus montanis universisque locis a quibus nos prohibuit Dominus Deus noster

Deuteronomy Chapter 3

The victory over Og king of Basan. Ruben, Gad, and half the tribe of Manasses receive their possession on the other side of Jordan.

3:1. Then we turned and went by the way of Basan: and Og the king of Basan came out to meet us with his people to fight in Edrai.

Itaque conversi ascendimus per iter Basan egressusque est Og rex Basan in occursum nobis cum populo suo ad bellandum in Edrai

3:2. And the Lord said to me: Fear him not: because he is delivered into thy hand, with all his people and his land: and thou shalt do to him as thou hast done to Sehon king of the Amorrhites, that dwelt in Hesebon.

Dixitque Dominus ad me ne timeas eum quia in manu tua traditus est cum omni populo ac terra sua faciesque ei sicut fecisti Seon regi Amorreorum qui habitavit in Esebon

3:3. So the Lord our God delivered into our hands, Og also, the king of Basan, and all his people: and we utterly destroyed them,

Tradidit ergo Dominus Deus noster in manibus nostris etiam Og regem Basan et universum populum eius percussimusque eos usque ad internicionem

3:4. Wasting all his cities at one time, there was not a town that escaped us: sixty cities, all the country of Argob the kingdom of Og in Basan.

Vastantes cunctas civitates illius uno tempore non fuit oppidum quod nos effugeret sexaginta urbes omnem regionem Argob regni Og in Basan

3:5. All the cities were fenced with very high walls, and with gates and bars, besides innumerable towns that had no walls.

Cunctae urbes erant munitae muris altissimis portisque et vectibus absque oppidis innumeris quae non habebant muros

3:6. And we utterly destroyed them, as we had done to Sehon the king of Hesebon, destroying every city, men and women and children:

Et delevimus eos sicut feceramus Seon regi Esebon disperdentes omnem civitatem virosque ac mulieres et parvulos

3:7. But the cattle and the spoils of the cities we took for our prey.

lumenta autem et spolia urbium diripuimus

3:8. And we took at that time the land out of the hand of the two kings of the Amorrhites, that were beyond the Jordan: from the torrent Arnon unto the mount Hermon,

Tulimusque illo in tempore terram de manu duorum regum Amorreorum qui erant trans Iordanem a torrente Arnon usque ad montem Hermon

3:9. Which the Sidonians call Sarion, and the Amorrhites Sanir:

Quem Sidonii Sarion vocant et Amorrei Sanir

3:10. All the cities that are situate in the plain, and all the land of Galaad and Basan as far as Selcha and Edrai, cities of the kingdom of Og in Basan.

Omnes civitates quae sitae sunt in planitie et universam terram Galaad et Basan usque Selcha et Edrai civitates regni Og in Basan

Solus quippe Og rex Basan restiterat de stirpe gigantum monstratur lectus eius ferreus qui est in Rabbath filiorum Ammon novem cubitos habens longitudinis et quattuor latitudinis ad mensuram cubiti virilis manus

3:12. And we possessed the land at that time from Aroer, which is upon the bank of the torrent Arnon, unto the half of mount Galaad: and I gave the cities thereof to Ruben and Gad.

Terramque possedimus in tempore illo ab Aroer quae est super ripam torrentis Arnon usque ad mediam partem montis Galaad et civitates illius dedi Ruben et Gad

3:13. And I delivered the other part of Galaad, and all Basan the kingdom of Og to the half tribe of Manasses, all the country of Argob: and all Basan is called the Land of giants.

Reliquam autem partem Galaad et omnem Basan regni Og tradidi mediae tribui Manasse omnem regionem Argob cuncta Basan vocatur terra gigantum

3:14. Jair the son of Manasses possessed all the country of Argob unto the borders of Gessuri, and Machati. And he called Basan by his own name, Havoth Jair, that is to say, the towns of Jair, until this present day.

Jair filius Manasse possedit omnem regionem Argob usque ad terminos Gesuri et Machathi vocavitque ex nomine suo Basan Avothair id est villas Jair usque in praesentem diem

3:15. To Machir also I gave Galaad.

Machir quoque dedi Galaad

3:16. And to the tribes of Ruben and Gad I gave of the land of Galaad as far as the torrent Arnon, half the torrent, and the confines even unto the torrent Jeboc, which is the border of the children of Ammon:

Et tribubus Ruben et Gad dedi terram Galaad usque ad torrentem Arnon medium torrentis et finium usque ad torrentem Ieboc qui est terminus filiorum Ammon

3:17. And the plain of the wilderness, and the Jordan, and the borders of Cenereth unto the sea of the desert, which is the most salt sea, to the foot of mount Phasga eastward.

Et planitiem solitudinis atque Iordanem et terminos Chenereth usque ad mare Deserti quod est Salsissimum ad radices montis Phasga contra orientem

3:18. And I commanded you at that time, saying: The Lord your God giveth you this land for an inheritance, go ye well appointed before your brethren the children of Israel, all the strong men of you.

Praecipique vobis in tempore illo dicens Dominus Deus vester dat vobis terram hanc in hereditatem expediti praecedite fratres vestros filios Israhel omnes viri robusti

3:19. Leaving your wives and children and cattle. For I know you have much cattle, and they must remain in the cities, which I have delivered to you.

Absque uxoribus et parvulis ac iumentis novi enim quod plura habeatis pecora et in urbibus remanere debebunt quas tradidi vobis

3:20. Until the Lord give rest to your brethren, as he hath given to you: and they also possess the land, which he will give them beyond the Jordan: then shall every man return to his possession, which I have given you.

Donec requiem tribuat Dominus fratribus vestris sicut vobis tribuit et possideant etiam ipsi terram quam daturus est eis trans Iordanem tunc revertetur unusquisque in possessionem suam quam dedi vobis

3:21. I commanded Josue also at that time, saying: Thy eyes have seen what the Lord your God hath done to these two kings: so will he do to all the kingdoms to which thou shalt pass.

Iosue quoque in tempore illo praecepi dicens oculi tui viderunt quae fecit Dominus Deus vester duobus his regibus sic faciet omnibus regnis ad quae transiturus es

3:22. Fear them not: for the Lord your God will fight for you.

Ne timeas eos Dominus enim Deus vester pugnabit pro vobis

3:23. And I besought the Lord at that time, saying:

Precatusque sum Dominum in tempore illo dicens

3:24. Lord God, thou hast begun to show unto thy servant thy greatness, and most mighty hand, for there is no other God either in heaven or earth, that is able to do thy works, or to be compared to thy strength.

Domine Deus tu coepisti ostendere servo tuo magnitudinem tuam manumque fortissimam neque enim est alius Deus vel in caelo vel in terra qui possit facere opera tua et comparari fortitudini tuae

3:25. I will pass over therefore, and will see this excellent land beyond the Jordan, and this goodly mountain, and Libanus.

Transibo igitur et videbo terram hanc optimam trans Iordanem et montem istum egregium et Libanum

3:26. And the Lord was angry with me on your account and heard me not, but said to me: It is enough: speak no more to me of this matter.

Iratusque est Dominus mihi propter vos nec exaudivit me sed dixit mihi sufficit tibi nequaquam ultra loquaris de hac re ad me

3:27. Go up to the top of Phasga, and cast thy eyes round about to the west, and to the north, and to the south, and to the east, and behold it, for thou shalt not pass this Jordan.

Ascende cacumen Phasgae et oculos tuos circumfer ad occidentem et aquilonem austrumque et orientem et aspice nec enim transibis Iordanem istum

3:28. Command Josue, and encourage and strengthen him: for he shall go before this people, and shall divide unto them the land which thou shalt see.

Praecepte Josue et corrobora eum atque conforta quia ipse praecedet populum istum et dividet eis terram quam visurus es

3:29. And we abode in the valley over against the temple of Phogor.

Mansimusque in valle contra fanum Phogor

Deuteronomy Chapter 4

Moses exhorteth the people to keep God's commandments: particularly to fly idolatry. Appointeth three cities of refuge, on that side of the Jordan.

---

4:1. And now, O Israel, hear the commandments and judgments which I teach thee: that doing them, thou mayst live, and entering in mayst possess the land which the Lord the God of your fathers will give you.
Et nunc Israhel audi praecepta et iudicia quae ego doceo te ut faciens ea vivas et ingrediens possideas terram quam Dominus Deus patrum vestrorum daturus est vobis

4:2. You shall not add to the word that I speak to you, neither shall you take away from it: keep the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you.
Non addetis ad verbum quod vobis loquor neque auferetis ex eo custodite mandata Domini Dei vestri quae ego praecipio vobis

4:3. Your eyes have seen all that the Lord hath done against Beelphegor, how he hath destroyed all his worshippers from among you.
Oculi vestri viderunt omnia quae fecit Dominus contra Beelphegor quomodo contriverit omnes cultores eius de medio vestri

4:4. But you that adhere to the Lord your God, are all alive until this present day.
Vos autem qui adheretis Domino Deo vestro vivitis universi usque in praesentem diem

4:5. You know that I have taught you statutes and justices, as the Lord my God hath commanded me: so shall you do them in the land which you shall possess:
Scitis quod docuerim vos praecepta atque iustitias sicut mandavit mihi Dominus Deus meus sic facietis ea in terra quam possessuri estis

4:6. And you shall observe, and fulfil them in practice. For this is your wisdom, and understanding in the sight of nations, that hearing all these precepts, they may say: Behold a wise and understanding people, a great nation.
Et observabitis et implebitis opere haec est enim vestra sapientia et intellectus coram populis ut audientes universa praecepta haec dicant en populus sapiens et intellegens gens magna

4:7. Neither is there any other nation so great, that hath gods so nigh them, as our God is present to all our petitions.
Nec est alia natio tam grandis quae habeat deos adpropinquantes sibi sicut Dominus Deus noster adest cunctis obsecrationibus nostris

4:8. For what other nation is there so renowned that hath ceremonies, and just judgments, and all the law, which I will set forth this day before our eyes?
Quae est enim alia gens sic inclita ut habeat caerimonias iustaque iudicia et universam legem quam ego proponam hodie ante oculos vestros

4:9. Keep thyself therefore, and thy soul carefully. Forget not the words that thy eyes have seen, and let them not go out of thy heart all the days of thy life. Thou shalt teach them to thy sons and to thy grandsons,
Custodi igitur temet ipsum et animam tuam sollicite ne obliviscaris verborum quae viderunt oculi tui et ne excedant de corde tuo cunctis diebus vitae tuae docebis ea filios ac nepotes tuos

4:10. From the day in which thou didst stand before the Lord thy God in Horeb, when the Lord spoke to me, saying: Call together the people unto me, that they may hear my words, and may learn to fear me all the time that they live on the earth, and may teach their children.

Diem in quo stetisti coram Domino Deo tuo in Horeb quando Dominus locutus est mihi dicens congrega ad me populum ut audiat sermones meos et discat timere me omni tempore quo vivit in terra doceantque filios suos

4:11. And you came to the foot of the mount, which burned even unto heaven: and there was darkness, and a cloud and obscurity in it.

Et accessistis ad radices montis qui ardebat usque ad caelum erantque in eo tenebrae nubes et caligo

4:12. And the Lord spoke to you from the midst of the fire. You heard the voice of his words, but you saw not any form at all.

Locutusque est Dominus ad vos de medio ignis vocem verborum eius audistis et formam penitus non vidistis

4:13. And he showed you his covenant, which he commanded you to do, and the ten words that he wrote in two tables of stone.

Et ostendit vobis pactum suum quod praecepit ut faceretis et decem verba quae scripsit in duabus tabulis lapideis

4:14. And he commanded me at that time that I should teach you the ceremonies and judgments which you shall do in the land, that you shall possess.

Mihique mandavit in illo tempore ut docerem vos caerimonias et iudicia quae facere deberetis in terra quam possessuri estis

4:15. Keep therefore your souls carefully. You saw not any similitude in the day that the Lord God spoke to you in Horeb from the midst of the fire:

Custodite igitur sollicite animas vestras non vidistis aliquam similitudinem in die qua locutus est Dominus vobis in Horeb de medio ignis

4:16. Lest perhaps being deceived you might make you a graven similitude, or image of male or female, Ne forte decepti faciatis vobis sculptam similitudinem aut imaginem masculi vel feminae

4:17. The similitude of any beasts, that are upon the earth, or of birds, that fly under heaven, Similitudinem omnium iumentorum quae sunt super terram vel avium sub caelo volantium

4:18. Or of creeping things, that move on the earth, or of fishes, that abide in the waters under the earth: Atque reptilium quae moventur in terra sive piscium qui sub terra morantur in aquis

4:19. Lest perhaps lifting up thy eyes to heaven, thou see the sun and the moon, and all the stars of heaven, and being deceived by error thou adore and serve them, which the Lord thy God created for the service of all the nations, that are under heaven.

Ne forte oculis elevatis ad caelum videas solem et lunam et omnia astra caeli et errore deceptus adores ea et colas quae creavit Dominus Deus tuus in ministerium cunctis gentibus quae sub caelo sunt

4:20. But the Lord hath taken you and brought you out of the iron furnaces of Egypt, to make you his people of inheritance, as it is this present day.

Vos autem tulit Dominus et eduxit de fornace ferrea Aegypti ut haberet populum hereditarium sicut est in praesenti die

4:21. And the Lord was angry with me for your words, and he swore that I should not pass over the Jordan, nor enter into the excellent land, which he will give you.

Iratusque est Dominus contra me propter sermones vestros et iuravit ut non transirem Iordanem nec ingrederer terram optimam quam daturus est vobis

4:22. Behold I die in this land, I shall not pass over the Jordan: you shall pass, and possess the goodly land.

Ecce morior in hac humo non transibo Iordanem vos transibitis et possidebitis terram egregiam

4:23. Beware lest thou ever forget the covenant of the Lord thy God, which he hath made with thee: and make to thyself a graven likeness of those things which the Lord hath forbid to be made:

Cave nequando obliviscaris pacti Domini Dei tui quod pepigit tecum et facias tibi sculptam similitudinem eorum quae fieri Dominus prohibuit

4:24. Because the Lord thy God is a consuming fire, a jealous God.

Quia Dominus Deus tuus ignis consumens est Deus aemulator

4:25. If you shall beget sons and grandsons, and abide in the land, and being deceived, make to yourselves any similitude, committing evil before the Lord your God, to provoke him to wrath:

Si genueritis filios ac nepotes et morati fueritis in terra deceptique feceritis vobis aliquam similitudinem patrantes malum coram Domino Deo vestro ut eum ad iracundiam provocetis

4:26. I call this day heaven and earth to witness, that you shall quickly perish out of the land, which, when you have passed over the Jordan, you shall possess. You shall not dwell therein long, but the Lord will destroy you,

Testes invoco hodie caelum et terram cito perituros vos esse de terra quam transito Iordane possessuri estis non habitabitis in ea longo tempore sed delebit vos Dominus

4:27. And scatter you among all nations, and you shall remain a few among the nations, to which the Lord shall lead you.

Atque disperget in omnes gentes et remanebitis pauci in nationibus ad quas vos ducturus est Dominus

4:28. And there you shall serve gods, that were framed with men's hands: wood and stone, that neither see, nor hear, nor eat, nor smell.

Ibique servietis diis qui hominum manu fabricati sunt ligno et lapidi qui non vident non audiunt non comedunt non odorantur

4:29. And when thou shalt seek there the Lord thy God, thou shalt find him: yet so, if thou seek him with all thy heart, and all the affliction of thy soul.

Cumque quaesieris ibi Dominum Deum tuum invenies eum si tamen toto corde quaesieris et tota tribulatione animae tuae

4:30. After all the things aforesaid shall find thee, in the latter time thou shalt return to the Lord thy God, and shalt hear his voice.

Postquam te invenerint omnia quae praedicta sunt novissimo tempore reverteris ad Dominum Deum tuum et audies vocem eius

4:31. Because the Lord thy God is a merciful God: he will not leave thee, nor altogether destroy thee, nor forget the covenant, by which he swore to thy fathers.

Quia Deus misericors Dominus Deus tuus est non dimittet te nec omnino delebit neque obliviscetur pacti in quo iuravit patribus tuis

4:32. Ask of the days of old, that have been before thy time from the day that God created man upon the earth, from one end of heaven to the other end thereof, if ever there was done the like thing, or it hath been known at any time,

Interroga de diebus antiquis qui fuerunt ante te ex die quo creavit Deus hominem super terram a summo caeli usque ad summum eius si facta est aliquando huiusmodi res aut umquam cognitum est

4:33. That a people should hear the voice of God speaking out of the midst of fire, as thou hast heard, and lived:

Ut audiret populus vocem Dei loquentis de medio ignis sicut tu audisti et vixisti

4:34. If God ever did so as to go, and take to himself a nation out of the midst of nations by temptations, signs, and wonders, by fight, and a strong hand, and stretched out arm, and horrible visions according to all the things that the Lord your God did for you in Egypt, before thy eyes.

Si fecit Deus ut ingrederetur et tolleretur sibi gentem de medio nationum per temptationes signa atque portenta per pugnam et robustam manum extentumque brachium et horribiles visiones iuxta omnia quae fecit pro vobis Dominus Deus vester in Aegypto videntibus oculis tuis

4:35. That thou mightest know that the Lord he is God, and there is no other besides him.

Ut scires quoniam Dominus ipse est Deus et non est alius praeter unum

4:36. From heaven he made thee to hear his voice, that he might teach thee. And upon earth he showed thee his exceeding great fire, and thou didst hear his words out of the midst of the fire,

De caelo te fecit audire vocem suam ut doceret te et in terra ostendit tibi ignem suum maximum et audisti verba illius de medio ignis

4:37. Because he loved thy fathers, and chose their seed after them. And he brought thee out of Egypt, going before thee with his great power,

Quia dilexit patres tuos et elegit semen eorum post eos eduxitque te praecedens in virtute sua magna ex Aegypto

4:38. To destroy at thy coming very great nations, and stronger than thou art, and to bring thee in, and give thee their land for a possession, as thou seest at this present day.

Ut deleret nationes maximas et fortiores te in introitu tuo et introduceret te daretque tibi terram earum in possessionem sicut cernis in praesenti die

4:39. Know therefore this day, and think in thy heart that the Lord he is God in heaven above, and in the earth beneath, and there is no other.

Scito ergo hodie et cogitato in corde tuo quod Dominus ipse sit Deus in caelo sursum et in terra deorsum et non sit alius

4:40. Keep his precepts and commandments, which I command thee: that it may be well with thee, and thy children after thee, and thou mayst remain a long time upon the land, which the Lord thy God will give thee.

Custodi praecepta eius atque mandata quae ego praecipio tibi ut bene sit tibi et filiis tuis post te et permanes multo tempore super terram quam Dominus Deus tuus daturus est tibi

4:41. Then Moses set aside three cities beyond the Jordan at the east side,

Tunc separavit Moses tres civitates trans Iordanem ad orientalem plagam

4:42. That any one might flee to them who should kill his neighbour unwillingly, and was not his enemy a day or two before, and that he might escape to some one of these cities:

Ut confugiat ad eas qui occiderit nolens proximum suum nec fuerit inimicus ante unum et alterum diem et ad harum aliquam urbium possit evadere

4:43. Bosor in the wilderness, which is situate in the plains of the tribe of Ruben: and Ramoth in Galaad, which is in the tribe of Gad: and Golan in Basan, which is in the tribe of Manasses.

Bosor in solitudine quae sita est in terra campestri de tribu Ruben et Ramoth in Galaad quae est in tribu Gad et Golam in Basan quae est in tribu Manasse

4:44. This is the law, that Moses set before the children of Israel,

Ista est lex quam proposuit Moses coram filiis Israhel

4:45. And these are the testimonies and ceremonies and judgments, which he spoke to the children of Israel, when they came out of Egypt,

Et haec testimonia et caerimoniae atque iudicia quae locutus est ad filios Israhel quando egressi sunt de Aegypto

4:46. Beyond the Jordan in the valley over against the temple of Phogor, in the land of Sehon king of the Amorrhites, that dwelt in Hesebon, whom Moses slew. And the children of Israel coming out of Egypt,

Trans Iordanem in valle contra fanum Phogor in terra Seon regis Amorrei qui habitavit in Esebon quem percussit Moses filii quoque Israhel egressi ex Aegypto

4:47. Possessed his land, and the land of Og king of Basan, of the two kings of the Amorrhites, who were beyond the Jordan towards the rising of the sun:

Possederunt terram eius et terram Og regis Basan duorum regum Amorreorum qui erant trans Iordanem ad solis ortum

4:48. From Aroer, which is situate upon the bank of the torrent Arnon, unto mount Sion, which is also called Hermon,

Ab Aroer quae sita est super ripam torrentis Arnon usque ad montem Sion qui est et Hermon

4:49. All the plain beyond the Jordan at the east side, unto the sea of the wilderness, and unto the foot of mount Phasga.

Omnem planitiem trans Iordanem ad orientalem plagam usque ad mare Solitudinis et usque ad radices montis Phasga

Deuteronomy Chapter 5

The ten commandments are repeated and explained.

---

5:1. And Moses called all Israel, and said to them: Hear, O Israel, the ceremonies and judgments, which I speak in your ears this day: learn them, and fulfil them in work.

Vocavitque Moses omnem Israhalem et dixit ad eum audi Israhel caerimonias atque iudicia quae ego loquor in auribus vestris hodie discite ea et opere complete

5:2. The Lord our God made a covenant with us in Horeb.

Dominus Deus noster pepigit nobiscum foedus in Horeb

5:3. He made not the covenant with our fathers, but with us, who are now present and living.

Non cum patribus nostris iniit pactum sed nobiscum qui inpraesentiarum sumus et vivimus

5:4. He spoke to us face to face in the mount out of the midst of fire.

Facie ad faciem locutus est nobis in monte de medio ignis

5:5. I was the mediator and stood between the Lord and you at that time, to show you his words, for you feared the fire, and went not up into the mountain, and he said:

Ego sequester et medius fui inter Dominum et vos in tempore illo ut adnuntiarem vobis verba eius timuistis enim ignem et non ascendistis in montem et ait

5:6. I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

Ego Dominus Deus tuus qui eduxi te de terra Aegypti de domo servitutis

5:7. Thou shalt not have strange gods in my sight.

Non habebis deos alienos in conspectu meo

5:8. Thou shalt not make to thy self a graven thing, nor the likeness of any things, that are in heaven above, or that are in the earth beneath, or that abide in the waters under the earth.

Non facies tibi sculptile nec similitudinem omnium quae in caelo sunt desuper et quae in terra deorsum et quae versantur in aquis sub terra

5:9. Thou shalt not adore them, and thou shalt not serve them. For I am the Lord thy God, a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon their children unto the third and fourth generation, to them that hate me,

Non adorabis ea et non coles ego enim sum Dominus Deus tuus Deus aemulator reddens iniquitatem patrum super filios in tertiam et quartam generationem his qui oderunt me

5:10. And showing mercy unto many thousands, to them that love me, and keep my commandments.

Et faciens misericordiam in multa milia diligentibus me et custodientibus praecepta mea

5:11. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain: for he shall not be unpunished that taketh his name upon a vain thing.

Non usurpabis nomen Domini Dei tui frustra quia non erit inpunitus qui super re vana nomen eius adsumpserit

5:12. Observe the day of the sabbath, to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee.

Observa diem sabbati ut sanctifices eum sicut praecepit tibi Dominus Deus tuus

5:13. Six days shalt thou labour, and shalt do all thy works.

Sex diebus operaberis et facies omnia opera tua

5:14. The seventh is the day of the sabbath, that is, the rest of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not do any work therein, thou nor thy son nor thy daughter, nor thy manservant nor thy maidservant, nor thy ox, nor thy ass, nor any of thy beasts, nor the stranger that is within thy gates: that thy manservant and thy maidservant may rest, even as thyself.

Septimus dies sabbati est id est requies Domini Dei tui non facies in eo quicquam operis tu et filius tuus et filia servus et ancilla et bos et asinus et omne iumentum tuum et peregrinus qui est intra portas tuas ut requiescat servus et ancilla tua sicut et tu

5:15. Remember that thou also didst serve in Egypt, and the Lord thy God brought thee out from thence with a strong hand, and a stretched out arm. Therefore hath he commanded thee that thou shouldst observe the sabbath day.

Memento quod et ipse servieris in Aegypto et eduxerit te inde Dominus Deus tuus in manu forti et brachio extento idcirco praecepit tibi ut observares diem sabbati

5:16. Honour thy father and mother, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee, that thou mayst live a long time, and it may be well with thee in the land, which the Lord thy God will give thee.

Honora patrem tuum et matrem sicut praecepit tibi Dominus Deus tuus ut longo vivas tempore et bene sit tibi in terra quam Dominus Deus tuus daturus est tibi

5:17. Thou shalt not kill.

Non occides

5:18. Neither shalt thou commit adultery.

Neque moechaberis

5:19. And thou shalt not steal.

Furtumque non facies

5:20. Neither shalt thou bear false witness against thy neighbour.

Nec loqueris contra proximum tuum falsum testimonium

5:21. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife: nor his house, nor his field, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is his.

Non concupisces uxorem proximi tui non domum non agrum non servum non ancillam non bovem non asinum et universa quae illius sunt

5:22. These words the Lord spoke to all the multitude of you in the mountain, out of the midst of the fire and the cloud, and the darkness, with a loud voice, adding nothing more: and he wrote them in two tables of stone, which he delivered unto me.

Haec verba locutus est Dominus ad omnem multitudinem vestram in monte de medio ignis et nubis et caliginis voce magna nihil addens amplius et scripsit ea in duabus tabulis lapideis quas tradidit mihi

5:23. But you, after you heard the voice out of the midst of the darkness, and saw the mountain burn, came to me, all the princes of the tribes and the elders, and you said:

Vos autem postquam audistis vocem de medio tenebrarum et montem ardere vidistis accessistis ad me omnes principes tribuum et maiores natu atque dixistis

5:24. Behold the Lord our God hath shown us his majesty and his greatness, we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire, and have proved this day that God speaking with man, man hath lived.

Ecce ostendit nobis Dominus Deus noster maiestatem et magnitudinem suam vocem eius audivimus de medio ignis et probavimus hodie quod loquente Deo cum homine vixerit homo

5:25. Why shall we die therefore, and why shall this exceeding great fire consume us: for if we hear the voice of the Lord our God any more, we shall die.

Cur ergo morimur et devorabit nos ignis hic maximus si enim audierimus ultra vocem Domini Dei nostri moriemur

5:26. What is all flesh, that it should hear the voice of the living God, who speaketh out of the midst of the fire, as we have heard, and be able to live?

Quid est omnis caro ut audiat vocem Dei viventis qui de medio ignis loquitur sicut nos audivimus et possit vivere

5:27. Approach thou rather: and hear all things that the Lord our God shall say to thee, and thou shalt speak to us, and we will hear and will do them.

Tu magis accede et audi cuncta quae dixerit Dominus Deus noster tibi loquerisque ad nos et nos audientes faciemus ea

5:28. And when the Lord had heard this, he said to me: I have heard the voice of the words of this people, which they spoke to thee: they have spoken all things well.

Quod cum audisset Dominus ait ad me audivi vocem verborum populi huius quae locuti sunt tibi bene omnia sunt locuti

5:29. Who shall give them to have such a mind, to fear me, and to keep all my commandments at all times, that it may be well with them and with their children for ever?

Quis det talem eos habere mentem ut timeant me et custodiant universa mandata mea in omni tempore ut bene sit eis et filiis eorum in sempiternum

5:30. Go and say to them: Return into your tents.

Vade et dic eis revertimini in tentoria vestra

5:31. But stand thou here with me, and I will speak to thee all my commandments, and ceremonies and judgments: which thou shalt teach them, that they may do them in the land, which I will give them for a possession.

Tu vero hic sta mecum et loquar tibi omnia mandata et caerimonias atque iudicia quae docebis eos ut faciant ea in terra quam dabo illis in possessionem

5:32. Keep therefore and do the things which the Lord God hath commanded you: you shall not go aside neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

Custodite igitur et facite quae praecepit Dominus Deus vobis non declinabitis neque ad dextram neque ad sinistram

5:33. But you shall walk in the way that the Lord your God hath commanded, that you may live, and it may be well with you, and your days may be long in the land of your possession.

Sed per viam quam praecepit Dominus Deus vester ambulabitis ut vivatis et bene sit vobis et protelentur dies in terra possessionis vestrae

Deuteronomy Chapter 6

An exhortation to the love of God, and obedience to his law.

6:1. These are the precepts, and ceremonies, and judgments, which the Lord your God commanded that I should teach you, and that you should do them in the land into which you pass over to possess it:

Haec sunt praecepta et caerimoniae atque iudicia quae mandavit Dominus Deus vester ut docerem vos et faciatis ea in terra ad quam transgredimini possidendam

6:2. That thou mayst fear the Lord thy God, and keep all his commandments and precepts, which I command thee, and thy sons, and thy grandsons, all the days of thy life, that thy days may be prolonged.

Ut timeas Dominum Deum tuum et custodias omnia mandata et praecepta eius quae ego praecipio tibi et filiis ac nepotibus tuis cunctis diebus vitae tuae ut prolongentur dies tui

6:3. Hear, O Israel, and observe to do the things which the Lord hath commanded thee, that it may be well with thee, and thou mayst be greatly multiplied, as the Lord the God of thy fathers hath promised thee a land flowing with milk and honey.

Audi Israhel et observa ut facias et bene sit tibi et multipliceris amplius sicut pollicitus est Dominus Deus patrum tuorum tibi terram lacte et melle manantem

6:4. Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God is one Lord.

Audi Israhel Dominus Deus noster Dominus unus est

6:5. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul, and with thy whole strength.

Diliges Dominum Deum tuum ex toto corde tuo et ex tota anima tua et ex tota fortitudine tua

6:6. And these words which I command thee this day, shall be in thy heart:

Eruntque verba haec quae ego praecipio tibi hodie in corde tuo

6:7. And thou shalt tell them to thy children, and thou shalt meditate upon them sitting in thy house, and walking on thy journey, sleeping and rising.

Et narrabis ea filiis tuis et meditaberis sedens in domo tua et ambulans in itinere dormiens atque consurgens

6:8. And thou shalt bind them as a sign on thy hand, and they shall be and shall move between thy eyes.

Et ligabis ea quasi signum in manu tua eruntque et movebuntur inter oculos tuos

6:9. And thou shalt write them in the entry, and on the doors of thy house.

Scribesque ea in limine et ostiis domus tuae

6:10. And when the Lord thy God shall have brought thee into the land, for which he swore to thy fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: and shall have given thee great and goodly cities, which thou didst not build,

Cumque introduxerit te Dominus Deus tuus in terram pro qua iuravit patribus tuis Abraham Isaac et Iacob et dederit tibi civitates magnas et optimas quas non aedificasti

6:11. Houses full of riches, which thou didst not set up, cisterns which thou didst not dig, vineyards and oliveyards, which thou didst not plant,

Domos plenas cunctarum opum quas non extruxisti cisternas quas non fodisti vineta et oliveta quae non plantasti

6:12. And thou shalt have eaten and be full:

Et comederis et saturatus fueris

6:13. Take heed diligently lest thou forget the Lord, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God, and shalt serve him only, and thou shalt swear by his name.

Cave diligenter ne obliviscaris Domini qui eduxit te de terra Aegypti de domo servitutis Dominum Deum tuum timebis et ipsi servies ac per nomen illius iurabis

6:14. You shall not go after the strange gods of all the nations, that are round about you:

Non ibitis post deos alienos cunctarum gentium quae in circuitu vestro sunt

6:15. Because the Lord thy God is a jealous God in the midst of thee: lest at any time the wrath of the Lord thy God be kindled against thee, and take thee away from the face of the earth.

Quoniam Deus aemulator Dominus Deus tuus in medio tui nequando irascatur furor Domini Dei tui contra te et auferat te de superficie terrae

6:16. Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God, as thou temptedst him in the place of temptation.

Non temptabis Dominum Deum tuum sicut temptasti in loco temptationis

6:17. Keep the precepts of the Lord thy God, and the testimonies and ceremonies which he hath commanded thee.

Custodi praecepta Domini Dei tui ac testimonia et caerimonias quas praecepit tibi

6:18. And do that which is pleasing and good in the sight of the Lord, that it may be well with thee: and going in thou mayst possess the goodly land, concerning which the Lord swore to thy fathers,

Et fac quod placitum est et bonum in conspectu Domini ut bene sit tibi et ingressus possideas terram optimam de qua iuravit Dominus patribus tuis

6:19. That he would destroy all thy enemies before thee, as he hath spoken.

Ut deleret omnes inimicos tuos coram te sicut locutus est

6:20. And when thy son shall ask thee to morrow, saying: What mean these testimonies, and ceremonies and judgments, which the Lord our God hath commanded us?

Cum interrogaverit te filius tuus cras dicens quid sibi volunt testimonia haec et caerimoniae atque iudicia quae praecepit Dominus Deus noster nobis

6:21. Thou shalt say to him: We were bondmen of Pharao in Egypt, and the Lord brought us out of Egypt with a strong hand.

Dices ei servi eramus Pharaonis in Aegypto et eduxit nos Dominus de Aegypto in manu forti

6:22. And he wrought signs and wonders great and very grievous in Egypt against Pharao, and all his house, in our sight,

Fecitque signa atque prodigia magna et pessima in Aegypto contra Pharaonem et omnem domum illius in conspectu nostro

6:23. And he brought us out from thence, that he might bring us in and give us the land, concerning which he swore to our fathers.

Et eduxit nos inde ut introductis daret terram super qua iuravit patribus nostris

6:24. And the Lord commanded that we should do all these ordinances, and should fear the Lord our God, that it might be well with us all the days of our life, as it is at this day.

Praecepitque nobis Dominus ut faciamus omnia legitima haec et timeamus Dominum Deum nostrum et bene sit nobis cunctis diebus vitae nostrae sicut est hodie

6:25. And he will be merciful to us, if we keep and do all his precepts before the Lord our God, as he hath commanded us.

Eritque nostri misericors si custodierimus et fecerimus omnia praecepta eius coram Domino Deo nostro sicut mandavit nobis

Deuteronomy Chapter 7

No league nor fellowship to be made with the Chanaanites: God promiseth his people his blessing and assistance, if they keep his commandments.

---

7:1. When the Lord thy God shall have brought thee into the land, which thou art going in to possess, and shall have destroyed many nations before thee, the Hethite, and the Gergezite, and the Amorrhite, and the Chanaanite, and the Pherezite, and the Hevite, and the Jebusite, seven nations much more numerous than thou art, and stronger than thou:

Cum introduxerit te Dominus Deus tuus in terram quam possessurus ingredieris et deleverit gentes multas coram te Hethheum et Gergeseum et Amorream Chananeum et Ferezeum et Eveum et Iebuseum septem gentes multo maioris numeri quam tu es et robustiores te

7:2. And the Lord thy God shall have delivered them to thee, thou shalt utterly destroy them. Thou shalt make no league with them, nor show mercy to them:

Tradideritque eas Dominus Deus tuus tibi percuties eas usque ad internicionem non inibis cum eis foedus nec misereberis earum

7:3. Neither shalt thou make marriages with them. Thou shalt not give thy daughter to his son, nor take his daughter for thy son:

Neque sociabis cum eis coniugia filiam tuam non dabis filio eius nec filiam illius accipies filio tuo

7:4. For she will turn away thy son from following me, that he may rather serve strange gods, and the wrath of the Lord will be kindled, and will quickly destroy thee.

Quia seducet filium tuum ne sequatur me et ut magis serviat diis alienis irasceturque furor Domini et delebit te cito

7:5. But thus rather shall you deal with them: Destroy their altars, and break their statues, and cut down their groves, and burn their graven things.

Quin potius haec facietis eis aras eorum subvertite confringite statuas lucosque succidite et sculptilia conburite

7:6. Because thou art a holy people to the Lord thy God. The Lord thy God hath chosen thee, to be his peculiar people of all peoples that are upon the earth.

Quia populus sanctus es Domino Deo tuo te elegit Dominus Deus tuus ut sis ei populus peculiaris de cunctis populis qui sunt super terram

7:7. Not because you surpass all nations in number, is the Lord joined unto you, and hath chosen you, for you are the fewest of any people:

Non quia cunctas gentes numero vincebatis vobis iunctus est Dominus et elegit vos cum omnibus sitis populis pauciores

7:8. But because the Lord hath loved you, and hath kept his oath, which he swore to your fathers: and hath brought you out with a strong hand, and redeemed you from the house of bondage, out of the hand of Pharao the king of Egypt.

Sed quia dilexit vos Dominus et custodivit iuramentum quod iuravit patribus vestris eduxitque vos in manu forti et redemit de domo servitutis de manu Pharaonis regis Aegypti

7:9. And thou shalt know that the Lord thy God, he is a strong and faithful God, keeping his covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments, unto a thousand generations:

Et scies quia Dominus Deus tuus ipse est Deus fortis et fidelis custodiens pactum et misericordiam diligentibus se et his qui custodiunt praecepta eius in mille generationes

7:10. And repaying forthwith them that hate him, so as to destroy them, without further delay immediately rendering to them what they deserve.

Et reddens odientibus se statim ita ut disperdat eos et ultra non differat protinus eis restituens quod merentur

7:11. Keep therefore the precepts and ceremonies and judgments, which I command thee this day to do.

Custodi ergo praecepta et caerimonias atque iudicia quae ego mando tibi hodie ut facias

7:12. If after thou hast heard these judgments, thou keep and do them, the Lord thy God will also keep his covenant to thee, and the mercy which he swore to thy fathers:

Si postquam audieris haec iudicia custodieris ea et feceris custodiet et Dominus Deus tuus tibi pactum et misericordiam quam iuravit patribus tuis

7:13. And he will love thee and multiply thee, and will bless the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy land, thy corn, and thy vintage, thy oil, and thy herds, and the flocks of thy sheep upon the land, for which he swore to thy fathers that he would give it thee.

Et diliget te ac multiplicabit benedicetque fructui ventris tui et fructui terrae tuae frumento tuo atque vindemiae oleo et armentis gregibus ovium tuarum super terram pro qua iuravit patribus tuis ut daret eam tibi

7:14. Blessed shalt thou be among all people. No one shall be barren among you of either sex, neither of men nor cattle.

Benedictus eris inter omnes populos non erit apud te sterilis utriusque sexus tam in hominibus quam in gregibus tuis

7:15. The Lord will take away from thee all sickness: and the grievous infirmities of Egypt, which thou knowest, he will not bring upon thee, but upon thy enemies.

Auferet Dominus a te omnem languorem et infirmitates Aegypti pessimas quas novisti non inferet tibi sed cunctis hostibus tuis

7:16. Thou shalt consume all the people, which the Lord thy God will deliver to thee. Thy eye shall not spare them, neither shalt thou serve their gods, lest they be thy ruin.

Devorabis omnes populos quos Dominus Deus tuus daturus est tibi non parces eis oculus tuus nec servies diis eorum ne sint in ruinam tui

7:17. If thou say in thy heart: These nations are more than I, how shall I be able to destroy them?

Si dixeris in corde tuo plures sunt gentes istae quam ego quomodo potero delere eas

7:18. Fear not, but remember what the Lord thy God did to Pharao and to all the Egyptians,

Noli metuere sed recordare quae fecerit Dominus Deus tuus Pharaoni et cunctis Aegyptiis

7:19. The exceeding great plagues, which thy eyes saw, and the signs and wonders, and the strong hand, and the stretched out arm, with which the Lord thy God brought thee out: so will he do to all the people, whom thou fearest.

Plagas maximas quas viderunt oculi tui et signa atque portenta manumque robustam et extentum brachium ut educeret te Dominus Deus tuus sic faciet cunctis populis quos metuis

7:20. Moreover the Lord thy God will send also hornets among them, until he destroy and consume all that have escaped thee, and could hide themselves.

Insuper et crabrones mittet Dominus Deus tuus in eos donec deleat omnes atque disperdat qui te fugerint et latere potuerint

7:21. Thou shalt not fear them, because the Lord thy God is in the midst of thee, a God mighty and terrible:

Non timebis eos quia Dominus Deus tuus in medio tui est Deus magnus et terribilis

7:22. He will consume these nations in thy sight by little and little and by degrees. Thou wilt not be able to destroy them altogether: lest perhaps the beasts of the earth should increase upon thee.

Ipse consumet nationes has in conspectu tuo paulatim atque per partes non poteris delere eas pariter ne forte multiplicentur contra te bestiae terrae

7:23. But the Lord thy God shall deliver them in thy sight: and shall slay them until they be utterly destroyed.

Dabitque eos Dominus Deus tuus in conspectu tuo et interficiet illos donec penitus deleantur

7:24. And he shall deliver their kings into thy hands, and thou shalt destroy their names from under Heaven: no man shall be able to resist thee, until thou destroy them.

Tradet reges eorum in manus tuas et disperdes nomina eorum sub caelo nullus poterit resistere tibi donec conteras eos

7:25. Their graven things thou shalt burn with fire: thou shalt not covet the silver and gold of which they are made, neither shalt thou take to thee any thing thereof, lest thou offend, because it is an abomination to the Lord thy God.

Sculptilia eorum igne conbures non concupisces argentum et aurum de quibus facta sunt neque adsumes ex eis tibi quicquam ne offendas propter ea quia abominatio est Domini Dei tui

Graven things... Idols, so called by contempt.

7:26. Neither shalt thou bring any thing of the idol into thy house, lest thou become an anathema, like it. Thou shalt detest it as dung, and shalt utterly abhor it as uncleanness and filth, because it is an anathema.

Nec inferes quippiam ex idolo in domum tuam ne fias anathema sicut et illud est quasi spurcitiam detestaberis et velut inquinamentum ac sordes abominationi habebis quia anathema est

Deuteronomy Chapter 8

The people is put in mind of God's dealings with them, to the end that they may love him and serve him.

---

8:1. All the commandments, that I command thee this day, take great care to observe: that you may live, and be multiplied, and going in may possess the land, for which the Lord swore to your fathers.

Omne mandatum quod ego praecipio tibi hodie cave diligenter ut facias ut possitis vivere et multiplicemini ingressique possideatis terram pro qua iuravit Dominus patribus vestris

8:2. And thou shalt remember all the way through which the Lord thy God hath brought thee for forty years through the desert, to afflict thee and to prove thee, and that the things that were known in thy heart might be made known, whether thou wouldst keep his commandments or no.

Et recordaberis cuncti itineris per quod adduxit te Dominus Deus tuus quadraginta annis per desertum ut adfligeret te atque temptaret et nota fierent quae in tuo animo versabantur utrum custodires mandata illius an non

8:3. He afflicted thee with want, and gave thee manna for thy food, which neither thou nor thy fathers knew: to show that not in bread alone doth man live, but in every word that proceedeth from the mouth of God.

Adflixit te penuria et dedit tibi cibum manna quem ignorabas tu et patres tui ut ostenderet tibi quod non in solo pane vivat homo sed in omni verbo quod egreditur ex ore Domini

Not in bread alone, etc... That is, that God is able to make food of what he pleases for the support of man.

8:4. Thy raiment, with which thou wast covered, hath not decayed for age, and thy foot is not worn, lo this is the fortieth year,

Vestimentum tuum quo operiebaris nequaquam vetustate defecit et pes tuus non est subtritus en quadagesimus annus est

8:5. That thou mayst consider in thy heart, that as a man traineth up his son, so the Lord thy God hath trained thee up.

Ut recogites in corde tuo quia sicut erudit homo filium suum sic Dominus Deus tuus erudit te

8:6. That thou shouldst keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways, and fear him.

Ut custodias mandata Domini Dei tui et ambules in viis eius et timeas eum

8:7. For the Lord thy God will bring thee into a good land, of brooks and of waters, and of fountains: in the plains of which and the hills deep rivers break out:

Dominus enim Deus tuus introducet te in terram bonam terram rivorum aquarumque et fontium in cuius campis et montibus erumpunt fluviorum abyssi

8:8. A land of wheat, and barley, and vineyards, wherein fig trees and pomegranates, and oliveyards grow: a land of oil and honey.

Terram frumenti hordei vinearum in qua ficus et mala granata et oliveta nascuntur terram olei ac mellis

8:9. Where without any want thou shalt eat thy bread, and enjoy abundance of all things: where the stones are iron, and out of its hills are dug mines of brass:

Ubi absque ulla penuria comedes panem tuum et rerum omnium abundantia perfrueris cuius lapides ferrum sunt et de montibus eius aeris metalla fodiantur

8:10. That when thou hast eaten, and art full, thou mayst bless the Lord thy God for the excellent land which he hath given thee.

Ut cum comederis et satiatus fueris benedicas Domino Deo tuo pro terra optima quam dedit tibi

8:11. Take heed, and beware lest at any time thou forget the Lord thy God, and neglect his commandments and judgments and ceremonies, which I command thee this day:

Observa et cave nequando obliviscaris Domini Dei tui et neglegas mandata eius atque iudicia et caerimonias quas ego praecipio tibi hodie

8:12. Lest after thou hast eaten and art filled, hast built goodly houses, and dwelt in them,
Ne postquam comederis et satiatus domos pulchras aedificaveris et habitaveris in eis

8:13. And shalt have herds of oxen and flocks of sheep, and plenty of gold and of silver, and of all things,
Habuerisque armenta et ovium greges argenti et auri cunctarumque rerum copiam

8:14. Thy heart be lifted up, and thou remember not the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage:

Elevetur cor tuum et non reminiscaris Domini Dei tui qui eduxit te de terra Aegypti de domo servitutis

8:15. And was thy leader in the great and terrible wilderness, wherein there was the serpent burning with his breath, and the scorpion and the dipsas, and no waters at all: who brought forth streams out of the hardest rock,

Et ductor tuus fuit in solitudine magna atque terribili in qua erat serpens flatu adurens et scorpio ac dipsas et nullae omnino aquae qui eduxit rivos de petra durissima

The Dipsas... A serpent whose bite causeth a violent thirst; from whence it has its name, for in Greek dipsa signifies thirst.

8:16. And fed thee in the wilderness with manna which thy fathers knew not. And after he had afflicted and proved thee, at the last he had mercy on thee,

Et cibavit te manna in solitudine quod nescierunt patres tui et postquam adflixit ac probavit ad extremum misertus est tui

8:17. Lest thou shouldst say in thy heart: My own might, and the strength of my own hand have achieved all these things for me.

Ne diceres in corde tuo fortitudo mea et robur manus meae haec mihi omnia praestiterunt

8:18. But remember the Lord thy God, that he hath given thee strength, that he might fulfil his covenant, concerning which he swore to thy fathers, as this present day showeth.

Sed recorderis Domini Dei tui quod ipse tibi vires praeberit ut impleret pactum suum super quo iuravit patribus tuis sicut praesens indicat dies

8:19. But if thou forget the Lord thy God, and follow strange gods, and serve and adore them: behold now I foretell thee that thou shalt utterly perish.

Sin autem oblitus Domini Dei tui secutus fueris alienos deos coluerisque illos et adoraveris ecce nunc praedico tibi quod omnino dispereas

8:20. As the nations, which the Lord destroyed at thy entrance, so shall you also perish, if you be disobedient to the voice of the Lord your God.

Sicut gentes quas delevit Dominus in introitu tuo ita et vos peribitis si inoboedientes fueritis voci Domini Dei vestri

Deuteronomy Chapter 9

Lest they should impute their victories to their own merits, they are put in mind of their manifold rebellions and other sins, for which they should have been destroyed, but God spared them for his promise made to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

---

9:1. Hear, O Israel: Thou shalt go over the Jordan this day; to possess nations very great, and stronger than thyself, cities great, and walled up to the sky,

Audi Israhel tu transgredieris hodie Iordanem ut possideas nationes maximas et fortiores te civitates ingentes et ad caelum usque muratas

9:2. A people great and tall, the sons of the Enacims, whom thou hast seen, and heard of, against whom no man is able to stand.

Populum magnum atque sublimem filios Enacim quos ipse vidisti et audisti quibus nullus potest ex adverso resistere

9:3. Thou shalt know therefore this day that the Lord thy God himself will pass over before thee, a devouring and consuming fire, to destroy and extirpate and bring them to nothing before thy face quickly, as he hath spoken to thee.

Scies ergo hodie quod Dominus Deus tuus ipse transibit ante te ignis devorans atque consumens qui conterat eos et deleat atque disperdat ante faciem tuam velociter sicut locutus est tibi

9:4. Say not in thy heart, when the Lord thy God shall have destroyed them in thy sight: For my justice hath the Lord brought me in to possess this land, whereas these nations are destroyed for their wickedness.

Ne dicas in corde tuo cum deleverit eos Dominus Deus tuus in conspectu tuo propter iustitiam meam introduxit me Dominus ut terram hanc possiderem cum propter impietates suas istae deletae sint nationes

9:5. For it is not for thy justices, and the uprightness of thy heart that thou shalt go in to possess their lands: but because they have done wickedly, they are destroyed at thy coming in: and that the Lord might accomplish his word, which he promised by oath to thy fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Neque enim propter iustitias tuas et aequitatem cordis tui ingredieris ut possideas terras eorum sed quia illae egerunt impie te introeunte deletae sunt et ut conpleret verbum suum Dominus quod sub iuramento pollicitus est patribus tuis Abraham Isaac et Iacob

9:6. Know therefore that the Lord thy God giveth thee not this excellent land in possession for thy justices, for thou art a very stiffnecked people.

Scito igitur quod non propter iustitias tuas Dominus Deus tuus dederit tibi terram hanc optimam in possessionem cum durissimae cervicis sis populus

9:7. Remember, and forget not how thou provokedst the Lord thy God to wrath in the wilderness. From the day that thou camest out of Egypt unto this place, thou hast always strove against the Lord.

Memento et ne obliviscaris quomodo ad iracundiam provocaveris Dominum Deum tuum in solitudine ex eo die quo es egressus ex Aegypto usque ad locum istum semper adversum Dominum contendisti

9:8. For in Horeb, also thou didst provoke him, and he was angry, and would have destroyed thee,

Nam et in Horeb provocasti eum et iratus delere te voluit

9:9. When I went up into the mount to receive the tables of stone, the tables of the covenant which the Lord made with you: and I continued in the mount forty days and nights, neither eating bread, nor drinking water.

Quando ascendi in montem ut acciperem tabulas lapideas tabulas pacti quod pepigit vobiscum Dominus et perseveravi in monte quadraginta diebus ac noctibus panem non comedens et aquam non bibens

9:10. And the Lord gave me two tables of stone written with the finger of God, and containing all the words that he spoke to you in the mount from the midst of the fire, when the people were assembled together.
Deditque mihi Dominus duas tabulas lapideas scriptas digito Dei et continentes omnia verba quae vobis in monte locutus est de medio ignis quando contio populi congregata est

9:11. And when forty days were passed, and as many nights, the Lord gave me the two tables of stone, the tables of the covenant,
Cumque transissent quadraginta dies et totidem noctes dedit mihi Dominus duas tabulas lapideas tabulas foederis

9:12. And said to me: Arise, and go down from hence quickly: for thy people, which thou hast brought out of Egypt, have quickly forsaken the way that thou hast shown them, and have made to themselves a molten idol.
Dixitque mihi surge et descende hinc cito quia populus tuus quos eduxisti de Aegypto deseruerunt velociter viam quam demonstrasti eis feceruntque sibi conflatile

9:13. And again the Lord said to me: I see that this people is stiffnecked:
Rursumque ait Dominus ad me cerno quod populus iste durae cervicis sit

9:14. Let me alone that I may destroy them, and abolish their name from under heaven, and set thee over a nation, that is greater and stronger than this.
Dimitte me ut conteram eum et deleam nomen eius sub caelo et constituam te super gentem quae hac maior et fortior sit

9:15. And when I came down from the burning mount, and held the two tables of the covenant with both hands,
Cumque de monte ardente descenderem et duas tabulas foederis utraque tenerem manu

9:16. And saw that you had sinned against the Lord your God, and had made to yourselves a molten calf, and had quickly forsaken his way, which he had shown you:
Vidissemque vos peccasse Domino Deo vestro et fecisse vobis vitulum conflatilem ac deseruisse velociter viam eius quam vobis ostenderat

9:17. I cast the tables out of my hands, and broke them in your sight.
Proieci tabulas de manibus meis confregique eas in conspectu vestro

9:18. And I fell down before the Lord as before, forty days and nights neither eating bread, nor drinking water, for all your sins, which you had committed against the Lord, and had provoked him to wrath:
Et procidi ante Dominum sicut prius quadraginta diebus et noctibus panem non comedens et aquam non bibens propter omnia peccata vestra quae gessistis contra Dominum et eum ad iracundiam provocastis

9:19. For I feared his indignation and anger, wherewith being moved against you, he would have destroyed you. And the Lord heard me this time also.
Timui enim indignationem et iram illius qua adversum vos concitatus delere vos voluit et exaudivit me Dominus etiam hac vice 9:20. And he was exceeding angry against Aaron also, and would have destroyed him, and I prayed in like manner for him.

Adversum Aaron quoque vehementer iratus voluit eum conterere et pro illo similiter deprecatus sum

9:21. And your sin that you had committed, that is, the calf, I took, and burned it with fire, and breaking it into pieces, until it was as small as dust, I threw it into the torrent, which cometh down from the mountain.

Peccatum autem vestrum quod feceratis id est vitulum arripiens igne combusti et in frusta comminuens omninoque in pulverem redigens proieci in torrentem qui de monte descendit

9:22. At the burning also, and at the place of temptation, and at the graves of lust you provoked the Lord:
In Incendio quoque et in Temptatione et in sepulchris Concupiscentiae provocastis Dominum

9:23. And when he sent you from Cadesbarne, saying: Go up, and possess the land that I have given you, and you slighted the commandment of the Lord your God, and did not believe him, neither would you hearken to his voice:

Et quando misit vos de Cadesbarne dicens ascendite et possidete terram quam dedi vobis et contempsistis imperium Domini Dei vestri et non credidistis ei neque vocem eius audire voluistis

9:24. But were always rebellious from the day that I began to know you.

Sed semper fuistis rebelles a die qua nosse vos coepi

9:25. And I lay prostrate before the Lord forty days and nights, in which I humbly besought him, that he would not destroy you as he had threatened:

Et iacui coram Domino quadraginta diebus ac noctibus quibus eum suppliciter deprecabar ne deleret vos ut fuerat comminatus

9:26. And praying, I said: O Lord God, destroy not thy people, and thy inheritance, which thou hast redeemed in thy greatness, whom thou hast brought out of Egypt with a strong hand.

Et orans dixi Domine Deus ne disperdas populum tuum et hereditatem tuam quam redemisti in magnitudine tua quos eduxisti de Aegypto in manu forti

9:27. Remember thy servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: look not on the stubbornness of this people, nor on their wickedness and sin:

Recordare servorum tuorum Abraham Isaac et Iacob ne aspicias duritiam populi huius et impietatem atque peccatum

9:28. Lest perhaps the inhabitants of the land, out of which thou hast brought us, say: The Lord could not bring them into the land that he promised them, and he hated them: therefore he brought them out, that he might kill them in the wilderness,

Ne forte dicant habitatores terrae de qua eduxisti nos non poterat Dominus introducere eos in terram quam pollicitus est eis et oderat illos idcirco eduxit ut interficeret eos in solitudine

9:29. Who are thy people and thy inheritance, whom thou hast brought out by thy great strength, and in thy stretched out arm.

Qui sunt populus tuus et hereditas tua quos eduxisti in fortitudine tua magna et in brachio tuo extento

Deuteronomy Chapter 10

God giveth the second tables of the law: a further exhortation to fear and serve the Lord.

---

10:1. At that time the Lord said to me: Hew thee two tables of stone like the former, and come up to me into the mount: and thou shalt make an ark of wood,

In tempore illo dixit Dominus ad me dola tibi duas tabulas lapideas sicut priores fuerunt et ascende ad me in montem faciesque arcam ligneam

10:2. And I will write on the tables the words that were in them, which thou brokest before, and thou shalt put them in the ark.

Et scribam in tabulis verba quae fuerunt in his quas ante confregisti ponesque eas in arca

10:3. And I made an ark of setim wood. And when I had hewn two tables of stone like the former, I went up into the mount, having them in my hands.

Feci igitur arcam de lignis setthim cumque dolassem duas tabulas lapideas instar priorum ascendi in montem habens eas in manibus

10:4. And he wrote in the tables, according as he had written before, the ten words, which the Lord spoke to you in the mount from the midst of the fire, when the people were assembled: and he gave them to me.

Scripsitque in tabulis iuxta id quod prius scripserat verba decem quae locutus est Dominus ad vos in monte de medio ignis quando populus congregatus est et dedit eas mihi

10:5. And returning from the mount, I came down, and put the tables into the ark, that I had made, and they are there till this present, as the Lord commanded me.

Reversusque de monte descendi et posui tabulas in arcam quam feceram quae hucusque ibi sunt sicut mihi praecepit Dominus

10:6. And the children of Israel removed their camp from Beroth, of the children of Jacan into Mosera, where Aaron died and was buried, and Eleazar his son succeeded him in the priestly office.

Filii autem Israhel castra moverunt ex Beroth filiorum Iacan in Musera ubi Aaron mortuus ac sepultus est pro quo sacerdotio functus est filius eius Eleazar

Mosera... By mount Hor, for there Aaron died (Numbers 20). This and the following verses seem to be inserted by way of parenthesis.

10:7. From thence they came to Gadgad, from which place they departed, and camped in Jetebatha, in a land of waters and torrents.

Inde venerunt in Gadgad de quo loco profecti castrametati sunt in Ietabatha in terra aquarum atque torrentium

10:8. At that time he separated the tribe of Levi, to carry the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and to stand before him in the ministry, and to bless in his name until this present day.

Eo tempore separavit tribum Levi ut portaret arcam foederis Domini et staret coram eo in ministerio ac benediceret in nomine illius usque in praesentem diem

10:9. Wherefore Levi hath no part nor possession with his brethren: because the Lord himself is his possession, as the Lord thy God promised him.

Quam ob rem non habuit Levi partem neque possessionem cum fratribus suis quia ipse Dominus possessio eius est sicut promisit ei Dominus Deus tuus

10:10. And I stood in the mount, as before, forty days and nights: and the Lord heard me this time also, and would not destroy thee.

Ego autem steti in monte sicut prius quadraginta diebus ac noctibus exaudivitque me Dominus etiam hac vice et te perdere noluit

10:11. And he said to me: Go, and walk before the people, that they may enter, and possess the land, which I swore to their fathers that I would give them.

Dixitque mihi vade et praecedere populum ut ingrediatur et possideat terram quam iuravi patribus eorum ut traderem eis

10:12. And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but that thou fear the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways, and love him, and serve the Lord thy God, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul:

Et nunc Israhel quid Dominus Deus tuus petit a te nisi ut timeas Dominum Deum tuum et ambules in viis eius et diligas eum ac servias Domino Deo tuo in toto corde tuo et in tota anima tua

10:13. And keep the commandments of the Lord, and his ceremonies, which I command thee this day, that it may be well with thee?

Custodiasque mandata Domini et caerimonias eius quas ego hodie praecipio ut bene sit tibi

10:14. Behold heaven is the Lord's thy God, and the heaven of heaven, the earth and all things that are therein.

En Domini Dei tui caelum est et caelum caeli terra et omnia quae in ea sunt

10:15. And yet the Lord hath been closely joined to thy fathers, and loved them and chose their seed after them, that is to say, you, out of all nations, as this day it is proved.

Et tamen patribus tuis conglutinatus est Dominus et amavit eos elegitque semen eorum post eos id est vos de cunctis gentibus sicut hodie conprobatur

10:16. Circumcise therefore the foreskin of your heart, and stiffen your neck no more.

Circumcidite igitur praeputium cordis vestri et cervicem vestram ne induretis amplius

10:17. Because the Lord your God he is the God of gods, and the Lord of lords, a great God and mighty and terrible, who accepteth no person nor taketh bribes.

Quia Dominus Deus vester ipse est Deus deorum et Dominus dominantium Deus magnus et potens et terribilis qui personam non accipit nec munera

10:18. He doth judgment to the fatherless and the widow, loveth the stranger, and giveth him food and raiment.

Facit iudicium pupillo et viduae amat peregrinum et dat ei victum atque vestitum

10:19. And do you therefore love strangers, because you also were strangers in the land of Egypt.

Et vos ergo amate peregrinos quia et ipsi fuistis advenae in terra Aegypti

10:20. Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God, and serve him only: to him thou shalt adhere, and shalt swear by his name.

Dominum Deum tuum timebis et ei servies ipsi adherebis iurabisque in nomine illius

10:21. He is thy praise, and thy God, that hath done for thee these great and terrible things, which thy eyes have seen.

Ipse est laus tua et Deus tuus qui fecit tibi haec magnalia et terribilia quae viderunt oculi tui

10:22. In seventy souls thy fathers went down into Egypt: and behold now the Lord thy God hath multiplied thee as the stars of heaven.

In septuaginta animabus descenderunt patres tui in Aegyptum et ecce nunc multiplicavit te Dominus Deus tuus sicut astra caeli

Deuteronomy Chapter 11

The love and service of God are still inculcated, with a blessing to them that serve him, and threats of punishment if they forsake his law.

---

11:1. Therefore love the Lord thy God and observe his precepts and ceremonies, his judgments and commandments at all times.

Ama itaque Dominum Deum tuum et observa praecepta eius et caerimonias iudicia atque mandata omni tempore

11:2. Know this day the things that your children know not, who saw not the chastisements of the Lord your God, his great doings and strong hand, and stretched out arm,

Cognoscite hodie quae ignorant filii vestri qui non viderunt disciplinam Domini Dei vestri magnalia eius et robustam manum extentumque brachium

11:3. The signs and works which he did in the midst of Egypt to king Pharao, and to all his land,

Signa et opera quae fecit in medio Aegypti Pharaoni regi et universae terrae eius

11:4. And to all the host of the Egyptians, and to their horses and chariots: how the waters of the Red Sea covered them, when they pursued you, and how the Lord destroyed them until this present day:

Omnique exercitui Aegyptiorum et equis ac curribus quomodo operuerint eos aquae Rubri maris cum vos persequerentur et deleverit eos Dominus usque in praesentem diem

11:5. And what he hath done to you in the wilderness, till you came to this place:

Vobisque quae fecerit in solitudine donec veniretis ad hunc locum

11:6. And to Dathan and Abiron the sons of Eliab, who was the son of Ruben: whom the earth, opening her mouth swallowed up with their households and tents, and all their substance, which they had in the midst of Israel.

Et Dathan atque Abiram filiis Heliab qui fuit filius Ruben quos aperto ore suo terra absorbit cum domibus et tabernaculis et universa substantia eorum quam habebant in medio Israhelis

11:7. Your eyes have seen all the great works of the Lord, that he hath done,

Oculi vestri viderunt omnia opera Domini magna quae fecit

11:8. That you may keep all his commandments, which I command you this day, and may go in, and possess the land, to which you are entering,

Ut custodiatis universa mandata illius quae ego hodie praecipio vobis et possitis introire et possidere terram ad quam ingredimini

11:9. And may live in it a long time: which the Lord promised by oath to your fathers, and to their seed, a land which floweth with milk and honey.

Multoque in ea vivatis tempore quam sub iuramento pollicitus est Dominus patribus vestris et semini eorum lacte et melle manantem

11:10. For the land, which thou goest to possess, is not like the land of Egypt, from whence thou camest out, where, when the seed is sown, waters are brought in to water it after the manner of gardens.

Terra enim ad quam ingredieris possidendam non est sicut terra Aegypti de qua existi ubi iacto semine in hortorum morem aquae ducuntur irriguae

11:11. But it is a land of hills and plains, expecting rain from heaven.

Sed montuosa est et campestris de caelo expectans pluvias

11:12. And the Lord thy God doth always visit it, and his eyes are on it from the beginning of the year unto the end thereof.

Quam Dominus Deus tuus semper invisit et oculi illius in ea sunt a principio anni usque ad finem eius

11:13. If then you obey my commandments, which I command you this day, that you love the Lord your God, and serve him with all your heart, and with all your soul:

Si ergo oboedieritis mandatis meis quae hodie praecipio vobis ut diligatis Dominum Deum vestrum et serviatis ei in toto corde vestro et in tota anima vestra

11:14. He will give to your land the early rain and the latter rain, that you may gather in your corn, and your wine, and your oil,

Dabo pluviam terrae vestrae temporivam et serotinam ut colligatis frumentum et vinum et oleum

11:15. And your hay out of the fields to feed your cattle, and that you may eat and be filled.

Faenum ex agris ad pascenda iumenta et ut ipsi comedatis ac saturemini

11:16. Beware lest perhaps your heart be deceived, and you depart from the Lord, and serve strange gods, and adore them:

Cavete ne forte decipiatur cor vestrum et recedatis a Domino serviatisque diis alienis et adoretis eos

11:17. And the Lord being angry shut up heaven, that the rain come not down, nor the earth yield her fruit, and you perish quickly from the excellent land, which the Lord will give you.

Iratusque Dominus claudat caelum et pluviae non descendant nec terra det germen suum pereatisque velociter de terra optima quam Dominus daturus est vobis

11:18. Lay up these words in your hearts and minds, and hang them for a sign on your hands, and place them between your eyes.

Ponite haec verba mea in cordibus et in animis vestris et suspendite ea pro signo in manibus et inter vestros oculos conlocate

11:19. Teach your children that they meditate on them, when thou sittest in thy house, and when thou walkest on the way, and when thou liest down and risest up.

Docete filios vestros ut illa meditentur quando sederis in domo tua et ambulaveris in via et accubueris atque surrexeris

11:20. Thou shalt write them upon the posts and the doors of thy house:

Scribes ea super postes et ianuas domus tuae

11:21. That thy days may be multiplied, and the days of thy children in the land which the Lord swore to thy fathers, that he would give them as long as the heaven hangeth over the earth.

Ut multiplicentur dies tui et filiorum tuorum in terra quam iuravit Dominus patribus tuis ut daret eis quamdiu caelum inminet terrae

11:22. For if you keep the commandments which I command you, and do them, to love the Lord your God, and walk in all his ways, cleaving unto him,

Si enim custodieritis mandata quae ego praecipio vobis et feceritis ea ut diligatis Dominum Deum vestrum et ambuletis in omnibus viis eius adherentes ei

11:23. The Lord will destroy all these nations before your face, and you shall possess them, which are greater and stronger than you.

Disperdet Dominus omnes gentes istas ante faciem vestram et possidebitis eas quae maiores et fortiores vobis sunt

11:24. Every place, that your foot shall tread upon, shall be yours. From the desert, and from Libanus, from the great river Euphrates unto the western sea shall be your borders.

Omnis locus quem calcaverit pes vester vester erit a deserto et Libano a flumine magno Eufraten usque ad mare occidentale erunt termini vestri

11:25. None shall stand against you: the Lord your God shall lay the dread and fear of you upon all the land that you shall tread upon, as he hath spoken to you.

Nullus stabit contra vos terrorem vestrum et formidinem dabit Dominus Deus vester super omnem terram quam calcaturi estis sicut locutus est vobis

11:26. Behold I set forth in your sight this day a  blessing  and a  curse :
En propono in conspectu vestro hodie benedictionem et maledictionem

11:27. A  blessing , if you  obey  the  commandments  of the  Lord your God , which I command you this day:
Benedictionem si oboedieritis mandatis Domini Dei vestri quae ego praecipio vobis

11:28. A  curse , if you  obey  not the  commandments  of the  Lord your God , but revolt from the way which now I show you, and walk after  strange gods  which you  know  not.
Maledictionem si non audieritis mandata Domini Dei vestri sed recesseritis de via quam ego nunc ostendo vobis et ambulaveritis post deos alienos quos ignoratis

11:29. And when the  Lord thy God  shall have brought thee into the land, whither thou goest to dwell, thou shalt put the  blessing  upon mount Garizim, the  curse  upon mount Hebal:
Cum introduxerit te Dominus Deus tuus in terram ad quam pergis habitandam pones benedictionem super montem Garizim maledictionem super montem Hebal
Put the blessing, et... See Deuteronomy 27:12, etc. and Joshua 8:33, etc.

11:30. Which are beyond the  Jordan , behind the way that goeth to the setting of the sun, in the land of the  Chanaanite  who dwelleth in the plain country over against Galgala, which is near the valley that reacheth and entereth far.
Qui sunt trans Iordanem post viam quae vergit ad solis occubitum in terra Chananei qui habitat in campestribus contra Galgalam quae est iuxta vallem tendentem et intrantem procul

11:31. For you shall pass over the  Jordan , to possess the land, which the  Lord your God  will give you, that you may have it and possess it.
Vos enim transibitis Iordanem ut possideatis terram quam Dominus Deus vester daturus est vobis et habeatis ac possideatis illam

11:32. See therefore that you fulfil the  ceremonies  and judgments, which I shall set this day before you.
Videte ergo ut impleatis caerimonias atque iudicia quae ego hodie ponam in conspectu vestro

Deuteronomy Chapter 12

All idolatry must be extirpated: sacrifices, tithes, and firstfruits must be offered in one only place: all eating of blood is prohibited.

12:1. These are the precepts and judgments, that you must do in the land, which the Lord the God of thy fathers will give thee, to possess it all the days that thou shalt walk upon the earth.

Haec sunt praecepta atque iudicia quae facere debetis in terra quam Dominus Deus patrum tuorum daturus est tibi ut possideas eam cunctis diebus quibus super humum gradieris

12:2. Destroy all the places in which the nations, that you shall possess, worshipped their gods upon high mountains, and hills, and under every shady tree:

Subvertite omnia loca in quibus coluerunt gentes quas possessuri estis deos suos super montes excelsos et colles et subter omne lignum frondosum

12:3. Overthrow their altars, and break down their statues, burn their groves with fire, and break their idols in pieces: destroy their names out of those places.

Dissipate aras earum et confringite statuas lucos igne conburite et idola comminuite disperdite nomina eorum de locis illis

12:4. You shall not do so to the Lord your God:

Non facietis ita Domino Deo vestro

12:5. But you shall come to the place, which the Lord your God shall choose out of all your tribes, to put his name there, and to dwell in it:

Sed ad locum quem elegerit Dominus Deus vester de cunctis tribubus vestris ut ponat nomen suum ibi et habitet in eo venietis

12:6. And you shall offer in that place your holocausts and victims, the tithes and firstfruits of your hands and your vows and gifts, the firstborn of your herds and your sheep.

Et offeretis in illo loco holocausta et victimas vestras decimas et primitias manuum vestrarum et vota atque donaria primogenita boum et ovium

12:7. And you shall eat there in the sight of the Lord your God: and you shall rejoice in all things, whereunto you shall put your hand, you and your houses wherein the Lord your God hath blessed you.

Et comedetis ibi in conspectu Domini Dei vestri ac laetabimini in cunctis ad quae miseritis manum vos et domus vestrae in quibus benedixerit vobis Dominus Deus vester

12:8. You shall not do there the things we do here this day, every man that which seemeth good to himself.

Non facietis ibi quae nos hic facimus hodie singuli quod sibi rectum videtur

12:9. For until this present time you are not come to rest, and to the possession, which the Lord your God will give you.

Neque enim usque in praesens tempus venistis ad requiem et possessionem quam Dominus Deus daturus est vobis

12:10. You shall pass over the Jordan, and shall dwell in the land which the Lord your God will give you, that you may have rest from all enemies round about: and may dwell without any fear,

Transibitis Iordanem et habitabitis in terram quam Dominus Deus vester daturus est vobis ut requiescatis a cunctis hostibus per circuitum et absque ullo timore habitetis

12:11. In the place, which the Lord your God shall choose, that his name may be therein. Thither shall you bring all the things that I command you, holocausts, and victims, and tithes, and the firstfruits of your hands: and whatsoever is the choicest in the gifts which you shall vow to the Lord.

In loco quem elegerit Dominus Deus vester ut sit nomen eius in eo illuc omnia quae praecipio conferetis holocausta et hostias ac decimas et primitias manuum vestrarum et quicquid praecipuum est in muneribus quae vovistis Domino

12:12. There shall you feast before the Lord your God, you and your sons and your daughters, your menservants and maidservants, and the Levite that dwelleth in your cities. For he hath no other part and possession among you.

Ibi epulabimini coram Domino Deo vestro vos filii ac filiae vestrae famuli et famulae atque Levites qui in vestris urbibus commorantur neque enim habet aliam partem et possessionem inter vos

12:13. Beware lest thou offer thy holocausts in every place that thou shalt see:

Cave ne offeras holocausta tua in omni loco quem videris

12:14. But in the place which the Lord shall choose in one of thy tribes shalt thou offer sacrifices, and shalt do all that I command thee.

Sed in eo quem elegerit Dominus in una tribuum tuarum offeres hostias et facies quaecumque praecipio tibi

12:15. But if thou desirest to eat, and the eating of flesh delight thee, kill, and eat according to the blessing of the Lord thy God, which he hath given thee, in thy cities: whether it be unclean, that is to say, having blemish or defect: or clean, that is to say, sound and without blemish, such as may be offered, as the roe, and the hart, shalt thou eat it:

Sin autem comedere volueris et te esus carniū delectarit occide et comede iuxta benedictionem Domini Dei tui quam dedit tibi in urbibus tuis sive inmundum fuerit hoc est maculatum et debile sive mundum hoc est integrum et sine macula quod offerri licet sicut capream et cervum comedes

12:16. Only the blood thou shalt not eat, but thou shalt pour it out upon the earth as water.

Absque esu dumtaxat sanguinis quod super terram quasi aquam effundes

12:17. Thou mayst not eat in thy towns the tithes of thy corn, and thy wine, and thy oil, the firstborn of thy herds and thy cattle, nor any thing that thou vowest, and that thou wilt offer voluntarily, and the firstfruits of thy hands:

Non poteris comedere in oppidis tuis decimam frumenti et vini et olei tui primogenita armentorum et pecorum et omnia quae voveris et sponte offerre volueris et primitias manuum tuarum

12:18. But thou shalt eat them before the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, thou and thy son and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and maidservant, and the Levite that dwelleth in thy cities: and thou shalt rejoice and be refreshed before the Lord thy God in all things, whereunto thou shalt put thy hand.

Sed coram Domino Deo tuo comedes ea in loco quem elegerit Dominus Deus tuus tu et filius tuus ac filia servus et famula atque Levites qui manet in urbibus tuis et laetaberis et reficieris coram Domino Deo tuo in cunctis ad quae extenderis manum tuam

12:19. Take heed thou forsake not the Levite all the time that thou livest in the land.

Cave ne derelinquas Levitem omni tempore quo versaris in terra

12:20. When the Lord thy God shall have enlarged thy borders, as he hath spoken to thee, and thou wilt eat the flesh that thy soul desireth:

Quando dilataverit Dominus Deus tuus terminos tuos sicut locutus est tibi et volueris vesci carnibus quas desiderat anima tua

12:21. And if the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, that his name should be there, be far off, thou shalt kill of thy herds and of thy flocks, as I have commanded thee, and shalt eat in thy towns, as it pleaseth thee.

Locus autem quem elegerit Dominus Deus tuus ut sit nomen eius ibi si procul fuerit occides de armentis et pecoribus quae habueris sicut praecepi tibi et comedes in oppidis tuis ut tibi placet

12:22. Even as the roe and the hart is eaten, so shalt thou eat them: both the clean and unclean shall eat of them alike.

Sicut comeditur caprea et cervus ita vesceris eis et mundus et inmundus in commune vescentur

12:23. Only beware of this, that thou eat not the blood, for the blood is for the soul: and therefore thou must not eat the soul with the flesh:

Hoc solum cave ne sanguinem comedas sanguis enim eorum pro anima est et idcirco non debes animam

comedere cum carnibus

12:24. But thou shalt pour it upon the earth as water,
Sed super terram fundes quasi aquam

12:25. That it may be well with thee and thy children after thee, when thou shalt do that which is pleasing in the sight of the Lord.

Ut sit tibi bene et filiis tuis post te cum feceris quod placet in conspectu Domini

12:26. But the things which thou hast sanctified and vowed to the Lord, thou shalt take, and shalt come to the place which the Lord shall choose:

Quae autem sanctificaveris et voveris Domino tolles et venies ad locum quem elegerit Dominus

12:27. And shalt offer thy oblations, the flesh and the blood upon the altar of the Lord thy God: the blood of thy victims thou shalt pour on the altar: and the flesh thou thyself shalt eat.

Et offeres oblationes tuas carnem et sanguinem super altare Domini Dei tui sanguinem hostiarum fundes in altari carnibus autem ipse vesceris

12:28. Observe and hear all the things that I command thee, that it may be well with thee and thy children after thee for ever, when thou shalt do what is good and pleasing in the sight of the Lord thy God.

Observa et audi omnia quae ego praecipio tibi ut bene sit tibi et filiis tuis post te in sempiternum cum feceris quod bonum est et placitum in conspectu Domini Dei tui

12:29. When the Lord thy God shall have destroyed before thy face the nations, which thou shalt go in to possess, and when thou shalt possess them, and dwell in their land:

Quando disperderit Dominus Deus tuus ante faciem tuam gentes ad quas ingredieris possidendas et possederis eas atque habitaveris in terra earum

12:30. Beware lest thou imitate them, after they are destroyed at thy coming in, and lest thou seek after their ceremonies, saying: As these nations have worshipped their gods, so will I also worship.

Cave ne imiteris eas postquam te fuerint introeunte subversae et requiras caerimonias earum dicens sicut coluerunt gentes istae deos suos ita et ego colam

12:31. Thou shalt not do in like manner to the Lord thy God. For they have done to their gods all the abominations which the Lord abhorreth, offering their sons and daughters, and burning them with fire.

Non facies similiter Domino Deo tuo omnes enim abominationes quas aversatur Dominus fecerunt diis suis offerentes filios et filias et conburentes igne

12:32. What I command thee, that only do thou to the Lord: neither add any thing, nor diminish.

Quod praecipio tibi hoc tantum facito Domino nec addas quicquam nec minuas

That only do thou, etc... They are forbid here to follow the ceremonies of the heathens; or to make any alterations in the divine ordinances.

Deuteronomy Chapter 13

False prophets must be slain, and idolatrous cities destroyed.

13:1. If there rise in the midst of thee a prophet or one that saith he hath dreamed a dream, and he foretell a sign and a wonder,
Si surrexerit in medio tui prophetae aut qui somnium vidisse se dicat et praedixerit signum atque portentum

13:2. And that come to pass which he spoke, and he say to thee: Let us go and follow strange gods, which thou knowest not, and let us serve them:
Et evenerit quod locutus est et dixerit tibi eamus et sequamur deos alienos quos ignoras et serviamus eis

13:3. Thou shalt not hear the words of that prophet or dreamer: for the Lord your God trieth you, that it may appear whether you love him with all your heart, and with all your soul, or not.
Non audies verba prophetae illius aut somniatoris quia temptat vos Dominus Deus vester ut palam fiat utrum diligatis eum an non in toto corde et in tota anima vestra

13:4. Follow the Lord your God, and fear him, and keep his commandments, and hear his voice: him you shall serve, and to him you shall cleave.
Dominum Deum vestrum sequimini et ipsum timete mandata illius custodite et audite vocem eius ipsi servietis et ipsi adhaerebitis

13:5. And that prophet or forger of dreams shall be slain: because he spoke to draw you away from the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed you from the house of bondage: to make thee go out of the way, which the Lord thy God commanded thee: and thou shalt take away the evil out of the midst of thee.
Propheta autem ille aut fictor somniorum interficietur quia locutus est ut vos averteret a Domino Deo vestro qui eduxit vos de terra Aegypti et redemit de domo servitutis ut errare te faceret de via quam tibi praecepit Dominus Deus tuus et auferes malum de medio tui

13:6. If thy brother the son of thy mother, or thy son, or daughter, or thy wife that is in thy bosom, or thy friend, whom thou lovest as thy own soul, would persuade thee secretly, saying: Let us go, and serve strange gods, which thou knowest not, nor thy fathers,
Si tibi voluerit persuadere frater tuus filius matris tuae aut filius tuus vel filia sive uxor quae est in sinu tuo aut amicus quem diligis ut animam tuam clam dicens eamus et serviamus diis alienis quos ignoras tu et patres tui

13:7. Of all the nations round about, that are near or afar off, from one end of the earth to the other, Cunctarum in circuitu gentium quae iuxta vel procul sunt ab initio usque ad finem terrae

13:8. Consent not to him, hear him not, neither let thy eye spare him to pity and conceal him,
Non adquiescas ei nec audias neque parcat ei oculus tuus ut miserearis et occultes eum

13:9. But thou shalt presently put him to death. Let thy hand be first upon him, and afterwards the hands of all the people.
Sed statim interficies sit primum manus tua super eum et post te omnis populus mittat manum
Presently put him to death... Not by killing him by private authority, but by informing the magistrate, and proceeding by order of justice.

13:10. With stones shall he be stoned to death: because he would have withdrawn thee from the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage:
Lapidibus obrutus necabitur quia voluit te abstrahere a Domino Deo tuo qui eduxit te de terra Aegypti de domo servitutis

13:11. That all Israel hearing may fear, and may do no more any thing like this.
Ut omnis Israhel audiens timeat et nequaquam ultra faciat quippiam huius rei simile

13:12. If in one of thy cities, which the Lord thy God shall give thee to dwell in, thou hear some say:
Si audieris in una urbium tuarum quas Dominus Deus tuus dabit tibi ad habitandum dicentes aliquos

13:13. Children of Belial are gone out of the midst of thee, and have withdrawn the inhabitants of their city, and have said: Let us go, and serve strange gods which you know not:
Egressi sunt filii Belial de medio tui et averterunt habitatores urbis tuae atque dixerunt eamus et serviamus diis alienis quos ignoratis

Belial... That is, without yoke. Hence the wicked, who refuse to be subject to the divine law, are called in scripture the children of Belial.

13:14. Inquire carefully and diligently, the truth of the thing by looking well into it, and if thou find that which is said to be certain, and that this abomination hath been really committed,
Quaere sollicitè et diligenter rei veritate perspecta si inveneris certum esse quod dicitur et abominationem hanc opere perpetrata

13:15. Thou shalt forthwith kill the inhabitants of that city with the edge of the sword, and shalt destroy it and all things that are in it, even the cattle.
Statim percutes habitatores urbis illius in ore gladii et delebis eam omniaque quae in illa sunt usque ad pecora

13:16. And all the household goods that are there, thou shalt gather together in the midst of the streets thereof, and shall burn them with the city itself, so as to consume all for the Lord thy God, and that it be a heap for ever: it shall be built no more.
Quicquid etiam suppellectilis fuerit congregabis in medium platearum eius et cum ipsa civitate succendes ita ut universa consumas Domino Deo tuo et sit tumulus sempiternus non aedificabitur amplius

13:17. And there shall nothing of that anathema stick to thy hand: that the Lord may turn from the wrath of his fury, and may have mercy on thee, and multiply thee as he swore to thy fathers,
Et non adhaerebit de illo anathemate quicquam in manu tua ut avertatur Dominus ab ira furoris sui et misereatur tui multiplicetque te sicut iuravit patribus tuis

13:18. When thou shalt hear the voice of the Lord thy God, keeping all his precepts, which I command thee this day, that thou mayst do what is pleasing in the sight of the Lord thy God.
Quando audieris vocem Domini Dei tui custodiens omnia praecepta eius quae ego praecipio tibi hodie ut facias quod placitum est in conspectu Domini Dei tui

Deuteronomy Chapter 14

In mourning for the dead they are not to follow the ways of the Gentiles: the distinction of clean and unclean meats: ordinances concerning tithes, and firstfruits.

---

14:1. Be ye children of the Lord your God: you shall not cut yourselves, nor make any baldness for the dead;

Filii estote Domini Dei vestri non vos incidetis nec facietis calvitium super mortuo

14:2. Because thou art a holy people to the Lord thy God: and he chose thee to be his peculiar people of all nations that are upon the earth.

Quoniam populus sanctus es Domino Deo tuo et te elegit ut sis ei in populum peculiarem de cunctis gentibus quae sunt super terram

14:3. Eat not the things that are unclean.

Ne comedatis quae immunda sunt

Unclean... See the annotations on Leviticus 11.

14:4. These are the beasts that you shall eat, the ox, and the sheep, and the goat,

Hoc est animal quod comedere debetis bovem et ovem et capram

14:5. The hart and the roe, the buffle, the chamois, the pygarg, the wild goat, the camelopardalus.

Cervum capream bubalum tragelaphum pygargon orygem camelopardalum

14:6. Every beast that divideth the hoof in two parts, and cheweth the cud, you shall eat.

Omne animal quod in duas partes ungulam findit et ruminat comedetis

14:7. But of them that chew the cud, but divide not the hoof, you shall not eat, such as the camel, the hare, and the chero-gril: because they chew the cud, but divide not the hoof, they shall be unclean to you.

De his autem quae ruminant et ungulam non findunt haec comedere non debetis camelum leporem choerogyllium quia ruminant et non dividunt ungulam immunda erunt vobis

14:8. The swine also, because it divideth the hoof, but cheweth not the cud, shall be unclean, their flesh you shall not eat, and their carcasses you shall not touch.

Sus quoque quoniam dividit ungulam et non ruminat immunda erit carnibus eorum non vescemini et cadavera non tangetis

14:9. These shall you eat of all that abide in the waters: All that have fins and scales, you shall eat.

Haec comedetis ex omnibus quae morantur in aquis quae habent pinnulas et squamas comedite

14:10. Such as are without fins and scales, you shall not eat, because they are unclean.

Quae absque pinnulis et squamis sunt ne comedatis quia immunda sunt

14:11. All birds that are clean you shall eat.

Omnes aves mundas comedite

14:12. The unclean eat not: to wit, the eagle, and the grype, and the osprey,

Immundas ne comedatis aquilam scilicet et grypem et alietum

14:13. The ringtail, and the vulture, and the kite according to their kind:

Ixon et vulturem ac milvum iuxta genus suum

14:14. And all of the raven's kind:

Et omne corvini generis

14:15. And the ostrich, and the owl, and the larus, and the hawk according to its kind:

Strutionem ac noctuam et larum atque accipitrem iuxta genus suum

14:16. The heron, and the swan, and the stork,

Herodium et cycnum et ibin

14:17. And the cormorant, the porphirion, and the night crow,

Ac mergulum porphirionem et nycticoracem

14:18. The bittern, and the charadrion, every one in their kind: the houp also and the bat.

Onocrotalum et charadrion singula in genere suo upupam quoque et vespertilionem

14:19. Every thing that creepeth, and hath little wings, shall be unclean, and shall not be eaten.

Et omne quod reptat et pinnulas habet inmundum erit nec comedetur

14:20. All that is clean, you shall eat.

Omne quod mundum est comedite

14:21. But whatsoever is dead of itself, eat not thereof. Give it to the stranger, that is within thy gates, to eat, or sell it to him: because thou art the holy people of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not boil a kid in the milk of his dam.

Quicquid morticinum est ne vescamini ex eo peregrino qui intra portas tuas est da ut comedat aut vende ei quia tu populus sanctus Domini Dei tui es non coques hedum in lacte matris suae

14:22. Every year thou shalt set aside the tithes of all thy fruits that the earth bringeth forth,

Decimam partem separabis de cunctis frugibus tuis quae nascuntur in terra per annos singulos

14:23. And thou shalt eat before the Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose, that his name may be called upon therein, the tithe of thy corn, and thy wine, and thy oil, and the firstborn of thy herds and thy sheep: that thou mayst learn to fear the Lord thy God at all times.

Et comedes in conspectu Domini Dei tui in loco quem elegerit ut in eo nomen illius invocetur decimam frumenti tui et vini et olei et primogenita de armentis et ovibus tuis ut discas timere Dominum Deum tuum omni tempore

14:24. But when the way and the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, are far off, and he hath blessed thee, and thou canst not carry all these things thither,

Cum autem longior fuerit via et locus quem elegerit Dominus Deus tuus tibi que benedixerit nec potueris ad eum haec cuncta portare

14:25. Thou shalt sell them all, and turn them into money, and shalt carry it in thy hand, and shalt go to the place which the Lord shall choose:

Vendes omnia et in pretium rediges portabisque manu tua et proficisceris ad locum quem elegerit Dominus Deus tuus

14:26. And thou shalt buy with the same money whatsoever pleaseth thee, either of the herds or of sheep, wine also and strong drink, and all that thy soul desireth: and thou shalt eat before the Lord thy God, and shalt feast, thou and thy house:

Et emes ex eadem pecunia quicquid tibi placuerit sive ex armentis sive ex ovibus vinum quoque et siceram et omne quod desiderat anima tua et comedes coram Domino Deo tuo et epulaberis tu et domus tua

14:27. And the Levite that is within thy gates, beware thou forsake him not, because he hath no other part in thy possession.

Et Levita qui intra portas tuas est cave ne derelinquas eum quia non habet aliam partem in possessione tua

14:28. The third year thou shalt separate another tithe of all things that grow to thee at that time, and shalt lay it up within thy gates.

Anno tertio separabis aliam decimam ex omnibus quae nascuntur tibi eo tempore et repones intra ianuas tuas

14:29. And the Levite that hath no other part nor possession with thee, and the stranger and the fatherless and the widow, that are within thy gates, shall come and shall eat and be filled: that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the works of thy hands that thou shalt do.

Venietque Levites qui aliam non habet partem nec possessionem tecum et peregrinus et pupillus ac vidua qui intra portas tuas sunt et comedent et saturabuntur ut benedicat tibi Dominus Deus tuus in cunctis operibus manuum tuarum quae feceris

Deuteronomy Chapter 15

The law of the seventh year of remission. The firstlings of cattle are to be sanctified to the Lord.

---

15:1. In the seventh year thou shalt make a remission, Septimo anno facies remissionem

15:2. Which shall be celebrated in this order. He to whom any thing is owing from his friend or neighbour or brother, cannot demand it again, because it is the year of remission of the Lord.

Quae hoc ordine celebrabitur cui debetur aliquid ab amico vel proximo ac fratre suo repetere non poterit quia annus remissionis est Domini 15:3. Of the foreigner or stranger thou mayst exact it: of thy countryman and neighbour thou shalt not have power to demand it again.

A peregrino et advena exiges civem et propinquum repetendi non habes potestatem

15:4. And there shall be no poor nor beggar among you: that the Lord thy God may bless thee in the land which he will give thee in possession.

Et omnino indigens et mendicus non erit inter vos ut benedicat tibi Dominus in terra quam traditurus est tibi in possessionem

There shall be no poor, etc... It is not to be understood as a promise, that there should be no poor in Israel, as appears from verse 11, where we learn that God's people would never be at a loss to find objects for their charity: but it is an ordinance that all should do their best endeavours to prevent any of their brethren from suffering the hardships of poverty and want.

15:5. Yet so if thou hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and keep all things that he hath ordained, and which I command thee this day, he will bless thee, as he hath promised.

Si tamen audieris vocem Domini Dei tui et custodieris universa quae iussit et quae ego hodie praecipio tibi benedicet tibi ut pollicitus est

15:6. Thou shalt lend to many nations, and thou shalt borrow of no man. Thou shalt have dominion over very many nations, and no one shall have dominion over thee.

Fenerabis gentibus multis et ipse a nullo accipies mutuuum dominaberis nationibus plurimis et tui nemo dominabitur

15:7. If one of thy brethren that dwelleth within thy gates of thy city in the land which the Lord thy God will give thee, come to poverty: thou shalt not harden thy heart, nor close thy hand,

Si unus de fratribus tuis qui morantur intra portas civitatis tuae in terra quam Dominus Deus tuus daturus est tibi ad paupertatem venerit non obdurabis cor tuum nec contrahes manum

15:8. But shalt open it to the poor man, thou shalt lend him, that which thou perceivest he hath need of.

Sed aperies eam pauperi et dabis mutuuum quod eum indigere perspexeris

15:9. Beware lest perhaps a wicked thought steal in upon thee, and thou say in thy heart: The seventh year of remission draweth nigh; and thou turn away thy eyes from thy poor brother, denying to lend him that which he asketh: lest he cry against thee to the Lord, and it become a sin unto thee.

Cave ne forte subripiat tibi impia cogitatio et dicas in corde tuo adpropinquat septimus annus remissionis et avertas oculos a paupere fratre tuo nolens ei quod postulat mutuuum commodare ne clamet contra te ad Dominum et fiat tibi in peccatum

15:10. But thou shalt give to him: neither shalt thou do any thing craftily in relieving his necessities: that the Lord thy God may bless thee at all times, and in all things to which thou shalt put thy hand.

Sed dabis ei nec ages quippiam callide in eius necessitatibus sublevandis ut benedicat tibi Dominus Deus tuus in omni tempore et in cunctis ad quae manum miseris

15:11. There will not be wanting poor in the land of thy habitation: therefore I command thee to open thy hand to thy needy and poor brother, that liveth in the land.

Non deerunt pauperes in terra habitationis tuae idcirco ego praecipio tibi ut aperias manum fratri tuo egeno et pauperi qui tecum versatur in terra

15:12. When thy brother a Hebrew man, or Hebrew woman is sold to thee, and hath served thee six years, in the seventh year thou shalt let him go free:

Cum tibi venditus fuerit frater tuus hebraeus aut hebraea et sex annis servierit tibi in septimo anno dimittes eum liberum

15:13. And when thou sendest him out free, thou shalt not let him go away empty:

Et quem libertate donaveris nequaquam vacuum abire patieris

15:14. But shall give him for his way out of thy flocks, and out of thy barnfloor, and thy winepress, wherewith the Lord thy God shall bless thee.

Sed dabis viaticum de gregibus et de area et torculari tuo quibus Dominus Deus tuus benedixerit tibi

15:15. Remember that thou also wast a bondservant in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God made thee free, and therefore I now command thee this.

Memento quod et ipse servieris in terra Aegypti et liberaverit te Dominus Deus tuus et idcirco ego nunc praecipiam tibi

15:16. But if he say: I will not depart: because he loveth thee, and thy house, and findeth that he is well with thee:

Sin autem dixerit nolo egredi eo quod diligit te et domum tuam et bene sibi apud te esse sentiat

15:17. Thou shalt take an awl, and bore through his ear in the door of thy house, and he shall serve thee for ever: thou shalt do in like manner to thy womanservant also.

Adsumes subulam et perforabis aurem eius in ianua domus tuae et serviet tibi usque in aeternum ancillae quoque similiter facies

15:18. Turn not away thy eyes from them when thou makest them free: because he hath served thee six years according to the wages of a hireling: that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the works that thou dost.

Non avertes ab eis oculos tuos quando dimiseris eos liberos quoniam iuxta mercedem mercennarii per sex annos servivit tibi ut benedicat tibi Dominus Deus tuus in cunctis operibus quae agis

15:19. Of the firstlings, that come of thy herds and thy sheep, thou shalt sanctify to the Lord thy God whatsoever is of the male sex. Thou shalt not work with the firstling of a bullock, and thou shalt not shear the firstlings of thy sheep.

De primogenitis quae nascuntur in armentis et ovibus tuis quicquid sexus est masculini sanctificabis Domino Deo tuo non operaberis in primogenito bovis et non tondebis primogenita ovium

15:20. In the sight of the Lord thy God shalt thou eat them every year, in the place that the Lord shall choose, thou and thy house.

In conspectu Domini Dei tui comedes ea per annos singulos in loco quem elegerit Dominus tu et domus tua

15:21. But if it have a blemish, or be lame, or blind, or in any part disfigured or feeble, it shall not be sacrificed to the Lord thy God.

Sin autem habuerit maculam et vel claudum fuerit vel caecum aut in aliqua parte deforme vel debile non immolabitur Domino Deo tuo

15:22. But thou shalt eat it within the gates of thy city: the clean and the unclean shall eat them alike, as the roe and as the hart.

Sed intra portas urbis tuae comedes illud tam mundus quam immundus similiter vescentur eis quasi caprea et cervo

15:23. Only thou shalt take heed not to eat their blood, but pour it out on the earth as water.

Hoc solum observabis ut sanguinem eorum non comedas sed effundas in terram quasi aquam

Deuteronomy Chapter 16

The three principal solemnities to be observed: just judges to be appointed in every city: all occasions of idolatry to be avoided.

---

16:1. Observe the month of new corn, which is the first of the spring, that thou mayst celebrate the phase to the Lord thy God: because in this month the Lord thy God brought thee out of Egypt by night.

Observa mensem novarum frugum et verni primum temporis ut facias phase Domino Deo tuo quoniam in isto mense eduxit te Dominus Deus tuus de Aegypto nocte

16:2. And thou shalt sacrifice the phase to the Lord thy God, of sheep, and of oxen, in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, that his name may dwell there.

Immolabisque phase Domino Deo tuo de ovibus et de bubus in loco quem elegerit Dominus Deus tuus ut habitet nomen eius ibi

16:3. Thou shalt not eat with it leavened bread: seven days shalt thou eat without leaven, the bread of affliction, because thou camest out of Egypt in fear: that thou mayst remember the day of thy coming out of Egypt, all the days of thy life.

Non comedes in eo panem fermentatum septem diebus comedes absque fermento ad afflictionis panem quoniam in pavore egressus es de Aegypto ut memineris diei egressionis tuae de Aegypto omnibus diebus vitae tuae

16:4. No leaven shall be seen in all thy coasts for seven days, neither shall any of the flesh of that which was sacrificed the first day in the evening remain until morning.

Non apparebit fermentum in omnibus terminis tuis septem diebus et non manebit de carnibus eius quod immolatum est vesperi in die primo mane

16:5. Thou mayst not immolate the phase in any one of thy cities, which the Lord thy God will give thee:

Non poteris immolare phase in qualibet urbium tuarum quas Dominus Deus tuus daturus est tibi

16:6. But in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, that his name may dwell there: thou shalt immolate the phase in the evening, at the going down of the sun, at which time thou camest out of Egypt.

Sed in loco quem elegerit Dominus Deus tuus ut habitet nomen eius ibi immolabis phase vesperi ad solis occasum quando egressus es de Aegypto

16:7. And thou shalt dress, and eat it in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, and in the morning rising up thou shalt go into thy dwellings.

Et coques et comedes in loco quem elegerit Dominus Deus tuus maneque consurgens vades in tabernacula tua

16:8. Six days shalt thou eat unleavened bread: and on the seventh day, because it is the assembly of the Lord thy God, thou shalt do no work.

Sex diebus comedes azyma et in die septimo quia collecta est Domini Dei tui non facies opus

16:9. Thou shalt number unto thee seven weeks from that day, wherein thou didst put the sickle to the corn.

Septem ebdomadas numerabis tibi ab ea die qua falcem in segetem miseris

16:10. And thou shalt celebrate the festival of weeks to the Lord thy God, a voluntary oblation of thy hand, which thou shalt offer according to the blessing of the Lord thy God.

Et celebrabis diem festum ebdomadarum Domino Deo tuo oblationem spontaneam manus tuae quam offeres iuxta benedictionem Domini Dei tui

16:11. And thou shalt feast before the Lord thy God, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Levite that is within thy gates, and the stranger and the fatherless, and the widow, who abide with you: in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, that his name may dwell there:

Et epulaberis coram Domino Deo tuo tu et filius tuus et filia tua et servus tuus et ancilla et Levites qui est intra portas tuas et advena ac pupillus et vidua qui morantur vobiscum in loco quem elegerit Dominus Deus tuus ut habitet nomen eius ibi

16:12. And thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in Egypt: and thou shalt keep and do the things that are commanded.

Et recordaberis quoniam servus fueris in Aegypto custodiesque ac facies quae praecepta sunt

16:13. Thou shalt celebrate the solemnity also of tabernacles seven days, when thou hast gathered in thy fruit of the barnfloor and of the winepress.

Sollemnitatem quoque tabernaculorum celebrabis per septem dies quando collegeris de area et torculari fruges tuas

16:14. And thou shalt make merry in thy festival time, thou, thy son, and thy daughter, thy manservant, and thy maidservant, the Levite also and the stranger, and the fatherless and the widow that are within thy gates.

Et epulaberis in festivitate tua tu et filius tuus et filia et servus tuus et ancilla Levites quoque et advena et pupillus ac vidua qui intra portas tuas sunt

16:15. Seven days shalt thou celebrate feasts to the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord shall choose: and the Lord thy God will bless thee in all thy fruits, and in every work of thy hands, and thou shalt be in joy.

Septem diebus Domino Deo tuo festa celebrabis in loco quem elegerit Dominus benedicetque tibi Dominus Deus tuus in cunctis frugibus tuis et in omni opere manuum tuarum erisque in laetitia

16:16. Three times in a year shall all thy males appear before the Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose: in the feast of unleavened bread, in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles. No one shall appear with his hands empty before the Lord:

Tribus vicibus per annum apparebit omne masculinum tuum in conspectu Domini Dei tui in loco quem elegerit in sollemnitate azymorum et in sollemnitate ebdomadaram et in sollemnitate tabernaculorum non apparebit ante Dominum vacuus

16:17. But every one shall offer according to what he hath, according to the blessing of the Lord his God, which he shall give him.

Sed offeret unusquisque secundum quod habuerit iuxta benedictionem Domini Dei sui quam dederit ei

16:18. Thou shalt appoint judges and magistrates in all thy gates, which the Lord thy God shall give thee, in all thy tribes: that they may judge the people with just judgment,

Iudices et magistratos constitues in omnibus portis tuis quas Dominus Deus tuus dederit tibi per singulas tribus tuas ut iudicent populum iusto iudicio

16:19. And not go aside to either part. Thou shalt not accept person nor gifts: for gifts blind the eyes of the wise, and change the words of the just.

Nec in alteram partem declinent non accipies personam nec munera quia munera excaecant oculos sapientium et mutant verba iustorum

16:20. Thou shalt follow justly after that which is just: that thou mayst live and possess the land, which the Lord thy God shall give thee.

Iuste quod iustum est persequeris ut vivas et possideas terram quam Dominus Deus tuus dederit tibi

16:21. Thou shalt plant no grove, nor any tree near the altar of the Lord thy God:

Non plantabis lucum et omnem arborem iuxta altare Domini Dei tui

16:22. Neither shalt thou make nor set up to thyself a statue: which things the Lord thy God hateth.

Nec facies tibi atque constitues statuam quae odit Dominus Deus tuus

Deuteronomy Chapter 17

Victims must be without blemish. Idolaters are to be slain. Controversies are to be decided by the high priest and council, whose sentence must be obeyed under pain of death. The duty of a king, who is to receive the law of God at the priest's hands.

---

17:1. Thou shalt not sacrifice to the Lord thy God a sheep, or an ox, wherein there is blemish, or any fault: for that is an abomination to the Lord thy God.

Non immolabis Domino Deo tuo bovem et ovem in quo est macula aut quippiam vitii quia abominatio est Domini Dei tui

17:2. When there shall be found among you within any of thy gates, which the Lord thy God shall give thee, man or woman that do evil in the sight of the Lord thy God, and transgress his covenant, Cum repperti fuerint apud te intra unam portarum tuarum quas Dominus Deus tuus dabit tibi vir aut mulier qui faciant malum in conspectu Domini Dei tui et transgrediantur pactum illius

17:3. So as to go and serve strange gods, and adore them, the sun and the moon, and all the host of heaven, which I have not commanded:

Ut vadant et serviant diis alienis et adorent eos solem et lunam et omnem militiam caeli quae non praecepti

The host of heaven... That is, the stars.

17:4. And this is told thee, and hearing it thou hast inquired diligently, and found it to be true, and that the abomination is committed in Israel:

Et hoc tibi fuerit nuntiatum audiensque inquisieris diligenter et verum esse reppereris et abominatio facta est in Israhel

17:5. Thou shalt bring forth the man or the woman, who have committed that most wicked thing, to the gates of thy city, and they shall be stoned.

Educes virum ac mulierem qui rem sceleratissimam perpetrarunt ad portas civitatis tuae et lapidibus obruentur

17:6. By the mouth of two or three witnesses shall he die that is to be slain. Let no man be put to death, when only one beareth witness against him.

In ore duorum aut trium testium peribit qui interficietur nemo occidatur uno contra se dicente testimonium

17:7. The hands of the witnesses shall be first upon him to kill him, and afterwards the hands of the rest of the people: that thou mayst take away the evil out of the midst of thee.

Manus testium prima interficiet eum et manus reliqui populi extrema mittetur ut auferas malum de medio tui

17:8. If thou perceive that there be among you a hard and doubtful matter in judgment between blood and blood, cause and cause, leprosy and leprosy: and thou see that the words of the judges within thy gates do vary: arise, and go up to the place, which the Lord thy God shall choose.

Si difficile et ambiguum apud te iudicium esse perspexeris inter sanguinem et sanguinem causam et causam lepram et non lepram et iudicium intra portas tuas videris verba variari surge et ascende ad locum quem elegerit Dominus Deus tuus

If thou perceive, etc... Here we see what authority God was pleased to give to the church guides of the Old Testament, in deciding, without appeal, all controversies relating to the law; promising that they should not err therein; and surely he has not done less for the church guides of the New Testament.

17:9. And thou shalt come to the priests of the Levitical race, and to the judge, that shall be at that time: and thou shalt ask of them, and they shall show thee the truth of the judgment.

Veniesque ad sacerdotes levitici generis et ad iudicem qui fuerit illo tempore quaeresque ab eis qui indicabunt tibi iudicii veritatem

17:10. And thou shalt do whatsoever they shall say, that preside in the place, which the Lord shall choose, and what they shall teach thee,

Et facies quodcumque dixerint qui praesunt loco quem elegerit Dominus et docuerint te

17:11. According to his law; and thou shalt follow their sentence: neither shalt thou decline to the right hand nor to the left hand.

Iuxta legem eius sequeris sententiam eorum nec declinabis ad dextram vel ad sinistram

17:12. But he that will be proud, and refuse to obey the commandment of the priest, who ministereth at that time to the Lord thy God, and the decree of the judge, that man shall die, and thou shalt take away the evil from Israel:

Qui autem superbierit nolens oboedire sacerdotis imperio qui eo tempore ministrat Domino Deo tuo et decreto iudicis morietur homo ille et auferes malum de Israhel

17:13. And all the people hearing it shall fear, that no one afterwards swell with pride.

Cunctusque populus audiens timebit ut nullus deinceps intumescat superbia

17:14. When thou art come into the land, which the Lord thy God will give thee, and possessest it, and shalt say: I will set a king over me, as all nations have that are round about:

Cum ingressus fueris terram quam Dominus Deus tuus dabit tibi et possederis eam habitaverisque in illa et dixeris constituam super me regem sicut habent omnes per circuitum nationes

17:15. Thou shalt set him whom the Lord thy God shall choose out of the number of thy brethren. Thou mayst not make a man of another nation king, that is not thy brother.

Eum constitues quem Dominus Deus tuus elegerit de numero fratrum tuorum non poteris alterius gentis hominem regem facere qui non sit frater tuus

17:16. And when he is made king, he shall not multiply horses to himself, nor lead back the people into Egypt, being lifted up with the number of his horsemen, especially since the Lord hath commanded you to return no more the same way.

Cumque fuerit constitutus non multiplicabit sibi equos nec reducet populum in Aegyptum equitatus numero sublevatus praesertim cum Dominus praeceperit vobis ut nequaquam amplius per eandem viam revertamini

17:17. He shall not have many wives, that may allure his mind, nor immense sums of silver and gold.

Non habebit uxores plurimas quae illiciant animum eius neque argenti et auri inmensa pondera

17:18. But after he is raised to the throne of his kingdom, he shall copy out to himself the Deuteronomy of this law in a volume, taking the copy of the priests of the Levitical tribe,

Postquam autem sederit in solio regni sui describet sibi deuteronomium legis huius in volumine accipiens exemplar a sacerdotibus leviticae tribus

17:19. And he shall have it with him, and shall read it all the days of his life, that he may learn to fear the Lord his God, and keep his words and ceremonies, that are commanded in the law;

Et habebit secum legetque illud omnibus diebus vitae suae ut discat timere Dominum Deum suum et custodire verba et caerimonias eius quae lege praecepta sunt

17:20. And that his heart be not lifted up with pride over his brethren, nor decline to the right or to the left, that he and his sons may reign a long time over Israel.

Nec elevetur cor eius in superbiam super fratres suos neque declinet in partem dextram vel sinistram ut longo tempore regnet ipse et filii eius super Israhel

Deuteronomy Chapter 18

The Lord is the inheritance of the priests and Levites. Heathenish abominations are to be avoided. The great PROPHET CHRIST is promised. False prophets must be slain.

---

18:1. The priests and Levites, and all that are of the same tribe, shall have no part nor inheritance with the rest of Israel, because they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord, and his oblations,

Non habebunt sacerdotes et Levitae et omnes qui de eadem tribu sunt partem et hereditatem cum reliquo Israhel quia sacrificia Domini et oblationes eius comedent

18:2. And they shall receive nothing else of the possession of their brethren: for the Lord himself is their inheritance, as he hath said to them.

Et nihil aliud accipient de possessione fratrum suorum Dominus enim ipse est hereditas eorum sicut locutus est illis

18:3. This shall be the priest's due from the people, and from them that offer victims: whether they sacrifice an ox, or a sheep, they shall give to the priest the shoulder and the breast:

Hoc erit iudicium sacerdotum a populo et ab his qui offerunt victimas sive bovem sive ovem immolaverint dabunt sacerdoti armum ac ventriculum

18:4. The firstfruits also of corn, of wine, and of oil, and a part of the wool from the shearing of their sheep.

Primitias frumenti vini et olei et lanarum partem ex ovium tonsione

18:5. For the Lord thy God hath chosen him of all thy tribes, to stand and to minister to the name of the Lord, him and his sons for ever.

Ipsium enim elegit Dominus Deus tuus de cunctis tribubus tuis ut stet et ministret nomini Domini ipse et filii eius in sempiternum

18:6. If a Levite go out of any one of the cities throughout all Israel, in which he dwelleth, and have a longing mind to come to the place which the Lord shall choose,

Si exierit Levites de una urbium tuarum ex omni Israhel in qua habitat et voluerit venire desiderans locum quem elegerit Dominus

18:7. He shall minister in the name of the Lord his God, as all his brethren the Levites do, that shall stand at that time before the Lord.

Ministrabit in nomine Dei sui sicut omnes fratres eius Levitae qui stabunt eo tempore coram Domino

18:8. He shall receive the same portion of food that the rest do: besides that which is due to him in his own city, by succession from his fathers.

Partem ciborum eandem accipiet quam et ceteri excepto eo quod in urbe sua ex paterna ei successione debetur

18:9. When thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God shall give thee, beware lest thou have a mind to imitate the abominations of those nations.

Quando ingressus fueris terram quam Dominus Deus tuus dabit tibi cave ne imitari velis abominationes illarum gentium

18:10. Neither let there be found among you any one that shall expiate his son or daughter, making them to pass through the fire: or that consulteth soothsayers, or observeth dreams and omens, neither let there be any wizard,

Nec inveniatur in te qui lustret filium suum aut filiam ducens per ignem aut qui ariolos sciscitetur et observet somnia atque auguria ne sit maleficus

18:11. Nor charmer, nor any one that consulteth pythonic spirits, or fortune tellers, or that seeketh the truth from the dead.

Ne incantator ne pythones consulat ne divinos et quaerat a mortuis veritatem

18:12. For the Lord abhorreth all these things, and for these abominations he will destroy them at thy coming.

Omnia enim haec abominatur Dominus et propter istiusmodi scelera delebit eos in introitu tuo

18:13. Thou shalt be perfect, and without spot before the Lord thy God.

Perfectus eris et absque macula cum Domino Deo tuo

18:14. These nations, whose land thou shalt possess, hearken to soothsayers and diviners: but thou art otherwise instructed by the Lord thy God.

Gentes istae quarum possidebis terram augures et divinos audiunt tu autem a Domino Deo tuo aliter institutus es

18:15. The Lord thy God will raise up to thee a prophet of thy nation and of thy brethren like unto me: him thou shalt hear:

Prophetam de gente tua et de fratribus tuis sicut me suscitabit tibi Dominus Deus tuus ipsum audies

18:16. As thou desiredst of the Lord thy God in Horeb, when the assembly was gathered together, and saidst: Let me not hear any more the voice of the Lord my God, neither let me see any more this exceeding great fire, lest I die.

Ut petisti a Domino Deo tuo in Horeb quando contio congregata est atque dixisti ultra non audiam vocem Domini Dei mei et ignem hunc maximum amplius non videbo ne moriar

18:17. And the Lord said to me: They have spoken all things well.

Et ait Dominus mihi bene omnia sunt locuti

18:18. I will raise them up a prophet out of the midst of their brethren like to thee: and I will put my words in his mouth, and he shall speak to them all that I shall command him.

Prophetam suscitabo eis de medio fratrum suorum similem tui et ponam verba mea in ore eius loqueturque ad eos omnia quae praecepero illi

18:19. And he that will not hear his words, which he shall speak in my name, I will be the revenger.

Qui autem verba eius quae loquetur in nomine meo audire noluerit ego ultor existam

18:20. But the prophet, who being corrupted with pride, shall speak in my name things that I did not command him to say, or in the name of strange gods, shall be slain.

Propheta autem qui arrogantia depravatus voluerit loqui in nomine meo quae ego non praecepi illi ut diceret aut ex nomine alienorum deorum interficietur

18:21. And if in silent thought thou answer: How shall I know the word that the Lord hath not spoken?

Quod si tacita cogitatione responderis quomodo possum intellegere verbum quod non est locutus Dominus

18:22. Thou shalt have this sign: Whatsoever that same prophet foretelleth in the name of the Lord, and it cometh not to pass: that thing the Lord hath not spoken, but the prophet hath forged it by the pride of his mind: and therefore thou shalt not fear him.

Hoc habebis signum quod in nomine Domini propheta ille praedixerit et non evenerit hoc Dominus non locutus est sed per tumorem animi sui propheta confinxit et idcirco non timebis eum

Deuteronomy Chapter 19

The cities of refuge. Wilful murder, and false witnesses must be punished.

---

19:1. When the Lord thy God hath destroyed the nations, whose land he will deliver to thee, and thou shalt possess it, and shalt dwell in the cities and houses thereof:

Cum disperderit Dominus Deus tuus gentes quarum tibi traditurus est terram et possederis eam habitaverisque in urbibus eius et in aedibus

19:2. Thou shalt separate to thee three cities in the midst of the land, which the Lord will give thee in possession,

Tres civitates separabis tibi in medio terrae quam Dominus Deus tuus dabit tibi in possessionem

19:3. Paving diligently the way: and thou shalt divide the whole province of thy land equally into three parts: that he who is forced to flee for manslaughter, may have near at hand whither to escape.

Sternens diligenter viam et in tres aequaliter partes totam terrae tuae provinciam divides ut habeat e vicino qui propter homicidium profugus est quo possit evadere

19:4. This shall be the law of the slayer that fleeth, whose life is to be saved: He that killeth his neighbor ignorantly, and who is proved to have had no hatred against him yesterday and the day before:

Haec erit lex homicidae fugientis cuius vita servanda est qui percusserit proximum suum nesciens et qui heri et nudius tertius nullum contra eum habuisse odium conprobatur

19:5. But to have gone with him to the wood to hew wood, and in cutting down the tree the axe slipped out of his hand, and the iron slipping from the handle struck his friend, and killed him: he shall flee to one of the cities aforesaid, and live:

Sed abisse simpliciter cum eo in silvam ad ligna caedenda et in succisione lignorum securis fugerit manu ferrumque lapsum de manubrio amicum eius percusserit et occiderit hic ad unam supradictarum urbium confugiet et vivet

19:6. Lest perhaps the next kinsman of him whose blood was shed, pushed on by his grief should pursue, and apprehend him, if the way be too long, and take away the life of him who is not guilty of death, because he is proved to have had no hatred before against him that was slain.

Ne forsitan proximus eius cuius effusus est sanguis dolore stimulatus persequatur et adprehendat eum si longior via fuerit et percutiat animam eius qui non est reus mortis quia nullum contra eum qui occisus est odium prius habuisse monstratur

19:7. Therefore I command thee, that thou separate three cities at equal distance one from another.

Idcirco praecipio tibi ut tres civitates aequalis inter se spatii divides

19:8. And when the Lord thy God shall have enlarged thy borders, as he swore to the fathers, and shall give thee all the land that he promised them,

Cum autem dilataverit Dominus Deus tuus terminos tuos sicut iuravit patribus tuis et dederit tibi cunctam terram quam eis pollicitus est

19:9. (Yet so, if thou keep his commandments, and do the things which I command thee this day, that thou love the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways at all times) thou shalt add to thee other three cities, and shalt double the number of the three cities aforesaid:

Si tamen custodieris mandata eius et feceris quae hodie praecipio tibi ut diligas Dominum Deum tuum et ambules in viis eius omni tempore addes tibi tres alias civitates et supradictarum trium urbium numerum duplicabis

19:10. That innocent blood may not be shed in the midst of the land which the Lord thy God will give thee to possess, lest thou be guilty of blood.

Ut non effundatur sanguis innoxius in medio terrae quam Dominus Deus tuus dabit tibi possidendam nec sis sanguinis reus

19:11. But if any man hating his neighbour, lie in wait for his life, and rise and strike him, and he die, and he flee to one of the cities aforesaid,

Si quis autem odio habens proximum suum insidiatus fuerit vitae eius surgensque percusserit illum et mortuus fuerit fugeritque ad unam de supradictis urbibus

19:12. The ancients of his city shall send, and take him out of the place of refuge, and shall deliver him into the hand of the kinsman of him whose blood was shed, and he shall die.

Mittent seniores civitatis illius et arripiant eum de loco effugii tradentque in manu proximi cuius sanguis effusus est et morietur

19:13. Thou shalt not pity him, and thou shalt take away the guilt of innocent blood out of Israel, that it may be well with thee.

Nec misereberis eius et auferes innoxium sanguinem de Israhel ut bene sit tibi

19:14. Thou shalt not take nor remove thy neighbour's landmark, which thy predecessors have set in thy possession, which the Lord thy God will give thee in the land that thou shalt receive to possess.

Non adsumes et transferes terminos proximi tui quos fixerunt priores in possessione tua quam Dominus Deus tuus dabit tibi in terra quam acceperis possidendam

19:15. One witness shall not rise up against any man, whatsoever the sin or wickedness be: but in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word shall stand.

Non stabit testis unus contra aliquem quicquid illud peccati et facinoris fuerit sed in ore duorum aut trium testium stabit omne verbum

19:16. If a lying witness stand against a man, accusing him of transgression,

Si steterit testis mendax contra hominem accusans eum praevaricationis

19:17. Both of them, between whom the controversy is, shall stand before the Lord in the sight of the priests and the judges that shall be in those days.

Stabunt ambo quorum causa est ante Dominum in conspectu sacerdotum et iudicum qui fuerint in diebus illis

19:18. And when after most diligent inquisition, they shall find that the false witness hath told a lie against his brother:

Cumque diligentissime perscrutantes invenerint falsum testem dixisse contra fratrem suum mendacium

19:19. They shall render to him as he meant to do to his brother, and thou shalt take away the evil out of the midst of thee:

Reddent ei sicut fratri suo facere cogitavit et auferes malum de medio tui

19:20. That others hearing may fear, and may not dare to do such things.

Ut audientes ceteri timorem habeant et nequaquam talia audeant facere

19:21. Thou shalt not pity him, but shalt require life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

Non misereberis eius sed animam pro anima oculum pro oculo dentem pro dente manum pro manu pedem pro pede exiges

Deuteronomy Chapter 20

Laws relating to war.

---

20:1. If thou go out to war against thy enemies, and see horsemen and chariots, and the numbers of the enemy's army greater than thine, thou shalt not fear them: because the Lord thy God is with thee, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

Si exieris ad bellum contra hostes tuos et videris equitatum et currus et maiorem quam tu habes adversarii exercitus multitudinem non timebis eos quia Dominus Deus tuus tecum est qui eduxit te de terra Aegypti

20:2. And when the battle is now at hand, the priest shall stand before the army, and shall speak to the people in this manner:

Adpropinquante autem iam proelio stabit sacerdos ante aciem et sic loquetur ad populum

20:3. Hear, O Israel, you join battle this day against your enemies, let not your heart be dismayed, be not afraid, do not give back, fear ye them not:

Audi Israhel vos hodie contra inimicos vestros pugnam committitis non pertimescat cor vestrum nolite metuere nolite cedere nec formidetis eos

20:4. Because the Lord your God is in the midst of you, and will fight for you against your enemies, to deliver you from danger.

Quia Dominus Deus vester in medio vestri est et pro vobis contra adversarios dimicabit ut eruat vos de periculo

20:5. And the captains shall proclaim through every band in the hearing of the army: What man is there, that hath built a new house, and hath not dedicated it? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man dedicate it.

Duces quoque per singulas turmas audiente exercitu proclamabunt quis est homo qui aedificavit domum novam et non dedicavit eam vadat et revertatur in domum suam ne forte moriatur in bello et alius dedicet illam

20:6. What man is there, that hath planted a vineyard, and hath not as yet made it to be common, whereof all men may eat? let him go, and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man execute his office.

Quis est homo qui plantavit vineam et necdum eam fecit esse communem et de qua vesci omnibus liceat vadat et revertatur in domum suam ne forte moriatur in bello et alius homo eius fungatur officio

20:7. What man is there, that hath espoused a wife, and not taken her? let him go, and return to his house, lest he die in the war, and another man take her.

Quis est homo qui despondit uxorem et non accepit eam vadat et revertatur in domum suam ne forte moriatur in bello et alius homo accipiat eam

20:8. After these things are declared they shall add the rest, and shall speak to the people: What man is there that is fearful, and faint hearted? let him go, and return to his house, lest he make the hearts of his brethren to fear, as he himself is possessed with fear.

His dictis addent reliqua et loquentur ad populum quis est homo formidolosus et corde pavido vadat et revertatur in domum suam ne pavere faciat corda fratrum suorum sicut ipse timore perterritus est

20:9. And when the captains of the army shall hold their peace, and have made an end of speaking, every man shall prepare their bands to fight.

Cumque siluerint exercitus duces et finem loquendi fecerint unusquisque suos ad bellandum cuneos praeparabit

20:10. If at any time thou come to fight against a city, thou shalt first offer it peace.

Si quando accesseris ad expugnandam civitatem offeres ei primum pacem

20:11. If they receive it, and open the gates to thee, all the people that are therein, shall be saved, and shall serve thee paying tribute.

Si receperit et aperuerit tibi portas cunctus populus qui in ea est salvabitur et serviet tibi sub tributo

20:12. But if they will not make peace, and shall begin war against thee, thou shalt besiege it.

Sin autem foedus inire noluerint et receperint contra te bellum obpugnabis eam

20:13. And when the Lord thy God shall deliver it into thy hands, thou shalt slay all that are therein of the male sex, with the edge of the sword,

Cumque tradiderit Dominus Deus tuus illam in manu tua percuties omne quod in ea generis masculini est in ore gladii

20:14. Excepting women and children, cattle and other things, that are in the city. And thou shalt divide all the prey to the army, and thou shalt eat the spoils of thy enemies, which the Lord thy God shall give thee.

Absque mulieribus et infantibus iumentis et ceteris quae in civitate sunt omnem praedam exercitui divides et comedes de spoliis hostium tuorum quae Dominus Deus tuus dederit tibi

20:15. So shalt thou do to all cities that are at a great distance from thee, and are not of these cities which thou shalt receive in possession.

Sic facies cunctis civitatibus quae a te procul valde sunt et non sunt de his urbibus quas in possessionem accepturus es

20:16. But of those cities that shall be given thee, thou shalt suffer none at all to live:

De his autem civitatibus quae dabuntur tibi nullum omnino permittes vivere

20:17. But shalt kill them with the edge of the sword, to wit, the Hethite, and the Amorrhite, and the Chanaanite, the Pherezite, and the Hevite, and the Jebusite, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee:

Sed interficies in ore gladii Heththeum videlicet et Amorream et Chananeum Ferezeum et Eveum et Iebuseum sicut praecepit tibi Dominus Deus tuus

20:18. Lest they teach you to do all the abominations which they have done to their gods: and you should sin against the Lord your God.

Ne forte doceant vos facere cunctas abominationes quas ipsi operati sunt diis suis et peccetis in Dominum Deum vestrum

20:19. When thou hast besieged a city a long time, and hath compassed it with bulwarks, to take it, thou shalt not cut down the trees that may be eaten of, neither shalt thou spoil the country round about with axes: for it is a tree, and not a man, neither can it increase the number of them that fight against thee.

Quando obsederis civitatem multo tempore et munitionibus circumdederis ut expugnes eam non succides arbores de quibus vesci potest nec securibus per circuitum debes vastare regionem quoniam lignum est et non homo nec potest bellantium contra te augere numerum

20:20. But if there be any trees that are not fruitful, but wild, and fit for other uses, cut them down, and make engines, until thou take the city, which fighteth against thee.

Si qua autem ligna non sunt pomifera sed agrestia et in ceteros apta usus succide et extrue machinas donec capias civitatem quae contra te dimicat

Deuteronomy Chapter 21

The expiation of a secret murder. The marrying a captive. The eldest son must not be deprived of his birthright for hatred of his mother. A stubborn son is to be stoned to death. When one is hanged on a gibbet, he must be taken down the same day and buried.

---

21:1. When there shall be found in the land, which the Lord thy God will give thee, the corpse of a man slain, and it is not known who is guilty of the murder,

Quando inventum fuerit in terra quam Dominus Deus tuus daturus est tibi hominis cadaver occisi et ignoratur caedis reus

21:2. Thy ancients and judges shall go out, and shall measure from the place where the body lieth the distance of every city round about:

Egredientur maiores natu et iudices tui et metientur a loco cadaveris singularum per circuitum spatia civitatum

21:3. And the ancients of that city which they shall perceive to be nearer than the rest, shall take a heifer of the herd, that hath not drawn in the yoke, nor ploughed the ground,

Et quam viciniorem ceteris esse perspexerint seniores civitatis eius tollent vitulam de armento quae non traxit iugum nec terram scidit vomere

21:4. And they shall bring her into a rough and stony valley, that never was ploughed, nor sown: and there they shall strike off the head of the heifer:

Et ducent eam ad vallem asperam atque saxosam quae numquam arata est nec sementem recepit et caedent in ea cervices vitulae

21:5. And the priests the sons of Levi shall come, whom the Lord thy God hath chosen to minister to him, and to bless in his name, and that by their word every matter should be decided, and whatsoever is clean or unclean should be judged.

Accedentque sacerdotes filii Levi quos elegerit Dominus Deus tuus ut ministrent ei et benedicant in nomine eius et ad verbum eorum omne negotium et quicquid mundum vel immundum est iudicetur

21:6. And the ancients of that city shall come to the person slain, and shall wash their hands over the heifer that was killed in the valley,

Et maiores natu civitatis illius ad interfectum lavabuntque manus suas super vitulam quae in valle percussa est

21:7. And shall say: Our hands did not shed this blood, nor did our eyes see it.

Et dicent manus nostrae non effuderunt hunc sanguinem nec oculi viderunt

21:8. Be merciful to thy people Israel, whom thou hast redeemed, O Lord, and lay not innocent blood to their charge, in the midst of thy people Israel. And the guilt of blood shall be taken from them:

Propitius esto populo tuo Israhel quem redemisti Domine et non reputes sanguinem innocentem in medio populi tui Israhel et auferetur ab eis reatus sanguinis

21:9. And thou shalt be free from the innocent's blood, that was shed, when thou shalt have done what the Lord hath commanded thee.

Tu autem alienus eris ab innocentis cruore qui fusus est cum feceris quod praecepit Dominus

21:10. If thou go out to fight against thy enemies, and the Lord thy God deliver them into thy hand, and thou lead them away captives,

Si egressus fueris ad pugnam contra inimicos tuos et tradiderit eos Dominus Deus tuus in manu tua captivosque duxeris

21:11. And seest in the number of the captives a beautiful woman, and lovest her, and wilt have her to wife,

Et videris in numero captivorum mulierem pulchram et adamaveris eam voluerisque habere uxorem

21:12. Thou shalt bring her into thy house: and she shall shave her hair, and pare her nails,

Introduces in domum tuam quae radet caesariem et circumcidet ungues

21:13. And shall put off the raiment, wherein she was taken: and shall remain in thy house, and mourn for her father and mother one month: and after that thou shalt go in unto her, and shalt sleep with her, and she shall be thy wife.

Et deponet vestem in qua capta est sedensque in domo tua flebit patrem et matrem suam uno mense et postea intrabis ad eam dormiesque cum illa et erit uxor tua

21:14. But if afterwards she please thee not, thou shalt let her go free, but thou mayst not sell her for money nor oppress her by might because thou hast humbled her.

Sin autem postea non sederit animo tuo dimittes eam liberam nec vendere poteris pecunia nec opprimere per potentiam quia humiliasti eam

21:15. If a man have two wives, one beloved, and the other hated, and they have had children by him, and the son of the hated be the firstborn,

Si habuerit homo uxores duas unam dilectam et alteram odiosam genuerintque ex eo liberos et fuerit filius odiosae primogenitus

21:16. And he meaneth to divide his substance among his sons: he may not make the son of the beloved the firstborn, and prefer him before the son of the hated.

Volueritque substantiam inter filios suos dividere non poterit filium dilectae facere primogenitum et praeferre filio odiosae

21:17. But he shall acknowledge the son of the hated for the firstborn, and shall give him a double portion of all he hath: for this is the first of his children, and to him are due the first birthrights.

Sed filium odiosae agnoscet primogenitum dabitque ei de his quae habuerit cuncta duplicia iste est enim principium liberorum eius et huic debentur primogenita

21:18. If a man have a stubborn and unruly son, who will not hear the commandments of his father or mother, and being corrected, slighteth obedience:

Si genuerit homo filium contumacem et protervum qui non audiat patris aut matris imperium et coercitus oboedire contempserit

21:19. They shall take him and bring him to the ancients of the city, and to the gate of judgment,

Adprehendent eum et ducent ad seniores civitatis illius et ad portam iudicii

21:20. And shall say to them: This our son is rebellious and stubborn, he slighteth hearing our admonitions, he giveth himself to revelling, and to debauchery and banquetings:

Dicentque ad eos filius noster iste protervus et contumax est monita nostra audire contemnit comesationibus vacat et luxuriae atque conviviis

21:21. The people of the city shall stone him: and he shall die, that you may take away the evil out of the midst of you, and all Israel hearing it may be afraid.

Lapidibus eum obruet populus civitatis et morietur ut auferatis malum de medio vestri et universus Israhel audiens pertimescat

21:22. When a man hath committed a crime for which he is to be punished with death, and being condemned to die is hanged on a gibbet:

Quando peccaverit homo quod morte plectendum est et adiudicatus morti adpensus fuerit in patibulo

21:23. His body shall not remain upon the tree, but shall be buried the same day: for he is accursed of God that hangeth on a tree: and thou shalt not defile thy land, which the Lord thy God shall give thee in possession.

Non permanebit cadaver eius in ligno sed in eadem die sepelietur quia maledictus a Deo est qui pendet in ligno et nequaquam contaminabis terram tuam quam Dominus Deus tuus dederit tibi in possessionem

Deuteronomy Chapter 22

Humanity towards neighbours. Neither sex may use the apparel of the other. Cruelty to be avoided even to birds. Battlements about the roof of a house. Things of divers kinds not to be mixed. The punishment of him that slandereth his wife, as also of adultery and rape.

---

22:1. Thou shalt not pass by if thou seest thy brother's ox, or his sheep go astray: but thou shalt bring them back to thy brother.

Non videbis bovem fratris tui aut ovem errantem et praeteribis sed reduces fratri tuo

22:2. And if thy brother be not nigh, or thou know him not: thou shalt bring them to thy house, and they shall be with thee until thy brother seek them, and receive them.

Etiam si non est propinquus tuus frater nec nosti eum duces in domum tuam et erunt apud te quamdiu quaerat ea frater tuus et recipiat

22:3. Thou shalt do in like manner with his ass, and with his raiment, and with every thing that is thy brother's, which is lost: if thou find it, neglect it not as pertaining to another.

Similiter facies de asino et de vestimento et de omni re fratris tui quae perierit si inveneris eam ne neglegas quasi alienam

22:4. If thou see thy brother's ass or his ox to be fallen down in the way, thou shalt not slight it, but shalt lift it up with him.

Si videris asinum fratris tui aut bovem cecidisse in via non despicias sed sublevabis cum eo

22:5. A woman shall not be clothed with man's apparel, neither shall a man use woman's apparel: for he that doth these things is abominable before God.

Non induetur mulier veste virili nec vir utetur veste feminea abominabilis enim apud Deum est qui facit haec

22:6. If thou find as thou walkest by the way, a bird's nest in a tree, or on the ground, and the dam sitting upon the young or upon the eggs: thou shalt not take her with her young:

Si ambulans per viam in arbore vel in terra nidum avis inveneris et matrem pullis vel ovis desuper incubantem non tenebis eam cum filiis

Thou shalt not take, etc... This was to show them to exercise a certain mercy even to irrational creatures; and by that means to train them up to a horror of cruelty; and to the exercise of humanity and mutual charity one to another.

22:7. But shalt let her go, keeping the young which thou hast caught: that it may be well with thee, and thou mayst live a long time.

Sed abire patieris captos tenens filios ut bene sit tibi et longo vivas tempore

22:8. When thou buildest a new house, thou shalt make a battlement to the roof round about: lest blood be shed in thy house, and thou be guilty, if any one slip, and fall down headlong.

Cum aedificaveris domum novam facies murum tecti per circuitum ne effundatur sanguis in domo tua et sis reus labente alio et in praeceptis ruente

Battlement... This precaution was necessary, because all their houses had flat tops, and it was usual to walk and to converse together upon them.

22:9. Thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with divers seeds: lest both the seed which thou hast sown, and the fruit of the vineyard, be sanctified together.

Non seres vineam tuam altero semine ne et sementis quam sevisti et quae nascuntur ex vinea pariter sanctificentur

22:10. Thou shalt not plough with an ox and an ass together.
Non arabis in bove simul et asino

22:11. Thou shalt not wear a garment that is woven of woollen and linen together.
Non indueris vestimento quod ex lana linoque contextum est

22:12. Thou shalt make strings in the hem at the four corners of thy cloak, wherewith thou shalt be covered.
Funiculos in fimbriis facies per quattuor angulos pallii tui quo operieris

22:13. If a man marry a wife, and afterwards hate her,
Si duxerit vir uxorem et postea eam odio habuerit

22:14. And seek occasions to put her away, laying to her charge a very ill name, and say: I took this woman to wife, and going in to her, I found her not a virgin:
Quaesieritque occasiones quibus dimittat eam obiciens ei nomen pessimum et dixerit uxorem hanc accipi et ingressus ad eam non inveni virginem

22:15. Her father and mother shall take her, and shall bring with them the tokens of her virginity to the ancients of the city that are in the gate:
Tollent eam pater et mater eius et ferent secum signa virginitatis eius ad seniores urbis qui in porta sunt

22:16. And the father shall say: I gave my daughter unto this man to wife: and because he hateth her,
Et dicet pater filiam meam dedi huic uxorem quam quia odit

22:17. He layeth to her charge a very ill name, so as to say: I found not thy daughter a virgin: and behold these are the tokens of my daughter's virginity. And they shall spread the cloth before the ancients of the city:
Inponet ei nomen pessimum ut dicat non inveni filiam tuam virginem et ecce haec sunt signa virginitatis filiae meae expandent vestimentum coram senibus civitatis

22:18. And the ancients of that city shall take that man, and beat him,
Adprehendentque senes urbis illius virum et verberabunt illum

22:19. Condemning him besides in a hundred sicles of silver, which he shall give to the damsel's father, because he hath defamed by a very ill name a virgin of Israel: and he shall have her to wife, and may not put her away all the days of his life.
Condemnantes insuper centum siclis argenti quos dabit patri puellae quoniam diffamavit nomen pessimum super virginem Israhel habebitque eam uxorem et non poterit dimittere omni tempore vitae suae

22:20. But if what he charged her with be true, and virginity be not found in the damsel:
Quod si verum est quod obicit et non est in puella inventa virginitas

22:21. They shall cast her out of the doors of her father's house, and the men of the city shall stone her to death, and she shall die: because she hath done a wicked thing in Israel, to play the whore in her father's house: and thou shalt take away the evil out of the midst of thee.
Eicient eam extra fores domus patris sui et lapidibus obruent viri civitatis eius et morietur quoniam fecit nefas in Israhel ut fornicaretur in domo patris sui et auferes malum de medio tui

22:22. If a man lie with another man's wife, they shall both die, that is to say, the adulterer and the adulteress: and thou shalt take away the evil out of Israel.
Si dormierit vir cum uxore alterius uterque morientur id est adulter et adultera et auferes malum de Israhel

22:23. If a man have espoused a damsel that is a virgin, and some one find her in the city, and lie with her,
Si puellam virginem desponderit vir et invenerit eam aliquis in civitate et concubuerit cum illa

22:24. Thou shalt bring them both out to the gate of that city, and they shall be stoned: the damsel, because she cried not out, being in the city: the man, because he hath humbled his neighbour's wife. And thou shalt take away the evil from the midst of thee.
Educes utrumque ad portam civitatis illius et lapidibus obruentur puella quia non clamavit cum esset in civitate vir quia humiliavit uxorem proximi sui et auferes malum de medio tui

22:25. But if a man find a damsel that is  betrothed, in the field, and taking hold of her, lie with her, he alone shall die:

Sin autem in agro reppererit vir puellam quae desponsata est et adprehendens concubuerit cum illa ipse morietur solus

22:26. The damsel shall suffer nothing, neither is she guilty of death: for as a robber riseth against his brother, and  taketh away his life, so also did the damsel suffer:

Puella nihil patietur nec est rea mortis quoniam sicut latro consurgit contra fratrem suum et occidit animam eius ita et puella perpressa est

22:27. She was alone in the field: she cried, and there was no man to help her.

Sola erat in agro clamavit et nullus adfuit qui liberaret eam

22:28. If a man find a damsel that is a  virgin, who is not  espoused, and taking her, lie with her, and the matter come to judgment:

Si invenerit vir puellam virginem quae non habet sponsum et adprehendens concubuerit cum ea et res ad iudicium venerit

22:29. He that lay with her shall give to the  father of the maid fifty sicles of silver, and shall  have her to wife, because he hath  humbled her: he may not  put her away all the days of his life.

Dabit qui dormivit cum ea patri puellae quinquaginta siclos argenti et habebit eam uxorem quia humiliavit illam non poterit dimittere cunctis diebus vitae suae

22:30. No man shall take his  father's wife, nor remove his covering.

Non accipiet homo uxorem patris sui nec revelabit operimentum eius

Deuteronomy Chapter 23

Who may and who may not enter into the church: uncleanness to be avoided: other precepts concerning fugitives, fornication, usury, vows, and eating other men's grapes and corn.

---

23:1. An eunuch, whose testicles are broken or cut away, or yard cut off, shall not enter into the church of the Lord.

Non intrabit eunuchus adtritis vel amputatis testiculis et absciso veretro ecclesiam Domini

Eunuch... By these are meant, in the spiritual sense, such as are barren in good works. Ibid. Into the church... That is, into the assembly or congregation of Israel, so as to have the privilege of an Israelite, or to be capable of any place or office among the people of God.

23:2. A mamzer, that is to say, one born of a prostitute, shall not enter into the church of the Lord, until the tenth generation.

Non ingredietur mamzer hoc est de scorto natus in ecclesiam Domini usque ad decimam generationem

23:3. The Ammonite and the Moabite, even after the tenth generation shall not enter into the church of the Lord for ever:

Ammanites et Moabites etiam post decimam generationem non intrabunt ecclesiam Domini in aeternum

23:4. Because they would not meet you with bread and water in the way, when you came out of Egypt: and because they hired against thee Balaam, the son of Beor, from Mesopotamia in Syria, to curse thee.

Quia noluerunt vobis occurrere cum pane et aqua in via quando egressi estis de Aegypto et quia conduxerunt contra te Balaam filium Beor de Mesopotamiam Syriae ut malediceret tibi

23:5. And the Lord thy God would not hear Balaam, and he turned his cursing into thy blessing, because he loved thee.

Et noluit Dominus Deus tuus audire Balaam vertitque maledictionem eius in benedictionem tuam eo quod diligeret te

23:6. Thou shalt not make peace with them, neither shalt thou seek their prosperity all the days of thy life for ever.

Non facies cum eis pacem nec quaeres eis bona cunctis diebus vitae tuae in sempiternum

23:7. Thou shalt not abhor the Edomite, because he is thy brother: nor the Egyptian, because thou wast a stranger in his land.

Non abominaberis Idumeum quia frater tuus est nec Aegyptium quia advena fuisti in terra eius

23:8. They that are born of them, in the third generation shall enter into the church of the Lord.

Qui nati fuerint ex eis tertia generatione intrabunt ecclesiam Domini

23:9. When thou goest out to war against thy enemies, thou shalt keep thyself from every evil thing.

Quando egressus fueris adversus hostes tuos in pugnam custodies te ab omni re mala

23:10. If there be among you any man, that is defiled in a dream by night, he shall go forth out of the camp,

Si fuerit inter vos homo qui nocturno pollutus sit somnio egredietur extra castra

23:11. And shall not return, before he be washed with water in the evening: and after sunset he shall return into the camp.

Et non revertetur priusquam ad vesperam lavetur aqua et post solis occasum regredietur in castra

23:12. Thou shalt have a place without the camp, to which thou mayst go for the necessities of nature,

Habebis locum extra castra ad quem egrediaris ad requisita naturae

23:13. Carrying a paddle at thy girdle. And when thou sittest down, thou shalt dig round about, and with the earth that is dug up thou shalt cover

Gerens paxillum in balteo cumque sederis fodies per circuitum et egesta humo operies

23:14. That which thou art eased of: (for the Lord thy God walketh in the midst of thy camp, to deliver thee, and to give up thy enemies to thee:) and let thy camp be holy, and let no uncleanness appear therein, lest he go away from thee.

Quo relevatus es Dominus enim Deus tuus ambulat in medio castrorum ut eruat te et tradat tibi inimicos tuos ut sint castra tua sancta et nihil in eis appareat foeditatis nec derelinquat te

No uncleanness... This caution against suffering any filth in the camp, was to teach them to fly the filth of sin, which driveth God away from the soul.

23:15. Thou shalt not deliver to his master the servant that is fled to thee.

Non trades servum domino suo qui ad te confugerit

23:16. He shall dwell with thee in the place that shall please him, and shall rest in one of thy cities: give him no trouble.

Habitabit tecum in loco qui ei placuerit et in una urbium tuarum requiescet nec contristes eum

23:17. There shall be no whore among the daughters of Israel, nor whoremonger among the sons of Israel.

Non erit meretrix de filiabus Israhel neque scortator de filiis Israhel

23:18. Thou shalt not offer the hire of a strumpet, nor the price of a dog, in the house of the Lord thy God, whatsoever it be that thou hast vowed: because both these are an abomination to the Lord thy God.

Non offeres mercedem prostibuli nec pretium canis in domum Domini Dei tui quicquid illud est quod voverint quia abominatio est utrumque apud Dominum Deum tuum

23:19. Thou shalt not lend to thy brother money to usury, nor corn, nor any other thing:

Non fenerabis fratri tuo ad usuram pecuniam nec fruges nec quamlibet aliam rem

23:20. But to the stranger. To thy brother thou shalt lend that which he wanteth, without usury: that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all thy works in the land, which thou shalt go in to possess.

Sed alieno fratri autem tuo absque usura id quod indiget commodabis ut benedicat tibi Dominus Deus tuus in omni opere tuo in terra ad quam ingredieris possidendam

To the stranger... This was a dispensation granted by God to his people, who being the Lord of all things, can give a right and title to one upon the goods of another. Otherwise the scripture everywhere condemns usury, as contrary to the law of God, and a crying sin. See Exodus 22:25; Leviticus 25:36-37; Nehemiah 5:7; Psalm 14:5; Ezekiel 18:8, Ezekiel 18:13, etc.

23:21. When thou hast made a vow to the Lord thy God, thou shalt not delay to pay it: because the Lord thy God will require it. And if thou delay, it shall be imputed to thee for a sin.

Cum voveris votum Domino Deo tuo non tardabis reddere quia requiret illud Dominus Deus tuus et si moratus fueris reputabit tibi in peccatum

23:22. If thou wilt not promise, that shalt be without sin.

Si nolueris polliceri absque peccato eris

23:23. But that which is once gone out of thy lips, thou shalt observe, and shalt do as thou hast promised to the Lord thy God, and hast spoken with thy own will and with thy own mouth.

Quod autem semel egressum est de labiis tuis observabis et facies sicut promisisti Domino Deo tuo et propria voluntate et ore tuo locutus es

23:24. Going into thy neighbour's vineyard, thou mayst eat as many grapes as thou pleasest: but must carry none out with thee:

Ingressus vineam proximi tui comede uvas quantum tibi placuerit foras autem ne efferas tecum

23:25. If thou go into thy friend's corn, thou mayst break the ears, and rub them in thy hand: but not reap them with a sickle.

Si intraveris in segetem amici tui franges spicas et manu conteres falce autem non metes

Deuteronomy Chapter 24

Divorce permitted to avoid greater evil: the newly married must not go to war: of men stealers, of leprosy, of pledges, of labourers' hire, of justice, and of charity to the poor.

---

24:1. If a man take a wife, and have her, and she find not favour in his eyes, for some uncleanness: he shall write a bill of divorce, and shall give it in her hand, and send her out of his house.

Si acceperit homo uxorem et habuerit eam et non invenerit gratiam ante oculos eius propter aliquam foeditatem scribet libellum repudii et dabit in manu illius et dimittet eam de domo sua

24:2. And when she is departed, and marrieth another husband,

Cumque egressa alterum maritum duxerit

24:3. And he also hateth her, and hath given her a bill of divorce, and hath sent her out of his house or is dead:

Et ille quoque oderit eam dederitque ei libellum repudii et dimiserit de domo sua vel certe mortuus fuerit

24:4. The former husband cannot take her again to wife: because she is defiled, and is become abominable before the Lord: lest thou cause thy land to sin, which the Lord thy God shall give thee to possess.

Non poterit prior maritus recipere eam in uxorem quia polluta est et abominabilis facta est coram Domino ne peccare facias terram tuam quam Dominus Deus tuus tibi tradiderit possidendam

24:5. When a man hath lately taken a wife, he shall not go out to war, neither shall any public business be enjoined him, but he shall be free at home without fault, that for one year he may rejoice with his wife.

Cum acceperit homo nuper uxorem non procedet ad bellum nec ei quippiam necessitatis iniungetur publicae sed vacabit absque culpa domui suae ut uno anno laetetur cum uxore sua

24:6. Thou shalt not take the nether, nor the upper millstone to pledge: for he hath pledged his life to thee.

Non accipies loco pignoris inferiorem et superiorem molam quia animam suam adposuit tibi

24:7. If any man be found soliciting his brother of the children of Israel, and selling him shall take a price, he shall be put to death, and thou shalt take away the evil from the midst of thee.

Si deprehensus fuerit homo sollicitans fratrem suum de filiis Israhel et vendito eo accipiens pretium interficietur et auferes malum de medio tui

24:8. Observe diligently that thou incur not the stroke of the leprosy, but thou shalt do whatsoever the priests of the Levitical race shall teach thee, according to what I have commanded them, and fulfil thou it carefully.

Observa diligenter ne incurras in plagam leprae sed facies quaecumque docuerint te sacerdotes levitici generis iuxta id quod praecepi eis et imple sollicite

24:9. Remember what the Lord your God did to Mary, in the way when you came out of Egypt.

Mementote quae fecerit Dominus Deus vester Mariae in via cum egredere mini de Aegypto

24:10. When thou shalt demand of thy neighbour any thing that he oweth thee, thou shalt not go into his house to take away a pledge:

Cum repetes a proximo tuo rem aliquam quam debet tibi non ingredieris domum eius ut pignus auferas

24:11. But thou shalt stand without, and he shall bring out to thee what he hath.

Sed stabis foris et ille tibi proferet quod habuerit

24:12. But if he be poor, the pledge shall not lodge with thee that night,

Sin autem pauper est non pernoctabit apud te pignus

24:13. But thou shalt restore it to him presently before the going down of the sun: that he may sleep in his own raiment and bless thee, and thou mayst have justice before the Lord thy God.

Sed statim reddes ei ante solis occasum ut dormiens in vestimento suo benedicat tibi et habeas iustitiam coram Domino Deo tuo

24:14. Thou shalt not refuse the hire of the needy, and the poor, whether he be thy brother, or a stranger that dwelleth with thee in the land, and is within thy gates:

Non negabis mercedem indigentis et pauperis fratris tui sive advenae qui tecum moratur in terra et intra portas tuas est

24:15. But thou shalt pay him the price of his labour the same day, before the going down of the sun, because he is poor, and with it maintaineth his life: lest he cry against thee to the Lord, and it be reputed to thee for a sin.

Sed eadem die reddes ei pretium laboris sui ante solis occasum quia pauper est et ex eo sustentat animam suam ne clamet contra te ad Dominum et reputetur tibi in peccatum

Non occidentur patres pro filiis nec filii pro patribus sed unusquisque pro suo peccato morietur

24:17. Thou shalt not pervert the judgment of the stranger nor of the fatherless, neither shalt thou take away the widow's raiment for a pledge.

Non pervertes iudicium advenae et pupilli nec auferes pignoris loco viduae vestimentum

24:18. Remember that thou wast a slave in Egypt, and the Lord thy God delivered thee from thence.

Therefore I command thee to do this thing.

Memento quod servieris in Aegypto et eruerit te Dominus Deus tuus inde idcirco praecipio tibi ut facias hanc rem

24:19. When thou hast reaped the corn in thy field, and hast forgot and left a sheaf, thou shalt not return to take it away: but thou shalt suffer the stranger, and the fatherless and the widow to take it away: that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the works of thy hands.

Quando messueris segetem in agro tuo et oblitus manipulum reliqueris non reverteris ut tollas eum sed advenam et pupillum et viduam auferre patieris ut benedicat tibi Dominus Deus tuus in omni opere manuum tuarum

24:20. If thou have gathered the fruit of thy olive trees, thou shalt not return to gather whatsoever remaineth on the trees: but shalt leave it for the stranger, for the fatherless, and the widow.

Si fruges colliges olivarum quicquid remanserit in arboribus non reverteris ut colligas sed relinques advenae pupillo ac viduae

24:21. If thou make the vintage of thy vineyard, thou shalt not gather the clusters that remain, but they shall be for the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow.

Si vindemiaveris vineam tuam non colliges remanentes racemos sed cedent in usus advenae pupilli ac viduae

24:22. Remember that thou also wast a bondman in Egypt, and therefore I command thee to do this thing.

Memento quod et tu servieris in Aegypto et idcirco praecipiam tibi ut facias hanc rem

Deuteronomy Chapter 25

Stripes must not exceed forty. The ox is not to be muzzled. Of raising seed to the brother. Of the immodest woman. Of unjust weight. Of destroying the Amalecites.

---

25:1. If there be a controversy between men, and they call upon the judges: they shall give the prize of justice to him whom they perceive to be just: and him whom they find to be wicked, they shall condemn of wickedness.

Si fuerit causa inter aliquos et interpellaverint iudices quem iustum esse perspexerint illi iustitiae palmam dabunt quem impium condemnabunt impietatis

25:2. And if they see that the offender be worthy of stripes: they shall lay him down, and shall cause him to be beaten before them. According to the measure of the sin shall the measure also of the stripes be:

Sin autem eum qui peccavit dignum viderint plagis prosternent et coram se facient verberari pro mensura peccati erit et plagarum modus

25:3. Yet so, that they exceed not the number of forty: lest thy brother depart shamefully torn before thy eyes.

Ita dumtaxat ut quadragenarium numerum non excedant ne foede laceratus ante oculos tuos abeat frater tuus

25:4. Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out thy corn on the floor.

Non ligabis os bovis terentis in area fruges tuas

Not muzzle, etc... St. Paul understands this of the spiritual labourer in the church of God, who is not to be denied his maintenance. 1 Corinthians 9:8-10.

25:5. When brethren dwell together, and one of them dieth without children, the wife of the deceased shall not marry to another: but his brother shall take her, and raise up seed for his brother:

Quando habitaverint fratres simul et unus ex eis absque liberis mortuus fuerit uxor defuncti non nubet alteri sed accipiet eam frater eius et suscitabit semen fratris sui

25:6. And the first son he shall have of her he shall call by his name, that his name be not abolished out of Israel.

Et primogenitum ex ea filium nomine illius appellabit ut non deleatur nomen eius ex Israhel

25:7. But if he will not take his brother's wife, who by law belongeth to him, the woman shall go to the gate of the city, and call upon the ancients, and say: My husband's brother refuseth to raise up his brother's name in Israel: and will not take me to wife.

Sin autem noluerit accipere uxorem fratris sui quae ei lege debetur perget mulier ad portam civitatis et interpellabit maiores natu dicetque non vult frater viri mei suscitare nomen fratris sui in Israhel nec me in coniugium sumere

25:8. And they shall cause him to be sent for forthwith, and shall ask him. If he answer: I will not take her to wife:

Statimque accersiri eum facient et interrogabunt si responderit nolo eam uxorem accipere

25:9. The woman shall come to him before the ancients, and shall take off his shoe from his foot, and spit in his face, and say: So shall it be done to the man that will not build up his brother's house:

Accedet mulier ad eum coram senioribus et tollet calciamentum de pede eius spuetque in faciem illius et dicet sic fit homini qui non aedificat domum fratris sui

25:10. And his name shall be called in Israel, the house of the unshod.

Et vocabitur nomen illius in Israhel domus Disculciati

25:11. If two men have words together, and one begin to fight against the other, and the other's wife willing to deliver her husband out of the hand of the stronger, shall put forth her hand, and take him by the secrets,

Si habuerint inter se iurgium viri et unus contra alterum rixari coeperit volensque uxor alterius eruere virum suum de manu fortioris miserit manum et adprehenderit verenda eius

25:12. Thou shalt cut off her hand, neither shalt thou be moved with any pity in her regard.

Abscides manum illius nec flecteris super eam ulla misericordia

25:13. Thou shalt not have divers weights in thy bag, a greater and a less:

Non habebis in sacco diversa pondera maius et minus

25:14. Neither shall there be in thy house a greater bushel and a less.

Nec erit in domo tua modius maior et minor

25:15. Thou shalt have a just and a true weight, and thy bushel shall be equal and true: that thou mayest live a long time upon the land which the Lord thy God shall give thee.

Pondus habebis iustum et verum et modius aequalis et verus erit tibi ut multo vivas tempore super terram quam Dominus Deus tuus dederit tibi

25:16. For the Lord thy God abhorreth him that doth these things, and he hateth all injustice.

Abominatur enim Dominus eum qui facit haec et aversatur omnem iniustitiam

25:17. Remember what Amalec did to thee in the way when thou camest out of Egypt:

Memento quae fecerit tibi Amalech in via quando egrediebaris ex Aegypto

Amalec... This order for destroying the Amalecites, in the mystical sense, showeth how hateful they are to God, and what punishments they are to look for from his justice, who attack and discourage his servants when they are but just come out, as it were, of the Egypt of this wicked world and being yet weak and fainthearted, are but beginning their journey to the land of promise.

25:18. How he met thee: and slew the hindmost of the army, who sat down, being weary, when thou wast spent with hunger and labour, and he feared not God.

Quomodo occurrerit tibi et extremos agminis tui qui lassii residebant ceciderit quando tu eras fame et labore confectus et non timuerit Deum

25:19. Therefore when the Lord thy God shall give thee rest, and shall have subdued all the nations round about in the land which he hath promised thee: thou shalt blot out his name from under heaven. See thou forget it not.

Cum ergo Dominus Deus tuus dederit tibi requiem et subiecerit cunctas per circuitum nationes in terra quam tibi pollicitus est delebis nomen eius sub caelo cave ne obliviscaris

Deuteronomy Chapter 26

The form of words with which the firstfruits and tithes are to be offered. God's covenant.

---

26:1. And when thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God will give thee to possess, and hast conquered it, and dwellest in it:

Cumque intraveris terram quam Dominus Deus tuus tibi daturus est possidendam et obtinueris eam atque habitaveris in illa

26:2. Thou shalt take the first of all thy fruits, and put them in a basket, and shalt go to the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, that his name may be invocated there:

Tolles de cunctis frugibus primitias et pones in cartallo pergesque ad locum quem Dominus Deus tuus elegerit ut ibi invocetur nomen eius

26:3. And thou shalt go to the priest that shall be in those days, and say to him: I profess this day before the Lord thy God, that I am come into the land, for which he swore to our fathers, that he would give it us. Accedesque ad sacerdotem qui fuerit in diebus illis et dices ad eum profiteor hodie coram Domino Deo tuo quod ingressus sim terram pro qua iuravit patribus nostris ut daret eam nobis

26:4. And the priest taking the basket at thy hand, shall set it before the altar of the Lord thy God:

Suscipiensque sacerdos cartallum de manu eius ponet ante altare Domini Dei tui

26:5. And thou shalt speak thus in the sight of the Lord thy God: The Syrian pursued my father, who went down into Egypt, and sojourned there in a very small number, and grew into a nation great and strong and of an infinite multitude.

Et loqueris in conspectu Domini Dei tui Syrus persequebatur patrem meum qui descendit in Aegyptum et ibi peregrinatus est in paucissimo numero crevitque in gentem magnam et robustam et infinitae multitudinis

The Syrian... Laban. See Genesis 27.

26:6. And the Egyptians afflicted us, and persecuted us, laying on us most grievous burdens:

Adflixeruntque nos Aegyptii et persecuti sunt inponentes onera gravissima

26:7. And we cried to the Lord God of our fathers: who heard us, and looked down upon our affliction, and labour, and distress:

Et clamavimus ad Dominum Deum patrum nostrorum qui exaudivit nos et respexit humilitatem nostram et laborem atque angustias

26:8. And brought us out of Egypt with a strong hand, and a stretched out arm, with great terror, with signs and wonders:

Et eduxit nos de Aegypto in manu forti et brachio extento in ingenti pavore in signis atque portentis

26:9. And brought us into this place, and gave us this land flowing with milk and honey.

Et introduxit ad locum istum et tradidit nobis terram lacte et melle manantem

26:10. And therefore now I offer the firstfruits of the land which the Lord hath given me. And thou shalt leave them in the sight of the Lord thy God, adoring the Lord thy God.

Et idcirco nunc offero primitias frugum terrae quam dedit Dominus mihi et dimittes eas in conspectu Domini Dei tui adorato Domino Deo tuo

26:11. And thou shalt feast in all the good things which the Lord thy God hath given thee, and thy house, thou and the Levite, and the stranger that is with thee.

Et epulaberis in omnibus bonis quae Dominus Deus tuus dederit tibi et domui tuae tu et Levites et advena qui tecum est

26:12. When thou hast made an end of tithing all thy fruits, in the third year of tithes thou shalt give it to the Levite, and to the stranger, and to the fatherless, and to the widow, that they may eat within thy gates, and be filled:

Quando conpleveris decimam cunctarum frugum tuarum anno decimarum tertio dabis Levitae et advenae et pupillo et viduae ut comedant intra portas tuas et saturentur

26:13. And thou shalt speak thus in the sight of the Lord thy God: I have taken that which was sanctified out of my house, and I have given it to the Levite, and to the stranger, and to the fatherless, and to the widow, as thou hast commanded me: I have not transgressed thy commandments nor forgotten thy precepts.

Loquerisque in conspectu Domini Dei tui abstuli quod sanctificatum est de domo mea et dedi illud Levitae et advenae pupillo et viduae sicut iussisti mihi non praeterivi mandata tua nec sum oblitus imperii

26:14. I have not eaten of them in my mourning, nor separated them for any uncleanness, nor spent any thing of them in funerals. I have obeyed the voice of the Lord my God, and have done all things as thou hast commanded me.

Non comedi ex eis in luctu meo nec separavi ea in qualibet immunditia nec expendi ex his quicquam in re funebri oboedivi voci Domini Dei mei et feci omnia sicut praecepisti mihi

26:15. Look from thy sanctuary, and thy high habitation of heaven, and bless thy people Israel, and the land which thou hast given us, as thou didst swear to our fathers, a land flowing with milk and honey.

Respice de sanctuario tuo de excelso caelorum habitaculo et benedic populo tuo Israhel et terrae quam dedisti nobis sicut iurasti patribus nostris terrae lacte et melle mananti

26:16. This day the Lord thy God hath commanded thee to do these commandments and judgments: and to keep and fulfil them with all thy heart, and with all thy soul.

Hodie Dominus Deus tuus praecepit tibi ut facias mandata haec atque iudicia et custodias et impleas ex toto corde tuo et ex tota anima tua

26:17. Thou hast chosen the Lord this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways and keep his ceremonies, and precepts, and judgments, and obey his command.

Dominum elegisti hodie ut sit tibi Deus et ambules in viis eius et custodias caerimonias illius et mandata atque iudicia et oboedias eius imperio

26:18. And the Lord hath chosen thee this day, to be his peculiar people, as he hath spoken to thee, and to keep all his commandments:

Et Dominus elegit te hodie ut sis ei populus peculiaris sicut locutus est tibi et custodias omnia praecepta eius

26:19. And to make thee higher than all nations which he hath created, to his own praise, and name, and glory: that thou mayst be a holy people of the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken.

Et faciat te excelsiorem cunctis gentibus quas creavit in laudem et nomen et gloriam suam ut sis populus sanctus Domini Dei tui sicut locutus est

Deuteronomy Chapter 27

The commandments must be written on stones: and an altar erected, and sacrifices offered. The observers of the commandments are to be blessed, and the transgressors cursed.

---

27:1. And Moses with the ancients of Israel commanded the people, saying: Keep every commandment that I command you this day.

Praecipit autem Moses et seniores Israhel populo dicentes custodite omne mandatum quod praecipio vobis hodie

27:2. And when you are passed over the Jordan into the land which the Lord thy God will give thee, thou shalt set up great stones, and shalt plaster them over with plaster,

Cumque transieritis Iordanem in terram quam Dominus Deus tuus dabit tibi eriges ingentes lapides et calce levigabis eos

27:3. That thou mayst write on them all the words of this law, when thou art passed over the Jordan: that thou mayst enter into the land which the Lord thy God will give thee, a land flowing with milk and honey, as he swore to thy fathers.

Ut possis in eis scribere omnia verba legis huius Iordane transmisso ut introeas terram quam Dominus Deus tuus dabit tibi terram lacte et melle manantem sicut iuravit patribus tuis

27:4. Therefore when you are passed over the Jordan, set up the stones which I command you this day, in mount Hebal, and thou shalt plaster them with plaster:

Quando ergo transieritis Iordanem erige lapides quos ego hodie praecipio vobis in monte Hebal et levigabis calce

27:5. And thou shalt build there an altar to the Lord thy God, of stones which iron hath not touched,

Et aedificabis ibi altare Domino Deo tuo de lapidibus quos ferrum non tetigit

27:6. And of stones not fashioned nor polished: and thou shalt offer upon it holocausts to the Lord thy God:

Et de saxis informibus et inpolitibus et offeres super eo holocausta Domino Deo tuo

27:7. And shalt immolate peace victims, and eat there, and feast before the Lord thy God.

Et immolabis hostias pacificas comedesque ibi et epulaberis coram Domino Deo tuo

27:8. And thou shalt write upon the stones all the words of this law plainly and clearly.

Et scribes super lapides omnia verba legis huius plane et lucide

27:9. And Moses and the priests of the race of Levi said to all Israel: Attend, and hear, O Israel: This day thou art made the people of the Lord thy God:

Dixeruntque Moses et sacerdotes levitici generis ad omnem Israhalem adtende et audi Israhel hodie factus es populus Domini Dei tui

27:10. Thou shalt hear his voice, and do the commandments and justices which I command thee.

Audies vocem eius et facies mandata atque iustitias quas ego praecipio tibi

27:11. And Moses commanded the people in that day, saying:

Praecipitque Moses populo in die illo dicens

27:12. These shall stand upon mount Garizim to bless the people, when you are passed the Jordan: Simeon, Levi, Juda, Issachar, Joseph, and Benjamin.

Hii stabunt ad benedicendum Domino super montem Garizim Iordane transmisso Symeon Levi Iudas

Isachar Ioseph et Beniamin

27:13. And over against them shall stand on mount Hebal to curse: Ruben, Gad, and Aser, and Zabulon, Dan, and Nephtali.

Et e regione isti stabunt ad maledicendum in monte Hebal Ruben Gad et Aser Zabulon Dan et Nephtalim

27:14. And the Levites shall pronounce, and say to all the men of Israel with a loud voice:

Et pronuntiabunt Levitae dicentque ad omnes viros Israhel excelsa voce

27:15. Cursed be the man that maketh a graven and molten thing, the abomination of the Lord, the work of the hands of artificers, and shall put it in a secret place: and all the people shall answer and say: Amen.

Maledictus homo qui facit sculptile et conflatile abominationem Domini opus manuum artificum ponetque illud in abscondito et respondebit omnis populus et dicet amen

27:16. Cursed be he that honoureth not his father and mother: and all the people shall say: Amen.

Maledictus qui non honorat patrem suum et matrem et dicet omnis populus amen

27:17. Cursed be he that removeth his neighbour's landmarks: and all the people shall say: Amen.

Maledictus qui transfert terminos proximi sui et dicet omnis populus amen

27:18. Cursed be he that maketh the blind to wander out of his way: and all the people shall say: Amen.

Maledictus qui errare facit caecum in itinere et dicet omnis populus amen

27:19. Cursed be he that perverteth the judgment of the stranger, of the fatherless and the widow: and all the people shall say: Amen.

Maledictus qui pervertit iudicium advenae pupilli et viduae et dicet omnis populus amen

27:20. Cursed be he that lieth with his father's wife, and uncovereth his bed: and all the people shall say: Amen.

Maledictus qui dormit cum uxore patris sui et revelat operimentum lectuli eius et dicet omnis populus amen

27:21. Cursed be he that lieth with any beast: and all the people shall say: Amen.

Maledictus qui dormit cum omni iumento et dicet omnis populus amen

27:22. Cursed be he that lieth with his sister, the daughter of his father, or of his mother: and all the people shall say: Amen.

Maledictus qui dormit cum sorore sua filia patris sui sive matris suae et dicet omnis populus amen

27:23. Cursed be he that lieth with his mother-in-law: and all the people shall say: Amen.

Maledictus qui dormit cum socru sua et dicet omnis populus amen

27:24. Cursed be he that secretly killeth his neighbour: and all the people shall say: Amen.

Maledictus qui clam percusserit proximum suum et dicet omnis populus amen

27:25. Cursed be he that taketh gifts, to slay an innocent person: and all the people shall say: Amen.

Maledictus qui accipit munera ut percutiat animam sanguinis innocentis et dicet omnis populus amen

27:26. Cursed be he that abideth not in the words of this law, and fulfilleth them not in work: and all the people shall say: Amen.

Maledictus qui non permanet in sermonibus legis huius nec eos opere perficit et dicet omnis populus amen

Deuteronomy Chapter 28

Many blessings are promised to observers of God's commandments: and curses threatened to transgressors.

---

28:1. Now if thou wilt hear the voice of all his commandments, which I command thee this day, the Lord thy God will make thee higher than all the nations that are on the earth.

Sin autem audieris vocem Domini Dei tui ut facias atque custodias omnia mandata eius quae ego praecipio tibi hodie faciet te Dominus Deus tuus excelsiorem cunctis gentibus quae versantur in terra

28:2. And all these blessings shall come upon thee and overtake thee: yet so if thou hear his precepts.

Venientque super te universae benedictiones istae et adprehendent te si tamen praecepta eius audieris All these blessings, etc... In the Old Testament, God promised temporal blessings to the keepers of his law, heaven not being opened as yet; and that gross and sensual people being more moved with present and sensible things. But in the New Testament the goods that are promised us are spiritual and eternal; and temporal evils are turned into blessings.

28:3. Blessed shalt thou be in the city, and blessed in the field.

Benedictus tu in civitate et benedictus in agro

28:4. Blessed shall be the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the droves of thy herds, and the folds of thy sheep.

Benedictus fructus ventris tui et fructus terrae tuae fructusque iumentorum tuorum greges armentorum et caulae ovium tuarum

28:5. Blessed shall be thy barns and blessed thy stores.

Benedicta horrea tua et benedictae reliquiae tuae

28:6. Blessed shalt thou be coming in and going out.

Benedictus eris et ingrediens et egrediens

28:7. The Lord shall cause thy enemies, that rise up against thee, to fall down before thy face: one way shall they come out against thee, and seven ways shall they flee before thee.

Dabit Dominus inimicos tuos qui consurgunt adversum te corruentes in conspectu tuo per unam viam venient contra te et per septem fugient a facie tua

28:8. The Lord will send forth a blessing upon thy storehouses, and upon all the works of thy hands: and will bless thee in the land that thou shalt receive.

Emittet Dominus benedictionem super cellaria tua et super omnia opera manuum tuarum benedicetque tibi in terra quam acceperis

28:9. The Lord will raise thee up to be a holy people to himself, as he swore to thee: if thou keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways.

Suscitabit te Dominus sibi in populum sanctum sicut iuravit tibi si custodieris mandata Domini Dei tui et ambulaveris in viis eius

28:10. And all the people of the earth shall see that the name of the Lord is invoked upon thee, and they shall fear thee.

Videbuntque omnes terrarum populi quod nomen Domini invocatum sit super te et timebunt te

28:11. The Lord will make thee abound with all goods, with the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy cattle, with the fruit of thy land, which the Lord swore to thy fathers that he would give thee.

Abundare te faciet Dominus omnibus bonis fructu uteri tui et fructu iumentorum tuorum fructu terrae tuae quam iuravit Dominus patribus tuis ut daret tibi

28:12. The Lord will open his excellent treasure, the heaven, that it may give rain in due season: and he will bless all the works of thy hands. And thou shalt lend to many nations, and shalt not borrow of any one.

Aperiet Dominus thesaurum suum optimum caelum ut tribuat pluviam terrae tuae in tempore suo benedicet cunctis operibus manuum tuarum et fenerabis gentibus multis et ipse a nullo fenus accipies

28:13. And the Lord shall make thee the head and not the tail: and thou shalt be always above, and not beneath: yet so if thou wilt hear the commandments of the Lord thy God which I command thee this day, and keep and do them,

Constituet te Dominus in caput et non in caudam et eris semper supra et non subter si audieris mandata Domini Dei tui quae ego praecipio tibi hodie et custodieris et feceris

28:14. And turn not away from them neither to the right hand, nor to the left, nor follow strange gods, nor worship them.

Ac non declinaveris ab eis nec ad dextram nec ad sinistram nec secutus fueris deos alienos neque colueris eos

28:15. But if thou wilt not hear the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep and to do all his commandments and ceremonies, which I command thee this day, all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee.

Quod si audire nolueris vocem Domini Dei tui ut custodias et facias omnia mandata eius et caerimonias quas ego praecipio tibi hodie venient super te omnes maledictiones istae et adprehendent te

All these curses, etc... Thus God dealt with the transgressors of his law in the Old Testament: but now he often suffers sinners to prosper in this world, rewarding them for some little good they have done, and reserving their punishment for the other world.

28:16. Cursed shalt thou be in the city, cursed in the field.

Maledictus eris in civitate maledictus in agro

28:17. Cursed shall be thy barn, and cursed thy stores.

Maledictum horreum tuum et maledictae reliquiae tuae

28:18. Cursed shall be the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy ground, the herds of thy oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep.

Maledictus fructus ventris tui et fructus terrae tuae armenta bouum tuorum et greges ovium tuarum

28:19. Cursed shalt thou be coming in, and cursed going out.

Maledictus eris ingrediens et maledictus egrediens

28:20. The Lord shall send upon thee famine and hunger, and a rebuke upon all the works which thou shalt do: until he consume and destroy thee quickly, for thy most wicked inventions, by which thou hast forsaken me.

Mittet Dominus super te famem et esuriam et increpationem in omnia opera tua quae facies donec conterat te et perdat velociter propter adinventiones tuas pessimas in quibus reliquisti me

28:21. May the Lord set the pestilence upon thee, until he consume thee out of the land, which thou shalt go in to possess.

Adiungat Dominus tibi pestilentiam donec consumat te de terra ad quam ingredieris possidendam

28:22. May the Lord afflict thee with miserable want, with the fever and with cold, with burning and with heat, and with corrupted air and with blasting, and pursue thee till thou perish.

Percutiat te Dominus egestate febri et frigore ardore et aestu et aere corrupto ac robigine et persequatur donec pereas

28:23. Be the heaven, that is over thee, of brass: and the ground thou treadest on, of iron.

Sit caelum quod supra te est aeneum et terra quam calcas ferrea

28:24. The Lord give thee dust for rain upon thy land, and let ashes come down from heaven upon thee, till thou be consumed.

Det Dominus imbrem terrae tuae pulverem et de caelo descendat super te cinis donec conteraris

28:25. The Lord make thee to fall down before thy enemies, one way mayst thou go out against them, and flee seven ways, and be scattered throughout all the kingdoms of the earth.

Tradat te Dominus corruentem ante hostes tuos per unam viam egrediaris contra eos et per septem fugias et dispergaris per omnia regna terrae

28:26. And be thy carcass meat for all the fowls of the air, and the beasts of the earth, and be there none to drive them away.

Sitque cadaver tuum in escam cunctis volatilibus caeli et bestiis terrae et non sit qui abigat

28:27. The Lord strike thee with the ulcer of Egypt, and the part of thy body, by which the dung is cast out, with the scab and with the itch: so that thou canst not be healed.

Percutiat te Dominus ulcere Aegypti et parte corporis per quam stercora digeruntur scabie quoque et prurigine ita ut curari nequeas

28:28. The Lord strike thee with madness and blindness and fury of mind.

Percutiat te Dominus amentia et caecitate ac furore mentis

28:29. And mayst thou grope at midday as the blind is wont to grope in the dark, and not make straight thy ways. And mayst thou at all times suffer wrong, and be oppressed with violence, and mayst thou have no one to deliver thee.

Et palpes in meridie sicut palpare solet caecus in tenebris et non dirigas vias tuas omnique tempore calumniam sustineas et opprimaris violentia nec habeas qui liberet te

28:30. Mayst thou take a wife, and another sleep with her. Mayst thou build a house, and not dwell therein. Mayest thou plant a vineyard and not gather the vintage thereof.

Uxorem accipias et alius dormiat cum ea domum aedifices et non habites in ea plantes vineam et non vindemias eam

28:31. May thy ox be slain before thee, and thou not eat thereof. May thy ass be taken away in thy sight, and not restored to thee. May thy sheep be given to thy enemies, and may there be none to help thee.

Bos tuus imoletur coram te et non comedas ex eo asinus tuus rapiatur in conspectu tuo et non reddatur tibi oves tuae dentur inimicis tuis et non sit qui te adiuvet

28:32. May thy sons and thy daughters be given to another people, thy eyes looking on, and languishing at the sight of them all the day, and may there be no strength in thy hand.

Filii tui et filiae tuae tradantur alteri populo videntibus oculis tuis et deficientibus ad conspectum eorum tota die et non sit fortitudo in manu tua

28:33. May a people which thou knowest not, eat the fruits of thy land, and all thy labours: and mayst thou always suffer oppression, and be crushed at all times.

Fructus terrae tuae et omnes labores tuos comedat populus quem ignoras et sis semper calumniam sustinens et oppressus cunctis diebus

28:34. And be astonished at the terror of those things which thy eyes shall see:

Et stupens ad terrorem eorum quae videbunt oculi tui

28:35. May the Lord strike thee with a very sore ulcer in the knees and in the legs, and be thou incurable from the sole of the foot to the top of the head.

Percutiat te Dominus ulcere pessimo in genibus et in suris sanarique non possis a planta pedis usque ad verticem tuum

28:36. The Lord shall bring thee, and thy king, whom thou shalt have appointed over thee, into a nation which thou and thy fathers know not: and there thou shalt serve strange gods, wood and stone.

Ducet Dominus te et regem tuum quem constitueris super te in gentem quam ignoras tu et patres tui et servies ibi diis alienis ligno et lapidi

28:37. And thou shalt be lost, as a proverb and a byword to all people, among whom the Lord shall bring thee in.

Et eris perditus in proverbium ac fabulam omnibus populis ad quos te introduxerit Dominus

28:38. Thou shalt cast much seed into the ground, and gather little: because the locusts shall consume all.

Sementem multam iacies in terram et modicum congregabis quia lucustae omnia devorabunt

28:39. Thou shalt plant a vineyard, and dig it, and shalt not drink the wine, nor gather any thing thereof: because it shall be wasted with worms.

Vineam plantabis et fodies et vinum non bibes nec colliges ex ea quippiam quoniam vastabitur vermibus

28:40. Thou shalt have olive trees in all thy borders, and shalt not be anointed with the oil: for the olives shall fall off and perish.

Olivas habebis in omnibus terminis tuis et non ungueris oleo quia defluent et peribunt

28:41. Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, and shalt not enjoy them: because they shall be led into captivity.

Filios generabis et filias et non frueris eis quoniam ducentur in captivitatem

28:42. The blast shall consume all the trees and the fruits of thy ground.

Omnes arbores tuas et fruges terrae tuae robigo consumet

28:43. The stranger that liveth with thee in the land, shall rise up over thee, and shall be higher: and thou shalt go down, and be lower.

Advena qui tecum versatur in terra ascendet super te eritque sublimior tu autem descendes et eris inferior

28:44. He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him. He shall be as the head, and thou shalt be the tail.

Ipse fenerabit tibi et tu non fenerabis ei ipse erit in caput et tu eris in caudam

28:45. And all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue and overtake thee, till thou perish: because thou heardst not the voice of the Lord thy God, and didst not keep his commandments and ceremonies which he commanded thee.

Et venient super te omnes maledictiones istae et persequentes adprehendent te donec intereas quia non audisti vocem Domini Dei tui nec servasti mandata eius et caerimonias quas praecepit tibi

28:46. And they shall be as signs and wonders on thee, and on thy seed for ever.

Et erunt in te signa atque prodigia et in semine tuo usque in sempiternum

28:47. Because thou didst not serve the Lord thy God with joy and gladness of heart, for the abundance of all things:

Eo quod non servieris Domino Deo tuo in gaudio cordisque laetitia propter rerum omnium abundantiam

28:48. Thou shalt serve thy enemy, whom the Lord will send upon thee, in hunger, and thirst, and nakedness, and in want of all things: and he shall put an iron yoke upon thy neck, till he consume thee.

Servies inimico tuo quem inmittet Dominus tibi in fame et siti et nuditate et omnium penuria et ponet iugum ferreum super cervicem tuam donec te conterat

28:49. The Lord will bring upon thee a nation from afar, and from the uttermost ends of the earth, like an eagle that flyeth swiftly, whose tongue thou canst not understand,

Adducet Dominus super te gentem de longinquo et de extremis finibus terrae in similitudinem aquilae volantis cum impetu cuius linguam intellegere non possis

28:50. A most insolent nation, that will show no regard to the ancients, nor have pity on the infant,

Gentem procacissimam quae non deferat seni nec misereatur parvulo

28:51. And will devour the fruit of thy cattle, and the fruits of thy land: until thou be destroyed, and will leave thee no wheat, nor wine, nor oil, nor herds of oxen, nor flocks of sheep: until he destroy thee.

Et devoret fructum iumentorum tuorum ac fruges terrae tuae donec intereas et non relinquat tibi triticum vinum et oleum armenta boum et greges ovium donec te disperdat

28:52. And consume thee in all thy cities, and thy strong and high wall be brought down, wherein thou trustedst in all thy land. Thou shalt be besieged within thy gates in all thy land which the Lord thy God will give thee:

Et conterat in cunctis urbibus tuis et destruantur muri tui firmi atque sublimes in quibus habebas fiduciam in omni terra tua obsideberis intra portas tuas in omni terra quam dabit tibi Dominus Deus tuus

28:53. And thou shalt eat the fruit of thy womb, and the flesh of thy sons and of thy daughters, which the Lord thy God shall give thee, in the distress and extremity wherewith thy enemy shall oppress thee.

Et comedes fructum uteri tui et carnes filiorum et filiarum tuarum quas dedit tibi Dominus Deus tuus in angustia et vastitate qua opprimet te hostis tuus

28:54. The man that is nice among you, and very delicate, shall envy his own brother, and his wife, that lieth in his bosom,

Homo delicatus in te et luxuriosus valde invidet fratri suo et uxori quae cubat in sinu suo

28:55. So that he will not give them of the flesh of his children, which he shall eat: because he hath nothing else in the siege and the want, wherewith thy enemies shall distress thee within all thy gates.

Ne det eis de carnibus filiorum suorum quas comedet eo quod nihil habeat aliud in obsidione et penuria qua vastaverint te inimici tui intra omnes portas tuas

28:56. The tender and delicate woman, that could not go upon the ground, nor set down her foot for over much niceness and tenderness, will envy her husband who lieth in her bosom, the flesh of her son, and of her daughter,

Tenera mulier et delicata quae super terram ingredi non valebat nec pedis vestigium figere propter mollitiem et teneritudinem nimiam invidet viro suo qui cubat in sinu eius super filii et filiae carnis

28:57. And the filth of the afterbirths, that come forth from between her thighs, and the children that are born the same hour. For they shall eat them secretly for the want of all things, in the siege and distress, wherewith thy enemy shall oppress thee within thy gates.

Et inlucie secundarum quae egrediuntur de medio feminum eius et super liberis qui eadem hora nati sunt comedent enim eos clam propter rerum omnium penuriam in obsidione et vastitate qua opprimet te inimicus tuus intra portas tuas

28:58. If thou wilt not keep, and fulfil all the words of this law, that are written in this volume, and fear his glorious and terrible name: that is, The Lord thy God:

Nisi custodieris et feceris omnia verba legis huius quae scripta sunt in hoc volumine et timueris nomen eius gloriosum et terribile hoc est Dominum Deum tuum

28:59. The Lord shall increase thy plagues, and the plagues of thy seed, plagues great and lasting, infirmities grievous and perpetual.

Augebit Dominus plagas tuas et plagas seminis tui plagas magnas et perseverantes infirmitates pessimas et perpetuas

28:60. And he shall bring back on thee all the afflictions of Egypt, which thou wast afraid of, and they shall stick fast to thee.

Et convertet in te omnes afflictiones Aegypti quas timuisti et adherent tibi

28:61. Moreover the Lord will bring upon thee all the diseases, and plagues, that are not written in the volume of this law till he consume thee:

Insuper et universos languores et plagas quae non sunt scriptae in volumine legis huius inducet Dominus super te donec te conterat

28:62. And you shall remain few in number, who before were as the stars of heaven for multitude, because thou heardst not the voice of the Lord thy God.

Et remanebitis pauci numero qui prius eratis sicut astra caeli prae multitudine quoniam non audisti vocem Domini Dei tui

28:63. And as the Lord rejoiced upon you before doing good to you, and multiplying you: so he shall rejoice destroying and bringing you to nought, so that you shall be taken away from the land which thou shalt go in to possess.

Et sicut ante laetatus est Dominus super vos bene vobis faciens vosque multiplicans sic laetabitur disperdens vos atque subvertens ut auferamini de terra ad quam ingredieris possidendam

28:64. The Lord shall scatter thee among all people, from the farthest parts of the earth to the ends thereof: and there thou shalt serve strange gods, which both thou art ignorant of and thy fathers, wood and stone.

Disperget te Dominus in omnes populos a summitate terrae usque ad terminos eius et servies ibi diis alienis quos et tu ignoras et patres tui lignis et lapidibus

28:65. Neither shalt thou be quiet, even in those nations, nor shall there be any rest for the sole of thy foot. For the Lord will give thee a fearful heart, and languishing eyes, and a soul consumed with pensiveness:

In gentibus quoque illis non quiesces neque erit requies vestigio pedis tui dabit enim tibi Dominus ibi cor pavidum et deficientes oculos et animam maerore consumptam

28:66. And thy life shall be as it were hanging before thee. Thou shalt fear night and day, neither shalt thou trust thy life.

Et erit vita tua quasi pendens ante te timebis nocte et die et non credes vitae tuae

28:67. In the morning thou shalt say: Who will grant me evening? and at evening: Who will grant me morning? for the fearfulness of thy heart, wherewith thou shalt be terrified, and for those things which thou shalt see with thy eyes.

Mane dices quis mihi det vesperum et vespere quis mihi det mane propter cordis tui formidinem qua terreberis et propter ea quae tuis videbis oculis

28:68. The Lord shall bring thee again with ships into Egypt, by the way whereof he said to thee that thou shouldst see it no more. There shalt thou be set to sale to thy enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

Reducet te Dominus classibus in Aegyptum per viam de qua dixi tibi ut eam amplius non videres ibi venderis inimicis tuis in servos et ancillas et non erit qui emat

Deuteronomy Chapter 29

The covenant is solemnly confirmed between God and his people. Threats against those that shall break it.

---

29:1. These are the words of the covenant which the Lord commanded Moses to make with the children of Israel in the land of Moab: beside that covenant which he made with them in Horeb.

Haec sunt verba foederis quod praecepit Dominus Mosi ut feriret cum filiis Israhel in terra Moab praeter illud foedus quod cum eis pepigit in Horeb

29:2. And Moses called all Israel, and said to them: You have seen all the things that the Lord did before you in the land of Egypt to Pharao, and to all his servants, and to his whole land.

Vocavitque Moses omnem Israhellem et dixit ad eos vos vidistis universa quae fecit Dominus coram vobis in terra Aegypti Pharaoni et omnibus servis eius universaeque terrae illius

29:3. The great temptations, which thy eyes have seen, those mighty signs and wonders,

Temptationes magnas quas viderunt oculi tui signa illa portentaque ingentia

29:4. And the Lord hath not given you a heart to understand, and eyes to see, and ears that may hear, unto this present day.

Et non dedit Dominus vobis cor intellegens et oculos videntes et aures quae possint audire usque in praesentem diem

Hath not given you, etc... Through your own fault and because you resisted his grace.

29:5. He hath brought you forty years through the desert: your garments are not worn out, neither are the shoes of your feet consumed with age.

Adduxi vos quadraginta annis per desertum non sunt adtrita vestimenta vestra nec calciamenta pedum tuorum vetustate consumpta sunt

29:6. You have not eaten bread, nor have you drunk wine or strong drink: that you might know that I am the Lord your God.

Panem non comedistis vinum et siceram non bibistis ut sciretis quia ego sum Dominus Deus vester

29:7. And you came to this place: and Sehon king of Hesebon, and Og king of Basan, came out against us to fight. And we slew them.

Et venistis ad locum hunc egressusque est Seon rex Esebon et Og rex Basan occurrens nobis ad pugnam et percussimus eos

29:8. And took their land, and delivered it for a possession to Ruben and Gad, and the half tribe of Manasses.

Et tulimus terram eorum ac tradidimus possidendam Ruben et Gad et dimidiae tribui Manasse

29:9. Keep therefore the words of this covenant, and fulfil them: that you may understand all that you do.

Custodite ergo verba pacti huius et implete ea ut intellegatis universa quae facitis

29:10. You all stand this day before the Lord your God, your princes, and tribes, and ancients, and doctors, all the people of Israel,

Vos statis hodie cuncti coram Domino Deo vestro principes vestri ac tribus et maiores natu atque doctores omnis populus Israhel

29:11. Your children and your wives, and the stranger that abideth with thee in the camp, besides the hewers of wood, and them that bring water:

Liberi et uxores vestrae et advena qui tecum moratur in castris exceptis lignorum caesoribus et his qui comportant aquas

29:12. That thou mayst pass in the covenant of the Lord thy God, and in the oath which this day the Lord thy God maketh with thee.

Ut transeas in foedere Domini Dei tui et in iureiurando quod hodie Dominus Deus tuus percutit tecum

29:13. That he may raise thee up a people to himself, and he may be thy God as he hath spoken to thee, and as he swore to thy fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Ut suscitet te sibi in populum et ipse sit Deus tuus sicut locutus est tibi et sicut iuravit patribus tuis Abraham Isaac et Iacob

29:14. Neither with you only do I make this covenant, and confirm these oaths,

Nec vobis solis ego hoc foedus ferio et haec iuramenta confirmo

29:15. But with all that are present and that are absent.

Sed cunctis praesentibus et absentibus

29:16. For you know how we dwelt in the land of Egypt, and how we have passed through the midst of nations, and passing through them,

Vos enim nostis ut habitaverimus in terra Aegypti et quomodo transierimus per medium nationum quas transeuntes

29:17. You have seen their abominations and filth, that is to say, their idols, wood and stone, silver and gold, which they worshipped.

Vidistis abominationes et sordes id est idola eorum lignum et lapidem argentum et aurum quae colebant

29:18. Lest perhaps there should be among you a man or a woman, a family or a tribe, whose heart is turned away this day from the Lord our God, to go and serve the gods of those nations: and there should be among you a root bringing forth gall and bitterness.

Ne forte sit inter vos vir aut mulier familia aut tribus cuius cor aversum est hodie a Domino Deo vestro ut vadat et serviat diis illarum gentium et sit inter vos radix germinans fel et amaritudinem

29:19. And when he shall hear the words of this oath, he should bless himself in his heart saying: I shall have peace, and will walk on in the naughtiness of my heart: and the drunken may consume the thirsty, Cumque audierit verba iuramenti huius benedicat sibi in corde suo dicens pax erit mihi et ambulabo in pravitate cordis mei et adsumat ebria sitientem

The drunken, etc., absumat ebria sitientem... It is a proverbial expression, which may either be understood, as spoken by the sinner, blessing, that is, flattering himself in his sins with the imagination of peace, and so great an abundance as may satisfy, and as it were, consume all thirst and want: or it may be referred to the root of bitterness, spoken of before, which being drunken with sin may attract, and by that means consume, such as thirst after the like evils.

29:20. And the Lord should not forgive him: but his wrath and jealousy against that man should be exceedingly enkindled at that time, and all the curses that are written in this volume should light upon him: and the Lord should blot out his name from under heaven,

Et Dominus non ignoscat ei sed tunc quam maxime furor eius fumet et zelus contra hominem illum et sedeant super eo omnia maledicta quae scripta sunt in hoc volumine et deleat nomen eius sub caelo

29:21. And utterly destroy him out of all the tribes of Israel, according to the curses that are contained in the book of this law and covenant:

Et consumat eum in perditionem ex omnibus tribubus Israhel iuxta maledictiones quae in libro legis huius ac foederis continentur

29:22. And the following generation shall say, and the children that shall be born hereafter, and the strangers that shall come from afar, seeing the plagues of that land and the evils wherewith the Lord hath afflicted it,

Dicetque sequens generatio et filii qui nascentur deinceps et peregrini qui de longe venerint videntes plagas terrae illius et infirmitates quibus eam adflixerit Dominus

29:23. Burning it with brimstone, and the heat of salt, so that it cannot be sown any more, nor any green thing grow therein, after the example of the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrha, Adama and Seboim, which the Lord destroyed in his wrath and indignation:

Sulphure et salis ardore conburens ita ut ultra non seratur nec virens quippiam germinet in exemplum subversionis Sodomae et Gomorrae Adamae et Seboim quas subvertit Dominus in ira et furore suo

29:24. And all the nations shall say: Why hath the Lord done thus to this land? what meaneth this exceeding great heat of his wrath?

Et dicent omnes gentes quare sic fecit Dominus terrae huic quae est haec ira furoris eius inmensa

29:25. And they shall answer: Because they forsook the covenant of the Lord, which he made with their fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt:

Et respondebunt quia dereliquerunt pactum Domini quod pepigit cum patribus eorum quando eduxit eos de terra Aegypti

29:26. And they have served strange gods, and adored them, whom they knew not, and for whom they had not been assigned:

Et servierunt diis alienis et adoraverunt eos quos nesciebant et quibus non fuerant adtributi

29:27. Therefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against this land, to bring upon it all the curses that are written in this volume:

Idcirco iratus est furor Domini contra terram istam ut induceret super eam omnia maledicta quae in hoc volumine scripta sunt

29:28. And he hath cast them out of their land, in anger and in wrath, and in very great indignation, and hath thrown them into a strange land, as it is seen this day.

Et eiecit eos de terra sua in ira et furore et indignatione maxima proiecitque in terram alienam sicut hodie conprobatur

29:29. Secret things to the Lord our God: things that are manifest, to us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.

Abscondita Domino Deo nostro quae manifesta sunt nobis et filiis nostris usque in aeternum ut faciamus universa legis huius

Secret things, etc... As much as to say, secret things belong to, and are known to, God alone; our business must be to observe what he has revealed and manifested to us, and to direct our lives accordingly.

Deuteronomy Chapter 30

Great mercies are promised to the penitent: God's commandment is feasible. Life and death are set before them.

---

30:1. Now when all these things shall be come upon thee, the blessing or the curse, which I have set forth before thee, and thou shalt be touched with repentance of thy heart among all the nations, into which the Lord thy God shall have scattered thee,

Cum ergo venerint super te omnes sermones isti benedictio sive maledictio quam proposui in conspectu tuo et ductus paenitudine cordis tui in universis gentibus in quas disperserit te Dominus Deus tuus

30:2. And shalt return to him, and obey his commandments, as I command thee this day, thou and thy children, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul:

Reversus fueris ad eum et oboedieris eius imperiis sicut ego hodie praecipio tibi cum filiis tuis in toto corde tuo et in tota anima tua

30:3. The Lord thy God will bring back again thy captivity, and will have mercy on thee, and gather thee again out of all the nations, into which he scattered thee before.

Reducet Dominus Deus tuus captivitatem tuam ac miserebitur tui et rursum congregabit te de cunctis populis in quos te ante dispersit

30:4. If thou be driven as far as the poles of heaven, the Lord thy God will fetch thee back from hence,

Si ad cardines caeli fueris dissipatus inde te retrahet Dominus Deus tuus

30:5. And will take thee to himself, and bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possess it: and blessing thee, he will make thee more numerous than were thy fathers.

Et adsumet atque introducet in terram quam possederunt patres tui et obtinebis eam et benedicens tibi maioris numeri esse te faciet quam fuerunt patres tui

30:6. The Lord thy God will circumcise thy heart, and the heart of thy seed: that thou mayst love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, that thou mayst live.

Circumcidet Dominus Deus tuus cor tuum et cor seminis tui ut diligas Dominum Deum tuum in toto corde tuo et in tota anima tua et possis vivere

30:7. And he will turn all these curses upon thy enemies, and upon them that hate and persecute thee.

Omnes autem maledictiones has convertet super inimicos tuos et eos qui oderunt te et persequuntur

30:8. But thou shalt return, and hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and shalt do all the commandments which I command thee this day:

Tu autem reverteris et audies vocem Domini Dei tui faciesque universa mandata quae ego praecipio tibi hodie

30:9. And the Lord thy God will make thee abound in all the works of thy hands, in the fruit of thy womb, and in the fruit of thy cattle, in the fruitfulness of thy land, and in the plenty of all things. For the Lord will return to rejoice over thee in all good things, as he rejoiced in thy fathers:

Et abundare te faciet Dominus Deus tuus in cunctis operibus manuum tuarum in subole uteri tui et in fructu iumentorum tuorum in ubertate terrae tuae et in rerum omnium largitate revertetur enim Dominus ut gaudeat super te in omnibus bonis sicut gavisus est in patribus tuis

30:10. Yet so if thou hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and keep his precepts and ceremonies, which are written in this law: and return to the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul.

Si tamen audieris vocem Domini Dei tui et custodieris praecepta eius et caerimonias quae in hac lege conscriptae sunt et revertaris ad Dominum Deum tuum in toto corde tuo et in tota anima tua

30:11. This commandment, that I command thee this day is not above thee, nor far off from thee:

Mandatum hoc quod ego praecipio tibi hodie non supra te est neque procul positum

30:12. Nor is it in heaven, that thou shouldst say: Which of us can go up to heaven to bring it unto us, and we may hear and fulfil it in work?

Nec in caelo situm ut possis dicere quis nostrum ad caelum valet conscendere ut deferat illud ad nos et audiamus atque opere compleamus

30:13. Nor is it beyond the sea: that thou mayst excuse thyself, and say: Which of us can cross the sea, and bring it unto us: that we may hear, and do that which is commanded?

Neque trans mare positum ut causeris et dicas quis e nobis transfretare poterit mare et illud ad nos usque deferre ut possimus audire et facere quod praeceptum est

30:14. But the word is very nigh unto thee, in thy mouth and in thy heart, that thou mayst do it.

Sed iuxta te est sermo valde in ore tuo et in corde tuo ut facias illum

30:15. Consider that I have set before thee this day life and good, and on the other hand death and evil:

Considera quod hodie proposuerim in conspectu tuo vitam et bonum et e contrario mortem et malum

30:16. That thou mayst love the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways, and keep his commandments and ceremonies and judgments, and bless thee in the land, which thou shalt go in to possess.

Ut diligas Dominum Deum tuum et ambules in viis eius et custodias mandata illius et caerimonias atque iudicia et vivas ac multiplicet te benedicatque tibi in terra ad quam ingredieris possidendam

30:17. But if thy heart be turned away, so that thou wilt not hear, and being deceived with error thou adore strange gods, and serve them:

Sin autem aversum fuerit cor tuum et audire nolueris atque errore deceptus adoraveris deos alienos et servieris eis

30:18. I foretell thee this day that thou shalt perish, and shalt remain but a short time in the land, to which thou shalt pass over the Jordan, and shalt go in to possess it.

Praedico tibi hodie quod pereas et parvo tempore moreris in terra ad quam Iordane transmisso ingredieris possidendam

30:19. I call heaven and earth to witness this day, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing. Choose therefore life, that both thou and thy seed may live:

Testes invoco hodie caelum et terram quod proposuerim vobis vitam et mortem bonum et malum benedictionem et maledictionem elige ergo vitam ut et tu vivas et semen tuum

30:20. And that thou mayst love the Lord thy God, and obey his voice, and adhere to him (for he is thy life, and the length of thy days), that thou mayst dwell in the land, for which the Lord swore to thy fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob that he would give it them.

Et diligas Dominum Deum tuum atque oboedias voci eius et illi adhereas ipse est enim vita tua et longitudo dierum tuorum ut habites in terra pro qua iuravit Dominus patribus tuis Abraham Isaac et Iacob ut daret eam illis

Deuteronomy Chapter 31

Moses encourageth the people, and Josue, who is appointed to succeed him. He delivereth the law to the priests. God foretelleth that the people will often forsake him, and that he will punish them. He commandeth Moses to write a canticle, as a constant remembrancer of the law.

---

31:1. And Moses went, and spoke all these words to all Israel, Abiit itaque Moses et locutus est omnia verba haec ad universum Israhel

31:2. And he said to them: I am this day a hundred and twenty years old, I can no longer go out and come in, especially as the Lord also hath said to me: Thou shalt not pass over this Jordan.
Et dixit ad eos centum viginti annorum sum hodie non possum ultra egredi et ingredi praesertim cum et Dominus dixerit mihi non transibis Iordanem istum

31:3. The Lord thy God then will pass over before thee: he will destroy all these nations in thy sight, and thou shalt possess them: and this Josue shall go over before thee, as the Lord hath spoken.
Dominus ergo Deus tuus transibit ante te ipse delebit omnes gentes has in conspectu tuo et possidebis eas et Iosue iste transibit ante te sicut locutus est Dominus

31:4. And the Lord shall do to them as he did to Sehon and Og the kings of the Amorrhites, and to their land, and shall destroy them.
Facietque Dominus eis sicut fecit Seon et Og regibus Amorreorum et terrae eorum delebitque eos

31:5. Therefore when the Lord shall have delivered these also to you, you shall do in like manner to them as I have commanded you.
Cum ergo et hos tradiderit vobis similiter facietis eis sicut praecepi vobis

31:6. Do manfully and be of good heart: fear not, nor be ye dismayed at their sight: for the Lord thy God he himself is thy leader, and will not leave thee nor forsake thee.
Viriliter agite et confortamini nolite timere nec paveatis a conspectu eorum quia Dominus Deus tuus ipse est ductor tuus et non dimittet nec derelinquet te

31:7. And Moses called Josue, and said to him before all Israel: Take courage, and be valiant: for thou shalt bring this people into the land which the Lord swore he would give to their fathers, and thou shalt divide it by lot.
Vocavitque Moses Iosue et dixit ei coram omni Israhel confortare et esto robustus tu enim introduces populum istum in terram quam daturum se patribus eorum iuravit Dominus et tu eam sorte divides

31:8. And the Lord who is your leader, he himself will be with thee: he will not leave thee, nor forsake thee: fear not, neither be dismayed.
Et Dominus qui ductor vester est ipse erit tecum non dimittet nec derelinquet te noli timere nec paveas

31:9. And Moses wrote this law, and delivered it to the priests the sons of Levi, who carried the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and to all the ancients of Israel.
Scripsit itaque Moses legem hanc et tradidit eam sacerdotibus filiis Levi qui portabant arcam foederis Domini et cunctis senioribus Israhelis

31:10. And he commanded them, saying: After seven years, in the year of remission, in the feast of tabernacles, Praecipitque eis dicens post septem annos anno remissionis in sollemnitate tabernaculorum

31:11. When all Israel come together, to appear in the sight of the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord shall choose, thou shalt read the words of this law before all Israel, in their hearing.

Convenientibus cunctis ex Israhel ut appareant in conspectu Domini Dei tui in loco quem elegerit Dominus leges verba legis huius coram omni Israhel audientibus eis

31:12. And the people being all assembled together, both men and women, children and strangers, that are within thy gates: that hearing they may learn, and fear the Lord your God, and keep, and fulfil all the words of this law:

Et in unum omni populo congregato tam viris quam mulieribus parvulis et advenis qui sunt intra portas tuas ut audientes discant et timeant Dominum Deum vestrum et custodiant impleantque omnes sermones legis huius

31:13. That their children also, who now are ignorant, may hear, and fear the Lord their God, all the days that they live in the land whither you are going over the Jordan to possess it.

Filii quoque eorum qui nunc ignorant audire possint et timeant Dominum Deum suum cunctis diebus quibus versantur in terra ad quam vos Iordane transito pergitis obtinendam

31:14. And the Lord said to Moses: Behold the days of thy death are nigh: call Josue, and stand ye in the tabernacle of the testimony, that I may give him a charge. So Moses and Josue went and stood in the tabernacle of the testimony:

Et ait Dominus ad Mosen ecce prope sunt dies mortis tuae voca Iosue et state in tabernaculo testimonii ut praecipiam ei abierunt ergo Moses et Iosue et steterunt in tabernaculo testimonii

31:15. And the Lord appeared there in the pillar of a cloud, which stood in the entry of the tabernacle.

Apparuitque Dominus ibi in columna nubis quae stetit in introitu tabernaculi

31:16. And the Lord said to Moses: Behold thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, and this people rising up will go a fornicating after strange gods in the land, to which it goeth in to dwell: there will they forsake me, and will make void the covenant, which I have made with them,

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen ecce tu dormies cum patribus tuis et populus iste consurgens fornicabitur post deos alienos in terra ad quam ingredietur et habitabit in ea ibi derelinquet me et irritum faciet foedus quod pepigi cum eo

31:17. And my wrath shall be kindled against them in that day: and I will forsake them, and will hide my face from them, and they shall be devoured: all evils and afflictions shall find them, so that they shall say in that day: In truth it is because God is not with me, that these evils have found me.

Et irascetur furor meus contra eum in die illo et derelinquam eum et abscondam faciem meam ab eo et erit in devorationem invenient eum omnia mala et adflictiones ita ut dicat in illo die vere quia non est Deus mecum invenerunt me haec mala

31:18. But I will hide, and cover my face in that day, for all the evils which they have done, because they have followed strange gods.

Ego autem abscondam et celabo faciem meam in die illo propter omnia mala quae fecit quia secutus est deos alienos

31:19. Now therefore write you this canticle, and teach the children of Israel: that they may know it by heart, and sing it by mouth, and this song may be unto me for a testimony among the children of Israel.

Nunc itaque scribite vobis canticum istud et docete filios Israhel ut memoriter teneant et ore decantent et sit mihi carmen istud pro testimonio inter filios Israhel

31:20. For I will bring them into the land, for which I swore to their fathers, that floweth with milk and honey. And when they have eaten, and are full and fat, they will turn away after strange gods, and will serve them: and will despise me, and make void my covenant.

Introducarn enim eum in terram pro qua iuravi patribus eius lacte et melle manantem cumque comederint et saturati crassique fuerint avertentur ad deos alienos et servient eis et detrahent mihi et irritum facient pactum meum

31:21. And after many evils and afflictions shall have come upon them, this canticle shall answer them for a testimony, which no oblivion shall take away out of the mouth of their seed. For I know their thoughts, and what they are about to do this day, before that I bring them into the land which I have promised them.

Postquam invenerint eum mala multa et adflictiones respondebit ei canticum istud pro testimonio quod nulla delebit oblivio ex ore seminis tui scio enim cogitationes eius quae facturus sit hodie antequam introducam eum in terram quam ei pollicitus sum

31:22. Moses therefore wrote the canticle, and taught it to the children of Israel.

Scripsit ergo Moses canticum et docuit filios Israhel

31:23. And the Lord commanded Josue the son of Nun, and said: Take courage, and be valiant: for thou shalt bring the children of Israel into the land which I have promised, and I will be with thee.

Praecipitque Josue filio Nun et ait confortare et esto robustus tu enim introduces filios Israhel in terram quam pollicitus sum et ego ero tecum

31:24. Therefore after Moses had wrote the words of this law in a volume, and finished it:

Postquam ergo scripsit Moses verba legis huius in volumine atque conplevit

31:25. He commanded the Levites, who carried the ark of the covenant of the Lord, saying:

Praecipit Levitis qui portabant arcam foederis Domini dicens

31:26. Take this book, and put it in the side of the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God: that it may be there for a testimony against thee.

Tollite librum istum et ponite eum in latere arcae foederis Domini Dei vestri ut sit ibi contra te in testimonio

31:27. For I know thy obstinacy, and thy most stiff neck. While I am yet living, and going in with you, you have always been rebellious against the Lord: how much more when I shall be dead?

Ego enim scio contentionem tuam et cervicem tuam durissimam adhuc vivente me et ingrediente vobiscum semper contentiose egistis contra Dominum quanto magis cum mortuus fuero

31:28. Gather unto me all the ancients of your tribes, and your doctors, and I will speak these words in their hearing, and will call heaven and earth to witness against them.

Congregate ad me omnes maiores natu per tribus vestras atque doctores et loquar audientibus eis sermones istos et invocabo contra eos caelum et terram

31:29. For I know that, after my death, you will do wickedly, and will quickly turn aside from the way that I have commanded you: and evils shall come upon you in the latter times, when you shall do evil in the sight of the Lord, to provoke him by the works of your hands.

Novi enim quod post mortem meam inique agetis et declinabitis cito de via quam praecepi vobis et occurrent vobis mala in extremo tempore quando feceritis malum in conspectu Domini ut inritetis eum per opera manuum vestrarum

31:30. Moses therefore spoke, in the hearing of the whole assembly of Israel, the words of this canticle, and finished it even to the end.

Locutus est ergo Moses audiente universo coetu Israhel verba carminis huius et ad finem usque conplevit

Deuteronomy Chapter 32

A canticle for the remembrance of the law. Moses is commanded to go up into a mountain, from whence he shall see the promised land but not enter into it.

---

32:1. Hear, O ye heavens, the things I speak, let the earth give ear to the words of my mouth.

Audite caeli quae loquor audiat terra verba oris mei

32:2. Let my doctrine gather as the rain, let my speech distil as the dew, as a shower upon the herb, and as drops upon the grass.

Concrescat in pluvia doctrina mea fluat ut ros eloquium meum quasi imber super herbam et quasi stillae super gramina

32:3. Because I will invoke the name of the Lord: give ye magnificence to our God.

Quia nomen Domini invocabo date magnificentiam Deo nostro

32:4. The works of God are perfect, and all his ways are judgments: God is faithful and without any iniquity, he is just and right.

Dei perfecta sunt opera et omnes viae eius iudicia Deus fidelis et absque ulla iniquitate iustus et rectus

32:5. They have sinned against him, and are none of his children in their filth: they are a wicked and perverse generation.

Peccaverunt ei non filii eius in sordibus generatio prava atque perversa

32:6. Is this the return thou makest to the Lord, O foolish and senseless people? Is not he thy father, that hath possessed thee, and made thee, and created thee?

Haecine reddis Domino popule stulte et insipiens numquid non ipse est pater tuus qui possedit et fecit et creavit te 32:7. Remember the days of old, think upon every generation: ask thy father, and he will declare to thee: thy elders and they will tell thee.

Memento dierum antiquorum cogita generationes singulas interroga patrem tuum et adnuntiabit tibi maiores tuos et dicent tibi

32:8. When the Most High divided the nations: when he separated the sons of Adam, he appointed the bounds of people according to the number of the children of Israel.

Quando dividebat Altissimus gentes quando separabat filios Adam constituit terminos populorum iuxta numerum filiorum Israhel

32:9. But the Lord's portion is his people: Jacob the lot of his inheritance.

Pars autem Domini populus eius Iacob funiculus hereditatis eius

32:10. He found him in a desert land, in a place of horror, and of vast wilderness: he led him about, and taught him: and he kept him as the apple of his eye.

Invenit eum in terra deserta in loco horroris et vastae solitudinis circumduxit eum et docuit et custodivit quasi pupillam oculi sui

32:11. As the eagle enticing her young to fly, and hovering over them, he spread his wings, and hath taken him and carried him on his shoulders.

Sicut aquila provocans ad volandum pullos suos et super eos volitans expandit alas suas et adsumpsit eum atque portavit in umeris suis

32:12. The Lord alone was his leader: and there was no strange god with him.

Dominus solus dux eius fuit et non erat cum eo deus alienus

32:13. He set him upon high land: that he might eat the fruits of the fields, that he might suck honey out of the rock, and oil out of the hardest stone,
Constituit eum super excelsam terram ut comederet fructus agrorum ut sugeret mel de petra oleumque de saxo durissimo

32:14. Butter of the herd, and milk of the sheep with the fat of lambs, and of the rams of the breed of Basan: and goats with the marrow of wheat, and might drink the purest blood of the grape.
Butyrum de armento et lac de ovibus cum adipe agnorum et arietum filiorum Basan et hircos cum medulla tritici et sanguinem uvae biberet meracissimum

32:15. The beloved grew fat, and kicked: he grew fat, and thick and gross, he forsook God who made him, and departed from God his saviour.
Incrassatus est dilectus et recalcitravit incrassatus inpinguatus dilatatus dereliquit Deum factorem suum et recessit a Deo salutari suo

32:16. They provoked him by strange gods, and stirred him up to anger, with their abominations.
Provocaverunt eum in diis alienis et in abominationibus ad iracundiam concitaverunt

32:17. They sacrificed to devils and not to God: to gods whom they knew not: that were newly come up, whom their fathers worshipped not.
Immolaverunt daemonibus et non Deo diis quos ignorabant novi recentesque venerunt quos non coluerunt patres eorum

32:18. Thou hast forsaken the God that begot thee, and hast forgotten the Lord that created thee.
Deum qui te genuit dereliquisti et oblitus es Domini creatoris tui

32:19. The Lord saw, and was moved to wrath: because his own sons and daughters provoked him.
Vidit Dominus et ad iracundiam concitatus est quia provocaverunt eum filii sui et filiae

32:20. And he said: I will hide my face from them, and will consider what their last end shall be: for it is a perverse generation, and unfaithful children.
Et ait abscondam faciem meam ab eis et considerabo novissima eorum generatio enim perversa est et infideles filii

32:21. They have provoked me with that which was no god, and have angered me with their vanities: and I will provoke them with that which is no people, and will vex them with a foolish nation.
Ipsi me provocaverunt in eo qui non erat Deus et inritaverunt in vanitatibus suis et ego provocabo eos in eo qui non est populus et in gente stulta inritabo illos

32:22. A fire is kindled in my wrath, and shall burn even to the lowest hell: and shall devour the earth with her increase, and shall burn the foundations of the mountains.
Ignis succensus est in furore meo et ardebit usque ad inferni novissima devorabitque terram cum germine suo et montium fundamenta conburet

32:23. I will heap evils upon them, and will spend my arrows among them.
Congregabo super eos mala et sagittas meas complebo in eis

32:24. They shall be consumed with famine, and birds shall devour them with a most bitter bite: I will send the teeth of beasts upon them, with the fury of creatures that trail upon the ground, and of serpents.
Consumuntur fame et devorabunt eos aves morsu amarissimo dentes bestiarum inmittam in eos cum furore trahentium super terram atque serpentium

32:25. Without, the sword shall lay them waste, and terror within, both the young man and the virgin, the sucking child with the man in years.
Foris vastabit eos gladius et intus pavor juvenem simul ac virginem lactantem cum homine sene

32:26. I said: Where are they? I will make the memory of them to cease from among men.
Dixi ubinam sunt cessare faciam ex hominibus memoriam eorum

32:27. But for the wrath of the enemies I have deferred it: lest perhaps their enemies might be proud, and should say: Our mighty hand, and not the Lord, hath done all these things.

Sed propter iram inimicorum distuli ne forte superbirent hostes eorum et dicerent manus nostra excelsa et non Dominus fecit haec omnia

32:28. They are a nation without counsel, and without wisdom.

Gens absque consilio est et sine prudentia

32:29. O that they would be wise and would understand, and would provide for their last end.

Utinam saperent et intellegerent ac novissima providerent

32:30. How should one pursue after a thousand, and two chase ten thousand? Was it not, because their God had sold them, and the Lord had shut them up?

Quomodo persequatur unus mille et duo fugent decem milia nonne ideo quia Deus suus vendidit eos et Dominus conclusit illos

32:31. For our God is not as their gods: our enemies themselves are judges.

Non enim est Deus noster ut deus eorum et inimici nostri sunt iudices

32:32. Their vines are of the vineyard of Sodom, and of the suburbs of Gomorrha: their grapes are grapes of gall, and their clusters most bitter.

De vinea Sodomorum vinea eorum et de suburbanis Gomorrae uva eorum uva fellis et botri amarissimi

32:33. Their wine is the gall of dragons, and the venom of asps, which is incurable.

Fel draconum vinum eorum et venenum aspidum insanabile

32:34. Are not these things stored up with me, and sealed up in my treasures?

Nonne haec condita sunt apud me et signata in thesauris meis

32:35. Revenge is mine, and I will repay them in due time, that their foot may slide: the day of destruction is at hand, and the time makes haste to come.

Mea est ultio et ego retribuam in tempore ut labatur pes eorum iuxta est dies perditionis et adesse festinant tempora

32:36. The Lord will judge his people, and will have mercy on his servants: he shall see that their hand is weakened, and that they who were shut up have also failed, and they that remained are consumed.

Iudicabit Dominus populum suum et in servis suis miserebitur videbit quod infirmata sit manus et clausi quoque defecerint residuique consumpti sint

32:37. And he shall say: Where are their gods, in whom they trusted?

Et dicet ubi sunt dii eorum in quibus habebant fiduciam

32:38. Of whose victims they ate the fat, and drank the wine of their drink offerings: let them arise and help you, and protect you in your distress.

De quorum victimis comedebant adipem et bibebant vinum libaminum surgant et opitulentur vobis et in necessitate vos protegant

32:39. See ye that I alone am, and there is no other God besides me: I will kill and I will make to live: I will strike, and I will heal, and there is none that can deliver out of my hand.

Videte quod ego sim solus et non sit alius deus praeter me ego occidam et ego vivere faciam percutiam et ego sanabo et non est qui de manu mea possit eruere

32:40. I will lift up my hand to heaven, and I will say: I live for ever.

Levabo ad caelum manum meam et dicam vivo ego in aeternum

32:41. If I shall whet my sword as the lightning, and my hand take hold on judgment: I will render vengeance to my enemies, and repay them that hate me.

Si acuero ut fulgur gladium meum et arripuerit iudicium manus mea reddam ultionem hostibus meis et his qui oderunt me retribuam

32:42. I will make my arrows drunk with blood, and my sword shall devour flesh, of the blood of the slain and of the captivity, of the bare head of the enemies.

Inebriabo sagittas meas sanguine et gladius meus devorabit carnes de cruore occisorum et de captivitate nudati inimicorum capitibus

32:43. Praise his people, ye nations, for he will revenge the blood of his servants: and will render vengeance to their enemies, and he will be merciful to the land of his people.

Laudate gentes populum eius quia sanguinem servorum suorum ulciscetur et vindictam retribuet in hostes eorum et propitius erit terrae populi sui

32:44. So Moses came and spoke all the words of this canticle in the ears of the people, and Josue the son of Nun.

Venit ergo Moses et locutus est omnia verba cantici huius in auribus populi ipse et Iosue filius Nun

32:45. And he ended all these words, speaking to all Israel.

Conplevitque omnes sermones istos loquens ad universum Israhel

32:46. And he said to them: Set your hearts on all the words, which I testify to you this day: which you shall command your children to observe and to do, and to fulfil all that is written in this law:

Et dixit ad eos ponite corda vestra in omnia verba quae ego testificor vobis hodie ut mandetis ea filiis vestris custodire et facere et implere universa quae scripta sunt legis huius

32:47. For they are not commanded you in vain, but that every one should live in them, and that doing them you may continue a long time in the land whither you are going over the Jordan to possess it.

Quia non in cassum praecepta sunt vobis sed ut singuli in eis viverent quae facientes longo perseveretis tempore in terra ad quam Iordane transmisso ingredimini possidendam

32:48. And the Lord spoke to Moses the same day, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen in eadem die dicens

32:49. Go up into this mountain Abarim, (that is to say, of passages), unto mount Nebo, which is in the land of Moab over against Jericho: and see the land of Chanaan, which I will deliver to the children of Israel to possess, and die thou in the mountain.

Ascende in montem istum Abarim id est transituum in montem Nebo qui est in terra Moab contra Hiericho et vide terram Chanaan quam ego tradam filiis Israhel obtinendam et morere in monte

32:50. When thou art gone up into it thou shalt be gathered to thy people, as Aaron thy brother died in mount Hor, and was gathered to his people:

Quem conscendens iungeris populis tuis sicut mortuus est Aaron frater tuus in monte Hor et adpositus populis suis

32:51. Because you trespassed against me in the midst of the children of Israel, at the waters of contradiction, in Cades of the desert of Sin: and you did not sanctify me among the children of Israel.

Quia praevaricati estis contra me in medio filiorum Israhel ad aquas Contradictionis in Cades deserti Sin et non sanctificastis me inter filios Israhel

32:52. Thou shalt see the land before thee, which I will give to the children of Israel, but thou shalt not enter into it.

E contra videbis terram et non ingredieris in eam quam ego dabo filiis Israhel

Deuteronomy Chapter 33

Moses before his death blesseth the tribes of Israel.

---

33:1. This is the blessing, wherewith the man of God, Moses, blessed the children of Israel, before his death.

Haec est benedictio qua benedixit Moses homo Dei filiis Israhel ante mortem suam

33:2. And he said: The Lord came from Sinai, and from Seir he rose up to us: he hath appeared from mount Pharan, and with him thousands of saints. In his right hand a fiery law.

Et ait Dominus de Sina venit et de Seir ortus est nobis apparuit de monte Pharan et cum eo sanctorum milia in dextera eius ignea lex

33:3. He hath loved the people, all the saints are in his hand: and they that approach to his feet, shall receive of his doctrine.

Dilexit populos omnes sancti in manu illius sunt et qui adpropinquant pedibus eius accipient de doctrina illius

33:4. Moses commanded us a law, the inheritance of the multitude of Jacob.

Legem praecepit nobis Moses hereditatem multitudinis Iacob

33:5. He shall be king with the most right, the princes of the people, being assembled with the tribes of Israel.

Erit apud rectissimum rex congregatis principibus populi cum tribubus Israhel

33:6. Let Ruben live, and not die, and be he small in number.

Vivat Ruben et non moriatur et sit parvus in numero

33:7. This is the blessing of Juda. Hear, O Lord, the voice of Juda, and bring him in unto his people: his hands shall fight for him, and he shall be his helper against his enemies.

Haec est Iudae benedictio audi Domine vocem Iudae et ad populum suum introduc eum manus eius pugnabunt pro eo et adiutor illius contra adversarios eius erit

33:8. To Levi also he said: Thy perfection, and thy doctrine be to thy holy man, whom thou hast proved in the temptation, and judged at the waters of contradiction:

Levi quoque ait perfectio tua et doctrina tua viro sancto tuo quem probasti in Temptatione et iudicasti ad aquas Contradictionis

Holy man... Aaron and his successors in the priesthood.

33:9. Who hath said to his father, and to his mother: I do not know you; and to his brethren: I know you not: and their own children they have not known. These have kept thy word, and observed thy covenant,

Qui dixit patri suo et matri suae nescio vos et fratribus suis ignoro illos et nescierunt filios suos hii custodierunt eloquium tuum et pactum tuum servaverunt

Who hath said, etc... It is the duty of the priestly tribe to prefer God's honour and service before all considerations of flesh and blood: in such manner as to behave as strangers to their nearest akin, when these would withdraw them from the business of their calling.

33:10. Thy judgments, O Jacob, and thy law, O Israel: they shall put incense in thy wrath and holocaust upon thy altar.

Iudicia tua o Iacob et legem tuam o Israhel ponent thymiana in furore tuo et holocaustum super altare tuum

33:11. Bless, O Lord, his strength, and receive the works of his hands. Strike the backs of his enemies, and let not them that hate him rise.

Benedic Domine fortitudini eius et opera manuum illius suscipe percute dorsa inimicorum eius et qui oderunt eum non consurgant

33:12. And to Benjamin he said: The best beloved of the Lord shall dwell confidently in him: as in a bride chamber shall he abide all the day long, and between his shoulders shall be rest.

Et Benjamin ait amantissimus Domini habitabit confidenter in eo quasi in thalamo tota die morabitur et inter umeros illius requiescet

Shall dwell, etc... This seems to allude to the temple being built in the confines of the tribe of Benjamin.

33:13. To Joseph also he said: Of the blessing of the Lord be his land, of the fruits of heaven, and of the dew, and of the deep that lieth beneath.

Ioseph quoque ait de benedictione Domini terra eius de pomis caeli et rore atque abyssio subiacente

33:14. Of the fruits brought forth by the sun and by the moon.

De pomis fructuum solis ac lunae

33:15. Of the tops of the ancient mountains, of the fruits of the everlasting hills:

De vertice antiquorum montium de pomis collium aeternorum

33:16. And of the fruits of the earth, and of the fulness thereof. The blessing of him that appeared in the bush, come upon the head of Joseph, and upon the crown of the Nazarite among his brethren.

Et de frugibus terrae et plenitudine eius benedictio illius qui apparuit in rubo veniat super caput Ioseph et super verticem nazarei inter fratres suos

The Nazarite... This word signifies one separated; and agrees to Joseph, as being separated from, and more eminent than, his brethren. As the ancient Nazarites were so called from their being set aside for God, and vowed to him.

33:17. His beauty as of the firstling of a bullock, his horns as the horns of a rhinoceros: with them shall he push the nations even to the ends of the earth. These are the multitudes of Ephraim and these the thousands of Manasses.

Quasi primogeniti tauri pulchritudo eius cornua rinocerotis cornua illius in ipsis ventilabit gentes usque ad terminos terrae hae sunt multitudines Ephraim et haec milia Manasse

33:18. And to Zabulon he said: Rejoice, O Zabulon, in thy going out; and Issachar in thy tabernacles.

Et Zabulon ait laetare Zabulon in exitu tuo et Isachar in tabernaculis tuis

33:19. They shall call the people to the mountain: there shall they sacrifice the victims of justice. Who shall suck as milk the abundance of the sea, and the hidden treasures of the sands.

Populos ad montem vocabunt ibi immolabunt victimas iustitiae qui inundationem maris quasi lac sugent et thesauros absconditos harenarum

33:20. And to Gad he said: Blessed be Gad in his breadth: he hath rested as a lion, and hath seized upon the arm and the top of the head.

Et Gad ait benedictus in latitudine Gad quasi leo requievit cepitque brachium et verticem

33:21. And he saw his pre-eminence, that in his portion the teacher was laid up: who was with the princes of the people, and did the justices of the Lord, and his judgment with Israel.

Et vidit principatum suum quod in parte sua doctor esset repositus qui fuit cum principibus populi et fecit iustitias Domini et iudicium suum cum Israhel

He saw, etc... The pre-eminence of the tribe of Gad, to which this alludeth, was their having the lawgiver Moses buried in their borders: though the particular place was not known.

33:22. To Dan also he said: Dan is a young lion, he shall flow plentifully from Basan.

Dan quoque ait Dan catulus leonis fluet largiter de Basan

33:23. And to Nephtali he said: Nephtali shall enjoy abundance, and shall be full of the blessings of the Lord: he shall possess the sea and the south.

Et Nephtalim dixit Nephtalim abundantia perfruetur et plenus erit benedictione Domini mare et meridiem possidebit

The sea... The lake of Genesareth.

33:24. To Aser also he said: Let Aser be blessed with children, let him be acceptable to his brethren, and let him dip his foot in oil.

Aser quoque ait benedictus in filiis Aser sit placens fratribus suis tinguat in oleo pedem suum

33:25. His shoe shall be iron and brass. As the days of thy youth, so also shall thy old age be.

Ferrum et aes calciamentum eius sicut dies iuventutis tuae ita et senectus tua

33:26. There is no other god like the God of the rightest: he that is mounted upon the heaven is thy helper. By his magnificence the clouds run hither and thither.

Non est alius ut Deus rectissimi ascensor caeli auxiliator tuus magnificentia eius discurrunt nubes

33:27. His dwelling is above, and underneath are the everlasting arms: he shall cast out the enemy from before thee, and shall say: Be thou brought to nought.

Habitaculum eius sursum et subter brachia sempiterna eiciet a facie tua inimicum dicetque conterere

Underneath are the everlasting arms... Though the dwelling of God be above in heaven, his arms are always stretched out to help us here below.

33:28. Israel shall dwell in safety, and alone. The eye of Jacob in a land of corn and wine, and the heavens shall be misty with dew.

Habitabit Israhel confidenter et solus oculus Iacob in terra frumenti et vini caelique caligabunt rore

33:29. Blessed art thou, Israel: who is like to thee, O people, that art saved by the Lord? the shield of thy help, and the sword of thy glory: thy enemies shall deny thee, and thou shalt tread upon their necks.

Beatus tu Israhel quis similis tui popule qui salvaris in Domino scutum auxilii tui et gladius gloriae tuae negabunt te inimici tui et tu eorum colla calcabis

Deuteronomy Chapter 34

Moses seeth the promised land, but is not suffered to go into it. He dieth at the age of 120 years. God burieth his body secretly, and all Israel mourn for him thirty days. Josue, replenished (by imposition of Moses' hands) with the spirit of God, succeedeth. But Moses, for his special familiarity with God, and for most wonderful miracles, is commended above all other prophets.

---

34:1. Then Moses went up from the plains of Moab upon mount Nebo, to the top of Phasga over against Jericho: and the Lord showed him all the land of Galaad as far as Dan.

Ascendit ergo Moses de campestribus Moab super montem Nebo in verticem Phasga contra Hiericho ostenditque ei Dominus omnem terram Galaad usque Dan

34:2. And all Nephtali, and the land of Ephraim and Manasses, and all the land of Juda unto the furthest sea,

Et universum Nephtalim terramque Ephraim et Manasse et omnem terram usque ad mare Novissimum

34:3. And the south part, and the breadth of the plain of Jericho the city of palm trees as far as Segor.

Et australem partem et latitudinem campi Hiericho civitatis Palmarum usque Segor

34:4. And the Lord said to him: This is the land, for which I swore to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, saying: I will give it to thy seed. Thou hast seen it with thy eyes, and shalt not pass over to it.

Dixitque Dominus ad eum haec est terra pro qua iuravi Abraham Isaac et Iacob dicens semini tuo dabo eam vidisti eam oculis tuis et non transibis ad illam

34:5. And Moses the servant of the Lord died there, in the land of Moab, by the commandment of the Lord:

Mortuusque est ibi Moses servus Domini in terra Moab iubente Domino

Died there... This last chapter of Deuteronomy, in which the death of Moses is related, was written by Josue, or by some of the prophets.

34:6. And he buried him in the valley of the land of Moab over against Phogor: and no man hath known of his sepulchre until this present day.

Et sepelivit eum in valle terrae Moab contra Phogor et non cognovit homo sepulchrum eius usque in praesentem diem

He buried him, viz... by the ministry of angels, and would have the place of his burial to be unknown, lest the Israelites, who were so prone to idolatry, might worship him with divine honours.

34:7. Moses was a hundred and twenty years old when he died: his eye was not dim, neither were his teeth moved.

Moses centum et viginti annorum erat quando mortuus est non caligavit oculus eius nec dentes illius moti sunt

34:8. And the children of Israel mourned for him in the plains of Moab thirty days: and the days of their mourning in which they mourned Moses were ended.

Fleveruntque eum filii Israhel in campestribus Moab triginta diebus et completi sunt dies planctus lugentium Mosen

34:9. And Josue the son of Nun was filled with the spirit of wisdom, because Moses had laid his hands upon him. And the children of Israel obeyed him, and did as the Lord commanded Moses.

Iosue vero filius Nun repletus est spiritu sapientiae quia Moses posuit super eum manus suas et oboedierunt ei filii Israhel feceruntque sicut praeceptum Dominus Mosi

34:10. And there arose no more a prophet in Israel like unto Moses, whom the Lord knew face to face,
Et non surrexit propheta ultra in Israhel sicut Moses quem nosset Dominus facie ad faciem

34:11. In all the signs and wonders, which he sent by him, to do in the land of Egypt to Pharaoh, and to all his servants, and to his whole land,
In omnibus signis atque portentis quae misit per eum ut faceret in terra Aegypti Pharaoni et omnibus servis eius universaeque terrae illius

34:12. And all the mighty hand, and great miracles, which Moses did before all Israel.
Et cunctam manum robustam magnaue mirabilia quae fecit Moses coram universo Israhel

Ecclesiastes

This Book is called Ecclesiastes, or The Preacher, (in Hebrew, Coheleth), because in it, Solomon, as an excellent preacher, setteth forth the vanity of the things of this world: to withdraw the hearts and affections of men from such empty toys. (For more information, see the article ECCLESIASTES in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Ecclesiastes Chapter 1. The vanity of all temporal things.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 2. The vanity of pleasures, riches, and worldly labours.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 3. All human things are liable to perpetual changes. We are to rest on God's providence, and cast away fruitless cares.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 4. Other instances of human miseries.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 5. Caution in words. Vows are to be paid. Riches are often pernicious: the moderate use of them is the gift of God.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 6. The misery of the covetous man.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 7. Prescriptions against worldly vanities: mortification, patience, and seeking wisdom.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 8. True wisdom is to observe God's commandments. The ways of God are unsearchable.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 9. Man knows not certainty that he is in God's grace. After death no more work or merit.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 10. Observations on wisdom and folly, ambition and detraction.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 11. Exhortation to works of mercy, while we have time, to diligence in good, and to the remembrance of death and judgment.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 12. The Creator is to be remembered in the days of our youth: all worldly things are vain: we should fear God and keep his commandments.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 1

The vanity of all temporal things.

---

1:1. The words of Ecclesiastes, the son of David, king of Jerusalem.

Verba Ecclesiastes filii David regis Hierusalem

1:2. Vanity of vanities, said Ecclesiastes: vanity of vanities, and all is vanity.

Vanitas vanitatum dixit Ecclesiastes vanitas vanitatum omnia vanitas

1:3. What hath a man more of all his labour, that he taketh under the sun?

Quid habet amplius homo de universo labore suo quod laborat sub sole

1:4. One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh: but the earth standeth for ever.

Generatio praeterit et generatio advenit terra vero in aeternum stat

1:5. The sun riseth, and goeth down, and returneth to his place: and there rising again,

Oritur sol et occidit et ad locum suum revertitur ibique renascens

1:6. Maketh his round by the south, and turneth again to the north: the spirit goeth forward surveying all places round about, and returneth to his circuits.

Gyrat per meridiem et flectitur ad aquilonem lustrans universa circuitu pergit spiritus et in circulos suos regreditur

1:7. All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea doth not overflow: unto the place from whence the rivers come, they return, to flow again.

Omnia flumina intrant mare et mare non redundat ad locum unde exeunt flumina revertuntur ut iterum fluant

1:8. All things are hard: man cannot explain them by word. The eye is not filled with seeing, neither is the ear filled with hearing.

Cunctae res difficiles non potest eas homo explicare sermone non saturatur oculus visu nec auris impletur auditu

1:9. What is it that hath been? the same thing that shall be. What is it that hath been done? the same that shall be done.

Quid est quod fuit ipsum quod futurum est quid est quod factum est ipsum quod fiendum est

1:10. Nothing under the sun is new, neither is any man able to say: Behold this is new: for it hath already gone before in the ages that were before us.

Nihil sub sole novum nec valet quisquam dicere ecce hoc recens est iam enim praecessit in saeculis quae fuerunt ante nos

1:11. There is no remembrance of former things: nor indeed of those things which hereafter are to come, shall there be any remembrance with them that shall be in the latter end.

Non est priorum memoria sed nec eorum quidem quae postea futura sunt erit recordatio apud eos qui futuri sunt in novissimo

1:12. I Ecclesiastes was king over Israel in Jerusalem,

Ego Ecclesiastes fui rex Israhel in Hierusalem

1:13. And I proposed in my mind to seek and search out wisely concerning all things that are done under the sun. This painful occupation hath God given to the children of men, to be exercised therein.

Et proposui in animo meo quaerere et investigare sapienter de omnibus quae fiunt sub sole hanc occupationem pessimam dedit Deus filiis hominum ut occuparentur in ea

1:14. I have seen all things that are done under the sun, and behold all is vanity, and vexation of spirit.
Vidi quae fiunt cuncta sub sole et ecce universa vanitas et adflictio spiritus

1:15. The perverse are hard to be corrected, and the number of fools is infinite.
Perversi difficile corriguntur et stultorum infinitus est numerus

1:16. I have spoken in my heart, saying: Behold I am become great, and have gone beyond all in wisdom, that were before me in Jerusalem: and my mind hath contemplated many things wisely, and I have learned.

Locutus sum in corde meo dicens ecce magnus effectus sum et praecessi sapientia omnes qui fuerunt ante me in Hierusalem et mens mea contemplata est multa sapienter et didicit

1:17. And I have given my heart to know prudence, and learning, and errors, and folly: and I have perceived that in these also there was labour, and vexation of spirit,
Dedique cor meum ut scirem prudentiam atque doctrinam erroresque et stultitiam et agnovi quod in his quoque esset labor et adflictio spiritus

1:18. Because in much wisdom there is much indignation: and he that addeth knowledge, addeth also labour.

Eo quod in multa sapientia multa sit indignatio et qui addit scientiam addat et laborem

Ecclesiastes Chapter 2

The vanity of pleasures, riches, and worldly labours.

2:1. I said in my heart: I will go, and abound with delights, and enjoy good things. And I saw that this also was vanity.

Dixi ego in corde meo vadam et affluam deliciis et fruar bonis et vidi quod hoc quoque esset vanitas

2:2. Laughter I counted error: and to mirth I said: Why art thou vainly deceived?

Risum reputavi errorem et gaudio dixi quid frustra deciperis

2:3. I thought in my heart, to withdraw my flesh from wine, that I might turn my mind to wisdom, and might avoid folly, till I might see what was profitable for the children of men: and what they ought to do under the sun, all the days of their life.

Cogitavi in corde meo abstrahere a vino carnem meam ut animum meum transferrem ad sapientiam devitaremque stultitiam donec viderem quid esset utile filiis hominum quod facto opus est sub sole numero dierum vitae suae

2:4. I made me great works, I built me houses, and planted vineyards,

Magnificavi opera mea aedificavi mihi domos plantavi vineas

2:5. I made gardens, and orchards, and set them with trees of all kinds,

Feci hortos et pomeria et consevi ea cuncti generis arboribus

2:6. And I made me ponds of water, to water therewith the wood of the young trees,

Extruxi mihi piscinas aquarum ut inrigarem silvam lignorum germinantium

2:7. I got me menservants, and maidservants, and had a great family: and herds of oxen, and great flocks of sheep, above all that were before me in Jerusalem:

Possedi servos et ancillas multamque familiam habui armenta quoque et magnos ovium greges ultra omnes qui fuerunt ante me in Hierusalem

2:8. I heaped together for myself silver and gold, and the wealth of kings, and provinces: I made me singing men, and singing women, and the delights of the sons of men, cups and vessels to serve to pour out wine:

Coacervavi mihi argentum et aurum et substantias regum ac provinciarum feci mihi cantores et cantrices et delicias filiorum hominum scyphos et urceos in ministerio ad vina fundenda

2:9. And I surpassed in riches all that were before me in Jerusalem: my wisdom also remained with me.

Et supergressus sum opibus omnes qui fuerunt ante me in Hierusalem sapientia quoque perseveravit mecum

2:10. And whatsoever my eyes desired, I refused them not: and I withheld not my heart from enjoying every pleasure, and delighting itself in the things which I had prepared: and esteemed this my portion, to make use of my own labour.

Et omnia quae desideraverunt oculi mei non negavi eis nec prohibui cor quin omni voluptate frueretur et oblectaret se in his quae paraveram et hanc ratus sum partem meam si uterer labore meo

2:11. And when I turned myself to all the works which my hands had wrought, and to the labours wherein I had laboured in vain, I saw in all things vanity, and vexation of mind, and that nothing was lasting under the sun.

Cumque me convertissem ad universa opera quae fecerant manus meae et ad labores in quibus frustra sudaveram vidi in omnibus vanitatem et adflictionem animi et nihil permanere sub sole

2:12. I passed further to behold wisdom, and errors and folly, (What is man, said I that he can follow the King his maker?)

Transivi ad contemplandam sapientiam erroresque et stultitiam quid est inquam homo ut sequi possit regem factorem suum

2:13. And I saw that wisdom excelled folly, as much as light differeth from darkness.

Et vidi quia tantum praecederet sapientia stultitiam quantum differt lux tenebris

2:14. The eyes of a wise man are in his head: the fool walketh in darkness: and I learned that they were to die both alike.

Sapientis oculi in capite eius stultus in tenebris ambulat et didici quod unus utriusque esset interitus

2:15. And I said in my heart: If the death of the fool and mine shall be one, what doth it avail me, that I have applied myself more to the study of wisdom? And speaking with my own mind, I perceived that this also was vanity.

Et dixi in corde meo si unus et stulti et meus occasus erit quid mihi prodest quod maiorem sapientiae dedi operam locutusque cum mente mea animadverti quod hoc quoque esset vanitas

2:16. For there shall be no remembrance of the wise no more than of the fool forever, and the times to come shall cover all things together with oblivion: the learned dieth in like manner as the unlearned.

Non enim erit memoria sapientis similiter ut stulti in perpetuum et futura tempora oblivione cuncta pariter obruent moritur doctus similiter et indoctus

2:17. And therefore I was weary of my life, when I saw that all things under the sun are evil, and all vanity and vexation of spirit.

Et idcirco taeduit me vitae meae videntem mala esse universa sub sole et cuncta vanitatem atque adflictionem spiritus

2:18. Again I hated all my application wherewith I had earnestly laboured under the sun, being like to have an heir after me,

Rursum detestatus sum omnem industriam meam quae sub sole studiosissime laboravi habiturus heredem post me

2:19. Whom I know not whether he will be a wise man or a fool, and he shall have rule over all my labours with which I have laboured and been solicitous: and is there anything so vain?

Quem ignoro utrum sapiens an stultus futurus sit et dominabitur in laboribus meis quibus desudavi et sollicitus fui et est quicquam tam vanum

2:20. Wherefore I left off and my heart renounced labouring anymore under the sun.

Unde cessavi renuntiavitque cor meum ultra laborare sub sole

2:21. For when a man laboureth in wisdom, and knowledge, and carefulness, he leaveth what he hath gotten to an idle man: so this also is vanity, and a great evil.

Nam cum alius laboret in sapientia et doctrina et sollicitudine homini otioso quaesita dimittit et hoc ergo vanitas et magnum malum

2:22. For what profit shall a man have of all his labour, and vexation of spirit, with which he hath been tormented under the sun?

Quid enim proderit homini de universo labore suo et adflictione spiritus qua sub sole cruciatus est

2:23. All his days are full of sorrows and miseries, even in the night he doth not rest in mind: and is not this vanity?

Cuncti dies eius doloribus et aerumnis pleni sunt nec per noctem mente requiescit et haec non vanitas est

2:24. Is it not better to eat and drink, and to show his soul good things of his labours? and this is from the hand of God.

Nonne melius est comedere et bibere et ostendere animae suae bona de laboribus suis et hoc de manu Dei est

2:25. Who shall so feast and abound with delights as I?

Quis ita vorabit et deliciis affluet ut ego

2:26. God hath given to a man that is good in his sight, wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: but to the sinner he hath given vexation, and superfluous care, to heap up and to gather together, and to give it to him that hath pleased God: but this also is vanity, and a fruitless solicitude of the mind.

Homini bono in conspectu suo dedit Deus sapientiam et scientiam et laetitiam peccatori autem dedit adflictionem et curam superfluum ut addat et congreget et tradat ei qui placuit Deo sed et hoc vanitas et cassa sollicitudo mentis

Ecclesiastes Chapter 3

All human things are liable to perpetual changes. We are to rest on God's providence, and cast away fruitless cares.

---

3:1. All things have their season, and in their times all things pass under heaven.

Omnia tempus habent et suis spatiis transeunt universa sub caelo

3:2. A time to be born and a time to die. A time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted.

Tempus nascendi et tempus moriendi tempus plantandi et tempus evellendi quod plantatum est

3:3. A time to kill, and a time to heal. A time to destroy, and a time to build.

Tempus occidendi et tempus sanandi tempus destruendi et tempus aedificandi

3:4. A time to weep, and a time to laugh. A time to mourn, and a time to dance.

Tempus flendi et tempus ridendi tempus plangendi et tempus saltandi

3:5. A time to scatter stones, and a time to gather. A time to embrace, and a time to be far from embraces.

Tempus spargendi lapides et tempus colligendi tempus amplexandi et tempus longe fieri a complexibus

3:6. A time to get, and a time to lose. A time to keep, and a time to cast away.

Tempus adquirendi et tempus perdendi tempus custodiendi et tempus abiciendi

3:7. A time to rend, and a time to sew. A time to keep silence, and a time to speak.

Tempus scindendi et tempus consuendi tempus tacendi et tempus loquendi

3:8. A time of love, and a time of hatred. A time of war, and a time of peace.

Tempus dilectionis et tempus odii tempus belli et tempus pacis

3:9. What hath man more of his labour?

Quid habet amplius homo de labore suo

3:10. I have seen the trouble, which God hath given the sons of men to be exercised in it.

Vidi afflictionem quam dedit Deus filiis hominum ut distendantur in ea

3:11. He hath made all things good in their time, and hath delivered the world to their consideration, so that man cannot find out the work which God hath made from the beginning to the end.

Cuncta fecit bona in tempore suo et mundum tradidit disputationi eorum ut non inveniat homo opus quod operatus est Deus ab initio usque ad finem

3:12. And I have known that there was no better thing than to rejoice, and to do well in this life.

Et cognovi quod non esset melius nisi laetari et facere bene in vita sua

3:13. For every man that eateth and drinketh, and seeth good of his labour, this is the gift of God.

Omnis enim homo qui comedit et bibit et videt bonum de labore suo hoc donum Dei est

3:14. I have learned that all the works which God hath made, continue for ever: we cannot add any thing, nor take away from those things which God hath made that he may be feared.

Didici quod omnia opera quae fecit Deus perseverent in perpetuum non possumus eis quicquam addere nec auferre quae fecit Deus ut timeatur

3:15. That which hath been made, the same continueth: the things that shall be, have already been: and God restoreth that which is past.

Quod factum est ipsum permanet quae futura sunt iam fuerunt et Deus instaurat quod abiit

3:16. I saw under the sun in the place of judgment wickedness, and in the place of justice iniquity.
Vidi sub sole in loco iudicii impietatem et in loco iustitiae iniquitatem

3:17. And I said in my heart: God shall judge both the just and the wicked, and then shall be the time of every thing.
Et dixi in corde meo iustum et impium iudicabit Deus et tempus omni rei tunc erit

3:18. I said in my heart concerning the sons of men, that God would prove them, and show them to be like beasts.
Dixi in corde meo de filiis hominum ut probaret eos Deus et ostenderet similes esse bestiis

3:19. Therefore the death of man, and of beasts is one, and the condition of them both is equal: as man dieth, so they also die: all things breathe alike, and man hath nothing more than beast: all things are subject to vanity.

Idcirco unus interitus est hominis et iumentorum et aequa utriusque condicio sicut moritur homo sic et illa moriuntur similiter spirant omnia et nihil habet homo iumento amplius cuncta subiacent vanitati

Man hath nothing more, etc... Viz., as to the life of the body.

3:20. And all things go to one place: of earth they were made, and into earth they return together.
Et omnia pergunt ad unum locum de terra facta sunt et in terram pariter revertentur

3:21. Who knoweth if the spirit of the children of Adam ascend upward, and if the spirit of the beasts descend downward?

Quis novit si spiritus filiorum Adam ascendat sursum et si spiritus iumentorum descendat deorsum

Who knoweth, etc... Viz., experimentally: since no one in this life can see a spirit. But as to the spirit of the beasts, which is merely animal, and become extinct by the death of the beast, who can tell the manner it acts so as to give life and motion, and by death to descend downward, that is, to be no more?

3:22. And I have found that nothing is better than for a man to rejoice in his work, and that this is his portion. For who shall bring him to know the things that shall be after him?

Et deprehendi nihil esse melius quam laetari hominem in opere suo et hanc esse partem illius quis enim eum adducet ut post se futura cognoscat

Ecclesiastes Chapter 4

Other instances of human miseries.

---

4:1. I turned myself to other things, and I saw the oppressions that are done under the sun, and the tears of the innocent, and they had no comforter; and they were not able to resist their violence, being destitute of help from any.

Verti me ad alia et vidi calumnias quae sub sole geruntur et lacrimas innocentum et consolatorem neminem nec posse resistere eorum violentiae cunctorum auxilio destitutos

4:2. And I praised the dead rather than the living:

Et laudavi magis mortuos quam viventes

4:3. And I judged him happier than them both, that is not yet born, nor hath seen the evils that are done under the sun.

Et feliciorum utroque iudicavi qui necdum natus est nec vidit mala quae sub sole fiunt

4:4. Again I considered all the labours of men, and I remarked that their industries are exposed to the envy of their neighbour: so in this also there is vanity, and fruitless care.

Rursum contemplatus omnes labores hominum et industrias animadverti patere invidiae proximi et in hoc ergo vanitas et cura superflua est

4:5. The fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own flesh, saying:

Stultus complicat manus suas et comedit carnes suas dicens

4:6. Better is a handful with rest, than both hands full with labour, and vexation of mind.

Melior est pugillus cum requie quam plena utraque manus cum labore et adflictione animi

4:7. Considering I found also another vanity under the sun:

Considerans repperi et aliam vanitatem sub sole

4:8. There is but one, and he hath not a second, no child, no brother, and yet he ceaseth not to labour, neither are his eyes satisfied with riches, neither doth he reflect, saying: For whom do I labour, and defraud my soul of good things? in this also is vanity, and a grievous vexation.

Unus est et secundum non habet non filium non fratrem et tamen laborare non cessat nec satiantur oculi eius divitiis nec cogitat dicens cui laboro et fraudo animam meam bonis in hoc quoque vanitas est et adflictio pessima

4:9. It is better therefore that two should be together, than one: for they have the advantage of their society:

Melius ergo est duos simul esse quam unum habent enim emolumentum societatis suae

4:10. If one fall he shall be supported by the other: woe to him that is alone, for when he falleth, he hath none to lift him up.

Si unus ceciderit ab altero fulcietur vae soli quia cum ruerit non habet sublevantem

4:11. And if two lie together, they shall warm one another: how shall one alone be warmed?

Et si dormierint duo fovebuntur mutuo unus quomodo calefiet

4:12. And if a man prevail against one, two shall withstand him: a threefold cord is not easily broken.

Et si quispiam praevaluerit contra unum duo resistent ei funiculus triplex difficile rumpitur

4:13. Better is a child that is poor and wise, than a king that is old and foolish, who knoweth not to foresee for hereafter.

Melior est puer pauper et sapiens rege sene et stulto qui nescit providere in posterum

4:14. Because out of prison and chains sometimes a man cometh forth to a kingdom: and another born king is consumed with poverty.

Quod et de carcere catenisque interdum quis egrediatur ad regnum et alius natus in regno inopia consumatur

4:15. I saw all men living, that walk under the sun with the second young man, who shall rise up in his place.

Vidi cunctos viventes qui ambulant sub sole cum adulescente secundo qui consurgit pro eo

4:16. The number of the people, of all that were before him is infinite: and they that shall come afterwards, shall not rejoice in him: but this also is vanity, and vexation of spirit.

Infinitus numerus est populi omnium qui fuerunt ante eum et qui postea futuri sunt non laetabuntur in eo sed et hoc vanitas et adfliccio spiritus

4:17. Keep thy foot, when thou goest into the house of God, and draw nigh to hear. For much better is obedience, than the victims of fools, who know not what evil they do.

Custodi pedem tuum ingrediens domum Dei multo enim melior est oboedientia quam stultorum victimae qui nesciunt quid faciant mali

Ecclesiastes Chapter 5

Caution in words. Vows are to be paid. Riches are often pernicious: the moderate use of them is the gift of God.

---

5:1. Speak not any thing rashly, and let not thy heart be hasty to utter a word before God. For God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words be few.

Ne temere quid loquaris neque cor tuum sit velox ad proferendum sermonem coram Deo Deus enim in caelo et tu super terram idcirco sint pauci sermones tui

5:2. Dreams follow many cares: and in many words shall be found folly.

Multas curas sequuntur somnia et in multis sermonibus invenitur stultitia

5:3. If thou hast vowed any thing to God, defer not to pay it: for an unfaithful and foolish promise displeaseth him: but whatsoever thou hast vowed, pay it.

Si quid vovisti Deo ne moreris reddere displicet enim ei infidelis et stulta promissio sed quodcumque voveris redde

5:4. And it is much better not to vow, than after a vow not to perform the things promised.

Multoque melius est non vovere quam post votum promissa non complere

5:5. Give not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin: and say not before the angel: There is no providence: lest God be angry at thy words, and destroy all the works of thy hands.

Ne dederis os tuum ut peccare faciat carnem tuam neque dicas coram angelo non est providentia ne forte iratus Deus super sermone tuo dissipet cuncta opera manuum tuarum

5:6. Where there are many dreams, there are many vanities, and words without number: but do thou fear God.

Ubi multa sunt somnia plurimae vanitates et sermones innumeri tu vero Deum time

5:7. If thou shalt see the oppressions of the poor, and violent judgments, and justice perverted in the province, wonder not at this matter: for he that is high hath another higher, and there are others still higher than these:

Si videris calumnias egenorum et violenta iudicia et subverti iustitiam in provincia non mireris super hoc negotio quia excelso alius excelsior est et super hos quoque eminentiores sunt alii

5:8. Moreover there is the king that reigneth over all the land subject to him.

Et insuper universae terrae rex imperat servienti

5:9. A covetous man shall not be satisfied with money: and he that loveth riches shall reap no fruit from them: so this also is vanity.

Avarus non implebitur pecunia et qui amat divitias fructus non capiet ex eis et hoc ergo vanitas

5:10. Where there are great riches, there are also many to eat them. And what doth it profit the owner, but that he seeth the riches with his eyes?

Ubi multae sunt opes multi et qui comedant eas et quid prodest possessori nisi quod cernit divitias oculis suis

5:11. Sleep is sweet to a labouring man, whether he eat little or much: but the fulness of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

Dulcis est somnus operanti sive parum sive multum comedat saturitas autem divitis non sinit dormire eum

5:12. There is also another grievous evil, which I have seen under the sun: riches kept to the hurt of the owner.

Est et alia infirmitas pessima quam vidi sub sole divitiae conservatae in malum domini sui

5:13. For they are lost with very great affliction: he hath begotten a son, who shall be in extremity of want.

Pereunt enim in adflictione pessima generavit filium qui in summa egestate erit

5:14. As he came forth naked from his mother's womb, so shall he return, and shall take nothing away with him of his labour.

Sicut egressus est nudus de utero matris suae sic revertetur et nihil auferet secum de labore suo

5:15. A most deplorable evil: as he came, so shall he return. What then doth it profit him that he hath laboured for the wind?

Miserabilis prorsus infirmitas quomodo venit sic revertetur quid ergo prodest ei quod laboravit in ventum

5:16. All the days of his life he eateth in darkness, and in many cares, and in misery, and sorrow.

Cunctis diebus vitae suae comedit in tenebris et in curis multis et in aerumna atque tristitia

5:17. This therefore hath seemed good to me, that a man should eat and drink, and enjoy the fruit of his labour, wherewith he hath laboured under the sun, all the days of his life, which God hath given him: and this is his portion.

Hoc itaque mihi visum est bonum ut comedat quis et bibat et fruatur laetitia ex labore suo quod laboravit ipse sub sole numerum dierum vitae suae quos dedit ei Deus et haec est pars illius

5:18. And every man to whom God hath given riches, and substance, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to enjoy his portion, and to rejoice of his labour: this is the gift of God.

Et omni homini cui dedit Deus divitias atque substantiam potestatemque ei tribuit ut comedat ex eis et fruatur parte sua et laetetur de labore suo hoc est donum Dei

5:19. For he shall not much remember the days of his life, because God entertaineth his heart with delight.

Non enim satis recordabitur dierum vitae suae eo quod Deus occupet deliciis cor eius

Ecclesiastes Chapter 6

The misery of the covetous man.

6:1. There is also another evil, which I have seen under the sun, and that frequent among men:

Est et aliud malum quod vidi sub sole et quidem frequens apud homines

6:2. A man to whom God hath given riches, and substance, and honour, and his soul wanteth nothing of all that he desireth: yet God doth not give him power to eat thereof, but a stranger shall eat it up. This is vanity and a great misery.

Vir cui dedit Deus divitias et substantiam et honorem et nihil deest animae eius ex omnibus quae desiderat nec tribuit ei potestatem Deus ut comedat ex eo sed homo extraneus vorabit illud hoc vanitas et magna miseria est

6:3. If a man beget a hundred children, and live many years, and attain to a great age, and his soul make no use of the goods of his substance, and he be without burial: of this man I pronounce, that the untimely born is better than he.

Si genuerit quispiam centum et vixerit multos annos et plures dies aetatis habuerit et anima illius non utatur bonis substantiae suae sepulturaque careat de hoc ego pronuntio quod melior illo sit abortivus

6:4. For he came in vain, and goeth to darkness, and his name shall be wholly forgotten.

Frustra enim venit et pergit ad tenebras et oblivione delebitur nomen eius

6:5. He hath not seen the sun, nor known the distance of good and evil:

Non vidit solem neque cognovit distantiam boni et mali

6:6. Although he lived two thousand years, and hath not enjoyed good things: do not all make haste to one place?

Etiam si duobus milibus annis vixerit et non fuerit perfruitus bonis nonne ad unum locum properant omnia

6:7. All the labour of man is for his mouth, but his soul shall not be filled.

Omnis labor hominis in ore eius sed anima illius non impletur

6:8. What hath the wise man more than the fool? and what the poor man, but to go thither, where there is life?

Quid habet amplius sapiens ab stulto et quid pauper nisi ut pergat illuc ubi est vita

6:9. Better it is to see what thou mayst desire, than to desire that which thou canst not know. But this also is vanity, and presumption of spirit.

Melius est videre quod cupias quam desiderare quod nescias sed et hoc vanitas est et praesumptio spiritus

6:10. He that shall be, his name is already called: and it is known, that he is a man, and cannot contend in judgment with him that is stronger than himself.

Qui futurus est iam vocatum est nomen eius et scitur quod homo sit et non possit contra fortiorem se in iudicio contendere

6:11. There are many words that have much vanity in disputing.

Verba sunt plurima multa in disputando habentia vanitatem

Ecclesiastes Chapter 7

Prescriptions against worldly vanities: mortification, patience, and seeking wisdom.

---

7:1. What needeth a man to seek things that are above him, whereas he knoweth not what is profitable for him in his life, in all the days of his pilgrimage, and the time that passeth like a shadow? Or who can tell him what shall be after him under the sun?

Quid necesse est homini maiora se quaerere cum ignoret quid conducat sibi in vita sua numero dierum peregrinationis suae et tempore quo velut umbra praeterit aut quis ei poterit indicare quid post eum futurum sub sole sit

7:2. A good name is better than precious ointments: and the day of death than the day of one's birth. Melius est nomen bonum quam unguenta pretiosa et dies mortis die nativitatis

7:3. It is better to go to the house of mourning, than to the house of feasting: for in that we are put in mind of the end of all, and the living thinketh what is to come.

Melius est ire ad domum luctus quam ad domum convivii in illa enim finis cunctorum admonetur hominum et vivens cogitat quid futurum sit

7:4. Anger is better than laughter: because by the sadness of the countenance the mind of the offender is corrected.

Melior est ira risu quia per tristitiam vultus corrigitur animus delinquentis

Anger... That is, correction, or just wrath and zeal against evil.

7:5. The heart of the wise is where there is mourning, and the heart of fools where there is mirth.

Cor sapientium ubi tristitia est et cor stultorum ubi laetitia

7:6. It is better to be rebuked by a wise man, than to be deceived by the flattery of fools.

Melius est a sapiente corripri quam stultorum adulatione decipi

7:7. For as the crackling of thorns burning under a pot, so is the laughter of a fool: now this also is vanity.

Quia sicut sonitus spinarum ardentium sub olla sic risus stulti sed et hoc vanitas

7:8. Oppression troubleth the wise, and shall destroy the strength of his heart.

Calumnia conturbat sapientem et perdet robur cordis illius

7:9. Better is the end of a speech than the beginning. Better is the patient man than the presumptuous.

Melior est finis orationis quam principium melior est patiens arrogante

7:10. Be not quickly angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of a fool.

Ne velox sis ad irascendum quia ira in sinu stulti requiescit

7:11. Say not: What thinkest thou is the cause that former times were better than they are now? for this manner of question is foolish.

Ne dicas quid putas causae est quod priora tempora meliora fuere quam nunc sunt stulta est enim huiusmodi interrogatio

7:12. Wisdom with riches is more profitable, and bringeth more advantage to them that see the sun.

Utilior est sapientia cum divitiis et magis prodest videntibus solem

7:13. For as wisdom is a defence, so money is a defence: but learning and wisdom excel in this, that they give life to him that possesseth them.

Sicut enim protegit sapientia sic protegit pecunia hoc autem plus habet eruditio et sapientia quod vitam tribuunt possessori suo

7:14. Consider the works of God, that no man can correct whom he hath despised.

Considera opera Dei quod nemo possit corrigere quem ille despexerit

7:15. In the good day enjoy good things, and beware beforehand of the evil day: for God hath made both the one and the other, that man may not find against him any just complaint.

In die bona fruire bonis et malam diem praecave sicut enim hanc sic et illam fecit Deus ut non inveniat homo contra eum iustas querimonias

7:16. These things also I saw in the days of my vanity: A just man perisheth in his justice, and a wicked man liveth a long time in his wickedness.

Haec quoque vidi in diebus vanitatis meae iustus perit in iustitia sua et impius multo vivit tempore in malitia sua

7:17. Be not over just: and be not more wise than is necessary, lest thou become stupid.

Noli esse iustus multum neque plus sapias quam necesse est ne obstupescas

Over just... Viz., By an excessive rigour in censuring the ways of God in bearing with the wicked.

7:18. Be not overmuch wicked: and be not foolish, lest thou die before thy time.

Ne impie agas multum et noli esse stultus ne moriaris in tempore non tuo

Be not overmuch wicked... That is, lest by the greatness of your sin you leave no room for mercy.

7:19. It is good that thou shouldst hold up the just, yea and from him withdraw not thy hand: for he that feareth God, neglecteth nothing.

Bonum est te sustentare iustum sed et ab illo ne subtrahas manum tuam quia qui Deum timet nihil negligit

7:20. Wisdom hath strengthened the wise more than ten princes of the city.

Sapientia confortabit sapientem super decem principes civitatis

7:21. For there is no just man upon earth, that doth good, and sinneth not.

Non est enim homo iustus in terra qui faciat bonum et non peccet

7:22. But do not apply thy heart to all words that are spoken: lest perhaps thou hear thy servant reviling thee.

Sed et cunctis sermonibus qui dicuntur ne accommodes cor tuum ne forte audias servum tuum maledicentem tibi

7:23. For thy conscience knoweth that thou also hast often spoken evil of others.

Scit enim tua conscientia quia et tu crebro maledixisti aliis

7:24. I have tried all things in wisdom. I have said: I will be wise: and it departed farther from me,

Cuncta temptavi in sapientia dixi sapiens efficiar et ipsa longius recessit a me

7:25. Much more than it was: it is a great depth, who shall find it out?

Multo magis quam erat et alta profunditas quis inveniet eam

7:26. I have surveyed all things with my mind, to know, and consider, and seek out wisdom and reason: and to know the wickedness of the fool, and the error of the imprudent:

Lustravi universa animo meo ut scirem et considerarem et quaererem sapientiam et rationem et ut cognoscerem impietatem stulti et errorem imprudentium

7:27. And I have found a woman more bitter than death, who is the hunter's snare, and her heart is a net, and her hands are bands. He that pleaseth God shall escape from her: but he that is a sinner, shall be caught by her.

Et inveni amariorum morte mulierem quae laqueus venatorum est et sagena cor eius vincula sunt manus illius qui placet Deo effugiet eam qui autem peccator est capietur ab illa

7:28. Lo this have I found, said Ecclesiastes, weighing one thing after another, that I might find out the account,

Ecce hoc inveni dicit Ecclesiastes unum et alterum ut invenirem rationem

7:29. Which yet my soul seeketh, and I have not found it. One man among a thousand I have found, a woman among them all I have not found.

Quam adhuc quaerit anima mea et non inveni virum de mille unum repperi mulierem ex omnibus non inveni

7:30. Only this I have found, that God made man right, and he hath entangled himself with an infinity of questions. Who is as the wise man? and who hath known the resolution of the word?

Solummodo hoc inveni quod fecerit Deus hominem rectum et ipse se infinitis miscuerit quaestionibus quis talis ut sapiens est et quis cognovit solutionem verbi

Of the word... That is, of this obscure and difficult matter.

Ecclesiastes Chapter 8

True wisdom is to observe God's commandments. The ways of God are unsearchable.

---

8:1. The wisdom of a man shineth in his countenance, and the most mighty will change his face.
Sapientia hominis lucet in vultu eius et potentissimus faciem illius commutavit

8:2. I observe the mouth of the king, and the commandments of the oath of God.
Ego os regis observo et praecepta iuramenti Dei

8:3. Be not hasty to depart from his face, and do not continue in an evil work: for he will do all that pleaseth him:
Ne festines recedere a facie eius neque permanear in opere malo quia omne quod voluerit faciet

8:4. And his word is full of power: neither can any man say to him: Why dost thou so?
Et sermo illius potestate plenus est nec dicere ei quisquam potest quare ita facis

8:5. He that keepeth the commandment, shall find no evil. The heart of a wiser man understandeth time and answer.
Qui custodit praeceptum non experietur quicquam mali tempus et responsionem cor sapientis intellegit

8:6. There is a time and opportunity for every business, and great affliction for man:
Omni negotio tempus est et oportunitas et multa hominis adflictio

8:7. Because he is ignorant of things past, and things to come he cannot know by any messenger.
Quia ignorat praeterita et ventura nullo scire potest nuntio

8:8. It is not in man's power to stop the spirit, neither hath he power in the day of death, neither is he suffered to rest when war is at hand, neither shall wickedness save the wicked.
Non est in hominis dicione prohibere spiritum nec habet potestatem in die mortis nec sinitur quiescere ingruente bello neque salvabit impietas impium

8:9. All these things I have considered, and applied my heart to all the works that are done under the sun. Sometimes one man ruleth over another to his own hurt.
Omnia haec consideravi et dedi cor meum in cunctis operibus quae fiunt sub sole interdum dominatur homo homini in malum suum

8:10. I saw the wicked buried: who also when they were yet living were in the holy place, and were praised in the city as men of just works: but this also is vanity.
Vidi impios sepultos qui etiam cum adviverent in loco sancto erant et laudabantur in civitate quasi iustorum operum sed et hoc vanitas est

8:11. For because sentence is not speedily pronounced against the evil, the children of men commit evils without any fear.
Etenim quia non profertur cito contra malos sententia absque ullo timore filii hominum perpetrant mala

8:12. But though a sinner do evil a hundred times, and by patience be borne withal, I know from thence that it shall be well with them that fear God, who dread his face.
Attamen ex eo quod peccator centies facit malum et per patientiam sustentatur ego cognovi quod erit bonum timentibus Deum qui verentur faciem eius

8:13. But let it not be well with the wicked, neither let his days be prolonged, but as a shadow let them pass away that fear not the face of the Lord.
Non sit bonum impio nec prolongentur dies eius sed quasi umbra transeant qui non timent faciem Dei

8:14. There is also another vanity, which is done upon the earth. There are just men to whom evils happen, as though they had done the works of the wicked: and there are wicked men, who are as secure as though they had the deeds of the just: but this also I judge most vain.

Est et alia vanitas quae fit super terram sunt iusti quibus multa proveniunt quasi opera egerint impiorum et sunt impii qui ita securi sunt quasi iustorum facta habeant sed et hoc vanissimum iudico

8:15. Therefore I commended mirth, because there was no good for a man under the sun, but to eat, and drink, and be merry, and that he should take nothing else with him of his labour in the days of his life, which God hath given him under the sun.

Laudavi igitur laetitiam quod non esset homini bonum sub sole nisi quod comederet et biberet atque gauderet et hoc solum secum auferret de labore suo in diebus vitae quos dedit ei Deus sub sole

No good for a man, etc... Some commentators think the wise man here speaks in the person of the libertine: representing the objections of these men against divine providence, and the inferences they draw from thence, which he takes care afterwards to refute. But it may also be said, that his meaning is to commend the moderate use of the goods of this world, preferably to the cares and solitudes of worldlings, their attachment to vanity and curiosity, and presumptuously diving into the unsearchable ways of divine providence.

8:16. And I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to understand the distraction that is upon earth: for there are some that day and night take no sleep with their eyes.

Et adposui cor meum ut scirem sapientiam et intellegerem distentionem quae versatur in terra est homo qui diebus ac noctibus somnum oculis non capit

8:17. And I understood that man can find no reason of all those works of God that are done under the sun: and the more he shall labour to seek, so much the less shall he find: yea, though the wise man shall say, that he knoweth it, he shall not be able to find it.

Et intellexi quod omnium operum Dei nullam possit homo invenire rationem eorum quae fiunt sub sole et quanto plus laboraverit ad quaerendum tanto minus inveniat etiam si dixerit sapiens se nosse non poterit reperire

Ecclesiastes Chapter 9

Man knows not certainty that he is in God's grace. After death no more work or merit.

---

9:1. All these things have I considered in my heart, that I might carefully understand them: there are just men and wise men, and their works are in the hand of God: and yet man knoweth not whether he be worthy of love, or hatred:

Omnia haec tractavi in corde meo ut curiose intellegerem sunt iusti atque sapientes et opera eorum in manu Dei et tamen nescit homo utrum amore an odio dignus sit

9:2. But all things are kept uncertain for the time to come, because all things equally happen to the just and to the wicked, to the good and to the evil, to the clean and to the unclean, to him that offereth victims, and to him that despiseth sacrifices. As the good is, so also is the sinner: as the perjured, so he also that swareth truth.

Sed omnia in futuro servantur incerta eo quod universa aequae eveniant iusto et impio bono et malo mundo et inmundo immolanti victimas et sacrificia contemnenti sicut bonus sic et peccator ut periurus ita et ille qui verum deierat

9:3. This is a very great evil among all things that are done under the sun, that the same things happen to all men: whereby also the hearts of the children of men are filled with evil, and with contempt while they live, and afterwards they shall be brought down to hell.

Hoc est pessimum inter omnia quae sub sole fiunt quia eadem cunctis eveniunt unde et corda filiorum hominum implentur malitia et contemptu in vita sua et post haec ad inferos deducuntur

9:4. There is no man that liveth always, or that hopeth for this: a living dog is better than a dead lion.

Nemo est qui semper vivat et qui huius rei habeat fiduciam melior est canis vivens leone mortuo

9:5. For the living know that they shall die, but the dead know nothing more, neither have they a reward any more: for the memory of them is forgotten.

Viventes enim sciunt se esse morituros mortui vero nihil noverunt amplius nec habent ultra mercedem quia oblivioni tradita est memoria eorum

Know nothing more... Viz., as to the transactions of this world, in which they have now no part, unless it be revealed to them; neither have they any knowledge or power now of doing any thing to secure their eternal state, (if they have not taken care of it in their lifetime:) nor can they now procure themselves any good, as the living always may do, by the grace of God.

9:6. Their love also, and their hatred, and their envy are all perished, neither have they any part in this world, and in the work that is done under the sun.

Amor quoque et odium et invidia simul perierunt nec habent partem in hoc saeculo et in opere quod sub sole geritur

9:7. Go then, and eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with gladness: because thy works please God.

Vade ergo et comede in laetitia panem tuum et bibe cum gaudio vinum tuum quia Deo placent opera tua

9:8. At all times let thy garments be white, and let not oil depart from thy head.

Omni tempore sint vestimenta tua candida et oleum de capite tuo non deficiat

9:9. Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest, all the days of thy unsteady life, which are given to thee under the sun, all the time of thy vanity: for this is thy portion in life, and in thy labour wherewith thou labourest under the sun.

Perfruere vita cum uxore quam diligis cunctis diebus vitae instabilitatis tuae qui dati sunt tibi sub sole omni tempore vanitatis tuae haec est enim pars in vita et in labore tuo quod laboras sub sole

9:10. Whatsoever thy hand is able to do, do it earnestly: for neither work, nor reason, nor wisdom, nor knowledge shall be in hell, whither thou art hastening.

Quodcumque potest manus tua facere instanter operare quia nec opus nec ratio nec scientia nec sapientia erunt apud inferos quo tu properas

9:11. I turned me to another thing, and I saw that under the sun, the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor bread to the wise, nor riches to the learned, nor favour to the skilful: but time and chance in all.

Verti me alio vidique sub sole nec velocium esse cursum nec fortium bellum nec sapientium panem nec doctorum divitias nec artificum gratiam sed tempus casumque in omnibus

9:12. Man knoweth not his own end: but as fishes are taken with the hook, and as birds are caught with the snare, so men are taken in the evil time, when it shall suddenly come upon them.

Nescit homo finem suum sed sicut pisces capiuntur hamo et sicut aves comprehenduntur laqueo sic capiuntur homines tempore malo cum eis extemplo supervenerit

9:13. This wisdom also I have seen under the sun, and it seemed to me to be very great:

Hanc quoque vidi sub sole sapientiam et probavi maximam

9:14. A little city, and few men in it: there came against it a great king, and invested it, and built bulwarks round about it, and the siege was perfect.

Civitas parva et pauci in ea viri venit contra eam rex magnus et vallavit eam extruxitque munitiones per gyrum et perfecta est obsidio

9:15. Now there was found in it a man poor and wise, and he delivered the city by his wisdom, and no man afterward remembered that poor man.

Inventusque in ea vir pauper et sapiens liberavit urbem per sapientiam suam et nullus deinceps recordatus est hominis illius pauperis

9:16. And I said that wisdom is better than strength: how then is the wisdom of the poor man slighted, and his words not heard?

Et dicebam ego meliorem esse sapientiam fortitudine quomodo ergo sapientia pauperis contempta est et verba eius non sunt audita

9:17. The words of the wise are heard in silence, more than the cry of a prince among fools.

Verba sapientium audiuntur in silentio plus quam clamor principis inter stultos

9:18. Better is wisdom, than weapons of war: and he that shall offend in one, shall lose many good things.

Melior est sapientia quam arma bellica et qui in uno peccaverit multa bona perdet

Ecclesiastes Chapter 10

Observations on wisdom and folly, ambition and detraction.

10:1. Dying flies spoil the sweetness of the ointment. Wisdom and glory is more precious than a small and shortlived folly.

Muscae morientes perdunt suavitatem unguenti pretiosior est sapientia et gloria parva ad tempus stultitia

10:2. The heart of a wise man is in his right hand, and the heart of a fool is in his left hand.

Cor sapientis in dextera eius et cor stulti in sinistra illius

10:3. Yea, and the fool when he walketh in the way, whereas he himself is a fool, esteemeth all men fools.

Sed et in via stultus ambulans cum ipse insipiens sit omnes stultos aestimat

10:4. If the spirit of him that hath power, ascend upon thee, leave not thy place: because care will make the greatest sins to cease.

Si spiritus potestatem habentis ascenderit super te locum tuum ne dimiseris quia curatio cessare faciet peccata maxima

10:5. There is an evil that I have seen under the sun, as it were by an error proceeding from the face of the prince:

Est malum quod vidi sub sole quasi per errorem egrediens a facie principis

10:6. A fool set in high dignity, and the rich sitting beneath.

Positum stultum in dignitate sublimi et divites sedere deorsum

10:7. I have seen servants upon horses: and princes walking on the ground as servants.

Vidi servos in equis et principes ambulantes quasi servos super terram

10:8. He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it: and he that breaketh a hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

Qui fodit foveam incidet in eam et qui dissipat sepem mordebit eum coluber

10:9. He that removeth stones, shall be hurt by them: and he that cutteth trees, shall be wounded by them.

Qui transfert lapides adfligetur in eis et qui scindit ligna vulnerabitur ab eis

10:10. If the iron be blunt, and be not as before, but be made blunt, with much labour it shall be sharpened: and after industry shall follow wisdom.

Si retunsum fuerit ferrum et hoc non ut prius sed hebetatum erit multo labore exacuatur et post industriam sequitur sapientia

10:11. If a serpent bite in silence, he is nothing better that backbiteth secretly.

Si mordeat serpens in silentio nihil eo minus habet qui occulte detrahit

10:12. The words of the mouth of a wise man are grace: but the lips of a fool shall throw him down headlong.

Verba oris sapientis gratia et labia insipientis praecipitabunt eum

10:13. The beginning of his words is folly, and the end of his talk is a mischievous error.

Initium verborum eius stultitia et novissimum oris illius error pessimus

10:14. A fool multiplieth words. A man cannot tell what hath been before him: and what shall be after him, who can tell him?

Stultus verba multiplicat ignorat homo quid ante se fuerit et quod post futurum est quis illi poterit indicare

10:15. The labour of fools shall afflict them that know not how to go to the city.

Labor stultorum adfliget eos qui nesciunt in urbem pergere

10:16. Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and when the princes eat in the morning.
Vae tibi terra cuius rex est puer et cuius principes mane comedunt

10:17. Blessed is the land, whose king is noble, and whose princes eat in due season for refreshment, and not for riotousness.
Beata terra cuius rex nobilis est et cuius principes vescuntur in tempore suo ad reficiendum et non ad luxuriam

10:18. By slothfulness a building shall be brought down, and through the weakness of hands, the house shall drop through.
In pigritiis humiliabitur contignatio et in infirmitate manuum perstillabit domus

10:19. For laughter they make bread, and wine that the living may feast: and all things obey money.
In risu faciunt panem ac vinum ut epulentur viventes et pecuniae oboedient omnia

10:20. Detract not the king, no not in thy thought; and speak not evil of the rich man in thy private chamber: because even the birds of the air will carry thy voice, and he that hath wings will tell what thou hast said.
In cogitatione tua regi ne detrahas et in secreto cubiculi tui ne maledixeris diviti quia avis caeli portabit vocem tuam et qui habet pinnas adnuntiabit sententiam

Ecclesiastes Chapter 11

Exhortation to works of mercy, while we have time, to diligence in good, and to the remembrance of death and judgment.

---

11:1. Cast thy bread upon the running waters: for after a long time thou shalt find it again.

Mitte panem tuum super transeuntes aquas quia post multa tempora invenies illum

11:2. Give a portion to seven, and also to eight: for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth.

Da partem septem necnon et octo quia ignoras quid futurum sit mali super terram

11:3. If the clouds be full, they will pour out rain upon the earth. If the tree fall to the south, or to the north, in what place soever it shall fall, there shall it be.

Si repletae fuerint nubes imbrem super terram effundent si ceciderit lignum ad austrum aut ad aquilonem in quocumque loco ceciderit ibi erit

If the tree fall, etc... The state of the soul is unchangeable when once she comes to heaven or hell: and a soul that departs this life in the state of grace, shall never fall from grace: as on the other side, a soul that dies out of the state of grace, shall never come to it. But this does not exclude a place of temporal punishments for such souls as die in the state of grace: yet not so as to be entirely pure: and therefore they shall be saved, indeed, yet so as by fire. 1 Cor. 3.13, 14, 15.

11:4. He that observeth the wind, shall not sow: and he that considereth the clouds, shall never reap.

Qui observat ventum non seminat et qui considerat nubes numquam metet

11:5. As thou knowest not what is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones are joined together in the womb of her that is with child: so thou knowest not the works of God, who is the maker of all.

Quomodo ignoras quae sit via spiritus et qua ratione conpingantur ossa in ventre praegnatis sic nescis opera Dei qui fabricator est omnium

11:6. In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening let not thy hand cease: for thou knowest not which may rather spring up, this or that: and if both together, it shall be the better.

Mane semina sementem tuam et vespere ne cesset manus tua quia nescis quid magis oriatur hoc an illud et si utrumque simul melius erit

11:7. The light is sweet, and it is delightful for the eyes to see the sun.

Dulce lumen et delectabile est oculis videre solem

11:8. If a man live many years, and have rejoiced in them all, he must remember the darksome time, and the many days: which when they shall come, the things past shall be accused of vanity.

Si annis multis vixerit homo et in omnibus his laetatus fuerit meminisse debet tenebrosi temporis et dierum multorum qui cum venerint vanitatis arguentur praeterita

11:9. Rejoice therefore, O young man, in thy youth, and let thy heart be in that which is good in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thy heart, and in the sight of thy eyes: and know that for all these God will bring thee into judgment.

Laetare ergo iuvenis in adulescentia tua et in bono sit cor tuum in diebus iuventutis tuae et ambula in viis cordis tui et in intuitu oculorum tuorum et scito quod pro omnibus his adducet te Deus in iudicium

11:10. Remove anger from thy heart, and put away evil from thy flesh. For youth and pleasure are vain.

Aufer iram a corde tuo et amove malitiam a carne tua adulescentia enim et voluptas vana sunt

Ecclesiastes Chapter 12

The Creator is to be remembered in the days of our youth: all worldly things are vain: we should fear God and keep his commandments.

---

12:1. Remember thy Creator in the days of thy youth, before the time of affliction come, and the years draw nigh of which thou shalt say: They please me not:

Memento creatoris tui in diebus iuventutis tuae antequam veniat tempus ad afflictionis et adpropinquent anni de quibus dicas non mihi placent

12:2. Before the sun, and the light, and the moon, and the stars be darkened, and the clouds return after the rain:

Antequam tenebrescat sol et lumen et luna et stellae et revertantur nubes post pluviam

Before the sun, etc... That is, before old age: the effects of which upon all the senses and faculties are described in the following verses, under a variety of figures.

12:3. When the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall stagger, and the grinders shall be idle in a small number, and they that look through the holes shall be darkened:

Quando commovebuntur custodes domus et nutabuntur viri fortissimi et otiosae erunt molentes in minuto numero et tenebrescent videntes per foramina

12:4. And they shall shut the doors in the street, when the grinder's voice shall be low, and they shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of music shall grow deaf.

Et claudent ostia in platea in humilitate vocis molentis et consurgent ad vocem volucris et obsurdescent omnes filiae carminis

12:5. And they shall fear high things, and they shall be afraid in the way, the almond tree shall flourish, the locust shall be made fat, and the caper tree shall be destroyed: because man shall go into the house of his eternity, and the mourners shall go round about in the street.

Excelsa quoque timebunt et formidabunt in via florebit amigdalum inpinguabitur lucusta et dissipabitur capparis quoniam ibit homo in domum aeternitatis suae et circumibunt in platea plangentes

12:6. Before the silver cord be broken, and the golden fillet shrink back, and the pitcher be crushed at the fountain, and the wheel be broken upon the cistern,

Antequam rumpatur funis argenteus et recurrat vitta aurea et conteratur hydria super fontem et confringatur rota super cisternam

12:7. And the dust return into its earth, from whence it was, and the spirit return to God, who gave it.

Et revertatur pulvis in terram suam unde erat et spiritus redeat ad Deum qui dedit illum

12:8. Vanity of vanities, said Ecclesiastes, and all things are vanity.

Vanitas vanitatum dixit Ecclesiastes omnia vanitas

12:9. And whereas Ecclesiastes was very wise, he taught the people, and declared the things that he had done: and seeking out, he set forth many parables.

Cumque esset sapientissimus Ecclesiastes docuit populum et enarravit quae fecerit et investigans composuit parabolas multas

12:10. He sought profitable words, and wrote words most right, and full of truth.

Quaesivit verba utilia et conscripsit sermones rectissimos ac veritate plenos

12:11. The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails deeply fastened in, which by the counsel of masters are given from one shepherd.

Verba sapientium sicut stimuli et quasi clavi in altum defixi quae per magistrorum concilium data sunt a pastore uno

12:12. More than these, my son, require not. Of making many books there is no end: and much study is an affliction of the flesh.

His amplius fili mi ne requiras faciendi plures libros nullus est finis frequensque meditatio carnis adflictio est

12:13. Let us all hear together the conclusion of the discourse. Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is all man:

Finem loquendi omnes pariter audiamus Deum time et mandata eius observa hoc est enim omnis homo

All man... The whole business and duty of man.

12:14. And all things that are done, God will bring into judgment for every error, whether it be good or evil.

Et cuncta quae fiunt adducet Deus in iudicium pro omni errato sive bonum sive malum sit

Error... Or, hidden and secret thing.

Ephesians

The Epistle of St. Paul to the Ephesians

---

Ephesus was the capital of Lesser Asia, and celebrated for the temple of Diana, to which the most part of the people of the East went frequently to worship. But St. Paul having preached the Gospel there, for two years the first time and afterwards for about a year, converted many. He wrote this Epistle to them when he was a prisoner in Rome; and sent it by Tychicus. He admonishes them to hold firmly the faith which they had received and warns them, and also those of the neighbouring cities, against the sophistry of philosophers and doctrine of false teachers who were come among them. The matters of faith contained in this Epistle are exceedingly sublime, and consequently very difficult to be understood. It was written about twenty-nine years after our Lord's Ascension. (For more information, see the article EPISTLE TO THE EPHESIANS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Ephesians Chapter 1. The great blessings we have received through Christ. He is the head of all the church.

Ephesians Chapter 2. All our good comes through Christ. He is our peace.

Ephesians Chapter 3. The mystery hidden from former ages was discovered to the apostle, to be imparted to the Gentiles. He prays that they may be strengthened in God.

Ephesians Chapter 4. He exhorts them to unity, to put on the new man, and to fly sin.

Ephesians Chapter 5. Exhortations to a virtuous life. The mutual duties of man and wife, by the example of Christ and of the Church.

Ephesians Chapter 6. Duties of children and servants. The Christian's armour.

Ephesians Chapter 1

The great blessings we have received through Christ. He is the head of all the church.

---

1:1. Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, to all the saints who are at Ephesus and to the faithful in Christ Jesus.

Paulus apostolus Christi Iesu per voluntatem Dei sanctis omnibus qui sunt Ephesi et fidelibus in Christo Iesu

1:2. Grace be to you and peace, from God the Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

Gratia vobis et pax a Deo Patre nostro et Domino Iesu Christo

1:3. Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with spiritual blessings in heavenly places, in Christ:

Benedictus Deus et Pater Domini nostri Iesu Christi qui benedixit nos in omni benedictione spiritali in caelestibus in Christo

In heavenly places... or, in heavenly things. In caelestibus.

1:4. As he chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and unspotted in his sight in charity.

Sicut elegit nos in ipso ante mundi constitutionem ut essemus sancti et immaculati in conspectu eius in caritate

1:5. Who hath predestinated us unto the adoption of children through Jesus Christ unto himself: according to the purpose of his will:

Qui praedestinavit nos in adoptionem filiorum per Iesum Christum in ipsum secundum propositum voluntatis suae

1:6. Unto the praise of the glory of his grace, in which he hath graced us, in his beloved son.

In laudem gloriae gratiae suae in qua gratificavit nos in dilecto

1:7. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the remission of sins, according to the riches of his, grace,

In quo habemus redemptionem per sanguinem eius remissionem peccatorum secundum divitias gratiae eius

1:8. Which hath superabounded in us, in all wisdom and prudence,

Quae superabundavit in nobis in omni sapientia et prudentia

1:9. That he might make known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure, which he hath purposed in him,

Ut notum faceret nobis sacramentum voluntatis suae secundum bonum placitum eius quod proposuit in eo

1:10. In the dispensation of the fulness of times, to re-establish all things in Christ, that are in heaven and on earth, in him.

In dispensationem plenitudinis temporum instaurare omnia in Christo quae in caelis et quae in terra sunt in ipso

1:11. In whom we also are called by lot, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things according to the counsel of his will.

In quo etiam sorte vocati sumus praedestinati secundum propositum eius qui omnia operatur secundum consilium voluntatis suae

1:12. That we may be unto the praise of his glory: we who before hoped in Christ:

Ut simus in laudem gloriae eius qui ante speravimus in Christo

1:13. In whom you also, after you had heard the word of truth (the gospel of your salvation), in whom also believing, you were signed with the holy Spirit of promise.

In quo et vos cum audissetis verbum veritatis evangelium salutis vestrae in quo et credentes signati estis Spiritu promissionis Sancto

1:14. Who is the pledge of our inheritance, unto the redemption of acquisition, unto the praise of his glory.

Qui est pignus hereditatis nostrae in redemptionem acquisitionis in laudem gloriae ipsius

Acquisition... that is, a purchased possession.

1:15. Wherefore, I also, hearing of your faith that is in the Lord Jesus and of your love towards all the saints,

Propterea et ego audiens fidem vestram quae est in Domino Iesu et dilectionem in omnes sanctos

1:16. Cease not to give thanks for you, making commemoration of you in my prayers,

Non cesso gratias agens pro vobis memoriam vestri faciens in orationibus meis

1:17. That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and of revelation, in the knowledge of him:

Ut Deus Domini nostri Iesu Christi Pater gloriae det vobis spiritum sapientiae et revelationis in agnitione eius

1:18. The eyes of your heart enlightened that you may know what the hope is of his calling and what are the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints.

Inluminatos oculos cordis vestri ut sciatis quae sit spes vocationis eius quae divitiae gloriae hereditatis eius in sanctis

1:19. And what is the exceeding greatness of his power towards us, who believe according to the operation of the might of his power,

Et quae sit supereminens magnitudo virtutis eius in nos qui credimus secundum operationem potentiae virtutis eius

1:20. Which he wrought in Christ, raising him up from the dead and setting him on his right hand in the heavenly places.

Quam operatus est in Christo suscitans illum a mortuis et constituens ad dexteram suam in caelestibus

1:21. Above all principality and power and virtue and dominion and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come.

Supra omnem principatum et potestatem et virtutem et dominationem et omne nomen quod nominatur non solum in hoc saeculo sed et in futuro

1:22. And he hath subjected all things under his feet and hath made him head over all the church,

Et omnia subiecit sub pedibus eius et ipsum dedit caput supra omnia ecclesiae

1:23. Which is his body and the fulness of him who is filled all in all.

Quae est corpus ipsius plenitudo eius qui omnia in omnibus adimpletur

Ephesians Chapter 2

All our good comes through Christ. He is our peace.

---

2:1. And you, when you were dead in your offences and sins,

Et vos cum essetis mortui delictis et peccatis vestris

2:2. Wherein in time past you walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of this air, of the spirit that now worketh on the children of unbelief:

In quibus aliquando ambulastis secundum saeculum mundi huius secundum principem potestatis aeris huius spiritus qui nunc operatur in filios diffidentiae

2:3. In which also we all conversed in time past, in the desires of our flesh, fulfilling the will of the flesh and of our thoughts, and were by nature children of wrath, even as the rest:

In quibus et nos omnes aliquando conversati sumus in desideriis carnis nostrae facientes voluntates carnis et cogitationum et eramus natura filii irae sicut et ceteri

2:4. But God (who is rich in mercy) for his exceeding charity wherewith he loved us

Deus autem qui dives est in misericordia propter nimiam caritatem suam qua dilexit nos

2:5. Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together in Christ (by whose grace you are saved)

Et cum essemus mortui peccatis convivicavit nos Christo gratia estis salvati

2:6. And hath raised us up together and hath made us sit together in the heavenly places, through Christ Jesus.

Et conresuscitavit et consedere fecit in caelestibus in Christo Iesu

2:7. That he might show in the ages to come the abundant riches of his grace, in his bounty towards us in Christ Jesus.

Ut ostenderet in saeculis supervenientibus abundantes divitias gratiae suae in bonitate super nos in Christo Iesu

2:8. For by grace you are saved through faith: and that not of yourselves, for it is the gift of God.

Gratia enim estis salvati per fidem et hoc non ex vobis Dei enim donum est

2:9. Not of works, that no man may glory.

Non ex operibus ut ne quis gloriatur

Not of works... as of our own growth, or from ourselves; but as from the grace of God.

2:10. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus in good works, which God hath prepared that we should walk in them.

Ipsius enim sumus factura creati in Christo Iesu in operibus bonis quae praeparavit Deus ut in illis ambulemus

2:11. For which cause be mindful that you, being heretofore gentiles is the flesh, who are called uncircumcision by that which is called circumcision in the flesh, made by hands:

Propter quod memores estote quod aliquando vos gentes in carne qui dicimini praepotium ab ea quae dicitur circumcisio in carne manufacta

2:12. That you were at that time without Christ, being aliens from the conversation of Israel and strangers to the testament, having no hope of the promise and without God in this world.

Quia eratis illo in tempore sine Christo alienati a conversatione Israhel et hospites testamentorum promissionis spem non habentes et sine Deo in mundo

2:13. But now in Christ Jesus, you, who some time were afar off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ.

Nunc autem in Christo Iesu vos qui aliquando eratis longe facti estis prope in sanguine Christi

2:14. For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and breaking down the middle wall of partition, the enmities in his flesh:

Ipse est enim pax nostra qui fecit utraque unum et medium parietem maceriae solvens inimicitiam in carne sua

2:15. Making void the law of commandments contained in decrees: that he might make the two in himself into one new man, making peace,

Legem mandatorum decretis evacuans ut duos condat in semet ipsum in unum novum hominem faciens pacem

2:16. And might reconcile both to God in one body by the cross, killing the enmities in himself.

Et reconciliet ambos in uno corpore Deo per crucem interficiens inimicitiam in semet ipso

2:17. And coming, he preached peace to you that were afar off: and peace to them that were nigh.

Et veniens evangelizavit pacem vobis qui longe fuistis et pacem his qui prope

2:18. For by him we have access both in one Spirit to the Father.

Quoniam per ipsum habemus accessum ambo in uno Spiritu ad Patrem

2:19. Now therefore you are no more strangers and foreigners: but you are fellow citizens with the saints and the domestics of God,

Ergo iam non estis hospites et advenae sed estis cives sanctorum et domestici Dei

2:20. Built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone:

Superaedificati super fundamentum apostolorum et prophetarum ipso summo angulari lapide Christo Iesu

2:21. In whom all the building, being framed together, groweth up into an holy temple in the Lord.

In quo omnis aedificatio constructa crescit in templum sanctum in Domino

2:22. In whom you also are built together into an habitation of God in the Spirit.

In quo et vos coaedificamini in habitaculum Dei in Spiritu

Ephesians Chapter 3

The mystery hidden from former ages was discovered to the apostle, to be imparted to the Gentiles. He prays that they may be strengthened in God.

---

3:1. For this cause, I Paul, the prisoner of Jesus Christ, for you Gentiles:

Huius rei gratia ego Paulus vincetus Christi Iesu pro vobis gentibus

3:2. If yet you have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God which is given me towards you:

Si tamen audistis dispensationem gratiae Dei quae data est mihi in vobis

3:3. How that, according to revelation, the mystery has been made known to me, as I have written above in a few words:

Quoniam secundum revelationem notum mihi factum est sacramentum sicut supra scripsi in brevi

3:4. As you reading, may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ,

Prout potestis legentes intellegere prudentiam meam in mysterio Christi

3:5. Which in other generations was not known to the sons of men, as it is now revealed to his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit:

Quod aliis generationibus non est agnitum filiis hominum sicuti nunc revelatum est sanctis apostolis eius et prophetis in Spiritu

3:6. That the Gentiles should be fellow heirs and of the same body: and copartners of his promise in Christ Jesus, by the gospel

Esse gentes coheredes et concorporales et conparticipes promissionis in Christo Iesu per evangelium

3:7. Of which I am made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God, which is given to me according to the operation of his power.

Cuius factus sum minister secundum donum gratiae Dei quae data est mihi secundum operationem virtutis eius

3:8. To me, the least of all the saints, is given this grace, to preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ:

Mihi omnium sanctorum minimo data est gratia haec in gentibus evangelizare ininvestigabiles divitias Christi

3:9. And to enlighten all men, that they may see what is the dispensation of the mystery which hath been hidden from eternity in God who created all things:

Et inluminare omnes quae sit dispensatio sacramenti absconditi a saeculis in Deo qui omnia creavit

3:10. That the manifold wisdom of God may be made known to the principalities and powers in heavenly places through the church,

Ut innotescat principibus et potestatibus in caelestibus per ecclesiam multiformis sapientia Dei

3:11. According to the eternal purpose which he made in Christ Jesus our Lord:

Secundum praefinitionem saeculorum quam fecit in Christo Iesu Domino nostro

3:12. In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him.

In quo habemus fiduciam et accessum in confidentia per fidem eius

3:13. Wherefore I pray you not to faint at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

Propter quod peto ne deficiatis in tribulationibus meis pro vobis quae est gloria vestra

3:14. For this cause I bow my knees to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,
Huius rei gratia flecto genua mea ad Patrem Domini nostri Iesu Christi

3:15. Of whom all paternity in heaven and earth is named:
Ex quo omnis paternitas in caelis et in terra nominatur

All paternity... Or, the whole family. God is the Father, both of angels and men; whosoever besides is named father, is so named with subordination to him.

3:16. That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened by his Spirit with might unto the inward man:

Ut det vobis secundum divitias gloriae suae virtute corroborari per Spiritum eius in interiore homine

3:17. That Christ may dwell by faith in your hearts: that, being rooted and founded in charity,

Habitare Christum per fidem in cordibus vestris in caritate radicati et fundati

3:18. You may be able to comprehend, with all the saints, what is the breadth and length and height and depth,

Ut possitis comprehendere cum omnibus sanctis quae sit latitudo et longitudo et sublimitas et profundum

3:19. To know also the charity of Christ, which surpasseth all knowledge: that you may be filled unto all the fulness of God.

Scire etiam supereminentem scientiae caritatem Christi ut impleamini in omnem plenitudinem Dei

3:20. Now to him who is able to do all things more abundantly than we desire or understand, according to the power that worketh in us:

Ei autem qui potens est omnia facere superabundanter quam petimus aut intellegimus secundum virtutem quae operatur in nobis

3:21. To him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus, unto all generations, world without end. Amen.

Ipsi gloria in ecclesia et in Christo Iesu in omnes generationes saeculi saeculorum amen

Ephesians Chapter 4

He exhorts them to unity, to put on the new man, and to fly sin.

4:1. I therefore, a prisoner in the Lord, beseech you that you walk worthy of the vocation in which you are called:

Obsecro itaque vos ego vinctus in Domino ut digne ambuletis vocatione qua vocati estis

4:2. With all humility and mildness, with patience, supporting one another in charity.

Cum omni humilitate et mansuetudine cum patientia subportantes invicem in caritate

4:3. Careful to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

Solliciti servare unitatem spiritus in vinculo pacis

4:4. One body and one Spirit: as you are called in one hope of your calling.

Unum corpus et unus spiritus sicut vocati estis in una spe vocationis vestrae

4:5. One Lord, one faith, one baptism.

Unus Dominus una fides unum baptisma

4:6. One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in us all.

Unus Deus et Pater omnium qui super omnes et per omnia et in omnibus nobis

4:7. But to every one of us is given grace, according to the measure of the giving of Christ.

Unicuique autem nostrum data est gratia secundum mensuram donationis Christi

4:8. Wherefore he saith: Ascending on high, he led captivity captive: he gave gifts to men.

Propter quod dicit ascendens in altum captivam duxit captivitatem dedit dona hominibus

4:9. Now that he ascended, what is it, but because he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?

Quod autem ascendit quid est nisi quia et descendit primum in inferiores partes terrae

4:10. He that descended is the same also that ascended above all the heavens: that he might fill all things.

Qui descendit ipse est et qui ascendit super omnes caelos ut impleret omnia

4:11. And he gave some apostles, and some prophets, and other some evangelists, and other some pastors and doctors:

Et ipse dedit quosdam quidem apostolos quosdam autem prophetas alios vero evangelistas alios autem pastores et doctores

Gave some apostles--Until we all meet, etc... Here it is plainly expressed, that Christ has left in his church a perpetual succession of orthodox pastors and teachers, to preserve the faithful in unity and truth.

4:12. For the perfecting of the saints, for the word of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ:

Ad consummationem sanctorum in opus ministerii in aedificationem corporis Christi

4:13. Until we all meet into the unity of faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the age of the fulness of Christ:

Donec occurramus omnes in unitatem fidei et agnitionis Filii Dei in virum perfectum in mensuram aetatis plenitudinis Christi

4:14. That henceforth we be no more children tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the wickedness of men, by cunning craftiness by which they lie in wait to deceive.

Ut iam non simus parvuli fluctuantes et circumferamur omni vento doctrinae in nequitia hominum in astutia ad circumventionem erroris

4:15. But doing the truth in charity, we may in all things grow up in him who is the head, even Christ:
Veritatem autem facientes in caritate crescimus in illo per omnia qui est caput Christus

4:16. From whom the whole body, being compacted and fitly joined together, by what every joint supplieth, according to the operation in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body, unto the edifying of itself in charity.

Ex quo totum corpus compactum et conexum per omnem iuncturam subministrationis secundum operationem in mensuram uniuscuiusque membri augmentum corporis facit in aedificationem sui in caritate

4:17. This then I say and testify in the Lord: That henceforward you walk not as also the Gentiles walk in the vanity of their mind:

Hoc igitur dico et testificor in Domino ut iam non ambuletis sicut gentes ambulant in vanitate sensus sui

4:18. Having their understanding darkened: being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their hearts.

Tenebris obscuratum habentes intellectum alienati a vita Dei per ignorantiam quae est in illis propter caecitatem cordis ipsorum

4:19. Who despairing have given themselves up to lasciviousness, unto the working of all uncleanness, unto covetousness.

Qui desperantes semet ipsos tradiderunt inopudicitiae in operationem immunditiae omnis in avaritia

4:20. But you have not so learned Christ:

Vos autem non ita didicistis Christum

4:21. If so be that you have heard him and have been taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus:

Si tamen illum audistis et in ipso edocti estis sicut est veritas in Iesu

4:22. To put off, according to former conversation, the old man, who is corrupted according to the desire of error.

Deponere vos secundum pristinam conversationem veterem hominem qui corrumpitur secundum desideria erroris

4:23. And be renewed in spirit of your mind:

Renovamini autem spiritu mentis vestrae

4:24. And put on the new man, who according to God is created in justice and holiness of truth.

Et induite novum hominem qui secundum Deum creatus est in iustitia et sanctitate veritatis

4:25. Wherefore, putting away lying, speak ye the truth, every man with his neighbour. For we are members one of another.

Propter quod deponentes mendacium loquimini veritatem unusquisque cum proximo suo quoniam sumus invicem membra

4:26. Be angry: and sin not. Let not the sun go down upon your anger.

Irascimini et nolite peccare sol non occidat super iracundiam vestram

4:27. Give not place to the devil.

Nolite locum dare diabolo

4:28. He that stole, let him now steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have something to give to him that suffereth need.

Qui furabatur iam non furetur magis autem laboret operando manibus quod bonum est ut habeat unde tribuat necessitatem patienti

4:29. Let no evil speech proceed from your mouth: but that which is good, to the edification of faith: that it may administer grace to the hearers.

Omnis sermo malus ex ore vestro non procedat sed si quis bonus ad aedificationem oportunitatis ut det gratiam audientibus

4:30. And grieve not the holy Spirit of God: whereby you are sealed unto the day of redemption.

Et nolite contristare Spiritum Sanctum Dei in quo signati estis in die redemptionis

4:31. Let all bitterness and anger and indignation and clamour and blasphemy be put away from you, with all malice.

Omnis amaritudo et ira et indignatio et clamor et blasphemia tollatur a vobis cum omni malitia

4:32. And be ye kind one to another: merciful, forgiving one another, even as God hath forgiven you in Christ.

Estote autem invicem benigni misericordes donantes invicem sicut et Deus in Christo donavit nobis

Ephesians Chapter 5

Exhortations to a virtuous life. The mutual duties of man and wife, by the example of Christ and of the Church.

---

5:1. Be ye therefore followers of God, as most dear children:

Estote ergo imitatores Dei sicut filii carissimi

5:2. And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us and hath delivered himself for us, an oblation and a sacrifice to God for an odour of sweetness.

Et ambulate in dilectione sicut et Christus dilexit nos et tradidit se ipsum pro nobis oblationem et hostiam Deo in odorem suavitatis

5:3. But fornication and all uncleanness or covetousness, let it not so much as be named among you, as becometh saints:

Fornicatio autem et omnis immunditia aut avaritia nec nominetur in vobis sicut decet sanctos

5:4. Or obscenity or foolish talking or scurrility, which is to no purpose: but rather giving of thanks.

Aut turpitude aut stultiloquium aut scurrilitas quae ad rem non pertinent sed magis gratiarum actio

5:5. For know you this and understand: That no fornicator or unclean or covetous person (which is a serving of idols) hath inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

Hoc enim scitote intellegentes quod omnis fornicator aut immundus aut avarus quod est idolorum servitus non habet hereditatem in regno Christi et Dei

5:6. Let no man deceive you with vain words. For because of these things cometh the anger of God upon the children of unbelief.

Nemo vos seducat inanibus verbis propter haec enim venit ira Dei in filios diffidentiae

5:7. Be ye not therefore partakers with them.

Nolite ergo effici participes eorum

5:8. For you were heretofore darkness, but now light in the Lord. Walk then as children of the light.

Eratis enim aliquando tenebrae nunc autem lux in Domino ut filii lucis ambulate

5:9. For the fruit of the light is in all goodness and justice and truth:

Fructus enim lucis est in omni bonitate et iustitia et veritate

5:10. Proving what is well pleasing to God.

Probantes quid sit beneplacitum Deo

5:11. And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness: but rather reprove them.

Et nolite communicare operibus infructuosis tenebrarum magis autem et redarguite

5:12. For the things that are done by them in secret, it is a shame even to speak of.

Quae enim in occulto fiunt ab ipsis turpe est et dicere

5:13. But all things that are reprov'd are made manifest by the light: for all that is made manifest is light.

Omnia autem quae arguuntur a lumine manifestantur omne enim quod manifestatur lumen est

5:14. Wherefore he saith: Rise, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead: and Christ shall enlighten thee.

Propter quod dicit surge qui dormis et exsurge a mortuis et inluminabit tibi Christus

5:15. See therefore, brethren, how you walk circumspectly: not as unwise,

Videte itaque fratres quomodo caute ambuletis non quasi insipientes sed ut sapientes

5:16. But as wise: redeeming the time, because the days are evil.

Redimentes tempus quoniam dies mali sunt

5:17. Wherefore, become not unwise: but understanding what is the will of God.

Propterea nolite fieri imprudentes sed intellegentes quae sit voluntas Domini

5:18. And be not drunk with wine, wherein is luxury: but be ye filled with the Holy Spirit,

Et nolite inebriari vino in quo est luxuria sed implemini Spiritu

5:19. Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual canticles, singing and making melody in your hearts to the Lord:

Loquentes vobismet ipsis in psalmis et hymnis et canticis spiritalibus cantantes et psallentes in cordibus vestris Domino

5:20. Giving thanks always for all things, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to God and the Father:

Gratias agentes semper pro omnibus in nomine Domini nostri Iesu Christi Deo et Patri

5:21. Being subject one to another, in the fear of Christ.

Subiecti invicem in timore Christi

5:22. Let women be subject to their husbands, as to the Lord:

Mulieres viris suis subditae sint sicut Domino

5:23. Because the husband is the head of the wife, as Christ is the head of the church. He is the saviour of his body.

Quoniam vir caput est mulieris sicut Christus caput est ecclesiae ipse salvator corporis

5:24. Therefore as the church is subject to Christ: so also let the wives be to their husbands in all things.

Sed ut ecclesia subiecta est Christo ita et mulieres viris suis in omnibus

As the church is subject to Christ... The church then, according to St. Paul, is ever obedient to Christ, and can never fall from him, but remain faithful to him, unspotted and unchanged to the end of the world.

5:25. Husbands, love your wives, as Christ also loved the church and delivered himself up for it:

Viri diligite uxores sicut et Christus dilexit ecclesiam et se ipsum tradidit pro ea

5:26. That he might sanctify it, cleansing it by the laver of water in the word of life:

Ut illam sanctificaret mundans lavacro aquae in verbo

5:27. That he might present it to himself, a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

Ut exhiberet ipse sibi gloriosam ecclesiam non habentem maculam aut rugam aut aliquid eiusmodi sed ut sit sancta et immaculata

5:28. So also ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

Ita et viri debent diligere uxores suas ut corpora sua qui suam uxorem diligit se ipsum diligit

5:29. For no man ever hated his own flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, as also Christ doth the church:

Nemo enim umquam carnem suam odio habuit sed nutrit et fovet eam sicut et Christus ecclesiam

5:30. Because we are members of him, body, of his flesh and of his bones.

Quia membra sumus corporis eius de carne eius et de ossibus eius

5:31. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother: and shall cleave to his wife. And they shall be two in one flesh.

Propter hoc relinquet homo patrem et matrem suam et adherabit uxori suae et erunt duo in carne una

5:32. This is a great sacrament: but I speak in Christ and in the church.

Sacramentum hoc magnum est ego autem dico in Christo et in ecclesia

5:33. Nevertheless, let every one of you in particular love for his wife as himself: And let the wife fear her husband.

Verumtamen et vos singuli unusquisque suam uxorem sicut se ipsum diligat uxor autem ut timeat virum

Ephesians Chapter 6

Duties of children and servants. The Christian's armour.

---

6:1. Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is just.
Filiis oboedite parentibus vestris in Domino hoc enim est iustum

6:2. Honour thy father and thy mother, which is the first commandment with a promise:
Honora patrem tuum et matrem quod est mandatum primum in promissione

6:3. That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest be long lived upon earth.
Ut bene sit tibi et sis longevus super terram

6:4. And you, fathers, provoke not your children to anger: but bring them up in the discipline and correction of the Lord.
Et patres nolite ad iracundiam provocare filios vestros sed educate illos in disciplina et correptione Domini

6:5. Servants, be obedient to them that are your lords according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in the simplicity of your heart, as to Christ.
Servi oboedite dominis carnalibus cum timore et tremore in simplicitate cordis vestri sicut Christo

6:6. Not serving to the eye, as it were pleasing men: but, as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart.
Non ad oculum servientes quasi hominibus placentes sed ut servi Christi facientes voluntatem Dei ex animo

6:7. With a good will serving, as to the Lord, and not to men.
Cum bona voluntate servientes sicut Domino et non hominibus

6:8. Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man shall do, the same shall he receive from the Lord, whether he be bond or free.
Scientes quoniam unusquisque quodcumque fecerit bonum hoc percipiet a Domino sive servus sive liber

6:9. And you, masters, do the same things to them, forbearing threatenings: knowing that the Lord both of them and you is in heaven. And there is no respect of persons with him.
Et domini eadem facite illis remittentes minas scientes quia et illorum et vester Dominus est in caelis et personarum acceptio non est apud eum

6:10. Finally, brethren, be strengthened in the Lord and in the might of his power.
De cetero fratres confortamini in Domino et in potentia virtutis eius

6:11. Put you on the armour of God, that you may be able to stand against the deceits of the devil.
Induite vos arma Dei ut possitis stare adversus insidias diaboli

6:12. For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood; but against principalities and powers, against the rulers of the world of this darkness, against the spirits of wickedness in the high places.
Quia non est nobis conluctatio adversus carnem et sanguinem sed adversus principes et potestates adversus mundi rectores tenebrarum harum contra spiritalia nequitiae in caelestibus
High places, or heavenly places... That is to say, in the air, the lowest of the celestial regions; in which God permits these wicked spirits or fallen angels to wander.

6:13. Therefore, take unto you the armour of God, that you may be able to resist in the evil day and to stand in all things perfect.
Propterea accipite armaturam Dei ut possitis resistere in die malo et omnibus perfectis stare

6:14. Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth and having on the breastplate of justice:
State ergo succincti lumbos vestros in veritate et induti lorica iustitiae

6:15. And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace.

Et calciati pedes in praeparatione evangelii pacis

6:16. In all things taking the shield of faith, wherewith you may be able to extinguish all the fiery darts of the most wicked one.

In omnibus sumentes scutum fidei in quo possitis omnia tela nequissimi ignea extinguere

6:17. And take unto you the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit (which is the word of God).

Et galeam salutis adsumite et gladium Spiritus quod est verbum Dei

6:18. By all prayer and supplication praying at all times in the spirit: and in the same watching with all instance and supplication for all the saints:

Per omnem orationem et obsecrationem orantes omni tempore in Spiritu et in ipso vigilantes in omni instantia et obsecratione pro omnibus sanctis

6:19. And for me, that speech may be given me, that I may open my mouth with confidence, to make known the mystery of the gospel,

Et pro me ut detur mihi sermo in apertione oris mei cum fiducia notum facere mysterium evangelii

6:20. For which I am an ambassador in a chain: so that therein I may be bold to speak according as I ought.

Pro quo legatione fungor in catena ita ut in ipso audeam prout oportet me loqui

6:21. But that you also may know the things that concern me and what I am doing, Tychicus, my dearest brother and faithful minister in the Lord, will make known to you all things:

Ut autem et vos sciatis quae circa me sunt quid agam omnia nota vobis faciet Tychicus carissimus frater et fidelis minister in Domino

6:22. Whom I have sent to you for this same purpose: that you may know the things concerning us, and that he may comfort your hearts.

Quem misi ad vos in hoc ipsum ut cognoscatis quae circa nos sunt et consoletur corda vestra

6:23. Peace be to the brethren and charity with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Pax fratribus et caritas cum fide a Deo Patre et Domino Iesu Christo

6:24. Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in incorruption. Amen.

Gratia cum omnibus qui diligunt Dominum nostrum Iesum Christum in incorruptione

In incorruption... That is, with a pure and perfect love.

Esther

This Book takes its name from queen Esther, whose history is here recorded. The general opinion of almost all commentators on the Holy Scriptures makes Mardochai the writer of it: which also may be collected below from chap. 9 ver. 20. (For more information, see the article ESTHER in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Esther Chapter 1. King Assuerus maketh a great feast. Queen Vasthi being sent for refuseth to come: for which disobedience she is deposed.

Esther Chapter 2. Esther is advanced to be queen. Mardochai detecteth a plot against the king.

Esther Chapter 3. Aman, advanced by the king, is offended at Mardochai, and therefore procureth the king's decree to destroy the whole nation of the Jews.

Esther Chapter 4. Mardochai desireth Esther to petition the king for the Jews. They join in fasting and prayer.

Esther Chapter 5. Esther is graciously received: she inviteth the king and Aman to dinner, Aman prepareth a gibbet for Mardochai.

Esther Chapter 6. The king hearing of the good service done him by Mardochai, commandeth Aman to honour him next to the king, which he performeth.

Esther Chapter 7. Esther's petition for herself and her people: Aman is hanged upon the gibbet he had prepared for Mardochai.

Esther Chapter 8. Mardochai is advanced: Aman's letters are reversed.

Esther Chapter 9. The Jews kill their enemies that would have killed them. The days of Phurim are appointed to be kept holy.

Esther Chapter 10. Assuerus's greatness. Mardochai's dignity.

Esther Chapter 11. The dream of Mardochai, which in the ancient Greek and Latin Bibles was into the beginning of the book, but was detached by St. Jerome, and put in this place.

Esther Chapter 12. Mardochai detects the conspiracy of the two eunuchs.

Esther Chapter 13. A copy of a letter sent by Aman to destroy the Jews. Mardochai's prayer for the people.

Esther Chapter 14. The prayer of Esther for herself and her people.

Esther Chapter 15. Esther comes into the king's presence: she is terrified, but God turns his heart.

Esther Chapter 16. A copy of the king's letter in favour of the Jews.

Esther Chapter 1

King Assuerus maketh a great feast. Queen Vasthi being sent for refuseth to come: for which disobedience she is deposed.

---

1:1. In the days of Assuerus, who reigned from India to Ethiopia over a hundred and twenty seven provinces:

In diebus Asueri qui regnavit ab India usque Aethiopiam super centum viginti septem provincias

1:2. When he sat on the throne of his kingdom, the city Susan was the capital of his kingdom.

Quando sedit in solio regni sui Susa civitas regni eius exordium fuit

1:3. Now in the third year of his reign he made a great feast for all the princes, and for his servants, for the most mighty of the Persians, and the nobles of the Medes, and the governors of the provinces in his sight, Tertio igitur anno imperii sui fecit grande convivium cunctis principibus et pueris suis fortissimis Persarum et Medorum inclitis et praefectis provinciarum coram se

1:4. That he might show the riches of the glory of his kingdom, and the greatness, and boasting of his power, for a long time, to wit, for a hundred and fourscore days.

Ut ostenderet divitias gloriae regni sui ac magnitudinem atque iactantiam potentiae suae multo tempore centum videlicet et octoginta diebus

1:5. And when the days of the feast were expired, he invited all the people that were found in Susan, from the greatest to the least: and commanded a feast to be made seven days in the court of the garden, and of the wood, which was planted by the care and the hand of the king.

Cumque implerentur dies convivii invitavit omnem populum qui inventus est Susis a maximo usque ad minimum et septem diebus iussit convivium praeparari in vestibulo horti et nemoris quod regio cultu et manu consitum erat

1:6. And there were hung up on every side sky coloured, and green, and violet hangings, fastened with cords of silk, and of purple, which were put into rings of ivory, and were held up with marble pillars. The beds also were of gold and silver, placed in order upon a floor paved with porphyry and white marble: which was embellished with painting of wonderful variety.

Et pendebant ex omni parte tentoria aerii coloris et carpasini et hyacinthini sustentata funibus byssinis atque purpureis qui eburneis circulis inserti erant et columnis marmoreis fulciebantur lectuli quoque aurei et argentei super pavimentum zmaragdino et pario stratum lapide dispositi erant quod mira varietate pictura decorabat

1:7. And they that were invited, drank in golden cups, and the meats were brought in divers vessels one after another. Wine also in abundance and of the best was presented, as was worthy of a king's magnificence.

Bibebant autem qui invitati erant aureis poculis et aliis atque aliis vasis cibi inferebantur vinum quoque ut magnificentia regia dignum erat abundans et praecipuum ponebatur

1:8. Neither was there any one to compel them to drink that were not willing, but as the king had appointed, who set over every table one of his nobles, that every man might take what he would.

Nec erat qui nolentes cogeret ad bibendum sed sic rex statuerat praeponens mensis singulos de principibus suis ut sumeret unusquisque quod vellet

1:9. Also Vasthi the queen made a feast for the women in the palace, where king Assuerus was used to dwell.

Vasthi quoque regina fecit convivium feminarum in palatio ubi rex Asuerus manere consueverat

1:10. Now on the seventh day, when the king was merry, and after very much drinking was well warmed with wine, he commanded Mauman, and Bazatha, and Harbona, and Bagatha, and Abgatha, and Zethar, and Charcas, the seven eunuchs that served in his presence,

Itaque die septimo cum rex esset hilarior et post nimiam potionem incaluisset mero praecepit Mauman et Bazatha et Arbona et Bagatha et Abgatha et Zarath et Charchas septem eunuchis qui in conspectu eius ministrabant

1:11. To bring in queen Vasthi before the king, with the crown set upon her head, to show her beauty to all the people and the princes: for she was exceeding beautiful.

Ut introducerent reginam Vasthi coram rege posito super caput eius diademate et ostenderet cunctis populis et principibus illius pulchritudinem erat enim pulchra valde

1:12. But she refused, and would not come at the king's commandment, which he had signified to her by the eunuchs. Whereupon the king, being angry, and inflamed with a very great fury,

Quae rennuit et ad regis imperium quod per eunuchos mandaverat venire contempsit unde iratus rex et nimio furore succensus

1:13. Asked the wise men, who according to the custom of the kings, were always near his person, and all he did was by their counsel, who knew the laws, and judgments of their forefathers:

Interrogavit sapientes qui ex more regio semper ei aderant et illorum faciebat cuncta consilio scientium leges ac iura maiorum

1:14. (Now the chief and nearest him were, Charsena, and Sethar, and Admatha, and Tharsis, and Mares, and Marsana, and Mamuchan, seven princes of the Persians and of the Medes, who saw the face of the king, and were used to sit first after him:)

Erant autem primi et proximi Charsena et Sethar et Admatha et Tharsis et Mares et Marsana et Mamucha septem duces Persarum atque Medorum qui videbant faciem regis et primi post eum residere soliti erant

1:15. What sentence ought to pass upon Vasthi the queen, who had refused to obey the commandment of king Assuerus, which he had sent to her by the eunuchs?

Cui sententiae Vasthi regina subiaceret quae Asueri regis imperium quod per eunuchos mandaverat facere noluisset

1:16. And Mamuchan answered, in the hearing of the king and the princes: Queen Vasthi hath not only injured the king, but also all the people and princes that are in all the provinces of king Assuerus.

Responditque Mamuchan audiente rege atque principibus non solum regem laesit regina Vasthi sed omnes principes et populos qui sunt in cunctis provinciis regis Asueri

1:17. For this deed of the queen will go abroad to all women, so that they will despise their husbands, and will say: King Assuerus commanded that queen Vasthi should come in to him, and she would not.

Egredietur enim sermo reginae ad omnes mulieres ut contemnant viros suos et dicant rex Asuerus iussit ut regina Vasthi intraret ad eum et illa noluit

1:18. And by this example all the wives of the princes of the Persians and the Medes will slight the commandments of their husbands: wherefore the king's indignation is just.

Atque hoc exemplo omnes principum coniuges Persarum atque Medorum parvipendent imperia maritorum unde regis iusta est indignatio

1:19. If it please thee, let an edict go out from thy presence, and let it be written according to the law of the Persians and of the Medes, which must not be altered, that Vasthi come in no more to the king, but another, that is better than her, be made queen in her place.

Et si tibi placet egredietur edictum a facie tua et scribatur iuxta legem Persarum atque Medorum quam praeteriri inlicitum est ut nequaquam ultra Vasthi ingrediatur ad regem sed regnum illius altera quae melior illa est accipiat

1:20. And let this be published through all the provinces of thy empire, (which is very wide), and let all wives, as well of the greater as of the lesser, give honour to their husbands.

Et hoc in omne quod latissimum est provinciarum tuarum divulgatur imperium et cunctae uxores tam maiorum quam minorum deferant maritis suis

1:21. His counsel pleased the king, and the princes: and the king did according to the counsel of Mamuchan.

Placuit consilium eius regi et principibus fecitque rex iuxta consultum Mamuchan

1:22. And he sent letters to all the provinces of his kingdom, as every nation could hear and read, in divers languages and characters, that the husbands should be rulers and masters in their houses: and that this should be published to every people.

Et misit epistulas ad universas provincias regni sui ut quaeque gens audire et legere poterat diversis linguis et litteris esse viros principes ac maiores in domibus suis et hoc per cunctos populos divulgari

Esther Chapter 2

Esther is advanced to be queen. Mardochai detecteth a plot against the king.

---

2:1. After this, when the wrath of king Assuerus was appeased, he remembered Vasthi, and what she had done and what she had suffered:

His itaque gestis postquam regis Asueri deferbuerat indignatio recordatus est Vasthi et quae fecisset vel quae passa esset

2:2. And the king's servants and his officers said: Let young women be sought for the king, virgins and beautiful,

Dixeruntque pueri regis ac ministri eius quaerantur regi puellae virgines ac speciosae

2:3. And let some persons be sent through all the provinces to look for beautiful maidens and virgins: and let them bring them to the city of Susan, and put them into the house of the women under the hand of Egeus the eunuch, who is the overseer and keeper of the king's women: and let them receive women's ornaments, and other things necessary for their use.

Et mittantur qui considerent per uniuersas provincias puellas speciosas et virgines et adducant eas ad civitatem Susan et tradant in domum feminarum sub manu Aegaei eunuchi qui est praepositus et custos mulierum regiarum et accipiant mundum muliebrem et cetera ad usus necessaria

2:4. And whosoever among them all shall please the king's eyes, let her be queen instead of Vasthi. The word pleased the king: and he commanded it should be done as they had suggested.

Et quaecumque inter omnes oculis regis placuerit ipsa regnet pro Vasthi placuit sermo regi et ita ut suggesserant iussit fieri

2:5. There was a man in the city of Susan, a Jew, named Mardochai, the son of Jair, the son of Semei, the son of Cis, of the race of Jemini,

Erat vir iudaeus in Susis civitate vocabulo Mardocheus filius Iair filii Semei filii Cis de stirpe Iemini

2:6. Who had been carried away from Jerusalem at the time that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon carried away Jechonias king of Juda,

Qui translatus fuerat de Hierusalem eo tempore quo Iechoniam regem Iuda Nabuchodonosor rex Babylonis transtulerat

2:7. And he had brought up his brother's daughter Edissa, who by another name was called Esther: now she had lost both her parents: and was exceeding fair and beautiful. And her father and mother being dead, Mardochai adopted her for his daughter.

Qui fuit nutricius filiae fratris sui Edessae quae altero nomine Hester vocabatur et utrumque parentem amiserat pulchra nimis et decora facie mortuisque patre eius ac matre Mardocheus sibi eam adoptavit in filiam

2:8. And when the king's ordinance was noised abroad, and according to his commandment many beautiful virgins were brought to Susan, and were delivered to Egeus the eunuch: Esther also among the rest of the maidens was delivered to him to be kept in the number of the women.

Cumque percrebuisset regis imperium et iuxta mandata illius multae virgines pulchrae adducerentur Susan et Aegaeo traderentur eunucho Hester quoque inter ceteras puellas ei tradita est ut servaretur in numero feminarum

2:9. And she pleased him, and found favour in his sight. And he commanded the eunuch to hasten the women's ornaments, and to deliver to her part, and seven of the most beautiful maidens of the king's house, and to adorn and deck out both her and her waiting maids.

Quae placuit ei et invenit gratiam in conspectu illius ut adceleraret mundum muliebrem et traderet ei partes suas et septem puellas speciosissimas de domo regis et tam ipsam quam pedisequas eius ornaret atque excoleret

2:10. And she would not tell him her people nor her country. For Mardochai had charged her to say nothing at all of that:

Quae noluit indicare ei populum et patriam suam Mardocheus enim praeceperat ut de hac re omnino reticeret

2:11. And he walked every day before the court of the house, in which the chosen virgins were kept, having a care for Esther's welfare, and desiring to know what would befall her.

Qui deambulabat cotidie ante vestibulum domus in qua electae virgines servabantur curam agens salutis Hester et scire volens quid ei accideret

2:12. Now when every virgin's turn came to go in to the king, after all had been done for setting them off to advantage, it was the twelfth month: so that for six months they were anointed with oil of myrrh, and for other six months they used certain perfumes and sweet spices.

Cum autem venisset tempus singularum per ordinem puellarum ut intrarent ad regem expletis omnibus quae ad cultum muliebrem pertinebant mensis duodecimus vertebatur ita dumtaxat ut sex menses oleo unguerentur myrtino et aliis sex quibusdam pigmentis et aromatibus uterentur

2:13. And when they were going in to the king, whatsoever they asked to adorn themselves they received: and being decked out, as it pleased them, they passed from the chamber of the women to the king's chamber.

Ingredientesque ad regem quicquid postulassent ad ornatum pertinens accipiebant et ut eis placuerat compositae de triclinio feminarum ad regis cubiculum transiebant

2:14. And she that went in at evening, came out in the morning, and from thence she was conducted to the second house, that was under the hand of Susagaz the eunuch, who had the charge over the king's concubines: neither could she return any more to the king, unless the king desired it, and had ordered her by name to come.

Et quae intraverat vespere egrediebatur mane atque inde in secundas aedes deducebatur quae sub manu Sasagazi eunuchi erant qui concubinis regis praesidebat nec habebat potestatem ad regem ultra redeundi nisi voluisset rex et eam venire iussisset ex nomine

2:15. And as the time came orderly about, the day was at hand, when Esther, the daughter of Abihail the brother of Mardochai, whom he had adopted for his daughter, was to go in to the king. But she sought not women's ornaments, but whatsoever Egeus the eunuch the keeper of the virgins had a mind, he gave her to adorn her. For she was exceeding fair, and her incredible beauty made her appear agreeable and amiable in the eyes of all.

Evoluto autem tempore per ordinem instabat dies quo Hester filia Abiahil fratris Mardochei quam sibi adoptaverat in filiam intrare deberet ad regem quae non quaesivit muliebrem cultum sed quaecumque voluit Aegaeus eunuchus custos virginum haec ei ad ornatum dedit erat enim formosa valde et incredibili pulchritudine omnium oculis gratiosa et amabilis videbatur

2:16. So she was brought to the chamber of king Assuerus the tenth month, which is called Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.

Ducta est itaque ad cubiculum regis Asueri mense decimo qui vocatur tebeth septimo anno regni eius

2:17. And the king loved her more than all the women, and she had favour and kindness before him above all the women, and he set the royal crown on her head, and made her queen instead of Vasthi.

Et amavit eam rex plus quam omnes mulieres habuitque gratiam et misericordiam coram eo super omnes mulieres et posuit diadema regni in capite eius fecitque eam regnare in loco Vasthi

2:18. And he commanded a magnificent feast to be prepared for all the princes, and for his servants, for the marriage and wedding of Esther, And he gave rest to all the provinces, and bestowed gifts according to princely magnificence.

Et iussit convivium praeparari permagnificum cunctis principibus et servis suis pro coniunctione et nuptiis Hester et dedit quietem in universis provinciis ac dona largitus est iuxta magnificentiam principalem

2:19. And when the virgins were sought the second time, and gathered together, Mardochai stayed at the king's gate,

Cumque et secundo quaererentur virgines et congregarentur Mardocheus manebat ad regis ianuam

2:20. Neither had Esther as yet declared her country and people, according to his commandment. For whatsoever he commanded, Esther observed: and she did all things in the same manner as she was wont at that time when he brought her up a little one.

Necdumque prodiderat Hester patriam et populum suum iuxta mandatum eius quicquid enim ille praecipiebat observabat Hester et ita cuncta faciebat ut eo tempore solita erat quo eam parvulam nutriebat

2:21. At that time, therefore, when Mardochai abode at the king's gate, Bagathan and Thares, two of the king's eunuchs, who were porters, and presided in the first entry of the palace, were angry: and they designed to rise up against the king, and to kill him.

Eo igitur tempore quo Mardocheus ad regis ianuam morabatur irati sunt Bagathan et Thares duo eunuchi regis qui ianitores erant et in primo palatii limine praesidebant volueruntque insurgere in regem et occidere eum

2:22. And Mardochai had notice of it, and immediately he told it to queen Esther: and she to the king in Mardochai's name, who had reported the thing unto her.

Quod Mardocheum non latuit statimque nuntiavit reginae Hester et illa regi ex nomine Mardochei qui ad se rem detulerat

2:23. It was inquired into, and found out: and they were both hanged on a gibbet. And it was put in the histories, and recorded in the chronicles before the king.

Quaesitum est et inventum et adpensus uterque eorum in patibulo mandatumque historiis et annalibus traditum coram rege

Esther Chapter 3

Aman, advanced by the king, is offended at Mardochai, and therefore procureth the king's decree to destroy the whole nation of the Jews.

---

3:1. After these things, king Assuerus advanced Aman, the son of Amadathi, who was of the race of Agag: and he set his throne above all the princes that were with him.

Post haec rex Asuerus exaltavit Aman filium Amadathi qui erat de stirpe Agag et posuit solium eius super omnes principes quos habebat

3:2. And all the king's servants, that were at the doors of the palace, bent their knees, and worshipped Aman: for so the emperor had commanded them, only Mardochai did not bend his knee, nor worship him.

Cunctique servi regis qui in foribus palatii versabantur flectebant genu et adorabant Aman sic enim eis praeceperat imperator solus Mardocheus non flectebat genu neque adorabat eum

3:3. And the king's servants that were chief at the doors of the palace, said to him: Why dost thou alone not observe the king's commandment?

Cui dixerunt regis pueri qui ad fores palatii praesidebant cur praeter ceteros non observas mandata regis

3:4. And when they were saying this often, and he would not hearken to them, they told Aman, desirous to know whether he would continue in his resolution: for he had told them that he was a Jew.

Cumque hoc crebrius dicerent et ille nollet audire nuntiaverunt Aman scire cupientes utrum perseveraret in sententia dixerat enim eis se esse Iudaeum

3:5. Now when Aman had heard this, and had proved by experience that Mardochai did not bend his knee to him, nor worship him, he was exceeding angry.

Quod cum audisset Aman et experimento probasset quod Mardocheus non sibi flecteret genu nec se adoraret iratus est valde

3:6. And he counted it nothing to lay his hands upon Mardochai alone: for he had heard that he was of the nation of the Jews, and he chose rather to destroy all the nation of the Jews that were in the kingdom of Assuerus.

Et pro nihilo duxit in unum Mardocheum mittere manus suas audierat enim quod esset gentis iudaeae magisque voluit omnem Iudaeorum qui erant in regno Asueri perdere nationem

3:7. In the first month (which is called Nisan) in the twelfth year of the reign of Assuerus, the lot was cast into an urn, which in Hebrew is called Phur, before Aman, on what day and what month the nation of the Jews should be destroyed: and there came out the twelfth month, which is called Adar.

Mense primo cuius vocabulum est nisan anno duodecimo regni Asueri missa est sors in urnam quae hebraice dicitur phur coram Aman quo die et quo mense gens Iudaeorum deberet interfici et exivit mensis duodecimus qui vocatur adar

3:8. And Aman said to king Assuerus: There is a people scattered through all the provinces of thy kingdom, and separated one from another, that use new laws and ceremonies, and moreover despise the king's ordinances: and thou knowest very well that it is not expedient for thy kingdom that they should grow insolent by impunity.

Dixitque Aman regi Asuero est populus per omnes provincias regni tui dispersus et a se mutuo separatus novis utens legibus et caerimoniis insuper et regis scita contemnens et optime nosti quod non expediat regno tuo ut insolescat per licentiam

3:9. If it please thee, decree that they may be destroyed, and I will pay ten thousand talents to thy treasurers.

Si tibi placet decerne ut pereat et decem milia talentorum adpendam arcariis gazae tuae

3:10. And the king took the ring that he used, from his own hand, and gave it to Aman, the son of Amadathi of the race of Agag, the enemy of the Jews,

Tulit ergo rex anulum quo utebatur de manu sua et dedit eum Aman filio Amadathi de progenie Agag hosti Iudaeorum

3:11. And he said to him: As to the money which thou promisest, keep it for thyself: and as to the people, do with them as seemeth good to thee.

Dixitque ad eum argentum quod polliceris tuum sit de populo age quod tibi placet

3:12. And the king's scribes were called in the first month Nisan, on the thirteenth day of the same month: and they wrote, as Aman had commanded, to all the king's lieutenants, and to the judges of the provinces, and of divers nations, as every nation could read, and hear according to their different languages, in the name of king Assuerus: and the letters, sealed with his ring,

Vocatique sunt scribae regis mense primo nisan tertiadecima die eius et scriptum est ut iusserat Aman ad omnes satrapas regis et iudices provinciarum diversarumque gentium ut quaeque gens legere poterat et audire pro varietate linguarum ex nomine regis Asueri et litterae ipsius signatae anulo

3:13. Were sent by the king's messengers to all provinces, to kill and destroy all the Jews, both young and old, little children, and women, in one day, that is, on the thirteenth of the twelfth month, which is called Adar, and to make a spoil of their goods.

Missae sunt per cursores regis ad universas provincias ut occiderent atque delerent omnes Iudaeos a puero usque ad senem parvulos et mulieres uno die hoc est tertiodecimo mensis duodecimi qui vocatur adar et bona eorum diriperent

3:14. And the contents of the letters were to this effect, that all provinces might know and be ready against that day.

Summa autem epistularum haec fuit ut omnes provinciae scirent et pararent se ad praedictam diem

3:15. The couriers that were sent made haste to fulfil the king's commandment. And immediately the edict was hung up in Susan, the king and Aman feasting together, and all the Jews that were in the city weeping.

Festinabant cursores qui missi erant explere regis imperium statimque in Susis pependit edictum rege et Aman celebrante convivium et cunctis qui in urbe erant flentibus

Esther Chapter 4

Mardochai desireth Esther to petition the king for the Jews. They join in fasting and prayer.

---

4:1. Now when Mardochai had heard these things, he rent his garments, and put on sackcloth, strewing ashes on his head and he cried with a loud voice in the street in the midst of the city, showing the anguish of his mind.

Quae cum audisset Mardocheus scidit vestimenta sua et indutus est sacco spargens cinerem capiti et in platea mediae civitatis voce magna clamabat ostendens amaritudinem animi sui

4:2. And he came lamenting in this manner even to the gate of the palace: for no one clothed with sackcloth might enter the king's court.

Et hoc heulatu usque ad fores palatii gradiens non enim erat licitum indutum sacco aulam regis intrare

4:3. And in all provinces, towns, and places, to which the king's cruel edict was come, there was great mourning among the Jews, with fasting, wailing, and weeping, many using sackcloth and ashes for their bed.

In omnibus quoque provinciis oppidis ac locis ad quae crudele regis dogma pervenerat planctus ingens erat apud Iudaeos ieiunium ululatus et fletus sacco et cinere multis pro strato utentibus

4:4. Then Esther's maids and her eunuchs went in, and told her. And when she heard it she was in a consternation and she sent a garment, to clothe him, and to take away the sackcloth: but he would not receive it.

Ingressae sunt autem puellae Hester et eunuchi nuntiaveruntque ei quod audiens consternata est et misit vestem ut ablato sacco induerent eum quam accipere noluit

4:5. And she called for Athach the eunuch, whom the king had appointed to attend upon her, and she commanded him to go to Mardochai, and learn of him why he did this.

Accitoque Athac eunucho quem rex ministrum ei dederat praecepit ut iret ad Mardocheum et disceret ab eo cur hoc faceret

4:6. And Athach going out went to Mardochai, who was standing in the street of the city, before the palace gate:

Egressusque Athac ivit ad Mardocheum stantem in platea civitatis ante ostium palatii

4:7. And Mardochai told him all that had happened, how Aman had promised to pay money into the king's treasures, to have the Jews destroyed.

Qui indicavit ei omnia quae acciderant quomodo Aman promississet ut in thesauros regis pro Iudaeorum nece inferret argentum

4:8. He gave him also a copy of the edict which was hanging up in Susan, that he should show it to the queen, and admonish her to go in to the king, and to entreat him for her people.

Exemplarque edicti quod pendebat in Susis dedit ei ut reginae ostenderet et moneret eam ut intraret ad regem et deprecaretur eum pro populo suo

4:9. And Athach went back and told Esther all that Mardochai had said.

Regressus Athac nuntiavit Hester omnia quae Mardocheus dixerat

4:10. She answered him, and bade him say to Mardochai:

Quae respondit ei et iussit ut diceret Mardocheo

4:11. All the king's servants, and all the provinces that are under his dominion, know, that whosoever, whether man or woman, cometh into the king's inner court, who is not called for, is immediately to be put to death without any delay: except the king shall hold out the golden sceptre to him, in token of clemency, that so he may live. How then can I go in to the king, who for these thirty days now have not been called unto him?

Omnes servi regis et cunctae quae sub ditione eius sunt norunt provinciae quod sive vir sive mulier invocatus interius atrium regis intraverit absque ulla cunctatione statim interficiatur nisi forte rex auream virgam ad eum tetenderit pro signo clementiae atque ita possit vivere ego igitur quomodo ad regem intrare potero quae triginta iam diebus non sum vocata ad eum

4:12. And when Mardochai had heard this,
Quod cum audisset Mardocheus

4:13. He sent word to Esther again, saying: Think not that thou mayst save thy life only, because thou art in the king's house, more than all the Jews:
Rursum mandavit Hester dicens ne putes quod animam tuam tantum liberes quia in domo regis es prae cunctis Iudaeis

4:14. For if thou wilt now hold thy peace, the Jews shall be delivered by some other occasion: and thou, and thy father's house shall perish. And who knoweth whether thou art not therefore come to the kingdom, that thou mightest be ready in such a time as this?
Si enim nunc silueris per aliam occasionem liberabuntur Iudaei et tu et domus patris tui peribitis et quis novit utrum idcirco ad regnum veneris ut in tali tempore parareris

4:15. And again Esther sent to Mardochai in these words:
Rursumque Hester haec Mardocheo verba mandavit

4:16. Go, and gather together all the Jews whom thou shalt find in Susan, and pray ye for me. Neither eat nor drink for three days and three nights: and I with my handmaids will fast in like manner, and then I will go in to the king, against the law, not being called, and expose myself to death and to danger.
Vade et congrega omnes Iudaeos quos in Susis reppereris et orate pro me non comedatis et non bibatis tribus diebus ac noctibus et ego cum ancillulis meis similiter ieiunabo et tunc ingrediar ad regem contra legem faciens invocata tradensque me morti et periculo

4:17. So Mardochai went, and did all that Esther had commanded him.
Ivit itaque Mardocheus et fecit omnia quae ei Hester praeceperat

Esther Chapter 5

Esther is graciously received: she inviteth the king and Aman to dinner, Aman prepareth a gibbet for Mardochai.

---

5:1. And on the third day Esther put on her royal apparel, and stood in the inner court of the king's house, over against the king's hall: now he sat upon his throne in the hall of the palace, over against the door of the house.

Die autem tertio induta est Hester regalibus vestimentis et stetit in atrio domus regiae quod erat interius contra basilicam regis at ille sedebat super solium in consistorio palatii contra ostium domus

5:2. And when he saw Esther the queen standing, she pleased his eyes, and he held out toward her the golden sceptre, which he held in his hand and she drew near, and kissed the top of his sceptre.

Cumque vidisset Hester reginam stantem placuit oculis eius et extendit contra eam virgam auream quam tenebat manu quae accedens osculata est summitatem virgae eius

5:3. And the king said to her: What wilt thou, queen Esther? what is thy request? if thou shouldst even ask one half of the kingdom, it shall be given to thee.

Dixitque ad eam rex quid vis Hester regina quae est petitio tua etiam si dimidiam regni partem petieris dabitur tibi

5:4. But she answered: If it please the king, I beseech thee to come to me this day, and Aman with thee to the banquet which I have prepared.

At illa respondit si regi placet obsecro ut venias ad me hodie et Aman tecum ad convivium quod paravi

5:5. And the king said forthwith: Call ye Aman quickly, that he may obey Esther's will. So the king and Aman came to the banquet which the queen had prepared for them.

Statimque rex vocate inquit cito Aman ut Hester oboediat voluntati venerunt itaque rex et Aman ad convivium quod eis regina paraverat

5:6. And the king said to her, after he had drunk wine plentifully: What dost thou desire should be given thee? and for what thing askest thou? although thou shouldst ask the half of my kingdom, thou shalt have it.

Dixitque ei rex postquam vinum biberat abundanter quid petis ut detur tibi et pro qua re postulas etiam si dimidiam partem regni mei petieris inpetrabis

5:7. And Esther answered: My petition and request is this:

Cui respondit Hester petitio mea et preces istae sunt

5:8. If I have found favour in the king's sight, and if it please the king to give me what I ask, and to fulfil my petition: let the king and Aman come to the banquet which I have prepared them, and to morrow I will open my mind to the king.

Si inveni gratiam in conspectu regis et si regi placet ut det mihi quod postulo et meam impleat petitionem veniat rex et Aman ad convivium quod paravi eis et cras regi aperiam voluntatem meam

5:9. So Aman went out that day joyful and merry. And when he saw Mardochai sitting before the gate of the palace, and that he not only did not rise up to honour him, but did not so much as move from the place where he sat, he was exceedingly angry:

Egressus est itaque illo die Aman laetus et alacer cumque vidisset Mardocheum sedentem ante fores palatii et non solum non adsurrexisse sibi sed nec motum quidem de loco sessionis suae indignatus est valde

5:10. But dissembling his anger, and returning into his house, he called together to him his friends, and Zares his wife:

Et dissimulata ira reversus in domum suam convocavit ad se amicos et Zares uxorem suam

5:11. And he declared to them the greatness of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and with how great glory the king had advanced him above all his princes and servants.

Et exposuit illis magnitudinem divitiarum suarum filiorumque turbam et quanta eum gloria super omnes principes et servos suos rex elevasset

5:12. And after this he said: Queen Esther also hath invited no other to the banquet with the king, but me: and with her I am also to dine to morrow with the king:

Et post haec ait regina quoque Hester nullum alium vocavit cum rege ad convivium praeter me apud quam etiam cras cum rege pransurus sum

5:13. And whereas I have all these things, I think I have nothing, so long as I see Mardochai the Jew sitting before the king's gate.

Et cum haec omnia habeam nihil me habere puto quamdiu videro Mardocheum Iudaeum sedentem ante fores regias

5:14. Then Zares his wife, and the rest of his friends answered him: Order a great beam to be prepared, fifty cubits high, and in the morning speak to the king, that Mardochai may be hanged upon it, and so thou shalt go full of joy with the king to the banquet. The counsel pleased him, and he commanded a high gibbet to be prepared.

Responderuntque ei Zares uxor eius et ceteri amici iube parari excelsam trabem habentem altitudinem quinquaginta cubitos et dic mane regi ut adpendatur super eam Mardocheus et sic ibis cum rege laetus ad convivium placuit ei consilium et iussit excelsam parari crucem

Esther Chapter 6

The king hearing of the good service done him by Mardochai, commandeth Aman to honour him next to the king, which he performeth.

---

6:1. That night the king passed without sleep, and he commanded the histories and chronicles of former times to be brought him. And when they were reading them before him,
Noctem illam rex duxit insomnem iussitque adferri sibi historias et annales priorum temporum qui cum illo praesente legerentur

6:2. They came to that place where it was written, how Mardochai had discovered the treason of Bagathan and Thares the eunuchs, who sought to kill king Assuerus.
Ventum est ad eum locum ubi scriptum erat quomodo nuntiasset Mardocheus insidias Bagathan et Thares eunuchorum regem Asuerum iugulare cupientium

6:3. And when the king heard this, he said: What honour and reward hath Mardochai received for this fidelity? His servants and ministers said to him: He hath received no reward at all.
Quod cum rex audisset ait quid pro hac fide honoris ac praemii Mardocheus consecutus est dixeruntque ei servi illius ac ministri nihil omnino mercedis accepit

No reward at all... He received some presents from the king (Esther 12:5); but these were so inconsiderable in the opinion of the courtiers, that they esteemed them as nothing at all.

6:4. And the king said immediately: Who is in the court? for Aman was coming in to the inner court of the king's house, to speak to the king, that he might order Mardochai to be hanged upon the gibbet, which was prepared for him.
Statimque rex quis est inquit in atrio Aman quippe interius atrium domus regiae intraverat ut suggereret regi et iuberet Mardocheum adfigi patibulo quod ei fuerat praeparatum

6:5. The servants answered: Aman standeth in the court, and the king said: Let him come in.
Responderunt pueri Aman stat in atrio dixitque rex ingrediatur

6:6. And when he was come in, he said to him: What ought to be done to the man whom the king is desirous to honour? But Aman thinking in his heart, and supposing that the king would honour no other but himself,
Cumque esset ingressus ait illi quid debet fieri viro quem rex honorare desiderat cogitans Aman in corde suo et reputans quod nullum alium rex nisi se vellet honorare

6:7. Answered: The man whom the king desireth to honour,
Respondit homo quem rex honorare cupit

6:8. Ought to be clothed with the king's apparel, and to be set upon the horse that the king rideth upon, and to have the royal crown upon his head,
Debet indui vestibus regiis et inponi super equum qui de sella regis est et accipere regium diadema super caput suum

6:9. And let the first of the king's princes and nobles hold his horse, and going through the street of the city, proclaim before him and say: Thus shall he be honoured, whom the king hath a mind to honour.
Et primus de regis principibus ac tyrannis teneat equum eius et per plateam civitatis incedens clamet ac dicat sic honorabitur quemcumque rex voluerit honorare

6:10. And the king said to him: Make haste and take the robe and the horse, and do as thou hast spoken to Mardochai the Jew, who sitteth before the gates of the palace. Beware thou pass over any of those things which thou hast spoken.

Dixitque ei rex festina et sumpta stola et equo fac ita ut locutus es Mardocheo Iudaeo qui sedet ante fores palatii cave ne quicquam de his quae locutus es praetermittas

6:11. So Aman took the robe and the horse, and arraying Mardochai in the street of the city, and setting him on the horse, went before him, and proclaimed: This honour is he worthy of, whom the king hath a mind to honour.

Tulit itaque Aman stolam et equum indutumque Mardocheum in platea civitatis et inpositum equo praecedebat atque clamabat hoc honore condignus est quemcumque rex voluerit honorare

6:12. But Mardochai returned to the palace gate: and Aman made haste to go to his house, mourning and having his head covered:

Reversus est Mardocheus ad ianuam palatii et Aman festinavit ire in domum suam lugens et operto capite

6:13. And he told Zares his wife, and his friends, all that had befallen him. And the wise men whom he had in counsel, and his wife answered him: If Mardochai be of the seed of the Jews, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou canst not resist him, but thou shalt fall in his sight.

Narravitque Zares uxori suae et amicis omnia quae evenissent sibi cui responderunt sapientes quos habebat in consilio et uxor eius si de semine Iudaeorum est Mardocheus ante quem cadere coepisti non poteris ei resistere sed cades in conspectu eius

6:14. As they were yet speaking, the king's eunuchs came, and compelled him to go quickly to the banquet which the queen had prepared.

Adhuc illis loquentibus venerunt eunuchi regis et cito eum ad convivium quod regina paraverat pergere conpulerunt

Esther Chapter 7

Esther's petition for herself and her people: Aman is hanged upon the gibbet he had prepared for Mardochai.

---

7:1. So the king and Aman went in, to drink with the queen.

Intravit itaque rex et Aman ut biberent cum regina

7:2. And the king said to her again the second day, after he was warm with wine: What is thy petition, Esther, that it may be granted thee? and what wilt thou have done: although thou ask the half of my kingdom, thou shalt have it.

Dixitque ei rex etiam in secundo die postquam vino incaluerat quae est petitio tua Hester ut detur tibi et quid vis fieri etiam si dimidiam regni mei partem petieris inpetrabis

7:3. Then she answered: If I have found favour in thy sight, O king, and if it please thee, give me my life for which I ask, and my people for which I request.

Ad quem illa respondit si inveni gratiam in oculis tuis o rex et si tibi placet dona mihi animam meam pro qua rogo et populum meum pro quo obsecro

7:4. For we are given up, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish. And would God we were sold for bondmen and bondwomen: the evil might be borne with, and I would have mourned in silence: but now we have an enemy, whose cruelty redoundeth upon the king.

Traditi enim sumus ego et populus meus ut conteramur iugulemur et pereamus atque utinam in servos et famulas venderemur esset tolerabile malum et gemens tacerem nunc autem hostis noster est cuius crudelitas redundat in regem

7:5. And king Assuerus answered and said: Who is this, and of what power, that he should do these things?

Respondensque rex Asuerus ait quis est iste et cuius potentiae ut haec audeat facere

7:6. And Esther said: It is this Aman that is our adversary and most wicked enemy. Aman hearing this was forthwith astonished, not being able to bear the countenance of the king and of the queen.

Dixit Hester hostis et inimicus noster pessimus iste est Aman quod ille audiens ilico obstipuit vultum regis ac reginae ferre non sustinens

7:7. But the king being angry rose up, and went from the place of the banquet into the garden set with trees. Aman also rose up to entreat Esther the queen for his life, for he understood that evil was prepared for him by the king.

Rex autem surrexit iratus et de loco convivii intravit in hortum arboribus consitum Aman quoque surrexit ut rogaret Hester reginam pro anima sua intellexit enim a rege sibi paratum malum

7:8. And when the king came back out of the garden set with trees, and entered into the place of the banquet, he found Aman was fallen upon the bed on which Esther lay, and he said: He will force the queen also in my presence, in my own house. The word was not yet gone out of the king's mouth, and immediately they covered his face.

Qui cum reversus esset de horto nemoribus consito et intrasset convivii locum repperit Aman super lectulum corruisse in quo iacebat Hester et ait etiam reginam vult opprimere me praesente in domo mea necdum verbum de ore regis exierat et statim operuerunt faciem eius

7:9. And Harbona, one of the eunuchs that stood waiting on the king, said: Behold the gibbet which he hath prepared for Mardochai, who spoke for the king, standeth in Aman's house, being fifty cubits high. And the king said to him: Hang him upon it.

Dixitque Arbona unus de eunuchis qui stabant in ministerio regis en lignum quod paraverat Mardocheo qui locutus est pro rege stat in domo Aman habens altitudinis quinquaginta cubitos cui dixit rex adpendite eum in eo

7:10. So Aman was hanged on the gibbet, which he had prepared for Mardochai: and the king's wrath ceased.

Suspensus est itaque Aman in patibulo quod paraverat Mardocheo et regis ira quievit

Esther Chapter 8

Mardochai is advanced: Aman's letters are reversed.

8:1. On that day king Assuerus gave the house of Aman, the Jews' enemy, to queen Esther, and Mardochai came in before the king. For Esther had confessed to him that he was her uncle.

Die illo dedit rex Asuerus Hester reginae domum Aman adversarii Iudaeorum et Mardocheus ingressus est ante faciem regis confessa est enim ei Hester quod esset patruus suus

8:2. And the king took the ring which he had commanded to be taken again from Aman, and gave it to Mardochai. And Esther set Mardochai over her house.

Tulitque rex anulum quem ab Aman recipi iusserat et tradidit Mardocheo Hester autem constituit Mardocheum super domum suam

8:3. And not content with these things, she fell down at the king's feet and wept, and speaking to him besought him, that he would give orders that the malice of Aman the Agagite, and his most wicked devices which he had invented against the Jews, should be of no effect.

Nec his contenta procidit ad pedes regis flevitque et locuta ad eum oravit ut malitiam Aman Agagitae et machinationes eius pessimas quas excogitaverat contra Iudaeos iuberet irritas fieri

8:4. But he, as the manner was, held out the golden sceptre with his hand, which was the sign of clemency: and she arose up and stood before him,

At ille ex more sceptrum aureum protendit manu quo signum clementiae monstrabatur illaque consurgens stetit ante eum

8:5. And said: If it please the king, and if I have found favour in his sight, and my request be not disagreeable to him, I beseech thee, that the former letters of Aman the traitor and enemy of the Jews, by which he commanded that they should be destroyed in all the king's provinces, may be reversed by new letters.

Et ait si placet regi et inveni gratiam coram oculis eius et deprecatio mea non ei videtur esse contraria obsecro ut novis epistulis veteres Aman litterae insidiatoris et hostis Iudaeorum quibus eos in cunctis regis provinciis perire praeceperat corrigantur

8:6. For how can I endure the murdering and slaughter of my people?

Quomodo enim potero sustinere necem et interfectionem populi mei

8:7. And king Assuerus answered Esther the queen, and Mardochai the Jew: I have given Aman's house to Esther, and I have commanded him to be hanged on a gibbet, because he durst lay hands on the Jews.

Responditque rex Asuerus Hester reginae et Mardocheo Iudaeo domum Aman concessi Hester et ipsum iussi adfigi cruci qui ausus est manum in Iudaeos mittere

8:8. Write ye therefore to the Jews, as it pleaseth you in the king's name, and seal the letters with my ring. For this was the custom, that no man durst gainsay the letters which were sent in the king's name, and were sealed with his ring.

Scribite ergo Iudaeis sicut vobis placet ex regis nomine signantes litteras anulo meo haec enim consuetudo erat ut epistulis quae ex regis nomine mittebantur et illius anulo signatae erant nemo auderet contradicere

8:9. Then the king's scribes and secretaries were called for (now it was the time of the third month which is called Sibon) the three and twentieth day of the month, and letters were written, as Mardochai had a mind, to the Jews, and to the governors, and to the deputies, and to the judges, who were rulers over the hundred and twenty-seven provinces, from India even to Ethiopia: to province and province, to people and people, according to their languages and characters, and to the Jews, according as they could read and hear.

Accitisque scribis et librariis regis erat autem tempus tertii mensis qui appellatur sibon vicesima et tertia illius die scriptae sunt epistulae ut Mardocheus voluerat ad Iudaeos et ad principes procuratoresque et iudices qui centum viginti septem provinciis ab India usque Aethiopiam praesidebant provinciae atque provinciae populo et populo iuxta linguas et litteras suas et Iudaeis ut legere poterant et audire

8:10. And these letters which were sent in the king's name, were sealed with his ring, and sent by posts: who were to run through all the provinces, to prevent the former letters with new messages.

Ipsaeque epistulae quae ex regis nomine mittebantur anulo illius obsignatae sunt et missae per veredarios qui per omnes provincias discurrentes veteres litteras novis nuntiis praevenirent

8:11. And the king gave orders to them, to speak to the Jews in every city, and to command them to gather themselves together, and to stand for their lives, and to kill and destroy all their enemies with their wives and children and all their houses, and to take their spoil.

Quibus imperavit rex ut convenirent Iudaeos per singulas civitates et in unum praeciperent congregari ut starent pro animabus suis et omnes inimicos suos cum coniugibus ac liberis et universis domibus interficerent atque delerent

8:12. And one day of revenge was appointed through all the provinces, to wit, the thirteenth of the twelfth month Adar.

Et constituta est per omnes provincias una ultionis dies id est tertiadecima mensis duodecimi adar

8:13. And this was the content of the letter, that it should be notified in all lands and peoples that were subject to the empire of king Assuerus, that the Jews were ready to be revenged of their enemies.

Summaque epistulae fuit ut in omnibus terris ac populis qui regis Asueri imperio subiacebant notum fieret paratos esse Iudaeos ad capiendam vindictam de hostibus suis

8:14. So the swift posts went out carrying the messages, and the king's edict was hung up in Susan.

Egressique sunt veredarii celeres nuntios perferentes et edictum regis pependit in Susis

8:15. And Mardochai going forth out of the palace, and from the king's presence, shone in royal apparel, to wit, of violet and sky colour, wearing a golden crown on his head, and clothed with a cloak of silk and purple. And all the city rejoiced, and was glad.

Mardocheus autem de palatio et de conspectu regis egrediens fulgebat vestibus regis hyacinthinis videlicet et aerinis coronam auream portans capite et amictus pallio serico atque purpureo omnisque civitas exultavit atque laetata est

8:16. But to the Jews, a new light seemed to rise, joy, honour, and dancing.

Iudaeis autem nova lux oriri visa est gaudium honor et tripudium

8:17. And in all peoples, cities, and provinces, whithersoever the king's commandments came, there was wonderful rejoicing, feasts and banquets, and keeping holy day: Inasmuch that many of other nations and religion, joined themselves to their worship and ceremonies. For a great dread of the name of the Jews had fallen upon all.

Apud omnes populos urbes atque provincias quocumque regis iussa veniebant mira exultatio epulae atque convivia et festus dies in tantum ut plures alterius gentis et sectae eorum religioni et caerimoniis iungerentur grandis enim cunctos iudaici nominis terror invaserat

The Jews kill their enemies that would have killed them. The days of Phurim are appointed to be kept holy.

---

9:1. So on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which as we have said above is called Adar, when all the Jews were designed to be massacred, and their enemies were greedy after their blood, the case being altered, the Jews began to have the upper hand, and to revenge themselves of their adversaries.

Igitur duodecimi mensis quem adar vocari ante iam diximus tertiadecima die quando cunctis Iudaeis interfectio parabatur et hostes eorum inhiabant sanguini versa vice Iudaei superiores esse coeperunt et se de adversariis vindicare

To revenge, etc... The Jews on this occasion, by authority from the king, were made executioners of the public justice, for punishing by death a crime worthy of death, viz., a malicious conspiracy for extirpating their whole nation.

9:2. And they gathered themselves together in every city, and town, and place, to lay their hands on their enemies, and their persecutors. And no one durst withstand them, for the fear of their power had gone through every people.

Congregatique sunt per singulas civitates oppida et loca ut extenderent manum contra inimicos et persecutores suos nullusque ausus est resistere eo quod omnes populos magnitudinis eorum formido penetrarat

9:3. And the judges of the provinces, and the governors, and lieutenants, and every one in dignity, that presided over every place and work, extolled the Jews for fear of Mardochai:

Nam et provinciarum iudices duces et procuratores omnisque dignitas quae singulis locis et operibus praeerat extollebant Iudaeos timore Mardochei

9:4. For they knew him to be prince of the palace, and to have great power: and the fame of his name increased daily, and was spread abroad through all men's mouths.

Quem principem esse palatii et plurimum posse cognoverant fama quoque nominis eius crescebat cotidie et per cunctorum ora volitabat

9:5. So the Jews made a great slaughter of their enemies, and killed them, repaying according to what they had prepared to do to them:

Itaque percusserunt Iudaei inimicos suos plaga magna et occiderunt eos reddentes eis quod sibi paraverant facere

9:6. Insomuch that even in Susan they killed five hundred men, besides the ten sons of Aman the Agagite, the enemy of the Jews: whose names are these:

In tantum ut etiam in Sisis quingentos viros interficerent et decem extra filios Aman Agagitae hostis Iudaeorum quorum ista sunt nomina

9:7. Pharsandatha, and Delphon, and Esphatha

Pharsandatha et Delphon et Esphata

9:8. And Phoratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

Et Phorata et Adalia et Aridatha

9:9. And Phermesta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Jezatha.

Et Phermesta et Arisai et Aridai et Vaizatha

9:10. And when they had slain them, they would not touch the spoils of their goods.

Quos cum occidissent praedas de substantiis eorum agere noluerunt

9:11. And presently the number of them that were killed in Susan was brought to the king.

Statimque numerus eorum qui occisi erant in Sisis ad regem relatus est

9:12. And he said to the queen: The Jews have killed five hundred men in the city of Susan, besides the ten sons of Aman: how many dost thou think they have slain in all the provinces? What askest thou more, and what wilt thou have me to command to be done?

Qui dixit reginae in urbe Sisis interfecere Iudaei quingentos viros et alios decem filios Aman quantam putas eos exercere caedem in universis provinciis quid ultra postulas et quid vis ut fieri iubeam

9:13. And she answered: If it please the king, let it be granted to the Jews, to do to morrow in Susan as they have done to day, and that the ten sons of Aman may be hanged upon gibbets.

Cui illa respondit si regi placet detur potestas Iudaeis ut sicut hodie fecerunt in Sisis sic et cras faciant et decem filii Aman in patibulis suspendantur

9:14. And the king commanded that it should be so done. And forthwith the edict was hung up in Susan, and the ten sons of Aman were hanged.

Praecepitque rex ut ita fieret statimque in Sisis pependit edictum et decem Aman filii suspensi sunt

9:15. And on the fourteenth day of the month Adar the Jews gathered themselves together, and they killed in Susan three hundred men: but they took not their substance.

Congregatis Iudaeis quartadecima adar mensis die interfecti sunt in Sisis trecenti viri nec eorum ab illis direpta substantia est

9:16. Moreover through all the provinces which were subject to the king's dominion the Jews stood for their lives, and slew their enemies and persecutors: insomuch that the number of them that were killed amounted to seventy-five thousand, and no man took any of their goods.

Sed et per omnes provincias quae ditioni regis subiacebant pro animabus suis stetero Iudaei interfectis hostibus ac persecutoribus suis in tantum ut septuaginta quinque milia occisorum implerentur et nullus de substantiis eorum quicquam contingeret

9:17. Now the thirteenth day of the month Adar was the first day with them all of the slaughter, and on the fourteenth day they left off. Which they ordained to be kept holy day, so that all times hereafter they should celebrate it with feasting, joy, and banquets.

Dies autem tertiusdecimus mensis adar unus apud omnes interfectionis fuit et quartodecimo die caedere desierunt quem constituerunt esse sollemnem ut in eo omni deinceps tempore vacarent epulis gaudio atque conviviis

9:18. But they that were killing in the city of Susan, were employed in the slaughter on the thirteenth and fourteenth day of the same month: and on the fifteenth day they rested. And therefore they appointed that day to be a holy day of feasting and gladness.

At hii qui in urbe Sisis caedem exercuerant tertiodecimo et quartodecimo eiusdem mensis die in caede versati sunt quintodecimo autem die percutere desierunt et idcirco eandem diem constituere sollemnem epularum atque laetitiae

9:19. But those Jews that dwelt in towns not walled and in villages, appointed the fourteenth day of the month Adar for banquets and gladness, so as to rejoice on that day, and send one another portions of their banquets and meats.

Hii vero Iudaei qui in oppidis non muratis ac villis morabantur quartumdecimum diem mensis adar conviviorum et gaudii decreverunt ita ut exultent in eo et mittant sibi mutuo partes epularum et ciborum

9:20. And Mardochai wrote all these things, and sent them comprised in letters to the Jews that abode in all the king's provinces, both those that lay near and those afar off,

Scripsit itaque Mardocheus omnia haec et litteris comprehensa misit ad Iudaeos qui in omnibus regis provinciis morabantur tam in vicino positis quam procul

9:21. That they should receive the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the month Adar for holy days, and always at the return of the year should celebrate them with solemn honour:

Ut quartamdecimam et quintamdecimam diem mensis adar pro festis susciperent et revertente semper anno sollemni honore celebrarent

9:22. Because on those days the Jews revenged themselves of their enemies, and their mourning and sorrow were turned into mirth and joy, and that these should be days of feasting and gladness, in which they should send one to another portions of meats, and should give gifts to the poor.

Quia in ipsis diebus se ulti sunt Iudaei de inimicis suis et luctus atque tristitia in hilaritatem gaudiumque conversa sint essentque istae dies epularum atque laetitiae et mitterent sibi invicem ciborum partes et pauperibus munuscula largirentur

9:23. And the Jews undertook to observe with solemnity all they had begun to do at that time, which Mardochai by letters had commanded to be done.

Susceperuntque Iudaei in sollemnem ritum cuncta quae eo tempore facere coeperant et quae Mardocheus litteris facienda mandaverat

9:24. For Aman, the son of Amadathi of the race of Agag, the enemy and adversary of the Jews, had devised evil against them, to kill them and destroy them; and had cast Phur, that is, the lot.

Aman enim filius Amadathi stirpis Agag hostis et adversarius Iudaeorum cogitavit contra eos malum ut occideret illos atque deleret et misit phur quod nostra lingua vertitur in sortem

9:25. And afterwards Esther went in to the king, beseeching him that his endeavours might be made void by the king's letters: and the evil that he had intended against the Jews, might return upon his own head. And so both he and his sons were hanged upon gibbets.

Et postea ingressa est Hester ad regem obsecrans ut conatus eius litteris regis irriti fierent et malum quod contra Iudaeos cogitaverat reverteretur in caput eius denique et ipsum et filios eius adfixerunt cruci

9:26. And since that time these days are called Phurim, that is, of lots: because Phur, that is, the lot, was cast into the urn. And all things that were done, are contained in the volume of this epistle, that is, of this book:

Atque ex illo tempore dies isti appellati sunt Phurim id est Sortium eo quod phur id est sors in urnam missa fuerit et cuncta quae gesta sunt epistulae id est libri huius volumine continentur

9:27. And the things that they suffered, and that were afterwards changed, the Jews took upon themselves and their seed, and upon all that had a mind to be joined to their religion, so that it should be lawful for none to pass these days without solemnity: which the writing testifieth, and certain times require, as the years continually succeed one another.

Quaeque sustinuerint et quae deinceps inmutata sint suscepere Iudaei super se et semen suum et super cunctos qui religioni eorum voluerint copulari ut nulli liceat duos hos dies absque sollemnitate transigere quam scriptura testatur et certa expetunt tempora annis sibi iugiter succedentibus

9:28. These are the days which shall never be forgot: and which all provinces in the whole world shall celebrate throughout all generations: neither is there any city wherein the days of Phurim, that is, of lots, must not be observed by the Jews, and by their posterity, which is bound to these ceremonies.

Isti sunt dies quos nulla umquam delebit oblivio et per singulas generationes cunctae in toto orbe provinciae celebrabunt nec est ulla civitas in qua dies Phurim id est Sortium non observentur a Iudaeis et ab eorum progenie quae his caerimoniis obligata est

9:29. And Esther the queen, the daughter of Abihail, and Mardochai the Jew, wrote also a second epistle, that with all diligence this day should be established a festival for the time to come.

Scripseruntque Hester regina filia Abiahil et Mardocheus Iudaeus etiam secundam epistulam ut omni studio dies ista sollemnis sanciretur in posterum

9:30. And they sent to all the Jews that were in the hundred and twenty-seven provinces of king Assuerus, that they should have peace, and receive truth,

Et miserunt ad omnes Iudaeos qui in centum viginti septem regis Asueri provinciis versabantur ut haberent pacem et susciperent veritatem

9:31. And observe the days of lots, and celebrate them with joy in their proper time: as Mardochai and Esther had appointed, and they undertook them to be observed by themselves and by their seed, fasts, and cries, and the days of lots,

Observantes dies Sortium et suo tempore cum gaudio celebrarent sicut constituerat Mardocheus et Hester et illi observanda susceperant a se et a semine suo ieiunia atque clamores et Sortium dies

9:32. And all things which are contained in the history of this book, which is called Esther.

Et omnia quae libri huius qui vocatur Hester historia continentur

Esther Chapter 10

Assuerus's greatness. Mardochai's dignity.

---

10:1. And king Assuerus made all the land, and all the islands of the sea tributary.

Rex vero Asuerus omnem terram et cunctas maris insulas fecit tributarias

10:2. And his strength and his empire, and the dignity and greatness wherewith he exalted Mardochai, are written in the books of the Medes, and of the Persians:

Cuius fortitudo et imperium et dignitas atque sublimitas qua exaltavit Mardocheum scripta sunt in libris Medorum atque Persarum

10:3. And how Mardochai of the race of the Jews, was next after king Assuerus: and great among the Jews, and acceptable to the people of his brethren, seeking the good of his people, and speaking those things which were for the welfare of his seed.

Et quomodo Mardocheus iudaici generis secundus a rege Asuero fuerit et magnus inter Iudaeos et acceptabilis plebi fratrum suorum quaerens bona populo suo et loquens ea quae ad pacem sui seminis pertinerent

10:4. Then Mardochai said: God hath done these things.

Then Mardochai, etc... Here St. Jerome adviseth the reader, that what follows is not in the Hebrew, but is found in the Septuagint Greek edition, which the seventy-two interpreters translated out of the Hebrew, or added by the inspiration of the Holy Ghost.

10:5. I remember a dream that I saw, which signified these same things: and nothing thereof hath failed.

A dream... This dream was prophetical and extraordinary: otherwise the general rule is not to observe dreams.

10:6. The little fountain which grew into a river, and was turned into a light, and into the sun, and abounded into many waters, is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen.

10:7. But the two dragons are I and Aman.

10:8. The nations that were assembled are they that endeavoured to destroy the name of the Jews.

10:9. And my nation is Israel, who cried to the Lord, and the Lord saved his people: and he delivered us from all evils, and hath wrought great signs and wonders among the nations:

10:10. And he commanded that there should be two lots, one of the people of God, and the other of all the nations.

10:11. And both lots came to the day appointed already from that time before God to all nations:

10:12. And the Lord remembered his people, and had mercy on his inheritance.

10:13. And these days shall be observed in the month of Adar on the fourteenth, and fifteenth day of the same month, with all diligence, and joy of the people gathered into one assembly, throughout all the generations hereafter of the people of Israel.

Esther Chapter 11

The dream of Mardochai, which in the ancient Greek and Latin Bibles was into the beginning of the book, but was detached by St. Jerome, and put in this place.

---

11:1. In the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemy and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest, and of the Levitical race, and Ptolemy his son brought this epistle of Phurim, which they said Lysimachus the son of Ptolemy had interpreted in Jerusalem.

11:2. In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great, in the first day of the month Nisan, Mardochai the son of Jair, the son of Semei, the son of Cis, of the tribe of Benjamin:

11:3. A Jew who dwelt in the city of Susan, a great man and among the first of the king's court, had a dream.

11:4. Now he was of the number of the captives, whom Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away from Jerusalem with Jechonias king of Juda:

11:5. And this was his dream: Behold there were voices, and tumults, and thunders, and earthquakes, and a disturbance upon the earth.

11:6. And behold two great dragons came forth ready to fight one against another.

11:7. And at their cry all nations were stirred up to fight against the nation of the just.

11:8. And that was a day of darkness and danger, of tribulation and distress, and great fear upon the earth.

11:9. And the nation of the just was troubled fearing their own evils, and was prepared for death.

11:10. And they cried to God: and as they were crying, a little fountain grew into a very great river, and abounded into many waters.

11:11. The light and the sun rose up, and the humble were exalted, and they devoured the glorious.

11:12. And when Mardochai had seen this, and arose out of his bed, he was thinking what God would do: and he kept it fixed in his mind, desirous to know what the dream should signify.

Esther Chapter 12

Mardochai detects the conspiracy of the two eunuchs.

12:1. And he abode at that time in the king's court with Bagatha and Thara the king's eunuchs, who were porters of the palace.

12:2. And when he understood their designs, and had diligently searched into their projects, he learned that they went about to lay violent hands on king Artaxerxes, and he told the king thereof.

12:3. Then the king had them both examined, and after they had confessed, commanded them to be put to death.

12:4. But the king made a record of what was done: and Mardochai also committed the memory of the thing to writing.

12:5. And the king commanded him, to abide in the court of the palace, and gave him presents for the information.

12:6. But Aman the son of Amadathi the Bugite was in great honour with the king, and sought to hurt Mardochai and his people, because of the two eunuchs of the king who were put to death.

Esther Chapter 13

A copy of a letter sent by Aman to destroy the Jews. Mardochai's prayer for the people.

---

13:1. And this was the copy of the letter: Artaxerxes the great king who reigneth from India to Ethiopia, to the princes and governors of the hundred and twenty-seven provinces, that are subject to his empire, greeting.

13:2. Whereas I reigned over many nations, and had brought all the world under my dominion, I was not willing to abuse the greatness of my power, but to govern my subjects with clemency and that they might live quietly without any terror, and might enjoy peace, which is desired by all men,

13:3. But when I asked my counsellors how this might be accomplished, one that excelled the rest in wisdom and fidelity, and was second after the king, Aman by name,

13:4. Told me that there was a people scattered through the whole world, which used new laws, and acted against the customs of all nations, despised the commandments of kings, and violated by their opposition the concord of all nations.

13:5. Wherefore having learned this, and seeing one nation in opposition to all mankind using perverse laws, and going against our commandments, and disturbing the peace and concord of the provinces subject to us,

13:6. We have commanded that all whom Aman shall mark out, who is chief over all the provinces, and second after the king, and whom we honour as a father, shall be utterly destroyed by their enemies, with their wives and children, and that none shall have pity on them, on the fourteenth day of the twelfth month Adar of this present year:

13:7. That these wicked men going down to hell in one day, may restore to our empire the peace which they had disturbed.

13:8. But Mardochai besought the Lord, remembering all his works,

13:9. And said: O Lord, Lord, almighty king, for all things are in thy power, and there is none that can resist thy will, if thou determine to save Israel.

13:10. Thou hast made heaven and earth and all things that are under the cope of heaven.

13:11. Thou art Lord of all, and there is none that can resist thy majesty.

13:12. Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest that it was not out of pride and or any desire of glory, that I refused to worship the proud Aman,

13:13. (For I would willingly and readily for the salvation of Israel have kissed even the steps of his feet),

13:14. But I feared lest I should transfer the honour of my God to a man, and lest I should adore any one except my God.

13:15. And now, O Lord, O king, O God of Abraham, have mercy on thy people, because our enemies resolve to destroy us, and extinguish thy inheritance.

13:16. Despise not thy portion, which thou hast redeemed for thyself out of Egypt.

13:17. Hear my supplication, and be merciful to thy lot and inheritance, and turn our mourning into joy, that we may live and praise thy name, O Lord, and shut not the mouths of them that sing to thee.

13:18. And all Israel with like mind and supplication cried to the Lord, because they saw certain death hanging over their heads.

Esther Chapter 14

The prayer of Esther for herself and her people.

---

14:1. Queen Esther also, fearing the danger that was at hand, had recourse to the Lord.

14:2. And when she had laid away her royal apparel, she put on garments suitable for weeping and mourning: instead of divers precious ointments, she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she humbled her body with fasts: and all the places in which before she was accustomed to rejoice, she filled with her torn hair.

14:3. And she prayed to the Lord the God of Israel, saying: O my Lord, who alone art our king, help me a desolate woman, and who have no other helper but thee.

14:4. My danger is in my hands.

14:5. I have heard of my father that thou, O Lord, didst take Israel from among all nations, and our fathers from all their predecessors, to possess them as an everlasting inheritance, and thou hast done to them as thou hast promised.

14:6. We have sinned in thy sight, and therefore thou hast delivered us into the hands of our enemies:

14:7. For we have worshipped their gods. Thou art just, O Lord.

14:8. And now they are not content to oppress us with most hard bondage, but attributing the strength of their hands to the power of their idols.

14:9. They design to change thy promises, and destroy thy inheritance, and shut the mouths of them that praise thee, and extinguish the glory of thy temple and altar,

14:10. That they may open the mouths of Gentiles, and praise the strength of idols, and magnify for ever a carnal king.

14:11. Give not, O Lord, thy sceptre to them that are not, lest they laugh at our ruin: but turn their counsel upon themselves, and destroy him that hath begun to rage against us.

14:12. Remember, O Lord, and show thyself to us in the time of our tribulation, and give me boldness, O Lord, king of gods, and of all power:

14:13. Give me a well ordered speech in my mouth in the presence of the lion, and turn his heart to the hatred of our enemy, that both he himself may perish, and the rest that consent to him.

14:14. But deliver us by thy hand, and help me, who have no other helper, but thee, O Lord, who hast the knowledge of all things.

14:15. And thou knowest that I hate the glory of the wicked, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of every stranger.

14:16. Thou knowest my necessity, that I abominate the sign of my pride and glory, which is upon my head in the days of my public appearance, and detest it as a menstruous rag, and wear it not in the days of my silence,

14:17. And that I have not eaten at Aman's table, nor hath the king's banquet pleased me, and that I have not drunk the wine of the drink offerings:

14:18. And that thy handmaid hath never rejoiced, since I was brought hither unto this day but in thee, O Lord, the God of Abraham.

14:19. O God, who art mighty above all, hear the voice of them, that have no other hope, and deliver us from the hand of the wicked, and deliver me from my fear.

Esther Chapter 15

Esther comes into the king's presence: she is terrified, but God turns his heart.

---

15:1. And he commanded her (no doubt but he was Mardochai) to go to the king, and petition for her people, and for her country.

15:2. Remember, (said he), the days of thy low estate, how thou wast brought up by my hand, because Aman the second after the king hath spoken against us unto death.

15:3. And do thou call upon the Lord, and speak to the king for us, and deliver us from death.

15:4. And on the third day she laid away the garments she wore, and put on her glorious apparel.

15:5. And glittering in royal robes, after she had called upon God the ruler and Saviour of all, she took two maids with her,

15:6. And upon one of them she leaned, as if for delicateness and overmuch tenderness she were not able to bear up her own body.

15:7. And the other maid followed her lady, bearing up her train flowing on the ground.

15:8. But she with a rosy colour in her face, and with gracious and bright eyes hid a mind full of anguish, and exceeding great fear.

15:9. So going in she passed through all doors in order, and stood before the king, where he sat upon his royal throne, clothed with his royal robes, and glittering with gold, and precious stones, and he was terrible to behold.

15:10. And when he had lifted up his countenance, and with burning eyes had shown the wrath of his heart, the queen sunk down, and her colour turned pale, and she rested her weary head upon her handmaid.

15:11. And God changed the king's spirit into mildness, and all in haste and in fear he leaped from his throne, and holding her up in his arms, till she came to herself, caressed her with these words:

15:12. What is the matter, Esther? I am thy brother, fear not.

15:13. Thou shalt not die: for this law is not made for thee, but for all others.

15:14. Come near then, and touch the sceptre.

15:15. And as she held her peace, he took the golden sceptre, and laid it upon her neck, and kissed her, and said: Why dost thou not speak to me?

15:16. She answered: I saw thee, my lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy majesty.

15:17. For thou, my lord, art very admirable, and thy face is full of graces.

15:18. And while she was speaking, she fell down again, and was almost in a swoon.

15:19. But the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her.

Esther Chapter 16

A copy of the king's letter in favour of the Jews.

16:1. The great king Artaxerxes, from India to Ethiopia, to the governors and princes of a hundred and twenty-seven provinces, which obey our command, sendeth greeting.

From India to Ethiopia... That is, who reigneth from India to Ethiopia.

16:2. Many have abused unto pride the goodness of princes, and the honour that hath been bestowed upon them:

16:3. And not only endeavour to oppress the king's subjects, but not bearing the glory that is given them, take in hand, to practise also against them that gave it.

16:4. Neither are they content not to return thanks for benefits received, and to violate in themselves the laws of humanity, but they think they can also escape the justice of God who seeth all things.

16:5. And they break out into so great madness, as to endeavour to undermine by lies such as observe diligently the offices committed to them, and do all things in such manner as to be worthy of all men's praise,

16:6. While with crafty fraud they deceive the ears of princes that are well meaning, and judge of others by their own nature.

16:7. Now this is proved both from ancient histories, and by the things which are done daily, how the good designs of kings are depraved by the evil suggestions of certain men.

16:8. Wherefore we must provide for the peace of all provinces.

16:9. Neither must you think, if we command different things, that it cometh of the levity of our mind, but that we give sentence according to the quality and necessity of times, as the profit of the commonwealth requireth.

16:10. Now that you may more plainly understand what we say, Aman the son of Amadathi, a Macedonian both in mind and country, and having nothing of the Persian blood, but with his cruelty staining our goodness, was received being a stranger by us:

16:11. And found our humanity so great towards him, that he was called our father, and was worshipped by all as the next man after the king:

16:12. But he was so far puffed up with arrogancy, as to go about to deprive us of our kingdom and life.

16:13. For with certain new and unheard of devices he hath sought the destruction of Mardochai, by whose fidelity and good services our life was saved, and of Esther the partner of our kingdom with all their nation:

16:14. Thinking that after they were slain, he might work treason against us left alone without friends, and might transfer the kingdom of the Persians to the Macedonians.

16:15. But we have found that the Jews, who were by that most wicked man appointed to be slain, are in no fault at all, but contrariwise, use just laws,

16:16. And are the children of the highest and the greatest, and the ever living God, by whose benefit the kingdom was given both to our fathers and to us, and is kept unto this day.

16:17. Wherefore know ye that those letters which he sent in our name, are void and of no effect.

16:18. For which crime both he himself that devised it, and all his kindred hang on gibbets, before the gates of this city Susan: not we, but God repaying him as he deserved.

16:19. But this edict, which we now send, shall be published in all cities, that the Jews may freely follow their own laws.

16:20. And you shall aid them that they may kill those who had prepared themselves to kill them, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is called Adar.

16:21. For the almighty God hath turned this day of sadness and mourning into joy to them.

16:22. Wherefore you shall also count this day among other festival days, and celebrate it with all joy, that it may be known also in times to come,

16:23. That all they who faithfully obey the Persians, receive a worthy reward for their fidelity: but they that are traitors to their kingdom, are destroyed for their wickedness.

16:24. And let every province and city, that will not be partaker of this solemnity, perish by the sword and by fire, and be destroyed in such manner as to be made unpassable, both to men and beasts, for an example of contempt, and disobedience.

Exodus

The Second Book of Moses is called Exodus, from the Greek word Exodos, which signifies going out: because it contains the history of the going out of the children of Israel out of Egypt. The Hebrews, from the words with which it begins, call it Veelle Semoth: These are the names. It contains transactions for 145 years; that is, from the death of Joseph to the erecting of the tabernacle. (For more information, see the article PENTATEUCH in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Exodus Chapter 1. The Israelites are multiplied in Egypt. They are oppressed by a new king, who commandeth all their male children to be killed.

Exodus Chapter 2. Moses is born and exposed on the bank of the river; where he is taken up by the daughter of Pharaoh, and adopted for her son. He killeth an Egyptian, and fleeth into Madian; where he marrieth a wife.

Exodus Chapter 3. God appeareth to Moses in a bush, and sendeth him to deliver Israel.

Exodus Chapter 4. Moses is empowered to confirm his mission with miracles: his brother Aaron is appointed to assist him.

Exodus Chapter 5. Pharaoh refuseth to let the people go. They are more oppressed.

Exodus Chapter 6. God reneweth his promise. The genealogies of Ruben, Simon and Levi, down to Moses and Aaron.

Exodus Chapter 7. Moses and Aaron go into Pharaoh: they turn the rod into a serpent; and the waters of Egypt into blood, which was the first plague. The magicians do the like, and Pharaoh's heart is hardened.

Exodus Chapter 8. The second plague is of frogs: Pharaoh promiseth to let the Israelites go, but breaketh his promise. The third plague is of sciniphs. The fourth is of flies. Pharaoh again promiseth to dismiss the people, but doth it not.

Exodus Chapter 9. The fifth plague is a murrain among the cattle. The sixth, of boils in men and beasts. The seventh, of hail. Pharaoh promiseth again to let the people go, and breaketh his word.

Exodus Chapter 10. The eighth plague of the locusts. The ninth, of darkness: Pharaoh is still hardened.

Exodus Chapter 11. Pharaoh and his people are threatened with the death of their firstborn.

Exodus Chapter 12. The manner of preparing, and eating the paschal lamb: the firstborn of Egypt are all slain: the Israelites depart.

Exodus Chapter 13. The paschal solemnity is to be observed; and the firstborn are to be consecrated to God. The people are conducted through the desert by a pillar of fire in the night, and a cloud in the day.

Exodus Chapter 14. Pharaoh pursueth the children of Israel. They murmur against Moses, but are encouraged by him, and pass through the Red Sea. Pharaoh and his army following them are drowned.

Exodus Chapter 15. The canticle of Moses. The bitter waters of Mara are made sweet.

Exodus Chapter 16. The people murmur for want of meat: God giveth them quails and manna.

Exodus Chapter 17. The people murmur again for want of drink; the Lord giveth them water out of a rock. Moses lifting up his hand in prayer, Amalec is overcome.

Exodus Chapter 18. Jethro bringeth to Moses his wife and children. His counsel.

Exodus Chapter 19. They come to Sinai: the people are commanded to be sanctified. The Lord, coming in thunder and lightning, speaketh with Moses.

Exodus Chapter 20. The ten commandments.

Exodus Chapter 21. Laws relating to Justice.

Exodus Chapter 22. The punishment of theft, and other trespasses. The law of lending without usury, of taking pledges of reverences to superiors, and of paying tithes.

Exodus Chapter 23. Laws for judges; the rest of the seventh year, and day: three principal feasts to be solemnized every year; the promise of an angel, to conduct and protect them: idols are to be destroyed.

Exodus Chapter 24. Moses writeth his law; and after offering sacrifices, sprinkleth the blood of the testament upon the people: then goeth up the mountain which God covereth with a fiery cloud.

Exodus Chapter 25. Offerings prescribed for making the tabernacle, the ark, the candlestick, etc.

Exodus Chapter 26. The form of the tabernacle with its appurtenances.

Exodus Chapter 27. The altar; and the court of the tabernacle with its hangings and pillars. Provision of oil for lamps.

Exodus Chapter 28. The holy vestments for Aaron and his sons.

Exodus Chapter 29. The manner of consecrating Aaron and other priests; the institution of the daily sacrifice of two lambs, one in the morning, the other at evening.

Exodus Chapter 30. The altar of incense: money to be gathered for the use of the tabernacle: the brazen laver: the holy oil of unction, and the composition of the perfume.

Exodus Chapter 31. Beseleel and Ooliab are appointed by the Lord to make the tabernacle, and the things belonging thereto. The observation of the sabbath day is again commanded. And the Lord delivereth to Moses two tables written with the finger of God.

Exodus Chapter 32. The people fall into idolatry. Moses prayeth for them. He breaketh the tables: destroyeth the idol: blameth Aaron, and causeth many of the idolaters to be slain.

Exodus Chapter 33. The people mourn for their sin. Moses pitcheth the tabernacle without the camp. He converseth familiarly with God. Desireth to see his glory.

Exodus Chapter 34. The tables are renewed: all society with the Chanaanites is forbid: some precepts concerning the firstborn, the sabbath, and other feasts: after forty days' fast, Moses returneth to the people with the commandments, and his face appearing horned with rays of light, he covereth it, whensoever he speaketh to the people.

Exodus Chapter 35. The sabbath. Offerings for making the tabernacle. Beseleel and Ooliab are called to the work.

Exodus Chapter 36. The offerings are delivered to the workmen, the curtains, coverings, boards, bars, veil, pillars, and hanging are made.

Exodus Chapter 37. Beseleel maketh the ark: the propitiatory, and cherubims, the table, the candlestick, the lamps, and the altar of incense, and compoundeth the incense.

Exodus Chapter 38. He maketh the altar of holocaust. The brazen laver. The court with its pillars and hangings. The sum of what the people offered.

Exodus Chapter 39. All the ornaments of Aaron and his sons are made. And the whole work of the tabernacle is finished.

Exodus Chapter 40. The tabernacle is commanded to be set up and anointed. God filleth it with his majesty.

Exodus Chapter 1

The Israelites are multiplied in Egypt. They are oppressed by a new king, who commandeth all their male children to be killed.

---

1:1. These are the names of the children of Israel, that went into Egypt with Jacob: they went in every man with his household:

Haec sunt nomina filiorum Israhel qui ingressi sunt Aegyptum cum Iacob singuli cum domibus suis introierunt

1:2. Ruben, Simeon, Levi, Juda,

Ruben Symeon Levi Iuda

1:3. Issachar, Zabulon, and Benjamin,

Isachar Zabulon et Benjamin

1:4. Dan, and Nephthali, Gad and Aser.

Dan et Nephthalim Gad et Aser

1:5. And all the souls that came out of Jacob's thigh, were seventy: but Joseph was in Egypt.

Erant igitur omnes animae eorum qui egressi sunt de femore Iacob septuaginta Ioseph autem in Aegypto erat

1:6. After he was dead, and all his brethren, and all that generation,

Quo mortuo et universis fratribus eius omnique cognatione illa

1:7. The children of Israel increased, and sprung up into multitudes, and growing exceedingly strong they filled the land.

Filii Israhel creverunt et quasi germinantes multiplicati sunt ac roborati nimis impleverunt terram

1:8. In the mean time there arose a new king over Egypt, that knew not Joseph:

Surrexit interea rex novus super Aegyptum qui ignorabat Ioseph

1:9. And he said to his people: Behold the people of the children of Israel are numerous and stronger than we.

Et ait ad populum suum ecce populus filiorum Israhel multus et fortior nobis

1:10. Come let us wisely oppress them, lest they multiply: and if any war shall rise against us, join with our enemies, and having overcome us, depart out of the land.

Venite sapienter opprimamus eum ne forte multiplicetur et si ingruerit contra nos bellum addatur inimicis nostris expugnatisque nobis egrediatur e terra

1:11. Therefore he set over them masters of the works, to afflict them with burdens: and they built for Pharao cities of tabernacles, Phithom, and Ramesses.

Praeposuit itaque eis magistros operum ut adfligerent eos oneribus aedificaveruntque urbes tabernaculorum Pharaoni Phiton et Ramesses

Of tabernacles... Or, of storehouses.

1:12. But the more they oppressed them, the more they were multiplied and increased.

Quantoque opprimebant eos tanto magis multiplicabantur et crescebant

1:13. And the Egyptians hated the children of Israel, and afflicted them and mocked them:

Oderantque filios Israhel Aegyptii et adfligebant inludentes eis

1:14. And they made their life bitter with hard works in clay and brick, and with all manner of service, wherewith they were overcharged in the works of the earth.

Atque ad amaritudinem perducebant vitam eorum operibus duris luti et lateris omnique famulatu quo in terrae operibus premebantur

1:15. And the king of Egypt spoke to the midwives of the Hebrews: of whom one was called Sephora, the other Phua,

Dixit autem rex Aegypti obsetricibus Hebraeorum quarum una vocabatur Sephra altera Phua

1:16. Commanding them: When you shall do the office of midwives to the Hebrew women, and the time of delivery is come: if it be a man child, kill it: if a woman, keep it alive.

Praeciens eis quando obsetricabitur Hebraeas et partus tempus advenerit si masculus fuerit interficite illum si femina reservate

1:17. But the midwives feared God, and did not do as the king of Egypt had commanded, but saved the men children.

Timuerunt autem obsetrices Deum et non fecerunt iuxta praeceptum regis Aegypti sed conservabant mares

1:18. And the king called for them and said: What is it that you meant to do, that you would save the men children?

Quibus ad se accersitis rex ait quidnam est hoc quod facere voluistis ut pueros servaretis

1:19. They answered: The Hebrew women are not as the Egyptian women: for they themselves are skilful in the office of a midwife; and they are delivered before we come to them.

Quae responderunt non sunt hebraeae sicut aegyptiae mulieres ipsae enim obsetricandi habent scientiam et priusquam veniamus ad eas pariunt

1:20. Therefore God dealt well with the midwives: and the people multiplied and grew exceedingly strong. Bene ergo fecit Deus obsetricibus et crevit populus confortatusque est nimis

1:21. And because the midwives feared God, he built them houses.

Et quia timuerant obsetrices Deum aedificavit illis domos

Because the midwives feared God, etc... The midwives were rewarded, not for their lie, which was a venial sin; but for their fear of God, and their humanity: but this reward was only temporal, in building them houses, that is, in establishing and enriching their families.

1:22. Pharao therefore charged all his people, saying: Whatsoever shall be born of the male sex, ye shall cast into the river: whatsoever of the female, ye shall save alive.

Praecipit autem Pharao omni populo suo dicens quicquid masculini sexus natum fuerit in flumen proicite quicquid feminei reservate

Exodus Chapter 2

Moses is born and exposed on the bank of the river; where he is taken up by the daughter of Pharaoh, and adopted for her son. He killeth an Egyptian, and fleeth into Madian; where he marrieth a wife.

---

2:1. After this there went a man of the house of Levi; and took a wife of his own kindred.

Egressus est post haec vir de domo Levi accepta uxore stirpis suae

2:2. And she conceived, and bore a son: and seeing him a goodly child, hid him three months.

Quae concepit et peperit filium et videns eum elegantem abscondit tribus mensibus

2:3. And when she could hide him no longer, she took a basket made of bulrushes, and daubed it with slime and pitch: and put the little babe therein, and laid him in the sedges by the river's brink, Cumque iam celare non posset sumpsit fiscellam scirpeam et linivit eam bitumine ac pice posuitque intus infantulum et exposuit eum in carecto ripae fluminis

2:4. His sister standing afar off, and taking notice what would be done.

Stante procul sorore eius et considerante eventum rei

2:5. And behold the daughter of Pharaoh came down to wash herself in the river: and her maids walked by the river's brink. And when she saw the basket in the sedges she sent one of her maids for it: and when it was brought,

Ecce autem descendebat filia Pharaonis ut lavaretur in flumine et puellae eius gradiebantur per crepidinem alvei quae cum vidisset fiscellam in papyrione misit unam e famulis suis et adlatam

2:6. She opened it, and seeing within it an infant crying, having compassion on it, she said: This is one of the babes of the Hebrews.

Aperiens cernensque in ea parvulum vagientem miserta eius ait de infantibus Hebraeorum est

2:7. And the child's sister said to her: Shall I go, and call to thee a Hebrew woman, to nurse the babe?

Cui soror pueri vis inquit ut vadam et vocem tibi hebraeam mulierem quae nutrire possit infantulum

2:8. She answered: Go. The maid went and called her mother.

Respondit vade perrexit puella et vocavit matrem eius

2:9. And Pharaoh's daughter said to her: Take this child, and nurse him for me: I will give thee thy wages.

The woman took and nursed the child: and when he was grown up, she delivered him to Pharaoh's daughter.

Ad quam locuta filia Pharaonis accipe ait puerum istum et nutri mihi ego tibi dabo mercedem tuam suscepit mulier et nutritivum puerum adultumque tradidit filiae Pharaonis

2:10. And she adopted him for a son, and called him Moses, saying: Because I took him out of the water.

Quem illa adoptavit in locum filii vocavitque nomen eius Mosi dicens quia de aqua tuli eum

Moses... Or Moyses, in the Egyptian tongue, signifies one taken or saved out of the water.

2:11. In those days, after Moses was grown up, he went out to his brethren: and saw their affliction, and an Egyptian striking one of the Hebrews, his brethren.

In diebus illis postquam creverat Moses egressus ad fratres suos vidit adflictionem eorum et virum aegyptium percutientem quendam de Hebraeis fratribus suis

2:12. And when he had looked about this way and that way, and saw no one there, he slew the Egyptian and hid him in the sand.

Cumque circumspexisset huc atque illuc et nullum adesse vidisset percussum Aegyptium abscondit sabulo
He slew the Egyptian... This he did by a particular inspiration of God; as a prelude to his delivering the people from their oppression and bondage. He thought, says St. Stephen, Acts 7:25, that his brethren understood that God by his hand would save them. But such particular and extraordinary examples are not to be imitated.

2:13. And going out the next day, he saw two Hebrews quarrelling: and he said to him that did the wrong: Why strikest thou thy neighbour?

Et egressus die altero conspexit duos Hebraeos rixantes dixitque ei qui faciebat iniuriam quare percutis proximum tuum

2:14. But he answered: Who hath appointed thee prince and judge over us? wilt thou kill me, as thou didst yesterday kill the Egyptian? Moses feared, and said: How is this come to be known?

Qui respondit quis constituit te principem et iudicem super nos num occidere me tu dicis sicut occidisti Aegyptium timuit Moses et ait quomodo palam factum est verbum istud

2:15. And Pharao heard of this word, and sought to kill Moses: but he fled from his sight, and abode in the land of Madian, and he sat down by a well.

Audivitque Pharao sermonem hunc et quaerebat occidere Mosen qui fugiens de conspectu eius moratus est in terra Madian et sedit iuxta puteum

Madian... A city and country of Arabia, which took its name from Madian the son of Abraham, by Cetura, and was peopled by his posterity.

2:16. And the priest of Madian had seven daughters, who came to draw water: and when the troughs were filled, desired to water their father's flocks.

Erant sacerdoti Madian septem filiae quae venerunt ad hauriendas aquas et impletis canalibus adaquare cupiebant greges patris sui

2:17. And the shepherds came and drove them away: and Moses arose, and defending the maids, watered their sheep.

Supervenere pastores et eiecerunt eas surrexitque Moses et defensis puellis adaquavit oves earum

2:18. And when they returned to Raguel their father, he said to them: Why are ye come sooner than usual?

Quae cum revertissent ad Raguel patrem suum dixit ad eas cur velocius venistis solito

Raguel... He had two names, being also called Jethro, as appears from the first verse of the following chapter.

2:19. They answered: A man of Egypt delivered us from the hands of the shepherds: and he drew water also with us, and gave the sheep to drink.

Responderunt vir aegyptius liberavit nos de manu pastorum insuper et hausit aquam nobiscum potumque dedit ovibus

2:20. But he said: Where is he? why have you let the man go? call him that he may eat bread.

At ille ubi est inquit quare dimisistis hominem vocate eum ut comedat panem

2:21. And Moses swore that he would dwell with him. And he took Sephora his daughter to wife:

luravit ergo Moses quod habitaret cum eo accepitque Sefforam filiam eius

2:22. And she bore him a son, whom he called Gersam, saying: I have been a stranger in a foreign country. And she bore another, whom he called Eliezer, saying: For the God of my father, my helper, hath delivered me out of the hand of Pharao.

Quae peperit filium quem vocavit Gersam dicens advena fui in terra aliena

Gersam... Or Gershom. This name signifies a stranger there: as Eliezer signifies the help of God.

2:23. Now after a long time the king of Egypt died: and the children of Israel groaning, cried out because of the works: and their cry went up unto God from the works.

Post multum temporis mortuus est rex Aegypti et ingemescentes filii Israhel propter opera vociferati sunt ascenditque clamor eorum ad Deum ab operibus

2:24. And he heard their groaning, and remembered the covenant which he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Et audivit gemitum eorum ac recordatus foederis quod pepigerat cum Abraham et Isaac et Iacob

2:25. And the Lord looked upon the children of Israel, and he knew them.

Respexit filios Israhel et cognovit eos

Knew them... That is, he had respect to them, he cast a merciful eye upon them.

Exodus Chapter 3

God appeareth to Moses in a bush, and sendeth him to deliver Israel.

---

3:1. Now Moses fed the sheep of Jethro, his father in law, the priest of Madian: and he drove the flock to the inner parts of the desert, and came to the mountain of God, Horeb.

Moses autem pascebat oves Iethro cognati sui sacerdotis Madian cumque minasset gregem ad interiora deserti venit ad montem Dei Horeb

3:2. And the Lord appeared to him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush: and he saw that the bush was on fire, and was not burnt.

Apparuitque ei Dominus in flamma ignis de medio rubi et videbat quod rubus arderet et non conbureretur The Lord appeared... That is, an angel representing God, and speaking in his name.

3:3. And Moses said: I will go, and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt.

Dixit ergo Moses vadam et videbo visionem hanc magnam quare non conburatur rubus

3:4. And when the Lord saw that he went forward to see, he called to him out of the midst of the bush and said: Moses, Moses. And he answered: Here I am.

Cernens autem Dominus quod pergeret ad videndum vocavit eum de medio rubi et ait Moses Moses qui respondit adsum

3:5. And he said: Come not nigh hither, put off the shoes from thy feet; for the place, whereon thou standest, is holy ground.

At ille ne adpropies inquit huc solve calciamentum de pedibus tuis locus enim in quo stas terra sancta est

3:6. And he said: I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Moses hid his face: for he durst not look at God.

Et ait ego sum Deus patris tui Deus Abraham Deus Isaac Deus Iacob abscondit Moses faciem suam non enim audebat aspicere contra Deum

3:7. And the Lord said to him: I have seen the affliction of my people in Egypt, and I have heard their cry because of the rigour of them that are over the works;

Cui ait Dominus vidi adflictionem populi mei in Aegypto et clamorem eius audivi propter duritiam eorum qui praesunt operibus

3:8. And knowing their sorrow, I am come down to deliver them out of the hands of the Egyptians, and to bring them out of that land into a good and spacious land, into a land that floweth with milk and honey, to the places of the Chanaanite, and Hethite, and Amorrhite, and Pherezite, and Hevite, and Jebusite.

Et sciens dolorem eius descendi ut liberarem eum de manibus Aegyptiorum et educerem de terra illa in terram bonam et spatiosam in terram quae fluit lacte et melle ad loca Chananei et Hetthei et Amorrei Ferezei et Evei et Iebusei

3:9. For the cry of the children of Israel is come unto me: and I have seen their affliction, wherewith they are oppressed by the Egyptians.

Clamor ergo filiorum Israhel venit ad me vidique adflictionem eorum qua ab Aegyptiis opprimuntur

3:10. But come, and I will send thee to Pharao, that thou mayst bring forth my people, the children of Israel, out of Egypt.

Sed veni mittam te ad Pharaonem ut educas populum meum filios Israhel de Aegypto

3:11. And Moses said to God: Who am I that I should go to Pharao, and should bring forth the children of Israel out of Egypt?

Dixit Moses ad Deum quis ego sum ut vadam ad Pharaonem et educam filios Israhel de Aegypto

3:12. And he said to him: I will be with thee; and this thou shalt have for a sign that I have sent thee: When thou shalt have brought my people out of Egypt, thou shalt offer sacrifice to God upon this mountain.

Qui dixit ei ero tecum et hoc habebis signum quod miserim te cum eduxeris populum de Aegypto immolabis Deo super montem istum

3:13. Moses said to God: Lo, I shall go to the children of Israel, and say to them: The God of your fathers hath sent me to you. If they shall say to me: What is his name? What shall I say to them?

Ait Moses ad Deum ecce ego vadam ad filios Israhel et dicam eis Deus patrum vestrorum misit me ad vos si dixerint mihi quod est nomen eius quid dicam eis

3:14. God said to Moses: I AM WHO AM. He said: Thus shalt thou say to the children of Israel: HE WHO IS, hath sent me to you.

Dixit Deus ad Mosen ego sum qui sum ait sic dices filiis Israhel qui est misit me ad vos

I am who am... That is, I am being itself, eternal, self-existent, independent, infinite; without beginning, end, or change; and the source of all other beings.

3:15. And God said again to Moses: Thus shalt thou say to the children of Israel: The Lord God of your fathers the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob hath sent me to you; this is my name for ever, and this is my memorial unto all generations.

Dixitque iterum Deus ad Mosen haec dices filiis Israhel Dominus Deus patrum vestrorum Deus Abraham Deus Isaac et Deus Iacob misit me ad vos hoc nomen mihi est in aeternum et hoc memoriale meum in generationem et generatione

3:16. Go and gather together the ancients of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath appeared to me, saying: Visiting I have visited you; and I have seen all that hath befallen you in Egypt.

Vade congrega seniores Israhel et dices ad eos Dominus Deus patrum vestrorum apparuit mihi Deus Abraham et Deus Isaac et Deus Iacob dicens visitans visitavi vos et omnia quae acciderunt vobis in Aegypto

3:17. And I have said the word to bring you forth out of the affliction of Egypt, into the land of the Chanaanite, and Hethite, and Amorrhite, and Pherezite, and Hevite, and Jebusite, to a land that floweth with milk and honey.

Et dixi ut educam vos de adflictione Aegypti in terram Chananei et Hetthei et Amorrei Ferezei et Evei et Iebusei ad terram fluentem lacte et melle

3:18. And they shall hear thy voice; and thou shalt go in, thou and the ancients of Israel, to the king of Egypt, and thou shalt say to him: The Lord God of the Hebrews hath called us; we will go three days' journey into the wilderness, to sacrifice unto the Lord our God.

Et audient vocem tuam ingredierisque tu et seniores Israhel ad regem Aegypti et dices ad eum Dominus Deus Hebraeorum vocavit nos ibimus viam trium dierum per solitudinem ut immolemus Domino Deo nostro

3:19. But I know that the king of Egypt will not let you go, but by a mighty hand.

Sed ego scio quod non dimittet vos rex Aegypti ut eat nisi per manum validam

3:20. For I will stretch forth my hand, and will strike Egypt with all my wonders which I will do in the midst of them: after these he will let you go.

Extendam enim manum meam et percutiam Aegyptum in cunctis mirabilibus meis quae facturus sum in medio eorum post haec dimittet vos

3:21. And I will give favour to this people, in the sight of the Egyptians: and when you go forth, you shall not depart empty:

Daboque gratiam populo huic coram Aegyptiis et cum egrediemini non exibitis vacui

3:22. But every woman shall ask of her neighbour, and of her that is in her house, vessels of silver and of gold, and raiment: and you shall put them on your sons and daughters, and shall spoil Egypt.

Sed postulabit mulier a vicina sua et ab hospita vasa argentea et aurea ac vestes ponetisque eas super filios et filias vestras et spoliabitis Aegyptum

Shall spoil, etc... That is, you shall strip, and take away the goods of the Egyptians. This was not authorizing theft or injustice; but was a just disposal made by Him, who is the great lord and master of all things, in order to pay the children of Israel some part of what was due to them from the Egyptians for their labours.

Exodus Chapter 4

Moses is empowered to confirm his mission with miracles: his brother Aaron is appointed to assist him.

---

4:1. Moses answered, and said: They will not believe me, nor hear my voice, but they will say: The Lord hath not appeared to thee.

Respondens Moses ait non credent mihi neque audient vocem meam sed dicent non apparuit tibi Dominus

4:2. Then he said to him: What is that thou holdest in thy hand? He answered: A rod.

Dixit ergo ad eum quid est hoc quod tenes in manu tua respondit virga

4:3. And the Lord said: Cast it down upon the ground. He cast it down, and it was turned into a serpent, so that Moses fled from it.

Ait proice eam in terram proiecit et versa est in colubrum ita ut fugeret Moses

4:4. And the Lord said: Put out thy hand, and take it by the tail. He put forth his hand, and took hold of it, and it was turned into a rod.

Dixitque Dominus extende manum tuam et adprehende caudam eius extendit et tenuit versaque est in virgam

4:5. That they may believe, saith he, that the Lord God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath appeared to thee.

Ut credant inquit quod apparuerit tibi Dominus Deus patrum tuorum Deus Abraham Deus Isaac Deus Iacob

4:6. And the Lord said again: Put thy hand into thy bosom. And when he had put it into his bosom, he brought it forth leprous as snow.

Dixitque Dominus rursum mitte manum in sinum tuum quam cum misisset in sinum protulit leprosam instar nivis

4:7. And he said: Put back thy hand into thy bosom. He put it back, and brought it out again, and it was like the other flesh.

Retrahe ait manum in sinum tuum retraxit et protulit iterum et erat similis carni reliquae

4:8. If they will not believe thee, saith he, nor hear the voice of the former sign, they will believe the word of the latter sign.

Si non crediderint inquit tibi neque audierint sermonem signi prioris credent verbo signi sequentis

4:9. But if they will not even believe these two signs, nor hear thy voice: take of the river water, and pour it out upon the dry land, and whatsoever thou drawest out of the river, shall be turned into blood.

Quod si nec duobus quidem his signis crediderint neque audierint vocem tuam sume aquam fluminis et effunde eam super aridam et quicquid hauseris de fluvio vertetur in sanguinem

4:10. Moses said: I beseech thee, Lord, I am not eloquent from yesterday and the day before; and since thou hast spoken to thy servant, I have more impediment and slowness of tongue.

Ait Moses obsecro Domine non sum eloquens ab heri et nudius tertius et ex quo locutus es ad servum tuum impeditioris et tardioris linguae sum

4:11. The Lord said to him: Who made man's mouth? or who made the dumb and the deaf, the seeing and the blind? did not I?

Dixit Dominus ad eum quis fecit os hominis aut quis fabricatus est mutum et surdum videntem et caecum nonne ego

4:12. Go therefore, and I will be in thy mouth; and I will teach thee what thou shalt speak.

Perge igitur et ego ero in ore tuo doceboque te quid loquaris

4:13. But he said: I beseech thee, Lord, send whom thou wilt send.

At ille obsecro inquit Domine mitte quem missurus es

4:14. The Lord being angry at Moses, said: Aaron the Levite is thy brother, I know that he is eloquent: behold he cometh forth to meet thee, and seeing thee, shall be glad at heart.

Iratus Dominus in Mosen ait Aaron frater tuus Levites scio quod eloquens sit ecce ipse egreditur in occursum tuum vidensque te laetabitur corde

4:15. Speak to him, and put my words in his mouth: and I will be in thy mouth, and in his month, and will show you what you must do.

Loquere ad eum et pone verba mea in ore eius ego ero in ore tuo et in ore illius et ostendam vobis quid agere debeatis

4:16. He shall speak in thy stead to the people, and shall be thy mouth: but thou shalt be to him in those things that pertain to God.

Ipse loquetur pro te ad populum et erit os tuum tu autem eris ei in his quae ad Deum pertinent

4:17. And take this rod in thy hand wherewith thou shalt do the signs.

Virgam quoque hanc sume in manu tua in qua facturus es signa

4:18. Moses went his way, and returned to Jethro his father in law, and said to him; I will go and return to my brethren into Egypt, that I may see if they be yet alive. And Jethro said to him: Go in peace.

Abiit Moses et reversus est ad Iethro cognatum suum dixitque ei vadam et revertar ad fratres meos in Aegyptum ut videam si adhuc vivunt cui ait Iethro vade in pace

4:19. And the Lord said to Moses, in Madian: Go, and return into Egypt; for they are all dead that sought thy life.

Dixit ergo Dominus ad Mosen in Madian vade revertere in Aegyptum mortui sunt omnes qui quaerebant animam tuam

4:20. Moses therefore took his wife, and his sons, and set them upon an ass; and returned into Egypt, carrying the rod of God in his hand.

Tulit Moses uxorem et filios suos et inposuit eos super asinum reversusque est in Aegyptum portans virgam Dei in manu sua

4:21. And the Lord said to him as he was returning into Egypt: See that thou do all the wonders before Pharao, which I have put in thy hand: I shall harden his heart, and he will not let the people go.

Dixitque ei Dominus revertenti in Aegyptum vide ut omnia ostenta quae posui in manu tua facias coram Pharaone ego indurabo cor eius et non dimittet populum

I shall harden, etc... Not by being the efficient cause of his sin; but by withdrawing from him, for his just punishment, the dew of grace that might have softened his heart; and so suffering him to grow harder and harder.

4:22. And thou shalt say to him: Thus saith the Lord: Israel is my son, my firstborn.

Dicesque ad eum haec dicit Dominus filius meus primogenitus meus Israhel

4:23. I have said to thee: Let my son go, that he may serve me, and thou wouldst not let him go: behold I will kill thy son, thy firstborn.

Dixi tibi dimitte filium meum ut serviat mihi et noluisti dimittere eum ecce ego interficiam filium tuum primogenitum

4:24. And when he was in his journey, in the inn, the Lord met him, and would have killed him.

Cumque esset in itinere in diversorio occurrit ei Dominus et volebat occidere eum

The Lord met him, and would have killed him... This was an angel representing the Lord, who treated Moses in this manner, for having neglected the circumcision of his younger son; which his wife understanding, circumcised her child upon the spot, upon which the angel let Moses go.

4:25. Immediately Sephora took a very sharp stone, and circumcised the foreskin of her son, and touched his feet, and said: A bloody spouse art thou to me.

Tulit ilico Seffora acutissimam petram et circumcidit praeputium filii sui tetigitque pedes eius et ait sponsus sanguinum tu mihi es

4:26. And he let him go after she had said: A bloody spouse art thou to me, because of the circumcision.

Et dimisit eum postquam dixerat sponsus sanguinum ob circumcisionem

4:27. And the Lord said to Aaron: Go into the desert to meet Moses. And he went forth to meet him in the mountain of God, and kissed him.

Dixit autem Dominus ad Aaron vade in occursum Mosi in deserto qui perrexit ei obviam in montem Dei et osculatus est eum

4:28. And Moses told Aaron all the words of the Lord, by which he had sent him, and the signs that he had commanded.

Narravitque Moses Aaron omnia verba Domini quibus miserat eum et signa quae mandaverat

4:29. And they came together, and they assembled all the ancients of the children of Israel.

Veneruntque simul et congregaverunt cunctos seniores filiorum Israhel

4:30. And Aaron spoke all the words which the Lord had said to Moses: and he wrought the signs before the people.

Locutusque est Aaron omnia verba quae dixerat Dominus ad Mosen et fecit signa coram populo

4:31. And the people believed. And they heard that the Lord had visited the children of Israel, and that he had looked upon their affliction: and falling down they adored.

Et credidit populus audieruntque quod visitasset Dominus filios Israhel et quod respexisset ad afflictionem eorum et proni adoraverunt

Exodus Chapter 5

Pharao refuseth to let the people go. They are more oppressed.

5:1. After these things, Moses and Aaron went in, and said to Pharao: Thus saith the Lord God of Israel: Let my people go, that they may sacrifice to me in the desert.

Post haec ingressi sunt Moses et Aaron et dixerunt Pharaoni haec dicit Dominus Deus Israhel dimitte populum meum ut sacrificet mihi in deserto

5:2. But he answered: Who is the Lord, that I should hear his voice, and let Israel go? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Israel go.

At ille respondit quis est Dominus ut audiam vocem eius et dimittam Israhel nescio Dominum et Israhel non dimittam

5:3. And they said: The God of the Hebrews hath called us, to go three days' journey into the wilderness, and to sacrifice to the Lord our God; lest a pestilence or the sword fall upon us.

Dixerunt Deus Hebraeorum vocavit nos ut eamus viam trium dierum in solitudinem et sacrificemus Domino Deo nostro ne forte accidat nobis pestis aut gladius

5:4. The king of Egypt said to them: Why do you Moses and Aaron draw off the people from their works? Get you gone to your burdens.

Ait ad eos rex Aegypti quare Moses et Aaron sollicitatis populum ab operibus suis ite ad onera vestra

5:5. And Pharao said: The people of the land are numerous; you see that the multitude is increased; how much more if you give them rest from their works?

Dixitque Pharao multus est populus terrae videtis quod turba succreverit quanto magis si dederitis eis requiem ab operibus

5:6. Therefore he commanded the same day the overseers of the works, and the task-masters of the people, saying:

Praecepit ergo in die illo praefectis operum et exactoribus populi dicens

5:7. You shall give straw no more to the people to make brick, as before; but let them go and gather straw.

Nequaquam ultra dabit is paleas populo ad conficiendos lateres sicut prius sed ipsi vadant et colligant stipulam

5:8. And you shall lay upon them the task of bricks, which they did before; neither shall you diminish any thing thereof, for they are idle, and therefore they cry, saying: Let us go and sacrifice to our God.

Et mensuram laterum quos prius faciebant inponetis super eos nec minuetis quicquam vacant enim et idcirco vociferantur dicentes eamus et sacrificemus Deo nostro

5:9. Let them be oppressed with works, and let them fulfil them; that they may not regard lying words.

Opprimantur operibus et expleant ea ut non adquiescant verbis mendacibus

5:10. And the overseers of the works, and the taskmasters, went out and said to the people: Thus saith Pharao: I allow you no straw;

Igitur egressi praefecti operum et exactores ad populum dixerunt sic dicit Pharao non do vobis paleas

5:11. Go, and gather it where you can find it; neither shall any thing of your work be diminished.

Ite et colligite sicubi invenire potueritis nec minuetur quicquam de opere vestro

5:12. And the people was scattered through all the land of Egypt to gather straw.

Dispersusque est populus per omnem terram Aegypti ad colligendas paleas

5:13. And the overseers of the works pressed them, saying: Fulfil your work every day, as before ye were wont to do, when straw was given you.

Praefecti quoque operum instabant dicentes complete opus vestrum cotidie ut prius facere solebatis quando dabantur vobis paleae

5:14. And they that were over the works of the children of Israel, were scourged by Pharao's taskmasters, saying: Why have you not made up the task of bricks, both yesterday and to day, as before?

Flagellatique sunt qui praeerant operibus filiorum Israhel ab exactoribus Pharaonis dicentibus quare non impletis mensuram laterum sicut prius nec heri nec hodie

5:15. And the officers of the children of Israel came, and cried out to Pharao, saying: Why dealest thou so with thy servants?

Veneruntque praepositi filiorum Israhel et vociferati sunt ad Pharaonem dicentes cur ita agis contra servos tuos

5:16. Straw is not given us, and bricks are required of us as before; behold we, thy servants, are beaten with whips, and thy people is unjustly dealt withal.

Paleae non dantur nobis et lateres similiter imperantur en famuli tui flagellis caedimur et iniuste agitur contra populum tuum

5:17. And he said: You are idle, and therefore you say: Let us go and sacrifice to the Lord.

Qui ait vacatis otio et idcirco dicitis eamus et sacrificemus Domino

5:18. Go therefore and work: straw shall not be given you, and you shall deliver the accustomed number of bricks.

Ite ergo et operamini paleae non dabuntur vobis et reddetis consuetum numerum laterum

5:19. And the officers of the children of Israel saw that they were in evil case, because it was said to them: There shall not a whit be diminished of the bricks for every day.

Videbantque se praepositi filiorum Israhel in malo eo quod diceretur eis non minuetur quicquam de lateribus per singulos dies

5:20. And they met Moses and Aaron, who stood over against them as they came out from Pharao:

Occurreruntque Mosi et Aaron qui stabant ex adverso egredientes a Pharaone

5:21. And they said to them: The Lord see and judge, because you have, made our savour to stink before Pharao and his servants, and you have given him a sword, to kill us.

Et dixerunt ad eos videat Dominus et iudicet quoniam fetere fecistis odorem nostrum coram Pharao et servis eius et praebuistis ei gladium ut occideret nos

5:22. And Moses returned to the Lord, and said: Lord, why hast thou afflicted this people? wherefore hast thou sent me?

Reversusque Moses ad Dominum ait Domine cur adflixisti populum istum quare misisti me

5:23. For since the time that I went in to Pharao to speak in thy name, he hath afflicted thy people: and thou hast not delivered them.

Ex eo enim quo ingressus sum ad Pharaonem ut loquerer nomine tuo adflixit populum tuum et non liberasti eos

Exodus Chapter 6

God reneweth his promise. The genealogies of Ruben, Simon and Levi, down to Moses and Aaron.

---

6:1. And the Lord said to Moses: Now thou shalt see what I will do to Pharao: for by a mighty hand shall he let them go, and with a strong hand shall he cast them out of his land.

Dixit Dominus ad Mosen nunc videbis quae facturus sum Pharaoni per manum enim fortem dimittet eos et in manu robusta eiciet illos de terra sua

6:2. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying: I am the Lord

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens ego Dominus

6:3. That appeared to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, by the name of God Almighty: and my name ADONAI I did not show them.

Qui apparui Abraham Isaac et Iacob in Deo omnipotente et nomen meum Adonai non indicavi eis

My name Adonai... The name, which is in the Hebrew text, is that most proper name of God, which signifieth his eternal, self-existent being, Exodus 3:14, which the Jews out of reverence never pronounce; but, instead of it, whenever it occurs in the Bible, they read Adonai, which signifies the Lord; and, therefore, they put the points or vowels, which belong to the name Adonai, to the four letters of that other ineffable name Jod, He, Vau, He. Hence some moderns have framed the name Jehovah, unknown to all the ancients, whether Jews or Christians; for the true pronunciation of the name, which is in the Hebrew text, by long disuse, is now quite lost.

6:4. And I made a covenant with them, to give them the land of Chanaan, the land of their pilgrimage wherein they were strangers.

Pepigique cum eis foedus ut darem illis terram Chanaan terram peregrinationis eorum in qua fuerunt advenae

6:5. I have heard the groaning of the children of Israel, wherewith the Egyptians have oppressed them: and I have remembered my covenant.

Ego audivi gemitum filiorum Israhel quo Aegyptii oppresserunt eos et recordatus sum pacti mei

6:6. Therefore say to the children of Israel: I am the Lord who will bring you out from the work-prison of the Egyptians, and will deliver you from bondage: and redeem you with a high arm, and great judgments.

Ideo dic filiis Israhel ego Dominus qui educam vos de ergastulo Aegyptiorum et eruam de servitute ac redimam in brachio excelso et iudiciis magnis

6:7. And I will take you to myself for my people, I will be your God: and you shall know that I am the Lord your God, who brought you out from the work-prison of the Egyptians:

Et adsumam vos mihi in populum et ero vester Deus scietisque quod ego sim Dominus Deus vester qui eduxerim vos de ergastulo Aegyptiorum

6:8. And brought you into the land, concerning which I lifted up my hand to give it to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: and I will give it you to possess: I am the Lord.

Et induxerim in terram super quam levavi manum meam ut darem eam Abraham Isaac et Iacob daboque illam vobis possidendam ego Dominus

6:9. And Moses told all this to the children of Israel: but they did not hearken to him, for anguish of spirit, and most painful work.

Narravit ergo Moses omnia filiis Israhel qui non adquieverunt ei propter angustiam spiritus et opus durissimum

6:10. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

6:11. Go in, and speak to Pharao king of Egypt, that he let the children of Israel go out of his land.

Ingrede et loquere ad Pharao regem Aegypti ut dimittat filios Israhel de terra sua

6:12. Moses answered before the Lord: Behold the children of Israel do not hearken to me: and how will Pharao hear me, especially as I am of uncircumcised lips?

Respondit Moses coram Domino ecce filii Israhel non me audiunt et quomodo audiet me Pharao praesertim cum sim incircumciscus labiis

Uncircumcised lips... So he calls the defect he had in his words, or utterance.

6:13. And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, and he gave them a charge unto the children of Israel, and unto Pharao the king of Egypt, that they should bring forth the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen et Aaron et dedit mandatum ad filios Israhel et ad Pharao regem Aegypti ut educerent filios Israhel de terra Aegypti

6:14. These are the heads of their houses by their families. The sons of Ruben the firstborn of Israel: Henoah and Phallu, Hesron and Charmi.

Isti sunt principes domorum per familias suas filii Ruben primogeniti Israhelis Enoch et Phallu Aesrom et Charmi

6:15. These are the kindreds of Ruben. The sons of Simeon, Jamuel and Jamin, and Ahod, and Jachin, and Soar, and Saul the son of a Chanaanitess: these are the families of Simeon.

Hae cognationes Ruben filii Symeon Iamuhel et Iamin et Aod Iachin et Soer et Saul filius Chananitidis hae progenies Symeon

6:16. And these are the names of the sons of Levi by their kindreds: Gerson, and Caath, and Merari. And the years of the life of Levi were a hundred and thirty-seven.

Et haec nomina filiorum Levi per cognationes suas Gerson et Caath et Merari anni autem vitae Levi fuerunt centum triginta septem

6:17. The sons of Gerson: Lobni and Semei, by their kindreds.

Filii Gerson Lobeni et Semei per cognationes suas

6:18. The sons of Caath: Amram, and Isaac, and Hebron and Oziel. And the years of Caath's life, were a hundred and thirty-three.

Filii Caath Amram et Isuar et Hebron et Ozihel annique vitae Caath centum triginta tres

6:19. The sons of Merari: Moholi and Musi. These are the kindreds of Levi by their families.

Filii Merari Mooli et Musi hae cognationes Levi per familias suas

6:20. And Amram took to wife Jochabed his aunt by the father's side: and she bore him Aaron and Moses. And the years of Amram's life, were a hundred and thirty-seven.

Acceptit autem Amram uxorem Iocabed patruelem suam quae peperit ei Aaron et Mosen fueruntque anni vitae Amram centum triginta septem

6:21. The sons also of Isaac: Core, and Nepheg, and Zechri.

Filii quoque Isuar Core et Napheg et Zechri

6:22. The sons also of Oziel: Mizael, and Elizaphan, and Sethri.

Filii quoque Ozihel Misahel et Elsaphan et Sethri

6:23. And Aaron took to wife Elizabeth the daughter of Aminadab, sister of Nahason, who bore him Nadab, and Abiu, and Eleazar, and Ithamar.

Acceptit autem Aaron uxorem Elisabe filiam Aminadab sororem Naasson quae peperit ei Nadab et Abiu et Eleazar et Ithamar

6:24. The sons also of Core: Aser, and Elcana, and Abiasaph. These are the kindreds of the Corites.

Filii quoque Core Asir et Helcana et Abiasab hae sunt cognationes Coritarum

6:25. But Eleazar the son of Aaron took a wife of the daughters of Phutiel: and she bore him Phinees. These are the heads of the Levitical families by their kindreds.

At vero Eleazar filius Aaron accepit uxorem de filiabus Phutihel quae peperit ei Finees hii sunt principes familiarum leviticarum per cognationes suas

6:26. These are Aaron and Moses, whom the Lord commanded to bring forth the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt by their companies.

Iste est Aaron et Moses quibus praecepit Dominus ut educerent filios Israhel de terra Aegypti per turmas

suas

6:27. These are they that speak to Pharao, king of Egypt, in order to bring out the children of Israel from Egypt: these are that Moses and Aaron,

Hii sunt qui loquuntur ad Pharao regem Aegypti ut educant filios Israhel de Aegypto iste Moses et Aaron

6:28. In the day when the Lord spoke to Moses in the land of Egypt.

In die qua locutus est Dominus ad Mosen in terra Aegypti

6:29. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying: I am the Lord; speak thou to Pharao, king of Egypt, all that I say to thee.

Et locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens ego Dominus loquere ad Pharao regem Aegypti omnia quae ego loquor tibi

6:30. And Moses said before the Lord: Lo I am of uncircumcised lips, how will Pharao hear me?

Et ait Moses coram Domino en incircumciscus labiis sum quomodo audiet me Pharao

Exodus Chapter 7

Moses and Aaron go into Pharaoh: they turn the rod into a serpent; and the waters of Egypt into blood, which was the first plague. The magicians do the like, and Pharaoh's heart is hardened.

---

7:1. And the Lord said to Moses: Behold, I have appointed thee the god of Pharaoh; and Aaron, thy brother, shall be thy prophet.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen ecce constitui te Deum Pharaonis Aaron frater tuus erit propheta tuus

The god of Pharaoh... Viz., to be his judge; and to exercise a divine power, as God's instrument, over him and his people.

7:2. Thou shalt speak to him all that I command thee; and he shall speak to Pharaoh, that he let the children of Israel go out of his land.

Tu loqueris omnia quae mando tibi ille loquetur ad Pharaonem ut dimittat filios Israhel de terra sua

7:3. But I shall harden his heart, and shall multiply my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt.

Sed ego indurabo cor eius et multiplicabo signa et ostenta mea in terra Aegypti

I shall harden, etc... not by being the efficient cause of his hardness of heart, but by permitting it; and by withdrawing grace from him, in punishment of his malice; which alone was the proper cause of his being hardened.

7:4. And he will not hear you: and I will lay my hand upon Egypt, and will bring forth my army and my people, the children of Israel, out of the land of Egypt, by very great judgments.

Et non audiet vos inmittamque manum meam super Aegyptum et educam exercitum et populum meum filios Israhel de terra Aegypti per iudicia maxima

7:5. And the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, who have stretched forth my hand upon Egypt, and have brought forth the children of Israel out of the midst of them.

Et scient Aegyptii quod ego sim Dominus qui extenderim manum meam super Aegyptum et eduxerim filios Israhel de medio eorum

7:6. And Moses and Aaron did as the Lord had commanded; so did they.

Fecit itaque Moses et Aaron sicut praeceperat Dominus ita egerunt

7:7. And Moses was eighty years old, and Aaron eighty-three, when they spoke to Pharaoh.

Erat autem Moses octoginta annorum et Aaron octoginta trium quando locuti sunt ad Pharaonem

7:8. And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron:

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen et Aaron

7:9. When Pharaoh shall say to you, Show signs; thou shalt say to Aaron: Take thy rod, and cast it down before Pharaoh, and it shall be turned into a serpent.

Cum dixerit vobis Pharaos ostendite signa dices ad Aaron tolle virgam tuam et proice eam coram Pharaos ac vertatur in colubrum

7:10. So Moses and Aaron went in unto Pharaoh, and did as the Lord had commanded. And Aaron took the rod before Pharaoh and his servants, and it was turned into a serpent.

Ingressi itaque Moses et Aaron ad Pharaonem fecerunt sicut praeceperat Dominus tulitque Aaron virgam coram Pharaos et servis eius quae versa est in colubrum

7:11. And Pharaoh called the wise men and the magicians; and they also by Egyptian enchantments and certain secrets, did in like manner.

Vocavit autem Pharaos sapientes et maleficos et fecerunt etiam ipsi per incantationes aegyptias et arcana quaedam similiter

Magicians... Jannes, and Mambres, or Jambres, 2 Timothy 3:8.

7:12. And they every one cast down their rods, and they were turned into serpents: but Aaron's rod devoured their rods.

Proieceruntque singuli virgas suas quae versae sunt in dracones sed devoravit virga Aaron virgas eorum

7:13. And Pharao's heart was hardened, and he did not hearken to them, as the Lord had commanded.

Induratumque est cor Pharaonis et non audivit eos sicut praeceperat Dominus

7:14. And the Lord said to Moses: Pharao's heart is hardened, he will not let the people go.

Dixit autem Dominus ad Mosen ingravatum est cor Pharaonis non vult dimittere populum

7:15. Go to him in the morning, behold he will go out to the waters: and thou shalt stand to meet him on the bank of the river: and thou shalt take in thy hand the rod that was turned into a serpent.

Vade ad eum mane ecce egredietur ad aquas et stabis in occursum eius super ripam fluminis et virgam quae conversa est in draconem tolles in manu tua

7:16. And thou shalt say to him: The Lord God of the Hebrews sent me to thee, saying: Let my people go to sacrifice to me in the desert: and hitherto thou wouldst not hear.

Dicesque ad eum Dominus Deus Hebraeorum misit me ad te dicens dimitte populum meum ut mihi sacrificet in deserto et usque ad praesens audire noluisti

7:17. Thus therefore saith the Lord: In this thou shalt know that I am the Lord: behold I will strike with the rod, that is in my hand, the water of the river, and it shall be turned into blood.

Haec igitur dicit Dominus in hoc scies quod Dominus sim ecce percutiam virga quae in manu mea est aquam fluminis et vertetur in sanguinem

7:18. And the fishes that are in the river, shall die, and the waters shall be corrupted, and the Egyptians shall be afflicted when they drink the water of the river.

Pisces quoque qui sunt in fluvio morientur et computrescent aquae et adfligentur Aegyptii bibentes aquam fluminis

7:19. The Lord also said to Moses: Say to Aaron, Take thy rod; and stretch forth thy hand upon the waters of Egypt, and upon their rivers, and streams and pools, and all the ponds of waters, that they may be turned into blood: and let blood be in all the land of Egypt, both in vessels of wood and of stone.

Dixit quoque Dominus ad Mosen dic ad Aaron tolle virgam tuam et extende manum tuam super aquas Aegypti et super fluvios eorum et rivos ac paludes et omnes lacus aquarum ut vertantur in sanguinem et sit cruor in omni terra Aegypti tam in ligneis vasis quam in saxeis

7:20. And Moses and Aaron did as the Lord had commanded: and lifting up the rod, he struck the water of the river before Pharao and his servants: and it was turned into blood.

Feceruntque ita Moses et Aaron sicut praeceperat Dominus et elevans virgam percussit aquam fluminis coram Pharao et servis eius quae versa est in sanguinem

7:21. And the fishes that were in the river died; and the river corrupted, and the Egyptians could not drink the water of the river, and there was blood in all the land of Egypt.

Et pisces qui erant in flumine mortui sunt computruitque fluvius et non poterant Aegyptii bibere aquam fluminis et fuit sanguis in tota terra Aegypti

7:22. And the magicians of the Egyptians with their enchantments did in like manner; and Pharao's heart was hardened, neither did he hear them, as the Lord had commanded.

Feceruntque similiter malefici Aegyptiorum incantationibus suis et induratum est cor Pharaonis nec audivit eos sicut praeceperat Dominus

7:23. And he turned himself away, and went into his house, neither did he set his heart to it this time also.

Avertitque se et ingressus est domum suam nec adposuit cor etiam hac vice

7:24. And all the Egyptians dug round about the river for water to drink; for they could not drink of the water of the river.

Foderunt autem omnes Aegyptii per circuitum fluminis aquam ut biberent non enim poterant bibere de aqua fluminis

7:25. And seven days were fully ended, after that the Lord struck the river.

Impletique sunt septem dies postquam percussit Dominus fluvium

Exodus Chapter 8

The second plague is of frogs: Pharaoh promiseth to let the Israelites go, but breaketh his promise. The third plague is of sciniphs. The fourth is of flies. Pharaoh again promiseth to dismiss the people, but doth it not.

---

8:1. And the Lord said to Moses: Go in to Pharaoh, and thou shalt say to him: Thus saith the Lord: Let my people go to sacrifice to me.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen ingredi ad Pharaonem et dices ad eum haec dicit Dominus dimitte populum meum ut sacrificet mihi

8:2. But if thou wilt not let them go, behold I will strike all thy coasts with frogs.

Sin autem nolueris dimittere ecce ego percutiam omnes terminos tuos ranis

8:3. And the river shall bring forth an abundance of frogs; which shall come up and enter into thy house, and thy bedchamber, and upon thy bed, and into the houses of thy servants, and to thy people, and into thy ovens, and into the remains of thy meats:

Et ebulliet fluvius ranas quae ascendent et ingredientur domum tuam et cubiculum lectuli tui et super stratum tuum et in domos servorum tuorum et in populum tuum et in furnos tuos et in reliquias ciborum tuorum

8:4. And the frogs shall come in to thee, and to thy people, and to all thy servants.

Et ad te et ad populum tuum et ad omnes servos tuos intrabunt ranae

8:5. And the Lord said to Moses: Say to Aaron: Stretch forth thy hand upon the streams, and upon the rivers and the pools, and bring forth frogs upon the land of Egypt.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen dic Aaron extende manum tuam super fluvios et super rivos ac paludes et educ ranae super terram Aegypti

8:6. And Aaron stretched forth his hand upon the waters of Egypt, and the frogs came up, and covered the land of Egypt.

Extendit Aaron manum super aquas Aegypti et ascenderunt ranae operueruntque terram Aegypti

8:7. And the magicians also, by their enchantments, did in like manner, and they brought forth frogs upon the land of Egypt.

Fecerunt autem et malefici per incantationes suas similiter eduxeruntque ranae super terram Aegypti

8:8. But Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron, and said to them: Pray ye to the Lord to take away the frogs from me and from my people; and I will let the people go to sacrifice to the Lord.

Vocavit autem Pharaonem Mosen et Aaron et dixit orate Dominum ut auferat ranae a me et a populo meo et dimittam populum ut sacrificet Domino

Pray ye to the Lord, etc... By this it appears, that though the magicians, by the help of the devil, could bring frogs, yet they could not take them away: God being pleased to abridge in this the power of Satan. So we see they could not afterwards produce the lesser insects; and in this restraint of the power of the devil, were forced to acknowledge the finger of God.

8:9. And Moses said to Pharaoh: Set me a time when I shall pray for thee, and for thy servants, and for thy people, that the frogs may be driven away from thee and from thy house, and from thy servants, and from thy people; and may remain only in the river.

Dixitque Moses Pharaoni constitue mihi quando deprecer pro te et pro servis tuis et pro populo tuo ut abigantur ranae a te et a domo tua et tantum in flumine remaneant

8:10. And he answered: To morrow. But he said: I will do according to thy word; that thou mayest know that there is none like to the Lord our God.

Qui respondit cras at ille iuxta verbum inquit tuum ut scias quoniam non est sicut Dominus Deus noster

8:11. And the frogs shall depart from thee, and from thy house, and from thy servants, and from thy people; and shall remain only in the river.

Et recedent ranae a te et a domo tua et a servis tuis et a populo tuo tantum in flumine remanebunt

8:12. And Moses and Aaron went forth from Pharao: and Moses cried to the Lord for the promise, which he had made to Pharao concerning the frogs.

Egressique sunt Moses et Aaron a Pharaone et clamavit Moses ad Dominum pro sponsione ranarum quam condixerat Pharaoni

8:13. And the Lord did according to the word of Moses: and the frogs died out of the houses, and out of the villages, and out of the fields:

Fecitque Dominus iuxta verbum Mosi et mortuae sunt ranae de domibus et de villis et de agris

8:14. And they gathered them together into immense heaps, and the land was corrupted.

Congregaveruntque eas in imensos aggeres et conputruit terra

8:15. And Pharao seeing that rest was given, hardened his own heart, and did not hear them, as the Lord had commanded.

Videns autem Pharao quod data esset requies ingravit cor suum et non audivit eos sicut praeceperat Dominus

Pharao hardened his own heart... By this we see that Pharao was himself the efficient cause of his heart being hardened, and not God. See the same repeated in verse 32. Pharao hardened his heart at this time also: likewise Genesis 9: 7, 9:35, and 13:15.

8:16. And the Lord said to Moses: Say to Aaron: Stretch forth thy rod, and strike the dust of the earth; and may there be sciniphs in all the land of Egypt.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen loquere ad Aaron extende virgam tuam et percute pulverem terrae et sint scinifes in universa terra Aegypti

Sciniphs... Or Cinifs, Hebrew Chinnim, small flying insects, very troublesome both to men and beast.

8:17. And they did so. And Aaron stretched forth his hand, holding the rod; and he struck the dust of the earth, and there came sciniphs on men and on beasts: all the dust of the earth was turned into sciniphs through all the land of Egypt.

Feceruntque ita et extendit Aaron manu virgam tenens percussitque pulverem terrae et facti sunt scinifes in hominibus et in iumentis omnis pulvis terrae versus est in scinifes per totam terram Aegypti

8:18. And the magicians with their enchantments practised in like manner, to bring forth sciniphs, and they could not: and there were sciniphs as well on men as on beasts.

Feceruntque similiter malefici incantationibus suis ut educerent scinifes et non potuerunt erantque scinifes tam in hominibus quam in iumentis

8:19. And the magicians said to Pharao: This is the finger of God. And Pharao's heart was hardened, and he hearkened not unto them, as the Lord had commanded.

Et dixerunt malefici ad Pharao digitus Dei est induratumque est cor Pharaonis et non audivit eos sicut praeceperat Dominus

8:20. The Lord also said to Moses: Arise early, and stand before Pharao; for he will go forth to the waters: and thou shalt say to him: Thus saith the Lord: Let my people go to sacrifice to me.

Dixit quoque Dominus ad Mosen consurge diluculo et sta coram Pharaone egreditur enim ad aquas et dices ad eum haec dicit Dominus dimitte populum meum ut sacrificet mihi

8:21. But if thou wilt not let them go, behold I will send in upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy houses, all kind of flies: and the houses of the Egyptians shall be filled with flies of divers kinds, and the whole land wherein they shall be.

Quod si non dimiseris eum ecce ego inmittam in te et in servos tuos et in populum tuum et in domos tuas omne genus muscarum et implebuntur domus Aegyptiorum muscis diversi generis et in universa terra in qua fuerint

8:22. And I will make the land of Gessen wonderful in that day, so that flies shall not be there: and thou shalt know that I am the Lord in the midst of the earth.

Faciamque mirabilem in die illa terram Gessen in qua populus meus est ut non sint ibi muscae et scias quoniam ego Dominus in medio terrae

8:23. And I will put a division between my people and thy people: to morrow shall this sign be.

Ponamque divisionem inter populum meum et populum tuum cras erit signum istud

8:24. And the Lord did so. And there came a very grievous swarm of flies into the houses of Pharao and of his servants, and into all the land of Egypt: and the land was corrupted by this kind of flies.

Fecitque Dominus ita et venit musca gravissima in domos Pharaonis et servorum eius et in omnem terram Aegypti corruptaque est terra ab huiuscemodi muscis

8:25. And Pharao called Moses and Aaron, and said to them: Go and sacrifice to your God in this land.

Vocavit Pharao Mosen et Aaron et ait eis ite sacrificate Deo vestro in terra

8:26. And Moses said: It cannot be so: for we shall sacrifice the abominations of the Egyptians to the Lord our God: now if we kill those things which the Egyptians worship, in their presence, they will stone us.

Et ait Moses non potest ita fieri abominationes enim Aegyptiorum immolabimus Domino Deo nostro quod si mactaverimus ea quae colunt Aegyptii coram eis lapidibus nos obruent

The abominations, etc... That is, the things they worship for Gods: oxen, rams, etc. It is the usual style of the scriptures to call all idols and false gods, abominations, to signify how much the people of God ought to detest and abhor them.

8:27. We will go three days' journey into the wilderness; and we will sacrifice to the Lord our God, as he hath commanded us.

Via trium dierum pergemus in solitudine et sacrificabimus Domino Deo nostro sicut praeceperit nobis

8:28. And Pharao said: I will let you go to sacrifice to the Lord your God in the wilderness, but go no farther: pray for me.

Dixitque Pharao ego dimittam vos ut sacrificetis Domino Deo vestro in deserto verumtamen longius ne abeatis rogate pro me

8:29. And Moses said: I will go out from thee, and will pray to the Lord: and the flies shall depart from Pharao, and from his servants, and from his people to morrow: but do not deceive any more, in not letting the people go to sacrifice to the Lord.

Et ait Moses egressus a te orabo Dominum et recedet musca a Pharaone et a servis et a populo eius cras verumtamen noli ultra fallere ut non dimittas populum sacrificare Domino

8:30. So Moses went out from Pharao, and prayed to the Lord.

Egressusque Moses a Pharao oravit Dominum

8:31. And he did according to his word: and he took away the flies from Pharao, and from his servants, and from his people: there was not left so much as one.

Qui fecit iuxta verbum illius et abstulit muscas a Pharao et a servis et a populo eius non superfuit ne una quidem

8:32. And Pharao's heart was hardened, so that neither this time would he let the people go.

Et ingravatum est cor Pharaonis ita ut ne hac quidem vice dimitteret populum

Exodus Chapter 9

The fifth plague is a murrain among the cattle. The sixth, of boils in men and beasts. The seventh, of hail. Pharaoh promiseth again to let the people go, and breaketh his word.

---

9:1. And the Lord said to Moses: Go in to Pharao, and speak to him: Thus saith the Lord God of the Hebrews: Let my people go to sacrifice to me.

Dixit autem Dominus ad Mosen ingredere ad Pharaonem et loquere ad eum haec dicit Dominus Deus Hebraeorum dimitte populum meum ut sacrificet mihi

9:2. But if thou refuse, and withhold them still:

Quod si adhuc rennui et retines eos

9:3. Behold my hand shall be upon thy fields; and a very grievous murrain upon thy horses, and asses, and camels, and oxen, and sheep.

Ecce manus mea erit super agros tuos et super equos et asinos et camelos et boves et oves pestis valde gravis

9:4. And the Lord will make a wonderful difference between the possessions of Israel and the possessions of the Egyptians, that nothing at all shall die of those things that belong to the children of Israel.

Et faciet Dominus mirabile inter possessiones Israhel et possessiones Aegyptiorum ut nihil omnino intreat ex his quae pertinent ad filios Israhel

9:5. And the Lord appointed a time, saying: To morrow will the Lord do this thing in the land.

Constituitque Dominus tempus dicens cras faciet Dominus verbum istud in terra

9:6. The Lord therefore did this thing the next day: and all the beasts of the Egyptians died, but of the beasts of the children of Israel there died not one.

Fecit ergo Dominus verbum hoc altero die mortuaeque sunt omnia animantia Aegyptiorum de animalibus vero filiorum Israhel nihil omnino periit

All the beasts... That is, many of all kinds.

9:7. And Pharao sent to see; and there was not any thing dead of that which Israel possessed. And Pharao's heart was hardened, and he did not let the people go.

Et misit Pharao ad videndum nec erat quicquam mortuum de his quae possidebat Israhel ingravatunque est cor Pharaonis et non dimisit populum

9:8. And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron: Take to you handfuls of ashes out of the chimney, and let Moses sprinkle it in the air in the presence of Pharao.

Et dixit Dominus ad Mosen et Aaron tollite plenas manus cineris de camino et spargat illud Moses in caelum coram Pharao

9:9. And be there dust upon all the land of Egypt: for there shall be boils and swelling blains both in men and beasts, in the whole land of Egypt.

Sitque pulvis super omnem terram Aegypti erunt enim in hominibus et in iumentis vulnera et vesicae turgentibus in universa terra Aegypti

9:10. And they took ashes out of the chimney, and stood before Pharao, and Moses sprinkled it in the air; and there came boils with swelling blains in men and beasts.

Tuleruntque cinerem de camino et steterunt contra Pharao et sparsit illud Moses in caelum factaque sunt vulnera vesicarum turgentium in hominibus et in iumentis

9:11. Neither could the magicians stand before Moses, for the boils that were upon them, and in all the land of Egypt.

Nec poterant malefici stare coram Mosen propter vulnera quae in illis erant et in omni terra Aegypti

9:12. And the Lord hardened Pharao's heart, and he hearkened not unto them, as the Lord had spoken to Moses.

Induravitque Dominus cor Pharaonis et non audivit eos sicut locutus est Dominus ad Mosen

Hardened, etc... See the annotations above, Genesis 4:21, 7:3, and 8:15.

9:13. And the Lord said to Moses: Arise in the morning, and stand before Pharao, and thou shalt say to him: Thus saith the Lord, the God of the Hebrews: Let my people go to sacrifice to me.

Dixit quoque Dominus ad Mosen mane consurge et sta coram Pharao et dices ad eum haec dicit Dominus Deus Hebraeorum dimitte populum meum ut sacrificet mihi

9:14. For I will at this time send all my plagues upon thy heart, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people; that thou mayst know that there is none like me in all the earth.

Quia in hac vice mittam omnes plagas meas super cor tuum super servos tuos et super populum tuum ut scias quod non sit similis mei in omni terra

9:15. For now I will stretch out my hand to strike thee, and thy people, with pestilence, and thou shalt perish from the earth.

Nunc enim extendens manum percutiam te et populum tuum peste peribisque de terra

9:16. And therefore have I raised thee, that I may show my power in thee, and my name may be spoken of throughout all the earth.

Idcirco autem posui te ut ostendam in te fortitudinem meam et narretur nomen meum in omni terra

9:17. Dost thou yet hold back my people; and wilt thou not let them go?

Adhuc retines populum meum et non vis eum dimittere

9:18. Behold I will cause it to rain to morrow at this same hour, an exceeding great hail; such as hath not been in Egypt from the day that it was founded, until this present time.

En pluam hac ipsa hora cras grandinem multam nimis qualis non fuit in Aegypto a die qua fundata est usque in praesens tempus

9:19. Send therefore now presently, and gather together thy cattle, and all that thou hast in the field; for men and beasts, and all things that shall be found abroad, and not gathered together out of the fields which the hail shall fall upon, shall die.

Mitte ergo iam nunc et congrega iumenta tua et omnia quae habes in agro homines enim et iumenta et universa quae inventa fuerint foris nec congregata de agris cecideritque super ea grandio morientur

9:20. He that feared the word of the Lord among Pharao's servants, made his servants and his cattle flee into houses:

Qui timuit verbum Domini de servis Pharao fecit confugere servos suos et iumenta in domos

9:21. But he that regarded not the word of the Lord, left his servants, and his cattle in the fields.

Qui autem neglexit sermonem Domini dimisit servos suos et iumenta in agris

9:22. And the Lord said to Moses: Stretch forth thy hand towards heaven, that there may be hail in the whole land of Egypt upon men, and upon beasts, and upon every herb of the field in the land of Egypt.

Et dixit Dominus ad Mosen extende manum tuam in caelum ut fiat grandio in universa terra Aegypti super homines et super iumenta et super omnem herbam agri in terra Aegypti

9:23. And Moses stretched forth his rod towards heaven, and the Lord sent thunder and hail, and lightnings running along the ground: and the Lord rained hail upon the land of Egypt.

Extenditque Moses virgam in caelum et Dominus dedit tonitrua et grandinem ac discurrentia fulgura super terram pluitque Dominus grandinem super terram Aegypti

9:24. And the hail and fire mixt with it drove on together: and it was of so great bigness, as never before was seen in the whole land of Egypt since that nation was founded.

Et grandio et ignis inmixta pariter ferebantur tantaeque fuit magnitudinis quanta ante numquam apparuit in universa terra Aegypti ex quo gens illa condita est

9:25. And the hail destroyed through all the land of Egypt all things that were in the fields, both man and beast: and the hail smote every herb of the field, and it broke every tree of the country.

Et percussit grando in omni terra Aegypti cuncta quae fuerunt in agris ab homine usque ad iumentum cunctam herbam agri percussit grando et omne lignum regionis confregit

9:26. Only in the land of Gessen, where the children of Israel were, the hail fell not.

Tantum in terra Gessen ubi erant filii Israhel grando non cecidit

9:27. And Pharao sent and called Moses and Aaron, saying to them: I have sinned this time also, the Lord is just: I and my people, are wicked.

Misitque Pharao et vocavit Mosen et Aaron dicens ad eos peccavi etiam nunc Dominus iustus ego et populus meus impii

9:28. Pray ye to the Lord that the thunderings of God and the hail may cease: that I may let you go, and that ye may stay here no longer.

Orate Dominum et desinant tonitrua Dei et grando ut dimittam vos et nequaquam hic ultra maneatis

9:29. Moses said: As soon as I am gone out of the city, I will stretch forth my hands to the Lord, and the thunders shall cease, and the hail shall be no more: that thou mayst know that the earth is the Lord's:

Ait Moses cum egressus fuero de urbe extendam palmas meas ad Dominum et cessabunt tonitrua et grando non erit ut scias quia Domini est terra

9:30. But I know that neither thou, nor thy servants do yet fear the Lord God.

Novi autem quod et tu et servi tui necdum timeatis Dominum Deum

9:31. The flax therefore, and the barley were hurt, because the barley was green, and the flax was now balled;

Linum ergo et hordeum laesum est eo quod hordeum esset virens et linum iam folliculos germinaret

9:32. But the wheat, and other winter corn were not hurt, because they were lateward.

Triticum autem et far non sunt laesa quia serotina erant

9:33. And when Moses was gone from Pharao out of the city, he stretched forth his hands to the Lord: and the thunders and the hail ceased, neither did there drop any more rain upon the earth.

Egressusque Moses a Pharaone et ex urbe tetendit manus ad Dominum et cessaverunt tonitrua et grando nec ultra stillavit pluvia super terram

9:34. And Pharao seeing that the rain, and the hail, and the thunders were ceased, increased his sin:

Videns autem Pharao quod cessasset pluvia et grando et tonitrua auxit peccatum

9:35. And his heart was hardened, and the heart of his servants, and it was made exceeding hard: neither did he let the children of Israel go, as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moses.

Et ingravatum est cor eius et servorum illius et induratum nimis nec dimisit filios Israhel sicut praeceperat Dominus per manum Mosi

Exodus Chapter 10

The eighth plague of the locusts. The ninth, of darkness: Pharaoh is still hardened.

---

10:1. And the Lord said to Moses: Go in to Pharaoh; for I have hardened his heart, and the heart of his servants: that I may work these my signs in him,

Et dixit Dominus ad Mosen ingredi ad Pharaonem ego enim induravi cor eius et servorum illius ut faciam signa mea haec in eo

10:2. And thou mayst tell in the ears of thy sons, and of thy grandsons, how often I have plagued the Egyptians, and wrought my signs amongst them: and you may know that I am the Lord.

Et narres in auribus filii tui et nepotum tuorum quotiens contriverim Aegyptios et signa mea fecerim in eis et sciatis quia ego Dominus

10:3. Therefore Moses and Aaron went in to Pharaoh, and said to him: Thus saith the Lord God of the Hebrews: How long refusest thou to submit to me? let my people go, to sacrifice to me.

Introierunt ergo Moses et Aaron ad Pharaonem et dixerunt ad eum haec dicit Dominus Deus Hebraeorum usquequo non vis subici mihi dimitte populum meum ut sacrificet mihi

10:4. But if thou resist, and wilt not let them go, behold I will bring in to-morrow the locusts into thy coasts;

Sin autem resistis et non vis dimittere eum ecce ego inducam cras lucustam in fines tuos

10:5. To cover the face of the earth, that nothing thereof may appear, but that which the hail hath left may be eaten: for they shall feed upon all the trees that spring in the fields.

Quae operiat superficiem terrae nec quicquam eius appareat sed comedatur quod residuum fuit grandini conrodet enim omnia ligna quae germinant in agris

10:6. And they shall fill thy houses, and the houses of thy servants, and of all the Egyptians: such a number as thy fathers have not seen, nor thy grandfathers, from the time they were first upon the earth, until this present day. And he turned himself away, and went forth from Pharaoh.

Et implebunt domos tuas et servorum tuorum et omnium Aegyptiorum quantam non viderunt patres tui et avi ex quo orti sunt super terram usque in praesentem diem avertitque se et egressus est a Pharaone

10:7. And Pharaoh's servants said to him: How long shall we endure this scandal? Let the men go to sacrifice to the Lord their God. Dost thou not see that Egypt is undone?

Dixerunt autem servi Pharaonis ad eum usquequo patiemur hoc scandalum dimitte homines ut sacrificent Domino Deo suo nonne vides quod perierit Aegyptus

10:8. And they called back Moses, and Aaron, to Pharaoh; and he said to them: Go, sacrifice to the Lord your God: who are they that shall go?

Revocaveruntque Mosen et Aaron ad Pharaonem qui dixit eis ite sacrificate Domino Deo vestro quinam sunt qui ituri sunt

10:9. Moses said: We will go with our young and old, with our sons and daughters, with our sheep and herds: for it is the solemnity of the Lord our God.

Ait Moses cum parvulis nostris et senibus pergemus cum filiis et filiabus cum ovibus et armentis est enim sollemnitas Domini nostri

10:10. And Pharaoh answered: So be the Lord with you, as I shall let you and your children go: who can doubt but that you intend some great evil?

Et respondit sic Dominus sit vobiscum quomodo ego dimittam vos et parvulos vestros cui dubium est quod pessime cogitatis

10:11. It shall not be so, but go ye men only, and sacrifice to the Lord: for this yourselves also desired. And immediately they were cast out from Pharao's presence.

Non fiet ita sed ite tantum viri et sacrificate Domino hoc enim et ipsi petistis statimque eieci sunt de conspectu Pharaonis

10:12. And the Lord said to Moses: Stretch forth thy hand upon the land of Egypt unto the locust, that it come upon it, and devour every herb that is left after the hail.

Dixit autem Dominus ad Mosen extende manum tuam super terram Aegypti ad lucustam ut ascendat super eam et devoret omnem herbam quae residua fuit grandini

10:13. And Moses stretched forth his rod upon the land of Egypt: and the Lord brought a burning wind all that day, and night; and when it was morning, the burning wind raised the locusts.

Extendit Moses virgam super terram Aegypti et Dominus induxit ventum urentem tota illa die ac nocte et mane facto ventus urens levavit lucustas

10:14. And they came up over the whole land of Egypt; and rested in all the coasts of the Egyptians, innumerable, the like as had not been before that time, nor shall be hereafter.

Quae ascenderunt super universam terram Aegypti et sederunt in cunctis finibus Aegyptiorum innumerabiles quales ante illud tempus non fuerant nec postea futurae sunt

10:15. And they covered the whole face of the earth, wasting all things. And the grass of the earth was devoured, and what fruits soever were on the trees, which the hail had left; and there remained not any thing that was green on the trees, or in the herbs of the earth, in all Egypt.

Operueruntque universam superficiem terrae vastantes omnia devorata est igitur herba terrae et quicquid pomorum in arboribus fuit quae grando dimiserat nihilque omnino virens relictum est in lignis et in herbis terrae in cuncta Aegypto

10:16. Wherefore Pharao in haste called Moses and Aaron, and said to them: I have sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.

Quam ob rem festinus Pharao vocavit Mosen et Aaron et dixit eis peccavi in Dominum Deum vestrum et in vos

10:17. But now forgive me my sin this time also, and pray to the Lord your God, that he take away from me this death.

Sed nunc dimittite peccatum mihi etiam hac vice et rogate Dominum Deum vestrum ut auferat a me mortem istam

10:18. And Moses going forth from the presence of Pharao, prayed to the Lord:

Egressusque est de conspectu Pharaonis et oravit Dominum

10:19. And he made a very strong wind to blow from the west, and it took the locusts and cast them into the Red Sea: there remained not so much as one in all the coasts of Egypt.

Qui flare fecit ventum ab occidente vehementissimum et arreptam lucustam proiecit in mare Rubrum non remansit ne una quidem in cunctis finibus Aegypti

10:20. And the Lord hardened Pharao's heart, neither did he let the children of Israel go.

Et induravit Dominus cor Pharaonis nec dimisit filios Israhel

10:21. And the Lord said to Moses: Stretch out thy hand towards heaven: and may there be darkness upon the land of Egypt so thick that it may be felt.

Dixit autem Dominus ad Mosen extende manum tuam in caelum et sint tenebrae super terram Aegypti tam densae ut palpari queant

Darkness upon the land of Egypt, so thick that it may be felt... By means of the gross exhalations, which were to cause and accompany the darkness.

10:22. And Moses stretched forth his hand towards heaven: and there came horrible darkness in all the land of Egypt for three days.

Extendit Moses manum in caelum et factae sunt tenebrae horribiles in universa terra Aegypti tribus diebus

10:23. No man saw his brother, nor moved himself out of the place where he was: but wheresoever the children of Israel dwelt, there was light.

Nemo vidit fratrem suum nec movit se de loco in quo erat ubicumque autem habitabant filii Israhel lux erat

10:24. And Pharao called Moses and Aaron, and said to them: Go, sacrifice to the Lord: let your sheep only, and herds remain, let your children go with you.

Vocavitque Pharao Mosen et Aaron et dixit eis ite sacrificate Domino oves tantum vestrae et armenta remaneant parvuli vestri eant vobiscum

10:25. Moses said: Thou shalt give us also sacrifices and burnt-offerings, to the Lord our God.

Ait Moses hostias quoque et holocausta dabis nobis quae offeramus Domino Deo nostro

10:26. All the flocks shall go with us; there shall not a hoof remain of them: for they are necessary for the service of the Lord our God: especially as we know not what must be offered, till we come to the very place.

Cuncti greges pergunt nobiscum non remanebit ex eis ungula quae necessaria sunt in cultum Domini Dei nostri praesertim cum ignoremus quid debeat immolari donec ad ipsum locum perveniamus

10:27. And the Lord hardened Pharao's heart, and he would not let them go.

Induravit autem Dominus cor Pharaonis et noluit dimittere eos

10:28. And Pharao said to Moses: Get thee from me, and beware thou see not my face any more: in what day soever thou shalt come in my sight, thou shalt die.

Dixitque Pharao ad eum recede a me cave ne ultra videas faciem meam quocumque die apparueris mihi morieris

10:29. Moses answered: So shall it be as thou hast spoken, I will not see thy face anymore.

Respondit Moses ita fiat ut locutus es non videbo ultra faciem tuam

Exodus Chapter 11

Pharao and his people are threatened with the death of their firstborn.

---

11:1. And the Lord said to Moses: Yet one plague more will I bring upon Pharao and Egypt, and after that he shall let you go, and thrust you out.

Et dixit Dominus ad Mosen adhuc una plaga tangam Pharaonem et Aegyptum et post haec dimittet vos et exire conpellet

11:2. Therefore thou shalt tell all the people, that every man ask of his friend, and every woman of her neighbour, vessels of silver and of gold.

Dices ergo omni plebi ut postulet vir ab amico suo et mulier a vicina sua vasa argentea et aurea

11:3. And the Lord will give favour to his people in the sight of the Egyptians. And Moses was a very great man in the land of Egypt, in the sight of Pharao's servants, and of all the people.

Dabit autem Dominus gratiam populo coram Aegyptiis fuitque Moses vir magnus valde in terra Aegypti coram servis Pharao et omni populo

11:4. And he said: Thus saith the Lord: At midnight I will enter into Egypt:

Et ait haec dicit Dominus media nocte egrediar in Aegyptum

11:5. And every firstborn in the land of the Egyptians shall die, from the firstborn of Pharao who sitteth on his throne, even to the firstborn of the handmaid that is at the mill, and all the firstborn of beasts.

Et morietur omne primogenitum in terra Aegyptiorum a primogenito Pharaonis qui sedet in solio eius usque ad primogenitum ancillae quae est ad molam et omnia primogenita iumentorum

11:6. And there shall be a great cry in all the land of Egypt, such as neither hath been before, nor shall be hereafter.

Eritque clamor magnus in universa terra Aegypti qualis nec ante fuit nec postea futurus est

11:7. But with all the children of Israel there shall not a dog make the least noise, from man even to beast; that you may know how wonderful a difference the Lord maketh between the Egyptians and Israel.

Apud omnes autem filios Israhel non muttiet canis ab homine usque ad pecus ut sciatis quanto miraculo dividat Dominus Aegyptios et Israhel

11:8. And all these thy servants shall come down to me, and shall worship me, saying: Go forth thou, and all the people that is under thee: after that we will go out.

Descendentque omnes servi tui isti ad me et adorabunt me dicentes egredere tu et omnis populus qui subiectus est tibi post haec egrediemur

11:9. And he went out from Pharao exceeding angry. But the Lord said to Moses: Pharao will not hear you, that many signs may be done in the land of Egypt.

Et exivit a Pharaone iratus nimis dixit autem Dominus ad Mosen non audiet vos Pharao ut multa signa fiant in terra Aegypti

11:10. And Moses and Aaron did all the wonders that are written, before Pharao. And the Lord hardened Pharao's heart, neither did he let the children of Israel go out of his land.

Moses autem et Aaron fecerunt omnia ostenta quae scripta sunt coram Pharaone et induravit Dominus cor Pharaonis nec dimisit filios Israhel de terra sua

Exodus Chapter 12

The manner of preparing, and eating the paschal lamb: the firstborn of Egypt are all slain: the Israelites depart.

---

12:1. And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt:

Dixit quoque Dominus ad Mosen et Aaron in terra Aegypti

12:2. This month shall be to you the beginning of months; it shall be the first in the months of the year.

Mensis iste vobis principium mensuum primus erit in mensibus anni

12:3. Speak ye to the whole assembly of the children of Israel, and say to them: On the tenth day of this month let every man take a lamb by their families and houses.

Loquimini ad universum coetum filiorum Israhel et dicite eis decima die mensis huius tollat unusquisque agnum per familias et domos suas

12:4. But if the number be less than may suffice to eat the lamb, he shall take unto him his neighbour that joineth to his house, according to the number of souls which may be enough to eat the lamb.

Sin autem minor est numerus ut sufficere possit ad vescendum agnum adsumet vicinum suum qui iunctus est domui eius iuxta numerum animarum quae sufficere possunt ad esum agni

12:5. And it shall be a lamb without blemish, a male, of one year; according to which rite also you shall take a kid.

Erit autem agnus absque macula masculus anniculus iuxta quem ritum tolletis et hedum

A kid... The phase might be performed, either with a lamb or with a kid: and all the same rites and ceremonies were to be used with the one as with the other.

12:6. And you shall keep it until the fourteenth day of this month; and the whole multitude of the children of Israel shall sacrifice it in the evening.

Et servabitis eum usque ad quartamdecimam diem mensis huius immolabitque eum universa multitudo filiorum Israhel ad vesperam

12:7. And they shall take of the blood thereof, and put it upon both the side posts, and on the upper door posts of the houses, wherein they shall eat it.

Et sument de sanguine ac ponent super utrumque postem et in superliminaribus domorum in quibus comedent illum

12:8. And they shall eat the flesh that night roasted at the fire, and unleavened bread with wild lettuce.

Et edent carnes nocte illa assas igni et azymos panes cum lactucis agrestibus

12:9. You shall not eat thereof any thing raw, nor boiled in water, but only roasted at the fire; you shall eat the head with the feet and entrails thereof.

Non comedetis ex eo crudum quid nec coctum aqua sed assum tantum igni caput cum pedibus eius et intestinis vorabitis

12:10. Neither shall there remain any thing of it until morning. If there be any thing left, you shall burn it with fire.

Nec remanebit ex eo quicquam usque mane si quid residui fuerit igne conburetis

12:11. And thus you shall eat it: you shall gird your reins, and you shall have shoes on your feet, holding staves in your hands, and you shall eat in haste; for it is the Phase (that is the Passage) of the Lord.

Sic autem comedetis illum renes vestros accingetis calciamenta habebitis in pedibus tenentes baculos in manibus et comedetis festinantes est enim phase id est transitus Domini

12:12. And I will pass through the land of Egypt that night, and will kill every firstborn in the land of Egypt, both man and beast: and against all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgments; I am the Lord.

Et transibo per terram Aegypti nocte illa percutiamque omne primogenitum in terra Aegypti ab homine usque ad pecus et in cunctis diis Aegypti faciam iudicia ego Dominus

12:13. And the blood shall be unto you for a sign in the houses where you shall be; and I shall see the blood, and shall pass over you; and the plague shall not be upon you to destroy you, when I shall strike the land of Egypt.

Erit autem sanguis vobis in signum in aedibus in quibus eritis et videbo sanguinem ac transibo vos nec erit in vobis plaga disperdens quando percussero terram Aegypti

12:14. And this day shall be for a memorial to you; and you shall keep it a feast to the Lord in your generations, with an everlasting observance.

Habebitis autem hanc diem in monumentum et celebrabitis eam sollemnem Domino in generationibus vestris cultu sempiterno

12:15. Seven days shall you eat unleavened bread: in the first day there shall be no leaven in your houses; whosoever shall eat any thing leavened, from the first day until the seventh day, that soul shall perish out of Israel.

Septem diebus azyma comedetis in die primo non erit fermentum in domibus vestris quicumque comederit fermentatum peribit anima illa de Israhel a primo die usque ad diem septimum

12:16. The first day shall be holy and solemn, and the seventh day shall be kept with the like solemnity: you shall do no work in them, except those things that belong to eating.

Dies prima erit sancta atque sollemnis et dies septima eadem festivitate venerabilis nihil operis facietis in eis exceptis his quae ad vescendum pertinent

12:17. And you shall observe the feast of the unleavened bread: for in this same day I will bring forth your army out of the land of Egypt, and you shall keep this day in your generations by a perpetual observance.

Et observabitis azyma in eadem enim ipsa die educam exercitum vestrum de terra Aegypti et custodietis diem istum in generationes vestras ritu perpetuo

12:18. The first month, the fourteenth day of the month, in the evening, you shall eat unleavened bread, until the one and twentieth day of the same month, in the evening.

Primo mense quartadecima die mensis ad vesperam comedetis azyma usque ad diem vicesimam primam eiusdem mensis ad vesperam

Unleavened bread... By this it appears, that our Saviour made use of unleavened bread, in the institution of the blessed sacrament, which was on the evening of the paschal solemnity, at which time there was no leavened bread to be found in Israel.

12:19. Seven days there shall not be found any leaven in your houses: he that shall eat leavened bread, his soul shall perish out of the assembly of Israel, whether he be a stranger or born in the land.

Septem diebus fermentum non inveniatur in domibus vestris qui comederit fermentatum peribit anima eius de coetu Israhel tam de advenis quam de indigenis terrae

12:20. You shall not eat any thing leavened: in all your habitations you shall eat unleavened bread.

Omne fermentatum non comedetis in cunctis habitaculis vestris edetis azyma

12:21. And Moses called all the ancients of the children of Israel, and said to them: Go take a lamb by your families, and sacrifice the Phase.

Vocavit autem Moses omnes seniores filiorum Israhel et dixit ad eos ite tollentes animal per familias vestras immolate phase

12:22. And dip a bunch of hyssop in the blood that is at the door, and sprinkle the transom of the door therewith, and both the door cheeks: let none of you go out of the door of his house till morning.

Fasciculumque hysopi tinguite sanguine qui est in limine et aspergite ex eo superliminare et utrumque postem nullus vestrum egredietur ostium domus suae usque mane

Sprinkle, etc... This sprinkling the doors of the Israelites with the blood of the paschal lamb, in order to their being delivered from the sword of the destroying angel, was a lively figure of our redemption by the blood of Christ.

12:23. For the Lord will pass through striking the Egyptians: and when he shall see the blood on the transom, and on both the posts, he will pass over the door of the house, and not suffer the destroyer to come into your houses and to hurt you.

Transibit enim Dominus percutiens Aegyptios cumque viderit sanguinem in superliminari et in utroque poste transcendet ostium et non sinet percussorem ingredi domos vestras et laedere

12:24. Thou shalt keep this thing as a law for thee and thy children for ever.

Custodi verbum istud legitimum tibi et filiis tuis usque in aeternum

12:25. And when you have entered into the land which the Lord will give you, as he hath promised, you shall observe these ceremonies.

Cumque introieritis terram quam Dominus daturus est vobis ut pollicitus est observabitis caerimonias istas

12:26. And when your children shall say to you: What is the meaning of this service?

Et cum dixerint vobis filii vestri quae est ista religio

12:27. You shall say to them: It is the victim of the passage of the Lord, when he passed over the houses of the children of Israel in Egypt, striking the Egyptians, and saving our houses. And the people bowing themselves, adored.

Dicetis eis victima transitus Domini est quando transivit super domos filiorum Israhel in Aegypto percutiens Aegyptios et domos nostras liberans incurvatusque populus adoravit

12:28. And the children of Israel going forth, did as the Lord had commanded Moses and Aaron.

Et egressi filii Israhel fecerunt sicut praeceperat Dominus Mosi et Aaron

12:29. And it came to pass at midnight, the Lord slew every firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of Pharao, who sat on his throne, unto the firstborn of the captive woman that was in the prison, and all the firstborn of cattle.

Factum est autem in noctis medio percussit Dominus omne primogenitum in terra Aegypti a primogenito Pharaonis qui sedebat in solio eius usque ad primogenitum captivae quae erat in carcere et omne primogenitum iumentorum

12:30. And Pharao arose in the night, and all his servants, and all Egypt: and there arose a great cry in Egypt; for there was not a house wherein there lay not one dead.

Surrexitque Pharao nocte et omnes servi eius cunctaque Aegyptus et ortus est clamor magnus in Aegypto neque enim erat domus in qua non iaceret mortuus

12:31. And Pharao calling Moses and Aaron, in the night, said: Arise and go forth from among my people, you and the children of Israel: go, sacrifice to the Lord as you say.

Vocatisque Mosen et Aaron nocte ait surgite egredimini a populo meo et vos et filii Israhel ite immolate Domino sicut dicitis

12:32. Your sheep and herds take along with you, as you demanded, and departing bless me.

Oves vestras et armenta adsumite ut petieratis et abeuntes benedicite mihi

12:33. And the Egyptians pressed the people to go forth out of the land speedily, saying: We shall all die.

Urguebantque Aegyptii populum de terra exire velociter dicentes omnes moriemur

12:34. The people therefore took dough before it was leavened; and tying it in their cloaks, put it on their shoulders.

Tulit igitur populus conspersam farinam antequam fermentaretur et ligans in palliis posuit super umeros suos

12:35. And the children of Israel did as Moses had commanded: and they asked of the Egyptians vessels of silver and gold, and very much raiment.

Feceruntque filii Israhel sicut praeceperat Moses et petierunt ab Aegyptiis vasa argentea et aurea vestemque plurimam

12:36. And the Lord gave favour to the people in the sight of the Egyptians, so that they lent unto them: and they stripped the Egyptians.

Dedit autem Dominus gratiam populo coram Aegyptiis ut commodarent eis et spoliaverunt Aegyptios

12:37. And the children of Israel set forward from Ramesse to Socoth, being about six hundred thousand men on foot, beside children.

Profectique sunt filii Israhel de Ramesse in Socoth sescenta ferme milia peditum virorum absque parvulis

12:38. And a mixed multitude, without number, went up also with them, sheep and herds, and beasts of divers kinds, exceeding many.

Sed et vulgus promiscuum innumerabile ascendit cum eis oves et armenta et animantia diversi generis

multa nimis

12:39. And they baked the meal, which a little before they had brought out of Egypt in dough: and they made hearth cakes unleavened: for it could not be leavened, the Egyptians pressing them to depart, and not suffering them to make any stay; neither did they think of preparing any meat.

Coxeruntque farinam quam dudum conspersam de Aegypto tulerant et fecerunt subcinericios panes azymos neque enim poterant fermentari cogentibus exire Aegyptiis et nullam facere sinentibus moram nec pulmenti quicquam occurrerant praeparare

12:40. And the abode of the children of Israel that they made in Egypt, was four hundred and thirty years. Habitatio autem filiorum Israhel qua manserant in Aegypto fuit quadringentorum triginta annorum

12:41. Which being expired, the same day all the army of the Lord went forth out of the land of Egypt. Quibus expletis eadem die egressus est omnis exercitus Domini de terra Aegypti

12:42. This is the observable night of the Lord, when he brought them forth out of the land of Egypt: this night all the children of Israel must observe in their generations.

Nox est ista observabilis Domini quando eduxit eos de terra Aegypti hanc observare debent omnes filii Israhel in generationibus suis

12:43. And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron: This is the service of the Phase; no foreigner shall eat of it. Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen et Aaron haec est religio phase omnis alienigena non comedet ex eo

12:44. But every bought servant shall be circumcised, and so shall eat. Omnis autem servus empticius circumcidetur et sic comedet

12:45. The stranger and the hireling shall not eat thereof. Advena et mercennarius non edent ex eo

12:46. In one house shall it be eaten, neither shall you carry forth of the flesh thereof out of the house, neither shall you break a bone thereof.

In una domo comedetur nec efferetis de carnibus eius foras nec os illius confringetis

12:47. All the assembly of the children of Israel shall keep it. Omnis coetus filiorum Israhel faciet illud

12:48. And if any stranger be willing to dwell among you, and to keep the Phase of the Lord, all his males shall first be circumcised, and then shall he celebrate it according to the manner: and he shall be as he that is born in the land: but if any man be uncircumcised, he shall not eat thereof.

Quod si quis peregrinorum in vestram voluerit transire coloniam et facere phase Domini circumcidetur prius omne masculinum eius et tunc rite celebrabit eritque sicut indigena terrae si quis autem circumcisis non fuerit non vescetur ex eo

12:49. The same law shall be to him that is born in the land, and to the proselyte that sojourneth with you.

Eadem lex erit indigenae et colono qui peregrinatur apud vos

12:50. And all the children of Israel did as the Lord had commanded Moses and Aaron.

Fecerunt omnes filii Israhel sicut praeceperat Dominus Mosi et Aaron

12:51. And the same day the Lord brought forth the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt by their companies.

Et in eadem die eduxit Dominus filios Israhel de terra Aegypti per turmas suas

Exodus Chapter 13

The paschal solemnity is to be observed; and the firstborn are to be consecrated to God. The people are conducted through the desert by a pillar of fire in the night, and a cloud in the day.

---

13:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

13:2. Sanctify unto me every firstborn that openeth the womb among the children of Israel, as well of men as of beasts: for they are all mine.

Sanctifica mihi omne primogenitum quod aperit vulvam in filiis Israhel tam de hominibus quam de iumentis mea sunt enim omnia

Sanctify unto me every firstborn... Sanctification in this place means that the firstborn males of the Hebrews should be deputed to the ministry in the divine worship; and the firstborn of beasts to be given for a sacrifice.

13:3. And Moses said to the people: Remember this day in which you came forth out of Egypt, and out of the house of bondage, for with a strong hand hath the Lord brought you forth out of this place: that you eat no leavened bread.

Et ait Moses ad populum mementote diei huius in qua egressi estis de Aegypto et de domo servitutis quoniam in manu forti eduxit vos Dominus de loco isto ut non comedatis fermentatum panem

13:4. This day you go forth in the month of new corn.

Hodie egredimini mense novarum frugum

13:5. And when the Lord shall have brought thee into the land of the Chanaanite, and the Hethite, and the Amorrhite, and the Hevite, and the Jebusite, which he swore to thy fathers that he would give thee, a land that floweth with milk and honey, thou shalt celebrate this manner of sacred rites in this month.

Cumque te introduxerit Dominus in terram Chananei et Hetthei et Amorrei et Evei et Iebusei quam iuravit patribus tuis ut daret tibi terram fluentem lacte et melle celebrabis hunc morem sacrorum mense isto

13:6. Seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread: and on the seventh day shall be the solemnity of the Lord.

Septem diebus vesceris azymis et in die septimo erit sollemnitas Domini

13:7. Unleavened bread shall you eat seven days: there shall not be seen any thing leavened with thee, nor in all thy coasts.

Azymba comedetis septem diebus non apparebit apud te aliquid fermentatum nec in cunctis finibus tuis

13:8. And thou shalt tell thy son in that day, saying: This is what the Lord did to me when I came forth out of Egypt.

Narrabisque filio tuo in die illo dicens hoc est quod fecit Dominus mihi quando egressus sum de Aegypto

13:9. And it shall be as a sign in thy hand, and as a memorial before thy eyes; and that the law of the Lord be always in thy mouth, for with a strong hand the Lord hath brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

Et erit quasi signum in manu tua et quasi monumentum ante oculos tuos et ut lex Domini semper in ore tuo in manu enim forti eduxit te Dominus de Aegypto

13:10. Thou shalt keep this observance at the set time from days to days.

Custodies huiuscemodi cultum statuto tempore a diebus in dies

13:11. And when the Lord shall have brought thee into the land of the Chanaanite, as he swore to thee and thy fathers, and shall give it thee:

Cumque introduxerit te in terram Chananei sicut iuravit tibi et patribus tuis et dederit eam tibi

13:12. Thou shalt set apart all that openeth the womb for the Lord, and all that is first brought forth of thy cattle: whatsoever thou shalt have of the male sex, thou shalt consecrate to the Lord.

Separabis omne quod aperit vulvam Domino et quod primitivum est in pecoribus tuis quicquid habueris masculini sexus consecrabis Domino

13:13. The firstborn of an ass thou shalt change for a sheep: and if thou do not redeem it, thou shalt kill it. And every firstborn of men thou shalt redeem with a price.

Primogenitum asini mutabis ove quod si non redemeris interficies omne autem primogenitum hominis de filiis tuis pretio redimes

13:14. And when thy son shall ask thee to morrow, saying: What is this? thou shalt answer him: With a strong hand did the Lord bring us forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

Cumque interrogaverit te filius tuus cras dicens quid est hoc respondebis ei in manu forti eduxit nos Dominus de Aegypto de domo servitutis

13:15. For when Pharao was hardened, and would not let us go, the Lord slew every firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of man to the firstborn of beasts: therefore I sacrifice to the Lord all that openeth the womb of the male sex, and all the firstborn of my sons I redeem.

Nam cum induratus esset Pharao et nollet nos dimittere occidit Dominus omne primogenitum in terra Aegypti a primogenito hominis usque ad primogenitum iumentorum idcirco immolo Domino omne quod aperit vulvam masculini sexus et omnia primogenita filiorum meorum redimo

13:16. And it shall be as a sign in thy hand, and as a thing hung between thy eyes, for a remembrance: because the Lord hath brought us forth out of Egypt by a strong hand.

Erit igitur quasi signum in manu tua et quasi adpensum quid ob recordationem inter oculos tuos eo quod in manu forti eduxerit nos Dominus de Aegypto

13:17. And when Pharao had sent out the people, the Lord led them not by the way of the land of the Philistines, which is near; thinking lest perhaps they would repent, if they should see wars arise against them, and would return into Egypt.

Igitur cum emisisset Pharao populum non eos duxit Dominus per viam terrae Philisthim quae vicina est reputans ne forte paeniteret eum si vidisset adversum se bella consurgere et reverteretur in Aegyptum

13:18. But he led them about by the way of the desert, which is by the Red Sea: and the children of Israel went up armed out of the land of Egypt.

Sed circumduxit per viam deserti quae est iuxta mare Rubrum et armati ascenderunt filii Israhel de terra Aegypti

13:19. And Moses took Joseph's bones with him: because he had adjured the children of Israel, saying: God shall visit you, carry out my bones from hence with you.

Tulit quoque Moses ossa Ioseph secum eo quod adiurasset filios Israhel dicens visitabit vos Deus efferte ossa mea hinc vobiscum

13:20. And marching from Socoth, they encamped in Etham, in the utmost coasts of the wilderness.

Profectique de Socoth castrametati sunt in Etham in extremis finibus solitudinis

13:21. And the Lord went before them to show the way, by day in a pillar of a cloud, and by night in a pillar of fire; that he might be the guide of their journey at both times.

Dominus autem praecedebat eos ad ostendendam viam per diem in columna nubis et per noctem in columna ignis ut dux esset itineris utroque tempore

13:22. There never failed the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, before the people. Numquam defuit columna nubis per diem nec columna ignis per noctem coram populo

Exodus Chapter 14

Pharao pursueth the children of Israel. They murmur against Moses, but are encouraged by him, and pass through the Red Sea. Pharao and his army following them are drowned.

---

14:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutus est autem Dominus ad Mosen dicens

14:2. Speak to the children of Israel: Let them turn and encamp over against Pihahiroth, which is between Magdal and the sea over against Beelsephon: you shall encamp before it upon the sea.

Loquere filiis Israhel reversi castrametentur e regione Phiahiroth quae est inter Magdolum et mare contra Beelsephon in conspectu eius castra ponetis super mare

14:3. And Pharao will say of the children of Israel: They are straitened in the land, the desert hath shut them in.

Dicturusque est Pharao super filiis Israhel coartati sunt in terra conclusit eos desertum

14:4. And I shall harden his heart and he will pursue you: and I shall be glorified in Pharao, and in all his army: and the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord. And they did so.

Et indurabo cor eius ac persequetur vos et glorificabor in Pharao et in omni exercitu eius scientque Aegyptii quia ego sum Dominus feceruntque ita

14:5. And it was told the king of the Egyptians that the people was fled: and the heart of Pharao and of his servants was changed with regard to the people, and they said: What meant we to do, that we let Israel go from serving us?

Et nuntiatum est regi Aegyptiorum quod fugisset populus inmutatumque est cor Pharaonis et servorum eius super populo et dixerunt quid volumus facere ut dimitteremus Israhel ne serviret nobis

14:6. So he made ready his chariot, and took all his people with him.

lunxit ergo currum et omnem populum suum adsumpsit secum

14:7. And he took six hundred chosen chariots, and all the chariots that were in Egypt: and the captains of the whole army.

Tulitque sescentos currus electos quicquid in Aegypto curruum fuit et duces totius exercitus

14:8. And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharao, king of Egypt, and he pursued the children of Israel; but they were gone forth in a mighty hand.

Induravitque Dominus cor Pharaonis regis Aegypti et persecutus est filios Israhel at illi egressi erant in manu excelsa

14:9. And when the Egyptians followed the steps of them who were gone before, they found them encamped at the sea side: all Pharao's horse and chariots and the whole army were in Pihahiroth, before Beelsephon.

Cumque persequerentur Aegyptii vestigia praecedentium reppererunt eos in castris super mare omnis equitatus et currus Pharaonis et universus exercitus erant in Ahiroth contra Beelsephon

14:10. And when Pharao drew near, the children of Israel lifting up their eyes, saw the Egyptians behind them: and they feared exceedingly, and cried to the Lord.

Cumque adpropinquasset Pharao levantes filii Israhel oculos viderunt Aegyptios post se et timuerunt valde clamaveruntque ad Dominum

14:11. And they said to Moses: Perhaps there were no graves in Egypt, therefore thou hast brought us to die in the wilderness: why wouldst thou do this, to lead us out of Egypt?

Et dixerunt ad Mosen forsitan non erant sepulchra in Aegypto ideo tulisti nos ut moreremur in solitudine quid hoc facere voluisti ut educeres nos ex Aegypto

14:12. Is not this the word that we spoke to thee in Egypt, saying: Depart from us, that we may serve the Egyptians? for it was much better to serve them, than to die in the wilderness.

Nonne iste est sermo quem loquebamur ad te in Aegypto dicentes recede a nobis ut serviamus Aegyptiis multo enim melius est servire eis quam mori in solitudine

14:13. And Moses said to the people: Fear not: stand, and see the great wonders of the Lord, which he will do this day; for the Egyptians, whom you see now, you shall see no more for ever.

Et ait Moses ad populum nolite timere state et videte magnalia Domini quae facturus est hodie Aegyptios enim quos nunc videtis nequaquam ultra videbitis usque in sempiternum

14:14. The Lord will fight for you, and you shall hold your peace.

Dominus pugnabit pro vobis et vos tacebitis

14:15. And the Lord said to Moses: Why criest thou to me? Speak to the children of Israel to go forward.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen quid clamas ad me loquere filiis Israhel ut proficiscantur

14:16. But lift thou up thy rod, and stretch forth thy hand over the sea, and divide it: that the children of Israel may go through the midst of the sea on dry ground.

Tu autem eleva virgam tuam et extende manum super mare et divide illud ut gradientur filii Israhel in medio mari per siccum

14:17. And I will harden the heart of the Egyptians to pursue you: and I will be glorified in Pharao, and in all his host, and in his chariots and in his horsemen.

Ego autem indurabo cor Aegyptiorum ut persequantur vos et glorificabor in Pharaone et in omni exercitu eius in curribus et in equitibus illius

14:18. And the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall be glorified in Pharao, and in his chariots, and in his horsemen.

Et scient Aegyptii quia ego sum Dominus cum glorificatus fuero in Pharaone et in curribus atque in equitibus eius

14:19. And the angel of God, who went before the camp of Israel, removing, went behind them: and together with him the pillar of the cloud, leaving the forepart,

Tollensque se angelus Dei qui praecedebat castra Israhel abiit post eos et cum eo pariter columna nubis priora dimittens post tergum

14:20. Stood behind, between the Egyptians' camp and the camp of Israel: and it was a dark cloud, and enlightening the night, so that they could not come at one another all the night.

Stetit inter castra Aegyptiorum et castra Israhel et erat nubes tenebrosa et inluminans noctem ut ad se invicem toto noctis tempore accedere non valerent

A dark cloud, and enlightening the night... It was a dark cloud to the Egyptians; but enlightened the night to the Israelites by giving them a great light.

14:21. And when Moses had stretched forth his hand over the sea, the Lord took it away by a strong and burning wind blowing all the night, and turned it into dry ground: and the water was divided.

Cumque extendisset Moses manum super mare abstulit illud Dominus flante vento vehementi et urente tota nocte et vertit in siccum divisaque est aqua

14:22. And the children of Israel went in through the midst of the sea dried up; for the water was as a wall on their right hand and on their left.

Et ingressi sunt filii Israhel per medium maris sicci erat enim aqua quasi murus a dextra eorum et leva

14:23. And the Egyptians pursuing went in after them, and all Pharao's horses, his chariots and horsemen, through the midst of the sea.

Persequentesque Aegyptii ingressi sunt post eos omnis equitatus Pharaonis currus eius et equites per medium maris

14:24. And now the morning watch was come, and behold the Lord looking upon the Egyptian army through the pillar of fire and of the cloud, slew their host.

Iamque advenerat vigilia matutina et ecce respiciens Dominus super castra Aegyptiorum per columnam ignis et nubes interfecit exercitum eorum

14:25. And overthrew the wheels of the chariots, and they were carried into the deep. And the Egyptians said: Let us flee from Israel; for the Lord fighteth for them against us.

Et subvertit rotas currum ferebanturque in profundum dixerunt ergo Aegyptii fugiamus Israhelem Dominus enim pugnat pro eis contra nos

14:26. And the Lord said to Moses: Stretch forth thy hand over the sea, that the waters may come again upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots and horsemen.

Et ait Dominus ad Mosen extende manum tuam super mare ut revertantur aquae ad Aegyptios super currus et equites eorum

14:27. And when Moses had stretched forth his hand towards the sea, it returned at the first break of day to the former place: and as the Egyptians were fleeing away, the waters came upon them, and the Lord shut them up in the middle of the waves.

Cumque extendisset Moses manum contra mare reversum est primo diluculo ad priorem locum fugientibusque Aegyptiis occurrerunt aquae et involvit eos Dominus in mediis fluctibus

14:28. And the waters returned, and covered the chariots and the horsemen of all the army of Pharao, who had come into the sea after them, neither did there so much as one of them remain.

Reversaerunt aquae et operuerunt currus et equites cuncti exercitus Pharaonis qui sequentes ingressi fuerant mare ne unus quidem superfuit ex eis

14:29. But the children of Israel marched through the midst of the sea upon dry land, and the waters were to them as a wall on the right hand and on the left:

Filii autem Israel perrexerunt per medium sicci maris et aquae eis erant quasi pro muro a dextris et a sinistris

14:30. And the Lord delivered Israel in that day out of the hands of the Egyptians.

Liberavitque Dominus in die illo Israel de manu Aegyptiorum

14:31. And they saw the Egyptians dead upon the sea shore, and the mighty hand that the Lord had used against them: and the people feared the Lord, and they believed the Lord, and Moses his servant.

Et viderunt Aegyptios mortuos super litus maris et manum magnam quam exercuerat Dominus contra eos timuitque populus Dominum et crediderunt Domino et Mosi servo eius

Exodus Chapter 15

The canticle of Moses. The bitter waters of Mara are made sweet.

15:1. Then Moses and the children of Israel sung this canticle to the Lord, and said: Let us sing to the Lord: for he is gloriously magnified, the horse and the rider he hath thrown into the sea.

Tunc cecinit Moses et filii Israhel carmen hoc Domino et dixerunt cantemus Domino gloriose enim magnificatus est equum et ascensorem deiecit in mare

15:2. The Lord is my strength and my praise, and he is become salvation to me: he is my God, and I will glorify him: the God of my father, and I will exalt him.

Fortitudo mea et laus mea Dominus et factus est mihi in salutem iste Deus meus et glorificabo eum Deus patris mei et exaltabo eum

15:3. The Lord is as a man of war, Almighty is his name.

Dominus quasi vir pugnator Omnipotens nomen eius

15:4. Pharao's chariots and his army he hath cast into the sea: his chosen captains are drowned in the Red Sea.

Currus Pharaonis et exercitum eius proiecit in mare electi principes eius submersi sunt in mari Rubro

15:5. The depths have covered them, they are sunk to the bottom like a stone.

Abyssi operuerunt eos descenderunt in profundum quasi lapis

15:6. Thy right hand, O Lord, is magnified in strength: thy right hand, O Lord, hath slain the enemy.

Dextera tua Domine magnifice in fortitudine dextera tua Domine percussit inimicum

15:7. And in the multitude of thy glory thou hast put down thy adversaries: thou hast sent thy wrath, which hath devoured them like stubble.

Et in multitudine gloriae tuae deposuisti adversarios meos misisti iram tuam quae devoravit eos ut stipulam

15:8. And with the blast of thy anger the waters were gathered together: the flowing water stood, the depths were gathered together in the midst of the sea.

Et in spiritu furoris tui congregatae sunt aquae stetit unda fluens congregatae sunt abyssi in medio mari

15:9. The enemy said: I will pursue and overtake, I will divide the spoils, my soul shall have its fill: I will draw my sword, my hand shall slay them.

Dixit inimicus persequar et comprehendam dividam spolia implebitur anima mea evaginabo gladium meum interficiet eos manus mea

15:10. Thy wind blew and the sea covered them: they sunk as lead in the mighty waters.

Flavit spiritus tuus et operuit eos mare submersi sunt quasi plumbum in aquis vehementibus

15:11. Who is like to thee, among the strong, O Lord? who is like to thee, glorious in holiness, terrible and praise-worthy, doing wonders?

Quis similis tui in fortibus Domine quis similis tui magnificus in sanctitate terribilis atque laudabilis et faciens mirabilia

15:12. Thou stretchedst forth thy hand, and the earth swallowed them.

Extendisti manum tuam et devoravit eos terra

15:13. In thy mercy thou hast been a leader to the people which thou hast redeemed: and in thy strength thou hast carried them to thy holy habitation.

Dux fuisti in misericordia tua populo quem redemisti et portasti eum in fortitudine tua ad habitaculum sanctum tuum

15:14. Nations rose up, and were angry: sorrows took hold on the inhabitants of Philisthim.
Adtenderunt populi et irati sunt dolores obtinuerunt habitatores Philisthim

15:15. Then were the princes of Edom troubled, trembling seized on the stout men of Moab: all the inhabitants of Chanaan became stiff.
Tunc conturbati sunt principes Edom robustos Moab obtinuit tremor obriguerunt omnes habitatores Chanaan

15:16. Let fear and dread fall upon them, in the greatness of thy arm: let them become immoveable as a stone, until thy people, O Lord, pass by: until this thy people pass by, which thou hast possessed.
Inruat super eos formido et pavor in magnitudine brachii tui fiant immobiles quasi lapis donec pertranseat populus tuus Domine donec pertranseat populus tuus iste quem possedisti

15:17. Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountain of thy inheritance, in thy most firm habitation, which thou hast made, O Lord; thy sanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established.
Introduces eos et plantabis in monte hereditatis tuae firmissimo habitaculo tuo quod operatus es Domine sanctuarium Domine quod firmaverunt manus tuae

15:18. The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.
Dominus regnabit in aeternum et ultra

15:19. For Pharao went in on horseback with his chariots and horsemen into the sea: and the Lord brought back upon them the waters of the sea: but the children of Israel walked on dry ground in the midst thereof.

Ingressus est enim equus Pharao cum curribus et equitibus eius in mare et reduxit super eos Dominus aquas maris filii autem Israhel ambulaverunt per siccum in medio eius

15:20. So Mary the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, took a timbrel in her hand: and all the women went forth after her with timbrels and with dances.
Sumpsit ergo Maria prophetis soror Aaron tympanum in manu egressaeque sunt omnes mulieres post eam cum tympanis et choris

15:21. And she began the song to them, saying: Let us sing to the Lord, for he is gloriously magnified, the horse and his rider he hath thrown into the sea.
Quibus praecinebat dicens cantemus Domino gloriose enim magnificatus est equum et ascensorem eius deiecit in mare

15:22. And Moses brought Israel from the Red Sea, and they went forth into the wilderness of Sur: and they marched three days through the wilderness, and found no water.
Tulit autem Moses Israhel de mari Rubro et egressi sunt in desertum Sur ambulaveruntque tribus diebus per solitudinem et non inveniebant aquam

15:23. And they came into Mara, and they could not drink the waters of Mara because they were bitter: whereupon he gave a name also agreeable to the place, calling it Mara, that is, bitterness.
Et venerunt in Marath nec poterant bibere aquas de Mara eo quod essent amarae unde et congruum loco nomen inposuit vocans illud Mara id est amaritudinem

15:24. And the people murmured against Moses, saying: What shall we drink?
Et murmuravit populus contra Mosen dicens quid bibemus

15:25. But he cried to the Lord, and he showed him a tree, which when he had cast into the waters, they were turned into sweetness. There he appointed him ordinances, and judgments, and there he proved him,
At ille clamavit ad Dominum qui ostendit ei lignum quod cum misisset in aquas in dulcedinem versae sunt ibi constituit ei praecepta atque iudicia et ibi temptavit eum

15:26. Saying: If thou wilt hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and do what is right before him, and obey his commandments, and keep all his precepts, none of the evils that I laid upon Egypt, will I bring upon thee: for I am the Lord thy healer.
Dicens si audieris vocem Domini Dei tui et quod rectum est coram eo feceris et oboedieris mandatis eius custodierisque omnia praecepta illius cunctum languorem quem posui in Aegypto non inducam super te ego enim Dominus sanator tuus

15:27. And the children of Israel came into Elim, where there were twelve fountains of water, and seventy palm trees: and they encamped by the waters.

Venerunt autem in Helim ubi erant duodecim fontes aquarum et septuaginta palmae et castrametati sunt iuxta aquas

Exodus Chapter 16

The people murmur for want of meat: God giveth them quails and manna.

---

16:1. And they set forward from Elim, and all the multitude of the children of Israel came into the desert of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai: the fifteenth day of the second month, after they came out of the land of Egypt.

Profectique sunt de Helim et venit omnis multitudo filiorum Israhel in desertum Sin quod est inter Helim et Sinai quintodecimo die mensis secundi postquam egressi sunt de terra Aegypti

16:2. And all the congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness.

Et murmuravit omnis congregatio filiorum Israhel contra Mosen et contra Aaron in solitudine

16:3. And the children of Israel said to them: Would to God we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sat over the fleshpots, and ate bread to the full: Why have you brought us into this desert, that you might destroy all the multitude with famine?

Dixeruntque ad eos filii Israhel utinam mortui essemus per manum Domini in terra Aegypti quando sedebamus super ollas carnum et comedebamus panes in saturitate cur eduxistis nos in desertum istud ut occideretis omnem multitudinem fame

16:4. And the Lord said to Moses: Behold I will rain bread from heaven for you; let the people go forth, and gather what is sufficient for every day: that I may prove them whether they will walk in my law, or not.

Dixit autem Dominus ad Mosen ecce ego pluam vobis panes de caelo egrediatur populus et colligat quae sufficiunt per singulos dies ut temptem eum utrum ambulet in lege mea an non 16:5. But the sixth day let them provide for to bring in: and let it be double to that they were wont to gather every day.

Die autem sexta parent quod inferant et sit duplum quam colligere solebant per singulos dies

16:6. And Moses and Aaron said to the children of Israel In the evening you shall know that the Lord hath brought you forth out of the land of Egypt:

Dixeruntque Moses et Aaron ad omnes filios Israhel vespere scietis quod Dominus eduxerit vos de terra Aegypti

16:7. And in the morning you shall see the glory of the Lord: for he hath heard your murmuring against the Lord: but as for us, what are we, that you mutter against us?

Et mane videbitis gloriam Domini audivit enim murmur vestrum contra Dominum nos vero quid sumus quia mussitatis contra nos

16:8. And Moses said: In the evening the Lord will give you flesh to eat, and in the morning bread to the full: for he hath heard your murmurings, with which you have murmured against him, for what are we? your murmuring is not against us, but against the Lord.

Et ait Moses dabit Dominus vobis vespere carnes edere et mane panes in saturitate eo quod audierit murmurationes vestras quibus murmurati estis contra eum nos enim quid sumus nec contra nos est murmur vestrum sed contra Dominum

16:9. Moses also said to Aaron: Say to the whole congregation of the children of Israel: Come before the Lord; for he hath heard your murmuring.

Dixitque Moses ad Aaron dic universae congregationi filiorum Israhel accedite coram Domino audivit enim murmur vestrum

16:10. And when Aaron spoke to all the assembly of the children of Israel, they looked towards the wilderness; and behold the glory of the Lord appeared in a cloud.

Cumque loqueretur Aaron ad omnem coetum filiorum Israhel respexerunt ad solitudinem et ecce gloria Domini apparuit in nube

16:11. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:
Locutus est autem Dominus ad Mosen dicens

16:12. I have heard the murmuring of the children of Israel, say to them: In the evening you shall eat flesh, and in the morning you shall have your fill of bread; and you shall know that I am the Lord your God.

Audivi murmurationes filiorum Israhel loquere ad eos vespere comedetis carnes et mane saturabimini panibus scietisque quod sim Dominus Deus vester

16:13. So it came to pass in the evening, that quails coming up, covered the camp: and in the morning a dew lay round about the camp.

Factum est ergo vespere et ascendens coturnix operuit castra mane quoque ros iacuit per circuitum castrorum

16:14. And when it had covered the face of the earth, it appeared in the wilderness small, and as it were beaten with a pestle, like unto the hoar frost on the ground.

Cumque operuisset superficiem terrae apparuit in solitudine minutum et quasi pilo tunsum in similitudinem pruinae super terram

16:15. And when the children of Israel saw it, they said one to another: Manhu! which signifieth: What is this! for they knew not what it was. And Moses said to them: This is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat.

Quod cum vidissent filii Israhel dixerunt ad invicem man hu quod significat quid est hoc ignorabant enim quid esset quibus ait Moses iste est panis quem dedit Dominus vobis ad vescendum

16:16. This is the word that the Lord hath commanded: Let every one gather of it as much as is enough to eat; a gomor for every man, according to the number of your souls that dwell in a tent, so shall you take of it.

Hic est sermo quem praecepit Dominus colligat ex eo unusquisque quantum sufficiat ad vescendum gomor per singula capita iuxta numerum animarum vestrarum quae habitant in tabernaculo sic tolletis

16:17. And the children of Israel did so: and they gathered, one more, another less.

Feceruntque ita filii Israhel et collegerunt alius plus alius minus

16:18. And they measured by the measure of a gomor: neither had he more that had gathered more; nor did he find less that had provided less: but every one had gathered, according to what they were able to eat.

Et mensi sunt ad mensuram gomor nec qui plus collegerat habuit amplius nec qui minus paraverat repperit minus sed singuli iuxta id quod edere poterant congregarunt

16:19. And Moses said to them: Let no man leave thereof till the morning.

Dixitque Moses ad eos nullus relinquat ex eo in mane

16:20. And they hearkened not to him, but some of them left until the morning, and it began to be full of worms, and it putrefied, and Moses was angry with them.

Qui non audierunt eum sed dimiserunt quidam ex eis usque mane et scatere coepit vermibus atque conputruit et iratus est contra eos Moses

16:21. Now every one of them gathered in the morning, as much as might suffice to eat: and after the sun grew hot, it melted.

Colligebant autem mane singuli quantum sufficere poterat ad vescendum cumque incaluisset sol liquefiebat

16:22. But on the sixth day they gathered twice as much, that is, two gomors every man: and all the rulers of the multitude came, and told Moses.

In die vero sexta collegerunt cibos duplices id est duo gomor per singulos homines venerunt autem omnes principes multitudinis et narraverunt Mosi

16:23. And he said to them: This is what the Lord hath spoken: To morrow is the rest of the sabbath sanctified to the Lord. Whatsoever work is to be done, do it; and the meats that are to be dressed, dress them; and whatsoever shall remain, lay it up until the morning.

Qui ait eis hoc est quod locutus est Dominus requies sabbati sanctificata erit Domino cras quodcumque operandum est facite et quae coquenda sunt coquite quicquid autem reliquum fuerit reponite usque in mane

16:24. And they did so as Moses had commanded, and it did not putrefy, neither was there worm found in it.

Feceruntque ita ut praeceperat Moses et non conputruit neque vermis inventus est in eo

16:25. And Moses said: Eat it to day, because it is the sabbath of the Lord: to day it shall not be found in the field.

Dixitque Moses comedite illud hodie quia sabbatum est Domino non inveniatur hodie in agro

16:26. Gather it six days; but on the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord, therefore it shall not be found.

Sex diebus colligite in die autem septimo sabbatum est Domino idcirco non inveniatur

16:27. And the seventh day came; and some of the people going forth to gather, found none.

Venit septima dies et egressi de populo ut colligerent non invenerunt

16:28. And the Lord said to Moses: How long will you refuse to keep my commandments, and my law?

Dixit autem Dominus ad Mosen usquequo non vultis custodire mandata mea et legem meam

16:29. See that the Lord hath given you the sabbath, and for this reason on the sixth day he giveth you a double provision: let each man stay at home, and let none go forth out of his place the seventh day.

Videte quod Dominus dederit vobis sabbatum et propter hoc tribuerit vobis die sexto cibos duplices maneat unusquisque apud semet ipsum nullus egrediatur de loco suo die septimo

16:30. And the people kept the sabbath on the seventh day.

Et sabbatizavit populus die septimo

16:31. And the house of Israel called the name thereof Manna: and it was like coriander seed, white, and the taste thereof like to flour with honey.

Appellavitque domus Israhel nomen eius man quod erat quasi semen coriandri album gustusque eius quasi similiae cum melle

16:32. And Moses said: This is the word which the Lord hath commanded: Fill a gomor of it, and let it be kept unto generations to come hereafter; that they may know the bread, wherewith I fed you in the wilderness when you were brought forth out of the land of Egypt.

Dixit autem Moses iste est sermo quem praecepit Dominus imple gomor ex eo et custodiatur in futuras retro generationes ut noverint panem quo alui vos in solitudine quando educti estis de terra Aegypti

16:33. And Moses said to Aaron: Take a vessel, and put manna into it, as much as a gomor can hold; and lay it up before the Lord, to keep unto your generations,

Dixitque Moses ad Aaron sume vas unum et mitte ibi man quantum potest capere gomor et repone coram Domino ad servandum in generationes vestras

16:34. As the Lord commanded Moses. And Aaron put it in the tabernacle to be kept.

Sicut praecepit Dominus Mosi posuitque illud Aaron in tabernaculo reservandum

16:35. And the children of Israel ate manna forty years, till they came to a habitable land: with this meat were they fed, until they reached the borders of the land of Chanaan.

Filii autem Israhel comederunt man quadraginta annis donec venirent in terram habitabilem hoc cibo aliti sunt usquequo tangerent fines terrae Chanaan

16:36. Now a gomor is the tenth part of an ephi.

Gomor autem decima pars est oephi

Exodus Chapter 17

The people murmur again for want of drink; the Lord giveth them water out of a rock. Moses lifting up his hand in prayer, Amalec is overcome.

---

17:1. Then all the multitude of the children of Israel setting forward from the desert of Sin, by their mansions, according to the word of the Lord, encamped in Raphidim, where there was no water for the people to drink.

Igitur profecta omnis multitudo filiorum Israhel de deserto Sin per mansiones suas iuxta sermonem Domini castrametata est in Raphidim ubi non erat aqua ad bibendum populo

17:2. And they chode with Moses, and said: Give us water, that we may drink. And Moses answered them: Why chide you with me? Wherefore do you tempt the Lord?

Qui iurgatus contra Mosen ait da nobis aquam ut bibamus quibus respondit Moses quid iurgamini contra me cur temptatis Dominum

17:3. So the people were thirsty there for want of water, and murmured against Moses, saying: Why didst thou make us go forth out of Egypt, to kill us and our children, and our beasts with thirst?

Sitivit ergo populus ibi pro aquae penuria et murmuravit contra Mosen dicens cur nos exire fecisti de Aegypto ut occideres et nos et liberos nostros ac iumenta siti

17:4. And Moses cried to the Lord, saying: What shall I do to this people? Yet a little more and they will stone me.

Clamavit autem Moses ad Dominum dicens quid faciam populo huic adhuc pauxillum et lapidabunt me

17:5. And the Lord said to Moses: Go before the people, and take with thee of the ancients of Israel: and take in thy hand the rod wherewith thou didst strike the river, and go.

Ait Dominus ad Mosen antecede populum et sume tecum de senibus Israhel et virgam qua percussisti fluvium tolle in manu tua et vade

17:6. Behold I will stand there before thee, upon the rock Horeb, and thou shalt strike the rock, and water shall come out of it that the people may drink. Moses did so before the ancients of Israel:

En ego stabo coram te ibi super petram Horeb percutiesque petram et exhibit ex ea aqua ut bibat populus fecit Moses ita coram senibus Israhel

17:7. And he called the name of that place Temptation, because of the chiding of the children of Israel, and for that they tempted the Lord, saying: Is the Lord amongst us or not?

Et vocavit nomen loci illius Temptatio propter iurgium filiorum Israhel et quia temptaverunt Dominum dicentes estne Dominus in nobis an non 17:8. And Amalec came, and fought against Israel in Raphidim.

Venit autem Amalech et pugnabat contra Israhel in Raphidim

17:9. And Moses said to Josue: Choose out men; and go out and fight against Amalec: tomorrow I will stand on the top of the hill, having the rod of God in my hand.

Dixitque Moses ad Iosue elige viros et egressus pugna contra Amalech cras ego stabo in vertice collis habens virgam Dei in manu mea

17:10. Josue did as Moses had spoken, and he fought against Amalec; but Moses, and Aaron, and Hur, went up upon the top of the hill.

Fecit Iosue ut locutus ei erat Moses et pugnavit contra Amalech Moses autem et Aaron et Hur ascenderunt super verticem collis

17:11. And Moses lifted up his hands, Israel overcame; but if he let them down a little, Amalec overcame.

Cumque levaret Moses manus vincebat Israhel sin autem paululum remisisset superabat Amalech

17:12. And Moses' hands were heavy: so they took a stone, and put under him, and he sat on it: and Aaron and Hur stayed up his hands on both sides. And it came to pass, that his hands were not weary until sunset.

Manus autem Mosi erant graves sumentes igitur lapidem posuerunt subter eum in quo sedit Aaron autem et Hur sustentabant manus eius ex utraque parte et factum est ut manus ipsius non lassarentur usque ad occasum solis

17:13. And Josue put Amalec and his people to flight, by the edge of the sword.

Fugavitque Iosue Amalech et populum eius in ore gladii

17:14. And the Lord said to Moses: Write this for a memorial in a book, and deliver it to the ears of Josue; for I will destroy the memory of Amalec from under heaven.

Dixit autem Dominus ad Mosen scribe hoc ob monumentum in libro et trade auribus Iosue delebo enim memoriam Amalech sub caelo

17:15. And Moses built an altar; and called the name thereof, The Lord, my exaltation, saying:

Aedificavitque Moses altare et vocavit nomen eius Dominus exaltatio mea dicens

17:16. Because the hand of the throne of the Lord, and the war of the Lord shall be against Amalec, from generation to generation.

Quia manus solii Domini et bellum Dei erit contra Amalech a generatione in generationem

Exodus Chapter 18

Jethro bringeth to Moses his wife and children. His counsel.

18:1. And when Jethro the priest of Madian, the kinsman of Moses, had heard all the things that God had done to Moses, and to Israel his people, and that the Lord had brought forth Israel out of Egypt:

Cumque audisset Iethro sacerdos Madian cognatus Mosi omnia quae fecerat Deus Mosi et Israhel populo suo eo quod eduxisset Dominus Israhel de Aegypto

18:2. He took Sephora, the wife of Moses, whom he had sent back:

Tulit Sefforam uxorem Mosi quam remiserat

18:3. And her two sons, of whom one was called Gersam: his father saying, I have been a stranger in a foreign country.

Et duos filios eius quorum unus vocabatur Gersan dicente patre advena fui in terra aliena

18:4. And the other Eliezer: For the God of my father, said he, is my helper, and hath delivered me from the sword of Pharao.

Alter vero Eliezer Deus enim ait patris mei adiutor meus et eruit me de gladio Pharaonis

18:5. And Jethro, the kinsman of Moses, came with his sons, and his wife to Moses into the desert, where he was camped by the mountain of God.

Venit ergo Iethro cognatus Mosi et filii eius et uxor ad Mosen in desertum ubi erat castrametatus iuxta montem Dei

18:6. And he sent word to Moses, saying: I Jethro, thy kinsman, come to thee, and thy wife, and thy two sons with her.

Et mandavit Mosi dicens ego cognatus tuus Iethro venio ad te et uxor tua et duo filii tui cum ea

18:7. And he went out to meet his kinsman, and worshipped and kissed him: and they saluted one another with words of peace. And when he was come into the tent,

Qui egressus in occursum cognati sui adoravit et osculatus est eum salutaveruntque se mutuo verbis pacificis cumque intrasset tabernaculum

18:8. Moses told his kinsman all that the Lord had done to Pharao, and the Egyptians in favour of Israel: and all the labour which had befallen them in the journey, and that the Lord had delivered them.

Narravit Moses cognato suo cuncta quae fecerat Deus Pharaoni et Aegyptiis propter Israhel universum laborem qui accidisset eis in itinere quo liberarat eos Dominus

18:9. And Jethro rejoiced for all the good things that the Lord had done to Israel, because he had delivered them out of the hands of the Egyptians.

Laetatusque est Iethro super omnibus bonis quae fecerat Dominus Israheli eo quod eruisset eum de manu Aegyptiorum

18:10. And he said: Blessed is the Lord, who hath delivered his people out of the hand of Egypt.

Et ait benedictus Dominus qui liberavit vos de manu Aegyptiorum et de manu Pharaonis qui eruit populum suum de manu Aegypti

18:11. Now I know, that the Lord is great above all gods; because they dealt proudly against them.

Nunc cognovi quia magnus Dominus super omnes deos eo quod superbe egerint contra illos

18:12. So Jethro, the kinsman of Moses, offered holocausts and sacrifices to God: and Aaron and all the ancients of Israel came, to eat bread with him before God.

Obtulit ergo Iethro cognatus Mosi holocausta et hostias Deo veneruntque Aaron et omnes senes Israhel ut comederent panem cum eo coram Domino

18:13. And the next day Moses sat to judge the people, who stood by Moses from morning until night.
Altero autem die sedit Moses ut iudicaret populum qui adsistebat Mosi de mane usque ad vesperam

18:14. And when his kinsman had seen all things that he did among the people, he said: What is it that thou dost among the people? Why sittest thou alone, and all the people wait from morning till night?
Quod cum vidisset cognatus eius omnia scilicet quae agebat in populo ait quid est hoc quod facis in plebe cur solus sedes et omnis populus praestolatur de mane usque ad vesperam

18:15. And Moses answered him: The people come to me to seek the judgment of God?
Cui respondit Moses venit ad me populus quaerens sententiam Dei

18:16. And when any controversy falleth out among them, they come to me to judge between them, and to show the precepts of God, and his laws.
Cumque acciderit eis aliqua disceptatio veniunt ad me ut iudicem inter eos et ostendam praecepta Dei et leges eius

18:17. But he said: The thing thou dost is not good.
At ille non bonam inquit rem facis

18:18. Thou art spent with foolish labour, both thou, and this people that is with thee; the business is above thy strength, thou alone canst not bear it.
Stulto labore consumeris et tu et populus iste qui tecum est ultra vires tuas est negotium solus illud non poteris sustinere

18:19. But hear my words and counsels, and God shall be with thee. Be thou to the people in those things that pertain to God, to bring their words to him:
Sed audi verba mea atque consilia et erit Deus tecum esto tu populo in his quae ad Deum pertinent ut referas quae dicuntur ad eum

18:20. And to show the people the ceremonies, and the manner of worshipping; and the way wherein they ought to walk, and the work that they ought to do.
Ostendasque populo caerimonias et ritum colendi viamque per quam ingredi debeant et opus quod facere

18:21. And provide out of all the people able men, such as fear God, in whom there is truth, and that hate avarice, and appoint of them rulers of thousands, and of hundreds, and of fifties, and of tens,
Provide autem de omni plebe viros potentes et timentes Deum in quibus sit veritas et qui oderint avaritiam et constitue ex eis tribunos et centuriones et quinquagenarios et decanos

18:22. Who may judge the people at all times: and when any great matter soever shall fall out, let them refer it to thee, and let them judge the lesser matters only: that so it may be lighter for thee, the burden being shared out unto others.
Qui iudicent populum omni tempore quicquid autem maius fuerit referant ad te et ipsi minora tantummodo iudicent leviusque tibi sit partito in alios onere

18:23. If thou dost this, thou shalt fulfil the commandment of God, and shalt be able to bear his precepts: and all this people shall return to their places with peace.
Si hoc feceris implebis imperium Dei et praecepta eius poteris sustentare et omnis hic populus revertetur cum pace ad loca sua

18:24. And when Moses heard this, he did all things that he had suggested unto him.
Quibus auditis Moses fecit omnia quae ille suggesserat

18:25. And choosing able men out of all Israel, he appointed them rulers of the people, rulers over thousands, and over hundreds, and over fifties, and over tens.
Et electis viris strenuis de cuncto Israhel constituit eos principes populi tribunos et centuriones et quinquagenarios et decanos

18:26. And they judged the people at all times: and whatsoever was of greater difficulty they referred to him, and they judged the easier cases only.
Qui iudicabant plebem omni tempore quicquid autem gravius erat referebant ad eum faciliora tantummodo iudicantes

18:27. And he let his kinsman depart: and he returned and went into his own country.

Dimisitque cognatum qui reversus abiit in terram suam

Exodus Chapter 19

They come to Sinai: the people are commanded to be sanctified. The Lord, coming in thunder and lightning, speaketh with Moses.

---

19:1. In the third month of the departure of Israel out of the land of Egypt, on this day they came into the wilderness of Sinai:

Mense tertio egressionis Israhel de terra Aegypti in die hac venerunt in solitudinem Sinai

19:2. For departing out of Raphidim, and coming to the desert of Sinai, they camped in the same place, and there Israel pitched their tents over against the mountain.

Nam profecti de Raphidim et pervenientes usque in desertum Sinai castrametati sunt in eodem loco ibique Israhel fixit tentoria e regione montis

19:3. And Moses went up to God; and the Lord called unto him from the mountain, and said: Thus shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and tell the children of Israel:

Moses autem ascendit ad Deum vocavitque eum Dominus de monte et ait haec dices domui Iacob et adnuntiabis filiis Israhel

And Moses went up to God... Moses went up to mount Sinai, where God spoke to him.

19:4. You have seen what I have done to the Egyptians, how I have carried you upon the wings of eagles, and have taken you to myself.

Vos ipsi vidistis quae fecerim Aegyptiis quomodo portaverim vos super alas aquilarum et adumpserim mihi

19:5. If therefore you will hear my voice, and keep my covenant, you shall be my peculiar possession above all people: for all the earth is mine.

Si ergo audieritis vocem meam et custodieritis pactum meum eritis mihi in peculium de cunctis populis mea est enim omnis terra

19:6. And you shall be to me a priestly kingdom, and a holy nation. These are the words thou shalt speak to the children of Israel.

Et vos eritis mihi regnum sacerdotale et gens sancta haec sunt verba quae loqueris ad filios Israhel

19:7. Moses came; and calling together the elders of the people, he declared all the words which the Lord had commanded.

Venit Moses et convocatis maioribus natu populi exposuit omnes sermones quos mandaverat Dominus

19:8. And all the people answered together: All that the Lord hath spoken, we will do. And when Moses had related the people's words to the Lord,

Responditque universus populus simul cuncta quae locutus est Dominus faciemus cumque rettulisset Moses verba populi ad Dominum

19:9. The Lord said to him: Lo, now will I come to thee in the darkness of a cloud, that the people may hear me speaking to thee, and may believe thee for ever. And Moses told the words of the people to the Lord.

Ait ei Dominus iam nunc veniam ad te in caligine nubis ut audiat me populus loquentem ad te et credat tibi in perpetuum nuntiavit ergo Moses verba populi ad Dominum

19:10. And he said to him: Go to the people, and sanctify them to day, and to morrow, and let them wash their garments.

Qui dixit ei vade ad populum et sanctifica illos hodie et cras laventque vestimenta sua

19:11. And let them be ready against the third day; for on the third day the Lord will come down in the sight of all the people, upon Mount Sinai.

Et sint parati in diem tertium die enim tertio descendet Dominus coram omni plebe super montem Sinai

19:12. And thou shalt appoint certain limits to the people round about, and thou shalt say to them: Take heed ye go not up into the mount, and that ye touch not the borders thereof: every one that toucheth the mount, dying he shall die.

Constituesque terminos populo per circuitum et dices cavete ne ascendatis in montem nec tangatis fines illius omnis qui tetigerit montem morte morietur

19:13. No hands shall touch him, but he shall be stoned to death, or he shall be shot through with arrows: whether it be beast, or man, he shall not live. When the trumpet shall begin to sound, then let them go up into the mount.

Manus non tanget eum sed lapidibus opprimetur aut confodietur iaculis sive iumentum fuerit sive homo non vivet cum coeperit clangere bucina tunc ascendant in montem

19:14. And Moses came down from the mount to the people, and sanctified them. And when they had washed their garments,

Descenditque Moses de monte ad populum et sanctificavit eum cumque lavissent vestimenta sua

19:15. He said to them: Be ready against the third day, and come not near your wives.

Ait ad eos estote parati in diem tertium ne adpropinquetis uxoribus vestris

19:16. And now the third day was come, and the morning appeared: and behold thunders began to be heard, and lightning to flash, and a very thick cloud to cover the mount, and the noise of the trumpet sounded exceeding loud; and the people that was in the camp, feared.

Iam advenerat tertius dies et mane inclaruerat et ecce coeperunt audiri tonitrua ac micare fulgura et nubes densissima operire montem clangorque bucinæ vehementius perstrepebat timuit populus qui erat in castris

19:17. And when Moses had brought them forth to meet God, from the place of the camp, they stood at the bottom of the mount.

Cumque eduxisset eos Moses in occursum Dei de loco castrorum steterunt ad radices montis

19:18. And all Mount Sinai was on a smoke: because the Lord was come down upon it in fire, and the smoke arose from it as out of a furnace: and all the mount was terrible.

Totus autem mons Sinai fumabat eo quod descendisset Dominus super eum in igne et ascenderet fumus ex eo quasi de fornace eratque mons omnis terribilis

19:19. And the sound of the trumpet grew by degrees louder and louder, and was drawn out to a greater length: Moses spoke, and God answered him.

Et sonitus bucinæ paulatim crescebat in maius et prolixius tendebatur Moses loquebatur et Dominus respondebat ei

19:20. And the Lord came down upon Mount Sinai, in the very top of the mount, and he called Moses unto the top thereof. And when he was gone up thither,

Descenditque Dominus super montem Sinai in ipso montis vertice et vocavit Mosen in cacumen eius quo cum ascendisset

19:21. He said unto him: Go down, and charge the people; lest they should have a mind to pass the limits to see the Lord, and a very great multitude of them should perish.

Dixit ad eum descende et contestare populum ne forte velint transcendere terminos ad videndum Dominum et pereat ex eis plurima multitudo

19:22. The priests also that come to the Lord, let them be sanctified, lest he strike them.

Sacerdotes quoque qui accedunt ad Dominum sanctificentur ne percutiat eos

19:23. And Moses said to the Lord: The people cannot come up to Mount Sinai: for thou didst charge, and command, saying: Set limits about the mount, and sanctify it.

Dixitque Moses ad Dominum non poterit vulgus ascendere in montem Sinai tu enim testificatus es et iussisti dicens pone terminos circa montem et sanctifica illum

19:24. And the Lord said to him: Go, get thee down; and thou shalt come up, thou and Aaron with thee: but let not the priests and the people pass the limits, nor come up to the Lord, lest he kill them.

Cui ait Dominus vade descende ascendesque tu et Aaron tecum sacerdotes autem et populus ne transeant terminos nec ascendant ad Dominum ne forte interficiat illos

19:25. And Moses went down to the people and told them all.

Descendit Moses ad populum et omnia narravit eis

Exodus Chapter 20

The ten commandments.

---

20:1. And the Lord spoke all these words:

Locutus quoque est Dominus cunctos sermones hos

20:2. I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

Ego sum Dominus Deus tuus qui eduxi te de terra Aegypti de domo servitutis

20:3. Thou shalt not have strange gods before me.

Non habebis deos alienos coram me

20:4. Thou shalt not make to thyself a graven thing, nor the likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, nor of those things that are in the waters under the earth.

Non facies tibi sculptile neque omnem similitudinem quae est in caelo desuper et quae in terra deorsum nec eorum quae sunt in aquis sub terra

A graven thing, nor the likeness of any thing, etc... All such images, or likenesses, are forbidden by this commandment, as are made to be adored and served; according to that which immediately follows, thou shalt not adore them, nor serve them. That is, all such as are designed for idols or image-gods, or are worshipped with divine honour. But otherwise images, pictures, or representations, even in the house of God, and in the very sanctuary so far from being forbidden, are expressly authorized by the word of God. See Exodus 25:15, and etc.; Exodus 38:7; Numbers 21:8-9; 1 Chronicles 28:18-19; 2 Chronicles 3:10.

20:5. Thou shalt not adore them, nor serve them: I am the Lord thy God, mighty, jealous, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me:

Non adorabis ea neque coles ego sum Dominus Deus tuus fortis zelotes visitans iniquitatem patrum in filiis in tertiam et quartam generationem eorum qui oderunt me

20:6. And showing mercy unto thousands to them that love me, and keep my commandments.

Et faciens misericordiam in milia his qui diligunt me et custodiunt praecepta mea

20:7. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that shall take the name of the Lord his God in vain.

Non adsumes nomen Domini Dei tui in vanum nec enim habebit insontem Dominus eum qui adsumpserit nomen Domini Dei sui frustra

20:8. Remember that thou keep holy the sabbath day.

Memento ut diem sabbati sanctifices

20:9. Six days shalt thou labour, and shalt do all thy works.

Sex diebus operaberis et facies omnia opera tua

20:10. But on the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: thou shalt do no work on it, thou nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy beast, nor the stranger that is within thy gates.

Septimo autem die sabbati Domini Dei tui non facies omne opus tu et filius tuus et filia tua servus tuus et ancilla tua iumentum tuum et advena qui est intra portas tuas

20:11. For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all things that are in them, and rested on the seventh day: therefore the Lord blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it.

Sex enim diebus fecit Dominus caelum et terram et mare et omnia quae in eis sunt et requievit in die septimo idcirco benedixit Dominus diei sabbati et sanctificavit eum

20:12. Honour thy father and thy mother, that thou mayst be longlived upon the land which the Lord thy God will give thee.

Honora patrem tuum et matrem tuam ut sis longevus super terram quam Dominus Deus tuus dabit tibi

20:13. Thou shalt not kill.

Non occides

20:14. Thou shalt not commit adultery.

Non moechaberis

20:15. Thou shalt not steal.

Non furtum facies

20:16. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.

Non loqueris contra proximum tuum falsum testimonium

20:17. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house; neither shalt thou desire his wife, nor his servant, nor his handmaid, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is his.

Non concupisces domum proximi tui nec desiderabis uxorem eius non servum non ancillam non bovem non asinum nec omnia quae illius sunt

20:18. And all the people saw the voices and the flames, and the sound of the trumpet, and the mount smoking; and being terrified and struck with fear, they stood afar off,

Cunctus autem populus videbat voces et lampadas et sonitum bucinæ montemque fumantem et perterriti ac pavore concussi steterunt procul

20:19. Saying to Moses: Speak thou to us, and we will hear: let not the Lord speak to us, lest we die.

Dicentes Mosi loquere tu nobis et audiemus non loquatur nobis Dominus ne forte moriamur

20:20. And Moses said to the people: Fear not; for God is come to prove you, and that the dread of him might be in you, and you should not sin.

Et ait Moses ad populum nolite timere ut enim probaret vos venit Deus et ut terror illius esset in vobis et non peccaretis

20:21. And the people stood afar off. But Moses went to the dark cloud wherein God was.

Stetitque populus de longe Moses autem accessit ad caliginem in qua erat Deus

20:22. And the Lord said to Moses: Thus shalt thou say to the children of Israel: You have seen that I have spoken to you from heaven.

Dixit praeterea Dominus ad Mosen haec dices filiis Israhel vos vidistis quod de caelo locutus sum vobis

20:23. You shall not make gods of silver, nor shall you make to yourselves gods of gold.

Non facietis mecum deos argenteos nec deos aureos facietis vobis

20:24. You shall make an altar of earth unto me, and you shall offer upon it your holocausts and peace offerings, your sheep and oxen, in every place where the memory of my name shall be: I will come to thee, and will bless thee.

Altare de terra facietis mihi et offeretis super eo holocausta et pacifica vestra oves vestras et boves in omni loco in quo memoria fuerit nominis mei veniam ad te et benedicam tibi

20:25. And if thou make an altar of stone unto me, thou shalt not build it of hewn stones; for if thou lift up a tool upon it, it shall be defiled.

Quod si altare lapideum feceris mihi non aedificabis illud de sectis lapidibus si enim levaveris cultrum tuum super eo polluetur

20:26. Thou shalt not go up by steps unto my altar, lest thy nakedness be discovered.

Non ascendes per gradus ad altare meum ne reveletur turpitudine tua

Exodus Chapter 21

Laws relating to Justice.

---

21:1. These are the judgments which thou shalt set before them.

Haec sunt iudicia quae propones eis

21:2. If thou buy a Hebrew servant, six years shall he serve thee; in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing.

Si emeris servum hebraeum sex annis serviet tibi in septimo egredietur liber gratis

21:3. With what raiment he came in, with the like let him go out: if having a wife, his wife also shall go out with him.

Cum quali veste intraverit cum tali exeat si habens uxorem et uxor egredietur simul

21:4. But if his master gave him a wife, and she hath borne sons and daughters; the woman and her children shall be her master's: but he himself shall go out with his raiment.

Sin autem dominus dederit illi uxorem et peperit filios et filias mulier et liberi eius erunt domini sui ipse vero exhibit cum vestitu suo

21:5. And if the servant shall say: I love my master and my wife and children, I will not go out free:

Quod si dixerit servus diligo dominum meum et uxorem ac liberos non egrediar liber

21:6. His master shall bring him to the gods, and he shall be set to the door and the posts, and he shall bore his ear through with an awl: and he shall be his servant for ever.

Offeret eum dominus diis et adplicabitur ad ostium et postes perforabitque aurem eius subula et erit ei servus in saeculum

To the gods... Elohim. That is, to the judges, or magistrates, authorized by God.

21:7. If any man sell his daughter to be a servant, she shall not go out as bondwomen are wont to go out.

Si quis vendiderit filiam suam in famulam non egredietur sicut ancillae exire consuerunt

21:8. If she displease the eyes of her master to whom she was delivered, he shall let her go: but he shall have no power to sell her to a foreign nation, if he despise her.

Si displicuerit oculis domini sui cui tradita fuerit dimittet eam populo autem alieno vendendi non habet potestatem si spreverit eam

21:9. But if he have betrothed her to his son, he shall deal with her after the manner of daughters.

Sin autem filio suo desponderit eam iuxta morem filiarum faciet illi

21:10. And if he take another wife for him, he shall provide her a marriage, and raiment, neither shall he refuse the price of her chastity.

Quod si alteram ei acceperit providebit puellae nuptias et vestimenta et pretium pudicitiae non negabit

21:11. If he do not these three things, she shall go out free without money.

Si tria ista non fecerit egredietur gratis absque pecunia

21:12. He that striketh a man with a will to kill him, shall be put to death.

Qui percusserit hominem volens occidere morte moriatur

21:13. But he that did not lie in wait for him, but God delivered him into his hands: I will appoint thee a place to which he must flee.

Qui autem non est insidiatus sed Deus illum tradidit in manu eius constituam tibi locum quo fugere debeat

21:14. If a man kill his neighbour on set purpose, and by lying in wait for him: thou shalt take him away from my altar that he may die.

Si quis de industria occiderit proximum suum et per insidias ab altari meo evelles eum ut moriatur

21:15. He that striketh his father or mother, shall be put to death.

Qui percusserit patrem suum et matrem morte moriatur

21:16. He that shall steal a man, and sell him, being convicted of the guilt, shall be put to death.

Qui furatus fuerit hominem et vendiderit eum convictus noxae morte moriatur

21:17. He that curseth his father or mother, shall die the death.

Qui maledixerit patri suo et matri morte moriatur

21:18. If men quarrel, and the one strike his neighbour with a stone, or with his fist, and he die not, but keepeth his bed:

Si rixati fuerint viri et percusserit alter proximum suum lapide vel pugno et ille mortuus non fuerit sed iacuerit in lectulo

21:19. If he rise again and walk abroad upon his staff, he that struck him shall be quit, yet so that he make restitution for his work, and for his expenses upon the physicians.

Si surrexerit et ambulaverit foris super baculum suum innocens erit qui percussit ita tamen ut operas eius et inpensas in medicos restituat

21:20. He that striketh his bondman, or bondwoman, with a rod, and they die under his hands, shall be guilty of the crime.

Qui percusserit servum suum vel ancillam virga et mortui fuerint in manibus eius criminis reus erit

21:21. But if the party remain alive a day or two, he shall not be subject to the punishment, because it is his money.

Sin autem uno die supervixerit vel duobus non subiacebit poenae quia pecunia illius est

21:22. If men quarrel, and one strike a woman with child and she miscarry indeed, but live herself: he shall be answerable for so much damage as the woman's husband shall require, and as arbiters shall award.

Si rixati fuerint viri et percusserit quis mulierem praegnantem et abortivum quidem fecerit sed ipsa vixerit subiacebit damno quantum expetierit maritus mulieris et arbitri iudicant

21:23. But if her death ensue thereupon, he shall render life for life,

Sin autem mors eius fuerit subsecuta reddet animam pro anima

21:24. Eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot,

Oculum pro oculo dentem pro dente manum pro manu pedem pro pede

21:25. Burning for burning, wound for wound, stripe for stripe.

Adustionem pro adustione vulnus pro vulnere livorem pro livore

21:26. If any man strike the eye of his manservant or maidservant, and leave them but one eye, he shall let them go free for the eye which he put out.

Si percusserit quispiam oculum servi sui aut ancillae et luscus eos fecerit dimittet liberos pro oculo quem eruit

21:27. Also if he strike out a tooth of his manservant or maidservant, he shall in like manner make them free.

Dentem quoque si excusserit servo vel ancillae suae similiter dimittet eos liberos

21:28. If an ox gore a man or a woman, and they die, he shall be stoned: and his flesh shall not be eaten, but the owner of the ox shall be quit.

Si bos cornu petierit virum aut mulierem et mortui fuerint lapidibus obruetur et non comedentur carnes eius dominusque bovis innocens erit

21:29. But if the ox was wont to push with his horn yesterday, and the day before, and they warned his master, and he did not shut him up, and he shall kill a man or a woman: then the ox shall be stoned, and his owner also shall be put to death.

Quod si bos cornipeta fuerit ab heri et nudius tertius et contestati sunt dominum eius nec recluserit eum occideritque virum aut mulierem et bos lapidibus obruetur et dominum illius occident

21:30. And if they set a price upon him, he shall give for his life whatsoever is laid upon him.
Quod si pretium ei fuerit inpositum dabit pro anima sua quicquid fuerit postulatus

21:31. If he have gored a son, or a daughter, he shall fall under the like sentence.
Filium quoque et filiam si cornu percusserit simili sententiae subiacebit

21:32. If he assault a bondman or bondwoman, he shall give thirty sicles of silver to their master, and the ox shall be stoned.
Si servum ancillamque invaserit triginta siclos argenti dabit domino bos vero lapidibus opprimetur

21:33. If a man open a pit, and dig one, and cover it not, and an ox or an ass fall into it,
Si quis aperuerit cisternam et foderit et non operuerit eam cecideritque bos vel asinus in eam

21:34. The owner of the pit shall pay the price of the beasts: and that which is dead shall be his own.
Dominus cisternae reddet pretium iumentorum quod autem mortuum est ipsius erit

21:35. If one man's ox gore another man's ox, and he die: they shall sell the live ox, and shall divide the price, and the carcass of that which died they shall part between them:
Si bos alienus bovem alterius vulnerarit et ille mortuus fuerit vendent bovem vivum et dividunt pretium cadaver autem mortui inter se dispartient

21:36. But if he knew that his ox was wont to push yesterday, and the day before, and his master did not keep him in; he shall pay ox for ox, and shall take the whole carcass.
Sin autem sciebat quod bos cornipeta esset ab heri et nudius tertius et non custodivit eum dominus suus reddet bovem pro bove et cadaver integrum accipiet

Exodus Chapter 22

The punishment of theft, and other trespasses. The law of lending without usury, of taking pledges of reverences to superiors, and of paying tithes.

---

22:1. If any man steal an ox or a sheep, and kill or sell it: he shall restore five oxen for one ox, and four sheep for one sheep.

Si quis furatus fuerit bovem aut ovem et occiderit vel vendiderit quinque boves pro uno bove restituet et quattuor oves pro una ove

22:2. If a thief be found breaking open a house or undermining it, and be wounded so as to die: he that slew him shall not be guilty of blood.

Si effringens fur domum sive suffodiens fuerit inventus et accepto vulnere mortuus fuerit percussor non erit reus sanguinis

22:3. But if he did this when the sun is risen, he hath committed murder, and he shall die. If he have not wherewith to make restitution for the theft, he shall be sold.

Quod si orto sole hoc fecerit homicidium perpetravit et ipse morietur si non habuerit quod pro furto reddat venundabitur

22:4. If that which he stole be found with him, alive, either ox, or ass, or sheep: he shall restore double.

Si inventum fuerit apud eum quod furatus est vivens sive bos sive asinus sive ovis duplum restituet

22:5. If any man hurt a field or a vineyard, and put in his beast to feed upon that which is other men's: he shall restore the best of whatsoever he hath in his own field, or in his vineyard, according to the estimation of the damage.

Si laeserit quispiam agrum vel vineam et dimiserit iumentum suum ut depascatur aliena quicquid optimum habuerit in agro suo vel in vinea pro damni aestimatione restituet

22:6. If a fire breaking out light upon thorns, and catch stacks of corn, or corn standing in the fields, he that kindled the fire shall make good the loss.

Si egressus ignis invenerit spinas et comprehenderit acervos frugum sive stantes segetes in agris reddet damnum qui ignem succenderit

22:7. If a man deliver money, or any vessel unto his friend to keep, and they be stolen away from him that received them: if the thief be found, he shall restore double:

Si quis commendaverit amico pecuniam aut vas in custodiam et ab eo qui susceperat furto ablata fuerint si invenitur fur duplum reddet

22:8. If the thief be not known, the master of the house shall be brought to the gods, and shall swear that he did not lay his hand upon his neighbour's goods,

Si latet dominus domus adplicabitur ad deos et iurabit quod non extenderit manum in rem proximi sui

22:9. To do any fraud, either in ox, or in ass, or sheep, or raiment, or any thing that may bring damage: the cause of both parties shall come to the gods: and if they give judgment, he shall restore double to his neighbour.

Ad perpetranda fraudem tam in bove quam in asino et ove ac vestimento et quicquid damnum inferre potest ad deos utriusque causa perveniet et si illi iudicaverint duplum restituet proximo suo

22:10. If a man deliver ass, ox, sheep, or any beast, to his neighbour's custody, and it die, or be hurt, or be taken by enemies, and no man saw it:

Si quis commendaverit proximo suo asinum bovem ovem et omne iumentum ad custodiam et mortuum fuerit aut debilitatum vel captum ab hostibus nullusque hoc viderit

22:11. There shall be an oath between them, that he did not put forth his hand to his neighbour's goods: and the owner shall accept of the oath, and he shall not be compelled to make restitution.

Lusiurandum erit in medio quod non extenderit manum ad rem proximi sui suscipietque dominus iuramentum et ille reddere non cogetur

22:12. But if it were taken away by stealth, he shall make the loss good to the owner.

Quod si furto ablatum fuerit restituet damnum domino

22:13. If it were eaten by a beast, let him bring to him that which was slain, and he shall not make restitution.

Si comestum a bestia deferet ad eum quod occisum est et non restituet

22:14. If a man borrow of his neighbour any of these things, and it be hurt or die, the owner not being present, he shall be obliged to make restitution.

Qui a proximo suo quicquam horum mutuo postularit et debilitatum aut mortuum fuerit domino non praesente reddere compelletur

22:15. But if the owner be present, he shall not make restitution, especially if it were hired, and came for the hire of his work.

Quod si inpraesentiarum fuit dominus non restituet maxime si conductum venerat pro mercede operis sui

22:16. If a man seduce a virgin not yet espoused, and lie with her: he shall endow her, and have her to wife.

Si seduxerit quis virginem necdum desponsatam et dormierit cum ea dotabit eam et habebit uxorem

22:17. If the maid's father will not give her to him, he shall give money according to the dowry, which virgins are wont to receive.

Si pater virginis dare noluerit reddet pecuniam iuxta modum dotis quam virgines accipere consuerunt

22:18. Wizards thou shalt not suffer to live.

Maleficos non patieris vivere

22:19. Whosoever copulateth with a beast; shall be put to death.

Qui coierit cum iumento morte moriatur

22:20. He that sacrificeth to gods, shall be put to death, save only to the Lord.

Qui immolat diis occidetur praeter Domino soli

22:21. Thou shalt not molest a stranger, nor afflict him: for yourselves also were strangers in the land of Egypt.

Advenam non contristabis neque adfliges eum advenae enim et ipsi fuistis in terra Aegypti

22:22. You shall not hurt a widow or an orphan.

Viduae et pupillo non nocebitis

22:23. If you hurt them, they will cry out to me, and I will hear their cry:

Si laeseritis eos vociferabuntur ad me et ego audiam clamorem eorum

22:24. And my rage shall be enkindled, and I will strike you with the sword, and your wives shall be widows, and your children fatherless.

Et indignabitur furor meus percutiamque vos gladio et erunt uxores vestrae viduae et filii vestri pupilli

22:25. If thou lend money to any of my people that is poor, that dwelleth with thee, thou shalt not be hard upon them as an extortioner, nor oppress them with usuries.

Si pecuniam mutuam dederis populo meo pauperi qui habitat tecum non urges eum quasi exactor nec usuris opprimes

22:26. If thou take of thy neighbour a garment in pledge, thou shalt give it him again before sunset.

Si pignus a proximo tuo acceperis vestimentum ante solis occasum redde ei

22:27. For that same is the only thing, wherewith he is covered, the clothing of his body, neither hath he any other to sleep in: if he cry to me, I will hear him, because I am compassionate.

Ipsium enim est solum quo operitur indumentum carnis eius nec habet aliud in quo dormiat si clamaverit ad me exaudiam eum quia misericors sum

22:28. Thou shalt not speak ill of the gods, and the prince of thy people thou shalt not curse.

Diis non detrahes et principi populi tui non maledices

22:29. Thou shalt not delay to pay thy tithes and thy firstfruits: thou shalt give the firstborn of thy sons to me.

Decimas tuas et primitias non tardabis offerre primogenitum filiorum tuorum dabis mihi

22:30. Thou shalt do the same with the firstborn of thy oxen also and sheep: seven days let it be with its dam: the eighth day thou shalt give it to me.

De bubus quoque et ovibus similiter facies septem diebus sit cum matre sua die octavo reddes illum mihi

22:31. You shall be holy men to me: the flesh that beasts have tasted of before, you shall not eat, but shall cast it to the dogs.

Viri sancti eritis mihi carnem quae a bestiis fuerit praegustata non comedetis sed proicietis canibus

Exodus Chapter 23

Laws for judges; the rest of the seventh year, and day: three principal feasts to be solemnized every year; the promise of an angel, to conduct and protect them: idols are to be destroyed.

---

23:1. Thou shalt not receive the voice of a lie: neither shalt thou join thy hand to bear false witness for a wicked person.

Non suscipies vocem mendacii nec iunges manum tuam ut pro impio dicas falsum testimonium

23:2. Thou shalt not follow the multitude to do evil: neither shalt thou yield in judgment, to the opinion of the most part, to stray from the truth.

Non sequeris turbam ad faciendum malum nec in iudicio plurimorum adquiesces sententiae ut a vero devies

23:3. Neither shalt thou favour a poor man in judgment.

Pauperis quoque non misereberis in negotio

23:4. If thou meet thy enemy's ox or ass going astray, bring it back to him.

Si occurreris bovi inimici tui aut asino erranti reduc ad eum

23:5. If thou see the ass of him that hateth thee lie underneath his burden, thou shalt not pass by, but shalt lift him up with him.

Si videris asinum odientis te iacere sub onere non pertransibis sed sublevabis cum eo

23:6. Thou shalt not go aside in the poor man's judgment.

Non declinabis in iudicio pauperis

23:7. Thou shalt fly lying. The innocent and just person thou shalt not put to death: because I abhor the wicked.

Mendacium fugies insontem et iustum non occides quia aversor impium

23:8. Neither shalt thou take bribes, which even blind the wise, and pervert the words of the just.

Nec accipias munera quae excaecant etiam prudentes et subvertunt verba iustorum

23:9. Thou shalt not molest a stranger, for you know the hearts of strangers: for you also were strangers in the land of Egypt.

Peregrino molestus non eris scitis enim advenarum animas quia et ipsi peregrini fuistis in terra Aegypti

23:10. Six years thou shalt sow thy ground, and shalt gather the corn thereof.

Sex annis seminabis terram tuam et congregabis fruges eius

23:11. But the seventh year thou shalt let it alone, and suffer it to rest, that the poor of thy people may eat, and whatsoever shall be left, let the beasts of the field eat it: so shalt thou do with thy vineyard and thy oliveyard.

Anno autem septimo dimittes eam et requiescere facies ut comedant pauperes populi tui et quicquid reliqui fuerit edant bestiae agri ita facies in vinea et in oliveto tuo

23:12. Six days thou shalt work: the seventh day thou shalt cease, that thy ox and thy ass may rest: and the son of thy handmaid and the stranger may be refreshed.

Sex diebus operaberis septima die cessabis ut requiescat bos et asinus tuus et refrigeretur filius ancillae tuae et advena

23:13. Keep all things that I have said to you. And by the name of strange gods you shall not swear, neither shall it be heard out of your mouth.

Omnia quae dixi vobis custodite et per nomen externorum deorum non iurabitis neque audietur ex ore

vestro

23:14. Three times every year you shall celebrate feasts to me.

Tribus vicibus per singulos annos mihi festa celebrabitis

23:15. Thou shalt keep the feast of unleavened bread. Seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread, as I commanded thee, in the time of the month of new corn, when thou didst come forth out of Egypt: thou shalt not appear empty before me.

Sollemnitatem azymorum custodies septem diebus comedes azyma sicut praecepi tibi tempore mensis novorum quando egressus es de Aegypto non apparebis in conspectu meo vacuus

23:16. And the feast of the harvest of the firstfruits of thy work, whatsoever thou hast sown in the field. The feast also in the end of the year, when thou hast gathered in all thy corn out of the field.

Et sollemnitatem messis primitivorum operis tui quaecumque serueris in agro sollemnitatem quoque in exitu anni quando congregaveris omnes fruges tuas de agro

23:17. Thrice a year shall all thy males appear before the Lord thy God.

Ter in anno apparebit omne masculinum tuum coram Domino Deo

23:18. Thou shalt not sacrifice the blood of my victim upon leaven, neither shall the fat of my solemnity remain until the morning.

Non immolabis super fermento sanguinem victimae meae nec remanebit adeps sollemnitatis meae usque mane

23:19. Thou shalt carry the first-fruits of the corn of thy ground to the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not boil a kid in the milk of his dam.

Primitias frugum terrae tuae deferes in domum Domini Dei tui nec coques hedum in lacte matris suae

23:20. Behold I will send my angel, who shall go before thee, and keep thee in thy journey, and bring thee into the place that I have prepared.

Ecce ego mittam angelum meum qui praecedat te et custodiat in via et introducat ad locum quem paravi

23:21. Take notice of him, and hear his voice, and do not think him one to be contemned: for he will not forgive when thou hast sinned, and my name is in him.

Observa eum et audi vocem eius nec contemnendum putes quia non dimittet cum peccaveritis et est nomen meum in illo

23:22. But if thou wilt hear his voice, and do all that I speak, I will be an enemy to thy enemies, and will afflict them that afflict thee.

Quod si audieris vocem eius et feceris omnia quae loquor inimicus ero inimicis tuis et adfligam adfligentes te

23:23. And my angel shall go before thee, and shall bring thee in unto the Amorrhite, and the Hethite, and the Pherexite, and the Chanaanite, and the Hevite, and the Jebuzite, whom I will destroy.

Praecedetque te angelus meus et introducet te ad Amorreum et Hettheum et Ferezeum Chananeumque et Eueum et Iebuseum quos ego contribo

23:24. Thou shalt not adore their gods, nor serve them. Thou shalt not do their works, but shalt destroy them, and break their statues.

Non adorabis deos eorum nec coles eos non facies opera eorum sed destrues eos et confringes statuas eorum

23:25. And you shall serve the Lord your God, that I may bless your bread and your waters, and may take away sickness from the midst of thee.

Servietisque Domino Deo vestro ut benedicam panibus tuis et aquis et auferam infirmitatem de medio tui

23:26. There shall not be one fruitless nor barren in thy land: I will fill the number of thy days.

Non erit infecunda nec sterilis in terra tua numerum dierum tuorum implebo

23:27. I will send my fear before thee, and will destroy all the people to whom thou shalt come: and will turn the backs of all thy enemies before thee:

Terrorem meum mittam in praecursum tuum et occidam omnem populum ad quem ingredieris cunctorumque inimicorum tuorum coram te terga vertam

23:28. Sending out hornets before, that shall drive away the Hevite, and the Chanaanite, and the Hethite, before thou come in.

Emittens crabrones prius qui fugabunt Eveum et Chananeum et Heththeum antequam introeas

23:29. I will not cast them out from thy face in one year; lest the land be brought into a wilderness, and the beasts multiply against thee.

Non eiciam eos a facie tua anno uno ne terra in solitudinem redigatur et crescant contra te bestiae

23:30. By little and little I will drive them out from before thee, till thou be increased, and dost possess the land.

Paulatim expellam eos de conspectu tuo donec augearis et possideas terram

23:31. And I will set thy bounds from the Red Sea to the sea of the Palestines, and from the desert to the river: I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hands, and will drive them out from before you.

Ponam autem terminos tuos a mari Rubro usque ad mare Palestinorum et a deserto usque ad Fluvium tradam manibus vestris habitatores terrae et eiciam eos de conspectu vestro

23:32. Thou shalt not enter into league with them, nor with their gods.

Non inibis cum eis foedus nec cum diis eorum

23:33. Let them not dwell in thy land, lest perhaps they make thee sin against me, if thou serve their gods; which, undoubtedly, will be a scandal to thee.

Non habitent in terra tua ne forte peccare te faciant in me si servieris diis eorum quod tibi certo erit in scandalum

Exodus Chapter 24

Moses writeth his law; and after offering sacrifices, sprinkleth the blood of the testament upon the people: then goeth up the mountain which God covereth with a fiery cloud.

---

24:1. And he said to Moses: Come up to the Lord, thou, and Aaron, Nadab and Abiu, and seventy of the ancients of Israel, and you shall adore afar off.

Mosi quoque dixit ascende ad Dominum tu et Aaron Nadab et Abiu et septuaginta senes ex Israhel et adorabitis procul

24:2. And Moses alone shall come up to the Lord, but they shall not come nigh; neither shall the people come up with him.

Solusque Moses ascendet ad Dominum et illi non adpropinquabunt nec populus ascendet cum eo

24:3. So Moses came and told the people all the words of the Lord, and all the judgments: and all the people answered with one voice: We will do all the words of the Lord, which he hath spoken.

Venit ergo Moses et narravit plebi omnia verba Domini atque iudicia responditque cunctus populus una voce omnia verba Domini quae locutus est faciemus

24:4. And Moses wrote all the words of the Lord: and rising in the morning, he built an altar at the foot of the mount, and twelve titles according to the twelve tribes of Israel.

Scripsit autem Moses universos sermones Domini et mane consurgens aedificavit altare ad radices montis et duodecim titulos per duodecim tribus Israhel

Titles... That is, pillars.

24:5. And he sent young men of the children of Israel, and they offered holocausts, and sacrificed pacific victims of calves to the Lord.

Misitque iuvenes de filiis Israhel et obtulerunt holocausta immolaveruntque victimas pacificas Domino vitulos

Holocausts... Whole burnt offerings, in which the whole sacrifice was consumed with fire upon the altar.

24:6. Then Moses took half of the blood, and put it into bowls; and the rest he poured upon the altar.

Tulit itaque Moses dimidiam partem sanguinis et misit in crateras partem autem residuam fudit super altare

24:7. And taking the book of the covenant, he read it in the hearing of the people: and they said: All things that the Lord hath spoken, we will do, we will be obedient.

Adsumensque volumen foederis legit audiente populo qui dixerunt omnia quae locutus est Dominus faciemus et erimus oboedientes

24:8. And he took the blood and sprinkled it upon the people, and he said: This is the blood of the covenant, which the Lord hath made with you concerning all these words.

Ille vero sumptum sanguinem respersit in populum et ait hic est sanguis foederis quod pepigit Dominus vobiscum super cunctis sermonibus his

24:9. Then Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abiu, and seventy of the ancients of Israel went up:

Ascenderuntque Moses et Aaron Nadab et Abiu et septuaginta de senioribus Israhel

24:10. And they saw the God of Israel: and under his feet as it were a work of sapphire stone, and as the heaven, when clear.

Et viderunt Deum Israhel sub pedibus eius quasi opus lapidis sapphirini et quasi caelum cum serenum est

24:11. Neither did he lay his hand upon those of the children of Israel, that retired afar off, and they saw God, and they did eat and drink.

Nec super eos qui procul recesserant de filiis Israhel misit manum suam videruntque Deum et comederunt

ac biberunt

24:12. And the Lord said to Moses: Come up to me into the mount, and be there; and I will give thee tables of stone, and the law, and the commandments which I have written; that thou mayest teach them.
Dixit autem Dominus ad Mosen ascende ad me in montem et esto ibi daboque tibi tabulas lapideas et legem ac mandata quae scripsi ut doceas eos

24:13. Moses rose up, and his minister Josue: and Moses going up into the mount of God, Surrexerunt Moses et Josue minister eius ascendensque Moses in montem Dei

24:14. Said to the ancients: Wait ye here till we return to you. You have Aaron and Hur with you: if any question shall arise, you shall refer it to them.
Senioribus ait expectate hic donec revertamur ad vos habetis Aaron et Hur vobiscum si quid natum fuerit quaestionis referetis ad eos

24:15. And when Moses was gone up, a cloud covered the mount.
Cumque ascendisset Moses operuit nubes montem

24:16. And the glory of the Lord dwelt upon Sinai, covering it with a cloud six days: and the seventh day he called him out of the midst of the cloud.
Et habitavit gloria Domini super Sinai tegens illum nube sex diebus septimo autem die vocavit eum de medio caliginis

24:17. And the sight of the glory of the Lord, was like a burning fire upon the top of the mount, in the eyes of the children of Israel.
Erat autem species gloriae Domini quasi ignis ardens super verticem montis in conspectu filiorum Israhel

24:18. And Moses entering into the midst of the cloud, went up into the mountain: And he was there forty days and forty nights.
Ingressusque Moses medium nebulae ascendit in montem et fuit ibi quadraginta diebus et quadraginta noctibus

Exodus Chapter 25

Offerings prescribed for making the tabernacle, the ark, the candlestick, etc.

---

25:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

25:2. Speak to the children of Israel, that they bring firstfruits to me: of every man that offereth of his own accord, you shall take them.

Loquere filiis Israhel ut tollant mihi primitias ab omni homine qui offert ultroneus accipietis eas

Firstfruits... Offerings of some of the best and choicest of their goods.

25:3. And these are the things you must take: Gold, and silver, and brass,

Haec sunt autem quae accipere debetis aurum et argentum et aes

25:4. Violet and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine linen, and goats' hair,

Hyacinthum et purpuram coccumque bis tinctum et byssum pilos caprarum

25:5. And rams' skins dyed red, and violet skins, and setim wood:

Et pelles arietum rubricatas pelles ianthinas et ligna setthim

Setim wood... The wood of a tree that grows in the wilderness, which is said to be incorruptible.

25:6. Oil to make lights: spices for ointment, and for sweetsmelling incense:

Oleum ad luminaria concinnanda aromata in unguentum et thymiana boni odoris

25:7. Onyx stones, and precious stones to adorn the ephod and the rational.

Lapides onychinos et gemmas ad ornandum ephod ac rationale

The ephod and the rational... The ephod was the high priest's upper vestment; and the rational his vestplate, in which were twelve gems, etc.

25:8. And they shall make me a sanctuary, and I will dwell in the midst of them:

Facientque mihi sanctuarium et habitabo in medio eorum

25:9. According to all the likeness of the tabernacle which I will show thee, and of all the vessels for the service thereof: and thus you shall make it:

Iuxta omnem similitudinem tabernaculi quod ostendam tibi et omnium vasorum in cultum eius sicque facietis illud

25:10. Frame an ark of setim wood, the length whereof shall be of two cubits and a half; the breadth, a cubit and a half; the height, likewise, a cubit and a half.

Arcam de lignis setthim conpingite cuius longitudo habeat duos semis cubitos latitudo cubitum et dimidium altitudo cubitum similiter ac semissem

25:11. And thou shalt overlay it with the purest gold, within and without; and over it thou shalt make a golden crown round about:

Et deaurabis eam auro mundissimo intus et foris faciesque supra coronam auream per circuitum

25:12. And four golden rings, which thou shalt put at the four corners of the ark: let two rings be on the one side, and two on the other.

Et quattuor circulos aureos quos pones per quattuor arcae angulos duo circuli sint in latere uno et duo in altero

25:13. Thou shalt make bars also of setim wood, and shalt overlay them with gold.

Facies quoque vectes de lignis setthim et operies eos auro

25:14. And thou shalt put them in through the rings that are in the sides of the ark, that it may be carried on them:

Inducesque per circulos qui sunt in arcae lateribus ut portetur in eis

25:15. And they shall be always in the rings, neither shall they at any time be drawn out of them.

Qui semper erunt in circulis nec umquam extrahentur ab eis

25:16. And thou shalt put in the ark the testimony which I will give thee.

Ponesque in arcam testificationem quam dabo tibi

25:17. Thou shalt make also a propitiatory of the purest gold: the length thereof shall be two cubits and a half, and the breadth a cubit and a half.

Facies et propitiatorium de auro mundissimo duos cubitos et dimidium tenebit longitudo eius cubitum ac semissem latitudo

A propitiatory... a covering for the ark: called a propitiatory, or mercy seat, because the Lord, who was supposed to sit there upon the wings of the cherubims, with the ark for his footstool, from thence showed mercy. It is also called the oracle, verses 18 and 20; because from thence God gave his orders and his answers.

25:18. Thou shalt make also two cherubims of beaten gold, on the two sides of the oracle.

Duos quoque cherubin aureos et productiles facies ex utraque parte oraculi

25:19. Let one cherub be on the one side, and the other on the other.

Cherub unus sit in latere uno et alter in altero

25:20. Let them cover both sides of the propitiatory, spreading their wings, and covering the oracle, and let them look one towards the other, their faces being turned towards the propitiatory wherewith the ark is to be covered.

Utrumque latus propitiatorii tegant expandentes alas et operientes oraculum respiciantque se mutuo versis vultibus in propitiatorium quo operienda est arca

25:21. In which thou shalt put the testimony that I will give thee.

In qua pones testimonium quod dabo tibi

25:22. Thence will I give orders, and will speak to thee over the propitiatory, and from the midst of the two cherubims, which shall be upon the ark of the testimony, all things which I will command the children of Israel by thee.

Inde praecipiam et loquar ad te supra propitiatorio scilicet ac medio duorum cherubin qui erunt super arcam testimonii cuncta quae mandabo per te filiis Israhel

25:23. Thou shalt make a table also of setim wood, of two cubits in length, and a cubit in breadth, and a cubit and a half in height.

Facies et mensam de lignis setthim habentem duos cubitos longitudinis et in latitudine cubitum et in altitudine cubitum ac semissem

A table... On which were to be placed the twelve loaves of proposition: or, as they are called in the Hebrew, the face bread, because they were always to stand before the face of the Lord in his temple: as a figure of the eucharistic sacrifice and sacrament, in the church of Christ.

25:24. And thou shalt overlay it with the purest gold: and thou shalt make to it a golden ledge round about.

Et inaurabis eam auro purissimo faciesque illi labium aureum per circuitum

25:25. And to the ledge itself a polished crown, four inches high; and over the same another little golden crown.

Et ipsi labio coronam interrasilem altam quattuor digitis et super illam alteram coronam aureolam

25:26. Thou shalt prepare also four golden rings, and shalt put them in the four corners of the same table, over each foot.

Quattuor quoque circulos aureos praeparabis et pones eos in quattuor angulis eiusdem mensae per singulos pedes

25:27. Under the crown shall the golden rings be, that the bars may be put through them, and the table may be carried.

Subter coronam erunt circuli aurei ut mittantur vectes per eos et possit mensa portari

25:28. The bars also themselves thou shalt make of setim wood, and shalt overlay them with gold, to bear up the table.

Ipsosque vectes facies de lignis setthim et circumdabis auro ad subvehendam mensam

25:29. Thou shalt prepare also dishes, and bowls, censers, and cups, wherein the libations are to be offered, of the purest gold.

Parabis et acetabula ac fialas turibula et cyatos in quibus offerenda sunt libamina ex auro purissimo

Libations... That is, drink offerings.

25:30. And thou shalt set upon the table loaves of proposition in my sight always.

Et pones super mensam panes propositionis in conspectu meo semper

25:31. Thou shalt make also a candlestick of beaten work, of the finest gold, the shaft thereof, and the branches, the cups, and the bowls, and the lilies going forth from it.

Facies et candelabrum ductile de auro mundissimo hastile eius et calamos scyphos et spherulas ac lilia ex ipso procedentia

A candlestick... This candlestick, with its seven lamps, which was always to give light in the house of God, was a figure of the light of the Holy Ghost, and his sevenfold grace, in the sanctuary of the church of Christ.

25:32. Six branches shall come out of the sides, three out of one side, and three out of the other.

Sex calami egredientur de lateribus tres ex uno latere et tres ex altero

25:33. Three cups as it were nuts to every branch, and a bowl withal, and a lily: and three cups likewise of the fashion of nuts in the other branch, and a bowl withal, and a lily. Such shall be the work of the six branches, that are to come out from the shaft:

Tres scyphi quasi in nucis modum per calamos singulos spherulaeque simul et liliium et tres similiter scyphi instar nucis in calamo altero spherulaeque et liliium hoc erit opus sex calamorum qui producendi sunt de hastili

25:34. And in the candlestick itself shall be four cups in the manner of a nut, and at every one bowls and lilies.

In ipso autem candelabro erunt quattuor scyphi in nucis modum spherulaeque per singulos et lilia

25:35. Bowls under two branches in three places, which together make six, coming forth out of one shaft.

Spherula sub duobus calamis per tria loca qui simul sex fiunt procedentes de hastili uno

25:36. And both the bowls and the branches shall be of the same beaten work of the purest gold.

Et sphaerae igitur et calami ex ipso erunt universa ductilia de auro purissimo

25:37. Thou shalt make also seven lamps, and shalt set them upon the candlestick, to give light over against.

Facies et lucernas septem et pones eas super candelabrum ut luceant ex adverso

25:38. The snuffers also, and where the snuffings shall be put out, shall be made of the purest gold.

Emunctoria quoque et ubi quae emuncta sunt extinguntur fient de auro purissimo

25:39. The whole weight of the candlestick, with all the furniture thereof, shall be a talent of the purest gold.

Omne pondus candelabri cum universis vasis suis habebit talentum auri mundissimi

25:40. Look, and make it according to the pattern that was shown thee in the mount.

Inspice et fac secundum exemplar quod tibi in monte monstratum est

Exodus Chapter 26

The form of the tabernacle with its appurtenances.

---

26:1. And thou shalt make the tabernacle in this manner: Thou shalt make ten curtains of fine twisted linen, and violet and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, diversified with embroidery.

Tabernaculum vero ita fiet decem cortinas de bysso retorta et hyacintho ac purpura coccoque bis tincto variatas opere plumario facies

26:2. The length of one curtain shall be twenty-eight cubits; the breadth shall be four cubits. All the curtains shall be of one measure.

Longitudo cortinae unius habebit viginti octo cubitos latitudo quattuor cubitorum erit unius mensurae fient universa tentoria

26:3. Five curtains shall be joined one to another, and the other five shall be coupled together in like manner.

Quinque cortinae sibi iungentur mutuo et aliae quinque nexu simili coherebunt

26:4. Thou shalt make loops of violet in the sides and tops of the curtains, that they may be joined one to another.

Ansulas hyacinthinas in lateribus ac summitatibus facies cortinarum ut possint invicem copulari

26:5. Every curtain shall have fifty loops on both sides, so set on, that one loop may be against another loop, and one may be fitted to the other.

Quinquagenas ansulas cortina habebit in utraque parte ita insertas ut ansa contra ansam veniat et altera alteri possit aptari

26:6. Thou shalt make also fifty rings of gold, wherewith the veils of the curtains are to be joined, that it may be made one tabernacle.

Facies et quinquaginta circulos aureos quibus cortinarum vela iungenda sunt ut unum tabernaculum fiat

26:7. Thou shalt make also eleven curtains of goats' hair, to cover the top of the tabernacle.

Facies et saga cilicina undecim ad operiendum tectum tabernaculi

26:8. The length of one hair-curtain shall be thirty cubits; and the breadth, four: the measure of all the curtains shall be equal.

Longitudo sagi unius habebit triginta cubitos et latitudo quattuor aequa erit mensura sagorum omnium

26:9. Five of which thou shalt couple by themselves, and the six others thou shalt couple one to another, so as to double the sixth curtain in the front of the roof.

E quibus quinque iunges seorsum et sex sibi mutuo copulabis ita ut sextum sagum in fronte tecti duplices

26:10. Thou shalt make also fifty loops in the edge of one curtain, that it may be joined with the other: and fifty loops in the edge of the other curtain, that it may be coupled with its fellow.

Facies et quinquaginta ansas in ora sagi unius ut coniungi cum altero queat et quinquaginta ansas in ora sagi alterius ut cum altero copuletur

26:11. Thou shalt make also fifty buckles of brass, wherewith the loops may be joined, that of all there may be made one covering.

Quinquaginta fibulas aeneas quibus iungantur ansae et unum ex omnibus operimentum fiat

26:12. And that which shall remain of the curtains, that are prepared for the roof, to wit, one curtain that is over and above, with the half thereof thou shalt cover the back parts of the tabernacle.

Quod autem superfuerit in sagis quae parantur tecto id est unum sagum quod amplius est ex medietate eius operies posteriora tabernaculi

26:13. And there shall hang down a cubit on the one side, and another on the other side, which is over and above in the length of the curtains, fencing both sides of the tabernacle.

Et cubitus ex una parte pendeat et alter ex altera qui plus est in sagorum longitudine utrumque latus tabernaculi protegens

26:14. Thou shalt make also another cover to the roof of rams' skins dyed red: and over that again another cover of violet coloured skins.

Facies et operimentum aliud tecto de pellibus arietum rubricatis et super hoc rursum aliud operimentum de ianthinis pellibus

26:15. Thou shalt make also the boards of the tabernacle standing upright of setim wood.

Facies et tabulas stantes tabernaculi de lignis sethim

26:16. Let every one of them be ten cubits in length, and in breadth one cubit and a half.

Quae singulae decem cubitos in longitudine habeant et in latitudine singulos ac semissem

26:17. In the sides of the boards shall be made two mortises, whereby one board may be joined to another board: and after this manner shall all the boards be prepared.

In lateribus tabulae duae incastraturae fient quibus tabula alteri tabulae conectatur atque in hunc modum cunctae tabulae parabuntur

26:18. Of which twenty shall be in the south side southward.

Quarum viginti erunt in latere meridiano quod vergit ad austrum

26:19. For which thou shalt cast forty sockets of silver, that under every board may be put two sockets at the two corners.

Quibus quadraginta bases argenteas fundes ut binae bases singulis tabulis per duos angulos subiciantur

26:20. In the second side also of the tabernacle that looketh to the north, there shall be twenty boards,

In latere quoque secundo tabernaculi quod vergit ad aquilonem viginti tabulae erunt

26:21. Having forty sockets of silver, two sockets shall be put under each board.

Quadraginta habentes bases argenteas binae bases singulis tabulis subponentur

26:22. But on the west side of the tabernacle thou shalt make six boards.

Ad occidentalem vero plagam tabernaculi facies sex tabulas

26:23. And again other two which shall be erected in the corners at the back of the tabernacle.

Et rursum alias duas quae in angulis erigantur post tergum tabernaculi

26:24. And they shall be joined together from beneath unto the top, and one joint shall hold them all. The like joining shall be observed for the two boards also that are to be put in the corners.

Eruntque coniunctae a deorsum usque sursum et una omnes conpago retinebit duabus quoque tabulis quae in angulis ponendae sunt similis iunctura servabitur

26:25. And they shall be in all eight boards, and their silver sockets sixteen, reckoning two sockets for each board.

Et erunt simul tabulae octo bases earum argenteae sedecim duabus basibus per unam tabulam supputatis

26:26. Thou shalt make also five bars of setim wood, to hold together the boards on one side of the tabernacle.

Facies et vectes de lignis sethim quinque ad continendas tabulas in uno latere tabernaculi

26:27. And five others on the other side, and as many at the west side:

Et quinque alios in altero et eiusdem numeri ad occidentalem plagam

26:28. And they shall be put along by the midst of the boards, from one end to the other.

Qui mittentur per medias tabulas a summo usque ad summum

26:29. The boards also themselves thou shalt overlay with gold, and shalt cast rings of gold to be set upon them, for places for the bars to hold together the boardwork: which bars thou shalt cover with plates of gold.

Ipsasque tabulas deaurabis et fundes eis anulos aureos per quos vectes tabulata contineant quos operies lamminis aureis

26:30. And thou shalt rear up the tabernacle according to the pattern that was shown thee in the mount.
Et eriges tabernaculum iuxta exemplum quod tibi in monte monstratum est

26:31. Thou shalt make also a veil of violet, and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine twisted linen, wrought with embroidered work and goodly variety:
Facies et velum de hyacintho et purpura coccoque bis tincto et bysso retorta opere plumario et pulchra varietate contextum

26:32. And thou shalt hang it up before four pillars of setim wood, which themselves also shall be overlaid with gold, and shall have heads of gold, but sockets of silver.
Quod adpendes ante quattuor columnas de lignis setthim quae ipsae quidem deauratae erunt et habebunt capita aurea sed bases argenteas

26:33. And the veil shall be hanged on with rings, and within it thou shalt put the ark of the testimony, and the sanctuary and the holy of the holies shall be divided with it.
Inseretur autem velum per circulos intra quod pones arcam testimonii et quo sanctuarium et sanctuarii sanctuaria dividuntur

The sanctuary, etc... That part of the tabernacle, which was without the veil, into which the priests daily entered, is here called the sanctuary, or holy place; that part which was within the veil, into which no one but the high priest ever went, and he but once a year, is called the holy of holies, (literally, the sanctuary of the sanctuaries), as being the most holy of all holy places.

26:34. And thou shalt set the propitiatory upon the ark of the testimony, in the holy of holies.
Pones et propitiatorium super arcam testimonii in sancta sanctorum

26:35. And the table without the veil, and over against the table the candlestick in the south side of the tabernacle: for the table shall stand in the north side.
Mensamque extra velum et contra mensam candelabrum in latere tabernaculi meridiano mensa enim stabit in parte aquilonis

26:36. Thou shalt make also a hanging in the entrance of the tabernacle of violet, and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine twisted linen with embroidered work.
Facies et tentorium in introitu tabernaculi de hyacintho et purpura coccoque bis tincto et bysso retorta opere plumarii

26:37. And thou shalt overlay with gold five pillars of setim wood, before which the hanging shall be drawn: their heads shall be of gold, and the sockets of brass.
Et quinque columnas deaurabis lignorum setthim ante quas ducetur tentorium quarum erunt capita aurea et bases aeneae

Exodus Chapter 27

The altar; and the court of the tabernacle with its hangings and pillars. Provision of oil for lamps.

27:1. Thou shalt make also an altar of setim wood, which shall be five cubits long, and as many broad, that is four square, and three cubits high.

Facies et altare de lignis setthim quod habebit quinque cubitos in longitudine et totidem in latitudine id est quadrum et tres cubitos in altitudine

27:2. And there shall be horns at the four corners of the same: and thou shalt cover it with brass.

Cornua autem per quattuor angulos ex ipso erunt et operies illud aere

27:3. And thou shalt make for the uses thereof pans to receive the ashes, and tongs and fleshhooks, and firepans: all its vessels thou shalt make of brass.

Faciesque in usus eius lebetas ad suscipiendos cineres et forcipes atque fuscinulas et ignium receptacula omnia vasa ex aere fabricabis

27:4. And a grate of brass in manner of a net; at the four corners of which, shall be four rings of brass,

Craticulamque in modum retis aeneam per cuius quattuor angulos erunt quattuor anuli aenei

27:5. Which thou shalt put under the hearth of the altar: and the grate shall be even to the midst of the altar.

Quos pones subter arulam altaris eritque craticula usque ad altaris medium

27:6. Thou shalt make also two bars for the altar, of setim wood, which thou shalt cover with plates of brass:

Facies et vectes altaris de lignis setthim duos quos operies lamminis aeneis

27:7. And thou shalt draw them through rings, and they shall be on both sides of the altar to carry it.

Et induces per circulos eruntque ex utroque latere altaris ad portandum

27:8. Thou shalt not make it solid, but empty and hollow in the inside, as it was shown thee in the mount.

Non solidum sed inane et cavum intrinsecus facies illud sicut tibi in monte monstratum est

27:9. Thou shalt make also the court of the tabernacle, in the south side whereof southward there shall be hangings of fine twisted linen of a hundred cubits long for one side.

Facies et atrium tabernaculi in cuius plaga australi contra meridiem erunt tentoria de bysso retorta centum cubitos unum latus tenebit in longitudine

27:10. And twenty pillars with as many sockets of brass, the heads of which, with their engraving, shall be of silver.

Et columnas viginti cum basibus totidem aeneis quae capita cum celaturis suis habebunt argentea

27:11. In like manner also on the north side there shall be hangings of a hundred cubits long, twenty pillars, and as many sockets of brass, and their heads with their engraving of silver.

Similiter in latere aquilonis per longum erunt tentoria centum cubitorum columnae viginti et bases aeneae eiusdem numeri et capita earum cum celaturis suis argentea

27:12. But in the breadth of the court, that looketh to the west, there shall be hangings of fifty cubits, and ten pillars, and as many sockets.

In latitudine vero atrii quod respicit ad occidentem erunt tentoria per quinquaginta cubitos et columnae decem basesque totidem

27:13. In that breadth also of the court, which looketh to the east, there shall be fifty cubits.

In ea quoque atrii latitudine quae respicit ad orientem quinquaginta cubiti erunt

27:14. In which there shall be for one side, hangings of fifteen cubits, and three pillars, and as many sockets.

In quibus quindecim cubitorum tentoria lateri uno deputabuntur columnaeque tres et bases totidem

27:15. And in the other side, there shall be hangings of fifteen cubits, with three pillars, and as many sockets.

Et in latere altero erunt tentoria cubitos obtinentia quindecim columnas tres et bases totidem

27:16. And in the entrance of the court there shall be made a hanging of twenty cubits of violet and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine twisted linen, with embroidered work: it shall have four pillars, with as many sockets.

In introitu vero atrii fiet tentorium cubitorum viginti ex hyacintho et purpura coccoque bis tincto et bysso retorta opere plumarii columnas habebit quattuor cum basibus totidem

27:17. All the pillars of the court round about shall be garnished with plates of silver, silver heads, and sockets of brass.

Omnes columnae atrii per circuitum vestitae erunt argenti lamminis capitibus argenteis et basibus aeneis

27:18. In length the court shall take up a hundred cubits, in breadth fifty, the height shall be of five cubits, and it shall be made of fine twisted linen, and shall have sockets of brass.

In longitudine occupabit atrium cubitos centum in latitudine quinquaginta altitudo quinque cubitorum erit fietque de bysso retorta et habebit bases aeneas

27:19. All the vessels of the tabernacle for all uses and ceremonies, and the pins both of it and of the court, thou shalt make of brass.

Cuncta vasa tabernaculi in omnes usus et caerimonias tam paxillos eius quam atrii ex aere facies

27:20. Command the children of Israel that they bring thee the purest oil of the olives, and beaten with a pestle: that a lamp may burn always,

Praecepte filiis Israhel ut adferant tibi oleum de arboribus olivarum purissimum piloque contusum ut ardeat lucerna semper

27:21. In the tabernacle of the testimony, without the veil that hangs before the testimony. And Aaron and his sons shall order it, that it may give light before the Lord until the morning. It shall be a perpetual observance throughout their successions among the children of Israel.

In tabernaculo testimonii extra velum quod oppansum est testimonio et conlocabunt eam Aaron et filii eius ut usque mane luceat coram Domino perpetuus erit cultus per successiones eorum a filiis Israhel

Exodus Chapter 28

The holy vestments for Aaron and his sons.

28:1. Take unto thee also Aaron thy brother with his sons, from among the children of Israel, that they may minister to me in the priest's office: Aaron, Nadab, and Abiu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

Adplica quoque ad te Aaron fratrem tuum cum filiis suis de medio filiorum Israhel ut sacerdotio fungantur mihi Aaron Nadab et Abiu Eleazar et Ithamar

28:2. And thou shalt make a holy vesture for Aaron, thy brother, for glory and for beauty.

Faciesque vestem sanctam fratri tuo in gloriam et decorem

28:3. And thou shalt speak to all the wise of heart, whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom, that they may make Aaron's vestments, in which he being consecrated, may minister to me.

Et loqueris cunctis sapientibus corde quos replevi spiritu prudentiae ut faciant vestes Aaron in quibus sanctificatus ministret mihi

28:4. And these shall be the vestments that they shall make: A rational and an ephod, a tunic and a strait linen garment, a mitre and a girdle. They shall make the holy vestments for thy brother Aaron and his sons, that they may do the office of priesthood unto me.

Haec autem erunt vestimenta quae facient rationale et superumerale tunicam et lineam strictam cidarim et balteum facient vestimenta sancta Aaron fratri tuo et filiis eius ut sacerdotio fungantur mihi

28:5. And they shall take gold, and violet, and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine linen.

Accipientque aurum et hyacinthum et purpuram coccumque bis tinctum et byssum

28:6. And they shall make the ephod of gold, and violet, and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine twisted linen, embroidered with divers colours.

Facient autem superumerale de auro et hyacintho ac purpura coccoque bis tincto et bysso retorta opere polymito

28:7. It shall have the two edges joined in the top on both sides, that they may be closed together.

Duas oras iunctas habebit in utroque latere summitatum ut in unum redeant

28:8. The very workmanship also, and all the variety of the work, shall be of gold, and violet, and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine twisted linen.

Ipsaque textura et cuncta operis varietas erit ex auro et hyacintho et purpura coccoque bis tincto et bysso retorta

28:9. And thou shalt take two onyx stones, and shalt grave on them the names of the children of Israel:

Sumesque duos lapides onychinos et sculpes in eis nomina filiorum Israhel

28:10. Six names on one stone, and the other six on the other, according to the order of their birth.

Sex nomina in lapide uno et sex reliqua in altero iuxta ordinem nativitatis eorum

28:11. With the work of an engraver, and the graving of a jeweller, thou shalt engrave them with the names of the children of Israel, set in gold and compassed about:

Opere sculptoris et celatura gemmarii sculpes eos nominibus filiorum Israhel inclusos auro atque circumdatos

28:12. And thou shalt put them in both sides of the ephod, a memorial for the children of Israel. And Aaron shall bear their names before the Lord upon both shoulders, for a remembrance.

Et pones in utroque latere superumeralis memoriale filiis Israhel portabitque Aaron nomina eorum coram Domino super utrumque umerum ob recordationem

28:13. Thou shalt make also hooks of gold.

Facies et uncinos ex auro

28:14. And two little chains of the purest gold, linked one to another, which thou shalt put into the hooks.
Et duas catenulas auri purissimi sibi invicem coherentes quas inseres uncinis

28:15. And thou shalt make the rational of judgment with embroidered work of divers colours, according to the workmanship of the ephod, of gold, violet, and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine twisted linen.
Rationale quoque iudicii facies opere polymito iuxta texturam superumeralis ex auro hyacintho et purpura coccoque bis tincto et bysso retorta

The rational of judgment... This part of the priest's attire, which he wore at his breast, was called the rational of judgment: partly because it admonished both priest and people of their duty to God, by carrying the names of all their tribes in his presence; and by the Urim and the Thummim, that is, doctrine and truth, which were written upon it: and partly because it gave divine answers and oracles, as if it were rational and endowed with judgment.

28:16. It shall be four square and doubled: it shall be the measure of a span both in length and in breadth.

Quadrangulum erit et duplex mensuram palmi habebit tam in longitudine quam in latitudine

28:17. And thou shalt set in it four rows of stones. In the first row shall be a sardius stone, and a topaz, and an emerald:

Ponesque in eo quattuor ordines lapidum in primo versu erit lapis sardius et topazius et zmaragdus

28:18. In the second a carbuncle, a sapphire, and a jasper:

In secundo carbunculus saphyrus et iaspis

28:19. In the third a ligurius, an agate, and an amethyst:

In tertio ligyrius achates et amethystus

28:20. In the fourth a chrysolite, an onyx, and a beryl. They shall be set in gold by their rows.

In quarto chrysolitus onychinus et berillus inclusi auro erunt per ordines suos

28:21. And they shall have the names of the children of Israel: with twelve names shall they be engraved, each stone with the name of one according to the twelve tribes.

Habebuntque nomina filiorum Israhel duodecim nominibus celabuntur singuli lapides nominibus singulorum per duodecim tribus

28:22. And thou shalt make on the rational chains, linked one to another, of the purest gold:

Facies in rationali catenas sibi invicem coherentes ex auro purissimo

28:23. And two rings of gold, which thou shalt put in the two ends at the top of the rational.

Et duos anulos aureos quos pones in utraque rationalis summitate

28:24. And the golden chains thou shalt join to the rings, that are in the ends thereof.

Catenasque aureas iunges anulis qui sunt in marginibus eius

28:25. And the ends of the chains themselves, thou shalt join together with two hooks, on both sides of the ephod, which is towards the rational.

Et ipsarum catenarum extrema duobus copulabis uncinis in utroque latere superumeralis quod rationale respicit

28:26. Thou shalt make also two rings of gold, which thou shalt put in the top parts of the rational, in the borders that are over against the ephod, and look towards the back parts thereof.

Facies et duos anulos aureos quos pones in summitatibus rationalis et in oris quae e regione sunt superumeralis et posteriora eius aspiciunt

28:27. Moreover also other two rings of gold, which are to be set on each side of the ephod beneath, that looketh towards the nether joining, that the rational may be fitted with the ephod,

Nec non et alios duos anulos aureos qui ponendi sunt in utroque latere superumeralis deorsum quod respicit contra faciem iuncturae inferioris ut aptari possit cum superumerali

28:28. And may be fastened by the rings thereof unto the rings of the ephod with a violet fillet, that the joining artificially wrought may continue, and the rational and the ephod may not be loosed one from the other.

Et stringatur rationale anulis suis cum anulis superumeralis vitta hyacinthina ut maneat iunctura fabrefacta et a se invicem rationale et superumerale nequeant separari

28:29. And Aaron shall bear the names of the children of Israel in the rational of judgment upon his breast, when he shall enter into the sanctuary, a memorial before the Lord for ever.

Portabitque Aaron nomina filiorum Israhel in rationali iudicii super pectus suum quando ingreditur sanctuarium memoriale coram Domino in aeternum

28:30. And thou shalt put in the rational of judgment doctrine and truth, which shall be on Aaron's breast, when he shall go in before the Lord: and he shall bear the judgment of the children of Israel on his breast, in the sight of the Lord always.

Pones autem in rationali iudicii doctrinam et veritatem quae erunt in pectore Aaron quando ingreditur coram Domino et gestabit iudicium filiorum Israhel in pectore suo in conspectu Domini semper

Doctrine and Truth... Hebrew, Urim and Thummim: illuminations and perfections. These words, written on the rational, seem to signify the light of doctrine and the integrity of life, with which the priests of God ought to approach him.

28:31. And thou shalt make the tunic of the ephod all of violet,

Facies et tunicam superumeralis totam hyacinthinam

28:32. In the midst whereof above shall be a hole for the head, and a border round about it woven, as is wont to be made in the outmost parts of garments, that it may not easily be broken.

In cuius medio supra erit capitium et ora per gyrum eius textilis sicut fieri solet in extremis vestium partibus ne facile rumpatur

28:33. And beneath at the feet of the same tunic, round about, thou shalt make as it were pomegranates, of violet, and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, with little bells set between:

Deorsum vero ad pedes eiusdem tunicae per circuitum quasi mala punica facies ex hyacintho et purpura et cocco bis tincto mixtis in medio tintinabulis

28:34. So that there shall be a golden bell and a pomegranate, and again another golden bell and a pomegranate.

Ita ut tintinabulum sit aureum et malum rursumque tintinabulum aliud aureum et malum punicum

28:35. And Aaron shall be vested with it in the office of his ministry, that the sound may be heard, when he goeth in and cometh out of the sanctuary, in the sight of the Lord, and that he may not die.

Et vestietur ea Aaron in officio ministerii ut audiatur sonitus quando ingreditur et egreditur sanctuarium in conspectu Domini et non moriatur

28:36. Thou shalt make also a plate of the purest gold: wherein thou shalt grave with engraver's work, Holy to the Lord.

Facies et lamminam de auro purissimo in qua sculpes opere celatoris Sanctum Domino

28:37. And thou shalt tie it with a violet fillet, and it shall be upon the mitre,

Ligabisque eam vitta hyacinthina et erit super tiaram

28:38. Hanging over the forehead of the high priest. And Aaron shall bear the iniquities of those things, which the children of Israel have offered and sanctified, in all their gifts and offerings. And the plate shall be always on his forehead, that the Lord may be well pleased with them.

Inminens fronti pontificis portabitque Aaron iniquitates eorum quae obtulerint et sanctificaverint filii Israhel in cunctis muneribus et donariis suis erit autem lammina semper in fronte eius ut placatus eis sit Dominus

28:39. And thou shalt gird the tunic with fine linen, and thou shalt make a fine linen mitre, and a girdle of embroidered work.

Stringesque tunicam bysso et tiaram byssinam facies et balteum opere plumarii

28:40. Moreover, for the sons of Aaron thou shalt prepare linen tunics, and girdles and mitres for glory and beauty:

Porro filiis Aaron tunicas lineas parabis et balteos ac tiaras in gloriam et decorem

28:41. And with all these things thou shalt vest Aaron thy brother, and his sons with him. And thou shalt consecrate the hands of them all, and shalt sanctify them, that they may do the office of priesthood unto me.

Vestiesque his omnibus Aaron fratrem tuum et filios eius cum eo et cunctorum consecrabis manus sanctificabisque illos ut sacerdotio fungantur mihi

28:42. Thou shalt make also linen breeches, to cover the flesh of their nakedness, from the reins to the thighs:

Facies et feminalia linea ut operiant carnem turpitudinis suae a renibus usque ad femina

28:43. And Aaron and his sons shall use them when they shall go into the tabernacle of the testimony, or when they approach to the altar to minister in the sanctuary lest being guilty of iniquity they die. It shall be a law for ever to Aaron, and to his seed after him.

Et utentur eis Aaron et filii eius quando ingredientur tabernaculum testimonii vel quando adpropinquant ad altare ut ministrent in sanctuario ne iniquitatis rei moriantur legitimum sempiternum erit Aaron et semini eius post eum

The manner of consecrating Aaron and other priests; the institution of the daily sacrifice of two lambs, one in the morning, the other at evening.

---

29:1. And thou shalt also do this, that they may be consecrated to me in priesthood. Take a calf from the herd, and two rams without blemish,

Sed et hoc facies ut mihi in sacerdotio consecrentur tolle vitulum de armento et arietes duos immaculatos

29:2. And unleavened bread, and a cake without leaven, tempered with oil, wafers also unleavened, anointed with oil: thou shalt make them all of wheaten flour.

Panesque azymos et crustula absque fermento quae conspersa sint oleo lagana quoque azyma oleo lita de simila triticea cuncta facies

29:3. And thou shalt put them in a basket, and offer them: and the calf and the two rams.

Et posita in canistro offeres vitulum autem et duos arietes

29:4. And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sons to the door of the tabernacle of the testimony. And when thou hast washed the father and his sons with water,

Et Aaron ac filios eius adplicabis ad ostium tabernaculi testimonii cumque laveris patrem cum filiis aqua

29:5. Thou shalt clothe Aaron with his vestments, that is, with the linen garment and the tunic, and the ephod and the rational, which thou shalt gird with the girdle.

Indues Aaron vestimentis suis id est linea et tunica et superumerali et rationali quod constringes balteo

29:6. And thou shalt put the mitre upon his head, and the holy plate upon the mitre,

Et pones tiaram in capite eius et lamminam sanctam super tiaram

29:7. And thou shalt pour the oil of unction upon his head: and by this rite shall he be consecrated.

Et oleum unctionis fundes super caput eius atque hoc ritu consecrabitur

29:8. Thou shalt bring his sons also, and shalt put on them the linen tunics, and gird them with a girdle:

Filios quoque illius adplicabis et indues tunicis lineis cingesque balteo

29:9. To wit, Aaron and his children, and thou shalt put mitres upon them; and they shall be priests to me by a perpetual ordinance. After thou shalt have consecrated their hands,

Aaron scilicet et liberos eius et inpones eis mitras eruntque sacerdotes mei in religione perpetua postquam initiaveris manus eorum

29:10. Thou shalt present also the calf before the tabernacle of the testimony. And Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands upon his head,

Adplicabis et vitulum coram tabernaculo testimonii inponentque Aaron et filii eius manus super caput illius

29:11. And thou shalt kill him in the sight of the Lord, beside the door of the tabernacle of the testimony.

Et mactabis eum in conspectu Domini iuxta ostium tabernaculi testimonii

29:12. And taking some of the blood of the calf, thou shalt put it upon the horns of the altar with thy finger, and the rest of the blood thou shalt pour at the bottom thereof.

Sumptumque de sanguine vituli pones super cornua altaris digito tuo reliquum autem sanguinem fundes iuxta basim eius

29:13. Thou shalt take also all the fat that covereth the entrails, and the caul of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and shalt offer a burnt offering upon the altar:

Sumes et adipem totum qui operit intestina et reticulum icoris ac duos renes et adipem qui super eos est et offeres incensum super altare

29:14. But the flesh of the calf, and the hide and the dung, thou shalt burn abroad, without the camp, because it is for sin.

Carnes vero vituli et corium et fimum conbures foris extra castra eo quod pro peccato sit

29:15. Thou shalt take also one ram, upon the head whereof Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands.

Unum quoque arietem sumes super cuius caput ponent Aaron et filii eius manus

29:16. And when thou hast killed him, thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and pour round about the altar.

Quem cum mactaveris tolles de sanguine eius et fundes circa altare

29:17. And thou shalt cut the ram in pieces, and having washed his entrails and feet, thou shalt put them upon the flesh that is cut in pieces, and upon his head.

Ipsium autem arietem secabis in frusta lotaque intestina eius ac pedes pones super concisas carnes et super caput illius

29:18. And thou shalt offer the whole ram for a burnt offering upon the altar: it is an oblation to the Lord, a most sweet savour of the victim of the Lord.

Et offeres totum arietem in incensum super altare oblatio est Domini odor suavissimus victimae Dei

29:19. Thou shalt take also the other ram, upon whose head Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands.

Tolles quoque arietem alterum super cuius caput Aaron et filii eius ponent manus

29:20. And when thou hast sacrificed him, thou shalt take of his blood, and put upon the tip of the right ear of Aaron and of his sons, and upon the thumbs and great toes of their right hand and foot, and thou shalt pour the blood upon the altar round about.

Quem cum immolaveris sumes de sanguine ipsius et pones super extremum dextrae auriculae Aaron et filiorum eius et super pollices manus eorum et pedis dextri fundesque sanguinem super altare per circuitum

29:21. And when thou hast taken of the blood that is upon the altar, and of the oil of unction, thou shalt sprinkle Aaron and his vesture, his sons and their vestments. And after they and their vestments are consecrated,

Cumque tuleris de sanguine qui est super altare et de oleo unctionis asperges Aaron et vestes eius filios et vestimenta eorum consecratisque et ipsis et vestibus

29:22. Thou shalt take the fat of the ram, and the rump, and the fat that covereth the lungs, and the caul of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and the right shoulder, because it is the ram of consecration:

Tolles adipem de ariete et caudam et arvinam quae operit vitalia ac reticulum iecoris et duos renes atque adipem qui super eos est armumque dextrum eo quod sit aries consecrationum

29:23. And one roll of bread, a cake tempered with oil, a wafer out of the basket of unleavened bread, which is set in the sight of the Lord:

Tortam panis unius crustulum conspersum oleo laganum de canistro azymorum quod positum est in conspectu Domini 29:24. And thou shalt put all upon the hands of Aaron and of his sons, and shalt sanctify them elevating before the Lord.

Ponesque omnia super manus Aaron et filiorum eius et sanctificabis eos elevans coram Domino

29:25. And thou shalt take all from their hands; and shalt burn them upon the altar for a holocaust, a most sweet savour in the sight of the Lord, because it is his oblation.

Suscipiesque universa de manibus eorum et incendes super altare in holocaustum odorem suavissimum in conspectu Domini quia oblatio eius est

29:26. Thou shalt take also the breast of the ram, wherewith Aaron was consecrated, and elevating it thou shalt sanctify it before the Lord, and it shall fall to thy share.

Sumes quoque pectusculum de ariete quo initiatus est Aaron sanctificabisque illud elatum coram Domino et cedet in partem tuam

29:27. And thou shalt sanctify both the consecrated breast, and the shoulder that thou didst separate of the ram,

Sanctificabis et pectusculum consecratum et armum quem de ariete separasti

29:28. Wherewith Aaron was consecrated and his sons, and they shall fall to Aaron's share, and his sons', by a perpetual right from the children of Israel: because they are the choicest and the beginnings of their peace victims which they offer to the Lord.

Quo initiatus est Aaron et filii eius cedentque in partem Aaron et filiorum eius iure perpetuo a filiis Israhel quia primitiva sunt et initia de victimis eorum pacificis quae offerunt Domino

29:29. And the holy vesture, which Aaron shall use, his sons shall have after him, that they may be anointed, and their hands consecrated in it.

Vestem autem sanctam qua utitur Aaron habebunt filii eius post eum ut unguantur in ea et consecrentur manus eorum

29:30. He of his sons that shall be appointed high priest in his stead, and that shall enter into the tabernacle of the testimony to minister in the sanctuary, shall wear it seven days.

Septem diebus utetur illa qui pontifex pro eo fuerit constitutus de filiis eius et qui ingredietur tabernaculum testimonii ut ministret in sanctuario

29:31. And thou shalt take the ram of the consecration, and shalt boil the flesh thereof in the holy place:

Arietem autem consecrationum tolles et coques carnes eius in loco sancto

29:32. And Aaron and his sons shall eat it. The loaves also, that are in the basket, they shall eat in the entry of the tabernacle of the testimony,

Quibus vescetur Aaron et filii eius panes quoque qui sunt in canistro in vestibulo tabernaculi testimonii comedent

29:33. That it may be an atoning sacrifice, and the hands of the offerers may be sanctified. A stranger shall not eat of them, because they are holy.

Ut sit placabile sacrificium et sanctificentur offerentium manus alienigena non vescetur ex eis quia sancti sunt

29:34. And if there remain of the consecrated flesh, or of the bread, till the morning, thou shalt burn the remainder with fire: they shall not be eaten, because they are sanctified.

Quod si remanserit de carnibus consecratis sive de panibus usque mane combures reliquias igni non comedentur quia sanctificata sunt

29:35. All that I have commanded thee, thou shalt do unto Aaron and his sons. Seven days shalt thou consecrate their hands:

Omnia quae praecepi tibi facies super Aaron et filiis eius septem diebus consecrabis manus eorum

29:36. And thou shalt offer a calf for sin every day for expiation. And thou shalt cleanse the altar when thou hast offered the victim of expiation, and shalt anoint it to sanctify it.

Et vitulum pro peccato offeres per singulos dies ad expiandum mundabisque altare cum immolaris expiationis hostiam et ungues illud in sanctificationem

29:37. Seven days shalt thou expiate the altar and sanctify it, and it shall be most holy. Every one, that shall touch it, shall be holy.

Septem diebus expiabis altare et sanctificabis et erit sanctum sanctorum omnis qui tetigerit illud sanctificabitur

29:38. This is what thou shalt sacrifice upon the altar: Two lambs of a year old every day continually,

Hoc est quod facies in altari agnos anniculos duos per singulos dies iugiter

29:39. One lamb in the morning, and another in the evening.

Unum agnum mane et alterum vespere

29:40. With one lamb a tenth part of flour tempered with beaten oil, of the fourth part of a hin, and wine for libation of the same measure.

Decimam partem similiae conspersae oleo tunso quod habeat mensuram quartam partem hin et vinum ad libandum eiusdem mensurae in agno uno

29:41. And the other lamb thou shalt offer in the evening, according to the rite of the morning oblation, and according to what we have said, for a savour of sweetness:

Alterum vero agnum offeres ad vesperam iuxta ritum matutinae oblationis et iuxta ea quae diximus in odorem suavitatis

29:42. It is a sacrifice to the Lord, by perpetual oblation unto your generations, at the door of the tabernacle of the testimony before the Lord, where I will appoint to speak unto thee.

Sacrificium Domino oblatione perpetua in generationes vestras ad ostium tabernaculi testimonii coram Domino ubi constituam ut loquar ad te

29:43. And there will I command the children of Israel, and the altar shall be sanctified by my glory.

Ibique praecipiam filiis Israhel et sanctificabitur altare in gloria mea

29:44. I will sanctify also the tabernacle of the testimony with the altar, and Aaron with his sons, to do the office of priesthood unto me.

Sanctificabo et tabernaculum testimonii cum altari et Aaron cum filiis eius ut sacerdotio fungantur mihi

29:45. And I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel, and will be their God:

Et habitabo in medio filiorum Israhel eroque eis Deus

29:46. And they shall know that I am the Lord their God, who have brought them out of the land of Egypt, that I might abide among them, I the Lord their God.

Et scient quia ego Dominus Deus eorum qui eduxi eos de terra Aegypti ut manerem inter illos ego Dominus Deus ipsorum

Exodus Chapter 30

The altar of incense: money to be gathered for the use of the tabernacle: the brazen laver: the holy oil of unction, and the composition of the perfume.

30:1. Thou shalt make also an altar to burn incense, of setim wood.

Facies quoque altare in adolendum thymiama de lignis setthim

An altar to burn incense... This burning of incense was an emblem of prayer, ascending to God from an inflamed heart. See Psalm 140:2; Apocalypse 5:8, and 8:4.

30:2. It shall be a cubit in length, and another in breadth, that is, four square, and two in height. Horns shall go out of the same.

Habens cubitum longitudinis et alterum latitudinis id est quadrangulum et duos cubitos in altitudine cornua ex ipso procedent

30:3. And thou shalt overlay it with the purest gold, as well the grate thereof, as the walls round about, and the horns. And thou shalt make to it a crown of gold round about,

Vestiesque illud auro purissimo tam craticulam eius quam parietes per circuitum et cornua faciesque ei coronam aureolam per gyrum

30:4. And two golden rings under the crown on either side, that the bars may be put into them, and the altar be carried.

Et duos anulos aureos sub corona per singula latera ut mittantur in eos vectes et altare portetur

30:5. And thou shalt make the bars also of setim wood, and shalt overlay them with gold.

Ipsos quoque vectes facies de lignis setthim et inaurabis

30:6. And thou shalt set the altar over against the veil, that hangeth before the ark of the testimony before the propitiatory wherewith the testimony is covered, where I will speak to thee.

Ponesque altare contra velum quod ante arcam pendet testimonii coram propitiatorio quo tegitur testimonium ubi loquar tibi

30:7. And Aaron shall burn sweet smelling incense upon it in the morning. When he shall dress the lamps, he shall burn it:

Et adolebit incensum super eo Aaron suave fraglans mane quando conponet lucernas incendet illud

30:8. And when he shall place them in the evening, he shall burn an everlasting incense before the Lord throughout your generations.

Et quando conlocat eas ad vesperum uret thymiama sempiternum coram Domino in generationes vestras

30:9. You shall not offer upon it incense of another composition, nor oblation, and victim, neither shall you offer libations.

Non offeretis super eo thymiama compositionis alterius nec oblationem et victimam nec liba libabitis

30:10. And Aaron shall pray upon the horns thereof once a year, with the blood of that which was offered for sin; and shall make atonement upon it in your generations. It shall be most holy to the Lord.

Et deprecabitur Aaron super cornua eius semel per annum in sanguine quod oblatum est pro peccato et placabit super eo in generationibus vestris sanctum sanctorum erit Domino

30:11. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

30:12. When thou shalt take the sum of the children of Israel, according to their number, every one of them shall give a price for their souls to the Lord, and there shall be no scourge among them, when they shall be reckoned.

Quando tuleris summam filiorum Israhel iuxta numerum dabunt singuli pretium pro animabus suis Domino et non erit plaga in eis cum fuerint recensiti

30:13. And this shall every one give that passeth at the naming, half a sicle according to the standard of the temple. A sicle hath twenty obols. Half a sicle shall be offered to the Lord.

Hoc autem dabit omnis qui transit ad nomen dimidium sicli iuxta mensuram templi siclus viginti obolos habet media pars sicli offeretur Domino

Half a sicle... A sicle or shekel of silver, (which was also called a stater), according to the standard or weight of the sanctuary, which was the most just and exact, was half an ounce of silver, that is, about half a crown of English money. The obol, or gerah, was about three halfpence.

30:14. He that is counted in the number from twenty years and upwards, shall give the price.

Qui habetur in numero a viginti annis et supra dabit pretium

30:15. The rich man shall not add to half a sicle, and the poor man shall diminish nothing.

Dives non addet ad medium sicli et pauper nihil minuet

30:16. And the money received, which was contributed by the children of Israel, thou shalt deliver unto the uses of the tabernacle of the testimony, that it may be a memorial of them before the Lord, and he may be merciful to their souls.

Susceptamque pecuniam quae conlata est a filiis Israhel trades in usus tabernaculi testimonii ut sit monumentum eorum coram Domino et propitietur animabus illorum

30:17. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

30:18. Thou shalt make also a brazen laver with its foot to wash in: and thou shalt set it between the tabernacle of the testimony and the altar. And water being put into it:

Facies et labium aeneum cum basi sua ad lavandum ponesque illud inter tabernaculum testimonii et altare et missa aqua

30:19. Aaron and his sons shall wash their hands and feet in it:

Lavabunt in eo Aaron et filii eius manus suas ac pedes

30:20. When they are going into the tabernacle of the testimony, and when they are to come to the altar, to offer on it incense to the Lord,

Quando ingressuri sunt tabernaculum testimonii et quando accessuri ad altare ut offerant in eo thymiama Domino

30:21. Lest perhaps they die. It shall be an everlasting law to him, and to his seed by successions.

Ne forte moriantur legitimum sempiternum erit ipsi et semini eius per successiones

30:22. And the Lord spoke to Moses,

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen

30:23. Saying: Take spices, of principal and chosen myrrh five hundred sicles, and of cinnamon half so much; that is, two hundred and fifty sicles, of calamus in like manner two hundred and fifty,

Dicens sume tibi aromata prima et zmyrnae electae quingentos siclos et cinnamomi medium id est ducentos quinquaginta calami similiter ducentos quinquaginta

30:24. And of cassia five hundred sicles by the weight of the sanctuary, of oil of olives the measure hin:

Cassiae autem quingentos siclos in pondere sanctuarii olei de olivetis mensuram hin

30:25. And thou shalt make the holy oil of unction, an ointment compounded after the art of the perfumer,

Faciesque unctionis oleum sanctum unguentum conpositum opere unguentarii

30:26. And therewith thou shalt anoint the tabernacle of the testimony, and the ark of the testament,

Et ungues ex eo tabernaculum testimonii et arcam testamenti

30:27. And the table with the vessels thereof, the candlestick and furniture thereof, the altars of incense,

Mensamque cum vasis suis candelabrum et utensilia eius altaria thymiamatis

30:28. And of holocaust, and all the furniture that belongeth to the service of them.
Et holocausti et universam supellectilem quae ad cultum eorum pertinent

30:29. And thou shalt sanctify all, and they shall be most holy: he that shall touch them shall be sanctified.

Sanctificabisque omnia et erunt sancta sanctorum qui tetigerit ea sanctificabitur

30:30. Thou shalt anoint Aaron and his sons, and shalt sanctify them, that they may do the office of priesthood unto me.

Aaron et filios eius ungues sanctificabisque eos ut sacerdotio fungantur mihi

30:31. And thou shalt say to the children of Israel: This oil of unction shall be holy unto me throughout your generations.

Filiis quoque Israhel dices hoc oleum unctionis sanctum erit mihi in generationes vestras

30:32. The flesh of man shall not be anointed therewith, and you shall make none other of the same composition, because it is sanctified, and shall be holy unto you.

Caro hominis non unguetur ex eo et iuxta compositionem eius non facietis aliud quia sanctificatum est et sanctum erit vobis

30:33. What man soever shall compound such, and shall give thereof to a stranger, he shall be cut off from his people.

Homo quicumque tale composuerit et dederit ex eo alieno exterminabitur de populo suo

30:34. And the Lord said to Moses: Take unto thee spices, stacte, and onycha, galbanum of sweet savour, and the clearest frankincense, all shall be of equal weight.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen sume tibi aromata stacten et onycha galbanen boni odoris et tus lucidissimum aequalis ponderis erunt omnia

30:35. And thou shalt make incense compounded by the work of the perfumer, well tempered together, and pure, and most worthy of sanctification.

Faciesque thymiama compositum opere unguentarii mixtum diligenter et purum et sanctificatione dignissimum

30:36. And when thou hast beaten all into very small powder, thou shalt set of it before the tabernacle of the testimony, in the place where I will appear to thee. Most holy shall this incense be unto you.

Cumque in tenuissimum pulverem universa contuderis pones ex eo coram testimonio tabernaculi in quo loco apparebo tibi sanctum sanctorum erit vobis thymiama

30:37. You shall not make such a composition for your own uses, because it is holy to the Lord.

Talem compositionem non facietis in usus vestros quia sanctum est Domino

30:38. What man soever shall make the like, to enjoy the smell thereof, he shall perish out of his people.

Homo quicumque fecerit simile ut odore illius perfruatur peribit de populis suis

Exodus Chapter 31

Beseleel and Ooliab are appointed by the Lord to make the tabernacle, and the things belonging thereto. The observation of the sabbath day is again commanded. And the Lord delivereth to Moses two tables written with the finger of God.

---

31:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

31:2. Behold, I have called by name Beseleel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Juda,

Ecce vocavi ex nomine Beselehel filium Uri filii Hur de tribu Iuda

31:3. And I have filled him with the spirit of God, with wisdom and understanding, and knowledge in all manner of work,

Et implevi eum spiritu Dei sapientia intellegentia et scientia in omni opere

31:4. To devise whatsoever may be artificially made of gold, and silver, and brass,

Ad excogitandum fabre quicquid fieri potest ex auro et argento et aere

31:5. Of marble, and precious stones, and variety of wood.

Marmore et gemmis et diversitate lignorum

31:6. And I have given him for his companion Ooliab, the son of Achisamech, of the tribe of Dan. And I have put wisdom in the heart of every skilful man, that they may make all things which I have commanded thee,

Dedique ei socium Hooliab filium Achisamech de tribu Dan et in corde omnis eruditi posui sapientiam ut faciant cuncta quae praecepi tibi

31:7. The tabernacle of the covenant, and the ark of the testimony, and the propitiatory, that is over it, and all the vessels of the tabernacle,

Tabernaculum foederis et arcam testimonii et propitiatorium quod super eam est et cuncta vasa tabernaculi

31:8. And the table and the vessels thereof, the most pure candlestick with the vessels thereof, and the altars of incense,

Mensamque et vasa eius candelabrum purissimum cum vasis suis et altaria thymiamatis

31:9. And of holocaust, and all their vessels, the laver with its foot,

Et holocausti et omnia vasa eorum labium cum basi sua

31:10. The holy vestments in the ministry for Aaron the priest, and for his sons, that they may execute their office, about the sacred things:

Vestes sanctas in ministerio Aaron sacerdoti et filiis eius ut fungantur officio suo in sacris

31:11. The oil of unction, and the incense of spices in the sanctuary, all things which I have commanded thee, shall they make.

Oleum unctionis et thymiamata aromatum in sanctuario omnia quae praecepi tibi facient

31:12. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Et locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

31:13. Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: See that you keep my sabbath; because it is a sign between me and you in your generations that you may know that I am the Lord, who sanctify you.

Loquere filiis Israhel et dices ad eos videte ut sabbatum meum custodiatis quia signum est inter me et vos in generationibus vestris ut sciatis quia ego Dominus qui sanctifico vos

31:14. Keep you my sabbath: for it is holy unto you: he that shall profane it, shall be put to death: he that shall do any work in it, his soul shall perish out of the midst of his people.

Custodite sabbatum sanctum est enim vobis qui polluerit illud morte morietur qui fecerit in eo opus peribit anima illius de medio populi sui

31:15. Six days shall you do work: in the seventh day is the sabbath, the rest holy to the Lord. Every one that shall do any work on this day, shall die.

Sex diebus facietis opus in die septimo sabbatum est requies sancta Domino omnis qui fecerit opus in hac die morietur

31:16. Let the children of Israel keep the sabbath, and celebrate it in their generations. It is an everlasting covenant.

Custodiant filii Israhel sabbatum et celebrent illud in generationibus suis pactum est sempiternum

31:17. Between me and the children of Israel, and a perpetual sign. For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, and in the seventh he ceased from work.

Inter me et filios Israhel signumque perpetuum sex enim diebus fecit Dominus caelum et terram et in septimo ab opere cessavit

31:18. And the Lord, when he had ended these words in Mount Sinai, gave to Moses two stone tables of testimony, written with the finger of God.

Dedit quoque Mosi completis huiuscemodi sermonibus in monte Sinai duas tabulas testimonii lapideas scriptas digito Dei

Exodus Chapter 32

The people fall into idolatry. Moses prayeth for them. He breaketh the tables: destroyeth the idol: blameth Aaron, and causeth many of the idolaters to be slain.

---

32:1. And the people seeing that Moses delayed to come down from the mount, gathering together against Aaron, said: Arise, make us gods, that may go before us: For as to this Moses, the man that brought us out of the land of Egypt, we know not what has befallen him.

Videns autem populus quod moram faceret descendendi de monte Moses congregatus adversus Aaron ait surge fac nobis deos qui nos praecedant Mosi enim huic viro qui nos eduxit de terra Aegypti ignoramus quid acciderit

32:2. And Aaron said to them: Take the golden earrings from the ears of your wives, and your sons and daughters, and bring them to me.

Dixitque ad eos Aaron tollite inaures aureas de uxorum filiorumque et filiarum vestrarum auribus et adferte ad me

32:3. And the people did what he had commanded, bringing the earrings to Aaron.

Fecit populus quae iusserat deferens inaures ad Aaron

32:4. And when he had received them, he fashioned them by founders' work, and made of them a molten calf. And they said: These are thy gods, O Israel, that have brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

Quas cum ille accepisset formavit opere fusorio et fecit ex eis vitulum conflatilem dixeruntque hii sunt dii tui Israhel qui te eduxerunt de terra Aegypti

32:5. And when Aaron saw this, he built an altar before it, and made proclamation by a crier's voice, saying To morrow is the solemnity of the Lord.

Quod cum vidisset Aaron aedificavit altare coram eo et praeconis voce clamavit dicens cras sollemnitas Domini est

32:6. And rising in the morning, they offered holocausts, and peace victims, and the people sat down to eat and drink, and they rose up to play.

Surgentesque mane obtulerunt holocausta et hostias pacificas et sedit populus comedere ac bibere et surrexerunt ludere

32:7. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying: Go, get thee down: thy people, which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, hath sinned.

Locutus est autem Dominus ad Mosen vade descende peccavit populus tuus quem eduxisti de terra Aegypti

32:8. They have quickly strayed from the way which thou didst show them: and they have made to themselves a molten calf, and have adored it, and sacrificing victims to it, have said: These are thy gods, O Israel, that have brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

Recesserunt cito de via quam ostendisti eis feceruntque sibi vitulum conflatilem et adoraverunt atque immolantes ei hostias dixerunt isti sunt dii tui Israhel qui te eduxerunt de terra Aegypti

32:9. And again the Lord said to Moses: I see that this people is stiffnecked:

Rursumque ait Dominus ad Mosen cerno quod populus iste durae cervicis sit

32:10. Let me alone, that my wrath may be kindled against them, and that I may destroy them, and I will make of thee a great nation.

Dimitte me ut irascatur furor meus contra eos et deleam eos faciamque te in gentem magnam

32:11. But Moses besought the Lord his God, saying: Why, O Lord, is thy indignation enkindled against thy people, whom thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, with great power, and with a mighty hand?

Moses autem orabat Dominum Deum suum dicens cur Domine irascitur furor tuus contra populum tuum quem eduxisti de terra Aegypti in fortitudine magna et in manu robusta

32:12. Let not the Egyptians say, I beseech thee: He craftily brought them out, that he might kill them in the mountains, and destroy them from the earth: let thy anger cease, and be appeased upon the wickedness of thy people.

Ne quaeso dicant Aegyptii callide eduxit eos ut interficeret in montibus et deleret e terra quiescat ira tua et esto placabilis super nequitia populi tui

32:13. Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, thy servants, to whom thou sworest by thy own self, saying: I will multiply your seed as the stars of heaven: and this whole land that I have spoken of, I will give to your seed, and you shall possess it for ever:

Recordare Abraham Isaac et Israhel servorum tuorum quibus iurasti per temet ipsum dicens multiplicabo semen vestrum sicut stellas caeli et universam terram hanc de qua locutus sum dabo semini vestro et possidebitis eam semper

32:14. And the Lord was appeased from doing the evil which he had spoken against his people.

Placatusque est Dominus ne faceret malum quod locutus fuerat adversus populum suum

32:15. And Moses returned from the mount, carrying the two tables of the testimony in his hand, written on both sides,

Et reversus est Moses de monte portans duas tabulas testimonii manu scriptas ex utraque parte

32:16. And made by the work of God; the writing also of God was graven in the tables.

Et factas opere Dei scriptura quoque Dei erat sculpta in tabulis

32:17. And Josue hearing the noise of the people shouting, said to Moses: The noise of battle is heard in the camp.

Audiens autem Iosue tumultum populi vociferantis dixit ad Mosen ululatus pugnae auditur in castris

32:18. But he answered: It is not the cry of men encouraging to fight, nor the shout of men compelling to flee: but I hear the voice of singers.

Qui respondit non est clamor adhortantium ad pugnam neque vociferatio compellentium ad fugam sed vocem cantantium ego audio

32:19. And when he came nigh to the camp, he saw the calf, and the dances: and being very angry, he threw the tables out of his hand, and broke them at the foot of the mount:

Cumque adpropinquasset ad castra vidit vitulum et choros iratusque valde proiecit de manu tabulas et confregit eas ad radices montis

32:20. And laying hold of the calf which they had made, he burnt it, and beat it to powder, which he strewed into water, and gave thereof to the children of Israel to drink.

Arripiensque vitulum quem fecerant combusit et contrivit usque ad pulverem quem sparsit in aqua et dedit ex eo potum filiis Israhel

32:21. And he said to Aaron: What has this people done to thee, that thou shouldst bring upon them a most heinous sin?

Dixitque ad Aaron quid tibi fecit hic populus ut induceres super eum peccatum maximum

32:22. And he answered him: Let not my lord be offended; for thou knowest this people, that they are prone to evil.

Cui ille respondit ne indignetur dominus meus tu enim nosti populum istum quod pronus sit ad malum

32:23. They said to me: make us gods, that may go before us; for as to this Moses, who brought us forth out of the land of Egypt, we know not what is befallen him.

Dixerunt mihi fac nobis deos qui praecedant nos huic enim Mosi qui nos eduxit de terra Aegypti nescimus quid acciderit

32:24. And I said to them: Which of you hath any gold? and they took and brought it to me; and I cast it into the fire, and this calf came out.

Quibus ego dixi quis vestrum habet aurum tulerunt et dederunt mihi et proieci illud in ignem egressusque est hic vitulus

32:25. And when Moses saw that the people were naked, (for Aaron had stripped them by occasion of the shame of the filth, and had set them naked among their enemies)

Videns ergo Moses populum quod esset nudatus spoliaverat enim eum Aaron propter ignominiam sordis et inter hostes nudum constituerat

Naked... Having lost not only their gold, and their honour, but what was worst of all, being stripped also of the grace of God, and having lost him. The shame of the filth... That is, of the idol, which they had taken for their god. It is the usual phrase of the scripture to call idols filth and abominations.

32:26. Then standing in the gate of the camp, he said: If any man be on the Lord's side, let him join with me. And all the sons of Levi gathered themselves together unto him:

Et stans in porta castrorum ait si quis est Domini iungatur mihi congregatique sunt ad eum omnes filii Levi

32:27. And he said to them: Thus saith the Lord God of Israel: Put every man his sword upon his thigh: go, and return from gate to gate through the midst of the camp, and let every man kill his brother, and friend, and neighbour.

Quibus ait haec dicit Dominus Deus Israhel ponat vir gladium super femur suum ite et redite de porta usque ad portam per medium castrorum et occidat unusquisque fratrem et amicum et proximum suum

32:28. And the sons of Levi did according to the words of Moses, and there were slain that day about three and twenty thousand men.

Fecerunt filii Levi iuxta sermonem Mosi cecideruntque in die illo quasi tria milia hominum

32:29. And Moses said: You have consecrated your hands this day to the Lord, every man in his son and in his brother, that a blessing may be given to you.

Et ait Moses consecratis manus vestras hodie Domino unusquisque in filio et fratre suo ut detur vobis benedictio

32:30. And when the next day was come, Moses spoke to the people: You have sinned a very great sin: I will go up to the Lord, if by any means I may be able to entreat him for your crime.

Facto autem die altero locutus est Moses ad populum peccastis peccatum maximum ascendam ad Dominum si quo modo eum quivero deprecari pro scelere vestro

32:31. And returning to the Lord, he said: I beseech thee: this people hath sinned a heinous sin, and they have made to themselves gods of gold: either forgive them this trespass,

Reversusque ad Dominum ait obsecro peccavit populus iste peccatum magnum feceruntque sibi deos aureos aut dimitte eis hanc noxam

32:32. Or if thou do not, strike me out of the book that thou hast written.

Aut si non facis dele me de libro tuo quem scripsisti

32:33. And the Lord answered him: He that hath sinned against me, him will I strike out of my book:

Cui respondit Dominus qui peccaverit mihi delebo eum de libro meo

32:34. But go thou, and lead this people whither I have told thee: my angel shall go before thee. And I in the day of revenge will visit this sin also of theirs.

Tu autem vade et duc populum istum quo locutus sum tibi angelus meus praecedet te ego autem in die ultionis visitabo et hoc peccatum eorum

32:35. The Lord therefore struck the people for the guilt, on occasion of the calf which Aaron had made.

Percussit ergo Dominus populum pro reatu vituli quem fecit Aaron

Exodus Chapter 33

The people mourn for their sin. Moses pitcheth the tabernacle without the camp. He converseth familiarly with God. Desireth to see his glory.

---

33:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying: Go, get thee up from this place, thou and thy people which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, into the land concerning which I swore to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, saying: To thy seed I will give it:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen vade ascende de loco isto tu et populus tuus quem eduxisti de terra Aegypti in terram quam iuravi Abraham Isaac et Iacob dicens semini tuo dabo eam

33:2. And I will send an angel before thee, that I may cast out the Chanaanite, and the Amorrhite, and the Hethite, and the Pherezite, and the Hevite, and the Jebusite,

Et mittam praecursorem tui angelum ut eiciam Chananeum et Amorreum et Hethiteum et Ferezeum et Eveum et Iebuseum

33:3. That thou mayst enter into the land that floweth with milk and honey. For I will not go up with thee, because thou art a stiffnecked people; lest I destroy thee in the way.

Et intres in terram fluentem lacte et melle non enim ascendam tecum quia populus durae cervicis est ne forte disperdam te in via

33:4. And the people hearing these very bad tidings, mourned: and no man put on his ornaments according to custom.

Audiens populus sermonem hunc pessimum luxit et nullus ex more indutus est cultu suo

33:5. And the Lord said to Moses: Say to the children of Israel: Thou art a stiffnecked people, once I shall come up in the midst of thee, and shall destroy thee. Now presently lay aside thy ornaments, that I may know what to do to thee.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen loquere filiis Israhel populus durae cervicis es semel ascendam in medio tui et delebo te iam nunc depone ornatum tuum ut sciam quid faciam tibi

33:6. So the children of Israel laid aside their ornaments by Mount Horeb.

Deposuerunt ergo filii Israhel ornatum suum a monte Horeb

33:7. Moses also taking the tabernacle, pitched it without the camp afar off, and called the name thereof, The tabernacle of the covenant. And all the people, that had any question, went forth to the tabernacle of the covenant, without the camp.

Moses quoque tollens tabernaculum tetendit extra castra procul vocavitque nomen eius tabernaculum foederis et omnis populus qui habebat aliquam quaestionem egrediebatur ad tabernaculum foederis extra castra

33:8. And when Moses went forth to the tabernacle, all the people rose up, and every one stood in the door of his pavilion, and they beheld the back of Moses, till he went into the tabernacle.

Cumque egrederetur Moses ad tabernaculum surgebat universa plebs et stabat unusquisque in ostio papilionis sui aspiciebantque tergum Mosi donec ingrederetur tentorium

33:9. And when he was gone into the tabernacle of the covenant, the pillar of the cloud came down, and stood at the door, and he spoke with Moses.

Ingresso autem illo tabernaculum foederis descendebat columna nubis et stabat ad ostium loquebaturque cum Mosi

33:10. And all saw that the pillar of the cloud stood at the door of the tabernacle. And they stood and worshipped at the doors of their tent.

Cernentibus universis quod columna nubis staret ad ostium tabernaculi stabantque ipsi et adorabant per fores tabernaculorum suorum

33:11. And the Lord spoke to Moses face to face, as a man is wont to speak to his friend. And when he returned into the camp, his servant Josue, the son of Nun, a young man, departed not from the tabernacle. Loquebatur autem Dominus ad Mosen facie ad faciem sicut loqui solet homo ad amicum suum cumque ille reverteretur in castra minister eius Iosue filius Nun puer non recedebat de tabernaculo

Face to face... That is, in a most familiar manner. Though as we learn from this very chapter, Moses could not see the face of the Lord.

33:12. And Moses said to the Lord: Thou commandest me to lead forth this people; and thou dost not let me know whom thou wilt send with me, especially whereas thou hast said: I know thee by name, and thou hast found favour in my sight.

Dixit autem Moses ad Dominum praecipis ut educam populum istum et non indicas mihi quem missurus es mecum praesertim cum dixeris novi te ex nomine et invenisti gratiam coram me

I know thee by name... In the language of the scriptures, God is said to know such as he approves and loves: and to know by name, those whom he favours in a most singular manner, as he did his servant Moses.

33:13. If therefore I have found favour in thy sight, show me thy face, that I may know thee, and may find grace before thy eyes: look upon thy people this nation.

Si ergo inveni gratiam in conspectu tuo ostende mihi viam tuam ut sciam te et inveniam gratiam ante oculos tuos respice populum tuum gentem hanc

33:14. And the Lord said: My face shall go before thee, and I will give thee rest.

Dixitque Dominus facies mea praecedet te et requiem dabo tibi

33:15. And Moses said: If thou thyself dost not go before, bring us not out of this place.

Et ait Moses si non tu ipse praecedes ne educas nos de loco isto

33:16. For how shall we be able to know, I and thy people, that we have found grace in thy sight, unless thou walk with us, that we may be glorified by all people that dwell upon the earth?

In quo enim scire poterimus ego et populus tuus invenisse nos gratiam in conspectu tuo nisi ambulaveris nobiscum ut glorificemur ab omnibus populis qui habitant super terram

33:17. And the Lord said to Moses: This word also, which thou hast spoken, will I do; for thou hast found grace before me, and thee I have known by name.

Dixit autem Dominus ad Mosen et verbum istud quod locutus es faciam invenisti enim gratiam coram me et te ipsum novi ex nomine

33:18. And he said: Show me thy glory.

Qui ait ostende mihi gloriam tuam

33:19. He answered: I will show thee all good, and I will proclaim in the name of the Lord before thee: and I will have mercy on whom I will, and I will be merciful to whom it shall please me.

Respondit ego ostendam omne bonum tibi et vocabo in nomine Domini coram te et miserebor cui voluero et clemens ero in quem mihi placuerit

33:20. And again he said: Thou canst not see my face: for man shall not see me, and live.

Rursumque ait non poteris videre faciem meam non enim videbit me homo et vivet

33:21. And again he said: Behold there is a place with me, and thou shalt stand upon the rock.

Et iterum ecce inquit est locus apud me stabis super petram

33:22. And when my glory shall pass, I will set thee in a hole of the rock, and protect thee with my righthand till I pass:

Cumque transibit gloria mea ponam te in foramine petrae et protegam dextera mea donec transeam

33:23. And I will take away my hand, and thou shalt see my back parts: but my face thou canst not see.

Tollamque manum meam et videbis posteriora mea faciem autem meam videre non poteris

See my back parts... The Lord by his angel, usually spoke to Moses in the pillar of the cloud; so that he could not see the glory of him that spoke familiarly with him. In the vision here mentioned he was allowed to see something of him, in an assumed corporeal form: not in the face, the rays of which were too bright for mortal eye to bear, but to view him as it were behind, when his face was turned from him.

Exodus Chapter 34

The tables are renewed: all society with the Chanaanites is forbid: some precepts concerning the firstborn, the sabbath, and other feasts: after forty days' fast, Moses returneth to the people with the commandments, and his face appearing horned with rays of light, he covereth it, whensoever he speaketh to the people.

---

34:1. And after this he said: Hew thee two tables of stone like unto the former, and I will write upon them the words, which were in the tables, which thou brokest.

Ac deinceps praecide ait tibi duas tabulas lapideas instar priorum et scribam super eas verba quae habuerunt tabulae quas fregisti

34:2. Be ready in the morning, that thou mayst forthwith go up into Mount Sinai, and thou shalt stand with me upon the top of the mount.

Esto paratus mane ut ascendas statim in montem Sinai stabisque mecum super verticem montis

34:3. Let no man go up with thee, and let not any man be seen throughout all the mount; neither let the oxen nor the sheep feed over against it.

Nullus ascendat tecum nec videatur quispiam per totum montem boves quoque et oves non pascantur e contra

34:4. Then he cut out two tables of stone, such as had been before; and rising very early he went up into the Mount Sinai, as the Lord had commanded him, carrying with him the tables.

Excidit ergo duas tabulas lapideas quales ante fuerant et de nocte consurgens ascendit in montem Sinai sicut ei praeceperat Dominus portans secum tabulas

34:5. And when the Lord was come down in a cloud, Moses stood with him, calling upon the name of the Lord.

Cumque descendisset Dominus per nubem stetit Moses cum eo invocans nomen Domini

34:6. And when he passed before him, he said: O the Lord, the Lord God, merciful and gracious, patient and of much compassion, and true,

Quo transeunte coram eo ait Dominator Domine Deus misericors et clemens patiens et multae miserationis ac verus

34:7. Who keepest mercy unto thousands: who takest away iniquity, and wickedness, and sin, and no man of himself is innocent before thee. Who renderest the iniquity of the fathers to the children, and to the grandchildren unto the third and fourth generation.

Qui custodis misericordiam in milia qui aufers iniquitatem et scelera atque peccata nullusque apud te per se innocens est qui reddis iniquitatem patrum in filiis ac nepotibus in tertiam et quartam progeniem

34:8. And Moses making haste, bowed down prostrate unto the earth, and adoring,

Festinusque Moses curvatus est pronus in terram et adorans

34:9. Said: If I have found grace in thy sight, O Lord, I beseech thee that thou wilt go with us, (for it is a stiffnecked people) and take away our iniquities and sin, and possess us.

Ait si inveni gratiam in conspectu tuo Domine obsecro ut gradiaris nobiscum populus enim durae cervicis est et auferas iniquitates nostras atque peccata nosque possideas

34:10. The Lord answered: I will make a covenant in the sight of all, I will do signs such as were never seen upon the earth, nor in any nations; that this people, in the midst of whom thou art, may see the terrible work of the Lord which I will do.

Respondit Dominus ego inibo pactum videntibus cunctis signa faciam quae numquam sunt visa super terram nec in ullis gentibus ut cernat populus in cuius es medio opus Domini terribile quod facturus sum

34:11. Observe all things which this day I command thee: I myself will drive out before thy face the Amorrhite, and the Chanaanite, and the Hethite, and the Pherezite, and the Hevite, and the Jebusite. Observa cuncta quae hodie mando tibi ego ipse eiciam ante faciem tuam Amorream et Chananeum et Hettheum Ferezeum quoque et Eveum et Iebuseum

34:12. Beware thou never join in friendship with the inhabitants of that land, which may be thy ruin: Cave ne umquam cum habitatoribus terrae illius iungas amicitias quae tibi sint in ruinam

34:13. But destroy their altars, break their statues and cut down their groves: Sed aras eorum destrue confringe statuas lucosque succide

34:14. Adore not any strange god. The Lord his name is jealous, he is a jealous God. Noli adorare deum alienum Dominus Zelotes nomen eius Deus est aemulator

34:15. Make no covenant with the men of those countries; lest, when they have committed fornication with their gods, and have adored their idols, some one call thee to eat of the things sacrificed. Ne in eas pactum cum hominibus illarum regionum ne cum fornicati fuerint cum diis suis et adoraverint simulacra eorum vocet te quispiam ut comedas de immolatis

34:16. Neither shalt thou take of their daughters a wife for thy son, lest after they themselves have committed fornication, they make thy sons also to commit fornication with their gods. Nec uxorem de filiabus eorum accipies filiis tuis ne postquam ipsae fuerint fornicatae fornicari faciant et filios tuos in deos suos

34:17. Thou shalt not make to thyself any molten gods. Deos conflatiles non facies tibi

34:18. Thou shalt keep the feast of the unleavened bread. Seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread, as I commanded thee in the time of the month of the new corn: for in the month of the spring time thou camest out from Egypt. Sollemnitatem azymorum custodies septem diebus vesceris azymis sicut praecepi tibi in tempore mensis novorum mense enim verni temporis egressus es de Aegypto

34:19. All of the male kind that openeth the womb, shall be mine. Of all beasts; both of oxen and of sheep, it shall be mine. Omne quod aperit vulvam generis masculini meum erit de cunctis animantibus tam de bubus quam de ovibus meum erit

34:20. The firstling of an ass thou shalt redeem with a sheep: but if thou wilt not give a price for it, it shall be slain. The firstborn of thy sons thou shalt redeem: neither shalt thou appear before me empty. Primogenitum asini redimes ove sin autem nec pretium pro eo dederis occidetur primogenitum filiorum tuorum redimes nec apparebis in conspectu meo vacuus

34:21. Six days shalt thou work, the seventh day thou shalt cease to plough and to reap. Sex diebus operaberis die septimo cessabis arare et metere

34:22. Thou shalt keep the feast of weeks with the firstfruits of the corn of thy wheat harvest, and the feast when the time of the year returneth that all things are laid in. Sollemnitatem ebdomadarum facies tibi in primitiis frugum messis tuae triticeae et sollemnitatem quando redeunte anni tempore cuncta conduntur

34:23. Three times in the year all thy males shall appear in the sight of the almighty Lord the God of Israel. Tribus temporibus anni apparebit omne masculinum tuum in conspectu omnipotentis Domini Dei Israhel

34:24. For when I shall have taken away the nations from thy face, and shall have enlarged thy borders, no man shall lie in wait against thy land when thou shalt go up, and appear in the sight of the Lord thy God thrice in a year. Cum enim tulero gentes a facie tua et dilatavero terminos tuos nullus insidiabitur terrae tuae ascendente te et apparente in conspectu Domini Dei tui ter in anno

34:25. Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice upon leaven; neither shall there remain in the morning any thing of the victim of the solemnity of the Phase.

Non immolabis super fermento sanguinem hostiae meae neque residuebit mane de victima sollemnitatis phase

34:26. The first of the fruits of thy ground thou shalt offer in the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not boil a kid in the milk of his dam.

Primitias frugum terrae tuae offeres in domum Domini Dei tui non coques hedum in lacte matris suae

34:27. And the Lord said to Moses: Write thee these words, by which I have made a covenant both with thee and with Israel.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen scribe tibi verba haec quibus et tecum et cum Israhel pepigi foedus

34:28. And he was there with the Lord forty days and forty nights: he neither ate bread nor drank water, and he wrote upon the tables the ten words of the covenant.

Fecit ergo ibi cum Domino quadraginta dies et quadraginta noctes panem non comedit et aquam non bibit et scripsit in tabulis verba foederis decem

34:29. And when Moses came down from the Mount Sinai, he held the two tables of the testimony, and he knew not that his face was horned from the conversation of the Lord.

Cumque descenderet Moses de monte Sinai tenebat duas tabulas testimonii et ignorabat quod cornuta esset facies sua ex consortio sermonis Dei

Horned... That is, shining, and sending forth rays of light like horns.

34:30. And Aaron and the children of Israel seeing the face of Moses horned, were afraid to come near.

Videntes autem Aaron et filii Israhel cornutam Mosi faciem timuerunt prope accedere

34:31. And being called by him, they returned, both Aaron and the rulers of the congregation. And after that he spoke to them,

Vocatique ab eo reversi sunt tam Aaron quam principes synagogae et postquam locutus est

34:32. And all the children of Israel came to him: and he gave them in commandment all that he had heard of the Lord on Mount Sinai.

Venerunt ad eum etiam omnes filii Israhel quibus praecepit cuncta quae audierat a Domino in monte Sinai

34:33. And having done speaking, he put a veil upon his face.

Impletisque sermonibus posuit velamen super faciem suam

34:34. But when he went in to the Lord, and spoke with him, he took it away until he came forth, and then he spoke to the children of Israel all things that had been commanded him.

Quod ingressus ad Dominum et loquens cum eo auferebat donec exiret et tunc loquebatur ad filios Israhel omnia quae sibi fuerant imperata

34:35. And they saw that the face of Moses when he came out was horned, but he covered his face again, if at any time he spoke to them.

Qui videbant faciem egredientis Mosi esse cornutam sed operiebat rursus ille faciem suam si quando loquebatur ad eos

Exodus Chapter 35

The sabbath. Offerings for making the tabernacle. Beseleel and Ooliab are called to the work.

35:1. And all the multitude of the children of Israel being gathered together, he said to them: These are the things which the Lord hath commanded to be done:

Igitur congregata omni turba filiorum Israhel dixit ad eos haec sunt quae iussit Dominus fieri

35:2. Six days you shall do work; the seventh day shall be holy unto you, the sabbath and the rest of the Lord: he that shall do any work on it, shall be put to death.

Sex diebus facietis opus septimus dies erit vobis sanctus sabbatum et requies Domini qui fecerit opus in eo occidetur

35:3. You shall kindle no fire in any of your habitations on the sabbath day.

Non succendetis ignem in omnibus habitaculis vestris per diem sabbati

35:4. And Moses said to all the assembly of the children of Israel: This is the word the Lord hath commanded, saying:

Et ait Moses ad omnem catervam filiorum Israhel iste est sermo quem praecepit Dominus dicens

35:5. Set aside with you firstfruits to the Lord. Let every one that is willing and hath a ready heart, offer them to the Lord: gold, and silver, and brass,

Separate apud vos primitias Domino omnis voluntarius et proni animi offerat eas Domino aurum et argentum et aes

35:6. Violet and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine linen, goats' hair,

Hyacinthum purpuram coccumque bis tinctum et byssum pilos caprarum

35:7. And rams' skins dyed red, and violet coloured skins, setim wood,

Et pelles arietum rubricatas et ianthinas

35:8. And oil to maintain lights, and to make ointment, and most sweet incense,

Ligna sethim

35:9. Onyx stones, and precious stones, for the adorning of the ephod and the rational.

Et oleum ad luminaria concinnanda et ut conficiatur unguentum et thymiama suavissimum

35:10. Whosoever of you is wise, let him come, and make that which the Lord hath commanded:

Lapides onychinos et gemmas ad ornatum superumeralis et rationalis

35:11. To wit, the tabernacle, and the roof thereof, and the cover, the rings, and the board-work with the bars, the pillars and the sockets:

Quisquis vestrum est sapiens veniat et faciat quod Dominus imperavit

35:12. The ark and the staves, the propitiatory, and the veil that is drawn before it:

Tabernaculum scilicet et tectum eius atque operimentum anulos et tabulata cum vectibus paxillos et bases

35:13. The table with the bars and the vessels, and the loaves of proposition:

Arcam et vectes propitiatorium et velum quod ante illud oppanditur

35:14. The candlestick to bear up the lights, the vessels thereof and the lamps, and the oil for the nourishing of fires:

Mensam cum vectibus et vasis et propositionis panibus

35:15. The altar of incense, and the bars, and the oil of unction, and the incense of spices: the hanging at the door of the tabernacle:

Candelabrum ad luminaria sustentanda vasa illius et lucernas et oleum ad nutrimenta ignium

35:16. The altar of holocaust, and its grate of brass, with the bars and vessels thereof: the laver and its foot:

Altare thymiamatis et vectes oleum unctionis et thymiama ex aromatibus tentorium ad ostium tabernaculi

35:17. The curtains of the court, with the pillars and the sockets, the hanging in the doors of the entry.

Altare holocausti et craticulam eius aeneam cum vectibus et vasis suis labrum et basim eius

35:18. The pins of the tabernacle, and of the court, with their little cords:

Cortinas atri cum columnis et basibus tentorium in foribus vestibuli

35:19. The vestments that are to be used in the ministry of the sanctuary, the vesture of Aaron the high priest, and of his sons, to do the office of priesthood to me.

Paxillos tabernaculi et atri cum funiculis suis

35:20. And all the multitude of the children of Israel going out from the presence of Moses,

Vestimenta quorum usus est in ministerio sanctuarii vestes Aaron pontificis ac filiorum eius ut sacerdotio fungantur mihi

35:21. Offered firstfruits to the Lord with a most ready and devout mind, to make the work of the tabernacle of the testimony. Whatever was necessary to the service and to the holy vestments,

Egressaque omnis multitudo filiorum Israhel de conspectu Mosi

35:22. Both men and women gave bracelets and earrings, rings and tablets: every vessel of gold was set aside to be offered to the Lord.

Obtulit mente promptissima atque devota primitias Domino ad faciendum opus tabernaculi testimonii quicquid in cultum et ad vestes sanctas necessarium erat

35:23. If any man had violet, and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, fine linen and goats' hair, ramskins dyed red, and violet coloured skins,

Viri cum mulieribus praeberunt armillas et inares anulos et dextralia omne vas aureum in donaria Domini separatum est

35:24. Metal of silver and brass, they offered it to the Lord, and setim wood for divers uses.

Si quis habuit hyacinthum purpuram coccumque bis tinctum byssum et pilos caprarum pelles arietum rubricatas et ianthinas

35:25. The skilful women also gave such things as they had spun, violet, purple, and scarlet, and fine linen,

Argenti et aeris metalla obtulerunt Domino lignaque sethim in varios usus

35:26. And goats' hair, giving all of their own accord.

Sed et mulieres doctae dederunt quae neverant hyacinthum purpuram et vermiculum ac byssum

35:27. But the princes offered onyx stones, and precious stones, for the ephod and the rational,

Et pilos caprarum sponte propria cuncta tribuentes

35:28. And spices and oil for the lights, and for the preparing of ointment, and to make the incense of most sweet savour.

Principes vero obtulerunt lapides onychinos et gemmas ad superumerale et rationale

35:29. All, both men and women, with devout mind offered gifts, that the works might be done which the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moses. All the children of Israel dedicated voluntary offerings to the Lord.

Aromataque et oleum ad luminaria concinnanda et ad praeparandum unguentum ac thymiama odoris suavissimi componendum

35:30. And Moses said to the children of Israel: Behold, the Lord hath called by name Beseleel, the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Juda,

Omnes viri et mulieres mente devota obtulerunt donaria ut fierent opera quae iusserat Dominus per manum Mosi cuncti filii Israhel voluntaria Domino dedicaverunt

35:31. And hath filled him with the spirit of God, with wisdom and understanding, and knowledge, and all learning,

Dixitque Moses ad filios Israhel ecce vocavit Dominus ex nomine Beselehel filium Uri filii Hur de tribu Iuda

35:32. To devise and to work in gold and silver and brass,

Implevitque eum spiritu Dei sapientiae et intellegentiae et scientiae omni doctrina

35:33. And in engraving stones, and in carpenters' work. Whatsoever can be devised artificially,

Ad excogitandum et faciendum opus in auro et argento et aere sculpendisque lapidibus et opere carpentario quicquid fabre adinveniri potest

35:34. He hath given in his heart: Ooliab also, the son of Achisamech, of the tribe of Dan:

Dedit in corde eius Hooliab quoque filium Achisamech de tribu Dan

35:35. Both of them hath he instructed with wisdom, to do carpenters' work, and tapestry, and embroidery in blue and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine linen, and to weave all things, and to invent all new things.

Ambos erudit sapientia ut faciant opera abietarii polymitarii ac plumarii de hyacintho et purpura coccoque bis tincto et bysso et texant omnia ac nova quaeque repperiant

Exodus Chapter 36

The offerings are delivered to the workmen, the curtains, coverings, boards, bars, veil, pillars, and hanging are made.

---

36:1. Beseleel therefore, and Ooliab, and every wise man, to whom the Lord gave wisdom and understanding, to know how to work artificially, made the things that are necessary for the uses of the sanctuary, and which the Lord commanded.

Fecit ergo Beselehel et Hooliab et omnis vir sapiens quibus dedit Dominus sapientiam et intellectum ut scirent fabre operari quae in usus sanctuarii necessaria sunt et quae praeceptum Dominus

36:2. And when Moses had called them, and every skilful man, to whom the Lord had given wisdom, and such as of their own accord had offered themselves to the making of the work,

Cumque vocasset eos Moses et omnem eruditum virum cui dederat Deus sapientiam et qui sponte sua obtulerant se ad faciendum opus

36:3. He delivered all the offerings of the children of Israel unto them. And while they were earnest about the work, the people daily in the morning offered their vows.

Tradidit eis universa donaria filiorum Israhel qui cum instarent operi cotidie mane vota populus offerebat

36:4. Whereupon the workmen being constrained to come,

Unde artifices venire compulsi

36:5. Said to Moses: The people offereth more than is necessary.

Dixerunt Mosi plus offert populus quam necessarium est

36:6. Moses therefore commanded proclamation to be made by the crier's voice: Let neither man nor woman offer any more for the work of the sanctuary. And so they ceased from offering gifts,

Iussit ergo Moses praeconis voce cantari nec vir nec mulier quicquam ultra offerat in opere sanctuarii sicque cessatum est a muneribus offerendis

36:7. Because the things that were offered did suffice, and were too much.

Eo quod oblata sufficerent et superabundarent

36:8. And all the men that were wise of heart, to accomplish the work of the tabernacle, made ten curtains of twisted fine linen, and violet, and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, with varied work, and the art of embroidering:

Feceruntque omnes corde sapientes ad explendum opus tabernaculi cortinas decem de bysso retorta et hyacintho et purpura coccoque bis tincto opere vario et arte polymita

36:9. The length of one curtain was twenty-eight cubits, and the breadth four: all the curtains were of the same size.

Quarum una habebat in longitudine viginti octo cubitos et in latitudine quattuor una mensura erat omnium cortinarum

36:10. And he joined five curtains, one to another, and the other five he coupled one to another.

Coniunxitque cortinas quinque alteram alteri et alias quinque sibi invicem copulavit

36:11. He made also loops of violet in the edge of one curtain on both sides, and in the edge of the other curtain in like manner,

Fecit et ansas hyacinthinas in ora cortinae unius ex utroque latere et in ora cortinae alterius similiter

36:12. That the loops might meet one against another, and might be joined each with the other.

Ut contra se invicem venirent ansae et mutuo iungerentur

36:13. Whereupon also he cast fifty rings of gold, that might catch the loops of the curtains, and they might be made one tabernacle.

Unde et quinquaginta fudit circulos aureos qui morderent cortinarum ansas et fieret unum tabernaculum

36:14. He made also eleven curtains of goats' hair, to cover the roof of the tabernacle:

Fecit et saga undecim de pilis caprarum ad operiendum tectum tabernaculi

36:15. One curtain was thirty cubits long, and four cubits broad: all the curtains were of one measure.

Unum sagum habebat in longitudine cubitos triginta et in latitudine cubitos quattuor unius mensurae erant omnia saga

36:16. Five of which he joined apart, and the other six apart.

Quorum quinque iunxit seorsum et sex alia separatim

36:17. And he made fifty loops in the edge of one curtain, and fifty in the edge of another curtain, that they might be joined one to another.

Fecitque ansas quinquaginta in ora sagi unius et quinquaginta in ora sagi alterius ut sibi invicem iungerentur

36:18. And fifty buckles of brass wherewith the roof might be knit together, that of all the curtains there might be made one covering.

Et fibulas aeneas quinquaginta quibus necteretur tectum et unum pallium ex omnibus sagis fieret

36:19. He made also a cover for the tabernacle of rams' skins dyed red; and another cover over that of violet skins.

Fecit et opertorium tabernaculi de pellibus arietum rubricatis aliudque desuper velamentum de pellibus ianthinis

36:20. He made also the boards of the tabernacle of setim wood standing.

Fecit et tabulas tabernaculi de lignis setthim stantes

36:21. The length of one board was ten cubits; and the breadth was one cubit and a half.

Decem cubitorum erat longitudo tabulae unius et unum ac semis cubitum latitudo retinebat

36:22. There were two mortises throughout every board, that one might be joined to the other. And in this manner he made for all the boards of the tabernacle.

Binae incastraturae erant per singulas tabulas ut altera alteri iungeretur sic fecit in omnibus tabulis tabernaculi

36:23. Of which twenty were at the south side southward,

E quibus viginti ad plagam meridianam erant contra austrum

36:24. With forty sockets of silver, two sockets were put under one board on the two sides of the corners, where the mortises of the sides end in the corners.

Cum quadraginta basibus argenteis duae bases sub una tabula ponebantur ex utraque angulorum parte ubi incastraturae laterum in angulis terminantur

36:25. At that side also of the tabernacle, that looketh towards the north, he made twenty boards,

Ad plagam quoque tabernaculi quae respicit ad aquilonem fecit viginti tabulas

36:26. With forty sockets of silver, two sockets for every board.

Cum quadraginta argenteis basibus duas bases per singulas tabulas

36:27. But against the west, to wit, at that side of the tabernacle, which looketh to the sea, he made six boards,

Contra occidentem vero id est ad eam partem tabernaculi quae mare respicit fecit sex tabulas

36:28. And two others at each corner of the tabernacle behind:

Et duas alias per singulos angulos tabernaculi retro

36:29. Which were also joined from beneath unto the top, and went together into one joint. Thus he did on both sides at the corners:

Quae iunctae erant deorsum usque sursum et in unam conpagem pariter ferebantur ita fecit ex utraque parte per angulos

36:30. So there were in all eight boards, and they had sixteen sockets of silver, to wit, two sockets under every board.

Ut octo essent simul tabulae et haberent bases argenteas sedecim binas scilicet bases sub singulis tabulis

36:31. He made also bars of setim wood, five to hold together the boards of one side of the tabernacle,

Fecit et vectes de lignis sethim quinque ad continendas tabulas unius lateris tabernaculi

36:32. And five others to join together the boards of the other side; and besides these, five other bars at the west side of the tabernacle towards the sea.

Et quinque alios ad alterius lateris tabulas coaptandas et extra hos quinque alios vectes ad occidentalem plagam tabernaculi contra mare

36:33. He made also another bar, that might come by the midst of the boards from corner to corner.

Fecit quoque vectem alium qui per medias tabulas ab angulo usque ad angulum perveniret

36:34. And the boards themselves he overlaid with gold casting for them sockets of silver. And their rings he made of gold, through which the bars might be drawn: and he covered the bars themselves with plates of gold.

Ipsa autem tabulata deauravit et circulos eorum fecit aureos per quos vectes induci possint quos et ipsos aureis lamminis operuit

36:35. He made also a veil of violet, and purple, scarlet and fine twisted linen, varied and distinguished with embroidery:

Fecit et velum de hyacintho purpura vermiculo ac bysso retorta opere polymitario varium atque distinctum

36:36. And four pillars of setim wood, which with their heads he overlaid with gold, casting for them sockets of silver.

Et quattuor columnas de lignis sethim quas cum capitibus deauravit fuis basibus earum argenteis

36:37. He made also a hanging in the entry of the tabernacle of violet, purple, scarlet, and fine twisted linen, with the work of an embroiderer.

Fecit et tentorium in introitu tabernaculi ex hyacintho purpura vermiculo byssoque retorta opere plumarii

36:38. And five pillars with their heads, which he covered with gold, and their sockets he cast of brass.

Et columnas quinque cum capitibus suis quas operuit auro basesque earum fudit aeneas

Exodus Chapter 37

Beseleel maketh the ark: the propitiatory, and cherubims, the table, the candlestick, the lamps, and the altar of incense, and compoundeth the incense.

---

37:1. And Beseleel made also, the ark of setim wood: it was two cubits and a half in length, and a cubit and a half in breadth, and the height was of one cubit and a half: and he overlaid it with the purest gold within and without.

Fecit autem Beselehel et arcam de lignis setthim habentem duos semis cubitos in longitudinem et cubitum ac semissem in latitudinem altitudo quoque uno cubito fuit et dimidio vestivitque eam auro purissimo intus ac foris

37:2. And he made to it a crown of gold round about,
Et fecit illi coronam auream per gyrum

37:3. Casting four rings of gold at the four corners thereof: two rings in one side, and two in the other.
Conflans quattuor anulos aureos per quattuor angulos eius duos anulos in latere uno et duos in altero

37:4. And he made bars of setim wood, which he overlaid with gold, Vectes quoque fecit de lignis setthim quos vestivit auro

37:5. And he put them into the rings that were at the sides of the ark to carry it.
Et quos misit in anulos qui erant in lateribus arcae ad portandum eam

37:6. He made also the propitiatory, that is, the oracle, of the purest gold, two cubits and a half in length, and a cubit and a half in breadth.

Fecit et propitiatorium id est oraculum de auro mundissimo duorum cubitorum et dimidio in longitudine et cubito ac semisse in latitudine

37:7. Two cherubims also of beaten gold, which he set on the two sides of the propitiatory:
Duos etiam cherubin ex auro ductili quos posuit ex utraque parte propitiatorii

37:8. One cherub in the top of one side, and the other cherub in the top of the other side: two cherubims at the two ends of the propitiatory,

Cherub unum in summitate huius partis et cherub alterum in summitate partis alterius duos cherubin in singulis summitatibus propitiatorii

37:9. Spreading their wings, and covering the propitiatory, and looking one towards the other, and towards it.

Extendentes alas et tegentes propitiatorium seque mutuo et illud respectantes

37:10. He made also the table of setim wood, in length two cubits, and in breadth one cubit, and in height it was a cubit and a half.

Fecit et mensam de lignis setthim in longitudine duorum cubitorum et in latitudine unius cubiti quae habebat in altitudine cubitum ac semissem

37:11. And he overlaid it with the finest gold, and he made to it a golden ledge round about,
Circumdeditque eam auro mundissimo et fecit illi labium aureum per gyrum

37:12. And to the ledge itself he made a polished crown of gold, of four fingers breadth, and upon the same another golden crown.

Ipsique labio coronam interrasilem quattuor digitorum et super eandem alteram coronam auream

37:13. And he cast four rings of gold, which he put in the four corners at each foot of the table,

Fudit et quattuor circulos aureos quos posuit in quattuor angulis per singulos pedes mensae

37:14. Over against the crown: and he put the bars into them, that the table might be carried.

Contra coronam misitque in eos vectes ut possit mensa portari

37:15. The bars also themselves he made of setim wood, and overlaid them with gold.

Ipsos quoque vectes fecit de lignis setthim et circumdedit eos auro

37:16. And the vessels for the divers uses of the table, dishes, bowls, and cups, and censers of pure gold, wherein the libations are to be offered.

Et vasa ad diversos usus mensae acetabula fialas cyatos et turibula ex auro puro in quibus offerenda sunt liba

37:17. He made also the candlestick of beaten work of the finest gold, from the shaft whereof its branches, its cups, and bowls, and lilies came out:

Fecit et candelabrum ductile de auro mundissimo de cuius vecte calami scyphi spherulae ac lilia procedebant

37:18. Six on the two sides: three branches on one side, and three on the other.

Sex in utroque latere tres calami ex parte una et tres ex altera

37:19. Three cups in manner of a nut on each branch, and bowls withal and lilies: and three cups of the fashion of a nut in another branch, and bowls withal and lilies. The work of the six branches, that went out from the shaft of the candlestick was equal.

Tres scyphi in nucis modum per calamos singulos spherulaeque simul et lilia et tres scyphi instar nucis in calamo altero spherulaeque simul et lilia aequum erat opus sex calamorum qui procedebant de stipite candelabri

37:20. And in the shaft itself were four cups after the manner of a nut, and bowls withal at every one, and lilies:

In ipso autem vecte erant quattuor scyphi in nucis modum spherulaeque per singulos et lilia

37:21. And bowls under two branches in three places, which together made six branches going out from one shaft.

Et sphaerae sub duobus calamis per loca tria qui simul sex fiunt calami procedentes de vecte uno

37:22. So both the bowls, and the branches were of the same, all beaten work of the purest gold.

Et sphaerae igitur et calami ex ipso erant universa ductilia de auro purissimo

37:23. He made also the seven lamps with their snuffers, and the vessels where the snuffings were to be put out, of the purest gold.

Fecit et lucernas septem cum emunctoriis suis et vasa ubi quae emuncta sunt extinguntur de auro mundissimo

37:24. The candlestick with all the vessels thereof weighed a talent of gold.

Talentum auri adpendebat candelabrum cum omnibus vasis suis

37:25. He made also the altar of incense of setim wood, being a cubit on every side foursquare, and in height two cubits: from the corners of which went out horns.

Fecit et altare thymiamatis de lignis setthim habens per quadrum singulos cubitos et in altitudine duos e cuius angulis procedebant cornua

37:26. And he overlaid it with the purest gold, with its grate, and the sides, and the horns.

Vestivitque illud auro purissimo cum craticula ac parietibus et cornibus

37:27. And he made to it a crown of gold round about, and two golden rings under the crown at each side, that the bars might be put into them, and the altar be carried.

Fecitque ei coronam aureolam per gyrum et duos anulos aureos sub corona per singula latera ut mittantur in eos vectes et possit altare portari

37:28. And the bars themselves he made also of setim wood, and overlaid them with plates of gold.

Ipsos autem vectes fecit de lignis setthim et operuit lamminis aureis

37:29. He compounded also the oil for the ointment of sanctification, and incense of the purest spices, according to the work of a perfumer.

Conposuit et oleum ad sanctificationis unguentum et thymiana de aromatibus mundissimis opere pigmentarii

Exodus Chapter 38

He maketh the altar of holocaust. The brazen laver. The court with its pillars and hangings. The sum of what the people offered.

38:1. He made also the altar of holocaust of setim wood, five cubits square, and three in height:
Fecit et altare holocausti de lignis setthim quinque cubitorum per quadrum et trium in altitudine

38:2. The horns whereof went out from the corners, and he overlaid it with plates of brass.
Cuius cornua de angulis procedebant operuitque illud aeneis lamminis

38:3. And for the uses thereof, he prepared divers vessels of brass, cauldrons, tongs, fleshhooks, pothooks and firepans.
Et in usus eius paravit ex aere vasa diversa lebetas forcipes fuscinulas uncinos et ignium receptacula

38:4. And he made the grate thereof of brass, in manner of a net, and under it in the midst of the altar a hearth, Craticulamque eius in modum retis fecit aeneam et subter eam in altaris medio arulam

38:5. Casting four rings at the four ends of the net at the top, to put in bars to carry it:
Fusis quattuor anulis per totidem retiaculi summitates ad inmittendos vectes ad portandum

38:6. And he made the bars of setim wood, and overlaid them with plates of brass:
Quos et ipsos fecit de lignis setthim et operuit lamminis aeneis

38:7. And he drew them through the rings that stood out in the sides of the altar. And the altar itself was not solid, but hollow, of boards, and empty within.
Induxitque in circulos qui in altaris lateribus eminebant ipsum autem altare non erat solidum sed cavum ex tabulis et intus vacuum

38:8. He made also the laver of brass, with the foot thereof, of the mirrors of the women that watched at the door of the tabernacle.
Fecit et labrum aeneum cum base sua de speculis mulierum quae excubabant in ostio tabernaculi

38:9. He made also the court, in the south side whereof were hangings of fine twisted linen of a hundred cubits.
Et atrium in cuius australi plaga erant tentoria de bysso retorta cubitorum centum

38:10. Twenty pillars of brass with their sockets, the beads of the pillars, and the whole graving of the work, of silver.
Columnae aeneae viginti cum basibus suis capita columnarum et tota operis celatura argentea

38:11. In like manner at the north side the hangings, the pillars, and the sockets and heads of the pillars were of the same measure, and work and metal.
Aequae ad septentrionalis plagam tentoria columnae basesque et capita columnarum eiusdem et mensurae et operis ac metalli erant

38:12. But on that side that looketh to the west, there were hangings of fifty cubits, ten pillars of brass with their sockets, and the heads of the pillars, and all the graving of the work, of silver.
In ea vero plaga quae occidentem respicit fuere tentoria cubitorum quinquaginta columnae decem cum basibus suis aeneae et capita columnarum celata argentea

38:13. Moreover, towards the east he prepared hangings of fifty cubits:
Porro contra orientem quinquaginta cubitorum paravit tentoria

38:14. Fifteen cubits of which, were on one side with three pillars, and their sockets:

E quibus quindecim cubitos columnarum trium cum basibus suis unum tenebat latus

38:15. And on the other side (for between the two he made the entry of the tabernacle) there were hangings equally of fifteen cubits, and three pillars, and as many sockets.

Et in parte altera quia utraque introitum tabernaculi facit quindecim aequae cubitorum erant tentoria columnae tres et bases totidem

38:16. All the hangings of the court were woven with twisted linen.

Cuncta atrii tentoria byssus torta texuerat

38:17. The sockets of the pillars were of brass, and their heads with all their gravings of silver: and he overlaid the pillars of the court also with silver.

Bases columnarum fuere aeneae capita autem earum cum celaturis suis argentea sed et ipsas columnas atrii vestivit argento

38:18. And he made in the entry thereof an embroidered hanging of violet, purple, scarlet, and fine twisted linen, that was twenty cubits long, and five cubits high, according to the measure of all the hangings of the court.

Et in introitu eius opere plumario fecit tentorium ex hyacintho purpura vermiculo ac bysso retorta quod habebat viginti cubitos in longitudine altitudo vero quinque cubitorum erat iuxta mensuram quam cuncta atrii habebant tentoria

38:19. And the pillars in the entry were four, with sockets of brass, and their heads and gravings of silver.

Columnae autem ingressus fuere quattuor cum basibus aeneis capitaque earum et celaturae argenteae

38:20. The pins also of the tabernacle and of the court round about he made of brass.

Paxillos quoque tabernaculi et atrii per gyrum fecit aeneos

38:21. These are the instruments of the tabernacle of the testimony, which were counted according to the commandment of Moses, in the ceremonies of the Levites, by the hand of Ithamar, son of Aaron the priest:

Haec sunt instrumenta tabernaculi testimonii quae numerata sunt iuxta praeceptum Mosi in caerimonias Levitarum per manum Ithamar filii Aaron sacerdotis

38:22. Which Beseleel, the son of Uri, the son of Hur of the tribe of Juda, had made, as the Lord commanded by Moses.

Quas Beselehel filius Uri filii Hur de tribu Iuda Domino per Mosen iubente compleverat

38:23. Having for his companion Ooliab, the son of Achisamech, of the tribe of Dan: who also was an excellent artificer in wood, and worker in tapestry and embroidery in violet, purple, scarlet, and fine linen.

Iuncto sibi socio Hooliab filio Achisamech de tribu Dan qui et ipse artifex lignorum egregius fuit et polymitarius atque plumarius ex hyacintho purpura vermiculo et bysso

38:24. All the gold that was spent in the work of the sanctuary, and that was offered in gifts, was nine and twenty talents, and seven hundred and thirty sicles according to the standard of the sanctuary.

Omne aurum quod expensum est in opere sanctuarii et quod oblatum in donariis viginti novem talentorum fuit et septingentorum triginta siclorum ad mensuram sanctuarii

38:25. And it was offered by them that went to be numbered, from twenty years old and upwards, of six hundred and three thousand five hundred and fifty men able to bear arms.

Oblatum est autem ab his qui transierant ad numerum a viginti annis et supra de sescentis tribus milibus et quingentis quinquaginta armatorum

38:26. There were moreover a hundred talents of silver, whereof were cast the sockets of the sanctuary, and of the entry where the veil hangeth.

Fuerunt praeterea centum talenta argenti e quibus conflatae sunt bases sanctuarii et introitus ubi velum pendet

38:27. A hundred sockets were made of a hundred talents, one talent being reckoned for every socket.

Centum bases factae sunt de talentis centum singulis talentis per bases singulas supputatis

38:28. And of the thousand seven hundred and seventy-five he made the heads of the pillars, which also he overlaid with silver.

De mille autem septingentis et septuaginta quinque fecit capita columnarum quas et ipsas vestivit argento

38:29. And there were offered of brass also seventy-two thousand talents, and four hundred sicles besides,

Aeris quoque oblata sunt talenta septuaginta duo milia et quadringenti supra sicli

38:30. Of which were cast the sockets in the entry of the tabernacle of the testimony, and the altar of brass with the grate thereof, and also the vessels that belong to the use thereof.

Ex quibus fusae sunt bases in introitu tabernaculi testimonii et altare aeneum cum craticula sua omniaque vasa quae ad usum eius pertinent

38:31. And the sockets of the court as well round about as in the entry thereof, and the pins of the tabernacle, and of the court round about.

Et bases atrii tam in circuitu quam in ingressu eius et paxilli tabernaculi atque atrii per gyrum

Exodus Chapter 39

All the ornaments of Aaron and his sons are made. And the whole work of the tabernacle is finished.

---

39:1. And he made, of violet and purple, scarlet and fine linen, the vestments for Aaron to wear when he ministered in the holy places, as the Lord commanded Moses.

De hyacintho vero et purpura vermiculo ac bysso fecit vestes quibus indueretur Aaron quando ministrabat in sanctis sicut praecepit Dominus Mosi

39:2. So he made an ephod of gold, violet, and purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine twisted linen, Fecit igitur superumerale de auro hyacintho et purpura coccoque bis tincto et bysso retorta

39:3. With embroidered work, and he cut thin plates of gold, and drew them small into threads, that they might be twisted with the woof of the foresaid colours,

Opere polymitario inciditque bratteas aureas et extenuavit in fila ut possint torqueri cum priorum colorum subtemine

39:4. And two borders coupled one to the other in the top on either side,

Duasque oras sibi invicem copulatas in utroque latere summitatum

39:5. And a girdle of the same colours, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Et balteum ex hisdem coloribus sicut praeceperat Dominus Mosi

39:6. He prepared also two onyx stones, fast set and closed in gold, and graven, by the art of a lapidary, with the names of the children of Israel:

Paravit et duos lapides onychinos adstrictos et inclusos auro et sculptos arte gemmaria nominibus filiorum Israhel

39:7. And he set them in the sides of the ephod, for a memorial of the children of Israel, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Posuitque eos in lateribus superumeralis in monumentum filiorum Israhel sicut praeceperat Dominus Mosi

39:8. He made also a rational with embroidered work, according to the work of the ephod, of gold, violet, purple, and scarlet twice dyed, and fine twisted linen:

Fecit et rationale opere polymito iuxta opus superumeralis ex auro hyacintho purpura coccoque bis tincto et bysso retorta

39:9. Foursquare, double, of the measure of a span.

Quadrangulum duplex mensurae palmi

39:10. And he set four rows of precious stones in it. In the first row was a sardius, a topaz, an emerald.

Et posuit in eo gemmarum ordines quattuor in primo versu erat sardius topazius zmaragdus

39:11. In the second, a carbuncle, a sapphire, and a jasper.

In secundo carbunculus sapphyrus iaspis

39:12. In the third, a ligurius, an agate, and an amethyst.

In tertio ligyrius achates amethystus

39:13. In the fourth, a chrysolite, an onyx, and a beryl, set and enclosed in gold by their rows.

In quarto chrysolitus onychinus berillus circumdati et inclusi auro per ordines suos

39:14. And the twelve stones, were engraved with the names of the twelve tribes of Israel, each one with its several name.

Ipsique lapides duodecim sculpti erant nominibus duodecim tribuum Israhel singuli per nomina singulorum

39:15. They made also in the rational little chains, linked one to another, of the purest gold,
Fecerunt in rationali et catenulas sibi invicem coherentes de auro purissimo

39:16. And two hooks, and as many rings of gold. And they set the rings on either side of the rational,
Et duos uncinos totidemque anulos aureos porro anulos posuerunt in utroque latere rationalis

39:17. On which rings the two golden chains should hang, which they put into the hooks that stood out in the corners of the ephod.

E quibus penderent duae catenae aureae quas inseruerunt uncinis qui in superumeralis angulis eminebant

39:18. These both before and behind so answered one another, that the ephod and the rational were bound together,

Haec et ante et retro ita conveniebant sibi ut superumerale et rationale mutuo necterentur

39:19. Being fastened to the girdle, and strongly coupled with rings, which a violet fillet joined, lest they should flag loose, and be moved one from the other, as the Lord commanded Moses.

Stricta ad balteum et anulis fortius copulata quos iungebat vitta hyacinthina ne laxe fluerent et a se invicem moverentur sicut praecepit Dominus Mosi

39:20. They made also the tunic of the ephod all of violet,

Fecerunt quoque tunicam superumeralis totam hyacinthinam

39:21. And a hole for the head in the upper part at the middle, and a woven border round about the hole:

Et capitium in superiori parte contra medium oramque per gyrum capitii textilem

39:22. And beneath at the feet pomegranates of violet, purple, scarlet, and fine twisted linen:

Deorsum autem ad pedes mala punica ex hyacintho purpura vermiculo ac bysso retorta

39:23. And little bells of the purest gold, which they put between the pomegranates at the bottom of the tunic round about:

Et tintinabula de auro mundissimo quae posuerunt inter mala granata in extrema parte tunicae per gyrum

39:24. To wit, a bell of gold, and a pomegranate, wherewith the high priest went adorned, when he discharged his ministry, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Tintinabulum aureum et malum punicum quibus ornatus incedebat pontifex quando ministerio fungebatur sicut praecepit Dominus Mosi

39:25. They made also fine linen tunics with woven work for Aaron and his sons:

Fecerunt et tunicas byssinas opere textili Aaron et filiis eius

39:26. And mitres with their little crowns of fine linen:

Et mitras cum coronulis suis ex bysso

39:27. And linen breeches of fine linen:

Feminalia quoque linea byssina

39:28. And a girdle of fine twisted linen, violet, purple, and scarlet twice dyed, of embroidery work, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Cingulum vero de bysso retorta hyacintho purpura ac vermiculo distinctum arte plumaria sicut praecepit Dominus Mosi

39:29. They made also the plate of sacred veneration of the purest gold, and they wrote on it with the engraving of a lapidary: The Holy of the Lord:

Fecerunt et lamminam sacrae venerationis de auro purissimo scripseruntque in ea opere gemmario Sanctum Domini 39:30. And they fastened it to the mitre with a violet fillet, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Et strinxerunt eam cum mitra vitta hyacinthina sicut praecepit Dominus Mosi

39:31. So all the work of the tabernacle and of the roof of the testimony was finished: and the children of Israel did all things which the Lord had commanded Moses.

Perfectum est igitur omne opus tabernaculi et tecti testimonii feceruntque filii Israhel cuncta quae

praeceperat Dominus Mosi

39:32. And they offered the tabernacle, and the roof, and the whole furniture, the rings, the boards, the bars, the pillars and their sockets,
Et obtulerunt tabernaculum et tectum et universam supellectilem anulos tabulas vectes columnas ac bases

39:33. The cover of rams' skins dyed red, and the other cover of violet skins, Opertorium de pellibus arietum rubricatis et aliud operimentum de ianthinis pellibus

39:34. The veil, the ark, the bars, the propitiatory,
Velum arcam vectes propitiatorium

39:35. The table, with the vessels thereof, and the loaves of proposition:
Mensam cum vasis et propositionis panibus

39:36. The candlestick, the lamps, and the furniture of them, with the oil:
Candelabrum lucernas et utensilia eorum cum oleo

39:37. The altar of gold, and the ointment, and the incense of spices:
Altare aureum et unguentum thymiama ex aromatibus

39:38. And the hanging in the entry of the tabernacle:
Et tentorium in introitu tabernaculi

39:39. The altar of brass, the grate, the bars, and all the vessels thereof: the laver, with the foot thereof: the hangings of the court, and the pillars, with their sockets:
Altare aeneum retiaculum vectes et vasa eius omnia labrum cum basi sua tentoria atrii et columnas cum basibus suis

39:40. The hanging in the entry of the court, and the little cords, and the pins thereof. Nothing was wanting of the vessels, that were commanded to be made for the ministry of the tabernacle, and for the roof of the covenant.
Tentorium in introitu atrii funiculosque illius et paxillos nihil ex vasis defuit quae in ministerium tabernaculi et in tectum foederis iussa sunt fieri

39:41. The vestments also, which the priests, to wit, Aaron and his sons, use in the sanctuary,
Vestes quoque quibus sacerdotes utuntur in sanctuario Aaron scilicet et filii eius

39:42. The children of Israel offered, as the Lord had commanded.
Obtulerunt filii Israhel sicut praeceperat Dominus

39:43. And when Moses saw all things finished, he blessed them.
Quae postquam Moses cuncta vidit expleta benedixit eis

Exodus Chapter 40

The tabernacle is commanded to be set up and anointed. God filleth it with his majesty.

---

40:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

40:2. The first month, the first day of the month, thou shalt set up the tabernacle of the testimony,

Mense primo die prima mensis eriges tabernaculum testimonii

40:3. And shalt put the ark in it, and shalt let down the veil before it:

Et pones in eo arcam dimittesque ante illam velum

40:4. And thou shalt bring in the table, and set upon it the things that are commanded according to the rite. The candlestick shall stand with its lamps,

Et inlata mensa pones super eam quae rite praecepta sunt candelabrum stabit cum lucernis suis

40:5. And the altar of gold, whereon the incense is burnt before the ark of the testimony. Thou shalt put the hanging in the entry of the tabernacle,

Et altare aureum in quo adoletur incensum coram arca testimonii tentorium in introitu tabernaculi pones

40:6. And before it the altar of holocaust.

Et ante illud altare holocausti

40:7. The laver between the altar and the tabernacle, and thou shalt fill it with water.

Labrum inter altare et tabernaculum quod implebis aqua

40:8. And thou shalt encompass the court with hangings, and the entry thereof.

Circumdabisque atrium tentoriis et ingressum eius

40:9. And thou shalt take the oil of unction and anoint the tabernacle with its vessels, that they may be sanctified:

Et adsumpto unctionis oleo ungues tabernaculum cum vasis suis ut sanctificentur

40:10. The altar of holocaust and all its vessels:

Altare holocausti et omnia vasa eius

40:11. The laver with its foot: thou shalt consecrate all with the oil of unction, that they may be most holy.

Labrum cum basi sua omnia unctionis oleo consecrabis ut sint sancta sanctorum

40:12. And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sons to the door of the tabernacle of the testimony, and having washed them with water,

Adplicabisque Aaron et filios eius ad fores tabernaculi testimonii et lotos aqua

40:13. Thou shalt put on them the holy vestments, that they may minister to me, and that the unction of them may prosper to an everlasting priesthood.

Indues sanctis vestibus ut ministrent mihi et unctio eorum in sacerdotium proficiat sempiternum

40:14. And Moses did all that the Lord had commanded.

Fecitque Moses omnia quae praeceperat Dominus

40:15. So in the first month of the second year, the first day of the month, the tabernacle was set up.

Igitur mense primo anni secundi in prima die mensis conlocatum est tabernaculum

40:16. And Moses reared it up, and placed the boards and the sockets and the bars, and set up the pillars,
Erexitque illud Moses et posuit tabulas ac bases et vectes statuitque columnas

40:17. And spread the roof over the tabernacle, putting over it a cover, as the Lord had commanded.
Et expandit tectum super tabernaculum inposito desuper operimento sicut Dominus imperarat

40:18. And he put the testimony in the ark, thrusting bars underneath, and the oracle above.
Posuit et testimonium in arca subditis infra vectibus et oraculum desuper

40:19. And when he had brought the ark into the tabernacle, he drew the veil before it to fulfil the commandment of the Lord.
Cumque intulisset arcam in tabernaculum adpendit ante eam velum ut expleret Domini iussionem

40:20. And he set the table in the tabernacle of the testimony, at the north side, without the veil,
Posuit et mensam in tabernaculo testimonii ad plagam septentrionalem extra velum

40:21. Setting there in order the loaves of proposition, as the Lord had commanded Moses.
Ordinatis coram propositionis panibus sicut praeceperat Dominus Mosi

40:22. He set the candlestick also in the tabernacle of the testimony, over against the table on the south side,
Posuit et candelabrum in tabernaculum testimonii e regione mensae in parte australi

40:23. Placing the lamps in order, according to the precept of the Lord.
Locatis per ordinem lucernis iuxta praeceptum Domini

40:24. He set also the altar of gold under the roof of the testimony, over against the veil,
Posuit et altare aureum sub tecto testimonii contra velum

40:25. And burnt upon it the incense of spices, as the Lord had commanded Moses.
Et adolevit super eo incensum aromatum sicut iusserat Dominus

40:26. And he put also the hanging in the entry of the tabernacle of the testimony,
Posuit et tentorium in introitu tabernaculi

40:27. And the altar of holocaust in the entry of the testimony, offering the holocaust, and the sacrifices upon it, as the Lord had commanded.
Et altare holocausti in vestibulo testimonii offerens in eo holocaustum et sacrificia ut Dominus imperarat

40:28. And he set the laver between the tabernacle of the testimony and the altar, filling it with water.
Labrum quoque statuit inter tabernaculum testimonii et altare implens illud aqua

40:29. And Moses and Aaron, and his sons, washed their hands and feet, Laveruntque Moses et Aaron ac filii eius manus suas et pedes

40:30. When they went into the tabernacle of the covenant, and went to the altar, as the Lord had commanded Moses.
Cum ingrederentur tectum foederis et accederent ad altare sicut praeceperat Dominus

40:31. He set up also the court round about the tabernacle and the altar, drawing the hanging in the entry thereof. After all things were perfected,
Erexit et atrium per gyrum tabernaculi et altaris ducto in introitu eius tentorio postquam cuncta perfecta sunt

40:32. The cloud covered the tabernacle of the testimony, and the glory of the Lord filled it.
Operuit nubes tabernaculum testimonii et gloria Domini implevit illud

40:33. Neither could Moses go into the tabernacle of the covenant, the cloud covering all things, and the majesty of the Lord shining, for the cloud had covered all.
Nec poterat Moses ingredi tectum foederis nube operiente omnia et maiestate Domini coruscante quia cuncta nubes operuerat

40:34. If at any time the cloud removed from the tabernacle, the children of Israel went forward by their troops:

Si quando nubes tabernaculum deserebat proficiscebantur filii Israhel per turmas suas

40:35. If it hung over, they remained in the same place.

Si pendeat desuper manebant in eodem loco

40:36. For the cloud of the Lord hung over the tabernacle by day, and a fire by night, in the sight of all the children of Israel throughout all their mansions.

Nubes quippe Domini incubabat per diem tabernaculo et ignis in nocte videntibus populis Israhel per cunctas mansiones suas

Ezechiel

EZECHIEL, whose name signifies the STRENGTH OF GOD, was of the priestly race; and of the number of captives that were carried away to Babylon with king JOACHIN. He was contemporary with JEREMIAS, and prophesied to the same effect in Babylon, as JEREMIAS did in Jerusalem; and is said to have ended his days in like manner, by martyrdom. (For more information, see the article EZECHIEL in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Ezechiel Chapter 1. The time of Ezechiel's prophecy: he sees a glorious vision.

Ezechiel Chapter 2. The prophet receives his commission.

Ezechiel Chapter 3. The prophet eats the book, and receives further instructions: the office of a watchman.

Ezechiel Chapter 4. A prophetic description of the siege of Jerusalem, and the famine that shall reign there.

Ezechiel Chapter 5. The judgments of God upon the Jews are foreshown under the type of the prophet's hair.

Ezechiel Chapter 6. The punishment of Israel for their idolatry: a remnant shall be saved.

Ezechiel Chapter 7. The final desolation of Israel: from which few shall escape.

Ezechiel Chapter 8. The prophet sees in a vision the abominations committed in Jerusalem; which determine the Lord to spare them no longer.

Ezechiel Chapter 9. All are ordered to be destroyed that are not marked in their foreheads. God will not be entreated for them.

Ezechiel Chapter 10. Fire is taken from the midst of the wheels under the cherubims, and scattered over the city. A description of the cherubims.

Ezechiel Chapter 11. A prophecy against the presumptuous assurance of the great ones. A remnant shall be saved, and receive a new spirit, and a new heart.

Ezechiel Chapter 12. The prophet foreshoweth, by signs, the captivity of Sedecias, and the desolation of the people: all which shall quickly come to pass.

Ezechiel Chapter 13. God declares against false prophets and prophetesses, that deceive the people with lies.

Ezechiel Chapter 14. God suffers the wicked to be deceived in punishment of their wickedness. The evils that shall come upon them for their sins: for which they shall not be delivered by the prayers of Noe, Daniel, and Job. But a remnant shall be preserved.

Ezechiel Chapter 15. As a vine cut down is fit for nothing but the fire; so it shall be with Jerusalem, for her sins.

Ezechiel Chapter 16. Under the figure of an unfaithful wife, God upbraids Jerusalem with her ingratitude and manifold disloyalties: but promiseth mercy by a new covenant.

Ezechiel Chapter 17. The parable of the two eagles and the vine. A promise of the cedar of Christ and his church.

Ezechiel Chapter 18. One man shall not bear the sins of another, but every one his own; if a wicked man truly repent, he shall be saved; and if a just man leave his justice, he shall perish.

Ezechiel Chapter 19. The parable of the young lions, and of the vineyard that is wasted.

Ezechiel Chapter 20. God refuses to answer the ancients of Israel inquiring by the prophet: but by him setteth his benefits before their eyes, and their heinous sins: threatening yet greater punishments: but still mixed with mercy.

Ezechiel Chapter 21. The destruction of Jerusalem by the sword is further described: the ruin also of the Ammonites is foreshown. And finally Babylon, the destroyer of others, shall be destroyed.

Ezechiel Chapter 22. The general corruption of the inhabitants of Jerusalem: for which God will consume them as dross in his furnace.

Ezechiel Chapter 23. Under the names of the two harlots, Oolla and Ooliba, are described the manifold disloyalties of Samaria and Jerusalem, with the punishment of them both.

Ezechiel Chapter 24. Under the parable of a boiling pot is shown the utter destruction of Jerusalem: for which the Jews at Babylon shall not dare to mourn.

Ezechiel Chapter 25. A prophecy against the Ammonites, Moabites, Edomites, and Philistines, for their malice against the Israelites.

Ezechiel Chapter 26. A prophecy of the destruction of the famous city of Tyre by Nabuchodonosor.

Ezechiel Chapter 27. A description of the glory and riches of Tyre: and of her irrecoverable fall.

Ezechiel Chapter 28. The king of Tyre, who affected to be like to God, shall fall under the like sentence with Lucifer. The judgment of Sidon. The restoration of Israel.

Ezechiel Chapter 29. The king of Egypt shall be overthrown, and his kingdom wasted: it shall be given to Nabuchodonosor for his service against Tyre.

Ezechiel Chapter 30. The desolation of Egypt and her helpers: all her cities shall be wasted.

Ezechiel Chapter 31. The Assyrian empire fell for their pride: the Egyptian shall fall in like manner.

Ezechiel Chapter 32. The prophet's lamentation for the king of Egypt.

Ezechiel Chapter 33. The duty of the watchman appointed by God: the justice of God's ways: his judgments upon the Jews.

Ezechiel Chapter 34. Evil pastors are reproved. Christ the true pastor shall come, and gather together his flock from all parts of the earth, and preserve it for ever.

Ezechiel Chapter 35. The judgment of mount Seir, for their hatred of Israel.

Ezechiel Chapter 36. The restoration of Israel, not for their merits, but by God's special grace. Christ's baptism.

Ezechiel Chapter 37. A vision of the resurrection of dry bones, foreshowing the deliverance of the people from their captivity. Juda and Israel shall be all one kingdom under Christ. God's everlasting covenant with the church.

Ezechiel Chapter 38. Gog shall persecute the church in the latter days. He shall be overthrown.

Ezechiel Chapter 39. God's judgments upon Gog. God's people were punished for their sins: but shall be favoured with everlasting kindness.

Ezechiel Chapter 40. The prophet sees in a vision the rebuilding of the temple: the dimensions of several parts thereof.

Ezechiel Chapter 41. A description of the temple, and of all the parts of it.

Ezechiel Chapter 42. A description of the courts, chambers, and other places belonging to the temple.

Ezechiel Chapter 43. The glory of God returns to the new temple. The Israelites shall no more profane God's name by idolatry: the prophet is commanded to show them the dimensions, and form of the temple, and of the altar, with the sacrifices to be offered thereon.

Ezechiel Chapter 44. The east gate of the sanctuary shall be always shut. The uncircumcised shall not enter into the sanctuary: nor the Levites that have served idols: but the sons of Sadoc shall do the priestly functions, who stood firm in the worst of times.

Ezechiel Chapter 45. Portions of land for the sanctuary, for the city, and for the prince. Ordinances for the prince.

Ezechiel Chapter 46. Other ordinances for the prince and for the sacrifices.

Ezechiel Chapter 47. The vision of the holy waters issuing out from under the temple: the borders of the land to be divided among the twelve tribes.

Ezechiel Chapter 48. The portions of the twelve tribes, of the sanctuary, of the city, and of the prince. The dimensions and gates of the city.

Ezechiel Chapter 1

The time of Ezechiel's prophecy: he sees a glorious vision.

1:1. Now it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, on the fifth day of the month, when I was in the midst of the captives by the river Chobar, the heavens were opened, and I saw the visions of God.

Et factum est in tricesimo anno in quarto mense in quinta mensis cum essem in medio captivorum iuxta fluvium Chobar aperti sunt caeli et vidi visiones Dei

The thirtieth year... Either of the age of Ezechiel; or, as others will have it, from the solemn covenant made in the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias. 2 Kings 23.

1:2. On the fifth day of the month, the same was the fifth year of the captivity of king Joachin, In quinta mensis ipse est annus quintus transmirationis regis Ioachin

1:3. The word of the Lord came to Ezechiel the priest the son of Buzi in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chobar: and the hand of the Lord was there upon him.

Factum est verbum Domini ad Hiezecihel filium Buzi sacerdotem in terra Chaldeorum secus flumen Chobar et facta est super eum ibi manus Domini

1:4. And I saw, and behold a whirlwind came out of the north: and a great cloud, and a fire infolding it, and brightness was about it: and out of the midst thereof, that is, out of the midst of the fire, as it were the resemblance of amber:

Et vidi et ecce ventus turbinis veniebat ab aquilone et nubes magna et ignis involvens et splendor in circuitu eius et de medio eius quasi species electri id est de medio ignis

1:5. And in the midst thereof the likeness of four living creatures: and this was their appearance: there was the likeness of a man in them.

Et ex medio eorum similitudo quattuor animalium et hic aspectus eorum similitudo hominis in eis

Living creatures... Cherubims (as appears from Sirach 49:10) represented to the prophet under these mysterious shapes, as supporting the throne of God, and as it were drawing his chariot. All this chapter appeared so obscure, and so full of mysteries to the ancient Hebrews, that, as we learn from St. Jerome (Ep. ad Paulin.), they suffered none to read it before they were thirty years old.

1:6. Every one had four faces, and every one four wings.

Et quattuor facies uni et quattuor pinnae uni

1:7. Their feet were straight feet, and the sole of their foot was like the sole of a calf's foot, and they sparkled like the appearance of glowing brass.

Et pedes eorum pedes recti et planta pedis eorum quasi planta pedis vituli et scintillae quasi aspectus aeris candentis

1:8. And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides: and they had faces, and wings on the four sides,

Et manus hominis sub pinnis eorum in quattuor partibus et facies et pinnae per quattuor partes habebant

1:9. And the wings of one were joined to the wings of another. They turned not when they went: but every one went straight forward.

Iunctaeque erant pinnae eorum alterius ad alterum non revertebantur cum incederent sed unumquodque ante faciem suam gradiebatur

1:10. And as for the likeness of their faces: there was the face of a man, and the face of a lion on the right side of all the four: and the face of an ox, on the left side of all the four: and the face of an eagle over all the four.

Similitudo autem vultus eorum facies hominis et facies leonis a dextris ipsorum quattuor facies autem bovis a sinistris ipsorum quattuor et facies aquilae ipsorum quattuor

1:11. And their faces, and their wings were stretched upward: two wings of every one were joined, and two covered their bodies:

Et facies eorum et pinnae eorum extantae desuper duae pinnae singulorum iungebantur et duae tegebant corpora eorum

1:12. And every one of them went straight forward: whither the impulse of the spirit was to go, thither they went: and they turned not when they went.

Et unumquodque coram facie sua ambulabat ubi erat impetus spiritus illuc gradiebantur nec revertebantur cum ambularent

1:13. And as for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like that of burning coals of fire, and like the appearance of lamps. This was the vision running to and fro in the midst of the living creatures, a bright fire, and lightning going forth from the fire.

Et similitudo animalium aspectus eorum quasi carbonum ignis ardentium et quasi aspectus lampadarum haec erat visio discurrens in medio animalium splendor ignis et de igne fulgor egrediens

1:14. And the living creatures ran and returned like flashes of lightning.

Et animalia ibant et revertebantur in similitudinem fulguris coruscantis

1:15. Now as I beheld the living creatures, there appeared upon the earth by the living creatures one wheel with four faces.

Cumque aspicerem animalia apparuit rota una super terram iuxta animalia habens quattuor facies

1:16. And the appearance of the wheels, and the work of them was like the appearance of the sea: and the four had all one likeness: and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the midst of a wheel.

Et aspectus rotarum et opus earum quasi visio maris et una similitudo ipsarum quattuor et aspectus earum et opera quasi sit rota in medio rotarum

1:17. When they went, they went by their four parts: and they turned not when they went.

Per quattuor partes earum euntes ibant et non revertebantur cum ambularent

When they went, they went by their four parts... That is, indifferently to any of their sides either forward or backward: to the right or to the left.

1:18. The wheels had also a size, and a height, and a dreadful appearance: and the whole body was full of eyes round about all the four.

Statura quoque erat rotis et altitudo et horribilis aspectus et totum corpus plenum oculis in circuitu ipsarum quattuor

1:19. And, when the living creatures went, the wheels also went together by them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels also were lifted up with them.

Cumque ambularent animalia ambulabant pariter et rotarum iuxta ea et cum elevarentur animalia de terra elevabantur simul et rotarum

1:20. Whersoever the spirit went, thither as the spirit went the wheels also were lifted up withal, and followed it: for the spirit of life was in the wheels.

Quocumque ibat spiritus illuc eunte spiritu et rotarum pariter levabantur sequentes eum spiritus enim vitae erat in rotis

1:21. When those went these went, and when those stood these stood, and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up together, and followed them: for the spirit of life was in the wheels.

Cum euntibus ibant et cum stantibus stabant et cum elevatis a terra pariter elevabantur et rotarum sequentes ea quia spiritus vitae erat in rotis

1:22. And over the heads of the living creatures was the likeness of the firmament, the appearance of crystal terrible to behold, and stretched out over their heads above.

Et similitudo super caput animalium firmamenti quasi aspectus cristalli horribilis et extenti super capita eorum desuper

1:23. And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other, every one with two wings covered his body, and the other was covered in like manner.

Sub firmamento autem pinnae eorum rectae alterius ad alterum unumquodque duabus alis velabat corpus suum et alterum similiter velabatur

1:24. And I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of many waters, as it were the voice of the most high God: when they walked, it was like the voice of a multitude, like the noise of an army, and when they stood, their wings were let down.

Et audiebam sonum alarum quasi sonum aquarum multarum quasi sonum sublimis Dei cum ambularent quasi sonus erat multitudinis ut sonus castrorum cumque starent dimittebantur pinnae eorum

1:25. For when a voice came from above the firmament, that was over their heads, they stood, and let down their wings.

Nam cum fieret vox supra firmamentum quod erat super caput eorum stabant et submittebant alas suas

1:26. And above the firmament that was over their heads, was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of the sapphire stone, and upon the likeness of the throne, was the likeness of the appearance of a man above upon it.

Et super firmamentum quod erat inminens capiti eorum quasi aspectus lapidis sapphyri similitudo throni et super similitudinem throni similitudo quasi aspectus hominis desuper

1:27. And I saw as it were the resemblance of amber as the appearance of fire within it round about: from his loins and upward, and from his loins downward, I saw as it were the resemblance of fire shining round about.

Et vidi quasi speciem electri velut aspectum ignis intrinsecus eius per circuitum a lumbis eius et desuper et a lumbis eius usque deorsum vidi quasi speciem ignis splendentis in circuitu

1:28. As the appearance of the rainbow when it is in a cloud on a rainy day: this was the appearance of the brightness round about.

Velut aspectum arcus cum fuerit in nube in die pluviae hic erat aspectus splendoris per gyrum

Ezechiel Chapter 2

The prophet receives his commission.

---

2:1. This was the vision of the likeness of the glory of the Lord, and I saw, and I fell upon my face, and I heard the voice of one that spoke, and he said to me: Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak to thee.

Haec visio similitudinis gloriae Domini et vidi et cecidi in faciem meam et audivi vocem loquentis et dixit ad me filii hominis sta supra pedes tuos et loquar tecum

2:2. And the spirit entered into me after that he spoke to me, and he set me upon my feet: and I heard him speaking to me,

Et ingressus est in me spiritus postquam locutus est mihi et statuit me supra pedes meos et audivi loquentem ad me

2:3. And saying: Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious people, that hath revolted from me, they, and their fathers, have transgressed my covenant even unto this day.

Et dicentem filii hominis mitto ego te ad filios Israhel ad gentes apostatrices quae recesserunt a me patres eorum praevaricati sunt pactum meum usque ad diem hanc

2:4. And they to whom I send thee are children of a hard face, and of an obstinate heart: and thou shalt say to them: Thus saith the Lord God:

Et filii dura facie et indomabili corde sunt ad quos ego mitto te et dices ad eos haec dicit Dominus Deus

2:5. If so be they at least will hear, and if so be they will forbear, for they are a provoking house: and they shall know that there hath been a prophet in the midst of them.

Si forte vel ipsi audiant et si forte quiescant quoniam domus exasperans est et scient quia propheta fuerit in medio eorum

2:6. And thou, O son of man, fear not, neither be thou afraid of their words: for thou art among unbelievers and destroyers, and thou dwellest with scorpions. Fear not their words, neither be thou dismayed at their looks: for they are a provoking house.

Tu ergo filii hominis ne timeas eos neque sermones eorum metuas quoniam increduli et subversores sunt tecum et cum scorpionibus habitas verba eorum ne timeas et vultus eorum ne formides quia domus exasperans est

2:7. And thou shalt speak my words to them, if perhaps they will hear, and forbear: for they provoke me to anger.

Loqueris ergo verba mea ad eos si forte audiant et quiescant quoniam irritatores sunt

2:8. But thou, O son of man, hear all that I say to thee: and do not thou provoke me, as that house provoketh me: open thy mouth, and eat what I give thee.

Tu autem filii hominis audi quaecumque loquor ad te et noli esse exasperans sicut domus exasperatrix est aperi os tuum et comede quaecumque ego do tibi

2:9. And I looked, and behold, a hand was sent to me, wherein was a book rolled up: and he spread it before me, and it was written within and without: and there were written in it lamentations, and canticles, and woe.

Et vidi et ecce manus missa ad me in qua erat involutus liber et expandit illum coram me qui erat scriptus intus et foris et scriptae erant in eo lamentationes et carmen et vae

Ezechiel Chapter 3

The prophet eats the book, and receives further instructions: the office of a watchman.

---

3:1. And he said to me: Son of man, eat all that thou shalt find: eat this book, and go speak to the children of Israel.

Et dixit ad me fili hominis quodcumque inveneris comede comede volumen istud et vadens loquere ad filios Israhel

Eat this book, and go speak to the children of Israel... By this eating of the book was signified the diligent attention and affection with which we are to receive, and embrace the word of God; and to let it, as it were, sink into our interior by devout meditation.

3:2. And I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that book:

Et aperui os meum et cibavit me volumine illo

3:3. And he said to me: Son of man, thy belly shall eat, and thy bowels shall be filled with this book, which I give thee, and I did eat it: and it was sweet as honey in my mouth.

Et dixit ad me fili hominis venter tuus comedet et viscera tua complebuntur volumine isto quod ego do tibi et comedi illud et factum est in ore meo sicut mel dulce

3:4. And he said to me: Son of man, go to the house of Israel, and thou shalt speak my words to them.

Et dixit ad me fili hominis vade ad domum Israhel et loqueris verba mea ad eos

3:5. For thou art not sent to a people of a profound speech, and of an unknown tongue, but to the house of Israel:

Non enim ad populum profundi sermonis et ignotae linguae tu mitteris ad domum Israhel

3:6. Nor to many nations of a strange speech, and of an unknown tongue, whose words thou canst not understand: and if thou wert sent to them, they would hearken to thee.

Neque ad populos multos profundi sermonis et ignotae linguae quorum non possis audire sermones et si ad illos mittereris ipsi audirent te

3:7. But the house of Israel will not hearken to thee: because they will not hearken to me: for all the house of Israel are of a hard forehead and an obstinate heart.

Domus autem Israhel nolent audire te quia nolunt audire me omnis quippe domus Israhel adtrita fronte est et duro corde

3:8. Behold I have made thy face stronger than their faces: and thy forehead harder than their foreheads.

Ecce dedi faciem tuam valentiorum faciebus eorum et frontem tuam duriorum frontibus eorum

3:9. I have made thy face like an adamant and like flint: fear them not, neither be thou dismayed at their presence: for they are a provoking house.

Ut adamantem et ut silicem dedi faciem tuam ne timeas eos neque metuas a facie eorum quia domus exasperans est

3:10. And he said to me: Son of man, receive in thy heart, and hear with thy ears, all the words that I speak to thee:

Et dixit ad me fili hominis omnes sermones meos quos loquor ad te adsume in corde tuo et auribus tuis audi

3:11. And go get thee in to them of the captivity, to the children of thy people, and thou shalt speak to them, and shalt say to them: Thus saith the Lord: If so be they will hear, and will forbear.

Et vade ingredere ad transmirationem ad filios populi tui et loqueris ad eos et dices eis haec dicit Dominus Deus si forte audiant et quiescant

3:12. And the spirit took me up, and I heard behind me the voice of a great commotion, saying: Blessed be the glory of the Lord, from his place.

Et adsumpsit me spiritus et audivi post me vocem commotionis magnae benedicta gloria Domini de loco suo

3:13. The noise of the wings of the living creatures striking one against another, and the noise of the wheels following the living creatures, and the noise of a great commotion.

Et vocem alarum animalium percutientium alteram ad alteram et vocem rotarum sequentium animalia et vocem commotionis magnae

3:14. The spirit also lifted me, and took me up: and I went away in bitterness in the indignation of my spirit: for the hand of the Lord was with me, strengthening me.

Spiritus quoque levavit me et adsumpsit me et abii amarus in indignatione spiritus mei manus enim Domini erat mecum confortans me

3:15. And I came to them of the captivity, to the heap of new corn, to them that dwelt by the river Chobar, and I sat where they sat: and I remained there seven days mourning in the midst of them.

Et veni ad transmigracionem acervum novarum frugum ad eos qui habitabant iuxta flumen Chobar et sedi ubi illi sedebant et mansi ibi septem diebus maerens in medio eorum

The heap of new corn... It was the name of a place: in Hebrew, tel abib.

3:16. And at the end of seven days the word of the Lord came to me, saying:

Cum autem pertransissent septem dies factum est verbum Domini ad me dicens

3:17. Son of man, I have made thee a watchman to the house of Israel: and thou shalt hear the word out of my mouth, and shalt tell it them from me.

Fili hominis speculatorem dedi te domui Israhel et audies de ore meo verbum et adnuntiabis eis ex me

3:18. If, when I say to the wicked, Thou shalt surely die: thou declare it not to him, nor speak to him, that he may be converted from his wicked way, and live: the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but I will require his blood at thy hand.

Si dicente me ad impium morte morieris non adnuntiaveris ei neque locutus fueris ut avertatur a via sua impia et vivat ipse impius in iniquitate sua morietur sanguinem autem eius de manu tua requiram

3:19. But if thou give warning to the wicked, and he be not converted from his wickedness, and from his evil way: he indeed shall die in his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

Si autem tu adnuntiaveris impio et ille non fuerit conversus ab impietate sua et via sua impia ipse quidem in iniquitate sua morietur tu autem animam tuam liberasti

3:20. Moreover if the just man shall turn away from his justice, and shall commit iniquity: I will lay a stumblingblock before him, he shall die, because thou hast not given him warning: he shall die in his sin, and his justices which he hath done, shall not be remembered: but I will require his blood at thy hand.

Sed et si conversus iustus a iustitia sua fecerit iniquitatem ponam offendiculum coram eo ipse morietur quia non adnuntiasti ei in peccato suo morietur et non erunt in memoria iustitiae eius quas fecit sanguinem vero eius de manu tua requiram

3:21. But if thou warn the just man, that the just may not sin, and he doth not sin: living he shall live, because thou hast warned him, and thou hast delivered thy soul.

Si autem tu adnuntiaveris iusto ut non peccet iustus et ille non peccaverit vivens vivet quia adnuntiasti ei et tu animam tuam liberasti

3:22. And the hand of the Lord was upon me, and he said to me: Rise and go forth into the plain, and there I will speak to thee.

Et facta est super me manus Domini et dixit ad me surgens egredere in campum et ibi loquar tecum

3:23. And I rose up, and went forth into the plain: and behold the glory of the Lord stood there, like the glory which I saw by the river Chobar: and I fell upon my face.

Et surgens egressus sum in campum et ecce ibi gloria Domini stabat quasi gloria quam vidi iuxta fluvium Chobar et cecidi in faciem meam

3:24. And the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet: and he spoke to me, and said to me: Go in; and shut thyself up in the midst of thy house.

Et ingressus est in me spiritus et statuit me super pedes meos et locutus est mihi et dixit ad me ingredere et includere in medio domus tuae

3:25. And thou, O son of man, behold they shall put bands upon thee, and they shall bind thee with them: and thou shalt not go forth from the midst of them.

Et tu fili hominis ecce data sunt super te vincula et ligabunt te in eis et non egredieris in medio eorum

3:26. And I will make thy tongue stick fast to the roof of thy mouth, and thou shalt be dumb, and not as a man that reproveth: because they are a provoking house.

Et linguam tuam adherescere faciam palato tuo et eris mutus nec quasi vir obiurgans quia domus exasperans est

3:27. But when I shall speak to thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say to them: Thus saith the Lord God: He that heareth, let him hear: and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a provoking house.

Cum autem locutus fuero tibi aperiam os tuum et dices ad eos haec dicit Dominus Deus qui audit audiat et qui quiescit quiescat quia domus exasperans est

Ezechiel Chapter 4

A prophetic description of the siege of Jerusalem, and the famine that shall reign there.

---

4:1. And thou, O son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee: and draw upon it the plan of the city of Jerusalem.

Et tu filii hominis sume tibi laterem et pones eum coram te et describes in eo civitatem Hierusalem

4:2. And lay siege against it, and build forts, and cast up a mount, and set a camp against it, and place battering rams round about it.

Et ordinabis adversus eam obsidionem et aedificabis munitiones et conportabis aggerem et dabis contra eam castra et pones arietes in gyro

4:3. And take unto thee an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city: and set thy face resolutely against it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: it is a sign to the house of Israel.

Et tu sume tibi sartagine ferream et pones eam murum ferreum inter te et inter civitatem et obfirmabis faciem tuam ad eam et erit in obsidionem et circumdabis eam signum est domui Israhel

4:4. And thou shalt sleep upon thy left side, and shalt lay the iniquities of the house of Israel upon it, according to the number of the days that thou shalt sleep upon it, and thou shalt take upon thee their iniquity.

Et tu dormies super latus tuum sinistrum et pones iniquitates domus Israhel super eo numero dierum quibus dormies super illud et adsumes iniquitatem eorum

4:5. And I have laid upon thee the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days three hundred and ninety days: and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

Ego autem dedi tibi annos iniquitatis eorum numero dierum trecentos et nonaginta dies et portabis iniquitatem domus Israhel

4:6. And when thou hast accomplished this, thou shalt sleep again upon thy right side, and thou shalt take upon thee the iniquity of the house of Juda forty days: a day for a year, yea, a day for a year I have appointed to thee.

Et cum conpleveris haec dormies super latus tuum dextrum secundo et adsumes iniquitatem domus Iuda quadraginta diebus diem pro anno diem inquam pro anno dedi tibi

4:7. And thou shalt turn thy face to the siege of Jerusalem and thy arm shall be stretched out: and thou shalt prophecy against it.

Et ad obsidionem Hierusalem convertes faciem tuam et brachium tuum erit exertum et prophetabis adversus eam

4:8. Behold I have encompassed thee with bands: and thou shalt not turn thyself from one side to the other, till thou hast ended the days of thy siege.

Ecce circumdedi te vinculis et non te convertes a latere tuo in latus aliud donec conpleas dies obsidionis tuae

4:9. And take to thee wheat and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side: three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

Et tu sume tibi frumentum et hordeum et fabam et lentem et milium et viciam et mittes ea in vas unum et facies tibi panes numero dierum quibus dormies super latus tuum trecentis et nonaginta diebus comedes illud

4:10. And thy meat that thou shalt eat, shall be in weight twenty staters a day: from time to time thou shalt eat it.

Cibus autem tuus quo vesceris erit in pondere viginti stateres in die a tempore usque ad tempus comedes illud

4:11. And thou shalt drink water by measure, the sixth part of a hin: from time to time thou shalt drink it, Et aquam in mensura bibes sextam partem hin a tempore usque ad tempus bibes illud

Hin... That is, a measure of liquids containing about ten pints.

4:12. And thou shalt eat it as barley bread baked under the ashes: and thou shalt cover it, in their sight, with the dung that cometh out of a man.

Et quasi subcineritium hordiacium comedes illud et stercore quod egredietur de homine operies illud in oculis eorum

4:13. And the Lord said: So shall the children of Israel eat their bread all filthy among the nations whither I will cast them out.

Et dixit Dominus sic comedent filii Israhel panem suum pollutum inter gentes ad quas eiciam eos

4:14. And I said: Ah, ah, ah, O Lord God, behold my soul hath not been defiled, and from my infancy even till now, I have not eaten any thing that died of itself, or was torn by beasts, and no unclean flesh hath entered into my mouth.

Et dixi ha ha ha Domine Deus ecce anima mea non est polluta et morticinum et laceratum a bestiis non comedi ab infantia mea usque nunc et non est ingressa os meum omnis caro inunda

4:15. And he said to me: Behold I have given thee neat's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt make thy bread therewith.

Et dixit ad me ecce dedi tibi fimum boum pro stercorebus humanis et facies panem tuum in eo

4:16. And he said to me: Son of man: Behold, I will break in pieces the staff of bread in Jerusalem: and they shall eat bread by weight, and with care: and they shall drink water by measure, and in distress.

Et dixit ad me fili hominis ecce ego conteram baculum panis in Hierusalem et comedent panem in pondere et in sollicitudine et aquam in mensura et in angustia bibent

4:17. So that when bread and water fail, every man may fall against his brother, and they may pine away in their iniquities.

Ut deficientibus pane et aqua corruat unusquisque ad fratrem suum et contabescant in iniquitatibus suis

Ezechiel Chapter 5

The judgments of God upon the Jews are foreshown under the type of the prophet's hair.

---

5:1. And thou, son of man, take thee a sharp knife that shaveth the hair: and cause it to pass over thy head, and over thy beard: and take thee a balance to weigh in, and divide the hair.

Et tu filii hominis sume tibi gladium acutum radentem pilos adsumes eum et duces per caput tuum et per barbam tuam et adsumes tibi stateram ponderis et divides eos

5:2. A third part thou shalt burn with fire in the midst of the city, according to the fulfilling of the days of the siege: and thou shalt take a third part, and cut it in pieces with the knife all round about: and the other third part thou shalt scatter in the wind, and I will draw out the sword after them.

Tertiam partem igni conbures in medio civitatis iuxta completionem dierum obsidionis et adsumens tertiam partem concides gladio in circuitu eius tertiam vero aliam disperges in ventum et gladium nudabo post eos

5:3. And thou shalt take thereof a small number: and shalt bind them in the skirt of thy cloak.

Et sumes inde parvum numerum et ligabis eos in summitate pallii tui

5:4. And thou shalt take of them again, and shalt cast them in the midst of the fire, and shalt burn them with fire: and out of it shall come forth a fire into all the house of Israel.

Et ex eis rursum tolles et proicies in medio ignis et conbures eos igni ex eo egredietur ignis in omnem domum Israhel

5:5. Thus saith the Lord God: This is Jerusalem, I have set her in the midst of the nations, and the countries round about her.

Haec dicit Dominus Deus ista est Hierusalem in medio gentium posui eam et in circuitu eius terras

5:6. And she hath despised my judgments, so as to be more wicked than the Gentiles; and my commandments, more than the countries that are round about her: for they have cast off my judgments, and have not walked in my commandments.

Et contempsit iudicia mea ut plus esset impia quam gentes et praecepta mea ultra quam terrae quae in circuitu eius sunt iudicia enim mea proiecerunt et in praeceptis meis non ambulaverunt

5:7. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because you have surpassed the Gentiles that are round about you, and have not walked in my commandments, and have not kept my judgments, and have not done according to the judgments of the nations that are round about you:

Idcirco haec dicit Dominus Deus quia superastis gentes quae in circuitu vestro sunt in praeceptis meis non ambulastis et iudicia mea non fecistis et iuxta iudicia gentium quae in circuitu vestro sunt non estis operati

5:8. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold I come against thee, and I myself will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the Gentiles.

Ideo haec dicit Dominus Deus ecce ego ad te et ipse ego faciam in medio tui iudicia in oculis gentium

5:9. And I will do in thee that which I have not done: and the like to which I will do no more, because of all thy abominations.

Et faciam in te quae non feci et quibus similia ultra non faciam propter omnes abominationes tuas

5:10. Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers: and I will execute judgments in thee, and I will scatter thy whole remnant into every wind.

Ideo patres comedent filios in medio tui et filii comedent patres suos et faciam in te iudicia et ventilabo universas reliquias tuas in omnem ventum

5:11. Therefore as I live, saith the Lord God: Because thou hast violated my sanctuary with all thy offences, and with all thy abominations: I will also break thee in pieces, and my eye shall not spare, and I will not have any pity.

Idcirco vivo ego dicit Dominus Deus nisi pro eo quod sanctum meum violasti in omnibus offensionibus tuis et in omnibus abominationibus tuis ego quoque confringam et non parces oculus meus et non miserebor

5:12. A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and shall be consumed with famine in the midst of thee: and a third part of thee shall fall by the sword round about thee: and a third part of thee will I scatter into every wind, and I will draw out a sword after them.

Tertia tui pars peste morietur et fame consumetur in medio tui et tertia tui pars gladio cadet in circuitu tuo tertiam vero partem tuam in omnem ventum dispergam et gladium evaginabo post eos

5:13. And I will accomplish my fury, and will cause my indignation to rest upon them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know that I the Lord have spoken it in my zeal, when I shall have accomplished my indignation in them.

Et eris complaceam furorem meum et requiescere faciam indignationem meam in eis et consolabor et scient quia ego Dominus locutus sum in zelo meo cum implevero indignationem meam in eis

5:14. And I will make thee desolate, and a reproach among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of every one that passeth by.

Et dabo te in desertum et in obprobrium in gentibus quae in circuitu tuo sunt in conspectu omnis praetereuntis

5:15. And thou shalt be a reproach, and a scoff, an example, and an astonishment amongst the nations that are round about thee, when I shall have executed judgments in thee in anger, and in indignation, and in wrathful rebukes.

Et eris obprobrium et blasphemia exemplum et stupor in gentibus quae in circuitu tuo sunt cum fecero in te iudicia in furore et in indignatione et in increpationibus irae

5:16. I the Lord have spoken it: When I shall send upon them the grievous arrows of famine, which shall bring death, and which I will send to destroy you: and I will gather together famine against you: and I will break among you the staff of bread.

Ego Dominus locutus sum quando misero sagittas famis pessimas in eos quae erunt mortiferae et quas mittam ut disperdam vos et famem congregabo super vos et conteram vobis baculum panis

5:17. And I will send in upon you famine, and evil beasts unto utter destruction: and pestilence, and blood shall pass through thee, and I will bring in the sword upon thee. I the Lord have spoken it.

Et inmittam in vos famem et bestias pessimas usque ad internicionem et pestilentia et sanguis transibunt per te et gladium inducam super te ego Dominus locutus sum

Ezechiel Chapter 6

The punishment of Israel for their idolatry: a remnant shall be saved.

---

6:1. And the word of the Lord came to me, saying:

Et factus est sermo Domini ad me dicens

6:2. Son of man set thy face towards the mountains of Israel, and prophecy against them.

Fili hominis pone faciem tuam ad montes Israhel et prophetabis ad eos

6:3. And say: Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God: Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains, and to the hills, and to the rocks, and the valleys: Behold, I will bring upon you the sword, and I will destroy your high places.

Et dices montes Israhel audite verbum Domini Dei haec dicit Dominus Deus montibus et collibus rupibus et vallibus ecce ego inducam super vos gladium et disperdam excelsa vestra

6:4. And I will throw down your altars, and your idols shall be broken in pieces: and I will cast down your slain before your idols.

Et demoliar aras vestras et confringentur simulacra vestra et deiciam interfectos vestros ante idola vestra

6:5. And I will lay the dead carcasses of the children of Israel before your idols: and I will scatter your bones round about your altars,

Et dabo cadavera filiorum Israhel ante faciem simulacrorum vestrorum et dispergam ossa vestra circum aras vestras

6:6. In all your dwelling places. The cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be thrown down, and destroyed, and your altars shall be abolished, and shall be broken in pieces: and your idols shall be no more, and your temples shall be destroyed, and your works shall be defaced.

In omnibus habitationibus vestris urbes desertae erunt et excelsa demolientur et dissipabuntur et interibunt arae vestrae et confringentur et cessabunt idola vestra et conterentur delubra vestra et delebuntur opera vestra

6:7. And the slain shall fall in the midst of you: and you shall know that I am the Lord.

Et cadet interfectus in medio vestri et scietis quoniam ego Dominus

6:8. And I will leave in you some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when I shall have scattered you through the countries.

Et relinquam in vobis eos qui fugerint gladium in gentibus cum dispersero vos in terris

6:9. And they that are saved of you shall remember me amongst the nations, to which they are carried captives: because I have broken their heart that was faithless, and revolted from me: and their eyes that went a fornicating after their idols: and they shall be displeased with themselves because of the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

Et recordabuntur mei liberati vestri in gentibus ad quas captivi ducti sunt quia contrivi cor eorum fornicans et recedens a me et oculos eorum fornicantes post idola sua et displicebunt sibimet super malis quae fecerunt in universis abominationibus suis

6:10. And they shall know that I the Lord have not spoken in vain that I would do this evil to them.

Et scient quia ego Dominus non frustra locutus sum ut facerem eis malum hoc

6:11. Thus saith the Lord God: Strike with thy hand and stamp with thy foot, and say: Alas, for all the abominations of the evils of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

Haec dicit Dominus Deus percute manu tua et adlide pedem tuum et dic eheu ad omnes abominationes

malorum domus Israhel qui gladio fame peste ruituri sunt

6:12. He that is far off shall die of the pestilence: and he that is near, shall fall by the sword: and he that remaineth, and is besieged, shall die by the famine: and I will accomplish my indignation upon them.
Qui longe est peste morietur qui autem prope gladio corruet et qui relictus fuerit et obsessus fame morietur et conpleam indignationem meam in eis

6:13. And you shall know that I am the Lord, when your slain shall be amongst your idols, round about your altars, in every high hill, and on all the tops of mountains, and under every woody tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they burnt sweet smelling frankincense to all their idols.
Et scietis quia ego Dominus cum fuerint interfecti vestri in medio idolorum vestrorum in circuitu ararum vestrarum in omni colle excelso in cunctis summitatibus montium et subtus omne lignum nemorosum et subtus universam quercum frondosam locum ubi accenderunt tura redolentia universis idolis suis

6:14. And I will stretch forth my hand upon them: and I will make the land desolate, and abandoned from the desert of Deblatha in all their dwelling places: and they shall know that I am the Lord.
Et extendam manum meam super eos et faciam terram desolatam et destitutam a deserto Deblatha in omnibus habitationibus eorum et scient quia ego Dominus

Ezechiel Chapter 7

The final desolation of Israel: from which few shall escape.

7:1. And the word of the Lord came to me, saying:

Et factus est sermo Domini ad me dicens

7:2. And thou son of man, thus saith the Lord God to the land of Israel: The end is come, the end is come upon the four quarters of the land.

Et tu fili hominis haec dicit Dominus Deus terrae Israhel finis venit finis super quattuor plagas terrae

7:3. Now is an end come upon thee, and I will send my wrath upon thee, and I will judge thee according to thy ways: and I will set all thy abominations against thee.

Nunc finis super te et emittam furorem meum in te et iudicabo te iuxta vias tuas et ponam contra te omnes abominationes tuas

7:4. And my eye shall not spare thee, and I will show thee no pity: but I will lay thy ways upon thee, and thy abominations shall be in the midst of thee: and you shall know that I am the Lord.

Et non parcet oculus meus super te et non miserebor sed vias tuas ponam super te et abominationes tuae in medio tui erunt et scietis quia ego Dominus

7:5. Thus saith the Lord God: One affliction, behold an affliction is come.

Haec dicit Dominus Deus ad afflictio una ad afflictio ecce venit

7:6. An end is come, the end is come, it hath awaked against thee: behold it is come.

Finis venit venit finis evigilavit adversum te ecce venit

7:7. Destruction is come upon thee that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of slaughter is near, and not of the joy of mountains.

Venit contractio super te qui habitas in terra venit tempus prope est dies occisionis et non gloriae montium

7:8. Now very shortly I will pour out my wrath upon thee, and I will accomplish my anger in thee: and I will judge thee according to thy ways, and I will lay upon thee all thy crimes.

Nunc de propinquo effundam iram meam super te et conpleam furorem meum in te et iudicabo te iuxta vias tuas et inponam tibi omnia scelera tua

7:9. And my eye shall not spare, neither will I show mercy: but I will lay thy ways upon thee, and thy abominations shall be in the midst of thee: and you shall know that I am the Lord that strike.

Et non parcet oculus meus neque miserebor sed vias tuas inponam tibi et abominationes tuae in medio tui erunt et scietis quia ego sum Dominus percutiens

7:10. Behold the day, behold it is come: destruction is gone forth, the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded.

Ecce dies ecce venit egressa est contractio floruit virga germinavit superbia

7:11. Iniquity is risen up into a rod of impiety: nothing of them shall remain, nor of their people, nor of the noise of them: and there shall be no rest among them.

Iniquitas surrexit in virga impietatis non ex eis et non ex populo neque ex sonitu eorum et non erit requies in eis

7:12. The time is come, the day is at hand: let not the buyer rejoice: nor the seller mourn: for wrath is upon all the people thereof.

Venit tempus adpropinquavit dies qui emit non laetetur et qui vendit non lugeat quia ira super omnem populum eius

7:13. For the seller shall not return to that which he hath sold, although their life be yet among the living.

For the vision which regardeth all the multitude thereof, shall not go back: neither shall man be strengthened in the iniquity of his life.

Quia qui vendit ad id quod vendidit non revertetur et adhuc in viventibus vita eorum visio enim ad omnem multitudinem eius non regredietur et vir in iniquitate vitae suae non confortabitur

7:14. Blow the trumpet, let all be made ready, yet there is none to go to the battle: for my wrath shall be upon all the people thereof.

Canite tuba praeparentur omnes et non est qui vadat ad proelium ira enim mea super universum populum eius

7:15. The sword without: and the pestilence, and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die by the sword: and they that are in the city, shall be devoured by the pestilence, and the famine.

Gladius foris pestis et fames intrinsecus qui in agro est gladio morietur et qui in civitate pestilentia et fame devorabuntur

7:16. And such of them as shall flee shall escape: and they shall be in the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them trembling, every one for his iniquity.

Et salvabuntur qui fugerint ex eis et erunt in montibus quasi columbae convallium omnes trepidi unusquisque in iniquitate sua

7:17. All hands shall be made feeble, and all knees shall run with water.

Omnes manus dissolventur et omnia genua fluent aquis

7:18. And they shall gird themselves with haircloth, and fear shall cover them and shame shall be upon every face, and baldness upon all their heads.

Et accingent se ciliciis et operiet eos formido et in omni facie confusio et in universis capitibus eorum calvitium

7:19. Their silver shall be cast forth, and their gold shall become a dunghill. Their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the Lord. They shall not satisfy their soul, and their bellies shall not be filled: because it hath been the stumblingblock of their iniquity.

Argentum eorum foris proicietur et aurum eorum in sterquilinum erit argentum eorum et aurum eorum non valebit liberare eos in die furoris Domini animam suam non saturabunt et ventres eorum non implebuntur quia scandalum iniquitatis eorum factum est

7:20. And they have turned the ornament of their jewels into pride, and have made of it the images of their abominations, and idols: therefore I have made it an uncleanness to them.

Et ornamentum monilium suorum in superbiam posuerunt et imagines abominationum suarum et simulacrorum fecerunt ex eo propter hoc dedi eis illud in inmunditiam

7:21. And I will give it into the hands of strangers for spoil, and to the wicked of the earth for a prey, and they shall defile it.

Et dabo illud in manus alienorum ad diripiendum et impiis terrae in praedam et contaminabunt illud

7:22. And I will turn away my face from them, and they shall violate my secret place: and robbers shall enter into it, and defile it.

Et avertam faciem meam ab eis et violabunt arcanum meum et introibunt in illud emissarii et contaminabunt illud

Secret place, etc... Viz., the inward sanctuary, the holy of holies.

7:23. Make a shutting up: for the land is full of the judgment of blood, and the city is full of iniquity.

Fac conclusionem quoniam terra plena est iudicio sanguinum et civitas plena iniquitate

Make a shutting up... In Hebrew, a chain, viz., for imprisonment and captivity.

7:24. And I will bring the worst of the nations, and they shall possess their houses: and I will make the pride of the mighty to cease, and they shall possess their sanctuary.

Et adducam pessimos de gentibus et possidebunt domos eorum et quiescere faciam superbiam potentium et possidebunt sanctuaria eorum

7:25. When distress cometh upon them, they will seek for peace and there shall be none.

Angustia superveniente requirent pacem et non erit

7:26. Trouble shall come upon trouble, and rumour upon rumour, and they shall seek a vision of the prophet, and the law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the ancients.

Conturbatio super conturbationem veniet et auditus super auditum et quaerent visionem de propheta et lex peribit a sacerdote et consilium a senioribus

7:27. The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with sorrow, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled. I will do to them according to their way, and will judge them according to their judgments: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Rex lugebit et princeps induetur maerore et manus populi terrae conturbabuntur secundum viam eorum faciam eis et secundum iudicia eorum iudicabo eos et scient quia ego Dominus

Ezechiel Chapter 8

The prophet sees in a vision the abominations committed in Jerusalem; which determine the Lord to spare them no longer.

8:1. And it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in my house, and the ancients of Juda sat before me, that the hand of the Lord God fell there upon me.

Et factum est in anno sexto in sexto mense in quinta mensis ego sedebam in domo mea et senes Iuda sedebant coram me et cecidit super me ibi manus Domini Dei

8:2. And I saw, and behold a likeness as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loins, and downward, fire: and from his loins, and upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the appearance of amber.

Et vidi et ecce similitudo quasi aspectus ignis ab aspectu lumborum eius et deorsum ignis et a lumbis eius et sursum quasi aspectus splendoris ut visio electri

8:3. And the likeness of a hand was put forth and took me by a lock of my head: and the spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the vision of God into Jerusalem, near the inner gate, that looked toward the north, where was set the idol of jealousy to provoke to jealousy.

Et emissa similitudo manus adprehendit me in cincinno capitis mei et elevavit me spiritus inter terram et caelum et adduxit in Hierusalem in visione Dei iuxta ostium interius quod respiciebat aquilonem ubi erat statutum idolum zeli ad provocandam aemulationem

8:4. And behold the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the vision which I had seen in the plain.

Et ecce ibi gloria Dei Israhel secundum visionem quam videram in campo

8:5. And he said to me: Son of man, lift up thy eyes towards the way of the north, and I lifted up my eyes towards the way of the north: and behold on the north side of the gate of the altar the idol of jealousy in the very entry.

Et dixit ad me fili hominis leva oculos tuos ad viam aquilonis et levavi oculos meos ad viam aquilonis et ecce ab aquilone portae altaris idolum zeli in ipso introitu

8:6. And he said to me: Son of man, dost thou see, thinkest thou, what these are doing, the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here, that I should depart far off from my sanctuary? and turn thee yet again and thou shalt see greater abominations.

Et dixit ad me fili hominis putasne vides tu quid isti faciant abominationes magnas quas domus Israhel facit hic ut procul recedam a sanctuario meo et adhuc conversus videbis abominationes maiores

8:7. And he brought me in to the door of the court: and I saw, and behold a hole in the wall.

Et introduxit me ad ostium atrii et vidi et ecce foramen unum in pariete

8:8. And he said to me: Son of man, dig in the wall, and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door.

Et dixit ad me fili hominis fode parietem et cum perfodissem parietem apparuit ostium unum

8:9. And he said to me: Go in, and see the wicked abominations which they commit here.

Et dixit ad me ingredere et vide abominationes pessimas quas isti faciunt hic

8:10. And I went in and saw, and behold every form of creeping things, and of living creatures, the abominations, and all the idols of the house of Israel, were painted on the wall all round about.

Et ingressus vidi et ecce omnis similitudo reptilium et animalium abominatio et universa idola domus Israhel depicta erant in pariete in circuitu per totum

8:11. And seventy men of the ancients of the house of Israel, and Jezonias the son of Saaphan stood in the midst of them, that stood before the pictures: and every one had a censer in his hand: and a cloud of smoke went up from the incense.

Et septuaginta viri de senioribus domus Israhel et Hiezonias filius Saphan stabat in medio eorum stantium ante picturas et unusquisque habebat turibulum in manu sua et vapor nebulae de ture consurgebat

8:12. And he said to me: Surely thou seest, O son of man, what the ancients of the house of Israel do in the dark, every one in private in his chamber: for they say: The Lord seeth us not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

Et dixit ad me certe vides filii hominis quae seniores domus Israhel faciunt in tenebris unusquisque in abscondito cubiculi sui dicunt enim non videt Dominus nos dereliquit Dominus terram

8:13. And he said to me: If thou turn thee again, thou shalt see greater abominations which these commit.

Et dixit ad me adhuc conversus videbis abominationes maiores quas isti faciunt

8:14. And he brought me in by the door of the gate of the Lord's house, which looked to the north: and behold women sat there mourning for Adonis.

Et introduxit me per ostium portae domus Domini quod respiciebat ad aquilonem et ecce ibi mulieres sedebant plangentes Adonidem

Adonis... The favourite of Venus, slain by a wild boar, as feigned by the heathen poets, and which being here represented by an idol, is lamented by the female worshippers of that goddess. In the Hebrew, the name is Tammuz.

8:15. And he said to me: Surely thou hast seen, O son of man: but turn thee again, thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

Et dixit ad me certe vidisti filii hominis adhuc conversus videbis abominationes maiores his

8:16. And he brought me into the inner court of the house of the Lord: and behold at the door of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men having their backs towards the temple of the Lord, in their faces to the east: and they adored towards the rising of the sun.

Et introduxit me in atrium domus Domini interius et ecce in ostio templi Domini inter vestibulum et altare quasi viginti quinque viri dorsa habentes contra templum Domini et facies ad orientem et adorabant ad ortum solis

8:17. And he said to me: Surely thou hast seen, O son of man: is this a light thing to the house of Juda, that they should commit these abominations which they have committed here: because they have filled the land with iniquity, and have turned to provoke me to anger? and behold they put a branch to their nose.

Et dixit ad me certe vidisti filii hominis numquid leve est hoc domui Iuda ut facerent abominationes istas quas fecerunt hic quia replentes terram iniquitate conversi sunt ad iritandum me et ecce adplicant ramum ad nares suas

8:18. Therefore I also will deal with them in my wrath: my eye shall not spare them, neither will I show mercy: and when they shall cry to my ears with a loud voice, I will not hear them.

Ergo et ego faciam in furore non parces oculus meus nec miserebor et cum clamaverint ad aures meas voce magna non exaudiam eos

Ezechiel Chapter 9

All are ordered to be destroyed that are not marked in their foreheads. God will not be entreated for them.

---

9:1. And he cried in my ears with a loud voice, saying: The visitations of the city are at hand, and every one hath a destroying weapon in his hand.

Et clamavit in auribus meis voce magna dicens adpropinquaverunt visitationes urbis et unusquisque vas interfectionis habet in manu sua

9:2. And behold six men came from the way of the upper gate, which looketh to the north: and each one had his weapon of destruction in his hand: and there was one man in the midst of them clothed with linen, with a writer's inkhorn at his reins: and they went in, and stood by the brazen altar.
