Et ecce mulier quae sanguinis fluxum patiebatur duodecim annis accessit retro et tetigit fimbriam vestimenti eius

9:21. For she said within herself: If I shall touch only his garment, I shall be healed.

Dicebat enim intra se si tetigero tantum vestimentum eius salva ero

9:22. But Jesus turning and seeing her, said: Be of good heart, daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

At Iesus conversus et videns eam dixit confide filia fides tua te salvam fecit et salva facta est mulier ex illa hora

9:23. And when Jesus was come into the house of the ruler, and saw the minstrels and the multitude making a rout,

Et cum venisset Iesus in domum principis et vidisset tibicines et turbam tumultuantem

9:24. He said: Give place, for the girl is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.

Dicebat recedite non est enim mortua puella sed dormit et deridebant eum

9:25. And when the multitude was put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand. And the maid arose.

Et cum eiecta esset turba intravit et tenuit manum eius et surrexit puella

9:26. And the fame hereof went abroad into all that country.

Et exiit fama haec in universam terram illam

9:27. And as Jesus passed from thence, there followed him two blind men crying out and saying, Have mercy on us, O Son of David.

Et transeunte inde Iesu secuti sunt eum duo caeci clamantes et dicentes miserere nostri Fili David

9:28. And when he was come to the house, the blind men came to him. And Jesus saith to them, Do you believe, that I can do this unto you? They say to him, Yea, Lord.

Cum autem venisset domum accesserunt ad eum caeci et dicit eis Iesus creditis quia possum hoc facere vobis dicunt ei utique Domine

9:29. Then he touched their eyes, saying, According to your faith, be it done unto you.

Tunc tetigit oculos eorum dicens secundum fidem vestram fiat vobis

9:30. And their eyes were opened, and Jesus strictly charged them, saying, See that no man know this.

Et aperti sunt oculi illorum et comminatus est illis Iesus dicens videte ne quis sciat

9:31. But they going out, spread his fame abroad in all that country.

Illi autem exeuntes diffamaverunt eum in tota terra illa

9:32. And when they were gone out, behold they brought him a dumb man, possessed with a devil.

Egressis autem illis ecce obtulerunt ei hominem mutum daemonium habentem

9:33. And after the devil was cast out, the dumb man spoke, and the multitudes wondered, saying, Never was the like seen in Israel.

Et eiecto daemone locutus est mutus et miratae sunt turbae dicentes numquam paruit sic in Israhel

9:34. But the Pharisees said, By the prince of devils he casteth out devils.

Pharisaei autem dicebant in principe daemoniorum eicit daemones

9:35. And Jesus went about all the cities and towns, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease, and every infirmity.

Et circumibat Iesus civitates omnes et castella docens in synagogis eorum et praedicans evangelium regni et curans omnem languorem et omnem infirmitatem

9:36. And seeing the multitudes, he had compassion on them: because they were distressed, and lying like sheep that have no shepherd.

Videns autem turbas misertus est eis quia erant vexati et iacentes sicut oves non habentes pastorem

9:37. Then he saith to his disciples, The harvest indeed is great, but the labourers are few.

Tunc dicit discipulis suis messis quidem multa operarii autem pauci

9:38. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into his harvest.

Rogate ergo dominum messis ut eiciat operarios in messem suam

Matthew Chapter 10

Christ sends out his twelve apostles, with the power of miracles. The lessons he gives them.

10:1. And having called his twelve disciples together, he gave them power over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of diseases, and all manner of infirmities.

Et convocatis duodecim discipulis suis dedit illis potestatem spirituum inmundorum ut eicerent eos et curarent omnem languorem et omnem infirmitatem

10:2. And the names of the twelve Apostles are these: The first, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother,

Duodecim autem apostolorum nomina sunt haec primus Simon qui dicitur Petrus et Andreas frater eius

10:3. James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, Philip and Bartholomew, Thomas and Matthew the publican, and James the son of Alpheus, and Thaddeus,

Iacobus Zebedaei et Iohannes frater eius Philippus et Bartholomeus Thomas et Mattheus publicanus et Iacobus Alpei et Thaddeus

10:4. Simon the Cananean, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

Simon Cananeus et Iudas Scariotes qui et tradidit eum

10:5. These twelve Jesus sent: commanding them, saying: Go ye not into the way of the Gentiles, and into the city of the Samaritans enter ye not.

Hos duodecim misit Iesus praeciens eis et dicens in viam gentium ne abieritis et in civitates Samaritanorum ne intraveritis

10:6. But go ye rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

Sed potius ite ad oves quae perierunt domus Israhel

10:7. And going, preach, saying: The kingdom of heaven is at hand.

Euntes autem praedicate dicentes quia adpropinquavit regnum caelorum

10:8. Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out devils: freely have you received, freely give.

Infirmos curate mortuos suscite leprosos mundate daemones eicite gratis accepistis gratis date

10:9. Do not possess gold, nor silver, nor money in your purses:

Nolite possidere aurum neque argentum neque pecuniam in zonis vestris

10:10. Nor scrip for your journey, nor two coats, nor shoes, nor a staff; for the workman is worthy of his meat.

Non peram in via neque duas tunicas neque calciamenta neque virgam dignus enim est operarius cibo suo

10:11. And into whatsoever city or town you shall enter, inquire who in it is worthy, and there abide till you go thence.

In quamcumque civitatem aut castellum intraveritis interrogate quis in ea dignus sit et ibi manete donec exeatis

10:12. And when you come into the house, salute it, saying: Peace be to this house.

Intrantes autem in domum salutate eam

10:13. And if that house be worthy, your peace shall come upon it; but if it be not worthy, your peace shall return to you.

Et siquidem fuerit domus digna veniat pax vestra super eam si autem non fuerit digna pax vestra ad vos revertatur

10:14. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words: going forth out of that house or city shake off the dust from your feet.

Et quicumque non receperit vos neque audierit sermones vestros exeuntes foras de domo vel de civitate excutite pulverem de pedibus vestris

10:15. Amen I say to you, it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city.

Amen dico vobis tolerabilius erit terrae Sodomorum et Gomorraeorum in die iudicii quam illi civitati

10:16. Behold I send you as sheep in the midst of wolves. Be ye therefore wise as serpents and simple as doves.

Ecce ego mitto vos sicut oves in medio luporum estote ergo prudentes sicut serpentes et simplices sicut columbae

Simple... That is, harmless, plain, sincere, and without guile.

10:17. But beware of men. For they will deliver you up in councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues.

Cavete autem ab hominibus tradent enim vos in conciliis et in synagogis suis flagellabunt vos

10:18. And you shall be brought before governors, and before kings for my sake, for a testimony to them and to the Gentiles:

Et ad praesides et ad reges ducemini propter me in testimonium illis et gentibus

10:19. But when they shall deliver you up, take no thought how or what to speak: for it shall be given you in that hour what to speak:

Cum autem tradent vos nolite cogitare quomodo aut quid loquamini dabitur enim vobis in illa hora quid loquamini

10:20. For it is not you that speak, but the spirit of your Father that speaketh in you.

Non enim vos estis qui loquimini sed Spiritus Patris vestri qui loquitur in vobis

10:21. The brother also shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the son; and the children shall rise up against their parents, and shall put them to death.

Tradet autem frater fratrem in mortem et pater filium et insurgent filii in parentes et morte eos adficient

10:22. And you shall be hated by all men for my name's sake: but he that shall persevere unto the end, he shall be saved.

Et eritis odio omnibus propter nomen meum qui autem perseveraverit in finem hic salvus erit

10:23. And when they shall persecute you in this city, flee into another. Amen I say to you, you shall not finish all the cities of Israel, till the Son of man come.

Cum autem persequentur vos in civitate ista fugite in aliam amen enim dico vobis non consummabitis civitates Israhel donec veniat Filius hominis

Non est discipulus super magistrum nec servus super dominum suum

10:25. It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If they have called the good man of the house Beelzebub, how much more them of his household?

Sufficit discipulo ut sit sicut magister eius et servus sicut dominus eius si patrem familias Beelzebub vocaverunt quanto magis domesticos eius

10:26. Therefore fear them not. For nothing is covered that shall not be revealed: nor hid, that shall not be known.

Ne ergo timueritis eos nihil enim opertum quod non revelabitur et occultum quod non scietur

10:27. That which I tell you in the dark, speak ye in the light: and that which you hear in the ear, preach ye upon the housetops.

Quod dico vobis in tenebris dicite in lumine et quod in aure auditis praedicate super tecta

10:28. And fear ye not them that kill the body, and are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him that can destroy both soul and body in hell.

Et nolite timere eos qui occidunt corpus animam autem non possunt occidere sed potius eum timete qui potest et animam et corpus perdere in gehennam

10:29. Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and not one of them shall fall on the ground without your Father.

Nonne duo passerres asse veneunt et unus ex illis non cadet super terram sine Patre vestro

10:30. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.

Vestri autem et capilli capitis omnes numerati sunt

10:31. Fear not therefore: better are you than many sparrows.

Nolite ergo timere multis passeribus meliores estis vos

10:32. Every one therefore that shall confess me before men, I will also confess him before my Father who is in heaven.

Omnis ergo qui confitebitur me coram hominibus confitebor et ego eum coram Patre meo qui est in caelis

10:33. But he that shall deny me before men, I will also deny him before my Father who is in heaven.

Qui autem negaverit me coram hominibus negabo et ego eum coram Patre meo qui est in caelis

10:34. Do not think that I came to send peace upon earth: I came not to send peace, but the sword.

Nolite arbitrari quia venerim mittere pacem in terram non veni pacem mittere sed gladium

10:35. For I came to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

Veni enim separare hominem adversus patrem suum et filiam adversus matrem suam et nurum adversus socrum suam

I came to set a man at variance, etc... Not that this was the end or design of the coming of our Saviour; but that his coming and his doctrine would have this effect, by reason of the obstinate resistance that many would make, and of their persecuting all such as should adhere to him.

10:36. And a man's enemies shall be they of his own household.

Et inimici hominis domestici eius

10:37. He that loveth father or mother more than me, is not worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me, is not worthy of me.

Qui amat patrem aut matrem plus quam me non est me dignus et qui amat filium aut filiam super me non est me dignus

10:38. And he that taketh not up his cross, and followeth me, is not worthy of me.

Et qui non accipit crucem suam et sequitur me non est me dignus

10:39. He that findeth his life, shall lose it: and he that shall lose his life for me, shall find it.

Qui invenit animam suam perdet illam et qui perdidit animam suam propter me inveniet eam

10:40. He that receiveth you, receiveth me: and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.

Qui recipit vos me recipit et qui me recipit recipit eum qui me misit

10:41. He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet, shall receive the reward of a prophet: and he that receiveth a just man in the name of a just man, shall receive the reward of a just man.

Qui recipit prophetam in nomine prophetae mercedem prophetae accipiet et qui recipit iustum in nomine iusti mercedem iusti accipiet

10:42. And whosoever shall give to drink to one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, amen I say to you he shall not lose his reward.

Et quicumque potum dederit uni ex minimis istis calicem aquae frigidae tantum in nomine discipuli amen dico vobis non perdet mercedem suam

Matthew Chapter 11

John sends his disciples to Christ, who upbraids the Jews for their incredulity, and calls to him such as are sensible of their burdens.

11:1. And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he passed from thence, to teach and to preach in their cities.

Et factum est cum consummasset Iesus praecipiens duodecim discipulis suis transiit inde ut doceret et praedicaret in civitatibus eorum

11:2. Now when John had heard in prison the works of Christ: sending two of his disciples he said to him: Iohannes autem cum audisset in vinculis opera Christi mittens duos de discipulis suis

11:3. Art thou he that art to come, or look we for another?
Ait illi tu es qui venturus es an alium expectamus

11:4. And Jesus making answer said to them: Go and relate to John what you have heard and seen.
Et respondens Iesus ait illis euntes renuntiate Iohanni quae auditis et videtis

11:5. The blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead rise again, the poor have the gospel preached to them.

Caeci vident claudi ambulant leprosi mundantur surdi audiunt mortui resurgunt pauperes evangelizantur

11:6. And blessed is he that shall not be scandalized in me.
Et beatus est qui non fuerit scandalizatus in me

Scandalized in me... That is, who shall not take occasion of scandal or offence from my humility, and the disgraceful death of the cross which I shall endure.

11:7. And when they went their way, Jesus began to say to the multitudes concerning John: What went you out into the desert to see? a reed shaken with the wind?

11:8. But what went you out to see? a man clothed in soft garments? Behold they that are clothed in soft garments, are in the houses of kings.

Sed quid existis videre hominem mollibus vestitum ecce qui mollibus vestiuntur in domibus regum sunt

11:9. But what went you out to see? A prophet? Yea I tell you, and more than a prophet.

Sed quid existis videre prophetam etiam dico vobis et plus quam prophetam

11:10. For this is he of whom it is written: Behold I send my angel before my face, who shall prepare thy way before thee.

Hic enim est de quo scriptum est ecce ego mitto angelum meum ante faciem tuam qui praeparabit viam tuam ante te

11:11. Amen I say to you, there hath not risen among them that are born of women a greater than John the Baptist: yet he that is the lesser in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.

Amen dico vobis non surrexit inter natos mulierum maior Iohanne Baptista qui autem minor est in regno caelorum maior est illo

11:12. And from the days of John the Baptist until now, the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent bear it away.

A diebus autem Iohannis Baptistae usque nunc regnum caelorum vim patitur et violenti rapiunt illud

Suffereth violence, etc... It is not to be obtained but by main force, by using violence upon ourselves, by mortification and penance, and resisting our perverse inclinations.

11:13. For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John:

Omnes enim prophetae et lex usque ad Iohannem prophetaverunt

11:14. And if you will receive it, he is Elias that is to come.

Et si vultis recipere ipse est Helias qui venturus est

He is Elias, etc... Not in person, but in spirit (Luke 1:17).

11:15. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

Qui habet aures audiendi audiat

11:16. But whereunto shall I esteem this generation to be like? It is like to children sitting in the market place.

Cui autem similem aestimabo generationem istam similis est pueris sedentibus in foro qui clamantes coequalibus

11:17. Who crying to their companions say: We have piped to you, and you have not danced: we have lamented, and you have not mourned.

Dicunt cecinimus vobis et non saltastis lamentavimus et non planxistis

11:18. For John came neither eating nor drinking; and they say: He hath a devil.

Venit enim Iohannes neque manducans neque bibens et dicunt daemonium habet

11:19. The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say: Behold a man that is a glutton and a wine drinker, a friend of publicans and sinners. And wisdom is justified by her children.

Venit Filius hominis manducans et bibens et dicunt ecce homo vorax et potator vini publicanorum et peccatorum amicus et iustificata est sapientia a filiis suis

11:20. Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein were done the most of his miracles, for that they had not done penance.

Tunc coepit exprobrare civitatibus in quibus factae sunt plurimae virtutes eius quia non egissent paenitentiam

11:21. Woe thee, Corozain, woe to thee, Bethsaida: for if in Tyre and Sidon had been wrought the miracles that have been wrought in you, they had long ago done penance in sackcloth and ashes.

Vae tibi Corozain vae tibi Bethsaida quia si in Tyro et Sidone factae essent virtutes quae factae sunt in vobis olim in cilicio et cinere paenitentiam egissent

11:22. But I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment, than for you.

Verumtamen dico vobis Tyro et Sidoni remissius erit in die iudicii quam vobis

11:23. And thou Capharnaum, shalt thou be exalted up to heaven? thou shalt go down even unto hell. For if in Sodom had been wrought the miracles that have been wrought in thee, perhaps it had remained unto this day.

Et tu Capharnaum numquid usque in caelum exaltaberis usque in infernum descendes quia si in Sodomis factae fuissent virtutes quae factae sunt in te forte mansissent usque in hunc diem

11:24. But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment than for thee.

Verumtamen dico vobis quia terrae Sodomorum remissius erit in die iudicii quam tibi

11:25. At that time Jesus answered and said: I confess to thee, O Father, Lord of Heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them to little ones.

In illo tempore respondens Iesus dixit confiteor tibi Pater Domine caeli et terrae quia abscondisti haec a sapientibus et prudentibus et revelasti ea parvulis

11:26. Yea, Father: for so hath it seemed good in thy sight.

Ita Pater quoniam sic fuit placitum ante te

11:27. All things are delivered to me by my Father. And no one knoweth the Son but the Father: neither doth any one know the Father, but the Son, and he to whom it shall please the Son to reveal him.

Omnia mihi tradita sunt a Patre meo et nemo novit Filium nisi Pater neque Patrem quis novit nisi Filius et cui voluerit Filius revelare

11:28. Come to me all you that labor and are burdened, and I will refresh you.

Venite ad me omnes qui laboratis et onerati estis et ego reficiam vos

11:29. Take up my yoke upon you, and learn of me, because I am meek, and humble of heart: And you shall find rest to your souls.

Tollite iugum meum super vos et discite a me quia mitis sum et humilis corde et invenietis requiem animabus vestris

11:30. For my yoke is sweet and my burden light.

Iugum enim meum suave est et onus meum leve est

Matthew Chapter 12

Christ reproves the blindness of the Pharisees, and confutes their attributing his miracles to Satan.

12:1. At that time Jesus went through the corn on the sabbath: and his disciples being hungry, began to pluck the ears, and to eat.

In illo tempore abiit Iesus sabbato per sata discipuli autem eius esurientes coeperunt vellere spicas et manducare

12:2. And the Pharisees seeing them, said to him: Behold thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath days.

Pharisaei autem videntes dixerunt ei ecce discipuli tui faciunt quod non licet eis facere sabbatis

12:3. But he said to them: Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, and they that were with him:

At ille dixit eis non legistis quid fecerit David quando esuriit et qui cum eo erant

12:4. How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the loaves of proposition, which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor for them that were with him, but for the priests only?

Quomodo intravit in domum Dei et panes propositionis comedit quos non licebat ei edere neque his qui cum eo erant nisi solis sacerdotibus

The loaves of proposition... So were called the twelve loaves which were placed before the sanctuary in the temple of God.

12:5. Or have ye not read in the law, that on the sabbath days the priests in the temple break the sabbath, and are without blame?

Aut non legistis in lege quia sabbatis sacerdotes in templo sabbatum violant et sine crimine sunt

12:6. But I tell you that there is here a greater than the temple.

Dico autem vobis quia templo maior est hic

12:7. And if you knew what this meaneth: I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: you would never have condemned the innocent.

Si autem sciretis quid est misericordiam volo et non sacrificium numquam condemnassetis innocentes

12:8. For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath.

Dominus est enim Filius hominis etiam sabbati

12:9. And when he had passed from thence, he came into their synagogues.

Et cum inde transisset venit in synagogam eorum

12:10. And behold there was a man who had a withered hand, and they asked him, saying: Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.

Et ecce homo manum habens aridam et interrogabant eum dicentes si licet sabbatis curare ut accusarent eum

12:11. But he said to them: What man shall there be among you, that hath one sheep: and if the same fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not take hold on it and lift it up?

Ipse autem dixit illis quis erit ex vobis homo qui habeat ovem unam et si ceciderit haec sabbatis in foveam nonne tenebit et levabit eam

12:12. How much better is a man than a sheep? Therefore it is lawful to do a good deed on the sabbath days.

Quanto magis melior est homo ove itaque licet sabbatis benefacere

12:13. Then he saith to the man: Stretch forth thy hand; and he stretched it forth, and it was restored to health even as the other.

Tunc ait homini extende manum tuam et extendit et restituta est sanitati sicut altera

12:14. And the Pharisees going out made a consultation against him, how they might destroy him.

Exeuntes autem Phariseae consilium faciebant adversus eum quomodo eum perderent

12:15. But Jesus knowing it, retired from thence: and many followed him, and he healed them all.

Jesus autem sciens recessit inde et secuti sunt eum multi et curavit eos omnes

12:16. And he charged them that they should not make him known.

Et praecepit eis ne manifestum eum facerent

12:17. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaias the prophet, saying:

Ut adimpleretur quod dictum est per Esaiam prophetam dicentem

12:18. Behold my servant whom I have chosen, my beloved in whom my soul hath been well pleased. I will put my spirit upon him, and he shall show judgment to the Gentiles.

Ecce puer meus quem elegi dilectus meus in quo bene placuit animae meae ponam spiritum meum super eum et iudicium gentibus nuntiabit

12:19. He shall not contend, nor cry out, neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.

Non contendet neque clamabit neque audiet aliquis in plateis vocem eius

12:20. The bruised reed he shall not break: and smoking flax he shall not extinguish: till he send forth judgment unto victory.

Harundinem quassatam non confringet et linum fumigans non extinguet donec eiciat ad victoriam iudicium

12:21. And in his name the Gentiles shall hope.

Et in nomine eius gentes sperabunt

12:22. Then was offered to him one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb: and he healed him, so that he spoke and saw.

Tunc oblatus est ei daemonium habens caecus et mutus et curavit eum ita ut loqueretur et videret

12:23. And all the multitudes were amazed, and said: Is not this the son of David?

Et stupebant omnes turbae et dicebant numquid hic est Filius David

12:24. But the Pharisees hearing it, said: This man casteth not out devils but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils.

Phariseae autem audientes dixerunt hic non eicit daemones nisi in Beelzebub principe daemoniorum

12:25. And Jesus knowing their thoughts, said to them: Every kingdom divided against itself shall be made desolate: and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand.

Jesus autem sciens cogitationes eorum dixit eis omne regnum divisum contra se desolatur et omnis civitas vel domus divisa contra se non stabit

12:26. And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself: how then shall his kingdom stand?

Et si Satanus Satanam eicit adversus se divisus est quomodo ergo stabit regnum eius

12:27. And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore they shall be your judges.

Et si ego in Beelzebub eicio daemones filii vestri in quo eiciunt ideo ipsi iudices erunt vestri

12:28. But if I by the Spirit of God cast out devils, then is the kingdom of God come upon you.

Si autem ego in Spiritu Dei eicio daemones igitur pervenit in vos regnum Dei

12:29. Or how can any one enter into the house of the strong, and rifle his goods, unless he first bind the strong? and then he will rifle his house.

Aut quomodo potest quisquam intrare in domum fortis et vasa eius diripere nisi prius alligaverit fortem et tunc domum illius diripiat

12:30. He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

Qui non est mecum contra me est et qui non congregat mecum spargit

12:31. Therefore I say to you: Every sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven men, but the blasphemy of the Spirit shall not be forgiven.

Ideo dico vobis omne peccatum et blasphemia remittetur hominibus Spiritus autem blasphemia non remittetur

The blasphemy of the Spirit... The sin here spoken of is that blasphemy, by which the Pharisees attributed the miracles of Christ, wrought by the Spirit of God, to Beelzebub the prince of devils. Now this kind of sin is usually accompanied with so much obstinacy, and such wilful opposing the Spirit of God, and the known truth, that men who are guilty of it, are seldom or never converted: and therefore are never forgiven, because they will not repent. Otherwise there is no sin, which God cannot or will not forgive to such as sincerely repent, and have recourse to the keys of the church.

12:32. And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but he that shall speak against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him neither in this world, nor in the world to come.

Et quicumque dixerit verbum contra Filium hominis remittetur ei qui autem dixerit contra Spiritum Sanctum non remittetur ei neque in hoc saeculo neque in futuro

Nor in the world to come... From these words St. Augustine (De Civ. Dei, lib. 21, c. 13) and St. Gregory (Dialog., 4, c. 39) gather, that some sins may be remitted in the world to come; and, consequently, that there is a purgatory or a middle place.

12:33. Either make the tree good and its fruit good: or make the tree evil, and its fruit evil. For by the fruit the tree is known.

Aut facite arborem bonam et fructum eius bonum aut facite arborem malam et fructum eius malum siquidem ex fructu arbor agnoscitur

12:34. O generation of vipers, how can you speak good things, whereas you are evil? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

Progenies viperarum quomodo potestis bona loqui cum sitis mali ex abundantia enim cordis os loquitur

12:35. A good man out of a good treasure bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of an evil treasure bringeth forth evil things.

Bonus homo de bono thesauro profert bona et malus homo de malo thesauro profert mala

12:36. But I say unto you, that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall render an account for it in the day of judgment.

Dico autem vobis quoniam omne verbum otiosum quod locuti fuerint homines reddent rationem de eo in die iudicii

Every idle word... This shows there must be a place of temporal punishment hereafter where these slighter faults shall be punished.

12:37. For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

Ex verbis enim tuis iustificaberis et ex verbis tuis condemnaberis

12:38. Then some of the scribes and Pharisees answered him, saying: Master, we would see a sign from thee.

Tunc responderunt ei quidam de scribis et Pharisaeis dicentes magister volumus a te signum videre

A sign... That is, a miracle from heaven. [Luke 11:16]

12:39. Who answering said to them: An evil and adulterous generation seeketh a sign: and a sign shall not be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet.

Qui respondens ait illis generatio mala et adultera signum quaerit et signum non dabitur ei nisi signum Ioniae prophetae

12:40. For as Jonas was in the whale's belly three days and three nights: so shall the Son of man be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights.

Sicut enim fuit Ionas in ventre ceti tribus diebus et tribus noctibus sic erit Filius hominis in corde terrae tribus diebus et tribus noctibus

Three days, etc... Not complete days and nights; but part of three days, and three nights taken according to the way that the Hebrews counted their days and nights, viz., from evening to evening.

12:41. The men of Ninive shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because they did penance at the preaching of Jonas. And behold a greater than Jonas here.

Viri ninevitae surgent in iudicio cum generatione ista et condemnabunt eam quia paenitentiam egerunt in praedicatione Ioniae et ecce plus quam Iona hic

12:42. The queen of the south shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold a greater than Solomon here.

Regina austri surget in iudicio cum generatione ista et condemnabit eam quia venit a finibus terrae audire sapientiam Salomonis et ecce plus quam Salomon hic

12:43. And when an unclean spirit is gone out of a man he walketh through dry places seeking rest, and findeth none.

Cum autem immundus spiritus exierit ab homine ambulat per loca arida quaerens requiem et non invenit

12:44. Then he saith: I will return into my house from whence I came out. And coming he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.

Tunc dicit revertar in domum meam unde exivi et veniens invenit vacantem scopis mundatam et ornatam

12:45. Then he goeth, and taketh with him seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is made worse than the first. So shall it be also to this wicked generation.

Tunc vadit et adsumit septem alios spiritus secum nequiores se et intrantes habitant ibi et fiunt novissima hominis illius peiora prioribus sic erit et generationi huic pessimae

12:46. As he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold his mother and his brethren stood without, seeking to speak to him.

Adhuc eo loquente ad turbas ecce mater eius et fratres stabant foris quaerentes loqui ei

12:47. And one said unto him: Behold thy mother and thy brethren stand without, seeking thee.

Dixit autem ei quidam ecce mater tua et fratres tui foris stant quaerentes te

12:48. But he answering him that told him, said: Who is my mother, and who are my brethren?

At ipse respondens dicenti sibi ait quae est mater mea et qui sunt fratres mei

Who is my mother?... This was not spoken by way of slighting his mother, but to show that we are never to suffer ourselves to be taken from the service of God, by any inordinate affection to our earthly parents: and that which our Lord chiefly regarded in his mother, was her doing the will of his Father in heaven. It may also further allude to the reprobation of the Jews, his carnal kindred, and the election of the Gentiles.

12:49. And stretching forth his hand towards his disciples, he said: Behold my mother and my brethren.

Et extendens manum in discipulos suos dixit ecce mater mea et fratres mei

12:50. For whosoever shall do the will of my Father, that is in heaven, he is my brother, and sister, and mother.

Quicumque enim fecerit voluntatem Patris mei qui in caelis est ipse meus et frater et soror et mater est

Matthew Chapter 13

The parables of the sower and the cockle: of the mustardseed, etc.

13:1. The same day Jesus going out of the house, sat by the sea side.

In illo die exiens Iesus de domo sedebat secus mare

13:2. And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went up into a boat and sat: and all the multitude stood on the shore.

Et congregatae sunt ad eum turbae multae ita ut in naviculam ascendens sederet et omnis turba stabat in litore

13:3. And he spoke to them many things in parables, saying: Behold the sower went forth to sow.

Et locutus est eis multa in parabolis dicens ecce exiit qui seminat seminare

13:4. And whilst he soweth some fell by the way side, and the birds of the air came and ate them up.

Et dum seminat quaedam ceciderunt secus viam et venerunt volucres et comederunt ea

13:5. And other some fell upon stony ground, where they had not much earth: and they sprung up immediately, because they had no deepness of earth.

Alia autem ceciderunt in petrosa ubi non habebat terram multam et continuo exorta sunt quia non habebant altitudinem terrae

13:6. And when the sun was up they were scorched: and because they had not root, they withered away.

Sole autem orto aestuaverunt et quia non habebant radicem aruerunt

13:7. And others fell among thorns: and the thorns grew up and choked them.

Alia autem ceciderunt in spinas et creverunt spinae et suffocaverunt ea

13:8. And others fell upon good ground: and they brought forth fruit, some an hundred fold, some sixty fold, and some thirty fold.

Alia vero ceciderunt in terram bonam et dabant fructum aliud centesimum aliud sexagesimum aliud tricesimum

13:9. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

Qui habet aures audiendi audiat

13:10. And his disciples came and said to him: Why speakest thou to them in parables?

Et accedentes discipuli dixerunt ei quare in parabolis loqueris eis

13:11. Who answered and said to them: Because to you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven: but to them it is not given.

Qui respondens ait illis quia vobis datum est nosse mysteria regni caelorum illis autem non est datum

13:12. For he that hath, to him shall be given, and he shall abound: but he that hath not, from him shall be taken away that also which he hath.

Qui enim habet dabitur ei et abundabit qui autem non habet et quod habet auferetur ab eo

13:13. Therefore do I speak to them in parables: because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

Ideo in parabolis loquor eis quia videntes non vident et audientes non audiunt neque intellegunt

13:14. And the prophecy of Isaias is fulfilled in them, who saith: By hearing you shall hear, and shall not understand: and seeing you shall see, and shall not perceive.

Et adimpletur eis prophetia Esaiae dicens auditu audietis et non intellegitis et videntes videbitis et non videbitis

13:15. For the heart of this people is grown gross, and with their ears they have been dull of hearing, and their eyes they have shut: lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.

Incrassatum est enim cor populi huius et auribus graviter audierunt et oculos suos cluserunt nequando oculis videant et auribus audiant et corde intellegant et convertantur et sanem eos

13:16. But blessed are your eyes, because they see, and your ears, because they hear.

Vestri autem beati oculi quia vident et aures vestrae quia audiunt

13:17. For, amen, I say to you, many prophets and just men have desired to see the things that you see, and have not seen them: and to hear the things that you hear and have not heard them.

Amen quippe dico vobis quia multi prophetae et iusti cupierunt videre quae videtis et non viderunt et audire quae auditis et non audierunt

13:18. Hear you therefore the parable of the sower.

Vos ergo audite parabolam seminantis

13:19. When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, there cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart: this is he that received the seed by the way side.

Omnis qui audit verbum regni et non intellegit venit malus et rapit quod seminatum est in corde eius hic est qui secus viam seminatus est

13:20. And he that received the seed upon stony ground, is he that heareth the word, and immediately receiveth it with joy.

Qui autem supra petrosa seminatus est hic est qui verbum audit et continuo cum gaudio accipit illud

13:21. Yet hath he not root in himself, but is only for a time: and when there ariseth tribulation and persecution because of the word, he is presently scandalized.

Non habet autem in se radicem sed est temporalis facta autem tribulatione et persecutione propter verbum continuo scandalizatur

13:22. And he that received the seed among thorns, is he that heareth the word, and the care of this world and the deceitfulness of riches choketh up the word, and he becometh fruitless.

Qui autem est seminatus in spinis hic est qui verbum audit et sollicitudo saeculi istius et fallacia divitiarum suffocat verbum et sine fructu efficitur

13:23. But he that received the seed upon good ground, is he that heareth the word, and understandeth, and beareth fruit, and yieldeth the one an hundredfold, and another sixty, and another thirty.

Qui vero in terra bona seminatus est hic est qui audit verbum et intellegit et fructum adfert et facit aliud quidem centum aliud autem sexaginta porro aliud triginta

13:24. Another parable he proposed to them, saying: The kingdom of heaven is likened to a man that sowed good seed in his field.

Aliam parabolam proposuit illis dicens simile factum est regnum caelorum homini qui seminavit bonum semen in agro suo

13:25. But while men were asleep, his enemy came and oversowed cockle among the wheat and went his way.

Cum autem dormirent homines venit inimicus eius et superseminavit zizania in medio tritici et abiit

13:26. And when the blade was sprung up, and had brought forth fruit, then appeared also the cockle.

Cum autem crevisset herba et fructum fecisset tunc apparuerunt et zizania

13:27. And the servants of the good man of the house coming said to him. Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? Whence then hath it cockle?

Accedentes autem servi patris familias dixerunt ei domine nonne bonum semen seminasti in agro tuo unde ergo habet zizania

13:28. And he said to them: An enemy hath done this. And the servants said to him: Wilt thou that we go and gather it up?

Et ait illis inimicus homo hoc fecit servi autem dixerunt ei vis imus et colligimus ea

13:29. And he said: No, lest perhaps gathering up the cockle, you root up the wheat also together with it.
Et ait non ne forte colligentes zizania eradicetis simul cum eis et triticum

13:30. Suffer both to grow until the harvest, and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers: Gather up first the cockle, and bind it into bundles to burn, but the wheat gather ye into my barn.
Sinite utraque crescere usque ad messem et in tempore messis dicam messoribus colligite primum zizania et alligate ea fasciculos ad conburendum triticum autem congregate in horreum meum

13:31. Another parable he proposed unto them, saying: The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field.
Aliam parabolam proposuit eis dicens simile est regnum caelorum grano sinapis quod accipiens homo seminavit in agro suo

13:32. Which is the least indeed of all seeds; but when it is grown up, it is greater than all herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come, and dwell in the branches thereof.
Quod minimum quidem est omnibus seminibus cum autem creverit maius est omnibus holeribus et fit arbor ita ut volucres caeli veniant et habitent in ramis eius

13:33. Another parable he spoke to them: The kingdom of heaven is like to leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, until the whole was leavened.
Aliam parabolam locutus est eis simile est regnum caelorum fermento quod acceptum mulier abscondit in farinae satis tribus donec fermentatum est totum

13:34. All these things Jesus spoke in parables to the multitudes: and without parables he did not speak to them.
Haec omnia locutus est Iesus in parabolis ad turbas et sine parabolis non loquebatur eis

13:35. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying: I will open my mouth in parables, I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world.
Ut impleretur quod dictum erat per prophetam dicentem aperiam in parabolis os meum eructabo abscondita a constitutione mundi

13:36. Then having sent away the multitudes, he came into the house, and his disciples came to him, saying: Expound to us the parable of the cockle of the field.
Tunc dimissis turbis venit in domum et accesserunt ad eum discipuli eius dicentes dissere nobis parabolam zizaniorum agri

13:37. Who made answer and said to them: He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man.
Qui respondens ait qui seminat bonum semen est Filius hominis

13:38. And the field is the world. And the good seed are the children of the kingdom. And the cockle are the children of the wicked one.
Ager autem est mundus bonum vero semen hii sunt filii regni zizania autem filii sunt nequam

13:39. And the enemy that sowed them, is the devil. But the harvest is the end of the world. And the reapers are the angels.
Inimicus autem qui seminavit ea est diabolus messis vero consummatio saeculi est messorum autem angeli sunt

13:40. Even as cockle therefore is gathered up, and burnt with fire: so shall it be at the end of the world.
Sicut ergo colliguntur zizania et igni conburuntur sic erit in consummatione saeculi

13:41. The Son of man shall send his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all scandals, and them that work iniquity.
Mittet Filius hominis angelos suos et colligent de regno eius omnia scandala et eos qui faciunt iniquitatem

13:42. And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.
Et mittent eos in caminum ignis ibi erit fletus et stridor dentium

13:43. Then shall the just shine as the sun, in the kingdom of their Father. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

Tunc iusti fulgebunt sicut sol in regno Patris eorum qui habet aures audiat

13:44. The kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hidden in a field. Which a man having found, hid it, and for joy thereof goeth, and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

Simile est regnum caelorum thesauro abscondito in agro quem qui invenit homo abscondit et prae gaudio illius vadit et vendit universa quae habet et emit agrum illum

13:45. Again the kingdom of heaven is like to a merchant seeking good pearls.

Iterum simile est regnum caelorum homini negotiatori quaerenti bonas margaritas

13:46. Who when he had found one pearl of great price, went his way, and sold all that he had, and bought it.

Inventa autem una pretiosa margarita abiit et vendidit omnia quae habuit et emit eam

13:47. Again the kingdom of heaven is like to a net cast into the sea, and gathering together of all kinds of fishes.

Iterum simile est regnum caelorum sagenae missae in mare et ex omni genere congreganti

13:48. Which, when it was filled, they drew out, and sitting by the shore, they chose out the good into vessels, but the bad they cast forth.

Quam cum impleta esset educentes et secus litus sedentes elegerunt bonos in vasa malos autem foras miserunt

13:49. So shall it be at the end of the world. The angels shall go out, and shall separate the wicked from among the just.

Sic erit in consummatione saeculi exhibunt angeli et separabunt malos de medio iustorum

13:50. And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Et mittent eos in caminum ignis ibi erit fletus et stridor dentium

13:51. Have ye understood all these things? They say to him: Yes.

Intellexistis haec omnia dicunt ei etiam

13:52. He said unto them: Therefore every scribe instructed in the kingdom of heaven, is like to a man that is a householder, who bringeth forth out of his treasure new things and old.

Ait illis ideo omnis scriba doctus in regno caelorum similis est homini patri familias qui profert de thesauro suo nova et vetera

13:53. And it came to pass: when Jesus had finished these parables, he passed from thence.

Et factum est cum consummasset Iesus parabolam istam transiit inde

13:54. And coming into his own country, he taught them in their synagogues, so that they wondered and said: How came this man by this wisdom and miracles?

Et veniens in patriam suam docebat eos in synagogis eorum ita ut mirarentur et dicerent unde huic sapientia haec et virtutes

13:55. Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary, and his brethren James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Jude:

Nonne hic est fabri filius nonne mater eius dicitur Maria et fratres eius Iacobus et Ioseph et Simon et Iudas His brethren... These were the children of Mary the wife of Cleophas, sister to our Blessed Lady, (Matthew 27:56; John 19:25), and therefore, according to the usual style of the Scripture, they were called brethren, that is, near relations to our Saviour.

13:56. And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence therefore hath he all these things?

Et sorores eius nonne omnes apud nos sunt unde ergo huic omnia ista

13:57. And they were scandalized in his regard. But Jesus said to them: A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

Et scandalizabantur in eo Iesus autem dixit eis non est propheta sine honore nisi in patria sua et in domo sua

13:58. And he wrought not many miracles there, because of their unbelief.

Et non fecit ibi virtutes multas propter incredulitatem illorum

Matthew Chapter 14

Herod puts John to death. Christ feeds five thousand in the desert. He walks upon the sea, and heals all the diseased with the touch of his garment.

14:1. At that time Herod the Tetrarch heard the fame of Jesus.

In illo tempore audiit Herodes tetrarcha famam Iesu

Tetrarch... This word, derived from the Greek, signifies one that rules over the fourth part of a kingdom: as Herod then ruled over Galilee, which was but the fourth part of the kingdom of his father.

14:2. And he said to his servants: This is John the Baptist: he is risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works show forth themselves in him.

Et ait pueris suis hic est Iohannes Baptista ipse surrexit a mortuis et ideo virtutes inoperantur in eo

14:3. For Herod had apprehended John and bound him, and put him into prison, because of Herodias, his brother's wife.

Herodes enim tenuit Iohannem et alligavit eum et posuit in carcere propter Herodiam uxorem fratris sui

14:4. For John said to him: It is not lawful for thee to have her.

Dicebat enim illi Iohannes non licet tibi habere eam

14:5. And having a mind to put him to death, he feared the people: because they esteemed him as a prophet.

Et volens illum occidere timuit populum quia sicut prophetam eum habebant

14:6. But on Herod's birthday, the daughter of Herodias danced before them: and pleased Herod.

Die autem natalis Herodis saltavit filia Herodias in medio et placuit Herodi

14:7. Whereupon he promised with an oath, to give her whatsoever she would ask of him.

Unde cum iuramento pollicitus est ei dare quodcumque postulasset ab eo

14:8. But she being instructed before by her mother, said: Give me here in a dish the head of John the Baptist.

At illa praemonita a matre sua da mihi inquit hic in disco caput Iohannis Baptistae

14:9. And the king was struck sad: yet because of his oath, and for them that sat with him at table, he commanded it to be given.

Et contristatus est rex propter iuramentum autem et eos qui pariter recumbebant iussit dari

14:10. And he sent, and beheaded John in the prison.

Misitque et decollavit Iohannem in carcere

14:11. And his head was brought in a dish: and it was given to the damsel, and she brought it to her mother.

Et adlatum est caput eius in disco et datum est puellae et tulit matri suae

14:12. And his disciples came and took the body, and buried it, and came and told Jesus.

Et accedentes discipuli eius tulerunt corpus et sepelierunt illud et venientes nuntiaverunt Iesu

14:13. Which when Jesus had heard, he retired from thence by a boat, into a desert place apart, and the multitudes having heard of it, followed him on foot out of the cities.

Quod cum audisset Iesus secessit inde in navicula in locum desertum seorsum et cum audissent turbae secutae sunt eum pedestres de civitatibus

14:14. And he coming forth saw a great multitude, and had compassion on them, and healed their sick.
Et exiens vidit turbam multam et misertus est eius et curavit languidos eorum

14:15. And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying: This is a desert place, and the hour is now passed: send away the multitudes, that going into the towns, they may buy themselves victuals.
Vespere autem facto accesserunt ad eum discipuli eius dicentes desertus est locus et hora iam praeteriit dimitte turbas ut euntes in castella emant sibi escas

14:16. But Jesus said to them, They have no need to go: give you them to eat.
Iesus autem dixit eis non habent necesse ire date illis vos manducare

14:17. They answered him: We have not here, but five loaves, and two fishes.
Responderunt ei non habemus hic nisi quinque panes et duos pisces

14:18. Who said to them: Bring them hither to me.
Qui ait eis adferte illos mihi huc

14:19. And when he had commanded the multitude to sit down upon the grass, he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes.
Et cum iussisset turbam discumbere supra faenum acceptis quinque panibus et duobus piscibus aspiciens in caelum benedixit et fregit et dedit discipulis panes discipuli autem turbis

14:20. And they did all eat, and were filled. And they took up what remained, twelve full baskets of fragments.
Et manducaverunt omnes et saturati sunt et tulerunt reliquias duodecim cofinos fragmentorum plenos

14:21. And the number of them that did eat, was five thousand men, besides women and children.
Manducantium autem fuit numerus quinque milia virorum exceptis mulieribus et parvulis

14:22. And forthwith Jesus obliged his disciples to go up into the boat, and to go before him over the water, till he dismissed the people.
Et statim iussit discipulos ascendere in navicula et praecedere eum trans fretum donec dimitteret turbas

14:23. And having dismissed the multitude, he went into a mountain alone to pray. And when it was evening, he was there alone.
Et dimissa turba ascendit in montem solus orare vespere autem facto solus erat ibi

14:24. But the boat in the midst of the sea was tossed with the waves: for the wind was contrary.
Navicula autem in medio mari iactabatur fluctibus erat enim contrarius ventus

14:25. And in the fourth watch of the night, he came to them walking upon the sea.
Quarta autem vigilia noctis venit ad eos ambulans supra mare

14:26. And they seeing him walking upon the sea, were troubled, saying: It is an apparition. And they cried out for fear.
Et videntes eum supra mare ambulantem turbati sunt dicentes quia fantasma est et prae timore clamaverunt

14:27. And immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying: Be of good heart: it is I, fear ye not.
Statimque Iesus locutus est eis dicens habete fiduciam ego sum nolite timere

14:28. And Peter making answer, said: Lord, if it be thou, bid me come to thee upon the waters.
Respondens autem Petrus dixit Domine si tu es iube me venire ad te super aquas

14:29. And he said: Come. And Peter going down out of the boat walked upon the water to come to Jesus.
At ipse ait veni et descendens Petrus de navicula ambulabat super aquam ut veniret ad Iesum

14:30. But seeing the wind strong, he was afraid: and when he began to sink, he cried out, saying: Lord, save me.
Videns vero ventum validum timuit et cum coepisset mergi clamavit dicens Domine salvum me fac

14:31. And immediately Jesus stretching forth his hand took hold of him, and said to him: O thou of little faith, why didst thou doubt?

Et continuo Iesus extendens manum adprehendit eum et ait illi modicae fidei quare dubitasti

14:32. And when they were come up into the boat, the wind ceased.

Et cum ascendissent in naviculam cessavit ventus

14:33. And they that were in the boat came and adored him, saying: Indeed thou art the Son of God.

Qui autem in navicula erant venerunt et adoraverunt eum dicentes vere Filius Dei es

14:34. And having passed the water, they came into the country of Genesar.

Et cum transfretassent venerunt in terram Gennesar

14:35. And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent into all that country, and brought to him all that were diseased.

Et cum cognovissent eum viri loci illius miserunt in universam regionem illam et obtulerunt ei omnes male habentes

14:36. And they besought him that they might touch but the hem of his garment. And as many as touched, were made whole.

Et rogabant eum ut vel fimbriam vestimenti eius tangerent et quicumque tetigerunt salvi facti sunt

Matthew Chapter 15

Christ reproves the Scribes. He cures the daughter of the woman of Canaan: and many others: and feeds four thousand with seven loaves.

15:1. Then came to him from Jerusalem scribes and Pharisees, saying:
Tunc accesserunt ad eum ab Hierosolymis scribae et Pharisaei dicentes

15:2. Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the ancients? For they wash not their hands when they eat bread.
Quare discipuli tui transgrediuntur traditionem seniorum non enim lavant manus suas cum panem manducant

15:3. But he answering, said to them: Why do you also transgress the commandment of God for your tradition? For God said:
Ipse autem respondens ait illis quare et vos transgredimini mandatum Dei propter traditionem vestram

15:4. Honour thy father and mother: And: He that shall curse father or mother, let him die the death.
Nam Deus dixit honora patrem et matrem et qui maledixerit patri vel matri morte moriatur

15:5. But you say: Whosoever shall say to father or mother, The gift whatsoever proceedeth from me, shall profit thee.
Vos autem dicitis quicumque dixerit patri vel matri munus quodcumque est ex me tibi proderit

The gift, etc... That is, the offering that I shall make to God, shall be instead of that which should be expended for thy profit. This tradition of the Pharisees was calculated to enrich themselves; by exempting children from giving any further assistance to their parents, if they once offered to the temple and the priests, that which should have been the support of their parents. But this was a violation of the law of God, and of nature, which our Saviour here condemns.

15:6. And he shall not honour his father or his mother: and you have made void the commandment of God for your tradition.
Et non honorificabit patrem suum aut matrem et irritum fecistis mandatum Dei propter traditionem vestram

15:7. Hypocrites, well hath Isaias prophesied of you, saying:
Hypocritae bene prophetavit de vobis Esaias dicens

15:8. This people honoureth me with their lips: but their heart is far from me.
Populus hic labiis me honorat cor autem eorum longe est a me

15:9. And in vain do they worship me, teaching doctrines and commandments of men.
Sine causa autem colunt me docentes doctrinas mandata hominum

Commandments of men... The doctrines and commandments here reprehended are such as are either contrary to the law of God, (as that of neglecting parents, under pretence of giving to God), or at least are frivolous, unprofitable, and no ways conducing to true piety, as that of often washing hands, etc., without regard to the purity of the heart. But as to the rules and ordinances of the holy church, touching fasts, festivals, etc., these are no ways repugnant to, but highly agreeable to God's holy word, and all Christian piety: neither are they to be counted among the doctrines and commandments of men; because they proceed not from mere human authority; but from that which Christ has established in his church: whose pastors he has commanded us to hear and obey, even as himself. Luke 10:16; Matthew 18:17.

15:10. And having called together the multitudes unto him, he said to them: Hear ye and understand.
Et convocatis ad se turbis dixit eis audite et intellegite

15:11. Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man: but what cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.
Non quod intrat in os coinquinat hominem sed quod procedit ex ore hoc coinquinat hominem

Not that which goeth into, etc... No uncleanness in meat, nor any dirt contracted by eating it with unwashed hands, can defile the soul: but sin alone; or a disobedience of the heart to the ordinance and will of God. And thus when Adam took the forbidden fruit, it was not the apple, which entered into the mouth, but the disobedience to the law of God which defiled him. The same is to be said if a Jew, in the time of the old law, had eaten swine's flesh; or a Christian convert, in the days of the apostles, contrary to their ordinance, had eaten blood; or if any of the faithful at present should transgress the ordinance of God's church, by breaking the fasts: for in all these cases the soul would be defiled; not indeed by that which goeth into the mouth; but by the disobedience of the heart, in wilfully transgressing the ordinance of God, or of those who have their authority from him.

15:12. Then came his disciples, and said to him: Dost thou know that the Pharisees, when they heard this word, were scandalized?

Tunc accedentes discipuli eius dixerunt ei scis quia Pharisei audito verbo scandalizati sunt

15:13. But he answering, said: Every plant which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

At ille respondens ait omnis plantatio quam non plantavit Pater meus caelestis eradicabitur

15:14. Let them alone: they are blind, and leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both fall into the pit.

Sinite illos caeci sunt duces caecorum caecus autem si caeco ducatum praestet ambo in foveam cadunt

15:15. And Peter answering, said to him: Expound to us this parable.

Respondens autem Petrus dixit ei edissere nobis parabolam istam

15:16. But he said: Are you also yet without understanding?

At ille dixit adhuc et vos sine intellectu estis

15:17. Do you not understand, that whatsoever entereth into the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the privy?

Non intellegitis quia omne quod in os intrat in ventrem vadit et in secessum emittitur

15:18. But the things which proceed out of the mouth, come forth from the heart, and those things defile a man.

Quae autem procedunt de ore de corde exeunt et ea coinquant hominem

15:19. For from the heart come forth evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false testimonies, blasphemies.

De corde enim exeunt cogitationes malae homicidia adulteria fornicationes furta falsa testimonia blasphemiae

15:20. These are the things that defile a man. But to eat with unwashed hands doth not defile a man.

Haec sunt quae coinquant hominem non lotis autem manibus manducare non coinquant hominem

15:21. And Jesus went from thence, and retired into the coast of Tyre and Sidon.

Et egressus inde Iesus secessit in partes Tyri et Sidonis

15:22. And behold a woman of Canaan who came out of those coasts, crying out, said to him: Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David: my daughter is grievously troubled by a devil.

Et ecce mulier chananea a finibus illis egressa clamavit dicens ei miserere mei Domine Fili David filia mea male a daemonio vexatur

15:23. Who answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying: Send her away, for she crieth after us:

Qui non respondit ei verbum et accedentes discipuli eius rogabant eum dicentes dimitte eam quia clamat post nos

15:24. And he answering, said: I was not sent but to the sheep, that are lost of the house of Israel.

Ipse autem respondens ait non sum missus nisi ad oves quae perierunt domus Israhel

15:25. But she came and adored him, saying: Lord, help me.

At illa venit et adoravit eum dicens Domine adiuva me

15:26. Who answering, said: It is not good to take the bread of the children, and to cast it to the dogs.

Qui respondens ait non est bonum sumere panem filiorum et mittere canibus

15:27. But she said: Yea, Lord; for the whelps also eat of the crumbs that fall from the table of their masters.

At illa dixit etiam Domine nam et catelli edunt de micis quae cadunt de mensa dominorum suorum

15:28. Then Jesus answering, said to her: O woman, great is thy faith: be it done to thee as thou wilt: and her daughter was cured from that hour.

Tunc respondens Iesus ait illi o mulier magna est fides tua fiat tibi sicut vis et sanata est filia illius ex illa hora

15:29. And when Jesus had passed away from thence, he came nigh the sea of Galilee: and going up into a mountain, he sat there.

Et cum transisset inde Iesus venit secus mare Galilaeae et ascendens in montem sedebat ibi

15:30. And there came to him great multitudes, having with them the dumb, the blind, the lame, the maimed, and many others: and they cast them down at his feet, and he healed them:

Et accesserunt ad eum turbae multae habentes secum mutos clodos caecos debiles et alios multos et proiecerunt eos ad pedes eius et curavit eos

15:31. So that the multitudes marvelled seeing the dumb speak, the lame walk, the blind see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

15:32. And Jesus called together his disciples, and said: I have compassion on the multitudes, because they continue with me now three days, and have not what to eat, and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.

Iesus autem convocatis discipulis suis dixit misereor turbae quia triduo iam perseverant mecum et non habent quod manducent et dimittere eos ieiunos nolo ne deficiant in via

15:33. And the disciples say unto him: Whence then should we have so many loaves in the desert, as to fill so great a multitude?

Et dicunt ei discipuli unde ergo nobis in deserto panes tantos ut saturemus turbam tantam

15:34. And Jesus said to them: How many loaves have you? But they said: Seven, and a few little fishes.

Et ait illis Iesus quot panes habetis at illi dixerunt septem et paucos pisciculos

15:35. And he commanded the multitude to sit down upon the ground.

Et praecepit turbae ut discumberet super terram

15:36. And taking the seven loaves and the fishes, and giving thanks, he brake, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples gave to the people.

Et accipiens septem panes et pisces et gratias agens fregit et dedit discipulis suis et discipuli dederunt populo

15:37. And they did all eat, and had their fill. And they took up seven baskets full, of what remained of the fragments.

Et comederunt omnes et saturati sunt et quod superfuit de fragmentis tulerunt septem sportas plenas

15:38. And they that did eat, were four thousand men, beside children and women.

Erant autem qui manducaverant quattuor milia hominum extra parvulos et mulieres

15:39. And having dismissed the multitude, he went up into a boat, and came into the coasts of Magedan.

Et dimissa turba ascendit in naviculam et venit in fines Magedan

Matthew Chapter 16

Christ refuses to show the Pharisees a sign from heaven. Peter's confession is rewarded. He is rebuked for opposing Christ's passion. All his followers must deny themselves.

16:1. And there came to him the Pharisees and Sadducees tempting: and they asked him to show them a sign from heaven.

Et accesserunt ad eum Pharisaei et Sadducaei temptantes et rogaverunt eum ut signum de caelo ostenderet eis

16:2. But he answered and said to them: When it is evening, you say, It will be fair weather, for the sky is red.

At ille respondens ait eis facto vespere dicitis serenum erit rubicundum est enim caelum

16:3. And in the morning: Today there will be a storm, for the sky is red and lowering. You know then how to discern the face of the sky: and can you not know the signs of the times?

Et mane hodie tempestas rutilat enim triste caelum

16:4. A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign: and a sign shall not be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet. And he left them, and went away.

Faciem ergo caeli diiudicare nostis signa autem temporum non potestis generatio mala et adultera signum quaerit et signum non dabitur ei nisi signum Ionae et relictis illis abiit

16:5. And when his disciples were come over the water, they had forgotten to take bread.

Et cum venissent discipuli eius trans fretum obliti sunt panes accipere

16:6. Who said to them: Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

Qui dixit illis intuemini et cavete a fermento Pharisaeorum et Sadducaeorum

16:7. But they thought within themselves, saying: Because we have taken no bread.

At illi cogitabant inter se dicentes quia panes non accepimus

16:8. And Jesus knowing it, said: Why do you think within yourselves, O ye of little faith, for that you have no bread?

Sciens autem Iesus dixit quid cogitatis inter vos modicae fidei quia panes non habetis

16:9. Do you not yet understand, neither do you remember the five loaves among five thousand men, and how many baskets you took up?

Nondum intellegitis neque recordamini quinque panum quinque milium hominum et quot cofinos sumpsistis

16:10. Nor the seven loaves, among four thousand men, and how many baskets you took up?

Neque septem panum quattuor milium hominum et quot sportas sumpsistis

16:11. Why do you not understand that it was not concerning bread I said to you: Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees?

Quare non intellegitis quia non de pane dixi vobis cavete a fermento Pharisaeorum et Sadducaeorum

16:12. Then they understood that he said not that they should beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

Tunc intellexerunt quia non dixerit cavendum a fermento panum sed a doctrina Pharisaeorum et Sadducaeorum

16:13. And Jesus came into the quarters of Caesarea Philippi: and he asked his disciples, saying: Whom do men say that the Son of man is?

Venit autem Iesus in partes Caesareae Philippi et interrogabat discipulos suos dicens quem dicunt homines esse Filium hominis

16:14. But they said: Some John the Baptist, and other some Elias, and others Jeremias, or one of the prophets.

At illi dixerunt alii Iohannem Baptistam alii autem Heliam alii vero Hieremiam aut unum ex prophetis

16:15. Jesus saith to them: But whom do you say that I am?

Dicit illis vos autem quem me esse dicitis

16:16. Simon Peter answered and said: Thou art Christ, the Son of the living God.

Respondens Simon Petrus dixit tu es Christus Filius Dei vivi

16:17. And Jesus answering said to him: Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jona: because flesh and blood hath not revealed it to thee, but my Father who is in heaven.

Respondens autem Iesus dixit ei beatus es Simon Bar Iona quia caro et sanguis non revelavit tibi sed Pater meus qui in caelis est

16:18. And I say to thee: That thou art Peter; and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

Thou art Peter, etc... As St. Peter, by divine revelation, here made a solemn profession of his faith of the divinity of Christ; so in recompense of this faith and profession, our Lord here declares to him the dignity to which he is pleased to raise him: viz., that he to whom he had already given the name of Peter, signifying a rock, John 1:42, should be a rock indeed, of invincible strength, for the support of the building of the church; in which building he should be, next to Christ himself, the chief foundation stone, in quality of chief pastor, ruler, and governor; and should have accordingly all fulness of ecclesiastical power, signified by the keys of the kingdom of heaven. Upon this rock, etc... The words of Christ to Peter, spoken in the vulgar language of the Jews which our Lord made use of, were the same as if he had said in English, Thou art a Rock, and upon this rock I will build my church. So that, by the plain course of the words, Peter is here declared to be the rock, upon which the church was to be built: Christ himself being both the principal foundation and founder of the same. Where also note, that Christ, by building his house, that is, his church, upon a rock, has thereby secured it against all storms and floods, like the wise builder, Matthew 7:24-25. The gates of hell, etc... That is, the powers of darkness, and whatever Satan can do, either by himself, or his agents. For as the church is here likened to a house, or fortress, built on a rock; so the adverse powers are likened to a contrary house or fortress, the gates of which, that is, the whole strength, and all the efforts it can make, will never be able to prevail over the city or church of Christ. By this promise we are fully assured, that neither idolatry, heresy, nor any pernicious error whatsoever shall at any time prevail over the church of Christ.

16:19. And I will give to thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven. And whatsoever thou shalt bind upon earth, it shall be bound also in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, it shall be loosed also in heaven.

Et tibi dabo claves regni caelorum et quodcumque ligaveris super terram erit ligatum in caelis et quodcumque solveris super terram erit solutum in caelis

Loose on earth... The loosing the bands of temporal punishments due to sins, is called an indulgence; the power of which is here granted.

16:20. Then he commanded his disciples, that they should tell no one that he was Jesus the Christ.

Tunc praecepit discipulis suis ut nemini dicerent quia ipse esset Iesus Christus

16:21. From that time Jesus began to show to his disciples, that he must go to Jerusalem, and suffer many things from the ancients and scribes and chief priests, and be put to death, and the third day rise again.

Exinde coepit Iesus ostendere discipulis suis quia oporteret eum ire Hierosolimam et multa pati a senioribus et scribis et principibus sacerdotum et occidi et tertia die resurgere

16:22. And Peter taking him, began to rebuke him, saying: Lord, be it far from thee, this shall not be unto thee.

Et adsumens eum Petrus coepit increpare illum dicens absit a te Domine non erit tibi hoc

And Peter taking him... That is, taking him aside, out of a tender love, respect and zeal for his Lord and Master's honour, began to expostulate with him, as it were to rebuke him, saying, Lord, far be it from thee to suffer death; but the Lord said to Peter, verse 23, Go behind me, Satan. These words may signify, Begone from me; but the holy Fathers expound them otherwise, that is, come after me, or follow me; and by these words the Lord would have Peter to follow him in his suffering, and not to oppose the divine will by contradiction; for the word satan means in Hebrew an adversary, or one that opposes.

16:23. Who turning, said to Peter: Go behind me, Satan, thou art a scandal unto me: because thou savourest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

Qui conversus dixit Petro vade post me Satana scandalum es mihi quia non sapis ea quae Dei sunt sed ea quae hominum

16:24. Then Jesus said to his disciples: If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

Tunc Iesus dixit discipulis suis si quis vult post me venire abneget semet ipsum et tollat crucem suam et sequatur me

16:25. For he that will save his life, shall lose it: and he that shall lose his life for my sake, shall find it.

Qui enim voluerit animam suam salvam facere perdet eam qui autem perdidit animam suam propter me inveniet eam

16:26. For what doth it profit a man, if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his own soul? Or what exchange shall a man give for his soul?

Quid enim prodest homini si mundum universum lucretur animae vero suae detrimentum patiatur aut quam dabit homo commutationem pro anima sua

16:27. For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels: and then will he render to every man according to his works.

Filius enim hominis venturus est in gloria Patris sui cum angelis suis et tunc reddet unicuique secundum opus eius

16:28. Amen I say to you, there are some of them that stand here, that shall not taste death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

Amen dico vobis sunt quidam de hic stantibus qui non gustabunt mortem donec videant Filium hominis venientem in regno suo

The Transfiguration of Christ: He cures the lunatic child: foretells his passion; and pays the didrachma.

17:1. And after six days Jesus taketh unto him Peter and James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart:

Et post dies sex adsumpsit Iesus Petrum et Iacobum et Iohannem fratrem eius et ducit illos in montem excelsum seorsum

17:2. And he was transfigured before them. And his face did shine as the sun: and his garments became white as snow.

Et transfiguratus est ante eos et resplenduit facies eius sicut sol vestimenta autem eius facta sunt alba sicut nix

17:3. And behold there appeared to them Moses and Elias talking with him.

Et ecce apparuit illis Moses et Helias cum eo loquentes

17:4. And Peter answering, said to Jesus: Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

Respondens autem Petrus dixit ad Iesum Domine bonum est nos hic esse si vis faciamus hic tria tabernacula tibi unum et Mosi unum et Heliae unum

17:5. And as he was yet speaking, behold a bright cloud overshadowed them. And lo a voice out of the cloud, saying: This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: hear ye him.

Adhuc eo loquente ecce nubes lucida obumbravit eos et ecce vox de nube dicens hic est Filius meus dilectus in quo mihi bene conplacuit ipsum audite

17:6. And the disciples hearing fell upon their face, and were very much afraid.

Et audientes discipuli ceciderunt in faciem suam et timuerunt valde

17:7. And Jesus came and touched them: and said to them: Arise, and fear not.

Et accessit Iesus et tetigit eos dixitque eis surgite et nolite timere

17:8. And they lifting up their eyes, saw no one, but only Jesus.

Levantes autem oculos suos neminem viderunt nisi solum Iesum

17:9. And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying: Tell the vision to no man, till the Son of man be risen from the dead.

Et descendentibus illis de monte praecepit Iesus dicens nemini dixeritis visionem donec Filius hominis a mortuis resurgat

17:10. And his disciples asked him, saying: Why then do the scribes say that Elias must come first?

Et interrogaverunt eum discipuli dicentes quid ergo scribae dicunt quod Heliam oporteat primum venire

17:11. But he answering, said to them: Elias indeed shall come, and restore all things.

At ille respondens ait eis Helias quidem venturus est et restituet omnia

17:12. But I say to you, that Elias is already come, and they knew him not, But have done unto him whatsoever they had a mind. So also the Son of man shall suffer from them.

Dico autem vobis quia Helias iam venit et non cognoverunt eum sed fecerunt in eo quaecumque voluerunt sic et Filius hominis passurus est ab eis

17:13. Then the disciples understood, that he had spoken to them of John the Baptist.

Tunc intellexerunt discipuli quia de Iohanne Baptista dixisset eis

17:14. And when he was come to the multitude, there came to him a man falling down on his knees before him saying: Lord, have pity on my son, for he is a lunatic, and suffereth much: for he falleth often into the fire, and often into the water.

Et cum venisset ad turbam accessit ad eum homo genibus provolutus ante eum dicens Domine miserere filii mei quia lunaticus est et male patitur nam saepe cadit in ignem et crebro in aquam

17:15. And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

Et obtuli eum discipulis tuis et non potuerunt curare eum

17:16. Then Jesus answered and said: O unbelieving and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I suffer you? Bring him hither to me.

Respondens Iesus ait o generatio incredula et perversa quousque ero vobiscum usquequo patiar vos adferte huc illum ad me

17:17. And Jesus rebuked him, and the devil went out of him, and the child was cured from that hour.

Et increpavit ei Iesus et exiit ab eo daemonium et curatus est puer ex illa hora

17:18. Then came the disciples to Jesus secretly, and said: Why could not we cast him out?

Tunc accesserunt discipuli ad Iesum secreto et dixerunt quare nos non potuimus eicere illum

17:19. Jesus said to them: Because of your unbelief. For, amen I say to you, if you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, you shall say to this mountain: Remove from hence hither, and it shall remove: and nothing shall be impossible to you.

Dicit illis propter incredulitatem vestram amen quippe dico vobis si habueritis fidem sicut granum sinapis dicetis monti huic transi hinc et transibit et nihil impossibile erit vobis

As a grain of mustard seed... That is, a perfect faith; which in its properties, and its fruits, resembles the grain of mustard seed, in the parable, Matthew 13:31.

17:20. But this kind is not cast out but by prayer and fasting.

Hoc autem genus non eicitur nisi per orationem et ieiunium

17:21. And when they abode together in Galilee, Jesus said to them: The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

Conversantibus autem eis in Galilaea dixit illis Iesus Filius hominis tradendus est in manus hominum

17:22. And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall rise again. And they were troubled exceedingly.

Et occident eum et tertio die resurget et contristati sunt vehementer

17:23. And when they were come to Capharnaum, they that received the didrachmas, came to Peter, and said to him: Doth not your master pay the didrachma?

Et cum venissent Capharnaum accesserunt qui didragma accipiebant ad Petrum et dixerunt magister vester non solvit didragma

The didrachmas... A didrachma was half a sicle, or half a stater; that is, about 15d. English: which was a tax laid upon every head for the service of the temple.

17:24. He said: Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying: What is thy opinion, Simon? The kings of the earth, of whom do they receive tribute or custom, of their own children, or of strangers?

Ait etiam et cum intrasset domum praevenit eum Iesus dicens quid tibi videtur Simon reges terrae a quibus accipiunt tributum vel censum a filiis suis an ab alienis

17:25. And he said: Of strangers. Jesus said to him: Then the children are free.

Et ille dixit ab alienis dixit illi Iesus ergo liberi sunt filii

17:26. But that we may not scandalize them, go to the sea, and cast in a hook: and that fish which shall first come up, take: and when thou hast opened it's mouth, thou shalt find a stater: take that, and give it to them for me and thee.

Ut autem non scandalizemus eos vade ad mare et mitte hamum et eum piscem qui primus ascenderit tolle et aperto ore eius invenies staterem illum sumens da eis pro me et te

Matthew Chapter 18

Christ teaches humility, to beware of scandal, and to flee the occasions of sin: to denounce to the church incorrigible sinners, and to look upon such as refuse to hear the church as heathens. He promises to his disciples the power of binding and loosing: and that he will be in the midst of their assemblies. No forgiveness for them that will not forgive.

18:1. At that hour the disciples came to Jesus, saying: Who, thinkest thou, is the greater in the kingdom of heaven?

In illa hora accesserunt discipuli ad Iesum dicentes quis putas maior est in regno caelorum

18:2. And Jesus, calling unto him a little child, set him in the midst of them.

Et advocans Iesus parvulum statuit eum in medio eorum

18:3. And said: amen I say to you, unless you be converted, and become as little children, you shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Et dixit amen dico vobis nisi conversi fueritis et efficiamini sicut parvuli non intrabitis in regnum caelorum

18:4. Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, he is the greater in the kingdom of heaven.

Quicumque ergo humiliaverit se sicut parvulus iste hic est maior in regno caelorum

18:5. And he that shall receive one such little child in my name, receiveth me.

Et qui susceperit unum parvulum talem in nomine meo me suscipit

18:6. But he that shall scandalize one of these little ones that believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be drowned in the depth of the sea.

Qui autem scandalizaverit unum de pusillis istis qui in me credunt expedit ei ut suspendatur mola asinaria in collo eius et demergatur in profundum maris

Shall scandalize... That is, shall put a stumblingblock in their way, and cause them to fall into sin.

18:7. Woe to the world because of scandals. For it must needs be that scandals come: but nevertheless woe to that man by whom the scandal cometh.

Vae mundo ab scandalis necesse est enim ut veniant scandala verumtamen vae homini per quem scandalum venit

It must needs be, etc... Viz., considering the wickedness and corruption of the world.

18:8. And if thy hand, or thy foot, scandalize thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee. It is better for thee to go into life maimed or lame, than having two hands or two feet, to be cast into everlasting fire.

Si autem manus tua vel pes tuus scandalizat te abscide eum et proice abs te bonum tibi est ad vitam ingredi debilem vel clodum quam duas manus vel duos pedes habentem mitti in ignem aeternum

Scandalize thee... That is, cause thee to offend.

18:9. And if thy eye scandalize thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee. It is better for thee having one eye to enter into life, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire.

Et si oculus tuus scandalizat te erue eum et proice abs te bonum tibi est unoculum in vitam intrare quam duos oculos habentem mitti in gehennam ignis

18:10. See that you despise not one of these little ones: for I say to you, that their angels in heaven always see the face of my Father who is in heaven.

Videte ne contemnatis unum ex his pusillis dico enim vobis quia angeli eorum in caelis semper vident

faciem Patris mei qui in caelis est

18:11. For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.

Venit enim Filius hominis salvare quod perierat

18:12. What think you? If a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them should go astray: doth he not leave the ninety-nine in the mountains, and goeth to seek that which is gone astray?

Quid vobis videtur si fuerint alicui centum oves et erraverit una ex eis nonne relinquet nonaginta novem in montibus et vadit quaerere eam quae erravit

18:13. And if it so be that he find it: Amen I say to you, he rejoiceth more for that, than for the ninety-nine that went not astray.

Et si contigerit ut inveniat eam amen dico vobis quia gaudebit super eam magis quam super nonaginta novem quae non erraverunt

18:14. Even so it is not the will of your Father, who is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

Sic non est voluntas ante Patrem vestrum qui in caelis est ut pereat unus de pusillis istis

18:15. But if thy brother shall offend against thee, go, and rebuke him between thee and him alone. If he shall hear thee, thou shalt gain thy brother.

Si autem peccaverit in te frater tuus vade et corripe eum inter te et ipsum solum si te audierit lucratus es fratrem tuum

18:16. And if he will not hear thee, take with thee one or two more: that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may stand.

Si autem non te audierit adhibe tecum adhuc unum vel duos ut in ore duorum testium vel trium stet omne verbum

18:17. And if he will not hear them: tell the church. And if he will not hear the church, let him be to thee as the heathen and publican.

Quod si non audierit eos dic ecclesiae si autem et ecclesiam non audierit sit tibi sicut ethnicus et publicanus

18:18. Amen I say to you, whatsoever you shall bind upon earth, shall be bound also in heaven: and whatsoever you shall loose upon earth, shall be loosed also in heaven.

Amen dico vobis quaecumque alligaveritis super terram erunt ligata et in caelo et quaecumque solveritis super terram erunt soluta et in caelo

18:19. Again I say to you, that if two of you shall consent upon earth, concerning anything whatsoever they shall ask, it shall be done to them by my Father who is in heaven.

Iterum dico vobis quia si duo ex vobis consenserint super terram de omni re quaecumque petierint fiet illis a Patre meo qui in caelis est

18:20. For where there are two or three gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

Ubi enim sunt duo vel tres congregati in nomine meo ibi sum in medio eorum

There am I in the midst of them... This is understood of such assemblies only as are gathered in the name and authority of Christ; and in unity of the church of Christ. St. Cyprian, De Unitate Ecclesiae.

18:21. Then came Peter unto him and said: Lord, how often shall my brother offend against me, and I forgive him? till seven times?

Tunc accedens Petrus ad eum dixit Domine quotiens peccabit in me frater meus et dimittam ei usque septies

18:22. Jesus saith to him: I say not to thee, till seven times; but till seventy times seven times.

Dicit illi Iesus non dico tibi usque septies sed usque septuagies septies

18:23. Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened to a king, who would take an account of his servants.

Ideo adsimilatum est regnum caelorum homini regi qui voluit rationem ponere cum servis suis

18:24. And when he had begun to take the account, one as brought to him, that owed him ten thousand talents.

Et cum coepisset rationem ponere oblatus est ei unus qui debebat decem milia talenta

Talents... A talent was seven hundred and fifty ounces of silver, which at the rate of five shillings to the ounce is a hundred and eighty-seven pounds ten shillings sterling.

18:25. And as he had not wherewith to pay it, his lord commanded that he should be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

Cum autem non haberet unde redderet iussit eum dominus venundari et uxorem eius et filios et omnia quae habebat et reddi

18:26. But that servant falling down, besought him, saying: Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

Procidens autem servus ille orabat eum dicens patientiam habe in me et omnia reddam tibi

18:27. And the lord of that servant being moved with pity, let him go and forgave him the debt.

Misertus autem dominus servi illius dimisit eum et debitum dimisit ei

18:28. But when that servant was gone out, he found one of his fellow-servants that owed him an hundred pence: and laying hold of him, he throttled him, saying: Pay what thou owest.

Egressus autem servus ille invenit unum de conservis suis qui debebat ei centum denarios et tenens suffocabat eum dicens redde quod debes

Pence... The Roman penny was the eighth part of an ounce, that is, about sevenpence half-penny English.

18:29. And his fellow-servant falling down, besought him, saying: Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

Et procidens conservus eius rogabat eum dicens patientiam habe in me et omnia reddam tibi

18:30. And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he paid the debt.

Ille autem noluit sed abiit et misit eum in carcerem donec redderet debitum

18:31. Now his fellow servants seeing what was done, were very much grieved, and they came, and told their lord all that was done.

Videntes autem conservi eius quae fiebant contristati sunt valde et venerunt et narraverunt domino suo omnia quae facta erant

18:32. Then his lord called him: and said to him: Thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all the debt, because thou besoughtest me:

Tunc vocavit illum dominus suus et ait illi serve nequam omne debitum dimisi tibi quoniam rogasti me

18:33. Shouldst not thou then have had compassion also on thy fellow servant, even as I had compassion on thee?

Non ergo oportuit et te misereri conservi tui sicut et ego tui misertus sum

18:34. And his lord being angry, delivered him to the torturers until he paid all the debt.

Et iratus dominus eius tradidit eum tortoribus quoadusque redderet universum debitum

18:35. So also shall my heavenly Father do to you, if you forgive not every one his brother from your hearts.

Sic et Pater meus caelestis faciet vobis si non remisistis unusquisque fratri suo de cordibus vestris

Matthew Chapter 19

Christ declares matrimony to be indissoluble: he recommends the making one's self an eunuch for the kingdom of heaven; and parting with all things for him. He shows the danger of riches, and the reward of leaving all to follow him.

---

19:1. And it came to pass when Jesus had ended these words, he departed from Galilee and came into the coasts of Judea, beyond Jordan.

Et factum est cum consummasset Iesus sermones istos migravit a Galilaea et venit in fines Iudaeae trans Iordanen

19:2. And great multitudes followed him: and he healed them there.

Et secutae sunt eum turbae multae et curavit eos ibi

19:3. And there came to him the Pharisees tempting him, saying: Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?

Et accesserunt ad eum Pharisaei temptantes eum et dicentes si licet homini dimittere uxorem suam quacumque ex causa

19:4. Who answering, said to them: Have ye not read, that he who made man from the beginning, made them male and female? And he said:

Qui respondens ait eis non legistis quia qui fecit ab initio masculum et feminam fecit eos

19:5. For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife, and they two shall be in one flesh.

Et dixit propter hoc dimittet homo patrem et matrem et adhaerebit uxori suae et erunt duo in carne una

19:6. Therefore now they are not two, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let no man put asunder.

Itaque iam non sunt duo sed una caro quod ergo Deus coniunxit homo non separet

19:7. They say to him: Why then did Moses command to give a bill of divorce, and to put away?

Dicunt illi quid ergo Moses mandavit dari libellum repudii et dimittere

19:8. He saith to them: Because Moses by reason of the hardness of your heart permitted you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.

Ait illis quoniam Moses ad duritiam cordis vestri permisit vobis dimittere uxores vestras ab initio autem non sic fuit

19:9. And I say to you, that whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and he that shall marry her that is put away, committeth adultery.

Dico autem vobis quia quicumque dimiserit uxorem suam nisi ob fornicationem et aliam duxerit moechatur et qui dimissam duxerit moechatur

Except it be, etc... In the case of fornication, that is, of adultery, the wife may be put away: but even then the husband cannot marry another as long as the wife is living.

19:10. His disciples say unto him: If the case of a man with his wife be so, it is not expedient to marry.

Dicunt ei discipuli eius si ita est causa homini cum uxore non expedit nubere

19:11. Who said to them: All men take not this word, but they to whom it is given.

Qui dixit non omnes capiunt verbum istud sed quibus datum est

All men take not this word... That is, all receive not the gift of living singly and chastely, unless they pray for the grace of God to enable them to live so, and for some it may be necessary to that end to fast as well as pray: and to those it is given from above.

19:12. For there are eunuchs, who were born so from their mothers womb: and there are eunuchs, who were made so by men: and there are eunuchs, who have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven. He that can take, let him take it.

Sunt enim eunuchi qui de matris utero sic nati sunt et sunt eunuchi qui facti sunt ab hominibus et sunt eunuchi qui se ipsos castraverunt propter regnum caelorum qui potest capere capiat

There are eunuchs, who have made themselves eunuchs, for the kingdom of heaven... This text is not to be taken in the literal sense; but means, that there are such, who have taken a firm and commendable resolution of leading a single and chaste life, in order to serve God in a more perfect state than those who marry: as St. Paul clearly shows. 1 Corinthians 7: 37-38.

19:13. Then were little children presented to him, that he should impose hands upon them and pray. And the disciples rebuked them.

Tunc oblati sunt ei parvuli ut manus eis inponeret et oraret discipuli autem increpabant eis

19:14. But Jesus said to them: Suffer the little children, and forbid them not to come to me: for the kingdom of heaven is for such.

Iesus vero ait eis sinite parvulos et nolite eos prohibere ad me venire talium est enim regnum caelorum

19:15. And when he had imposed hands upon them, he departed from thence.

Et cum inposuisset eis manus abiit inde

19:16. And behold one came and said to him: Good master, what good shall I do that I may have life everlasting?

Et ecce unus accedens ait illi magister bone quid boni faciam ut habeam vitam aeternam

19:17. Who said to him: Why askest thou me concerning good? One is good, God. But if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

Qui dixit ei quid me interrogas de bono unus est bonus Deus si autem vis ad vitam ingredi serva mandata

19:18. He said to him: Which? And Jesus said: Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness.

Dicit illi quae Iesus autem dixit non homicidium facies non adulterabis non facies furtum non falsum testimonium dices

19:19. Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

Honora patrem et matrem et diliges proximum tuum sicut te ipsum

19:20. The young man saith to him: All these have I kept from my youth, what is yet wanting to me?

Dicit illi adulescens omnia haec custodivi quid adhuc mihi deest

19:21. Jesus saith to him: If thou wilt be perfect, go sell what thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

Ait illi Iesus si vis perfectus esse vade vende quae habes et da pauperibus et habebis thesaurum in caelo et veni sequere me

19:22. And when the young man had heard this word, he went away sad: for he had great possessions.

Cum audisset autem adulescens verbum abiit tristis erat enim habens multas possessiones

19:23. Then Jesus said to his disciples: Amen, I say to you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Iesus autem dixit discipulis suis amen dico vobis quia dives difficile intrabit in regnum caelorum

19:24. And again I say to you: It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Et iterum dico vobis facilius est camelum per foramen acus transire quam divitem intrare in regnum caelorum

19:25. And when they had heard this, the disciples wondered much, saying: Who then can be saved?

Auditis autem his discipuli mirabantur valde dicentes quis ergo poterit salvus esse

19:26. And Jesus beholding, said to them: With men this is impossible: but with God all things are possible.

Aspiciens autem Iesus dixit illis apud homines hoc impossibile est apud Deum autem omnia possibilia sunt

19:27. Then Peter answering, said to him: Behold we have left all things, and have followed thee: what therefore shall we have?

Tunc respondens Petrus dixit ei ecce nos reliquimus omnia et secuti sumus te quid ergo erit nobis

19:28. And Jesus said to them: Amen I say to you, that you who have followed me, in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit on the seat of his majesty, you also shall sit on twelve seats judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

Iesus autem dixit illis amen dico vobis quod vos qui secuti estis me in regeneratione cum sederit Filius hominis in sede maiestatis suae sedebitis et vos super sedes duodecim iudicantes duodecim tribus Israhel

19:29. And every one that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall possess life everlasting.

Et omnis qui reliquit domum vel fratres aut sorores aut patrem aut matrem aut uxorem aut filios aut agros propter nomen meum centuplum accipiet et vitam aeternam possidebit

19:30. And many that are first, shall be last: and the last shall be first.

Multi autem erunt primi novissimi et novissimi primi

Matthew Chapter 20

The parable of the labourers in the vineyard. The ambition of the two sons of Zebedee. Christ gives sight to two blind men.

20:1. The kingdom of heaven is like to an householder, who went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

Simile est enim regnum caelorum homini patri familias qui exiit primo mane conducere operarios in vineam suam

20:2. And having agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

Conventione autem facta cum operariis ex denario diurno misit eos in vineam suam

20:3. And going out about the third hour, he saw others standing in the marketplace idle.

Et egressus circa horam tertiam vidit alios stantes in foro otiosos

20:4. And he said to them: Go you also into my vineyard, and I will give you what shall be just.

Et illis dixit ite et vos in vineam et quod iustum fuerit dabo vobis

20:5. And they went their way. And again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour, and did in like manner.

Illi autem abierunt iterum autem exiit circa sextam et nonam horam et fecit similiter

20:6. But about the eleventh hour he went out and found others standing, and he saith to them: Why stand you here all the day idle?

Circa undecimam vero exiit et invenit alios stantes et dicit illis quid hic statis tota die otiosi

20:7. They say to him: Because no man hath hired us. He saith to them: Go ye also into my vineyard.

Dicunt ei quia nemo nos conduxit dicit illis ite et vos in vineam

20:8. And when evening was come, the lord of the vineyard saith to his steward: Call the labourers and pay them their hire, beginning from the last even to the first.

Cum sero autem factum esset dicit dominus vineae procuratori suo voca operarios et redde illis mercedem incipiens a novissimis usque ad primos

20:9. When therefore they were come that came about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.

Cum venissent ergo qui circa undecimam horam venerant acceperunt singulos denarios

20:10. But when the first also came, they thought that they should receive more: And they also received every man a penny.

Venientes autem et primi arbitrati sunt quod plus essent accepturi acceperunt autem et ipsi singulos denarios

20:11. And receiving it they murmured against the master of the house,

Et accipientes murmurabant adversus patrem familias

20:12. Saying: These last have worked but one hour and thou hast made them equal to us, that have borne the burden of the day and the heats.

Dicentes hii novissimi una hora fecerunt et pares illos nobis fecisti qui portavimus pondus diei et aestus

20:13. But he answering said to one of them: friend, I do thee no wrong: didst thou not agree with me for a penny?

At ille respondens uni eorum dixit amice non facio tibi iniuriam nonne ex denario convenisti mecum

20:14. Take what is thine, and go thy way: I will also give to this last even as to thee.
Tolle quod tuum est et vade volo autem et huic novissimo dare sicut et tibi

20:15. Or, is it not lawful for me to do what I will? Is thy eye evil, because I am good?
Aut non licet mihi quod volo facere an oculus tuus nequam est quia ego bonus sum
What I will... Viz., with my own, and in matters that depend on my own bounty.

20:16. So shall the last be first and the first last. For many are called but few chosen.
Sic erunt novissimi primi et primi novissimi multi sunt enim vocati pauci autem electi

20:17. And Jesus going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples apart and said to them:
Et ascendens Iesus Hierosolymam adsumpsit duodecim discipulos secreto et ait illis

20:18. Behold we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be betrayed to the chief priests and the scribes: and they shall condemn him to death.
Ecce ascendimus Hierosolymam et Filius hominis tradetur principibus sacerdotum et scribis et condemnabunt eum morte

20:19. And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to be mocked and scourged and crucified: and the third day he shall rise again.
Et tradent eum gentibus ad deludendum et flagellandum et crucifigendum et tertia die resurget

20:20. Then came to him the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, adoring and asking something of him.
Tunc accessit ad eum mater filiorum Zebedaei cum filiis suis adorans et petens aliquid ab eo

20:21. Who said to her: What wilt thou? She saith to him: say that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left, in thy kingdom.
Qui dixit ei quid vis ait illi dic ut sedeant hii duo filii mei unus ad dexteram tuam et unus ad sinistram in regno tuo

20:22. And Jesus answering, said: You know not what you ask. Can you drink the chalice that I shall drink? They say to him: We can.
Respondens autem Iesus dixit nescitis quid petatis potestis bibere calicem quem ego bibiturus sum dicunt ei possumus

20:23. He saith to them: My chalice indeed you shall drink; but to sit on my right or left hand is not mine to give to you, but to them for whom it is prepared by my Father.
Ait illis calicem quidem meum bibetis sedere autem ad dexteram meam et sinistram non est meum dare vobis sed quibus paratum est a Patre meo

20:24. And the ten, hearing it, were moved with indignation against the two brethren.
Et audientes decem indignati sunt de duobus fratribus

20:25. But Jesus called them to him and said: You know that the princes of the Gentiles lord it over them; and that they that are the greater, exercise power upon them.
Iesus autem vocavit eos ad se et ait scitis quia principes gentium dominantur eorum et qui maiores sunt potestatem exercent in eos

20:26. It shall not be so among you: but whosoever is the greater among you, let him be your minister.
Non ita erit inter vos sed quicumque voluerit inter vos maior fieri sit vester minister

20:27. And he that will be first among you shall be your servant.
Et qui voluerit inter vos primus esse erit vester servus

20:28. Even as the Son of man is not come to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give his life a redemption for many.
Sicut Filius hominis non venit ministrari sed ministrare et dare animam suam redemptionem pro multis

20:29. And when they went out from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.
Et egredientibus eis ab Hiericho secuta est eum turba multa

20:30. And behold two blind men sitting by the way side heard that Jesus passed by. And they cried out, saying: O Lord, thou son of David, have mercy on us.

Et ecce duo caeci sedentes secus viam audierunt quia Iesus transiret et clamaverunt dicentes Domine miserere nostri Fili David

20:31. And the multitude rebuked them that they should hold their peace. But they cried out the more, saying: O Lord, thou son of David, have mercy on us.

Turba autem increpabat eos ut tacerent at illi magis clamabant dicentes Domine miserere nostri Fili David

20:32. And Jesus stood and called them and said: What will ye that I do to you?

Et stetit Iesus et vocavit eos et ait quid vultis ut faciam vobis

20:33. They say to him: Lord, that our eyes be opened.

Dicunt illi Domine ut aperiantur oculi nostri

20:34. And Jesus having compassion on them, touched their eyes. And immediately they saw and followed him.

Miseratus autem eorum Iesus tetigit oculos eorum et confestim viderunt et secuti sunt eum

Matthew Chapter 21

Christ rides into Jerusalem upon an ass. He casts the buyers and sellers out of the temple, curses the fig tree and puts to silence the priests and scribes.

---

21:1. And when they drew nigh to Jerusalem and were come to Bethphage, unto mount Olivet, then Jesus sent two disciples,

Et cum adpropinquassent Hierosolymis et venissent Bethfage ad montem Oliveti tunc Iesus misit duos discipulos

21:2. Saying to them: Go ye into the village that is over against you: and immediately you shall find an ass tied and a colt with her. Loose them and bring them to me.

Dicens eis ite in castellum quod contra vos est et statim invenietis asinam alligatam et pullum cum ea solvite et adducite mihi

21:3. And if any man shall say anything to you, say ye that the Lord hath need of them. And forthwith he will let them go.

Et si quis vobis aliquid dixerit dicite quia Dominus his opus habet et confestim dimittet eos

21:4. Now all this was done that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying:

Hoc autem factum est ut impleretur quod dictum est per prophetam dicentem

21:5. Tell ye the daughter of Sion: Behold thy king cometh to thee, meek and sitting upon an ass and a colt, the foal of her that is used to the yoke.

Dicite filiae Sion ecce rex tuus venit tibi mansuetus et sedens super asinam et pullum filium subiugalis

21:6. And the disciples going, did as Jesus commanded them.

Euntes autem discipuli fecerunt sicut praecepit illis Iesus

21:7. And they brought the ass and the colt and laid their garments upon them and made him sit thereon.

Et adduxerunt asinam et pullum et inposuerunt super eis vestimenta sua et eum desuper sedere fecerunt

21:8. And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way: and others cut boughs from the trees and strewed them in the way.

Plurima autem turba straverunt vestimenta sua in via alii autem caedebant ramos de arboribus et sternebant in via

21:9. And the multitudes that went before and that followed cried, saying: Hosanna to the son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest.

Turbae autem quae praecedebant et quae sequebantur clamabant dicentes osanna Filio David benedictus qui venturus est in nomine Domini osanna in altissimis

21:10. And when he was come into Jerusalem, the whole city was moved, saying: Who is this?

Et cum intrasset Hierosolymam commota est universa civitas dicens quis est hic

21:11. And the people said: This is Jesus, the prophet from Nazareth of Galilee.

Populi autem dicebant hic est Iesus propheta a Nazareth Galilaeae

21:12. And Jesus went into the temple of God and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple and overthrew the tables of the money changers and the chairs of them that sold doves.

Et intravit Iesus in templum Dei et eiciebat omnes vendentes et ementes in templo et mensas nummulariorum et cathedras vendentium columbas evertit

21:13. And he saith to them: It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but you have made it a den of thieves.

Et dicit eis scriptum est domus mea domus orationis vocabitur vos autem fecistis eam speluncam latronum

21:14. And there came to him the blind and the lame in the temple: and he healed them.

Et accesserunt ad eum caeci et claudi in templo et sanavit eos

21:15. And the chief priests and scribes, seeing the wonderful things that he did and the children crying in the temple and saying: Hosanna to the son of David, were moved with indignation,

Videntes autem principes sacerdotum et scribae mirabilia quae fecit et pueros clamantes in templo et dicentes osanna Filio David indignati sunt

21:16. And said to him: Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus said to them: Yea, have you never read: Out of the mouth of infants and of sucklings thou hast perfected praise?

Et dixerunt ei audis quid isti dicant Jesus autem dicit eis utique numquam legistis quia ex ore infantium et lactantium perfecisti laudem

21:17. And leaving them, he went out of the city into Bethania and remained here.

Et relictis illis abiit foras extra civitatem in Bethaniam ibique mansit

21:18. And in the morning, returning into the city, he was hungry.

Mane autem revertens in civitatem esuriit

21:19. And seeing a certain fig tree by the way side, he came to it and found nothing on it but leaves only. And he saith to it: May no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And immediately the fig tree withered away.

Et videns fici arborem unam secus viam venit ad eam et nihil invenit in ea nisi folia tantum et ait illi numquam ex te fructus nascatur in sempiternum et arefacta est continuo ficulnea

21:20. And the disciples seeing it wondered, saying: How is it presently withered away?

Et videntes discipuli mirati sunt dicentes quomodo continuo aruit

21:21. And Jesus answering, said to them: Amen, I say to you, if you shall have faith and stagger not, not only this of the fig tree shall you do, but also if you shall say to this mountain, Take up and cast thyself into the sea, it shall be done.

Respondens autem Iesus ait eis amen dico vobis si habueritis fidem et non haesitaveritis non solum de ficulnea facietis sed et si monti huic dixeritis tolle et iacta te in mare fiet

21:22. And all things whatsoever you shall ask in prayer believing, you shall receive.

Et omnia quaecumque petieritis in oratione credentes accipietis

21:23. And when he was come into the temple, there came to him, as he was teaching, the chief priests and ancients of the people, saying: By what authority dost thou these things? And who hath given thee this authority?

Et cum venisset in templum accesserunt ad eum docentem principes sacerdotum et seniores populi dicentes in qua potestate haec facis et quis tibi dedit hanc potestatem

21:24. Jesus answering, said to them: I also will ask you one word, which if you shall tell me, I will also tell you by what authority I do these things.

Respondens Iesus dixit illis interrogabo vos et ego unum sermonem quem si dixeritis mihi et ego vobis dicam in qua potestate haec facio

21:25. The baptism of John, whence was it? From heaven or from men? But they thought within themselves, saying:

Baptismum Iohannis unde erat e caelo an ex hominibus at illi cogitabant inter se dicentes si dixerimus e caelo dicet nobis quare ergo non credidistis illi

21:26. If we shall say, from heaven, he will say to us: Why then did you not believe him? But if we shall say, from men, we are afraid of the multitude: for all held John as a prophet.

Si autem dixerimus ex hominibus timemus turbam omnes enim habent Iohannem sicut prophetam

21:27. And answering Jesus, they said: We know not. He also said to them: Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

Et respondentes Iesu dixerunt nescimus ait illis et ipse nec ego dico vobis in qua potestate haec facio

21:28. But what think you? A certain man had two sons: and coming to the first, he said: Son, go work to day in my vineyard.

Quid autem vobis videtur homo habebat duos filios et accedens ad primum dixit fili vade hodie operare in vinea mea

21:29. And he answering, said: I will not. But afterwards, being moved with repentance, he went.

Ille autem respondens ait nolo postea autem paenitentia motus abiit

21:30. And coming to the other, he said in like manner. And he answering said: I go, Sir. And he went not.

Accedens autem ad alterum dixit similiter at ille respondens ait eo domine et non ivit

21:31. Which of the two did the father's will? They say to him: The first. Jesus saith to them: Amen I say to you that the publicans and the harlots shall go into the kingdom of God before you.

Quis ex duobus fecit voluntatem patris dicunt novissimus dicit illis Iesus amen dico vobis quia publicani et meretrices praecedunt vos in regno Dei

21:32. For John came to you in the way of justice: and you did not believe him. But the publicans and the harlots believed him: but you, seeing it, did not even afterwards repent, that you might believe him.

Venit enim ad vos Iohannes in via iustitiae et non credidistis ei publicani autem et meretrices crediderunt ei vos autem videntes nec paenitentiam habuistis postea ut crederetis ei

21:33. Hear ye another parable. There was a man, an householder, who planted a vineyard and made a hedge round about it and dug in it a press and built a tower and let it out to husbandmen and went into a strange country.

Aliam parabolam audite homo erat pater familias qui plantavit vineam et sepem circumdedit ei et fodit in ea torcular et aedificavit turrem et locavit eam agricolis et peregre profectus est

21:34. And when the time of the fruits drew nigh, he sent his servants to the husbandmen that they might receive the fruits thereof.

Cum autem tempus fructuum adpropinquasset misit servos suos ad agricolas ut acciperent fructus eius

21:35. And the husbandmen laying hands on his servants, beat one and killed another and stoned another.

Et agricolae adprehensis servis eius alium ceciderunt alium occiderunt alium vero lapidaverunt

21:36. Again he sent other servants, more than the former; and they did to them in like manner.

Iterum misit alios servos plures prioribus et fecerunt illis similiter

21:37. And last of all he sent to them his son, saying: They will reverence my son.

Novissime autem misit ad eos filium suum dicens verebuntur filium meum

21:38. But the husbandmen seeing the son, said among themselves: This is the heir: come, let us kill him, and we shall have his inheritance.

Agricolae autem videntes filium dixerunt intra se hic est heres venite occidamus eum et habebimus hereditatem eius

21:39. And taking him, they cast him forth out of the vineyard and killed him.

Et adprehensum eum eiecerunt extra vineam et occiderunt

21:40. When therefore the lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do to those husbandmen?

Cum ergo venerit dominus vineae quid faciet agricolis illis

21:41. They say to him: He will bring those evil men to an evil end and let out his vineyard to other husbandmen that shall render him the fruit in due season.

Aiunt illi malos male perdet et vineam locabit aliis agricolis qui reddant ei fructum temporibus suis

21:42. Jesus saith to them: Have you never read in the Scriptures: The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner? By the Lord this has been done; and it is wonderful in our eyes.

Dicit illis Iesus numquam legistis in scripturis lapidem quem reprobaverunt aedificantes hic factus est in caput anguli a Domino factum est istud et est mirabile in oculis nostris

21:43. Therefore I say to you that the kingdom of God shall be taken from you and shall be given to a nation yielding the fruits thereof.

Ideo dico vobis quia auferetur a vobis regnum Dei et dabitur genti facienti fructus eius

21:44. And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it shall grind him to powder.

Et qui ceciderit super lapidem istum confringetur super quem vero ceciderit conteret eum

21:45. And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they knew that he spoke of them.

Et cum audissent principes sacerdotum et Phariseaei parabolas eius cognoverunt quod de ipsis diceret

21:46. And seeking to lay hands on him, they feared the multitudes, because they held him as a prophet.

Et quaerentes eum tenere timuerunt turbas quoniam sicut prophetam eum habebant

Matthew Chapter 22

The parable of the marriage feast. Christ orders tribute to be paid to Caesar. He confutes the Sadducees, shows which is the first commandment in the law and puzzles the Pharisees.

---

22:1. And Jesus answering, spoke again in parables to them, saying:

Et respondens Iesus dixit iterum in parabolis eis dicens

22:2. The kingdom of heaven is likened to a king who made a marriage for his son.

Simile factum est regnum caelorum homini regi qui fecit nuptias filio suo

22:3. And he sent his servants to call them that were invited to the marriage: and they would not come.

Et misit servos suos vocare invitatos ad nuptias et nolebant venire

22:4. Again he sent other servants, saying: Tell them that were invited, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my beeves and fatlings are killed, and all things are ready. Come ye to the marriage.

Iterum misit alios servos dicens dicite invitatis ecce prandium meum paravi tauri mei et altilia occisa et omnia parata venite ad nuptias

22:5. But they neglected and went their ways, one to his farm and another to his merchandise.

Illi autem neglexerunt et abierunt alius in villam suam alius vero ad negotiationem suam

22:6. And the rest laid hands on his servants and, having treated them contumeliously, put them to death.

Reliqui vero tenuerunt servos eius et contumelia adfectos occiderunt

22:7. But when the king had heard of it, he was angry: and sending his armies, he destroyed those murderers and burnt their city.

Rex autem cum audisset iratus est et missis exercitibus suis perdidit homicidas illos et civitatem illorum succendit

22:8. Then he saith to his servants: The marriage indeed is ready; but they that were invited were not worthy.

Tunc ait servis suis nuptiae quidem paratae sunt sed qui invitati erant non fuerunt digni

22:9. Go ye therefore into the highways; and as many as you shall find, call to the marriage.

Ite ergo ad exitus viarum et quoscumque inveneritis vocate ad nuptias

22:10. And his servants going forth into the ways, gathered together all that they found, both bad and good: and the marriage was filled with guests.

Et egressi servi eius in vias congregaverunt omnes quos invenerunt malos et bonos et impletae sunt nuptiae discumbentium

22:11. And the king went in to see the guests: and he saw there a man who had not on a wedding garment.

Intravit autem rex ut videret discumbentes et vidit ibi hominem non vestitum veste nuptiali

22:12. And he saith to him: Friend, how camest thou in hither not having on a wedding garment? But he was silent.

Et ait illi amice quomodo huc intrasti non habens vestem nuptialem at ille obmutuit

22:13. Then the king said to the waiters: Bind his hands and feet, and cast him into the exterior darkness. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Tunc dixit rex ministris ligatis pedibus eius et manibus mittite eum in tenebras exteriores ibi erit fletus et stridor dentium

22:14. For many are called, but few are chosen.

Multi autem sunt vocati pauci vero electi

22:15. Then the Pharisees going, consulted among themselves how to insnare him in his speech.

Tunc abeuntes Pharisaei consilium inierunt ut caperent eum in sermone

22:16. And they sent to him their disciples with the Herodians, saying: Master, we know that thou art a true speaker and teachest the way of God in truth. Neither carest thou for any man: for thou dost not regard the person of men.

Et mittunt ei discipulos suos cum Herodianis dicentes magister scimus quia verax es et viam Dei in veritate doces et non est tibi cura de aliquo non enim respicis personam hominum

The Herodians... That is, some that belonged to Herod, and that joined with him in standing up for the necessity of paying tribute to Caesar, that is, to the Roman emperor. Some are of opinion that there was a sect among the Jews called Herodians, from their maintaining that Herod was the Messiah.

22:17. Tell us therefore what dost thou think? Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not?

Dic ergo nobis quid tibi videatur licet census dare Caesari an non

22:18. But Jesus knowing their wickedness, said: Why do you tempt me, ye hypocrites?

Cognita autem Iesus nequitia eorum ait quid me temptatis hypocritae

22:19. Show me the coin of the tribute. And they offered him a penny.

Ostendite mihi nomisma census at illi obtulerunt ei denarium

22:20. And Jesus saith to them: Whose image and inscription is this?

Et ait illis Iesus cuius est imago haec et suprascriptio

22:21. They say to him: Caesar's. Then he saith to them: Render therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and to God, the things that are God's.

Dicunt ei Caesaris tunc ait illis reddite ergo quae sunt Caesaris Caesari et quae sunt Dei Deo

22:22. And hearing this, they wondered and, leaving him, went their ways.

Et audientes mirati sunt et relicto eo abierunt

22:23. That day there came to him the Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection; and asked him,

In illo die accesserunt ad eum Sadducaei qui dicunt non esse resurrectionem et interrogaverunt eum

22:24. Saying: Master, Moses said: If a man die having no son, his brother shall marry his wife and raise up issue to his brother.

Dicentes magister Moses dixit si quis mortuus fuerit non habens filium ut ducat frater eius uxorem illius et suscitet semen fratri suo

22:25. Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first having married a wife, died; and not having issue, left his wife to his brother.

Erant autem apud nos septem fratres et primus uxore ducta defunctus est et non habens semen reliquit uxorem suam fratri suo

22:26. In like manner the second and the third and so on, to the seventh.

Similiter secundus et tertius usque ad septimum

22:27. And last of all the woman died also.

Novissime autem omnium et mulier defuncta est

22:28. At the resurrection therefore, whose wife of the seven shall she be? For they all had her.

In resurrectione ergo cuius erit de septem uxor omnes enim habuerunt eam

22:29. And Jesus answering, said to them: You err, not knowing the Scriptures nor the power of God.

Respondens autem Iesus ait illis erratis nescientes scripturas neque virtutem Dei

22:30. For in the resurrection they shall neither marry nor be married, but shall be as the angels of God in heaven.

In resurrectione enim neque nubent neque nubentur sed sunt sicut angeli Dei in caelo

22:31. And concerning the resurrection of the dead, have you not read that which was spoken by God, saying to you:

De resurrectione autem mortuorum non legistis quod dictum est a Deo dicente vobis

22:32. I am the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob? He is not the God of the dead but of the living.

Ego sum Deus Abraham et Deus Isaac et Deus Iacob non est Deus mortuorum sed viventium

22:33. And the multitudes hearing it were in admiration at his doctrine.

Et audientes turbae mirabantur in doctrina eius

22:34. But the Pharisees, hearing that he had silenced the Sadducees, came together.

Pharisaei autem audientes quod silentium inposuisset Sadducaeis convenerunt in unum

22:35. And one of them, a doctor of the law, asked him, tempting him:

Et interrogavit eum unus ex eis legis doctor temptans eum

22:36. Master, which is the great commandment in the law?

Magister quod est mandatum magnum in lege

22:37. Jesus said to him: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart and with thy whole soul and with thy whole mind.

Ait illi Iesus diliges Dominum Deum tuum ex toto corde tuo et in tota anima tua et in tota mente tua

22:38. This is the greatest and the first commandment.

Hoc est maximum et primum mandatum

22:39. And the second is like to this: Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

Secundum autem simile est huic diliges proximum tuum sicut te ipsum

22:40. On these two commandments dependeth the whole law and the prophets.

In his duobus mandatis universa lex pendet et prophetae

22:41. And the Pharisees being gathered together, Jesus asked them,

Congregatis autem Pharisaeis interrogavit eos Iesus

22:42. Saying: What think you of Christ? Whose son is he? They say to him: David's.

Dicens quid vobis videtur de Christo cuius filius est dicunt ei David

22:43. He saith to them: How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying:

Ait illis quomodo ergo David in spiritu vocat eum Dominum dicens

22:44. The Lord said to my Lord: Sit on my right hand, until I make thy enemies thy footstool?

Dixit Dominus Domino meo sede a dextris meis donec ponam inimicos tuos scabillum pedum tuorum

22:45. If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?

Si ergo David vocat eum Dominum quomodo filius eius est

22:46. And no man was able to answer him a word: neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

Et nemo poterat respondere ei verbum neque ausus fuit quisquam ex illa die eum amplius interrogare

Matthew Chapter 23

Christ admonishes the people to follow the good doctrine, not the bad example of the scribes and Pharisees. He warns his disciples not to imitate their ambition and denounces divers woes against them for their hypocrisy and blindness.

23:1. Then Jesus spoke to the multitudes and to his disciples,
Tunc Iesus locutus est ad turbas et discipulos suos

23:2. Saying: The scribes and the Pharisees have sitten on the chair of Moses.
Dicens super cathedram Mosi sederunt scribae et Pharisaei

23:3. All things therefore whatsoever they shall say to you, observe and do: but according to their works do ye not. For they say, and do not.
Omnia ergo quaecumque dixerint vobis servate et facite secundum opera vero eorum nolite facere dicunt enim et non faciunt

23:4. For they bind heavy and insupportable burdens and lay them on men's shoulders: but with a finger of their own they will not move them.
Alligant autem onera gravia et inportabilia et inponunt in umeros hominum digito autem suo nolunt ea movere

23:5. And all their works they do for to be seen of men. For they make their phylacteries broad and enlarge their fringes.
Omnia vero opera sua faciunt ut videantur ab hominibus dilatant enim phylacteria sua et magnificant fimbrias

Phylacteries... that is, parchments, on which they wrote the ten commandments, and carried them on their foreheads before their eyes: which the Pharisees affected to wear broader than other men; so to seem more zealous for the law.

23:6. And they love the first places at feasts and the first chairs in the synagogues,
Amant autem primos recubitus in cenis et primas cathedras in synagogis

23:7. And salutations in the market place, and to be called by men, Rabbi.
Et salutationes in foro et vocari ab hominibus rabbi

23:8. But be not you called Rabbi. For one is your master: and all you are brethren.
Vos autem nolite vocari rabbi unus enim est magister vester omnes autem vos fratres estis

23:9. And call none your father upon earth; for one is your father, who is in heaven.
Et patrem nolite vocare vobis super terram unus enim est Pater vester qui in caelis est

Call none your father--Neither be ye called masters, etc... The meaning is that our Father in heaven is incomparably more to be regarded, than any father upon earth: and no master to be followed, who would lead us away from Christ. But this does not hinder but that we are by the law of God to have a due respect both for our parents and spiritual fathers [1 Corinthians 4:15], and for our masters and teachers.

23:10. Neither be ye called masters: for one is your master, Christ.
Nec vocemini magistri quia magister vester unus est Christus

23:11. He that is the greatest among you shall be your servant.
Qui maior est vestrum erit minister vester

23:12. And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled: and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.
Qui autem se exaltaverit humiliabitur et qui se humiliaverit exaltabitur

23:13. But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you shut the kingdom of heaven against men: for you yourselves do not enter in and those that are going in, you suffer not to enter.

Vae autem vobis scribae et Pharisei hypocritae quia clauditis regnum caelorum ante homines vos enim non intratis nec introeuntes sinitis intrare

23:14. Woe to you scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you devour the houses of widows, praying long prayers. For this you shall receive the greater judgment.

23:15. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you go round about the sea and the land to make one proselyte. And when he is made, you make him the child of hell twofold more than yourselves.

Vae vobis scribae et Pharisei hypocritae quia circuitis mare et aridam ut faciatis unum proselytum et cum fuerit factus facitis eum filium gehennae duplo quam vos

23:16. Woe to you, blind guides, that say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but he that shall swear by the gold of the temple is a debtor.

Vae vobis duces caeci qui dicitis quicumque iuraverit per templum nihil est qui autem iuraverit in aurum templi debet

23:17. Ye foolish and blind: for whether is greater, the gold or the temple that sanctifieth the gold?

Stulti et caeci quid enim maius est aurum an templum quod sanctificat aurum

23:18. And whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gift that is upon it is a debtor.

Et quicumque iuraverit in altari nihil est quicumque autem iuraverit in dono quod est super illud debet

23:19. Ye foolish and blind: for whether is greater, the gift or the altar that sanctifieth the gift?

Caeci quid enim maius est donum an altare quod sanctificat donum

23:20. He therefore that sweareth by the altar sweareth by it and by all things that are upon it.

Qui ergo iurat in altare iurat in eo et in omnibus quae super illud sunt

23:21. And whosoever shall swear by the temple sweareth by it and by him that dwelleth in it.

Et qui iuraverit in templo iurat in illo et in eo qui inhabitat in ipso

23:22. And he that sweareth by heaven sweareth by the throne of God and by him that sitteth thereon.

Et qui iurat in caelo iurat in throno Dei et in eo qui sedet super eum

23:23. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; because you tithe mint and anise and cummin and have left the weightier things of the law: judgment and mercy and faith. These things you ought to have done and not to leave those undone.

Vae vobis scribae et Pharisei hypocritae quia decimatis mentam et anethum et cyminum et reliquistis quae graviora sunt legis iudicium et misericordiam et fidem haec oportuit facere et illa non omittere

23:24. Blind guides, who strain out a gnat and swallow a camel.

Duces caeci excolantes culicem camelum autem glutientes

23:25. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; because you make clean the outside of the cup and of the dish, but within you are full of rapine and uncleanness.

Vae vobis scribae et Pharisei hypocritae quia mundatis quod de foris est calicis et parapsidis intus autem pleni sunt rapina et imunditia

23:26. Thou blind Pharisee, first make clean the inside of the cup and of the dish, that the outside may become clean.

Phariseae caece munda prius quod intus est calicis et parapsidis ut fiat et id quod de foris est mundum

23:27. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; because you are like to whited sepulchres, which outwardly appear to men beautiful but within are full of dead men's bones and of all filthiness.

Vae vobis scribae et Pharisei hypocritae quia similes estis sepulchris dealbatis quae a foris parent hominibus speciosa intus vero plena sunt ossibus mortuorum et omni spurcitia

23:28. So you also outwardly indeed appear to men just: but inwardly you are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

Sic et vos a foris quidem paretis hominibus iusti intus autem pleni estis hypocrisi et iniquitate

23:29. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, that build the sepulchres of the prophets and adorn the monuments of the just,

Vae vobis scribae et Pharisei hypocritae quia aedificatis sepulchra prophetarum et ornatis monumenta iustorum

Build the sepulchres, etc... This is not blamed, as if it were in itself evil to build or adorn the monuments of the prophets: but the hypocrisy of the Pharisees is here taxed: who, whilst they pretended to honour the memory of the prophets, were persecuting even unto death the Lord of the prophets.

23:30. And say: If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.

Et dicitis si fuissetis in diebus patrum nostrorum non essemus socii eorum in sanguine prophetarum

23:31. Wherefore you are witnesses against yourselves, that you are the sons of them that killed the prophets.

Itaque testimonio estis vobismet ipsis quia filii estis eorum qui prophetas occiderunt

23:32. Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers.

Et vos implete mensuram patrum vestrorum

23:33. You serpents, generation of vipers, how will you flee from the judgment of hell?

Serpentes genimina viperarum quomodo fugietis a iudicio gehennae

23:34. Therefore behold I send to you prophets and wise men and scribes: and some of them you will put to death and crucify: and some you will scourge in your synagogues and persecute from city to city.

Ideo ecce ego mitto ad vos prophetas et sapientes et scribas ex illis occidetis et crucifigetis et ex eis flagellabitis in synagogis vestris et persequemini de civitate in civitatem

23:35. That upon you may come all the just blood that hath been shed upon the earth, from the blood of Abel the just, even unto the blood of Zacharias the son of Barachias, whom you killed between the temple and the altar.

Ut veniat super vos omnis sanguis iustus qui effusus est super terram a sanguine Abel iusti usque ad sanguinem Zacchariae filii Barachiae quem occidistis inter templum et altare

That upon you may come, etc... Not that they should suffer more than their own sins justly deserved; but that the justice of God should now fall upon them with such a final vengeance, once for all, as might comprise all the different kinds of judgments and punishments, that had at any time before been inflicted for the shedding of just blood.

23:36. Amen I say to you, all these things shall come upon this generation.

Amen dico vobis venient haec omnia super generationem istam

23:37. Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets and stonest them that are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered together thy children, as the hen doth gather her chickens under her wings, and thou wouldst not?

Hierusalem Hierusalem quae occidis prophetas et lapidas eos qui ad te missi sunt quotiens volui congregare filios tuos quemadmodum gallina congregat pullos suos sub alas et noluisti

23:38. Behold, your house shall be left to you, desolate.

Ecce relinquitur vobis domus vestra deserta

23:39. For I say to you, you shall not see me henceforth till you say: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

Dico enim vobis non me videbitis amodo donec dicatis benedictus qui venit in nomine Domini

Matthew Chapter 24

Christ foretells the destruction of the temple, with the signs that shall come before it and before the last judgment. We must always watch.

---

24:1. And Jesus being come out of the temple, went away. And his disciples came to show him the buildings of the temple.

Et egressus Iesus de templo ibat et accesserunt discipuli eius ut ostenderent ei aedificationes templi

24:2. And he answering, said to them: Do you see all these things? Amen I say to you, there shall not be left here a stone upon a stone that shall not be destroyed.

Ipse autem respondens dixit eis videtis haec omnia amen dico vobis non relinquetur hic lapis super lapidem qui non destruatur

24:3. And when he was sitting on mount Olivet, the disciples came to him privately, saying: Tell us when shall these things be? And what shall be the sign of thy coming and of the consummation of the world?

Sedente autem eo super montem Oliveti accesserunt ad eum discipuli secreto dicentes dic nobis quando haec erunt et quod signum adventus tui et consummationis saeculi

24:4. And Jesus answering, said to them: Take heed that no man seduce you.

Et respondens Iesus dixit eis videte ne quis vos seducat

24:5. For many will come in my name saying, I am Christ. And they will seduce many.

Multi enim venient in nomine meo dicentes ego sum Christus et multos seducent

24:6. And you shall hear of wars and rumours of wars. See that ye be not troubled. For these things must come to pass: but the end is not yet.

Audituri autem estis proelia et opiniones proeliorum videte ne turbemini oportet enim haec fieri sed nondum est finis

24:7. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: And there shall be pestilences and famines and earthquakes in places.

Consurget enim gens in gentem et regnum in regnum et erunt pestilentiae et fames et terraemotus per loca

24:8. Now all these are the beginnings of sorrows.

Haec autem omnia initia sunt dolorum

24:9. Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted and shall put you to death: and you shall be hated by all nations for my name's sake.

Tunc tradent vos in tribulationem et occident vos et eritis odio omnibus gentibus propter nomen meum

24:10. And then shall many be scandalized and shall betray one another and shall hate one another.

Et tunc scandalizabuntur multi et invicem tradent et odio habebunt invicem

24:11. And many false prophets shall rise and shall seduce many.

Et multi pseudoprophetae surgent et seducent multos

24:12. And because iniquity hath abounded, the charity of many shall grow cold.

Et quoniam abundabit iniquitas refrigescet caritas multorum

24:13. But he that shall persevere to the end, he shall be saved.

Qui autem permanserit usque in finem hic salvus erit

24:14. And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the whole world, for a testimony to all nations:

and then shall the consummation come.

Et praedicabitur hoc evangelium regni in universo orbe in testimonium omnibus gentibus et tunc veniet consummatio

24:15. When therefore you shall see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place: he that readeth let him understand.

Cum ergo videritis abominationem desolationis quae dicta est a Danihelo propheta stantem in loco sancto qui legit intellegat

24:16. Then they that are in Judea, let them flee to the mountains:

Tunc qui in Iudaea sunt fugiant ad montes

24:17. And he that is on the housetop, let him not come down to take any thing out of his house:

Et qui in tecto non descendat tollere aliquid de domo sua

24:18. And he that is in the field, let him not go back to take his coat.

Et qui in agro non revertatur tollere tunicam suam

24:19. And woe to them that are with child and that give suck in those days.

Vae autem praegnatibus et nutrientibus in illis diebus

24:20. But pray that your flight be not in the winter or on the sabbath.

Orate autem ut non fiat fuga vestra hieme vel sabbato

24:21. For there shall be then great tribulation, such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, neither shall be.

Erit enim tunc tribulatio magna qualis non fuit ab initio mundi usque modo neque fiet

24:22. And unless those days had been shortened, no flesh should be saved: but for the sake of the elect those days shall be shortened.

Et nisi breviati fuissent dies illi non fieret salva omnis caro sed propter electos breviabuntur dies illi

24:23. Then if any man shall say to you, Lo here is Christ, or there: do not believe him.

Tunc si quis vobis dixerit ecce hic Christus aut illic nolite credere

24:24. For there shall arise false Christs and false prophets and shall show great signs and wonders, insomuch as to deceive (if possible) even the elect.

Surgent enim pseudochristi et pseudoprophetae et dabunt signa magna et prodigia ita ut in errorem inducantur si fieri potest etiam electi

24:25. Behold I have told it to you, beforehand.

Ecce praedixi vobis

24:26. If therefore they shall say to you, Behold he is in the desert: go ye not out. Behold he is in the closets: believe it not.

Si ergo dixerint vobis ecce in deserto est nolite exire ecce in penetrabilibus nolite credere

24:27. For as lightning cometh out of the east and appeareth even into the west: so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

Sicut enim fulgur exit ab oriente et paret usque in occidente ita erit et adventus Filii hominis

24:28. Wheresoever the body shall be, there shall the eagles also be gathered together.

Ubi cumque fuerit corpus illuc congregabuntur aquilae

Wheresoever, etc... The coming of Christ shall be sudden, and manifest to all the world, like lightning: and wheresoever he shall come, thither shall all mankind be gathered to him, as eagles are gathered about a dead body.

24:29. And immediately after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be darkened and the moon shall not give her light and the stars shall fall from heaven and the powers of heaven shall be moved.

Statim autem post tribulationem dierum illorum sol obscurabitur et luna non dabit lumen suum et stellae cadent de caelo et virtutes caelorum commovebuntur

The stars... Or flaming meteors resembling stars.

24:30. And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven. And then shall all tribes of the earth mourn: and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with much power and majesty.

Et tunc parebit signum Filii hominis in caelo et tunc plangent omnes tribus terrae et videbunt Filium hominis venientem in nubibus caeli cum virtute multa et maiestate

The sign, etc... The cross of Christ.

24:31. And he shall send his angels with a trumpet and a great voice: and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the farthest parts of the heavens to the utmost bounds of them.

Et mittet angelos suos cum tuba et voce magna et congregabunt electos eius a quattuor ventis a summis caelorum usque ad terminos eorum

24:32. And from the fig tree learn a parable: When the branch thereof is now tender and the leaves come forth, you know that summer is nigh.

Ab arbore autem fici discite parabolam cum iam ramus eius tener fuerit et folia nata scitis quia prope est aestas

24:33. So you also, when you shall see all these things, know ye that it is nigh, even at the doors.

24:34. Amen I say to you that this generation shall not pass till all these things be done.

Amen dico vobis quia non praeteribit haec generatio donec omnia haec fiant

24:35. Heaven and earth shall pass: but my words shall not pass.

Caelum et terra transibunt verba vero mea non praeteribunt

Shall pass... Because they shall be changed at the end of the world into a new heaven and new earth.

24:36. But of that day and hour no one knoweth: no, not the angels of heaven, but the Father alone.

De die autem illa et hora nemo scit neque angeli caelorum nisi Pater solus

24:37. And as in the days of Noe, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

Sicut autem in diebus Noe ita erit et adventus Filii hominis

24:38. For, as in the days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, even till that day in which Noe entered into the ark:

Sicut enim erant in diebus ante diluvium comedentes et bibentes nubentes et nuptum tradentes usque ad eum diem quo introivit in arcam Noe

24:39. And they knew not till the flood came and took them all away: so also shall the coming of the Son of man be.

Et non cognoverunt donec venit diluvium et tulit omnes ita erit et adventus Filii hominis

24:40. Then two shall be in the field. One shall be taken and one shall be left.

Tunc duo erunt in agro unus adsumetur et unus relinquetur

24:41. Two women shall be grinding at the mill. One shall be taken and one shall be left.

Duae molentes in mola una adsumetur et una relinquetur

24:42. Watch ye therefore, because you know not what hour your Lord will come.

Vigilate ergo quia nescitis qua hora Dominus vester venturus sit

24:43. But this know ye, that, if the goodman of the house knew at what hour the thief would come, he would certainly watch and would not suffer his house to be broken open.

Illud autem scitote quoniam si sciret pater familias qua hora fur venturus esset vigilaret utique et non sineret perfodiri domum suam

24:44. Wherefore be you also ready, because at what hour you know not the Son of man will come.

Ideoque et vos estote parati quia qua nescitis hora Filius hominis venturus est

24:45. Who, thinkest thou, is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath appointed over his family, to give them meat in season?

Quis putas est fidelis servus et prudens quem constituit dominus suus supra familiam suam ut det illis cibum in tempore

24:46. Blessed is that servant, whom when his lord shall come he shall find so doing.

Beatus ille servus quem cum venerit dominus eius invenerit sic facientem

24:47. Amen I say to you: he shall place him over all his goods.
Amen dico vobis quoniam super omnia bona sua constituet eum

24:48. But if that evil servant shall say in his heart: My lord is long a coming:
Si autem dixerit malus servus ille in corde suo moram facit dominus meus venire

24:49. And shall begin to strike his fellow servants and shall eat and drink with drunkards:
Et coeperit percutere conservos suos manducet autem et bibat cum ebriis

24:50. The lord of that servant shall come in a day that he hopeth not and at an hour that he knoweth not:

Veniet dominus servi illius in die qua non sperat et hora qua ignorat

24:51. And shall separate him and appoint his portion with the hypocrites. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.
Et dividet eum partemque eius ponet cum hypocritis illic erit fletus et stridor dentium

Matthew Chapter 25

The parable of the ten virgins and of the talents. The description of the last judgment.

25:1. Then shall the kingdom of heaven be like to ten virgins, who taking their lamps went out to meet the bridegroom and the bride.

Tunc simile erit regnum caelorum decem virginibus quae accipientes lampadas suas exierunt obviam sponso et sponsae

25:2. And five of them were foolish and five wise.

Quinque autem ex eis erant fatuae et quinque prudentes

25:3. But the five foolish, having taken their lamps, did not take oil with them.

Sed quinque fatuae acceptis lampadibus non sumpserunt oleum secum

25:4. But the wise took oil in their vessels with the lamps.

Prudentes vero acceperunt oleum in vasis suis cum lampadibus

25:5. And the bridegroom tarrying, they all slumbered and slept.

Moram autem faciente sponso dormitaverunt omnes et dormierunt

25:6. And at midnight there was a cry made: Behold the bridegroom cometh. Go ye forth to meet him.

Media autem nocte clamor factus est ecce sponsus venit exite obviam ei

25:7. Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps.

Tunc surrexerunt omnes virgines illae et ornaverunt lampades suas

25:8. And the foolish said to the wise: Give us of your oil, for our lamps are gone out.

Fatuae autem sapientibus dixerunt date nobis de oleo vestro quia lampades nostrae extinguntur

25:9. The wise answered, saying: Lest perhaps there be not enough for us and for you, go ye rather to them that sell and buy for yourselves.

Responderunt prudentes dicentes ne forte non sufficiat nobis et vobis ite potius ad vendentes et emite vobis

25:10. Now whilst they went to buy the bridegroom came: and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage. And the door was shut.

Dum autem irent emere venit sponsus et quae paratae erant intraverunt cum eo ad nuptias et clausa est ianua

25:11. But at last came also the other virgins, saying: Lord, Lord, open to us.

Novissime veniunt et reliquae virgines dicentes domine domine aperi nobis

25:12. But he answering said: Amen I say to you, I know you not.

At ille respondens ait amen dico vobis nescio vos

25:13. Watch ye therefore, because you know not the day nor the hour.

Vigilate itaque quia nescitis diem neque horam

25:14. For even as a man going into a far country called his servants and delivered to them his goods;

Sicut enim homo proficiscens vocavit servos suos et tradidit illis bona sua

25:15. And to one he gave five talents, and to another two, and to another one, to every one according to his proper ability: and immediately he took his journey.

Et uni dedit quinque talenta alii autem duo alii vero unum unicuique secundum propriam virtutem et profectus est statim

25:16. And he that had received the five talents went his way and traded with the same and gained other five.

Abiit autem qui quinque talenta acceperat et operatus est in eis et lucratus est alia quinque

25:17. And in like manner he that had received the two gained other two.

Similiter qui duo acceperat lucratus est alia duo

25:18. But he that had received the one, going his way, digged into the earth and hid his lord's money.

Qui autem unum acceperat abiens fodit in terra et abscondit pecuniam domini sui

25:19. But after a long time the lord of those servants came and reckoned with them.

Post multum vero temporis venit dominus servorum illorum et posuit rationem cum eis

25:20. And he that had received the five talents coming, brought other five talents, saying: Lord, thou didst deliver to me five talents. Behold I have gained other five over and above.

Et accedens qui quinque talenta acceperat obtulit alia quinque talenta dicens domine quinque talenta mihi tradidisti ecce alia quinque superlucratus sum

25:21. His lord said to him: Well done, good and faithful servant, because thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will place thee over many things. Enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

Ait illi dominus eius euge bone serve et fidelis quia super pauca fuisti fidelis super multa te constituam intra in gaudium domini tui

25:22. And he also that had received the two talents came and said: Lord, thou deliveredst two talents to me. Behold I have gained other two.

Accessit autem et qui duo talenta acceperat et ait domine duo talenta tradidisti mihi ecce alia duo lucratus sum

25:23. His lord said to him: Well done, good and faithful servant: because thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will place thee over many things. Enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

Ait illi dominus eius euge serve bone et fidelis quia super pauca fuisti fidelis supra multa te constituam intra in gaudium domini tui

25:24. But he that had received the one talent, came and said: Lord, I know that thou art a hard man; thou reapest where thou hast not sown and gatherest where thou hast not strewed.

Accedens autem et qui unum talentum acceperat ait domine scio quia homo durus es metis ubi non seminasti et congregas ubi non sparsisti

25:25. And being afraid, I went and hid thy talent in the earth. Behold here thou hast that which is thine.

Et timens abii et abscondi talentum tuum in terra ecce habes quod tuum est

25:26. And his lord answering, said to him: Wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sow not and gather where I have not strewed.

Respondens autem dominus eius dixit ei serve male et piger sciebas quia meto ubi non semino et congrego ubi non sparsi

25:27. Thou oughtest therefore to have committed my money to the bankers: and at my coming I should have received my own with usury.

Oportuit ergo te mittere pecuniam meam nummulariis et veniens ego recepissem utique quod meum est cum usura

25:28. Take ye away therefore the talent from him and give it him that hath ten talents.

Tollite itaque ab eo talentum et date ei qui habet decem talenta

25:29. For to every one that hath shall be given, and he shall abound: but from him that hath not, that also which he seemeth to have shall be taken away.

Omni enim habenti dabitur et abundabit ei autem qui non habet et quod videtur habere auferetur ab eo

25:30. And the unprofitable servant, cast ye out into the exterior darkness. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Et inutilem servum eicite in tenebras exteriores illic erit fletus et stridor dentium

25:31. And when the Son of man shall come in his majesty, and all the angels with him, then shall he sit upon the seat of his majesty.

Cum autem venerit Filius hominis in maiestate sua et omnes angeli cum eo tunc sedebit super sedem maiestatis suae

25:32. And all nations shall be gathered together before him: and he shall separate them one from another, as the shepherd separateth the sheep from the goats:

Et congregabuntur ante eum omnes gentes et separabit eos ab invicem sicut pastor segregat oves ab hedis

25:33. And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on his left.

Et statuet oves quidem a dextris suis hedos autem a sinistris

25:34. Then shall the king say to them that shall be on his right hand: Come, ye blessed of my Father, possess you the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

Tunc dicet rex his qui a dextris eius erunt venite benedicti Patris mei possidete paratum vobis regnum a constitutione mundi

25:35. For I was hungry, and you gave me to eat: I was thirsty, and you gave me to drink: I was a stranger, and you took me in:

Esurivi enim et dedistis mihi manducare sitiivi et dedistis mihi bibere hospes eram et collexistis me

25:36. Naked, and you covered me: sick, and you visited me: I was in prison, and you came to me.

Nudus et operuistis me infirmus et visitastis me in carcere eram et venistis ad me

25:37. Then shall the just answer him, saying: Lord, when did we see thee hungry and fed thee: thirsty and gave thee drink?

Tunc respondebunt ei iusti dicentes Domine quando te vidimus esurientem et pavimus sitientem et dedimus tibi potum

25:38. Or when did we see thee a stranger and took thee in? Or naked and covered thee?

Quando autem te vidimus hospitem et colleximus te aut nudum et cooperuimus

25:39. Or when did we see thee sick or in prison and came to thee?

Aut quando te vidimus infirmum aut in carcere et venimus ad te

25:40. And the king answering shall say to them: Amen I say to you, as long as you did it to one of these my least brethren, you did it to me.

Et respondens rex dicet illis amen dico vobis quamdiu fecistis uni de his fratribus meis minimis mihi fecistis

25:41. Then he shall say to them also that shall be on his left hand: Depart from me, you cursed, into everlasting fire, which was prepared for the devil and his angels.

Tunc dicet et his qui a sinistris erunt discedite a me maledicti in ignem aeternum qui paratus est diabolo et angelis eius

25:42. For I was hungry and you gave me not to eat: I was thirsty and you gave me not to drink.

Esurivi enim et non dedistis mihi manducare sitiivi et non dedistis mihi potum

25:43. I was a stranger and you took me not in: naked and you covered me not: sick and in prison and you did not visit me.

Hospes eram et non collexistis me nudus et non operuistis me infirmus et in carcere et non visitastis me

25:44. Then they also shall answer him, saying: Lord, when did we see thee hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison and did not minister to thee?

Tunc respondebunt et ipsi dicentes Domine quando te vidimus esurientem aut sitientem aut hospitem aut nudum aut infirmum vel in carcere et non ministravimus tibi

25:45. Then he shall answer them, saying: Amen: I say to you, as long as you did it not to one of these least, neither did you do it to me.

Tunc respondebit illis dicens amen dico vobis quamdiu non fecistis uni de minoribus his nec mihi fecistis

25:46. And these shall go into everlasting punishment: but the just, into life everlasting.

Et ibunt hii in supplicium aeternum iusti autem in vitam aeternam

Matthew Chapter 26

The Jews conspire against Christ. He is anointed by Mary. The treason of Judas. The last supper. The prayer in the garden. The apprehension of our Lord. His treatment in the house of Caiphaz.

26:1. And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended all these words, he said to his disciples:

Et factum est cum consummasset Iesus sermones hos omnes dixit discipulis suis

26:2. You know that after two days shall be the pasch: and the Son of man shall be delivered up to be crucified.

Scitis quia post biduum pascha fiet et Filius hominis tradetur ut crucifigatur

26:3. Then were gathered together the chief priests and ancients of the people, into the court of the high priest, who was called Caiphaz:

Tunc congregati sunt principes sacerdotum et seniores populi in atrium principis sacerdotum qui dicebatur Caiaphas

26:4. And they consulted together that by subtilty they might apprehend Jesus and put him to death.

Et consilium fecerunt ut Iesum dolo tenerent et occiderent

26:5. But they said: Not on the festival day, lest perhaps there should be a tumult among the people.

Dicebant autem non in die festo ne forte tumultus fieret in populo

26:6. And when Jesus was in Bethania, in the house of Simon the leper,

Cum autem esset Iesus in Bethania in domo Simonis leprosi

26:7. There came to him a woman having an alabaster box of precious ointment and poured it on his head as he was at table.

Accessit ad eum mulier habens alabastrum unguenti pretiosi et effudit super caput ipsius recumbentis

26:8. And the disciples seeing it had indignation, saying: To what purpose is this waste?

Videntes autem discipuli indignati sunt dicentes ut quid perditio haec

26:9. For this might have been sold for much and given to the poor.

Potuit enim istud venundari multo et dari pauperibus

26:10. And Jesus knowing it, said to them: Why do you trouble this woman? For she hath wrought a good work upon me.

Sciens autem Iesus ait illis quid molesti estis mulieri opus bonum operata est in me

26:11. For the poor you have always with you: but me you have not always.

Nam semper pauperes habetis vobiscum me autem non semper habetis

Me you have not always... Viz., in a visible manner, as when conversant here on earth; and as we have the poor, whom we may daily assist and relieve.

26:12. For she in pouring this ointment on my body hath done it for my burial.

Mittens enim haec unguentum hoc in corpus meum ad sepeliendum me fecit

26:13. Amen I say to you, wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also which she hath done shall be told for a memory of her.

Amen dico vobis ubicumque praedicatum fuerit hoc evangelium in toto mundo dicetur et quod haec fecit in memoriam eius

26:14. Then went one of the twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, to the chief priests.

Tunc abiit unus de duodecim qui dicitur Iudas Scarioth ad principes sacerdotum

26:15. And said to them: What will you give me, and I will deliver him unto you? But they appointed him thirty pieces of silver.

Et ait illis quid vultis mihi dare et ego vobis eum tradam at illi constituerunt ei triginta argenteos

26:16. And from thenceforth he sought opportunity to betray him.

Et exinde quaerebat oportunitatem ut eum traderet

26:17. And on the first day of the Azymes, the disciples came to Jesus, saying: Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the pasch?

Prima autem azymorum accesserunt discipuli ad Iesum dicentes ubi vis paremus tibi comedere pascha Azymes... Feast of the unleavened bread. Pasch... The paschal lamb.

26:18. But Jesus said: Go ye into the city to a certain man and say to him: The master saith, My time is near at hand. With thee I make the pasch with my disciples.

At Iesus dixit ite in civitatem ad quendam et dicite ei magister dicit tempus meum prope est apud te facio pascha cum discipulis meis

26:19. And the disciples did as Jesus appointed to them: and they prepared the pasch.

Et fecerunt discipuli sicut constituit illis Iesus et paraverunt pascha

26:20. But when it was evening, he sat down with his twelve disciples.

Vespere autem facto discumbebat cum duodecim discipulis

26:21. And whilst they were eating, he said: Amen I say to you that one of you is about to betray me.

Et edentibus illis dixit amen dico vobis quia unus vestrum me traditurus est

26:22. And they being very much troubled began every one to say: Is it I, Lord?

Et contristati valde coeperunt singuli dicere numquid ego sum Domine

26:23. But he answering said: He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, he shall betray me.

At ipse respondens ait qui intinguit mecum manum in parapside hic me tradet

26:24. The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him. But woe to that man by whom the Son of man shall be betrayed. It were better for him, if that man had not been born.

Filius quidem hominis vadit sicut scriptum est de illo vae autem homini illi per quem Filius hominis traditur bonum erat ei si natus non fuisset homo ille

26:25. And Judas that betrayed him answering, said: Is it I, Rabbi? He saith to him: Thou hast said it.

Respondens autem Iudas qui tradidit eum dixit numquid ego sum rabbi ait illi tu dixisti

26:26. And whilst they were at supper, Jesus took bread and blessed and broke and gave to his disciples and said: Take ye and eat. This is my body.

Cenantibus autem eis accepit Iesus panem et benedixit ac fregit deditque discipulis suis et ait accipite et comedite hoc est corpus meum

This is my body... He does not say, This is the figure of my body--but This is my body. (2 Council of Nice, Act. 6.) Neither does he say in this, or with this is my body; but absolutely, This is my body: which plainly implies transubstantiation.

26:27. And taking the chalice, he gave thanks and gave to them, saying: Drink ye all of this.

Et accipiens calicem gratias egit et dedit illis dicens bibite ex hoc omnes

Drink ye all of this... This was spoken to the twelve apostles; who were the all then present; and they all drank of it, says Mark 14:23. But it no ways follows from these words spoken to the apostles, that all the faithful are here commanded to drink of the chalice; any more than that all the faithful are commanded to consecrate, offer and administer this sacrament; because Christ upon this same occasion, and at the same time, bid the apostles do so; in these words, Luke 22:19, Do this for a commemoration of me.

26:28. For this is my blood of the new testament, which shall be shed for many unto remission of sins.

Blood of the new testament... As the old testament was dedicated with the blood of victims, by Moses, in these words: This is the blood of the testament, etc. [Hebrews 9:20]; so here is the dedication and institution of the new testament, in the blood of Christ, here mystically shed by these words: This is the blood of the new testament, etc.

26:29. And I say to you, I will not drink from henceforth of this fruit of the vine until that day when I shall drink it with you new in the kingdom of my Father.

Dico autem vobis non bibam amodo de hoc genimine vitis usque in diem illum cum illud bibam vobiscum

novum in regno Patris mei

Fruit of the vine... These words, by the account of Luke 22: 18, were not spoken of the sacramental cup, but of the wine that was drunk with the paschal lamb. Though the sacramental cup might also be called the fruit of the vine, because it was consecrated from wine, and retains the likeness, and all the accidents or qualities of wine.

26:30. And a hymn being said, they went out unto mount Olivet.

Et hymno dicto exierunt in montem Oliveti

26:31. Then Jesus saith to them: All you shall be scandalized in me this night. For it is written: I will strike the shepherd: and the sheep of the flock shall be dispersed.

Tunc dicit illis Iesus omnes vos scandalum patiemini in me in ista nocte scriptum est enim percutiam pastorem et dispergentur oves gregis

Scandalized in me, etc... Forasmuch as my being apprehended shall make you all run away and forsake me.

26:32. But after I shall be risen again, I will go before you into Galilee.

Postquam autem resurrexero praecedam vos in Galilaeam

26:33. And Peter answering, said to him: Although all shall be scandalized in thee, I will never be scandalized.

Respondens autem Petrus ait illi et si omnes scandalizati fuerint in te ego numquam scandalizabor

26:34. Jesus said to him: Amen I say to thee that in this night before the cock crow, thou wilt deny me thrice.

Ait illi Iesus amen dico tibi quia in hac nocte antequam gallus cantet ter me negabis

26:35. Peter saith to him: Yea, though I should die with thee, I will not deny thee. And in like manner said all the disciples.

Ait illi Petrus etiam si oportuerit me mori tecum non te negabo similiter et omnes discipuli dixerunt

26:36. Then Jesus came with them into a country place which is called Gethsemani. And he said to his disciples: Sit you here, till I go yonder and pray.

Tunc venit Iesus cum illis in villam quae dicitur Gethsemani et dixit discipulis suis sedete hic donec vadam illuc et orem

26:37. And taking with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, he began to grow sorrowful and to be sad.

Et adsumpto Petro et duobus filiis Zebedaei coepit contristari et maestus esse

26:38. Then he saith to them: My soul is sorrowful even unto death. Stay you here and watch with me.

Tunc ait illis tristis est anima mea usque ad mortem sustinete hic et vigilate mecum

26:39. And going a little further, he fell upon his face, praying and saying: My Father, if it be possible, let this chalice pass from me. Nevertheless, not as I will but as thou wilt.

Et progressus pusillum procidit in faciem suam orans et dicens mi Pater si possibile est transeat a me calix iste verumtamen non sicut ego volo sed sicut tu

26:40. And he cometh to his disciples and findeth them asleep. And he saith to Peter: What? Could you not watch one hour with me?

Et venit ad discipulos et invenit eos dormientes et dicit Petro sic non potuistis una hora vigilare mecum

26:41. Watch ye: and pray that ye enter not into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

Vigilate et orate ut non intretis in temptationem spiritus quidem promptus est caro autem infirma

26:42. Again the second time, he went and prayed, saying: My Father, if this chalice may not pass away, but I must drink it, thy will be done.

Iterum secundo abiit et oravit dicens Pater mi si non potest hic calix transire nisi bibam illum fiat voluntas tua

26:43. And he cometh again and findeth them sleeping: for their eyes were heavy.

Et venit iterum et invenit eos dormientes erant enim oculi eorum gravati

26:44. And leaving them, he went again: and he prayed the third time, saying the selfsame word.

Et relictis illis iterum abiit et oravit tertio eundem sermonem dicens

26:45. Then he cometh to his disciples and said to them: Sleep ye now and take your rest. Behold the hour is at hand: and the Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of sinners.

Tunc venit ad discipulos suos et dicit illis dormite iam et requiescite ecce adpropinquavit hora et Filius hominis traditur in manus peccatorum

26:46. Rise: let us go. Behold he is at hand that will betray me.

Surgite eamus ecce adpropinquavit qui me tradit

26:47. As he yet spoke, behold Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and clubs, sent from the chief priests and the ancients of the people.

Adhuc ipso loquente ecce Iudas unus de duodecim venit et cum eo turba multa cum gladiis et fustibus a principibus sacerdotum et senioribus populi

26:48. And he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying: Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he. Hold him fast.

Qui autem tradidit eum dedit illis signum dicens quemcumque osculatus fuero ipse est tenete eum

26:49. And forthwith coming to Jesus, he said: Hail, Rabbi. And he kissed him.

Et confestim accedens ad Iesum dixit have rabbi et osculatus est eum

26:50. And Jesus said to him: Friend, whereto art thou come? Then they came up and laid hands on Jesus and held him.

Dixitque illi Iesus amice ad quod venisti tunc accesserunt et manus iniecerunt in Iesum et tenuerunt eum

26:51. And behold one of them that were with Jesus, stretching forth his hand, drew out his sword: and striking the servant of the high priest, cut off his ear.

Et ecce unus ex his qui erant cum Iesu extendens manum exemit gladium suum et percutiens servum principis sacerdotum amputavit auriculam eius

26:52. Then Jesus saith to him: Put up again thy sword into its place: for all that take the sword shall perish with the sword.

Tunc ait illi Iesus converte gladium tuum in locum suum omnes enim qui acceperint gladium gladio peribunt

26:53. Thinkest thou that I cannot ask my Father, and he will give me presently more than twelve legions of angels?

An putas quia non possum rogare Patrem meum et exhibebit mihi modo plus quam duodecim legiones angelorum

26:54. How then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, that so it must be done?

Quomodo ergo implebuntur scripturae quia sic oportet fieri

26:55. In that same hour, Jesus said to the multitudes: You are come out, as it were to a robber, with swords and clubs to apprehend me. I sat daily with you, teaching in the temple: and you laid not hands on me.

In illa hora dixit Iesus turbis tamquam ad latronem existis cum gladiis et fustibus comprehendere me cotidie apud vos sedebam docens in templo et non me tenuistis

26:56. Now all this was done that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then the disciples, all leaving him, fled.

Hoc autem totum factum est ut implerentur scripturae prophetarum tunc discipuli omnes relicto eo fugerunt

26:57. But they holding Jesus led him to Caiphas the high priest, where the scribes and the ancients were assembled.

At illi tenentes Iesum duxerunt ad Caiaphan principem sacerdotum ubi scribae et seniores convenerant

26:58. And Peter followed him afar off, even to the court of the high priest, And going in, he sat with the servants, that he might see the end.

Petrus autem sequebatur eum a longe usque in atrium principis sacerdotum et ingressus intro sedebat cum ministris ut videret finem

26:59. And the chief priests and the whole council sought false witness against Jesus, that they might put him to death.

Principes autem sacerdotum et omne concilium quaerebant falsum testimonium contra Iesum ut eum morti traderent

26:60. And they found not, whereas many false witnesses had come in. And last of all there came two false witnesses:

Et non invenerunt cum multi falsi testes accessissent novissime autem venerunt duo falsi testes

26:61. And they said: This man said, I am able to destroy the temple of God and after three days to rebuild it.

Et dixerunt hic dixit possum destruere templum Dei et post triduum aedificare illud

26:62. And the high priest rising up, said to him: Answerest thou nothing to the things which these witness against thee?

Et surgens princeps sacerdotum ait illi nihil respondes ad ea quae isti adversum te testificantur

26:63. But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest said to him: I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us if thou be the Christ the Son of God.

Iesus autem tacebat et princeps sacerdotum ait illi adiuro te per Deum vivum ut dicas nobis si tu es Christus Filius Dei

26:64. Jesus saith to him: Thou hast said it. Nevertheless I say to you, hereafter you shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of the power of God and coming in the clouds of heaven.

Dicit illi Iesus tu dixisti verumtamen dico vobis amodo videbitis Filium hominis sedentem a dextris virtutis et venientem in nubibus caeli

26:65. Then the high priest rent his garments, saying: He hath blasphemed: What further need have we of witnesses? Behold, now you have heard the blasphemy.

Tunc princeps sacerdotum scidit vestimenta sua dicens blasphemavit quid adhuc egemus testibus ecce nunc audistis blasphemiam

26:66. What think you? But they answering, said: He is guilty of death.

Quid vobis videtur at illi respondentes dixerunt reus est mortis

26:67. Then did they spit in his face and buffeted him. And others struck his face with the palms of their hands,

Tunc expuerunt in faciem eius et colaphis eum ceciderunt alii autem palmas in faciem ei dederunt

26:68. Saying: Prophecy unto us, O Christ. Who is he that struck thee?

Dicentes prophetiza nobis Christe quis est qui te percussit

26:69. But Peter sat without in the court. And there came to him a servant maid, saying: Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilean.

Petrus vero sedebat foris in atrio et accessit ad eum una ancilla dicens et tu cum Iesu Galilaeo eras

26:70. But he denied before them all, saying: I know not what thou sayest.

At ille negavit coram omnibus dicens nescio quid dicis

26:71. And as he went out of the gate, another maid saw him; and she saith to them that were there: This man also was with Jesus of Nazareth.

Exeunte autem illo ianuam vidit eum alia et ait his qui erant ibi et hic erat cum Iesu Nazareno

26:72. And again he denied with an oath: I know not the man.

Et iterum negavit cum iuramento quia non novi hominem

26:73. And after a little while, they came that stood by and said to Peter: Surely thou also art one of them. For even thy speech doth discover thee.

Et post pusillum accesserunt qui stabant et dixerunt Petro vere et tu ex illis es nam et loquella tua manifestum te facit

26:74. Then he began to curse and to swear that he knew not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

Tunc coepit detestari et iurare quia non novisset hominem et continuo gallus cantavit

26:75. And Peter remembered the word of Jesus which he had said: Before the cock crew, thou wilt deny me thrice. And going forth, he wept bitterly.

Et recordatus est Petrus verbi Iesu quod dixerat priusquam gallus cantet ter me negabis et egressus foras
ploravit amare

Matthew Chapter 27

The continuation of the history of the passion of Christ. His death and burial.

27:1. And when morning was come, all the chief priests and ancients of the people took counsel against Jesus, that they might put him to death.

Mane autem facto consilium inierunt omnes principes sacerdotum et seniores populi adversus Iesum ut eum morti traderent

27:2. And they brought him bound and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.

Et vinctum adduxerunt eum et tradiderunt Pontio Pilato praesidi

27:3. Then Judas, who betrayed him, seeing that he was condemned, repenting himself, brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and ancients,

Tunc videns Iudas qui eum tradidit quod damnatus esset paenitentia ductus rettulit triginta argenteos principibus sacerdotum et senioribus

27:4. Saying: I have sinned in betraying innocent blood. But they said: What is that to us? Look thou to it.

Dicens peccavi tradens sanguinem iustum at illi dixerunt quid ad nos tu videris

27:5. And casting down the pieces of silver in the temple, he departed and went and hanged himself with an halter.

Et proiectis argenteis in templo recessit et abiens laqueo se suspendit

27:6. But the chief priests having taken the pieces of silver, said: It is not lawful to put them into the corbona, because it is the price of blood.

Principes autem sacerdotum acceptis argenteis dixerunt non licet mittere eos in corbanan quia pretium sanguinis est

Corbona... A place in the temple where the people put in their gifts or offerings.

27:7. And after they had consulted together, they bought with them the potter's field, to be a burying place for strangers.

Consilio autem inito emerunt ex illis agrum figuli in sepulturam peregrinorum

27:8. For this cause that field was called Haceldama, that is, the field of blood, even to this day.

Propter hoc vocatus est ager ille Acheldemach ager sanguinis usque in hodiernum diem

27:9. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremias the prophet, saying: And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was prized, whom they prized of the children of Israel.

Tunc impletum est quod dictum est per Hieremiam prophetam dicentem et acceperunt triginta argenteos pretium adpretiati quem adpretiaverunt a filiis Israhel

27:10. And they gave them unto the potter's field, as the Lord appointed to me.

Et dederunt eos in agrum figuli sicut constituit mihi Dominus

27:11. And Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor asked him, saying: Art thou the king of the Jews? Jesus saith to him: Thou sayest it.

Iesus autem stetit ante praesidem et interrogavit eum praeses dicens tu es rex Iudaeorum dicit ei Iesus tu dicis

27:12. And when he was accused by the chief priests and ancients, he answered nothing.

Et cum accusaretur a principibus sacerdotum et senioribus nihil respondit

27:13. Then Pilate saith to him: Dost not thou hear how great testimonies they allege against thee?

Tunc dicit illi Pilatus non audis quanta adversum te dicant testimonia

27:14. And he answered him to never a word, so that the governor wondered exceedingly.
Et non respondit ei ad ullum verbum ita ut miraretur praeses vehementer

27:15. Now upon the solemn day the governor was accustomed to release to the people one prisoner, whom they would.
Per diem autem sollemnem consueverat praeses dimittere populo unum vinctum quem voluissent

27:16. And he had then a notorious prisoner that was called Barabbas.
Habebat autem tunc vinctum insignem qui dicebatur Barabbas

27:17. They therefore being gathered together, Pilate said: Whom will you that I release to You: Barabbas, or Jesus that is called Christ?
Congregatis ergo illis dixit Pilatus quem vultis dimittam vobis Barabban an Iesum qui dicitur Christus

27:18. For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.
Sciebat enim quod per invidiam tradidissent eum

27:19. And as he was sitting in the place of judgment, his wife sent to him, saying: Have thou nothing to do with that just man; for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him.
Sedente autem illo pro tribunali misit ad illum uxor eius dicens nihil tibi et iusto illi multa enim passa sum hodie per visum propter eum

27:20. But the chief priests and ancients persuaded the people that they should ask Barabbas and make Jesus away.
Princeps autem sacerdotum et seniores persuaserunt populis ut peterent Barabban Iesum vero perderent

27:21. And the governor answering, said to them: Whether will you of the two to be released unto you? But they said: Barabbas.
Respondens autem praeses ait illis quem vultis vobis de duobus dimitti at illi dixerunt Barabban

27:22. Pilate saith to them: What shall I do then with Jesus that is called Christ? They say all: Let him be crucified.
Dicit illis Pilatus quid igitur faciam de Iesu qui dicitur Christus

27:23. The governor said to them: Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying: Let him be crucified.
Dicunt omnes crucifigatur ait illis praeses quid enim mali fecit at illi magis clamabant dicentes crucifigatur

27:24. And Pilate seeing that he prevailed nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, taking water washed his hands before the people, saying: I am innocent of the blood of this just man. Look you to it.
Videns autem Pilatus quia nihil proficeret sed magis tumultus fieret accepta aqua lavit manus coram populo dicens innocens ego sum a sanguine iusti huius vos videritis

27:25. And the whole people answering, said: His blood be upon us and upon our children.
Et respondens universus populus dixit sanguis eius super nos et super filios nostros

27:26. Then he released to them Barabbas: and having scourged Jesus, delivered him unto them to be crucified.
Tunc dimisit illis Barabban Iesum autem flagellatum tradidit eis ut crucifigeretur

27:27. Then the soldiers of the governor, taking Jesus into the hall, gathered together unto him the whole band.
Tunc milites praesidis suscipientes Iesum in praetorio congregaverunt ad eum universam cohortem

27:28. And stripping him, they put a scarlet cloak about him.
Et exuentes eum clamydem coccineam circumdederunt ei

27:29. And plating a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand. And bowing the knee before him, they mocked him, saying: Hail, King of the Jews.
Et plectentes coronam de spinis posuerunt super caput eius et harundinem in dextera eius et genu flexo ante eum inludabant dicentes have rex Iudaeorum

27:30. And spitting upon him, they took the reed and struck his head.
Et expuentes in eum acceperunt harundinem et percutiebant caput eius

27:31. And after they had mocked him, they took off the cloak from him and put on him his own garments and led him away to crucify him.
Et postquam inluserunt ei exuerunt eum clamydem et induerunt eum vestimentis eius et duxerunt eum ut crucifigerent

27:32. And going out, they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they forced to take up his cross.
Exeuntes autem invenerunt hominem cyreneum nomine Simonem hunc angariaverunt ut tolleret crucem eius

27:33. And they came to the place that is called Golgotha, which is the place of Calvary.
Et venerunt in locum qui dicitur Golgotha quod est Calvariae locus

27:34. And they gave him wine to drink mingled with gall. And when he had tasted, he would not drink.
Et dederunt ei vinum bibere cum felle mixtum et cum gustasset noluit bibere

27:35. And after they had crucified him, they divided his garments, casting lots; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying: They divided my garments among them; and upon my vesture they cast lots.
Postquam autem crucifixerunt eum diviserunt vestimenta eius sortem mittentes

27:36. And they sat and watched him.
Et sedentes servabant eum

27:37. And they put over his head his cause written: THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.
Et inposuerunt super caput eius causam ipsius scriptam hic est Iesus rex Iudaeorum

27:38. Then were crucified with him two thieves: one on the right hand and one on the left.
Tunc crucifixi sunt cum eo duo latrones unus a dextris et unus a sinistris

27:39. And they that passed by blasphemed him, wagging their heads,
Praetereuntes autem blasphemabant eum moventes capita sua

27:40. And saying: Vah, thou that destroyest the temple of God and in three days dost rebuild it: save thy own self. If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.
Et dicentes qui destruit templum et in triduo illud reaedificat salva temet ipsum si Filius Dei es descende de cruce

27:41. In like manner also the chief priests, with the scribes and ancients, mocking said:
Similiter et principes sacerdotum inludentes cum scribis et senioribus dicentes

27:42. He saved others: himself he cannot save. If he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross: and we will believe him.
Alios salvos fecit se ipsum non potest salvum facere si rex Israhel est descendat nunc de cruce et credemus ei

27:43. He trusted in God: let him now deliver him if he will have him. For he said: I am the Son of God.
Confidet in Deo liberet nunc eum si vult dixit enim quia Dei Filius sum

27:44. And the selfsame thing the thieves also that were crucified with him reproached him with.
Id ipsum autem et latrones qui fixi erant cum eo inproperabant ei

27:45. Now from the sixth hour, there was darkness over the whole earth, until the ninth hour.
A sexta autem hora tenebrae factae sunt super universam terram usque ad horam nonam

27:46. And about the ninth hour, Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying: Eli, Eli, lamma sabachthani? That is, My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me?
Et circa horam nonam clamavit Iesus voce magna dicens Heli Heli lema sabachthani hoc est Deus meus Deus meus ut quid dereliquisti me

27:47. And some that stood there and heard said: This man calleth Elias.
Quidam autem illic stantes et audientes dicebant Heliam vocat iste

27:48. And immediately one of them running took a sponge and filled it with vinegar and put it on a reed and gave him to drink.

Et continuo currens unus ex eis acceptam spongiam implevit aceto et inposuit harundini et dabat ei bibere

27:49. And the others said: Let be. Let us see whether Elias will come to deliver him.

Ceteri vero dicebant sine videamus an veniat Helias liberans eum

27:50. And Jesus again crying with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

Iesus autem iterum clamans voce magna emisit spiritum

27:51. And behold the veil of the temple was rent in two from the top even to the bottom: and the earth quaked and the rocks were rent.

Et ecce velum templi scissum est in duas partes a summo usque deorsum et terra mota est et petrae scissae sunt

27:52. And the graves were opened: and many bodies of the saints that had slept arose,

Et monumenta aperta sunt et multa corpora sanctorum qui dormierant surrexerunt

27:53. And coming out of the tombs after his resurrection, came into the holy city and appeared to many.

Et exeuntes de monumentis post resurrectionem eius venerunt in sanctam civitatem et apparuerunt multis

27:54. Now the centurion and they that were with him watching Jesus, having seen the earthquake and the things that were done, were sore afraid, saying: Indeed this was the Son of God.

Centurio autem et qui cum eo erant custodientes Iesum viso terraemotu et his quae fiebant timuerunt valde dicentes vere Dei Filius erat iste

27:55. And there were there many women afar off, who had followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him:

Erant autem ibi mulieres multae a longe quae secutae erant Iesum a Galilaea ministrantes ei

27:56. Among whom was Mary Magdalen and Mary the mother of James and Joseph and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

Inter quas erat Maria Magdalene et Maria Iacobi et Ioseph mater et mater filiorum Zebedaei

27:57. And when it was evening, there came a certain rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was a disciple of Jesus.

Cum sero autem factum esset venit quidam homo dives ab Arimathia nomine Ioseph qui et ipse discipulus erat Iesu

27:58. He went to Pilate and asked the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded that the body should be delivered.

Hic accessit ad Pilatum et petiit corpus Iesu tunc Pilatus iussit reddi corpus

27:59. And Joseph taking the body wrapped it up in a clean linen cloth:

Et accepto corpore Ioseph involvit illud sindone munda

27:60. And laid it in his own new monument, which he had hewed out in a rock. And he rolled a great stone to the door of the monument and went his way.

Et posuit illud in monumento suo novo quod exciderat in petra et advolvit saxum magnum ad ostium monumenti et abiit

27:61. And there was there Mary Magdalen and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

Erat autem ibi Maria Magdalene et altera Maria sedentes contra sepulchrum

27:62. And the next day, which followed the day of preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees came together to Pilate,

Altera autem die quae est post parasceven convenerunt principes sacerdotum et Pharisei ad Pilatum

The day of preparation... The eve of the sabbath; so called, because on that day they prepared all things necessary; not being allowed so much as to dress their meat on the sabbath day.

27:63. Saying: Sir, we have remembered, that that seducer said, while he was yet alive: After three days I will rise again.

Dicentes domine recordati sumus quia seductor ille dixit adhuc vivens post tres dies resurgam

27:64. Command therefore the sepulchre to be guarded until the third day: lest perhaps his disciples come and steal him away and say to the people: He is risen from the dead. And the last error shall be worse than the first.

lube ergo custodiri sepulchrum usque in diem tertium ne forte veniant discipuli eius et furentur eum et dicant plebi surrexit a mortuis et erit novissimus error peior priore

27:65. Pilate saith to them: You have a guard. Go, guard it as you know.

Ait illis Pilatus habetis custodiam ite custodite sicut scitis

27:66. And they departing, made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone and setting guards.

Illi autem abeuntes munierunt sepulchrum signantes lapidem cum custodibus

Matthew Chapter 28

The resurrection of Christ. His commission to his disciples.

28:1. And in the end of the sabbath, when it began to dawn towards the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalen and the other Mary, to see the sepulchre.

Vespere autem sabbati quae lucescit in primam sabbati venit Maria Magdalene et altera Maria videre sepulchrum

28:2. And behold there was a great earthquake. For an angel of the Lord descended from heaven and coming rolled back the stone and sat upon it.

Et ecce terraemotus factus est magnus angelus enim Domini descendit de caelo et accedens revolvit lapidem et sedebat super eum

28:3. And his countenance was as lightning and his raiment as snow.

Erat autem aspectus eius sicut fulgur et vestimentum eius sicut nix

28:4. And for fear of him, the guards were struck with terror and became as dead men.

Prae timore autem eius exterriti sunt custodes et facti sunt velut mortui

28:5. And the angel answering, said to the women: Fear not you: for I know that you seek Jesus who was crucified.

Respondens autem angelus dixit mulieribus nolite timere vos scio enim quod Iesum qui crucifixus est quaeritis

28:6. He is not here. For he is risen, as he said. Come, and see the place where the Lord was laid.

Non est hic surrexit enim sicut dixit venite videte locum ubi positus erat Dominus

28:7. And going quickly, tell ye his disciples that he is risen. And behold he will go before you into Galilee. There you shall see him. Lo, I have foretold it to you.

Et cito euntes dicite discipulis eius quia surrexit et ecce praecedit vos in Galilaeam ibi eum videbitis ecce praedixi vobis

28:8. And they went out quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy, running to tell his disciples.

Et exierunt cito de monumento cum timore et magno gaudio currentes nuntiare discipulis eius

28:9. And behold, Jesus met them, saying: All hail. But they came up and took hold of his feet and adored him.

Et ecce Iesus occurrit illis dicens havete illae autem accesserunt et tenuerunt pedes eius et adoraverunt eum

28:10. Then Jesus said to them: Fear not. Go, tell my brethren that they go into Galilee. There they shall see me.

Tunc ait illis Iesus nolite timere ite nuntiate fratribus meis ut eant in Galilaeam ibi me videbunt

28:11. Who when they were departed, behold, some of the guards came into the city and told the chief priests all things that had been done.

Quae cum abissent ecce quidam de custodibus venerunt in civitatem et nuntiaverunt principibus sacerdotum omnia quae facta fuerant

28:12. And they being assembled together with the ancients, taking counsel, gave a great sum of money to the soldiers,

Et congregati cum senioribus consilio accepto pecuniam copiosam dederunt militibus

28:13. Saying: Say you, His disciples came by night and stole him away when we were asleep.

Dicentes dicite quia discipuli eius nocte venerunt et furati sunt eum nobis dormientibus

28:14. And if the governor shall hear of this, we will persuade him and secure you.
Et si hoc auditum fuerit a praeside nos suadebimus ei et securos vos faciemus

28:15. So they taking the money, did as they were taught: and this word was spread abroad among the Jews even unto this day.
At illi accepta pecunia fecerunt sicut erant docti et divulgatum est verbum istud apud Iudaeos usque in hodiernum diem

28:16. And the eleven disciples went into Galilee, unto the mountain where Jesus had appointed them.
Undecim autem discipuli abierunt in Galilaeam in montem ubi constituerat illis Iesus

28:17. And seeing him they adored: but some doubted.
Et videntes eum adoraverunt quidam autem dubitaverunt

28:18. And Jesus coming, spoke to them, saying: All power is given to me in heaven and in earth.
Et accedens Iesus locutus est eis dicens data est mihi omnis potestas in caelo et in terra

All power, etc... See here the warrant and commission of the apostles and their successors, the bishops and pastors of Christ's church. He received from his Father all power in heaven and in earth: and in virtue of this power, he sends them (even as his Father sent him, John 20:21) to teach and disciple, not one, but all nations; and instruct them in all truths: and that he may assist them effectually in the execution of this commission, he promises to be with them, not for three or four hundred years only, but all days, even to the consummation of the world. How then could the Catholic Church ever go astray; having always with her pastors, as is here promised, Christ himself, who is the way, the truth, and the life. John 14.

28:19. Going therefore, teach ye all nations: baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.
Euntes ergo docete omnes gentes baptizantes eos in nomine Patris et Filii et Spiritus Sancti

28:20. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you. And behold I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world.
Docentes eos servare omnia quaecumque mandavi vobis et ecce ego vobiscum sum omnibus diebus usque ad consummationem saeculi

Micheas

MICHEAS, of Morasti, a little town in the tribe of JUDA, was contemporary with the prophet ISAIAS: whom he resembles both in his spirit and his style. He is different from the prophet MICHEAS mentioned in the third book of Kings, chap. 22. For that MICHEAS lived in the days of king ACHAB, one hundred and fifty years before the time of EZECHIAS, under whom this MICHEAS prophesied. (For more information, see the article BOOK OF MICHEAS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Micheas Chapter 1. Samaria for her sins shall be destroyed by the Assyrians; they shall also invade Juda and Jerusalem.

Micheas Chapter 2. The Israelites by their crying injustices provoke God to punish them. He shall at last restore Jacob.

Micheas Chapter 3. For the sins of the rich oppressing the poor, of false prophets flattering for lucre, and of judges perverting justice, Jerusalem and the temple shall be destroyed.

Micheas Chapter 4. The glory of the church of Christ, by the conversion of the Gentiles. The Jews shall be carried captives to Babylon, and be delivered again.

Micheas Chapter 5. The birth of Christ in Bethlehem: his reign and spiritual conquests.

Micheas Chapter 6. God expostulates with the Jews for their ingratitude and sins: for which they shall be punished.

Micheas Chapter 7. The prophet laments, that notwithstanding all his preaching, the generality are still corrupt in their manners: therefore their desolation is at hand: but they shall be restored again and prosper; and all mankind shall be redeemed by Christ.

Micheas Chapter 1

Samaria for her sins shall be destroyed by the Assyrians; they shall also invade Juda and Jerusalem.

---

1:1. The word of the Lord, that came to Micheas, the Morasthite, in the days of Joathan, Achaz, and Ezechias, kings of Juda: which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

Verbum Domini quod factum est ad Micham Morasthiten in diebus Ioatham Ahaz Ezechiae regum Iuda quod vidit super Samariam et Hierusalem

1:2. Hear, all ye people: and let the earth give ear, and all that is therein: and let the Lord God be a witness to you, the Lord from his holy temple.

Audite populi omnes et attendat terra et plenitudo eius et sit Dominus Deus vobis in testem Dominus de templo sancto suo

1:3. For behold the Lord will come forth out of his place: and he will come down, and will tread upon the high places of the earth.

Quia ecce Dominus egreditur de loco suo et descendet et calcabit super excelsa terrae

1:4. And the mountains shall be melted under him: and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, and as waters that run down a steep place.

Et consumentur montes subtus eum et valles scindentur sicut cera a facie ignis sicut aquae quae decurrunt in praeceps

1:5. For the wickedness of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the wickedness of Jacob? is it not Samaria? and what are the high places of Juda? are they not Jerusalem?

In scelere Iacob omne istud et in peccatis domus Israhel quod scelus Iacob nonne Samaria et quae excelsa Iudae nonne Hierusalem

1:6. And I will make Samaria as a heap of stones in the field when a vineyard is planted: and I will bring down the stones thereof into the valley, and will lay her foundations bare.

Et ponam Samariam quasi acervum lapidum in agro cum plantatur vinea et detraham in vallem lapides eius et fundamenta eius revelabo

1:7. And all her graven things shall be cut in pieces, and all her wages shall be burnt with fire, and I will bring to destruction all her idols: for they were gathered together of the hire of a harlot, and unto the hire of a harlot they shall return.

Et omnia sculptilia eius concidentur et omnes mercedes eius conburentur igni et omnia idola eius ponam in perditionem quia de mercedibus meretricis congregata sunt et usque ad mercedem meretricis revertentur Her wages... That is, her donaries or presents offered to her idols: or the hire of all her traffic and labour. Ibid. Of the hire of a harlot, etc... They were gathered together by one idolatrous city, viz., Samaria: and they shall be carried away to another idolatrous city, viz., Ninive.

1:8. Therefore will I lament, and howl: I will go stript and naked: I will make a wailing like the dragons, and a mourning like the ostriches.

Super hoc plangam et ululabo vadam spoliatus et nudus faciam planctum velut draconum et luctum quasi strutionum

1:9. Because her wound is desperate, because it is come even to Juda, it hath touched the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem.

Quia desperata est plaga eius quia venit usque ad Iudam tetigit portam populi mei usque ad Hierusalem It hath touched the gate, etc... That is, the destruction of Samaria shall be followed by the invasion of my people of Juda, and the Assyrians shall come and lay all waste even to the confines of Jerusalem.

1:10. Declare ye it not in Geth, weep ye not with tears: in the house of Dust sprinkle yourselves with dust. In Geth nolite adnuntiare lacrimis ne ploretis in domo Pulveris pulvere vos conspergite

Declare ye it not in Geth... Viz., amongst the Philistines, lest they rejoice at your calamity. -- Ibid. Weep ye not, etc... Keep in your tears, that you may not give your enemies an occasion of insulting over you; but in your own houses, or in your house of dust, your earthly habitation, sprinkle yourselves with dust, and put on the habit of penitents. Some take the house of dust (in Hebrew, Aphrah) to be the proper name of a city.

1:11. And pass away, O thou that dwellest in the beautiful place, covered with thy shame: she went not forth that dwelleth in the confines: the house adjoining shall receive mourning from you, which stood by herself.

Et transite vobis habitatio Pulchra confusa ignominia non est egressa quae habitat in Exitu planctum domus Vicinae accipiet ex vobis quae stetit sibimet

Thou that dwellest in the Beautiful place, viz., in Samaria. In the Hebrew the Beautiful place is expressed by the word Sapis, which some take for the proper name of a city. -- Ibid. She went not forth, etc... that is, they that dwelt in the confines came not forth, but kept themselves within, for fear. -- Ibid. The house adjoining, etc... Viz., Judea and Jerusalem, neighbours to Samaria, and partners in her sins, shall share also in her mourning and calamity; though they have pretended to stand by themselves, trusting in their strength.

1:12. For she is become weak unto good that dwelleth in bitterness: for evil is come down from the Lord into the gate of Jerusalem.

Quia infirmata est in bonum quae habitat in Amaritudinibus quia descendit malum a Domino in portam Hierusalem

She is become weak, etc... Jerusalem is become weak unto any good; because she dwells in the bitterness of sin.

1:13. A tumult of chariots hath astonished the inhabitants of Lachis: it is the beginning of sin to the daughter of Sion for in thee were found the crimes of Israel.

Tumultus quadrigae stuporis habitanti Lachis principium peccati est filiae Sion quia in te inventa sunt scelera Israhel

It is the beginning, etc... That is, Lachis was the first city of Juda that learned from Samaria the worship of idols, and communicated it to Jerusalem.

1:14. Therefore shall she send messengers to the inheritance of Geth: the houses of lying to deceive the kings of Israel.

Propterea dabit emissarios super hereditatem Geth domus Mendacii in deceptionem regibus Israhel

Therefore shall she send, etc... Lachis shall send to Geth for help: but in vain: for Geth, instead of helping, shall be found to be a house of lying and deceit to Israel.

1:15. Yet will I bring an heir to thee that dwellest in Maresa: even to Odollam shall the glory of Israel come.

Adhuc heredem adducam tibi quae habitas in Maresa usque Adollam veniet gloria Israhel

An heir, etc... Maresa (which was the name of a city of Juda) signifies inheritance: but here God by his prophet tells the Jews, that he will bring them an heir to take possession of their inheritance: and that the glory of Israel shall be obliged to give place, and to retire even to Odollam, a city in the extremity of their dominions. And therefore he exhorts them to penance in the following verse.

1:16. Make thee bald, and be polled for thy delicate children: enlarge thy baldness as the eagle: for they are carried into captivity from thee.

Decalvare et tondere super filios deliciarum tuarum dilata calvitium tuum sicut aquila quoniam captivi ducti sunt ex te

Micheas Chapter 2

The Israelites by their crying injustices provoke God to punish them. He shall at last restore Jacob.

---

2:1. Woe to you that devise that which is unprofitable, and work evil in your beds: in the morning light they execute it, because their hand is against God.

Vae qui cogitatis inutile et operamini malum in cubilibus vestris in luce matutina faciunt illud quoniam contra Deum est manus eorum

2:2. And they have coveted fields, and taken them by violence, and houses they have forcibly taken away: and oppressed a man and his house, a man and his inheritance.

Et concupierunt agros et violenter tulerunt et domos rapuerunt et calumniabantur virum et domum eius virum et hereditatem eius

2:3. Therefore thus saith the Lord: Behold I devise an evil against this family: from which you shall not withdraw your necks, and you shall not walk haughtily, for this is a very evil time.

Idcirco haec dicit Dominus ecce ego cogito super familiam istam malum unde non auferetis colla vestra et non ambulabitis superbi quoniam tempus pessimum est

2:4. In that day a parable shall be taken up upon you, and a song shall be sung with melody by them that say: We are laid waste and spoiled: the portion of my people is changed: how shall he depart from me, whereas he is returning that will divide our land?

In die illa sumetur super vos parabola et cantabitur canticum cum suavitate dicentium depopulatione vastati sumus pars populi mei commutata est quomodo recedet a me cum revertatur qui regiones nostras dividat

How shall he depart, etc... How do you pretend to say that the Assyrian is departing: when indeed he is coming to divide our lands amongst his subjects?

2:5. Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast the cord of a lot in the assembly of the Lord.

Propter hoc non erit tibi mittens funiculum sortis in coetu Domini

Thou shalt have none, etc... Thou shalt have no longer any lot or inheritance in the land of the people of the Lord.

2:6. Speak ye not, saying: It shall not drop upon these, confusion shall not take them.

Ne loquamini loquentes non stillabit super istos non comprehendet confusio

It shall not drop, etc... That is, the prophecy shall not come upon these. Such were the sentiments of the people that were unwilling to believe the threats of the prophets.

2:7. The house of Jacob saith: Is the Spirit of the Lord straitened or are these his thoughts? Are not my words good to him that walketh uprightly?

Dicit domus Iacob numquid abbreviatus est spiritus Domini aut tales sunt cogitationes eius nonne verba mea bona sunt cum eo qui recte graditur

2:8. But my people, on the contrary, are risen up as an enemy: you have taken away the cloak off from the coat: and them that passed harmless you have turned to war.

Et e contrario populus meus in adversarium consurrexit desuper tunica pallium sustulistis eos qui transiebant simpliciter convertistis in bellum

You have taken away, etc... You have even stripped people of their necessary garments: and have treated such as were innocently passing on the way, as if they were at war with you.

2:9. You have cast out the women of my people from their houses, in which they took delight: you have taken my praise forever from their children.

Mulieres populi mei eiecistis de domo deliciarum suarum a parvulis earum tulistis laudem meam in perpetuum

You have cast out, etc... either by depriving them of their houses: or, by your crimes, given occasion to their being carried away captives, and their children, by that means, never learning to praise the Lord.

2:10. Arise ye, and depart, for there is no rest here for you. For that uncleanness of the land, it shall be corrupted with a grievous corruption.

Surgite et ite quia non habetis hic requiem propter immunditiam eius corrumpetur putredine pessima

2:11. Would God I were not a man that hath the spirit, and that I rather spoke a lie: I will let drop to thee of wine, and of drunkenness: and it shall be this people upon whom it shall drop.

Utinam non essem vir habens spiritum et mendacium potius loquerer stillabo tibi in vinum et in ebrietatem et erit super quem stillatur populus iste

Would God, etc... The prophet could have wished, out of his love to his people, that he might be deceived in denouncing to them these evils that were to fall upon them: but by conforming himself to the will of God, he declares to them, that he is sent to prophecy, literally to let drop upon them, the wine of God's indignation, with which they should be made drunk; that is, stupefied and cast down.

2:12. I will assemble and gather together all of thee, O Jacob: I will bring together the remnant of Israel, I will put them together as a flock in the fold, as sheep in the midst of the sheepcotes, they shall make a tumult by reason of the multitude of men.

Congregatione congregabo Iacob totum te in unum conducam reliquias Israhel pariter ponam illum quasi gregem in ovili quasi pecus in medio caularum tumultuabuntur a multitudine hominum

2:13. For he shall go up that shall open the way before them: they shall divide and pass through the gate, and shall come in by it: and their king shall pass before them, and the Lord at the head of them.

Ascendet enim pandens iter ante eos dividet et transibunt portam et egredientur per eam et transibit rex eorum coram eis et Dominus in capite eorum

Micheas Chapter 3

For the sins of the rich oppressing the poor, of false prophets flattering for lucre, and of judges perverting justice, Jerusalem and the temple shall be destroyed.

---

3:1. And I said: Hear, O ye princes of Jacob, and ye chiefs of the house of Israel: Is it not your part to know judgment,

Et dixi audite principes Iacob et duces domus Israhel numquid non vestrum est scire iudicium

3:2. You that hate good, and love evil: that violently pluck off their skins from them and their flesh from their bones?

Qui odio habetis bonum et diligitis malum qui violenter tollitis pelles eorum desuper eos et carnem eorum desuper ossibus eorum

3:3. Who have eaten the flesh of my people, and have flayed their skin off them: and have broken, and chopped their bones as for the kettle, and as flesh in the midst of the pot.

Qui comederunt carnem populi mei et pellem eorum desuper excoriaverunt et ossa eorum confregerunt et conciderunt sicut in lebetes et quasi carnem in medio ollae

3:4. Then shall they cry to the Lord, and he will not hear them: and he will hide his face from them at that time, as they have behaved wickedly in their devices.

Tunc clamabunt ad Dominum et non exaudiet eos et abscondet faciem suam ab eis in tempore illo sicut nequiter egerunt in adinventionibus suis

3:5. Thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets that make my people err: that bite with their teeth, and preach peace: and if a man give not something into their mouth, they prepare war against him.

Haec dicit Dominus super prophetas qui seducunt populum meum qui mordent dentibus suis et praedicant pacem et si quis non dederit in ore eorum quippiam sanctificant super eum proelium

3:6. Therefore night shall be to you instead of vision, and darkness to you instead of divination: and the sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be darkened over them.

Propterea nox vobis pro visione erit et tenebrae vobis pro divinatione et occumbet sol super prophetas et obtenebrabitur super eos dies

3:7. And they shall be confounded that see visions, and the diviners shall be confounded: and they shall all cover their faces, because there is no answer of God.

Et confundentur qui vident visiones et confundentur divini et operient vultus suos omnes quia non est responsum Dei

3:8. But yet I am filled with the strength of the spirit of the Lord, with judgment and power: to declare unto Jacob his wickedness and to Israel his sin.

Verumtamen ego repletus sum fortitudine spiritus Domini iudicio et virtute ut adnuntiem Iacob scelus suum et Israhel peccatum suum

3:9. Hear this, ye princes of the house of Jacob, and ye judges of the house of Israel: you that abhor judgment and pervert all that is right.

Audite haec principes domus Iacob et iudices domus Israhel qui abominamini iudicium et omnia recta pervertitis

3:10. You that build up Sion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.

Qui aedificatis Sion in sanguinibus et Hierusalem in iniquitate

3:11. Her princes have judged for bribes: and her priests have taught for hire, and her prophets divined for money: and they leaned upon the Lord, saying: Is not the Lord in the midst of us? no evil shall come among us.

Principes eius in muneribus iudicabant et sacerdotes eius in mercede docebant et prophetae eius in pecunia divinabant et super Dominum requiescebant dicentes numquid non Dominus in medio nostrum non venient super nos mala

3:12. Therefore because of you, Sion shall be ploughed as a field, and Jerusalem shall be as a heap of stones, and the mountain of the temple as the high places of the forests.

Propter hoc causa vestri Sion quasi ager arabitur et Hierusalem quasi acervus lapidum erit et mons templi in excelsa silvarum

Micheas Chapter 4

The glory of the church of Christ, by the conversion of the Gentiles. The Jews shall be carried captives to Babylon, and be delivered again.

---

4:1. And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountains, and high above the hills: and people shall flow to it.

Et in novissimo dierum erit mons domus Domini praeparatus in vertice montium et sublimis super colles et fluent ad eum populi

4:2. And many nations shall come in haste, and say: Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob: and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth out of Sion, and the word of the Lord out of Jerusalem.

Et properabunt gentes multae et dicent venite ascendamus ad montem Domini et ad domum Dei Iacob et docebit nos de viis suis et ibimus in semitis eius quia de Sion egredietur lex et verbum Domini de Hierusalem

4:3. And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off: and they shall beat their swords into ploughshares, and their spears into spades: nation shall not take sword against nation: neither shall they learn war anymore.

Et iudicabit inter populos multos et corripiet gentes fortes usque in longinquum et concident gladios suos in vomeres et hastas suas in ligones non sumet gens adversus gentem gladium et non discent ultra belligerare

Neither shall they learn, etc... The law of Christ is a law of peace; and all his true subjects, as much as lies in them love and keep peace with all the world.

4:4. And every man shall sit under his vine, and under his fig tree, and there shall be none to make them afraid, for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken.

Et sedebit vir subtus vineam suam et subtus ficum suam et non erit qui deterreat quia os Domini exercituum locutum est

4:5. For all people will walk every one in the name of his god: but we will walk in the name of the Lord, our God, for ever and ever.

Quia omnes populi ambulabunt unusquisque in nomine dei sui nos autem ambulabimus in nomine Domini Dei nostri in aeternum et ultra

4:6. In that day, saith the Lord, I will gather up her that halteth: and her that I had cast out, I will gather up: and her whom I had afflicted.

In die illa dicit Dominus congregabo claudicantem et eam quam eieceram colligam et quam adflixeram

4:7. And I will make her that halted, a remnant: and her that had been afflicted, a mighty nation: and the Lord will reign over them in Mount Sion, from this time now and forever.

Et ponam claudicantem in reliquias et eam quae laboraverat in gentem robustam et regnabit Dominus super eos in monte Sion ex hoc nunc et usque in aeternum

4:8. And thou, O cloudy tower of the flock, of the daughter of Sion, unto thee shall it come: yea the first power shall come, the kingdom to the daughter of Jerusalem.

Et tu turris Gregis nebulosa filiae Sion usque ad te veniet et veniet potestas prima regnum filiae Hierusalem

4:9. Now, why art thou drawn together with grief? Hast thou no king in thee, or is thy counselor perished, because sorrow hath taken thee as a woman in labour.

Nunc quare maerore contraheris numquid rex non est tibi aut consiliarius tuus periit quia comprehendit te dolor sicut parturientem

4:10. Be in pain and labour, O daughter of Sion, as a woman that bringeth forth: for now shalt thou go out of the city, and shalt dwell in the country, and shalt come even to Babylon, there thou shalt be delivered: there the Lord will redeem thee out of the hand of thy enemies.

Dole et satage filia Sion quasi parturiens quia nunc egredieris de civitate et habitabis in regione et venies usque ad Babylonem ibi liberaberis ibi redimet te Dominus de manu inimicorum tuorum

4:11. And now many nations are gathered together against thee, and they say: Let her be stoned: and let our eye look upon Sion.

Et nunc congregatae sunt super te gentes multae quae dicunt lapidetur et aspiciat in Sion oculus noster

4:12. But they have not known the thoughts of the Lord, and have not understood his counsel: because he hath gathered them together as the hay of the floor.

Ipsi autem non cognoverunt cogitationes Domini et non intellexerunt consilium eius quia congregavit eos quasi faenum areae

4:13. Arise, and tread, O daughter of Sion: for I will make thy horn iron, and thy hoofs I will make brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many peoples, and shalt immolate the spoils of them to the Lord, and their strength to the Lord of the whole earth.

Surge et tritura filia Sion quia cornu tuum ponam ferreum et ungulas tuas ponam aereas et comminues populos multos et interficiam Domino rapinas eorum et fortitudinem eorum Domino universae terrae

Micheas Chapter 5

The birth of Christ in Bethlehem: his reign and spiritual conquests.

---

5:1. Now shalt thou be laid waste, O daughter of the robber: they have laid siege against us, with a rod shall they strike the cheek of the judge of Israel.

Nunc vastaberis filia latronis obsidionem posuerunt super nos in virga percipient maxillam iudicis Israhel
Daughter of the robber... Some understand this of Babylon; which robbed and pillaged the temple of God: others understand it of Jerusalem; by reason of the many rapines and oppressions committed there.

5:2. And thou Bethlehem Ephrata, art a little one among the thousands of Juda, out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be the ruler in Israel: and his going forth is from the beginning, from the days of eternity.

Et tu Bethleem Ephrata parvulus es in milibus Iuda ex te mihi egredietur qui sit dominator in Israhel et egressus eius ab initio a diebus aeternitatis

His going forth, etc... That is, he who as man shall be born in thee, as God was born of his Father from all eternity.

5:3. Therefore will he give them up even till the time wherein she that travaileth shall bring forth: and the remnant of his brethren shall be converted to the children of Israel.

Propter hoc dabit eos usque ad tempus in quo parturiens pariet reliquiae fratrum eius convertentur ad filios Israhel

5:4. And he shall stand, and feed in the strength of the Lord, in the height of the name of the Lord, his God: and they shall be converted, for now shall he be magnified even to the ends of the earth.

Et stabit et pascet in fortitudine Domini in sublimitate nominis Domini Dei sui et convertentur quia nunc magnificabitur usque ad terminos terrae

5:5. And this man shall be our peace, when the Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall set his foot in our houses: and we shall raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principal men.

Et erit iste pax Assyrius cum venerit in terram nostram et quando calcaverit in domibus nostris et suscitabimus super eum septem pastores et octo primates homines

The Assyrian... That is, the persecutors of the church: who are here called Assyrians by the prophet: because the Assyrians were at that time the chief enemies and persecutors of the people of God. -- Ibid. Seven shepherds, etc... Viz., the pastors of God's church, and the defenders of the faith. The number seven in scripture is taken to signify many: and when eight is joined with it, we are to understand that the number will be very great.

5:6. And they shall feed the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nemrod with the spears thereof: and he shall deliver us from the Assyrian when he shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our borders.

Et pascent terram Assur in gladio et terram Nemrod in lanceis eius et liberabit ab Assur cum venerit in terram nostram et cum calcaverit in finibus nostris

They shall feed, etc... They shall make spiritual conquests in the lands of their persecutors, with the word of the spirit, which is the word of God. Eph. 6.17.

5:7. And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples, as a dew from the Lord, and as drops upon the grass, which waiteth not for man, nor tarrieth for the children of men.

Et erunt reliquiae Iacob in medio populorum multorum quasi ros a Domino et quasi stillae super herbam quae non expectat virum et non praestolatur filios hominum

The remnant of Jacob... Viz., the apostles, and the first preachers of the Jewish nation; whose doctrine, like dew, shall make the plants of the converted Gentiles grow up, without waiting for any man to cultivate them by human learning.

5:8. And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, in the midst of many peoples, as a lion among the beasts of the forests, and as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: who, when he shall go through, and tread down, and take there is none to deliver.

Et erunt reliquiae Iacob in gentibus in medio populorum multorum quasi leo in iumentis silvarum et quasi catulus leonis in gregibus pecorum qui cum transierit et conculcaverit et ceperit non est qui eruat

As a lion, etc... This denotes the fortitude of these first preachers; and their success in their spiritual enterprises.

5:9. Thy hand shall be lifted up over thy enemies, and all thy enemies shall be cut off.
Exaltabitur manus tua super hostes tuos et omnes inimici tui interibunt

5:10. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord, that I will take away thy horses out of the midst of thee, and will destroy thy chariots.

Et erit in die illa dicit Dominus auferam equos tuos de medio tui et disperdam quadrigas tuas

I will take away thy horses, etc... Some understand this, and all that follows to the end of the chapter, as addressed to the enemies of the church. But it may as well be understood of the converts to the church: who should no longer put their trust in any of these things.

5:11. And I will destroy the cities of thy land, and will throw down all thy strong holds, and I will take away sorceries out of thy hand, and there shall be no divinations in thee.

Et perdam civitates terrae tuae et destruam omnes munitiones tuas et auferam maleficia de manu tua et divinationes non erunt in te

5:12. And I will destroy thy graven things, and thy statues, out of the midst of thee: and thou shalt no more adore the works of thy hands.

Et perire faciam sculptilia tua et statuas tuas de medio tui et non adorabis ultra opera manuum tuarum

5:13. And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee: and will crush thy cities.

Et evellam lucos tuos de medio tui et conteram civitates tuas

5:14. And I will execute vengeance in wrath, and in indignation, among all the nations that have not given ear.

Et faciam in furore et in indignatione ultionem in omnibus gentibus quae non audierunt

Micheas Chapter 6

God expostulates with the Jews for their ingratitude and sins: for which they shall be punished.

---

6:1. Hear ye what the Lord saith: Arise, contend thou in judgment against the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

Audite quae Dominus loquitur surge contende iudicio adversum montes et audiant colles vocem tuam

The mountains, etc... That is, the great ones, the princes of the people.

6:2. Let the mountains hear the judgment of the Lord, and the strong foundations of the earth: for the Lord will enter into judgment with his people, and he will plead against Israel.

Audiant montes iudicium Domini et fortia fundamenta terrae quia iudicium Domini cum populo suo et cum Israhel diudicabitur

6:3. O my people, what have I done to thee, or in what have I molested thee? answer thou me.

Populus meus quid feci tibi et quid molestus fui tibi responde mihi

6:4. For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and delivered thee out of the house of slaves: and I sent before thy face Moses, and Aaron, and Mary.

Quia eduxi te de terra Aegypti et de domo servientium liberavi te et misi ante faciem tuam Mosen et Aaron et Mariam

6:5. O my people, remember, I pray thee, what Balach, the king of Moab, purposed: and what Balaam, the son of Beor, answered him, from Setim to Galgal, that thou mightest know the justice of the Lord.

Populus meus memento quaeso quid cogitaverit Balac rex Moab et quid responderit ei Balaam filius Beor de Sethim usque ad Galgalam ut cognosceret iustitias Domini

From Setim to Galgal... He puts them in mind of the favour he did them, in not suffering them to be quite destroyed by the evil purpose of Balach, and the wicked counsel of Balaam: and then gives them a hint of the wonders he wrought, in order to bring them into the land of Promise, by stopping the course of the Jordan, in their march from Setim to Galgal.

6:6. What shall I offer to the Lord that is worthy? wherewith shall I kneel before the high God? shall I offer holocausts unto him, and calves of a year old?

Quid dignum offeram Domino curvem genu Deo excelso numquid offeram ei holocaustomata et vitulos anniculos

What shall I offer, etc... This is spoken in the person of the people, desiring to be informed what they are to do to please God.

6:7. May the Lord be appeased with thousands of rams, or with many thousands of fat he goats? shall I give my firstborn for my wickedness, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

Numquid placari potest Dominus in milibus arietum aut in multis milibus hircorum pinguium numquid dabo primogenitum meum pro scelere meo fructum ventris mei pro peccato animae meae

6:8. I will show thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee: Verily to do judgment, and to love mercy, and to walk solicitous with thy God.

Indicabo tibi o homo quid sit bonum et quid Dominus quaerat a te utique facere iudicium et diligere misericordiam et sollicitum ambulare cum Deo tuo

6:9. The voice of the Lord crieth to the city, and salvation shall be to them that fear thy name: hear O ye tribes, and who shall approve it?

Vox Domini ad civitatem clamat et salus erit timentibus nomen tuum audite tribus et quis adprobabit illud

6:10. As yet there is a fire in the house of the wicked, the treasures of iniquity, and a scant measure full of wrath.

Adhuc ignis in domo impii thesauri iniquitatis et mensura minor irae plena

Full of wrath, etc... That is, highly provoking in the sight of God.

6:11. Shall I justify wicked balances, and the deceitful weights of the bag?

Numquid iustificabo stateram impiam et saccelli pondera dolosa

6:12. By which her rich men were filled with iniquity, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue was deceitful in their mouth.

In quibus divites eius repleti sunt iniquitate et habitantes in ea loquebantur mendacium et lingua eorum fraudulenta in ore eorum

6:13. And I therefore began to strike thee with desolation for thy sins.

Et ego ergo coepi percutere te perditione super peccatis tuis

6:14. Thou shalt eat, but shalt not be filled: and thy humiliation shall be in the midst of thee: and thou shalt take hold, but shalt not save: and those whom thou shalt save, I will give up to the sword.

Tu comedes et non saturaberis et humiliatio tua in medio tui et adprehendes et non salvabis et quos salvaveris in gladium dabo

6:15. Thou shalt sow, but shalt not reap: thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not be anointed with oil: and the new wine, but shalt not drink the wine.

Tu seminabis et non metes tu calcabis olivam et non ungueris oleo et mustum et non bibes vinum

6:16. For thou hast kept the statutes of Amri, and all the works of the house of Achab: and thou hast walked according their wills, that I should make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof a hissing, and you shall bear the reproach of my people.

Et custodisti praecepta Omri et omne opus domus Achab et ambulasti in voluntatibus eorum ut darem te in perditionem et habitantes in ea in sibilum et obprobrium populi mei portabitis

The statutes of Amri, etc... The wicked ways of Amri and Achab, idolatrous kings.

Micheas Chapter 7

The prophet laments, that notwithstanding all his preaching, the generality are still corrupt in their manners: therefore their desolation is at hand: but they shall be restored again and prosper; and all mankind shall be redeemed by Christ.

---

7:1. Woe is me, for I am become as one that gleaneth in autumn the grapes of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat, my soul desired the first ripe figs.

Vae mihi quia factus sum sicut qui colligit in autumnno racemos vindemiae non est botrus ad comedendum praecoquas ficus desideravit anima mea

7:2. The holy man is perished out of the earth, and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood, every one hunteth his brother to death.

Periit sanctus de terra et rectus in hominibus non est omnes in sanguine insidiantur vir fratrem suum venatur ad mortem

7:3. The evil of their hands they call good: the prince requireth, and the judge is for giving: and the great man hath uttered the desire of his soul, and they have troubled it.

Malum manuum suarum dicunt bonum princeps postulat et iudex in reddendo est et magnus locutus est desiderium animae suae et conturbaverunt eam

7:4. He that is best among them, is as a brier, and he that is righteous, as the thorn of the hedge. The day of thy inspection, thy visitation cometh: now shall be their destruction.

Qui optimus in eis est quasi paliurus et qui rectus quasi spina de sepe dies speculationis tuae visitatio tua venit nunc erit vastitas eorum

7:5. Believe not a friend, and trust not in a prince: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that sleepeth in thy bosom.

Nolite credere amico et nolite confidere in duce ab ea quae dormit in sinu tuo custodi claustra oris tui

7:6. For the son dishonoureth the father, and the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law: and a man's enemies are they of his own household.

Quia filius contumeliam facit patri filia consurgit adversus matrem suam nurus contra socrum suam inimici hominis domestici eius

7:7. But I will look towards the Lord, I will wait for God, my saviour: my God will hear me.

Ego autem ad Dominum aspiciam expectabo Deum salvatorem meum audiet me Deus meus

7:8. Rejoice not, thou my enemy, over me, because I am fallen: I shall arise, when I sit in darkness, the Lord is my light.

Ne laeteris inimica mea super me quia cecidi consurgam cum sedero in tenebris Dominus lux mea est

7:9. I will bear the wrath of the Lord, because I have sinned against him: until he judge my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth into the light, I shall behold his justice.

Iram Domini portabo quoniam peccavi ei donec iudicet causam meam et faciat iudicium meum educet me in lucem videbo in iustitiam eius

7:10. And my enemy shall behold, and she shall be covered with shame, who saith to me: Where is the Lord thy God? my eyes shall look down upon her: now shall she be trodden under foot as the mire of the streets.

Et aspiciet inimica mea et operietur confusione quae dicit ad me ubi est Dominus Deus tuus oculi mei videbunt in eam nunc erit in conculcationem ut lutum platearum

She shall be covered, etc... Viz., Babylon my enemy.

7:11. The day shall come, that thy walls may be built up: in that day shall the law be far removed.

Dies ut aedificentur maceriae tuae in die illa longe fiet lex

The law... Viz., of thy enemies, who have tyrannized over thee.

7:12. In that day they shall come even from Assyria to thee, and to the fortified cities: and from the fortified cities even to the river, and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.

In die illa et usque ad te veniet Assur et usque ad civitates munitas et a civitatibus munitis usque ad flumen et ad mare de mari et ad montem de monte

7:13. And the land shall be made desolate because of the inhabitants thereof, and for the fruit of their devices.

Et erit terra in desolationem propter habitatores suos et propter fructum cogitationum eorum

The land, etc... Viz., of Babylon.

7:14. Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thy inheritance, them that dwell alone in the forest, in the midst of Carmel: they shall feed in Basan and Galaad, according to the days of old.

Pasce populum tuum in virga tua gregem hereditatis tuae habitantes solos in saltu in medio Carmeli pascentur Basan et Galaad iuxta dies antiquos

7:15. According to the days of thy coming out of the land of Egypt, I will show him wonders.

Secundum dies egressionis tuae de terra Aegypti ostendam ei mirabilia

7:16. The nations shall see, and shall be confounded at all their strength: they shall put the hand upon the mouth, their ears shall be deaf.

Videbunt gentes et confundentur super omni fortitudine sua ponent manus super os aures eorum surdae erunt

7:17. They shall lick the dust like serpents, as the creeping things of the earth, they shall be disturbed in their houses: they shall dread the Lord, our God, and shall fear thee.

Lingent pulverem sicut serpens velut reptilia terrae proturbabuntur de aedibus suis Dominum Deum nostrum desiderabunt et timebunt te

7:18. Who is a God like to thee, who takest away iniquity, and passest by the sin of the remnant of thy inheritance? he will send his fury in no more, because he delighteth in mercy.

Quis Deus similis tui qui aufers iniquitatem et transis peccatum reliquiarum hereditatis tuae non inmittet ultra furorem suum quoniam volens misericordiam est

7:19. He will turn again, and have mercy on us: he will put away our iniquities: and he will cast all our sins into the bottom of the sea.

Revertetur et miserebitur nostri deponet iniquitates nostras et proiciet in profundum maris omnia peccata nostra

7:20. Thou wilt perform the truth to Jacob, the mercy to Abraham: which thou hast sworn to our fathers from the days of old.

Dabis veritatem Iacob misericordiam Abraham quae iurasti patribus nostris a diebus antiquis

Nahum

NAHUM, whose name signifies A COMFORTER, was a native of Elcese, or Elcesai, supposed to be a little town in Galilee. He prophesied, after the ten tribes were carried into captivity, and foretold the utter destruction of Ninive, by the Babylonians and Medes: which happened in the reign of JOSIAS. (For more information, see the article NAHUM in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Nahum Chapter 2. God sends his armies against Ninive to destroy it.

Nahum Chapter 3. The miserable destruction of Ninive.

Nahum Chapter 1

The majesty of God, his goodness to his people, and severity to his enemies.

---

1:1. The burden of Ninive. The book of the vision of Nahum, the Elcesite.

Onus Nineve liber visionis Naum Helcesei

1:2. The Lord is a jealous God, and a revenger: the Lord is a revenger, and hath wrath: the Lord taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and he is angry with his enemies.

Deus aemulator et ulciscens Dominus ulciscens Dominus et habens furorem ulciscens Dominus in hostes suos et irascens ipse inimicis suis

1:3. The Lord is patient, and great in power, and will not cleanse and acquit the guilty. The Lord's ways are in a tempest, and a whirlwind, and clouds are the dust of his feet.

Dominus patiens et magnus fortitudine et mundans non faciet innocentem Dominus in tempestate et turbine viae eius et nebulae pulvis pedum eius

1:4. He rebuketh the sea and drieth it up: and bringeth all the rivers to be a desert. Basan languisheth and Carmel: and the flower of Libanus fadeth away.

Increpans mare et exsiccans illud et omnia flumina ad desertum deducens infirmatus est Basan et Carmelus et flos Libani elanguit

1:5. The mountains tremble at him, and the hills are made desolate: and the earth hath quaked at his presence, and the world, and all that dwell therein.

Montes commoti sunt ab eo et colles adsolati sunt et contremuit terra a facie eius et orbis et omnes habitantes in eo

1:6. Who can stand before the face of his indignation? and who shall resist in the fierceness of his anger? his indignation is poured out like fire: and the rocks are melted by him.

Ante faciem indignationis eius quis stabit et quis resistet in ira furoris eius indignatio eius effusa est ut ignis et petrae dissolutae sunt ab eo

1:7. The Lord is good, and giveth strength in the day of trouble: and knoweth them that hope in him.

Bonus Dominus et confortans in die tribulationis et sciens sperantes in se

1:8. But with a flood that passeth by, he will make an utter end of the place thereof: and darkness shall pursue his enemies.

Et in diluvio praetereunte consummationem faciet loci eius et inimicos eius persequentur tenebrae

Of the place thereof... Viz., of Ninive.

1:9. What do ye devise against the Lord? he will make an utter end: there shall not rise a double affliction.

Quid cogitatis contra Dominum consummationem ipse faciet non consurget duplex tribulatio

1:10. For as thorns embrace one another: so while they are feasting and drinking together, they shall be consumed as stubble that is fully dry.

Quia sicut spinae se invicem conplectuntur sic convivium eorum pariter potantium consumentur quasi stipula ariditate plena

1:11. Out of thee shall come forth one that imagineth evil against the Lord, contriving treachery in his mind.

Ex te exivit cogitans contra Dominum malitiam mente pertractans praevaricationem

Shall come forth one, etc... Some understand this of Sennacherib. But as his attempt against the people seems to have been prior to the prophecy of Nahum, we may better understand it of Holofernes.

1:12. Thus saith the Lord: Though they were perfect: and many of them so, yet thus shall they be cut off, and he shall pass: I have afflicted thee, and I will afflict thee no more.

Haec dicit Dominus si perfecti fuerint et ita plures sic quoque adtondentur et pertransibit adflixit te et non adfligam te ultra

Though they were perfect, etc... That is, however strong or numerous their forces may be, they shall be cut off; and their prince or leader shall pass away and disappear.

1:13. And now I will break in pieces his rod with which he struck thy back, and I will burst thy bonds asunder.

Et nunc conteram virgam eius de dorso tuo et vincula tua dirumpam

1:14. And the Lord will give a commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name shall be sown: I will destroy the graven and molten thing out of the house of thy God, I will make it thy grave, for thou art disgraced.

Et praecipiet super te Dominus non seminabitur ex nomine tuo amplius de domo Dei tui interficiam sculptile et conflatile ponam sepulchrum tuum quia inhonoratus es

Will give a commandment... That is, a decree, concerning thee, O king of Ninive, thy seed shall fail, etc.

1:15. Behold upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, and that preacheth peace: O Juda, keep thy festivals, and pay thy vows: for Belial shall no more pass through thee again, he is utterly cut off.

Ecce super montes pedes evangelizantis et adnuntiantis pacem celebra Iuda festivitates tuas et redde vota tua quia non adiciet ultra ut pertranseat in te Belial universus interiit

Belial... The wicked one, viz., the Assyrian.

Nahum Chapter 2

God sends his armies against Ninive to destroy it.

2:1. He is come up that shall destroy before thy face, that shall keep the siege: watch the way, fortify thy loins, strengthen thy power exceedingly.

Ascendit qui dispergat coram te qui custodit obsidionem contemplare viam conforta lumbos robora virtutem valde

2:2. For the Lord hath rendered the pride of Jacob, as the pride of Israel: because the spoilers have laid them waste, and have marred their vine branches.

Quia reddidit Dominus superbiam Iacob sicut superbiam Israhel quia vastatores dissipaverunt eos et propagine eorum corruperunt

Hath rendered the pride of Jacob, etc... He hath punished Jacob for his pride; and therefore Ninive must not expect to escape. Or else, rendering the pride of Jacob means rewarding, that is, punishing Ninive for the pride they exercised against Jacob.

2:3. The shield of his mighty men is like fire, the men of the army are clad in scarlet, the reins of the chariot are flaming in the day of his preparation, and the drivers are stupefied.

Clypeus fortium eius ignitus viri exercitus in coccineis igneae habenae currus in die praeparationis eius et agitatores consopiti sunt

Of his mighty men, etc... He speaks of the Chaldeans and Medes sent to destroy Ninive. -- Ibid. Stupefied... consopiti. That is, they drive on furiously like men intoxicated with wine.

2:4. They are in confusion in the ways, the chariots jostle one against another in the streets: their looks are like torches, like lightning running to and fro.

In itineribus conturbati sunt quadrigae conlisae sunt in plateis aspectus eorum quasi lampades quasi fulgura discurrentia

2:5. He will muster up his valiant men, they shall stumble in their march: they shall quickly get upon the walls thereof: and a covering shall be prepared.

Recordabitur fortium suorum ruent in itineribus suis velociter ascendent muros eius et praeparabitur umbraculum

Stumble in their march... By running hastily on.

2:6. The gates of the rivers are opened, and the temple is thrown down to the ground.

Portae fluviorum apertae sunt et templum ad solum dirutum

2:7. And the soldier is led away captive: and her bondwomen were led away mourning as doves, murmuring in their hearts.

Et miles captivus abductus est et ancillae eius minabantur gementes ut columbae murmurantes in cordibus suis

2:8. And as for Ninive, her waters are like a great pool: but the men flee away. They cry: Stand, stand, but there is none that will return back.

Et Nineve quasi piscina aquarum aquae eius ipsi vero fugerunt state state et non est qui revertatur

2:9. Take ye the spoil of the silver, take the spoil of the gold: for there is no end of the riches of all the precious furniture.

Diripite argentum diripite aurum et non est finis divitiarum ex omnibus vasis desiderabilibus

2:10. She is destroyed, and rent, and torn: the heart melteth, and the knees fail, and all the loins lose their strength: and the faces of them all are as the blackness of a kettle.

Dissipata et scissa et dilacerata et cor tabescens et dissolutio geniculorum et defectio in cunctis renibus et facies omnium sicut nigredo ollae

2:11. Where is now the dwelling of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, to which the lion went, to enter in thither, the young lion, and there was none to make them afraid?

Ubi est habitaculum leonum et pascua catulorum leonum ad quam ivit leo ut ingrederetur illuc catulus leonis et non est qui exterreat

2:12. The lion caught enough for his whelps, and killed for his lionesses: and he filled his holes with prey, and his den with rapine.

Leo cepit sufficienter catulis suis et necavit leaenis suis et implevit praeda speluncas suas et cubile suum rapina

2:13. Behold I come against thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will burn thy chariots even to smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey out of the land, and the voice of thy messengers shall be heard no more.

Ecce ego ad te dicit Dominus exercituum et succendam usque ad fenum quadrigas eius et leunculos tuos comedet gladius et exterminabo de terra praedam tuam et non audietur ultra vox nuntiorum tuorum

Nahum Chapter 3

The miserable destruction of Ninive.

3:1. Woe to thee, O city of blood, all full of lies and violence: rapine shall not depart from thee.

Vae civitas sanguinum universa mendacii dilaceratione plena non recedet a te rapina

3:2. The noise of the whip, and the noise of the rattling of the wheels, and of the neighing horse; and of the running chariot, and of the horsemen coming up,

Vox flagelli et vox impetus rotae et equi frementis et quadrigae ferventis equitis ascendentis

3:3. And of the shining sword, and of the glittering spear, and of a multitude slain, and of a grievous destruction: and there is no end of carcasses, and they shall fall down on their dead bodies.

Et micantis gladii et fulgurantis hastae et multitudinis interfectae et gravis ruinae nec est finis cadaverum et corruent in corporibus suis

3:4. Because of the multitude of the fornications of the harlot that was beautiful and agreeable, and that made use of witchcraft, that sold nations through her fornications, and families through her witchcrafts.

Propter multitudinem fornicationum meretricis speciosae et gratae et habentis maleficia quae vendidit gentes in fornicationibus suis et familias in maleficiis suis

3:5. Behold I come against thee, saith the Lord of hosts: and I will discover thy shame to thy face, and will show thy nakedness to the nations, and thy shame to kingdoms.

Ecce ego ad te dicit Dominus exercituum et revelabo pudenda tua in facie tua et ostendam gentibus nuditatem tuam et regnis ignominiam tuam

3:6. And I will cast abominations upon thee, and will disgrace thee, and will make an example of thee.

Et proiciam super te abominationes et contumeliis te adficiam et ponam te in exemplum

3:7. And it shall come to pass that every one that shall see thee, shall flee from thee, and shall say: Ninive is laid waste: who shall bemoan thee? whence shall I seek a comforter for thee?

Et erit omnis qui viderit te resiliet a te et dicet vastata est Nineve quis commovebit super te caput unde quaeram consolatorem tibi

3:8. Art thou better than the populous Alexandria, that dwelleth among the rivers? waters are round about it: the sea is its riches: the waters are its walls.

Numquid melior es ab Alexandria populorum quae habitat in fluminibus aqua in circuitu eius cuius divitiae mare aquae muri eius

Populous Alexandria... No-Ammon. A populous city of Egypt destroyed by the Chaldeans, and afterwards rebuilt by Alexander, and called Alexandria. Others suppose No-Ammon to be the same as Diospolis.

3:9. Ethiopia and Egypt were the strength thereof, and there is no end: Africa and the Libyans were thy helpers.

Aethiopia fortitudo et Aegyptus et non est finis Africa et Lybies fuerunt in auxilio tuo

3:10. Yet she also was removed and carried into captivity: her young children were dashed in pieces at the top of every street, and they cast lots upon her nobles, and all her great men were bound in fetters.

Sed et ipsa in transmirationem ducta est in captivitatem parvuli eius elisi sunt in capite omnium viarum et super inclitos eius miserunt sortem et omnes optimates eius confixi sunt in conpedibus

3:11. Therefore thou also shalt be made drunk, and shalt be despised: and thou shalt seek help from the enemies.

Et tu ergo inebriaberis eris despecta et tu quaeres auxilium ab inimico

3:12. All thy strong holds shall be like fig trees with their green figs: if they be shaken, they shall fall into the mouth of the eater.

Omnes munitiones tuae sicuti ficus cum grossis suis si concussae fuerint cadent in os comedentis

3:13. Behold thy people in the midst of thee are women: the gates of thy land shall be set wide open to thy enemies, the fire shall devour thy bars.

Ecce populus tuus mulieres in medio tui inimicis tuis adapertione pandentur portae terrae tuae devorabit ignis vectes tuos

3:14. Draw thee water for the siege, build up thy bulwarks: go into the clay, and tread, work it and make brick.

Aquam propter obsidionem hauri tibi extrue munitiones tuas intra in lutum et calca subigens tene laterem

3:15. There shall the fire devour thee: thou shalt perish by the sword, it shall devour thee like the bruchus: assemble together like the bruchus, make thyself many like the locust.

Ibi comedet te ignis peribis gladio devorabit te ut bruchus congregare ut bruchus multiplicare ut lucusta

3:16. Thou hast multiplied thy merchandises above the stars of heaven: the bruchus hath spread himself and flown away.

Plures fecisti negotiationes tuas quam stellae sunt caeli bruchus expansus est et avolavit

3:17. Thy guards are like the locusts: and thy little ones like the locusts of locusts which swarm on the hedges in the day of cold: the sun arose, and they flew away, and their place was not known where they were.

Custodes tui quasi lucustae et parvuli tui quasi lucustae lucustarum quae considunt in sepibus in die frigoris sol ortus est et avolaverunt et non est cognitus locus earum ubi fuerint

Locusts of locusts... The young locusts.

3:18. Thy shepherds have slumbered, O king of Assyria, thy princes shall be buried: thy people are hid in the mountains, and there is none to gather them.

Dormitaverunt pastores tui rex Assur sepelientur principes tui latitavit populus tuus in montibus et non est qui congreget

3:19. Thy destruction is not hidden, thy wound is grievous: all that have heard the fame of thee, have clapped their hands over thee: for upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

Non est obscura contritio tua pessima est plaga tua omnes qui audierunt auditionem tuam compresserunt manum super te quia super quem non transiit malitia tua semper

Nehemias

The Book of Nehemias, also called the Second Book of Esdras

---

This Book takes its name from the writer, who was cupbearer to Artaxerxes (surnamed Longimanus) king of Persia, and was sent by him with a commission to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem. It is also called the second book of Esdras; because it is a continuation of the history, begun by Esdras, of the state of the people of God after their return from captivity. (For more information, see the article NEHEMIAS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Nehemias Chapter 1. Nehemias hearing the miserable state of his countrymen in Judea, lamenteth, fasteth, and prayeth to God for their relief.

Nehemias Chapter 2. Nehemias with commission from king Artaxerxes cometh to Jerusalem: and exhorteth the Jews to rebuild the walls.

Nehemias Chapter 3. They begin to build the walls: the names and order of the builders.

Nehemias Chapter 4. The building is carried on notwithstanding the opposition of their enemies.

Nehemias Chapter 5. Nehemias blameth the rich, for their oppressing the poor. His exhortation, and bounty to his countrymen.

Nehemias Chapter 6. The enemies seek to terrify Nehemias. He proceedeth and finisheth the wall.

Nehemias Chapter 7. Nehemias appointeth watchmen in Jerusalem. The list of those who came first from Babylon.

Nehemias Chapter 8. Esdras readeth the law before the people. Nehemias comforteth them. They celebrate the feast of tabernacles.

Nehemias Chapter 9. The people repent with fasting and sackcloth. The Levites confess God's benefits, and the people's ingratitude: they pray for them, and make a covenant with God.

Nehemias Chapter 10. The names of the subscribers to the covenant, and the contents of it.

Nehemias Chapter 11. Who were the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the other cities.

Nehemias Chapter 12. The priests, and Levites that came up with Zorobabel. The succession of high priests: the solemnity of the dedication of the wall.

Nehemias Chapter 13. Divers abuses are reformed.

Nehemias Chapter 1

Nehemias hearing the miserable state of his countrymen in Judea, lamenteth, fasteth, and prayeth to God for their relief.

1:1. The words of Nehemias the son of Helchias. And it came to pass in the month of Casleu, in the twentieth year, as I was in the castle of Susa,

Verba Neemiae filii Echliae et factum est in mense casleu anno vicesimo et ego eram in Susis castro

1:2. That Hanani one of my brethren came, he and some men of Juda; and I asked them concerning the Jews, that remained and were left of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.

Et venit Anani unus de fratribus meis ipse et viri ex Iuda et interrogavi eos de Iudaeis qui remanserant et supererant de captivitate et de Hierusalem

1:3. And they said to me: They that have remained, and are left of the captivity there in the province, are in great affliction, and reproach: and the wall of Jerusalem is broken down, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

Et dixerunt mihi qui remanserunt et derelicti sunt de captivitate ibi in provincia in adflictione magna sunt et in obprobrio et murus Hierusalem dissipatus est et portae eius combustae sunt igni

1:4. And when I had heard these words, I sat down, and wept, and mourned for many days: and I fasted, and prayed before the face of the God of heaven.

Cumque audissem verba huiusmodi sedi et flevi et luxi diebus et ieiunabam et orabam ante faciem Dei caeli

1:5. And I said: I beseech thee, O Lord God of heaven, strong, great, and terrible, who keepest covenant and mercy with those that love thee, and keep thy commandments:

Et dixi quaeso Domine Deus caeli fortis magne atque terribilis qui custodis pactum et misericordiam cum his qui te diligunt et custodiunt mandata tua

1:6. Let thy ears be attentive, and thy eyes open, to hear the prayer of thy servant, which I pray before thee now, night and day, for the children of Israel thy servants: and I confess the sins of the children of Israel, by which they have sinned against thee: I and my father's house have sinned.

Fiat auris tua auscultans et oculi tui aperti ut audias orationem servi tui quam ego oro coram te hodie nocte et die pro filiis Israhel servis tuis et confiteor pro peccatis filiorum Israhel quibus peccaverunt tibi et ego et domus patris mei peccavimus

1:7. We have been seduced by vanity, and have not kept thy commandments, and ceremonies and judgments, which thou hast commanded thy servant Moses.

Vanitate seducti sumus et non custodivimus mandatum et caerimonias et iudicia quae praecepisti Mosi servo tuo

1:8. Remember the word that thou commandedst to Moses thy servant, saying: If you shall transgress, I will scatter you abroad among the nations:

Memento verbi quod mandasti Mosi famulo tuo dicens cum transgressi fueritis ego dispergam vos in populos

1:9. But if you return to me, and keep my commandments, and do them, though you should be led away to the uttermost parts of the world, I will gather you from thence, and bring you back to the place which I have chosen for my name to dwell there.

Et si revertamini ad me et custodiatis mandata mea et faciatis ea etiam si abducti fueritis ad extrema caeli inde congregabo vos et inducam in locum quem elegi ut habitaret nomen meum ibi

1:10. And these are thy servants, and thy people: whom thou hast redeemed by thy great strength, and by thy mighty hand.

Et ipsi servi tui et populus tuus quos redemisti in fortitudine tua magna et in manu tua valida

1:11. I beseech thee, O Lord, let thy ear be attentive to the prayer of thy servant, and to the prayer of thy servants who desire to fear thy name: and direct thy servant this day, and give him mercy before this man. For I was the king's cupbearer.

Obsecro Domine sit auris tua adtendens ad orationem servi tui et ad orationem servorum tuorum qui volunt timere nomen tuum et dirige servum tuum hodie et da ei misericordiam ante virum hunc ego enim eram pincerna regis

Nehemias Chapter 2

Nehemias with commission from king Artaxerxes cometh to Jerusalem: and exhorteth the Jews to rebuild the walls.

---

2:1. And it came to pass in the month of Nisan, in the twentieth year of Artaxerxes the king: that wine was before him, and I took up the wine, and gave it to the king: and I was as one languishing away before his face.

Factum est autem in mense nisan anno vicesimo Artaxersis regis et vinum erat ante eum et levavi vinum et dedi regi et non eram quasi languidus ante faciem eius

2:2. And the king said to me: Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou dost not appear to be sick? this is not without cause, but some evil, I know not what, is in thy heart. And I was seized with an exceeding great fear:

Dixitque mihi rex quare vultus tuus tristis cum te aegrotum non videam non est hoc frustra sed malum nescio quid in corde tuo est et timui valde ac nimis

2:3. And I said to the king: O king, live for ever: why should not my countenance be sorrowful, seeing the city of the place of the sepulchres of my fathers is desolate, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire?

Et dixi regi rex in aeternum vive quare non maereat vultus meus quia civitas domus sepulchrorum patris mei deserta est et portae eius combustae sunt igni

2:4. Then the king said to me: For what dost thou make request? And I prayed to the God of heaven,

Et ait mihi rex pro qua re postulas et oravi Deum caeli

2:5. And I said to the king: If it seem good to the king, and if thy servant hath found favour in thy sight, that thou wouldst send me into Judea to the city of the sepulchre of my father, and I will build it.

Et dixi ad regem si videtur regi bonum et si placet servus tuus ante faciem tuam ut mittas me in Iudaeam ad civitatem sepulchri patris mei et aedificabo eam

2:6. And the king said to me, and the queen that sat by him: For how long shall thy journey be, and when wilt thou return? And it pleased the king, and he sent me: and I fixed him a time.

Dixitque mihi rex et regina quae sedebat iuxta eum usque ad quod tempus erit iter tuum et quando reverteris et placuit ante vultum regis et misit me et constitui ei tempus

2:7. And I said to the king: If it seem good to the king, let him give me letters to the governors of the country beyond the river, that they convey me over, till I come into Judea:

Et dixi regi si regi videtur bonum epistulas det mihi ad duces regionis trans Flumen ut transducant me donec veniam in Iudaeam

2:8. And a letter to Asaph the keeper of the king's forest, to give me timber that I may cover the gates of the tower of the house, and the walls of the city, and the house that I shall enter into. And the king gave me according to the good hand of my God with me.

Et epistulam ad Asaph custodem saltus regis ut det mihi ligna et tegere possim portas turris domus et muri civitatis et domum quam ingressus fuero et dedit mihi rex iuxta manum Dei mei bonam mecum

2:9. And I came to the governors of the country beyond the river, and gave them the king's letters. And the king had sent with me captains of soldiers, and horsemen.

Et veni ad duces regionis trans Flumen dedique eis epistulas regis miserat autem mecum rex principes militum et equites

2:10. And Sanaballat the Horonite, and Tobias the servant, the Ammonite, heard it, and it grieved them exceedingly, that a man was come, who sought the prosperity of the children of Israel.

Et audierunt Sanaballat Horonites et Tobias servus ammanites et contristati sunt adflictione magna quod venisset homo qui quaereret prosperitatem filiorum Israhel

2:11. And I came to Jerusalem, and was there three days.

Et veni Hierusalem et eram ibi diebus tribus

2:12. And I arose in the night, I and some few men with me, and I told not any man what God had put in my heart to do in Jerusalem, and there was no beast with me, but the beast that I rode upon.

Et surrexi nocte ego et viri pauci mecum et non indicavi cuiquam quid Deus dedisset in corde meo ut facerem in Hierusalem et iumentum non erat mecum nisi animal cui sedebam

2:13. And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and before the dragon fountain, and to the dung gate, and I viewed the wall of Jerusalem which was broken down, and the gates thereof which were consumed with fire.

Et egressus sum per portam Vallis nocte et ante fontem Draconis et ad portam Stercoris et considerabam murum Hierusalem dissipatum et portas eius consumptas igni

2:14. And I passed to the gate of the fountain, and to the king's aqueduct, and there was no place for the beast on which I rode to pass.

Et transivi ad portam Fontis et ad aquaeductum Regis et non erat locus iumento cui sedebam ut transiret

2:15. And I went up in the night by the torrent, and viewed the wall, and going back I came to the gate of the valley, and returned.

Et ascendi per torrentem nocte et considerabam murum et reversus veni ad portam Vallis et redii

2:16. But the magistrates knew not whither I went, or what I did: neither had I as yet told any thing to the Jews, or to the priests, or to the nobles, or to the magistrates, or to the rest that did the work.

Magistratus autem nesciebant quo abissem aut quid ego facerem sed et Iudaeis et sacerdotibus et optimatibus et magistratibus et reliquis qui faciebant opus usque ad id locorum nihil indicaveram

2:17. Then I said to them: You know the affliction wherein we are, because Jerusalem is desolate, and the gates thereof are consumed with fire: come, and let us build up the walls of Jerusalem, and let us be no longer a reproach.

Et dixi eis vos nostis afflictionem in qua sumus quia Hierusalem deserta est et portae eius consumptae sunt igni venite et aedificemus muros Hierusalem et non simus ultra obprobrium

2:18. And I showed them how the hand of my God was good with me, and the king's words, which he had spoken to me, and I said: Let us rise up, and build. And their hands were strengthened in good.

Et indicavi eis manum Dei mei quod esset bona mecum et verba regis quae locutus est mihi et aio surgamus et aedificemus et confortatae sunt manus eorum in bono

2:19. But Sanaballat the Horonite, and Tobias the servant, the Ammonite, and Gossem the Arabian heard of it, and they scoffed at us, and despised us, and said: What is this thing that you do? are you going to rebel against the king?

Audierunt autem Sanaballat Horonites et Tobias servus ammanites et Gosem Arabs et subsannaverunt nos et despexerunt dixeruntque quae est haec res quam facitis numquid contra regem vos rebellatis

2:20. And I answered them, and said to them: The God of heaven he helpeth us, and we are his servants: let us rise up and build: but you have no part, nor justice, nor remembrance in Jerusalem.

Et reddidi eis sermonem dixique ad eos Deus caeli ipse nos iuvat et nos servi eius sumus surgamus et aedificemus vobis autem non est pars et iustitia et memoria in Hierusalem

Nehemias Chapter 3

They begin to build the walls: the names and order of the builders.

3:1. Then Eliasib the high priest arose, and his brethren the priests, and they built the flock gate: they sanctified it, and set up the doors thereof, even unto the tower of a hundred cubits they sanctified it unto the tower of Hananeel.

Et surrexit Eliasib sacerdos magnus et fratres eius sacerdotes et aedificaverunt portam Gregis ipsi sanctificaverunt eam et statuerunt valvas eius et usque ad turrem centum cubitorum sanctificaverunt eam usque ad turrem Ananehel

3:2. And next to him the men of Jericho built: and next to them built Zachur the son of Amri.

Et iuxta eum aedificaverunt viri Hiericho et iuxta eum aedificavit Zecchur filius Amri

3:3. But the fish gate the sons of Asnaa built: they covered it, and set up the doors thereof, and the locks, and the bars. And next to them built Marimuth the son of Urias the son of Accus.

Portam autem Piscium aedificaverunt filii Asanaa ipsi texerunt eam et statuerunt valvas eius et seras et vectes et iuxta eos aedificavit Marimuth filius Uriae filii Accus

3:4. And next to him built Mosollam the son of Barachias, the son of Merezabel, and next to them built Sadoc the son of Baana.

Et iuxta eos aedificavit Mosollam filius Barachiae filii Mesezebel et iuxta eos aedificavit Sadoc filius Baana

3:5. And next to them the Thecutes built: but their great men did not put their necks to the work of their Lord.

Et iuxta eos aedificaverunt Thecueni optimates autem eorum non subposuerunt colla sua in opere Domini sui

3:6. And Joiada the son of Phasea, and Mosollam the son of Besodia built the old gate: they covered it and set up the doors thereof, and the locks, and the bars.

Et portam Veterem aedificaverunt Ioiada filius Fasea et Mosollam filius Besodia ipsi texerunt eam et statuerunt valvas eius et seras et vectes

3:7. And next to them built Meltias the Gabaonite, and Jadon the Meronathite, the men of Gabaon and Maspha, for the governor that was in the country beyond the river.

Et iuxta eos aedificavit Meletias Gabaonites et Iadon Meronathites viri de Gabaon et Maspha pro duce qui erat in regione trans Flumen

3:8. And next to him built Eziel the son of Araia the goldsmith: and next to him built Ananias the son of the perfumer: and they left Jerusalem unto the wall of the broad street.

Et iuxta eum aedificavit Eziel filius Araia aurifex et iuxta eum aedificavit Anania filius pigmentarii et dimiserunt Hierusalem usque ad murum plateae latioris

3:9. And next to him built Raphaia the son of Hur, lord of the street of Jerusalem.

Et iuxta eum aedificavit Rafaia filius Ahur princeps vici Hierusalem

3:10. And next to him Jedaia the son of Haromaph over against his own house: and next to him built Hattus the son of Hasebonia.

Et iuxta eos aedificavit Ieiada filius Aromath contra domum suam et iuxta eum aedificavit Attus filius Asebeniae

3:11. Melchias the son of Herem, and Hasub the son of Phahath Moab, built half the street, and the tower of the furnaces.

Mediam partem vici aedificavit Melchias filius Erem et Asub filius Phaethmoab et turrem Furnorum

3:12. And next to him built Sellum the son of Alohes, lord of half the street of Jerusalem, he and his daughters.

Iuxta eum aedificavit Sellum filius Alloes princeps mediae partis vici Hierusalem ipse et filiae eius

3:13. And the gate of the valley Hanun built, and the inhabitants of Zanoë: they built it, and set up the doors thereof, and the locks, and the bars, and a thousand cubits in the wall unto the gate of the dunghill. Et portam Vallis aedificavit Anun et habitatores Zanoë ipsi aedificaverunt eam et statuerunt valvas eius et seras et vectes et mille cubitos in muro usque ad portam Sterquilinii

3:14. And the gate of the dunghill Melchias the son of Rechab built, lord of the street of Bethacharam: he built it, and set up the doors thereof, and the locks, and the bars.

Et portam Sterquilinii aedificavit Melchias filius Rechab princeps vici Bethaccharem ipse aedificavit eam et statuit valvas eius et seras et vectes

3:15. And the gate of the fountain, Sellum, the son of Cholhoza, built, lord of the street of Maspha: he built it, and covered it, and set up the doors thereof, and the locks, and the bars, and the walls of the pool of Siloë unto the king's guard, and unto the steps that go down from the city of David.

Et portam Fontis aedificavit Sellum filius Choloozai princeps pagi Maspha ipse aedificavit eam et textit et statuit valvas eius et seras et vectes et muros piscinae Siloae in hortum regis et usque ad gradus qui descendunt de civitate David

3:16. After him built Nehemias the son of Azboc, lord of half the street of Bethsur, as far as over against the sepulchre of David, and to the pool, that was built with great labour, and to the house of the mighty.

Post eum aedificavit Neemias filius Azboc princeps dimidiae partis vici Bethsur usque contra sepulchra David et usque ad piscinam quae grandi opere constructa est et usque ad domum Fortium

3:17. After him built the Levites, Rehum the son of Benni. After him built Hasebias, lord of half the street of Ceila in his own street.

3:18. After him built their brethren Bavai the son of Enadad, lord of half Ceila.

3:19. And next to him Aser the son of Josue, lord of Maspha, built another measure, over against the going up of the strong corner.

Et aedificavit iuxta eum Azer filius Iosue princeps Maspha mensuram secundam contra ascensum firmissimi anguli

3:20. After him in the mount Baruch the son of Zachai built another measure, from the corner to the door of the house of Eliasib the high priest.

3:21. After him Merimuth the son of Urias the son of Haccus, built another measure, from the door of the house of Eliasib, to the end of the house of Eliasib.

Post eum aedificavit Meremuth filius Uriae filii Accus mensuram secundam a porta domus Eliasib donec extenderetur domus Eliasib

3:22. And after him built the priests, the men of the plains of the Jordan.

Et post eum aedificaverunt sacerdotes viri de campestribus Iordanis

3:23. After him built Benjamin and Hasub, over against their own house: and after him built Azarias the son of Maasias the son of Ananias over against his house.

Post eum aedificavit Beniamin et Asub contra domum suam et post eum aedificavit Azarias filius Maasiae filii Ananiae contra domum suam

3:24. After him built Bennui the son of Hanadad another measure, from the house of Azarias unto the bending, and unto the corner.

Post eum aedificavit Bennui filius Enadda mensuram secundam a domo Azariae usque ad flexuram et usque ad angulum

3:25. Phalel, the son of Ozi, over against the bending and the tower, which lieth out from the king's high house, that is, in the court of the prison: after him Phadaia the son of Pharos.

Falel filius Ozi contra flexuram et turrem quae eminent de domo regis excelsa id est in atrio carceris post eum Phadaia filius Pheros

3:26. And the Nathinites dwelt in Ophel, as far as over against the water gate toward the east, and the tower that stood out.

Nathinnei autem habitabant in Ofel usque contra portam Aquarum ad orientem et turrem quae prominebat

3:27. After him the Thecutes built another measure over against, from the great tower that standeth out unto the wall of the temple.

Post eum aedificaverunt Thecueni mensuram secundam e regione a turre magna et eminenti usque ad murum templi

3:28. And upward from the horse gate the priests built, every man over against his house.

Sursum autem a porta Equorum aedificaverunt sacerdotes unusquisque contra domum suam

3:29. After them built Sadoc the son of Emmer over against his house. And after him built Semaia the son of Sechenias, keeper of the east gate.

Post eos aedificavit Seddo filius Emmer contra domum suam et post eum aedificavit Semeia filius Secheniae custos portae orientalis

3:30. After him built Hanania the son of Selemia, and Hanun the sixth son of Seleph, another measure: after him built Mosollam the son of Barachias over against his treasury. After him Melcias the goldsmith's son built unto the house of the Nathinites, and of the sellers of small wares, over against the judgment gate, and unto the chamber of the corner.

Post eum aedificavit Anania filius Selemiae et Anon filius Selo sextus mensuram secundam post eum aedificavit Mosollam filius Barachiae contra gazofilacium suum post eum aedificavit Melchias filius aurificis usque ad domum Nathinneorum et scruta vendentium contra portam Iudicalem et usque ad cenaculum Anguli

3:31. And within the chamber of the corner of the flock gate, the goldsmiths and the merchants built.

Et inter cenaculum Anguli in porta Gregis aedificaverunt artifices et negotiatores

Nehemias Chapter 4

The building is carried on notwithstanding the opposition of their enemies.

4:1. And it came to pass, that when Sanaballat heard that we were building the wall he was angry: and being moved exceedingly he scoffed at the Jews.

Factum est autem cum audisset Sanaballat quod aedificaremus murum iratus est valde et motus nimis subsannavit Iudaeos

4:2. And said before his brethren, and the multitude of the Samaritans: What are the silly Jews doing? Will the Gentiles let them alone? will they sacrifice and make an end in a day? are they able to raise stones out of the heaps of the rubbish, which are burnt?

Et dixit coram fratribus suis et frequentia Samaritanorum quid Iudaei inbecilli faciunt num dimittent eos gentes num sacrificabunt et conplebunt in una die numquid aedificare poterunt lapides de acervis pulveris qui combusti sunt

4:3. Tobias also the Ammonite who was by him said: Let them build: if a fox go up, he will leap over their stone wall.

Sed et Tobias Ammanites proximus eius ait aedificent si ascenderit vulpis transiliet murum eorum lapideum

4:4. Hear thou our God, for we are despised: turn their reproach upon their own head, and give them to be despised in a land of captivity.

Audi Deus noster quia facti sumus despectio converte obprobrium super caput eorum et da eos in despectionem in terra captivitatis

4:5. Cover not their iniquity, and let not their sin be blotted out from before thy face, because they have mocked thy builders.

Ne operias iniquitatem eorum et peccatum eorum coram facie tua non deleatur quia inriserunt aedificantes

4:6. So we built the wall, and joined it all together unto the half thereof: and the heart of the people was excited to work.

Itaque aedificavimus murum et coniunximus totum usque ad partem dimidiam et provocatum est cor populi ad operandum

4:7. And it came to pass, when Sanaballat, and Tobias, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Azotians heard that the walls of Jerusalem were made up, and the breaches began to be closed, that they were exceedingly angry.

Factum est autem cum audisset Sanaballat et Tobias et Arabes et Ammanitae et Azotii quod obducta esset cicatrix muri Hierusalem et quod coepissent interrupta concludi irati sunt nimis

4:8. And they all assembled themselves together, to come, and to fight against Jerusalem, and to prepare ambushes.

Et congregati omnes pariter ut venirent et pugnarent contra Hierusalem et molirentur insidias

4:9. And we prayed to our God, and set watchmen upon the wall day and night against them.

Et oravimus Deum nostrum et posuimus custodes super murum die et nocte contra eos

4:10. And Juda said: The strength of the bearer of burdens is decayed, and the rubbish is very much, and we shall not be able to build the wall.

Dixit autem Iudas debilitata est fortitudo portantis et humus nimia est et nos non poterimus aedificare murum

4:11. And our enemies said: Let them not know, nor understand, till we come in the midst of them, and kill them, and cause the work to cease.

Et dixerunt hostes nostri nesciant et ignorent donec veniamus in medio eorum et interficiamus eos et cessare faciamus opus

4:12. And it came to pass, that when the Jews that dwelt by them came and told us ten times, out of all the places from whence they came to us,

Factum est autem venientibus Iudaeis qui habitabant iuxta eos et dicentibus nobis per decem vices ex omnibus locis quibus venerant ad nos

4:13. I set the people in the place behind the wall round about in order, with their swords, and spears, and bows.

Statui in loco post murum per circuitum populum in ordine cum gladiis suis et lanceis et arcis

4:14. And I looked and rose up: and I said to the chief men and the magistrates, and to the rest of the common people: be not afraid of them. Remember the Lord who is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your sons, and your daughters, and your wives, and your houses.

Perspexi atque surrexi et aio ad optimates et ad magistratus et ad reliquam partem vulgi nolite timere a facie eorum Domini magni et terribilis mementote et pugnate pro fratribus vestris filiis vestris et filiabus vestris uxoribus vestris et domibus

4:15. And it came to pass, when our enemies heard that the thing had been told us, that God defeated their counsel. And we returned all of us to the walls, every man to his work.

Factum est autem cum audissent inimici nostri nuntiatum esse nobis dissipavit Deus consilium eorum et reversi sumus omnes ad muros unusquisque ad opus suum

4:16. And it came to pass from that day forward, that half of their young men did the work, and half were ready for to fight, with spears, and shields, and bows, and coats of mail, and the rulers were behind them in all the house of Juda.

Et factum est a die illa media pars iuvenum eorum faciebant opus et media parata erat ad bellum et lanceae et scuta et arcus et loricae et principes post eos in omni domo Iuda

4:17. Of them that built on the wall and that carried burdens, and that laded: with one of his hands he did the work, and with the other he held a sword.

Aedificantium in muro et portantium onera et inponentium una manu sua faciebat opus et altera tenebat gladium

4:18. For every one of the builders was girded with a sword about his reins. And they built, and sounded with a trumpet by me.

Aedificantium enim unusquisque gladio erat accinctus renes et aedificabant et clangebant bucina iuxta me

4:19. And I said to the nobles, and to the magistrates, and to the rest of the common people: The work is great and wide, and we are separated on the wall one far from another:

Et dixi ad optimates et ad magistratus et ad reliquam partem vulgi opus grande est et latum et nos separati sumus in muro procul alter ab altero

4:20. In what place soever you shall hear the sound of the trumpet, run all thither unto us: our God will fight for us.

In loco quocumque audieritis clangorem tubae illuc concurrite ad nos Deus noster pugnabit pro nobis

4:21. And let us do the work: and let one half of us hold our spears from the rising of the morning, till the stars appear.

Et nos ipsi faciamus opus et media pars nostrum teneat lanceas ab ascensu aurorae donec egrediantur astra

4:22. At that time also I said to the people: Let every one with his servant stay in the midst of Jerusalem, and let us take our turns in the night, and by day, to work.

In tempore quoque illo dixi populo unusquisque cum puero suo maneat in medio Hierusalem et sint vobis vices per noctem et diem ad operandum

4:23. Now I and my brethren, and my servants, and the watchmen that followed me, did not put off our clothes: only every man stripped himself when he was to be washed.

Ego autem et fratres mei et pueri mei et custodes qui erant post me non deponebamus vestimenta nostra unusquisque tantum nudabatur ad baptismum

Nehemias Chapter 5

Nehemias blameth the rich, for their oppressing the poor. His exhortation, and bounty to his countrymen.

---

5:1. Now there was a great cry of the people, and of their wives against their brethren the Jews.

Et factus est clamor populi et uxorum eius magnus adversus fratres suos iudaeos

5:2. And there were some that said: Our sons and our daughters are very many: let us take up corn for the price of them, and let us eat and live.

Et erant qui dicerent filii nostri et filiae nostrae multae sunt nimis accipiamus pro pretio eorum frumentum et comedamus et vivamus

5:3. And there were some that said: Let us mortgage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houses, and let us take corn because of the famine.

Et erant qui dicerent agros nostros et vineas et domos nostras opponamus et accipiamus frumentum in fame

5:4. And others said: Let us borrow money for the king's tribute, and let us give up our fields and vineyards:

Et alii dicebant mutuo sumamus pecunias in tributa regis demusque agros nostros et vineas

5:5. And now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren: and our children as their children. Behold we bring into bondage our sons and our daughters, and some of our daughters are bondwomen already, neither have we wherewith to redeem them, and our fields and our vineyards other men possess.

Et nunc sicut carnes fratrum nostrorum sic carnes nostrae sunt sicut filii eorum ita filii nostri ecce nos subiugamus filios nostros et filias nostras in servitutem et de filiabus nostris sunt famulae nec habemus unde possint redimi et agros nostros et vineas alii possident

5:6. And I was exceedingly angry when I heard their cry according to these words.

Et iratus sum nimis cum audissem clamorem eorum secundum verba haec

5:7. And my heart thought with myself: and I rebuked the nobles and magistrates, and said to them: Do you every one exact usury of your brethren? And I gathered together a great assembly against them, Cogitavitque cor meum mecum et increpui optimates et magistratus et dixi eis usurasne singuli a fratribus vestris exigatis et congregavi adversus eos contionem magnam

5:8. And I said to them: We, as you know, have redeemed according to our ability our brethren the Jews, that were sold to the Gentiles: and will you then sell your brethren, for us to redeem them? And they held their peace, and found not what to answer.

Et dixi eis nos ut scitis redemimus fratres nostros iudaeos qui venditi fuerant gentibus secundum possibilitatem nostram et vos igitur vendite fratres vestros et emimus eos et siluerunt nec invenerunt quid responderent

5:9. And I said to them: The thing you do is not good: why walk you not in the fear of our God, that we be not exposed to the reproaches of the Gentiles our enemies?

Dixique ad eos non est bona res quam facitis quare non in timore Dei nostri ambulatis ne exprobetur nobis a gentibus inimicis nostris

5:10. Both I and my brethren, and my servants, have lent money and corn to many: let us all agree not to call for it again; let us forgive the debt that is owing to us.

Et ego et fratres mei et pueri mei commodavimus plurimis pecuniam et frumentum non repetamus in commune istud aes alienum concedamus quod debetur nobis

5:11. Restore ye to them this day their fields, and their vineyards, and their oliveyards, and their houses:

and the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine, and the oil, which you were wont to exact of them, give it rather for them.

Reddite eis hodie agros suos vineas suas oliveta sua et domos suas quin potius et centesimam pecuniae frumenti vini et olei quam exigere soletis ab eis date pro illis

5:12. And they said: We will restore, and we will require nothing of them: and we will do as thou sayest. And I called the priests and took an oath of them, to do according to what I had said.

Et dixerunt reddimus et ab eis nihil quaerimus sicque faciemus ut loqueris et vocavi sacerdotes et adiuravi eos ut facerent iuxta quod dixeram

5:13. Moreover I shook my lap, and said: So may God shake every man that shall not accomplish this word, out of his house, and out of his labours, thus may he be shaken out, and become empty. And all the multitude said: Amen. And they praised God. And the people did according to what was said.

Insuper et sinum meum excussi et dixi sic excutiat Deus omnem virum qui non compleverit verbum istud de domo sua et de laboribus suis sic excutiat et vacuus fiat et dixit universa multitudo amen et laudaverunt Deum fecit ergo populus sicut dictum erat

5:14. And from the day, in which the king commanded me to be governor in the land of Juda, from the twentieth year even to the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes the king, for twelve years, I and my brethren did not eat the yearly allowance that was due to the governors.

A die autem illa qua praeceperat mihi ut essem dux in terra Iuda ab anno vicesimo usque ad annum tricesimum secundum Artaxerxis regis per annos duodecim ego et fratres mei annonas quae ducibus debebantur non comedimus

5:15. But the former governors that had been before me, were chargeable to the people, and took of them in bread, and wine, and in money every day forty sicles: and their officers also oppressed the people. But I did not so for the fear of God.

Duces autem primi qui fuerant ante me gravaverunt populum et acceperunt ab eis in pane vino et pecunia cotidie siclos quadraginta sed et ministri eorum depresserant populum ego autem non feci ita propter timorem Dei

5:16. Moreover I built in the work of the wall, and I bought no land, and all my servants were gathered together to the work.

Quin potius in opere muri aedificavi et agrum non emi et omnes pueri mei congregati ad opus erant

5:17. The Jews also and the magistrates to the number of one hundred and fifty men, were at my table, besides them that came to us from among the nations that were round about us.

Iudaei quoque et magistratus centum quinquaginta viri et qui veniebant ad nos de gentibus quae in circuitu nostro sunt in mensa mea erant

5:18. And there was prepared for me day by day one ox, and six choice rams, besides fowls, and once in ten days I gave store of divers wines, and many other things: yet I did not require my yearly allowance as governor: for the people were very much impoverished.

Parabatur autem mihi per dies singulos bos unus arietes sex electi exceptis volatilibus et inter dies decem vina diversa et alia multa tribuebam insuper et annonas ducatus mei non quaesivi valde enim erat adtenuatus populus

5:19. Remember me, O my God, for good according to all that I have done for this people.

Memento mei Deus meus in bonum secundum omnia quae feci populo huic

Nehemias Chapter 6

The enemies seek to terrify Nehemias. He proceedeth and finisheth the wall.

6:1. And it came to pass, when Sanaballat, and Tobias, and Gossem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies, heard that I had built the wall, and that there was no breach left in it, (though at that time I had not set up the doors in the gates),

Factum est autem cum audisset Sanaballat et Tobia et Gosem Arabs et ceteri inimici nostri quod aedificassem ego murum et non esset in ipso residua interruptio usque ad tempus autem illud valvas non posueram in portis

6:2. Sanaballat and Gossem sent to me, saying: Come, and let us make a league together in the villages, in the plain of Ono. But they thought to do me mischief.

Miserunt Sanaballat et Gosem ad me dicentes veni et percutiamus foedus pariter in viculis in campo Ono ipsi autem cogitabant ut facerent mihi malum

6:3. And I sent messengers to them, saying: I am doing a great work, and I cannot come down, lest it be neglected whilst I come, and go down to you.

Misi ergo ad eos nuntios dicens opus grande ego facio et non possum descendere ne forte neglegatur cum venero et descendero ad vos

6:4. And they sent to me according to this word, four times: and I answered them after the same manner.

Miserunt autem ad me secundum verbum hoc per quattuor vices et respondi eis iuxta sermonem priorem

6:5. And Sanaballat sent his servant to me the fifth time according to the former word, and he had a letter in his hand written in this manner:

Et misit ad me Sanaballat iuxta verbum prius quinta vice puerum suum et epistulam habebat in manu scriptam hoc modo

6:6. It is reported amongst the Gentiles, and Gossem hath said it, that thou and the Jews think to rebel, and therefore thou buildest the wall, and hast a mind to set thyself king over them: for which end

In gentibus auditum est et Gosem dixit quod tu et Iudaei cogitetis rebellare et propterea aedifices murum et levare te velis super eos regem propter quam causam

6:7. Thou hast also set up prophets, to preach of thee at Jerusalem, saying: There is a king in Judea. The king will hear of these things: therefore come now, that we may take counsel together.

Et prophetas posueris qui praedicent de te in Hierusalem dicentes rex in Iudaea est auditorus est rex verba haec idcirco nunc veni ut ineamus consilium pariter

6:8. And I sent to them, saying: There is no such thing done as thou sayest: but thou feignest these things out of thy own heart.

Et misi ad eos dicens non est factum secundum verba haec quae tu loqueris de corde enim tuo tu conponis haec

6:9. For all these men thought to frighten us, thinking that our hands would cease from the work, and that we would leave off. Wherefore I strengthened my hands the more:

Omnes autem hii terrebant nos cogitantes quod cessarent manus nostrae ab opere et quiesceremus quam ob causam magis confortavi manus meas

6:10. And I went into the house of Samaia the son of Delaia, the son of Metabeel privately. And he said: Let us consult together in the house of God in the midst of the temple: and let us shut the doors of the temple, for they will come to kill thee, and in the night they will come to slay thee.

Et ingressus sum domum Samaiae filii Dalaiiae filii Metabehel secreto qui ait tractemus nobiscum in domo Dei in medio templi et claudamus portas aedis quia venturi sunt ut interficiant te et nocte venturi sunt ad occidendum te

6:11. And I said: Should such a man as I flee? and who is there that being as I am, would go into the temple, to save his life? I will not go in.

Et dixi num quisquam similis mei fugit et quis ut ego ingredietur templum et vivet non ingrediar

6:12. And I understood that God had not sent him, but that he had spoken to me as if he had been prophesying, and Tobias, and Sanaballat had hired him.

Et intellexi quod Deus non misset eum sed quasi vaticinans locutus esset ad me et Tobia et Sanaballat conduxissent eum

6:13. For he had taken money, that I being afraid should do this thing, and sin, and they might have some evil to upbraid me withal.

Acceperat enim pretium ut territus facerem et peccarem et haberent malum quod exprobrarent mihi

6:14. Remember me, O Lord, for Tobias and Sanaballat, according to their works of this kind: and Noadiah the prophet, and the rest of the prophets that would have put me in fear.

Memento Domine mei pro Tobia et Sanaballat iuxta opera eorum talia sed et Noadiae prophetae et ceterorum prophetarum qui terrebant me

6:15. But the wall was finished the five and twentieth day of the month of Elul, in two and fifty days.

Completus est autem murus vicesimo quinto die mensis elul quinquaginta duobus diebus

6:16. And it came to pass when all our enemies heard of it, that all nations which were round about us, were afraid, and were cast down within themselves, for they perceived that this work was the work of God.

Factum est ergo cum audissent omnes inimici nostri ut timerent universae gentes quae erant in circuitu nostro et conciderent intra semet ipsos et scirent quod a Deo factum esset opus hoc

6:17. Moreover in those days many letters were sent by the principal men of the Jews to Tobias, and from Tobias there came letters to them.

Sed et in diebus illis multae optimatum Iudaeorum epistulae mittebantur ad Tobiam et a Tobia veniebant ad eos

6:18. For there were many in Judea sworn to him, because he was the son in law of Sechenias the son of Area, and Johanan his son had taken to wife the daughter of Mosollam the son of Barachias.

Multi enim erant in Iudaea habentes iuramentum eius quia gener erat Secheniae filii Orei et Iohanan filius eius acceperat filiam Mosollam filii Barachiae

6:19. And they praised him also before me, and they related my words to him: And Tobias sent letters to put me in fear.

Sed et laudabant eum coram me et verba mea nuntiabant ei et Tobias mittebat epistulas ut terreret me

Nehemias Chapter 7

Nehemias appointeth watchmen in Jerusalem. The list of those who came first from Babylon.

---

7:1. Now after the wall was built, and I had set up the doors, and numbered the porters and singing men, and Levites:

Postquam autem aedificatus est murus et posui valvas et recensui ianitores et cantores et Levitas

7:2. I commanded Hanani my brother, and Hananias ruler of the house of Jerusalem, (for he seemed as a sincere man, and one that feared God above the rest),

Praecepit Aneni fratri meo et Ananiae principi domus de Hierusalem ipse enim quasi vir verax et timens Deum plus ceteris videbatur

7:3. And I said to them: Let not the gates of Jerusalem be opened till the sun be hot. And while they were yet standing by the gates were shut, and barred: and I set watchmen of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, every one by their courses, and every man over against his house.

Et dixi eis non aperiantur portae Hierusalem usque ad calorem solis cumque adhuc adsisterent clausae portae sunt et oppilatae et posui custodes de habitatoribus Hierusalem singulos per vices suas et unumquemque contra domum suam

7:4. And the city was very wide and great, and the people few in the midst thereof, and the houses were not built.

Civitas autem erat lata nimis et grandis et populus parvus in medio eius et non erant domus aedificatae

7:5. But God had put in my heart, and I assembled the princes and magistrates, and common people, to number them: and I found a book of the number of them who came up at first and therein it was found written:

Dedit autem Deus in corde meo et congregavi optimates et magistratus et vulgum ut recenserem eos et inveni librum census eorum qui ascenderant primum et inventum est scriptum in eo

7:6. These are the children of the province, who came up from the captivity of them that had been carried away, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had carried away, and who returned into Judea, every one into his own city.

Isti filii provinciae qui ascenderunt de captivitate migrantium quos transtulerat Nabuchodonosor rex Babylonis et reversi sunt in Hierusalem et in Iudaeam unusquisque in civitatem suam

7:7. Who came with Zorobabel, Josue, Nehemias, Azarias, Raamias, Nahamani, Mardochai, Belsam, Mespharath, Begoia, Nahum, Baana. The number of the men of the people of Israel:

Qui venerunt cum Zorobabel Hiesuae Neemias Azarias Raamias Naamni Mardocheus Belsar Mespharath Beggoai Naum Baana numerus virorum populi Israhel

Et de sacerdotibus filii Abia filii Accos filii Berzellai qui accepit de filiabus Berzellai Galaditis uxorem et vocatus est nomine eorum

7:64. These sought their writing in the record, and found it not: and they were cast out of the priesthood.
Hii quaesierunt scripturam suam in censu et non invenerunt et eieci sunt de sacerdotio

7:65. And Athersatha said to them, that they should not eat of the holies of holies, until there stood up a priest learned and skilful.
Dixitque Athersatha eis ut non manducarent de sanctis sanctorum donec staret sacerdos doctus et eruditus

7:66. All the multitude as it were one man, forty-two thousand three hundred sixty,
Omnis multitudo quasi unus quadraginta duo milia sescenti sexaginta

7:67. Beside their menservants and womenservants, who were seven thousand three hundred thirty-seven: and among them singing men, and singing women, two hundred forty-five.
Absque servis et ancillis eorum qui erant septem milia trecenti triginta et septem et inter eos cantores et cantrices ducentae quadraginta quinque

7:68. Their horses, seven hundred thirty-six: their mules two hundred forty-five.

7:69. Their camels, four hundred thirty-five, their asses, six thousand seven hundred and twenty.
Cameli quadringenti triginta quinque asini sex milia septingenti viginti

Hitherto is related what was written in the record. From this place forward goeth on the history of Nehemias.

7:70. And some of the heads of the families gave unto the work. Athersatha gave into the treasure a thousand drams of gold, fifty bowls, and five hundred and thirty garments for priests.
Nonnulli autem de principibus familiarum dederunt in opus Athersatha dedit in thesaurum auri dragmas mille fialas quinquaginta tunicas sacerdotales quingentas triginta

Athersatha... That is, Nehemias; as appears from chap. 12. Either that he was so called at the court of the king of Persia, where he was cupbearer: or that, as some think, this name signifies governor; and he was at that time governor of Judea.

7:71. And some of the heads of families gave to the treasure of the work, twenty thousand drams of gold, and two thousand two hundred pounds of silver.

Et de principibus familiarum dederunt in thesaurum operis auri dragmas viginti milia et argenti minas duo milia ducentas

7:72. And that which the rest of the people gave, was twenty thousand drams of gold, and two thousand pounds of silver, and sixty-seven garments for priests.

Et quod dedit reliquus populus auri dragmas viginti milia et argenti minas duo milia et tunicas sacerdotales sexaginta septem

7:73. And the priests, and the Levites, and the porters, and the singing men, and the rest of the common people, and the Nathinites, and all Israel dwelt in their cities.

Habitaverunt autem sacerdotes et Levitae et ianitores et cantores et reliquum vulgus et Nathinnei et omnis Israhel in civitatibus suis

Nehemias Chapter 8

Esdras readeth the law before the people. Nehemias comforteth them. They celebrate the feast of tabernacles.

8:1. And the seventh month came: and the children of Israel were in their cities. And all the people were gathered together as one man to the street which is before the water gate, and they spoke to Esdras the scribe, to bring the book of the law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

Et venerat mensis septimus filii autem Israhel erant in civitatibus suis congregatusque est omnis populus quasi vir unus ad plateam quae est ante portam Aquarum et dixerunt Ezrae scribae ut adferret librum legis Mosi quam praecepit Dominus Israheli

8:2. Then Esdras the priest brought the law before the multitude of men and women, and all those that could understand, in the first day of the seventh month.

Adtulit ergo Ezras sacerdos legem coram multitudine virorum et mulierum cunctisque qui poterant intellegere in die prima mensis septimi

8:3. And he read it plainly in the street that was before the water gate, from the morning until midday, before the men, and the women, and all those that could understand: and the ears of all the people were attentive to the book.

Et legit in eo aperte in platea quae erat ante portam Aquarum de mane usque ad mediam diem in conspectu virorum et mulierum et sapientium et aures omnis populi erant erectae ad librum

8:4. And Esdras the scribe stood upon a step of wood, which he had made to speak upon, and there stood by him Mathathias, and Semeia, and Ania, and Uria, and Helcia, and Maasia, on his right hand: and on the left, Phadaia, Misael, and Melchia, and Hasum, and Hasbadana, Zacharia and Mosollam.

Stetit autem Ezras scriba super gradum ligneum quem fecerat ad loquendum et steterunt iuxta eum Matthathia et Sema et Ania et Uria et Helcia et Maasia ad dextram eius et ad sinistram Phadaia Misahel et Melchia et Asum et Asephdana Zaccharia et Mosollam

8:5. And Esdras opened the book before all the people: for he was above all the people: and when he had opened it, all the people stood.

Et aperuit Ezras librum coram omni populo super universum quippe populum eminebat et cum aperuisset eum stetit omnis populus

8:6. And Esdras blessed the Lord the great God: and all the people answered, Amen, amen: lifting up their hands: and they bowed down, and adored God with their faces to the ground.

Et benedixit Ezras Domino Deo magno et respondit omnis populus amen amen elevans manus suas et incurvati sunt et adoraverunt Deum proni in terram

8:7. Now Josue, and Bani, and Serebia, Jamin, Accub, Sephtai, Odia, Maasia, Celtia, Azarias, Jozabed, Hanan, Phalaia, the Levites, made silence among the people to hear the law: and the people stood in their place.

Porro Hiesue et Baani et Serebia Iamin Accub Sephtai Odia Maasia Celita Azarias Iozabed Anam Phalaia Levitae silentium faciebant in populo ad audiendam legem populus autem stabat in gradu suo

8:8. And they read in the book of the law of God distinctly and plainly to be understood: and they understood when it was read.

Et legerunt in libro legis Dei distincte et adposite ad intellegendum et intellexerunt cum legeretur

8:9. And Nehemias (he is Athersatha) and Esdras the priest and scribe, and the Levites who interpreted to all the people, said: This is a holy day to the Lord our God: do not mourn, nor weep: for all the people wept, when they heard the words of the law.

Dixit autem Neemias ipse est Athersatha et Ezras sacerdos scriba et Levitae interpretantes universo populo

dies sanctificatus est Domino Deo nostro nolite lugere et nolite flere flebat enim omnis populus cum audiret verba legis

8:10. And he said to them: Go, eat fat meats, and drink sweet wine, and send portions to them that have not prepared for themselves: because it is the holy day of the Lord, and be not sad: for the joy of the Lord is our strength.

Et dixit eis ite comedite pingua et bibite mulsum et mittite partes ei qui non praeparavit sibi quia sanctus dies Domini est et nolite contristari gaudium enim Domini est fortitudo nostra

8:11. And the Levites stilled all the people, saying: Hold your peace, for the day is holy, and be not sorrowful.

Levitae autem silentium faciebant in omni populo dicentes tacete quia dies sanctus est et nolite dolere

8:12. So all the people went to eat and drink, and to send portions, and to make great mirth: because they understood the words that he had taught them.

Abiit itaque omnis populus ut comederet et biberet et mitteret partes et faceret laetitiam magnam quia intellexerant verba quae docuerat eos

8:13. And on the second day the chiefs of the families of all the people, the priests, and the Levites were gathered together to Esdras the scribe, that he should interpret to them the words of the law.

Et in die secundo congregati sunt principes familiarum universi populi sacerdotes et Levitae ad Ezram scribam ut interpretaretur eis verba legis

8:14. And they found written in the law, that the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in tabernacles, on the feast, in the seventh month:

Et invenerunt scriptum in lege praecepisse Dominum in manu Mosi ut habitent filii Israhel in tabernaculis in die sollemni mense septimo

8:15. And that they should proclaim and publish the word in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying: Go forth to the mount, and fetch branches of olive, and branches of beautiful wood, branches of myrtle, and branches of palm, and branches of thick trees, to make tabernacles, as it is written.

Et ut praedicerent et divulgarent vocem in universis urbibus suis et in Hierusalem dicentes egredimini in montem et adferite frondes olivae et frondes ligni pulcherrimi frondes myrti et ramos palmarum et frondes ligni nemorosi ut fiant tabernacula sicut scriptum est

8:16. And the people went forth, and brought. And they made themselves tabernacles every man on the top of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the street of the water gate, and in the street of the gate of Ephraim.

Et egressus est populus et adtulerunt feceruntque sibi tabernacula unusquisque in domate suo et in atriis suis et in atriis domus Dei et in platea portae Aquarum et in platea portae Ephraim

8:17. And all the assembly of them that were returned from the captivity, made tabernacles, and dwelt in tabernacles: for since the days of Josue the son of Nun the children of Israel had not done so, until that day: and there was exceeding great joy.

Fecit ergo universa ecclesia eorum qui redierant de captivitate tabernacula et habitaverunt in tabernaculis non enim fecerant a diebus Iosue filii Nun taliter filii Israhel usque ad diem illum et fuit laetitia magna nimis

8:18. And he read in the book of the law of God day by day, from the first day till the last, and they kept the solemnity seven days, and in the eighth day a solemn assembly according to the manner.

Legit autem in libro legis Dei per dies singulos a die primo usque ad diem novissimum et fecerunt sollemnitatem septem diebus et in die octavo collectum iuxta ritum

Nehemias Chapter 9

The people repent with fasting and sackcloth. The Levites confess God's benefits, and the people's ingratitude: they pray for them, and make a covenant with God.

---

9:1. And in the four and twentieth day of the month the children of Israel came together with fasting and with sackcloth, and earth upon them.

In die autem vicesimo quarto mensis huius convenerunt filii Israhel in ieiunio et in saccis et humus super eos

9:2. And the seed of the children of Israel separated themselves from every stranger: and they stood, and confessed their sins, and the iniquities of their fathers.

Et separatum est semen filiorum Israhel ab omni filio alienigena et steterunt et confitebantur peccata sua et iniquitates patrum suorum

9:3. And they rose up to stand: and they read in the book of the law of the Lord their God, four times in the day, and four times they confessed, and adored the Lord their God.

Et consurrexerunt ad standum et legerunt in volumine legis Domini Dei sui quater in die et quater confitebantur et adorabant Dominum Deum suum

9:4. And there stood up upon the step of the Levites, Josue, and Bani, and Cedmihel, Sabania, Bonni, Sarebias, Bani, and Chanani: and they cried with a loud voice to the Lord their God.

Surrexit autem super gradum Levitarum Iosue et Bani Cedmihel Sebnia Bani Sarebias Bani Chanani et inclamaverunt voce magna Dominum Deum suum

9:5. And the Levites Josue and Cedmihel, Bonni, Hasebnia, Serebia, Oduia, Sebnia, and Phathahia, said: Arise, bless the Lord your God from eternity to eternity: and blessed be the high name of thy glory with all blessing and praise.

Et dixerunt Levitae Iosue et Cedmihel Bonni Asebia Serebia Odoia Sebnia Fataia surgite benedicite Domino Deo vestro ab aeterno usque in aeternum et benedicant nomini gloriae tuae excelso in omni benedictione et laude

9:6. Thou thyself, O Lord alone, thou hast made heaven, and the heaven of heavens, and all the host thereof: the earth and all things that are in it: the seas and all that are therein: and thou givest life to all these things, and the host of heaven adoreth thee.

Tu ipse Domine solus tu fecisti caelum caelum caelorum et omnem exercitum eorum terram et universa quae in ea sunt maria et omnia quae in eis sunt et tu vivificas omnia haec et exercitus caeli te adorant

9:7. Thou O Lord God, art he who cholest Abram, and broughtest him forth out of the fire of the Chaldeans, and gavest him the name of Abraham.

Tu ipse Domine Deus qui elegisti Abram et eduxisti eum de igne Chaldeorum et posuisti nomen eius Abraham

The fire of the Chaldeans... The city of Ur in Chaldea, the name of which signifies fire. Or out of the fire of the tribulations and temptations, to which he was there exposed. The ancient Rabbins understood this literally, affirming that Abram was cast into the fire by the idolaters, and brought out by a miracle without any hurt.

9:8. And thou didst find his heart faithful before thee: and thou madest a covenant with him, to give him the land of the Chanaanite, of the Hethite, and of the Amorrhite, and of the Pherezite, and of the Jebusite, and of the Gergezite, to give it to his seed: and thou hast fulfilled thy words, because thou art just.

Et invenisti cor eius fidele coram te et percussisti cum eo foedus ut dares ei terram Chananei Chetthei Amorrei et Ferezei et Iebusei et Gergesei ut dares semini eius et implesti verba tua quoniam iustus es

9:9. And thou sawest the affliction of our fathers in Egypt: and thou didst hear their cry by the Red Sea.

Et vidisti adflictionem patrum nostrorum in Aegypto clamoremque eorum audisti super mare Rubrum

9:10. And thou showedst signs and wonders upon Pharao, and upon all his servants, and upon the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them: and thou madest thyself a name, as it is at this day.

Et dedisti signa et portenta in Pharao et in universis servis eius et in omni populo terrae illius cognovisti enim quia superbe egerant contra eos et fecisti tibi nomen sicut et in hac die

9:11. And thou didst divide the sea before them, and they passed through the midst of the sea on dry land: but their persecutors thou threwest into the depth, as a stone into mighty waters.

Et mare divisisti ante eos et transierunt per medium maris in sicca persecutores autem eorum proiecisti in profundum quasi lapidem in aquas validas

9:12. And in a pillar of a cloud thou wast their leader by day, and in a pillar of fire by night, that they might see the way by which they went.

Et in columna nubis ductor eorum fuisti per diem et in columna ignis per noctem ut appareret eis via per quam ingrediebantur

9:13. Thou camest down also to mount Sinai, and didst speak with them from heaven, and thou gavest them right judgments, and the law of truth, ceremonies, and good precepts.

Ad montem quoque Sinai descendisti et locutus es cum eis de caelo et dedisti eis iudicia recta et legem veritatis caerimonias et praecepta bona

9:14. Thou madest known to them thy holy sabbath, and didst prescribe to them commandments, and ceremonies, and the law by the hand of Moses thy servant.

Et sabbatum sanctificatum tuum ostendisti eis et mandata et caerimonias et legem praecepisti eis in manu Mosi servi tui

9:15. And thou gavest them bread from heaven in their hunger, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rock in their thirst, and thou saidst to them that they should go in, and possess the land, upon which thou hadst lifted up thy hand to give it them.

Panem quoque de caelo dedisti eis in fame eorum et aquam de petra eduxisti eis sitientibus et dixisti eis ut ingrederentur et possiderent terram super quam levasti manum tuam ut traderes eis

9:16. But they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardened their necks and hearkened not to thy commandments.

Ipsi vero et patres nostri superbe egerunt et induraverunt cervices suas et non audierunt mandata tua

9:17. And they would not hear, and they remembered not thy wonders which thou hadst done for them. And they hardened their necks, and gave the head to return to their bondage, as it were by contention. But thou, a forgiving God, gracious, and merciful, longsuffering, and full of compassion, didst not forsake them.

Et noluerunt audire et non sunt recordati mirabilium tuorum quae feceras eis et induraverunt cervices suas et dederunt caput ut converterentur ad servitatem suam quasi per contentionem tu autem Deus propitius clemens et misericors longanimis et multae miserationis non dereliquisti eos

And gave the head... That is, they set their head, or were bent to return to Egypt.

9:18. Yea when they had made also to themselves a molten calf, and had said: This is thy God, that brought thee out of Egypt: and had committed great blasphemies:

Et quidem cum fecissent sibi vitulum conflatilem et dixissent iste est Deus tuus qui eduxit te de Aegypto feceruntque blasphemias magnas

9:19. Yet thou, in thy many mercies, didst not leave them in the desert: the pillar of the cloud departed not from them by day to lead them in the way, and the pillar of fire by night to show them the way by which they should go.

Tu autem in misericordiis tuis multis non dimisisti eos in deserto columna nubis non recessit ab eis per diem ut duceret eos in via et columna ignis in nocte ut ostenderet eis iter per quod ingrederentur

9:20. And thou gavest them thy good Spirit to teach them, and thy mana thou didst not withhold from their mouth, and thou gavest them water for their thirst.

Et spiritum tuum bonum dedisti qui doceret eos et manna tuum non prohibuisti ab ore eorum et aquam dedisti eis in siti

9:21. Forty years didst thou feed them in the desert, and nothing was wanting to them: their garments did not grow old, and their feet were not worn.

Quadraginta annis pavisti eos in deserto nihilque eis defuit vestimenta eorum non inveteraverunt et pedes eorum non sunt adtriti

9:22. And thou gavest them kingdoms, and nations, and didst divide lots for them: and they possessed the land of Sehon, and the land of the king of Hesebon, and the land of Og king of Basan.

Et dedisti eis regna et populos et partitus es eis sortes et possederunt terram Seon et terram regis Esebon et terram Og regis Basan

9:23. And thou didst multiply their children as the stars of heaven, and broughtest them to the land concerning which thou hadst said to their fathers, that they should go in and possess it.

Et filios eorum multiplicasti sicut stellas caeli et adduxisti eos ad terram de qua dixeras patribus eorum ut ingrederentur et possiderent

9:24. And the children came and possessed the land, and thou didst humble before them the inhabitants of the land, the Chanaanites, and gavest them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the land, that they might do with them as it pleased them.

Et venerunt filii et possederunt terram et humiliasti coram eis habitatores terrae Chananeos et dedisti eos in manu eorum et reges eorum et populos terrae ut facerent eis sicut placebat illis

9:25. And they took strong cities and a fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods: cisterns made by others, vineyards, and oliveyards, and fruit trees in abundance: and they ate, and were filled, and became fat, and abounded with delight in thy great goodness.

Ceperunt itaque urbes munitas et humum pinguem et possederunt domos plenas cunctis bonis cisternas ab aliis fabricatas vineas et oliveta et ligna pomifera multa et comederunt et saturati sunt et inpinguati sunt et abundavere deliciis in bonitate tua magna

9:26. But they provoked thee to wrath, and departed from thee, and threw thy law behind their backs: and they killed thy prophets, who admonished them earnestly to return to thee: and they were guilty of great blasphemies.

Provocaverunt autem te ad iracundiam et recesserunt a te et proiecerunt legem tuam post terga sua et prophetas tuos occiderunt qui contestabantur eos ut reverterentur ad te feceruntque blasphemias grandes

9:27. And thou gavest them into the hands of their enemies, and they afflicted them. And in the time of their tribulation they cried to thee, and thou heardest from heaven, and according to the multitude of thy tender mercies thou gavest them saviours, to save them from the hands of their enemies.

Et dedisti eos in manu hostium suorum et adflixerunt eos et in tempore tribulationis suae clamaverunt ad te et tu de caelo audisti et secundum miserationes tuas multas dedisti eis salvatores qui salvaverunt eos de manu hostium suorum

9:28. But after they had rest, they returned to do evil in thy sight: and thou leftest them in the hand of their enemies, and they had dominion over them. Then they returned, and cried to thee: and thou heardest from heaven, and deliveredst them many times in thy mercies.

Cumque requievissent reversi sunt ut facerent malum in conspectu tuo et dereliquisti eos in manu inimicorum suorum et possederunt eos conversique sunt et clamaverunt ad te tu autem de caelo audisti et liberasti eos in misericordiis tuis multis temporibus

9:29. And thou didst admonish them to return to thy law. But they dealt proudly, and hearkened not to thy commandments, but sinned against thy judgments, which if a man do, he shall live in them: and they withdrew the shoulder, and hardened their neck, and would not hear.

Et contestatus es eos ut reverterentur ad legem tuam ipsi vero superbe egerunt et non audierunt mandata tua et in iudiciis tuis peccaverunt quae faciet homo et vivet in eis et dederunt umerum recedentem et cervicem suam induraverunt nec audierunt

9:30. And thou didst forbear with them for many years, and didst testify against them by thy spirit by the hand of thy prophets: and they heard not, and thou didst deliver them into the hand of the people of the lands.

Et protraxisti super eos annos multos et contestatus es eos in spiritu tuo per manum prophetarum tuorum et non audierunt et tradidisti eos in manu populorum terrarum

9:31. Yet in thy very many mercies thou didst not utterly consume them, nor forsake them: because thou art a merciful and gracious God.

In misericordiis autem tuis plurimis non fecisti eos in consumptione nec dereliquisti eos quoniam Deus miserationum et clemens tu es

9:32. Now therefore our God, great, strong, and terrible, who keepest covenant and mercy, turn not away from thy face all the labour which hath come upon us, upon our kings, and our princes, and our priests, and our prophets, and our fathers, and all the people from the days of the king of Assur, until this day.

Nunc itaque Deus noster Deus magne fortis et terribilis custodiens pactum et misericordiam ne avertas a facie tua omnem laborem qui invenit nos reges nostros principes nostros et sacerdotes nostros prophetas nostros et patres nostros et omnem populum tuum a diebus regis Assur usque in diem hanc

9:33. And thou art just in all things that have come upon us: because thou hast done truth, but we have done wickedly.

Et tu iustus in omnibus quae venerunt super nos quia veritatem fecisti nos autem impie egimus

9:34. Our kings, our princes, our priests, and our fathers have not kept thy law, and have not minded thy commandments, and thy testimonies which thou hast testified among them.

Reges nostri principes nostri sacerdotes nostri et patres nostri non fecerunt legem tuam et non adtenderunt mandata tua et testimonia tua quae testificatus es in eis

9:35. And they have not served thee in their kingdoms, and in thy manifold goodness, which thou gavest them, and in the large and fat land, which thou deliveredst before them, nor did they return from their most wicked devices.

Et ipsi in regnis suis bonis et in bonitate tua multa quam dederas eis et in terra latissima et pingui quam tradideras in conspectu eorum non servierunt tibi nec reversi sunt ab studiis suis pessimis

9:36. Behold we ourselves this day are bondmen: and the land, which thou gavest our fathers, to eat the bread thereof, and the good things thereof, and we ourselves are servants in it.

Ecce nos ipsi hodie servi sumus et terram quam dedisti patribus nostris ut comederent panem eius et quae bona sunt eius et nos ipsi servi sumus in ea

9:37. And the fruits thereof grow up for the kings, whom thou hast set over us for our sins, and they have dominion over our bodies, and over our beasts, according to their will, and we are in great tribulation.

Et fruges eius multiplicantur regibus quos posuisti super nos propter peccata nostra et in corporibus nostris dominantur et in iumentis nostris secundum voluntatem suam et in tribulatione magna sumus

9:38. And because of all this we ourselves make a covenant, and write it, and our princes, our Levites, and our priests sign it.

Super omnibus ergo his nos ipsi percutimus foedus et scribimus et signant principes nostri Levitae nostri et sacerdotes nostri

Nehemias Chapter 11

Who were the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the other cities.

11:1. And the princes of the people dwelt at Jerusalem: but the rest of the people cast lots, to take one part in ten to dwell in Jerusalem the holy city, and nine parts in the other cities.

Habitaverunt autem principes populi in Hierusalem reliqua vero plebs misit sortem ut tollerent unam partem de decem qui habitaturi essent in Hierusalem in civitate sancta novem vero partes in civitatibus

11:2. And the people blessed all the men that willingly offered themselves to dwell in Jerusalem.

Benedixit autem populus omnibus viris qui se sponte obtulerunt ut habitarent in Hierusalem

11:3. These therefore are the chief men of the province, who dwelt in Jerusalem, and in the cities of Juda. And every one dwelt in his possession, in their cities: Israel, the priests, the Levites, the Nathinites, and the children of the servants of Solomon.

Hii sunt itaque principes provinciae qui habitaverunt in Hierusalem et in civitatibus Iuda habitavit unusquisque in possessione sua in urbibus suis Israhel sacerdotes Levitae Nathinnei et filii servorum Salomonis

11:4. And in Jerusalem there dwelt some of the children of Juda, and some of the children of Benjamin: of the children of Juda, Athaias the son of Aziam, the son of Zacharias, the son of Amarias, the son of Saphatias, the son of Malaleel: of the sons of Phares,

Et in Hierusalem habitaverunt de filiis Iuda et de filiis Benjamin de filiis Iuda Athaias filius Aziam filii Zacchariae filii Amariae filii Saphatia filii Malelehel de filiis Phares

11:5. Maasia the son of Baruch, the son of Cholhoza, the son of Hazia, the son of Adaia, the son of Joiarib, the son of Zacharias, the son of the Silonite:

Imaasia filius Baruch filius Coloza filius Azia filius Adaia filius Ioiarib filius Zacchariae filius Silonites

11:6. All these the sons of Phares, who dwelt in Jerusalem, were four hundred sixty-eight valiant men.

Omnes filii Phares qui habitaverunt in Hierusalem quadringenti sexaginta octo viri fortes

11:7. And these are the children of Benjamin: Sellum the son of Mosollam, the son of Joed, the son of Phadaia, the son of Colaia, the son of Masia, the son of Etheel, the son of Isaia.

Hii sunt autem filii Benjamin Sellum filius Mosollam filius Ioed filius Phadaia filius Colaia filius Masia filius Ethehel filius Isaia

11:8. And after him Gebbai, Sellai, nine hundred twenty-eight.

Et post eum Gabbai Sellai nongenti viginti octo

11:9. And Joel the son of Zechri their ruler, and Judas the son of Senua was second over the city.

Et Iohel filius Zechri praepositus eorum et Iuda filius Sennua super civitatem secundus

11:10. And of the priests Idaia the son of Joarib, Jachin,

Et de sacerdotibus Idaia filius Ioarib Iachin

11:11. Saraia the son of Helcias, the son of Mosollam, the son of Sadoc, the son of Meraioth, the son of Achitob the prince of the house of God,

Saraia filius Elcia filius Mesollam filius Sadoc filius Meraioth filius Ahitub princeps domus Dei

11:12. And their brethren that do the works of the temple: eight hundred twenty-two. And Adaia the son of Jeroham, the son of Phelelia, the son of Amsi, the son of Zacharias, the son of Pheshur, the son of Melchias,

Et fratres eorum facientes opera templi octingenti viginti duo et Adaia filius Ieroam filius Felelia filius Amsi filius Zacchariae filius Phessur filius Melchia

11:13. And his brethren the chiefs of the fathers: two hundred forty-two. And Amassai the son of Azreel, the son of Ahazi, the son of Mosollamoth, the son of Emmer,

Et fratres eius principes patrum ducenti quadraginta duo et Amassai filius Azrihel filius Aazi filius Mosollamoth filius Emmer

11:14. And their brethren who were very mighty, a hundred twenty-eight: and their ruler Zabdiel son of the mighty.

Et fratres eorum potentes nimis centum viginti octo et praepositus eorum Zabdiel filius potentium

11:15. And of the Levites Semeia the son of Hasub, the son of Azaricam, the son of Hasabia, the son of Boni,

Et de Levitis Sebenia filius Asob filius Azaricam filius Asabia filius Boni

11:16. And Sabathai and Jozabed, who were over all the outward business of the house of God, of the princes of the Levites,

Et Sabathai et Iozabed super opera quae erant forinsecus in domo Dei a principibus Levitarum

12:24. Now the chief of the Levites were Hasebia, Serebia, and Josue the son of Cedmihel: and their brethren by their courses, to praise and to give thanks according to the commandment of David the man of God, and to wait equally in order.
Et principes Levitarum Asebia Serebia et Iesue filius Cedmihel et fratres eorum per vices suas ut laudent et confiterentur iuxta praeceptum David viri Dei et observarent aequae per ordinem

12:25. Mathania, and Becbecia, Obedia, and Mosollam, Telmon, Accub, were keepers of the gates and of the entrances before the gates.
Matthania et Becbecia Obedia Mosollam Thelmon Accub custodes portarum et vestibulorum ante portas

12:26. These were in the days of Joacim the son of Josue, the son of Josedec, and in the days of Nehemias the governor, and of Esdras the priest and scribe.
Hii in diebus Ioachim filii Iesue filii Iosedech et in diebus Neemiae ducis et Ezrae sacerdotis scribaeque

12:27. And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem, and to keep the dedication, and to rejoice with thanksgiving, and with singing, and with cymbals, and psalteries and harps.
In dedicatione autem muri Hierusalem requisierunt Levitas de omnibus locis suis ut adducerent eos in Hierusalem et facerent dedicationem et laetitiam in actione gratiarum et in cantico in cymbalis psalteriis et citharis

12:28. And the sons of the singing men were gathered together out of the plain country about Jerusalem, and out of the villages of Nethuphati,
Congregati sunt ergo filii cantorum et de campestribus circa Hierusalem et de villis Netuphati

12:29. And from the house of Galgal, and from the countries of Geba and Azmaveth: for the singing men had built themselves villages round about Jerusalem.
Et de domo Galgal et de regionibus Geba et Azmaveth quoniam villas aedificaverunt sibi cantores in circuitu Hierusalem

12:30. And the priests and the Levites were purified, and they purified the people, and the gates, and the wall.
Et mundati sunt sacerdotes et Levitae et mundaverunt populum et portas et murum

12:31. And I made the princes of Juda go up upon the wall, and I appointed two great choirs to give praise. And they went on the right hand upon the wall toward the dung gate.

Ascendere autem feci principes Iuda super murum et statui duos choros laudantium magnos et ierunt ad dexteram super murum ad portam Sterquilinii

12:32. And after them went Osaias, and half of the princes of Juda,
Et ivit post eos Osaias et media pars principum Iuda

12:33. And Azarias, Esdras, and Mosollam, Judas, and Benjamin, and Semeia, and Jeremias.
Et Azarias Ezras et Mosollam Iuda et Benjamin et Semeia et Hieremia

12:34. And of the sons of the priests with trumpets, Zacharias the son of Jonathan, the son of Semeia, the son of Mathania, the son of Michaia, the son of Zechur, the son of Asaph,
Et de filiis sacerdotum in tubis Zaccharias filius Ionathan filius Semeiae filius Mathaniae filius Michaiae filius Zecchur filius Asaph

12:35. And his brethren Semeia, and Azareel, Malalai, Galalai, Maai, Nathanael, and Judas, and Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God: and Esdras the scribe before them at the fountain gate.
Et fratres eius Semeia et Azarel Malalai Galalai Maai Nathanel et Iuda et Anani in vasis cantici David viri Dei et Ezras scriba ante eos in porta Fontis

12:36. And they went up over against them by the stairs of the city of David, at the going up of the wall of the house of David, and to the water gate eastward:
Et contra eos ascenderunt in gradibus civitatis David in ascensu muri super domum David et usque ad portam Aquarum ad orientem

12:37. And the second choir of them that gave thanks went on the opposite side, and I after them, and the half of the people upon the wall, and upon the tower of the furnaces, even to the broad wall,
Et chorus secundus gratias referentium ibat ex adverso et ego post eum et media pars populi super murum et super turrem Furnorum et usque ad murum latissimum

12:38. And above the gate of Ephraim, and above the old gate, and above the fish gate and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Emath, and even to the flock gate: and they stood still in the watch gate.
Et super portam Ephraim et super portam Antiquam et super portam Piscium et turrem Ananehel et turrem Ema et usque ad portam Gregis et steterunt in porta Custodiae

12:39. And the two choirs of them that gave praise stood still at the house of God, and I and the half of the magistrates with me.
Steteruntque duo chori laudantium in domo Dei et ego et dimidia pars magistratum mecum

12:40. And the priests, Eliachim, Maasia, Miamin, Michea, Elioenai, Zacharia, Hanania with trumpets, Et sacerdotes Eliachim Maasia Miniamin Michea Elioenai Zaccharia Anania in tubis

12:41. And Maasia, and Semeia, and Eleazar, and Azzi, and Johanan, and Melchia, and Elam, and Ezer. And the singers sung loud, and Jezraia was their overseer:
Et Maasia et Semea et Eleazar et Azi et Iohanan et Melchia et Elam et Ezer et clare cecinerunt cantores et Jezraia praepositus

12:42. And they sacrificed on that day great sacrifices, and they rejoiced: for God had made them joyful with great joy: their wives also and their children rejoiced, and the joy of Jerusalem was heard afar off.
Et immolaverunt in die illa victimas magnas et laetati sunt Deus enim laetificaverat eos laetitia magna sed et uxores eorum et liberi gavisi sunt et audita est laetitia Hierusalem procul

12:43. They appointed also in that day men over the storehouses of the treasure, for the libations, and for the firstfruits, and for the tithes, that the rulers of the city might bring them in by them in honour of thanksgiving, for the priests and Levites: for Juda was joyful in the priests and Levites that assisted.
Recensuerunt quoque in die illa viros super gazofilacia thesauri ad libamina et ad primitias et ad decimas ut introferrent per eos principes civitatis in decore gratiarum actionis sacerdotes et Levitas quia laetatus est Iuda in sacerdotibus et Levitis adstantibus

12:44. And they kept the watch of their God, and the observance of expiation, and the singing men, and the porters, according to the commandment of David, and of Solomon his son.
Et custodierunt observationem Dei sui et observationem expiationis et cantores et ianitores iuxta praeceptum David et Salomonis filii eius

12:45. For in the days of David and Asaph from the beginning there were chief singers appointed, to praise with canticles, and give thanks to God.

Quia in diebus David et Asaph ab exordio erant principes constituti cantorum in carmine laudantium et confitentium Deo

12:46. And all Israel, in the days of Zorobabel, and in the days of Nehemias gave portions to the singing men, and to the porters, day by day, and they sanctified the Levites, and the Levites sanctified the sons of Aaron.

Et omnis Israhel in diebus Zorobabel et in diebus Neemiae dabat partes cantoribus et ianitoribus per dies singulos et sanctificabant Levitas et Levitae sanctificabant filios Aaron

Sanctified... That is, they gave them that which by the law was set aside, and sanctified for their use.

Nehemias Chapter 13

Divers abuses are reformed.

13:1. And on that day they read in the book of Moses in the hearing of the people: and therein was found written, that the Ammonites and the Moabites should not come in to the church of God for ever:

In die autem illo lectum est in volumine Mosi audiente populo et inventum est scriptum in eo quod non debeat introire Ammanites et Moabites in ecclesiam Dei usque in aeternum

13:2. Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and water: and they hired against them Balaam, to curse them, and our God turned the curse into blessing.

Eo quod non occurrerint filiis Israhel cum pane et aqua et conduxerint adversum eum Balaam ad maledicendum ei et convertit Deus noster maledictionem in benedictionem

13:3. And it came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated every stranger from Israel.

Factum est autem cum audissent legem separaverunt omnem alienigenam ab Israhel

13:4. And over this thing was Eliasib the priest, who was set over the treasury of the house of our God, and was near akin to Tobias.

Et super hoc erat Eliasib sacerdos qui fuerat positus in gazofilacio domus Dei nostri et proximus Tobiae

Over this thing, etc... Or, he was faulty in this thing, or in this kind.

13:5. And he made him a great storeroom, where before him they laid up gifts, and frankincense, and vessels, and the tithes of the corn, of the wine, and of the oil, the portions of the Levites, and of the singing men, and of the porters, and the firstfruits of the priests.

Fecit ergo sibi gazofilacium grande et ibi erant ante eum reponentes munera et tus et vasa et decimam frumenti et vini et olei partes Levitarum et cantorum et ianitorum et primitias sacerdotales

13:6. But in all this time I was not in Jerusalem, because in the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon, I went to the king, and after certain days I asked the king:

In omnibus autem his non fui in Hierusalem quia in anno tricesimo secundo Artarxersis regis Babylonis veni ad regem et in fine dierum rogavi regem

13:7. And I came to Jerusalem, and I understood the evil that Eliasib had done for Tobias, to make him a storehouse in the courts of the house of God.

Et veni in Hierusalem et intellexi malum quod fecerat Eliasib Tobiae ut faceret ei thesaurum in vestibulis domus Dei

13:8. And it seemed to me exceeding evil. And I cast forth the vessels of the house of Tobias out of the storehouse.

Et malum mihi visum est valde et proieci vasa domus Tobiae foras de gazofilacio

13:9. And I commanded and they cleansed again the vessels of the house of God, the sacrifice, and the frankincense.

Praecipique et mundaverunt gazofilacia et rettuli ibi vasa domus Dei sacrificium et tus

13:10. And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given them: and that the Levites, and the singing men, and they that ministered were fled away every man to his own country:

Et cognovi quoniam partes Levitarum non fuissent datae et fugisset unusquisque in regionem suam de Levitis et de cantoribus et de his qui ministrabant

13:11. And I pleaded the matter against the magistrates, and said: Why have we forsaken the house of God? And I gathered them together, and I made them to stand in their places.

Et egi causam adversus magistratus et dixi quare dereliquimus domum Dei et congregavi eos et feci stare in stationibus suis

13:12. And all Juda brought the tithe of the corn, and the wine, and the oil into the storehouses.

Et omnis Iuda adportabat decimam frumenti et vini et olei in horrea

13:13. And we set over the storehouses Selemias the priest, and Sadoc the scribe, and of the Levites Phadaia, and next to them Hanan the son of Zachur, the son of Mathania: for they were approved as faithful, and to them were committed the portions of their brethren.

Et constituimus super horrea Selemiam sacerdotem et Sadoc scribam et Phadaiam de Levitis et iuxta eos Anan filium Zacchur filium Matthaniam quoniam fideles conprobati sunt et ipsis creditae sunt partes fratrum suorum

13:14. Remember me, O my God, for this thing, and wipe not out my kindnesses, which I have done relating to the house of my God and his ceremonies.

Memento mei Deus meus pro hoc et ne deleas miserationes meas quas feci in domo Dei mei et in caerimoniis eius

13:15. In those days I saw in Juda some treading the presses on the sabbath, and carrying sheaves, and lading asses with wine, and grapes, and figs, and all manner of burthens, and bringing them into Jerusalem on the sabbath day. And I charged them that they should sell on a day on which it was lawful to sell.

In diebus illis vidi in Iuda calcabant torcularia in sabbato portantes acervos et onerantes super asinos vinum et uvas et ficus et omne onus et inferentes Hierusalem in die sabbati et contestatus sum ut in die qua vendere liceret venderent

13:16. Some Tyrians also dwelt there, who brought fish, and all manner of wares: and they sold them on the sabbaths to the children of Juda in Jerusalem.

Et Tyrii habitaverunt in ea inferentes pisces et omnia venalia et vendebant in sabbatis filiis Iuda et in Hierusalem

13:17. And I rebuked the chief men of Juda, and said to them: What is this evil thing that you are doing, profaning the sabbath day:

Et obiurgavi optimates Iuda et dixi eis quae est res haec mala quam vos facitis et profanatis diem sabbati

13:18. Did not our fathers do these things, and our God brought all this evil upon us, and upon this city? And you bring more wrath upon Israel by violating the sabbath.

Numquid non haec fecerunt patres nostri et adduxit Deus noster super nos omne malum hoc et super civitatem hanc et vos additis iracundiam super Israhel violando sabbatum

13:19. And it came to pass, that when the gates of Jerusalem were at rest on the sabbath day, I spoke: and they shut the gates, and I commanded that they should not open them till after the sabbath: and I set some of my servants at the gates, that none should bring in burthens on the sabbath day.

Factum est itaque cum quievissent portae Hierusalem die sabbati dixi et cluserunt ianuas et praecepi ut non aperirent eas usque post sabbatum et de pueris meis constitui super portas ut nullus inferret onus in die sabbati

13:20. So the merchants, and they that sold all kinds of wares, stayed without Jerusalem, once or twice.

Et manserunt negotiatores et vendentes universa venalia foris Hierusalem semel et bis

13:21. And I charged them, and I said to them: Why stay you before the wall? if you do so another time, I will lay hands on you. And from that time they came no more on the sabbath.

Et contestatus sum eos et dixi eis quare manetis ex adverso muri si secundo hoc feceritis manum mittam in vos itaque ex tempore illo non venerunt in sabbato

13:22. I spoke also to the Levites that they should be purified, and should come to keep the gates, and to sanctify the sabbath day: for this also remember me, O my God, and spare me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

Dixi quoque Levitis ut mundarentur et venirent ad custodiendas portas et sanctificandum diem sabbati et pro hoc ergo memento mei Deus meus et parce mihi secundum multitudinem miserationum tuarum

13:23. In those days also I saw Jews that married wives, women of Azotus, and of Ammon, and of Moab.

Sed et in diebus illis vidi Iudaeos ducentes uxores azotias ammanitidas et moabitidas

13:24. And their children spoke half in the speech of Azotus, and could not speak the Jews' language, but they spoke according to the language of this and that people.

Et filii eorum ex media parte loquebantur azotice et nesciebant loqui iudaice et loquebantur iuxta linguam

populi et populi

13:25. And I chid them, and laid my curse upon them. And I beat some of them, and shaved off their hair, and made them swear by God that they would not give their daughters to their sons, nor take their daughters for their sons, nor for themselves, saying:

Et obiurgavi eos et maledixi et cecidi ex ipsis viros et decalvavi eos et adiuravi in Deo ut non darent filias suas filiis eorum et non acciperent de filiabus eorum filiis suis et sibimet ipsis dicens

13:26. Did not Solomon king of Israel sin in this kind of thing: and surely among many nations, there was not a king like him, and he was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel: and yet women of other countries brought even him to sin.

Numquid non in huiusmodi re peccavit Salomon rex Israhel et certe in gentibus multis non erat rex similis ei et dilectus Deo suo erat et posuit eum Deus regem super omnem Israhel et ipsum ergo ad peccatum duxerunt mulieres alienigenae

13:27. And shall we also be disobedient and do all this great evil to transgress against our God, and marry strange women:

Numquid et nos inoboedientes faciemus omne malum grande hoc ut praevaricemur in Deo nostro et ducamus uxores peregrinas

13:28. And one of the sons of Joiada the son of Eliasib the high priest, was son in law to Sanaballat the Horonite, and I drove him from me.

De filiis autem Ioiada filii Eliasib sacerdotis magni gener erat Sanaballat Horonitis quem fugavi a me

13:29. Remember them, O Lord my God, that defile the priesthood, and the law of priests and Levites.

Recordare Domine Deus meus adversum eos qui polluunt sacerdotium iusque sacerdotale et leviticum

13:30. So I separated from them all strangers, and I appointed the courses of the priests and the Levites, every man in his ministry:

Igitur mundavi eos ab omnibus alienigenis et constitui ordines sacerdotum et Levitarum unumquemque in ministerio suo

13:31. And for the offering of wood at times appointed, and for the firstfruits: remember me, O my God, unto good. Amen.

Et in oblatione lignorum in temporibus constitutis et in primitiis memento mei Deus meus in bonum

Numbers

This fourth Book of Moses is called NUMBERS, because it begins with the numbering of the people. The Hebrews, from its first words, call it VAIEDABBER. It contains the transactions of the Israelites from the second month of the second year after their going out of Egypt, until the beginning of the eleventh month of the fortieth year; that is, a history almost of thirty-nine years. (For more information, see the article PENTATEUCH in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Numbers Chapter 1. The children of Israel are numbered: the Levites are designed to serve the tabernacle.

Numbers Chapter 2. The order of the tribes in their camp.

Numbers Chapter 3. The Levites are numbered and their offices distinguished. They are taken in the place of the firstborn of the children of Israel.

Numbers Chapter 4. The age and time of the Levites' service: their offices and burdens.

Numbers Chapter 5. The unclean are removed out of the camp: confession of sins, and satisfaction: firstfruits and oblations belonging to the priests: trial of jealousy.

Numbers Chapter 6. The law of the Nazarites: the form of blessing the people.

Numbers Chapter 7. The offerings of the princes at the dedication of the tabernacle. God speaketh to Moses from the propitiatory.

Numbers Chapter 8. The seven lamps are placed on the golden candlestick, to shine towards the loaves of proposition: the ordination of the Levites: and to what age they shall serve in the tabernacle.

Numbers Chapter 9. The precept of the pasch is renewed: the unclean and travellers are to observe it the second month: the camp is guided by the pillar of the cloud.

Numbers Chapter 10. The silver trumpets and their use. They march from Sinai.

Numbers Chapter 11. The people murmur and are punished with fire. God appointeth seventy ancients for assistants to Moses. They prophesy. The people have their fill of flesh, but forthwith many die of the plague.

Numbers Chapter 12. Mary and Aaron murmur against Moses, whom God praiseth above other prophets. Mary being struck with leprosy, Aaron confesseth his fault. Moses prayeth for her, and after seven days' separation from the camp, she is restored.

Numbers Chapter 13. The twelve spies are sent to view the land. The relation they make of it.

Numbers Chapter 14. The people murmur. God threateneth to destroy them. He is appeased by Moses, yet so as to exclude the murmurers from entering the promised land. The authors of the sedition are struck dead. The rest going to fight against the will of God are beaten.

Numbers Chapter 15. Certain laws concerning sacrifices. Sabbath breaking is punished with death. The law of fringes on their garments.

Numbers Chapter 16. The schism of Core and his adherents: their punishment.

Numbers Chapter 17. The priesthood is confirmed to Aaron by the miracle of the blooming of his rod, which is kept for a monument in the tabernacle.

Numbers Chapter 18. The charge of the priests and of the Levites, and their portion.

Numbers Chapter 19. The law of the sacrifice of the red cow, and the water of expiation.

Numbers Chapter 20. The death of Mary the sister of Moses. The people murmur for want of water: God giveth it them from the rock. The death of Aaron.

Numbers Chapter 21. King Arad is overcome. The people murmur and are punished with fiery serpents: they are healed by the brazen serpent. They conquer the kings Sehon and Og.

Numbers Chapter 22. Balac, king of Moab, sendeth twice for Balaam to curse Israel. In his way Balaam is rebuked by an angel.

Numbers Chapter 23. Balaam, instead of cursing Israel, is obliged to bless them, and prophesy good things of them.

Numbers Chapter 24. Balaam still continues to prophesy good things in favour of Israel.

Numbers Chapter 25. The people fall into fornication and idolatry; for which twenty-four thousand are slain. The zeal of Phinees.

Numbers Chapter 26. The people are again numbered by their tribes and families.

Numbers Chapter 27. The law of inheritance. Josue is appointed to succeed Moses.

Numbers Chapter 28. Sacrifices are appointed as well for every day as for sabbaths, and other festivals.

Numbers Chapter 29. Sacrifices for the festivals of the seventh month.

Numbers Chapter 30. Of vows and oaths: and their obligation.

Numbers Chapter 31. The Madianites are slain for having drawn the people of Israel into sin. The dividing of the booty.

Numbers Chapter 32. The tribes of Ruben and Gad, and half of the tribe of Manasses, receive their inheritance on the east side of Jordan, upon conditions approved of by Moses.

Numbers Chapter 33. The mansions or journeys of the children of Israel towards the land of promise.

Numbers Chapter 34. The limits of Chanaan; with the names of the men that make the division of it.

Numbers Chapter 35. Cities are appointed for the Levites. Of which six are to be the cities of refuge.

Numbers Chapter 36. That the inheritances may not be alienated from one tribe to another, all are to marry within their own tribes.

1:43. Fifty-three thousand four hundred.

Quinquaginta tria milia quadringenti

1:44. These are they who were numbered by Moses and Aaron, and the twelve princes of Israel, every one by the houses of their kindreds.

Hii sunt quos numeraverunt Moses et Aaron et duodecim principes Israhel singulos per domos cognationum suarum

1:45. And the whole number of the children of Israel by their houses and families, from twenty years old and upward, that were able to go to war,

Fueruntque omnes filiorum Israhel per domos et familias suas a vicesimo anno et supra qui poterant ad bella procedere

1:46. Were six hundred and three thousand five hundred and fifty men.

Sescenta tria milia virorum quingenti quinquaginta

1:47. But the Levites in the tribes of their families were not numbered with them.

Levitae autem in tribu familiarum suarum non sunt numerati cum eis

1:48. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

1:49. Number not the tribe of Levi, neither shalt thou put down the sum of them with the children of Israel:

Tribum Levi noli numerare neque ponas summam eorum cum filiis Israhel

1:50. But appoint them over the tabernacle of the testimony, and all the vessels thereof, and whatsoever pertaineth to the ceremonies. They shall carry the tabernacle and all the furniture thereof: and they shall minister, and shall encamp round about the tabernacle.

Sed constitue eos super tabernaculum testimonii cuncta vasa eius et quicquid ad caerimonias pertinet ipsi portabunt tabernaculum et omnia utensilia eius et erunt in ministerio ac per gyrum tabernaculi metabuntur

1:51. When you are to go forward, the Levites shall take down the tabernacle: when you are to camp, they shall set it up. What stranger soever cometh to it, shall be slain.

Cum proficiscendum fuerit deponent Levitae tabernaculum cum castra metanda erigent quisquis externorum accesserit occidetur

1:52. And the children of Israel shall camp every man by his troops and bands and army.

Metabuntur autem castra filii Israhel unusquisque per turmas et cuneos atque exercitum suum

1:53. But the Levites shall pitch their tents round about the tabernacle, lest there come indignation upon the multitude of the children of Israel, and they shall keep watch, and guard the tabernacle of the testimony.

Porro Levitae per gyrum tabernaculi figent tentoria ne fiat indignatio super multitudinem filiorum Israhel et excubabunt in custodiis tabernaculi testimonii

1:54. And the children of Israel did according to all things which the Lord had commanded Moses.

Fecerunt ergo filii Israhel iuxta omnia quae praeceperat Dominus Mosi

2:25. On the north side camped the sons of Dan: whose prince was Ahiezar the son of Ammisaddai.

Ad aquilonis partem castrametati sunt filii Dan quorum princeps fuit Ahiezer filius Amisaddai

2:26. The whole army of his fighting men, that were numbered, were sixty-two thousand seven hundred.

Cunctus exercitus pugnatorum eius qui numerati sunt sexaginta duo milia septingenti

2:27. Beside him they of the tribe of Aser pitched their tents: whose prince was Phegiel the son of Ocran.

Iuxta eum fixere tentoria de tribu Aser quorum princeps fuit Phegiel filius Ocran

2:28. The whole army of his fighting men, that were numbered, were forty-one thousand five hundred.

Cunctus exercitus pugnatorum eius qui numerati sunt quadraginta milia et mille quingenti

2:29. Of the tribe of the sons of Nephtali the prince was Ahira the son of Enan.

De tribu filiorum Nephtalim princeps fuit Ahira filius Henan

2:30. The whole army of his fighting men, were fifty-three thousand four hundred.

Cunctus exercitus pugnatorum eius quinquaginta tria milia quadringenti

2:31. All that were numbered in the camp of Dan, were a hundred and fifty-seven thousand six hundred: and they shall march last.

Omnes qui numerati sunt in castris Dan fuerunt centum quinquaginta septem milia sescenti et novissimi proficiscentur

2:32. This is the number of the children of Israel, of their army divided according to the houses of their kindreds and their troops, six hundred and three thousand five hundred and fifty.

Hic numerus filiorum Israhel per domos cognationum suarum et turmas divisi exercitus sescenta tria milia quingenti quinquaginta

2:33. And the Levites were not numbered among the children of Israel: for so the Lord had commanded

Moses.

Levitae autem non sunt numerati inter filios Israhel sic enim praecepit Dominus Mosi

2:34. And the children of Israel did according to all things that the Lord had commanded. They camped by their troops, and marched by the families and houses of their fathers.

Feceruntque filii Israhel iuxta omnia quae mandaverat Dominus castrametati sunt per turmas suas et profecti per familias ac domos patrum suorum

Numbers Chapter 3

The Levites are numbered and their offices distinguished. They are taken in the place of the firstborn of the children of Israel.

3:1. These are the generations of Aaron and Moses in the day that the Lord spoke to Moses in mount Sinai.

Haec sunt generationes Aaron et Mosi in die qua locutus est Dominus ad Mosen in monte Sinai

3:2. And these the names of the sons of Aaron: his firstborn Nadab, then Abiu, and Eleazar, and Ithamar.
Et haec nomina filiorum Aaron primogenitus eius Nadab dein Abiu et Eleazar et Ithamar

3:3. These the names of the sons of Aaron the priests that were anointed, and whose hands were filled and consecrated, to do the functions of priesthood.

Haec nomina filiorum Aaron sacerdotum qui uncti sunt et quorum repletae et consecratae manus ut sacerdotio fungerentur

3:4. Now Nadab and Abiu died, without children, when they offered strange fire before the Lord, in the desert of Sinai: and Eleazar and Ithamar performed the priestly office in the presence of Aaron their father.
Mortui sunt Nadab et Abiu cum offerrent ignem alienum in conspectu Domini in deserto Sinai absque liberis functique sunt sacerdotio Eleazar et Ithamar coram Aaron patre suo

3:5. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

3:6. Bring the tribe of Levi, and make them stand in the sight of Aaron the priest to minister to him, and let them watch,

Adplica tribum Levi et fac stare in conspectu Aaron sacerdotis ut ministrent ei et excubent

3:7. And observe whatsoever appertaineth to the service of the multitude before the tabernacle of the testimony,

Et observent quicquid ad cultum pertinet multitudinis coram tabernaculo testimonii

3:8. And let them keep the vessels of the tabernacle, serving in the ministry thereof.

Et custodiant vasa tabernaculi servientes in ministerio eius

3:9. And thou shalt give the Levites for a gift,

Dabisque dono Levitas

3:10. To Aaron and to his sons, to whom they are delivered by the children of Israel. But thou shalt appoint Aaron and his sons over the service of priesthood. The stranger that approacheth to minister, shall be put to death.

Aaron et filiis eius quibus traditi sunt a filiis Israhel Aaron autem et filios eius constitues super cultum sacerdotii externus qui ad ministrandum accesserit morietur

3:11. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

3:12. I have taken the Levites from the children of Israel, for every firstborn that openeth the womb among the children of Israel, and the Levites shall be mine.

Ego tuli Levitas a filiis Israhel pro omni primogenito qui aperit vulvam in filiis Israhel eruntque Levitae mei

3:13. For every firstborn is mine: since I struck the firstborn in the land of Egypt: I have sanctified to myself whatsoever is firstborn in Israel both of man and beast, they are mine: I am the Lord.

Meum est enim omne primogenitum ex quo percussi primogenitos in terra Aegypti sanctificavi mihi quicquid

primum nascitur in Israhel ab homine usque ad pecus mei sunt ego Dominus

3:14. And the Lord spoke to Moses in the desert of Sinai, saying:

Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen in deserto Sinai dicens

3:15. Number the sons of Levi by the houses of their fathers and their families, every male from one month and upward.

Columnaeque atrii per circuitum cum basibus suis et paxilli cum funibus

3:38. Before the tabernacle of the covenant, that is to say on the east side shall Moses and Aaron camp, with their sons, having the custody of the sanctuary, in the midst of the children of Israel. What stranger soever cometh unto it, shall be put to death.

Castrametabuntur ante tabernaculum foederis id est ad orientalem plagam Moses et Aaron cum filiis suis habentes custodiam sanctuarii in medio filiorum Israhel quisquis alienus accesserit morietur

3:39. All the Levites, that I Moses and Aaron numbered according to the precept of the Lord, by their families, of the male kind from one month and upward, were twenty-two thousand.

Omnes Levitae quos numeraverunt Moses et Aaron iuxta praeceptum Domini per familias suas in genere masculino a mense uno et supra fuerunt viginti duo milia

3:40. And the Lord said to Moses: Number the firstborn of the male sex of the children of Israel, from one month and upward, and thou shalt take the sum of them.

Et ait Dominus ad Mosen numera primogenitos sexus masculini de filiis Israhel a mense uno et supra et habebis summam eorum

3:41. And thou shalt take the Levites to me for all the firstborn of the children of Israel, I am the Lord: and their cattle for all the firstborn of the cattle of the children of Israel:

Tollesque Levitas mihi pro omni primogenito filiorum Israhel ego sum Dominus et pecora eorum pro universis primogenitis pecoris filiorum Israhel

3:42. Moses reckoned up, as the Lord had commanded, the firstborn of the children of Israel:

Recensuit Moses sicut praeceperat Dominus primogenitos filiorum Israhel

3:43. And the males by their names, from one month and upward, were twenty-two thousand two hundred and seventy-three.

Et fuerunt masculi per nomina sua a mense uno et supra viginti duo milia ducenti septuaginta tres

3:44. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen

3:45. Take the Levites for the firstborn of the children of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites for their cattle, and the Levites shall be mine. I am the Lord.

Tolle Levitas pro primogenitis filiorum Israhel et pecora Levitarum pro pecoribus eorum eruntque Levitae mei ego sum Dominus

3:46. But for the price of the two hundred and seventy-three, of the firstborn of the children of Israel, that exceed the number of the Levites,

In pretio autem ducentorum septuaginta trium qui excedunt numerum Levitarum de primogenitis filiorum Israhel

3:47. Thou shalt take five sicles for every bead, according to the weight of the sanctuary. A sicle hath twenty obols.

Accipies quinque siclos per singula capita ad mensuram sanctuarii siclus habet obolos viginti

3:48. And thou shalt give the money to Aaron and his sons, the price of them that are above.

Dabisque pecuniam Aaron et filiis eius pretium eorum qui supra sunt

3:49. Moses therefore took the money of them that were above, and whom they had redeemed from the Levites,

Tulit igitur Moses pecuniam eorum qui fuerant amplius et quos redemerant a Levitis

3:50. For the firstborn of the children of Israel, one thousand three hundred and sixty-five sicles, according to the weight of the sanctuary,

Pro primogenitis filiorum Israhel mille trecentorum sexaginta quinque siclorum iuxta pondus sanctuarii

3:51. And gave it to Aaron and his sons according to the word that the Lord had commanded him.

Et dedit eam Aaroni et filiis eius iuxta verbum quod praeceperat sibi Dominus

Numbers Chapter 4

The age and time of the Levites' service: their offices and burdens.

---

4:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, and Aaron, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen et Aaron dicens

4:2. Take the sum of the sons of Caath from the midst of the Levites, by their houses and families.

4:3. From thirty years old and upward, to fifty years old, of all that go in to stand and to minister in the tabernacle of the covenant.

A tricesimo anno et supra usque ad quinquagesimum annum omnium qui ingrediuntur ut stent et ministrent in tabernaculo foederis

4:4. This is the service of the sons of Caath:

Hic est cultus filiorum Caath tabernaculum foederis et sanctum sanctorum

4:5. When the camp is; to set forward, Aaron and his sons shall go into the tabernacle of the covenant, and the holy of holies, and shall take down the veil that hangeth before the door, and shall wrap up the ark of the testimony in it,

Ingredientur Aaron et filii eius quando movenda sunt castra et deponent velum quod pendet ante fores involventque eo arcam testimonii

4:6. And shall cover it again with a cover of violet skins, and shall spread over it a cloth all of violet, and shall put in the bars.

Et operient rursum velamine ianthinarum pellium extendentque desuper pallium totum hyacinthinum et inducent vectes

4:7. They shall wrap up also the table of proposition in a cloth of violet, and shall put with it the censers and little mortars, the cups and bowls to pour out the libations: the loaves shall be always on it:

Mensam quoque propositionis involvent hyacinthino pallio et ponent cum ea turibula et mortariola cyatos et crateras ad liba fundenda panes semper in ea erunt

4:8. And they shall spread over it a cloth of scarlet, which again they shall cover with a covering of violet skins, and shall put in the bars.

Extendentque desuper pallium coccineum quod rursum operient velamento ianthinarum pellium et inducent vectes

4:9. They shall take also a cloth of violet wherewith they shall cover the candlestick with the lamps and tongs thereof and the snuffers and all the oil vessels, which are necessary for the dressing of the lamps:

Sument et pallium hyacinthinum quo operient candelabrum cum lucernis et forcipibus suis et emunctoriis et cunctis vasis olei quae ad concinnandas lucernas necessaria sunt

4:10. And over all they shall put a cover of violet skins and put in the bars.

Et super omnia ponent operimentum ianthinarum pellium et inducent vectes

4:11. And they shall wrap up the golden altar also in a cloth of violet, and shall spread over it a cover of violet skins, and put in the bars.

Nec non et altare aureum involvent hyacinthino vestimento et extendent desuper operimentum ianthinarum pellium inducentque vectes

4:12. All the vessels wherewith they minister in the sanctuary, they shall wrap up in a cloth of violet, and shall spread over it a cover of violet skins, and put in the bars.

Omnia vasa quibus ministratur in sanctuario involvent hyacinthino pallio et extendent desuper operimentum ianthinarum pellium inducentque vectes

4:13. They shall cleanse the altar also from the ashes, and shall wrap it up in a purple cloth,
Sed et altare mundabunt cinere et involvent illud purpureo vestimento

4:14. And shall put it with all the vessels that they use in the ministry thereof, that is to say, firepans, fleshhooks and forks, pothooks and shovels. They shall cover all the vessels of the altar together with a covering of violet skins, and shall put in the bars.

Ponentque cum eo omnia vasa quibus in ministerio eius utuntur id est ignium receptacula fuscinulas ac tridentes uncinos et vatilla cuncta vasa altaris operient simul velamine ianthinarum pellium et inducent vectes

4:15. And when Aaron and his sons have wrapped up the sanctuary and the vessels thereof at the removing of the camp, then shall the sons of Caath enter in to carry the things wrapped up: and they shall not touch the vessels of the sanctuary, lest they die. These are the burdens of the sons of Caath: in the tabernacle of the covenant:

Cumque involverint Aaron et filii eius sanctuarium et omnia vasa eius in commotione castrorum tunc intrabunt filii Caath ut portent involuta et non tangant vasa sanctuarii ne moriantur ista sunt onera filiorum Caath in tabernaculo foederis

4:16. And over them shall be Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, to whose charge pertaineth the oil to dress the lamps, and the sweet incense, and the sacrifice, that is always offered, and the oil of unction, and whatsoever pertaineth to the service of the tabernacle, and of all the vessels that are in the sanctuary. Super quos erit Eleazar filius Aaron sacerdotis ad cuius pertinet curam oleum ad concinnandas lucernas et compositionis incensum et sacrificium quod semper offertur et oleum unctionis et quicquid ad cultum tabernaculi pertinet omniumque vasorum quae in sanctuario sunt

4:17. And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying:
Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen et Aaron dicens

4:18. Destroy not the people of Caath from the midst of the Levites:
Nolite perdere populum Caath de medio Levitarum

4:19. But do this to them, that they may live, and not die, by touching the holies of holies. Aaron and his sons shall go in, and they shall appoint every man his work, and shall divide the burdens that every man is to carry.

Sed hoc facite eis ut vivant et non moriantur si tetigerint sancta sanctorum Aaron et filii eius intrabunt ipsique disponent opera singulorum et dividant quid portare quis debeat

4:20. Let not others by any curiosity see the things that are in the sanctuary before they be wrapped up, otherwise they shall die.

Alii nulla curiositate videant quae sunt in sanctuario priusquam involvantur alioquin morientur

4:21. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:
Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

4:22. Take the sum of the sons of Gerson also by their houses and families and kindreds.
Tolle summam etiam filiorum Gerson per domos ac familias et cognationes suas

4:23. From thirty years old and upward, unto fifty years old. Number them all that go in and minister in the tabernacle of the covenant.

A triginta annis et supra usque ad annos quinquaginta numera omnes qui ingrediuntur et ministrant in tabernaculo foederis

4:24. This is the office of the family of the Gersonites:
Hoc est officium familiae Gersonitarum

4:25. To carry the curtains of the tabernacle and the roof of the covenant, the other covering, and the violet covering over all, and the hanging that hangeth in the entry of the tabernacle of the covenant,
Ut portent cortinas tabernaculi et tectum foederis operimentum aliud et super omnia velamen ianthinum tentoriumque quod pendet in introitu foederis tabernaculi

4:26. The curtains of the court, and the veil in the entry that is before tabernacle. All things that pertain to the altar, the cords and the vessels of the ministry,

Cortinas atrii et velum in introitu quod est ante tabernaculum omnia quae ad altare pertinent funiculos et vasa ministerii

4:27. The sons of Gerson shall carry, by the commandment of Aaron and his sons: and each man shall know to what burden he must be assigned.

Iubente Aaron et filiis eius portabunt filii Gerson et scient singuli cui debeant oneri mancipari

4:28. This is the service of the family of the Gersonites in the tabernacle of the covenant, and they shall be under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

4:29. Thou shalt reckon up the sons of Merari also by the families and houses of their fathers,

Filios quoque Merari per familias et domos patrum suorum recensebis

4:30. From thirty years old and upward, unto fifty years old, all that go in to the office of their ministry, and to the service of the covenant of the testimony.

A triginta annis et supra usque ad annos quinquaginta omnes qui ingrediuntur ad officium ministerii sui et cultum foederis testimonii

4:31. These are their burdens: They shall carry the boards of the tabernacle and the bars thereof, the pillars and their sockets,

Haec sunt onera eorum portabunt tabulas tabernaculi et vectes eius columnas et bases earum

4:32. The pillars also of the court round about, with their sockets and pins and cords. They shall receive by account all the vessels and furniture, and so shall carry them.

Columnas quoque atrii per circuitum cum basibus et paxillis et funibus suis omnia vasa et suppellectilem ad numerum accipient sicque portabunt

4:33. This is the office of the family of the Merarites, and their ministry in the tabernacle of the covenant: and they shall be under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

Hoc est officium familiae Meraritarum et ministerium in tabernaculo foederis eruntque sub manu Ithamar filii Aaron sacerdotis

4:34. So Moses and Aaron and the princes of the synagogue reckoned up the sons of Caath, by their kindreds and the houses of their fathers,

Recensuerunt igitur Moses et Aaron et principes synagogae filios Caath per cognationes et domos patrum suorum

4:35. From thirty years old and upward, unto fifty years old, all that go in to the ministry of the tabernacle of the covenant:

A triginta annis et supra usque ad annum quinquagesimum omnes qui ingrediuntur ad ministerium tabernaculi foederis

4:36. And they were found two thousand seven hundred and fifty.

Et inventi sunt duo milia septingenti quinquaginta

4:37. This is the number of the people of Caath that go in to the tabernacle of the covenant: these did Moses and Aaron number according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

4:38. The sons of Gerson also were numbered by the kindreds and houses of their fathers,

Numerati sunt et filii Gerson per cognationes et domos patrum suorum

4:39. From thirty years old and upward, unto fifty years old, all that go in to minister in the tabernacle of the covenant:

A triginta annis et supra usque ad annum quinquagesimum omnes qui ingrediuntur ut ministrent in tabernaculo foederis

4:40. And they were found two thousand six hundred and thirty.

Et inventi sunt duo milia sescenti triginta

4:41. This is the people of the Gersonites, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to the word of the Lord.

4:42. The sons of Merari also were numbered by the kindreds and houses of their fathers,

Numerati sunt et filii Merari per cognationes et domos patrum suorum

4:43. From thirty years old and upward, unto fifty years old, all that go in to fulfil the rites of the tabernacle of the covenant:

A triginta annis et supra usque ad annum quinquagesimum omnes qui ingrediuntur ad explendos ritus tabernaculi foederis

4:44. And they were found three thousand two hundred.

Et inventi sunt tria milia ducenti

4:45. This is the number of the sons of Merari, whom Moses and Aaron reckoned up according to the commandment of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

4:46. All that were reckoned up of the Levites, and whom Moses and Aaron and the princes of Israel took by name, by the kindreds and houses of their fathers,

Omnes qui recensiti sunt de Levitis et quos fecit ad nomen Moses et Aaron et principes Israhel per cognationes et domos patrum suorum

4:47. From thirty years old and upward, until fifty years old, that go into the ministry of the tabernacle, and to carry the burdens,

A triginta annis et supra usque ad annum quinquagesimum ingredienti ad ministerium tabernaculi et onera portanda

4:48. Were in all eight thousand five hundred and eighty.

Fuerunt simul octo milia quingenti octoginta

4:49. Moses reckoned them up according to the word of the Lord, every one according to their office and burdens, as the Lord had commanded him.

Iuxta verbum Domini recensuit eos Moses unumquemque iuxta officium et onera sua sicut praeceperat ei Dominus

Numbers Chapter 5

The unclean are removed out of the camp: confession of sins, and satisfaction: firstfruits and oblations belonging to the priests: trial of jealousy.

5:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

5:2. Command the children of Israel, that they cast out of the camp every leper, and whosoever hath an issue of seed, or is defiled by the dead:

Praecepit filiis Israhel ut eiciant de castris omnem leprosum et qui semine fluit pollutusque est super mortuo

5:3. Whether it be man or woman, cast ye them out of the camp, lest they defile it when I shall dwell with you,

Tam masculum quam feminam eicite de castris ne contaminent ea cum habitaverim vobiscum

5:4. And the children of Israel did so, and they cast them forth without the camp, as the Lord had spoken to Moses.

Feceruntque ita filii Israhel et eiecerunt eos extra castra sicut locutus erat Dominus Mosi

5:5. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

5:6. Say to the children of Israel: When a man or woman shall have committed any of all the sins that men are wont to commit, and by negligence shall have transgressed the commandment of the Lord, and offended,

Loquere ad filios Israhel vir sive mulier cum fecerint ex omnibus peccatis quae solent hominibus accidere et per negligentiam transgressi fuerint mandatum Domini atque deliquerint

5:7. They shall confess their sin, and restore the principal itself, and the fifth part over and above, to him against whom they have sinned.

Confitebuntur peccatum suum et reddent ipsum caput quintamque partem desuper ei in quem peccaverint

Shall confess... This confession and satisfaction, ordained in the Old Law, was a figure of the sacrament of penance.

5:8. But if there be no one to receive it, they shall give it to the Lord, and it shall be the priest's, besides the ram that is offered for expiation, to be an atoning sacrifice.

Sin autem non fuerit qui recipiat dabunt Domino et erit sacerdotis excepto ariete qui offertur pro expiatione ut sit placabilis hostia

5:9. All the firstfruits also, which the children of Israel offer, belong to the priest:

Omnes quoque primitiae quas offerunt filii Israhel ad sacerdotem pertinent

5:10. And whatsoever is offered into the sanctuary by every one, and is delivered into the hands of the priest, it shall be his.

Et quicquid in sanctuarium offertur a singulis et traditur manibus sacerdotis ipsius erit

5:11. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

5:12. Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: The man whose wife shall have gone astray, and contemning her husband,

Loquere ad filios Israhel et dices ad eos vir cuius uxor erraverit maritumque contemnens

5:13. Shall have slept with another man, and her husband cannot discover it, but the adultery is secret, and cannot be proved by witnesses, because she was not found in the adultery:

Dormierit cum altero viro et hoc maritus deprehendere non quiverit sed latet adulterium et testibus argui non potest quia non est inventa in stupro

5:14. If the spirit of jealousy stir up the husband against his wife, who either is defiled, or is charged with false suspicion,

Si spiritus zelotypiae concitaverit virum contra uxorem suam quae vel polluta est vel falsa suspicione appetitur

The spirit of jealousy, etc... This ordinance was designed to clear the innocent, and to prevent jealous husbands from doing mischief to their wives: as likewise to give all a horror of adultery, by punishing it in so remarkable a manner.

5:15. He shall bring her to the priest, and shall offer an oblation for her, the tenth part of a measure of barley meal: he shall not pour oil thereon, nor put frankincense upon it: because it is a sacrifice of jealousy, and an oblation searching out adultery.

Adducet eam ad sacerdotem et offeret oblationem pro illa decimam partem sati farinae hordiaciae non fundet super eam oleum nec inponet tus quia sacrificium zelotypiae est et oblatio investigans adulterium

5:16. The priest therefore shall offer it, and set it before the Lord.

Offeret igitur eam sacerdos et statuet coram Domino

5:17. And he shall take holy water in an earthen vessel, and he shall cast a little earth of the pavement of the tabernacle into it.

Adsumetque aquam sanctam in vase fictili et pauxillum terrae de pavimento tabernaculi mittet in eam

5:18. And when the woman shall stand before the Lord, he shall uncover her head, and shall put on her hands the sacrifice of remembrance, and the oblation of jealousy: and he himself shall hold the most bitter waters, whereon he hath heaped curses with execration.

Cumque steterit mulier in conspectu Domini discoperiet caput eius et ponet super manus illius sacrificium recordationis et oblationem zelotypiae ipse autem tenebit aquas amarissimas in quibus cum execratione maledicta congegissit

5:19. And he shall adjure her, and shall say: If another man hath not slept with thee, and if thou be not defiled by forsaking thy husband's bed, these most bitter waters, on which I have heaped curses, shall not hurt thee.

Adiurabitque eam et dicet si non dormivit vir alienus tecum et si non polluta es deserto mariti toro non te nocebunt aquae istae amarissimae in quas maledicta congegissi

5:20. But if thou hast gone aside from thy husband, and art defiled, and hast lain with another man:

Sin autem declinasti a viro tuo atque polluta es et concubuisti cum altero

5:21. These curses shall light upon thee: The Lord make thee a curse, and an example for all among his people: may he make thy thigh to rot, and may thy belly swell and burst asunder.

His maledictionibus subiacebis det te Dominus in maledictionem exemplumque cunctorum in populo suo putrescere faciat femur tuum et tumens uterus dirumpatur

5:22. Let the cursed waters enter into thy belly, and may thy womb swell and thy thigh rot. And the woman shall answer, Amen, amen.

Ingrediantur aquae maledictae in ventrem tuum et utero tumescente putrescat femur et respondebit mulier amen amen

5:23. And the priest shall write these curses in a book, and shall wash them out with the most bitter waters, upon which he hath heaped the curses,

Scribetque sacerdos in libello ista maledicta et delebit ea aquis amarissimis in quas maledicta congegissit

5:24. And he shall give them her to drink. And when she hath drunk them up,

Et dabit ei bibere quas cum exhauserit

5:25. The priest shall take from her hand the sacrifice of jealousy, and shall elevate it before the Lord, and shall put it upon the altar: yet so as first,

Tollet sacerdos de manu eius sacrificium zelotypiae et elevabit illud coram Domino inponetque super altare ita dumtaxat ut prius

5:26. To take a handful of the sacrifice of that which is offered, and burn it upon the altar: and so give the most bitter waters to the woman to drink.

Pugillum sacrificii tollat de eo quod offertur et incendat super altare et sic potum det mulieri aquas amarissimas

5:27. And when she hath drunk them, if she be defiled, and having despised her husband be guilty of adultery, the malediction shall go through her, and her belly swelling, her thigh shall rot: and the woman shall be a curse, and an example to all the people.

Quas cum biberit si polluta est et contempto viro adulterii rea pertransibunt eam aquae maledictionis et inflato ventre conputrescet femur eritque mulier in maledictionem et in exemplum omni populo

5:28. But if she be not defiled, she shall not be hurt, and shall bear children.

Quod si polluta non fuerit erit innoxia et faciet liberos

5:29. This is the law of jealousy. If a woman hath gone aside from her husband, and be defiled,

Ista est lex zelotypiae si declinaverit mulier a viro suo et si polluta fuerit

5:30. And the husband stirred up by the spirit of jealousy bring her before the Lord, and the priest do to her according to all things that are here written:

Maritusque zelotypiae spiritu concitatus adduxerit eam in conspectu Domini et fecerit ei sacerdos iuxta omnia quae scripta sunt

5:31. The husband shall be blameless, and she shall bear her iniquity.

Maritus absque culpa erit et illa recipiet iniquitatem suam

Numbers Chapter 6

The law of the Nazarites: the form of blessing the people.

---

6:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

6:2. Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: When a man, or woman, shall make a vow to be sanctified, and will consecrate themselves to the Lord:

Loquere ad filios Israhel et dices ad eos vir sive mulier cum fecerit votum ut sanctificentur et se voluerint Domino consecrare

6:3. They shall abstain from wine, and from every thing that may make a man drunk. They shall not drink vinegar of wine, or of any other drink, nor any thing that is pressed out of the grape: nor shall they eat grapes either fresh or dried.

Vino et omni quod inebriare potest abstinebunt acetum ex vino et ex qualibet alia potione et quicquid de uva exprimitur non bibent uvas recentes siccisque non comedent

6:4. All the days that they are consecrated to the Lord by vow: they shall eat nothing that cometh of the vineyard, from the raisin even to the kernel.

Cunctis diebus quibus ex voto Domino consecrantur quicquid ex vinea esse potest ab uva passa usque ad acinum non comedent

6:5. All the time of his separation no razor shall pass over his head, until the day be fulfilled of his consecration to the Lord. He shall be holy, and shall let the hair of his head grow.

Omni tempore separationis suae novacula non transibit super caput eius usque ad completum diem quo Domino consecratur sanctus erit crescente caesarie capitis eius

6:6. All the time of his consecration he shall not go in to any dead,

Omni tempore consecrationis suae super mortuum non ingrediatur

6:7. Neither shall he make himself unclean, even for his father, or for his mother, or for his brother, or for his sister, when they die, because the consecration of his God is upon his head.

Nec super patris quidem et matris et fratris sororisque funere contaminabitur quia consecratio Dei sui super caput eius est

6:8. All the days of his separation he shall be holy to the Lord.

Omnes dies separationis suae sanctus erit Domino

6:9. But if any man die suddenly before him: the head of his consecration shall be defiled: and he shall shave it forthwith on the same day of his purification, and again on the seventh day.

Sin autem mortuus fuerit subito quispiam coram eo polluetur caput consecrationis eius quod radet ilico et in eadem die purgationis suae et rursus septima

6:10. And on the eighth day he shall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons to the priest in the entry of the covenant of the testimony.

In octavo autem die offeret duos turtures vel duos pullos columbae sacerdoti in introitu foederis testimonii

6:11. And the priest shall offer one for sin, and the other for a holocaust, and shall pray for him, for that he hath sinned by the dead: and he shall sanctify his head that day:

Facietque sacerdos unum pro peccato et alterum in holocaustum et deprecabitur pro eo quia peccavit super mortuo sanctificabitque caput eius in die illo

6:12. And shall consecrate to the Lord the days of his separation, offering a lamb of one year for sin: yet so that the former days be made void, because his sanctification was profaned.

Et consecrabit Domino dies separationis illius offerens agnum anniculum pro peccato ita tamen ut dies priores irriti fiant quoniam polluta est sanctificatio eius

6:13. This is the law of consecration. When the days which he had determined by vow shall be expired, he shall bring him to the door of the tabernacle of the covenant,
Ista est lex consecrationis cum dies quos ex voto decreverat complebuntur adducet eum ad ostium tabernaculi foederis

6:14. And shall offer his oblation to the Lord: one he lamb of a year old without blemish for a holocaust, and one ewe lamb of a year old without blemish for a sin offering, and one ram without blemish for a victim of peace offering,
Et offeret oblationem eius Domino agnum anniculum immaculatum in holocaustum et ovem anniculam immaculatam pro peccato et arietem immaculatum hostiam pacificam

6:15. A basket also of unleavened bread, tempered with oil, and wafers without leaven anointed with oil, and the libations of each:
Canistrum quoque panum azymorum qui conspersi sunt oleo et lagana absque fermento uncta oleo ac libamina singulorum

6:16. And the priest shall present them before the Lord, and shall offer both the sin offering and the holocaust.
Quae offeret sacerdos coram Domino et faciet tam pro peccato quam in holocaustum

6:17. But the ram he shall immolate for a sacrifice of peace offering to the Lord, offering at the same time the basket of unleavened bread, and the libations that are due by custom.
Arietem vero immolabit hostiam pacificam Domino offerens simul canistrum azymorum et libamenta quae ex more debentur

6:18. Then shall the hair of the consecration of the Nazarite, be shaved off before the door of the tabernacle of the covenant: and he shall take his hair, and lay it upon the fire, which is under the sacrifice of the peace offerings.
Tunc radetur nazareus ante ostium tabernaculi foederis caesarie consecrationis suae tolletque capillos eius et ponet super ignem qui est subpositus sacrificio pacificorum

6:19. And shall take the boiled shoulder of the ram, and one unleavened cake out of the basket, and one unleavened wafer, and he shall deliver them into the hands of the Nazarite, after his head is shaven.
Et armum coctum arietis tortamque absque fermento unam de canistro et laganum azymum unum et tradet in manibus nazarei postquam rasum fuerit caput eius

6:20. And receiving them again from him, he shall elevate them in the sight of the Lord: and they being sanctified shall belong to the priest, as the breast, which was commanded to be separated, and the shoulder. After this the Nazarite may drink wine.
Susceptaque rursum ab eo elevabit in conspectu Domini et sanctificata sacerdotis erunt sicut pectusculum quod separari iussum est et femur post haec potest bibere nazareus vinum

6:21. This is the law of the Nazarite, when he hath vowed his oblation to the Lord in the time of his consecration, besides those things which his hand shall find, according to that which he had vowed in his mind, so shall he do for the fulfilling of his sanctification.
Ista est lex nazarei cum voverit oblationem suam Domino tempore consecrationis suae exceptis his quae invenerit manus eius iuxta quod mente devoverat ita faciet ad perfectionem sanctificationis suae

6:22. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:
Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

6:23. Say to Aaron and his sons: Thus shall you bless the children of Israel, and you shall say to them:
Loquere Aaron et filiis eius sic benedicetis filiis Israhel et dicetis eis

6:24. The Lord bless thee, and keep thee.
Benedicat tibi Dominus et custodiat te

6:25. The Lord show his face to thee, and have mercy on thee.
Ostendat Dominus faciem suam tibi et misereatur tui

6:26. The Lord turn his countenance to thee, and give thee peace.
Convertat Dominus vultum suum ad te et det tibi pacem

6:27. And they shall invoke my name upon the children of Israel, and I will bless them.
Invocabunt nomen meum super filios Israhel et ego benedicam eis

Numbers Chapter 7

The offerings of the princes at the dedication of the tabernacle. God speaketh to Moses from the propitiatory.

---

7:1. And it came to pass in the day that Moses had finished the tabernacle, and set it up, and had anointed and sanctified it with all its vessels, the altar likewise and all the vessels thereof,

Factum est autem in die qua conplevit Moses tabernaculum et erexit illud unxitque et sanctificavit cum omnibus vasis suis altare similiter et vasa eius

7:2. The princes of Israel and the heads of the families, in every tribe, who were the rulers of them who had been numbered, offered

Obtulerunt principes Israhel et capita familiarum qui erant per singulas tribus praefecti eorum qui numerati fuerant

7:3. Their gifts before the Lord, six wagons covered, and twelve oxen. Two princes offered one wagon, and each one an ox, and they offered them before the tabernacle.

Munera coram Domino sex plaustra tecta cum duodecim bubus unum plaustrum obtulere duo duces et unum bovem singuli obtuleruntque ea in conspectu tabernaculi

7:4. And the Lord said to Moses:

Ait autem Dominus ad Mosen

7:5. Receive them from them to serve in the ministry of the tabernacle, and thou shalt deliver them to the Levites according to the order of their ministry.

Suscipe ab eis ut serviant in ministerio tabernaculi et tradas ea Levitis iuxta ordinem ministerii sui

7:6. Moses therefore receiving the wagons and the oxen, delivered them to the Levites.

Itaque cum suscepisset Moses plaustra et boves tradidit eos Levitis

7:7. Two wagons and four oxen he gave to the sons of Gerson, according to their necessity.

Duo plaustra et quattuor boves dedit filiis Gerson iuxta id quod habebant necessarium

7:8. The other four wagons, and eight oxen he gave to the sons of Merari, according to their offices and service, under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

Quattuor alia plaustra et octo boves dedit filiis Merari secundum officia et cultum suum sub manu Ithamar filii Aaron sacerdotis

7:9. But to the sons of Caath he gave no wagons or oxen: because they serve in the sanctuary and carry their burdens upon their own shoulders.

Filiis autem Caath non dedit plaustra et boves quia in sanctuario serviunt et onera propriis portant umeris

7:10. And the princes offered for the dedication of the altar on the day when it was anointed, their oblation before the altar.

Igitur obtulerunt duces in dedicationem altaris die qua unctum est oblationem suam ante altare

7:11. And the Lord said to Moses: Let each of the princes one day after another offer their gifts for the dedication of the altar.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen singuli duces per singulos dies offerant munera in dedicationem altaris

7:12. The first day Nahasson the son of Aminadab of the tribe of Juda offered his offering:

Primo die obtulit oblationem suam Naasson filius Aminadab de tribu Iuda

7:13. And his offering was a silver dish weighing one hundred and thirty sicles, a silver bowl of seventy sicles according to the weight of the sanctuary, both full of flour tempered with oil for a sacrifice:

Fueruntque in ea acetabulum argenteum pondo centum triginta siclorum fiala argentea habens septuaginta siclos iuxta pondus sanctuarii utrumque plenum simila conspersa oleo in sacrificium

7:14. A little mortar of ten sicles of gold full of incense:

Mortariolum ex decem siclis aureis plenum incenso

7:15. An ox of the herd, and a ram, and lamb of a year old for a holocaust:

Bovem et arietem et agnum anniculum in holocaustum

7:16. And a buck goat for sin:

Hircumque pro peccato

7:17. And for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of a year old. This was the offering of Nahasson the son of Aminadab.

Et in sacrificio pacificorum boves duos arietes quinque hircos quinque agnos anniculos quinque haec est oblatio Naasson filii Aminadab

Hircumque pro peccato

7:83. And for sacrifices of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five buck goats, five lambs of a year old. This was the offering of Ahira the son of Enan.

Et in hostias pacificorum boves duos arietes quinque hircos quinque agnos anniculos quinque haec fuit oblatio Achira filii Henan

7:84. These were the offerings made by the princes of Israel in the dedication of the altar, in the day wherein it was consecrated. Twelve dishes of silver: twelve silver bowls: twelve little mortars of gold: Haec in dedicatione altaris oblata sunt a principibus Israhel in die qua consecratum est acetabula argentea duodecim fialae argenteae duodecim mortariola aurea duodecim

7:85. Each dish weighing a hundred and thirty sicles of silver, and each bowl seventy sicles: that is, putting all the vessels of silver together, two thousand four hundred sicles, by the weight of the sanctuary. Ita ut centum triginta argenti siclos haberet unum acetabulum et septuaginta siclos una fiala id est in commune vasorum omnium ex argento sicli duo milia quodringenti pondere sanctuarii

7:86. Twelve little mortars of gold full of incense, weighing ten sicles apiece, by the weight of the sanctuary: that is, in all a hundred and twenty sicles of gold. Mortariola aurea duodecim plena incenso denos siclos adpendentia pondere sanctuarii id est simul auri sicli centum viginti

7:87. Twelve oxen out of the herd for a holocaust, twelve rams, twelve lambs of a year old, and their libations: twelve buck goats for sin. Boves de armento in holocaustum duodecim arietes duodecim agni anniculi duodecim et libamenta eorum hirci duodecim pro peccato

7:88. And for sacrifices of peace offerings, oxen twenty-four, rams sixty, buck goats sixty, lambs of a year old sixty. These things were offered in the dedication of the altar, when it was anointed. Hostiae pacificorum boves viginti quattuor arietes sexaginta hirci sexaginta agni anniculi sexaginta haec oblata sunt in dedicatione altaris quando unctum est

7:89. And when Moses entered into the tabernacle of the covenant, to consult the oracle, he heard the voice of one speaking to him from the propitiatory, that is over the ark between the two cherubims, and from this place he spoke to him. Cumque ingrederetur Moses tabernaculum foederis ut consuleret oraculum audiebat vocem loquentis ad se de propitiatorio quod erat super arcam testimonii inter duos cherubin unde et loquebatur ei

Numbers Chapter 8

The seven lamps are placed on the golden candlestick, to shine towards the loaves of proposition: the ordination of the Levites: and to what age they shall serve in the tabernacle.

---

8:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:
Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

8:2. Speak to Aaron, and thou shalt say to him: When thou shalt place the seven lamps, let the candlestick be set up on the south side. Give orders therefore that the lamps look over against the north, towards the table of the loaves of proposition, over against that part shall they give light, towards which the candlestick looketh.

Loquere Aaroni et dices ad eum cum posueris septem lucernas contra eam partem quam candelabrum respicit lucere debebunt

8:3. And Aaron did so, and he put the lamps upon the candlestick, as the Lord had commanded Moses.
Fecitque Aaron et inposuit lucernas super candelabrum ut praeceperat Dominus Mosi

8:4. Now this was the work of the candlestick, it was of beaten gold, both the shaft in the middle, and all that came out of both sides of the branches: according to the pattern which the Lord had shown to Moses, so he made the candlestick.

Haec autem erat factura candelabri ex auro ductili tam medius stipes quam cuncta ex utroque calamorum latera nascebantur iuxta exemplum quod ostendit Dominus Mosi ita operatus est candelabrum

8:5. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:
Et locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

8:6. Take the Levites out of the midst of the children of Israel, and thou shalt purify them,
Tolle Levitas de medio filiorum Israhel et purificabis eos

8:7. According to this rite: Let them be sprinkled with the water of purification, and let them shave all the hairs of their flesh. And when they shall have washed their garments, and are cleansed,
Iuxta hunc ritum aspergantur aqua lustrationis et radant omnes pilos carnis suae cumque laverint vestimenta sua et mundati fuerint

Let them be sprinkled with the water of purification... This was the holy water mixed with the ashes of the red cow, Numbers 19, appointed for purifying all that were unclean. It was a figure of the blood of Christ, applied to our souls by his holy sacraments.

8:8. They shall take an ox of the herd, and for the offering thereof fine flour tempered with oil: and thou shalt take another ox of the herd for a sin offering:

Tollant bovem de armentis et libamentum eius similam oleo conspersam bovem autem alterum de armento tu accipies pro peccato

8:9. And thou shalt bring the Levites before the tabernacle of the covenant, calling together all the multitude of the children of Israel:

Et adplicabis Levitas coram tabernaculo foederis convocata omni multitudine filiorum Israhel

8:10. And when the Levites are before the Lord, the children of Israel shall put their hands upon them:
Cumque Levitae fuerint coram Domino ponent filii Israhel manus suas super eos

8:11. And Aaron shall offer the Levites, as a gift in the sight of the Lord from the children of Israel, that they may serve in his ministry.

Et offeret Aaron Levitas munus in conspectu Domini a filiis Israhel ut serviant in ministerio eius

8:12. The Levites also shall put their hands upon the heads of the oxen, of which thou shalt sacrifice one for sin, and the other for a holocaust to the Lord, to pray for them.

Levitae quoque ponent manus suas super capita boum e quibus unum facies pro peccato et alterum in holocaustum Domini ut deprecetis pro eis

8:13. And thou shalt set the Levites in the sight of Aaron and of his, and shalt consecrate them being offered to the Lord,

Statuesque Levitas in conspectu Aaron et filiorum eius et consecrabis oblatos Domino

8:14. And shalt separate them from the midst of the children of Israel, to be mine.

Ac separabis de medio filiorum Israhel ut sint mei

8:15. And afterwards they shall enter into the tabernacle of the covenant, to serve me. And thus shalt thou purify and consecrate them for an oblation of the Lord: for as a gift they were given me by the children of Israel.

Et postea ingrediantur tabernaculum foederis ut serviant mihi sicque purificabis et consecrabis eos in oblationem Domini quoniam dono donati sunt mihi a filiis Israhel

8:16. I have taken them instead of the firstborn that open every womb in Israel,

Pro primogenitis quae aperiant omnem vulvam in Israhel accepi eos

8:17. For all the firstborn of the children of Israel, both of men and of beasts, are mine. From the day that I slew every firstborn in the land of Egypt, have I sanctified them to myself:

Mea sunt omnia primogenita filiorum Israhel tam ex hominibus quam ex iumentis ex die quo percussi omnem primogenitum in terra Aegypti sanctificavi eos mihi

8:18. And I have taken the Levites for all the firstborn of the children of Israel:

Et tuli Levitas pro cunctis primogenitis filiorum Israhel

8:19. And have delivered them for a gift to Aaron and his sons out of the midst of the people, to serve me for Israel in the tabernacle of the covenant, and to pray for them, lest there should be a plague among the people, if they should presume to approach unto my sanctuary.

Tradidique eos dono Aaroni et filiis eius de medio populi ut serviant mihi pro Israhel in tabernaculo foederis et orent pro eis ne sit in populo plaga si ausi fuerint accedere ad sanctuarium

8:20. And Moses and Aaron and all the multitude of the children of Israel did with the Levites all that the Lord had commanded Moses,

Feceruntque Moses et Aaron et omnis multitudo filiorum Israhel super Levitas quae praeceperat Dominus Mosi

8:21. And they were purified, and washed their garments. And Aaron lifted them up in the sight of the Lord, and prayed for them,

Purificatique sunt et laverunt vestimenta sua elevavitque eos Aaron in conspectu Domini et oravit pro eis

8:22. That being purified they might go into the tabernacle of the covenant to do their services before Aaron and his sons. As the Lord had commanded Moses touching the Levites, so was it done.

Ut purificati ingrederentur ad officia sua in tabernaculum foederis coram Aaron et filiis eius sicut praeceperat Dominus Mosi de Levitis ita factum est

8:23. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

8:24. This is the law of the Levites: From twenty-five years old and upwards, they shall go in to minister in the tabernacle of the covenant.

Haec est lex Levitarum a viginti quinque annis et supra ingredientur ut ministrent in tabernaculo foederis

8:25. And when they shall have accomplished the fiftieth year of their age, they shall cease to serve:

Cumque quinquagesimum annum aetatis impleverint servire cessabunt

8:26. And they shall be the ministers of their brethren in the tabernacle of the covenant, to keep the things that are committed to their care, but not to do the works. Thus shalt thou order the Levites touching their charge.

Erunoque ministri fratrum suorum in tabernaculo foederis ut custodiant quae sibi fuerint commendata opera autem ipsa non faciant sic dispones Levitas in custodiis suis

Numbers Chapter 9

The precept of the pasch is renewed: the unclean and travellers are to observe it the second month: the camp is guided by the pillar of the cloud.

9:1. The Lord spoke to Moses in the desert of Sinai, the second year after they were come out of the land of Egypt, in the first month, saying:

Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen in deserto Sinai anno secundo postquam egressi sunt de terra Aegypti mense primo dicens

9:2. Let the children of Israel make the phase in its due time,

Faciant filii Israhel phase in tempore suo

Make the phase... That is, keep the paschal solemnity, and eat the paschal lamb.

9:3. The fourteenth day of this month in the evening, according to all the ceremonies and justifications thereof.

Quartadecima die mensis huius ad vesperam iuxta omnes caerimonias et iustificationes eius

9:4. And Moses commanded the children of Israel that they should make the phase.

Praecipitque Moses filiis Israhel ut facerent phase

9:5. And they made it in its proper time: the fourteenth day of the month at evening, in mount Sinai. The children of Israel did according to all things that the Lord had commanded Moses.

Qui fecerunt tempore suo quartadecima die mensis ad vesperam in monte Sinai iuxta omnia quae mandaverat Dominus Mosi fecerunt filii Israhel

9:6. But behold some who were unclean by occasion of the soul of a man, who could not make the phase on that day, coming to Moses and Aaron,

Ecce autem quidam inmundi super animam hominis qui non poterant facere pascha in die illo accedentes ad Mosen et Aaron

Behold some who were unclean by occasion of the soul of a man, etc... That is, by having touched or come near a dead body, out of which the soul was departed.

9:7. Said to them: We are unclean by occasion of the soul of a man. Why are we kept back that we may not offer in its season the offering to the Lord among the children of Israel?

Dixerunt eis inmundi sumus super animam hominis quare fraudamur ut non valeamus offerre oblationem Domino in tempore suo inter filios Israhel

9:8. And Moses answered them: Stay that I may consult the Lord what he will ordain concerning you.

Quibus respondit Moses state ut consulam quid praecipiat Dominus de vobis

9:9. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

9:10. Say to the children of Israel: The man that shall be unclean by occasion of one that is dead, or shall be in a journey afar off in your nation, let him make the phase to the Lord.

Loquere filiis Israhel homo qui fuerit inmundus super anima sive in via procul in gente vestra faciat phase Domino

9:11. In the second month, on the fourteenth day of the month in the evening, they shall eat it with unleavened bread and wild lettuce:

Mense secundo quartadecima die mensis ad vesperam cum azymis et lactucis agrestibus comedent illud

9:12. They shall not leave any thing thereof until morning, nor break a bone thereof, they shall observe all the ceremonies of the phase.

Non relinquunt ex eo quippiam usque mane et os eius non confringent omnem ritum phase observabunt

9:13. But if any man is clean, and was not on a journey, and did not make the phase, that soul shall be cut off from among his people, because he offered not sacrifice to the Lord in due season: he shall bear his sin.

Si quis autem et mundus est et in itinere non fuit et tamen non fecit phase exterminabitur anima illa de populis suis quia sacrificium Domino non obtulit tempore suo peccatum suum ipse portabit

9:14. The sojourner also and the stranger if they be among you, shall make the phase to the Lord according to the ceremonies and justifications thereof. The same ordinances shall be with you both for the stranger, and for him that was born in the land.

Peregrinus quoque et advena si fuerit apud vos faciet phase Domini iuxta caerimonias et iustificationes eius praeceptum idem erit apud vos tam advenae quam indigenae

9:15. Now on the day that the tabernacle was reared up, a cloud covered it. But from the evening there was over the tabernacle, as it were, the appearance of fire until the morning.

Igitur die qua erectum est tabernaculum operuit illud nubes a vespere autem super tentorium erat quasi species ignis usque mane

9:16. So it was always: by day the cloud covered it, and by night as it were the appearance of fire.

Sic fiebat iugiter per diem operiebat illud nubes et per noctem quasi species ignis

9:17. And when the cloud that covered the tabernacle was taken up, then the children of Israel marched forward: and in the place where the cloud stood still, there they camped.

Cumque ablata fuisset nubes quae tabernaculum protegebat tunc proficiscebantur filii Israhel et in loco ubi stetisset nubes ibi castrametabantur

9:18. At the commandment of the Lord they marched, and at his commandment they pitched the tabernacle. All the days that the cloud abode over the tabernacle, they remained in the same place:

Ad imperium Domini proficiscebantur et ad imperium illius figebant tabernaculum cunctis diebus quibus stabat nubes super tabernaculum manebant in eodem loco

9:19. And if it was so that it continued over it a long time, the children of Israel kept the watches of the Lord, and marched not,

Et si evenisset ut multo tempore maneret super illud erant filii Israhel in excubiis Domini et non proficiscebantur

9:20. For as many days soever as the cloud stayed over the tabernacle. At the commandment of the Lord they pitched their tents, and at his commandment they took them down.

Quotquot diebus fuisset nubes super tabernaculum ad imperium Domini erigebant tentoria et ad imperium illius deponebant

9:21. If the cloud tarried from evening until morning, and immediately at break of day left the tabernacle, they marched forward: and if it departed after a day and a night, they took down their tents.

Si fuisset nubes a vespere usque mane et statim diluculo tabernaculum reliquisset proficiscebantur et si post diem et noctem recessisset dissipabant tentoria

9:22. But if it remained over the tabernacle for two days or a month or a longer time, the children of Israel remained in the same place, and marched not: but immediately as soon as it departed, they removed the camp.

Si biduo aut uno mense vel longiori tempore fuisset super tabernaculum manebant filii Israhel in eodem loco et non proficiscebantur statim autem ut recessisset movebant castra

9:23. By the word of the Lord they pitched their tents, and by his word they marched: and kept the watches of the Lord according to his commandment by the hand of Moses.

Per verbum Domini figebant tentoria et per verbum illius proficiscebantur erantque in excubiis Domini iuxta imperium eius per manum Mosi

Numbers Chapter 10

The silver trumpets and their use. They march from Sinai.

---

10:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

10:2. Make thee two trumpets of beaten silver, wherewith thou mayest call together the multitude when the camp is to be removed.

Fac tibi duas tubas argenteas ductiles quibus convocare possis multitudinem quando movenda sunt castra

10:3. And when thou shalt sound the trumpets, all the multitude shall gather unto thee to the door of the tabernacle of the covenant.

Cumque increpueris tubis congregabitur ad te omnis turba ad ostium foederis tabernaculi

10:4. If thou sound but once, the princes and the heads of the multitude of Israel shall come to thee.

Si semel clangueris venient ad te principes et capita multitudinis Israhel

10:5. But if the sound of the trumpets be longer, and with interruptions, they that are on the east side, shall first go forward.

Sin autem prolixior atque concisus clangor increpuerit movebunt castra primi qui sunt ad orientalem plagam

10:6. And at the second sounding and like noise of the trumpet, they who lie on the south side shall take up their tents. And after this manner shall the rest do, when the trumpets shall sound for a march.

In secundo autem sonitu et pari ululatu tubae levabunt tentoria qui habitant ad meridiem et iuxta hunc modum reliqui facient ululantibus tubis in profectioe

10:7. But when the people is to be gathered together, the sound of the trumpets shall be plain, and they shall not make a broken sound.

Quando autem congregandus est populus simplex tubarum clangor erit et non concise ululabunt

10:8. And the sons of Aaron the priest shall sound the trumpets: and this shall be an ordinance for ever in your generations.

Filii Aaron sacerdotes clangent tubis eritque hoc legitimum sempiternum in generationibus vestris

10:9. If you go forth to war out of your land against the enemies that fight against you, you shall sound aloud with the trumpets, and there shall be a remembrance of you before the Lord your God, that you may be delivered out of the hands of your enemies.

Si exieritis ad bellum de terra vestra contra hostes qui dimicant adversum vos clangentis ululantibus tubis et erit recordatio vestri coram Domino Deo vestro ut eruamini de manibus inimicorum vestrorum

10:10. If at any time you shall have a banquet, and on your festival days, and on the first days of your months, you shall sound the trumpets over the holocausts, and the sacrifices of peace offerings, that they may be to you for a remembrance of your God. I am the Lord your God.

Si quando habebitis epulum et dies festos et kalendas canetis tubis super holocaustis et pacificis victimis ut sint vobis in recordationem Dei vestri ego Dominus Deus vester

10:11. The second year, in the second month, the twentieth day of the month, the cloud was taken up from the tabernacle of the covenant.

Anno secundo mense secundo vicesima die mensis elevata est nubes de tabernaculo foederis

10:12. And the children of Israel marched by their troops from the desert of Sinai, and the cloud rested in the wilderness of Pharan.

Profectique sunt filii Israhel per turmas suas de deserto Sinai et recubuit nubes in solitudine Pharan

10:13. And the first went forward according to the commandment of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

Moveruntque castra primi iuxta imperium Domini in manu Mosi

10:14. The sons of Juda by their troops: whose prince was Nahasson the son of Aminadab.
Filii Iuda per turmas suas quorum princeps erat Naasson filius Aminadab

10:15. In the tribe of the sons of Issachar, the prince was Nathanael the son of Suar.
In tribu filiorum Issachar fuit princeps Nathanahel filius Suar

10:16. In the tribe of Zabulon, the prince was Eliab the son of Helon.
In tribu Zabulon erat princeps Heliab filius Helon

10:17. And the tabernacle was taken down, and the sons of Gerson and Merari set forward, bearing it.
Depositumque est tabernaculum quod portantes egressi sunt filii Gerson et Merari

10:18. And the sons of Ruben also marched, by their troops and ranks, whose prince was Helisur the son of Sedeur.
Profectique sunt et filii Ruben per turmas et ordinem suum quorum princeps erat Helisur filius Sedeur

10:19. And in the tribe of Simeon, the prince was Salamiel the son of Surisaddai.
In tribu autem filiorum Symeon princeps fuit Salamihel filius Surisaddai

10:20. And in the tribe of Gad, the prince was Eliasaph the son of Duel.
Porro in tribu Gad erat princeps Heliasaph filius Duhel

10:21. Then the Caathites also marched carrying the sanctuary. So long was the tabernacle carried, till they came to the place of setting it up.
Profectique sunt et Caathitae portantes sanctuarium tamdiu tabernaculum portabatur donec venirent ad erectionis locum

10:22. The sons of Ephraim also moved their camp by their troops, in whose army the prince was Elisama the son of Ammiud.
Moverunt castra et filii Ephraim per turmas suas in quorum exercitu princeps erat Helisama filius Ammiud

10:23. And in the tribe of the sons of Manasses, the prince was Gamaliel the son of Phadassur.
In tribu autem filiorum Manasse princeps fuit Gamalihel filius Phadassur

10:24. And in the tribe of Benjamin, the prince was Abidan the son of Gedeon.
Et in tribu Benjamin dux Abidan filius Gedeonis

10:25. The last of all the camp marched the sons of Dan by their troops, in whose army the prince was Ahiezer the son of Ammisaddai.
Novissimi castrorum omnium profecti sunt filii Dan per turmas suas in quorum exercitu princeps fuit Ahiezer filius Amisaddai

10:26. And in the tribe of the sons of Aser, the prince was Phegiel the son of Ochran.
In tribu autem filiorum Aser erat princeps Phagaihel filius Ochran

10:27. And in the tribe of the sons of Nephtali, the prince was Ahira the son of Enan.
Et in tribu filiorum Nephtalim princeps Achira filius Henan

10:28. This was the order of the camps, and marches of the children of Israel by their troops, when they set forward.
Haec sunt castra et profectiones filiorum Israhel per turmas suas quando egrediebantur

10:29. And Moses said to Hobab the son of Raguel the Madianite, his kinsman: We are going towards the place which the Lord will give us: come with us, that we may do thee good: for the Lord hath promised good things to Israel.
Dixitque Moses Hobab filio Rahuhel Madianiti cognato suo proficiscimur ad locum quem Dominus daturus est nobis veni nobiscum ut beneficiamus tibi quia Dominus bona promisit Israheli

10:30. But he answered him: I will not go with thee, but I will return to my country, wherein I was born.
Cui ille respondit non vadam tecum sed revertar in terram meam in qua natus sum

10:31. And he said: Do not leave us: for thou knowest in what places we should encamp in the wilderness, and thou shalt be our guide.

Et ille noli inquit nos relinquere tu enim nosti in quibus locis per desertum castra ponere debeamus et eris ductor noster

10:32. And if thou comest with us, we will give thee what is the best of the riches which the Lord shall deliver to us.

Cumque nobiscum veneris quicquid optimum fuerit ex opibus quas nobis traditurus est Dominus dabimus tibi

10:33. So they marched from the mount of the Lord three days' journey, and the ark of the covenant of the Lord went before them, for three days providing a place for the camp.

Profecti sunt ergo de monte Domini via trium dierum arcaque foederis Domini praecedebat eos per dies tres providens castrorum locum

10:34. The cloud also of the Lord was over them by day when they marched.

Nubes quoque Domini super eos erat per diem cum incederent

10:35. And when the ark was lifted up, Moses said: Arise, O Lord, and let thy enemies be scattered, and let them that hate thee, flee from before thy face.

Cumque elevaretur arca dicebat Moses surge Domine et dissipentur inimici tui et fugiant qui oderunt te a facie tua

10:36. And when it was set down, he said: Return, O Lord, to the multitude of the host of Israel.

Cum autem deponeretur aiebat revertere Domine ad multitudinem exercitus Israhel

Numbers Chapter 11

The people murmur and are punished with fire. God appointeth seventy ancients for assistants to Moses. They prophesy. The people have their fill of flesh, but forthwith many die of the plague.

---

11:1. In the mean time there arose a murmuring of the people against the Lord, as it were repining at their fatigue. And when the Lord heard it he was angry. And the fire of the Lord being kindled against them, devoured them that were at the uttermost part of the camp.

Interea ortum est murmur populi quasi dolentium pro labore contra Dominum quod cum audisset iratus est et accensus in eos ignis Domini devoravit extremam castrorum partem

11:2. And when the people cried to Moses, Moses prayed to the Lord, and the fire was swallowed up. Cumque clamasset populus ad Mosen oravit Moses Dominum et absortus est ignis

11:3. And he called the name of that place, The burning: for that the fire of the Lord had been kindled against them.

Vocavitque nomen loci illius Incensio eo quod succensus fuisset contra eos ignis Domini

The burning... Hebrew, Taberah.

11:4. For a mixt multitude of people, that came up with them, burned with desire, sitting and weeping, the children of Israel also being joined with them, and said: Who shall give us flesh to eat?

Vulgus quippe promiscuum quod ascenderat cum eis flagravit desiderio sedens et flens iunctis sibi pariter filiis Israhel et ait quis dabit nobis ad vescendum carnes

A mixt multitude... These were people that came with them out of Egypt, who were not of the race of Israel; who, by their murmuring, drew also the children of Israel to murmur: this should teach us the danger of associating ourselves with the children of Egypt, that is, with the lovers and admirers of this wicked world.

11:5. We remember the fish that we ate in Egypt free cost: the cucumbers come into our mind, and the melons, and the leeks, and the onions, and the garlic.

Recordamur piscium quos comedebamus in Aegypto gratis in mentem nobis veniunt cucumeres et pepones porrique et cepae et alia

11:6. Our soul is dry, our eyes behold nothing else but manna.

Anima nostra arida est nihil aliud respiciunt oculi nostri nisi man

11:7. Now the manna was like coriander seed, of the colour of bdellium.

Erat autem man quasi semen coriandri coloris bdellii

Bdellium... Bdellium, according to Pliny, 1.21, c. 9. was of the colour of a man's nail, white and bright.

11:8. And the people went about, and gathering it, ground it in a mill, or beat it in a mortar, and boiled it in a pot, and made cakes thereof of the taste of bread tempered with oil.

Circuibatque populus et colligens illud frangebatur mola sive terebatur in mortario coquens in olla et faciens ex eo tortulas saporis quasi panis oleati

11:9. And when the dew fell in the night upon the camp, the manna also fell with it.

Cumque descenderet nocte super castra ros descendebatur pariter et man

11:10. Now Moses heard the people weeping by their families, every one at the door of his tent. And the wrath of the Lord was exceedingly enkindled: to Moses also the thing seemed insupportable.

Audivit ergo Moses flentem populum per familias singulos per ostia tentorii sui iratusque est furor Domini valde sed et Mosi intoleranda res visa est

11:11. And he said to the Lord: Why hast thou afflicted thy servant? Wherefore do I not find favour before thee? And why hast thou laid the weight of all this people upon me?

Et ait ad Dominum cur adflixisti servum tuum quare non invenio gratiam coram te et cur inposuisti pondus universi populi huius super me

11:12. Have I conceived all this multitude, or begotten them, that thou shouldst say to me: Carry them in thy bosom as the nurse is wont to carry the little infant, and bear them into the land, for which thou hast sworn to their fathers?

Numquid ego concepi omnem hanc multitudinem vel genui eam ut dicas mihi porta eos in sinu tuo sicut portare solet nutrix infantulum et defer in terram pro qua iurasti patribus eorum

11:13. Whence should I have flesh to give to so great a multitude? They weep against me, saying: Give us flesh that we may eat.

Unde mihi carnes ut dem tantae multitudini flent contra me dicentes da nobis carnes ut comedamus

11:14. I am not able alone to bear all this people, because it is too heavy for me.

Non possum solus sustinere omnem hunc populum quia gravis mihi est

11:15. But if it seem unto thee otherwise, I beseech thee to kill me, and let me find grace in thy eyes, that I be not afflicted with so great evils.

Sin aliter tibi videtur obsecro ut interficias me et inveniam gratiam in oculis tuis ne tantis adficiar malis

11:16. And the Lord said to Moses: Gather unto me seventy men of the ancients of Israel, whom thou knowest to be ancients and masters of the people: and thou shalt bring them to the door of the tabernacle of the covenant, and shalt make them stand there with thee,

Et dixit Dominus ad Mosen congrega mihi septuaginta viros de senibus Israhel quos tu nosti quod senes populi sint ac magistri et duces eos ad ostium tabernaculi foederis faciesque ibi stare tecum

Seventy men... This was the first institution of the council or senate, called the Sanhedrin, consisting of seventy or seventy-two senators or counsellors.

11:17. That I may come down and speak with thee: and I will take of thy spirit, and will give to them, that they may bear with thee the burden of the people, and thou mayest not be burthened alone.

Ut descendam et loquar tibi et auferam de spiritu tuo tradamque eis ut sustentent tecum onus populi et non tu solus graveris

11:18. And thou shalt say to the people: Be ye sanctified: to morrow you shall eat flesh: for I have heard you say: Who will give us flesh to eat? It was well with us in Egypt. That the Lord may give you flesh, and you may eat:

Populo quoque dices sanctificamini cras comedetis carnes ego enim audivi vos dicere quis dabit nobis escas carnum bene nobis erat in Aegypto ut det vobis Dominus carnes et comedatis

11:19. Not for one day, nor two, nor five, nor ten, nor for twenty.

Non uno die nec duobus vel quinque aut decem nec viginti quidem

11:20. But even for a month of days, till it come out at your nostrils, and become loathsome to you, because you have cast off the Lord, who is in the midst of you, and have wept before him, saying: Why came we out of Egypt?

Sed usque ad mensem dierum donec exeat per nares vestras et vertatur in nausiam eo quod reppuleritis Dominum qui in medio vestri est et fleveritis coram eo dicentes quare egressi sumus ex Aegypto

11:21. And Moses said: There are six hundred thousand footmen of this people, and sayest thou: I will give them flesh to eat a whole month?

Et ait Moses sescenta milia peditum huius populi sunt et tu dicis dabo eis esum carnum mense integro

11:22. Shall then a multitude of sheep and oxen be killed, that it may suffice for their food? or shall the fishes of the sea be gathered together to fill them?

Numquid ovium et boum multitudo caedetur ut possit sufficere ad cibum vel omnes pisces maris in unum congregabuntur ut eos satient

11:23. And the Lord answered him: Is the hand of the Lord unable? Thou shalt presently see whether my word shall come to pass or no.

Cui respondit Dominus numquid manus Domini invalida est iam nunc videbis utrum meus sermo opere compleatur

11:24. Moses therefore came, and told the people the words of the Lord, and assembled seventy men of the ancients of Israel, and made them to stand about the tabernacle.

Venit igitur Moses et narravit populo verba Domini congregans septuaginta viros de senibus Israhel quos stare fecit circa tabernaculum

11:25. And the Lord came down in a cloud, and spoke to him, taking away of the spirit that was in Moses, and giving to the seventy men. And when the spirit had rested on them they prophesied, nor did they cease afterwards.

Descenditque Dominus per nubem et locutus est ad eum auferens de spiritu qui erat in Mosen et dans septuaginta viris cumque requievisset in eis spiritus prophetaverunt nec ultra cessarunt

11:26. Now there remained in the camp two of the men, of whom one was called Eldad, and the other Medad, upon whom the spirit rested; for they also had been enrolled, but were not gone forth to the tabernacle.

Remanserant autem in castris duo viri quorum unus vocabatur Heldad et alter Medad super quos requievit spiritus nam et ipsi descripti fuerant et non exierant ad tabernaculum

11:27. And when they prophesied in the camp, there ran a young man, and told Moses, saying: Eldad and Medad prophesy in the camp.

Cumque prophetarent in castris cucurrit puer et nuntiavit Mosi dicens Heldad et Medad prophetant in castris

11:28. Forthwith Josue the son of Nun, the minister of Moses, and chosen out of many, said: My lord Moses forbid them.

Statim Josue filius Nun minister Mosi et electus e pluribus ait domine mi Moses prohibe eos

11:29. But he said: Why hast thou emulation for me? O that all the people might prophesy, and that the Lord would give them his spirit!

At ille quid inquit aemularis pro me quis tribuat ut omnis populus prophetet et det eis Dominus spiritum suum

11:30. And Moses returned, with the ancients of Israel, into the camp.

Reversusque est Moses et maiores natu Israhel in castra

11:31. And a wind going out from the Lord, taking quails up beyond the sea brought them, and cast them into the camp for the space of one day's journey, on every side of the camp round about, and they flew in the air two cubits high above the ground.

Ventus autem egrediens a Domino arreptas trans mare coturnices detulit et dimisit in castra itinere quantum uno die confici potest ex omni parte castrorum per circuitum volabantque in aere duobus cubitis altitudine super terram

11:32. The people therefore rising up all that day, and night, and the next day, gathered together of quails, he that did least, ten cores: and they dried them round about the camp.

Surgens ergo populus toto die illo et nocte ac die altero congregavit coturnicum qui parum decem choros et siccaverunt eas per gyrum castrorum

11:33. As yet the flesh was between their teeth, neither had that kind of meat failed: when behold the wrath of the Lord being provoked against the people, struck them with an exceeding great plague.

Adhuc carnes erant in dentibus eorum nec defecerat huiuscemodi cibus et ecce furor Domini concitatus in populum percussit eum plaga magna nimis

11:34. And that place was called, The graves of lust: for there they buried the people that had lusted. And departing from the graves of lust, they came unto Hase-roth, and abode there.

Vocatusque est ille locus sepulchra Concupiscentiae ibi enim sepelierunt populum qui desideraverat egressi autem de sepulchris Concupiscentiae venerunt in Aseroth et manserunt ibi

The graves of lust... Or, the sepulchres of concupiscence: so called from their irregular desire of flesh. In Hebrew, Kibroth. Hattaavah.

Numbers Chapter 12

Mary and Aaron murmur against Moses, whom God praiseth above other prophets. Mary being struck with leprosy, Aaron confesseth his fault. Moses prayeth for her, and after seven days' separation from the camp, she is restored.

---

12:1. And Mary and Aaron spoke against Moses, because of his wife the Ethiopian,

Locutaque est Maria et Aaron contra Mosen propter uxorem eius aethiopissam

Ethiopian... Sephora the wife of Moses was of Madian, which bordered upon the land of Chus or Ethiopia: where note, that the Ethiopia here spoken of is not that of Africa but that of Arabia.

12:2. And they said: Hath the Lord spoken by Moses only? Hath he not also spoken to us in like manner? And when the Lord heard this,

Et dixerunt num per solum Mosen locutus est Dominus nonne et nobis similiter est locutus quod cum audisset Dominus

12:3. (For Moses was a man exceeding meek above all men that dwelt upon earth)

Erat enim Moses vir mitissimus super omnes homines qui morabantur in terra

Exceeding meek... Moses being the meekest of men, would not contend for himself; therefore, God inspired him to write here his own defence: and the Holy Spirit, whose dictate he wrote, obliged him to declare the truth, though it was so much to his own praise.

12:4. Immediately he spoke to him, and to Aaron and Mary: Come out you three only to the tabernacle of the covenant. And when they were come out,

Statim locutus est ad eum et ad Aaron et Mariam egredimini vos tantum tres ad tabernaculum foederis cumque fuissent egressi

12:5. The Lord came down in a pillar of the cloud, and stood in the entry of the tabernacle calling to Aaron and Mary. And when they were come,

Descendit Dominus in columna nubis et stetit in introitu tabernaculi vocans Aaron et Mariam qui cum issent

12:6. He said to them: Hear my words: if there be among you a prophet of the Lord, I will appear to him in a vision, or I will speak to him in a dream.

Dixit ad eos audite sermones meos si quis fuerit inter vos propheta Domini in visione apparebo ei vel per somnium loquar ad illum

12:7. But it is not so with my servant Moses who is most faithful in all my house:

At non talis servus meus Moses qui in omni domo mea fidelissimus est

12:8. For I speak to him mouth to mouth: and plainly, and not by riddles and figures doth he see the Lord. Why then were you not afraid to speak ill of my servant Moses?

Ore enim ad os loquor ei et palam non per enigmata et figuras Dominum videt quare igitur non timuistis detrahare servo meo Mosi

12:9. And being angry with them he went away:

Iratusque contra eos abiit

12:10. The cloud also that was over the tabernacle departed: and behold Mary appeared white as snow with a leprosy. And when Aaron had looked on her, and saw her all covered with leprosy,

Nubes quoque recessit quae erat super tabernaculum et ecce Maria apparuit candens lepra quasi nix cumque respexisset eam Aaron et vidisset perfusam lepra

12:11. He said to Moses: I beseech thee, my lord, lay not upon us this sin, which we have foolishly committed:

Ait ad Mosen obsecro domine mi ne inponas nobis hoc peccatum quod stulte commisimus

12:12. Let her not be as one dead, and as an abortive that is cast forth from the mother's womb. Lo, now one half of her flesh is consumed with the leprosy.

Ne fiat haec quasi mortua et ut abortivum quod proicitur de vulva matris suae ecce iam medium carnis eius devoratum est lepra

12:13. And Moses cried to the Lord, saying O God, I beseech thee heal her.

Clamavitque Moses ad Dominum dicens Deus obsecro sana eam

12:14. And the Lord answered him: If her father had spitten upon her face, ought she not to have been ashamed for seven days at least? Let her be separated seven days without the camp, and afterwards she shall be called again.

Cui respondit Dominus si pater eius spuisset in faciem illius nonne debuerat saltem septem dierum rubore suffundi separetur septem diebus extra castra et postea revocabitur

12:15. Mary therefore was put out of the camp seven days: and the people moved not from that place until Mary was called again.

Exclusa est itaque Maria extra castra septem diebus et populus non est motus de loco illo donec revocata est Maria

Numbers Chapter 13

The twelve spies are sent to view the land. The relation they make of it.

---

13:1. And the people marched from Haseroth, and pitched their tents in the desert of Pharan.

Profectus est de Aseroth fixis tentoriis in deserto Pharan

13:2. And there the Lord spoke to Moses, saying.

Ibi locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

13:3. Send men to view the land of Chanaan, which I will give to the children of Israel, one of every tribe, of the rulers.

Mitte viros qui considerent terram Chanaan quam daturus sum filiis Israhel singulos de singulis tribubus ex principibus

13:4. Moses did what the Lord had commanded, sending from the desert of Pharan, principal men, whose names are these:

Fecit Moses quod Dominus imperarat de deserto Pharan mittens principes viros quorum ista sunt nomina

13:5. Of the tribe of Ruben, Sammua the son of Zechur.

De tribu Ruben Semmua filium Zecchur

13:6. Of the tribe of Simeon, Saphat the son of Huri.

De tribu Symeon Saphat filium Huri

13:7. Of the tribe of Juda, Caleb the son of Jephone.

De tribu Iuda Chaleb filium Iepphonne

13:8. Of the tribe of Issachar, Igal the son of Joseph.

De tribu Isachar Igal filium Ioseph

13:9. Of the tribe of Ephraim, Osee the son of Nun.

De tribu Ephraim Osee filium Nun

13:10. Of the tribe of Benjamin, Phalti the son of Raphu.

De tribu Benjamin Phalti filium Raphu

13:11. Of the tribe of Zabulon, Geddiel the son of Sodi.

De tribu Zabulon Geddiel filium Sodi

13:12. Of the tribe of Joseph, of the sceptre of Manasses, Gaddi the son of Susi.

De tribu Ioseph sceptri Manasse Gaddi filium Susi

13:13. Of the tribe of Dan, Ammiel the son of Gemalli.

De tribu Dan Ammiel filium Gemalli

13:14. Of the tribe of Aser, Sthur the son of Michael.

De tribu Aser Sthur filium Michahel

13:15. Of the tribe of Nephtali, Nahabi the son of Vapsi.

De tribu Nephtali Naabbi filium Vaphsi

13:16. Of the tribe of Gad, Guel the son of Machi.

De tribu Gad Guhel filium Machi

13:17. These are the names of the men, whom Moses sent to view the land: and he called Osee the son of Nun, Josue.

Haec sunt nomina virorum quos misit Moses ad considerandam terram vocavitque Osee filium Nun Iosue

13:18. And Moses sent them to view the land of Chanaan, and said to them: Go you up by the south side. And when you shall come to the mountains,

Misit ergo eos Moses ad considerandam terram Chanaan et dixit ad eos ascendite per meridianam plagam cumque veneritis ad montes

13:19. View the land, of what sort it is, and the people that are the inhabitants thereof, whether they be strong or weak: few in number or many:

Considerate terram qualis sit et populum qui habitator est eius utrum fortis sit an infirmus pauci numero an plures

13:20. The land itself, whether it be good or bad: what manner of cities, walled or without walls:

Ipsa terra bona an mala urbes quales muratae an absque muris

13:21. The ground, fat or barren, woody or without trees. Be of good courage, and bring us of the fruits of the land. Now it was the time when the firstripe grapes are fit to be eaten.

Humus pinguis an sterilis nemorosa an absque arboribus confortamini et adferite nobis de fructibus terrae erat autem tempus quando iam praecoquae uvae vesci possunt

13:22. And when they were gone up, they viewed the land from the desert of Sin, unto Rohob as you enter into Emath.

Cumque ascendissent exploraverunt terram a deserto Sin usque Roob intransibus Emath

13:23. And they went up at the south side, and came to Hebron, where were Achiman and Sisai and Tholmai the sons of Enac. For Hebron was built seven years before Tanis the city of Egypt.

Ascenderuntque ad meridiem et venerunt in Hebron ubi erant Ahiman et Sisai et Tholmai filii Enach nam Hebron septem annis ante Tanim urbem Aegypti condita est

13:24. And forward as far as the torrent of the cluster of grapes, they cut off a branch with its cluster of grapes, which two men carried upon a lever. They took also of the pomegranates and of the figs of that place:

Pergentesque usque ad torrentem Botri absciderunt palmitem cum uva sua quem portaverunt in vecte duo viri de malis quoque granatis et de ficis loci illius tulerunt

13:25. Which was called Nehelescol, that is to say, the torrent of the cluster of grapes, because from thence the children of Israel had carried a cluster of grapes.

Qui appellatus est Neelescol id est torrens Botri eo quod botrum inde portassent filii Israhel

13:26. And they that went to spy out the land returned after forty days, having gone round all the country,

Reversique exploratores terrae post quadraginta dies omni regione circuita

13:27. And came to Moses and Aaron and to all the assembly of the children of Israel to the desert of Pharan, which is in Cades. And speaking to them and to all the multitude, they showed them the fruits of the land:

Venerunt ad Mosen et Aaron et ad omnem coetum filiorum Israhel in desertum Pharan quod est in Cades locutique eis et omni multitudini ostenderunt fructus terrae

13:28. And they related and said: We came into the land to which thou sentest us, which in very deed floweth with milk and honey as may be known by these fruits:

Et narraverunt dicentes venimus in terram ad quam misisti nos quae re vera fluit lacte et melle ut ex his fructibus cognosci potest

13:29. But it hath very strong inhabitants, and the cities are great and walled. We saw there the race of Enac.

Sed cultores fortissimos habet et urbes grandes atque muratas stirpem Enach vidimus ibi

13:30. Amalec dwelleth in the south, the Hethite and the Jebusite and the Amorrhite in the mountains: but the Chanaanite abideth by the sea and near the streams of the Jordan.

Amalech habitat in meridie Hettheus et Iebuseus et Amorreus in montanis Chananeus vero moratur iuxta mare et circa fluentia Iordanis

13:31. In the mean time Caleb, to still the murmuring of the people that rose against Moses, said: Let us go up and possess the land, for we shall be able to conquer it.

Inter haec Chaleb conpescens murmur populi qui oriebatur contra Mosen ait ascendamus et possideamus terram quoniam poterimus obtinere eam

13:32. But the others, that had been with him, said: No, we are not able to go up to this people, because they are stronger than we.

Alii vero qui fuerant cum eo dicebant nequaquam ad hunc populum valemus ascendere quia fortior nobis est

13:33. And they spoke ill of the land, which they had viewed, before the children of Israel, saying: The land which we have viewed, devoureth its inhabitants: the people, that we beheld are of a tall stature.

Detraxeruntque terrae quam inspexerant apud filios Israhel dicentes terram quam lustravimus devorat habitatores suos populum quem aspeximus procerae staturae est

Spoke ill, etc... These men, who by their misrepresentations of the land of promise, discouraged the Israelites from attempting the conquest of it, were a figure of worldlings, who, by decrying or misrepresenting true devotion, discourage Christians from seeking in earnest and acquiring so great a good, and thereby securing to themselves a happy eternity.

13:34. There we saw certain monsters of the sons of Enac, of the giant kind: in comparison of whom, we seemed like locusts.

Ibi vidimus monstra quaedam filiorum Enach de genere giganteo quibus comparati quasi lucustae videbamur

Numbers Chapter 14

The people murmur. God threateneth to destroy them. He is appeased by Moses, yet so as to exclude the murmurers from entering the promised land. The authors of the sedition are struck dead. The rest going to fight against the will of God are beaten.

---

14:1. Therefore the whole multitude crying wept that night.

Igitur vociferans omnis turba flevit nocte illa

14:2. And all the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron, saying:

Et murmurati sunt contra Mosen et Aaron cuncti filii Israhel dicentes

14:3. Would God that we had died in Egypt: and would God we may die in this vast wilderness, and that the Lord may not bring us into this land, lest we fall by the sword, and our wives and children be led away captives. Is it not better to return into Egypt?

Utinam mortui essemus in Aegypto et non in hac vasta solitudine utinam pereamus et non inducat nos Dominus in terram istam ne cadamus gladio et uxores ac liberi nostri ducantur captivi nonne melius est reverti in Aegyptum

14:4. And they said one to another: Let us appoint a captain, and let us return into Egypt.

Dixeruntque alter ad alterum constituamus nobis ducem et revertamur in Aegyptum

14:5. And when Moses and Aaron heard this, they fell down flat upon the ground before the multitude of the children of Israel.

Quo audito Moses et Aaron ceciderunt proni in terram coram omni multitudine filiorum Israhel

14:6. But Josue the son of Nun, and Caleb the son of Jephone, who themselves also had viewed the land, rent their garments,

At vero Iosue filius Nun et Chaleb filius Iepphonne qui et ipsi lustraverant terram sciderunt vestimenta sua

14:7. And said to all the multitude of the children of Israel: The land which we have gone round is very good:

Et ad omnem multitudinem filiorum Israhel locuti sunt terram quam circuivimus valde bona est

14:8. If the Lord be favourable, he will bring us into it, and give us a land flowing with milk and honey.

Si propitius fuerit Dominus inducet nos in eam et tradet humum lacte et melle manantem

14:9. Be not rebellious against the Lord: and fear ye not the people of this land, for we are able to eat them up as bread. All aid is gone from them: the Lord is with us, fear ye not.

Nolite rebelles esse contra Dominum neque timeatis populum terrae huius quia sicut panem ita eos possumus devorare recessit ab illis omne praesidium Dominus nobiscum est nolite metuere

14:10. And when all the multitude cried out, and would have stoned them, the glory of the Lord appeared over the tabernacle of the covenant to all the children of Israel.

Cumque clamaret omnis multitudo et lapidibus eos vellet opprimere apparuit gloria Domini super tectum foederis cunctis filiis Israhel

14:11. And the Lord said to Moses: How long will this people detract me? how long will they not believe me for all the signs that I have wrought before them?

Et dixit Dominus ad Mosen usquequo detrahet mihi populus iste quousque non credent mihi in omnibus signis quae feci coram eis

14:12. I will strike them therefore with pestilence, and will consume them: but thee I will make a ruler over a great nation, and a mightier than this is.

Feriam igitur eos pestilentia atque consumam te autem faciam principem super gentem magnam et fortiozem quam haec est

14:13. And Moses said to the Lord: That the Egyptians, from the midst of whom thou hast brought forth this people,

Et ait Moses ad Dominum ut audiant Aegyptii de quorum medio eduxisti populum istum

14:14. And the inhabitants of this land, (who have heard that thou, O Lord, art among this people, and art seen face to face, and thy cloud protecteth them, and thou goest before them in a pillar of a cloud by day, and in a pillar of fire by night),

Et habitatores terrae huius qui audierunt quod tu Domine in populo isto sis et facie videaris ad faciem et nubes tua protegat illos et in columna nubis praecedas eos per diem et in columna ignis per noctem

14:15. May hear that thou hast killed so great a multitude as it were one man and may say:

Quod occideris tantam multitudinem quasi unum hominem et dicant

14:16. He could not bring the people into the land for which he had sworn, therefore did he kill them in the wilderness.

Non poterat introducere populum in terram pro qua iuraverat idcirco occidit eos in solitudine

14:17. Let then the strength of the Lord be magnified, as thou hast sworn, saying:

Magnificetur ergo fortitudo Domini sicut iurasti dicens

14:18. The Lord is patient and full of mercy, by taking away iniquity and wickedness, and leaving no man clear, who visiteth the sins of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation.

Dominus patiens et multae misericordiae auferens iniquitatem et scelera nullumque innoxium derelinquens qui visitas peccata patrum in filios in tertiam et quartam generationem

Clear... i.e., who deserves punishment.

14:19. Forgive, I beseech thee, the sins of this people, according to the greatness of thy mercy, as thou hast been merciful to them from their going out of Egypt unto this place.

Dimitte obsecro peccatum populi tui huius secundum magnitudinem misericordiae tuae sicut propitius fuisti egredientibus de Aegypto usque ad locum istum

14:20. And the Lord said: I have forgiven according to thy word.

Dixitque Dominus dimisi iuxta verbum tuum

14:21. As I live: and the whole earth shall be filled with the glory of the Lord.

Vivo ego et implebitur gloria Domini universa terra

14:22. But yet all the men that have seen my majesty, and the signs that I have done in Egypt, and in the wilderness, and have tempted me now ten times, and have not obeyed my voice,

Attamen omnes homines qui viderunt maiestatem meam et signa quae feci in Aegypto et in solitudine et temptaverunt me iam per decem vices nec oboedierunt voci meae

14:23. Shall not see the land for which I swore to their fathers, neither shall any one of them that hath detracted me behold it.

Non videbunt terram pro qua iuravi patribus eorum nec quisquam ex illis qui detraxit mihi intuebitur eam

14:24. My servant Caleb, who being full of another spirit hath followed me, I will bring into this land which he hath gone round: and his seed shall possess it.

Servum meum Chaleb qui plenus alio spiritu secutus est me inducam in terram hanc quam circumvit et semen eius possidebit eam

14:25. For the Amalecite and the Chanaanite dwell in the valleys. To morrow remove the camp, and return into the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea.

Quoniam Amalechites et Chananeus habitant in vallibus cras movete castra et revertimini in solitudinem per viam maris Rubri

14:26. And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen et Aaron dicens

14:27. How long doth this wicked multitude murmur against me? I have heard the murmurings of the children of Israel.

Usquequo multitudo haec pessima murmurat contra me querellas filiorum Israhel audivi

14:28. Say therefore to them: As I live, saith the Lord: According as you have spoken in my hearing, so will I do to you.

Dic ergo eis vivo ego ait Dominus sicut locuti estis audiente me sic faciam vobis

14:29. In the wilderness shall your carcasses lie. All you that were numbered from twenty years old and upward, and have murmured against me,

In solitudine hac iacebunt cadavera vestra omnes qui numerati estis a viginti annis et supra et murmurastis contra me

14:30. Shall not enter into the land, over which I lifted up my hand to make you dwell therein, except Caleb the son of Jephone, and Josue the son of Nun.

Non intrabitis terram super quam levavi manum meam ut habitare vos facerem praeter Chaleb filium Iepphonne et Iosue filium Nun

14:31. But your children, of whom you said, that they should be a prey to the enemies, will I bring in: that they may see the land which you have despised.

Parvulos autem vestros de quibus dixistis quod praedae hostibus forent introducram ut videant terram quae vobis displicuit

14:32. Your carcasses shall lie in the wilderness.

Vestra cadavera iacebunt in solitudine

14:33. Your children shall wander in the desert forty years, and shall bear your fornication, until the carcasses of their fathers be consumed in the desert,

Filii vestri erunt vagi in deserto annis quadraginta et portabunt fornicationem vestram donec consumantur cadavera patrum in deserto

Shall bear your fornication... That is, shall bear the punishment of your disloyalty to God, which in the scripture language is here called a fornication, in a spiritual sense.

14:34. According to the number of the forty days, wherein you viewed the land: a year shall be counted for a day. And forty years you shall receive your iniquities, and shall know my revenge:

Iuxta numerum quadraginta dierum quibus considerastis terram annus pro die inputabitur et quadraginta annis recipietis iniquitates vestras et scietis ultionem meam

14:35. For as I have spoken, so will I do to all this wicked multitude, that hath risen up together against me: in this wilderness shall it faint away and die.

Quoniam sicut locutus sum ita faciam omni multitudini huic pessimae quae consurrexit adversum me in solitudine hac deficiet et morietur

14:36. Therefore all the men, whom Moses had sent to view the land, and who at their return had made the whole multitude to murmur against him, speaking ill of the land that it was naught,

Igitur omnes viri quos miserat Moses ad contemplandam terram et qui reversi murmurare fecerant contra eum omnem multitudinem detrahentes terrae quod esset mala

14:37. Died and were struck in the sight of the Lord.

Mortui sunt atque percussi in conspectu Domini

14:38. But Josue the son of Nun, and Caleb had gone to view the land.

Iosue autem filius Nun et Chaleb filius Iepphonne vixerunt ex omnibus qui perrexerant ad considerandam terram

14:39. And Moses spoke all these words to all the children of Israel, and the people mourned exceedingly.

Locutusque est Moses universa verba haec ad omnes filios Israhel et luxit populus nimis

14:40. And behold rising up very early in the morning, they went up to the top of the mountain, and said: We are ready to go up to the place, of which the Lord hath spoken: for we have sinned.

Et ecce mane primo surgentes ascenderunt verticem montis atque dixerunt parati sumus ascendere ad locum de quo Dominus locutus est quia peccavimus

14:41. And Moses said to them: Why transgress you the word of the Lord, which shall not succeed prosperously with you?

Quibus Moses cur inquit transgredimini verbum Domini quod vobis non cedet in prosperum

14:42. Go not up, for the Lord is not with you: lest you fall before your enemies.

Nolite ascendere non enim est Dominus vobiscum ne corruatis coram inimicis vestris

14:43. The Amalecite and the Chanaanite are before you, and by their sword you shall fall, because you would not consent to the Lord, neither will the Lord be with you.

Amalechites et Chananeus ante vos sunt quorum gladio corruetis eo quod nolueritis adquiescere Domino nec erit Dominus vobiscum

14:44. But they being blinded went up to the top of the mountain. But the ark of the testament of the Lord and Moses departed not from the camp.

At illi contenebrati ascenderunt in verticem montis arca autem testamenti Domini et Moses non recesserunt de castris

14:45. And the Amalecite came down, and the Chanaanite that dwelt in the mountain: and smiting and slaying them pursued them as far as Horma.

Descenditque Amalechites et Chananeus qui habitabant in monte et percutiens eos atque concidens persecutus est usque Horma

Numbers Chapter 15

Certain laws concerning sacrifices. Sabbath breaking is punished with death. The law of fringes on their garments.

---

15:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

15:2. Speak to the children of Israel and thou shalt say to them: When you shall be come unto the land of your habitation, which I will give you,

Loquere ad filios Israhel et dices ad eos cum ingressi fueritis terram habitationis vestrae quam ego dabo vobis

15:3. And shall make an offering to the Lord, for a holocaust, or a victim, paying your vows, or voluntarily offering gifts, or in your solemnities burning a sweet savour unto the Lord, of oxen or of sheep:

Et feceritis oblationem Domino in holocaustum aut victimam vota solventes vel sponte offerentes munera aut in sollempnitatibus vestris adolentes odorem suavitatis Domino de bubus sive de ovibus

15:4. Whosoever immolateth the victim, shall offer a sacrifice of fine flour, the tenth part of an ephi, tempered with the fourth part of a hin of oil:

Offeret quicumque immolaverit victimam sacrificium similiae decimam partem oephi conspersae oleo quod mensuram habebit quartam partem hin

15:5. And he shall give the same measure of wine to pour out in libations for the holocaust or for the victim. For every lamb,

Et vinum ad liba fundenda eiusdem mensurae dabit in holocausto sive in victima per agnos singulos

15:6. And for every ram there shall be a sacrifice of flour of two tenths, which shall be tempered with the third part of a hin of oil:

Et arietis erit sacrificium similiae duarum decimarum quae conspersa sit oleo tertiae partis hin

15:7. And he shall offer the third part the same measure of wine for the libation, for a sweet savour to the Lord.

Et vinum ad libamentum tertiae partis eiusdem mensurae offeret in odorem suavitatis Domino

15:8. But when thou offerest a holocaust or sacrifice of oxen, to fulfil thy vow or for victims of peace offerings,

Quando vero de bubus feceris holocaustum aut hostiam ut impleas votum vel pacificas victimas

15:9. Thou shalt give for every ox three tenths of flour tempered with half a hin of oil,

Dabis per singulos boves similiae tres decimas conspersae oleo quod habeat medium mensurae hin

15:10. And wine for libations of the same measure, for an offering of most sweet savour to the Lord.

Et vinum ad liba fundenda eiusdem mensurae in oblationem suavissimi odoris Domino

15:11. Thus shalt thou do

Sic facietis

15:12. For every ox and ram and lamb and kid.

Per singulos boves et arietes et agnos et hedos

15:13. Both they that are born in the land, and the strangers

Tam indigenae quam peregrini

15:14. Shall offer sacrifices after the same rite.

Eodem ritu offerent sacrificia

15:15. There shall be all one law and judgment both for you and for them who are strangers in the land.
Unum praeceptum erit atque iudicium tam vobis quam advenis terrae

15:16. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:
Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

15:17. Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them:
Loquere filiis Israhel et dices ad eos

15:18. When you are come into the land which I will give you,
Cum veneritis in terram quam dabo vobis

15:19. And shall eat of the bread of that country, you shall separate firstfruits to the Lord,
Et comederitis de panibus regionis illius separabitis primitias Domino

15:20. Of the things you eat. As you separate firstfruits of your barnfloors:
De cibis vestris sicut de areis primitias separatis

15:21. So also shall you give firstfruits of your dough to the Lord.
Ita et de pulmentis dabitur primitiva Domino

15:22. And if through ignorance you omit any of these things, which the Lord hath spoken to Moses,
Quod si per ignorantiam praeterieritis quicquam horum quae locutus est Dominus ad Mosen

15:23. And by him hath commanded you from the day that he began to command and thenceforward,
Et mandavit per eum ad vos a die qua coepit iubere et ultra

15:24. And the multitude have forgotten to do it: they shall offer a calf out of the herd, a holocaust for a most sweet savour to the Lord, and the sacrifice and libations thereof, as the ceremonies require, and a buck goat for sin:
Oblitaque fuerit facere multitudo offeret vitulum de armento holocaustum in odorem suavissimum Domino et sacrificium eius ac liba ut caerimoniae postulant hircumque pro peccato

15:25. And the priest shall pray for all the multitude of the children of Israel: and it shall be forgiven them, because they sinned ignorantly, offering notwithstanding a burnt offering to the Lord for themselves and for their sin and their ignorance:
Et rogabit sacerdos pro omni multitudine filiorum Israhel et dimittetur eis quoniam non sponte peccaverunt nihilominus offerentes incensum Domino pro se et pro peccato atque errore suo

15:26. And it shall be forgiven all the people of the children of Israel: and the strangers that sojourn among them: because it is the fault of all the people through ignorance.
Et dimittetur universae plebi filiorum Israhel et advenis qui peregrinantur inter vos quoniam culpa est omnis populi per ignorantiam

15:27. But if one soul shall sin ignorantly, he shall offer a she goat of a year old for his sin.
Quod si anima una nesciens peccaverit offeret capram anniculam pro peccato suo

15:28. And the priest shall pray for him, because he sinned ignorantly before the Lord: and he shall obtain his pardon, and it shall be forgiven him.
Et deprecabitur pro ea sacerdos quod inscia peccaverit coram Domino inpetrabitque ei veniam et dimittetur illi

15:29. The same law shall be for all that sin by ignorance, whether they be natives or strangers.
Tam indigenis quam advenis una lex erit omnium qui peccaverint ignorantes

15:30. But the soul that committeth any thing through pride, whether he be born in the land or a stranger (because he hath been rebellious against the Lord) shall be cut off from among his people:
Anima vero quae per superbiam aliquid commiserit sive civis sit ille sive peregrinus quoniam adversum Dominum rebellis fuit peribit de populo suo

15:31. For he hath contemned the word of the Lord, and made void his precept: therefore shall he be destroyed, and shall bear his iniquity.

Verbum enim Domini contempsit et praeceptum illius fecit irritum idcirco delebitur et portabit iniquitatem suam

15:32. And it came to pass, when the children of Israel were in the wilderness, and had found a man gathering sticks on the sabbath day,

Factum est autem cum essent filii Israhel in solitudine et invenissent hominem colligentem ligna in die sabbati

15:33. That they brought him to Moses and Aaron and the whole multitude.

Obtulerunt eum Mosi et Aaron et universae multitudini

15:34. And they put him into prison, not knowing what they should do with him.

Qui recluserunt eum in carcerem nescientes quid super eo facere deberent

15:35. And the Lord said to Moses: Let that man die, let all the multitude stone him without the camp.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen morte moriatur homo iste obruat eum lapidibus omnis turba extra castra

15:36. And when they had brought him out, they stoned him, and he died as the Lord had commanded.

Cumque eduxissent eum foras obruerunt lapidibus et mortuus est sicut praeceperat Dominus

15:37. The Lord also said to Moses:

Dixit quoque Dominus ad Mosen

15:38. Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt tell them to make to themselves fringes in the corners of their garments, putting in them ribands of blue:

Loquere filiis Israhel et dices ad eos ut faciant sibi fimbrias per angulos palliorum ponentes in eis vittas hyacinthinas

Fringes... The Pharisees enlarged these fringes through hypocrisy (Matthew 23:5) to appear more zealous than other men for the law of God.

15:39. That when they shall see them, they may remember all the commandments of the Lord, and not follow their own thoughts and eyes going astray after divers things,

Quas cum viderint recordentur omnium mandatorum Domini nec sequantur cogitationes suas et oculos per res varias fornicantes

15:40. But rather being mindful of the precepts of the Lord, may do them and be holy to their God.

Sed magis memores praeceptorum Domini faciant ea sintque sancti Deo suo

15:41. I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, that I might be your God.

Ego Dominus Deus vester qui eduxi vos de terra Aegypti ut essem vester Deus

Numbers Chapter 16

The schism of Core and his adherents: their punishment.

---

16:1. And behold Core the son of Isaar, the son of Caath, the son of Levi, and Dathan and Abiron the sons of Eliab, and Hon the son of Pheleth of the children of Ruben,

Ecce autem Core filius Isaar filii Caath filii Levi et Dathan atque Abiram filii Heliab Hon quoque filius Pheleth de filiis Ruben

16:2. Rose up against Moses, and with them two hundred and fifty others of the children of Israel, leading men of the synagogue, and who in the time of assembly were called by name.

Surrexerunt contra Mosen alique filiorum Israhel ducenti quinquaginta viri proceres synagogae et qui tempore concilii per nomina vocabantur

Rose up... The crime of these men, which was punished in so remarkable a manner, was that of schism, and of rebellion against the authority established by God in the church; and their pretending to the priesthood without being lawfully called and sent: the same is the case of all modern sectaries.

16:3. And when they had stood up against Moses and Aaron, they said: Let it be enough for you, that all the multitude consisteth of holy ones, and the Lord is among them: Why lift you up yourselves above the people of the Lord?

Cumque stetissent adversum Mosen et Aaron dixerunt sufficiat vobis quia omnis multitudo sanctorum est et in ipsis est Dominus cur elevamini super populum Domini

16:4. When Moses heard this, he fell flat on his face:

Quod cum audisset Moses cecidit pronus in faciem

16:5. And speaking to Core and all the multitude, he said: In the morning the Lord will make known who belong to him, and the holy he will join to himself: and whom he shall choose, they shall approach to him.

Locutusque ad Core et ad omnem multitudinem mane inquit notum faciet Dominus qui ad se pertineant et sanctos adplicabit sibi et quos elegerit adpropinquabunt ei

16:6. Do this therefore: Take every man of you your censers, thou Core, and all thy company.

Hoc igitur facite tollat unusquisque turibula sua tu Core et omne concilium tuum

16:7. And putting fire in them to morrow, put incense upon it before the Lord: and whomsoever he shall choose, the same shall be holy: you take too much upon you, ye sons of Levi.

Et hausto cras igne ponite desuper thymiana coram Domino et quemcumque elegerit ipse erit sanctus multum erigimini filii Levi

16:8. And he said again to Core: Hear ye sons of Levi.

Dixitque rursum ad Core audite filii Levi

16:9. Is it a small thing unto you, that the God of Israel hath spared you from all the people, and joined you to himself, that you should serve him in the service of the tabernacle, and should stand before the congregation of the people, and should minister to him?

Num parum vobis est quod separavit vos Deus Israhel ab omni populo et iunxit sibi ut serviretis ei in cultu tabernaculi et staretis coram frequentia populi et ministraretis ei

16:10. Did he therefore make thee and all thy brethren the sons of Levi to approach unto him, that you should challenge to yourselves the priesthood also,

Idcirco ad se fecit accedere te et omnes fratres tuos filios Levi ut vobis etiam sacerdotium vindicetis

16:11. And that all thy company should stand against the Lord? for what is Aaron that you murmur against him?

Et omnis globus tuus stet contra Dominum quid est enim Aaron ut murmuretis contra eum

16:12. Then Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiron the sons of Eliab. But they answered: We will not come.
Misit ergo Moses ut vocaret Dathan et Abiram filios Heliab qui responderunt non venimus

16:13. Is it a small matter to thee, that thou hast brought us out of a land that flowed with milk and honey, to kill us in the desert, except thou rule also like a lord over us?
Numquid parum est tibi quod eduxisti nos de terra quae lacte et melle manabat ut occideres in deserto nisi et dominatus fueris nostri

16:14. Thou hast brought us indeed into a land that floweth with rivers of milk and honey, and hast given us possessions of fields and vineyards; wilt thou also pull out our eyes? We will not come.
Re vera induxisti nos in terram quae fluit rivis lactis et mellis et dedisti nobis possessiones agrorum et vinearum an et oculos nostros vis eruere non venimus

16:15. Moses therefore being very angry, said to the Lord: Respect not their sacrifices: thou knowest that I have not taken of them so much as a young ass at any time, nor have injured any of them.
Iratusque Moses valde ait ad Dominum ne respicias sacrificia eorum tu scis quod ne asellum quidem umquam acceperim ab eis nec adflixerim quempiam eorum

Very angry... This anger was a zeal against sin; and an indignation at the affront offered to God; like that which the same holy prophet conceived upon the sight of the golden calf [Exodus 32:19].

16:16. And he said to Core: Do thou and thy congregation stand apart before the Lord to morrow, and Aaron apart.
Dixitque ad Core tu et omnis congregatio tua state seorsum coram Domino et Aaron die crastino separatim

16:17. Take every one of you censers, and put incense upon them, offering to the Lord two hundred and fifty censers: let Aaron also hold his censer.
Tollite singuli turibula vestra et ponite super ea incensum offerentes Domino ducenta quinquaginta turibula Aaron quoque teneat turibulum suum

16:18. When they had done this, Moses and Aaron standing,
Quod cum fecissent stantibus Mosen et Aaron

16:19. And had drawn up all the multitude against them to the door of the tabernacle, the glory of the Lord appeared to them all.
Et coacervassent adversum eos omnem multitudinem ad ostium tabernaculi apparuit cunctis gloria Domini

16:20. And the Lord speaking to Moses and Aaron, said:
Locutusque Dominus ad Mosen et Aaron ait

16:21. Separate yourselves from among this congregation, that I may presently destroy them.
Separamini de medio congregationis huius ut eos repente disperdam

16:22. They fell flat on their face, and said: O most mighty, the God of the spirits of all flesh, for one man's sin shall thy wrath rage against all?
Qui ceciderunt proni in faciem atque dixerunt fortissime Deus spirituum universae carnis num uno peccante contra omnes tua ira desaeviet

16:23. And the Lord said to Moses:
Et ait Dominus ad Mosen

16:24. Command the whole people to separate themselves from the tents of Core and Dathan and Abiron.
Praecepto universo populo ut separetur a tabernaculis Core et Dathan et Abiram

16:25. And Moses arose, and went to Dathan and Abiron: and the ancients of Israel following him,
Surrexitque Moses et abiit ad Dathan et Abiram et sequentibus eum senioribus Israhel

16:26. He said to the multitude: Depart from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, lest you be involved in their sins.
Dixit ad turbam recedite a tabernaculis hominum impiorum et nolite tangere quae ad eos pertinent ne involvamini in peccatis eorum

16:27. And when they were departed from their tents round about, Dathan and Abiron coming out stood in the entry of their pavilions with their wives and children, and all the people.
Cumque recessissent a tentoriis eorum per circuitum Dathan et Abiram egressi stabant in introitu papilionum suorum cum uxoribus et liberis omnique frequentia

16:28. And Moses said: By this you shall know that the Lord hath sent me to do all things that you see, and that I have not forged them of my own head:

Et ait Moses in hoc scietis quod Dominus miserit me ut facerem universa quae cernitis et non ex proprio ea corde protulerim

16:29. If these men die the common death of men, and if they be visited with a plague, wherewith others also are wont to be visited, the Lord did not send me.

Si consueta hominum morte interierint et visitaverit eos plaga qua et ceteri visitari solent non misit me Dominus

16:30. But if the Lord do a new thing, and the earth opening her mouth swallow them down, and all things that belong to them, and they go down alive into hell, you shall know that they have blasphemed the Lord.

Sin autem novam rem fecerit Dominus ut aperiens terra os suum degluttiat eos et omnia quae ad illos pertinent descenderintque viventes in infernum scietis quod blasphemaverint Dominum

16:31. And immediately as he had made an end of speaking, the earth broke asunder under their feet:

Confestim igitur ut cessavit loqui disrupta est terra sub pedibus eorum

16:32. And opening her mouth, devoured them with their tents and all their substance.

Et aperiens os suum devoravit illos cum tabernaculis suis et universa substantia

16:33. And they went down alive into hell, the ground closing upon them, and they perished from among the people.

Descenderuntque vivi in infernum operti humo et perierunt de medio multitudinis

16:34. But all Israel, that was standing round about, fled at the cry of them that were perishing: saying: Lest perhaps the earth swallow us up also.

At vero omnis Israhel qui stabat per gyrum fugit ad clamorem pereuntium dicens ne forte et nos terra degluttiat

16:35. And a fire coming out from the Lord, destroyed the two hundred and fifty men that offered the incense.

Sed et ignis egressus a Domino interfecit ducentos quinquaginta viros qui offerebant incensum

16:36. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

16:37. Command Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest to take up the censers that lie in the burning, and to scatter the fire of one side and the other: because they are sanctified

Praecipe Eleazaro filio Aaron sacerdotis ut tollat turibula quae iacent in incendio et ignem huc illucque dispergat quoniam sanctificata sunt

16:38. In the deaths of the sinners: and let him beat them into plates, and fasten them to the altar, because incense hath been offered in them to the Lord, and they are sanctified, that the children of Israel may see them for a sign and a memorial.

In mortibus peccatorum producatque ea in lamminas et adfigat altari eo quod oblatum sit in eis incensum Domino et sanctificata sint ut cernant ea pro signo et monumento filii Israhel

16:39. Then Eleazar the priest took the brazen censers, wherein they had offered, whom the burning fire had devoured, and beat them into plates, fastening them to the altar:

Tulit ergo Eleazar sacerdos turibula aenea in quibus obtulerant hii quos incendium devoravit et produxit ea in lamminas adfigens altari

16:40. That the children of Israel might have for the time to come wherewith they should be admonished, that no stranger or any one that is not of the seed of Aaron should come near to offer incense to the Lord, lest he should suffer as Core suffered, and all his congregation, according as the Lord spoke to Moses.

Ut haberent postea filii Israhel quibus commonerentur ne quis accedat alienigena et qui non est de semine Aaron ad offerendum incensum Domino ne patiatur sicut passus est Core et omnis congregatio eius loquente Domino ad Mosen saying: You have killed the people of the Lord.

Murmuravit autem omnis multitudo filiorum Israhel sequenti die contra Mosen et Aaron dicens vos interfecistis populum Domini

16:42. And when there arose a sedition, and the tumult increased,
Cumque oreretur seditio et tumultus increseret

16:43. Moses and Aaron fled to the tabernacle of the covenant. And when they were gone into it, the cloud covered it, and the glory of the Lord appeared.

Moses et Aaron fugerunt ad tabernaculum foederis quod postquam ingressi sunt operuit nubes et apparuit gloria Domini

16:44. And the Lord said to Moses:
Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen

16:45. Get you out from the midst of this multitude, this moment will I destroy them. And as they were lying on the ground,
Recedite de medio huius multitudinis etiam nunc delebo eos cumque iacerent in terra

16:46. Moses said to Aaron: Take the censer, and putting fire in it from the altar, put incense upon it, and go quickly to the people to pray for them: for already wrath is gone out from the Lord, and the plague rageth.

Dixit Moses ad Aaron tolle turibulum et hausto igne de altari mitte incensum desuper pergens cito ad populum ut roges pro eis iam enim egressa est ira a Domino et plaga desaevit

16:47. When Aaron had done this, and had run to the midst of the multitude which the burning fire was now destroying, he offered the incense:

Quod cum fecisset Aaron et cucurrisset ad mediam multitudinem quam iam vastabat incendium obtulit thymiama

16:48. And standing between the dead and the living, he prayed for the people, and the plague ceased.
Et stans inter mortuos ac viventes pro populo deprecatus est et plaga cessavit

16:49. And the number of them that were slain was fourteen thousand and seven hundred men, besides them that had perished in the sedition of Core.

Fuerunt autem qui percussi sunt quattuordecim milia hominum et septingenti absque his qui perierant in seditione Core

16:50. And Aaron returned to Moses to the door of the tabernacle of the covenant after the destruction was over.

Reversusque est Aaron ad Mosen ad ostium tabernaculi foederis postquam quievit interitus

Numbers Chapter 17

The priesthood is confirmed to Aaron by the miracle of the blooming of his rod, which is kept for a monument in the tabernacle.

---

17:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Et locutus est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

17:2. Speak to the children of Israel, and take of every one of them a rod by their kindreds, of all the princes of the tribes, twelve rods, and write the name of every man upon his rod.

Loquere ad filios Israhel et accipe ab eis virgas singulas per cognationes suas a cunctis principibus tribuum virgas duodecim et uniuscuiusque nomen superscribes virgae suae

17:3. And the name of Aaron shall be for the tribe of Levi, and one rod shall contain all their families:

Nomen autem Aaron erit in tribu Levi et una virga cunctas eorum familias continebit

17:4. And thou shalt lay them up in the tabernacle of the covenant before the testimony, where I will speak to thee.

Ponesque eas in tabernaculo foederis coram testimonio ubi loquar ad te

17:5. Whomsoever of these I shall choose, his rod shall blossom: and I will make to cease from me the murmurings of the children of Israel, wherewith they murmur against you.

Quem ex his elegero germinabit virga eius et cohibebo a me querimonias filiorum Israhel quibus contra vos murmurant

17:6. And Moses spoke to the children of Israel: and all the princes gave him rods one for every tribe: and there were twelve rods besides the rod of Aaron.

Locutusque est Moses ad filios Israhel et dederunt ei omnes principes virgas per singulas tribus fueruntque virgae duodecim absque virga Aaron

17:7. And when Moses had laid them up before the Lord in the tabernacle of the testimony:

Quas cum posuisset Moses coram Domino in tabernaculo testimonii

17:8. He returned on the following day, and found that the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi, was budded: and that the buds swelling it hid bloomed blossoms, which spreading the leaves, were formed into almonds.

Sequenti die regressus invenit germinasse virgam Aaron in domo Levi et turgentibus gemmis eruperant flores qui foliis dilatatis in amigdalas deformati sunt

The rod of Aaron for the house of Levi, was budded, etc... This rod of Aaron which thus miraculously brought forth fruit, was a figure of the blessed Virgin conceiving and bringing forth her Son without any prejudice to her virginity.

17:9. Moses therefore brought out all the rods from before the Lord to all the children of Israel: and they saw, and every one received their rods.

Protulit ergo Moses omnes virgas de conspectu Domini ad cunctos filios Israhel videruntque et receperunt singuli virgas suas

17:10. And the Lord said to Moses: Carry back the rod of Aaron into the tabernacle of the testimony, that it may be kept there for a token of the rebellious children of Israel, and that their complaints may cease from me lest they die.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen refer virgam Aaron in tabernaculum testimonii ut servetur ibi in signum rebellium filiorum et quiescant querellae eorum a me ne moriantur

17:11. And Moses did as the Lord had commanded.

Fecitque Moses sicut praeceperat Dominus

17:12. And the children of Israel said to Moses: Behold we are consumed, we all perish.
Dixerunt autem filii Israhel ad Mosen ecce consumpti sumus omnes perivimus

17:13. Whosoever approacheth to the tabernacle of the Lord, he dieth. Are we all to a man to be utterly destroyed?
Quicumque accedit ad tabernaculum Domini moritur num usque ad internicionem cuncti delendi sumus

Numbers Chapter 18

The charge of the priests and of the Levites, and their portion.

18:1. And the Lord said to Aaron: Thou, and thy sons, and thy father's house with thee shall bear the iniquity of the sanctuary: and thou and thy sons with thee shall bear the sins of your priesthood.

Dixitque Dominus ad Aaron tu et filii tui et domus patris tui tecum portabis iniquitatem sanctuarii et tu et filii tui simul sustinebitis peccata sacerdotii vestri

Thou, and thy father's house with thee, shall bear the iniquity of the sanctuary... That is, you shall be punished if, through negligence or want of due attention, you err in the discharge of the sacred functions for which you were ordained.

18:2. And take with thee thy brethren also of the tribe of Levi, and the sceptre of thy father, and let them be ready in hand, and minister to thee: but thou and thy sons shall minister in the tabernacle of the testimony.

Sed et fratres tuos de tribu Levi et sceptro patris tui sume tecum praestoque sint et ministrent tibi tu autem et filii tui ministrabis in tabernaculo testimonii

18:3. And the Levites shall watch to do thy commands, and about all the works of the tabernacle: only they shall not come nigh the vessels of the sanctuary nor the altar, lest both they die, and you also perish with them.

Excubabuntque Levitae ad praecepta tua et ad cuncta opera tabernaculi ita dumtaxat ut ad vasa sanctuarii et altare non accedant ne et illi moriantur et vos pereatis simul

18:4. But let them be with thee, and watch in the charge of the tabernacle, and in all the ceremonies thereof. A stranger shall not join himself with you.

Sint autem tecum et excubent in custodiis tabernaculi et in omnibus caerimoniis eius alienigena non miscebitur vobis

18:5. Watch ye in the charge of the sanctuary, and in the ministry of the altar: lest indignation rise upon the children of Israel.

Excubate in custodia sanctuarii et in ministerio altaris ne oriatur indignatio super filios Israhel

18:6. I have given you your brethren the Levites from among the children of Israel, and have delivered them for a gift to the Lord, to serve in the ministries of the tabernacle.

Ego dedi vobis fratres vestros Levitas de medio filiorum Israhel et tradidi donum Domino ut serviant in ministeriis tabernaculi eius

18:7. But thou and thy sons look ye to the priesthood: and all things that pertain to the service of the altar, and that are within the veil, shall be executed by the priests. If any stranger shall approach, he shall be slain.

Tu autem et filii tui custodite sacerdotium vestrum et omnia quae ad cultum altaris pertinent et intra velum sunt per sacerdotes administrabuntur si quis externus accesserit occidetur

18:8. And the Lord said to Aaron: Behold I have given thee the charge of my firstfruits. All things that are sanctified by the children of Israel, I have delivered to thee and to thy sons for the priestly office, by everlasting ordinances.

Locutus est Dominus ad Aaron ecce dedi tibi custodiam primitiarum mearum omnia quae sanctificantur a filiis Israhel tibi tradidi et filiis tuis pro officio sacerdotali legitima sempiterna

18:9. These therefore shalt thou take of the things that are sanctified, and are offered to the Lord. Every offering, and sacrifice, and whatsoever is rendered to me for sin and for trespass, and becometh holy of holies, shall be for thee and thy sons.

Haec ergo accipies de his quae sanctificantur et oblata sunt Domino omnis oblatio et sacrificium et quicquid pro peccato atque delicto redditur mihi et cedet in sancta sanctorum tuum erit et filiorum tuorum

18:10. Thou shalt eat it in the sanctuary: the males only shall eat thereof, because it is a consecrated thing to thee.

In sanctuario comedes illud mares tantum edent ex eo quia consecratum est tibi

18:11. But the firstfruits, which the children of Israel shall vow and offer, I have given to thee, and to thy sons, and to thy daughters, by a perpetual law. He that is clean in thy house, shall eat them.

Primitias autem quas voverint et obtulerint filii Israhel tibi dedi et filiis ac filiabus tuis iure perpetuo qui mundus est in domo tua vescetur eis

18:12. All the best of the oil, and of the wine, and of the corn, whatsoever firstfruits they offer to the Lord, I have given them to thee.

Omnem medullam olei et vini ac frumenti quicquid offerunt primitiarum Domino tibi dedi

18:13. All the firstripe of the fruits, that the ground bringeth forth, and which are brought to the Lord, shall be for thy use: he that is clean in thy house, shall eat them.

Universa frugum initia quas gignit humus et Domino deportantur cedent in usus tuos qui mundus est in domo tua vescetur eis

18:14. Every thing that the children of Israel shall give by vow, shall be thine.

Omne quod ex voto reddiderint filii Israhel tuum erit

18:15. Whatsoever is firstborn of all flesh, which they offer to the Lord, whether it be of men, or of beasts, shall belong to thee: only for the firstborn of man thou shalt take a price, and every beast that is unclean thou shalt cause to be redeemed,

Quicquid primum erumpet e vulva cunctae carnis quam offerunt Domino sive ex hominibus sive de pecoribus fuerit tui iuris erit ita dumtaxat ut pro hominis primogenito pretium accipias et omne animal quod inmundum est redimi facias

18:16. And the redemption of it shall be after one month, for five sicles of silver, by the weight of the sanctuary. A sicle hath twenty obols.

Cuius redemptio erit post unum mensem siclis argenti quinque pondere sanctuarii siclus viginti obolos habet

18:17. But the firstling of a cow, and of a sheep and of a goat thou shalt not cause to be redeemed, because they are sanctified to the Lord. Their blood only thou shalt pour upon the altar, and their fat thou shalt burn for a most sweet odour to the Lord.

Primogenitum autem bovis et ovis et caprae non facies redimi quia sanctificata sunt Domino sanguinem tantum eorum fundes super altare et adipis adolebis in suavissimum odorem Domino

18:18. But the flesh shall fall to thy use, as the consecrated breast, and the right shoulder shall be thine.

Carnes vero in usum tuum cedent sicut pectusculum consecratum et armus dexter tua erunt

18:19. All the firstfruits of the sanctuary which the children of Israel offer to the Lord, I have given to thee and to thy sons and daughters, by a perpetual ordinance. It is a covenant of salt for ever before the Lord, to thee and to thy sons.

Omnes primitias sanctuarii quas offerunt filii Israhel Domino tibi dedi et filiis ac filiabus tuis iure perpetuo pactum salis est sempiternum coram Domino tibi ac filiis tuis

A covenant of salt... It is a proverbial expression, signifying a covenant not to be altered or corrupted; as salt is used to keep things from corruption; a covenant perpetual, like that by which it was appointed, that salt should be used in every sacrifice. Leviticus 2.

18:20. And the Lord said to Aaron: You shall possess nothing in their land, neither shall you have a portion among them: I am thy portion and inheritance in the midst of the children of Israel.

Dixitque Dominus ad Aaron in terra eorum nihil possidebitis nec habebitis partem inter eos ego pars et hereditas tua in medio filiorum Israhel

18:21. And I have given to the sons of Levi all the tithes of Israel for a possession, for the ministry wherewith they serve me in the tabernacle of the covenant:

Filiis autem Levi dedi omnes decimas Israhelis in possessionem pro ministerio quo serviunt mihi in tabernaculo foederis

18:22. That the children of Israel may not approach any more to the tabernacle, nor commit deadly sin, Ut non accedant ultra filii Israhel ad tabernaculum nec committant peccatum mortiferum

Deadly sin... That is, sin which will bring death after it.

18:23. But only the sons of Levi may serve me in the tabernacle, and bear the sins of the people. It shall be an everlasting ordinance in your generations. They shall not possess any other thing,
Solis filiis Levi mihi in tabernaculo servientibus et portantibus peccata populi legitimum sempiternum erit in generationibus vestris nihil aliud possidebunt

18:24. But be content with the oblation or tithes, which I have separated for their uses and necessities.
Decimarum oblatione contenti quas in usus eorum et necessaria separavi

18:25. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:
Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

18:26. Command the Levites, and declare unto them: When you shall receive of the children of Israel the tithes, which I have given you, offer the firstfruits of them to the Lord, that is to say, the tenth part of the tenth:
Praecepte Levitis atque denuntia cum acceperitis a filiis Israhel decimas quas dedi vobis primitias earum offerite Domino id est decimam partem decimae

18:27. That it may be reckoned to you as an oblation of firstfruits, as well of the barnfloors as of the winepresses:
Ut reputetur vobis in oblationem primitivorum tam de areis quam de torcularibus

18:28. And of all the things of which you receive tithes, offer the firstfruits to the Lord, and give them to Aaron the priest.
Et universis quorum accipitis primitias offerite Domino et date Aaron sacerdoti

18:29. All the things that you shall offer of the tithes, and shall separate for the gifts of the Lord, shall be the best and choicest things.
Omnia quae offertis ex decimis et in donaria Domini separatis optima et electa erunt

18:30. And thou shalt say to them: If you offer all the goodly and the better things of the tithes, it shall be reckoned to you as if you had given the firstfruits of the barnfloor and the winepress:
Dicesque ad eos si praeclara et meliora quaeque obtuleritis ex decimis reputabitur vobis quasi de area et torculari dederitis primitias

18:31. And you shall eat them in all your places, both you and your families: because it is your reward for the ministry, wherewith you serve in the tabernacle of the testimony.
Et comedetis eas in omnibus locis vestris tam vos quam familiae vestrae quia pretium est pro ministerio quo servitis in tabernaculo testimonii

18:32. And you shall not sin in this point, by reserving the choicest and fat things to yourselves, lest you profane the oblations of the children of Israel, and die.
Et non peccabitis super hoc egregia vobis et pingua reservantes ne polluatis oblationes filiorum Israhel et moriamini

Numbers Chapter 19

The law of the sacrifice of the red cow, and the water of expiation.

---

19:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen et Aaron dicens

19:2. This is the observance of the victim, which the Lord hath ordained. Command the children of Israel, that they bring unto thee a red cow of full age, in which there is no blemish, and which hath not carried the yoke:

Ista est religio victimae quam constituit Dominus praecipere filiis Israhel ut adducant ad te vaccam rufam aetatis integrae in qua nulla sit macula nec portaverit iugum

A red cow, etc... This red cow, offered in sacrifice for sin, and consumed with fire without the camp, with the ashes of which, mingled with water, the unclean were to be expiated and purified; was a figure of the passion of Christ, by whose precious blood applied to our souls in the holy sacraments, we are cleansed from our sins.

19:3. And you shall deliver her to Eleazar the priest, who shall bring her forth without the camp, and shall immolate her in the sight of all:

Tradetisque eam Eleazaro sacerdoti qui eductam extra castra immolabit in conspectu omnium

19:4. And dipping his finger in her blood, shall sprinkle it over against the door of the tabernacle seven times,

Et tinguens digitum in sanguine eius asperget contra fores tabernaculi septem vicibus

19:5. And shall burn her in the sight of all delivering up to the fire her skin, and her flesh, and her blood, and her dung.

Conburetque eam cunctis videntibus tam pelle et carnibus eius quam sanguine et fimo flammae traditis

19:6. The priest shall also take cedar wood, and hyssop, and scarlet twice dyed, and cast it into the flame, with which the cow is consumed.

Lignum quoque cedrinum et hysopum coccumque bis tinctum sacerdos mittet in flammam quae vaccam vorat

19:7. And then after washing his garments, and body, he shall enter into the camp, and shall be unclean until the evening.

Et tunc demum lotis vestibus et corpore suo ingredietur in castra commaculatusque erit usque ad vesperam

19:8. He also that hath burned her, shall wash his garments, and his body, and shall be unclean until the evening.

Sed et ille qui conbuserit eam lavabit vestimenta sua et corpus et inmundus erit usque ad vesperam

19:9. And a man that is clean shall gather up the ashes of the cow, and shall pour them forth without the camp in a most clean place, that they may be reserved for the multitude of the children of Israel, and for a water of aspersion: because the cow was burnt for sin.

Colliget autem vir mundus cineres vaccae et effundet eos extra castra in loco purissimo ut sint multitudini filiorum Israhel in custodiam et in aquam aspersionis quia pro peccato vacca conbusta est

19:10. And when he that carried the ashes of the cow, hath washed his garments, he shall be unclean until the evening. The children of Israel, and the strangers that dwell among them, shall observe this for a holy thing by a perpetual ordinance.

Cumque laverit qui vaccae portaverat cineres vestimenta sua inmundus erit usque ad vesperum habebunt hoc filii Israhel et advenae qui habitant inter eos sanctum iure perpetuo

19:11. He that toucheth the corpse of a man, and is therefore unclean seven days,

Qui tetigerit cadaver hominis et propter hoc septem diebus fuerit immundus

19:12. Shall be sprinkled with this water on the third day, and on the seventh, and so shall be cleansed. If he were not sprinkled on the third day, he cannot be cleansed on the seventh.

Aspergetur ex hac aqua die tertio et septimo et sic mundabitur si die tertio aspersus non fuerit septimo non poterit emundari

19:13. Every one that toucheth the corpse of a man, and is not sprinkled with this mixture, shall profane the tabernacle of the Lord, and shall perish out of Israel: because he was not sprinkled with the water of expiation, he shall be unclean, and his uncleanness shall remain upon him.

Omnis qui tetigerit humanae animae morticinum et aspersus hac commixtione non fuerit polluet tabernaculum Domini et peribit ex Israhel quia aqua expiationis non est aspersus immundus erit et manebit spurcitia eius super eum

19:14. This is the law of a man that dieth in a tent: All that go into his tent and all the vessels that are there, shall be unclean seven days.

Ista est lex hominis qui moritur in tabernaculo omnes qui ingrediuntur tentorium illius et universa vasa quae ibi sunt polluta erunt septem diebus

19:15. The vessel that hath no cover, nor binding over it, shall be unclean.

Vas quod non habuerit operculum nec ligaturam desuper immundum erit

19:16. If any man in the field touch the corpse of a man that was slain, or that died of himself, or his bone, or his grave, he shall be unclean seven days.

Si quis in agro tetigerit cadaver occisi hominis aut per se mortui sive os illius vel sepulchrum immundus erit septem diebus

19:17. And they shall take of the ashes of the burning and of the sin offering, and shall pour living waters upon them into a vessel.

Tollent de cineribus combustionis atque peccati et mittent aquas vivas super eos in vas

19:18. And a man that is clean shall dip hyssop in them, and shall sprinkle therewith all the tent, and all the furniture, and the men that are defiled with touching any such thing:

In quibus cum homo mundus tinxerit hyssopum asperget eo omne tentorium et cunctam supellectilem et homines huiusmodi contagione pollutos

19:19. And in this manner he that is clean shall purify the unclean on the third and on the seventh day. And being expiated the seventh day, he shall wash both himself and his garments, and be unclean until the evening.

Atque hoc modo mundus lustrabit immundum tertio et septimo die expiatusque die septimo lavabit et se et vestimenta sua et mundus erit ad vesperam

19:20. If any man be not expiated after this rite, his soul shall perish out of the midst of the church: because he hath profaned the sanctuary of the Lord, and was not sprinkled with the water of purification.

Si quis hoc ritu non fuerit expiatus peribit anima illius de medio ecclesiae quia sanctuarium Domini polluit et non est aqua lustrationis aspersus

19:21. This precept shall be an ordinance for ever. He also that sprinkled the water, shall wash his garments. Every one that shall touch the waters of expiation, shall be unclean until the evening.

Erit hoc praeceptum legitimum sempiternum ipse quoque qui aspergit aquas lavabit vestimenta sua omnis qui tetigerit aquas expiationis immundus erit usque ad vesperam

19:22. Whatsoever a person toucheth who is unclean, he shall make it unclean: and the person that toucheth any of these things, shall be unclean until the evening.

Quicquid tetigerit immundus immundum faciet et anima quae horum quippiam tetigerit immunda erit usque ad vesperum

Numbers Chapter 20

The death of Mary the sister of Moses. The people murmur for want of water: God giveth it them from the rock. The death of Aaron.

---

20:1. And the children of Israel, and all the multitude came into the desert of Sin, in the first month: and the people abode in Cades. And Mary died there, and was buried in the same place.

Veneruntque filii Israhel et omnis multitudo in desertum Sin mense primo et mansit populus in Cades mortuaque est ibi Maria et sepulta in eodem loco

20:2. And the people wanting water, came together against Moses and Aaron:

Cumque indigeret aqua populus coierunt adversum Mosen et Aaron

20:3. And making a sedition, they said: Would God we had perished among our brethren before the Lord.

Et versi in seditionem dixerunt utinam perissemus inter fratres nostros coram Domino

20:4. Why have you brought out the church of the Lord into the wilderness, that both we and our cattle should die?

Cur eduxistis ecclesiam Domini in solitudinem ut et nos et nostra iumenta moriantur

20:5. Why have you made us come up out of Egypt, and have brought us into this wretched place which cannot be sowed, nor bringeth forth figs, nor vines, nor pomegranates, neither is there any water to drink?

Quare nos fecistis ascendere de Aegypto et adduxistis in locum istum pessimum qui seri non potest qui nec ficum gignit nec vineas nec mala granata insuper et aquam non habet ad bibendum

20:6. And Moses and Aaron leaving the multitude, went into the tabernacle of the covenant, and fell flat upon the ground, and cried to the Lord, and said. O Lord God, hear the cry of this people, and open to them thy treasure, a fountain of living water, that being satisfied, they may cease to murmur. And the glory of the Lord appeared over them.

Ingressusque Moses et Aaron dimissa multitudo tabernaculum foederis corruerunt proni in terram et apparuit gloria Domini super eos

20:7. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

20:8. Take the rod, and assemble the people together, thou and Aaron thy brother, and speak to the rock before them, and it shall yield waters. And when thou hast brought forth water out of the rock, all the multitude and their cattle shall drink.

Tolle virgam et congrega populum tu et Aaron frater tuus et loquimini ad petram coram eis et illa dabit aquas cumque eduxeris aquam de petra bibet omnis multitudo et iumenta eius

20:9. Moses therefore took the rod, which was before the Lord, as he had commanded him,

Tulit igitur Moses virgam quae erat in conspectu Domini sicut praeceperat ei

20:10. And having gathered together the multitude before the rock, he said to them: Hear, ye rebellious and incredulous: Can we bring you forth water out of this rock?

Congregata multitudo ante petram dixitque eis audite rebelles et increduli num de petra hac vobis aquam poterimus eicere

20:11. And when Moses bad lifted up his hand, and struck the rock twice with the rod, there came forth water in great abundance, so that the people and their cattle drank,

Cumque elevasset Moses manum percutiens virga bis silicem egressae sunt aquae largissimae ita ut et populus biberet et iumenta

The rock... This rock was a figure of Christ, and the water that issued out from the rock, of his precious blood, the source of all our good.

20:12. And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron: Because you have not believed me, to sanctify me before the children of Israel, you shall not bring these people into the land, which I will give them.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen et Aaron quia non credidistis mihi ut sanctificaretis me coram filiis Israhel non introducetis hos populos in terram quam dabo eis

You have not believed, etc... The fault of Moses and Aaron, on this occasion, was a certain diffidence and weakness of faith; not doubting of God's power or veracity; but apprehending the unworthiness of that rebellious and incredulous people, and therefore speaking with some ambiguity.

20:13. This is the Water of contradiction, where the children of Israel strove with words against the Lord, and he was sanctified in them.

Haec est aqua Contradictionis ubi iurgati sunt filii Israhel contra Dominum et sanctificatus est in eis

The Water of contradiction... Or strife. Hebrew, Meribah.

20:14. In the mean time Moses sent messengers from Cades to the king of Edom, to say: Thus saith thy brother Israel: Thou knowest all the labour that hath come upon us:

Misit interea nuntios Moses de Cades ad regem Edom qui dicerent haec mandat frater tuus Israhel nosti omnem laborem qui adprehendit nos

20:15. In what manner our fathers went down into Egypt, and there we dwelt a long time, and the Egyptians afflicted us and our fathers.

Quomodo descenderint patres nostri in Aegyptum et habitaverimus ibi multo tempore adflixerintque nos Aegyptii et patres nostros

20:16. And how we cried to the Lord, and he heard us, and sent an angel, who hath brought us out of Egypt. Lo, we are now in the city of Cades, which is in the uttermost of thy borders,

Et quomodo clamaverimus ad Dominum et exaudierit nos miseritque angelum qui eduxerit nos de Aegypto ecce in urbe Cades quae est in extremis finibus tuis positi

20:17. And we beseech thee that we may have leave to pass through thy country. We will not go through the fields, nor through the vineyards, we will not drink the waters of thy wells, but we will go by the common highway, neither turning aside to the right hand, nor to the left, till we are past thy borders.

Obsecramus ut nobis transire liceat per terram tuam non ibimus per agros nec per vineas non bibemus aquas de puteis tuis sed gradiemur via publica nec ad dextram nec ad sinistram declinantes donec transeamus terminos tuos

20:18. And Edom answered them: Thou shalt not pass by me: if thou dost I will come out armed against thee.

Cui respondit Edom non transibis per me alioquin armatus occurram tibi

20:19. And the children of Israel said: We will go by the beaten way: and if we and our cattle drink of thy waters, we will give thee what is just: there shall be no difficulty in the price, only let us pass speedily.

Dixeruntque filii Israhel per tritam gradiemur viam et si biberimus aquas tuas nos et pecora nostra dabimus quod iustum est nulla erit in pretio difficultas tantum velociter transeamus

20:20. But he answered: Thou shalt not pass. And immediately he came forth to meet them with an infinite multitude, and a strong hand,

At ille respondit non transibis statimque egressus est obvius cum infinita multitudine et manu forti

20:21. Neither would he condescend to their desire to grant them passage through his borders. Wherefore Israel turned another way from him.

Nec voluit adquiescere deprecanti ut concederet transitum per fines suos quam ob rem devertit ab eo Israhel

20:22. And when they had removed the camp from Cades, they came to mount Hor, which is in the borders of the land of Edom:

Cumque castra movissent de Cades venerunt in montem Or qui est in finibus terrae Edom

20:23. Where the Lord spoke to Moses:

Ubi locutus est Dominus ad Mosen

20:24. Let Aaron, saith he, go to his people: for he shall not go into the land which I have given the children of Israel, because he was incredulous to my words, at the waters of contradiction.

Pergat inquit Aaron ad populos suos non enim intrabit terram quam dedi filiis Israhel eo quod incredulus fuerit ori meo ad aquas Contradictionis

20:25. Take Aaron and his son with him, and bring them up into mount Hor:
Tolle Aaron et filium eius cum eo et duces eos in montem Or

20:26. And when thou hast stripped the father of his vesture, thou shalt vest therewith Eleazar his son:
Aaron shall be gathered to his people, and die there.
Cumque nudaveris patrem veste sua indues ea Eleazarum filium eius et Aaron colligetur et morietur ibi

20:27. Moses did as the Lord had commanded: and they went up into mount Hor before all the multitude.
Fecit Moses ut praeceperat Dominus et ascenderunt in montem Or coram omni multitudine

20:28. And when he had stripped Aaron of his vestments, he vested Eleazar his son with them.
Cumque Aaron spoliasset vestibus suis induit eis Eleazarum filium eius

20:29. And Aaron being dead in the top of the mountain, he came down with Eleazar.
Illo mortuo in montis supercilio descendit cum Eleazaro

20:30. And all the multitude seeing that Aaron was dead, mourned for him thirty days throughout all their families.
Omnis autem multitudo videns occubuisse Aaron flevit super eo triginta diebus per cunctas familias suas

Numbers Chapter 21

King Arad is overcome. The people murmur and are punished with fiery serpents: they are healed by the brazen serpent. They conquer the kings Sehon and Og.

---

21:1. And when king Arad the Chanaanite, who dwelt towards the south, had heard this, to wit, that Israel was come by the way of the spies, he fought against them, and overcoming them carried off their spoils.
 Quod cum audisset Chananeus rex Arad qui habitabat ad meridiem venisse scilicet Israhel per exploratorum viam pugnavit contra illum et victor existens duxit ex eo praedam

21:2. But Israel binding himself by vow to the Lord, said: If thou wilt deliver thus people into my hand, I will utterly destroy their cities.

At Israhel voto se Domino obligans ait si tradideris populum istum in manu mea delebo urbes eius

21:3. And the Lord heard the prayers of Israel, and delivered up the Chanaanite, and they cut them off and destroyed their cities: and they called the name of that place Horma, that is to say, Anathema.

Exaudivitque Dominus preces Israhel et tradidit Chananeum quem ille interfecit subversis urbibus eius et vocavit nomen loci illius Horma id est anathema

Anathema... That is, a thing devoted to utter destruction.

21:4. And they marched from mount Hor, by the way that leadeth to the Red Sea, to compass the land of Edom. And the people began to be weary of their journey and labour:

Profecti sunt autem et de monte Or per viam quae ducit ad mare Rubrum ut circumirent terram Edom et taedere coepit populum itineris ac laboris

21:5. And speaking against God and Moses, they said: Why didst thou bring us out of Egypt, to die in the wilderness? There is no bread, nor have we any waters: our soul now loatheth this very light food.

Locutusque contra Deum et Mosen ait cur eduxisti nos de Aegypto ut moreremur in solitudine deest panis non sunt aquae anima nostra iam nausiat super cibo isto levissimo

Very light food... So they call the heavenly manna: thus worldlings loathe the things of heaven, for which they have no relish.

21:6. Wherefore the Lord sent among the people fiery serpents, which bit them and killed many of them.

Quam ob rem misit Dominus in populum ignitos serpentes ad quorum plagas et mortes plurimorum

Fiery serpents... They are so called, because they that were bitten by them were burnt with a violent heat.

21:7. Upon which they came to Moses, and said; We have sinned, because we have spoken against the Lord and thee: pray that he may take away these serpents from us. And Moses prayed for the people.

Venerunt ad Mosen atque dixerunt peccavimus quia locuti sumus contra Dominum et te ora ut tollat a nobis serpentes oravit Moses pro populo

21:8. And the Lord said to him: Make a brazen serpent, and set it up for a sign: whosoever being struck shall look on it, shall live.

Et locutus est Dominus ad eum fac serpentem et pone eum pro signo qui percussus aspexerit eum vivet

21:9. Moses therefore made a brazen serpent, and set it up for a sign: which when they that were bitten looked upon, they were healed.

Fecit ergo Moses serpentem aeneum et posuit pro signo quem cum percussi aspicerent sanabantur

A brazen serpent... This was a figure of Christ crucified, and of the efficacy of a lively faith in him, against the bites of the hellish serpent. John 3:14.

21:10. And the children of Israel setting forwards camped in Oboth.

Profectique filii Israhel castrametati sunt in Oboth

21:11. And departing thence they pitched their tents in Jeabarim, in the wilderness, that faceth Moab toward the east.

Unde egressi fixere tentoria in Hieabarim in solitudine quae respicit Moab contra orientalem plagam

21:12. And removing from thence, they came to the torrent Zared:

Et inde moventes venerunt ad torrentem Zared

21:13. Which they left and encamped over against Arnon, which is in the desert and standeth out on the borders of the Amorrhite. For Arnon is the border of Moab, dividing the Moabites and the Amorrhites.

Quem relinquentes castrametati sunt contra Arnon quae est in deserto et prominet in finibus Amorrei siquidem Arnon terminus est Moab dividens Moabitas et Amorreos

21:14. Wherefore it is said in the book of the wars of the Lord: As he did in the Red Sea, so will he do in the streams of Arnon.

Unde dicitur in libro bellorum Domini sicut fecit in mari Rubro sic faciet in torrentibus Arnon

The book of the wars, etc... An ancient book, which, like several others quoted in scripture, has been lost.

21:15. The rocks of the torrents were bowed down that they might rest in Ar, and lie down in the borders of the Moabites.

Scopuli torrentium inclinati sunt ut requiescerent in Ar et recumberent in finibus Moabitarum

21:16. When they went from that place, the well appeared whereof the Lord said to Moses: Gather the people together, and I will give them water.

Ex eo loco apparuit puteus super quo locutus est Dominus ad Mosen congrega populum et dabo ei aquam

21:17. Then Israel sung this song: Let the well spring up. They sung thereto:

Tunc cecinit Israhel carmen istud ascendat puteus concinebant

21:18. The well, which the princes dug, and the chiefs of the people prepared by the direction of the lawgiver, and with their staves. And they marched from the wilderness to Mathana.

Puteus quem foderunt principes et paraverunt duces multitudinis in datore legis et in baculis suis de solitudine Matthana

21:19. From Mathana unto Nahaliel: from Nahaliel unto Bamoth.

De Matthana Nahalihel de Nahalihel in Bamoth

21:20. From Bamoth, is a valley in the country of Moab, to the top of Phasga, which looked towards the desert.

De Bamoth vallis est in regione Moab in vertice Phasga et quod respicit contra desertum

21:21. And Israel sent messengers to Sehon king of the Amorrhites, saying:

Misit autem Israhel nuntios ad Seon regem Amorreorum dicens

21:22. I beseech thee that I may have leave to pass through thy land: we will not go aside into the fields or the vineyards, we will not drink waters of the wells, we will go the king's highway, till we be past thy borders.

Obsecro ut transire mihi liceat per terram tuam non declinabimus in agros et vineas non bibemus aquas ex puteis via regia gradiemur donec transeamus terminos tuos

21:23. And he would not grant that Israel should pass by his borders: but rather gathering an army, went forth to meet them in the desert, and came to Jasa and fought against them.

Qui concedere noluit ut transiret Israhel per fines suos quin potius exercitu congregato egressus est obviam in desertum et venit in Iasa pugnavitque contra eum

21:24. And he was slain by them with the edge of the sword, and they possessed his land from the Arnon unto the Jeboc, and to the confines of the children of Ammon: for the borders of the Ammonites, were kept with a strong garrison.

A quo percussus est in ore gladii et possessa est terra eius ab Arnon usque Ieboc et filios Ammon quia forti praesidio tenebantur termini Ammanitarum

21:25. So Israel took all his cities, and dwelt in the cities of the Amorrhite, to wit, in Hesebon, and in the villages thereof.

Tulit ergo Israhel omnes civitates eius et habitavit in urbibus Amorrei in Esebon scilicet et viculis eius

21:26. Hesebon was the city of Sehon the king of the Amorrhites, who fought against the king of Moab: and took all the land, that had been of his dominion, as far as the Arnon.

Urbs Esebon fuit regis Seon Amorrei qui pugnavit contra regem Moab et tulit omnem terram quae dicionis illius fuerat usque Arnon

21:27. Therefore it is said in the proverb: Come into Hesebon, let the city of Sehon be built and set up: Idcirco dicitur in proverbio venite in Esebon aedificetur et construatur civitas Seon

21:28. A fire is gone out of Hesebon, a flame from the city of Sehon, and hath consumed Ar of the Moabites, and the inhabitants of the high places of the Arnon.

Ignis egressus est de Esebon flamma de oppido Seon et devoravit Ar Moabitarum et habitatores excelsorum Arnon

21:29. Woe to thee Moab: thou art undone, O people of Chamos. He hath given his sons to flight, and his daughters into captivity to Sehon the king of the Amorrhites.

Vae tibi Moab peristi popule Chamos dedit filios eius in fugam et filias in captivitatem regi Amorreorum Seon

21:30. Their yoke is perished from Hesebon unto Dibon, they came weary to Nophe, and unto Medaba. Iugum ipsorum disperiit ab Esebon usque Dibon lassii pervenerunt in Nophe et usque Medaba

21:31. So Israel dwelt in the land of the Amorrhite.

Habitavit itaque Israhel in terra Amorrei

21:32. And Moses sent some to take a view of Jazer: and they took the villages of it, and conquered the inhabitants.

Misitque Moses qui explorarent Iazer cuius ceperunt viculos et possederunt habitatores

21:33. And they turned themselves, and went up by the way of Basan, and Og the king of Basan came against them with all his people, to fight in Edrai.

Verteruntque se et ascenderunt per viam Basan et occurrit eis Og rex Basan cum omni populo suo pugnaturus in Edrai

21:34. And the Lord said to Moses: Fear him not, for I have delivered him and all his people, and his country into thy hand: and thou shalt do to him as thou didst to Sehon the king of the Amorrhites, the inhabitant of Hesebon.

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen ne timeas eum quia in manu tua tradidi illum et omnem populum ac terram eius faciesque illi sicut fecisti Seon regi Amorreorum habitatori Esebon

21:35. So they slew him also with his sons, and all his people, not letting any one escape, and they possessed his land.

Percusserunt igitur et hunc cum filiis suis universumque populum eius usque ad internicionem et possederunt terram illius

Numbers Chapter 22

Balac, king of Moab, sendeth twice for Balaam to curse Israel. In his way Balaam is rebuked by an angel.

---

22:1. And they went forward and encamped in the plains of Moab, over against where Jericho is situate beyond the Jordan.

Profectique castrametati sunt in campestribus Moab ubi trans Iordanem Hierichus sita est

22:2. And Balac the son of Sephor, seeing all that Israel had done to the Amorrhite,

Videns autem Balac filius Sepphor omnia quae fecerat Israhel Amorreo

22:3. And that the Moabites were in great fear of him, and were not able to sustain his assault,

Et quod pertimuissent eum Moabitae et impetum eius ferre non possent

22:4. He said to the elders of Madian: So will this people destroy all that dwell in our borders, as the ox is wont to eat the grass to the very roots. Now he was at that time king in Moab.

Dixit ad maiores natu Madian ita delebit hic populus omnes qui in nostris finibus commorantur quomodo solet bos herbas usque ad radices carpere ipse erat eo tempore rex in Moab

22:5. He sent therefore messengers to Balaam the son of Beor, a soothsayer, who dwelt by the river of the land of the children of Ammon, to call him, and to say: Behold a people is come out of Egypt, that hath covered the face of the earth, sitting over against me.

Misit ergo nuntios ad Balaam filium Beor ariolum qui habitabat super flumen terrae filiorum Ammon ut vocarent eum et dicerent ecce egressus est populus ex Aegypto qui operuit superficiem terrae sedens contra me

22:6. Come therefore, and curse this people, because it is mightier than I: if by any means I may beat them and drive them out of my land: for I know that he whom thou shalt bless is blessed, and he whom thou shalt curse is cursed.

Veni igitur et maledic populo huic quia fortior me est si quo modo possim percutere et eicere eum de terra mea novi enim quod benedictus sit cui benedixeris et maledictus in quem maledicta congesseris

22:7. And the ancients of Moab, and the elders of Madian, went with the price of divination in their hands. And where they were come to Balaam, and had told him all the words of Balac:

Perrexerunt seniores Moab et maiores natu Madian habentes divinationis pretium in manibus cumque venissent ad Balaam et narrassent ei omnia verba Balac

22:8. He answered: Tarry here this night and I will answer whatsoever the Lord shall say to me. And while they stayed with Balaam, God came and said to him:

Ille respondit manete hic nocte et respondebo quicquid mihi dixerit Dominus manentibus illis apud Balaam venit Deus et ait ad eum

22:9. What mean these men that are with thee?

Quid sibi volunt homines isti apud te

22:10. He answered: Balac the son of Sephor king of the Moabites hath sent to me,

Respondit Balac filius Sepphor rex Moabitarum misit ad me

22:11. Saying: Behold a people that is come out of Egypt, hath covered the face of the land: come and curse them, if by any means I may fight with them and drive them away.

Dicens ecce populus qui egressus est de Aegypto operuit superficiem terrae veni et maledic ei si quo modo possim pugnans abicere eum

22:12. And God said to Balaam: Thou shalt not go with them, nor shalt thou curse the people: because it is blessed.

Dixitque Deus ad Balaam noli ire cum eis neque maledicas populo quia benedictus est

22:13. And he rose in the morning and said to the princes: Go into your country, because the Lord hath forbid me to come with you.

Qui mane consurgens dixit ad principes ite in terram vestram quia prohibuit me Deus venire vobiscum

22:14. The princes returning, said to Balac: Balaam would not come with us.

Reversi principes dixerunt ad Balac noluit Balaam venire nobiscum

22:15. Then he sent many more and more noble than he had sent before:

Rursum ille multo plures et nobiliores quam ante miserat misit

22:16. Who, when they were come to Balaam, said: Thus saith Balac the son of Sephor, Delay not to come to me:

Qui cum venissent ad Balaam dixerunt sic dicit Balac filius Sephor ne cuncteris venire ad me

22:17. For I am ready to honour thee, and will give thee whatsoever thou wilt: come and curse this people.

Paratum honorare te et quicquid volueris dare veni et maledic populo isti

22:18. Balaam answered: If Balac would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot alter the word of the Lord my God, to speak either more or less.

Respondit Balaam si dederit mihi Balac plenam domum suam argenti et auri non potero inmutare verbum Domini Dei mei ut vel plus vel minus loquar

22:19. I pray you to stay here this night also, that I may know what the Lord will answer me once more.

Obsecro ut hic maneatis etiam hac nocte et scire queam quid mihi rursum respondeat Dominus

To stay... His desiring them to stay, after he had been fully informed already that it was not God's will he should go, came from the inclination he had to gratify Balac, for the sake of worldly gain. And this perverse disposition God punished by permitting him to go (though not to curse the people as he would willingly have done), and suffering him to fall still deeper and deeper into sin, till he came at last to give that abominable counsel against the people of God, which ended in his own destruction. So sad a thing it is to indulge a passion for money.

22:20. God therefore came to Balaam in the night, and said to him: If these men be come to call thee, arise and go with them: yet so, that thou do what I shall command thee.

Venit ergo Deus ad Balaam nocte et ait ei si vocare te venerunt homines isti surge et vade cum eis ita dumtaxat ut quod tibi praecepero facias

22:21. Balaam arose in the morning, and saddling his ass went with them.

Surrexit Balaam mane et strata asina profectus est cum eis

22:22. And God was angry. And an angel of the Lord stood in the way against Balaam, who sat on the ass, and had two servants with him.

Et iratus est Deus stetitque angelus Domini in via contra Balaam qui sedebat asinae et duos pueros habebat secum

22:23. The ass seeing the angel standing in the way, with a drawn sword, turned herself out of the way, and went into the field. And when Balaam beat her, and had a mind to bring her again to the way,

Cernens asina angelum stantem in via evaginato gladio avertit se de itinere et ibat per agrum quam cum verberaret Balaam et vellet ad semitam reducere

22:24. The angel stood in a narrow place between two walls, wherewith the vineyards were enclosed.

Stetit angelus in angustiis duarum maceriarum quibus vineae cingebantur

22:25. And the ass seeing him, thrust herself close to the wall, and bruised the foot of the rider. But he beat her again:

Quem videns asina iunxit se parieti et adtrivit sedentis pedem at ille iterum verberabat

22:26. And nevertheless the angel going on to a narrow place, where there was no way to turn aside either to the right hand or to the left, stood to meet him.

Et nihilominus angelus ad locum angustum transiens ubi nec ad dextram nec ad sinistram poterat deviari obvius stetit

22:27. And when the ass saw the angel standing, she fell under the feet of the rider: who being angry beat her sides more vehemently with a staff.

Cumque vidisset asina stantem angelum concidit sub pedibus sedentis qui iratus vehementius caedebat fuste latera

22:28. And the Lord opened the mouth of the ass, and she said: What have I done to thee? Why strikest thou me, lo, now this third time?

Aperuitque Dominus os asinae et locuta est quid feci tibi cur percutis me ecce iam tertio

Opened the mouth, etc... The angel moved the tongue of the ass, to utter these speeches, to rebuke, by the mouth of a brute beast, the brutal fury and folly of Balaam.

22:29. Balaam answered: Because thou hast deserved it, and hast served me ill: I would I had a sword that I might kill thee.

Respondit Balaam quia commeruisti et inlusisti mihi utinam haberem gladium ut te percuterem

22:30. The ass said: Am not I thy beast, on which thou hast been always accustomed to ride until this present day? tell me if I ever did the like thing to thee. But he said: Never.

Dixit asina nonne animal tuum sum cui semper sedere consuesti usque in praesentem diem dic quid simile umquam fecerim tibi at ille ait numquam

22:31. Forthwith the Lord opened the eyes of Balaam, and he saw the angel standing in the way with a drawn sword, and he worshipped him falling flat on the ground.

Protinus aperuit Dominus oculos Balaam et vidit angelum stantem in via evaginato gladio adoravitque eum pronus in terram

22:32. And the angel said to him: Why beatest thou thy ass these three times? I am come to withstand thee, because thy way is perverse, and contrary to me:

Cui angelus cur inquit tertio verberas asinam tuam ego veni ut adversarer tibi quia perversa est via tua mihique contraria

Perverse... Because thy inclinations are wicked in being willing for the sake of gain to curse the people of whom I am the guardian.

22:33. And unless the ass had turned out of the way, giving place to me who stood against thee, I had slain thee, and she should have lived.

Et nisi asina declinasset de via dans locum resistenti te occidissem et illa viveret

22:34. Balaam said: I have sinned, not knowing that thou didst stand against me: and now if it displease thee that I go, I will return.

Dixit Balaam peccavi nesciens quod tu stares contra me et nunc si displicet tibi ut vadam revertar

22:35. The angel said: Go with these men, and see thou speak no other thing than what I shall command thee. He went therefore with the princes.

Ait angelus vade cum istis et cave ne aliud quam praecepero tibi loquaris ivit igitur cum principibus

22:36. And when Balac heard it he came forth to meet him in a town of the Moabites, that is situate in the uttermost borders of Arnon.

Quod cum audisset Balac egressus est in occursum eius in oppido Moabitarum quod situm est in extremis finibus Arnon

22:37. And he said to Balaam: I sent messengers to call thee, why didst thou not come immediately to me? was it because I am not able to reward thy coming?

Dixitque ad Balaam misi nuntios ut vocarent te cur non statim venisti ad me an quia mercedem adventui tuo reddere nequeo

22:38. He answered him: Lo, here I am: shall I have power to speak any other thing but that which God shall put in my mouth?

Cui ille respondit ecce adsum numquid loqui potero aliud nisi quod Deus posuerit in ore meo

22:39. So they went on together, and came into a city, that was in the uttermost borders of his kingdom.

Perrexerunt ergo simul et venerunt in urbem quae in extremis regni eius finibus erat

22:40. And when Balac had killed oxen and sheep, he sent presents to Balaam, and to the princes that were with him.

Cumque occidisset Balac boves et oves misit ad Balaam et principes qui cum eo erant munera

22:41. And when morning was come, he brought him to the high places of Baal, and he beheld the uttermost part of the people.

Mane autem factus duxit eum ad excelsa Baal et intuitus est extremam partem populi

Numbers Chapter 23

Balaam, instead of cursing Israel, is obliged to bless them, and prophesy good things of them.

---

23:1. And Balaam said to Balac: Build me here seven altars, and prepare as many calves, and the same number of rams.

Dixitque Balaam ad Balac aedifica mihi hic septem aras et para totidem vitulos eiusdemque numeri arietes

23:2. And when he had done according to the word of Balaam, they laid together a calf and a ram upon every altar.

Cumque fecisset iuxta sermonem Balaam inposuerunt simul vitulum et arietem super aram

23:3. And Balaam said to Balac: Stand a while by thy burnt offering, until I go, to see if perhaps the Lord will meet me, and whatsoever he shall command, I will speak to thee.

Dixitque Balaam ad Balac sta paulisper iuxta holocaustum tuum donec vadam si forte occurrat mihi Dominus et quodcumque imperaverit loquar tibi

23:4. And when he was gone with speed, God met him. And Balaam speaking to him, said: I have erected seven altars, and have laid on everyone a calf and a ram.

Cumque abisset velociter occurrit ei Deus locutusque ad eum Balaam septem inquit aras erexi et inposui vitulum et arietem desuper

23:5. And the Lord put the word in his mouth, and said: Return to Balac, and thus shalt thou speak.

Dominus autem posuit verbum in ore eius et ait revertere ad Balac et haec loqueris

23:6. Returning he found Balac standing by his burnt offering, with all the princes of the Moabites:

Reversus invenit stantem Balac iuxta holocaustum suum et omnes principes Moabitarum

23:7. And taking up his parable, he said: Balac king of the Moabites hath brought me from Aram, from the mountains of the east: Come, said he, and curse Jacob: make haste and detest Israel.

Adsumptaque parabola sua dixit de Aram adduxit me Balac rex Moabitarum de montibus orientis veni inquit et maledic Iacob propera et detestare Israhel

23:8. How shall I curse him, whom God hath not cursed? By what means should I detest him, whom the Lord detesteth not?

Quomodo maledicam cui non maledixit Deus qua ratione detester quem Dominus non detestatur

23:9. I shall see him from the tops of the rocks, and shall consider him from the hills. This people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations.

De summis silicibus videbo eum et de collibus considerabo illum populus solus habitabit et inter gentes non reputabitur

23:10. Who can count the dust of Jacob, and know the number of the stock of Israel? Let my soul die the death of the just, and my last end be like to them.

Quis dinumerare possit pulverem Iacob et nosse numerum stirpis Israhel moriatur anima mea morte iustorum et fiant novissima mea horum similia

23:11. And Balac said to Balaam: What is this that thou dost? I sent for thee to curse my enemies: and thou contrariwise blessest them.

Dixitque Balac ad Balaam quid est hoc quod agis ut malediceres inimicis vocavi te et tu e contrario benediscis eis

23:12. He answered him: Can I speak any thing else but what the Lord commandeth?

Cui ille respondit num aliud possum loqui nisi quod iusserit Dominus

23:13. Balac therefore said: Come with me to another place from whence thou mayest see part of Israel, and canst not see them all: curse them from thence.

Dixit ergo Balac veni mecum in alterum locum unde partem Israhelis videas et totum videre non possis inde maledicito ei

23:14. And when he had brought him to a high place, upon the top of mount Phasga, Balaam built seven altars, and laying on every one a calf and a ram,

Cumque duxisset eum in locum sublimem super verticem montis Phasga aedificavit Balaam septem aras et inpositis supra vitulo atque ariete

23:15. He said to Balac: Stand here by thy burnt offering while I go to meet him.

Dixit ad Balac sta hic iuxta holocaustum tuum donec ego pergam obvius

23:16. And when the Lord had met him, and had put the word in his mouth, he said: Return to Balac, and thus shalt thou say to him.

Cui cum Dominus occurrisset posuissetque verbum in ore eius ait revertere ad Balac et haec loqueris ei

23:17. Returning he found him standing by his burnt sacrifice, and the princes of the Moabites with him. And Balac said to him: What hath the Lord spoken?

Reversus invenit eum stantem iuxta holocaustum suum et principes Moabitarum cum eo ad quem Balac quid inquit locutus est Dominus

23:18. But he taking up his parable, said: Stand, O Balac, and give ear: hear, thou son of Sephor:

At ille adsumpta parabola sua ait sta Balac et ausculta audi fili Sephor

23:19. God is not a man, that he should lie, nor is the son of man, that he should be changed. Hath he said then, and will he not do? hath he spoken, and will he not fulfil?

Non est Deus quasi homo ut mentiatur nec ut filius hominis ut mutetur dixit ergo et non faciet locutus est et non implebit

23:20. I was brought to bless, the blessing I am not able to hinder.

Ad benedicendum adductus sum benedictionem prohibere non valeo

23:21. There is no idol in Jacob, neither is there an image god to be seen in Israel. The Lord his God is with him, and the sound of the victory of the king in him.

Non est idolum in Iacob nec videtur simulacrum in Israhel Dominus Deus eius cum eo est et clangor victoriae regis in illo

23:22. God hath brought him out of Egypt, whose strength is like to the rhinoceros.

Deus eduxit eum de Aegypto cuius fortitudo similis est rinocerotis

23:23. There is no soothsaying in Jacob, nor divination in Israel. In their times it shall be told to Jacob and to Israel what God hath wrought.

Non est augurium in Iacob nec divinatio in Israhel temporibus suis dicetur Iacob et Israheli quid operatus sit Deus

23:24. Behold the people shall rise up as a lioness, and shall lift itself up as a lion: it shall not lie down till it devour the prey, and drink the blood of the slain.

Ecce populus ut leaena consurget et quasi leo erigetur non accubabit donec devoret praedam et occisorum sanguinem bibat

23:25. And Balac said to Balaam: Neither curse, nor bless him.

Dixitque Balac ad Balaam nec maledicas ei nec benedicas

23:26. And he said: Did I not tell thee, that whatsoever God should command me, that I would do?

Et ille nonne ait dixi tibi quod quicquid mihi Deus imperaret hoc facerem

23:27. And Balac said to him: Come and I will bring thee to another place; if peradventure it please God that thou mayest curse them from thence.

Et ait Balac ad eum veni et ducam te ad alium locum si forte placeat Deo ut inde maledicas eis

23:28. And when he had brought him upon the top of mount Phogor, which looketh towards the wilderness,

Cumque duxisset eum super verticem montis Phogor qui respicit solitudinem

23:29. Balaam said to him: Build me here seven altars, and prepare as many calves, and the same number of rams.

Dixit ei Balaam aedifica mihi hic septem aras et para totidem vitulos eiusdemque numeri arietes

23:30. Balac did as Balaam had said: and he laid on every altar, a calf and a ram.

Fecit Balac ut Balaam dixerat inposuitque vitulos et arietes per singulas aras

Numbers Chapter 24

Balaam still continues to prophesy good things in favour of Israel.

24:1. And when Balaam saw that it pleased the Lord that he should bless Israel, he went not as he had gone before, to seek divination: but setting his face towards the desert,
Cumque vidisset Balaam quod placeret Domino ut benediceret Israheli nequaquam abiit ut ante perrexerat ut augurium quaereret sed dirigens contra desertum vultum suum

24:2. And lifting up his eyes, he saw Israel abiding in their tents by their tribes: and the spirit of God rushing upon him,
Et elevans oculos vidit Israhel in tentoriis commorantem per tribus suas et inruente in se spiritu Dei

24:3. He took up his parable and said: Balaam the son of Beor hath said: The man hath said, whose eye is stopped up:
Adsumpta parabola ait dixit Balaam filius Beor dixit homo cuius obturatus est oculus

24:4. The bearer of the words of God hath said, he that hath beheld the vision of the Almighty, he that falleth, and so his eyes are opened:
Dixit auditor sermonum Dei qui visionem Omnipotentis intuitus est qui cadit et sic aperiuntur oculi eius

24:5. How beautiful are thy tabernacles O Jacob, and thy tents, O Israel!
Quam pulchra tabernacula tua Iacob et tentoria tua Israhel

24:6. As woody valleys, as watered gardens near the rivers, as tabernacles which the Lord hath pitched, as cedars by the waterside.
Ut valles nemorosae ut horti iuxta fluvios inrigui ut tabernacula quae fixit Dominus quasi cedri propter aquas

24:7. Water shall flow out of his bucket, and his seed shall be in many waters. For Agag his king shall be removed, and his kingdom shall be taken away.
Fluet aqua de situla eius et semen illius erit in aquas multas tolletur propter Agag rex eius et auferetur regnum illius

24:8. God hath brought him out of Egypt, whose strength is like to the rhinoceros. They shall devour the nations that are his enemies, and break their bones, and pierce them with arrows.
Deus eduxit illum de Aegypto cuius fortitudo similis est rinocerotis devorabunt gentes hostes illius ossaque eorum confringent et perforabunt sagittis

24:9. Lying down he hath slept as a lion, and as a lioness, whom none shall dare to rouse. He that blesseth thee, shall also himself be blessed: he that curseth thee shall be reckoned accursed.
Accubans dormivit ut leo et quasi leaena quam suscitare nullus audebit qui benedixerit tibi erit ipse benedictus qui maledixerit in maledictione reputabitur

24:10. And Balac being angry against Balaam, clapped his hands together and said: I called thee to curse my enemies, and thou on the contrary hast blessed them three times.
Iratuque Balac contra Balaam conplosis manibus ait ad maledicendum inimicis meis vocavi te quibus e contrario tertio benedixisti

24:11. Return to thy place. I had determined indeed greatly to honour thee, but the Lord hath deprived thee of the honour designed for thee.
Revertere ad locum decreveram quidem magnifice honorare te sed Dominus privavit te honore disposito

24:12. Balaam made answer to Balac: Did I not say to thy messengers, whom thou sentest to me:

Respondit Balaam ad Balac nonne nuntiis tuis quos misisti ad me dixi

24:13. If Balac would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the word of the Lord my God, to utter any thing of my own head either good or evil: but whatsoever the Lord shall say, that I will speak?

Si dederit mihi Balac plenam domum suam argenti et auri non potero praeterire sermonem Domini Dei mei ut vel boni quid vel mali proferam ex corde meo sed quicquid Dominus dixerit hoc loquar

24:14. But yet going to my people, I will give thee counsel, what this people shall do to thy people in the latter days.

Verumtamen pergens ad populum meum dabo consilium quid populus tuus huic populo faciat extremo tempore

24:15. Therefore taking up his parable, again he said: Balaam the son of Beor hath said: The man whose eye is stopped up, hath said:

Sumpta igitur parabola rursum ait dixit Balaam filius Beor dixit homo cuius obturatus est oculus

24:16. The hearer of the words of God hath said, who knoweth the doctrine of the Highest, and seeth the visions of the Almighty, who falling hath his eyes opened:

Dixit auditor sermonum Dei qui novit doctrinam Altissimi et visiones Omnipotentis videt qui cadens apertos habet oculos

24:17. I shall see him, but not now: I shall behold him, but not near. A star shall rise out of Jacob and a sceptre shall spring up from Israel: and shall strike the chiefs of Moab, and shall waste all the children of Seth

Videbo eum sed non modo intuebor illum sed non prope orietur stella ex Iacob et consurget virga de Israhel et percutiet duces Moab vastabitque omnes filios Seth

24:18. And he shall possess Idumea: the inheritance of Seir shall come to their enemies, but Israel shall do manfully.

Et erit Idumea possessio eius hereditas Seir cedet inimicis suis Israhel vero fortiter aget

24:19. Out of Jacob shall he come that shall rule, and shall destroy the remains of the city.

De Iacob erit qui dominetur et perdat reliquias civitatis

24:20. And when he saw Amalec, he took up his parable, and said: Amalec the beginning of nations, whose latter ends shall be destroyed.

Cumque vidisset Amalech adsumens parabolam ait principium gentium Amalech cuius extrema perdentur

24:21. He saw also the Cinite: and took up his parable, and said: Thy habitation indeed is strong: but though thou build thy nest in a rock,

Vidit quoque Cineum et adsumpta parabola ait robustum est quidem habitaculum tuum sed si in petra posueris nidum tuum

24:22. And thou be chosen of the stock of Cin, how long shalt thou be able to continue? For Assur shall take thee captive.

Et fueris electus de stirpe Cain quamdiu poteris permanere Assur enim capiet te

24:23. And taking up his parable, again he said: Alas, who shall live when God shall do these things?

Adsumptaque parabola iterum locutus est heu quis victurus est quando ista faciet Deus

24:24. They shall come in galleys from Italy, they shall overcome the Assyrians, and shall waste the Hebrews, and at the last they themselves also shall perish.

Venient in trieribus de Italia superabunt Assyrios vastabuntque Hebraeos et ad extremum etiam ipsi peribunt

24:25. And Balaam rose, and returned to his place: Balac also returned the way that he came.

Surrexitque Balaam et reversus est in locum suum Balac quoque via qua venerat rediit

Numbers Chapter 25

The people fall into fornication and idolatry; for which twenty-four thousand are slain. The zeal of Phinees.

---

25:1. And Israel at that time abode in Settim, and the people committed fornication with the daughters of Moab,

Morabatur autem eo tempore Israhel in Setthim et fornicatus est populus cum filiabus Moab

25:2. Who called them to their sacrifices. And they ate of them, and adored their gods.

Quae vocaverunt eos ad sacrificia sua at illi comederunt et adoraverunt deos earum

25:3. And Israel was initiated to Beelphegor: upon which the Lord being angry,

Initiatusque est Israhel Beelphegor et iratus Dominus

Initiated to Beelphegor... That is, they took to the worship of Beelphegor, an obscene idol of the Moabites, and were consecrated, as it were, to him.

25:4. Said to Moses: Take all the princes of the people, and hang them up on gibbets against the sun: that my fury may be turned away from Israel.

Ait ad Mosen tolle cunctos principes populi et suspende eos contra solem in patibulis ut avertatur furor meus ab Israhel

25:5. And Moses said to the judges of Israel: Let every man kill his neighbours, that have been initiated to Beelphegor.

Dixitque Moses ad iudices Israhel occidat unusquisque proximos suos qui initiati sunt Beelphegor

25:6. And behold one of the children of Israel went in before his brethren to a harlot of Madian, in the sight of Moses and of all the children of Israel, who were weeping before the door of the tabernacle.

Et ecce unus de filiis Israhel intravit coram fratribus suis ad scortum madianitin vidente Mose et omni turba filiorum Israhel qui flebant ante fores tabernaculi

25:7. And when Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest saw it, he rose up from the midst of the multitude, and taking a dagger,

Quod cum vidisset Finees filius Eleazari filii Aaron sacerdotis surrexit de medio multitudinis et arrepto pugione

25:8. Went in after the Israelite into the brothel house, and thrust both of them through together, to wit, the man and the woman in the genital parts. And the scourge ceased from the children of Israel.

Ingressus est post virum israhelitem in lupanar et perfodit ambos simul virum scilicet et mulierem in locis genitalibus cessavitque plaga a filiis Israhel

25:9. And there were slain four and twenty thousand men.

Et occisi sunt viginti quattuor milia homines

25:10. And the Lord said to Moses:

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen

25:11. Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, hath turned away my wrath from the children of Israel: because he was moved with my zeal against them, that I myself might not destroy the children of Israel in my zeal.

Finees filius Eleazari filii Aaron sacerdotis avertit iram meam a filiis Israhel quia zelo meo commotus est contra eos ut non ipse delerem filios Israhel in zelo meo

25:12. Therefore say to him: behold I give him the peace of my covenant,

Idcirco loquere ad eos ecce do ei pacem foederis mei

25:13. And the covenant of the priesthood for ever shall be both to him and his seed, because he hath been zealous for his God, and hath made atonement for the wickedness of the children of Israel.
Et erit tam ipsi quam semini illius pactum sacerdotii sempiternum quia zelatus est pro Deo suo et expiavit scelus filiorum Israhel

25:14. And the name of the Israelite, that was slain with the woman of Madian, was Zambri the son of Salu, a prince of the kindred and tribe of Simeon.
Erat autem nomen viri israhelitae qui occisus est cum Madianitide Zambri filius Salu dux de cognatione et tribu Symeonis

25:15. And the Madianite woman, that was slain with him, was called Cozbi the daughter of Sur, a most noble prince among the Madianites.
Porro mulier madianitis quae pariter interfecta est vocabatur Chozbi filia Sur principis nobilissimi Madianitarum

25:16. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:
Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

25:17. Let the Madianites find you their enemies, and slay you them:
Hostes vos sentiant Madianitae et percutite eos

25:18. Because they also have acted like enemies against you, and have guilefully deceived you by the idol Phogor, and Cozbi their sister, a daughter of a prince of Madian, who was slain in the day of the plague for the sacrilege of Phogor.
Quia et ipsi hostiliter egerunt contra vos et decipere insidiis per idolum Phogor et Chozbi filiam ducis Madian sororem suam quae percussa est in die plagae pro sacrilegio Phogor

Numbers Chapter 26

The people are again numbered by their tribes and families.

26:1. After the blood of the guilty was shed, the Lord said to Moses and to Eleazar the son of Aaron, the priest:

Postquam noxiorum sanguis effusus est dixit Dominus ad Mosen et Eleazarum filium Aaron sacerdotem

26:2. Number the whole sum of the children of Israel from twenty years old and upward, by their houses and kindreds, all that are able to go forth to war.

Numerate omnem summam filiorum Israhel a viginti annis et supra per domos et cognationes suas cunctos qui possunt ad bella procedere

26:3. Moses therefore and Eleazar the priest, being in the plains of Moab upon the Jordan over against Jericho, spoke to them that were

Locuti sunt itaque Moses et Eleazar sacerdos in campestribus Moab super Iordanem contra Hierichum ad eos qui erant

26:4. From twenty years old and upward, as the Lord had commanded: and this is the number of them:

A viginti annis et supra sicut Dominus imperarat quorum iste est numerus

26:5. Ruben the firstborn of Israel. His sons were Henoah, of whom is the family of the Henoahites: and Phallu, of whom is the family of the Phalluites:

Ruben primogenitus Israhel huius filius Enoch a quo familia Enochitarum et Phallu a quo familia Phalluitarum

26:6. And Hesron, of whom is the family of the Hesronites: and Charmi, of whom is the family of the Charmites.

Et Esrom a quo familia Esromitarum et Charmi a quo familia Charmitarum

26:7. These are the families of the stock of Ruben: whose number was found to be forty-three thousand seven hundred and thirty.

Hae sunt familiae de stirpe Ruben quarum numerus inventus est quadraginta tria milia et septingenti triginta

26:8. The son of Phallu was Eliab.

Filius Phallu Heliab

26:9. His sons, were Namuel and Dathan and Abiron. These are Dathan and Abiron the princes of the people, that rose against Moses and Aaron in the sedition of Core, when they rebelled against the Lord:

Huius filii Namuhel et Dathan et Abiram isti sunt Dathan et Abiram principes populi qui surrexerunt contra Mosen et Aaron in seditione Core quando adversum Dominum rebellaverunt

26:10. And the earth opening her mouth swallowed up Core, many others dying, when the fire burned two hundred and fifty men. And there was a great miracle wrought,

Et aperiens terra os suum devoravit Core morientibus plurimis quando conbusit ignis ducentos quinquaginta viros et factum est grande miraculum

26:11. That when Core perished, his sons did not perish.

Ut Core pereunte filii illius non perirent

26:12. The sons of Simeon by their kindreds: Namuel, of him is the family of the Namuelites: Jamin, of him is the family of the Jaminites: Jachim, of him is the family of the Jachimites:

Filii Symeon per cognationes suas Namuhel ab hoc familia Namuhelitarum Iamin ab hoc familia Iaminitarum Iachin ab hoc familia Iachinitarum

26:13. Zare, of him is the family of the Zarites: Saul, of him is the family of the Saulites.
Zare ab hoc familia Zareitarum Saul ab hoc familia Saulitarum

26:14. These are the families of the stock of Simeon, of which the whole number was twenty-two thousand two hundred.
Hae sunt familiae de stirpe Symeon quarum omnis numerus fuit viginti duo milia ducentorum

26:15. The sons of Gad by their kindreds: Sephon, of him is the family of the Sephonites: Aggi, of him is the family of the Aggites: Suni, of him is the family of the Sunites:
Filiis Gad per cognationes suas Sephon ab hoc familia Sephonitarum Aggi ab hoc familia Aggitarum Suni ab hoc familia Sunitarum

26:16. Ozni, of him is the family of the Oznites: Her, of him is the family of the Herites:
Ozni ab hoc familia Oznitarum Heri ab hoc familia Heritarum

26:17. Arod, of him is the family of the Arodites: Ariel, of him is the family of the Arielites.
Arod ab hoc familia Aroditarum Arihel ab hoc familia Arihelitarum

26:18. These are the families of Gad, of which the whole number was forty thousand five hundred.
Istae sunt familiae Gad quarum omnis numerus fuit quadraginta milia quingentorum

26:19. The sons of Juda, Her and Onan, who both died in the land of Chanaan.
Filiis Iuda Her et Onan qui ambo mortui sunt in terra Chanaan

26:20. And the sons of Juda by their kindreds were: Sela, of whom is the family of the Selaites: Phares, of whom is the family of the Pharesites: Zare, of whom is the family of the Zarites.
Fueruntque filii Iuda per cognationes suas Sela a quo familia Selanitarum Phares a quo familia Pharesitarum Zare a quo familia Zareitarum

26:21. Moreover the sons of Phares were: Hesron, of whom is the family of the Hesronites: and Hamul, of whom is the family of the Hamulites.
Porro filii Phares Esrom a quo familia Esromitarum et Amul a quo familia Amulitarum

26:22. These are the families of Juda, of which the whole number was seventy-six thousand five hundred.
Istae sunt familiae Iuda quarum omnis numerus fuit septuaginta milia quingentorum

26:23. The sons of Issachar, by their kindreds: Thola of whom is the family of the Tholaites: Phua, of whom is the family of the Phuaites:
Filiis Isachar per cognationes suas Thola a quo familia Tholaitarum Phua a quo familia Phuaitarum

26:24. Jasub, of whom is the family of the Jasubites: Semran, of whom is the family of the Semranites.
Iasub a quo familia Iasubitarum Semran a quo familia Semranitarum

26:25. These are the kindreds of Issachar, whose number was sixty-four thousand three hundred.
Hae sunt cognationes Isachar quarum numerus fuit sexaginta quattuor milia trecentorum

26:26. The sons of Zabulon by their kindreds: Sared, of whom is the family of the Saredites: Elon, of whom is the family of the Elonites: Jalel, of whom is the family of the Jalelites.
Filiis Zabulon per cognationes suas Sared a quo familia Sareditarum Helon a quo familia Helonitarum Ialel a quo familia Ialelitarum

26:27. These are the kindreds of Zabulon, whose number was sixty thousand five hundred.
Hae sunt cognationes Zabulon quarum numerus fuit sexaginta milia quingentorum

26:28. The sons of Joseph by their kindred, Manasses and Ephraim.
Filiis Ioseph per cognationes suas Manasse et Ephraim

26:29. Of Manasses was born Machir, of whom is the family of the Machirites. Machir begot Galaad, of whom is the family of the Galaadites.
De Manasse ortus est Machir a quo familia Machiritarum Machir genuit Galaad a quo familia Galaaditarum

Numbers Chapter 27

The law of inheritance. Josue is appointed to succeed Moses.

27:1. Then came the daughters of Salphaad, the son of Hopher, the son of Galaad, the son of Machir, the son of Manasses, who was the son of Joseph: and their names are Maala, and Noa, and Hegla, and Melcha, and Thersa.

Accesserunt autem filiae Salphaad filii Epher filii Galaad filii Machir filii Manasse qui fuit filius Ioseph quarum sunt nomina Maala et Noa et Eglia et Melcha et Thersa

27:2. And they stood before Moses and Eleazar the priest, and all the princes of the people at the door of the tabernacle of the covenant, and said:

Steteruntque coram Mosen et Eleazaro sacerdote et cunctis principibus populi ad ostium tabernaculi foederis atque dixerunt

27:3. Our father died in the desert, and was not in the sedition, that was raised against the Lord under Core, but he died in his own sin: and he had no male children. Why is his name taken away out of his family, because he had no son? Give us a possession among the kinsmen of our father.

Pater noster mortuus est in deserto nec fuit in seditione quae concitata est contra Dominum sub Core sed in peccato suo mortuus est hic non habuit mares filios cur tollitur nomen illius de familia sua quia non habet filium date nobis possessionem inter cognatos patris nostri

27:4. And Moses referred their cause to the judgment of the Lord.

Rettulitque Moses causam earum ad iudicium Domini

27:5. And the Lord said to him:

Qui dixit ad eum

27:6. The daughters of Salphaad demand a just thing: Give them a possession among their father's kindred, and let them succeed him in his inheritance.

Iustam rem postulant filiae Salphaad da eis possessionem inter cognatos patris sui et ei in hereditate succedant

27:7. And to the children of Israel thou shalt speak these things:

Ad filios autem Israhel loqueris haec

27:8. When a man dieth without a son, his inheritance shall pass to his daughter.

Homo cum mortuus fuerit absque filio ad filiam eius transibit hereditas

27:9. If he have no daughter, his brethren shall succeed him.

Si filiam non habuerit habebit successores fratres suos

27:10. And if he have no brethren, you shall give the inheritance to his father's brethren.

Quod si et fratres non fuerint dabitur hereditatem fratribus patris eius

27:11. But if he have no uncles by the father, the inheritance shall be given to them that are the next akin. And this shall be to the children of Israel sacred by a perpetual law, as the Lord hath commanded Moses.

Sin autem nec patruos habuerit dabitur hereditas his qui ei proximi sunt eritque hoc filiis Israhel sanctum lege perpetua sicut praecepit Dominus Mosi

27:12. The Lord also said to Moses: Go up into this mountain Abarim, and view from thence the land which I will give to the children of Israel.

Dixit quoque Dominus ad Mosen ascende in montem istum Abarim et contemplare inde terram quam daturus sum filiis Israhel

27:13. And when thou shalt have seen it, thou also shalt go to thy people, as thy brother Aaron is gone:

Cumque videris eam ibis et tu ad populum tuum sicut ivit frater tuus Aaron

27:14. Because you offended me in the desert of Sin in the contradiction of the multitude, neither would you sanctify me before them at the waters. These are the waters of contradiction in Cades of the desert of Sin.

Quia offendistis me in deserto Sin in contradictione multitudinis nec sanctificare me voluistis coram ea super aquas hae sunt aquae Contradictionis in Cades deserti Sin

27:15. And Moses answered him:

Cui respondit Moses

27:16. May the Lord the God of the spirits of all flesh provide a man, that may be over this multitude:

Provideat Dominus Deus spirituum omnis carnis hominem qui sit super multitudinem hanc

27:17. And may go out and in before them, and may lead them out, or bring them in: lest the people of the Lord be as sheep without a shepherd.

Et possit exire et intrare ante eos et educere illos vel introducere ne sit populus Domini sicut oves absque pastore

27:18. And the Lord said to him: take Josue the son of Nun, a man in whom is the Spirit, and put thy hand upon him.

Dixitque Dominus ad eum tolle Josue filium Nun virum in quo est spiritus et pone manum tuam super eum

27:19. And he shall stand before Eleazar the priest and all the multitude:

Qui stabit coram Eleazaro sacerdote et omni multitudine

27:20. And thou shalt give him precepts in the sight of all, and part of thy glory, that all the congregation of the children of Israel may hear him.

Et dabis ei praecepta cunctis videntibus et partem gloriae tuae ut audiat eum omnis synagoga filiorum Israhel

27:21. If any thing be to be done, Eleazar the priest shall consult the Lord for him. He and all the children of Israel with him, and the rest of the multitude shall go out and go in at his word.

Pro hoc si quid agendum erit Eleazar sacerdos consulat Dominum ad verbum eius egredietur et ingredietur ipse et omnes filii Israhel cum eo et cetera multitudo

27:22. Moses did as the Lord had commanded. And, when he had taken Josue, he set him before Eleazar the priest, and all the assembly of the people,

Fecit Moses ut praeceperat Dominus cumque tulisset Josue statuit eum coram Eleazaro sacerdote et omni frequentia populi

27:23. And laying his hands on his head, he repeated all things that the Lord had commanded.

Et inpositis capiti eius manibus cuncta replicavit quae mandaverat Dominus

Numbers Chapter 28

Sacrifices are appointed as well for every day as for sabbaths, and other festivals.

---

28:1. The Lord also said to Moses:

Dixit quoque Dominus ad Mosen

28:2. Command the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: Offer ye my oblation and my bread, and burnt sacrifice of most sweet odour, in their due seasons.

Praecepte filiis Israhel et dices ad eos oblationem meam et panes et incensum odoris suavissimi offerte per tempora sua

28:3. These are the sacrifices which you shall offer: Two lambs of a year old without blemish every day for the perpetual holocaust:

Haec sunt sacrificia quae offerre debetis agnos anniculos immaculatos duos cotidie in holocaustum sempiternum

28:4. One you shall offer in the mornings, and the other in the evening:

Unum offeretis mane et alterum ad vesperam

28:5. And the tenth part of an ephi of flour, which shall be tempered with the, purest oil, of the measure of the fourth part of a hin.

Decimam partem oepi similae quae conspersa sit oleo purissimo et habeat quartam partem hin

28:6. It is the continual holocaust which you offered in mount Sinai for a most sweet odour of a sacrifice by fire to the Lord.

Holocaustum iuge est quod obtulistis in monte Sinai in odorem suavissimum incensi Domini

28:7. And for a libation you shall offer of wine the fourth part of a hin for every lamb in the sanctuary of the Lord.

Et libabitis vini quartam partem hin per agnos singulos in sanctuario Domini

28:8. And you shall offer the other lamb in like manner in the evening according to all the rites of the morning sacrifice, and of the libations thereof, an oblation of most sweet odour to the Lord.

Alterumque agnum similiter offeretis ad vesperam iuxta omnem ritum sacrificii matutini et libamentorum eius oblationem suavissimi odoris Domino

28:9. And on the sabbath day you shall offer two lambs of a year old without blemish, and two tenths of flour tempered with oil in sacrifice, and the libations,

Die autem sabbati offeretis duos agnos anniculos immaculatos et duas decimas similae oleo conspersae in sacrificio et liba

28:10. Which regularly are poured out every sabbath for the perpetual holocaust.

Quae rite funduntur per singula sabbata in holocausto sempiterno

28:11. And on the first day of the month you shall offer a holocaust to the Lord, two calves of the herd, one ram, and seven lambs of a year old, without blemish,

In kalendis autem id est in mensuum exordiis offeretis holocaustum Domino vitulos de armento duos arietem unum agnos anniculos septem immaculatos

28:12. And three tenths of flour tempered with oil in sacrifice for every calf: and two tenths of flour tempered with oil for every ram:

Et tres decimas similae oleo conspersae in sacrificio per singulos vitulos et duas decimas similae oleo conspersae per singulos arietes

28:13. And the tenth of a tenth of flour tempered with oil in sacrifice for every lamb. It is a holocaust of most sweet odour and an offering by fire to the Lord.

Et decimam decimae similiae ex oleo in sacrificio per agnos singulos holocaustum suavissimi odoris atque incensi est Domino

28:14. And these shall be the libations of wine that are to be poured out for every victim: Half a hin for every calf, a third for a ram, and a fourth for a lamb. This shall be the holocaust for every month, as they succeed one another in the course of the year.

Libamenta autem vini quae per singulas fundenda sunt victimas ista erunt media pars hin per vitulos singulos tertia per arietem quarta per agnum hoc erit holocaustum per omnes menses qui sibi anno vertente succedunt

28:15. A buck goat also shall be offered to the Lord for a sin offering over and above the perpetual holocaust with its libations.

Hircus quoque offeretur Domino pro peccatis in holocaustum sempiternum cum libamentis suis

28:16. And in the first month, on the four tenth day of the month, shall be the phase of the Lord,

Mense autem primo quartadecima die mensis phase Domini erit

28:17. And on the fifteenth day the solemn feast: seven days shall they eat unleavened bread.

Et quintadecima die sollemnitas septem diebus vescentur azymis

28:18. And the first day of them shall be venerable and holy: you shall not do any servile work therein.

Quarum dies prima venerabilis et sancta erit omne opus servile non facietis in ea

28:19. And you shall offer a burnt sacrifice a holocaust to the Lord, two calves of the herd, one ram, seven lambs of a year old, without blemish:

Offeretisque incensum holocaustum Domino vitulos de armento duos arietem unum agnos anniculos immaculatos septem

28:20. And for the sacrifice of every one three tenths of flour which shall be tempered with oil to every calf, and two tenths to every ram,

Et sacrificia singulorum ex simila quae conspersa sit oleo tres decimas per singulos vitulos et duas decimas per arietem

28:21. And the tenth of a tenth, to every lamb, that is to say, to all the seven lambs:

Et decimam decimae per agnos singulos id est per septem agnos

28:22. And one buck goat for sin, to make atonement for you,

Et hircum pro peccato unum ut expietur pro vobis

28:23. Besides the morning holocaust which you shall always offer.

Praeter holocaustum matutinum quod semper offertis

28:24. So shall you do every day of the seven days for the food of the fire, and for a most sweet odour to the Lord, which shall rise from the holocaust, and from the libations of each.

Ita facietis per singulos dies septem dierum in fomitem ignis et in odorem suavissimum Domino qui surget de holocausto et de libationibus singulorum

28:25. The seventh day also shall be most solemn and holy unto you, you shall do no servile work therein.

Dies quoque septimus celeberrimus et sanctus erit vobis omne opus servile non facietis in eo

28:26. The day also of firstfruits, when after the weeks are accomplished, you shall offer new fruits to the Lord, shall be venerable and holy: you shall do no servile work therein.

Dies etiam primitivorum quando offertis novas fruges Domino expletis ebdomadibus venerabilis et sancta erit omne opus servile non facietis in ea

28:27. And you shall offer a holocaust for a most sweet odour to the Lord, two calves of the herd, one ram, and seven lambs of a year old, without blemish:

Offeretisque holocaustum in odorem suavissimum Domino vitulos de armento duos arietem unum et agnos anniculos immaculatos septem

28:28. And in the sacrifices of them three tenths of flour tempered with oil to every calf, two to every ram,

Atque in sacrificiis eorum similiae oleo conspersae tres decimas per singulos vitulos per arietes duas

28:29. The tenth of a tenth to every lamb, which in all are seven lambs: a buck goat also,
Per agnos decimam decimae qui simul sunt agni septem hircum quoque

28:30. Which is slain for expiation: besides the perpetual holocaust and the libations thereof.
Qui mactatur pro expiatione praeter holocaustum sempiternum et liba eius

28:31. You shall offer them all without blemish with their libations.
Immaculata offeretis omnia cum libationibus suis

Numbers Chapter 29

Sacrifices for the festivals of the seventh month.

---

29:1. The first day also of the seventh month shall be venerable and holy unto you; you shall do no servile work therein, because it is the day of the sounding and of trumpets.

Mensis etiam septimi prima dies venerabilis et sancta erit vobis omne opus servile non facietis in ea quia dies clangoris est et tubarum

29:2. And you shall offer a holocaust for a most sweet odour to the Lord, one calf of the herd, one ram and seven lambs of a year old, without blemish.

Offeretisque holocaustum in odorem suavissimum Domino vitulum de armento unum arietem unum agnos anniculos immaculatos septem

29:3. And for their sacrifices, three tenths of flour tempered with oil to every calf, two tenths to a ram, Et in sacrificiis eorum similiae oleo conspersae tres decimas per singulos vitulos duas decimas per arietem

29:4. One tenth to a lamb, which in all are seven lambs:

Unam decimam per agnum qui simul sunt agni septem

29:5. And a buck goat for sin, which is offered for the expiation of the people,

Et hircum pro peccato qui offertur in expiationem populi

29:6. Besides the holocaust of the first day of the month with the sacrifices thereof, and the perpetual holocaust with the accustomed libations. With the same ceremonies you shall offer a burnt sacrifice for a most sweet odour to the Lord.

Praeter holocaustum kalendarum cum sacrificiis suis et holocaustum sempiternum cum libationibus solitis hisdem caerimoniis offeretis in odorem suavissimum incensum Domino

29:7. The tenth day also of this seventh month shall be holy and venerable unto you, and you shall afflict your souls; you shall do no servile work therein.

Decima quoque dies mensis huius septimi erit vobis sancta atque venerabilis et adfligetis animas vestras omne opus servile non facietis in ea

29:8. And you shall offer a holocaust to the Lord for a most sweet odour, one calf of the herd, one ram, and seven lambs of a year old, without blemish:

Offeretisque holocaustum Domino in odorem suavissimum vitulum de armento unum arietem unum agnos anniculos immaculatos septem

29:9. And for their sacrifices, three tenths of flour tempered with oil to every calf, two tenths to a ram, Et in sacrificiis eorum similiae oleo conspersae tres decimas per vitulos singulos duas decimas per arietem

29:10. The tenth of a tenth to every lamb, which are in all seven lambs:

Decimam decimae per agnos singulos qui sunt simul septem agni

29:11. And a buck goat for sin, besides the things that are wont to be offered for sin, for expiation, and for the perpetual holocaust with their sacrifice and libations.

Et hircum pro peccato absque his quae offerri pro delicto solent in expiationem et holocaustum sempiternum in sacrificio et libaminibus eorum

29:12. And on the fifteenth day of the seventh month, which shall be unto you holy and venerable, you shall do no servile work, but shall celebrate a solemnity to the Lord seven days.

Quintadecima vero die mensis septimi quae vobis erit sancta atque venerabilis omne opus servile non facietis in ea sed celebrabitis sollempnitatem Domino septem diebus

29:13. And you shall offer a holocaust for a most sweet odour to the Lord, thirteen calves of the herd, two rams, and fourteen lambs of a year old, without blemish:

Offeretisque holocaustum in odorem suavissimum Domino vitulos de armento tredecim arietes duos agnos anniculos quattuordecim immaculatos

29:14. And for their libations three tenths of flour tempered with oil to every calf, being in all thirteen calves: and two tenths to each ram, being two rams,

Et in libamentis eorum similiae oleo conspersae tres decimas per vitulos singulos qui sunt simul vituli tredecim et duas decimas arieti uno id est simul arietibus duobus

29:15. And the tenth of a tenth to every lamb, being in all fourteen lambs:

Et decimam decimae agnis singulis qui sunt simul agni quattuordecim

29:16. And a buck goat for sin, besides the perpetual holocaust, and the sacrifice and the libation thereof.

Et hircum pro peccato absque holocausto sempiterno et sacrificio et libamine eius

29:17. On the second day you shall offer twelve calves of the herd, two rams and fourteen lambs of a year old, without blemish:

In die altero offeres vitulos de armento duodecim arietes duos agnos anniculos immaculatos quattuordecim

29:18. And the sacrifices and the libations for every one, for the calves and for the rams and for the lambs you shall duly celebrate:

Sacrificiaque et libamina singulorum per vitulos et arietes et agnos rite celebrabis

29:19. And a buck goat for a sin offering besides the perpetual holocaust, and the sacrifice and the libation thereof.

Et hircum pro peccato absque holocausto sempiterno sacrificioque eius et libamine

29:20. The third day you shall offer eleven calves, two rams, and fourteen lambs of a year old, without blemish:

Die tertio offeres vitulos undecim arietes duos agnos anniculos immaculatos quattuordecim

29:21. And the sacrifices and the libations of every one for the calves and for the rams and for the lambs you shall offer according to the rite:

Sacrificiaque et libamina singulorum per vitulos et arietes et agnos rite celebrabis

29:22. And a buck goat for sin, besides the perpetual holocaust, and the sacrifice, and the libation thereof.

Et hircum pro peccato absque holocausto sempiterno et sacrificio et libamine eius

29:23. The fourth day you shall offer ten calves, two rams, and fourteen lambs of a year old, without blemish:

Die quarto offeres vitulos decem arietes duos agnos anniculos immaculatos quattuordecim

29:24. And the sacrifices and the libations of every one for the calves and for the rams and for the lambs you shall celebrate in right manner:

Sacrificiaque eorum et libamina singulorum per vitulos et arietes et agnos rite celebrabis

29:25. And a buck goat for sin, besides the perpetual holocaust, and the sacrifice and the libation thereof.

Et hircum pro peccato absque holocausto sempiterno sacrificioque eius et libamine

29:26. The fifth day you shall offer nine calves, two rams, and fourteen lambs of a year old, without blemish:

Die quinto offeres vitulos novem arietes duos agnos anniculos immaculatos quattuordecim

29:27. And the sacrifices and the libations of every one for the calves and for the rams and for the lambs you shall celebrate according to the rite:

Sacrificiaque et libamina singulorum per vitulos et arietes et agnos rite celebrabis

29:28. And a buck goat for sin, besides the perpetual holocaust, and the sacrifice and the libation thereof.

Et hircum pro peccato absque holocausto sempiterno sacrificioque eius et libamine

29:29. The sixth day you shall offer eight calves, two rams, and fourteen lambs of a year old, without blemish:

Die sexto offeres vitulos octo arietes duos agnos anniculos immaculatos quattuordecim

29:30. And the sacrifices and the libations of every one for the calves and for the rams and for the lambs you shall celebrate according to the rite:

Sacrificiaque et libamina singulorum per vitulos et arietes et agnos rite celebrabis

29:31. And a buck goat for sin, besides the perpetual holocaust, and the sacrifice and the libation thereof.

Et hircum pro peccato absque holocausto sempiterno sacrificioque eius et libamine

29:32. The seventh day you shall offer seven calves and two rams, and fourteen lambs of a year old, without blemish:

Die septimo offeres vitulos septem arietes duos agnos anniculos immaculatos quattuordecim

29:33. And the sacrifices and the libations of every one for the calves and for the rams and for the lambs you shall celebrate according to the rite:

Sacrificiaque et libamina singulorum per vitulos et arietes et agnos rite celebrabis

29:34. And a buck goat for sin, besides the perpetual holocaust, and the sacrifice and the libation thereof.

Et hircum pro peccato absque holocausto sempiterno sacrificioque eius et libamine

29:35. On the eighth day, which is most solemn, you shall do no servile work:

Die octavo qui est celeberrimus omne opus servile non facietis

29:36. But you shall offer a holocaust for a most sweet odour to the Lord, one calf, one ram, and seven lambs of a year old, without blemish:

Offerentes holocaustum in odorem suavissimum Domino vitulum unum arietem unum agnos anniculos immaculatos septem

29:37. And the sacrifices and the libations of every one for the calves and for the rams and for the lambs you shall celebrate according to the rite:

Sacrificiaque et libamina singulorum per vitulos et arietes et agnos rite celebrabis

29:38. And a buck goat for sin, besides the perpetual holocaust, and the sacrifice and the libation thereof.

Et hircum pro peccato absque holocausto sempiterno sacrificioque eius et libamine

29:39. These things shall you offer to the Lord in your solemnities: besides your vows and voluntary oblations for holocaust, for sacrifice, for libation, and for victims of peace offerings.

Haec offeretis Domino in sollemnitatibus vestris praeter vota et oblationes spontaneas in holocausto in sacrificio in libamine et in hostiis pacificis

Numbers Chapter 30

Of vows and oaths: and their obligation.

---

30:1. And Moses told the children of Israel all that the Lord had commanded him:

Narravitque Moses filiis Israhel omnia quae ei Dominus imperarat

30:2. And he said to the princes of the tribes of the children of Israel: This is the word that the Lord hath commanded:

Et locutus est ad principes tribuum filiorum Israhel iste est sermo quem praecepit Dominus

30:3. If any man make a vow to the Lord, or bind himself by an oath: he shall not make his word void but shall fulfil all that he promised.

Si quis virorum votum Domino voverit aut se constrinxerit iuramento non faciet irritum verbum suum sed omne quod promisit implebit

30:4. If a woman vow any thing, and bind herself by an oath, being in her father's house, and but yet a girl in age: if her father knew the vow that she hath promised, and the oath wherewith she hath bound her soul, and held his peace, she shall be bound by the vow:

Mulier si quippiam voverit et se constrinxerit iuramento quae est in domo patris sui et in aetate adhuc puellari si cognoverit pater votum quod pollicita est et iuramentum quo obligavit animam suam et tacuerit voti rea erit

30:5. Whatsoever she promised and swore, she shall fulfil in deed.

Quicquid pollicita est et iuravit opere complebit

30:6. But if her father, immediately as soon as he heard it, gainsaid it, both her vows and her oaths shall be void, neither shall she be bound to what she promised, because her father hath gainsaid it.

Sin autem statim ut audierit contradixerit pater et vota et iuramenta eius irrita erunt nec obnoxia tenebitur sponsioni eo quod contradixerit pater

30:7. If she have a husband, and shall vow any thing, and the word once going out of her mouth shall bind her soul by an oath,

Si maritum habuerit et voverit aliquid et semel verbum de ore eius egrediens animam illius obligaverit iuramento

30:8. The day that her husband shall hear it, and not gainsay it, she shall be bound to the vow, and shall give whatsoever she promised.

Quo die audierit vir et non contradixerit voti rea erit reddet quodcumque promiserat

30:9. But if as soon as he heareth he gainsay it, and make her promises and the words wherewith she had bound her soul of no effect: the Lord will forgive her.

Sin autem audiens statim contradixerit et irritas fecerit pollicitationes eius verbaque quibus obstrinxerat animam suam propitius ei erit Dominus

30:10. The widow, and she that is divorced, shall fulfil whatsoever they vow.

Vidua et repudiata quicquid voverint reddent

30:11. If the wife in the house of her husband, hath bound herself by vow and by oath,

Uxor in domo viri cum se voto constrinxerit et iuramento

30:12. If her husband hear, and hold his peace, and doth not disallow the promise, she shall accomplish whatsoever she had promised.

Si audierit vir et tacuerit nec contradixerit sponsioni reddet quodcumque promiserat

30:13. But if forthwith he gainsay it, she shall not be bound by the promise: because her husband gainsaid

it, and the Lord will be merciful to her.

Sin autem extemplo contradixerit non tenebitur promissionis rea quia maritus contradixit et Dominus ei propitius erit

30:14. If she vow and bind herself by oath, to afflict her soul by fasting, or abstinence from other things, it shall depend on the will of her husband, whether she shall do it, or not do it.

Si voverit et iuramento se constrinxerit ut per ieiunium vel ceterarum rerum abstinentiam adfligat animam suam in arbitrio viri erit ut faciat sive non faciat

30:15. But if the husband hearing it hold his peace, and defer the declaring his mind till another day: whatsoever she had vowed and promised, she shall fulfil: because immediately as he heard it, he held his peace.

Quod si audiens vir tacuerit et in alteram diem distulerit sententiam quicquid voverat atque promiserat reddet quia statim ut audivit tacuit

30:16. But if he gainsay it after that he knew it, he shall bear her iniquity.

Sin autem contradixerit postquam rescivit portabit ipse iniquitatem eius

30:17. These are the laws which the Lord appointed to Moses between the husband and the wife, between the father and the daughter that is as yet but a girl in age, or that abideth in her father's house.

Istae sunt leges quas constituit Dominus Mosi inter virum et uxorem inter patrem et filiam quae in puellari adhuc aetate est vel quae manet in parentis domo

Numbers Chapter 31

The Madianites are slain for having drawn the people of Israel into sin. The dividing of the booty.

---

31:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutusque est Dominus ad Mosen dicens

31:2. Revenge first the children of Israel on the Madianites, and so thou shalt be gathered to thy people.

Ulciscere prius filios Israhel de Madianitis et sic colligeris ad populum tuum

31:3. And Moses forthwith said: Arm of you men to fight, who may take the revenge of the Lord on the Madianites.

Statimque Moses armate inquit ex vobis viros ad pugnam qui possint ultionem Domini expetere de Madianitis

31:4. Let a thousand men be chosen out of every tribe of Israel to be sent to the war.

Mille viri de singulis tribubus eligantur Israhel qui mittantur ad bellum

31:5. And they gave a thousand of every tribe, that is to say, twelve thousand men well appointed for battle.

Dederuntque millenos de cunctis tribubus id est duodecim milia expeditorum ad pugnam

31:6. And Moses sent them with Phinees the son of Eleazar the priest, and he delivered to him the holy vessels, and the trumpets to sound.

Quos misit Moses cum Finees filio Eleazari sacerdotis vasa quoque sancta et tubas ad clangendum tradidit ei

31:7. And when they had fought against the Madianites and had overcome them, they slew all the men.

Cumque pugnassent contra Madianitas atque vicissent omnes mares occiderunt

31:8. And their kings Evi, and Recem, and Sur, and Hur, and Rebe, five princes of the nation: Balaam also the son of Beor they killed with the sword.

Et reges eorum Evi et Recem et Sur et Ur et Rebe quinque principes gentis Balaam quoque filium Beor interfecerunt gladio

31:9. And they took their women, and their children captives, and all their cattle, and all their goods: and all their possessions they plundered:

Ceperuntque mulieres eorum et parvulos omniaque pecora et cunctam supellectilem quicquid habere potuerant depopulati sunt

31:10. And all their cities, and their villages, and castles, they burned.

Tam urbes quam viculos et castella flamma consumpsit

31:11. And they carried away the booty, and all that they had taken both of men and of beasts.

Et tulerunt praedam et universa quae ceperant tam ex hominibus quam ex iumentis

31:12. And they brought them to Moses, and Eleazar the priest, and to all the multitude of the children of Israel. But the rest of the things for use they carried to the camp on the plains of Moab, beside the Jordan over against Jericho.

Et adduxerunt ad Mosen et Eleazarum sacerdotem et ad omnem multitudinem filiorum Israhel reliqua etiam utensilia portaverunt ad castra in campestribus Moab iuxta Iordanem contra Hiericho

31:13. And Moses and Eleazar the priest and all the princes of the synagogue went forth to meet them without the camp.

Egressi sunt autem Moses et Eleazar sacerdos et omnes principes synagogae in occursum eorum extra castra

31:14. And Moses being angry with the chief officers of the army, the tribunes, and the centurions that were come from the battle,

Iratusque Moses principibus exercitus tribunis et centurionibus qui venerant de bello

31:15. Said: Why have you saved the women?

Ait cur feminas reservastis

31:16. Are not these they, that deceived the children of Israel by the counsel of Balaam, and made you transgress against the Lord by the sin of Phogor, for which also the people was punished?

Nonne istae sunt quae deceperunt filios Israhel ad suggestionem Balaam et praevaricari vos fecerunt in Domino super peccato Phogor unde et percussus est populus

The sin of Phogor... The sin committed in the worship of Beelphegor.

31:17. Therefore kill all that are of the male sex, even of the children: and put to death the women, that have carnally known men.

Ergo cunctos interficite quicquid est generis masculini etiam in parvulis et mulieres quae noverunt viros in coitu iugulate

Of children... Women and children, ordinarily speaking, were not to be killed in war (Deuteronomy 20: 14). But the great Lord of life and death was pleased to order it otherwise in the present case, in detestation of the wickedness of this people, who by the counsel of Balaam, had sent their women among the Israelites on purpose to draw them from God.

31:18. But the girls, and all the women that are virgins save for yourselves:

Puellas autem et omnes feminas virgines reservate vobis

31:19. And stay without the camp seven days. He that hath killed a man, or touched one that is killed, shall be purified the third day and the seventh day.

Et manete extra castra septem diebus qui occiderit hominem vel occisum tetigerit lustrabitur die tertio et septimo

31:20. And of all the spoil, every garment, or vessel, or any thing made for use, of the skins, or hair of goats, or of wood, shall be purified.

Et de omni praeda sive vestimentum fuerit sive vas et aliquid in utensilia praeparatum de caprarum pellibus et pillis et ligno expiabitur

31:21. Eleazar also the priest spoke to the men of the army, that had fought, in this manner: This is the ordinance of the law, which the Lord hath commanded Moses:

Eleazar quoque sacerdos ad viros exercitus qui pugnaverant sic locutus est hoc est praeceptum legis quod mandavit Dominus Mosi

31:22. Gold, and silver, and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin,

Aurum et argentum et aes et ferrum et stagnum et plumbum

31:23. And all that may pass through the fire, shall be purified by fire, but whatsoever cannot abide the fire, shall be sanctified with the water of expiation:

Et omne quod potest transire per flammam igne purgabitur quicquid autem ignem non potest sustinere aqua expiationis sanctificabitur

31:24. And you shall wash your garments the seventh day, and being purified, you shall afterwards enter into the camp.

Et lavabitis vestimenta vestra die septimo et purificati postea castra intrabitis

31:25. And the Lord said to Moses:

Dixitque Dominus ad Mosen

31:26. Take the sum of the things that were taken both of man and beast, thou and Eleazar the priest and the princes of the multitude:

Tollite summam eorum quae capta sunt ab homine usque ad pecus tu et Eleazar sacerdos et principes vulgi

31:27. And thou shalt divide the spoil equally, between them that fought and went out to the war, and between the rest of the multitude.

Dividesque ex aequo praedam inter eos qui pugnaverunt et egressi sunt ad bellum et inter omnem reliquam multitudinem

31:28. And thou shalt separate a portion to the Lord from them that fought and were in the battle, one soul of five hundred as well of persons as of oxen and asses and sheep.
Et separabis partem Domino ab his qui pugnaverunt et fuerunt in bello unam animam de quingentis tam ex hominibus quam ex bubus et asinis et ovibus

31:29. And thou shalt give it to Eleazar the priest, because they are the firstfruits of the Lord.
Et dabis eam Eleazaro sacerdoti quia primitiae Domini sunt

31:30. Out of the moiety also of the children of Israel thou shalt take the fiftieth head of persons, and of oxen, and asses, and sheep, and of all beasts, and thou shalt give them to the Levites that watch in the charge of the tabernacle of the Lord.
Ex media quoque parte filiorum Israhel accipies quinquagesimum caput hominum et boum et asinorum et ovium cunctarumque animantium et dabis ea Levitis qui excubant in custodiis tabernaculi Domini

31:31. And Moses and Eleazar did as the Lord had commanded.
Feceruntque Moses et Eleazar sicut praeceperat Dominus

31:32. And the spoil which the army had taken, was six hundred seventy-five thousand sheep,
Fuit autem praeda quam exercitus ceperat ovium sescenta septuaginta quinque milia

31:33. Seventy-two thousand oxen,
Boum septuaginta duo milia

31:34. Sixty-one thousand asses:
Asinorum sexaginta milia et mille

31:35. And thirty-two thousand persons of the female sex, that had not known men.
Animae hominum sexus feminei quae non cognoverant viros triginta duo milia

31:36. And one half was given to them that had been in the battle, to wit, three hundred thirty-seven thousand five hundred sheep:
Dataque est media pars his qui in proelio fuerant ovium trecenta triginta septem milia quingenta

31:37. Out of which, for the portion of the Lord, were reckoned six hundred seventy five sheep.
E quibus in partem Domini supputatae sunt oves sescentae septuaginta quinque

31:38. And out of the thirty-six thousand oxen, seventy-two oxen:
Et de bubus triginta sex milibus boves septuaginta duo

31:39. Out of the thirty thousand five hundred asses, sixty-one asses:
De asinis triginta milibus quingentis asini sexaginta unus

31:40. Out of the sixteen thousand persons, there fell to the portion of the Lord, thirty-two souls.
De animabus hominum sedecim milibus cesserunt in partem Domini triginta duae animae

31:41. And Moses delivered the number of the firstfruits of the Lord to Eleazar the priest, as had been commanded him,
Tradiditque Moses numerum primitiarum Domini Eleazaro sacerdoti sicut ei fuerat imperatum

31:42. Out of the half of the children of Israel, which he had separated for them that had been in the battle.
Ex media parte filiorum Israhel quam separaverat his qui in proelio fuerant

31:43. But out of the half that fell to the rest of the multitude, that is to say, out of the three hundred thirty-seven thousand five hundred sheep,
De media vero parte quae contigerat reliquae multitudini id est de ovium trecentis triginta septem milibus quingentis

31:44. And out of the thirty-six thousand oxen,
Et de bubus triginta sex milibus

31:45. And out of the thirty thousand five hundred asses,
Et de asinis triginta milibus quingentis

31:46. And out of the sixteen thousand persons,

Et de hominibus sedecim milibus

31:47. Moses took the fiftieth head, and gave it to the Levites that watched in the tabernacle of the Lord, as the Lord had commanded.

Tulit Moses quinquagesimum caput et dedit Levitis qui excubant in tabernaculo Domini sicut praeceperat Dominus

31:48. And when the commanders of the army, and the tribunes and centurions were come to Moses, they said:

Cumque accessissent principes exercitus ad Mosen et tribuni centurionesque dixerunt

31:49. We thy servants have reckoned up the number of the fighting men, whom we had under our hand, and not so much as one was wanting.

Nos servi tui recensuimus numerum pugnatorum quos habuimus sub manu nostra et ne unus quidem defuit

31:50. Therefore we offer as gifts to the Lord what gold every one of us could find in the booty, in garters and tablets, rings and bracelets, and chains, that thou mayst pray to the Lord for us.

Ob hanc causam offerimus in donariis Domini singuli quod in praeda auri potuimus invenire periscelides et armillas anulos et dextralia ac murenulas ut depreceris pro nobis Dominum

31:51. And Moses and Eleazar the priest received all the gold in divers kinds,

Susceperuntque Moses et Eleazar sacerdos omne aurum in diversis speciebus

31:52. In weight sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty sicles, from the tribunes and from the centurions.

Pondo sedecim milia septingentos quinquaginta siclos a tribunis et centurionibus

31:53. For that which every one had taken in the booty was his own.

Unusquisque enim quod in praeda rapuerat suum erat

31:54. And that which was received they brought into the tabernacle of the testimony, for a memorial of the children of Israel before the Lord.

Et susceptum intulerunt in tabernaculum testimonii in monumentum filiorum Israhel coram Domino

Numbers Chapter 32

The tribes of Ruben and Gad, and half of the tribe of Manasses, receive their inheritance on the east side of Jordan, upon conditions approved of by Moses.

---

32:1. And the sons of Ruben and Gad had many flocks of cattle, and their substance in beasts was infinite. And when they saw the lands of Jazer and Galaad fit for feeding cattle,
Filiis autem Ruben et Gad habebant pecora multa et erat illis in iumentis infinita substantia cumque vidissent Iazer et Galaad aptas alendis animalibus

32:2. They came to Moses and Eleazar the priest, and the princes of the multitude, and said:
Venerunt ad Mosen et ad Eleazarum sacerdotem et principes multitudinis atque dixerunt

32:3. Ataroth, and Dibon, and Jazer, and Nemra, Hesebon, and Eleale, and Saban, and Nebo, and Beon, Atharoth et Dibon et Iazer et Nemra Esbon et Eleale et Sabam et Nebo et Beon

32:4. The land, which the Lord hath conquered in the sight of the children of Israel, is a very fertile soil for the feeding of beasts: and we thy servants have very much cattle:
Terram quam percussit Dominus in conspectu filiorum Israhel regionis uberrimae est ad pastum animalium et nos servi tui habemus iumenta plurima

32:5. And we pray thee, if we have found favour in thy sight, that thou give it to us thy servants in possession, and make us not pass over the Jordan.
Precamurque si invenimus gratiam coram te ut des nobis famulis tuis eam in possessionem ne facias nos transire Iordanem

32:6. And Moses answered them: What, shall your brethren go to fight, and will you sit here?
Quibus respondit Moses numquid fratres vestri ibunt ad pugnam et vos hic sedebitis

32:7. Why do ye overturn the minds of the children of Israel, that they may not dare to pass into the place which the Lord hath given them?
Cur subvertitis mentes filiorum Israhel ne transire audeant in locum quem eis daturus est Dominus

32:8. Was it not thus your fathers did, when I sent from Cadesbarne to view the land?
Nonne ita egerunt patres vestri quando misi de Cadesbarne ad explorandam terram

32:9. And when they were come as far as the valley of the cluster, having viewed all the country, they overturned the hearts of the children of Israel, that they should not enter into the coasts, which the Lord gave them.
Cumque venissent usque ad vallem Botri lustrata omni regione subverterunt cor filiorum Israhel ut non intrarent fines quos eis Dominus dedit

32:10. And he swore in his anger, saying:
Qui iratus iuravit dicens

32:11. If these men, that came up out of Egypt, from twenty years old and upward, shall see the land, which I promised with an oath to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: because they would not follow me,
Si videbunt homines isti qui ascenderunt ex Aegypto a viginti annis et supra terram quam sub iuramento pollicitus sum Abraham Isaac et Iacob et noluerunt sequi me

32:12. Except Caleb the son of Jephone the Cenezite, and Josue the son of Nun: these have fulfilled my will.
Praeter Chaleb filium Iepphonne Cenezeum et Iosue filium Nun isti impleverunt voluntatem meam

32:13. And the Lord being angry against Israel, led them about through the desert forty years, until the whole generation, that had done evil in his sight, was consumed.

Iratusque Dominus adversum Israhel circumduxit eum per desertum quadraginta annis donec consumeretur universa generatio quae fecerat malum in conspectu eius

32:14. And behold, said he, you are risen up instead of your fathers, the increase and offspring of sinful men, to augment the fury of the Lord against Israel.

Et ecce inquit vos surrexistis pro patribus vestris incrementa et alumni hominum peccatorum ut augetis furorem Domini contra Israhel

32:15. For if you will not follow him, he will leave the people in the wilderness, and you shall be the cause of the destruction of all.

Qui si nolueritis sequi eum in solitudine populum derelinquet et vos causa eritis necis omnium

32:16. But they coming near, said: We will make sheepfolds, and stalls for our cattle, and strong cities for our children:

At illi prope accedentes dixerunt caulas ovium fabricabimus et stabula iumentorum parvulis quoque nostris urbes munitas

32:17. And we ourselves will go armed and ready for battle before the children of Israel, until we bring them in unto their places. Our little ones, and all we have, shall be in walled cities, for fear of the ambushes of the inhabitants.

Nos autem ipsi armati et accincti pergemus ad proelium ante filios Israhel donec introducamus eos ad loca sua parvuli nostri et quicquid habere possumus erunt in urbibus muratis propter habitatorum insidias

32:18. We will not return into our houses until the children of Israel possess their inheritance:

Non revertemur in domos nostras usquequo possideant filii Israhel hereditatem suam

32:19. Neither will we seek any thing beyond the Jordan, because we have already our possession on the east side thereof,

Nec quicquam quaeremus trans Iordanem quia iam habemus possessionem nostram in orientali eius plaga

32:20. And Moses said to them: If you do what you promise, go on well appointed for war before the Lord:

Quibus Moses ait si facitis quod promittitis expediti pergite coram Domino ad pugnam

32:21. And let every fighting man pass over the Jordan, until the Lord overthrow his enemies:

Et omnis vir bellator armatus Iordanem transeat donec subvertat Dominus inimicos suos

32:22. And all the land be brought under him, then shall you be blameless before the Lord and before Israel, and you shall obtain the countries that you desire, before the Lord.

Et subiciatur ei omnis terra tunc eritis inculpabiles et apud Dominum et apud Israhel et obtinebitis regiones quas vultis coram Domino

32:23. But if you do not what you say, no man can doubt but you sin against God: and know ye, that your sin shall overtake you.

Sin autem quod dicitis non feceritis nulli dubium quin peccetis in Dominum et scitote quoniam peccatum vestrum adprehendet vos

32:24. Build therefore cities for your children, and folds and stalls for your sheep and beasts, and accomplish what you have promised.

Aedificate ergo urbes parvulis vestris et caulas ac stabula ovibus ac iumentis et quod polliciti estis implete

32:25. And the children of Gad and Ruben said to Moses: We are thy servants, we will do what my lord commandeth.

Dixeruntque filii Gad et Ruben ad Mosen servi tui sumus faciemus quod iubet dominus noster

32:26. We will leave our children, and our wives and sheep and cattle, in the cities of Galaad:

Parvulos nostros et mulieres et pecora ac iumenta relinquemus in urbibus Galaad

32:27. And we thy servants all well appointed will march on to the war, as thou, my lord, speakest.

Nos autem famuli tui omnes expediti pergemus ad bellum sicut tu domine loqueris

32:28. Moses therefore commanded Eleazar the priest, and Josue the son of Nun, and the princes of the families of all the tribes of Israel, and said to them:

Praecepit ergo Moses Eleazaro sacerdoti et Iosue filio Nun et principibus familiarum per tribus Israhel et dixit ad eos

32:29. If the children of Gad, and the children of Ruben pass with you over the Jordan, all armed for war before the Lord, and the land be made subject to you: give them Galaad in possession.

Si transierint filii Gad et filii Ruben vobiscum Iordanem omnes armati ad bellum coram Domino et vobis fuerit terra subiecta date eis Galaad in possessionem

32:30. But if they will not pass armed with you into the land of Chanaan, let them receive places to dwell in among you.

Sin autem noluerint transire vobiscum in terram Chanaan inter vos habitandi accipiant loca

32:31. And the children of Gad, and the children of Ruben answered: As the Lord hath spoken to his servants, so will we do:

Responderuntque filii Gad et filii Ruben sicut locutus est Dominus servis suis ita faciemus

32:32. We will go armed before the Lord into the land of Chanaan, and we confess that we have already received our possession beyond the Jordan.

Ipsi armati pergemus coram Domino in terram Chanaan et possessionem iam suscepisse nos confitemur trans Iordanem

32:33. Moses therefore gave to the children of Gad and of Ruben, and to the half tribe of Manasses the son of Joseph, the kingdom of Sehon king of the Amorrhites, and the kingdom of Og king of Basan, and their land and the cities thereof round about.

Dedit itaque Moses filiis Gad et Ruben et dimidia tribui Manasse filii Ioseph regnum Seon regis Amorrei et regnum Og regis Basan et terram eorum cum urbibus suis per circuitum

32:34. And the sons of Gad built Dibon, and Ataroth, and Aroer, Igitur extruxerunt filii Gad Dibon et Atharoth et Aroer

32:35. And Etroth, and Sophan, and Jazer, and Jegbaa, Etrothsophan et Iazer Iecbaa

32:36. And Bethnemra, and Betharan, fenced cities, and folds for their cattle.

Et Bethnemra et Betharan urbes munitas et caulas pecoribus suis

32:37. But the children of Ruben built Hesebon, and Eleale, and Cariathaim,

Filii vero Ruben aedificaverunt Esbon et Eleale et Cariathaim

32:38. And Kabo, and Baalmeon (their names being changed) and Sabama: giving names to the cities which they had built.

Et Nabo et Baalmeon versis nominibus Sabama quoque inponentes vocabula urbibus quas extruxerant

32:39. Moreover the children of Machir, the son of Manasses, went into Galaad, and wasted it, cutting off the Amorrhites, the inhabitants thereof.

Porro filii Machir filii Manasse perrexerunt in Galaad et vastaverunt eam interfecto Amorreo habitatore eius

32:40. And Moses gave the land of Galaad to Machir the son of Manasses, and he dwelt in it.

Dedit ergo Moses terram Galaad Machir filio Manasse qui habitavit in ea

32:41. And Jair the son of Manasses went, and took the villages thereof, and he called them Havoth Jair, that is to say, the villages of Jair.

Iair autem filius Manasse abiit et occupavit vicos eius quos appellavit Avothair id est villas Iair

32:42. Nobe also went, and took Canath with the villages thereof: and he called it by his own name, Nobe.

Nobe quoque perrexit et adprehendit Canath cum viculis suis vocavitque eam ex nomine suo Nobe

Numbers Chapter 33

The mansions or journeys of the children of Israel towards the land of promise.

---

33:1. These are the mansions of the children of Israel, who went out of Egypt by their troops under the conduct of Moses and Aaron,

Hae sunt mansiones filiorum Israhel qui egressi sunt de Aegypto per turmas suas in manu Mosi et Aaron
The mansions... These mansions, or journeys of the children of Israel from Egypt to the land of promise, were figures, according to the fathers, of the steps and degrees by which Christians leaving sin are to advance from virtue to virtue, till they come to the heavenly mansions, after this life, to see and enjoy God.

33:2. Which Moses wrote down according to the places of their encamping, which they changed by the commandment of the Lord.

Quas descripsit Moses iuxta castrorum loca quae Domini iussione mutabant

33:3. Now the children of Israel departed from Rameses the first month, on the fifteenth day of the first month, the day after the phase, with a mighty hand, in the sight of all the Egyptians,

Profecti igitur de Ramesse mense primo quintadecima die mensis primi altera die phase filii Israhel in manu excelsa videntibus cunctis Aegyptiis

33:4. Who were burying their firstborn, whom the Lord had slain (upon their gods also he had executed vengeance),

Et sepelientibus primogenitos quos percusserat Dominus nam et in diis eorum exercuerat ultionem

33:5. And they camped in Socoth.

Castrametati sunt in Socoth

33:6. And from Socoth they came into Etham, which is in the uttermost borders of the wilderness.

Et de Socoth venerunt in Aetham quae est in extremis finibus solitudinis

33:7. Departing from thence they came over against Phihahiroth, which looketh towards Beelsephon, and they camped before Magdalum.

Inde egressi venerunt contra Phiahiroth quae respicit Beelsephon et castrametati sunt ante Magdolum

33:8. And departing from Phihahiroth, they passed through the midst of the sea into the wilderness: and having marched three days through the desert of Etham, they camped in Mara.

Profectique de Phiahiroth transierunt per medium mare in solitudinem et ambulantes tribus diebus per desertum Aetham castrametati sunt in Mara

33:9. And departing from Mara, they came into Elim, where there were twelve fountains of waters, and seventy palm trees: and there they camped.

Profectique de Mara venerunt in Helim ubi erant duodecim fontes aquarum et palmae septuaginta ibique castrametati sunt

33:10. But departing from thence also, they pitched their tents by the Red Sea. And departing from the Red Sea,

Sed et inde egressi fixere tentoria super mare Rubrum profectique de mari Rubro

33:11. They camped in the desert of Sin.

Castrametati sunt in deserto Sin

33:12. And they removed from thence, and came to Daphca.

Unde egressi venerunt in Daphca

33:13. And departing from Daphca, they camped in Alus.

Profectique de Dephca castrametati sunt in Alus

33:14. And departing from Alus, they pitched their tents in Raphidim, where the people wanted water to drink.

Egressi de Alus Raphidim fixere tentoria ubi aqua populo defuit ad bibendum

33:15. And departing from Raphidim, they camped in the desert of Sinai.

Profectique de Raphidim castrametati sunt in deserto Sinai

33:16. But departing also from the desert of Sinai, they came to the graves of lust.

Sed et de solitudine Sinai egressi venerunt ad sepulchra Concupiscentiae

33:17. And departing from the graves of lust, they camped in Haseroth.

Profectique de sepulchris Concupiscentiae castrametati sunt in Aseroth

33:18. And from Haseroth they came to Rethma.

Et de Aseroth venerunt in Rethma

33:19. And departing from Rethma, they camped in Remmomphares.

Profectique de Rethma castrametati sunt in Remmonphares

33:20. And they departed from thence and came to Lebna.

Unde egressi venerunt in Lebna

33:21. Removing from Lebna they camped in Ressa.

Et de Lebna castrametati sunt in Ressa

33:22. And departing from Ressa, they came to Ceelatha.

Egressi de Ressa venerunt in Ceelatha

33:23. And they removed from thence and camped in the mountain Sepher.

Unde profecti castrametati sunt in monte Sepher

33:24. Departing from the mountain Sepher, they came to Arada,

Egressi de monte Sepher venerunt in Arada

33:25. From thence they went and camped in Maceloth.

Inde proficiscentes castrametati sunt in Maceloth

33:26. And departing from Maceloth, they came to Thahath.

Profectique de Maceloth venerunt in Thaath

33:27. Removing from Thahath they camped in Thare.

De Thaath castrametati sunt in Thare

33:28. And they departed from thence, and pitched their tents in Methca.

Unde egressi fixerunt tentoria in Methca

33:29. And removing from Methca, they camped in Hesmona.

Et de Methca castrametati sunt in Esmona

33:30. And departing from Hesmona, they came to Moseroth.

Profectique de Esmona venerunt in Moseroth

33:31. And removing from Moseroth, they camped in Benejaacan.

Et de Moseroth castrametati sunt in Baneiacan

33:32. And departing from Benejaacan, they came to mount Gadgad.

Egressique de Baneiacan venerunt in montem Gadgad

33:33. From thence they went and camped in Jetebatha.

Unde profecti castrametati sunt in Hietebatha

33:34. And from Jetebatha they came to Hebrona.

Et de Hietebatha venerunt in Ebrona

33:35. And departing from Hebrona, they camped in Asiongaber.

Egressique de Ebrona castrametati sunt in Asiongaber

33:36. They removed from thence and came into the desert of Sin, which is Cades.

Inde profecti venerunt in desertum Sin haec est Cades

33:37. And departing from Cades, they camped in mount Hor, in the uttermost borders of the land of Edom.

Egressique de Cades castrametati sunt in monte Hor in extremis finibus terrae Edom

33:38. And Aaron the priest went up into mount Hor at the commandment of the Lord: and there he died in the fortieth year of the coming forth of the children of Israel out of Egypt, the fifth month, the first day of the month,

Ascenditque Aaron sacerdos montem Hor iubente Domino et ibi mortuus est anno quadragesimo egressionis filiorum Israhel ex Aegypto mense quinto prima die mensis

33:39. When he was a hundred and twenty-three years old.

Cum esset annorum centum viginti trium

33:40. And king Arad the Chanaanite, who dwelt towards the south, heard that the children of Israel were come to the land of Chanaan.

Auditque Chananeus rex Arad qui habitabat ad meridiem in terra Chanaan venisse filios Israhel

33:41. And they departed from mount Hor, and camped in Salmona.

Et profecti de monte Hor castrametati sunt in Salmona

33:42. From whence they removed and came to Phunon.

Unde egressi venerunt in Phinon

33:43. And departing from Phunon, they camped in Oboth.

Profectique de Phinon castrametati sunt in Oboth

33:44. And from Oboth they came to Ijeabarim, which is in the borders of the Moabites.

Et de Oboth venerunt in Ieabarim quae est in finibus Moabitarum

33:45. And departing from Ijeabarim they pitched their tents in Dibongab.

Profectique de Ieabarim fixere tentoria in Dibongad

33:46. From thence they went and camped in Helmondeblathaim.

Unde egressi castrametati sunt in Elmondeblathaim

33:47. And departing from Helmondeblathaim, they came to the mountains of Abarim over against Kabo.

Egressi de Elmondeblathaim venerunt ad montes Abarim contra Nabo

33:48. And departing from the mountains of Abarim, they passed to the plains of Moab, by the Jordan, over against Jericho.

Profectique de montibus Abarim transierunt ad campestria Moab super Iordanem contra Hiericho

33:49. And there they camped from Bethsimoth even to Ablesatim in the plains of the Moabites,

Ibique castrametati sunt de Bethsimon usque ad Belsattim in planioribus locis Moabitarum

33:50. Where the Lord said to Moses:

Ubi locutus est Dominus ad Mosen

33:51. Command the children of Israel, and say to them: When you shall have passed over the Jordan, entering into the land of Chanaan,

Praecepte filiis Israhel et dic ad eos quando transieritis Iordanem intrantes terram Chanaan

33:52. Destroy all the inhabitants of that land: Beat down their pillars, and break in pieces their statues, and waste all their high places,

Disperditte cunctos habitatores regionis illius confringite titulos et statuas comminuite atque omnia excelsa vastate

33:53. Cleansing the land, and dwelling in it. For I have given it you for a possession.
Mundantes terram et habitantes in ea ego enim dedi vobis illam in possessionem

33:54. And you shall divide it among you by lot. To the more you shall give a larger part, and to the fewer a lesser. To every one as the lot shall fall, so shall the inheritance be given. The possession shall be divided by the tribes and the families.
Quam dividetis vobis sorte pluribus dabitur latiore et paucis angustiore singulis ut sors ceciderit ita tribuetur hereditas per tribus et familias possessio dividetur

33:55. But if you will not kill the inhabitants of the land: they that remain, shall be unto you as nails in your eyes, and spears in your sides, and they shall be your adversaries in the land of your habitation.
Sin autem nolueritis interficere habitatores terrae qui remanserint erunt vobis quasi clavi in oculis et lanceae in lateribus et adversabuntur vobis in terra habitationis vestrae

33:56. And whatsoever I had thought to do to them, I will do to you.
Et quicquid illis facere cogitaram vobis faciam

Numbers Chapter 34

The limits of Chanaan; with the names of the men that make the division of it.

---

34:1. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

Locutus est Dominus ad Mosen

34:2. Command the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: When you are entered into the land of Chanaan, and it shall be fallen into your possession by lot, it shall be bounded by these limits:

Praecepte filiis Israhel et dices ad eos cum ingressi fueritis terram Chanaan et in possessionem vobis sorte ceciderit his finibus terminabitur

34:3. The south side shall begin from the wilderness of Sin, which is by Edom: and shall have the most salt sea for its furthest limits eastward:

Pars meridiana incipiet a solitudine Sin quae est iuxta Edom et habebit terminos contra orientem mare Salsissimum

The most salt sea... The lake of Sodom, otherwise called the Dead Sea.

34:4. Which limits shall go round on the south side by the ascent of the Scorpion and so into Senna, and reach toward the south as far as Cadesbarne, from whence the frontiers shall go out to the town called Adar, and shall reach as far as Asemona.

Qui circumibunt australem plagam per ascensum Scorpionis ita ut transeant Senna et perveniant in meridiem usque ad Cadesbarne unde egredientur confinia ad villam nomine Addar et tendent usque Asemona

The Scorpion... A mountain so called from having a great number of scorpions.

34:5. And the limits shall fetch a compass from Asemona to the torrent of Egypt, and shall end in the shore of the great sea.

Ibitque per gyrum terminus ab Asemona usque ad torrentem Aegypti et maris Magni litore finiatur

The great sea... The Mediterranean.

34:6. And the west side shall begin from the great sea, and the same shall be the end thereof.

Plaga autem occidentalis a mari Magno incipiet et ipso fine cludetur

34:7. But toward the north side the borders shall begin from the great sea, reaching to the most high mountain,

Porro ad septentrionalem plagam a mari Magno termini incipient pervenientes usque ad montem Altissimum

The most high mountain... Libanus.

34:8. From which they shall come to Emath, as far as the borders of Sedada:

A quo venies in Emath usque ad terminos Sedada

34:9. And the limits shall go as far as Zephrona, and the village of Enan. These shall be the borders on the north side.

Ibuntque confinia usque Zephrona et villam Henan hii erunt termini in parte aquilonis

34:10. From thence they shall mark out the grounds towards the east side from the village of Enan unto Sephama.

Inde metabuntur fines contra orientalem plagam de villa Henan usque Sephama

34:11. And from Sephama the bounds shall go down to Rebla over against the fountain of Daphnis: from thence they shall come eastward to the sea of Cenereth,

Et de Sephama descendent termini in Rebla contra fontem inde pervenient contra orientem ad mare Chenereth

Sea of Cenereth... This is the sea of Galilee, illustrated by the miracles of our Lord.

34:12. And shall reach as far as the Jordan, and at the last shall be closed in by the most salt sea. This shall be your land with its borders round about.

Et tendent usque Iordanem et ad ultimum Salsissimo cludentur mari hanc habebitis terram per fines suos in circuitu

34:13. And Moses commanded the children of Israel, saying: This shall be the land which you shall possess by lot, and which the Lord hath commanded to be given to the nine tribes, and to the half tribe.

Praecepitque Moses filiis Israhel dicens haec erit terra quam possidebitis sorte et quam iussit dari Dominus novem tribubus et dimidiae tribui

34:14. For the tribe of the children of Ruben by their families, and the tribe of the children of Gad according to the number of their kindreds, and half of the tribe of Manasses,

Tribus enim filiorum Ruben per familias suas et tribus filiorum Gad iuxta cognationum numerum media quoque tribus Manasse

34:15. That is, two tribes and a half, have received their portion beyond the Jordan over against Jericho at the east side.

Id est duae semis tribus acceperunt partem suam trans Iordanem contra Hiericho ad orientalem plagam

34:16. And the Lord said to Moses:

Et ait Dominus ad Mosen

34:17. These are the names of the men, that shall divide the land unto you: Eleazar the priest, and Josue the son of Nun,

Haec sunt nomina virorum qui terram vobis divident Eleazar sacerdos et Iosue filius Nun

34:18. And one prince of every tribe,

Et singuli principes de tribubus singulis

34:19. Whose names are these: Of the tribe of Juda, Caleb the son of Jephone.

Quorum ista sunt vocabula de tribu Iuda Chaleb filius Iepphonne

34:20. Of the tribe of Simeon, Samuel the son of Ammiud.

De tribu Symeon Samuhel filius Ammiud

34:21. Of the tribe of Benjamin, Elidad the son of Chaselon.

De tribu Benjamin Helidad filius Chaselon

34:22. Of the tribe of the children of Dan, Bocci the son of Jogli.

De tribu filiorum Dan Bocci filius Iogli

34:23. Of the children of Joseph of the tribe of Manasses, Hanniel the son of Ephod.

Filiorum Ioseph de tribu Manasse Hannihel filius Ephod

34:24. Of the tribe of Ephraim, Camuel the son of Sephtan.

De tribu Ephraim Camuhel filius Sephtan

34:25. Of the tribe of Zabulon, Elisaphan the son of Pharnach.

De tribu Zabulon Elisaphan filius Pharnach

34:26. Of the tribe of Issachar, Phaltiel the prince, the son of Ozan.

De tribu Isachar dux Faltihel filius Ozan

34:27. Of the tribe of Aser, Ahiud the son of Salomi.

De tribu Aser Ahiud filius Salomi

34:28. Of the tribe of Nephtali: Phedael the son of Ammiud.

De tribu Nephthali Phedahel filius Ameiud

34:29. These are they whom the Lord hath commanded to divide the land of Chanaan to the children of Israel.

Hii sunt quibus praecepit Dominus ut dividerent filiis Israhel terram Chanaan

Numbers Chapter 35

Cities are appointed for the Levites. Of which six are to be the cities of refuge.

---

35:1. And the Lord spoke these things also to Moses in the plains of Moab by the Jordan, over against Jericho:

Haec quoque locutus est Dominus ad Mosen in campestribus Moab super Iordanem contra Hiericho

35:2. Command the children of Israel that they give to the Levites out of their possessions,

Praecepte filiis Israhel ut dent Levitis de possessionibus suis

35:3. Cities to dwell in, and their suburbs round about: that they may abide in the towns, and the suburbs may be for them cattle and beasts:

Urbes ad habitandum et suburbana earum per circuitum ut ipsi in oppidis maneant et suburbana sint pecoribus ac iumentis

35:4. Which suburbs shall reach from the walls of the cities outward, a thousand paces on every side:

Quae a muris civitatum forinsecus per circuitum mille passuum spatio tendentur

35:5. Toward the east shall be two thousand cubits: and toward the south in like manner shall be two thousand cubits: toward the sea also, which looketh to the west, shall be the same extent: and the north side shall be bounded with the like limits. And the cities shall be in the midst, and the suburbs without.

Contra orientem duo milia erunt cubiti et contra meridiem similiter duo milia ad mare quoque quod respicit occidentem eadem mensura erit et septentrionalis plaga aequali termino finietur eruntque urbes in medio et foris suburbana

35:6. And among the cities, which you shall give to the Levites, six shall be separated for refuge to fugitives, that he who hath shed blood may flee to them: and besides these there shall be other forty-two cities,

De ipsis autem oppidis quae Levitis dabitur sex erunt in fugitivorum auxilia separata ut fugiat ad ea qui fuderit sanguinem exceptis his alia quadraginta duo oppida

35:7. That is, in all forty-eight with their suburbs.

Id est simul quadraginta octo cum suburbanis suis

35:8. And of these cities which shall be given out of the possessions of the children of Israel, from them that have more, more shall be taken: and from them that have less, fewer. Each shall give towns to the Levites according to the extent of their inheritance.

Ipsaeque urbes quae dabuntur de possessionibus filiorum Israhel ab his qui plus habent plures auferentur et qui minus pauciores singuli iuxta mensuram hereditatis suae dabunt oppida Levitis

35:9. The Lord said to Moses:

Ait Dominus ad Mosen

35:10. Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: When you shall have passed over the Jordan into the land of Chanaan,

Loquere filiis Israhel et dices ad eos quando transgressi fueritis Iordanem in terram Chanaan

35:11. Determine what cities shall be for the refuge of fugitives, who have shed blood against their will.

Decernite quae urbes esse debeant in praesidia fugitivorum qui nolentes sanguinem fuderint

35:12. And when the fugitive shall be in them, the kinsman of him that is slain may not have power to kill him, until he stand before the multitude, and his cause be judged.

In quibus cum fuerit profugus cognatus occisi eum non poterit occidere donec stet in conspectu multitudinis

et causa illius iudicetur

35:13. And of those cities, that are separated for the refuge of fugitives,
De ipsis autem urbibus quae ad fugitivorum subsidia separantur

35:14. Three shall be beyond the Jordan, and three in the land of Chanaan,
Tres erunt trans Iordanem et tres in terra Chanaan

35:15. As well for the children of Israel as for strangers and sojourners, that he may flee to them, who hath shed blood against his will.
Tam filiis Israhel quam advenis atque peregrinis ut confugiat ad eas qui nolens sanguinem fuderit

35:16. If any man strike with iron, and he die that was struck: he shall be guilty of murder, and he himself shall die.
Si quis ferro percusserit et mortuus fuerit qui percussus est reus erit homicidii et ipse morietur

35:17. If he throw a stone, and he that is struck die: he shall be punished in the same manner.
Si lapidem iecerit et ictus occubuerit similiter punietur

35:18. If he that is struck with wood die: he shall be revenged by the blood of him that struck him.
Si ligno percussus interierit percussoris sanguine vindicabitur

35:19. The kinsman of him that was slain, shall kill the murderer: as soon as he apprehendeth him, he shall kill him.
Propinquus occisi homicidam interficiet statim ut adprehenderit eum percutiet

35:20. If through hatred any one push a man, or fling any thing at him with ill design:
Si per odium quis hominem inpulerit vel iecerit quippiam in eum per insidias

35:21. Or being his enemy, strike him with his hand, and he die: the striker shall be guilty of murder: the kinsman of him that was slain as soon as he findeth him, shall kill him.
Aut cum esset inimicus manu percusserit et ille mortuus fuerit percussor homicidii reus erit cognatus occisi statim ut invenerit eum iugulabit

35:22. But if by chance medley, and without hatred,
Quod si fortuito et absque odio

35:23. And enmity, he do any of these things,
Et inimicitis quicquam horum fecerit

35:24. And this be proved in the hearing of the people, and the cause be debated between him that struck, and the next of kin:
Et hoc audiente populo fuerit conprobatum atque inter percussorem et propinquum sanguinis quaestio ventilata

35:25. The innocent shall be delivered from the hand of the revenger, and shall be brought back by sentence into the city, to which he had fled, and he shall abide there until the death of the high priest, that is anointed with the holy oil.
Liberabitur innocens de ultoris manu et reducetur per sententiam in urbem ad quam confugerat manebitque ibi donec sacerdos magnus qui oleo sancto unctus est moriatur

Until the death, etc... This mystically signified that our deliverance was to be effected by the death of Christ, the high priest and the anointed of God.

35:26. If the murderer be found without the limits of the cities that are appointed for the banished,
Si interfector extra fines urbium quae exilibus deputatae sunt

35:27. And be struck by him that is the avenger of blood: he shall not be guilty that killed him.
Fuerit inventus et percussus ab eo qui ultor est sanguinis absque noxa erit qui eum occiderit

35:28. For the fugitive ought to have stayed in the city until the death of the high priest: and after he is dead, then shall the manslayer return to his own country.
Debuerat enim profugus usque ad mortem pontificis in urbe residere postquam autem ille obierit homicida revertetur in terram suam

35:29. These things shall be perpetual, and for an ordinance in all your dwellings.
Haec sempiterna erunt et legitima in cunctis habitationibus vestris

35:30. The murderer shall be punished by witnesses: none shall be condemned upon the evidence of one man.
Homicida sub testibus punietur ad unius testimonium nullus condemnabitur

35:31. You shall not take money of him that is guilty of blood, but he shall die forthwith.
Non accipietis pretium ab eo qui reus est sanguinis statim et ipse morietur

35:32. The banished and fugitives before the death of the high priest may by no means return into their own cities.
Exules et profugi ante mortem pontificis nullo modo in urbes suas reverti poterunt

35:33. Defile not the land of your habitation, which is stained with the blood of the innocent: neither can it otherwise be expiated, but by his blood that hath shed the blood of another.
Ne polluatis terram habitationis vestrae quae insontium cruore maculatur nec aliter expiari potest nisi per eius sanguinem qui alterius sanguinem fuderit

35:34. And thus shall your possession be cleansed, myself abiding with you. For I am the Lord that dwell among the children of Israel.
Atque ita emundabitur vestra possessio me commorante vobiscum ego enim sum Dominus qui habito inter filios Israhel

Numbers Chapter 36

That the inheritances may not be alienated from one tribe to another, all are to marry within their own tribes.

---

36:1. And the princes of the families of Galaad, the son of Machir, the son of Manasses, of the stock of the children of Joseph, came and spoke to Moses before the princes of Israel, and said:

Accesserunt autem et principes familiarum Galaad filii Machir filii Manasse de stirpe filiorum Ioseph locutique sunt Mosi coram principibus Israhel atque dixerunt

36:2. The Lord hath commanded thee, my lord, that thou shouldst divide the land by lot to the children of Israel, and that thou shouldst give to the daughters of Salphaad our brother the possession due to their father:

Tibi domino nostro praecepit Dominus ut terram sorte divideres filiis Israhel et ut filiabus Salphaad fratris nostri dares possessionem debitam patri

36:3. Now if men of another tribe take them to wives, their possession will follow them, and being transferred to another tribe, will be a diminishing of our inheritance.

Quas si alterius tribus homines uxores acceperint sequetur possessio sua et translata ad aliam tribum de nostra hereditate minuetur

36:4. And so it shall come to pass, that when the jubilee, the is, the fiftieth year of remission, is come, the distribution made by the lots shall be confounded, and the possession of the one shall pass to the others.

Atque ita fiet ut cum iobeleus id est quinquagesimus annus remissionis advenerit confundatur sortium distributio et aliorum possessio ad alios transeat

36:5. Moses answered the children of Israel, and said by the command of the Lord: The tribe of the children of Joseph hath spoken rightly.

Respondit Moses filiis Israhel et Domino praecipiente ait recte tribus filiorum Ioseph locuta est

36:6. And this is the law promulgated by the Lord touching the daughters of Salphaad: Let them marry to whom they will, only so that it be to men of their own tribe.

Et haec lex super filiabus Salphaad a Domino promulgata est nubant quibus volunt tantum ut suae tribus hominibus

36:7. Lest the possession of the children of Israel be mingled from tribe to tribe. For all men shall marry wives of their own tribe and kindred:

Ne commisceatur possessio filiorum Israhel de tribu in tribum omnes enim viri ducent uxores de tribu et cognatione sua

36:8. And all women shall take husbands of the same tribe: that the inheritance may remain in the families.

Et cunctae feminae maritos de eadem tribu accipient ut hereditas permaneat in familiis

36:9. And that the tribes be not mingled one with another, but remain so

Nec sibi misceantur tribus sed ita maneant

36:10. As they were separated by the Lord. And the daughters of Salphaad did as was commanded:

Ut a Domino separatae sunt feceruntque filiae Salphaad ut fuerat imperatum

36:11. And Maala, and Thersa, and Hegla, and Melcha, and Noa were married to the sons of their uncle by their father

Et nupserunt Maala et Thersa et Egla et Melcha et Noa filiis patris sui

36:12. Of the family of Manasses, who was the son of Joseph: and the possession that had been allotted to them, remained in the tribe and family of their father.

De familia Manasse qui fuit filius Ioseph et possessio quae illis fuerat adtributa mansit in tribu et familia patris earum

36:13. These are the commandments and judgment, which the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses to the children of Israel, in the plains of Moab upon the Jordan over against Jericho.

Haec sunt mandata atque iudicia quae praecepit Dominus per manum Mosi ad filios Israhel in campestribus Moab super Iordanem contra Hiericho

Abdias

The Prophecy of Abdias, also called Obadiah

ABDIAS, whose name is interpreted THE SERVANT OF THE LORD, is believed to have prophesied about the same time as OSEE, JOEL, and AMOS: though some of the Hebrews, who believe him to be the same with ACHAB's steward, make him much more ancient. His prophecy is the shortest of any in number of words, but yields to none, says ST. JEROME, in the sublimity of mysteries. It contains but one chapter. (For more information, see the article ABDIAS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

1:1. The vision of Abdias. Thus saith the Lord God to Edom: We have heard a rumour from the Lord, and he hath sent an ambassador to the nations: Arise, and let us rise up to battle against him.

Visio Abdiae haec dicit Dominus Deus ad Edom auditum audivimus a Domino et legatum ad gentes misit surgite et consurgamus adversum eum in proelium

1:2. Behold I have made thee small among the nations: thou art exceeding contemptible.

Ecce parvulum te dedi in gentibus contemptibilis tu es valde

1:3. The pride of thy heart hath lifted thee up, who dwellest in the clefts of the rocks, and settest up thy throne on high: who sayest in thy heart: Who shall bring me down to the ground?

Superbia cordis tui extulit te habitantem in scissuris petrae exaltantem solium suum qui dicit in corde suo quis detrahet me in terram

1:4. Though thou be exalted as an eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars: thence will I bring thee down, saith the Lord.

Si exaltatus fueris ut aquila et si inter sidera posueris nidum tuum inde detraham te dicit Dominus

1:5. If thieves had gone in to thee, if robbers by night, how wouldst thou have held thy peace? would they not have stolen till they had enough? if the grapegatherers had come in to thee, would they not have left thee at the least a cluster?

Si fures introissent ad te si latrones per noctem quomodo conticuisses nonne furati essent sufficientia sibi si vindemiares introissent ad te numquid saltim racemos reliquissent tibi

1:6. How have they searched Esau, how have they sought out his hidden things?

Quomodo scrutati sunt Esau investigaverunt abscondita eius

1:7. They have sent thee out even to the border: all the men of thy confederacy have deceived thee: the men of thy peace have prevailed against thee: they that eat with thee shall lay snares under thee: there is no wisdom in him.

Usque ad terminum emiserunt te omnes viri foederis tui inluserunt tibi invaluerunt adversum te viri pacis tuae qui comedunt tecum ponent insidias subter te non est prudentia in eo

1:8. Shall not I in that day, saith the Lord, destroy the wise out of Edom, and understanding out of the mount of Esau?

Numquid non in die illa dicit Dominus perdam sapientes de Idumea et prudentiam de monte Esau

1:9. And thy valiant men of the south shall be afraid, that man may be cut off from the mount of Esau.

Et timebunt fortes tui a meridie ut intereat vir de monte Esau

1:10. For the slaughter, and for the iniquity against thy brother Jacob, confusion shall cover thee, and thou shalt perish for ever.

Propter interfectionem et propter iniquitatem in fratrem tuum Iacob operiet te confusio et peribis in aeternum

1:11. In the day when thou stoodest against him, when strangers carried away his army captive, and foreigners entered into his gates, and cast lots upon Jerusalem: thou also wast as one of them.

In die cum stares adversus quando capiebant alieni exercitum eius et extranei ingrediebantur portas eius et super Hierusalem mittebant sortem tu quoque eras quasi unus ex eis

1:12. But thou shalt not look on in the day of thy brother, in the day of his leaving his country: and thou shalt not rejoice over the children of Juda, in the day of their destruction: and thou shalt not magnify thy mouth in the day of distress.

Et non despicias in die fratris tui in die peregrinationis eius et non laetaberis super filios Iuda in die perditionis eorum et non magnificabis os tuum in die angustiae

Thou shalt not look, etc... or, thou shouldst not, etc. It is a reprehension for what they had done, and at the same time a declaration that these things should not pass unpunished. -- Ibid. Thou shalt not magnify thy mouth... That is, thou shalt not speak arrogantly against the children of Juda as insulting them in their distress.

1:13. Neither shalt thou enter into the gate of my people in the day of their ruin: neither shalt thou also look on in his evils in the day of his calamity: and thou shalt not be sent out against his army in the day of his desolation.

Neque ingredieris portam populi mei in die ruinae eorum neque despicias et tu in malis eius in die vastitatis illius et non emitteris adversum exercitum eius in die vastitatis illius

1:14. Neither shalt thou stand in the crossways to kill them that flee: and thou shalt not shut up them that remain of him in the day of tribulation.

Neque stabis in exitibus ut interficias eos qui fugerint et non concludes reliquos eius in die tribulationis

1:15. For the day of the Lord is at hand upon all nations: as thou hast done, so shall it be done to thee: he will turn thy reward upon thy own head.

Quoniam iuxta est dies Domini super omnes gentes sicut fecisti fiet tibi retributionem tuam convertet in caput tuum

1:16. For as you have drunk upon my holy mountain, so all nations shall drink continually: and they shall drink, and sup up, and they shall be as though they were not.

Quomodo enim bibisti super montem sanctum meum bibent omnes gentes iugiter et bibent et absorbent et erunt quasi non sint

1:17. And in mount Sion shall be salvation, and it shall be holy, and the house of Jacob shall possess those that possessed them.

Et in monte Sion erit salvatio et erit sanctus et possidebit domus Iacob eos qui se possederant

1:18. And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau stubble: and they shall be kindled in them, and shall devour them: and there shall be no remains of the house of Esau, for the Lord hath spoken it.

Et erit domus Iacob ignis et domus Ioseph flamma et domus Esau stipula et succendentur in eis et devorabunt eos et non erunt reliquiae domus Esau quia Dominus locutus est

1:19. And they that are toward the south, shall inherit the mount of Esau, and they that are in the plains, the Philistines: and they shall possess the country of Ephraim, and the country of Samaria: and Benjamin shall possess Galaad.

Et hereditabunt hii qui ad austrum montem Esau et qui in campestribus Philisthim et possidebunt regionem Ephraim et regionem Samariae et Benjamin possidebit Galaad

1:20. And the captivity of this host of the children of Israel, all the places of the Chanaanites even to Sarepta: and the captivity of Jerusalem that is in Bosphorus, shall possess the cities of the south.

Et transmigratio exercitus huius filiorum Israhel omnia Chananeorum usque ad Sarapham et transmigratio Hierusalem quae in Bosforo est possidebit civitates austri

1:21. And saviours shall come up into mount Sion to judge the mount of Esau: and the kingdom shall be for the Lord.

Et ascendent salvatores in montem Sion iudicare montem Esau et erit Domino regnum

Philippians

The Epistle of St. Paul to the Philippians

---

The Philippians were the first among the Macedonians converted to the faith. They had a great veneration for St. Paul and supplied his wants when he was a prisoner in Rome, sending to him by Epaphroditus, by whom he sent this Epistle; in which he recommends charity, unity and humility and warns them against false teachers, whom he calls dogs and enemies of the cross of Christ. He also returns thanks for their benefactions. It was written about twenty-nine years after our Lord's Ascension. (For more information, see the article EPISTLE TO THE PHILIPPIANS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Philippians Chapter 1. The apostle's affection for the Philippians.

Philippians Chapter 2. He recommends them to unity and humility, and to work out their salvation with fear and trembling.

Philippians Chapter 3. He warneth them against false teachers. He counts all other things loss, that he may gain Christ.

Philippians Chapter 4. He exhorts them to perseverance in all good and acknowledges their charitable contributions to him.

Philipians Chapter 1

The apostle's affection for the Philipians.

---

1:1. Paul and Timothy, the servants of Jesus Christ: to all the saints in Christ Jesus who are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons.

Paulus et Timotheus servi Iesu Christi omnibus sanctis in Christo Iesu qui sunt Philippis cum episcopis et diaconis

1:2. Grace be unto you and peace, from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

Gratia vobis et pax a Deo Patre nostro et Domino Iesu Christo

1:3. I give thanks to my God in every remembrance of you:

Gratias ago Deo meo in omni memoria vestri

1:4. Always in all my prayers making supplication for you all with joy:

Semper in cunctis orationibus meis pro omnibus vobis cum gaudio deprecationem faciens

1:5. For your communication in the gospel of Christ, from the first day unto now.

Super communicatione vestra in evangelio a prima die usque nunc

1:6. Being confident of this very thing: that he who hath begun a good work in you will perfect it unto the day of Christ Jesus.

Confidens hoc ipsum quia qui coepit in vobis opus bonum perficiet usque in diem Christi Iesu

1:7. As it is meet for me to think this for you all, for that I have you in my heart; and that, in my bands and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, you all are partakers of my joy.

Sicut est mihi iustum hoc sentire pro omnibus vobis eo quod habeam in corde vos et in vinculis meis et in defensione et confirmatione evangelii socios gaudii mei omnes vos esse

1:8. For God is my witness how I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.

Testis enim mihi est Deus quomodo cupiam omnes vos in visceribus Christi Iesu

1:9. And this I pray: That your charity may more and more abound in knowledge and in all understanding:

Et hoc oro ut caritas vestra magis ac magis abundet in scientia et omni sensu

1:10. That you may approve the better things: that you may be sincere and without offence unto the day of Christ:

Ut probetis potiora ut sitis sinceres et sine offensa in diem Christi

1:11. Filled with the fruit of justice, through Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

Repleti fructu iustitiae per Christum Iesum in gloriam et laudem Dei

1:12. Now, brethren, I desire you should know that the things which have happened to me have fallen out rather to the furtherance of the gospel:

Scire autem vos volo fratres quia quae circa me sunt magis ad profectum venerunt evangelii

1:13. So that my bands are made manifest in Christ, in all the court and in all other places.

Ita ut vincula mea manifesta fierent in Christo in omni praetorio et in ceteris omnibus

1:14. And many of the brethren in the Lord, growing confident by my bands, are much more bold to speak the word of God without fear.

Et plures e fratribus in Domino confidentes vinculis meis abundantius audere sine timore verbum Dei loqui

1:15. Some indeed, even out of envy and contention: but some also for good will preach Christ.

Quidam quidem et propter invidiam et contentionem quidam autem et propter bonam voluntatem Christum praedicant

1:16. Some out of charity, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

Quidam ex caritate scientes quoniam in defensionem evangelii positus sum

1:17. And some out of contention preach Christ not sincerely: supposing that they raise affliction to my bands.

Quidam autem ex contentione Christum adnuntiant non sincere existimantes pressuram se suscitare vinculis meis

1:18. But what then? So that by all means, whether by occasion or by truth, Christ be preached: in this also I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

Quid enim dum omni modo sive per occasionem sive per veritatem Christus adnuntiatur et in hoc gaudeo sed et gaudebo

1:19. For I know that this shall fall out to me unto salvation, through your prayer and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,

Scio enim quia hoc mihi proveniet in salutem per vestram orationem et subministrationem Spiritus Iesu Christi

1:20. According to my expectation and hope; that in nothing I shall be confounded: but with all confidence, as always, so now also, shall Christ be magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.

Secundum expectationem et spem meam quia in nullo confundar sed in omni fiducia sicut semper et nunc magnificabitur Christus in corpore meo sive per vitam sive per mortem

1:21. For to me, to live is Christ: and to die is gain.

Mihi enim vivere Christus est et mori lucrum

1:22. And if to live in the flesh: this is to me the fruit of labour. And what I shall choose I know not.

Quod si vivere in carne hic mihi fructus operis est et quid eligam ignoro

This is to me, etc... His meaning is, that although his dying immediately for Christ would be his gain, by putting him presently in possession of heaven; yet he is doubtful what he should choose, because by staying longer in the flesh, he should be more beneficial to the souls of his neighbours.

1:23. But I am straitened between two: having a desire to be dissolved and to be with Christ, a thing by far the better.

Coartor autem e duobus desiderium habens dissolvi et cum Christo esse multo magis melius

1:24. But to abide still in the flesh is needful for you.

Permanere autem in carne magis necessarium est propter vos

1:25. And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and joy of faith:

Et hoc confidens scio quia manebo et permanebo omnibus vobis ad profectum vestrum et gaudium fidei

1:26. That your rejoicing may abound in Christ Jesus for me, by my coming to you again.

Ut gratulatio vestra abundet in Christo Iesu in me per meum adventum iterum ad vos

1:27. Only let your conversation be worthy of the gospel of Christ: that, whether I come and see you, or, being absent, may hear of you, that you stand fast in one spirit, with one mind labouring together for the faith of the gospel.

Tantum digne evangelio Christi conversamini ut sive cum venero et videro vos sive absens audiam de vobis quia stetistis uno spiritu unianimes conlaborantes fide evangelii

1:28. And in nothing be ye terrified by the adversaries: which to them is a cause of perdition, but to you of salvation, and this from God.

Et in nullo terreamini ab adversariis quae est illis causa perditionis vobis autem salutis et hoc a Deo

1:29. For unto you it is given for Christ, not only to believe in him, but also to suffer for him:

Quia vobis donatum est pro Christo non solum ut in eum credatis sed ut etiam pro illo patiamini

1:30. Having the same conflict as that which you have seen in me and now have heard of me.

Eundem certamen habentes qualem et vidistis in me et nunc audistis de me

Philippians Chapter 2

He recommends them to unity and humility, and to work out their salvation with fear and trembling.

---

2:1. If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of charity, if any society of the spirit, if any bowels of commiseration:

Si qua ergo consolatio in Christo si quod solacium caritatis si qua societas spiritus si quid viscera et miserationes

2:2. Fulfil ye my joy, that you be of one mind, having the same charity, being of one accord, agreeing in sentiment.

Implete gaudium meum ut idem sapiatis eandem caritatem habentes unianimes id ipsum sentientes

2:3. Let nothing be done through contention: neither by vain glory. But in humility, let each esteem others better than themselves:

Nihil per contentionem neque per inanem gloriam sed in humilitate superiores sibi invicem arbitrantes

2:4. Each one not considering the things that are his own, but those that are other men's.

Non quae sua sunt singuli considerantes sed et ea quae aliorum

2:5. For let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

Hoc enim sentite in vobis quod et in Christo Iesu

2:6. Who being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God:

Qui cum in forma Dei esset non rapinam arbitratus est esse se aequalem Deo

2:7. But emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being made in the likeness of men, and in habit found as a man.

Sed semet ipsum exinanivit formam servi accipiens in similitudinem hominum factus et habitu inventus ut homo

Emptied himself, exinanivit... made himself as of no account.

2:8. He humbled himself, becoming obedient unto death, even to the death of the cross.

Humiliavit semet ipsum factus oboediens usque ad mortem mortem autem crucis

2:9. For which cause, God also hath exalted him and hath given him a name which is above all names:

Propter quod et Deus illum exaltavit et donavit illi nomen super omne nomen

2:10. That in the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of those that are in heaven, on earth, and under the earth:

Ut in nomine Iesu omne genu flectat caelestium et terrestrium et infernorum

2:11. And that every tongue should confess that the Lord Jesus Christ is in the glory of God the Father.

Et omnis lingua confiteatur quia Dominus Iesus Christus in gloria est Dei Patris

2:12. Wherefore, my dearly beloved, (as you have always obeyed, not as in my presence only but much more now in my absence) with fear and trembling work out your salvation.

Itaque carissimi mei sicut semper oboedistis non ut in praesentia mei tantum sed multo magis nunc in absentia mea cum metu et tremore vestram salutem operamini

With fear, etc... This is against the false faith, and presumptuous security of modern sectaries.

2:13. For it is God who worketh in you, both to will and to accomplish, according to his good will.

Deus est enim qui operatur in vobis et velle et perficere pro bona voluntate

2:14. And do ye all things without murmurings and hesitations:

Omnia autem facite sine murmurationibus et haesitationibus

2:15. That you may be blameless and sincere children of God, without reproof, in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation: among whom you shine as lights in the world.

Ut sitis sine querella et simplices filii Dei sine reprehensione in medio nationis pravae et perversae inter quos lucetis sicut luminaria in mundo

2:16. Holding forth the word of life to my glory in the day of Christ: because I have not run in vain, nor laboured in vain.

Verbum vitae continentes ad gloriam meam in die Christi quia non in vacuum cucurri neque in vacuum laboravi

2:17. Yea, and if I be made a victim upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I rejoice and congratulate with you all.

Sed et si immolor supra sacrificium et obsequium fidei vestrae gaudeo et congratulor omnibus vobis

2:18. And for the selfsame thing, do you also rejoice and congratulate with me.

Id ipsum autem et vos gaudete et congratulamini mihi

2:19. And I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy unto you shortly, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know the things concerning you.

Spero autem in Domino Iesu Timotheum cito me mittere ad vos ut et ego bono animo sim cognitis quae circa vos sunt

2:20. For I have no man so of the same mind, who with sincere affection is solicitous for you.

Neminem enim habeo tam unianimem qui sincera affectione pro vobis sollicitus sit

2:21. For all seek the things that are their own not the things that are Jesus Christ's.

Omnes enim sua quaerunt non quae sunt Christi Iesu

2:22. Now know ye the proof of him: that as a son with the father, so hath he served with me in the gospel.

Experimentum autem eius cognoscite quoniam sicut patri filius mecum servivit in evangelium

2:23. Him therefore I hope to send unto you immediately: so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.

Hunc igitur spero me mittere mox ut videro quae circa me sunt

2:24. And I trust in the Lord that I myself also shall come to you shortly.

Confido autem in Domino quoniam et ipse veniam ad vos cito

2:25. But I have thought it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow labourer and fellow soldier, but your apostle: and he that hath ministered to my wants.

Necessarium autem existimavi Epafroditum fratrem et cooperatorem et commilitonem meum vestrum autem apostolum et ministrum necessitatis meae mittere ad vos

2:26. For indeed he longed after you all: and was sad, for that you had heard that he was sick.

Quoniam quidem omnes vos desiderabat et maestus erat propterea quod audieratis illum infirmatum

2:27. For indeed he was sick, nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him. And not only on him, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

Nam et infirmatus est usque ad mortem sed Deus misertus est eius non solum autem eius verum etiam et mei ne tristitiam super tristitiam haberem

2:28. Therefore, I sent him the more speedily: that seeing him again, you may rejoice, and I may be without sorrow.

Festinantius ergo misi illum ut viso eo iterum gaudeatis et ego sine tristitia sim

2:29. Receive him therefore with all joy in the Lord: and treat with honour such as he is.

Excipite itaque illum cum omni gaudio in Domino et eiusmodi cum honore habetote

2:30. Because for the work of Christ he came to the point of death: delivering his life, that he might fulfil that which on your part was wanting towards my service.

Quoniam propter opus Christi usque ad mortem accessit tradens animam suam ut impleret id quod ex vobis

deerat erga meum obsequium

Philipians Chapter 3

He warneth them against false teachers. He counts all other things loss, that he may gain Christ.

---

3:1. As to the rest, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not wearisome, but to you is necessary.

De cetero fratres mei gaudete in Domino eadem vobis scribere mihi quidem non pigrum vobis autem necessarium

3:2. Beware of dogs: beware of evil workers: beware of the concision.

Videte canes videte malos operarios videte concisionem

3:3. For we are the circumcision, who in spirit serve God and glory in Christ Jesus, not having confidence in the flesh.

Nos enim sumus circumcisio qui spiritu Deo servimus et gloriamur in Christo Iesu et non in carne fiduciam habentes

3:4. Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other thinketh he may have confidence in the flesh, I more:

Quamquam ego habeam confidentiam et in carne si quis alius videtur confidere in carne ego magis

3:5. Being circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrews. According to the law, a Pharisee:

Circumcिसus octava die ex genere Israhel de tribu Benjamin Hebraeus ex Hebraeis secundum legem Pharisaeus

3:6. According to zeal, persecuting the church of God: According to the justice that is in the law, conversing without blame.

Secundum aemulationem persequens ecclesiam Dei secundum iustitiam quae in lege est conversatus sine querella

3:7. But the things that were gain to me, the same I have counted loss for Christ.

Sed quae mihi fuerunt lucra haec arbitratus sum propter Christum detrimenta

3:8. Furthermore, I count all things to be but loss for the excellent knowledge of Jesus Christ, my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things and count them but as dung, that I may gain Christ.

Verumtamen existimo omnia detrimentum esse propter eminentem scientiam Iesu Christi Domini mei propter quem omnia detrimentum feci et arbitror ut stercora ut Christum lucri faciam

3:9. And may be found in him, not having my justice, which is of the law, but that which is of the faith of Christ Jesus, which is of God: justice in faith.

Et inveniar in illo non habens meam iustitiam quae ex lege est sed illam quae ex fide est Christi quae ex Deo est iustitia in fide

3:10. That I may know him and the power of his resurrection and the fellowship of his sufferings: being made conformable to his death,

Ad agnoscendum illum et virtutem resurrectionis eius et societatem passionum illius configuratus morti eius

3:11. If by any means I may attain to the resurrection which is from the dead.

Si quo modo occurram ad resurrectionem quae est ex mortuis

3:12. Not as though I had already attained, or were already perfect: but I follow after, if I may by any means apprehend, wherein I am also apprehended by Christ Jesus.

Non quod iam acceperim aut iam perfectus sim sequor autem si comprehendam in quo et comprehensus sum

a Christo Iesu

3:13. Brethren, I do not count myself to have apprehended. But one thing I do: Forgetting the things that are behind and stretching forth myself to those that are before,

Fratres ego me non arbitror comprehendisse unum autem quae quidem retro sunt obliviscens ad ea vero quae sunt in priora extendens me

3:14. I press towards the mark, to the prize of the supernal vocation of God in Christ Jesus.

Ad destinatum persequor ad bravium supernae vocationis Dei in Christo Iesu

3:15. Let us therefore, as many as are perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing you be otherwise minded, this also God will reveal to you,

Quicumque ergo perfecti hoc sentiamus et si quid aliter sapitis et hoc vobis Deus revelabit

3:16. Nevertheless, whereunto we are come, that we be of the same mind, let us also continue in the same rule.

Verumtamen ad quod pervenimus ut idem sapiamus et in eadem permaneamus regula

3:17. Be ye followers of me, brethren: and observe them who walk so as you have our model.

Imitatores mei estote fratres et observate eos qui ita ambulant sicut habetis formam nos

3:18. For many walk, of whom I have told you often (and now tell you weeping) that they are enemies of the cross of Christ:

Multi enim ambulant quos saepe dicebam vobis nunc autem et flens dico inimicos crucis Christi

3:19. Whose end is destruction: whose God is their belly: and whose glory is in their shame: who mind earthly things.

Quorum finis interitus quorum deus venter et gloria in confusione ipsorum qui terrena sapiunt

3:20. But our conversation is in heaven: from whence also we look for the Saviour, our Lord Jesus Christ,

Nostra autem conversatio in caelis est unde etiam salvatorem expectamus Dominum Iesum Christum

3:21. Who will reform the body of our lowliness, made like to the body of his glory, according to the operation whereby also he is able to subdue all things unto himself.

Qui reformabit corpus humilitatis nostrae configuratum corpori claritatis suae secundum operationem qua possit etiam subicere sibi omnia

Philippians Chapter 4

He exhorts them to perseverance in all good and acknowledges their charitable contributions to him.

---

4:1. Therefore my dearly beloved brethren and most desired, my joy and my crown: so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.

Itaque fratres mei carissimi et desiderantissimi gaudium meum et corona mea sic state in Domino carissimi

4:2. I beg of Evodia and I beseech Syntyche to be of one mind in the Lord.

Euhodiam rogo et Syntychen deprecor id ipsum sapere in Domino

4:3. And I entreat thee also, my sincere companion, help those women who have laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement and the rest of my fellow labourers, whose names are in the book of life.

Etiam rogo et te germane conpar adiuva illas quae mecum laboraverunt in evangelio cum Clemente et ceteris adiutoribus meis quorum nomina sunt in libro vitae

4:4. Rejoice in the Lord always: again, I say, rejoice.

Gaudete in Domino semper iterum dico gaudete

4:5. Let your modesty be known to all men. The Lord is nigh.

Modestia vestra nota sit omnibus hominibus Dominus prope

4:6. Be nothing solicitous: but in every thing, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your petitions be made known to God.

Nihil solliciti sitis sed in omni oratione et obsecratione cum gratiarum actione petitiones vestrae innotescant apud Deum

4:7. And the peace of God, which surpasseth all understanding, keep your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus.

Et pax Dei quae exsuperat omnem sensum custodiat corda vestra et intellegentias vestras in Christo Iesu

4:8. For the rest, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever modest, whatsoever just, whatsoever holy, whatsoever lovely, whatsoever of good fame, if there be any virtue, if any praise of discipline: think on these things.

De cetero fratres quaecumque sunt vera quaecumque pudica quaecumque iusta quaecumque sancta quaecumque amabilia quaecumque bonae famae si qua virtus si qua laus haec cogitate

For the rest, brethren, whatsoever things are true, etc... Here the apostle enumerates general precepts of morality, which they ought to practise. Whatsoever things are true... in words, in promises, in lawful oaths, etc., he commands rectitude of mind, and sincerity of heart. Whatsoever modest... by these words he prescribes gravity in manners, modesty in dress, and decency in conversation.

Whatsoever just... That is, in dealing with others, in buying or selling, in trade or business, to be fair and honest. Whatsoever holy... by these words may be understood, that those who are in a religious state professed, or in holy orders, should lead a life of sanctity and chastity, according to the vows they make; but these words being also applied to those in the world, indicate the virtuous life they are bound by the divine commandments to follow. Whatsoever lovely... that is, to practise those good offices in society, that procure us the esteem and good will of our neighbours. Whatsoever of good fame... That is, that by our conduct and behaviour we should edify our neighbours, and give them good example by our actions. If there be any virtue, if any praise of discipline... that those in error, by seeing the morality and good discipline of the true religion, may be converted. And finally, the apostle commands, not only the Philippians, but all Christians, to think on these things... that is, to make it their study and concern that the peace of God might be with them.

4:9. The things which you have both learned and received and heard and seen in me, these do ye: and the God of peace shall be with you.

Quae et didicistis et accepistis et audistis et vidistis in me haec agite et Deus pacis erit vobiscum

4:10. Now I rejoice in the Lord exceedingly that now at length your thought for me hath flourished again, as you did also think; but you were busied.

Gavisus sum autem in Domino vehementer quoniam tandem aliquando refluistis pro me sentire sicut et sentiebatis occupati autem eratis

4:11. I speak not as it were for want. For I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, to be content therewith.

Non quasi propter penuriam dico ego enim didici in quibus sum sufficiens esse

4:12. I know both how to be brought low, and I know how to abound (every where and in all things I am instructed): both to be full and to be hungry: both to abound and to suffer need.

Scio et humiliari scio et abundare ubique et in omnibus institutus sum et satiari et esurire et abundare et penuriam pati

4:13. I can do all things in him who strengtheneth me.

Omnia possum in eo qui me confortat

4:14. Nevertheless, you have done well in communicating to my tribulation.

Verumtamen bene fecistis communicantes tribulationi meae

4:15. And you also know, O Philippians, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but you only.

Scitis autem et vos Philippenses quod in principio evangelii quando profectus sum a Macedonia nulla mihi ecclesia communicavit in ratione dati et accepti nisi vos soli

4:16. For unto Thessalonica also you sent once and again for my use.

Quia et Thessalonicam et semel et bis in usum mihi misistis

4:17. Not that I seek the gift: but I seek the fruit that may abound to your account.

Non quia quaero datum sed requiro fructum abundantem in rationem vestram

4:18. But I have all and abound: I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things you sent, an odour of sweetness, an acceptable sacrifice, pleasing to God.

Habeo autem omnia et abundo repletus sum acceptis ab Epafrodito quae misistis odorem suavitatis hostiam acceptam placentem Deo

4:19. And may my God supply all your want, according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus.

Deus autem meus impleat omne desiderium vestrum secundum divitias suas in gloria in Christo Iesu

4:20. Now to God and our Father be glory, world without end. Amen.

Deo autem et Patri nostro gloria in saecula saeculorum amen

4:21. Salute ye every saint in Christ Jesus.

Salutate omnem sanctum in Christo Iesu salutant vos qui mecum sunt fratres

4:22. The brethren who are with me salute you. All the saints salute you: especially they that are of Caesar's household.

Salutant vos omnes sancti maxime autem qui de Caesaris domo sunt

4:23. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

Gratia Domini Iesu Christi cum spiritu vestro amen

Philemon

The Epistle of St. Paul to Philemon

---

Philemon, a noble citizen of Colossa, had a servant named Onesimus, who robbed him and fled to Rome, where he met St. Paul, who was then a prisoner there the first time. The apostle took compassion on him and received him with tenderness and converted him to the faith; for he was a Gentile before. St. Paul sends him back to his master with this Epistle in his favour: and though he beseeches Philemon to pardon him, yet the Apostle writes with becoming dignity and authority. It contains divers profitable instructions and points out the charity and humanity that masters should have for their servants. (For more information, see the article EPISTLE TO PHILEMON in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

1:1. Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy, a brother: to Philemon, our beloved and fellow labourer, Paulus vincus Iesu Christi et Timotheus frater Philemoni dilecto et adiutori nostro

1:2. And to Appia, our dearest sister, and to Archippus, our fellow soldier, and to the church which is in thy house.

Et Appiae sorori et Archippo commilitoni nostro et ecclesiae quae in domo tua est

1:3. Grace to you and peace, from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

Gratia vobis et pax a Deo Patre nostro et Domino Iesu Christo

1:4. I give thanks to my God, always making a remembrance of thee in my prayers.

Gratias ago Deo meo semper memoriam tui faciens in orationibus meis

1:5. Hearing of thy charity and faith, which thou hast in the Lord Jesus and towards all the saints:

Audiens caritatem tuam et fidem quam habes in Domino Iesu et in omnes sanctos

1:6. That the communication of thy faith may be made evident in the acknowledgment of every good work that is in you in Christ Jesus.

Ut communicatio fidei tuae evidens fiat in agnitione omnis boni in nobis in Christo Iesu

1:7. For I have had great joy and consolation in thy charity, because the bowels of the saints have been refreshed by thee, brother.

Gaudium enim magnum habui et consolationem in caritate tua quia viscera sanctorum requieverunt per te frater

1:8. Wherefore, though I have much confidence in Christ Jesus to command thee that which is to the purpose:

Propter quod multam fiduciam habentes in Christo Iesu imperandi tibi quod ad rem pertinet

1:9. For charity sake I rather beseech, whereas thou art such a one, as Paul, an old man and now a prisoner also of Jesus Christ.

Propter caritatem magis obsecro cum sis talis ut Paulus senex nunc autem et vincus Iesu Christi

1:10. I beseech thee for my son, whom I have begotten in my bands, Onesimus,

Obsecro te de meo filio quem genui in vinculis Onesimo

1:11. Who hath been heretofore unprofitable to thee but now is profitable both to me and thee:

Qui tibi aliquando inutilis fuit nunc autem et tibi et mihi utilis

1:12. Whom I have sent back to thee. And do thou receive him as my own bowels.

Quem remisi tu autem illum id est mea viscera suscipe

1:13. Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered to me in the bands of the gospel.

Quem ego volueram mecum detinere ut pro te mihi ministraret in vinculis evangelii

1:14. But without thy counsel I would do nothing: that thy good deed might not be as it were of necessity, but voluntary.

Sine consilio autem tuo nihil volui facere uti ne velut ex necessitate bonum tuum esset sed voluntarium

1:15. For perhaps he therefore departed for a season from thee that thou mightest receive him again for ever:

Forsitan enim ideo discessit ad horam a te ut aeternum illum recipere

1:16. Not now as a servant, but instead of a servant, a most dear brother, especially to me. But how much more to thee, both in the flesh and in the Lord?

Iam non ut servum sed plus servo carissimum fratrem maxime mihi quanto autem magis tibi et in carne et in Domino

1:17. If therefore thou count me a partner, receive him as myself.

Si ergo habes me socium suscipe illum sicut me

1:18. And if he hath wronged thee in any thing or is in thy debt, put that to my account.

Si autem aliquid nocuit tibi aut debet hoc mihi inputa

1:19. I Paul have written it with my own hand: I will repay it: not to say to thee that thou owest me thy own self also.

Ego Paulus scripsi mea manu ego reddam ut non dicam tibi quod et te ipsum mihi debes

1:20. Yea, brother. May I enjoy thee in the Lord! Refresh my bowels in the Lord.

Ita frater ego te fruar in Domino refice viscera mea in Domino

1:21. Trusting in thy obedience, I have written to thee: knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.

Confidens oboedientia tua scripsi tibi sciens quoniam et super id quod dico facies

1:22. But withal prepare me also a lodging. For I hope that through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

Simul autem et para mihi hospitium nam spero per orationes vestras donari me vobis

1:23. There salute thee Epaphras, my fellow prisoner in Christ Jesus:

Salutat te Epaphras concaptivus meus in Christo Iesu

1:24. Mark, Aristarchus, Demas and Luke, my fellow labourers.

Marcus Aristarchus Demas Lucas adiutores mei

1:25. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

Gratia Domini nostri Iesu Christi cum spiritu vestro amen

Proverbs

This Book is so called, because it consists of wise and weighty sentences: regulating the morals of men: and directing them to wisdom and virtue. And these sentences are also called PARABLES, because great truths are often couched in them under certain figures and similitudes. (For more information, see the article BOOK OF PROVERBS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Proverbs Chapter 1. The use and end of the proverbs. An exhortation to flee the company of the wicked: and to hearken to the voice of wisdom.

Proverbs Chapter 2. The advantages of wisdom: and the evils from which it delivers.

Proverbs Chapter 3. An exhortation to the practice of virtue.

Proverbs Chapter 4. A further exhortation to seek after wisdom.

Proverbs Chapter 5. An exhortation to fly unlawful lust, and the occasions of it.

Proverbs Chapter 6. Documents on several heads.

Proverbs Chapter 7. The love of wisdom is the best preservative from being led astray by temptation.

Proverbs Chapter 8. The preaching of wisdom. Her excellence.

Proverbs Chapter 9. Wisdom invites all to her feast. Folly calls another way.

Proverbs Chapter 10. In the twenty following chapters are contained many wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

Proverbs Chapter 11. More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

Proverbs Chapter 12. More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

Proverbs Chapter 13. More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

Proverbs Chapter 14. More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

Proverbs Chapter 1

The use and end of the proverbs. An exhortation to flee the company of the wicked: and to hearken to the voice of wisdom.

1:1. The parables of Solomon, the son of David, king of Israel,
Parabolae Salomonis filii David regis Israhel

1:2. To know wisdom, and instruction:
Ad sciendam sapientiam et disciplinam

1:3. To understand the words of prudence: and to receive the instruction of doctrine, justice, and judgment, and equity:
Ad intellegenda verba prudentiae et suscipiendam eruditionem doctrinae iustitiam et iudicium et aequitatem

1:4. To give subtilty to little ones, to the young man knowledge and understanding.
Ut detur parvulis astutia adulescenti scientia et intellectus

1:5. A wise man shall hear, and shall be wiser: and he that understandeth shall possess governments.
Audiens sapiens sapientior erit et intellegens gubernacula possidebit

1:6. He shall understand a parable and the interpretation, the words of the wise, and their mysterious sayings.
Animadvertet parabolam et interpretationem verba sapientium et enigmata eorum

1:7. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. Fools despise wisdom and instruction.
Timor Domini principium scientiae sapientiam atque doctrinam stulti despiciunt

1:8. My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother:
Audi fili mi disciplinam patris tui et ne dimittas legem matris tuae

1:9. That grace may be added to thy head, and a chain of gold to thy neck.
Ut addatur gratia capiti tuo et torques collo tuo

1:10. My son, if sinners shall entice thee, consent not to them.
Fili mi si te lactaverint peccatores ne adquiescas

1:11. If they shall say: Come with us, let us lie in wait for blood, let us hide snares for the innocent without cause:
Si dixerint veni nobiscum insidiamur sanguini abscondamus tendiculas contra insontem frustra

1:12. Let us swallow him up alive like hell, and whole as one that goeth down into the pit.
Degluttiamus eum sicut infernus viventem et integrum quasi descendentem in lacum

1:13. We shall find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoils.
Omnem pretiosam substantiam repperiemus implebimus domos nostras spoliis

1:14. Cast in thy lot with us, let us all have one purse.
Sortem mitte nobiscum marsuppium unum sit omnium nostrum

1:15. My son, walk not thou with them, restrain thy foot from their paths.
Fili mi ne ambules cum eis prohibe pedem tuum a semitis eorum

1:16. For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood.
Pedes enim illorum ad malum currunt et festinant ut effundant sanguinem

1:17. But a net is spread in vain before the eyes of them that have wings.
Frustra autem iacitur rete ante oculos pinnatorum

1:18. And they themselves lie in wait for their own blood, and practise deceits against their own souls.
Ipsique contra sanguinem suum insidiantur et moliuntur fraudes contra animas suas

1:19. So the ways of every covetous man destroy the souls of the possessors.
Sic semitae omnis avari animas possidentium rapiunt

1:20. Wisdom preacheth abroad, she uttereth her voice in the streets:
Sapientia foris praedicat in plateis dat vocem suam

1:21. At the head of multitudes she crieth out, in the entrance of the gates of the city she uttereth her words, saying:
In capite turbarum clamat in foribus portarum urbis profert verba sua dicens

1:22. O children, how long will you love childishness, and fools covet those things which are hurtful to themselves, and the unwise hate knowledge?
Usquequo parvuli diligitis infantiam et stulti ea quae sibi sunt noxia cupiunt et imprudentes odibunt scientiam

1:23. Turn ye at my reproof: behold I will utter my spirit to you, and will show you my words.
Convertimini ad correptionem meam et proferam vobis spiritum meum et ostendam verba mea

1:24. Because I called, and you refused: I stretched out my hand, and there was none that regarded.
Quia vocavi et rennuistis extendi manum meam et non fuit qui aspiceret

1:25. You have despised all my counsel, and have neglected my reprehensions.
Despexistis omne consilium meum et increpationes meas neglexistis

1:26. I also will laugh in your destruction, and will mock when that shall come to you which you feared.
Ego quoque in interitu vestro ridebo et subsannabo cum vobis quod timebatis advenerit

1:27. When sudden calamity shall fall on you, and destruction, as a tempest, shall be at hand: when tribulation and distress shall come upon you:
Cum inruerit repentina calamitas et interitus quasi tempestas ingruerit quando venerit super vos tribulatio et angustia

1:28. Then shall they call upon me, and I will not hear: they shall rise in the morning, and shall not find me:
Tunc invocabunt me et non exaudiam mane consurgent et non invenient me

1:29. Because they have hated instruction, and received not the fear of the Lord,
Eo quod exosam habuerint disciplinam et timorem Domini non susceperint

1:30. Nor consented to my counsel, but despised all my reproof.
Nec adqueverint consilio meo et detraxerint universae correptioni meae

1:31. Therefore they shall eat the fruit of their own way, and shall be filled with their own devices.
Comedent igitur fructus viae suae suisque consiliis saturabuntur

1:32. The turning away of little ones shall kill them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them.
Aversio parvulorum interficiet eos et prosperitas stultorum perdet illos

1:33. But he that shall hear me, shall rest without terror, and shall enjoy abundance, without fear of evils.
Qui autem me audierit absque terrore requiescet et abundantia perfruetur malorum timore sublato

Proverbs Chapter 2

The advantages of wisdom: and the evils from which it delivers.

2:1. My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and wilt hide my commandments with thee,
Fili mi si susceperis sermones meos et mandata mea absconderis penes te

2:2. That thy ear may hearken to wisdom: incline thy heart to know prudence.
Ut audiat sapientiam auris tua inclina cor tuum ad noscendam prudentiam

2:3. For if thou shalt call for wisdom, and incline thy heart to prudence:
Si enim sapientiam invocaveris et inclinaveris cor tuum prudentiae

2:4. If thou shalt seek her as money, and shalt dig for her as for a treasure:
Si quaesieris eam quasi pecuniam et sicut thesauros effoderis illam

2:5. Then shalt thou understand the fear of the Lord, and shalt find the knowledge of God:
Tunc intelleges timorem Domini et scientiam Dei invenies

2:6. Because the Lord giveth wisdom: and out of his mouth cometh prudence and knowledge.
Quia Dominus dat sapientiam et ex ore eius scientia et prudentia

2:7. He wilt keep the salvation of the righteous, and protect them that walk in simplicity,
Custodiet rectorum salutem et proteget gradientes simpliciter

2:8. Keeping the paths of justice, and guarding the ways of saints.
Servans semitas iustitiae et vias sanctorum custodiens

2:9. Then shalt thou understand justice, and judgment, and equity, and every good path.
Tunc intelleges iustitiam et iudicium et aequitatem et omnem semitam bonam

2:10. If wisdom shall enter into thy heart, and knowledge please thy soul:
Si intraverit sapientia cor tuum et scientia animae tuae placuerit

2:11. Counsel shall keep thee, and prudence shall preserve thee,
Consilium custodiet te prudentia servabit te

2:12. That thou mayst be delivered from the evil way, and from the man that speaketh perverse things:
Ut eruaris de via mala ab homine qui perversa loquitur

2:13. Who leave the right way, and walk by dark ways:
Qui relinquunt iter rectum et ambulant per vias tenebrosas

2:14. Who are glad when they have done evil, and rejoice in the most wicked things:
Qui laetantur cum malefecerint et exultant in rebus pessimis

2:15. Whose ways are perverse, and their steps infamous.
Quorum viae perversae et infames gressus eorum

2:16. That thou mayst be delivered from the strange woman, and from the stranger, who softeneth her words;
Ut eruaris a muliere aliena et ab extranea quae mollit sermones suos

2:17. And forsaketh the guide of her youth,
Et relinquit ducem pubertatis suae

2:18. And hath forgotten the covenant of her God: for her house inclineth unto death, and her paths to hell.

Et pacti Dei sui oblita est inclinata est enim ad mortem domus eius et ad impios semitae ipsius

2:19. None that go in unto her, shall return again, neither shall they take hold of the paths of life.
Omnes qui ingrediuntur ad eam non revertentur nec adprehendent semitas vitae

2:20. That thou mayst walk in a good way: and mayst keep the paths of the just.
Ut ambules in via bona et calles iustorum custodias

2:21. For they that are upright, shall dwell in the earth; and the simple shall continue in it.
Qui enim recti sunt habitabunt in terra et simplices permanebunt in ea

2:22. But the wicked shall be destroyed from the earth: and they that do unjustly, shall be taken away from it.

Impii vero de terra perdentur et qui inique agunt auferentur ex ea

Proverbs Chapter 3

An exhortation to the practice of virtue.

---

3:1. My son, forget not my law, and let thy heart keep my commandments.

Fili mi ne obliviscaris legis meae et praecepta mea custodiat cor tuum

3:2. For they shall add to thee length of days, and years of life, and peace.

Longitudinem enim dierum et annos vitae et pacem adponent tibi

3:3. Let not mercy and truth leave thee, put them about thy neck, and write them in the tables of thy heart.

Misericordia et veritas non te deserant circumda eas gutturi tuo et describe in tabulis cordis tui

3:4. And thou shalt find grace, and good understanding before God and men.

Et invenies gratiam et disciplinam bonam coram Deo et hominibus

3:5. Have confidence in the Lord with all thy heart, and lean not upon thy own prudence.

Habe fiduciam in Domino ex toto corde tuo et ne innitaris prudentiae tuae

3:6. In all thy ways think on him, and he will direct thy steps.

In omnibus viis tuis cogita illum et ipse diriget gressus tuos

3:7. Be not wise in thy own conceit: fear God, and depart from evil:

Ne sis sapiens apud temet ipsum time Dominum et recede a malo

3:8. For it shall be health to thy navel, and moistening to thy bones.

Sanitas quippe erit umbilico tuo et inrigatio ossuum tuorum

3:9. Honour the Lord with thy substance, and give him of the first of all thy fruits;

Honora Dominum de tua substantia et de primitiis omnium frugum tuarum

3:10. And thy barns shall be filled with abundance, and thy presses shall run over with wine.

Et implebuntur horrea tua saturitate et vino torcularia redundabunt

3:11. My son, reject not the correction of the Lord: and do not faint when thou art chastised by him:

Disciplinam Domini fili mi ne abicias nec deficias cum ab eo corripis

3:12. For whom the Lord loveth, he chastiseth: and as a father in the son he pleaseth himself.

Quem enim diligit Dominus corripit et quasi pater in filio conplacet sibi

3:13. Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and is rich in prudence:

Beatus homo qui invenit sapientiam et qui affluit prudentia

3:14. The purchasing thereof is better than the merchandise of silver, and her fruit than the chief and purest gold:

Melior est adquisitio eius negotiatione argenti et auro primo fructus eius

3:15. She is more precious than all riches: and all the things that are desired, are not to be compared to her.

Pretiosior est cunctis opibus et omnia quae desiderantur huic non valent comparari

3:16. Length of days is in her right hand, and in her left hand riches and glory.

Longitudo dierum in dextera eius in sinistra illius divitiae et gloria

3:17. Her ways are beautiful ways, and all her paths are peaceable.

Viae eius viae pulchrae et omnes semitae illius pacificae

3:18. She is a tree of life to them that lay hold on her: and he that shall retain her is blessed.
Lignum vitae est his qui adprehenderint eam et qui tenuerit eam beatus

3:19. The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth, hath established the heavens by prudence.
Dominus sapientia fundavit terram stabilivit caelos prudentia

3:20. By his wisdom the depths have broken out, and the clouds grow thick with dew.
Sapientia illius eruperunt abyssi et nubes rore concresecunt

3:21. My son, let not these things depart from thy eyes: keep the law and counsel:
Fili mi ne effluant haec ab oculis tuis custodi legem atque consilium

3:22. And there shall be life to thy soul, and grace to thy mouth.
Et erit vita animae tuae et gratia faucibus tuis

3:23. Then shalt thou walk confidently in thy way, and thy foot shall not stumble:
Tunc ambulabis fiducialiter in via tua et pes tuus non inpinget

3:24. If thou sleep, thou shalt not fear: thou shalt rest, and thy sleep shall be sweet.
Si dormieris non timebis quiesces et suavis erit somnus tuus

3:25. Be not afraid of sudden fear, nor of the power of the wicked falling upon thee.
Ne paveas repentino terrore et inruentes tibi potentias impiorum

3:26. For the Lord will be at thy side, and will keep thy foot that thou be not taken.
Dominus enim erit in latere tuo et custodiet pedem tuum ne capiaris

3:27. Do not withhold him from doing good, who is able: if thou art able, do good thyself also.
Noli prohibere benefacere eum qui potest si vales et ipse benefac

3:28. Say not to thy friend: Go, and come again: and to morrow I will give to thee: when thou canst give at present.
Ne dicas amico tuo vade et revertere et cras dabo tibi cum statim possis dare

3:29. Practise not evil against thy friend, when he hath confidence in thee.
Ne moliaris amico tuo malum cum ille in te habeat fiduciam

3:30. Strive not against a man without cause, when he hath done thee no evil.
Ne contendas adversus hominem frustra cum ipse tibi nihil mali fecerit

3:31. Envy not the unjust man, and do not follow his ways.
Ne aemuleris hominem iniustum nec imiteris vias eius

3:32. For every mocker is an abomination to the Lord, and his communication is with the simple.
Quia abominatio Domini est omnis inlusor et cum simplicibus sermocinatio eius

3:33. Want is from the Lord in the house of the wicked: but the habitations of the just shall be blessed.
Egestas a Domino in domo impii habitacula autem iustorum benedicentur

3:34. He shall scorn the scorers, and to the meek he will give grace.
Inlusores ipse deludet et mansuetis dabit gratiam

3:35. The wise shall possess glory: the promotion of fools is disgrace.
Gloriam sapientes possidebunt stultorum exaltatio ignominia

Proverbs Chapter 4

A further exhortation to seek after wisdom.

---

4:1. Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend, that you may know prudence.

Audite filii disciplinam patris et attendite ut sciatis prudentiam

4:2. I will give you a good gift, forsake not my law.

Donum bonum tribuam vobis legem meam ne derelinquatis

4:3. For I also was my father's son, tender, and as an only son in the sight of my mother:

Nam et ego filius fui patris mei tenellus et unigenitus coram matre mea

4:4. And he taught me, and said: Let thy heart receive my words, keep my commandments, and thou shalt live.

Et docebat me atque dicebat suscipiat verba mea cor tuum custodi praecepta mea et vives

4:5. Get wisdom, get prudence: forget not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

Posside sapientiam posside prudentiam ne obliviscaris neque declines a verbis oris mei

4:6. Forsake her not, and she shall keep thee: love her, and she shall preserve thee.

Ne dimittas eam et custodiet te dilige eam et servabit te

4:7. The beginning of wisdom, get wisdom, and with all thy possession purchase prudence.

Principium sapientiae posside sapientiam et in omni possessione tua adquire prudentiam

4:8. Take hold on her, and she shall exalt thee: thou shalt be glorified by her, when thou shalt embrace her.

Arripe illam et exaltabit te glorificaberis ab ea cum eam fueris amplexatus

4:9. She shall give to thy head increase of graces, and protect thee with a noble crown.

Dabit capiti tuo augmenta gratiarum et corona inclita proteget te

4:10. Hear, O my son, and receive my words, that years of life may be multiplied to thee.

Audi fili mi et suscipe verba mea ut multiplicentur tibi anni vitae

4:11. I will show thee the way of wisdom, I will lead thee by the paths of equity:

Viam sapientiae monstravi tibi duxi te per semitas aequitatis

4:12. Which when thou shalt have entered, thy steps shall not be straitened, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not meet a stumblingblock.

Quas cum ingressus fueris non artabuntur gressus tui et currens non habebis offendiculum

4:13. Take hold on instruction, leave it not: keep it, because it is thy life.

Tene disciplinam ne dimittas eam custodi illam quia ipsa est vita tua

4:14. Be not delighted in the paths of the wicked, neither let the way of evil men please thee.

Ne delecteris semitis impiorum nec tibi placeat malorum via

4:15. Flee from it, pass not by it: go aside, and forsake it.

Fuge ab ea ne transeas per illam declina et desere eam

4:16. For they sleep not, except they have done evil: and their sleep is taken away unless they have made some to fall.

Non enim dormiunt nisi malefecerint et rapitur somnus ab eis nisi subplantaverint

4:17. They eat the bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of iniquity.
Comedunt panem impietatis et vinum iniquitatis bibunt

4:18. But the path of the just, as a shining light, goeth forwards, and increaseth even to perfect day.
Iustorum autem semita quasi lux splenscens procedit et crescit usque ad perfectam diem

4:19. The way of the wicked is darksome: they know not where they fall.
Via impiorum tenebrosa nesciunt ubi corruant

4:20. My son, hearken to my words, and incline thy ear to my sayings.
Fili mi ausculta sermones meos et ad eloquia mea inclina aurem tuam

4:21. Let them not depart from thy eyes, keep them in the midst of thy heart:
Ne recedant ab oculis tuis custodi ea in medio cordis tui

4:22. For they are life to those that find them, and health to all flesh.
Vita enim sunt invenientibus ea et universae carni sanitas

4:23. With all watchfulness keep thy heart, because life issueth out from it.
Omni custodia serva cor tuum quia ex ipso vita procedit

4:24. Remove from thee a froward mouth, and let detracting lips be far from thee.
Remove a te os pravum et detrahentia labia sint procul a te

4:25. Let thy eyes look straight on, and let thy eyelids go before thy steps.
Oculi tui recta videant et palpebrae tuae praecedant gressus tuos

4:26. Make straight the path for thy feet, and all thy ways shall be established.
Dirige semitam pedibus tuis et omnes viae tuae stabiliuntur

4:27. Decline not to the right hand, nor to the left: turn away thy foot from evil. For the Lord knoweth the ways that are on the right hand: but those are perverse which are on the left hand. But he will make thy courses straight, he will bring forward thy ways in peace.
Ne declines ad dexteram et ad sinistram averte pedem tuum a malo

Proverbs Chapter 5

An exhortation to fly unlawful lust, and the occasions of it.

5:1. My son, attend to my wisdom, and incline thy ear to my prudence,
Fili mi adtende sapientiam meam et prudentiae meae inclina aurem tuam

5:2. That thou mayst keep thoughts, and thy lips may preserve instruction. Mind not the deceit of a woman.
Ut custodias cogitationes et disciplinam labia tua conservent

5:3. For the lips of a harlot are like a honeycomb dropping, and her throat is smoother than oil.
Favus enim stillans labia meretricis et nitidius oleo guttur eius

5:4. But her end is bitter as wormwood, and sharp as a two-edged sword.
Novissima autem illius amara quasi absinthium et acuta quasi gladius biceps

5:5. Her feet go down into death, and her steps go in as far as hell.
Pedes eius descendunt in mortem et ad inferos gressus illius penetrant

5:6. They walk not by the path of life, her steps are wandering, and unaccountable.
Per semitam vitae non ambulat vagi sunt gressus eius et investigabiles

5:7. Now, therefore, my son, hear me, and depart not from the words of my mouth.
Nunc ergo fili audi me et ne recedas a verbis oris mei

5:8. Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the doors of her house.
Longe fac ab ea viam tuam et ne adpropinques foribus domus eius

5:9. Give not thy honour to strangers, and thy years to the cruel.
Ne des alienis honorem tuum et annos tuos crudeli

5:10. Lest strangers be filled with thy strength, and thy labours be in another man's house,
Ne forte impleantur extranei viribus tuis et labores tui sint in domo aliena

5:11. And thou mourn at the last, when thou shalt have spent thy flesh and thy body, and say;
Et gemas in novissimis quando consumpseris carnes et corpus tuum et dicas

5:12. Why have I hated instruction, and my heart consented not to reproof,
Cur detestatus sum disciplinam et increpationibus non adquevit cor meum

5:13. And have not heard the voice of them that taught me, and have not inclined my ear to masters?
Nec audivi vocem doctentium me et magistris non inclinavi aurem meam

5:14. I have almost been in all evil, in the midst of the church and of the congregation.
Paene fui in omni malo in medio ecclesiae et synagogae

5:15. Drink water out of thy own cistern, and the streams of thy own well:
Bibe aquam de cisterna tua et fluenta putei tui

5:16. Let thy fountains be conveyed abroad, and in the streets divide thy waters.
Deriventur fontes tui foras et in plateis aquas tuas divide

5:17. Keep them to thyself alone, neither let strangers be partakers with thee.
Habeto eas solus nec sint alieni participes tui

5:18. Let thy vein be blessed, and rejoice with the wife of thy youth:

Sit vena tua benedicta et laetare cum muliere adulescentiae tuae

5:19. Let her be thy dearest hind, and most agreeable fawn: let her breasts inebriate thee at all times: be thou delighted continually with her love.

Cerva carissima et gratissimus hinulus ubera eius inebrient te omni tempore in amore illius delectare iugiter

5:20. Why art thou seduced, my son, by a strange woman, and art cherished in the bosom of another?

Quare seduceris fili mi ab aliena et foveris sinu alterius

5:21. The Lord beholdeth the ways of man, and considereth all his steps.

Respicit Dominus vias hominis et omnes gressus illius considerat

5:22. His own iniquities catch the wicked, and he is fast bound with the ropes of his own sins.

Iniquitates suae capiunt impium et funibus peccatorum suorum constringitur

5:23. He shall die, because he hath not received instruction, and in the multitude of his folly he shall be deceived.

Ipse morietur quia non habuit disciplinam et multitudine stultitiae suae decipietur

Proverbs Chapter 6

Documents on several heads.

---

6:1. My son, if thou be surety for thy friend, thou hast engaged fast thy hand to a stranger,
Fili mi si sponderis pro amico tuo defixisti apud extraneum manum tuam

6:2. Thou art ensnared with the words of thy mouth, and caught with thy own words.
Inlaqueatus es verbis oris tui et captus propriis sermonibus

6:3. Do, therefore, my son, what I say, and deliver thyself: because thou art fallen into the hand of thy neighbour. Run about, make haste, stir up thy friend:
Fac ergo quod dico fili mi et temet ipsum libera quia incidisti in manu proximi tui discurrere festina suscita amicum tuum

6:4. Give not sleep to thy eyes, neither let thy eyelids slumber.
Ne dederis somnum oculis tuis nec dormitent palpebrae tuae

6:5. Deliver thyself as a doe from the hand, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.
Eruere quasi dammula de manu et quasi avis de insidiis aucupis

6:6. Go to the ant, O sluggard, and consider her ways, and learn wisdom:
Vade ad formicam o piger et considera vias eius et disce sapientiam

6:7. Which, although she hath no guide, nor master, nor captain,
Quae cum non habeat ducem nec praeceptorem nec principem

6:8. Provideth her meat for herself in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest.
Parat aestate cibum sibi et congregat in messe quod comedat

6:9. How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?
Usquequo piger dormis quando consurges ex somno tuo

6:10. Thou wilt sleep a little, thou wilt slumber a little, thou wilt fold thy hands a little to sleep:
Paululum dormies paululum dormitabis paululum conseres manus ut dormias

6:11. And want shall come upon thee, as a traveller, and poverty as a man armed. But if thou be diligent, thy harvest shall come as a fountain, and want shall flee far from thee.
Et veniet tibi quasi viator egestas et pauperies quasi vir armatus

6:12. A man that is an apostate, an unprofitable man, walketh with a perverse mouth,
Homo apostata vir inutilis graditur ore perverso

6:13. He winketh with the eyes, presseth with the foot, speaketh with the finger.
Annuit oculis terit pede digito loquitur

6:14. With a wicked heart he deviseth evil, and at all times he soweth discord.
Pravo corde machinatur malum et in omni tempore iurgia seminat

6:15. To such a one his destruction shall presently come, and he shall suddenly be destroyed, and shall no longer have any remedy.
Huic extemplo veniet perditio sua et subito conteretur nec habebit ultra medicinam

6:16. Six things there are, which the Lord hateth, and the seventh his soul detesteth:
Sex sunt quae odit Dominus et septimum detestatur anima eius

6:17. Haughty eyes, a lying tongue, hands that shed innocent blood,
Oculos sublimes linguam mendacem manus effundentes innoxium sanguinem

6:18. A heart that deviseth wicked plots, feet that are swift to run into mischief,
Cor machinans cogitationes pessimas pedes veloces ad currendum in malum

6:19. A deceitful witness that uttereth lies, and him that soweth discord among brethren.
Proferentem mendacia testem fallacem et eum qui seminat inter fratres discordias

6:20. My son, keep the commandments of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother.
Conserva fili mi praecepta patris tui et ne dimittas legem matris tuae

6:21. Bind them in thy heart continually, and put them about thy neck.
Liga ea in corde tuo iugiter et circumda gutturi tuo

6:22. When thou walkest, let them go with thee: when thou sleepest, let them keep thee, and when thou awakest, talk with them.
Cum ambulaveris gradientur tecum cum dormieris custodiant te et evigilans loquere cum eis

6:23. Because the commandment is a lamp, and the law a light, and reproofs of instruction are the way of life:
Quia mandatum lucerna est et lex lux et via vitae increpatio disciplinae

6:24. That they may keep thee from the evil woman, and from the flattering tongue of the stranger.
Ut custodiant te a muliere mala et a blanda lingua extraneae

6:25. Let not thy heart covet her beauty, be not caught with her winks:
Non concupiscat pulchritudinem eius cor tuum nec capiaris nutibus illius

6:26. For the price of a harlot is scarce one loaf: but the woman catcheth the precious soul of a man.
Pretium enim scorti vix unius est panis mulier autem viri pretiosam animam capit

6:27. Can a man hide fire in his bosom, and his garments not burn?
Numquid abscondere potest homo ignem in sinu suo ut vestimenta illius non ardeant

6:28. Or can he walk upon hot coals, and his feet not be burnt?
Aut ambulare super prunas et non conburentur plantae eius

6:29. So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife, shall not be clean when he shall touch her.
Sic qui ingreditur ad mulierem proximi sui non erit mundus cum tetigerit eam

6:30. The fault is not so great when a man hath stolen: for he stealeth to fill his hungry soul:
Non grandis est culpae cum quis furatus fuerit furatur enim ut esurientem impleat animam

The fault is not so great, etc... The sin of theft is not so great, as to be compared with adultery: especially when a person pressed with hunger (which is the case here spoken of) steals to satisfy nature. Moreover the damage done by theft may much more easily be repaired, than the wrong done by adultery. But this does not hinder, but that theft also is a mortal sin, forbidden by one of the ten commandments.

6:31. And if he be taken, he shall restore sevenfold, and shall give up all the substance of his house.
Deprehensus quoque reddet septuplum et omnem substantiam domus suae tradet

6:32. But he that is an adulterer, for the folly of his heart shall destroy his own soul:
Qui autem adulter est propter cordis inopiam perdet animam suam

6:33. He gathereth to himself shame and dishonour, and his reproach shall not be blotted out:
Turpitudinem et ignominiam congregat sibi et obprobrium illius non deletur

6:34. Because the jealousy and rage of the husband will not spare in the day of revenge,
Quia zelus et furor viri non parcat in die vindictae

6:35. Nor will he yield to any man's prayers, nor will he accept for satisfaction ever so many gifts.
Nec adquiescet cuiusquam precibus nec suscipiet pro redemptione dona plurima

Proverbs Chapter 7

The love of wisdom is the best preservative from being led astray by temptation.

7:1. My son, keep my words, and lay up my precepts with thee. Son,
Fili mi custodi sermones meos et praecepta mea reconde tibi

7:2. Keep my commandments, and thou shalt live: and my law as the apple of thy eye:
Serva mandata mea et vives et legem meam quasi pupillam oculi tui

7:3. Bind it upon thy fingers, write it upon the tables of thy heart.
Liga eam in digitis tuis scribe illam in tabulis cordis tui

7:4. Say to wisdom: Thou art my sister: and call prudence thy friend,
Dic sapientiae soror mea es et prudentiam voca amicam tuam

7:5. That she may keep thee from the woman that is not thine, and from the stranger who sweeteneth her words.
Ut custodiat te a muliere extranea et ab aliena quae verba sua dulcia facit

7:6. For I looked out of the window of my house through the lattice,
De fenestra enim domus meae per cancellos prospexi

7:7. And I see little ones, I behold a foolish young man,
Et video parvulos considero vecordem iuvenem

7:8. Who passeth through the street by the corner, and goeth nigh the way of her house,
Qui transit in platea iuxta angulum et propter viam domus illius graditur

7:9. In the dark when it grows late, in the darkness and obscurity of the night.
In obscuro advesperascente die in noctis tenebris et caligine

7:10. And behold a woman meeteth him in harlot's attire, prepared to deceive souls: talkative and wandering,
Et ecce mulier occurrit illi ornata meretricio praeparata ad capiendas animas garrula et vaga

7:11. Not bearing to be quiet, not able to abide still at home,
Quietis inpatiens nec valens in domo consistere pedibus suis

7:12. Now abroad, now in the streets, now lying in wait near the corners.
Nunc foris nunc in plateis nunc iuxta angulos insidians

7:13. And catching the young man, she kisseth him, and with an impudent face, flattereth, saying:
Adprehensumque deosculatur iuvenem et procaci vultu blanditur dicens

7:14. I vowed victims for prosperity, this day I have paid my vows.
Victimas pro salute debui hodie reddidi vota mea

7:15. Therefore I am come out to meet thee, desirous to see thee, and I have found thee.
Idcirco egressa sum in occursum tuum desiderans te videre et repperi

7:16. I have woven my bed with cords, I have covered it with painted tapestry, brought from Egypt.
Intexui funibus lectum meum stravi tapetibus pictis ex Aegypto

7:17. I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

Aspersi cubile meum murra et aloe et cinnamomo

7:18. Come, let us be inebriated with the breasts, and let us enjoy the desired embraces, till the day appear.

Veni inebriemur uberibus donec inlucescat dies et fruamur cupitis amplexibus

7:19. For my husband is not at home, he is gone a very long journey.

Non est enim vir in domo sua abiit via longissima

7:20. He took with him a bag of money: he will return home the day of the full moon.

Sacculum pecuniae secum tulit in die plenae lunae reversurus est domum suam

7:21. She entangled him with many words, and drew him away with the flattery of her lips.

Inretivit eum multis sermonibus et blanditiis labiorum protraxit illum

7:22. Immediately he followeth her as an ox led to be a victim, and as a lamb playing the wanton, and not knowing that he is drawn like a fool to bonds,

Statim eam sequitur quasi bos ductus ad victimam et quasi agnus lascivens et ignorans quod ad vincula stultus trahatur

7:23. Till the arrow pierce his liver: as if a bird should make haste to the snare, and knoweth not that his life is in danger.

Donec transfigat sagitta iecur eius velut si avis festinet ad laqueum et nescit quia de periculo animae illius agitur

7:24. Now, therefore, my son, hear me, and attend to the words of my mouth.

Nunc ergo fili audi me et adtende verba oris mei

7:25. Let not thy mind be drawn away in her ways: neither be thou deceived with her paths.

Ne abstrahatur in viis illius mens tua neque decipiaris semitis eius

7:26. For she hath cast down many wounded, and the strongest have been slain by her.

Multos enim vulneratos deiecit et fortissimi quique interfecti sunt ab ea

7:27. Her house is the way to hell, reaching even to the inner chambers of death.

Viae inferi domus eius penetrantes interiora mortis

Proverbs Chapter 8

The preaching of wisdom. Her excellence.

---

8:1. Doth not wisdom cry aloud, and prudence put forth her voice?

Numquid non sapientia clamitat et prudentia dat vocem suam

8:2. Standing in the top of the highest places by the way, in the midst of the paths,

In summis excelsisque verticibus super viam in mediis semitis stans

8:3. Beside the gates of the city, in the very doors she speaketh, saying:

luxta portas civitatis in ipsis foribus loquitur dicens

8:4. O ye men, to you I call, and my voice is to the sons of men.

O viri ad vos clamito et vox mea ad filios hominum

8:5. O little ones understand subtlety, and ye unwise, take notice.

Intellegite parvuli astutiam et insipientes animadvertite

8:6. Hear, for I will speak of great things: and my lips shall be opened to preach right things.

Audite quoniam de rebus magnis locutura sum et aperientur labia mea ut recta praedicent

8:7. My mouth shall meditate truth, and my lips shall hate wickedness.

Veritatem meditabitur guttur meum et labia mea detestabuntur impium

8:8. All my words are just, there is nothing wicked, nor perverse in them.

Iusti sunt omnes sermones mei non est in eis pravum quid neque perversum

8:9. They are right to them that understand, and just to them that find knowledge.

Recti sunt intellegentibus et aequi invenientibus scientiam

8:10. Receive my instruction, and not money: choose knowledge rather than gold.

Accipite disciplinam meam et non pecuniam doctrinam magis quam aurum eligite

8:11. For wisdom is better than all the most precious things: and whatsoever may be desired cannot be compared to it.

Melior est enim sapientia cunctis pretiosissimis et omne desiderabile ei non potest comparari

8:12. I, wisdom, dwell in counsel, and am present in learned thoughts.

Ego sapientia habito in consilio et eruditis intersum cogitationibus

8:13. The fear of the Lord hateth evil; I hate arrogance, and pride, and every wicked way, and a mouth with a double tongue.

Timor Domini odit malum arrogantiam et superbiam et viam pravam et os bilingue detestor

8:14. Counsel and equity is mine, prudence is mine, strength is mine.

Meum est consilium et aequitas mea prudentia mea est fortitudo

8:15. By me kings reign, and lawgivers decree just things.

Per me reges regnant et legum conditores iusta decernunt

8:16. By me princes rule, and the mighty decree justice.

Per me principes imperant et potentes decernunt iustitiam

8:17. I love them that love me: and they that in the morning early watch for me, shall find me.

Ego diligentes me diligo et qui mane vigilant ad me invenient me

8:18. With me are riches and glory, glorious riches and justice.

Mecum sunt divitiae et gloria opes superbae et iustitia

8:19. For my fruit is better than gold and the precious stone, and my blossoms than choice silver.

Melior est fructus meus auro et pretioso lapide et genimina mea argento electo

8:20. I walk in the way of justice, in the midst of the paths of judgment,

In viis iustitiae ambulo in medio semitarum iudicii

8:21. That I may enrich them that love me, and may fill their treasures.

Ut ditem diligentes me et thesauros eorum repleam

8:22. The Lord possessed me in the beginning of his ways, before he made any thing from the beginning.

Dominus possedit me initium viarum suarum antequam quicquam faceret a principio

8:23. I was set up from eternity, and of old, before the earth was made.

Ab aeterno ordita sum et ex antiquis antequam terra fieret

8:24. The depths were not as yet, and I was already conceived, neither had the fountains of waters as yet sprung out.

Necdum erant abyssi et ego iam concepta eram necdum fontes aquarum eruperant

8:25. The mountains, with their huge bulk, had not as yet been established: before the hills, I was brought forth:

Necdum montes gravi mole constiterant ante colles ego parturiebar

8:26. He had not yet made the earth, nor the rivers, nor the poles of the world.

Adhuc terram non fecerat et flumina et cardines orbis terrae

8:27. When he prepared the heavens, I was present: when with a certain law, and compass, he enclosed the depths:

Quando praeparabat caelos aderam quando certa lege et gyro vallabat abyssos

8:28. When he established the sky above, and poised the fountains of waters:

Quando aethera firmabat sursum et librabat fontes aquarum

8:29. When he compassed the sea with its bounds, and set a law to the waters that they should not pass their limits: when he balanced the foundations of the earth;

Quando circumdabat mari terminum suum et legem ponebat aquis ne transirent fines suos quando adpendebat fundamenta terrae

8:30. I was with him forming all things: and was delighted every day, playing before him at all times;

Cum eo eram cuncta componens et delectabar per singulos dies ludens coram eo omni tempore

8:31. Playing in the world: and my delights were to be with the children of men.

Ludens in orbe terrarum et deliciae meae esse cum filiis hominum

8:32. Now, therefore, ye children, hear me: blessed are they that keep my ways.

Nunc ergo filii audite me beati qui custodiunt vias meas

8:33. Hear instruction, and be wise, and refuse it not.

Audite disciplinam et estote sapientes et nolite abicere eam

8:34. Blessed is the man that heareth me, and that watcheth daily at my gates, and waiteth at the posts of my doors.

Beatus homo qui audit me qui vigilat ad fores meas cotidie et observat ad postes ostii mei

8:35. He that shall find me, shall find life, and shall have salvation from the Lord.

Qui me invenerit inveniet vitam et hauriet salutem a Domino

8:36. But he that shall sin against me shall hurt his own soul. All that hate me love death.

Qui autem in me peccaverit laedet animam suam omnes qui me oderunt diligunt mortem

Proverbs Chapter 9

Wisdom invites all to her feast. Folly calls another way.

9:1. Wisdom hath built herself a house, she hath hewn her out seven pillars.

Sapientia aedificavit sibi domum excidit columnas septem

9:2. She hath slain her victims, mingled her wine, and set forth her table.

Immolavit victimas suas miscuit vinum et proposuit mensam suam

9:3. She hath sent her maids to invite to the tower, and to the walls of the city:

Misit ancillas suas ut vocarent ad arcem et ad moenia civitatis

9:4. Whosoever is a little one, let him come to me. And to the unwise she said:

Si quis est parvulus veniat ad me et insipientibus locuta est

9:5. Come, eat my bread, and drink the wine which I have mingled for you.

Venite comedite panem meum et bibite vinum quod miscui vobis

9:6. Forsake childishness, and live, and walk by the ways of prudence.

Relinquitte infantiam et vivite et ambulate per vias prudentiae

9:7. He that teacheth a scorner, doth an injury to himself; and he that rebuketh a wicked man, getteth himself a blot.

Qui erudit derisorem ipse sibi facit iniuriam et qui arguit impium generat maculam sibi

9:8. Rebuke not a scorner, lest he hate thee. Rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee.

Noli arguere derisorem ne oderit te argue sapientem et diliget te

9:9. Give an occasion to a wise man, and wisdom shall be added to him. Teach a just man, and he shall make haste to receive it.

Da sapienti et addetur ei sapientia doce iustum et festinabit accipere

9:10. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the holy is prudence.

Principium sapientiae timor Domini et scientia sanctorum prudentia

9:11. For by me shall thy days be multiplied, and years of life shall be added to thee.

Per me enim multiplicabuntur dies tui et addentur tibi anni vitae

9:12. If thou be wise, thou shalt be so to thyself: and if a scorner, thou alone shalt bear the evil.

Si sapiens fueris tibimet ipsi eris si inlusor solus portabis malum

9:13. A foolish woman and clamorous, and full of allurements, and knowing nothing at all,

Mulier stulta et clamosa plenaque inlecebris et nihil omnino sciens

9:14. Sat at the door of her house, upon a seat, in a high place of the city,

Sedit in foribus domus suae super sellam in excelso urbis loco

9:15. To call them that pass by the way, and go on their journey:

Ut vocaret transeuntes viam et pergentes itinere suo

9:16. He that is a little one, let him turn to me. And to the fool she said:

Quis est parvulus declinet ad me et vecordi locuta est

9:17. Stolen waters are sweeter, and hidden bread is more pleasant.

Aquae furtivae dulciores sunt et panis absconditus suavior

9:18. And he did not know that giants are there, and that her guests are in the depths of hell.
Et ignoravit quod gigantes ibi sint et in profundis inferni convivae eius

Proverbs Chapter 10

In the twenty following chapters are contained many wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

10:1. A wise son maketh the father glad: but a foolish son is the sorrow of his mother.
Parabolae Salomonis filius sapiens laetificat patrem filius vero stultus maestitia est matris suae

10:2. Treasures of wickedness shall profit nothing: but justice shall deliver from death.
Non proderunt thesauri impietatis iustitia vero liberabit a morte

10:3. The Lord will not afflict the soul of the just with famine, and he will disappoint the deceitful practices of the wicked.
Non adfliget Dominus fame animam iusti et insidias impiorum subvertet

10:4. The slothful hand hath wrought poverty: but the hand of the industrious getteth riches. He that trusteth to lies feedeth the winds: and the same runneth after birds, that fly away.
Egestatem operata est manus remissa manus autem fortium divitias parat

10:5. He that gathereth in the harvest, is a wise son: but he that snorteth in the summer, is the son of confusion.
Qui congregat in messe filius sapiens est qui autem stertit aestate filius confusionis

10:6. The blessing of the Lord is upon the head of the just: but iniquity covereth the mouth of the wicked.
Benedictio super caput iusti os autem impiorum operit iniquitatem

10:7. The memory of the just is with praises: and the name of the wicked shall rot.
Memoria iusti cum laudibus et nomen impiorum putrescet

10:8. The wise of heart receiveth precepts: a fool is beaten with lips.
Sapiens corde praecepta suscipiet stultus caeditur labiis

10:9. He that walketh sincerely, walketh confidently: but he that perverteth his ways, shall be manifest.
Qui ambulat simpliciter ambulat confidenter qui autem depravat vias suas manifestus erit

10:10. He that winketh with the eye, shall cause sorrow: and the foolish in lips shall be beaten.
Qui annuit oculo dabit dolorem stultus labiis verberabitur

10:11. The mouth of the just is a vein of life: and the mouth of the wicked covereth iniquity.
Vena vitae os iusti et os impiorum operiet iniquitatem

10:12. Hatred stirreth up strifes: and charity covereth all sins.
Odium suscitatur rixas et universa delicta operit caritas

10:13. In the lips of the wise is wisdom found: and a rod on the back of him that wanteth sense.
In labiis sapientis inveniatur sapientia et virga in dorso eius qui indiget corde

10:14. Wise men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the fool is next to confusion.
Sapientes abscondunt scientiam os autem stulti confusioni proximum est

10:15. The substance of a rich man is the city of his strength: the fear of the poor is their poverty.
Substantia divitis urbs fortitudinis eius pavor pauperum egestas eorum

10:16. The work of the just is unto life: but the fruit of the wicked unto sin.
Opus iusti ad vitam fructus impii ad peccatum

10:17. The way of life, to him that observeth correction: but he that forsaketh reproofs, goeth astray.
Via vitae custodienti disciplinam qui autem increpationes relinquit errat

10:18. Lying lips hide hatred: he that uttereth reproach, is foolish.
Abscondunt odium labia mendacia qui profert contumeliam insipiens est

10:19. In the multitude of words there shall not want sin: but he that refraineth his lips, is most wise.
In multiloquio peccatum non deerit qui autem moderatur labia sua prudentissimus est

10:20. The tongue of the just is as choice silver: but the heart of the wicked is nothing worth.
Argentum electum lingua iusti cor impiorum pro nihilo

10:21. The lips of the just teach many: but they that are ignorant, shall die in the want of understanding.
Labia iusti erudiunt plurimos qui autem indocti sunt in cordis egestate morientur

10:22. The blessing of the Lord maketh men rich: neither shall affliction be joined to them.
Benedictio Domini divites facit nec sociabitur ei ad afflictio

10:23. A fool worketh mischief as it were for sport: but wisdom is prudence to a man.
Quasi per risum stultus operatur scelus sapientia autem est viro prudentia

10:24. That which the wicked feareth, shall come upon him: to the just their desire shall be given.
Quod timet impius veniet super eum desiderium suum iustis dabitur

10:25. As a tempest that passeth, so the wicked shall be no more: but the just is as an everlasting foundation.
Quasi tempestas transiens non erit impius iustus autem quasi fundamentum sempiternum

10:26. As vinegar to the teeth, and smoke to the eyes, so is the sluggard to them that sent him.
Sicut acetum dentibus et fumes oculis sic piger his qui miserunt eum

10:27. The fear of the Lord shall prolong days: and the years of the wicked shall be shortened.
Timor Domini adponet dies et anni impiorum breviabuntur

10:28. The expectation of the just is joy: but the hope of the wicked shall perish.
Expectatio iustorum laetitia spes autem impiorum peribit

10:29. The strength of the upright is the way of the Lord: and fear to them that work evil.
Fortitudo simplicis via Domini et pavor his qui operantur malum

10:30. The just shall never be moved: but the wicked shall not dwell on the earth.
Iustus in aeternum non commovebitur impii autem non habitabunt in terram

10:31. The mouth of the just shall bring forth wisdom: the tongue of the perverse shall perish.
Os iusti parturiet sapientiam lingua pravorum peribit

10:32. The lips of the just consider what is acceptable: and the mouth of the wicked uttereth perverse things.
Labia iusti considerant placita et os impiorum perversa

Proverbs Chapter 11

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

11:1. A deceitful balance is an abomination before the Lord: and a just weight is his will.

Statera dolosa abominatio apud Dominum et pondus aequum voluntas eius

11:2. Where pride is, there also shall be reproach: but where humility is, there also is wisdom.

Ubi fuerit superbia ibi erit et contumelia ubi autem humilitas ibi et sapientia

11:3. The simplicity of the just shall guide them: and the deceitfulness of the wicked shall destroy them.

Simplicitas iustorum diriget eos et subplantatio perversorum vastabit illos

11:4. Riches shall not profit in the day of revenge: but justice shall deliver from death.

Non proderunt divitiae in die ultionis iustitia autem liberabit a morte

11:5. The justice of the upright shall make his way prosperous: and the wicked man shall fall by his own wickedness.

Iustitia simplicis diriget viam eius et in impietate sua corruet impius

11:6. The justice of the righteous shall deliver them: and the unjust shall be caught in their own snares.

Iustitia rectorum liberabit eos et in insidiis suis capientur iniqui

11:7. When the wicked man is dead, there shall be no hope any more: and the expectation of the solicitous shall perish.

Mortuo homine impio nulla erit ultra spes et expectatio sollicitorum peribit

11:8. The just is delivered out of distress: and the wicked shall be given up for him.

Iustus de angustia liberatus est et tradetur impius pro eo

11:9. The dissembler with his mouth deceiveth his friend: but the just shall be delivered by knowledge.

Simulator ore decipit amicum suum iusti autem liberabuntur scientia

11:10. When it goeth well with the just, the city shall rejoice: and when the wicked perish, there shall be praise.

In bonis iustorum exultabit civitas et in perditione impiorum erit laudatio

11:11. By the blessing of the just the city shall be exalted: and by the mouth of the wicked it shall be overthrown.

Benedictione iustorum exaltabitur civitas et ore impiorum subvertetur

11:12. He that despiseth his friend, is mean of heart: but the wise man will hold his peace.

Qui despicit amicum suum indigens corde est vir autem prudens tacebit

11:13. He that walketh deceitfully, revealeth secrets: but he that is faithful, concealeth the thing committed to him by his friend.

Qui ambulat fraudulenter revelat arcana qui autem fidelis est animi celat commissum

11:14. Where there is no governor, the people shall fall: but there is safety where there is much counsel.

Ubi non est gubernator populus corruet salus autem ubi multa consilia

11:15. He shall be afflicted with evil, that is surety for a stranger: but he that is aware of snares, shall be secure.

Adfligetur malo qui fidem facit pro extraneo qui autem cavet laqueos securus erit

11:16. A gracious woman shall find glory: and the strong shall have riches.

Mulier gratiosa inveniet gloriam et robusti habebunt divitias

11:17. A merciful man doth good to his own soul: but he that is cruel casteth off even his own kindred.

Benefacit animae suae vir misericors qui autem crudelis est et propinquos abicit

11:18. The wicked maketh an unsteady work: but to him that soweth justice, there is a faithful reward.

Impius facit opus instabile seminanti autem iustitiam merces fidelis

11:19. Clemency prepareth life: and the pursuing of evil things, death.

Clementia praeparat vitam et sectatio malorum mortem

11:20. A perverse heart is abominable to the Lord: and his will is in them that walk sincerely.

Abominabile Domino pravum cor et voluntas eius in his qui simpliciter ambulant

11:21. Hand in hand the evil man shall not be innocent: but the seed of the just shall be saved.

Manus in manu non erit innocens malus semen autem iustorum salvabitur

11:22. A golden ring in a swine's snout, a woman fair and foolish.

Circulus aureus in naribus suis mulier pulchra et fatua

11:23. The desire of the just is all good, the expectation of the wicked is indignation.

Desiderium iustorum omne bonum est praestolatio impiorum furor

11:24. Some distribute their own goods, and grow richer: others take away what is not their own, and are always in want.

Alii dividunt propria et ditiores fiunt alii rapiunt non sua et semper in egestate sunt

11:25. The soul that blesseth, shall be made fat: and he that inebriateth, shall be inebriated also himself.

Anima quae benedicit inpinguabitur et qui inebriat ipse quoque inebriabitur

11:26. He that hideth up corn, shall be cursed among the people: but a blessing upon the head of them that sell.

Qui abscondit frumenta maledicetur in populis benedictio autem super caput vendentium

11:27. Well doth he rise early who seeketh good things; but he that seeketh after evil things, shall be oppressed by them.

Bene consurgit diluculo qui quaerit bona qui autem investigator malorum est opprimetur ab eis

11:28. He that trusteth in his riches shall fall: but the just shall spring up as a green leaf.

Qui confidet in divitiis suis corruet iusti autem quasi virens folium germinabunt

11:29. He that troubleth his own house, shall inherit the winds: and the fool shall serve the wise.

Qui conturbat domum suam possidebit ventos et qui stultus est serviet sapienti

11:30. The fruit of the just man is a tree of life: and he that gaineth souls is wise.

Fructus iusti lignum vitae et qui suscipit animas sapiens est

11:31. If the just man receive in the earth, how much more the wicked and the sinner.

Si iustus in terra recipit quanto magis impius et peccator

Proverbs Chapter 16

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

16:1. It is the part of man to prepare the soul: and of the Lord to govern the tongue.

Hominis est animus praeparare et Dei gubernare linguam

It is the part of man, etc... That is, a man should prepare in his heart and soul what he is to say: but after all, it must be the Lord that must govern his tongue, to speak to the purpose. Not that we can think any thing of good without God's grace; but that after we have (with God's grace) thought and prepared within our souls what we would speak, if God does not govern our tongue, we shall not succeed in what we speak.

16:2. All the ways of a man are open to his eyes: the Lord is the weigher of spirits.

Omnes viae hominum patent oculis eius spirituum ponderator est Dominus

16:3. Lay open thy works to the Lord: and thy thoughts shall be directed.

Revela Domino opera tua et dirigentur cogitationes tuae

16:4. The Lord hath made all things for himself: the wicked also for the evil day.

Universa propter semet ipsum operatus est Dominus impium quoque ad diem malum

16:5. Every proud man is an abomination to the Lord: though hand should be joined to hand, he is not innocent. The beginning of a good way is to do justice: and this is more acceptable with God, than to offer sacrifices.

Abominatio Domini omnis arrogans etiam si manus ad manum fuerit non erit innocens

16:6. By mercy and truth iniquity is redeemed; and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil.

Misericordia et veritate redimitur iniquitas et in timore Domini declinatur a malo

16:7. When the ways of man shall please the Lord, he will convert even his enemies to peace.

Cum placuerint Domino viae hominis inimicos quoque eius convertet ad pacem

16:8. Better is a little with justice, than great revenues with iniquity.

Melius est parum cum iustitia quam multi fructus cum iniquitate

16:9. The heart of man disposeth his way: but the Lord must direct his steps.

Cor hominis disponet viam suam sed Domini est dirigere gressus eius

16:10. Divination is in the lips of the king, his mouth shall not err in judgment.

Divinatio in labiis regis in iudicio non errabit os eius

16:11. Weight and balance are judgments of the Lord: and his work all the weights of the bag.

Pondus et statera iudicia Domini sunt et opera eius omnes lapides sacculi

16:12. They that act wickedly are abominable to the king: for the throne is established by justice.

Abominabiles regi qui agunt impie quoniam iustitia firmatur solium

16:13. Just lips are the delight of kings: he that speaketh right things shall be loved.

Voluntas regum labia iusta qui recta loquitur diligetur

16:14. The wrath of a king is as messengers of death: and the wise man will pacify it.

Indignatio regis nuntii mortis et vir sapiens placabit eam

16:15. In the cheerfulness of the king's countenance is life: and his clemency is like the latter rain.

In hilaritate vultus regis vita et clementia eius quasi imber serotinus

16:16. Get wisdom, because it is better than gold: and purchase prudence, for it is more precious than silver.

Posside sapientiam quia auro melior est et adquire prudentiam quia pretiosior est argento

16:17. The path of the just departeth from evils: he that keepeth his soul keepeth his way.

Semita iustorum declinat mala custos animae suae servat viam suam

16:18. Pride goeth before destruction: and the spirit is lifted up before a fall.

Contritionem praecedit superbia et ante ruinam exaltatur spiritus

16:19. It is better to be humbled with the meek, than to divide spoils with the proud.

Melius est humiliari cum mitibus quam dividere spolia cum superbis

16:20. The learned in word shall find good things: and he that trusteth in the Lord is blessed.

Eruditus in verbo repperiet bona et qui in Domino sperat beatus est

16:21. The wise in heart shall be called prudent: and he that is sweet in words, shall attain to greater things.

Qui sapiens corde est appellabitur prudens et qui dulcis eloquio maiora percipiet

16:22. Knowledge is a fountain of life to him that possesseth it: the instruction of fools is foolishness.

Fons vitae eruditio possidentis doctrina stultorum fatuitas

16:23. The heart of the wise shall instruct his mouth: and shall add grace to his lips.

Cor sapientis erudiet os eius et labiis illius addet gratiam

16:24. Well ordered words are as a honeycomb: sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.

Favus mellis verba composita dulcedo animae et sanitas ossuum

16:25. There is a way that seemeth to a man right: and the ends thereof lead to death.

Est via quae videtur homini recta et novissimum eius ducit ad mortem

16:26. The soul of him that laboureth, laboureth for himself, because his mouth hath obliged him to it.

Anima laborantis laborat sibi quia compulit eum os suum

16:27. The wicked man diggeth evil, and in his lips is a burning fire.

Vir impius fodit malum et in labiis eius ignis ardescit

16:28. A perverse man stirreth up quarrels: and one full of words separateth princes.

Homo perversus suscitatur lites et verbosus separat principes

16:29. An unjust man allureth his friend: and leadeth him into a way that is not good.

Vir iniquus lactat amicum suum et ducit eum per viam non bonam

16:30. He that with fixed eyes deviseth wicked things, biting his lips, bringeth evil to pass.

Qui adtonitis oculis cogitat prava mordens labia sua perficit malum

16:31. Old age is a crown of dignity, when it is found in the ways of justice.

Corona dignitatis senectus in viis iustitiae repperietur

16:32. The patient man is better than the valiant: and he that ruleth his spirit, than he that taketh cities.

Melior est patiens viro forte et qui dominatur animo suo expugnatore urbium

16:33. Lots are cast into the lap, but they are disposed of by the Lord.

Sortes mittuntur in sinu sed a Domino temperantur

Proverbs Chapter 17

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

17:1. Better is a dry morsel with joy, than a house full of victims with strife.
Melior est buccella sicca cum gaudio quam domus plena victimis cum iurgio

17:2. A wise servant shall rule over foolish sons, and shall divide the inheritance among the brethren.
Servus sapiens dominabitur filiis stultis et inter fratres hereditatem dividet

17:3. As silver is tried by fire, and gold in the furnace: so the Lord trieth the hearts.
Sicut igne probatur argentum et aurum camino ita corda probat Dominus

17:4. The evil man obeyeth an unjust tongue: and the deceitful hearkeneth to lying lips.
Malus oboedit linguae iniquae et fallax obtemperat labiis mendacibus

17:5. He that despiseth the poor, reproacheth his maker: and he that rejoiceth at another man's ruin, shall not be unpunished.
Qui despicit pauperem exprobrat factori eius et qui in ruina laetatur alterius non erit inpunitus

17:6. Children's children are the crown of old men: and the glory of children are their fathers.
Corona senum filii filiorum et gloria filiorum patres sui

17:7. Eloquent words do not become a fool, nor lying lips a prince.
Non decent stultum verba composita nec principem labium mentiens

17:8. The expectation of him that expecteth is a most acceptable jewel: whithersoever he turneth himself, he understandeth wisely.
Gemma gratissima expectatio praestolantis quocumque se verterit prudenter intellegit

17:9. He that concealeth a transgression, seeketh friendships: he that repeateth it again, separateth friends.
Qui celat delictum quaerit amicitias qui altero sermone repetit separat foederatos

17:10. A reproof availeth more with a wise man, than a hundred stripes with a fool.
Plus proficit correptio apud prudentem quam centum plagae apud stultum

17:11. An evil man always seeketh quarrels: but a cruel angel shall be sent against him.
Semper iurgia quaerit malus angelus autem crudelis mittetur contra eum

17:12. It is better to meet a bear robbed of her whelps, than a fool trusting in his own folly.
Expedit magis ursae occurrere raptis fetibus quam fatuo confidenti sibi in stultitia sua

17:13. He that rendereth evil for good, evil shall not depart from his house.
Qui reddit mala pro bonis non recedet malum de domo eius

17:14. The beginning of quarrels is as when one letteth out water: and before he suffereth reproach, he forsaketh judgment.
Qui dimittit aquam caput est iurgiorum et antequam patiatur contumeliam iudicium deserit

17:15. He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, both are abominable before God.
Et qui iustificat impium et qui condemnat iustum abominabilis est uterque apud Dominum

17:16. What doth it avail a fool to have riches, seeing he cannot buy wisdom? He that maketh his house high, seeketh a downfall: and he that refuseth to learn, shall fall into evils.

Quid prodest habere divitias stultum cum sapientiam emere non possit

17:17. He that is a friend loveth at all times: and a brother is proved in distress.

Omni tempore diligit qui amicus est et frater in angustiis conprobatur

17:18. A foolish man will clap hands, when he is surety for his friend.

Homo stultus plaudet manibus cum sponderit pro amico suo

17:19. He that studieth discords, loveth quarrels: and he that exalteth his door, seeketh ruin.

Qui meditatur discordiam diligit rixas et qui exaltat ostium quaerit ruinam

17:20. He that is of a perverse heart, shall not find good: and he that perverteth his tongue, shall fall into evil.

Qui perversi cordis est non inveniet bonum et qui vertit linguam incidet in malum

17:21. A fool is born to his own disgrace: and even his father shall not rejoice in a fool.

Natus est stultus in ignominiam suam sed nec pater in fatuo laetabitur

17:22. A joyful mind maketh age flourishing: a sorrowful spirit drieth up the bones.

Animus gaudens aetatem floridam facit spiritus tristis exsiccat ossa

17:23. The wicked man taketh gifts out of the bosom, that he may pervert the paths of judgment.

Munera de sinu impius accipit ut pervertat semitas iudicii

17:24. Wisdom shineth in the face of the wise: the eyes of fools are in the ends of the earth.

In facie prudentis lucet sapientia oculi stultorum in finibus terrae

17:25. A foolish son is the anger of the father: and the sorrow of the mother that bore him.

Ira patris filius stultus et dolor matris quae genuit eum

17:26. It is no good thing to do hurt to the just: nor to strike the prince, who judgeth right.

Non est bonum damnum inferre iusto nec percutere principem qui recta iudicat

17:27. He that setteth bounds to his words, is knowing and wise: and the man of understanding is of a precious spirit.

Qui moderatur sermones suos doctus et prudens est et pretiosi spiritus vir eruditus

17:28. Even a fool, if he will hold his peace, shall be counted wise: and if he close his lips, a man of understanding.

Stultus quoque si tacuerit sapiens putabitur et si compresserit labia sua intellegens

Proverbs Chapter 18

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

18:1. He that hath a mind to depart from a friend, seeketh occasions: he shall ever be subject to reproach.

Occasiones quaerit qui vult recedere ab amico omni tempore erit exprobrabilis

18:2. A fool receiveth not the words of prudence: unless thou say those things which are in his heart.

Non recipit stultus verba prudentiae nisi ea dixeris quae versantur in corde eius

18:3. The wicked man, when he is come into the depths of sins, contemneth: but ignominy and reproach follow him.

Impius cum in profundum venerit peccatorum contemnit sed sequitur eum ignominia et obprobrium

18:4. Words from the mouth of a man are as deep water: and the fountain of wisdom is an overflowing stream.

Aqua profunda verba ex ore viri et torrens redundans fons sapientiae

18:5. It is not good to accept the person of the wicked, to decline from the truth of judgment.

Accipere personam impii non est bonum ut declines a veritate iudicii

18:6. The lips of a fool intermeddle with strife: and his mouth provoketh quarrels.

Labia stulti inmiscunt se rixis et os eius iurgia provocat

18:7. The mouth of a fool is his destruction: and his lips are the ruin of his soul.

Os stulti contritio eius et labia illius ruina animae eius

18:8. The words of the double tongued are as if they were harmless: and they reach even to the inner parts of the bowels. Fear casteth down the slothful: and the souls of the effeminate shall be hungry.

Verba bilinguis quasi simplicia et ipsa perveniunt usque ad interiora ventris

18:9. He that is loose and slack in his work, is the brother of him that wasteth his own works.

Qui mollis et dissolutus est in opere suo frater est sua opera dissipantis

18:10. The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the just runneth to it, and shall be exalted.

Turris fortissima nomen Domini ad ipsum currit iustus et exaltabitur

18:11. The substance of the rich man is the city of his strength, and as a strong wall compassing him about.

Substantia divitis urbs roboris eius et quasi murus validus circumdans eum

18:12. Before destruction, the heart of a man is exalted: and before he be glorified, it is humbled.

Antequam coneratur exaltatur cor hominis et antequam glorificetur humiliatur

18:13. He that answereth before he heareth, showeth himself to be a fool, and worthy of confusion.

Qui prius respondit quam audiat stultum se esse demonstrat et confusione dignum

18:14. The spirit of a man upholdeth his infirmity: but a spirit that is easily angered, who can bear?

Spiritus viri sustentat inbecillitatem suam spiritum vero ad irascendum facilem quis poterit sustinere

18:15. A wise heart shall acquire knowledge: and the ear of the wise seeketh instruction.

Cor prudens possidebit scientiam et auris sapientium quaerit doctrinam

18:16. A man's gift enlargeth his way, and maketh him room before princes.

Donum hominis dilatat viam eius et ante principes spatium ei facit

18:17. The just is first accuser of himself: his friend cometh, and shall search him.
Iustus prior est accusator sui venit amicus eius et investigavit eum

18:18. The lot suppresseth contentions, and determineth even between the mighty.
Contradictiones comprimit sors et inter potentes quoque diiudicat

18:19. A brother that is helped by his brother, is like a strong city: and judgments are like the bars of cities.
Frater qui adiuvatur a fratre quasi civitas firma et iudicia quasi vectes urbium

18:20. Of the fruit of a man's mouth shall his belly be satisfied: and the offspring of his lips shall fill him.
De fructu oris viri replebitur venter eius et genimina labiorum illius saturabunt eum

18:21. Death and life are in the power of the tongue: they that love it, shall eat the fruits thereof.
Mors et vita in manu linguae qui diligunt eam comedent fructus eius

18:22. He that hath found a good wife, hath found a good thing, and shall receive a pleasure from the Lord. He that driveth away a good wife, driveth away a good thing: but he that keepeth an adulteress, is foolish and wicked.
Qui invenit mulierem invenit bonum et hauriet iucunditatem a Domino

18:23. The poor will speak with supplications, and the rich will speak roughly.
Cum obsecrationibus loquetur pauper et dives effabitur rigide

18:24. A man amiable in society, shall be more friendly than a brother.
Vir amicalis ad societatem magis amicus erit quam frater

Proverbs Chapter 19

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

19:1. Better is the poor man, that walketh in his simplicity, than a rich man that is perverse in his lips and unwise.

Melior est pauper qui ambulat in simplicitate sua quam torquens labia insipiens

19:2. Where there is no knowledge of the soul, there is no good: and he that is hasty with his feet shall stumble.

Ubi non est scientia animae non est bonum et qui festinus est pedibus offendit

19:3. The folly of a man supplanteth his steps: and he fretteth in his mind against God.

Stultitia hominis subplantat gressus eius et contra Deum fervet animo suo

19:4. Riches make many friends: but from the poor man, even they whom he had, depart.

Divitiae addunt amicos plurimos a paupere autem et hii quos habuit separantur

19:5. A false witness shall not be unpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall not escape.

Testis falsus non erit inpunitus et qui mendacia loquitur non effugiet

19:6. Many honour the person of him that is mighty, and are friends of him that giveth gifts.

Multi colunt personam potentis et amici sunt dona tribuenti

19:7. The brethren of the poor man hate him: moreover also his friends have departed far from him. He that followeth after words only, shall have nothing.

Fratres hominis pauperis oderunt eum insuper et amici procul recesserunt ab eo qui tantum verba sectatur nihil habebit

19:8. But he that possesseth a mind, loveth his own soul, and he that keepeth prudence, shall find good things.

Qui autem possessor est mentis diligit animam suam et custos prudentiae inveniet bona

19:9. A false witness shall not be unpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall perish.

Testis falsus non erit inpunitus et qui loquitur mendacia peribit

19:10. Delicacies are not seemly for a fool: nor for a servant to have rule over princes.

Non decent stultum deliciae nec servum dominari principibus

19:11. The learning of a man is known by patience: and his glory is to pass over wrongs.

Doctrina viri per patientiam noscitur et gloria eius est iniqua praetergredi

19:12. As the roaring of a lion, so also is the anger of a king: and his cheerfulness as the dew upon the grass.

Sicut fremitus leonis ita et regis ira et sicut ros super herbam ita hilaritas eius

19:13. A foolish son is the grief of his father: and a wrangling wife is like a roof continually dropping through.

Dolor patris filius stultus et tecta iugiter perstillantia litigiosa mulier

19:14. House and riches are given by parents: but a prudent wife is properly from the Lord.

Domus et divitiae dantur a patribus a Domino autem proprie uxor prudens

19:15. Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep, and an idle soul shall suffer hunger.

Pigredo inmittit soporem et anima dissoluta esuriet

19:16. He that keepeth the commandment, keepeth his own soul: but he that neglecteth his own way, shall die.

Qui custodit mandatum custodit animam suam qui autem negligit vias suas mortificabitur

19:17. He that hath mercy on the poor, lendeth to the Lord: and he will repay him.

Feneratur Domino qui miseretur pauperis et vicissitudinem suam reddet ei

19:18. Chastise thy son, despair not: but to the killing of him set not thy soul.

Erudi filium tuum ne desperes ad interfectionem autem eius ne ponas animam tuam

19:19. He that is impatient, shall suffer damage: and when he shall take away, he shall add another thing.

Qui impatiens est sustinebit damnum et cum rapuerit aliud adponet

19:20. Hear counsel, and receive instruction, that thou mayst be wise in thy latter end.

Audi consilium et suscipe disciplinam ut sis sapiens in novissimis tuis

19:21. There are many thoughts in the heart of a man: but the will of the Lord shall stand firm.

Multae cogitationes in corde viri voluntas autem Domini permanebit

19:22. A needy man is merciful: and better is the poor than the lying man.

Homo indigens misericors est et melior pauper quam vir mendax

19:23. The fear of the Lord is unto life: and he shall abide in the fulness without being visited with evil.

Timor Domini ad vitam et in plenitudine commorabitur absque visitatione pessimi

19:24. The slothful hideth his hand under his armpit, and will not so much as bring it to his mouth.

Abscondit piger manum suam sub ascella nec ad os suum adplicat eam

19:25. The wicked man being scourged, the fool shall be wiser: but if thou rebuke a wise man, he will understand discipline.

Pestilente flagellato stultus sapientior erit sin autem corripueris sapientem intelletget disciplinam

19:26. He that afflicteth his father, and chaseth away his mother, is infamous and unhappy.

Qui adfligit patrem et fugat matrem ignominiosus est et infelix

19:27. Cease not, O my son, to hear instruction, and be not ignorant of the words of knowledge.

Non cesses filii audire doctrinam nec ignores sermones scientiae

19:28. An unjust witness scorneth judgment: and the mouth of the wicked devoureth iniquity.

Testis iniquus deridet iudicium et os impiorum devorat iniquitatem

19:29. Judgments are prepared for scorers: and striking hammers for the bodies of fools.

Parata sunt derisoribus iudicia et mallei percutientes stultorum corporibus

Proverbs Chapter 20

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

20:1. Wine is a luxurious thing, and drunkenness riotous: whosoever is delighted therewith, shall not be wise.

Luxuriosa res vinum et tumultuosa ebrietas quicumque his delectatur non erit sapiens

20:2. As the roaring of a lion, so also is the dread of a king: he that provoketh him, sinneth against his own soul.

Sicut rugitus leonis ita terror regis qui provocat eum peccat in animam suam

20:3. It is an honour for a man to separate himself from quarrels: but all fools are meddling with reproaches.

Honor est homini qui separat se a contentionibus omnes autem stulti miscentur contumeliis

20:4. Because of the cold the sluggard would not plough: he shall beg therefore in the summer, and it shall not be given him.

Propter frigus piger arare noluit mendicabit ergo aestate et non dabitur ei

20:5. Counsel in the heart of a man is like deep water: but a wise man will draw it out.

Sicut aqua profunda sic consilium in corde viri sed homo sapiens exhauriet illud

20:6. Many men are called merciful: but who shall find a faithful man?

Multi homines misericordes vocantur virum autem fidelem quis inveniet

20:7. The just that walketh in his simplicity, shall leave behind him blessed children.

Iustus qui ambulat in simplicitate sua beatos post se filios derelinquet

20:8. The king, that sitteth on the throne of judgment, scattereth away all evil with his look.

Rex qui sedet in solio iudicii dissipat omne malum intuitu suo

20:9. Who can say: My heart is clean, I am pure from sin?

Quis potest dicere mundum est cor meum purus sum a peccato

20:10. Diverse weights and diverse measures, both are abominable before God.

Pondus et pondus mensura et mensura utrumque abominabile est apud Deum

20:11. By his inclinations a child is known, if his works be clean and right.

Ex studiis suis intellegitur puer si munda et si recta sint opera eius

20:12. The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the Lord hath made them both.

Aurem audientem et oculum videntem Dominus fecit utrumque

20:13. Love not sleep, lest poverty oppress thee: open thy eyes, and be filled with bread.

Noli diligere somnum ne te egestas opprimat aperi oculos tuos et saturare panibus

20:14. It is naught, it is naught, saith every buyer: and when he is gone away, then he will boast.

Malum est malum est dicit omnis emptor et cum recesserit tunc gloriabitur

20:15. There is gold and a multitude of jewels: but the lips of knowledge are a precious vessel.

Est aurum et multitudo gemmarum vas autem pretiosum labia scientiae

20:16. Take away the garment of him that is surety for a stranger, and take a pledge from him for strangers.

Tolle vestimentum eius qui fideiussor extitit alieni et pro extraneis aufer pignus ab eo

20:17. The bread of lying is sweet to a man: but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.
Suavis est homini panis mendacii et postea implebitur os eius calculo

20:18. Designs are strengthened by counsels: and wars are to be managed by governments.
Cogitationes consiliis roborantur et gubernaculis tractanda sunt bella

20:19. Meddle not with him that revealeth secrets, and walketh deceitfully, and openeth wide his lips.
Ei qui revelat mysteria et ambulat fraudulenter et dilatat labia sua ne commiscearis

20:20. He that curseth his father, and mother, his lamp shall be put out in the midst of darkness.
Qui maledicit patri suo et matri extinguetur lucerna eius in mediis tenebris

20:21. The inheritance gotten hastily in the beginning, in the end shall be without a  blessing.
Hereditas ad quam festinatur in principio in novissimo benedictione carebit

20:22. Say not: I will return evil: wait for the Lord, and he will deliver thee.
Ne dicas reddam malum expecta Dominum et liberabit te

20:23. Diverse weights are an abomination before the Lord: a deceitful balance is not good.
Abominatio est apud Deum pondus et pondus statera dolosa non est bona

20:24. The steps of men are guided by the Lord: but who is the man that can understand his own way?
A Domino diriguntur gressus viri quis autem hominum intellegere potest viam suam

20:25. It is ruin to a man to devour holy ones, and after vows to retract.
Ruina est hominis devorare sanctos et post vota tractare

20:26. A wise king scattereth the wicked, and bringeth over them the wheel.
Dissipat impios rex sapiens et curvat super eos fornicem

20:27. The spirit of a man is the lamp of the Lord, which searcheth all the hidden things of the bowels.
Lucerna Domini spiraculum hominis quae investigat omnia secreta ventris

20:28. Mercy and truth preserve the king, and his throne is strengthened by clemency.
Misericordia et veritas custodiunt regem et roboratur clementia thronus eius

20:29. The joy of young men is their strength: and the dignity of old men, their grey hairs.
Exultatio iuvenum fortitudo eorum et dignitas senum canities

20:30. The blueness of a wound shall wipe away evils: and stripes in the more inward parts of the belly.
Livor vulneris absterget mala et plagae in secretioribus ventris

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

21:1. As the divisions of waters, so the heart of the king is in the hand of the Lord: whithersoever he will, he shall turn it.

Sicut divisiones aquarum ita cor regis in manu Domini quocumque voluerit inclinabit illud

21:2. Every way of a man seemeth right to himself: but the Lord weigheth the hearts.

Omnis via viri recta sibi videtur adpendit autem corda Dominus

21:3. To do mercy and judgment, pleaseth the Lord more than victims.

Facere misericordiam et iudicium magis placent Domino quam victimae

21:4. Haughtiness of the eyes is the enlarging of the heart: the lamp of the wicked is sin.

Exaltatio oculorum et dilatatio cordis lucerna impiorum peccatum

21:5. The thoughts of the industrious always bring forth abundance: but every sluggard is always in want.

Cogitationes robusti semper in abundantia omnis autem piger semper in egestate

21:6. He that gathereth treasures by a lying tongue, is vain and foolish, and shall stumble upon the snares of death.

Qui congregat thesauros lingua mendacii vanus est et inpingetur ad laqueos mortis

21:7. The robberies of the wicked shall be their downfall, because they would not do judgment.

Rapinae impiorum detrahent eos quia noluerunt facere iudicium

21:8. The perverse way of a man is strange: but as for him that is pure, his work is right.

Perversa via viri aliena est qui autem mundus est rectum opus eius

21:9. It is better to sit in a corner of the housetop, than with a brawling woman, and in a common house.

Melius est sedere in angulo domatis quam cum muliere litigiosa et in domo communi

21:10. The soul of the wicked desireth evil, he will not have pity on his neighbour.

Anima impii desiderat malum non miserebitur proximo suo

21:11. When a pestilent man is punished, the little one will be wiser: and if he follow the wise, he will receive knowledge.

Multato pestilente sapientior erit parvulus et si sectetur sapientem sumet scientiam

21:12. The just considereth seriously the house of the wicked, that he may withdraw the wicked from evil.

Excogitat iustus de domo impii ut detrahat impios in malum

21:13. He that stoppeth his ear against the cry of the poor, shall also cry himself, and shall not be heard.

Qui obturat aurem suam ad clamorem pauperis et ipse clamabit et non exaudietur

21:14. A secret present quencheth anger: and a gift in the bosom, the greatest wrath.

Munus absconditum extinguet iras et donum in sinu indignationem maximam

21:15. It is joy to the just to do judgment: and dread to them that work iniquity.

Gaudium iusto est facere iudicium et pavor operantibus iniquitatem

21:16. A man that shall wander out of the way of doctrine, shall abide in the company of the giants.

Vir qui erraverit a via doctrinae in coetu gigantum commorabitur

21:17. He that loveth good cheer, shall be in want: he that loveth wine, and fat things, shall not be rich.
Qui diligit epulas in egestate erit qui amat vinum et pingua non ditabitur

21:18. The wicked is delivered up for the just: and the unjust for the righteous.
Pro iusto datur impius et pro rectis iniquus

21:19. It is better to dwell in a wilderness, than with a quarrelsome and passionate woman.
Melius est habitare in terra deserta quam cum muliere rixosa et iracunda

21:20. There is a treasure to be desired, and oil in the dwelling of the just: and the foolish man shall spend it.
Thesaurus desiderabilis et oleum in habitaculo iusti et imprudens homo dissipabit illud

21:21. He that followeth justice and mercy, shall find life, justice, and glory.
Qui sequitur iustitiam et misericordiam inveniet vitam et iustitiam et gloriam

21:22. The wise man hath scaled the city of the strong, and hath cast down the strength of the confidence thereof.
Civitatem fortium ascendit sapiens et destruxit robur fiduciae eius

21:23. He that keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soul from distress.
Qui custodit os suum et linguam suam custodit ab angustiis animam suam

21:24. The proud and the arrogant is called ignorant, who in anger worketh pride.
Superbus et arrogans vocatur indoctus qui in ira operatur superbiam

21:25. Desires kill the slothful: for his hands have refused to work at all.
Desideria occidunt pigrum noluerunt enim quicquam manus eius operari

21:26. He longeth and desireth all the day: but he that is just, will give, and will not cease.
Tota die concupiscit et desiderat qui autem iustus est tribuet et non cessabit

21:27. The sacrifices of the wicked are abominable, because they are offered of wickedness.
Hostiae impiorum abominabiles quia offeruntur ex scelere

21:28. A lying witness shall perish: an obedient man shall speak of victory.
Testis mendax peribit vir oboediens loquitur victoriam

21:29. The wicked man impudently hardeneth his face: but he that is righteous, correcteth his way.
Vir impius procaciter obfirmat vultum suum qui autem rectus est corrigit viam suam

21:30. There is no wisdom, there is no prudence, there is no counsel against the Lord.
Non est sapientia non est prudentia non est consilium contra Dominum

21:31. The horse is prepared for the day of battle: but the Lord giveth safety.
Equus paratur ad diem belli Dominus autem salutem tribuet

Proverbs Chapter 22

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

22:1. A good name is better than great riches: and good favour is above silver and gold.

Melius est nomen bonum quam divitiae multae super argentum et aurum gratia bona

22:2. The rich and poor have met one another: the Lord is the maker of them both.

Dives et pauper obviaverunt sibi utriusque operator est Dominus

22:3. The prudent man saw the evil, and hid himself: the simple passed on, and suffered loss.

Callidus vidit malum et abscondit se innocens pertransiit et adflictus est damno

22:4. The fruit of humility is the fear of the Lord, riches and glory and life.

Finis modestiae timor Domini divitiae et gloria et vita

22:5. Arms and swords are in the way of the perverse: but he that keepeth his own soul, departeth far from them.

Arma et gladii in via perversi custos animae suae longe recedit ab eis

22:6. It is a proverb: A young man according to his way, even when he is old, he will not depart from it.

Proverbium est adulescens iuxta viam suam etiam cum senuerit non recedet ab ea

22:7. The rich ruleth over the poor: and the borrower is servant to him that lendeth.

Dives pauperibus imperat et qui accipit mutuum servus est fenerantis

22:8. He that soweth iniquity, shall reap evils, and with the rod of his anger he shall be consumed.

Qui seminat iniquitatem metet mala et virga irae suae consummabitur

22:9. He that is inclined to mercy, shall be blessed: for of his bread he hath given to the poor. He that maketh presents, shall purchase victory and honour: but he carrieth away the souls of the receivers.

Qui pronus est ad misericordiam benedicetur de panibus enim suis dedit pauperi

22:10. Cast out the scoffer, and contention shall go out with him, and quarrels and reproaches shall cease.

Eice derisorem et exhibit cum eo iurgium cessabuntque causae et contumeliae

22:11. He that loveth cleanness of heart, for the grace of his lips shall have the king for his friend.

Qui diligit cordis munditiam propter gratiam labiorum suorum habebit amicum regem

22:12. The eyes of the Lord preserve knowledge: and the words of the unjust are overthrown.

Oculi Domini custodiunt scientiam et subplantantur verba iniqui

22:13. The slothful man saith: There is a lion without, I shall be slain in the midst of the streets.

Dicit piger leo foris in medio platearum occidendus sum

22:14. The mouth of a strange woman is a deep pit: he whom the Lord is angry with, shall fall into it.

Fovea profunda os alienae cui iratus est Dominus incidet in eam

22:15. Folly is bound up in the heart of a child, and the rod of correction shall drive it away.

Stultitia conligata est in corde pueri et virga disciplinae fugabit eam

22:16. He that oppresseth the poor, to increase his own riches, shall himself give to one that is richer, and shall be in need.

Qui calumniatur pauperem ut augeat divitias suas dabit ipse ditiori et egebit

22:17. Incline thy ear, and hear the words of the wise: and apply thy heart to my doctrine:
Inclina aurem tuam et audi verba sapientium adpone autem cor ad doctrinam meam

22:18. Which shall be beautiful for thee, if thou keep it in thy bowels, and it shall flow in thy lips:
Quae pulchra erit tibi cum servaveris eam in ventre tuo et redundabit in labiis tuis

22:19. That thy trust may be in the Lord, wherefore I have also shown it to thee this day.
Ut sit in Domino fiducia tua unde et ostendi eam tibi hodie

22:20. Behold I have described it to thee three manner of ways, in thoughts and knowledge:
Ecce descripsi eam tibi tripliciter in cogitationibus et scientia

22:21. That I might show thee the certainty, and the words of truth, to answer out of these to them that sent thee.
Ut ostenderem tibi firmitatem et eloquia veritatis respondere ex his illi qui misit te

22:22. Do no violence to the poor, because he is poor: and do not oppress the needy in the gate:
Non facias violentiam pauperi quia pauper est neque conteras egenum in porta

22:23. Because the Lord will judge his cause: and will afflict them that have afflicted his soul.
Quia Dominus iudicabit causam eius et configet eos qui confixerint animam eius

22:24. Be not a friend to an angry man, and do not walk with a furious man:
Noli esse amicus homini iracundo neque ambules cum viro furioso

22:25. Lest perhaps thou learn his ways, and take scandal to thy soul.
Ne forte discas semitas eius et sumas scandalum animae tuae

22:26. Be not with them that fasten down their hands, and that offer themselves sureties for debts:
Noli esse cum his qui defigunt manus suas et qui vades se offerunt pro debitis

22:27. For if thou have not wherewith to restore, what cause is there that he should take the covering from thy bed?
Si enim non habes unde restituas quid causae est ut tollat operimentum de cubili tuo

22:28. Pass not beyond the ancient bounds which thy fathers have set.
Ne transgrediaris terminos antiquos quos posuerunt patres tui

22:29. Hast thou seen a man swift in his work? he shall stand before kings, and shall not be before those that are obscure.
Vidisti virum velocem in opere suo coram regibus stabit nec erit ante ignobiles

Proverbs Chapter 23

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

23:1. When thou shalt sit to eat with a prince, consider diligently what is set before thy face:
Quando sederis ut comedas cum principe diligenter adtende quae posita sunt ante faciem tuam

23:2. And put a knife to thy throat, if it be so that thou have thy soul in thy own power.
Et statue cultrum in gutture tuo si tamen habes in potestate animam tuam

23:3. Be not desirous of his meats, in which is the bread of deceit.
Ne desideres de cibis eius in quo est panis mendacii

23:4. Labour not to be rich: but set bounds to thy prudence.
Noli laborare ut diteris sed prudentiae tuae pone modum

23:5. Lift not up thy eyes to riches which thou canst not have: because they shall make themselves wings like those of an eagle, and shall fly towards heaven.
Ne erigas oculos tuos ad opes quas habere non potes quia facient sibi pinnas quasi aquilae et avolabunt in caelum

23:6. Eat not with an envious man, and desire not his meats:
Ne comedas cum homine invidio et ne desideres cibos eius

23:7. Because, like a soothsayer, and diviner, he thinketh that which he knoweth not. Eat and drink, will he say to thee: and his mind is not with thee.
Quoniam in similitudinem arioli et coniectoris aestimat quod ignorat comede et bibe dicet tibi et mens eius non est tecum

23:8. The meats which thou hadst eaten, thou shalt vomit up: and shalt lose thy beautiful words.
Cibos quos comederas evomes et perdes pulchros sermones tuos

23:9. Speak not in the ears of fools: because they will despise the instruction of thy speech.
In auribus insipientium ne loquaris quia despicient doctrinam eloquii tui

23:10. Touch not the bounds of little ones: and enter not into the field of the fatherless:
Ne adtingas terminos parvulorum et agrum pupillorum ne introeas

23:11. For their near kinsman is strong: and he will judge their cause against thee.
Propinquus enim eorum Fortis est et ipse iudicabit contra te causam illorum

23:12. Let thy heart apply itself to instruction and thy ears to words of knowledge.
Ingrediatur ad doctrinam cor tuum et aures tuae ad verba scientiae

23:13. Withhold not correction from a child: for if thou strike him with the rod, he shall not die.
Noli subtrahere a puero disciplinam si enim percusseris eum virga non morietur

23:14. Thou shalt beat him with the rod, and deliver his soul from hell.
Tu virga percuties eum et animam eius de inferno liberabis

23:15. My son, if thy mind be wise, my heart shall rejoice with thee:
Fili mi si sapiens fuerit animus tuus gaudebit tecum cor meum

23:16. And my reins shall rejoice, when thy lips shall speak what is right.
Et exultabunt renes mei cum locuta fuerint rectum labia tua

23:17. Let not thy heart envy sinners: but be thou in the fear of the Lord all the day long:
Non aemuletur cor tuum peccatores sed in timore Domini esto tota die

23:18. Because thou shalt have hope in the latter end, and thy expectation shall not be taken away.
Quia habebis spem in novissimo et praestolatio tua non auferetur

23:19. Hear thou, my son, and be wise: and guide thy mind in the way.
Audi fili mi et esto sapiens et dirige in via animum tuum

23:20. Be not in the feasts of great drinkers, nor in their revellings, who contribute flesh to eat:
Noli esse in conviviis potatorum nec in comensationibus eorum qui carnes ad vescendum conferunt

23:21. Because they that give themselves to drinking, and that club together, shall be consumed: and drowsiness shall be clothed with rags.
Quia vacantes potibus et dantes symbola consumentur et vestietur pannis dormitatio

23:22. Hearken to thy father, that begot thee: and despise not thy mother when she is old.
Audi patrem tuum qui genuit te et ne contempnas cum senuerit mater tua

23:23. Buy truth, and do not sell wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.
Veritatem eme et noli vendere sapientiam et doctrinam et intellegentiam

23:24. The father of the just rejoiceth greatly: he that hath begotten a wise son, shall have joy in him.
Exultat gaudio pater iusti qui sapientem genuit laetabitur in eo

23:25. Let thy father and thy mother be joyful, and let her rejoice that bore thee.
Gaudeat pater tuus et mater tua et exultet quae genuit te

23:26. My son, give me thy heart: and let thy eyes keep my ways.
Praebe fili mi cor tuum mihi et oculi tui vias meas custodiant

23:27. For a harlot is a deep ditch: and a strange woman is a narrow pit.
Fovea enim profunda est meretrix et puteus angustus aliena

23:28. She lieth in wait in the way as a robber, and him whom she shall see unwary, she will kill.
Insidiatur in via quasi latro et quos incautos viderit interficit

23:29. Who hath woe? whose father hath woe? who hath contentions? who falls into pits? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes?
Cui vae cuius patri vae cui rixae cui foveae cui sine causa vulnera cui suffusio oculorum

23:30. Surely they that pass their time in wine, and study to drink off their cups.
Nonne his qui morantur in vino et student calicibus epotandis

23:31. Look not upon the wine when it is yellow, when the colour thereof shineth in the glass: it goeth in pleasantly,
Ne intuearis vinum quando flavescit cum splenduerit in vitro color eius ingreditur blande

23:32. But in the end, it will bite like a snake, and will spread abroad poison like a basilisk.
Sed in novissimo mordebit ut coluber et sicut regulus venena diffundet

23:33. Thy eyes shall behold strange women, and thy heart shall utter perverse things.
Oculi tui videbunt extraneas et cor tuum loquetur perversa

23:34. And thou shalt be as one sleeping in the midst of the sea, and as a pilot fast asleep when the stern is lost.
Et eris sicut dormiens in medio mari et quasi sopitus gubernator amisso clavo

23:35. And thou shalt say: They have beaten me, but I was not sensible of pain: they drew me, and I felt not: when shall I awake and find wine again?
Et dices verberaverunt me sed non dolui traxerunt me et ego non sensi quando evigilabo et rursum vina reperiam

Proverbs Chapter 24

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

24:1. Seek not to be like evil men, neither desire to be with them:

Ne aemuleris viros malos nec desideres esse cum eis

24:2. Because their mind studieth robberies, and their lips speak deceits.

Quia rapinas meditatur mens eorum et fraudes labia eorum loquuntur

24:3. By wisdom the house shall be built, and by prudence it shall be strengthened.

Sapientia aedificabitur domus et prudentia roborabitur

24:4. By instruction the storerooms shall be filled with all precious and most beautiful wealth.

In doctrina replebuntur cellaria universa substantia pretiosa et pulcherrima

24:5. A wise man is strong: and a knowing man, stout and valiant.

Vir sapiens et fortis est et vir doctus robustus et validus

24:6. Because war is managed by due ordering: and there shall be safety where there are many counsels.

Quia cum dispositione initur bellum et erit salus ubi multa consilia sunt

24:7. Wisdom is too high for a fool; in the gate he shall not open his mouth.

Excelsa stulto sapientia in porta non aperiet os suum

24:8. He that deviseth to do evils, shall be called a fool.

Qui cogitat malefacere stultus vocabitur

24:9. The thought of a fool is sin: and the detractor is the abomination of men.

Cogitatio stulti peccatum est et abominatio hominum detractor

24:10. If thou lose hope, being weary in the day of distress, thy strength shall be diminished.

Si desperaveris lassus in die angustiae inminuetur fortitudo tua

24:11. Deliver them that are led to death: and those that are drawn to death, forbear not to deliver.

Erue eos qui ducuntur ad mortem et qui trahuntur ad interitum liberare ne cesses

24:12. If thou say: I have not strength enough: he that seeth into the heart, he understandeth, and nothing deceiveth the keeper of thy soul, and he shall render to a man according to his works.

Si dixeris vires non suppetunt qui inspector est cordis ipse intellegit et servatorem animae tuae nihil fallit reddetque homini iuxta opera sua

24:13. Eat honey, my son, because it is good, and the honeycomb most sweet to thy throat.

Comede fili mi mel quia bonum est et favum dulcissimum gutturi tuo

24:14. So also is the doctrine of wisdom to thy soul: which when thou hast found, thou shalt have hope in the end, and thy hope shall not perish.

Sic et doctrina sapientiae animae tuae quam cum inveneris habebis in novissimis et spes tua non peribit

24:15. Lie not in wait, nor seek after wickedness in the house of the just, nor spoil his rest.

Ne insidieris et quaeras impietatem in domo iusti neque vastes requiem eius

24:16. For a just man shall fall seven times, and shall rise again: but the wicked shall fall down into evil.

Septies enim cadet iustus et resurget impii autem corruent in malum

24:17. When thy enemy shall fall, be not glad, and in his ruin let not thy heart rejoice:
Cum ceciderit inimicus tuus ne gaudeas et in ruina eius ne exultet cor tuum

24:18. Lest the Lord see, and it displease him, and he turn away his wrath from him.
Ne forte videat Dominus et displiceat ei et auferat ab eo iram suam

24:19. Contend not with the wicked, nor seek to be like the ungodly.
Ne contendas cum pessimis nec aemuleris impios

24:20. For evil men have no hope of things to come, and the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.
Quoniam non habent futurorum spem mali et lucerna impiorum extinguetur

24:21. My son, fear the Lord, and the king: and have nothing to do with detractors.
Time Dominum fili mi et regem et cum detractoribus non commiscearis

24:22. For their destruction shall rise suddenly: and who knoweth the ruin of both?
Quoniam repente consurget perditio eorum et ruinam utriusque quis novit

24:23. These things also to the wise: It is not good to have respect to persons in judgment.
Haec quoque sapientibus cognoscere personam in iudicio non est bonum

24:24. They that say to the wicked man: Thou art just: shall be cursed by the people, and the tribes shall abhor them.
Qui dicit impio iustus es maledicent ei populi et detestabuntur eum tribus

24:25. They that rebuke him shall be praised: and a blessing shall come upon them.
Qui arguunt laudabuntur et super ipsos veniet benedictio

24:26. He shall kiss the lips, who answereth right words.
Labia deosculabitur qui recta verba respondet

24:27. Prepare thy work without, and diligently till thy ground: that afterward thou mayst build thy house.
Praepara foris opus tuum et diligenter exerce agrum tuum ut postea aedifices domum tuam

24:28. Be not witness without cause against thy neighbour: and deceive not any man with thy lips.
Ne sis testis frustra contra proximum tuum nec laces quemquam labiis tuis

24:29. Say not: I will do to him as he hath done to me: I will render to every one according to his work.
Ne dicas quomodo fecit mihi sic faciam ei reddam unicuique secundum opus suum

24:30. I passed by the field of the slothful man, and by the vineyard of the foolish man:
Per agrum hominis pigri transivi et per vineam viri stulti

24:31. And behold it was all filled with nettles, and thorns had covered the face thereof, and the stone wall was broken down.
Et ecce totum repleverant urticae operuerant superficiem eius spinae et maceria lapidum destructa erat

24:32. Which when I had seen, I laid it up in my heart, and by the example I received instruction.
Quod cum vidissem posui in corde meo et exemplo didici disciplinam

24:33. Thou wilt sleep a little, said I, thou wilt slumber a little, thou wilt fold thy hands a little to rest.
Parum inquam dormies modicum dormitabis pauxillum manus conseres ut quiescas

24:34. And poverty shall come to thee as a runner, and beggary as an armed man.
Et veniet quasi cursor egestas tua et mendicitas quasi vir armatus

25:1. These are also parables of Solomon, which the men of Ezechias, king of Juda, copied out.
Haec quoque parabolae Salomonis quas transtulerunt viri Ezechiae regis Iuda

25:2. It is the glory of God to conceal the word, and the glory of kings to search out the speech.
Gloria Dei celare verbum et gloria regum investigare sermonem

25:3. The heaven above and the earth beneath, and the heart of kings is unsearchable.
Caelum sursum et terra deorsum et cor regum inscrutabile

25:4. Take away the rust from silver, and there shall come forth a most pure vessel:
Aufer robiginem de argento et egredietur vas purissimum

25:5. Take away wickedness from the face of the king, and his throne shall be established with justice.
Aufer impietatem de vultu regis et firmabitur iustitia thronus eius

25:6. Appear not glorious before the king, and stand not in the place of great men.
Ne gloriosus appareas coram rege et in loco magnorum ne steteris

25:7. For it is better that it should be said to thee: Come up hither; than that thou shouldst be humbled before the prince.
Melius est enim ut dicatur tibi ascende huc quam ut humilieris coram principe

25:8. The things which thy eyes have seen, utter not hastily in a quarrel: lest afterward thou mayst not be able to make amends, when thou hast dishonoured thy friend.
Quae viderunt oculi tui ne proferas in iurgio cito ne postea emendare non possis cum dehonestaveris amicum tuum

25:9. Treat thy cause with thy friend, and discover not the secret to a stranger:
Causam tuam tracta cum amico tuo et secretum extraneo non reveles

25:10. Lest he insult over thee, when he hath heard it, and cease not to upbraid thee. Grace and friendship deliver a man: keep these for thyself, lest thou fall under reproach.
Ne forte insultet tibi cum audierit et exprobrare non cesset

25:11. To speak a word in due time, is like apples of gold on beds of silver.
Mala aurea in lectis argenteis qui loquitur verbum in tempore suo

25:12. As an earring of gold and a bright pearl, so is he that reproveth the wise, and the obedient ear.
Inauris aurea et margaritum fulgens qui arguit sapientem et aurem oboedientem

25:13. As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to him that sent him, for he refresheth his soul.
Sicut frigus nivis in die messis ita legatus fidelis ei qui misit eum animam illius requiescere facit

25:14. As clouds, and wind, when no rain followeth, so is the man that boasteth, and doth not fulfil his promises.
Nubes et ventus et pluviae non sequentes vir gloriosus et promissa non complens

25:15. By patience a prince shall be appeased, and a soft tongue shall break hardness.
Patientia lenietur princeps et lingua mollis confringet duritiam

25:16. Thou hast found honey, eat what is sufficient for thee, lest being gluttoned therewith thou vomit it up.

Mel invenisti comede quod sufficit tibi ne forte saturatus evomas illud

25:17. Withdraw thy foot from the house of thy neighbour, lest having his fill he hate thee.

Subtrahe pedem tuum de domo proximi tui nequando satiatus oderit te

25:18. A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour, is like a dart and a sword and a sharp arrow.

Iaculum et gladius et sagitta acuta homo qui loquitur contra proximum suum testimonium falsum

25:19. To trust in an unfaithful man in the time of trouble, is like a rotten tooth, and weary foot,

Dens putridus et pes lapsus qui sperat super infideli in die angustiae

25:20. And one that looseth his garment in cold weather. As vinegar upon nitre, so is he that singeth songs to a very evil heart. As a moth doth by a garment, and a worm by the wood: so the sadness of a man consumeth the heart.

Et amittit pallium in die frigoris acetum in nitro et qui cantat carmina cordi pessimo

25:21. If thy enemy be hungry, give him to eat: if he thirst, give him water to drink:

Si esurierit inimicus tuus ciba illum et si sitierit da ei aquam bibere

25:22. For thou shalt heap hot coals upon his head, and the Lord will reward thee.

Prunam enim congregabis super caput eius et Dominus reddet tibi

25:23. The north wind driveth away rain, as doth a sad countenance a backbiting tongue.

Ventus aquilo dissipat pluvias et facies tristis linguam detrahentem

25:24. It is better to sit in a corner of the housetop: than with a brawling woman, and in a common house.

Melius est sedere in angulo domatis quam cum muliere litigiosa et in domo communi

25:25. As cold water to a thirsty soul, so are good tidings from a far country.

Aqua frigida animae sitiendi et nuntius bonus de terra longinqua

25:26. A just man falling down before the wicked, is as a fountain troubled with the foot and a corrupted spring.

Fons turbatus pede et vena corrupta iustus cadens coram impio

25:27. As it is not good for a man to eat much honey, so he that is a searcher of majesty shall be overwhelmed by glory.

Sicut qui mel multum comedit non est ei bonum sic qui scrutator est maiestatis opprimitur gloria

Majesty... Viz., of God. For to search into that incomprehensible Majesty, and to pretend to sound the depths of the wisdom of God, is exposing our weak understanding to be blinded with an excess of light and glory, which it cannot comprehend.

25:28. As a city that lieth open and is not compassed with walls, so is a man that cannot refrain his own spirit in speaking.

Sicut urbs patens et absque murorum ambitu ita vir qui non potest in loquendo cohibere spiritum suum

Proverbs Chapter 26

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

26:1. As snow in summer, and rain in harvest, so glory is not seemly for a fool.

Quomodo nix aestate et pluvia in messe sic indecens est stulto gloria

26:2. As a bird flying to other places, and a sparrow going here or there: so a curse uttered without cause shall come upon a man.

Sicut avis ad alia transvolans et passer quolibet vadens sic maledictum frustra prolatum in quempiam superveniet

As a bird, etc... The meaning is, that a curse uttered without cause shall do no harm to the person that is cursed, but will return upon him that curseth, as whithersoever a bird flies, it returns to its own nest.

26:3. A whip for a horse, and a snaffle for an ass, and a rod for the back of fools.

Flagellum equo et camus asino et virga dorso imprudentium

26:4. Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou be made like him.

Ne respondeas stulto iuxta stultitiam suam ne efficiaris ei similis

Answer not a fool, etc... Viz., so as to imitate him but only so as to reprove his folly.

26:5. Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he imagine himself to be wise.

Responde stulto iuxta stultitiam suam ne sibi sapiens esse videatur

26:6. He that sendeth words by a foolish messenger, is lame of feet and drinketh iniquity.

Claudus pedibus et iniquitatem bibens qui mittit verba per nuntium stultum

26:7. As a lame man hath fair legs in vain: so a parable is unseemly in the mouth of fools.

Quomodo pulchras frustra habet claudus tibias sic indecens est in ore stultorum parabola

26:8. As he that casteth a stone into the heap of Mercury: so is he that giveth honour to a fool.

Sicut qui mittit lapidem in acervum Mercurii ita qui tribuit insipienti honorem

26:9. As if a thorn should grow in the hand of a drunkard: so is a parable in the mouth of fools.

Quomodo si spina nascatur in manu temulenti sic parabola in ore stultorum

26:10. Judgment determineth causes: and he that putteth a fool to silence, appeaseth anger.

Iudicium determinat causas et qui inponit stulto silentium iras mitigat

26:11. As a dog that returneth to his vomit, so is the fool that repeateth his folly.

Sicut canis qui revertitur ad vomitum suum sic imprudens qui iterat stultitiam suam

26:12. Hast thou seen a man wise in his own conceit? there shall be more hope of a fool than of him.

Vidisti hominem sapientem sibi videri magis illo spem habebit stultus

26:13. The slothful man saith: There is a lion in the way, and a lioness in the roads.

Dicit piger leaena in via leo in itineribus

26:14. As the door turneth upon its hinges, so doth the slothful upon his bed.

Sicut ostium vertitur in cardine suo ita piger in lectulo suo

26:15. The slothful hideth his hand under his armpit, and it grieveth him to turn it to his mouth.

Abcondit piger manus sub ascellas suas et laborat si ad os suum eas converterit

26:16. The sluggard is wiser in his own conceit, than seven men that speak sentences.

Sapientior sibi piger videtur septem viris loquentibus sententias

26:17. As he that taketh a dog by the ears, so is he that passeth by in anger, and meddleth with another man's quarrel.

Sicut qui adprehendit auribus canem sic qui transit et inpatiens commiscetur rixae alterius

26:18. As he is guilty that shooteth arrows, and lances unto death.

Sicut noxius est qui mittit lanceas et sagittas et mortem

26:19. So is the man that hurteth his friend deceitfully: and when he is taken, saith: I did it in jest.

Sic vir qui fraudulenter nocet amico suo et cum fuerit deprehensus dicit ludens feci

26:20. When the wood faileth, the fire shall go out: and when the talebearer is taken away, contentions shall cease.

Cum defecerint ligna extinguetur ignis et susurrone subtracto iurgia conquiescunt

26:21. As coals are to burning coals, and wood to fire, so an angry man stirreth up strife.

Sicut carbones ad prunam et ligna ad ignem sic homo iracundus suscitatur rixas

26:22. The words of a talebearer are as it were simple, but they reach to the innermost parts of the belly.

Verba susurronis quasi simplicia et ipsa perveniunt ad intima ventris

26:23. Swelling lips joined with a corrupt heart, are like an earthen vessel adorned with silver dross.

Quomodo si argento sordido ornare velis vas fictile sic labia tumentia cum pessimo corde sociata

26:24. An enemy is known by his lips, when in his heart he entertaineth deceit.

Labiis suis intellegitur inimicus cum in corde tractaverit dolos

26:25. When he shall speak low, trust him not: because there are seven mischiefs in his heart.

Quando submiserit vocem suam ne credideris ei quoniam septem nequitiae sunt in corde illius

26:26. He that covereth hatred deceitfully, his malice shall be laid open in the public assembly.

Qui operit odium fraudulenter revelabitur malitia eius in concilio

26:27. He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it: and he that rolleth a stone, it shall return to him.

Qui fodit foveam incidet in eam et qui volvit lapidem revertetur ad eum

26:28. A deceitful tongue loveth not truth: and a slippery mouth worketh ruin.

Lingua fallax non amat veritatem et os lubricum operatur ruinas

Proverbs Chapter 27

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

27:1. Boast not for to morrow, for thou knowest not what the day to come may bring forth.
Ne glories in crastinum ignorans quid superventura pariat dies

27:2. Let another praise thee, and not thy own mouth: a stranger, and not thy own lips.
Laudet te alienus et non os tuum extraneus et non labia tua

27:3. A stone is heavy, and sand weighty: but the anger of a fool is heavier than them both.
Grave est saxum et onerosa harena sed ira stulti utroque gravior

27:4. Anger hath no mercy: nor fury, when it breaketh forth: and who can bear the violence of one provoked?
Ira non habet misericordiam nec erumpens furor et impetum concitati ferre quis poterit

27:5. Open rebuke is better than hidden love.
Melior est manifesta correptio quam amor absconditus

27:6. Better are the wounds of a friend, than the deceitful kisses of an enemy.
Meliora sunt vulnera diligentis quam fraudulenta odientis oscula

27:7. A soul that is full shall tread upon the honeycomb: and a soul that is hungry shall take even bitter for sweet.
Anima saturata calcabit favum anima esuriens et amarum pro dulce sumet

27:8. As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that leaveth his place.
Sicut avis transmigrans de nido suo sic vir qui relinquit locum suum

27:9. Ointment and perfumes rejoice the heart: and the good counsels of a friend are sweet to the soul.
Unguento et variis odoribus delectatur cor et bonis amici consiliis anima dulcoratur

27:10. Thy own friend, and thy father's friend, forsake not: and go not into thy brother's house in the day of thy affliction. Better is a neighbour that is near than a brother afar off.
Amicum tuum et amicum patris tui ne dimiseris et domum fratris tui ne ingrediaris in die adflictionis tuae melior est vicinus iuxta quam frater procul

27:11. Study wisdom, my son, and make my heart joyful, that thou mayst give an answer to him that reproacheth.
Stude sapientiae filii mi et laetifica cor meum ut possim exprobranti respondere sermonem

27:12. The prudent man seeing evil hideth himself: little ones passing on have suffered losses.
Astutus videns malum absconditus est parvuli transeuntes sustinere dispendia

27:13. Take away his garment that hath been surety for a stranger: and take from him a pledge for strangers.
Tolle vestimentum eius qui spondit pro extraneo et pro alienis auferto pignus

27:14. He that blesseth his neighbour with a loud voice, rising in the night, shall be like to him that curseth.
Qui benedicit proximo suo voce grandi de nocte consurgens maledicenti similis erit

27:15. Roofs dropping through in a cold day, and a contentious woman are alike.
Tecta perstillantia in die frigoris et litigiosa mulier comparantur

27:16. He that retaineth her, is as he that would hold the wind, and shall call the oil of his right hand.
Qui retinet eam quasi qui ventum teneat et oleum dexteræ suæ vocabit

27:17. Iron sharpeneth iron, so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend.
Ferrum ferro acuitur et homo exacuit faciem amici sui

27:18. He that keepeth the fig tree, shall eat the fruit thereof: and he that is the keeper of his master, shall be glorified.
Qui servat ficum comedet fructus eius et qui custos est domini sui glorificabitur

27:19. As the faces of them that look therein, shine in the water, so the hearts of men are laid open to the wise.
Quomodo in aquis resplendent vultus prospicientium sic corda hominum manifesta sunt prudentibus

27:20. Hell and destruction are never filled: so the eyes of men are never satisfied.
Infernus et perditio non replentur similiter et oculi hominum insatiabiles

27:21. As silver is tried in the fining-pot, and gold in the furnace: so a man is tried by the mouth of him that praiseth. The heart of the wicked seeketh after evils, but the righteous heart seeketh after knowledge.
Quomodo probatur in conflatorio argentum et in fornace aurum sic probatur homo ore laudantis

27:22. Though thou shouldst bray a fool in the mortar, as when a pestle striketh upon sodden barley, his folly would not be taken from him.
Si contuderis stultum in pila quasi tisanas feriente desuper pilo non auferetur ab eo stultitia eius

27:23. Be diligent to know the countenance of thy cattle, and consider thy own flocks:
Diligenter agnosce vultum pecoris tui tuosque greges considera

27:24. For thou shalt not always have power: but a crown shall be given to generation and generation.
Non enim habebis iugiter potestatem sed corona tribuetur in generatione generationum

27:25. The meadows are open, and the green herbs have appeared, and the hay is gathered out of the mountains.
Aperta sunt prata et apparuerunt herbae virentes et collecta sunt faena de montibus

27:26. Lambs are for thy clothing: and kids for the price of the field.
Agni ad vestimentum tuum et hedi agri pretium

27:27. Let the milk of the goats be enough for thy food, and for the necessities of thy house, and for maintenance for thy handmaids.
Sufficiat tibi lac caprarum in cibos tuos in necessaria domus tuæ et ad victum ancillis tuis

Proverbs Chapter 28

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

28:1. The wicked man fleeth, when no man pursueth: but the just, bold as a lion, shall be without dread.
Fugit impius nemine persequente iustus autem quasi leo confidens absque terrore erit

28:2. For the sins of the land many are the princes thereof: and for the wisdom of a man, and the knowledge of those things that are said, the life of the prince shall be prolonged.
Propter peccata terrae multi principes eius et propter hominis sapientiam et horum scientiam quae dicuntur vita ducis longior erit

28:3. A poor man that oppresseth the poor, is like a violent shower, which bringeth a famine.
Vir pauper calumnians pauperes similis imbri vehementi in quo paratur fames

28:4. They that forsake the law, praise the wicked man: they that keep it, are incensed against him.
Qui derelinquunt legem laudant impium qui custodiunt succenduntur contra eum

28:5. Evil men think not on judgment: but they that seek after the Lord, take notice of all things.
Viri mali non cogitant iudicium qui autem requirunt Dominum animadvertunt omnia

28:6. Better is the poor man walking in his simplicity, than the rich in crooked ways.
Melior est pauper ambulans in simplicitate sua quam dives pravis itineribus

28:7. He that keepeth the law, is a wise son: but he that feedeth gluttons, shameth his father.
Qui custodit legem filius sapiens est qui pascit comesatores confundit patrem suum

28:8. He that heapeth together riches by usury and loan, gathereth them for him that will be bountiful to the poor.
Qui coacervat divitias usuris et fenore liberali in pauperes congregat eas

28:9. He that turneth away his ears from hearing the law, his prayer shall be an abomination.
Qui declinat aurem suam ne audiat legem oratio eius erit execrabilis

28:10. He that deceiveth the just in a wicked way, shall fall in his own destruction: and the upright shall possess his goods.
Qui decipit iustos in via mala in interitu suo corruet et simplices possidebunt bona

28:11. The rich man seemeth to himself wise: but the poor man that is prudent shall search him out.
Sapiens sibi videtur vir dives pauper autem prudens scrutabitur eum

28:12. In the joy of the just there is great glory: when the wicked reign, men are ruined.
In exultatione iustorum multa gloria regnantibus impiis ruinae hominum

28:13. He that hideth his sins, shall not prosper: but he that shall confess, and forsake them, shall obtain mercy.
Qui abscondit scelera sua non dirigitur qui confessus fuerit et reliquerit ea misericordiam consequetur

28:14. Blessed is the man that is always fearful: but he that is hardened in mind shall fall into evil.
Beatus homo qui semper est pavidus qui vero mentis est durae corruet in malum

28:15. As a roaring lion, and a hungry bear, so is a wicked prince over the poor people.
Leo rugiens et ursus esuriens princeps impius super populum pauperem

28:16. A prince void of prudence shall oppress many by calumny: but he that hateth covetousness, shall prolong his days.

Dux indigens prudentia multos opprimet per calumniam qui autem odit avaritiam longi fient dies eius

28:17. A man that doth violence to the blood of a person, if he flee even to the pit, no man will stay him.
Hominem qui calumniatur animae sanguinem si usque ad lacum fugerit nemo sustentet

28:18. He that walketh uprightly, shall be saved: he that is perverse in his ways, shall fall at once.
Qui ambulat simpliciter salvus erit qui perversis ingreditur viis concidet semel

28:19. He that tilleth his ground, shall be filled with bread: but he that followeth idleness, shall be filled with poverty.
Qui operatur terram suam saturabitur panibus qui sectatur otium replebitur egestate

28:20. A faithful man shall be much praised: but he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be innocent.
Vir fidelis multum laudabitur qui autem festinat ditari non erit innocens

28:21. He that hath respect to a person in judgment, doth not well: such a man even for a morsel of bread forsaketh the truth.
Qui cognoscit in iudicio faciem non facit bene iste et pro buccella panis deserit veritatem

28:22. A man that maketh haste to be rich, and envieth others, is ignorant that poverty shall come upon him.
Vir qui festinat ditari et aliis invidet ignorat quod egestas superveniat ei

28:23. He that rebuketh a man, shall afterward find favour with him, more than he that by a flattering tongue deceiveth him.
Qui corripit hominem gratiam postea inveniet apud eum magis quam ille qui per linguae blandimenta decipit

28:24. He that stealeth any thing from his father, or from his mother: and saith, This is no sin, is the partner of a murderer.
Qui subtrahit aliquid a patre suo et matre et dicit hoc non est peccatum particeps homicidae est

28:26. He that boasteth and puffeth up himself, stirreth up quarrels: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shall be healed.
Qui confidit in corde suo stultus est qui autem graditur sapienter iste salvabitur

28:26. He that trusteth in his own heart, is a fool: but he that walketh wisely, he shall be saved.
Qui confidit in corde suo stultus est qui autem graditur sapienter iste salvabitur

28:27. He that giveth to the poor shall not want: he that despiseth his intreaty, shall suffer indigence.
Qui dat pauperi non indigebit qui despicit deprecantem sustinebit penuriam

28:28. When the wicked rise up, men shall hide themselves: when they perish, the just shall be multiplied.
Cum surrexerint impii abscondentur homines cum illi perierint multiplicabuntur iusti

Proverbs Chapter 29

More wise sayings and axioms, relating to wisdom and folly, virtue and vice.

---

29:1. The man that with a stiff neck despiseth him that reproveth him, shall suddenly be destroyed: and health shall not follow him.

Viro qui corripientem dura cervice contemnit repentinus superveniet interitus et eum sanitas non sequitur

29:2. When just men increase, the people shall rejoice: when the wicked shall bear rule, the people shall mourn.

In multiplicatione iustorum laetabitur vulgus cum impii sumpserint principatum gemet populus

29:3. A man that loveth wisdom, rejoiceth his father: but he that maintaineth harlots, shall squander away his substance.

Vir qui amat sapientiam laetificat patrem suum qui autem nutrit scorta perdet substantiam

29:4. A just king setteth up the land: a covetous man shall destroy it.

Rex iustus erigit terram vir avarus destruet eam

29:5. A man that speaketh to his friend with flattering and dissembling words, spreadeth a net for his feet.

Homo qui blandis fictisque sermonibus loquitur amico suo rete expandit gressibus eius

29:6. A snare shall entangle the wicked man when he sinneth: and the just shall praise and rejoice.

Peccantem virum iniquum involvet laqueus et iustus laudabit atque gaudebit

29:7. The just taketh notice of the cause of the poor: the wicked is void of knowledge.

Novit iustus causam pauperum impius ignorat scientiam

29:8. Corrupt men bring a city to ruin: but wise men turn away wrath.

Homines pestilentes dissipant civitatem sapientes avertunt furorem

29:9. If a wise man contend with a fool, whether he be angry, or laugh, he shall find no rest.

Vir sapiens si cum stulto contenderit sive irascatur sive rideat non inveniet requiem

29:10. Bloodthirsty men hate the upright: but just men seek his soul.

Viri sanguinum oderunt simplicem iusti quaerunt animam eius

29:11. A fool uttereth all his mind: a wise man deferreth, and keepeth it till afterwards.

Totum spiritum suum profert stultus sapiens differt et reservat in posterum

29:12. A prince that gladly heareth lying words, hath all his servants wicked.

Princeps qui libenter audit verba mendacii omnes ministros habebit impios

29:13. The poor man and the creditor have met one another: the Lord is the enlightener of them both.

Pauper et creditor obviam fuerunt sibi utriusque inluminator est Dominus

29:14. The king that judgeth the poor in truth, his throne shall be established for ever.

Rex qui iudicat in veritate pauperes thronus eius in aeternum firmabitur

29:15. The rod and reproof give wisdom: but the child that is left to his own will, bringeth his mother to shame.

Virga atque correptio tribuet sapientiam puer autem qui dimittitur voluntati suae confundet matrem suam

29:16. When the wicked are multiplied, crimes shall be multiplied: but the just shall see their downfall.

In multiplicatione impiorum multiplicabuntur scelera et iusti ruinas eorum videbunt

29:17. Instruct thy son and he shall refresh thee, and shall give delight to thy soul.

Erudi filium tuum et refrigerabit te et dabit delicias animae tuae

29:18. When prophecy shall fail, the people shall be scattered abroad: but he that keepeth the law, is blessed.

Cum prophetia defecerit dissipabitur populus qui custodit legem beatus est

29:19. A slave will not be corrected by words: because he understandeth what thou sayest, and will not answer.

Servus verbis non potest erudiri quia quod dicis intellegit et respondere contemnit

29:20. Hast thou seen a man hasty to speak? folly is rather to be looked for, than his amendment.

Vidisti hominem velocem ad loquendum stulti magis speranda est quam illius correptio

29:21. He that nourisheth his servant delicately from his childhood, afterwards shall find him stubborn.

Qui delicate a pueritia nutrit servum suum postea illum sentiet contumacem

29:22. A passionate man provoketh quarrels: and he that is easily stirred up to wrath, shall be more prone to sin.

Vir iracundus provocat rixas et qui ad indignandum facilis est erit ad peccata proclivior

29:23. Humiliation followeth the proud: and glory shall uphold the humble of spirit.

Superbum sequitur humilitas et humilem spiritu suscipiet gloria

29:24. He that is partaker with a thief, hateth his own soul: he heareth one putting him to his oath, and discovereth not.

Qui cum fure partitur odit animam suam adiurantem audit et non indicat

29:25. He that feareth man shall quickly fall: he that trusteth in the Lord, shall be set on high.

Qui timet hominem cito corruet qui sperat in Domino sublevabitur

29:26. Many seek the face of the prince: but the judgment of every one cometh forth from the Lord.

Multi requirunt faciem principis et a Domino iudicium egreditur singulorum

29:27. The just abhor a wicked man: and the wicked loathe them that are in the right way. The son that keepeth the word, shall be free from destruction.

Abominantur iusti virum impium et abominantur impii eos qui in recta sunt via

Proverbs Chapter 30

The wise man thinketh humbly of himself. His prayer and sentiments upon certain virtues and vices.

30:1. The words of Gatherer the son of Vomiter. The vision which the man spoke, with whom God is, and who being strengthened by God, abiding with him, said:

Verba Congregantis filii Vomitis visio quam locutus est vir cum quo est Deus et qui Deo secum morante confortatus ait

Gatherer, etc... Or, as it is in the Latin, Congregans the son of Vomens. The Latin interpreter has given us in this place the signification of the Hebrew names, instead of the names themselves, which are in the Hebrew, Agur the son of Jakeh. But whether this Agur be the same person as Solomon, as many think, or a different person, whose doctrine was adopted by Solomon, and inserted among his parables or proverbs, is uncertain.

30:2. I am the most foolish of men, and the wisdom of men is not with me.

Stultissimus sum virorum et sapientia hominum non est mecum

30:3. I have not learned wisdom, and have not known the science of saints.

Non didici sapientiam et non novi sanctorum scientiam

30:4. Who hath ascended up into heaven, and descended? who hath held the wind in his hands? who hath bound up the waters together as in a garment? who hath raised up all the borders of the earth? what is his name, and what is the name of his son, if thou knowest?

Quis ascendit in caelum atque descendit quis continuit spiritum manibus suis quis conligavit aquas quasi in vestimento quis suscitavit omnes terminos terrae quod nomen eius et quod nomen filii eius si nosti

30:5. Every word of God is fire tried: he is a buckler to them that hope in him.

Omnis sermo Dei ignitus clypeus est sperantibus in se

Is fire tried... That is, most pure, like gold purified by fire.

30:6. Add not any thing to his words, lest thou be reprov'd and found a liar:

Ne addas quicquam verbis illius et arguaris inveniariusque mendax

30:7. Two things I have asked of thee, deny them not to me before I die.

Duo rogavi te ne deneges mihi antequam moriar

30:8. Remove far from me vanity, and lying words. Give me neither beggary, nor riches: give me only the necessaries of life:

Vanitatem et verba mendacia longe fac a me mendicitatem et divitias ne dederis mihi tribue tantum victui meo necessaria

30:9. Lest perhaps being filled, I should be tempted to deny, and say: Who is the Lord? or being compelled by poverty, I should steal, and forswear the name of my God.

Ne forte saturatus inliciar ad negandum et dicam quis est Dominus et egestate compulsus furer et peierem nomen Dei mei

30:10. Accuse not a servant to his master, lest he curse thee, and thou fall.

Ne accuses servum ad dominum suum ne forte maledicat tibi et corruas

30:11. There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother.

Generatio quae patri suo maledicit et quae non benedicit matri suae

30:12. A generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet are not washed from their filthiness.

Generatio quae sibi munda videtur et tamen non est lota a sordibus suis

30:13. A generation, whose eyes are lofty, and their eyelids lifted up on high.

Generatio cuius excelsi sunt oculi et palpebrae eius in alta subrectae

30:14. A generation that for teeth hath swords, and grindeth with their jaw teeth, to devour the needy from off the earth, and the poor from among men.

Generatio quae pro dentibus gladios habet et commandit molaribus suis ut comedat inopes de terra et pauperes ex hominibus

30:15. The horseleech hath two daughters that say: Bring, bring. There are three things that never are satisfied, and the fourth never saith: It is enough.

Sanguisugae duae sunt filiae dicentes adfer adfer tria sunt insaturabilia et quartum quod numquam dicit sufficit

The horseleech... Concupiscence, which hath two daughters that are never satisfied, viz., lust and avarice.

30:16. Hell and the mouth of the womb, and the earth which is not satisfied with water: and the fire never saith: It is enough.

Infernus et os vulvae et terra quae non satiatur aqua ignis vero numquam dicit sufficit

30:17. The eye that mocketh at his father, and that despiseth the labour of his mother in bearing him, let the ravens of the brooks pick it out, and the young eagles eat it.

Oculum qui subsannat patrem et qui despicit partum matris suae effodiant corvi de torrentibus et comedant illum filii aquilae

30:18. Three things are hard to me, and the fourth I am utterly ignorant of.

Tria sunt difficilia mihi et quartum penitus ignoro

30:19. The way of an eagle in the air, the way of a serpent upon a rock, the way of a ship in the midst of the sea, and the way of a man in youth.

Viam aquilae in caelo viam colubri super petram viam navis in medio mari et viam viri in adolescentula

30:20. Such also is the way of an adulterous woman, who eateth and wipeth her mouth, and saith: I have done no evil.

Talis est via mulieris adulterae quae comedit et tergens os suum dicit non sum operata malum

30:21. By three things the earth is disturbed, and the fourth it cannot bear.

Per tria movetur terra et quartum non potest sustinere

30:22. By a slave when he reigneth: by a fool when he is filled with meat:

Per servum cum regnaverit per stultum cum saturatus fuerit cibo

30:23. By an odious woman when she is married: and by a bondwoman when she is heir to her mistress.

Per odiosam mulierem cum in matrimonio fuerit adsumpta et per ancillam cum heres fuerit dominae suae

30:24. There are four very little things of the earth, and they are wiser than the wise.

Quattuor sunt minima terrae et ipsa sunt sapientiora sapientibus

30:25. The ants, a feeble people, which provide themselves food in the harvest:

Formicae populus infirmus quae praeparant in messe cibum sibi

30:26. The rabbit, a weak people, which maketh its bed in the rock:

Lepusculus plebs invalida quae conlocat in petra cubile suum

30:27. The locust hath no king, yet they all go out by their bands:

Regem lucusta non habet et egreditur universa per turmas

30:28. The stello supporteth itself on hands, and dwelleth in kings' houses.

Stilio manibus nititur et moratur in aedibus regis

The stello... A kind of house lizard marked with spots like stars, from whence it has its name.

30:19. There are three things, which go well, and the fourth that walketh happily:

Viam aquilae in caelo viam colubri super petram viam navis in medio mari et viam viri in adolescentula

30:30. A lion, the strongest of beasts, who hath no fear of any thing he meeteth:

Leo fortissimus bestiarum ad nullius pavebit occursum

30:31. A cock girded about the loins: and a ram: and a king, whom none can resist.
Gallus succinctus lumbos et aries nec est rex qui resistat ei

30:32. There is that hath appeared a fool after he was lifted up on high: for if he had understood, he would have laid his hand upon his mouth.
Et qui stultus apparuit postquam elatus est in sublime si enim intellexisset ori inposuisset manum

30:33. And he that strongly squeezeth the paps to bring out milk, straineth out butter: and he that violently bloweth his nose, bringeth out blood: and he that provoketh wrath, bringeth forth strife.
Qui autem fortiter premit ubera ad eliciendum lac exprimit butyrum et qui vehementer emungitur elicit sanguinem et qui provocat iras producit discordias

Proverbs Chapter 31

An exhortation to chastity, temperance, and works of mercy; with the praise of a wise woman.

---

31:1. The words of king Lamuel. The vision wherewith his mother instructed him.

Verba Lamuhel regis visio qua erudivit eum mater sua

Lamuel... This name signifies God with him, and is supposed to have been one of the names of Solomon.

31:2. What, O my beloved, what, O the beloved of my womb, what, O the beloved of my vows?

Quid dilecte mi quid dilecte uteri mei quid dilecte votorum meorum

31:3. Give not thy substance to women, and thy riches to destroy kings.

Ne dederis mulieribus substantiam tuam et vias tuas ad delendos reges

31:4. Give not to kings, O Lamuel, give not wine to kings: because there is no secret where drunkenness reigneth:

Noli regibus o Lamuhel noli regibus dare vinum quia nullum secretum est ubi regnat ebrietas

31:5. And lest they drink and forget judgments, and pervert the cause of the children of the poor.

Ne forte bibat et obliviscatur iudiciorum et mutet causam filiorum pauperis

31:6. Give strong drink to them that are sad; and wine to them that are grieved in mind:

Date siceram maerentibus et vinum his qui amaro sunt animo

31:7. Let them drink, and forget their want, and remember their sorrow no more.

Bibant ut obliviscantur egestatis suae et doloris non recordentur amplius

31:8. Open thy mouth for the dumb, and for the causes of all the children that pass.

Aperi os tuum muto et causis omnium filiorum qui pertranseunt

31:9. Open thy mouth, decree that which is just, and do justice to the needy and poor.

Aperi os tuum decerne quod iustum est et iudica inopem et pauperem

31:10. Who shall find a valiant woman? far, and from the uttermost coasts is the price of her.

Aleph mulierem fortem quis inveniet procul et de ultimis finibus pretium eius

31:11. The heart of her husband trusteth in her, and he shall have no need of spoils.

Beth confidit in ea cor viri sui et spoliis non indigebit

31:12. She will render him good, and not evil all the days of her life.

Gimel reddet ei bonum et non malum omnibus diebus vitae suae

31:13. She hath sought wool and flax, and hath wrought by the counsel of her hands.

Deleth quaesivit lanam et linum et operata est consilio manuum suarum

31:14. She is like the merchant's ship, she bringeth her bread from afar.

He facta est quasi navis institoris de longe portat panem suum

31:15. And she hath risen in the night, and given a prey to her household, and victuals to her maidens.

Vav et de nocte surrexit deditque praedam domesticis suis et cibaria ancillis suis

31:16. She hath considered a field, and bought it: with the fruit of her hands she hath planted a vineyard.

Zai consideravit agrum et emit eum de fructu manuum suarum plantavit vineam

31:17. She hath girded her loins with strength, and hath strengthened her arm.

Heth accinxit fortitudine lumbos suos et roboravit brachium suum

31:18. She hath tasted, and seen that her traffic is good: her lamp shall not be put out in the night.
Teth gustavit quia bona est negotiatio eius non extinguetur in nocte lucerna illius

31:19. She hath put out her hand to strong things, and her fingers have taken hold of the spindle.
Ioth manum suam misit ad fortia et digiti eius adprehenderunt fusum

31:20. She hath opened her hand to the needy, and stretched out her hands to the poor.
Caph manum suam aperuit inopi et palmas suas extendit ad pauperem

31:21. She shall not fear for her house in the cold of snow: for all her domestics are clothed with double garments.
Lameth non timebit domui suae a frigidibus nivis omnes enim domestici eius vestiti duplicibus

31:22. She hath made for herself clothing of tapestry: fine linen, and purple, is her covering.
Mem stragulam vestem fecit sibi byssus et purpura indumentum eius

31:23. Her husband is honourable in the gates, when he sitteth among the senators of the land.
Nun nobilis in portis vir eius quando sederit cum senatoribus terrae

31:24. She made fine linen, and sold it, and delivered a girdle to the Chanaanite.
Samech sindonem fecit et vendidit et cingulum tradidit Chananeo
The Chanaanite... The merchant, for Chanaanite, in Hebrew, signifies a merchant.

31:25. Strength and beauty are her clothing, and she shall laugh in the latter day.
Ain fortitudo et decor indumentum eius et ridebit in die novissimo

31:26. She hath opened her mouth to wisdom, and the law of clemency is on her tongue.
Phe os suum aperuit sapientiae et lex clementiae in lingua eius

31:27. She hath looked well on the paths of her house, and hath not eaten her bread idle.
Sade considerat semitas domus suae et panem otiosa non comedet

31:28. Her children rose up, and called her blessed: her husband, and he praised her.
Coph surrexerunt filii eius et beatissimam praedicaverunt vir eius et laudavit eam

31:29. Many daughters have gathered together riches: thou hast surpassed them all.
Res multae filiae congregaverunt divitias tu supergressa es universas

31:30. Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain: the woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.
Sin fallax gratia et vana est pulchritudo mulier timens Dominum ipsa laudabitur

31:31. Give her of the fruit of her hands: and let her works praise her in the gates.
Thau date ei de fructu manuum suarum et laudent eam in portis opera eius

Book of Psalms

The psalms are called by the Hebrews TEHILLIM, that is, Hymns of Praise. The author, of a great part of them at least, was king David: but many are of opinion that some of them were made by Asaph, and others whose names are prefixed in the titles. (For more information, see the article PSALMS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Psalm 1. Beatus vir. The happiness of the just and the evil state of the wicked.

Psalm 2. Quare fremuerunt. The vain efforts of persecutors against Christ and his church.

Psalm 3. Domine, quid multiplicati. The prophet's danger and delivery from his son Absalom: mystically, the passion and resurrection of Christ.

Psalm 4. Cum invocarem. The prophet teacheth us to flee to God in tribulation, with confidence in him.

Psalm 5. Verba mea auribus. A prayer to God against the iniquities of men.

Psalm 6. Domine, ne in furore. A prayer of a penitent sinner, under the scourge of God. The first penitential psalm.

Psalm 7. Domine, Deus meus. David, trusting in the justice of his cause, prayeth for God's help against his enemies.

Psalm 8. Domine, Dominus noster. God is wonderful in his works; especially in mankind, singularly exalted by the incarnation of Christ.

Psalm 9. Confitebor tibi, Domine. The church praiseth God for his protection against her enemies.

Psalm 10. In Domino confido. The just man's confidence in God in the midst of persecutions.

Psalm 11. Salvum me fac. The prophet calls for God's help against the wicked.

Psalm 12. Usquequo, Domine. A prayer in tribulation.

Psalm 13. Dixit insipiens. 1. The general corruption of man before our redemption by Christ.

Psalm 14. Domine, quis habitabit. What kind of men shall dwell in the heavenly Sion.

Psalm 15. Conserva me, Domine. Christ's future victory and triumph over the world and death.

Psalm 16. Exaudi, Domine, justitiam. A just man's prayer in tribulation against the malice of his enemy.

Psalm 17. Diligam te, Domine. David's thanks to God for his delivery from all his enemies.

Psalm 18. Coeli enarrant. The works of God show forth his glory: his law is greatly to be esteemed and loved.

Psalm 19. Exaudiat te Dominus. A prayer for the king.

Psalm 20. Domine, in virtute. Praise to God for Christ's exaltation after his passion.

Psalm 21. Deus Deus meus. Christ's passion: and the conversion of the Gentiles.

Psalm 22. Dominus regit me. God's spiritual benefits to faithful souls.

Psalm 23. Domini est terra. Who are they that shall ascend to heaven: Christ's triumphant ascension thither.

Psalm 24. Ad te, Domine, levavi. A prayer for grace, mercy, and protection against our enemies.

Psalm 25. Judica me, Domine. David's prayer to God in his distress, to be delivered, that he may come to worship him in his tabernacle.

Psalm 26. Dominus illuminatio. David's faith and hope in God.

Psalm 27. Ad te, Domine, clamabo. David's prayer that his enemies may not prevail over him.

Psalm 28. Afferte Domino. An invitation to glorify God, with a commemoration of his mighty works.

Psalm 29. Exaltabo te, Domine. David praiseth God for his deliverance, and his merciful dealings with him.

Psalm 30. In te, Domine, speravi. A prayer of a just man under affliction.

Psalm 31. Beati quorum. The second penitential psalm.

Psalm 32. Exultate, justi. An exhortation to praise God, and to trust in him.

Psalm 33. Benedicam Dominum. An exhortation to the praise, and service of God.

Psalm 34. Judica, Domine, nocentes me. David, in the person of Christ, prayeth against his persecutors: prophetically foreshowing the punishments that shall fall upon them.

Psalm 35. Dixit injustus. The malice of sinners, and the goodness of God.

Psalm 36. Noli aemulari. An exhortation to despise this world; and the short prosperity of the wicked; and to trust in Providence.

Psalm 37. Domine, ne in furore. A prayer of a penitent for the remission of his sins. The third penitential psalm.

Psalm 38. Dixi custodiam. A just man's peace and patience in his sufferings; considering the vanity of the world, and the providence of God.

Psalm 39. Expectans expectavi. Christ's coming, and redeeming mankind.

Psalm 40. Beatus qui intelligit. The happiness of him that shall believe in Christ; notwithstanding the humility and poverty in which he shall come: the malice of his enemies, especially of the traitor Judas.

Psalm 41. Quemadmodum desiderat. The fervent desire of the just after God: hope in afflictions.

Psalm 42. Judica me, Deus. The prophet aspireth after the temple and altar of God.

Psalm 43. Deus auribus nostris. The church commemorates former favours, and present afflictions; under which she prays for succour.

Psalm 44. Eruclavit cor meum. The excellence of Christ's kingdom, and the endowments of his church.

Psalm 45. Deus noster refugium. The church in persecution trusteth in the protection of God.

Psalm 46. Omnes gentes, plaudite. The Gentiles are invited to praise God for the establishment of the kingdom of Christ.

Psalm 47. Magnus Dominus. God is greatly to be praised for the establishment of his church.

Psalm 48. Audite haec, omnes gentes. The folly of worldlings, who live on in sin, without thinking of death or hell.

Psalm 49. Deus deorum. The coming of Christ: who prefers virtue and inward purity before the blood of victims.

Psalm 50. Miserere. The repentance and confession of David after his sin. The fourth penitential psalm.

Psalm 51. Quid gloriaris. David condemneth the wickedness of Doeg, and foretelleth his destruction.

Psalm 52. Dixit insipiens. The general corruption of man before the coming of Christ.

Psalm 53. Deus, in nomine tuo. A prayer for help in distress.

Psalm 54. Exaudi, Deus. A prayer of a just man under persecution from the wicked. It agrees to Christ persecuted by the Jews, and betrayed by Judas.

Psalm 55. Miserere mei, Deus. A prayer of David in danger and distress.

Psalm 56. Miserere mei, Deus. The prophet prays in his affliction, and praises God for his delivery.

Psalm 57. Si vere utique. David reproveth the wicked, and foretelleth their punishment.

Psalm 58. Eripe me. A prayer to be delivered from the wicked, with confidence in God's help and protection. It agrees to Christ and his enemies the Jews.

Psalm 59. Deus, repulisti nos. After many afflictions, the church of Christ shall prevail.

Psalm 60. Exaudi, Deus. A prayer for the coming of the kingdom of Christ, which shall have no end.

Psalm 61. Nonne Deo. The prophet encourageth himself and all others to trust in God, and serve him.

Psalm 62. Deus Deus meus, ad te. The prophet aspireth after God.

Psalm 63. Exaudi Deus orationem. A prayer in affliction, with confidence in God that he will bring to nought the machinations of persecutors.

Psalm 64. Te decet. God is to be praised in his church, to which all nations shall be called.

Psalm 65. Jubilate Deo. An invitation to praise God.

Psalm 66. Deus misereatur. A prayer for the propagation of the church.

Psalm 67. Exurgat Deus. The glorious establishment of the church of the New Testament, prefigured by the benefits bestowed on the people of Israel.

Psalm 68. Salvum me fac, Deus. Christ in his passion declareth the greatness of his sufferings, and the malice of his persecutors the Jews; and foretelleth their reprobation.

Psalm 69. Deus in adjutorium. A prayer in persecution.

Psalm 70. In te, Domine. A prayer for perseverance.

Psalm 71. Deus, judicium tuum. A prophecy of the coming of Christ, and of his kingdom: prefigured by Solomon and his happy reign.

Psalm 72. Quam bonus Israel Deus. The temptation of the weak, upon seeing the prosperity of the wicked, is overcome by the consideration of the justice of God, who will quickly render to every one according to his works.

Psalm 73. Ut quid, Deus. A prayer of the church under grievous persecutions.

Psalm 74. Confitebimur tibi. There is a just judgment to come: therefore let the wicked take care.

Psalm 75. Notus in Judaea. God is known in his church: and exerts his power in protecting it. It alludes to the slaughter of the Assyrians, in the days of king Ezechias.

Psalm 76. Voce mea. The faithful have recourse to God in trouble of mind, with confidence in his mercy and power.

Psalm 77. Attendite. God's great benefits to the people of Israel, notwithstanding their ingratitude.

Psalm 78. Deus, venerunt gentes. The church in time of persecution prayeth for relief. It seems to belong to the time of the Machabees.

Psalm 79. Qui regis Israel. A prayer for the church in tribulation, commemorating God's former favours.

Psalm 80. Exultate Deo. An invitation to a solemn praising of God.

Psalm 81. Deus stetit. An exhortation to judges and men in power.

Psalm 82. Deus, quis similis. A prayer against the enemies of God's church.

Psalm 83. Quam dilecta. The soul aspireth after heaven; rejoicing in the mean time, in being in the communion of God's church upon earth.

Psalm 84. Benedixisti, Domine. The coming of Christ, to bring peace and salvation to man.

Psalm 85. Inclina, Domine. A prayer for God's grace to assist us to the end.

Psalm 86. Fundamenta ejus. The glory of the church of Christ.

Psalm 87. Domine, Deus salutis. A prayer of one under grievous affliction: it agrees to Christ in his passion, and alludes to his death and burial.

Psalm 88. Misericordias Domini. The perpetuity of the church of Christ, in consequence of the promise of God: which, notwithstanding, God permits her to suffer sometimes most grievous afflictions.

Psalm 89. Domine, refugium. A prayer for the mercy of God: recounting the shortness and miseries of the days of man.

Psalm 90. Qui habitat. The just is secure under the protection of God.

Psalm 91. Bonum est confiteri. God is to be praised for his wondrous works.

Psalm 92. Dominus regnavit. The glory and stability of the kingdom; that is, of the church of Christ.

Psalm 93. Deus ultionum. God shall judge and punish the oppressors of his people.

Psalm 94. Venite exultemus. An invitation to adore and serve God, and to hear his voice.

Psalm 95. Cantate Domino. An exhortation to praise God for the coming of Christ and his kingdom.

Psalm 96. Dominus regnavit. All are invited to rejoice at the glorious coming and reign of Christ.

Psalm 97. Cantate Domino. All are again invited to praise the Lord, for the victories of Christ.

Psalm 98. Dominus regnavit. The reign of the Lord in Sion: that is, of Christ in his church.

Psalm 99. Jubilate Deo. All are invited to rejoice in God the creator of all.

Psalm 100. Misericordiam et judicium. The prophet exhorteth all by his example, to follow mercy and justice.

Psalm 101. Domine, exaudi. A prayer for one in affliction: the fifth penitential psalm.

Psalm 102. Benedic, anima. Thanksgiving to God for his mercies.

Psalm 103. Benedic, anima. God is to be praised for his mighty works, and wonderful providence.

Psalm 104. Confitemini Domino. A thanksgiving to God for his benefits to his people Israel.

Psalm 105. Confitemini Domino. A confession of the manifold sins and ingritudes of the Israelites.

Psalm 106. Confitemini Domino. All are invited to give thanks to God for his perpetual providence over men.

Psalm 107. Paratum cor meum. The prophet praiseth God for benefits received.

Psalm 108. Deus, laudem meam. David in the person of Christ, prayeth against his persecutors; more especially the traitor Judas: foretelling and approving his just punishment for his obstinacy in sin and final impenitence.

Psalm 109. Dixit Dominus. Christ's exaltation and everlasting priesthood.

Psalm 110. Confitebor tibi, Domine. God is to be praised for his graces, and benefits to his church.

Psalm 111. Beatus vir. The good man is happy.

Psalm 112. Laudate, pueri. God is to be praised for his regard to the poor and humble.

Psalm 113. In exitu Israel. God hath shown his power in delivering his people: idols are vain. The Hebrews divide this into two psalms.

Psalm 114. Dilexi. The prayer of a just man in affliction, with a lively confidence in God.

Psalm 115. Credidi. This in the Hebrew is joined with the foregoing psalm, and continues to express the faith and gratitude of the psalmist.

Psalm 116. Laudate Dominum. All nations are called upon to praise God for his mercy and truth.

Psalm 117. Confitemini Domino. The psalmist praiseth God for his delivery from evils: putteth his whole trust in him; and foretelleth the coming of Christ.

Psalm 118. Beati immaculati. Of the excellence of virtue consisting in the love and observance of the commandments of God.

Psalm 119. Ad Dominum. A prayer in tribulation.

Psalm 120. Levavi oculos. God is the keeper of his servants.

Psalm 1

Beatus vir.* The happiness of the just and the evil state of the wicked.

---

1:1. Blessed is the man who hath not walked in the counsel of the ungodly, nor stood in the way of sinners, nor sat in the chair of pestilence:

Beatus vir qui non abiit in consilio impiorum et in via peccatorum non stetit in cathedra derisorum non sedit

1:2. But his will is in the law of the Lord, and on his law he shall meditate day and night.

Sed in lege Domini voluntas eius et in lege eius meditabitur die ac nocte

1:3. And he shall be like a tree which is planted near the running waters, which shall bring forth its fruit, in due season. And his leaf shall not fall off: and all whatsoever he shall do shall prosper.

Et erit tamquam lignum transplantatum iuxta rivulos aquarum quod fructum suum dabit in tempore suo et folium eius non defluet et omne quod fecerit prosperabitur

1:4. Not so the wicked, not so: but like the dust, which the wind driveth from the face of the earth.

Non sic impii sed tamquam pulvis quem proicit ventus

1:5. Therefore the wicked shall not rise again in judgment: nor sinners in the council of the just.

Propterea non resurgent impii in iudicio neque peccatores in congregatione iustorum

1:6. For the Lord knoweth the way of the just: and the way of the wicked shall perish.

Quoniam novit Dominus viam iustorum et iter impiorum peribit

Psalm 2

Quare fremuerunt.* The vain efforts of persecutors against Christ and his church.

---

2:1. Why have the Gentiles raged, and the people devised vain things?

Quare turbabuntur gentes et tribus meditabuntur inania

2:2. The kings of the earth stood up, and the princes met together, against the Lord, and against his Christ.

Consurgunt reges terrae et principes tractabunt pariter adversum Dominum et adversum christum eius

2:3. Let us break their bonds asunder: and let us cast away their yoke from us.

Disrumpamus vincula eorum et proiciamus a nobis laqueos eorum

2:4. He that dwelleth in heaven shall laugh at them: and the Lord shall deride them.

Habitator caeli ridebit Dominus subsannabit eos

2:5. Then shall he speak to them in his anger, and trouble them in his rage.

Tunc loquetur ad eos in ira sua et in furore suo conturbabit eos

2:6. But I am appointed king by him over Sion, his holy mountain, preaching his commandment.

Ego autem orditus sum regem meum super Sion montem sanctum suum adnuntiabo Dei praeceptum

2:7. The Lord hath said to me: Thou art my son, this day have I begotten thee.

Dominus dixit ad me filius meus es tu ego hodie genui te

2:8. Ask of me, and I will give thee the Gentiles for thy inheritance, and the utmost parts of the earth for thy possession.

Postula a me et dabo tibi gentes hereditatem tuam et possessionem tuam terminos terrae

2:9. Thou shalt rule them with a rod of iron, and shalt break them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

Pascas eos in virga ferrea ut vas figuli conteres eos

2:10. And now, O ye kings, understand: receive instruction, you that judge the earth.

Nunc ergo reges intellegite erudimini iudices terrae

2:11. Serve ye the Lord with fear: and rejoice unto him with trembling.

Servite Domino in timore et exultate in tremore

2:12. Embrace discipline, lest at any time the Lord be angry, and you perish from the just way.

Adorate pure ne forte irascatur et pereatis de via

2:13. When his wrath shall be kindled in a short time, blessed are all they that trust in him.

Cum exarserit post paululum furor eius beati omnes qui sperant in eum

Psalm 3

Domine, quid multiplicati. The prophet's danger and delivery from his son Absalom: mystically, the passion and resurrection of Christ.

---

3:1. The psalm of David when he fled from the face of his son Absalom.
Canticum David cum fugeret a facie Abessalon filii sui

3:2. Why, O Lord, are they multiplied that afflict me? many are they who rise up against me.
Domine quare multiplicati sunt hostes mei multi consurgunt adversus me

3:3. Many say to my soul: There is no salvation for him in his God.
Multi dicunt animae meae non est salus huic in Deo semper

3:4. But thou, O Lord, art my protector, my glory, and the lifter up of my head.
Tu autem Domine clipeus circa me gloria mea et exaltans caput meum

3:5. I have cried to the Lord with my voice: and he hath heard me from his holy hill.
Voce mea ad Dominum clamabo et exaudiet me de monte sancto suo semper

3:6. I have slept and have taken my rest: and I have risen up, because the Lord hath protected me.
Ego dormivi et soporatus sum evigilavi quia Dominus sustentavit me

3:7. I will not fear thousands of the people surrounding me: arise, O Lord; save me, O my God.
Non timebo milia populi quae circumdederunt me surge Domine salvum me fac Deus meus

3:8. For thou hast struck all them who are my adversaries without cause: thou hast broken the teeth of sinners.
Quia percussisti omnium inimicorum meorum maxillam dentes impiorum confregisti

3:9. Salvation is of the Lord: and thy blessing is upon thy people.
Domini est salus super populum tuum benedictio tua semper

Psalm 4

Cum invocarem.* The prophet teacheth us to flee to God in tribulation, with confidence in him.

---

4:1. Unto the end, in verses. A psalm for David.

Victori in psalmis canticum David

Unto the end... Or, as St. Jerome renders it, victori, to him that overcometh: which some understand of the chief musician; to whom they suppose the psalms, which bear that title, were given to be sung: we rather understand the psalms thus inscribed to refer to Christ, who is the end of the law, and the great conqueror of death and hell, and to the New Testament. -- Ibid. In verses, in carminibus... In the Hebrew, it is neghinoth, supposed by some to be a musical instrument, with which this psalm was to be sung. -- Ibid. For David, or to David... That is, inspired to David himself, or to be sung.

4:2. When I called upon him, the God of my justice heard me: when I was in distress, thou hast enlarged me. Have mercy on me: and hear my prayer.

Invocante me exaudi me Deus iustitiae meae in tribulatione dilatasti mihi miserere mei et exaudi orationem meam

4:3. O ye sons of men, how long will you be dull of heart? why do you love vanity, and seek after lying?

Filii viri usquequo incliti mei ignominiose diligitis vanitatem quaerentes mendacium semper

4:4. Know ye also that the Lord hath made his holy one wonderful: the Lord will hear me when I shall cry unto him.

Et cognoscite quoniam mirabilem reddidit Dominus sanctum suum Dominus exaudiet cum clamavero ad eum

4:5. Be ye angry, and sin not: the things you say in your hearts, be sorry for them upon your beds.

Irascimini et nolite peccare loquimini in cordibus vestris super cubilia vestra et tacete semper

4:6. Offer up the sacrifice of justice, and trust in the Lord: many say, Who showeth us good things?

Sacrificate sacrificium iustitiae et fidite in Domino multi dicunt quis ostendit nobis bonum

4:7. The light of thy countenance, O Lord, is signed upon us: thou hast given gladness in my heart.

Leva super nos lucem vultus tui Domine dedisti laetitiam in corde meo

4:8. By the fruit of their corn, their wine, and oil, they rest:

In tempore frumentum et vinum eorum multiplicata sunt

4:9. In peace in the self same I will sleep, and I will rest:

In pace simul requiescam et dormiam

4:10. For thou, O Lord, singularly hast settled me in hope.

Quia tu Domine specialiter securum habitare fecisti me

Psalm 5

Verba mea auribus. A prayer to God against the iniquities of men.

5:1. Unto the end, for her that obtaineth the inheritance. A psalm for David.

Victori pro hereditatibus canticum David

For her that obtaineth the inheritance... That is, for the church of Christ.

5:2. Give ear, O Lord, to my words, understand my cry.

Verba mea audi Domine intellege murmur meum

5:3. Hearken to the voice of my prayer, O my King and my God.

Rex meus et Deus meus

5:4. For to thee will I pray: O Lord, in the morning thou shalt hear my voice.

Quia te deprecor Domine mane audies vocem meam

5:5. In the morning I will stand before thee, and I will see: because thou art not a God that wiltest iniquity.

Mane praeparabor ad te et contemplantur quoniam non es deus volens iniquitatem tu

5:6. Neither shall the wicked dwell near thee: nor shall the unjust abide before thy eyes.

Nec habitabit iuxta te malignus non stabunt iniqui in conspectu oculorum tuorum

5:7. Thou hatest all the workers of iniquity: thou wilt destroy all that speak a lie. The bloody and the deceitful man the Lord will abhor.

Odisti omnes operantes iniquitatem perdes loquentes mendacium virum sanguinum et dolosum abominabitur Dominus

5:8. But as for me in the multitude of thy mercy, I will come into thy house; I will worship towards thy holy temple, in thy fear.

Ego autem in multitudine misericordiae tuae introibo in domum tuam adorabo in templo sancto tuo in timore tuo

5:9. Conduct me, O Lord, in thy justice: because of my enemies, direct my way in thy sight.

Domine deduc me in iustitia tua propter insidiatores meos dirige ante faciem meam viam tuam

5:10. For there is no truth in their mouth: their heart is vain.

Non est enim in ore eorum rectum interiora eorum insidiae

5:11. Their throat is an open sepulchre: they dealt deceitfully with their tongues: judge them, O God. Let them fall from their devices: according to the multitude of their wickednesses cast them out: for they have provoked thee, O Lord.

Sepulchrum patens guttur eorum linguam suam levificant condemna eos Deus decidant a consiliis suis iuxta multitudinem scelerum eorum expelle eos quoniam provocaverunt te

5:12. But let all them be glad that hope in thee: they shall rejoice for ever, and thou shalt dwell in them.

And all they that love thy name shall glory in thee.

Et laetentur omnes qui sperant in te in perpetuum laudabunt et proteges eos et laetabuntur in te qui diligunt nomen tuum

5:13. For thou wilt bless the just. O Lord, thou hast crowned us, as with a shield of thy good will.

Quia tu benedices iusto Domine ut scuto placibilitatis coronabis eum

Psalm 6

Domine, ne in furore. A prayer of a penitent sinner, under the scourge of God. The first penitential psalm.

---

6:1. Unto the end, in verses, a psalm for David, for the octave.

Victori in psalmis super octava canticum David

For the octave... That is, to be sung on an instrument of eight strings. St. Augustine understands it mystically, of the last resurrection, and the world to come; which is, as it were, the octave, or eighth day, after the seven days of this mortal life: and for this octave, sinners must dispose themselves, like David, by bewailing their sins, whilst they are here upon earth.

6:2. O Lord, rebuke me not in thy indignation, nor chastise me in thy wrath.

Domine ne in furore tuo arguas me neque in ira tua corripas me

6:3. Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I am weak: heal me, O Lord, for my bones are troubled.

Miserere mei Domine quoniam infirmus sum sana me Domine quoniam conturbata sunt ossa mea

6:4. And my soul is troubled exceedingly: but thou, O Lord, how long?

Et anima mea turbata est valde et tu Domine usquequo

6:5. Turn to me, O Lord, and deliver my soul: O save me for thy mercy's sake.

Revertere Domine erue animam meam salva me propter misericordiam tuam

5:5. For there is no one in death, that is mindful of thee: and who shall confess to thee in hell?

Mane praeparabor ad te et contemplantur quoniam non es deus volens iniquitatem tu

6:7. I have laboured in my groanings, every night I will wash my bed: I will water my couch with my tears.

Laboravi in gemitu meo natate faciam tota nocte lectulum meum lacrimis meis stratum meum rigabo

6:8. My eye is troubled through indignation: I have grown old amongst all my enemies.

Caligavit prae amaritudine oculus meus consumptus sum ab universis hostibus meis

6:9. Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity: for the Lord hath heard the voice of my weeping.

Recedite a me omnes qui operamini iniquitatem quia audivit Dominus vocem fletus mei

6:10. The Lord hath heard my supplication: the Lord hath received my prayer.

Audivit Dominus deprecationem meam Dominus orationem meam suscipiet

6:11. Let all my enemies be ashamed, and be very much troubled: let them be turned back, and be ashamed very speedily.

Confundantur et conturbentur vehementer omnes inimici mei revertantur et confundantur subito

Psalm 7

Domine, Deus meus. David, trusting in the justice of his cause, prayeth for God's help against his enemies.

---

7:1. The psalm of David, which he sung to the Lord, for the words of Chusi, the son of Jemini.
Pro ignoratione David quod cecinit Domino super verbis Aethiopsis filii Iemini

7:2. O Lord, my God, in thee have I put my trust; save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me.
Domine Deus meus in te speravi salva me ab omnibus persequentibus me et libera me

7:3. Lest at any time he seize upon my soul like a lion, while there is no one to redeem me, nor to save.
Ne forte capiat ut leo animam meam laceret et non sit qui eruat

7:4. O Lord, my God, if I have done this thing, if there be iniquity in my hands:
Domine Deus meus si feci istud si est iniquitas in manibus meis

7:5. If I have rendered to them that repaid me evils, let me deservedly fall empty before my enemies.
Si reddidi retribuentibus mihi malum et dimisi hostes meos vacuos

7:6. Let the enemy pursue my soul, and take it, and tread down my life, on the earth, and bring down my glory to the dust.
Persequatur inimicus animam meam et adprehendat et conculcet in terra vitam meam et gloriam meam in pulverem conlocet semper

7:7. Rise up, O Lord, in thy anger: and be thou exalted in the borders of my enemies. And arise, O Lord, my God, in the precept which thou hast commanded:
Surge Domine in furore tuo elevare indignans super hostes meos et consurge ad me iudicio quod mandasti

7:8. And a congregation of people shall surround thee. And for their sakes return thou on high.
Et congregatio tribuum circumdet te et pro hac in altum revertere

7:9. The Lord judgeth the people. Judge me, O Lord, according to my justice, and according to my innocence in me.
Dominus iudicabit populos iudica me Domine secundum iustitiam meam et secundum simplicitatem meam quae est in me

7:10. The wickedness of sinners shall be brought to nought; and thou shalt direct the just: the searcher of hearts and reins is God.
Consumatur malum iniquorum et confirmetur iustitia probator cordis et renum Deus iustus

7:11. Just is my help from the Lord; who saveth the upright of heart.
Clipeus meus in Deo qui salvat rectos corde

7:12. God is a just judge, strong and patient: is he angry every day?
Deus iudex iustus et fortis comminans tota die

7:13. Except you will be converted, he will brandish his sword; he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.
Non convertenti gladium suum acuet arcum suum tetendit et paravit illum

7:14. And in it he hath prepared to instruments of death, he hath made ready his arrows for them that burn.
Et in ipso praeparavit vasa mortis sagittas suas ad comburendum operatus est

For them that burn... That is, against the persecutors of his saints.

7:15. Behold he hath been in labour with injustice: he hath conceived sorrow, and brought forth iniquity.
Ecce parturit iniquitatem et concepto dolore peperit mendacium

7:16. He hath opened a pit and dug it: and he is fallen into the hole he made.
Lacum aperuit et effodit eum et incidet in interitum quem operatus est

7:17. His sorrow shall be turned on his own head: and his iniquity shall come down upon his crown.
Revertetur dolor suus in caput eius et super verticem eius iniquitas sua descendet

7:18. I will give glory to the Lord according to his justice: and will sing to the name of the Lord the most high.
Confitebor Domino secundum iustitiam eius et cantabo nomini Domini altissimi

Psalm 8

Domine, Dominus noster. God is wonderful in his works; especially in mankind, singularly exalted by the incarnation of Christ.

---

8:1. Unto the end, for the presses: a psalm for David.

Victori pro torcularibus canticum David

The presses... In Hebrew, Gittith, supposed to be a musical instrument.

8:2. O Lord, our Lord, how admirable is thy name in the whole earth! For thy magnificence is elevated above the heavens.

Domine Dominator noster quam grande est nomen tuum in universa terra qui posuisti gloriam tuam super caelos

8:3. Out of the mouth of infants and of sucklings thou hast perfected praise, because of thy enemies, that thou mayst destroy the enemy and the avenger.

Ex ore infantium et lactantium perfecisti laudem propter adversarios meos ut quiescat inimicus et ultor

8:4. For I will behold thy heavens, the works of thy fingers: the moon and the stars which thou hast founded.

Videbo enim caelos tuos opera digitorum tuorum lunam et stellas quae fundasti

8:5. What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him?

Quid est homo quoniam recordaris eius vel filius hominis quoniam visitas eum

8:6. Thou hast made him a little less than the angels, thou hast crowned him with glory and honour:

Minues eum paulo minus a Deo gloria et decore coronabis eum

8:7. And hast set him over the works of thy hands.

Dabis ei potestatem super opera manuum tuarum

8:8. Thou hast subjected all things under his feet, all sheep and oxen: moreover, the beasts also of the fields.

Cuncta posuisti sub pedibus eius oves et armenta omnia insuper et animalia agri

8:9. The birds of the air, and the fishes of the sea, that pass through the paths of the sea.

Aves caeli et pisces maris qui pertranseunt semitas ponti

8:10. O Lord, our Lord, how admirable is thy name in the whole earth!

Psalm 9

Confitebor tibi, Domine. The church praiseth God for his protection against her enemies.

---

9:1. Unto the end, for the hidden things of the Son. A psalm for David.

Victori pro morte filii canticum David

The hidden things of the Son... The humility and sufferings of Christ, the Son of God; and of good Christians, who are his sons by adoption; are called hidden things, with regard to the children of this world, who know not the value and merit of them.

9:2. I will give praise to thee, O Lord, with my whole heart: I will relate all thy wonders.

Confitebor Domino in toto corde meo narrabo omnia mirabilia tua

9:3. I will be glad, and rejoice in thee: I will sing to thy name, O thou most high.

Laetabor et gaudebo in te canam nomini tuo Altissimi

9:4. When my enemy shall be turned back: they shall be weakened, and perish before thy face.

Cum ceciderint inimici mei retrorsum et corruerint et perierint a facie tua

9:5. For thou hast maintained my judgment and my cause: thou hast sat on the throne, who judgest justice.

Fecisti enim iudicium meum et causam meam sedisti super solium iudex iustitiae

9:6. Thou hast rebuked the Gentiles, and the wicked one hath perished; thou hast blotted out their name for ever and ever.

Increpuisti gentes periit impius nomen eorum delisti in sempiternum et iugiter

9:7. The swords of the enemy have failed unto the end: and their cities thou hast destroyed. Their memory hath perished with a noise:

Conpletae sunt solitudines in finem et civitates subvertisti periit memoria eorum cum ipsis

9:8. But the Lord remaineth for ever. He hath prepared his throne in judgment:

Dominus autem in sempiternum sedebit stabilivit ad iudicandum solium suum

9:9. And he shall judge the world in equity, he shall judge the people in justice.

Et ipse iudicat orbem in iustitia iudicat populos in aequitibus

9:10. And the Lord is become a refuge for the poor: a helper in due time in tribulation.

Et erit Dominus elevatio oppresso elevatio oportuna in angustia

9:11. And let them trust in thee who know thy name: for thou hast not forsaken them that seek thee, O Lord.

Et confident in te qui noverunt nomen tuum quoniam non dereliquisti quaerentes te Domine

9:12. Sing ye to the Lord, who dwelleth in Sion: declare his ways among the Gentiles:

Cantate Domino habitatori Sion adnuntiate in populis commutationes eius

9:13. For requiring their blood, he hath remembered them: he hath not forgotten the cry of the poor.

Quoniam quaerens sanguinem eorum recordatus est nec oblitus est clamoris pauperum

9:14. Have mercy on me, O Lord: see my humiliation which I suffer from my enemies.

Misertus est mei Dominus vidit adflictionem meam ex inimicis meis

9:15. Thou that liftest me up from the gates of death, that I may declare all thy praises in the gates of the daughter of Sion.

Qui exaltat me de portis mortis ut narrem omnes laudes tuas in portis filiae Sion

9:16. I will rejoice in thy salvation: the Gentiles have stuck fast in the destruction which they prepared. Their foot hath been taken in the very snare which they hid.
Exultabo in salutari tuo demersae sunt gentes in interitu quem fecerunt in rete quod absconderant captus est pes eorum

9:17. The Lord shall be known when he executeth judgments: the sinner hath been caught in the works of his own hands.
Agnitus est Dominus iudicium faciens in opere manuum suarum corrui impius sonitu sempiterno

9:18. The wicked shall be turned into hell, all the nations that forget God.
Convertantur impii in infernum omnes gentes quae oblitae sunt Deum

9:19. For the poor man shall not be forgotten to the end: the patience of the poor shall not perish for ever.
Quoniam non in aeternum oblivioni erit pauper expectatio pauperum non peribit in perpetuum

9:20. Arise, O Lord, let not man be strengthened: let the Gentiles be judged in thy sight.
Surge Domine non confortetur homo iudicentur gentes ante faciem tuam

9:21. Appoint, O Lord, a lawgiver over them: that the Gentiles may know themselves to be but men.
Pone Domine terrorem eis sciant gentes homines se esse semper

HEBREW PSALM 10 BEGINS HERE

9:22. Why, O Lord, hast thou retired afar off? why dost thou slight us in our wants, in the time of trouble?
Quare Domine stas a longe dispicis in temporibus angustiae

9:23. Whilst the wicked man is proud, the poor is set on fire: they are caught in the counsels which they devise.
In superbia impii ardet pauper capiantur in sceleribus quae cogitaverunt

9:24. For the sinner is praised in the desires of his soul: and the unjust man is blessed.
Quia laudavit impius desiderium animae suae et avarus adplaudens sibi

9:25. The sinner hath provoked the Lord, according to the multitude of his wrath, he will not seek him:
Blasphemavit Dominum impius secundum altitudinem furoris sui non requirit

9:26. God is not before his eyes: his ways are filthy at all times. Thy judgments are removed from his sight: he shall rule over all his enemies.
Nec est Deus in omnibus cogitationibus eius parturiunt viae eius in omni tempore longe sunt iudicia tua a facie eius omnes inimicos suos dispicit

9:27. For he hath said in his heart: I shall not be moved from generation to generation, and shall be without evil.
Loquitur in corde suo non movebor in generatione et generatione ero sine malo

9:28. His mouth is full of cursing, and of bitterness, and of deceit: under his tongue are labour and sorrow.
Maledictione os eius plenum est et dolis et avaritia sub lingua eius dolor et iniquitas

9:29. He sitteth in ambush with the rich, in private places, that he may kill the innocent.
Sedet insidians iuxta vestibula in absconditis ut interficiat innocentem

9:30. His eyes are upon the poor man: he lieth in wait, in secret, like a lion in his den. He lieth in ambush, that he may catch the poor man: so catch the poor, whilst he draweth him to him.
Oculi eius robustos tuos circumspiciunt insidiatur in abscondito quasi leo in cubili insidiatur ut rapiat pauperem rapiet pauperem cum adtraxerit eum ad rete suum

9:31. In his net he will bring him down, he will crouch and fall, when he shall have power over the poor.
Et confractum subiciet et inruet viribus suis valenter

9:32. For he hath said in his heart: God hath forgotten, he hath turned away his face, not to see to the end.

Dixit in corde suo oblitus est Deus abscondit faciem suam non respiciet in perpetuum

9:33. Arise, O Lord God, let thy hand be exalted: forget not the poor.

Surge Domine Deus leva manum tuam noli oblivisci pauperum

9:34. Wherefore hath the wicked provoked God? for he hath said in his heart: He will not require it.

Quare blasphemat impius Deum dicens in corde suo quod non requirat

9:35. Thou seest it, for thou considerest labour and sorrow: that thou mayst deliver them into thy hands. To thee is the poor man left: thou wilt be a helper to the orphan.

Vides quia tu laborem et furorem respicis ut detur in manu tua tibi relinquuntur fortes tui pupillo tu es factus adiutor

9:36. Break thou the arm of the sinner and of the malignant: his sin shall be sought, and shall not be found.

Contere brachium impii et maligni quaeres impietatem eius et non invenies

9:37. The Lord shall reign to eternity, yea, for ever and ever: ye Gentiles shall perish from his land.

Dominus rex saeculi et aeternitatis perierunt gentes de terra eius

9:38. The Lord hath heard the desire of the poor: thy ear hath heard the preparation of their heart.

Desiderium pauperum audit Dominus praeparasti ut cor eorum audiat auris tua

9:39. To judge for the fatherless and for the humble, that man may no more presume to magnify himself upon earth.

Ut iudices pupillum et oppressum et nequaquam ultra superbiat homo de terra

Psalm 10

In Domino confido. The just man's confidence in God in the midst of persecutions.

10:1. Unto the end. A psalm to David.

Victori David

10:2. In the Lord I put my trust: how then do you say to my soul: Get thee away from hence to the mountain, like a sparrow.

In Domino speravi quomodo dicitis animae meae transvola in montem ut avis

10:3. For, lo, the wicked have bent their bow: they have prepared their arrows in the quiver, to shoot in the dark the upright of heart.

Quia ecce impii tetenderunt arcum posuerunt sagittam suam super nervum ut sagittent in abscondito rectos corde

10:4. For they have destroyed the things which thou hast made: but what has the just man done?

Quia leges dissipatae sunt iustus quid operatus est

10:5. The Lord is in his holy temple, the Lord's throne is in heaven. His eyes look on the poor man: his eyelids examine the sons of men.

Dominus in templo sancto suo Dominus in caelo thronus eius oculi eius vident palpebrae eius probant filios hominum

10:6. The Lord trieth the just and the wicked: but he that loveth iniquity, hateth his own soul.

Dominus iustum probat impium autem et diligentem iniquitatem odit anima eius

10:7. He shall rain snares upon sinners: fire and brimstone, and storms of winds, shall be the portion of their cup.

Pluet super peccatores laqueos ignis et sulphur et spiritus tempestatum pars calicis eorum

10:8. For the Lord is just, and hath loved justice: his countenance hath beheld righteousness.

Quoniam iustus Dominus iustitias dilexit rectum videbunt facies eorum

Psalm 11

Salvum me fac. The prophet calls for God's help against the wicked.

---

11:1. Unto the end: for the octave, a psalm for David.

Victori pro octava canticum David

11:2. Save me, O Lord, for there is now no saint: truths are decayed from among the children of men.

Salva Domine quoniam defecit sanctus quoniam inminuti sunt fideles a filiis hominum

11:3. They have spoken vain things, every one to his neighbour: with deceitful lips, and with a double heart have they spoken.

Frustra loquuntur unusquisque proximo suo labium subdolum in corde et corde locuti sunt

11:4. May the Lord destroy all deceitful lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things.

Disperdat Dominus omnia labia dolosa linguam magniloquam

11:5. Who have said: We will magnify our tongue: our lips are our own: who is Lord over us?

Qui dixerunt linguam nostram roboremus labia nostra nobiscum sunt quis dominus noster est

11:6. By reason of the misery of the needy, and the groans of the poor, now will I arise, saith the Lord. I will set him in safety: I will deal confidently in his regard.

Propter vastitatem inopum et gemitum pauperum nunc consurgam dicit Dominus ponam in salutari auxilium eorum

11:7. The words of the Lord are pure words: as silver tried by the fire, purged from the earth, refined seven times.

Eloquia Domini eloquia munda argentum igne probatum separatum a terra colatum septuplum

11:8. Thou, O Lord, wilt preserve us: and keep us from this generation for ever.

Tu Domine custodies ea servabis nos a generatione hac in aeternum

11:9. The wicked walk round about: according to thy highness, thou hast multiplied the children of men.

In circuitu impii ambulabunt cum exaltati fuerint vilissimi filiorum hominum

Psalm 12

Usquequo, Domine. A prayer in tribulation.

12:1. Unto the end, a psalm for David. How long, O Lord, wilt thou forget me unto the end? how long dost thou turn away thy face from me?

Victori canticum David usquequo Domine oblivisceris mei penitus usquequo abscondes faciem tuam a me

12:2. How long shall I take counsels in my soul, sorrow in my heart all the day?

Usquequo ponam consilia in anima mea dolorem in corde meo per diem

12:3. How long shall my enemy be exalted over Me?

Usquequo exaltabitur inimicus meus super me

12:4. Consider, and hear me, O Lord, my God. Enlighten my eyes, that I never sleep in death:

Convertere exaudi me Domine Deus meus inlumina oculos meos ne umquam obdormiam in mortem

12:5. Lest at any time my enemy say: I have prevailed against him. They that trouble me, will rejoice when I am moved:

Nequando dicat inimicus meus praevalui adversus eum hostes mei exultabunt cum motus fuero

12:6. But I have trusted in thy mercy. My heart shall rejoice in thy salvation: I will sing to the Lord, who giveth me good things: yea, I will sing to the name of the Lord, the most high.

Ego autem in misericordia tua confido exultabit cor meum in salutari tuo cantabo Domino quia reddidit mihi

Psalm 13

Dixit insipiens. 1. The general corruption of man before our redemption by Christ.

---

13:1. Unto the end, a psalm for David. The fool hath said in his heart: There is no God. They are corrupt, and are become abominable in their ways: there is none that doth good, no not one.

Victori David dixit stultus in corde suo non est Deus corrupti sunt et abominabiles facti sunt studiose non est qui faciat bonum

13:2. The Lord hath looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there be any that understand and seek God.

Dominus de caelo prospexit super filios hominum ut videret si esset intellegens requirens Deum

13:3. They are all gone aside, they are become unprofitable together: there is none that doth good: no not one. Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they acted deceitfully: the poison of asps is under their lips. Their mouth is full of cursing and bitterness; their feet are swift to shed blood. Destruction and unhappiness in their ways; and the way of peace they have not known: there is no fear of God before their eyes.

Omnes recesserunt simul conglutinati sunt non est qui faciat bonum non est usque ad unum

13:4. Shall not all they know that work iniquity, who devour my people as they eat bread?

Nonne cognoscent omnes qui operantur iniquitatem qui devorant populum meum ut cibum panis

13:5. They have not called upon the Lord: there have they trembled for fear, where there was no fear.

Dominum non invocaverunt ibi timebunt formidine

13:6. For the Lord is in the just generation: you have confounded the counsel of the poor man; but the Lord is his hope.

Quoniam Deus in generatione iusta est consilium pauperum confudistis quoniam Dominus spes eius est

13:7. Who shall give out of Sion the salvation of Israel? when the Lord shall have turned away the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

Quis dabit de Sion salutem Israhel quando reduxerit Dominus captivitatem populi sui exultabit Iacob et laetabitur Israhel

Psalm 14

Domine, quis habitabit. What kind of men shall dwell in the heavenly Sion.

14:1. A psalm for David. Lord, who shall dwell in thy tabernacle? or who shall rest in thy holy hill?
Canticum David Domine quis peregrinabitur in tentorio tuo et quis habitabit in monte sancto tuo

14:2. He that walketh without blemish, and worketh justice:
Qui ingreditur sine macula et operatur iustitiam

14:3. He that speaketh truth in his heart, who hath not used deceit in his tongue: Nor hath done evil to his neighbour: nor taken up a reproach against his neighbours.
Loquiturque veritatem in corde suo qui non est facilis in lingua sua neque fecit amico suo malum et obprobrium non sustinuit super vicino suo

14:4. In his sight the malignant is brought to nothing: but he glorifieth them that fear the Lord. He that swareth to his neighbour, and deceiveth not;
Dispicitur oculis eius inprobus timentes autem Dominum glorificat iurat ut se adfligat et non mutat

14:5. He that hath not put out his money to usury, nor taken bribes against the innocent: He that doth these things, shall not be moved for ever.
Pecuniam suam non dedit ad usuram et munera adversum innoxium non accepit qui facit haec non movebitur in aeternum

Psalm 15

Conserva me, Domine.* Christ's future victory and triumph over the world and death.

---

15:1. The inscription of a title to David himself. Preserve me, O Lord, for I have put my trust in thee.
Humilis et simplicis David custodi me Deus quoniam speravi in te

The inscription of a title... That is, of a pillar or monument, steylographia: which is as much as to say, that this psalm is most worthy to be engraved on an everlasting monument.

15:2. I have said to the Lord, thou art my God, for thou hast no need of my goods.
Dicens Deo Dominus meus es tu bene mihi non est sine te

15:3. To the saints, who are in his land, he hath made wonderful all my desires in them.
Sanctis qui in terra sunt et magnificis omnis voluntas mea in eis

15:4. Their infirmities were multiplied: afterwards they made haste. I will not gather together their meetings for blood offerings: nor will I be mindful of their names by my lips.
Multiplicabuntur idola eorum post tergum sequentium non litabo libamina eorum de sanguine neque adsumam nomina eorum in labiis meis

15:5. The Lord is the portion of my inheritance and of my cup: it is thou that wilt restore my inheritance to me.
Dominus pars hereditatis meae et calicis mei tu possessor sortis meae

15:6. The lines are fallen unto me in goodly places: for my inheritance is goodly to me.
Lineae ceciderunt mihi in pulcherrimis et hereditas speciosissima mea est

15:7. I will bless the Lord, who hath given me understanding: moreover, my reins also have corrected me even till night.
Benedicam Domino qui dedit consilium mihi insuper et noctibus erudierunt me renes mei

15:8. I set the Lord always in my sight: for he is at my right hand, that I be not moved.
Proponebam in conspectu meo semper quia a dextris meis est ne commovear

15:9. Therefore my heart hath been glad, and my tongue hath rejoiced: moreover, my flesh also shall rest in hope.
Propterea laetatum est cor meum et exultavit gloria mea et caro mea habitavit confidenter

15:10. Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; nor wilt thou give thy holy one to see corruption.
Non enim derelinques animam meam in inferno nec dabis sanctum tuum videre corruptionem

15:11. Thou hast made known to me the ways of life, thou shalt fill me with joy with thy countenance: at thy right hand are delights even to the end.
Ostendes mihi semitam vitae plenitudinem laetitiarum ante vultum tuum decores in dextera tua aeternos

Psalm 16

Exaudi, Domine, justitiam. A just man's prayer in tribulation against the malice of his enemy.

16:1. The prayer of David. Hear, O Lord, my justice: attend to my supplication. Give ear unto my prayer, which proceedeth not from deceitful lips.

Oratio David audi Deus iustum intende deprecationem meam auribus percipe orationem meam absque labiis mendacii

16:2. Let my judgment come forth from thy countenance: let thy eyes behold the things that are equitable.

De vultu tuo iudicium meum prodeat oculi tui videant aequitates

16:3. Thou hast proved my heart, and visited it by night, thou hast tried me by fire: and iniquity hath not been found in me.

Probasti cor meum visitasti nocte conflasti me et non invenisti

16:4. That my mouth may not speak the works of men: for the sake of the words of thy lips, I have kept hard ways.

Cogitationes meas transire os meum in opere hominum propter verbum labiorum tuorum ego observavi vias latronis

16:5. Perfect thou my goings in thy paths: that my footsteps be not moved.

Sustenta gressus meos in callibus tuis et non labentur vestigia mea

16:6. I have cried to thee, for thou, O God, hast heard me: O incline thy ear unto me, and hear my words.

Ego invocavi te quia exaudies me Deus inclina aurem tuam mihi audi eloquium meum

16:7. Show forth thy wonderful mercies; thou who savest them that trust in thee.

Mirabilem fac misericordiam tuam salvator sperantium

16:8. From them that resist thy right hand keep me, as the apple of thy eye. Protect me under the shadow of thy wings.

A resistentibus dexterarum tuarum custodi me quasi pupillam intus in oculo in umbra alarum tuarum protege me

16:9. From the face of the wicked who have afflicted me. My enemies have surrounded my soul:

A facie impiorum vastantium me inimici mei animam meam circumdederunt

16:10. They have shut up their fat: their mouth hath spoken proudly.

Adipe suo concluderunt et ore locuti sunt superbe

Their fat... That is, their bowels of compassion: for they have none for me.

16:11. They have cast me forth, and now they have surrounded me: they have set their eyes bowing down to the earth.

Incedentes adversum me nunc circumdederunt me oculos suos posuerunt declinare in terram

16:12. They have taken me, as a lion prepared for the prey; and as a young lion dwelling in secret places.

Similitudo eius quasi leonis desiderantis praedam et quasi catuli leonis sedentis in absconditis

16:13. Arise, O Lord, disappoint him and supplant him; deliver my soul from the wicked one; thy sword

Surge Domine praeveni faciem eius incurva eum salva animam meam ab impio qui est gladius tuus

16:14. From the enemies of thy hand. O Lord, divide them from the few of the earth in their life: their belly is filled from thy hidden stores. They are full of children: and they have left to their little ones the rest of their substance.

A viris manus tuae Domine qui mortui sunt in profundo quorum pars in vita et quorum de absconditis tuis replesti ventrem qui satiabantur filiis et dimittent reliquias suas parvulis eorum

Divide them from the few, etc... That is, cut them off from the earth, and the few trifling things thereof; which they are so proud of, or divide them from the few; that is, from thy elect, who are but few; that they may no longer have it in their power to oppress them. It is not meant by way of a curse or imprecation; but, as many other the like passages in the psalms, by way of a prediction, or prophecy of what should come upon them, in punishment of their wickedness. Ibid. Thy hidden stores... Thy secret treasures, out of which thou furnishest those earthly goods, which, with a bountiful hand thou hast distributed both to the good and the bad.

16:15. But as for me, I will appear before thy sight in justice: I shall be satisfied when thy glory shall appear.

Ego in iustitia videbo faciem tuam implebor cum evigilavero similitudine tua

Psalm 17

Diligam te, Domine. David's thanks to God for his delivery from all his enemies.

---

17:1. Unto the end, for David, the servant of the Lord, who spoke to the Lord the words of this canticle, in the day that the Lord delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul: and he said:

Victori servo Domini David quae locutus est Domino verba cantici huius in die qua liberavit eum Dominus de manu omnium inimicorum suorum et de manu Saul et ait

17:2. I will love thee, O Lord, my strength:

Diligam te Domine fortitudo mea

17:3. The Lord is my firmament, my refuge, and my deliverer. My God is my helper, and in him will I put my trust. My protector, and the horn of my salvation, and my support.

Domine petra mea et robur meum et salvator meus Deus meus fortis meus sperabo in eo scutum meum et cornu salutis meae susceptor meus

17:4. Praising, I will call upon the Lord: and I shall be saved from my enemies.

Laudatum invocabo Dominum et ab inimicis meis salvus ero

17:5. The sorrows of death surrounded me: and the torrents of iniquity troubled me.

Circumdedederunt me funes mortis et torrentes diabuli terruerunt me

17:6. The sorrows of hell encompassed me: and the snares of death prevented me.

Funes inferi circumdedederunt me praevenierunt me laquei mortis

17:7. In my affliction I called upon the Lord, and I cried to my God: And he heard my voice from his holy temple: and my cry before him came into his ears.

In tribulatione mea invocabo Dominum et ad Deum meum clamabo exaudiet de templo suo vocem meam et clamor meus ante faciem eius veniet in aures eius

17:8. The earth shook and trembled: the foundations of the mountains were troubled and were moved, because he was angry with them.

Commota est et contremuit terra et fundamenta montium concussa sunt et conquassata quoniam iratus est

17:9. There went up a smoke in his wrath: and a fire flamed from his face: coals were kindled by it.

Ascendit fumus de furore eius et ignis ex ore eius devorans carbones incensi sunt ab eo

17:10. He bowed the heavens, and came down, and darkness was under his feet.

Inclinavit caelos et descendit et caligo sub pedibus eius

17:11. And he ascended upon the cherubim, and he flew; he flew upon the wings of the winds.

Et ascendit super cherub et volavit super pinnas venti

17:12. And he made darkness his covert, his pavilion round about him: dark waters in the clouds of the air.

Posuit tenebras latibulum suum in circuitu eius tabernaculum eius tenebrosas aquas in nubibus aetheris

17:13. At the brightness that was before him the clouds passed, hail and coals of fire.

Prae fulgore in conspectu eius nubes transierunt grando et carbones ignis

17:14. And the Lord thundered from heaven, and the Highest gave his voice: hail and coals of fire.

Et intonuit de caelo Dominus et Altissimus dedit vocem suam grandinem et carbones ignis

17:15. And he sent forth his arrows, and he scattered them: he multiplied lightnings, and troubled them.
Et emisit sagittas suas et dissipavit eos fulgora multiplicavit et conturbavit illos

17:16. Then the fountains of waters appeared, and the foundations of the world were discovered: At thy rebuke, O Lord, at the blast of the spirit of thy wrath.
Et apparuerunt effusiones aquarum et revelata sunt fundamenta orbis ab increpatione tua Domine ab inspiratione spiritus furoris tui

17:17. He sent from on high, and took me: and received me out of many waters.
Misit de alto et accepit me extraxit me de aquis multis

17:18. He delivered me from my strongest enemies, and from them that hated me: for they were too strong for me.
Liberavit me de inimicis meis potentissimis et de his qui oderant me quoniam robustiores me erant

17:19. They prevented me in the day of my affliction: and the Lord became my protector.
Praevenerunt me in die adflictionis meae et factus est Dominus firmamentum meum

17:20. And he brought me forth into a large place: he saved me, because he was well pleased with me.
Et eduxit me in latitudinem liberavit me quia placuit ei

17:21. And the Lord will reward me according to my justice; and will repay me according to the cleanness of my hands:
Retribuit mihi Dominus secundum iustitiam meam et secundum munditiam manuum mearum reddidit mihi

17:22. Because I have kept the ways of the Lord; and have not done wickedly against my God.
Quia custodivi vias Domini et non egi impie a Deo meo

17:23. For all his judgments are in my sight: and his justices I have not put away from me.
Omnia enim iudicia eius in conspectu meo et praecepta eius non amovi a me

17:24. And I shall be spotless with him: and shall keep myself from my iniquity.
Et fui immaculatus cum eo et custodivi me ab iniquitate mea

17:25. And the Lord will reward me according to my justice: and according to the cleanness of my hands before his eyes.
Et restituit Dominus mihi secundum iustitiam meam et secundum munditiam manuum mearum in conspectu oculorum eius

17:26. With the holy thou wilt be holy; and with the innocent man thou wilt be innocent:
Cum sancto sanctus eris cum viro innocente innocenter ages

17:27. And with the elect thou wilt be elect: and with the perverse thou wilt be perverted.
Cum electo electus eris et cum perverso pervertes

17:28. For thou wilt save the humble people; but wilt bring down the eyes of the proud.
Quia tu populum pauperem salvabis et oculos excelsos humiliabis

17:29. For thou lightest my lamp, O Lord: O my God, enlighten my darkness.
Quia tu inluminabis lucernam meam Domine Deus meus inlustrabis tenebras meas

17:30. For by thee I shall be delivered from temptation; and through my God I shall go over a wall.
In te enim curram accinctus et in Deo meo transiliam murum

17:31. As for my God, his way is undefiled: the words of the Lord are fire-tried: he is the protector of all that trust in him.
Deus immaculata via eius eloquium Domini igne examinatum scutum est omnium sperantium in se

17:32. For who is God but the Lord? or who is God but our God?
Quis est deus praeter Dominum et quis fortis praeter Deum nostrum

17:33. God, who hath girt me with strength; and made my way blameless.
Deus qui accingit me fortitudine et posuit immaculatam viam meam

17:34. Who hath made my feet like the feet of harts: and who setteth me upon high places.
Coequans pedes meos cervis et super excelsa statuens me

17:35. Who teacheth my hands to war: and thou hast made my arms like a brazen bow.
Docens manus meas ad proelium et componens quasi arcum aereum brachia mea

17:36. And thou hast given me the protection of thy salvation: and thy right hand hath held me up: And thy discipline hath corrected me unto the end: and thy discipline, the same shall teach me.
Dedisti mihi clipeum salutis tuae et dextera tua confortavit me et mansuetudo tua multiplicavit me

17:37. Thou hast enlarged my steps under me; and my feet are not weakened.
Dilatabis gressus meos subtus me et non deficient tali mei

17:38. I will pursue after my enemies, and overtake them: and I will not turn again till they are consumed.
Persequar inimicos meos et adprehendam et non revertar donec consumam eos

17:39. I will break them, and they shall not be able to stand: they shall fall under my feet.
Caedam eos et non poterunt surgere cadent sub pedibus meis

17:40. And thou hast girded me with strength unto battle; and hast subdued under me them that rose up against me.
Accinxisti me fortitudine ad proelium incurvabis resistentes mihi sub me

17:41. And thou hast made my enemies turn their back upon me, and hast destroyed them that hated me.
Inimicorum meorum dedisti mihi dorsum et odientes me disperdidisti

17:42. They cried, but there was none to save them, to the Lord: but he heard them not.
Clamabunt et non erit qui salvet ad Dominum et non exaudiet eos

17:43. And I shall beat them as small as the dust before the wind; I shall bring them to nought, like the dirt in the streets.
Delebo eos ut pulverem ante faciem venti ut lutum platearum proiciam eos

17:44. Thou wilt deliver me from the contradictions of the people; thou wilt make me head of the Gentiles.
Salvabis me a contradictionibus populi pones me in caput gentium

17:45. A people which I knew not, hath served me: at the hearing of the ear they have obeyed me.
Populus quem ignoravi serviet mihi auditione auris oboediet mihi

17:46. The children that are strangers have lied to me, strange children have faded away, and have halted from their paths.
Fili alieni mentientur mihi filii alieni defluent et contrahentur in angustiis suis

17:47. The Lord liveth, and blessed by my God, and let the God of my salvation be exalted.
Vivit Dominus et benedictus Deus meus et exaltabitur Deus salutis meae

17:48. O God, who avengest me, and subduest the people under me, my deliverer from my enraged enemies.
Deus qui das vindictas mihi et congregas populos sub me qui servas me ab inimicis meis

17:49. And thou wilt lift me up above them that rise up against me: from the unjust man thou wilt deliver me.
Et a resistentibus mihi elevas me a viro iniquo libera me

17:50. Therefore will I give glory to thee, O Lord, among the nations, and I will sing a psalm to thy name.
Propterea confitebor tibi in gentibus Domine et nomini tuo cantabo

17:51. Giving great deliverance to his king, and showing mercy to David, his anointed: and to his seed for ever.
Magnificanti salutes regis sui et facienti misericordiam christo suo David et semini eius usque in aeternum

Psalm 18

Coeli enarrant. The works of God show forth his glory: his law is greatly to be esteemed and loved.

---

18:1. Unto the end. A psalm for David.

Victori canticum David

18:2. The heavens show forth the glory of God, and the firmament declareth the work of his hands.

Caeli enarrant gloriam Dei et opus manus eius adnuntiat firmamentum

18:3. Day to day uttereth speech, and night to night showeth knowledge.

Dies diei eructat verbum et nox nocti indicat scientiam

18:4. There are no speeches nor languages, where their voices are not heard.

Non est sermo et non sunt verba quibus non audiat vox eorum

18:5. Their sound hath gone forth into all the earth: and their words unto the ends of the world.

In universam terram exivit sonus eorum et in finibus orbis verba eorum

18:6. He hath set his tabernacle in the sun: and he as a bridegroom coming out of his bridechamber, Hath rejoiced as a giant to run the way:

Soli posuit tabernaculum in eis et ipse quasi sponsus procedens de thalamo suo exultavit ut fortis ad currendam viam

18:7. His going out is from the end of heaven, And his circuit even to the end thereof: and there is no one that can hide himself from his heat.

A summitate caeli egressus eius et cursus eius usque ad summitatem illius nec est qui se abscondat a calore eius

18:8. The law of the Lord is unspotted, converting souls: the testimony of the Lord is faithful, giving wisdom to little ones.

Lex Domini immaculata convertens animam testimonium Domini fidele sapientiam praestans parvulis

18:9. The justices of the Lord are right, rejoicing hearts: the commandment of the Lord is lightsome, enlightening the eyes.

Praecepta Domini recta laetificantia cor mandatum Domini lucidum inluminans oculos

18:10. The fear of the Lord is holy, enduring for ever and ever: the judgments of the Lord are true, justified in themselves.

Timor Domini mundus perseverans in saecula iudicia Domini vera iustificata in semet ipsis

18:11. More to be desired than gold and many precious stones: and sweeter than honey and the honeycomb.

Desiderabilia super aurum et lapidem pretiosum multum et dulciora super mel et favum redundantem

18:12. For thy servant keepeth them, and in keeping them there is a great reward.

Unde et servus tuus docebit ea in custodiendis eis fructus multus

18:13. Who can understand sins? from my secret ones cleanse me, O Lord:

Errores quis intellet ab occultis munda me

18:14. And from those of others spare thy servant. If they shall have no dominion over me, then shall I be without spot: and I shall be cleansed from the greatest sin.

A superbis quoque libera servum tuum si non fuerint dominati mei tunc immaculatus ero et mundabor a delicto maximo

18:15. And the words of my mouth shall be such as may please: and the meditation of my heart always in thy sight. O Lord, my helper and my Redeemer.

Sint placentes sermones oris mei meditatio cordis mei in conspectu tuo Domine fortitudo mea et redemptor meus

Psalm 19

Exaudiat te Dominus. A prayer for the king.

---

19:1. Unto the end. A psalm for David.

Victori canticum David

19:2. May the Lord hear thee in the day of tribulation: may the name of the God of Jacob protect thee.

Exaudiat te Dominus in die tribulationis protegat te nomen Dei Iacob

19:3. May he send thee help from the sanctuary: and defend thee out of Sion.

Mittat tibi auxilium de sancto et de Sion roboret te

19:4. May he be mindful of all thy sacrifices: and may thy whole burnt offering be made fat.

Memor sit omnis sacrificii tui et holocaustum tuum pingue fiat semper

19:5. May he give thee according to thy own heart; and confirm all thy counsels.

Det tibi secundum cor tuum et omnem voluntatem tuam impleat

19:6. We will rejoice in thy salvation; and in the name of our God we shall be exalted.

Laudabimus in salutari tuo et in nomine Dei nostri ducemus choros

19:7. The Lord fulfil all thy petitions: now have I known that the Lord hath saved his anointed. He will hear him from his holy heaven: the salvation of his right hand is in powers.

Impleat Dominus omnes petitiones tuas nunc scio quoniam salvabit Dominus christum suum exaudiet eum de caelo sancto suo in fortitudine salutis dexteræ suæ

The salvation of his right hand is in powers... That is, in strength. His right hand is strong and mighty to save them that trust in him.

19:8. Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we will call upon the name of the Lord, our God.

Hii in curribus et hii in equis nos autem nominis Domini Dei nostri recordabimur

19:9. They are bound, and have fallen: but we are risen, and are set upright. O Lord, save the king: and hear us in the day that we shall call upon thee.

Ipsi incurvati sunt et ceciderunt nos autem resurreximus et erecti sumus

Psalm 20

Domine, in virtute. Praise to God for Christ's exaltation after his passion.

---

20:1. Unto the end. A psalm for David.

Victori canticum David

20:2. In thy strength, O Lord, the king shall joy; and in thy salvation he shall rejoice exceedingly.

Domine in fortitudine tua laetabitur rex et in salutari tuo exultabit vehementer

20:3. Thou hast given him his heart's desire: and hast not withholden from him the will of his lips.

Desiderium cordis eius dedisti ei et voluntate labiorum eius non fraudasti eum semper

20:4. For thou hast prevented him with blessings of sweetness: thou hast set on his head a crown of precious stones.

Quoniam praevenies eum benedictionibus bonitatis pones in capite eius coronam de lapide pretioso

20:5. He asked life of thee: and thou hast given him length of days for ever and ever.

Vitam petivit te et dedisti ei longitudinem dierum in saeculum et in aeternum

20:6. His glory is great in thy salvation: glory and great beauty shalt thou lay upon him.

Magna gloria eius in salutari tuo gloriam et decorem pones super eum

20:7. For thou shalt give him to be a blessing for ever and ever: thou shalt make him joyful in gladness with thy countenance.

Pones enim eum benedictionem sempiternam et hilarabis eum laetitia apud vultum tuum

20:8. For the king hopeth in the Lord: and through the mercy of the most High he shall not be moved.

Quia rex confidet in Domino et in misericordia Excelsi non decipietur

20:9. Let thy hand be found by all thy enemies: let thy right hand find out all them that hate thee.

Inveniet manus tua omnes inimicos tuos dextera tua inveniet odientes te

20:10. Thou shalt make them as an oven of fire, in the time of thy anger: the Lord shall trouble them in his wrath, and fire shall devour them.

Pones eos ut clibanum ignis in tempore vultus tui Dominus in furore suo praecipitabit eos et devorabit eos ignis

20:11. Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth: and their seed from among the children of men.

Fructum eorum de terra perdes et semen eorum de filiis hominum

20:12. For they have intended evils against thee: they have devised counsels which they have not been able to establish.

Quoniam inclinaverunt super te malum cogitaverunt scelus quod non potuerunt

20:13. For thou shalt make them turn their back: in thy remnants thou shalt prepare their face.

Quia pones eos umerum funes tuos firmabis contra facies eorum

In thy remnants thou shalt prepare their face... Or thou shalt set thy remnants against their faces. That is, thou shalt make them see what punishments remain for them hereafter from thy justice. Instead of remnants, St. Jerome renders it funes, that is, cords or strings, viz., of the bow of divine justice, from which God directs his arrows against the faces of his enemies.

20:14. Be thou exalted, O Lord, in thy own strength: we will sing and praise thy power.

Exaltare Domine in fortitudine tua cantabimus et psallemus fortitudines tuas

Psalm 21

Deus Deus meus. Christ's passion: and the conversion of the Gentiles.

---

21:1. Unto the end, for the morning protection, a psalm for David.

Victori pro cervo matutino canticum

21:2. O God my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me? Far from my salvation are the words of my sins.

Deus Deus meus quare dereliquisti me longe a salute mea verba rugitus mei

The words of my sins... That is, the sins of the world, which I have taken upon myself, cry out against me, and are the cause of all my sufferings.

21:3. O my God, I shall cry by day, and thou wilt not hear: and by night, and it shall not be reputed as folly in me.

Deus meus clamabo per diem et non exaudies et nocte nec est silentium mihi

21:4. But thou dwellest in the holy place, the praise of Israel.

Et tu sancte habitator Laus Israhel

21:5. In thee have our fathers hoped: they have hoped, and thou hast delivered them.

In te confisi sunt patres nostri confisi sunt et salvasti eos

21:6. They cried to thee, and they were saved: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

Ad te clamaverunt et salvati sunt in te confisi sunt et non sunt confusi

21:7. But I am a worm, and no man: the reproach of men, and the outcast of the people.

Ego autem sum vermis et non homo obprobrium hominum et dispectio plebis

21:8. All they that saw me have laughed me to scorn: they have spoken with the lips, and wagged the head.

Omnnes videntes me subsannant me dimittunt labium movent caput

21:9. He hoped in the Lord, let him deliver him: let him save him, seeing he delighteth in him.

Confugit ad Dominum salvet eum liberet eum quoniam vult eum

21:10. For thou art he that hast drawn me out of the womb: my hope from the breasts of my mother.

Tu autem propugnator meus ex utero fiducia mea ab uberibus matris meae

21:11. I was cast upon thee from the womb. From my mother's womb thou art my God,

In te proiectus sum ex vulva de ventre matris meae Deus meus es tu

21:12. Depart not from me. For tribulation is very near: for there is none to help me.

Ne longe fias a me quoniam tribulatio proxima est quoniam non est adiutor

21:13. Many calves have surrounded me: fat bulls have besieged me.

Circumdedederunt me vituli multi tauri pingues vallaverunt me

21:14. They have opened their mouths against me, as a lion ravening and roaring.

Aperuerunt super me os suum quasi leo capiens et rugiens

21:15. I am poured out like water; and all my bones are scattered. My heart is become like wax melting in the midst of my bowels.

Sicut aqua effusus sum et separata sunt omnia ossa mea factum est cor meum sicut cera liquefacta in medio ventris mei

21:16. My strength is dried up like a potsherd, and my tongue hath cleaved to my jaws: and thou hast brought me down into the dust of death.

Aruit velut testa fortitudo mea et lingua mea adhesit palato meo et in pulverem mortis detraxisti me

21:17. For many dogs have encompassed me: the council of the malignant hath besieged me. They have dug my hands and feet.

Circumdedederunt me venatores concilium pessimorum vallavit me vinxerunt manus meas et pedes meos

21:18. They have numbered all my bones. And they have looked and stared upon me.

Numeravi omnia ossa mea quae ipsi respicientes viderunt in me

21:19. They parted my garments amongst them; and upon my vesture they cast lots.

Diviserunt vestimenta mea sibi et super vestimentum meum miserunt sortem

21:20. But thou, O Lord, remove not thy help to a distance from me; look towards my defence.

Tu autem Domine ne longe fias fortitudo mea in auxilium meum festina

21:21. Deliver, O God, my soul from the sword: my only one from the hand of the dog.

Erue a gladio animam meam de manu canis solitariam meam

21:22. Save me from the lion's mouth; and my lowness from the horns of the unicorns.

Salva me ex ore leonis et de cornibus unicornium exaudi me

21:23. I will declare thy name to my brethren: in the midst of the church will I praise thee.

Narrabo nomen tuum fratribus meis in medio ecclesiae laudabo te

21:24. Ye that fear the Lord, praise him: all ye the seed of Jacob, glorify him.

Qui timetis Dominum laudate eum omne semen Iacob glorificate eum

21:25. Let all the seed of Israel fear him: because he hath not slighted nor despised the supplication of the poor man. Neither hath he turned away his face from me: and when I cried to him he heard me.

Et metuite eum universum semen Israhel quoniam non dispexit neque contempsit modestiam pauperis et non abscondit faciem suam ab eo et cum clamaret ad eum audivit

21:26. With thee is my praise in a great church: I will pay my vows in the sight of them that fear him.

Apud te laus mea in ecclesia multa vota mea reddam in conspectu timentium eum

21:27. The poor shall eat and shall be filled: and they shall praise the Lord that seek him: their hearts shall live for ever and ever.

Comedent mites et saturabuntur laudabunt Dominum quaerentes eum vivet cor vestrum in sempiternum

21:28. All the ends of the earth shall remember, and shall be converted to the Lord: And all the kindreds of the Gentiles shall adore in his sight.

Recordabuntur et convertentur ad Dominum omnes fines terrae et adorabunt coram eo universae cognationes gentium

21:29. For the kingdom is the Lord's; and he shall have dominion over the nations.

Quia Domini est regnum et dominabitur gentibus

21:30. All the fat ones of the earth have eaten and have adored: all they that go down to the earth shall fall before him.

Comederunt et adoraverunt omnes pingues terrae ante faciem eius curvabunt genu universi qui descendunt in pulverem

21:31. And to him my soul shall live: and my seed shall serve him.

Et anima eius ipsi vivet semen serviet ei

21:32. There shall be declared to the Lord a generation to come: and the heavens shall show forth his justice to a people that shall be born, which the Lord hath made.

Narrabitur Domino in generatione venient et adnuntiabunt iustitias eius populo qui nascetur quas fecit

Psalm 22

Dominus regit me. God's spiritual benefits to faithful souls.

22:1. A psalm for David. The Lord ruleth me: and I shall want nothing.

Canticum David Dominus pascit me nihil mihi deerit

Ruleth me... In Hebrew, Is my shepherd, viz., to feed, guide, and govern me.

22:2. He hath set me in a place of pasture. He hath brought me up, on the water of refreshment:

In pascuis herbarum adclinavit me super aquas refectionis enutrivit me

22:3. He hath converted my soul. He hath led me on the paths of justice, for his own name's sake.

Animam meam refecit duxit me per semitas iustitiae propter nomen suum

22:4. For though I should walk in the midst of the shadow of death, I will fear no evils, for thou art with me. Thy rod and thy staff, they have comforted me.

Sed et si ambulavero in valle mortis non timebo malum quoniam tu mecum es virga tua et baculus tuus ipsa consolabuntur me

22:5. Thou hast prepared a table before me against them that afflict me. Thou hast anointed my head with oil; and my chalice which inebriateth me, how goodly is it!

Pones coram me mensam ex adverso hostium meorum inpinguasti oleo caput meum calix meus inebrians

22:6. And thy mercy will follow me all the days of my life. And that I may dwell in the house of the Lord unto length of days.

Sed et benignitas et misericordia subsequetur me omnibus diebus vitae meae et habitabo in domo Domini in longitudine dierum

Psalm 23

Domini est terra. Who are they that shall ascend to heaven: Christ's triumphant ascension thither.

---

23:1. On the first day of the week, a psalm for David. The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof: the world, and all they that dwell therein.

David canticum Domini est terra et plenitudo eius orbis et habitatores eius

23:2. For he hath founded it upon the seas; and hath prepared it upon the rivers.

Quia ipse super maria fundavit eum et super flumina stabilivit illum

23:3. Who shall ascend into the mountain of the Lord: or who shall stand in his holy place?

Quis ascendet in montem Domini et quis stabit in loco sancto eius

23:4. The innocent in hands, and clean of heart, who hath not taken his soul in vain, nor sworn deceitfully to his neighbour.

Innocens manibus et mundo corde qui non exaltavit frustra animam suam et non iuravit dolose

23:5. He shall receive a blessing from the Lord, and mercy from God his Saviour.

Accipiet benedictionem a Domino et iustitiam a Deo salutari suo

23:6. This is the generation of them that seek him, of them that seek the face of the God of Jacob.

Haec generatio quaerentium eum quaerentium faciem tuam Iacob semper

23:7. Lift up your gates, O ye princes, and be ye lifted up, O eternal gates: and the King of Glory shall enter in.

Levate portae capita vestra et elevamini ianuae sempiternae et ingrediatur rex gloriae

23:8. Who is this King of Glory? the Lord who is strong and mighty: the Lord mighty in battle.

Quis est iste rex gloriae Dominus fortis et potens Dominus fortis in proelio

23:9. Lift up your gates, O ye princes, and be ye lifted up, O eternal gates: and the King of Glory shall enter in.

Levate portae capita vestra et erigite ianuae sempiternae et ingrediatur rex gloriae

23:10. Who is this King of Glory? the Lord of hosts, he is the King of Glory.

Quis est iste rex gloriae Dominus exercituum ipse est rex gloriae semper

Psalm 24

Ad te, Domine, levavi. A prayer for grace, mercy, and protection against our enemies.

---

24:1. Unto the end, a psalm for David. To thee, O Lord, have I lifted up my soul.

David ad te Domine animam meam levabo

24:2. In thee, O my God, I put my trust; let me not be ashamed.

Deus meus in te confisus sum ne confundar

24:3. Neither let my enemies laugh at me: for none of them that wait on thee shall be confounded.

Ne laetentur inimici mei sed et universi qui sperant in te non confundantur

24:4. Let all them be confounded that act unjust things without cause. Show, O Lord, thy ways to me, and teach me thy paths.

Confundantur qui iniqua gerunt frustra vias tuas Domine ostende mihi semitas tuas doce me

24:5. Direct me in thy truth, and teach me; for thou art God my Saviour; and on thee have I waited all the day long.

Deduc me in veritate tua et doce me quia tu Deus salvator meus te expectavi tota die

24:6. Remember, O Lord, thy bowels of compassion; and thy mercies that are from the beginning of the world.

Recordare miserationum tuarum Domine et misericordiarum tuarum quia ex sempiterno sunt

24:7. The sins of my youth and my ignorances do not remember. According to thy mercy remember thou me: for thy goodness' sake, O Lord.

Peccatorum adolescentiae meae et scelerum meorum ne memineris secundum misericordiam tuam recordare mei propter bonitatem tuam Domine

24:8. The Lord is sweet and righteous: therefore he will give a law to sinners in the way.

Bonus et rectus Dominus propterea docebit peccatores in via

24:9. He will guide the mild in judgment: he will teach the meek his ways.

Deducet mansuetos in iudicio et docebit modestos viam suam

24:10. All the ways of the Lord are mercy and truth, to them that seek after his covenant and his testimonies.

Omnes semitae Domini misericordia et veritas his qui custodiunt pactum eius et testificationem eius

24:11. For thy name's sake, O Lord, thou wilt pardon my sin: for it is great.

Propter nomen tuum propitiare iniquitati meae quoniam grandis est

24:12. Who is the man that feareth the Lord? He hath appointed him a law in the way he hath chosen.

Quis est iste vir timens Dominum quem docebit in via quam elegerit

24:13. His soul shall dwell in good things: and his seed shall inherit the land.

Anima eius in bono commorabitur et semen eius hereditabit terram

24:14. The Lord is a firmament to them that fear him: and his covenant shall be made manifest to them.

Secretum Domini timentibus eum et pactum suum ostendet eis

24:15. My eyes are ever towards the Lord: for he shall pluck my feet out of the snare.

Oculi mei semper ad Dominum quia ipse educet de rete pedes meos

24:16. Look thou upon me, and have mercy on me; for I am alone and poor.
Respice in me et miserere mei quoniam solus et pauper sum ego

24:17. The troubles of my heart are multiplied: deliver me from my necessities.
Tribulationes cordis mei multiplicatae sunt de angustiis meis educ me

24:18. See my abjection and my labour; and forgive me all my sins.
Vide afflictionem meam et laborem meum et porta omnia peccata mea

24:19. Consider my enemies for they are multiplied, and have hated me with an unjust hatred.
Vide inimicos meos quia multiplicati sunt et odio iniquo oderunt me

24:20. Deep thou my soul, and deliver me: I shall not be ashamed, for I have hoped in thee.
Custodi animam meam et libera me non confundar quia speravi in te

24:21. The innocent and the upright have adhered to me: because I have waited on thee.
Simplicitas et aequitas servabunt me quia expectavi te

24:22. Deliver Israel, O God, from all his tribulations.
Redime Deus Israhelem ex omnibus angustiis suis

Psalm 25

Judica me, Domine. David's prayer to God in his distress, to be delivered, that he may come to worship him in his tabernacle.

---

25:1. Unto the end, a psalm for David. Judge me, O Lord, for I have walked in my innocence: and I have put my trust in the Lord, and shall not be weakened.

David iudica me Deus quoniam ego in simplicitate mea ambulavi et in Domino confidens non deficiam

25:2. Prove me, O Lord, and try me; burn my reins and my heart.

Proba me Domine et tempta me ure renes meos et cor meum

25:3. For thy mercy is before my eyes; and I am well pleased with thy truth.

Quia misericordia tua in conspectu oculorum meorum est et ambulabo in veritate tua

25:4. I have not sat with the council of vanity: neither will I go in with the doers of unjust things.

Non sedi cum viris vanitatis et cum superbis non ingrediar

25:5. I have hated the assembly of the malignant; and with the wicked I will not sit.

Odivi ecclesiam pessimorum et cum iniquis non sedebo

25:6. I will wash my hands among the innocent; and will compass thy altar, O Lord:

Lavabo in innocentia manus meas et circuibo altare tuum Domine

25:7. That I may hear the voice of thy praise: and tell of all thy wondrous works.

Ut clara voce praedicem laudem et narrem omnia mirabilia tua

25:8. I have loved, O Lord, the beauty of thy house; and the place where thy glory dwelleth.

Domine dilexi habitaculum domus tuae et locum tabernaculi gloriae tuae

25:9. Take not away my soul, O God, with the wicked: nor my life with bloody men:

Ne auferas cum peccatoribus animam meam cum viris sanguinum vitam meam

25:10. In whose hands are iniquities: their right hand is filled with gifts.

In quorum manibus scelus est et dextera eorum repleta est muneribus

25:11. But as for me, I have walked in my innocence: redeem me, and have mercy on me.

Ego autem in simplicitate mea gradiar redime me et miserere mei

25:12. My foot hath stood in the direct way: in the churches I will bless thee, O Lord.

Pes meus stetit in recto in ecclesiis benedicam Domino

Psalm 26

Dominus illuminatio. David's faith and hope in God.

---

26:1. The psalm of David before he was anointed. The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear? The Lord is the protector of my life: of whom shall I be afraid?

David Dominus lux mea et salutare meum quem timebo Dominus fortitudo vitae meae quem formidabo

26:2. Whilst the wicked draw near against me, to eat my flesh. My enemies that trouble me, have themselves been weakened, and have fallen.

Cum adpropinquarent mihi maligni ut comederent carnem meam hostes mei et inimici mei ipsi inpigerunt et ceciderunt

26:3. If armies in camp should stand together against me, my heart shall not fear. If a battle should rise up against me, in this will I be confident.

Si steterint adversus me castra non timebit cor meum si surrexerit contra me bellum in hoc ego confidam

26:4. One thing I have asked of the Lord, this will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life. That I may see the delight of the Lord, and may visit his temple.

Unum petivi a Domino hoc requiram ut habitem in domo Domini omnibus diebus vitae meae ut videam pulchritudinem Domini et attendam templum eius

26:5. For he hath hidden me in his tabernacle; in the day of evils, he hath protected me in the secret place of his tabernacle.

Abscondet enim me in umbra sua in die pessima abscondet me in secreto tabernaculi sui

26:6. He hath exalted me upon a rock: and now he hath lifted up my head above my enemies. I have gone round, and have offered up in his tabernacle a sacrifice of jubilation: I will sing, and recite a psalm to the Lord.

In petra exaltabit me nunc quoque exaltabit caput meum super inimicos meos qui sunt in circuitu meo et immolabo in tabernaculo eius hostias iubili cantabo et psallam Domino

26:7. Hear, O Lord, my voice, with which I have cried to thee: have mercy on me and hear me.

Audi Domine vocem meam invocantis miserere mei et exaudi me

26:8. My heart hath said to thee: My face hath sought thee: thy face, O Lord, will I still seek.

Tibi dixit cor meum quaesivit vultus meus faciem tuam Domine et requiram

26:9. Turn not away thy face from me; decline not in thy wrath from thy servant. Be thou my helper, forsake me not; do not thou despise me, O God my Saviour.

Ne abscondas faciem tuam a me ne declines in furore tuo a servo tuo auxilium meum fuisti ne derelinquas me et ne dimittas me Deus salvator meus

26:10. For my father and my mother have left me: but the Lord hath taken me up.

Pater enim meus et mater mea dereliquerunt me Dominus autem collegit me

26:11. Set me, O Lord, a law in thy way, and guide me in the right path, because of my enemies.

Ostende mihi Domine viam tuam et deduc me in semita recta propter insidiatores meos

26:12. Deliver me not over to the will of them that trouble me; for unjust witnesses have risen up against me; and iniquity hath lied to itself.

Ne tradas me Domine animae tribulantium me quoniam surrexerunt contra me testes falsi et apertum mendacium

26:13. I believe to see the good things of the Lord in the land of the living.

Ego autem credo quod videam bona Domini in terra viventium

26:14. Expect the Lord, do manfully, and let thy heart take courage, and wait thou for the Lord.
Expecta Dominum confortare et roboretur cor tuum et sustine Dominum

Psalm 27

Ad te, Domine, clamabo. David's prayer that his enemies may not prevail over him.

---

27:1. A psalm for David himself. Unto thee will I cry, O Lord: O my God, be not thou silent to me: lest if thou be silent to me, I become like them that go down into the pit.

David ad te Domine clamabo Fortis meus ne obsurdescas mihi ne forte tacente te mihi conparer his qui descendunt in lacum

27:2. Hear, O Lord, the voice of my supplication, when I pray to thee; when I lift up my hands to thy holy temple.

Audi Domine deprecationem meam cum clamavero ad te cum levavero manus meas ad oraculum sanctum tuum

27:3. Draw me not away together with the wicked; and with the workers of iniquity destroy me not: Who speak peace with their neighbour, but evils are in their hearts.

Ne trahas me cum impiis et cum operantibus iniquitatem qui loquuntur pacem cum amicis suis et est malum in corde eorum

27:4. Give them according to their works, and according to the wickedness of their inventions. According to the works of their hands give thou to them: render to them their reward.

Da eis secundum opus suum et secundum malum adinventionum suarum iuxta opus manuum suarum da eis redde retributionem suam illis

27:5. Because they have not understood the works of the Lord, and the operations of his hands: thou shalt destroy them, and shalt not build them up.

Quoniam non intellegunt opera Domini et opus manuum eius destrues eos et non aedificabis

27:6. Blessed be the Lord, for he hath heard the voice of my supplication.

Benedictus Dominus qui audivit vocem deprecationis meae

27:7. The Lord is my helper and my protector: in him hath my heart confided, and I have been helped. And my flesh hath flourished again, and with my will I will give praise to him.

Dominus fortitudo mea et scutum meum in ipso confisum est cor meum et habui adiutorium gavisum est cor meum et in cantico meo confitebor illi

27:8. The Lord is the strength of his people, and the protector of the salvation of his anointed.

Dominus fortitudo mea et robur salutarium christi sui est

27:9. Save, O Lord, thy people, and bless thy inheritance: and rule them and exalt them for ever.

Salva populum tuum et benedic hereditati tuae et pasce eos et subleva eos usque in sempiternum

Psalm 28

Afferte Domino. An invitation to glorify God, with a commemoration of his mighty works.

---

28:1. A psalm for David, at the finishing of the tabernacle. Bring to the Lord, O ye children of God: bring to the Lord the offspring of rams.

Canticum David adferte Domino filios arietum

28:2. Bring to the Lord glory and honour: bring to the Lord glory to his name: adore ye the Lord in his holy court.

Adferte Domino gloriam et imperium adferte Domino gloriam nomini eius adorate Dominum in decore sancto

28:3. The voice of the Lord is upon the waters; the God of majesty hath thundered, The Lord is upon many waters.

Vox Domini super aquas Deus gloriae intonuit Dominus super aquas multas

28:4. The voice of the Lord is in power; the voice of the Lord in magnificence.

Vox Domini in fortitudine vox Domini in decore

28:5. The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord shall break the cedars of Libanus.

Vox Domini confringentis cedros et confringet Dominus cedros Libani

28:6. And shall reduce them to pieces, as a calf of Libanus, and as the beloved son of unicorns.

Et disperget eas quasi vitulus Libani et Sarion quasi filius rinocerotis

Shall reduce them to pieces, etc... In Hebrew, shall make them to skip like a calf. The psalmist here describes the effects of thunder (which he calls the voice of the Lord) which sometimes breaks down the tallest and strongest trees; and makes their broken branches skip, etc. All this is to be understood mystically of the powerful voice of God's word in his church; which has broken the pride of the great ones of this world, and brought many of them meekly and joyfully to submit their necks to the sweet yoke of Christ.

28:7. The voice of the Lord divideth the flame of fire:

Vox Domini dividens flammam ignis

28:8. The voice of the Lord shaketh the desert: and the Lord shall shake the desert of Cades.

Vox Domini parturire faciens desertum Cades

28:9. The voice of the Lord prepareth the stags: and he will discover the thick woods: and in his temple all shall speak his glory.

Vox Domini obstricant cervis et revelans saltus et in templo eius omnis loquetur gloriam

28:10. The Lord maketh the flood to dwell: and the Lord shall sit king for ever. The Lord will give strength to his people: the Lord will bless his people with peace.

Dominus diluvium inhabitat et sedebit Dominus rex in aeternum Dominus fortitudinem populo suo dabit Dominus benedicet populo suo in pace

Psalm 29

Exaltabo te, Domine. David praiseth God for his deliverance, and his merciful dealings with him.

---

29:1. A psalm of a canticle, at the dedication of David's house.

Psalmus cantici pro dedicatione domus David

29:2. I will extol thee, O Lord, for thou hast upheld me: and hast not made my enemies to rejoice over me.

Exaltabo te Domine quoniam salvasti me et non delectasti inimicos meos super me

29:3. O Lord my God, I have cried to thee, and thou hast healed me.

Domine Deus meus clamavi ad te et sanasti me

29:4. Thou hast brought forth, O Lord, my soul from hell: thou hast saved me from them that go down into the pit.

Domine eduxisti de inferno animam meam vivificasti me ne descenderem in lacum

29:5. Sing to the Lord, O ye his saints: and give praise to the memory of his holiness.

Cantate Domino sancti eius et confitemini memoriae sanctitatis eius

29:6. For wrath is in his indignation; and life in his good will. In the evening weeping shall have place, and in the morning gladness.

Quoniam ad momentum est ira eius et vita in reprobatione eius ad vesperum commorabitur fletus et in matutino laus

29:7. And in my abundance I said: I shall never be moved.

Ego autem dixi in abundantia mea non commovebor in sempiternum

29:8. O Lord, in thy favour, thou gavest strength to my beauty. Thou turnedst away thy face from me, and I became troubled.

Domine in voluntate tua posuisti monti meo fortitudinem abscondisti faciem tuam et factus sum conturbatus

29:9. To thee, O Lord, will I cry: and I will make supplication to my God.

Ad Dominum clamabo et Dominum deprecabor

29:10. What profit is there in my blood, whilst I go down to corruption? Shall dust confess to thee, or declare thy truth?

Quae est utilitas in sanguine meo cum descendero in corruptionem numquid confitebitur tibi pulvis aut adnuntiabit veritatem tuam

29:11. The Lord hath heard, and hath had mercy on me: the Lord became my helper.

Audi Domine et miserere mei Domine esto adiutor

29:12. Thou hast turned for me my mourning into joy: thou hast cut my sackcloth, and hast compassed me with gladness:

Convertisti planctum meum in chorum mihi solvisti saccum meum et accinxisti me laetitia

29:13. To the end that my glory may sing to thee, and I may not regret: O Lord my God, I will give praise to thee for ever.

Ut laudet te gloria et non taceat Domine Deus meus in sempiternum confitebor tibi

Psalm 30

In te, Domine, speravi. A prayer of a just man under affliction.

30:1. Unto the end, a psalm for David, in an ecstasy.

Victori canticum David

30:2. In thee, O Lord, have I hoped, let me never be confounded: deliver me in thy justice.

In te Domine speravi non confundar in aeternum in iustitia tua salva me

30:3. Bow down thy ear to me: make haste to deliver me. Be thou unto me a God, a protector, and a house of refuge, to save me.

Inclina ad me aurem tuam velociter libera me esto mihi in lapidem fortissimum et in domum munitam ut salves me

30:4. For thou art my strength and my refuge; and for thy name's sake thou wilt lead me, and nourish me.

Quia petra mea et munitio mea tu es et propter nomen tuum dux meus eris et enutries me

30:5. Thou wilt bring me out of this snare, which they have hidden for me: for thou art my protector.

Educes me de rete quod absconderunt mihi quia tu fortitudo mea es

30:6. Into thy hands I commend my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O Lord, the God of truth.

In manu tua commendabo spiritum meum redemisti me Domine Deus veritatis

30:7. Thou hast hated them that regard vanities, to no purpose. But I have hoped in the Lord:

Odisti custodientes vanitates frustra ego autem in Domino confisus sum

30:8. I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy. For thou hast regarded my humility, thou hast saved my soul out of distresses.

Exultabo et laetabor in misericordia tua quia vidisti adflictionem meam cognovisti tribulationes animae meae

30:9. And thou hast not shut me up in the hands of the enemy: thou hast set my feet in a spacious place.

Et non conclusisti me in manibus inimici posuisti in latitudine pedes meos

30:10. Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I am afflicted: my eye is troubled with wrath, my soul, and my belly:

Miserere mei Domine quoniam tribulor caligavit in furore oculus meus anima mea et venter meus

30:11. For my life is wasted with grief: and my years in sighs. My strength is weakened through poverty and my bones are disturbed.

Quia consumptae sunt in maerore vitae meae et anni mei in gemitu infirmata est in iniquitate fortitudo mea et ossa mea contabuerunt

30:12. I am become a reproach among all my enemies, and very much to my neighbours; and a fear to my acquaintance. They that saw me without fled from me.

Apud omnes hostes meos factus sum obprobrium et vicinis meis nimis et timor notis meis qui videbant me in plateis fugiebant me

30:13. I am forgotten as one dead from the heart. I am become as a vessel that is destroyed.

Oblivioni traditus sum quasi mortuus a corde factus sum quasi vas perditum

30:14. For I have heard the blame of many that dwell round about. While they assembled together against me, they consulted to take away my life.

Audivi enim obprobrium multorum congregationem in circuitu cum inirent consilium adversum me et ut aufferent animam meam cogitent

30:15. But I have put my trust in thee, O Lord: I said: Thou art my God.

Ego autem in te speravi Domine dixi Deus meus es tu

30:16. My lots are in thy hands. Deliver me out of the hands of my enemies; and from them that persecute me.

In manu tua tempora mea libera me de manu inimicorum meorum et persequentium me

30:17. Make thy face to shine upon thy servant; save me in thy mercy.

Ostende faciem tuam super servum tuum salva me in misericordia tua

30:18. Let me not be confounded, O Lord, for I have called upon thee. Let the wicked be ashamed, and be brought down to hell.

Domine ne confundar quia invocavi te confundantur impii taceant in inferno

30:19. Let deceitful lips be made dumb. Which speak iniquity against the just, with pride and abuse.

Muta fiant labia mendacii quae loquuntur contra iustum vetera in superbia et despectione

30:20. O how great is the multitude of thy sweetness, O Lord, which thou hast hidden for them that fear thee! Which thou hast wrought for them that hope in thee, in the sight of the sons of men.

Quam multa est bonitas tua quam abscondisti timentibus te operatus es sperantibus in te in conspectu filiorum hominum

30:21. Thou shalt hide them in the secret of thy face, from the disturbance of men. Thou shalt protect them in thy tabernacle from the contradiction of tongues.

Abscondes eos in protectione vultus tui a duritia viri abscondes eos in umbra a contradictione linguarum

30:22. Blessed be the Lord, for he hath shown his wonderful mercy to me in a fortified city.

Benedictus Dominus qui mirabilem fecit misericordiam suam mihi in civitate munita

30:23. But I said in the excess of my mind: I am cast away from before thy eyes. Therefore thou hast heard the voice of my prayer, when I cried to thee.

Ego autem dixi in stupore meo proiectus sum de conspectu oculorum eius ergone audisti vocem deprecationis meae cum clamarem ad te

30:24. O love the Lord, all ye his saints: for the Lord will require truth, and will repay them abundantly that act proudly.

Diligite Dominum omnes sancti eius fideles servat Dominus et retribuet his qui satis operantur superbiam

30:25. Do ye manfully, and let your heart be strengthened, all ye that hope in the Lord.

Confortamini et roboretur cor vestrum omnes qui expectatis Dominum

Psalm 31

Beati quorum. The second penitential psalm.

---

31:1. To David himself, understanding. Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.

David eruditi beatus cui dimissa est iniquitas et absconditum est peccatum

31:2. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord hath not imputed sin, and in whose spirit there is no guile.

Beatus homo cui non inputabit Dominus iniquitatem nec est in spiritu eius dolus

31:3. Because I was silent my bones grew old; whilst I cried out all the day long.

Quia tacui adtrita sunt ossa mea in rugitu meo tota die

Because I was silent, etc... That is, whilst I kept silence, by concealing, or refusing to confess my sins, thy hand was heavy upon me, etc.

31:4. For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: I am turned in my anguish, whilst the thorn is fastened.

Die enim et nocte gravatur super me manus tua versatus sum in miseria mea cum exardesceret messis iugiter

I am turned, etc... That is, I turn and roll about in my bed to seek for ease in my pain whilst the thorn of thy justice pierces my flesh, and sticks fast in me. Or, I am turned: that is, I am converted to thee, my God, by being brought to a better understanding by thy chastisements. In the Hebrew it is, my moisture is turned into the droughts of the summer.

31:5. I have acknowledged my sin to thee, and my injustice I have not concealed. I said I will confess against my self my injustice to the Lord: and thou hast forgiven the wickedness of my sin.

Peccatum meum notum facio tibi et iniquitatem meam non abscondo dixi confitebor scelus meum Domino et tu dimisisti iniquitatem peccati mei semper

31:6. For this shall every one that is holy pray to thee in a seasonable time. And yet in a flood of many waters, they shall not come nigh unto him.

Pro hoc orat omnis sanctus ad te tempus inveniens ut cum inundaverint aquae multae ad illum non accedant

31:7. Thou art my refuge from the trouble which hath encompassed me: my joy, deliver me from them that surround me.

Tu es protectio mea ab hoste custodies me laus mea salvans circumdabis me semper

31:8. I will give thee understanding, and I will instruct thee in this way, in which thou shalt go: I will fix my eyes upon thee.

Doceam te et monstrabo tibi viam per quam ambules cogitabo de te oculo meo

31:9. Do not become like the horse and the mule, who have no understanding. With bit and bridle bind fast their jaws, who come not near unto thee.

Nolite fieri sicut equus et mulus quibus non est intellegentia in camo et freno maxillas eorum constringe qui non accedunt ad te

31:10. Many are the scourges of the sinner, but mercy shall encompass him that hopeth in the Lord.

Multi dolores impii confidentem autem in Domino misericordia circumdabit

31:11. Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, ye just, and glory, all ye right of heart.

Laetamini in Domino et exultate iusti et laudate omnes recti corde

Psalm 32

Exultate, justi. An exhortation to praise God, and to trust in him.

---

32:1. A psalm for David. Rejoice in the Lord, O ye just: praise becometh the upright.

Laudate iusti Dominum rectos decet laudatio

32:2. Give praise to the Lord on the harp; sing to him with the psaltery, the instrument of ten strings.

Confitemini Domino in cithara in psalterio decacordo cantate ei

32:3. Sing to him a new canticle, sing well unto him with a loud noise.

Cantate ei canticum novum diligenter psallite in iubilo

32:4. For the word of the Lord is right, and all his works are done with faithfulness.

Quia rectum est verbum Domini et omne opus eius in fide

32:5. He loveth mercy and judgment; the earth is full of the mercy of the Lord.

Diligit iustitiam et iudicium misericordia Domini plena est terra

32:6. By the word of the Lord the heavens were established; and all the power of them by the spirit of his mouth:

Verbo Domini caeli facti sunt et spiritu oris eius omnis ornatus eorum

32:7. Gathering together the waters of the sea, as in a vessel; laying up the depths in storehouses.

Congregans quasi in utre aquas maris ponens in thesauris abyssos

32:8. Let all the earth fear the Lord, and let all the inhabitants of the world be in awe of him.

Timeat Dominum omnis terra ipsum formident universi habitatores orbis

32:9. For he spoke and they were made: he commanded and they were created.

Quia ipse mandavit et factus est ipso praecipiente stetit

32:10. The Lord bringeth to nought the counsels of nations; and he rejecteth the devices of people, and casteth away the counsels of princes.

Dominus dissolvit consilium gentium irritas fecit cogitationes populorum

32:11. But the counsel of the Lord standeth for ever: the thoughts of his heart to all generations.

Consilium Domini in aeternum stabit cogitationes cordis eius in generatione et generatione

32:12. Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord: the people whom he hath chosen for his inheritance.

Beata gens cuius Dominus Deus eius populus quem elegit in hereditatem sibi

32:13. The Lord hath looked from heaven: he hath beheld all the sons of men.

De caelo respexit Dominus vidit omnes filios Adam

32:14. From his habitation which he hath prepared, he hath looked upon all that dwell on the earth.

De firmissimo solio suo prospexit ad universos habitatores terrae

32:15. He who hath made the hearts of every one of them: who understandeth all their works.

Fingens pariter cor eorum intellegens omnia opera eorum

32:16. The king is not saved by a great army: nor shall the giant be saved by his own great strength.

Non salvatur rex in multitudine exercitus nec fortis liberabitur in multiplicatione virtutis

32:17. Vain is the horse for safety: neither shall he be saved by the abundance of his strength.

Fallax equus ad salutem et in multitudine roboris sui non salvabit

32:18. Behold the eyes of the Lord are on them that fear him: and on them that hope in his mercy.
Ecce oculus Domini super timentes eum et expectantes misericordiam eius

32:19. To deliver their souls from death; and feed them in famine.
Ut eruat de morte animam eorum et vivificet eos in fame

32:20. Our soul waiteth for the Lord: for he is our helper and protector.
Anima nostra expectavit Dominum auxilium nostrum et clipeus noster est

32:21. For in him our heart shall rejoice: and in his holy name we have trusted.
In ipso enim laetabitur cor nostrum quia in nomine sancto eius speravimus

32:22. Let thy mercy, O Lord, be upon us, as we have hoped in thee.
Sit misericordia tua Domine super nos sicut expectavimus te

Psalm 33

Benedicam Dominum. An exhortation to the praise, and service of God.

33:1. For David, when he changed his countenance before Achimelech, who dismissed him, and he went his way. [1 Samuel 21.]

David quando commutavit os suum coram Abimelech et eiecit eum et abiit

33:2. I will bless the Lord at all times, his praise shall be always in my mouth.

Benedicam Domino in omni tempore semper laus eius in ore meo

33:3. In the Lord shall my soul be praised: let the meek hear and rejoice.

In Domino laetabitur anima mea audiant mites et laetentur

33:4. O magnify the Lord with me; and let us extol his name together.

Magnificate Dominum mecum et exaltemus nomen eius pariter

33:5. I sought the Lord, and he heard me; and he delivered me from all my troubles.

Quaesivi Dominum et exaudivit me et de omnibus angustiis meis liberavit me

33:6. Come ye to him and be enlightened: and your faces shall not be confounded.

Respicite ad eum et confluite et vultus vestri non confundentur

33:7. This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him: and saved him out of all his troubles.

Hic pauper clamavit et Dominus exaudivit de omnibus tribulationibus salvabit eum

33:8. The angel of the Lord shall encamp round about them that fear him: and shall deliver them.

Circumdat angelus Domini in gyro timentes eum et eruet eos

33:9. O taste, and see that the Lord is sweet: blessed is the man that hopeth in him.

Gustate et videte quoniam bonus Dominus beatus vir qui sperat in eo

33:10. Fear the Lord, all ye his saints: for there is no want to them that fear him.

Timete Dominum sancti eius quoniam non est inopia timentibus eum

33:11. The rich have wanted, and have suffered hunger: but they that seek the Lord shall not be deprived of any good.

Leones indiguerunt et esurierunt quaerentibus autem Dominum non deerit omne bonum

33:12. Come, children, hearken to me: I will teach you the fear of the Lord.

Venite filii audite me timorem Domini docebo vos

33:13. Who is the man that desireth life: who liveth to see good days?

Quis est vir qui velit vitam diligens dies videre bonos

33:14. Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.

Custodi linguam tuam a malo et labia tua ne loquantur dolum

33:15. Turn away from evil and do good: seek after peace and pursue it.

Recede a malo et fac bonum quaere pacem et persequere eam

33:16. The eyes of the Lord are upon the just: and his ears unto their prayers.

Oculi Domini ad iustos et aures eius ad clamorem eorum

33:17. But the countenance of the Lord is against them that do evil things: to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

Vultus Domini super facientes malum ut perdat de terra memoriam eorum

33:18. The just cried, and the Lord heard them: and delivered them out of all their troubles.

Clamaverunt et Dominus exaudivit et ex omnibus tribulationibus eorum liberavit eos

33:19. The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a contrite heart: and he will save the humble of spirit.

Iuxta est Dominus contritis corde et confractos spiritu salvabit

33:20. Many are the afflictions of the just; but out of them all will the Lord deliver them.

Multae tribulationes iusti et ex omnibus illis liberabit eum Dominus

33:21. The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a contrite heart: and he will save the humble of spirit.

Custodit omnia ossa eius unum ex eis non confringetur

33:22. The death of the wicked is very evil: and they that hate the just shall be guilty.

Interficiet impium malitia et odientes iustum superabuntur

33:23. The Lord will redeem the souls of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall offend.

Redimet Dominus animam servorum suorum et non peccabunt omnes sperantes in eo

Psalm 34

Judica, Domine, nocentes me. David, in the person of Christ, prayeth against his persecutors: prophetically foreshowing the punishments that shall fall upon them.

---

34:1. For David himself. Judge thou, O Lord, them that wrong me: overthrow them that fight against me.
David iudica Domine adversarios meos pugna contra pugnantes me

34:2. Take hold of arms and shield: and rise up to help me.
Adprehende scutum et hastam et consurge in auxilium meum

34:3. Bring out the sword, and shut up the way against them that persecute me: say to my soul: I am thy salvation.
Evagina gladium et praeoccupa ex adverso persequentem me dic animae meae salus tua ego sum

34:4. Let them be confounded and ashamed that seek after my soul. Let them be turned back and be confounded that devise evil against me.
Confundantur et reveareantur qui quaerunt animam meam convertantur retrorsum et confundantur qui cogitant malum mihi

34:5. Let them become as dust before the wind: and let the angel of the Lord straiten them.
Fiant sicut pulvis ante faciem venti et angelus Domini inpellat

34:6. Let their way become dark and slippery; and let the angel of the Lord pursue them.
Sit via eorum tenebrae et lubricum et angelus Domini persequatur eos

34:7. For without cause they have hidden their net for me unto destruction: without cause they have upbraided my soul.
Quia frustra absconderunt mihi insidias retis sui sine causa foderunt animae meae

34:8. Let the snare which he knoweth not come upon him: and let the net which he hath hidden catch him: and into that very snare let them fall.
Veniat ei calamitas quam ignorat et rete suum quod abscondit comprehendat eum et cadat in laqueum

34:9. But my soul shall rejoice in the Lord; and shall be delighted in his salvation.
Anima autem mea exultabit in Domino et laetabitur in salute sua

34:10. All my bones shall say: Lord, who is like to thee? Who deliverest the poor from the hand of them that are stronger than he; the needy and the poor from them that strip him.
Omnia ossa mea dicent Domine quis similis tui eruens inopem a validiore et pauperem et mendicum a violento

34:11. Unjust witnesses rising up have asked me things I knew not.
Surgentes testes iniqui quae nesciebam interrogabant me

34:12. They repaid me evil for good: to the depriving me of my soul.
Reddebant mihi mala pro bono sterilitatem animae meae

34:13. But as for me, when they were troublesome to me, I was clothed with haircloth. I humbled my soul with fasting; and my prayer shall be turned into my bosom.
Ego autem cum infirmarer ab eis induebar cilicio humiliabam in ieiunio animam meam et oratio mea ad sinum meum revertetur

34:14. As a neighbour and as an own brother, so did I please: as one mourning and sorrowful so was I humbled.

Quasi ad amicum quasi ad fratrem meum sic ambulabam quasi lugens mater tristis incurvabar

34:15. But they rejoiced against me, and came together: scourges were gathered together upon me, and I knew not.

Et in infirmitate mea laetabantur et congregabantur collecti sunt adversum me percutientes et nesciebam

34:16. They were separated, and repented not: they tempted me, they scoffed at me with scorn: they gnashed upon me with their teeth.

Scindentes et non tacentes in simulatione verborum fictorum fredebant contra me dentibus suis

34:17. Lord, when wilt thou look upon me? rescue thou my soul from their malice: my only one from the lions.

Domine quanta aspicias converte animam meam a calamitatibus suis a leonibus solitariam meam

34:18. I will give thanks to thee in a great church; I will praise thee in a strong people.

Confitebor tibi in ecclesia grandi in populo forti laudabo te

34:19. Let not them that are my enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: who have hated me without cause, and wink with the eyes.

Non laentur super me inimici mei mendaces odientes me frustra coniventes oculo

34:20. For they spoke indeed peaceably to me; and speaking in the anger of the earth they devised guile.

Non enim pacem loquuntur sed in rapina terrae verba fraudulenta concinnant

34:21. And they opened their mouth wide against me; they said: Well done, well done, our eyes have seen it.

Et dilataverunt super me os suum dixerunt va va vidit oculus noster

34:22. Thou hast seen, O Lord, be not thou silent: O Lord, depart not from me.

Vidisti Domine ne taceas Domine ne elongeris a me

34:23. Arise, and be attentive to my judgment: to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

Consurge et evigila in iudicium meum Deus meus et Domine in causam meam

34:24. Judge me, O Lord my God according to thy justice, and let them not rejoice over me.

Iudica me secundum iustitiam meam Domine Deus meus et ne insultent mihi

34:25. Let them not say in their hearts: It is well, it is well, to our mind: neither let them say: We have swallowed him up.

Ne dicant in corde suo va va va animae nostrae ne dicant absorbuimus eum

34:26. Let them blush: and be ashamed together, who rejoice at my evils. Let them be clothed with confusion and shame, who speak great things against me.

Confundantur et reveantur pariter qui laetantur in afflictione mea induantur confusione et verecundia qui magnificantur super me

34:27. Let them rejoice and be glad, who are well pleased with my justice, and let them say always: The Lord be magnified, who delights in the peace of his servant.

Laudent et laentur qui volunt iustitiam meam et dicant semper magnificetur Dominus qui vult pacem servi sui

34:28. And my tongue shall meditate thy justice, thy praise all the day long.

Et lingua mea meditabitur iustitiam tuam tota die laudem tuam

Psalm 35

Dixit injustus. The malice of sinners, and the goodness of God.

35:1. Unto the end, for the servant of God, David himself.

Pro victoria servi Domini David

35:2. The unjust hath said within himself, that he would sin: there is no fear of God before his eyes.

Dixit scelus impii in medio cordis eius non esse timorem Dei ante oculos eius

35:3. For in his sight he hath done deceitfully, that his iniquity may be found unto hatred.

Quia dolose egit adversum eum in oculis suis ut inveniret iniquitatem eius ad odiendum

Unto hatred... That is, hateful to God.

35:4. The words of his mouth are iniquity and guile: he would not understand that he might do well.

Verba oris eius iniquitas et dolus cessavit cogitare benefacere

35:5. He hath devised iniquity on his bed, he hath set himself on every way that is not good: but evil he hath not hated.

Iniquitatem cogitat in cubili suo stabit in via non bona malum non abiciet

35:6. O Lord, thy mercy is in heaven, and thy truth reacheth even to the clouds.

Domine in caelo misericordia tua fides tua usque ad nubes

35:7. Thy justice is as the mountains of God, thy judgments are a great deep. Men and beasts thou wilt preserve, O Lord:

Iustitia tua quasi montes Domine iudicium tuum abyssus multa homines et iumenta salvos facies Domine

35:8. O how hast thou multiplied thy mercy, O God! But the children of men shall put their trust under the covert of thy wings.

Quam pretiosa est misericordia tua Domine et filii Adam in umbra alarum tuarum sperabunt

35:9. They shall be inebriated with the plenty of thy house; and thou shalt make them drink of the torrent of thy pleasure.

Inebriabuntur de pinguidine domus tuae et torrente deliciarum tuarum potabis eos

35:10. For with thee is the fountain of life; and in thy light we shall see light.

Quoniam tecum est fons vitae in lumine tuo videbimus lumen

35:11. Extend thy mercy to them that know thee, and thy justice to them that are right in heart.

Adtrahe misericordiam tuam scientibus te et iustitiam tuam rectis corde

35:12. Let not the foot of pride come to me, and let not the hand of the sinner move me.

Ne veniat mihi pes superbiae et manus impiorum non me commoveat

35:13. There the workers of iniquity are fallen, they are cast out, and could not stand.

Ibi ceciderunt operantes iniquitatem expulsi sunt et non potuerunt surgere

Psalm 36

Noli aemulari.* An exhortation to despise this world; and the short prosperity of the wicked; and to trust in Providence.

---

36:1. Be not emulous of evildoers; nor envy them that work iniquity.

David aleph noli contendere cum malignis neque aemuleris facientes iniquitatem

36:2. For they shall shortly wither away as grass, and as the green herbs shall quickly fall.

Quoniam sicut herba velociter conterentur et sicut holus viride arescent

36:3. Trust in the Lord, and do good, and dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed with its riches.

Beth spera in Domino et fac bonum peregrinare in terra et pascere fide

36:4. Delight in the Lord, and he will give thee the requests of thy heart.

Et delectare in Domino et dabit tibi petitiones cordis tui

36:5. Commit thy way to the Lord, and trust in him, and he will do it.

Gimel volve super Dominum viam tuam et confide in eo et ipse faciet

36:6. And he will bring forth thy justice as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday.

Et educet sicut lumen iustitiam tuam et iudicium tuum sicut meridiem

36:7. Be subject to the Lord and pray to him. Envy not the man who prospereth in his way; the man who doth unjust things.

Deleth tace Domino et expecta eum noli contendere adversum eum qui proficit in via sua adversum virum qui facit quae cogitat

36:8. Cease from anger, and leave rage; have no emulation to do evil.

He dimitte iram et relinque furorem noli contendere ut malefacias

36:9. For evildoers shall be cut off: but they that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the land.

Quoniam qui malefaciunt interibunt expectantes autem Dominum ipsi hereditabunt terram

36:10. For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be: and thou shalt seek his place, and shalt not find it.

Vav adhuc enim modicum et non erit impius et cogitabis de loco eius et non subsistet

36:11. But the meek shall inherit the land, and shall delight in abundance of peace.

Mites autem hereditabunt terram et delectabuntur in multitudine pacis

36:12. The sinner shall watch the just man: and shall gnash upon him with his teeth.

Zai cogitat impius de iusto et frendet adversum eum dentibus suis

36:13. But the Lord shall laugh at him: for he foreseeth that his day shall come.

Dominus deridebit eum videns quod venit dies eius

36:14. The wicked have drawn out the sword: they have bent their bow. To cast down the poor and needy, to kill the upright of heart.

Heth gladium evaginaverunt impii tetenderunt arcum suum ut percutiant egenum et pauperem et interficiant rectos in via 36:15. Let their sword enter into their own hearts, and let their bow be broken.

Gladius eorum ingrediatur in cor eorum et arcus eorum confringantur

36:16. Better is a little to the just, than the great riches of the wicked.

Teth melius est parum iusto quam divitiae impiorum multae

36:17. For the arms of the wicked shall be broken in pieces; but the Lord strengtheneth the just.
Quia brachia impiorum confringentur sublevat autem iustos Dominus

36:18. The Lord knoweth the days of the undefiled; and their inheritance shall be for ever.
Ioth novit Dominus diem immaculorum et hereditas eorum aeterna erit

36:19. They shall not be confounded in the evil time; and in the days of famine they shall be filled:
Non confundentur in tempore malo et in diebus famis saturabuntur

36:20. Because the wicked shall perish. And the enemies of the Lord, presently after they shall be honoured and exalted, shall come to nothing and vanish like smoke.
Caph quia impii peribunt et inimici Domini gloriantes ut monocerotes consumentur sicut fumus consumitur

36:21. The sinner shall borrow, and not pay again; but the just showeth mercy and shall give.
Lameth fenus accipit impius et non reddit iustus autem donat et tribuit

36:22. For such as bless him shall inherit the land: but such as curse him shall perish.
Quia qui benedicti fuerint ab eo hereditabunt terram et qui maledicti interibunt

36:23. With the Lord shall the steps of a man be directed, and he shall like well his way.
Mem a Domino gressus viri firmantur et viam eius volet

36:24. When he shall fall he shall not be bruised, for the Lord putteth his hand under him.
Cum ceciderit non adlidetur quia Dominus sustentat manum eius

36:25. I have been young and now am old; and I have not seen the just forsaken, nor his seed seeking bread.
Nun puer fui siquidem senui et non vidi iustum derelictum neque semen eius quaerens panem

36:26. He showeth mercy, and lendeth all the day long; and his seed shall be in blessing.
Tota die donat et commodat et semen eius in benedictione

36:27. Decline from evil and do good, and dwell for ever and ever.
Samech recede a malo et fac bonum et habita in sempiterno

36:28. For the Lord loveth judgment, and will not forsake his saints: they shall be preserved for ever. The unjust shall be punished, and the seed of the wicked shall perish.
Quia Dominus diligit iudicium et non derelinquet sanctos suos ain in aeternum custoditi sunt et semen impiorum perit

36:29. But the just shall inherit the land, and shall dwell therein for evermore.
Iusti hereditabunt terram et habitabunt in saeculum super eam

36:30. The mouth of the just shall meditate wisdom: and his tongue shall speak judgment.
Fe os iusti meditabitur sapientiam et lingua eius loquetur iudicium

36:31. The law of his God is in his heart, and his steps shall not be supplanted.
Lex Dei eius in corde eius non deficient gressus eius

36:32. The wicked watcheth the just man, and seeketh to put him to death,
Sade considerat impius iustum et quaerit ut occidat eum

36:33. But the Lord will not leave him in his hands; nor condemn him when he shall be judged.
Dominus non derelinquet eum in manu eius et non condemnabit eum cum iudicatur

36:34. Expect the Lord and keep his way: and he will exalt thee to inherit the land: when the sinners shall perish thou shalt see.
Coph expecta Dominum et custodi viam eius et exaltabit te ut possideas terram cum interibunt impii videbis

36:35. I have seen the wicked highly exalted, and lifted up like the cedars of Libanus.
Res vidi impium robustum et fortissimum sicut indigenam virentem

36:36. And I passed by, and lo, he was not: and I sought him and his place was not found.
Et transivi et ecce non erat et quaesivi eum et non est inventus

36:37. Keep innocence, and behold justice: for there are remnants for the peaceable man.
Sen custodi simplicitatem et vide rectum quia erit ad extremum viro pax

36:38. But the unjust shall be destroyed together: the remnants of the wicked shall perish.
Iniqui autem delebuntur pariter et novissimum impiorum peribit

36:39. But the salvation of the just is from the Lord, and he is their protector in the time of trouble.
Thau salus iustorum a Domino fortitudo eorum in tempore tribulationis

36:40. And the Lord will help them and deliver them: and he will rescue them from the wicked, and save them because they have hoped in him.
Et auxiliabitur eis Dominus et salvabit eos ab impiis quia speraverunt in eo

Psalm 37

Domine, ne in furore. A prayer of a penitent for the remission of his sins. The third penitential psalm.

---

37:1. A psalm for David, for a remembrance of the sabbath.

Canticum David in commemoratione

For a remembrance... Viz., of our miseries and sins: and to be sung on the sabbath day.

37:2. Rebuke me not, O Lord, in thy indignation; nor chastise me in thy wrath.

Domine ne in ira tua arguas me neque in furore tuo corripas me

37:3. For thy arrows are fastened in me: and thy hand hath been strong upon me.

Quia sagittae tuae infixae sunt mihi et tetigit me manus tua

37:4. There is no health in my flesh, because of thy wrath: there is no peace for my bones, because of my sins.

Non est sanitas in carne mea a facie indignationis tuae non est pax ossibus meis a facie peccati mei

37:5. For my iniquities are gone over my head: and as a heavy burden are become heavy upon me.

Quia iniquitates meae transierunt caput meum quasi onus grave adgravatae sunt super me

37:6. My sores are putrefied and corrupted, because of my foolishness.

Conputruerunt et tabuerunt cicatrices meae a facie insipientiae meae

37:7. I am become miserable, and am bowed down even to the end: I walked sorrowful all the day long.

Adflictus sum et incurvatus nimis tota die maerens ambulabam

37:8. For my loins are filled with illusions; and there is no health in my flesh.

Quia lumbi mei repleti sunt ignominia et non est sanitas in carne mea

37:9. I am afflicted and humbled exceedingly: I roared with the groaning of my heart.

Evigilavi et adflictus sum nimis rugiebam a gemitu cordis mei

37:10. Lord, all my desire is before thee, and my groaning is not hidden from thee.

Domine in conspectu tuo omne desiderium meum et gemitus meus a te non est absconditus

37:11. My heart is troubled, my strength hath left me, and the light of my eyes itself is not with me.

Cor meum fluctuabat dereliquit me fortitudo mea et lux oculorum meorum etiam ipsa non est mecum

37:12. My friends and my neighbours have drawn near, and stood against me. And they that were near me stood afar off:

Cari mei et amici mei quasi contra lepram meam steterunt et vicini mei longe steterunt

37:13. And they that sought my soul used violence. And they that sought evils to me spoke vain things, and studied deceits all the day long.

Et inruebant quaerentes animam meam et investigantes mala mihi loquebantur insidias et dolos tota die meditabantur

37:14. But I, as a deaf man, heard not: and as a dumb man not opening his mouth.

Ego autem quasi surdus non audiebam et quasi mutus non aperiebam os meum

37:15. And I became as a man that heareth not: and that hath no reproofs in his mouth.

Et eram quasi homo non audiens nec habens in ore suo redargutiones

37:16. For in thee, O Lord, have I hoped: thou wilt hear me, O Lord my God.

Te enim Domine expectabam tu exaudies Domine Deus meus

37:17. For I said: Lest at any time my enemies rejoice over me: and whilst my feet are moved, they speak great things against me.

Quia dixi ne forte insultent mihi et cum vacillaverint pedes mei super me magnificentur

37:18. For I am ready for scourges: and my sorrow is continually before me.

Quia ego ad plagas paratus et dolor meus contra me est semper

37:19. For I will declare my iniquity: and I will think for my sin.

Quia iniquitatem meam adnuntio sollicitus ero pro peccato meo

37:20. But my enemies live, and are stronger than I: and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

Inimici autem mei viventes confortati sunt et multiplicati sunt odientes me mendaciter

37:21. They that render evil for good, have detracted me, because I followed goodness.

Et qui reddunt malum pro bono adversabantur mihi quia sequebar bonum

37:22. For sake me not, O Lord my God: do not thou depart from me.

Ne derelinquas me Domine Deus meus ne elongeris a me

37:23. Attend unto my help, O Lord, the God of my salvation.

Festina in auxilium meum Domine salutis meae

Psalm 38

Dixi custodiam. A just man's peace and patience in his sufferings; considering the vanity of the world, and the providence of God.

---

38:1. Unto the end, for Idithun himself, a canticle of David.

Pro victoria Idithun canticum David

38:2. I said: I will take heed to my ways: that I sin not with my tongue. I have set a guard to my mouth, when the sinner stood against me.

Dixi custodiam vias meas ne peccem in lingua mea custodiam os meum silentio donec est impius contra me

38:3. I was dumb, and was humbled, and kept silence from good things: and my sorrow was renewed.

Obmutui silentio tacui de bono et dolor meus conturbatus est

38:4. My heart grew hot within me: and in my meditation a fire shall flame out.

Incaluit cor meum in medio mei in meditatione mea incensus sum igni

38:5. I spoke with my tongue: O Lord, make me know my end. And what is the number of my days: that I may know what is wanting to me.

Locutus sum lingua mea ostende mihi Domine finem meum et mensuram dierum meorum quae sit ut sciam quid mihi desit

38:6. Behold thou hast made my days measurable and my substance is as nothing before thee. And indeed all things are vanity: every man living.

Ecce breves posuisti dies meos et vita mea quasi non sit in conspectu tuo omnia enim vanitas omnis homo stans semper

38:7. Surely man passeth as an image: yea, and he is disquieted in vain. He storeth up: and he knoweth not for whom he shall gather these things.

Tantum in imagine ambulat homo tantum frustra turbatur congregat et ignorat cui dimittat ea

38:8. And now what is my hope? is it not the Lord? and my substance is with thee.

Nunc ergo quid expecto Domine praestolatio mea tu es

38:9. Deliver thou me from all my iniquities: thou hast made me a reproach to the fool.

Ab omnibus iniquitatibus meis libera me obprobrium stulto ne ponas me

38:10. I was dumb, and I opened not my mouth, because thou hast done it.

Obmutui non aperiam os meum quia tu fecisti

38:11. Remove thy scourges from me. The strength of thy hand hath made me faint in rebukes:

Tolle a me plagas tuas

38:12. Thou hast corrected man for iniquity. And thou hast made his soul to waste away like a spider: surely in vain is any man disquieted.

A contentione manus tuae ego consumptus sum in increpationibus pro iniquitate corripuisti virum et posuisti quasi tineam desiderabilia eius verumtamen vanitas omnis homo semper

38:13. Hear my prayer, O Lord, and my supplication: give ear to my tears. Be no silent: for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner as all my fathers were.

Audi orationem meam Domine et clamorem meum exaudi ad lacrimam meam ne absurdescas quia advena ego sum apud te et peregrinus sicut omnes patres mei

38:14. O forgive me, that I may be refreshed, before I go hence, and be no more.

Parce mihi ut rideam antequam vadam et non subsistam

Psalm 39

Expectans expectavi. Christ's coming, and redeeming mankind.

39:1. Unto the end, a psalm for David himself.

Pro victoria David canticum

39:2. With expectation I have waited for the Lord, and he was attentive to me.

Expectans expectavi Dominum et inclinatus est ad me

39:3. And he heard my prayers, and brought me out of the pit of misery and the mire of dregs. And he set my feet upon a rock, and directed my steps.

Et audivit clamorem meum et eduxit me de lacu famoso de luto caeni et statuit super petram pedes meos stabilivit gressus meos

39:4. And he put a new canticle into my mouth, a song to our God. Many shall see, and shall fear: and they shall hope in the Lord.

Et dedit in ore meo canticum novum laudem Deo nostro videbunt multi et timebunt et sperabunt in Domino

39:5. Blessed is the man whose trust is in the name of the Lord; and who hath not had regard to vanities, and lying follies.

Beatus vir qui posuit Dominum confidentiam suam et non est aversus ad superbias pompasque mendacii

39:6. Thou hast multiplied thy wonderful works, O Lord my God: and in thy thoughts there is no one like to thee. I have declared and I have spoken they are multiplied above number.

Multa fecisti tu Domine Deus meus mirabilia tua et cogitationes tuas pro nobis non invenio ordinem coram te si narrare voluero et numerare plura sunt quam ut narrari queant

39:7. Sacrifice and oblation thou didst not desire; but thou hast pierced ears for me. Burnt offering and sin offering thou didst not require:

Victima et oblatione non indiges aures fodisti mihi holocaustum et pro peccato non petisti

39:8. Then said I, Behold I come. In the head of the book it is written of me

Tunc dixi ecce venio in volumine libri scriptum est de me

39:9. That I should do thy will: O my God, I have desired it, and thy law in the midst of my heart.

Ut facerem placitum tibi Deus meus volui et legem tuam in medio ventris mei

39:10. I have declared thy justice in a great church, lo, I will not restrain my lips: O Lord, thou knowest it.

Adnuntiavi iustum in ecclesia multa ecce labia mea non prohibebo Domine tu nosti

39:11. I have not hid thy justice within my heart: I have declared thy truth and thy salvation. I have not concealed thy mercy and thy truth from a great council.

Iustitiam tuam non abscondi in medio cordis mei fidem tuam et salutare tuum dixi non abscondi misericordiam tuam et veritatem tuam in ecclesia multa

39:12. Withhold not thou, O Lord, thy tender mercies from me: thy mercy and thy truth have always upheld me.

Tu Domine non prohibebis misericordias tuas a me misericordia tua et veritas iugiter servabunt me

39:13. For evils without number have surrounded me; my iniquities have overtaken me, and I was not able to see. They are multiplied above the hairs of my head: and my heart hath forsaken me.

Circumdedederunt enim me mala quorum non est numerus comprehenderunt me iniquitates meae et non potui videre plures factae sunt quam capilli capitis mei et cor meum dereliquit me

My iniquities... That is, the sins of all mankind, which I have taken upon me.

39:14. Be pleased, O Lord, to deliver me. Look down, O Lord, to help me.
Placeat tibi Domine ut liberes me Domine ad adiuvandum me festina

39:15. Let them be confounded and ashamed together, that seek after my soul to take it away. Let them be turned backward and be ashamed that desire evils to me.
Confundantur et revereantur simul quaerentes animam meam ut auferant eam convertantur retrorsum et confundantur qui volunt mala mihi

39:16. Let them immediately bear their confusion, that say to me: 'T is well, 't is well.
Pereant post confusionem suam qui dicunt mihi va va

'T is well... The Hebrew here is an interjection of insult and derision, like the Vah. Matthew 27:49.

39:17. Let all that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: and let such as love thy salvation say always: The Lord be magnified.

Gaudeant et laetentur in te qui quaerunt te dicant iugiter magnificetur Dominus qui diligunt salutare tuum

39:18. But I am a beggar and poor: the Lord is careful for me. Thou art my helper and my protector: O my God, be not slack.

Ego autem sum egens et pauper Dominus sollicitus erit pro me auxilium meum et salutare meum tu Deus meus ne moreris

Psalm 40

Beatus qui intelligit.* The happiness of him that shall believe in Christ; notwithstanding the humility and poverty in which he shall come: the malice of his enemies, especially of the traitor Judas.

---

40:1. Unto the end, a psalm for David himself.

Pro victoria canticum David

40:2. Blessed is he that understandeth concerning the needy and the poor: the Lord will deliver him in the evil day.

Beatus qui cogitat de paupere in die mala salvabit eum Dominus

40:3. The Lord preserve him and give him life, and make him blessed upon the earth: and deliver him not up to the will of his enemies.

Dominus custodiet eum et vivificabit eum et beatus erit in terra et non tradet eum animae inimicorum suorum

40:4. The Lord help him on his bed of sorrow: thou hast turned all his couch in his sickness.

Dominus confortabit eum in lecto infirmitatis totum stratum eius vertisti in aegrotatione sua

40:5. I said: O Lord, be thou merciful to me: heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

Ego dixi Domine miserere mei sana animam meam quoniam peccavi tibi

40:6. My enemies have spoken evils against me: when shall he die and his name perish?

Inimici mei loquentur malum mihi quando morietur et periet nomen eius

40:7. And if he came in to see me, he spoke vain things: his heart gathered together iniquity to itself. He went out and spoke to the same purpose.

Et si venerit ut visitet vana loquetur cor eius congregabit iniquitatem sibi et egrediens foras detrahet

40:8. All my enemies whispered together against me: they devised evils to me.

Simul adversum me murmurabant omnes odientes me contra cogitabant malum mihi

40:9. They determined against me an unjust word: shall he that sleepeth rise again no more?

Verbum diabuli infundebant sibi qui dormivit non addet ut resurgat

40:10. For even the man of my peace, in whom I trusted, who ate my bread, hath greatly supplanted me.

Sed et homo pacificus meus in quo habui fiduciam qui manducabat panem meum levavit contra me plantam

40:11. But thou, O Lord, have mercy on me, and raise me up again: and I will requite them.

Tu autem Domine miserere mei et leva me ut reddam eis

40:12. By this I know, that thou hast had a good will for me: because my enemy shall not rejoice over me.

In hoc cognovi quod velis me quia non insultavit inimicus meus mihi

40:13. But thou hast upheld me by reason of my innocence: and hast established me in thy sight for ever.

Ego autem in simplicitate mea adiutus sum a te et statues me ante faciem tuam in perpetuum

40:14. Blessed be the Lord the God of Israel from eternity to eternity. So be it. So be it.

Benedictus Dominus Deus Israhel a saeculo et usque in saeculum amen amen

Psalm 41

Quemadmodum desiderat.* The fervent desire of the just after God: hope in afflictions.

---

41:1. Unto the end, understanding for the sons of Core.

Pro victoria doctissimi filiorum Core

41:2. As the hart panteth after the fountains of water; so my soul panteth after thee, O God.

Sicut areola praeeparata ad inrigationes aquarum sic anima mea praeeparata est ad te Deus

41:3. My soul hath thirsted after the strong living God; when shall I come and appear before the face of God?

Sitivit anima mea Deum fortem viventem quando veniam et parebo ante faciem tuam

41:4. My tears have been my bread day and night, whilst it is said to me daily: Where is thy God?

Fuerunt mihi lacrimae meae panis per diem ac noctem cum diceretur mihi tota die ubi est Deus tuus

41:5. These things I remembered, and poured out my soul in me: for I shall go over into the place of the wonderful tabernacle, even to the house of God: With the voice of joy and praise; the noise of one feasting.

Horum recordatus sum et effudi in me animam meam quia veniam ad umbraculum tacebo usque ad domum Dei in voce laudis et confessionis multitudinis festa celebrantis

41:6. Why art thou sad, O my soul? and why dost thou trouble me? Hope in God, for I will still give praise to him: the salvation of my countenance,

Quare incurvaris anima mea et conturbas me expecta Dominum quia adhuc confitebor ei salutaribus vultus eius

41:7. And my God. My soul is troubled within my self: therefore will I remember thee from the land of Jordan and Hermoniim, from the little hill.

Deus meus in memet ipso anima mea incurvatur propterea recordabor tui de terra Iordanis et Hermoniim de monte minimo

41:8. Deep calleth on deep, at the noise of thy flood-gates. All thy heights and thy billows have passed over me.

Abyssus abyssum vocat in voce cataractarum tuarum omnes gurgites tui et fluctus tui super me transierunt

41:9. In the daytime the Lord hath commanded his mercy; and a canticle to him in the night. With me is prayer to the God of my life.

Per diem mandavit Dominus misericordiam suam et in nocte canticum eius mecum oratio Deo vitae meae

41:10. I will say to God: Thou art my support. Why hast thou forgotten me? and why go I mourning, whilst my enemy afflicteth me?

Dicam Deo petra mea quare oblitus es mei quare tristis incedo adfligente inimico

41:11. Whilst my bones are broken, my enemies who trouble me have reproached me; Whilst they say to me day by day: Where is thy God?

Cum me interficerent in ossibus meis exprobraverunt mihi hostes mei dicentes tota die ubi est Deus tuus

41:12. Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why dost thou disquiet me? Hope thou in God, for I will still give praise to him: the salvation of my countenance, and my God.

Quare incurvaris anima mea et conturbas me expecta Dominum quoniam adhuc confitebor ei salutibus vultus mei et Deo meo

Psalm 42

Judica me, Deus.* The prophet aspireth after the temple and altar of God.

---

42:1. A psalm for David. Judge me, O God, and distinguish my cause from the nation that is not holy: deliver me from the unjust and deceitful man.

Iudica me Deus et discerne causam meam a gente non sancta a viro doloso et iniquo salva me

42:2. For thou art God my strength: why hast thou cast me off? and why do I go sorrowful whilst the enemy afflicteth me?

Tu enim Deus fortitudo mea quare proiecisti me quare tristis incedo adfligente inimico

42:3. Sent forth thy light and thy truth: they have conducted me, and brought me unto thy holy hill, and into thy tabernacles.

Mitte lucem tuam et veritatem tuam ipsae ducent me et introducent ad montem sanctum tuum et ad tabernaculum tuum

42:4. And I will go in to the altar of God: to God who giveth joy to my youth.

Et introibo ad altare tuum ad Deum laetitiae et exultationis meae et confitebor tibi in cithara Deus Deus meus

42:5. To thee, O God my God, I will give praise upon the harp: why art thou sad, O my soul? and why dost thou disquiet me?

Quare incurvaris anima mea et quare conturbas me expecta Dominum quoniam adhuc confitebor ei salutibus vultus mei et Deo meo

Psalm 43

Deus auribus nostris. The church commemorates former favours, and present afflictions; under which she prays for succour.

---

43:1. Unto the end, for the sons of Core, to give understanding.

Pro victoria filiorum Core eruditionis

43:2. We have heard, O God, with our ears: our fathers have declared to us, The work thou hast wrought in their days, and in the days of old.

Deus auribus nostris audivimus patres nostri narraverunt nobis opus quod operatus es in diebus eorum in diebus antiquis

43:3. Thy hand destroyed the Gentiles, and thou plantedst them: thou didst afflict the people and cast them out.

Tu manu tua gentes delisti et plantasti eos adflixisti populos et emisisti eos

43:4. For they got not the possession of the land by their own sword: neither did their own arm save them. But thy right hand and thy arm, and the light of thy countenance: because thou wast pleased with them.

Non enim in gladio suo possederunt terram neque brachium eorum salvavit eos sed dextera tua et brachium tuum et lux vultus tui quia conplacuisti tibi

43:5. Thou art thyself my king and my God, who commandest the saving of Jacob.

Tu es rex meus Deus praecipe pro salutibus Iacob

43:6. Through thee we will push down our enemies with the horn: and through thy name we will despise them that rise up against us.

In te hostes nostros ventilabimus in nomine tuo conculcabitur adversarios nostros

43:7. For I will not trust in my bow: neither shall my sword save me.

Non enim in arcu meo confidam neque gladius meus salvabit me

43:8. But thou hast saved us from them that afflict us: and hast put them to shame that hate us.

Quia salvasti nos de hostibus nostris et eos qui oderant nos confundisti

43:9. In God shall we glory all the day long: and in thy name we will give praise for ever.

In Domino gaudebimus tota die et in nomine tuo in aeternum confitebimur semper

43:10. But now thou hast cast us off, and put us to shame: and thou, O God, wilt not go out with our armies.

Verum tu proiecisti et confundisti nos et non egredieris in exercitibus nostris

43:11. Thou hast made us turn our back to our enemies: and they that hated us plundered for themselves.

Vertisti terga nostra hosti et qui oderant nos diripuerunt nos

43:12. Thou hast given us up like sheep to be eaten: thou hast scattered us among the nations.

Dedisti nos quasi gregem ad vorandum et in gentibus dispersisti nos

43:13. Thou hast sold thy people for no price: and there was no reckoning in the exchange of them.

Vendidisti populum tuum sine pretio nec grandis fuit commutatio eorum

43:14. Thou hast made us a reproach to our neighbours, a scoff and derision to them that are round about us.

Posuisti nos obprobrium vicinis nostris subsannationem et inrisum his qui erant in circuitu nostro

43:15. Thou hast made us a byword among the Gentiles: a shaking of the head among the people.
Posuisti nos similitudinem in gentibus commotionem capitis in tribubus

43:16. All the day long my shame is before me: and the confusion of my face hath covered me,
Tota die confusio mea contra me et ignominia faciei meae cooperuit me

43:17. At the voice of him that reproacheth and detracteth me: at the face of the enemy and persecutor.
A voce exprobrantis et blasphemantis a facie inimici et ultoris

43:18. All these things have come upon us, yet we have not forgotten thee: and we have not done wickedly in thy covenant.
Omnia haec venerunt super nos et non sumus obliti tui nec mentiti fuimus in pacto tuo

43:19. And our heart hath not turned back: neither hast thou turned aside our steps from thy way.
Non est conversum retro cor nostrum nec declinaverunt gressus nostri a semita tua

43:20. For thou hast humbled us in the place of affliction: and the shadow of death hath covered us.
Quoniam deiecisti nos in loco draconum et operuisti nos umbra mortis

43:21. If we have forgotten the name of our God, and if we have spread forth our hands to a strange god:
Si obliti sumus nominis Dei nostri et expandimus manus nostras ad deum alienum

43:22. Shall not God search out these things: for he knoweth the secrets of the heart. Because for thy sake we are killed all the day long: we are counted as sheep for the slaughter.
Numquid non Deus investigabit istud ipse enim novit cogitationes cordis quoniam propter te mortificati sumus tota die reputati sumus ut grex occisionis

43:23. Arise, why sleepest thou, O Lord? arise, and cast us not off to the end.
Consurge quare dormitas Domine evigila quare proicis nos in sempiternum

43:24. Why turnest thou thy face away? and forgettest our want and our trouble?
Quare faciem tuam abscondis oblivisceris adflictiones et angustias nostras

43:25. For our soul is humbled down to the dust: our belly cleaveth to the earth.
Quoniam incurvata est in pulvere anima nostra adhesit terrae venter noster

43:26. Arise, O Lord, help us and redeem us for thy name's sake.
Surge auxiliare nobis et redime nos propter misericordiam tuam

Psalm 44

Eructavit cor meum. The excellence of Christ's kingdom, and the endowments of his church.

---

44:1. Unto the end, for them that shall be changed, for the sons of Core, for understanding. A canticle for the Beloved.

Victori pro liliis filiorum Core eruditionis canticum amantissimi

For them that shall be changed... i.e., for souls happily changed, by being converted to God. -- Ibid. The Beloved... Viz., Our Lord Jesus Christ.

44:2. My heart hath uttered a good word: I speak my works to the king: My tongue is the pen of a scrivener that writeth swiftly.

Eructavit cor meum verbum bonum dico ego opera mea regi lingua mea stilus scribae velocis

44:3. Thou art beautiful above the sons of men: grace is poured abroad in thy lips; therefore hath God blessed thee for ever.

Decore pulchrior es filiis hominum effusa est gratia in labiis tuis propterea benedixit tibi Deus in aeternum

44:4. Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O thou most mighty.

Accingere gladio tuo super femur fortissime

44:5. With thy comeliness and thy beauty set out, proceed prosperously, and reign. Because of truth and meekness and justice: and thy right hand shall conduct thee wonderfully.

Gloria tua et decore tuo decore tuo prospere ascende propter veritatem et mansuetudinem iustitiae et docebit te terribilia dextera tua

44:6. Thy arrows are sharp: under thee shall people fall, into the hearts of the king's enemies.

Sagittae tuae acutae populi sub te cadent in corde inimicorum regis

44:7. Thy throne, O God, is forever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a sceptre of uprightness.

Thronus tuus Deus in saeculum et in aeternum sceptrum aequitatis sceptrum regni tui

44:8. Thou hast loved justice, and hated iniquity: therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

Dilexisti iustitiam et odisti iniquitatem propterea unxit te Deus Deus tuus oleo exultationis prae participibus tuis

44:9. Myrrh and stacte and cassia perfume thy garments, from the ivory houses: out of which

Zmyrna et stacte et cassia in cunctis vestimentis tuis de domibus eburneis quibus laetificaverunt te

44:10. The daughters of kings have delighted thee in thy glory. The queen stood on thy right hand, in gilded clothing; surrounded with variety.

Filiae regum in honore tuo stetit coniux in dextera tua in diademate aureo

44:11. Hearken, O daughter, and see, and incline thy ear: and forget thy people and thy father's house.

Audi filia et vide et inclina aurem tuam et obliviscere populi tui et domus patris tui

44:12. And the king shall greatly desire thy beauty; for he is the Lord thy God, and him they shall adore.

Et concupiscet rex decorem tuum quia ipse est dominus tuus et adora eum

44:13. And the daughters of Tyre with gifts, yea, all the rich among the people, shall entreat thy countenance.

Et o filia fortissimi in muneribus faciem tuam deprecabuntur divites populi

44:14. All the glory of the king's daughter is within in golden borders,

Omnis gloria filiae regis intrinsecus fasceis aureis vestita est

44:15. Clothed round about with varieties. After her shall virgins be brought to the king: her neighbours shall be brought to thee.

In scutulatis ducetur ad regem virgines sequentur eam amicae eius ducentur illuc

44:16. They shall be brought with gladness and rejoicing: they shall be brought into the temple of the king.

Ducentur in laetitiis et exultatione ingredientur thalamum regis

44:17. Instead of thy fathers, sons are born to thee: thou shalt make them princes over all the earth.

Pro patribus tuis erunt filii tibi pones eos principes in universa terra

44:18. They shall remember thy name throughout all generations. Therefore shall people praise thee for ever; yea, for ever and ever.

Recordabor nominis tui in omni generatione et generatione propterea populi confitebuntur tibi in saeculum et in aeternum

Psalm 45

Deus noster refugium. The church in persecution trusteth in the protection of God.

---

45:1. Unto the end, for the sons of Core, for the hidden.

Victori filiorum Core pro iuventutibus canticum

45:2. Our God is our refuge and strength: a helper in troubles, which have found us exceedingly.

Deus nostra spes et fortitudo auxilium in tribulationibus inventus es validum

45:3. Therefore we will not fear, when the earth shall be troubled; and the mountains shall be removed into the heart of the sea.

Ideo non timebimus cum fuerit translata terra et concussi montes in corde maris

45:4. Their waters roared and were troubled: the mountains were troubled with his strength.

Sonantibus et intumescentibus gurgitibus eius et agitatis montibus in potentia eius semper

45:5. The stream of the river maketh the city of God joyful: the most High hath sanctified his own tabernacle.

Fluminis divisiones laetificant civitatem Dei sanctum tabernaculum Altissimi

45:6. God is in the midst thereof, it shall not be moved: God will help it in the morning early.

Dominus in medio eius non commovebitur auxiliabitur ei Deus in ipso ortu matutino

45:7. Nations were troubled, and kingdoms were bowed down: he uttered his voice, the earth trembled.

Conturbatae sunt gentes concussa sunt regna dedit vocem suam prostrata est terra

45:8. The Lord of armies is with us: the God of Jacob is our protector.

Dominus exercituum nobiscum protector noster Deus Iacob semper

45:9. Come and behold ye the works of the Lord: what wonders he hath done upon earth,

Venite et videte opera Domini quantas posuerit solitudines in terra

45:10. Making wars to cease even to the end of the earth. He shall destroy the bow, and break the weapons: and the shield he shall burn in the fire.

Conspescuit bella usque ad extremum terrae arcum confringet et concidet hastam plaustra conburet igni

45:11. Be still and see that I am God; I will be exalted among the nations, and I will be exalted in the earth.

Cessate et cognoscite quoniam ego sum Deus exaltabor in gentibus exaltabor in terra

45:12. The Lord of armies is with us: the God of Jacob is our protector.

Dominus exercituum nobiscum fortitudo nostra Deus Iacob semper

Psalm 46

Omnes gentes, plaudite.* The Gentiles are invited to praise God for the establishment of the kingdom of Christ.

---

46:1. Unto the end, for the sons of Core.

Victori filiorum Core canticum

46:2. O clap your hands, all ye nations: shout unto God with the voice of joy,

Omnes populi plaudite manibus iubilate Deo in voce laudis

46:3. For the Lord is high, terrible: a great king over all the earth.

Quoniam Dominus altissimus terribilis rex magnus super omnem terram

46:4. He hath subdued the people under jus; and the nations under our feet.

Congregavit populos subter nos et tribus sub pedibus nostris

46:5. He hath chosen for us his inheritance, the beauty of Jacob which he hath love.

Elegit nobis hereditatem nostram gloriam Iacob quam dilexit semper

46:6. God is ascended with jubilee, and the Lord with the sound of trumpet.

Ascendit Deus in iubilo Deus in voce bucinæ

46:7. Sing praises to our God, sing ye: sing praises to our king, sing ye.

Canite Deo canite canite regi nostro canite

46:8. For God is the king of all the earth: sing ye wisely.

Quia rex universæ terræ Deus canite erudite

46:9. God shall reign over the nations: God sitteth on his holy throne.

Regnavit Deus super gentes Deus sedet super thronum sanctum suum

46:10. The princes of the people are gathered together, with the God of Abraham: for the strong gods of the earth are exceedingly exalted.

Principes populorum congregati sunt populus Dei Abraham quoniam Dei scuta terræ vehementer elevata sunt

Psalm 47

Magnus Dominus. God is greatly to be praised for the establishment of his church.

---

47:1. A psalm of a canticle, for the sons of Core, on the second day of the week.

Canticum psalmi filiorum Core

47:2. Great is the Lord, and exceedingly to be praised in the city of our God, in his holy mountain.

Magnus Dominus et laudabilis nimis in civitate Dei nostri in monte sancto suo

47:3. With the joy of the whole earth is mount Sion founded, on the sides of the north, the city of the great king.

Specioso germi gaudio universae terrae monti Sion lateribus aquilonis civitatulae regis magni

47:4. In her houses shall God be known, when he shall protect her.

Deus in domibus eius agnitus est in auxiliando

47:5. For behold the kings of the earth assembled themselves: they gathered together.

Quia ecce reges congregati sunt venerunt simul

47:6. So they saw, and they wondered, they were troubled, they were moved:

Ipsi videntes sic obstipuerunt conturbati sunt admirati sunt

47:7. Trembling took hold of them. There were pains as of a woman in labour.

Horror possedit eos ibi dolor quasi parturientis

47:8. With a vehement wind thou shalt break in pieces the ships of Tharsis.

In vento uredinis confringes naves maris

47:9. As we have heard, so have we seen, in the city of the Lord of hosts, in the city of our God: God hath founded it for ever.

Sicut audivimus ita vidimus in civitate Dei exercituum in civitate Dei nostri Deus fundavit eam usque in aeternum semper

47:10. We have received thy mercy, O God, in the midst of thy temple.

Aestimavimus Deus misericordiam tuam in medio templi tui

47:11. According to thy name, O God, so also is thy praise unto the ends of the earth: thy right hand is full of justice.

Secundum nomen tuum Deus sic laus tua usque ad extremum terrae iustitia repleta est dextera tua

47:12. Let mount Sion rejoice, and the daughters of Juda be glad; because of thy judgments, O Lord.

Laetetur mons Sion exultent filiae Iudae propter iudicia tua

47:13. Surround Sion, and encompass her: tell Iye in her towers.

Circumdate Sion et circumite eam numerate tures eius

47:14. Set your hearts on her strength; and distribute her houses, that ye may relate it in another generation.

Ponite cor vestrum in moenibus separate palatia eius ut narretis in generatione novissima

47:15. For this is God, our God unto eternity, and for ever and ever: he shall rule us for evermore.

Quia ipse Deus Deus noster in saeculum et in perpetuum ipse erit dux noster in morte

Psalm 48

Audite haec, omnes gentes. The folly of worldlings, who live on in sin, without thinking of death or hell.

---

48:1. Unto the end, a psalm for the sons of Core.

Victori filiorum Core canticum

48:2. Hear these things, all ye nations: give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world.

Audite hoc omnes populi auribus percipite universi habitatores occidentis

48:3. All you that are earthborn, and you sons of men: both rich and poor together.

Tam filii Adam quam filii singulorum simul dives et pauper

48:4. My mouth shall speak wisdom: and the meditation of my heart understanding.

Os meum loquitur sapientias et meditatio cordis mei prudentias

48:5. I will incline my ear to a parable; I will open my proposition on the psaltery.

Inclino ad parabolam aurem meam aperiam in cithara enigma meum

48:6. Why shall I fear in the evil day? the iniquity of my heel shall encompass me.

Quare timebo in diebus mali iniquitas calcanei mei circumdabit me

The iniquity of my heel... That is, the iniquity of my steps or ways: or the iniquity of my pride, with which as with the heel, I have spurned and kicked at my neighbours: or the iniquity of my heel, that is, the iniquity in which I shall be found in death. The meaning of this verse is, Why should I now indulge those passions and sinful affections, or commit now those sins, which will cause me so much fear and anguish in the evil day: when the sorrows of death shall compass me, and the perils of hell shall find me?

48:7. They that trust in their own strength, and glory in the multitude of their riches,

Qui fiduciam habent in fortitudine sua et in multitudine divitiarum suarum superbiunt

They that trust, etc... As much as to say, let them fear that trust in their strength or riches: for they have great reason to fear: seeing no brother or other man, how much a friend soever, can by any price or labour rescue them from death.

48:8. No brother can redeem, nor shall man redeem: he shall not give to God his ransom,

Fratrem redimens non redimet vir nec dabit Deo propitiationem pro eo

48:9. Nor the price of the redemption of his soul: and shall labour for ever,

Neque pretium redemptionis animae eorum sed quiescet in saeculo

And shall labour for ever, etc... This seems to be a continuation of the foregoing sentence: as much as to say no man can by any price or ransom prolong his life, that so he may still continue to labour here, and live to the end of the world. Others understand it of the eternal sorrows, and dying life of hell, which is the dreadful consequence of dying in sin.

48:10. And shall still live unto the end.

Et vivet ultra in sempiternum

48:11. He shall not see destruction, when he shall see the wise dying: the senseless and the fool shall perish together: And they shall leave their riches to strangers:

Et non videbit interitum cum viderit sapientes morientes simul insipiens et indoctus peribunt et derelinquent alienis divitias suas

He shall not see destruction, etc... Or, shall he not see destruction? As much as to say, however thoughtless he may be of his death, he must not expect to escape; when even the wise and the good are not exempt from dying.

48:12. And their sepulchres shall be their houses for ever. Their dwelling places to all generations: they have called their lands by their names.

Interiora sua domus suas in saeculo tabernacula sua in generatione et generatione vocaverunt nominibus suis terras suas

They have called, etc... That is, they have left their names on their graves, which alone remain of their lands.

48:13. And man when he was in honour did not understand; he is compared to senseless beasts, and is become like to them.

Et homo in honore non commorabitur adsimilatus est iumentis et exaequatus est

48:14. This way of theirs is a stumblingblock to them: and afterwards they shall delight in their mouth.

Haec est via insipientiae eorum et post eos iuxta os eorum current semper

They shall delight in their mouth... Notwithstanding the wretched way in which they walk, they shall applaud themselves with their mouths, and glory in their doings.

48:15. They are laid in hell like sheep: death shall feed upon them. And the just shall have dominion over them in the morning; and their help shall decay in hell from their glory.

Quasi grex in inferno positi sunt mors pascet eos et subicient eos recti in matutino et figura eorum conteretur in inferno post habitaculum suum

In the morning... That is, in the resurrection to a new life; when the just shall judge and condemn the wicked. Ibid. From their glory... That is, when their short-lived glory in this world shall be past, and be no more.

48:16. But God will redeem my soul from the hand of hell, when he shall receive me.

Verumtamen Deus redimet animam meam de manu inferi cum adsumpserit me semper

48:17. Be not thou afraid, when a man shall be made rich, and when the glory of his house shall be increased.

Noli timere cum ditatus fuerit vir cum multiplicata fuerit gloria domus eius

48:18. For when he shall die he shall take nothing away; nor shall his glory descend with him.

Neque enim moriens tollet omnia nec descendet post eum gloria eius

48:19. For in his lifetime his soul will be blessed: and he will praise thee when thou shalt do well to him.

Quia animae suae in vita sua benedicet laudabunt inquit te cum benefeceris tibi

48:20. He shall go in to the generations of his fathers: and he shall never see light.

Intrabit usque ad generationes patrum suorum usque ad finem non videbunt lucem

48:21. Man when he was in honour did not understand: he hath been compared to senseless beasts, and made like to them.

Homo cum in honore esset non intellexit comparavit se iumentis et silebitur

Psalm 49

Deus deorum. The coming of Christ: who prefers virtue and inward purity before the blood of victims.

49:1. A psalm for Asaph. The God of gods, the Lord hath spoken: and he hath called the earth. From the rising of the sun, to the going down thereof:

Canticum Asaph fortis Deus Dominus locutus est et vocavit terram ab ortu solis usque ad occasum eius

49:2. Out of Sion the loveliness of his beauty.

De Sion perfecta decore Deus apparuit

49:3. God shall come manifestly: our God shall come, and shall not keep silence. A fire shall burn before him: and a mighty tempest shall be round about him.

Veniet Deus noster et non tacebit ignis coram eo vorabit et in circuitu eius tempestas valida

49:4. He shall call heaven from above, and the earth, to judge his people.

Vocabit caelum desursum et terram ut iudicet populum suum

49:5. Gather ye together his saints to him: who set his covenant before sacrifices.

Congregate mihi sanctos meos qui ferunt pactum meum in sacrificio

49:6. And the heavens shall declare his justice: for God is judge.

Et adnuntiabunt caeli iustitiam eius quia Deus iudex est semper

49:7. Hear, O my people, and I will speak: O Israel, and I will testify to thee: I am God, thy God.

Audi popule meus et loquar Israhel et contestabor te Deus Deus tuus ego sum

49:8. I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices: and thy burnt offerings are always in my sight.

Non propter victimas tuas arguam te et holocaustomata tua coram me sunt semper

49:9. I will not take calves out of thy house: nor he goats out of thy flocks.

Non accipiam de domo tua vitulum neque de gregibus tuis hircos

49:10. For all the beasts of the woods are mine: the cattle on the hills, and the oxen.

Mea sunt enim omnia animalia silvarum pecudes in montibus milium

49:11. I know all the fowls of the air: and with me is the beauty of the field.

Scio omnes aves montium et universitas agri mecum est

49:12. If I should be hungry, I would not tell thee: for the world is mine, and the fulness thereof.

Si esuriero non dicam tibi meus est enim orbis et plenitudo eius

49:13. Shall I eat the flesh of bullocks? or shall I drink the blood of goats?

Numquid comedam carnem taurorum aut sanguinem hircorum bibam

49:14. Offer to God the sacrifice of praise: and pay thy vows to the most High.

Immola Deo laudem et redde Altissimo vota tua

49:15. And call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me.

Et invoca me in die tribulationis liberabo te et glorificabis me

49:16. But to the sinner God hath said: Why dost thou declare my justices, and take my covenant in thy mouth?

Impio autem dixit Deus quid tibi est cum narratione praeceptorum meorum et ut adsumas pactum meum in ore tuo

49:17. Seeing thou hast hated discipline: and hast cast my words behind thee.
Qui odisti disciplinam et proiecisti verba mea post te

49:18. If thou didst see a thief thou didst run with him: and with adulterers thou hast been a partaker.
Si videbas furem consentiebas ei et cum adulteris erat pars tua

49:19. Thy mouth hath abounded with evil, and thy tongue framed deceits.
Os tuum dimisisti ad malitiam et lingua tua concinnavit dolum

49:20. Sitting thou didst speak against thy brother, and didst lay a scandal against thy mother's son:
Sedens adversum fratrem tuum loquebaris et adversum filium matris tuae fabricabar obprobrium

49:21. These things hast thou done, and I was silent. Thou thoughtest unjustly that I should be like to thee: but I will reprove thee, and set before thy face.
Haec fecisti et tacui existimasti futurum me similem tui arguam te et proponam te ante oculos tuos

49:22. Understand these things, you that forget God; lest he snatch you away, and there be none to deliver you.
Intellegite hoc qui obliviscimini Deum ne forte capiam et non sit qui liberet

49:23. The sacrifice of praise shall glorify me: and there is the way by which I will show him the salvation of God.
Qui immolat confessionem glorificat me et qui ordinate ambulat ostendam ei salutare Dei

Psalm 50

Miserere. The repentance and confession of David after his sin. The fourth penitential psalm.

---

50:1. Unto the end, a psalm of David,
Victori canticum David

50:2. When Nathan the prophet came to him, after he had sinned with Bethsabee. [2 Samuel 12.]
Cum venisset ad eum Nathan propheta quando ingressus est ad Bethsabee

50:3. Have mercy on me, O God, according to thy great mercy. And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my iniquity.
Miserere mei Deus secundum misericordiam tuam iuxta multitudinem miserationum tuarum dele iniquitates meas

50:4. Wash me yet more from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.
Multum lava me ab iniquitate mea et a peccato meo munda me

50:5. For I know my iniquity, and my sin is always before me.
Quoniam iniquitates meas ego novi et peccatum meum contra me est semper

50:6. To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.
Tibi soli peccavi et malum coram te feci ut iustificeris in sermonibus tuis et vincas cum iudicaveris

50:7. For behold I was conceived in iniquities; and in sins did my mother conceive me.
Ecce in iniquitate conceptus sum et in peccato peperit me mater mea

50:8. For behold thou hast loved truth: the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.
Ecce enim veritatem diligis absconditum et arcanum sapientiae manifestasti mihi

50:9. Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.
Asperges me hysopo et mundabor lavabis me et super nivem dealbabor

50:10. To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.
Auditum mihi facies gaudium et laetitiam ut exultent ossa quae confregisti

50:11. Turn away thy face from my sins, and blot out all my iniquities.
Absconde faciem tuam a peccatis meis et omnes iniquitates meas dele

50:12. Create a clean heart in me, O God: and renew a right spirit within my bowels.
Cor mundum crea mihi Deus et spiritum stabilem renova in visceribus meis

50:13. Cast me not away from thy face; and take not thy holy spirit from me.
Ne proicias me a facie tua et spiritum sanctum tuum ne auferas a me

50:14. Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.
Redde mihi laetitiam Iesu tui et spiritu potenti confirma me

50:15. I will teach the unjust thy ways: and the wicked shall be converted to thee.
Docebo iniquos vias tuas et peccatores ad te revertentur

50:16. Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: and my tongue shall extol thy justice.
Libera me de sanguinibus Deus Deus salutis meae laudabit lingua mea iustitiam tuam

50:17. O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: and my mouth shall declare thy praise.
Domine labia mea aperies et os meum adnuntiabit laudem tuam

50:18. For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.
Non enim vis ut victimam feriam nec holocaustum tibi placet

50:19. A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.
Sacrificium Dei spiritus contribulatus cor contritum et humiliatum Deus non dispicies

50:20. Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.
Benefac Domine in voluntate tua Sion et aedificentur muri Hierusalem

50:21. Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.
Tunc suscipies sacrificium iustitiae oblationes et holocausta tunc inponent super altare tuum vitulos

Psalm 51

Quid gloriaris. David condemneth the wickedness of Doeg, and foretelleth his destruction.

51:1. Unto the end, understanding for David,
Victori ab erudito David

51:2. When Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul: David went to the house of Achimelech.
Cum venisset Doec Idumeus et adnuntiasset Saul dicens ei venit David in domum Achimelech

51:3. Why dost thou glory in malice, thou that art mighty in iniquity?
Quid gloriaris in malitia potens misericordia Dei tota est die

51:4. All the day long thy tongue hath devised injustice: as a sharp razor, thou hast wrought deceit.
Insidias cogitat lingua tua quasi novacula acuta faciens dolum

51:5. Thou hast loved malice more than goodness: and iniquity rather than to speak righteousness.
Dilexisti malum magis quam bonum mendacium magis quam loqui iustitiam semper

51:6. Thou hast loved all the words of ruin, O deceitful tongue.
Dilexisti omnia verba ad devorandum lingua dolosa

51:7. Therefore will God destroy thee for ever: he will pluck thee out, and remove thee from thy dwelling place: and thy root out of the land of the living.
Sed Deus destruet te in sempiternum terrebit et evellet te de tabernaculo et eradicabit te de terra viventium semper

51:8. The just shall see and fear, and shall laugh at him, and say:
Videbunt iusti et timebunt et super eum ridebunt

51:9. Behold the man that made not God his helper: But trusted in the abundance of his riches: and prevailed in his vanity.
Ecce vir qui non posuit Deum fortitudinem suam sed speravit in multitudine divitiarum suarum confortatus est in insidiis suis

51:10. But I, as a fruitful olive tree in the house of God, have hoped in the mercy of God for ever, yea for ever and ever.
Ego sicut oliva virens in domo Dei speravi in misericordia Dei in saeculum sempiternum

51:11. I will praise thee for ever, because thou hast done it: and I will wait on thy name, for it is good in the sight of thy saints.
Confitebor tibi in saeculo quoniam fecisti et expectabo nomen tuum quoniam bonum in conspectu sanctorum tuorum

Psalm 52

Dixit insipiens. The general corruption of man before the coming of Christ.

---

52:1. Unto the end, for Maeleth, understandings to David. The fool said in his heart: There is no God.
Victori per chorum eruditi David dixit stultus in corde suo non est Deus

Maeleth... Or Machalath. A musical instrument, or a chorus of musicians, for St. Jerome renders it, per chorum.

52:2. They are corrupted, and become abominable in iniquities: there is none that doth good.
Corrupti sunt et abominabiles facti sunt in iniquitate non est qui faciat bonum

52:3. God looked down from heaven on the children of men: to see if there were any that did understand, or did seek God.

Deus de caelo prospexit super filios hominum ut videret si esset intellegens requirens Deum

52:4. All have gone aside, they are become unprofitable together, there is none that doth good, no not one.

Omnes aversi sunt pariter adheserunt non est qui faciat bonum non est usque ad unum

52:5. Shall not all the workers of iniquity know, who eat up my people as they eat bread?

Numquid non cognoverunt qui operantur iniquitatem qui comedunt populum meum ut cibum panis

52:6. They have not called upon God: there have they trembled for fear, where there was no fear. For God hath scattered the bones of them that please men: they have been confounded, because God hath despised them.

Deum non invocaverunt ibi timuerunt timore ubi non est timor quoniam Deus dispersit ossa circumdantium te confunderis quia Deus proiecit eos

God hath scattered the bones, etc... That is, God has brought to nothing the strength of all those that seek to please men, to the prejudice of their duty to their Maker.

52:7. Who will give out of Sion the salvation of Israel? when God shall bring back the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

Quis dabit ex Sion salutare Israhel cum reduxerit Deus captivitatem populi sui exultabit Iacob laetabitur Israhel

Psalm 53

Deus, in nomine tuo. A prayer for help in distress.

53:1. Unto the end, in verses, understanding for David.

Victori in psalmis eruditi David

53:2. When the men of Ziph had come and said to Saul: Is not David hidden with us? [1 Samuel 23.19]

Quando venerunt Ziphei et dixerunt Saul nonne David absconditus est apud nos

53:3. Save me, O God, by thy name, and judge me in thy strength.

Deus in nomine tuo salva me et in fortitudine tua ulciscere me

53:4. O God, hear my prayer: give ear to the words of my mouth.

Deus exaudi orationem meam auribus percipe verba oris mei

53:5. For strangers have risen up against me; and the mighty have sought after my soul: and they have not set God before their eyes.

Quia alieni insurrexerunt adversus me et fortes quaesierunt animam meam et non posuerunt Deum in conspectu suo semper

53:6. For behold God is my helper: and the Lord is the protector of my soul.

Ecce Deus auxiliatur mihi Dominus sustentans animam meam

53:7. Turn back the evils upon my enemies; and cut them off in thy truth.

Reddet malum insidiatoribus meis in veritate tua disperde eos

53:8. I will freely sacrifice to thee, and will give praise, O God, to thy name: because it is good:

Voluntarie sacrificabo tibi confitebor nomini tuo Domine quoniam bonum est

53:9. For thou hast delivered me out of all trouble: and my eye hath looked down upon my enemies.

Quoniam ex omni tribulatione liberavit me et inimicos meos dispexit oculus meus

Psalm 54

Exaudi, Deus. A prayer of a just man under persecution from the wicked. It agrees to Christ persecuted by the Jews, and betrayed by Judas.

---

54:1. Unto the end, in verses, understanding for David.

Victori in psalmis eruditi David

54:2. Hear, O God, my prayer, and despise not my supplication:

Exaudi Deus orationem meam et ne dispicias deprecationem meam

54:3. Be attentive to me and hear me. I am grieved in my exercise; and am troubled,

Adtende mihi et exaudi me humiliatus sum in meditatione mea et conturbatus

54:4. At the voice of the enemy, and at the tribulation of the sinner. For they have cast iniquities upon me: and in wrath they were troublesome to me.

A voce inimici a facie persequentis impii quoniam proiecerunt super me iniquitatem et in furore adversabantur mihi

54:5. My heart is troubled within me: and the fear of death is fallen upon me.

Cor meum doluit in vitalibus meis et terrores mortis ceciderunt super me

54:6. Fear and trembling are come upon me: and darkness hath covered me.

Timor et tremor venit super me et operuit me caligo

54:7. And I said: Who will give me wings like a dove, and I will fly and be at rest?

Et dixi quis dabit mihi pinnas columbae ut volem et requiescam

54:8. Lo, I have gone far off flying away; and I abode in the wilderness.

Ut procul abeam et commorer in deserto semper

54:9. I waited for him that hath saved me from pusillanimity of spirit, and a storm.

Festinabo ut salver ab spiritu tempestatis et turbinis

54:10. Cast down, O Lord, and divide their tongues; for I have seen iniquity and contradiction in the city.

Praecipita Domine divide linguas eorum quoniam vidi iniquitatem et contradictionem in civitate

54:11. Day and night shall iniquity surround it upon its walls: and in the midst thereof are labour,

Die et nocte circumeuntes muros eius scelus et dolorem in medio eius

54:12. And injustice. And usury and deceit have not departed from its streets.

Insidiae in vitalibus eius et non recedet de plateis eius damnum et fraudulentia

54:13. For if my enemy had reviled me, I would verily have borne with it. And if he that hated me had spoken great things against me, I would perhaps have hidden my self from him.

Non enim inimicus exprobravit mihi ut sustineam neque is qui me oderat super me magnificatus est ut abscondar ab eo

54:14. But thou a man of one mind, my guide, and my familiar,

Sed tu homo unianimis meus dux meus et notus meus

54:15. Who didst take sweetmeats together with me: in the house of God we walked with consent.

Qui simul habuimus dulce secretum in domo Dei ambulavimus in terrore

54:16. Let death come upon them, and let them go down alive into hell. For there is wickedness in their dwellings: in the midst of them.

Veniat mors super eos descendant in infernum viventes quia nequitiae in congregatione eorum et in medio eorum

Let death, etc... This, and such like imprecations which occur in the psalms, are delivered prophetically; that is, by way of foretelling the punishments which shall fall upon the wicked from divine justice, and approving the righteous ways of God: but not by way of ill will, or uncharitable curses, which the law of God disallows.

54:17. But I have cried to God: and the Lord will save me.

Ego ad Deum clamabo et Dominus salvabit me

54:18. Evening and morning, and at noon I will speak and declare: and he shall hear my voice.

Vespere et mane et meridie eloquar et resonabo et exaudiet vocem meam

54:19. He shall redeem my soul in peace from them that draw near to me: for among many they were with me.

Redimet in pace animam meam ab adpropinquantibus mihi multi enim fuerunt adversum me

Among many, etc... That is, they that drew near to attack me were many in company all combined to fight against me.

54:20. God shall hear, and the Eternal shall humble them. For there is no change with them, and they have not feared God:

Exaudiet Deus et humiliabit eos qui iudex est ab initio semper non enim mutantur neque timent Deum

54:21. He hath stretched forth his hand to repay. They have defiled his covenant,

Extendit manum suam ad pacifica sua contaminabit pactum suum

54:22. They are divided by the wrath of his countenance, and his heart hath drawn near. His words are smoother than oil, and the same are darts.

Nitidius butyro os eius pugnat autem cor illius molliores sermones eius oleo cum sint lanceae

They are divided, etc... Dispersed, scattered, and brought to nothing, by the wrath of God; who looks with indignation on their wicked and deceitful ways.

54:23. Cast thy care upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee: he shall not suffer the just to waver for ever.

Proice super Dominum caritatem tuam et ipse enutriet te non dabit in aeternum fluctuationem iusto

54:24. But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction. Bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days; but I will trust in thee, O Lord.

Tu autem Deus deduces eos in puteum interitus viri sanguinum et dolosi non dimidiabunt dies suos ego autem fiduciam habeo tui

Psalm 55

Miserere mei, Deus. A prayer of David in danger and distress.

55:1. Unto the end, for a people that is removed at a distance from the sanctuary: for David, for an inscription of a title (or pillar) when the Philistines held him in Geth.

Victori pro columba muta eo quod procul abierit David humilis et simplex quando tenuerunt eum Palestini in Geth

55:2. Have mercy on me, O God, for man hath trodden me under foot; all the day long he hath afflicted me fighting against me.

Miserere mei Deus quoniam conculcavit me homo tota die pugnans tribulavit me

55:3. My enemies have trodden on me all the day long; for they are many that make war against me.

Conculcaverunt me insidiatores mei tota die multi enim qui pugnant contra me Altissime

55:4. From the height of the day I shall fear: but I will trust in thee.

Quacumque die territus fuero ego in te confidam

The height of the day... That is, even at noonday, when the sun is the highest, I am still in danger.

55:5. In God I will praise my words, in God I have put my trust: I will not fear what flesh can do against me.

In Deo laudavi verbum in Deo speravi non timebo quid faciat caro mihi

My words... The words or promises God has made in my favour.

55:6. All the day long they detested my words: all their thoughts were against me unto evil.

Tota die sermonibus me adfligebant contra me omnes cogitationes eorum in malum

55:7. They will dwell and hide themselves: they will watch my heel. As they have waited for my soul,

Congregabuntur abscondite plantas meas observabunt expectantes animam meam

55:8. For nothing shalt thou save them: in thy anger thou shalt break the people in pieces. O God,

Quia nullus est salvus in eis in furore populos detrahet Deus

For nothing shalt thou save them... That is, since they lie in wait to ruin my soul, thou shalt for no consideration favour or assist them, but execute thy justice upon them.

55:9. I have declared to thee my life: thou hast set me tears in thy sight, As also in thy promise.

Secretiora mea numerasti pone lacrimam meam in conspectu tuo sed non in narratione tua

55:10. Then shall my enemies be turned back. In what day soever I shall call upon thee, behold I know thou art my God.

Tunc convertentur inimici mei retrorsum in quacumque die invocavero hoc scio quia Deus meus es

55:11. In God will I praise the word, in the Lord will I praise his speech. In God have I hoped, I will not fear what man can do to me.

In Deo laudabo verbum in Domino praedicabo sermonem in Deo speravi non timebo quid faciat homo mihi

55:12. In me, O God, are vows to thee, which I will pay, praises to thee:

In me sunt Deus vota tua reddam gratiarum actiones tibi

55:13. Because thou hast delivered my soul from death, my feet from falling: that I may please in the sight of God, in the light of the living.

Quia liberasti animam meam de morte et pedes meos de lapsu ut ambulem coram Deo in luce viventium

Psalm 56

Miserere mei, Deus.* The prophet prays in his affliction, and praises God for his delivery.

56:1. Unto the end, destroy not, for David, for an inscription of a title, when he fled from Saul into the cave. [1 Samuel 24.]

Pro victoria ut non disperdas David humilem et simplicem quando fugit a facie Saul in spelunca

Destroy not... Suffer me not to be destroyed.

56:2. Have mercy on me, O God, have mercy on me: for my soul trusteth in thee. And in the shadow of thy wings will I hope, until iniquity pass away.

Miserere mei Deus miserere mei quoniam in te sperat anima mea in umbra alarum tuarum sperabo donec transeant insidiae

56:3. I will cry to God the most high; to God who hath done good to me.

Invocabo Deum altissimum Deum ultorem meum

56:4. He hath sent from heaven and delivered me: he hath made them a reproach that trod upon me. God hath sent his mercy and his truth,

Mittet de caelo et salvabit me exprobrabit conculcantibus me semper mittet Deus misericordiam suam et veritatem suam

56:5. And he hath delivered my soul from the midst of the young lions. I slept troubled. The sons of men, whose teeth are weapons and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.

Anima mea in medio leonum dormivit ferocientium filii hominum dentes eorum lancea et sagittae et lingua eorum gladius acutus

56:6. Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens, and thy glory above all the earth.

Exaltare super caelos Deus in omni terra gloria tua

56:7. They prepared a snare for my feet; and they bowed down my soul. They dug a pit before my face, and they are fallen into it.

Rete paraverunt gressibus meis ad incurvandam animam meam foderunt ante me foveam ceciderunt in medium eius semper

56:8. My heart is ready, O God, my heart is ready: I will sing, and rehearse a psalm.

Paratum cor meum Deus paratum cor meum cantabo et psallam

56:9. Arise, O my glory, arise psaltery and harp: I will arise early.

Surge gloria mea surge psalterium et cithara surgam mane

56:10. I will give praise to thee, O Lord, among the people: I will sing a psalm to thee among the nations.

Confitebor tibi in populis Domine cantabo tibi in gentibus

56:11. For thy mercy is magnified even to the heavens: and thy truth unto the clouds.

Quia magna usque ad caelos misericordia tua et usque ad nubes veritas tua

56:12. Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: and thy glory above all the earth.

Exaltare super caelos Deus in omni terra gloria tua

Psalm 57

Si vere utique. David reproveth the wicked, and foretelleth their punishment.

---

57:1. Unto the end, destroy not, for David, for an inscription of a title.

Victori ut non disperdas David humilem et simplicem

57:2. If in very deed ye speak justice: judge right things, ye sons of men.

Si vere utique iustitiam loquimini recta iudicate filii hominum

57:3. For in your heart you work iniquity: your hands forge injustice in the earth.

Etenim in corde iniquitates operamini in terra iniquitatis manus vestras adpendite

57:4. The wicked are alienated from the womb; they have gone astray from the womb: they have spoken false things.

Alienati sunt peccatores a vulva erraverunt ab utero loquentes mendacium

57:5. Their madness is according to the likeness of a serpent: like the deaf asp that stoppeth her ears:

Furor eorum sicut furor serpentis sicut reguli surdi obturantis aurem suam

57:6. Which will not hear the voice of the charmers; nor of the wizard that charmeth wisely.

Ut non audiat vocem murmurantium nec incantatoris incantationes callidas

57:7. God shall break in pieces their teeth in their mouth: the Lord shall break the grinders of the lions.

Deus excute dentes eorum ex ore eorum molares leonum confringe Domine

57:8. They shall come to nothing, like water running down; he hath bent his bow till they be weakened.

Dissolvantur quasi aquae quae defluent intendet arcum suum donec conterantur

57:9. Like wax that melteth they shall be taken away: fire hath fallen on them, and they shall not see the sun.

Quasi vermis tabefactus pertranseant quasi abortivum mulieris quod non vidit solem

57:10. Before your thorns could know the brier; he swalloweth them up, as alive, in his wrath.

Antequam crescant spinae vestrae in ramnum quasi viventes quasi in ira tempestas rapiet eas

Before your thorns, etc... That is, before your thorns grow up, so as to become strong briars, they shall be overtaken and consumed by divine justice, swallowing them up, as it were, alive in his wrath.

57:11. The just shall rejoice when he shall see the revenge: he shall wash his hands in the blood of the sinner.

Laetabitur iustus cum viderit ultionem pedes suos lavabit in sanguinem impii

Shall wash his hands, etc... Shall applaud the justice of God, and take occasion from the consideration of the punishment of the wicked to wash and cleanse his hands from sin.

57:12. And man shall say: If indeed there be fruit to the just: there is indeed a God that judgeth them on the earth.

Et dicet homo vere fructus est iusto vere est Deus iudicans in terra

Psalm 58

Eripe me. A prayer to be delivered from the wicked, with confidence in God's help and protection. It agrees to Christ and his enemies the Jews.

---

58:1. Unto the end, destroy not, for David for an inscription of a title, when Saul sent and watched his house to kill him. [1 Samuel 19.]

Victori ut non disperdas David humilem et simplicem quando misit Saul et custodierunt domum ut occiderent eum

58:2. Deliver me from my enemies, O my God; and defend me from them that rise up against me. Erue me de inimicis meis Deus meus et a resistentibus mihi protege me

58:3. Deliver me from them that work iniquity, and save me from bloody men. Libera me ab operariis iniquitatis et a viris sanguinum salva me

58:4. For behold they have caught my soul: the mighty have rushed in upon me: Quia ecce insidiati sunt animae meae congregantur adversum me fortissimi

58:5. Neither is it my iniquity, nor my sin, O Lord: without iniquity have I run, and directed my steps. Absque iniquitate mea et absque peccato meo Domine non egi inique et illi currunt et praeparantur

58:6. Rise up thou to meet me, and behold: even thou, O Lord, the God of hosts, the God of Israel. Attend to visit all the nations: have no mercy on all them that work iniquity.

Surge ex adverso pro me et respice et tu Domine Deus exercituum Deus Israhel evigila ut visites omnes gentes non miserearis universis qui operantur iniquitatem semper

58:7. They shall return at evening, and shall suffer hunger like dogs: and shall go round about the city. Revertantur ad vesperam et latrent ut canis et circumeant civitatem

58:8. Behold they shall speak with their mouth, and a sword is in their lips: for who, say they, hath heard us?

Ecce loquuntur in ore suo gladii in labiis eorum quasi nemo audiat

58:9. But thou, O Lord, shalt laugh at them: thou shalt bring all the nations to nothing.

Tu autem Domine deridebis eos subsannabis omnes gentes

58:10. I will keep my strength to thee: for thou art my protector:

Fortitudinem meam ad te servabo quoniam tu Deus elevator meus

58:11. My God, his mercy shall prevent me.

Dei mei misericordia praeveniet me

58:12. God shall let me see over my enemies: slay them not, lest at any time my people forget. Scatter them by thy power; and bring them down, O Lord, my protector:

Deus ostendit mihi in insidiatoribus meis ne occidas eos ne forte obliviscantur populi mei disperge eos in fortitudine tua et destrue eos protector noster Domine

58:13. For the sin of their mouth, and the word of their lips: and let them be taken in their pride. And for their cursing and lying they shall be talked of,

In peccato oris sui in sermone labiorum suorum et capiantur in superbia sua maledictionem et mendacium narrantes

58:14. When they are consumed: when they are consumed by thy wrath, and they shall be no more. And they shall know that God will rule Jacob, and all the ends of the earth.

Consume in furore consume ut non subsistant et sciant quoniam Deus dominatur Iacob in finibus terrae semper

58:15. They shall return at evening and shall suffer hunger like dogs: and shall go round about the city.

Et convertantur ad vesperam et latrent ut canis et circumeant civitatem

58:16. They shall be scattered abroad to eat, and shall murmur if they be not filled.

Ipsi vagabuntur ut comedant et cum saturati non fuerint murmurabunt

58:17. But I will sing thy strength: and will extol thy mercy in the morning. For thou art become my support, and my refuge, in the day of my trouble.

Ego autem cantabo imperium tuum et laudabo mane misericordiam tuam quoniam factus es fortitudo mea et refugium in die tribulationis meae

58:18. Unto thee, O my helper, will I sing, for thou art God my defence: my God my mercy.

Tibi cantabo quoniam Deus adiutor meus fortitudo mea Deus misericordia mea

Psalm 59

Deus, repulisti nos. After many afflictions, the church of Christ shall prevail.

---

59:1. Unto the end, for them that shall be changed, for the inscription of a title, to David himself, for doctrine,

Victori pro liliis testimonium humilis et perfecti David ad docendum

59:2. When he set fire to Mesopotamia of Syria and Sobal: and Joab returned and slew of Edom, in the vale of the salt pits, twelve thousand men.

Quando pugnavit adversum Syriam Mesopotamiae et adversum Syriam Suba et reversus est Ioab et percussit Edom in valle Salinarum duodecim milia

59:3. O God, thou hast cast us off, and hast destroyed us; thou hast been angry, and hast had mercy on us.

Deus proiecisti nos et scidisti iratus convertisti nos

59:4. Thou hast moved the earth, and hast troubled it: heal thou the breaches thereof, for it has been moved.

Commovisti terram et disruptisti eam sana contritiones eius quoniam commota est

59:5. Thou hast shown thy people hard things; thou hast made us drink the wine of sorrow.

Ostendisti populo tuo duritiam potasti nos vino consopiente

59:6. Thou hast given a warning to them that fear thee: that they may flee from before the bow: That thy beloved may be delivered.

Dedisti timentibus te signum ut fugerent a facie arcus semper ut liberentur amici tui

59:7. Save me with thy right hand, and hear me.

Salva dextera tua et exaudi me

59:8. God hath spoken in his holy place: I will rejoice, and I will divide Sichem; and will mete out the vale of tabernacles.

Deus locutus est in sanctuario suo laetabor dividam Sicimam et vallem Soccoth dimetiar

59:9. Galaad is mine, and Manasses is mine: and Ephraim is the strength of my head. Juda is my king:

Meus est Galaad et meus Manasse et Efraim fortitudo capitis mei Iudas legifer meus

59:10. Moab is the pot of my hope. Into Edom will I stretch out my shoe: to me the foreigners are made subject.

Moab olla lavacri mei super Idumeam incedam calciamento meo mihi Palestina foederata est

The pot of my hope... Or my watering pot. That is, a vessel for meaner uses, by being reduced to serve me, even in the meanest employments. Ibid. Foreigners... So the Philistines are called, who had no kindred with the Israelites; whereas the Edomites, Moabites, etc., were originally of the same family.

59:11. Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me into Edom?

Quis deducet me ad civitatem munitam quis deducet me usque ad Idumeam

59:12. Wilt not thou, O God, who hast cast us off? and wilt not thou, O God, go out with our armies?

Nonne tu Deus qui proiecisti nos et non egredieris Deus in exercitibus nostris

59:13. Give us help from trouble: for vain is the salvation of man.

Da nobis auxilium in tribulatione vana est enim salus ab homine

59:14. Through God we shall do mightily: and he shall bring to nothing them that afflict us.

In Deo faciemus virtutem et ipse conculcabit tribulantes nos

Psalm 60

Exaudi, Deus. A prayer for the coming of the kingdom of Christ, which shall have no end.

---

60:1. Unto the end, in hymns, for David.

Victori in psalmis David

60:2. Hear, O God, my supplication: be attentive to my prayer.

Exaudi Deus laudationem meam intende orationi meae

60:3. To thee have I cried from the ends of the earth: when my heart was in anguish, thou hast exalted me on a rock. Thou hast conducted me;

De novissimo terrae ad te clamabo cum triste fuerit cor meum cum fortis elevabitur adversum me tu eris ductor meus

60:4. For thou hast been my hope; a tower of strength against the face of the enemy.

Fuisti spes mea turris munitissima a facie inimici

60:5. In thy tabernacle I shall dwell for ever: I shall be protected under the covert of thy wings.

Habitabo in tabernaculo tuo iugiter sperabo in protectione alarum tuarum semper

60:6. For thou, my God, hast heard my prayer: thou hast given an inheritance to them that fear thy name.

Tu enim Deus exaudisti orationem meam dedisti hereditatem timentibus nomen tuum

60:7. Thou wilt add days to the days of the king: his years even to generation and generation.

Dies super dies regis adicies annos eius donec est generatio et generatio

60:8. He abideth for ever in the sight of God: his mercy and truth who shall search?

Sedebit semper ante faciem Dei misericordia et veritas servabunt eum

60:9. So will I sing a psalm to thy name for ever and ever: that I may pay my vows from day to day.

Sic canam nomini tuo iugiter reddens vota mea per singulos dies

Psalm 61

Nonne Deo.* The prophet encourageth himself and all others to trust in God, and serve him.

---

61:1. Unto the end, for Idithun, a psalm of David.

Victori per Idithun canticum David

61:2. Shall not my soul be subject to God? for from him is my salvation.

Attamen apud Deum silebit anima mea ex eo salus mea

61:3. For he is my God and my saviour: he is my protector, I shall be moved no more.

Attamen ipse est scutum meum et salus mea fortitudo mea non commovebor amplius

61:4. How long do you rush in upon a man? you all kill, as if you were thrusting down a leaning wall, and a tottering fence.

Usquequo insidiamini contra virum interficitis omnes quasi murus inclinus et maceria corruens

61:5. But they have thought to cast away my price; I ran in thirst: they blessed with their mouth, but cursed with their heart.

Partem enim eius cogitaverunt expellere placuerunt sibi in mendacio ore suo singuli benedicunt et corde suo maledicunt semper

61:6. But be thou, O my soul, subject to God: for from him is my patience.

Verumtamen Deo retice anima mea ab ipso enim praestolatio mea

61:7. For he is my God and my saviour: he is my helper, I shall not be moved.

Ipse est fortitudo mea et salus mea susceptor meus non timebo

61:8. In God is my salvation and my glory: he is the God of my help, and my hope is in God.

In Deo salutare meum et gloria mea robur fortitudinis meae salus mea in Deo

61:9. Trust in him, all ye congregation of people: pour out your hearts before him. God is our helper for ever.

Sperate in eo omni tempore populi effundite coram eo cor vestrum Deus spes nostra est semper

61:10. But vain are the sons of men, the sons of men are liars in the balances: that by vanity they may together deceive.

Verumtamen vanitas filii Adam mendacium filii viri in stateris dolosis fraudulenter agunt simul

Are liars in the balances, etc... They are so vain and light, that if they are put into the scales, they will be found to be of no weight; and to be mere lies, deceit, and vanity. Or, They are liars in their balances, by weighing things by false weights, and preferring the temporal before the eternal.

61:11. Trust not in iniquity, and cover not robberies: if riches abound, set not your heart upon them.

Nolite confidere in calumnia et in rapina ne frustremini divitiae si fluxerint ne adponatis cor

61:12. God hath spoken once, these two things have I heard, that power belongeth to God,

Unum locutus est Deus duo haec audivi quia imperium Dei est

61:13. And mercy to thee, O Lord; for thou wilt render to every man according to his works.

Et tibi Domine misericordia quia tu reddes unicuique secundum opus suum

Psalm 62

Deus Deus meus, ad te. The prophet aspireth after God.

---

62:1. A psalm of David while he was in the desert of Edom.

Canticum David cum esset in deserto Iuda

62:2. O God, my God, to thee do I watch at break of day. For thee my soul hath thirsted; for thee my flesh, O how many ways!

Deus fortitudo mea tu es de luce consurgam ad te sitivit te anima mea desideravit te caro mea

62:3. In a desert land, and where there is no way, and no water: so in the sanctuary have I come before thee, to see thy power and thy glory.

In terra invia et conficiente ac sine aqua sic in sancto apparui tibi ut videam fortitudinem tuam et gloriam tuam

62:4. For thy mercy is better than lives: thee my lips will praise.

Melior est enim misericordia tua quam vitae labia mea laudabunt te

62:5. Thus will I bless thee all my life long: and in thy name I will lift up my hands.

Sic benedicam tibi in vita mea in nomine tuo levabo manus meas

62:6. Let my soul be filled as with marrow and fatness: and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips.

Quasi adipe et pinguidine implebitur anima mea et labiis laudantibus canet os meum

62:7. If I have remembered thee upon my bed, I will meditate on thee in the morning:

Recordans tui in cubili meo per singulas vigiliis meditabor tibi

62:8. Because thou hast been my helper. And I will rejoice under the covert of thy wings:

Quia fuisti auxilium meum in umbra alarum tuarum laudabo

62:9. My soul hath stuck close to thee: thy right hand hath received me.

Adhesit anima mea post te me suscepit dextera tua

62:10. But they have fought my soul in vain, they shall go into the lower parts of the earth:

Ipsi vero interficere quaerunt animam meam ingrediantur in extrema terrae

62:11. They shall be delivered into the hands of the sword, they shall be the portions of foxes.

Congregentur in manus gladii pars vulpium erunt

62:12. But the king shall rejoice in God, all they shall be praised that swear by him: because the mouth is stopped of them that speak wicked things.

Rex autem laetabitur in Deo laudabitur omnis qui iurat in eo quia obstruetur os loquentium mendacium

Psalm 63

Exaudi Deus orationem. A prayer in affliction, with confidence in God that he will bring to nought the machinations of persecutors.

63:1. Unto the end, a psalm for David.

Victori canticum David

63:2. Hear O God, my prayer, when I make supplication to thee: deliver my soul from the fear of the enemy.

Audi Deus vocem meam loquentis a timore inimici serva vitam meam

63:3. Thou hast protected me from the assembly of the malignant; from the multitude of the workers of iniquity.

Absconde me a consilio malignorum a tumultu operantium iniquitatem

63:4. For they have whetted their tongues like a sword; they have bent their bow a bitter thing,

Qui exaceruerunt quasi gladium linguam suam tetenderunt sagittam suam verbum amarissimum

63:5. To shoot in secret the undefiled.

Ut sagittarent in absconditis simplicem

63:6. They will shoot at him on a sudden, and will not fear: they are resolute in wickedness. They have talked of hiding snares; they have said: Who shall see them?

Subito sagittabunt eum et non timebunt confortaverunt sibi sermonem pessimum narraverunt ut absconderent laqueos dixerunt quis videbit nos

63:7. They have searched after iniquities: they have failed in their search. Man shall come to a deep heart:

Scrutati sunt iniquitates defecerunt scrutantes scrutinio cogitationibus singulorum et corde profundo

A deep heart... That is, crafty, subtle, deep projects and designs; which nevertheless shall not succeed; for God shall be exalted in bringing them to nought by his wisdom and power.

63:8. And God shall be exalted. The arrows of children are their wounds:

Sagittabit ergo eos Deus iaculo repentino inferentur plagae eorum

The arrows of children are their wounds... That is, the wounds, stripes, or blows, they seek to inflict upon the just, are but like the weak efforts of children's arrows, which can do no execution: and their tongues, that is, their speeches against them come to nothing.

63:9. And their tongues against them are made weak. All that saw them were troubled;

Et corruent in semet ipsos linguis suis fugient omnes qui viderint eos

63:10. And every man was afraid. And they declared the works of God, and understood his doings.

Et timebunt omnes homines et adnuntiabunt opus Dei et opera eius intellegent

63:11. The just shall rejoice in the Lord, and shall hope in him: and all the upright in heart shall be praised.

Laetabitur iustus in Domino et sperabit in eo et exultabunt omnes recti corde

Psalm 64

Te decet. God is to be praised in his church, to which all nations shall be called.

---

64:1. To the end, a psalm of David. The canticle of Jeremias and Ezechiel to the people of the captivity, when they began to go out.

Victori carmen David cantici

Of the captivity... That is, the people of the captivity of Babylon. This is not in the Hebrew, but is found in the ancient translation of the Septuagint.

64:2. A hymn, O God, becometh thee in Sion: and a vow shall be paid to thee in Jerusalem.

Tibi silens laus Deus in Sion et tibi reddetur votum

64:3. O hear my prayer: all flesh shall come to thee.

Exaudi orationem donec ad te omnis caro veniat

64:4. The words of the wicked have prevailed over us: and thou wilt pardon our transgressions.

Verba iniquitatum praevaluerunt adversum me sceleribus nostris tu propitiaberis

64:5. Blessed is he whom thou hast chosen and taken to thee: he shall dwell in thy courts. We shall be filled with the good things of thy house; holy is thy temple,

Beatus quem elegeris et susceperis habitabit enim in atriis tuis replebimur bonis domus tuae sanctificatione templi tui

64:6. Wonderful in justice. Hear us, O God our saviour, who art the hope of all the ends of the earth, and in the sea afar off.

Terribilis in iustitia exaudi nos Deus salvator noster confidentia omnium finium terrae et maris longinqui

64:7. Thou who preparest the mountains by thy strength, being girded with power:

Praeparans montes in virtute tua accinctus fortitudine

64:8. Who troublest the depth of the sea, the noise of its waves. The Gentiles shall be troubled,

Conspiciens sonitum maris fremitum fluctuum eius et multitudinem gentium

64:9. And they that dwell in the uttermost borders shall be afraid at thy signs: thou shalt make the outgoings of the morning and of the evening to be joyful.

Et timebunt qui habitant in extremis a signis tuis egressus matutinos et vespere laudantes facies

64:10. Thou hast visited the earth, and hast plentifully watered it; thou hast many ways enriched it. The river of God is filled with water, thou hast prepared their food: for so is its preparation.

Visita terram et inriga eam ubertate dita eam rivus Dei plenus aqua praeparabis frumentum eorum quia sic fundasti eam

64:11. Fill up plentifully the streams thereof, multiply its fruits; it shall spring up and rejoice in its showers.

Sulcos eius inebria multiplica fruges eius pluviis inriga eam et gemini eius benedic

64:12. Thou shalt bless the crown of the year of thy goodness: and thy fields shall be filled with plenty.

Volvetur annus in bonitate tua et vestigia tua rorabunt pinguidine

64:13. The beautiful places of the wilderness shall grow fat: and the hills shall be girded about with joy,

Pinguescent pascua deserti et exultatione colles accingentur

64:14. The rams of the flock are clothed, and the vales shall abound with corn: they shall shout, yea they shall sing a hymn.

Vestientur agnis greges et valles plenae erunt frumento coaequabuntur et canent

Psalm 65

Jubilate Deo. An invitation to praise God.

---

Unto the end, a canticle of a psalm of the resurrection.

65:1. Shout with joy to God, all the earth,
Victori canticum psalmi iubilate Deo omnis terra

65:2. Sing ye a psalm to his name; give glory to his praise.
Cantate gloriam nomini eius date gloriam laudi eius

65:3. Say unto God, How terrible are thy works, O Lord! in the multitude of thy strength thy enemies shall lie to thee.
Dicite Deo quam terribile opus tuum in multitudine fortitudinis tuae mentientur tibi inimici tui

65:4. Let all the earth adore thee, and sing to thee: let it sing a psalm to thy name.
Omnis terra adoret te et cantet tibi cantet nomini tuo semper

65:5. Come and see the works of God; who is terrible in his counsels over the sons of men.
Venite et videte opera Dei terribilia consilia super filiis hominum

65:6. Who turneth the sea into dry land, in the river they shall pass on foot: there shall we rejoice in him.
Convertit mare in aridam in flumine pertransibunt pede ibi laetabimur in eo

65:7. Who by his power ruleth for ever: his eyes behold the nations; let not them that provoke him be exalted in themselves.
Qui dominatur in fortitudine sua saeculo oculi eius gentes aspiciunt qui increduli sunt non exalitentur in semet ipsis semper

65:8. O bless our God, ye Gentiles: and make the voice of his praise to be heard.
Benedicite populi Deo nostro et auditam facite vocem laudis eius

65:9. Who hath set my soul to live: and hath not suffered my feet to be moved:
Qui posuit animam nostram in vitam et non dedit in commotione pedes nostros

65:10. For thou, O God, hast proved us: thou hast tried us by fire, as silver is tried.
Probasti enim nos Deus igne nos conflasti sicut conflatur argentum

65:11. Thou hast brought us into a net, thou hast laid afflictions on our back:
Introduxisti nos in obsidione posuisti stridorem in dorso nostro

65:12. Thou hast set men over our heads. We have passed through fire and water, and thou hast brought us out into a refreshment.
Inposuisti homines super caput nostrum transivimus per ignem et aquam et eduxisti nos in refrigerium

65:13. I will go into thy house with burnt offerings: I will pay thee my vows,
Ingrediar domum tuam in holocaustis reddam tibi vota mea

65:14. Which my lips have uttered, And my mouth hath spoken, when I was in trouble.
Quae promiserunt tibi labia mea et locutum est os meum cum tribularer

65:15. I will offer up to thee holocausts full of marrow, with burnt offerings of rams: I will offer to thee bullocks with goats.
Holocausta medullata offeram tibi cum incensu arietum faciam boves cum hircis semper

65:16. Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will tell you what great things he hath done for my soul.

Venite audite et narrabo omnes qui timetis Deum quanta fecerit animae meae

65:17. I cried to him with my mouth: and I extolled him with my tongue.

Ipsam ore meo invocavi et exaltavi in lingua mea

65:18. If I have looked at iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me.

Iniquitatem si vidi in corde meo non exaudiat Dominus

65:19. Therefore hath God heard me, and hath attended to the voice of my supplication.

Ideo exaudivit Deus et attendit vocem deprecationis meae

65:20. Blessed be God, who hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

Benedictus Deus qui non abstulit orationem meam et misericordiam suam a me

Psalm 66

Deus misereatur. A prayer for the propagation of the church.

66:1. Unto the end, in hymns, a psalm of a canticle for David.

Victori in psalmis canticum carminis

66:2. May God have mercy on us, and bless us: may he cause the light of his countenance to shine upon us, and may he have mercy on us.

Deus misereatur nostri et benedicat nobis inlustret faciem suam super nos semper

66:3. That we may know thy way upon earth: thy salvation in all nations.

Ut nota fiat in terra via tua in universis gentibus salus tua

66:4. Let people confess to thee, O God: let all people give praise to thee.

Confiteantur tibi populi Deus confiteantur tibi populi omnes

66:5. Let the nations be glad and rejoice: for thou judgest the people with justice, and directest the nations upon earth.

Laetentur et laudent gentes quoniam iudicas populos in aequitate et gentium quae in terra sunt ductor es sempiternus

66:6. Let the people, O God, confess to thee: let all the people give praise to thee:

Confiteantur tibi populi Deus confiteantur tibi populi omnes

66:7. The earth hath yielded her fruit. May God, our God bless us,

Terra dedit germen suum benedicat nobis Deus Deus noster

66:8. May God bless us: and all the ends of the earth fear him.

Psalm 67

Exurgat Deus. The glorious establishment of the church of the New Testament, prefigured by the benefits bestowed on the people of Israel.

---

67:1. Unto the end, a psalm of a canticle for David himself.

Victori David psalmus cantici

67:2. Let God arise, and let his enemies be scattered: and let them that hate him flee from before his face.

Exsurgat Deus et dissipentur inimici eius et fugiant qui oderunt eum a facie eius

67:3. As smoke vanisheth, so let them vanish away: as wax melteth before the fire, so let the wicked perish at the presence of God.

Sicut deficit fumus deficient sicut tabescit cera a facie ignis pereant impii a facie Dei

67:4. And let the just feast, and rejoice before God: and be delighted with gladness.

Iusti autem laetentur exultent in conspectu Dei et gaudeant in laetitia

67:5. Sing ye to God, sing a psalm to his name, make a way for him who ascendeth upon the west: the Lord is his name. Rejoice ye before him: but the wicked shall be troubled at his presence,

Cantate Deo canite nomini eius praeparate viam ascendenti per deserta in Domino nomen eius et exultate coram eo

Who ascendeth upon the west... Super occasum. St. Gregory understands it of Christ, who after his going down, like the sun, in the west, by his passion and death, ascended more glorious, and carried all before him. St. Jerome renders it, who ascendeth, or cometh up, through the deserts.

67:6. Who is the father of orphans, and the judge of widows. God in his holy place:

Patri pupillorum et defensori viduarum Deus in habitaculo sancto suo

67:7. God who maketh men of one manner to dwell in a house: Who bringeth out them that were bound in strength; in like manner them that provoke, that dwell in sepulchres.

Deus habitare facit solitarios in domo educit vinctos in fortitudine increduli autem habitaverunt in siccitatibus

Of one manner... That is, agreeing in faith, unanimous in love, and following the same manner of discipline. It is verified in the servants of God, living together in his house, which is the church. 1 Timothy 3:15. Ibid. Them that were bound, etc... The power and mercy of God appears in his bringing out of their captivity those that were strongly bound in their sins: and in restoring to his grace those whose behaviour had been most provoking; and who by their evil habits were not only dead, but buried in their sepulchres.

67:8. O God, when thou didst go forth in the sight of thy people, when thou didst pass through the desert:

Deus cum egredereris ante populum tuum et ambulares per desertum semper

67:9. The earth was moved, and the heavens dropped at the presence of the God of Sina, at the presence of the God of Israel.

Terra commota est et caeli stillaverunt a facie tua Deus hoc est in Sinai a facie Dei Dei Israhel

67:10. Thou shalt set aside for thy inheritance a free rain, O God: and it was weakened, but thou hast made it perfect.

Pluviam voluntariam elevasti Deus hereditatem tuam laborantem tu confortasti

A free rain... the manna, which rained plentifully from heaven, in favour of God's inheritance, that is, of his people Israel: which was weakened indeed under a variety of afflictions, but was made perfect by God; that is, was still supported by divine providence, and brought on to the promised land. It agrees particularly to the church of Christ his true inheritance, which is plentifully watered with the free rain of heavenly grace; and through many infirmities, that is, crosses and tribulations, is made perfect, and fitted for eternal glory.

67:11. In it shall thy animals dwell; in thy sweetness, O God, thou hast provided for the poor.

Animalia tua habitaverunt in ea praeparasti in bonitate tua pauperi Deus

In it, etc... That is, in this church, which is thy fold and thy inheritance, shall thy animals, thy sheep, dwell: where thou hast plentifully provided for them.

67:12. The Lord shall give the word to them that preach good tidings with great power.

Domine dabis sermonem adnuntiatricibus fortitudinis plurimae

To them that preach good tidings... Evangelizantibus. That is, to the preachers of the gospel; who receiving the word from the Lord, shall with great power and efficacy preach throughout the world the glad tidings of a Saviour, and of eternal salvation through him.

67:13. The king of powers is of the beloved, of the beloved; and the beauty of the house shall divide spoils.

Reges exercituum foederabuntur foederabuntur et pulchritudo domus dividet spolia

The king of powers... That is, the mighty King, the Lord of hosts, is of the beloved, of the beloved; that is, is on the side of Christ, his most beloved son: and his beautiful house, viz., the church, in which God dwells forever, shall by her spiritual conquests divide the spoils of many nations. The Hebrew (as it now stands pointed) is thus rendered, The kings of armies have fled, they have fled, and she that dwells at home (or the beauty of the house) shall divide the spoils.

67:14. If you sleep among the midst of lots, you shall be as the wings of a dove covered with silver, and the hinder parts of her back with the paleness of gold.

Si dormieritis inter medios terminos pinnae columbae deargentatae et posteriora eius in virore auri

If you sleep among the midst of lots (intermedios clericos, etc.)... Viz., in such dangers and persecutions, as if your enemies were casting lots for your goods and persons: or in the midst of the lots, (intermedios terminos, as St. Jerome renders it), that is, upon the very bounds or borders of the dominions of your enemies: you shall be secure nevertheless under the divine protection; and shall be enabled to fly away, like a dove, with glittering wings and feathers shining like the palest and most precious gold; that is, with great increase of virtue, and glowing with the fervour of charity.

67:15. When he that is in heaven appointeth kings over her, they shall be whited with snow in Selmon.

Cum divideret Robustissimus reges in ea nive dealbata est in Selmon

Kings over her... That is, pastors and rulers over his church, viz., the apostles and their successors. Then by their ministry shall men be made whiter than the snow which lies on the top of the high mountain Selmon.

67:16. The mountain of God is a fat mountain. A curdled mountain, a fat mountain.

Mons Dei mons pinguis mons excelsus mons pinguis

The mountain of God... The church, which, Isaiah 2:2, is called The mountain of the house of the Lord upon the top of mountains. It is here called a fat and a curdled mountain; that is to say, most fruitful, and enriched by the spiritual gifts and graces of the Holy Ghost.

67:17. Why suspect, ye curdled mountains? A mountain in which God is well pleased to dwell: for there the Lord shall dwell unto the end.

Quare contenditis montes excelsi adversum montem quem dilexit Deus ut habitaret in eo siquidem Dominus habitabit semper

Why suspect, ye curdled mountains?... Why do you suppose or imagine there may be any other such curdled mountains? You are mistaken: the mountain thus favoured by God is but one; and this same he has chosen for his dwelling for ever.

67:18. The chariot of God is attended by ten thousands; thousands of them that rejoice: the Lord is among them in Sina, in the holy place.

Currus Dei innumerabilis milia abundantium Dominus in eis in Sina in sancto

The chariot of God... Descending to give his law on mount Sina: as also of Jesus Christ his Son, ascending into heaven, to send from thence the Holy Ghost, to publish his new law, is attended with ten thousands, that is, with an innumerable multitude of joyful angels.

67:19. Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive; thou hast received gifts in men. Yea for those also that do not believe, the dwelling of the Lord God.

Ascendisti in excelsum captivam duxisti captivitatem accepisti dona in hominibus insuper et non credentes habitare Dominum Deum

Led captivity captive... Carrying away with thee to heaven those who before had been the captives of Satan; and receiving from God the Father gifts to be distributed to men; even to those who were before unbelievers.

67:20. Blessed be the Lord day by day: the God of our salvation will make our journey prosperous to us.

Benedictus Dominus per singulos dies portabit nos Deus salutis nostrae semper

67:21. Our God is the God of salvation: and of the Lord, of the Lord are the issues from death.

Deus noster Deus salutis et Domini Dei mortis egressus

The issues from death... The Lord alone is master of the issues, by which we may escape from death.

67:22. But God shall break the heads of his enemies: the hairy crown of them that walk on in their sins.

Verumtamen Deus confringet capita inimicorum suorum verticem crinis ambulantis in delictis suis

67:23. The Lord said: I will turn them from Basan, I will turn them into the depth of the sea:

Dixit Dominus de Basan convertam convertam de profundis maris

I will turn them from Basan, etc... I will cast out my enemies from their rich possessions, signified by Basan, a fruitful country; and I will drive them into the depth of the sea: and make such a slaughter of them, that the feet of my servants may be dyed in their blood, etc.

67:24. That thy foot may be dipped in the blood of thy enemies; the tongue of thy dogs be red with the same.

Ut calcet pes tuus in sanguine lingua canum tuorum ex inimicis a temet ipso

67:25. They have seen thy goings, O God, the goings of my God: of my king who is in his sanctuary.

Viderunt itinera tua Deus itinera Dei mei regis mei in sancto

Thy goings... Thy ways, thy proceedings, by which thou didst formerly take possession of the promised land in favour of thy people; and shalt afterwards of the whole world, which thou shalt subdue to thy Son.

67:26. Princes went before joined with singers, in the midst of young damsels playing on timbrels.

Praecesserunt cantores eos qui post tergum psallebant in medio puellarum tympanistriarum

Princes... The apostles, the first converters of nations; attended by numbers of perfect souls, singing the divine praises, and virgins consecrated to God.

67:27. In the churches bless ye God the Lord, from the fountains of Israel.

In ecclesiis benedicite Deo Domino de fontibus Israhel

From the fountains of Israel... From whom both Christ and his apostles sprung. By Benjamin, the holy fathers on this place understand St. Paul, who was of that tribe, named here a youth, because he was the last called to the apostleship. By the princes of Juda, Zabulon, and Nephthali, we may understand the other apostles, who were of the tribe of Juda; or of the tribes of Zabulon, and Nephthali, where our Lord began to preach (Matthew 4:13, etc.)

67:28. There is Benjamin a youth, in ecstasy of mind. The princes of Juda are their leaders: the princes of Zabulon, the princes of Nephthali.

Ibi Benjamin parvulus continens eos principes Iuda in purpura sua principes Zabulon principes Nephthali

67:29. Command thy strength, O God confirm, O God, what thou hast wrought in us.

Praecepit Deus tuus de fortitudine tua conforta Deus hoc quod operatus es nobis

Command thy strength... Give orders that thy strength may be always with us.

67:30. From thy temple in Jerusalem, kings shall offer presents to thee.

De templo tuo quod est in Hierusalem tibi offerent reges munera

67:31. Rebuke the wild beasts of the reeds, the congregation of bulls with the kine of the people; who seek to exclude them who are tried with silver. Scatter thou the nations that delight in wars:

Increpa bestiam calami congregatio fortium in vitulis populorum calcitrantium contra rotas argenteas disperge populos qui bella volunt

Rebuke the wild beasts of the reeds... or the wild beasts, which lie hid in the reeds. That is, the devils, who hide themselves in order to surprise their prey. Or by wild beasts, are here understood persecutors, who, for all their attempts against the Church, are but as weak reeds, which cannot prevail against them who are supported by the strength of the Almighty. The same are also called the congregation of bulls (from their rage against the Church) who assemble together all their kine, that is, the people their subjects, to exclude if they can, from Christ and his inheritance, his constant confessors, who are like silver tried by fire.

67:32. Ambassadors shall come out of Egypt: Ethiopia shall soon stretch out her hands to God.

Offerant velociter ex Aegypto Aethiopia festinet dare manus Deo

Ambassadors shall come, etc... It is a prophecy of the conversion of the Gentiles, and by name of the Egyptians and Ethiopians.

67:33. Sing to God, ye kingdoms of the earth: sing ye to the Lord: Sing ye to God,

Regna terrae cantate Deo canite Domino semper

67:34. Who mounteth above the heaven of heavens, to the east. Behold he will give to his voice the voice of power:

Qui ascendit super caelum caeli a principio ecce dabit voci suae vocem fortitudinis

To the east... From Mount Olivet, which is on the east side of Jerusalem. -- Ibid. The voice of power... That is, he will make his voice to be a powerful voice: by calling from death to life, such as were dead in mortal sin: as at the last day he will by the power of his voice call all the dead from their graves.

67:35. Give ye glory to God for Israel, his magnificence, and his power is in the clouds.

Date gloriam Deo super Israhel magnificentia eius et fortitudo eius in caelis

67:36. God is wonderful in his saints: the God of Israel is he who will give power and strength to his people. Blessed be God.

Terribilis Deus de sanctuario suo Deus Israhel ipse dabit fortitudinem et robur populo benedictus Deus

Psalm 68

Salvum me fac, Deus. Christ in his passion declareth the greatness of his sufferings, and the malice of his persecutors the Jews; and foretelleth their reprobation.

---

68:1. Unto the end, for them that shall be changed; for David.

Victori pro liliis David

For them that shall be changed... A psalm for Christian converts, to remember the passion of Christ.

68:2. Save me, O God: for the waters are come in even unto my soul.

Salva me Deus quoniam venerunt aquae usque ad animam

The waters... Of afflictions and sorrows. My soul is sorrowful even unto death. Matthew 26:38.

68:3. I stick fast in the mire of the deep and there is no sure standing. I am come into the depth of the sea, and a tempest hath overwhelmed me.

Infixus sum in limo profundi et non possum consistere veni in profundum aquarum et flumen operuit me

68:4. I have laboured with crying; my jaws are become hoarse, my eyes have failed, whilst I hope in my God.

Laboravi clamans exasperatum est guttur meum defecerunt oculi mei expectantes Deum meum

68:5. They are multiplied above the hairs of my head, who hate me without cause. My enemies are grown strong who have wrongfully persecuted me: then did I pay that which I took not away.

Multiplicati sunt super capillos capitis mei qui oderunt me gratis confortati sunt qui persequerentur me inimici mei iniuste quae non rapueram tunc reddebam

I pay that which I took not away... Christ in his passion made restitution of what he had not taken away, by suffering the punishment due to our sins, and so repairing the injury we had done to God.

68:6. O God, thou knowest my foolishness; and my offences are not hidden from thee:

Deus tu scis stultitiam meam et peccata mea a te non sunt abscondita

My foolishness and my offences... which my enemies impute to me: or the follies and sins of men, which I have taken upon myself.

68:7. Let not them be ashamed for me, who look for thee, O Lord, the Lord of hosts. Let them not be confounded on my account, who seek thee, O God of Israel.

Non confundantur in me qui expectant te Domine Deus exercituum non confundantur in me qui quaerunt te Deus Israhel

68:8. Because for thy sake I have borne reproach; shame hath covered my face.

Quia propter te portavi obprobrium operuit confusio faciem meam

68:9. I am become a stranger to my brethren, and an alien to the sons of my mother.

Alienus factus sum fratribus meis et peregrinus filiis matris meae

68:10. For the zeal of thy house hath eaten me up: and the reproaches of them that reproached thee are fallen upon me.

Quia zelus domus tuae comedit me et obprobrium exprobrantium tibi cecidit super me

68:11. And I covered my soul in fasting: and it was made a reproach to me.

Et flevi in ieiunio animam meam et factum est in obprobria mihi

68:12. And I made haircloth my garment: and I became a byword to them.

Et posui vestimentum meum saccum et factus sum eis in parabolam

68:13. They that sat in the gate spoke against me: and they that drank wine made me their song.

Contra me loquebantur qui sedebant in porta et cantabant bibentes vinum

68:14. But as for me, my prayer is to thee, O Lord; for the time of thy good pleasure, O God. In the multitude of thy mercy hear me, in the truth of thy salvation.

Mea autem oratio ad te Domine tempus reconciliationis est Deus in multitudine misericordiae tuae exaudi me in veritate salutaris tui

68:15. Draw me out of the mire, that I may not stick fast: deliver me from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

Erue me de luto ut non infigar libera me ab his qui oderunt me et de profundis aquis

68:16. Let not the tempest of water drown me, nor the deep water swallow me up: and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

Ne operiat me fluvius aquae et ne absorbeat me profundum et non coronet super me puteus os suum

68:17. Hear me, O Lord, for thy mercy is kind; look upon me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

Exaudi me Domine quoniam bona est misericordia tua secundum multitudinem miserationum tuarum respice ad me

68:18. And turn not away thy face from thy servant: for I am in trouble, hear me speedily.

Et ne abscondas faciem tuam a servo tuo quoniam tribulor cito exaudi me

68:19. Attend to my soul, and deliver it: save me because of my enemies.

Accede ad animam meam redime eam propter inimicos meos libera me

68:20. Thou knowest my reproach, and my confusion, and my shame.

Tu scis obprobrium meum et confusionem meam et ignominiam meam

68:21. In thy sight are all they that afflict me; my heart hath expected reproach and misery. And I looked for one that would grieve together with me, but there was none: and for one that would comfort me, and I found none.

Coram te sunt omnes hostes mei obprobrio contritum est cor meum et desperatus sum et expectavi qui contristaretur et non fuit et qui consolaretur et non inveni

68:22. And they gave me gall for my food, and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

Et dederunt in esca mea fel et in siti mea potaverunt me aceto

68:23. Let their table become as a snare before them, and a recompense, and a stumblingblock.

Sit mensa eorum coram eis in laqueum et in retributiones ad corruendum

Let their table, etc... What here follows in the style of an imprecation, is a prophecy of the wretched state to which the Jews should be reduced in punishment of their wilful obstinacy.

68:24. Let their eyes be darkened that they see not; and their back bend thou down always.

Contenebrentur oculi eorum ne videant et dorsum eorum semper incurva

68:25. Pour out thy indignation upon them: and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them.

Effunde super eos indignationem tuam et ira furoris tui comprehendat eos

68:26. Let their habitation be made desolate: and let there be none to dwell in their tabernacles.

Fiat commoratio eorum deserta in tabernaculis eorum non sit qui habitet

68:27. Because they have persecuted him whom thou hast smitten; and they have added to the grief of my wounds.

Quoniam quem tu percussisti persecuti sunt et ut adfligerent vulneratos tuos narrabant

68:28. Add thou iniquity upon their iniquity: and let them not come into thy justice.

Da iniquitatem super iniquitatem eorum et non veniant in iustitia tua

68:29. Let them be blotted out of the book of the living; and with the just let them not be written.

Deleantur de libro viventium et cum iustis non scribantur

68:30. But I am poor and sorrowful: thy salvation, O God, hath set me up.

Ego autem pauper et dolens salus tua Deus suscipiet me

68:31. I will praise the name of God with a canticle: and I will magnify him with praise.
Laudabo nomen Dei in cantico et magnificabo eum in confessione

68:32. And it shall please God better than a young calf, that bringeth forth horns and hoofs.
Et placebit Domino super vitulum novellum cornua efferentem et ungulas

68:33. Let the poor see and rejoice: seek ye God, and your soul shall live.
Videntes mansueti laetabuntur qui quaeritis Deum vivet anima vestra

68:34. For the Lord hath heard the poor: and hath not despised his prisoners.
Quoniam exaudivit pauperes Dominus et vinctos suos non dispexit

68:35. Let the heavens and the earth praise him; the sea, and every thing that creepeth therein.
Laudent eum caeli et terra maria et omne quod movetur in eis

68:36. For God will save Sion, and the cities of Juda shall be built up. And they shall dwell there, and acquire it by inheritance.

Quia Deus salvabit Sion et aedificabit civitates Iuda et habitabunt ibi et possidebunt eam

Sion... The catholic church. The cities of Juda, etc., her places of worship, which shall be established throughout the world. And there, viz., in this church of Christ, shall his servants dwell, etc.

68:37. And the seed of his servants shall possess it; and they that love his name shall dwell therein.
Et semen servorum eius possidebit eam et qui diligunt nomen eius habitabunt in ea

Psalm 69

Deus in adiutorium. A prayer in persecution.

---

69:1. Unto the end, a psalm for David, to bring to remembrance that the Lord saved him.

Victori David ad recordandum

69:2. O God, come to my assistance; O Lord, make haste to help me.

Deus ut liberes me Domine ut auxilieris mihi festina

69:3. Let them be confounded and ashamed that seek my soul:

Confundantur et erubescant qui quaerunt animam meam

69:4. Let them be turned backward, and blush for shame that desire evils to me: Let them be presently turned away blushing for shame that say to me: 'Tis well, 'tis well.

Convertantur retrorsum et erubescant qui volunt malum mihi revertantur ad vestigium confusionis suae qui dicunt va va

'T is well, 't is well... Euge, euge. St. Jerome renders it, vah, vah! which is the voice of one insulting and deriding. Some understand it as a detestation of deceitful flatterers.

69:5. Let all that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; and let such as love thy salvation say always: The Lord be magnified.

Gaudeant et laetentur in te omnes qui quaerunt te et dicant semper magnificetur Deus qui diligunt salutare tuum

69:6. But I am needy and poor; O God, help me. Thou art my helper and my deliverer: O lord, make no delay.

Ego autem egenus et pauper Deus festina pro me auxilium meum et salvator meus tu Domine ne moreris

Psalm 70

In te, Domine. A prayer for perseverance.

---

70:1. A psalm for David. Of the sons of Jonadab, and the former captives. In thee, O Lord, I have hoped, let me never be put to confusion:

In te Domine speravi ne confundar in aeternum

Of the sons of Jonadab... The Rechabites, of whom see Jeremias 35. By this addition of the seventy-two interpreters, we gather that this psalm was usually sung in the synagogue, in the person of the Rechabites, and of those who were first carried away into captivity.

70:2. Deliver me in thy justice, and rescue me. Incline thy ear unto me, and save me.

Iustitia tua erue me et libera inclina ad me aurem tuam et salva me

70:3. Be thou unto me a God, a protector, and a place of strength: that thou mayst make me safe. For thou art my firmament and my refuge.

Esto mihi robustum habitaculum ut ingrediar iugiter praecepisti ut salves me quia petra mea et fortitudo mea es tu

70:4. Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the sinner, and out of the hand of the transgressor of the law and of the unjust.

Deus meus salva me de manu impii de manu iniqui et nocentis

70:5. For thou art my patience, O Lord: my hope, O Lord, from my youth.

Quia tu es expectatio mea Deus Domine fiducia mea ab adolescentia mea

70:6. By thee have I been confirmed from the womb: from my mother's womb thou art my protector. Of thee I shall continually sing:

A te sustentatus sum ex utero de ventre matris meae tu es protector meus in te laus mea semper

70:7. I am become unto many as a wonder, but thou art a strong helper.

Quasi portentum factus sum multis et tu spes mea fortissima

70:8. Let my mouth be filled with praise, that I may sing thy glory; thy greatness all the day long.

Impleatur os meum laude tua tota die magnitudine tua

70:9. Cast me not off in the time of old age: when my strength shall fail, do not thou forsake me.

Ne proicias me in tempore senectutis cum defecerit fortitudo mea ne derelinquas me

70:10. For my enemies have spoken against me; and they that watched my soul have consulted together,

Quia dixerunt inimici mei mihi et qui observabant animam meam inierunt consilium pariter

70:11. Saying: God hath forsaken him: pursue and take him, for there is none to deliver him.

Dicentes Deus dereliquit eum persequimini et comprehendite eum quia non est qui eruat

70:12. O God, be not thou far from me: O my God, make haste to my help.

Deus ne elongeris a me Deus meus ad auxiliandum mihi festina

70:13. Let them be confounded and come to nothing that detract my soul; let them be covered with confusion and blame that seek my hurt.

Confundantur et consumantur adversarii animae meae operiantur obprobrio et confusione qui quaerunt malum mihi

70:14. But I will always hope; and will add to all thy praise.

Ego autem iugiter expectabo et adiciam super omnes laudationes tuas

70:15. My mouth shall show forth thy justice; thy salvation all the day long. Because I have not known learning,

Os meum narrabit iustitiam tuam tota die salutare tuum quia non cognovi litteraturas

Learning... As much as to say, I build not upon human learning, but only on the power and justice of God.

70:16. I will enter into the powers of the Lord: O Lord, I will be mindful of thy justice alone.

Ingridiar in fortitudine Domini Dei recordabor iustitiae tuae solius

70:17. Thou hast taught me, O God, from my youth: and till now I will declare thy wonderful works.

Deus docuisti me ab adulescentia mea et usque nunc adnuntiabo mirabilia tua

70:18. And unto old age and grey hairs: O God, forsake me not, Until I show forth thy arm to all the generation that is to come: Thy power,

Insuper et usque ad senectutem et canos Deus ne derelinquas me donec adnuntiem brachium tuum generationi cunctisque qui venturi sunt fortitudines tuas

70:19. And thy justice, O God, even to the highest great things thou hast done: O God, who is like to thee?

Et iustitiam tuam Deus usque in excelsum quanta fecisti magnalia Deus quis similis tibi

70:20. How great troubles hast thou shown me, many and grievous: and turning thou hast brought me to life, and hast brought me back again from the depths of the earth:

Qui ostendisti mihi tribulationes plurimas et adflictiones conversus vivificabis nos et de abyssis terrae rursum educes nos

70:21. Thou hast multiplied thy magnificence; and turning to me thou hast comforted me.

Multiplicabis magnitudinem meam et conversus consolaberis me

70:22. For I will also confess to thee thy truth with the instruments of psaltery: O God, I will sing to thee with the harp, thou holy one of Israel.

Ego autem confitebor tibi in vasis psalterii veritatem tuam Deus meus cantabo tibi in cithara Sancte Israhel

70:23. My lips shall greatly rejoice, when I shall sing to thee; and my soul which thou hast redeemed.

Laudabunt labia mea cum cantavero tibi et anima mea quam redemisti

70:24. Yea and my tongue shall meditate on thy justice all the day; when they shall be confounded and put to shame that seek evils to me.

Insuper et lingua mea tota die meditabitur iustitiam tuam quia confusi sunt et dehonestati quaerentes malum mihi

Psalm 71

Deus, iudicium tuum. A prophecy of the coming of Christ, and of his kingdom: prefigured by Solomon and his happy reign.

71:1. A psalm on Solomon.

Salomonis

71:2. Give to the king thy judgment, O God, and to the king's son thy justice: To judge thy people with justice, and thy poor with judgment.

Deus iudicium regi da et iustitiam tuam filio regis iudicabit populum tuum in iustitia et pauperes tuos in iudicio

71:3. Let the mountains receive peace for the people: and the hills justice.

Adsument montes pacem populo et colles iustitiam

71:4. He shall judge the poor of the people, and he shall save the children of the poor: and he shall humble the oppressor.

Iudicabit pauperes populi salvabit filios pauperis et confringet calumniatorem

71:5. And he shall continue with the sun and before the moon, throughout all generations.

Et timebunt te quamdiu erit sol et ultra lunam in generatione generationum

71:6. He shall come down like rain upon the fleece; and as showers falling gently upon the earth.

Descendet ut pluvia super vellus ut stillae inrorantes terram

71:7. In his days shall justice spring up, and abundance of peace, till the moon be taken away.

Germinabit in diebus eius iustitia et multitudo pacis donec non sit luna

71:8. And he shall rule from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth.

Et dominabitur a mari usque ad mare et a flumine usque ad terminos terrae

71:9. Before him the Ethiopians shall fall down: and his enemies shall lick the ground.

Ante eum procident Aethiopes et inimici eius pulverem lingent

71:10. The kings of Tharsis and the islands shall offer presents: the kings of the Arabians and of Saba shall bring gifts:

Reges Tharsis et insulae munera offerent reges Arabiae et Saba tributum conferent

71:11. And all kings of the earth shall adore him: all nations shall serve him.

Et adorabunt eum omnes reges universae nationes servient ei

71:12. For he shall deliver the poor from the mighty: and the needy that had no helper.

Quia eruet pauperem a potente et inopem cui non est adiutor

71:13. He shall spare the poor and needy: and he shall save the souls of the poor.

Parcet inopi et pauperi et animas pauperum salvabit

71:14. He shall redeem their souls from usuries and iniquity: and their names shall be honourable in his sight.

Ab usura et iniquitate redimet animam eorum et pretiosus erit sanguis eorum coram oculis eius

71:15. And he shall live, and to him shall be given of the gold of Arabia, for him they shall always adore: they shall bless him all the day.

Et vivet et dabitur ei de auro Saba et orabunt de eo iugiter tota die benedicent ei

71:16. And there shall be a firmament on the earth on the tops of mountains, above Libanus shall the fruit thereof be exalted: and they of the city shall flourish like the grass of the earth. *

A firmament on the earth, etc... This may be understood of the church of Christ, ever firm and visible: and of the flourishing condition of its congregation.

Erit memorabile triticum in terra in capite montium elevabitur sicut Libani fructus eius et florebut de civitate sicut faenum terrae

71:17. Let his name be blessed for evermore: his name continueth before the sun. And in him shall all the tribes of the earth be blessed: all nations shall magnify him.

Erit nomen eius in aeternum ultra solem perseverabit nomen eius et benedicentur in eo omnes gentes et beatificabunt eum

71:18. Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, who alone doth wonderful things.

Benedictus Dominus Deus Deus Israhel qui facit mirabilia solus

71:19. And blessed be the name of his majesty for ever: and the whole earth shall be filled with his majesty. So be it. So be it.

Et benedictum nomen gloriae eius in sempiternum et implebitur gloria eius universa terra amen amen

71:20. The praises of David, the son of Jesse, are ended. *

Completæ sunt orationes David filii Iesse

Are ended... By this it appears that this psalm, though placed here, was in order of time the last of those which David composed.

Psalm 72

Quam bonus Israel Deus. The temptation of the weak, upon seeing the prosperity of the wicked, is overcome by the consideration of the justice of God, who will quickly render to every one according to his works.

72:1. A psalm for Asaph. How good is God to Israel, to them that are of a right heart!
Canticum Asaph attamen bonus est Israhel Deus his qui mundo sunt corde

72:2. But my feet were almost moved; my steps had well nigh slipped.
Mei autem paene vacillaverunt pedes paene effusi sunt gressus mei

72:3. Because I had a zeal on occasion of the wicked, seeing the prosperity of sinners.
Quia aemulatus sum contra iniquos pacem impiorum videns

72:4. For there is no regard to their death, nor is there strength in their stripes.
Quod non recogitaverint de morte sua et firma sint vestibula eorum

72:5. They are not in the labour of men: neither shall they be scourged like other men.
In labore hominum non sunt et cum hominibus non flagellabuntur

72:6. Therefore pride hath held them fast: they are covered with their iniquity and their wickedness.
Ideo nutriti sunt ad superbiam circumdederunt iniquitatem sibi

72:7. Their iniquity hath come forth, as it were from fatness: they have passed into the affection of the heart. *

Processerunt a pinguidine oculi eorum transierunt cogitationes cordis

Fatness... Abundance and temporal prosperity, which hath encouraged them in their iniquity: and made them give themselves up to their irregular affections.

72:8. They have thought and spoken wickedness: they have spoken iniquity on high.
Inriserunt et locuti sunt in malitia calumniam de excelso loquentes

72:9. They have set their mouth against heaven: and their tongue hath passed through the earth.
Posuerunt in caelo os suum et lingua eorum deambulavit in terra

72:10. Therefore will my people return here and full days shall be found in them. *

Propterea convertetur populus eius hic et quis plenus invenietur in eis

Return here... or hither. The weak among the servants of God, will be apt often to return to this thought, and will be shocked when they consider the full days, that is, the long and prosperous life of the wicked; and will be tempted to make the reflections against providence which are set down in the following verses.

72:11. And they said: How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the most High?
Et dixerunt quomodo novit Deus et si est scientia in Excelso

72:12. Behold these are sinners; and yet, abounding in the world they have obtained riches.
Ecce isti impii et abundantes in saeculo multiplicaverunt divitias

72:13. And I said: Then have I in vain justified my heart, and washed my hands among the innocent.
Ergo frustra mundavi cor meum et lavi in innocentia manus meas

72:14. And I have been scourged all the day; and my chastisement hath been in the mornings.
Et fui flagellatus tota die et increpatio mea in matutinis

72:15. If I said: I will speak thus; behold I should condemn the generation of thy children.*
Dixi si narravero sic ecce generationem filiorum tuorum reliqui

If I said, etc... That is, if I should indulge such thoughts as these.

72:16. I studied that I might know this thing, it is a labour in my sight:
Et cogitavi ut intellegerem istud labor est in oculis meis

72:17. Until I go into the sanctuary of God, and understand concerning their last ends.
Donec veniam ad sanctuaria Dei intellegam in novissimo eorum

72:18. But indeed for deceits thou hast put it to them: when they were lifted up thou hast cast them down.*
Verumtamen in lubrico posuisti eos deiecisti eos ad interitum

Thou hast put it to them... In punishment of their deceits, or for deceiving them, thou hast brought evils upon them in their last end, which, in their prosperity they never apprehended.

72:19. How are they brought to desolation? they have suddenly ceased to be: they have perished by reason of their iniquity.
Quomodo vastati sunt subito defecerunt consumpti sunt quasi non sint

72:20. As the dream of them that awake, O Lord; so in thy city thou shalt bring their image to nothing.
Quasi somnium evigilantis Domine in civitate tua imaginem eorum ad nihilum rediges

72:21. For my heart hath been inflamed, and my reins have been changed:
Quia contractum est cor meum et lumbi mei velut ignis fumigans

72:22. And I am brought to nothing, and I knew not.
Et ego insipiens et nescius

72:23. I am become as a beast before thee: and I am always with thee.
Quasi iumentum factus sum apud te et eram semper tecum

72:24. Thou hast held me by my right hand; and by thy will thou hast conducted me, and with thy glory thou hast received me.
Et tenebas manum dexteram meam in consilium tuum deduces me et postea in gloria suscipies me

72:25. For what have I in heaven? and besides thee what do I desire upon earth?
Quid mihi est in caelo et tecum nolui in terra

72:26. For thee my flesh and my heart hath fainted away: thou art the God of my heart, and the God that is my portion for ever.
Consumpta est caro mea et cor meum robur cordis mei et pars mea Deus in aeternum

72:27. For behold they that go far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that are disloyal to thee.
Quia ecce qui elongant se a te peribunt perdidisti omnem fornicantem a te

72:28. But it is good for me to adhere to my God, to put my hope in the Lord God: That I may declare all thy praises, in the gates of the daughter of Sion.
Mihi autem adpropinquare Deo bonum est posui in Domino Deo spem meam ut narrem omnes adnuntiationes tuas

Psalm 73

Ut quid, Deus. A prayer of the church under grievous persecutions.

73:1. Understanding for Asaph. O God, why hast thou cast us off unto the end: why is thy wrath enkindled against the sheep of thy pasture?

Eruditionis Asaph ut quid Deus reppulisti in finem fumavit furor tuus in gregem pascuae tuae

73:2. Remember thy congregation, which thou hast possessed from the beginning. The sceptre of thy inheritance which thou hast redeemed: mount Zion in which thou hast dwelt.

Recordare congregationis tuae quam possedisti ab initio et redemisti virgam hereditatis tuae montis Zion in quo habitasti

73:3. Lift up thy hands against their pride unto the end; see what things the enemy hath done wickedly in the sanctuary.

Sublimitas pedum tuorum dissipata est usque ad finem omnia mala egit inimicus in sanctuario

73:4. And they that hate thee have made their boasts, in the midst of thy solemnity. They have set up their ensigns for signs, *

Fremuerunt hostes tui in medio pacti tui posuerunt signa sua in tropeum

Their ensigns, etc... They have fixed their colours for signs and trophies, both on the gates, and on the highest top of the temple: and they knew not, that is, they regarded not the sanctity of the place. This psalm manifestly foretells the time of the Machabees, and the profanation of the temple by Antiochus.

73:5. And they knew not both in the going out and on the highest top. As with axes in a wood of trees, Manifesta in introitu desuper in saltu lignorum secures

73:6. They have cut down at once the gates thereof, with axe and hatchet they have brought it down.

Et nunc scalpturas eius pariter bipinne et dolatoriis deraserunt

73:7. They have set fire to thy sanctuary: they have defiled the dwelling place of thy name on the earth.

Miserunt ignem in sanctuarium tuum in terram contaminaverunt habitaculum nominis tui

73:8. They said in their heart, the whole kindred of them together: Let us abolish all the festival days of God from the land.

Dixerunt in cordibus suis posteri eorum simul incenderunt omnes sollemnitates Dei in terra

73:9. Our signs we have not seen, there is now no prophet: and he will know us no more.

Signa nostra non vidimus non est ultra propheta et non est nobiscum qui sciat usquequo

73:10. How long, O God, shall the enemy reproach: is the adversary to provoke thy name for ever?

Usquequo Deus exprobrabit adversarius blasphemabit inimicus nomen tuum in finem

73:11. Why dost thou turn away thy hand: and thy right hand out of the midst of thy bosom for ever?

Quare convertis manum tuam et dexteram tuam ad medium sinum tuum consume

73:12. But God is our king before ages: he hath wrought salvation in the midst of the earth.

Deus autem rex meus ab initio operatur salutes in medio terrae

73:13. Thou by thy strength didst make the sea firm: thou didst crush the heads of the dragons in the waters. *

Tu dissipasti in fortitudine tua mare contrivisti capita draconum in aquis

The sea firm... By making the waters of the Red Sea stand like firm walls, whilst Israel passed through: and destroying the Egyptians called here dragons from their cruelty, in the same waters, with their king: casting up their bodies on the shore to be stripped by the Ethiopians inhabiting in those days the coast of Arabia.

73:14. Thou hast broken the heads of the dragon: thou hast given him to be meat for the people of the Ethiopians.

Tu confregisti capita Leviathan dedisti eum in escam populo Aethiopum

73:15. Thou hast broken up the fountains and the torrents: thou hast dried up the Ethan rivers. *

Tu disruptisti fontem et torrentem tu exsiccasti flumina fortia

Ethan rivers... That is, rivers which run with strong streams. This was verified in Jordan \(Joshua 3\) and in Arnon \(Numbers 21:14\).

73:16. Thine is the day, and thine is the night: thou hast made the morning light and the sun.

Tua est dies et tua est nox tu ordinasti luminaria et solem

73:17. Thou hast made all the borders of the earth: the summer and the spring were formed by thee.

Tu statuisti omnes terminos terrae aestatem et hiemem tu plasmasti

73:18. Remember this, the enemy hath reproached the Lord: and a foolish people hath provoked thy name.

Memento huius inimicus exprobravit Domino et populus insipiens blasphemavit nomen tuum

73:19. Deliver not up to beasts the souls that confess to thee: and forget not to the end the souls of thy poor.

Ne tradas bestiis animam eruditam lege tua vitae pauperum tuorum ne obliviscaris in perpetuum

73:20. Have regard to thy covenant: for they that are the obscure of the earth have been filled with dwellings of iniquity. *

Respice ad pactum quia repletae sunt tenebris terrae habitationes iniquae subrutae

The obscure of the earth... Mean and ignoble wretches have been filled, that is, enriched, with houses of iniquity, that is, with our estates and possessions, which they have unjustly acquired.

73:21. Let not the humble be turned away with confusion: the poor and needy shall praise thy name.

Ne revertatur confractus et confusus egenus et pauper laudabunt nomen tuum

73:22. Arise, O God, judge thy own cause: remember thy reproaches with which the foolish man hath reproached thee all the day.

Surge Deus iudica causam tuam memento obprobrii tui ab insipiente tota die

73:23. Forget not the voices of thy enemies: the pride of them that hate thee ascendeth continually.

Ne obliviscaris vocis hostium tuorum sonitus adversariorum tuorum ascendit iugiter

Psalm 74

Confitebimur tibi. There is a just judgment to come: therefore let the wicked take care.

---

74:1. Unto the end, corrupt not, a psalm of a canticle for Asaph. *

Victori ut non disperdas psalmus Asaph cantici

Corrupt not... It is believed to have been the beginning of some ode or hymn, to the tune of which this psalm was to be sung. St. Augustine and other fathers take it to be an admonition of the spirit of God, not to faint or fail in our hope: but to persevere with constancy in good: because God will not fail in his due time to render to every man according to his works.

74:2. We will praise thee, O God: we will praise, and we will call upon thy name. We will relate thy wondrous works:

Confitebimur tibi Deus confitebimur et iuxta nomen tuum narrabunt mirabilia tua

74:3. When I shall take a time, I will judge justices. *

Cum accipero tempus ego iustitias iudicabo

When I shall take a time... In proper times: particularly at the last day, when the earth shall melt away at the presence of the great Judge: the same who originally laid the foundations of it, and as it were established its pillars.

74:4. The earth is melted, and all that dwell therein: I have established the pillars thereof.

Dissolvetur terra cum omnibus habitatoribus suis ego adpendi columnas eius semper

74:5. I said to the wicked: Do not act wickedly: and to the sinners: Lift not up the horn.

Dixi inique agentibus nolite inique agere et impiis nolite exaltare cornu

74:6. Lift not up your horn on high: speak not iniquity against God.

Nolite exaltare in excelsum cornu vestrum loquentes in cervice veteri

74:7. For neither from the east, nor from the west, nor from the desert hills:

Quia nec ab oriente neque ab occidente neque a solitudine montium

74:8. For God is the judge. One he putteth down, and another he lifteth up:

Sed Deus iudex hunc humiliabit et hunc exaltabit

74:9. For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup of strong wine full of mixture. And he hath poured it out from this to that: but the dregs thereof are not emptied: all the sinners of the earth shall drink.

Quia calix in manu Domini est et vino meraco usque ad plenum mixtus et propinabit ex eo verumtamen feces eius epotabunt bibentes omnes impii terrae

74:10. But I will declare for ever: I will sing to the God of Jacob.

Ego autem adnuntiabo in sempiternum cantabo Deo Iacob

74:11. And I will break all the horns of sinners: but the horns of the just shall be exalted.

Et omnia cornua impiorum confringam exaltabuntur cornua iusti

Psalm 75

Notus in Judaea. God is known in his church: and exerts his power in protecting it. It alludes to the slaughter of the Assyrians, in the days of king Ezechias.

---

75:1. Unto the end, in praises, a psalm for Asaph: a canticle to the Assyrians.
Victori in psalmis canticum Asaph carminis

75:2. In Judea God is known: his name is great in Israel.
Cognoscetur in Iudaea Deus in Israhel magnum nomen eius

75:3. And his place is in peace: and his abode in Sion:
Et erit in Salem tabernaculum eius et habitatio eius in Sion

75:4. There hath he broken the powers of bows, the shield, the sword, and the battle.
Ibi confringet volatilia arcus scutum et gladium et bellum semper

75:5. Thou enlightenest wonderfully from the everlasting hills.
Lumen tu es Magnifice a montibus captivitatis

75:6. All the foolish of heart were troubled. They have slept their sleep; and all the men of riches have found nothing in their hands.
Spoliati sunt superbi corde dormitaverunt somnum suum et non invenerunt omnes viri exercitus manus suas

75:7. At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, they have all slumbered that mounted on horseback.
Ab increpatione tua Deus Iacob consopitus est et currus et equus

75:8. Thou art terrible, and who shall resist thee? from that time thy wrath.*
Tu terribilis es et quis stabit adversum te ex tunc ira tua
From that time, etc... From the time that thy wrath shall break out.

75:9. Thou hast caused judgment to be heard from heaven: the earth trembled and was still,
De caelo adnuntiabis iudicium terra timens tacebit

75:10. When God arose in judgment, to save all the meek of the earth.
Cum surrexerit ad iudicandum Deus ut salvos faciat omnes mites terrae semper

75:11. For the thought of man shall give praise to thee: and the remainders of the thought shall keep holiday to thee.
Quia ira hominis confitebitur tibi reliquiis irae accingeris

75:12. Vow ye, and pay to the Lord your God: all you that are round about him bring presents. To him that is terrible,
Vovete et reddite Domino Deo vestro omnes qui in circuitu eius sunt offerent dona terribili

75:13. Even to him who taketh away the spirit of princes: to the terrible with the kings of the earth.
Auferenti spiritum ducum terribili regibus terrae

Psalm 76

Voce mea.* The faithful have recourse to God in trouble of mind, with confidence in his mercy and power.

---

76:1. Unto the end, for Idithun, a psalm of Asaph.

Victori per Idithun psalmus Asaph

76:2. I cried to the Lord with my voice; to God with my voice, and he gave ear to me.

Voce mea ad Dominum clamavi voce mea ad Dominum et exaudivit me

76:3. In the days of my trouble I sought God, with my hands lifted up to him in the night, and I was not deceived. My soul refused to be comforted:

In die tribulationis meae Dominum requisivi manus mea nocte extenditur et non quiescit noluit consolari anima mea

76:4. I remembered God, and was delighted, and was exercised, and my spirit swooned away.

Recordans Dei conturbabar loquebar in memet ipso et deficiebat spiritus meus semper

76:5. My eyes prevented the watches: I was troubled, and I spoke not.

Prohibebam suspectum oculorum meorum stupebam et non loquebar

76:6. I thought upon the days of old: and I had in my mind the eternal years.

Recogitabam dies antiquos annos pristinos

76:7. And I meditated in the night with my own heart: and I was exercised and I swept my spirit.

Recordabar psalmorem meorum in nocte cum corde meo loquebar et scobebam spiritum meum

76:8. Will God then cast off for ever? or will he never be more favourable again?

Ergone in aeternum proiciet Dominus et non repropitiabitur ultra

76:9. Or will he cut off his mercy for ever, from generation to generation?

Ergone conplebit usque in finem misericordiam suam consummabit verbum de generatione et generatione

76:10. Or will God forget to show mercy? or will he in his anger shut up his mercies?

Numquid oblitus est misereri Deus aut conplebit in furore misericordias suas semper

76:11. And I said, Now have I begun: this is the change of the right hand of the most High.

Et dixi inbecillitas mea est haec commutatio dexterarum Excelsi

76:12. I remembered the works of the Lord: for I will be mindful of thy wonders from the beginning.

Recordabor cogitationum Domini reminiscens antiqua mirabilia tua

76:13. And I will meditate on all thy works: and will be employed in thy inventions.

Et meditabor in omni opere tuo et adinventiones tuas loquar

76:14. Thy way, O God, is in the holy place: who is the great God like our God?

Deus in sanctuario via tua quis deus magnus ut Deus

76:15. Thou art the God that dost wonders. Thou hast made thy power known among the nations:

Tu es Deus faciens mirabilia ostendens in populis potentiam tuam

76:16. With thy arm thou hast redeemed thy people the children of Jacob and of Joseph.

Redemisti in brachio populum tuum filios Iacob et Ioseph semper

76:17. The waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw thee: and they were afraid, and the depths were troubled.

Videntes te aquae Deus videntes te aquae parturierunt et commotae sunt abyssi

76:18. Great was the noise of the waters: the clouds sent out a sound. For thy arrows pass:

Excusserunt aquas nubila vocem dederunt nubes et sagittae tuae discurrebant

76:19. The voice of thy thunder in a wheel. Thy lightnings enlightened the world: the earth shook and trembled.

Vox tonitruui tui in rota apparuerunt fulgora tua orbi concussa est et commota est terra

76:20. Thy way is in the sea, and thy paths in many waters: and thy footsteps shall not be known.

In mari via tua et semitae tuae in aquis multis et vestigia tua non sunt agnita

76:21. Thou hast conducted thy people like sheep, by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Deduxisti quasi gregem populum tuum in manu Mosi et Aaron

Psalm 77

Attendite.* God's great benefits to the people of Israel, notwithstanding their ingratitude.

77:1. Understanding for Asaph. Attend, O my people, to my law: incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

Eruditionis Asaph auscultata populus meus legem meam inclinate aurem vestram ad verba oris mei

77:2. I will open my mouth in parables: I will utter propositions from the beginning. *

Aperiam in parabula os meum loquar enigmata antiqua

Propositions... Deep and mysterious sayings. By this it appears that the historical facts of ancient times, commemorated in this psalm, were deep and mysterious: as being figures of great truths appertaining to the time of the New Testament.

77:3. How great things have we heard and known, and our fathers have told us.

Quae audivimus et cognovimus et patres nostri narraverunt nobis

77:4. They have not been hidden from their children, in another generation. Declaring the praises of the Lord, and his powers, and his wonders which he hath done.

Non sunt abscondita a filiis eorum a generatione sequenti narrante laudes Domini et potentiam eius et mirabilia eius quae fecit

77:5. And he set up a testimony in Jacob: and made a law in Israel. How great things he commanded our fathers, that they should make the same known to their children:

Statuit contestationem Iacob et legem posuit in Israhel quae mandavit patribus nostris ut docerent filios suos

77:6. That another generation might know them. The children that should be born and should rise up, and declare them to their children.

Ut cognosceret generatio subsequens filii nascituri surgent et narrabunt filiis suis

77:7. That they may put their hope in God and may not forget the works of God: and may seek his commandments.

Ut ponant in Deo spem suam et non obliviscantur cogitationum eius et mandata eius custodiant

77:8. That they may not become like their fathers, a perverse and exasperating generation. A generation that set not their heart aright: and whose spirit was not faithful to God.

Ut non sint sicut patres eorum generatio declinans et provocans generatio quae non praeparavit cor suum et non credidit Deo spiritus eius

77:9. The sons of Ephraim who bend and shoot with the bow: they have turned back in the day of battle.

Filii Efraim intendentes et mittentes arcum terga verterunt in die belli

77:10. They kept not the covenant of God: and in his law they would not walk.

Non custodierunt pactum Dei sui et in lege eius noluerunt ingredi

77:11. And they forgot his benefits, and his wonders that he had shown them.

Et obliti sunt commutationum eius et mirabilium eius quae ostendit eis

77:12. Wonderful things did he do in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Tanis.

Coram patribus eorum fecit mirabilia in terra Aegyptio in regione Taneos

77:13. He divided the sea and brought them through: and he made the waters to stand as in a vessel.

Divisit mare et transduxit eos et stare fecit aquas quasi acervum

77:14. And he conducted them with a cloud by day: and all the night with a light of fire.

Et duxit eos in nube per diem et tota nocte in lumine ignis

77:15. He struck the rock in the wilderness: and gave them to drink, as out of the great deep.
Scidit petram in deserto et potum dedit quasi de abyssis magnis

77:16. He brought forth water out of the rock: and made streams run down as rivers.
Et eduxit rivus de petra et elicuit quasi flumina aquas

77:17. And they added yet more sin against him: they provoked the most High to wrath in the place without water.
Et addiderunt ultra peccare ei ut provocarent Excelsum in invio

77:18. And they tempted God in their hearts, by asking meat for their desires.
Et temptaverunt Deum in cordibus suis petentes cibum animae suae

77:19. And they spoke ill of God: they said: Can God furnish a table in the wilderness?
Et loquentes contra Deum dicebant numquid poterit Deus ponere mensam in solitudine

77:20. Because he struck the rock, and the waters gushed out, and the streams overflowed. Can he also give bread, or provide a table for his people?
Ecce percussit petram et fluxerunt aquae et torrentes inundaverunt numquid et panem poterit dare aut praeparare carnem populo suo

77:21. Therefore the Lord heard, and was angry: and a fire was kindled against Jacob, and wrath came up against Israel.
Ideo audivit Dominus et non distulit et ignis accensus est in Iacob et furor ascendit in Israhel

77:22. Because they believed not in God: and trusted not in his salvation.
Quia non crediderunt Deo nec habuerunt fiduciam in salutari eius

77:23. And he had commanded the clouds from above, and had opened the doors of heaven.
Et praecepit nubibus desuper et portas caeli aperuit

77:24. And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them the bread of heaven.
Et pluit super eos man ut comederent et triticum caeli dedit eis

77:25. Man ate the bread of angels: he sent them provisions in abundance.
Panem fortium comedit vir cibaria misit eis in saturitatem

77:26. He removed the south wind from heaven: and by his power brought in the southwest wind.
Abstulit eorum de caelo et induxit in fortitudine sua africanum

77:27. And he rained upon them flesh as dust: and feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea.
Et pluit super eos quasi pulverem carnes et quasi harenam maris volatilia pinnata

77:28. And they fell in the midst of their camp, round about their pavilions.
Et ceciderunt in medio castrorum eius in circuitu tabernaculorum eius

77:29. So they did eat, and were filled exceedingly, and he gave them their desire:
Et comederunt et saturati sunt nimis et desiderium eorum adtulit eis

77:30. They were not defrauded of that which they craved. As yet their meat was in their mouth:
Non indiguerunt de cupiditate sua cum adhuc cibus esset in ore eorum

77:31. And the wrath of God came upon them. And he slew the fat ones amongst them, and brought down the chosen men of Israel.
Furor ergo Dei ascendit super eos et occidit pingues eorum et electos Israhel incurvavit

77:32. In all these things they sinned still: and they behaved not for his wondrous works.
In omnibus his peccaverunt ultra et non crediderunt mirabilibus eius

77:33. And their days were consumed in vanity, and their years in haste.
Et consumpsit in vanitate dies eorum et annos eorum velociter

77:34. When he slew them, then they sought him: and they returned, and came to him early in the morning.

Si occidebat eos tunc requirebant eum et convertebantur et diluculo consurgebant ad Deum

77:35. And they remembered that God was their helper: and the most high God their redeemer.

Et recordabantur quia Deus fortitudo eorum et Deus excelsus redemptor eorum

77:36. And they loved him with their mouth: and with their tongue they lied unto him:

Et lactaverunt eum in ore suo et lingua sua mentiti sunt ei

77:37. But their heart was not right with him: nor were they counted faithful in his covenant.

Cor autem eorum non erat firmum cum eo nec permanserunt in pacto eius

77:38. But he is merciful, and will forgive their sins: and will not destroy them. And many a time did he turn away his anger: and did not kindle all his wrath.

Ipse vero misericors propitiabitur iniquitati et non disperdet multumque avertit iram suam et non suscitavit totum furorem suum

77:39. And he remembered that they are flesh: a wind that goeth and returneth not.

Sed recordatus est quia caro essent spiritus vadens et non revertens

77:40. How often did they provoke him in the desert: and move him to wrath in the place without water?

Quotiens provocaverunt eum in deserto adflixerunt eum in solitudine

77:41. And they turned back and tempted God: and grieved the holy one of Israel.

Et conversi sunt et temptaverunt Deum et Sanctum Israhel concitaverunt

77:42. They remembered not his hand, in the day that he redeemed them from the hand of him that afflicted them:

Non sunt recordati manus eius diei qua redemit eos a tribulante

77:43. How he wrought his signs in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Tanis.

Qui fecit in Aegypto signa sua et ostenta sua in regione Taneos

77:44. And he turned their rivers into blood, and their showers that they might not drink.

Qui convertit in sanguine fluvios eorum et rivos eorum ut non biberent

77:45. He sent amongst them divers sorts of flies, which devoured them: and frogs which destroyed them.

Qui inmisit eis genus omne muscarum ut comederent eos et ranas ut disperderent eos

77:46. And he gave up their fruits to the blast, and their labours to the locust.

Qui dedit brucho germen eorum et laborem eorum lucustae

77:47. And he destroyed their vineyards with hail, and their mulberry trees with hoarfrost.

Qui occidit in grandine vineas eorum et sycomoros eorum in frigore

77:48. And he gave up their cattle to the hail, and their stock to the fire.

Qui tradidit grandini pascua eorum et iumenta eorum volucris

77:49. And he sent upon them the wrath of his indignation: indignation and wrath and trouble, which he sent by evil angels.

Qui misit in eos iram furoris sui indignationem et comminationem et angustiam inmissionem angelorum malorum

77:50. He made a way for a path to his anger: he spared not their souls from death, and their cattle he shut up in death.

Munivit semitam furori suo non pepercit morti animae eorum et animantia eorum pesti tradidit

77:51. And he killed all the firstborn in the land of Egypt: the firstfruits of all their labour in the tabernacles of Cham.

Et percussit omne primogenitum in Aegypto principium partus in tabernaculis Cham

77:52. And he took away his own people as sheep: and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

Et tulit veluti oves populum suum et minavit eos sicut gregem in deserto

77:53. And he brought them out in hope and they feared not: and the sea overwhelmed their enemies.
Et duxit eos cum fiducia et absque timore inimicos autem eorum operuit mare

77:54. And he brought them into the mountain of his sanctuary: the mountain which his right hand had purchased. And he cast out the Gentiles before them: and by lot divided to them their land by a line of distribution.

Et adduxit eos ad terminum sanctificatum suum montem istum quem possedit dextera eius et eiecit a facie eorum gentes et possidere eos fecit in funiculo hereditatem

77:55. And he made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tabernacles.

Et conlocavit in tabernaculis eorum tribus Israhel

77:56. Yet they tempted, and provoked the most high God: and they kept not his testimonies.

Et temptaverunt et provocaverunt Deum excelsum et testimonia eius non custodierunt

77:57. And they turned away, and kept not the covenant: even like their fathers they were turned aside as a crooked bow.

Et aversi sunt et praevaricati sunt ut patres eorum incurvati sunt quasi arcus inutilis

77:58. They provoked him to anger on their hills: and moved him to jealousy with their graven things.

Et provocaverunt eum in excelsis suis et in sculptilibus suis ad aemulandum concitaverunt

77:59. God heard, and despised them, and he reduced Israel exceedingly as it were to nothing.

Audivit Deus et non distulit et proiecit vehementer Israhel

77:60. And he put away the tabernacle of Silo, his tabernacle where he dwelt among men.

Et reliquit tabernaculum Selo tentorium quod conlocavit inter homines

77:61. And he delivered their strength into captivity: and their beauty into the hands of the enemy.

Tradidit in captivitatem gloriam suam et decorem suum in manu hostis

77:62. And he shut up his people under the sword: and he despised his inheritance.

Et conclusit in gladio populum suum et in hereditate sua non distulit

77:63. Fire consumed their young men: and their maidens were not lamented.

Iuvenes eius devoravit ignis et virgines eius nemo luxit

77:64. Their priests fell by the sword: and their widows did not mourn.

Sacerdotes eius gladio ceciderunt et viduae eius non sunt fletae

77:65. And the Lord was awaked as one out of sleep, and like a mighty man that hath been surfeited with wine.

Et evigilavit quasi dormiens Dominus quasi fortis post crapulam vini

77:66. And he smote his enemies on the hinder parts: he put them to an everlasting reproach.

Et percussit hostes suos retrorsum obprobrium sempiternum dedit eos

77:67. And he rejected the tabernacle of Joseph: and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:

Et proiecit tabernaculum Ioseph et tribum Ephraim non elegit

77:68. But he chose the tribe of Juda, mount Sion which he loved.

Sed elegit tribum Iuda montem Sion quem dilexit

77:69. And he built his sanctuary as of unicorns, in the land which he founded for ever. *

Et aedificavit in similitudinem monoceroton sanctuarium suum quasi terram fundavit illud in saeculum

As of unicorns... That is, firm and strong like the horn of the unicorn. This is one of the chiefest of the propositions of this psalm, foreshowing the firm establishment of the one, true, and everlasting sanctuary of God, in his church.

77:70. And he chose his servant David, and took him from the flocks of sheep: he brought him from following the ewes great with young,

Et elegit David servum suum et tulit eum de gregibus ovium sequentem fetas adduxit eum

77:71. To feed Jacob his servant and Israel his inheritance.

Ut pasceret Iacob populum eius et Israhel hereditatem eius

77:72. And he fed them in the innocence of his heart: and conducted them by the skilfulness of his hands.
Qui pavit eos in simplicitate cordis sui et in prudentia manuum suarum dux eorum fuit

Psalm 78

Deus, venerunt gentes. The church in time of persecution prayeth for relief. It seems to belong to the time of the Machabees.

78:1. A psalm for Asaph. O God, the heathens are come into thy inheritance, they have defiled thy holy temple: they have made Jerusalem as a place to keep fruit.

Canticum Asaph Deus venerunt gentes in hereditatem tuam polluerunt templum sanctum tuum posuerunt Hierusalem in acervis lapidum

78:2. They have given the dead bodies of thy servants to be meat for the fowls of the air: the flesh of thy saints for the beasts of the earth.

Dederunt cadavera servorum tuorum escam volatilibus caeli carnes sanctorum tuorum bestiis terrae

78:3. They have poured out their blood as water, round about Jerusalem and there was none to bury them.

Effuderunt sanguinem eorum quasi aquam in circuitu Hierusalem et non erat qui sepeliret

78:4. We are become a reproach to our neighbours: a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.

Facti sumus obprobrium vicinis nostris subsannatio et derisio his qui in circuitu nostro sunt

78:5. How long, O Lord, wilt thou be angry for ever: shall thy zeal be kindled like a fire?

Usquequo Domine irasceris in finem ardebit quasi ignis zelus tuus

78:6. Pour out thy wrath upon the nations that have not known thee: and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.

Effunde furorem tuum super gentes quae non cognoverunt te et super regna quae nomen tuum non invocaverunt

78:7. Because they have devoured Jacob; and have laid waste his place.

Quia comederunt Iacob et decorem eius desolaverunt

78:8. Remember not our former iniquities: let thy mercies speedily prevent us, for we are become exceeding poor.

Ne recorderis iniquitatum nostrarum veterum cito occupent nos misericordiae tuae quia adtenuati sumus nimis

78:9. Help us, O God, our saviour: and for the glory of thy name, O Lord, deliver us: and forgive us our sins for thy name's sake:

Auxiliare nobis Deus Iesus noster propter gloriam nominis tui et libera nos et propitiare peccatis nostris propter nomen tuum

78:10. Lest they should say among the Gentiles: Where is their God? And let him be made known among the nations before our eyes, By the revenging the blood of thy servants, which hath been shed:

Quare dicunt gentes ubi est Deus eorum nota fiat in gentibus ante oculos nostros ultio sanguinis servorum tuorum qui effusus est

78:11. Let the sighing of the prisoners come in before thee. According to the greatness of thy arm, take possession of the children of them that have been put to death.

Ingradiatur coram te gemitus vincitorum in magnitudine brachii tui relinque filios interitus

78:12. And render to our neighbours sevenfold in their bosom: the reproach wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

Et redde vicinis nostris septuplum in sinu eorum obprobrium suum quo exprobraverunt tibi Domine

78:13. But we thy people, and the sheep of thy pasture, will give thanks to thee for ever. We will show forth thy praise, unto generation and generation.

Nos enim populus tuus et grex pascuae tuae confitebimur tibi in sempiternum in generatione et generatione narrabimus laudes tuas

Psalm 79

Qui regis Israel. A prayer for the church in tribulation, commemorating God's former favours.

---

79:1. Unto the end, for them that shall be changed, a testimony for Asaph, a psalm.
Victori pro liliis testimonii Asaph canticum

79:2. Give ear, O thou that rulest Israel: thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep. Thou that sittest upon the cherubims, shine forth

Qui pascis Israhel ausculta qui ducis quasi gregem Ioseph qui sedes super cherubin ostendere

79:3. Before Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasses. Stir up thy might, and come to save us.

Ante Efraim et Benjamin et Manasse suscita fortitudinem tuam et veni ut salvos facias nos

79:4. Convert us, O God: and show us thy face, and we shall be saved.

Deus converte nos et ostende faciem tuam et salvi erimus

79:5. O Lord God of hosts, how long wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy servant?

Domine Deus exercituum usquequo fumabis ad orationem populi tui

79:6. How long wilt thou feed us with the bread of tears: and give us for our drink tears in measure?

Cibasti nos pane flebili et potasti nos in lacrimis tripliciter

79:7. Thou hast made us to be a contradiction to our neighbours: and our enemies have scoffed at us.

Posuisti nos contentionem vicinis nostris et inimici nostri subsannaverunt nos

79:8. O God of hosts, convert us: and show thy face, and we shall be saved.

Deus exercituum converte nos et ostende faciem tuam et salvi erimus

79:9. Thou hast brought a vineyard out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the Gentiles and planted it.

Vineam de Aegypto tulisti eiecisti gentes et plantasti eam

79:10. Thou wast the guide of its journey in its sight: thou plantedst the roots thereof, and it filled the land.

Praeparasti ante faciem eius et stabilisti radices eius et implevit terram

79:11. The shadow of it covered the hills: and the branches thereof the cedars of God.

Operti sunt montes umbra eius et ramis illius cedri Dei

79:12. It stretched forth its branches unto the sea, and its boughs unto the river.

Expandit comas suas usque ad mare et usque ad Flumen germina sua

79:13. Why hast thou broken down the hedge thereof, so that all they who pass by the way do pluck it?

Quare dissipasti maceriam eius et vindemiaverunt eam omnes qui transeunt per viam

79:14. The boar out of the wood hath laid it waste: and a singular wild beast hath devoured it.

Vastavit eam aper de silva et omnes bestiae agri depastae sunt eam

79:15. Turn again, O God of hosts, look down from heaven, and see, and visit this vineyard:

Deus exercituum revertere obsecro respice de caelo et vide et visita vineam hanc

79:16. And perfect the same which thy right hand hath planted: and upon the son of man whom thou hast confirmed for thyself.

Et radicem quam plantavit dextera tua et filium quem confirmasti tibi

79:17. Things set on fire and dug down shall perish at the rebuke of thy countenance. *

Succensam igni et deramatam ab increpatione faciei tuae pereant

Things set on fire, etc... So this vineyard of thine, almost consumed already, must perish, if thou continue thy rebukes.

79:18. Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand: and upon the son of man whom thou hast confirmed for thyself. *

Fiat manus tua super virum dexteræ tuæ et super filium hominis quem confirmasti tibi

The man of thy right hand... Christ.

79:19. And we depart not from thee, thou shalt quicken us: and we will call upon thy name.

Et non recedemus a te vivificabis nos et nomine tuo vocabimur

79:20. O Lord God of hosts, convert us and show thy face, and we shall be saved.

Domine Deus exercituum converte nos et ostende faciem tuam et salvi erimus

Psalm 80

Exultate Deo. An invitation to a solemn praising of God.

---

80:1. Unto the end, for the winepresses, a psalm for Asaph himself. *

Victori in torcularibus Asaph

For the winepresses, etc... Torcularibus. It either signifies a musical instrument, or that this psalm was to be sung at the feast of the tabernacles after the gathering in of the vintage.

80:2. Rejoice to God our helper: sing aloud to the God of Jacob.

Laudate Deum fortitudinem nostram iubilare Deo Iacob

80:3. Take a psalm, and bring hither the timbrel: the pleasant psaltery with the harp.

Adsumite carmen et date tympanum citharam decoram cum psalterio

80:4. Blow up the trumpet on the new moon, on the noted day of your solemnity.

Clangite in neomenia bucina et in medio mense die sollempnitatis nostrae

80:5. For it is a commandment in Israel, and a judgment to the God of Jacob.

Quia legitimum Israhel est et iudicium Dei Iacob

80:6. He ordained it for a testimony in Joseph, when he came out of the land of Egypt: he heard a tongue which he knew not.

Testimonium in Ioseph posuit cum egrederetur terra Aegypti labium quod nesciebam audivi

80:7. He removed his back from the burdens: his hands had served in baskets.

Amovi ab onere umerum eius manus eius a cofino recesserunt

80:8. Thou calledst upon me in affliction, and I delivered thee: I heard thee in the secret place of tempest: I proved thee at the waters of contradiction. *

In tribulatione invocasti et erui te exaudivi te in abscondito tonitru probavi te super aquam Contradictionis semper

In the secret place of tempest... Hebrew, of thunder. When thou soughtest to hide thyself from the tempest: or, when I came down to mount Sina, hidden from thy eyes in a storm of thunder.

80:9. Hear, O my people, and I will testify to thee: O Israel, if thou wilt hearken to me,

Audi populus meus et contestor te Israhel si audieris me

80:10. There shall be no new god in thee: neither shalt thou adore a strange god.

Non sit in te deus alienus et non adores deum peregrinum

80:11. For I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

Ego sum Dominus Deus tuus qui eduxi te de terra Aegypti dilata os tuum et implebo illud

80:12. But my people heard not my voice: and Israel hearkened not to me.

Et non audivit populus meus vocem meam et Israhel non credidit mihi

80:13. So I let them go according to the desires of their heart: they shall walk in their own inventions.

Et dimisi eum in pravitate cordis sui ambulabunt in consiliis suis

80:14. If my people had heard me: if Israel had walked in my ways:

Utinam populus meus audisset me Israhel in viis meis ambulasset

80:15. I should soon have humbled their enemies, and laid my hand on them that troubled them.

Quasi nihilum inimicos eius humiliassem et super hostes eorum vertissem manum meam

80:16. The enemies of the Lord have lied to him: and their time shall be for ever. *

Qui oderunt Dominum negabunt eum et erit tempus eorum in saeculo

Their time shall be forever... Impenitent sinners shall suffer for ever.

80:17. And he fed them with the fat of wheat, and filled them with honey out of the rock.

Et cibavit eos de adipe frumenti et de petra mellis saturavit eos

Psalm 81

Deus stetit. An exhortation to judges and men in power.

---

81:1. A psalm for Asaph. God hath stood in the congregation of gods: and being in the midst of them he judgeth gods.

Canticum Asaph Deus stetit in coetu Dei in medio Deus iudicat

81:2. How long will you judge unjustly: and accept the persons of the wicked?

Usquequo iudicatis iniquitatem et facies impiorum suscipitis semper

81:3. Judge for the needy and fatherless: do justice to the humble and the poor.

Iudicate pauperi et pupillo egeno et inopi iuste facite

81:4. Rescue the poor; and deliver the needy out of the hand of the sinner.

Salvate inopem et pauperem de manu impiorum liberate

81:5. They have not known nor understood: they walk on in darkness: all the foundations of the earth shall be moved.

Non cognoscunt nec intellegunt in tenebris ambulant movebuntur omnia fundamenta terrae

81:6. I have said: You are gods and all of you the sons of the most High.

Ego dixi dii estis et filii Excelsi omnes vos

81:7. But you like men shall die: and shall fall like one of the princes.

Ergo quasi Adam moriemini et quasi unus de principibus cadetis

81:8. Arise, O God, judge thou the earth: for thou shalt inherit among all the nations.

Surge Domine iudica terram quoniam hereditabis omnes gentes

Psalm 82

Deus, quis similis. A prayer against the enemies of God's church.

82:1. A canticle of a psalm for Asaph.

Canticum psalmi Asaph

82:2. O God, who shall be like to thee? hold not thy peace, neither be thou still, O God.

Deus ne taceas ne sileas et non quiescas Deus

82:3. For lo, thy enemies have made a noise: and they that hate thee have lifted up the head.

Quia ecce inimici tui tumultuati sunt et qui oderunt te levaverunt caput

82:4. They have taken a malicious counsel against thy people, and have consulted against thy saints.

Contra populum tuum nequiter tractaverunt et inierunt consilium adversum arcanum tuum

82:5. They have said: Come and let us destroy them, so that they be not a nation: and let the name of Israel be remembered no more.

Dixerunt venite et conteramus eos de gente et non sit memoria nominis Israhel ultra

82:6. For they have contrived with one consent: they have made a covenant together against thee,

Quoniam tractaverunt pariter contra te foedus pepigerunt

82:7. The tabernacle of the Edomites, and the Ishmahelites: Moab, and the Agarens,

Tabernacula Idumeae et Ismahelitarum Moab et Aggareni

82:8. Gebal, and Ammon and Amalec: the Philistines, with the inhabitants of Tyre.

Gebal et Ammon et Amalech Palestina cum habitatoribus Tyri

82:9. Yea, and the Assyrian also is joined with them: they are come to the aid of the sons of Lot.

Sed et Assur venit cum eis facti sunt brachium filiorum Loth semper

82:10. Do to them as thou didst to Madian and to Sisara: as to Jabin at the brook of Cisson.

Fac illis sicut Madian et Sisarae sicut Iabin in torrente Cison

82:11. Who perished at Endor: and became as dung for the earth.

Contriti sunt in Aendor fuerunt quasi sterquilinum terrae

82:12. Make their princes like Oreb, and Zeb, and Zebee, and Salmana. All their princes,

Pone duces eorum sicut Oreb et Zeb et Zebee et Salmana omnes principes eorum

82:13. Who have said: Let us possess the sanctuary of God for an inheritance.

Qui dixerunt possideamus nobis pulchritudinem Dei

82:14. O my God, make them like a wheel; and as stubble before the wind.

Deus meus pone eos ut rotam quasi stipulam ante faciem venti

82:15. As fire which burneth the wood: and as a flame burning mountains:

Quomodo ignis conburit silvam et sicut flamma devorat montes

82:16. So shalt thou pursue them with thy tempest: and shalt trouble them in thy wrath.

Sic persequere eos in tempestate tua et in turbine tuo conturba eos

82:17. Fill their faces with shame; and they shall seek thy name, O Lord.

Imple facies eorum ignominia et quaerent nomen tuum Domine

82:18. Let them be ashamed and troubled for ever and ever: and let them be confounded and perish.

Confundantur et conturbentur usque in saeculum et erubescant et pereant

82:19. And let them know that the Lord is thy name: thou alone art the most High over all the earth.
Et sciant quia nomen tuum est Dominus solus tu Excelsus super omnem terram

Psalm 83

Quam dilecta. The soul aspireth after heaven; rejoicing in the mean time, in being in the communion of God's church upon earth.

---

83:1. Unto the end, for the winepresses, a psalm for the sons of Core.
Victori pro torculari filiorum Core canticum

83:2. How lovely are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts!
Quam dilecta tabernacula tua Domine exercituum

83:3. My soul longeth and fainteth for the courts of the Lord. My heart and my flesh have rejoiced in the living God.
Desiderat et defecit anima mea in atria Domini cor meum et caro mea laudabunt Deum viventem

83:4. For the sparrow hath found herself a house, and the turtle a nest for herself where she may lay her young ones: Thy altars, O Lord of hosts, my king and my God.
Siquidem avis invenit domum et passer nidum sibi ubi ponat pullos suos altaria tua Domine exercituum rex meus et Deus meus

83:5. Blessed are they that dwell in thy house, O Lord: they shall praise thee for ever and ever.
Beati qui habitant in domo tua adhuc laudabunt te semper

83:6. Blessed is the man whose help is from thee: in his heart he hath disposed to ascend by steps, *
Beatus homo cuius fortitudo est in te semitae in corde eius

In his heart he hath disposed to ascend by steps, etc... Ascensiones in corde suo disposuit. As by steps men ascended to the temple of God situated on a hill; so the good Christian ascends towards the eternal temple by certain steps of virtue disposed or ordered within the heart: and this whilst he lives as yet in the body, in this vale of tears, the place which man hath set: that is, which he hath brought himself to: being cast out of paradise for his sin.

83:7. In the vale of tears, in the place which he hath set.
Transeuntes in valle fletus fontem ponent eam

83:8. For the lawgiver shall give a blessing, they shall go from virtue to virtue: the God of gods shall be seen in Sion.
Benedictione quoque amicietur doctor ibunt de fortitudine in fortitudinem parebunt apud Deum in Sion

83:9. O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob.
Domine Deus exercituum exaudi orationem meam ausculta Deus Iacob semper

83:10. Behold, O God our protector: and look on the face of thy Christ.
Clipeus noster vide Deus et adtende faciem christi tui

83:11. For better is one day in thy courts above thousands. I have chosen to be an abject in the house of my God, rather than to dwell in the tabernacles of sinners.
Quoniam melior est dies in atriis tuis super milia elegi abiectus esse in domo Dei mei magis quam habitare in tabernaculis impietatis

83:12. For God loveth mercy and truth: the Lord will give grace and glory.
Quia sol et scutum Dominus Deus gratiam et gloriam dabit Dominus

83:13. He will not deprive of good things them that walk in innocence: O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.
Nec prohibebit bonum ab his qui ambulant in perfectione Domine exercituum beatus homo qui confidet in te

Psalm 84

Benedixisti, Domine. The coming of Christ, to bring peace and salvation to man.

---

84:1. Unto the end, for the sons of Core, a psalm.

Victori filiorum Core canticum

84:2. Lord, thou hast blessed thy land: thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob.

Placatus es Domine terrae tuae reduxisti captivitatem Iacob

84:3. Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people: thou hast covered all their sins.

Dimisisti iniquitatem populo tuo operuisti omnes iniquitates eorum semper

84:4. Thou hast mitigated all thy anger: thou hast turned away from the wrath of thy indignation.

Continuisti omnem indignationem tuam conversus es ab ira furoris tui

84:5. Convert us, O God our saviour: and turn off thy anger from us.

Converte nos Deus Iesus noster et solve iram tuam adversum nos

84:6. Wilt thou be angry with us for ever: or wilt thou extend thy wrath from generation to generation?

Noli in aeternum irasci nobis extendens iram tuam in generationem et generationem

84:7. Thou wilt turn, O God, and bring us to life: and thy people shall rejoice in thee.

Nonne tu revertens vivificabis nos et populus tuus laetabitur in te

84:8. Show us, O Lord, thy mercy; and grant us thy salvation.

Ostende nobis Domine misericordiam tuam et salutare tuum da nobis

84:9. I will hear what the Lord God will speak in me: for he will speak peace unto his people: And unto his saints: and unto them that are converted to the heart.

Audiam quid loquatur Dominus Deus loquetur enim pacem ad populum suum et ad sanctos suos ut non convertantur ad stultitiam

84:10. Surely his salvation is near to them that fear him: that glory may dwell in our land.

Verumtamen prope est his qui timent eum salutare eius ut habitet gloria in terra nostra

84:11. Mercy and truth have met each other: justice and peace have kissed.

Misericordia et veritas occurrerunt iustitia et pax deosculatae sunt

84:12. Truth is sprung out of the earth: and justice hath looked down from heaven.

Veritas de terra orta est et iustitia de caelo prospexit

84:13. For the Lord will give goodness: and our earth shall yield her fruit.

Sed et Dominus dabit bonum et terra nostra dabit germen suum

84:14. Justice shall walk before him: and shall set his steps in the way.

Iustitia ante eum ibit et ponet in via gressus suos

Psalm 85

Inclina, Domine. A prayer for God's grace to assist us to the end.

85:1. A prayer for David himself. Incline thy ear, O Lord, and hear me: for I am needy and poor.

Oratio David inclina Domine aurem tuam exaudi me quia egenus et pauper ego sum

85:2. Preserve my soul, for I am holy: save thy servant, O my God, that trusteth in thee. *

Custodi animam meam quia sanctus sum salva servum tuum tu Deus meus qui confidit in te

I am holy... I am by my office and profession dedicated to thy service.

85:3. Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I have cried to thee all the day.

Miserere mei Domine quoniam ad te clamabo tota die

85:4. Give joy to the soul of thy servant, for to thee, O Lord, I have lifted up my soul.

Laetifica animam servi tui quia ad te animam meam levo

85:5. For thou, O Lord, art sweet and mild: and plenteous in mercy to all that call upon thee.

Tu enim es Domine bonus et propitiabilis et multus misericordia omnibus qui invocant te

85:6. Give ear, O Lord, to my prayer: and attend to the voice of my petition.

Exaudi Domine orationem meam et ausculta vocem deprecationum mearum

85:7. I have called upon thee in the day of my trouble: because thou hast heard me.

In die tribulationis meae invocabo te quia exaudies me

85:8. There is none among the gods like unto thee, O Lord: and there is none according to thy works.

Non est similis tui in diis Domine non est iuxta opera tua

85:9. All the nations thou hast made shall come and adore before thee, O Lord: and they shall glorify thy name.

Omnes gentes quas fecisti venient et adorabunt coram te Domine et glorificabunt nomen tuum

85:10. For thou art great and dost wonderful things: thou art God alone.

Quia magnus tu et faciens mirabilia tu Deus solus

85:11. Conduct me, O Lord, in thy way, and I will walk in thy truth: let my heart rejoice that it may fear thy name.

Doce me Domine viam tuam ut ambulem in veritate tua unicum fac cor meum ut timeat nomen tuum

85:12. I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with my whole heart, and I will glorify thy name for ever:

Confitebor tibi Domine Deus meus in toto corde meo et glorificabo nomen tuum in sempiternum

85:13. For thy mercy is great towards me: and thou hast delivered my soul out of the lower hell.

Quia misericordia tua magna super me et eruisti animam meam de inferno extremo

85:14. O God, the wicked are risen up against me, and the assembly of the mighty have sought my soul: and they have not set thee before their eyes.

Deus superbi surrexerunt adversus me et coetus robustorum quaesivit animam meam et non posuerunt te in conspectu suo

85:15. And thou, O Lord, art a God of compassion, and merciful, patient, and of much mercy, and true.

Tu autem Domine Deus misericors et clemens patiens et multae misericordiae et verus

85:16. O look upon me, and have mercy on me: give thy command to thy servant, and save the son of thy handmaid.

Respice ad me et miserere mei da fortitudinem tuam servo tuo et salva filium ancillae tuae

85:17. Show me a token for good: that they who hate me may see, and be confounded, because thou, O Lord, hast helped me and hast comforted me.

Fac mecum signum in bonitate et videant qui oderunt me et confundantur quia tu Domine auxiliatus es mihi et consolatus es me

Psalm 86

Fundamenta ejus. The glory of the church of Christ.

---

86:1. For the sons of Core, a psalm of a canticle. The foundations thereof are the holy mountains: *

Filiorum Core psalmus cantici fundamentum eius in montibus sanctuarii

The holy mountains... The apostles and prophets (Ephesians 2:20).

86:2. The Lord loveth the gates of Sion above all the tabernacles of Jacob.

Diligit Dominus portas Sion super omnia tabernacula Iacob

86:3. Glorious things are said of thee, O city of God.

Gloriosa dicta sunt in te civitas Dei semper

86:4. I will be mindful of Rahab and of Babylon knowing me. Behold the foreigners, and Tyre, and the people of the Ethiopians, these were there. *

Commemorabo superbiae et Babylonis scientes me ecce Palestina et Tyrus cum Aethiopia iste natus est ibi

Rahab... Egypt, etc. To this Sion, which is the church of God, many shall resort from all nations.

86:5. Shall not Sion say: This man and that man is born in her? and the Highest himself hath founded her. *

Ad Sion autem dicetur vir et vir natus est in ea et ipse fundavit eam Excelsus

Shall not Sion say, etc... The meaning is, that Sion, viz., the church, shall not only be able to commemorate this or that particular person of renown born in her, but also to glory in great multitudes of people and princes of her communion; who have been foretold in the writings of the prophets, and registered in the writings of the apostles.

86:6. The Lord shall tell in his writings of peoples and of princes, of them that have been in her.

Dominus numerabit scribens populos ipse natus est in ea semper

86:7. The dwelling in thee is as it were of all rejoicing.

Et cantabunt quasi in choris omnes fontes mei in te

Psalm 87

Domine, Deus salutis. A prayer of one under grievous affliction: it agrees to Christ in his passion, and alludes to his death and burial.

---

87:1. A canticle of a psalm for the sons of Core: unto the end, for Maheleth, to answer understanding of Eman the Ezrahite. *

Canticum carminis filiorum Core victori per chorum ad praecinendum eruditionis Eman Ezraitae

Maheleth... A musical instrument, or chorus of musicians, to answer one another. -- Ibid. Understanding... Or a psalm of instruction, composed by Eman the Ezrahite, or by David, in his name.

87:2. O Lord, the God of my salvation: I have cried in the day, and in the night before thee.

Domine Deus salutis meae per diem clamavi in nocte coram te

87:3. Let my prayer come in before thee: incline thy ear to my petition.

Ingrediatur ante te oratio mea inclina aurem tuam ad laudationem meam

87:4. For my soul is filled with evils: and my life hath drawn nigh to hell.

Quia repleta est malis anima mea et vita mea ad infernum descendit

87:5. I am counted among them that go down to the pit: I am become as a man without help,

Reputatus sum cum descendentibus lacum factus sum quasi homo invalidus

87:6. Free among the dead. Like the slain sleeping in the sepulchres, whom thou rememberest no more: and they are cut off from thy hand.

Inter mortuos liber sicut interfecti et dormientes in sepulchro quorum non recordaris amplius et qui a manu tua abscisi sunt

87:7. They have laid me in the lower pit: in the dark places, and in the shadow of death.

Posuisti me in lacu novissimo in tenebris in profundis

87:8. Thy wrath is strong over me: and all thy waves thou hast brought in upon me.

Super me confirmatus est furor tuus et cunctis fluctibus tuis adflixisti me semper

87:9. Thou hast put away my acquaintance far from me: they have set me an abomination to themselves. I was delivered up, and came not forth:

Longe fecisti notos meos a me posuisti me abominationem eis clausum et non prodeuntem

87:10. My eyes languished through poverty. All the day I cried to thee, O Lord: I stretched out my hands to thee.

Oculus meus infirmatus est ab afflictione invocavi te Domine tota die expandi ad te palmas meas

87:11. Wilt thou show wonders to the dead? or shall physicians raise to life, and give praise to thee?

Numquid mortuis facies mirabilia aut gigantes surgent et confitebuntur tibi semper

87:12. Shall any one in the sepulchre declare thy mercy: and thy truth in destruction?

Numquid narrabitur in sepulchro misericordia tua et veritas tua in perditione

87:13. Shall thy wonders be known in the dark; and thy justice in the land of forgetfulness?

Numquid noscentur in tenebris mirabilia tua et iustitia tua in terra quae oblivioni tradita est

87:14. But I, O Lord, have cried to thee: and in the morning my prayer shall prevent thee.

Ego autem ad te Domine clamavi et mane oratio mea praeveniet te

87:15. Lord, why castest thou off my prayer: why turnest thou away thy face from me?
Quare Domine abicis animam meam abscondis faciem tuam a me

87:16. I am poor, and in labours from my youth: and being exalted have been humbled and troubled.
Pauper ego et aerumnosus ab adolescentia portavi furorem tuum et conturbatus sum

87:17. Thy wrath hath come upon me: and thy terrors have troubled me.
Per me transierunt irae tuae terrores tui oppresserunt me

87:18. They have come round about me like water all the day: they have compassed me about together.
Circumdedederunt me quasi aquae tota die vallaverunt me pariter

87:19. Friend and neighbour thou hast put far from me: and my acquaintance, because of misery.
Longe fecisti a me amicum et sodalem notos meos abstulisti

Psalm 88

Misericordias Domini.* The perpetuity of the church of Christ, in consequence of the promise of God: which, notwithstanding, God permits her to suffer sometimes most grievous afflictions.

---

88:1. Of understanding, for Ethan the Ezrahite.
Eruditionis Aethan Ezraitae

88:2. The mercies of the Lord I will sing for ever. I will show forth thy truth with my mouth to generation and generation.
Misericordias Domini in aeternum cantabo in generatione et generatione adnuntiabo veritatem tuam in ore meo

88:3. For thou hast said: Mercy shall be built up for ever in the heavens: thy truth shall be prepared in them.
Quia dixisti sempiterna misericordia aedificabitur caelos fundabis et veritas tua in eis

88:4. I have made a covenant with my elect: I have sworn to David my servant:
Percussi foedus cum electo meo iuravi David servo meo

88:5. Thy seed will I settle for ever. And I will build up thy throne unto generation and generation.
Usque in aeternum stabiliam semen tuum et aedificabo in generationem et generationem thronum tuum semper

88:6. The heavens shall confess thy wonders, O Lord: and thy truth in the church of the saints.
Confitebuntur caeli mirabilia tua Domine et veritatem tuam in ecclesia sanctorum

88:7. For who in the clouds can be compared to the Lord: or who among the sons of God shall be like to God?
Quis enim in nubibus adaequabitur Domino adsimilabitur Domino de filiis Dei

88:8. God, who is glorified in the assembly of the saints: great and terrible above all them that are about him.
Deus inclitus in arcano sanctorum nimio et terribilis in cunctis qui circum eum sunt

88:9. O Lord God of hosts, who is like to thee? thou art mighty, O Lord, and thy truth is round about thee.
Domine Deus exercituum quis similis tui fortissime Domine et veritas tua in circuitu tuo

88:10. Thou rulest the power of the sea: and appeasest the motion of the waves thereof.
Tu dominaris superbiae maris et elationes gurgitum eius tu conprimis

88:11. Thou hast humbled the proud one, as one that is slain: with the arm of thy strength thou hast scattered thy enemies.
Tu confregisti quasi vulneratum superbum in brachio forti tuo dispersisti inimicos tuos

88:12. Thine are the heavens, and thine is the earth: the world and the fulness thereof thou hast founded:
Tui sunt caeli et tua est terra orbem et plenitudinem eius tu fundasti

88:13. The north and the sea thou hast created. Thabor and Hermon shall rejoice in thy name:
Aquilonem et dexteram tu creasti Thabor et Hermon nomen tuum laudabunt

88:14. Thy arm is with might. Let thy hand be strengthened, and thy right hand exalted:
Tuum brachium cum fortitudine roboretur manus tua exaltetur dextera tua

88:15. Justice and judgment are the preparation of thy throne. Mercy and truth shall go before thy face:
Iustitia et iudicium firmamentum throni tui misericordia et veritas praecedent faciem tuam

88:16. Blessed is the people that knoweth jubilation. They shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance:

Beatus populus qui novit iubulum Domine in lumine vultus tui ambulabunt

88:17. And in thy name they shall rejoice all the day, and in thy justice they shall be exalted.

In nomine tuo exultabunt tota die et in iustitia tua exaltabuntur

88:18. For thou art the glory of their strength: and in thy good pleasure shall our horn be exalted.

Quia gloria fortitudinis eorum tu es et in misericordia tua elevabis cornu nostrum

88:19. For our protection is of the Lord, and of our king the holy one of Israel.

Quia a Domino est protectio nostra et a Sancto Israhel rege nostro

88:20. Then thou spakest in a vision to thy saints, and saidst: I have laid help upon one that is mighty, and have exalted one chosen out of my people.

Tunc locutus es per visionem sanctis tuis et dixisti posui adiutorium super robustum exaltavi electum de populo

88:21. I have found David my servant: with my holy oil I have anointed him.

Inveni David servum meum oleo sancto meo unxi eum

88:22. For my hand shall help him: and my arm shall strengthen him.

Cum quo manus mea firma erit et brachium meum roborabit eum

88:23. The enemy shall have no advantage over him: nor the son of iniquity have power to hurt him.

Non decipiet inimicus eum et filius iniquitatis non adfliget eum

88:24. And I will cut down his enemies before his face; and them that hate him I will put to flight.

Sed concidam ante faciem eius hostes illius et qui eum oderunt percutiam

88:25. And my truth and my mercy shall be with him: and in my name shall his horn be exalted.

Veritas autem mea et misericordia mea erit cum eo et in nomine meo exaltabitur cornu eius

88:26. And I will set his hand in the sea; and his right hand in the rivers.

Et ponam in mari manum eius et in fluminibus dexteram eius

88:27. He shall cry out to me: Thou art my father: my God, and the support of my salvation.

Ipse vocabit me pater meus es tu Deus meus et fortitudo salutis meae

88:28. And I will make him my firstborn, high above the kings of the earth.

Ego autem primogenitum ponam eum excelsum regibus terrae

88:29. I will keep my mercy for him for ever: and my covenant faithful to him.

In aeternum custodiam ei misericordiam meam et pactum meum fidele ei erit

88:30. And I will make his seed to endure for evermore: and his throne as the days of heaven.

Et ponam perpetuum semen eius et thronum eius sicut dies caeli

88:31. And if his children forsake my law, and walk not in my judgments:

Si autem dereliquerint filii eius legem meam et in iudiciis meis non ambulaverint

88:32. If they profane my justices: and keep not my commandments:

Si caerimonias meas profanaverint et praecepta mea non custodierint

88:33. I will visit their iniquities with a rod and their sins with stripes.

Visitabo in virga scelera eorum et in plagis iniquitatem eorum

88:34. But my mercy I will not take away from him: nor will I suffer my truth to fail.

Misericordiam autem meam non auferam ab eo nec mentiar in veritate mea

88:35. Neither will I profane my covenant: and the words that proceed from my mouth I will not make void.

Non violabo pactum meum et quod egressum est de labiis meis non mutabo

88:36. Once have I sworn by my holiness: I will not lie unto David:

Semel iuravi in sancto meo ne David mentiar

88:37. His seed shall endure for ever.

Semen eius in sempiternum erit

88:38. And his throne as the sun before me: and as the moon perfect for ever, and a faithful witness in heaven.

Et thronus eius sicut sol in conspectu meo sicut luna stabilietur in sempiternum et testis in caelo fidelis semper

88:39. But thou hast rejected and despised: thou hast been angry with my anointed.

Tu autem reppulisti et proiecisti iratus es adversum christum tuum

88:40. Thou hast overthrown the covenant of thy servant: thou hast profaned his sanctuary on the earth. *

Adtenuasti pactum servi tui profanasti in terra diadema eius

Overthrown the covenant, etc... All this seems to relate to the time of the captivity of Babylon, in which, for the sins of the people and their princes, God seemed to have set aside for a while the covenant he made with David.

88:41. Thou hast broken down all his hedges: thou hast made his strength fear.

Dissipasti omnes macerias eius posuisti munitiones eius pavorem

88:42. All that pass by the way have robbed him: he is become a reproach to his neighbours.

Diripuerunt eum omnes qui transeunt per viam factus est obprobrium vicinis suis

88:43. Thou hast set up the right hand of them that oppress him: thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice.

Elevasti dexteram hostium eius laetificasti omnes inimicos illius

88:44. Thou hast turned away the help of his sword; and hast not assisted him in battle.

Avertisti robur gladii eius et non sublevasti eum in proelio

88:45. Thou hast made his purification to cease: and thou hast cast his throne down to the ground.

Quiescere fecisti munditiam eius et thronum illius in terram detraxisti

88:46. Thou hast shortened the days of his time: thou hast covered him with confusion.

Abreviasti dies adolescentiae eius operuisti eum ignominia sempiterna

88:47. How long, O Lord, turnest thou away unto the end? shall thy anger burn like fire?

Usquequo Domine absconderis in finem succendetur quasi ignis indignatio tua

88:48. Remember what my substance is: for hast thou made all the children of men in vain?

Memento mei de profundo alioquin quare frustra creasti filios hominum

88:49. Who is the man that shall live, and not see death: that shall deliver his soul from the hand of hell?

Quis est vir qui vivat et non videat mortem salvans animam suam de manu inferi semper

88:50. Lord, where are thy ancient mercies, according to what thou didst swear to David in thy truth?

Ubi sunt misericordiae tuae antiquae Domine quas iurasti David in veritate tua

88:51. Be mindful, O Lord, of the reproach of thy servants (which I have held in my bosom) of many nations:

Recordare Domine obprobrii servorum tuorum quia portavi in sinu meo omnes iniquitates populorum

88:52. Wherewith thy enemies have reproached, O Lord; wherewith they have reproached the change of thy anointed.

Quas exprobraverunt inimici tui Domine quibus exprobraverunt vestigia christi tui

88:53. Blessed be the Lord for evermore. So be it. So be it.

Benedictus Dominus in sempiternum amen et amen

Psalm 89

Domine, refugium. A prayer for the mercy of God: recounting the shortness and miseries of the days of man.

---

89:1. A prayer of Moses the man of God. Lord, thou hast been our refuge from generation to generation.
Oratio Mosi viri Dei Domine habitaculum tu factus es nobis in generatione et generatione

89:2. Before the mountains were made, or the earth and the world was formed; from eternity and to eternity thou art God.

Antequam montes nascerentur et parturiretur terra et orbis a saeculo et usque in saeculum tu es

89:3. Turn not man away to be brought low: and thou hast said: Be converted, O ye sons of men.*
Convertes hominem usque ad contritionem et dices revertimini filii Adam

Turn not man away, etc... Suffer him not quite to perish from thee, since thou art pleased to call upon him to be converted to thee.

89:4. For a thousand years in thy sight are as yesterday, which is past. And as a watch in the night,
Quia mille anni in oculis tuis sicut dies hesterna quae pertransiit et vigilia nocturna

89:5. Things that are counted nothing, shall their years be.
Percutiente te eos somnium erunt

89:6. In the morning man shall grow up like grass; in the morning he shall flourish and pass away: in the evening he shall fall, grow dry, and wither.

Mane quasi herba pertransiens mane floruit et abiit ad vesperam conteretur atque siccabitur

89:7. For in thy wrath we have fainted away: and are troubled in thy indignation.
Consumpti enim sumus in furore tuo et in indignatione tua conturbati sumus

89:8. Thou hast set our iniquities before thy eyes: our life in the light of thy countenance.
Posuisti iniquitates nostras coram te neglegentias nostras in luce vultus tui

89:9. For all our days are spent; and in thy wrath we have fainted away. Our years shall be considered as a spider:*

Omnes enim dies nostri transierunt in furore tuo consumpsimus annos nostros quasi sermonem loquens

As a spider... As frail and weak as a spider's web; and miserable withal, whilst like a spider we spend our bowels in weaving webs to catch flies.

89:10. The days of our years in them are threescore and ten years. But if in the strong they be fourscore years: and what is more of them is labour and sorrow. For mildness is come upon us: and we shall be corrected.*

Dies annorum nostrorum in ipsis septuaginta anni si autem multum octoginta anni et quod amplius est labor et dolor quoniam transivimus cito et avolvimus

Mildness is come upon us, etc... God's mildness corrects us; inasmuch as he deals kindly with us, in shortening the days of this miserable life; and so weaning our affections from all its transitory enjoyments, and teaching us true wisdom.

89:11. Who knoweth the power of thy anger, and for thy fear
Quis novit fortitudinem irae tuae et secundum timorem tuum indignationem tuam

89:12. Can number thy wrath? So make thy right hand known: and men learned in heart, in wisdom.
Ut numerentur dies nostri sic ostende et veniemus corde sapienti

89:13. Return, O Lord, how long? and be entreated in favour of thy servants.
Revertere Domine usquequo et exorabilis esto super servis tuis

89:14. We are filled in the morning with thy mercy: and we have rejoiced, and are delighted all our days.

Imple nos matutina misericordia tua et laudabimus et laetabimur in cunctis diebus nostris

89:15. We have rejoiced for the days in which thou hast humbled us: for the years in which we have seen evils.

Laetifica nos pro diebus quibus adflixisti nos et annis in quibus vidimus mala

89:16. Look upon thy servants and upon their works: and direct their children.

Appareat apud servos tuos opus tuum et gloria tua super filios eorum

89:17. And let the brightness of the Lord our God be upon us: and direct thou the works of our hands over us; yea, the work of our hands do thou direct.

Et sit decor Domini Dei nostri super nos et opus manuum nostrarum fac stabile super nos opus manuum nostrarum confirma

Psalm 90

Qui habitat. The just is secure under the protection of God.

90:1. The praise of a canticle for David. He that dwelleth in the aid of the most High, shall abide under the protection of the God of Jacob.

Qui habitat in abscondito Excelsi in umbraculo Domini commorabitur

90:2. He shall say to the Lord: Thou art my protector, and my refuge: my God, in him will I trust.

Dicens Domino spes mea et fortitudo mea Deus meus confidam in eum

90:3. For he hath delivered me from the snare of the hunters: and from the sharp word.

Quia ipse liberabit te de laqueo venantium de morte insidiarum

90:4. He will overshadow thee with his shoulders: and under his wings thou shalt trust.

In scapulis suis obumbrabit tibi et sub alis eius sperabis

90:5. His truth shall compass thee with a shield: thou shalt not be afraid of the terror of the night.

Scutum et protectio veritas eius non timebis a timore nocturno

90:6. Of the arrow that flieth in the day, of the business that walketh about in the dark: of invasion, or of the noonday devil.

A sagitta volante per diem a peste in tenebris ambulante a morsu insanientis meridie

90:7. A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee.

Cadent a latere tuo mille et decem milia a dextris tuis ad te autem non adpropinquabit

90:8. But thou shalt consider with thy eyes: and shalt see the reward of the wicked.

Verumtamen oculis tuis videbis et ultionem impiorum cernes

90:9. Because thou, O Lord, art my hope: thou hast made the most High thy refuge.

Tu enim es Domine spes mea Excelsum posuisti habitaculum tuum

90:10. There shall no evil come to thee: nor shall the scourge come near thy dwelling.

Non accedet ad te malum et lepra non adpropinquabit tabernaculo tuo

90:11. For he hath given his angels charge over thee; to keep thee in all thy ways.

Quia angelis suis mandabit de te ut custodiant te in omnibus viis tuis

90:12. In their hands they shall bear thee up: lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

In manibus portabunt te ne forte offendat ad lapidem pes tuus

90:13. Thou shalt walk upon the asp and the basilisk: and thou shalt trample under foot the lion and the dragon.

Super aspidem et basiliscum calcabis conculcabis leonem et draconem

90:14. Because he hoped in me I will deliver him: I will protect him because he hath known my name.

Quoniam mihi adhesit et liberabo eum exaltabo eum quoniam cognovit nomen meum

90:15. He shall cry to me, and I will hear him: I am with him in tribulation, I will deliver him, and I will glorify him.

Invocabit me et exaudiam eum cum ipso ero in tribulatione eruam eum et glorificabo

90:16. I will fill him with length of days; and I will show him my salvation.

Longitudine dierum implebo illum et ostendam ei salutare meum

Psalm 91

Bonum est confiteri. God is to be praised for his wondrous works.

---

91:1. A psalm of a canticle on the sabbath day.

Psalmus cantici in die sabbati

91:2. It is good to give praise to the Lord: and to sing to thy name, O most High.

Bonum est confiteri Domino et psallere nomini tuo Altissime

91:3. To show forth thy mercy in the morning, and thy truth in the night:

Ad adnuntiandam mane misericordiam tuam et fidem tuam in nocte

91:4. Upon an instrument of ten strings, upon the psaltery: with a canticle upon the harp.

In decacordo et in psalterio in cantico in cithara

91:5. For thou hast given me, O Lord, a delight in thy doings: and in the works of thy hands I shall rejoice.

Quoniam laetificasti me Domine in opere tuo in facturis manuum tuarum laudabo

91:6. O Lord, how great are thy works! thy thoughts are exceeding deep.

Quam magnificata sunt opera tua Domine satis profundae factae sunt cogitationes tuae

91:7. The senseless man shall not know: nor will the fool understand these things.

Vir insipiens non cognoscet et stultus non intellet istud

91:8. When the wicked shall spring up as grass: and all the workers of iniquity shall appear: That they may perish for ever and ever:

Germinaverunt impii quasi faenum et floruerunt omnes qui operantur iniquitatem ut contererentur usque in sempiternum

91:9. But thou, O Lord, art most high for evermore.

Tu autem Excelsus in aeternum Domine

91:10. For behold thy enemies, O lord, for behold thy enemies shall perish: and all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.

Ecce enim inimici tui Domine ecce inimici tui peribunt et dissipabuntur omnes qui operantur iniquitatem

91:11. But my horn shall be exalted like that of the unicorn: and my old age in plentiful mercy.

Et exaltabitur quasi monocerotis cornu meum et senecta mea in oleo uberi

91:12. My eye also hath looked down upon my enemies: and my ear shall hear of the downfall of the malignant that rise up against me.

Et dispiciet oculus meus eos qui insidiantur mihi de his qui consurgunt adversum me malignantibus audit auris mea

91:13. The just shall flourish like the palm tree: he shall grow up like the cedar of Libanus.

Iustus ut palma florebit ut cedrus in Libano multiplicabitur

91:14. They that are planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of the house of our God.

Transplantati in domo Domini in atriis Dei nostri germinabunt

91:15. They shall still increase in a fruitful old age: and shall be well treated,

Adhuc fructificabunt in senectute pingues et frondentes erunt

91:16. That they may show, That the Lord our God is righteous, and there is no iniquity in him.

Adnuntiantes quia rectus Dominus fortitudo mea et non est iniquitas in eo

Psalm 92

Dominus regnavit. The glory and stability of the kingdom; that is, of the church of Christ.

---

Praise in the way of a canticle, for David himself, on the day before the sabbath, when the earth was founded.

92:1. The Lord hath reigned, he is clothed with beauty: the Lord is clothed with strength, and hath girded himself. For he hath established the world which shall not be moved.

Dominus regnavit gloria indutus est indutus est Dominus fortitudine et accinctus est insuper adpendit orbem qui non commovebitur

92:2. My throne is prepared from of old: thou art from everlasting.

Firmum solium tuum ex tunc ab aeterno tu es

92:3. The floods have lifted up, O Lord: the floods have lifted up their voice. The floods have lifted up their waves,

Levaverunt flumina Domine levaverunt flumina voces suas levaverunt flumina gurgites suos

92:4. With the noise of many waters. Wonderful are the surges of the sea: wonderful is the Lord on high.

A vocibus aquarum multarum grandes fluctus maris grandis in excelso Dominus

92:5. Thy testimonies are become exceedingly credible: holiness becometh thy house, O Lord, unto length of days.

Testimonia tua fidelia facta sunt nimis domum tuam decet sanctitas Domine in longitudine dierum

Psalm 93

Deus ultionum. God shall judge and punish the oppressors of his people.

---

A psalm for David himself on the fourth day of the week.

93:1. The Lord is the God to whom revenge belongeth: the God of revenge hath acted freely.
Deus ultionum Domine Deus ultionum ostendere

93:2. Lift up thyself, thou that judgest the earth: render a reward to the proud.
Elevare qui iudicas terram redde vicissitudinem superbis

93:3. How long shall sinners, O Lord: how long shall sinners glory?
Usquequo impii Domine usquequo impii exultabunt

93:4. Shall they utter, and speak iniquity: shall all speak who work injustice?
Fluent loquentes antiquum garrient omnes qui operantur iniquitatem

93:5. Thy people, O Lord, they have brought low: and they have afflicted thy inheritance.
Populum tuum Domine conterent et hereditatem tuam adfligent

93:6. They have slain the widow and the stranger: and they have murdered the fatherless.
Viduam et advenam interficient et pupillos occident

93:7. And they have said: The Lord shall not see: neither shall the God of Jacob understand.
Et dixerunt non videbit Dominus et non intelletget Deus Iacob

93:8. Understand, ye senseless among the people: and, you fools, be wise at last.
Intellegite stulti in populo et insipientes aliquando discite

93:9. He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? or he that formed the eye, doth he not consider?
Qui plantavit aurem non audiet aut qui finxit oculum non videbit

93:10. He that chastiseth nations, shall he not rebuke: he that teacheth man knowledge?
Qui erudit gentes non arguet qui docet hominem scientiam

93:11. The Lord knoweth the thoughts of men, that they are vain.
Dominus novit cogitationes hominum quia vanae sunt

93:12. Blessed is the man whom thou shalt instruct, O Lord: and shalt teach him out of thy law.
Beatus vir quem erudieris Domine et de lege tua docueris eum

93:13. That thou mayst give him rest from the evil days: till a pit be dug for the wicked.*

Ut quiescat a diebus afflictionis donec fodiat impio interitus

Rest from the evil days... That thou mayst mitigate the sorrows, to which he is exposed, during the short and evil days of his mortality.

93:14. For the Lord will not cast off his people: neither will he forsake his own inheritance.
Non enim derelinquet Dominus populum suum et hereditatem suam non deseret

93:15. Until justice be turned into judgment: and they that are near it are all the upright in heart.*

Quoniam ad iustitiam revertetur iudicium et sequentur illud omnes recti corde

Until justice be turned into judgment, etc... By being put in execution; which will be agreeable to all the upright in heart.

93:16. Who shall rise up for me against the evildoers? or who shall stand with me against the workers of iniquity?

Quis stabit pro me adversum malos quis stabit pro me adversum operarios iniquitatis

93:17. Unless the Lord had been my helper, my soul had almost dwelt in hell.
Nisi quia Dominus auxiliator meus paulo minus habitasset in inferno anima mea

93:18. If I said: My foot is moved: thy mercy, O Lord, assisted me.
Si dicebam commotus est pes meus misericordia tua Domine sustentabat me

93:19. According to the multitude of my sorrows in my heart, thy comforts have given joy to my soul.
In multitudine cogitationum mearum quae sunt in me intrinsecus consolationes tuae delectabunt animam meam

93:20. Doth the seat of iniquity stick to thee, who framest labour in commandment?*

Numquid particeps erit tui thronus insidiarum fingens laborem in praecepto

Doth the seat of iniquity stick to thee, etc... That is, wilt thou, O God, who art always just, admit of the seat of iniquity: that is, of injustice, or unjust judges, to have any partnership with thee? Thou who framest, or makest, labour in commandment, that is, thou who obligest us to labour with all diligence to keep thy commandments.

93:21. They will hunt after the soul of the just, and will condemn innocent blood.
Copulabuntur adversus animam iusti et sanguinem innocentem condemnabunt

93:22. But the Lord is my refuge: and my God the help of my hope.
Erit autem Dominus mihi in refugium et Deus meus quasi petra spei meae

93:23. And he will render them their iniquity: and in their malice he will destroy them: the Lord our God will destroy them.

Et restitues super eos iniquitatem suam et in malitia sua perdes eos perdet eos Dominus Deus noster

Psalm 94

Venite exultemus.* An invitation to adore and serve God, and to hear his voice.

---

Praise of a canticle for David himself.

94:1. Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour.

Venite laudemus Dominum iubilemus petrae Iesu nostro

94:2. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

Praeoccupemus vultum eius in actione gratiarum in canticis iubilemus ei

94:3. For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods.

Quoniam fortis et magnus Dominus et rex magnus super omnes deos

94:4. For in his hand are all the ends of the earth: and the heights of the mountains are his.

In cuius manu fundamenta terrae et excelsa montium ipsius sunt

94:5. For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land.

Cuius est mare ipse enim fecit illud et siccam manus eius plasmaverunt

94:6. Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us.

Venite adoremus et curvemur flectamus genua ante faciem Domini factoris nostri

94:7. For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

Quia ipse est Deus noster et nos populus pascuae eius et grex manus eius

94:8. To day if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts:

Hodie si vocem eius audieritis nolite indurare corda vestra

94:9. As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Sicut in contradictione sicut in die temptationis in deserto ubi temptaverunt me patres vestri probaverunt me et viderunt opus meum

94:10. Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart.

Quadraginta annis displicuit mihi generatio illa et dixi populus errans corde est

94:11. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Et non cognoscens vias meas et iuravi in furore meo ut non introirent in requiem meam

Psalm 95

Cantate Domino. An exhortation to praise God for the coming of Christ and his kingdom.

---

95:1. A canticle for David himself, when the house was built after the captivity. Sing ye to the Lord a new canticle: sing to the Lord, all the earth. *

Canite Domino canticum novum canite Domino omnis terra

When the house was built, etc... Alluding to that time, and then ordered to be sung: but principally relating to the building of the church of Christ, after our redemption from the captivity of Satan.

95:2. Sing ye to the Lord and bless his name: show forth his salvation from day to day.

Canite Domino benedicite nomini eius adnuntiate de die in diem salutare eius

95:3. Declare his glory among the Gentiles: his wonders among all people.

Narrate in gentibus gloriam eius in universis populis mirabilia eius

95:4. For the Lord is great, and exceedingly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.

Quia magnus Dominus et laudabilis nimis terribilis est super omnes deos

95:5. For all the gods of the Gentiles are devils: but the Lord made the heavens.

Omnes enim dii populorum sculptilia Dominus autem caelos fecit

95:6. Praise and beauty are before him: holiness and majesty in his sanctuary.

Gloria et decor ante vultum eius fortitudo et exultatio in sanctuario eius

95:7. Bring ye to the Lord, O ye kindreds of the Gentiles, bring ye to the Lord glory and honour:

Adferte Domino familiae populorum adferte Domino gloriam et fortitudinem

95:8. Bring to the Lord glory unto his name. Bring up sacrifices, and come into his courts:

Adferte Domino gloriam nomini eius levate munera et introite in atria eius

95:9. Adore ye the Lord in his holy court. Let all the earth be moved at his presence.

Adorate Dominum in decore sanctuarii paveat a facie eius omnis terra

95:10. Say ye among the Gentiles, the Lord hath reigned. For he hath corrected the world, which shall not be moved: he will judge the people with justice.

Dicite in gentibus Dominus regnavit siquidem adpendit orbem immobilem iudicabit populos in aequitate

95:11. Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad, let the sea be moved, and the fulness thereof:

Laetamini caeli et exultet terra tonet mare et plenitudo eius

95:12. The fields and all things that are in them shall be joyful. Then shall all the trees of the woods rejoice

Gaudeat ager et omnia quae in eo sunt tunc laudabunt universa ligna saltus

95:13. Before the face of the Lord, because he cometh: because he cometh to judge the earth. He shall judge the world with justice, and the people with his truth.

Ante faciem Domini quoniam venit quoniam venit iudicare terram iudicabit orbem in iusto et populos in fide sua

New Advent is dedicated to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Psalm 96

Dominus regnavit. All are invited to rejoice at the glorious coming and reign of Christ.

---

96:1. For the same David, when his land was restored again to him. The Lord hath reigned, let the earth rejoice: let many islands be glad.

Dominus regnavit exultabit terra laetabuntur insulae multae

96:2. Clouds and darkness are round about him: justice and judgment are the establishment of his throne.*

Nubes et caligo in circuitu eius iustitia et iudicium firmamentum solii eius

Clouds and darkness... The coming of Christ in the clouds with great terror and majesty to judge the world, is here prophesied.

96:3. A fire shall go before him, and shall burn his enemies round about.

Ignis ante faciem eius ibit et exuret per circuitum hostes eius

96:4. His lightnings have shone forth to the world: the earth saw and trembled.

Apparuerunt fulgora eius orbi vidit et contremuit terra

96:5. The mountains melted like wax, at the presence of the Lord: at the presence of the Lord of all the earth.

Montes sicut cera tabefacti sunt a facie Domini a facie dominatoris omnis terrae

96:6. The heavens declared his justice: and all people saw his glory.

Adnuntiaverunt caeli iustitiam eius et viderunt omnes populi gloriam eius

96:7. Let them be all confounded that adore graven things, and that glory in their idols. Adore him, all you his angels:

Confundantur universi qui serviunt sculptili qui gloriantur in idolis adore eum omnes dii

96:8. Sion heard, and was glad. And the daughters of Juda rejoiced, because of thy judgments, O Lord.

Audivit et laetata est Sion et exultaverunt filiae Iudae propter iudicia tua Domine

96:9. For thou art the most high Lord over all the earth: thou art exalted exceedingly above all gods.

Tu enim Dominus Excelsus super omnem terram vehementer elevatus es super universos deos

96:10. You that love the Lord, hate evil: the Lord preserveth the souls of his saints, he will deliver them out of the hand of the sinner.

Qui diligitis Dominum odite malum custodit animas sanctorum suorum de manu impiorum eruet eos

96:11. Light is risen to the just, and joy to the right of heart.

Lux orta est iusto et rectis corde laetitia

96:12. Rejoice, ye just, in the Lord: and give praise to the remembrance of his holiness.

Laetamini iusti in Domino et confitemini memoriae sanctae eius

Psalm 97

Cantate Domino. All are again invited to praise the Lord, for the victories of Christ.

---

97:1. A psalm for David himself. Sing ye to the Lord a new canticle: because he hath done wonderful things. His right hand hath wrought for him salvation, and his arm is holy.

Canticum cantate Domino canticum novum quia mirabilia fecit salvavit sibi dextera eius et brachium sanctum eius

97:2. The Lord hath made known his salvation: he hath revealed his justice in the sight of the Gentiles.
Notum fecit Dominus salutare suum in conspectu gentium revelavit iustitiam suam

97:3. He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel. All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

Recordatus est misericordiae suae et veritatis suae domui Iacob viderunt omnes fines terrae salutare Dei nostri

97:4. Sing joyfully to God, all the earth; make melody, rejoice and sing.

Iubilare Domino omnis terra vociferamini et laudate et canite

97:5. Sing praise to the Lord on the harp, on the harp, and with the voice of a psalm:

Cantate Domino in cithara in cithara et voce carminis

97:6. With long trumpets, and sound of cornet. Make a joyful noise before the Lord our king:

In tubis et clangore bucinæ iubilare coram rege Domino

97:7. Let the sea be moved and the fullness thereof: the world and they that dwell therein.

Tonet mare et plenitudo eius orbis et habitatores eius

97:8. The rivers shall clap their hands, the mountains shall rejoice together

Flumina plaudent manu simul montes laudabunt

97:9. At the presence of the Lord: because he cometh to judge the earth. He shall judge the world with justice, and the people with equity.

Ante Dominum quia venit iudicare terram iudicabit orbem in iustitia et populos in aequitatibus

Psalm 98

Dominus regnavit. The reign of the Lord in Sion: that is, of Christ in his church.

---

98:1. A psalm for David himself. The Lord hath reigned, let the people be angry: he that sitteth on the cherubims: let the earth be moved. *

Dominus regnavit commoveantur populi sessor cherubin concutiatur terra

Let the people be angry... Though many enemies rage, and the whole earth be stirred up to oppose the reign of Christ, he shall still prevail.

98:2. The lord is great in Sion, and high above all people.

Dominus in Sion magnus et excelsus est super omnes populos

98:3. Let them give praise to thy great name: for it is terrible and holy:

Confiteantur nomini tuo magno et terribili sanctoque

98:4. And the king's honour loveth judgment. Thou hast prepared directions: thou hast done judgment and justice in Jacob. *

Imperium regis iudicium diligit tu fundasti aequitates iudicium et iustitiam in Iacob tu fecisti

Loveth judgment... Requireth discretion. -- Ibid. Directions... Most right and just laws to direct men.

98:5. Exalt ye the Lord our God, and adore his footstool, for it is holy. *

Exaltate Dominum Deum nostrum et adorate scabillum pedum eius quia sanctus est

Adore his footstool... The ark of the covenant was called, in the Old Testament, God's footstool: over which he was understood to sit, on his propitiatory, or mercy seat, as on a throne, between the wings of the cherubims, in the sanctuary: to which the children of Israel paid a great veneration. But as this psalm evidently relates to Christ, and the New Testament, where the ark has no place, the holy fathers understand this text, of the worship paid by the church to the body and blood of Christ in the sacred mysteries: inasmuch as the humanity of Christ is, as it were, the footstool of the divinity. So St. Ambrose, L. 3. De Spiritu Sancto, c. 12. And St. Augustine upon this psalm.

98:6. Moses and Aaron among his priests: and Samuel among them that call upon his name. They called upon the Lord, and he heard them: *

Moses et Aaron in sacerdotibus eius et Samuhel in his qui invocant nomen eius invocabant Dominum et ipse exaudivit eos

Moses and Aaron among his priests... By this it is evident, that Moses also was a priest, and indeed the chief priest, inasmuch as he consecrated Aaron, and offered sacrifice for him. Leviticus 8. So that his pre-eminence over Aaron makes nothing for lay church headship.

98:7. He spoke to them in the pillar of the cloud. They kept his testimonies, and the commandment which he gave them.

In columna nubis loquebatur ad eos custodierunt testimonia eius et praeceptum dedit eis

98:8. Thou didst hear them, O Lord our God: thou wast a merciful God to them, and taking vengeance on all their inventions. *

Domine Deus noster tu exaudisti eos Domine propitius fuisti eis et ultor super commutationibus eorum

All their inventions... that is, all the enterprises of their enemies against them, as in the case of Core, Dathan, and Abiron.

98:9. Exalt ye the Lord our God, and adore at his holy mountain: for the Lord our God is holy.

Exaltate Dominum Deum nostrum et adorate in monte sancto eius quia sanctus Dominus Deus noster

Psalm 99

Jubilate Deo. All are invited to rejoice in God the creator of all.

99:1. A psalm of praise.

Canticum in gratiarum actione

99:2. Sing joyfully to God, all the earth: serve ye the Lord with gladness. Come in before his presence with exceeding great joy.

Lubilate Domino omnis terra servite Domino in laetitia ingredimini coram eo in laude

99:3. Know ye that the Lord he is God: he made us, and not we ourselves. We are his people and the sheep of his pasture.

Scitote quoniam Dominus ipse est Deus ipse fecit nos et ipsius sumus populus eius et grex pascuae eius

99:4. Go ye into his gates with praise, into his courts with hymns: and give glory to him. Praise ye his name:

Ingredimini portas eius in gratiarum actione atria eius in laude confitemini ei benedicite nomini eius

99:5. For the Lord is sweet, his mercy endureth for ever, and his truth to generation and generation.

Quia bonus Dominus in sempiternum misericordia eius et usque ad generationem et generationem fides eius

Psalm 100

Misericordiam et iudicium. The prophet exhorteth all by his example, to follow mercy and justice.

---

100:1. A psalm for David himself. Mercy and judgment I will sing to thee, O Lord: I will sing,
David canticum misericordiam et iudicium cantabo tibi Domine psallam

100:2. And I will understand in the unspotted way, when thou shalt come to me. I walked in the innocence of my heart, in the midst of my house. *

Erudiar in via perfecta quando venies ad me ambulabo in simplicitate cordis mei in medio domus meae

I will understand, etc... That is, I will apply my mind, I will do my endeavour, to know and to follow the perfect way of thy commandments: not trusting to my own strength, but relying on thy coming to me by thy grace.

100:3. I will not set before my eyes any unjust thing: I hated the workers of iniquities.

Non ponam coram oculis meis verbum Belial facientem declinationes odivi nec adhesit mihi

100:4. The perverse heart did not cleave to me: and the malignant, that turned aside from me, I would not know.

Cor pravum recedet a me malum nesciam

100:5. The man that in private detracted his neighbour, him did I persecute. With him that had a proud eye, and an unsatiable heart, I would not eat.

Loquentem in abscondito contra proximum suum hunc interficiam superbum oculis et altum corde cum hoc esse non potero

100:6. My eyes were upon the faithful of the earth, to sit with me: the man that walked in the perfect way, he served me.

Oculi mei ad fideles terrae ut habitent mecum ambulans in via simpliciter hic ministrabit mihi

100:7. He that worketh pride shall not dwell in the midst of my house: he that speaketh unjust things did not prosper before my eyes.

Non habitabit in medio domus meae faciens dolum loquens mendacium non placebit in conspectu oculorum meorum

100:8. In the morning I put to death all the wicked of the land: that I might cut off all the workers of iniquity from the city of the Lord.

Mane perdam omnes impios terrae ut interficiam de civitate Domini universos qui operantur iniquitatem

Psalm 101

Domine, exaudi. A prayer for one in affliction: the fifth penitential psalm.

---

101:1. The prayer of the poor man, when he was anxious, and poured out his supplication before the Lord.
Oratio pauperis quando sollicitus fuerit et coram Domino fuderit eloquium suum

101:2. Hear, O Lord, my prayer: and let my cry come to thee.
Domine audi orationem meam et clamor meus ad te veniat

101:3. Turn not away thy face from me: in the day when I am in trouble, incline thy ear to me. In what day soever I shall call upon thee, hear me speedily.
Ne abscondas faciem tuam a me in die tribulationis meae inclina ad me aurem tuam in quacumque die invocavero velociter exaudi me

101:4. For my days are vanished like smoke, and my bones are grown dry like fuel for the fire.
Quoniam consumpti sunt sicut fumus dies mei et ossa mea quasi frixa contabuerunt

101:5. I am smitten as grass, and my heart is withered: because I forgot to eat my bread.
Percussum est quasi faenum et arefactum est cor meum quia oblitus sum comedere panem meum

101:6. Through the voice of my groaning, my bone hath cleaved to my flesh.
A voce gemitus mei adhesit os meum carni meae

101:7. I am become like to a pelican of the wilderness: I am like a night raven in the house.*
Adsimilatus sum pelicano deserti factus sum quasi bubo solitudinum
A pelican, etc... I am become through grief, like birds that affect solitude and darkness.

101:8. I have watched, and am become as a sparrow all alone on the housetop.
Vigilavi et fui sicut avis solitaria super tectum

101:9. All the day long my enemies reproached me: and they that praised me did swear against me.
Tota die exprobrabant mihi inimici mei exultantes per me iurabant

101:10. For I did eat ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping.
Quia cinerem sicut panem comedi et potum meum cum fletu miscui

101:11. Because of thy anger and indignation: for having lifted me up thou hast thrown me down.
A facie indignationis et irae tuae quia elevasti me et adlisisisti me

101:12. My days have declined like a shadow, and I am withered like grass.
Dies mei quasi umbra inclinati sunt et ego quasi faenum arui

101:13. But thou, O Lord, endurest for ever: and thy memorial to all generations.
Tu autem Domine in aeternum permanes memoriale tuum in generatione et generatione

101:14. Thou shalt arise and have mercy on Sion: for it is time to have mercy on it, for the time is come.
Tu suscitans misereberis Sion quia tempus est ut miserearis eius quoniam venit tempus quoniam venit pactum

101:15. For the stones thereof have pleased thy servants: and they shall have pity on the earth thereof.
Quoniam placitos fecerunt servi tui lapides eius et pulverem eius miserabilem

101:16. All the Gentiles shall fear thy name, O Lord, and all the kings of the earth thy glory.
Et timebunt gentes nomen Domini et universi reges terrae gloriam tuam

101:17. For the Lord hath built up Sion: and he shall be seen in his glory.

Quia aedificavit Dominus Sion apparuit in gloria sua

101:18. He hath had regard to the prayer of the humble: and he hath not despised their petition.

Respexit ad orationem vacui et non dispexit orationem eorum

101:19. Let these things be written unto another generation: and the people that shall be created shall praise the Lord:

Scribatur hoc in generatione novissima et populus qui creabitur laudabit Dominum

101:20. Because he hath looked forth from his high sanctuary: from heaven the Lord hath looked upon the earth.

Quoniam prospexit de excelso sanctuario suo Dominus de caelo terram contemplatus est

101:21. That he might hear the groans of them that are in fetters: that he might release the children of the slain:

Ut audiret gemitum vincti ut solveret filios mortis

101:22. That they may declare the name of the Lord in Sion: and his praise in Jerusalem;

Ut narretur in Sion nomen Domini et laudatio eius in Hierusalem

101:23. When the people assemble together, and kings, to serve the Lord.

Cum congregati fuerint populi simul et regna ut serviant Domino

101:24. He answered him in the way of his strength: Declare unto me the fewness of my days.*

Adflixit in via fortitudinem meam abbreviavit dies meos

He answered him in the way of his strength... That is, the people, mentioned in the foregoing verse, or the penitent, in whose person this psalm is delivered, answered the Lord in the way of his strength: that is, according to the best of his power and strength: or when he was in the flower of his age and strength: inquiring after the fewness of his days: to know if he should live long enough to see the happy restoration of Sion, etc.

101:25. Call me not away in the midst of my days: thy years are unto generation and generation.

Dicam Deus meus ne rapias me in dimidio dierum meorum in generatione generationum anni tui

101:26. In the beginning, O Lord, thou foundedst the earth: and the heavens are the works of thy hands.

A principio terram fundasti et opus manuum tuarum caeli

101:27. They shall perish but thou remainest: and all of them shall grow old like a garment: And as a vesture thou shalt change them, and they shall be changed.

Ipsi peribunt tu autem stabis et omnes quasi vestimentum adterentur et quasi pallium mutabis illos et mutabuntur

101:28. But thou art always the selfsame, and thy years shall not fail.

Tu autem ipse es et anni tui non deficient

101:29. The children of thy servants shall continue and their seed shall be directed for ever.

Filii servorum tuorum habitabunt et semen eorum ante faciem eorum perseverabit

Psalm 102

Benedic, anima. Thanksgiving to God for his mercies.

---

102:1. For David himself. Bless the Lord, O my soul: and let all that is within me bless his holy name.

David benedic anima mea Domino et omnia viscera mea nomini sancto eius

102:2. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and never forget all he hath done for thee.

Benedic anima mea Domino et noli oblivisci omnium retributionum eius

102:3. Who forgiveth all thy iniquities: who healeth all thy diseases.

Qui propitiatur cunctis iniquitatibus tuis et sanat omnes infirmitates tuas

102:4. Who redeemeth thy life from destruction: who crowneth thee with mercy and compassion.

Qui redimit de corruptione vitam tuam et coronat te misericordia et miserationibus

102:5. Who satisfieth thy desire with good things: thy youth shall be renewed like the eagle's.

Qui replet bonis ornamentum tuum innovabitur sicut aquilae iuventus tua

102:6. The Lord doth mercies, and judgment for all that suffer wrong.

Faciens iustitias Dominus et iudicia cunctis qui calumniam sustinent

102:7. He hath made his ways known to Moses: his wills to the children of Israel.

Notas fecit vias suas Mosi filiis Israhel cogitationes suas

102:8. The Lord is compassionate and merciful: longsuffering and plenteous in mercy.

Misericors et clemens Dominus patiens et multae miserationis

102:9. He will not always be angry: nor will he threaten for ever.

Non in sempiternum iudicabit neque in aeternum irascetur

102:10. He hath not dealt with us according to our sins: nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

Non secundum peccata nostra fecit nobis neque secundum iniquitates nostras retribuit nobis

102:11. For according to the height of the heaven above the earth: he hath strengthened his mercy towards them that fear him.

Quantum enim excelsius est caelum terra tantum confortata est misericordia eius super timentes eum

102:12. As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our iniquities from us.

Quantum longe est oriens ab occidente tantum longe fecit a nobis scelera nostra

102:13. As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that fear him:

Sicut miseretur pater filiorum misertus est Dominus timentibus se

102:14. For he knoweth our frame. He remembereth that we are dust:

Ipse enim novit plasmationem nostram recordatus est quia pulvis sumus

102:15. Man's days are as grass, as the flower of the field so shall he flourish.

Homo quasi herba dies eius sicut flos agri sic floreat

102:16. For the spirit shall pass in him, and he shall not be: and he shall know his place no more.

Quia spiritus pertransiit eum et non subsistet et non cognoscet eum ultra locus eius

102:17. But the mercy of the Lord is from eternity and unto eternity upon them that fear him: And his justice unto children's children,

Misericordia autem Domini ab aeterno et usque in aeternum super timentes eum et iustitia eius in filios

filiorum

102:18. To such as keep his covenant, And are mindful of his commandments to do them.
His qui custodiunt pactum eius et recordantur praeceptorum eius ad facienda ea

102:19. The lord hath prepared his throne in heaven: and his kingdom shall rule over all.
Dominus in caelo stabilivit thronum suum et regnum illius omnium dominatur

102:20. Bless the Lord, all ye his angels: you that are mighty in strength, and execute his word, hearkening to the voice of his orders.
Benedicite Domino angeli eius fortes robore facientes verbum eius oboedientes voci sermonis eius

102:21. Bless the Lord, all ye his hosts: you ministers of his that do his will.
Benedicite Domino omnes exercitus eius ministri eius qui facitis placitum illius

102:22. Bless the Lord, all his works: in every place of his dominion, O my soul, bless thou the Lord.
Benedicite Domino universa opera eius in omnibus locis potestatis eius benedic anima mea Domino

Psalm 103

Benedic, anima. God is to be praised for his mighty works, and wonderful providence.

---

103:1. For David himself. Bless the Lord, O my soul: O Lord my God, thou art exceedingly great. Thou hast put on praise and beauty:

Benedic anima mea Domino Domine Deus meus magnificatus es nimis gloria et decore indutus es

103:2. And art clothed with light as with a garment. Who stretchest out the heaven like a pavilion:

Amictus luce quasi vestimento extendens caelos ut pellem

103:3. Who coverest the higher rooms thereof with water. Who makest the clouds thy chariot: who walkest upon the wings of the winds.

Qui tegis aquis cenacula eius qui ponis nubes currum tuum qui ambulas super pinnas venti

103:4. Who makest thy angels spirits: and thy ministers a burning fire.

Qui facis angelos tuos spiritus ministros tuos ignem urentem

103:5. Who hast founded the earth upon its own bases: it shall not be moved for ever and ever.

Qui fundasti terram super basem suam non commovebitur in saeculum et in saeculum

103:6. The deep like a garment is its clothing: above the mountains shall the waters stand.

Abyssus quasi vestimento operuisti eam super montes stabunt aquae

103:7. At thy rebuke they shall flee: at the voice of thy thunder they shall fear.

Ab increpatione tua fugient a voce tonitru tui formidabunt

103:8. The mountains ascend, and the plains descend into the place which thou hast founded for them.

Ascendent montes et descendent campi ad locum quem fundasti eis

103:9. Thou hast set a bound which they shall not pass over; neither shall they return to cover the earth.

Terminus posuisti quem non pertransibunt nec revertentur ut operiant terram

103:10. Thou sendest forth springs in the vales: between the midst of the hills the waters shall pass.

Qui emittis fontes in convallibus ut inter medios montes fluant

103:11. All the beasts of the field shall drink: the wild asses shall expect in their thirst.

Ut bibant omnia animalia regionum et reficiat onager sitim suam

103:12. Over them the birds of the air shall dwell: from the midst of the rocks they shall give forth their voices.

Super ea volucres caeli morabuntur de medio nemorum dabunt vocem

103:13. Thou waterest the hills from thy upper rooms: the earth shall be filled with the fruit of thy works:

Qui inrigas montes de cenaculis tuis de fructu operum tuorum implebitur terra

103:14. Bringing forth grass for cattle, and herb for the service of men. That thou mayst bring bread out of the earth:

Germinans herbam iumentis et faenum servituti hominum ut educat panem de terra

103:15. And that wine may cheer the heart of man. That he may make the face cheerful with oil: and that bread may strengthen man's heart.

Et vinum laetificat cor hominis ad exhilarandam faciem oleo panis autem cor hominis roborat

103:16. The trees of the field shall be filled, and the cedars of Libanus which he hath planted:

Saturabuntur ligna Domini cedri Libani quas plantasti

103:17. There the sparrows shall make their nests. The highest of them is the house of the heron.
Ibi aves nidificabunt milvo abies domus eius

103:18. The high hills are a refuge for the harts, the rock for the irchins.
Montes excelsi cervis petra refugium ericiis

103:19. He hath made the moon for seasons: the sun knoweth his going down.
Fecit lunam per tempora sol cognovit occubitum suum

103:20. Thou hast appointed darkness, and it is night: in it shall all the beasts of the woods go about:
Posuisti tenebras et facta est nox in ipsa moventur omnes bestiae silvae

103:21. The young lions roaring after their prey, and seeking their meat from God.
Leones rugientes ad praedam et quaerentes a Deo escam sibi

103:22. The sun ariseth, and they are gathered together: and they shall lie down in their dens.
Oriente sole recedent et in speluncis suis cubabunt

103:23. Man shall go forth to his work, and to his labour until the evening.
Egreditur homo ad opus suum et ad servitutum suam usque ad vesperam

103:24. How great are thy works, O Lord? thou hast made all things in wisdom: the earth is filled with thy riches.
Quam multa sunt opera tua Domine omnia in sapientia fecisti impleta est terra possessione tua

103:25. So is this great sea, which stretcheth wide its arms: there are creeping things without number: Creatures little and great.
Hoc mare magnum et latum manibus ibi reptilia innumerabilia animalia parva cum grandibus

103:26. There the ships shall go. This sea dragon which thou hast formed to play therein.
Ibi naves pertranseunt Leviathan istum plasmasti ut inluderet ei

103:27. All expect of thee that thou give them food in season.
Omnia in te sperant ut des cibum eis in tempore suo

103:28. What thou givest to them they shall gather up: when thou openest thy hand, they shall all be filled with good.
Dante te illis colligent aperiente manum tuam replebuntur bono

103:29. But if thou turnest away thy face, they shall be troubled: thou shalt take away their breath, and they shall fail, and shall return to their dust.
Abscondes vultum tuum et turbabuntur auferes spiritum eorum et deficient et in pulverem suum revertentur

103:30. Thou shalt send forth thy spirit, and they shall be created: and thou shalt renew the face of the earth.
Emittes spiritum tuum et creabuntur et instaurabis faciem terrae

103:31. May the glory of the Lord endure for ever: the Lord shall rejoice in his works.
Sit gloria Domini in sempiternum laetabitur Dominus in operibus suis

103:32. He looketh upon the earth, and maketh it tremble: he troubleth the mountains, and they smoke.
Qui respicit terram et tremet tangit montes et fumabunt

103:33. I will sing to the Lord as long as I live: I will sing praise to my God while I have my being.
Cantabo Domino in vita mea psallam Deo quamdiu sum

103:34. Let my speech be acceptable to him: but I will take delight in the Lord.
Placeat ei eloquium meum ego autem laetabor in Domino

103:35. Let sinners be consumed out of the earth, and the unjust, so that they be no more: O my soul, bless thou the Lord.

Deficient peccatores de terra et impii ultra non sint benedic anima mea Domino

Psalm 104

Confitemini Domino. A thanksgiving to God for his benefits to his people Israel.

Alleluia.

104:1. Give glory to the Lord, and call upon his name: declare his deeds among the Gentiles.

Alleluia confitemini Domino invocate nomen eius notas facite populis cogitationes eius

104:2. Sing to him, yea sing praises to him: relate all his wondrous works.

Canite ei et psallite illi loquimini in universis mirabilibus eius

104:3. Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord.

Exultate in nomine sancto eius laetetur cor quaerentium Dominum

104:4. Seek ye the lord, and be strengthened: seek his face evermore.

Quaerite Dominum et virtutem eius quaerite faciem eius iugiter

104:5. Remember his marvellous works which he hath done; his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth.

Recordamini mirabilium eius quae fecit signorum et iudiciorum oris eius

104:6. O ye seed of Abraham his servant; ye sons of Jacob his chosen.

Semen Abraham servi eius filii Iacob electi eius

104:7. He is the Lord our God: his judgments are in all the earth.

Ipse Dominus Deus noster in universa terra iudicia eius

104:8. He hath remembered his covenant for ever: the word which he commanded to a thousand generations.

Recordatus est in aeternum pacti sui verbi quod praecepit in mille generationes

104:9. Which he made to Abraham; and his oath to Isaac:

Quod pepigit cum Abraham et iuramenti sui cum Isaac

104:10. And he appointed the same to Jacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting testament:

Et firmavit illud cum Iacob in lege cum Israhel pactum sempiternum

104:11. Saying: To thee will I give the land of Chanaan, the lot of your inheritance.

Dicens tibi dabo terram Chanaan funiculum hereditatis vestrae

104:12. When they were but a small number: yea very few, and sojourners therein:

Cum essent viri pauci modici et advenae in ea

104:13. And they passed from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another people.

Et transierunt de gente in gentem de regno ad populum alterum

104:14. He suffered no man to hurt them: and he reprov'd kings for their sakes.

Non dimisit hominem ut noceret eis et corripuit pro eis reges

104:15. Touch ye not my anointed: and do no evil to my prophets.

Nolite tangere christos meos et prophetas meos nolite adfligere

104:16. And he called a famine upon the land: and he broke in pieces all the support of bread.

Et vocavit famem super terram omnem virgam panis contrivit

104:17. He sent a man before them: Joseph, who was sold for a slave.

Misit ante faciem eorum virum in servum venundatus est Ioseph

104:18. They humbled his feet in fetters: the iron pierced his soul,

Adflixerunt in conpede pedes eius in ferrum venit anima eius

104:19. Until his word came. The word of the Lord inflamed him.

Usque ad tempus donec veniret sermo eius eloquium Domini probavit eum

104:20. The king sent, and he released him: the ruler of the people, and he set him at liberty.

Misit rex et solvit eum princeps populorum et dimisit illum

104:21. He made him master of his house, and ruler of all his possession.

Posuit eum dominum domus suae et principem in omni possessione sua

104:22. That he might instruct his princes as himself, and teach his ancients wisdom.

Ut erudiret principes eius secundum voluntatem suam et senes eius sapientiam doceret

104:23. And Israel went into Egypt: and Jacob was a sojourner in the land of Cham.

Et ingressus est Israhel Aegyptum et Iacob advena fuit in terra Ham

104:24. And he increased his people exceedingly: and strengthened them over their enemies.

Et crescere fecit populum suum nimis et roboravit eum super hostes eius

104:25. He turned their heart to hate his people: and to deal deceitfully with his servants.*

Convertit cor eorum ut odio haberent populum eius ut dolose agerent contra servos illius

He turned their heart, etc... Not that God (who is never the author of sin) moved the Egyptians to hate and persecute his people; but that the Egyptians took occasion of hating and envying them, from the sight of the benefits which God bestowed upon them.

104:26. He sent Moses his servant: Aaron the man whom he had chosen.

Misit Mosen servum suum Aaron quem elegit sibi

104:27. He gave them power to show them signs, and his wonders in the land of Cham.

Posuit in eis verba signorum suorum et portentorum in terra Ham

104:28. He sent darkness, and made it obscure: and grieved not his words.*

Misit tenebras et contenebravit et non fuerunt increduli verbis eius

Grieved not his words... That is, he was not wanting to fulfil his words: or he did not grieve Moses and Aaron, the carriers of his words: or he did not grieve his words, that is, his sons, the children of Israel, who enjoyed light whilst the Egyptians were oppressed with darkness.

104:29. He turned their waters into blood, and destroyed their fish.

Commutavit aquas eorum in sanguinem et occidit pisces eorum

104:30. Their land brought forth frogs, in the inner chambers of their kings.

Ebullivit terra eorum ranas in cubiculis regum eorum

104:31. He spoke, and there came divers sorts of flies and sciniphs in all their coasts.*

Dixit et venit musca omnimoda scinifes in universis terminis eorum

Sciniphs... See the annotation, Exodus 8:16.

104:32. He gave them hail for rain, a burning fire in the land.

Dedit pluvias eorum grandinem ignem flammantem in terra eorum

104:33. And he destroyed their vineyards and their fig trees: and he broke in pieces the trees of their coasts.

Et percussit vineam eorum et ficum eorum et confregit lignum finium eorum

104:34. He spoke, and the locust came, and the bruchus, of which there was no number.*

Dixit et venit lucusta et bruchus cuius non erat numerus

Bruchus... An insect of the locust kind.

104:35. And they devoured all the grass in their land, and consumed all the fruit of their ground.

Et comedit omne faenum terrae eorum et devoravit fructum terrae eorum

104:36. And he slew all the firstborn in their land: the firstfruits of all their labour.
Et percussit omne primogenitum in terra eorum primitias universi partus eorum

104:37. And he brought them out with silver and gold: and there was not among their tribes one that was feeble.
Et eduxit eos cum argento et auro et non erat in tribubus eorum infirmus

104:38. Egypt was glad when they departed: for the fear of them lay upon them.
Laetata est Aegyptus cum egrederentur quoniam inruerat terror eorum super eos

104:39. He spread a cloud for their protection, and fire to give them light in the night.
Expandit nubem in tentorium et ignem ut luceret nocte

104:40. They asked, and the quail came: and he filled them with the bread of heaven.
Petierunt et adduxit ortygometran et pane caelesti saturavit eos

104:41. He opened the rock, and waters flowed: rivers ran down in the dry land.
Aperuit petram et fluxerunt aquae cucurrerunt in aridis flumina

104:42. Because he remembered his holy word, which he had spoken to his servant Abraham.
Quia recordatus est verbi sancti sui cum Abraham servo suo

104:43. And he brought forth his people with joy, and his chosen with gladness.
Et eduxit populum suum in laetitia laudantes electos suos

104:44. And he gave them the lands of the Gentiles: and they possessed the labours of the people:
Et dedit eis terras gentium et laborem tribuum possederunt

104:45. That they might observe his justifications, and seek after his law. *
Ut custodirent caerimonias eius et leges eius servarent alleluia

His justifications... That is, his commandments: which here, and in many other places of the scripture, are called justifications, because the keeping of them makes man just. The Protestants render it by the word statutes, in favour of their doctrine, which does not allow good works to justify.

Psalm 105

Confitemini Domino. A confession of the manifold sins and ingratiudes of the Israelites.

Alleluia.

105:1. Give glory to the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
Alleluia confitemini Domino quoniam bonus quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

105:2. Who shall declare the powers of the Lord? who shall set forth all his praises?
Quis loquetur fortitudines Domini auditas faciet omnes laudes eius

105:3. Blessed are they that keep judgment, and do justice at all times.
Beati qui custodiunt iudicium et faciunt iustitiam in omni tempore

105:4. Remember us, O Lord, in the favour of thy people: visit us with thy salvation.
Recordare mei Domine in repropitiatione populi tui visita me in salutari tuo

105:5. That we may see the good of thy chosen, that we may rejoice in the joy of thy nation: that thou mayst be praised with thy inheritance.
Ut videam bona electorum tuorum et laeter in laetitia gentis tuae et exultem cum hereditate tua

105:6. We have sinned with our fathers: we have acted unjustly, we have wrought iniquity.
Peccavimus cum patribus nostris inique fecimus impie egimus

105:7. Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt: they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies: And they provoked to wrath going up to the sea, even the Red Sea.
Patres nostri in Aegypto non intellexerunt mirabilia tua non sunt recordati multitudinis misericordiae tuae et ad iracundiam provocaverunt super mare in mari Rubro

105:8. And he saved them for his own name's sake: that he might make his power known.
Salvavit autem eos propter nomen suum ut ostenderet fortitudinem suam

105:9. And he rebuked the Red Sea and it was dried up: and he led them through the depths, as in a wilderness.
Et comminatus est mari Rubro et aruit et transduxit eos per abyssos quasi in deserto

105:10. And he saved them from the hand of them that hated them: and he redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
Et salvavit eos de manu odientis et redemit eos de manu inimici

105:11. And the water covered them that afflicted them: there was not one of them left.
Et operuit aqua hostes eorum unus de ipsis non superfuit

105:12. And they believed his words: and they sang his praises.
Et crediderunt verbis eius cecineruntque laudem eius

105:13. They had quickly done, they forgot his works: and they waited not for his counsel.
Cito obliti sunt operum illius nec expectaverunt voluntatem eius

105:14. And they coveted their desire in the desert: and they tempted God in the place without water.
Et desideraverunt desiderium in deserto et temptaverunt Deum in solitudine

105:15. And he gave them their request: and sent fulness into their souls.
Dedit ergo eis petitionem eorum et misit tenuitatem in animam eorum

105:16. And they provoked Moses in the camp, Aaron the holy one of the Lord.
Et zelati sunt Mosen in castris Aaron sanctum Domini

105:17. The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan: and covered the congregation of Abiron.
Aperta est terra et devoravit Dathan et operuit synagogam Abiram

105:18. And a fire was kindled in their congregation: the flame burned the wicked.
Et succensus est ignis in synagoga eorum flamma exusit impios

105:19. They made also a calf in Horeb: and they adored the graven thing.
Fecerunt vitulum in Horeb et adoraverunt conflatile

105:20. And they changed their glory into the likeness of a calf that eateth grass.
Et mutaverunt gloriam suam in similitudine bovis comedentis faenum

105:21. They forgot God, who saved them, who had done great things in Egypt,
Obliti sunt Dei salvatoris sui qui fecit magnalia in Aegypto

105:22. Wondrous works in the land of Cham: terrible things in the Red Sea.
Mirabilia in terra Ham terribilia super mare Rubrum

105:23. And he said that he would destroy them: had not Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach: To turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.
Dixit ergo ut contereret eos nisi Moses electus eius stetisset medius contra faciem illius ut converteret indignationem eius et non interficeret

105:24. And they set at nought the desirable land. They believed not his word,
Et dispexerunt terram desiderabilem nec crediderunt sermoni eius

105:25. And they murmured in their tents: they hearkened not to the voice of the Lord.
Et murmuraverunt in tabernaculis suis non audierunt vocem Domini

105:26. And he lifted up his hand over them: to overthrow them in the desert;
Et levavit manum suam super eos ut deiceret eos in deserto

105:27. And to cast down their seed among the nations, and to scatter them in the countries.
Et ut deiceret semen eorum in gentibus et dispergeret eos in terris

105:28. They also were initiated to Beelphegor: and ate the sacrifices of the dead.*
Et consecrati sunt Beelphegor et comederunt victimas mortuorum

Initiated... That is, they dedicated, or consecrated themselves to the idol of the Moabites and Madianites, called Beelphegor, or Baal-Peor.
Num. 25.3. -- Ibid. The dead... Viz., idols without life.

105:29. And they provoked him with their inventions: and destruction was multiplied among them.
Et concitaverunt eum in studiis suis et percussit eos plaga

105:30. Then Phinees stood up, and pacified him: and the slaughter ceased.
Stetit autem Finees et deiudicavit et est retenta percussio

105:31. And it was reputed to him unto justice, to generation and generation for evermore.
Et reputatum est ei in iustitia in generatione et generatione usque in aeternum

105:32. They provoked him also at the waters of contradiction: and Moses was afflicted for their sakes:
Et provocaverunt super aquam Contradictionis et adflictus est Moses propter eos

105:33. Because they exasperated his spirit. And he distinguished with his lips.*
Quia provocaverunt spiritum eius et praecepit labiis suis

He distinguished with his lips... Moses, by occasion of the people's rebellion and incredulity, was guilty of distinguishing with his lips; when, instead of speaking to the rock, as God had commanded, he said to the people, with a certain hesitation in his faith, Hear ye, rebellious and incredulous: Can we from this rock bring out water for you? Num. 20.10.

105:34. They did not destroy the nations of which the Lord spoke unto them.
Non exterminaverunt populos quos dixit Dominus eis

105:35. And they were mingled among the heathens, and learned their works:

Et commixti sunt gentibus et didicerunt opera eorum

105:36. And served their idols, and it became a stumblingblock to them.

Et servierunt sculptilibus eorum et factum est eis in scandalum

105:37. And they sacrificed their sons, and their daughters to devils.

Et immolaverunt filios suos et filias suas daemonibus

105:38. And they shed innocent blood: the blood of their sons and of their daughters which they sacrificed to the idols of Chanaan. And the land was polluted with blood,

Et effuderunt sanguinem innocentem sanguinem filiorum suorum et filiarum suarum quos immolaverunt sculptilibus Chanaan et polluta est terra sanguinibus

105:39. And was defiled with their works: and they went aside after their own inventions.

Et coinquinati sunt in operibus suis et fornicati sunt in studiis suis

105:40. And the Lord was exceedingly angry with his people: and he abhorred his inheritance.

Iratus est itaque furor Domini in populum suum et abominatus est hereditatem suam

105:41. And he delivered them into the hands of the nations: and they that hated them had dominion over them.

Et dedit eos in manu gentium et dominati sunt eorum qui oderant eos

105:42. And their enemies afflicted them: and they were humbled under their hands:

Et adflixerunt eos inimici sui et humiliati sunt sub manu eorum

105:43. Many times did he deliver them. But they provoked him with their counsel: and they were brought low by their iniquities.

Multis vicibus liberavit eos ipsi vero provocabant in consiliis suis et humiliati sunt propter iniquitates suas

105:44. And he saw when they were in tribulation: and he heard their prayer.

Et vidit tribulationem eorum cum audiret eos rogantes

105:45. And he was mindful of his covenant: and repented according to the multitude of his mercies.

Et recordatus est pacti sui cum eis et paenituit eum secundum multitudinem misericordiae suae

105:46. And he gave them unto mercies, in the sight of all those that had made them captives.

Et dedit eos miserabiles coram omnibus qui ceperant eos

105:47. Save us, O Lord, our God: and gather us from among the nations: That we may give thanks to thy holy name, and may glory in thy praise.

Salva nos Domine Deus noster et congrega nos de gentibus ut confiteamur nomini sancto tuo et canamus laudantes te

105:48. Blessed be the Lord the God of Israel, from everlasting to everlasting: and let all the people say: So be it, so be it.

Benedictus Dominus Deus Israhel ab aeterno et usque in aeternum et dicet omnis populus amen alleluia

Psalm 106

Confitemini Domino. All are invited to give thanks to God for his perpetual providence over men.

Alleluia.

106:1. Give glory to the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Confitemini Domino quoniam bonus quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

106:2. Let them say so that have been redeemed by the Lord, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy: and gathered out of the countries.

Dicant qui redempti sunt a Domino quos redemit de manu hostis et de terris congregavit eos

106:3. From the rising and from the setting of the sun, from the north and from the sea.

Ab oriente et ab occidente ab aquilone et mari

106:4. They wandered in a wilderness, in a place without water: they found not the way of a city for their habitation.

Erraverunt in solitudine in deserta via civitatem quae habitaretur non reppererunt

106:5. They were hungry and thirsty: their soul fainted in them.

Esurientes et sitientes anima eorum in ipsis deficiebat

106:6. And they cried to the Lord in their tribulation: and he delivered them out of their distresses.

Et clamaverunt ad Dominum in tribulatione sua de adflictione eorum eripuit eos

106:7. And he led them into the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

Et duxit illos per viam rectam ut venirent in civitatem habitabilem

106:8. Let the mercies of the Lord give glory to him: and his wonderful works to the children of men.

Confiteantur Domino misericordiam eius et mirabilia eius in filios hominum

106:9. For he hath satisfied the empty soul, and hath filled the hungry soul with good things.

Quia saturavit animam vacuum et animam esurientem implevit bonis

106:10. Such as sat in darkness and in the shadow of death: bound in want and in iron.

Habitanes in tenebris et umbra mortis alligatos inopia et ferro

106:11. Because they had exasperated the words of God: and provoked the counsel of the most High:

Quia provocaverunt sermones Dei et consilium Excelsi blasphemaverunt

106:12. And their heart was humbled with labours: they were weakened, and there was none to help them.

Et humiliavit in labore cor eorum ceciderunt et non erat qui adiuveret

106:13. Then they cried to the Lord in their affliction: and he delivered them out of their distresses.

Et clamaverunt ad Dominum in tribulatione sua et de angustiis eorum salvavit eos

106:14. And he brought them out of darkness, and the shadow of death; and broke their bonds in sunder.

Et eduxit eos de tenebris et umbra mortis et vincula eorum dirupit

106:15. Let the mercies of the Lord give glory to him, and his wonderful works to the children of men.

Confiteantur Domino misericordiam eius et mirabilia eius in filios hominum

106:16. Because he hath broken gates of brass, and burst iron bars.

Quia contrivit portas aereas et vectes ferreos confregit

106:17. He took them out of the way of their iniquity: for they were brought low for their injustices.
Stultos propter viam sceleris eorum et propter iniquitates adflictos

106:18. Their soul abhorred all manner of meat: and they drew nigh even to the gates of death.
Omnem cibum abominata est anima eorum et accesserunt ad portas mortis

106:19. And they cried to the Lord in their affliction: and he delivered them out of their distresses.
Et clamaverunt ad Dominum in tribulatione sua de angustiis eorum salvavit eos

106:20. He sent his word, and healed them: and delivered them from their destructions.
Misit verbum suum et sanavit eos et salvavit de interitu

106:21. Let the mercies of the Lord give glory to him: and his wonderful works to the children of men.
Confiteantur Domino misericordiam eius et mirabilia eius in filios hominum

106:22. And let them sacrifice the sacrifice of praise: and declare his works with joy.
Et immolent hostias gratiarum et narrent opera eius in laude

106:23. They that go down to the sea in ships, doing business in the great waters:
Qui descendunt in mare navibus facientes opus in aquis multis

106:24. These have seen the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deep.
Ipsi viderunt opera Domini et mirabilia eius in profundo

106:25. He said the word, and there arose a storm of wind: and the waves thereof were lifted up.
Dixit et surrexit ventus tempestatis et elevavit gurgites eius

106:26. They mount up to the heavens, and they go down to the depths: their soul pined away with evils.
Ascendunt in caelum et descendunt in abyssos anima eorum in adflictione consumitur

106:27. They were troubled, and reeled like a drunken man; and all their wisdom was swallowed up.
Obstipuerunt et intremuerunt quasi ebrius et universa sapientia eorum absorta est

106:28. And they cried to the Lord in their affliction: and he brought them out of their distresses.
Clamabunt autem ad Dominum in tribulatione sua et de angustia educet eos

106:29. And he turned the storm into a breeze: and its waves were still.
Statuet turbinem in tranquillitatem et silebunt fluctus eius

106:30. And they rejoiced because they were still: and he brought them to the haven which they wished for.
Laetabuntur quoniam quieverunt et deducet eos ad portum quem voluerunt

106:31. Let the mercies of the Lord give glory to him, and his wonderful works to the children of men.
Confiteantur Domino misericordiam eius et mirabilia eius in filios hominum

106:32. And let them exalt him in the church of the people: and praise him in the chair of the ancients.
Et exaltent eum in ecclesia populi et in cathedra seniorum laudent eum

106:33. He hath turned rivers into a wilderness: and the sources of waters into dry ground:
Ponet flumina in desertum et fontes aquarum in sitim

106:34. A fruitful land into barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.
Terram fructiferam in salsuginem prae malitia habitatorum eius

106:35. He hath turned a wilderness into pools of waters, and a dry land into water springs.
Ponet desertum in paludes aquarum et terram inviam in fontes aquarum

106:36. And hath placed there the hungry; and they made a city for their habitation.
Et conlocabit ibi esurientes et fundabunt urbem ad habitandum

106:37. And they sowed fields, and planted vineyards: and they yielded fruit of birth.
Et serent agros et plantabunt vineas et facient fruges genimina

106:38. And he blessed them, and they were multiplied exceedingly: and their cattle he suffered not to decrease.

Et benedicet eis et multiplicabuntur nimis et pecora eorum non inminuet

106:39. Then they were brought to be few: and they were afflicted through the trouble of evils and sorrow.

Inminuta sunt autem et adflicta propter angustiam mali et doloris

106:40. Contempt was poured forth upon their princes: and he caused them to wander where there was no passing, and out of the way.

Et effundet despectionem super principes et errare eos faciet in solitudine devia

106:41. And he helped the poor out of poverty: and made him families like a flock of sheep.

Et sublevabit pauperem de inopia et ponet quasi gregem familias

106:42. The just shall see, and shall rejoice, and all iniquity shall stop her mouth.

Videbunt recti et laetabuntur et omnis iniquitas contrahet os suum

106:43. Who is wise, and will keep these things; and will understand the mercies of the Lord?

Quis sapiens et custodiet haec et intellegent misericordias Domini

Psalm 107

Paratum cor meum. The prophet praiseth God for benefits received.

---

107:1. A canticle of a psalm for David himself.

Canticum psalmi David

107:2. My heart is ready, O God, my heart is ready: I will sing, and will give praise, with my glory.

Paratum cor meum Deus cantabo et psallam sed et gloria mea

107:3. Arise, my glory; arise, psaltery and harp: I will arise in the morning early.

Consurge psalterium et cithara consurgam mane

107:4. I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people: and I will sing unto thee among the nations.

Confitebor tibi in populis Domine et cantabo te in nationibus

107:5. For thy mercy is great above the heavens: and thy truth even unto the clouds.

Quoniam magna super caelos misericordia tua et usque ad aethera veritas tua

107:6. Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens, and thy glory over all the earth:

Exaltare super caelos Deus et super omnem terram gloria tua

107:7. That thy beloved may be delivered. Save with thy right hand and hear me.

Ut liberentur dilecti tui salva dextera tua et exaudi me

107:8. God hath spoken in his holiness. I will rejoice, and I will divide Sichem and I will mete out the vale of tabernacles.

Deus locutus est in sanctuario suo gaudebo dividam Sychem et vallem Socchoth dimetiar

107:9. Galaad is mine: and Manasses is mine and Ephraim the protection of my head. Juda is my king:

Meus est Galaad et meus est Manasse et Efraim hereditas capitis mei Iuda dux meus

107:10. Moab the pot of my hope. Over Edom I will stretch out my shoe: the aliens are become my friends.

Moab lebes pelvis meae super Idumeam proiciam calciamentum meum cum Philisthim foederabor

107:11. Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me into Edom?

Quis deducet me in civitatem munitam quis deducet me usque in Idumeam

107:12. Wilt not thou, O God, who hast cast us off? and wilt not thou, O God, go forth with our armies?

Nonne tu Deus qui proieceras nos et non exieras Deus in exercitibus nostris

107:13. O grant us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.

Da nobis auxilium in tribulatione vana est enim salus ab homine

107:14. Through God we shall do mightily: and he will bring our enemies to nothing.

In Deo erimus fortes et ipse conculcabit hostes nostros

Psalm 108

Deus, laudem meam. David in the person of Christ, prayeth against his persecutors; more especially the traitor Judas: foretelling and approving his just punishment for his obstinacy in sin and final impenitence.

108:1. Unto the end, a psalm for David.

Pro victoria David canticum

108:2. O God, be not thou silent in my praise: for the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of the deceitful man is opened against me.

Deus laudabilis mihi ne taceas quia os impii et os dolosi contra me apertum est

108:3. They have spoken against me with deceitful tongues; and they have compassed me about with words of hatred; and have fought against me without cause.

Locuti sunt de me lingua mendacii verbis odii circumdederunt me et expugnaverunt me frustra

108:4. Instead of making me a return of love, they detracted me: but I gave myself to prayer.

Pro eo quod eos diligebam adversabantur mihi ego autem orabam

108:5. And they repaid me evil for good: and hatred for my love.

Et posuerunt contra me malum pro bono et odium pro dilectione mea

108:6. Set thou the sinner over him: and may the devil stand at his right hand. *

Constitue super eum impium et Satan astet a dextris eius

Set thou the sinner over him, etc... Give to the devil, that arch-sinner, power over him: let him enter into him, and possess him. The imprecations, contained in the thirty verses of this psalm, are opposed to the thirty pieces of silver for which Judas betrayed our Lord; and are to be taken as prophetic denunciations of the evils that should befall the traitor and his accomplices the Jews; and not properly as curses.

108:7. When he is judged, may he go out condemned; and may his prayer be turned to sin.

Cum fuerit iudicatus exeat condemnatus et oratio eius sit in peccatum

108:8. May his days be few: and his bishopric let another take.

Fiant dies eius parvi episcopatum eius accipiat alter

108:9. May his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.

Sint filii eius pupilli et uxor eius vidua

108:10. Let his children be carried about vagabonds, and beg; and let them be cast out of their dwellings.

Instabiles vagentur liberi eius et mendicent et quaerantur in parietinis suis

108:11. May the usurer search all his substance: and let strangers plunder his labours.

Scrutetur exactor universa quae habet et diripiant alieni laborem eius

108:12. May there be none to help him: nor none to pity his fatherless offspring.

Non sit qui eius misereatur nec qui clemens sit in pupillos eius

108:13. May his posterity be cut off; in one generation may his name be blotted out.

Fiat novissimum eius interitus in generatione altera deleatur nomen eius

108:14. May the iniquity of his fathers be remembered in the sight of the Lord: and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out.

Redeat in memoria iniquitas patrum eius apud Deum et iniquitas matris eius ne deleatur

108:15. May they be before the Lord continually, and let the memory of them perish from the earth:
Sit contra Dominum semper et intereat de terra memoria eorum

108:16. Because he remembered not to show mercy,
Eo quod non est recordatus facere misericordiam

108:17. But persecuted the poor man and the beggar; and the broken in heart, to put him to death.
Et persecutus est virum inopem et pauperem et conpunctum corde ut interficeret

108:18. And he loved cursing, and it shall come unto him: and he would not have blessing, and it shall be far from him. And he put on cursing, like a garment: and it went in like water into his entrails, and like oil in his bones.
Et dilexit maledictionem quae veniet ei et noluit benedictionem quae elongabitur ab eo et indutus est maledictione quasi vestimento suo et ingredietur quasi aqua in viscera eius et quasi oleum in ossa eius

108:19. May it be unto him like a garment which covereth him; and like a girdle with which he is girded continually.
Sit ei quasi pallium quo circumdatur et quasi cingulum quo semper accingitur

108:20. This is the work of them who detract me before the Lord; and who speak evils against my soul.
Haec est retributio his qui adversantur mihi a Domino et qui loquuntur malum contra animam meam

108:21. But thou, O Lord, do with me for thy name's sake: because thy mercy is sweet. Do thou deliver me,
Tu autem Deus Domine fac mecum propter nomen tuum quoniam bona est misericordia tua libera me

108:22. For I am poor and needy, and my heart is troubled within me.
Quoniam egenus et pauper sum et cor meum vulneratum est intrinsecus

108:23. I am taken away like the shadow when it declineth: and I am shaken off as locusts.
Quasi umbra cum inclinatur abductus sum et excussus quasi lucusta

108:24. My knees are weakened through fasting: and my flesh is changed for oil. *

Genua mea vacillaverunt a ieiunio et caro mea mutata est absque oleo

For oil... Propter oleum. The meaning is, my flesh is changed, being perfectly emaciated and dried up, as having lost all its oil or fatness.

108:25. And I am become a reproach to them: they saw me and they shook their heads.
Et ego factus sum obprobrium eis videntes me moverunt caput suum

108:26. Help me, O Lord my God; save me; according to thy mercy.
Adiuva me Domine Deus meus salva me secundum misericordiam tuam

108:27. And let them know that this is thy hand: and that thou, O Lord, hast done it.
Et sciant quoniam manus tua haec tu Domine fecisti eam

108:28. They will curse and thou wilt bless: let them that rise up against me be confounded: but thy servant shall rejoice.
Maledicent illi et tu benedices restiterunt et confundentur servus autem tuus laetabitur

108:29. Let them that detract me be clothed with shame: and let them be covered with their confusion as with a double cloak.
Induantur adversarii mei confusione et operiantur quasi indumento confusione sua

108:30. I will give great thanks to the Lord with my mouth: and in the midst of many I will praise him.
Confitebor Domino vehementer in ore meo et in medio populorum laudabo eum

108:31. Because he hath stood at the right hand of the poor, to save my soul from persecutors.
Quoniam stabit a dextris pauperis ut salvet a iudicibus animam eius

New Advent is dedicated to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Psalm 109

Dixit Dominus. Christ's exaltation and everlasting priesthood.

109:1. A psalm for David. The Lord said to my Lord: Sit thou at my right hand: Until I make thy enemies thy footstool.

David canticum dixit Dominus Domino meo sede a dextris meis donec ponam inimicos tuos scabillum pedum tuorum

109:2. The Lord will send forth the sceptre of thy power out of Sion: rule thou in the midst of thy enemies.

Virgam fortitudinis tuae emittet Dominus ex Sion dominare in medio inimicorum tuorum

109:3. With thee is the principality in the day of thy strength: in the brightness of the saints: from the womb before the day star I begot thee.

Populi tui spontanei erunt in die fortitudinis tuae in montibus sanctis quasi de vulva orietur tibi ros adulescentiae tuae

109:4. The Lord hath sworn, and he will not repent: Thou art a priest for ever according to the order of Melchisedech.

Iuravit Dominus et non paenitebit eum tu es sacerdos in aeternum secundum ordinem Melchisedech

109:5. The Lord at thy right hand hath broken kings in the day of his wrath.

Dominus ad dexteram tuam percussit in die furoris sui reges

109:6. He shall judge among nations, he shall fill ruins: he shall crush the heads in the land of many.

Iudicabit in gentibus implebit valles percutiet caput in terra multa

109:7. He shall drink of the torrent in the way: therefore shall he lift up the head.

De torrente in via bibet propterea exaltabit caput

Psalm 110

Confitebor tibi, Domine. God is to be praised for his graces, and benefits to his church.

Alleluia.

110:1. I will praise thee, O Lord, with my whole heart; in the council of the just, and in the congregation.
Alleluia aleph confitebor Domino in toto corde beth in consilio iustorum et congregatione

110:2. Great are the works of the Lord: sought out according to all his wills.
Gimel magna opera Domini delectabilia exquirenda in cunctis voluntatibus suis

110:3. His work is praise and magnificence: and his justice continueth for ever and ever.
He gloria et decor opus eius vav et iustitia eius perseverans semper

110:4. He hath made a remembrance of his wonderful works, being a merciful and gracious Lord:
Zai memoriam fecit mirabilia suorum heth clemens et misericors Dominus

110:5. He hath given food to them that fear him. He will be mindful for ever of his covenant:
Teth escam dedit timentibus se ioth memor erit in sempiternum pacti sui

110:6. He will show forth to his people the power of his works.
Caph fortitudinem operum suorum adnuntiabit populo suo

110:7. That he may give them the inheritance of the Gentiles: the works of his hands are truth and judgment.
Lameth ut det eis hereditatem gentium mem opus manuum eius veritas et iudicium

110:8. All his commandments are faithful: confirmed for ever and ever, made in truth and equity.
Nun fidelia omnia praecepta eius samech firmata in sempiternum iugiter aia facta in veritate et aequitate

110:9. He hath sent redemption to his people: he hath commanded his covenant for ever. Holy and terrible is his name:
Fe redemptionem misit populo suo sade mandavit in aeternum pactum suum coph sanctum et terribile nomen eius

110:10. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. A good understanding to all that do it: his praise continueth for ever and ever.
Res principium sapientiae timor Domini sen doctrina bona cunctis qui faciunt ea thau laus eius perseverans iugiter alleluia

Psalm 111

Beatus vir. The good man is happy.

---

Preface. Alleluia, of the returning of Aggeus and Zacharias. *

111:1. Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord: he shall delight exceedingly in his commandments.
Aleph beatus vir qui timet Dominum beth in mandatis eius volet nimis

111:2. His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the righteous shall be blessed.
Gimel potens in terra erit semen eius delectatio generatio iustorum benedicetur

111:3. Glory and wealth shall be in his house: and his justice remaineth for ever and ever.
He substantia et divitiae in domo eius vav et iustitia eius perseverans semper

111:4. To the righteous a light is risen up in darkness: he is merciful, and compassionate and just.
Zai ortum est in tenebris lumen iustis heth clemens et misericors et iustus

111:5. Acceptable is the man that showeth mercy and lendeth: he shall order his words with judgment:
Teth bonus vir clemens et fenerator ioth dispensabit verba sua in iudicio

111:6. Because he shall not be moved for ever.
Caph quia in aeternum non commovebitur

111:7. The just shall be in everlasting remembrance: he shall not fear the evil hearing. His heart is ready to hope in the Lord:
Lameth in memoria sempiterna erit iustus mem ab auditu malo non timebit nun paratum cor eius confidens in Domino

111:8. His heart is strengthened, he shall not be moved until he look over his enemies.
Samech firmum cor eius non timebit ain donec aspiciat hostibus suis

111:9. He hath distributed, he hath given to the poor: his justice remaineth for ever and ever: his horn shall be exalted in glory.
Phe dispersit dedit pauperibus sade iustitia eius permanet in aeternum coph cornu eius exaltabitur in gloria

111:10. The wicked shall see, and shall be angry, he shall gnash with his teeth and pine away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

Res impius videbit et irascetur sen dentibus suis frendet et tabescet thau desiderium impiorum peribit

PREFACE. Of the returning, etc... This is in the Greek and Latin, but not in the Hebrew. It signifies that this psalm was proper to be sung at the time of the return of the people from their captivity; to inculcate to them, how happy they might be, if they would be constant in the service of God.

Psalm 112

Laudate, pueri.* God is to be praised for his regard to the poor and humble.

Alleluia.

112:1. Praise the Lord, ye children: praise ye the name of the Lord.

Alleluia laudate servi Dominum laudate nomen Domini

112:2. Blessed be the name of the Lord, from henceforth now and for ever.

Sit nomen Domini benedictum amodo et usque in aeternum

112:3. From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same, the name of the Lord is worthy of praise.

Ab ortu solis usque ad occasum eius laudabile nomen Domini

112:4. The Lord is high above all nations; and his glory above the heavens.

Excelsus super omnes gentes Dominus super caelum gloria eius

112:5. Who is as the Lord our God, who dwelleth on high:

Quis ut Dominus Deus noster qui in excelsis habitans

112:6. And looketh down on the low things in heaven and in earth?

Humilia respicit in caelo et in terra

112:7. Raising up the needy from the earth, and lifting up the poor out of the dunghill:

Suscitans de terra inopem et de stercore elevat pauperem

112:8. That he may place him with princes, with the princes of his people.

Ut eum sedere faciat cum principibus cum principibus populi sui

112:9. Who maketh a barren woman to dwell in a house, the joyful mother of children.

Qui conlocat sterilem in domo matrem filiorum laetantem alleluia

Psalm 113

In exitu Israel. God hath shown his power in delivering his people: idols are vain. The Hebrews divide this into two psalms.

---

Alleluia.

113:1. When Israel went out of Egypt, the house of Jacob from a barbarous people:
Cum egrederetur Israhel de Aegypto domus Iacob de populo barbaro

113:2. Judea was made his sanctuary, Israel his dominion.
Factus est Iudas in sanctificatione eius Israhel potestas eius

113:3. The sea saw and fled: Jordan was turned back.
Mare vidit et fugit Iordanis conversus est retrorsum

113:4. The mountains skipped like rams, and the hills like the lambs of the flock.
Montes subsilierunt quasi arietes colles quasi filii gregis

113:5. What ailed thee, O thou sea, that thou didst flee: and thou, O Jordan, that thou wast turned back?
Quid tibi est mare quia fugisti Iordanis quia conversus es retrorsum

113:6. Ye mountains, that ye skipped like rams, and ye hills, like lambs of the flock?
Montes sussultastis quasi arietes colles quasi filii gregis

113:7. At the presence of the Lord the earth was moved, at the presence of the God of Jacob:
A facie Domini contremesce terra a facie Dei Iacob

113:8. Who turned the rock into pools of water, and the stony hill into fountains of waters.
Qui convertit petram in paludes aquarum silicem in fontes aquarum

113:9. Not to us, O Lord, not to us; but to thy name give glory.
Non nobis Domine non nobis sed nomini tuo da gloriam

113:10. For thy mercy, and for thy truth's sake: lest the Gentiles should say: Where is their God?
Propter misericordiam tuam et veritatem tuam ne dicant gentes ubi est Deus eorum

113:11. But our God is in heaven: he hath done all things whatsoever he would.
Deus autem noster in caelo universa quae voluit fecit

113:12. The idols of the Gentiles are silver and gold, the works of the hands of men.
Idola gentium argentum et aurum opus manuum hominum

113:13. They have mouths and speak not: they have eyes and see not.
Os habent et non loquentur oculos habent et non videbunt

113:14. They have ears and hear not: they have noses and smell not.
Aures habent et non audient nasum habent et non odorabuntur

113:15. They have hands and feel not: they have feet and walk not: neither shall they cry out through their throat.
Manus habent et non palpabunt pedes habent et non ambulabunt nec sonabunt in gutture suo

113:16. Let them that make them become like unto them: and all such as trust in them.
Similes illis fiant qui faciunt ea omnis qui confidit in eis

113:17. The house of Israel hath hoped in the Lord: he is their helper and their protector.

Israhel confidet in Domino auxiliator et protector eorum est

113:18. The house of Aaron hath hoped in the Lord: he is their helper and their protector.
Domus Aaron confidet in Domino auxiliator et protector eorum est

113:19. They that fear the Lord have hoped in the Lord: he is their helper and their protector.
Timentes Dominum confident in Domino auxiliator et protector eorum est

113:20. The Lord hath been mindful of us, and hath blessed us. He hath blessed the house of Israel: he hath blessed the house of Aaron.
Dominus recordatus nostri benedicet benedicet domui Israhel benedicet domui Aaron

113:21. He hath blessed all that fear the Lord, both little and great.
Benedicet timentibus Dominum parvis et magnis

113:22. May the Lord add blessings upon you: upon you, and upon your children.
Addat Dominus super vos super vos et super filios vestros

113:23. Blessed be you of the Lord, who made heaven and earth.
Benedicti vos Domino qui fecit caelos et terram

113:24. The heaven of heaven is the Lord's: but the earth he has given to the children of men.
Caelum caelorum Domino terram autem dedit filiis hominum

113:25. The dead shall not praise thee, O Lord: nor any of them that go down to hell.
Non mortui laudabunt Dominum nec omnes qui descendunt in silentium

113:26. But we that live bless the Lord: from this time now and for ever.
Sed nos benedicimus Domino amodo et usque in aeternum alleluia

Psalm 114

Dilexi. The prayer of a just man in affliction, with a lively confidence in God.

Alleluia.

114:1. I have loved, because the Lord will hear the voice of my prayer.

Dilexi quoniam audies Domine vocem deprecationis meae

114:2. Because he hath inclined his ear unto me: and in my days I will call upon him.

Inclinavit aurem suam mihi et in diebus meis invocabo

114:3. The sorrows of death have compassed me: and the perils of hell have found me. I met with trouble and sorrow:

Circumdederunt me funes mortis et munitiones inferni invenerunt me angustiam et dolorem repperi

114:4. And I called upon the name of the Lord. O Lord, deliver my soul.

Et nomen Domini invocavi obsecro Domine salva animam meam

114:5. The Lord is merciful and just, and our God showeth mercy.

Clemens Dominus et iustus et Deus noster misericors

114:6. The Lord is the keeper of little ones: I was humbled, and he delivered me.

Custodit parvulos Dominus adtenuatus sum et salvavit me

114:7. Turn, O my soul, into thy rest: for the Lord hath been bountiful to thee.

Revertere anima mea in requiem tuam quia Dominus reddet tibi

114:8. For he hath delivered my soul from death: my eyes from tears, my feet from falling.

Quia eruit animam meam de morte oculos meos a lacrimis pedes meos ab offensa

114:9. I will please the Lord in the land of the living.

Deambulabo coram Domino in terris viventium

Psalm 115

Credidi. This in the Hebrew is joined with the foregoing psalm, and continues to express the faith and gratitude of the psalmist.

Alleluia.

115:10. I have believed, therefore have I spoken; but I have been humbled exceedingly.
Credidi propter quod locutus sum ego adflictus sum nimis

115:11. I said in my excess: Every man is a liar.
Ego dixi in stupore meo omnis homo mendacium

115:12. What shall I render to the Lord, for all the things that he hath rendered to me?
Quid reddam Domino pro omnibus quae tribuit mihi

115:13. I will take the chalice of salvation; and I will call upon the name of the Lord.
Calicem salutis accipiam et nomen Domini invocabo

115:14. I will pay my vows to the Lord before all his people:
Vota mea Domino reddam coram omni populo eius

115:15. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints.
Gloriosa in conspectu Domini mors sanctorum eius

115:16. O Lord, for I am thy servant: I am thy servant, and the son of thy handmaid. Thou hast broken my bonds:
Obsecro Domine quia ego servus tuus ego servus tuus filius ancillae tuae dissolvisti vincula mea

115:17. I will sacrifice to thee the sacrifice of praise, and I will call upon the name of the Lord.
Tibi immolabo hostiam laudis et in nomine Domini invocabo

115:18. I will pay my vows to the Lord in the sight of all his people:
Vota mea Domino reddam in conspectu omnis populi eius

115:19. In the courts of the house of the Lord, in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem.
In atriis domus Domini in medio tui Hierusalem alleluia

Psalm 116

Laudate Dominum.* All nations are called upon to praise God for his mercy and truth.

Alleluia.

116:1. O Praise the Lord, all ye nations: praise him, all ye people.

Laudate Dominum omnes gentes conlaudate eum universi populi

116:2. For his mercy is confirmed upon us: and the truth of the Lord remaineth for ever.

Psalm 117

Confitemini Domino. The psalmist praiseth God for his delivery from evils: putteth his whole trust in him; and foretelleth the coming of Christ.

Alleluia.

117:1. Give praise to the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
Confitemini Domino quoniam bonus quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

117:2. Let Israel now say, that he is good: that his mercy endureth for ever.
Dicat nunc Israhel quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

117:3. Let the house of Aaron now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.
Dicat domus Aaron quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

117:4. Let them that fear the Lord now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.
Dicant qui timent Dominum quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

117:5. In my trouble I called upon the Lord: and the Lord heard me, and enlarged me.
Cum tribularer invocavi Dominum et exaudivit me in latitudine Dominus

117:6. The Lord is my helper: I will not fear what man can do unto me.
Dominus meus es non timebo quid faciat mihi homo

117:7. The Lord is my helper: and I will look over my enemies.
Dominus mihi auxiliator et ego despiciam odientes me

117:8. It is good to confide in the Lord, rather than to have confidence in man.
Melius est sperare in Domino quam sperare in homine

117:9. It is good to trust in the Lord, rather than to trust in princes.
Melius est sperare in Domino quam sperare in principibus

117:10. All nations compassed me about; and, in the name of the Lord I have been revenged on them.
Omnes gentes circumdederunt me et in nomine Domini ultus sum eas

117:11. Surrounding me they compassed me about: and in the name of the Lord I have been revenged on them.
Circumdederunt me et obsederunt me sed in nomine Domini ultus sum eas

117:12. They surrounded me like bees, and they burned like fire among thorns: and in the name of the Lord I was revenged on them.
Circumdederunt me quasi apes extinctae sunt quasi ignis spinarum in nomine Domini quia ultus sum eas

117:13. Being pushed I was overturned that I might fall: but the Lord supported me.
Impulsus pellebar ut caderem et Dominus sustentavit me

117:14. The Lord is my strength and my praise: and he is become my salvation.
Fortitudo mea et laus mea Dominus et factus est mihi in salutem

117:15. The voice of rejoicing and of salvation is in the tabernacles of the just.
Vox laudis et salutis in tabernaculis iustorum

117:16. The right hand of the Lord hath wrought strength: the right hand of the Lord hath exalted me: the right hand of the Lord hath wrought strength.

Dextera Domini fecit fortitudinem dextera Domini excelsa dextera Domini fecit fortitudinem

117:17. I shall not die, but live: and shall declare the works of the Lord.

Non moriar sed vivam et narrabo opera Domini

117:18. The Lord chastising hath chastised me: but he hath not delivered me over to death.

Corripiens arguit me Dominus et morti non tradidit me

117:19. Open ye to me the gates of justice: I will go in to them, and give praise to the Lord.

Aperite mihi portas iustitiae ingressus eas confitebor Domino

117:20. This is the gate of the Lord, the just shall enter into it.

Haec est porta Domini iusti intrabunt in eam

117:21. I will give glory to thee because thou hast heard me: and art become my salvation.

Confitebor tibi quoniam exaudisti me et factus es mihi in salutem

117:22. The stone which the builders rejected; the same is become the head of the corner.

Lapis quem reprobaverunt aedificantes factus est in caput anguli

117:23. This is the Lord's doing, and it is wonderful in our eyes.

A Domino factum est istud et hoc mirabile in oculis nostris

117:24. This is the day which the Lord hath made: let us be glad and rejoice therein.

Haec est dies quam fecit Dominus exultemus et laetemur in ea

117:25. O Lord, save me: O Lord, give good success.

Obsecro Domine salva obsecro obsecro Domine prosperare obsecro

117:26. Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord. We have blessed you out of the house of the Lord.

Benedictus qui venit in nomine Domini benediximus vobis de domo Domini

117:27. The Lord is God, and he hath shone upon us. Appoint a solemn day, with shady boughs, even to the horn of the altar.

117:28. Thou art my God, and I will praise thee: thou art my God, and I will exalt thee. I will praise thee, because thou hast heard me, and art become my salvation.

Deus meus es tu et confitebor tibi Deus meus es tu exaltabo te

117:29. O praise ye the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Confitemini Domino quoniam bonus quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

Psalm 118

Beati immaculati. Of the excellence of virtue consisting in the love and observance of the commandments of God.

---

Alleluia.

ALEPH

118:1. Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord.

Aleph beati immaculati in via qui ambulant in lege Domini

Aleph... The first eight verses of this psalm in the original begin with Aleph, which is the name of the first letter of the Hebrew alphabet. The second eight verses begin with Beth, the name of the second letter of the Hebrew alphabet; and so to the end of the whole alphabet, in all twenty-two letters, each letter having eight verses. This order is variously expounded by the holy fathers; which shows the difficulty of understanding the holy scriptures, and consequently with what humility, and submission to the Church they are to be read.

118:2. Blessed are they that search his testimonies: that seek him with their whole heart. *

Beati qui custodiunt testimonia eius in toto corde requirunt eum

His testimonies... The commandments of God are called his testimonies, because they testify his holy will unto us. Note here, that in almost every verse of this psalm (which in number are 176) the word and law of God, and the love and observance of it, is perpetually inculcated, under a variety of denominations, all signifying the same thing.

118:3. For they that work iniquity, have not walked in his ways.

Nec enim qui operantur iniquitatem in viis eius ambulaverunt

118:4. Thou hast commanded thy commandments to be kept most diligently.

Tu mandasti praecepta tua custodire nimis

118:5. O! that my ways may be directed to keep thy justifications.

Utinam dirigantur viae meae ad custodienda praecepta tua

118:6. Then shall I not be confounded, when I shall look into all thy commandments.

Tunc non confundar cum respexero ad omnia mandata tua

118:7. I will praise thee with uprightness of heart, when I shall have learned the judgments of thy justice.

Confitebor tibi in directione cordis cum didicero iudicia iustitiae tuae

118:8. I will keep thy justifications: O! do not thou utterly forsake me.

Praecepta tua custodiam ne derelinquas me nimis

BETH

118:9. By what doth a young man correct his way? by observing thy words.

Beth in quo corrigit iuvenis semitam suam cum custodierit verba tua

118:10. With my whole heart have I sought after thee: let me not stray from thy commandments.

In toto corde meo exquisivi te ne errare me facias a mandatis tuis

118:11. Thy words have I hidden in my heart, that I may not sin against thee.

In corde meo abscondi eloquium tuum ut non peccem tibi

118:12. Blessed art thou, O Lord: teach me thy justifications.

Benedictus tu Domine doce me praecepta tua

118:13. With my lips I have pronounced all the judgments of thy mouth.

In labiis meis narraui omnes iustitias oris tui

118:14. I have been delighted in the way of thy testimonies, as in all riches.
In via testimoniorum tuorum laetatus sum quasi in omnibus divitiis

118:15. I will meditate on thy commandments: and I will consider thy ways.
In praeceptis tuis meditabor et contemplabor semitas tuas

118:16. I will think of thy justifications: I will not forget thy words.
Iustitiis tuis delectabor non obliviscar verba tua

GIMEL

118:17. Give bountifully to thy servant, enliven me: and I shall keep thy words.
Gimel tribue servo tuo vivam et custodiam verba tua

118:18. Open thou my eyes: and I will consider the wondrous things of thy law.
Revela oculos meos et videbo mirabilia in lege tua

118:19. I am a sojourner on the earth: hide not thy commandments from me.
Advena ego sum in terra ne abscondas a me mandata tua

118:20. My soul hath coveted to long for thy justifications, at all times.
Desideravit anima mea desiderare iudicia tua in omni tempore

118:21. Thou hast rebuked the proud: they are cursed who decline from thy commandments.
Increpasti superbos maledicti qui recedunt a mandatis tuis

118:22. Remove from me reproach and contempt: because I have sought after thy testimonies.
Aufer a me obprobrium et contemptum quoniam testimonia tua custodivi

118:23. For princes sat, and spoke against me: but thy servant was employed in thy justifications.
Etenim sedentes principes adversum me loquebantur servus autem tuus meditabatur praecepta tua

118:24. For thy testimonies are my meditation: and thy justifications my counsel.
Sed et testimonia tua voluntas mea quasi viri amicissimi mei

DALETH

118:25. My soul hath cleaved to the pavement: quicken thou me according to thy word.
Deleth adhesit pulveri anima mea vivifica me iuxta verbum tuum

118:26. I have declared my ways, and thou hast heard me: teach me thy justifications.
Vias meas exposui et exaudisti doce me iustitiam tuam

118:27. Make me to understand the way of thy justifications: and I shall be exercised in thy wondrous works.
Viam praeceptorum tuorum fac me intellegere et loquar in mirabilibus tuis

118:28. My soul hath slumbered through heaviness: strengthen thou me in thy words.
Destillavit anima mea prae stultitia serva me iuxta eloquium tuum

118:29. Remove from me the way of iniquity: and out of thy law have mercy on me.
Viam mendacii aufer a me et legem tuam dona mihi

118:30. I have chosen the way of truth: thy judgments I have not forgotten.
Viam fidei elegi iudicia tua proponebam

118:31. I have stuck to thy testimonies, O Lord: put me not to shame.
Adhesi testimoniis tuis Domine ne confundas me

118:32. I have run the way of thy commandments, when thou didst enlarge my heart.
Viam mandatorum tuorum curram quoniam dilatasti cor meum

HE

118:33. Set before me for a law the way of thy justifications, O Lord: and I will always seek after it.
He ostende mihi Domine viam praeceptorum tuorum et custodiam eam per vestigium

118:34. Give me understanding, and I will search thy law; and I will keep it with my whole heart.
Doce me et observabo legem tuam et custodiam eam in toto corde

118:35. Lead me into the path of thy commandments; for this same I have desired.
Deduc me in semita mandatorum tuorum quia ipsam volui

118:36. Incline my heart into thy testimonies and not to covetousness.
Inclina cor meum ad testimonia tua et non ad avaritiam

118:37. Turn away my eyes that they may not behold vanity: quicken me in thy way.
Averte oculos meos ne videant vanitatem in via tua vivifica me

118:38. Establish thy word to thy servant, in thy fear.
Suscita servo tuo eloquium tuum in timorem tuum

118:39. Turn away my reproach, which I have apprehended: for thy judgments are delightful.
Averte obprobrium meum quod reveritus sum iudicia tua bona

118:40. Behold I have longed after thy precepts: quicken me in thy justice.
Ecce desideravi praecepta tua iustitia tua vivifica me

VAU

118:41. Let thy mercy also come upon me, O Lord: thy salvation according to thy word.
Vav et veniant mihi misericordiae tuae Domine et salus tua iuxta eloquium tuum

118:42. So shall I answer them that reproach me in any thing; that I have trusted in thy words.
Et respondebo exprobranti mihi sermonem quia speravi in sermone tuo

118:43. And take not thou the word of truth utterly out of my mouth: for in thy words, I have hoped exceedingly.
Et ne auferas de ore meo verbum veritatis usque nimis quoniam iudicia tua expectavi

118:44. So shall I always keep thy law, for ever and ever.
Et custodiam legem tuam iugiter in sempiternum et ultra

118:45. And I walked at large: because I have sought after thy commandments.
Et ambulabo in spatioso quia praecepta tua quaesivi

118:46. And I spoke of thy testimonies before kings: and I was not ashamed.
Et loquar in testimoniis tuis coram regibus et non confundar

118:47. I meditated also on thy commandments, which I loved.
Et delectabor in mandatis tuis quae dilexi

118:48. And I lifted up my hands to thy commandments, which I loved: and I was exercised in thy justifications.
Et levabo manus meas ad mandata tua quae dilexi et loquar in praeceptis tuis

ZAIN

118:49. Be thou mindful of thy word to thy servant, in which thou hast given me hope.
Zai memento sermonis servo tuo quem me sperare fecisti

118:50. This hath comforted me in my humiliation: because thy word hath enlivened me.
Haec est consolatio mea in afflictione mea quia eloquium tuum vivificavit me

118:51. The proud did iniquitously altogether: but I declined not from thy law.

Superbi deridebant me nimis a lege tua non declinavi

118:52. I remembered, O Lord, thy judgments of old: and I was comforted.
Recordatus sum iudiciorum tuorum a saeculo Domine et consolatus sum

118:53. A fainting hath taken hold of me, because of the wicked that forsake thy law.
Horror obtinuit me ab impiis qui dereliquerunt legem tuam

118:54. Thy justifications were the subject of my song, in the place of my pilgrimage.
Carmina erant mihi praecepta tua in domo peregrinationis meae

118:55. In the night I have remembered thy name, O Lord: and have kept thy law.
Recordatus sum in nocte nominis tui Domine et custodivi legem tuam

118:56. This happened to me: because I sought after thy justifications.
Hoc factum est mihi quia praecepta tua custodivi

HETH

118:57. O Lord, my portion, I have said, I would keep thy law.
Heth pars mea Domine dixi ut custodiam verbum tuum

118:58. I entreated thy face with all my heart: have mercy on me according to thy word.
Deprecatus sum vultum tuum in toto corde miserere mei secundum eloquium tuum

118:59. I have thought on my ways: and turned my feet unto thy testimonies.
Recogitavi vias meas et converti pedes meos ad testimonia tua

118:60. I am ready, and am not troubled: that I may keep thy commandments.
Festinavi et non neglexi custodire mandata tua

118:61. The cords of the wicked have encompassed me: but I have not forgotten thy law.
Funes impiorum implicaverunt me legem tuam non sum oblitus

118:62. I rose at midnight to give praise to thee; for the judgments of thy justification.
Medio noctis surgam ad confitendum tibi super iudicia iustificationis tuae

118:63. I am a partaker with all them that fear thee, and that keep thy commandments.
Particeps ego sum omnium timentium te et custodientium praecepta tua

118:64. The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy: teach me thy justifications.
Misericordia tua completa est terra praecepta tua doce me

TETH

118:65. Thou hast done well with thy servant, O Lord, according to thy word.
Teth benefecisti servo tuo Domine secundum verbum tuum

118:66. Teach me goodness and discipline and knowledge; for I have believed thy commandments.
Bonum sermonem et scientiam doce me quia mandatis tuis credidi

118:67. Before I was humbled I offended; therefore have I kept thy word.
Antequam audirem ego ignoravi nunc autem eloquium tuum custodivi

118:68. Thou art good; and in thy goodness teach me thy justifications.
Bonus tu et beneficus doce me praecepta tua

118:69. The iniquity of the proud hath been multiplied over me: but I will seek thy commandments with my whole heart.
Adplicabant mihi mendacium superbi ego autem in toto corde servabam praecepta tua

118:70. Their heart is curdled like milk: but I have meditated on thy law.
Incrassatum est velut adeps cor eorum et ego in lege tua delectabar

118:71. It is good for me that thou hast humbled me, that I may learn thy justifications.
Bonum mihi quia adflictus sum ut discerem praecepta tua

118:72. The law of thy mouth is good to me, above thousands of gold and silver.
Melior mihi est lex oris tui super milia auri et argenti

JOD

118:73. Thy hands have made me and formed me: give me understanding, and I will learn thy commandments.
Ioth manus tuae fecerunt me et firmaverunt me doce me et discam mandata tua

118:74. They that fear thee shall see me, and shall be glad: because I have greatly hoped in thy words.
Qui timent te videbunt me et laetabuntur quia sermonem tuum expectavi

118:75. I know, O Lord, that thy judgments are equity: and in thy truth thou hast humbled me.
Scio Domine quia iustum iudicium tuum et vere adflixisti me

118:76. O! let thy mercy be for my comfort, according to thy word unto thy servant.
Sit obsecro misericordia tua in consolatione mea sicut locutus es servo tuo

118:77. Let thy tender mercies come unto me, and I shall live: for thy law is my meditation.
Veniant mihi misericordiae tuae et vivam quia lex tua delectatio mea

118:78. Let the proud be ashamed, because they have done unjustly towards me: but I will be employed in thy commandments.
Confundantur superbi quoniam inique contriverunt me ego autem loquar in praeceptis tuis

118:79. Let them that fear thee turn to me: and they that know thy testimonies.
Revertantur ad me qui timent te et qui sciunt testimonium tuum

118:80. Let my heart be undefiled in thy justifications, that I may not be confounded.
Fiat cor meum perfectum in praeceptis tuis ut non confundar

CAPH

118:81. My soul hath fainted after thy salvation: and in thy word I have very much hoped.
Caph defecit in salutare tuum anima mea verbum tuum expectavi

118:82. My eyes have failed for thy word, saying: When wilt thou comfort me?
Consumpti sunt oculi mei in verbum tuum dicentes quando consolaberis me

118:83. For I am become like a bottle in the frost: I have not forgotten thy justifications.
Et cum essem quasi uter in pruina praecepta tua non sum oblitus

118:84. How many are the days of thy servant: when wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me?
Quot sunt dies servi tui quando facies in persequentibus me iudicium

118:85. The wicked have told me fables: but not as thy law.
Foderunt mihi superbi foveas quae non erant iuxta legem tuam

118:86. All thy statutes are truth: they have persecuted me unjustly, do thou help me.
Omnia mandata tua vera falso persecuti sunt me auxiliare mihi

118:87. They had almost made an end of me upon earth: but I have not forsaken thy commandments.
Paulo minus consumpserunt me in terra ego autem non dimisi praecepta tua

118:88. Quicken thou me according to thy mercy: and I shall keep the testimonies of thy mouth.
Secundum misericordiam tuam vivifica me et custodiam testimonium oris tui

LAMED

118:89. For ever, O Lord, thy word standeth firm in heaven.

Lameth in aeternum Domine verbum tuum perstat in caelo

118:90. Thy truth unto all generations: thou hast founded the earth, and it continueth.

In generatione et generatione fides tua fundasti terram et stat

118:91. By thy ordinance the day goeth on: for all things serve thee.

Iudicio tuo stant usque hodie quia omnia serviunt tibi

118:92. Unless thy law had been my meditation, I had then perhaps perished in my abjection.

Nisi quod lex tua delectatio mea forte perissem in pressura mea

118:93. Thy justifications I will never forget: for by them thou hast given me life.

In sempiternum non obliviscar praeceptorum tuorum quia per ipsa vivificasti me

118:94. I am thine, save thou me: for I have sought thy justifications.

Tuus ego sum salva me quoniam praecepta tua quaesivi

118:95. The wicked have waited for me to destroy me: but I have understood thy testimonies.

Me expectaverunt impii ut perderent me testimonium tuum considerabo

118:96. I have seen an end of all perfection: thy commandment is exceeding broad.

Omni consummationi vidi finem latum mandatum tuum nimis

MEM

118:97. O how have I loved thy law, O Lord! it is my meditation all the day.

Mem quam dilexi legem tuam tota die haec meditatio mea

118:98. Through thy commandment, thou hast made me wiser than my enemies: for it is ever with me.

Super inimicos meos instruis me mandata tua quia in sempiternum hoc est mihi

118:99. I have understood more than all my teachers: because thy testimonies are my meditation.

Super omnes qui docebant me eruditus sum quia testimonia tua meditatio mea

118:100. I have had understanding above ancients: because I have sought thy commandments.

Super senes intellexi quia praecepta tua servavi

118:101. I have restrained my feet from every evil way: that I may keep thy words.

Ab omni semita mala prohibui pedes meos ut custodirem verba tua

118:102. I have not declined from thy judgments, because thou hast set me a law.

A iudiciis tuis non recessi quia tu inluminasti me

118:103. How sweet are thy words to my palate! more than honey to my mouth.

Quam dulce gutturi meo eloquium tuum super mel ori meo

118:104. By thy commandments I have had understanding: therefore have I hated every way of iniquity.

Praecepta tua considerabam propterea odivi omnem semitam mendacii

NUN

118:105. Thy word is a lamp to my feet, and a light to my paths.

Nun lucerna pedi meo verbum tuum et lux semitae meae

118:106. I have sworn and am determined to keep the judgments of thy justice.

Iuravi et perseverabo ut custodiam iudicia iustitiae tuae

118:107. I have been humbled, O Lord, exceedingly: quicken thou me according to thy word.

Adflictus sum usque nimis Domine vivifica me iuxta verbum tuum

118:108. The free offerings of my mouth make acceptable, O Lord: and teach me thy judgments.
Voluntaria oris mei conplaceant tibi Domine et secundum iudicia tua doce me

118:109. My soul is continually in my hands: and I have not forgotten thy law.
Anima mea in manu mea semper et legis tuae non sum oblitus

118:110. Sinners have laid a snare for me: but I have not erred from thy precepts.
Posuerunt impii laqueum mihi et a praeceptis tuis non aberravi

118:111. I have purchased thy testimonies for an inheritance for ever: because they are the joy of my heart.
Hereditas mea testimonia tua in sempiternum quia gaudium cordis mei sunt

118:112. I have inclined my heart to do thy justifications for ever, for the reward.
Inclinavi cor meum ut facerem iustitias tuas propter aeternam retributionem

SAMECH

118:113. I have hated the unjust: and have loved thy law.
Samech tumultuosos odivi et legem tuam dilexi

118:114. Thou art my helper and my protector: and in thy word I have greatly hoped.
Protectio mea et scutum meum tu es verbum tuum expectavi

118:115. Depart from me, ye malignant: and I will search the commandments of my God.
Recedite a me maligni et custodiam mandata Dei mei

118:116. Uphold me according to thy word, and I shall live: and let me not be confounded in my expectation.
Confirma me secundum verbum tuum et vivam et noli me confundere ab expectatione mea

118:117. Help me, and I shall be saved: and I will meditate always on thy justifications.
Auxiliare mihi et salvus ero et delectabor in praeceptis tuis iugiter

118:118. Thou hast despised all them that fall off from thy judgments; for their thought is unjust.
Abiecisti omnes qui adversantur praecepta tua quia mendax cogitatio eorum

118:119. I have accounted all the sinners of the earth prevaricators: therefore have I loved thy testimonies.
Quasi scoriam computasti omnes impios terrae propterea dilexi testimonia tua

118:120. Pierce thou my flesh with thy fear: for I am afraid of thy judgments.
Horripilavit a timore tuo caro mea et iudicia tua timui

AIN

118:121. I have done judgment and justice: give me not up to them that slander me.
Ain feci iudicium et iustitiam ne derelinquas me his qui calumniantur me

118:122. Uphold thy servant unto good: let not the proud calumniate me.
Sponde pro servo tuo in bonum ne calumnientur me superbi

118:123. My eyes have fainted after thy salvation: and for the word of thy justice.
Oculi mei defecerunt in salutare tuum et in eloquium iustitiae tuae

118:124. Deal with thy servant according to thy mercy: and teach me thy justifications.
Fac cum servo tuo iuxta misericordiam tuam et praecepta tua doce me

118:125. I am thy servant: give me understanding that I may know thy testimonies.
Servus tuus ego instrue me et cognoscam testimonia tua

118:126. It is time, O Lord, to do: they have dissipated thy law.

Tempus est ut facias Domine praevaricati sunt legem tuam

118:127. Therefore have I loved thy commandments above gold and the topaz.
Propterea dilexi mandata tua super aurum et topazium

118:128. Therefore was I directed to all thy commandments: I have hated all wicked ways.
Propterea in universa praecepta direxi omnem semitam mendacii odio habui

PHE

118:129. Thy testimonies are wonderful: therefore my soul hath sought them.
Fe mirabilia testimonia tua idcirco custodivit ea anima mea

118:130. The declaration of thy words giveth light: and giveth understanding to little ones.
Ostium sermonum tuorum lucidum doce parvulos

118:131. I opened my mouth, and panted: because I longed for thy commandments.
Os meum aperui et respiravi quia mandata tua desiderabam

118:132. Look thou upon me, and have mercy on me according to the judgment of them that love thy name.
Respice ad me et miserere mei iuxta iudicium diligentium nomen tuum

118:133. Direct my steps according to thy word: and let no iniquity have dominion over me.
Gressus meos firma in sermone tuo et non des potestatem in me universae iniquitati

118:134. Redeem me from the calumnies of men: that I may keep thy commandments.
Redime me a calumnia hominis et custodiam praecepta tua

118:135. Make thy face to shine upon thy servant: and teach me thy justifications.
Vultum tuum ostende servo tuo et doce me praecepta tua

118:136. My eyes have sent forth springs of water: because they have not kept thy law.
Rivi aquarum fluebant de oculis meis quia non custodierunt legem tuam

SADE

118:137. Thou art just, O Lord: and thy judgment is right.
Sade iustus es Domine et rectum iudicium tuum

118:138. Thou hast commanded justice thy testimonies: and thy truth exceedingly.
Praecepisti iustitiam testimonii tui et veritatem nimis

118:139. My zeal hath made me pine away: because my enemies forgot thy words.
Consumpsit me zelus meus quia obliti sunt verborum tuorum hostes mei

118:140. Thy word is exceedingly refined: and thy servant hath loved it.
Probatus sermo tuus nimis et servus tuus dilexit illum

118:141. I am very young and despised; but I forget not thy justifications.
Parvulus ego sum et contemptibilis sed praecepta tua non sum oblitus

118:142. Thy justice is justice for ever: and thy law is the truth.
Iustitia tua iustitia sempiterna et lex tua veritas

118:143. Trouble and anguish have found me: thy commandments are my meditation.
Tribulatio et angustia invenerunt me mandata tua voluntas mea

118:144. Thy testimonies are justice for ever: give me understanding, and I shall live.
Iusta testimonia tua semper doce me et vivam

COPH

118:145. I cried with my whole heart, hear me, O Lord: I will seek thy justifications.
Coph clamavi in toto corde exaudi me Domine praecepta tua custodiam

118:146. I cried unto thee, save me: that I may keep thy commandments.
Invocavi te salvum me fac et custodiam testimonia tua

118:147. I prevented the dawning of the day, and cried: because in thy words I very much hoped.
Surgebam adhuc in tenebris et clamabam verbum tuum expectans

118:148. My eyes to thee have prevented the morning: that I might meditate on thy words.
Praeveniebant oculi mei vigilias ut meditarer in sermonibus tuis

118:149. Hear thou my voice, O Lord, according to thy mercy: and quicken me according to thy judgment.

Vocem meam audi iuxta misericordiam tuam Domine secundum iudicium tuum vivifica me

118:150. They that persecute me have drawn nigh to iniquity; but they are gone far off from thy law.
Adpropinquaverunt persecutores mei sceleri et a lege tua procul facti sunt

118:151. Thou art near, O Lord: and all thy ways are truth.
Prope es tu Domine et omnia mandata tua veritas

118:152. I have known from the beginning concerning thy testimonies: that thou hast founded them for ever.

A principio novi de testimoniis tuis quod in aeternum fundaveris ea

RES

118:153. See my humiliation and deliver me for I have not forgotten thy law.
Res vide adflitionem meam et eripe me quia legis tuae non sum oblitus

118:154. Judge my judgment and redeem me: quicken thou me for thy word's sake.
Iudica causam meam et redime me sermone tuo vivifica me

118:155. Salvation is far from sinners; because they have not sought thy justifications.
Longe ab impiis salus quia praecepta tua non quaesierunt

118:156. Many, O Lord, are thy mercies: quicken me according to thy judgment.
Misericordiae tuae multae Domine iuxta iudicia tua vivifica me

118:157. Many are they that persecute me and afflict me; but I have not declined from thy testimonies.
Multi qui persequuntur me et adfligunt me a testimoniis tuis non declinavi

118:158. I beheld the transgressors, and pined away; because they kept not thy word.
Vidi praevaricatores tuos et maerebam qui verbum tuum non custodierunt

118:159. Behold I have loved thy commandments, O Lord; quicken me thou in thy mercy.
Vide quoniam praecepta tua dilexi Domine iuxta misericordiam tuam vivifica me

118:160. The beginning of thy words is truth: all the judgments of thy justice are for ever.
Caput verborum tuorum veritas et sempiternum omne iudicium iustitiae tuae

SIN

118:161. Princes have persecuted me without cause: and my heart hath been in awe of thy words.
Sen principes persecuti sunt me sine causa verba autem tua timuit cor meum

118:162. I will rejoice at thy words, as one that hath found great spoil.
Gaudens ego sum in eloquio tuo sicut qui invenit spolia multa

118:163. I have hated and abhorred iniquity; but I have loved thy law.
Mendacium odio habui et detestatus sum legem autem tuam dilexi

118:164. Seven times a day I have given praise to thee, for the judgments of thy justice.
Septies in die laudavi te super iudiciis iustitiae tuae

118:165. Much peace have they that love thy law, and to them there is no stumbling block.
Pax multa diligentibus legem tuam et non est illis scandalum

118:166. I looked for thy salvation, O Lord: and I loved thy commandments.
Expectavi salutare tuum Domine et mandata tua feci

118:167. My soul hath kept thy testimonies and hath loved them exceedingly.
Custodivit anima mea testimonia tua et dilexi ea nimis

118:168. I have kept thy commandments and thy testimonies: because all my ways are in thy sight.
Custodivi praecepta tua et testimonia tua quia omnes viae meae in conspectu tuo

TAU

118:169. Let my supplication, O Lord, come near in thy sight: give me understanding according to thy word.
Thau ingrediatur laus mea coram te Domine secundum verbum tuum doce me

118:170. Let my request come in before thee; deliver thou me according to thy word.
Veniat deprecatio mea ante vultum tuum secundum eloquium tuum libera me

118:171. My lips shall utter a hymn, when thou shalt teach me thy justifications.
Fundant labia mea hymnum docebis enim me praecepta tua

118:172. My tongue shall pronounce thy word: because all thy commandments are justice.
Loquetur lingua mea sermonem tuum quia omnia mandata tua iusta

118:173. Let thy hand be with me to save me; for I have chosen thy precepts.
Sit manus tua auxiliatrix mea quia praecepta tua elegi

118:174. I have longed for thy salvation, O Lord; and thy law is my meditation.
Desideravi salutare tuum Domine et lex tua voluntas mea

118:175. My soul shall live and shall praise thee: and thy judgments shall help me.
Vivet anima mea et laudabit te et iudicia tua auxiliabuntur mihi

118:176. I have gone astray like a sheep that is lost: seek thy servant, because I have not forgotten thy commandments.
Erravi quasi ovis perdita quaere servum tuum quia mandatorum tuorum non sum oblitus

Psalm 119

Ad Dominum. A prayer in tribulation.

A gradual canticle.*

119:1. In my trouble I cried to the Lord: and he heard me.

Canticum graduum ad Dominum in tribulatione mea clamavi et exaudivit me

119:2. O Lord, deliver my soul from wicked lips, and a deceitful tongue.

Domine libera animam meam a labio mendacii a lingua dolosa

119:3. What shall be given to thee, or what shall be added to thee, to a deceitful tongue?

Quid detur tibi aut quid adponatur tibi ad linguam dolosam

119:4. The sharp arrows of the mighty, with coals that lay waste.

Sagittae potentis acutae cum carbonibus iuniperorum

119:5. Woe is me, that my sojourning is prolonged! I have dwelt with the inhabitants of Cedar:

Heu mihi quia peregrinatio mea prolongata est habitavi cum tabernaculis Cedar

119:6. My soul hath been long a sojourner.

Multum peregrinata est anima mea

119:7. With them that hated peace I was peaceable: when I spoke to them they fought against me without cause.

Cum odientibus pacem ego pacifica loquebar et illi bellantia

SUBTITLE. A gradual canticle... The following psalms, in number fifteen, are called gradual psalms, or canticles, from the word gradus, signifying steps, ascensions, or degrees: either because they were appointed to be sung on the fifteen steps, by which the people ascended to the temple: or, that in the singing of them the voice was to be raised by certain steps or ascensions: or, that they were to be sung by the people returning from their captivity and ascending to Jerusalem, which was seated amongst mountains. The holy fathers, in a mystical sense, understand these steps, or ascensions, of the degrees by which Christians spiritually ascend to virtue and perfection; and to the true temple of God in the heavenly Jerusalem.

Psalm 120

Levavi oculos. God is the keeper of his servants.

---

A gradual canticle.

120:1. I have lifted up my eyes to the mountains, from whence help shall come to me.
Canticum graduum levavi oculos meos in montes unde veniet auxilium meum

120:2. My help is from the Lord, who made heaven and earth.
Auxilium meum a Domino factore caeli et terrae

120:3. May he not suffer thy foot to be moved: neither let him slumber that keepeth thee.
Non det in commotionem pedem tuum nec dormitet qui custodit te

120:4. Behold he shall neither slumber nor sleep, that keepeth Israel.
Ecce non dormitabit neque dormiet qui custodiet Israhel

120:5. The Lord is thy keeper, the Lord is thy protection upon thy right hand.
Dominus custodiet te Dominus protectio tua super manum dexteram tuam

120:6. The sun shall not burn thee by day: nor the moon by night.
Per diem sol non percutiet te neque luna per noctem

120:7. The Lord keepeth thee from all evil: may the Lord keep thy soul.
Dominus custodiet te ab omni malo custodiat animam tuam

120:8. May the Lord keep thy coming in and thy going out; from henceforth now and for ever.
Dominus custodiat exitum tuum et introitum tuum amodo et usque in aeternum

Psalm 121

Laetatus sum in his. The desire and hope of the just for the coming of the kingdom of God, and the peace of his church.

---

A gradual canticle.

121:1. I rejoiced at the things that were said to me: We shall go into the house of the Lord.
Canticum graduum David laetatus sum eo quod dixerint mihi in domum Domini ibimus

121:2. Our feet were standing in thy courts, O Jerusalem.
Stantes erant pedes nostri in portis tuis Hierusalem

121:3. Jerusalem, which is built as a city, which is compact together.
Hierusalem quae aedificaris ut civitas cuius participatio eius simul

121:4. For thither did the tribes go up, the tribes of the Lord: the testimony of Israel, to praise the name of the Lord.
Quia ibi ascenderunt tribus tribus Domini testimonium Israhel ad confitendum nomini Domini

121:5. Because their seats have sat in judgment, seats upon the house of David.
Quia ibi sederunt sedes in iudicio sedes domui David

121:6. Pray ye for the things that are for the peace of Jerusalem: and abundance for them that love thee.
Rogate pacem Hierusalem sit bene his qui diligunt te

121:7. Let peace be in thy strength: and abundance in thy towers.
Sit pax in muris tuis abundantia in domibus tuis

121:8. For the sake of my brethren, and of my neighbours, I spoke peace of thee.
Propter fratres meos et amicos meos loquar pacem tibi

121:9. Because of the house of the Lord our God, I have sought good things for thee.
Propter domum Domini Dei nostri quaeram bona tibi

Psalm 122

Ad te levavi. A prayer in affliction, with confidence in God.

A gradual canticle.

122:1. To thee have I lifted up my eyes, who dwellest in heaven.

Canticum graduum ad te levavi oculos meos qui habitas in caelis

122:2. Behold as the eyes of servants are on the hands of their masters, As the eyes of the handmaid are on the hands of her mistress: so are our eyes unto the Lord our God, until he have mercy on us.

Ecce sicut oculi servorum ad manum dominorum suorum sicut oculi ancillae ad manum dominae suae sic oculi nostri ad Dominum Deum nostrum donec misereatur nostri

122:3. Have mercy on us, O Lord, have mercy on us: for we are greatly filled with contempt.

Miserere nostri Domine miserere nostri quoniam multum repleti sumus despectione

122:4. For our soul is greatly filled: we are a reproach to the rich, and contempt to the proud.

Multum repleta est anima nostra obprobrii abundantium et despectionis superborum

Psalm 123

Nisi quia Domini.* The church giveth glory to God for her deliverance, from the hands of her enemies.

---

A gradual canticle.

123:1. If it had not been that the Lord was with us, let Israel now say:
Canticum graduum David nisi Dominus fuisset in nobis dicat nunc Israhel

123:2. If it had not been that the Lord was with us, When men rose up against us,
Nisi Dominus fuisset in nobis cum exurgerent super nos homines

123:3. Perhaps they had swallowed us up alive. When their fury was enkindled against us,
Forsitan vivos absorbuissent nos cum irasceretur furor eorum super nos

123:4. Perhaps the waters had swallowed us up.
Forsitan aquae circumdedissent nos

123:5. Our soul hath passed through a torrent: perhaps our soul had passed through a water insupportable.
Torrens transisset super animam nostram forsitan transissent super animam nostram aquae superbae

123:6. Blessed be the Lord, who hath not given us to be a prey to their teeth.
Benedictus Dominus qui non dedit nos in praedam dentibus eorum

123:7. Our soul hath been delivered as a sparrow out of the snare of the fowlers. The snare is broken, and we are delivered.
Anima nostra quasi avis erepta est de laqueo venantium laqueus contritus est et nos liberati sumus

123:8. Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made heaven and earth.
Auxilium nostrum in nomine Domini qui fecit caelum et terram

Psalm 124

Qui confidunt. The just are always under God's protection.

---

A gradual canticle.

124:1. They that trust in the Lord shall be as mount Sion: he shall not be moved for ever that dwelleth
Canticum graduum qui confidunt in Domino quasi mons Sion immobilis in aeternum habitabilis

124:2. In Jerusalem. Mountains are round about it: so the Lord is round about his people from henceforth now and for ever.

Hierusalem montes in circuitu eius et Dominus in circuitu populi sui amodo et usque in aeternum

124:3. For the Lord will not leave the rod of sinners upon the lot of the just: that the just may not stretch forth their hands to iniquity.

Quia non requiescet virga impietatis super sortem iustorum ut non mittant iusti in iniquitatem manus suas

124:4. Do good, O Lord, to those that are good, and to the upright of heart.

Benefac Domine bonis et rectis corde

124:5. But such as turn aside into bonds, the Lord shall lead out with the workers of iniquity: peace upon Israel.

Qui autem declinant ad pravitates suas deducet eos Dominus cum his qui operantur iniquitatem pax super Israhel

Psalm 125

In convertendo.* The people of God rejoice at their delivery from captivity.

---

A gradual canticle.

125:1. When the Lord brought back the captivity of Sion, we became like men comforted.
Canticum graduum cum converteret Dominus captivitatem Sion facti sumus quasi somniantes

125:2. Then was our mouth filled with gladness; and our tongue with joy. Then shall they say among the Gentiles: The Lord hath done great things for them.
Tunc implebitur risu os nostrum et lingua nostra laude tunc dicent in gentibus magnificavit Dominus facere cum istis

125:3. The Lord hath done great things for us: we are become joyful.
Magnificavit Dominus facere nobiscum facti sumus laetantes

125:4. Turn again our captivity, O Lord, as a stream in the south.
Converte Domine captivitatem nostram sicut rivum in austro

125:5. They that sow in tears shall reap in joy.
Qui seminant in lacrimis in exultatione metent

125:6. Going they went and wept, casting their seeds.
Qui ambulans ibat et flebat portans ad seminandum sementem

125:7. But coming they shall come with joyfulness, carrying their sheaves.
Veniens veniet in exultatione portans manipulos suos

Psalm 126

Nisi Dominus.* Nothing can be done without God's grace and blessing.

---

A gradual canticle of Solomon.

126:1. Unless the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it. Unless the Lord keep the city, he watcheth in vain that keepeth it.

Canticum graduum Salomonis nisi Dominus aedificaverit domum in vanum laboraverunt qui aedificant eam nisi Dominus custodierit civitatem frustra vigilat qui custodit eam

126:2. It is vain for you to rise before light, rise ye after you have sitten, you that eat the bread of sorrow. When he shall give sleep to his beloved,*

Frustra vobis est de mane consurgere postquam sederitis qui manducatis panem idolorum sic dabit diligentibus se somnum

It is vain for you to rise before light... That is, your early rising, your labour and worldly solicitude, will be vain, that is, will avail you nothing, without the light, grace, and blessing of God.

126:3. Behold the inheritance of the Lord are children: the reward, the fruit of the womb.

Ecce hereditas Domini filii mercis fructus ventris

126:4. As arrows in the hand of the mighty, so the children of them that have been shaken.

Sicut sagittae in manu potentis ita filii iuventutis

126:5. Blessed is the man that hath filled the desire with them; he shall not be confounded when he shall speak to his enemies in the gate.

Beatus vir qui implevit faretram suam ex ipsis non confundentur cum loquentur inimicis in porta

Psalm 127

Beati omnes. The fear of God is the way to happiness.

---

A gradual canticle.

127:1. Blessed are all they that fear the Lord: that walk in his ways.

Canticum graduum beatus omnis qui timet Dominum qui ambulat in viis eius

127:2. For thou shalt eat the labours of thy hands: blessed art thou, and it shall be well with thee.

Laborem manuum tuarum cum comederis beatus tu et bene tibi erit

127:3. Thy wife as a fruitful vine, on the sides of thy house. Thy children as olive plants, round about thy table.

Uxor tua sicut vitis fructifera in penetrabilibus domus tuae filii tui sicut germina olivarum in circuitu mensae tuae

127:4. Behold, thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord.

Ecce sic benedicetur viro qui timet Dominum

127:5. May the Lord bless thee out of Sion: and mayst thou see the good things of Jerusalem all the days of thy life.

Benedicat tibi Dominus ex Sion et videas bona Hierusalem omnibus diebus vitae tuae

127:6. And mayst thou see thy children's children, peace upon Israel.

Et videas filios filiorum tuorum pacem super Israhel

Psalm 128

Saepe expugnaverunt. The church of God is invincible: her persecutors come to nothing.

---

A gradual canticle.

128:1. Often have they fought against me from my youth, let Israel now say.

Canticum graduum saepe expugnaverunt me ab adulescentia mea dicat nunc Israhel

128:2. Often have they fought against me from my youth: but they could not prevail over me.

Saepe expugnaverunt me ab adulescentia mea sed non potuerunt mihi

128:3. The wicked have wrought upon my back: they have lengthened their iniquity.

Super cervicem meam arabant arantes prolongaverunt sulcum suum

128:4. The Lord who is just will cut the necks of sinners:

Dominus iustus concidet laqueos impiorum

128:5. Let them all be confounded and turned back that hate Sion.

Confundantur et revertantur retrorsum omnes qui oderunt Sion

128:6. Let them be as grass upon the tops of houses: which withereth before it be plucked up:

Fiant sicut faenum tectorum quod statim ut viruerit arescet

128:7. Who with the mower filleth not his hand: nor he that gathereth sheaves his bosom.

De quo non implebit manum suam messor et sinum suum manipulos faciens

128:8. And they that passed by have not said: The blessing of the Lord be upon you: we have blessed you in the name of the Lord.

De quo non dixerunt transeuntes benedictio Domini super vos benediximus vobis in nomine Domini

Psalm 129

De profundis.* A prayer of a sinner, trusting in the mercies of God.
The sixth penitential psalm.

---

A gradual canticle.

129:1. Out of the depths I have cried to thee, O Lord:

Canticum graduum de profundis clamavi ad te Domine

129:2. Lord, hear my voice. Let thy ears be attentive to the voice of my supplication.

Domine exaudi vocem meam fiant aures tuae intendentes ad vocem deprecationis meae

129:3. If thou, O Lord, wilt mark iniquities: Lord, who shall stand it.

Si iniquitates observabis Domine Domine quis sustinebit

129:4. For with thee there is merciful forgiveness: and by reason of thy law, I have waited for thee, O Lord. My soul hath relied on his word:

Quia tecum est propitiatio cum terribilis sis sustinui Dominum sustinuit anima mea et verbum eius expectavi

129:5. My soul hath hoped in the Lord.

Anima mea ad Dominum

129:6. From the morning watch even until night, let Israel hope in the Lord.

A vigilia matutina usque ad vigiliam matutinam expectet Israhel Dominum

129:7. Because with the Lord there is mercy: and with him plentiful redemption.

Quia apud Dominum misericordia et multa apud eum redemptio

129:8. And he shall redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

Et ipse redimet Israhel ex omnibus iniquitatibus eius

Psalm 130

Domine, none est. The prophet's humility.

---

A gradual canticle of David.

130:1. Lord, my heart is not exalted: nor are my eyes lofty. Neither have I walked in great matters, nor in wonderful things above me.

Canticum graduum Domine non est exaltatum cor meum neque elati sunt oculi mei et non ambulavi in magnis et in mirabilibus super me

130:2. If I was not humbly minded, but exalted my soul: As a child that is weaned is towards his mother, so reward in my soul.

Si non proposui et silere feci animam meam sicut ablactatus ad matrem suam ita ablactata ad me anima mea

130:3. Let Israel hope in the Lord, from henceforth now and for ever.

Expecta Israhel Dominum amodo et usque in aeternum

Psalm 131

Memento, Domine. A prayer for the fulfilling of the promise made to David.

---

A gradual canticle.

131:1. O Lord, remember David, and all his meekness.

Canticum graduum memento Domine David et omnis afflictionis eius

131:2. How he swore to the Lord, he vowed a vow to the God of Jacob:

Qui iuravit Domino votum vovit Deo Iacob

131:3. If I shall enter into the tabernacle of my house: if I shall go up into the bed wherein I lie:

Si intravero in tabernaculum domus meae si adsedero super lectum straminis mei

131:4. If I shall give sleep to my eyes, or slumber to my eyelids,

Si dedero somnum oculis meis et palpebris dormitationem

131:5. Or rest to my temples: until I find out a place for the Lord, a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.

Donec inveniam locum Domino tabernacula Deo Iacob

131:6. Behold we have heard of it in Ephrata: we have found it in the fields of the wood. *

Ecce audivimus illum in Ephrata invenimus illum in regione saltus

We have heard of it in Ephrata... When I was young, and lived in Bethlehem, otherwise called Ephrata, I heard of God's tabernacle and ark, and had a devout desire of seeking it; and accordingly I found it at Cariathiarim, the city of the woods: where it was till it was removed to Jerusalem. See 1 Par. 13.

131:7. We will go into his tabernacle: we will adore in the place where his feet stood.

Intremus in tabernacula eius adoremus scabillum pedum eius

131:8. Arise, O Lord, into thy resting place: thou and the ark, which thou hast sanctified.

Surge Domine in requiem tuam tu et arca fortitudinis tuae

131:9. Let thy priests be clothed with justice: and let thy saints rejoice.

Sacerdotes tui induantur iustitia et sancti tui laudent

131:10. For thy servant David's sake, turn not away the face of thy anointed.

Propter David servum tuum ne avertas faciem christi tui

131:11. The Lord hath sworn truth to David, and he will not make it void: of the fruit of thy womb I will set upon thy throne.

Iuravit Dominus David veritatem non avertetur ab ea de fructu ventris tui ponam super sedem tuam

131:12. If thy children will keep my covenant, and these my testimonies which I shall teach them: Their children also for evermore shall sit upon thy throne.

Si custodierint filii tui pactum meum et testificationem meam quam docuero eos et filii eorum usque in aeternum sedebunt super thronum tuum

131:13. For the Lord hath chosen Sion: he hath chosen it for his dwelling.

Quia elegit Dominus Sion desideravit eam in habitaculum suum

131:14. This is my rest for ever and ever: here will I dwell, for I have chosen it.

Haec est requies mea in sempiternum hic habitabo quia desideravi eam

131:15. Blessing I will bless her widow: I will satisfy her poor with bread.

Venationem eius benedicens benedicam pauperes eius saturabo pane

131:16. I will clothe her priests with salvation, and her saints shall rejoice with exceeding great joy.
Sacerdotes eius induam salutari et sancti eius laude laudabunt

131:17. There will I bring forth a horn to David: I have prepared a lamp for my anointed.
Ibi oriri faciam cornu David paravi lucernam christo meo

131:18. His enemies I will clothe with confusion: but upon him shall my sanctification flourish.
Inimicos eius induam confusione super ipsum autem florebit sanctificatio eius

Psalm 132

Ecce quam bonum. The happiness of brotherly love and concord.

A gradual canticle of David.

132:1. Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity:
Canticum graduum David ecce quam bonum et quam decorum habitare fratres in uno

132:2. Like the precious ointment on the head, that ran down upon the beard, the beard of Aaron, Which ran down to the skirt of his garment:

Sicut unguentum optimum in capite quod descendit in barbam barbam Aaron quod descendit super oram vestimentorum eius

132:3. As the dew of Hermon, which descendeth upon mount Sion. For there the Lord hath commanded blessing, and life for evermore.

Sicut ros Hermon qui descendit super montana Sion quoniam ibi mandavit Dominus benedictionem vitam usque in aeternum

Psalm 133

Ecce nunc benedicite. An exhortation to praise God continually.

---

A gradual canticle.

133:1. Behold now bless ye the Lord, all ye servants of the Lord: Who stand in the house of the Lord, in the courts of the house of our God.

Canticum graduum ecce benedicite Domino omnes servi Domini qui statis in domo Domini

133:2. In the nights lift up your hands to the holy places, and bless ye the Lord.

In noctibus levate manus vestras ad sanctum et benedicite Domino

133:3. May the Lord out of Sion bless thee, he that made heaven and earth.

Benedicat tibi Dominus ex Sion factor caeli et terrae

Psalm 134

Laudate nomen. An exhortation to praise God: the vanity of idols.

134:1. Alleluia. Praise ye the name of the Lord: O you his servants, praise the Lord:
Alleluia laudate nomen Domini laudate servi Dominum

134:2. You that stand in the house of the Lord, in the courts of the house of our God.
Qui statis in domo Domini in atriis domus Dei nostri

134:3. Praise ye the Lord, for the Lord is good: sing ye to his name, for it is sweet.
Laudate Dominum quoniam bonus Dominus cantate nomini eius quoniam decens

134:4. For the Lord hath chosen Jacob unto himself: Israel for his own possession.
Quia Iacob elegit sibi Dominus Israhel in peculium suum

134:5. For I have known that the Lord is great, and our God is above all gods.
Quia ego scio quod magnus Dominus et Dominus noster prae omnibus diis

134:6. Whatsoever the Lord pleased he hath done, in heaven, in earth, in the sea, and in all the deeps.
Omnia quae voluit Dominus fecit in caelo et in terra in mari et in cunctis abyssis

134:7. He bringeth up clouds from the end of the earth: he hath made lightnings for the rain. He bringeth forth winds out of his stores:
Levans nubes de summitatibus terrae fulgura in pluviam fecit educens ventos de thesauris suis

134:8. He slew the firstborn of Egypt from man even unto beast.
Qui percussit primitiva Aegypti ab homine usque ad pecus

134:9. He sent forth signs and wonders in the midst of thee, O Egypt: upon Pharao, and upon all his servants.
Misit signa et portenta in medio tui Aegypte in Pharao et in cunctos servos eius

134:10. He smote many nations, and slew mighty kings:
Qui percussit gentes multas et occidit reges fortes

134:11. Sehon king of the Amorrhites, and Og king of Basan, and all the kingdoms of Chanaan.
Seon regem Amorreorum et Og regem Basan et omnia regna Chanaan

134:12. And gave their land for an inheritance, for an inheritance to his people Israel.
Et dedit terram eorum hereditatem hereditatem Israhel populo suo

134:13. Thy name, O Lord, is for ever: thy memorial, O Lord, unto all generations.
Domine nomen tuum in aeternum Domine memoriale tuum in generatione et generatione

134:14. For the Lord will judge his people, and will be entreated in favour of his servants.
Quia iudicabit Dominus populum suum et in servos suos erit placabilis

134:15. The idols of the Gentiles are silver and gold, the works of men's hands.
Idola gentium argentum et aurum opera manuum hominum

134:16. They have a mouth, but they speak not: they have eyes, but they see not.
Os habent et non loquentur oculos habent et non videbunt

134:17. They have ears, but they hear not: neither is there any breath in their mouths.
Aures habent et non audient sed nec spiritus in ore eorum

134:18. Let them that make them be like to them: and every one that trusteth in them.
Similes illis fiant qui faciunt ea omnis qui confidit in eis

134:19. Bless the Lord, O house of Israel: bless the Lord, O house of Aaron.
Domus Israhel benedicite Domino domus Aaron benedicite Domino

134:20. Bless the Lord, O house of Levi: you that fear the Lord, bless the Lord.
Domus Levi benedicite Domino timentes Dominum benedicite Domino

134:21. Blessed be the Lord out of Sion, who dwelleth in Jerusalem.
Benedictus Dominus ex Sion qui habitat in Hierusalem alleluia

Psalm 135

Confitemini Domino. God is to be praised for his wonderful works.

135:1. Alleluia. Praise the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever. *

Confitemini Domino quoniam bonus quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

Praise the Lord... By this invitation to praise the Lord, thrice repeated, we profess the Blessed Trinity, One God in three distinct Persons, the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Ghost.

135:2. Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Confitemini Deo deorum quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:3. Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Confitemini Domino dominorum quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:4. Who alone doth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Qui facit mirabilia magna solus quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:5. Who made the heavens in understanding: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Qui fecit caelos in sapientia quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:6. Who established the earth above the waters: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Qui firmavit terram super aquas quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:7. Who made the great lights: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Qui fecit luminaria magna quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:8. The sun to rule the day: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Solem in potestatem diei quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:9. The moon and the stars to rule the night: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Lunam et stellas in potestatem noctis quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:10. Who smote Egypt with their firstborn: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Qui percussit Aegyptum cum primitivis suis quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:11. Who brought out Israel from among them: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Et eduxit Israhel de medio eorum quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:12. With a mighty hand and with a stretched out arm: for his mercy endureth for ever.

In manu valida et in brachio extento quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:13. Who divided the Red Sea into parts: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Qui divisit mare Rubrum in divisiones quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:14. And brought out Israel through the midst thereof: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Et eduxit Israhel in medio eius quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:15. And overthrew Pharao and his host in the Red Sea: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Et convolvit Pharao et exercitum eius in mari Rubro quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:16. Who led his people through the desert: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Qui duxit populum suum per desertum quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:17. Who smote great kings: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Qui percussit reges magnos quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:18. And slew strong kings: for his mercy endureth for ever.
Et occidit reges magnificos quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:19. Sehon king of the Amorrhites: for his mercy endureth for ever.
Seon regem Amorreorum quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:20. And Og king of Basan: for his mercy endureth for ever.
Et Og regem Basan quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:21. And he gave their land for an inheritance: for his mercy endureth for ever.
Et dedit terram eorum in hereditatem quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:22. For an inheritance to his servant Israel: for his mercy endureth for ever.
Hereditatem Israhel servo suo quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:23. For he was mindful of us in our affliction: for his mercy endureth for ever.
Quia in humilitate nostra memor fuit nostri quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:24. And he redeemed us from our enemies: for his mercy endureth for ever.
Et redemit nos de hostibus nostris quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:25. Who giveth food to all flesh: for his mercy endureth for ever.
Qui dat panem omni carni quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

135:26. Give glory to the God of heaven: for his mercy endureth for ever.
Confitemini Deo caeli quoniam in aeternum misericordia eius

Psalm 136

Super flumina. The lamentation of the people of God in their captivity in Babylon.

---

A psalm of David, for Jeremias. *

136:1. Upon the rivers of Babylon, there we sat and wept: when we remembered Sion:
Super flumina Babylonis ibi sedimus et flevimus cum recordaremur Sion

136:2. On the willows in the midst thereof we hung up our instruments.
Super salices in medio eius suspendimus citharas nostras

136:3. For there they that led us into captivity required of us the words of songs. And they that carried us away, said: Sing ye to us a hymn of the songs of Sion.
Quoniam ibi interrogaverunt nos qui captivos duxerunt nos verba carminis et qui adfligebant nos laeti canite nobis de canticis Sion

136:4. How shall we sing the song of the Lord in a strange land?
Quomodo cantabimus canticum Domini in terra aliena

136:5. If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand be forgotten.
Si oblitus fuero tui Hierusalem in oblivione sit dextera mea

136:6. Let my tongue cleave to my jaws, if I do not remember thee: If I make not Jerusalem the beginning of my joy.
Adhereat lingua mea gutturi meo si non recordatus fuero tui si non praeposuero Hierusalem in principio laetitiae meae

136:7. Remember, O Lord, the children of Edom, in the day of Jerusalem: Who say: Rase it, rase it, even to the foundation thereof.
Memento Domine filiorum Edom in diem Hierusalem dicentium evacuate evacuate usque ad fundamentum eius

136:8. O daughter of Babylon, miserable: blessed shall he be who shall repay thee thy payment which thou hast paid us.
Filia Babylon vastata beatus qui retribuet tibi vicissitudinem tuam quam retribuisti nobis

136:9. Blessed be he that shall take and dash thy little ones against the rock. *

Beatus qui tenebit et adlidet parvulos tuos ad petram

Dash thy little ones, etc... In the spiritual sense, we dash the little ones of Babylon against the rock, when we mortify our passions, and stifle the first motions of them, by a speedy recourse to the rock which is Christ.

SUBTITLE. For Jeremias... For the time of Jeremias, and the captivity of Babylon.

Psalm 137

Confitebor tibi. Thanksgiving to God for his benefits.

137:1. For David himself. I will praise thee, O Lord, with my whole heart: for thou hast heard the words of my mouth. I will sing praise to thee in the sight of the angels:

David confitebor tibi in toto corde meo in conspectu deorum cantabo tibi

137:2. I will worship towards thy holy temple, and I will give glory to thy name. For thy mercy, and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy holy name above all.

Adorabo in templo sancto tuo et confitebor nomini tuo super misericordia tua et super veritate tua quia magnificasti super omne nomen tuum eloquium tuum

137:3. In what day soever I shall call upon thee, hear me: thou shalt multiply strength in my soul.

In die invocabo et exaudies me dilatabis animae meae fortitudinem

137:4. May all the kings of the earth give glory to thee: for they have heard all the words of thy mouth.

Confiteantur tibi Domine omnes reges terrae quoniam audierunt eloquia oris tui

137:5. And let them sing in the ways of the Lord: for great is the glory of the Lord.

Et cantent in viis Domini quoniam magna gloria Domini

137:6. For the Lord is high, and looketh on the low: and the high he knoweth afar off.

Quoniam excelsus Dominus et humilem respicit et excelsa de longe cognoscit

137:7. If I shall walk in the midst of tribulation, thou wilt quicken me: and thou hast stretched forth thy hand against the wrath of my enemies: and thy right hand hath saved me.

Si ambulavero in medio tribulationis vivificabis me super furorem inimicorum meorum mittes manum tuam et salvabit me dextera tua

137:8. The Lord will repay for me: thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever: O despise not the works of thy hands.

Dominus operabitur pro me Domine misericordia tua in aeternum opera manuum tuarum ne dimittas

Psalm 138

Domine, probasti. God's special providence over his servants.

138:1. Unto the end, a psalm of David. Lord, thou hast proved me, and known me:

Pro victoria David canticum Domine investigasti me et cognovisti

138:2. Thou hast known my sitting down, and my rising up.

Tu cognovisti sessionem meam et surrectionem meam

138:3. Thou hast understood my thoughts afar off: my path and my line thou hast searched out.

Intellexisti malum meum de longe semitam meam et accubitionem meam eventilasti

138:4. And thou hast foreseen all my ways: for there is no speech in my tongue. *

Et omnes vias meas intellexisti quia non est eloquium in lingua mea

There is no speech, etc... Viz., unknown to thee: or when there is no speech in my tongue; yet my whole interior and my most secret thoughts are known to thee.

138:5. Behold, O Lord, thou hast known all things, the last and those of old: thou hast formed me, and hast laid thy hand upon me.

Ecce Domine nosti omnia retrorsum et ante formasti me et posuisti super me manum tuam

138:6. Thy knowledge is become wonderful to me: it is high, and I cannot reach to it.

Super me est scientia et excelsior est non potero ad eam

138:7. Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy face?

Quo ibo ab spiritu tuo et quo a facie tua fugiam

138:8. If I ascend into heaven, thou art there: if I descend into hell, thou art present.

Si ascendero in caelum ibi es tu si iacuero in inferno ades

138:9. If I take my wings early in the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea:

Si sumpsero pinnas diluculo habitavero in novissimo maris

138:10. Even there also shall thy hand lead me: and thy right hand shall hold me.

Etiam ibi manus tua deducet me et tenebit me dextera tua

138:11. And I said: Perhaps darkness shall cover me: and night shall be my light in my pleasures.

Si dixero forte tenebrae operient me nox quoque lux erit circa me

138:12. But darkness shall not be dark to thee, and night shall be light all the day: the darkness thereof, and the light thereof are alike to thee.

Nec tenebrae habent tenebras apud te et nox quasi dies lucet similes sunt tenebrae et lux

138:13. For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast protected me from my mother's womb.

Quoniam tu possedisti renes meos orsusque es me in utero matris meae

138:14. I will praise thee, for thou art fearfully magnified: wonderful are thy works, and my soul knoweth right well.

Confitebor tibi quoniam terribiliter magnificasti me mirabilia opera tua et anima mea novit nimis

138:15. My bone is not hidden from thee, which thou hast made in secret: and my substance in the lower parts of the earth.

Non sunt operta ossa mea a te quibus factus sum in abscondito imaginatus sum in novissimis terrae

138:16. Thy eyes did see my imperfect being, and in thy book all shall be written: days shall be formed, and no one in them.

Informem adhuc me viderunt oculi tui et in libro tuo omnes scribentur dies formatae sunt et non est una in eis

138:17. But to me thy friends, O God, are made exceedingly honourable: their principality is exceedingly strengthened.

Mihi autem quam honorabiles facti sunt amici tui Deus quam fortes pauperes eorum

138:18. I will number them, and they shall be multiplied above the sand, I rose up and am still with thee. Dinumerabo eos et harena plures erunt evigilavi et adhuc sum tecum

138:19. If thou wilt kill the wicked, O God: ye men of blood, depart from me:

Si occideris Deus impium viri sanguinum declinate a me

138:20. Because you say in thought: They shall receive thy cities in vain. *

Qui contradicent tibi scelerate elati sunt frustra adversarii tui

Because you say in thought, etc... Depart from me, you wicked, who plot against the servants of God, and think to cast them out of the cities of their habitation; as if they have received them in vain, and to no purpose.

138:21. Have I not hated them, O Lord, that hated thee: and pined away because of thy enemies?

Nonne odientes te Domine odivi et contra adversarios tuos distabui

138:22. I have hated them with a perfect hatred: and they are become enemies to me. *

Perfecto odio oderam illos inimici facti sunt mihi

I have hated them... Not with an hatred of malice, but a zeal for the observance of God's commandments; which he saw were despised by the wicked, who are to be considered enemies to God.

138:23. Prove me, O God, and know my heart: examine me, and know my paths.

Scrutare me Deus et cognosce cor meum proba me et scito cogitationes meas

138:24. And see if there be in me the way of iniquity: and lead me in the eternal way.

Et vide si via idoli in me est et deduc me in via aeterna

Psalm 139

Eripe me, Domine. A prayer to be delivered from the wicked.

139:1. Unto the end, a psalm of David.

Pro victoria canticum David

139:2. Deliver me, O Lord, from the evil man: rescue me from the unjust man.

Erue me Domine ab homine malo a viris iniquis serva me

139:3. Who have devised iniquities in their hearts: all the day long they designed battles.

Qui cogitaverunt malitias in corde tota die versati sunt in proeliis

139:4. They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent: the venom of asps is under their lips.

Exacuerunt linguam suam quasi serpens venenum aspidis sub labiis eorum semper

139:5. Keep me, O Lord, from the hand of the wicked: and from unjust men deliver me. Who have proposed to supplant my steps:

Custodi me Domine de manu impii a viro iniquitatum serva me qui cogitaverunt subplantare gressus meos

139:6. The proud have hidden a net for me. And they have stretched out cords for a snare: they have laid for me a stumblingblock by the wayside.

Absconderunt superbi laqueum mihi et funibus extenderunt rete iuxta semitam offendiculum posuerunt mihi semper

139:7. I said to the Lord: Thou art my God: hear, O Lord, the voice of my supplication.

Dixi Domino Deus meus tu audi Domine vocem deprecationis meae

139:8. O Lord, Lord, the strength of my salvation: thou hast overshadowed my head in the day of battle.

Domine Deus fortitudo salutis meae protexisti caput meum in die belli

139:9. Give me not up, O Lord, from my desire to the wicked: they have plotted against me; do not thou forsake me, lest they should triumph.

Ne des Domine desideria impii scelera eius ne effundantur et eleventur semper

139:10. The head of them compassing me about: the labour of their lips shall overwhelm them.

Amaritudo convivarum meorum labor labiorum eorum operiat eos

139:11. Burning coals shall fall upon them; thou wilt cast them down into the fire: in miseries they shall not be able to stand.

Cadent super eos carbones ignis deicies eos in foveas ut non consurgant

139:12. A man full of tongue shall not be established in the earth: evil shall catch the unjust man unto destruction.

Vir linguosus non dirigetur in terra virum iniquum mala capient in interitu

139:13. I know that the Lord will do justice to the needy, and will revenge the poor.

Scio quod faciet Dominus causam inopis iudicia pauperum

139:14. But as for the just, they shall give glory to thy name: and the upright shall dwell with thy countenance.

Attamen iusti confitebuntur nomini tuo habitabunt recti cum vultu tuo

Psalm 140

Domine, clamavi. A prayer against sinful words, and deceitful flatterers.

---

A psalm of David.

140:1. I have cried to thee, O Lord, hear me: hearken to my voice, when I cry to thee.
Canticum David Domine clamavi ad te festina mihi exaudi vocem meam clamantis ad te

140:2. Let my prayer be directed as incense in thy sight; the lifting up of my hands, as evening sacrifice.
Dirigatur oratio mea sicut incensum in conspectu tuo elevatio manuum mearum sacrificium vespertinum

140:3. Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth: and a door round about my lips.
Pone Domine custodem ori meo serva paupertatem labiorum meorum

140:4. Incline not my heart to evil words; to make excuses in sins. With men that work iniquity: and I will not communicate with the choicest of them.
Ne declines cor meum in verbum malum volvere cogitationes impias cum viris operantibus iniquitatem neque comedere in deliciis eorum

140:5. The just man shall correct me in mercy, and shall reprove me: but let not the oil of the sinner fatten my head. For my prayer shall still be against the things with which they are well pleased: *
Corripiat me iustus in misericordia et arguat me oleum amaritudinis non inpinguet caput meum quia adhuc et oratio mea pro malitiis eorum

Let not the oil of the sinner, etc... That is, the flattery, or deceitful praise. -- Ibid. For my prayer, etc... So far from coveting their praises, who are never well pleased but with things that are evil; I shall continually pray to be preserved from such things as they are delighted with.

140:6. Their judges falling upon the rock have been swallowed up. They shall hear my words, for they have prevailed: *
Sublati sunt iuxta petram iudices eorum et audient verba mea quoniam decora sunt

Their judges, etc... Their rulers, or chiefs, quickly vanish and perish, like ships dashed against the rocks, and swallowed up by the waves. Let them then hear my words, for they are powerful and will prevail; or, as it is in the Hebrew, for they are sweet.

140:7. As when the thickness of the earth is broken up upon the ground: Our bones are scattered by the side of hell.
Sicut agricola cum scindit terram sic dissipata sunt ossa nostra in ore inferi

140:8. But to thee, O Lord, Lord, are my eyes: in thee have I put my trust, take not away my soul.
Quia ad te Domine Deus oculi mei in te speravi ne evacues animam meam

140:9. Keep me from the snare, which they have laid for me, and from the stumblingblocks of them that work iniquity.
Custodi me de manibus laquei quod posuerunt mihi et de offendiculis operantium iniquitatem

140:10. The wicked shall fall in his net: I am alone until I pass. *
Incident in rete eius impii simul ego autem transibo

I am alone, etc... Singularly protected by the Almighty, until I pass all their nets and snares.

Psalm 141

Voce mea. A prayer of David in extremity of danger.

141:1. Of understanding for David, A prayer when he was in the cave. [1 Samuel 24.]

Eruditio David cum esset in spelunca oratio

141:2. I cried to the Lord with my voice: with my voice I made supplication to the Lord.

Voce mea ad Dominum clamavi voce mea ad Dominum deprecatus sum

141:3. In his sight I pour out my prayer, and before him I declare my trouble:

Effundam in conspectu eius eloquium meum tribulationem meam coram illo adnuntiabo

141:4. When my spirit failed me, then thou knewest my paths. In this way wherein I walked, they have hidden a snare for me.

Cum anxius in me fuerit spiritus meus tu enim nosti semitam meam in via hac qua ambulabo absconderunt laqueum mihi

141:5. I looked on my right hand, and beheld, and there was no one that would know me. Flight hath failed me: and there is no one that hath regard to my soul.

Respice ad dexteram et vide quia non sit qui cognoscat me periiit fuga a me non est qui quaerat animam meam

141:6. I cried to thee, O Lord: I said: Thou art my hope, my portion in the land of the living.

Clamavi ad te Domine dixi tu spes mea pars mea in terra viventium

141:7. Attend to my supplication: for I am brought very low. Deliver me from my persecutors; for they are stronger than I.

Ausculata deprecationem meam quoniam infirmatus sum nimis libera me a persecutoribus quoniam confortati sunt super me

141:8. Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise thy name: the just wait for me, until thou reward me.

Educ de carcere animam meam ut confiteatur nomini tuo me expectant iusti cum retribuieris mihi

Psalm 142

Domine, exaudi.* The psalmist in tribulation calleth upon God for his delivery. The seventh penitential psalm.

---

142:1. A psalm of David, when his son Absalom pursued him. [2 Samuel 17.] Hear, O Lord, my prayer: give ear to my supplication in thy truth: hear me in thy justice.

Canticum David Domine exaudi orationem meam ausculta deprecationem meam in veritate tua exaudi me in iustitia tua

142:2. And enter not into judgment with thy servant: for in thy sight no man living shall be justified.

Et non venias ad iudicandum cum servo tuo quia non iustificabitur in conspectu tuo omnis vivens

142:3. For the enemy hath persecuted my soul: he hath brought down my life to the earth. He hath made me to dwell in darkness as those that have been dead of old:

Persecutus est enim inimicus animam meam confregit in terra vitam meam posuit me in tenebris quasi mortuos antiquos

142:4. And my spirit is in anguish within me: my heart within me is troubled.

Et anxius fuit in me spiritus meus in medio mei sollicitum fuit cor meum

142:5. I remembered the days of old, I meditated on all thy works: I meditated upon the works of thy hands.

Recordabar dierum antiquorum meditabar omnia opera tua facta manuum tuarum loquebar

142:6. I stretched forth my hands to thee: my soul is as earth without water unto thee.

Expandi manus meas ad te anima mea quasi terra sitiens ad te semper

142:7. Hear me speedily, O Lord: my spirit hath fainted away. Turn not away thy face from me, lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

Cito exaudi me Domine deficit spiritus meus ne abscondas faciem tuam a me et comparabor descendentibus in lacum

142:8. Cause me to hear thy mercy in the morning; for in thee have I hoped. Make the way known to me, wherein I should walk: for I have lifted up my soul to thee.

Fac me audire mane misericordiam tuam quoniam in te confido notam fac mihi viam in qua ambulo quoniam ad te levavi animam meam

142:9. Deliver me from my enemies, O Lord, to thee have I fled:

Libera me de inimicis meis Domine a te protectus sum

142:10. Teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God. Thy good spirit shall lead me into the right land:

Doce me ut faciam voluntatem tuam quia tu Deus meus spiritus tuus bonus deducet me in terra recta

142:11. For thy name's sake, O Lord, thou wilt quicken me in thy justice. Thou wilt bring my soul out of trouble:

Propter nomen tuum Domine vivificabis me in iustitia tua educes de angustia animam meam

142:12. And in thy mercy thou wilt destroy my enemies. And thou wilt cut off all them that afflict my soul: for I am thy servant.

Et in misericordia tua dissipabis inimicos meos et perdes omnes ligantes animam meam ego enim sum servus tuus

Psalm 143

Benedictus Dominus.* The prophet praiseth God, and prayeth to be delivered from his enemies. No worldly happiness is to be compared with that of serving God.

---

A psalm of David against Goliath.

143:1. Blessed be the Lord my God, who teacheth my hands to fight, and my fingers to war.

David benedictus Dominus fortis meus qui docet manus meas ad proelium digitos meos ad bellum

143:2. My mercy, and my refuge: my support, and my deliverer: My protector, and I have hoped in him: who subdueth my people under me.

Misericordia mea et fortitudo mea auxiliator meus et salvator meus scutum meum et in ipso speravi qui subiecit populos mihi

143:3. Lord, what is man, that thou art made known to him? or the son of man, that thou makest account of him?

Domine quid est homo quia cognoscis eum filius hominis quia computas eum

143:4. Man is like to vanity: his days pass away like a shadow.

Homo vanitati adsimilatus est dies eius quasi umbra pertransiens

143:5. Lord, bow down thy heavens and descend: touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.

Domine inclina caelos tuos et descende tange montes et fumigabunt

143:6. Send forth lightning, and thou shalt scatter them: shoot out thy arrows, and thou shalt trouble them.

Mica fulmine et dissipa eos mitte sagittam tuam et interfice illos

143:7. Put forth thy hand from on high, take me out, and deliver me from many waters: from the hand of strange children:

Extende manum tuam de excelso libera me et erue me de aquis multis de manu filiorum alienorum

143:8. Whose mouth hath spoken vanity: and their right hand is the right hand of iniquity.

Quorum os locutum est vanitatem et dextera eorum dextera mendacii

143:9. To thee, O God, I will sing a new canticle: on the psaltery and an instrument of ten strings I will sing praises to thee.

Deus canticum novum cantabo tibi in psalterio decacordo psallam tibi

143:10. Who givest salvation to kings: who hast redeemed thy servant David from the malicious sword:

Qui dat salutem regibus qui eruit David servum suum de gladio pessimo

143:11. Deliver me, And rescue me out of the hand of strange children; whose mouth hath spoken vanity: and their right hand is the right hand of iniquity:

Libera me et erue me de manu filiorum alienorum quorum os locutum est vanitatem et dextera eorum dextera mendacii

143:12. Whose sons are as new plants in their youth: Their daughters decked out, adorned round about after the similitude of a temple:

Ut sint filii nostri quasi plantatio crescens in adulescentia sua filiae nostrae quasi anguli ornati ad similitudinem templi

143:13. Their storehouses full, flowing out of this into that. Their sheep fruitful in young, abounding in their goings forth:

Promptuaria nostra plena et supereffundentia ex hoc in illud pecora nostra in milibus et innumerabilia in conpitis nostris

143:14. Their oxen fat. There is no breach of wall, nor passage, nor crying out in their streets.
Tauri nostri pingues non est interruptio et non est egressus et non est ululatus in plateis nostris

143:15. They have called the people happy, that hath these things: but happy is that people whose God is the Lord.

Beatus populus cuius talia sunt beatus populus cuius Dominus Deus suus

Psalm 144

Exaltabo te, Deus. A psalm of praise, to the infinite majesty of God.

144:1. Praise, for David himself. I will extol thee, O God my king: and I will bless thy name for ever; yea, for ever and ever.

Hymnus David aleph exaltabo te Deus meus rex et benedicam nomini tuo in aeternum et ultra

144:2. Every day will I bless thee: and I will praise thy name for ever; yea, for ever and ever.

Beth in omni die benedicam tibi et laudabo nomen tuum in sempiternum iugiter

144:3. Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised: and of his greatness there is no end.

Gimel magnus Deus et laudabilis nimis et magnificentiae eius non est inventio

144:4. Generation and generation shall praise thy works: and they shall declare thy power.

Deleth generatio ad generationem laudabit opera tua et fortitudines tuas adnuntiabunt

144:5. They shall speak of the magnificence of the glory of thy holiness: and shall tell thy wondrous works.

He decorem gloriae magnitudinis tuae et verba mirabilium tuorum loquar

144:6. And they shall speak of the might of thy terrible acts: and shall declare thy greatness.

Vav et fortitudinem horribilium tuorum loquentur et magnitudines tuas narrabo

144:7. They shall publish the memory of the abundance of thy sweetness: and shall rejoice in thy justice.

Zai memoriam multae bonitatis tuae loquentur et iustitias tuas laudabunt

144:8. The Lord is gracious and merciful: patient and plenteous in mercy.

Heth clemens et misericors Dominus patiens et multae miserationis

144:9. The Lord is sweet to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works.

Teth bonus Dominus omnibus et misericordiae eius in universa opera eius

144:10. Let all thy works, O lord, praise thee: and let thy saints bless thee.

Ioth confiteantur tibi Domine omnia opera tua et sancti tui benedicant tibi

144:11. They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom: and shall tell of thy power:

Caph gloriam regni tui dicent et fortitudines tuas loquentur

144:12. To make thy might known to the sons of men: and the glory of the magnificence of thy kingdom.

Lameth ut ostendant filiis hominum fortitudines eius et gloriam decoris regni eius

144:13. Thy kingdom is a kingdom of all ages: and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations. The Lord is faithful in all his words: and holy in all his works.

Mem regnum tuum regnum omnium saeculorum et potestas tua in omni generatione et generatione

144:14. The Lord lifteth up all that fall: and setteth up all that are cast down.

Samech sustentat Dominus omnes corruentes et erigit universos iacentes

144:15. The eyes of all hope in thee, O Lord: and thou givest them meat in due season.

Ain oculi eorum in te sperant et tu das eis escam suam in tempore suo

144:16. Thou openest thy hand, and fillest with blessing every living creature.

Fe aperis manus tuas et imples omne animal refectione

144:17. The Lord is just in all his ways: and holy in all his works.

Sade iustus Dominus in omnibus viis suis et sanctus in omnibus operibus suis

144:18. The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him: to all that call upon him in truth.

Coph iuxta est Dominus omnibus qui invocant eum omnibus qui invocant eum in veritate

144:19. He will do the will of them that fear him: and he will hear their prayer, and save them.

Res placitum timentium se faciet et clamorem eorum audiet et salvabit eos

144:20. The Lord keepeth all them that love him; but all the wicked he will destroy.

Sen custodit Dominus omnes diligentes se et universos impios conteret

144:21. My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh bless his holy name forever; yea, for ever and ever.

Thau laudem Domini loquetur os meum et benedicet omnis caro nomini sancto eius in aeternum et iugiter

Psalm 145

Lauda, anima. We are not to trust in men, but in God alone.

145:1. Alleluia, of Aggeus and Zacharias.

Alleluia

145:2. Praise the Lord, O my soul, in my life I will praise the Lord: I will sing to my God as long as I shall be. Put not your trust in princes:

Lauda anima mea Dominum laudabo Dominum in vita mea cantabo Deo meo quamdiu sum nolite confidere in principibus

145:3. In the children of men, in whom there is no salvation.

In filio hominis cui non est salus

145:4. His spirit shall go forth, and he shall return into his earth: in that day all their thoughts shall perish.

Egredietur spiritus eius et revertetur in humum suam in die illa peribunt cogitationes eius

145:5. Blessed is he who hath the God of Jacob for his helper, whose hope is in the Lord his God:

Beatus cuius Deus Iacob auxiliator eius spes eius in Domino Deo suo

145:6. Who made heaven and earth, the sea, and all things that are in them.

Qui fecit caelos et terram mare et omnia quae in eis sunt

145:7. Who keepeth truth for ever: who executeth judgment for them that suffer wrong: who giveth food to the hungry. The Lord looseth them that are fettered:

Et custodit veritatem in sempiternum qui facit iudicium calumniam sustinentibus et dat panem esurientibus Dominus solvit vinctos

145:8. The Lord enlighteneth the blind. The Lord lifteth up them that are cast down: the Lord loveth the just.

Dominus inluminat caecos Dominus erigit adlisos Dominus diligit iustos

145:9. The Lord keepeth the strangers, he will support the fatherless and the widow: and the ways of sinners he will destroy.

Dominus custodit advenas pupillum et viduam suscipiet et viam impiorum conteret

145:10. The Lord shall reign for ever: thy God, O Sion, unto generation and generation.

Regnabit Dominus in aeternum Deus tuus Sion in generationem et generationem

Psalm 146

Laudate Dominum. An exhortation to praise God for his benefits.

146:1. Alleluia. Praise ye the Lord, because psalm is good: to our God be joyful and comely praise.
Alleluia laudate Dominum quoniam bonum est canticum Dei nostri quoniam decorum est pulchra laudatio

146:2. The Lord buildeth up Jerusalem: he will gather together the dispersed of Israel.
Aedificabit Hierusalem Dominus eiectos Israhel congregabit

146:3. Who healeth the broken of heart, and bindeth up their bruises.
Qui sanat contritos corde et alligat plagas eorum

146:4. Who telleth the number of the stars: and calleth them all by their names.
Qui numerat multitudinem stellarum et omnes nomine suo vocat

146:5. Great is our Lord, and great is his power: and of his wisdom there is no number.
Magnus Dominus noster et multus fortitudine prudentiae eius non est numerus

146:6. The Lord lifteth up the meek, and bringeth the wicked down even to the ground.
Suscipiens mansuetos Dominus humilians impios usque ad terram

146:7. Sing ye to the Lord with praise: sing to our God upon the harp.
Canite Domino in confessione canite Deo nostro in cithara

146:8. Who covereth the heaven with clouds, and prepareth rain for the earth. Who maketh grass to grow on the mountains, and herbs for the service of men.
Qui operit caelos nubibus et praebet terrae pluviam et oriri facit in montibus germen

146:9. Who giveth to beasts their food: and to the young ravens that call upon him.
Qui dat iumentis panem suum filiis corvi clamantibus

146:10. He shall not delight in the strength of the horse: nor take pleasure in the legs of a man.
Non est in fortitudine equi voluntas eius neque in tibiis viri placetur ei

146:11. The Lord taketh pleasure in them that fear him: and in them that hope in his mercy.
Placetur Domino in his qui timent eum et expectant misericordiam eius

Psalm 147

Lauda, Jerusalem. The church is called upon to praise God for his peculiar graces and favours to his people. In the Hebrew, this psalm is joined to the foregoing.

Alleluia.

147:12. Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem: praise thy God, O Sion.

Lauda Hierusalem Dominum cane Deum tuum Sion

147:13. Because he hath strengthened the bolts of thy gates, he hath blessed thy children within thee.

Quia confortavit vectes portarum tuarum benedixit filiis tuis in medio tui

147:14. Who hath placed peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the fat of corn.

Qui posuit terminum tuum pacem adipe frumenti saturavit te

147:15. Who sendeth forth his speech to the earth: his word runneth swiftly.

Qui emittit eloquium suum terrae velociter curret verbum eius

147:16. Who giveth snow like wool: scattereth mists like ashes.

Qui dat nivem quasi lanam pruinas quasi cinerem spargit

147:17. He sendeth his crystal like morsels: who shall stand before the face of his cold?*

Proicit glaciem suam quasi buccellas ante faciem frigoris eius quis stabit

He sendeth his crystal... That is, his ice. Some understand it of hail, which is, as it were, ice, divided into particles or morsels.

147:18. He shall send out his word, and shall melt them: his wind shall blow, and the waters shall run.

Mittet verbum suum et solvet illa spirabit spiritu suo et fluent aquae

147:19. Who declareth his word to Jacob: his justices and his judgments to Israel.

Qui adnuntiat verbum suum Iacob praecepta sua et iudicia sua Israhel

147:20. He hath not done in like manner to every nation: and his judgments he hath not made manifest to them. Alleluia.

Non fecit similiter omni genti et iudicia eius non cognoscent alleluia

Psalm 148

Laudate Dominum de caelis. All creatures are invited to praise their Creator.

Alleluia.

148:1. Praise ye the Lord from the heavens: praise ye him in the high places.

Alleluia laudate Dominum de caelis laudate eum in excelsis

148:2. Praise ye him, all his angels, praise ye him, all his hosts.

Laudate eum omnes angeli eius laudate eum omnes exercitus eius

148:3. Praise ye him, O sun and moon: praise him, all ye stars and light.

Laudate eum sol et luna laudate eum omnes stellae luminis

148:4. Praise him, ye heavens of heavens: and let all the waters that are above the heavens

Laudate eum caeli caelorum et aquae quae super caelos sunt

148:5. Praise the name of the Lord. For he spoke, and they were made: he commanded, and they were created.

Laudent nomen Domini quoniam ipse mandavit et creata sunt

148:6. He hath established them for ever, and for ages of ages: he hath made a decree, and it shall not pass away.

Et statuit ea in saeculum et in saeculum praeceptum dedit et non praeteribit

148:7. Praise the Lord from the earth, ye dragons, and all ye deeps:

Laudate Dominum de terra dracones et omnes abyssi

148:8. Fire, hail, snow, ice, stormy winds, which fulfil his word:

Ignis et grando nix et glacies ventus turbo quae facitis sermonem eius

148:9. Mountains and all hills, fruitful trees and all cedars:

Montes et omnes colles lignum fructiferum et universae cedri

148:10. Beasts and all cattle: serpents and feathered fowls:

Bestiae et omnia iumenta reptilia et aves volantes

148:11. Kings of the earth and all people: princes and all judges of the earth:

Reges terrae et omnes populi principes et universi iudices terrae

148:12. Young men and maidens: let the old with the younger, praise the name of the Lord:

Iuvenes et virgines senes cum pueris laudent nomen Domini

148:13. For his name alone is exalted.

Quoniam sublime nomen eius solius

148:14. The praise of him is above heaven and earth: and he hath exalted the horn of his people. A hymn to all his saints to the children of Israel, a people approaching to him. Alleluia.

Gloria eius in caelo et in terra et exaltavit cornu populi sui laus omnibus sanctis eius filiis Israhel populo adpropinquanti sibi alleluia

Psalm 149

Cantate Domino. The church is particularly bound to praise God.

Alleluia.

149:1. Sing ye to the Lord a new canticle: let his praise be in the church of the saints.

Alleluia cantate Domino canticum novum laus eius in congregatione sanctorum

149:2. Let Israel rejoice in him that made him: and let the children of Sion be joyful in their king.

Laetetur Israhel in factore suo filii Sion exultent in rege suo

149:3. Let them praise his name in choir: let them sing to him with the timbrel and the psaltery.

Laudent nomen eius in choro in tympano et cithara cantent ei

149:4. For the Lord is well pleased with his people: and he will exalt the meek unto salvation.

Quia conplacet sibi Dominus in populo suo exaltabit mansuetos in Iesu

149:5. The saints shall rejoice in glory: they shall be joyful in their beds.

Exultabunt sancti in gloria laudabunt in cubilibus suis

149:6. The high praises of God shall be in their mouth: and two-edged swords in their hands:

Exaltationes Dei in gutture eorum et gladii ancipites in manibus eorum

149:7. To execute vengeance upon the nations, chastisements among the people:

Ad faciendam vindictam in gentibus increpationes in populis

149:8. To bind their kings with fetters, and their nobles with manacles of iron.

Ut alligent reges eorum catenis et inclitos eorum conpedibus ferreis

149:9. To execute upon them the judgment that is written: this glory is to all his saints. Alleluia.

Ut faciant in eis iudicium scriptum decor est omnium sanctorum eius alleluia

Psalm 150

Laudate Dominum in sanctis. An exhortation to praise God with all sorts of instruments.

Alleluia.

150:1. Praise ye the Lord in his holy places: praise ye him in the firmament of his power.

Alleluia laudate Deum in sancto eius laudate eum in fortitudine potentiae eius

150:2. Praise ye him for his mighty acts: praise ye him according to the multitude of his greatness.

Laudate eum in fortitudinibus eius laudate eum iuxta multitudinem magnificentiae suae

150:3. Praise him with the sound of trumpet: praise him with psaltery and harp.

Laudate eum in clangore bucinæ laudate eum in psalterio et cithara

150:4. Praise him with timbrel and choir: praise him with strings and organs.

Laudate eum in tympano et choro laudate eum in cordis et organo

150:5. Praise him on high sounding cymbals: praise him on cymbals of joy: let every spirit praise the Lord.

Alleluia.

Laudate eum in cymbalis sonantibus laudate eum in cymbalis tinnientibus

Apocalypse

The Apocalypse of St. John, also called the Revelation to St. John

In the first, second, and third chapters of this Book are contained instructions and admonitions which St. John was commanded to write to the seven bishops of the churches in Asia. And in the following chapters, to the end, are contained prophecies of things that are to come to pass in the Church of Christ, particularly towards the end of the world, in the time of Antichrist. It was written in Greek, in the island of Patmos, where St. John was in banishment by order of the cruel emperor Domitian, about sixty-four years after our Lord's Ascension. (For more information, see the article BOOK OF APOCALYPSE in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Apocalypse Chapter 1. St. John is ordered to write to the seven churches in Asia. The manner of Christ's appearing to him.

Apocalypse Chapter 2. Directions what to write to the angels or bishops of Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamus and Thyatira.

Apocalypse Chapter 3. Directions what to write to Sardis, Philadelphia and Laodicea.

Apocalypse Chapter 4. The vision of the throne of God, the twenty-four ancients and the four living creatures.

Apocalypse Chapter 5. The book sealed with seven seals is opened by the Lamb, who thereupon receives adoration and praise from all.

Apocalypse Chapter 6. What followed upon opening six of the seals.

Apocalypse Chapter 7. The number of them that were marked with the seal of the living God and clothed in white robes.

Apocalypse Chapter 8. The seventh seal is opened. The angels with the seven trumpets.

Apocalypse Chapter 9. Locusts come forth from the bottomless pit. The vision of the army of horsemen.

Apocalypse Chapter 10. The cry of a mighty angel. He gives John a book to eat.

Apocalypse Chapter 11. He is ordered to measure the temple. The two witnesses.

Apocalypse Chapter 12. The vision of the woman clothed with the sun and of the great dragon her persecutor.

Apocalypse Chapter 13. Of the beast with seven heads and of a second beast.

Apocalypse Chapter 14. Of the Lamb and of the virgins that follow him. Of the judgments that shall fall upon the wicked.

Apocalypse Chapter 15. They that have overcome the beast glorify God. Of the seven angels with the seven vials.

Apocalypse Chapter 16. The seven vials are poured out. The plagues that ensue.

Apocalypse Chapter 17. The description of the great harlot and of the beast upon which she sits.

Apocalypse Chapter 18. The fall of Babylon. Kings and merchants lament over her.

Apocalypse Chapter 19. The saints glorify God for his judgments on the great harlot. Christ's victory over the beast and the kings of the earth.

Apocalypse Chapter 20. Satan is bound for a thousand years. The souls of the martyrs reign with Christ in the first resurrection. The last attempts of Satan against the church. The last judgment.

Apocalypse Chapter 21. The new Jerusalem described.

Apocalypse Chapter 22. The water and tree of life. The conclusion.

Apocalypse Chapter 1

St. John is ordered to write to the seven churches in Asia. The manner of Christ's appearing to him.

---

1:1. The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to make known to his servants the things which must shortly come to pass: and signified, sending by his angel to his servant John,*

Apocalypsis Iesu Christi quam dedit illi Deus palam facere servis suis quae oportet fieri cito et significavit mittens per angelum suum servo suo Iohanni

The things which must shortly come... and again it is said, verse 3, The time is at hand... This can not be meant of all the things prophesied in the Apocalypse, where mention is made also of the day of judgment, and of the glory of heaven at the end of the world. That some things were to come to pass shortly, is evident, by what is said to the Seven Churches, chap. 2 and 3, Or that the persecutions foretold should begin shortly. Or that these words signified, that all time is short, and that from the coming of Christ, we are now in the last age or last hour. See [1 John 2:18]

1:2. Who hath given testimony to the word of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ, what things soever he hath seen.

Qui testimonium perhibuit verbo Dei et testimonium Iesu Christi quaecumque vidit

1:3. Blessed is he that readeth and heareth the words of this prophecy: and keepeth those things which are written in it. For the time is at hand.

Beatus qui legit et qui audiunt verba prophetiae et servant ea quae in ea scripta sunt tempus enim prope est

1:4. John to the seven churches which are in Asia. Grace be unto you and peace, from him that is and that was and that is to come: and from the seven spirits which are before his throne:

Iohannes septem ecclesiis quae sunt in Asia gratia vobis et pax ab eo qui est et qui erat et qui venturus est et a septem spiritibus qui in conspectu throni eius sunt

1:5. And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, the first begotten of the dead and the prince of the kings of the earth, who hath loved us and washed us from our sins in his own blood,

Et ab Iesu Christo qui est testis fidelis primogenitus mortuorum et princeps regum terrae qui dilexit nos et lavit nos a peccatis nostris in sanguine suo

1:6. And hath made us a kingdom, and priests to God and his Father. To him be glory and empire for ever and ever. Amen.

Et fecit nostrum regnum sacerdotes Deo et Patri suo ipsi gloria et imperium in saecula saeculorum amen

1:7. Behold, he cometh with the clouds, and every eye shall see him: and they also that pierced him. And all the tribes of the earth shall bewail themselves because of him. Even so. Amen.

Ecce venit cum nubibus et videbit eum omnis oculus et qui eum pupugerunt et plangent se super eum omnes tribus terrae etiam amen

1:8. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, saith the Lord God, who is and who was and who is to come, the Almighty.*

Ego sum Alpha et Omega principium et finis dicit Dominus Deus qui est et qui erat et qui venturus est Omnipotens

I am Alpha and Omega... These are the names of the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet, and signify the same as what follows: The beginning and the end: the first cause and last end of all beings: who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty... These words signify the true God only, and are here applied to our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, who is to come again to judge the living and the dead.

1:9. I, John, your brother and your partner in tribulation and in the kingdom and patience in Christ Jesus, was in the island which is called Patmos, for the word of God and for the testimony of Jesus.

Ego Iohannes frater vester et particeps in tribulatione et regno et patientia in Iesu fui in insula quae appellatur Patmos propter verbum Dei et testimonium Iesu

1:10. I was in the spirit on the Lord's day and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet,
Fui in spiritu in dominica die et audivi post me vocem magnam tamquam tubae

1:11. Saying: What thou seest, write in a book and send to the seven churches which are in Asia: to Ephesus and to Smyrna and to Pergamus and to Thyatira and to Sardis and to Philadelphia and to Laodicea.

Dicentis quod vides scribe in libro et mitte septem ecclesiis Ephesum et Zmyrnam et Pergamum et Thyatiram et Sardis et Philadelphiam et Laodiciam

1:12. And I turned to see the voice that spoke with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks:

Et conversus sum ut viderem vocem quae loquebatur mecum et conversus vidi septem candelabra aurea

1:13. And in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks, one like to the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the feet, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

Et in medio septem candelabrorum similem Filio hominis vestitum podere et praecinctum ad mamillas zonam auream

1:14. And his head and his hairs were white as white wool and as snow. And his eyes were as a flame of fire:

Caput autem eius et capilli erant candidi tamquam lana alba tamquam nix et oculi eius velut flamma ignis

1:15. And his feet like unto fine brass, as in a burning furnace. And his voice as the sound of many waters.

Et pedes eius similes orichalco sicut in camino ardenti et vox illius tamquam vox aquarum multarum

1:16. And he had in his right hand seven stars. And from his mouth came out a sharp two-edged sword. And his face was as the sun shineth in his power.

Et habebat in dextera sua stellas septem et de ore eius gladius utraque parte acutus exiebat et facies eius sicut sol lucet in virtute sua

1:17. And when I had seen him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying: Fear not. I am the First and the Last,

Et cum vidissem eum cecidi ad pedes eius tamquam mortuus et posuit dexteram suam super me dicens noli timere ego sum primus et novissimus

1:18. And alive, and was dead. And behold I am living for ever and ever and have the keys of death and of hell.

Et vivus et fui mortuus et ecce sum vivens in saecula saeculorum et habeo claves mortis et inferni

1:19. Write therefore the things which thou hast seen: and which are: and which must be done hereafter.

Scribe ergo quae vidisti et quae sunt et quae oportet fieri post haec

1:20. The mystery of the seven stars, which thou sawest in my right hand and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches. And the seven candlesticks are the seven churches.

Sacramentum septem stellarum quas vidisti in dextera mea et septem candelabra aurea septem stellae angeli sunt septem ecclesiarum et candelabra septem septem ecclesiae sunt

Apocalypse Chapter 2

Directions what to write to the angels or bishops of Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamus and Thyatira.

---

2:1. Unto the angel of the church of Ephesus write: These things saith he who holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks:

Angelo Ephesi ecclesiae scribe haec dicit qui tenet septem stellas in dextera sua qui ambulat in medio septem candelabrorum aureorum

2:2. I know thy works and thy labour and thy patience and how thou canst not bear them that are evil. And thou hast tried them who say they are apostles and are not: and hast found them liars:

Scio opera tua et laborem et patientiam tuam et quia non potes sustinere malos et temptasti eos qui se dicunt apostolos et non sunt et invenisti eos mendaces

2:3. And thou hast patience and hast endured for my name and hast not fainted.

Et patientiam habes et sustinuisti propter nomen meum et non defecisti

2:4. But I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first charity.

Sed habeo adversus te quod caritatem tuam primam reliquisti

2:5. Be mindful therefore from whence thou art fallen: and do penance and do the first works. Or else I come to thee and will move thy candlestick out of its place, except thou do penance.

Memor esto itaque unde excideris et age paenitentiam et prima opera fac sin autem venio tibi et movebo candelabrum tuum de loco suo nisi paenitentiam egeris

2:6. But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaites, which I also hate.

Sed hoc habes quia odisti facta Nicolaitarum quae et ego odi

2:7. He that hath an ear let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches: To him that overcometh I will give to eat of the tree of life which is in the paradise of my God.

Qui habet aurem audiat quid Spiritus dicat ecclesiis vincenti dabo ei edere de ligno vitae quod est in paradiso Dei mei

2:8. And to the angel of the church of Smyrna write: These things saith the First and the Last, who was dead and is alive:

Et angelo Zmyrnae ecclesiae scribe haec dicit primus et novissimus qui fuit mortuus et vivit

2:9. I know thy tribulation and thy poverty: but thou art rich. And thou art blasphemed by them that say they are Jews and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan.

Scio tribulationem tuam et paupertatem tuam sed dives es et blasphemaris ab his qui se dicunt Iudaeos esse et non sunt sed sunt synagoga Satanae

2:10. Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer. Behold, the devil will cast some of you into prison, that you may be tried: and you shall have tribulation ten days. Be thou faithful unto death: and I will give thee the crown of life.

Nihil horum timeas quae passurus es ecce missurus est diabolus ex vobis in carcerem ut temptemini et habebitis tribulationem diebus decem esto fidelis usque ad mortem et dabo tibi coronam vitae

2:11. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches: He that shall overcome shall not be hurt by the second death.

Qui habet aurem audiat quid Spiritus dicat ecclesiis qui vicerit non laedetur a morte secunda

2:12. And to the angel of the church of Pergamus write: These things saith he that hath the sharp two-edged sword:

Et angelo Pergami ecclesiae scribe haec dicit qui habet rompbeam utraque parte acutam

2:13. I know where thou dwellest, where the seat of Satan is. And thou holdest fast my name and hast not denied my faith. Even in those days when Antipas was my faithful witness, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

Scio ubi habitas ubi sedes est Satanae et tenes nomen meum et non negasti fidem meam et in diebus Antipas testis meus fidelis qui occisus est apud vos ubi Satanus habitat

2:14. But I have against thee a few things: because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam who taught Balac to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, to eat and to commit fornication.

Sed habeo adversus te pauca quia habes illic tenentes doctrinam Balaam qui docebat Balac mittere scandalum coram filiis Israhel edere et fornicari

2:15. So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaites.

Ita habes et tu tenentes doctrinam Nicolaitarum

2:16. In like manner do penance. If not, I will come to thee quickly and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

Similiter paenitentiam age si quo minus venio tibi cito et pugnabo cum illis in gladio oris mei

2:17. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches: To him that overcometh I will give the hidden manna and will give him a white counter: and in the counter, a new name written, which no man knoweth but he that receiveth it.

Qui habet aurem audiat quid Spiritus dicat ecclesiis vincenti dabo ei manna absconditum et dabo illi calculum candidum et in calculo nomen novum scriptum quod nemo scit nisi qui accipit

2:18. And to the angel of the church of Thyatira write: These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like to a flame of fire and his feet like to fine brass.

Et angelo Thyatirae ecclesiae scribe haec dicit Filius Dei qui habet oculos ut flammam ignis et pedes eius similes orichalco

2:19. I know thy works and thy faith and thy charity and thy ministry and thy patience and thy last works, which are more than the former.

Novi opera tua et caritatem et fidem et ministerium et patientiam tuam et opera tua novissima plura prioribus

2:20. But I have against thee a few things: because thou sufferest the woman Jezabel, who calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants, to commit fornication and to eat of things sacrificed to idols.

Sed habeo adversus te quia permittis mulierem Hiezabel quae se dicit propheten docere et seducere servos meos fornicari et manducare de idolothytis

2:21. And I gave her a time that she might do penance: and she will not repent of her fornication.

Et dedi illi tempus ut paenitentiam ageret et non vult paeniteri a fornicatione sua

2:22. Behold, I will cast her into a bed: and they that commit adultery with her shall be in very great tribulation, except they do penance from their deeds,

Ecce mitto eam in lectum et qui moechantur cum ea in tribulationem maximam nisi paenitentiam egerint ab operibus eius

2:23. And I will kill her children with death: and all the churches shall know that I am he that searcheth the reins and hearts. And I will give to every one of you according to your works. But to you I say,

Et filios eius interficiam in morte et scient omnes ecclesiae quia ego sum scrutans renes et corda et dabo unicuique vestrum secundum opera vestra

2:24. And to the rest who are at Thyatira: Whosoever have not this doctrine and who have not known the depths of Satan, as they say: I will not put upon you any other burthen.

Vobis autem dico ceteris qui Thyatirae estis quicumque non habent doctrinam hanc qui non cognoverunt altitudines Satanae quemadmodum dicunt non mittam super vos aliud pondus

2:25. Yet that which you have, hold fast till I come.

Tamen id quod habetis tenete donec veniam

2:26. And he that shall overcome and keep my words unto the end, I will give him power over the nations. *

Et qui vicerit et qui custodierit usque in finem opera mea dabo illi potestatem super gentes

Power over the nations... This shows, that the saints, who are with Christ our Lord in heaven, receive power from him to preside over nations and provinces, as patrons; and shall come with him at the end of the world to execute his will against those who have not kept his commandments.

2:27. And he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and as the vessel of a potter they shall be broken:

Et reget illas in virga ferrea tamquam vas figuli confringentur

2:28. As I also have received of my Father. And I will give him the morning star.

Sicut et ego accepi a Patre meo et dabo illi stellam matutinam

2:29. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

Qui habet aurem audiat quid Spiritus dicat ecclesiis

Apocalypse Chapter 3

Directions what to write to Sardis, Philadelphia and Laodicea.

3:1. And to the angel of the church of Sardis write: These things saith he that hath the seven spirits of God and the seven stars: I know thy works, and that thou hast the name of being alive. And thou art dead.
Et angelo ecclesiae Sardis scribe haec dicit qui habet septem spiritus Dei et septem stellas scio opera tua quia nomen habes quod vivas et mortuus es

3:2. Be watchful and strengthen the things that remain, which are ready to die. For I find not thy works full before my God.
Esto vigilans et confirma cetera quae moritura erant non enim invenio opera tua plena coram Deo meo

3:3. Have in mind therefore in what manner thou hast received and heard: and observe and do penance: If then thou shalt not watch, I will come to thee as a thief: and thou shalt not know at what hour I will come to thee.
In mente ergo habe qualiter acceperis et audieris et serva et paenitentiam age si ergo non vigilaveris veniam tamquam fur et nescies qua hora veniam ad te

3:4. But thou hast a few names in Sardis which have not defiled their garments: and they shall walk with me in white, because they are worthy.
Sed habes pauca nomina in Sardis qui non inquinaverunt vestimenta sua et ambulabunt mecum in albis quia digni sunt

3:5. He that shall overcome shall thus be clothed in white garments: and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life. And I will confess his name before my Father and before his angels.
Qui vicerit sic vestietur vestimentis albis et non delebo nomen eius de libro vitae et confitebor nomen eius coram Patre meo et coram angelis eius

3:6. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.
Qui habet aurem audiat quid Spiritus dicat ecclesiis

3:7. And to the angel of the church of Philadelphia write: These things saith the Holy One and the true one, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth and no man shutteth, shutteth and no man openeth:
Et angelo Philadelphiae ecclesiae scribe haec dicit sanctus et verus qui habet clavem David qui aperit et nemo cludit et cludit et nemo aperit

3:8. I know thy works. Behold, I have given before thee a door opened, which no man can shut: because thou hast a little strength and hast kept my word and hast not denied my name.
Scio opera tua ecce dedi coram te ostium apertum quod nemo potest cludere quia modicam habes virtutem et servasti verbum meum et non negasti nomen meum

3:9. Behold, I will bring of the synagogue of Satan, who say they are Jews and are not, but do lie. Behold, I will make them to come and adore before thy feet. And they shall know that I have loved thee.
Ecce dabo de synagoga Satanae qui dicunt se Iudaeos esse et non sunt sed mentiuntur ecce faciam illos ut veniant et adorent ante pedes tuos et scient quia ego dilexi te

3:10. Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I will also keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon the whole world to try them that dwell upon the earth.
Quoniam servasti verbum patientiae meae et ego te servabo ab hora temptationis quae ventura est in orbem universum temptare habitantes in terra

3:11. Behold, I come quickly: hold fast that which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.
Venio cito tene quod habes ut nemo accipiat coronam tuam

3:12. He that shall overcome, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God: and he shall go out no more. And I will write upon him the name of my God and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God, and my new name.

Qui vicerit faciam illum columnam in templo Dei mei et foras non egredietur amplius et scribam super eum nomen Dei mei et nomen civitatis Dei mei novae Hierusalem quae descendit de caelo a Deo meo et nomen meum novum

3:13. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

Qui habet aurem audiat quid Spiritus dicat ecclesiis

3:14. And to the angel of the church of Laodicea write: These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, who is the beginning of the creation of God: *

Et angelo Laodiciae ecclesiae scribe haec dicit Amen testis fidelis et verus qui est principium creaturae Dei The Amen... that is, the true one, the Truth itself; the Word and Son of God. The beginning... he arche, that is, the principle, the source, and the efficient cause of the whole creation.

3:15. I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot. I would thou wert cold or hot.

Scio opera tua quia neque frigidus es neque calidus utinam frigidus esses aut calidus

3:16. But because thou art lukewarm and neither cold nor hot, I will begin to vomit thee out of my mouth.

Sed quia tepidus es et nec frigidus nec calidus incipiam te evomere ex ore meo

3:17. Because thou sayest: I am rich and made wealthy and have need of nothing: and knowest not that thou art wretched and miserable and poor and blind and naked.

Quia dicis quod dives sum et locupletatus et nullius egeo et nescis quia tu es miser et miserabilis et pauper et caecus et nudus

3:18. I counsel thee to buy of me gold, fire tried, that thou mayest be made rich and mayest be clothed in white garments: and that the shame of thy nakedness may not appear. And anoint thy eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

Suadeo tibi emere a me aurum ignitum probatum ut locuples fias et vestimentis albis induaris et non appareat confusio nuditatis tuae et collyrio inunges oculos tuos ut videas

3:19. Such as I love, I rebuke and chastise. Be zealous therefore and do penance.

Ego quos amo arguo et castigo aemulare ergo et paenitentiam age

3:20. Behold, I stand at the gate and knock. If any man shall hear my voice and open to me the door, I will come in to him and will sup with him: and he with me.

Ecce sto ad ostium et pulso si quis audierit vocem meam et aperuerit ianuam introibo ad illum et cenabo cum illo et ipse mecum

3:21. To him that shall overcome, I will give to sit with me in my throne: as I also have overcome and am set down with my Father in his throne.

Qui vicerit dabo ei sedere mecum in throno meo sicut et ego vici et sedi cum Patre meo in throno eius

3:22. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

Qui habet aurem audiat quid Spiritus dicat ecclesiis

Apocalypse Chapter 4

The vision of the throne of God, the twenty-four ancients and the four living creatures.

---

4:1. After these things I looked, and behold a door was opened in heaven, and the first voice which I heard, as it were, of a trumpet speaking with me, said: Come up hither, and I will show thee the things which must be done hereafter.

Post haec vidi et ecce ostium apertum in caelo et vox prima quam audivi tamquam tubae loquentis mecum dicens ascende huc et ostendam tibi quae oportet fieri post haec

4:2. And immediately I was in the spirit. And behold, there was a throne set in heaven, and upon the throne one sitting.

Statim fui in spiritu et ecce sedis posita erat in caelo et supra sedem sedens

4:3. And he that sat was to the sight like the jasper and the sardine stone. And there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

Et qui sedebat similis erat aspectui lapidis iaspidis et sardini et iris erat in circuitu sedis similis visioni zmaragdinae

4:4. And round about the throne were four and twenty seats: and upon the seats, four and twenty ancients sitting, clothed in white garments. And on their heads were crowns of gold.

Et in circuitu sedis sedilia viginti quattuor et super thronos viginti quattuor seniores sedentes circumamictos vestimentis albis et in capitibus eorum coronas aureas

4:5. And from the throne proceeded lightnings and voices and thunders. And there were seven lamps burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.

Et de throno procedunt fulgura et voces et tonitrua et septem lampades ardentes ante thronum quae sunt septem spiritus Dei

4:6. And in the sight of the throne was, as it were, a sea of glass like to crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four living creatures, full of eyes before and behind.

Et in conspectu sedis tamquam mare vitreum simile crystallo et in medio sedis et in circuitu sedis quattuor animalia plena oculis ante et retro

4:7. And the first living creature was like a lion: and the second living creature like a calf: and the third living creature, having the face, as it were, of a man: and the fourth living creature was like an eagle flying.

Et animal primum simile leoni et secundum animal simile vitulo et tertium animal habens faciem quasi hominis et quartum animal simile aquilae volanti

4:8. And the four living creatures had each of them six wings: and round about and within they are full of eyes. And they rested not day and night, saying: Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty, who was and who is and who is to come.

Et quattuor animalia singula eorum habebant alas senas et in circuitu et intus plena sunt oculis et requiem non habent die et nocte dicentia sanctus sanctus sanctus Dominus Deus omnipotens qui erat et qui est et qui venturus est

4:9. And when those living creatures gave glory and honour and benediction to him that sitteth on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever:

Et cum darent illa animalia gloriam et honorem et benedictionem sedenti super thronum viventi in saecula saeculorum

4:10. The four and twenty ancients fell down before him that sitteth on the throne and adored him that liveth for ever and ever and cast their crowns before the throne, saying:

Procident viginti quattuor seniores ante sedentem in throno et adorabunt viventem in saecula saeculorum et mittent coronas suas ante thronum dicentes

4:11. Thou art worthy, O Lord our God, to receive glory and honour and power. Because thou hast created all things: and for thy will they were and have been created.

Dignus es Domine et Deus noster accipere gloriam et honorem et virtutem quia tu creasti omnia et propter voluntatem tuam erant et creata sunt

Apocalypse Chapter 5

The book sealed with seven seals is opened by the Lamb, who thereupon receives adoration and praise from all.

---

5:1. And I saw, in the right hand of him that sat on the throne, a book, written within and without, sealed with seven seals.

Et vidi in dextera sedentis super thronum librum scriptum intus et foris signatum sigillis septem

5:2. And I saw a strong angel, proclaiming with a loud voice: Who is worthy to open the book and to loose the seals thereof?

Et vidi angelum fortem praedicantem voce magna quis est dignus aperire librum et solvere signacula eius

5:3. And no man was able, neither in heaven nor on earth nor under the earth, to open the book, nor to look on it.

Et nemo poterat in caelo neque in terra neque subtus terram aperire librum neque respicere illum

5:4. And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open the book, nor to see it.

Et ego flebam multum quoniam nemo dignus inventus est aperire librum nec videre eum

5:5. And one of the ancients said to me: Weep not: behold the lion of the tribe of Juda, the root of David, hath prevailed to open the book and to loose the seven seals thereof.

Et unus de senioribus dicit mihi ne flevetis ecce vicit leo de tribu Iuda radix David aperire librum et septem signacula eius

5:6. And I saw: and behold in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures and in the midst of the ancients, a Lamb standing, as it were slain, having seven horns and seven eyes: which are the seven Spirits of God, sent forth into all the earth.

Et vidi et ecce in medio throni et quattuor animalium et in medio seniorum agnum stantem tamquam occisum habentem cornua septem et oculos septem qui sunt spiritus Dei missi in omnem terram

5:7. And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne.

Et venit et accepit de dextera sedentis de throno

5:8. And when he had opened the book, the four living creatures and the four and twenty ancients fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saints. *

Et cum aperuisset librum quattuor animalia et viginti quattuor seniores ceciderunt coram agno habentes singuli citharas et fialas aureas plenas odoramentorum quae sunt orationes sanctorum

The prayers of saints... Here we see that the saints in heaven offer up to Christ the prayers of the faithful upon earth.

5:9. And they sung a new canticle, saying: Thou art worthy, O Lord, to take the book and to open the seals thereof: because thou wast slain and hast redeemed us to God, in thy blood, out of every tribe and tongue and people and nation:

Et cantant novum canticum dicentes dignus es accipere librum et aperire signacula eius quoniam occisus es et redemisti nos Deo in sanguine tuo ex omni tribu et lingua et populo et natione

5:10. And hast made us to our God a kingdom and priests, and we shall reign on the earth.

Et fecisti eos Deo nostro regnum et sacerdotes et regnabunt super terram

5:11. And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne and the living creatures and the ancients (and the number of them was thousands of thousands),

Et vidi et audivi vocem angelorum multorum in circuitu throni et animalium et seniorum et erat numerus eorum milia milium

5:12. Saying with a loud voice: The Lamb that was slain is worthy to receive power and divinity and wisdom and strength and honour and glory and benediction.

Dicentium voce magna dignus est agnus qui occisus est accipere virtutem et divinitatem et sapientiam et fortitudinem et honorem et gloriam et benedictionem

5:13. And every creature which is in heaven and on the earth and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, I heard all saying: To him that sitteth on the throne and to the Lamb, benediction and honour and glory and power, for ever and ever.

Et omnem creaturam quae in caelo est et super terram et sub terram et quae sunt in mari et quae in ea omnes audivi dicentes sedenti in throno et agno benedictio et honor et gloria et potestas in saecula saeculorum

5:14. And the four living creatures said: Amen. And the four and twenty ancients fell down on their faces and adored him that liveth for ever and ever.

Et quattuor animalia dicebant amen et seniores ceciderunt et adoraverunt

Apocalypse Chapter 6

What followed upon opening six of the seals.

6:1. And I saw that the Lamb had opened one of the seven seals: and I heard one of the four living creatures, as it were the voice of thunder, saying: Come and see.

Et vidi quod aperuisset agnus unum de septem signaculis et audivi unum de quattuor animalibus dicentem tamquam vocem tonitruui veni

6:2. And I saw: and behold a white horse, and he that sat on him had a bow, and there was a crown given him, and he went forth conquering that he might conquer.*

Et vidi et ecce equus albus et qui sedebat super illum habebat arcum et data est ei corona et exivit vincens ut vinceret

White horse... He that sitteth on the white horse is Christ, going forth to subdue the world by his gospel. The other horses that follow represent the judgments and punishment that were to fall on the enemies of Christ and his church. The red horse signifies war; the black horse, famine; and the pale horse (which has Death for its rider), plagues or pestilence.

6:3. And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying: Come and see.

Et cum aperuisset sigillum secundum audivi secundum animal dicens veni

6:4. And there went out another horse that was red. And to him that sat thereon, it was given that he should take peace from the earth: and that they should kill one another. And a great sword was given to him.

Et exivit alius equus rufus et qui sedebat super illum datum est ei ut sumeret pacem de terra et ut invicem se interficiant et datus est illi gladius magnus

6:5. And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature saying: Come and see. And behold a black horse. And he that sat on him had a pair of scales in his hand.

Et cum aperuisset sigillum tertium audivi tertium animal dicens veni et vidi et ecce equus niger et qui sedebat super eum habebat stateram in manu sua

6:6. And I heard, as it were a voice in the midst of the four living creatures, saying: Two pounds of wheat for a penny, and thrice two pounds of barley for a penny: and see thou hurt not the wine and the oil.

Et audivi tamquam vocem in medio quattuor animalium dicentem bilibris tritici denario et tres bilibres hordei denario et vinum et oleum ne laeseris

6:7. And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature saying: Come and see.

Et cum aperuisset sigillum quartum audivi vocem quarti animalis dicentis veni et vidi

6:8. And behold a pale horse: and he that sat upon him, his name was Death. And hell followed him. And power was given to him over the four parts of the earth, to kill with sword, with famine and with death and with the beasts of the earth.

Et ecce equus pallidus et qui sedebat desuper nomen illi Mors et inferus sequebatur eum et data est illi potestas super quattuor partes terrae interficere gladio fame et morte et bestiis terrae

6:9. And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God and for the testimony which they held.*

Et cum aperuisset quintum sigillum vidi subtus altare animas interfectorum propter verbum Dei et propter testimonium quod habebant

Under the altar... Christ, as man, is this altar, under which the souls of the martyrs live in heaven, as their bodies are here deposited under our altars.

6:10. And they cried with a loud voice, saying: How long, O Lord (Holy and True), dost thou not judge and revenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?*

Et clamabant voce magna dicentes usquequo Domine sanctus et verus non iudicas et vindicas sanguinem nostrum de his qui habitant in terra

Revenge our blood... They ask not this out of hatred to their enemies, but out of zeal for the glory of God, and a desire that the Lord would accelerate the general judgment, and the complete beatitude of all his elect.

6:11. And white robes were given to every one of them one; And it was said to them that they should rest for a little time till their fellow servants and their brethren, who are to be slain even as they, should be filled up.

Et datae sunt illis singulae stolae albae et dictum est illis ut requiescerent tempus adhuc modicum donec impleantur conservi eorum et fratres eorum qui interficiendi sunt sicut et illi

6:12. And I saw, when he had opened the sixth seal: and behold there was a great earthquake. And the sun became black as sackcloth of hair: and the whole moon became as blood.

Et vidi cum aperuisset sigillum sextum et terraemotus factus est magnus et sol factus est niger tamquam saccus cilicinus et luna tota facta est sicut sanguis

6:13. And the stars from heaven fell upon the earth, as the fig tree casteth its green figs when it is shaken by a great wind.

Et stellae caeli ceciderunt super terram sicut ficus mittit grossos suos cum vento magno movetur

6:14. And the heaven departed as a book folded up. And every mountain, and the islands, were moved out of their places.

Et caelum recessit sicut liber involutus et omnis mons et insulae de locis suis motae sunt

6:15. And the kings of the earth and the princes and tribunes and the rich and the strong and every bondman and every freeman hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of mountains:

Et reges terrae et principes et tribuni et divites et fortes et omnis servus et liber absconderunt se in speluncis et petris montium

6:16. And they say to the mountains and the rocks: Fall upon us and hide us from the face of him that sitteth upon the throne and from the wrath of the Lamb.

Et dicunt montibus et petris cadite super nos et abscondite nos a facie sedentis super thronum et ab ira agni

6:17. For the great day of their wrath is come. And who shall be able to stand?

Quoniam venit dies magnus irae ipsorum et quis poterit stare

Apocalypse Chapter 7

The number of them that were marked with the seal of the living God and clothed in white robes.

---

7:1. After these things, I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that they should not blow upon the earth nor upon the sea nor on any tree.

Post haec vidi quattuor angelos stantes super quattuor angulos terrae tenentes quattuor ventos terrae ne flaret ventus super terram neque super mare neque in ullam arborem

7:2. And I saw another angel ascending from the rising of the sun, having the sign of the living God. And he cried with a loud voice to the four angels to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

Et vidi alterum angelum ascendentem ab ortu solis habentem signum Dei vivi et clamavit voce magna quattuor angelis quibus datum est nocere terrae et mari

7:3. Saying: Hurt not the earth nor the sea nor the trees, till we sign the servants of our God in their foreheads.

Dicens nolite nocere terrae neque mari neque arboribus quoadusque signemus servos Dei nostri in frontibus eorum

7:4. And I heard the number of them that were signed. An hundred forty-four thousand were signed, of every tribe of the children of Israel.

Et audivi numerum signatorum centum quadraginta quattuor milia signati ex omni tribu filiorum Israhel

7:5. Of the tribe of Juda, twelve thousand signed: Of the tribe of Ruben, twelve thousand signed: Of the tribe of Gad, twelve thousand signed:

Ex tribu Iuda duodecim milia signati ex tribu Ruben duodecim milia ex tribu Gad duodecim milia

7:6. Of the tribe of Aser, twelve thousand signed: Of the tribe of Nephthali, twelve thousand signed: Of the tribe of Manasses, twelve thousand signed:

Ex tribu Aser duodecim milia ex tribu Nephthalim duodecim milia ex tribu Manasse duodecim milia

7:7. Of the tribe of Simeon, twelve thousand signed: Of the tribe of Levi, twelve thousand signed: Of the tribe of Issachar, twelve thousand signed:

Ex tribu Symeon duodecim milia ex tribu Levi duodecim milia ex tribu Issachar duodecim milia

7:8. Of the tribe of Zabulon, twelve thousand signed: Of the tribe of Joseph, twelve thousand signed: Of the tribe of Benjamin, twelve thousand signed.

Ex tribu Zabulon duodecim milia ex tribu Ioseph duodecim milia ex tribu Benjamin duodecim milia signati

7:9. After this, I saw a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations and tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and in sight of the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands.

Post haec vidi turbam magnam quam dinumerare nemo poterat ex omnibus gentibus et tribubus et populis et linguis stantes ante thronum et in conspectu agni amicti stolas albas et palmae in manibus eorum

7:10. And they cried with a loud voice, saying: Salvation to our God, who sitteth upon the throne and to the Lamb.

Et clamabant voce magna dicentes salus Deo nostro qui sedet super thronum et agno

7:11. And all the angels stood round about the throne and the ancients and the four living creatures. And they fell down before the throne upon their faces and adored God,

Et omnes angeli stabant in circuitu throni et seniorum et quattuor animalium et ceciderunt in conspectu throni in facies suas et adoraverunt Deum

7:12. Saying: Amen. Benediction and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving, honour and power and strength, to our God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Dicentes amen benedictio et claritas et sapientia et gratiarum actio et honor et virtus et fortitudo Deo nostro in saecula saeculorum amen

7:13. And one of the ancients answered and said to me: These that are clothed in white robes, who are they? And whence came they?

Et respondit unus de senioribus dicens mihi hii qui amicti sunt stolis albis qui sunt et unde venerunt

7:14. And I said to him: My Lord, thou knowest. And he said to me: These are they who are come out of great tribulation and have washed their robes and have made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

Et dixi illi domine mi tu scis et dixit mihi hii sunt qui veniunt de tribulatione magna et laverunt stolas suas et dealbaverunt eas in sanguine agni

7:15. Therefore, they are before the throne of God: and they serve him day and night in his temple. And he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell over them.

Ideo sunt ante thronum Dei et serviunt ei die ac nocte in templo eius et qui sedet in throno habitabit super illos

7:16. They shall no more hunger nor thirst: neither shall the sun fall on them, nor any heat.

Non esurient neque sitient amplius neque cadet super illos sol neque ullus aestus

7:17. For the Lamb, which is in the midst of the throne, shall rule them and shall lead them to the fountains of the waters of life: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

Quoniam agnus qui in medio throni est reget illos et deducet eos ad vitae fontes aquarum et absterget Deus omnem lacrimam ex oculis eorum

Apocalypse Chapter 8

The seventh seal is opened. The angels with the seven trumpets.

8:1. And when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven, as it were for half an hour.

Et cum aperuisset sigillum septimum factum est silentium in caelo quasi media hora

8:2. And I saw seven angels standing in the presence of God: and there were given to them seven trumpets.

Et vidi septem angelos stantes in conspectu Dei et datae sunt illis septem tubae

8:3. And another angel came and stood before the altar, having a golden censer: and there was given to him much incense, that he should offer of the prayers of all saints, upon the golden altar which is before the throne of God.

Et alius angelus venit et stetit ante altare habens turibulum aureum et data sunt illi incensa multa ut daret orationibus sanctorum omnium super altare aureum quod est ante thronum

8:4. And the smoke of the incense of the prayers of the saints ascended up before God from the hand of the angel.

Et ascendit fumus incensorum de orationibus sanctorum de manu angeli coram Deo

8:5. And the angel took the censer and filled it with the fire of the altar and cast it on the earth: and there were thunders and voices and lightnings and a great earthquake.

Et accepit angelus turibulum et implevit illud de igne altaris et misit in terram et facta sunt tonitrua et voces et fulgora et terraemotus

8:6. And the seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound the trumpet.

Et septem angeli qui habebant septem tubas paraverunt se ut tuba canerent

8:7. And the first angel sounded the trumpet: and there followed hail and fire, mingled with blood: and it was cast on the earth. And the third part of the earth was burnt up: and the third part of the trees was burnt up: and all green grass was burnt up.

Et primus tuba cecinit et facta est grando et ignis mixta in sanguine et missum est in terram et tertia pars terrae combusta est et tertia pars arborum combusta est et omne faenum viride combustum est

8:8. And the second angel sounded the trumpet: and, as it were, a great mountain, burning with fire, was cast into the sea. And the third part of the sea became blood.

Et secundus angelus tuba cecinit et tamquam mons magnus igne ardens missus est in mare et facta est tertia pars maris sanguis

8:9. And the third part of those creatures died which had life in the sea: and the third part of the ships was destroyed.

Et mortua est tertia pars creaturae quae habent animas et tertia pars navium interiit

8:10. And the third angel sounded the trumpet: and a great star fell from heaven, burning as it were a torch. And it fell on the third part of the rivers and upon the fountains of waters:

Et tertius angelus tuba cecinit et cecidit de caelo stella magna ardens tamquam facula et cecidit in tertiam partem fluminum et in fontes aquarum

8:11. And the name of the star is called Wormwood. And the third part of the waters became wormwood. And many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

Et nomen stellae dicitur Absinthius et facta est tertia pars aquarum in absinthium et multi hominum mortui sunt de aquis quia amarae factae sunt

8:12. And the fourth angel sounded the trumpet: and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars, so that the third part of them was darkened. And the day did not shine for a third part of it: and the night in like manner.

Et quartus angelus tuba cecinit et percussa est tertia pars solis et tertia pars lunae et tertia pars stellarum ut obscuraretur tertia pars eorum et diei non luceret pars tertia et nox similiter

8:13. And I beheld: and heard the voice of one eagle flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice: Woe, Woe, Woe to the inhabitants of the earth, by reason of the rest of the voices of the three angels, who are yet to sound the trumpet!

Et vidi et audivi vocem unius aquilae volantis per medium caelum dicentis voce magna vae vae vae habitantibus in terra de ceteris vocibus tubae trium angelorum qui erant tuba canituri

Apocalypse Chapter 9

Locusts come forth from the bottomless pit. The vision of the army of horsemen.

---

9:1. And the fifth angel sounded the trumpet: and I saw a star fall from heaven upon the earth. And there was given to him the key of the bottomless pit. *

Et quintus angelus tuba cecinit et vidi stellam de caelo cecidisse in terram et data est illi clavis putei abyssi

A star fall... This may mean the fall and apostasy of great and learned men from the true faith. Or a whole nation falling into error and separating from the church, not having the sign of God in their foreheads. And there was given to him the key of the bottomless pit... That is, to the angel, not to the fallen star. To this angel was given the power, which is here signified by a key, of opening hell.

9:2. And he opened the bottomless pit: and the smoke of the pit arose, as the smoke of a great furnace. And the sun and the air were darkened with the smoke of the pit.

Et aperuit puteum abyssi et ascendit fumes putei sicut fumes fornacis magnae et obscuratus est sol et aer de fumo putei

9:3. And from the smoke of the pit there came out locusts upon the earth. And power was given to them, as the scorpions of the earth have power. *

Et de fumo exierunt lucustae in terram et data est illis potestas sicut habent potestatem scorpiones terrae

There came out locusts... These may be devils in Antichrist's time, having the appearance of locusts, but large and monstrous, as here described. Or they may be real locusts, but of an extraordinary size and monstrous shape, such as were never before seen on earth, sent to torment those who have not the sign (or seal) of God on their foreheads. Some commentators by these locusts understand heretics, and especially those heretics, that sprung from Jews, and with them denied the divinity of Jesus Christ; as Theodotus, Praxeas, Noetus, Paul of Samosata, Sabellius, Arius, etc. These were great enemies of the Christian religion; they tormented and infected the souls of men, stinging them like scorpions, with the poison of their heresies. Others have explained these locusts, and other animals, mentioned in different places throughout this sacred and mystical book, in a most absurd, fanciful, and ridiculous manner; they make Abaddon the Pope, and the locusts to be friars mendicant, etc. Here it is thought proper, not to enter into any controversy upon that subject, as the inventors of these fancies have been already answered, and fully refuted by many controvertists: besides, those who might be imposed on by such chimerical writers, are in these days much better informed.

9:4. And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth nor any green thing nor any tree: but only the men who have not the sign of God on their foreheads.

Et praeceptum est illis ne laederent faenum terrae neque omne viride neque omnem arborem nisi tantum homines qui non habent signum Dei in frontibus

9:5. And it was given unto them that they should not kill them: but that they should torment them five months. And their torment was as the torment of a scorpion when he striketh a man.

Et datum est illis ne occiderent eos sed ut cruciarentur mensibus quinque et cruciatus eorum ut cruciatus scorpium cum percutit hominem

9:6. And in those days, men shall seek death and shall not find it. And they shall desire to die: and death shall fly from them.

Et in diebus illis quaerent homines mortem et non invenient eam et desiderabunt mori et fugiet mors ab ipsis

9:7. And the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle. And on their heads were, as it were, crowns like gold: and their faces were as the faces of men.

Et similitudines lucustarum similes equis paratis in proelium et super capita earum tamquam coronae similes auro et facies earum sicut facies hominum

9:8. And they had hair as the hair of women: and their teeth were as lions.

Et habebant capillos sicut capillos mulierum et dentes earum sicut leonum erant

9:9. And they had breastplates as breastplates of iron: and the noise of their wings was as the noise of chariots and many horses running to battle.

Et habebant loricas sicut loricas ferreas et vox alarum earum sicut vox curruum equorum multorum

currentium in bellum

9:10. And they had tails like to scorpions: and there were stings in their tails. And their power was to hurt men, five months. And they had over them

Et habebant caudas similes scorpionum et aculei in caudis earum potestas earum nocere hominibus mensibus quinque

9:11. A king, the angel of the bottomless pit (whose name in Hebrew is Abaddon and in Greek Apollyon, in Latin Exterminans).

Et habebant super se regem angelum abyssi cui nomen hebraice Abaddon graece autem Apollyon et latine habet nomen Exterminans

9:12. One woe is past: and behold there come yet two woes more hereafter.

Vae unum abiit ecce veniunt adhuc duo vae post haec

9:13. And the sixth angel sounded the trumpet: and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before the eyes of God,

Et sextus angelus tuba cecinit et audivi vocem unum ex cornibus altaris aurei quod est ante oculos Dei

9:14. Saying to the sixth angel who had the trumpet: Loose the four angels who are bound in the great river Euphrates.

Dicentem sexto angelo qui habebat tubam solve quattuor angelos qui alligati sunt in flumine magno Eufrate

9:15. And the four angels were loosed, who were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year: for to kill the third part of men.

Et soluti sunt quattuor angeli qui parati erant in horam et diem et mensem et annum ut occiderent tertiam partem hominum

9:16. And the number of the army of horsemen was twenty thousand times ten thousand. And I heard the number of them.

Et numerus equestris exercitus vicies milies dena milia audivi numerum eorum

9:17. And thus I saw the horses in the vision. And they that sat on them had breastplates of fire and of hyacinth and of brimstone. And the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions: and from their mouths proceeded fire and smoke and brimstone.

Et ita vidi equos in visione et qui sedebant super eos habentes loricas igneas et hyacinthinas et sulphureas et capita equorum erant tamquam capita leonum et de ore ipsorum procedit ignis et fumus et sulphur

9:18. And by these three plagues was slain the third part of men, by the fire and by the smoke and by the brimstone which issued out of their mouths.

Ab his tribus plagis occisa est tertia pars hominum de igne et fumo et sulphure qui procedebat ex ore ipsorum

9:19. For the power of the horses is in their mouths and in their tails. For, their tails are like to serpents and have heads: and with them they hurt.

Potestas enim equorum in ore eorum est et in caudis eorum nam caudae illorum similes serpentibus habentes capita et in his nocent

9:20. And the rest of the men, who were not slain by these plagues, did not do penance from the works of their hands, that they should not adore devils and idols of gold and silver and brass and stone and wood, which neither can see nor hear nor walk:

Et ceteri homines qui non sunt occisi in his plagis neque paenitentiam egerunt de operibus manuum suarum ut non adorarent daemonia et simulacra aurea et argentea et aerea et lapidea et lignea quae neque videre possunt neque audire neque ambulare

9:21. Neither did they penance from their murders nor from their sorceries nor from their fornication nor from their thefts.

Et non egerunt paenitentiam ab homicidiis suis neque a veneficiis suis neque a fornicatione sua neque a furtis suis

Apocalypse Chapter 10

The cry of a mighty angel. He gives John a book to eat.

---

10:1. And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud. And a rainbow was on his head: and his face, as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire.

Et vidi alium angelum fortem descendentem de caelo amictum nube et iris in capite eius et facies eius erat ut sol et pedes eius tamquam columna ignis

10:2. And he had in his hand a little book, open. And he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot upon the earth.

Et habebat in manu sua libellum apertum et posuit pedem suum dextrum supra mare sinistrum autem super terram

10:3. And he cried with a loud voice as when a lion roareth. And when he had cried, seven thunders uttered their voices.

Et clamavit voce magna quemadmodum cum leo rugit et cum clamasset locuta sunt septem tonitrua voces suas

10:4. And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write. And I heard a voice from heaven saying to me: Seal up the things which the seven thunders have spoken. And write them not.

Et cum locuta fuissent septem tonitrua scripturus eram et audivi vocem de caelo dicentem signa quae locuta sunt septem tonitrua et noli ea scribere

10:5. And the angel whom I saw standing upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his hand to heaven.

Et angelum quem vidi stantem supra mare et supra terram levavit manum suam ad caelum

10:6. And he swore by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven and the things which are therein, and the earth and the things which are in it, and the sea and the things which are therein: That time shall be no longer.

Et iuravit per viventem in saecula saeculorum qui creavit caelum et ea quae in illo sunt et terram et ea quae in ea sunt et mare et quae in eo sunt quia tempus amplius non erit

10:7. But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound the trumpet, the mystery of God shall be finished, as he hath declared by his servants the prophets.*

Sed in diebus vocis septimi angeli cum coeperit tuba canere et consummabitur mysterium Dei sicut evangelizavit per servos suos prophetas

Declared... literally evangelized, to signify the good tidings, agreeable to the Gospel, of the final victory of Christ, and of that eternal life, which should be the reward of the temporal sufferings of the martyrs and faithful servants of God.

10:8. And I heard a voice from heaven, again speaking to me and saying: Go and take the book that is open, from the hand of the angel who standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

Et vox quam audivi de caelo iterum loquentem mecum et dicentem vade accipe librum apertum de manu angeli stantis supra mare et supra terram

10:9. And I went to the angel, saying unto him that he should give me the book. And he said to me: Take the book and eat it up. And it shall make thy belly bitter: but in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey.

Et abii ad angelum dicens ei ut daret mihi librum et dicit mihi accipe et devora illum et faciet amaricare ventrem tuum sed in ore tuo erit dulce tamquam mel

10:10. And I took the book from the hand of the angel and ate it up: and it was in my mouth, sweet as honey. And when I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

Et accepi librum de manu angeli et devoravi eum et erat in ore meo tamquam mel dulce et cum devorassem eum amaricatus est venter meus

10:11. And he said to me: Thou must prophecy again to many nations and peoples and tongues and kings.

Et dicunt mihi oportet te iterum prophetare populis et gentibus et linguis et regibus multis

Apocalypse Chapter 11

He is ordered to measure the temple. The two witnesses.

---

11:1. And there was given me a reed, like unto a rod. And it was said to me: Arise, and measure the temple of God and the altar and them that adore therein.

Et datus est mihi calamus similis virgae dicens surge et metire templum Dei et altare et adorantes in eo

11:2. But the court which is without the temple, cast out and measure it not: because it is given unto the Gentiles. And the holy city they shall tread under foot, two and forty months:

Atrium autem quod est foris templum eice foras et ne metieris eum quoniam datum est gentibus et civitatem sanctam calcabunt mensibus quadraginta duobus

11:3. And I will give unto my two witnesses: and they shall prophecy, a thousand two hundred sixty days, clothed in sackcloth.*

Et dabo duobus testibus meis et prophetabunt diebus mille ducentis sexaginta amicti saccos

My two witnesses... It is commonly understood of Henoah and Elias.

11:4. These are the two olive trees and the two candlesticks that stand before the Lord of the earth.

Hii sunt duo olivae et duo candelabra in conspectu Domini terrae stantes

11:5. And if any man will hurt them, fire shall come out of their mouths and shall devour their enemies. And if any man will hurt them, in this manner must he be slain.

Et si quis eos voluerit nocere ignis exiet de ore illorum et devorabit inimicos eorum et si quis voluerit eos laedere sic oportet eum occidi

11:6. These have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: And they have power over waters, to turn them into blood and to strike the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

Hii habent potestatem cludendi caelum ne pluatur diebus prophetiae ipsorum et potestatem habent super aquas convertendi eas in sanguinem et percutere terram omni plaga quotienscumque voluerint

11:7. And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that ascendeth out of the abyss shall make war against them and shall overcome them and kill them.

Et cum finierint testimonium suum bestia quae ascendit de abyssu faciet adversus illos bellum et vincet eos et occidet illos

11:8. And their bodies shall lie in the streets of the great city which is called spiritually, Sodom and Egypt: where their Lord also was crucified.

Et corpora eorum in plateis civitatis magnae quae vocatur spiritaliter Sodoma et Aegyptus ubi et Dominus eorum crucifixus est

11:9. And they of the tribes and peoples and tongues and nations shall see their bodies for three days and a half: and they shall not suffer their bodies to be laid in sepulchres.

Et videbunt de populis et tribubus et linguis et gentibus corpora eorum per tres dies et dimidium et corpora eorum non sinunt poni in monumentis

11:10. And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them and make merry: and shall send gifts one to another, because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt upon the earth.

Et inhabitantes terram gaudebunt super illis et iucundabuntur et munera mittent invicem quoniam hii duo prophetae cruciaverunt eos qui inhabitant super terram

11:11. And after three days and a half, the spirit of life from God entered into them. And they stood upon their feet: and great fear fell upon them that saw them.

Et post dies tres et dimidium spiritus vitae a Deo intravit in eos et steterunt super pedes suos et timor magnus cecidit super eos qui viderunt eos

11:12. And they heard a great voice from heaven, saying to them: Come up hither. And they went up to heaven in a cloud: and their enemies saw them.

Et audierunt vocem magnam de caelo dicentem illis ascendite huc et ascenderunt in caelum in nube et viderunt illos inimici eorum

11:13. And at that hour there was made a great earthquake: and the tenth part of the city fell. And there were slain in the earthquake, names of men, seven thousand: and the rest were cast into a fear and gave glory to the God of heaven.

Et in illa hora factus est terraemotus magnus et decima pars civitatis cecidit et occisi sunt in terraemotu nomina hominum septem milia et reliqui in timore sunt missi et dederunt gloriam Deo caeli

11:14. The second woe is past: and behold the third woe will come quickly.

Vae secundum abiit ecce vae tertium veniet cito

11:15. And the seventh angel sounded the trumpet: and there were great voices in heaven, saying: The kingdom of this world is become our Lord's and his Christ's, and he shall reign for ever and ever. Amen.

Et septimus angelus tuba cecinit et factae sunt voces magnae in caelo dicentes factum est regnum huius mundi Domini nostri et Christi eius et regnabit in saecula saeculorum

11:16. And the four and twenty ancients who sit on their seats in the sight of God, fell on their faces and adored God, saying:

Et viginti quattuor seniores qui in conspectu Dei sedent in sedibus suis ceciderunt in facies suas et adoraverunt Deum

11:17. We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, who art and who wast and who art to come: because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and thou hast reigned.

Dicentes gratias agimus tibi Domine Deus omnipotens qui es et qui eras quia accepisti virtutem tuam magnam et regnasti

11:18. And the nations were angry: and thy wrath is come. And the time of the dead, that they should be judged and that thou shouldest render reward to thy servants the prophets and the saints, and to them that fear thy name, little and great: and shouldest destroy them who have corrupted the earth.

Et iratae sunt gentes et advenit ira tua et tempus mortuorum iudicari et reddere mercedem servis tuis prophetis et sanctis et timentibus nomen tuum pusillis et magnis et exterminandi eos qui corruerunt terram

11:19. And the temple of God was opened in heaven: and the ark of his testament was seen in his temple. And there were lightnings and voices and an earthquake and great hail.

Et apertum est templum Dei in caelo et visa est arca testamenti eius in templo eius et facta sunt fulgora et voces et terraemotus et grando magna

Apocalypse Chapter 12

The vision of the woman clothed with the sun and of the great dragon her persecutor.

---

12:1. And a great sign appeared in heaven: A woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars.*

Et signum magnum paruit in caelo mulier amicta sole et luna sub pedibus eius et in capite eius corona stellarum duodecim

A woman... The church of God. It may also, by allusion, be applied to our blessed Lady. The church is clothed with the sun, that is, with Christ: she hath the moon, that is, the changeable things of the world, under her feet: and the twelve stars with which she is crowned, are the twelve apostles: she is in labour and pain, whilst she brings forth her children, and Christ in them, in the midst of afflictions and persecutions.

12:2. And being with child, she cried travailing in birth: and was in pain to be delivered.

Et in utero habens et clamat parturiens et cruciatur ut pariat

12:3. And there was seen another sign in heaven. And behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns and on his heads seven diadems.

Et visum est aliud signum in caelo et ecce draco magnus rufus habens capita septem et cornua decem et in capitibus suis septem diademata

12:4. And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven and cast them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman who was ready to be delivered: that, when she should be delivered, he might devour her son.

Et cauda eius trahebat tertiam partem stellarum caeli et misit eas in terram et draco stetit ante mulierem quae erat paritura ut cum peperisset filium eius devoraret

12:5. And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with an iron rod. And her son was taken up to God and to his throne.

Et peperit filium masculinum qui rectorus erit omnes gentes in virga ferrea et raptus est filius eius ad Deum et ad thronum eius

12:6. And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she had a place prepared by God, that there they should feed her, a thousand two hundred sixty days.

Et mulier fugit in solitudinem ubi habet locum paratum a Deo ut ibi pascant illam diebus mille ducentis sexaginta

12:7. And there was a great battle in heaven: Michael and his angels fought with the dragon, and the dragon fought, and his angels.

Et factum est proelium in caelo Michahel et angeli eius proeliabantur cum dracone et draco pugnabat et angeli eius

12:8. And they prevailed not: neither was their place found any more in heaven.

Et non valuerunt neque locus inventus est eorum amplius in caelo

12:9. And that great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, who is called the devil and Satan, who seduceth the whole world. And he was cast unto the earth: and his angels were thrown down with him.

Et proiectus est draco ille magnus serpens antiquus qui vocatur Diabolus et Satanas qui seducit universum orbem proiectus est in terram et angeli eius cum illo missi sunt

12:10. And I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying: Now is come salvation and strength and the kingdom of our God and the power of his Christ: because the accuser of our brethren is cast forth, who accused them before our God day and night.

Et audivi vocem magnam in caelo dicentem nunc facta est salus et virtus et regnum Dei nostri et potestas

Christi eius quia proiectus est accusator fratrum nostrorum qui accusabat illos ante conspectum Dei nostri die ac nocte

12:11. And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of the testimony: and they loved not their lives unto death.

Et ipsi vicerunt illum propter sanguinem agni et propter verbum testimonii sui et non dilexerunt animam suam usque ad mortem

12:12. Therefore, rejoice, O heavens, and you that dwell therein. Woe to the earth and to the sea, because the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, knowing that he hath but a short time.

Propterea laetamini caeli et qui habitatis in eis vae terrae et mari quia descendit diabolus ad vos habens iram magnam sciens quod modicum tempus habet

12:13. And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman who brought forth the man child.

Et postquam vidit draco quod proiectus est in terram persecutus est mulierem quae peperit masculum

12:14. And there were given to the woman two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the desert, unto her place, where she is nourished for a time and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

Et datae sunt mulieri duae alae aquilae magnae ut volaret in desertum in locum suum ubi alitur per tempus et tempora et dimidium temporis a facie serpentis

12:15. And the serpent cast out of his mouth, after the woman, water, as it were a river: that he might cause her to be carried away by the river.

Et misit serpens ex ore suo post mulierem aquam tamquam flumen ut eam faceret trahi a flumine

12:16. And the earth helped the woman: and the earth opened her mouth and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

Et adiuvit terra mulierem et aperuit terra os suum et absorbit flumen quod misit draco de ore suo

12:17. And the dragon was angry against the woman: and went to make war with the rest of her seed, who keep the commandments of God and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.

Et iratus est draco in mulierem et abiit facere proelium cum reliquis de semine eius qui custodiunt mandata Dei et habent testimonium Iesu

12:18. And he stood upon the sand of the sea.

Et stetit super harenam maris

Apocalypse Chapter 13

Of the beast with seven heads and of a second beast.

13:1. And I saw a beast coming up out the sea, having seven heads and ten horns: and upon his horns, ten diadems: and upon his heads, names of blasphemy. *

Et vidi de mare bestiam ascendentem habentem capita septem et cornua decem et super cornua eius decem diademata et super capita eius nomina blasphemiae

A beast... This first beast with seven heads and ten horns, is probably the whole company of infidels, enemies and persecutors of the people of God, from the beginning to the end of the world. The seven heads are seven kings, that is, seven principal kingdoms or empires, which have exercised, or shall exercise, tyrannical power over the people of God; of these, five were then fallen, viz.: the Egyptian, Assyrian, Chaldean, Persian, and Grecian monarchies: one was present, viz., the empire of Rome: and the seventh and chiefest was to come, viz., the great Antichrist and his empire. The ten horns may be understood of ten lesser persecutors.

13:2. And the beast which I saw was like to a leopard: and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion. And the dragon gave him his own strength and great power.

Et bestiam quam vidi similis erat pardo et pedes eius sicut ursi et os eius sicut os leonis et dedit illi draco virtutem suam et potestatem magnam

13:3. And I saw one of his heads as it were slain to death: and his death's wound was healed. And all the earth was in admiration after the beast. *

Et unum de capitibus suis quasi occisum in mortem et plaga mortis eius curata est et admirata est universa terra post bestiam

One of his heads, etc... Some understand this of the mortal wound, which the idolatry of the Roman empire (signified by the sixth head) received from Constantine; which was, as it were, healed again by Julian the Apostate.

13:4. And they adored the dragon which gave power to the beast. And they adored the beast, saying: Who is like to the beast? And who shall be able to fight with him?

Et adoraverunt draconem quia dedit potestatem bestiae et adoraverunt bestiam dicentes quis similis bestiae et quis poterit pugnare cum ea

13:5. And there was given to him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies: and power was given to him to do, two and forty months.

Et datum est ei os loquens magna et blasphemiae et data est illi potestas facere menses quadraginta duo

13:6. And he opened his mouth unto blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name and his tabernacle and them that dwell in heaven. *

Et aperuit os suum in blasphemias ad Deum blasphemare nomen eius et tabernaculum eius et eos qui in caelo habitant

His tabernacle, etc... That is, his church and his saints.

13:7. And it was given unto him to make war with the saints and to overcome them. And power was given him over every tribe and people and tongue and nation.

Et datum est illi bellum facere cum sanctis et vincere illos et data est ei potestas in omnem tribum et populum et linguam et gentem

13:8. And all that dwell upon the earth adored him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb which was slain from the beginning of the world. *

Et adorabunt eum omnes qui inhabitant terram quorum non sunt scripta nomina in libro vitae agni qui occisus est ab origine mundi

Slain from the beginning, etc... In the foreknowledge of God; and inasmuch as all mercy and grace, from the beginning, was given in view of his death and passion.

13:9. If any man have an ear, let him hear.

Si quis habet aurem audiat

13:10. He that shall lead into captivity shall go into captivity: he that shall kill by the sword must be killed by the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

Qui in captivitatem in captivitate vadit qui in gladio occiderit oportet eum gladio occidi hic est patientia et fides sanctorum

13:11. And I saw another beast coming up out of the earth: and he had two horns, like a lamb: and he spoke as a dragon. *

Et vidi aliam bestiam ascendentem de terra et habebat cornua duo similia agni et loquebatur sicut draco

Another beast... This second beast with two horns, may be understood of the heathenish priests and magicians; the principal promoters both of idolatry and persecution.

13:12. And he executed all the power of the former beast in his sight. And he caused the earth and them that dwell therein to adore the first beast, whose wound to death was healed.

Et potestatem prioris bestiae omnem faciebat in conspectu eius et facit terram et inhabitantes in eam adorare bestiam primam cuius curata est plaga mortis

13:13. And he did great signs, so that he made also fire to come down from heaven unto the earth, in the sight of men.

Et fecit signa magna ut etiam ignem faceret de caelo descendere in terram in conspectu hominum

13:14. And he seduced them that dwell on the earth, for the signs which were given him to do in the sight of the beast: saying to them that dwell on the earth that they should make the image of the beast which had the wound by the sword and lived.

Et seducit habitantes terram propter signa quae data sunt illi facere in conspectu bestiae dicens habitantibus in terra ut faciant imaginem bestiae quae habet plagam gladii et vixit

13:15. And it was given him to give life to the image of the beast: and that the image of the beast should speak: and should cause that whosoever will not adore the image of the beast should be slain.

Et datum est illi ut daret spiritum imagini bestiae ut et loquatur imago bestiae et faciat quicumque non adoraverint imaginem bestiae occidantur

13:16. And he shall make all, both little and great, rich and poor, freemen and bondmen, to have a character in their right hand or on their foreheads:

Et faciet omnes pusillos et magnos et divites et pauperes et liberos et servos habere character in dextera manu aut in frontibus suis

13:17. And that no man might buy or sell, but he that hath the character, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

Et ne quis possit emere aut vendere nisi qui habet character nomen bestiae aut numerum nominis eius

13:18. Here is wisdom. He that hath understanding, let him count the number of the beast. For it is the number of a man: and the number of him is six hundred sixty-six. *

Hic sapientia est qui habet intellectum computet numerum bestiae numerus enim hominis est et numerus eius est sescenti sexaginta sex

Six hundred sixty-six... The numeral letters of his name shall make up this number.

Apocalypse Chapter 14

Of the Lamb and of the virgins that follow him. Of the judgments that shall fall upon the wicked.

---

14:1. And I beheld: and lo a Lamb stood upon mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty-four thousand, having his name and the name of his Father written on their foreheads.

Et vidi et ecce agnus stabat supra montem Sion et cum illo centum quadraginta quattuor milia habentes nomen eius et nomen Patris eius scriptum in frontibus suis

14:2. And I heard a voice from heaven, as the noise of many waters and as the voice of great thunder. And the voice which I heard was as the voice of harpers, harping on their harps.

Et audivi vocem de caelo tamquam vocem aquarum multarum et tamquam vocem tonitruui magni et vocem quam audivi sicut citharoedorum citharizantium in citharis suis

14:3. And they sung as it were a new canticle, before the throne and before the four living creatures and the ancients: and no man could say the canticle, but those hundred forty-four thousand who were purchased from the earth.

Et cantabant quasi canticum novum ante sedem et ante quattuor animalia et seniores et nemo poterat discere canticum nisi illa centum quadraginta quattuor milia qui empti sunt de terra

14:4. These are they who were not defiled with women: for they are virgins. These follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were purchased from among men, the firstfruits to God and to the Lamb.

Hii sunt qui cum mulieribus non sunt coinquinati virgines enim sunt hii qui sequuntur agnum quocumque abierit hii empti sunt ex hominibus primitiae Deo et agno

14:5. And in their mouth there was found no lie: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

Et in ore ipsorum non est inventum mendacium sine macula sunt

14:6. And I saw another angel flying through the midst of heaven, having the eternal gospel, to preach unto them that sit upon the earth and over every nation and tribe and tongue and people:

Et vidi alterum angelum volantem per medium caelum habentem evangelium aeternum ut evangelizaret sedentibus super terram et super omnem gentem et tribum et linguam et populum

14:7. Saying with a loud voice: Fear the Lord and give him honour, because the hour of his judgment is come. And adore ye him that made heaven and earth, the sea and the fountains of waters.

Dicens magna voce timete Deum et date illi honorem quia venit hora iudicii eius et adorare eum qui fecit caelum et terram et mare et fontes aquarum

14:8. And another angel followed, saying: That great Babylon is fallen, is fallen; which made all nations to drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication. *

Et alius angelus secutus est dicens cecidit cecidit Babylon illa magna quae a vino irae fornicationis suae potionavit omnes gentes

Babylon... By Babylon may be very probably signified all the wicked world in general, which God will punish, and destroy after the short time of this mortal life: or it may signify every great city wherein enormous sins and abominations are daily committed; and that when the measure of its iniquities is full, the punishments due to its crimes are poured on it. It may also be some city of the description in the text, that will exist, and be destroyed, as here described, towards the end of the world.

14:9. And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice: If any man shall adore the beast and his image and receive his character in his forehead or in his hand,

Et alius angelus tertius secutus est illos dicens voce magna si quis adoraverit bestiam et imaginem eius et acceperit caracterem in fronte sua aut in manu sua

14:10. He also shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is mingled with pure wine in the cup of his wrath: and shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the sight of the holy angels and in the sight of the Lamb.

Et hic bibet de vino irae Dei qui mixtus est mero in calice irae ipsius et cruciabitur igne et sulphure in conspectu angelorum sanctorum et ante conspectum agni

14:11. And the smoke of their torments, shall ascend up for ever and ever: neither have they rest day nor night, who have adored the beast and his image and whoever receiveth the character of his name.

Et fumus tormentorum eorum in saecula saeculorum ascendit nec habent requiem die ac nocte qui adoraverunt bestiam et imaginem eius et si quis acceperit characterem nominis eius

14:12. Here is the patience of the saints, who keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus.

Hic patientia sanctorum est qui custodiunt mandata Dei et fidem Iesu

14:13. And I heard a voice from heaven, saying to me: Write: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.

From henceforth now, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours. For their works follow them.*

Et audivi vocem de caelo dicentem scribe beati mortui qui in Domino moriuntur amodo iam dicit Spiritus ut requiescant a laboribus suis opera enim illorum sequuntur illos

Die in the Lord... It is understood of the martyrs who die for the Lord.

14:14. And I saw: and behold a white cloud and upon the cloud one sitting like to the Son of man, having on his head a crown of gold and in his hand a sharp sickle.

Et vidi et ecce nubem candidam et supra nubem sedentem similem Filio hominis habentem in capite suo coronam auream et in manu sua falcem acutam

14:15. And another angel came out from the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat upon the cloud: Thrust in thy sickle and reap, because the hour is come to reap. For the harvest of the earth is ripe.

Et alter angelus exivit de templo clamans voce magna ad sedentem super nubem mitte falcem tuam et mete quia venit hora ut metatur quoniam aruit messis terrae

14:16. And he that sat on the cloud thrust his sickle into the earth: and the earth was reaped.

Et misit qui sedebat supra nubem falcem suam in terram et messa est terra

14:17. And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

Et alius angelus exivit de templo quod est in caelo habens et ipse falcem acutam

14:18. And another angel came out from the altar, who had power over fire. And he cried with a loud voice to him that had the sharp sickle, saying: Thrust in thy sharp sickle and gather the clusters of the vineyard of the earth, because the grapes thereof are ripe.

Et alius angelus de altari qui habet potestatem supra ignem et clamavit voce magna qui habebat falcem acutam dicens mitte falcem tuam acutam et vindemia botros vineae terrae quoniam maturae sunt uvae eius

14:19. And the angel thrust in his sharp sickle into the earth and gathered the vineyard of the earth and cast it into the great press of the wrath of God:

Et misit angelus falcem suam in terram et vindemiavit vineam terrae et misit in lacum irae Dei magnum

14:20. And the press was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the press, up to the horses' bridles, for a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

Et calcatus est lacus extra civitatem et exivit sanguis de lacu usque ad frenos equorum per stadia mille sescenta

Apocalypse Chapter 15

They that have overcome the beast glorify God. Of the seven angels with the seven vials.

---

15:1. And I saw another sign in heaven, great and wonderful: seven angels having the seven last plagues. For in them is filled up the wrath of God.

Et vidi aliud signum in caelo magnum et mirabile angelos septem habentes plagas septem novissimas quoniam in illis consummata est ira Dei

15:2. And I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire: and them that had overcome the beast and his image and the number of his name, standing on the sea of glass, having the harps of God:

Et vidi tamquam mare vitreum mixtum igne et eos qui vicerunt bestiam et imaginem illius et numerum nominis eius stantes supra mare vitreum habentes citharas Dei

15:3. And singing the canticle of Moses, the servant of God, and the canticle of the Lamb, saying: Great and wonderful are thy works, O Lord God Almighty. Just and true are thy ways, O King of ages.

Et cantant canticum Mosi servi Dei et canticum agni dicentes magna et mirabilia opera tua Domine Deus omnipotens iustae et verae viae tuae rex saeculorum

15:4. Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and magnify thy name? For thou only art holy. For all nations shall come and shall adore in thy sight, because thy judgments are manifest.

Quis non timebit Domine et magnificabit nomen tuum quia solus pius quoniam omnes gentes venient et adorabunt in conspectu tuo quoniam iudicia tua manifestata sunt

15:5. And after these things, I looked: and behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened.

Et post haec vidi et ecce apertum est templum tabernaculi testimonii in caelo

15:6. And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed with clean and white linen and girt about the breasts with golden girdles.

Et exierunt septem angeli habentes septem plagas de templo vestiti lapide mundo candido et praecincti circa pectora zonis aureis

15:7. And one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden vials, full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever.

Et unus ex quattuor animalibus dedit septem angelis septem fialas aureas plenas iracundiae Dei viventis in saecula saeculorum

15:8. And the temple was filled with smoke from the majesty of God and from his power. And no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

Et impletum est templum fumo a maiestate Dei et de virtute eius et nemo poterat introire in templum donec consummarentur septem plagae septem angelorum

Apocalypse Chapter 16

The seven vials are poured out. The plagues that ensue.

16:1. And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels: Go and pour out the seven vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

Et audivi vocem magnam de templo dicentem septem angelis ite et effundite septem fialas irae Dei in terram

16:2. And the first went and poured out his vial upon the earth. And there fell a sore and grievous wound upon men who had the character of the beast: and upon them that adored the image thereof.

Et abiit primus et effudit fialam suam in terram et factum est vulnus saevum ac pessimum in homines qui habent characterem bestiae et eos qui adoraverunt imaginem eius

16:3. And the second angel poured out his vial upon the sea. And there came blood as it were of a dead man: and every living soul died in the sea.

Et secundus effudit fialam suam in mare et factus est sanguis tamquam mortui et omnis anima vivens mortua est in mari

16:4. And the third poured out his vial upon the rivers and the fountains of waters. And there was made blood.

Et tertius effudit fialam suam super flumina et super fontes aquarum et factus est sanguis

16:5. And I heard the angel of the waters saying: Thou art just, O Lord, who art and who wast, the Holy One, because thou hast judged these things.

Et audivi angelum aquarum dicentem iustus es qui es et qui eras sanctus quia haec iudicasti

16:6. For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets: and thou hast given them blood to drink. For they are worthy.

Quia sanguinem sanctorum et prophetarum fuderunt et sanguinem eis dedisti bibere digni sunt

16:7. And I heard another, from the altar, saying: Yea, O Lord God Almighty, true and just are thy judgments.

Et audivi altare dicens etiam Domine Deus omnipotens vera et iusta iudicia tua

16:8. And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun. And it was given unto him to afflict men with heat and fire.

Et quartus effudit fialam suam in solem et datum est illi aestu adficere homines et igni

16:9. And men were scorched with great heat: and they blasphemed the name of God, who hath power over these plagues. Neither did they penance to give him glory.

Et aestuaverunt homines aestu magno et blasphemaverunt nomen Dei habentis potestatem super has plagas neque egerunt paenitentiam ut darent illi gloriam

16:10. And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast. And his kingdom became dark: and they gnawed their tongues for pain.

Et quintus effudit fialam suam super sedem bestiae et factum est regnum eius tenebrosum et conmanducaverunt linguas suas prae dolore

16:11. And they blasphemed the God of heaven, because of their pains and wounds: and did not penance for their works.

Et blasphemaverunt Deum caeli prae doloribus et vulneribus suis et non egerunt paenitentiam ex operibus suis

16:12. And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon that great river Euphrates and dried up the water thereof, that a way might be prepared for the kings from the rising of the sun.

Et sextus effudit fialam suam in flumen illud magnum Eufraten et siccavit aquam eius ut praepararetur via regibus ab ortu solis

16:13. And I saw from the mouth of the dragon and from the mouth of the beast and from the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits like frogs.

Et vidi de ore draconis et de ore bestiae et de ore pseudoprophetae spiritus tres inmundos in modum ranarum

16:14. For they are the spirits of devils, working signs: and they go forth unto the kings of the whole earth, to gather them to battle against the great day of the Almighty God.

Sunt enim spiritus daemoniorum facientes signa et procedunt ad reges totius terrae congregare illos in proelium ad diem magnum Dei omnipotentis

16:15. Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

Ecce venio sicut fur beatus qui vigilat et custodit vestimenta sua ne nudus ambulet et videant turpitudinem eius

16:16. And he shall gather them together into a place which in Hebrew is called Armagedon.*

Et congregavit illos in locum qui vocatur hebraice Hermagedon

Armagedon... That is, the hill of robbers.

16:17. And the seventh angel poured out his vial upon the air. And there came a great voice out of the temple from the throne, saying: It is done.

Et septimus effudit fialam suam in aerem et exivit vox magna de templo a throno dicens factum est

16:18. And there were lightnings and voices and thunders: and there was a great earthquake, such an one as never had been since men were upon the earth, such an earthquake, so great.

Et facta sunt fulgora et voces et tonitrua et terraemotus factus est magnus qualis numquam fuit ex quo homines fuerunt super terram talis terraemotus sic magnus

16:19. And the great city was divided into three parts: and the cities of the Gentiles fell. And great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give her the cup of the wine of the indignation of his wrath.

Et facta est civitas magna in tres partes et civitates gentium ceciderunt et Babylon magna venit in memoriam ante Deum dare ei calicem vini indignationis irae eius

16:20. And every island fled away: and the mountains were not found.

Et omnis insula fugit et montes non sunt inventi

16:21. And great hail, like a talent, came down from heaven upon men: and men blasphemed God, for the plague of the hail: because it was exceeding great.

Et grando magna sicut talentum descendit de caelo in homines et blasphemaverunt homines Deum propter plagam grandinis quoniam magna facta est vehementer

Apocalypse Chapter 17

The description of the great harlot and of the beast upon which she sits.

---

17:1. And there came one of the seven angels who had the seven vials and spoke with me, saying: Come, I will show thee the condemnation of the great harlot, who sitteth upon many waters:

Et venit unus de septem angelis qui habebant septem fialas et locutus est mecum dicens veni ostendam tibi damnationem meretricis magnae quae sedet super aquas multas

17:2. With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication. And they who inhabit the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her whoredom.

Cum qua fornicati sunt reges terrae et inebriati sunt qui inhabitant terram de vino prostitutionis eius

17:3. And he took me away in spirit into the desert. And I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

Et abstulit me in desertum in spiritu et vidi mulierem sedentem super bestiam coccineam plenam nominibus blasphemiae habentem capita septem et cornua decem

17:4. And the woman was clothed round about with purple and scarlet, and gilt with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand, full of the abomination and filthiness of her fornication.

Et mulier erat circumdata purpura et coccino et inaurata auro et lapide pretioso et margaritis habens poculum aureum in manu sua plenum abominationum et inmunditia fornicationis eius

17:5. And on her forehead a name was written: A mystery: Babylon the great, the mother of the fornications and the abominations of the earth. *

Et in fronte eius nomen scriptum mysterium Babylon magna mater fornicationum et abominationum terrae

A mystery... That is, a secret; because what follows of the name and title of the great harlot is to be taken in a mystical sense. Babylon... Either the city of the devil in general; or, if this place be to be understood of any particular city, pagan Rome, which then and for three hundred years persecuted the church; and was the principal seat both of empire and idolatry.

17:6. And I saw the woman drunk with the blood of the saints and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. And I wondered, when I had seen her, with great admiration.

Et vidi mulierem ebriam de sanguine sanctorum et de sanguine martyrum Iesu et miratus sum cum vidissem illam admiratione magna

17:7. And the angel said to me: Why dost thou wonder? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman and of the beast which carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

Et dixit mihi angelus quare miraris ego tibi dicam sacramentum mulieris et bestiae quae portat eam quae habet capita septem et decem cornua

17:8. The beast which thou sawest, was, and is not, and shall come up out of the bottomless pit and go into destruction. And the inhabitants on the earth (whose names are not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world) shall wonder, seeing the beast that was and is not. *

Bestiam quam vidisti fuit et non est et ascensura est de abyssonibus et in interitum ibit et mirabuntur inhabitantes terram quorum non sunt scripta nomina in libro vitae a constitutione mundi videntes bestiam quia erat et non est

The beast which thou sawest... This beast which supports Babylon, may signify the power of the devil: which was and is not, being much limited by the coming of Christ, but shall again exert itself under Antichrist. The seven heads of this beast are seven mountains or empires, instruments of his tyranny; of which five were then fallen. (See chap. 13.1, and below, ver. 10.) The beast itself is said to be the eighth, and is of the seven; because they all act under the devil, and by his instigation, so that his power is in them all, yet so as to make up, as it were, an eighth empire, distinct from them all.

17:9. And here is the understanding that hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, upon which the woman sitteth: and they are seven kings.

Et hic est sensus qui habet sapientiam septem capita septem montes sunt super quos mulier sedet et reges septem sunt

17:10. Five are fallen, one is, and the other is not yet come: and when he is come, he must remain a short time.

Quinque ceciderunt unus est alius nondum venit et cum venerit oportet illum breve tempus manere

17:11. And the beast which was and is not: the same also is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into destruction.

Et bestia quae erat et non est et ipsa octava est et de septem est et in interitum vadit

17:12. And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, who have not yet received a kingdom: but shall receive power as kings, one hour after the beast. *

Et decem cornua quae vidisti decem reges sunt qui regnum nondum acceperunt sed potestatem tamquam reges una hora accipiunt post bestiam

Ten kings... Ten lesser kingdoms, enemies also of the church of Christ: which, nevertheless, shall be made instruments of the justice of God for the punishment of Babylon. Some understand this of the Goths, Vandals, Huns, and other barbarous nations, that destroyed the empire of Rome.

17:13. These have one design: and their strength and power they shall deliver to the beast.

Hii unum consilium habent et virtutem et potestatem suam bestiae tradunt

17:14. These shall fight with the Lamb. And the Lamb shall overcome them because he is Lord of lords and King of kings: and they that are with him are called and elect and faithful.

Hii cum agno pugnabunt et agnus vincet illos quoniam Dominus dominorum est et rex regum et qui cum illo sunt vocati et electi et fideles

17:15. And he said to me: The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, are peoples and nations and tongues.

Et dixit mihi aquas quas vidisti ubi meretrix sedet populi sunt et gentes et linguae

17:16. And the ten horns which thou sawest in the beast: These shall hate the harlot and shall make her desolate and naked and shall eat her flesh and shall burn her with fire.

Et decem cornua quae vidisti et bestiam hii odient fornicariam et desolatam facient illam et nudam et carnes eius manducabunt et ipsam igni concremabunt

17:17. For God hath given into their hearts to do that which pleaseth him: that they give their kingdom to the beast, till the words of God be fulfilled.

Deus enim dedit in corda eorum ut faciant quod illi placitum est ut dent regnum suum bestiae donec consummentur verba Dei

17:18. And the woman which thou sawest is the great city which hath kingdom over the kings of the earth.

Et mulier quam vidisti est civitas magna quae habet regnum super reges terrae

Apocalypse Chapter 18

The fall of Babylon. Kings and merchants lament over her.

---

18:1. And after these things, I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power: and the earth was enlightened with his glory.

Et post haec vidi alium angelum descendentem de caelo habentem potestatem magnam et terra inluminata est a gloria eius

18:2. And he cried out with a strong voice, saying: Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen: and is become the habitation of devils and the hold of every unclean spirit and the hold of every unclean and hateful bird:

Et exclamavit in forti voce dicens cecidit cecidit Babylon magna et facta est habitatio daemoniorum et custodia omnis spiritus immundi et custodia omnis volucris immundae

18:3. Because all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication: and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her; And the merchants of the earth have been made rich by the power of her delicacies.

Quia de ira fornicationis eius biberunt omnes gentes et reges terrae cum illa fornicati sunt et mercatores terrae de virtute deliciarum eius divites facti sunt

18:4. And I heard another voice from heaven, saying: Go out from her, my people; that you be not partakers of her sins and that you receive not of her plagues.

Et audivi aliam vocem de caelo dicentem exite de illa populus meus ut ne participes sitis delictorum eius et de plagis eius non accipiatis

18:5. For her sins have reached unto heaven: and the Lord hath remembered her iniquities.

Quoniam pervenerunt peccata eius usque ad caelum et recordatus est Deus iniquitatum eius

18:6. Render to her as she also hath rendered to you: and double unto her double, according to her works. In the cup wherein she hath mingled, mingle ye double unto her.

Reddite illi sicut ipsa reddidit et duplicate duplicia secundum opera eius in poculo quo miscuit miscite illi duplum

18:7. As much as she hath glorified herself and lived in delicacies, so much torment and sorrow give ye to her. Because she saith in her heart: I sit a queen and am no widow: and sorrow I shall not see.

Quantum glorificavit se et in deliciis fuit tantum date illi tormentum et luctum quia in corde suo dicit sedeo regina et vidua non sum et luctum non videbo

18:8. Therefore, shall her plagues come in one day, death and mourning and famine. And she shall be burnt with the fire: because God is strong, who shall judge her.

Ideo in una die venient plagae eius mors et luctus et fames et igni conburetur quia fortis est Deus qui iudicavit illam

18:9. And the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication and lived in delicacies with her, shall weep and bewail themselves over her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning:

Et flebunt et plangent se super illam reges terrae qui cum illa fornicati sunt et in deliciis vixerunt cum viderint fimum incendii eius

18:10. Standing afar off for fear of her torments, saying: Alas! alas! that great city, Babylon, that mighty city: for in one hour is thy judgment come.

Longe stantes propter timorem tormentorum eius dicentes vae vae civitas illa magna Babylon civitas illa fortis quoniam una hora venit iudicium tuum

18:11. And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her: for no man shall buy their merchandise any more.

Et negotiatores terrae flebunt et lugebunt super illam quoniam merces eorum nemo emet amplius

18:12. Merchandise of gold and silver and precious stones: and of pearls and fine linen and purple and silk and scarlet: and all thyine wood: and all manner of vessels of ivory: and all manner of vessels of precious stone and of brass and of iron and of marble:

Merces auri et argenti et lapidis pretiosi et margaritis et byssi et purpurae et serici et cocci et omne lignum thynum et omnia vasa eboris et omnia vasa de lapide pretioso et aeramento et ferro et marmore

18:13. And cinnamon and odours and ointment and frankincense and wine and oil and fine flour and wheat and beasts and sheep and horses and chariots: and slaves and souls of men.

Et cinnamomum et amomum et odoramentorum et unguenti et turis et vini et olei et similiae et tritici et iumentorum et ovium et equorum et raedarum et mancipiorum et animarum hominum

18:14. And the fruits of the desire of thy soul are departed from thee: and all fat and goodly things are perished from thee. And they shall find them no more at all.

Et poma tua desiderii animae discessit a te et omnia pinguis et clara perierunt a te et amplius illa iam non invenient

18:15. The merchants of these things, who were made rich, shall stand afar off from her, for fear of her torments, weeping and mourning,

Mercatores horum qui divites facti sunt ab ea longe stabunt propter timorem tormentorum eius flentes ac lugentes

18:16. And saying: Alas! alas! that great city, which was clothed with fine linen and purple and scarlet and was gilt with gold and precious stones and pearls.

Et dicentes vae vae civitas illa magna quae amicta erat byssino et purpura et cocco et deaurata est auro et lapide pretioso et margaritis

18:17. For in one hour are so great riches come to nought. And every shipmaster and all that sail into the lake, and mariners, and as many as work in the sea, stood afar off,

Quoniam una hora destitutae sunt tantae divitiae et omnis gubernator et omnis qui in locum navigat et nautae et qui maria operantur longe steterunt

18:18. And cried, seeing the place of her burning, saying: What city is like to this great city?

Et clamaverunt videntes locum incendii eius dicentes quae similis civitati huic magnae

18:19. And they cast dust upon their heads and cried, weeping and mourning, saying: Alas! alas! that great city, wherein all were made rich, that had ships at sea, by reason of her prices. For, in one hour she is made desolate.

Et miserunt pulverem super capita sua et clamaverunt flentes et lugentes dicentes vae vae civitas magna in qua divites facti sunt omnes qui habent naves in mari de pretiis eius quoniam una hora desolata est

18:20. Rejoice over her, thou heaven and ye holy apostles and prophets. For God hath judged your judgment on her.

Exulta super eam caelum et sancti et apostoli et prophetae quoniam iudicavit Deus iudicium vestrum de illa

18:21. And a mighty angel took up a stone, as it were a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying: With such violence as this, shall Babylon, that great city, be thrown down and shall be found no more at all.

Et sustulit unus angelus fortis lapidem quasi molarem magnum et misit in mare dicens hoc impetu mittetur Babylon magna illa civitas et ultra iam non inveniatur

18:22. And the voice of harpers and of musicians and of them that play on the pipe and on the trumpet shall no more be heard at all in thee: and no craftsman of any art whatsoever shall be found any more at all in thee: and the sound of the mill shall be heard no more at all in thee:

Et vox citharoedorum et musicorum et tibia canentium et tuba non audietur in te amplius et omnis artifex omnis artis non inveniatur in te amplius et vox molae non audietur in te amplius

18:23. And the light of the lamp shall shine no more at all in thee: and the voice of the bridegroom and the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee. For thy merchants were the great men of the earth: for all nations have been deceived by thy enchantments.

Et lux lucernae non lucebit tibi amplius et vox sponsi et sponsae non audietur adhuc in te quia mercatores tui erant principes terrae quia in veneficiis tuis erraverunt omnes gentes

18:24. And in her was found the blood of prophets and of saints and of all that were slain upon the earth.
Et in ea sanguis prophetarum et sanctorum inventus est et omnium qui interfecti sunt in terra

Apocalypse Chapter 19

The saints glorify God for his judgments on the great harlot. Christ's victory over the beast and the kings of the earth.

---

19:1. After these things, I heard as it were the voice of much people in heaven, saying: Alleluia. Salvation and glory and power is to our God.

Post haec audivi quasi vocem magnam turbarum multarum in caelo dicentium alleluia salus et gloria et virtus Deo nostro est

19:2. For true and just are his judgments, who hath judged the great harlot which corrupted the earth with her fornication and hath revenged the blood of his servants, at her hands.

Quia vera et iusta iudicia sunt eius quia iudicavit de meretrice magna quae corrupit terram in prostitutione sua et vindicavit sanguinem servorum suorum de manibus eius

19:3. And again they said: Alleluia. And her smoke ascendeth for ever and ever.

Et iterum dixerunt alleluia et fumus eius ascendit in saecula saeculorum

19:4. And the four and twenty ancients and the four living creatures fell down and adored God that sitteth upon the throne, saying: Amen. Alleluia.

Et ceciderunt seniores viginti quattuor et quattuor animalia et adoraverunt Deum sedentem super thronum dicentes amen alleluia

19:5. And a voice came out from the throne, saying: Give praise to our God, all ye his servants: and you that fear him, little and great.

Et vox de throno exivit dicens laudem dicite Deo nostro omnes servi eius et qui timetis eum pusilli et magni

19:6. And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of great thunders, saying: Alleluia: for the Lord our God, the Almighty, hath reigned.

Et audivi quasi vocem turbae magnae et sicut vocem aquarum multarum et sicut vocem tonitruum magnorum dicentium alleluia quoniam regnavit Dominus Deus noster omnipotens

19:7. Let us be glad and rejoice and give glory to him. For the marriage of the Lamb is come: and his wife hath prepared herself.

Gaudeamus et exultemus et demus gloriam ei quia venerunt nuptiae agni et uxor eius praeparavit se

19:8. And it is granted to her that she should clothe herself with fine linen, glittering and white. For the fine linen are the justifications of saints.

Et datum est illi ut cooperiat se byssinum splendens candidum byssinum enim iustificationes sunt sanctorum

19:9. And he said to me: Write: Blessed are they that are called to the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith to me: These words of God are true.

Et dicit mihi scribe beati qui ad cenam nuptiarum agni vocati sunt et dicit mihi haec verba vera Dei sunt

19:10. And I fell down before his feet, to adore him. And he saith to me: See thou do it not. I am thy fellow servant and of thy brethren who have the testimony of Jesus. Adore God. For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.*

Et cecidi ante pedes eius ut adorarem eum et dicit mihi vide ne feceris conservus tuus sum et fratrum tuorum habentium testimonium Iesu Deum adora testimonium enim Iesu est spiritus prophetiae

I fell down before, etc... St. Augustine (lib. 20, contra Faust, c. 21) is of opinion, that this angel appeared in so glorious a manner, that St. John took him to be God; and therefore would have given him divine honour had not the angel stopped him, by telling him he was but his fellow servant. St. Gregory (Hom. 8, in Evang.) rather thinks that the veneration offered by St. John, was not divine honour, or indeed any other than what might lawfully be given; but was nevertheless refused by the angel, in consideration of the dignity to which our human nature had been raised, by the incarnation of the Son of God, and the dignity of St. John, an apostle, prophet, and martyr.

19:11. And I saw heaven opened: and behold a white horse. And he that sat upon him was called faithful and true: and with justice doth he judge and fight.

Et vidi caelum apertum et ecce equus albus et qui sedebat super eum vocabatur Fidelis et Verax vocatur et iustitia iudicat et pugnat

19:12. And his eyes were as a flame of fire: and on his head were many diadems. And he had a name written, which no man knoweth but himself.

Oculi autem eius sicut flamma ignis et in capite eius diademata multa habens nomen scriptum quod nemo novit nisi ipse

19:13. And he was clothed with a garment sprinkled with blood. And his name is called: THE WORD OF GOD.

Et vestitus erat vestem aspersione sanguine et vocatur nomen eius Verbum Dei

19:14. And the armies that are in heaven followed him on white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

Et exercitus qui sunt in caelo sequebantur eum in equis albis vestiti byssinum album mundum

19:15. And out of his mouth proceedeth a sharp two-edged sword, that with it he may strike the nations. And he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness of the wrath of God the Almighty.

Et de ore ipsius procedit gladius acutus ut in ipso percutiat gentes et ipse reget eos in virga ferrea et ipse calcet torcular vini furoris irae Dei omnipotentis

19:16. And he hath on his garment and on his thigh written: KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS.

Et habet in vestimento et in femore suo scriptum rex regum et Dominus dominantium

19:17. And I saw an angel standing in the sun: and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the birds that did fly through the midst of heaven: Come, gather yourselves together to the great supper of God:

Et vidi unum angelum stantem in sole et clamavit voce magna dicens omnibus avibus quae volabant per medium caeli venite congregamini ad cenam magnam Dei

19:18. That you may eat the flesh of kings and the flesh of tribunes and the flesh of mighty men and the flesh of horses and of them that sit on them: and the flesh of all freemen and bondmen and of little and of great.

Ut manducetis carnes regum et carnes tribunorum et carnes fortium et carnes equorum et sedentium in ipsis et carnes omnium liberorum ac servorum et pusillorum ac magnorum

19:19. And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth and their armies, gathered together to make war with him that sat upon the horse and with his army.

Et vidi bestiam et reges terrae et exercitus eorum congregatos ad faciendum proelium cum illo qui sedebat in equo et cum exercitu eius

19:20. And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet who wrought signs before him, wherewith he seduced them who received the character of the beast and who adored his image. These two were cast alive into the pool of fire burning with brimstone.

Et adprehensa est bestia et cum illo pseudopropheta qui fecit signa coram ipso quibus seduxit eos qui acceperunt characterem bestiae qui et adorant imaginem eius vivi missi sunt hii duo in stagnum ignis ardentis sulphure

19:21. And the rest were slain by the sword of him that sitteth upon the horse, which proceedeth out of his mouth: and all the birds were filled with their flesh.

Et ceteri occisi sunt in gladio sedentis super equum qui procedit de ore ipsius et omnes aves saturatae sunt carnibus eorum

Apocalypse Chapter 20

Satan is bound for a thousand years. The souls of the martyrs reign with Christ in the first resurrection. The last attempts of Satan against the church. The last judgment.

---

20:1. And I saw an angel coming down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand.

Et vidi angelum descendentem de caelo habentem clavem abyssi et catenam magnam in manu sua

20:2. And he laid hold on the dragon, the old serpent, which is the devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years. *

Et adprehendit draconem serpentem antiquum qui est diabolus et Satanas et ligavit eum per annos mille
Bound him, etc... The power of Satan has been very much limited by the passion of Christ: for a thousand years; that is, for the whole time of the New Testament: but especially from the time of the destruction of Babylon or pagan Rome, till the new efforts of Gog and Magog against the church, towards the end of the world. During which time the souls of the martyrs and saints live and reign with Christ in heaven, in the first resurrection, which is that of the soul to the life of glory; as the second resurrection will be that of the body, at the day of the general judgment.

20:3. And he cast him into the bottomless pit and shut him up and set a seal upon him, that he should no more seduce the nations till the thousand years be finished. And after that, he must be loosed a little time.

Et misit eum in abyssum et clusit et signavit super illum ut non seducat amplius gentes donec consummentur mille anni post haec oportet illum solvi modico tempore

20:4. And I saw seats. And they sat upon them: and judgment was given unto them. And the souls of them that were beheaded for the testimony of Jesus and for the word of God and who had not adored the beast nor his image nor received his character on their foreheads or in their hands. And they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

Et vidi sedes et sederunt super eas et iudicium datum est illis et animas decollatorum propter testimonium Iesu et propter verbum Dei et qui non adoraverunt bestiam neque imaginem eius nec acceperunt characterem in frontibus aut in manibus suis et vixerunt et regnaverunt cum Christo mille annis

20:5. The rest of the dead lived not, till the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

Ceteri mortuorum non vixerunt donec consummentur mille anni haec est resurrectio prima

20:6. Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection. In these the second death hath no power. But they shall be priests of God and of Christ: and shall reign with him a thousand years.

Beatus et sanctus qui habet partem in resurrectione prima in his secunda mors non habet potestatem sed erunt sacerdotes Dei et Christi et regnabunt cum illo mille annis

20:7. And when the thousand years shall be finished, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison and shall go forth and seduce the nations which are over the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog: and shall gather them together to battle, the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

Et cum consummati fuerint mille anni solvetur Satanas de carcere suo et exhibit et seducet gentes quae sunt super quattuor angulos terrae Gog et Magog et congregabit eos in proelium quorum numerus est sicut harena maris

20:8. And they came upon the breadth of the earth and encompassed the camp of the saints and the beloved city.

Et ascenderunt super latitudinem terrae et circumierunt castra sanctorum et civitatem dilectam

20:9. And there came down fire from God out of heaven and devoured them: and the devil, who seduced them, was cast into the pool of fire and brimstone, where both the beast

Et descendit ignis a Deo de caelo et devoravit eos et diabolus qui seducebat eos missus est in stagnum ignis et sulphuris ubi et bestia

20:10. And the false prophet shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

Et pseudoprophetes et cruciabuntur die ac nocte in saecula saeculorum

20:11. And I saw a great white throne and one sitting upon it, from whose face the earth and heaven fled away: and there was no place found for them.

Et vidi thronum magnum candidum et sedentem super eum a cuius aspectu fugit terra et caelum et locus non est inventus ab eis

20:12. And I saw the dead, great and small, standing in the presence of the throne. And the books were opened: and another book was opened, which was the book of life. And the dead were judged by those things which were written in the books, according to their works.

Et vidi mortuos magnos et pusillos stantes in conspectu throni et libri aperti sunt et alius liber apertus est qui est vitae et iudicati sunt mortui ex his quae scripta erant in libris secundum opera ipsorum

20:13. And the sea gave up the dead that were in it: and death and hell gave up their dead that were in them. And they were judged, every one according to their works.

Et dedit mare mortuos qui in eo erant et mors et inferus dederunt mortuos qui in ipsis erant et iudicatum est de singulis secundum opera ipsorum

20:14. And hell and death were cast into the pool of fire. This is the second death.

Et inferus et mors missi sunt in stagnum ignis haec mors secunda est stagnum ignis

20:15. And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the pool of fire.

Et qui non est inventus in libro vitae scriptus missus est in stagnum ignis

Apocalypse Chapter 21

The new Jerusalem described.

---

21:1. I saw a new heaven and a new earth. For the first heaven and the first earth was gone: and the sea is now no more. *

Et vidi caelum novum et terram novam primum enim caelum et prima terra abiit et mare iam non est

The first heaven and the first earth was gone, being changed, not as to their substance, but in their qualities.

21:2. And I, John, saw the holy city, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

Et civitatem sanctam Hierusalem novam vidi descendentem de caelo a Deo paratam sicut sponsam ornatam viro suo

21:3. And I heard a great voice from the throne, saying: Behold the tabernacle of God with men: and he will dwell with them. And they shall be his people: and God himself with them shall be their God.

Et audivi vocem magnam de throno dicentem ecce tabernaculum Dei cum hominibus et habitabit cum eis et ipsi populus eius erunt et ipse Deus cum eis erit eorum Deus

21:4. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes: and death shall be no more. Nor mourning, nor crying, nor sorrow shall be any more, for the former things are passed away.

Et absterget Deus omnem lacrimam ab oculis eorum et mors ultra non erit neque luctus neque clamor neque dolor erit ultra quae prima abierunt

21:5. And he that sat on the throne, said: Behold, I make all things new. And he said to me: Write. For these words are most faithful and true.

Et dixit qui sedebat in throno ecce nova facio omnia et dicit scribe quia haec verba fidelissima sunt et vera

21:6. And he said to me: It is done. I am Alpha and Omega: the Beginning and the End. To him that thirsteth, I will give of the fountain of the water of life, freely.

Et dixit mihi factum est ego sum Alpha et Omega initium et finis ego sitienti dabo de fonte aquae vivae gratis

21:7. He that shall overcome shall possess these things. And I will be his God: and he shall be my son.

Qui vicerit possidebit haec et ero illi Deus et ille erit mihi filius

21:8. But the fearful and unbelieving and the abominable and murderers and whoremongers and sorcerers and idolaters and all liars, they shall have their portion in the pool burning with fire and brimstone, which is the second death.

Timidis autem et incredulis et execratis et homicidis et fornicatoribus et veneficis et idolatris et omnibus mendacibus pars illorum erit in stagno ardenti igne et sulphure quod est mors secunda

21:9. And there came one of the seven angels, who had the vials full of the seven last plagues, and spoke with me, saying: Come and I will show thee the bride, the wife of the Lamb.

Et venit unus de septem angelis habentibus fialas plenas septem plagis novissimis et locutus est mecum dicens veni ostendam tibi sponsam uxorem agni

21:10. And he took me up in spirit to a great and high mountain: and he showed me the holy city Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God,

Et sustulit me in spiritu in montem magnum et altum et ostendit mihi civitatem sanctam Hierusalem descendentem de caelo a Deo

21:11. Having the glory of God, and the light thereof was like to a precious stone, as to the jasper stone even as crystal.

Habentem claritatem Dei lumen eius simile lapidi pretioso tamquam lapidi iaspidis sicut crystallum

21:12. And it had a wall great and high, having twelve gates, and in the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel.

Et habebat murum magnum et altum habens portas duodecim et in portis angelos duodecim et nomina inscripta quae sunt nomina duodecim tribuum filiorum Israhel

21:13. On the east, three gates: and on the north, three gates: and on the south, three gates: and on the west, three gates.

Ab oriente portae tres et ab aquilone portae tres et ab austro portae tres et ab occasu portae tres

21:14. And the wall of the city had twelve foundations: And in them, the twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb,

Et murus civitatis habens fundamenta duodecim et in ipsis duodecim nomina duodecim apostolorum agni

21:15. And he that spoke with me had a measure of a reed of gold, to measure the city and the gates thereof and the wall.

Et qui loquebatur mecum habebat mensuram harundinem auream ut metiretur civitatem et portas eius et murum

21:16. And the city lieth in a four-square: and the length thereof is as great as the breadth. And he measured the city with the golden reed for twelve thousand furlongs: and the length and the height and the breadth thereof are equal.

Et civitas in quadro posita est et longitudo eius tanta est quanta et latitudo et mensus est civitatem de harundine per stadia duodecim milia longitudo et latitudo et altitudo eius aequalia sunt

21:17. And he measured the wall thereof an hundred forty-four cubits, the measure of a man, which is of an angel.*

Et mensus est murus eius centum quadraginta quattuor cubitorum mensura hominis quae est angeli

The measure of a man, i.e., According to the measure of men, and used by the angel... This seems to be the true meaning of these words.

21:18. And the building of the wall thereof was of jasper stone: but the city itself pure gold like to clear glass.

Et erat structura muri eius ex lapide iaspide ipsa vero civitas auro mundo simile vitro mundo

21:19. And the foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper: the second, sapphire: the third; a chalcedony: the fourth, an emerald:

Fundamenta muri civitatis omni lapide pretioso ornata fundamentum primum iaspis secundus sapphyrus tertius carcedonius quartus zmaragdus

21:20. The fifth, sardonyx: the sixth, sardius: the seventh, chrysolite: the eighth, beryl: the ninth, a topaz: the tenth, a chrysoprasus: the eleventh, a jacinth: the twelfth, an amethyst.

Quintus sardonix sextus sardinus septimus chrysolitus octavus berillus nonus topazius decimus chrysoprassus undecimus hyacinthus duodecimus amethystus

21:21. And the twelve gates are twelve pearls, one to each: and every several gate was of one several pearl. And the street of the city was pure gold, as it were, transparent glass.

Et duodecim portae duodecim margaritae sunt per singulas et singulae portae erant ex singulis margaritis et platea civitatis aurum mundum tamquam vitrum perlucidum

21:22. And I saw no temple therein. For the Lord God Almighty is the temple thereof, and the Lamb.

Et templum non vidi in ea Dominus enim Deus omnipotens templum illius est et agnus

21:23. And the city hath no need of the sun, nor of the moon, to shine in it. For the glory of God hath enlightened it: and the Lamb is the lamp thereof.

Et civitas non eget sole neque luna ut luceant in ea nam claritas Dei inluminavit eam et lucerna eius est agnus

21:24. And the nations shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth shall bring their glory and honour into it.

Et ambulabunt gentes per lumen eius et reges terrae adferent gloriam suam et honorem in illam

21:25. And the gates thereof shall not be shut by day: for there shall be no night there.

Et portae eius non cludentur per diem nox enim non erit illic

21:26. And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

Et adferent gloriam et honorem gentium in illam

21:27. There shall not enter into it any thing defiled or that worketh abomination or maketh a lie: but they that are written in the book of life of the Lamb.

Nec intrabit in ea aliquid coinquinatum et faciens abominationem et mendacium nisi qui scripti sunt in libro vitae agni

Apocalypse Chapter 22

The water and tree of life. The conclusion.

22:1. And he showed me a river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding from the throne of God and of the Lamb.

Et ostendit mihi fluvium aquae vitae splendidum tamquam cristallum procedentem de sede Dei et agni

22:2. In the midst of the street thereof, and on both sides of the river, was the tree of life, bearing twelve fruits, yielding its fruits every month: the leaves of the tree for the healing of the nations.

In medio plateae eius et ex utraque parte fluminis lignum vitae adferens fructus duodecim per menses singula reddentia fructum suum et folia ligni ad sanitatem gentium

22:3. And there shall be no curse any more: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it. And his servants shall serve him.

Et omne maledictum non erit amplius et sedes Dei et agni in illa erunt et servi eius servient illi

22:4. And they shall see his face: and his name shall be on their foreheads.

Et videbunt faciem eius et nomen eius in frontibus eorum

22:5. And night shall be no more. And they shall not need the light of the lamp, nor the light of the sun, because the Lord God shall enlighten them. And they shall reign for ever and ever.

Et nox ultra non erit et non egebunt lumine lucernae neque lumine solis quoniam Dominus Deus inluminat illos et regnabunt in saecula saeculorum

22:6. And he said to me: These words are most faithful and true. And the Lord God of the spirits of the prophets sent his angel to show his servant the things which must be done shortly.

Et dixit mihi haec verba fidelissima et vera sunt et Dominus Deus spirituum prophetarum misit angelum suum ostendere servis suis quae oportet fieri cito

22:7. And: Behold I come quickly. Blessed is he that keepeth the words of the prophecy of this book.

Et ecce venio velociter beatus qui custodit verba prophetiae libri huius

22:8. And I, John, who have heard and seen these things. And, after I had heard and seen, I fell down to adore before the feet of the angel who showed me these things.

Et ego Iohannes qui audivi et vidi haec et postquam audissem et vidissem cecidi ut adorarem ante pedes angeli qui mihi haec ostendebat

22:9. And he said to me: See thou do it not. For I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren the prophets and of them that keep the words of the prophecy of this book. Adore God.

Et dicit mihi vide ne feceris conservus tuus sum et fratrum tuorum prophetarum et eorum qui servant verba libri huius Deum adora

22:10. And he saith to me: Seal not the words of the prophecy of this book. For the time is at hand.*

Et dicit mihi ne signaveris verba prophetiae libri huius tempus enim prope est

For the time is at hand... That is, when compared to eternity, all time and temporal things vanish, and are but of short duration. As to the time when the chief predictions should come to pass, we have no certainty, as appears by the different opinions, both of the ancient fathers and late interpreters. Many think that most things set down from the 4th chapter to the end, will not be fulfilled till a little time before the end of the world. Others are of opinion, that a great part of them, and particularly the fall of the wicked Babylon, happened at the destruction of paganism, by the destruction of heathen Rome, and its persecuting heathen emperors. Of these interpretations, see Aleazar, in his long commentary: see the learned Bossuet, bishop of Meaux, in his treatise on this Book; and P. Alleman, in his notes on the same Apocalypse, tom. 12, who in his Preface says, that this, in a great measure, may be now looked upon as the opinion followed by the learned men. In fine, others think that St. John's design was in a mystical way, by metaphors and allegories, to represent the attempts and persecutions of the wicked against the servants of God, the punishments that should in a short time fall upon Babylon, that is, upon all the wicked in general: the eternal happiness and reward, which God had reserved for the pious inhabitants of Jerusalem, that is, for his faithful servants, after their short trials and the tribulations of this mortal life. In the mean time we meet with many profitable instructions and admonitions, which we may easily enough understand: but we have no certainty when we apply these predictions to particular events: for as St. Jerome takes notice, the Apocalypse has as many mysteries as words, or rather mysteries in every word. Apocalypsis Joannis tot

22:11. He that hurteth, let him hurt still: and he that is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is just, let him be justified still: and he that is holy, let him be sanctified still. *

Qui nocet noceat adhuc et qui in sordibus est sordescat adhuc et iustus iustitiam faciat adhuc et sanctus sanctificetur adhuc

Let him hurt still... It is not an exhortation, or license to go on in sin; but an intimation, that how far soever the wicked may proceed, their progress shall quickly end, and then they must expect to meet with proportionable punishments.

22:12. Behold, I come quickly: and my reward is with me, to render to every, man according to his works.
Ecce venio cito et merces mea mecum est reddere unicuique secundum opera sua

22:13. I am Alpha and Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End.
Ego Alpha et Omega primus et novissimus principium et finis

22:14. Blessed are they that wash their robes in the blood of the Lamb: that they may have a right to the tree of life and may enter in by the gates into the city.

Beati qui lavant stolas suas ut sit potestas eorum in ligno vitae et portis intrent in civitatem

22:15. Without are dogs and sorcerers and unchaste and murderers and servers of idols and every one that loveth and maketh a lie.

Foris canes et venefici et inpudici et homicidae et idolis servientes et omnis qui amat et facit mendacium

22:16. I, Jesus, have sent my angel, to testify to you these things in the churches. I am the root and stock of David, the bright and morning star.

Ego Iesus misi angelum meum testificari vobis haec in ecclesiis ego sum radix et genus David stella splendida et matutina

22:17. And the spirit and the bride say: Come. And he that heareth, let him say: Come. And he that thirsteth, let him come. And he that will, let him take the water of life, freely.

Et Spiritus et sponsa dicunt veni et qui audit dicat veni et qui sitit veniat qui vult accipiat aquam vitae gratis

22:18. For I testify to every one that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book: If any man shall add to these things, God shall add unto him the plagues written in this book.

Contestor ego omni audienti verba prophetiae libri huius si quis adposuerit ad haec adponet Deus super illum plagas scriptas in libro isto

22:19. And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from these things that are written in this book.

Et si quis deminuerit de verbis libri prophetiae huius auferet Deus partem eius de ligno vitae et de civitate sancta et de his quae scripta sunt in libro isto

22:20. He that giveth testimony of these things, saith: Surely, I come quickly: Amen. Come, Lord Jesus.

Dicit qui testimonium perhibet istorum etiam venio cito amen veni Domine Iesu

22:21. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

Gratia Domini nostri Iesu Christi cum omnibus

The Epistle of St. Paul to the Romans

---

St. Paul wrote this epistle at Corinth, when he was preparing to go to Jerusalem with the charitable contributions collected in Achaia and Macedonia for the relief of the Christians in Judea; which was about twenty-four years after Our Lord's Ascension. It was written in Greek; but at the same time translated into Latin, for the benefit of those who did not understand that language. And though it is not the first of his Epistles in the order of time, yet it is first placed on account of sublimity of the matter contained in it, of the preeminence of the place to which it was sent, and in veneration of the Church. (For more information, see the article EPISTLE TO THE ROMANS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Romans Chapter 1. He commends the faith of the Romans, whom he longs to see. The philosophy of the heathens, being void of faith and humility, betrayed them into shameful sins.

Romans Chapter 2. The Jews are censured, who make their boast of the law and keep it not. He declares who are the true Jews.

Romans Chapter 3. The advantages of the Jews. All men are sinners and none can be justified by the works of the law, but only by the grace of Christ.

Romans Chapter 4. Abraham was not justified by works done, as of himself, but by grace and by faith. And that before he was circumcised. Gentiles, by faith, are his children.

Romans Chapter 5. The grounds we have for hope in Christ. Sin and death came by Adam, grace and life by Christ.

Romans Chapter 6. The Christian must die to sin and live to God.

Romans Chapter 7. We are released by Christ from the law and from the guilt of sin, though the inclination to it still tempts us.

Romans Chapter 8. There is no condemnation to them that, being justified by Christ, walk not according to the flesh, but according to the spirit. Their strong hope and love of God.

Romans Chapter 9. The apostle's concern for the Jews. God's election is free and not confined to their nation.

Romans Chapter 10. The end of the law is faith in Christ. which the Jews refusing to submit to, cannot be justified.

Romans Chapter 11. God hath not cast off all Israel. The Gentiles must not be proud but stand in faith and fear.

Romans Chapter 12. Lessons of Christian virtues.

Romans Chapter 13. Lessons of obedience to superiors and mutual charity.

Romans Chapter 14. The strong must bear with the weak. Cautions against judging and giving scandal.

Romans Chapter 15. He exhorts them to be all of one mind and promises to come and see them.

Romans Chapter 16. He concludes with salutations, bidding them beware of all that should oppose the doctrine they had learned.

Romans Chapter 1

He commends the faith of the Romans, whom he longs to see. The philosophy of the heathens, being void of faith and humility, betrayed them into shameful sins.

---

1:1. Paul, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God.
Paulus servus Christi Iesu vocatus apostolus segregatus in evangelium Dei

1:2. Which he had promised before, by his prophets, in the holy scriptures,
Quod ante promiserat per prophetas suos in scripturis sanctis

1:3. Concerning his Son, who was made to him of the seed of David, according to the flesh,
De Filio suo qui factus est ex semine David secundum carnem

1:4. Who was predestinated the Son of God in power, according to the spirit of sanctification, by the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ from the dead: *
Qui praedestinatus est Filius Dei in virtute secundum Spiritum sanctificationis ex resurrectione mortuorum Iesu Christi Domini nostri

Predestinated, etc... Christ as man, was predestinated to be the Son of God: and declared to be so (as the apostle here signifies) first, by power, that is, by his working stupendous miracles; secondly, by the spirit of sanctification, that is, by his infinite sanctity; thirdly, by his resurrection, or raising himself from the dead.

1:5. By whom we have received grace and apostleship for obedience to the faith, in all nations, for his name:
Per quem accepimus gratiam et apostolatam ad oboediendum fidei in omnibus gentibus pro nomine eius

1:6. Among whom are you also the called of Jesus Christ:
In quibus estis et vos vocati Iesu Christi

1:7. To all that are at Rome, the beloved of God, called to be saints. Grace to you and peace, from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
Omnibus qui sunt Romae dilectis Dei vocatis sanctis gratia vobis et pax a Deo Patre nostro et Domino Iesu Christo

1:8. First, I give thanks to my God, through Jesus Christ, for you all: because your faith is spoken of in the whole world.
Primum quidem gratias ago Deo meo per Iesum Christum pro omnibus vobis quia fides vestra adnuntiatur in universo mundo

1:9. For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make a commemoration of you:
Testis enim mihi est Deus cui servio in spiritu meo in evangelio Filii eius quod sine intermissione memoriam vestri facio

1:10. Always in my prayers making request, if by any means now at length I may have a prosperous journey, by the will of God, to come unto you.
Semper in orationibus meis obsecrans si quo modo tandem aliquando prosperum iter habeam in voluntate Dei veniendi ad vos

1:11. For I long to see you that I may impart unto you some spiritual grace, to strengthen you:
Desidero enim videre vos ut aliquid inportar gratiae vobis spiritalis ad confirmandos vos

1:12. That is to say, that I may be comforted together in you by that which is common to us both, your faith and mine.

Id est simul consolari in vobis per eam quae invicem est fidem vestram atque meam

1:13. And I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that I have often purposed to come unto you (and have been hindered hitherto) that I might have some fruit among you also, even as among other Gentiles.

Nolo autem vos ignorare fratres quia saepe proposui venire ad vos et prohibitus sum usque adhuc ut aliquem fructum habeam et in vobis sicut et in ceteris gentibus

1:14. To the Greeks and to the barbarians, to the wise and to the unwise, I am a debtor.

Graecis ac barbaris sapientibus et insipientibus debitor sum

1:15. So (as much as is in me) I am ready to preach the gospel to you also that are at Rome.

Ita quod in me promptum est et vobis qui Romae estis evangelizare

1:16. For I am not ashamed of the gospel. For it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth: to the Jew first and to the Greek.

Non enim erubesco evangelium virtus enim Dei est in salutem omni credenti Iudaeo primum et Graeco

1:17. For the justice of God is revealed therein, from faith unto faith, as it is written: The just man liveth by faith.

Iustitia enim Dei in eo revelatur ex fide in fidem sicut scriptum est iustus autem ex fide vivit

1:18. For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and injustice of those men that detain the truth of God in injustice:

Revelatur enim ira Dei de caelo super omnem impietatem et iniustitiam hominum eorum qui veritatem in iniustitiam detinent

1:19. Because that which is known of God is manifest in them. For God hath manifested it unto them.

Quia quod notum est Dei manifestum est in illis Deus enim illis manifestavit

1:20. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made. His eternal power also and divinity: so that they are inexcusable.

Invisibilia enim ipsius a creatura mundi per ea quae facta sunt intellecta conspiciuntur sempiterna quoque eius virtus et divinitas ut sint inexcusabiles

1:21. Because that, when they knew God, they have not glorified him as God or given thanks: but became vain in their thoughts. And their foolish heart was darkened.

Quia cum cognovissent Deum non sicut Deum glorificaverunt aut gratias egerunt sed evanuerunt in cogitationibus suis et obscuratum est insipiens cor eorum

1:22. For, professing themselves to be wise, they became fools.

Dicentes enim se esse sapientes stulti facti sunt

1:23. And they changed the glory of the incorruptible God into the likeness of the image of a corruptible man and of birds, and of fourfooted beasts and of creeping things.

Et mutaverunt gloriam incorruptibilis Dei in similitudinem imaginis corruptibilis hominis et volucrum et quadrupedum et serpentium

1:24. Wherefore, God gave them up to the desires of their heart, unto uncleanness: to dishonour their own bodies among themselves.

Propter quod tradidit illos Deus in desideria cordis eorum in inmunditiam ut contumeliis adficiant corpora sua in semet ipsis

1:25. Who changed the truth of God into a lie and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

Qui commutaverunt veritatem Dei in mendacio et coluerunt et servierunt creaturae potius quam creatori qui est benedictus in saecula amen

1:26. For this cause, God delivered them up to shameful affections. For their women have changed the natural use into that use which is against nature. *

Propterea tradidit illos Deus in passiones ignominiae nam feminae eorum inmutaverunt naturalem usum in eum usum qui est contra naturam

God delivered them up... Not by being author of their sins, but by withdrawing his grace, and so permitting them, in punishment of their pride, to fall into those shameful sins.

1:27. And, in like manner, the men also, leaving the natural use of the women, have burned in their lusts, one towards another: men with men, working that which is filthy and receiving in themselves the recompense which was due to their error.

Similiter autem et masculi relicto naturali usu feminae exarserunt in desideriis suis in invicem masculi in masculos turpitudinem operantes et mercedem quam oportuit erroris sui in semet ipsis recipientes

1:28. And as they liked not to have God in their knowledge, God delivered them up to a reprobate sense, to do those things which are not convenient.

Et sicut non probaverunt Deum habere in notitia tradidit eos Deus in reprobum sensum ut faciant quae non conveniunt

1:29. Being filled with all iniquity, malice, fornication, avarice, wickedness: full of envy, murder, contention, deceit, malignity: whisperers,

Repletos omni iniquitate malitia fornicatione avaritia nequitia plenos invidia homicidio contentione dolo malignitate susurrones

1:30. Detractors, hateful to God, contumelious, proud, haughty, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

Detractores Deo odibiles contumeliosos superbos elatos inventores malorum parentibus non oboedientes

1:31. Foolish, dissolute: without affection, without fidelity, without mercy.

Insipientes inconpositos sine affectione absque foedere sine misericordia

1:32. Who, having known the justice of God, did not understand that they who do such things, are worthy of death: and not only they that do them, but they also that consent to them that do them.

Qui cum iustitiam Dei cognovissent non intellexerunt quoniam qui talia agunt digni sunt morte non solum ea faciunt sed et consentiunt facientibus

Romans Chapter 2

The Jews are censured, who make their boast of the law and keep it not. He declares who are the true Jews.

---

2:1. Wherefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest. For wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself. For thou dost the same things which thou judgest.

Propter quod inexcusabilis es o homo omnis qui iudicas in quo enim iudicas alterum te ipsum condemnas eadem enim agis qui iudicas

2:2. For we know that the judgment of God is, according to truth, against them that do such things.

Scimus enim quoniam iudicium Dei est secundum veritatem in eos qui talia agunt

2:3. And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them who do such things and dost the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?

Existimas autem hoc o homo qui iudicas eos qui talia agunt et facis ea quia tu effugies iudicium Dei

2:4. Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and patience and longsuffering? Knowest thou not that the benignity of God leadeth thee to penance?

An divitias bonitatis eius et patientiae et longanimitatis contemnis ignorans quoniam benignitas Dei ad paenitentiam te adducit

2:5. But according to thy hardness and impenitent heart, thou treasurest up to thyself wrath, against the day of wrath and revelation of the just judgment of God:

Secundum duritiam autem tuam et inpaenitens cor thesaurizas tibi iram in die irae et revelationis iusti iudicii Dei

2:6. Who will render to every man according to his works.

Qui reddet unicuique secundum opera eius

2:7. To them indeed who, according to patience in good work, seek glory and honour and incorruption, eternal life:

His quidem qui secundum patientiam boni operis gloriam et honorem et incorruptionem quaerentibus vitam aeternam

2:8. But to them that are contentious and who obey not the truth but give credit to iniquity, wrath and indignation.

His autem qui ex contentione et qui non adquiescunt veritati credunt autem iniquitati ira et indignatio

2:9. Tribulation and anguish upon every soul of man that worketh evil: of the Jew first, and also of the Greek.

Tribulatio et angustia in omnem animam hominis operantis malum Iudaei primum et Graeci

2:10. But glory and honour and peace to every one that worketh good: to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

Gloria autem et honor et pax omni operanti bonum Iudaeo primum et Graeco

2:11. For there is no respect of persons with God.

Non est enim personarum acceptio apud Deum

2:12. For whosoever have sinned without the law shall perish without the law: and whosoever have sinned in the law shall be judged by the law.

Quicumque enim sine lege peccaverunt sine lege et peribunt et quicumque in lege peccaverunt per legem iudicabuntur

2:13. For not the hearers of the law are just before God: but the doers of the law shall be justified.
Non enim auditores legis iusti sunt apud Deum sed factores legis iustificabuntur

2:14. For when the Gentiles, who have not the law, do by nature those things that are of the law; these, having not the law, are a law to themselves.
Cum enim gentes quae legem non habent naturaliter quae legis sunt faciunt eiusmodi legem non habentes ipsi sibi sunt lex

2:15. Who show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness to them: and their thoughts between themselves accusing or also defending one another,
Qui ostendunt opus legis scriptum in cordibus suis testimonium reddente illis conscientia ipsorum et inter se invicem cogitationum accusantium aut etiam defendentium

2:16. In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ, according to my gospel.
In die cum iudicabit Deus occulta hominum secundum evangelium meum per Iesum Christum

2:17. But if thou art called a Jew and retest in the law and makest thy boast of God,
Si autem tu Iudaeus cognominaris et requiescis in lege et gloriaris in Deo

2:18. And knowest his will and approvest the more profitable things, being instructed by the law:
Et nosti voluntatem et probas utiliora instructus per legem

2:19. Art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them that are in darkness,
Confidis te ipsum ducem esse caecorum lumen eorum qui in tenebris sunt

2:20. An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of infants, having the form of knowledge and of truth in the law.
Eruditorem insipientium magistrum infantium habentem formam scientiae et veritatis in lege

2:21. Thou therefore, that teachest another, teachest not thyself: thou, that preachest that men should not steal, stealest.
Qui ergo alium doces te ipsum non doces qui praedicas non furandum furaris

2:22. Thou, that sayest men should not commit adultery, committest adultery: thou, that abhorrest idols, committest sacrilege:
Qui dicis non moechandum moecharis qui abominaris idola sacrilegium facis

2:23. Thou, that makest thy boast of the law, by transgression of the law dishonourest God.
Qui in lege gloriaris per praevaricationem legis Deum inhonoras

2:24. (For the name of God through you is blasphemed among the Gentiles, as it is written.)
Nomen enim Dei per vos blasphematur inter gentes sicut scriptum est

2:25. Circumcision profiteth indeed, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a transgressor of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.
Circumcisio quidem prodest si legem observes si autem praevaricator legis sis circumcisio tua praeputium facta est

2:26. If then, the uncircumcised keep the justices of the law, shall not this uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?
Si igitur praeputium iustitias legis custodiat nonne praeputium illius in circumcisionem reputabitur

2:27. And shall not that which by nature is uncircumcision, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the law?
Et iudicabit quod ex natura est praeputium legem consummans te qui per litteram et circumcisionem praevaricator legis es

2:28. For it is not he is a Jew, who is so outwardly: nor is that circumcision which is outwardly in the flesh.
Non enim qui in manifesto Iudaeus est neque quae in manifesto in carne circumcisio

2:29. But he is a Jew that is one inwardly and the circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit not in the letter: whose praise is not of men, but of God.
Sed qui in abscondito Iudaeus et circumcisio cordis in spiritu non littera cuius laus non ex hominibus sed ex

Deo est

Romans Chapter 3

The advantages of the Jews. All men are sinners and none can be justified by the works of the law, but only by the grace of Christ.

---

3:1. What advantage then hath the Jew: or what is the profit of circumcision?

Quid ergo amplius est Iudaeo aut quae utilitas circumcisionis

3:2. Much every way. First indeed, because the words of God were committed to them.

Multum per omnem modum primum quidem quia credita sunt illis eloquia Dei

3:3. For what if some of them have not believed? Shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect? God forbid!

Quid enim si quidam illorum non crediderunt numquid incredulitas illorum fidem Dei evacuabit absit

3:4. But God is true and every man a liar, as it is written: That thou mayest be justified in thy words and mayest overcome when thou art judged.*

Est autem Deus verax omnis autem homo mendax sicut scriptum est ut iustificeris in sermonibus tuis et vincas cum iudicaris

Note. God only is essentially true. All men in their own capacity are liable to lies and errors: nevertheless God, who is the truth, will make good his promise of keeping his church in all truth. See St. John 16.13.

3:5. But if our injustice commend the justice of God, what shall we say? Is God unjust, who executeth wrath?

Si autem iniquitas nostra iustitiam Dei commendat quid dicemus numquid iniquus Deus qui infert iram secundum hominem dico

3:6. (I speak according to man.) God forbid! Otherwise how shall God judge this world?

Absit alioquin quomodo iudicabit Deus mundum

3:7. For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie, unto his glory, why am I also yet judged as a sinner?

Si enim veritas Dei in meo mendacio abundavit in gloriam ipsius quid adhuc et ego tamquam peccator iudicor

3:8. And not rather (as we are slandered and as some affirm that we say) let us do evil that there may come good? Whose damnation is just.

Et non sicut blasphemamur et sicut aiunt nos quidam dicere faciamus mala ut veniant bona quorum damnatio iusta est

3:9. What then? Do we excel them? No, not so. For we have charged both Jews and Greeks, that they are all under sin.

Quid igitur praecellimus eos nequaquam causati enim sumus Iudaeos et Graecos omnes sub peccato esse

3:10. As it is written: There is not any man just.*

Sicut scriptum est quia non est iustus quisquam

There is not any man just, viz... by virtue either of the law of nature, or of the law of Moses; but only by faith and grace.

3:11. There is none that understandeth: there is none that seeketh after God.

Non est intellegens non est requires Deum

3:12. All have turned out of the way: they are become unprofitable together: there is none that doth good, there is not so much as one.

Omnes declinaverunt simul inutiles facti sunt non est qui faciat bonum non est usque ad unum

3:13. Their throat is an open sepulchre: with their tongues they have dealt deceitfully. The venom of asps is under their lips.

Sepulchrum patens est guttur eorum linguis suis dolose agebant venenum aspidum sub labiis eorum

3:14. Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

Quorum os maledictione et amaritudine plenum est

3:15. Their feet swift to shed blood:

Veloces pedes eorum ad effundendum sanguinem

3:16. Destruction and misery in their ways:

Contritio et infelicitas in viis eorum

3:17. And the way of peace they have not known.

Et viam pacis non cognoverunt

3:18. There is no fear of God before their eyes.

Non est timor Dei ante oculos eorum

3:19. Now we know that what things soever the law speaketh, it speaketh to them that are in the law: that every mouth may be stopped and all the world may be made subject to God.

Scimus autem quoniam quaecumque lex loquitur his qui in lege sunt loquitur ut omne os obstruatur et subditus fiat omnis mundus Deo

3:20. Because by the works of the law no flesh shall be justified before him. For by the law is the knowledge of sin.

Quia ex operibus legis non iustificabitur omnis caro coram illo per legem enim cognitio peccati

3:21. But now, without the law, the justice of God is made manifest, being witnessed by the law and the prophets.

Nunc autem sine lege iustitia Dei manifestata est testificata a lege et prophetis

3:22. Even the justice of God, by faith of Jesus Christ, unto all, and upon all them that believe in him: for there is no distinction.

Iustitia autem Dei per fidem Iesu Christi super omnes qui credunt non enim est distinctio

3:23. For all have sinned and do need the glory of God.

Omnes enim peccaverunt et egent gloriam Dei

3:24. Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus,

Iustificati gratis per gratiam ipsius per redemptionem quae est in Christo Iesu

3:25. Whom God hath proposed to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to the showing of his justice, for the remission of former sins,

Quem proposuit Deus propitiationem per fidem in sanguine ipsius ad ostensionem iustitiae suae propter remissionem praecedentium delictorum

3:26. Through the forbearance of God, for the showing of his justice in this time: that he himself may be just and the justifier of him who is of the faith of Jesus Christ.

In sustentatione Dei ad ostensionem iustitiae eius in hoc tempore ut sit ipse iustus et iustificans eum qui ex fide est Iesu

3:27. Where is then thy boasting? It is excluded. By what law? Of works? No, but by the law of faith.

Ubi est ergo gloriatio exclusa est per quam legem factorum non sed per legem fidei

3:28. For we account a man to be justified by faith, without the works of the law. *

Arbitramur enim iustificari hominem per fidem sine operibus legis

By faith, etc... The faith, to which the apostle here attributes man's justification, is not a presumptuous assurance of our being justified; but a firm and lively belief of all that God has revealed or promised. Hebrews 11. A faith working through charity in Jesus Christ. Galatians 5:6. In short, a faith which takes in hope, love, repentance, and the use of the sacraments. And the works which he here excludes, are only the works of the law: that is, such as are done by the law of nature, or that of Moses, antecedent to the faith of Christ: but by no means, such as follow faith, and proceed from it.

3:29. Is he the God of the Jews only? Is he not also of the Gentiles? yes, of the Gentiles also.

An Iudaeorum Deus tantum nonne et gentium immo et gentium

3:30. For it is one God that justifieth circumcision by faith and uncircumcision through faith.
Quoniam quidem unus Deus qui iustificabit circumcisionem ex fide et praepetium per fidem

3:31. Do we then, destroy the law through faith? God forbid! But we establish the law.
Legem ergo destruimus per fidem absit sed legem statuimus

Romans Chapter 4

Abraham was not justified by works done, as of himself, but by grace and by faith. And that before he was circumcised. Gentiles, by faith, are his children.

---

4:1. What shall we say then that Abraham hath found, who is our father according to the flesh?
 Quid ergo dicemus invenisse Abraham patrem nostrum secundum carnem

4:2. For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory, but not before God.*
 Si enim Abraham ex operibus iustificatus est habet gloriam sed non apud Deum
By works... Done by his own strength, without the grace of God, and faith in him. Not before God... Whatever glory or applause such works might procure from men, they would be of no value in the sight of God.

4:3. For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God: and it was reputed to him unto justice.*
 Quid enim scriptura dicit credidit Abraham Deo et reputatum est illi ad iustitiam
Reputed, etc... By God, who reputeth nothing otherwise than it is. However, we may gather from this word, that when we are justified, our justification proceedeth from God's free grace and bounty; and not from any efficacy which any act of ours could have of its own nature, abstracting from God's grace.

4:4. Now to him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned according to grace but according to debt.*
 Ei autem qui operatur merces non imputatur secundum gratiam sed secundum debitum
To him that worketh... Viz., as of his own fund, or by his own strength. Such a man, says the apostle, challenges his reward as a debt due to his own performances; whereas he who worketh not, that is, who presumeth not upon any works done by his own strength, but seeketh justice through faith and grace, is freely justified by God's grace.

4:5. But to him that worketh not, yet believeth in him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is reputed to justice, according to the purpose of the grace of God.
 Ei vero qui non operatur credenti autem in eum qui iustificat impium reputatur fides eius ad iustitiam

4:6. As David also termeth the blessedness of a man to whom God reputeth justice without works:
 Sicut et David dicit beatitudinem hominis cui Deus accepto fert iustitiam sine operibus

4:7. Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven: and whose sins are covered.*
 Beati quorum remissae sunt iniquitates et quorum tecta sunt peccata
Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered... That is, blessed are those who, by doing penance, have obtained pardon and remission of their sins, and also are covered; that is, newly clothed with the habit of grace, and vested with the stole of charity.

4:8. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord hath not imputed sin.*
 Beatus vir cui non imputabit Dominus peccatum
Blessed is the man to whom the Lord hath not imputed sin... That is, blessed is the man who hath retained his baptismal innocence, that no grievous sin can be imputed to him. And, likewise, blessed is the man, who after fall into sin, hath done penance and leads a virtuous life, by frequenting the sacraments necessary for obtaining the grace to prevent a relapse, that sin is no more imputed to him.

4:9. This blessedness then, doth it remain in the circumcision only or in the uncircumcision also? For we say that unto Abraham faith was reputed to justice.*
 Beatitudo ergo haec in circumcissione an etiam in praeputio dicimus enim quia reputata est Abrahae fides ad iustitiam
In the circumcision, etc... That is, is it only for the Jews that are circumcised? No, says the apostle, but also for the uncircumcised Gentiles: who, by faith and grace, may come to justice; as Abraham did before he was circumcised.

4:10. How then was it reputed? When he was in circumcision or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.
 Quomodo ergo reputata est in circumcissione an in praeputio non in circumcissione sed in praeputio

4:11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the justice of the faith which he had, being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, being uncircumcised: that unto them also it may be reputed to justice:

Et signum accepit circumcisionis signaculum iustitiae fidei quae est in praeputio ut sit pater omnium credentium per praeputium ut reputetur et illis ad iustitiam

4:12. And he might be the father of circumcision; not to them only that are of the circumcision, but to them also that follow the steps of the faith that is in the uncircumcision of our father Abraham.

Et sit pater circumcisionis non his tantum qui sunt ex circumcissione sed et his qui sectantur vestigia quae est in praeputio fidei patris nostri Abrahae

4:13. For not through the law was the promise to Abraham or to his seed, that he should be heir of the world: but through the justice of faith.

Non enim per legem promissio Abrahae aut semini eius ut heres esset mundi sed per iustitiam fidei

4:14. For if they who are of the law be heirs, faith is made void: the promise is made of no effect. *

Si enim qui ex lege heredes sunt exinanita est fides abolita est promissio

Be heirs... That is, if they alone, who follow the ceremonies of the law, be heirs of the blessings promised to Abraham; then that faith which was so much praised in him, will be found to be of little value. And the very promise will be made void, by which he was promised to be the father, not of the Jews only, but of all nations of believers.

4:15. For the law worketh wrath. For where there is no law, neither is there transgression. *

Lex enim iram operatur ubi enim non est lex nec praevaricatio

The law worketh wrath... The law, abstracting from faith and grace, worketh wrath occasionally, by being an occasion of many transgressions, which provoke God's wrath.

4:16. Therefore is it of faith, that according to grace the promise might be firm to all the seed: not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all,

Ideo ex fide ut secundum gratiam ut firma sit promissio omni semini non ei qui ex lege est solum sed et ei qui ex fide est Abrahae qui est pater omnium nostrum

4:17. (As it is written: I have made thee a father of many nations), before God, whom he believed: who quickeneth the dead and calleth those things that are not, as those that are.

Sicut scriptum est quia patrem multarum gentium posui te ante Deum cui credidit qui vivificat mortuos et vocat quae non sunt tamquam ea quae sunt

4:18. Who against hope believed in hope; that he might be made the father of many nations, according to that which was said to him: So shall thy seed be.

Qui contra spem in spem credidit ut fieret pater multarum gentium secundum quod dictum est sic erit semen tuum

4:19. And he was not weak in faith. Neither did he consider his own body, now dead (whereas he was almost an hundred years old), nor the dead womb of Sara.

Et non infirmatus fide consideravit corpus suum emortuum cum fere centum annorum esset et emortuam vulvam Sarrae

4:20. In the promise also of God he staggered not by distrust: but was strengthened in faith, giving glory to God:

In repromissione etiam Dei non haesitavit diffidentia sed confortatus est fide dans gloriam Deo

4:21. Most fully knowing that whatsoever he has promised, he is able also to perform.

Plenissime sciens quia quaecumque promisit potens est et facere

4:22. And therefore it was reputed to him unto justice.

Ideo et reputatum est illi ad iustitiam

4:23. Now it is not written only for him that it was reputed to him unto justice,

Non est autem scriptum tantum propter ipsum quia reputatum est illi

4:24. But also for us, to whom it shall be reputed, if we believe in him that raised up Jesus Christ, our Lord, from the dead,

Sed et propter nos quibus reputabitur credentibus in eum qui suscitavit Iesum Dominum nostrum a mortuis

4:25. Who was delivered up for our sins and rose again for our justification.

Qui traditus est propter delicta nostra et resurrexit propter iustificationem nostram

Romans Chapter 5

The grounds we have for hope in Christ. Sin and death came by Adam, grace and life by Christ.

---

5:1. Being justified therefore by faith, let us have peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ:
Iustificati igitur ex fide pacem habeamus ad Deum per Dominum nostrum Iesum Christum

5:2. By whom also we have access through faith into this grace wherein we stand: and glory in the hope of the glory of the sons of God.

Per quem et accessum habemus fide in gratiam istam in qua stamus et gloriamur in spe gloriae filiorum Dei

5:3. And not only so: but we glory also in tribulation, knowing that tribulation worketh patience;
Non solum autem sed et gloriamur in tribulationibus scientes quod tribulatio patientiam operatur

5:4. And patience trial; and trial hope;

Patientia autem probationem probatio vero spem

5:5. And hope confoundeth not: because the charity of God is poured forth in our hearts, by the Holy Ghost who is given to us.

Spes autem non confundit quia caritas Dei diffusa est in cordibus nostris per Spiritum Sanctum qui datus est nobis

5:6. For why did Christ, when as yet we were weak, according to the time, die for the ungodly?

Ut quid enim Christus cum adhuc infirmi essemus secundum tempus pro impiis mortuus est

5:7. For scarce for a just man will one die: yet perhaps for a good man some one would dare to die.

Vix enim pro iusto quis moritur nam pro bono forsitan quis et audeat mori

5:8. But God commendeth his charity towards us: because when as yet we were sinners according to the time.

Commendat autem suam caritatem Deus in nos quoniam cum adhuc peccatores essemus

5:9. Christ died for us. Much more therefore, being now justified by his blood, shall we be saved from wrath through him.

Christus pro nobis mortuus est multo igitur magis iustificati nunc in sanguine ipsius salvi erimus ab ira per ipsum

5:10. For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son: much more, being reconciled, shall we be saved by his life.

Si enim cum inimici essemus reconciliati sumus Deo per mortem Filii eius multo magis reconciliati salvi erimus in vita ipsius

5:11. And not only so: but also we glory in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received reconciliation.

Non solum autem sed et gloriamur in Deo per Dominum nostrum Iesum Christum per quem nunc reconciliationem accepimus

5:12. Wherefore as by one man sin entered into this world and by sin death: and so death passed upon all men, in whom all have sinned. *

Propterea sicut per unum hominem in hunc mundum peccatum intravit et per peccatum mors et ita in omnes homines mors pertransiit in quo omnes peccaverunt

By one man... Adam, from whom we all contracted original sin.

5:13. For until the law sin was in the world: but sin was not imputed, when the law was not. *

Usque ad legem enim peccatum erat in mundo peccatum autem non imputatur cum lex non est

Not imputed... That is, men knew not, or made no account of sin, neither was it imputed to them, in the manner it was afterwards, when they transgressed the known written law of God.

5:14. But death reigned from Adam unto Moses, even over them also who have not sinned, after the similitude of the transgression of Adam, who is a figure of him who was to come.

Sed regnavit mors ab Adam usque ad Mosen etiam in eos qui non peccaverunt in similitudinem praevaricationis Adae qui est forma futuri

5:15. But not as the offence, so also the gift. For if by the offence of one, many died: much more the grace of God and the gift, by the grace of one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.

Sed non sicut delictum ita et donum si enim unius delicto multi mortui sunt multo magis gratia Dei et donum in gratiam unius hominis Iesu Christi in plures abundavit

5:16. And not as it was by one sin, so also is the gift. For judgment indeed was by one unto condemnation: but grace is of many offences unto justification.

Et non sicut per unum peccantem ita et donum nam iudicium ex uno in condemnationem gratia autem ex multis delictis in iustificationem

5:17. For if by one man's offence death reigned through one; much more they who receive abundance of grace and of the gift and of justice shall reign in life through one, Jesus Christ.

Si enim in unius delicto mors regnavit per unum multo magis abundantiam gratiae et donationis et iustitiae accipientes in vita regnabunt per unum Iesum Christum

5:18. Therefore, as by the offence of one, unto all men to condemnation: so also by the justice of one, unto all men to justification of life.

Igitur sicut per unius delictum in omnes homines in condemnationem sic et per unius iustitiam in omnes homines in iustificationem vitae

5:19. For as by the disobedience of one man, many were made sinners: so also by the obedience of one, many shall be made just.

Sicut enim per inoboedientiam unius hominis peccatores constituti sunt multi ita et per unius oboedientiam iusti constituentur multi

5:20. Now the law entered in that sin might abound. And where sin abounded, grace did more abound. *

Lex autem subintravit ut abundaret delictum ubi autem abundavit delictum superabundavit gratia

That sin might abound... Not as if the law were given on purpose for sin to abound: but that it so happened through man's perversity, taking occasion of sinning more, from the prohibition of sin.

5:21. That as sin hath reigned to death: so also grace might reign by justice unto life everlasting, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Ut sicut regnavit peccatum in morte ita et gratia regnet per iustitiam in vitam aeternam per Iesum Christum Dominum nostrum

Romans Chapter 6

The Christian must die to sin and live to God.

---

6:1. What shall we say, then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

Quid ergo dicemus permanebimus in peccato ut gratia abundet

6:2. God forbid! For we that are dead to sin, how shall we live any longer therein?

Absit qui enim mortui sumus peccato quomodo adhuc vivemus in illo

6:3. Know you not that all we who are baptized in Christ Jesus are baptized in his death?

An ignoratis quia quicumque baptizati sumus in Christo Iesu in morte ipsius baptizati sumus

6:4. For we are buried together with him by baptism into death: that, as Christ is risen from the dead by the glory of the Father, so we also may walk in newness of life.

Consepulti enim sumus cum illo per baptismum in mortem ut quomodo surrexit Christus a mortuis per gloriam Patris ita et nos in novitate vitae ambulemus

6:5. For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection.

Si enim conplantati facti sumus similitudini mortis eius simul et resurrectionis erimus

6:6. Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin may be destroyed, to the end that we may serve sin no longer.*

Hoc scientes quia vetus homo noster simul crucifixus est ut destruat corpus peccati ut ultra non serviamus peccato

Old man--body of sin... Our corrupt state, subject to sin and concupiscence, coming to us from Adam, is called our old man, as our state, reformed in and by Christ, is called the new man. And the vices and sins, which then ruled in us are named the body of sin.

6:7. For he that is dead is justified from sin.

Qui enim mortuus est iustificatus est a peccato

6:8. Now, if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall live also together with Christ.

Si autem mortui sumus cum Christo credimus quia simul etiam vivemus cum Christo

6:9. Knowing that Christ, rising again from the dead, dieth now no more. Death shall no more have dominion over him.

Scientes quod Christus surgens ex mortuis iam non moritur mors illi ultra non dominabitur

6:10. For in that he died to sin, he died once: but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

Quod enim mortuus est peccato mortuus est semel quod autem vivit vivit Deo

6:11. So do you also reckon that you are dead to sin, but alive unto God, in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Ita et vos existimate vos mortuos quidem esse peccato viventes autem Deo in Christo Iesu

6:12. Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, so as to obey the lusts thereof.

Non ergo regnet peccatum in vestro mortali corpore ut oboediatis concupiscentiis eius

6:13. Neither yield ye your members as instruments of iniquity unto sin: but present yourselves to God, as those that are alive from the dead; and your members as instruments of justice unto God.

Sed neque exhibeatis membra vestra arma iniquitatis peccato sed exhibete vos Deo tamquam ex mortuis viventes et membra vestra arma iustitiae Deo

6:14. For sin shall not have dominion over you: for you are not under the law, but under grace.

Peccatum enim vobis non dominabitur non enim sub lege estis sed sub gratia

6:15. What then? Shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid!
Quid ergo peccavimus quoniam non sumus sub lege sed sub gratia absit

6:16. Know you not that to whom you yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants you are whom you obey, whether it be of sin unto death or of obedience unto justice.
Nescitis quoniam cui exhibetis vos servos ad oboediendum servi estis eius cui oboeditis sive peccati sive oboeditionis ad iustitiam

6:17. But thanks be to God, that you were the servants of sin but have obeyed from the heart unto that form of doctrine into which you have been delivered.
Gratias autem Deo quod fuistis servi peccati oboeditis autem ex corde in eam formam doctrinae in qua traditi estis

6:18. Being then freed from sin, we have been made servants of justice.
Liberati autem a peccato servi facti estis iustitiae

6:19. I speak an human thing, because of the infirmity of your flesh. For as you have yielded your members to serve uncleanness and iniquity, unto iniquity: so now yield your members to serve justice, unto sanctification.
Humanum dico propter infirmitatem carnis vestrae sicut enim exhibuistis membra vestra servire inmunditiae et iniquitati ad iniquitatem ita nunc exhibete membra vestra servire iustitiae in sanctificationem

6:20. For when you were the servants of sin, you were free men to justice.
Cum enim servi essetis peccati liberi fuistis iustitiae

6:21. What fruit therefore had you then in those things of which you are now ashamed? For the end of them is death.
Quem ergo fructum habuistis tunc in quibus nunc erubescitis nam finis illorum mors est

6:22. But now being made free from sin and become servants to God, you have your fruit unto sanctification, and the end life everlasting.
Nunc vero liberati a peccato servi autem facti Deo habetis fructum vestrum in sanctificationem finem vero vitam aeternam

6:23. For the wages of sin is death. But the grace of God, life everlasting in Christ Jesus our Lord.
Stipendia enim peccati mors gratia autem Dei vita aeterna in Christo Iesu Domino nostro

Romans Chapter 7

We are released by Christ from the law and from the guilt of sin, though the inclination to it still tempts us.

---

7:1. Know you not, brethren (for I speak to them that know the law) that the law hath dominion over a man as long as it liveth?*

An ignoratis fratres scientibus enim legem loquor quia lex in homine dominatur quanto tempore vivit

As long as it liveth... or, as long as he liveth.

7:2. For the woman that hath an husband, whilst her husband liveth is bound to the law. But if her husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

Nam quae sub viro est mulier vivente viro alligata est legi si autem mortuus fuerit vir soluta est a lege viri

7:3. Therefore, whilst her husband liveth, she shall be called an adulteress, if she be with another man: but if her husband be dead, she is delivered from the law of her husband: so that she is not an adulteress, if she be with another man.

Igitur vivente viro vocabitur adultera si fuerit cum alio viro si autem mortuus fuerit vir eius liberata est a lege ut non sit adultera si fuerit cum alio viro

7:4. Therefore, my brethren, you also are become dead to the law, by the body of Christ: that you may belong to another, who is risen again from the dead that we may bring forth fruit to God.

Itaque fratres mei et vos mortificati estis legi per corpus Christi ut sitis alterius qui ex mortuis resurrexit ut fructificaremus Deo

7:5. For when we were in the flesh, the passions of sins, which were by the law, did work in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death.

Cum enim essemus in carne passiones peccatorum quae per legem erant operabantur in membris nostris ut fructificarent morti

7:6. But now we are loosed from the law of death wherein we were detained; so that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

Nunc autem soluti sumus a lege morientes in quo detinebamur ita ut serviamus in novitate spiritus et non in vetustate litterae

7:7. What shall we say, then? Is the law sin? God forbid! But I do not know sin, but by the law. For I had not known concupiscence, if the law did not say: Thou shalt not covet.

Quid ergo dicemus lex peccatum est absit sed peccatum non cognovi nisi per legem nam concupiscentiam nesciebam nisi lex diceret non concupisces

7:8. But sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For without the law sin was dead.*

Occasione autem accepta peccatum per mandatum operatum est in me omnem concupiscentiam sine lege enim peccatum mortuum erat

Sin taking occasion... Sin, or concupiscence, which is called sin, because it is from sin, and leads to sin, which was asleep before, was weakened by the prohibition: the law not being the cause thereof, nor properly giving occasion to it: but occasion being taken by our corrupt nature to resist the commandment laid upon us.

7:9. And I lived some time without the law. But when the commandment came, sin revived,

Ego autem vivebam sine lege aliquando sed cum venisset mandatum peccatum revixit

7:10. And I died. And the commandment that was ordained to life, the same was found to be unto death to me.

Ego autem mortuus sum et inventum est mihi mandatum quod erat ad vitam hoc esse ad mortem

7:11. For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, seduced me: and by it killed me.

Nam peccatum occasione accepta per mandatum seduxit me et per illud occidit

7:12. Wherefore the law indeed is holy: and the commandment holy and just and good.

Itaque lex quidem sancta et mandatum sanctum et iustum et bonum

7:13. Was that then which is good made death unto me? God forbid! But sin, that it may appear sin, by that which is good, wrought death in me: that sin, by the commandment, might become sinful above measure. *

Quod ergo bonum est mihi factum est mors absit sed peccatum ut appareat peccatum per bonum mihi operatum est mortem ut fiat supra modum peccans peccatum per mandatum

That it may appear sin, or that sin may appear, viz... To be the monster it is, which is even capable to take occasion from that which is good, to work death.

7:14. For we know that the law is spiritual. But I am carnal, sold under sin.

Scimus enim quod lex spiritalis est ego autem carnalis sum venundatus sub peccato

7:15. For that which I work, I understand not. For I do not that good which I will: but the evil which I hate, that I do. *

Quod enim operor non intellego non enim quod volo hoc ago sed quod odi illud facio

I do not that good which I will, etc... The apostle here describes the disorderly motions of passion and concupiscence; which oftentimes in us get the start of reason: and by means of which even good men suffer in the inferior appetite what their will abhors: and are much hindered in the accomplishment of the desires of their spirit and mind. But these evil motions, (though they are called the law of sin, because they come from original sin, and violently tempt and incline to sin), as long as the will does not consent to them, are not sins, because they are not voluntary.

7:16. If then I do that which I will not, I consent to the law, that it is good.

Si autem quod nolo illud facio consentio legi quoniam bona

7:17. Now then it is no more I that do it: but sin that dwelleth in me.

Nunc autem iam non ego operor illud sed quod habitat in me peccatum

7:18. For I know that there dwelleth not in me, that is to say, in my flesh, that which is good. For to will is present with me: but to accomplish that which is good, I find not.

Scio enim quia non habitat in me hoc est in carne mea bonum nam velle adiacet mihi perficere autem bonum non invenio

7:19. For the good which I will, I do not: but the evil which I will not, that I do.

Non enim quod volo bonum hoc facio sed quod nolo malum hoc ago

7:20. Now if I do that which I will not, it is no more I that do it: but sin that dwelleth in me.

Si autem quod nolo illud facio non ego operor illud sed quod habitat in me peccatum

7:21. I find then a law, that when I have a will to do good, evil is present with me.

Invenio igitur legem volenti mihi facere bonum quoniam mihi malum adiacet

7:22. For I am delighted with the law of God, according to the inward man:

Condelector enim legi Dei secundum interiorem hominem

7:23. But I see another law in my members, fighting against the law of my mind and captivating me in the law of sin that is in my members.

Video autem aliam legem in membris meis repugnantem legi mentis meae et captivantem me in lege peccati quae est in membris meis

7:24. Unhappy man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death?

Infelix ego homo quis me liberabit de corpore mortis huius

7:25. The grace of God, by Jesus Christ our Lord. Therefore, I myself, with the mind serve the law of God: but with the flesh, the law of sin.

Gratia Dei per Iesum Christum Dominum nostrum igitur ego ipse mente servio legi Dei carne autem legi peccati

Romans Chapter 8

There is no condemnation to them that, being justified by Christ, walk not according to the flesh, but according to the spirit. Their strong hope and love of God.

---

8:1. There is now therefore no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus, who walk not according to the flesh.

Nihil ergo nunc damnationis est his qui sunt in Christo Iesu qui non secundum carnem ambulant

8:2. For the law of the spirit of life, in Christ Jesus, hath delivered me from the law of sin and of death.

Lex enim Spiritus vitae in Christo Iesu liberavit me a lege peccati et mortis

8:3. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and of sin, hath condemned sin in the flesh.

Nam quod impossibile erat legis in quo infirmabatur per carnem Deus Filium suum mittens in similitudinem carnis peccati et de peccato damnavit peccatum in carne

8:4. That the justification of the law might be fulfilled in us who walk not according to the flesh, but according to the spirit.

Ut iustificatio legis impleretur in nobis qui non secundum carnem ambulamus sed secundum Spiritum

8:5. For they that are according to the flesh mind the things that are of the flesh: but they that are according to the spirit mind the things that are of the spirit.

Qui enim secundum carnem sunt quae carnis sunt sapiunt qui vero secundum Spiritum quae sunt Spiritus sentiunt

8:6. For the wisdom of the flesh is death: but the wisdom of the spirit is life and peace.

Nam prudentia carnis mors prudentia autem Spiritus vita et pax

8:7. Because the wisdom of the flesh is an enemy to God. For it is not subject to the law of God: neither can it be.

Quoniam sapientia carnis inimicitia est in Deum legi enim Dei non subicitur nec enim potest

8:8. And they who are in the flesh cannot please God.

Qui autem in carne sunt Deo placere non possunt

8:9. But you are not in the flesh, but the spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

Vos autem in carne non estis sed in Spiritu si tamen Spiritus Dei habitat in vobis si quis autem Spiritum Christi non habet hic non est eius

8:10. And if Christ be in you, the body indeed is dead, because of sin: but the spirit liveth, because of justification.

Si autem Christus in vobis est corpus quidem mortuum est propter peccatum spiritus vero vita propter iustificationem

8:11. And if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you; he that raised up Jesus Christ from the dead shall quicken also your mortal bodies, because of his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

Quod si Spiritus eius qui suscitavit Iesum a mortuis habitat in vobis qui suscitavit Iesum Christum a mortuis vivificabit et mortalia corpora vestra propter inhabitantem Spiritum eius in vobis

8:12. Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh to live according to the flesh.

Ergo fratres debitores sumus non carni ut secundum carnem vivamus

8:13. For if you live according to the flesh, you shall die: but if by the Spirit you mortify the deeds of the flesh, you shall live.

Si enim secundum carnem vixeritis moriemini si autem Spiritu facta carnis mortificatis vivetis

8:14. For whosoever are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

Quicumque enim Spiritu Dei aguntur hii filii sunt Dei

8:15. For you have not received the spirit of bondage again in fear: but you have received the spirit of adoption of sons, whereby we cry: Abba (Father).

Non enim accepistis spiritum servitutis iterum in timore sed accepistis Spiritum adoptionis filiorum in quo clamamus Abba Pater

8:16. For the Spirit himself giveth testimony to our spirit that we are the sons of God.*

Ipsa Spiritus testimonium reddit spiritui nostro quod sumus filii Dei

The Spirit himself, etc... By the inward motions of divine love, and the peace of conscience, which the children of God experience, they have a kind of testimony of God's favour; by which they are much strengthened in their hope of their justification and salvation; but yet not so as to pretend to an absolute assurance: which is not usually granted in this mortal life: during which we are taught to work out our salvation with fear and trembling. Phil. 2.12. And that he that thinketh himself to stand, must take heed lest he fall. 1 Corinthians 10:12. See also Romans 11:20-22.

8:17. And if sons, heirs also; heirs indeed of God and joint heirs with Christ: yet so, if we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified with him.

Si autem filii et heredes heredes quidem Dei coheredes autem Christi si tamen conpatimur ut et conglorificemur

8:18. For I reckon that the sufferings of this time are not worthy to be compared with the glory to come that shall be revealed in us.

Existimo enim quod non sunt condignae passiones huius temporis ad futuram gloriam quae revelabitur in nobis

8:19. For the expectation of the creature waiteth for the revelation of the sons of God.*

Nam expectatio creaturae revelationem filiorum Dei expectat

The expectation of the creature, etc... He speaks of the corporeal creation, made for the use and service of man; and, by occasion of his sin, made subject to vanity, that is, to a perpetual instability, tending to corruption and other defects; so that by a figure of speech it is here said to groan and be in labour, and to long for its deliverance, which is then to come, when sin shall reign no more; and God shall raise the bodies and unite them to their souls never more to separate, and to be in everlasting happiness in heaven.

8:20. For the creature was made subject to vanity: not willingly, but by reason of him that made it subject, in hope.

Vanitati enim creatura subiecta est non volens sed propter eum qui subiecit in spem

8:21. Because the creature also itself shall be delivered from the servitude of corruption, into the liberty of the glory of the children of God.

Quia et ipsa creatura liberabitur a servitute corruptionis in libertatem gloriae filiorum Dei

8:22. For we know that every creature groaneth and travaileth in pain, even till now.

Scimus enim quod omnis creatura ingemescit et parturit usque adhuc

8:23. And not only it, but ourselves also, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit: even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption of the sons of God, the redemption of our body.

Non solum autem illa sed et nos ipsi primitias Spiritus habentes et ipsi intra nos gemimus adoptionem filiorum expectantes redemptionem corporis nostri

8:24. For we are saved by hope. But hope that is seen is not hope. For what a man seeth, why doth he hope for?

Spe enim salvi facti sumus spes autem quae videtur non est spes nam quod videt quis quid sperat

8:25. But if we hope for that which we see not, we wait for it with patience.

Si autem quod non videmus speramus per patientiam expectamus

8:26. Likewise, the Spirit also helpeth our infirmity. For, we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit himself asketh for us with unspeakable groanings, *

Similiter autem et Spiritus adiuvat infirmitatem nostram nam quid oremus sicut oportet nescimus sed ipse Spiritus postulat pro nobis gemitibus inenarrabilibus

Asketh for us... The Spirit is said to ask, and desire for the saints, and to pray in us; inasmuch as he inspireth prayer, and teacheth us to pray.

8:27. And he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what the Spirit desireth: because he asketh for the saints according to God.

Qui autem scrutatur corda scit quid desideret Spiritus quia secundum Deum postulat pro sanctis

8:28. And we know that to them that love God all things work together unto good: to such as, according to his purpose, are called to be saints.

Scimus autem quoniam diligentibus Deum omnia cooperantur in bonum his qui secundum propositum vocati sunt sancti

8:29. For whom he foreknew, he also predestinated to be made conformable to the image of his Son: that he might be the Firstborn amongst many brethren.*

Nam quos praescivit et praedestinavit conformes fieri imaginis Filii eius ut sit ipse primogenitus in multis fratribus

He also predestinated, etc... That is, God hath preordained that all his elect should be conformable to the image of his Son. We must not here offer to pry into the secrets of God's eternal election; only firmly believe that all our good, in time and eternity, flows originally from God's free goodness; and all our evil from man's free will.

8:30. And whom he predestinated, them he also called. And whom he called, them he also justified. And whom he justified, them he also glorified.

Quos autem praedestinavit hos et vocavit et quos vocavit hos et iustificavit quos autem iustificavit illos et glorificavit

8:31. What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who is against us?

Quid ergo dicemus ad haec si Deus pro nobis quis contra nos

8:32. He that spared not even his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how hath he not also, with him, given us all things?

Qui etiam Filio suo non pepercit sed pro nobis omnibus tradidit illum quomodo non etiam cum illo omnia nobis donabit

8:33. Who shall accuse against the elect of God? God is he that justifieth:

Quis accusabit adversus electos Dei Deus qui iustificat

8:34. Who is he that shall condemn? Christ Jesus that died: yea that is risen also again, who is at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.

Quis est qui condemnet Christus Iesus qui mortuus est immo qui resurrexit qui et est ad dexteram Dei qui etiam interpellat pro nobis

8:35. Who then shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation? Or distress? Or famine? Or nakedness? Or danger? Or persecution? Or the sword?

Quis nos separabit a caritate Christi tribulatio an angustia an persecutio an fames an nuditas an periculum an gladius

8:36. (As it is written: For thy sake, we are put to death all the day long. We are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.)

Sicut scriptum est quia propter te mortificamur tota die aestimati sumus ut oves occisionis

8:37. But in all these things we overcome, because of him that hath loved us.

Sed in his omnibus superamus propter eum qui dilexit nos

8:38. For I am sure that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor might,*

Certus sum enim quia neque mors neque vita neque angeli neque principatus neque instantia neque futura neque fortitudines

I am sure... That is, I am persuaded; as it is in the Greek, pepeismai.

8:39. Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Neque altitudo neque profundum neque creatura alia poterit nos separare a caritate Dei quae est in Christo Iesu Domino nostro

Romans Chapter 9

The apostle's concern for the Jews. God's election is free and not confined to their nation.

---

9:1. I speak the truth in Christ: I lie not, my conscience bearing me witness in the Holy Ghost:

Veritatem dico in Christo non mentior testimonium mihi perhibente conscientia mea in Spiritu Sancto

9:2. That I have great sadness and continual sorrow in my heart.

Quoniam tristitia est mihi magna et continuus dolor cordi meo

9:3. For I wished myself to be an anathema from Christ, for my brethren: who are my kinsmen according to the flesh: *

Optabam enim ipse ego anathema esse a Christo pro fratribus meis qui sunt cognati mei secundum carnem

Anathema... A curse. The apostle's concern and love for his countrymen the Jews was so great, that he was willing to suffer even an anathema, or curse, for their sake; or any evil that could come upon him, without his offending God.

9:4. Who are Israelites: to whom belongeth the adoption as of children and the glory and the testament and the giving of the law and the service of God and the promises:

Qui sunt Israhelitae quorum adoptio est filiorum et gloria et testamenta et legislatio et obsequium et promissa

9:5. Whose are the fathers and of whom is Christ, according to the flesh, who is over all things, God blessed for ever. Amen.

Quorum patres et ex quibus Christus secundum carnem qui est super omnia Deus benedictus in saecula amen

9:6. Not as though the word of God hath miscarried. For all are not Israelites that are of Israel. *

Non autem quod exciderit verbum Dei non enim omnes qui ex Israhel hii sunt Israhel

All are not Israelites, etc... Not all, who are the carnal seed of Israel, are true Israelites in God's account: who, as by his free grace, he heretofore preferred Isaac before Ismael, and Jacob before Esau, so he could, and did by the like free grace, election and mercy, raise up spiritual children by faith to Abraham and Israel, from among the Gentiles, and prefer them before the carnal Jews.

9:7. Neither are all they that are the seed of Abraham, children: but in Isaac shall thy seed be called.

Neque quia semen sunt Abrahae omnes filii sed in Isaac vocabitur tibi semen

9:8. That is to say, not they that are the children of the flesh are the children of God: but they that are the children of the promise are accounted for the seed.

Id est non qui filii carnis hii filii Dei sed qui filii sunt promissionis aestimantur in semine

9:9. For this is the word of promise: According to this time will I come. And Sara shall have a son.

Promissionis enim verbum hoc est secundum hoc tempus veniam et erit Sarrae filius

9:10. And not only she. But when Rebecca also had conceived at once of Isaac our father.

Non solum autem sed et Rebecca ex uno concubitu habens Isaac patre nostro

9:11. For when the children were not yet born, nor had done any good or evil (that the purpose of God according to election might stand): *

Cum enim nondum nati fuissent aut aliquid egissent bonum aut malum ut secundum electionem propositum Dei maneret

Not yet born, etc... By this example of these twins, and the preference of the younger to the elder, the drift of the apostle is, to show that God, in his election, mercy and grace, is not tied to any particular nation, as the Jews imagined: nor to any prerogative of birth, or any forgoing merits. For as, antecedently to his grace, he sees no merits in any, but finds all involved in sin, in the common mass of condemnation; and all children of wrath: there is no one whom he might not justly leave in that mass; so that whomsoever he delivers from it, he delivers in his mercy: and whomsoever he leaves in it, he leaves in his justice. As when, of two equally criminal, the king is pleased out of pure mercy to pardon one, whilst he suffers justice to take place in the execution of the other.

9:12. Not of works, but of him that calleth, it was said to her: The elder shall serve the younger.
Non ex operibus sed ex vocante dictum est ei quia maior serviet minori

9:13. As it is written: Jacob I have loved: but Esau I have hated.
Sicut scriptum est Iacob dilexi Esau autem odio habui

9:14. What shall we say then? Is there injustice with God? God forbid!
Quid ergo dicemus numquid iniquitas apud Deum absit

9:15. For he saith to Moses: I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy. And I will show mercy to whom I will show mercy.
Mosi enim dicit miserebor cuius misereor et misericordiam praestabo cuius miserebor

9:16. So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that showeth mercy.*
Igitur non volentis neque currentis sed miserentis Dei
Not of him that willeth, etc... That is, by any power or strength of his own, abstracting from the grace of God.

9:17. For the scripture saith to Pharao: To this purpose have I raised thee, that I may show my power in thee and that my name may be declared throughout all the earth.*
Dicit enim scriptura Pharaoni quia in hoc ipsum excitavi te ut ostendam in te virtutem meam et ut adnuntietur nomen meum in universa terra
To this purpose, etc... Not that God made him on purpose that he should sin, and so be damned; but foreseeing his obstinacy in sin, and the abuse of his own free will, he raised him up to be a mighty king, to make a more remarkable example of him: and that his power might be better known, and his justice in punishing him, published throughout the earth.

9:18. Therefore he hath mercy on whom he will. And whom he will, he hardeneth.*
Ergo cuius vult miseretur et quem vult indurat
He hardeneth... Not by being the cause or author of his sin, but by withholding his grace, and so leaving him in his sin, in punishment of his past demerits.

9:19. Thou wilt say therefore to me: Why doth he then find fault? For who resisteth his will?
Dicis itaque mihi quid adhuc queritur voluntati enim eius quis resistit

9:20. O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it: Why hast thou made me thus?
O homo tu quis es qui respondeas Deo numquid dicit figmentum ei qui se finxit quid me fecisti sic

9:21. Or hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump, to make one vessel unto honour and another unto dishonour?*

An non habet potestatem figulus luti ex eadem massa facere aliud quidem vas in honorem aliud vero in contumeliam

The potter... This similitude is used only to show that we are not to dispute with our Maker, nor to reason with him why he does not give as much grace to one as to another; for since the whole lump of our clay is vitiated by sin, it is owing to his goodness and mercy, that he makes out of it so many vessels of honor; and it is no more than just, that others, in punishment of their unrepented sins, should be given up to be vessels of dishonor.

9:22. What if God, willing to show his wrath and to make his power known, endured with much patience vessels of wrath, fitted for destruction,
Quod si volens Deus ostendere iram et notam facere potentiam suam sustinuit in multa patientia vasa irae aptata in interitum

9:23. That he might show the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy which he hath prepared unto glory?
Ut ostenderet divitias gloriae suae in vasa misericordiae quae praeparavit in gloriam

9:24. Even us, whom also he hath called, not only of the Jews but also of the Gentiles.
Quos et vocavit nos non solum ex Iudaeis sed etiam ex gentibus

9:25. As in Osee he saith: I will call that which was not my people, my people; and her that was not beloved, beloved; and her that had not obtained mercy; one that hath obtained mercy.
Sicut in Osee dicit vocabo non plebem meam plebem meam et non misericordiam consecutam misericordiam consecutam

9:26. And it shall be in the place where it was said unto them: you are not my people; there they shall be called the sons of the living God.

Et erit in loco ubi dictum est eis non plebs mea vos ibi vocabuntur filii Dei vivi

9:27. And Isaias cried out concerning Israel: If the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be saved. *

Esaias autem clamat pro Israhel si fuerit numerus filiorum Israhel tamquam harena maris reliquiae salvae fient

A remnant... That is, a small number only of the children of Israel shall be converted and saved. How perversely is this text quoted for the salvation of men of all religions, when it speaks only of the converts of the children of Israel!

9:28. For he shall finish his word and cut it short in justice: because a short word shall the Lord make upon the earth.

Verbum enim consummans et brevians in aequitate quia verbum breviatum faciet Dominus super terram

9:29. And Isaias foretold: Unless the Lord of Sabbath had left us a seed, we had been made as Sodom and we had been like unto Gomorrha.

Et sicut praedixit Esaias nisi Dominus Sabaoth reliquisset nobis semen sicut Sodoma facti essemus et sicut Gomorra similes fuissetus

9:30. What then shall we say? That the Gentiles who followed not after justice have attained to justice, even the justice that is of faith.

Quid ergo dicemus quod gentes quae non sectabantur iustitiam adprehenderunt iustitiam iustitiam autem quae ex fide est

9:31. But Israel, by following after the law of justice, is not come unto the law of justice.

Israhel vero sectans legem iustitiae in legem iustitiae non pervenit

9:32. Why so? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were of works. For they stumbled at the stumblingstone.

Quare quia non ex fide sed quasi ex operibus offenderunt in lapidem offensionis

9:33. As it is written: Behold I lay in Sion a stumbling-stone and a rock of scandal. And whosoever believeth in him shall not be confounded.

Sicut scriptum est ecce pono in Sion lapidem offensionis et petram scandali et omnis qui credit in eum non confundetur

Romans Chapter 10

The end of the law is faith in Christ. which the Jews refusing to submit to, cannot be justified.

10:1. Brethren, the will of my heart, indeed and my prayer to God is for them unto salvation.
Fratres voluntas quidem cordis mei et obsecratio ad Deum fit pro illis in salutem

10:2. For I bear them witness that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.
Testimonium enim perhibeo illis quod aemulationem Dei habent sed non secundum scientiam

10:3. For they, not knowing the justice of God and seeking to establish their own, have not submitted themselves to the justice of God.*

Ignorantes enim Dei iustitiam et suam quaerentes statuere iustitiae Dei non sunt subiecti

The justice of God... That is, the justice which God giveth us through Christ; as on the other hand, the Jews' own justice is, that which they pretended to by their own strength, or by the observance of the law, without faith in Christ.

10:4. For the end of the law is Christ: unto justice to everyone that believeth.
Finis enim legis Christus ad iustitiam omni credenti

10:5. For Moses wrote that the justice which is of the law: The man that shall do it shall live by it.
Moses enim scripsit quoniam iustitiam quae ex lege est qui fecerit homo vivet in ea

10:6. But the justice which is of faith, speaketh thus: Say not in thy heart: Who shall ascend into heaven? That is to bring Christ down;

Quae autem ex fide est iustitia sic dicit ne dixeris in corde tuo quis ascendit in caelum id est Christum deducere

10:7. Or who shall descend into the deep? That is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.
Aut quis descendit in abyssum hoc est Christum ex mortuis revocare

10:8. But what saith the scripture? The word is nigh thee; even in thy mouth and in thy heart. This is the word of faith, which we preach.

Sed quid dicit prope est verbum in ore tuo et in corde tuo hoc est verbum fidei quod praedicamus

10:9. For if thou confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in thy heart that God hath raised him up from the dead, thou shalt be saved.*

Quia si confitearis in ore tuo Dominum Iesum et in corde tuo credideris quod Deus illum excitavit ex mortuis salvus eris

Thou shalt be saved... To confess the Lord Jesus, and to call upon the name of the Lord (ver. 13) is not barely the professing a belief in the person of Christ; but moreover, implies a belief of his whole doctrine, and an obedience to his law; without which, the calling him Lord will save no man. St. Matt. 7.21.

10:10. For, with the heart, we believe unto justice: but, with the mouth, confession is made unto salvation.

Corde enim creditur ad iustitiam ore autem confessio fit in salutem

10:11. For the scripture saith: Whosoever believeth in him shall not be confounded.

Dicit enim scriptura omnis qui credit in illum non confundetur

10:12. For there is no distinction of the Jew and the Greek: for the same is Lord over all, rich unto all that call upon him.

Non enim est distinctio Iudaei et Graeci nam idem Dominus omnium dives in omnes qui invocant illum

10:13. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.

Omnis enim quicumque invocaverit nomen Domini salvus erit

10:14. How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? Or how shall they believe him of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher?

Quomodo ergo invocabunt in quem non crediderunt aut quomodo credent ei quem non audierunt quomodo autem audient sine praedicante

10:15. And how shall they preach unless they be sent, as it is written: How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, of them that bring glad tidings of good things?*

Quomodo vero praedicabunt nisi mittantur sicut scriptum est quam speciosi pedes evangelizantium pacem evangelizantium bona

Unless they be sent... Here is an evident proof against all new teachers, who have all usurped to themselves the ministry without any lawful mission, derived by succession from the apostles, to whom Christ said [John 20:21] As my Father hath sent me, I also send you.

10:16. But all do not obey the gospel. For Isaias saith: Lord, who hath believed our report?

Sed non omnes oboedierunt evangelio Esaias enim dicit Domine quis credidit auditui nostro

10:17. Faith then cometh by hearing; and hearing by the word of Christ.

Ergo fides ex auditu auditus autem per verbum Christi

10:18. But I say: Have they not heard? Yes, verily: Their sound hath gone forth into all the earth: and their words unto the ends of the whole world.

Sed dico numquid non audierunt et quidem in omnem terram exiit sonus eorum et in fines orbis terrae verba eorum

10:19. But I say: Hath not Israel known? First, Moses saith: I will provoke you to jealousy by that which is not a nation: by a foolish nation I will anger you.

Sed dico numquid Israhel non cognovit primus Moses dicit ego ad aemulationem vos adducam in non gentem in gentem insipientem in iram vos mittam

10:20. But Isaias is bold, and saith: I was found by them that did not seek me. I appeared openly to them that asked not after me.

Esaias autem audet et dicit inventus sum non quaerentibus me palam apparui his qui me non interrogabant

10:21. But to Israel he saith: All the day long have I spread my hands to a people that believeth not and contradicteth me.

Ad Israhel autem dicit tota die expandi manus meas ad populum non credentem et contradicentem

Romans Chapter 11

God hath not cast off all Israel. The Gentiles must not be proud but stand in faith and fear.

---

11:1. I say then: Hath God cast away his people? God forbid! For I also am an Israelite of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

Dico ergo numquid reppulit Deus populum suum absit nam et ego Israhelita sum ex semine Abraham tribu Benjamin

11:2. God hath not cast away his people which he foreknew. Know you not what the scripture saith of Elias, how he calleth on God against Israel?

Non reppulit Deus plebem suam quam praesciit an nescitis in Helia quid dicit scriptura quemadmodum interpellat Deum adversus Israhel

11:3. Lord, they have slain thy prophets, they have dug down thy altars. And I am left alone: and they seek my life.

Domine prophetas tuos occiderunt altaria tua suffoderunt et ego relictus sum solus et quaerunt animam meam

11:4. But what saith the divine answer to him? I have left me seven thousand men that have not bowed their knees to Baal. *

Sed quid dicit illi responsum divinum reliqui mihi septem milia virorum qui non curvaverunt genu Baal Seven thousand, etc... This is very ill alleged by some, against the perpetual visibility of the church of Christ; the more, because however the number of the faithful might be abridged by the persecution of Jezebel in the kingdom of the ten tribes, the church was at the same time in a most flourishing condition (under Asa and Josaphat) in the kingdom of Judah.

11:5. Even so then, at this present time also, there is a remnant saved according to the election of grace.

Sic ergo et in hoc tempore reliquiae secundum electionem gratiae factae sunt

11:6. And if by grace, it is not now by works: otherwise grace is no more grace. *

Si autem gratia non ex operibus alioquin gratia iam non est gratia

It is not now by works, etc... If salvation were to come by works, done by nature, without faith and grace, salvation would not be a grace or favour, but a debt; but such dead works are indeed of no value in the sight of God towards salvation. It is not the same with regard to works done with, and by, God's grace; for to such works as these, he has promised eternal salvation.

11:7. What then? That which Israel sought, he hath not obtained: but the election hath obtained it. And the rest have been blinded.

Quid ergo quod quaerebat Israhel hoc non est consecutus electio autem consecuta est ceteri vero excaecati sunt

11:8. As it is written: God hath given them the spirit of insensibility; eyes that they should not see and ears that they should not hear, until this present day. *

Sicut scriptum est dedit illis Deus spiritum conpunctionis oculos ut non videant et aures ut non audiant usque in hodiernum diem

God hath given them, etc... Not by his working or acting in them; but by his permission, and by withdrawing his grace in punishment of their obstinacy.

11:9. And David saith: Let their table be made a snare and a trap and a stumbling block and a recompense unto them.

Et David dicit fiat mensa eorum in laqueum et in captionem et in scandalum et in retributionem illis

11:10. Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see: and bow down their back always.

Obscurentur oculi eorum ne videant et dorsum illorum semper incurva

11:11. I say then: Have they so stumbled, that they should fall? God forbid! But by their offence salvation is come to the Gentiles, that they may be emulous of them.*

Dico ergo numquid sic offenderent ut caderent absit sed illorum delicto salus gentibus ut illos aemulentur

That they should fall... The nation of the Jews is not absolutely and without remedy cast off for ever; but in part only, (many thousands of them having been at first converted), and for a time; which fall of theirs, God has been pleased to turn to the good of the Gentiles.

11:12. Now if the offence of them be the riches of the world and the diminution of them the riches of the Gentiles: how much more the fulness of them?

Quod si delictum illorum divitiae sunt mundi et deminutio eorum divitiae gentium quanto magis plenitudo eorum

11:13. For I say to you, Gentiles: As long indeed as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I will honour my ministry,

Vobis enim dico gentibus quamdiu quidem ego sum gentium apostolus ministerium meum honorificabo

11:14. If, by any means, I may provoke to emulation them who are my flesh and may save some of them.

Si quo modo ad aemulandum provocem carnem meam et salvos faciam aliquos ex illis

11:15. For if the loss of them be the reconciliation of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?

Si enim amissio eorum reconciliatio est mundi quae adsumptio nisi vita ex mortuis

11:16. For if the firstfruit be holy, so is the lump also: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

Quod si delibatio sancta est et massa et si radix sancta et rami

11:17. And if some of the branches be broken and thou, being a wild olive, art ingrafted in them and art made partaker of the root and of the fatness of the olive tree:

Quod si aliqui ex ramis fracti sunt tu autem cum oleaster esses insertus es in illis et socius radicis et pinguidinis olivae factus es

11:18. Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root: but the root thee.

Noli gloriari adversus ramos quod si gloriaris non tu radicem portas sed radix te

11:19. Thou wilt say then: The branches were broken off that I might be grafted in.

Dices ergo fracti sunt rami ut ego inserar

11:20. Well: because of unbelief they were broken off. But thou standest by faith. Be not highminded, but fear.*

Bene propter incredulitatem fracti sunt tu autem fide stas noli altum sapere sed time

Thou standest by faith: be not highminded, but fear... We see here that he who standeth by faith may fall from it; and therefore must live in fear, and not in the vain presumption and security of modern sectaries.

11:21. For if God hath not spared the natural branches, fear lest perhaps also he spare not thee.

Si enim Deus naturalibus ramis non pepercit ne forte nec tibi parcat

11:22. See then the goodness and the severity of God: towards them indeed that are fallen, the severity; but towards thee, the goodness of God, if thou abide in goodness. Otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.*

Vide ergo bonitatem et severitatem Dei in eos quidem qui ceciderunt severitatem in te autem bonitatem Dei si permanseris in bonitate alioquin et tu excideris

Otherwise thou also shalt be cut off... The Gentiles are here admonished not to be proud, nor to glory against the Jews: but to take occasion rather from their fall to fear and to be humble, lest they be cast off. Not that the whole church of Christ can ever fall from him; having been secured by so many divine promises in holy writ; but that each one in particular may fall; and therefore all in general are to be admonished to beware of that, which may happen to any one in particular.

11:23. And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again.

Sed et illi si non permanserint in incredulitate inserentur potens est enim Deus iterum inserere illos

11:24. For if thou were cut out of the wild olive tree, which is natural to thee; and, contrary to nature, wert grafted into the good olive tree: how much more shall they that are the natural branches be grafted into their own olive tree?

Nam si tu ex naturali excisus es oleastro et contra naturam insertus es in bonam olivam quanto magis hii secundum naturam inserentur suae olivae

11:25. For I would not have you ignorant, brethren, of this mystery (lest you should be wise in your own conceits) that blindness in part has happened in Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles should come in.

Nolo enim vos ignorare fratres mysterium hoc ut non sitis vobis ipsis sapientes quia caecitas ex parte contigit in Israhel donec plenitudo gentium intraret

11:26. And so all Israel should be saved, as it is written: There shall come out of Sion, he that shall deliver and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob.

Et sic omnis Israhel salvus fieret sicut scriptum est veniet ex Sion qui eripiat avertet impietates ab Iacob

11:27. And this is to them my covenant: when I shall take away their sins.

Et hoc illis a me testamentum cum abstulero peccata eorum

11:28. As concerning the gospel, indeed, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are most dear for the sake of the fathers.

Secundum evangelium quidem inimici propter vos secundum electionem autem carissimi propter patres

11:29. For the gifts and the calling of God are without repentance.*

Sine paenitentia enim sunt dona et vocatio Dei

For the gifts and the calling of God are without... his repenting himself of them; for the promises of God are unchangeable, nor can he repent of conferring his gifts.

11:30. For as you also in times past did not believe God, but now have obtained mercy, through their unbelief:

Sicut enim aliquando et vos non credidistis Deo nunc autem misericordiam consecuti estis propter illorum incredulitatem

11:31. So these also now have not believed, for your mercy, that they also may obtain mercy.

Ita et isti nunc non crediderunt in vestram misericordiam ut et ipsi misericordiam consequantur

11:32. For God hath concluded all in unbelief, that he may have mercy on all.*

Conclisit enim Deus omnia in incredulitatem ut omnium misereatur

Concluded all in unbelief... He hath found all nations, both Jews and Gentiles, in unbelief and sin; not by his causing, but by the abuse of their own free will; so that their calling and election is purely owing to his mercy.

11:33. O the depth of the riches of the wisdom and of the knowledge of God! How incomprehensible are his judgments, and how unsearchable his ways!

O altitudo divitiarum sapientiae et scientiae Dei quam inconprehensibilia sunt iudicia eius et investigabiles viae eius

11:34. For who hath known the mind of the Lord? Or who hath been his counsellor?

Quis enim cognovit sensum Domini aut quis consiliarius eius fuit

11:35. Or who hath first given to him, and recompense shall be made him?

Aut quis prior dedit illi et retribuetur ei

11:36. For of him, and by him, and in him, are all things: to him be glory for ever. Amen.

Quoniam ex ipso et per ipsum et in ipso omnia ipsi gloria in saecula amen

Romans Chapter 12

Lessons of Christian virtues.

---

12:1. I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercy of God, that you present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, pleasing unto God, your reasonable service.

Obsecro itaque vos fratres per misericordiam Dei ut exhibeatis corpora vestra hostiam viventem sanctam Deo placentem rationabile obsequium vestrum

12:2. And be not conformed to this world: but be reformed in the newness of your mind, that you may prove what is the good and the acceptable and the perfect will of God.

Et nolite conformari huic saeculo sed reformamini in novitate sensus vestri ut probetis quae sit voluntas Dei bona et placens et perfecta

12:3. For I say, by the grace that is given me, to all that are among you, not to be more wise than it behoveth to be wise, but to be wise unto sobriety and according as God hath divided to every one the measure of faith.

Dico enim per gratiam quae data est mihi omnibus qui sunt inter vos non plus sapere quam oportet sapere sed sapere ad sobrietatem unicuique sicut Deus divisit mensuram fidei

12:4. For as in one body we have many members, but all the members have not the same office: Sicut enim in uno corpore multa membra habemus omnia autem membra non eundem actum habent

12:5. So we, being many, are one body in Christ; and every one members one of another:

Ita multi unum corpus sumus in Christo singuli autem alter alterius membra

12:6. And having different gifts, according to the grace that is given us, either prophecy, to be used according to the rule of faith;

Habentes autem donationes secundum gratiam quae data est nobis differentes sive prophetiam secundum rationem fidei

12:7. Or ministry, in ministering; or he that teacheth, in doctrine;

Sive ministerium in ministrando sive qui docet in doctrina

12:8. He that exhorteth, in exhorting; he that giveth, with simplicity; he that ruleth, with carefulness; he that showeth mercy, with cheerfulness.

Qui exhortatur in exhortando qui tribuit in simplicitate qui praeest in sollicitudine qui miseretur in hilaritate

12:9. Let love be without dissimulation. Hating that which is evil, cleaving to that which is good,

Dilectio sine simulatione odientes malum adherentes bono

12:10. Loving one another with the charity of brotherhood: with honour preventing one another.

Caritatem fraternitatis invicem diligentes honore invicem praevenientes

12:11. In carefulness not slothful. In spirit fervent. Serving the Lord.

Sollicitudine non pigri spiritu ferventes Domino servientes

12:12. Rejoicing in hope. Patient in tribulation. Instant in prayer.

Spe gaudentes in tribulatione patientes orationi instantes

12:13. Communicating to the necessities of the saints. Pursuing hospitality.

Necessitatibus sanctorum communicantes hospitalitatem sectantes

12:14. Bless them that persecute you: bless, and curse not.

Benedicite persequentibus benedicite et nolite maledicere

12:15. Rejoice with them that rejoice: weep with them that weep.

Gaudere cum gaudentibus flere cum flentibus

12:16. Being of one mind one towards another. Not minding high things, but consenting to the humble. Be not wise in your own conceits.

Id ipsum invicem sentientes non alta sapientes sed humilibus consentientes nolite esse prudentes apud vosmet ipsos

12:17. To no man rendering evil for evil. Providing good things, not only in the sight of God but also in the sight of all men.

Nulli malum pro malo reddentes providentes bona non tantum coram Deo sed etiam coram omnibus hominibus

12:18. If it be possible, as much as is in you, have peace with all men.

Si fieri potest quod ex vobis est cum omnibus hominibus pacem habentes

12:19. Revenge not yourselves, my dearly beloved; but give place unto wrath, for it is written: Revenge is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord.

Non vosmet ipsos defendentes carissimi sed date locum irae scriptum est enim mihi vindictam ego retribuam dicit Dominus

12:20. But if the enemy be hungry, give him to eat; if he thirst, give him to drink. For, doing this, thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head.

Sed si esurierit inimicus tuus ciba illum si sitit potum da illi hoc enim faciens carbones ignis congeres super caput eius

12:21. Be not overcome by evil: but overcome evil by good.

Noli vinci a malo sed vince in bono malum

Romans Chapter 13

Lessons of obedience to superiors and mutual charity.

13:1. Let every soul be subject to higher powers. For there is no power but from God: and those that are ordained of God.

Omnis anima potestatibus sublimioribus subdita sit non est enim potestas nisi a Deo quae autem sunt a Deo ordinatae sunt

13:2. Therefore, he that resisteth the power resisteth the ordinance of God. And they that resist purchase to themselves damnation.

Itaque qui resistit potestati Dei ordinationi resistit qui autem resistunt ipsi sibi damnationem adquireunt

13:3. For princes are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? Do that which is good: and thou shalt have praise from the same.

Nam principes non sunt timori boni operis sed mali vis autem non timere potestatem bonum fac et habebis laudem ex illa

13:4. For he is God's minister to thee, for good. But if thou do that which is evil, fear: for he beareth not the sword in vain. For he is God's minister: an avenger to execute wrath upon him that doth evil.

Dei enim minister est tibi in bonum si autem male feceris time non enim sine causa gladium portat Dei enim minister est vindex in iram ei qui malum agit

13:5. Wherefore be subject of necessity: not only for wrath, but also for conscience' sake.

Ideo necessitate subditi estote non solum propter iram sed et propter conscientiam

13:6. For therefore also you pay tribute. For they are the ministers of God, serving unto this purpose.

Ideo enim et tributa praestatis ministri enim Dei sunt in hoc ipsum servientes

13:7. Render therefore to all men their dues. Tribute, to whom tribute is due: custom, to whom custom: fear, to whom fear: honour, to whom honour.

Reddite omnibus debita cui tributum tributum cui vectigal vectigal cui timorem timorem cui honorem honorem

13:8. Owe no man any thing, but to love one another. For he that loveth his neighbour hath fulfilled the law.

Nemini quicquam debeatis nisi ut invicem diligatis qui enim diligit proximum legem implevit

13:9. For: Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not steal: Thou shalt not bear false witness: Thou shalt not covet. And if there be any other commandment, it is comprised in this word: Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

Nam non adulterabis non occides non furaberis non concupisces et si quod est aliud mandatum in hoc verbo instauratur diliges proximum tuum tamquam te ipsum

13:10. The love of our neighbour worketh no evil. Love therefore is the fulfilling of the law.

Dilectio proximo malum non operatur plenitudo ergo legis est dilectio

13:11. And that, knowing the season, that it is now the hour for us to rise from sleep. For now our salvation is nearer than when we believed.

Et hoc scientes tempus quia hora est iam nos de somno surgere nunc enim propior est nostra salus quam cum credidimus

13:12. The night is passed And the day is at hand. Let us, therefore cast off the works of darkness and put on the armour of light.

Nox praecessit dies autem adpropiauit abiciamus ergo opera tenebrarum et induamur arma lucis

13:13. Let us walk honestly, as in the day: not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and impurities, not in contention and envy.

Sicut in die honeste ambulemus non in comesationibus et ebrietatibus non in cubilibus et inpudiciis non in contentione et aemulatione

13:14. But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ: and make not provision for the flesh in its concupiscences.

Sed induite Dominum Iesum Christum et carnis curam ne feceritis in desideriis

Romans Chapter 14

The strong must bear with the weak. Cautions against judging and giving scandal.

---

14:1. Now him that is weak in faith, take unto you: not in disputes about thoughts.

Infirmum autem in fide adsumite non in disceptationibus cogitationum

14:2. For one believeth that he may eat all things: but he that is weak, let him eat herbs.*

Alius enim credit manducare omnia qui autem infirmus est holus manducat

Eat all things. Viz., without observing the distinction of clean and unclean meats, prescribed by the law of Moses: which was now no longer obligatory. Some weak Christians, converted from among the Jews, as we here gather from the apostle, made a scruple of eating such meats as were deemed unclean by the law: such as swine's flesh, etc., which the stronger sort of Christians did eat without scruple. Now the apostle, to reconcile them together, exhorts the former not to judge or condemn the latter, using their Christian liberty; and the latter, to take care not to despise or scandalize their weaker brethren, either by bringing them to eat what in their conscience they think they should not, or by giving them such offence, as to endanger the driving them thereby from the Christian religion.

14:3. Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not: and he that eateth not, let him not judge him that eateth. For God hath taken him to him.

Is qui manducat non manducantem non spernat et qui non manducat manducantem non iudicet Deus enim illum adsumpsit

14:4. Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? To his own lord he standeth or falleth. And he shall stand: for God is able to make him stand.

Tu quis es qui iudices alienum servum suo domino stat aut cadit stabit autem potens est enim Deus statuere illum

14:5. For one judgeth between day and day: and another judgeth every day. Let every man abound in his own sense.*

Nam alius iudicat diem plus inter diem alius iudicat omnem diem unusquisque in suo sensu abundet

Between day, etc... Still observing the sabbaths and festivals of the law.

14:6. He that regardeth the day regardeth it unto the Lord. And he that eateth eateth to the Lord: for he giveth thanks to God. And he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not and giveth thanks to God.

Qui sapit diem Domino sapit et qui manducat Domino manducat gratias enim agit Deo et qui non manducat Domino non manducat et gratias agit Deo

14:7. For none of us liveth to himself: and no man dieth to himself.

Nemo enim nostrum sibi vivit et nemo sibi moritur

14:8. For whether we live, we live unto the Lord: or whether we die, we die unto the Lord. Therefore, whether we live or whether we die, we are the Lord's.

Sive enim vivimus Domino vivimus sive morimur Domino morimur sive ergo vivimus sive morimur Domini sumus

14:9. For to this end Christ died and rose again: that he might be Lord both of the dead and of the living.

In hoc enim Christus et mortuus est et revixit ut et mortuorum et vivorum dominetur

14:10. But thou, why judgest thou thy brother? Or thou, why dost thou despise thy brother? For we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ.

Tu autem quid iudicas fratrem tuum aut tu quare spernis fratrem tuum omnes enim stabimus ante tribunal Dei

14:11. For it is written: As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me and every tongue shall confess to God.

Scriptum est enim vivo ego dicit Dominus quoniam mihi flectet omne genu et omnis lingua confitebitur Deo

14:12. Therefore every one of us shall render account to God for himself.

Itaque unusquisque nostrum pro se rationem reddet Deo

14:13. Let us not therefore judge one another any more. But judge this rather, that you put not a stumblingblock or a scandal in your brother's way.

Non ergo amplius invicem iudicemus sed hoc iudicate magis ne ponatis offendiculum fratri vel scandalum

14:14. I know, and am confident in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

Scio et confido in Domino Iesu quia nihil commune per ipsum nisi ei qui existimat quid commune esse illi commune est

14:15. For if, because of thy meat, thy brother be grieved, thou walkest not now according to charity. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.

Si enim propter cibum frater tuus contristatur iam non secundum caritatem ambulas noli cibo tuo illum perdere pro quo Christus mortuus est

14:16. Let not then our good be evil spoken of.

Non ergo blasphemetur bonum nostrum

14:17. For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink: but justice and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost.

Non est regnum Dei esca et potus sed iustitia et pax et gaudium in Spiritu Sancto

14:18. For he that in this serveth Christ pleaseth God and is approved of men.

Qui enim in hoc servit Christo placet Deo et probatus est hominibus

14:19. Therefore, let us follow after the things that are of peace and keep the things that are of edification, one towards another.

Itaque quae pacis sunt sectemur et quae aedificationis sunt in invicem

14:20. Destroy not the work of God for meat. All things indeed are clean: but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

Noli propter escam destruere opus Dei omnia quidem munda sunt sed malum est homini qui per offendiculum manducat

14:21. It is good not to eat flesh and not to drink wine: nor any thing whereby thy brother is offended or scandalized or made weak.

Bonum est non manducare carnem et non bibere vinum neque in quo frater tuus offendit aut scandalizatur aut infirmatur

14:22. Hast thou faith? Have it to thyself before God. Blessed is he that condemneth not himself in that which he alloweth.

Tu fidem habes penes temet ipsum habe coram Deo beatus qui non iudicat semet ipsum in eo quo probat

14:23. But he that discerneth, if he eat, is condemned; because not of faith. For all that is not of faith is sin.*

Qui autem discernit si manducaverit damnatus est quia non ex fide omne autem quod non ex fide peccatum est

Discerneth... That is, distinguisheth between meats, and eateth against his conscience, what he deems unclean. Of faith... By faith is here understood judgment and conscience: to act against which is always a sin.

Romans Chapter 15

He exhorts them to be all of one mind and promises to come and see them.

---

15:1. Now, we that are stronger ought to bear the infirmities of the weak and not to please ourselves.
Debemus autem nos firmiores inbecillitates infirmorum sustinere et non nobis placere

15:2. Let every one of you please his neighbour unto good, to edification.
Unusquisque vestrum proximo suo placeat in bonum ad aedificationem

15:3. For Christ did not please himself: but, as it is written: The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell upon me.
Etenim Christus non sibi placuit sed sicut scriptum est inproperia inproperantium tibi ceciderunt super me

15:4. For what things soever were written were written for our learning: that, through patience and the comfort of the scriptures, we might have hope.
Quaecumque enim scripta sunt ad nostram doctrinam scripta sunt ut per patientiam et consolationem scripturarum spem habeamus

15:5. Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you to be of one mind, one towards another, according to Jesus Christ:
Deus autem patientiae et solacii det vobis id ipsum sapere in alterutrum secundum Iesum Christum

15:6. That with one mind and with one mouth you may glorify God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.
Ut unianimes uno ore honorificetis Deum et Patrem Domini nostri Iesu Christi

15:7. Wherefore, receive one another, as Christ also hath received you, unto the honour of God.
Propter quod suscipite invicem sicut et Christus suscepit vos in honorem Dei

15:8. For I say that Christ Jesus was minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers: *
Dico enim Christum Iesum ministrum fuisse circumcisionis propter veritatem Dei ad confirmandas promissiones patrum

Minister of the circumcision... That is, executed his office and ministry towards the Jews, the people of the circumcision.

15:9. But that the Gentiles are to glorify God for his mercy, as it is written: Therefore will I confess to thee, O Lord, among the Gentiles and will sing to thy name.
Gentes autem super misericordiam honorare Deum sicut scriptum est propter hoc confitebor tibi in gentibus et nomini tuo cantabo

15:10. And again he saith: rejoice ye Gentiles, with his people.
Et iterum dicit laetamini gentes cum plebe eius

15:11. And again: praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles: and magnify him, all ye people.
Et iterum laudate omnes gentes Dominum et magnificate eum omnes populi

15:12. And again, Isaias saith: There shall be a root of Jesse; and he that shall rise up to rule the Gentiles, in him the Gentiles shall hope.
Et rursus Esaias ait erit radix Iesse et qui exsurget regere gentes in eo gentes sperabunt

15:13. Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing: that you may abound in hope and in the power of the Holy Ghost.
Deus autem spei repleat vos omni gaudio et pace in credendo ut abundetis in spe in virtute Spiritus Sancti

15:14. And I myself also, my brethren, am assured of you that you also are full of love, replenished with all knowledge, so that you are able to admonish one another.

Certus sum autem fratres mei et ego ipse de vobis quoniam et ipsi pleni estis dilectione repleti omni scientia ita ut possitis alterutrum monere

15:15. But I have written to you, brethren, more boldly in some sort, as it were putting you in mind, because of the grace which is given me from God,

Audacius autem scripsi vobis fratres ex parte tamquam in memoriam vos reducens propter gratiam quae data est mihi a Deo

15:16. That I should be the minister of Christ Jesus among the Gentiles: sanctifying the gospel of God, that the oblation of the Gentiles may be made acceptable and sanctified in the Holy Ghost.

Ut sim minister Christi Iesu in gentibus sanctificans evangelium Dei ut fiat oblatio gentium accepta sanctificata in Spiritu Sancto

15:17. I have therefore glory in Christ Jesus towards God.

Habeo igitur gloriam in Christo Iesu ad Deum

15:18. For I dare not to speak of any of those things which Christ worketh not by me, for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and deed,

Non enim audeo aliquid loqui eorum quae per me non effecit Christus in oboedientiam gentium verbo et factis

15:19. By the virtue of signs and wonders, in the power of the Holy Ghost, so that from Jerusalem round about, as far as unto Illyricum, I have replenished the gospel of Christ.

In virtute signorum et prodigiorum in virtute Spiritus Sancti ita ut ab Hierusalem per circuitum usque in Illyricum repleverim evangelium Christi

15:20. And I have so preached this gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another man a foundation.

Sic autem hoc praedicavi evangelium non ubi nominatus est Christus ne super alienum fundamentum aedificarem

15:21. But as it is written: They to whom he was not spoken of shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand.

Sed sicut scriptum est quibus non est adnuntiatum de eo videbunt et qui non audierunt intellegent

15:22. For which cause also, I was hindered very much from coming to you and have been kept away till now.

Propter quod et inpediebar plurimum venire ad vos

15:23. But now, having no more place in these countries and having a great desire these many years past to come unto you,

Nunc vero ulterius locum non habens in his regionibus cupiditatem autem habens veniendi ad vos ex multis iam annis

15:24. When I shall begin to take my journey into Spain, I hope that, as I pass, I shall see you and be brought on my way thither by you: if first, in part, I shall have enjoyed you.

Cum in Hispaniam proficisci coepero spero quod praeteriens videam vos et a vobis deducar illuc si vobis primum ex parte fruius fuero

15:25. But now I shall go to Jerusalem, to minister unto the saints.

Nunc igitur proficiscar in Hierusalem ministrare sanctis

15:26. For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a contribution for the poor of the saints that are in Jerusalem.

Probaverunt enim Macedonia et Achaia conlationem aliquam facere in pauperes sanctorum qui sunt in Hierusalem

15:27. For it hath pleased them: and they are their debtors. For, if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, they ought also in carnal things to minister to them.

Placuit enim eis et debitores sunt eorum nam si spiritualium eorum participes facti sunt gentiles debent et in carnalibus ministrare eis

15:28. When therefore I shall have accomplished this and consigned to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spain.

Hoc igitur cum consummavero et adsignavero eis fructum hunc proficiscar per vos in Hispaniam

15:29. And I know that when I come to you I shall come in the abundance of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

Scio autem quoniam veniens ad vos in abundantia benedictionis Christi veniam

15:30. I beseech you therefore, brethren, through our Lord Jesus Christ and by the charity of the Holy Ghost, that you help me in your prayers for me to God,

Obsecro igitur vos fratres per Dominum nostrum Iesum Christum et per caritatem Spiritus ut adjuvetis me in orationibus pro me ad Deum

15:31. That I may be delivered from the unbelievers that are in Judea and that the oblation of my service may be acceptable in Jerusalem to the saints.

Ut liberer ab infidelibus qui sunt in Iudaea et obsequii mei oblatio accepta fiat in Hierosolyma sanctis

15:32. That I may come to you with joy, by the will of God, and may be refreshed with you.

Ut veniam ad vos in gaudio per voluntatem Dei et refrigerer vobiscum

15:33. Now the God of peace be with, you all. Amen.

Deus autem pacis sit cum omnibus vobis amen

Romans Chapter 16

He concludes with salutations, bidding them beware of all that should oppose the doctrine they had learned.

---

16:1. And I commend to you Phebe, our sister, who is in the ministry of the church, that is in Cenchræ: Commendo autem vobis Phœbem sororem nostram quæ est in ministerio ecclesiæ quæ est Cenchræ

16:2. That you receive her in the Lord as becometh saints and that you assist her in whatsoever business she shall have need of you. For she also hath assisted many, and myself also.

Ut eam suscipiatis in Domino digne sanctis et adstantis ei in quocumque negotio vestri indigerit etenim ipsa quoque adstitit multis et mihi ipsi

16:3. Salute Prisca and Aquila, my helpers, in Christ Jesus

Salutate Priscam et Aquilam adiutores meos in Christo Iesu

16:4. (Who have for my life laid down their own necks: to whom not I only give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles),

Qui pro anima mea suas cervices subposuerunt quibus non solus ego gratias ago sed et cunctæ ecclesiæ gentium

16:5. And the church which is in their house. Salute Epenetus, my beloved: who is the firstfruits of Asia in Christ.

Et domesticam eorum ecclesiam salute Ephaenetum dilectum mihi qui est primitivus Asiae in Christo

16:6. Salute Mary, who hath laboured much among you.

Salutate Mariam quæ multum laboravit in vobis

16:7. Salute Andronicus and Junias, my kinsmen and fellow prisoners: who are of note among the apostles, who also were in Christ before me.

Salutate Andronicum et Iuniam cognatos et concaptivos meos qui sunt nobiles in apostolis qui et ante me fuerunt in Christo

16:8. Salute Ampliatus, most beloved to me in the Lord.

Salutate Ampliatum dilectissimum mihi in Domino

16:9. Salute Urbanus, our helper in Christ Jesus and Stachys, my beloved.

Salutate Urbanum adiutorem nostrum in Christo et Stachyn dilectum meum

16:10. Salute Apellas, approved in Christ.

Salutate Apellen probum in Christo

16:11. Salute them that are of Aristobulus' household. Salute Herodian, my kinsman. Salute them that are of Narcissus' household, who are in the Lord.

Salutate eos qui sunt ex Aristoboli salute Herodionem cognatum meum salute eos qui sunt ex Narcissi qui sunt in Domino

16:12. Salute Tryphaena and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute Persis, the dearly beloved, who hath much laboured in the Lord.

Salutate Tryfenam et Tryfosam quæ laborant in Domino salute Persidam carissimam quæ multum laboravit in Domino

16:13. Salute Rufus, elect in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

Salutate Rufum electum in Domino et matrem eius et meam

16:14. Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes: and the brethren that are with them.
Salutate Asyncritum Flegonta Hermen Patrobam Hermam et qui cum eis sunt fratres

16:15. Salute Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympias: and all the saints that are with them.
Salutate Filologum et Iuliam Nereum et sororem eius et Olympiadem et omnes qui cum eis sunt sanctos

16:16. Salute one another with an holy kiss. All the churches of Christ salute you.
Salutate invicem in osculo sancto salutant vos omnes ecclesiae Christi

16:17. Now I beseech you, brethren, to mark them who make dissensions and offences contrary to the doctrine which you have learned and avoid them.
Rogo autem vos fratres ut observetis eos qui dissensiones et offendicula praeter doctrinam quam vos didicistis faciunt et declinate ab illis

16:18. For they that are such serve not Christ our Lord but their own belly: and by pleasing speeches and good words seduce the hearts of the innocent.
Huiusmodi enim Christo Domino nostro non serviunt sed suo ventri et per dulces sermones et benedictiones seducunt corda innocentium

16:19. For your obedience is published in every place. I rejoice therefore in you. But I would have you to be wise in good and simple in evil.
Vestra enim oboedientia in omnem locum divulgata est gaudeo igitur in vobis sed volo vos sapientes esse in bono et simplices in malo

16:20. And the God of peace crush Satan under your feet speedily. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.
Deus autem pacis conteret Satanam sub pedibus vestris velociter gratia Domini nostri Iesu Christi vobiscum

16:21. Timothy, my fellow labourer, saluteth you: and Lucius and Jason and Sosipater, my kinsmen.
Salutat vos Timotheus adiutor meus et Lucius et Jason et Sosipater cognati mei

16:22. I, Tertius, who wrote this epistle, salute you in the Lord.
Saluto vos ego Tertius qui scripsi epistulam in Domino

16:23. Caius, my host, and the whole church saluteth you. Erastus, the treasurer of the city, saluteth you: and Quartus, a brother.
Salutat vos Gaius hospes meus et universae ecclesiae salutat vos Erastus arcarius civitatis et Quartus frater

16:24. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

16:25. Now to him that is able to establish you, according to my gospel and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery which was kept secret from eternity;
Ei autem qui potens est vos confirmare iuxta evangelium meum et praedicationem Iesu Christi secundum revelationem mysterii temporibus aeternis taciti

16:26. (Which now is made manifest by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the precept of the eternal God, for the obedience of faith) known among all nations:
Quod nunc patefactum est per scripturas prophetarum secundum praeceptum aeterni Dei ad oboedientiam fidei in cunctis gentibus cognito

16:27. To God, the only wise, through Jesus Christ, to whom be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.
Solo sapienti Deo per Iesum Christum cui honor in saecula saeculorum amen

Ruth

This Book is called RUTH, from the name of the person whose history is here recorded: who, being a Gentile, became a convert to the true faith, and marrying Booz, the great-grandfather of David, was one of those from whom Christ sprung according to the flesh, and an illustrious figure of the Gentile church. It is thought this book was written by the prophet Samuel. (For more information, see the article RUTH in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Ruth Chapter 1. Elimelech of Bethlehem going with his wife Noemi, and two sons, into the land of Moab, dieth there. His sons marry wives of that country and die without issue. Noemi returneth home with her daughter in law Ruth, who refuseth to part with her.

Ruth Chapter 2. Ruth gleaneth in the field of Booz, who showeth her favour.

Ruth Chapter 3. Ruth instructed by her mother in law lieth at Booz's feet, claiming him for her husband by the law of affinity: she receiveth a good answer, and six measures of barley.

Ruth Chapter 4. Upon the refusal of the nearer kinsman, Booz marrieth Ruth, who bringeth forth Obed, the grandfather of David.

Ruth Chapter 1

Elimelech of Bethlehem going with his wife Noemi, and two sons, into the land of Moab, dieth there. His sons marry wives of that country and die without issue. Noemi returneth home with her daughter in law Ruth, who refuseth to part with her.

---

1:1. In the days of the judges, when the judges ruled, there came a famine in the land. And a certain man of Bethlehem Juda, went to sojourn in the land of Moab with his wife and his two sons.

In diebus unius iudicis quando iudices praeerant facta est fames in terra abiique homo de Bethleem Iuda ut peregrinaretur in regione moabitide cum uxore sua ac duobus liberis

1:2. He was named Elimelech, and his wife Noemi: and his two sons, the one Mahalon, and the other Chelion, Ephrathites of Bethlehem Juda. And entering into the country of Moab, they abode there.

Ips vocabatur Helimelech uxor eius Noemi e duobus filiis alter Maalon et alter Chellion Ephrathei de Bethleem Iuda ingressique regionem moabitidem morabantur ibi

1:3. And Elimelech the husband of Noemi died: and she remained with her sons.

Et mortuus est Helimelech maritus Noemi remansitque ipsa cum filiis

1:4. And they took wives of the women of Moab, of which one was called Orpha, and the other Ruth. And they dwelt their ten years,

Qui acceperunt uxores moabitidas quarum una vocabatur Orpha altera Ruth manseruntque ibi decem annis

1:5. And they both died, to wit, Mahalon and Chelion: and the woman was left alone, having lost both her sons and her husband.

Et ambo mortui sunt Maalon videlicet et Chellion remansitque mulier orbata duobus liberis ac marito

1:6. And she arose to go from the land of Moab to her own country, with both her daughters in law: for she had heard that the Lord had looked upon his people, and had given them food.

Et surrexit ut in patriam pergeret cum utraque nuru sua de regione moabitide audierat enim quod respexisset Dominus populum suum et dedisset eis escas

1:7. Wherefore she went forth out of the place of her sojournment, with both her daughters in law: and being now in the way to return into the land of Juda,

Egressa est itaque de loco peregrinationis suae cum utraque nuru et iam in via posita revertendi in terram Iuda

1:8. She said to them: Go ye home to your mothers, the Lord deal mercifully with you, as you have dealt with the dead and with me.

Dixit ad eas ite in domum matris vestrae faciat Dominus vobiscum misericordiam sicut fecistis cum mortuis et mecum

1:9. May he grant you to find rest in the houses of the husbands whom you shall take. And she kissed them. And they lifted up their voice, and began to weep,

Det vobis invenire requiem in domibus virorum quos sortiturae estis et osculata est eas quae elevata voce flere coeperunt

1:10. And to say: We will go on with thee to thy people.

Et dicere tecum pergemus ad populum tuum

1:11. But she answered them: Return, my daughters: why come ye with me? have I any more sons in my womb, that you may hope for husbands of me?

Quibus illa respondit revertimini filiae mi cur venitis mecum num ultra habeo filios in utero meo ut viros ex

me sperare possitis

1:12. Return again, my daughters, and go your ways: for I am now spent with age, and not fit for wedlock. Although I might conceive this night, and bear children,
Revertimini filiae mi abite iam enim senectute confecta sum nec apta vinculo coniugali etiam si possem hac nocte concipere et parere filios

1:13. If you would wait till they were grown up, and come to man's estate, you would be old women before you marry. Do not so, my daughters, I beseech you: for I am grieved the more for your distress, and the hand of the Lord is gone out against me.

Si eos expectare velitis donec crescant et annos impleant pubertatis ante eritis vetulae quam nubatis nolite quaeso filiae mi quia vestra angustia me magis premit et egressa est manus Domini contra me

1:14. And they lifted up their voice, and began to weep again: Orpha kissed her mother in law, and returned: Ruth stuck close to her mother in law.

Elevata igitur voce rursum flere coeperunt Orpha osculata socrum est ac reversa Ruth adhesit socrui suae

1:15. And Noemi said to her: Behold thy kinswoman is returned to her people, and to her gods, go thou with her. *

Cui dixit Noemi en reversa est cognata tua ad populum suum et ad deos suos vade cum ea

To her gods, etc... Noemi did not mean to persuade Ruth to return to the false gods she had formerly worshipped: but by this manner of speech, insinuated to her, that if she would go with her, she must renounce her false gods and return to the Lord the God of Israel.

1:16. She answered: Be not against me, to desire that I should leave thee and depart: for whithersoever thou shalt go, I will go: and where thou shalt dwell, I also will dwell. Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God.

Quae respondit ne adverseris mihi ut relinquam te et abeam quocumque perrexeris pergam ubi morata fueris et ego pariter morabor populus tuus populus meus et Deus tuus Deus meus

1:17. The land that shall receive thee dying, in the same will I die: and there will I be buried. The Lord do so and so to me, and add more also, if aught but death part me and thee. *

Quae te morientem terra susceperit in ea moriar ibique locum accipiam sepulturae haec mihi faciat Deus et haec addat si non sola mors me et te separaverit

The Lord do so and so, etc... A form of swearing usual in the history of the Old Testament, by which the person wished such and such evils to fall upon them, if they did not do what they said.

1:18. Then Noemi seeing that Ruth was steadfastly determined to go with her, would not be against it, nor persuade her any more to return to her friends:

Videns ergo Noemi quod obstinato Ruth animo decrevisset secum pergere adversari noluit nec ultra ad suos reditum persuadere

1:19. So they went together, and came to Bethlehem. And when they were come into the city, the report was quickly spread among all: and the women said: This is that Noemi.

Profectaeque sunt simul et venerunt in Bethleem quibus urbem ingressis velox apud cunctos fama percrebuit dicebantque mulieres haec est illa Noemi

1:20. But she said to them: Call me not Noemi (that is, beautiful), but call me Mara (that is, bitter), for the Almighty hath quite filled me with bitterness.

Quibus ait ne vocetis me Noemi id est pulchram sed vocate me Mara hoc est amaram quia valde me amaritudine replevit Omnipotens

1:21. I went out full and the Lord hath brought me back empty. Why then do you call me Noemi, whom the Lord hath humbled, and the Almighty hath afflicted?

Egressa sum plena et vacuam reduxit me Dominus cur igitur vocatis me Noemi quam humiliavit Dominus et adflixit Omnipotens

1:22. So Noemi came with Ruth, the Moabites, her daughter in law, from the land of her sojournment: and returned into Bethlehem, in the beginning of the barley harvest.

Venit ergo Noemi cum Ruth Moabide nuru sua de terra peregrinationis suae ac reversa est in Bethleem quando primum hordea metebantur

Ruth Chapter 2

Ruth gleaneth in the field of Booz, who showeth her favour.

2:1. Now her husband Elimelech had a kinsman, a powerful man, and very rich, whose name was Booz.

Erat autem vir Helimelech consanguineus homo potens et magnarum opum nomine Booz

2:3. And Ruth, the Moabitess, said to her mother in law: If thou wilt, I will go into the field, and glean the ears of corn that escape the hands of the reapers, wheresoever I shall find grace with a householder, that will be favourable to me. And she answered her: Go, my daughter.

Abiit itaque et colligebat spicas post terga metentium accidit autem ut ager ille haberet dominum Booz qui erat de cognatione Helimelech

2:3. She went, therefore, and gleaned the ears of corn after the reapers. And it happened that the owner of that field was Booz, who was of the kindred of Elimelech.

Abiit itaque et colligebat spicas post terga metentium accidit autem ut ager ille haberet dominum Booz qui erat de cognatione Helimelech

2:4. And behold, he came out of Bethlehem, and said to the reapers: The Lord be with you. And they answered him: The Lord bless thee.

Et ecce ipse veniebat de Bethleem dixitque messoribus Dominus vobiscum qui responderunt ei benedicat tibi Dominus

2:5. And Booz said to the young man that was set over the reapers: Whose maid is this?

Dixitque Booz iuveni qui messoribus praeerat cuius est haec puella

2:6. And he answered him: This is the Moabitess, who came with Noemi, from the land of Moab,

Qui respondit haec est Moabitis quae venit cum Noemi de regione moabitude

2:7. And she desired leave to glean the ears of corn that remain, following the steps of the reapers: and she hath been in the field from morning till now, and hath not gone home for one moment.

Et rogavit ut spicas colligeret remanentes sequens messorum vestigia et de mane usque nunc stat in agro et ne ad momentum quidem domum reversa est

2:8. And Booz said to Ruth: Hear me, daughter, do not go to glean in any other field, and do not depart from this place: but keep with my maids,

Et ait Booz ad Ruth audi filia ne vadas ad colligendum in alterum agrum nec recedas ab hoc loco sed iungere puellis meis

2:9. And follow where they reap. For I have charged my young men, not to molest thee: and if thou art thirsty, go to the vessels, and drink of the waters whereof the servants drink.

Et ubi messuerint sequere mandavi enim pueris meis ut nemo tibi molestus sit sed etiam si sitieris vade ad sarcinulas et bibe aquas de quibus et pueri bibunt

2:10. She fell on her face, and worshipping upon the ground, said to him: Whence cometh this to me, that I should find grace before thy eyes, and that thou shouldst vouchsafe to take notice of me, a woman of another country?

Quae cadens in faciem suam et adorans super terram dixit ad eum unde mihi hoc ut invenirem gratiam ante oculos tuos et nosse me dignareris peregrinam mulierem

2:11. And he answered her: All hath been told me, that thou hast done to thy mother in law after the death of thy husband: and how thou hast left thy parents, and the land wherein thou wast born, and art come to a people which thou knewest not heretofore.

Cui ille respondit nuntiata sunt mihi omnia quae feceris socru tuae post mortem viri tui et quod dereliqueris parentes tuos et terram in qua nata es et veneris ad populum quem ante nesciebas

2:12. The Lord render unto thee for thy work, and mayst thou receive a full reward of the Lord the God of Israel, to whom thou art come, and under whose wings thou art fled.

Reddat tibi Dominus pro opere tuo et plenam mercedem recipias a Domino Deo Israhel ad quem venisti et sub cuius confugisti alas

2:13. And she said: I have found grace in thy eyes, my lord, who hast comforted me, and hast spoken to the heart of thy handmaid, who am not like to one of thy maids.

Quae ait inveni gratiam ante oculos tuos domine mi qui consolatus es me et locutus es ad cor ancillae tuae quae non sum similis unius puellarum tuarum

2:14. And Booz said to her: At mealtime come thou hither, and eat of the bread, and dip thy morsel in the vinegar. So she sat at the side of the reapers, and she heaped to herself frumenty, and ate and was filled, and took the leavings.

Dixitque ad eam Booz quando hora vescendi fuerit veni huc et comede panem et intingue buccellam tuam in aceto sedit itaque ad messorum latus et congescit pulentam sibi comeditque et saturata est et tulit reliquias

2:15. And she arose from thence, to glean the ears of corn as before. And Booz commanded his servants, saying: If she would even reap with you, hinder her not:

Atque inde surrexit ut spicas ex more colligeret praecepit autem Booz pueris suis dicens etiam si vobiscum metere voluerit ne prohibeatis eam

2:16. And let fall some of your handfuls of purpose, and leave them, that she may gather them without shame, and let no man rebuke her when she gathereth them.

Et de vestris quoque manipulis proicite de industria et remanere permittite ut absque rubore colligat et colligentem nemo corripiat

2:17. She gleaned therefore in the field till evening: and beating out with a rod, and threshing what she had gleaned, she found about the measure of an ephi of barley, that is, three bushels:

Collegit ergo in agro usque ad vesperam et quae collegerat virga caedens et excutiens invenit hordei quasi oephi mensuram id est tres modios

2:18. Which she took up, and returned into the city, and showed it to her mother in law: moreover, she brought out, and gave her of the remains of her meat, wherewith she had been filled.

Quos portans reversa est in civitatem et ostendit socrui suae insuper protulit et dedit ei de reliquiis cibi sui quo saturata fuerat

2:19. And her mother in law said to her: Where hast thou gleaned today, and where hast thou wrought? blessed be he that hath had pity on thee. And she told her with whom she had wrought: and she told the man's name, that he was called Booz.

Dixitque ei socrus ubi hodie collegisti et ubi fecisti opus sit benedictus qui misertus est tui indicavitque ei apud quem esset operata et nomen dixit viri quod Booz vocaretur

2:20. And Noemi answered her: Blessed be he of the Lord: because the same kindness which he showed to the living, he hath kept also to the dead. And again she said: The man is our kinsman.

Cui respondit Noemi benedictus sit a Domino quoniam eandem gratiam quam praebuerat vivis servavit et mortuis rursusque propinquus ait noster est homo

2:21. And Ruth said: He also charged me, that I should keep close to his reapers, till all the corn should be reaped.

Et Ruth hoc quoque inquit praecepit mihi ut tamdiu messoribus eius iungerer donec omnes segetes meterentur

2:22. And her mother in law said to her: It is better for thee, my daughter, to go out to reap with his maids, lest in another man's field some one may resist thee.

Cui dixit socrus melius est filia mi ut cum puellis eius exeas ad metendum ne in alieno agro quispiam resistat tibi

2:23. So she kept close to the maids of Booz: and continued to glean with them, till all the barley and the wheat were laid up in the barns.

Iuncta est itaque puellis Booz et tamdiu cum eis messuit donec hordea et triticum in horreis conderentur

Ruth Chapter 3

Ruth instructed by her mother in law lieth at Booz's feet, claiming him for her husband by the law of affinity: she receiveth a good answer, and six measures of barley.

---

3:1. After she was returned to her mother in law, Noemi said to her: My daughter, I will seek rest for thee, and will provide that it may be well with thee.

Postquam autem reversa est ad socrum suam audivit ab ea filia mi quaeram tibi requiem et providebo ut bene sit tibi

3:2. This Booz, with whose maids thou wast joined in the field, is our near kinsman, and behold this night he winnoweth barley in the threshingfloor.

Booz iste cuius puellis in agro iuncta es propinquus est noster et hac nocte aream hordei ventilat

3:3. Wash thyself therefore and anoint thee, and put on thy best garments, and go down to the barnfloor: but let not the man see thee, till he shall have done eating and drinking.

Lava igitur et unguere et induere cultioribus vestimentis ac descende in aream non te videat homo donec esum potumque finierit

3:4. And when he shall go to sleep, mark the place wherein he sleepeth: and thou shalt go in, and lift up the clothes wherewith he is covered towards his feet, and shalt lay thyself down there: and he will tell thee what thou must do.

Quando autem ierit ad dormiendum nota locum in quo dormiat veniesque et discoperies pallium quo operitur a parte pedum et proicies te et ibi iacebis ipse autem dicet tibi quid agere debeas

3:5. She answered: Whatsoever thou shalt command, I will do.

Quae respondit quicquid praeceperis faciam

3:6. And she went down to the barnfloor, and did all that her mother in law had bid her.

Descenditque in aream et fecit omnia quae sibi imperaverat socrus

3:7. And when Booz had eaten, and drunk, and was merry, he went to sleep by the heap of sheaves, and she came softly, and uncovering his feet, laid herself down.

Cumque comedisset Booz et bibisset et factus esset hilarior issetque ad dormiendum iuxta acervum manipulorum venit abscondite et discoperto a pedibus eius pallio se proiecit

3:8. And behold, when it was now midnight the man was afraid, and troubled: and he saw a woman lying at his feet,

Et ecce nocte iam media expavit homo et conturbatus est viditque mulierem iacentem ad pedes suos

3:9. And he said to her: Who art thou? And she answered: I am Ruth, thy handmaid: spread thy coverlet over thy servant, for thou art a near kinsman.

Et ait illi quae es illaque respondit ego sum Ruth ancilla tua expande pallium tuum super famulam tuam quia propinquus es

3:10. And he said: Blessed art thou of the Lord, my daughter, and thy latter kindness has surpassed the former: because thou hast not followed young men either poor or rich.*

Et ille benedicta inquit es Domino filia et priorem misericordiam posteriore superasti quia non es secuta iuvenes pauperes sive divites

Thy latter kindness, viz... to thy husband deceased in seeking to keep up his name and family by marrying his relation according to the law, and not following after young men. For Booz, it seems, was then in years.

3:11. Fear not therefore, but whatsoever thou shalt say to me I will do to thee. For all the people that dwell within the gates of my city, know that thou art a virtuous woman.

Noli ergo metuere sed quicquid dixeris mihi faciam tibi scit enim omnis populus qui habitat intra portas urbis meae mulierem te esse virtutis

3:12. Neither do I deny myself to be near of kin, but there is another nearer than I.
Nec abnuo me propinquum sed est alius me propinquior

3:13. Rest thou this night: and when morning is come, if he will take thee by the right of kindred, all is well: but if he will not, I will undoubtedly take thee, so the Lord liveth: sleep till the morning.
Quiesce hac nocte et facto mane si te voluerit propinquitatis iure retinere bene res acta est sin autem ille noluerit ego te absque ulla dubitatione suscipiam vivit Dominus dormi usque mane

3:14. So she slept at his feet till the night was going off. And she arose before men could know one another, and Booz said: Beware lest any man know that thou camest hither.
Dormivit itaque ad pedes eius usque ad noctis abscessum surrexitque antequam homines se cognoscerent mutuo et dixit Booz cave ne quis noverit quod huc veneris

3:15. And again he said: Spread thy mantle, wherewith thou art covered, and hold it with both hands. And when she spread it and held it, he measured six measures of barley, and laid it upon her. And she carried it, and went into the city,
Et rursus expande inquit palliolum tuum quo operiris et tene utraque manu qua extendente et tenente mensus est sex modios hordei et posuit super eam quae portans ingressa est civitatem

3:16. And came to her mother in law; who said to her: What hast thou done, daughter? And she told her all that the man had done to her.
Et venit ad socrum suam quae dixit ei quid egisti filia narravitque ei omnia quae sibi fecisset homo

3:17. And she said: Behold he hath given me six measures of barley: for he said: I will not have thee return empty to thy mother in law.
Et ait ecce sex modios hordei dedit mihi et ait nolo vacuum te reverti ad socrum tuam

3:18. And Noemi said: Wait, my daughter, till we see what end the thing will have. For the man will not rest until he have accomplished what he hath said.
Dixitque Noemi expecta filia donec videamus quem res exitum habeat neque enim cessabit homo nisi conpleverit quod locutus est

Ruth Chapter 4

Upon the refusal of the nearer kinsman, Booz marrieth Ruth, who bringeth forth Obed, the grandfather of David.

---

4:1. Then Booz went up to the gate, and sat there. And when he had seen the kinsman going by, of whom he had spoken before, he said to him, calling him by his name: Turn aside for a little while, and sit down here. He turned aside, and sat down.

Ascendit ergo Booz ad portam et sedit ibi cumque vidisset propinquum praeterire de quo prius sermo habitus est dixit ad eum declina paulisper et sede hic vocans eum nomine suo qui devertit et sedit

4:2. And Booz, taking ten men of the ancients of the city, said to them: Sit ye down here.

Tollens autem Booz decem viros de senioribus civitatis dixit ad eos sedete hic

4:3. They sat down, and he spoke to the kinsman: Noemi, who is returned from the country of Moab will sell a parcel of land that belonged to our brother Elimelech.

Quibus residentibus locutus est ad propinquum partem agri fratris nostri Helimelech vendit Noemi quae reversa est de regione moabitude

4:4. I would have thee to understand this, and would tell thee before all that sit here, and before the ancients of my people. If thou wilt take possession of it by the right of kindred: buy it, and possess it: but if it please thee not, tell me so, that I may know what I have to do. For there is no near kinsman besides thee, who art first, and me, who am second. But he answered: I will buy the field.

Quod audire te volui et tibi dicere coram cunctis sedentibus et maioribus natu de populo meo si vis possidere iure propinquitatis eme et posside sin autem tibi displicet hoc ipsum indica mihi ut sciam quid facere debeam nullus est enim propinquus excepto te qui prior es et me qui secundus sum at ille respondit ego agrum emam

4:5. And Booz said to him: When thou shalt buy the field at the woman's hand, thou must take also Ruth, the Moabitess, who was the wife of the deceased: to raise up the name of thy kinsman in his inheritance.

Cui dixit Booz quando emeris agrum de manu mulieris Ruth quoque Moabitidem quae uxor defuncti fuit debes accipere ut suscites nomen propinqui tui in hereditate sua

4:6. He answered: I yield up my right of next akin: for I must not cut off the posterity of my own family. Do thou make use of my privilege, which I profess I do willingly forego.

Qui respondit cedo iure propinquitatis neque enim posteritatem familiae meae delere debeo tu meo utere privilegio quo me libenter carere profiteor

4:7. Now this in former times was the manner in Israel between kinsmen, that if at any time one yielded his right to another: that the grant might be sure, the man put off his shoe and gave it to his neighbour; this was a testimony of cession of right in Israel.

Hic autem erat mos antiquitus in Israhel inter propinquos et si quando alter alteri suo iure cedebat ut esset firma concessio solvebat homo calciamentum suum et dabat proximo suo hoc erat testimonium cessionis in Israhel

4:8. So Booz said to his kinsman: Put off thy shoe. And immediately he took it off from his foot.

Dixit ergo propinquus Booz tolle calciamentum quod statim solvit de pede suo

4:9. And he said to the ancients, and to all the people: You are witnesses this day, that I have bought all that was Elimelech's, and Chelion's, and Mahalon's, of the hand of Noemi:

At ille maioribus natu et universo populo testes inquit vos estis hodie quod possederim omnia quae fuerunt Helimelech et Chellion et Maalon tradente Noemi

4:10. And have taken to wife Ruth, the Moabitess, the wife of Mahalon, to raise up the name of the deceased in his inheritance lest his name be cut off, from among his family and his brethren and his people.

You, I say, are witnesses of this thing.

Et Ruth Moabitidem uxorem Maalon in coniugium sumpserim ut suscitem nomen defuncti in hereditate sua ne vocabulum eius de familia sua ac fratribus et populo deleatur vos inquam huius rei testes estis

4:11. Then all the people that were in the gate, and the ancients, answered: We are witnesses: The Lord make this woman who cometh into thy house, like Rachel, and Lia, who built up the house of Israel: that she may be an example of virtue in Ephrata, and may have a famous name in Bethlehem: *

Respondit omnis populus qui erat in porta et maiores natu nos testes sumus faciat Dominus hanc mulierem quae ingreditur domum tuam sicut Rachel et Liam quae aedificaverunt domum Israhel ut sit exemplum virtutis in Ephrata et habeat celebre nomen in Bethleem

Ephrata... Another name of Bethlehem.

4:12. And that the house may be, as the house of Phares, whom Thamar bore unto Juda, of the seed which the Lord shall give thee of this young woman.

Fiatque domus tua sicut domus Phares quem Thamar peperit Iudae de semine quod dederit Dominus tibi ex hac puella

4:13. Booz therefore took Ruth, and married her: and went in unto her, and the Lord gave her to conceive, and to bear a son.

Tulit itaque Booz Ruth et accepit uxorem ingressusque est ad eam et dedit illi Dominus ut conciperet et pareret filium

4:14. And the women said to Noemi: Blessed be the Lord, who hath not suffered thy family to want a successor: that his name should be preserved in Israel.

Dixeruntque mulieres ad Noemi benedictus Dominus qui non est passus ut deficeret successor familiae tuae et vocaretur nomen eius in Israhel

4:15. And thou shouldst have one to comfort thy soul, and cherish thy old age. For he is born of thy daughter in law: who loveth thee: and is much better to thee, than if thou hadst seven sons.

Et habeas qui consoletur animam tuam et enutriet senectutem de nuru enim tua natus est quae te diligit et multo tibi est melior quam si septem haberes filios

4:16. And Noemi taking the child, laid it in her bosom, and she carried it, and was a nurse unto it.

Susceptumque Noemi puerum posuit in sinu suo et nutricis ac gerulae officio fungebatur

4:17. And the women, her neighbours, congratulating with her, and saying, There is a son born to Noemi, called his name Obed: he is the father of Isai, the father of David.

Vicinae autem mulieres congratulantes ei et dicentes natus est filius Noemi vocaverunt nomen eius Obed hic est pater Isai patris David

4:18. These are the generations of Phares: Phares begot Esron,

Hae sunt generationes Phares Phares genuit Esrom

4:19. Esron begot Aram, Aram begot Aminadab,

Esrom genuit Aram Aram genuit Aminadab

4:20. Aminadab begot Nahasson, Nahasson begot Salmon,

Aminadab genuit Naasson Naasson genuit Salma

4:21. Salmon begot Booz, Booz begot Obed,

Salma genuit Booz Booz genuit Obed

4:22. Obed begot Isai, Isai begot David.

Obed genuit Isai Isai genuit David

Ecclesiasticus

The Book of Ecclesiasticus, also called Sirach

---

This Book is so called from a Greek word that signifies a preacher: because, like an excellent preacher, it gives admirable lessons of all virtues. The author was Jesus the son of Sirach of Jerusalem, who flourished about two hundred years before Christ. As it was written after the time of Esdras, it is not in the Jewish canon; but is received as canonical and divine by the Catholic Church, instructed by apostolical tradition, and directed by the spirit of God. It was first written in the Hebrew, but afterwards translated into Greek, by another Jesus, the grandson of the author, whose prologue to this book is the following:

THE PROLOGUE. The knowledge of many and great things hath been shown us by the law, and the prophets, and others that have followed them: for which things Israel is to be commended for doctrine and wisdom, because not only they that speak must needs be skilful, but strangers also, both speaking and writing, may by their means become most learned. My grandfather Jesus, after he had much given himself to a diligent reading of the law, and the prophets, and other books, that were delivered to us from our fathers, had a mind also to write something himself, pertaining to doctrine and wisdom; that such as are desirous to learn, and are made knowing in these things, may be more and more attentive in mind, and be strengthened to live according to the law. I entreat you therefore to come with benevolence, and to read with attention, and to pardon us for those things wherein we may seem, while we follow the image of wisdom, to come short in the composition of words; for the Hebrew words have not the same force in them when translated into another tongue. And not only these, but the law also itself, and the prophets, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their own language. For in the eight and thirtieth year coming into Egypt, when Ptolemy Evergetes was king, and continuing there a long time, I found there books left, of no small nor contemptible learning. Therefore I thought it good, and necessary for me to bestow some diligence and labour to interpret this book; and with much watching and study in some space of time, I brought the book to an end, and set it forth for the service of them that are willing to apply their mind, and to learn how they ought to conduct themselves, who purpose to lead their life according to the law of the Lord. (For more information, see the article ECCLESIASTICUS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 1. All wisdom is from God, and is given to them that fear and love God.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 2. God's servants must look for temptations: and must arm themselves with patience and confidence in God.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 3. Lessons concerning the honour of parents, and humility, and avoiding curiosity.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 4. An exhortation to works of mercy, and to the love of wisdom.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 5. We must not presume of our wealth or strength: nor of the mercy of God, to go on in sin: we must be steadfast in virtue and truth.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 6. Of true and false friends: and of the of the fruits of wisdom.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 7. Religious and moral duties.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 8. Other lessons of wisdom and virtue.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 9. Cautions with regard to women, and dangerous conversations.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 10. The virtues and vices of men in power: the great evil of pride.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 11. Lessons of humility and moderation in all things.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 12. We are to be liberal to the just: and not to trust the wicked.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 13. Cautions in the choice of company.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 14. The evil of avarice: works of mercy are recommended, and the love of wisdom.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 15. Wisdom embraceth them that fear God. God is not the author of sin.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 16. It is better to have none than many wicked children. Of the justice and mercy of God. His ways are unsearchable.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 17. The creation and favour of God to man. An exhortation to turn to God.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 18. God's works are wonderful: we must serve him, and not our lusts.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 19. Admonition against sundry vices.

- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 20. Rules with regard to correction, discretion, and avoiding lies.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 21. Cautions against sin in general, and some sins in particular.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 22. Wise sayings on divers subjects.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 23. A prayer for grace to flee sin: cautions against profane swearing and other vices.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 24. Wisdom praiseth herself: her origin, her dwelling, her dignity, and her fruits.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 25. Documents of wisdom on several subjects.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 26. Of good and bad women.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 27. Dangers of sin from several heads: the fear of God is the best preservative. He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 28. Lessons against revenge and quarrels. The evils of the tongue.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 29. Of charity in lending money, and justice in repaying. Of alms, and of being surety.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 30. Of correction of children. Health is better than wealth. Excessive grief is hurtful.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 31. Of the desire of riches, and of moderation in eating and drinking.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 32. Lessons for superiors and inferiors. Advantages of fearing God, and doing nothing without counsel.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 33. The fear of God is the best security. Times and men are in the hands of God. Take care of thyself as long as thou livest, and look to thy servants.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 34. The vanity of dreams. The advantage of experience, and of the fear of God.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 35. What sacrifices are pleasing to God.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 36. A prayer for the church of God. Of a good heart, and a good wife.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 37. Of the choice of friends and counsellors.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 38. Of physicians and medicines: what is to be done in sickness, and how we are to mourn for the dead. Of the employments of labourers and artificers.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 39. The exercises of the wise man. The Lord is to be glorified for his works.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 40. The miseries of the life of man are relieved by the grace of God and his fear.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 41. Of the remembrance of death: of an evil and of a good name: of what things we ought to be ashamed.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 42. Of what things we ought not to be ashamed. Cautions with regard to women. The works and greatness of God.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 43. The works of God are exceedingly glorious and wonderful: no man is able sufficiently to praise him.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 44. The praises of the holy father, in particular of Enoch, Noe, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 45. The praises of Moses, of Aaron, and of Phinees.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 46. The praise of Josue, of Caleb, and of Samuel.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 47. The praise of Nathan, of David, and of Solomon: Of his fall and punishment.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 48. The praise of Elias, of Eliseus, of Ezechias, and of Isaias.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 49. The praise of Josias, of Jeremias, Ezechiel, and the twelve prophets. Also of Zorobabel, Jesus the son of Josedech, Nehemias, Enoch, Joseph, Seth, Sem, and Adam.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 50. The praises of Simon the high priest. The conclusion.
- Ecclesiasticus Chapter 51. A prayer of praise and thanksgiving.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 1

All wisdom is from God, and is given to them that fear and love God.

---

1:1. All wisdom is from the Lord God, and hath been always with him, and is before all time.

Omnis sapientia a Deo Domino est et cum illo fuit semper et est ante aevum

1:2. Who hath numbered the sand of the sea, and the drops of rain, and the days of the world? Who hath measured the height of heaven, and the breadth of the earth, and the depth of the abyss?

Harenam maris et pluviae guttas et dies saeculi quis dinumeravit altitudinem caeli et latitudinem terrae et profundum abyssi quis mensus est

1:3. Who hath searched out the wisdom of God that goeth before all things?

Sapientiam Dei praecedentem omnia quis investigavit

1:4. Wisdom hath been created before all things, and the understanding of prudence from everlasting.

Prior omnium creata est sapientia et intellectus prudentiae ab aevo

1:5. The word of God on high is the fountain of wisdom, and her ways are everlasting commandments.

Fons sapientiae verbum Dei in excelsis et ingressus illius mandata aeterna

1:6. To whom hath the root of wisdom been revealed, and who hath known her wise counsels?

Radix sapientiae cui revelata est et astutias illius quis agnovit

1:7. To whom hath the discipline of wisdom been revealed and made manifest? and who hath understood the multiplicity of her steps?

Disciplina sapientiae cui revelata est et manifestata et multiplicationem ingressus illius quis intellexit

1:8. There is one most high Creator Almighty, and a powerful king, and greatly to be feared, who sitteth upon his throne, and is the God of dominion.

Unus est Altissimus creator omnipotens rex potens et metuendus nimis sedens super thronum illius et dominans Deus

1:9. He created her in the Holy Ghost, and saw her, and numbered her, and measured her.

Ipse creavit illam spiritu sancto et vidit et dinumeravit et mensus est

1:10. And he poured her out upon all his works, and upon all flesh according to his gift, and hath given her to them that love him.

Et effudit illam super omnia opera sua et super omnem carnem secundum datum suum et praebuit illam diligentibus se

1:11. The fear of the Lord is honour, and glory, and gladness, and a crown of joy.

Timor Domini gloria et gloriatio et laetitia et corona exultationis

1:12. The fear of the Lord shall delight the heart, and shall give joy, and gladness, and length of days.

Timor Domini delectabit cor et dabit laetitiam et gaudium in longitudine dierum

1:13. With him that feareth the Lord, it shall go well in the latter end, and in the day of his death he shall be blessed.

Timenti Dominum bene erit in extremis et in die defunctionis suae benedicetur

1:14. The love of God is honourable wisdom.

Dilectio Dei honorabilis sapientia

1:15. And they to whom she shall show herself love her by the sight, and by the knowledge of her great works.

Quibus autem apparuerit in visu diligunt eam in visione et in agnitione magnalium suorum

1:16. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, and was created with the faithful in the womb, it walketh with chosen women, and is known with the just and faithful.

Initium sapientiae timor Domini et cum fidelibus in vulva concreatus est et cum electis seminis creditur et cum iustis et fidelibus agnoscitur

1:17. The fear of the Lord is the religiousness of knowledge.

Timor Domini scientiae religiositas

1:18. Religiousness shall keep and justify the heart, it shall give joy and gladness.

Religiositas custodiet et iustificabit cor iucunditatem atque gaudium dabit

1:19. It shall go well with him that feareth the Lord, and in the days of his end he shall be blessed.

Timenti Deum bene erit et in diebus consummationis illius benedicetur

1:20. To fear God is the fulness of wisdom, and fulness is from the fruits thereof.

Plenitudo sapientiae timere Deum et plenitudo a fructibus illius

1:21. She shall fill all her house with her increase, and the storehouses with her treasures.

Omnem domum illius implebit a generationibus et receptacula a thesauris illius

1:22. The fear of the Lord is a crown of wisdom, filling up peace and the fruit of salvation:

Corona sapientiae timor Domini repollens pacem et salutis fructum

1:23. And it hath seen, and numbered her: but both are the gifts of God.

Et vidit et dinumeravit eam utraque autem sunt dona Dei

1:24. Wisdom shall distribute knowledge, and understanding of prudence: and exalteth the glory of them that hold her.

Scientiam et intellectum prudentiae sapientia compartietur et gloriam tenentium se inaltat

1:25. The root of wisdom is to fear the Lord: and the branches thereof are long-lived.

Radix sapientiae est timere Dominum rami enim illius longevi

1:26. In the treasures of wisdom is understanding, and religiousness of knowledge: but to sinners wisdom is an abomination.

In thesauris sapientiae intellectus et scientiae religiositas execratio autem peccatoribus sapientia

1:27. The fear of the Lord driveth out sin:

Timor Dei expellit peccatum

1:28. For he that is without fear, cannot be justified: for the wrath of his high spirits is his ruin.

Nam qui sine timore est non poterit iustificari iracundia enim animositatis illius subversio illius est

1:29. A patient man shall bear for a time, and afterwards joy shall be restored to him.

Usque in tempus sustinebit patiens et postea redditio iucunditatis

1:30. A good understanding will hide his words for a time, and the lips of many shall declare his wisdom.

Bonus sensus usque in tempus abscondebit verba illius et labia multorum enarrabunt sensum illius

1:31. In the treasures of wisdom is the signification of discipline:

1:32. But the worship of God is an abomination to a sinner.

1:33. Son, if thou desire wisdom, keep justice, and God will give her to thee.

Concupiscens sapientiam conserva iustitiam et Deus praebebit illam tibi

1:34. For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and discipline: and that which is agreeable to him,

Sapientia enim et disciplina timor Domini et quod beneplacitum est illi

1:35. Is faith, and meekness: and he will fill up his treasures.

Fides et mansuetudo et adimplebit thesauros illius

1:36. Be not incredulous to the fear of the Lord: and come not to him with a double heart.

Non sis incredibilis timori Domini et ne accesseris ad illum duplici corde

1:37. Be not a hypocrite in the sight of men, and let not thy lips be a stumbling-block to thee.

Ne fueris hypocrita in conspectu hominum et non scandalizeris labiis tuis

1:38. Watch over them, lest thou fall, and bring dishonour upon thy soul,

Adtende in illis ne forte cadas et adducas animae tuae inhonorationem

1:39. And God discover thy secrets, and cast thee down in the midst of the congregation.

Et revelet Deus absconsa tua et in medio synagogae elidat te

1:40. Because thou camest to the Lord wickedly, and thy heart is full of guile and deceit.

Quoniam accessisti maligne ad Dominum et cor tuum plenum est dolo et fallacia

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 2

God's servants must look for temptations: and must arm themselves with patience and confidence in God.

---

2:1. Son, when thou comest to the service of God, stand in justice and in fear, and prepare thy soul for temptation.

Fili accedens servituti Dei sta in iustitia et timore et praepara animam tuam ad temptationem

2:2. Humble thy heart, and endure: incline thy ear, and receive the words of understanding: and make not haste in the time of clouds.

Deprime cor tuum et sustine declina aurem et excipe verba intellectus et ne festines in tempus obductionis

2:3. Wait on God with patience: join thyself to God, and endure, that thy life may be increased in the latter end.

Sustine sustentationes Dei coniungere Deo et sustine ut crescat in novissimo vita tua

2:4. Take all that shall be brought upon thee: and in thy sorrow endure, and in thy humiliation keep patience.

Omne quod tibi adplicitum fuerit accipe et in dolore sustine et in humilitate tua habe patientiam

2:5. For gold and silver are tried in the fire, but acceptable men in the furnace of humiliation.

Quoniam in igne probatur aurum et argentum homines vero receptibiles in camino humiliationis

2:6. Believe God, and he will recover thee: and direct thy way, and trust in him. Keep his fear, and grow old therein.

Crede Deo et recuperabit te et dirige viam tuam et spera in illum serva timorem illius et in illo veteresce

2:7. Ye that fear the Lord, wait for his mercy: and go not aside from him lest ye fall.

Metuentes Deum sustinete misericordiam eius et non deflectatis ab illo ne cadatis

2:8. Ye that fear the Lord, believe him: and your reward shall not be made void.

Qui timetis Deum credite illi et non evacuabitur merces vestra

2:9. Ye that fear the Lord hope in him, and mercy shall come to you for your delight.

Qui timetis Deum sperate in illum et in oblectatione veniet vobis misericordia

2:10. Ye that fear the Lord, love him, and your hearts shall be enlightened.

Qui timetis Deum diligite illum et inluminabuntur corda vestra

2:11. My children behold the generations of men: and know ye that no one hath hoped in the Lord, and hath been confounded.

Respicite filii nationes hominum et scitote quis speravit in Dominum et confusus est

2:12. For who hath continued in his commandment, and hath been forsaken? or who hath called upon him, and he despised him?

Permansit in mandatis eius et derelictus est et quis invocavit illum et despexit illum

2:13. For God is compassionate and merciful, and will forgive sins in the day of tribulation: and he is a protector to all that seek him in truth.

Quoniam pius et misericors Deus et remittit in tempore tribulationis peccata omnibus exquirentibus se in veritate

2:14. Woe to them that are of a double heart and to wicked lips, and to the hands that do evil, and to the sinner that goeth on the earth two ways.

Vae duplici corde et labiis scelestis et manibus malefacientibus et peccatori terram ingredienti duabus viis

2:15. Woe to them that are fainthearted, who believe not God: and therefore they shall not be protected by him.

Vae dissolutis corde qui non credunt Deo ideo non protegentur ab eo

2:16. Woe to them that have lost patience, and that have forsaken the right ways, and have gone aside into crooked ways.

Vae his qui perdiderunt sustinentiam qui dereliquerunt vias rectas et deverterunt in vias pravas

2:17. And what will they do, when the Lord shall begin to examine?

Et quid facietis cum inspicere coeperit Deus

2:18. They that fear the Lord, will not be incredulous to his word: and they that love him, will keep his way.

Qui timent Dominum non erunt incredibiles verbo illius et qui diligunt illum conservabunt viam illius

2:19. They that fear the Lord, will seek after the things that are well pleasing to him: and they that love him, shall be filled with his law.

Qui timent Dominum inquirent quae beneplacita sunt illi et qui diligunt eum replebuntur lege ipsius

2:20. They that fear the Lord, will prepare their hearts, and in his sight will sanctify their souls,

Qui timent Dominum parant corda sua et in conspectu illius sanctificabunt animas suas

2:21. They that fear the Lord, keep his commandments, and will have patience even until his visitation,

Qui timent Dominum custodiunt mandata illius et patientiam habebunt usque ad inspectionem illius

2:22. Saying: If we do not penance, we shall fall into the hands of the Lord, and not into the hands of men.

Dicentes si paenitentiam non egerimus incidemus in Dei manus et non in manus hominum

2:23. For according to his greatness, so also is his mercy with him.

Secundum enim magnitudinem illius sic et misericordia ipsius cum ipso

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 3

Lessons concerning the honour of parents, and humility, and avoiding curiosity.

---

3:1. The sons of wisdom are the church of the just: and their generation, obedience and love.

Filii sapientiae ecclesia iustorum et natio illorum obaudientia et dilectio

3:2. Children, hear the judgment of your father, and so do that you may be saved.

Iudicium patris audite filii dilecti et sic facite ut salvi sitis

3:3. For God hath made the father honourable to the children: and seeking the judgment of the mothers, hath confirmed it upon the children.

Deus enim honoravit patrem in filiis et iudicium matris exquirens in filios

3:4. He that loveth God, shall obtain pardon for his sins by prayer, and shall refrain himself from them, and shall be heard in the prayer of days.

Qui diligit Deum exorabit pro peccatis et continebit se ab illis in oratione dierum exaudietur

3:5. And he that honoureth his mother is as one that layeth up a treasure.

Et sicut qui thesaurizat ita et qui honorificat matrem suam

3:6. He that honoureth his father shall have joy in his own children, and in the day of his prayer he shall be heard.

Qui honorat patrem iucundabitur in filiis

3:7. He that honoureth his father shall enjoy a long life: and he that obeyeth the father, shall be a comfort to his mother.

Qui honorat patrem suum vita vivet longiore et qui obaudit patrem refrigerabit matri

3:8. He that feareth the Lord, honoureth his parents, and will serve them as his masters that brought him into the world.

Qui timet Deum honorat parentes et quasi dominis serviet in his qui se generaverunt

3:9. Honour thy father, in work and word, and all patience,

In opere et sermone et omni patientia honora patrem tuum

3:10. That a blessing may come upon thee from him, and his blessing may remain in the latter end.

Ut superveniat tibi benedictio a Deo et benedictio illius in novissimo manet

3:11. The father's blessing establisheth the houses of the children: but the mother's curse rooteth up the foundation.

Benedictio patris firmat domos filiorum maledictio autem matris eradicat fundamenta

3:12. Glory not in the dishonour of thy father: for his shame is no glory to thee.

Ne glorieris in contumelia patris tui non est enim tibi gloria sed confusio

3:13. For the glory of a man is from the honour of his father, and a father without honour is the disgrace of the son.

Gloria enim hominis ex honore patris sui et dedecus filiis pater sine honore

3:14. Son, support the old age of thy father, and grieve him not in his life;

Fili suscipe senectam patris tui et ne contristes eum in vita illius

3:15. And if his understanding fail, have patience with him, and despise him not when thou art in thy strength: for the relieving of the father shall not be forgotten.

Et si defecerit sensu veniam da et ne spernas eum in tua virtute elemosyna enim patris non erit in oblivione

3:16. For good shall be repaid to thee for the sin of thy mother.

Nam pro peccato matris restituetur tibi bonum

3:17. And in justice thou shalt be built up, and in the day of affliction thou shalt be remembered: and thy sins shall melt away as the ice in the fair warm weather.

Et iniustitia aedificabitur tibi in die tribulationis commemorabitur tui sicut in sereno glacies solventur tua peccata

3:18. Of what an evil fame is he that forsaketh his father: and he is cursed of God that angereth his mother.

Quam malae famae est qui relinquit patrem et est maledictus a Deo qui exasperat matrem

3:19. My son, do thy works in meekness, and thou shalt be beloved above the glory of men.

Fili in mansuetudine opera tua perface et super hominum gloriam diligeris

3:20. The greater thou art, the more humble thyself in all things, and thou shalt find grace before God:

Quanto magnus es humilia te in omnibus et coram Deo invenies gratiam

3:21. For great is the power of God alone, and he is honoured by the humble.

Quoniam magna potentia Dei solius et ab humilibus honoratur

3:22. Seek not the things that are too high for thee, and search not into things above thy ability: but the things that God hath commanded thee, think on them always, and in many of his works be not curious.

Altiora te ne scrutaveris et fortiora te ne exquisieris sed quae praecepit tibi Deus illa cogita semper et in pluribus operibus eius ne fueris curiosus

3:23. For it is not necessary for thee to see with thy eyes those things that are hid.

Non est enim tibi necessarium ea quae abscondita sunt videre oculis tuis

3:24. In unnecessary matters be not over curious, and in many of his works thou shalt not be inquisitive.

In supervacuis rebus noli scrutari multipliciter et in pluribus operibus eius non eris curiosus

3:25. For many things are shown to thee above the understanding of men.

Plurima enim super sensum hominis ostensa sunt tibi

3:26. And the suspicion of them hath deceived many, and hath detained their minds in vanity.

Multos enim inplanavit suspicio illorum et in vanitate detinuit sensus illorum

3:27. A hard heart shall fear evil at the last: and he that loveth danger shall perish in it.

Cor durum male habebit in novissimo et qui amat periculum in illo peribit

3:28. A heart that goeth two ways shall not have success, and the perverse of heart shall be scandalized therein.

Cor ingrediens duas vias non habebit successus et pravicornus in illis scandalizabitur

3:29. A wicked heart shall be laden with sorrows, and the sinner will add sin to sin.

Cor nequam gravabitur doloribus et peccator adiciet ad peccandum

3:30. The congregation of the proud shall not be healed: for the plant of wickedness shall take root in them, and it shall not be perceived.

Synagogae superbiorum non est sanitas frutex enim peccati eradicabitur in illis et non intellegitur

3:31. The heart of the wise is understood in wisdom, and a good ear will hear wisdom with all desire.

Cor sapiens intellegitur in sapientia et auris bona audiet cum omni concupiscentia sapientiam

3:32. A wise heart, and which hath understanding, will abstain from sins, and in the works of justice shall have success.

Sapiens cor et intellegibile abstinebit se a peccatis et in operibus iustitiae successus habebit

3:33. Water quencheth a flaming fire, and alms resisteth sins:

Ignem ardentem extinguit aqua et elemosyna resistit peccatis

3:34. And God provideth for him that showeth favour: he remembereth him afterwards, and in the time of his fall he shall find a sure stay.

Et Deus conspector qui reddit gratiam meminit in posterum et in tempore casus tui invenies firmamentum

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 4

An exhortation to works of mercy, and to the love of wisdom.

4:1. Son, defraud not the poor of alms, and turn not away thy eyes from the poor.

Fili elemosynam pauperis ne fraudes et oculos tuos ne transvertas a paupere

4:2. Despise not the hungry soul: and provoke not the poor in his want.

Animam esurientem ne despexeris et non exasperes pauperem in inopia sua

4:3. Afflict not the heart of the needy, and defer not to gibe to him that is in distress.

Cor inopis ne adflixeris et non protrahas datum angustianti

4:4. Reject not the petition of the afflicted: and turn not away thy face from the needy.

Rogationem contribulati ne abicias et non avertas faciem tuam ab egeno

4:5. Turn not away thy eyes from the poor for fear of anger: and leave not to them that ask of thee to curse thee behind thy back.

Ab inope ne avertas oculos propter iram et non relinquo quaerentibus tibi retro maledicere

4:6. For the prayer of him that curseth thee in the bitterness of his soul, shall be heard, for he that made him will hear him.

Maledicentis enim te in amaritudine exaudietur precatio illius exaudiet autem eum qui fecit illum

4:7. Make thyself affable to the congregation of the poor, and humble thy soul to the ancient, and bow thy head to a great man.

Congregationi pauperum affabilem te facito et presbytero humilia animam tuam et magnato humilia caput tuum

4:8. Bow down thy ear cheerfully to the poor, and pay what thou owest, and answer him peaceable words with mildness.

Declina pauperi aurem tuam et redde debitum tuum et responde pacifica in mansuetudine

4:9. Deliver him that suffereth wrong out of the hand of the proud: and be not fainthearted in thy soul.

Libera eum qui iniuriam patitur de manu superbi et non acide feras in anima tua

4:10. In judging be merciful to the fatherless as a father, and as a husband to their mother.

In iudicando esto pupillis misericors ut pater et pro viro matri illorum

4:11. And thou shalt be as the obedient son of the most High, and he will have mercy on thee more than a mother.

Et eris velut filius Altissimi obaudiens et miserebitur tui magis quam mater

4:12. Wisdom inspireth life into her children, and protecteth them that seek after her, and will go before them in the way of justice.

Sapientia filiis suis vitam inspiravit et suscipit exquirentes se et praeibit in viam iustitiae

4:13. And he that loveth her, loveth life: and they that watch for her, shall embrace her sweetness.

Et qui illam diligit diligit vitam et qui vigilaverint ad illam complectebuntur placorem eius

4:14. They that hold her fast, shall inherit life: and whithersoever she entereth, God will give a blessing.

Qui tenerint illam vitam hereditabunt et quo introibit benedicit Deus

4:15. They that serve her, shall be servants to the holy one: and God loveth them that love her.

Qui serviunt ei obsequentes erunt Sancto et eos qui diligunt illam diligit Deus

4:16. He that hearkeneth to her, shall judge nations: and he that looketh upon her, shall remain secure.
Qui audit illam iudicat gentes et qui intuetur illam permanebit confidens

4:17. If he trust to her, he shall inherit her, and his generation shall be in assurance.
Si crediderit ei hereditabit illam et erunt in confirmatione creaturae illorum

4:18. For she walketh with him in temptation, and at the first she chooseth him. *
Quoniam in temptatione ambulat cum eo et in primis eligit eum

In temptation, etc... The meaning is, that before wisdom will choose any for her favourite, she will try them by leading them through contradictions, afflictions, and temptations, the usual noviceship of the children of God.

4:19. She will bring upon him fear and dread and trial: and she will scourge him with the affliction of her discipline, till she try him by her laws, and trust his soul.
Timorem et metum et adprobationem inducet super illum et cruciabit illum in tribulatione doctrinae suae donec temptet illum in cogitationibus illius et credat animae illius

4:20. Then she will strengthen him, and make a straight way to him, and give him joy,
Et firmabit illum et iterum adducet directum ad illum

4:21. And will disclose her secrets to him, and will heap upon him treasures of knowledge and understanding of justice.
Et denudat absconsa sua et thesaurizat super illum scientiam et intellectum iustitiae

4:22. But if he go astray, she will forsake him, and deliver him into the hands of his enemy.
Si autem oberraverit derelinquet eum et tradet illum in manus inimici sui

4:23. Son, observe the time, and fly from evil.
Fili conserva tempus et devita a malo

4:24. For thy soul be not ashamed to say the truth.
Pro anima tua non confundaris dicere verum

4:25. For there is a shame that bringeth sin, and there is a shame that bringeth glory and grace.
Est enim confusio adducens peccatum et est confusio adducens gloriam et gratiam

4:26. Accept no person against thy own person, nor against thy soul a lie.
Ne accipias faciem adversus faciem tuam nec adversus animam tuam mendacium

4:27. Reverence not thy neighbour in his fall:
Non reverearis proximum tuum in casum suum

4:28. And refrain not to speak in the time of salvation. Hide not thy wisdom in her beauty.
Nec retineas verbum in tempus salutis non abscondas sapientiam tuam in decore eius

4:29. For by the tongue wisdom is discerned: and understanding, and knowledge, and learning by the word of the wise, and steadfastness in the works of justice.
In lingua enim agnoscitur sapientia et sensus et scientia et doctrina in verbis veritatis et firmamentum in operibus iustitiae

4:30. In nowise speak against the truth, but be ashamed of the lie of thy ignorance.
Non contradicas veritati ullo modo et de mendacio ineruditionis tuae confundere

4:31. Be not ashamed to confess thy sins, but submit not thyself to every man for sin.
Non confundaris confiteri peccata tua et ne subicias te homini pro peccato

4:32. Resist not against the face of the mighty, and do not strive against the stream of the river.
Noli resistere contra faciem potentis nec coneris contra ictum fluvii

4:33. Strive for justice for thy soul, and even unto death fight for justice, and God will overthrow thy enemies for thee.
Pro iustitia agoniare pro anima tua et usque ad mortem certa pro iustitia et Deus expugnabit pro te inimicos tuos

4:34. Be not hasty in thy tongue: and slack and remiss in thy works.

Noli citatus esse in lingua tua et inutilis et remissus in operibus tuis

4:35. Be not as a lion in thy house, terrifying them of thy household, and oppressing them that are under thee.

Noli esse sicut leo in domo tua evertens domesticos tuos et opprimens subiectos tibi

4:36. Let not thy hand be stretched out to receive, and shut when thou shouldst give.

Non sit porrecta manus tua ad accipiendum et ad reddendum collecta

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 5

We must not presume of our wealth or strength: nor of the mercy of God, to go on in sin: we must be steadfast in virtue and truth.

5:1. Set not thy heart upon unjust possessions, and say not: I have enough to live on: for it shall be of no service in the time of vengeance and darkness.

Noli attendere ad possessiones iniquas et ne dixeris est mihi sufficiens vita nihil enim proderit in tempore vindictae et obductionis

5:2. Follow not in thy strength the desires of thy heart:

Non sequaris concupiscentiam cordis

5:3. And say not: How mighty am I? and who shall bring me under for my deeds? for God will surely take revenge.

Et ne dixeris quomodo potui aut quis me subiciet propter facta mea Deus enim vindicans vindicabit

5:4. Say not: I have sinned, and what harm hath befallen me? for the most High is a patient rewarder.

Ne dixeris peccavi et quid accidit mihi triste Altissimus enim est patiens redditor

5:5. Be not without fear about sin forgiven, and add not sin upon sin:

De propitiatu peccatorum noli esse sine metu neque adicias peccatum super peccatum

5:6. And say not: The mercy of the Lord is great, he will have mercy on the multitude of my sins.

Et ne dicas miseratio Dei magna est multitudinis peccatorum meorum miserebitur

5:7. For mercy and wrath quickly come from him, and his wrath looketh upon sinners.

Misericordia enim et ira ab illo et in peccatores respicit ira illius

5:8. Delay not to be converted to the Lord, and defer it not from day to day.

Non tardes converti ad Deum et ne differas de die in diem

5:9. For his wrath shall come on a sudden, and in the time of vengeance he will destroy thee.

Subito enim venit ira illius et in tempore vindictae disperdet te

5:10. Be not anxious for goods unjustly gotten: for they shall not profit thee in the day of calamity and revenge.

Noli anxius esse in divitiis iniustis nihil enim proderunt tibi in die obductionis et vindictae

5:11. Winnow not with every wind, and go not into every way: for so is every sinner proved by a double tongue.

Non ventiles te in omnem ventum et non eas in omni via sic enim peccator probatur duplici lingua

5:12. Be steadfast in the way of the Lord, and in the truth of thy judgment, and in knowledge, and let the word of peace and justice keep with thee.

Esto firmus in via Dei et in veritate sensus tui et scientia et prosequatur te verbum pacis et iustitiae

5:13. Be meek to hear the word, that thou mayst understand: and return a true answer with wisdom.

Esto mansuetus ad audiendum verbum ut intellegas et cum sapientia fers responsum verum

5:14. If thou have understanding, answer thy neighbour: but if not, let thy hand be upon thy mouth, lest thou be surprised in an unskilful word, and be confounded.

Si est tibi intellectus responde proximo sin autem sit manus tua super os tuum ne capiaris in verbo indisciplinato et confundaris

5:15. Honour and glory is in the word of the wise, but the tongue of the fool is his ruin.

Honor et gloria in sermone sensati lingua inprudens subversio ipsius

5:16. Be not called a whisperer, and be not taken in thy tongue, and confounded.

Non appelleris susurrio et lingua tua capiaris et confundaris

5:17. For confusion and repentance is upon a thief, and an evil mark of disgrace upon the double tongued, but to the whisperer hatred, and enmity, and reproach.

Super furem enim est confusio et paenitentia et denotatio pessima super bilinguem susurratori autem odium et inimicitia et contumelia

5:18. Justify alike the small and the great.

Iustificata pusillo et magno similiter

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 6

Of true and false friends: and of the of the fruits of wisdom.

6:1. Instead of a friend become not an enemy to thy neighbour: for an evil man shall inherit reproach and shame, so shall every sinner that is envious and double tongued.

Noli fieri pro amico inimicus proximo inproperium enim et contumeliam malus hereditabit et omnis peccator invidus et bilinguis

6:2. Extol not thyself in the thoughts of thy soul like a bull: lest thy strength be quashed by folly,

Non te extollas in cogitatione animae tuae velut taurus ne forte elidatur virtus tua per stultitiam

6:3. And it eat up thy leaves, and destroy thy fruit, and thou be left as a dry tree in the wilderness.

Et folia tua comedet et fructus tuos perdet et relinqueris velut lignum aridum in heremo

6:4. For a wicked soul shall destroy him that hath it, and maketh him to be a joy to his enemies, and shall lead him into the lot of the wicked.

Anima enim nequa disperdet qui se habet et in gaudium inimici dat illum et deducit in sortem impiorum

6:5. A sweet word multiplieth friends, and appeaseth enemies, and a gracious tongue in a good man aboundeth.

Verbum dulce multiplicat amicos et mitigat inimicos et lingua eucharis in bono homine abundat

6:6. Be in peace with many, but let one of a thousand be thy counsellor.

Multi pacifici sint tibi et consilarii tibi sint unus de mille

6:7. If thou wouldst get a friend, try him before thou takest him, and do not credit him easily.

Si possides amicum in temptatione posside eum et non facile credas illi

6:8. For there is a friend for his own occasion, and he will not abide in the day of thy trouble.

Est enim amicus secundum tempus suum et non permanebit in die tribulationis

6:9. And there is a friend that turneth to enmity; and there is a friend that will disclose hatred and strife and reproaches.

Et est amicus qui egreditur ad inimicitiam et est amicus qui odium et rixam et convicia denudabit

6:10. And there is a friend a companion at the table, and he will not abide in the day of distress.

Est autem amicus socius mensae et non permanet in die necessitatis

6:11. A friend if he continue steadfast, shall be to thee as thyself, and shall act with confidence among them of thy household.

Amicus si permanserit fixus erit tibi quasi coequalis et in domesticis tuis fiducialiter aget

6:12. If he humble himself before thee, and hide himself from thy face, thou shalt have unanimous friendship for good.

Si humiliaverit se contra te et a facie tua abscondet se unanimum habebis amicitiam bonam

6:13. Separate thyself from thy enemies, and take heed of thy friends.

Ab inimicis tuis separare et ab amicis tuis adtende

6:14. A faithful friend is a strong defence: and he that hath found him, hath found a treasure.

Amicus fidelis protectio fortis qui autem invenit illum invenit thesaurum

6:15. Nothing can be compared to a faithful friend, and no weight of gold and silver is able to countervail the goodness of his fidelity.

Amico fideli nulla est comparatio et non est digna ponderatio auri et argenti contra bonitatem fidei illius

6:16. A faithful friend is the medicine of life and immortality: and they that fear the Lord, shall find him.
Amicus fidelis medicamentum vitae et immortalitatis et qui metuunt Dominum inveniunt illum

6:17. He that feareth God, shall likewise have good friendship: because according to him shall his friend be.
Qui timet Deum aequè habebit amicitiam bonam quoniam secundum illum erit amicus illius

6:18. My son, from thy youth up receive instruction, and even to thy grey hairs thou shalt find wisdom.
Fili a iuventute tua excipe doctrinam et usque ad canos invenies sapientiam

6:19. Come to her as one that plougheth, and soweth, and wait for her good fruits:
Quasi is qui arat et seminat accede ad illam et sustine bonos fructus illius

6:20. For in working about her thou shalt labour a little, and shalt quickly eat of her fruits.
In opere enim ipsius exiguum laborabis et cito edes de generationibus illius

6:21. How very unpleasant is wisdom to the unlearned, and the unwise will not continue with her.
Quam aspera est nimium sapientia indoctis hominibus et non permanet in illa excors

6:22. She shall be to them as a mighty stone of trial, and they will cast her from them before it be long.
Quasi lapidis virtus probatio erit in illis et non demorabuntur proicere illum

6:23. For the wisdom of doctrine is according to her name, and she is not manifest unto many, but with them to whom she is known, she continueth even to the sight of God.
Sapientia enim doctrinae secundum nomen est eius et non multis est manifesta quibus autem agnita est permanet usque ad conspectum Dei

6:24. Give ear, my son, and take wise counsel, and cast not away my advice.
Audi fili et accipe consilium intellectus et ne abicias consilium meum

6:25. Put thy feet into her fetters, and thy neck into her chains:
Inice pedem tuum in conpedes illius et in torques eius tuum collum

6:26. Bow down thy shoulder, and bear her, and be not grieved with her bands.
Subice umerum tuum et porta illam et ne acedieris vinculis eius

6:27. Come to her with all thy mind, and keep her ways with all thy power.
In omni animo tuo accede ad illam et in omni virtute tua serva vias eius

6:28. Search for her, and she shall be made known to thee, and when thou hast gotten her, let her not go:
Investiga illam et manifestabitur tibi et continens factus ne derelinqueris eam

6:29. For in the latter end thou shalt find rest in her, and she shall be turned to thy joy.
In novissimis enim invenies requiem in ea et convertetur tibi in oblectationem

6:30. Then shall her fetters be a strong defence for thee, and a firm foundation, and her chain a robe of glory:
Et erunt tibi conpedes in protectionem fortitudinis et bases virtutis et torques illius in stolam gloriae

6:31. For in her is the beauty of life, and her bands are a healthful binding.
Decor enim vitae est in illa et vincula illius netura salutaris

6:32. Thou shalt put her on as a robe of glory, and thou shalt set her upon thee as a crown of joy.
Stolam gloriae indues eam et coronam gratulationis superpones tibi

6:33. My son, if thou wilt attend to me, thou shalt learn: and if thou wilt apply thy mind, thou shalt be wise.
Fili si adtenderis mihi disces et si adcommodaveris animam tuam sapiens eris

6:34. If thou wilt incline thy ear, thou shalt receive instruction: and if thou love to hear, thou shalt be wise.
Et si inclinaveris aurem tuam excipies doctrinam et si dilexeris audire sapiens eris

6:35. Stand in the multitude of ancients that are wise, and join thyself from thy heart to their wisdom, that thou mayst hear every discourse of God, and the sayings of praise may not escape thee.

In multitudine presbyterorum prudentium sta et sapientiae illorum ex corde coniungere ut omnem narrationem Dei possis audire et proverbia laudis non effugiant te

6:36. And if thou see a man of understanding, go to him early in the morning, and let thy foot wear the steps of his doors.

Et si videris sensatum evigila ad illum et gradus ostiorum illius exerat pes tuus

6:37. Let thy thoughts be upon the precepts of God, and meditate continually on his commandments: and he will give thee a heart, and the desire of wisdom shall be given to thee.

Cogitatum habe in praeceptis Dei et in mandatis illius maxime assiduus esto et ipse dabit cor tibi et concupiscentia sapientiae dabitur tibi

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 7

Religious and moral duties.

---

7:1. Do no evils, and no evils shall lay hold of thee.

Noli facere mala et non te adprehendent

7:2. Depart from the unjust, and evils shall depart from thee.

Discede ab iniquo et deficient mala abs te

7:3. My son, sow not evils in the furrows of injustice, and thou shalt not reap them sevenfold.

Non semines mala in sulcis iniuriae et non metes ea in septuplum

7:4. Seek not of the Lord a preeminence, nor of the king the seat of honour.

Noli quaerere ab homine ducatum neque a rege cathedram honoris

7:5. Justify not thyself before God, for he knoweth the heart: and desire not to appear wise before the king.

Non te iustifices ante Deum quoniam agnitor cordis ipse est et penes regem noli velle videri sapiens

7:6. Seek not to be made a judge, unless thou have strength enough to extirpate iniquities: lest thou fear the person of the powerful, and lay a stumblingblock for thy integrity.

Noli quaerere fieri iudex nisi si valeas virtute inrumpere iniquitates ne forte extimescas faciem potentis et ponas scandalum in agilitate tua

7:7. Offend not against the multitude of a city, neither cast thyself in upon the people,

Non pecces in multitudinem civitatis nec te inmittas in populum

7:8. Nor bind sin to sin: for even in one thou shalt not be unpunished.

Neque alliges duplicia peccata nec enim in uno eris immunis

7:9. Be not fainthearted in thy mind:

Noli esse pusillanimis in anima tua

7:10. Neglect not to pray, and to give alms.

Exorare et facere elemosynam non despicias

7:11. Say not: God will have respect to the multitude of my gifts, and when I offer to the most high God, he will accept my offerings.

Ne dicas in multitudine munerum meorum respiciet Deus et offerentem me Deo altissimo suscipiet munera mea

7:12. Laugh no man to scorn in the bitterness of his soul: for there is one that humbleth and exalteth, God who seeth all.

Non inrideas hominem in amaritudine animae est enim qui humiliat et exaltat circumspector Deus

7:13. Devise not a lie against thy brother: neither do the like against thy friend.

Noli amare mendacium adversus fratrem tuum neque amico similiter facias

7:14. Be not willing to make any manner of lie: for the custom thereof is not good.

Noli velle mentiri omne mendacium adsiduitas enim illius non bona

7:15. Be not full of words in a multitude of ancients, and repeat not the word in thy prayer.*

Noli verbosus esse in multitudine presbyterorum et non iteres verbum in tua oratione

Repeat not, etc... Make not much babbling by repetition of words: but aim more at fervour of heart.

7:16. Hate not laborious works, nor husbandry ordained by the most High.

Non oderis laboriosa opera et rusticationem ab Altissimo creatam

7:17. Number not thyself among the multitude of the disorderly.

Non te reputes in multitudine indisciplinatorum

7:18. Remember wrath, for it will not tarry long.

Memento irae quoniam non tardabit

7:19. Humble thy spirit very much: for the vengeance on the flesh of the ungodly is fire and worms.

Humilia valde spiritum tuum quoniam vindicta carnis impii ignis et vermes

7:20. Do not transgress against thy friend deferring money, nor despise thy dear brother for the sake of gold.

Noli praevaricari in amicum pecunia differenti neque fratrem carissimum auro spreveris

7:21. Depart not from a wise and good wife, whom thou hast gotten in the fear of the Lord: for the grace of her modesty is above gold.

Noli discedere a muliere sensata et bona quam sortitus es in timore Dei gratia enim verecundiae illius super aurum

7:22. Hurt not the servant that worketh faithfully, nor the hired man that giveth thee his life.

Non laedas servum operantem in veritate neque mercennarium dantem animam suam

7:23. Let a wise servant be dear to thee as thy own soul, defraud him not of liberty, nor leave him needy.

Servus sensatus dilectus quasi anima tua non defraudes illum libertate neque inopem derelinquas illum

7:24. Hast thou cattle? have an eye to them: and if they be for thy profit, keep them with thee.

Pecora tibi sunt adtende illis et si sunt utilia perseverent apud te

7:25. Hast thou children? instruct them, and bow down their neck from their childhood.

Filii tibi sunt erudi illos et curva illos a pueritia illorum

7:26. Hast thou daughters? have a care of their body, and show not thy countenance gay towards them.

Filiae tibi sunt serva corpus illarum et non ostendas hilarem faciem tuam ad illas

7:27. Marry thy daughter well, and thou shalt do a great work, and give her to a wise man.

Trade filiam et grande opus feceris et homini sensato da illam

7:28. If thou hast a wife according to thy soul, cast her not off: and to her that is hateful, trust not thyself.

With thy whole heart,

Mulier si est tibi secundum animam tuam non proicias illam et odibili non credas te in toto corde

7:29. Honour thy father, and forget not the groanings of thy mother:

Honora patrem tuum et gemitus matris tuae ne obliviscaris

7:30. Remember that thou hadst not been born but through them: and make a return to them as they have done for thee.

Memento quoniam nisi per illos non fuisses et retribue illis quomodo et illi tibi

7:31. With all thy soul fear the Lord, and reverence his priests.

In tota anima tua time Deum et sacerdotes illius sanctifica

7:32. With all thy strength love him that made thee: and forsake not his ministers.

In omni virtute dilige eum qui te fecit et ministros eius non derelinquas

7:33. Honour God with all thy soul and give honour to the priests, and purify thyself with thy arms. *

Honora Deum ex tota anima tua et honorifica sacerdotes et propurga te cum brachiis

Thy arms... That is, with all thy power: or else by arms (brachiis) are here signified the right shoulders of the victims, which by the law fell to the priests. See ver. 35.

7:34. Give them their portion, as it is commanded thee, of the firstfruits and of purifications: and for thy negligences purify thyself with a few.

Da illi partem sicut mandatum est tibi primitiarum et purgationis et de neglegentia purga te cum paucis

7:35. Offer to the Lord the gift of thy shoulders, and the sacrifice of sanctification, and the firstfruits of the holy things:

Datum brachiorum tuorum et sacrificium sanctificationis offers initia sanctorum

7:36. And stretch out thy hand to the poor, that thy expiation and thy blessing may be perfected.

Et pauperi porrige manum tuam ut perficiatur propitiatio et benedictio tua

7:37. A gift hath grace in the sight of all the living, and restrain not grace from the dead. *

Gratia datus in conspectu omnis viventis et mortuo non prohibeas gratiam

And restrain not grace from the dead... That is, withhold not from them the benefit of alms, prayers, and sacrifices. Such was the doctrine and practice of the church of God even in the time of the Old Testament. And the same has always been continued from the days of the apostles in the church of the New Testament.

7:38. Be not wanting in comforting them that weep, and walk with them that mourn.

Non desis plorantibus in conrogatione et cum lugentibus ambula

7:39. Be not slow to visit the sick: for by these things thou shalt be confirmed in love.

Non te pigeat visitare infirmum ex his enim in dilectione firmaberis

7:40. In all thy works remember thy last end, and thou shalt never sin.

In omnibus operibus tuis memorare novissima tua et in aeternum non peccabis

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 8

Other lessons of wisdom and virtue.

---

8:1. Strive not with a powerful man, lest thou fall into his hands.

Non litiges cum homine potente ne forte incidas in manus illius

8:2. Contend not with a rich man, lest he bring an action against thee.

Non contendas cum viro locuplete ne forte contra consistat litem tibi

8:3. For gold and silver hath destroyed many, and hath reached even to the heart of kings, and perverted them.

Multos perdidit aurum atque argentum et usque cor regum extendit et convertit

8:4. Strive not with a man that is full of tongue, and heap not wood upon his fire.

Non litiges cum homine linguato et non strues in igne illius ligna

8:5. Communicate not with an ignorant man, lest he speak ill of thy family.

Non communices homini indocto ne male de progenie tua loquatur

8:6. Despise not a man that turneth away from sin, nor reproach him therewith: remember that we are all worthy of reproof.

Ne despicias hominem avertentem se a peccato neque inproperes ei memento quoniam omnes sumus in correptionem

8:7. Despise not a man in his old age; for we also shall become old.

Ne spernas hominem in sua senecta etenim ex nobis senescunt

8:8. Rejoice not at the death of thy enemy; knowing that we all die, and are not willing that others should rejoice at our death.

Noli de mortuo gaudere sciens quoniam omnes morimur et in gaudium nolumus venire

8:9. Despise not the discourse of them that are ancient and wise, but acquaint thyself with their proverbs.

Ne despicias narrationem presbyterorum sapientium et in proverbii illorum conversare

8:10. For of them thou shalt learn wisdom, and instruction of understanding, and to serve great men without blame.

Ab ipsis enim disces doctrinam intellectus et servire magnatis sine querella

8:11. Let not the discourse of the ancients escape thee, for they have learned of their fathers:

Non te praetereat narratio seniorum et ipsi enim didicerunt a patribus suis

8:12. For of them thou shalt learn understanding, and to give an answer in time of need.

Quoniam ab ipsis disces intellectum et in tempore necessitatis responsum

8:13. Kindle not the coals of sinners by rebuking them, lest thou be burnt with the flame of the fire of their sins.

Non incendas carbones peccatoris arguens eos ne incendaris flamma ignis peccatorum illorum

8:14. Stand not against the face of an injurious person, lest he sit as a spy to entrap thee in thy words.

Ne contra faciem stes contumeliosi ne sedeat quasi insidiator ori tuo

8:15. Lend not to a man that is mightier than thyself: and if thou lendest, count it as lost.

Noli fenerare homini fortiori te quod si feneraveris tamquam perditum habe

8:16. Be not surety above thy power: and if thou be surety, think as if thou wert to pay it.

Non spondeas super virtutem tuam quod si sponderis quasi restituens cogita

8:17. Judge not against a judge: for he judgeth according to that which is just.

Non iudices contra iudicem quoniam secundum quod dignum est iudicat

8:18. Go not on the way with a bold man, lest he burden thee with his evils: for he goeth according to his own will, and thou shalt perish together with his folly.

Cum audace non eas in via ne forte gravet mala sua in te ipse enim secundum voluntatem suam vadit et simul cum stultitia illius peries

8:19. Quarrel not with a passionate man, and go not into the desert with a bold man: for blood is as nothing in his sight, and where there is no help he will overthrow thee.

Cum iracundo non facias rixam cum audace non eas in desertum quoniam quasi nihil est ante illum sanguis et ubi non est adiutorium elidet te

8:20. Advise not with fools, for they cannot love but such things as please them.

Cum fatuis ne consilium habeas non enim poterunt diligere nisi quae ipsis placent

8:21. Before a stranger do no matter of counsel: for thou knowest not what he will bring forth.

Coram extraneo ne facias consilium nescis enim quid pariet

8:22. Open not thy heart to every man: lest he repay thee with an evil turn, and speak reproachfully to thee.

Non omni homini cor tuum manifestes ne forte inferat tibi gratiam et convicietur tibi

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 9

Cautions with regard to women, and dangerous conversations.

9:1. Be not jealous over the wife of thy bosom, lest she show in thy regard the malice of a wicked lesson.

Non zeles mulierem sinus tui ne ostendas super te malitiam doctrinae nequam

9:2. Give not the power of thy soul to a woman, lest she enter upon thy strength, and thou be confounded.

Non des mulieri potestatem animae tuae ne ingrediatur in virtute tua et confundaris

9:3. Look not upon a woman that hath a mind for many: lest thou fall into her snares.

Ne respicias mulierem multivolam ne forte incidas in laqueos illius

9:4. Use not much the company of her that is a dancer, and hearken not to her, lest thou perish by the force of her charms.

Cum psaltrice ne adsiduus sis nec audias illam ne forte pereas in efficacia illius

9:5. Gaze not upon a maiden, lest her beauty be a stumblingblock to thee.

Virginem ne conspicias ne forte scandalizeris in decore illius

9:6. Give not thy soul to harlots in any point: lest thou destroy thyself and thy inheritance.

Non des fornicariis animam tuam in nullo ne perdas te et hereditatem tuam

9:7. Look not round about thee in the ways of the city, nor wander up and down in the streets thereof.

Noli conspicere in vicis civitatis nec oberraveris in plateis illius

9:8. Turn away thy face from a woman dressed up, and gaze not about upon another's beauty.

Averte faciem tuam a muliere compta et non circumspicias speciem alienam

9:9. For many have perished by the beauty of a woman, and hereby lust is enkindled as a fire.

Propter speciem mulieris multi perierunt et ex hoc concupiscentia quasi ignis exardescit

9:10. Every woman that is a harlot, shall be trodden upon as dung in the way.

Omnis mulier quae est fornicaria quasi stercus in via conculcatur

9:11. Many by admiring the beauty of another man's wife, have become reprobate, for her conversation burneth as fire.

Speciem mulieris alienae multi admirati reprobati facti sunt conloquium enim illius quasi ignis exardescit

9:12. Sit not at all with another man's wife, nor repose upon the bed with her:

Cum aliena muliere non accumbas super cubitum cum aliena muliere ne sedeas omnino nec accumbas cum ea super cubitum

9:13. And strive not with her over wine, lest thy heart decline towards her and by thy blood thou fall into destruction.

Et non alterceris cum ea in vino ne forte declinet cor tuum in illa et sanguine tuo labaris in perditionem

9:14. Forsake not an old friend, for the new will not be like to him.

Ne derelinquas amicum antiquum novus enim non erit similis illi

9:15. A new friend is as new wine: it shall grow old, and thou shalt drink it with pleasure.

Vinum novum amicus novus veterescat et cum suavitate bibes illud

9:16. Envy not the glory and riches of a sinner: for thou knowest not what his ruin shall be.

Non zeles gloriam et opes peccatoris non enim scis quae futura sit illius subversio

9:17. Be not pleased with the wrong done by the unjust, knowing that even to hell the wicked shall not please.

Non placeat tibi iniuria iniustorum sciens quoniam usque ad inferos non placebit impius

9:18. Keep thee far from the man that hath power to kill, so thou shalt not suspect the fear of death.

Longe abesto ab homine potestatem habente occidendi et non suspicaberis timorem mortis

9:19. And if thou come to him, commit no fault, lest he take away thy life.

Et si accesseris ad illum noli aliquid committere ne forte auferat vitam tuam

9:20. Know it to be a communication with death: for thou art going in the midst of snares, and walking upon the arms of them that are grieved.

Communione mortis scito quoniam in medium laqueorum ingredieris et super dolentium arma ambulabis

9:21. According to thy power beware of thy neighbour, and treat with the wise and prudent.

Secundum virtutem tuam cave te a proximo et cum sapientibus et prudentibus tracta

9:22. Let just men be thy guests, and let thy glory be in the fear of God.

Viri iusti sint tibi convivae et in timore Dei sit gloriatio tibi

9:23. And let the thought of God be in thy mind, and all thy discourse on the commandments of the Highest.

Et in sensu sit tibi cogitatus et omnis narratio tua in praeceptis Altissimi

9:24. Works shall be praised for the hand of the artificers, and the prince of the people for the wisdom of his speech, but the word of the ancients for the sense.

In manus artificum opera laudabitur et princeps populi in sapientia sermonis sui in sensu vero seniorum verbum

9:25. A man full of tongue is terrible in his city, and he that is rash in his word shall be hateful.

Terribilis est in civitate sua homo linguosus et temerarius in verbo suo odibilis erit

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 10

The virtues and vices of men in power: the great evil of pride.

10:1. A wise judge shall judge his people, and the government of a prudent man shall be steady. *

Iudex sapiens vindicabit populum suum et principatus sensati stabilis erit

Judge his people... In the Greek it is, instruct his people.

10:2. As the judge of the people is himself, so also are his ministers: and what manner of man the ruler of a city is, such also are they that dwell therein.

Secundum iudicem populi sic et ministri eius et qualis rector est civitatis tales et inhabitantes

10:3. An unwise king shall be the ruin of his people: and cities shall be inhabited through the prudence of the rulers.

Rex insipiens perdet populum suum et civitates inhabitabuntur per sensum prudentium

10:4. The power of the earth is in the hand of God, and in his time he will raise up a profitable ruler over it.

In manu Dei potestas terrae et exclamabilis omnis iniquitas gentium et utilem rectorem in tempus suscitabit super illam

10:5. The prosperity of man is in the hand of God, and upon the person of the scribe he shall lay his honour. *

In manu Dei potestas hominis et super faciem scribae inponet honorem suum

The scribe... That is, the man that is wise and learned in the law.

10:6. Remember not any injury done thee by thy neighbour, and do thou nothing by deeds of injury.

Omnis iniuriae proximi ne memineris et nihil agas in operibus iniuriae

10:7. Pride is hateful before God and men: and all iniquity of nations is execrable.

Odibilis coram Deo et hominibus superbia et execrabilis omnis iniquitas gentium

10:8. A kingdom is translated from one people to another, because of injustices, and wrongs, and injuries, and divers deceits.

Regnum a gente in gentem transfertur propter iniustitias et iniurias et contumelias et diversos dolos

10:9. But nothing is more wicked than the covetous man. Why is earth, and ashes proud?

Avaro autem nihil est scelestius quid superbit terra et cinis

10:10. There is not a more wicked thing than to love money: for such a one setteth even his own soul to sale: because while he liveth he hath cast away his bowels.

Nihil est iniquius quam amare pecuniam hic enim et animam suam venalem habet quoniam in vita sua proiecit intima sua

10:11. All power is of short life. A long sickness is troublesome to the physician.

Omnis potentatus brevis via

10:12. The physician cutteth off a short sickness: so also a king is to day, and to morrow he shall die.

Brevem languorem praecidit medicus sic et rex hodie est et cras morietur

10:13. For when a man shall die, he shall inherit serpents, and beasts, and worms.

Cum enim moritur homo hereditabit serpentes et bestias et vermes

10:14. The beginning of the pride of man, is to fall off from God:

Initium superbiae hominis apostatare a Deo

10:15. Because his heart is departed from him that made him: for pride is the beginning of all sin: he that holdeth it, shall be filled with maledictions, and it shall ruin him in the end.

Quoniam ab eo qui fecit illum recessit cor eius quoniam initium peccati omnis superbia qui tenuerit illam adimplebitur maledictis et subvertet eos in finem

10:16. Therefore hath the Lord disgraced the assemblies of the wicked, and hath utterly destroyed them. Propterea exhonoravit Dominus conventus malorum et destruxit eos usque in finem

10:17. God hath overturned the thrones of proud princes, and hath set up the meek in their stead. Sedes ducum superborum destruxit Deus et sedere fecit mites pro illis

10:18. God hath made the roots of proud nations to wither, and hath planted the humble of these nations. Radices gentium superbarum arefecit Deus et plantavit humiles ex ipsis gentibus

10:19. The Lord hath overthrown the lands of the Gentiles, and hath destroyed them even to the foundation. Terras gentium evertit Dominus et perdidit eas usque ad fundamentum

10:20. He hath made some of them to wither away, and hath destroyed them, and hath made the memory of them to cease from the earth. Arefecit ex ipsis et disperdidit illos et cessare fecit memoriam eorum a terra

10:21. God hath abolished the memory of the proud, and hath preserved the memory of them that are humble in mind. Perdidit Deus memoriam superborum et reliquit memoriam humilium sensu

10:22. Pride was not made for men: nor wrath for the race of women. Non est creata hominibus superbia neque iracundia nationi mulierum

10:23. That seed of men shall be honoured, which feareth God: but that seed shall be dishonoured, which transgresseth the commandments of the Lord. Semen hominum honorabitur hoc quod timet Dominum semen autem hoc exhonorabitur hominum quod praeterit mandata Domini

10:24. In the midst of brethren their chief is honourable: so shall they that fear the Lord, be in his eyes. In medio fratrum rector illorum in honore et qui timent Deum erunt in oculis illius

10:25. The fear of God is the glory of the rich, and of the honourable, and of the poor. Gloria divitum honoratorum et pauperum timor Dei est

10:26. Despise not a just man that is poor, and do not magnify a sinful man that is rich. Non despiciere hominem iustum pauperem et non magnificare virum peccatorem divitem

10:27. The great man, and the judge, and the mighty is in honour: and there is none greater than he that feareth God. Magnus est iudex et potens est in honore et non est maior illo qui timet Deum

10:28. They that are free shall serve a servant that is wise: and a man that is prudent and well instructed will not murmur when he is reproved; and he that is ignorant, shall not be honoured. Servo sensato liberi servient et vir prudens disciplinatus non murmurabit correptus et inscius non honorabitur

10:29. Extol not thyself in doing thy work, and linger not in the time of distress; Noli te extollere in faciendo opere tuo et noli cunctari in tempore angustiae

10:30. Better is he that laboureth, and aboundeth in all things, than he that boasteth himself and wanteth bread. Melior est qui operatur et abundat in omnibus quam qui gloriatur et eget panem

10:31. My son, keep thy soul in meekness, and give it honour according to its desert. Fili in mansuetudine serva animam tuam et da illi honorem secundum meritum suum

10:32. Who will justify him that sinneth against his own soul? and who will honour him that dishonoureth his own soul?

Peccantem in animam suam quis iustificabit et quis honorificabit exhonorantem animam suam

10:33. The poor man is glorified by his discipline and fear, and there is a man that is honoured for his wealth.

Pauper gloriatur per disciplinam et timorem suum et est homo qui honorificatur propter substantiam suam

10:34. But he that is glorified in poverty, how much more in wealth? and he that is glorified in wealth, let him fear poverty.

Qui gloriatur in paupertate quanto magis in substantia et qui gloriatur in substantia paupertatem vereatur

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 11

Lessons of humility and moderation in all things.

---

11:1. The wisdom of the humble shall exalt his head, and shall make him sit in the midst of great men.
Sapientia humiliati exaltabit caput illius et in medio magnatorum consedere illum faciet

11:2. Praise not a man for his beauty, neither despise a man for his look.
Non laudes virum in specie sua neque spernas hominem in visu suo

11:3. The bee is small among flying things but her fruit hath the chiefest sweetness.
Brevis in volatilibus est apis et initium dulcoris habet fructus illius

11:4. Glory not in apparel at any time, and be not exalted in the day of thy honour: for the works of the Highest only are wonderful, and his works are glorious, and secret, and hidden.
In vestitu ne glorieris umquam nec in die honoris tui extollaris quoniam mirabilia opera Altissimi solius et gloriosa et absconsa et invisita opera illius

11:5. Many tyrants have sat on the throne, and he whom no man would think on, hath worn the crown.
Multi tyranni sederunt in throno et insuspicabilis portavit diadema

11:6. Many mighty men have been greatly brought down, and the glorious have been delivered into the hand of others.
Multi potentes pressi sunt valide et gloriosi traditi sunt in manus alterorum

11:7. Before thou inquire, blame no man: and when thou hast inquired, reprove justly.
Priusquam interrogas ne vituperes quemquam et cum interrogaveris corripe iuste

11:8. Before thou hear, answer not a word: and interrupt not others in the midst of their discourse.
Priusquam audias ne respondeas verbum et in medio sermonum ne adicias loqui

11:9. Strive not in a matter which doth not concern thee, and sit not in judgment with sinners.
De re ea quae te non molestat ne ceteris et in iudicio peccantium ne consistas

11:10. My son, meddle not with many matters: and if thou be rich, thou shalt not be free from sin: for if thou pursue after thou shalt not overtake; and if thou run before thou shalt not escape.
Fili ne in multis sint actus tui et si dives fueris non eris immunis a delicto si enim secutus fueris non apprehendes et non effugies si praecurreris

11:11. There is an ungodly man that laboureth, and maketh haste, and is in sorrow, and is so much the more in want.
Est laborans et festinans et dolens impius et tanto magis non abundat

11:12. Again, there is an inactive man that wanteth help, is very weak in ability, and full of poverty:
Est homo marcidus egens recuperatione plus deficiens virtute et abundans paupertate

11:13. Yet the eye of God hath looked upon him for good, and hath lifted him up from his low estate, and hath exalted his head: and many have wondered at him, and have glorified God.
Et oculus Dei respexit illum in bono et erexit illum ab humilitate ipsius et exaltavit caput eius et mirati sunt in illo multi et honoraverunt Deum

11:14. Good things and evil, life and death, poverty and riches, are from God.
Bona et mala vita et mors et paupertas et honestas a Deo sunt

11:15. Wisdom and discipline, and the knowledge of the law are with God. Love and the ways of good things are with him.

11:16. Error and darkness are created with sinners: and they that glory in evil things, grow old in evil.

11:17. The gift of God abideth with the just, and his advancement shall have success for ever.
Datio Dei permanet iustis et profectus illius successus habebunt in aeternum

11:18. There is one that is enriched by living sparingly, and this is the portion of his reward.
Est qui locupletatur parce agendo et haec pars mercedis illius

11:19. In that he saith: I have found me rest, and now I will eat of my goods alone:
In eo quod dicit inveni requiem mihi et nunc manducabo de bonis meis solus

11:20. And he knoweth not what time shall pass, and that death approacheth, and that he must leave all to others, and shall die.
Et nescit quod tempus praetereat et relinquet omnia aliis

11:21. Be steadfast in thy covenant, and be conversant therein, and grow old in the work of thy commandments.
Sta in testamento tuo et in illo conloquere et in opere mandatorum tuorum veteresce

11:22. Abide not in the works of sinners. But trust in God, and stay in thy place,
Ne manseris in operibus peccatorum fide autem in Deo et mane in loco tuo

11:23. For it is easy in the eyes of God on a sudden to make the poor man rich.
Facile est enim in oculis Dei de subito honestari pauperem

11:24. The blessing of God maketh haste to reward the just, and in a swift hour his blessing beareth fruit.
Benedictio Dei in mercedem iusti festinat et in honore veloci processus illius fructificat

11:25. Say not: What need I, and what good shall I have by this?
Ne dicas quid est mihi opus et quae erunt mihi ex hoc bona

11:26. Say not: I am sufficient for myself: and what shall I be made worse by this?
Ne dicas sufficiens sum et quid ex hoc pessimabor

11:27. In the day of good things be not unmindful of evils: and in the day of evils be not unmindful of good things:
In die bonorum ne inmemor sis malorum et in die malorum ne inmemor sis bonorum

11:28. For it is easy before God in the day of death to reward every one according to his ways.
Quoniam facile coram Deo in die obitus retribuere unicuique secundum vias suas

11:29. The affliction of an hour maketh one forget great delights, and in the end of a man is the disclosing of his works.
Malitia horae oblivionem facit luxuriae magnae et in fine hominis denudatio operum illius

11:30. Praise not any man before death, for a man is known by his children.
Ante mortem ne laudes hominem quemquam quoniam in filiis suis agnoscitur vir

11:31. Bring not every man into thy house: for many are the snares of the deceitful.
Non omnem hominem inducas in domum tuam multae enim insidiae sunt dolosi

11:32. For as corrupted bowels send forth stinking breath, and as the partridge is brought into the cage, and as the roe into the snare: so also is the heart of the proud, and as a spy that looketh on the fall of his neighbour.
Sicut enim eructant praecordia fetantium sicut perdix inducitur in caveam et ut caprea in laqueum sic et cor superbiorum et sicut prospectator videns casum proximi sui

11:33. For he lieth in wait and turneth good into evil, and on the elect he will lay a blot.
Bona enim in mala convertens insidiatur et in electis inponet maculam

11:34. Of one spark cometh a great fire, and of one deceitful man much blood: and a sinful man lieth in wait for blood.

Ab scintilla una augetur ignis et ab uno doloso augetur sanguis homo vero peccator sanguini insidiatur

11:35. Take heed to thyself of a mischievous man, for he worketh evils: lest he bring upon thee reproach for ever.

Adtende te a pestifero fabricat enim mala ne forte inducat super te subsannationem in perpetuum

11:36. Receive a stranger in, and he shall overthrow thee with a whirlwind, and shall turn thee out of thy own.

Admitte ad te alienigenam et subvertet te in turbore et abalienabit te a tuis propriis

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 12

We are to be liberal to the just: and not to trust the wicked.

12:1. If thou do good, know to whom thou dost it, and there shall be much thanks for thy good deeds.

Si benefeceris scito cui feceris et erit gratia in bonis tuis multa

12:2. Do good to the just, and thou shalt find great recompense: and if not of him, assuredly of the Lord.

Benefac iusto et invenies retributionem magnam et si non ab ipso certe a Domino

12:3. For there is no good for him that is always occupied in evil, and that giveth no alms: for the Highest hateth sinners, and hath mercy on the penitent.

Non est ei bene qui adsiduus est malis et elemosynam non danti quoniam et Altissimus odio habet peccatores et misertus est paenitentibus

12:4. Give to the merciful and uphold not the sinner: God will repay vengeance to the ungodly and to sinners, and keep them against the day of vengeance.

Da misericordii et ne suscipias peccatorem et impiis et peccatoribus reddet vindictam custodiens eos in die vindictae

12:5. Give to the good, and receive not a sinner.

Da bono et non receperis peccatorem

12:6. Do good to the humble, and give not to the ungodly: hold back thy bread, and give it not to him, lest thereby he overmaster thee.

Benefac humili et non dederis impio prohibe panes illi dare ne in ipsis potentior te sit

12:7. For thou shalt receive twice as much evil for all the good thou shalt have done to him: for the Highest also hateth sinners, and will repay vengeance to the ungodly.

Nam duplicia mala invenies in omnibus bonis quoniam et Altissimus odio habet peccatores et impiis reddet vindictam

12:8. A friend shall not be known in prosperity, and an enemy shall not be hidden in adversity.

Non agnoscetur in bonis amicus et non abscondetur in malis inimicus

12:9. In the prosperity of a man, his enemies are grieved: and a friend is known in his adversity.

In bonis viri inimici illius in tristitia et in malitia illius amicus agnitus est

12:10. Never trust thy enemy for as a brass pot his wickedness rusteth:

Non credas inimico tuo in aeternum sicut enim aeramentum eruginat nequitia illius

12:11. Though he humble himself and go crouching, yet take good heed and beware of him.

Et si humiliatus vadat curvus adice animum tuum et custodi te ab illo

12:12. Set him not by thee, neither let him sit on thy right hand, lest he turn into thy place, and seek to take thy seat and at the last thou acknowledge my words, and be pricked with my sayings.

Non statuas illum penes te nec sedeat ad dexteram tuam ne conversus stet in loco tuo ne forte conversus in locum tuum inquirat cathedram tuam et in novissimo cognoscas verba mea et in sermonibus meis stimuleris

12:13. Who will pity an enchanter struck by a serpent, or any that come near wild beasts? so is it with him that keepeth company with a wicked man, and is involved in his sins.

Quis miserebitur incantatori a serpente percusso et omnibus qui adpropiant bestiis et qui comitatur cum viro iniquo et obvolutus est in peccatis eius

12:14. For an hour he will abide with thee: but if thou begin to decline, he will not endure it.

Una hora tecum permanebit si autem declinaveris non subportabit

12:15. An enemy speaketh sweetly with his lips, but in his heart he lieth in wait, to throw thee into a pit.
In labiis suis indulcat inimicus et in corde suo insidiatur ut subvertat te in foveam

12:16. An enemy weepeth with his eyes: but if he find an opportunity he will not be satisfied with blood:
In oculis suis lacrimatur inimicus et si invenerit tempus non satiabitur sanguine

12:17. And if evils come upon thee, thou shalt find him there first.
Si incurrerint tibi mala invenies eum illic priorem

12:18. An enemy hath tears in his eyes, and while he pretendeth to help thee, will undermine thy feet.
In oculis suis lacrimatur inimicus et quasi adjuvans suffodiet plantas tuas

12:19. He will shake his head, and clap his hands, and whisper much, and change his countenance.
Caput suum movebit et plaudebit manu et multa susurrans commutabit vultum suum

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 13

Cautions in the choice of company.

---

13:1. He that toucheth pitch, shall be defiled with it: and he that hath fellowship with the proud, shall put on pride.

Qui tetigerit picem inquinabitur ab illa et qui communicaverit superbo inducet superbiam

13:2. He shall take a burden upon him that hath fellowship with one more honourable than himself. And have no fellowship with one that is richer than thyself.

Pondus super se tollit qui honestiori communicat et ditiori te ne socius fueris 13:3. What agreement shall the earthen pot have with the kettle? for if they knock one against the other, it shall be broken.

Quid communicabit caccabus ad ollam quando enim conliserint confringetur

13:4. The rich man hath done wrong, and yet he will fume: but the poor is wronged and must hold his peace.

Dives iniuste egit et fremebit pauper autem laesus tacebit

13:5. If thou give, he will make use of thee: and if thou have nothing, he will forsake thee.

Si largitus fueris adsumet te et si non habueris derelinquet te

13:6. If thou have any thing, he will live with thee, and will make thee bare, and he will not be sorry for thee.

Si habes convivet tecum et evacuabit te et ipse non dolebit super te

13:7. If he have need of thee he will deceive thee, and smiling upon thee will put thee in hope; he will speak thee fair, and will say: What wantest thou?

Si necessarius illi fueris subplantabit te et subridens spem dabit narrans tibi bona et dicet quid opus est tibi

13:8. And he will shame thee by his meats, till he have drawn thee dry twice or thrice, and at last he will laugh at thee: and afterward when he seeth thee, he will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

Et confundet te in cibus suis donec te exinaniat bis et ter et in novissimo derideat te postea videns derelinquet te et caput suum movebit ad te

13:9. Humble thyself to God, and wait for his hands.

13:10. Beware that thou be not deceived into folly, and be humbled.

Attende ne seductus in stultitiam humilieris

13:11. Be not lowly in thy wisdom, lest being humbled thou be deceived into folly.

Noli esse humilis in sapientia tua ne humiliatus in stultitiam seducaris

13:12. If thou be invited by one that is mightier, withdraw thyself: for so he will invite thee the more.

Advocatus a potentiore discede ex hoc enim magis te advocabit

13:13. Be not troublesome to him, lest thou be put back: and keep not far from him, lest thou be forgotten.

Ne improbus sis ne inpingaris et longe abesto ne eas in oblivionem

13:14. Affect not to speak with him as an equal, and believe not his many words: for by much talk he will sift thee, and smiling will examine thee concerning thy secrets.

Ne retineas ex aequo loqui cum illo ne credas multis verbis illius ex multa enim loquella temptabit te et subridens interrogabit te de absconditis tuis

13:15. His cruel mind will lay up thy words: and he will not spare to do thee hurt, and to cast thee into prison.

Inmitis animus illius conservabit verba tua et non parcat de malitia et de vinculis

13:16. Take heed to thyself, and attend diligently to what thou hearest: for thou walkest in danger of thy ruin.

Cave tibi et adtende diligenter auditui tuo quoniam cum subversione tua ambulas

13:17. When thou hearest those things, see as it were in sleep, and thou shalt awake.

Audiens vero illa quasi in somnis vide et vigilabis

13:18. Love God all thy life, and call upon him for thy salvation.

Omni vita tua dilige Deum et invoca eum in salute tua

13:19. Every beast loveth its like: so also every man him that is nearest to himself.

Omne animal diligit similem sibi sic et omnis homo proximum sibi

13:20. All flesh shall consort with the like to itself, and every man shall associate himself to his like.

Omnis caro ad similem sibi coniungitur et omnis homo simili sui sociabitur

13:21. If the wolf shall at any time have fellowship with the lamb, so the sinner with the just.

Si communicabit lupus agno aliquando sic peccator iusto

13:22. What fellowship hath a holy man with a dog, or what part hath the rich with the poor?

Quae communicatio sancto homini ad canem aut quae pax bona diviti ad pauperem

13:23. The wild ass is the lion's prey in the desert: so also the poor are devoured by the rich.

Venatio leonis onager in heremo sic pascua sunt divitum pauperes

13:24. And as humility is an abomination to the proud: so also the rich man abhorreth the poor.

Et sicut abominatio est superbo humilitas sic execratio divitis pauper

13:25. When a rich man is shaken, he is kept up by his friends: but when a poor man is fallen down, he is thrust away even by his acquaintance.

Dives commotus confirmatur ab amicis humilis autem cum ceciderit expellitur et a notis

13:26. When a rich man hath been deceived, he hath many helpers: he hath spoken proud things, and they have justified him.

Diviti decepto multi recuperatores locutus est superba et iustificaverunt illum

13:27. The poor man was deceived, and he is rebuked also: he hath spoken wisely, and could have no place.

Humilis deceptus est et insuper arguitur locutus est sensate et non est datus ei locus

13:28. The rich man spoke, and all held their peace, and what he said they extol even to the clouds.

Dives locutus est et omnes tacuerunt et verbum illius usque ad nubes perducent

13:29. The poor man spoke, and they say: Who is this? and if he stumble, they will overthrow him.

Pauper locutus est et dicunt quis est hic et si offenderit subvertunt illum

13:30. Riches are good to him that hath no sin in his conscience: and poverty is very wicked in the mouth of the ungodly.

Bona est substantia cui non est peccatum in conscientia et nequissima paupertas in ore impii

13:31. The heart of a man changeth his countenance, either for good, or for evil.

Cor hominis inmutat faciem illius sive in bona sive in mala

13:32. The token of a good heart, and a good countenance thou shalt hardly find, and with labour.

Vestigium cordis boni et faciem bonam difficile invenies et cum labore

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 14

The evil of avarice: works of mercy are recommended, and the love of wisdom.

---

14:1. Blessed is the man that hath not slipped by a word out of his mouth, and is not pricked with the remorse of sin.

Beatus vir qui non est lapsus verbo ex ore suo et non est stimulatus in tristitia delicti

14:2. Happy is he that hath had no sadness of his mind, and who is not fallen from his hope.

Felix qui non habuit animi sui tristitiam et non excidit ab spe sua

14:3. Riches are not comely for a covetous man and a niggard, and what should an envious man do with gold?

Viro cupido et tenaci sine ratione est substantia et homini livido ad quid aurum

14:4. He that gathereth together by wronging his own soul, gathereth for others, and another will squander away his goods in rioting.

Qui acervat ex animo suo iniuste aliis congregat et in bonis illius alius luxuriabitur

14:5. He that is evil to himself, to whom will he be good? and he shall not take pleasure in his goods.

Qui sibi nequa est cui alii bonus erit et non iucundabitur in bonis suis

14:6. There is none worse than he that envieth himself, and this is the reward of his wickedness:

Qui sibi invidet nihil est illo nequius et haec redditio est malitiae illius

14:7. And if he do good, he doth it ignorantly, and unwillingly: and at the last he discovereth his wickedness.

Et si bene fecerit ignoranter et non volens facit et in novissimo manifestat malitiam suam

14:8. The eye of the envious is wicked: and he turneth away his face, and despiseth his own soul.

Nequa est oculus lividi et avertens faciem et despiciens animam suam

14:9. The eye of the covetous man is insatiable in his portion of iniquity: he will not be satisfied till he consume his own soul, drying it up.

Insatiabilis oculus cupidi in parte iniquitatis non satiabitur donec consummet arefaciens animam suam

14:10. An evil eye is towards evil things: and he shall not have his fill of bread, but shall be needy and pensive at his own table.

Oculus malus ad mala et non satiabitur pane et in tristitia erit super mensam suam

14:11. My son, if thou have any thing, do good to thyself, and offer to God worthy offerings.

Fili si habes benefac tecum et Deo bonas oblationes offer

14:12. Remember that death is not slow, and that the covenant of hell hath been shown to thee: for the covenant of this world shall surely die. *

Memor esto quoniam mors non tardat et testamentum inferorum quia demonstratum est tibi testamentum enim huius mundi morte morietur

Covenant of hell... The decree by which all are to go down to the regions of death.

14:13. Do good to thy friend before thou die, and according to thy ability, stretching out thy hand give to the poor.

Ante mortem benefac amico tuo et secundum vires tuas exporrigenz da pauperi

14:14. Defraud not thyself of the good day, and let not the part of a good gift overpass thee.

Non defrauderis a die bono et particula boni doni non te praetereat

14:15. Shalt thou not leave to others to divide by lot thy sorrows and labours?

Nonne aliis relinques dolores et labores tuos in divisione sortis

14:16. Give and take, and justify thy soul.

Da et accipe et iustifica animam tuam

14:17. Before thy death work justice: for in hell there is no finding food.

Ante obitum tuum operare iustitiam quoniam non est apud inferos invenire cibum

14:18. All flesh shall fade as grass, and as the leaf that springeth out on a green tree.

Omnis caro sicut faenum veterescit et sicut folium fructificans in arbore viridi

14:19. Some grow, and some fall off: so is the generation of flesh and blood, one cometh to an end, and another is born.

Alia generat et alia deicit sic generatio carnis et sanguinis alia finitur et alia nascitur

14:20. Every work that is corruptible shall fail in the end: and the worker thereof shall go with it.

Omne opus corruptibile in fine deficiet et qui illud operatur ibit cum ipso

14:21. And every excellent work shall be justified: and the worker thereof shall be honoured therein.

Et omne opus electum iustificabitur et qui operatur illud honorabitur in illo

14:22. Blessed is the man that shall continue in wisdom, and that shall meditate in his justice, and in his mind shall think of the all seeing eye of God.

Beatus vir qui in sapientia sua morietur et qui in iustitia sua meditabitur et in sensu cogitabit circumspectionem Dei

14:23. He that considereth her ways in his heart, and hath understanding in her secrets, who goeth after her as one that traceth, and stayeth in her ways.

Qui excogitat vias illius in suo corde et in absconsis illius intellegens vadens post illam quasi vestigator et in viis illius consistens

14:24. He who looketh in at her windows, and hearkeneth at her door.

Qui respicit per fenestras et in ianuas illius audiens

14:25. He that lodgeth near her house, and fastening a pin in her walls shall set up his tent high unto her, where good things shall rest in his lodging for ever.

Qui requiescit iuxta domum illius et in parietibus illius figens palum statuet casulam suam ad manus illius et requiescunt in casula eius bona per aevum

14:26. He shall set his children under her shelter, and shall lodge under her branches:

Statuet filios suos sub tegimen illius et sub ramis illius morabitur

14:27. He shall be protected under her covering from the heat, and shall rest in her glory.

Protegetur in subtegmine illius a fervore et in gloria eius requiescet

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 15

Wisdom embraceth them that fear God. God is not the author of sin.

---

15:1. He that feareth God, will do good: and he that possesseth justice, shall lay hold on her,
Qui timet Deum faciet illud et qui continens est iustitiae adprehendet illam

15:2. And she will meet him as an honourable mother, and will receive him as a wife married of a virgin.
Et obviabit illi quasi mater honorificata et quasi mulier a virginitate suscipiet illum

15:3. With the bread of life and understanding, she shall feed him, and give him the water of wholesome wisdom to drink: and she shall be made strong in him, and he shall not be moved.
Cibabit illum panem vitae et intellectus et aqua sapientiae salutaris potabit illum et firmabitur in illo et non flectetur

15:4. And she shall hold him fast, and he shall not be confounded: and she shall exalt him among his neighbours.
Et continebit illum et non confundetur et inaltabit illum apud proximos suos

15:5. And in the midst of the church she shall open his mouth, and shall fill him with the spirit of wisdom and understanding, and shall clothe him with a robe of glory.
Et in medio ecclesiae aperiet os illius adimplebit illum spiritu sapientiae et intellectus et stolam gloriae vestiet illum

15:6. She shall heap upon him a treasure of joy and gladness, and shall cause him to inherit an everlasting name.
lucunditatem et exultationem thesaurizabit super illum et nomine aeterno hereditabit illum

15:7. But foolish men shall not obtain her, and wise men shall meet her, foolish men shall not see her: for she is far from pride and deceit.
Homines stulti non adprehendent illam et homines sensati obviabunt illi homines stulti non videbunt illam longe enim abest a superbia et dolo

15:8. Lying men shall be mindful of her: but men that speak truth shall be found with her, and shall advance, even till they come to the sight of God.
Viri mendaces non erunt illius memores et viri veraces inveniuntur in illa et successum habebunt usque ad inspectionem Dei

15:9. Praise is not seemly in the mouth of a sinner:
Non est speciosa laus in ore peccatoris

15:10. For wisdom came forth from God: for praise shall be with the wisdom of God, and shall abound in a faithful mouth, and the sovereign Lord will give praise unto it.
Quoniam a Deo profecta est sapientia sapientiae enim Dei adstabit laus et in ore fideli abundabit et Dominator dabit eam illi

15:11. Say not: It is through God, that she is not with me: for do not thou the things that he hateth.
Non dixeris per Deum abest quae odit enim ne feceris

15:12. Say not: He hath caused me to err: for he hath no need of wicked men.
Non dicas ille me inplanavit non enim necessarij sunt illi homines impii

15:13. The Lord hateth all abomination of error, and they that fear him shall not love it.
Omne execrumentum erroris odit Deus et non erit amabile timentibus illum

15:14. God made man from the beginning, and left him in the hand of his own counsel.

Deus ab initio constituit hominem et reliquit illum in manu consilii sui

15:15. He added his commandments and precepts.

Adiecit mandata et praecepta sua

15:16. If thou wilt keep the commandments and perform acceptable fidelity for ever, they shall preserve thee.

Si volueris mandata conservabunt te et in perpetuum fidem placitam facere

15:17. He hath set water and fire before thee: stretch forth thy hand to which thou wilt.

Adposuit tibi aquam et ignem ad quod voles porrigere manum tuam

15:18. Before man is life and death, good and evil, that which he shall choose shall be given him:

Ante hominem vita et mors bonum et malum quod placuerit ei dabitur illi

15:19. For the wisdom of God is great, and he is strong in power, seeing all men without ceasing.

Quoniam multa sapientia Dei et fortis in potentia videns omnes sine intermissione

15:20. The eyes of the Lord are towards them that fear him, and he knoweth all the work of man.

Oculi Dei ad timentes eum et ipse agnoscit omnem operam hominis

15:21. He hath commanded no man to do wickedly, and he hath given no man license to sin;

Nemini mandavit impie agere et nemini dedit spatium peccandi

15:22. For he desireth not a multitude of faithless and unprofitable children.

Non enim concupiscit multitudinem filiorum infidelium et inutilium

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 16

It is better to have none than many wicked children. Of the justice and mercy of God. His ways are unsearchable.

---

16:1. Rejoice not in ungodly children, if they be multiplied: neither be delighted in them, if the fear of God be not with them.

Et ne iucunderis in filiis impiis si multiplicentur non oblecteris super ipsos si non est timor Dei cum illis

16:2. Trust not to their life, and respect not their labours.

Non credas vitae illorum et ne respexeris in labores illorum

16:3. For better is one that feareth God, than a thousand ungodly children.

Melior est enim unus timens Deum quam mille filii impii

16:4. And it is better to die without children, than to leave ungodly children.

Et utile mori sine filiis quam relinquere filios impios

16:5. By one that is wise a country shall be inhabited, the tribe of the ungodly shall become desolate.

Ab uno sensato inhabitabitur patria et a tribus impiis deseretur

16:6. Many such things hath my eyes seen, and greater things than these my ear hath heard.

Multa talia vidit oculus meus et fortiora horum audivit auris mea

16:7. In the congregation of sinners a fire shall be kindled, and in an unbelieving nation wrath shall flame out.

In synagoga peccantium exardebit ignis et in gente incredibili exardescit ira

16:8. The ancient giants did not obtain pardon for their sins, who were destroyed trusting to their own strength:

Non exoraverunt pro peccatis suis antiquis gigantibus qui destruxerunt confidentes suae virtuti

16:9. And he spared not the place where Lot sojourned, but abhorred them for the pride of their word.

Et non pepercit peregrinationi illorum et execratus est illos prae superbia verbi illorum

16:10. He had not pity on them, destroying the whole nation that extolled themselves in their sins.

Non misertus est illis gentem totam perdens et extollentes se in suis peccatis

16:11. So did he with the six hundred thousand footmen, who were gathered together in the hardness of their heart: and if one had been stiffnecked, it is a wonder if he had escaped unpunished: *

Et sicut sescenta milia peditum qui congregati sunt in duritia cordis sui et si unus fuisset cervicatus mirum si fuisset immunis

Six hundred thousand footmen, etc... Viz., the children of Israel, whom he sentenced to die in the wilderness. Num. 14.

16:12. For mercy and wrath are with him. He is mighty to forgive, and to pour out indignation:

Misericordia enim et ira est cum illo potens exoratio et effundens iram

16:13. According as his mercy is, so his correction judgeth a man according to his works.

Secundum misericordiam suam sic correptio illius hominem secundum operam suam iudicat

16:14. The sinner shall not escape in his rapines, and the patience of him that showeth mercy shall not be put off.

Non effugiet in rapinam peccator et non retardabit sufferentia misericordiam facientis

16:15. All mercy shall make a place for every man according to the merit of his works, and according to the wisdom of his sojournment.

Omnis misericordia faciet locum unicuique secundum meritum operum suorum et secundum intellectum peregrinationis ipsius

16:16. Say not: I shall be hidden from God, and who shall remember me from on high?
Non dicas a Deo abscondar et ex summo quis mei memorabitur

16:17. In such a multitude I shall not be known: for what is my soul in such an immense creation?
In populo magno non agnoscar quae est enim anima mea in tam inmensa creatura

16:18. Behold the heaven, and the heavens of heavens, the deep, and all the earth, and the things that are in them, shall be moved in his sight,
Ecce caelum et caeli caelorum abyssus et universa terra et quae in eis sunt in conspectu illius commovebuntur

16:19. The mountains also, and the hills, and the foundations of the earth: when God shall look upon them, they shall be shaken with trembling.
Montes simul et colles et fundamenta terrae et cum conspexerit illa Deus tremore concutientur

16:20. And in all these things the heart is senseless: and every heart is understood by him.
Et omne cor intellegetur

16:21. And his ways who shall understand, and the storm, which no eye of man shall see?
Et vias illius quis intellegit et procella quam nec oculus videbit hominis

16:22. For many of his works are hidden, but the works of his justice who shall declare? or who shall endure? for the testament is far from some, and the examination of all is in the end.
Nam plurima opera illius sunt in absconsis opera iustitiae quis enuntiabit aut quis sustinebit longe enim est testamentum a quibusdam et interrogatio omnium in consummatione est

16:23. He that wanteth understanding thinketh vain things, and the foolish, and erring man, thinketh foolish things.
Qui minoratur corde cogitat inania et vir imprudens et errans cogitat stulta

16:24. Harken to me, my son, and learn the discipline of understanding, and attend to my words in thy heart.
Audi me fili et disce disciplinam sensus et in verbis meis adtende in corde

16:25. And I will show forth good doctrine in equity, and will seek to declare wisdom: and attend to my words in thy heart, whilst with equity of spirit I tell thee the virtues that God hath put upon his works from the beginning, and I show forth in truth his knowledge.
Edicam in aequitate disciplinam et scrutabor enarrare sapientiam et in verbis meis adtende in corde tuo et dico in aequitate spiritus virtutes quas posuit Deus in opera sua ab initio et in veritate enuntio scientiam eius

16:26. The works of God are done in judgment from the beginning, and from the making of them he distinguished their parts, and their beginnings in their generations.
In iudicio Dei opera ipsius ab initio et ab institutione ipsorum distinxit partes illorum et initia ipsorum in gentibus suis

16:27. He beautified their works for ever, they have neither hungered, nor laboured, and they have not ceased from their works.
Ornavit in aeternum opera illorum nec esurierunt nec laboraverunt et non destiterunt ab operibus suis

16:28. Nor shall any of them straiten his neighbour at any time.
Unusquisque proximum sibi non angustiavit usque in aevum

16:29. Be not thou incredulous to his word.
Non incredibiles verbo illius

16:30. After this God looked upon the earth, and filled it with his goods.
Post haec Deus in terram respexit et implevit illam bonis suis

16:31. The soul of every living thing hath shown forth before the face thereof, and into it they return again.*

Anima omnis vitalis denudavit ante faciem ipsius et ipsa iterum reversio illorum

Shown forth... Viz., the glory and power of God upon the earth.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 17

The creation and favour of God to man. An exhortation to turn to God.

---

17:1. God created man of the earth, and made him after his own image.

Deus creavit de terra hominem et secundum imaginem suam fecit illum

17:2. And he turned him into it again, and clothed him with strength according to himself.

Et iterum convertit illum in ipsam et secundum se vestivit illum virtutem

17:3. He gave him the number of his days and time, and gave him power over all things that are upon the earth.

Numerum dierum et tempus dedit illi et dedit illi potestatem eorum quae sunt super terram

17:4. He put the fear of him upon all flesh, and he had dominion over beasts and fowls.

Posuit timorem illius super omnem carnem et dominatus est bestiarum et volatilium

17:5. He created of him a helpmate like to himself, he gave them counsel, and a tongue, and eyes, and ears, and a heart to devise: and he filled them with the knowledge of understanding.

Creavit ex ipso adiutorium similem ipsi consilium et linguam et oculos aures et cor dedit illis excogitandi et disciplinam intellectus replevit illos

17:6. He created in them the science of the spirit, he fired their heart with wisdom, and showed them both good and evil.

Creavit illis scientiam spiritus sensum implevit cor illorum et mala et bona ostendit illis

17:7. He set his eye upon their hearts to show them the greatness of his works:

Posuit oculum ipsorum super corda illorum ostendere illis magnalia operum suorum

17:8. That they might praise the name which he hath sanctified: and glory in his wondrous act that they might declare the glorious things of his works.

Et nomen sanctificationis conlaudent et gloriari in mirabilibus illius et magnalia enarrent operum eius

17:9. Moreover he gave them instructions, and the law of life for an inheritance.

Addidit illis disciplinam et legem vitae hereditavit illos

17:10. He made an everlasting covenant with them, and he showed them his justice and judgments.

Testamentum aeternum constituit cum illis et iudicia sua ostendit illis

17:11. And their eye saw the majesty of his glory, and their ears heard his glorious voice, and he said to them: Beware of all iniquity.*

Et magnalia honoris eius vidit oculus illorum et honorem vocis audierunt aures illorum et dixit illis attendite ab omni iniquo

Their eye saw, etc... Viz., when he gave the law on mount Sinai.

17:12. And he gave to every one of them commandment concerning his neighbour.

Et mandavit illis unicuique de proximo

17:13. Their ways are always before him, they are not hidden from his eyes.

Viae illorum coram ipso sunt semper non sunt absconsaе ab oculis ipsius

17:14. Over every nation he set a ruler.

In unamquamque gentem praeposuit rectorem

17:15. And Israel was made the manifest portion of God.

Et pars Dei Israel facta est manifesta

17:16. And all their works are as the sun in the sight of God: and his eyes are continually upon their ways. Omnia opera illorum velut sol in conspectu Dei et oculi eius sine intermissione inspicientes in viis eorum

17:17. Their covenants were not hid by their iniquity, and all their iniquities are in the sight of God. Non sunt absconsa testamenta per iniquitatem eorum et omnes iniquitates eorum in conspectu Dei

17:18. The alms of a man is as a signet with him, and shall preserve the grace of a man as the apple of the eye:

Elemosyna viri quasi sacculum cum ipso et gratiam hominis quasi pupillam conservabit

17:19. And afterward he shall rise up, and shall render them their reward, to every one upon their own head, and shall turn them down into the bowels of the earth.

Et postea resurget et retribuet illis retributionem unicuique in caput illorum et convertet in interiores partes terrae

17:20. But to the penitent he hath given the way of justice, and he hath strengthened them that were fainting in patience, and hath appointed to them the lot of truth.

Paenitentibus autem dedit viam iustitiae et conrogavit deficientes sustinere et destinavit illis sortem veritatis

17:21. Turn to the Lord, and forsake thy sins:

Convertere ad Deum et relinque peccata tua

17:22. Make thy prayer before the face of the Lord, and offend less. *

Precare ante faciem et minue offendiculum

Offend less... Minue offendicula. That is, remove sins and the occasions of sins.

17:23. Return to the Lord, and turn away from thy injustice, and greatly hate abomination.

Refer te ad Dominum et avertere ab iniustitia et nimis odito execrationem

17:24. And know the justices and judgments of God, and stand firm in the lot set before thee, and in prayer to the most high God.

Et cognosce iustitias et iudicia Dei et sta in sorte propositionis et orationis altissimi Dei

17:25. Go to the side of the holy age, with them that live and give praise to God. *

In partes vade saeculi sancti cum vivis et dantibus confessionem

Go to the side, etc... Fly from the side of Satan and sin, and join with the holy ones, that follow God and godliness.

17:26. Tarry not in the error of the ungodly, give glory before death. Praise perisheth from the dead as nothing.

Non demoreris in errore impiorum a mortuo quasi nihil perit

17:27. Give thanks whilst thou art living, whilst thou art alive and in health thou shalt give thanks, and shalt praise God, and shalt glory in his mercies.

Confiteberis vivens vivus et sanus confiteberis et laudabis Deum et gloriaberis in miserationibus illius

17:28. How great is the mercy of the Lord, and his forgiveness to them that turn to him!

Quam magna misericordia Dei et propitiatio illius convertentibus ad se

17:29. For all things cannot be in men, because the son of man is not immortal, and they are delighted with the vanity of evil.

Nec enim omnia possunt esse in hominibus quoniam non est immortalis filius hominis et in vanitate malitiae placuerunt

17:30. What is brighter than the sun; yet it shall be eclipsed. Or what is more wicked than that which flesh and blood hath invented? and this shall be reproved.

Quid lucidius sole et hic deficiet aut quid nequius excogitabit caro et sanguis et hoc arguitur

17:31. He beholdeth the power of the height of heaven: and all men are earth and ashes.

Virtutem altitudinis caeli ipse conspicit et omnes homines terra et cinis

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 18

God's works are wonderful: we must serve him, and not our lusts.

18:1. He that liveth for ever created all things together. God only shall be justified, and he remaineth an invincible king for ever.

Qui vivit in aeternum creavit omnia simul Deus solus iustificabitur et manet invictus rex in aeternum

18:2. Who is able to declare his works?

Quis sufficit enarrare opera illius

18:3. For who shall search out his glorious acts?

Quis enim investigabit magnalia eius

18:4. And who shall show forth the power of his majesty? or who shall be able to declare his mercy?

Virtutem autem magnitudinis eius quis enuntiabit et quis adiciet enarrare misericordiam eius

18:5. Nothing may be taken away, nor added, neither is it possible to find out the glorious works of God.

Non est minuere neque adicere nec est invenire magnalia Dei

18:6. When a man hath done, then shall he begin: and when he leaveth off, he shall be at a loss.*

Cum consummaverit homo tunc incipit et cum quieverit operabitur

Then shall he begin... God is so great and incomprehensible, that when man has done all that he can to find out his greatness and boundless perfections, he is still to begin: for what he has found out, is but a mere nothing in comparison with his infinity.

18:7. What is man, and what is his grace? and what is his good, or what is his evil?

Quid homo et quae gratia illius et quid bonum aut quid nequam illius

18:8. The number of the days of men at the most are a hundred years, as a drop of water of the sea are they esteemed: and as a pebble of the sand, so are a few years compared to eternity.

Numerus dierum hominum multum centum anni quasi guttae aquae a mare et sicut calculus harenae sic exigui anni in die aevi

18:9. Therefore God is patient in them, and poureth forth his mercy upon them.

Propter hoc patiens est Deus in illis et effudit super eos misericordiam suam

18:10. He hath seen the presumption of their heart that it is wicked, and hath known their end that it is evil.

Vidit praesumptionem cordis illorum quoniam mala est et cognovit subversionem illorum quoniam nequa est

18:11. Therefore hath he filled up his mercy in their favour, and hath shown them the way of justice.

Ideo adimplevit propitiationem suam in illis et ostendit illis viam aequitatis

18:12. The compassion of man is toward his neighbour: but the mercy of God is upon all flesh.

Miseratio hominis circa proximum suum misericordia autem Dei super omnem carnem

18:13. He hath mercy, and teacheth, and correcteth, as a shepherd doth his flock.

Qui misericordiam habet et docet erudit quasi pastor gregem suum

18:14. He hath mercy on him that receiveth the discipline of mercy, and that maketh haste in his judgments.

Misereatur excipiens doctrinam miserationis et qui festinant in iudiciis eius

18:15. My son, in thy good deeds, make no complaint, and when thou givest any thing, add not grief by an evil word.

Fili in bonis non des querellam et omni dato non des tristitiam verbi mali

18:16. Shall not the dew assuage the heat? so also the good word is better than the gift.
Nonne ardorem refrigerabit ros sic et verbum melius quam datus

18:17. Lo, is not a word better than a gift? but both are with a justified man.
Nonne ecce verbum super datum bonum et utraque cum homine iustificato

18:18. A fool will upbraid bitterly: and a gift of one ill taught consumeth the eyes.
Stultus achariter inproperabit et datus indisciplinati tabescere facit oculos

18:19. Before judgment prepare thee justice, and learn before thou speak.
Ante iudicium para iustitiam tibi et antequam loquaris disce

18:20. Before sickness take a medicine, and before judgment examine thyself, and thou shalt find mercy in the sight of God.
Ante languorem adhibe medicinam et ante iudicium interroga te ipsum et in conspectu Dei invenies propitiationem

18:21. Humble thyself before thou art sick, and in the time of sickness show thy conversation.
Ante languorem humilia te et in tempore infirmitatum ostende conversationem tuam

18:22. Let nothing hinder thee from praying always, and be not afraid to be justified even to death: for the reward of God continueth for ever.
Non inpediaris operari semper et non veteris usque ad mortem iustificari quoniam merces Dei manet in aeternum

18:23. Before prayer prepare thy soul: and be not as a man that tempteth God.
Ante orationem praepara animam tuam et noli esse quasi homo qui temptat Deum

18:24. Remember the wrath that shall be at the last day, and the time of repaying when he shall turn away his face.
Memento irae in die consummationis et tempus retributionis in conversatione facies

18:25. Remember poverty in the time of abundance, and the necessities of poverty in the day of riches.
Memento paupertatis in tempore abundantiae et necessitatem paupertatis in die divitiarum

18:26. From the morning until the evening the time shall be changed, and all these are swift in the eyes of God.
A mane usque ad vesperam mutatur tempus et haec omnia citata in oculis Dei

18:27. A wise man will fear in every thing, and in the days of sins will beware of sloth.
Homo sapiens in omnibus metuet et in diebus delictorum adtendet ab inertia

18:28. Every man of understanding knoweth wisdom, and will give praise to him that findeth her.
Omnis astutus agnovit sapientiam et invenienti eam dabit confessionem

18:29. They that were of good understanding in words, have also done wisely themselves: and have understood truth and justice, and have poured forth proverbs and judgments.
Sensati in verbis et ipsi sapienter egerunt et intellexerunt veritatem et iustitiam et inploraverunt proverbia et iudicia

18:30. Go not after thy lusts, but turn away from thy own will.
De continentia animae post concupiscentias tuas non eas et a voluntate tua avertere

18:31. If thou give to thy soul her desires, she will make thee a joy to thy enemies.
Si praestes animae tuae concupiscentiam eius faciet te in gaudium inimicis

18:32. Take no pleasure in riotous assemblies, be they ever so small: for their concertation is continual.
Ne oblecteris in turbis nec in modicis ad duas est enim commissio illorum

18:33. Make not thyself poor by borrowing to contribute to feasts when thou hast nothing in thy purse: for thou shalt be an enemy to thy own life.
Ne fueris mediocris in contentione ex fenore et non est tibi nihil in sacco eris enim invidus tuae vitae

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 19

Admonition against sundry vices.

---

19:1. A workman that is a drunkard shall not be rich: and he that contemneth small things, shall fall by little and little.

Operarius ebriacus non locupletabitur et qui spernit modica paulatim decidet

19:2. Wine and women make wise men fall off, and shall rebuke the prudent:

Vinum et mulieres apostatare faciunt sapientes et arguent sensatos

19:3. And he that joineth himself to harlots, will be wicked. Rottenness and worms shall inherit him, and he shall be lifted up for a greater example, and his soul shall be taken away out of the number.

Et qui se iungit fornicariis erit nequa putredo et vermes hereditabunt illum et extolletur in exemplum maius et tolletur de numero anima eius

19:4. He that is hasty to give credit, is light of heart, and shall be lessened: and he that sinneth against his own soul, shall be despised.

Qui credit cito levis corde minorabitur et qui delinquit in animam suam insuper habebitur

19:5. He that rejoiceth in iniquity, shall be censured, and he that hateth chastisement, shall have less life: and he that hateth babbling, extinguisheth evil.

Qui gaudet iniquitati denotabitur et qui odit correptionem comminuetur vita et qui odit loquacitatem extinguit malitiam

19:6. He that sinneth against his own soul, shall repent: and he that is delighted with wickedness, shall be condemned.

Qui peccat in animam suam paenitebitur et qui iucundatur malitia denotabitur

19:7. Rehearse not again a wicked and harsh word, and thou shalt not fare the worse.

Ne iteres verbum nequam et durum et non minoraberis

19:8. Tell not thy mind to friend or foe: and if there be a sin with thee, disclose it not.

Amico et inimico noli enarrare sensum tuum et si est tibi delictum noli denudare

19:9. For he will hearken to thee, and will watch thee, and as it were defending thy sin he will hate thee, and so will he be with thee always.

Audiet enim te et custodiet te et quasi defendens peccatum odiet te et sic aderit tibi semper

19:10. Hast thou heard a word against thy neighbour? let it die within thee, trusting that it will not burst thee.

Audisti verbum adversus proximum conmoriat in te fidens quoniam non te disrumpet

19:11. At the hearing of a word the fool is in travail, as a woman groaning in the bringing forth a child.

A facie verbi parturit fatuus tamquam gemitus partus infantis

19:12. As an arrow that sticketh in a man's thigh: so is a word in the heart of a fool.

Sagitta infixi femori carnis sic verbum in corde stulti

19:13. Reprove a friend, lest he may not have understood, and say: I did it not: or if he did it, that he may do it no more.

Corripi amicum ne forte non intellexerit et dicat non feci aut si fecerit ne iterum addat facere

19:14. Reprove thy neighbour, for it may be he hath not said it: and if he hath said it, that he may not say it again.

Corripi proximum ne forte non dixerit et si dixerit ne forte iteret

19:15. Admonish thy friend: for there is often a fault committed.

Corripe amicum saepe enim fit commissio

19:16. And believe not every word. There is one, that slippeth with the tongue, but not from his heart.

Et non omni verbo credas est qui labitur lingua sed non ex animo

19:17. For who is there that hath not offended with his tongue? Admonish thy neighbour before thou threaten him.

Quis est enim qui non deliquerit lingua sua corripe proximum antequam commineris

19:18. And give place to the fear of the most High: for the fear of God is all wisdom, and therein is to fear God, and the disposition of the law is in all wisdom.

Et da locum timori Altissimi quia omnis sapientia timor Dei et in illa timere Deum et in omni sapientia dispositio legis

19:19. But the learning of wickedness is not wisdom: and the device of sinners is not prudence.

Et non est sapientia nequitiae disciplina et non est cogitatus peccatorum prudentia

19:20. There is a subtle wickedness, and the same is detestable: and there is a man that is foolish, wanting in wisdom.

Est nequitia et ipsa execratio et est insipiens qui minuitur sapientia

19:21. Better is a man that hath less wisdom, and wanteth understanding, with the fear of God, than he that aboundeth in understanding, and transgresseth the law of the most High.

Melior est homo qui deficit sapientia et deficiens sensu in timore quam qui abundat sensu et transgreditur legem Altissimi

19:22. There is an exquisite subtilty, and the same is unjust.

Est sollertia certa et ipsa iniqua

19:23. And there is one that uttereth an exact word telling the truth. There is one that humbleth himself wickedly, and his interior is full of deceit:

Est qui emittit verbum certum enarrans veritatem est qui nequiter humiliat se et interiora eius plena sunt dolo

19:24. And there is one that submitteth himself exceedingly with a great lowliness: and there is one that casteth down his countenance, and maketh as if he did not see that which is unknown:

Et est iustus qui se nimium submittit a multa humilitate et est iustus qui inclinat faciem et fingit non videre quod ignoratum est

19:25. And if he be hindered from sinning for want of power, if he shall find opportunity to do evil, he will do it.

Et si ab inbecillitate virium vetetur peccare si invenerit tempus malefaciendi malefaciet

19:26. A man is known by his look, and a wise man, when thou meetest him, is known by his countenance.

Ex visu cognoscitur vir et ab occursu faciei cognoscitur sensatus

19:27. The attire of the body, and the laughter of the teeth, and the gait of the man, show what he is.

Amictus corporis et risus dentium et ingressus hominis enuntiant de illo

19:28. There is a lying rebuke in the anger of an injurious man: and there is a judgment that is not allowed to be good: and there is one that holdeth his peace, he is wise.

Est correptio mendax in ira contumeliosi et est indicium quod non probatur esse bonum et est tacens et ipse est prudens

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 20

Rules with regard to correction, discretion, and avoiding lies.

20:1. How much better is it to reprove, than to be angry, and not to hinder him that confesseth in prayer.
Quam bonum est arguere quam irasci et confitentem in oratione non prohibere

20:2. The lust of an eunuch shall deflower a young maiden:
Concupiscentia spadonis devirginavit iuvenem

20:3. So is he that by violence executeth of the unwise.
Sic qui facit per vim iudicium inique

20:4. How good is it, when thou art reprov'd, to show repentance! for so thou shalt escape wilful sin.
Quam bonum est correptum manifestare paenitentiam sic enim effugies voluntarium peccatum est tacens qui invenitur sapiens

20:5. There is one that holdeth his peace, that is found wise: and there is another that is hateful, that is bold in speech.
Et est odibilis qui procax est ad loquendum

20:6. There is one that holdeth his peace, because he knoweth not what to say: and there is another that holdeth his peace, knowing the proper time.
Est autem tacens non habens sensum loquellae et est tacens sciens tempus apti temporis

20:7. A wise man will hold his peace till he see opportunity: but a babbler, and a fool, will regard no time.
Homo sapiens tacebit usque ad tempus lascivus autem et imprudens non servabunt tempus

20:8. He that useth many words shall hurt his own soul: and he that taketh authority to himself unjustly shall be hated.
Qui multis utitur verbis laedit animam suam et qui potestatem sibi adsumit iniuste odietur

20:9. There is success in evil things to a man without discipline, and there is a finding that turneth to loss.
Est processio in malis viro indisciplinato et est inventio in detrimentum

20:10. There is a gift that is not profitable: and there is a gift, the recompense of which is double.
Est datus qui non sit utilis et est datus cuius retributio duplex

20:11. There is an abasement because of glory: and there is one that shall lift up his head from a low estate.
Est propter gloriam minoratio et est qui ab humilitate levavit caput

20:12. There is that buyeth much for a small price, and restoreth the same sevenfold.
Est qui multa redimat modico pretio et restituens ea septuplum

20:13. A man wise in words shall make himself beloved: but the graces of fools shall be poured out.
Sapiens in verbis se ipsum amabilem facit gratiae autem fatuorum effundentur

20:14. The gift of the fool shall do thee no good: for his eyes are sevenfold.
Datus insipientis non erit utilis tibi oculi enim illius septimplices sunt

20:15. He will give a few things, and upbraid much: and the opening of his mouth is the kindling of a fire.
Exigua dabit et multa inproperabit et apertio oris illius inflammatio est

20:16. To day a man lendeth, and to morrow he asketh it again: such a man as this is hateful.
Hodie fenerat quis et cras expetit et odibilis homo huiusmodi

20:17. A fool shall have no friend, and there shall be no thanks for his good deeds.

Fatuo non erit amicus et non erit gratia bonis illius

20:18. For they that eat his bread, are of a false tongue. How often, and how many will laugh him to scorn!

Qui enim edunt panem illius falsi linguae sunt quotiens et quanti inridebunt eum

20:19. For he doth not distribute with right understanding that which was to be had: in like manner also that which was not to be had.

Neque enim quod habendum erat directo sensu distribuit similiter et quod non erat habendum

20:20. The slipping of a false tongue is as one that falleth on the pavement: so the fall of the wicked shall come speedily.

Lapsus falsae linguae quasi qui pavimento cadens nam et sic casus malorum festinanter venient

20:21. A man without grace is as a vain fable, it shall be continually in the mouth of the unwise.

Homo acharis quasi fabula vana in ore indisciplinatorum adsidua erit

20:22. A parable coming out of a fool's mouth shall be rejected: for he doth not speak it in due season.

Ex ore fatui reprobabitur parabola non enim dicit illam in tempore suo

20:23. There is that is hindered from sinning through want, and in his rest he shall be pricked.

Est qui vetatur peccare ab inopia et in requie sua stimulabitur

20:24. There is that will destroy his own soul through shamefacedness, and by occasion of an unwise person he will destroy it: and by respect of person he will destroy himself.

Est qui perdit animam suam prae confusione et ab imprudenti persona perdet eam personae autem acceptione perdet se

20:25. There is that for bashfulness promiseth to his friend, and maketh him his enemy for nothing.

Est qui prae confusione promittit amico et lucratus est eum inimicum gratis

20:26. A lie is a foul blot in a man, and yet it will be continually in the mouth of men without discipline.

Obprobrium nequa in homine mendacium et in ore indisciplinatorum adsidue erit

20:27. A thief is better than a man that is always lying: but both of them shall inherit destruction.

Potius furem quam adsiduitas viri mendacis perditionem autem ambo hereditabunt

20:28. The manners of lying men are without honour: and their confusion is with them without ceasing.

Mores hominum mendacium sine honore et confusio illius cum ipso sine intermissione

20:29. A wise man shall advance himself with his words, and a prudent man shall please the great ones.

Verbum parabolarum sapiens in verbis producet se ipsum et homo prudens placebit magnatis

20:30. He that tilleth his land shall make a high heap of corn: and he that worketh justice shall be exalted: and he that pleaseth great men shall escape iniquity.

Qui operatur terram suam inaltabit acervum fructuum et qui operatur iustitiam ipse exaltabitur qui vero placet magnatis effugiet iniquitatem

20:31. Presents and gifts blind the eyes of judges, and make them dumb in the mouth, so that they cannot correct.

Xenia et dona excaecant oculos iudicum et quasi mutus in ore avertit correptiones eorum

20:32. O Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is not seen: what profit is there in them both?

Sapientia absconsa et thesaurus invisus quae utilitas in utrisque

20:33. Better is he that hideth his folly, than the man that hideth his wisdom.

Melius in hominibus qui abscondent insipientiam suam quam qui abscondunt sapientiam suam

New Advent is dedicated to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 21

Cautions against sin in general, and some sins in particular.

21:1. My son, hast thou sinned? do so no more: but for thy former sins also pray that they may be forgiven thee.

Fili peccasti non adicias iterum sed et de pristinis deprecare ut tibi remittatur

21:2. Flee from sins as from the face of a serpent: for if thou comest near them, they will take hold of thee.

Quasi a facie colubri fuge peccata et si accesseris ad illa suscipient te

21:3. The teeth thereof are the teeth of a lion, killing the souls of men.

Dentes leonis dentes eius interficientes animas hominum

21:4. All iniquity is like a two-edged sword, there is no remedy for the wound thereof.

Quasi romphea bis acuta omnis iniquitas plagae illius non est sanitas

21:5. Injuries and wrongs will waste riches: and the house that is very rich shall be brought to nothing by pride: so the substance of the proud shall be rooted out.

Cataplectatio et iniuriae adnullabunt substantiam sic substantia superbiae eradicabitur

21:6. The prayer out of the mouth of the poor shall reach the ears of God, and judgment shall come for him speedily.

Deprecatio pauperis ex ore usque ad aures eius veniet et iudicium festinato adveniet illi

21:7. He that hateth to be reprov'd walketh in the trace of a sinner: and he that feareth God will turn to his own heart.

Qui odit correptionem vestigium est peccatoris et qui timet Deum convertet ad cor suum

21:8. He that is mighty by a bold tongue is known afar off, but a wise man knoweth to slip by him.

Notus a longe potens lingua audaci et sensatus scit labi se ab ipso

21:9. He that buildeth his house at other men's charges, is as he that gathereth himself stones to build in the winter.

Qui aedificat domum inpendiis alienis quasi qui colligat lapides suos in hieme

21:10. The congregation of sinners is like tow heaped together, and the end of them is a flame of fire.

Stuppa collecta synagoga peccantium et consummatio illorum flamma ignis

21:11. The way of sinners is made plain with stones, and in their end is hell, and darkness, and pains.

Via peccantium conplanata lapidibus et in fine illorum inferi et tenebrae et poena

21:12. He that keepeth justice shall get the understanding thereof.

Qui custodit iustitiam continebit sensum eius

21:13. The perfection of the fear of God is wisdom and understanding.

Consummatio timoris Dei sapientia et sensus

21:14. He that is not wise in good, will not be taught.

Non erudietur qui non est sapiens in bono

21:15. But there is a wisdom that aboundeth in evil: and there is no understanding where there is bitterness.

Est autem insipientia quae abundat in malo et non est sensus ubi abundat amaritudo

21:16. The knowledge of a wise man shall abound like a flood, and his counsel continueth like a fountain of life.

Scientia sapientis tamquam inundatio abundabit et consilium illius sicut fons vitae permanet

21:17. The heart of a fool is like a broken vessel, and no wisdom at all shall it hold.

Cor fatui quasi vas confractum et omnem sapientiam non tenebit

21:18. A man of sense will praise every wise word he shall hear, and will apply it to himself: the luxurious man hath heard it, and it shall displease him, and he will cast it behind his back.

Verbum sapiens quodcumque audierit sciens laudabit et ad se adiciet audivit luxuriosus et displicebit illi et proiciet illud post dorsum suum

21:19. The talking of a fool is like a burden in the way: but in the lips of the wise, grace shall be found.

Narratio fatui quasi sarcina in via nam in labiis sensati inveniatur gratia

21:20. The mouth of the prudent is sought after in the church, and they will think upon his words in their hearts.

Os prudentis quaeritur in ecclesia et verba illius cogitabunt in cordibus suis

21:21. As a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool: and the knowledge of the unwise is as words without sense.

Tamquam domus exterminata sic fatuo sapientia et scientia insensati inenarrabilia verba

21:22. Doctrine to a fool is as fetters on the feet, and like manacles on the right hand.

Conpedes in pedibus stulto doctrina et quasi vincula manuum supra manum dexteram

21:23. A fool lifteth up his voice in laughter: but a wise man will scarce laugh low to himself.

Fatuus in risu inaltat vocem suam vir autem sapiens vix tacite ridebit

21:24. Learning to the prudent is as an ornament of gold, and like a bracelet upon his right arm.

Ornamentum aureum prudenti doctrina et quasi brachiale in brachio dextro

21:25. The foot of a fool is soon in his neighbour's house: but a man of experience will be abashed at the person of the mighty.

Pes fatui facilis in domum proximi et homo peritus confundetur a persona potentis

21:26. A fool will peep through the window into the house: but he that is well taught will stand without.

Stultus a fenestra respiciet in domum vir autem eruditus foris stabit

21:27. It is the folly of a man to hearken at the door: and a wise man will be grieved with the disgrace.

Stultitia hominis audire per ostium et prudens gravabitur contumelia

21:28. The lips of the unwise will be telling foolish things: but the words of the wise shall be weighed in a balance.

Labia imprudentium stulta narrabunt verba autem prudentium statera ponderabuntur

21:29. The heart of fools is in their mouth: and the mouth of wise men is in their heart.

Et in ore fatuorum cor illorum et in corde sapientium os illorum

21:30. While the ungodly curseth the devil, he curseth his own soul.*

Dum maledicit impius diabolum maledicit ipse animam suam

While the ungodly, etc... He condemneth and curseth himself: inasmuch as by sin he takes part with the devil, and is, as it were, his member and subject.

21:31. The talebearer shall defile his own soul, and shall be hated by all: and he that shall abide with him shall be hateful: the silent and wise man shall be honoured.

Susurrio coinquinabit animam suam et in omnibus odietur et qui manserit odiosus erit tacitus et sensatus honorabitur

New Advent is dedicated to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 22

Wise sayings on divers subjects.

---

22:1. The sluggard is pelted with a dirty stone, and all men will speak of his disgrace.

In lapide luteo lapidatus est piger et omnes loquentur super aspersionem illius

22:2. The sluggard is pelted with the dung of oxen: and every one that toucheth him will shake his hands.

De stercore boum lapidatus est piger et omnis qui tetigerit eum excutiet manus

22:3. A son ill taught is the confusion of the father: and a foolish daughter shall be to his loss.

Confusio patris est de filio indisciplinato in filia autem in deminoratione fiet

22:4. A wise daughter shall bring an inheritance to her husband: but she that confoundeth, becometh a disgrace to her father.

Filia prudens hereditas viro suo nam quae confundit in contumeliam fit genitoris

22:5. She that is bold shameth both her father and husband, and will not be inferior to the ungodly: and shall be disgraced by them both.

Patrem et virum confundit audax et ab impiis non minorabitur ab utrisque autem inhonorabitur

22:6. A tale out of time is like music in mourning: but the stripes and instruction of wisdom are never out of time.

Musica in luctu inportuna narratio flagella et doctrina in omni tempore sapientia

22:7. He that teacheth a fool, is like one that glueth a potsherd together.

Qui docet fatuum quasi qui conglutinet testam

22:8. He that telleth a word to him that heareth not, is like one that waketh a man out of a deep sleep.

Qui narrat verbum non adtendenti quasi qui excitat dormientem de gravi somno

22:9. He speaketh with one that is asleep, who uttereth wisdom to a fool: and in the end of the discourse he saith: Who is this?

Qui enumerat stulto et in fine dicit quis est hic

22:10. Weep for the dead, for his light hath failed: and weep for the fool, for his understanding faileth.*

Super mortuum plora defecit enim lux eius et super fatuum plora defecit enim sensus

For the fool... In the language of the Holy Ghost, he is styled a fool, that turns away from God to follow vanity and sin. And what is said by the wise man against fools is meant of such fools as these.

22:11. Weep but a little for the dead, for he is at rest.

Modicum plora supra mortuum quoniam requievit

22:12. For the wicked life of a wicked fool is worse than death.

Nequissimi enim nequissima vita super mortem fatui

22:13. The mourning for the dead is seven days: but for a fool and an ungodly man all the days of their life.

Luctus mortui septem dies fatui autem et impii omnes dies vitae illorum

22:14. Talk not much with a fool and go not with him that hath no sense.

Cum stulto non multum loquaris et cum insensato ne abieris

22:15. Keep thyself from him, that thou mayst not have trouble, and thou shalt not be defiled with his sin.

Serva te ab illo ut non molestiam habeas et non coinquinaberis in inpectu illius

22:16. Turn away from him, and thou shalt find rest, and shalt not be wearied out with his folly.

Deflecte ab illo et invenies requiem et non acediaberis in stultitiam illius

22:17. What is heavier than lead? and what other name hath he but fool?

Super plumbum gravabitur et quod illi aliud nomen quam fatuus

22:18. Sand and salt, and a mass of iron is easier to bear, than a man without sense, that is both foolish and wicked.

Harenam et salem et massam ferri facilius est portare quam hominem imprudentem et fatuum et impium

22:19. A frame of wood bound together in the foundation of a building, shall not be loosed: so neither shall the heart that is established by advised counsel.

Loramentum ligneum conligatum fundamento aedificii non dissolvetur sic et cor confirmatum in cogitatione consilii

22:20. The thought of him that is wise at all times, shall not be depraved by fear.

Cogitatus sensati in omni tempore vel metu non pravabitur

22:21. As pales set in high places, and plasterings made without cost, will not stand against the face of the wind:

Sicut pali in excelsis et cementa in inpena posita contra faciem venti non permanebunt

22:22. So also a fearful heart in the imagination of a fool shall not resist against the violence of fear.

Sic et cor timidum in cogitatione stulti contra impetum timoris non resistit

22:23. As a fearful heart in the thought of a fool at all times will not fear, so neither shall he that continueth always in the commandments of God.

Sic et cor trepidum in cogitatione fatui omni tempore non metuebit sic et qui in praeceptis Dei permanet semper

22:24. He that pricketh the eye, bringeth out tears: and he that pricketh the heart, bringeth forth resentment.

Pungens oculum deducens lacrimas et qui pungit cor proferet sensum

22:25. He that flingeth a stone at birds, shall drive them away: so he that upbraideth his friend, breaketh friendship.

Mittens lapidem in volatilia deiciet illa sic et qui conviciatur amico dissolvit amicitiam

22:26. Although thou hast drawn a sword at a friend, despair not: for there may be a returning. To a friend,

Ad amicum et si produxeris gladium non desperes est enim regressus ad amicum

22:27. If thou hast opened a sad mouth, fear not, for there may be a reconciliation: except upbraiding, and reproach, and pride, and disclosing of secrets, or a treacherous wound: for in all these cases a friend will flee away.

Si aperuerit os triste non timeas est enim concordatio excepto convicio et inproperio et superbia et mysterii revelatione et plaga dolosa in his omnibus effugiet amicus

22:28. Keep fidelity with a friend in his poverty, that in his prosperity also thou mayst rejoice.

Fidem posside cum proximo in paupertate illius ut et in bonis illius laeteris

22:29. In the time of his trouble continue faithful to him, that thou mayst also be heir with him in his inheritance.

In tempore tribulationis illius permane illi fidelis ut et in hereditate illius coheres sis

22:30. As the vapour of a chimney, and the smoke of the fire goeth up before the fire: so also injurious words, and reproaches, and threats, before blood.

Ante ignem camini vapor et fumes ignis inaltatur sic et ante sanguinem maledicta et contumeliae et minae

22:31. I will not be ashamed to salute a friend, neither will I hide myself from his face: and if any evil happen to me by him, I will bear it.

Amicum salutare non confundaris et a facie illius non me abscondam et si mala mihi evenerint per illum sustineo

22:32. But every one that shall hear it, will beware of him.

Omnis qui audiet cavebit se ab eo

22:33. Who will set a guard before my mouth, and a sure seal upon my lips, that I fall not by them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

Quis dabit ori meo custodiam et supra labia mea signaculum certum uti ne cadam ab ipsis et lingua mea perdat me

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 23

A prayer for grace to flee sin: cautions against profane swearing and other vices.

23:1. O Lord, father, and sovereign ruler of my life, leave me not to their counsel: nor suffer me to fall by them. *

Domine pater et dominator vitae meae non relinquant me ne sinas me cadere in illis

By them... Viz., the tongue and the lips, mentioned in the last verse of the foregoing chapter.

23:2. Who will set scourges over my thoughts, and the discipline of wisdom over my heart, that they spare me not in their ignorances, and that their sins may not appear: *

Quis superponet in me in cogitatu meo flagella et in corde meo doctrinam sapientiae ut ignorationibus eorum non parcant mihi et non pareant delicta illorum

That they spare me not in their ignorances, etc... That is, that the scourges and discipline of wisdom may restrain the ignorances, that is, the slips and offences which are usually committed by the tongue and the lips.

23:3. Lest my ignorances increase, and my offences be multiplied, and my sins abound, and I fall before my adversaries, and my enemy rejoice over me?

Et adincrescant ignorantiae meae et multiplicentur delicta mea et peccata mea abundant et incidam in conspectu adversariorum et gaudeat inimicus meus

23:4. O Lord, father, and God of my life, leave me not to their devices.

Domine pater et Deus vitae meae ne derelinquant me in cogitatu illorum

23:5. Give me not haughtiness of my eyes, and turn away from me all coveting.

Extollentiam oculorum meorum ne dederis mihi et omne desiderium averte a me

23:6. Take from me the greediness of the belly, and let not the lusts of the flesh take hold of me, and give me not over to a shameless and foolish mind.

Aufer a me ventris concupiscentias et concubitus concupiscentiae ne adprehendant me et animae inreverenti et infrunitae ne tradas me

23:7. Hear, O ye children, the discipline of the mouth, and he that will keep it shall not perish by his lips, nor be brought to fall into most wicked works.

Doctrina oris doctrinam oris audite filii et qui custodierit illam non periet in labiis suis nec scandalizabitur in operibus nequissimis

23:8. A sinner is caught in his own vanity, and the proud and the evil speakers shall fall thereby.

In vanitate sua adprehendetur peccator et superbus et maledicus scandalizabitur in illo

23:9. Let not thy mouth be accustomed to swearing: for in it there are many falls.

Iurationi non adsuescat os tuum multus enim casus in illa

23:10. And let not the naming of God be usual in thy mouth, and meddle not with the names of saints, for thou shalt not escape free from them.

Nominatio vero Dei non sit adsidua in ore tuo et nominibus sanctorum non admiscearis quoniam non eris immunis ab eis

23:11. For as a slave daily put to the question, is never without a blue mark: so every one that sweareth, and nameth, shall not be wholly pure from sin.

Sicut enim servus interrogatus adsidue a livore non minuetur sic omnis iurans et nominans in toto a peccato non purgabitur

23:12. A man that sweareth much, shall be filled with iniquity, and a scourge shall not depart from his house.

Vir multum iurans implebitur iniquitate et non discedet a domo illius plaga

23:13. And if he make it void, his sin shall be upon him, and if he dissemble it, he offendeth double:
Et si frustraverit delictum ipsius super ipsum erit et si dissimulaverit delinquet dupliciter

23:14. And if he swear in vain, he shall not be justified: for his house shall be filled with his punishment.
Et si in vacuum iuraverit non iustificabitur replebitur enim retributione domus illius

23:15. There is also another speech opposite to death, let it not be found in the inheritance of Jacob.
Est et alia loquella contraria morti non inveniatur in hereditate Iacob

23:16. For from the merciful all these things shall be taken away, and they shall not wallow in sins.
Etenim a misericordibus omnia haec auferentur et in delictis non volutabunt

23:17. Let not thy mouth be accustomed to indiscreet speech: for therein is the word of sin.
Indisciplinose non adsuescat os tuum est enim in illa verbum peccati

23:18. Remember thy father and thy mother, for thou sittest in the midst of great men:
Memento patris et matris tuae in medio enim magnatorum consistis

23:19. Lest God forget thee in their sight, and thou, by thy daily custom be infatuated and suffer reproach:
and wish that thou hadst not been born, and curse the day of thy nativity.
Ne forte obliviscatur te in conspectu illorum et adsiduitate tua infatuatus inproperium patiaris et maluisses non nasci et diem nativitatis tuae maledicas

23:20. The man that is accustomed to opprobrious words, will never be corrected all the days of his life.
Homo adsuetus in verbis inproperii in omnibus diebus suis non erudietur

23:21. Two sorts of men multiply sins, and the third bringeth wrath and destruction.
Duo genera abundant in peccatis et tertium adducit iram et perditionem

23:22. A hot soul is a burning fire, it will never be quenched, till it devour some thing.
Anima calida quasi ignis ardens non extinguetur donec aliquid gluttiat

23:23. And a man that is wicked in the mouth of his flesh, will not leave off till he hath kindled a fire.
Et homo nequam in ore carnis suae non desinet donec incendat ignem

23:24. To a man that is a fornicator all bread is sweet, he will not be weary of sinning unto the end.
Homini fornicario omnis panis dulcis non cessabit transgrediens a lecto suo

23:25. Every man that passeth beyond his own bed, despising his own soul, and saying: Who seeth me?
Omnis homo qui transgreditur lectum suum contemnens in animam suam et dicens quis me videt

23:26. Darkness compasseth me about, and the walls cover me, and no man seeth me: whom do I fear?
the most High will not remember my sins.
Tenebrae circumdant me et parietes cooperiunt me et nemo circumspicit me quem vereor delictorum
meorum non memorabitur Altissimus

23:27. And he understandeth not that his eye seeth all things, for such a man's fear driveth him from the fear of God, and the eyes of men fearing him:
Et non intellegit quoniam omnia videt oculus illius quoniam expellit a se timorem Dei huiusmodi hominis timor et oculi hominum timentes illum

23:28. And he knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are far brighter than the sun, beholding round about all the ways of men, and the bottom of the deep, and looking into the hearts of men, into the most hidden parts.
Et non cognovit quoniam oculi Domini multo plus lucidiores super solem circumspicientes omnes vias hominum et profundum abyssi et hominum corda intuentes in absconditas partes

23:29. For all things were known to the Lord God, before they were created: so also after they were perfected he beholdeth all things.
Domino enim Deo antequam crearentur omnia sunt agnita sic et post perfectum respicit omnia

23:30. This man shall be punished in the streets of the city, and he shall be chased as a colt: and where he suspected not, he shall be taken.

Hic in plateis civitatis vindicabitur quasi pullus equinus fugabitur et ubi non speravit adprehendetur

23:31. And he shall be in disgrace with all men, because he understood not the fear of the Lord.

Et erit dedecus omnibus quod non intellexerit timorem Dei

23:32. So every woman also that leaveth her husband, and bringeth in an heir by another:

Sic et mulier omnis relinquens virum suum et statuens hereditatem ex alieno matrimonio

23:33. For first she hath been unfaithful to the law of the most High: and secondly, she hath offended against her husband: thirdly, she hath fornicated in adultery, and hath gotten her children of another man.
Primo enim in lege Altissimi incredibilis fuit et secundo virum suum dereliquit tertio in adulterio fornicata est et ex alio viro filios statuit sibi

23:34. This woman shall be brought into the assembly, and inquisition shall be made of her children.

Haec in ecclesiam adducetur et in filios eius respicietur

23:35. Her children shall not take root, and her branches shall bring forth no fruit.

Non tradent filii eius radices et rami eius non dabunt fructum

23:36. She shall leave her memory to be cursed, and her infamy shall not be blotted out.

Derelinquent in maledictum memoriam illius et dedecus illius non delebitur

23:37. And they that remain shall know, that there is nothing better than the fear of God: and that there is nothing sweeter than to have regard to the commandments of the Lord.

Et agnoscent qui derelicti sunt quoniam nihil melius quam timor Dei et nihil dulcius quam respicere in mandatis Domini

23:38. It is great glory to follow the Lord: for length of days shall be received from him.

Et gloria magna est sequi Dominum longitudo enim dierum adsumetur ab eo

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 24

Wisdom praiseth herself: her origin, her dwelling, her dignity, and her fruits.

24:1. Wisdom shall praise her own self, and shall be honoured in God, and shall glory in the midst of her people,

Sapientiae laus sapientia laudabit animam suam et in Deo honorabitur et in medio populi sui gloriabitur

24:2. And shall open her mouth in the churches of the most High, and shall glorify herself in the sight of his power,

Et in ecclesiis Altissimi aperiet os suum et in conspectu virtutis illius gloriabitur

24:3. And in the midst of her own people she shall be exalted, and shall be admired in the holy assembly.

In medio populo exaltabitur et in plenitudine sancta admirabitur

24:4. And in the multitude of the elect she shall have praise, and among the blessed she shall be blessed, saying:

In multitudine electorum habebit laudem et inter benedictos benedicetur dicens

24:5. I came out of the mouth of the most High, the firstborn before all creatures:

Ego ex ore Altissimi prodivi primogenita ante omnem creaturam

24:6. I made that in the heavens there should rise light that never faileth, and as a cloud I covered all the earth:

Ego in caelis feci ut oriretur lumen indeficiens et sicut nebula texi omnem terram

24:7. I dwelt in the highest places, and my throne is in a pillar of a cloud.

Ego in altis habitavi et thronus meus in columna nubis

24:8. I alone have compassed the circuit of heaven, and have penetrated into the bottom of the deep, and have walked in the waves of the sea,

Gyrum caeli circuivi sola et in profundum abyssi penetravi et in fluctibus maris ambulavi

24:9. And have stood in all the earth: and in every people,

Et in omni terra steti et in omni populo

24:10. And in every nation I have had the chief rule:

Et in omni gente primatum habui

24:11. And by my power I have trodden under my feet the hearts of all the high and low: and in all these I sought rest, and I shall abide in the inheritance of the Lord.

Et omnium excellentium et humilium corda virtute calcavi et in his omnibus requiem quaesivi et in hereditate eius morabor

24:12. Then the creator of all things commanded, and said to me: and he that made me, rested in my tabernacle,

Tunc praecepit et dixit mihi creator omnium et qui creavit me requievit in tabernaculo meo

24:13. And he said to me: Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thy inheritance in Israel, and take root in my elect.

Et dixit mihi in Iacob inhabita et in Israhel hereditare et in electis meis ede radices

24:14. From the beginning, and before the world, was I created, and unto the world to come I shall not cease to be, and in the holy dwelling place I have ministered before him.

Ab initio ante saeculum creata sum et usque ad futurum saeculum non desinam et in habitatione sancta coram ipso ministravi

24:15. And so was I established in Sion, and in the holy city likewise I rested, and my power was in Jerusalem.

Et sic in Sion firmata sum et in civitate sanctificata similiter requievi et in Hierusalem potestas mea

24:16. And I took root in an honourable people, and in the portion of my God his inheritance, and my abode is in the full assembly of saints.

Et radicavi in populo honorificato et in parte Dei mei hereditas illius et in plenitudine sanctorum detentio mea

24:17. I was exalted like a cedar in Libanus, and as a cypress tree on mount Sion.

Quasi cedrus exaltata sum in Libano et quasi cypressus in monte Sion

24:18. I was exalted like a palm tree in Cades, and as a rose plant in Jericho:

Et quasi palma exaltata sum in Cades et quasi plantatio rosae in Hiericho

24:19. As a fair olive tree in the plains, and as a plane tree by the water in the streets, was I exalted.

Quasi oliva speciosa in campis et quasi platanus exaltata sum iuxta aquam in plateis

24:20. I gave a sweet smell like cinnamon, and aromatical balm: I yielded a sweet odour like the best myrrh:

Sicut cinnamomum et aspaltum aromatizans odorem dedi quasi murra electa dedi suavitatem odoris

24:21. And I perfumed my dwelling as storax, and galbanum, and onyx, and aloes, and as the frankincense not cut, and my odour is as the purest balm.

Et quasi storax et galbanus et ungula et gutta et quasi libanus non incisus vaporavi habitationem meam et quasi balsamum non mixtum odor meus

24:22. I have stretched out my branches as the turpentine tree, and my branches are of honour and grace.

Ego quasi terebinthus extendi ramos meos et rami mei honoris et gratiae

24:23. As the vine I have brought forth a pleasant odour: and my flowers are the fruit of honour and riches.

Ego quasi vitis fructificavi suavitatem odoris et flores mei fructus honoris et honestatis

24:24. I am the mother of fair love, and of fear, and of knowledge, and of holy hope.

Ego mater pulchrae dilectionis et timoris et agnitionis et sanctae spei

24:25. In me is all grace of the way and of the truth, in me is all hope of life and of virtue.

In me gratia omnis vitae et veritatis in me omnis spes vitae et virtutis

24:26. Come over to me, all ye that desire me, and be filled with my fruits.

Transite ad me omnes qui concupiscitis me et a generationibus meis implemini

24:27. For my spirit is sweet above honey, and my inheritance above honey and the honeycomb.

Spiritus enim meus super melle dulcis et hereditas mea super mel et favum

24:28. My memory is unto everlasting generations.

Memoria mea in generatione saeculorum

24:29. They that eat me, shall yet hunger: and they that drink me, shall yet thirst.

Qui edunt me adhuc esurient et qui bibunt me adhuc sitient

24:30. He that hearkeneth to me, shall not be confounded: and they that work by me, shall not sin.

Qui audit me non confundetur et qui operantur in me non peccabunt

24:31. They that explain me shall have life everlasting.

Qui elucidant me vitam aeternam habebunt

24:32. All these things are the book of life, and the covenant of the most High, and the knowledge of truth.

Haec omnia liber vitae testamentum Altissimi et agnitio veritatis

24:33. Moses commanded a law in the precepts of justices, and an inheritance to the house of Jacob, and the promises to Israel.

Legem mandavit Moses in praeceptis iustitiarum et hereditatem domui Iacob et Israhel promissionis

24:34. He appointed to David his servant to raise up of him a most mighty king, and sitting on the throne of glory for ever. *

Posuit David puero suo excitare regem ex ipso fortissimum in throno honoris sedentem in sempiternum

A most mighty king... Viz., Christ, who by his gospel, like an overflowing river, has enriched the earth with heavenly wisdom.

24:35. Who filleth up wisdom as the Phison, and as the Tigris in the days of the new fruits.

Qui implet quasi Phison sapientiam et sicut Tigris in diebus novorum

24:36. Who maketh understanding to abound as the Euphrates, who multiplieth it as the Jordan in the time of harvest.

Qui adimplet quasi Eufrates sensum qui multiplicat quasi Iordanis in tempore messis

24:37. Who sendeth knowledge as the light, and riseth up as Gehon in the time of the vintage.

Qui mittit disciplinam sicut lucem et adsistens quasi Geon in die vindemiae

24:38. Who first hath perfect knowledge of her, and a weaker shall not search her out. *

Qui perficit primus scire ipsam et infirmior non investigavit eam

Who first hath perfect knowledge of her... Christ was the first that had perfect knowledge of heavenly wisdom.

24:39. For her thoughts are more vast than the sea, and her counsels more deep than the great ocean.

A mari enim abundavit cogitatio eius et consilium illius abyssu magna

24:40. I, wisdom, have poured out rivers.

Ego sapientia effudi flumina

24:41. I, like a brook out of a river of a mighty water; I, like a channel of a river, and like an aqueduct, came out of paradise.

Ego quasi tramis aquae immensae de fluvio ego quasi fluvius Doryx et sicut aquaeductus exivi a paradiso

24:42. I said: I will water my garden of plants, and I will water abundantly the fruits of my meadow.

Dixi rigabo meum hortum plantationum et inebriabo pratus mei fructum

24:43. And behold my brook became a great river, and my river came near to a sea:

Et ecce facta est mihi tramis abundans et fluvius meus propinquavit ad mare

24:44. For I make doctrine to shine forth to all as the morning light, and I will declare it afar off.

Quoniam doctrinam quasi antelucanum inlumbo omnibus et enarrabo illam usque in longinquo

24:45. I will penetrate to all the lower parts of the earth, and will behold all that sleep, and will enlighten all that hope in the Lord.

Penetrabo inferiores partes terrae et inspiciam omnes dormientes et inluminabo sperantes in Deo

24:46. I will yet pour out doctrine as prophecy, and will leave it to them that seek wisdom, and will not cease to instruct their offspring even to the holy age.

Adhuc doctrinam quasi prophetiam effundam et relinquam illam quaerentibus sapientiam et non desinam in progenies illorum usque in aevum sanctum

24:47. See ye that I have not laboured myself only, but for all that seek out the truth.

Videte quoniam non soli mihi laboravi sed omnibus exquirentibus veritatem

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 25

Documents of wisdom on several subjects.

---

25:1. With three things my spirit is pleased, which are approved before God and men:

In tribus placitum est spiritui meo quae sunt probata coram Deo et hominibus

25:2. The concord of brethren, and the love of neighbours, and man and wife that agree well together.

Concordia fratrum et amor proximorum et vir et mulier sibi consentientes

25:3. Three sorts my soul hateth, and I am greatly grieved at their life:

Tres species odovit anima mea et adgravor valde animae illorum

25:4. A poor man that is proud: a rich man that is a liar: an old man that is a fool, and doting.

Pauperem superbum et divitem mendacem et senem fatuum et insensatum

25:5. The things that thou hast not gathered in thy youth, how shalt thou find them in thy old age?

In iuventute tua non congregasti et quomodo invenies eam in senectute tua

25:6. O how comely is judgment for a grey head, and for ancients to know counsel!

Quam speciosum canitiae iudicium et presbyteris cognoscere consilium

25:7. O how comely is wisdom for the aged, and understanding and counsel to men of honour!

Quam speciosa veteranis sapientia et gloriosis intellectus et consilium

25:8. Much experience is the crown of old men, and the fear of God is their glory.

Corona senum multa peritia et gloria illorum timor Dei

25:9. Nine things that are not to be imagined by the heart have I magnified, and the tenth I will utter to men with my tongue.

Novem insuspabilia cordis magnificavi et decimum dicam in lingua hominibus

25:10. A man that hath joy of his children: and he that liveth and seeth the fall of his enemies.

Homo qui iucundatur in filiis vivens et videns subversionem inimicorum

25:11. Blessed is he that dwelleth with a wise woman, and that hath not slipped with his tongue, and that hath not served such as are unworthy of him.

Beatus qui inhabitat cum muliere sensata et qui in lingua sua non est lapsus et qui non servivit indignis se

25:12. Blessed is he that findeth a true friend, and that declareth justice to an ear that heareth.

Beatus qui invenit amicum verum et qui enarrat iustitiam auri audienti

25:13. How great is he that findeth wisdom and knowledge! but there is none above him that feareth the Lord.

Quam magnus qui invenit sapientiam et scientiam sed non est super timentem Deum

25:14. The fear of God hath set itself above all things:

Timor Dei super omnia superposuit

25:15. Blessed is the man, to whom it is given to have the fear of God: he that holdeth it, to whom shall he be likened?

Beatus cui donatum est habere timorem Dei qui tenet illum cui adsimilabitur

25:16. The fear of God is the beginning of his love: and the beginning of faith is to be fast joined unto it.

Timor Dei initium dilectionis eius fidei autem initium adglutinandum est ei

25:17. The sadness of the heart is every plague: and the wickedness of a woman is all evil.
Omnis plaga tristitia cordis est et omnis malitia nequitia mulieris est

25:18. And a man will choose any plague, but the plague of the heart:
Et omnem plagam et non plagam videbit cordis

25:19. And any wickedness, but the wickedness of a woman:
Et omnem nequitiam et non nequitiam mulieris

25:20. And any affliction, but the affliction from them that hate him:
Et omnem obductum et non obductum odientium

25:21. And any revenge, but the revenge of enemies.
Et omnem vindictam et non vindictam inimicorum

25:22. There is no head worse than the head of a serpent:
Non est caput nequius super caput colubri

25:23. And there is no anger above the anger of a woman. It will be more agreeable to abide with a lion and a dragon, than to dwell with a wicked woman.
Et non est ira super iram inimici commorari leoni et draconi placebit quam habitare cum muliere nequa

25:24. The wickedness of a woman changeth her face: and she darkeneth her countenance as a bear: and showeth it like sackcloth. In the midst of her neighbours,
Nequitia mulieris inmutat faciem eius et obcaecabit vultum suum tamquam ursus et quasi saccum ostendit in medio proximorum eius

25:25. Her husband groaned, and hearing he sighed a little.
Et audiens suspirabit modicum

25:26. All malice is short to the malice of a woman, let the lot of sinners fall upon her.
Brevis malitia super malitiam mulieris sors peccatorum cadat super illam

25:27. As the climbing of a sandy way is to the feet of the aged, so is a wife full of tongue to a quiet man.
Ascensus harenosus in pedibus veterani sic mulier linguata homini quieto

25:28. Look not upon a woman's beauty, and desire not a woman for beauty.
Ne respicias in mulieris speciem et non concupiscas mulierem in specie

25:29. A woman's anger, and impudence, and confusion is great.
Mulieris ira et irreverentia et confusio magna

25:30. A woman, if she have superiority, is contrary to her husband.
Mulier si primatum habeat contraria est viro suo

25:31. A wicked woman abateth the courage, and maketh a heavy countenance, and a wounded heart.
Cor humile et facies tristis et plaga mortis mulier nequa

25:32. Feeble hands, and disjointed knees, a woman that doth not make her husband happy.
Manus debiles et genua dissoluta mulier quae non beatificat virum suum

25:33. From the woman came the beginning of sin, and by her we all die.
A muliere initium factum est peccati et per illam omnes morimur

25:34. Give no issue to thy water, no, not a little: nor to a wicked woman liberty to gad abroad.
Non des aquae tuae exitum nec modicum nec mulieri nequa veniam prodeundi

25:35. If she walk not at thy hand, she will confound thee in the sight of thy enemies.
Si non ambulaverit ad manum tuam et confundet te in conspectu inimicorum

25:36. Cut her off from thy flesh, lest she always abuse thee.
A carnibus tuis abscide illam ne semper te abutatur

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 26

Of good and bad women.

---

26:1. Happy is the husband of a good wife: for the number of his years is double.

Mulieris bonae beatus vir numerus enim annorum illorum duplex

26:2. A virtuous woman rejoiceth her husband, and shall fulfil the years of his life in peace.

Mulier fortis oblectat virum suum et annos vitae illius in pace implebit

26:3. A good wife is a good portion, she shall be given in the portion of them that fear God, to a man for his good deeds.

Pars bona mulier bona in parte bona timentium Deum dabitur viro pro factis bonis

26:4. Rich or poor, if his heart is good, his countenance shall be cheerful at all times.

Divitis autem et pauperis cor bonum in omni tempore vultus illorum hilaris

26:5. Of three things my heart hath been afraid, and at the fourth my face hath trembled:

A tribus timuit cor meum et in quarto facies mea metuit

26:6. The accusation of a city, and the gathering together of the people:

Delatura civitatis et collectio populi

26:7. And a false calumny, all are more grievous than death.

Et calumniam mendacem super mortem omnia gravia

26:8. A jealous woman is the grief and mourning of the heart.

Dolor cordis et luctus mulier zelotypa

26:9. With a jealous woman is a scourge of the tongue which communicateth with all.

In muliere infideli flagellum linguae omnibus communicans

26:10. As a yoke of oxen that is moved to and fro, so also is a wicked woman: he that hath hold of her, is as he that taketh hold of a scorpion.

Sicut boum iugum quod movetur ita et mulierem nequam qui tenet illam quasi qui adprehendat scorpionem

26:11. A drunken woman is a great wrath: and her reproach and shame shall not be hid.

Mulier ebriosa ira magna et contumelia et turpitude illius non contegetur

26:12. The fornication of a woman shall be known by the haughtiness of her eyes and by her eyelids.

Fornicatio mulieris in extollentia oculorum et in palpebris illius agnosceatur

26:13. On a daughter that turneth not away herself, set a strict watch: lest finding an opportunity she abuse herself.

In filia non avertente se firma custodiam ne inventa occasione utatur se

26:14. Take heed of the impudence of her eyes, and wonder not if she slight thee.

Ab omni inreverentia oculis cave et ne mireris si te neglexerit

26:15. She will open her mouth as a thirsty traveller to the fountain, and will drink of every water near her, and will sit down by every hedge, and open her quiver against every arrow, until she fail.

Sicut viator sitiens ad fontem os aperiet et ab omni aqua proxima bibet et contra omnem palum sedebit et contra omnem sagittam aperiet faretram donec deficiat

26:16. The grace of a diligent woman shall delight her husband, and shall fat his bones.

Gratia mulieris sedulae delectabit virum suum et ossa illius inpinguabit

26:17. Her discipline is the gift of God.

Disciplina illius datus Dei

26:18. Such is a wise and silent woman, and there is nothing so much worth as a well instructed soul.

Mulier sensata et tacita non est inmutatio eruditae animae

26:19. A holy and shamefaced woman is grace upon grace.

Gratia super gratiam mulier sancta et pudorata

26:20. And no price is worthy of a continent soul.

Omnis autem ponderatio non est digna continentis animae

26:21. As the sun when it riseth to the world in the high places of God, so is the beauty of a good wife for the ornament of her house.

Sicut sol oriens mundo in altissimis Dei sic mulieris bonae species in ornamentum domus eius

26:22. As the lamp shining upon the holy candlestick, so is the beauty of the face in a ripe age,

Lucerna splendens super candelabrum sanctum et species faciei super aetatem stabilem

26:23. As golden pillars upon bases of silver, so are the firm feet upon the soles of a steady woman.

Columnae aureae super bases argenteas et pedes firmi super plantas stabilis mulieris

26:24. As everlasting foundations upon a solid rock, so the commandments of God in the heart of a holy woman.

Fundamenta aeterna super petram solidam et mandata Dei in corde mulieris sanctae

26:25. At two things my heart is grieved, and the third bringeth anger upon me.

In duobus contristatum est cor meum et in tertio iracundia mihi advenit

26:26. A man of war fainting through poverty, and a man of sense despised:

Vir bellator deficiens per inopiam et vir sensatus contemptus

26:27. And he that passeth over from justice to sin, God hath prepared such an one for the sword.

Et qui transgreditur a iustitia ad peccatum Deus paravit eum ad rompheam

26:28. Two sorts of callings have appeared to me hard and dangerous: a merchant is hardly free from negligence: and a huckster shall not be justified from the sins of the lips.*

Duae species difficiles et periculosae mihi apparuerunt difficile exiit negotians a neglegentia et non iustificabitur caupo a peccatis labiae

From negligence... That is, from the neglect of the service of God: because the eager pursuit of the mammon of this world, is apt to make men of that calling forget the great duties of loving God above all things, and their neighbours as themselves. -- Ibid. A huckster... Or, a retailer of wine. Men of that profession are both greatly exposed to danger of sin themselves, and are too often accessory to the sins of others.

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 27

Dangers of sin from several heads: the fear of God is the best preservative. He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it.

---

27:1. Through poverty many have sinned: and he that seeketh to be enriched, turneth away his eye.
Propter inopiam multi deliquerunt et qui quaerit locupletari avertit oculum suum

27:2. As a stake sticketh fast in the midst of the joining of stones, so also in the midst of selling and buying, sin shall stick fast.

Si in medio conpaginis lapidum palus figitur sic et inter medium venditionis et emptionis angustabitur peccatis

27:3. Sin shall be destroyed with the sinner.

Conteretur delictum

27:4. Unless thou hold thyself diligently in the fear of the Lord, thy house shall quickly be overthrown.

Si non in timore Domini teneris instanter cito subvertetur domus tua

27:5. As when one sifteth with a sieve, the dust will remain: so will the perplexity of a man in his thoughts.

Si in pertusura cribri remanebit stercus sic aporia hominis in cogitatu illius

27:6. The furnace trieth the potter's vessels, and the trial of affliction just men.

Vasa figuli probat fornax et homines iustos temptatio tribulationis

27:7. As the dressing of a tree showeth the fruit thereof, so a word out of the thought of the heart of man.

Sicut rusticatio de ligno ostendit fructum illius sic verbum excogitatum hominis cordis

27:8. Praise not a man before he speaketh, for this is the trial of men.

Ante sermonem non conlaudes virum haec enim temptatio est hominum

27:9. If thou followest justice, thou shalt obtain her: and shalt put her on as a long robe of honour, and thou shalt dwell with her: and she shall protect thee for ever, and in the day of acknowledgment thou shalt find a strong foundation.

Si sequaris iustitiam adprehendes illam et indues quasi poderem honoris et inhabitabis cum ea et proteget te in sempiternum et in die agnitionis invenies firmamentum

27:10. Birds resort unto their like: so truth will return to them that practise her.

Volatilia ad sibi similia conveniunt et veritas ad eos qui operantur illam revertetur

27:11. The lion always lieth in wait for prey: so do sins for them that work iniquities.

Leo venationi insidiatur semper sic peccata operantibus iniquitates

27:12. A holy man continueth in wisdom as the sun: but a fool is changed as the moon.

Homo sanctus in sapientia manet sicut sol nam stultus sicut luna inmutatur

27:13. In the midst of the unwise keep in the word till its time: but be continually among men that think.

In medio insensatorum conserva verbum tempori in medio autem cogitantium adsiduus esto

27:14. The discourse of sinners is hateful, and their laughter is at the pleasures of sin.

Narratio peccantium odiosa et risus illorum delictis peccati

27:15. The speech that swareth much shall make the hair of the head stand upright: and its irreverence shall make one stop his ears.

Loquella multum iurans horripilationem capiti statuet et irreverentia ipsius obturatio aurium

27:16. In the quarrels of the road is the shedding of blood: and their cursing is a grievous hearing.
Effusio sanguinis in rixa superborum et maledictio illorum auditus gravis

27:17. He that discloseth the secret of a friend loseth his credit, and shall never find a friend to his mind.
Qui denudat arcana amici perdet fidem et non inveniet amicum ad animum suum

27:18. Love thy neighbour, and be joined to him with fidelity.
Dilige proximum et coniungere fide cum illo

27:19. But if thou discover his secrets, follow no more after him.
Quod si denudaveris absconsa illius non persequeris post eum

27:20. For as a man that destroyeth his friend, so is he that destroyeth the friendship of his neighbour.
Sicut enim homo qui perdit amicum suum sic qui perdit amicitiam proximi sui

27:21. And as one that letteth a bird go out of his hand, so hast thou let thy neighbour go, and thou shalt not get him again.
Et sicut qui dimittit avem de manu sua sic reliquisti proximum tuum et non eum capies

27:22. Follow after him no more, for he is gone afar off, he is fled, as a roe escaped out of the snare because his soul is wounded.
Non illum sequaris quoniam longe abest effugit enim quasi caprea de laqueo quoniam vulnerata est

27:23. Thou canst no more bind him up. And of a curse there is reconciliation: *
Conligere et maledicti est concordatio
And of a curse there is reconciliation... That is, it is easier to obtain a reconciliation after a curse, than after disclosing a secret.

27:24. But to disclose the secrets of a friend, leaveth no hope to an unhappy soul.
Denudare autem amici mysteria desperatio est

27:25. He that winketh with the eye forgeth wicked things, and no man will cast him off:
Annuens oculo fabricat iniqua et nemo eum abiciet

27:26. In the sight of thy eyes he will sweeten his mouth, and will admire thy words: but at the last he will writhe his mouth, and on thy words he will lay a stumblingblock.
In conspectu oculorum tuorum condulcabit os tuum et super sermones tuos admirabitur novissime autem pervertet os suum et in verbis tuis dabit scandalum

27:27. I have hated many things but not like him, and the Lord will hate him.
Multa audivi et non coaequavi ei et Dominus odiet illum

27:28. If one cast a stone on high, it will fall upon his own head: and the deceitful stroke will wound the deceitful.
Qui in altum mittit lapidem super caput eius cadet et plaga dolosi dividet vulnera

27:29. He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it: and he that setteth a stone for his neighbour, shall stumble upon it: and he that layeth a snare for another, shall perish in it.
Et qui foveam fodit in illam decidet et qui statuit lapidem proximo offendet in eo et qui laqueum alio peribit in illo

27:30. A mischievous counsel shall be rolled back upon the author, and he shall not know from whence it cometh to him.
Facienti nequissimum super ipsum devolvetur et non agnoscet unde adveniat illi

27:31. Mockery and reproach are of the proud, and vengeance as a lion shall lie in wait for him.
Inlusio et inproperium superborum et vindicta sicut leo insidiabitur illi

27:32. They shall perish in a snare that are delighted with the fall of the just: and sorrow shall consume them before they die.
Laqueo peribunt qui oblectantur casu iustorum dolor autem consumet illos antequam moriantur

27:33. Anger and fury are both of them abominable, and the sinful man shall be subject to them.
Ira et furor utraque execrabilia et vir peccator continens erit illorum

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 28

Lessons against revenge and quarrels. The evils of the tongue.

28:1. He that seeketh to revenge himself, shall find vengeance from the Lord, and he will surely keep his sins in remembrance.

Qui vindicari vult a Deo inveniet vindictam et peccata illius servans servabit

28:2. Forgive thy neighbour if he hath hurt thee: and then shall thy sins be forgiven to thee when thou prayest.

Relinque proximo tuo nocenti te et tunc deprecanti tibi peccata solventur

28:3. Man to man reserveth anger, and doth he seek remedy of God?

Homo homini servat iram et a Deo quaerit medellam

28:4. He hath no mercy on a man like himself, and doth he entreat for his own sins?

Et in hominem similem sibi non habet misericordiam et de peccatis suis deprecatur

28:5. He that is but flesh, nourisheth anger, and doth he ask forgiveness of God? who shall obtain pardon for his sins?

Ipse dum caro sit reservat iram et propitiationem petit a Deo quis exorabit pro delictis illius

28:6. Remember thy last things, and let enmity cease:

Memento novissimorum et desine inimicari

28:7. For corruption and death hang over in his commandments. *

Tabitudo enim et mors inminet in mandatis

In his commandments... Supply the sentence out of the Greek thus: Remember corruption and death, and abide in the commandments.

28:8. Remember the fear of God, and be not angry with thy neighbour.

Memorare timorem Dei et non irascaris proximo

28:9. Remember the covenant of the most High, and overlook the ignorance of thy neighbour.

Memorare testamenti Altissimi et despice ignorantiam proximi

28:10. Refrain from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sins.

Abstine te a lite et minues peccata

28:11. For a passionate man kindleth strife, and a sinful man will trouble his friends, and bring in debate in the midst of them that are at peace.

Homo enim iracundus incendit litem et vir peccator turbabit amicos et in medium pacem habentium inmittit inimicitiam

28:12. For as the wood of the forest is, so the fire burneth, and as a man's strength is, so shall his anger be, and according to his riches he shall increase his anger.

Secundum enim ligna silvae sic ignis exardescit et secundum virtutem hominis iracundia illius erit et secundum substantiam suam exaltabit iram suam

28:13. A hasty contention kindleth a fire and a hasty quarrel sheddeth blood and a tongue that beareth witness bringeth death.

Certamen festinatum incendit ignem et lis festinans effundit sanguinem et lingua testificans adducit mortem

28:14. If thou blow the spark, it shall burn as a fire: and if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched: both come out of the mouth.

Si sufflaveris quasi ignis exardebit et si expueris super illam extinguetur utraque ex ore proficiscuntur

28:15. The whisperer and the double tongue is accursed: for he hath troubled many that were at peace.
Susurrio et bilinguis maledictus multos enim turbavit pacem habentes

28:16. The tongue of a third person hath disquieted many, and scattered them from nation to nation.
Lingua tertia multos commovit et dispersit illos a gente in gentem

28:17. It hath destroyed the strong cities of the rich, and hath overthrown the houses of great men.
Civitates muratas divitum destruxit et domos magnatorum effodit

28:18. It hath cut in pieces the forces of people, and undone strong nations.
Virtutes populorum concidit et gentes fortes dissolvit

28:19. The tongue of a third person hath cast out valiant women, and deprived them of their labours.
Lingua tertia mulieres viritas eiecit et privavit illas laboribus suis

28:20. He that hearkeneth to it, shall never have rest, neither shall he have a friend in whom he may repose.
Qui respicit illam non habebit requiem nec habitabit cum requie

28:21. The stroke of a whip maketh a blue mark: but the stroke of the tongue will break the bones.
Flagelli plaga livorem facit plaga autem linguae comminuet ossa

28:22. Many have fallen by the edge of the sword, but not so many as have perished by their own tongue.
Multi ceciderunt in ore gladii sed non sic quasi qui interierunt per linguam suam

28:23. Blessed is he that is defended from a wicked tongue, that hath not passed into the wrath thereof, and that hath not drawn the yoke thereof, and hath not been bound in its bands.
Beatus qui tectus est a lingua nequa qui in iracundia illius non transivit et qui non adtraxit iugum eius et in vinculis illius non est ligatus

28:24. For its yoke is a yoke of iron: and its bands are bands of brass.
Iugum enim illius iugum ferreum est et vinculum illius vinculum aereum est

28:25. The death thereof is a most evil death: and hell is preferable to it.
Mors illius mors nequissima et utilis potius inferus quam illa

28:26. Its continuance shall not be for a long time, but it shall possess the ways of the unjust: and the just shall not be burnt with its flame.
Perseverantia illius non permanebit sed obtinebit vias iniustorum et in flamma sua non conburet iustos

28:27. They that forsake God shall fall into it, and it shall burn in them, and shall not be quenched, and it shall be sent upon them as a lion, and as a leopard it shall tear them.
Qui derelinquunt Deum incident in illam et exardebit in illis et non extinguetur et inmittetur in illos quasi leo et quasi pardus laedebit illos

28:28. Hedge in thy ears with thorns, hear not a wicked tongue, and make doors and bars to thy mouth.
Sepi aures tuas spinis et noli audire linguam nequam et ori tuo facito ostia et seras

28:29. Melt down thy gold and silver, and make a balance for thy words, and a just bridle for thy mouth:
Aurum tuum et argentum confla et verbis tuis facito stateram et frenos ori tuo rectos

28:30. And take heed lest thou slip with thy tongue, and fall in the sight of thy enemies who lie in wait for thee, and thy fall be incurable unto death.
Et adtende ne forte labaris in lingua et cadas in conspectu inimicorum insidiantium tibi et sit casus tuus insanabilis in mortem

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 29

Of charity in lending money, and justice in repaying. Of alms, and of being surety.

29:1. He that showeth mercy, lendeth to his neighbour: and he that is stronger in hand, keepeth the commandments.*

De fenore qui facit misericordiam fenerat proximum et qui praevalet manu mandata servat

And he that is stronger in hand... That is, he that is hearty and bountiful in lending to his neighbour in his necessity.

29:2. Lend to thy neighbour in the time of his need, and pay thou thy neighbour again in due time.

Fenera proximum tibi in tempore necessitatis illius et iterum redde proximo in tempore suo

29:3. Keep thy word, and deal faithfully with him: and thou shalt always find that which is necessary for thee.

Confirma verbum et fideliter age cum illo et in omni tempore invenies quod tibi necessarium est

29:4. Many have looked upon a thing lent as a thing found, and have given trouble to them that helped them.

Multi quasi inventionem aestimaverunt fenus et praestiterunt molestiam his qui se adiuverunt

29:5. Till they receive, they kiss the hands of the lender, and in promises they humble their voice:

Donec accipiant osculantur manum dantis et in promissionibus humiliant vocem suam

29:6. But when they should repay, they will ask time, and will return tedious and murmuring words, and will complain of the time:

Et in tempore redditionis postulabit tempus et loquetur verba acediae et murmurationum et tempus causabitur

29:7. And if he be able to pay, he will stand off, he will scarce pay one half, and will count it as if he had found it:

Si autem potuerit reddere aversatus solide vix reddet dimidium et computabit illud quasi inventionem

29:8. But if not, he will defraud him of his money, and he shall get him for an enemy without cause.

Sin autem fraudavit illum pecunia sua et possidebit illum inimicum gratis

29:9. And he will pay him with reproaches and curses, and instead of honour and good turn will repay him injuries.

Et convicia et maledicta reddet illi et pro honore et beneficio reddet illi contumeliam

29:10. Many have refused to lend, not out of wickedness, but they were afraid to be defrauded without cause.

Multi non causa nequitiae non feneraverunt sed fraudari gratis timuerunt

29:11. But yet towards the poor be thou more hearty, and delay not to show him mercy.

Verumtamen super humilem animo fortior esto et pro elemosyna non trahas illum

29:12. Help the poor because of the commandment: and send him not away empty handed because of his poverty.

Propter mandatum adsume pauperem et propter inopiam eius ne dimittas illum vacuum

29:13. Lose thy money for thy brother and thy friend: and hide it not under a stone to be lost.

Perde pecuniam pro fratre et amico et non abscondas illam sub lapide in perditionem

29:14. Place thy treasure in the commandments of the most High, and it shall bring thee more profit than gold.

Pone thesaurum tuum in praeceptis Altissimi et proderit tibi magis quam aurum

29:15. Shut up alms in the heart of the poor, and it shall obtain help for thee against all evil.
Conclude elemosynam in corde pauperis et haec pro te exorabit ab omni malo

29:16. Better than the shield of the mighty, and better than the spear:

29:17. It shall fight for thee against thy enemy.

29:18. A good man is surety for his neighbour: and he that hath lost shame, will leave him to himself.
Super scutum potentis et super lanceam adversus inimicum tuum pugnabit

29:19. Forget not the kindness of thy surety: for he hath given his life for thee.
Vir bonus fidem facit proximo suo et qui perdiderit confusionem derelinquet sibi

29:20. The sinner and the unclean fleeth from his surety.
Gratiam fideiussoris ne obliviscaris dedit enim pro te animam suam

29:21. A sinner attributeth to himself the goods of his surety: and he that is of an unthankful mind will leave him that delivered him.
Repromissorem fugit peccator et inmundus

29:22. A man is surety for his neighbour: and when he hath lost all shame, he shall forsake him.
Bona repromissoris sibi adscribit peccator et ingratus sensu derelinquet liberantem se

29:23. Evil suretyship hath undone many of good estate, and hath tossed them as a wave of the sea.
Vir repromittit de proximo suo et cum perdiderit reverentiam relinquetur ab eo

29:24. It hath made powerful men to go from place to place round about, and they have wandered in strange countries.
Repromissio nequissima multos perdidit dirigentes et commovit illos quasi fluctus maris

29:25. A sinner that transgresseth the commandment of the Lord, shall fall into an evil suretyship: and he that undertaketh many things, shall fall into judgment.
Viros potentes gyrans migrare fecit et vagati sunt in gentibus alienis

29:26. Recover thy neighbour according to thy power, and take heed to thyself that thou fall not.
Peccator transgrediens mandata Domini incidet in promissionem nequa et qui conatur multa agere incidet in iudicium

29:27. The chief thing for man's life is water and bread, and clothing, and a house to cover shame.
Recupera proximum secundum virtutem tuam et adtende tibi ne incidas

29:28. Better is the poor man's fare under a roof of boards, than sumptuous cheer abroad in another man's house.
Initium vitae aqua et panis et vestimentum et domus protegens turpitudinem

29:29. Be contented with little instead of much, and thou shalt not hear the reproach of going abroad.
Melior victus pauperis sub tegimen asserum quam epulae splendidae in peregre sine domicilio

29:30. It is a miserable life to go as a guest from house to house: for where a man is a stranger, he shall not deal confidently, nor open his mouth.
Super minimum et magnum placeat tibi et inproperium peregrinationis non audies

29:31. He shall entertain and feed, and give drink to the unthankful, and moreover he shall hear bitter words.
Vita nequa hospitandi de domo in domum et ubi hospitabitur non fiducialiter aget nec aperiet os

29:32. Go, stranger, and furnish the table, and give others to eat what thou hast in thy hand.
Hospitabit et pascet et potabit ingratos et ad haec amara audiet

29:33. Give place to the honourable presence of my friends: for I want my house, my brother being to be lodged with me.

Transi hospes et orna mensam et quae in manu habes ciba ceteros

29:34. These things are grievous to a man of understanding: the upbraiding of houseroom, and the reproaching of the lender.

Exi a facie honoris amicorum meorum necessitudine domus meae hospitio mihi factus est frater

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 30

Of correction of children. Health is better than wealth. Excessive grief is hurtful.

30:1. He that loveth his son, frequently chastiseth him, that he may rejoice in his latter end, and not grope after the doors of his neighbours.

De filiis qui diligit filium suum adsiduat illi flagella ut laetetur in novissimo suo

30:2. He that instructeth his son shall be praised in him, and shall glory in him in the midst of them of his household.

Qui docet filium suum laudabitur in illo et in medio domesticorum in illo gloriabitur

30:3. He that teacheth his son, maketh his enemy jealous, and in the midst of his friends he shall glory in him.

Qui docet filium suum in zelum mittit inimicum et in medio amicorum gloriabitur in illo

30:4. His father is dead, and he is as if he were not dead: for he hath left one behind him that is like himself.

Mortuus est pater illius et quasi non est mortuus similem enim reliquit sibi post se

30:5. While he lived he saw and rejoiced in him: and when he died he was not sorrowful, neither was he confounded before his enemies.

In vita ipsius vidit et laetatus est in illo in obitu illius non est contristatus nec confusus est coram inimicis

30:6. For he left behind him a defender of his house against his enemies, and one that will requite kindness to his friends.

Reliquit enim defensorem domus et amicis reddentem gratiam

30:7. For the souls of his sons he shall bind up his wounds, and at every cry his bowels shall be troubled.

Pro animabus filiorum conligabit vulnera sua et super omnem vocem turbabuntur viscera eius

30:8. A horse not broken becometh stubborn, and a child left to himself will become headstrong.

Equus indomitus evadit durus et filius remissus evadit praeceps

30:9. Give thy son his way, and he shall make thee afraid: play with him, and he shall make thee sorrowful.

Lacta filium et paventem te faciet lude cum eo et contristabit te

30:10. Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow, and at the last thy teeth be set on edge.

Non conrideas illi ne doleas et in novissimo obstupescent dentes tui

30:11. Give him not liberty in his youth, and wink not at his devices.

Non des illi potestatem in iuventute et ne despicias cogitatus illius

30:12. Bow down his neck while he is young, and beat his sides while he is a child, lest he grow stubborn, and regard thee not, and so be a sorrow of heart to thee.

Curva cervicem eius in iuventute et tunde latera illius dum infans est ne forte induret et non credat tibi et erit tibi dolor animae

30:13. Instruct thy son, and labour about him, lest his lewd behaviour be an offence to thee.

Doce filium tuum et operare in illum ne in turpitudinem illius offendas

30:14. Better is a poor man who is sound, and strong of constitution, than a rich man who is weak and afflicted with evils.

Melior est pauper sanus et fortis viribus quam dives inbecillus et flagellatus malitia

30:15. Health of the soul in holiness of justice, is better than all gold and silver: and a sound body, than immense revenues.

Salus animae in sanctitate iustitiae et melior omni auro et argento et corpus validum quam census inmensus

30:16. There is no riches above the riches of the health of the body: and there is no pleasure above the joy of the heart.

Non est census super censum salutis corporis et non est oblectatio super cordis gaudium

30:17. Better is death than a bitter life, and everlasting rest, than continual sickness.

Melior est mors quam vita amara et requies aeterna quam languor perseverans

30:18. Good things that are hidden in a mouth that is shut, are as messes of meat set about a grave.

Bona absconsa in ore cluso quasi adpositiones epularum circumpositae sepulchro

30:19. What good shall an offering do to an idol? for it can neither eat, nor smell:

Quid proderit libatio idolo nec enim manducatur nec odorabitur

30:20. So is he that is persecuted by the Lord, bearing the reward of his iniquity:

Sic qui effugatur a Domino et portans mercedes iniquitatis

30:21. He seeth with his eyes, and groaneth, as an eunuch embracing a virgin, and sighing.

Videns oculis et ingemescens sicut spado complectens virginem et suspirans

30:22. Give not up thy soul to sadness, and afflict not thyself in thy own counsel.

Tristitiam non des animae tuae et non adfligas temet ipsum in consilio tuo

30:23. The joyfulness of the heart, is the life of a man, and a never failing treasure of holiness: and the joy of a man is length of life.

Lucunditas cordis haec est vita hominis et thesaurus sine defectione sanctitatis et exultatio viri est longevitas

30:24. Have pity on thy own soul, pleasing God, and contain thyself: gather up thy heart in his holiness: and drive away sadness far from thee.

Miserere animae tuae placens Deo et contine et congrega cor tuum in sanctitate eius et tristitiam longe expelle a te

30:25. For sadness hath killed many, and there is no profit in it.

Multos enim occidit tristitia et non est utilitas in illa

30:26. Envy and anger shorten a man's days, and pensiveness will bring old age before the time.

Zelus et iracundia minuit dies et ante tempus senectam adducit cogitatus

30:27. A cheerful and good heart is always feasting: for his banquets are prepared with diligence.

Splendidum cor bonum in epulis epulae enim illius diligenter fiunt

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 31

Of the desire of riches, and of moderation in eating and drinking.

31:1. Watching for riches consumeth the flesh, and the thought thereof driveth away sleep.

Vigilia honestatis tabefacit carnes et cogitatus illius auferet somnum

31:2. The thinking beforehand turneth away the understanding, and a grievous sickness maketh the soul sober.

Cogitatus praesentiae avertit sensum et infirmitas gravis sobriam facit animam

31:3. The rich man hath laboured in gathering riches together, and when he resteth he shall be filled with his goods.

Laboravit dives in congregatione substantiae et in requie sua replebitur bonorum suorum

31:4. The poor man hath laboured in his low way of life, and in the end he is still poor.

Laboravit pauper in diminutione victus et in fine inops fit

31:5. He that loveth gold, shall not be justified: and he that followeth after corruption, shall be filled with it.

Qui aurum diligit non iustificabitur et qui insequitur consumptionem replebitur ex ea

31:6. Many have been brought to fall for gold, and the beauty thereof hath been their ruin.

Multi dati sunt in auri casus et facta est in facie ipsius perditio illorum

31:7. Gold is a stumblingblock to them that sacrifice to it: woe to them that eagerly follow after it, and every fool shall perish by it.

Lignum offensionis est aurum sacrificantium vae illis qui sectantur illud et omnis imprudens deperiet in illo

31:8. Blessed is the rich man that is found without blemish: and that hath not gone after gold, nor put his trust in money nor in treasures.

Beatus dives qui inventus est sine macula et qui post aurum non abiit nec speravit in pecunia et thesauris

31:9. Who is he, and we will praise him? for he hath done wonderful things in his life.

Quis est hic et laudabimus eum fecit enim mirabilia in vita sua

31:10. Who hath been tried thereby, and made perfect, he shall have glory everlasting. He that could have transgressed, and hath not transgressed: and could do evil things, and hath not done them:

Quis probatus est in illo et perfectus est et erit illi in gloria aeterna qui potuit transgredi et non est transgressus et facere mala et non fecit

31:11. Therefore are his goods established in the Lord, and all the church of the saints shall declare his alms.

Ideo stabilita sunt bona illius in Deo et elemosynas illius enarrabit ecclesia sanctorum

31:12. Art thou set at a great table? be not the first to open thy mouth upon it.

De continentia supra mensam magnam sedisti non aperias super illam faucem tuam prior

31:13. Say not: There are many things which are upon it.

Non dicas simulata sunt quae super illa sunt

31:14. Remember that a wicked eye is evil.

Memento quoniam malum oculus nequa

31:15. What is created more wicked than an eye? therefore shall it weep over all the face when it shall see.

Nequius oculo quid creatum est ideo ab omni facie sua lacrimabitur cum viderit

31:16. Stretch not out thy hand first, lest being disgraced with envy thou be put to confusion.
Ne extendas manum tuam prior et invidia contaminatus obrubescas

31:17. Be not hasty in a feast.
Nec conprimaris in convivio

31:18. Judge of the disposition of thy neighbour by thyself.
Intellege proximi tui ex te ipso

31:19. Use as a frugal man the things that are set before thee: lest if thou eatest much, thou be hated.
Uttere quasi homo frugi quae tibi adponuntur et non cum manducas multum odio habearis

31:20. Leave off first, for manners' sake: and exceed not, lest thou offend.
Cessa prior causa disciplinae et noli nimius esse ne forte offendas

31:21. And if thou sittest among many, reach not thy hand out first of all, and be not the first to ask for drink.
Et si in medio multorum sedisti prior illis non extendas manum tuam nec prior poscas bibere

31:22. How sufficient is a little wine for a man well taught, and in sleeping thou shalt not be uneasy with it, and thou shalt feel no pain.
Quam sufficiens est homini erudito vinum exiguum et in dormiendo non laborabis ab illo et non senties dolorem

31:23. Watching, and choler, and gripes, are with an intemperate man:
Vigilia et cholera et tortura viro infrunito

31:24. Sound and wholesome sleep with a moderate man: he shall sleep till morning, and his soul shall be delighted with him.
Somnus sanitatis in homine parco dormiet usque in mane et anima illius cum ipso delectabitur

31:25. And if thou hast been forced to eat much, arise, go out, and vomit: and it shall refresh thee, and thou shalt not bring sickness upon thy body.
Et si coactus fueris in edendo multum surge e medio et vome et refrigerabit te et non adduces corpori tuo infirmitates

31:26. Hear me, my son, and despise me not: and in the end thou shalt find my words.
Audi me filii et ne spernas me et in novissimo invenies mea verba

31:27. In all thy works be quick, and no infirmity shall come to thee.
In omnibus operibus tuis esto velox et omnis infirmitas non occurret tibi

31:28. The lips of many shall bless him that is liberal of his bread, and the testimony of his truth is faithful.
Splendidum in panibus benedicent labia multorum et testimonium veritatis illius fidele

31:29. Against him that is niggardly of his bread, the city will murmur, and the testimony of his niggardliness is true.
In nequissimo pane murmurabit civitas et testimonium nequitiae illius verum est

31:30. Challenge not them that love wine: for wine hath destroyed very many.
Diligentes in vino noli provocare multos enim exterminavit vinum

31:31. Fire trieth hard iron: so wine drunk to excess shall rebuke the hearts of the proud.
Ignis probat ferrum durum sic vinum corda superbiorum arguet in ebrietate potatum

31:32. Wine taken with sobriety is equal life to men: if thou drink it moderately, thou shalt be sober.
Aequavit in vita vinum hominibus si bibas illud moderate eris sobrius

31:33. What is his life, who is diminished with wine?
Quae est vita quae minuitur vino

31:34. What taketh away life? death.

Quid defraudat vitam mors

31:35. Wine was created from the beginning to make men joyful, and not to make them drunk.

Vinum in iucunditate creatum est non in ebrietate ab initio

31:36. Wine drunken with moderation is the joy of the soul and the heart.

Exultatio animae et cordis vinum moderate potatum

31:37. Sober drinking is health to soul and body.

Sanitas est et corpori et animae

31:38. Wine drunken with excess raiseth quarrels, and wrath, and many ruins.

Vinum multum potatum irritationem et iram et ruinas multas facit

31:39. Wine drunken with excess is bitterness of the soul.

Amaritudo animae vinum multum potatum

31:40. The heat of drunkenness is the stumblingblock of the fool, lessening strength and causing wounds.

Ebrietatis animositas imprudentis offensio minorans virtutem et faciens vulnera

31:41. Rebuke not thy neighbour in a banquet of wine: and despise him not in his mirth.

In convivio vini non arguas proximum et non despicias eum in iucunditate illius

31:42. Speak not to him words of reproach: and press him not in demanding again.

Verba inproperii non dicas illi et non premas illum in repetendo

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 32

Lessons for superiors and inferiors. Advantages of fearing God, and doing nothing without counsel.

32:1. Have they made thee ruler? be not lifted up: be among them as one of them.

Rectorem te posuerunt noli extolli esto in illis quasi unus ex ipsis

32:2. Have care of them, and so sit down, and when thou hast acquitted thyself of all thy charge, take thy place:

Curam illorum habe et sic conside et omni cura tua explicita recumbe

32:3. That thou mayst rejoice for them, and receive a crown as an ornament of grace, and get the honour of the contribution.

Ut laeteris propter illos et ornamentum gratiae accipias coronam et dignationem consequaris conrogationis

32:4. Speak, thou that art elder: for it becometh thee,

Loquere maior natu decet enim te

32:5. To speak the first word with careful knowledge, and hinder not music.

Primum verbum diligenti scientiam et non inpedias musica

32:6. Where there is no hearing, pour not out words, and be not lifted up out of season with thy wisdom.

Ubi auditus est non effundas sermonem et inopportune noli extolli in sapientia tua

32:7. A concert of music in a banquet of wine is as a carbuncle set in gold.

Gemmula carbunculi in ornamento auri et comparatio musicorum in convivio vini

32:8. As a signet of an emerald in a work of gold: so is the melody of music with pleasant and moderate wine.

Sicut in fabricatione auri signum est zmaragdi sic numerus musicorum in iucundo et moderato vino

32:9. Hear in silence, and for thy reverence good grace shall come to thee.

Audi tacens et pro reverentia accedet tibi bona gratia

32:10. Young man, scarcely speak in thy own cause.

Adulescens loquere in tua causa vix

32:11. If thou be asked twice, let thy answer be short.

Si bis interrogatus fueris habeat caput responsum tuum

32:12. In many things be as if thou wert ignorant, and hear in silence and withal seeking.

In multis esto quasi inscius et audi tacens simul et quaerens

32:13. In the company of great men take not upon thee: and when the ancients are present, speak not much.

In medio magnatorum non praesumas et ubi sunt senes non multum loquaris

32:14. Before a storm goeth lightning: and before shamefacedness goeth favour: and for thy reverence good grace shall come to thee.

Ante grandinem praeibit coruscatio et pro reverentia accedet tibi bona gratia

32:15. And at the time of rising be not slack: but be first to run home to thy house, and there withdraw thyself, and there take thy pastime.

Et hora surgendi non te trices praecurre autem prior in domum tuam et illic avocare et illic lude

32:16. And do what thou hast a mind, but not in sin or proud speech.

Et age conceptiones tuas et non in delictis et verbo superbo

32:17. And for all these things bless the Lord, that made thee, and that replenisheth thee with all his good things.

Et super his omnibus benedicito Dominum qui fecit te et inebriantem te ab omnibus bonis suis

32:18. He that feareth the Lord, will receive his discipline: and they that will seek him early, shall find a blessing.

Qui timet Deum excipiet doctrinam eius et qui vigilaverint ad illum invenient benedictionem

32:19. He that seeketh the law, shall be filled with it: and he that dealeth deceitfully, shall meet with a stumblingblock therein.

Qui quaerit legem replebitur ab ea et qui insidiose agit scandalizabitur in ea

32:20. They that fear the Lord, shall find just judgment, and shall kindle justice as a light.

Qui timent Dominum invenient iudicium iustum et iustitias quasi lucem accendent

32:21. A sinful man will flee reproof, and will find an excuse according to his will.

Peccator homo devitabit correptionem et secundum voluntatem suam inveniet comparationem

32:22. A man of counsel will not neglect understanding, a strange and proud man will not dread fear:

Vir consilii non disperiet intellegentia alienus et superbus non pertimescit timorem

32:23. Even after he hath done with fear without counsel, he shall be controlled by the things of his own seeking.

Etiam postquam fecit cum eo sine consilio et suis insectationibus arguetur

32:24. My son, do thou nothing without counsel, and thou shalt not repent when thou hast done.

Fili sine consilio nihil facias et post factum non paeniteberis

32:25. Go not in the way of ruin, and thou shalt not stumble against the stones: trust not thyself to a rugged way, lest thou set a stumblingblock to thy soul.

In via ruinae non eas et non offendes in lapides ne credas te viae laboriosae ne ponas animae tuae scandalum

32:26. And beware of thy own children, and take heed of them of thy household.

Et a filiis tuis cave et a domesticis tuis adtende

32:27. In every work of thine regard thy soul in faith: for this is the keeping of the commandments.*

In omni opere crede ex fide animae tuae haec est enim conservatio mandatorum

In faith... That is, follow sincerely thy soul in her faith and conscience.

32:28. He that believeth God, taketh heed to the commandments: and he that trusteth in him, shall fare never the worse.

Qui credit Deo adtendit mandatis et qui confident in illo non minorabuntur

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 33

The fear of God is the best security. Times and men are in the hands of God. Take care of thyself as long as thou livest, and look to thy servants.

---

33:1. No evils shall happen to him that feareth the Lord, but in temptation God will keep him and deliver him from evils.

Timenti Dominum non occurrent mala sed in temptatione Deus illum conservat et liberabit a malis

33:2. A wise man hateth not the commandments and justices, and he shall not be dashed in pieces as a ship in a storm.

Sapiens non odit mandata et iustitias et non inludetur quasi in procella navis

33:3. A man of understanding is faithful to the law of God, and the law is faithful to him.

Homo sensatus credit legi Dei et lex illi fidelis

33:4. He that cleareth up a question, shall prepare what to say, and so having prayed he shall be heard, and shall keep discipline, and then he shall answer.

Qui interrogationem manifestat parabit verbum et sic deprecatus exaudietur et conservabit disciplinam et tunc respondebit

33:5. The heart of a fool is as a wheel of a cart: and his thoughts are like a rolling axletree.

Praecordia fatui quasi rota carri et quasi axis versatilis cogitatus illius

33:6. A friend that is a mocker, is like a stallion horse: he neigheth under every one that sitteth upon him.

Equus admissarius sicut amicus subsannator sub omni suprasedenti hinnit

33:7. Why doth one day excel another, and one light another, and one year another year, when all come of the sun?

Quare dies diem superat et iterum lux lucem et annus annum a sole

33:8. By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished, the sun being made, and keeping his commandment.

A Domini scientia separati sunt facto sole et praeceptum custodiente

33:9. And he ordered the seasons, and holidays of them, and in them they celebrated festivals at an hour.

Et inmutavit tempora et dies festos ipsorum et in illis dies festos celebraverunt ad horam

33:10. Some of them God made high and great days, and some of them he put in the number of ordinary days. And all men are from the ground, and out of the earth, from whence Adam was created.

Ex ipsis exaltavit et magnificavit Deus et ex ipsis posuit in numerum dierum et homines omnes de solo et ex terra unde creatus est Adam

33:11. With much knowledge the Lord hath divided them and diversified their ways.

In multitudine disciplinae Domini separavit eos et inmutavit vias eorum

33:12. Some of them hath he blessed, and exalted: and some of them hath he sanctified, and set near himself: and some of them hath he cursed and brought low, and turned them from their station.

Et ex ipsis benedixit et exaltavit et ex ipsis sanctificavit et ad se adplicavit et ex ipsis maledixit et humiliavit et convertit illos a separatione ipsorum

33:13. As the potter's clay is in his hand, to fashion and order it:

Quasi lutum figuli in manus ipsius plasmare illud et disponere

33:14. All his ways are according to his ordering: so man is in the hand of him that made him, and he will render to him according to his judgment.

Omnes viae eius secundum dispositionem eius sic homo in manu illius qui se fecit reddet illis secundum iudicium suum

33:15. Good is set against evil, and life against death: so also is the sinner against a just man. And so look upon all the works of the most High. Two and two, and one against another.

Contra malum bonum est et contra mortem vita sic et contra virum iustum peccator et sic intueri in omnia opera Altissimi duo duo unum contra unum

33:16. And I awaked last of all, and as one that gathereth after the grapegatherers.

Et ego novissimus vigilavi et quasi qui colligit acinos post vindemiatores

33:17. In the blessing of God I also have hoped: and as one that gathereth grapes, have I filled the winepress.

In benedictione Dei et ipse speravi et quasi qui vindemiat replevi torcular

33:18. See that I have not laboured for myself only, but for all that seek discipline.

Respicite quoniam non soli mihi laboravi sed omnibus exquirentibus disciplinam

33:19. Hear me, ye great men, and all ye people, and hearken with your ears, ye rulers of the church.

Audite me magnati et omnes populi et rectores ecclesiae auribus percipite

33:20. Give not to son or wife, brother or friend, power over thee while thou livest; and give not thy estate to another, lest thou repent, and thou entreat for the same.

Filio et mulieri fratri et amico non des potestatem super te in vita tua non dederis alio possessionem tuam ne forte paeniteat te et depreceris pro illis

33:21. As long as thou livest, and hast breath in thee, let no man change thee. *

Dum adhuc superes et adspiras non inmutabit te omnis caro

Change thee... That is, so as to have this power over thee.

33:22. For it is better that thy children should ask of thee, than that thou look toward the hands of thy children.

Melius est enim ut filii tui te rogent quam te respicere in manus filiorum tuorum

33:23. In all thy works keep the pre-eminence. *

In omnibus operibus tuis praecellens esto

The pre-eminence... That is, be master in thy own house, and part not with thy authority.

33:24. Let no stain sully thy glory. In the time when thou shalt end the days of thy life, and in the time of thy decease, distribute thy inheritance.

Ne dederis maculam in gloriam tuam in die consummationis dierum vitae tuae et in tempore exitus tui distribue hereditatem tuam

33:25. Fodder, and a wand, and a burden are for an ass: bread, and correction, and work for a slave.

Cibaria et virga et onus asino panis et disciplina et opus servo

33:26. He worketh under correction, and seeketh to rest: let his hands be idle, and he seeketh liberty.

Operatur in disciplina et quaerit quiescere laxa manus illi et quaerit libertatem

33:27. The yoke and the thong bend a stiff neck, and continual labours bow a slave.

Iugum et lorum curvant collum durum et servum inclinant operationes adsiduae

33:28. Torture and fetters are for a malicious slave: send him to work, that he be not idle:

Servo malivolo tortura et conpedes mitte illum in operatione ne vacet

33:29. For idleness hath taught much evil.

Multam enim malitiam docuit otiositas

33:30. Set him to work: for so it is fit for him. And if he be not obedient, bring him down with fetters, but be not excessive towards any one, and do no grievous thing without judgment.

In opera constitue eum sic enim condecet illi quod si non obaudierit grava illum conpedibus et non amplifces super omnem carnem verum sine iudicio nihil facias grave

33:31. If thou have a faithful servant, let him be to thee as thy own soul: treat him as a brother: because in the blood of thy soul thou hast gotten him.

Si est tibi servus sit tibi quasi anima tua quasi fratrem sic eum tracta quoniam in sanguine animae parasti eum

33:32. If thou hurt him unjustly, he will run away:

Si laeseris illum iniuste

33:33. And if he rise up and depart, thou knowest not whom to ask, and in what way to seek him.

Et extollens discesserit quem quaeres et in qua via quaeras illum nescis

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 34

The vanity of dreams. The advantage of experience, and of the fear of God.

---

34:1. The hopes of a man that is void of understanding are vain and deceitful: and dreams lift up fools.
Vana spes et mendacium insensato viro et somnia extollunt imprudentes

34:2. The man that giveth heed to lying visions, is like to him that catcheth at a shadow, and followeth after the wind.
Quasi qui adprehendit umbram et persequitur ventum sic et qui attendit ad visa mendacia

34:3. The vision of dreams is the resemblance of one thing to another: as when a man's likeness is before the face of a man.
Hoc secundum hoc visio somniorum ante faciem hominis similitudo hominis

34:4. What can be made clean by the unclean? and what truth can come from that which is false?
Ab immundo quid mundabitur et a mendace quid verum dicetur

34:5. Deceitful divinations and lying omens and the dreams of evildoers, are vanity:
Divinatio erroris et auguria mendacia et somnia malefacientium vanitas est

34:6. And the heart fancieth as that of a woman in travail: except it be a vision sent forth from the most High, set not thy heart upon them.
Et sicut parturientis cor tuum fantasiam patitur nisi ab Altissimo fuerit emissa visitatio ne dederis in illis cor tuum

34:7. For dreams have deceived many, and they have failed that put their trust in them.
Multos enim errare fecerunt somnia et exciderunt sperantes in illis

34:8. The word of the law shall be fulfilled without a lie, and wisdom shall be made plain in the mouth of the faithful.
Sine mendacio consummabitur verbum et sapientia in ore fidelis conplanabitur

34:9. What doth he know, that hath not been tried? A man that hath much experience, shall think of many things: and he that hath learned many things, shall show forth understanding.
Qui non temptatus est quid scit vir in multis expertus cogitavit multa et qui multa didicit enarrabit intellectum

34:10. He that hath no experience, knoweth little: and he that hath been experienced in many things, multiplieth prudence.
Qui non est expertus pauca recognoscit qui autem in multis factus est multiplicabit malitiam

34:11. He that hath not been tried, what manner of things doth he know? he that hath been surprised, shall abound with subtlety.

34:12. I have seen many things by travelling, and many customs of things.
Multa vidi errando et plurimas verborum consuetudines

34:13. Sometimes I have been in danger of death for these things, and I have been delivered by the grace of God.
Aliquotiens usque ad mortem periclitatus sum horum causa et liberatus sum gratia Dei

34:14. The spirit of those that fear God, is sought after, and by his regard shall be blessed.

Spiritus timentium Deum quaeretur et in respectu illius benedicentur

34:15. For their hope is on him that saveth them, and the eyes of God are upon them that love him.
Spes enim illorum in salvantem illos et oculi Dei in diligentes se

34:16. He that feareth the Lord shall tremble at nothing, and shall not be afraid: for he is his hope.
Qui timet Dominum nihil trepidabit et non pavebit quoniam ipse est spes eius

34:17. The soul of him that feareth the Lord is blessed.
Timentis Dominum beata est anima eius

34:18. To whom doth he look, and who is his strength?
Ad quem respicit et quis est fortitudo eius

34:19. The eyes of the Lord are upon them that fear him, he is their powerful protector, and strong stay, a defence from the heat, and a cover from the sun at noon,
Oculi Domini super timentes eum protector potentiae firmamentum virtutis tegimen ardoris et umbraculum meridiani

34:20. A preservation from stumbling, and a help from falling: he raiseth up the soul, and enlighteneth the eyes, and giveth health, and life, and blessing.
Et precatio offensionis et adiutorium casus exaltans animam et inluminans oculos dans sanitatem vitam et benedictionem

34:21. The offering of him that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, is stained, and the mockeries of the unjust are not acceptable.
Immolans ex iniquo oblatio est maculata et non sunt beneplacitae subsannationes iniustorum

34:22. The Lord is only for them that wait upon him in the way of truth and justice.
Dominus solus sustinentibus se in via veritatis et iustitiae

34:23. The most High approveth not the gifts of the wicked: neither hath he respect to the oblations of the unjust, nor will he be pacified for sins by the multitude of their sacrifices.
Dona iniquorum non probat Altissimus in oblationibus iniquorum nec in multitudine sacrificiorum eorum propitiabitur peccatis

34:24. He that offereth sacrifice of the goods of the poor, is as one that sacrificeth the son in the presence of his father.
Qui offert sacrificium ex substantia pauperum quasi qui victimat filium in conspectu patris sui

34:25. The bread of the needy, is the life of the poor: he that defraudeth them thereof, is a man of blood.
Panis egentium vita pauperis est qui defraudat illum homo sanguinis

34:26. He that taketh away the bread gotten by sweat, is like him that killeth his neighbour.
Qui aufert in sudore panem quasi qui occidit proximum suum

34:27. He that sheddeth blood, and he that defraudeth the laborer of his hire, are brothers.
Qui effundit sanguinem et qui fraudem facit mercedem mercenario

34:28. When one buildeth up, and another pulleth down: what profit have they but the labour?
Unus aedificans et unus destruens quid prodest illis nisi labor

34:29. When one prayeth, and another curseth: whose voice will God hear?
Unus orans et unus maledicens cuius vocem exaudiet Deus

34:30. He that washeth himself after touching the dead, if he toucheth him again, what doth his washing avail?
Qui baptizatur a mortuo et iterum tangit illum quid proficit lavatione illius

34:31. So a man that fasteth for his sins, and doth the same again, what doth his humbling himself profit him? who will hear his prayer?
Sic homo qui ieiunat in peccatis suis et iterum eadem faciens quid proficit humiliando se orationem illius quis exaudiet

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 35

What sacrifices are pleasing to God.

35:1. He that keepeth the law, multiplieth offerings.

Qui conservat legem multiplicat orationem

35:2. It is a wholesome sacrifice to take heed to the commandments, and to depart from all iniquity.

Sacrificium salutare adtendere mandatis et discedere ab omni iniquitate

35:3. And to depart from injustice, is to offer a propitiatory sacrifice for injustices, and a begging of pardon for sins.

Et deprecatio recedere ab iniustitia

35:4. He shall return thanks, that offereth fine flour: and he that doth mercy, offereth sacrifice.

35:5. To depart from iniquity is that which pleaseth the Lord, and to depart from injustice, is an entreaty for sins.

35:6. Thou shalt not appear empty in the sight of the Lord.

Non apparebis ante conspectum Dei vacuus

35:7. For all these things are to be done because of the commandment of God.

Haec enim omnia propter mandatum Domini fiunt

35:8. The oblation of the just maketh the altar fat, and is an odour of sweetness in the sight of the most High.

Oblatio iusti inpinguat altare et odor suavitatis est in conspectu Altissimi

35:9. The sacrifice of the just is acceptable, and the Lord will not forget the memorial thereof.

Sacrificium iusti acceptum est et memoriam eius non obliviscetur Dominus

35:10. Give glory to God with a good heart: and diminish not the firstfruits of thy hands.

Bono animo gloriam redde Deo et non minuas primitias manuum tuarum

35:11. In every gift show a cheerful countenance, and sanctify thy tithes with joy.

In omni dato hilarem fac vultum tuum et in exultatione sanctifica decimas tuas

35:12. Give to the most High according to what he hath given to thee, and with a good eye do according to the ability of thy hands:

Da Altissimo secundum datum eius et in bono oculo ad inventionem fac manuum tuarum

35:13. For the Lord maketh recompense, and will give thee seven times as much.

Quoniam Dominus retribuens est et septies tantum reddet tibi

35:14. Do not offer wicked gifts, for such he will not receive.

Noli offerre munera prava non enim suscipiet illa

35:15. And look not upon an unjust sacrifice, for the Lord is judge, and there is not with him respect of person.

Et noli inspicere sacrificium iniustum quoniam Dominus iudex est et non est apud illum gloria personae

35:16. The Lord will not accept any person against a poor man, and he will hear the prayer of him that is wronged.

Non accipiet Dominus personam in pauperem et precationem laesi exaudiet

35:17. He will not despise the prayers of the fatherless: nor the widow, when she poureth out her complaint.

Non despiciet preces pupilli nec viduam si effundat loquellam gemitus

35:18. Do not the widow's tears run down the cheek, and her cry against him that causeth them to fall?

Nonne lacrima ad maxillam descendit et exclamatio

35:19. For from the cheek they go up even to heaven, and the Lord that heareth will not be delighted with them.

A maxilla ascendit et Dominus exauditor delectans in illis

35:20. He that adoreth God with joy, shall be accepted, and his prayer shall approach even to the clouds.

Qui adorat Deum in oblectatione suscipietur et precatio illius usque ad nubes propinquabit

35:21. The prayer of him that humbleth himself, shall pierce the clouds: and till it come nigh he will not be comforted: and he will not depart till the most High behold.

Oratio humiliantis se nubes penetrabit et donec propinquet non conrogabitur et non discedet donec aspiciat Altissimus

35:22. And the Lord will not be slack, but will judge for the just, and will do judgment: and the Almighty will not have patience with them, that he may crush their back:

Et Dominus non longinquabit sed iudicabit iustos et faciet iudicium et Fortissimus non habebit in illis patientiam ut contribulet dorsum ipsorum

35:23. And he will repay vengeance to the Gentiles, till he have taken away the multitude of the proud, and broken the sceptres of the unjust,

Et gentibus reddet vindictam donec tollat plenitudinem superbiorum et sceptrum iniquorum contribulet

35:24. Till he have rendered to men according to their deeds: and according to the works of Adam, and according to his presumption,

Donec reddat hominibus secundum actus suos et secundum opera Adae et secundum praesumptionem illius

35:25. Till he have judged the cause of his people, and he shall delight the just with his mercy.

Donec iudicet iudicium plebis suae et oblectabit iustos misericordia sua

35:26. The mercy of God is beautiful in the time of affliction, as a cloud of rain in the time of drought.

Speciosa misericordia Dei in tempore tribulationis quasi nubes pluviae in tempore siccitatis

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 36

A prayer for the church of God. Of a good heart, and a good wife.

36:1. Have mercy upon us, O God of all, and behold us, and show us the light of thy mercies:
Miserere nostri Deus omnium et respice nos et ostende nobis lucem miserationum tuarum

36:2. And send thy fear upon the nations, that have not sought after thee: that they may know that there is no God beside thee, and that they may show forth thy wonders.
Et inmitte timorem tuum super gentes quae non exquisierunt te et cognoscant quia non est Deus nisi tu ut enarrent magnalia tua

36:3. Lift up thy hand over the strange nations, that they may see thy power.
Adleva manum tuam super gentes alienas ut videant potentiam tuam

36:4. For as thou hast been sanctified in us in their sight, so thou shalt be magnified among them in our presence,
Sicut enim in conspectu eorum sanctificatus es in nobis sic in conspectu nostro magnificaberis in illis

36:5. That they may know thee, as we also have known thee, that there is no God beside thee, O Lord.
Ut cognoscant te sicut et nos agnovimus quoniam non est Deus praeter te Domine

36:6. Renew thy signs, and work new miracles.
Innova signa et inmuta mirabilia

36:7. Glorify thy hand, and thy right arm.
Glorifica manum et brachium dextrum

36:8. Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath.
Excita furorem et effunde iram

36:9. Take away the adversary, and crush the enemy.
Extolle adversarium et adflige inimicum

36:10. Hasten the time, and remember the end, that they may declare thy wonderful works.
Festina tempus et memento finis ut enarrent mirabilia tua

36:11. Let him that escapeth be consumed by the rage of the fire: and let them perish that oppress thy people.
In ira flammae devoretur qui salvatur et qui pessimant plebem tuam inveniant perditionem

36:12. Crush the head of the princes of the enemies that say: There is no other beside us.
Contere caput principum inimicorum dicentium non est alius praeter nos

36:13. Gather together all the tribes of Jacob: that they may know that there no God besides thee, and may declare thy great works: and thou shalt inherit them as from the beginning.
Congrega omnes tribus Iacob et cognoscant quia non est Deus nisi tu ut enarrent magnalia tua et hereditabis eos sicut ab initio

36:14. Have mercy on thy people, upon whom thy name is invoked: and upon Israel, whom thou hast raised up to be thy firstborn.
Miserere plebi tuae super quam invocatum est nomen tuum et Israhel quem coaequasti primogenito tuo

36:15. Have mercy on Jerusalem, the city which thou hast sanctified, the city of thy rest.
Miserere civitati sanctificationis tuae Hierusalem civitati requiei tuae

36:16. Fill Sion with thy unspeakable words, and thy people with thy glory.

Reple Sion inenarrabilibus verbis tuis et gloria tua populum tuum

36:17. Give testimony to them that are thy creatures from the beginning, and raise up the prophecies which the former prophets spoke in thy name.

Da testimonium quia ab initio creaturae tuae sunt et suscita preces quas locuti sunt in nomine tuo prophetae priores

36:18. Reward them that patiently wait for thee, that thy prophets may be found faithful: and hear the prayers of thy servants,

Da mercedem sustinentibus te ut prophetae tui fideles inveniantur et exaudi orationes servorum tuorum

36:19. According to the blessing of Aaron over thy people, and direct us into the way of justice, and let all know that dwell upon the earth, that thou art God the beholder of all ages.

Secundum benedictionem Aaron de populo tuo et dirige nos in via iustitiae et sciant omnes qui inhabitant terram quia tu es Deus conspexeris saeculorum

36:20. The belly will devour all meat, yet one is better than another.

Omnem escam manducabit venter et est cibus cibo melior

36:21. The palate tasteth venison and the wise heart false speeches.

Faeces contingit cibum ferae et cor sensatum verba mendacia

36:22. A perverse heart will cause grief, and a man of experience will resist it.

Cor pravum dabit tristitiam et homo peritus resistet illi

36:23. A woman will receive every man: yet one daughter is better than another. *

Omnem masculum excipiet mulier et est filia melior filiae

A woman will receive every man... That is, any man that her parents propose to her to marry, though she does not like him, but marries in obedience to her parents, who make the choice for her.

36:24. The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance of her husband, and a man desireth nothing more.

Species mulieris exhilarat faciem viri sui et super omnem concupiscentiam hominis superducit desiderium

36:25. If she have a tongue that can cure, and likewise mitigate and show mercy: her husband is not like other men.

Si est lingua curationis et mitigationis misericordiae non est vir illius contra filios hominum

36:26. He that possesseth a good wife, beginneth a possession: she is a help like to himself, and a pillar of rest.

Qui possidet mulierem inchoat possessionem adiutorium contra illum est et columna ut requies

36:27. Where there is no hedge, the possession shall be spoiled: and where there is no wife, he mourneth that is in want.

Ubi non est seps diripietur possessio et ubi non est mulier gemescit egens

36:28. Who will trust him that hath no rest, and that lodgeth wheresoever the night taketh him, as a robber well appointed, that skippeth from city to city.

Cui credit qui non habet nidum et deflectens ubicumque obscuraverit quasi succinctus latro exiliens de civitate in civitatem

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 37

Of the choice of friends and counsellors.

37:1. Every friend will say: I also am his friend: but there is a friend, that is only a friend in name. Is not this a grief even to death?

Omnis amicus dicet et ego amicitiam copulavi sed est amicus solo nomine amicus nonne tristitia inest usque ad mortem

37:2. But a companion and a friend shall be turned to an enemy.

Sodalis autem et amicus ad inimicitiam convertentur

37:3. O wicked presumption, whence camest thou to cover the earth with thy malice, and deceitfulness?

O praesumptio nequissima unde creata es cooperire aridam malitiam et dolositatem illius

37:4. There is a companion who rejoiceth with his friend in his joys, but in the time of trouble, he will be against him.

Sodalis amico coniucondatur in oblectatione et in tempore tribulationis adversarius erit

37:5. There is a companion who condoleth with his friend for his belly's sake, and he will take up a shield against the enemy.

Sodalis amico condolet causa ventris et contra hostem accipiet scutum

37:6. Forget not thy friend in thy mind, and be not unmindful of him in thy riches.

Non obliviscaris amici tui in animo tuo et non inmemor sis illius in operibus tuis

37:7. Consult not with him that layeth a snare for thee, and hide thy counsel from them that envy thee.

Noli consiliari cum socero tuo et a zelantibus te absconde consilium

37:8. Every counsellor giveth out counsel, but there is one that is a counsellor for himself.

Omnis consiliarius prodit consilium sed est consiliarius in semet ipso

37:9. Beware of a counsellor. And know before what need he hath: for he will devise to his own mind:

A consiliario serva animam tuam prius scito quae sit illius necessitas et ipse enim animo suo cogitabit

37:10. Lest he thrust a stake into the ground, and say to thee:

Ne forte mittat sudem in terram et dicat tibi

37:11. Thy way is good; and then stand on the other side to see what shall befall thee.

Bona est via tua et stet e contrario videre quid tibi eveniat

37:12. Treat not with a man without religion concerning holiness, nor with an unjust man concerning justice, nor with a woman touching her of whom she is jealous, nor with a coward concerning war, nor with a merchant about traffic, nor with a buyer of selling, nor with an envious man of giving thanks,

Cum viro inreligioso tracta de sanctitate et cum iniusto de iustitia et cum muliere de ea quae aemulatur cum timido de bello cum negotiatore de traiecticio cum emptore de venditione cum viro livido de gratiis agendis

37:13. Nor with the ungodly of piety, nor with the dishonest of honesty, nor with the field laborer of every work,

Cum impio de pietate cum inhonesto de honestate cum operario agri de omni opere

37:14. Nor with him that worketh by the year of the finishing of the year, nor with an idle servant of much business: give no heed to these in any matter of counsel.

Cum operario annuali de consummatione anni cum servo pigro de multa operatione non adtendas his in omni consilio

37:15. But be continually with a holy man, whomsoever thou shalt know to observe the fear of God,
Cum viro sancto adsiduus esto quemcumque cognoveris observantem timorem Dei

37:16. Whose soul is according to thy own soul: and who, when thou shalt stumble in the dark, will be sorry for thee.

Cuius anima est secundum animam tuam quicumque titubaverit in tenebris non condolebit tibi

37:17. And establish within thyself a heart of good counsel: for there is no other thing of more worth to thee than it.

Et cor boni consilii statue non est enim tibi aliud pluris illo

37:18. The soul of a holy man discovereth sometimes true things, more than seven watchmen that sit in a high place to watch.

Anima viri sancti enuntiat aliquando vera quam septem circumspectores sedentes ad speculandum

37:19. But above all these things pray to the most High, that he may direct thy way in truth.

Et in his omnibus deprecare Altissimum ut dirigat in veritate viam tuam

37:20. In all thy works let the true word go before thee, and steady counsel before every action.

Ante omnem operam verbum verax praecedat te et ante omnem actum consilium stabile

37:21. A wicked word shall change the heart: out of which four manner of things arise, good and evil, life and death: and the tongue is continually the ruler of them. There is a man that is subtle and a teacher of many, and yet is unprofitable to his own soul.

Verbum nequa inmutabit cor quattuor partes oriuntur bonum et malum vita et mors et dominatrix illorum est adsidua lingua

37:22. A skilful man hath taught many, and is sweet to his own soul.

Vir peritus multos erudit et animae suae suavis est

37:23. He that speaketh sophistically, is hateful: he shall be destitute of every thing.

Qui sofistice loquitur odibilis est omni re defraudabitur

37:24. Grace is not given him from the Lord: for he is deprived of all wisdom.

Non est enim data illi a Domino gratia omni enim sapientia defraudatus est

37:25. There is a wise man that is wise to his own soul: and the fruit of his understanding is commendable.

Est sapiens animae suae sapiens et fructus sensus illius laudabilis

37:26. A wise man instructeth his own people, and the fruits of his understanding are faithful.

Vir sapiens plebem suam erudit et fructus sensus eius fideles sunt

37:27. A wise man shall be filled with blessings, and they that see shall praise him.

Vir sapiens implebitur benedictione et videntes illum laudabunt

37:28. The life of a man is in the number of his days: but the days of Israel are innumerable.

Vita viri in numero dierum dies autem Israhel innumerabiles sunt

37:29. A wise man shall inherit honour among his people, and his name shall live for ever.

Sapiens in populo hereditabit honorem et nomen illius erit vivens in aeternum

37:30. My son, prove thy soul in thy life: and if it be wicked, give it no power:

Fili in vita tua tempta animam tuam et si fuerit nequam non des illi potestatem

37:31. For all things are not expedient for all, and every kind pleaseth not every soul.

Non enim omnia omnibus expediunt et non omni animae omne genus placet

37:32. Be not greedy in any feasting, and pour not out thyself upon any meat:

Noli avidus esse in omni epulatione et non te effundas super omnem escam

37:33. For in many meats there will be sickness, and greediness will turn to choler.

In multis enim escis erit infirmitas et aplestia adpropinquabit usque ad cholera

37:34. By surfeiting many have perished, but he that is temperate, shall prolong life.
Propter aplestiam multi obierunt qui autem abstinens est adiciet vitam

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 38

Of physicians and medicines: what is to be done in sickness, and how we are to mourn for the dead. Of the employments of labourers and artificers.

38:1. Honour the physician for the need thou hast of him: for the most High hath created him.
Honora medicum propter necessitatem etenim illum creavit Altissimus

38:2. For all healing is from God, and he shall receive gifts of the king.
A Deo est omnis medella et a rege accipiet dationem

38:3. The skill of the physician shall lift up his head, and in the sight of great men he shall be praised.
Disciplina medici exaltabit caput illius et in conspectu magnatorum conlaudabitur

38:4. The most High hath created medicines out of the earth, and a wise man will not abhor them.
Altissimus creavit de terra medicinam et vir prudens non abhorrebit illi

38:5. Was not bitter water made sweet with wood?
Nonne a ligno indulcata est amara aqua

38:6. The virtue of these things is come to the knowledge of men, and the most High hath given knowledge to men, that he may be honoured in his wonders.
Ad agnitionem hominum virtutis illorum et dedit homini scientiam Altissimus honorari in mirabilibus suis

38:7. By these he shall cure and shall allay their pains, and of these the apothecary shall make sweet confections, and shall make up ointments of health, and of his works there shall be no end.
In his curans mitigavit dolorem et unguentarius facit pigmentum suavitatis et unctiones conficiet suavitatis et non consummabuntur opera eius

38:8. For the peace of God is over all the face of the earth.
Pax enim Dei super faciem terrae

38:9. My son, in thy sickness neglect not thyself, but pray to the Lord, and he shall heal thee.
Fili in tua infirmitate non despicias sed ora ad Dominum et ipse curabit te

38:10. Turn away from sin and order thy hands aright, and cleanse thy heart from all offence.
Averte a delicto et dirige manus et ab omni delicto munda cor tuum

38:11. Give a sweet savour, and a memorial of fine flour, and make a fat offering, and then give place to the physician.
Da suavitatem et memoriam similaginis et inpingua oblationem et da locum medico

38:12. For the Lord created him: and let him not depart from thee, for his works are necessary.
Etenim illum Dominus creavit et non discedat a te quoniam opera eius sunt necessaria

38:13. For there is a time when thou must fall into their hands:
Est enim tempus quando in manus eorum incurras

38:14. And they shall beseech the Lord, that he would prosper what they give for ease and remedy, for their conversation.
Ipsi vero Dominum deprecabuntur ut dirigat requiem eorum et sanitatem propter conversationem illorum

38:15. He that sinneth in the sight of his Maker, shall fall into the hands of the physician.
Qui delinquit in conspectu eius qui fecit eum incidat in manus medici

38:16. My son, shed tears over the dead, and begin to lament as if thou hadst suffered some great harm, and according to judgment cover his body, and neglect not his burial.

Fili in mortuum produc lacrimas et quasi dira passus incipe plorare et secundum iudicium contine corpus illius et non despicias sepulturam illius

38:17. And for fear of being ill spoken of weep bitterly for a day, and then comfort thyself in thy sadness. Propter delaturam amare fer luctum illius uno die et consolare propter tristitiam

38:18. And make mourning for him according to his merit for a day, or two, for fear of detraction.

38:19. For of sadness cometh death, and it overwhelmeth the strength, and the sorrow of the heart boweth down the neck.

A tristitia enim festinat mors et cooperiet virtutem et tristitia cordis flectet cervicem

38:20. In withdrawing aside sorrow remaineth: and the substance of the poor is according to his heart. In abductione permanet tristitia et substantia inopis secundum cor eius

38:21. Give not up thy heart to sadness, but drive it from thee: and remember the latter end. Non dederis in tristitia cor tuum sed repelle eam a te et memento novissimorum

38:22. Forget it not: for there is no returning, and thou shalt do him no good, and shalt hurt thyself. Noli oblivisci neque enim est conversio et huic nihil proderis et te ipsum pessimabis

38:23. Remember my judgment: for thine also shall be so: yesterday for me, and to day for thee. Memor esto iudicii mei sic enim erit et tuum mihi heri et tibi hodie

38:24. When the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest, and comfort him in the departing of his spirit. In requie mortui requiescere fac memoriam eius et consolare illum in exitu spiritus sui

38:25. The wisdom of a scribe cometh by his time of leisure: and he that is less in action, shall receive wisdom. *

Sapientiam scribe in tempore vacuitatis et qui minoratur actu sapientiam percipiet qua sapientia replebitur

A scribe... That is, a doctor of the law, or, a learned man.

38:26. With what wisdom shall he be furnished that holdeth the plough, and that glorieth in the goad, that driveth the oxen therewith, and is occupied in their labours, and his whole talk is about the offspring of bulls?

Qui tenet aratrum et non gloriatur in iaculo stimulo boves agit et conversatur in operibus eorum et narratio eius in filiis taurorum

38:27. He shall give his mind to turn up furrows, and his care is to give the kine fodder. Cor suum dabit ad versandos sulcos et vigilia eius in sagina vaccarum

38:28. So every craftsman and workmaster that laboureth night and day, he who maketh graven seals, and by his continual diligence varieth the figure: he shall give his mind to the resemblance of the picture, and by his watching shall finish the work.

Sic omnis faber et architectus qui noctem tamquam diem transigit qui sculpsit signacula sculptilia et adsiduitas eius variat picturam cor suum dabit in similitudinem picturae et vigilia sua perficit opus

38:29. So doth the smith sitting by the anvil and considering the iron work. The vapour of the fire wasteth his flesh, and he fighteth with the heat of the furnace.

Sic faber ferrarius sedens iuxta incudem et considerans opus ferri vapor ignis uret carnes eius et in calore fornacis concertatur

38:30. The noise of the hammer is always in his ears, and his eye is upon the pattern of the vessel he maketh.

Vox mallei innovabit aurem eius et contra similitudinem vasi oculi eius

38:31. He setteth his mind to finish his work, and his watching to polish them to perfection. Cor suum dabit in consummationem operum et vigilia sua ornabit in consummatione

38:32. So doth the potter sitting at his work, turning the wheel about with his feet, who is always carefully set to his work, and maketh all his work by number:

Sic figulus sedens ad opus suum convertens pedibus suis rotam qui in sollicitudine positus est semper propter opus suum et innumera est omnis operatio eius

38:33. He fashioneth the clay with his arm, and boweth down his strength before his feet:

In brachio suo formabit lutum et ante pedes suos curvabit virtutem suam

38:34. He shall give his mind to finish the glazing, and his watching to make clean the furnace.

Cor suum dabit ut consummet linitionem et vigilia sua mundabit fornacem

38:35. All these trust to their hands, and every one is wise in his own art.

Omnes hi in manibus suis speraverunt et unusquisque in arte sua sapiens est

38:36. Without these a city is not built.

Sine his omnibus non aedificatur civitas

38:37. And they shall not dwell, nor walk about therein, and they shall not go up into the assembly.

Et non inhabitabunt nec inambulabunt et in ecclesiam non transilient

38:38. Upon the judges' seat they shall not sit, and the ordinance of judgment they shall not understand, neither shall they declare discipline and judgment, and they shall not be found where parables are spoken:

Super sellam iudicis non sedebunt et testamentum iudicii non intellegent neque palam facient disciplinam et iudicium et in parabolis non invenientur

38:39. But they shall strengthen the state of the world, and their prayer shall be in the work of their craft, applying their soul, and searching in the law of the most High.

Sed creaturam aevi confirmabunt et deprecatio illorum in operatione artis adcommodantes animam suam et conquirentes in lege Altissimi

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 39

The exercises of the wise man. The Lord is to be glorified for his works.

---

39:1. The wise man will seek out the wisdom of all the ancients, and will be occupied in the prophets.
Sapientiam omnium antiquorum exquiret et in prophetiis vacabit

39:2. He will keep the sayings of renowned men, and will enter withal into the subtilties of parables.
Narrationem virorum nominatorum conservabit et in versutias parabolarum simul introibit

39:3. He will search out the hidden meanings of proverbs, and will be conversant in the secrets of parables.
Occulta proverbiorum exquiret et in absconditis parabolarum conversabitur

39:4. He shall serve among great men, and appear before the governor.
In medio magnatorum ministrabit et in conspectu praesidis apparebit

39:5. He shall pass into strange countries: for he shall try good and evil among men.
In terram alienarum gentium pertransiet bona enim et mala in hominibus temptavit

39:6. He will give his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him, and he will pray in the sight of the most High.
Cor suum tradet ad vigilandum diluculo ad Dominum qui fecit illum et in conspectu Altissimi deprecabitur

39:7. He will open his mouth in prayer, and will make supplication for his sins.
Aperiet os suum in oratione et pro delictis suis deprecabitur

39:8. For if it shall please the great Lord, he will fill him with the spirit of understanding:
Si enim Dominus magnus voluerit spiritu intelligentiae replebit illum

39:9. And he will pour forth the words of his wisdom as showers, and in his prayer he will confess to the Lord.
Et ipse tamquam imbres mittet eloquia sapientiae suae et in oratione confitebitur Domino

39:10. And he shall direct his counsel, and his knowledge, and in his secrets shall he meditate.
Ipse diriget consilium eius et disciplinam et in absconditis suis consiliabitur

39:11. He shall show forth the discipline he hath learned, and shall glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.
Ipse palam faciet disciplinam doctrinae suae et in lege testamenti Domini gloriabitur

39:12. Many shall praise his wisdom, and it shall never be forgotten.
Conlaudabunt multi sapientiam eius et usque in saeculum non delebitur

39:13. The memory of him shall not depart away, and his name shall be in request from generation to generation.
Non recedet memoria eius et nomen eius requiretur a generatione in generationem

39:14. Nations shall declare his wisdom, and the church shall show forth his praise.
Sapientiam eius enarrabunt gentes et laudem eius nuntiabit ecclesia

39:15. If he continue, he shall leave a name above a thousand: and if he rest, it shall be to his advantage.
Si inmanserit nomen derelinquet mille et si requieverit proderit illi

39:16. I will yet meditate that I may declare: for I am filled as with a holy transport.

Adhuc consiliabor ut enarrem ut furore enim repletus sum

39:17. By a voice he saith: Hear me, ye divine offspring, and bud forth as the rose planted by the brooks of waters. *

In voce dicit obaudite me divini fructus et quasi rosa plantata super rivum aquarum fructificate

Ye divine offspring... He speaks to the children of Israel, the people of God: whom he exhorts to bud forth and flourish with virtue.

39:18. Give ye a sweet odour as frankincense.

Quasi libanus odorem suavitatis habete

39:19. Send forth flowers, as the lily, and yield a smell, and bring forth leaves in grace, and praise with canticles, and bless the Lord in his works.

Florete flores quasi liliū date odorem et frondete in gratiam et conlaudate canticum et benedicite Dominum in operibus suis

39:20. Magnify his name, and give glory to him with the voice of your lips, and with the canticles of your mouths, and with harps, and in praising him, you shall say in this manner:

Date nomini eius magnificentiam et confitemini illi in voce labiorum vestrorum in canticis labiorum et cinyris et sic dicetis in confessione

39:21. All the works of the Lord are exceeding good.

Opera Domini universa bona valde

39:22. At his word the waters stood as a heap: and at the words of his mouth the receptacles of waters:

In verbo eius stetit aqua sicut congeries et in sermone oris eius sicut exceptoria aquarum

39:23. For at his commandment favour is shown, and there is no diminishing of his salvation.

Quoniam in praecepto ipsius placor fit et non est minoratio in salute illius

39:24. The works of all flesh are before him, and there is nothing hid from his eyes.

Opera omnis carnis coram illo et non est quicquam absconditum ab oculis eius

39:25. He seeth from eternity to eternity, and there is nothing wonderful before him.

A saeculo usque in saeculum respicit et nihil est mirabile in conspectu eius

39:26. There is no saying: What is this, or what is that? for all things shall be sought in their time.

Non est dicere quid est hoc aut quid est illud omnia enim in tempore suo quaerentur

39:27. His  blessing  hath overflowed like a river.

Benedictio illius quasi fluvius inundavit

39:28. And as a flood hath watered the earth; so shall his wrath inherit the nations, that have not sought after him.

Et quomodo cataclysmus aridam inebriavit sic ira ipsius gentes quae non exquisierunt eum hereditabit

39:29. Even as he turned the waters into a dry land, and the earth was made dry: and his ways were made plain for their journey: so to sinners they are stumblingblocks in his wrath.

Quomodo convertit aquas et siccata est terra et viae illius viis illorum directae sunt sic peccatoribus offensiones in ira eius

39:30. Good things were created for the good from the beginning, so for the wicked, good and evil things.

Bona bonis creata sunt ab initio sic nequissimis bona et mala

39:31. The principal things necessary for the life of men, are water, fire, and iron, salt, milk, and bread of flour, and honey, and the cluster of the grape, and oil, and clothing.

Initium necessariae rei vitae hominum aqua ignis et ferrum lac et panis similagineus et mel et botrus uvae et oleum et vestimentum

39:32. All these things shall be for good to the holy, so to the sinners and the ungodly they shall be turned into evil.

Haec omnia sanctis in bona sic et impiis et peccatoribus in mala convertentur

39:33. There are spirits that are created for vengeance, and in their fury they lay on grievous torments.

Sunt spiritus qui ad vindictam creati sunt et in furore suo confirmaverunt tormenta sua

39:34. In the time of destruction they shall pour out their force: and they shall appease the wrath of him that made them.

In tempore consummationis effudent virtutem et furorem eius qui fecit illos confundent

39:35. Fire, hail, famine, and death, all these were created for vengeance.

Ignis grando famis et mors omnia haec ad vindictam creata sunt

39:36. The teeth of beasts, and scorpions, and serpents, and the sword taking vengeance upon the ungodly unto destruction.

Bestiarum dentes et scorpium et serpentes et romphea vindicans in exterminium impios

39:37. In his commandments they shall feast, and they shall be ready upon earth when need is, and when their time is come they shall not transgress his word.

In mandatis eius epulabuntur et super terram in necessitatem praeparabuntur et in temporibus suis non praeterient verbum

39:38. Therefore from the beginning I was resolved, and I have meditated, and thought on these things and left them in writing,

Propterea ab initio confirmatus et consiliatus sum et cogitavi et in scripta dimisi

39:39. All the works of the Lord are good, and he will furnish every work in due time.

Omnia opera Domini bona et omne opus hora sua subministrabit

39:40. It is not to be said: This is worse than that: for all shall be well approved in their time.

Non est dicere hoc illo nequius est omnia enim in tempore suo conprobabuntur

39:41. Now therefore with the whole heart and mouth praise ye him, and bless the name of the Lord.

Et nunc in omni corde et ore conlaudate et benedicite nomen Domini

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 40

The miseries of the life of man are relieved by the grace of God and his fear.

40:1. Great labour is created for all men, and a heavy yoke is upon the children of Adam from the day of their coming out of their mother's womb, until the day of their burial into the mother of all.

Occupatio magna creata est omnibus hominibus et iugum grave super filios Adam a die exitus de ventre matris eorum usque in diem sepulturae in matrem omnium

40:2. Their thoughts, and fears of the heart, their imagination of things to come, and the day of their end: Cogitationes eorum et timores cordis adinventio expectationis et dies finitionis

40:3. From him that sitteth on a glorious throne, unto him that is humbled in earth and ashes: Residentes super sedem gloriosam usque ad humiliatum in terra et cinere

40:4. From him that weareth purple, and beareth the crown, even to him that is covered with rough linen: wrath, envy, trouble, unquietness, and the fear of death, continual anger, and strife, Ab eo qui utitur hyacintho et portat coronam usque ad eum qui operitur lino crudo furor zelus tumultus fluctuatio et timor mortis iracundia perseverans et contentio

40:5. And in the time of rest upon his bed, the sleep of the night changeth his knowledge. Et in tempore refectionis in cubile somnus noctis inmutat scientiam eius

40:6. A little and as nothing is his rest, and afterward in sleep, as in the day of keeping watch. Modicum tamquam nihil in requie et ab eo in somnis quasi in die respectus

40:7. He is troubled in the vision of his heart, as if he had escaped in the day of battle. In the time of his safety he rose up, and wondereth that there is no fear.

Conturbatus est in visu cordis sui tamquam qui evaserit in die belli in tempore salutis suae exsurrexit et admirans ad nullum timorem

40:8. Such things happen to all flesh, from man even to beast, and upon sinners are sevenfold more. Cum omni carne ab homine usque ad pecus et super peccatores septuplum

40:9. Moreover, death, and bloodshed, strife, and sword, oppressions, famine, and affliction, and scourges:

Ad haec mors sanguis contentio et romphea oppressiones famis et contritio et flagella

40:10. All these things are created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the flood. Super iniquos creata sunt haec omnia et propter illos factus est cataclysmus

40:11. All things that are of the earth, shall return to the earth again, and all waters shall return to the sea.

Omnia quae de terra sunt in terram convertentur et aquae omnes in mare convertentur

40:12. All bribery, and injustice shall be blotted out, and fidelity shall stand for ever. Omne munus et iniquitas delebitur et fides in saeculum stabit

40:13. The riches of the unjust shall be dried up like a river, and shall pass away with a noise like a great thunder in rain.

Substantiae iniustorum sicut fluvius siccabuntur et sicut tonitruum magnum in pluvia manebunt

40:14. While he openeth his hands he shall rejoice: but transgressors shall pine away in the end. In aperiendo manus suas laetabitur sic praevaricatores in consummatione tabescent

40:15. The offspring of the ungodly shall not bring forth many branches, and make a noise as unclean roots upon the top of a rock.

Nepotes impiorum non multiplicabunt ramos et radices inmundae super cacumen petrae sonant

40:16. The weed growing over every water, and at the bank of the river, shall be pulled up before all grass.

Viriditas super omnem aquam et ad oram fluminis ante omnem faenum evelletur

40:17. Grace is like a paradise in blessings, and mercy remaineth for ever.

Gratia sicut paradus in benedictionibus et misericordia in saeculo permanet

40:18. The life of a laborer that is content with what he hath, shall be sweet, and in it thou shalt find a treasure.

Vita sibi sufficientis operarii condulcabitur et in ea invenies thesaurum

40:19. Children, and the building of a city shall establish a name, but a blameless wife shall be counted above them both.

Fili aedificatio civitatis confirmabit nomen et super haec mulier immaculata computatur

40:20. Wine and music rejoice the heart, but the love of wisdom is above them both.

Vinum et musica laetificant cor et super utraque dilectio sapientiae

40:21. The flute and the psaltery make a sweet melody, but a pleasant tongue is above them both.

Tibiae et psalterium suavem faciunt melodiam et super utraque lingua suavis

40:22. Thy eye desireth favour and beauty, but more than these green sown fields.

Gratiam et speciem desiderabit oculus tuus et super hoc viride sationis

40:23. A friend and companion meeting together in season, but above them both is a wife with her husband.

Amicus et sodalis in tempore convenientes et super utrosque mulier cum viro

40:24. Brethren are a help in the time of trouble, but mercy shall deliver more than they.

Fratres in adiutorium in tempore tribulationis et super eos misericordia liberabit

40:25. Gold and silver make the feet stand sure: but wise counsel is above them both.

Aurum et argentum constituet pedem et super utrumque consilium beneplacitum

40:26. Riches and strength lift up the heart: but above these is the fear of the Lord.

Facultates et virtutes exaltant cor et super haec timor Domini

40:27. There is no want in the fear of the Lord, and it needeth not to seek for help.

Non est in timore Domini minoratio et non est in eo inquirere adiutorium

40:28. The fear of the Lord is like a paradise of blessing, and they have covered it above all glory.

Timor Domini sicut paradus benedictionis et super omnem gloriam operuerunt illum

40:29. My son, in thy lifetime be not indigent: for it is better to die than to want.

Fili in tempore vitae tuae ne indigeas melius est enim mori quam indigere

40:30. The life of him that looketh toward another man's table is not to be counted a life: for he feedeth his soul with another man's meat.

Vir respiciens in mensam alienam non est vita eius in cogitatione victus alit enim animam suam cibis alienis

40:31. But a man, well instructed and taught, will look to himself.

Vir autem disciplinatus et eruditus custodiet se

40:32. Begging will be sweet in the mouth of the unwise, but in his belly there shall burn a fire.

In ore inprudens condulcabitur inopia et in ventre eius ignis ardebit

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 41

Of the remembrance of death: of an evil and of a good name: of what things we ought to be ashamed.

---

41:1. O death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that hath peace in his possessions!
O mors quam amara est memoria tua homini pacem habenti in substantiis suis

41:2. To a man that is at rest, and whose ways are prosperous in all things, and that is yet able to take meat!
Viro quieto et cuius viae directae sunt in omnibus et adhuc valenti accipere cibum

41:3. O death thy sentence is welcome to the man that is in need, and to him whose strength faileth:
O mors bonum est iudicium tuum homini indigenti et qui minoratur viribus

41:4. Who is in a decrepit age, and that is in care about all things, and to the distrustful that loseth patience!
Defecto aetate et cui de omnibus cura est et incredibili qui perdit sapientiam

41:5. Fear not the sentence of death. Remember what things have been before thee, and what shall come after thee: this sentence is from the Lord upon all flesh.
Noli metuere iudicium mortis memento quae ante te fuerunt et quae superventura sunt tibi hoc iudicium a Domino omni carni

41:6. And what shall come upon thee by the good pleasure of the most High? whether ten, or a hundred, or a thousand years.
Et quid superveniet in beneplacita Altissimi sive decem sive centum sive mille anni

41:7. For among the dead there is no accusing of life.
Non est enim in inferno accusatio vitae

41:8. The children of sinners become children of abominations, and they that converse near the houses of the ungodly.
Fili abominationum fiunt filii peccatorum et qui conversantur secus domos impiorum

41:9. The inheritance of the children of sinners shall perish, and with their posterity shall be a perpetual reproach.
Filiorum peccatorum periet hereditas et cum semine illorum adsiduitas obprobrii

41:10. The children will complain of an ungodly father, because for his sake they are in reproach.
De patre impio queruntur filii quoniam propter illum sunt in obprobrio

41:11. Woe to you, ungodly men, who have forsaken the law of the most high Lord.
Vae vobis viri impii qui dereliquistis legem Domini altissimi

41:12. And if you be born, you shall be born in malediction: and if you die, in malediction shall be your portion.
Et si nati fueritis in maledictione nascemini et si mortui fueritis in maledictione erit pars vestra

41:13. All things that are of the earth, shall return into the earth: so the ungodly shall from malediction to destruction.
Omnia quae de terra sunt in terram convertentur sic impii a maledicto in perditionem

41:14. The mourning of men is about their body, but the name of the ungodly shall be blotted out.
Luctus hominum in corpore ipsorum nomen autem impiorum delebitur

41:15. Take care of a good name: for this shall continue with thee, more than a thousand treasures precious and great.

Curam habe de bono nomine hoc enim magis permanebit tibi quam mille thesauri magni pretiosi

41:16. A good life hath its number of days: but a good name shall continue for ever.

Bonae vitae numerus dierum bonum autem nomen permanebit in aevo

41:17. My children, keep discipline in peace: for wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seen, what profit is there in them both?

Disciplinam in pace conservate filii sapientia enim abscondita et thesaurus occultus quae utilitas in utrisque

41:18. Better is the man that hideth his folly, than the man that hideth his wisdom.

Melior est homo qui abscondit stultitiam suam quam homo qui abscondit sapientiam suam

41:19. Wherefore have a shame of these things I am now going to speak of. *

Verumtamen reveremini in his quae procedunt de ore meo

Have a shame, etc... That is to say, be ashamed of doing any of these things, which I am now going to mention; for though sometimes shamefacedness is not to be indulged: yet it is often good and necessary: as in the following cases.

41:20. For it is not good to keep all shamefacedness: and all things do not please all men in opinion.

Non est enim bonum omnem inreverentiam observare et non omnia omnibus beneplacent in fide

41:21. Be ashamed of fornication before father and mother: and of a lie before a governor and a man in power:

Erubescite matrem et patrem de fornicatione et a praesidente et potente de mendacio

41:22. Of an offence before a prince, and a judge: of iniquity before a congregation and a people:

A principe et iudice de delicto a synagoga et plebe de iniquitate

41:23. Of injustice before a companion and friend: and in regard to the place where thou dwellest,

A socio et amico de iniustitia de loco in quo habitas

41:24. Of theft, and of the truth of God, and the covenant: of leaning with thy elbow over meat, and of deceit in giving and taking:

De furto de veritate Dei et testamento de discubitu in panibus et ab offuscatione dati et accepti

41:25. Of silence before them that salute thee: of looking upon a harlot: and of turning away thy face from thy kinsman.

A salutantibus de silentio a respectu mulieris fornicariae et ab aversione vultus cognati

41:26. Turn not away thy face from thy neighbour, and of taking away a portion and not restoring.

Ne avertas faciem a proximo tuo ab auferendo partem et non restituendo

41:27. Gaze not upon another man's wife, and be not inquisitive after his handmaid, and approach not her bed.

Ne respicias mulierem alieni viri et ne scruteris ancillam eius neque steteris ad lectum eius

41:28. Be ashamed of upbraiding speeches before friends: and after thou hast given, upbraid not.

Ab amicis de sermonibus inproperii et cum dederis ne inproperes

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 42

Of what things we ought not to be ashamed. Cautions with regard to women. The works and greatness of God.

42:1. Repeat not the word which thou hast heard, and disclose not the thing that is secret; so shalt thou be truly without confusion, and shalt find favour before all men: be not ashamed of any of these things, and accept no person to sin thereby:

Non duplices sermonem auditus de revelatione sermonis absconditi et eris vere sine confusione et invenies gratiam in conspectu omnium hominum ne pro his omnibus confundaris et ne accipias personam ut delinquas

42:2. Of the law of the most High, and of his covenant, and of judgment to justify the ungodly:

De lege Altissimi et testamento et de iudicio iustificare impium

42:3. Of the affair of companions and travellers, and of the gift of the inheritance of friends:

De verbo sociorum et viatorum et de datione hereditatis amicorum

42:4. Of exactness of balance and weights, of getting much or little:

De aequalitate staterae et ponderum et de acquisitione multorum et paucorum

42:5. Of the corruption of buying, and of merchants, and of much correction of children, and to make the side of a wicked slave to bleed.

De correptione emptionis et negotiatorum et de multa disciplina filiorum servo pessimo latus sanguinare

42:6. Sure keeping is good over a wicked wife.

Super mulierem nequam bonum est signum

42:7. Where there are many hands, shut up, and deliver all things in number, and weight: and put all in writing that thou givest out or receivest in.

Ubi manus multae sunt clude et quodcumque trades numera et adpende datum vero et acceptum omne describe

42:8. Be not ashamed to inform the unwise and foolish, and the aged, that are judged by young men: and thou shalt be well instructed in all things, and well approved in the sight of all men living.

De disciplina insensati et fatui et de senioribus qui iudicantur ab adolescentibus et eris eruditus in omnibus et probabilis in conspectu omnium virorum

42:9. The father waketh for the daughter when no man knoweth, and the care for her taketh away his sleep, when she is young, lest she pass away the flower of her age, and when she is married, lest she should be hateful:

Filia patri abscondita est vigilia et sollicitudo eius auferet somnum ne forte in adolescentia sua adultera efficiatur et commorata cum viro odibilis fiat

42:10. In her virginity, lest she should be corrupted, and be found with child in her father's house: and having a husband, lest she should misbehave herself, or at the least become barren.

Nequando polluatur in virginitate sua et in paternis suis gravida inveniatur ne forte cum viro commorata transgrediatur aut certe sterilis efficiatur

42:11. Keep a sure watch over a shameless daughter: lest at anytime she make thee become a laughingstock to thy enemies, and a byword in the city, and a reproach among the people, and she make thee ashamed before all the multitude.

Super filiam luxuriosam confirma custodiam nequando faciat te in obprobrium venire inimicis a detractatione in civitate et abiectioe plebis et confundat te in multitudine populi

42:12. Behold not everybody's beauty: and tarry not among women.

Omni homini noli intendere in specie et in medio mulierum noli commorari

42:13. For from garments cometh a moth, and from a woman the iniquity of a man.

De vestimentis enim procedit tinea et a muliere iniquitas viri

42:14. For better is the iniquity of a man, than a woman doing a good turn, and a woman bringing shame and reproach. *

Melior est iniquitas viri quam benefaciens mulier et mulier confundens in obprobrium

Better is the iniquity, etc... That is, there is, commonly speaking, less danger to be apprehended to the soul from the churlishness, or injuries we receive from men, than from the flattering favours and familiarity of women.

42:15. I will now remember the works of the Lord, and I will declare the things I have seen. By the words of the Lord are his works.

Memor ero igitur operum Domini et quae vidi adnuntiabo in sermonibus Domini opera eius

42:16. The sun giving light hath looked upon all things, and full of the glory of the Lord is his work.

Sol inluminans per omnia respexit et gloria Domini plenum est opus eius

42:17. Hath not the Lord made the saints to declare all his wonderful works, which the Lord Almighty hath firmly settled to be established for his glory?

Nonne Dominus fecit sanctos enarrare omnia mirabilia sua quae confirmavit Dominus omnipotens stabiliri in gloria sua

42:18. He hath searched out the deep, and the heart of men: and considered their crafty devices.

Abyssum et cor hominum investigavit et in astutia illorum excogitavit

42:19. For the Lord knoweth all knowledge, and hath beheld the signs of the world, he declareth the things that are past, and the things that are to come, and revealeth the traces of hidden things.

Cognovit enim Dominus omnem scientiam et inspexit in signum aevi adnuntians quae praeterierunt et quae superventura sunt revelans vestigia occultorum

42:20. No thought escapeth him, and no word can hide itself from him.

Non praeterit illum omnis cogitatus et non abscondit se ab eo ullus sermo

42:21. He hath beautified the glorious works of his wisdom: and he is from eternity to eternity, and to him nothing may be added,

Magnalia sapientiae suae decoravit qui est ante saeculum et usque in saeculum neque adiectum est

42:22. Nor can he be diminished, and he hath no need of any counsellor.

Neque minuitur et non eget alicuius consilio

42:23. O how desirable are all his works, and what we can know is but as a spark!

Quam desiderabilia omnia opera eius et tamquam scintillam quam est considerare

42:24. All these things live, and remain for ever, and for every use all things obey him.

Omnia haec vivent et manent in saeculum et in omni necessitate omnia obaudiunt ei

42:25. All things are double, one against another, and he hath made nothing defective.

Omnia duplicia unum contra unum et non fecit quicquam deesse

42:26. He hath established the good things of every one. And who shall be filled with beholding his glory?

Uniuscuiusque confirmavit bona et quis satiabitur videns gloriam eius

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 43

The works of God are exceedingly glorious and wonderful: no man is able sufficiently to praise him.

---

43:1. The firmament on high is his beauty, the beauty of heaven with its glorious show.

Altitudinis firmamentum pulchritudo est species caeli in visione gloriae

43:2. The sun when he appeareth showing forth at his rising, an admirable instrument, the work of the most High.

Sol in aspectu adnuntians in exitu vas admirabile opus Excelsi

43:3. At noon he burneth the earth, and who can abide his burning heat? As one keeping a furnace in the works of heat:

In meridiano exuret terram in conspectu ardoris eius quis poterit sustinere fornacem custodiens in operibus ardoris

43:4. The sun three times as much, burneth the mountains, breathing out fiery vapours, and shining with his beams, he blindeth the eyes.

Tripliciter sol exurens montes radios igneos exsufflans et refulgens radiis suis obcaecat oculos

43:5. Great is the Lord that made him, and at his words he hath hastened his course.

Magnus Dominus qui fecit illum et in sermonibus eius festinavit iter

43:6. And the moon in all in her season, is for a declaration of times and a sign of the world.

Et luna in omnibus in tempore suo ostensio temporis et signum aevi

43:7. From the moon is the sign of the festival day, a light that decreaseth in her perfection.

A luna signum diei festi luminare quod minuitur in consummatione

43:8. The month is called after her name, increasing wonderfully in her perfection.

Mensis secundum nomen eius est crescens admirabiliter in consummatione

43:9. Being an instrument of the armies on high, shining gloriously in the firmament of heaven.

Vas castrorum in excelsis in firmamento caeli resplendens

43:10. The glory of the stars is the beauty of heaven; the Lord enlighteneth the world on high.

Species caeli gloriosa stellarum mundum inluminans in excelsis Dominus

43:11. By the words of the holy one they stand in judgment, and shall never fall in their watches.

In verbis Sancti stabunt ad iudicium et non exardescent in vigiliis suis

43:12. Look upon the rainbow, and bless him that made it: it is very beautiful in its brightness.

Vide arcum et benedic qui fecit illum valde speciosus est in splendore suo

43:13. It encompasseth the heaven about with the circle of its glory, the hands of the most High have displayed it.

Gyravit caelum in circuitu gloriae suae manus Excelsi aperuerunt illum

43:14. By his commandment he maketh the snow to fall apace, and sendeth forth swiftly the lightnings of his judgment.

Imperio suo adceleravit nivem et adcelerat coruscationes emittere iudicii sui

43:15. Through this are the treasures opened, and the clouds fly out like birds.

Propterea aperti sunt thesauri et evolaverunt nebulae sicut aves

43:16. By his greatness he hath fixed the clouds, and the hailstones are broken.

In magnitudine sua posuit nubes et confracti sunt lapides grandinis

43:17. At his sight shall the mountains be shaken, and at his will the south wind shall blow.

In conspectu eius commovebuntur montes et in voluntate eius adspirabit notus

43:18. The noise of his thunder shall strike the earth, so doth the northern storm, and the whirlwind:

Vox tonitruus eius exprobravit terram tempestas aquilonis et congregatio spiritus

43:19. And as the birds lighting upon the earth, he scattereth snow, and the falling thereof, is as the coming down of locusts.

Sicut avis deponens ad sedendum aspargit nivem et sicut lucusta demergens descensus eius

43:20. The eye admireth at the beauty of the whiteness thereof, and the heart is astonished at the shower thereof.

Pulchritudinem coloris eius admirabitur oculus et super imbrem eius expavescet cor

43:21. He shall pour frost as salt upon the earth: and when it freezeth, it shall become like the tops of thistles.

Gelum sicut salem effundet super terram et dum gelaverit fiet tamquam cacumina tribuli

43:22. The cold north wind bloweth, and the water is congealed into crystal; upon every gathering together of waters it shall rest, and shall clothe the waters as a breastplate.

Frigidus ventus aquilo flabit et gelabit cristallus ab aqua super omnem congregationem aquarum requiescet et sicut lorica induet se aquis

43:23. And it shall devour the mountains, and burn the wilderness, and consume all that is green as with fire.

Devorabit montes et exuret desertum et extinguet viridem sicut ignem

43:24. A present remedy of all is the speedy coming of a cloud, and a dew that meeteth it, by the heat that cometh, shall overpower it.

Medicina omnium in festinationem nebulae ros obvians ab ardore venienti humilem efficiet eum

43:25. At his word the wind is still, and with his thought he appeaseth the deep, and the Lord hath planted islands therein.

In sermone eius silebit ventus et plantavit illum Dominus Iesus

43:26. Let them that sail on the sea, tell the dangers thereof: and when we hear with our ears, we shall admire.

Qui navigat mare enarrat periculum eius et audientes auribus non admirabimur

43:27. There are great and wonderful works: a variety of beasts, and of all living things, and the monstrous creatures of whales.

Illic praeclara et mirabilia opera varia genera bestiarum et omnium pecorum et creatura beluarum

43:28. Through him is established the end of their journey, and by his word all things are regulated.

Propter ipsum confirmatus est itineris finis et in sermone eius composita sunt omnia

43:29. We shall say much, and yet shall want words: but the sum of our words is, He is all.

Multa dicemus et deficiemus verbis consummatio autem sermonum ipse est in omnibus

43:30. What shall we be able to do to glorify him? for the Almighty himself is above all his works.

Gloriantes ad quid valebimus ipse enim Omnipotens super omnia opera sua

43:31. The Lord is terrible, and exceeding great, and his power is admirable.

Terribilis Dominus et magnus vehementer

43:32. Glorify the Lord as much as ever you can, for he will yet far exceed, and his magnificence is wonderful.

Quantumcumque potueritis supervalebit adhuc et admirabilis magnificentia eius

43:33. Blessing the Lord, exalt him as much as you can; for he is above all praise.

Benedicentes Dominum exaltate illum quantum potestis maior est enim omni laude

43:34. When you exalt him put forth all your strength, and be not weary: for you can never go far enough.

Exaltantes eum replemini virtute ne laboretis non enim habebitis

43:35. Who shall see him, and declare him? and who shall magnify him as he is from the beginning?

Quis vidit eum et enarrabit et quis magnificabit eum sicut est ab initio

43:36. There are many things hidden from us that are greater than these: for we have seen but a few of his works.

Multa abscondita sunt maiora horum pauca enim vidimus operum eius

43:37. But the Lord hath made all things, and to the godly he hath given wisdom.

Omnia autem Dominus fecit et pie agentibus dedit sapientiam

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 44

The praises of the holy father, in particular of Enoch, Noe, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

---

44:1. Let us now praise men of renown and our fathers in their generation.

Laus patrum laudemus viros gloriosos et parentes nostros in generatione sua

44:2. The Lord hath wrought great glory through his magnificence from the beginning.

Multam gloriam fecit Dominus magnificentia sua a saeculo

44:3. Such as have borne rule in their dominions, men of great power, and endued with their wisdom, showing forth in the prophets the dignity of prophets,

Dominantes in potestatibus suis homines magni virtute et prudentia sua praediti nuntiantes in dignitate prophetarum

44:4. And ruling over the present people, and by the strength of wisdom instructing the people in most holy words.

Et imperantes in praesenti populo et virtute prudentiae populi sanctissima verba

44:5. Such as by their skill sought out musical tunes, and published canticles of the scriptures.

In pueritia sua requirentes modos musicos et narrantes carmina in scriptura

44:6. Rich men in virtue, studying beautifulness: living at peace in their houses.

Homines divites in virtute pulchritudinis studium habentes pacificantes in domibus suis

44:7. All these have gained glory in their generations, and were praised in their days.

Omnes isti in generationibus gentis suae gloriam adepti sunt et in diebus suis habentur in laudibus

44:8. They that were born of them have left a name behind them, that their praises might be related:

Qui de illis nati sunt reliquerunt nomen narrandi laudes eorum

44:9. And there are some, of whom there is no memorial: who are perished, as if they had never been: and are become as if they had never been born, and their children with them.

Et sunt quorum non est memoria perierunt quasi non fuerint et nati sunt quasi non nati et filii ipsorum cum illis

44:10. But these were men of mercy, whose godly deeds have not failed:

Sed illi viri misericordiae sunt quorum pietates non defuerunt

44:11. Good things continue with their seed,

Et cum semine ipsorum perseverat bona

44:12. Their posterity are a holy inheritance, and their seed hath stood in the covenants.

Hereditas nepotum illorum et in testamentis stetit semen eorum

44:13. And their children for their sakes remain for ever: their seed and their glory shall not be forsaken.

Et filii ipsorum propter illos usque in aeternum manet semen eorum et gloria eorum non derelinquetur

44:14. Their bodies are buried in peace, and their name liveth unto generation and generation.

Corpora ipsorum in pace sepulta sunt et nomen eorum vivet in generationes et generationes

44:15. Let the people show forth their wisdom, and the church declare their praise.

Sapientiam ipsorum narrent populi laudem eorum nuntiet ecclesia

44:16. Enoch pleased God, and was translated into paradise, that he may give repentance to the nations.

Enoch placuit Deo et translatus est in paradiso ut det gentibus paenitentiam

44:17. Noe was found perfect, just, and in the time of wrath he was made a reconciliation.

Noe inventus est perfectus iustus et in tempore iracundiae factus est reconciliatio

44:18. Therefore was there a remnant left to the earth, when the flood came.

Ideo dimissum est reliquum terrae cum factum est diluvium

44:19. The covenants of the world were made with him, that all flesh should no more be destroyed with the flood.

Testamenta saeculi posita sunt apud illum ne deleri possit diluvio omnis caro

44:20. Abraham was the great father of a multitude of nations, and there was not found the like to him in glory, who kept the law of the most High, and was in covenant with him.

Abraham magnus pater multitudinis gentium et non est inventus similis illi in gloria qui conservavit legem Excelsi et fuit in testamento cum illo

44:21. In his flesh he established the covenant, and in temptation he was found faithful.

In carne eius stare fecit testamentum et in temptatione inventus est fidelis

44:22. Therefore by an oath he gave him glory in his posterity, that he should increase as the dust of the earth,

Ideo iureiurando dedit illi semen in gente sua crescere illum quasi terrae cumulum

44:23. And that he would exalt his seed as the stars, and they should inherit from sea to sea, and from the river to the ends of the earth.

Et ut stellas exaltare semen eius et hereditari illos a mari usque ad mare et a Flumine usque ad terminos terrae

44:24. And he did in like manner with Isaac for the sake of Abraham his father.

Et in Isaac eodem fecit modo propter Abraham patrem ipsius

44:25. The Lord gave him the blessing of all nations, and confirmed his covenant upon the head of Jacob.

Benedictionem omnium gentium dedit illi et testamentum confirmavit super caput Iacob

44:26. He acknowledged him in his blessings, and gave him an inheritance, and divided him his portion in twelve tribes.

Agnovit eum in benedictionibus suis et dedit illi hereditatem et divisit ei partem in tribus duodecim

44:27. And he preserved for him men of mercy, that found grace in the eyes of all flesh.

Et conservavit illis homines misericordiae invenientes gratiam in oculis omnis carnis

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 45

The praises of Moses, of Aaron, and of Phinees.

45:1. Moses was beloved of God, and men: whose memory is in benediction.

Dilectus a Deo et hominibus Moses cuius memoria in benedictione est

45:2. He made him like the saints in glory, and magnified him in the fear of his enemies, and with his words he made prodigies to cease.

Similem illum fecit in gloria sanctorum et magnificavit eum in timore inimicorum et in verbis suis monstra placavit

45:3. He glorified him in the sight of kings, and gave him commandments in the sight of his people, and showed him his glory.

Glorificavit illum in conspectu regum et iussit illi coram populo suo et ostendit illi gloriam suam

45:4. He sanctified him in his faith, and meekness, and chose him out of all flesh.

In fide et lenitate ipsius sanctum fecit illum et elegit illum de omni carne

45:5. For he heard him, and his voice, and brought him into a cloud.

Audivit eum et vocem ipsius et induxit illum in nubem

45:6. And he gave him commandments before his face, and a law of life and instruction, that he might teach Jacob his covenant, and Israel his judgments.

Et dedit illi coram praecepta legem vitae et disciplinae docere Iacob testamentum et iudicia sua Israhel

45:7. He exalted Aaron his brother, and like to himself of the tribe of Levi:

Excelsum fecit Aaron fratrem eius et similem sibi de tribu Levi

45:8. He made an everlasting covenant with him, and gave him the priesthood of the nation, and made him blessed in glory,

Statuit ei testamentum aeternum et dedit illi sacerdotium gentis et beatificavit illum in gloria

45:9. And he girded him about with a glorious girdle, and clothed him with a robe of glory, and crowned him with majestic attire.

Et circumcinxit illum zonam gloriae induit illum stolam gloriae et coronavit illum in vasis virtutis

45:10. He put upon him a garment to the feet, and breeches, and an ephod, and he compassed him with many little bells of gold all round about,

Circumpedes et femoralia et umeralem posuit ei et cinxit illum tintinabulis aureis plurimis in gyro

45:11. That as he went there might be a sound, and a noise made that might be heard in the temple, for a memorial to the children of his people.

Dare sonitum in successu suo auditum facere sonitum in templo in memoriam filiis gentis suae

45:12. He gave him a holy robe of gold, and blue, and purple, a woven work of a wise man, endued with judgment and truth:

Stola sancta auro et hyacintho et purpura opus textile viri sapientis iudicio et veritate praediti

45:13. Of twisted scarlet the work of an artist, with precious stones cut and set in gold, and graven by the work of a lapidary for a memorial, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

Torto cocco opus artificis gemmis pretiosis figuratis in ligatura auri et opere lapidarii sculptilis in memoriam secundum numerum tribuum Israhel

45:14. And a crown of gold upon his mitre wherein was engraved Holiness, an ornament of honour: a work of power, and delightful to the eyes for its beauty.

Coronam auream supra mitram eius expressam signo sanctitatis gloria honoris et opus virtutis desideria oculorum ornata

45:15. Before him there were none so beautiful, even from the beginning.
Sic pulchra ante ipsum non fuerunt talia usque ad originem

45:16. No stranger was ever clothed with them, but only his children alone, and his grandchildren for ever.

Non indutus est illa alienigena aliquis sed tantum filii ipsius soli et nepotes eius per omne tempus

45:17. His sacrifices were consumed with fire every day.
Sacrificia ipsius consumpta sunt igni cotidie

45:18. Moses filled his hands and anointed him with holy oil.
Conplevit Moses manus eius et unxit illum oleo sancto

45:19. This was made to him for an everlasting testament, and to his seed as the days of heaven, to execute the office of the priesthood, and to have praise, and to glorify his people in his name.
Factum est illi in testamentum aeternum et semini eius sicut dies caeli fungi sacerdotio et habere laudem et glorificare populum suum in nomine suo

45:20. He chose him out of all men living, to offer sacrifice to God, incense, and a good savour, for a memorial to make reconciliation for his people:
Ipsam elegit eum ab omni vivente adferre sacrificium Deo incensum et bonum odorem in memoriam placere populo suo

45:21. And he gave him power in his commandments, in the covenants of his judgments, that he should teach Jacob his testimonies, and give light to Israel in his law.
Dedit illi in praeceptis suis potestatem in testamentis iudiciorum docere Iacob testimonia et in lege sua lucem dare Israhel

45:22. And strangers stood up against him, and through envy the men that were with Dathan and Abiron, compassed him about in the wilderness, and the congregation of Core in their wrath.
Quia contra illum steterunt alieni et propter invidiam circumdederunt illum in deserto homines qui erant cum Dathan et Abiron et congregatio Chore in iracundiam

45:23. The Lord God saw and it pleased him not, and they were consumed in his wrathful indignation.
Vidit Dominus Deus et non placuit illi et consumpti sunt in impetu iracundiae

45:24. He wrought wonders upon them, and consumed them with a flame of fire.
Fecit illis monstra et consumpsit eos in flamma ignis

45:25. And he added glory to Aaron, and gave him an inheritance, and divided unto him the firstfruits of the increase of the earth.
Et addidit Aaron gloriam et dedit illi hereditatem et primitias fructuum terrae divisit illi

45:26. He prepared them bread in the first place unto fulness: for the sacrifices also of the Lord they shall eat, which he gave to him, and to his seed.
Panem ipsis in primis paravit in satietatem nam sacrificia Domini edent quae dedit ipsi et semini eius

45:27. But he shall not inherit among the people in the land, and he hath no portion among the people: for he himself is his portion and inheritance.
Ceterum in terra gentes hereditabit et pars non est illi in gente ipse enim pars eius est et hereditas

45:28. Phinees the son of Eleazar is the third in glory, by imitating him in the fear of the Lord:
Et Finees filius Eleazari tertius in gloria est in imitando tantum in timore Domini

45:29. And he stood up in the shameful fall of the people: in the goodness and readiness of his soul he appeased God for Israel.
Et stare in reverentia gentis in bonitate et alacritate animae suae placuit de Israhel

45:30. Therefore he made to him a covenant of peace, to be the prince of the sanctuary, and of his people, that the dignity of priesthood should be to him and to his seed for ever.

Ideo statuit ad illum testamentum pacis principem sanctorum et gentis suae ut sit illi in sacerdotium sui dignitas in aeternum

45:31. And a covenant to David the king, the son of Jesse of the tribe of Juda, an inheritance to him and to his seed, that he might give wisdom into our heart to judge his people in justice, that their good things might not be abolished, and he made their glory in their nation everlasting.

Et testamentum David regi filio Iesse de tribu Iuda hereditas ipsi et semini eius ut daret sapientiam in cor nostrum iudicare gentem suam in iustitia ne abolerentur bona ipsorum et gloriam eorum in gentem ipsorum aeternam fecit

The praise of Josue, of Caleb, and of Samuel.

46:1. Valiant in war was Jesus the son of Nave, who was successor of Moses among the prophets, who was great according to his name,*

Fortis in bello Iesus Nave successor Mosi in prophetis qui fuit magnus secundum nomen suum

Jesus the son of Nave... So Josue is named in the Greek Bibles. For Josue and Jesus signify the same thing, viz., a saviour.

46:2. Very great for the saving the elect of God, to overthrow the enemies that rose up against them, that he might get the inheritance for Israel.

Maximus in salutem electorum Dei expugnare insurgentes hostes ut consequeretur hereditatem Israhel

46:3. How great glory did he gain when he lifted up his hands, and stretched out swords against the cities?

Quam gloriam adeptus est in tollendo manus suas et iactando contra civitatem rompheas

46:4. Who before him hath so resisted? for the Lord himself brought the enemies.

Quis ante illum sic restitit nam hostes ipse Dominus perduxit

46:5. Was not the sun stopped in his anger, and one day made as two?

Aut non in iracundia eius inpeditus est sol et una dies facta est quasi duo

46:6. He called upon the most high Sovereign when the enemies assaulted him on every side, and the great and holy God heard him by hailstones of exceeding great force.

Invocavit Altissimum potentem in obpugnando inimicos undique et audivit illum magnus et sanctus Deus in saxis grandinis virtutis valde fortis

46:7. He made a violent assault against the nation of his enemies, and in the descent he destroyed the adversaries.*

Impetum fecit contra gentem hostilem et in descensu perdidit contrarios

And in the descent... Of Beth-horon (Joshua 10).

46:8. That the nations might know his power, that it is not easy to fight against God. And he followed the mighty one:

Ut cognoscant gentes potentiam eius quia contra Dominum pugnare non est facile et secutus est a tergo potentes

46:9. And in the days of Moses he did a work of mercy, he and Caleb the son of Jephone, in standing against the enemy, and withholding the people from sins, and appeasing the wicked murmuring.

Et in diebus Mosi misericordiam fecit ipse et Chaleb filius Iepphone stare contra hostem prohibere gentem a peccatis et perfringere murmur malitiae

46:10. And they two being appointed, were delivered out of the danger from among the number of six hundred thousand men on foot, to bring them into their inheritance, into the land that floweth with milk and honey.

Et ipsi duo constituti a periculo liberati sunt a numero sescentorum milium peditum inducere illos in hereditatem in terram quae manat lac et mel

46:11. And the Lord gave strength also to Caleb, and his strength continued even to his old age, so that he went up to the high places of the land, and his seed obtained it for an inheritance:

Et dedit Dominus ipsi Chaleb fortitudinem et usque ad senectutem permansit illi virtus ut ascenderet in excelsum terrae locum et semen ipsius obtinuit hereditatem

46:12. That all the children of Israel might see, that it is good to obey the holy God.

Ut viderent omnes filii Israhel quod bonum est obsequi sancto Deo

46:13. Then all the judges, every one by name, whose heart was not corrupted: who turned not away from the Lord,

Et iudices singuli suo nomine quorum non est corruptum cor qui non aversi sunt a Domino

46:14. That their memory might be blessed, and their bones spring up out of their place,

Ut sit memoria illorum in benedictione et ossa eorum pullulent de loco suo

46:15. And their name continue for ever, the glory of the holy men remaining unto their children.

Et nomen eorum permanet in aeternum permanens ad filios illorum sanctorum virorum gloria

46:16. Samuel the prophet of the Lord, the beloved of the Lord his God, established a new government, and anointed princes over his people.

Dilectus a Domino suo Samuhel propheta Domini renovavit imperium et unxit principes in gente sua

46:17. By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation, and the God of Jacob beheld, and by his fidelity he was proved a prophet.

In lege Domini iudicavit congregationem et vidit Dominus Iacob et in fide sua probatus est propheta

46:18. And he was known to be faithful in his words, because he saw the God of light:

Et cognitus est in verbis suis fidelis quia vidit Deum lucis

46:19. And called upon the name of the Lord Almighty, in fighting against the enemies who beset him on every side, when he offered a lamb without blemish.

Et invocavit Deum potentem in obpugnando hostes circumstantes undique in oblatione viri inviolati

46:20. And the Lord thundered from heaven, and with a great noise made his voice to be heard.

Et intonuit e caelo Dominus et in sonitu magno auditam fecit vocem suam

46:21. And he crushed the princes of the Tyrians, and all the lords of the Philistines:

Et conteruit principes Tyrriorum et omnes duces Philisthim

46:22. And before the time of the end of his life in the world, he protested before the Lord, and his anointed: money, or any thing else, even to a shoe, he had not taken of any man, and no man did accuse him.

Et ante tempus finis vitae suae et saeculi testimonium praebuit in conspectu Domini et christi pecunias et usque ad calciamenta ab omni carne non accepit et non accusavit illum homo

46:23. And after this he slept, and he made known to the king, and showed him the end of his life, and he lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy to blot out the wickedness of the nation.

Et post hoc dormivit et notum fecit regi et ostendit illi finem vitae suae et exaltavit vocem eius de terra in prophetia delere impietatem gentis

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 47

The praise of Nathan, of David, and of Solomon: Of his fall and punishment.

47:1. Then Nathan the prophet arose in the days of David.

Post hoc surrexit Nathan propheta in diebus David

47:2. And as the fat taken away from the flesh, so was David chosen from among the children of Israel.

Et quasi adeps separatus est a carne sic David a filiis Israhel

47:3. He played with lions as with lambs: and with bears he did in like manner as with the lambs of the flock, in his youth.

Cum leonibus lusit quasi cum agnis et in ursis similiter fecit sicut cum agnis ovium in iuventute sua

47:4. Did not he kill the giant, and take away reproach from his people?

Numquid non occidit gigantem et extulit obprobrium de gente

47:5. In lifting up his hand, with the stone in the sling he beat down the boasting of Goliath:

In tollendo manum in saxo fundae deiecit exultationem Goliae

47:6. For he called upon the Lord the Almighty, and he gave strength in his right hand, to take away the mighty warrior, and to set up the horn of his nation.

Ubi invocavit Dominum potentem et dedit in dexteram eius tollere hominem fortem in bello et exaltare cornum gentis suae

47:7. So in ten thousand did he glorify him, and praised him in the blessings of the Lord, in offering to him a crown of glory:

Sic in milibus glorificavit illum et laudavit eum in benedictionibus Domini in offerendo illi coronam gloriae

47:8. For he destroyed the enemies on every side, and extirpated the Philistines the adversaries unto this day: he broke their horn for ever.

Conteruit enim inimicos undique et extirpavit Philisthim contrarios usque in hodiernum diem conteruit cornum ipsorum usque in aeternum

47:9. In all his works he gave thanks to the holy one, and to the most High, with words of glory.

In omni opere dedit confessionem Sancto et Excelso in verbo gloriae

47:10. With his whole heart he praised the Lord, and loved God that made him: and he gave him power against his enemies:

De omni corde suo laudavit Dominum et dilexit Deum qui fecit illum et dedit illi contra inimicos potentiam

47:11. And he set singers before the altar, and by their voices he made sweet melody.

Et stare fecit cantores contra altarium et in sono eorum dulces fecit modos

47:12. And to the festivals he added beauty, and set in order the solemn times even to the end of his life, that they should praise the holy name of the Lord, and magnify the holiness of God in the morning.

Et dedit in celebrationibus decus et ornavit tempora usque ad consummationem vitae ut laudarent sanctum nomen Domini et amplificarent mane Dei sanctitatem

47:13. The Lord took away his sins, and exalted his horn for ever: and he gave him a covenant of the kingdom, and a throne of glory in Israel.

Christus purgavit peccata ipsius et exaltavit in aeternum cornum ipsius et dedit illi testamentum regum et sedem gloriae in Israhel

47:14. After him arose up a wise son, and for his sake he cast down all the power of the enemies.
Post ipsum surrexit filius sensatus et propter illum deiecit omnem potentiam inimicorum

47:15. Solomon reigned in days of peace, and God brought all his enemies under him, that he might build a house in his name, and prepare a sanctuary for ever: O how wise wast thou in thy youth!
Salomon imperavit in diebus pacis cui subiecit Deus omnes hostes ut conderet domum in nomine suo et pararet sanctitatem in sempiternum quemadmodum eruditus est in iuventute sua

47:16. And thou wast filled as a river with wisdom, and thy soul covered the earth.
Et impletus est quasi flumen sapientia et terram retexit anima tua

47:17. And thou didst multiply riddles in parables: thy name went abroad to the islands far off, and thou wast beloved in thy peace.
Et replesti in conparationibus enigmata ad insulas longe distulisti nomen tuum et dilectus es in pace tua

47:18. The countries wondered at thee for thy canticles, and proverbs, and parables, and interpretations, In cantilenis et proverbiiis et conparationibus et interpretationibus miratae sunt te terrae

47:19. And at the name of the Lord God, whose surname is, God of Israel.
Et in nomine Domini Dei cui est cognomen Deus Israhel

47:20. Thou didst gather gold as copper, and didst multiply silver as lead, Collegisti quasi auricalcum aurum et ut plumbum conplesti argentum

47:21. And thou didst bow thyself to women: and by thy body thou wast brought under subjection.
Et reclinasti femora tua mulieribus potestatem habuisti in tuo corpore

47:22. Thou hast stained thy glory, and defiled thy seed so as to bring wrath upon thy children, and to have thy folly kindled,
Dedisti maculam in gloria tua et profugasti semen tuum inducere iracundiam ad liberos tuos et incitari stultitiam tuam

47:23. That thou shouldst make the kingdom to be divided, and out of Ephraim a rebellious kingdom to rule.
Ut faceres imperium bipertitum et ex Efraim imperare imperium durum

47:24. But God will not leave off his mercy, and he will not destroy, nor abolish his own works, neither will he cut up by the roots the offspring of his elect: and he will not utterly take away the seed of him that loveth the Lord.
Deus autem non relinquit misericordiam suam et non corrumpit nec delebit opera sua neque perdet ab stirpe nepotes electi sui et semen eius qui diligit Dominum non corrumpet

47:25. Wherefore he gave a remnant to Jacob, and to David of the same stock.
Dedit autem reliquum Iacob et David de ipsa stirpe

47:26. And Solomon had an end with his fathers.
Et finem habuit Salomon cum patribus suis

47:27. And he left behind him of his seed, the folly of the nation,
Et reliquit post se de semine suo gentis stultitiam

47:28. Even Roboam that had little wisdom, who turned away the people through his counsel:
Et mutum prudentia Roboam qui avertit gentem consilio suo

47:29. And Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who caused Israel to sin, and showed Ephraim the way of sin, and their sins were multiplied exceedingly.
Et Hieroboam filium Nabath qui peccare fecit Israhel et dedit Efraim viam peccandi et plurima redundaverunt peccata ipsorum

47:30. They removed them far away from their land.
Valde averterunt illos a terra sua

47:31. And they sought out all iniquities, till vengeance came upon them, and put an end to all their sins.
Et quaesivit omnes nequitias usque dum perveniret ad illos defensio et ab omnibus peccatis liberavit eos

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 48

The praise of Elias, of Eliseus, of Ezechias, and of Isaias.

48:1. And Elias the prophet stood up, as a fire, and his word burnt like a torch.

Et surrexit Helias propheta quasi ignis et verbum ipsius quasi fax ardebat

48:2. He brought a famine upon them, and they that provoked him in their envy, were reduced to a small number, for they could not endure the commandments of the Lord.

Qui induxit in illos famem et imitantes illum invidia sua pauci facti sunt non poterant enim sustinere praecepta Domini

48:3. By the word of the Lord he shut up the heaven, and he brought down fire from heaven thrice.

Verbo Domini exaltavit caelum et deiecit a se ignem terrae

48:4. Thus was Elias magnified in his wondrous works. And who can glory like to thee?

Sic amplificatus est Helias in mirabilibus suis et quis potest similiter gloriari tibi

48:5. Who raisedst up a dead man from below, from the lot of death, by the word of the Lord God.

Qui sustulisti mortuum ab inferis de sorte mortis in verbo Domini Dei

48:6. Who broughtest down kings to destruction, and brokest easily their power in pieces, and the glorious from their bed.

Qui deiecisti reges ad perniciem et confregisti facile potentiam ipsorum et gloriosos de lecto suo

48:7. Who heardest judgment in Sina, and in Horeb the judgments of vengeance.

Qui audis in Sina iudicium et in Coreb iudicia defensionis

48:8. Who anointedst kings to penance, and madest prophets successors after thee.

Qui unges reges ad paenitentiam et prophetas facis successores post te

48:9. Who wast taken up in a whirlwind of fire, in a chariot of fiery horses.

Qui receptus es in turbine ignis in curru equorum igneorum

48:10. Who art registered in the judgments of times to appease the wrath of the Lord, to reconcile the heart of the father to the son, and to restore the tribes of Jacob.

Qui inscriptus es iudiciis temporum et lenis iracundiam Domini conciliare cor patris ad filium et restituere tribus Iacob

48:11. Blessed are they that saw thee, and were honoured with thy friendship.

Beati sunt qui te viderunt et in amicitia tua decorati sunt

48:12. For we live only in our life, but after death our name shall not be such.

Nam nos vita vivimus tantum post mortem autem non erit tale nomen nostrum

48:13. Elias was indeed covered with the whirlwind, and his spirit was filled up in Eliseus: in his days he feared not the prince, and no man was more powerful than he.

Helias qui in turbine tectus est et in Heliseo completus est spiritus eius in diebus suis non pertimuit principem et potentia nemo vicit illum

48:14. No word could overcome him, and after death his body prophesied.

Nec superavit illum verbum aliquod et mortuum prophetavit corpus eius

48:15. In his life he did great wonders, and in death he wrought miracles.

In vita sua fecit monstra et in morte mirabilia opera ipsius

48:16. For all this the people repented not, neither did they depart from their sins till they were cast out of their land, and were scattered through all the earth.

In omnibus istis non paenituit populum et non recesserunt a peccatis suis usque dum deiecti sunt de terra sua et dispersi sunt in omnem terram

48:17. And there was left but a small people, and a prince in the house of David.

Et relicta est gens perpauca et princeps in domo David

48:18. Some of these did that which pleased God: but others committed many sins.

Quidam ipsorum fecerunt quod placeret Deo alii autem multa commiserunt peccata

48:19. Ezechias fortified his city, and brought in water into the midst thereof, and he digged a rock with iron, and made a well for water.

Ezechias munivit civitatem suam et induxit in medium ipsius aquam et fodit ferro rupem et aedificavit ad aquam puteum

48:20. In his days Sennacherib came up, and sent Rabsaces, and lifted up his hand against them, and he stretched out his hand against Sion, and became proud through his power.

In diebus ipsius ascendit Sennacherim et misit Rapsacen et sustulit manum suam contra illos et extulit manum suam in Sion et superbus factus est potentia sua

48:21. Then their hearts and hands trembled, and they were in pain as women in travail.

Tunc mota sunt corda et manus ipsorum et doluerunt quasi parturientes mulieres

48:22. And they called upon the Lord who is merciful, and spreading their hands, they lifted them up to heaven: and the holy Lord God quickly heard their voice.

Et invocaverunt Dominum misericordem et patentem manus extulerunt ad caelum et sanctus Dominus Deus audivit cito vocem ipsorum

48:23. He was not mindful of their sins, neither did he deliver them up to their enemies, but he purified them by the hand of Isaias, the holy prophet.

Non est commemoratus peccatorum illorum neque dedit illos inimicis suis sed purgavit illos in manu Esaias sancti prophetae

48:24. He overthrew the army of the Assyrians, and the angel of the Lord destroyed them.

Subiecit castra Assyriorum et conteruit illos angelus Dei

48:25. For Ezechias did that which pleased God, and walked valiantly in the way of David his father, which Isaias, the great prophet, and faithful in the sight of God, had commanded him.

Nam fecit Ezechias quod placuit Deo et fortiter ivit in via David patris sui quam mandavit illi Esaias propheta magnus et fidelis in conspectu Dei

48:26. In his days the sun went backward, and he lengthened the king's life.

In diebus ipsius retro rediit sol et addidit regi vitam

48:27. With a great spirit he saw the things that are to come to pass at last, and comforted the mourners in Sion.

Spiritu magno vidit ultima et obsecratus est lugentes in Sion usque in sempiternum

48:28. He showed what should come to pass for ever, and secret things before they came.

Ostendit futura et abscondita antequam evenirent

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 49

The praise of Josias, of Jeremias, Ezechiel, and the twelve prophets. Also of Zorobabel, Jesus the son of Josedech, Nehemias, Enoch, Joseph, Seth, Sem, and Adam.

---

49:1. The memory of Josias is like the composition of a sweet smell made by the art of a perfumer:
Memoria Iosiae in conpositione odoris facti opus pigmentarii

49:2. His remembrance shall be sweet as honey in every mouth, and as music at a banquet of wine.
In omni ore quasi mel indulcabitur eius memoria et ut musica in convivio vini

49:3. He was directed by God unto the repentance of the nation, and he took away the abominations of wickedness.

Ipsa est directus divinitus in paenitentia gentis et tulit abominationes impietatis

49:4. And he directed his heart towards the Lord, and in the days of sinners he strengthened godliness.
Et gubernavit ad Dominum cor ipsius in diebus peccatorum corroboravit pietatem

49:5. Except David, and Ezechias and Josias, all committed sin.
Praeter David et Ezechiam et Iosiam omnes peccatum commiserunt

49:6. For the kings of Juda forsook the law of the most High, and despised the fear of God.
Nam reliquerunt legem Potentis reges Iudae et contempserunt timorem Dei

49:7. So they gave their kingdom to others, and their glory to a strange nation,
Dederunt enim regnum suum aliis et gloriam suam alienae genti

49:8. They burnt the chosen city of holiness, and made the streets thereof desolate according to the prediction of Jeremias.

Incenderunt electam sanctitatis civitatem et desertas fecerunt vias ipsius in manu Hieremiae

49:9. For they treated him evil, who was consecrated a prophet from his mother's womb, to overthrow, and pluck up, and destroy, and to build again, and renew.

Nam male tractaverunt illum qui a ventre matris consecratus est propheta evertere et eruere et perdere et iterum aedificare et renovare

49:10. It was Ezechiel that saw the glorious vision, which was shown him upon the chariot of cherubims.
Ezechiel qui vidit conspectum gloriae quam ostendit illi in curru cherubin

49:11. For he made mention of the enemies under the figure of rain, and of doing good to them that showed right ways.

Nam commemoratus est inimicorum in imbri et benefacere illis qui ostenderunt rectas vias

49:12. And may the bones of the twelve prophets spring up out of their place: for they strengthened Jacob, and redeemed themselves by strong faith.

Et duodecim prophetarum ossa pullulent de loco suo nam rogaverunt Iacob et redimerunt se in fide virtutis

49:13. How shall we magnify Zorobabel? for he was as a signet on the right hand;

Quomodo amplificemus Zorobabel nam et ipse quasi signum in dextera manu in Israhel

49:14. In like manner Jesus the son of Josedec who in their days built the house, and set up a holy temple to the Lord, prepared for everlasting glory.

Et Iesum Iosedec qui in diebus suis aedificaverunt domum et exaltaverunt templum sanctum Domino paratum in gloria sempiterna

49:15. And let Nehemias be a long time remembered, who raised up for us our walls that were cast down, and set up the gates and the bars, who rebuilt our houses.

Et Neemia in memoria multi temporis qui erexit nobis muros eversos et stare fecit portas et seras qui erexit domos nostras

49:16. No man was born upon earth like Henoah: for he also was taken up from the earth.

Nemo natus est in terra qualis Enoch nam et ipse receptus est a terra

49:17. Nor as Joseph, who was a man born prince of his brethren, the support of his family, the ruler of his brethren, the stay of the people:

Et Ioseph natus est homo princeps fratrum firmamentum gentis rector fratrum stabilimentum populi

49:18. And his bones were visited, and after death they prophesied.*

Et ossa ipsius visitata sunt et post mortem prophetaverunt

They prophesied... That is, by their being carried out of Egypt they verified the prophetic prediction of Joseph. [Genesis 50]

49:19. Seth and Sem obtained glory among men: and above every soul Adam in the beginning,

Seth et Sem apud homines gloriam adepti sunt et super omnem animam in origine Adam

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 50

The praises of Simon the high priest. The conclusion.

50:1. Simon the high priest, the son of Onias, who in his life propped up the house, and in his days fortified the temple.

Simon Onii filius sacerdos magnus qui in vita sua suffulsit domum et in diebus suis corroboravit

50:2. By him also the height of the temple was founded, the double building and the high walls of the temple.

Templi etiam altitudo ab ipso fundata est duplex aedificatio excelsa parietis templi

50:3. In his days the wells of water flowed out, and they were filled as the sea above measure.

In diebus ipsius remanaverunt putei aquarum et quasi mare adimpleti sunt supra modum

50:4. He took care of his nation, and delivered it from destruction.

Qui curavit gentem suam et liberavit illam a pernicie

50:5. He prevailed to enlarge the city, and obtained glory in his conversation with the people: and enlarged the entrance of the house and the court.

Qui praevaluit amplificare civitatem qui adeptus est gloriam in conversatione gentis et ingressum domus et atrii amplificatus est

50:6. He shone in his days as the morning star in the midst of a cloud, and as the moon at the full.

Quasi stella matutina in medio nebulae et quasi luna plena in diebus suis lucet

50:7. And as the sun when it shineth, so did he shine in the temple of God.

Et quasi sol refulgens sic ille effulsit in templo Dei

50:8. And as the rainbow giving light in bright clouds, and as the flower of roses in the days of the spring, and as the lilies that are on the brink of the water, and as the sweet smelling frankincense in the time of summer.

Quasi arcus effulgens in nebulam gloriae et quasi flos rosarum in diebus veris quasi lilia quae sunt in transitu aquae et quasi tus redolens in diebus aestatis

50:9. As a bright fire, and frankincense burning in the fire.

Quasi ignis effulgens et tus ardens in igni

50:10. As a massy vessel of gold, adorned with every precious stone.

Quasi vas auri solidum ornatum omni lapide pretioso

50:11. As an olive tree budding forth, and a cypress tree rearing itself on high, when he put on the robe of glory, and was clothed with the perfection of power. *

Quasi oliva pullulans et gyrys in altitudinem se tollens in accipiendo ipsum stolam gloriae et vestiri eum consummatione virtutis

Clothed with the perfection of power... That is, with all the vestments denoting his dignity and authority.

50:12. When he went up to the holy altar, he honoured the vesture of holiness.

In ascensu altarii sancti gloriam dedit sanctitatis amictum

50:13. And when he took the portions out of the hands of the priests, he himself stood by the altar. And about him was the ring of his brethren: and as the cedar planted in mount Libanus,

In accipiendo autem partes de manu sacerdotum et ipse stans iuxta aram circa illum corona fratrum quasi plantatio cedri in monte Libano

50:14. And as branches of palm trees, they stood round about him, and all the sons of Aaron in their glory.

Sic circa illum steterunt quasi rami in palma et omnes filii Aaron in gloria sua

50:15. And the oblation of the Lord was in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel: and finishing his service, on the altar, to honour the offering of the most high King,

Oblatio autem Domini in manibus ipsorum coram omni synagoga Israhel et consummationem fungens in ara amplificare oblationem excelsi Regis

50:16. He stretched forth his hand to make a libation, and offered of the blood of the grape.

Porrexit manum suam in libatione et libavit de sanguine uvae

50:17. He poured out at the foot of the altar a divine odour to the most high Prince.

Et fudit in fundamenta altarii odorem divinum excelso Principi

50:18. Then the sons of Aaron shouted, they sounded with beaten trumpets, and made a great noise to be heard for a remembrance before God.

Tunc exclamaverunt filii Aaron in tubis productilibus sonaverunt et auditam fecerunt magnam vocem in memoriam coram Deo

50:19. Then all the people together made haste, and fell down to the earth upon their faces, to adore the Lord their God, and to pray to the Almighty God the most High.

Tunc omnis populus simul properaverunt et ceciderunt in faciem super terram adorare Dominum suum et dare preces Deo omnipotenti excelso

50:20. And the singers lifted up their voices, and in the great house the sound of sweet melody was increased.

Et amplificaverunt psallentes in vocibus suis et in magna domo auctus est sonus suavitate plenus

50:21. And the people in prayer besought the Lord the most High, until the worship of the Lord was perfected, and they had finished their office.

Et rogavit populus Dominum excelsum in prece usque dum perfectus est honor Domini et munus suum perfecerunt

50:22. Then coming down, he lifted up his hands over all the congregation of the children of Israel, to give glory to God with his lips, and to glory in his name:

Tunc descendens extulit manus suas in omnem congregationem filiorum Israhel dare gloriam Deo a labiis suis et in nomine ipsius gloriari

50:23. And he repeated his prayer, willing to show the power of God.

Et iteravit orationem suam volens ostendere virtutem Dei

50:24. And now pray ye to the God of all, who hath done great things in all the earth, who hath increased our days from our mother's womb, and hath done with us according to his mercy.

Et nunc orate Dominum omnium qui magna fecit in omni terra qui auxit dies nostros a ventre matris nostrae et fecit nobiscum secundum suam misericordiam

50:25. May he grant us joyfulness of heart, and that there be peace in our days in Israel for ever:

Det nobis iucunditatem cordis et fieri pacem in diebus nostris in Israhel per dies sempiternos

50:26. That Israel may believe that the mercy of God is with us, to deliver us in his days.

Credere Israhel nobiscum esse misericordiam Dei ut sanet vos in diebus suis

50:27. There are two nations which my soul abhorreth: and the third is no nation: which I hate: *

Duas gentes odit anima mea tertia autem non est gens quam oderim

Abhorreth... Viz., with a holy indignation, as enemies of God and persecutors of his people. Such were then the Edomites who abode in mount Seir, the Philistines, and the Samaritans who dwelt in Sichem, and had their schismatical temple in that neighbourhood.

50:28. They that sit on mount Seir, and the Philistines, and the foolish people that dwell in Sichem.

Qui sedent in monte Seir et Philisthim et stultus populus qui habitat in Sicimis

50:29. Jesus the son of Sirach, of Jerusalem, hath written in this book the doctrine of wisdom and instruction, who renewed wisdom from his heart.

Doctrinam sapientiae et disciplinae scripsi in codice isto Iesus filius Sirach Hierosolymita qui renovavit sapientiam de corde suo

50:30. Blessed is he that is conversant in these good things and he that layeth them up in his heart, shall be wise always.

Beatus qui in istis versatur bonis qui ponit illa in corde suo sapiens erit semper

50:31. For if he do them, he shall be strong to do all things: because the light of God guideth his steps.

Si enim haec fecerit ad omnia valebit quia lux Dei vestigium eius est

Ecclesiasticus Chapter 51

A prayer of praise and thanksgiving.

51:1. A prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach. I will give glory to thee, O Lord, O King, and I will praise thee, O God my Saviour.

Oratio Iesu filii Sirach confitebor tibi Domine rex et conlaudabo te Deum salvatorem meum

51:2. I will give glory to thy name: for thou hast been a helper and protector to me.

Confiteor nomini tuo quoniam adiutor et protector factus es mihi

51:3. And hast preserved my body from destruction, from the snare of an unjust tongue, and from the lips of them that forge lies, and in the sight of them that stood by, thou hast been my helper.

Et liberasti corpus meum a perditione a laqueo linguae iniquae et a labiis operantium mendacium et in conspectu adstantium factus es mihi adiutor

51:4. And thou hast delivered me, according to the multitude of the mercy of thy name, from them that did roar, prepared to devour.

Et liberasti me secundum multitudinem misericordiae nominis tui a rugientibus paratis ad escam

51:5. Out of the hands of them that sought my life, and from the gates of afflictions, which compassed me about:

De manibus quaerentium animam meam et de portis tribulationis quae circumdederunt me

51:6. From the oppression of the flame which surrounded me, and in the midst of the fire I was not burnt.

A pressura flammae quae circumdedit me et in medio ignis non sum aestuatus

51:7. From the depth of the belly of hell, and from an unclean tongue, and from lying words, from an unjust king, and from a slanderous tongue:

De altitudine ventris inferi et a lingua coinquinata et verbo mendacii a rege iniquo et lingua iniusta

51:8. My soul shall praise the Lord even to death.

Laudavit usque ad mortem anima mea Dominum

51:9. And my life was drawing near to hell beneath.

Et vita mea adpropinquans erat infero deorsum

51:10. They compassed me on every side, and there was no one that would help me. I looked for the succour of men, and there was none.

Circumdederunt me undique et non erat qui adiuuaret respiciens eram ad adiutorium meum et non erat

51:11. I remembered thy mercy, O Lord, and thy works, which are from the beginning of the world.

Memoratus sum misericordiae tuae Domine et operationis tuae quae a saeculo sunt

51:12. How thou deliverest them that wait for thee, O Lord, and savest them out of the hands of the nations.

Quoniam erues sustinentes te et liberas eos de manibus gentium

51:13. Thou hast exalted my dwelling place upon the earth and I have prayed for death to pass away.

Exaltasti super terram habitationem meam et pro morte defluentis deprecatus sum

51:14. I called upon the Lord, the father of my Lord, that he would not leave me in the day of my trouble, and in the time of the proud without help.

Invocavi Dominum patrem Domini mei ut non derelinquat me in die tribulationis meae et in tempore superborum sine adiutorio

51:15. I will praise thy name continually, and will praise it with thanksgiving, and my prayer was heard.
Laudabo nomen tuum adsidue et conlaudabo illum in confessione exaudita est oratio mea

51:16. And thou hast saved me from destruction, and hast delivered me from the evil time.
Liberasti me de perditione et eripuisti me de tempore iniquo

51:17. Therefore I will give thanks, and praise thee, and bless the name of the Lord.
Propterea confitebor et laudem dicam tibi et benedicam nomen Domini

51:18. When I was yet young, before I wandered about, I sought for wisdom openly in my prayer.
Cum adhuc iunior sum priusquam oberrem quaesivi sapientiam palam in oratione mea

51:19. I prayed for her before the temple, and unto the very end I will seek after her, and she flourished as a grape soon ripe.
Ante tempus postulabam pro illa et usque in novissimis inquiram eam defloriet tamquam praecox uva

51:20. My heart delighted in her, my foot walked in the right way, from my youth up I sought after her.
Laetatum est cor meum in ea ambulavit pes meus iter rectum a iuventute mea investigabam eam

51:21. I bowed down my ear a little, and received her.
Inclinavi modice aurem meam et excepi illam

51:22. I found much wisdom in myself, and profited much therein.
Multam inveni in me ipso sapientiam multum profeci in ea

51:23. To him that giveth me wisdom, will I give glory.
Dans mihi sapientiam dabo gloriam

51:24. For I have determined to follow her: I have had a zeal for good, and shall not be confounded.
Consiliatus sum enim ut facerem illam zelatus sum bonum et non confundor

51:25. My soul hath wrestled for her, and in doing it I have been confirmed.
Conluctata est anima mea in illa et in faciendo eam confirmatus sum

51:26. I stretched forth my hands on high, and I bewailed my ignorance of her.
Manus meas extendi in altum et insipientia eius luxi

51:27. I directed my soul to her, and in knowledge I found her.
Animam meam direxi ad illam et in agnitione inveni eam

51:28. I possessed my heart with her from the beginning: therefore I shall not be forsaken.
Possedi cum ipsis cor ab initio propter hoc non derelinquar

51:29. My entrails were troubled in seeking her: therefore shall I possess a good possession.
Venter meus conturbatus est quaerendo illam propterea possidebo bonam possessionem

51:30. The Lord hath given me a tongue for my reward: and with it I will praise him.
Dedit enim mihi Dominus linguam mercedem meam et in ipsa laudabo eum

51:31. Draw near to me, ye unlearned, and gather yourselves together into the hours of discipline.
Adpropiate ad me indocti et congregate vos in domum disciplinae

51:32. Why are ye slow and what do you say of these things? your souls are exceeding thirsty.
Quid adhuc retardatis et quid dicitis in his animae vestrae sitiunt vehementer

51:33. I have opened my mouth, and have spoken: buy her for yourselves without silver,
Aperui os meum et locutus sum comparate vobis sine argento

51:34. And submit your neck to the yoke, and let your soul receive discipline: for she is near at hand to be found.
Et collum vestrum subicite sub iugo et suscipiat anima vestra disciplinam in proximo est enim invenire eam

51:35. Behold with your eyes how I have laboured a little, and have found much rest to myself.
Videte oculis vestris quoniam modice laboravi et inveni mihi multam requiem

51:36. Receive ye discipline as a great sum of money, and possess abundance of gold by her.
Adsumite disciplinam in multo numero argenti et copiosum aurum possidete in ea

51:37. Let your soul rejoice in his mercy and you shall not be confounded in his praise.
Laetetur anima vestra in misericordia eius et non confundemini in laude ipsius

51:38. Work your work before the time, and he will give you your reward in his time.
Operamini opus vestrum ante tempus et dabit vobis mercedem vestram in tempore suo

Canticle of Canticles

Solomon's Canticle of Canticles, also called the Song of Songs

This Book is called the Canticle of Canticles, that is to say, the most excellent of all canticles: because it is full of high mysteries, relating to the happy union of Christ and his spouse: which is here begun by love; and is to be eternal in heaven. The spouse of Christ is the church: more especially as to the happiest part of it, viz., perfect souls, every one of which is his beloved, but, above all others, the immaculate and ever blessed virgin mother. (For more information, see the article CANTICLE OF CANTICLES in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 1. The spouse aspires to an union with Christ, their mutual love for one another.

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 2. Christ caresses his spouse: he invites her to him.

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 3. The spouse seeks Christ. The glory of his humanity.

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 4. Christ sets forth the graces of his spouse: and declares his love for her.

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 5. Christ calls his spouse: she languishes with love: and describes him by his graces.

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 6. The spouse of Christ is but one: she is fair and terrible.

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 7. A further description of the graces of the church the spouse of Christ.

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 8. The love of the church to Christ: his love to her.

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 1

The spouse aspires to an union with Christ, their mutual love for one another.

---

1:1. Let him kiss me with the kiss of his mouth: for thy breasts are better than wine, *

Osculetur me osculo oris sui quia meliora sunt ubera tua vino

Let him kiss me... The church, the spouse of Christ, prays that he may love and have peace with her, which the spouse prefers to every thing delicious: and therefore expresses (ver. 2) that young maidens, that is the souls of the faithful, have loved thee.

1:2. Smelling sweet of the best ointments. Thy name is as oil poured out: therefore young maidens have loved thee.

Fraglantia unguentis optimis oleum effusum nomen tuum ideo adulescentulae dilexerunt te

1:3. Draw me: we will run after thee to the odour of thy ointments. The king hath brought me into his storerooms: we will be glad and rejoice in thee, remembering thy breasts more than wine: the righteous love thee. *

Trahe me post te curremus introduxit me rex in cellaria sua exultabimus et laetabimur in te memores uberum tuorum super vinum recti diligunt te

Draw me... That is, with thy grace: otherwise I should not be able to come to thee. This metaphor shows that we cannot of ourselves come to Christ our Lord, unless he draws us by his grace, which is laid up in his storerooms: that is, in the mysteries of Faith, which God in his goodness and love for mankind hath revealed, first by his servant Moses in the Old Law in figure only, and afterwards in reality by his only begotten Son Jesus Christ.

1:4. I am black but beautiful, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, as the tents of Cedar, as the curtains of Solomon. *

Nigra sum sed formosa filiae Hierusalem sicut tabernacula Cedar sicut pelles Salomonis

I am black but beautiful... That is, the church of Christ founded in humility appearing outwardly afflicted, and as it were black and contemptible; but inwardly, that is, in its doctrine and morality, fair and beautiful.

1:5. Do not consider me that I am brown, because the sun hath altered my colour: the sons of my mother have fought against me, they have made me the keeper in the vineyards: my vineyard I have not kept.

Nolite me considerare quod fusca sim quia decoloravit me sol filii matris meae pugnaverunt contra me posuerunt me custodem in vineis vineam meam non custodivi

1:6. Show me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou liest in the midday, lest I begin to wander after the flocks of thy companions.

Indica mihi quem diligit anima mea ubi pascas ubi cubes in meridie ne vagari incipiam per greges sodalium tuorum

1:7. If thou know not thyself, O fairest among women, go forth, and follow after the steps of the flocks, and feed thy kids beside the tents of the shepherds. *

Si ignoras te o pulchra inter mulieres egredere et abi post vestigia gregum et pasce hedos tuos iuxta tabernacula pastorum

If thou know not thyself, etc... Christ encourages his spouse to follow and watch her flock: and though she know not entirely the power at hand to assist her, he tells her, ver. 8, my company of horsemen, that is, his angels, are always watching and protecting her. And in the following verses he reminds her of the virtues and gifts with which he has endowed her.

1:8. To my company of horsemen, in Pharao's chariots, have I likened thee, O my love.

Equitatu meo in curribus Pharaonis adsimilavi te amica mea

1:9. Thy cheeks are beautiful as the turtledove's, thy neck as jewels.

Pulchrae sunt genae tuae sicut turturis collum tuum sicut monilia

1:10. We will make thee chains of gold, inlaid with silver.

Murenulas aureas faciemus tibi vermiculatas argento

1:11. While the king was at his repose, my spikenard sent forth the odour thereof.
Dum esset rex in accubitu suo nardus mea dedit odorem suum

1:12. A bundle of myrrh is my beloved to me, he shall abide between my breasts.
Fasciculus murrae dilectus meus mihi inter ubera mea commorabitur

1:13. A cluster of cypress my love is to me, in the vineyards of Engaddi.
Botrus cypri dilectus meus mihi in vineis Engaddi

1:14. Behold thou art fair, O my love, behold thou art fair, thy eyes are as those of doves.
Ecce tu pulchra es amica mea ecce tu pulchra oculi tui columbarum

1:15. Behold thou art fair, my beloved, and comely. Our bed is flourishing.
Ecce tu pulcher es dilecte mi et decorus lectulus noster floridus

1:16. The beams of our houses are of cedar, our rafters of cypress trees.
Tigna domorum nostrarum cedrina laquearia nostra cypressina

Cantic of Canticles Chapter 2

Christ caresses his spouse: he invites her to him.

---

2:1. I am the flower of the field, and the lily of the valleys. *

Ego flos campi et liliū convallium

I am the flower of the field... Christ professes himself the flower of mankind, yea, the Lord of all creatures: and, ver. 2, declares the excellence of his spouse, the true church above all other societies, which are to be considered as thorns.

2:2. As the lily among thorns, so is my love among the daughters.

Sicut liliū inter spinas sic amica mea inter filias

2:3. As the apple tree among the trees of the woods, so is my beloved among the sons. I sat down under his shadow, whom I desired: and his fruit was sweet to my palate.

Sicut malum inter ligna silvarum sic dilectus meus inter filios sub umbra illius quam desideraveram sedi et fructus eius dulcis gutturi meo

2:4. He brought me into the cellar of wine, he set in order charity in me.

Introduxit me in cellam vinariam ordinavit in me caritatem

2:5. Stay me up with flowers, compass me about with apples: because I languish with love.

Fulcite me floribus stipate me malis quia amore languēo

2:6. His left hand is under my head, and his right hand shall embrace me.

Leva eius sub capite meo et dextera illius amplexabitur me

2:7. I adjure you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and the harts of the field, that you stir not up, nor make the beloved to awake, till she please.

Adiuro vos filiae Hierusalem per capreas cervosque camporum ne suscitētis neque evigilare faciatis dilectam quoadusque ipsa velit

2:8. The voice of my beloved, behold he cometh leaping upon the mountains, skipping over the hills. *

Vox dilecti mei ecce iste venit saliens in montibus transiliens colles

The voice of my beloved: that is, the preaching of the gospel surmounting difficulties figuratively here expressed by mountains and little hills.

2:9. My beloved is like a roe, or a young hart. Behold he standeth behind our wall, looking through the windows, looking through the lattices.

Similis est dilectus meus capreae huiusmodi cervorum en ipse stat post parietem nostrum despiciens per fenestras prospiciens per cancellos

2:10. Behold my beloved speaketh to me: Arise, make haste, my love, my dove, my beautiful one, and come.

Et dilectus meus loquitur mihi surge propera amica mea formosa mea et veni

2:11. For winter is now past, the rain is over and gone.

Iam enim hiemps transiit imber abiit et recessit

2:12. The flowers have appeared in our land, the time of pruning is come: the voice of the turtle is heard in our land:

Flores apparuerunt in terra tempus putationis advenit vox turturis audita est in terra nostra

2:13. The fig tree hath put forth her green figs: the vines in flower yield their sweet smell. Arise, my love, my beautiful one, and come:

Ficus protulit grossos suos vineae florent dederunt odorem surge amica mea speciosa mea et veni

2:14. My dove in the clefts of the rock, in the hollow places of the wall, show me thy face, let thy voice sound in my ears: for thy voice is sweet, and thy face comely.

Columba mea in foraminibus petrae in caverna maceriae ostende mihi faciem tuam sonet vox tua in auribus meis vox enim tua dulcis et facies tua decora

2:15. Catch us the little foxes that destroy the vines: for our vineyard hath flourished. *

Capite nobis vulpes vulpes parvulas quae demoliuntur vineas nam vinea nostra floruit

Catch us the little foxes... Christ commands his pastors to catch false teachers, by holding forth their fallacy and erroneous doctrine, which like foxes would bite and destroy the vines.

2:16. My beloved to me, and I to him who feedeth among the lilies,

Dilectus meus mihi et ego illi qui pascitur inter lilia

2:17. Till the day break, and the shadows retire. Return: be like, my beloved, to a roe, or to a young hart upon the mountains of Bether.

Donec adspiret dies et inclinentur umbrae revertere similis esto dilecte mi capreae aut hinulo cervorum super montes Bether

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 3

The spouse seeks Christ. The glory of his humanity.

---

3:1. In my bed by night I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, and found him not. *

In lectulo meo per noctes quaesivi quem diligit anima mea quaesivi illum et non inveni

In my bed by night, etc... The Gentiles as in the dark, and seeking in heathen delusion what they could not find, the true God, until Christ revealed his doctrine to them by his watchmen, (ver. 3), that is, by the apostles, and teachers by whom they were converted to the true faith; and holding that faith firmly, the spouse (the Catholic Church) declares, ver. 4, That she will not let him go, till she bring him into her mother's house, etc., that is, till at last, the Jews also shall find him.

3:2. I will rise, and will go about the city: in the streets and the broad ways I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, and I found him not.

Surgam et circuibo civitatem per vicos et plateas quaeram quem diligit anima mea quaesivi illum et non inveni

3:3. The watchmen who keep the city, found me: Have you seen him, whom my soul loveth?

Invenerunt me vigiles qui custodiunt civitatem num quem dilexit anima mea vidistis

3:4. When I had a little passed by them, I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him: and I will not let him go, till I bring him into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her that bore me.

Paululum cum pertransissem eos inveni quem diligit anima mea tenui eum nec dimittam donec introducam illum in domum matris meae et in cubiculum genetricis meae

3:5. I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes and the harts of the fields, that you stir not up, nor awake my beloved, till she please.

Adiuro vos filiae Hierusalem per capreas cervosque camporum ne suscitetis neque evigilare faciatis dilectam donec ipsa velit

3:6. Who is she that goeth up by the desert, as a pillar of smoke of aromatical spices, of myrrh, and frankincense, and of all the powders of the perfumer?

Quae est ista quae ascendit per desertum sicut virgula fumi ex aromatibus murrae et turis et universi pulveris pigmentarii

3:7. Behold threescore valiant ones of the most valiant of Israel, surrounded the bed of Solomon?

En lectulum Salomonis sexaginta fortes ambiunt ex fortissimis Israhel

3:8. All holding swords, and most expert in war: every man's sword upon his thigh, because of fears in the night.

Omnes tenentes gladios et ad bella doctissimi uniuscuiusque ensis super femur suum propter timores nocturnos

3:9. King Solomon hath made him a litter of the wood of Libanus:

Ferculum fecit sibi rex Salomon de lignis Libani

3:10. The pillars thereof he made of silver, the seat of gold, the going up of purple: the midst he covered with charity for the daughters of Jerusalem.

Columnas eius fecit argenteas reclinatorium aureum ascensum purpureum media caritate constravit propter filias Hierusalem

3:11. Go forth, ye daughters of Sion, and see king Solomon in the diadem, wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of the joy of his heart.

Egredimini et videte filiae Sion regem Salomonem in diademate quo coronavit eum mater sua in die disponsionis illius et in die laetitiae cordis eius

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 4

Christ sets forth the graces of his spouse: and declares his love for her.

---

4:1. How beautiful art thou, my love, how beautiful art thou! thy eyes are doves' eyes, besides what is hid within. Thy hair is as flocks of goats, which come up from mount Galaad. *

Quam pulchra es amica mea quam pulchra es oculi tui columbarum absque eo quod intrinsecus latet capilli tui sicut greges caprarum quae ascenderunt de monte Galaad

How beautiful art thou... Christ again praises the beauties of his church, which through the whole of this chapter are exemplified by a variety of metaphors, setting forth her purity, her simplicity, and her stability.

4:2. Thy teeth as flocks of sheep, that are shorn, which come up from the washing, all with twins, and there is none barren among them.

Dentes tui sicut greges tonsarum quae ascenderunt de lavacro omnes gemellis fetibus et sterilis non est inter eas

4:3. Thy lips are as a scarlet lace: and thy speech sweet. Thy cheeks are as a piece of a pomegranate, besides that which lieth hid within.

Sicut vitta coccinea labia tua et eloquium tuum dulce sicut fragmen mali punici ita genae tuae absque eo quod intrinsecus latet

4:4. Thy neck, is as the tower of David, which is built with bulwarks: a thousand bucklers hang upon it, all the armour of valiant men.

Sicut turris David collum tuum quae aedificata est cum propugnaculis mille clypei pendent ex ea omnis armatura fortium

4:5. Thy two breasts like two young roes that are twins, which feed among the lilies. *

Duo ubera tua sicut duo hinuli capreae gemelli qui pascuntur in liliis

Thy two breasts, etc... Mystically to be understood: the love of God and the love of our neighbour, which are so united as twins which feed among the lilies: that is, the love of God and our neighbour, feeds on the divine mysteries and the holy sacraments, left by Christ to his spouse to feed and nourish her children.

4:6. Till the day break, and the shadows retire, I will go to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense.

Donec adspiret dies et inclinentur umbrae vadam ad montem murrae et ad collem turis

4:7. Thou art all fair, O my love, and there is not a spot in thee.

Tota pulchra es amica mea et macula non est in te

4:8. Come from Libanus, my spouse, come from Libanus, come: thou shalt be crowned from the top of Amana, from the top of Sanir and Hermon, from the dens of the lions, from the mountains of the leopards.

Veni de Libano sponsa veni de Libano veni coronaberis de capite Amana de vertice Sanir et Hermon de cubilibus leonum de montibus pardorum

4:9. Thou hast wounded my heart, my sister, my spouse, thou hast wounded my heart with one of thy eyes, and with one hair of thy neck.

Vulnerasti cor meum soror mea sponsa vulnerasti cor meum in uno oculorum tuorum et in uno crine colli tui

4:10. How beautiful are thy breasts, my sister, my spouse! thy breasts are more beautiful than wine, and the sweet smell of thy ointments above all aromatical spices.

Quam pulchrae sunt mammae tuae soror mea sponsa pulchriora ubera tua vino et odor unguentorum tuorum super omnia aromata

4:11. Thy lips, my spouse, are as a dropping honeycomb, honey and milk are under thy tongue; and the smell of thy garments, as the smell of frankincense.

Favus distillans labia tua sponsa mel et lac sub lingua tua et odor vestimentorum tuorum sicut odor turis

4:12. My sister, my spouse, is a garden enclosed, a garden enclosed, a fountain sealed up. *

Hortus conclusus soror mea sponsa hortus conclusus fons signatus

My sister, etc., a garden enclosed... Figuratively the church is enclosed, containing only the faithful. A fountain sealed up... That none can drink of its waters, that is, the graces and spiritual benefits of the holy sacraments, but those who are within its walls.

4:13. Thy plants are a paradise of pomegranates with the fruits of the orchard. Cypress with spikenard.

Emissiones tuae paradisi malorum puniceorum cum pomorum fructibus cypri cum nardo

4:14. Spikenard and saffron, sweet cane and cinnamon, with all the trees of Libanus, myrrh and aloes with all the chief perfumes.

Nardus et crocus fistula et cinnamomum cum universis lignis Libani murra et aloe cum omnibus primis unguentis

4:15. The fountain of gardens: the well of living waters, which run with a strong stream from Libanus.

Fons hortorum puteus aquarum viventium quae fluunt impetu de Libano

4:16. Arise, O north wind, and come, O south wind, blow through my garden, and let the aromatical spices thereof flow.

Surge aquilo et veni auster perfla hortum meum et fluant aromata illius

Cantic of Canticles Chapter 5

Christ calls his spouse: she languishes with love: and describes him by his graces.

5:1. Let my beloved come into his garden, and eat the fruit of his apple trees. I am come into my garden, O my sister, my spouse, I have gathered my myrrh, with my aromatical spices: I have eaten the honeycomb with my honey, I have drunk my wine with my milk: eat, O friends, and drink, and be inebriated, my dearly beloved. *

Veniat dilectus meus in hortum suum et comedat fructum pomorum suorum veni in hortum meum soror mea sponsa messui murram meam cum aromatibus meis comedi favum cum melle meo bibi vinum meum cum lacte meo comedite amici bibite et inebriamini carissimi

Let my beloved come into his garden, etc... Garden, mystically the church of Christ, abounding with fruit, that is, the good works of the elect.

5:2. I sleep, and my heart watcheth: the voice of my beloved knocking: Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is full of dew, and my locks of the drops of the nights.

Ego dormio et cor meum vigilat vox dilecti mei pulsantis aperi mihi soror mea amica mea columba mea immaculata mea quia caput meum plenum est rore et cincinni mei guttis noctium

5:3. I have put off my garment, how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet, how shall I defile them?

Expoliavi me tunica mea quomodo induar illa lavi pedes meos quomodo inquinabo illos

5:4. My beloved put his hand through the key hole, and my bowels were moved at his touch. *

Dilectus meus misit manum suam per foramen et venter meus intremuit ad tactum eius

My beloved put his hand through the key hole, etc... The spouse of Christ, his church, at times as it were penned up by its persecutors, and in fears, expecting the divine assistance, here signified by his hand: and ver. 6, but he had turned aside and was gone, that is, Christ permitting a further trial of suffering: and again, ver. 7, the keepers, etc., signifying the violent and cruel persecutors of the church taking her veil, despoiling the church of its places of worship and ornaments for the divine service.

5:5. I arose up to open to my beloved: my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers were full of the choicest myrrh.

Surrexi ut aperirem dilecto meo manus meae stillaverunt murra digiti mei pleni murra probatissima

5:6. I opened the bolt of my door to my beloved: but he had turned aside, and was gone. My soul melted when he spoke: I sought him, and found him not: I called, and he did not answer me.

Pessulum ostii aperui dilecto meo at ille declinaverat atque transierat anima mea liquefacta est ut locutus est quaesivi et non inveni illum vocavi et non respondit mihi

5:7. The keepers that go about the city found me: they struck me: and wounded me: the keepers of the walls took away my veil from me.

Invenerunt me custodes qui circumceunt civitatem percusserunt me vulneraverunt me tulerunt pallium meum mihi custodes murorum

5:8. I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if you find my beloved, that you tell him that I languish with love.

Adiuro vos filiae Hierusalem si inveneritis dilectum meum ut nuntietis ei quia amore languedo

5:9. What manner of one is thy beloved of the beloved, O thou most beautiful among women? what manner of one is thy beloved of the beloved, that thou hast so adjured us?

Qualis est dilectus tuus ex dilecto o pulcherrima mulierum qualis est dilectus tuus ex dilecto quia sic adiurasti nos

5:10. My beloved is white and ruddy, chosen out of thousands. *

Dilectus meus candidus et rubicundus electus ex milibus

My beloved, etc... In this and the following verses, the church mystically describes Christ to those who know him not, that is, to infidels in order to convert them to the true faith.

5:11. His head is as the finest gold: his locks as branches of palm trees, black as a raven.

Caput eius aurum optimum comae eius sicut elatae palmarum nigrae quasi corvus

5:12. His eyes as doves upon brooks of waters, which are washed with milk, and sit beside the plentiful streams.

Oculi eius sicut columbae super rivulos aquarum quae lacte sunt lotae et resident iuxta fluentia plenissima

5:13. His cheeks are as beds of aromatical spices set by the perfumers. His lips are as lilies dropping choice myrrh.

Genae illius sicut areolae aromatum consitae a pigmentariis labia eius lilia distillantia murrum primam

5:14. His hands are turned and as of gold, full of hyacinths. His belly as of ivory, set with sapphires.

Manus illius tornatiles aureae plenae hyacinthis venter eius eburneus distinctus sapphyris

5:15. His legs as pillars of marble, that are set upon bases of gold. His form as of Libanus, excellent as the cedars.

Crura illius columnae marmoreae quae fundatae sunt super bases aureas species eius ut Libani electus ut cedri

5:16. His throat most sweet, and he is all lovely: such is my beloved, and he is my friend, O ye daughters of Jerusalem.

Guttur illius suavissimum et totus desiderabilis talis est dilectus meus et iste est amicus meus filiae Hierusalem

5:17. Whither is thy beloved gone, O thou most beautiful among women? whither is thy beloved turned aside, and we will seek him with thee?

Quo abiit dilectus tuus o pulcherrima mulierum quo declinavit dilectus tuus et quaeremus eum tecum

Canticle of Canticles Chapter 6

The spouse of Christ is but one: she is fair and terrible.

---

6:1. My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the bed of aromatical spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies. *

Dilectus meus descendit in hortum suum ad areolam aromatis ut pascatur in hortis et lilia colligat

My beloved is gone down into his garden... Christ, pleased with the good works of his holy and devout servants labouring in his garden, is always present with them: but the words is gone down, are to be understood, that after trying his Church by permitting persecution, he comes to her assistance and she rejoices at his coming.

6:2. I to my beloved, and my beloved to me, who feedeth among the lilies.

Ego dilecto meo et dilectus meus mihi qui pascitur inter lilia

6:3. Thou art beautiful, O my love, sweet and comely as Jerusalem terrible as an army set in array.

Pulchra es amica mea suavis et decora sicut Hierusalem terribilis ut castrorum acies ordinata

6:4. Turn away thy eyes from me, for they have made me flee away. Thy hair is as a flock of goats, that appear from Galaad.

Averte oculos tuos a me quia ipsi me avolare fecerunt capilli tui sicut grex caprarum quae apparuerunt de Galaad

6:5. Thy teeth as a flock of sheep, which come up from the washing, all with twins, and there is none barren among them.

Dentes tui sicut grex ovium quae ascenderunt de lavacro omnes gemellis fetibus et sterilis non est in eis

6:6. Thy cheeks are as the bark of a pomegranate, beside what is hidden within thee.

Sicut cortex mali punici genae tuae absque occultis tuis

6:7. There are threescore queens, and fourscore concubines, and young maidens without number.

Sexaginta sunt reginae et octoginta concubinae et adulescentularum non est numerus

6:8. One is my dove, my perfect one is but one, she is the only one of her mother, the chosen of her that bore her. The daughters saw her, and declared her most blessed: the queens and concubines, and they praised her. *

Una est columba mea perfecta mea una est matris suae electa generici suae viderunt illam filiae et beatissimam praedicaverunt reginae et concubinae et laudaverunt eam

One is my dove, etc... That is, my church is one, and she only is perfect and blessed.

6:9. Who is she that cometh forth as the morning rising, fair as the moon, bright as the sun, terrible as an army set in array? *

Quae est ista quae progreditur quasi aurora consurgens pulchra ut luna electa ut sol terribilis ut acies ordinata

Who is she, etc... Here is a beautiful metaphor describing the church from the beginning. As, the morning rising, signifying the church before the written law; fair as the moon, showing her under the light of the gospel: and terrible as an army, the power of Christ's church against its enemies.

6:10. I went down into the garden of nuts, to see the fruits of the valleys, and to look if the vineyard had flourished, and the pomegranates budded.

Descendi ad hortum nucum ut viderem poma convallis ut inspicerem si florisset vinea et germinassent mala punica

6:11. I knew not: my soul troubled me for the chariots of Aminadab.

Nescivi anima mea conturbavit me propter quadrigas Aminadab

6:12. Return, return, O Sulamitess: return, return that we may behold thee.

Revertere revertere Sulamitis revertere revertere ut intueamur te

Cantic of Canticles Chapter 7

A further description of the graces of the church the spouse of Christ.

7:1. What shalt thou see in the Sulamitess but the companies of camps? How beautiful are thy steps in shoes, O prince's daughter! The joints of thy thighs are like jewels, that are made by the hand of a skilful workman. *

Quid videbis in Sulamiten nisi chorostrorum quam pulchri sunt gressus tui in calciamentis filia principis iunctura feminum tuorum sicut monilia quae fabricata sunt manu artificis

How beautiful are thy steps, etc... By these metaphors are signified the power and mission of the church in propagating the true faith.

7:2. Thy navel is like a round bowl never wanting cups. Thy belly is like a heap of wheat, set about with lilies.

Umbilicus tuus crater tornatilis numquam indigens poculis venter tuus sicut acervus tritici vallatus liliis

7:3. Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins.

Duo ubera tua sicut duo hinuli gemelli capreae

7:4. Thy neck as a tower of ivory. Thy eyes like the fishpools in Hesebon, which are in the gate of the daughter of the multitude. Thy nose is as the tower of Libanus, that looketh toward Damascus.

Collum tuum sicut turris eburnea oculi tui sicut piscinae in Esebon quae sunt in porta filiae multitudinis nasus tuus sicut turris Libani quae respicit contra Damascum

7:5. Thy head is like Carmel: and the hairs of thy head as the purple of the king bound in the channels. *

Caput tuum ut Carmelus et comae capitis tui sicut purpura regis vincta canalibus

Thy head is like Carmel... Christ, the invisible head of his church, is here signified.

7:6. How beautiful art thou, and how comely, my dearest, in delights!

Quam pulchra es et quam decora carissima in deliciis

7:7. Thy stature is like to a palm tree, and thy breasts to clusters of grapes.

Statura tua adsimilata est palmae et ubera tua botris

7:8. I said: I will go up into the palm tree, and will take hold of the fruit thereof: and thy breasts shall be as the clusters of the vine: and the odour of thy mouth like apples.

Dixi ascendam in palmam adprehendam fructus eius et erunt ubera tua sicut botri vineae et odor oris tui sicut malorum

7:9. Thy throat like the best wine, worthy for my beloved to drink, and for his lips and his teeth to ruminant.

Guttur tuum sicut vinum optimum dignum dilecto meo ad potandum labisque et dentibus illius ruminandum

7:10. I to my beloved, and his turning is towards me.

Ego dilecto meo et ad me conversio eius

7:11. Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field, let us abide in the villages.

Veni dilecte mi egrediamur in agrum commoremur in villis

7:12. Let us get up early to the vineyards, let us see if the vineyard flourish, if the flowers be ready to bring forth fruits, if the pomegranates flourish: there will I give thee my breasts.

Mane surgamus ad vineas videamus si floruit vinea si flores fructus parturiunt si floruerunt mala punica ibi dabo tibi ubera mea

7:13. The mandrakes give a smell. In our gates are all fruits: the new and the old, my beloved, I have kept for thee.

Mandragorae dederunt odorem in portis nostris omnia poma nova et vetera dilecte mi servavi tibi

Canticum of Canticles Chapter 8

The love of the church to Christ: his love to her.

8:1. Who shall give thee to me for my brother, sucking the breasts of my mother, that I may find thee without, and kiss thee, and now no man may despise me?

Quis mihi det te fratrem meum sugentem ubera matris meae ut inveniam te foris et deosculer et iam me nemo despiciat

8:2. I will take hold of thee, and bring thee into my mother's house: there thou shalt teach me, and I will give thee a cup of spiced wine and new wine of my pomegranates.

Adprehendam te et ducam in domum matris meae ibi me docebis et dabo tibi poculum ex vino condito et mustum malorum granatorum meorum

8:3. His left hand under my head, and his right hand shall embrace me. *

Leva eius sub capite meo et dextera illius amplexabitur me

8:4. I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, that you stir not up, nor awake my love till she please.

Adiuro vos filiae Hierusalem ne suscitatis et evigilare faciatis dilectam donec ipsa velit

8:5. Who is this that cometh up from the desert, flowing with delights, leaning upon her beloved? Under the apple tree I raised thee up: there thy mother was corrupted, there she was defloured that bore thee. *

Quae est ista quae ascendit de deserto deliciis affluens et nixa super dilectum suum sub arbore malo suscitavi te ibi corrupta est mater tua ibi violata est genetrix tua

Who is this, etc... The angels with admiration behold the Gentiles converted to the faith: coming up from the desert, that is, coming from heathenism and false worship: flowing with delights, that is, abounding with good works which are pleasing to God: leaning on her beloved, on the promise of Christ to his Church, that the gates of hell should not prevail against it; and supported by his grace conferred by the sacraments. Under the apple tree I raised thee up; that is, that Christ redeemed the Gentiles at the foot of the cross, where the synagogue of the Jews (the mother church) was corrupted by their denying him, and crucifying him.

8:6. Put me as a seal upon thy heart, as a seal upon thy arm, for love is strong as death, jealousy as hard as hell, the lamps thereof are fire and flames.

Pone me ut signaculum super cor tuum ut signaculum super brachium tuum quia fortis est ut mors dilectio dura sicut inferus aemulatio lampades eius lampades ignis atque flammaram

8:7. Many waters cannot quench charity, neither can the floods drown it: if a man should give all the substance of his house for love, he shall despise it as nothing.

Aquae multae non poterunt extinguere caritatem nec flumina obruent illam si dederit homo omnem substantiam domus suae pro dilectione quasi nihil despicient eum

8:8. Our sister is little, and hath no breasts. What shall we do to our sister in the day when she is to be spoken to? *

Soror nostra parva et ubera non habet quid faciemus sorori nostrae in die quando adloquenda est

Our sister is little, etc... Mystically signifies the Jews, who are to be spoken to: that is, converted towards the end of the world: and then shall become a wall, that is, a part of the building, the church of Christ.

8:9. If she be a wall: let us build upon it bulwarks of silver: if she be a door, let us join it together with boards of cedar.

Si murus est aedificemus super eum propugnacula argentea si ostium est conpingamus illud tabulis cedrinis

8:10. I am a wall: and my breasts are as a tower since I am become in his presence as one finding peace.

Ego murus et ubera mea sicut turris ex quo facta sum coram eo quasi pacem reperiens

8:11. The peaceable had a vineyard, in that which hath people: he let out the same to keepers, every man bringeth for the fruit thereof a thousand pieces of silver.

Vinea fuit Pacifico in ea quae habet populos tradidit eam custodibus vir adfert pro fructu eius mille

argenteos

8:12. My vineyard is before me. A thousand are for thee, the peaceable, and two hundred for them that keep the fruit thereof.

Vinea mea coram me est mille tui Pacifice et ducenti his qui custodiunt fructus eius

8:13. Thou that dwellest in the gardens, the friends hearken: make me hear thy voice.

Quae habitas in hortis amici auscultant fac me audire vocem tuam

8:14. Flee away, O my beloved, and be like to the roe, and to the young hart upon the mountains of aromatical spices.

Fuge dilecte mi et adsimilare capreae hinuloque cervorum super montes aromatum

Titus

The Epistle of St. Paul to Titus

---

St. Paul, having preached the faith in the island of Crete, he ordained his beloved disciple and companion, Titus, bishop, and left him there to finish the work which he had begun. Afterwards the Apostle, on a journey to Nicopolis, a city of Macedonia, wrote this Epistle to Titus, in which he directs him to ordain bishops and priests for the different cities, showing him the principal qualities necessary for a bishop. He also gives him particular advice for his own conduct to his flock, exhorting him to hold to strictness of discipline, but seasoned with lenity. It was written about thirty-three years after our Lord's Ascension. (For more information, see the article EPISTLES TO TIMOTHY AND TITUS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Titus Chapter 1. What kind of men he is to ordain priests. Some men are to be sharply rebuked.

Titus Chapter 2. How he is to instruct both old and young. The duty of servants. The Christian's rule of life.

Titus Chapter 3. Other instructions and directions for life and doctrine.

Titus Chapter 1

What kind of men he is to ordain priests. Some men are to be sharply rebuked.

---

1:1. Paul, a servant of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of the elect of God and the acknowledging of the truth, which is according to godliness:

Paulus servus Dei apostolus autem Iesu Christi secundum fidem electorum Dei et agnitionem veritatis quae secundum pietatem est

1:2. Unto the hope of life everlasting, which God, who lieth not, hath promised before the times of the world:

In spem vitae aeternae quam promisit qui non mentitur Deus ante tempora saecularia

1:3. But hath in due times manifested his word in preaching, which is committed to me according to the commandment of God our Saviour:

Manifestavit autem temporibus suis verbum suum in praedicatione quae credita est mihi secundum praeceptum salvatoris nostri Dei

1:4. To Titus, my beloved son according to the common faith, grace and peace, from God the Father and from Christ Jesus our Saviour.

Tito dilecto filio secundum communem fidem gratia et pax a Deo Patre et Christo Iesu salvatore nostro

1:5. For this cause I left thee in Crete: that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting and shouldest ordain priests in every city, as I also appointed thee:

Huius rei gratia reliqui te Cretae ut ea quae desunt corrigas et constituas per civitates presbyteros sicut ego tibi disposui

1:6. If any be without crime, the husband of one wife having faithful children, not accused of riot or unruly.

Si quis sine crimine est unius uxoris vir filios habens fideles non in accusatione luxuria aut non subditos

1:7. For a bishop must be without crime, as the steward of God: not proud, not subject to anger, nor given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre:

Oportet enim episcopum sine crimine esse sicut Dei dispensatorem non superbum non iracundum non vinolentum non percussorem non turpilucrum cupidum

1:8. But given to hospitality, gentle, sober, just, holy, continent:

Sed hospitalem benignum sobrium iustum sanctum continentem

1:9. Embracing that faithful word which is according to doctrine, that he may be able to exhort in sound doctrine and to convince the gainsayers.

Amplectentem eum qui secundum doctrinam est fidelem sermonem ut potens sit et exhortari in doctrina sana et eos qui contradicunt arguere

1:10. For there are also many disobedient, vain talkers and seducers: especially they who are of the circumcision.

Sunt enim multi et inoboedientes vaniloqui et seductores maxime qui de circumcisione sunt

1:11. Who must be reprov'd, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.

Quos oportet redargui qui universas domos subvertunt docentes quae non oportet turpis lucri gratia

1:12. One of them a prophet of their own, said: The Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, slothful bellies.

Dixit quidam ex illis proprius ipsorum propheta Cretenses semper mendaces malae bestiae ventres pigri

1:13. This testimony is true. Wherefore, rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith:
Testimonium hoc verum est quam ob causam increpa illos dure ut sani sint in fide

1:14. Not giving heed to Jewish fables and commandments of men who turn themselves away from the truth.
Non intendentes iudaicis fabulis et mandatis hominum aversantium se a veritate

1:15. All things are clean to the clean: but to them that are defiled and to unbelievers, nothing is clean: but both their mind and their conscience are defiled.
Omnia munda mundis coinquinatis autem et infidelibus nihil mundum sed inquinatae sunt eorum et mens et conscientia

1:16. They profess that they know God: but in their works they deny him: being abominable and incredulous and to every good work reprobate.
Confitentur se nosse Deum factis autem negant cum sunt abominati et incredibiles et ad omne opus bonum reprobati

Titus Chapter 2

How he is to instruct both old and young. The duty of servants. The Christian's rule of life.

---

2:1. But speak thou the things that become sound doctrine:

Tu autem loquere quae decet sanam doctrinam

2:2. That the aged men be sober, chaste, prudent, sound in faith, in love, in patience.

Senes ut sobrii sint pudici prudentes sani fide dilectione patientia

2:3. The aged women, in like manner, in holy attire, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teaching well:

Anus similiter in habitu sancto non criminatrices non vino multo servientes bene docentes

2:4. That they may teach the young women to be wise, to love their husbands, to love their children.

Ut prudentiam doceant adolescentulas ut viros suos ament filios diligant

2:5. To be discreet, chaste, sober, having a care of the house, gentle, obedient to their husbands: that the word of God be not blasphemed.

Prudentes castas domus curam habentes benignas subditas suis viris ut non blasphemetur verbum Dei

2:6. Young men, in like manner, exhort that they be sober.

Iuvenes similiter hortare ut sobrii sint

2:7. In all things show thyself an example of good works, in doctrine, in integrity, in gravity,

In omnibus te ipsum praebe exemplum bonorum operum in doctrina integritatem gravitatem

2:8. The sound word that can not be blamed: that he who is on the contrary part may be afraid, having no evil to say of us.

Verbum sanum inreprehensibilem ut is qui ex adverso est vereatur nihil habens malum dicere de nobis

2:9. Exhort servants to be obedient to their masters: in all things pleasing, not gainsaying:

Servos dominis suis subditos esse in omnibus placentes non contradicentes

2:10. Not defrauding, but in all things showing good fidelity, that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

Non fraudantes, sed in omnibus fidem bonam ostendentes ut doctrinam salutaris nostri Dei ornent in omnibus

2:11. For the grace of God our Saviour hath appeared to all men:

Apparuit enim gratia Dei salutaris omnibus hominibus

2:12. Instructing us, that, denying ungodliness and worldly desires, we should live soberly and justly and godly in this world,

Erudiens nos ut abnegantes impietatem et saecularia desideria sobrie et iuste et pie vivamus in hoc saeculo

2:13. Looking for the blessed hope and coming of the glory of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ.

Expectantes beatam spem et adventum gloriae magni Dei et salvatoris nostri Iesu Christi

2:14. Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity and might cleanse to himself a people acceptable, a pursuer of good works.

Qui dedit semet ipsum pro nobis ut nos redimeret ab omni iniquitate et mundaret sibi populum acceptabilem sectatorem bonorum operum

2:15. These things speak and exhort and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

Haec loquere et exhortare et argue cum omni imperio nemo te contemnat

3:1. Admonish them to be subject to princes and powers, to obey at a word, to be ready to every good work.

Admone illos principibus et potestatibus subditos esse dicto oboedire ad omne opus bonum paratos esse

3:2. To speak evil of no man, not to be litigious but gentle: showing all mildness towards all men.

Neminem blasphemare non litigiosos esse modestos omnem ostendentes mansuetudinem ad omnes homines

3:3. For we ourselves also were some time unwise, incredulous, erring, slaves to divers desires and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful and hating one another.

Eramus enim et nos aliquando insipientes increduli errantes servientes desideriis et voluptatibus variis in malitia et invidia agentes odibiles odientes invicem

3:7. That, being justified by his grace, we may be heirs according to hope of life everlasting.

Ut iustificati gratia ipsius heredes simus secundum spem vitae aeternae

3:8. It is a faithful saying. And these things I will have thee affirm constantly, that they who believe in God may be careful to excel in good works. These things are good and profitable unto men.

Fidelis sermo est et de his volo te confirmare ut curent bonis operibus praeesse qui credunt Deo haec sunt bona et utilia hominibus

3:9. But avoid foolish questions and genealogies and contentions and strivings about the law. For they are unprofitable and vain.

Stultas autem quaestiones et genealogias et contentiones et pugnas legis devita sunt enim inutiles et vanae

3:10. A man that is a heretic, after the first and second admonition, avoid:

Hereticum hominem post unam et secundam correptionem devita

3:11. Knowing that he that is such an one is subverted and sinneth, being condemned by his own judgment.*

Sciens quia subversus est qui eiusmodi est et delinquit proprio iudicio condemnatus

By his own judgment... Other offenders are judged, and cast out of the church, by the sentence of the pastors of the same church. Heretics, more unhappy, run out of the church of their own accord, and by doing so, give judgment and sentence against their own souls.

3:12. When I shall send to thee Artemas or Tychicus, make haste to come unto me to Nicopolis. For there I have determined to winter.

Cum misero ad te Arteman aut Tychicum festina ad me venire Nicopolim ibi enim statui hiemare

3:13. Send forward Zenas the lawyer and Apollo, with care that nothing be wanting to them.

Zenan legis peritum et Apollo sollicitate praemitte ut nihil illis desit

3:14. And let our men also learn to excel in good works for necessary uses: that they be not unfruitful.
Discant autem et nostri bonis operibus praeesse ad usus necessarios ut non sint infructuosi

3:15. All that are with me salute thee. Salute them that love us in the faith. The grace of God be with you all. Amen.

Salutant te qui mecum sunt omnes saluta qui nos amant in fide gratia Dei cum omnibus vobis amen

Tobias

This Book takes its name from the holy man Tobias, whose wonderful virtues are herein recorded. It contains most excellent documents of great piety, extraordinary patience, and of a perfect resignation to the will of God. His humble prayer was heard, and the angel Raphael was sent to relieve him: he is thankful and praises the Lord, calling on the children of Israel to do the same. Having lived to the age of one hundred and two years, he exhorts his son and grandsons to piety, foretells the destruction of Ninive and the rebuilding of Jerusalem: he dies happily. (For more information, see the article TOBIAS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Tobias Chapter 1. Tobias's early piety: his works of mercy, particularly in burying the dead.

Tobias Chapter 2. Tobias leaveth his dinner to bury the dead: he loseth his sight by God's permission, for manifestation of his patience.

Tobias Chapter 3. The prayer of Tobias, and of Sara, in their several afflictions, are heard by God, and the angel Raphael is sent to relieve them.

Tobias Chapter 4. Tobias thinking he shall die, giveth his son godly admonitions: and telleth him of money he had lent to a friend.

Tobias Chapter 5. Young Tobias seeking a guide for his journey, the angel Raphael, in shape of a man, undertaketh this office.

Tobias Chapter 6. By the angel's advice young Tobias taketh hold on a fish that assaulteth him. Reserveth the heart, the gall, and the liver for medicines. They lodge at the house of Raguel, whose daughter Sara, Tobias is to marry; she had before been married to seven husbands, who were all slain by a devil.

Tobias Chapter 7. They are kindly entertained by Raguel. Tobias demandeth Sara to wife.

Tobias Chapter 8. Tobias burneth part of the fish's liver, and Raphael bindeth the devil. Tobias and Sara pray.

Tobias Chapter 9. The angel Raphael goeth to Gabelus, receiveth the money, and bringeth him to the marriage.

Tobias Chapter 10. The parents lament the long absence of their son Tobias. He sets out to return.

Tobias Chapter 11. Tobias anointeth his father's eyes with the fish's gall, and he recovereth his sight.

Tobias Chapter 12. Raphael maketh himself known.

Tobias Chapter 13. Tobias the father praiseth God, exhorting all Israel to do the same. Prophesieth the restoration and better state of Jerusalem.

Tobias Chapter 14. Old Tobias dieth at the age of a hundred and two years, after exhorting his son and grandsons to piety, foreshowing that Ninive shall be destroyed, and Jerusalem rebuilt. The younger Tobias returneth with his family to Raguel, and dieth happily as he had lived.

Tobias Chapter 1

Tobias's early piety: his works of mercy, particularly in burying the dead.

---

1:1. Tobias of the tribe and city of Nephtali, (which is in the upper parts of Galilee above Naasson, beyond the way that leadeth to the west, having on the right hand the city of Sephet),

Tobias ex tribu et civitate Nephtalim quae est in superioribus Galileae supra Naasson post viam quae ducit ad occidentem in sinistro habens civitatem Sephet

1:2. When he was made captive in the days of Salmanasar king of the Assyrians, even in his captivity, forsook not the way of truth,

Cum captus esset in diebus Salmanassar regis Assyriorum in captivitate tamen positus viam veritatis non deseruit

1:3. But every day gave all he could get to his brethren his fellow captives, that were of his kindred.

Ita ut omnia quae habere poterat cotidie concaptivis fratribus qui erant ex genere inpartiret

1:4. And when he was younger than any of the tribe of Nephtali, yet did he no childish thing in his work.

Cumque esset iunior omnibus in tribu Nephtalim nihil tamen puerile gessit in opere

1:5. Moreover when all went to the golden calves which Jeroboam king of Israel had made, he alone fled the company of all,

Denique cum irent omnes ad vitulos aureos quos Hieroboam fecerat rex Israhel hic solus fugiebat consortia omnium

1:6. And went to Jerusalem to the temple of the Lord, and there adored the Lord God of Israel, offering faithfully all his firstfruits, and his tithes,

Et pergebat ad Hierusalem ad templum Domini et ibi adorabat Dominum Deum suum Israhel omnia primitiva sua et decimas suas fideliter offerens

1:7. So that in the third year he gave all his tithes to the proselytes, and strangers.

Ita ut in tertio anno proselytis et advenis ministraret omnem decimationem

1:8. These and such like things did he observe when but a boy according to the law of God.

Haec et his similia secundum legem Dei puerulus observabat

1:9. But when he was a man, he took to wife Anna of his own tribe, and had a son by her, whom he called after his own name,

Cum vero factus esset vir accepit uxorem Annam ex tribu sua genuitque ex ea filium nomen suum inponens ei

1:10. And from his infancy he taught him to fear God, and to abstain from all sin.

Ab infantia timere Deum docuit et abstinere ab omni peccato

1:11. And when by the captivity he with his wife and his son and all his tribe was come to the city of Ninive,

Igitur cum per captivitatem devenisset cum uxore sua et filio in civitatem Nineve cum omni tribu sua

1:12. (When all ate of the meats of the Gentiles) he kept his soul and never was defiled with their meats.

Et omnes ederent ex cibis gentilium iste custodivit animam suam et numquam contaminatus est in escis eorum

1:13. And because he was mindful of the Lord with all his heart, God gave him favour in the sight of Salmanasar the king.

Et quoniam memor fuit Domini in toto corde suo dedit illi Dominus gratiam in conspectu Salmanassar regis

1:14. And he gave him leave to go whithersoever he would, with liberty to do whatever he had a mind.
Et dedit ei potestatem quocumque vellet ire habens libertatem quaecumque facere voluisset

1:15. He therefore went to all that were in captivity, and gave them wholesome admonitions.
Pergebat ergo per omnes qui erant in captivitate et monita salutis dabat eis

1:16. And when he was come to Rages a city of the Medes, and had ten talents of silver of that with which he had been honoured by the king:
Cum autem venisset in Rages civitatem Medorum et ex his quibus honoratus fuerat a rege habuisset decem talenta argenti

1:17. And when amongst a great multitude of his kindred, he saw Gabelus in want, who was one of his tribe, taking a note of his hand he gave him the aforesaid sum of money.
Et cum multa turba generis sui Gabelum egentem videret qui erat ex tribu eius sub chirografo dedit illi memoratum pondus argenti

1:18. But after a long time, Salmanasar the king being dead, when Sennacherib his son, who reigned in his place, had a hatred for the children of Israel:
Post multum vero temporis mortuo Salmanassar rege cum regnaret Sennacherim filius eius pro eo et filios Israhel exosos haberet in conspectu suo

1:19. Tobias daily went among all his kindred and comforted them, and distributed to every one as he was able, out of his goods:
Tobias pergebat per omnem cognationem suam et consolabatur eos dividebatque unicuique prout poterat de facultatibus suis

1:20. He fed the hungry, and gave clothes to the naked, and was careful to bury the dead, and they that were slain.
Esurientes alebat nudis vestimenta praebebat et mortuis atque occisis sepulturam sollicitus exhibebat

1:21. And when king Sennacherib was come back, fleeing from Judea by reason of the slaughter that God had made about him for his blasphemy, and being angry slew many of the children of Israel, Tobias buried their bodies.
Denique cum reversus esset rex Sennacherim fugiens a Iudaea plagam quam circa eum Deus fecerat propter blasphemiam suam et iratus multos occideret ex filiis Israhel Tobias sepeliebat corpora eorum

1:22. But when it was told the king, he commanded him to be slain, and took away all his substance.
At ubi nuntiatum est regi iussit eum occidi et tulit ei omnem substantiam eius

1:23. But Tobias fleeing naked away with his son and with his wife, lay concealed, for many loved him.
Tobias vero cum filio suo et cum uxore fugiens nudus latuit quia multi diligebant eum

1:24. But after forty-five days, the king was killed by his own sons.
Post dies vero quadraginta et quinque occiderunt regem filii ipsius

1:25. And Tobias returned to his house, and all his substance was restored to him.
Et reversus est Tobias ad domum suam omnisque facultas eius restituta est ei

Tobias Chapter 2

Tobias leaveth his dinner to bury the dead: he loseth his sight by God's permission, for manifestation of his patience.

---

2:1. But after this, when there was a festival of the Lord, and a good dinner was prepared in Tobias's house,

Post haec vero cum esset dies festus Domini et factum esset prandium bonum in domo Tobis

2:2. He said to his son: Go, and bring some of our tribe that fear God, to feast with us.

Dixit filio suo vade et adduc aliquos ex tribu nostra timentes Deum et epulentur nobiscum

2:3. And when he had gone, returning he told him, that one of the children of Israel lay slain in the street. And he forthwith leaped up from his place at the table, and left his dinner, and came fasting to the body.

Cumque abisset reversus nuntiat unum ex filiis Israhel iugulatum iacere in platea statimque exiliens de accubitu suo relinquens prandium ieiunus pervenit ad corpus

2:4. And taking it up carried it privately to his house, that after the sun was down, he might bury him cautiously.

Tollensque illud portavit ad domum suam occulte ut dum sol occubisset caute sepeliret eum

2:5. And when he had hid the body, he ate bread with mourning and fear,

Cumque occultasset corpus manducavit panem cum luctu et tremore

2:6. Remembering the word which the Lord spoke by Amos the prophet: Your festival days shall be turned into lamentation and mourning.

Memorans illum sermonem quem dixit Dominus per Amos prophetam dies festi vestri convertentur in lamentationem et luctum

2:7. So when the sun was down, he went and buried him.

Cum vero sol occubisset abiit et sepelevit eum

2:8. Now all his neighbours blamed him, saying: once already commandment was given for thee to be slain because of this matter, and thou didst scarce escape the sentence of death, and dost thou again bury the dead?

Arguebant autem illum omnes proximi sui dicentes iam huius rei causa interfici iussus es et vix effugisti mortis imperium et iterum sepelis mortuos

2:9. But Tobias fearing God more than the king, carried off the bodies of them that were slain, and hid them in his house, and at midnight buried them.

Sed Tobias plus timens Deum quam regem rapiebat corpora occisorum et occultabat in domo sua et mediis noctibus sepeliebat ea

2:10. Now it happened one day that being wearied with burying, he came to his house, and cast himself down by the wall and slept,

Contigit autem ut quadam die fatigatus a sepultura veniens domum iactasset se iuxta parietem et obdormisset

2:11. And as he was sleeping, hot dung out of a swallow's nest fell upon his eyes, and he was made blind.

Ex nido hirundinum dormienti illi calida stercora insiderent super oculos eius fieretque caecus

2:12. Now this trial the Lord therefore permitted to happen to him, that an example might be given to posterity of his patience, as also of holy Job.

Hanc autem temptationem ideo permisit Dominus evenire illi ut posteris daretur exemplum patientiae eius sicut et sancti Iob

2:13. For whereas he had always feared God from his infancy, and kept his commandments, he repined not against God because the evil of blindness had befallen him,

Nam cum ab infantia sua semper Deum timuerit et mandata eius custodierit non est contristatus contra Deum quod plaga caecitatis evenerit ei

2:14. But continued immoveable in the fear of God, giving thanks to God all the days of his life.

Sed immobilis in Dei timore permansit agens gratias Deo omnibus diebus vitae suae

2:15. For as the kings insulted over holy Job: so his relations and kinsmen mocked at his life, saying: *

Nam sicut beato Iob insultabant reges ita isti parentes et cognati eius et inridebant vitam eius dicentes

Kings... So Job's three friends are here called, because they were princes in their respective territories.

2:16. Where is thy hope, for which thou gavest alms, and buriedst the dead?

Ubi est spes tua pro qua elemosynas et sepulturas faciebas

2:17. But Tobias rebuked them, saying: Speak not so:

Tobias vero increpabat eos dicens nolite ita loqui

2:18. For we are the children of saints, and look for that life which God will give to those that never change their faith from him.

Quoniam filii sanctorum sumus et vitam illam expectamus quam Deus daturus est his qui fidem suam numquam mutant ab eo

2:19. Now Anna his wife went daily to weaving work, and she brought home what she could get for their living by the labour of her hands.

Anna vero uxor eius ibat ad textrinum opus cotidie et de labore manuum suarum victum quem consequi poterat deferebat

2:20. Whereby it came to pass, that she received a young kid, and brought it home:

Unde factum est ut hedum caprarum accipiens detulisset domi

2:21. And when her husband heard it bleating, he said: Take heed, lest perhaps it be stolen: restore ye it to its owners, for it is not lawful for us either to eat or to touch any thing that cometh by theft.

Cuius cum vocem balantis vir eius audisset dixit videte ne forte furtivus sit reddite eum dominis suis quia non licet nobis ex furto aliquid aut edere aut contingere

2:22. At these words his wife being angry answered: It is evident the hope is come to nothing, and thy alms now appear.

Ad haec uxor eius irata respondit manifeste vana facta est spes tua et elemosynae tuae modo paruerunt

2:23. And with these and other, such like words she upbraided him.

Atque his et aliis huiusmodi verbis exprobrabat ei

Tobias Chapter 3

The prayer of Tobias, and of Sara, in their several afflictions, are heard by God, and the angel Raphael is sent to relieve them.

---

3:1. Then Tobias sighed, and began to pray with tears,
Tunc Tobias ingemuit et coepit orare cum lacrimis

3:2. Saying, Thou art just, O Lord, and all thy judgments are just, and all thy ways mercy, and truth, and judgment:
Dicens iustus es Domine et omnia iudicia tua iusta sunt et omnes viae tuae misericordia et veritas et iudicium

3:3. And now, O Lord, think of me, and take not revenge of my sins, neither remember my offences, nor those of my parents.
Et nunc Domine memor esto mei ne vindictam sumas de peccatis meis neque reminiscaris delicta mea vel parentum meorum

3:4. For we have not obeyed thy commandments, therefore are we delivered to spoil and to captivity, and death, and are made a fable, and a reproach to all nations, amongst which thou hast scattered us.
Quoniam non oboedivimus praeceptis tuis et traditi sumus in direptionem et captivitatem et mortem et in fabulam et in inproperium omnibus nationibus in quibus dispersisti nos

3:5. And now, O Lord, great are thy judgments, because we have not done according to thy precepts, and have not walked sincerely before thee.
Et nunc Domine magna iudicia tua quia non egimus secundum praecepta tua et non ambulavimus sinceriter coram te

3:6. And now, O Lord, do with me according to thy will, and command my spirit to be received in peace: for it is better for me to die, than to live.
Et nunc Domine secundum voluntatem tuam fac mecum et praecipe in pace recipi spiritum meum expedit enim mihi mori magis quam vivere

3:7. Now it happened on the same day, that Sara daughter of Raguel, in Rages a city of the Medes, received a reproach from one of her father's servant maids, *
Eadem itaque die contigit ut Sarra filia Raguhel in civitate Medorum ut et ipsa audiret inproperium ab una ex ancillis patris sui
Rages... In the Greek it is Ecbatana, which was also called Rages. For there were two cities in Media of the name of Rages. Raguel dwelt in one of them, and Gabelus in the other.

3:8. Because she had been given to seven husbands and a devil named Asmodeus had killed them, at their first going in unto her.
Quoniam tradita fuerat septem viris et daemonium nomine Asmodeus occiderat eos mox ut ingressi fuissent ad eam

3:9. So when she reproved the maid for her fault, she answered her, saying: May we never see son, or daughter of thee upon the earth, thou murderer of thy husbands.
Ergo cum pro culpa sua increparet puellam respondit ei dicens amplius ex te non videamus filium aut filiam super terram interfectorix virorum tuorum

3:10. Wilt thou kill me also, as thou hast already killed seven husbands? At these words, she went into an upper chamber of her house: and for three days and three nights did neither eat nor drink:
Numquid et me occidere vis sicut et iam septem occidisti ad hanc vocem perrexit in superiori cubiculo domus suae et tribus diebus et tribus noctibus non manducavit neque bibit

3:11. But continuing in prayer with tears besought God, that he would deliver her from this reproach.
Sed in oratione persistens lacrimis deprecabatur Dominum ut ab isto inproperio liberaret eam

3:12. And it came to pass on the third day when she was making an end of her prayer, blessing the Lord,
Factum est autem tertia die dum conpleret orationem benedicens Dominum

3:13. She said: Blessed is thy name, O God of our fathers, who when thou hast been angry, wilt show mercy, and in the time of tribulation forgivest the sins of them that call upon thee.
Dixit benedictum est nomen tuum Deus patrum nostrorum qui cum iratus fueris misericordiam facies et in tempore tribulationis peccata dimittis his qui invocant te

3:14. To thee, O Lord, I turn my face, to thee I direct my eyes.
Ad te Domine faciem meam converto ad te oculos meos converto

3:15. I beg, O Lord, that thou loose me from the bond of this reproach, or else take me away from the earth.
Peto Domine ut de vinculo inproperii huius absolvas me aut certe desuper terra eripias me

3:16. Thou knowest, O Lord, that I never coveted a husband, and have kept my soul clean from all lust.
Tu scis Domine quia numquam concupivi virum et mundam servavi animam meam ab omni concupiscentia

3:17. Never have I joined myself with them that play: neither have I made myself partaker with them that walk in lightness.
Numquam cum ludentibus miscui me neque cum his qui in levitate ambulant participem me praebui

3:18. But a husband I consented to take, with thy fear, not with my lust.
Virum autem cum timore tuo non libidine mea consensi suscipere

3:19. And either I was unworthy of them, or they perhaps were not worthy of me: because perhaps thou hast kept me for another man,
Et aut ego indigna fui illis aut illi mihi forsitan digni non fuerunt quia forsitan viro alio conservasti me

3:20. For thy counsel is not in man's power.
Non est enim in hominis potestate consilium tuum

3:21. But this every one is sure of that worshipping thee, that his life, if it be under trial, shall be crowned and if it be under tribulation, it shall be delivered: and if it be under correction, it shall be allowed to come to thy mercy.
Hoc autem certum habet omnis qui colit te quia vita eius si in probatione fuerit coronabitur si autem in tribulatione fuerit liberabitur et si in correptione fuerit ad misericordiam tuam pervenire licebit

3:22. For thou art not delighted in our being lost, because after a storm thou makest a calm, and after tears and weeping thou pourest in joyfulness.
Non enim delectaris in perditionibus nostris quia post tempestatem tranquillum facis et post lacrimationem et fletum exultationem infundis

3:23. Be thy name, O God of Israel, blessed for ever,
Sit nomen tuum Deus Israhel benedictum in saecula

3:24. At that time the prayers of them both were heard in the sight of the glory of the most high God:
In illo tempore exauditae sunt preces amborum in conspectu gloriae summi Dei

3:25. And the holy angel of the Lord, Raphael was sent to heal them both, whose prayers at one time were rehearsed in the sight of the Lord.
Et missus est angelus Domini sanctus Rafahel ut curaret ambos quorum uno tempore fuerat oratio in conspectu Domini recitata

Tobias Chapter 4

Tobias thinking he shall die, giveth his son godly admonitions: and telleth him of money he had lent to a friend.

---

4:1. Therefore when Tobias thought that his prayer was heard that he might die, he called to him Tobias his son,

Igitur cum Tobias putaret orationem suam exaudiri ut mori potuisset vocavit ad se Tobiam filium suum

4:2. And said to him: Hear, my son, the words of my mouth, and lay them as a foundation in thy heart.

Dixitque ei audi fili mi verba oris mei et ea in corde tuo quasi fundamentum construe

4:3. When God shall take my soul, thou shalt bury my body: and thou shalt honour thy mother all the days of her life:

Cum acceperit Deus animam meam corpus meum sepeli et honorem habebis matri tuae omnibus diebus vitae eius

4:4. For thou must be mindful what and how great perils she suffered for thee in her womb.

Memor enim esse debes quae et quanta pericula passa sit propter te in utero suo

4:5. And when she also shall have ended the time of her life, bury her by me.

Cum autem et ipsa conpleverit tempus vitae suae sepelies eam circa me

4:6. And all the days of thy life have God in thy mind: and take heed thou never consent to sin, nor transgress the commandments of the Lord our God.

Omnibus autem diebus vitae tuae Deum in mente habe et cave ne aliquando peccato consentias et praetermittas praecepta Dei nostri

4:7. Give alms out of thy substance, and turn not away thy face from any poor person: for so it shall come to pass that the face of the Lord shall not be turned from thee.

Ex substantia tua fac elemosynam et noli avertere faciem tuam ab ullo paupere ita enim fiet ut nec a te avertatur facies Domini

4:8. According to thy ability be merciful.

Quomodo potueris ita esto misericors

4:9. If thou have much give abundantly: if thou have little, take care even so to bestow willingly a little.

Si multum tibi fuerit abundanter tribue si exiguum fuerit etiam exiguum libenter impertire stude

4:10. For thus thou storest up to thyself a good reward for the day of necessity.

Praemium enim tibi bonum thesaurizas in die necessitatis

4:11. For alms deliver from all sin, and from death, and will not suffer the soul to go into darkness.

Quoniam elemosyna ab omni peccato et a morte liberat et non patietur animam ire in tenebras

4:12. Alms shall be a great confidence before the most high God, to all them that give it.

Fiducia magna erit coram summo Deo elemosyna omnibus qui faciunt eam

4:13. Take heed to keep thyself, my son, from all fornication, and beside thy wife never endure to know a crime.

Attende tibi fili mi ab omni fornicatione et praeter uxorem tuam numquam patiaris crimen scire

4:14. Never suffer pride to reign in thy mind, or in thy words: for from it all perdition took its beginning.

Superbiam numquam in tuo sensu aut in tuo verbo dominari permittas in ipsa enim initium sumpsit omnis perditio

4:15. If any man hath done any work for thee, immediately pay him his hire, and let not the wages of thy hired servant stay with thee at all.

Quicumque aliquid tibi operatus fuerit statim mercedem ei restitue et merces mercennarii apud te omnino non maneat

4:16. See thou never do to another what thou wouldst hate to have done to thee by another.

Quod ab alio odis fieri tibi vide ne alteri tu aliquando facias

4:17. Eat thy bread with the hungry and the needy, and with thy garments cover the naked,

Panem tuum cum esurientibus et egenis comede et de vestimentis tuis nudos tege

4:18. Lay out thy bread, and thy wine upon the burial of a just man, and do not eat and drink thereof with the wicked.

Panem tuum et vinum super sepulturam iusti constitue et noli ex eo manducare et bibere cum peccatoribus

4:19. Seek counsel always of a wise man.

Consilium semper a sapiente perquire

4:20. Bless God at all times: and desire of him to direct thy ways, and that all thy counsels may abide in him.

Omni tempore benedic Deum et pete ab eo ut vias tuas dirigat et omnia consilia tua in ipso permaneant

4:21. I tell thee also, my son, that I lent ten talents of silver, while thou wast yet a child, to Gabelus, in Rages a city of the Medes, and I have a note of his hand with me:

Indico etiam tibi fili mi dedisse me decem talenta argenti dum infantulus esses Gabelo in Rages civitate Medorum et chirografum eius apud me habeo

4:22. Now therefore inquire how thou mayst go to him, and receive of him the foresaid sum of money, and restore to him the note of his hand.

Et ideo perquire quomodo ad eum pervenias et recipias ab eo supra memoratum pondus argenti et restituas ei chirografum suum

4:23. Fear not, my son: we lead indeed a poor life, but we shall have many good things if we fear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is good.

Noli timere fili mi pauperem quidem vitam gerimus sed multa bona habemus si timuerimus Deum et recesserimus ab omni peccato et fecerimus bene

Tobias Chapter 5

Young Tobias seeking a guide for his journey, the angel Raphael, in shape of a man, undertaketh this office.

---

5:1. Then Tobias answered his father, and said: I will do all things, father, which thou hast commanded me.

Tunc Tobias respondit patri suo et dixit omnia quaecumque praecepisti mihi faciam pater

5:2. But how I shall get this money, I cannot tell; he knoweth not me, and I know not him: what token shall I give him? nor did I ever know the way which leadeth thither.

Quomodo autem hanc pecuniam inquiram ignoro ille me nescit neque ego illum quod signum dabo illi sed neque viam qua pergatur illuc aliquando cognovi

5:3. Then his father answered him, and said: I have a note of his hand with me, which when thou shalt show him, he will presently pay it.

Tunc pater suus respondit illi et dixit chirografum quidem eius penes me habeo quem dum illi ostenderis statim restituet

5:4. But go now, and seek thee out some faithful man, to go with thee for his hire: that thou mayst receive it, while I yet live.

Sed perge nunc et inquire tibi aliquem fidelem virum qui eat tecum salva mercede sua dum adhuc vivo ut recipias ea

5:5. Then Tobias going forth, found a beautiful young man, standing girded, and as it were ready to walk.

Tunc egressus Tobias invenit iuvenem splendidum stantem praecinctorum et quasi paratum ad ambulandum

5:6. And not knowing that he was an angel of God, he saluted him, and said: From whence art thou, good young man?

Et ignorans quod angelus Dei esset salutavit eum et dixit unde te habemus bone iuvenis

5:7. But he answered: Of the children of Israel. And Tobias said to him: Knowest thou the way that leadeth to the country of the Medes?

At ille respondit ex filiis Israhel et Tobias dixit ei nosti viam quae ducit in regionem Medorum

5:8. And he answered: I know it: and I have often walked through all the ways thereof, and I have abode with Gabelus our brother, who dwelleth at Rages a city of the Medes, which is situate in the mount of Ecbatana.

Cui respondit novi et omnia itinera eius frequenter ambulavi et mansi apud Gabelum fratrem nostrum qui moratur in Rages civitate Medorum quae posita est in monte Exbathanis

5:9. And Tobias said to him: Stay for me, I beseech thee, till I tell these same things to my father.

Cui Tobias ait sustine me obsecro donec haec ipsa nuntiem patri meo

5:10. Then Tobias going in told all these things to his father. Upon which his father being in admiration, desired that he would come in unto him.

Tunc ingressus indicavit universa haec patri suo super quae admiratus pater rogat ut introiret ad eum

5:11. So going in he saluted him, and said: Joy be to thee always.

Ingressus itaque salutavit eum et dixit gaudium tibi semper sit

5:12. And Tobias said: What manner of joy shall be to me, who sit in darkness and see not the light of heaven?

Et Tobias ait quale mihi gaudium erit qui in tenebris sedeo et lumen caeli non video

5:13. And the young man said to him: Be of good courage, thy cure from God is at hand.
Cui ait iuvenis forti animo esto in proximo est ut a Deo cureris

5:14. And Tobias said to him: Canst thou conduct my son to Gabelus at Rages, a city of the Medes? and when thou shalt return, I will pay thee thy hire.
Dixit itaque illi Tobias numquid poteris perducere filium meum ad Gabelum in Rages Medorum et cum redieris restituam tibi mercedem tuam

5:15. And the angel said to him: I will conduct him thither, and bring him back to thee.
Et dixit ei angelus ego eum ducam et reducam ad te

5:16. And Tobias said to him: I pray thee, tell me, of what family, or what tribe art thou?
Cui Tobias respondit rogo te indica mihi de qua domo aut de qua tribu es tu

5:17. And Raphael the angel answered: Dost thou seek the family of him thou hirest, or the hired servant himself to go with thy son?
Cui Rafahel angelus dixit genus quaeris mercennarii an ipsum mercennarium qui cum filio tuo eat

5:18. But lest I should make thee uneasy, I am Azarias the son of the great Ananias.*
Sed ne forte sollicitum te reddam ego sum Azarias Ananiae magni filius

Azarias... The angel took the form of Azarias: and therefore might call himself by the name of the man whom he personated. Azarias, in Hebrew, signifies the help of God, and Ananias the grace of God.

5:19. And Tobias answered: Thou art of a great family. But I pray thee be not angry that I desired to know thy family.
Et Tobias respondit ex magno genere es tu sed peto ne irascaris quod voluerim cognoscere genus tuum

5:20. And the angel said to him: I will lead thy son safe, and bring him to thee again safe.
Dixit autem illi angelus ego sanum ducam et sanum tibi reducam filium tuum

5:21. And Tobias answering, said: May you have a good journey, and God be with you in your way, and his angel accompany you.
Respondens autem Tobias dixit bene ambuletis et sit Deus in itinere vestro et angelus eius comitetur vobiscum

5:22. Then all things being ready, that were to be carried in their journey, Tobias bade his father and his mother farewell, and they set out both together.
Tunc paratis omnibus quae erant in via portanda fecit Tobias vale patri et matri suae et ambulaverunt ambo simul

5:23. And when they were departed, his mother began to weep, and to say: Thou hast taken the staff of our old age, and sent him away from us.
Cumque profecti essent coepit flere mater eius et dicere baculum senectutis nostrae tulisti et transmisisti a nobis

5:24. I wish the money for which thou hast sent him, had never been.
Numquam esset ipsa pecunia pro qua misisti eum

5:25. For our poverty was sufficient for us, that we might account it as riches, that we saw our son.
Sufficiebat enim nobis paupertas nostra ut divitias computaremus hoc quod videbamus filium nostrum

5:26. And Tobias said to her: Weep not, our son will arrive thither safe, and will return safe to us, and thy eyes shall see him.
Dixitque ei Tobias noli flere salvus perveniet filius noster et salvus revertetur ad nos et oculi tui videbunt eum

5:27. For I believe that the good angel of God doth accompany him, and doth order all things well that are done about him, so that he shall return to us with joy.
Credo enim quoniam angelus Dei bonus comitetur ei et bene disponat omnia quae circa ipsum geruntur ita ut cum gaudio revertatur ad nos

5:28. At these words his mother ceased weeping, and held her peace.
Ad hanc vocem cessavit mater eius flere et tacuit

Tobias Chapter 6

By the angel's advice young Tobias taketh hold on a fish that assaulteth him. Reserveth the heart, the gall, and the liver for medicines. They lodge at the house of Raguel, whose daughter Sara, Tobias is to marry; she had before been married to seven husbands, who were all slain by a devil.

---

6:1. And Tobias went forward, and the dog followed him, and he lodged the first night by the river of Tigris.

Profectusque est Tobias et canis secutus est eum et mansit prima mansione iuxta fluvium Tigris

6:2. And he went out to wash his feet, and behold a monstrous fish came up to devour him.

Et exivit ut lavaret pedes suos et ecce piscis inmanis exivit ad devorandum eum

6:3. And Tobias being afraid of him, cried out with a loud voice, saying: Sir, he cometh upon me.

Quem expavescens clamavit voce magna dicens Domine invadet me

6:4. And the angel said to him: Take him by the gill, and draw him to thee. And when he had done so, he drew him out upon the land, and he began to pant before his feet.

Et dixit ei angelus adprehende brancia eius et trahe eum ad te quod cum fecisset adtraxit eum in sicco et palpitare coepit ante pedes eius

6:5. Then the angel said to him: Take out the entrails of this fish, and lay up his heart, and his gall, and his liver for thee: for these are necessary for useful medicines.

Tunc dixit ei angelus extentera hunc piscem et cor eius et fel eius et iecur repone tibi sunt enim haec necessaria ad medicamenta utiliter

6:6. And when he had done so, he roasted the flesh thereof, and they took it with them in the way: the rest they salted as much as might serve them, till they came to Rages the city of the Medes.

Quod cum fecisset assavit carnes eius et secum sustulerunt in via cetera salierunt quae sufficerent eis quousque pervenirent in Rages civitatem Medorum

6:7. Then Tobias asked the angel, and said to him: I beseech thee, brother Azarias, tell me what remedies are these things good for, which thou hast bid me keep of the fish?

Tunc interrogavit Tobias angelum et dixit ei obsecro te Azarias frater ut dicas mihi quod remedium habebunt ista quae de pisce servare iussisti

6:8. And the angel, answering, said to him: If thou put a little piece of its heart upon coals, the smoke thereof driveth away all kind of devils, either from man or from woman, so that they come no more to them.*

Respondensque dixit ei cordis eius particulam si super carbones ponas fumus eius extricat omne daemonium sive a viro sive a muliere ita ut ultra non accedat ad eos

Its heart, etc. The liver (verse 19)... God was pleased to give these things a virtue against those proud spirits, to make them, who affected to be like the Most High, subject to such mean corporeal creatures as instruments of his power.

6:9. And the gall is good for anointing the eyes, in which there is a white speck, and they shall be cured.

6:10. And Tobias said to him: Where wilt thou that we lodge?

Et dixit ei ubi vis ut maneamus

6:11. And the angel answering, said: Here is one whose name is Raguel, a near kinsman of thy tribe, and he hath a daughter named Sara, but he hath no son nor any other daughter beside her.

Respondensque angelus ait est hic Raguhel nomine propinquus vir de tribu tua et hic habet filiam nomine Sarram sed neque masculum neque feminam ullum habet alium praeter eam

6:12. All his substance is due to thee, and thou must take her to wife.
Tibi debetur omnis substantia eius et oportet te eam accipere coniugem

6:13. Ask her therefore of her father, and he will give her thee to wife.
Pete ergo eam a patre eius et dabit tibi eam uxorem

6:14. Then Tobias answered, and said: I hear that she hath been given to seven husbands, and they all died: moreover I have heard, that a devil killed them.
Tunc respondit Tobias et dixit audio quia tradita est viris septem et mortui sunt sed et haec audivi quia daemonium illos occidit

6:15. Now I am afraid, lest the same thing should happen to me also: and whereas I am the only child of my parents, I should bring down their old age with sorrow to hell.*
Timeo ergo ne forte mihi haec eveniant et cum sim unicus parentibus meis deponam senectutem illorum cum tristitia ad infernum

Hell... That is, to the place where the souls of the good were kept before the coming of Christ.

6:16. Then the angel Raphael said to him: Hear me, and I will show thee who they are, over whom the devil can prevail.
Tunc angelus Rafahel dixit ei audi me et ostendam tibi qui sunt quibus praevalere potest daemonium

6:17. For they who in such manner receive matrimony, as to shut out God from themselves, and from their mind, and to give themselves to their lust, as the horse and mule, which have not understanding, over them the devil hath power.
Hii namque qui coniugium ita suscipiunt ut Deum a se sua mente excludant et suae libidini ita vacent sicut equus et mulus in quibus non est intellectus habet potestatem daemonium super eos

6:18. But thou when thou shalt take her, go into the chamber, and for three days keep thyself continent from her, and give thyself to nothing else but to prayers with her.
Tu autem cum acceperis eam ingressus cubiculum per tres dies continens esto ab ea et nihil aliud nisi orationibus vacabis cum ea

6:19. And on that night lay the liver of the fish on the fire, and the devil shall be driven away.
Ipsa autem nocte incenso iecore piscis fugabitur daemonium

6:20. But the second night thou shalt be admitted into the society of the holy Patriarchs.
Secunda vero nocte in copulatione sanctorum patriarcharum admitteris

6:21. And the third night thou shalt obtain a blessing that sound children may be born of you.
Tertia autem nocte benedictione consequeris ut filii ex vobis incolomes procreentur

6:22. And when the third night is past, thou shalt take the virgin with the fear of the Lord, moved rather for love of children than for lust, that in the seed of Abraham thou mayst obtain a blessing in children.
Transacta autem tertia nocte accipies virginem cum timore Domini amore filiorum magis quam libidinis ductus ut in semine Abrahae benedictionem in filiis consequaris

Tobias Chapter 7

They are kindly entertained by Raguel. Tobias demandeth Sara to wife.

---

7:1. And they went in to Raguel, and Raguel received them with joy.

Ingressi sunt autem ad Raguhelem et suscepit eos Raguhel cum gaudio

7:2. And Raguel looking upon Tobias, said to Anna his wife: How like is this young man to my cousin?

Intuensque Tobiam Raguhel dixit Annae uxori suae quam similis est iuuenis iste consobrino meo

7:3. And when he had spoken these words, he said: Whence are ye young men our brethren?

Et cum haec dixisset ait unde estis iuvenes fratres nostri at illi dixerunt ex tribu Nephtalim sumus ex captivitate Nineven

7:4. But they said: We are of the tribe of Nephtali, of the captivity of Ninive.

Dixit illis Raguhel nostis Tobiam fratrem meum qui dixerunt novimus

7:5. And Raguel said to them: Do you know Tobias my brother? And they said: We know him.

Cumque multa bona loquerentur de eo dixit angelus ad Raguhel Tobias de quo interrogas pater huius est

7:6. And when he was speaking many good things of him, the angel said to Raguel: Tobias concerning whom thou inquirest is this young man's father.

Et misit se Raguhel et cum lacrimis osculatus est eum et plorans super collum eius

7:7. And Raguel went to him, and kissed him with tears and weeping upon his neck, said: A blessing be upon thee, my son, because thou art the son of a good and most virtuous man.

Dixit benedictio sit tibi fili mi quia boni et optimi viri filius es

7:8. And Anna his wife, and Sara their daughter wept.

Et Anna uxor eius et Sarra filia ipsorum lacrimatae sunt

7:9. And after they had spoken, Raguel commanded a sheep to be killed, and a feast to be prepared. And when he desired them to sit down to dinner,

Postquam autem locuti sunt praecepit Raguhel occidi arietem et parari convivium cumque hortaretur eos discumbere ad prandendum

7:10. Tobias said: I will not eat nor drink here this day, unless thou first grant me my petition, and promise to give me Sara thy daughter.

Tobias dixit hic ego hodie non manducabo neque bibam nisi prius petitionem meam confirmes et promittas mihi dare Sarram filiam tuam

7:11. Now when Raguel heard this he was afraid, knowing what had happened to those seven husbands, that went in unto her: and he began to fear lest it might happen to him also in like manner: and as he was in suspense, and gave no answer to his petition,

Quo audito verbo Raguhel expavit sciens quid evenerit illis septem viris et timere coepit ne forte et huic similiter accideret et cum nutaret et non daret ullum petenti responsum

7:12. The angel said to him: Be not afraid to give her to this man, for to him who feareth God is thy daughter due to be his wife: therefore another could not have her.

Dixit ei angelus noli timere dare illam isti quoniam huic timenti Deum debetur coniux filia tua propterea alius non potuit habere illam

7:13. Then Raguel said: I doubt not but God hath regarded my prayers and tears in his sight.

Tunc dixit Raguhel non dubito quod Deus preces et lacrimas meas in conspectu suo admiserit

7:14. And I believe he hath therefore made you come to me, that this maid might be married to one of her own kindred, according to the law of Moses: and now doubt not but I will give her to thee.

Et credo quoniam ideo vos fecit ad me venire ut ista coniungeretur cognationi suae secundum legem Mosi et nunc noli dubium gerere quod tibi eam non tradam

7:15. And taking the right hand of his daughter, he gave it into the right hand of Tobias, saying: The God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob be with you, and may he join you together, and fulfil his blessing in you.

Et adprehendens dexteram filiae suae dexteram Tobiae tradidit dicens Deus Abraham et Deus Isaac et Deus Iacob sit vobiscum et ipse coniungat vos impleatque benedictionem suam in vobis

7:16. And taking paper they made a writing of the marriage.

Et accepta carta fecerunt conscriptionem coniugii

7:17. And afterwards they made merry, blessing God.

Et post haec epulati sunt benedicentes Deum

7:18. And Raguel called to him Anna his wife, and bade her to prepare another chamber.

Vocavitque ad se Raguhel Annam uxorem suam et praecepit ei ut praepareret alterum cubiculum

7:19. And she brought Sara her daughter in thither, and she wept.

Et introduxit in eum Sarram filiam suam et lacrimata est

7:20. And she said to her: Be of good cheer, my daughter: the Lord of heaven give thee joy for the trouble thou hast undergone.

Dixitque ei forti animo esto filia mi Dominus caeli det tibi gaudium pro taedio quo perpessa es

Tobias Chapter 8

Tobias burneth part of the fish's liver, and Raphael bindeth the devil. Tobias and Sara pray.

8:1. And after they had supped, they brought in the young man to her.

Postquam vero cenaverunt introduxerunt iuvenem ad eam

8:2. And Tobias remembering the angel's word, took out of his bag part of the liver, and laid it upon burning coals.

Recordatus itaque Tobias sermonem angeli protulit de cassidile suo partem iecoris posuitque eam super carbones vivos

8:3. Then the angel Raphael took the devil, and bound him in the desert of upper Egypt.

Tunc Rafahel angelus adprehendit daemonium et religavit eum in deserto superioris Aegypti

8:4. Then Tobias exhorted the virgin, and said to her: Sara, arise, and let us pray to God to day, and to morrow, and the next day: because for these three nights we are joined to God: and when the third night is over, we will be in our own wedlock.

Tunc hortatus est virginem Tobias dixitque ei Sarra exsurge deprecemur Deum hodie et cras et secundum cras quia istis tribus noctibus Deo iungimur tertia autem transacta nocte in nostro erimus coniugio

8:5. For we are the children of saints, and we must not be joined together like heathens that know not God.

Filii quippe sanctorum sumus et non possumus ita coniungi sicut et gentes quae ignorant Deum

8:6. So they both arose, and prayed earnestly both together that health might be given them,

Surgentes autem pariter instanter orabant ambo ut sanitas daretur eis

8:7. And Tobias said: Lord God of our fathers, may the heavens and the earth, and the sea, and the fountains, and the rivers, and all thy creatures that are in them, bless thee.

Dixitque Tobias Domine Deus patrum nostrorum benedicant te caeli et terra et mare fontes et flumina et omnis creatura tua quae in eis sunt

8:8. Thou madest Adam of the slime of the earth, and gavest him Eve for a helper.

Tu fecisti Adam de limo terrae dedistique ei adiutorium Evam

8:9. And now, Lord, thou knowest, that not for fleshly lust do I take my sister to wife, but only for the love of posterity, in which thy name may be blessed for ever and ever.

Et nunc Domine tu scis quia non luxuriae causa accipio sororem meam sed sola posteritatis dilectione in qua benedicatur nomen tuum in saecula saeculorum

8:10. Sara also said: Have mercy on us, O Lord, have mercy on us, and let us grow old both together in health.

Dixit itaque Sarra miserere nobis Domine miserere nobis et consenescamus ambo pariter sani

8:11. And it came to pass about the cockcrowing, Raguel ordered his servants to be called for, and they went with him together to dig a grave.

Et factum est circa pullorum cantum accersiri iussit Raguhel servos suos et abierunt pariter ut foderent sepulchrum

8:12. For he said: Lest perhaps it may have happened to him, in like manner as it did to the other seven husbands, that went in unto her.

Dicebat enim ne simili modo evenerit ei quod et ceteris illis septem qui sunt ingressi ad eam

8:13. And when they had prepared the pit, Raguel went back to his wife, and said to her:
Cumque parassent fossam reversus ad uxorem suam Raguhel dixit

8:14. Send one of thy maids, and let her see if he be dead, that I may bury him before it be day.
Mitte unam ex ancillis tuis et videat si mortuus est ut sepeliam illum antequam inlucescat

8:15. So she sent one of her maidservants, who went into the chamber, and found them safe and sound, sleeping both together.
At illa mittens unam ex ancillis suis ingressa cubiculum reperitque eos incolomes secum pariter dormientes

8:16. And returning she brought the good news: and Raguel and Anna his wife blessed the Lord,
Reversa nuntiavit bonum nuntium et benedixerunt Deum Raguhel videlicet et Anna uxor eius

8:17. And said: We bless thee, O Lord God of Israel, because it hath not happened as we suspected.
Et dixerunt benedicimus te Domine Deus Israhel quia non contigit nobis quemadmodum putabamus

8:18. For thou hast shown thy mercy to us, and hast shut out from us the enemy that persecuted us.
Fecisti enim nobiscum misericordiam tuam et exclusisti a nobis inimicum persequentem nos

8:19. And thou hast taken pity upon two only children. Make them, O Lord, bless thee more fully: and to offer up to thee a sacrifice of thy praise, and of their health, that all nations may know, that thou alone art God in all the earth.
Misertus es autem duobus unicis fac eos Domine in plenius benedicere te et sacrificium tibi laudis tuae et suae sanitatis offerre ut cognoscat universitas gentium quia tu es Deus solus in universa terra

8:20. And immediately Raguel commanded his servants, to fill up the pit they had made, before it was day.
Statimque praecepit servis suis Raguhel ut replerent fossam quam fecerant priusquam lucesceret

8:21. And he spoke to his wife to make ready a feast, and prepare all kind of provisions that are necessary for such as go a journey.
Uxori autem suae dixit ut instrueret convivium et praepararet omnia quae in cibos erant iter agentibus necessaria

8:22. He caused also two fat kine, and four wethers to be killed, and a banquet to be prepared for all his neighbours, and all his friends,
Duas quoque vaccas pingues et quattuor arietes occidi fecit et parari epulas omnibus vicinis suis et cunctis amicis

8:23. And Raguel adjured Tobias, to abide with him two weeks.
Et adiuravit Raguhel Tobiam ut duas ebdomadas moraretur apud eum

8:24. And of all things which Raguel possessed, he gave one half to Tobias, and made a writing, that the half that remained should after their decease come also to Tobias.
De omnibus autem quae possidebat Raguhel dimidiam partem dedit Tobiae et fecit hanc scripturam ut pars dimidia quae supererat post obitum eorum Tobis dominio deveniret

Tobias Chapter 9

The angel Raphael goeth to Gabelus, receiveth the money, and bringeth him to the marriage.

---

9:1. Then Tobias called the angel to him, whom he took to be a man, and said to him: Brother Azarias, I pray thee hearken to my words:

Tunc vocavit ad se Tobias angelum quem quidem hominem aestimabat et dixit ei Azarias frater peto ut auscultes verba mea

9:2. If I should give myself to be thy servant I should not make a worthy return for thy care.

Si me ipsum tradam tibi servum non ero condignus providentiae tuae

9:3. However, I beseech thee, to take with thee beasts and servants, and to go to Gabelus to Rages the city of the Medes: and to restore to him his note of hand, and receive of him the money, and desire him to come to my wedding.

Tamen obsecro ut adsumas tibi animalia sive servitia et vadas ad Gabelum in Rages Medorum reddasque ei chirografum suum et recipias ab eo pecuniam et roges eum venire ad nuptias meas

9:4. For thou knowest that my father numbereth the days: and if I stay one day more, his soul will be afflicted.

Scis enim ipse quoniam numerat dies pater meus et si tardavero una die plus contristatur anima eius

9:5. And indeed thou seest how Raguel hath adjured me, whose adjuring I cannot despise.

Et certe vides quomodo Raguhel coniuraverit me cuius adiuramentum spernere non possum

9:6. Then Raphael took four of Raguel's servants, and two camels, and went to Rages the city of the Medes: and finding Gabelus, gave him his note of hand, and received of him all the money.

Tunc Rafahel adsumens quattuor ex servis Raguhelis et duos camelos in Rages Medorum perrexit et inveniens Gabelum dedit ei chirografum suum et recepit omnem pecuniam

9:7. And he told him concerning Tobias the son of Tobias, all that had been done: and made him come with him to the wedding.

Indicavitque ei de Tobia filio Tobiae omnia quae gesta sunt fecitque eum secum venire ad nuptias

9:8. And when he was come into Raguel's house he found Tobias sitting at the table: and he leaped up, and they kissed each other: and Gabelus wept, and blessed God,

Cumque ingressus esset domum Raguhelis invenit Tobiam discumbentem et exiliens osculati sunt se alterutrum flevit itaque Gabelus et benedixit Deum

9:9. And said: The God of Israel bless thee, because thou art the son of a very good and just man, and that feareth God, and doth almsdeeds:

Et dixit benedicat te Dominus Deus Israhel quia filius es viri optimi et iusti et timentis Deum et elemosynas facientis

9:10. And may a blessing come upon thy wife and upon your parents.

Et dicatur benedictio super uxorem tuam et super parentes vestros

9:11. And may you see your children, and your children's children, unto the third and fourth generation: and may your seed be blessed by the God of Israel, who reigneth for ever and ever.

Et videatis filios vestros et filios filiorum vestrorum usque in tertiam et quartam generationem et sit semen vestrum benedictum a Deo Israhel qui regnat in saecula saeculorum

9:12. And when all had said, Amen, they went to the feast: but the marriage feast they celebrated also with the fear of the Lord.

Cumque omnes dixissent amen accesserunt ad convivium sed et cum timore Domini nuptiarum convivium exercebant

Tobias Chapter 10

The parents lament the long absence of their son Tobias. He sets out to return.

---

10:1. But as Tobias made longer stay upon occasion of the marriage, Tobias his father was solicitous, saying: Why thinkest thou doth my son tarry, or why is he detained there?

Cum vero moras faceret Tobias causa nuptiarum sollicitus erat pater eius Tobias dicens putas quare moratur filius meus aut quare detentus est ibi

10:2. Is Gabelus dead, thinkest thou, and no man will pay him the money?

Putasne Gabelus mortuus est et nemo illi reddet pecuniam

10:3. And he began to be exceeding sad, both he and Anna his wife with him: and they began both to weep together, because their son did not return to them on the day appointed.

Coepit autem contristari nimis ipse et Anna uxor eius cum eo et coeperunt ambo simul flere eo quod die statuto minime reverteretur filius eorum ad eos

10:4. But his mother wept and was quite disconsolate, and said: Woe, woe is me, my son; why did we send thee to go to a strange country, the light of our eyes, the staff of our old age, the comfort of our life, the hope of our posterity?

Flebat igitur mater eius inremediabilibus lacrimis atque dicebat heu heu me fili mi ut quid te misimus peregrinari lumen oculorum nostrorum baculum senectutis nostrae solacium vitae nostrae spem posteritatis nostrae

10:5. We having all things together in thee alone, ought not to have let thee go from us.

Omnia in te uno habentes te non debuimus dimittere ire a nobis

10:6. And Tobias said to her: Hold thy peace, and be not troubled, our son is safe: that man with whom we sent him is very trusty.

Cui dicebat Tobias tace et noli turbari sanus est filius noster satis fidelis est vir ille cum quo misimus eum

10:7. But she could by no means be comforted, but daily running out looked round about, and went into all the ways by which there seemed any hope he might return, that she might if possible see him coming afar off.

Illa autem nullo modo consolari poterat sed cotidie exiliens circumspiciebat et circuibat vias omnes per quas spes remeandi videbatur ut procul videret eum si fieri possit venientem

10:8. But Raguel said to his son in law: Stay here, and I will send a messenger to Tobias thy father, that thou art in health.

At vero Raguhel dicebat ad generum suum mane hic et ego mittam nuntium salutis de te ad Tobiam patrem tuum

10:9. And Tobias said to him: I know that my father and mother now count the days, and their spirit is grievously afflicted within them.

Cui Tobias dixit ego novi quia pater meus et mater mea modo dies computant et cruciatur spiritus eorum in ipsis

10:10. And when Raguel had pressed Tobias with many words, and he by no means would hearken to him, he delivered Sara unto him, and half of all his substance in menservants, and womenservants, in cattle, in camels, and in kine, and in much money, and sent him away safe and joyful from him,

Cumque verbis multis rogaret Raguhel Tobiam et ille eum nulla ratione vellet audire tradidit ei Sarram et dimidiam partem omnis substantiae suae in pueris et in puellis et in pecudibus et in camelis et in pecunia multa et salvum atque gaudentem dimisit eum a se

10:11. Saying: The holy angel of the Lord be with you in your journey, and bring you through safe, and that you may find all things well about your parents, and my eyes may see your children before I die.

Dicens angelus Domini sanctus sit in itinere vestro perducaturque vos incolomes et inveniatis omnia recte circa conparentes vestros et videant oculi mei filios vestros priusquam moriar

10:12. And the parents taking their daughter kissed her, and let her go:

Et adprehendentes parentes filiam suam osculati sunt eam et dimiserunt ire

10:13. Admonishing her to honour her father and mother in law, to love her husband, to take care of the family, to govern the house, and to behave herself irreprehensibly.

Monentes eam honorare soceros diligere maritum regere familiam gubernare domum et se ipsam irreprehensibilem exhibere

Tobias Chapter 11

Tobias anointeth his father's eyes with the fish's gall, and he recovereth his sight.

---

11:1. And as they were returning they came to Charan, which is in the midway to Ninive, the eleventh day.

Cumque reverterentur pervenerunt ad Charram quae est in medio itinere contra Nineven undecimo die

11:2. And the angel said: Brother Tobias, thou knowest how thou didst leave thy father.

Dixit angelus Tobias frater scis quemadmodum reliquisti patrem tuum

11:3. If it please thee therefore, let us go before, and let the family follow softly after us, together with thy wife, and with the beasts.

Si placet itaque tibi praecedamus et lento gradu insequentur iter nostrum familiae simul cum coniuge tua et cum animalibus

11:4. And as this their going pleased him, Raphael said to Tobias: Take with thee of the gall of the fish, for it will be necessary. So Tobias took some of that gall and departed.

Cumque hoc placuisset ut irent dixit Rafahel ad Tobiam tolle tecum ex felle piscis erit enim necessarium tulit itaque Tobias ex felle illo et abierunt

11:5. But Anna sat beside the way daily, on the top of a hill, from whence she might see afar off.

Anna vero sedebat secus viam in supercilio montis unde respicere poterat de longinquo

11:6. And while she watched his coming from that place, she saw him afar off, and presently perceived it was her son coming: and returning she told her husband, saying: Behold thy son cometh.

Et dum ex eodem loco specularetur adventum eius vidit a longe et ilico agnovit venientem filium suum et currens nuntiavit viro suo dicens ecce venit filius tuus

11:7. And Raphael said to Tobias: As soon as thou shalt come into thy house, forthwith adore the Lord thy God: and giving thanks to him, go to thy father, and kiss him.

Dixitque Rafahel ad Tobiam adubi introieris domum tuam statim adora Dominum Deum tuum et gratias agens ei accede ad patrem tuum et osculare eum

11:8. And immediately anoint his eyes with this gall of the fish, which thou carriest with thee. For be assured that his eyes shall be presently opened, and thy father shall see the light of heaven, and shall rejoice in the sight of thee.

Statimque lini super oculos eius ex felle isto piscis quod portas tecum scias enim quoniam mox aperientur oculi eius et videbit pater tuus lumen caeli et in aspectu tuo gaudebit

11:9. Then the dog, which had been with them in the way, ran before, and coming as if he had brought the news, showed his joy by his fawning and wagging his tail. *

Tunc praecurrit canis qui simul fuerat in via et quasi nuntius adveniens blandimento suae caudae gaudebat

The dog, etc... This may seem a very minute circumstance to be recorded in sacred history: but as we learn from our Saviour, Matthew 5:18, there are iotas and tittles in the word of God: that is to say, things that appear minute, but which have indeed a deep and mysterious meaning in them.

11:10. And his father that was blind, rising up, began to run stumbling with his feet: and giving a servant his hand, went to meet his son.

Unde contigit ut exurgens caecus pater coepit offendens pedibus currere et data manu puero occurrit in obviam filio suo

11:11. And receiving him kissed him, as did also his wife, and they began to weep for joy.

Et suscipiens osculatus est eum cum uxore sua et coeperunt flere prae gaudio

11:12. And when they had adored God, and given him thanks, they sat down together.
Cumque adorassent Dominum et gratias egissent consederunt

11:13. Then Tobias taking of the gall of the fish, anointed his father's eyes.
Tunc sumens Tobias de felle piscis linivit oculos patri suo

11:14. And he stayed about half an hour: and a white skin began to come out of his eyes, like the skin of an egg.
Et sustinens quasi dimidiam fere horam coepit albugo ex oculis eius quasi membrana ovi egredi

11:15. And Tobias took hold of it, and drew it from his eyes, and recovered his sight.
Quem adprehendens Tobias traxit ab oculis eius statimque visum recepit

11:16. And they glorified God, both he and his wife and all that knew him.
Et glorificabant Deum ipse videlicet et uxor eius et omnes qui sciebant eum

11:17. And Tobias said: I bless thee, O Lord God of Israel, because thou hast chastised me, and thou hast saved me and behold I see Tobias my son.
Dicebatque Tobias benedico te Domine Deus Israhel quoniam tu castigasti me et tu sanasti me et ecce video Tobiam filium meum

11:18. And after seven days Sara his son's wife and all the family arrived safe, and the cattle, and the camels, and an abundance of money of his wife's: and that money also which he had received of Gabelus, Ingressa est etiam post septem dies Sarra uxor filii eius et omnes familiae et pecora sana et cameli et pecunia multa uxoris sed et alia pecunia quam receperat a Gabelo

11:19. And he told his parents all the benefits of God, which he had done to him by the man that conducted him.
Et narravit parentibus suis omnia beneficia Dei quae fecisset circa eum per hominem qui eum duxerat

11:20. And Achior and Nabath the kinsmen of Tobias came, rejoicing for Tobias, and congratulating with him for all the good things that God had done for him.
Veneruntque Achior et Nabath consobrini Tobiae gaudentes ad Tobin congratulantes ei de omnibus bonis quae circa illum ostenderat Deus

11:21. And for seven days they feasted and rejoiced all with great joy.
Et per septem dies epulantes omnes gaudio magno gavisii sunt

Tobias Chapter 12

Raphael maketh himself known.

---

12:1. Then Tobias called to him his son and said to him: What can we give to this holy man, that is come with thee?

Tunc vocavit ad se Tobias filium suum dixitque ei quid possumus dare viro isti sancto qui venit tecum

12:2. Tobias answering, said to his father: Father, what wages shall we give him? or what can be worthy of his benefits?

Respondens Tobias dixit pater quam mercedem dabimus ei aut quid dignum poterit esse beneficiis eius

12:3. He conducted me and brought me safe again, he received the money of Gabelus, he caused me to have my wife, and he chased from her the evil spirit, he gave joy to her parents, myself he delivered from being devoured by the fish, thee also he hath made to see the light of heaven, and we are filled with all good things through him. What can we give him sufficient for these things?

Me duxit et reduxit sanum pecuniam a Gabelo ipse suscepit uxorem ipse me habere fecit et daemonium ab ea conpescuit gaudium parentibus eius fecit me ipsum a devoratione piscis eripuit te quoque fecit videre lumen caeli et bonis omnibus per eum repleti sumus quid illi ad haec dignum poterimus dare

12:4. But I beseech thee, my father, to desire him, that he would vouchsafe to accept of one half of all things that have been brought.

Sed peto te pater mi ut roges eum si forte dignabitur medietatem de omnibus quae adlata sunt sibi adsumere

12:5. So the father and the son calling him, took him aside: and began to desire him that he would vouchsafe to accept of half of all things that they had brought,

Et vocantes eum pater scilicet et filius tulerunt eum in partem et rogare coeperunt ut dignaretur dimidiam partem omnium quae adtulerant acceptam habere

12:6. Then he said to them secretly, Bless ye the God of heaven, give glory to him in the sight of all that live, because he hath shown his mercy to you.

Tunc dixit eis occulte benedicite Deum caeli et coram omnibus viventibus confitemini illi quoniam fecit vobiscum misericordiam suam

12:7. For it is good to hide the secret of a king: to reveal and confess the works of God.

Etenim sacramentum regis abscondere bonum est opera autem Dei revelare et confiteri honorificum est

12:8. Prayer is good with fasting and alms more than to lay up treasures of gold.

Bona est oratio cum ieiunio et elemosyna magis quam thesauros auri condere

12:9. For alms delivereth from death, and the same is that which purgeth away sins, and maketh to find mercy and life everlasting.

Quoniam elemosyna a morte liberat et ipsa est quae purgat peccata et faciet invenire vitam aeternam

12:10. But they that commit sin and iniquity, are enemies to their own soul.

Qui autem faciunt peccatum et iniquitatem hostes sunt animae suae

12:11. I discover then the truth unto you, and I will not hide the secret from you.

Manifesto ergo vobis veritatem et non abscondam a vobis sermonem occultum

12:12. When thou didst pray with tears, and didst bury the dead, and didst leave thy dinner, and hide the dead by day in thy house, and bury them by night, I offered thy prayer to the Lord.

Quando orabas cum lacrimis et sepeliebas mortuos et derelinquebas prandium et mortuos abscondebas per diem in domo tua et nocte sepeliebas ego obtuli orationem tuam Domino

12:13. And because thou wast acceptable to God, it was necessary that temptation should prove thee.
Et quia acceptus eras Deo necesse fuit ut temptatio probaret te

12:14. And now the Lord hath sent me to heal thee, and to deliver Sara thy son's wife from the devil.
Et nunc misit me Dominus ut curarem te et Sarram uxorem filii tui a daemonio liberarem

12:15. For I am the angel Raphael, one of the seven, who stand before the Lord.
Ego enim sum Rafahel angelus unus ex septem qui adstamus ante Dominum

12:16. And when they had heard these things, they were troubled, and being seized with fear they fell upon the ground on their face.
Cumque haec audissent turbati sunt et trementes ceciderunt super faciem suam

12:17. And the angel said to them: Peace be to you, fear not.
Dixitque eis angelus pax vobis nolite timere

12:18. For when I was with you, I was there by the will of God: bless ye him, and sing praises to him.
Etenim cum essem vobiscum per voluntatem Dei ipsum benedicite et cantate illi

12:19. I seemed indeed to eat and to drink with you but I use an invisible meat and drink, which cannot be seen by men.
Videbar quidem vobiscum manducare et bibere sed ego cibo invisibili et potu qui ab hominibus videri non potest utor

12:20. It is time therefore that I return to him that sent me: but bless ye God, and publish all his wonderful works.
Tempus est ergo ut revertar ad eum qui me misit vos autem benedicite Deum et narrate omnia mirabilia eius

12:21. And when he had said these things, he was taken from their sight, and they could see him no more.
Et cum haec dixisset ab aspectu eorum ablatus est et ultra eum videre non potuerunt

12:22. Then they lying prostrate for three hours upon their face, blessed God, and rising up, they told all his wonderful works.
Tunc prostrati per horas tres in faciem benedixerunt Deum et exsurgentes narraverunt omnia mirabilia eius

Tobias Chapter 13

Tobias the father praiseth God, exhorting all Israel to do the same. Prophesieth the restoration and better state of Jerusalem.

---

13:1. And Tobias the elder opening his mouth, blessed the Lord, and said: Thou art great O Lord, for ever, and thy kingdom is unto all ages.

Aperiens autem Tobias senior os suum benedixit Dominum et dixit magnus es Domine in aeternum et in omnia saecula regnum tuum

13:2. For thou scourgest, and thou savest: thou leadest down to hell, and bringest up again: and there is none that can escape thy hand.

Quoniam tu flagellas et salvas deducis ad infernum et reducis et non est qui effugiat manum tuam

13:3. Give glory to the Lord, ye children of Israel, and praise him in the sight of the Gentiles:

Confitemini Domino filii Israhel et in conspectu gentium laudate eum

13:4. Because he hath therefore scattered you among the Gentiles, who know not him, that you may declare his wonderful works, and make them know that there is no other almighty God besides him.

Quoniam ideo dispersit vos inter gentes quae ignorant eum ut vos narretis mirabilia eius et faciatis scire eos quia non est alius Deus omnipotens praeter eum

13:5. He hath chastised us for our iniquities: and he will save us for his own mercy.

Ipse castigavit nos propter iniquitates nostras et ipse salvabit nos propter misericordiam suam

13:6. See then what he hath done with us, and with fear and trembling give ye glory to him: and extol the eternal King of worlds in your works.

Aspicite ergo quae fecit vobiscum et cum timore et tremore confitemini illi regemque saeculorum exaltate in operibus vestris

13:7. As for me, I will praise him in the land of my captivity: because he hath shown his majesty toward a sinful nation,

Ego autem in terra captivitatis meae confitebor illi quoniam ostendit maiestatem suam in gentem peccatricem

13:8. Be converted therefore, ye sinners, and do justice before God, believing that he will show his mercy to you.

Convertimini itaque peccatores et facite iustitiam coram Deo credentes quod faciat vobiscum misericordiam suam

13:9. And I and my soul will rejoice in him.

Ego autem et anima mea in eo laetabimur

13:10. Bless ye the Lord, all his elect, keep days of joy, and give glory to him.

Benedicite Dominum omnes electi eius agite dies laetitiae et confitemini illi

13:11. Jerusalem, city of God, the Lord hath chastised thee for the works of thy hands. *

Hierusalem civitas Dei castigavit te Dominus in operibus manuum tuarum

Jerusalem... What is prophetically delivered here, and in the following chapter, with relation to Jerusalem, is partly to be understood of the rebuilding of the city after the captivity: and partly of the spiritual Jerusalem, which is the church of Christ, and the eternal Jerusalem in heaven.

13:12. Give glory to the Lord for thy good things, and bless the God eternal that he may rebuild his tabernacle in thee, and may call back all the captives to thee, and thou mayst rejoice for ever and ever.

Confitere Domino in bonis et benedic Deum saeculorum ut reaedificet in te tabernaculum suum et revocet ad te omnes captivos et gaudeas in omnia saecula saeculorum

13:13. Thou shalt shine with a glorious light: and all the ends of the earth shall worship thee,
Luce splendida fulgebis et omnes fines terrae adorabunt te

13:14. Nations from afar shall come to thee: and shall bring gifts, and shall adore the Lord in thee, and shall esteem thy land as holy.
Nationes ex longinquo ad te venient et munera deferentes adorabunt Dominum in te et terram tuam in sanctificatione habebunt

13:15. For they shall call upon the great name in thee,
Nomen magnum invocabunt in te

13:16. They shall be cursed that shall despise thee: and they shall be condemned that shall blaspheme thee: and blessed shall they be that shall build thee up,
Maledicti erunt qui contempserint te et condemnati erunt omnes qui blasphemaverint te benedictique erunt qui aedificaverint te 13:17. But thou shalt rejoice in thy children, because they shall all be blessed, and shall be gathered together to the Lord.

Tu autem laetaberis in filiis tuis quoniam omnes benedicentur et congregabuntur ad Dominum

13:18. Blessed are all they that love thee, and that rejoice in thy peace,
Beati omnes qui diligunt te et qui gaudent super pace tua

13:19. My soul, bless thou the Lord, because the Lord our God hath delivered Jerusalem his city from all her troubles.
Anima mea benedic Dominum quoniam liberavit Hierusalem civitatem suam

13:20. Happy shall I be if there shall remain of my seed, to see the glory of Jerusalem.
Beatus ero si fuerint reliquiae seminis mei ad videndam claritatem Hierusalem

13:21. The gates of Jerusalem shall be built of sapphire, and of emerald, and all the walls thereof round about of precious stones.
Portae Hierusalem ex sapphyro et zmaragdo aedificabuntur et ex lapide pretioso omnis circuitus murorum eius

13:22. All its streets shall be paved with white and clean stones: and Alleluia shall be sung in its streets,
Ex lapide candido et mundo omnes plateae eius sternentur et per vicos eius alleluia cantabitur

13:23. Blessed be the Lord, who hath exalted it, and may he reign over it for ever and ever, Amen.
Benedictus Dominus qui excitavit eam ut sit regnum eius in saecula saeculorum super eam amen

Tobias Chapter 14

Old Tobias dieth at the age of a hundred and two years, after exhorting his son and grandsons to piety, foreshowing that Ninive shall be destroyed, and Jerusalem rebuilt. The younger Tobias returneth with his family to Raguel, and dieth happily as he had lived.

---

14:1. And the words of Tobias were ended. And after Tobias was restored to his sight, he lived two and forty years, and saw the children of his grandchildren.

Et consummati sunt sermones Tobi et posteaquam inluminatus est vixit annis quadraginta duobus et vidit filios nepotum suorum

14:2. And after he had lived a hundred and two years, he was buried honorably in Ninive.

Completis itaque annis centum duobus sepultus est honorifice in Nineven

14:3. For he was six and fifty years old when he lost the sight of his eyes, and sixty when he recovered it again.

Quinquaginta namque et sex annorum oculorum lumen amisit sexagenarius vero recepit

14:4. And the rest of his life was in joy, and with great increase of the fear of God he departed in peace.

Reliquum vero vitae suae in gaudio fuit et cum bono profectu timoris Dei perrexit in pace

14:5. And at the hour of his death he called unto him his son Tobias and his children, seven young men, his grandsons, and said to them:

In hora autem mortis suae vocavit ad se Tobiam filium suum et septem iuvenes filios eius nepotes suos dixitque eis

14:6. The destruction of Ninive is at hand: for the word of the Lord must be fulfilled: and our brethren, that are scattered abroad from the land of Israel, shall return to it.

Prope erit interitus Nineven non enim excidit verbum Dei et fratres nostri qui dispersi sunt a terra Israhel revertentur ad eam

14:7. And all the land thereof that is desert shall be filled with people, and the house of God which is burnt in it, shall again be rebuilt: and all that fear God shall return thither.

Omnis autem deserta terra eius replebitur et domus Dei quae in ea incensa est iterum reaedificabitur ibique revertentur omnes timentes Deum

14:8. And the Gentiles shall leave their idols, and shall come into Jerusalem, and shall dwell in it.

Et relinquent gentes idola sua et venient in Hierusalem et inhabitabunt in ea

14:9. And all the kings of the earth shall rejoice in it, adoring the King of Israel.

Et gaudebunt in ea omnes adorantes regem Israhel

14:10. Harken therefore, my children, to your father: serve the Lord in truth, and seek to do the things that please him:

Audite ergo filii mei patrem vestrum servite Domino in veritate et inquirete ut faciatis quae sunt placita illi

14:11. And command your children that they do justice and almsdeeds, and that they be mindful of God, and bless him at all times in truth, and with all their power.

Et filiis vestris mandate ut faciant iustitias et elemosynas ut sint memores Dei et benedicant eum in omni tempore in veritate et in tota virtute sua

14:12. And now, children, hear me, and do not stay here: but as soon as you shall bury your mother by me in one sepulchre, without delay direct your steps to depart hence:

Nunc ergo filii audite me et nolite manere hic sed quacumque die sepelieritis matrem vestram circa me in uno sepulchro ex eo dirigite gressus vestros ut exeatis hinc

14:13. For I see that its iniquity will bring it to destruction.

Video enim quoniam iniquitas eius finem dabit ei

14:14. And it came to pass that after the death of his mother, Tobias departed out of Ninive with his wife, and children, and children's children, and returned to his father and mother in law.

Factum est autem post obitum matris suae Tobias abscessit ex Nineven cum uxore sua et filiis et reversus est ad soceros suos

14:15. And he found them in health in a good old age: and he took care of them, and he closed their eyes: and all the inheritance of Raguel's house came to him: and he saw his children's children to the fifth generation.

Invenitque eos incolomes in senectute bona et curam eorum gessit et ipse clausit oculos eorum et omnem hereditatem domus Raguhel ipse percepit viditque quintam generationem filios filiorum suorum

14:16. And after he had lived ninety-nine years in the fear of the Lord, with joy they buried him.

Et completis annis nonaginta et novem in timore Domini cum gaudio sepelierunt eum

14:17. And all his kindred, and all his generation continued in good life, and in holy conversation, so that they were acceptable both to God, and to men, and to all that dwelt in the land.

Omnis cognatio eius et omnis generatio eius in bona vita et sancta conversatione permansit ita ut accepti essent tam Deo quam hominibus et cunctis habitatoribus terrae

Wisdom

This Book is so called, because it treats of the excellence of WISDOM, the means to obtain it, and the happy fruits it produces. It is written in the person of Solomon, and contains his sentiments. But it is uncertain who was the writer. It abounds with instructions and exhortations to kings and all magistrates to minister justice in the commonwealth, teaching all kinds of virtues under the general names of justice and wisdom. It contains also many prophecies of Christ's coming, passion, resurrection, and other Christian mysteries. The whole may be divided into three parts. In the first six chapters, the author admonishes all superiors to love and exercise justice and wisdom. In the next three, he teacheth that wisdom proceedeth only from God, and is procured by prayer and a good life. In the other ten chapters, he showeth the excellent effects and utility of wisdom and justice. (For more information, see the article BOOK OF WISDOM in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Wisdom Chapter 1. An exhortation to seek God sincerely, who cannot be deceived, and desireth not our death.

Wisdom Chapter 2. The vain reasonings of the wicked: their persecuting the just, especially the Son of God.

Wisdom Chapter 3. The happiness of the just: and the unhappiness of the wicked.

Wisdom Chapter 4. The difference between the chaste and the adulterous generations: and between the death of the just and the wicked.

Wisdom Chapter 5. The fruitless repentance of the wicked in another world: the reward of the just.

Wisdom Chapter 6. An address to princes to seek after wisdom: she is easily found by those that seek her.

Wisdom Chapter 7. The excellence of wisdom: how she is to be found.

Wisdom Chapter 8. Further praises of wisdom: and her fruits.

Wisdom Chapter 9. Solomon's prayer for wisdom.

Wisdom Chapter 10. What wisdom did for Adam, Noe, Abraham, Lot, Jacob, Joseph, and the people of Israel.

Wisdom Chapter 11. Other benefits of wisdom to the people of God.

Wisdom Chapter 12. God's wisdom and mercy in his proceedings with the Chanaanites.

Wisdom Chapter 13. Idolaters are inexcusable: and those most of all that worship for gods the works of the hands of men.

Wisdom Chapter 14. The beginning of worshipping idols: and the effects thereof.

Wisdom Chapter 15. The servants of God praise him who hath delivered them from idolatry; condemning both the makers and the worshippers of idols.

Wisdom Chapter 16. God's different dealings with the Egyptians and with his own people.

Wisdom Chapter 17. The Egyptian darkness.

Wisdom Chapter 18. The slaughter of the firstborn in Egypt: the efficacy of Aaron's intercession, in the sedition on occasion of Core.

Wisdom Chapter 19. Why God showed no mercy to the Egyptians. His favour to the Israelites. All creatures obey God's orders for the service of the good, and the punishment of the wicked.

Wisdom Chapter 1

An exhortation to seek God sincerely, who cannot be deceived, and desireth not our death.

---

1:1. Love justice, you that are the judges of the earth. Think of the Lord in goodness, and seek him in simplicity of heart:

Diligite iustitiam qui iudicatis terram sentite de Domino in bonitate et in simplicitate cordis quaerite illum

1:2. For he is found by them that tempt him not: and he showeth himself to them that have faith in him. Quoniam invenitur ab his qui non temptant illum apparet autem eis qui fidem habent in illum

1:3. For perverse thoughts separate from God: and his power, when it is tried, reproveth the unwise: Perversae enim cogitationes separant a Deo probata autem virtus corripit insipientes

1:4. For wisdom will not enter into a malicious soul, nor dwell in a body subject to sins. Quoniam in malivolam animam non intrabit sapientia nec habitabit in corpore subdito peccatis

1:5. For the Holy Spirit of discipline will flee from the deceitful, and will withdraw himself from thoughts that are without understanding, and he shall not abide when iniquity cometh in. Sanctus enim spiritus disciplinae effugiet fictum et auferet se a cogitationibus quae sunt sine intellectu et corripietur superveniente iniquitate

1:6. For the spirit of wisdom is benevolent, and will not acquit the evil speaker from his lips: for God is witness of his reins, and he is a true searcher of his heart, and a hearer of his tongue. Benignus est enim spiritus sapientiae et non liberabit maledictum a labiis suis quoniam renum illius testis est Deus et cordis eius scrutator est verus et linguae illius auditor

1:7. For the Spirit of the Lord hath filled the whole world: and that which containeth all things, hath knowledge of the voice.

Quoniam spiritus Domini replevit orbem terrarum et hoc quod continet omnia scientiam habet vocis

1:8. Therefore he that speaketh unjust things, cannot be hid, neither shall the chastising judgment pass him by.

Propter hoc qui loquitur iniqua non potest latere nec praeteriet illum corripiens iudicium

1:9. For inquisition shall be made into the thoughts of the ungodly, and the hearing of his words shall come to God, to the chastising of his iniquities.

In cogitationibus enim impii interrogatio erit sermonum autem illius auditio ad Dominum veniet ad correptionem iniquitatum illius

1:10. For the ear of jealousy heareth all things, and the tumult of murmuring shall not be hid.

Quoniam auris zeli audit omnia et tumultus murmurationum non abscondetur

1:11. Keep yourselves, therefore, from murmuring, which profiteth nothing, and refrain your tongue from detraction, for an obscure speech shall not go for nought: and the mouth that believeth, killeth the soul.

Custodite ergo vos a murmuratione quae nihil prodest et a detractone parcite linguae quoniam responsum obscurum in vacuum non ibit os autem quod mentitur occidit animam

1:12. Seek not death in the error of your life, neither procure ye destruction by the works of your hands. Nolite zelare mortem in errore vitae vestrae neque adquiratis perditionem in operibus manuum vestrarum

1:13. For God made not death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the living.

Quoniam Deus mortem non fecit nec laetatur in perditione vivorum

1:14. For he created all things that they might be: and he made the nations of the earth for health: and there is no poison of destruction in them, nor kingdom of hell upon the earth.

Creavit enim ut essent omnia et sanabiles nationes orbis terrarum et non est in illis medicamentum exterminii nec inferorum regnum in terra

1:15. For justice is perpetual and immortal.

Iustitia enim immortalis est

1:16. But the wicked with works and words have called it to them: and esteeming it a friend, have fallen away and have made a covenant with it: because they are worthy to be of the part thereof.

Impii autem manibus et verbis arcessierunt illam et aestimantes illam amicam defluerunt et sponsonem posuerunt ad illam quoniam digni sunt qui sunt ex parte illius

Wisdom Chapter 2

The vain reasonings of the wicked: their persecuting the just, especially the Son of God.

---

2:1. For they have said, reasoning with themselves, but not right: The time of our life is short and tedious, and in the end of a man there is no remedy, and no man hath been known to have returned from hell: Dixerunt enim apud se cogitantes non recte exiguum et cum taedio est tempus vitae nostrae et non est refrigerium in fine hominis et non est qui agnitus sit reversus ab inferis

2:2. For we are born of nothing, and after this we shall be as if we had not been: for the breath in our nostrils is smoke: and speech a spark to move our heart, Quia ex nihilo nati sumus et post hoc erimus tamquam non fuerimus quoniam fumus afflatus est in naribus nostris et sermo scintillae ad commovendum cor nostrum

2:3. Which being put out, our body shall be ashes, and our spirit shall be poured abroad as soft air, and our life shall pass away as the trace of a cloud, and shall be dispersed as a mist, which is driven away by the beams of the sun, and overpowered with the heat thereof: Quia extincta cinis erit corpus et spiritus diffundetur tamquam mollis aer et transiet vita nostra tamquam vestigium nubis et sicut nebula dissolvetur quae fugata est a radiis solis et a calore illius adgravata

2:4. And our name in time shall be forgotten, and no man shall have any remembrance of our works. Et nomen nostrum oblivionem accipiet per tempus et nemo memoriam habebit operum nostrorum

2:5. For our time is as the passing of a shadow, and there is no going back of our end: for it is fast sealed, and no man returneth: Umbrae enim transitus est tempus nostrum et non est reversio finis nostri quoniam consignata est et nemo revertetur

2:6. Come, therefore, and let us enjoy the good things that are present, and let us speedily use the creatures as in youth. Venite ergo et fruamur bonis quae sunt et utamur creaturam tamquam in iuventute celeriter

2:7. Let us fill ourselves with costly wine, and ointments: and let not the flower of the time pass by us. Vino pretioso et unguentis nos impleamus et non praetereat nos flos temporis

2:8. Let us crown ourselves with roses, before they be withered: let no meadow escape our riot. Coronemus nos rosis antequam marcescant nullum pratum sit quod non pertranseat luxuria nostra

2:9. Let none of us go without his part in luxury: let us every where leave tokens of joy: for this is our portion, and this our lot. Ubique relinquamus signa laetitiae quoniam haec est pars nostra et haec est sors

2:10. Let us oppress the poor just man, and not spare the widow, nor honour the ancient grey hairs of the aged. Opprimamus pauperem iustum et non parcamus viduae nec veterani revereamur canos multi temporis

2:11. But let our strength be the law of justice: for that which is feeble is found to be nothing worth. Sit autem fortitudo nostra lex iniustitiae quod infirmum est enim inutile invenitur

2:12. Let us, therefore, lie in wait for the just, because he is not for our turn, and he is contrary to our doings, and upbraideth us with transgressions of the law, and divulgeth against us the sins of our way of life. Circumveniamus ergo iustum quoniam inutilis est nobis et contrarius est operibus nostris et inproperat nobis peccata legis et diffamat in nos peccata disciplinae nostrae

2:13. He boasteth that he hath the knowledge of God, and calleth himself the son of God.

Promittit scientiam Dei se habere et filium Dei se nominat

2:14. He is become a censurer of our thoughts.

Factus est nobis in traductionem cogitationum nostrarum

2:15. He is grievous unto us, even to behold: for his life is not like other men's, and his ways are very different.

Gravis est nobis etiam ad videndum quoniam dissimilis est aliis vita illius et inmutatae sunt viae eius

2:16. We are esteemed by him as triflers, and he abstaineth from our ways as from filthiness, and he preferreth the latter end of the just, and glorieth that he hath God for his father.

Tamquam nugaces aestimati sumus ab illo et abstinere se a viis nostris tamquam ab inmunditiis et praefert novissima iustorum et gloriatur patrem Deum se habere

2:17. Let us see then if his words be true, and let us prove what shall happen to him, and we shall know what his end shall be.

Videamus ergo si sermones illius veri sunt et temptemus quae ventura sunt illi et sciemus quae erunt novissima illius

2:18. For if he be the true son of God, he will defend him, and will deliver him from the hands of his enemies.

Si enim est verus filius Dei suscipiet illum et liberabit eum de manu contrariorum

2:19. Let us examine him by outrages and tortures, that we may know his meekness, and try his patience.

Contumelia et tormento interrogemus eum ut sciamus reverentiam illius et probemus patientiam ipsius

2:20. Let us condemn him to a most shameful death: for there shall be respect had unto him by his words.

Morte turpissima condemnemus illum erit enim ei respectus ex sermonibus illius

2:21. These things they thought, and were deceived: for their own malice blinded them.

Haec cogitaverunt et erraverunt excaecavit enim illos malitia eorum

2:22. And they knew not the secrets of God, nor hoped for the wages of justice, nor esteemed the honour of holy souls.

Et nescierunt sacramenta Dei neque mercedem speraverunt iustitiae nec iudicaverunt honorem animarum sanctarum

2:23. For God created man incorruptible, and to the image of his own likeness he made him.

Quoniam Deus creavit hominem inextremabilem et ad imaginem suae similitudinis fecit illum

2:24. But by the envy of the devil, death came into the world:

Invidia autem diaboli mors introivit in orbem terrarum

2:25. And they follow him that are of his side.

Imitantur autem illum qui sunt ex parte illius

Wisdom Chapter 3

The happiness of the just: and the unhappiness of the wicked.

3:1. But the souls of the just are in the hand of God, and the torment of death shall not touch them.

Iustorum autem animae in manu Dei sunt et non target illos tormentum mortis

3:2. In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die: and their departure was taken for misery:

Visi sunt in oculis insipientium mori et aestimata est adflictio exitus illorum

3:3. And their going away from us, for utter destruction: but they are in peace.

Et quod a nobis est iter exterminii illi autem sunt in pace

3:4. And though in the sight of men they suffered torments, their hope is full of immortality.

Et si coram hominibus tormenta passi sunt spes illorum immortalitate plena est

3:5. Afflicted in few things, in many they shall be well rewarded: because God hath tried them, and found them worthy of himself.

Et in paucis vexati in multis bene disponentur quoniam Deus tentavit illos et invenit illos dignos se

3:6. As gold in the furnace, he hath proved them, and as a victim of a holocaust, he hath received them, and in time there shall be respect had to them.

Tamquam aurum in fornace probavit illos et quasi holocausta hostiam accepit illos et in tempore erit respectus illorum

3:7. The just shall shine, and shall run to and fro like sparks among the reeds.

Fulgebunt et tamquam scintillae in harundineto discurrent

3:8. They shall judge nations, and rule over people, and their Lord shall reign for ever.

Iudicabunt nationes et dominabuntur populis et regnabit Dominus illorum in perpetuum

3:9. They that trust in him shall understand the truth: and they that are faithful in love, shall rest in him: for grace and peace are to his elect.

Qui confidunt in illum intellegent veritatem et fideles in dilectione adquiescent illi quoniam donum et pax est electis illius

3:10. But the wicked shall be punished according to their own devices: who have neglected the just, and have revolted from the Lord.

Impii autem secundum quae cogitaverunt correptionem habebunt qui neglexerunt iustum et a Domino recesserunt

3:11. For he that rejecteth wisdom, and discipline, is unhappy: and their hope is vain, and their labours without fruit, and their works unprofitable.

Sapientiam enim et disciplinam qui abicit infelix est et vacua est spes illorum et labores sine fructu et inhabitabilia opera illorum sunt

3:12. Their wives are foolish, and their children wicked.

Mulieres eorum insensatae sunt et nequissimi filii eorum

3:13. Their offspring is cursed, for happy is the barren: and the undefiled, that hath not known bed in sin, she shall have fruit in the visitation of holy souls.

Maledicta creatura illorum quoniam felix sterilis incoinquinata quae non scivit torum in delicto habebit fructum in respectione animarum

3:14. And the eunuch, that hath not wrought iniquity with his hands, nor thought wicked things against God for the precious gift of faith shall be given to him, and a most acceptable lot in the temple of God.

Et spado qui non operatus est per manus suas iniquitatem nec cogitavit adversus Deum nequissima dabitur enim illi fidei donum electum et sors in templo Domini acceptissima

3:15. For the fruit of good labours is glorious, and the root of wisdom never faileth.
Bonorum enim laborum gloriosus est fructus et quae non concidat radix sapientiae

3:16. But the children of adulterers shall not come to perfection, and the seed of the unlawful bed shall be rooted out.
Fili autem adulterorum inconsummati erunt et ab iniquo toro semen exterminabitur

3:17. And if they live long, they shall be nothing regarded, and their last old age shall be without honour.
Et si quidem longae vitae erunt in nihilum computabuntur et sine honore erit novissima senectus illorum

3:18. And if they die quickly, they shall have no hope, nor speech of comfort in the day of trial.
Et si celerius defuncti fuerint non habebunt spem nec in die agnitionis adlocutionem

3:19. For dreadful are the ends of a wicked race.
Nationis enim iniquae dirae sunt consummationes

Wisdom Chapter 4

The difference between the chaste and the adulterous generations: and between the death of the just and the wicked.

4:1. How beautiful is the chaste generation with glory: for the memory thereof is immortal: because it is known both with God and with men.

Melior est generatio cum claritate immortalitas est enim in memoria illius quoniam et apud Deum nota est et apud homines

4:2. When it is present, they imitate it: and they desire it, when it hath withdrawn itself, and it triumpheth crowned for ever, winning the reward of undefiled conflicts.

Cum praesens est imitantur illam et desiderant eam cum se duxerit et in perpetuum coronata triumphat incoquinatorum certaminum praemium vincens

4:3. But the multiplied brood of the wicked shall not thrive, and bastard slips shall not take deep root, nor any fast foundation.

Multigena autem impiorum multitudo non erit utilis et spuria vitulamina non dabunt radices altas nec stabile firmamentum conlocabunt

4:4. And if they flourish in branches for a time, yet standing not fast, they shall be shaken with the wind, and through the force of winds they shall be rooted out.

Et si in ramis in tempore germinaverint infirmiter posita a vento commovebuntur et a nimietate ventorum eradicabuntur

4:5. For the branches not being perfect, shall be broken, and their fruits shall be unprofitable, and sour to eat, and fit for nothing.

Confringentur rami inconsummati et fructus illorum inutilis et acerbi ad manducandum et ad nihilum apti

4:6. For the children that are born of unlawful beds, are witnesses of wickedness against their parents in their trial.

Ex iniquis enim omnes filii qui nascuntur testes sunt nequitiae adversus parentes in interrogatione sua

4:7. But the just man, if he be prevented with death, shall be in rest.

Iustus autem si morte praeoccupatus fuerit in refrigerio erit

4:8. For venerable old age is not that of long time, nor counted by the number of years: but the understanding of a man is grey hairs.

Senectus enim venerabilis est non diuturna neque numero annorum computata cani sunt autem sensus hominibus

4:9. And a spotless life is old age.

Et aetas senectutis vita immaculata

4:10. He pleased God, and was beloved, and living among sinners, he was translated.

Placens Deo factus dilectus et vivens inter peccatores translatus est

4:11. He was taken away, lest wickedness should alter his understanding, or deceit beguile his soul.

Raptus est ne malitia mutaret intellectum illius aut fictio decipiat animam illius

4:12. For the bewitching of vanity obscureth good things, and the wandering of concupiscence overturneth the innocent mind.

Fascinatio enim nugacitatis obscurat bona et inconstantia concupiscentiae transvertit sensum sine malitia

4:13. Being made perfect in a short space, he fulfilled a long time.

Consummatus in brevi explevit tempora multa

4:14. For his soul pleased God: therefore he hastened to bring him out of the midst of iniquities: but the people see this, and understand not, nor lay up such things in their hearts:

Placita enim erat Deo anima illius propter hoc properavit educere illum de medio iniquitatum populi autem videntes et non intellegentes nec ponentes in praecordiis talia

4:15. That the grace of God, and his mercy is with his saints, and that he hath respect to his chosen.

Quoniam gratia Dei et misericordia in sanctos illius et respectus in electos illius

4:16. But the just that is dead, condemneth the wicked that are living, and youth soon ended, the long life of the unjust.

Condemnat autem iustus mortuus vivos impios et iuventus celerius consummata longam vitam iniusti

4:17. For they shall see the end of the wise man, and it shall not understand what God hath designed for him, and why the Lord hath set him in safety.

Videbunt enim finem sapientis et non intellegent quid cogitaverit de illo Deus et quare munierit illum Dominus

4:18. They shall see him, and shall despise him: but the Lord shall laugh them to scorn.

Videbunt enim et contemnent illos autem Dominus inridebit

4:19. And they shall fall after this without honour, and be a reproach among the dead for ever: for he shall burst them puffed up and speechless, and shall shake them from the foundations, and they shall be utterly laid waste: they shall be in sorrow, and their memory shall perish.

Et erunt post haec decedentes sine honore et in contumelia inter mortuos in perpetuum quoniam dirumpet illos inflatos sine voce et commovebit illos a fundamentis et usque ad supremum desolabuntur et erunt gementes et memoria illorum periet

4:20. They shall come with fear at the thought of their sins, and their iniquities shall stand against them to convict them.

Venient in cogitatione peccatorum suorum timidi et traduent illos ex adverso iniquitates ipsorum

Wisdom Chapter 5

The fruitless repentance of the wicked in another world: the reward of the just.

---

5:1. Then shall the just stand with great constancy against those that have afflicted them, and taken away their labours.

Tunc stabunt iusti in magna constantia adversus eos qui se angustaverunt et qui abstulerunt labores illorum

5:2. These seeing it, shall be troubled with terrible fear, and shall be amazed at the suddenness of their unexpected salvation,

Videntes turbabuntur timore horribili et mirabuntur in subitatione insperatae salutis

5:3. Saying within themselves, repenting, and groaning for anguish of spirit: These are they, whom we had sometime in derision, and for a parable of reproach.

Dicent inter se paenitentiam agentes et per angustiam spiritus gementes hi sunt quos habuimus aliquando in risu et in similitudine inproperii

5:4. We fools esteemed their life madness, and their end without honour.

Nos insensati vitam illorum aestimabamus insaniam et finem illorum sine honore

5:5. Behold, how they are numbered among the children of God, and their lot is among the saints.

Quomodo computati sunt inter filios Dei et inter sanctos sors illorum est

5:6. Therefore we have erred from the way of truth, and the light of justice hath not shined unto us, and the sun of understanding hath not risen upon us.

Ergo erravimus a via veritatis et iustitiae lumen non luxit nobis et sol non est ortus nobis

5:7. We wearied ourselves in the way of iniquity and destruction, and have walked through hard ways, but the way of the Lord we have not known.

Lassati sumus in via iniquitatis et perdicionis et ambulavimus vias difficiles viam autem Domini ignoravimus

5:8. What hath pride profited us? or what advantage hath the boasting of riches brought us?

Quid nobis profuit superbia aut quid divitiarum iactatio contulit nobis

5:9. All those things are passed away like a shadow, and like a post that runneth on,

Transierunt omnia illa tamquam umbra et tamquam nuntius percurrens

5:10. And as a ship, that passeth through the waves: whereof when it is gone by, the trace cannot be found nor the path of its keel in the waters:

Et tamquam navis quae pertransit fluctuantem aquam cuius cum praeterierit non est vestigium invenire neque semitam carinae illius in fluctibus

5:11. Or as when a bird flieth through the air, of the passage of which no mark can be found, but only the sound of the wings beating the light air, and parting it by the force of her flight: she moved her wings, and hath flown through, and there is no mark found afterwards of her way:

Aut avis quae transvolat in aere nullum invenitur argumentum itineris illius sed tantum sonitus est alarum verberans levem ventum et scindens per vim itineris aerem commotis alis transvolavit et post hoc nullum signum invenitur itineris illius

5:12. Or as when an arrow is shot at a mark, the divided air quickly cometh together again, so that the passage thereof is not known:

Aut tamquam sagittae emissae in locum destinatum divisus aer continuo in se reclusus est ut ignoretur transitus illius

5:13. So we also being born, forthwith ceased to be: and have been able to show no mark of virtue: but are consumed in our wickedness.

Sic et nos nati continuo desivimus esse et virtutis quidem signum nullum valuimus ostendere in malignitate autem nostra consumpti sumus

5:14. Such things as these the sinners said in hell:

Talia dixerunt et peccaverunt

5:15. For the hope of the wicked is as dust, which is blown away with the wind, and as a thin froth which is dispersed by the storm: and a smoke that is scattered abroad by the wind: and as the remembrance of a guest of one day that passeth by.

Quoniam spes impii tamquam lanugo est quae a vento tollitur et tamquam spuma gracilis quae a procella dispergitur et tamquam fumus qui a vento diffusus est et tamquam memoria hospitis unius diei praetereuntis

5:16. But the just shall live for evermore: and their reward is with the Lord, and the care of them with the most High.

Iusti autem in perpetuum vivent et apud Dominum est merces eorum et cogitatio illorum apud Altissimum

5:17. Therefore shall they receive a kingdom of glory, and a crown of beauty at the hand of the Lord: for with his right hand he will cover them, and with his holy arm he will defend them.

Ideo accipient regnum decoris et diadema speciei de manu Domini quoniam dextera sua teget eos et brachio suo defendet illos

5:18. And his zeal will take armour, and he will arm the creature for the revenge of his enemies.

Accipiet armaturam zelus illius et armabit creaturam ad ultionem inimicorum

5:19. He will put on justice as a breastplate, and will take true judgment instead of a helmet:

Induet pro torace iustitiam et accipiet pro galea iudicium certum

5:20. He will take equity for an invincible shield:

Sumet scutum inexpugnabilem aequitatem

5:21. And he will sharpen his severe wrath for a spear, and the whole world shall fight with him against the unwise.

Acuet autem duram iram in lanceam et pugnabit cum illo orbis terrarum contra insensatos

5:22. Then shafts of lightning shall go directly from the clouds, as from a bow well bent, they shall be shot out, and shall fly to the mark.

Ibunt directae emissiones fulgorum et tamquam a bene curvato arcu nubium exterminabuntur et ad certum locum insilient

5:23. And thick hail shall be cast upon them from the stone casting wrath: the water of the sea shall rage against them, and the rivers shall run together in a terrible manner.

Et a petrosa ira plenae mittentur grandines et scandescet in illos aqua maris et flumina concurrent duriter

5:24. A mighty wind shall stand up against them, and as a whirlwind shall divide them: and their iniquity shall bring all the earth to a desert, and wickedness shall overthrow the thrones of the mighty.

Contra illos stabit spiritus virtutis et tamquam turbedo venti dividet illos et ad heremiam perducet omnem terram iniquitatis et malignitas evertet sedes potentium

Wisdom Chapter 6

An address to princes to seek after wisdom: she is easily found by those that seek her.

---

6:1. Wisdom is better than strength: and a wise man is better than a strong man.

Melior est sapientia quam vires et vir prudens magis quam fortis

6:2. Hear, therefore, ye kings, and understand, learn ye that are judges of the ends of the earth.

Audite ergo reges et intellegite discite iudices finium terrae

6:3. Give ear, you that rule the people, and that please yourselves in multitudes of nations:

Praebete aures vos qui continetis multitudines et placetis vobis in turbis nationum

6:4. For power is given you by the Lord, and strength by the most High, who will examine your works: and search out your thoughts:

Quoniam data est a Domino potestas vobis et virtus ab Altissimo qui interrogabit opera vestra et cogitationes scrutabitur

6:6. Because being ministers of his kingdom, you have not judged rightly, nor kept the law of justice, nor walked according to the will of God.

Horrende et cito apparebit vobis quoniam iudicium durissimum in his qui praesunt fiet

6:6. Horribly and speedily will he appear to you: for a most severe judgment shall be for them that bear rule.

Horrende et cito apparebit vobis quoniam iudicium durissimum in his qui praesunt fiet

6:7. For to him that is little, mercy is granted: but the mighty shall be mightily tormented.

Exiguo enim conceditur misericordia potentes autem potenter tormenta patientur

6:8. For God will not except any man's person, neither will he stand in awe of any man's greatness: for he made the little and the great, and he hath equally care of all.

Non enim subtrahet personam cuiusquam Dominus nec reverebitur magnitudinem cuiusquam quoniam pusillum et magnum ipse fecit et aequaliter cura est illi pro omnibus

6:9. But a greater punishment is ready for the more mighty.

Fortioribus autem fortior instat cruciatio

6:10. To you, therefore, O kings, are these my words, that you may learn wisdom, and not fall from it.

Ad vos ergo reges sunt hi sermones mei ut discatis sapientiam et non excidatis

6:11. For they that have kept just things justly, shall be justified: and they that have learned these things, shall find what to answer.

Qui enim custodierint iusta iuste iustificabuntur et qui didicerint ista invenient quid respondeant

6:12. Covet ye, therefore, my words, and love them, and you shall have instruction.

Concupiscite ergo sermones meos diligite illos et habebitis disciplinam

6:13. Wisdom is glorious, and never fadeth away, and is easily seen by them that love her, and is found by them that seek her.

Clara est et quae numquam marcescat sapientia et facile videtur ab his qui diligunt eam et invenietur ab his qui quaerunt illam

6:14. She preventeth them that covet her, so that she first showeth herself unto them.

Praeoccupat qui se concupiscunt ut illis se prior ostendat

6:15. He that awaketh early to seek her, shall not labour: for he shall find her sitting at his door.
Qui de luce vigilaverit ad illam non laborabit adsidentem enim illam foribus suis inveniet

6:16. To think, therefore, upon her, is perfect understanding: and he that watcheth for her, shall quickly be secure.
Cogitare ergo de illa sensus est consummatus et qui vigilaverit propter illam cito erit securus

6:17. For she goeth about seeking such as are worthy of her, and she showeth herself to them cheerfully in the ways, and meeteth them with all providence.
Quoniam dignos se ipsa circuit quaerens et in viis ostendit se illis hilariter et in omni providentia occurrit illis

6:18. For the beginning of her is the most true desire of discipline.
Initium enim illius verissima est disciplinae concupiscentia

6:19. And the care of discipline is love: and love is the keeping of her laws: and the keeping of her laws is the firm foundation of incorruption:
Cura ergo disciplinae dilectio est et dilectio custoditio legum illius est custoditio autem legum consummatio incorruptionis est

6:20. And incorruption bringeth near to God.
Incorruptio autem facit esse proximum Deo

6:21. Therefore the desire of wisdom bringeth to the everlasting kingdom.
Concupiscentia itaque sapientiae deducet ad regnum perpetuum

6:22. If then your delight be in thrones, and sceptres, O ye kings of the people, love wisdom, that you may reign for ever.
Si ergo delectamini sedibus et stemmatibus reges populi diligite sapientiam ut in perpetuum regnetis

6:23. Love the light of wisdom, all ye that bear rule over peoples.

6:24. Now what wisdom is, and what was her origin, I will declare: and I will not hide from you the mysteries of God, but will seek her out from the beginning of her birth, and bring the knowledge of her to light, and will not pass over the truth:
Quid est autem sapientia et quemadmodum facta sit referam et non abscondam a vobis sacramenta Dei sed ab initio nativitatis investigabo et ponam in lucem scientiam illius et non praeteribo veritatem

6:25. Neither will I go with consuming envy: for such a man shall not be partaker of wisdom.
Neque cum invidia tabescente iter habebō quoniam ista non erit particeps sapientiae

6:26. Now the multitude of the wise is the welfare of the whole world: and a wise king is the upholding of the people.
Multitudo autem sapientium sanitas est orbis terrarum et rex sapiens populi stabilimentum est

6:27. Receive, therefore, instruction by my words, and it shall be profitable to you.
Ergo accipite disciplinam per sermones meos et proderit vobis

Wisdom Chapter 7

The excellence of wisdom: how she is to be found.

7:1. I myself am a mortal man, like all others, and of the race of him, that was first made of the earth, and in the womb of my mother I was fashioned to be flesh.

Sum quidem et ego mortalis homo similis omnibus et ex genere terreno illius qui prior finctus est et in ventre matris figuratus sum caro

7:2. In the time of ten months I was compacted in blood, of the seed of man, and the pleasure of sleep concurring.

Decem mensuum tempore coagulatus in sanguine ex semine hominis et delectamento somni conveniente

7:3. And being born, I drew in the common air, and fell upon the earth, that is made alike, and the first voice which I uttered was crying, as all others do.

Et ego natus accepi communem aerem et in similiter factam decidi terram primam vocem similem omnibus emisi plorans

7:4. I was nursed in swaddling clothes, and with great cares.

In involumentis nutritus sum et curis magnis

7:5. For none of the kings had any other beginning of birth.

Nemo enim ex regibus aliud habuit nativitatis initium

7:6. For all men have one entrance into life, and the like going out.

Unus ergo introitus est omnibus ad vitam et similis exitus

7:7. Wherefore I wished, and understanding was given me: and I called upon God, and the spirit of wisdom came upon me:

Propter hoc optavi et datus est mihi sensus et invocavi et venit in me spiritus sapientiae

7:8. And I preferred her before kingdoms and thrones, and esteemed riches nothing in comparison of her.

Et praeposui illam regnis et sedibus et divitias nihil esse duxi in conparatione illius

7:9. Neither did I compare unto her any precious stone: for all gold, in comparison of her, is as a little sand; and silver, in respect to her, shall be counted as clay.

Nec comparavi illi lapidem pretiosum quoniam omne aurum in conparatione illius harena est exigua et tamquam lutum aestimabitur argentum in conspectu illius

7:10. I loved her above health and beauty, and chose to have her instead of light: for her light cannot be put out.

Super salutem et speciem dilexi illam et proposui pro luce habere illam quoniam inextinguibile est lumen illius

7:11. Now all good things came to me together with her, and innumerable riches through her hands,

Venerunt autem mihi omnia bona pariter cum illa et innumerabilis honestas per manus illius

7:12. And I rejoiced in all these: for this wisdom went before me, and I knew not that she was the mother of them all.

Et laetatus sum in omnibus quoniam antecedebat ista sapientia et ignorabam quoniam horum omnium mater est

7:13. Which I have learned without guile, and communicate without envy, and her riches I hide not.

Quam sine fictione didici et sine invidia communico et honestatem illius non abscondo

7:14. For she is an infinite treasure to men: which they that use, become the friends of God, being commended for the gifts of discipline.

Infinitus enim thesaurus est hominibus quod qui usi sunt participes facti sunt amicitiae Dei propter disciplinae dona commendati

7:15. And God hath given to me to speak as I would, and to conceive thoughts worthy of those things that are given me: because he is the guide of wisdom, and the director of the wise:

Mihi autem det Deus dicere ex sententia et praesumere digna horum quae dantur quoniam ipse et sapientiae dux est et sapientium emendator

7:16. For in his hand are both we, and our words, and all wisdom, and the knowledge and skill of works.

In manu enim illius et nos et sermones nostri et omnis sapientia et operum scientiae disciplina

7:17. For he hath given me the true knowledge of the things that are: to know the disposition of the whole world, and the virtues of the elements,

Ipse enim mihi dedit horum quae sunt scientiam veram ut sciam dispositionem orbis terrarum et virtutes elementorum

7:18. The beginning, and ending, and midst of the times, the alterations of their courses, and the changes of seasons,

Initium et consummationem et medietatem temporum et meditationem omnium morum mutationes et divisiones temporum

7:19. The revolutions of the year, and the dispositions of the stars,

Anni cursus et stellarum dispositiones

7:20. The natures of living creatures, and rage of wild beasts, the force of winds, and reasonings of men, the diversities of plants, and the virtues of roots,

Naturas animalium et iras bestiarum vim ventorum et cogitationes hominum differentias arborum et virtutes radicum

7:21. And all such things as are hid, and not foreseen, I have learned: for wisdom, which is the worker of all things, taught me.

Et quaecumque sunt absconsa et improvisa didici omnium enim artifex docuit me sapientia

7:22. For in her is the spirit of understanding; holy, one, manifold, subtile, eloquent, active, undefiled, sure, sweet, loving that which is good, quick, which nothing hindereth, beneficent,

Est enim in illa spiritus intellectus sanctus unicus multiplex subtilis mobilis dissertus incoinquinatus certus suavis amans bonum acutus qui nihil vetat benefacere

7:23. Gentle, kind, steadfast, assured, secure, having all power, overseeing all things, and containing all spirits: intelligible, pure, subtile:

Humanus stabilis certus securus omnem habens virtutem omnia prospiciens et qui capiat omnes spiritus intellegibiles mundos subtiles

7:24. For wisdom is more active than all active things; and reacheth everywhere, by reason of her purity.

Omnibus enim mobilibus mobilior est sapientia attingit autem ubique et capit propter suam munditiam

7:25. For she is a vapour of the power of God, and a certain pure emanation of the glory of the Almighty God: and therefore no defiled thing cometh into her.

Vapor est enim virtutis Dei et emanatio quaedam est claritatis omnipotentis Dei sincera et ideo nihil inquinatum in illa incurrit

7:26. For she is the brightness of eternal light, and the unspotted mirror of God's majesty, and the image of his goodness.

Candor est enim lucis aeternae et speculum sine macula Dei maiestatis et imago bonitatis illius

7:27. And being but one, she can do all things: and remaining in herself the same, she reneweth all things, and through nations conveyeth herself into holy souls, she maketh the friends of God and prophets.

Et cum sit una omnia potest et permanens in se omnia innovat et per nationes in animas sanctas se transfert amicos Dei et prophetas constituit

7:28. For God loveth none but him that dwelleth with wisdom.

Neminem enim diligit Deus nisi eum qui cum sapientia inhabitat

7:29. For she is more beautiful than the sun, and above all the order of the stars: being compared with the light, she is found before it.

Est enim haec speciosior sole et super omnem stellarum dispositionem luci comparata invenitur prior

7:30. For after this cometh night, but no evil can overcome wisdom.

Illi enim succedit nox sapientiam autem non vincit malitia

Wisdom Chapter 8

Further praises of wisdom: and her fruits.

8:1. She reacheth, therefore, from end to end mightily, and ordereth all things sweetly.

Adtingit enim a fine usque ad finem fortiter et disponit omnia suaviter

8:2. Her have I loved, and have sought her out from my youth, and have desired to take for my spouse, and I became a lover of her beauty.

Hanc amavi et exquisivi a iuventute mea et quaesivi sponsam mihi adsumere et amator factus sum formae illius

8:3. She glorifieth her nobility by being conversant with God: yea, and the Lord of all things hath loved her.

Generositatem glorificat contubernium habens Dei sed et omnium Dominus dilexit illam

8:4. For it is she that teacheth the knowledge of God and is the chooser of his works.

Doctrix est enim disciplinae Dei et electrix operum illius

8:5. And if riches be desired in life, what is richer than wisdom, which maketh all things?

Et si divitiae appetuntur in vita quid sapientiae locupletius quae omnia operatur

8:6. And if sense do work: who is a more artful worker than she of those things that are?

Si autem sensus operatur quis horum quae sunt magis quam illa est artifex

8:7. And if a man love justice: her labours have great virtues: for she teacheth temperance, and prudence, and justice, and fortitude, which are such things as men can have nothing more profitable in life.

Et si iustitiam quis diligit labores huius magnas habent virtutes sobrietatem enim et sapientiam docet et iustitiam et virtutem quibus utilius nihil est in vita hominibus

8:8. And if a man desire much knowledge: she knoweth things past, and judgeth of things to come: she knoweth the subtilties of speeches, and the solutions of arguments: she knoweth signs and wonders before they be done, and the events of times and ages.

Et si multitudinem scientiae desiderat quis scit praeterita et de futuris aestimat scit versutias sermonum et dissolutiones argumentorum signa et monstra scit antequam fiant et eventus temporum et saeculorum

8:9. I purposed, therefore, to take her to me to live with me: knowing that she will communicate to me of her good things, and will be a comfort in my cares and grief.

Proposui ergo hanc adducere mihi ad convivendum sciens quoniam communicabit mecum de bonis et erit adlocutio cogitationis et taedii mei

8:10. For her sake I shall have glory among the multitude, and honour with the ancients, though I be young:

Habebo propter hanc claritatem ad turbas et honorem apud seniores iuvenis

8:11. And I shall be found of a quick conceit in judgment, and shall be admired in the sight of the mighty, and the faces of princes shall wonder at me.

Acutus inveniar in iudicio et in conspectu potentium admirabilis ero et facies principum mirabuntur me

8:12. They shall wait for me when I hold my peace, and they shall look upon me when I speak; and if I talk much, they shall lay their hands on their mouth.

Tacentem me sustinebunt et loquentem me respicient et sermocinante plura manus ori suo inponent

8:13. Moreover, by the means of her I shall have immortality: and shall leave behind me an everlasting memory to them that come after me.

Propterea habebo per hanc immortalitatem et memoriam aeternam his qui post me futuri sunt relinquam

8:14. I shall set the people in order: and nations shall be subject to me.
Disponam populos et nationes mihi erunt subiectae

8:15. Terrible kings hearing, shall be afraid of me: among the multitude I shall be found good, and valiant in war.
Timebunt me audientes reges horrendi in multitudine videbor bonus et in bello fortis

8:16. When I go into my house, I shall repose myself with her: for her conversation hath no bitterness, nor her company any tediousness, but joy and gladness.
Intrans in domum meam conquiescam cum illa non enim habet amaritudinem conversatio illius nec taedium convictus ipsius sed laetitiam et gaudium

8:17. Thinking these things with myself, and pondering them in my heart, that to be allied to wisdom is immortality,
Haec cogitans apud me et commemorans in corde meo quoniam immortalitas est in cogitatione sapientiae

8:18. And that there is great delight in her friendship, and inexhaustible riches in the works of her hands, and in the exercise of conference with her, wisdom, and glory in the communication of her words: I went about seeking, that I might take her to myself.
Et in amicitia illius delectatio bona et in operibus manuum illius honestas sine defectione et in certamine loquellae illius sapientia et praeclaritas in communicatione sermonum ipsius circuibam quaerens ut mihi illam adsumerem

8:19. And I was a witty child, and had received a good soul.
Puer autem eram ingeniosus et sortitus sum animam bonam

8:20. And whereas I was more good, I came to a body undefiled.
Et cum essem magis bonus veni ad corpus incoinquinatum

8:21. And as I knew that I could not otherwise be continent, except God gave it, and this also was a point of wisdom, to know whose gift it was, I went to the Lord, and besought him, and said with my whole heart:

Et ut scivi quoniam aliter non possum esse continens nisi Deus det et hoc ipsum erat sapientiae scire cuius esset hoc donum adii Dominum et deprecatus sum illum et dixi ex totis praecordiis meis

Wisdom Chapter 9

Solomon's prayer for wisdom.

---

9:1. God of my fathers, and Lord of mercy, who hast made all things with thy word,
Deus parentum et Domine misericordiae tuae qui fecisti omnia verbo tuo

9:2. And by thy wisdom hast appointed man, that he should have dominion over the creature that was made by thee,
Et sapientia tua constituisti hominem ut dominetur creaturae quae a te facta est

9:3. That he should order the world according to equity and justice, and execute justice with an upright heart:
Ut disponat orbem terrarum in aequitate et iustitia et in directione cordis iudicium iudicet

9:4. Give me wisdom, that sitteth by thy throne, and cast me not off from among thy children:
Da mihi sedium tuarum adsitricem sapientiam et noli me reprobare a pueris tuis

9:5. For I am thy servant, and the son of thy handmaid, a weak man, and of short time, and falling short of the understanding of judgment and laws.
Quoniam ego servus tuus et filius ancillae tuae sum homo infirmus et exigui temporis et minor ad intellectum iudicii et legum

9:6. For if one be perfect among the children of men, yet if thy wisdom be not with him, he shall be nothing regarded.
Et si quis erit consummatus inter filios hominum si afuerit ab illo sapientia tua in nihilum computabitur

9:7. Thou hast chosen me to be king of thy people, and a judge of thy sons and daughters:
Tu me elegisti regem populo tuo et iudicem filiorum tuorum et filiarum

9:8. And hast commanded me to build a temple on thy holy mount, and an altar in the city of thy dwelling place, a resemblance of thy holy tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginning:
Dixisti aedificare templum in monte sancto tuo et in civitate habitationis tuae aram similitudinem tabernaculi sancti tui quod praeparasti ab initio

9:9. And thy wisdom with thee, which knoweth thy works, which then also was present when thou madest the world, and knew what was agreeable to thy eyes, and what was right in thy commandments.
Et tecum sapientia quae novit opera tua quae et adfuit tunc cum orbem terrarum faceres et sciebat quid placitum esset oculis tuis et quid directum in praeceptis tuis

9:10. Send her out of thy holy heaven, and from the throne of thy majesty, that she may be with me, and may labour with me, that I may know what is acceptable with thee:
Mitte illam de sanctis caelis tuis et mitte illam a sede magnitudinis tuae ut mecum sit et mecum laboret et sciam quid acceptum sit apud te

9:11. For she knoweth and understandeth all things, and shall lead me soberly in my works, and shall preserve me by her power.
Scit enim illa omnia et intellegit et deducet me in operibus meis sobrie et custodiet me in sua potentia

9:12. So shall my works be acceptable, and I shall govern thy people justly, and shall be worthy of the throne of my father.
Et erunt accepta opera mea et disponam populum tuum iuste et ero dignus sedium patris mei

9:13. For who among men is he that can know the counsel of God? or who can think what the will of God is?
Quis enim hominum poterit scire consilium Dei aut quis poterit cogitare quid velit Dominus

9:14. For the thoughts of mortal men are fearful, and our counsels uncertain.
Cogitationes enim mortalium timidae et incertae providentiae nostrae

9:15. For the corruptible body is a load upon the soul, and the earthly habitation presseth down the mind that museth upon many things.
Corpus enim quod corrumpitur adgravat animam et deprimit terrena inhabitatio sensum multa cogitantem

9:16. And hardly do we guess aright at things that are upon earth: and with labour do we find the things that are before us. But the things that are in heaven, who shall search out?
Et difficile aestimamus quae in terra sunt et quae in prospectu sunt invenimus cum labore quae in caelis sunt autem quis investigavit

9:17. And who shall know thy thought, except thou give wisdom, and send thy holy Spirit from above:
Sensum autem tuum quis scivit nisi tu dederis sapientiam et miseris sanctum spiritum tuum de altissimis

9:18. And so the ways of them that are upon earth may be corrected, and men may learn the things that please thee?
Et sic correctae sunt semitae eorum qui in terris sunt et quae tibi placent didicerunt homines

9:19. For by wisdom they were healed, whosoever have pleased thee, O Lord, from the beginning.
Et per sapientiam sanati sunt

Wisdom Chapter 10

What wisdom did for Adam, Noe, Abraham, Lot, Jacob, Joseph, and the people of Israel.

10:1. She preserved him, that was first formed by God, the father of the world, when he was created alone,

Haec illum qui primus finctus est patrem orbis terrarum cum solus esset creatus custodivit

10:2. And she brought him out of his sin, and gave him power to govern all things.

Et eduxit illum a delicto suo et dedit illi virtutem continendi omnia

10:3. But when the unjust went away from her in his anger, he perished by the fury wherewith he murdered his brother. *

Ab hac ut recessit iniustus in ira sua per iram homicidii fraternitatis deperit

The unjust... Cain.

10:4. For whose cause, when water destroyed the earth, wisdom healed it again, directing the course of the just by contemptible wood. *

Propter quem cum aqua deleret terram iterum sanavit sapientia per contemptibile lignum iustum gubernans

For whose cause... Viz., for the wickedness of the race of Cain. -- Ibid. The just... Noe.

10:5. Moreover, when the nations had conspired together to consent to wickedness, she knew the just, and preserved him without blame to God, and kept him strong against the compassion for his son. *

Haec et in consensu nequitiae cum se nationes contulissent scivit iustum et servavit sine querella Deo et in filii misericordia fortem custodivit

She knew the just... She found out and approved Abraham. Ibid. And kept him strong, etc... Gave him strength to stand firm against the efforts of his natural tenderness, when he was ordered to sacrifice his son.

10:6. She delivered the just man, who fled from the wicked that were perishing, when the fire came down upon Pentapolis: *

Haec iustum a pereuntibus impiis liberavit fugientem descendentem ignem in Pentapoli

The just man... Lot. -- Ibid. Pentapolis... The land of the five cities, Sodom, Gomorrha, etc.

10:7. Whose land, for a testimony of their wickedness, is desolate, and smoketh to this day, and the trees bear fruits that ripen not, and a standing pillar of salt is a monument of an incredulous soul.

Cuius in testimonium nequitiae fumigabunda constat deserta terra et incerto tempore fructus habentes arbores et incredibilis animae memoria stans figmentum salis

10:8. For regarding not wisdom, they did not only slip in this, that they were ignorant of good things; but they left also unto men a memorial of their folly, so that in the things in which they sinned, they could not so much as lie hid.

Sapientiam enim praetereuntes non tantum in hoc lapsi sunt ut ignorarent bona sed et insipientiae suae reliquerunt hominibus memoriam ut in his quae peccaverunt nec latere potuissent

10:9. But wisdom hath delivered from sorrow them that attend upon her.

Sapientia autem hos qui se observant a doloribus liberavit

10:10. She conducted the just, when he fled from his brother's wrath, through the right ways, and showed him the kingdom of God, and gave him the knowledge of the holy things, made him honourable in his labours, and accomplished his labours. *

Haec profugum irae fratris iustum deduxit per vias rectas et ostendit illi regnum Dei et dedit illi scientiam sanctorum honestavit illum in laboribus et conplevit labores illius

The just... Jacob.

10:11. In the deceit of them that overreached him, she stood by him, and made him honourable.
In fraude circumvenientium illum adfuit et honestum illum fecit

10:12. She kept him safe from his enemies, and she defended him from seducers, and gave him a strong conflict, that he might overcome, and know that wisdom is mightier than all. *
Custodivit illum ab inimicis et a seductoribus tutavit eum et certamen forte dedit illi ut vinceret ut sciret quoniam omnium potentior est sapientia

Conflict... Viz., with the angel.

10:13. She forsook not the just when he was sold, but delivered him from sinners: she went down with him into the pit. *

Haec venditum iustum non dereliquit sed a peccatoribus liberavit illum descendit cum illo in foveam

The just when he was sold... Viz., Joseph.

10:14. And in bands she left him not, till she brought him the sceptre of the kingdom, and power against those that oppressed him: and showed them to be liars that had accused him, and gave him everlasting glory.

Et in vinculis non dereliquit illum donec adferret illi sceptrum regni et potentiam adversus eos qui eum deprimebant et mendaces ostendit qui maculaverunt ipsum et dedit illi claritatem aeternam

10:15. She delivered the just people, and blameless seed, from the nations that oppressed them.

Haec populum iustum et semen sine querella liberavit a nationibus quae illum conprimebant

10:16. She entered into the soul of the servant of God and stood against dreadful kings in wonders and signs. *

Intravit in animam servi Domini et stetit contra reges horrendos in portentis et signis

The servant of God... Viz., Moses.

10:17. And she rendered to the just the wages of their labours, and conducted them in a wonderful way: and she was to them for a covert by day, and for the light of stars by night:

Et reddidit iustis mercedem laborum suorum et deduxit illos in via mirabili et fuit illis in velamento diei et in luce stellarum nocte

10:18. And she brought them through the Red Sea, and carried them over through a great water.

Transtulit illos mare Rubrum et transvexit illos per aquam nimiam

10:19. But their enemies she drowned in the sea, and from the depth of hell she brought them out.

Therefore the just took the spoils of the wicked.

Inimicos autem illorum demersit in mare et ab altitudine inferorum eduxit illos ideo iusti tulerunt spolia impiorum

10:20. And they sung to thy holy name, O Lord, and they praised with one accord thy victorious hand.

Et decantaverunt Domine nomen sanctum tuum et victricem manum tuam laudaverunt pariter

10:21. For wisdom opened the mouth of the dumb, and made the tongues of infants eloquent.

Quoniam sapientia aperuit os mutorum et linguas infantium fecit dissertas

Wisdom Chapter 11

Other benefits of wisdom to the people of God.

---

11:1. She prospered their works in the hands of the holy prophet. *

Direxit opera illorum in manibus prophetae sancti

The holy prophet... Moses.

11:2. They went through wildernesses that were not inhabited, and in desert places they pitched their tents.

Iter fecerunt per deserta quae non inhabitabantur et in locis secretis fixerunt casas

11:3. They stood against their enemies, and revenged themselves of their adversaries. *

Steterunt contra hostes et de inimicis se vindicaverunt

Their enemies... The Amalecites.

11:4. They were thirsty, and they called upon thee, and water was given them out of the high rock, and a refreshment of their thirst out of the hard stone.

Sitierunt et invocaverunt te et data est illis de petra altissima aqua et requies sitis de lapide duro

11:5. For by what things their enemies were punished, when their drink failed them, while the children of Israel abounded therewith, and rejoiced: *

Per quae enim poenas passi sunt inimici illorum

By what things, etc... The meaning is, that God, who wrought a miracle to punish the Egyptians by thirst, when he turned all their waters into blood, (at which time the Israelites, who were exempt from those plagues, had plenty of water), wrought another miracle in favour of his own people in their thirst, by giving them water out of the rock.

11:6. By the same things they in their need were benefited.

Per haec cum illis deesset bene cum illis actum est

11:7. For instead of a fountain of an ever running river, thou gavest human blood to the unjust.

Nam pro fonte quidem sempiterni fluminis humanum sanguinem dedisti iniustis

11:8. And whilst they were diminished for a manifest reproof of their murdering the infants, thou gavest to thine abundant water unlooked for:

Qui comminuerentur in traductione infantum occisorum dedisti illis abundantem aquam insperate

11:9. Showing by the thirst that was then, how thou didst exalt thine, and didst kill their adversaries.

Ostendens per sitim quae tunc fuit quemadmodum tuos exaltares et adversarios illorum necares

11:10. For when they were tried, and chastised with mercy, they knew how the wicked were judged with wrath, and tormented.

Cum enim temptati sunt et quidem cum misericordia disciplinam accipientes scierunt quemadmodum cum ira iudicati impij tormenta paterentur

11:11. For thou didst admonish and try them as a father: but the others, as a severe king, thou didst examine and condemn.

Hos quidem tamquam pater monens probasti illos autem tamquam durus rex interrogans condemnasti

11:12. For whether absent or present, they were tormented alike.

Absentes enim et praesentes similiter torquebantur

11:13. For a double affliction came upon them, and a groaning for the remembrance of things past.

Duplex enim illos acceperat taedium et gemitus cum memoria praeteritorum

11:14. For when they heard that by their punishments the others were benefited, they remembered the Lord, wondering at the end of what was come to pass. *

Cum enim audirent per sua tormenta bene secum agi commemorati sunt Dominum

By their punishments, etc... That is, that the Israelites had been benefited and miraculously favoured in the same kind, in which they had been punished.

11:15. For whom they scorned before, when he was thrown out at the time of his being wickedly exposed to perish, him they admired in the end, when they saw the event: their thirsting being unlike to that of the just.

Quem enim in expositione prava proiectum deriserunt in finem eventus mirati sunt non similiter iustis faciens

11:16. But for the foolish devices of their iniquity, because some being deceived worshipped dumb serpents and worthless beasts, thou didst send upon them a multitude of dumb beasts for vengeance: *

Pro cogitationibus autem insensatis iniquitates illorum quod quidam errantes colebant mutos serpentes et bestias supervacuas inmisisti illis multitudinem mutorum animalium in vindictam

Dumb beasts... Viz., frogs, sciniphs, flies, and locusts.

11:17. That they might know that by what things a man sinneth, by the same also he is tormented.

Ut scirent quia per quae peccat quis per haec et torquetur

11:18. For thy almighty hand, which made the world of matter without form, was not unable to send upon them a multitude of bears, or fierce lions,

Non enim impossibilis erat omnipotens manus tua quae creavit orbem terrarum ex materia invisâ inmittere illis multitudinem ursorum aut audaces leones

11:19. Or unknown beasts of a new kind, full of rage; either breathing out a fiery vapour, or sending forth a stinking smoke, or shooting horrible sparks out of their eyes:

Aut novi generis ira plenas et ignotas bestias aut vaporem igneum spirantes aut odorem fumi proferentes aut horrendas ab oculis scintillas emittentes

11:20. Whereof not only the hurt might be able to destroy them, but also the very sight might kill them through fear.

Quarum non solum laesura poterat illos exterminare sed et aspectus per timorem occidere

11:21. Yea, and without these, they might have been slain with one blast, persecuted by their own deeds, and scattered by the breath of thy power: but thou hast ordered all things in measure, and number, and weight.

Sed et sine his uno spiritu occidi poterant persecutionem passi ab ipsis factis suis et dispersi per spiritum virtutis tuae sed omnia mensura et numero et pondere disposuisti

11:22. For great power always belonged to thee alone: and who shall resist the strength of thy arm?

Multum enim valere tibi soli superat semper et virtuti brachii tui quis resistet

11:23. For the whole world before thee is as the least grain of the balance, and as a drop of the morning dew, that falleth down upon the earth.

Quoniam tamquam momentum staterae sic ante te est orbis terrarum et tamquam gutta roris antelucani quae descendit in terram

11:24. But thou hast mercy upon all, because thou canst do all things, and overlookest the sins of men for the sake of repentance.

Sed misereris omnium quoniam omnia potes et dissimulas peccata hominum propter paenitentiam

11:25. For thou lovest all things that are, and hatest none of the things which thou hast made: for thou didst not appoint, or make any thing hating it.

Diligis enim omnia quae sunt et nihil odisti horum quae fecisti nec enim odiens aliquid constituisti

11:26. And how could any thing endure, if thou wouldst not? or be preserved, if not called by thee?

Quomodo autem posset aliquid permanere nisi tu voluisses aut quod a te vocatum non esset conservaretur

11:27. But thou sparest all: because they are thine, O Lord, who lovest souls.

Parcis autem omnibus quoniam tua sunt Domine qui animas amas

Wisdom Chapter 12

God's wisdom and mercy in his proceedings with the Chanaanites.

12:1. O how good and sweet is thy Spirit, O Lord, in all things!

Bonus enim spiritus tuus est in omnibus

12:2. And therefore thou chastisest them that err, by little and little: and admonishest them, and speakest to them, concerning the things wherein they offend: that leaving their wickedness, they may believe in thee, O Lord.

Propter quod hos qui exerrant partibus corripis et de quibus peccant admonens adloqueris ut relicta malitia credant in te Domine

12:3. For those ancient inhabitants of thy holy land, whom thou didst abhor,

Et illos enim antiquos inhabitatores sanctae tuae terrae odiens

12:4. Because they did works hateful to thee by their sorceries, and wicked sacrifices,

Quoniam odibilia tibi opera faciebant per medicamina et sacrificia iniusta

12:5. And those merciless murderers of their own children, and eaters of men's bowels, and devourers of blood from the midst of thy consecration,*

Et filiorum necatores sine misericordia et comestores viscerum hominum devorationem et sanguinis a medio sacramento tuo

From the midst of thy consecration... Literally, sacrament. That is, the land sacred to thee, in which thy temple was to be established, and man's redemption to be wrought.

12:6. And those parents sacrificing with their own hands helpless souls, it was thy will to destroy by the hands of our parents,

Et auctores parentes animarum inauxiliatarum voluisti perdere per manus parentum nostrorum

12:7. That the land which of all is most dear to thee, might receive a worthy colony of the children of God.

Ut dignam perciperent peregrinationem puerorum Dei quae tibi omnium carior est terra

12:8. Yet even those thou sparedst as men, and didst send wasps forerunners of thy host, to destroy them by little and little.

Sed et his tamquam hominibus pepercisti et misisti antecessores exercitus tui vespas ut illos paulatim exterminarent

12:9. Not that thou wast unable to bring the wicked under the just by war, or by cruel beasts, or with one rough word to destroy them at once:

Non quia inpotens eras in bello subicere impios iustis aut bestiis saevis aut verbo duro simul exterminare

12:10. But executing thy judgments by degrees, thou gavest them place of repentance, not being ignorant that they were a wicked generation, and their malice natural, and that their thought could never be changed.

Sed partibus iudicans dabas locum paenitentiae non ignorans quoniam nequa est natio illorum et naturalis malitia ipsorum et quoniam non poterat mutari cogitatio illorum in perpetuum

12:11. For it was a cursed seed from the beginning: neither didst thou for fear of any one give pardon to their sins.

Semen enim erat maledictum ab initio nec timens aliquem veniam dabas peccatis illorum

12:12. For who shall say to thee: What hast thou done? or who shall withstand thy judgment? or who shall come before thee to be a revenger of wicked men? or who shall accuse thee, if the nations perish, which thou hast made?

Quis enim dicet tibi quid fecisti aut quis stabit contra iudicium tuum aut quis in conspectum tuum veniet vindex iniquorum hominum aut quis tibi inputabit si nationes perierint quas tu fecisti

12:13. For there is no other God but thou, who hast care of all, that thou shouldst show that thou dost not give judgment unjustly.

Nec enim est alius Deus quam tu cuius cura est de omnibus ut ostendas quoniam non iniuste iudicasti

12:14. Neither shall king, nor tyrant, in thy sight inquire about them whom thou hast destroyed.

Neque rex neque tyrannus in conspectu tuo inquirent de his quos perdidisti

12:15. For so much then, as thou art just, thou orderest all things justly: thinking it not agreeable to the power, to condemn him who deserveth not to be punished.

Cum sis ergo iustus iuste omnia disponis ipsum quoque qui non debet puniri condemnas exterum aestimas a tua virtute

12:16. For thy power is the beginning of justice: and because thou art Lord of all, thou makest thyself gracious to all.

Virtus enim tua iustitiae initium est et ob hoc quod omnium Dominus es omnibus te parcere facis

12:17. For thou showest thy power, when men will not believe thee to be absolute in power, and thou convincest the boldness of them that know thee not.

Virtutem enim ostendis tu qui non crederis esse in virtute consummatus et hos qui sciunt audaciam traducis

12:18. But thou being master of power, judgest with tranquillity, and with great favour disposest of us: for thy power is at hand when thou wilt.

Tu autem dominator virtutis cum tranquillitate iudicas et cum magna reverentia disponis nos subest enim tibi cum voles posse

12:19. But thou hast taught thy people by such works, that they must be just and humane, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope: because in judging, thou givest place for repentance for sins.

Docuisti autem populum tuum per talia opera quoniam oportet iustum esse et humanum et bonae spei fecisti filios tuos quoniam das locum in peccatis paenitentiae

12:20. For if thou didst punish the enemies of thy servants, and that deserved to die, with so great deliberation, giving them time and place whereby they might be changed from their wickedness:

Si enim inimicos servorum tuorum et debitos morti cum tanta cruciasti adtentione et liberasti dans tempus et locum per quae possint mutari a malitia

12:21. With what circumspection hast thou judged thy own children, to whose parents thou hast sworn, and made covenants of good promises?

Cum quanta diligentia iudicasti filios tuos quorum parentibus iuramenta et conventiones dedisti bonarum promissionum

12:22. Therefore whereas thou chastisest us, thou scourgest our enemies very many ways, to the end that when we judge we may think on thy goodness: and when we are judged, we may hope for thy mercy.

Cum ergo nobis disciplinam das inimicos nostros multipliciter flagellas ut bonitatem tuam cogitemus iudicantes et cum de nobis iudicatur speremus misericordiam

12:23. Wherefore thou hast also greatly tormented them, who, in their life, have lived foolishly and unjustly, by the same things which they worshipped.

Unde et illis qui in vita sua insensate et iniuste vixerunt per haec quae coluerunt dedisti summa tormenta

12:24. For they went astray for a long time in the ways of error, holding those things for gods which are the most worthless among beasts, living after the manner of children without understanding.

Etenim in erroris via diutius erraverunt deos aestimantes haec quae in animalibus sunt supervacua infantum insensatorum more viventes

12:25. Therefore thou hast sent a judgment upon them, as senseless children, to mock them.

Propter hoc tamquam pueris insensatis iudicium in derisum dedisti

12:26. But they that were not amended by mockeries and reprehensions, experienced the worthy judgment of God.

Qui autem ludibriis increpationis non correpti sunt dignum Dei iudicium experti sunt

12:27. For seeing, with indignation, that they suffered by those very things which they took for gods, when they were destroyed by the same, they acknowledged him the true God, whom in time past they denied that they knew: for which cause the end also of their condemnation came upon them.

In his enim quae patiebantur moleste ferebant in quibus patientes indignabantur per haec quos putabant deos in ipsis cum exterminarentur videntes illum quem olim negabant se nosse Deum verum agnoverunt propter quod et finis condemnationis illis veniet

Idolaters are inexcusable: and those most of all that worship for gods the works of the hands of men.

---

13:1. But all men are vain, in whom there is not the knowledge of God: and who by these good things that are seen, could not understand him that is, neither by attending to the works have acknowledged who was the workman:

Vani sunt autem omnes homines quibus non subest scientia Dei et de his quae videntur bona non potuerunt intellegere eum qui est neque operibus adtendentes agnoverunt quis esset artifex

13:2. But have imagined either the fire, or the wind, or the swift air, or the circle of the stars, or the great water, or the sun and moon, to be the gods that rule the world.

Sed aut ignem aut spiritum aut citatum aerem aut gyrum stellarum aut nimiam aquam aut solem et lunam rectores orbis terrarum deos putaverunt

13:3. With whose beauty, if they, being delighted, took them to be gods: let them know how much the Lord of them is more beautiful than they: for the first author of beauty made all those things.

Quorum si specie delectati deos putaverunt sciant quanto dominator eorum speciosior est speciei enim generator haec omnia constituit

13:4. Or if they admired their power, and their effects, let them understand by them, that he that made them, is mightier than they:

Aut si virtutem et opera eorum mirati sunt intellegant ab ipsis quoniam qui haec constituit fortior est illis

13:5. For by the greatness of the beauty, and of the creature, the creator of them may be seen, so as to be known thereby.

A magnitudine enim speciei et creaturae cognoscibiliter poterit horum creator videri

13:6. But yet as to these they are less to be blamed. For they perhaps err, seeking God, and desirous to find him.

Sed tamen adhuc in his minor est querella et hii enim fortassis errant Deum quaerentes et volentes invenire

13:7. For being conversant among his works, they search: and they are persuaded that the things are good which are seen.

Etenim cum in operibus illius conversentur inquirunt et persuasum habent quoniam bona sunt quae videntur

13:8. But then again they are not to be pardoned.

Iterum autem nec his debet ignosci

13:9. For if they were able to know so much as to make a judgment of the world: how did they not more easily find out the Lord thereof?

Si enim tantum potuerunt scire ut possent aestimare saeculum quomodo huius Dominum non facilius invenerunt

13:10. But unhappy are they, and their hope is among the dead, who have called gods the works of the hand of men, gold and silver, the inventions of art, and the resemblances of beasts, or an unprofitable stone the work of an ancient hand.

Infelices autem sunt et inter mortuos spes illorum est qui appellaverunt deos opera manuum hominum aurum et argentum artis inventionem similitudines animalium aut lapidem inutilem opus manus antiquae

13:11. Or if an artist, a carpenter, hath cut down a tree proper for his use in the wood, and skilfully taken off all the bark thereof, and with his art, diligently formeth a vessel profitable for the common uses of life,

Aut si quis artifex faber de silva lignum rectum secaverit et huius docte eradat omnem corticem et arte sua usus diligenter fabricet vas utile in conversatione vitae

13:12. And useth the chips of his work to dress his meat:

Reliquias autem eius operis ad praeparationem escae abutatur

13:13. And taking what was left thereof, which is good for nothing, being a crooked piece of wood, and full of knots, carveth it diligently when he hath nothing else to do, and by the skill of his art fashioneth it, and maketh it like the image of a man:

Et reliquum horum quod ad nullos usus facit lignum curvum et verticibus plenum sculpat diligenter per vacuitatem suam et per scientiam artis suae figuret illud et adsimilet illud imagini hominis

13:14. Or the resemblance of some beast, laying it over with vermilion, and painting it red, and covering every spot that is in it:

Aut alicui ex animalibus illud conparet perliniens lubrica et rubicundum faciens fuco colorem illius et omnem maculam quae in illo est perliniens

13:15. And maketh a convenient dwelling place for it, and setting it in a wall, and fastening it with iron,

Et faciat ei dignam habitationem in pariete ponens illud confirmans ferro

13:16. Providing for it, lest it should fall, knowing that it is unable to help itself: for it is an image, and hath need of help.

Ne forte cadat prospiciens illi sciens quoniam non potest se adiuvere imago enim est et opus est illi adiutorio

13:17. And then maketh prayer to it, enquiring concerning his substance, and his children, or his marriage. And he is not ashamed to speak to that which hath no life:

Et de substantia sua et filiis suis et nuptiis votum faciens inquirat non erubescit loqui cum illo qui sine anima est

13:18. And for health he maketh supplication to the weak, and for life prayeth to that which is dead, and for help calleth upon that which is unprofitable:

Et pro sanitate quidem infirmum deprecatur et pro vita mortuum rogat et in adiutorium inutilem invocat

13:19. And for a good journey he petitioneth him that cannot walk: and for getting, and for working, and for the event of all things he asketh him that is unable to do any thing.

Et pro itinere petit ab hoc qui ambulare non potest et de acquirendo et de operando et de omnium rerum eventu petit ab eo qui in omnibus est inutilis

Wisdom Chapter 14

The beginning of worshipping idols: and the effects thereof.

14:1. Again, another designing to sail, and beginning to make his voyage through the raging waves, calleth upon a piece of wood more frail than the wood that carrieth him.

Iterum alius navigare cogitans et per feros fluctus incipiens iter facere ligno portante se fragilius lignum invocat

14:2. For this the desire of gain devised, and the workman built it by his skill.

Illud enim cupiditas acquirendi excogitavit et artifex sapientia fabricavit sua

14:3. But thy providence, O Father, governeth it: for thou hast made a way even in the sea, and a most sure path among the waves,

Tua autem pater gubernat providentia quoniam dedisti et in mari viam et inter fluctus semitam firmissimam

14:4. Showing that thou art able to save out of all things, yea, though a man went to sea without art.

Ostendens quoniam potes ex omnibus sanare etiam si sine arte aliquis adeat

14:5. But that the works of thy wisdom might not be idle: therefore men also trust their lives even to a little wood, and passing over the sea by ship, are saved.

Sed ut non esset vacua sapientiae tuae opera propter hoc etiam exiguo ligno credunt homines animas suas et transeuntes mare per ratem liberati sunt

14:6. And from the beginning also, when the proud giants perished, the hope of the world fleeing to a vessel, which was governed by thy hand, left to the world seed of generation.

Sed ab initio cum perirent superbi gigantes spes orbis terrarum ad ratem confugiens remisit saeculo semen nativitatis quae manu tua erat gubernata

14:7. For blessed is the wood, by which justice cometh

Benedictum est enim lignum per quod fit iustitia

14:8. But the idol that is made by hands, is cursed, as well it, as he that made it: he because he made it; and it because being frail it is called a god.

Per manus autem quod fit maledictum et ipsum et qui fecit illud quia ille quidem operatus est illud autem cum esset fragile Deus cognominatus est

14:9. But to God the wicked and his wickedness are hateful alike.

Similiter autem odio sunt Deo impius et impietas eius

14:10. For that which is made, together with him that made it, shall suffer torments.

Etenim quod factum est cum illo qui fecit tormenta patietur

14:11. Therefore there shall be no respect had even to the idols of the Gentiles: because the creatures of God are turned to an abomination, and a temptation to the souls of men, and a snare to the feet of the unwise.

Propter hoc et idolis nationum non erit respectus quoniam creaturae Dei in odium factae sunt et in temptationem animis hominum et in musculum pedibus insipientium

14:12. For the beginning of fornication is the devising of idols: and the invention of them is the corruption of life.

Initium enim fornicationis est exquisitio idolorum et adinventio illorum corruptio vitae est

14:13. For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be for ever.

Neque erant ab initio neque erunt in perpetuum

14:14. For by the vanity of men they came into the world: and therefore they shall be found to come shortly to an end.

Supervacuitas enim hominum venit in orbem terrarum et ideo brevis illorum finis inventus est

14:15. For a father being afflicted with bitter grief, made to himself the image of his son, who was quickly taken away: and him who then had died as a man, he began now to worship as a god, and appointed him rites and sacrifices among his servants.

Acerbo enim luctu dolens pater cito sibi filii rapti faciens imaginem illum qui tunc homo mortuus fuerat nunc tamquam deum colere coepit et constituit inter servos suos sacra et sacrificia

14:16. Then, in process of time, wicked custom prevailing, this error was kept as a law, and statues were worshipped by the commandment of tyrants.

Deinde interveniente tempore convalescente iniqua consuetudine hic error tamquam lex custodita est et tyrannorum imperio colebantur figmenta

14:17. And those whom men could not honour in presence, because they dwelt far off, they brought their resemblance from afar, and made an express image of the king, whom they had a mind to honour: that by this their diligence, they might honour as present, him that was absent.

Hos quos in palam honorare non poterant homines propter quod longe essent e longinquo figura illorum adlata evidentem imaginem regis quem honorare volebant fecerunt ut illum qui aberat tamquam praesentem colerent sua sollicitudine

14:18. And to the worshipping of these, the singular diligence also of the artificer helped to set forward the ignorant.

Provexit autem ad horum culturam et hos qui ignorabant artificis eximia diligentia

14:19. For he being willing to please him that employed him, laboured with all his art to make the resemblance in the best manner.

Ille enim volens placere illi qui se adsumpsit elaboravit arte sua ut similitudinem in melius figuraret

14:20. And the multitude of men, carried away by the beauty of the work, took him now for a god, that little before was but honoured as a man.

Multitudo autem adducta per speciem operis eum qui ante tempus tamquam homo honoratus fuerat nunc deum existimaverunt

14:21. And this was the occasion of deceiving human life: for men serving either their affection, or their kings, gave the incommunicable name to stones and wood.

Et haec fuit vitae humanae deceptio quoniam aut adfectui aut regibus deservientes homines incommunicabile nomen lapidibus et lignis inposuerunt

14:22. And it was not enough for them to err about the knowledge of God, but whereas they lived in a great war of ignorance, they call so many and so great evils peace.

Et non sufficerat errasse eos circa Dei scientiam sed et in magno viventes inscientiae bello tot et tam magna mala pacem appellant

14:23. For either they sacrifice their own children, or use hidden sacrifices, or keep watches full of madness,

Aut enim filios suos sacrificantes aut obscura sacrificia facientes aut insaniae plenas vigiliis habentes

14:24. So that now they neither keep life, nor marriage undefiled, but one killeth another through envy, or grieveth him by adultery:

Neque vitam neque nuptias mundas iam custodiunt sed alius alium per invidiam occidit aut adulterans contristat

14:25. And all things are mingled together, blood, murder, theft, and dissimulation, corruption and unfaithfulness, tumults and perjury, disquieting of the good,

Et omnia commixta sunt sanguis homicidium furtum et fictio corruptio infidelitas turbatio et periurium tumultus bonorum

14:26. Forgetfulness of God, defiling of souls, changing of nature, disorder in marriage, and the irregularity of adultery and uncleanness.

Domini inmemoratio animarum inquinatio nativitatis inmutatio nuptiarum inconstantia moechiae et inpudicitia

14:27. For the worship of abominable idols is the cause, and the beginning and end of all evil.
Infandorum enim idolorum cultura omnis mali causa est et initium et finis

14:28. For either they are mad when they are merry: or they prophesy lies, or they live unjustly, or easily forswear themselves.
Aut enim dum laetantur insaniunt aut vaticinantur falsa aut vivunt iniuste aut periurant cito

14:29. For whilst they trust in idols, which are without life, though they swear amiss, they look not to be hurt.
Dum enim confidunt in idolis quae sunt sine anima male iurantes renoceri se non sperant

14:30. But for both these things they shall be justly punished, because they have thought not well of God, giving heed to idols, and have sworn unjustly, in guile despising justice.
Utraque ergo illis evenient digne quoniam male senserunt de Deo adtendentes idolis et iniuste iuraverunt in dolo contemnentes iustitiam

14:31. For it is not the power of them, by whom they swear, but the just vengeance of sinners always punisheth the transgression of the unjust.
Non enim iurantium est virtus sed peccantium poena perambulat semper in iniustorum praevaricationem

Wisdom Chapter 15

The servants of God praise him who hath delivered them from idolatry; condemning both the makers and the worshippers of idols.

---

15:1. But thou, our God, art gracious and true, patient, and ordering all things in mercy.
Tu autem Deus noster suavis et verus es patiens et misericordia disponens omnia

15:2. For if we sin, we are thine, knowing thy greatness: and if we sin not, we know that we are counted with thee.
Etenim si peccaverimus tui sumus scientes magnitudinem tuam et si non peccaverimus scimus quoniam apud te sumus computati

15:3. For to know thee is perfect justice: and to know thy justice, and thy power, is the root of immortality.
Nosse enim te consummata iustitia est et scire iustitiam et virtutem tuam radix est immortalitatis

15:4. For the invention of mischievous men hath not deceived us, nor the shadow of a picture, a fruitless labour, a graven figure with divers colours,
Non enim in errorem induxit nos hominum malae artis excogitatio nec umbra picturae labor sine fructu effigies sculpta per varios colores

15:5. The sight whereof enticeth the fool to lust after it, and he loveth the lifeless figure of a dead image.
Cuius aspectus insensato dat concupiscentiam et diligit mortuae imaginis effigiem sine anima

15:6. The lovers of evil things deserve to have no better things to trust in, both they that make them, and they that love them, and they that worship them.
Malorum amatores digni qui spem in talibus habent et qui faciunt illos et qui diligunt et qui colunt

15:7. The potter also tempering soft earth, with labour fashioneth every vessel for our service, and of the same clay he maketh both vessels that are for clean uses, and likewise such as serve to the contrary: but what is the use of these vessels, the potter is the judge.
Sed et figulus mollem terram premens laboriose fingit ad usus nostros unumquodque vas et de eodem luto fingit quae munda sunt in usum vasa similiter et quae his sunt contraria horum autem vasorum qui sit usus iudex est figulus

15:8. And of the same clay by a vain labour he maketh a god: he who a little before was made of earth himself, and a little after returneth to the same out of which he was taken, when his life, which was lent him, shall be called for again.
Et cum labore vanum deum de eodem fingit luto ille qui paulo ante de terra factus fuerat et post pusillum se ducit unde acceptus est repetitus debitum animae quem habebat

15:9. But his care is, not that he shall labour, nor that his life is short, but he striveth with the goldsmiths and silversmiths: and he endeavoureth to do like the workers in brass, and counteth it a glory to make vain things.
Sed est illi cura non quia laboraturus est nec quoniam brevis illi vita est sed concertatur aurificibus et argentariis sed et aerarios imitatur et gloriam praefert quoniam res supervacuas fingit

15:10. For his heart is ashes, and his hope vain earth and his life more base than clay:
Cinis est cor eius et terra supervacua spes illius et luto vilior vita illius

15:11. Forasmuch as he knew not his maker, and him that inspired into him the soul that worketh, and that breathed into him a living spirit.

Quoniam ignoravit qui se finxit et qui inspiravit illi animam quae operatur et qui insuflavit spiritum vitalem

15:12. Yea, and they have counted our life a pastime and the business of life to be gain, and that we must be getting every way, even out of evil.

Sed aestimaverunt ludum esse vitam nostram et conversationem vitae conpositam ad lucrum et oportere undecumque etiam ex malo adquirere

15:13. For that man knoweth that he offendeth above all others, who of earthly matter maketh brittle vessels, and graven gods.

Hic enim super omnes scit se delinquere qui ex terrae materia fragilia vasa et sculptilia fingit

15:14. But all the enemies of thy people that hold them in subjection, are foolish, and unhappy, and proud beyond measure:

Omnes enim insipientes et infelices supra modum animae superbi sunt inimici populi tui et imperantes illi

15:15. For they have esteemed all the idols of the heathens for gods, which neither have the use of eyes to see, nor noses to draw breath, nor ears to hear, nor fingers of hands to handle, and as for their feet, they are slow to walk.

Quoniam omnia idola nationum aestimaverunt deos quibus neque oculorum visus est ad videndum neque nares ad percipiendum spiritum neque aures ad audiendum nec digiti manuum ad tractandum sed et pedes eorum pigri ad ambulandum

15:16. For man made them: and he that borroweth his own breath, fashioned them. For no man can make a god like to himself.

Homo enim fecit illos et qui spiritum mutuatus est is finxit illos nemo enim sibi similem homo poterit deum fingere

15:17. For being mortal himself, he formeth a dead thing with his wicked hands. For he is better than they whom he worshippeth, because he indeed hath lived, though he were mortal, but they never.

Cum sit enim mortalis mortuum fingit manibus iniquis melior est enim ipse his quos colit quia ipse quidem vixit cum esset mortalis illi autem numquam

15:18. Moreover, they worship also the vilest creatures: but things without sense, compared to these, are worse than they.

Sed et animalia miserrima colunt insensate enim comparata his aliis sunt deteriora

15:19. Yea, neither by sight can any man see good of these beasts. But they have fled from the praise of God, and from his blessing.

Sed nec aspectu aliquis ex his animalibus bona potest conspicere effugit autem Dei laudem et benedictionem eius

Wisdom Chapter 16

God's different dealings with the Egyptians and with his own people.

16:1. For these things, and by the like things to these, they were worthily punished, and were destroyed by a multitude of beasts.

Propter hoc per his similia passi sunt digne tormenta et per multitudinem bestiarum exterminati sunt

16:2. Instead of which punishment, dealing well with thy people, thou gavest them their desire of delicious food, of a new taste, preparing for them quails for their meat:

Pro quibus tormentis bene disposuisti populum tuum quibus dedisti concupiscentiam delectamenti sui novum saporem escam parans eis ortygometrā

16:3. To the end, that they indeed desiring food, by means of those things that were shown and sent among them, might loath even that which was necessary to satisfy their desire. But these, after suffering want for a short time, tasted a new meat.*

Ut illi quidem concupiscentes escam propter ea quae illis ostensa et missa sunt etiam a necessaria concupiscentia averterentur hi autem in brevi inopes facti novam gustaverunt escam

They indeed desiring food, etc... He means the Egyptians; who were restrained even from that food which was necessary, by the frogs and the flies that were sent amongst them, and spoiled all their meats. -- Ibid. But these... Viz., the Israelites.

16:4. For it was requisite that inevitable destruction should come upon them that exercised tyranny: but to these it should only be shown how their enemies were destroyed.

Oportebat enim illis quidem sine excusatione supervenire interitum exercentibus tyrannidem his autem tantum ostendere quemadmodum inimici illorum exterminabantur

16:5. For when the fierce rage of beasts came upon these, they were destroyed by the bitings of crooked serpents.

Etenim cum supervenit illis saeva bestiarum ira morsibus perversarum colubrarum exterminabantur

16:6. But thy wrath endured not for ever, but they were troubled for a short time for their correction, having a sign of salvation, to put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law.*

Non in perpetuum permansit ira tua sed ad correptionem in brevi turbati sunt signum habentes salutis ad commemorationem mandati legis tuae

Sign of salvation... The brazen serpent, an emblem of Christ our Saviour.

16:7. For he that turned to it, was not healed by that which he saw, but by thee, the Saviour of all.

Qui enim conversus est non per hoc quod videbat sanabatur sed per te omnium salvatorem

16:8. And in this thou didst show to our enemies, that thou art he who deliverest from all evil.

Et in hoc autem ostendisti inimicis nostris quia tu es qui liberas ab omni malo

16:9. For the bitings of locusts, and of flies, killed them, and there was found no remedy for their life: because they were worthy to be destroyed by such things.

Illos enim lucustarum et muscarum occiderunt morsus et non est inventa sanitas animae illorum quia digni erant ab huiusmodi exterminari

16:10. But not even the teeth of venomous serpents overcame thy children: for thy mercy came and healed them.

Filios autem tuos nec draconum venenatorum vicerunt dentes misericordia enim tua adveniēns sanabat illos

16:11. For they were examined for the remembrance of thy words, and were quickly healed, lest falling into deep forgetfulness, they might not be able to use thy help.

In memoria enim sermonum tuorum examinabantur et salvabantur ne in altam incidentes oblivionem non possent tuo uti adiutorio

16:12. For it was neither herb, nor mollifying plaster, that healed them, but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things.

Etenim neque herba neque malagma sanavit illos sed tuus Domine sermo qui sanat omnia

16:13. For it is thou, O Lord, that hast power of life and death, and leadest down to the gates of death, and bringest back again:

Tu enim vitae et mortis habes potestatem et deducis ad portas mortis et reducis

16:14. A man indeed killeth through malice, and when the spirit is gone forth, it shall not return, neither shall he call back the soul that is received:

Homo autem occidit quidem per malitiam animam suam et cum exhibit spiritus non revertetur nec revocabit animam quae recepta est

16:15. But it is impossible to escape thy hand:

Sed tuam manum effugere impossibile est

16:16. For the wicked that denied to know thee, were scourged by the strength of thy arm, being persecuted by strange waters, and hail, and rain, and consumed by fire.

Negantes enim nosse te impii per fortitudinem brachii tui flagellati sunt novis aquis et grandinibus et pluviis persecutionem passi et per ignem consummati

16:17. And which was wonderful, in water, which extinguisheth all things, the fire had more force: for the world fighteth for the just.*

Quod enim mirabile erat in aqua quae omnia extinguit plus ignis valebat vindex est enim orbis iustorum

The fire had more force... Viz., when the fire and hail mingled together laid waste the land of Egypt. Exodus 9.

16:18. For at one time the fire was mitigated, that the beasts which were sent against the wicked might not be burnt, but that they might see, and perceive that they were persecuted by the judgment of God.

Quodam enim tempore mansuetabatur ignis ne conburerentur quae ad impios missa erant animalia sed ut ipsi videntes scirent quoniam Dei iudicio patiuntur persecutionem

16:19. And at another time the fire, above its own power, burnt in the midst of water, to destroy the fruits of a wicked land.

Et quodam tempore in aqua super virtutem ignis ardebat ut iniquae terrae nationem exterminaret

16:20. Instead of which things, thou didst feed thy people with the food of angels, and gavest them bread from heaven, prepared without labour; having in it all that is delicious, and the sweetness of every taste.

Pro quibus angelorum esca nutriti populum tuum et paratum panem e caelo praestitisti illis sine labore omne delectamentum in se habentem et omnis saporis suavitatem

16:21. For thy sustenance showed thy sweetness to thy children, and serving every man's will, it was turned to what every man liked.

Substantia enim tua dulcedinem tuam quam in filios habes ostendebat et serviens uniuscuiusque voluntati ad quod quis volebat convertebatur

16:22. But snow and ice endured the force of fire, and melted not: that they might know that the fire, burning in the hail, and flashing in the rain, destroyed the fruits of the enemies.

Nix autem et glacies sustinebant vim ignis et non tabescebant ut scirent quoniam fructus inimicorum exterminabat ignis ardens in grandine et pluvia coruscans

16:23. But this same again, that the just might be nourished, did even forget its own strength.

Hoc autem iterum ut nutrentur iusti etiam suae virtutis oblitus est

16:24. For the creature serving thee, the Creator, is made fierce against the unjust for their punishment: and abateth its strength for the benefit of them that trust in thee.

Creatura enim tibi factori deserviens excandescit in tormentum adversus iniustos et lenior fit ad benefaciendum pro his qui in te confidunt

16:25. Therefore even then it was transformed into all things, and was obedient to thy grace, that nourisheth all, according to the will of them that desired it of thee:

Propter hoc et tunc in omnia transfigurata omnium nutriti gratiae tuae deserviebant ad voluntatem horum

qui a te desiderati sunt

16:26. That thy children, O Lord, whom thou lovedst, might know that it is not the growing of fruits that nourisheth men, but thy word preserveth them that believe in thee.

Ut scirent filii tui quos dilexisti Domine quoniam non nativitatis fructus pascunt homines sed sermo tuus hos qui in te crediderint conservat

16:27. For that which could not be destroyed by fire, being warmed with a little sunbeam, presently melted away:

Quod enim ab igni non poterat exterminari statim ab exiguo radio solis calefactum tabescebat

16:28. That it might be known to all, that we ought to prevent the sun to bless thee, and adore thee at the dawning of the light.

Ut notum omnibus esset quoniam oportet praevenire solem ad benedictionem tuam et ad orientem lucis tibi adorare

16:29. For the hope of the unthankful shall melt away as the winter's ice, and shall run off as unprofitable water.

Ingrati enim fides tamquam hibernalis glacies tabescit et disperiet tamquam aqua supervacua

Wisdom Chapter 17

The Egyptian darkness.

---

17:1. For thy judgments, O Lord, are great, and thy words cannot be expressed: therefore undisciplined souls have erred.

Magna enim sunt iudicia tua et inenarrabilia verba tua propter hoc indisciplinatae animae erraverunt

17:2. For while the wicked thought to be able to have dominion over the holy nation, they themselves being fettered with the bonds of darkness, and a long night, shut up in their houses, lay there exiled from the eternal providence.

Dum enim persuasum habent iniqui posse dominari nationi sanctae vinculis tenebrarum et longae noctis conpediti inclusi sub tectis fugitivi perpetuae providentiae iacuerunt

17:3. And while they thought to lie hid in their obscure sins, they were scattered under a dark veil of forgetfulness, being horribly afraid, and troubled with exceeding great astonishment.

Et dum putant se latere in obscuris peccatis tenebroso oblivionis velamento dispersi sunt paventes horrende et cum admiratione nimia perturbati

17:4. For neither did the den that held them, keep them from fear: for noises coming down troubled them, and sad visions appearing to them, affrighted them.

Neque enim quae continebat illos spelunca sine timore custodiebat quoniam sonitus descendens perturbabat illos et personae tristes apparentes pavorem illis praestabant

17:5. And no power of fire could give them light, neither could the bright flames of the stars enlighten that horrible night.

Et ignis quidem nulla vis poterat illis lumen praebere nec siderum limpidae flammae inluminare poterant illam noctem horrendam

17:6. But there appeared to them a sudden fire, very dreadful: and being struck with the fear of that face, which was not seen, they thought the things which they saw to be worse:

Apparebat autem illis subitaneus ignis timore plenus et timore percussi illius quae non videbatur faciei aestimabant deteriora esse quae videbantur

17:7. And the delusions of their magic art were put down, and their boasting of wisdom was reproachfully rebuked.

Et magicae artis adpositi erant derisus et sapientiae gloriae correptio cum contumelia

17:8. For they who promised to drive away fears and troubles from a sick soul, were sick themselves of a fear worthy to be laughed at.

Illi enim qui promittebant timores turbationes expellere se ab anima languente hi cum derisu pleni timore languebant

17:9. For though no terrible thing disturbed them: yet being scared with the passing by of beasts, and hissing of serpents, they died for fear and denying that they saw the air, which could by no means be avoided.

Nam et si nihil illos ex monstris perturbabat transitu animalium et serpentium sibilatione commoti tremebundi peribant et aerem quem nulla ratione quis effugere posset negantes se videre

17:10. For whereas wickedness is fearful, it beareth witness of its condemnation: for a troubled conscience always forecasteth grievous things.

Cum sit enim timida nequitia dat testimonium condemnata semper enim praesumit saeva conturbata conscientia

17:11. For fear is nothing else but a yielding up of the succours from thought.

Nihil enim est timor nisi praesumptionis adiutorium proditio cogitationis auxiliorum

17:12. And while there is less expectation from within, the greater doth it count the ignorance of that cause which bringeth the torment.

Et dum ab intro minor est expectatio maiorem putat scientiam eius causae de qua tormentum praestat

17:13. But they that during that night, in which nothing could be done, and which came upon them from the lowest and deepest hell, slept the same sleep,

Illi autem qui inpotentem vere noctem et ab infimis et ab altissimis inferis supervenientem eundem somnum dormientes

17:14. Were sometimes molested with the fear of monsters, sometimes fainted away, their soul failing them: for a sudden and unlooked for fear was come upon them.

Aliquando monstrorum exagitabantur timore aliquando animae deficiebant traductione subitaneus enim illis et insperatus timor supervenerat

17:15. Moreover, if any of them had fallen down, he was kept shut up in prison without irons.

Deinde si quicumque ex illis decidisset custodiebatur in carcere sine ferro reclusus

17:16. For if any one were a husbandman, or a shepherd, or a labourer in the field, and was suddenly overtaken, he endured a necessity from which he could not fly.

Si enim rusticus quis erat aut pastor aut agri laborum operarius praeoccupatus esset ineffugibilem sustinebat necessitatem

17:17. For they were all bound together with one chain of darkness. Whether it were a whistling wind, or the melodious voice of birds, among the spreading branches of trees, or a fall of water running down with violence,

Una enim catena tenebrarum omnes erant conligati sive spiritus sibilans aut inter spissos ramos avium sonus suavis aut vis aquae decurrentis nimium

17:18. Or the mighty noise of stones tumbling down, or the running that could not be seen of beasts playing together, or the roaring voice of wild beasts, or a rebounding echo from the highest mountains: these things made them to swoon for fear.

Aut sonus validus praecipitarum petrarum aut ludentium animalium cursus invisus aut mugientium valida bestiarum vox aut resonans de altissimis montibus echo deficientes faciebat illos prae timore

17:19. For the whole world was enlightened, with a clear light, and none were hindered in their labours.

Omnis enim orbis terrarum limpido luminabatur lumine et non inpeditis operibus continebatur

17:20. But over them only was spread a heavy night, an image of that darkness which was to come upon them. But they were to themselves more grievous than the darkness.

Solis autem illis superposita erat gravis nox imago tenebrarum quae superventura illis erat ipsi ergo sibi erant graviores tenebris

Wisdom Chapter 18

The slaughter of the firstborn in Egypt: the efficacy of Aaron's intercession, in the sedition on occasion of Core.

---

18:1. But thy saints had a very great light, and they heard their voice indeed, but did not see their shape. And because they also did not suffer the same things, they glorified thee:

Sanctis autem tuis maxima erat lux et horum quidem vocem audiebant sed figuram non videbant et quia non et ipsi per eadem passi erant magnificabant

18:2. And they that before had been wronged, gave thanks, because they were not hurt now: and asked this gift, that there might be a difference.

Et qui ante laesi erant quoniam non laedebantur gratias agebant et ut esset differentia donum petebant

18:3. Therefore they received a burning pillar of fire for a guide of the way which they knew not, and thou gavest them a harmless sun of a good entertainment.*

Propter quod igni ardentem columnam ducem habuerunt ignotae viae et solem sine laesura boni hospitii praestitisti

A harmless sun... A light that should not hurt or molest them; but that should be an agreeable guest to them.

18:4. The others indeed were worthy to be deprived of light, and imprisoned in darkness, who kept thy children shut up, by whom the pure light of the law was to be given to the world.

Digni quidem illi carere luce et pati carcerem tenebrarum qui inclusos custodiebant filios tuos per quos incipiebat incorruptum legis lumen saeculo dari

18:5. And whereas they thought to kill the babes of the just: one child being cast forth, and saved to reprove them, thou tookest away a multitude of their children, and destroyedst them altogether in a mighty water.*

Cum cogitarent iustorum occidere infantes et uno exposito filio et liberato in traductionem illorum multitudinem filiorum abstulisti et pariter illos perdidisti in aquam validam

One child... Viz., Moses.

18:6. For that night was known before by our fathers, that assuredly knowing what oaths they had trusted to, they might be of better courage.

Illa nox ante cognita est a parentibus nostris ut vere scientes quibus iuramentis crediderunt animaequiores essent

18:7. So thy people received the salvation of the just, and destruction of the unjust.

Suscepta est autem a populo tuo sanitas quidem iustorum iniustorum autem exterminatio

18:8. For as thou didst punish the adversaries so thou didst also encourage and glorify us.

Sicut enim laesisti adversarios sic nos provocans magnificasti

18:9. For the just children of good men were offering sacrifice secretly, and they unanimously ordered a law of justice: that the just should receive both good and evil alike, singing now the praises of the fathers.*

Abconse enim sacrificabant iusti pueri bonorum et iustitiae legem in concordia disposuerunt similiter bona et mala percepturos iustos patri iam decantantes laudes

Of good men... Viz., of the patriarchs. Their children, the Israelites, offered in private the sacrifice of the paschal lamb; and were regulating what they were to do in their journey, when that last and most dreadful plague was coming upon their enemies.

18:10. But on the other side there sounded an ill according cry of the enemies, and a lamentable mourning was heard for the children that were bewailed.

Resonabat autem inconveniens inimicorum vox et flebilis audiebatur planctus ploratorum infantium

18:11. And the servant suffered the same punishment as the master, and a common man suffered in like manner as the king.

Simili autem poena servus cum domino adflictus et popularis homo regi similia passus

18:12. So all alike had innumerable dead, with one kind of death. Neither were the living sufficient to bury them: for in one moment the noblest offspring of them was destroyed. *

Similiter ergo omnes uno nomine mortis mortuos habebant innumerabiles nec enim ad sepeliendum vivi sufficiebant quoniam uno momento quae erat praeclarior natio illorum exterminata est

The noblest offspring... That is, the firstborn.

18:13. For whereas they would not believe any thing before by reason of the enchantments, then first upon the destruction of the firstborn, they acknowledged the people to be of God.

De omnibus enim non credentes propter veneficia tunc cum fuit exterminium primogenitorum sponderunt populum Dei se esse

18:14. For while all things were in quiet silence, and the night was in the midst of her course,

Cum enim quietum silentium contineret omnia et nox in suo cursu medium iter haberet

18:15. Thy Almighty word leaped down from heaven from thy royal throne, as a fierce conqueror into the midst of the land of destruction,

Omnipotens sermo tuus de caelo a regalibus sedibus durus debellator in mediam exterminii terram prosilivit

18:16. With a sharp sword carrying thy unfeigned commandment, and he stood and filled all things with death, and standing on the earth, reached even to heaven.

Gladius acutus insimulatum imperium tuum portans et stans replevit omnia morte et usque ad caelum adtingebat stans in terra

18:17. Then suddenly visions of evil dreams troubled them, and fears unlooked for came upon them.

Tum continuo visus somniorum malorum turbaverunt illos et timores supervenerunt insperati

18:18. And one thrown here, another there, half dead, showed the cause of his death.

Et alius alibi proiectus semivivus propter quam moriebatur causam demonstrabat

18:19. For the visions that troubled them foreshowed these things, lest they should perish, and not know why they suffered these evils.

Visiones enim quae illos turbaverunt haec praemonebant ne inscii quare mala patiebantur perirent

18:20. But the just also were afterwards touched by an assault of death, and there was a disturbance of the multitude in the wilderness: but thy wrath did not long continue;

Tetigit autem tunc et iustos temptatio mortis et commotio in heremo facta est multitudinis sed non diu permansit ira

18:21. For a blameless man made haste to pry for the people, bringing forth the shield of his ministry, prayer, and by incense making supplication, withstood the wrath, and put an end to the calamity, showing that he was thy servant.

Properans enim homo sine querella propugnavit proferens servitutis suae scutum orationem et per incensum deprecationem allegans restitit irae et finem inposuit necessitati ostendens quoniam tuus est famulus

18:22. And he overcame the disturbance, not by strength of body nor with force of arms, but with a word he subdued him that punished them, alleging the oath and covenant made with the fathers.

Vicit autem turbas non virtute corporis nec armatura potentiae sed verbo vexatorem subiecit iuramenta parentum et testamentum commemorans

18:23. For when they were now fallen down dead by heaps one upon another, he stood between and stayed the assault, and cut off the way to the living.

Cum enim iam acervatim cecidissent super alterutrum mortui interstetit et amputavit impetum et divisit illam quae ad vivos ducebat viam

18:24. For in the priestly robe which he wore, was the whole world: and in the four rows of the stones, the glory of the fathers was graven, and thy majesty was written upon the diadem of his head.

In veste enim poderis quam habebat totus erat orbis terrarum et parentum magnalia in quattuor ordinibus lapidum erant sculpta et magnificentia tua in diademate capitis illius erat scripta

18:25. And to these the destroyer gave place, and was afraid of them: for the proof only of wrath was enough.

Haec autem his cessit qui exterminabat et haec extimuit erat enim sola temptatio irae sufficiens

Wisdom Chapter 19

Why God showed no mercy to the Egyptians. His favour to the Israelites. All creatures obey God's orders for the service of the good, and the punishment of the wicked.

---

19:1. But as to the wicked, even to the end there came upon them wrath without mercy. For he knew before also what they would do:

Impiis autem usque in novissimum sine misericordia ira supervenit praesciebat enim et futura illorum

19:2. For when they had given them leave to depart and had sent them away with great care, they repented and pursued after them.

Quoniam ipsi cum reversi essent ut se ducerent et cum magna sollicitudine praemisissent illos consequebantur illos paenitentia acti

19:3. For whilst they were yet mourning, and lamenting at the graves of the dead, they took up another foolish device: and pursued them as fugitives whom they had pressed to be gone:

Adhuc enim inter manus habentes luctus et deplorantes ad monumenta mortuorum aliam sibi adsumpserunt cogitationem inscientiae et quos rogantes proiecerunt hos tamquam fugitivos persequebantur

19:4. For a necessity, of which they were worthy, brought them to this end: and they lost the remembrance of those things which had happened, that their punishment might fill up what was wanting to their torments:

Ducebat enim illos ad hunc finem digna necessitas et horum quae acciderant memoracionem amittebant

19:5. And that thy people might wonderfully pass through, but they might find a new death.

Ut eam quae deerat tormentis replerent punitionem et populus quidem tuus mirabiliter transiret illi autem novam mortem invenirent

19:6. For every creature, according to its kind was fashioned again as from the beginning, obeying thy commandments, that thy children might be kept without hurt.

Omnis enim creatura ad suum genus ab initio refigurabatur deserviens tuis praeceptis ut pueri tui custodirentur inlaesi

19:7. For a cloud overshadowed their camps and where water was before, dry land appeared, and in the Red Sea a way without hindrance, and out of the great deep a springing field:

Nam nubes castra eorum adumbrabat et ex aqua quae ante erat terra arida apparuit et ex mari Rubro via sine impedimento et campus germinans de profundo nimio

19:8. Through which all the nation passed which was protected with thy hand, seeing thy miracles and wonders.

Per quem omnis natio transivit quae tegebatur tua manu videntes mirabilia monstra

19:9. For they fed on their food like horses, and they skipped like lambs, praising thee, O Lord, who hadst delivered them.

Tamquam equi enim depaverunt et tamquam agni exultaverunt magnificantes te Domine qui liberasti illos

19:10. For they were yet mindful of those things which had been done in the time of their sojourning, how the ground brought forth flies instead of cattle, and how the river cast up a multitude of frogs instead of fishes.

Memores enim erant adhuc eorum quae in incolatu illorum facta fuerant quemadmodum pro natione animalium eduxit terra muscas et pro piscibus eructavit fluvius multitudinem ranarum

19:11. And at length they saw a new generation of birds, when being led by their appetite, they asked for delicate meats.

Novissime autem viderunt novam creaturam avium cum abducti concupiscentia postulaverunt escam epulationis

19:12. For to satisfy their desire, the quail came up to them from the sea: and punishments came upon the sinners, not without foregoing signs by the force of thunders: for they suffered justly according to their own wickedness.

In adlocutione enim desiderii ascendit illis de mari ortygometra et vexationes peccatoribus supervenerunt non sine illis quae ante facta erant argumentis per vim fluminum iuste enim patiebantur secundum suas nequitias

19:13. For they exercised a more detestable inhospitality than any: others indeed received not strangers unknown to them, but these brought their guests into bondage that had deserved well of them.

Etenim detestabiliorem inhospitalitatem instituerunt alii quidem ignotos non recipiebant advenas alii autem bonos hospites in servitatem accipiebant

19:14. And not only so, but in another respect also they were worse: for the others against their will received the strangers.

Et non solum hoc sed et alius quis respectus erit illorum quoniam inviti recipiebant extraneos

19:15. But these grievously afflicted them whom they had received with joy, and who lived under the same laws.

Qui autem cum laetitia receperunt hos qui eisdem usi erant iustitiis saevissimis adflixerunt doloribus

19:16. But they were struck with blindness: as those others were at the doors of the just man, when they were covered with sudden darkness, and every one sought the passage of his own door.

Percussi sunt autem caecitate sicut illi in foribus iusti cum subitaneis cooperti essent tenebris unusquisque ostii sui transitum quaerebat

19:17. For while the elements are changed in themselves, as in an instrument the sound of the quality is changed, yet all keep their sound: which may clearly be perceived by the very sight. *

In se enim elementa dum convertuntur sicut in organo qualitatis sonus inmutatur et omnia suum sonum custodiunt unde est aestimare et ex ipso certo visu

Elements are changed, etc... The meaning is, that whatever changes God wrought in the elements by miracles in favour of his people, they still kept their harmony by obeying his will.

19:18. For the things of the land were turned into things of the water: and the things that before swam in the water passed upon the land.

Agrestia enim in aquatica convertebantur et quaecumque erant natantia in terram transiebant

19:19. The fire had power in water above its own virtue, and the water forgot its quenching nature.

Ignis in aqua valebat supra suam virtutem et aqua extinguentis naturae obliviscebatur

19:20. On the other side, the flames wasted not the flesh of corruptible animals walking therein, neither did they melt that good food, which was apt to melt as ice. For in all things thou didst magnify thy people, O Lord, and didst honour them, and didst not despise them, but didst assist them at all times, and in every place. *

Flammae e contrario corruptibilium animalium non vexaverunt carnes coambulantium nec dissolvebant illam quae facile dissolvitur sicut glacies bonam escam in omnibus enim Domine magnificasti populum tuum et honorasti et non despexisti in omni tempore et in omni loco adsistens eis

That good food... The manna.

Zacharias

ZACHARIAS began to prophecy in the same year as Aggeus, and upon the same occasion. His prophecy is full of mysterious figures and promises of blessings, partly relating to the synagogue, and partly to the church of Christ. (For more information, see the article ZACHARIAS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Zacharias Chapter 1. The prophet exhorts the people to return to God, and declares his visions, by which he puts them in hopes of better times.

Zacharias Chapter 2. Under the name of Jerusalem, he prophesieth the progress of the church of Christ, by the conversion of some Jews and many Gentiles.

Zacharias Chapter 3. In a vision Satan appeareth accusing the high priest. He is cleansed from his sins. Christ is promised, and great fruit from his passion.

Zacharias Chapter 4. The vision of the golden candlestick and seven lamps, and of the two olive trees.

Zacharias Chapter 5. The vision of the flying volume, and of the woman in the vessel.

Zacharias Chapter 6. The vision of the four chariots. Crowns are ordered for Jesus the high priest, as a type of Christ.

Zacharias Chapter 7. The people inquire concerning fasting: they are admonished to fast from sin.

Zacharias Chapter 8. Joyful promises to Jerusalem: fully verified in the church of Christ.

Zacharias Chapter 9. God will defend his church, and bring over even her enemies to the faith. The meek coming of Christ, to bring peace, to deliver the captives by his blood, and to give us all good things.

Zacharias Chapter 10. God is to be sought to, and not idols. The victories of his church, which shall arise originally from the Jewish nation.

Zacharias Chapter 11. The destruction of Jerusalem and the temple. God's dealings with the Jews, and their reprobation.

Zacharias Chapter 12. God shall protect his church against her persecutors. The mourning of Jerusalem.

Zacharias Chapter 13. The fountain of Christ. Idols and false prophets shall be extirpated: Christ shall suffer: his people shall be tried by fire.

Zacharias Chapter 14. After the persecutions of the church shall follow great prosperity. Persecutors shall be punished: so shall all that will not serve God in his church.

Zacharias Chapter 1

The prophet exhorts the people to return to God, and declares his visions, by which he puts them in hopes of better times.

---

1:1. In the eighth month, in the second year of king Darius, the word of the Lord came to Zacharias the son of Barachias, the son of Addo, the prophet, saying:

In mense octavo in anno secundo Darii factum est verbum Domini ad Zacchariam filium Barachiae filium Addo prophetam dicens

1:2. The Lord hath been exceeding angry with your fathers.

Iratus est Dominus super patres vestros iracundia

1:3. And thou shalt say to them: Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Turn ye to me, saith the Lord of hosts: and I will turn to you, saith the Lord of hosts.

Et dices ad eos haec dicit Dominus exercituum convertimini ad me ait Dominus exercituum et convertar ad vos dicit Dominus exercituum

1:4. Be not as your fathers, to whom the former prophets have cried, saying: Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Turn ye from your evil ways, and from your wicked thoughts: but they did not give ear, neither did they hearken to me, saith the Lord.

Ne sitis sicut patres vestri ad quos clamabant prophetae priores dicentes haec dicit Dominus exercituum convertimini de viis vestris malis et cogitationibus vestris pessimis et non audierunt neque adtenderunt ad me dicit Dominus

1:5. Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, shall they live always?

Patres vestri ubi sunt et prophetae numquid in sempiternum vivent

1:6. But yet my words, and my ordinances, which I gave in charge to my servants the prophets, did they not take hold of your fathers, and they returned, and said: As the Lord of hosts thought to do to us according to our ways, and according to our devices, so he hath done to us.

Verumtamen verba mea et legitima mea quae mandavi servis meis prophetis numquid non comprehenderunt patres vestros et conversi sunt et dixerunt sicut cogitavit Dominus exercituum facere nobis secundum vias nostras et secundum adinventiones nostras fecit nobis

1:7. In the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month which is called Sabath, in the second year of Darius, the word of the Lord came to Zacharias the son of Barachias, the son of Addo, the prophet, saying:

In die vicesima et quarta undecimo mense sabath in anno secundo Darii factum est verbum Domini ad Zacchariam filium Barachiae filium Addo prophetam dicens

1:8. I saw by night, and behold a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees, that were in the bottom: and behind him were horses, red, speckled, and white.*

Vidi per noctem et ecce vir ascendens super equum rufum et ipse stabat inter myrteta quae erant in profundo et post eum equi rufi varii et albi

A man... An angel in the shape of a man. It was probably Michael, the guardian angel of the church of God.

1:9. And I said: What are these, my lord? and the angel that spoke in me, said to me: I will show thee what these are:

Et dixi quid sunt isti domine mi et dixit ad me angelus qui loquebatur in me ego ostendam tibi quid sint haec

1:10. And the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered, and said: These are they, whom the Lord hath sent to walk through the earth.*

Et respondit vir qui stabat inter myrteta et dixit isti sunt quos misit Dominus ut perambularent terram

These are they, etc... The guardian angels of provinces and nations.

1:11. And they answered the angel of the Lord, that stood among the myrtle trees, and said: We have walked through the earth, and behold all the earth is inhabited, and is at rest.
Et responderunt angelo Domini qui stabat inter myrteta et dixerunt perambulavimus terram et ecce omnis terra habitatur et quiescit

1:12. And the angel of the Lord answered, and said: O Lord of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem, and on the cities of Juda, with which thou hast been angry? this is now the seventieth year.*
Et respondit angelus Domini et dixit Domine exercituum usquequo tu non misereberis Hierusalem et urbium Iuda quibus iratus es iste septuagesimus annus est

The seventieth year... Viz., from the beginning of the siege of Jerusalem, in the ninth year of king Sedecias, to the second year of king Darius. These seventy years of the desolation of Jerusalem and the cities of Juda, are different from the seventy years of captivity foretold by Jeremias; which began in the fourth year of Joakim, and ended in the first year of king Cyrus.

1:13. And the Lord answered the angel, that spoke in me, good words, comfortable words.
Et respondit Dominus angelo qui loquebatur in me verba bona verba consolatoria

1:14. And the angel that spoke in me, said to me: Cry thou, saying: Thus saith the Lord of hosts: I am zealous for Jerusalem, and Sion with a great zeal.
Et dixit ad me angelus qui loquebatur in me clama dicens haec dicit Dominus exercituum zelatus sum Hierusalem et Sion zelo magno

1:15. And I am angry with a great anger with the wealthy nations: for I was angry a little, but they helped forward the evil.
Et ira magna ego irascor super gentes opulentas quia ego iratus sum parum ipsi vero adiuverunt in malum

1:16. Therefore thus saith the Lord: I will return to Jerusalem in mercies: my house shall be built in it, saith the Lord of hosts: and the building line shall be stretched forth upon Jerusalem.
Propterea haec dicit Dominus revertar ad Hierusalem in misericordiis domus mea aedificabitur in ea ait Dominus exercituum et perpendicularum extendetur super Hierusalem

1:17. Cry yet, saying: Thus saith the Lord of hosts: My cities shall yet flow with good things: and the Lord will yet comfort Sion, and he will yet choose Jerusalem.
Adhuc clama dicens haec dicit Dominus exercituum adhuc affluent civitates meae bonis et consolabitur Dominus adhuc Sion et eliget adhuc Hierusalem

1:18. And I lifted up my eyes, and saw: and behold four horns.*
Et levavi oculos meos et vidi et ecce quattuor cornua

Four horns... The four horns represent the empires, or kingdoms, that persecute and oppress the kingdom of God.

1:19. And I said to the angel that spoke in me: What are these? And he said to me: These are the horns that have scattered Juda, and Israel, and Jerusalem.
Et dixi ad angelum qui loquebatur in me quid sunt haec et dixit ad me haec sunt cornua quae ventilaverunt Iudam et Israhel et Hierusalem

1:20. And the Lord showed me four smiths.*
Et ostendit mihi Dominus quattuor fabros

Four smiths... The four smiths, or carpenters (for faber may signify either) represent those whom God makes his instruments in bringing to nothing the power of persecutors.

1:21. And I said: What come these to do? and he spoke, saying: These are the horns which have scattered Juda every man apart, and none of them lifted up his head: and these are come to fray them, to cast down the horns of the nations, that have lifted up the horn upon the land of Juda to scatter it.
Et dixi quid isti veniunt facere qui ait dicens haec sunt cornua quae ventilaverunt Iudam per singulos viros et nemo eorum levavit caput suum et venerunt isti deterrere ea ut deiciant cornua gentium quae levaverunt cornu super terram Iuda ut dispergerent eam

Zacharias Chapter 2

Under the name of Jerusalem, he prophesieth the progress of the church of Christ, by the conversion of some Jews and many Gentiles.

---

2:1. And I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and behold a man, with a measuring line in his hand.
Et levavi oculos meos et vidi et ecce vir et in manu eius funiculus mensurum

2:2. And I said: Whither goest thou? and he said to me: To measure Jerusalem, and to see how great is the breadth thereof, and how great the length thereof.
Et dixi quo tu vadis et dixit ad me ut metiar Hierusalem et videam quanta sit latitudo eius et quanta longitudo eius

2:3. And behold the angel that spoke in me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him.
Et ecce angelus qui loquebatur in me egrediebatur et angelus alius egrediebatur in occursum eius

2:4. And he said to him: Run, speak to this young man, saying: Jerusalem shall be inhabited without walls, by reason of the multitude of men, and of the beasts in the midst thereof. *
Et dixit ad eum curre loquere ad puerum istum dicens absque muro habitabitur Hierusalem prae multitudine hominum et iumentorum in medio eius
Jerusalem shall be inhabited without walls... This must be understood of the spiritual Jerusalem, the church of Christ.

2:5. And I will be to it, saith the Lord, a wall of fire round about: and I will be in glory in the midst thereof.
Et ego ero ei ait Dominus murus ignis in circuitu et in gloria ero in medio eius

2:6. O, O flee ye out of the land of the north, saith the Lord, for I have scattered you into the four winds of heaven, saith the Lord.
O o fugite de terra aquilonis dicit Dominus quoniam in quattuor ventos caeli dispersi vos dicit Dominus

2:7. O Sion, flee, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon:
O Sion fuge quae habitas apud filiam Babylonis

2:8. For thus saith the Lord of hosts: After the glory he hath sent me to the nations that have robbed you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of my eye:
Quia haec dicit Dominus exercituum post gloriam misit me ad gentes quae spoliaverunt vos qui enim tetigerit vos tangit pupillam oculi eius

2:9. For behold, I lift up my hand upon them, and they shall be a prey to those that served them: and you shall know that the Lord of hosts sent me.
Quia ecce ego levo manum meam super eos et erunt praedae his qui serviebant sibi et cognoscetis quia Dominus exercituum misit me

2:10. Sing praise, and rejoice, O daughter of Sion: for behold I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee: saith the Lord.
Lauda et laetare filia Sion quia ecce ego venio et habitabo in medio tui ait Dominus

2:11. And many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day, and they shall be my people, and I will dwell in the midst of thee: and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me to thee.
Et adplicabuntur gentes multae ad Dominum in die illa et erunt mihi in populum et habitabo in medio tui et scies quia Dominus exercituum misit me ad te

2:12. And the Lord shall possess Juda his portion in the sanctified land: and he shall yet choose Jerusalem.
Et possidebit Dominus Iudam partem suam in terra sanctificata et eliget adhuc Hierusalem

2:13. Let all flesh be silent at the presence of the Lord: for he is risen up out of his holy habitation.
Sileat omnis caro a facie Domini quia consurrexit de habitaculo sancto suo

Zacharias Chapter 3

In a vision Satan appeareth accusing the high priest. He is cleansed from his sins. Christ is promised, and great fruit from his passion.

---

3:1. And the Lord showed me Jesus the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord: and Satan stood on his right hand to be his adversary.*

Et ostendit mihi Iesum sacerdotem magnum stantem coram angelo Domini et Satan stabat a dextris eius ut adversaretur ei

Jesus... Alias, Josue, the son of Josedec, the high priest of that time.

3:2. And the Lord said to Satan: The Lord rebuke thee, O Satan: and the Lord that chose Jerusalem rebuke thee: Is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?

Et dixit Dominus ad Satan increpet Dominus in te Satan et increpet Dominus in te qui elegit Hierusalem numquid non iste torris est erutus de igne

3:3. And Jesus was clothed with filthy garments: and he stood before the face of the angel.*

Et Iesus erat indutus vestibus sordidis et stabat ante faciem angeli

With filthy garments... Negligences and sins.

3:4. Who answered, and said to them that stood before him, saying: Take away the filthy garments from him. And he said to him: Behold I have taken away thy iniquity, and have clothed thee with change of garments.

Qui respondit et ait ad eos qui stabant coram se dicens auferte vestimenta sordida ab eo et dixit ad eum ecce abstuli a te iniquitatem tuam et indui te mutatoriis

3:5. And he said: Put a clean mitre upon his head: and they put a clean mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments, and the angel of the Lord stood.

Et dixit ponite cidarim mundam super caput eius et posuerunt cidarim mundam super caput eius et induerunt eum vestibus et angelus Domini stabat

3:6. And the angel of the Lord protested to Jesus, saying:

Et contestabatur angelus Domini Iesum dicens

3:7. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and keep my charge, thou also shalt judge my house, and shalt keep my courts, and I will give thee some of them that are now present here to walk with thee.*

Haec dicit Dominus exercituum si in viis meis ambulaveris et custodiam meam custodieris tu quoque iudicabis domum meam et custodies atria mea et dabo tibi ambulantes de his qui nunc hic adstant

I will give thee, etc... Angels to attend and assist thee.

3:8. Hear, O Jesus thou high priest, thou and thy friends that dwell before thee, for they are portending men: for behold, I WILL BRING MY SERVANT THE ORIENT.*

Audi Iesu sacerdos magne tu et amici tui qui habitant coram te quia viri portendentes sunt ecce enim ego adducam servum meum orientem

Portending men... That is, men, who by words and actions are to foreshow wonders that are to come. -- Ibid. My servant the Orient... Christ, who according to his humanity is the servant of God, is called the Orient from his rising like the sun in the east to enlighten the world.

3:9. For behold the stone that I have laid before Jesus: upon one stone there are seven eyes: behold I will grave the graving thereof, saith the Lord of hosts: and I will take away the iniquity of that land in one day.*

Quia ecce lapis quem dedi coram Iesu super lapidem unum septem oculi sunt ecce ego celabo sculpturam eius ait Dominus exercituum et auferam iniquitatem terrae illius in die una

The stone... Another emblem of Christ, the rock, foundation, and corner stone of his church. -- Ibid. Seven eyes... The manifold providence of Christ over his church, or the seven gifts of the spirit of God. -- Ibid. One day... Viz., the day of the passion of Christ, the source of all our good: when this precious stone shall be graved, that is, cut and pierced, with whips, thorns, nails, and spear.

3:10. In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, every man shall call his friend under the vine and under the fig tree.

In die illa dicit Dominus exercituum vocabit vir amicum suum subter vineam et subter ficum

Zacharias Chapter 4

The vision of the golden candlestick and seven lamps, and of the two olive trees.

---

4:1. And the angel that spoke in me came again: and he waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep.

Et reversus est angelus qui loquebatur in me et suscitavit me quasi virum qui suscitatur de somno suo

4:2. And he said to me: What seest thou? And I said: I have looked, and behold a candlestick all of gold, and its lamp upon the top of it: and the seven lights thereof upon it: and seven funnels for the lights that were upon the top thereof.*

Et dixit ad me quid tu vides et dixi vidi et ecce candelabrum aureum totum et lampas eius super caput ipsius et septem lucernae eius super illud septem et septem infusoria lucernis quae erant super caput illius
A candlestick, etc... The temple of God that was then in building; and in a more sublime sense, the church of Christ.

4:3. And two olive trees over it: one upon the right side of the lamp, and the other upon the left side thereof.

Et duae olivae super illud una a dextris lampadis et una a sinistris eius

4:4. And I answered, and said to the angel that spoke in me, saying: What are these things, my lord?

Et respondi et aio ad angelum qui loquebatur in me dicens quid sunt haec domine mi

4:5. And the angel that spoke in me answered, and said to me: Knowest thou not what these things are? And I said: No, my lord.

Et respondit angelus qui loquebatur in me et dixit ad me numquid nescis quid sunt haec et dixi non domine mi

4:6. And he answered, and spoke to me, saying: This is the word of the Lord to Zorobabel, saying: Not with an army, nor by might, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts.*

Et respondit et ait ad me dicens hoc est verbum Domini ad Zorobabel dicens non in exercitu nec in robore sed in spiritu meo dicit Dominus exercituum

To Zorobabel... This vision was in favour of Zorobabel: to assure him of success in the building of the temple, which he had begun, signified by the candlestick: the lamp of which, without any other industry, was supplied with oil, dropping from the two olive trees, and distributed by the seven funnels or pipes, to maintain the seven lights.

4:7. Who art thou, O great mountain, before Zorobabel? thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring out the chief stone, and shall give equal grace to the grace thereof.*

Quis tu mons magne coram Zorobabel in planum et educet lapidem primarium et exaequabit gratiam gratiae eius

Great mountain... So he calls the opposition made by the enemies of God's people: which nevertheless, without an army or might on their side, was quashed by divine providence. -- Ibid. Shall give equal grace, etc... Shall add grace to grace, or beauty to beauty.

4:8. And the word of the Lord came to me, saying:

Et factum est verbum Domini ad me dicens

4:9. The hands of Zorobabel have laid the foundations of this house, and his hands shall finish it: and you shall know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me to you.

Manus Zorobabel fundaverunt domum istam et manus eius perficient eam et scietis quia Dominus exercituum misit me ad vos

4:10. For who hath despised little days? and they shall rejoice, and shall see the tin plummet in the hand of Zorobabel. These are the seven eyes of the Lord, that run to and fro through the whole earth.*

Quis enim despexit dies parvos et laetabuntur et videbunt lapidem stagneum in manu Zorobabel septem isti oculi Domini qui discurrunt in universa terra

Little days... That is, these small and feeble beginnings of the temple of God. -- Ibid. The tin plummet... Literally, the stone of tin. He means the builder's plummet, which Zorobabel shall hold in his hand for the finishing the building. -- Ibid. The seven eyes... The providence of God, that oversees and orders all things.

4:11. And I answered, and said to him: What are these two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick, and upon the left side thereof?

Et respondi et dixi ad eum quid sunt duae olivae istae ad dextram candelabri et ad sinistram eius

4:12. And I answered again, and said to him: What are the two olive branches, that are by the two golden beaks, in which are the funnels of gold?

Et respondi secundo et dixi ad eum quid sunt duae spicae olivarum quae sunt iuxta duo rostra aurea in quibus sunt suffusoria ex auro

4:13. And he spoke to me, saying: Knowest thou not what these are? And I said: No, my lord.

Et ait ad me dicens numquid nescis quid sunt haec et dixi non domine

4:14. And he said: These are two sons of oil who stand before the Lord of the whole earth. *

Et dixit isti duo filii olei qui adsistunt Dominatori universae terrae

Two sons of oil... That is, the two anointed ones of the Lord; viz., Jesus the high priest, and Zorobabel the prince.

Zacharias Chapter 5

The vision of the flying volume, and of the woman in the vessel.

5:1. And I turned and lifted up my eyes: and I saw, and behold a volume flying. *

Et conversus sum et levavi oculos meos et vidi et ecce volumen volans

A volume... That is, a parchment, according to the form of the ancient books, which, from being rolled up, were called volumes.

5:2. And he said to me: What seest thou? And I said: I see a volume flying: the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

Et dixit ad me quid tu vides et dixi ego video volumen volans longitudo eius viginti cubitorum et latitudo eius decem cubitorum

5:3. And he said to me: This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of the earth: for every thief shall be judged as is there written: and every one that swareth in like manner shall be judged by it.

Et dixit ad me haec est maledictio quae egreditur super faciem omnis terrae quia omnis fur sicut ibi scriptum est iudicabitur et omnis iurans ex hoc similiter iudicabitur

5:4. I will bring it forth, saith the Lord of hosts: and it shall come to the house of the thief, and to the house of him that swareth falsely by my name: and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and the stones thereof.

Educam illud dicit Dominus exercituum et veniet ad domum furis et ad domum iurantis in nomine meo mendaciter et commorabitur in medio domus eius et consumet eam et ligna eius et lapides eius

5:5. And the angel went forth that spoke in me, and he said to me: Lift up thy eyes, and see what this is, that goeth forth.

Et egressus est angelus qui loquebatur in me et dixit ad me leva oculos tuos et vide quid est hoc quod egreditur

5:6. And I said: What is it? And he said: This is a vessel going forth. And he said: This is their eye in all the earth. *

Et dixi quidnam est et ait haec est amphora egrediens et dixit haec est oculus eorum in universa terra

This is their eye... This is what they fix their eye upon: or this is a resemblance and figure of them, viz., of sinners.

5:7. And behold a talent of lead was carried, and behold a woman sitting in the midst of the vessel.

Et ecce talentum plumbi portabatur et ecce mulier una sedens in medio amphorae

5:8. And he said: This is wickedness. And he cast her into the midst of the vessel, and cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

Et dixit haec est impietas et proiecit eam in medio amphorae et misit massam plumbeam in os eius

5:9. And I lifted up my eyes and looked: and behold there came out two women, and wind was in their wings, and they had wings like the wings of a kite: and they lifted up the vessel between the earth and the heaven.

Et levavi oculos meos et vidi et ecce duae mulieres egredientes et spiritus in alis earum et habebant alas quasi alas milvi et levaverunt amphoram inter terram et caelum

5:10. And I said to the angel that spoke in me: Whither do these carry the vessel?

Et dixi ad angelum qui loquebatur in me quo istae deferunt amphoram

5:11. And he said to me: That a house may be built for it in the land of Sennaar, and that it may be established, and set there upon its own basis. *

Et dixit ad me ut aedificetur ei domus in terra Sennaar et stabiliatur et ponatur ibi super basem suam

The land of Sennaar... Where Babel or Babylon was built, Gen. 11., where note, that Babylon in holy writ is often taken for the city of the devil: that is, for the whole congregation of the wicked: as Jerusalem is taken for the city and people of God.

Zacharias Chapter 6

The vision of the four chariots. Crowns are ordered for Jesus the high priest, as a type of Christ.

---

6:1. And I turned, and lifted up my eyes, and saw: and behold four chariots came out from the midst of two mountains: and the mountains were mountains of brass. *

Et conversus sum et levavi oculos meos et vidi et ecce quattuor quadrigae egredientes de medio duorum montium et montes montes aerei

Four chariots... The four great empires of the Chaldeans, Persians, Grecians, and Romans. Or perhaps by the fourth chariot are represented the kings of Egypt and of Asia, the descendants of Ptolemeus and Seleucus.

6:2. In the first chariot were red horses, and in the second chariot black horses.

In quadriga prima equi rufi et in quadriga secunda equi nigri

6:3. And in the third chariot white horses, and in the fourth chariot grisled horses, and strong ones.

Et in quadriga tertia equi albi et in quadriga quarta equi varii fortes

6:4. And I answered, and said to the angel that spoke in me: What are these, my lord?

Et respondi et dixi ad angelum qui loquebatur in me quid sunt haec domine mi

6:5. And the angel answered, and said to me: These are the four winds of the heaven, which go forth to stand before the Lord of all the earth.

Et respondit angelus et ait ad me isti sunt quattuor venti caeli qui egrediuntur ut stent coram Dominatore omnis terrae

6:6. That in which were the black horses went forth into the land of the north, and the white went forth after them: and the grisled went forth to the land the south. *

In quo erant equi nigri egrediebantur in terra aquilonis et albi egressi sunt post eos et varii egressi sunt ad terram austri

The land of the north... So Babylon is called; because it lay to the north in respect of Jerusalem. The black horses, that is, the Medes and Persians: and after them Alexander and his Greeks, signified by the white horses, went thither because they conquered Babylon, executed upon it the judgments of God, which is signified, ver. 8, by the expression of quieting his spirit. -- Ibid. The land of the south... Egypt, which lay to the south of Jerusalem, and was occupied first by Ptolemeus, and then by the Romans.

6:7. And they that were most strong, went out, and sought to go, and to run to and fro through all the earth. And he said: Go, walk throughout the earth: and they walked throughout the earth.

Qui autem erant robustissimi exierunt et quaerebant ire et discurrere per omnem terram et dixit ite perambulate terram et perambulaverunt terram

6:8. And he called me, and spoke to me, saying: Behold they that go forth into the land of the north, have quieted my spirit in the land of the north.

Et vocavit me et locutus est ad me dicens ecce qui egrediuntur in terram aquilonis requiescere fecerunt spiritum meum in terra aquilonis

6:9. And the word of the Lord came to me, saying:

Et factum est verbum Domini ad me dicens

6:10. Take of them of the captivity, of Holdai, and of Tobias, and of Idaias; thou shalt come in that day, a shalt go into the house of Josias, the son of Sophonias, who came out of Babylon.

Sume a transmigracione ab Oldai et a Tobia et ab Idaia et venies tu in die illa et intrabis domum Iosiae filii Sofoniae qui venerunt de Babylone

6:11. And thou shalt take gold and silver: and shalt make crowns, and thou shalt set them on the head of Jesus the son of Josedec, the high priest.

Et sumes argentum et aurum et facies coronas et pones in capite Iesu filii Iosedech sacerdotis magni

6:12. And thou shalt speak to him, saying: Thus saith the Lord of hosts, saying: BEHOLD A MAN, THE ORIENT IS HIS NAME: and under him shall he spring up, a shall build a temple to the Lord.

Et loqueris ad eum dicens haec ait Dominus exercituum dicens ecce vir Oriens nomen eius et subter eum orietur et aedificabit templum Domino

6:13. Yea, he shall build a temple to the Lord: and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit, and rule upon his throne: and he shall be a priest upon his throne, and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.*

Et ipse extruet templum Domino et ipse portabit gloriam et sedebit et dominabitur super solio suo et erit sacerdos super solio suo et consilium pacis erit inter duos illos

Between them both... That is, he shall unite in himself the two offices or dignities of king and priest.

6:14. And the crowns shall be to Helem, and Tobias, and Idaias, and to Hem, the son of Sophonias, a memorial in the temple of the Lord.

Et coronae erunt Helem et Tobiae et Idaiae et Hen filio Sofoniae memoriale in templo Domini

6:15. And they that are far off, shall come and shall build in the temple of the Lord: and you shall know that the Lord of hosts sent me to you. But this shall come to pass, if hearing you will hear the voice of the Lord your God.

Et qui procul sunt venient et aedificabunt in templo Domini et scietis quia Dominus exercituum misit me ad vos erit autem hoc si auditu audieritis vocem Domini Dei vestri

Zacharias Chapter 7

The people inquire concerning fasting: they are admonished to fast from sin.

---

7:1. And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the Lord came to Zacharias, in the fourth day of the ninth month, which is Casleu.

Et factum est in anno quarto Darii regis factum est verbum Domini ad Zacchariam in quarta mensis noni qui est casleu

7:2. When Sarasar, and Rogommelech, and the men that were with him, sent to the house of God, to entreat the face of the Lord:

Et miserunt ad domum Dei Sarasar et Rogomelech et viri qui erant cum eo ad deprecandam faciem Domini

7:3. To speak to the priests of the house of the Lord of hosts, and to the prophets, saying: Must I weep in the fifth month, or must I sanctify myself as I have now done for many years?*

Ut dicerent sacerdotibus domus Domini exercituum et prophetis loquentes numquid flendum mihi est in mense quinto vel sanctificare me debeo sicuti feci iam multis annis

The fifth month... They fasted on the tenth day of the fifth month; because on that day the temple was burnt. Therefore they inquire whether they are to continue the fast, after the temple is rebuilt. See this query answered in the 19th verse of the following chapter.

7:4. And the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying:

Et factum est verbum Domini exercituum ad me dicens

7:5. Speak to all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying: When you fasted, and mourned in the fifth and the seventh month for these seventy years: did you keep a fast unto me?

Loquere ad omnem populum terrae et ad sacerdotes dicens cum ieunaretis et plangeretis in quinto et septimo per hos septuaginta annos numquid ieunium ieunastis mihi

7:6. And when you did eat and drink, did you not eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves?

Et cum comedistis et cum bibistis numquid non vobis comedistis et vobismet ipsis bibistis

7:7. Are not these the words which the Lord spoke by the hand of the former prophets, when Jerusalem as yet was inhabited, and was wealthy, both itself and the cities round about it, and there were inhabitants towards the south, and in the plain?

Numquid non sunt verba quae locutus est Dominus in manu prophetarum priorum cum adhuc Hierusalem habitaretur et esset opulenta ipsa et urbes in circuitu eius et ad austrum et in campestribus habitaretur

7:8. And the word of the Lord came to Zacharias, saying:

Et factum est verbum Domini ad Zacchariam dicens

7:9. Thus saith the Lord of hosts, saying: Judge ye true judgment, and show ye mercy and compassion every man to his brother.

Haec ait Dominus exercituum dicens iudicium verum iudicate et misericordiam et miserationes facite unusquisque cum fratre suo

7:10. And oppress not the widow, and the fatherless, and the stranger, and the poor: and let not a man devise evil in his heart against his brother.

Et viduam et pupillum et advenam et pauperem nolite calumniari et malum vir fratri suo non cogitet in corde suo

7:11. But they would not hearken, and they turned away the shoulder to depart: and they stopped their ears, not to hear.

Et noluerunt attendere et verterunt scapulam recedentem et aures suas adgravaverunt ne audirent

7:12. And they made their heart as the adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which the Lord of hosts sent in his spirit by the hand of the former prophets: so a great indignation came from Lord of hosts.

Et cor suum posuerunt adamantem ne audirent legem et verba quae misit Dominus exercituum in spiritu suo per manum prophetarum priorum et facta est indignatio magna a Domino exercituum

7:13. And it came to pass that as he spoke, and they heard not: so shall they cry, and I will not hear, saith the Lord of hosts.

Et factum est sicut locutus est et non audierunt sic clamabunt et non exaudiam dicit Dominus exercituum

7:14. And I dispersed them throughout all kingdoms, which they know not: and the land was left desolate behind them, so that no man passed through or returned: and they changed the delightful land into a wilderness.

Et dispersi eos per omnia regna quae nesciunt et terra desolata est ab eis eo quod non esset transiens et revertens et posuerunt terram desiderabilem in desertum

Zacharias Chapter 8

Joyful promises to Jerusalem: fully verified in the church of Christ.

8:1. And the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying:

Et factum est verbum Domini exercituum dicens

8:2. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: I have been jealous for Sion with a great jealousy, and with a great indignation have I been jealous for her.

Haec dicit Dominus exercituum zelatus sum Sion zelo magno et indignatione magna zelatus sum eam

8:3. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: I am returned to Sion, and I will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called The city of truth, and the mountain of the Lord of hosts, The sanctified mountain.

Haec dicit Dominus exercituum reversus sum ad Sion et habitabo in medio Hierusalem et vocabitur Hierusalem civitas veritatis et mons Domini exercituum mons sanctificatus

8:4. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem: and every man with his staff in his hand through multitude of days.

Haec dicit Dominus exercituum adhuc habitabunt senes et anus in plateis Hierusalem et viri baculus in manu eius prae multitudine dierum

8:5. And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls, playing in the streets thereof.

Et plateae civitatis conplebuntur infantibus et puellis ludentibus in plateis eius

8:6. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: If it seem hard in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days: shall it be hard in my eyes, saith the Lord of hosts?

Haec dicit Dominus exercituum si difficile videbitur in oculis reliquiarum populi huius in diebus illis numquid in oculis meis difficile erit dicit Dominus exercituum

8:7. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Behold I will save my people from the land of the east, and from the land of the going down of the sun.

Haec dicit Dominus exercituum ecce ego salvabo populum meum de terra orientis et de terra occasus solis

8:8. And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God in truth and in justice.

Et adducam eos et habitabunt in medio Hierusalem et erunt mihi in populum et ego ero eis in Deum in veritate et iustitia

8:9. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Let your hands be strengthened, you that hear in these days these words by the mouth of the prophets, in the day that the house of the Lord of hosts was founded, that the temple might be built.

Haec dicit Dominus exercituum confortentur manus vestrae qui auditis in diebus his sermones istos per os prophetarum in die qua fundata est domus Domini exercituum ut templum aedificaretur

8:10. For before those days there was no hire for men, neither was there hire for beasts, neither was there peace to him that came in, nor to him that went out, because of the tribulation: and I let all men go every one against his neighbour.

Siquidem ante dies illos merces hominum non erat nec merces iumentorum erat neque introeunti et exeunti erat pax prae tribulatione et dimisi omnes homines unumquemque contra proximum suum

8:11. But now I will not deal with the remnant of this people according to the former days, saith the Lord of hosts.

Nunc autem non iuxta dies priores ego faciam reliquiis populi huius dicit Dominus exercituum

8:12. But there shall be the seed of peace: the vine shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew: and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.

Sed semen pacis erit vinea dabit fructum suum et terra dabit germen suum et caeli dabunt rorem suum et possidere faciam reliquias populi huius universa haec

8:13. And it shall come to pass, that as you were a curse among the Gentiles, O house of Juda, and house of Israel: so will I save you, and you shall be a blessing: fear not, let your hands be strengthened.

Et erit sicut eratis maledictio in gentibus domus Iuda et domus Israhel sic salvabo vos et eritis benedictio nolite timere confortentur manus vestrae

8:14. For thus saith the Lord of hosts: As I purposed to afflict you, when your fathers had provoked me to wrath, saith the Lord,

Quia haec dicit Dominus exercituum sicut cogitavi ut adfligerem vos cum ad iracundiam provocassent patres vestri me dicit Dominus

8:15. And I had no mercy: so turning again I have thought in these days to do good to the house of Juda, and Jerusalem: fear not.

Et non sum misertus sic conversus cogitavi in diebus istis ut benefaciam Hierusalem et domui Iuda nolite timere

8:16. These then are the things, which you shall do: Speak ye truth every one to his neighbour; judge ye truth and judgment of peace in your gates.

Haec sunt ergo verba quae facietis loquimini veritatem unusquisque cum proximo suo veritatem et iudicium pacis iudicate in portis vestris

8:17. And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his friend: and love not a false oath: for all these are the things that I hate, saith the Lord.

Et unusquisque malum contra amicum suum ne cogitetis in cordibus vestris et iuramentum mendax ne diligatis omnia enim haec sunt quae odi dicit Dominus

8:18. And the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying:

Et factum est verbum Domini exercituum ad me dicens

8:19. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth shall be to the house of Juda, joy, and gladness, and great solemnities: only love ye truth and peace.*

Haec dicit Dominus exercituum ieiunium quarti et ieiunium quinti et ieiunium septimi et ieiunium decimi erit domui Iuda in gaudium et in laetitiam et in sollemnitates praeclaras veritatem tantum et pacem diligite

The fast of the fourth month, etc... They fasted, on the ninth day of the fourth month, because on that day Nabuchodonosor took Jerusalem, Jeremias 52:6. On the tenth day of the fifth month, because on that day the temple was burnt, Jeremias 52:12. On the third day of the seventh month, for the murder of Godolias, Jeremias 41:2. And on the tenth day of the tenth month, because on that day the Chaldeans began to besiege Jerusalem, 2 Kings 25.1. All these fasts, if they will be obedient for the future, shall be changed, as is here promised, into joyful solemnities.

8:20. Thus saith the Lord of hosts, until people come and dwell in many cities,

Haec dicit Dominus exercituum usquequo veniant populi et habitent in civitatibus multis

8:21. And the inhabitants go one to another, saying: Let us go, and entreat the face of the Lord, and let us seek the Lord of hosts: I also will go.

Et vadant habitatores unus ad alterum dicentes eamus et deprecemur faciem Domini et quaeramus Dominum exercituum vadam etiam ego

8:22. And many peoples, and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to entreat the face of the Lord.

Et venient populi multi et gentes robustae ad quaerendum Dominum exercituum in Hierusalem et deprecandam faciem Domini

8:23. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: In those days, wherein ten men of all languages of the Gentiles shall take hold, and shall hold fast the skirt of one that is a Jew, saying: We will go with you: for we have heard that God is with you.*

Haec dicit Dominus exercituum in diebus illis in quibus adprehendent decem homines ex omnibus linguis gentium et adprehendent fimbriam viri iudaei dicentes ibimus vobiscum audivimus enim quoniam Deus

vobiscum est

Ten men, etc... Many of the Gentiles became proselytes to the Jewish religion before Christ: but many more were converted to Christ by the apostles and other preachers of the Jewish nation.

Zacharias Chapter 9

God will defend his church, and bring over even her enemies to the faith. The meek coming of Christ, to bring peace, to deliver the captives by his blood, and to give us all good things.

---

9:1. The burden of the word of the Lord in the land of Hadrach, and of Damascus the rest thereof: for the eye of man, and of all the tribes of Israel is the Lord's.*

Onus verbi Domini in terra Adrach et Damasci requiei eius quia Domini est oculus hominis et omnium tribuum Israhel

Hadrach... Syria.

9:2. Emath also in the borders thereof, and Tyre, and Sidon: for they have taken to themselves to be exceeding wise.

Emath quoque in terminis eius et Tyrus et Sidon adsumpserunt quippe sibi sapientiam valde

9:3. And Tyre hath built herself a strong hold, and heaped together silver as earth, and gold as the mire of the streets.

Et aedificavit Tyrus munitionem suam et coacervavit argentum quasi humum et aurum ut lutum platearum

9:4. Behold the Lord shall possess her, and shall strike her strength in the sea, and she shall be devoured with fire.

Ecce Dominus possidebit eam et percutiet in mari fortitudinem eius et haec igni devorabitur

9:5. Ascalon shall see, and shall fear, and Gaza, and shall be very sorrowful: and Accaron, because her hope is confounded: and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ascalon shall not be inhabited.

Videbit Ascalon et timebit et Gaza et dolebit nimis et Accaron quoniam confusa est spes eius et peribit rex de Gaza et Ascalon non habitabitur

9:6. And the divider shall sit in Azotus, and I will destroy the pride of the Philistines.

Et sedebit separator in Azoto et disperdam superbiam Philistinorum

9:7. And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth: and even he shall be left to our God, and he shall be as a governor in Juda, and Accaron as a Jebusite.*

Et auferam sanguinem eius de ore eius et abominationes eius de medio dentium eius et relinquetur etiam ipse Deo nostro et erit quasi dux in Iuda et Accaron quasi Iebuseus

His blood... It is spoken of the Philistines, and particularly of Azotus, (where the temple of Dagon was), and contains a prophecy of the conversion of that people from their bloody sacrifices and abominations to the worship of the true God.

9:8. And I will encompass my house with them that serve me in war, going and returning, and the oppressor shall no more pass through them: for now I have seen with my eyes.*

Et circumdabo domum meam ex his qui militant mihi euntes et revertentes et non transibit super eos ultra exactor quia nunc vidi in oculis meis

That serve me in war... Viz., the Machabees.

9:9. Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Sion, shout for joy, O daughter of Jerusalem: BEHOLD THY KING will come to thee, the just and saviour: he is poor, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt, the foal of an ass.

Exulta satis filia Sion iubila filia Hierusalem ecce rex tuus veniet tibi iustus et salvator ipse pauper et ascendens super asinum et super pullum filium asinae

9:10. And I will destroy the chariot out of Ephraim, and the horse out of Jerusalem, and the bow for war shall be broken: and he shall speak peace to the Gentiles, and his power shall be from sea to sea, and from the rivers even to the end of the earth.

Et disperdam quadrigam ex Ephraim et equum de Hierusalem et dissipabitur arcus belli et loquetur pacem gentibus et potestas eius a mari usque ad mare et a fluminibus usque ad fines terrae

9:11. Thou also by the blood of thy testament hast sent forth thy prisoners out of the pit, wherein is no water.

Tu quoque in sanguine testamenti tui emisisti vinctos tuos de lacu in quo non est aqua

9:12. Return to the strong hold, ye prisoners of hope, I will render thee double as I declare today.

Convertimini ad munitionem vincti spei hodie quoque adnuntians duplicita reddam tibi

9:13. Because I have bent Juda for me as a bow, I have filled Ephraim: and I will raise up thy sons, O Sion, above thy sons, O Greece, and I will make thee as the sword of the mighty. *

Quoniam extendi mihi Iudam quasi arcum implevi Ephraim et suscitabo filios tuos Sion super filios tuos Graecia et ponam te quasi gladium fortium

Thy sons, O Sion, etc... Viz., the apostles, who, in the spiritual way, conquered the Greeks, and subdued them to Christ.

9:14. And the Lord God shall be seen over them, and his dart shall go forth as lightning: and the Lord God will sound the trumpet, and go in the whirlwind of the south.

Et Dominus Deus super eos videbitur et exibat ut fulgur iaculum eius et Dominus Deus in tuba canet et vadet in turbine austri

9:15. The Lord of hosts will protect them: and they shall devour, and subdue with the stones of the sling: and drinking they shall be inebriated as it were with wine, and they shall be filled as bowls, and as the horns of the altar.

Dominus exercituum proteget eos et devorabunt et subicient lapidibus fundae et bibentes inebriabuntur quasi vino et replebuntur ut fialae et quasi cornua altaris

9:16. And the Lord their God will save them in that day, as the flock of his people: for holy stones shall be lifted up over his land. *

Et salvabit eos Dominus Deus eorum in die illa ut gregem populi sui quia lapides sancti elevantur super terram eius

Holy stones... The apostles, who shall be as pillars and monuments in the church.

9:17. For what is the good thing of him, and what is his beautiful thing, but the corn of the elect, and wine springing forth virgins? *

Quid enim bonum eius est et quid pulchrum eius nisi frumentum electorum et vinum germinans virgines

The corn, etc... His most excellent gift is the blessed Eucharist, called here The corn, that is, the bread of the elect, and the wine springing forth virgins; that is, maketh virgins to bud, or spring forth, as it were, like flowers among thorns; because it has a wonderful efficacy to give and preserve purity.

Zacharias Chapter 10

God is to be sought to, and not idols. The victories of his church, which shall arise originally from the Jewish nation.

---

10:1. Ask ye of the Lord rain in the latter season, and the Lord will make snows, and will give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field.

Petite a Domino pluviam in tempore serotino et Dominus faciet nives et pluviam imbris dabit eis singulis herbam in agro

10:2. For the idols have spoken what was unprofitable, and the diviners have seen a lie, and the dreamers have spoken vanity: they comforted in vain: therefore they were led away as a flock: they shall be afflicted, because they have no shepherd.

Quia simulacra locuta sunt inutile et divini viderunt mendacium et somniatores frustra locuti sunt vane consolabantur idcirco abducti sunt quasi grex adfligentur quia non est eis pastor

10:3. My wrath is kindled against the shepherds, and I will visit upon the buck goats: for the Lord of hosts hath visited his flock, the house of Juda, and hath made them as the horse of his glory in the battle.

Super pastores iratus est furor meus et super hircos visitabo quia visitavit Dominus exercituum gregem suum domum Iuda et posuit eos quasi equum gloriae suae in bello

10:4. Out of him shall come forth the corner, out of him the pin, out of him the bow of battle, out of him ever exacter together.

Ex ipso angulus ex ipso paxillus ex ipso arcus proelii ex ipso egredietur omnis exactor simul

10:5. And they shall be as mighty men, treading under foot the mire of the ways in battle: and they shall fight, because the Lord is with them, and the riders of horses shall be confounded.

Et erunt quasi fortes conculcantes lutum viarum in proelio et bellabunt quia Dominus cum eis et confundentur ascensores equorum

10:6. And I will strengthen the house of Juda, and save the house of Joseph: and I will bring them back again, because I will have mercy on them: and they shall be as they were when I had not cast them off, for I am the Lord their God, and will hear them.

Et confortabo domum Iuda et domum Ioseph salvabo et convertam eos quia miserebor eorum et erunt sicut fuerunt quando non proieceram eos ego enim Dominus Deus eorum et exaudiam eos

10:7. And they shall be as the valiant men of Ephraim, and their heart shall rejoice as through wine: and their children shall see, and shall rejoice, and their heart shall be joyful in the Lord.

Et erunt quasi fortes Ephraim et laetabitur cor eorum quasi a vino et filii eorum videbunt et laetabuntur et exultabit cor eorum in Domino

10:8. I will whistle for them, and I will gather them together, because I have redeemed them: and I will multiply them as they were multiplied before.

Sibilabo eis et congregabo illos quia redemi eos et multiplicabo eos sicut ante fuerant multiplicati

10:9. And I will sow them among peoples: and from afar they shall remember me: and they shall live with their children, and shall return.

Et seminabo eos in populis et de longe recordabuntur mei et vivent cum filiis suis et revertentur

10:10. And I will bring them back out of the land of Egypt, and I will gather them from among the Assyrians: and will bring them to the land of Galaad, and Libanus, and place shall not be found for them.

Et reducam eos de terra Aegypti et de Assyriis congregabo eos et ad terram Galaad et Libani adducam eos et non inveniatur eis locus

10:11. And he shall pass over the strait of the sea, and shall strike the waves in the sea, and all the depths of the river shall be confounded, and the pride of Assyria shall be humbled, and the sceptre of Egypt shall depart.

Et transibit in maris freto et percutiet in mari fluctus et confundentur omnia profunda Fluminis et humiliabitur superbia Assur et sceptrum Aegypti recedet

10:12. I will strengthen them in the Lord, and they shall walk in his name, saith the Lord.

Confortabo eos in Domino et in nomine eius ambulabunt dicit Dominus

Zacharias Chapter 11

The destruction of Jerusalem and the temple. God's dealings with the Jews, and their reprobation.

---

11:1. Open thy gates, O Libanus, and let fire devour thy cedars. *

Aperi Libane portas tuas et comedat ignis cedros tuas

O Libanus... So Jerusalem, and more particularly the temple, is called by the prophets, from its height, and from its being built of the cedars of Libanus. -- Ibid. Thy cedars... Thy princes and chief men.

11:2. Howl, thou fir tree, for the cedar is fallen, for the mighty are laid waste: howl, ye oaks of Basan, because the fenced forest is cut down.

Ulula abies quia cecidit cedrus quoniam magnifici vastati sunt ululate quercus Basan quoniam succisus est saltus munitus

11:3. The voice of the howling of the shepherds, because their glory is laid waste: the voice of the roaring of the lions, because the pride of the Jordan is spoiled.

Vox ululatus pastorum quia vastata est magnificentia eorum vox rugitus leonum quoniam vastata est superbia Iordanis

11:4. Thus saith the Lord my God: Feed the flock of the slaughter,

Haec dicit Dominus Deus meus pasce pecora occisionis

11:5. Which they that possessed, slew, and repented not, and they sold them, saying: Blessed be the Lord, we are become rich: and their shepherds spared them not.

Quae qui possederant occidebant et non dolebant et vendebant ea dicentes benedictus Dominus divites facti sumus et pastores eorum non parcebant eis

11:6. And I will no more spare the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord: behold I will deliver the men, every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall destroy the land, and I will not deliver it out of their hand. *

Et ego non parcam ultra super habitantes terram dicit Dominus ecce ego tradam homines unumquemque in manu proximi sui et in manu regis sui et concident terram et non eruam de manu eorum

Every one into his neighbour's hand, etc... This alludes to the last siege of Jerusalem, in which the different factions of the Jews destroyed one another: and they that remained fell into the hands of their king, that is, of the Roman emperor, of whom they had said, John 19.15, we have no king but Caesar.

11:7. And I will feed the flock of slaughter for this, O ye poor of the flock. And I took unto me two rods, one I called Beauty, and the other I called a Cord, and I fed the flock. *

Et pascam pecus occisionis propter hoc o pauperes gregis et adsumpsi mihi duas virgas unam vocavi Decorem et alteram vocavi Funiculos et pavi gregem

Two rods... Or shepherd's staves, meaning the different ways of God's dealing with his people; the one, by sweet means, called the rod of Beauty: the other, by bands and punishments, called the Cord. And where both these rods are made of no use or effect by the obstinacy of sinners, the rods are broken, and such sinners are given up to a reprobate sense, as the Jews were.

11:8. And I cut off three shepherds in one month, and my soul was straitened in their regard: for their soul also varied in my regard. *

Et succidi tres pastores in mense uno et contracta est anima mea in eis siquidem anima eorum variavit in me

Three shepherds in one month... That is, in a very short time. By these three shepherds probably are meant the latter princes and high priests of the Jews, whose reign was short.

11:9. And I said: I will not feed you: that which dieth, let it die: and that which is cut off, let it be cut off: and let the rest devour every one the flesh of his neighbour.

Et dixi non pascam vos quod moritur moriatur et quod succiditur succidatur et reliqui vorent unusquisque carnem proximi sui

11:10. And I took my rod that was called Beauty, and I cut it asunder to make void my covenant, which I had made with all people.

Et tuli virgam meam quae vocabatur Decus et abscidi eam ut irritum facerem foedus meum quod percussi cum omnibus populis

11:11. And it was made void in that day: and so the poor of the flock that keep for me, understood that it is the word of the Lord.

Et in irritum deductum est in die illa et cognoverunt sic pauperes gregis qui custodiunt mihi quia verbum Domini est

11:12. And I said to them: If it be good in your eyes, bring hither my wages: and if not, be quiet. And they weighed for my wages thirty pieces of silver.

Et dixi ad eos si bonum est in oculis vestris adferte mercedem meam et si non quiescite et adpenderunt mercedem meam triginta argenteos

11:13. And the Lord said to me: Cast it to the statuary, a handsome price, that I was prized at by them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and I cast them into the house of the Lord to the statuary.*

Et dixit Dominus ad me proice illud ad statuarium decorum pretium quod adpretiatus sum ab eis et tuli triginta argenteos et proieci illos in domo Domini ad statuarium

The statuary... The Hebrew word signifies also a potter.

11:14. And I cut off my second rod that was called a Cord, that I might break the brotherhood between Juda and Israel.

Et praecidi virgam meam secundam quae appellabatur Funiculus ut dissolverem germanitatem inter Iudam et inter Israhel

11:15. And the Lord said to me: Take to thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.*

Et dixit Dominus ad me adhuc sume tibi vasa pastoris stulti

A foolish shepherd... This was to represent the foolish, that is, the wicked princes and priests that should rule the people, before their utter desolation.

11:16. For behold I will raise up a shepherd in the land, who shall not visit what is forsaken, nor seek what is scattered, nor heal what is broken, nor nourish that which standeth, and he shall eat the flesh of the fat ones, and break their hoofs.

Quia ecce ego suscitabo pastorem in terra qui derelicta non visitabit dispersum non quaeret et contritum non sanabit et id quod stat non enutriet et carnes pinguium comedet et ungulas eorum dissolvat

11:17. O shepherd, and idol, that forsaketh the flock: the sword upon his arm and upon his right eye: his arm shall quite wither away, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

O pastor et idolum derelinquens gregem gladius super brachium eius et super oculum dextrum eius brachium eius ariditate siccabitur et oculus dexter eius tenebrescens obscurabitur

Zacharias Chapter 12

God shall protect his church against her persecutors. The mourning of Jerusalem.

---

12:1. The burden of the word of the Lord upon Israel. Thus saith the Lord, who stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundations of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man in him:

Onus verbi Domini super Israhel dixit Dominus extendens caelum et fundans terram et fingens spiritum hominis in eo

12:2. Behold I will make Jerusalem a lintel of surfeiting to all the people round about: and Juda also shall be in the siege against Jerusalem.*

Ecce ego ponam Hierusalem superliminare crapulae omnibus populis in circuitu sed et Iuda erit in obsidione contra Hierusalem

A lintel of surfeiting... That is, a door into which they shall seek to enter, to glut themselves with blood; but they shall stumble, and fall like men stupefied with wine. It seems to allude to the times of Antiochus, and to the victories of the Machabees.

12:3. And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will make Jerusalem a burdensome stone to all people: all that shall lift it up shall be rent and torn, and all the kingdoms of the earth shall be gathered together against her.

Et erit in die illa ponam Hierusalem lapidem oneris cunctis populis omnes qui levabunt eam concisione lacerabuntur et colligentur adversum eam omnia regna terrae

12:4. In that day, saith the Lord, I will strike every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness: and I will open my eyes upon the house of Juda, and will strike every horse of the nations with blindness.

In die illa dicit Dominus percutiam omnem equum in stuporem et ascensorem eius in amentiam et super domum Iuda aperiam oculos meos et omnem equum populorum percutiam in caecitate

12:5. And the governors of Juda shall say in their heart: Let the inhabitants of Jerusalem be strengthened for me in the Lord of hosts, their God.

Et dicent duces Iuda in corde suo confortentur mihi habitatores Hierusalem in Domino exercituum Deo eorum

12:6. In that day I will make the governors of Juda like a furnace of fire amongst wood, and as a firebrand amongst hay: and they shall devour all the people round about, to the right hand, and to the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place in Jerusalem.

In die illo ponam duces Iuda sicut caminum ignis in lignis et sicut facem ignis in faeno et devorabunt ad dextram et ad sinistram omnes populos in circuitu et habitabitur Hierusalem rursus in loco suo in Hierusalem

12:7. And the Lord shall save the tabernacles of Juda, as in the beginning: that the house of David, and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, may not boast and magnify themselves against Juda.

Et salvabit Dominus tabernacula Iuda sicut in principio ut non magnifice gloriatur domus David et gloria habitantium Hierusalem contra Iudam

12:8. In that day shall the Lord protect the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and he that hath offended among them in that day shall be as David: and the house of David, as that of God, as an angel of the Lord in their sight.

In die illo proteget Dominus habitatores Hierusalem et erit qui offenderit ex eis in die illa quasi David et domus David quasi Dei sicut angelus Domini in conspectu eius

12:9. And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

Et erit in die illa quaeram contere omnes gentes quae veniunt contra Hierusalem

12:10. And I will pour out upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace, and of prayers: and they shall look upon me, whom they have pierced: and they shall mourn for him as one mourneth for an only son, and they shall grieve over him, as the manner is to grieve for the death of the firstborn.

Et effundam super domum David et super habitatores Hierusalem spiritum gratiae et precum et aspicient ad me quem confixerunt et plangent eum planctu quasi super unigenitum et dolebunt super eum ut doleri solet in morte primogeniti

12:11. In that day there shall be a great lamentation in Jerusalem like the lamentation of Adadremmon in the plain of Mageddon. *

In die illa magnus erit planctus in Hierusalem sicut planctus Adadremmon in campo Mageddon

Adadremmon... A place near Mageddon, where the good king Josias was slain, and much lamented by his people.

12:12. And the land shall mourn: families and families apart: the families of the house of David apart, and their women apart:

Et planget terra familiae et familiae seorsum familiae domus David seorsum et mulieres eorum seorsum

12:13. The families of the house of Nathan apart, and their women apart: the families of the house of Levi apart, and their women apart: the families of Semei apart, and their women apart.

Familiae domus Nathan seorsum et mulieres eorum seorsum familiae domus Levi seorsum et mulieres eorum seorsum familiae Semei seorsum et mulieres eorum seorsum

12:14. All the rest of the families, families and families apart, and their women apart.

Omnes familiae reliquae familiae et familiae seorsum et mulieres eorum seorsum

Zacharias Chapter 13

The fountain of Christ. Idols and false prophets shall be extirpated: Christ shall suffer: his people shall be tried by fire.

---

13:1. In that day there shall be a fountain open to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem: for the washing of the sinner, and of the unclean woman.

In die illa erit fons patens domus David et habitantibus Hierusalem in ablutionem peccatoris et menstruatæ

13:2. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, that I will destroy the names of idols out of the earth, and they shall be remembered no more: and I will take away the false prophets, and the unclean spirit out of the earth.

Et erit in die illa dicit Dominus exercituum disperdam nomina idolorum de terra et non memorabuntur ultra et prophetas et spiritum immundum auferam de terra

13:3. And it shall come to pass, that when any man shall prophesy any more, his father and his mother that brought him into the world, shall say to him: Thou shalt not live: because thou hast spoken a lie in the name of the Lord. And his father, and his mother, his parents, shall thrust him through, when he shall prophesy.

Et erit cum prophetaverit quispiam ultra dicent ei pater eius et mater eius qui genuerunt eum non vives quia mendacium locutus es in nomine Domini et configent eum pater eius et mater eius genitores eius cum prophetaverit

13:4. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be confounded, every one by his own vision, when he shall prophesy, neither shall they be clad with a garment of sackcloth, to deceive:

Et erit in die illa confundentur prophetae unusquisque ex visione sua cum prophetaverit nec operientur pallio saccino ut mentiantur

13:5. But he shall say: I am no prophet, I am a husbandman: for Adam is my example from my youth.

Sed dicet non sum propheta homo agricola ego sum quoniam Adam exemplum meum ab adolescentia mea

13:6. And they shall say to him: What are these wounds in the midst of thy hands? And he shall say: With these I was wounded in the house of them that loved me.

Et dicetur ei quid sunt plagæ istæ in medio manuum tuarum et dicet his plagatus sum in domo eorum qui diligebant me

13:7. Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that cleaveth to me, saith the Lord of hosts: strike the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turn my hand to the little ones.

Framea suscitare super pastorem meum et super virum coherentem mihi dicit Dominus exercituum percute pastorem et dispergantur oves et convertam manum meam ad parvulos

13:8. And there shall be in all the earth, saith the Lord, two parts in it shall be scattered, and shall perish: but the third part shall be left therein.

Et erunt in omni terra dicit Dominus partes duæ in ea disperdentur et deficient et tertia pars relinquetur in ea

13:9. And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined: and I will try them as gold is tried. They shall call on my name, and I will hear them. I will say: Thou art my people: and they shall say: The Lord is my God.

Et ducam tertiam partem per ignem et uram eas sicut uritur argentum et probabo eos sicut probatur aurum ipse vocabit nomen meum et ego exaudiam eum dicam populus meus es et ipse dicit Dominus Deus meus

Zacharias Chapter 14

After the persecutions of the church shall follow great prosperity. Persecutors shall be punished: so shall all that will not serve God in his church.

---

14:1. Behold the days of the Lord shall come, and thy spoils shall be divided in the midst of thee.
 Ecce dies veniunt Domini et dividentur spolia tua in medio tui

14:2. And I will gather all nations to Jerusalem to battle, and the city shall be taken, and the houses shall be rifled, and the women shall be defiled: and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the rest of the people shall not be taken away out of the city. *

Et congregabo omnes gentes ad Hierusalem in proelium et capietur civitas et vastabuntur domus et mulieres violabuntur et egredietur media pars civitatis in captivitatem et reliquum populi non auferetur ex urbe

I will gather, etc... This seems to be a prophecy of what was done by Antiochus.

14:3. Then the Lord shall go forth, and shall fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

Et egredietur Dominus et proeliabitur contra gentes illas sicut proelatus est in die certaminis

14:4. And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is over against Jerusalem towards the east: and the mount of Olives shall be divided in the midst thereof to the east, and to the west with a very great opening, and half of the mountain shall be separated to the north, and half thereof to the south.

Et stabunt pedes eius in die illa super montem Olivarum qui est contra Hierusalem ad orientem et scindetur mons Olivarum ex media parte sui ad orientem et occidentem praerupto grandi valde et separabitur medium montis ad aquilonem et medium eius ad meridiem

14:5. And you shall flee to the valley of those mountains, for the valley of the mountains shall be joined even to the next, and you shall flee as you fled from the face of the earthquake in the days of Ozias king of Juda: and the Lord my God shall come, and all the saints with him.

Et fugietis ad vallem montium meorum quoniam coniungetur vallis montium usque ad proximum et fugietis sicut fugistis a facie terraemotus in diebus Oziae regis Iuda et veniet Dominus Deus meus omnesque sancti cum eo

14:6. And it shall come to pass in that day, that there shall be no light, but cold and frost. *

Et erit in die illa non erit lux sed frigus et gelu

No light... Viz., in that dismal time of persecution of Antiochus, when it was neither day nor night: (ver. 7) because they neither had the comfortable light of the day, nor the repose of the night.

14:7. And there shall be one day, which is known to the Lord, not day nor night: and in the time of the evening there shall be light: *

Et erit dies una quae nota est Domino non dies neque nox et in tempore vesperae erit lux

In the time of the evening there shall be light... An unexpected light shall arise by the means of the Machabees, when things shall seem to be at the worst.

14:8. And it shall come to pass in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem: half of them to the east sea, and half of them to the last sea: they shall be in summer and in winter. *

Et erit in die illa exhibunt aquae vivae de Hierusalem medium earum ad mare orientale et medium earum ad mare novissimum in aestate et in hieme erunt

Living waters... Viz., the gospel of Christ.

14:9. And the Lord shall be king over all the earth: in that day there shall be one Lord, and his name shall be one.

Et erit Dominus rex super omnem terram in die illa erit Dominus unus et erit nomen eius unum

14:10. And all the land shall return even to the desert, from the hill to Remmon to the south of Jerusalem: and she shall be exalted, and shall dwell in her own place, from the gate of Benjamin even to the place of the former gate, and even to the gate of the corners: and from the tower of Hananeel even to the king's winepresses. *

Et revertetur omnis terra usque ad desertum de colle Remmon ad austrum Hierusalem et exaltabitur et habitabit in loco suo a porta Benjamin usque ad locum portae Prioris usque ad portam Angulorum et a turre Ananehel usque ad torcularia regis

All the land shall return, etc... This, in some measure, was verified by the means of the Machabees: but is rather to be taken in a spiritual sense, as relating to the propagation of the church, and kingdom of Christ, the true Jerusalem, which alone shall never fall under the anathema of destruction, or God's curse.

14:11. And people shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more an anathema: but Jerusalem shall sit secure.

Et habitabunt in ea et anathema non erit amplius sed sedebit Hierusalem segura

14:12. And this shall be the plague wherewith the Lord shall strike all nations that have fought against Jerusalem: the flesh of every one shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth. *

Et haec erit plaga qua percutiet Dominus omnes gentes quae pugnaverunt adversus Hierusalem tabescet caro uniuscuiusque stantis super pedes suos et oculi eius contabescent in foraminibus suis et lingua eorum contabescent in ore suo

The flesh of every one shall consume, etc... Such judgments as these have often fallen upon the persecutors of God's church, as appears by many instances in history.

14:13. In that day there shall be a great tumult from the Lord among them: and a man shall take the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall be clasped upon his neighbour's hand.

In die illo erit tumultus Domini magnus in eis et adprehendet vir manum proximi sui et conseretur manus eius super manum proximi sui

14:14. And even Juda shall fight against Jerusalem: and the riches of all nations round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and garments in great abundance. *

Sed et Iudas pugnabit adversus Hierusalem et congregabuntur divitiae omnium gentium in circuitu aurum et argentum et vestes multae satis

Even Juda, etc... The carnal Jews, and other false brothers, shall join in persecuting the church.

14:15. And the destruction of the horse, and of the mule, and of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts, that shall be in those tents, shall be like this destruction. *

Et sic erit ruina equi et muli cameli et asini et omnium iumentorum quae fuerint in castris illis sicut ruina haec

Shall be like this destruction... That is, the beasts shall be destroyed as well as the men: the common soldiers as well as their leaders.

14:16. And all they that shall be left of all nations that came against Jerusalem, shall go up from year to year, to adore the King, the Lord of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles. *

Et omnes qui reliqui fuerint de universis gentibus quae venerint contra Hierusalem ascendent ab anno in annum ut adorent regem Dominum exercituum et celebrent festivitatem tabernaculorum

They that shall be left, etc... That is, many of them that persecuted the church shall be converted to its faith and communion. -- Ibid. To keep the feast of tabernacles... This feast was kept by the Jews in memory of their sojourning forty years in the desert, in their way to the land of promise. And in the spiritual sense is duly kept by all such Christians as in their earthly pilgrimage are continually advancing toward their true home, the heavenly Jerusalem: by the help of the sacraments and sacrifice of the church. And they that neglect this must not look for the kind showers of divine grace, to give fruitfulness to their souls.

14:17. And it shall come to pass, that he that shall not go up of the families of the land to Jerusalem, to adore the King, the Lord of hosts, there shall be no rain upon them.

Et erit qui non ascenderit de familiis terrae ad Hierusalem ut adoret regem Dominum exercituum non erit super eos imber

14:18. And if the family of Egypt go not up nor come: neither shall it be upon them, but there shall be destruction wherewith the Lord will strike all nations that will not go up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

Quod si et familia Aegypti non ascenderit et non venerit nec super eos erit sed erit ruina qua percutiet Dominus omnes gentes quae non ascenderint ad celebrandam festivitatem tabernaculorum

14:19. This shall be the sin of Egypt, and this the sin of all nations, that will not go up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

Hoc erit peccatum Aegypti et hoc peccatum omnium gentium quae non ascenderint ad celebrandam festivitatem tabernaculorum

14:20. In that day that which is upon the bridle of the horse shall be holy to the Lord: and the caldrons in the house of the Lord shall be as the phials before the altar. *

In die illo erit quod super frenum equi est sanctum Domino et erunt lebetes in domo Domini quasi fialae coram altari

That which is upon the bridle, etc... The golden ornaments of the bridles, etc., shall be turned into offerings in the house of God. And there shall be an abundance of caldrons and phials for the sacrifices of the temple; by which is meant, under a figure, the great resort there shall be to the temple, that is, to the church of Christ, and her sacrifice.

14:21. And every caldron in Jerusalem and Juda shall be sanctified to the Lord of hosts: and all that sacrifice shall come, and take of them, and shall seethe in them: and the merchant shall be no more in the house of the Lord of hosts in that day. *

Et erit omnis lebes in Hierusalem et in Iuda sanctificatus Domino exercituum et venient omnes immolantes et sument ex eis et coquent in eis et non erit mercator ultra in domo Domini exercituum in die illo

The merchant shall be no more, etc... Or, as some render it, The Chanaanite shall be no more, etc., that is, the profane and unbelievers shall have no title to be in the house of the Lord. Or there shall be no occasion for buyers or sellers of oxen, or sheep, or doves, in the house of God, such as Jesus Christ cast out of the temple.

Sophonias

The Prophecy of Sophonias, also called Zephaniah

---

SOPHONIAS, whose name, saith St. Jerome, signifies The Watchman of the Lord, or The hidden of the Lord, prophesied in the beginning of the reign of Josias. He was a native of Sarabatha, and of the tribe of Simeon, according to the more general opinion. He prophesied the punishments of the Jews, for their idolatry and other crimes; also the punishments that were to come on divers nations; the coming of Christ, the conversion of the Gentiles, the blindness of the Jews, and their conversion towards the end of the world. (For more information, see the article SOPHONIAS in the Catholic Encyclopedia.)

Sophonias Chapter 1. For divers enormous sins, the kingdom of Juda is threatened with severe judgment.

Sophonias Chapter 2. An exhortation to repentance. The judgment of the Philistines, of the Moabites, and the Ammonites; of the Ethiopians and the Assyrians.

Sophonias Chapter 3. A woe to Jerusalem for her sins. A prophecy of the conversion of the Gentiles, and of the poor of Israel: God shall be with them. The Jews shall be converted at last.

Sophonias Chapter 1

For divers enormous sins, the kingdom of Juda is threatened with severe judgment.

---

1:1. The word of the Lord that came to Sophonias the son of Chusi, the son of Godolias, the son of Amarias, the son of Ezechias, in the days of Josias, the son of Amon king of Juda.

Verbum Domini quod factum est ad Sofoniam filium Chusi filium Godoliae filii Amariae filii Ezechiae in diebus Iosiae filii Amon regis Iuda

1:2. Gathering, I will gather together all things from off the face of the land, saith the Lord: *

Congregans congregabo omnia a facie terrae dicit Dominus

Gathering, I will gather, etc... That is, I will assuredly take away, and wholly consume, either by captivity, or death, both men and beasts out of this land.

1:3. I will gather man, and beast, I will gather the birds of the air, and the fishes of the sea: and the ungodly shall meet with ruin: and I will destroy men from off the face of the land, saith the Lord.

Congregans hominem et pecus congregans volatile caeli et pisces maris et ruinae impiorum erunt et disperdam homines a facie terrae dicit Dominus

1:4. And I will stretch out my hand upon Juda, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem: and I will destroy out of this place the remnant of Baal, and the names of the wardens of the temples with the priests: *

Et extendam manum meam super Iudam et super omnes habitantes Hierusalem et disperdam de loco hoc reliquias Baal et nomina aedituorum cum sacerdotibus

The wardens, etc... Viz., of the temples of the idols. Aedituos, in Hebrew, the Chemarims, that is, such as kindle the fires, or burn incense.

1:5. And them that worship the host of heaven upon the tops of houses, and them that adore, and swear by the Lord, and swear by Melchom. *

Et eos qui adorant super tecta militiam caeli et adorant et iurant in Domino et iurant in Melchom

Melchom... The idol of the Ammonites.

1:6. And them that turn away from following after the Lord, and that have not sought the Lord, nor searched after him.

Et qui avertuntur de post tergum Domini et qui non quaesierunt Dominum nec investigaverunt eum

1:7. Be silent before the face of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is near, for the Lord hath prepared a victim, he hath sanctified his guests.

Silete a facie Domini Dei quia iuxta est dies Domini quia praeparavit Dominus hostiam sanctificavit vocatos suos

1:8. And it shall come to pass in the day of the victim of the Lord, that I will visit upon the princes, and upon the king's sons, and upon all such as are clothed with strange apparel:

Et erit in die hostiae Domini visitabo super principes et super filios regis et super omnes qui induti sunt veste peregrina

1:9. And I will visit in that day upon every one that entereth arrogantly over the threshold: them that fill the house of the Lord their God with iniquity and deceit.

Et visitabo omnem qui arroganter ingreditur super limen in die illa qui conplent domum Domini Dei sui iniquitate et dolo

1:10. And there shall be in that day, saith the Lord, the noise of a cry from the fish gate, and a howling from the Second, and a great destruction from the hills. *

Et erit in die illa dicit Dominus vox clamoris a porta Piscium et ululatus a secunda et contritio magna a collibus

The Second... A part of the city so called.

1:11. Howl, ye inhabitants of the Morter. All the people of Chanaan is hush, all are cut off that were wrapped up in silver. *

Ululate habitatores pilae conticuit omnis populus Chanaan disperierunt omnes involuti argento

The Morter... Maktesh. A valley in or near Jerusalem. Ibid. The people of Chanaan... So he calls the Jews, from their following the wicked ways of the Chanaanites.

1:12. And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with lamps, and will visit upon the men that are settled on their lees: that say in their hearts: The Lord will not do good, nor will he do evil. *

Et erit in tempore illo scrutabor Hierusalem in lucernis et visitabo super viros defixos in fecibus suis qui dicunt in cordibus suis non faciet bene Dominus et non faciet male

Settled on their lees... That is, the wealthy, and such as live at their ease, resting upon their riches, like wine upon the lees.

1:13. And their strength shall become a booty, and their houses as a desert: and they shall build houses, and shall not dwell in them: and they shall plant vineyards, and shall not drink the wine of them.

Et erit fortitudo eorum in direptionem et domus eorum in desertum et aedificabunt domos et non habitabunt et plantabunt vineas et non bibent vinum earum

1:14. The great day of the Lord is near, it is near and exceeding swift: the voice of the day of the Lord is bitter, the mighty man shall there meet with tribulation.

Iuxta est dies Domini magnus iuxta et velox nimis vox diei Domini amara tribulabitur ibi fortis

1:15. That day is a day of wrath, a day of tribulation and distress, a day of calamity and misery, a day of darkness and obscurity, a day of clouds and whirlwinds,

Dies irae dies illa dies tribulationis et angustiae dies calamitatis et miseriae dies tenebrarum et caliginis dies nebulae et turbis

1:16. A day of the trumpet and alarm against the fenced cities, and against the high bulwarks.

Dies tubae et clangoris super civitates munitas et super angulos excelsos

1:17. And I will distress men, and they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the Lord: and their blood shall be poured out as earth, and their bodies as dung.

Et tribulabo homines et ambulabunt ut caeci quia Domino peccaverunt et effundetur sanguis eorum sicut humus et corpus eorum sicut stercora

1:18. Neither shall their silver and their gold be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: all the land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make even a speedy destruction of all them that dwell in the land.

Sed et argentum eorum et aurum eorum non poterit liberare eos in die irae Domini in igne zeli eius devorabitur omnis terra quia consummationem cum festinatione faciet cunctis habitantibus terram

Sophonias Chapter 2

An exhortation to repentance. The judgment of the Philistines, of the Moabites, and the Ammonites; of the Ethiopians and the Assyrians.

---

2:1. Assemble yourselves together, be gathered together, O nation not worthy to be loved:
Convenite congregamini gens non amabilis

2:2. Before the decree bring forth the day as dust passing away, before the fierce anger of the Lord come upon you, before the day of the Lord's indignation come upon you.
Priusquam pariat iussio quasi pulverem transeuntem diem antequam veniat super vos ira furoris Domini antequam veniat super vos dies furoris Domini

2:3. Seek the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, you that have wrought his judgment: seek the just, seek the meek: if by any means you may be hid in the day of the Lord's indignation.
Quaerite Dominum omnes mansueti terrae qui iudicium eius estis operati quaerite iustum quaerite mansuetum si quo modo abscondamini in die furoris Domini

2:4. For Gaza shall be destroyed, and Ascalon shall be a desert, they shall cast out Azotus at noonday, and Accaron shall be rooted up.
Quia Gaza destructa erit et Ascalon in desertum Azotum in meridie eicient et Accaron eradicabitur

2:5. Woe to you that inhabit the sea coast, O nation of reprobates: the word of the Lord upon you, O Chanaan, the land of the Philistines, and I will destroy thee, so that there shall not be an inhabitant.
Vae qui habitatis funiculum maris gens perditorum verbum Domini super vos Chanaan terra Philisthinorum et disperdam te ita ut non sit inhabitator

2:6. And the sea coast shall be the resting place of shepherds, and folds for cattle:
Et erit funiculus maris requies pastorum et caulae pecorum

2:7. And it shall be the portion of him that shall remain of the house of Juda, there they shall feed: in the houses of Ascalon they shall rest in the evening: because the Lord their God will visit them, and bring back their captivity.
Et erit funiculus eius qui remanserit de domo Iuda ibi pascentur in domibus Ascalonis ad vesperam requiescent quia visitabit eos Dominus Deus eorum et avertet captivitatem eorum

2:8. I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the blasphemies of the children of Ammon, with which they reproached my people, and have magnified themselves upon their borders.
Audi obprobrium Moab et blasphemias filiorum Ammon quae exprobraverunt populo meo et magnificati sunt super terminos eorum

2:9. Therefore as I live, saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrha, the dryness of thorns, and heaps of salt, and a desert even for ever: the remnant of my people shall make a spoil of them, and the residue of my nation shall possess them.
Propterea vivo ego dicit Dominus exercituum Deus Israhel quia Moab ut Sodoma erit et filii Ammon quasi Gomorra siccitas spinarum et acervi salis et desertum usque in aeternum reliquiae populi mei diripient illos residui gentis meae possidebunt eos

2:10. This shall befall them for their pride: because they have blasphemed, and have been magnified against the people of the Lord of hosts.
Hoc eis eveniet pro superbia sua quia blasphemaverunt et magnificati sunt super populum Domini exercituum

2:11. The Lord shall be terrible upon them, and shall consume all the gods of the earth: and they shall adore him every man from his own place, all the islands of the Gentiles.

Horribilis Dominus super eos et adtenuabit omnes deos terrae et adorabunt eum vir de loco suo omnes insulae gentium

2:12. You Ethiopians, also shall be slain with my sword.

Sed et vos Aethiopes interfecti gladio meo eritis

2:13. And he will stretch out his hand upon the north, and will destroy Assyria: and he will make the beautiful city a wilderness, and as a place not passable, and as a desert.*

Et extendet manum suam super aquilonem et perdet Assur et ponet speciosam in solitudinem et in invium et quasi desertum

The beautiful city, viz... Ninive, which was destroyed soon after this, viz., in the sixteenth year of the reign of Josias.

2:14. And flocks shall lie down in the midst thereof, all the beasts of the nations: and the bittern and the urchin shall lodge in the threshold thereof: the voice of the singing bird in the window, the raven on the upper post, for I will consume her strength.

Et accubabunt in medio eius greges omnes bestiae gentium et onocrotalus et ericius in liminibus eius morabuntur vox cantantis in fenestra corvus in superliminari quoniam adtenuabo robur eius

2:15. This is the glorious city that dwelt in security: that said in her heart: I am, and there is none beside me: how is she become a desert, a place for beasts to lie down in? every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and wag his hand.

Haec est civitas gloriosa habitans in confidentia quae dicebat in corde suo ego sum et extra me non est alia amplius quomodo facta est in desertum cubile bestiae omnis qui transit per eam sibilabit et movebit manum suam

Sophonias Chapter 3

A woe to Jerusalem for her sins. A prophecy of the conversion of the Gentiles, and of the poor of Israel: God shall be with them. The Jews shall be converted at last.

---

3:1. Woe to the provoking and redeemed city, the dove.

Vae provocatrix et redempta civitas columba

3:2. She hath not hearkened to the voice, neither hath she received discipline: she hath not trusted in the Lord, she drew not near to her God.

Non audivit vocem et non suscepit disciplinam in Domino non est confisa ad Deum suum non adpropiauit

3:3. Her princes are in the midst of her as roaring lions: her judges are evening wolves, they left nothing for the morning.

Principes eius in medio eius quasi leones rugientes iudices eius lupi vespere non relinquebant in mane

3:4. Her prophets are senseless, men without faith: her priests have polluted the sanctuary, they have acted unjustly against the law.

Prophetae eius vesani viri infideles sacerdotes eius polluerunt sanctum iniuste egerunt contra legem

3:5. The just Lord is in the midst thereof, he will not do iniquity: in the morning, in the morning he will bring his judgment to light, and it shall not be hid: but the wicked man hath not known shame.

Dominus iustus in medio eius non faciet iniquitatem mane mane iudicium suum dabit in luce et non abscondetur nescivit autem iniquus confusionem

3:6. I have destroyed the nations, and their towers are beaten down: I have made their ways desert, so that there is none that passeth by: their cities are desolate, there is not a man remaining, nor any inhabitant.

Disperdi gentes et dissipati sunt anguli earum desertas feci vias eorum dum non est qui transeat desolatae sunt civitates eorum non remanente viro nec ullo habitatore

3:7. I said: Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive correction: and her dwelling shall not perish, for all things wherein I have visited her: but they rose early, and corrupted all their thoughts.

Dixi attamen timebis me suscipies disciplinam et non peribit habitaculum eius propter omnia in quibus visitavi eam verumtamen diluculo surgentes corruperunt omnes cogitationes suas

3:8. Wherefore expect me, saith the Lord, in the day of my resurrection that is to come, for my judgment is to assemble the Gentiles, and to gather the kingdoms: and to pour upon them my indignation, all my fierce anger: for with the fire of my jealousy shall all the earth be devoured.

Quapropter expecta me dicit Dominus in die resurrectionis meae in futurum quia iudicium meum ut congregem gentes et colligam regna ut effundam super eas indignationem meam omnem iram furoris mei in igne enim zeli mei devorabitur omnis terra

3:9. Because then I will restore to the people a chosen lip, that all may call upon the name of the Lord, and may serve him with one shoulder.

Quia tunc reddam populis labium electum ut vocent omnes in nomine Domini et serviant ei umero uno

3:10. From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia, shall my suppliants, the children of my dispersed people, bring me an offering.

Ultra flumina Aethiopiae inde supplices mei filii dispersorum meorum deferent munus mihi

3:11. In that day thou shalt not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me for then I will take away out of the midst of thee thy proud boasters, and thou shalt no more be lifted up because of my holy mountain.

In die illa non confunderis super cunctis adinventionibus tuis quibus praevaricata es in me quia tunc auferam de medio tui magniloquos superbiae tuae et non adicies exaltari amplius in monte sancto meo

3:12. And I will leave in the midst of thee a poor and needy people: and they shall hope in the name of the Lord.

Et derelinquam in medio tui populum pauperem et egenum et sperabunt in nomine Domini

3:13. The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies, nor shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they shall feed, and shall lie down, and there shall be none to make them afraid.

Reliquiae Israhel non facient iniquitatem nec loquentur mendacium et non inuenietur in ore eorum lingua dolosa quoniam ipsi pascentur et accubabunt et non erit qui exterreat

3:14. Give praise, O daughter of Zion: shout, O Israel: be glad, and rejoice with all thy heart, O daughter of Jerusalem.

Lauda filia Sion iubilare Israhel laetare et exulta in omni corde filia Hierusalem

3:15. The Lord hath taken away thy judgment, he hath turned away thy enemies: the king of Israel, the Lord, is in the midst of thee, thou shalt fear evil no more.

Abstulit Dominus iudicium tuum avertit inimicos tuos rex Israhel Dominus in medio tui non timebis malum ultra

3:16. In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem: Fear not: to Zion: Let not thy hands be weakened.

In die illa dicetur Hierusalem noli timere Zion non dissolvantur manus tuae

3:17. The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty, he will save: he will rejoice over thee with gladness, he will be silent in his love, he will be joyful over thee in praise.

Dominus Deus tuus in medio tui Fortis ipse salvabit gaudebit super te in laetitia silebit in dilectione tua exultabit super te in laude

3:18. The triflers that were departed from the law, I will gather together, because they were of thee: that thou mayest no more suffer reproach for them.

Nugas qui a lege recesserant congregabo quia ex te erant ut non ultra habeas super eis obprobrium

3:19. Behold I will cut off all that have afflicted thee at that time: and I will save her that halteth, and will gather her that was cast out: and I will get them praise, and a name, in all the land where they had been put to confusion.

Ecce ego interficiam omnes qui adflixerunt te in tempore illo et salvabo claudicantem et eam quae eiecta fuerat congregabo et ponam eos in laudem et in nomen in omni terra confusionis eorum

3:20. At that time, when I will bring you: and at the time that I will gather you: for I will give you a name, and praise among all the people of the earth, when I shall have brought back your captivity before your eyes, saith the Lord.

In tempore illo quo adducam vos et in tempore quo congregabo vos dabo enim vos in nomen et in laudem omnibus populis terrae cum convertero captivitatem vestram coram oculis vestris dicit Dominus
